HUMBLETOWN EXTERMINATES EVERY RODENT

A campaign of rodent extermination has just been completed at Humbletown by the officials of the Humble Oil & Refining Co. None of these pests was numerous, as was revealed by a survey of all the buildings in Humbletown, but the extermination campaign was reported to as a precautionary measure to prevent infestation. In fact the survey showed that there were no rodents in Humbletown at all, but a few rats and mice were discovered. A few rats were found in the shops and work houses, and some of the residents reported a few mice. But there are no rats or mice in Humbletown today, according to reports from there. All have been eradicated, and the women of this residential district can now pursue their household avocations without fear of coming in contact with a horrid mouse.

GERMAN MISS BREAKS WORLD RACING RECORD

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 2.—One woman's record fell today when Frautien Radke of Germany won the 800 meter women's championship in the 1928 Olympics. Larva of Finland won the 1500 meter race. American participants continued again in hard luck. Levi Casey of Los Angeles, made the best showing for the day when he finished just behind Oda of Japan in the hop, step and jump. The fifth day's showing was utterly disastrous for the United States. Crest Hinx, national champion of Georgetown University, failed to qualify in the javelin throw. Ray Barbuti and Herman Phillips, however, won their way into the 400 meter finals.

HERE'S WAY TO MAKE CHICKENS GROW FASTER

KINGSVILLE, Aug. 2.—George Hoffman, poultry farm owner here, has found a means of making chickens grow both day and night. Young chickens, after they are hatched, are kept in a brooder house, where they get continual light and plenty to eat. They eat a while, sleep and rest a while, and then go back into the electric lighted pen and eat again. As a result, Hoffman claims, his chickens make twice the ordinary growth that others make under ordinary conditions during the first six weeks of their life. A chick three weeks old is as large as the ordinary chick six weeks of age. Ten acres of his 129 acre farm have been set aside for the poultry business. This spring he took off three hatches of 800 chicks each. He has 1,600 White Leghorn hens and expects to add 400 of the 2,400 hatched this year to his flock.

STATE TO BE ASKED TO SELL PRISON FARM

HOUSTON, Aug. 2.—Declaring that the location of the prison farm system on some of the richest farm land in Fort Bend county is an injustice, Mayor T. B. Wessendorf of Richmond has called a mass meeting at Richmond August 15 when the state will be asked to remove it. Wessendorf contends that inasmuch as the county gets no school taxes from such land, the school system suffers and much rich land is unused because farmers are unwilling to live near the convict. He will ask the state to sell the land at a fair price.

PARIS-LONDON NAVAL TREATY NOT FOR U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary of State Kellogg, after a preliminary examination of the Franco-British naval limitation compromise, finds nothing calling for a reply by the United States, it was announced today at the state department. It Rains and It Pours for Franks; Before Straightening Up Charge of Water Theft, Hailed to Court Again

T. O. Franks, charged with theft of water from the city mains, was arraigned in the city court this morning and admitted that he did reconnect the pipes after the meter had been taken out for non-payment of water rentals, but stated that he had the promise of officials to wait until a date agreed upon for the money due for water. "I got a little sore when they took the meter out and cut off the water, and connected up the line," Franks said. This did not excuse him from taking the water without permission from the city, Mayor Williamson said, telling the defendant that he should have reported the matter to the officers. Franks stated that while his water was cut off he secured water from his father's residence, but the mayor told him that was a violation of the law as his father-in-law was

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Four members of the crews of the trains that collided Sunday at Cortena, Cal., injuring more than 40 persons, were blamed by the board of inquiry which investigated the collision. None of the injuries was fatal, but several passengers were still in hospitals Wednesday.

DOCTORS PLAN FORMATION OF CREDIT BODY

The delinquents will be compelled to pay all due back taxes, even if it is necessary to resort to legal action to force collections. The schools cannot function without money, and the trustees have no other means of raising this money except by taxation. The board can easily raise the sinking fund, but must have the money to operate the schools. The delinquent list is sufficient to meet all expenses of the schools with the maintenance fund apportioned to sustain the schools. "Now the principle obstacle confronting the school board in the matter of securing a new building for West Ward has been removed, the board will proceed as rapidly as possible to replace the building that has been condemned as unsafe by the state building inspector. The board will probably meet Friday night when the building committee will perfect plans to start work on the earliest possible date. Youngblood will probably arrange for printing the bonds while in Austin, and as soon as sold the contract for the building will be let. No plans have yet been adopted for the building."

