WATER RIGHTS FIGHT WON BY WEST TEXANS

ABILENE July 26.— With the announcement by the Middle West Utilities Co. of Chicago that it had terminated its negotiations with the Interstate Power Co. looking toward the development of hydroelectric projects on the Colorado river, citizens of West Texas who opposed the project apparently had secured a victory in the controversy which raged intermittently for several months.

LONDON July 26.—Its flag at halfmast, the supply ship City of Milan, with General Umberto Nobile and survivors of the Italia disaster aboard, arrived at Narvik, Norway, today, according to a Central News dispatch from there. The arrival was watched with interest by harbor workers who refused to handle the ropes thrown from the ship by the docks. As soon as the ship moored Italian soldiers with rifles and bayonets were stationed on the gangway. It was announced that Nobile and his companions would not go ashore until darkness when they will go directly to their special train, which will carry them to Rome, where they have been ordered by Premier Mussolini.

Owen declared yesterday that he could not support Smith because of his Tammany affiliations.

AGRARIANS TO FIGHT CALLES AS HOLDOVER

MEXICO CITY July 26.—While war friendly relations exist between President Calles and the agrarian faction of the Obregonist, Deputy Yzaola, spokesman of the agrarians, declared today that his colleagues were unalterably opposed to Calles remaining in office after the expiration of his term.

PROHIBITION BECAME BIG ISSUE BY GOV. SMITH

ALBANY, N. Y., July 26.— Against the advice of some of his closest friends Governor Alfred E. Smith is understood to have decided to discuss prohibition in every campaign speech. Some national leaders have attempted to point out that his declaration on prohibition would be a sign of weakness and would tend to tell the voters that the country shall have a clear understanding of his position, that he has always spoken his mind freely in political battles and will continue to do so.

BODIES OF TWO BOAT VICTIMS ARE RECOVERED. CAPE MAY, N. J., July 26.— A diver Wednesday recovered the bodies of two coastguardsmen, drowned last Friday when the coast guard cutter 113 was sunk in the Delaware Bay by the freighter Columbus. The victims were John Haines Pleasantsville, N. J., boatman's mate, and DeWitt Hale of Washington, Ga., engineer.

MILK PLANT IS BEING SOUGHT BY MASON CO.

MASON, July 26.— Crews of dairy cattle in Mason county are showing great interest in the proposed Heart of Texas milk factory with headquarters at Brady, according to W. I. Marshall, Mason county agent. He said J. T. King of the Brady chamber of commerce and B. F. Grady, vice president of the Farmers and Merchants State bank of Brady, were in Mason for the Central Texas live stock short course last week and while here discussed with farmers and ranchmen of the county the feasibility of establishing a milk station in Mason. Twelve or fourteen replies to questionnaires already returned indicate a lively interest in such a project, Marshall said.

Pleas of Political Candidates Presented in City Hall After Rain Spoils Legion Post Party

The city hall was the scene of political speaking last night for the candidates who came to participate in the American Legion celebration Wednesday. Instead of an all-day political rally, as intended, the speaking was postponed until night, because the steady rain made the grounds around the John William Banta post just a sea of mud and it was impossible to carry out the splendid program as arranged for the occasion. This celebration was intended to feature the flag-raising and dedication ceremonies of the Legion hut and grounds. Mayor Williamson was on the program to make the dedication address, delivering the invocation at the local post, on behalf of the city and the Cisco chamber of commerce.

The auditorium was comfortably filled at 7:30 o'clock, the opening hour of the speaking. Mayor Williamson welcomed the candidates and explained that the Legionnaires had planned this celebration for the dedication of their hut and grounds, and as a grand political rally, where every office seeker would be given an opportunity to mingle with the voters.

