ERWIN CHILD IS HURT WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

MOSCOW, July 11.—Three members of the crew of the ill-fated dirigible Italia, missing since they started out afoot to seek land, have been located by a Russian aviator, according to a radiogram from the ice-breaker Krassin today. They are understood to be Dr. Malmgren, Captain Alberto Mariano and Captain Filippo. They had been given up for lost several weeks ago. They were found floating on an ice floe when discovered. It was expected here that an effort would be made by the Krassin to approach the place and take them aboard. If this is impossible an aviator will attempt a landing. Chuchnovsky, the aviator who discovered them, reported that the group was floating helplessly on the ice floe and was surrounded by masses of crushed ice. He circled the party five times, making observations. Two of the trio waved flags but the third, apparently dead, lay motionless.

SAN ANGELO, July 11.—Anxiety caused by delay in the arrival of Constable Jack Miles and Deputy Sheriff T. C. Rutledge, bringing Floyd Newton Byrnes, triple slayer, from Huntsville was dissipated this morning when the party arrived by automobile shortly after midnight. They were expected about noon yesterday. Byrnes is under a death sentence for the brutal slaying of Myrna Juergens last March. He also slew her mother and grand mother here.

Reports from Eastland bring the gratifying information that the condition of Senator H. P. Brelsford continues to improve, and he is now able to set up a part of the day. His friends are now hopeful for his ultimate restoration to health, though all realize that his condition is grave. Senator Brelsford suffered a stroke of paralysis several weeks ago, and has been confined to his home since.

Clarence Tune has received from Dallas that her sister, Marie Judia, was seriously injured in that city recently. Fire was to be the nemesis of the family. Ray Judia, of Randolph, was a fire victim. Tune, having both of his hands burned as he attempted to extinguish his automobile when it burst into flames as he was in the garage several days ago. Another member of the Judia family, a little child, had been burned several years ago. The family was at Cisco at the home of occupied as the Elks club. Marie is well known in Cisco. She has many friends who to hear of her misfortunes. Three years ago she was a victim of an automobile crash in which she was seriously injured.

Caddo, 'Old Home Town' of R. Q. Lee, Is Visited by Candidate for Congress, 'Service to People of District' Slogan

CADDO, July 11.—R. Q. Lee of Cisco spent several hours here Tuesday in the interest of his candidacy for congress from the seventh congressional district. This is Mr. Lee's old home, he having come here 37 years ago and entered the general mercantile business. He made this his home until a few years ago when he moved to Cisco. Mr. Lee is putting his campaign of the high plane of "service to the people of his district." He believes that if he is permitted to go to Washington as representative from this district, he can render a distinct service and be frank in his statement, that when he reaches the point where he cannot render that service, he will voluntarily retire.

LARGER CROWD IS ATTENDING ENCAMPMENT

The Christian camp meeting at Weddington camp grounds, Lake Cisco, has gotten well under way, as was indicated by the large crowd that was present at the meeting Tuesday night. Those coming in today indicate that the attendance will be greatly augmented at the services tonight, as there are cars parked on the grounds from all the surrounding towns, and many from a considerable distance. Dr. H. O. Pritchard, of Indianapolis, national secretary of the educational board speaks at every night's service. Tuesday night he spoke on the subject of "The Last Judgment," stressing that all people are one, spiritually, socially and intellectually. Tonight his subject will be "What Jesus Taught About Man."

This meeting is dual in its nature, as the convention of district No. 2, of the Christian churches of the state, convened at the camp grounds this morning, and will continue through Thursday and Friday. Some confusion has been occasioned as the place of holding the district convention, because some newspapers have announced that the convention will be held in Breckenridge, which is erroneous, stated Rev. Thomas Lenoir, of the local committee on arrangements for the camp meeting. Rev. S. J. Shettleworth, pastor of the Breckenridge church, is chairman of the district convention today, and Rev. Floyd Bash, pastor of the First Christian church of Wichita Falls, was the speaker at the 11 o'clock hour. The day was largely consumed in roll call of churches and other preliminary matters pertaining to the organization of the convention.

At the 11 o'clock services Thursday Rev. Paul Henry Packard, pastor of the Highland Heights church at Wichita Falls, will speak on "Evangelism."

The visitors are enjoying the recreation hours by participating in the water events at Lake Cisco, as well as the benefit from the religious instruction received.