Attorney General Puts Approval on Issue; Sinking Fund Will Be Increased; Drive on Back Taxes

I have just received a message from Supt. J. J. Youngblood, who took the records to Austin Monday, conveying the glad tidings that the attorney general had approved the bond issue. The board of trustees will have to increase the amount of the sinking fund, and this means a reduction in the school maintenance fund. This will also necessitate the collection of the delinquent taxes due the school district, and an extra effort will be made to collect all such taxes. In fact there is no other alternative. The delinquents will be compelled to pay all due back taxes, even if it is necessary to resort to legal action to force collections. The schools cannot function without money, and the trustees have no other means of raising this money except by taxation. ROCKWELL BREV. VAUGHAN, LUMBER PASTOR FOR 40 YEARS, BURIED

Cisco buried one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, Rev. J. S. Vaughan, this afternoon. The funeral services were held in the First Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Humphrey Lee, a former pastor here, assisted by the pastor, Rev. P. T. Stanford, who left his meeting at Tascosa and came to Cisco today to pay a tribute to his fellow minister and co-worker. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. Vaughan, passed away at his home in this city at 7 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after being suddenly stricken with heart disease on the evening of July 27. Several years ago he was retired as an active minister and was on the superannuated list of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, with which he had been affiliated as a minister of the gospel for over 40 years, most of which was spent as pastor of West Texas churches and presiding elder. In this capacity he served the Oatesville, Dublin and Cisco districts, and was a former pastor of the First Methodist church of Cisco.

BRECKENRIDGE CITY HOSPITAL CLOSES DOORS

BRECKENRIDGE, Aug. 2.—The doors of the city hospital were closed Tuesday night and all business of the institution is being closed out, according to members of the city council. Decision to close the hospital was disclosed in a meeting of the city council and members of the hospital board last week. It was decided that the hospital had become out of date and a money losing proposition. At the same time plans were laid for the building of a joint city-county hospital on a larger and more modern plan. No further action along this line has been taken by the city and county authorities, however, as such a proposal would have to be submitted to a vote of the county. Work of securing such a hospital will probably be pushed now as the old city institution is no longer available to patients. There were only one or two persons out of the city hospital when it was closed.

WHEN HEADS ARE SILVER.

"Yes, but I didn't want her to die," was the simple, pathetic answer an old man made when folks assured him after his aged wife had passed on that she is better off now than she was before.

You lose the mate you have had for forty-five years, the old fellow went on, "then you'll understand how I feel about it."

The ordeal that man went through was a terrible tragedy, is a terrible tragedy, for he will never get over it. That is one of the lamentable facts about the separation of aged, loving couples. The one left never recovers from the blow; never ceases to grieve, to long for the one who has gone on. Pitiful indeed is the case of the aged man or woman who has lost the life partner.

When a young man loses his bride, or a young woman her husband, or when a little child loses its mother, the situation is sad enough; but not so heart-rending as in the case of the old person who has lost his or her mate. Youth can rebound and usually does. As a rule the young man or young woman whose dearly beloved has been taken away comes back and swings into things. Life again takes on a rosy hue, perhaps brighter than ever; for delightfully happy second marriages are common to the young. The little child, who has lost the protecting, tender arms of his mother, gets over that too, and is just in the beginning of a new life in the best of conditions, with a mother that is just what is needed.

But there is no filling the void of the old woman whose adored partner has been taken away. There is nothing to look forward to; nothing new can develop; no fresh hopes spring up; because such a one has passed through the morning, the noon time, perhaps most of the evening of life. There is no chance to make a new life; opportunity is past for another beginning; there won't be time for that. It is hard even to make new friends after one is old. There is little to do but sit by and watch the others live; sit in the shadows of the lamps of the evening of life and live in the past; the future must be on another shore. Even when the aged one who is left thinks he or she has a grip on the situation, some twinkling, some letter, some book, some thought, will come to light, and the wound is opened afresh.

