Wright after Tour Predicts Smith Will Carry Every Southern State; Sees Electoral Minimum of 240

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—After a tour of some 3,000 miles and the making up of varied claims to the title of both New York and New Jersey, James M. Thompson, director of the New Orleans Item, is convinced that Governor Alfred E. Smith will win a single state in the so-called "Solid South" and with these can count on 240 electoral votes as stand today. This is but 23 of the number necessary for election and Mr. Thompson places the doubtful column to include a number of states the distinct leanings toward Democratic ticket.

Slower progress is being made in the case of Thomas Davis, on trial in the 8th district court at Eastland, who was arraigned Wednesday afternoon than in the trial of Clyde Thompson, principal in the murder of the Shook brothers at Leary September 7, a most brutal killing, which shocked all of West Texas, and for which Thompson is now under death sentence for the murder of Lucas, the elder of the brothers. It is also for the murder of Lucas Shook that Thomas Davis is now on trial.

The resumption of the trial began early Thursday afternoon after Judge Beem had overruled the defense plea for bond under habeas corpus proceedings instituted by the defense counsel. The jury was completed before adjournment Thursday, and the introduction of testimony by the state began this morning. At the conclusion of the testimony of Harvey Ellis the state rested at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the defense immediately began the introduction of testimony. Those testifying for the state were Mr. Edwards, owner of the well where Lucius Shook was employed; Mrs. Shook and Mrs. Pierce, mother and sister of the murdered man; L. A. Kelly, of Leary; Wm. Newman, Cy Bradford and Lee Reed, deputy sheriffs who assisted in the search and arrest of Clyde Thompson, Thomas and Woodrow Davis.

Those testifying this afternoon for the defense were Reece Thompson, father of Clyde Thompson, Sam and Lem Davis, father and uncle of the defendant. In the habeas corpus proceedings a statement by the defendant was introduced which, in the main, corroborated that of Woodrow Wilson Davis, in his testimony in the Thompson trial.

DUCKS FOUND PLENTIFUL AT CISCO LAKES

Ducks are quite plentiful and are flying low at Lake Cisco, according to a party of hunters who were out there this morning when the sun peeped over the eastern horizon as the base of this hunt. This party consisted of Garrett Brown, George Boyd, Frank Turner and Paul Zahn. K. H. Pittard, who went out to Lake Bernie, reported pretty good luck, only his bag consisted of four of the smaller varieties—Brown-headed teal and Butterballs—but he said they were all fat and choice.

VETS IN GRAY ARE GUESTS OF CISCO U. D. C.

The members of the Cisco Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, entertained with a most enjoyable luncheon Thursday noon at the First Baptist church in honor of the Confederate Veterans. Only a few of the veterans responded to the invitation, despite the fact that the Daughters provided transportation, and sent cars to bring them to the church. Several were ill, others could not be located and some were out of town. However, those present spent a most pleasant hour, relished the delicious luncheon and enjoyed the splendid program rendered.

May Shelter Presidents

According to persistent rumors in society circles, this palatial residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont at Newport, R. I., has been offered to the Federal Government to be used by future presidents as a summer White House. The mansion, built of marble at a cost of several million dollars, is one of the most famous in the United States. It is understood the house will be donated to the government.

HOPE IS GONE FOR FLIER WHO BRAVED OCEAN

CROYDON, England, Oct. 19.—That Commander H. C. MacDonald has joined that ghastly cadre of those who visited up their lives in an attempt to span the Atlantic Ocean by airplane was the belief forced upon Croydon airmen and air ministry officials today. MacDonald has been missing now for more than 36 hours with his plane fueled for only 15 hours. He is approximately 36 hours overdue.

