LOBO AND BOBCAT FIGHT TO TIE

Boy Scouts of 2 Counties to Hold Field Day Here

DAMS MAY LEARN FATE TODAY

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES
Austin.

Something about these fall days, the cool of the midday sun's rays, the pop up a fellow and give about the sort of a feeling to have when they slout. Live in Texas you know I feel to eat for three breath to breathe in the air, the sunshine inhale, and go your work with no fear you will fall. Fall days in Texas put vim your veins, put cheer in your heart where once there were gloom. Make all your tasks lighter and all your tasks lighter are the fall days in Texas. About right. Who don't live in Texas don't know what they miss, when fall comes along with its weather this, and we down in Texas just wish that they would see Texas and stay.

Tom Davis, on trial for his life in the 88th district court at Eastland as an accomplice in the murder of Lucius Shook, may know his fate some time today. The case went to the jury at 6:20 o'clock yesterday evening, and after deliberating until 10 o'clock with no indications of reaching an early verdict, the jurors were sent to bed.

SUPPLY INCREASES.
Despite the constant increase of natural gas in Texas, the available supply is increasing. Texas is now second in production and consumption among the States. The search is primarily for gas in the oil fields. The gas is such paying quantities that they are piped to sections with the gas pipes. That are furnishing heat for the cities and towns of the state and that are extended into adjoining States.

PURESCQUE BORDER.
A preliminary survey of the border has been made for a highway in the counties near Laredo that, completed, will be one of the picturesque scenic roads in the area. It will follow closely the Grande river from its mouth at Paso. Near Brownsville it connects with a highway that would skirt the Gulf of Mexico. Many great sums of money would be required in the construction of a road, but it would become a scenic and attract multiplied bands of tourists.

USING STATE HIGHWAYS.
It is becoming inevitable that the legislature can not much longer pass any action looking to the protection of the state highway from the abuses of bus and transportation. They are becoming a menace to both the roads and travelers. The most roads are thronged with heavy vehicles, many of which are operated at dangerous speeds in a way to crowd the other cars off the roads. Heavy trailers swing from side to side of the roads and endanger lives. Bridges are made shaky loads that are too heavy. Taxpayers are grumbling that roads built by them are made heavy traffic that should be only on heavy steel rails.

INCREASING PHONE RATES.
Austin is one of the Texas cities that are having a tussle with telephone companies over efforts to increase rates. Several cities ago telephone rates were increased from 25 to 35 per cent. City tried to enforce its rate ordinance, but was prevented from doing so by a temporary injunction obtained by the telephone company. The company is seeking to perpetuate the injunction, and if it succeeds, the rate controlling ordinance will be nullified. Other cities and towns are wondering what will happen when San Antonio should lift its fight.

Jurors Unable to Reach Verdict
After Deliberating for Nearly 4 Hours Retire for Night at 10 p. m.

Centenarian, Perhaps Oldest Native Texas Woman, Wants to See Smith in White House

Born May 6, 1828, Mrs. Alice Robertson, now past 100 years of age, is sojourning in Cisco for the present, where she is being cared for at the Stuart hotel, as Mrs. Ada Stuart is an old friend of this centenarian and in this instance, is the "Good Samaritan" who is looking after her needs. Mrs. Robertson recently came to Cisco from Oklahoma where she was offered shelter at a county poor farm, which she refused, and efforts were made to detain her at that institution through legal process, but the sheriff refused to execute a warrant for her detention as a pauper. Finally, being asked what she wanted, Mrs. Robertson told the Oklahoma officials that all she wanted was a railroad ticket to Cisco, as she had one friend in that town that would share her bed with her. If necessary, so she came here.

EASTLAND CO. DEMOCRATS IN FINAL RALLY

The Democratic rally at Eastland Saturday night was everything that was anticipated by the partisans, as the final pep meeting of Democrats in Eastland county in support of the national nominees of the party, and through from all over the section were on hand, as one of the attractions was the address by Congressman Tom Blanton. No man in West Texas is closer to the Democratic voters than he. He was in the voice and made a wonderful talk, and had his audience with him from the introduction till his last word.

OFFENSES TO THE EYE.

The department of public works of New York State has ordered the removal of billboards and other signs from all state property on the Sunrise Highway on Long Island.

So progress continues in fighting a public nuisance. Local authorities will be slower to act than state authorities, because there is more immediate pressure brought to bear on them to tolerate advertising after defacing the streets, parks and other public property.

The last phase of this reform, not yet in evidence, will affect private property owners. It is hard to persuade the owners of land and buildings that they haven't a perfect right to do as they please with their own property, especially in esthetic matters.

"Just as offenses to the nose and ear may be controlled under the police power," remarks the New York Times, "so may offenses to the eye."

PLENTY OF BOOBS.

This is supposed to be a sophisticated and hard-boiled era. Perhaps it is, but the swindlers find plenty of victims whenever they seek them. In one city the other day three very ancient types of "con racket" were reported to the police in as many hours.

AMATEUR AVIATION.

Another home-made plane has crashed—this time in Dayton, Ohio, the birthplace of the airplane. The plane was demolished and pilot and passenger were killed by striking a smokestack.

THE WELAND CANAL.

The Canadian ministry of railroads and canals has announced the time for the formal opening of the new Welland Canal. That great engineering work, the most expensive and modern improvement yet undertaken in the entire Great-Lakes St. Lawrence system, costing about $120,000,000, will be ready for public use on July 1, 1930.

"Some men are like postage stamps," says a columnist—"not much good till they're licked. And take it from a discouraged patron of the mails, no good at all when they're licked too much."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

During the session of the fortieth legislature of the state of Texas a bill was introduced which, if passed, would have established physical education and made physical education a part of the course of instruction in the public elementary and secondary schools of the state.

If you want to rest your mind now and then from thinking about politics, the stores are beginning to hint gently that you might think about Christmas.

PERSONAL MERCY.

The past tendency of American churches, says a minister, has been toward developing their own membership through evangelistic efforts and educating their youth in institutions teaching their religious ideals.

TEN YEARS AFTER

In Flanders and in France the poppies bloom. Blood-bright, and from the crimson pits where hell reared his red laughter golden bells resume.

