IOWA FARMER SEEKS APOLOGY FROM CURTIS

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 30.—A J. Livingston of Spencer, Clay county farmer, who was on the receiving end of Senator Charles Curtis' now famous remark, "You Curtis' too damn dumb to understand," delivered at Spencer, Iowa, Sept. 19, will be on hand in Des Moines when the Senator comes back to Iowa for a return engagement, to demand an apology from the Republican vice-presidential nominee, he asked is not a personal one. Livingston said, but one asked for farmers who he believes were insulted.

ALL DETAILS ARRANGED FOR COMMUNITY DINNER

The arrangements committee reports all details have been cared for to make the community dinner tonight the success it was anticipated. About 100 D. Anderson, disposed of and A. D. Anderson, of the committee, states it will be a great opportunity for Cisco people to plan and discuss better things for the city. The dinner will be held at the First Christian church and a delicious menu will be served, at the conclusion of which will be given an opportunity to speak of those matters that will be of the interest of the entire community.

NEGLECTED GRAVE OF WASHINGTON'S DOCTOR NOW HAS MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A belated tribute has been paid to Dr. James Craik, chief physician and surgeon of the Continental Army who attended George Washington on his death bed. A granite monument has been erected over his grave in the cemetery of the old Freshwater Meeting House in Alexandria, Va. Until recently the grave was unmarked and unvisited.

The new joint telephone directory for Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge and Caddo, just issued by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, shows that Cisco has a wide margin over its two sister cities in Eastland county in the matter of telephone subscribers. In the Cisco section there are 937 phones listed compared with 793 for Eastland and 708 for Ranger.

FIRST BAPTISTS WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The first anniversary of its entrance into the new building will be observed by the congregation of the First Baptist church Sunday morning. It is expecting every member of the church as well as all who have been baptized into the year are expected to be there and will receive special recognition.

ANOTHER PAY RAISE LIKELY FOR RAIL MEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Alternative proposals for the settlement of the wage dispute between 55 western railroads and 70,000 employees, submitted yesterday to President Coolidge in a report of the emergency board headed by James R. Garfield, was made public today. It calls for a 6 1/2 percent wage increase without a change in company rules or a 7 1/2 percent increase and elimination of the double header and tonnage limitation rules.

"I'm Only Candidate That Kept Out of Scandals"

—Will Rogers

"I may be defeated next Tuesday, but if I am I can retire as a gentleman and not as a politician," declared Will Rogers today in an eleventh-hour appeal for support as the presidential candidate of the Anti-Bunk Party. In Life Magazine, where he is conducting his campaign, he says: "Hoover and Smith both will keep on yapping right up to the minute that the boys go to cast their salable product. And of course the campaign managers will keep the treasury open as long as there is a vote left unpaired. This communication that you are reading is the last appeal to the reason and common sense of our great commonwealth before the Big Day. "I have had none of the optimistic reports that have given such great consolation to the other candidates. It looks like New York will go just about as it always did go. Smith will be elected President of New York City and Hoover will be elected President of New York state. I may even lose the south, where ordinarily I am the strongest, but it has been a great race and the thing that has stopped our Anti-Bunk Party is that we are a hundred years ahead of times. "In the year 2028 the acceptance speeches will read: 'I pledge myself to look into the condition of the farmer, to keep the tariff so that it will protect the most voters, and I absolutely pledge myself to take prohibition out of politics. "And the yaps will say 'he is the man I am for.' "It's great to have been in the race and to be the only candidate that did not get mixed up in any of the scandals."

VIRGINIA HOUSE WHERE GEN. STONEWALL JACKSON DIED DEDICATED TO U. S.

DEFEATING THE COMMON COLD.

In its intensive study of the disease known as the "common cold," Johns Hopkins university will have the aid of 125 families. These people have been provided with specially prepared cards on which they will report everything about their colds from the first sneeze to the last cough.

IN A FOREIGN DUNGEON.

An American citizen named August T. Novy tells a harrowing tale of indignities to which he was subjected in a recent tour of Italy. In Venice, after a slight altercation with a guide, he was arrested at his hotel and thrown into an underground dungeon, damp and dark, only five feet by ten, with nothing to eat but a hunk of stale bread and nothing to drink but water in a filthy pitcher.

THE ENTERTAINMENT MERGER.

A huge merger of various entertainment interests has recently been announced. It creates the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation. The technical and financial resources of the Radio Corporation of America are thus joined with those of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum corporation and the Film Booking Office Productions, Inc.

TWINS' NAMES.

Here's a new twin complication. Two brothers born to Dr. Ann Purdy of San Francisco will be known respectively as Shaun Purdy and Peter Holman. One is obviously named for his mother, who has retained her maiden name for professional purposes, and the other bears his father's name.

DOUBLE TAXATION.

The United States is well represented on another conference held at Geneva under the auspices of the League of Nations. Three are experts from our state, treasury and commerce departments, and the delegation is headed by the president of the American Economic association.

countries, they are trying to solve the international problem of double taxation. Business concerns operating in foreign countries are often obliged to pay taxes both at home and abroad.

The Policeman

By WICKES WAMBOLDT

What is your idea of what the policeman should be? Should the policeman be a great big bully, with a loud mouth, a heavy fist, and a large club—an awe in uniform, with a "Gwan there?" out of one corner of his mouth.

One night a man up in an office building after taking a drink of water, carelessly threw what was left out of the window. It landed on a policeman's foot.