Sponsored by the West Texas chamber of commerce excursions are being arranged for the farmers of this section of Texas to visit points in California where improved and advanced methods of poultry raising and agriculture are being developed. These excursions will prove a school of instruction to the farmers of West Texas who will avail themselves of the privilege of taking advantage of the cheap rates offered. Bus arrangements have been made for 25 or 30 to leave just as soon as this number ends in reservations for the trip to the West Texas chamber of commerce at Stamford. The cost of transportation to and from California will be $30 and it is estimated that the trip can be made at an expense not exceeding $100.

WHAT EVE DID.

Through the ages woman has been condemned and abused by man on account of that little affair in the Garden of Eden, because according to popular conception, woman occasioned the fall of man.

It is our opinion that woman caused the rise of man; and through the power and glory of the constitution of the United States we are entitled to our opinion.

Adam, before he ate of the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil at Eve's suggestion, was an unpoor creature. He went around naked and didn't know it; he was in about the same moral state as a chicken.

But Eve caught the vision. She saw that before Adam could amount to anything he must gain knowledge; he must get understanding; he must acquire wisdom.

Anyone who raises his sights must leave his Garden of Eden. Anyone who wants to be somebody must give up ease and slothfulness.

And what inspired Eve to do what she did? The serpent. But in those days the serpent wasn't regarded as we regard him. The ancients worshipped the serpent; they looked on him as typifying shrewdness, cleverness, wisdom.

JUNK.

From the Waste Trade Journal (fancy having a "waste trade journal") one learns that the scrap iron industry is to have a czar, like the movies and other big industrial branches.

DeLone, committee chairman of the agricultural committee of the Breckenridge chamber of commerce, states that his committee is cooperating with the work and that the organization has appropriated $100 to aid in the expenses of the delegation from this county. Other funds have been raised in the various communities by special contributions from plays, programs and other features.

COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE FAIR IS APPOINTED

EASTLAND, July 26.—Directors of the chamber of commerce have named Walter Hart and Jess Day as a committee to make all arrangements for and direct the Eastland county fair, to be held in Eastland September 27, 28 and 29. This fair will follow the various community fairs to be held in Eastland county and will draw the best exhibits from each of them. From the county fair the best exhibits will be taken to the State Fair in Dallas. The chamber of commerce directors authorized Secretary C. H. Cowlin to cooperate with other chambers of commerce in Eastland in placing an Eastland county exhibit at the State Fair.

Several attractive night entertainments already have been arranged in the form of contests among Eastland county communities, one evening being devoted to an orchestra contest, another to a chorus singing contest and another to a play contest. Several of the communities have creditable orchestras and choruses and others have formed clever play organizations. Eastland county now holds sixth place in the State Fair's $10,000 contest. After five years that sum is to be distributed among the winners. This year will be the third. It is essential that communities and the county fair be held to high standard, for they help the exhibit at the State Fair.

CHIROPRACTIC IS RIGHT

Always keep in mind the HEALTHY person. The condition which keeps the HEALTHY person HEALTHY, is that condition which will make the sick person well.

All the HEALTHY person puts inside his body is foods, water and air: That is all NATURE demands from the "outside world" to keep the person HEALTHY. And, upon proper examination of the HEALTHY person it will be learned that his or her spine is in such normal adjustment that there is no CAUSE for sickness; that there is only CAUSE for HEALTH. The HEALTHY person's spine is in normal adjustment and remains that way. The sick person's spine needs adjusting so that NATURE can produce HEALTH. Look you to your spine and be sure.

EASTLAND CO. READY TO BALLOT AS ORATORY BARAGE LIFTS

Total Vote of 8,000 Is Forecast if Fair Weather Prevails Saturday for Primary; Polls Open 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Eastland county is ready for the Democratic primary of Saturday. The candidates have virtually all closed their active campaigns so far as speechmaking is concerned. None of them however, will lose an opportunity in the closing hours of the campaign to help his or her cause.

The judges have been named, their assisting officers chosen, the ballots printed and all are waiting for the zero hour—8 a. m. Saturday. The polls will close at 7 p. m. and the tabulation of votes will start immediately.

