PEAR CROP TO BE EXCELLENT, IT IS INDICATED

The reports of orchardists have shifted from peaches to pears. This season those having orchards in and near Cisco have reported some of the finest peaches ever produced in any country. Many of the specimens reported are as large as oranges and of a delicious flavor. But the early peach season has passed, and pears are coming in for attention. From the specimens reported the pear crop promises to be as prolific and of equal proportions, as were the peaches. Of course a pear is naturally larger than peaches, and there is every indication that there will be no dearth of this fruit for preserving purposes this year.

The first to bring in specimens came in Wednesday from the farm of R. M. Lincoln, in the Pleasant Hill community. Lincolnberger has had no record of the number of trees in the pear section of his orchard, as he alternated with other trees between the pears. He stated that he would produce this year something over 200 bushels, and was retelling them at 51 3/4 per bushel, delivered.

Lincolnberger is raising the well known Keifer pear, and the seven brought in as samples averaged nearly one pound each, as the seven weighed 6 1/2 pounds. They were firm, well formed and without blemish.

BIDS FOR PAVING ARE ADVERTISED BY CITY

W. B. Stadium, city secretary, is advertising for bids for additional paving in West Cisco. This advertisement calls for bids for 2,500 cubic yards of excavation; 400 lineal feet of header; 3,100 lineal feet of combined curb and gutter; 5,100 lineal feet of separate curbing and 4,100 square feet of separate guttering. The bids also call for 7,500 square yards of pavement and a like amount of concrete toping. This new paving district includes Bliss, Liegett and Bullard avenues.

Two New Departments Created by W. T. Utilities; Personnel Changes Are Also Made Public

ABILENE, Sept. 13.—A general order abolishing the transmission department and creating two new departments, the operation department and the construction department, was issued from the office of the West Texas Utilities Co. here today.

The order carries with it the following changes in personnel: E. R. Hoppe, formerly chief engineer, becomes general superintendent in charge of the operating division; F. W. Schroeder, formerly transmission superintendent, will be chief engineer in charge of the construction and engineering; E. V. Sellers, formerly land agent, will become industrial agent; and George J. Clark, formerly industrial agent, will be power sales engineer.

The power sales engineer and the industrial agent will both work independently under Price Campbell, executive vice president heretofore. It was pointed out that the transmission department and the engineering department were merged in both operation and construction work, but under the new regime these are entirely separated, giving each department a specific duty to perform, thereby deleting overlapping and insuring the highest type of service in both ends of the business.

The annual fall golf tournament held each year by the Cisco Country club to determine the club champion for the coming year will be staged on the links of the club starting Saturday, Sept. 15, and ending Sunday, Sept. 30.

This tournament will consist of three flights as follows: Sixteen low medal scores in qualifying round will make up the first flight; the next eight low medal scores will make up the second flight and the next eight low medal scores will make up the third flight. Only those players qualifying for the first flight will be eligible for the president's cup or club championship. However, appropriate prizes are to be awarded to the winner and the runner up in each of the other two flights.

Dividing the tournament into three flights allows each member that plays golf an equal chance to be a winner in his class and win a prize. It will require 32 entrants to complete the three flights and if such flights are completed it will be necessary for every member of the club that plays golf to participate.

The basket picnic provided for in the following program is for the purpose of getting the entire club membership together regardless as to whether or not they are interested in golf. Immediately following the basket picnic in front of the club house a Calcutta Pool will be staged. In connection with the basket picnic, each member will bring his own basket full of eats. Plenty of coffee and ice water will be on hand for all.

The following is a complete program of events for the tournament:

Sept. 15 to 21, inclusive: Qualifying rounds.

Sept. 21, at 6 o'clock: Basket picnic for all members of club. Immediately following picnic a Calcutta Pool will be staged in the club rooms.

Sept. 22 to 23, inclusive: First rounds, all flights.

Sept. 25 and 27: Second rounds, all flights.

September 28 and 29: Third rounds, all flights.

Sept. 30: Final, all flights. Awarding of prizes.

WEATHER
West Texas: Tonight, and Friday, partly cloudy and cooler.

MUTILATION THREATENED KIDNAPED BOY

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Kidnapers of William Hamer, 19, have threatened to cut off an ear, finger or toe and send it to the boy's parents unless a $60,000 ransom is forthcoming by Saturday. It was revealed today. Meanwhile detectives bureau squads are combing the city for a trace of the kid, now missing six days.

FOREMAN DIES WHEN BRIDGE SPAN BREAKS

COLORADO, Sept. 13.—One dead, his death causing a horrible form and nine hurt, was the toll of a bridge disaster three miles west of here late Wednesday.