LOBOES LEAVE FOR CLASH IN BOBCATS' DEN

Each Chapman and some two dozen of his Big Dam Lobos boarded a bus for San Angelo this morning for San Angelo where they meet the Bobcats of that high school in the second conference contest of their Oil Belt competition tomorrow afternoon. The Lobo band, pep squad and many rooters will leave tomorrow to cheer the team during the game.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED TO HEAR BLANTON

Luther McCrea, of Cisco, chairman of the state Democratic organization for Eastland county, stated that it was expected to have a very large attendance at Eastland on Saturday night to hear Judge Thos. L. Blanton, of Abilene, and Mrs. W. D. Moore, of Denton, speak in behalf of Alfred E. Smith's candidacy for the presidency. He expects to have the Gypsy Girls String band, of Sweetwater, at Eastland to furnish music for the entertainment of the crowd. This band has merited an enviable reputation over the district for the catchy airs they play and sing. The band created a sensation sometime ago at a Democratic convention at Fort Worth and is the same band that played for the entertainment of Senator Joe Robinson, candidate for vice president, when he spoke at Cisco.

Murderer of School Girl Pays on Gallows; Plays Phonograph, Reads Bible Before Final Visit of Priest

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Oct. 19.—Grimly cool to the threshold of eternity and buoyed up by religious ecstasy, William Edward Hickman, 21, today paid with his life for the brutal murder of 12-year-old Marian Parker of Los Angeles. He mounted the scaffold in the death cell here with a firm tread, studiously avoiding the gaze of more than 200 spectators.

Turns to Bible and Phonograph

Consolated alternately by the Bible and a phonograph through the long restless night, Hickman retired at 8:30 o'clock last night but restlessly tossed until 3 o'clock this morning when he arose and played "Ave Maria" by Schumann-Heink and "In a Monastery Garden" by Father William Fleming, pastor of San Rafael Catholic church, arrived shortly after 7:30 to spend the last few hours with the condemned man. Hickman greeted him cordially.

Crime Due to Revenge

Marian Parker, 12, was kidnapped from school last December by a man who told her teacher that the girl's father had been hurt in an accident and was asking for her. That was the last time she was seen alive. Letters demanding ransom were sent to the distracted father and efforts of the police to apprehend the kidnaper were fruitless.

Body of Mail FLIER IS FOUND IN WRECKAGE

CLARION, Pa., Oct. 19.—The body of William C. Hopson, New York-Cleveland air mail pilot, was found in the wreckage of his burned plane near Folk, six miles southwest of Franklin, Pa., at 7 o'clock this morning, according to word received here. He apparently had lost his way in the heavy fog yesterday and crashed to earth.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—Somewhere in the country near here, safeguarded from interviewers and the morbid, Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, mother of William Edward Hickman, spent today without the details of the hanging of her son in San Quentin penitentiary. She will not know the details of the last hours of her son for perhaps two days, according to Captain Charles Edwards, former chief of police of Kansas City, personal friend who is with her and members of the family.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

This is the day there is much "whooping" on the part of Dr. Charles Hale, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist by vocation and hunter and general sportsman by avocation. He may forget to count this birthday on his fingers but that isn't keeping him from celebrating it just the same. If the Lobos were playing on Chesley Field today, his joy would be complete.

"FREE" NEWSPAPERS

The many-sided genius of Premier Mussolini has not been fully appreciated. He is a humorist. His address to the editors of Italian newspapers the other day in Rome was surely a huge practical joke.

The premier was addressing the Fascist editors. That is the only kind of newspaper editors there are in Italy, because the others have been put out of business. And he had the nerve to tell them:

"The old accusations that Fascist tyranny suffocates the freedom of the press no longer receive credit. The Italian press is the freest in the whole world.

"Elsewhere the press is at the orders of groups, parties or individuals; elsewhere the press is reduced to buying and selling sensational news whose reiterated reading causes in the public a kind of stupefied saturation with symptoms of debility, inanition and imbecility; elsewhere newspapers are in the hands of individuals who consider journalism as an industry.

"Italian journalism is free because it serves only one cause and one regime. It is free because within the limits allowed by law it can exercise and does exercise the functions of control and criticism and propulsion."

In other words, wriggling our way through this curious verbiage, we learn that the press in Italy is free to uphold the Fascist regime.