FARM PHILOSOPHY.

The American farmer is no, so badly off as he pretends, according to an address made recently before the Agricultural Publishers' association by William Johnson, editor of Farm Life. His problem is not a new one. His discontent is merely "the ferment of progress working in his mind." Our farmers, he maintains, are better off than they used to be. "If they were content to live now as they did before the war, their present incomes would more than pay the bill, but they are not. They are resolved to enjoy the modern fixings that you men have to sell."

Another farm editor, F. B. Nichols of Kansas, remarks that if the farmer's financial status was so bad as many people seem to think, International Harvester stock would not have risen in eight years from $90 to $260. The scenery of the country has been made in raising the value of the farm dollar until now it is above 93 cents and it gives indication of reaching the same standard as the dollars made by men in industry. All these are good signs. And not the least good thing about them is the discontent that is working in the farmer's mind. What if he is better-off than he was before the war? The city capitalist, business man and industrial worker are still better off. It is natural and reasonable that he should want to do as well as they, and his "ferment of progress" is going to keep working until he realizes his desire. It is not enough that his dollar only does him 93 per cent as much good as the city man's dollar. Country values should be evened with city values. Nobody has conspired to keep the farmer down. It has merely happened that way in the shift of economic conditions. It would pay no class in the long run to keep another down if that were possible.

Fortunately for all, the farmer is coming back. Five years hence it may be the city population that is working in a mental ferment for a square deal, while the prosperous farming class looks on with complacent pity.

THE BIG SHOW.

Estimate that the Democratices together will spend on this year $8,000,000 to do a good deal of money to spend the cause is worth it, whether the cause is a public verdict presidential campaign is the sort of gladiatorial contest, national election all rolled into one. Americans who will lament the lavish expenditure still wouldn't go without it for many times the cost.

HOW ABOUT TEMPERANCE?

Prohibition laws should be enforced or repealed, declared a speaker before the section of criminal law and criminology of the American Bar association at its convention in Seattle. That is a large order, and no doubt many people on each side of the question would like to have the speaker explain just how he would go about the accomplishment of either purpose. There is a good deal of unfinished thinking in regard to this matter of prohibition. The modificationists who believe that a lessening of restrictions will kill bootlegging are forgetting that there was bootlegging before the adoption of the prohibition amendment. The people who believe that the legalizing of light wines and beer would put a stop to thirst for hard liquors forget that such a thirst existed in the days when light wines and beer were abundantly available. On the other hand, people who cling to the prohibition amendment and Volstead Act as the whole solution to the problem are forgetting that laws alone cannot work great reforms. Education of the people in the evils of intoxicants and the development of a sense of individual responsibility, are necessary in this case and might be more effective than law alone. An intelligent, honest TEMPERANCE campaign is just as much needed today as it ever was.

A GREAT SERVANT.

A short time ago a 50-car trainload of tractors, to be used in the cultivation of cotton, was shipped into Mississippi. It is stated that these machines will do the work of 1,300 men and 5,200 mules in drawing the same amount of land. The Florence, Alabama, and Theo. Vaughan, of Okla. City are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Keeter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee of Louisiana, were visiting friends in Cisco today. Mr. and Mrs. Lee were formerly of Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Elter left Monday for Findlay, Ohio, where they will spend their vacation with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Slaughter and family of Hambleton, are here.