Four hours after a 43-foot center span of a concrete bridge, in construction over Morgan Creek, on Highway No. 1, suddenly gave way in the center and plunged to the bottom of the creek, the body of Sebe Riles, construction foreman, was found crushed under 70 tons of wet concrete. He was lying in one foot of water, beneath a layer of concrete four feet thick. The neck and arms were broken and the body badly crushed above the thighs. Death likely was instantaneous.

The nine injured men, all working on the structure, included Fred J. Hutchins of Abilene, inspector, who escaped with minor injuries. Others injured, none seriously, were Claude Callaway, Warren Good, J. M. Johnson, Seagle Johnson, Serro and Lucero Biliblas, Manuel Boretwa and Sanchez Torres. The last four named were laborers.

The tragedy occurred while Riles was standing on a scaffolding directly underneath the middle of the center concrete span, making an examination of the structure. The nine others were standing on the span, and, although falling with it, escaped without bad injuries.

Riles never had a chance. The point of the break, near the center of the span, was directly over his head, and his body was not seen after the collapse.

The bridge is a $30,000 structure, being jointly built by Mitchell county and the state and federal highway officers, and is about 80 per cent completed. It is a 200-foot structure, some 35 feet above the level of Morgan Creek in the center. The center span which collapsed would have connected the two ends except for about 20 feet on the east side.

The damage, while serious, will be repaired within a few days as the columns upon which the span rested are intact. The bridge has been under construction for four months.

U. S. SEEKS TO AVERT STRIKE ON RAILROADS

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The United States board of mediation today stepped into the deadlock over a wage agreement between 65,000 railroad employees and 55 western railroads in the hope of averting a possible strike and tie-up. The chairman, former Governor Morrow, of Kentucky, and G. Wallace Whang, mediator, were in session with brotherhood officials and the railroad committee here today.

While the Loboes have been showing up splendidly in the workouts, Friday's battle will be no walkover for the local lads as in the short time Coaches Chapman and Goughly have had to work out their squad members, there must necessarily be lack of smoothness apparent here and there in the grid machine's operations.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

If you have any presents to give, prepare to give them now, was the way Marion D. Paschall, one of Cisco's well known real estate and insurance men, felt about it today. He had a right to because this is his birthday.

"M. D." is a thorough Texan. He was born in Kaufman county back in 1897 when this part of the Lone Star state was hardly in the pioneer stage. Folks knew it was here then but they felt safer in populated communities. But as West Texas came into its own, he moved it. He has spent slightly more than 50 per cent of his life at Cisco, coming here in 1927.

FORMER CISCOAN'S HOME BURNS AT SAN ANGELO

Bill Hittson, former Ciscoan now living at San Angelo, had the misfortune to lose his residence and household goods last Saturday night, according to a letter received by his brother, S. E. Hittson, this morning. It was stated that no one was at home at the time, though a roomer was seen going in to the building some time previous to the fire Saturday night, but he had departed before the blaze was discovered. Mrs. Hittson was in Cisco at the time of the fire. The building, a brick veneer, was valued at $4,000, and was insured for $2,000. The origin of the fire was supposed to have been from defective plumbing in the bath room.

FIVE NON-STOP FLIERS MAY BE STILL IN AIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Five huge Class D airplanes in the non-stop air race to Los Angeles are believed to be still in the air. Pittsburgh reported sighting two over that city. Morris and three Bellanca with Emil Burgin, George Haldeman and John W. Iseman.

KELLY FIELD, San Antonio, Sept. 13.—A large monoplane passed over here at 9 o'clock this morning headed west. It was a strange ship and may be one of the transcontinental non-stop fliers, according to field officers. Its markings were indistinguishable owing to the height at which it was flying.

Death Penalty to Be Asked for Clyde Thompson and Tom Davis; 18 Complaints Filed Against 3

The grand jury of the 18th district court, which recessed last Friday, was reconvened this morning by Judge Elmo Beck to investigate the murders of Lucius and Leon Shook, committed last Friday near Leary, in Eastland county, for the commission of which Clyde Thompson and Tom Davis are now being held in the Eastland county jail. County Attorney Sparks will ask the death penalty for Thompson and Tom Davis but was undecided whether he would ask the grand jury to indict Woodrow Wilson Davis on the murder charge, an account of his age, which is claimed as 17. The ages of Clyde Thompson and Tom Davis has been given as 19 and 17 respectively.

Eighteen complaints have been filed against the two men held in the Eastland county jail without bond. These complaints were filed in Justice McDonald's court here. Complaints against each one of the three were filed for murder (two cases), robbery with firearms, money theft, petty theft and burglary. It is in these cases that the grand jury will be asked to return true bills of indictment. It was not learned whether the defendants will demand an examining trial, as the grand jury will probably find indictments this week.

