DALLAS, Sept. 11.—The state Democratic convention was thrown into bedlam today when the anti-Smith delegates bolted the meeting following the report of the state executive committee's action yesterday on the contesting delegations. The report recommended that the anti-Smith delegations from Bosque, Tarrant, Dallas, Harris, Wichita and Palo Pinto counties be denied seats. Immediately after the report was concluded former Governor O. B. Colquhoun asked recognition from the chair. This was denied and anti-Smith delegates all over the hall arose, shouting "Good-bye, Tammany." Smith followers, far in the majority, countered with "Throw the Republicans out."

Another shipment of livestock went out this morning to the Fort Worth market. The shipment contained one car of cattle and two cars of hogs. The shippers are anticipating good returns on this shipment as the market Monday quoted prices on both hogs and cattle at slightly above $12 per hundredweight.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Lieut. J. J. Williams, army stunt aviator, died at Culver City this morning from injuries received yesterday when his plane crashed during the national air races here.

BAIRD, Sept. 10.—The Callahan County Wolf club, which was organized last April, has been very successful in its operations. Up to date the club has paid for 259 wolves killed in the county. The stockmen and poultry raisers have very enthusiastically supported the organization and a substantial balance is on hand to continue the paying of bounties for predatory animals.

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Assistant Attorney General Brown today announced a state-wide investigation has been launched against the alleged cement trust in Texas. He said that he contemplates filing suits for heavy penalties for violation of the anti-trust laws. Injunctions will also be sought. He claims that the price of cement has been reduced 20 cents in Dallas territory and 10 cents at Houston. Texas manufacturers are fighting the importation of cement from Belgium, he also claimed.

SMITH STANDS BEFORE THE NATION

Picture shows Governor Alfred E. Smith standing before the array of microphones in the Assembly Chamber at Albany as he began his ringing speech of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for President. Back of the Governor are the boxes containing the television apparatus which flashed the speaker's image to the world by radio and seated at the Governor's right is Senator Robinson, the vice presidential nominee.

SMITH IS BUSY ON ADDRESSES IN TOUR WEST

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Governor Alfred E. Smith faces a busy week in preparation for his first campaign trip, beginning next Sunday night, in which he will show himself to the voters of the land beyond the Mississippi river. The Democratic candidate will devote most of his time this week to outlining the six campaign speeches he will make in this first tour, spending much time in his study at the executive mansion—a good deal of it in the late hours at night, as is his custom in work of this sort.

CISCO PASTOR RETURNS FROM KAINTECK TRIP

Day, New York real estate operator, A. Harrington of New York, personal friend of the governor, gave $7,500. The thirteen gave $5,000 each were Charles Price, New York; William A. an, national committeeman in Ohio; J. D. Mooney, New York; August Heckscher, New York philanthropist; George G. Battle, New York attorney; Paul F. Gimbel, New York merchant and close friend of the governor; Paul M. Warburg, New York banker; James Reeves, New York merchant; Parker Cornum, Democratic Congressman from Albany and brother of the lieutenant-governor; F. Atschul, New York banker; Baron Collier, advertising man; S. R. Rosoff of New York and James A. Kenny of New York, personal friend of the governor.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Searching for lost trans-atlantic flyers has become an important item in the expense of operating ocean liners. Even when a flight is successful, ships along the route taken by the aviators are obliged to provide an extra watch and to communicate the position of any plane sighted. This is cheerfully done, of course, and ships are diverted from their courses just as cheerfully when the word is received that a plane has been lost. But the expense to the shipping companies is far greater than the layman would imagine. If a liner spends one day seeking a lost airplane, the shipping companies must bear at least the following loss: one day's extra pay for the crew; one day's extra food for the passengers; fuel for one extra day; one day lost in port before the return sailing. Then, too, passengers must make connections in port or suffer "bottle losses; the officers and crew are forced to work under nervous tension during the search and in attempting to regain lost time after the ship's course is resumed. Officials of shipping companies do not complain of this extra expense. Saving lives is part of the tradition of the sea. There is no thought of compensation. A remembrance for the captain and a donation for the crew may be made in all sincerity, but it is nothing compared to the expense of a rescue. Many ships which leave their courses too late to be of service are not even mentioned when the newspapers tell their thrilling story of what the aviators thought while waiting to be saved.