Within that limit, it has absolute freedom to criticize—the only difficulty being that Fascism, by its own admissions, covers just about every phase and branch of Italian life and Mussolini is supreme boss of everything.

Every Italian editor is free to uphold Mussolini. And that, the humorous dictator thinks, is quite enough liberty for anybody.

JAPS IN BRAZIL

The Brazilian state of Para, where the fine rubber is grown, reports a new Japanese colonization plan. A syndicate is going to send Japanese families there at the rate of 1,000 persons a year, to cultivate rubber, rice, cotton, tobacco and cocoa. They will be carried on Japanese ships, beginning next April, and will expect to become Brazilian citizens. There are a good many Japs in Brazil already in the state of Sao Paulo. This will not worry the United States. Quite the contrary. Our Pacific Coast states in particular will be pleased to see Japan's human overflow turning to South America. It is needed there far more than here, and as long as the new emigrant colonies remain a small minority of the countries they enter, there are not likely to be any diplomatic complications for Uncle Sam.

FLYERS AND INVENTORS

A little indignation has been expressed because the new "Who's Who in America," just published, gives biographies of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd, but omits Charles A. Lawrence. Lawrence is the man who designed the Wright Whirlwind motor to which much of the success of the spectacular transoceanic flights was rightly attributed. This is an error which future encyclopedians will amply remedy. Just as today more information can be found about the Wrights, Langley and Curtiss, who built the early airplanes, than about the aces of a decade or two ago, so in time the scientific men back of today's airplane—the builders, inventors and experimenters—will come into their own. Courage and daring always wins more instant appreciation and applause than do scientific research and skill, but the glory is usually evened up in the long run.

FAKE ANTIQUES

A port appraiser declares that of the millions of dollars' worth of antiques which pass through his hands every year, brought home by American tourists or imported for the American market, more than one-half are fakes. They are "manufactured for the trade" by skilled European workmen. "In many instances," he says, "we have detected American pine and chestnut in the 'antiques' which the purchasers believed had been in European families for hundreds of years." It isn't only foreign workmen, either, that are busily occupied in this antique industry. Many American cabinet and furniture makers are just as skilled. But it's a pity to let this out. Antique faddists take so much pleasure in being fooled.

THE SELF-OPERATOR

"Physician, heal thyself!" is the ironic cry that has come ringing down the ages. And back of it has stood the truth that the physician, when sick, is as sick as anyone else, with pain and fever robbing him of judgment just as they do any sufferer. But here and there is a physician who has had to heal himself. In pioneer days the doctor who cut off his own frozen toe or finger to avert blood poisoning, who poured down himself the tremendous doses of strong medicines needed to break the grip of yellow fever or cholera, were not so rare. He had to treat himself and take his own treatment if he expected to keep on going, because there was no one to fall back on for help. Still, the case of Dr. Robert Meals, young California surgeon who removed his own appendix, is sufficiently startling. He was propped with pillows on the operating table of a hospital, used only a local anaesthetic, removed the appendix and sewed up the wound. Dr. Meals, by being patient and operator both at the same time, has learned some things he wanted to know which will help him with other patients. And he has demonstrated high physical courage.

Virtuous Hypocrisy

By WICKES WAMBOLDT

Are there conditions under which hypocrisy is a virtue? Recently a magazine writer has told us that it is frankness that is the virtue and hypocrisy one of the worst of evils. That today folks call a spade a spade, this writer thinks commendable; that we speak outright regarding sex and other matters, she thinks desirable.

It is frankness a virtue. Well, that depends. Is hypocrisy an evil? Well, that depends, also. There are times when frankness is atrocious. If some home fish meets your pretty wife on the street, and walks up to her and says, "Sweetheart, you look good to me!" that would be frankness; but would you care for that? Or would you prefer that he pass the lady pretending that he had no interest in her? That would be hypocrisy.

Webster's dictionary says that hypocrisy is the act or practice of feigning to be what one is not, or to feel what one does not feel. By that definition I much prefer hypocrisy to frankness under some circumstances. Should you meet an enemy on the street filled with a burning desire to knock your block off, would you rather be an idiot and do it or how politely and patiently?