28 Bills of Exception Filed with Appeals Court; Error Is Charged Over Change of Presiding Judge

The statement of facts and bills of exceptions in the appeal of Marshall Ratliff, convicted of the murder of G. E. (Big) Bedford, Cisco police chief, during the trial on the First National bank at Cisco December 23, 1927, in his trial in the 104th district court at Abilene, have been approved and filed, and the records of the case sent to the court of criminal appeals at Austin, according to Judge J. Lee Cearley, counsel for Ratliff.

Judge George L. Davenport, of the 91st district court, at Eastland; Judge W. R. Chapman, of the 104th district court, at Abilene; Clem Calhoun, district attorney, W. W. Hair, special prosecutor, of Abilene; J. K. Baker, of Coleman; and J. Lee Cearley, of Cisco, counsel for Ratliff, met at Abilene Tuesday when the 28 bills of exception and statement of facts were agreed to. Half of the bills of exceptions were qualified by the trial judges. These proceedings were filed just two days before the expiration of the 90 days allowed by the court for perfecting the appeal in this case.

This case went to the 104th district court on change of venue from Eastland county, and was tried before Judge W. R. Chapman, who heard the testimony of witnesses and prepared the case, and when he became ill called on Judge Davenport, of the 91st district court, to preside in his absence during the remainder of the trial. Judge Davenport heard the arguments of counsel and received the verdict of death against Ratliff. The case is a companion case to that in which Ratliff has previously received a sentence of 99 years, and in the trial of the case now on appeal, had pleaded former jeopardy, alleging the charge grew out of the same transaction in connection with the raid on the Cisco First National bank. At a subsequent trial of Ratliff at Anson he was given a life sentence for murder in connection with the death of George W. Carmichael.

The Abilene trial, it is alleged, was unusual in criminal jurisprudence, inasmuch as the trial was before two separate judges, presiding at different times, and the appeal shows that both judges signed all bills of exceptions and statements of fact in their judicial capacity, designating their respective courts in so doing. Similar proceedings are of record in civil jurisprudence, and the higher courts have upheld this character of proceedings in civil matters. This exchange of judges during the trial of the case is one of the assignments of error in the appeal.

MAN WHO TOOK $97,000 IS HELD; HAS 30 CENTS

CHICAGO, July 11.—A man identified as George W. Anderson, former teller of a Chicago bank, who embezzled $97,000 of the institution's funds, was arrested here Tuesday with 30 cents in his pocket. The rest of his funds he had just gambled, he said. Anderson disappeared a year ago.

ERWIN CHILD IS HURT WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

An accident of near serious consequences was enacted on D avenue Tuesday afternoon, when Aeneas, the little six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin, of the Sabanna community, was struck by a passing car. The child received only an abrasion of the leg. A truck parked at the curb obscured a car approaching from the south that struck the child, just as it emerged into the street. Neither the driver nor the child was to blame, as the truck prevented either from seeing the other. The driver of the car cut his machine to the middle of the street and bumped into a parked car there in his effort to avoid striking the child.

BADGERING THE BENEDICT.

Among the instances of exceedingly poor taste is the practice of razzing the groom or groom to be.

Just why a fellow who has just been united, or is about to be united to the lady who is to share his lot should be tarred and feathered and ridden on a rail, is not clear to ordinary intelligence.

A popular young man about to be married was tendered a banquet by a group of his bachelor associates. At the feast they proceeded to put on a pro- with unwarranted freedom from his seat at the head of the table, he made even the most asinine of remarks.

The next day the chaps who had managed the dinner called one by one on the prospective groom and apologized earnestly for what they termed their thoughtlessness.

HE BOUNCED OVER NIAGARA FALLS

For the third time in history a man allowed himself to be swept over the dangerous Horseshoe Falls in the Niagara River—and lived to tell the story. He is Jean Lausser, thirty-six, French-Canadian, who performed the hazardous feat encased in a huge ball of fabricated rubber eleven feet in diameter. The strips of couplant on his countenance cover the only bruises he received in the fall.

Boyhood Pal of Al Smith Is Now Staunchest Supporter of Party's Nominee; Were Damon and Pythias

NEW YORK, July 11.—Down on lower Manhattan Island almost 30 years ago William F. Kenny and Alfred F. Smith played together, fought with each other sometimes and never missed a fire. Kenny's father was a battalion fire chief and lived in Madison street, while the Smiths lived just around the corner in Oliver street.

Today Kenny, head of a big New York construction company—and able to count his wealth in seven or eight figures, is still the dearest friend of Smith, the boy he used to play with and the man named by the Democratic party for the presidency.

Since Smith first became a formidable candidate for the presidential nomination, Kenny has professed but two ambitions: to see his friend chosen by the Democrats and to see him elected to the White House.