We strap wings to our shoulders, plot the poles, lift living voices from the air, explore, build, break, rebuild, drive bargains, sell our souls.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

(The Daily Oklahoman.) Much of the bitterness engendered by a national election could be prevented if the voters would only stop to think how far away the competing candidates live. Here is a great man from California fighting to defeat a great man from New York, and both of them live hundreds and hundreds of miles from the Oklahoma line.

After the election shall have been held and much of the bitterness, issues of the Oklahoma, shall continue living on the same street and perchance in the same block. It will be well if the termination of the campaign shall find us friends and neighbors still. It will be a sad state of affairs if oldtime friends shall be converted into bitter enemies in a contest wherein there is abundant room for an honest difference.

Of course the election is important and its outstanding issues are important. There is a call for courage and resolution in meeting the voters, should manifest sufficient courage and patriotism to vote for the good of their country; whatever the cost may be. But in voting for country and conscience there is little need to offend those whose friendship has been valued through the years.

HOOVER TO STRIKE BACK AT CRITIC ON ECONOMY

O. P. Leaders Riled by Charges of Smith in Sedalia Speech That Coolidge Savings Are Mere 'Myth'

In Official Circle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—In his New York address Monday night, Herbert Hoover is expected to reply to the charge of his Democratic opponent, Governor Alfred E. Smith, that Republican economy in the Coolidge administration is a "myth."

This has become suddenly an issue of the campaign. The Democratic presidential candidate in his Sedalia, Mo., speech, stirred up a hornet's nest. Republican leaders at once jumped into the controversy.

Work Denies Charge.
A few hours after Smith's word went before the country over the radio, Chairman Work of the Republican national committee gave out a statement taking issue with him and denying his charge.

Then Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who usually lets political controversies rage about him unnoticed, issued an eight-page statement which he went into detail to refute Smith's charges. He charged Smith with inaccuracies.

Hoover is expected to bring the controversy to its climax in his New York speech by a careful analysis of the administration's financial record, but, as usual, without mentioning the Democratic presidential candidate by name. The implication will be sufficient in Smith's own state. Smith criticized Hoover by name in his Sedalia speech.

Finishing Address.
Hoover was completing his New York address today. It will be the high-light of his campaign. At the same time, the Republican candidate is arranging details of his trip to California.

It appears very probable now that he will make the one formal radio address on his way west at St. Louis, in the border state battleground of Missouri, instead of in the Northwest. The date for the speech has been fixed tentatively for Nov. 2.

Statements of denial were issued here today relative to two charges brought against Hoover, one questioning his American citizenship, and another that he had held down the price of the 1919 wheat crop, the latter being used against him in the campaign among the farmers.

Complete with tunnels, leveling, crossing gates, a station and signaling system, a model railway laid in the grounds of Littleton Park, near Stepperton, England, has a circular track half a mile in length. The engine will pull a train of nine carriages, with 20 passengers, at 25 miles an hour.

CREAM ROUTE EXTENDED TO RISING STAR

RISING STAR, Oct. 20.—C. L. Knight, of the Cisco Creamery Co., was here this week completing arrangements for putting on a local cream route and announces that the first run will be made soon. The route will run out of Cisco down the highway to Romney, then turning east will go through Ogra community thence into Rising Star and back over the highway to Cisco, making a round trip route of some 90 miles. For the present two runs will be made each week, Tuesday and Saturday. A local station has also been established at the Piggly Wiggly store here, and those off the route may leave their cream there, according to Mr. Knight. Quite a number of farmers in this section have been anxious to get a cream route for some time and it is believed that the establishment of such a route will greatly stimulate the dairy industry in this part of the country.

DALLAS GIRL KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—Thelma Davis, 15, of Hutchins, Dallas county, died here Friday of injuries received when she was struck by an automobile as she crossed the road to obtain medicine for a sick member of her family. The girl was unconscious five hours before succumbing. J. S. Hayes, 50, of Corsicana, who said he was driving the automobile which struck the girl, declared the accident was unavoidable.

Spread of Racketeering to Take Bigger Tribute from Nearly Every Kind of Business Men in Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Racketeering—that Chicago system which compels a business man to pay tribute to organizers—has been perfected to such an extent it is bound to be universal this winter, according to the Employees' Association of Chicago. The Employees' association, including the leading business men and merchants of Chicago, has charged in a formal statement that the crooked politician is one of the main cogs in the racket game. More than 50 bombs have been thrown in the racketeers' spring and summer campaign, according to the association, which declares the bomb is the most powerful agent of the racketeers. According to the association more than 30 business associations and various activities in business have been terrorized by the losers of bombs.

In All Activities.
They include the apartment house and hotel associations, bakers' union, master barbers, bootblack, Jewish butchers' association, candy jobbers, cleaners and dyers, floor covering association, excavation contractors, fish dealers' association, retail food and fruit stores, garages, glass dealers, head-dress makers, laundry owners, bridge workers, iron workers, junk dealers, peddlers, photo finishers, painters, plasterers, roofers, electric sign makers, cinder and scavenger association, tent makers, hollow tile association, tire workers, soda jerkers and "Hebrew chicken killers" association.

According to the employees' association, individual firms and associations refusing to pay tribute to the racket organization, which control cash business and trade, find their pieces of business bombed. Some variety in the campaign of the racketeers is given by the throwing of stones through laundry windows and retail stores with large glass fronts. Acid is used to destroy awnings made by persons not belonging to the awning makers' association.

Stench bombs are also frequently employed, often being thrown into business houses after bricks and stones have smashed windows and doors. Heads of the racketeers game are reaping enormous money according to the Employees' association. For instance, it is claimed members in the electric sign manufacturers' association are charged $1,500 as a membership initiation fee and $50 monthly dues are collected.

From Tile Makers.
The tribute from the hollow tile makers' association is estimated by the Employees' association at $30,000 monthly.

In the glass dealers' association "times" of as high as $1,500 have been assessed for "offenses," the Employees' association has charged.

The employees' in a statement declared racketeering is growing more serious every day and charged the racket with the following:

1. Camouflages itself as a protector of the weak, although actually it exploits and terrorizes them.

2. Pretends to stabilize business, while actually throttling and victimizing it.

3. Openly destroys personal freedom.

4. Is a constant threat to life and security because of its hoodlum tactics.

5. Substitutes profits for the few in place of equality of opportunity for all.

6. Extorts money from the public through high commodity and service prices it artificially maintain.

7. Corrupts law enforcement officials.

8. Destroys the commercial as well as the civic reputation of Chicago.

Among the members of the Employees' association are the head of the city telephone system, head of the largest department store, president of the leading hotel company, chiefs of many steel, lumber and drug concerns, president of many huge wholesale houses and heads of numerous manufacturing concerns.