Take the case of a married man who likes women not widely but too well. Would you prefer that he be perfectly frank about his affections and motor around openly with his hand over and parade openly at the clubs and dances, or pretend to be a decent citizen and keep his development as inconspicuous as possible.

Now and then I meet a man with a propensity for the language. I should not appreciate frankness in him in that direction. I should prefer, while within earshot of me, that he pretend to be clean-mouthed.

"Hypocrisy" says an ancient writer, is the homage vice pays to virtue. When Uncle Sam meets a man in a complimentary to Chastity when Industry meets a Deceit and pretends to be decent, that is a mark of respect to Deceit.

If all the persons mistaking themselves while pretending to be brave were to cast pretense to the winds and be perfectly frank, the world wouldn't be so much a place to live in. If all the persons who are trying ungenerously thoughts should speak their minds, the effect would be fearful.

"I always speak what is in my

FOUR WELLS IN NEW POOL NEAR CROSS PLAINS

CROSS PLAINS, Oct. 19. — An important find was made in the recently discovered cross-roots field six miles southwest when an effort to the discovery well missed the lead at the expected depth and picked up a second sand 30 feet lower. B. K. and R. O. Eubank afflicting to the east, encountered a sand at 465 feet on the R. O. Eubank land and with four feet of sand drilled, have 250 feet of fluid in the hole with no showing of water. Preparations are being made to place the well on the pump.

A second producer has been added this week which makes a total of four wells in the new pool. Bedding field & Welch afflicting to the north of their discovery on the J. L. Cavannah tract touched the first sand at 440 feet and with 350 feet of oil in the hole seem to have a well good for 40 barrels or better. Both the discovery and well drilled by the Cross Roots Oil Co. are still making over 40 barrels daily after having been drilled in for three weeks.

Both sands were missed in tests drilled to the west of the producers which may limit the drilling mainly to the north and east. The Cross Roots Oil Co. is spudding its No. 3 O. W. Kittis to the east of its No. 1 producer. B. K. and R. O. Eubank have made a second location to the north of their new well.

A bad fishing job has necessitated the phasing of the deep test at 2,900 feet being drilled by Tom Bryant northeast of Cross Plains on the Pinkerton estate.

POWDER MY BACK NOVEL BY ARLINE DE HAAS

CHAPTER XIV—Continued: George looked at a glance and it Adele's and his own, she looked splendid. I haven't a chance to see the new edition...

George realized that Adele was hurt—how deeply he didn't quite know, but he could not for a single instant think that she had allowed herself to become a fool over such a chap as Harry. But all the same he felt sorry that he had been the one to bring her such news, even though he had thought that it was best that she knew the truth.

"I'm sorry, Adele," he got up and went over to the lounge and sat down beside the actress, taking her hand and putting it gently. After a while he spoke. "I know that you look upon me as an old man, but he's just a baby. He can't keep you with you don't you realize that, Adele? His work shows it. He's fascinated, and he's really, down deep inside, leaning on you. You're strong—strong enough for someone to lean on, and that's what Harry is doing."

Adele sat there for a moment, her hand in his, and she was so very close to him that she could feel his breath on her cheek. She was so very close to him that she could feel his breath on her cheek. She was so very close to him that she could feel his breath on her cheek.

"I don't know anything about your friendship with Harry," George continued. "But, Adele, you must realize that Harry has no money. He has nothing to live on. All he had in Brookton was his salary from the bank, and that was so very small. He can't afford to take you around and spend any money. He hasn't any, at all."

Adele realized now the truth of these remarks. But as she looked at Harry's gaze on her plane, her eyes softened. He was such a dear. "George," she interrupted suddenly, and somewhat coldly, "I don't see how this is any affair of yours—except his shortage at the bank. And I'll refuse that."