Stolen Articles Found

Other than the detailed confession of Clyde Thompson, little has developed in this case. The six shooter, with which the murders were committed, also the banjo and suit case of clothing stolen from the Lucius Shook cabin, have been recovered. Officers were told by Tom Davis boys where these articles were concealed, the two accompanying Chief of Police Miller and a deputy sheriff. The six shooter, a big 45 caliber, plainly showed the rough usage it had been subjected to as a club with which Thompson stated he beat the head of Lucius Shook. Half of one side of the wooden stock of the pistol had been broken, and there was a break where barrel and cylinder connected. The weapon was probably put out of commission entirely.

The pocket book of Lucius Shook was also recovered, found on one of the timbers in the shack. The book contained cancelled checks aggregating over $300, signed by Lucius Shook to his brother Leon and John Tarleton collector, for the latter's expenses at that school, which he was paying. There were also a check and note signed by C. A. Baggett for $25.

It was stated that Lucius Shook carried life insurance in two or more companies in excess of $3,000, in addition to employers' liability insurance.

After being taken to Eastland from Cisco Wednesday afternoon, the three made a detailed confession to County Attorney Sparks. An oral confession had been made by Thompson in which he was corroborated by Tom Davis, while in the Cisco jail.

Surprised in Shook Home

In his statement Thompson declared that the double slaying occurred Friday night. His statement said that he went to the home of the two Davis boys Friday evening and found them to go with him to the Shook home, where he had been the day before and stolen a gun and banjo. The two Davis boys stayed in "the brush," the statement said, while he entered the house, believing it unoccupied. The Shook brothers had come home, he said, and were in the house. One of the Shook brothers accused him of stealing a banjo, he stated.

"I denied this," Thompson said, "and they said they would take me to my father's house and tell him what I had done." The three left the house together.

"I was armed," the statement continued, "but the Shook brothers did not know it. I debated about shooting them in the back, and decided I wouldn't do it. When we reached the tank about a quarter of a mile from the house I got into an argument with them and then shot them both."

The statement declares that he then beat them on the head to make sure they were dead. He took $13 and a gold watch off Lucius, he said, and had fallen bodies lying where they had fallen. He then re-joined his two companions and went to the Shook house. The two companions remained outside while he entered and obtained two suits of clothes. Then, with his companions, he went to their home where he spent Friday night. He never returned to the scene of the tragedy, he said.

CLYDE SCHOOL BOYS ARE SOLD ON FARMING COURSE

Vocational Agricultural Class Members Enthused by Practical Teaching, Each Works on Project

CLYDE, Sept. 13.—Last February Clyde took an advanced step by introducing a vocational agricultural teacher in the Clyde school. The boys in the school will be taught scientific agriculture by growing some field crops or raising some stock at their home farms. Thus they not only get the theory of the best and latest methods on farming, but each boy is given an opportunity to demonstrate the knowledge gained in a theoretical way by actual experience and practice while he is learning. In addition to their home projects the boys are taught to use and care for the tools used in buildings and equipment.

The vocational teacher secured by the Clyde school board is E. A. Hughes, formerly of Guadalupe, Comanche county, where he was superintendent and vocational teacher for three years. He started the work at Clyde in February, and already the boys in the vocational class have built a modern school farm shop, 29 by 30 feet. The boys planned the building and did all the construction work from the foundation to the laying of the saddle board.

Poultry Pays One Youth.
Twenty of the boys in the class have good projects at home in which they are showing considerable pride. One father told Mr. Hughes that he was not getting any money for truck this year. His boy has a truck patch and is selling enough truck from one acre to pay for it this year. Another boy has a poultry project. He secured a $35 rooster to head his breeding pen, and this fall he plans to take the fowls to all the shows in this territory. He has sold every chick to insure his stock that he has for sale, and he will have enough birds to supply the demand this year.

A number of the parents report that their boys are taking more interest in these projects than they have been able to secure from them in all their past years. Hughes also works with the adult farmers in the Clyde community. He is just completing a survey of the fruit industry in the Clyde country, and while doing this he has aroused the interest of the farmers in striving to improve the quality of their fruit. With this objective in view they have agreed to meet with him in a number of evening meetings to discuss cultivation, pruning, spraying, etc. Hughes estimates that from one-third to one-half of the returns from the apple crop is lost, and that all of it can be restored by proper cultivation and marketing methods.

Grapes Found Profitable.
At present the vocational agriculturist is inaugurating a campaign with the farmers and business men to increase the grape acreage in and around Clyde. Grapes do well on the soil around Clyde. He cites one farmer who will net $400 on one acre of grapes. They are going about their grape planting in a systematic way. The first thing being done is a decision on two or three varieties that do well both from a productive and marketing standpoint. The farmers will buy their grape plants cooperatively by which they will save from three to five cents on each plant. They are also favoring a marketing association along with the other plans to enable them to get the best price for their grapes as they come into bearing.