Addresses presented by the Association Chiefs of Police Springs, recently, contained will help prevent crime at dards and safety practice Simon, M. D., traced the after wars which demoralized large numbers of virile at the human race, leaving it said in part: "We can find to such an extent that anced individual feels that he is oppressed without reason and will seek unlawful means of expressing his personality. This is the futility of those social crusades which would mold public opinion and have inspired what are termed 'blue laws.' These have usually worked the other way, to defeat their own purpose, creating a taste for the forbidden and leading to a perversion of freedom and unbridled licentiousness." Mr. Simon stated a great truth when he says that human freedom can be limited and harassed to such an extent that the individual will seek unlawful means of expressing his personality. We have all seen this illustrated by laws proposed which would make it "unlawful" to sell or own small arms. This has a more particular bearing on American citizens than on any other people because the second amendment to the United States constitution gives all citizens the right to possess and bear arms. This was a liberty expressly given to us and not enjoyed by the people of many other nations. Further, it was a national defense measure in lieu of maintaining large standing armies. Hundreds of thousands of Americans who have worked for crime prevention and law enforcement would immediately become law breakers if denied the right to own revolvers and pistols. Thus, as Mr. Simon points out, measures can be made so drastic that they defeat their own purpose. Crime prevention can be promoted only by reasonable laws, prompt law enforcement, education and those things that strike deeply into the mind through the avenue of precept and the urge of emotion, the cultivation of true sportsmanship which teaches square dealing.

There is considerable activity in Young county oil field near Jean. According to C. H. Kleiner, well known Cisco operator, who with "Kid" West and the H-Y oil company own considerable valuable oil properties in that section. While here Tuesday Kleiner stated that the Kleiner, H-Y Oil Co. & West No. 15, located 450 feet south of the north line, and 150 feet east of the west line, on the block, which is good for 150 barrels. It is reported from authentic sources that the Mook-Texas Oil Co. has purchased a one-half interest in the above lease. Kleiner said, "as this information was gleaned from a conversation with Mr. Mook, of that company. The purchase price was not made public, but it is known to be well over the $10,000 mark."

The exact burrillage of this producer had not been determined. "Pennel and associates have completed a semi-wildcat well 2,000 feet of the now proven production, in the east extension of the South Loving pool, which is good for 15 barrels.

"Cunningham & Bratcher have sold their Hawkins lease, consisting of 40 acres out of the northern corner of section 1914, to Wichita Falls parties, consideration being $110,000. This property has 14 wells with a daily production of 312 barrels, settled production."

STEPHENS CO. COMMISSIONER RACES CLOSE

BRECKENRIDGE, August 2. — Races for posts of commissioner in three precincts of the county had far exceeded first place in the minds of Stephens county voters within the next few weeks.
Six candidates today were printing on laurels won in the first primary, drawing their laurels before plunging into the campaign in which three are to emerge victors and three will be sent back to private life.
Of the four commissioners in Stephens county, Frank Sloan in Precinct 4, serving the northwest part of the county, was the only unopposed one in the race.
The run off in Precinct 1 will be between Downing and Ramsey; in Precinct 2 between Hood and Guest, and in Precinct 3 between Kirkland and Reynolds.
Official returns for Precinct 2 were as follows: Haynes 156, Guest 172, Woods 194, Hood 166, and Childs 41.
This shows a difference of only two votes between Wood and Hood, Hood getting into the runoff by that narrow margin.
Precinct No. 3 comprises the northeast part of the county, No. 2 the southwest portion, and No. 3 the northeast.
The highway and Walker street and Breckenridge avenue are the dividing lines.

While here Tuesday Kleiner stated that the Kleiner, H-Y Oil Co. & West No. 15, located 450 feet south of the north line, and 150 feet east of the west line, on the block, which is good for 150 barrels. It is reported from authentic sources that the Mook-Texas Oil Co. has purchased a one-half interest in the above lease. Kleiner said, "as this information was gleaned from a conversation with Mr. Mook, of that company. The purchase price was not made public, but it is known to be well over the $10,000 mark."

"Now I lay me down to sleep"

It was the last word of a man closing his eyes in the sleep of death. Long years before that man, a little child, had learned that prayer of trust from his mother. A faith had been planted in his heart that had steadied him through life and given him confidence in death.

"The bravest battle that ever was fought!
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not;
'Twas fought by the mothers of men."

Life's greatest contributions are made during those early years when mothers may plant in fertile soil the seed of faith. Long years later that seed bears fruit in richer living and worthier character.