"No, Adele, that isn't what I came here for. That isn't your affair—it's mine," George shook his head. "I've had a talk with Harry. I've told him that he could come back, but he won't. He won't leave you. He's mad about you, Adele. But you're going to ruin his life. He doesn't belong to you and your world. He belongs back in Brookton, working in a bank, and he'll finally become a valuable man there."

What brought you to New York? "I came to New York and wanted to see you—about my work."

"The mention of Harry's name brought me to you," Adele said. "I was so glad to see you. I was so glad to see you. I was so glad to see you."

"I don't know anything about your friendship with Harry," George continued. "But, Adele, you must realize that Harry has no money. He has nothing to live on. All he had in Brookton was his salary from the bank, and that was so very small. He can't afford to take you around and spend any money. He hasn't any, at all."

Adele realized now the truth of these remarks. But as she looked at Harry's gaze on her plane, her eyes softened. He was such a dear. "George," she interrupted suddenly, and somewhat coldly, "I don't see how this is any affair of yours—except his shortage at the bank. And I'll refuse that."

HOOVER LEADS IN SIX SOUTHERN STATES IN MAGAZINE POLL

Smith Holds Margin in Only Four of 48 with Two Doubtful; Much of Strength Still from Former G. O. P.

Hoover is leading in six of the ten states in the "Solid South" as more than 2,000,000 returns from all of the 48 states are reported in the Literary Digest's huge national presidential poll.

With the vote announced as not yet completed, Smith is carrying only Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, while Hoover has substantial margins over his rival in the Democratic strongholds of Florida, North Carolina, Texas and Virginia and spurring leads in Alabama and Arkansas, which leads the Literary Digest classes as doubtful.

The border states of Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma and Tennessee give the Republican candidate a comfortable plurality.

Of the total of 2,029,997 votes returned in this fifth week's tabulations of the Literary Digest's poll, Hoover has 1,363,426 while Smith has 666,571. This gives a percentage of 62 for Hoover to 38 for Smith, which is almost the reverse ratio of last week's returns. Hoover at present shows a lead in this "swing" poll in several of the states that are generally considered doubtful, as in Wisconsin, where he is ahead by 31,351 to 21,847; in North Dakota, where he leads by 5,488 to 2,893; in Minnesota, where his ratio is 52,692 to 23,321; and in Missouri, where he is leading 4,738 to Smith's 3,192.

The Republican candidate leading in returns from all 10 Eastern states from Maine to Texas by ratios of 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 except in New York, where, although he has a substantial lead in the state as a whole, the New York City vote is strongly favorable to the Democratic side, showing Smith with 130,822 to Hoover's 93,974. In Texas Hoover has 45,739 to 31,465 for Smith.

An analysis of "how the same voters voted in 1924" offers the significant shift that for the first time since the "resound" election, Hoover started Smith in polling more of his strength from voters who state that they voted Democratic in the last presidential election than those who have changed from Republican ranks, although the difference is rather slight. Previously he has had in his column more 1924 Republicans than 1924 Democrats.

In the South Hoover is indicated as obtaining the better part of his support from Democratic sources in the states where he shows a lead.

In individual polls of Chicago and Philadelphia, where the entire registered electorate is being polled, the same as in New York City, Hoover shows an advantage of 93,286 to 67,646 in the Illinois metropolis and 68,495 to 47,819 in Philadelphia. Against this Smith is shown polling more of his strength from former Republicans than from previous Democratic voters in both of these cities.

"The poll establishes a new record this week," the Literary Digest states editorially, "with 2,329,997 votes recorded, as against somewhat less than 2,000,000 when the poll of 1924 had reached the present stage of development."

"With the present tabulation the returns may be considered for the first time fairly representative of the country as a whole. The division of the vote is slightly more favorable to Governor Smith than in the earlier tabulations."

"The wide-spread breaking down of political fronts, noted throughout the previous reports, is even more evident in the present tabulation. It may be observed, however, that with fuller reports from the Southern states, there is an increasing switch of Democrat to Hoover, along with Mr. Smith's increasing support from former Republicans."