Hughes is also working with Clyde to secure a milk route for his people. He and County Agent Cooper are making a thorough survey of the Clyde community for securing all the data necessary to understand and build up the dairy industry. He states that he believes that there is not a place in the entire state where a vocational program is more suited than at Clyde, and he has found no better spirit of cooperation in such a program than that manifested at Clyde.

STOCK SHOW AT DE LEON ON NOV. 2-3

DE LEON, Sept. 13.—De Leon Pure Bred Stock Show will be the name of the event which is to be held in this city on Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3. The show grew out of a desire of the farmers and stockmen themselves to exhibit their fine animals, as a stimulus to the livestock industry. Some ten interested livestock men consulted together as to details of the show.

The coming show will give individual prominence to exhibitors. There are few large herds hereabouts. A man with one pure bred animal will stand just as much chance of occupying the center of the stage of prominence at this show as the owner of many animals. But the show is held primarily for the boys and girls who are members of the 4-H clubs and vocational agriculture classes who are working on livestock projects. All projects of 4-H club boys and girls and of vocational agriculture boys in the country, will be asked to show, whether this project be baby beef, dairy calf, hogs, sheep, goats or poultry.

General directors of the show will be Supt. D. M. Russell, of De Leon public schools, W. R. Belmont, superintendent of Coma schools, and J. A. Barton, county agent.

Departmental heads will consist of the following: Beef cattle—C. M. Caraway and W. N. Kooze; Dairy cattle—G. M. Strickland, W. B. Ray and M. E. Stephens; Hogs—J. A. McGinnis; Sheep and Goats—to be arranged.

Every person who expects to have an exhibit at this show is urged to register at the Free Press office not later than Oct. 1 and final registration will be ten days prior to the show. In registering give the name and address of exhibitor, how many and what kind of animals to be exhibited and whether they are club projects or owned by farmers and ranchers.

The weather will govern the place. If the weather permits the show will be held in the open on the most prominent street available. If cold and bad, an indoor location will be arranged.

TURNIPS COME TO LIFE AFTER RECENT RAINS

James L. Barham, of near Rising Star, was shopping in Cisco Wednesday. He says they have had fine rains during recent weeks and this has resulted in turnip patches and fall gardens being planted generally over the country. His turnips are large enough to afford fresh greens for the family and market now. Later he will sell turnips with the green. Green pepper is bearing steadily as are tomatoes that were not allowed to die during the dry summer.

He has also planted radishes which are now about ready to eat. Carrots are being planted for winter use as are English peas which are not injured by cold weather. Kale and rape are good winter crops that afford grazing for chickens as well as greens for the family. He thinks many farmers will plant bermuda onions in October and November. These will come on for early spring use and will harvest a good crop that will bring in a little money at a time when it is most needed by the farmer. Chickens are not doing well and eggs are scarce over the country. He thinks there will be a big crop of turkeys for the holidays.

Misguided, not to say petiferous, effort for a reformed calendar continues just as if no uprising on mass would follow as soon as it was discovered that it would abolish months with five pay days and market now. Later he—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A VITAL RELIGION

"Religion is like a stained glass window in a church. No matter how bright the day may be, you cannot see the beauty of it from the outside. Come in here! Come inside and look at it from within, then you will know." So writes Dean Brown.

Experimental experience has no equal, but it must be honest and thorough. One glimpse from the inside out is not enough. Too many are prone to give it "the once-over" and call it enough.

Religion is something to be lived as well as appreciated.

What are we doing to make religion vital? Are we saying we need the church and then do we fail to attend? Are we saying the ideals of Christ are sufficient but leave them to others to practice?

An ounce of living is worth a pound of profession. Let's act!

WORMS ARE ONE OF GREATEST ENEMIES OF POULTRY FLOCKS

Severe Infestation May Check Egg Production Entirely; Best Method of Combat is Sanitation

When the poultry flock gets to looking dull and unthrifty and the combs and wattles become shriveled, rough and colorless, the flock is more than likely the victim of worms. Such infestations have spread to such an extent that worms are now considered one of the greatest handicaps to profitable poultry production in Texas, and E. N. Holmgren, poultry specialist in the Texas A. & M. college extension service, has made their eradication his major project with county agents for the year.

"A severe infestation," he says, "may altogether stop egg production, for worms slowly poison the bird, inflame their intestines and sometimes completely clog the intestinal tract. Worms so lower the vitality of the flock as to make it the easy prey of such ailments as colds, rouse and chicken pox."

Round worms are much more common than tape worms, but both species are best controlled by preventive sanitary measures such as sanitation of the soil around poultry premises by clearing at least three times a year, cleaning the dropping boxes weekly and poultry houses three monthly, and by avoiding dirty, deep water troughs and wet grounds on the poultry premises. Feed troughs should be designed to keep birds from getting into them, their feet and legs from standing where droppings fall in the feed. Since young stock is more easily and fatally affected than mature birds, brooder houses should be located on grounds separate from the rest of the flock and pullies should be secured before placing them in the laying houses with the older birds.