Cried in shorts and without stockings or shoes, high school girls of Berlin, Germany, recently gave a drill with a medicine ball.

'OIL TRIAL SEASON' TO OPEN AT WASHINGTON IN NEAR FUTURE

Lawsuits Growing out of Famous Teapot Dome Will Remain Before Courts, Congress Several Years

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The trial trial season when courts and congressmen and others in public eye annually consider the great number of law suits resulting from the Teapot Dome starts in a few days.

Existence of such a "season" of course is due to the fact that courts and congress are most active in winter and spring. This year's crop of hearings is not expected to be as spectacular as those of last year, but it is likely to be ten or twelve months longer than last year's, and investigation are concluded.

Stewart Trial First

The most important event for this winter is the trial of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, on a charge of perjury before last year's senate Teapot Dome committee. This is set for November 12, but an intervening event is likely to have a decided bearing on the trial.

The District of Columbia circuit court of appeals is expected to announce its ruling on Harry F. Sinclair's appeal from a three-months jail sentence imposed for refusing to answer questions of the first senate Teapot Dome committee in 1924.

One of the points brought up in the Sinclair appeal is in line with the routine legislative functions, and consequently, whether the question put to Sinclair were valid and backed by a legislative purpose.

Indictment Pending

If the court upholds Sinclair's contention that the questions had no legislative purpose, then Stewart also might be let down the charge against him without even a trial.

If Sinclair loses, he expects to appeal to the United States supreme court.

In addition to these cases, bribery indictments against former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall and E. L. Doherty, who leased oil reserves from Fall, are pending no date for trial having been set since they were voted four years ago. These indictments are based on Doherty's "loan" of $100,000 to Fall, made a few months before the Elk Hills lease. There is also an indictment charging Fall with conspiracy

How to Play BRIDGE
Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

A great deal has been said and written about the importance of knowing the rules and conventions of Bridge. Such knowledge undoubtedly is of prime importance. A proper understanding between partners of the conventions of bidding and play makes better Bridge and more pleasant relations with one's partner, but every player should realize that there are exceptions to all rules. A recent look on Auction expresses the point very well.

One wanting to become an expert player who understands this important subject—There is no one else more in Auction Bridge.

That is, no rule is too good to be broken when the proper occasion arises. The player who knows best when and how to dispense with a rule, knows best how to play the game. But one thing must never be overlooked. The player must somewhere, somehow, have learned the application of the rule he is breaking, before he attempts to break it.

"When the author uses the word 'never,' please read 'hardly ever.' Do not hesitate to break any rule herein set forth if you see a good reason for doing so—but be sure your reason is better than the rule."

One of the conventions of bidding that usually should be followed is to bid the major suit, if you have one, in preference to a no trump, but the following hand shows a justifiable departure from this rule or convention:

Hearts—K, 10, 6
Clubs—10, 3, 2
Diamonds—9, 8, 5, 2
Spades—K, 8, 3

Hearts—A, 9, 8, 7, 5
Clubs—A, 5
Diamonds—A, J, 4
Spades—A, J, 9

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, should he bid one heart or one no trump?

In this case, the four aces make the no trump bid justifiable, especially as the heart bid contains only one honor. But don't let 100 aces influence you to bid an unusual no trump rather than a sound major suit, when the suit is such a strong one that game is a certainty.

On the other hand, don't bid a weak major suit in preference to a sound no trump, especially when the hand contains 100 aces. All pass the no trump bid and A opens the four of clubs.

The play of this hand is instructive also, so should be carefully noted. The fact that A leads the four of clubs, the fourth best of his long suit, and that the dealer and try of clubs are in the dummy hand, show that A has only four clubs. Therefore Z should win the first club trick with the ace and set his heart suit. He can afford to lose one heart and three club tricks. He will still score game if the spade finesse is successful.

Played in this way, Y Z will make one club, four heart, three spade and one diamond tricks or three odd, game and rubber. Learn to count your tricks and plan the play of the hand before you play to the first trick. It will win you many a game and rubber.

There is another case where conventions should be discarded. That a "two-suiter" always should be played at a suit is one of the recognized conventions of the game; but sometimes there is a better bid, and the following hand is a good illustration:

Hearts—J, 6
Clubs—J, 9
Diamonds—Q, J, 10, 8, 5
Spades—K, 10, 6, 4

VIRGINIA DRIES TO CELEBRATE 12 ARID YEARS

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—Just a few days prior to the nation's celebration of the tenth signing of the armistice, Virginia dries will gather here on November 1 and observe the twelfth year of state-wide prohibition.

The State Anti-Saloon League will assemble without the leadership of its president, Dr. John Preston McConnell, of East Radford. He resigned. The celebration will be interrupted for a brief business meeting during which a new president will be elected.

McConnell created a sensation throughout the state recently when he endorsed Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate.

The Rev. David Hepburn, superintendent of the state league issued statements to counteract McConnell's action. Hepburn declared the statement of the president did not imply the league would stop its campaign against Smith's election. He declared McConnell was only president of the state body and held no office in the anti-Saloon committee. He announced a belief that McConnell favored the New York governor because of political associations.

Temperance and prohibition workers from all section of the state will attend the conference. Bishop James Cannon, Jr., pioneer dry leader in Virginia, and leader of the South's anti-Saloon movement, organized in Asheville, N. C., is expected to be the chief speaker.

HOUSTON, Oct. 20.—The Texas Pipe Line Co. is running a pipe line from Kinas Mill, 39 miles long to the Amarillo Refining Co.'s plant at Amarillo, which the Texas Co. has acquired and will enlarge. The capacity of the plant now is around 7,500 barrels daily. It is planned to have the plant in operation by November 1. The Texas Co. had previously planned to construct a refinery at this point.

Fiery California Senator to Be Kept Off Stump for Hoover by Republican Split within State

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A Republican family row in California will keep Senator Hiram Johnson from making a projected national tour in behalf of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis.

It was planned to send Johnson to Illinois, Minnesota and other farm states to speak for the Republican ticket. His own re-election was assured by the Hoover-Johnson peace pact and all seemed to be well. Suddenly out of the blue there broke a revolt within the ranks of the progressive controlled party organization. It was staged at the state central committee organization meeting.