The most sacred of all institutions is the HOME. The holiest of all altars may be there established. Fathers! Mothers! Neglect not the privileges of that altar which may establish the character and fix the destiny of your children. Teach them the Christian faith. Direct them in the way of life, while they are under your care.

NOTICE, VISITORS!

Don't think that because you are away from home you are away from friends--there are many friendly churches in Cisco and Eastland county, all denominations. They extend to you a cordial invitation to attend their services.

ARE IN FEEDING OF COW AFTER CALVING IS IMPORTANT

Mash Advised by State A.-M. Specialist with Gradual Increase; Milk Production Should Rule Feed

Note: Production of milk around Cisco decreases during the past few dry weather and green food or pasturage rains of 10 days ago.

Concentrates: To feed cows intelligently one must know the amount of milk or butterfat being produced. The production of each cow should be determined by means of the milk scales and the Babcock tester and the cow fed upon the basis of the production found by this test.

Some particular animal may be thin in flesh and should be fed more grain in proportion to the milk she produces than a cow in high flesh conditions, although it is very important to follow these rules in a general way.

Each cow has her own needs for maintenance and milk, and in addition attention should be paid to her likes and dislikes.

It has been pointed out that roughage is in most cases the cheapest source of dietary materials. Therefore, as a general rule a cow should be fed all the hay, silage, roots and feeds she will consume.

Estimated. In this period three factors contribute toward lessened production—a lack of succulent feeds, warm weather, and flies.

Under average conditions in Texas, the cows that freshen in late winter or early spring give a good flow of milk while the pasture lasts, but when hot weather and dry pastures come, the flow drops about two-thirds and the cows are almost dry by fall or winter.

It is practically impossible to restore the flow of milk to the original amount after it has once been allowed to run down from the lack of feed. In order to get the maximum returns from a dairy cow it is necessary to get a yearly production instead of a seasonal production, and to secure this it is essential to prevent the mid-summer drop.

In the late winter and early spring months the maximum production of dairy herds in Texas is reached. This is due largely to an abundance of green pasture.

It should be remembered that an ample supply of green feed or silage throughout the year affords the best means of economical milk production. The consumption of dry roughage by the dairy herd is considerably reduced and in case of low producing cows the grain ration may be cut out altogether.

Dan Horn Couple Get Justice Out of Bed.

Justice McDonald officiated at the marriage last Saturday night of G. E. Maxwell and Miss Maxine Cummings, the ceremony being performed in the parlor at the Eppler hotel. Justice McDonald had just retired after having remained up till a late hour securing the returns in the Democratic primary, having made the race without opposition, and was blissfully dreaming of another two years' administration of the office when he was awakened to make two other souls happy by uniting them in Hyman's blissful bonds. But the justice was too elated over his political success to be annoyed, and so pleased was he to perform the duty that he permitted the fee and merely kissed the bride, as the happy pair departed to enter upon their matrimonial voyage. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings are residents of the Dan Horn community, which will be their future home.

Scranton Community Cotton Improved Greatly Since Late Rains Despite Boll Weevils

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Fleming, prominent citizens of the Scranton community, were visitors to Cisco the first of the week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. T. Peters. Discussing conditions in the Scranton section Mr. Fleming stated that boll weevils are plentiful in the cotton fields in that section of the country, but up to the present have damaged the crop only slightly. "There has been practically 75 or 100 per cent improvement in all crops since the recent rains," Mr. Fleming said, "and feed crops promise an abundant yield. There is also some good corn, though the larger portion of this crop is sorry, as it was too far gone before the rains came to do it any good. Cotton never looked better, and if the boll weevils don't get it there will be lots of cotton raised in the Scranton community." Mr. and Mrs. Fleming have lived in the Scranton community since their coming to Eastland county from Johnson county in 1899. He was born in Georgia, October 8, 1851, and lived in his native state and Alabama until he moved to Texas with his parents in 1858. He is acting mayor of Scranton. He was married to Miss Carrie Roddy in Johnson county in 1880, and they are the parents of five children, all grown and married, and have seven grandchildren. The children are O. A. Fleming, superintendent of schools, of Shreveport, La.; Mrs. John T. Cook, of Putnam; Mrs. John Keiner, of Raton, N. M.; R. R. Fleming, of Rule, Tex., and Mrs. O. H. Maxwell, of Abilene. Mr. Fleming is now a retired farmer, a business that he has followed practically all of his life. He had a serious illness last winter which necessitated undergoing a major operation in February, and while yet not fully recovered, is gradually regaining his strength, and is able to get around quite well.