"While preventive measures are most effective," Holmgren says, "an infested flock may be freed of round worms by mixing two pounds of pulverized tobacco (1 1/2 per cent nicotine) with each 100 pounds of mash, and feeding this mixture to the flock for three weeks. The tobacco should then be stopped for three weeks and then fed again for the same period. For tape worms the best remedy is one No. 960 capsule or tablet of karanja in each feed. For chickens under three months old the dose is reduced one-half and for turkeys two capsules or tablets are given for grown birds and one for poult.

More detailed information as to damage symptoms, prevention and treatment are contained in C-69, "Common Worms in Poultry," which may be obtained by writing the Extension Service, College Station, Texas.

17TH DISTRICT VOTERS GIVEN THANKS BY LEE

R. Q. Lee, Democratic nominee for representative in congress from the 17th Texas district, whose nomination was officially declared at the congressional convention held at Abilene Saturday, had the following comment on the action of the convention, in which he expressed his appreciation of the splendid support given him throughout the district.

Saturday, Sept. 8, 1928, the district convention of the 17th congressional district met in Abilene and declared me the Democratic nominee of this district, and the report disclosed that I had carried 16 of the 19 counties of the district. This check of the vote revealed that I received from all parts of the district a very gratifying support. I desire through the courtesy of the press to express to the voters of the district my appreciation for the preference shown me in the August primary.

"While I appreciate to the fullest extent the splendid vote I received, I realize that the results place a tremendous responsibility on me, and I am resolved to apply myself to the task of trying to work out the local problems that affect the citizenship of my district so as to give the greatest amount of relief and service possible.

"On those great questions which are fundamental in Democracy, I expect to go with my party. I shall oppose extravagance and graft at all times and contribute what I can to honest government, economically administered."

FINE CARS DESERVE FINE OIL

People who know their way about in the world, and whose lives prove it, have very simple solutions for motoring problems. They instinctively trust the leadership built by quality.

The clean, clear, golden Texaco is as natural a motor oil for them as the good lines of the cars they drive or the clothes they wear. By itself they might not give more than a passing thought to the color, but with a world-known name shining through it—they are content.

On the Road, or on the Avenue, they naturally roll up to the Texaco Red Star and Green T for lubrication service.

The grade oil in the can on the extreme left is dark in color. Texaco, taking its name at the top, reaches its peak in the middle, giving leaving the clean, golden Texaco Motor Oil on the last.

Bill Dollar Makes Rounds in Cisco Preparatory to Going to Work on Monday; Oil Men Are Paid Visits

Cisco, Texas, September 13, 1928.

Dear Fellow Citizens of Cisco:

I arrived in our town this morning. I say "our town" because I am here to work for everybody. I am Bill Dollar. They know me at Washington as a Silver Certificate. I bear the signatures of both the treasurer and registrar of the United States.

My work starts Monday morning, bright and early. Today I am the guest of the general Ford agent, A. D. Anderson. Say, folks, Anderson is one boy who believes in the future of Cisco. "Business is fine," he says. "Delivery of my pet, the Model A, is improving all the time and he tells me that he is remodeling his shop throughout." This is costing a good many thousand dollars but I saw the blue prints and believe me, it's going to be the best in all of West Texas.

If you like him, call him Andy. Well, Andy and I visited Humbletown this morning. That is a real city. If you haven't gone through all the departments lately, it will pay you to make the trip. All the men out there are real citizens and are not lumbies at all when telling of their products and the work done in Texas by the men of Humbletown.

I certainly like F. D. McMahon, head of the Humble Pipe Line here. He's no ordinary citizen but a general in charge of a whole army scattered all over West Texas.

His men are gathering oil beyond McCamey, out in Winkler county, and practically everywhere else it seems to me. His force keeps track of hundreds of miles of pipe lines, of pump stations that never stop and actually millions of barrels of oil in storage.

The production department, headed by W. W. Wallace, drills oil wells, buys and sells leases and does exactly $413,215 other things in connection with the oil business.

Nearly 250 people live in Humbletown. They have their own water, fire department, swimming pool, tennis courts, hospital, recreation building, use their own gas and manufacture their own electricity. I am sure that Dave out in the shop has the skill and machinery necessary to move locomotive if the Humble needed one. I want to pat my green back for the courtesies shown me by Clifton and Harratan and building or have built splendid homes. Their fine families contribute much to the welfare of the city. They put their good money into the new hotel in order to boost the good little town they are proud to call home.

Geesh! this is a splendid place and I've certainly enjoyed my trip today with Andy.

Yours for Cisco,
BILL DOLLAR.