Over Patronage

The quarrel arose over patronage. Ex-Sheriff Tom Flinn, San Francisco pro-labor leader, joined hands with Kent Parrot, Los Angeles "boss" of the Cryer city administration for a raid upon the harmony state Chairman Charles Neumiller, supported for re-election by Governor C. C. Young and Senator Johnson. During two sessions, the "bosses" fought the "regulars." Finally exhausted and desperate, they made terms with their own erstwhile enemies, the southern California reactionary Republicans. A deal was made whereby Parrot and Flinn would "dump" their candidates, Walter Allen of the Cryer family, while the reactionaries would switch their proxies to a dark horse, Frank Merriam, anti-labor state senator-elect. Los Angeles Times man and Better America Federation spokesman.

Merriam won over Neumiller by 33 votes at the end of a 20-hour battle in the Palace hotel here, central stippled for the first time in history to the Southern California reactionaries. The party organization now stands as a dagger at the heart of the progressive state administration. Flinn will probably make peace with Governor Young.

Hoover Men Neutral

Throughout the fray Mark Requa and C. C. Teague, Hoover campaign managers, were neutral. The Los Angeles Times, however, is glowing over a victory, handed the ramp by the very leaders Flinn and Parrot, it has fought for years.

Both sides crowd daily to Hoover and Johnson, and both of these candidates are expected to sweep the state by tremendous majorities. Johnson, however, will take no chances by leaving the state.

But Russell says he and Parrot Chamber are going to fly next year to Copenhagen and back that way it is guaranteed that Professor Hobbs will be around to pick them up.

Money Not Everything; Starts College Career

Young people with money are finding that there are better things in life. Raymond J. Koger, who has piled up a quarter of a million dollars in the twenty-seven years he has been on earth, said he preferred education. Koger lives with his wife and two children at Bridgeport, Conn., where he made his fortune in the investment banking business. Koger went to work at the age of ten in a grocery store and held various jobs to get experience until 1920. Then he took a $30-a-week position with an investment banker. Koger, of his boyhood, said: "There were six of us children. My father worked in a textile mill in Housatonic, Mass., making bed spreads. When money began rolling in Koger met a new class of men. At the clubs and on the golf links he heard others talking of their college days. He felt that something—his background—was missing from his life. So Koger sat down at the age of twenty-seven and took an inventory of his life. He decided to quit money making for a few years and go to college. He will enter Harvard next Autumn.

SMITH IS CONSTRUCTIVE STATESMAN, JOHN W. DAVIS SAYS

25 Years in Public Life Fit Him Better for President Than Wilson or Lincoln, 1924 Nominee Asserts

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Declaring that no candidate had ever been nominated by any political party for president that had a better training for the office than Governor Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1924, spoke over Station KJZ and the network of the National Broadcasting Co. on "Alfred E. Smith—a Constructive Statesman," Friday night from 10:30 to 11 o'clock. His speech was as follows:

"When the American people come to choose a president, it is a serious matter. Once in four years they are called on to select one man out of millions to be the chief executive and the leader of the nation. As the country grows and its problems multiply so year by year the duties that are laid upon its president grow more numerous and more burdensome.

Must Be a Politician.

"The constitution does not waste many words in describing his powers. He is to be commander in chief of the army and navy, he is to make treaties and appoint officials with the advice and consent of the senate; he is to recommend measures to congress and to see that the laws are faithfully executed. That and the power to pardon is about all there is—yet surely it is enough. But custom and the logic of events have added much more. Under our party system of which the framers of the constitution little dreamed, he must be not only the president of all the people but the nominal head and actual leader of his party. In the highest sense of that term, he must be a politician. He must not only recommend measures to congress but must often times not be met himself furnish the driving power to convert them into laws. As the responsible head of all the government departments, he must not only know how to choose his subordinates but how to set the pace and give the tone for all those under him. Surely he can command at pleasure every ear in the United States, his voice more than any or all others combined, is the voice of the nation itself.

To be a successful president, he must know how to fill all these roles. To be a great president, he must fill them all equally. The administration, and to a large extent, the public opinion of the country, will take its tone from him. More and more, the nation looks to him for leadership. If he is timid or feeble, stupid or morally clumsy, his faults will run all down the line and, while the blame ultimately may rest on him or his party, the country at large will be the sufferer.

Must Know Candidate Intimately.

"On one thing, then, we can all agree—Democrats, Republicans, Socialists or what you will—namely, that for such an office the best and most experienced man is none too good. We can agree, also, that when a candidate is put forward for the place, we have a right to know all that can be known about him—his character, his achievements, his aims and purposes, what he stands for. We have a right also to expect that he will be open and candid in stating his convictions and fair and honest in giving the reasons that support them. No man ought to expect to creep into the presidency by suppressing his opinions, and no man ought to be allowed to do so if he tries.

It is from this point of view that I wish in the short time at my disposal to discuss the claims of the Democratic nominee for support in this campaign. I have said that to be a successful president under our system of government a man must be in the highest sense of that much abused term a politician. In a republic like ours the word, politics, properly employed means simply the art of popular government. It is best his energy, always reasoning in an intensely practical way to practical conclusions; always affirmative; always constructive. To him the state owes in large measure its code of labor laws, of which the New York Federation of Labor said at the time of their passage that those of no other state could compare. To him it owes its workmen's compensation act, mother's pensions, the 48 hour week law for women and the great improvement in the last 10 years in the public schools. It is worth noting that the contribution from the state treasury in 1927 to this purpose is ten times that in 1917, and developed in large part to increasing the salaries of its teachers. To him the state owes the enlargement of its park system, the progressive abolition of its grade crossings, the rehabilitation of its hospitals, its emergency constitution, and its process and the preservation of its water power from the grasp of private interests. To him more than to any and all others is due the complete reorganization of the antiquated and cumbersome governmental machinery of the state, the short ballot and the budget system. This is a record of which any man might justly be proud. For these and for like causes he has been willing to fight against all comers, doggedly, persistently and in the end successfully. Over and over again he has appeared over the heads of factions, partisan opposition to the people, whom he trusted after his democratic faith to hear and understand. In every case his trust has been justified by the event. He has shown himself a genuine master of the art of clear and forceful explanation, putting the most complicated governmental problems in terms that a plain man could understand.

Problems Will Be Varied.