ASBURY NEW SECRETARY OF C. OF C. AT BAIRD

BAIRD, Sept. 11.—James C. Asbury has been employed as secretary of the Baird chamber of commerce to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary H. O. Tatum. Asbury has had considerable experience in chamber of commerce work, and for the past number of years has been devoting considerable time working in the interest of Baird. He has been a director of the chamber of commerce ever since it was organized. Tatum, who has been secretary for the past three years, resigned recently to accept the position of city manager of Eastland.

MAINE STATE ELECTION IS JOY TO G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Republicans today hailed with glee the result of the Maine state election where their party's candidate defeated the Democrats by more than two to one in yesterday's voting. They said the psychological effect would prove a material boon to the Hoover-Curtis ticket in other normally Republican states. Some of the party's biggest oratorical guns were sent into Maine before the election.

Majority May Reach 80,000. PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11.—With 544 of the state's 633 precincts completely accounted for, William T. Gardner, Republican, was elected governor over Edward C. Mason, Democrat, by a majority expected to exceed 80,000. Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, was leading Herbert Holmes, Democrat, by more than 60,000.

17TH DISTRICT VOTERS GIVEN THANKS BY LEE

R. Q. Lee, Democratic nominee for representative in congress from the 17th Texas district, whose nomination was officially declared at the congressional convention held at Abilene Saturday, had the following comment on the action of the convention, in which he expressed his appreciation of the splendid support given him throughout the district. "Saturday, Sept. 8, 1928, the district convention of the 17th congressional district met in Abilene and declared me the Democratic nominee of this district, and the report disclosed that I had carried 16 of the 19 counties of the district. This check of the vote revealed that I received from all parts of the district a very gratifying support. I desire, through the courtesy of the press, to express to the voters of the district my appreciation for the preference shown me in the August primary.

BAIRD TO HOLD ITS PURE FOOD SHOW OCT. 4-6

BAIRD, Sept. 11.—Plans are well under way for the Annual Pure Food Show, which is to be given by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church on October 4, 5 and 6, at the tabernacle. The advertising booths will be open during the day to the public, but there will be a small admission at the night entertainments.

4,000 GALLONS OF OIL LOST IN REFINERY FIRE

PORT WORTH, Sept. 11.—Eight men, including one of the Shook brothers, were missing here today, the result of a fire believed to have been caused by sparks from a boiler in the main building last night. The loss has not yet been determined but will be large, according to President W. M. Harrison.

SWEETWATER TO HAVE NEW PHONE OFFICE

SWEETWATER, Sept. 11.—Purchase of a quarter of a block of residential property at one edge of the business district has been made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. The tract will be covered by a modern office and telephone exchange building, which will be started within the coming year, it was said. The building, it is understood, will be large enough to take care of expansion that is expected for some years to come. The rapid growth of Sweetwater has kept the telephone lines and present exchange overcrowded for several years, and despite extensions in lines and additions to switchboards, it has been found necessary to start the installation of a new trunk line now to handle additional business.

BRECKENRIDGE HUNTER GIVEN LICENSE BACK

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Full hunting rights have been restored by permission of Governor Moody to Claude Thompson, Breckenridge, who was fined $25 and costs and deprived of his hunting license in Mason county for firing a .22 caliber rifle from an automobile.

UNIVERSAL PEACE PLEDGE.

Opinions differ much as to the practical value of the war-renouncing treaty signed by 15 nations, and apparently likely to be signed by all the nations of the earth as a result of the general invitation extended by the United States.

It is evident that this treaty sets forth merely a purpose, without establishing any practical machinery to accomplish that purpose. It might be compared to a New Year's resolution, except that there is an implied penalty for the faith-breaker.

All this, however, is present treaty, which is a publicity value.

Never before, not even when the United States entered the war and set up universal peace as a treaty, has a treaty been so widely publicized.

The people in every part of the world are learning about the treaty and making up their minds.

Thus the treaty, while it is a moral ideal, is flatly repudiated by the propaganda of the war.

SEAS OF GASOLINE.

A gasoline publication estimates that the output of that fuel for the present year will reach the high record of 390,000,000 barrels.