Kenny sat in the convention hall at Houston when Smith was nominated, and among his guests were all the Smith family who could go to the gathering, including the New York governor's wife.

The Damon and Pythias friendship between the two men, as warm today as in the years when they lived together in the lower East Side and neither was very definitely tagged for wealth or fame, was revealed when Kenny told a senate committee at Washington, during the pre-convention campaign, that he had given freely to the fund for promotion of Smith's candidacy and that if Smith were nominated he might command as much of Kenney's wealth as he needed to carry on his quest for election.

Yet Kenny has no aspiration to political greatness nor to anything but Smith's continued friendship in the event he became president. "I've never asked Al for a thing," Kenny says. "There's nothing I want from him except his continued confidence and affection. He could not give me anything, but the greatest pleasure of my life is that I can, maybe, help him."

Kenny has homes in New York and in England; he has a private car, the St. Nicholas, in which he attended the convention which nominated Smith, but he finds the most pleasure in an unusual nook atop his New York offices which he calls the Tiger room.

It is a big room, almost 50 feet square, in a penthouse above the skyscraper which the Kenney Construction company occupies. Oriental rugs lie underfoot, the painting of a tiger, symbol of Tammany Hall, hangs from one wall, two more tigers in brass crouch on the grillwork and a tiger skin lies across a grand piano at one end of the room. At one end is a stage.

Off the Tiger room is a dining room and a kitchen permanently staffed with a chef and two waiters, and on a floor above is an apartment.

The whole Kenney family uses the Tiger room—Kenny to entertain friends and Mrs. Kenny and their daughters for receptions, card parties and teas.

Both Governor Smith and Kenney have never outgrown their past for going to fires, gratified first when they rode often as boys on the old horse-drawn hosecars and fire engines commanded by Kenney's father. Kenny retains an honorary office in the New York department, and Smith can get into a fireman's coat and clap a helmet on his head as fast as anybody when he hears a four-alarm call.

PEOPLE ARE CRITICAL OF A PIMPLE

No longer do people pity a child with pimples or other disfigurements. In fact they are becoming more and more critical and avoid such a cause because pimples are usually a sign of carelessness and neglect.

If you want to be admired for a healthy complexion ask for Black and White Ointment and use it according to directions. It is pleasant to use, beneficial and scientifically safe.

ROOF GARDEN AT BIENVILLE FINDS FAVOR

The new Bienville Hotel roof garden recently opened is very popular with New Orleans smart social set and out of town visitors.

High atop the hotel the cool breezes, the flickering lights from boats on the river, the perfect music by one of New Orleans best orchestras make it one of the most delightful and cool places to spend the summer evenings dancing and dining.

The large spacious floor, which is of highly polished hardwood, extends nearly the whole width of the hotel roof. The roof is also glass enclosed so that inclement weather will in no way hinder social activities.

Besides the construction of the new roof garden the Bienville has been entirely renovated, redecorated and the lobby enlarged at a cost of approximately $75,000. With these improvements and the rapidly increasing popularity of the Bienville is looking forward to an active summer and fall season.

The Bienville is located on exclusive St. Charles avenue, away from the noise and bustle of the business district, but convenient to all points of interest.

WHILE YOU WAIT AND YOU DON'T WAIT LONG

LONG-DISTANCE telephone service is now about twice as fast as it was a year ago.

Now, when you place your call, in most cases the operator asks you to "Hold the line, please." Three times out of four she will complete the connection while you wait.

The average interval between the time when you place your call and the time the connection is completed or a report given is a little more than two minutes. A year ago it was about five minutes.

Your service will be even faster if you give the number of the distant telephone. Try it!

TEXAS COTTON ACREAGE MORE THAN YEAR AGO

AUSTIN, July 11.—Texas cotton acreage of July 1 was placed at 18,366,000 acres in the United States department of agriculture estimate for the state, released Tuesday by H. H. Shultz, federal livestock and crop statistician. Only 16,850,000 acres were planted last year. The average yield was 12 1/2 pounds to the acre.

"Bringing the Texas crop to stand this year has been most difficult," Shultz said. "Replanting, because of excessive rains, severe hail and windstorms, has necessitated the expenditure of a great amount of extra labor and money. In late June, some of the southern and western counties were needing rain badly, but many others, particularly over the eastern part of the state, had too much moisture."

"The cotton harrow is more plentiful than last year and is scattered throughout the fields in at least 40 counties. Lice have mostly disappeared since the rains. Root rot has begun to be noticeable, somewhat earlier than in 1927."