"When it is said that the questions he has been called upon to deal with are after all state questions, and that he would be at a loss in the national field, the answer is easy. No man has ever come to the presidency, no man ever will come to the presidency, who knows about all the problems he will encounter during his term of office. Only a Solomon and a sophist combined would satisfy that requirement. The important thing is that he should be able to meet the problems when they come. The workmen who know his tools need not worry about the task. There is no schooling for the presidency. I repeat, either in a government department or elsewhere, to be compared with the lessons to be learned as chief executive of a great state.

He has described his own method of getting results in this language:

"The operation of government is a science which requires men not only who understand problems but who understand men. Nearly every great problem in government is solved after compromise. If a man is to be successful in an executive position he must have some of the art of diplomacy. He must at least be able to discuss a matter at hand intelligently with other men to get anywhere if he mistakes honest disagreement for antagonism.

"I think that quotation would make a good motto to hang on the walls of the White House.

Will Ask Aid of Others.

"His career as governor shows moreover that he understands the indispensable art of summoning to his aid men of all parties more expert than himself in their particular fields and then turning their knowledge to practical account. No man can go far in this complex world until he has learned how to use other men's brains.

Compare, if you choose, the political experience of Governor Smith to that of Lincoln or Cleveland or Woodrow Wilson when they entered the White House. Lincoln served eight years in the Illinois legislature, a term in congress, and had run an unsuccessful race for the senate from Illinois. In three short years Cleveland was mayor of Buffalo, governor of New York and president-elect. Wilson had one term as governor of New Jersey. Each one of these was charged during his presidential campaign with an insufficient training for the office. But it is not on record that any of them failed in the campaign. He that is diligent in his business shall stand before kings and whose is faithful over a few things shall be made the ruler over many. These are old sentiments, but they have stood the test of many centuries.

Is Frank on Everything.

"What Alfred E. Smith thinks is being made clearer to the country every day. No question embarrasses him. One after another he has taken up the issues of the campaign and dealt with them openly, frankly and constructively. He is least of all things a destructive critic, complaining of things which he lacks the will or the power to improve. If things are wrong with the administration, with foreign affairs, with the farmer, with the disposition of water-power, or with prohibition, he not only says so, but he dares to offer his version of the remedy. The first inquiry that springs to his mind in regard to any public problem is—What can we do about it? and he will answer it not as a theorist but as a practical man looking for practical results.

"Coming to my third test, no time is left in which to call the innumerable witnesses who have extolled his capacity as a statesman. They come from both parties, for in every office, he has won the praise of friend and foe alike. There are few men of whom this is true to the same degree. It never occurs by accident.

Not Ashamed to Follow.

"When Governor Smith receives the White House, on the 4th of next March, the country may expect him to apply to national problems the same methods he has used with success in New York. He will not be content with

International Association (PARIS) recognizes World Records OF STUDEBAKER President Eight

A cablegram from Paris, dated September 23th, states that the International Association of Recognized Automobile Clubs has accorded the Studebaker President five world records for stamina and speed—the greatest for any class of car for all time!

These records were established when The President Eight traveled 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes at Atlantic City Speedway, July 21 to August 9!

The International Association does not differentiate between "special built" racing cars and "stock" cars. This makes the triumph of Studebaker's President Eight even more remarkable—because the four Presidents, each of which traveled 30,000 miles, were strictly stock—selected at random from Studebaker assembly lines by officials of the American Automobile Association.

Because The President offers marvelous eight-cylinder performance at a One-Price it outsells every other eight-cylinder car in the world, regardless of price or type.

For as little as $1685 you can own a Champion President Eight—identical in every detail with those which have established new world records for speed and endurance!

AIMS OF OIL BELT BOY SCOUT COUNCIL GIVEN BY PRESIDENT

Cooperation of Towns in Area in Eliminating Undesirable Influences and Developing Character Wanted

By ALEX CLARK, President Oil Belt Council, Boy Scouts of America.

There are many things, of course, that I would like to see accomplished in the further advancement of scouting in the Oil Belt Council. Included in these are many things that should be accomplished, and these are a few other things that must be accomplished, if scouting is to maintain its proper place in the affairs of the people throughout the Oil Belt Council. Because of this importance I shall deal with the latter first.

To begin with, the scout program must be adequately financed. With this in view there has been organized in the different towns committees to carry on the campaign for membership within the next few days, and the friends of the scout program and to all boys everywhere are urged to give their whole-hearted support and enthusiastic cooperation, in order that this program, through adequate financing may be extended to every part of the council and made available to all boys of scout age in this area.

I would like to emphasize in this connection that the Boy Scout program is not what is known in other sections as an organization, but is a program which is available to you for your boys and your neighbor's boys, to the end that they may become, through contact with this program, better future American citizens. In order to obtain the best results from scouting, it is essential that as nearly as possible all boys of scout age should come under its influence, thus eliminating the influence of boys who seek their amusements in unwholesome and uncontrolled diversions, and who range about through the respective communities bent upon mischief both to the community and to themselves.

The Boy Scout program of the Oil Belt Council, aims to take all boys everywhere and through the high character of scouting wheel them into a solid front against malicious and uncontrolled practices and influences, to the end that the future citizenship of this country may be constituted of men of strong character and patriotic, law-abiding principles. It is a great democratic influence. The uniform alone tends to instill that. Boys learn the proper contact with their fellows through clean association and supervised sports.

I would like to see cooperation between the various towns of the council on the work of scouting. By means of the organization of the Oil Belt Council, the various towns in the council have available, at relatively small expense, the services of an executive who is skilled and trained in the technique of scouting. Should one of the smaller towns attempt to obtain the exclusive services of a paid scout executive of this type, the expense would be too heavy for the individual community to bear. Cooperation thus becomes the keystone of the area council.

I would like to see greater cooperation between the individuals in the community and a greater enthusiasm on the part of the local leaders of the work of the various local committees. And finally I would like to see the scout himself placed in that position to which he is entitled in the regard of people everywhere. The Boy Scout stands for clean living, for patriotism to his country, loyalty to his home and to himself, and as he progresses

PHONE CABLE WILL CONNECT U. S. - EUROPE

A deep-sea long distance telephone cable is being perfected by the American Telephone and Telegraph company that will connect the United States and Europe. Eventually all parts of the world will be connected by such cables.