In 1900 it was no more than 2,000,000 barrels. In 1910 it rose to 16,000,000 barrels, and statisticians predicted that in a few years there would be a serious shortage.

Every intelligent person, however, knows that this happy situation will not last forever. The petroleum supply in the ground is definitely limited.

There is no crisis in sight, but neither is there any prospect of illimitable fuel for gas engines, of the cheap, powerful and convenient kind we are accustomed to.

OLD-FASHIONED.

Mrs. Mary Ann Jamison of New Albany, Ind., dead at 108, who kept a rooming house on the waterfront for rivermen, was an unusual hold-over from a former age.

Such personal independence is good to see in an age that runs to uniformity in all things.

non-conformity means "queerness," and sometimes it means character.

For those who want to ask the usual question, it may be added that Mrs. Jamison explains her long life by her carefree disposition.

THE MOVIE MUSEUM.

Hollywood has a motion picture museum which is said to have aroused the eager interest of movie people and which is likely to interest the fan world, too.

For example, Charlie Chaplin's famous costume is there, and also the original shack from the "Gold Rush."

Just what the ultimate value of such a collection may be is hard to tell.

Chilled to the Bone

By WICKES WAMBOLDT

"There is one thing I wouldn't do if I were taking roomers," said a woman who just lives around.

"The other day it was rainy and cold and raw; my room was like an ice box."

"So I had to go visiting some folks who had a fire on the hearth in order to keep from catching a cold."

"What has September to do with it if the day is cold?"

"Another substitution of a relatively low-priced food for one that is often quite expensive is the use of tomato juice in the place of orange juice."

ter. And there are many landlords and landladies who would be, or appear to be, astounded should a tenant or roomer intimate that he is cold.

What a desolate feeling it gives one to come from the dreary outside to a dreary inside; and what a sense of comfort and well-being and gratitude one entertains when one comes in chilled and perhaps blue to find the good old radiator going or the hot air coming up, or a cheery fire on the hearth.

"And there is no thing I wouldn't do if I were a roomer," emphatically declares a woman who rents rooms to roomers.

Dr. Hogg to Tell Tonight of Satan's Origin, Activity and Ultimate End; Church Census Is Being Checked

Another capacity crowd is expected at tonight's tabernacle service to hear Dr. Hogg's sermon on "Satan—His Origin, Present Activity and Ultimate End," a message which has been especially emphasized by campaign leaders in their announcements as a most vital message of the campaign.

Work of following up the city-wide census is going on through the various church organizations and pastors are holding special meetings with their workers for this purpose. The result of the census may be announced tomorrow. This afternoon workers of the First Methodist church were in conference with the pastor and Campaign Director Williams and on Wednesday evening Mr. Tredway of the evangelistic party and Rev. A. C. Miller will hold a special meeting with the workers of the Baptist church and other pastors and church workers will work in conjunction with the evangelistic party in special meetings to follow up the prospects by their particular church.

The morning crowd today was large and a substantial service was held with Dr. Hogg continuing his series of addresses on Acts. Charles Rodgers led in a special service at ten o'clock during the preliminary services this morning. A good out-of-town representation was present for this service.

Sidelights On Union Revival

The largest audience of the series of meetings was present last night to hear Dr. Hogg on "Ten Plagues of the Twentieth Century," the big tabernacle being filled to capacity. A large delegation from Rising Star swelled the attendance and a good group of Graham citizens gathered down to participate in such an orgy of hate. An impressive picture was his description of the terrible extravagance and waste of war. He told of extensive docks and railroads that were built during the war and abandoned at tremendous loss at the close of the war; of great numbers of automobiles, motorcycles, typewriters, saddles and airplanes that were piled in stacks and burned and other such tragic extravaganzas.

The big chorus was again at its best in last night's service and the musical program was enjoyable throughout. The most impressive feature of the preliminary services was the impromptu special number arranged by Charles Rodgers. While the entire audience was singing "I Must Tell Jesus," Mr. Hogg abruptly stopped the song and asked Rev. H. C. Boney, pastor of the Presbyterian church, to sing the verses as a solo. The minister did this most effectively, his clear tenor voice giving beautiful interpretation to the old time favorite. While singing the chorus the entire audience softly hummed his accompaniment, making an effective climax to the song service of the evening.