TRAINS ARE BACK ON LONGER SKIRTS

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Trains have come back again with the definite move toward longer and still longer skirts for evening wear. Critics who have sighed incessantly for the clearance of long sweeping dresses of 26 years ago will be satisfied this winter, for all of the couturiers are showing gowns which, although short in front, dip behind in nothing more nor less than the once-familiar train.

They are not, however, the very wide, full train our grandmothers knew about, but narrow, wavy ones either pointed or square, placed at the side or center back. Cheril is showing a charming dinner-train of white satin, the skirt with a long pointed train and bodice of pale headed jacket embroidered in astrace. It has long, tight sleeves and one jeweled button at the wrist.

A model in black point de seurt with full flounces and semi-fitting bodice of cire lace has two big bright red velvet flowers on the skirt which has a wavy train making it especially distinctive. Another of sapphire-colored swishes about the hips with a long pointed train falling at the side, is without decoration save for a long necklace of clear crystal.

The old fish-tail train in some-what modified style is seen on an original black satin frock. It is quite perky with salmon-colored feathers all down its length.

FIRST OF COMMUNITY FAIRS BEING HELD AT PLEASANT HILL

Products of 3 Neighborhoods Exhibited; Entertainment Is Given; Scranton Show Friday

The first of the community fairs of the Pleasant Hill school house today. The communities of Wood, Shady Grove and Pleasant Hill combined in this community fair, which is one of the best ever conducted in this section. The exhibits of farm products, livestock, the canning art, needle work, etc., will compare favorably with the exhibits shown in county fairs.

Pleasant Hill has held several community fairs in the past, but the exhibits being shown today excel those shown at any previous fair. Then, too, a greater interest has been manifested among those sponsoring the community exhibits than is known to previous events.

All arrangements were perfected in advance to make the fair the success it is proving to be. The committee on arrangements and grounds put in a hard day Wednesday getting the grounds cleared, set and erecting the benches and stalls, so that everything was ready when the fair opened this morning.

All committees worked cooperatively and nothing was lacking at the opening hour. The exhibits are being judged by E. W. Dudley, state specialist of the A. & M. college extension service.

The entertainment program will begin at 2:30 this afternoon and consisted of music, dancing and amusing features, and included a building and horse race, and a boxing contest, straight three-fifteen boxing contest, "kick start" football contest, playground baseball game between the members and board of directors, and a horse race, and a hole fight for boys. This latter stunt was perhaps the stellar attraction of the entertainment program, and practically the entire attendance witnessed this sight. Four boys equipped with boxing gloves on one hand, held each other on a horizontal pole, and began boxing with their gloves held while holding to the pole with the right hand. The first to be "knocked" from the pole was succeeded in the boxing contest by the one immediately behind him. This continued till the winner was decided.

A children's clinic was held in the afternoon, conducted by Dr. W. P. Lee and Dr. Charles Hale, when children were examined for ear, eye, nose, throat, brain and lung defects.

A night program had been arranged but it was learned too late to make other arrangements that some of the participants could not be present, so the entertainment was abandoned, but an effort will be made to have some thing tonight by local talent.

The second community fair was held at Pleasant Hill today. The exhibits will also be of a similar nature, shown by the people of the Scranton, Arvon and Deer Horn communities. The Scranton fair promises to be equally as great as the Pleasant Hill event, and those who failed to attend the fair today should not miss the one at Scranton. Both events had the advice and assistance of E. H. Varred, state specialist of the extension service, who has spent much of his time and attention in visiting these fairs, really worthwhile community exhibits of the products of these communities.

CONTRACT FOR WEST WARD SCHOOL TO JOHNSTON

W. W. Johnston was the successful bidder for the new West Ward school building when the contract was awarded by the trustees of the Pleasant Hill school district Tuesday evening. Johnston's bid was $27,412, with allowance for the old building to be wrecked of $1,979, or $25,433 net.

Three bids were opened from Cisco bidders, the others being J. H. Latson and E. W. Dolgener, each of which was lower than the bid from outsiders. There were ten bids submitted.

The brick that Contractor Johnston will use in the construction of the building was selected by the board from samples submitted by the Texas Building Supply, of Abilene and will be light gray in color.

The contract for heating the building was awarded the South-west Heating Co., of Fort Worth, for $2,275. This heating system is the same that is installed at the First Baptist church, in Cisco, and which has proven satisfactory since the building was erected about a year ago.

A bond amounting to 50 per cent of the bid was required of the contractor, who was given 150 working days to complete the building, and providing for a forfeit of $25 per day for each day over the limit specified. The bond was made by the Aetna Co. through the J. M. Williamson agency.

Johnston stated that work would begin at once on wrecking the old building, as this must be done that the lot may be cleared to make room for the new structure.

Following are those bidding on the new West Ward building with the amount of their bids and the amount allowed for the salvage of the old building:

E. W. Dolgener, Cisco, $27,450; old building, $1,979.

Murphy & Murphy, Mineral Wells, $29,382.40; old building, $1,979.