WINTER FURS WILL NOW BE GENUINE

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Next winter's furs will be real ones judging for the first samples which are coming out for late summer wear. There is a decided absence of the painted, shaven and dyed skins which every woman has been wearing for the past few seasons, and the furriers give as the main reason the high price of the process of converting humble animals into furs of luxury. Broadtail, caracul and ermine are the favorites. There is a beautifully-fitted cape in three tiers of shiny black broadtail with a soft collar of black fox, all of it "tout a fait veritable" as the French say it. Another in beige has a band of beige fox fur placed six or eight inches from the bottom and collar and cuffs of the same. There are exquisite ermine capes for evening wear, one of which is scalloped around the bottom with several rows of overlapping bands and lined with shaded pink georgette in tiny ruffles. Another is trimmed with two curving lines of little ermine tails and lined with white and gold brocaded georgette. A wonderful coat of white ermine has full collar and cuffs of Russian sable and another has an original sleeve that is full below the elbow and shaped in again

GOV. BILBO IS PLEASED OVER SMITH CHANCE

Bilbo, stated that in his opinion Governor Al Smith would carry the states of New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey and possibly Connecticut and New Hampshire in the presidential election.

"All I could hear in any of the cities I visited was Al Smith," Governor Bilbo said. "He's going like a house after him there. I don't see how any real-blooded citizen Democrat can vote for Hoover after his action in making white women walk with negroes. He did it to carry the negro vote in Ohio.

LONGEST RAILWAY TUNNEL TO BE FINISHED SOON

"FLOOR PLAN" OF TUNNEL OPERATIONS, SHOWING PROGRESS TO DATE.

Sketch shows how gigantic bore through Cascade Mountains on Great Northern's line between Spokane and Seattle will reduce climb over summit, shorten distance, eliminate curves and pass under the zone of heaviest snowfall on entire system. Below is shown the west portal and axis under which the tunnel bores into slope of Cascade Range. The diagram shows how the engineers solved the problem of putting large forces to work simultaneously at different places along the route of the tunnel, thus breaking world records for speed in tunnel construction.

Two-thirds of a mile of solid rock still separates the advance headings of America's longest tunnel which is being bored through the Cascade range by the Great Northern railway.

For a distance of more than a mile the tunnel must still be fought to fall away and nearly three miles of concrete lining two feet in thickness must be placed before the tunnel is complete.

Superman as it seems, the project is to be completed by late fall and barring unforeseen contingencies, Great Northern trains will be operating through the new 8-mile tunnel by the first of the year.

At the same time advantage was taken of a deep valley two miles from the east portal where a shaft was sunk 622 feet and crews began working westward from the base of this shaft. Another temporary tunnel was driven westward from this point to connect with the one from the west portal. The temporary tunnels were "holed through" May 1.

These ingenious devices have enabled the construction forces to keep more than 1500 men continuously employed in the interior of the mountain. The two-thirds of a mile remaining to be bored through is being attacked in eight different places.

Connecting operations have followed closely on the heels of the crews that are gnawing out the gigantic bore.

The new tunnel passes under the zone of heaviest snowfall on the Great Northern railway, and will eliminate the costly structures that protect the present route from avalanches for more than 6 miles. The tunnel also will reduce the railway's climb over the Cascades by 500 feet, shorten the line nearby 8 miles and eliminate curves that are equivalent to six complete circles. An airplane trip to Venus would cost $1,400,000,000, according to a scientist's calculation. These are places right here in the United States where you can get that much on a vacation. Ingleton W. Va. Advertiser.