Mr. Rodgers last night introduced two beautiful new choruses which the splendid choir handled in great shape. A magnificent arrangement of "Nearer My God, to Thee" to the theme of "Whispering Hope" was first rehearsed and immediately after the sermon a rousing anthem "Our King Immanuel" brought a burst of applause from the large group of folk who linger each night after the sermon to hear the choir rehearse new choral numbers. Splendid support is being accorded Charles Rodgers and Pianos Tredway by all the local musical talent and Mr. Rodgers states that he has assigned all the seats on his platform and has singers waiting that as yet he has been unable to place.

Dr. Hogg's humorous stories of life in the war training camps and in the trenches were highly interesting to his hearers. Last night in addition to their value as illustrative portions of his gripping message on modern problems which have resulted as a by-product of the war.

Early this morning a committee of ladies representing the various churches of the city were in the business houses distributing portions of scripture—a personal gift from Dr. Hogg to all those receiving it, autographed and stamped by the evangelist with his work as an evangelist by distributing thousands of portions of scripture in this manner and has found that it returned rich dividends in spiritual impressions made upon folks who were thus stimulated to study their Bibles more closely. The ladies are also acting as an invitation committee urging everyone to attend the services and reap the benefit of the series of sermons the noted minister is delivering.

AL SMITH'S PROGRESSIVE RECORD SWINGS GEORGIAN TO HIM

With Tariff Secondary, Personal Liberty and Correcting Evil Form Main Issue, Manufacturer Avers

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — Governor Al Smith's progressive record and his stand for personal liberty have converted a prominent Georgia textile manufacturer to the Democratic standard, according to a letter made public at National Democratic headquarters today by Col. Herbert Lehman, director of finance. He is Armand May of Atlanta, president of the American Mills Co., long a leader in business and social circles in the southern city, and son of Mrs. Pauline May of West End Avenue, New York. May's letter says:

"It is too bad that a greater number of our citizens do not realize that in deciding for whom they should vote, it is not to their discredit to vote differently than they have in times gone by.

"If we are to use wisely the privilege of voting then all the more reason for us to select that candidate who, in our sincere and unbiased judgment, promises to accomplish most for the welfare of our country. When two men of such outstanding caliber are set before us, with varying lines more traditional than real, you can readily appreciate why so many sign on the fence in this section, as elsewhere.

"Fortunately it is to the credit of a great number of people that they have minds of their own and are unwilling to be led. Among my own personal acquaintances, I have found a great number who are reverting attitudes of long standing and are swinging around to one side or another.

"But, as notable as are the candidates themselves, there is a principle at stake of even greater significance than personalities. Not the tariff which in the essential agreement of both parties for adequate protection is in effect a thing of the past, nor yet in farm relief which, though an issue of prime importance, is still an economic problem such as must often be encountered by the ship of state. The principle I allude to is fundamental. Indeed, it is the justification for government, and when too grossly compromised induces an inevitable reaction whose symptoms are certain to manifest themselves in the present time in the most lurid fanaticism.

and since the cure is worse than the disease, I think the time is ripe for another experiment, and that is—the experiment of temperance. Other nations have already gone far. It is asking a whole lot of a nation to make it feel that something is wrong that has been right all through the ages, and try as I may, I seriously doubt if the next administration will meet with much greater success in enforcing the Volstead act as it now stands, than has been met with heretofore.

"It is also good to know that this government was not conceived or designed especially for any group and that in the wisdom of its founders, there were to be no religious tests. That so much bitter opposition to one of the candidates should be on any safety from a doubt of his religious belief, is not a thing to be proud of. Aside from being absurd—for government and religion are utterly foreign to each other in all advanced civilization—opposition of this sort quickly becomes a boomerang and swings the subject forward on the tide of a just indignation. I am glad developments have brought the situation out into the open, so those who would wage a contest on so unfair a ground may be reclaimed and made to see that, while having been sincere, they have unknowingly been unpatriotic and un-American. Our destiny will not suffer us to backslide under the weight of an intolerance not shared by our name, for one is as fatal an obstacle. To mention the religious creed of neither candidate was of consequence in reaching a decision, any more than their preference in cigarettes or automobiles.