J. H. Latson, Cisco, $27,491; old building, $1,979.

Payne Bros., Fort Worth, $33,855; old building, $380.

H. F. Ball Construction Co., Fort Worth, $42,800; old building, $375.

Thomas Noble Construction Co., Dallas, $32,500 net.

W. W. Johnston, Cisco, $27,412; old building, $1,979.

Christy-Dolph Construction Co., Dallas, $45,545 net.

J. B. Carver, Abilene, $38,000; old building, $1,900.

All children between the ages of six months and one year are eligible in this contest.

STEPHENS SCHOOLS PROMISED AID IN FINISHING WORK BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 11. — The state rural school educational department has assured seven

WAR SLOGAN MADE INTO STIRRING SERMON BY DR. HOGG

Largest Audience of Revival Hears Evangelist, Ex-Chaplain, on 'Where Do We Go from Here?'

Another full tabernacle, including in the audience a large number of ex-service men and their families from this entire section, heard Dr. Will Hogg last night in his message on "The Slogan of the Doughboy—Where Do We Go from Here, Buddy?" Despite the fact that Dr. Hogg had been confined to his room all day by an indisposition and came to the platform with an effort, the message was a most enjoyable bit of platform entertainment in the first section of his address, when the speaker convulsed his hearers with humorous excerpts from army life and a deeply impressive and earnest sermon appeal to the sober thinking of every person who had not seriously faced the question of eternity as expressed in the doughboy's slogan, "Where Do We Go From Here?"

The message, despite its lighter vein in the opening minutes, became more and more searching as it unfolded and left the audience in a profound and solemn hush as each hearer faced the certainty of standing before the judgment throne of God. Many felt that probably the evangelist would close with an appeal to the unconvinced to make a stand for Christ—so earnest and convincing and so deeply urgent for an open decision before the world as the part of every man, but as has been his custom thus far Dr. Hogg brought his message to a climax started the audience singing the searching chorus "Is My Name Written There?" and abruptly left the platform, sending the audience carrying their impressions to the quiet of their own homes for earnest thought.

The attendance last night, the largest of the series thus far, with quite a number standing around the edges of the tabernacle and still others sitting in cars to hear the service, was most gratifying and was the clearest evidence thus far seen of the depth of interest in the meeting.

Tonight a large audience is expected to hear Dr. Hogg's message on "Who in Hell?" A delegation from Moran will be special guests in the service. The musical program was again enjoyable and deep in its spiritual impressions. A specially enjoyable feature of the song service was the singing of Mrs. Hugh J. White, introduced by Mr. Rodgers as one of the most talented musicians of Mineral Wells, who sang with brilliant effectiveness the beautiful chigato solo in the inspiring choral number "Blessed Be the Name of Jesus." Mrs. White sang from the speaker's platform, her beautiful lyric soprano voice ringing out bell-like and clear above the rhythmic chanting of the chorus. The effective rendition of this number by Mrs. White and the choir brought a burst of applause from the big crowd.

PITHY PARAGRAPHS FROM HOGG.

I would rather be a mosquito than a man who has not been touched with the Divine.

There are just two moral masters in the world. One is Jesus Christ and the other is Satan and everybody is subject to one or the other. You are either with and for Jesus or you are away from Him and against Him.

If all the men on top of God's green earth would voice there was no hell it would not put out the fire and brimstone.

Whenever a seeking sinner starts out to find a seeking Saviour it is not long before they meet.

I am going to hold Christ up to you and I don't believe all the devils in hell can keep you from being moved when the decision is made.

The citrus fruit of California is stamped with a true mark. "Smile." The devil also has a

HOGG REVIVAL PROGRAM Tonight

7:30 p. m.—Tabernacle service. Dr. Hogg's subject: "Who's Who in Hell." Moran will read a large delegation to this service.

Friday
10 a. m.—Dr. Hogg's lectures on Acts.

7:30 p. m.—Young people's night. High school bodies and young people's organizations from churches in all this section will form a delegation to hear Dr. Hogg's great sermon to young people on "The Great Divide."

Sunday
3 p. m.—Mass meeting for everybody at the tabernacle. Dr. Hogg will preach on "The Second Coming of Jesus Christ."

7:30 p. m.—Regular tabernacle service. Sermon subject: "The Wages of Sin."

If Jesus in all His beauty does not appeal to you your soul must be dead.

Christ is Lord of all or He is not Lord at all.

You may start talking but you will never stop it.

An abscessed tooth is bad, but the worst thing on earth is an abscessed heart.

Remember that you can get rich for a small amount, but if you get real diamonds you will have to pay for them. If you have a real religious conscience it will cost you something.

It is a whole lot better to die for something than to live for nothing. Men, let's live for that something that Christ died for.