There are 9,022 potential votes in the 29 precincts of Eastland county. With fair weather that will allow the farmers and the voting members of their families to go to the polling places without trouble.

a total of around 8,000 would not be surprising because of the interest attaching to several of the races. With 71 percent of the county's total in the four cities of Cisco, Rising Star, Ranger and Eastland a vote of 4,000 to 6,000 should be cast even if the inclement weather of the past few days continues, unless it should rain continuously during the voting hours.

Precinct conventions will also be held by the Democrats Saturday at 2 p. m. In most precincts these meetings will be near the voting places. Delegates to the county convention on August 4 will be chosen.

The ballot which will be handed to the voters of the Cisco precincts will be substantially as follows:

STEPHENS CO. GIRLS TO VIE IN DRESSMAKING

BRECKENRIDGE, July 26.—Lorene McClenny, of Post Oak, and Beulah Hobson, of Union Hill, were the winners in classes 1 and 2 respectively, of the 4-H appropriate dress contest, according to Miss Viola McKenzie, home demonstration agent.

Class 1 was the contest for the best school costume, dress and underwear, class 2 was the afternoon costume. The two winners will get scholarships to the short course at A. & M. college from July 30 to August 4. These scholarships are being given by the Twentieth Century club and the County Federation of Women's clubs.

Miss McClenny and Hobson will enter the state clothing contest program at the short course. There will be 184 girls in this contest. State premiums will be given to the winners there.

Judges for the clothing contest were Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent of Eastland, and Miss Trese Brumpton, of New Mexico.

Miss McKenzie stated that all the dresses and underwear showed real work and thought, and that the products would do credit to much older girls than the participants, and to girls with much more experience and study than these girls have had. There were many things to be considered in the costumes.

The girls were judged as to the suitability of the article to purpose. Under this head came materials used, and trimmings. Design and originality and interest, beauty of lines and color to be considered. The workmanship took up symmetry, accuracy in cutting, choice and neatness of seams, hems, finishes, etc., and perfection of stitches. Pressing, posture and carriage, appearance on girl and laundering possibilities were also considered.

The girls who participated were: Ruby Lee Harrison and Inez Harris, of Center; Dora B. Beyers, Addie Smoot and Ardelle Carey, of Wayland; Vera Brown, Mexine Fambro, Rennie Monroe and Luna Mae Haskins, of Necessity; Tressie Ann Helner, of Crystal Falls; Evelyn Moore, Emma Trammell and Beulah Hobson, of Union Hill; Adell Minas, Irene McClenny and Lorene McClenny, of Post Oak; Love Wright and Audye Gentry, Harperville; and Adah Marie Curtis, Bernice Harlow, Mabel Bergsley, Vera Barber, Ella J. Williams, Elsie Moore, Margaret Leedy, Ruby Langley, Adele Harney and Irene Glenn, of Caddo.

United States Steel has used to recover $111,000,000 which it claims it overpaid in income and excess profits taxes in 1924. Figures were so confused, that year that a slight clerical error may well have been made. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

RABBIT PESTS ARE POISONED IN MIDLAND CO.

MIDLAND, July 26.—Local farmers are destroying hundreds of rabbits with strychnine and salt. These pests have been giving considerable trouble in young cotton the last few weeks and most of the farmers of the county have resorted to poison.

Mrs. T. M. Kelley reported more than 300 rabbits poisoned in less than two weeks, and the amount of poison issued by the county agent within the same length of time indicates that at least 2,500 rabbits have suffered the same fate.