POISON GRAIN USED TO KILL JACK RABBITS

DALHART, Aug. 2.—An additional 2,000 pounds of poison grain to be distributed by farmers in this section, to control rats, gophers, ground squirrels and jack rabbits has been mixed by O. L. Coleman, employee of the bureau of biological survey. Twenty-five hundred pounds had been distributed previously.

A count of as high as 200 rats, ground squirrels and rabbits was found by the placing of ten pounds of the poison grain. Many fields of watermelons and cantaloupes are being protected from rabbits in this way.

Boll Weevils by Millions May Soon Be Threatening South Cisco Country Cotton Crop, Adolph Reich Reports heaviest toll from the latest planting

"Oh, well, Eastland county farmers have always made a living before and since the weevil invaded the county, so why should we worry. If it is not the weevil I guess it would be something else. I suppose if these pests were to leave the cotton fields of the south there would be so much ex-result but for this menace. Young corn is looking fine and all feed crops are growing nicely. Many of the farmers were compelled to replant after the May rains. The stuff had never stopped growing when the last rains came, and now one can almost see the plant's shoot up while you wait.

Weevils are something that we hardly know how to combat, and most farmers are just simply allowing them to run their course.
What the toll weevils don't generally mature and we manage to make some cotton despite the ravages of these pests. I remember my boys had to stop planting a year ago on account of the rain. As soon as it was dry enough they commenced planting again, and later on finished planting their cotton crop. There were three plantings of that crop. The first planting made pretty good cotton; the second was not so good, and the third was pretty sorry, as the weevils took the

COLEMAN MAN TO HAVE HUGE COTTON CROP

COLEMAN, Aug. 2.—At least one Coleman county farmer has paid more attention to his cotton than to politics this year, and he is rejoicing over present prospects for a big crop. It is none other than Dave Arnold, whose farm is on the east side of the Baird road two miles north of Coleman.

Mr. Arnold says he planted thirty-five acres of cotton the last week in April on three year land and it has been plowed three times. Four stalks he was displaying in Coleman this week were well fruited. They contained enough grown bolls that are sure to mature to make from one-fourth to one-third bale to the acre. It was also loaded with squares and blooms and Mr. Arnold thinks that if conditions continue favorable he has a chance for almost a bale of cotton to the acre. The stalks has long tap roots and, according to Mr. Arnold, have never suffered.
The rain that has fallen recently and the cool weather is all that is needed, Mr. Arnold thinks, to give him the best cotton crop he has ever had in Coleman county.
None of the bolls were punctured by worms and weevils and the squares had not been disturbed by insects.

CHIROPRACTIC IS RIGHT

Always keep in mind the HEALTHY person. The condition which keeps the HEALTHY person HEALTHY, is that condition which will make the sick person well.

All the HEALTHY person puts inside his body is food, water and air. That is all NATURE demands from the "outside world" to keep the person HEALTHY. And, upon proper examination of the HEALTHY person it will be learned that his or her spine is in such normal adjustment that there is no CAUSE for sickness; that there is only CAUSE for HEALTH. The HEALTHY person's spine is in normal adjustment and remains that way. The sick person's spine needs adjusting so that NATURE can produce HEALTH. Look you to your spine and be sure.

Senator, Congressman, 2 State Officers, Appellate Judge and 2 County Officers Go Into Runoff

The ballot in the Democratic runoff primary August 25 will not be nearly so long as that in the first primary. Present indications are that there will be only three contested state offices—lieutenant governor, superintendent of public instruction, and land commissioner. In addition the voters of the Cisco County will have before them two candidates for United States senator, Earle B. Mayfield and Tom Connolly, two contestants for congress, R. Q. Lee and perhaps Oscar Callaway, although T. P. Perkins may eventually finish ahead of him, and B. W. Patterson and O. C. Penderbur for associate justice of the court of civil appeals, eleventh district.

Only two county offices in Eastland county will be contested—sheriff and tax assessor. John S. Hart and Virge Foeter are running neck and neck with Loss Woods a poor third. George Bryant is high candidate for tax assessor and the official canvass by the county executive committee Saturday will be needed to determine whether J. Elmer Collins or Mrs. Fanny Burkett will be his opponent.