The first church fuss after Pentecost was over who got the biggest shout or who got the biggest slice of bread. Ninety-nine out of a hundred church fusses start just as foolishly.

Sidelights On Union Revival

The Cisco Labor Band, which had been announced as a special musical feature for last night, failed to appear at the service to the great disappointment of many in the audience, but Chorister Rodgers filled in that section of the program with splendidly rendered choral numbers. The presence of Mrs. Hugh J. White, director of the Mineral Wells Music club and of the First Presbyterian choir of that city, who added her magnificent soprano voice to the splendid chorus, and took special work in the choral numbers with great effectiveness, was an unexpected treat for the audience and counterbalanced the disappointment felt when the band concert failed to materialize.

Dr. Hogg got down to his Bible driving in real earnest last night and gave away eight of his beautiful large-print, seven-line Bibles. One was awarded to J. E. Spence, chairman of the tabernacle campaign committee and another to E. J. Pen, campaign treasurer, for their faithful efforts in the campaign and went to the chorists, "to sing that wanted it," and it was wanted at once by quite a number, one young lady however, being the lucky one. Another went to C. E. Yates, adjutant of the local post of the American Legion and still another to Jim B. Parker, Jr., of the Cisco High school, who was the first to correctly locate the "classical" quotation Dr. Hogg had used in his message on Satan on Tuesday night.

Dr. Hogg gave his service record last night which ran from childhood for the 212th Engineers, then division commander for the 97th division at Chateau, injured while with the Third division, after recovery sent to Germany as ranking chaplain with the Army of Occupation where he was stationed when he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage from his old wound and was returned to the states on a stretcher.

Dr. Hogg stated that he quit the 97th Division when it adopted its insignia. The insignia was an acorn supposed to typify the sturdiness of the oak, but the speaker stated that on the occasion of the first parade the boys of the division dubbed them the "nut brigade" and it was too much for him and he petitioned for transfer.

True to expectation Dr. Hogg held the audience gripped last night by the recital of "outfits" given by local ex-service men at the audience who rose and called their army connection. Men were present from many of the famous divisions whose front line service played decisive parts in the great struggle and almost every branch of the service was represented including aviation, the army engineers, and the crowd got a laugh out of the lone ex-navy man who rose and with a ring of pride in his voice, that was reminiscent of the ancient army-navy rivalry, called out in tones anything but apologetic "NAVY."

The audience was much interested in the recital of "outfits" given by local ex-service men at the audience who rose and called their army connection. Campaign Director Williams last night gave a brief statement of the financial budget of the campaign and stated that the offerings to date had run a little behind the regular schedule in campaigns of this proportion and urged the folks to "hit the pans" a little heavier and also instructed his workers not to neglect the outside crowds in the cars. The audience responded liberally and brought the total considerably above the average nightly offerings of heretofore.

We Are Saving Lives

If all brakes were in excellent condition there would be fewer automobile accidents and few people killed. Since we installed the Jumbo Brake Tester we have found and corrected thousands of faulty brakes.

Here is a device that in two minutes time gives you an exact check on your brakes. There is a separate gauge to report on each wheel. If the brakes are in need of repairing and adjusting, the place to have it done is right on the "Jumbo". In this way the brake may be perfectly repaired.

You drive away certain that regardless of the emergency your car is going to stop when and where you want it to. Test your brakes every thousand to fifteen hundred miles. It is just as important as oiling and greasing and the rest is free.

FORD TO HELP CREDIT BUYER OF HIS AUTOS

With the production of the new Ford car showing a steady increase each week, the most interesting recent development at Detroit was the announcement of the authorized Ford finance plans with the establishment of the principle of time payments on all Ford products.

The new Universal Credit Co. has been created as the specialized financial institution to provide a uniform and authorized time-purchase plan throughout the United States. The Universal Credit Co. is Ford controlled and financed. Offices of the company have been established in the new Peabody Building in Detroit and two branches, Detroit and Kansas City, are open for business. As rapidly as possible a total of 33 branches will be established. Branches at New York, Boston, Chicago and Atlanta are organized and will commence doing business during September. These will be followed by the opening of regional offices in other principal cities from coast to coast.

The Universal Credit Co. plan of time purchase permits the owners of Ford cars to buy them at lowest possible financing cost commensurate with sound business practices. Already the establishment of the Universal Credit Co. has aroused national interest on the part of Ford dealers and Ford purchasers. The Ford dealer welcomes the creation of the new company because it offers him for the first time a finance plan with the solid backing of the Ford Motor Co. behind it. Enumerated among other advantages of the Universal Credit Co. plan of time purchase is the fact that the company is not operated with the primary and sole purpose of profit, but is created for the sound financing of the Ford dealer and purchaser. The creation of the new company is expected to act as an added sales tool in the hands of the Ford dealer, who will thereby be able still further to carry on the announced Ford policy of passing on to the consumer every possible economy.