An announcement today of the cable was made yesterday by Walter S. Gillford, president of the company, as follows:

"While the American Telephone and Telegraph company was a pioneer in radio-telephone development, its desire to furnish the best and most dependable telephone service to its people has led the company to devote for many years, extensive research in deep-sea long distance telephone cables."

"This research and development work has resulted in perfecting in the Bell Telephone laboratories, a deep-sea long distance telephone cable that will permit of a telephone cable across the Atlantic Ocean. Until now a submarine telephone cable that distance has been impossible because current sufficient to carry speech could not be sent by submarine cable such long distances without its fading in the process, and the devices for amplifying it which are used on land, such as leading coils and repeaters, could not be attached to the wire in the case of the cable under water."

"The difficulties have not prevented submarine telephone cables for short distances, such as from Key West to Cuba and across the English Channel, but they have prevented the laying of the trans-Atlantic telephone cable."

"The new development of the American Telephone and Telegraph company is the outgrowth of the discovery of permalloy in the Bell Telephone laboratories a few years ago. Now, high speed permalloy loaded telegraph cables have already been constructed and laid. Permalloy is also used for leading coils on land telephone lines."

"Permalloy, together with other development that have been worked out in the laboratories now makes possible the construction of a long distance submarine telephone cable. When not being used for telegraph conversations, this telephone cable will permit of telegraph operator at a higher speed than the latest high-speed telegraph permalloy cable. Such a trans-Atlantic tele-

SHACKELFORD COUNTY PAVING BID REJECTED

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—Because the "only bid" received was $12,000 in excess of the estimate of cost of the project previously made by Gibb Gilchrist, highway engineer, the state highway commission rejected the bid at Austin on 17.1 miles of grade and drainage structures on highway No. 23 in Shackelford county from Anheby northward to the Throckmorton county line.

This strip of No. 23, which is an important north-south artery leading from No. 5 near the Red river to the Bankhead, thence southeast through Coleman, Runnels and Concho counties, is already in well maintained condition. It was learned from Albany that the commission may re-open bids on the project at its next meeting.

An order was entered by the commission approving the proposed designation of a road in Winkler county from Wicketon on the Bankhead highway to Winkler, a distance of 26 miles, provided Winkler county furnishes a 100-foot right-of-way and pays one-half the cost of the highway.

Aid totaling $35,500 was granted during the two-day session. El Paso county will get $30,000 on highway No. 1, the Bankhead, and Trinity county about $50,000 on No. 24.

A delegation from Weatherford, headed by Mayor E. P. Hall and George A. McCall, city attorney, asked that the Bankhead highway be surfaced through the municipality a distance of 1-2-3 miles and that a bridge within the city be repaired and widened. The state engineer was instructed to investigate the merits of the application.

Brown county was temporarily denied its request for designation of a highway from an intersection with highway No. 24 at San Saba to Cross Plains via Brownwood. Feasibility of the route will be investigated.

Washing and Greasing Your Car

Is an important item. It is so important to the appearance and life of your automobile that we have made a specialty of washing cars and greasing every vital part of the mechanism so that there is the least possible wear to these parts. Most cars that are junked are so because of the lack of proper greasing. There is very little wear where there is proper lubrication.

Woman's Party Manager Takes Job as Waitress, Joins Union to Learn Feminine Worker's Trials

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Maude Younger, manager of the National Woman's party presidential campaign for Herbert Hoover, is no mere theoretical feminist.

On the contrary, though she is a woman of independent means, her activities have proved her an equal rights feminist of the most practical nature.

Several years ago, while on her way to Europe, she stopped to see a welfare organization in New York, mostly out of curiosity, intending to stay only a few hours. She stayed six years.

Later, she decided to get some first-hand information and experience on the problems of the working woman. She landed a job as waitress and joined the union. The fact that she became president of the Waitress' Union of Los Angeles is proof that this was no casual experiment.

Worked for Tenant

On one occasion she was sent by an employment agency to apply for a vacancy and found the restaurant occupied property which she herself owned and for which she was collecting a very good rental. She took the job and the restaurant proprietor never knew he was employing his landlord.

In 1917, Miss Younger, with several other women, was arrested for "picketing" the White House in connection with the nineteenth women's suffrage amendment. They were trying to force an agreement with President Wilson.

In explaining her party's stand Miss Younger said:

"Women now have equal political rights. We are going to get equal legal and economic rights. There are laws in many states which discriminate against women in the matter of family property and many make it hard for women to compete successfully with men in business.

Also, the divorce laws are somewhat lenient and not always in favor of men either. We want them equalized.

"We are not asking for laws which would give us an advantage, only for a chance to compete on an equal basis. In many lines of business men are naturally more successful than women, but even in these a few women can compete successfully, if given the chance."

Is Always Busy

In the many years she has been associated with the feminist movement, Miss Younger has allowed herself little rest.

This summer friends persuaded her that she deserved a vacation in Europe. She decided to go. But it was discovered that "Sandy" did not like boats, so it was imperative that the trip be called off.

"Sandy" is the dog Miss Younger found fall starved, while traveling through a western district. He is her constant companion and accompanies her to conferences, banquets and other functions as well as on campaign trips.

COMANCHE IS DEFEATED BY GORMAN, 6-0 RANGER JUNIOR COLLEGE BOWS TO WICHITA 9-0

GORMAN, Oct. 20.—Gorman won Friday from Comanche, 6 to 0, in the last round of the game, when Creager caught a pass which had been fumbled by Comanche and ran 80 yards. Creager, sub end, was the hero with Coler, tackle, Scott, center, and Hudson, full, as stars. Dodson stood out for Comanche. This is Gorman's fourth victory this season.

There are nearly 1,000 agricultural laborers employed in London.

RANGER PLAYS SCORELESS TIE WITH M. WELLS

RANGER, Oct. 20.—The Ranger high school Bulldogs, playing two games Friday afternoon, managed to win by a good margin in one, but the other ended in a 0 to 0 tie. In the game with the Mineral Wells Mountaineers, the score was 0 to 0. A second string eleven with a sprinkling of regulars beat the Thunder Miners 33 to 7. The feature of the Mineral Wells game was a 95-yard run made by Mitchell, Ranger guard, who recovered a fumble by Brewer after a pass to him from Brewer. Mineral Wells back had been completed. Mitchell carried the ball over for a touchdown but it was called back as the referee's whistle had sounded.