For the first time in the poll, it will be noticed, Governor Smith draws more of his support from Democrats of 1924 than from Republicans of that year. He still has 341,901 of these switched votes as against 233,553 former Democrats who are now for Hoover.

The shift of former Republican several authorities agree, means merely that Democrats who voted for Coolidge in 1924 are now returning to their home camp, but the fact remains, of course, that there has been a switch since 1924.

Perhaps traffic conditions are responsible, but we hear little of middle-of-the-road parties now.

HYSTERICAL

South Carolina Lady Then Tried Cardui and Says She Noticed Remarkable Improvement.

Anderson, S. C.—"I suffered a long long time, before I tried Cardui, and my only regret is that I did not know about it sooner," says Mrs. Lillie Pruitt, 139 "K" Street, this city.

"I was badly run down in health. My nerves went to pieces, and I had to go to bed. I was not able to do my house work for many months. I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anyone walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and throbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild.

"One day I was reading and I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it, so I began on a course of the 'Home Treatment' for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable, that my family and friends were delighted. 'Cardui has no equal, in my opinion. I gladly recommend it to others.'

MASSACHUSETTS IS DOUBTFUL BUT EDGE IS HELD BY SMITH

Hoover's Speech, First in That State by Republican Nominee, Is Taken as Indication of Weakness

SMITH LEADING IN STATE-WIDE POLL OF TEXAS

DALLAS, Oct. 19.—First returns in a state-wide survey of political opinion in Texas as respects the two leading candidates for president, give the following totals:

Alfred E. Smith ... 109,688
Herbert Hoover ... 74,817

These returns are from 51 counties, representing all parts of the state, and are furnished by newspaper men in each county who have been invited to participate in the survey by furnishing the names for the county.

The returns so far are but partial, but it is the plan to have a complete survey in each county in the state before the survey is completed and the final results announced. Of the 51 counties included in the first estimate, 37 are placed in the list of those Smith will carry and 12 to those Hoover will carry. Two counties are estimated as being a tie.

The counties which are included in the estimate have a qualified voting strength of 2,594,1 representing approximately one-fourth of the voting strength of the state.

They give Smith 97.3 per cent of the vote and Hoover 42.7 per cent. It is particularly noteworthy that in five of the more populous counties have so far reported. Of these, three are listed for Hoover and two for Smith. Tarrant, Taylor and Wichita counties, whose capitals are Fort Worth, Abilene and Wichita Falls, are given to Hoover. Tarrant and Bell counties are listed for Smith.

Other counties in the Hoover column are located either in the north or along the Rio Grande, especially speaking Smith counties represent every portion of the state. The following counties are credited to Smith: Bell, Bosque, Brown, Coke, Collingsworth, Colorado, Cullman, Dumas, Grayson, Grimes, Hamilton, Henderson, Houston, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, McCulloch, Milam, Mills, Montague, Moore, Nagogoches, Newton, Nueces, Orange, Parker, Robertson, Rockwall, San Jacinto, Schleicher, Terry, Uvalde, Val Verde, Victoria, Wilbarger, Williamson, Wilson and Yoakum.

The following counties are credited to Hoover: Armstrong, Bandera, Bexar, Bexley, Comal, Kendall, Lampasas, Live Oak, Medina, Real, Sauer, Tarrant, Taylor, Wichita and Wilbarger.

The vote is estimated as a tie in three counties: Bee and Palmer.

"Big Time Was Had by All" during National Convention of Legionnaires at San Antonio, Cisco Envoys Say

Cisco Legionnaires who have returned from the national convention of the American Legion held at San Antonio report one of the most successful and orderly meetings ever held in Texas, as well as one of the largest assemblages of service men held since the armistice was signed.

Those attending from here were Post Adjutant and Mrs. C. E. Yates, C. C. Moore, Joe Harahan, Tut Taber, Hugh Mullen and A. L. Clark. Concerning the convention Mr. Clark said:

"It was a great gathering of patriotic American citizens, and the crowd was considerably augmented by a number of Legionnaires from foreign countries. Generals Albeny and Pershing shared in the honors bestowed on these World War heroes. Whenever these two were recognized they were vigorously cheered by the doughboys.