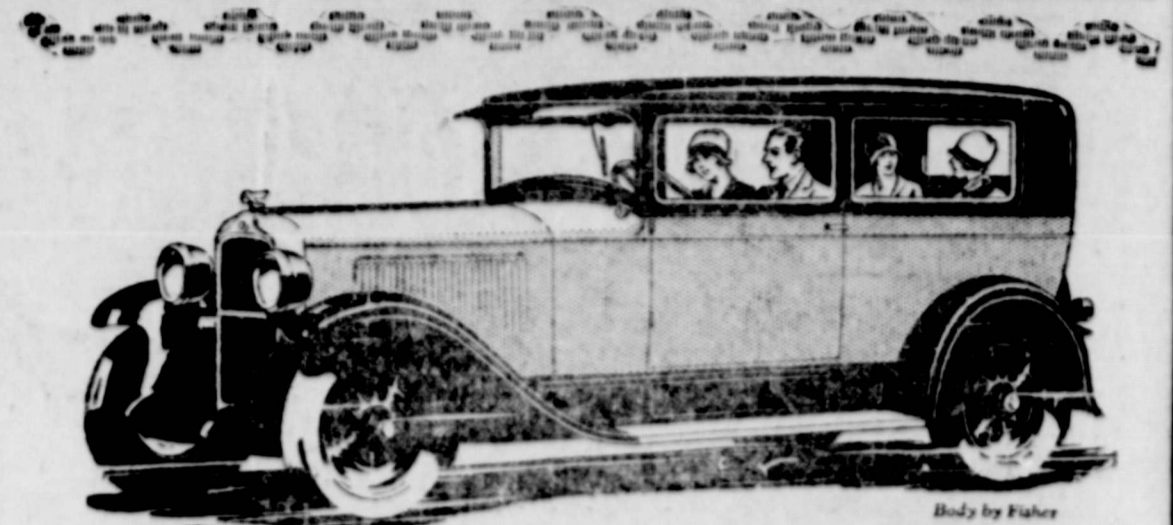

This county has used 145 ounces of strychnine during the last six months. Since each ounce of strychnine gives an average kill of 200 rabbits, around 30,000 have met death in six months time.

Criticism, as it was first introduced by Aristotle, was meant as a standard of judging well.—Johnston.

OPIE READ'S WIFE DIES IN CHICAGO Tuesday following a heart attack. Born in Norwalk, Ohio, Mrs. Read was the sister of Philo D. Benham, Opie Read's partner in the publication of the Arkansas Traveler, his first bid for literary fame.

THERE are approximately 6,000 people in our city who have no official connection with any church. Suppose these 6,000 citizens lived in a city of their own—with no church in it, no Sunday, no sound of bells calling men to pause and pray, no song of praise to Almighty God, no regard for worship, no reverence, no Bible, no blessing at the marriage altar, no comfort in the hour of death. Six thousand people in our city live without affiliations that are religious, and by doing so imply that religion is unnecessary. How many of the 6,000 would like to have their attitude in this matter become the community practice? How long would you live in a city without churches?

NOTICE, VISITORS!

Don't think that because you are away from home you are away from friends--there are many friendly churches in Cisco and Eastland county, all denominations. They extend to you a cordial invitation to attend their services.

Pecan Crop of State to Be Below Normal This Year; Reports Show; Best Prospect Is in South Texas

AUSTIN, July 26. — The Texas fair crop. At Goldthwaite late pecan crop is very spotted this year, according to reports received by H. H. Schutz, federal crop statistician. The best prospects seem to be in South, Southeast and Central Texas, where perhaps half of normal crop is in the making, unless insects take a heavy toll. In North and Northeast Texas the pecan crop is cut short, due to late freezes. Schultz's reports for Central West Texas follows: Palo Pinto county—Pecans were killed by late frost. A few trees have practically normal crop. No insect damage so far. Improved varieties seem to be harder hit than any. No pecans in Palo Pinto vicinity to speak of. Brown county—Reports from farmers and ranchmen range from 10 per cent damage to 80 per cent damage, at this time better than half a crop on the trees. Case bearer has destroyed 30 to 40 per cent of the original set of nuts. Walnut caterpillar is abundant in this section and many trees are being defoliated by this insect. Comanche county—Freeze killed 100 per cent and now case bearer is setting in his work. Pecans are dropping heavily at this time. Mason county—It looks like a

To the Voters of— EASTLAND COUNTY

R. Q. Lee will win this race in the first primary unless the voters are prejudiced by 'last minute' campaign stories being put out by certain gentlemen who have deliberately waited until the last minute when they knew there would be no time for Mr. Lee to present the facts in refutation of these charges in a desperate attempt to prevent his nomination in the first primary.