Mineral Wells missed two chances to score. At one time it had the ball on Ranger's 25-yard line and a second time the passing combination of Brewer to Broadner completed three successive ones for a total of 60 yards to place the ball on Ranger's 45-yard line. Bird, 200-pound fullback of the Mountaineers, was the outstanding player for the visitors. Ranger had the ball on Mineral Wells' 25-yard line in the second quarter but failed to tally.

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 20.—Wichita Falls Junior college scored a touchdown and a safety on the first five minutes of play here Friday to defeat Ranger Junior college 9 to 0 in the opening conference game for both sides.

Ranger was forced to punt after receiving the kickoff and the Indians promptly marched the ball over the goal line for midfield. Ranger again received and its punt was blocked for safety. After that it was a nip and tuck battle, with neither team able to present a sustained drive. Joe Taylor, captain and full back, was the whole show for the Rangers, while Wichita Falls had few individual stars, but offered a smooth working combination.

WEATHERFORD COLLEGE WINS FROM CLIFTON

CLIFTON, Oct. 20.—Weatherford college won from Clifton college Friday, 14 to 6. Harrison starred for Weatherford. Lane, Compton and Hitchison of the light Clifton team deserve mention. Hitchison, tackle, recovered a fumble for Clifton's touchdown.

Even if the old torchlight procession were revived it would be impossible to smell it by radio.—Toledo Blade.

ALBANY LIONS DEFEAT CADDO, SCORE 18 TO 6

ALBANY, Oct. 20.—Albany high Lions won their fourth consecutive game Friday when they met the strong Caddo team and defeated them, 18-6. Caddo scored their only tally in the third quarter while facing the Albany second team. Albany showed much improvement over last week's play and should make a good showing against Desdemona next Friday.

BRAKES cause accidents or prevent them
-which kind are yours?

It only takes one skid—one emergency in which brakes fail to hold—to cause an accident. It might be slight—perhaps a jammed fender—and it might cost a life. Why gamble with chance? Brakes, out of balance or not equalized will cause a car to skid to the right or left. Four-wheel brakes—when out of adjustment—add no more to your ability to stop than two-wheel brakes. Your car is only as safe as its brakes. Keep them in perfect adjustment.

We have installed a new JUMBO Giant Brake Tester that scientifically tests two or four-wheel brakes. Use our accurate test every 1,500 miles. If adjustments are needed we will make them quickly—at a very reasonable charge.

See For Yourself!
Right before your eyes—on accurate hydraulic gauges—the JUMBO Brake Tester reveals the true condition of the brake on each wheel. Eliminates all chance for human error—no guesswork. Assures positive equalization and perfect balance of brakes—maximum braking efficiency—"guaranteed safety!"

With the purchase of your car, you are entitled to Free Inspection Service by your dealer at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. This service is due you and we urge you to take full advantage of it. Proper care during this breaking-in period means a great deal to the life of your car.

No charge whatever is made for labor or materials incidental to this inspection service, except where repairs are necessary because of accident, neglect, or misuse.

The labor of changing the engine oil and lubricating the chassis is also free, although a charge is made for the new oil.

We believe that when you see the good effects of this inspection you will continue to have it done regularly throughout the life of your car.

You will find the Ford dealer very helpful in keeping your car in good running order for many thousands of miles at a minimum of trouble and expense.

He operates under close factory supervision and has been specially trained and equipped to do this work promptly, thoroughly and economically.

CISCO STOCK JUDGING TEAM RANKS HIGH IN NATIONAL SHOW

N. L. Taylor Second High Man in Contest, Is Awarded Gold Watch; Hear Head of J. C. Penney Stores

E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculturist of the Cisco high school and chamber of commerce, accompanied by his state champion stock judging team, has returned home after attending the Dallas State fair and the National Dairy show at Memphis, Tenn. Those who accompanied Varnell to these exhibitions were N. L. Taylor, Creamery Young, Bert Emmel and Floyd Thurman.

Varnell stated that while his boys failed in their objective of capturing all the prizes and winning the national championship, they nevertheless made a very creditable showing, which was very gratifying.

N. L. Taylor was second high point man in the contest, being only a fraction of one point behind the high point man at the National Dairy show. Taylor was awarded a handsome 17-encased gold watch valued at $60 by the Creamery Package Manufacturing Co. The team, as a whole, ranked fifth in the milk judging contest. Young was high point man of the team, better second in judging. Haines and Smith in judging. Haines and Smith in judging. Haines and Smith in judging.

WASHED MATERIALS FOR NEWEST GOWNS

PARIS, Oct. 20.—To make the latest look like new life, many of the dressmakers are using washed materials for autumn and winter costumes.

The favorite is probably black cloth, washed in such a manner that it is delightfully shiny and supple at the same time. Evening frocks made of it are scattered about the floor and draped in all sorts of original designs at the side or back. Black tulle is also in new fashion and a charming model made of it has two long sleeves and long panels at the back of the waist.

Black crepe velvet is combined with washed satin in an effective dinner frock of lustrous gold and grey threads. The skirt is full at the sides and the bodice has a smart little jacket front with a row of tiny gold buttons in the middle.

Semi-circular motifs of crepe draped from a bodice on the edge of both the jacket and skirt of a smart tailor of black broadcloth and the same trimming comes on a long coat which has a waist length cape cut in original manner over the shoulders.

Leather satin is another new material with a washed appearance, used for coats and frocks in interesting designs. One coat has a quilted hem causing the natural flare of the skirt to be exaggerated. Wide cuffs are in the same style.

GERMAN-POLISH SPLIT BELIEVED TEMPORARY

WARSAW, Oct. 20.—Breaking off of negotiations between Germany and Poland for a trade treaty by the recall of the German delegation is regarded as only temporary.

Many Poles are resentful of what they consider to be a selfish attempt to grab all advantages. It is likely, however, that negotiations will be resumed.

CRIPPLED BADGERS ARE DEFEATED BY DECATUR BAPTISTS 12-7

Randolph Drops Opening Game in Junior College Conference; Loss Is Due to Blocked Punt, Fumble

DECATUR, Oct. 20.—Flushed with victory over the McMurry Indians, T. L. A. champions in the Junior College Conference of Oklahoma, the Badgers of Randolph College couldn't keep their heads on the ball in critical moments and were defeated by the Decatur Baptist college team here Friday afternoon 12 to 7. A blocked punt resulted in the first Badger touchdown and a fumble brought about the other.