"It was beyond the question the largest crowd I ever saw, and were taken to the rooms in the hotels and these filled with water and these filled with water. Striking the heads of those on the sidewalks the bags would burst, sprinkling all within a few feet radius. Then feathers from the pillows in the hotel were used as confetti. The pillows ripped open and the feathers presented a spectacle not unlike a snow scene.

"But it was a great convention, and everyone there seemed to have a great time. San Antonio was hardly large enough to take care of the crowd, though everything was done for the comfort of the ex-service men. There was a village of Pullman cars parked in the railroad yards, each with sewer and water connections. About 600 Pullmans were used for lodging the visitors. To supplement the city's facilities to care for the visitors the quartermaster's department of Fort Sam Houston charged out $125,000 worth of equipment to accommodate the ex-service men, in supplying them with cots, blankets, stoves, etc.

"Detroit, Los Angeles and Louisville were the contenders for the 1929 convention, with Louisville finally winning the honor. I am glad I attended the national convention, as I had one of the best times in my life."

That means that over eighty-five percent of the drivers are careless, for there isn't any excuse for bad brakes. It takes just two minutes on our Jumbo Giant Brake Tester to know exactly what condition your brakes are in. A separate gauge gives an accurate report on each brake. The test is free. If adjusting is required, the time to have it done is while the car is on the "Jumbo". In this way your brakes can be perfectly equalized. When you drive away you will be secure in the knowledge that when you want the car to stop it will stop.

The Jumbo test should be made every thousand or fifteen hundred miles. It is just as important as oiling and greasing and we repeat—the test is free.

BUCKAROO IS PREPARING TO BATTLE LOBO

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 19.—Coach P. E. Shotwell, Breckenridge Buckaroo football mentor, and his two assistants, Berry and Patton, are driving their charges through a hectic week of practice behind closed gates this week in preparation for the second Class A game of the year with the Brownwood Lions, baby member of the Oil Belt district, Saturday.

In their first taste of Oil Belt football, the Lions were badly beaten last Saturday by the Cisco Lobos, 56 to 0, but it is hardly thought that the Buckaroos will be able to make such an impressive showing against the Lions, although Coach Shotwell isn't expecting such a hard time disposing of the Lions.

The reason for the hard grind being handed the Buckaroos this week is not altogether to get them ready for this week's game, but for the greatest battle of the year, the following Saturday—the Cisco Lobos. Everything points to the Cisco battle, if the Buckaroos are to do very far in their rush for the district championship. The game this week with the Lobos serves as a comparative basis of the strength of the Buckaroos and the highly touted Lobos.

For years the Big Dam Lobos have held an upper hand over Breckenridge, but it is the opinion now that the Buckaroos can very well hold their own this year.

Last year the Lobos owned the locals, 52 to 6, only to be stopped in their fight for the district title by the Abilene Eagles. The Eagles come much later on the Buckaroo schedule and the Lobos must be stopped first.

Right now the Lobos appear to have slight edge over the Buckaroos. The Chapman forward will be heavier and hard to penetrate, and his backfield is composed of line smashing backs. Shotwell, on the other hand, has a wonderful quartet of fast backs and plenty of reserve strength in this department. His line may call a little short of the Lobos. On top of this, the Buckaroos are primed to the limit with fighting spirit and play the Lobos on their home field this year.

Taken as a whole, the game is expected to be the biggest battle of the district this year.

TOLL BRIDGE PURCHASE IS PLANNED BY STATE

AUSTIN, Oct. 19.—An appraisal of toll bridges across the Red river connecting Texas and Oklahoma with a view to purchase by highway departments of Oklahoma and Texas, placing them on the state highway systems, is ordered by Texas highway commission. Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist will make the survey immediately and fix replacement values, which will be necessary should the bridge operators refuse to sell. If this is the case, the department will build its own bridges and open them to traffic in competition with the toll structures.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing, but not every body realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's though—in the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking. Sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