It has come to our attention that the county will be flooded on the last days of this campaign with propaganda designed to prejudice the voters of the county against R. Q. Lee of Eastland county.

For this reason it is necessary for us to call upon our friends to aid us in overcoming this desperate attempt to mislead the voters of Eastland County. We also desire to appeal to the sense of fair play of the citizenship of this county to reprimand these quasi-politicians and put their disapproval upon this contemptible method of campaigning.

SAND THOUGHT NEAR IN WELL AT RISING STAR

RISING STAR, July 26.—The deep test being drilled by Love, Delaney & Carter two and one-half miles west of Rising Star on the W. J. Robbins farm, has reached a depth of 1,300 feet and should find a sand at about that depth. This well is 1,450 feet from the Terry Jacobs discovery well which was drilled in 1921 by the same operators. The Terry Jacobs well found three sands, the first at 570 feet, another sand at 1,200 feet and still another at 2,450 feet. The lower sand produced 150 barrels of oil per day of 45 gravity. These same operators in 1921 drilled the D. M. Jacobs No. 1 which is 2,200 feet from the well they are now drilling on the Robbins tract and which was about two locations northeast of the Terry Jacobs discovery well. This well failed to produce from the three sands found in the Terry Jacobs, as it was drilled to a depth of 3,800 feet and from a well found at that level produced 60 barrels per day of 45 gravity oil. This well, which was drilled in more than seven years ago, still is producing a few barrels of oil and a quarter-million feet of gas. Love, Delaney & Carter have had the honor of having drilled the discovery well in at least three different pools.

Navigable Missouri River Sought As Means of Lowering Rates to Aid Farmers in States in That Valley

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—With the Democratic and Republican parties still tussling with the question of farm relief, the Missouri River Navigation association comes forward with a solution of its own. Substantial and permanent farm relief is offered in the improvement for navigation of the Missouri river and the entire Mississippi system, the association points out in a recent pamphlet. The plan of the association, which includes among its ranks hundreds of prominent citizens from the states in the Missouri valley reads in part: "A net saving of 7 1-2 cents a bushel in the freight rates on wheat from Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas will be effected when navigation is opened on the Missouri river from Kansas City. This saving nearly doubles the net profit made by Kansas wheat producers on the basis of a net profit of 8 cents a bushel estimated by the department of agriculture on the 1925 wheat crop. Assurance that lower transportation costs will be passed on to the farmer and represent an increased profit on his crops is given in the pamphlet. It quotes Julius H. Barnes, prominent American grain exporter, who says: 'Grain markets are so liquid and grain prices respond so readily to every influence it is no longer a theory but demonstrated by the record of a thousand price responses that a reduction in the transportation rate will immediately reach the farm.' Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee to whom the farm vote means so much, has said: 'Our agriculture is based upon higher standards of living than those of foreign competitors. If we would maintain these standards we must admit nothing in economy of transportation. Every cent we save in transportation to market is an addition to the income of the farmer and an assurance that we can maintain these standards in agriculture.' The people of the Missouri river are demanding the improvement and the navigation of the Missouri river along with the balance of the Mississippi river system as a relief to agriculture from the present high freight rates the country has. The great states, the people, let continued, through which the Missouri river flows, on which it borders, produced in 1927, 50,179,000 bushels of wheat—41.88 per cent of the entire United States crop; 21,965,600 bushels of rye, 55 per cent of the nation's crop; 451,891,000 bushels of oats, 27.81 per cent of the nation's crop; and 1,208,225,000 bushels of corn—43.17 per cent of the entire crop. The Missouri river has been made an approved project from its mouth to Sioux City, Iowa, and the government engineers are now busily engaged in improving the channel. It is hoped the river will be ready for boats and barges as far as Kansas City in two or three years. Millions of dollars will be lost to the farmers of the Missouri Valley every year the opening of navigation on the river is delayed."