"It has been very hard for me to decide between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Smith. My decision has been less in taking shape, but all things considered, I feel that Governor Smith will best fulfill the needs of the hour and that under his able direction, we will enjoy a government at once progressive and faithful to the trust that placed it in power. I therefore, take great pleasure in pledging my support to the Democratic party in this campaign, and wish you a well earned victory at the polls next November.

Faithfully yours,

State hospital, who was formerly the pastor of the Methodist church of Moran. Interment was in the Moran cemetery. Mr. Wylie's death occurred slightly after midnight. He had been in ill health for about a year.

Born in Memphis, Tenn., January 27, 1854, Mr. Wylie came to Callahan county in 1886 and established the Wylie ranch, five miles from Moran, where he lived continuously until moving to town a few years ago. He was married to Miss McLaurie in Memphis, Tenn., in 1878. Mr. Wylie was a member of the Methodist church and one of the most prominent citizens of the community.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four children: They are R. B. Wylie, bursar of McMurry college, and Mrs. Emmette Chandler of Abilene; Mrs. W. H. Hudman of Lubbock; Mrs. G. C. Vought of Waco; Fred and Lawrence of Moran, and one other son and daughter.

PIONEER STOCK FARMER NEAR MORAN IS DEAD

MORAN, Sept. 11.—Funeral rites for Thomas Adam Wylie, 72, prominent stock farmer of Moran, and the father of R. B. Wylie and Mrs. Emmette Chandler of Abilene, were held from the Methodist church at Moran Monday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Nichols, chaplain of the Abilene State hospital, who was formerly the pastor of the Methodist church of Moran. Interment was in the Moran cemetery. Mr. Wylie's death occurred slightly after midnight. He had been in ill health for about a year.

No Excuse

There isn't a single excuse for doubtful brakes in this city. We have installed a Jumbo Giant Brake Tester on which every car owner can test his brakes free in two minutes. The "Jumbo" has a gauge for each wheel. A record is made of exactly what each brake will do at different driving speeds.

If the test shows that adjusting is needed, that adjusting should be done right on the machine. When it is finished you drive away with perfectly equalized brakes which will answer in an emergency.

The feeling of security you have when your brakes are right will make the Jumbo test a regular habit with you. It is just as important as oiling and greasing and should be done every thousand to fifteen hundred miles.

CREW MEMBERS HELD IN SMUGGLING CASE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—Two members of the crew of the Steel Inventor, in the hold of which ship seven stowaways from Brazil were killed by cyanide gas fumes while the boat was being fumigated here last month, were held as government witnesses here against four others of the crew who are charged with attempting to smuggle 16 aliens into this country.

A Bogren, boatman, and Franz Pylsah, seaman, the two witnesses, were released in $500 bail each, pending an investigation by the federal grand jury of the charges against the four other members of the crew, all of whom are in jail in default of $10,000 bail each.

CISCO PRAISED BY NEWS MAN WITH ROBINSON

Donald McGregor, who is accompanying Senator Joe Robinson on his speaking tour through the South, had some nice things to say about Cisco and the Daily News while here with the vice presidential nominee, September 4, according to Will H. Kittrell, Jr., of the Dallas Democratic headquarters, who was with the party.

"MacGregor is Washington correspondent for some of the leading newspapers of America and Europe. Kittrell said "and is intimately acquainted with the Democratic presidential nominee. He told me that he regards Governor Alfred E. Smith as one of the most efficient public men in America, a man morally clean and God-fearing. This was evidenced in his message to Senator Robinson after his nomination when he said: 'If I am elected president of the United States by the help of divine providence, I will execute, to the best of my ability, and faithful enforcement every provision of the constitution."

"MacGregor has traveled much and is a man of varied experience. After showing him Cisco he stated that this was one of the cleanest and most progressive appearing little cities he had ever visited. Concerning the Daily News he said it was positively the best daily newspaper he had ever seen published in a city of Cisco's size."

Will Kittrell, who is a Cisco boy, being a son of W. H. Kittrell, Sr., of this city, is in charge of publicity of the Al Smith for President club in Dallas, and was host to the newspaper correspondents who were here to report Senator Robinson's speech. In addition to looking after their welfare in the city, he accompanied the correspondents to Lake Cisco, the bathing beach, state fish hatchery and other places of interest.