C. S. Looney and S. B. Skak will contest for constable. "Tub" Wilson withdrew from the race before the primary but his name remained on the ballot and he received sufficient votes to keep Looney from getting a majority.

The vote from 252 of the 253 counties of the state, 153 completely, follows the following in the state contests:

Senator—Mayfield 188,737; Connolly 168,474; Owsley 117,077; Blanton 112,958; Cunningham 26,940; McLemore 9,231.

Governor—Moody 415,263; Wardlaw 231,245; Hawkins 29,387; Williams 18,589.

Lieutenant Governor—Miller 263,292; Love 181,185; Darrin 42,049; McCall 40,248; Parnell 67,973.

Comptroller—Terrell 429,114; Jones 168,176.

State Treasurer—Hatcher 377,785; Harris 198,033.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Marrs 281,270; Garner 120,475; James 100,903; Davis 89,217.

CHINESE SEES END OF BRITISH CUSTOMS RULE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 2.—F. V. Soong, finance minister of the nationalist government, Wednesday observed that British supervision of Chinese maritime customs, in effect for more than 75 years, virtually had ended with the refusal of the nationalists to approve an appointment of a successor to Sir Francis Aglen, former inspector general.

Sir Francis was dismissed by the Peking government in February, 1921, as a result of his opposition to the Peking government's customs orders involving the Washington conference surtax on collections in China.

$4,000,000 FUND SET AS GOAL BY G. O. P. LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Republican leaders Wednesday fixed $4,000,000 as the amount to be raised for use in the coming campaign.

Chairman Work of the national committee worked out the dimensions of the campaign war chest at a conference with party heads, including J. R. Nutt, committee secretary.

Active solicitation of funds will be begun soon. Nutt said no limit had been set on contributions but he emphasized that "discretion" would be used. He explained this by saying that no contributions of $500,000 or even $100,000 would be accepted if they were offered.

The announcement of the campaign fund program was made at the national committee through the publicity section, in accordance with the policy of Chairman Work, who has left all his public statements to this bureau. Although reluctant to talk, Work did point out that there were 12,000,000 more voters this year than in the last national campaign and increased postal expenditures alone would mount higher.

The party also is planning a more extensive radio campaign than four years ago and the cost of this is expected to run perhaps to $200,000 as compared with $40,000 in 1924.

The campaign of President Coolidge in 1924 has been estimated to have cost well over $3,000,000 and it is the view of the Republican chieftains that fully as expensive a battle should be pursued this year as in the three-cornered race of Coolidge, John W. Davis and LaFollette four years ago.

The committee's announcement Wednesday said that the chairman, "after studying the needs and requirements of the various bureaus of the Republican organization, has concluded that the legitimate expenditures of the campaign will be about $4,000,000."

Nutt reported that many contributions already had been received, including both small and "fair size" amounts.

Others attending the party conference Wednesday included Jeremiah Milbank, Eastern treasurer, and Herbert L. Guterson, executive secretary.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who ran against Governor Smith in the New York gubernatorial race four years ago, was among the callers on Chairman Work Wednesday. He predicted that New York would go for Hoover.

FIELD AGENT FOR RED CROSS ARRIVES HERE

A. T. McCue, field lifesaving and first aid representative for the American National Red Cross arrived in the city this morning ready for a strenuous two-day program.

Special arrangements were made several days ago with the national office in St. Louis for a change in itinerary making it possible for McCue to be in Cisco for the Rotary club luncheon. He will be the guest of P. G. Berry, manager of the Lake Cisco Amusement Co.

Capt. J. S. Law, who is in charge of the program arranged for McCue, stated that he hoped that every person interested in a local first aid and lifesaving program would take advantage of the opportunity provided through McCue's visit to become familiar with the work.

"If the efforts put forth in this program result in the saving of one life it is worth all the time and expense involved," said Law. "Through this program we aim to arouse a consciousness in the community for greater safety in the home, on the street, in the school and in the shop. This can only be accomplished through a consistent and organized program of activities. In commenting on the usually well organized program of accident prevention activities, McCue stated that it was to be complimented by the interest shown in this program of accident prevention activities.