TRADITION SAYS SLUMP DUE IN COTTON PRICES THIS FALL

Law of Supply and Demand Will Govern Market with Acreage 9 Percent Above That of Year Ago

The cotton-picking time again in Texas. While the crowning of negro cotton pickers breaks the monopoly of the tired summer heat, cotton pickers of Texas, where more than a third of America's cotton crop is grown, eagerly watch the factors that will determine prices this fall. Upon the shoulders of Old King Cotton, referred to by crop diversification advocates as the tyrant ruler of Texas, rests in a large measure the prosperity of the state in coming months. A bumper crop means 20 to 25 cents a pound, and vice versa, the low supply and demand reigns untrammelled over the cotton market.

Crop Much Bigger.

It is tradition in the South that this year following an era of good prices will see the cotton acreage greatly increased. The increased acreage invariably brings proportionate prices. The present year is no exception. Cotton prices were good last fall. As a rule, the best government acreage report shows the Texas cotton acreage ten per cent above that of last year. The same situation holds true in all other cotton-growing lands.

In Southern Texas, cotton picking and ginning is well under way. Thousands of Mexican pickers are being imported from across the border daily. Traveling foot, in fifty old cars and in cars drawn by mules, they make their way to the plantations.

Remnant Old Sevens.

Negro families, whose ancestors were slaves on the same plantations, shoulder their large cotton bales and enter the sun-baked fields.

In September picking and ginning will begin in West and North Texas and will continue until late November.

The cotton acreage in Texas at this time is estimated at 18,000,000 acres, an increase of nine per cent over last year. Condition of soil is reported as generally dry, weather and simple machinery has advanced destruction of the boll weevil. The weevil, which has been reported in the Middle West or the fruit fly of the Pacific Coast.

The government estimate of the probable yield this year will be 10,000,000 bales, an increase of nine per cent over last year. Many private estimates are made, but little credence is given them because of the shaky condition they create in cotton exchanges. Present conditions in Texas indicate a normal yield, however, according to personal observation of cotton experts.

Large Shipments Seen.

Next month much of the ginned and baled cotton of the State will be moved to Gulf of Mexico ports where the bulky 500-pound bales will be loaded aboard ships. Some of it will go to foreign ports, while the rest will go to Atlantic seaboard ports and thence to the mills.

Texas ports have increased their worldly importance in recent years due to the monster cotton crops of the state. The port of Corpus Christi alone expects to handle 50,000 bales this year. The port of Houston and port of Galveston will handle even more than this.

DAWSON CO. TO GIVE TRIAL TO WOOL COTTON

LAMESA, July 26.—Six seed of a new variety of cotton, known as wool cotton, costing one dollar per seed, have been planted for experimental purposes in Dawson county this year.

Jimmie Odell and A. B. Hefferman of Lamesa are conducting the trial, believing that the South Plains will prove an adaptable habitat. The seed was grown with fairly successful reproduction and adaptation in Taylor and Haskell counties last year.

The wool cotton grows as does ordinary cotton with about the same stalk, bolls and the same sort of cultivation. The lint is of the finer and more silken type, strong and with extra long staple. At present there are no gin plants that can take care of the cotton if produced in large quantities. It is estimated that it will take four years to complete the experiment, owing to the fact that only a very limited number of wool cotton seed are now available.