Randolph's entry into full football in the Texas Junior College conference was marred by the loss of two of their star players, Captain Yeager and Cecil Smith.

All of the touchdowns making 12 points were scored in the third period. Twice the Indians crossed the Badger goal line. The latter was able to retaliate but once, as three furs into the Indians' line of a bigger measure.

It was a battery touch-down which won the first half and led to a score of a scoreless when the Badgers lost in the third quarter. First it was Decatur that would threaten, and then the Badgers back just as the er in first downs with eight, just one ahead of the Badgers.

Griggs at right tackle, Captain Spain right end and Workman at fullback for Decatur were outstanding. Griggs was the star. He was not surpassed at his position and was superb on the tackle around plays. Others on the Decatur team were outstanding, but their play failed to reach that of Griggs and Workman.

Wicks, fighting quarter, shone for the Badgers.

Officials—M. Gray, D. T. S. T. C. referee; Bishop, umpire; and King, Trinity University, head linesman.

CISCO DEBATE TEAM INVITED TO SIMMONS U.

Cisco high school debating team is in receipt of an invitation from the Simmons University debating team to attend the debate at Atlanta October 29 between the teams of Simmons University and the University of Australia, of Sydney, New South Wales. The debate will take place in the auditorium of Simmons University, and the subject that will be debated is: "Resolved that the parliamentary form of government is superior to the presidential form." The Australians are said to be one of the strongest university teams, and the debate will be one worth while. Simmons debaters met the Oxford team last year. The subject in this case is a more controversial one. The debate will be debated by the inter-collegiate league this year. A small amount of money will be charged to defray the expenses of the contest.

MORE CLAY IN ADAPTABILITY TEST IS ASKED

Writing to the chamber of commerce in reference to the samples of clay sent off to be tested as to their adaptability for the manufacture of clay products, the concern to which the specimens were sent stated that tests will be made at once and a report given. However, the letter stated, to make a thorough test a large quantity of the clay, 1,000 or 1,500 pounds, should be sent.

The chamber of commerce recently collected and sent fine different varieties of the clay found in the Cisco Country, and should the larger quantity be sent it would require 9,000 or 14,500 pounds of freight. Secretary Peters stated the matter would be considered at the next directors' meeting. However, the factory agreed to make briquettes of the clay supplied them when it could be determined whether the clay is of the required fitness for the purpose desired.

The letter also stated that the engineer of the company would be in Cisco in a short while and confer with the chamber of commerce directors relative to establishing a clay products plant in Cisco.

Chaperoned by H. D. Locke, circulation manager, and Miss Lola Wood, the carrier boys of The Cisco Daily News enjoyed a cruise over the waters of Lake Cisco Saturday morning, a treat given them by the management of the Daily News and Weekly American and Roundup.

There were 13 of the members in the party, and the boat ride in the big passenger boat, Miss Cisco, of the Lake Cisco Amusement Co., was enjoyed every minute they were out on the lake.

Besides the steersman, Captain J. S. Law, acting commodore on the cruise, accompanied the party and saw to it that the youngsters in the big passenger boat, Miss Cisco, of the Lake Cisco Amusement Co., was enjoyed every minute they were out on the lake.

RANDOLPH FINE ARTS FACULTY GIVES RECITAL

The faculty of the Fine Arts department of Randolph college was privileged in a recent recital at the public reception Friday night. On the program were Miss Zella Blumie, M. C. Clifton, reader; Miss Verba Day, Walters, pianist; Russell Wiley, violoncello; and Thomas Reid, tenor.

Each member of the program was beautifully prepared and showed fine talent and unusually intelligent interpretation. Some of the leading musicians of Cisco were in the audience and they expressed themselves as being delighted with the rendition of this program, several of them remarking that it was one of the best recitals ever given in Cisco. A visitor from Oklahoma stated that he had heard a number of the Phillips University recitals at Muskogee, Okla., and that the Randolph recital, enabled any of them.

"Randolph College is indeed fortunate to possess such a talented Fine Arts faculty, and Cisco and the neighboring cities are to be congratulated upon the opportunity afforded them to hear musical programs that are worth while," this visitor said.

heard me and told the woman to give me all the water I wanted, that I would be dead in a few hours, anyway, as I then had the black vomit. The doctor's words angered me, and I retorted that I would yet live to attend his funeral, and I did.

Grandfather Lived to Be 121

Harvey Logan was the name of my grandfather. He was born in Dundee, Scotland, and lived to be 121 years old, so you can see that I come from a long-lived family. My grandfather lived to be 94 years old. I never had anything killed to me in my life with one exception. My grandfather told me before his death that I could have his horse. But this was a Scotch gift, as the horse died before my grandfathers passed on, and so I never owned the horse.

Comparing emotions now and when she was a girl Mrs. Robertson said that the young folks today know little about the hardships of life.

"I earned the first money I ever owned," she said. "I was a child and chopped 30 acres of cotton and was paid $50. My father thought I was rich. I turned the money over to my aunt who carried me to town and bought me a new sailor hat, shoes and a Dolly Varden dress. I thought I was dressed to kill. The next Sunday was Easter, and as I walked into church the choir was singing 'I Hardly Knew You.' Naturally I thought they were alluding to me, so I replied: 'No wonder, I got on my Easter hat and Dolly Varden dress.'

Optimistic Despite Years.

"I used to walk three miles to Sunday school. Would you have footed, carrying my shoes in my hand, and just before reaching the church would wipe the dust from my feet and put on my stockings and shoes. I was grown before I ever wore any but house knit stockings. But those were good old days despite the hardships, as everyone loved his neighbor and was not trying to see how he could get that which belonged to someone else. But the Lord will catch these parasites napping some of these days, as he did in the time of Noah. It will be too late to pray then."

Despite her age this centenarian is most optimistic, and says she never expects to die. She has most of her mental faculties but is a little hard of hearing. She uses glasses, but can thread a needle and do neat sewing. She is a constant reader and is keeping with current political events, always interested in reading what is published regarding Al Smith. She is not fond of Brach Straton, whom she calls "John Cockroach Straton," an aged woman is now alone in the world, as she has no living relatives, and to the shame of Texas is compelled to live on charity others. No nicer thing could be done by the state than to provide a real home for this centenarian, who is perhaps the oldest living native Texas woman.