SHORT PERIOD OF PLAY TO BE TAKEN BY AL

ALBANY, N. Y., July 26.—Governor Smith, whose pet diversions are swimming and golfing, decided on a few days vacation at the seashore where he will get plenty of both. Anxious to have an "absolute rest," he announced that he would spend the week end at Goodground, on the south fringe of Long Island, and that during his stay there a tight lid would be clamped on politics.

Although he plans to stop off in New York Friday night for a chat with Governor Ritchie, Maryland, the Democratic presidential nominee has emphasized that he did not intend to have his stay at the seashore spoiled by political conferences. He even is determined to dismiss from his mind the acceptance speech which he will deliver here four weeks from last night, and will do no work on it while out of town.

Except for two brief excursions to New York, the Governor has spent his time in Albany since the Houston convention. He sees no prospect of an extended vacation before his notification, Aug. 22, and he has been urged by members of his family to get away down to the grind of shaping up his acceptance speech.

Realizing that to go into New York means demands from all sides for conferences which he hopes to avoid, the nominee, perspiring in the heat of another hot Albany day, confided to newspaper men that he was going away, although he remarked, to have it get out that he will be in New York, "will be the devil on me."

CONTRACT LET ON MONT-WARD RANGER HOME

RANGER, July 26.—Contract for the construction of the Montgomery Ward building on West Main street has been let to Bordeaux Brothers, Ranger contractors. It was announced by L. R. Pearson and L. H. Fiewelly, who are erecting the building for the large mail order concern.

According to the terms of the contract the two-story brick structure will be completed in 90 working days. The work is to start immediately. This will place the completion of the building around the latter part of October.

A number of cut-of-the-city building concerns presented bids for the construction of the building and some delay in awarding the contract has been experienced due to the large number of requests for data relative to the construction.

The consideration of the bid was not made public, but it is understood that it is around $30,000. The building is to be constructed on West Main street, opposite the First Christian church.

Announcement of the selection of Ranger as the location of the mail order company's oil store was made some time ago by representatives of the company.

Five-Day Week for Industry Is Forecast by Government Expert with Six-Hour Day Coming Later

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Industry of the United States should operate on a five-day week within the next few years, in the belief of Eliebert Stewart, chief of the statistics division, department of labor.

He believes this should be followed, though perhaps considerably later, by the six-hour day. Both of these changes should be accomplished by an actual increase in wage rates, rather than a decrease, for the good of the country, he thinks.

Stewart was commenting on an editorial in the Analyst, New York financial weekly, which pointed out the possibility that present unemployment may be only the beginning of a more or less permanent unemployment, because a growing number of industries are equipped to produce more than consumers have the money to buy, together with the supplanting of workers by machinery.

Possibility Grave

Stewart conceded this possibility is a grave one. Measures to meet it, he said, would include not only the five-day week tomorrow and the six-day week for the Saturday half-day, but the payment of wages which would allow workers to save, and to spend their old age in leisure.

"People who advocate longer hours and less wages as a cure for our industrial ills are thinking back in the 16th century, when the world's people could not get enough for everyone to eat and wear, and worked from dawn to dusk to achieve it," he said. "Our problem today is exactly the reverse. We have to find the means by which our tremendous production may be absorbed. The industries of the United States can turn out at capacity 730,000,000 pairs of shoes a year, and we can absorb only 330,000,000. Export is not the answer. Even such countries as Argentina and Mexico, where many people are shoeless, are exporting competition with us. And the shoe situation is typical of many industries.

Wouldn't Lose a Nickel

"American industry could use the five-day week tomorrow and the country wouldn't lose a nickel. Many manufacturers are already working hardly to start up their plants today for the Saturday half-day."

Stewart does not believe the public work programs should be enlarged purely to meet the employment problem. "Put the unemployed to work building dams, roads and schools and within a short time we'd be over-governed, over-crowded, over-subsidized, and be heading toward our capacity to pay," he said. "Let public works keep a steady pace."

"The immediate palliation of unemployment is spreading among the people, but generally the ability to buy."