The fellow who had thrown the water, being an Irishman, did it again. The policeman fired through the window; he hadn't been idly boasting. Accidentally he hit nobody. Is that your idea of a policeman?

A newsboy standing near a traffic officer, shyly spit on the blue-coat's polished shoe. The officer happened to look down as the deed was done; he shot out a hand and collared the boy.

The job of policeman has great possibilities, high potentialities. Just consider the policeman's position. He can walk up to you or me and take us down and look us up. He is even empowered to shoot us if we give him occasion.

Back of him stands the authority of the entire commonwealth. A man to have such power should be a real man. He should be a mixture of brains, brawn and kindness—a man who knows men and has a feeling for men; who loves his fellows and is afraid of no one; who knows his business, and sees that it is done.

I think that no man should be in police uniform who can command respect only because of the clothes he has on. I think he should be the type of chap to inspire respect and admiration, regardless of the authority indicated by the cut and color of his garb and the design of his badge.

The kind of man any newsboy would regard too highly to want to spit on his shoe; the kind of fellow who would never lose his temper to the extent of threatening to shoot a thoughtless citizen, who had thrown a little clean water where he had no business to.

I think a policeman should be an all round public service officer, a man genuinely interested in public welfare, educated in public relations, trained in protecting the public from itself. And I think he should be paid accordingly.

WASHINGTON CLEANING UP FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The capital looks like the objective of a well-organized bombing air raid these days, but it's nothing to get alarmed about.

Washington is preparing for congress by tidying up—removing its streets in an effort to eliminate some clutter lines and accidental excavations which might shake the sensibilities of returning congressmen.

The capital building is being thoroughly cleaned up. Big Federal Project Several great excavations just off Pennsylvania avenue represent the beginning of the $50,000,000 five-year federal building program here.

The great federal buildings to be put up in the Mall district, south of Pennsylvania avenue between the capitol and the Washington monument, however, will not be completed for several years.

BIT OF GOLD SOIL SENT TO AUSTRALIAN CHURCH SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 30.—Soil from Ireland was placed under one of the corner stones of the new cathedral at Brisbane when the foundations were blessed by Cardinal Cerretti, the papal delegate to the Eucharistic congress recently held here.

Natural gas for Roswell, N. M. within a comparatively short time became a certainty when the city council voted last night to extend the franchise of the Southwestern Public Service company for 25 years for the purpose of bringing and distributing natural gas to the city.

THREE TEAMS DEADLOCKED FOR LEAD IN OIL BELT DISTRICT

Default of Brownwood to Ranger, Abilene Puts Them Up with Cisco; 2 Other Entries Still Have Chance

By BOYCE HOUSE, of Ranger. Facing the team ranked as the most powerful in this section of Texas, the Cisco Lobos—realizing that they must win or fall from the race for the Oil Belt district championship—rose grandly to the occasion Saturday afternoon to crash the bulky Breckenridge Backwoods in a 9-0 shutout, thereby placing the club for the championship into a chaotic condition.

For no less than three teams are tied for top place and another has virtually a tie for the first position. Breckenridge, despite Saturday's loss, is not mathematically out of the race—so, five teams must be reckoned as possibilities.

Cisco with victories over Brownwood and Breckenridge and a draw game with San Angelo has a percentage of 82.5—as a tie game counts as half a defeat. Ranger and Abilene who fought to 19-19 Friday have defeated Eastland and were awarded victory over Brownwood by default—consequently the Bulldogs and the Engine have a percentage of 50. Breckenridge with victories over Eastland and Brownwood has a figure of 66.7. San Angelo, with only a tie game in its record has a 500 mark. It would take only one more tie in this race to reduce the duplicates to having insanity.

It looks like 1928 all over again—only one tie so far. That year Ranger lost to Stephenville who lost to Abilene who lost to Ranger. Cisco in the meantime bowled over all comers—including Stephenville and Abilene—but stumbled over Ranger on the Sun-and-Tue games of the Lobos and the Bulldogs staid tied. A playoff game was necessary. On Thanksgiving Day in a raging sand storm, Buster Mills—now fullback of the University of Oklahoma—kicked a field goal for Ranger and thereby won the district title.

Since one defeat did not prevent the Bulldogs from going on to the championship of West Texas two seasons ago, the Backwoods cannot be considered as eliminated. However, if they come back after their one-sided loss last week and defeat San Angelo, Ranger and Abilene, it will be a splendid demonstration of courage combined with skill. Even that, however, would avail naught unless some team should be or defeat the Lobos.

The San Angelo Bobcats are still to be reckoned with. They have played only one conference game—but it was highly significant as it was a 13-13 battle with Cisco. Until the Bobcats are defeated by somebody, they are certainly candidates for the district title. They will meet the Ranger Bulldogs Saturday at Ranger in a game for the survival of the fittest. The only other conference game for the week is at Eastland Friday when the Mavericks and the Brownwood Lions strive for a victory that will lift the successful team out of bottom position. Eastland has lost three games while Brownwood is credited with four losses, two of them because of failure to schedule Ranger and Abilene.

Affairs will approach a climax during the Armistice period as Cisco and Ranger will meet and Abilene and Breckenridge will do battle.

Crowds are getting bigger and more noisy. About 4,500 saw the game.

NERVOUS HEADACHE

Kentuckian Tells How Taking Black-Draught Relieved His Pains and How Well He Feels Now.

Waynesburg, Ky.—How a few doses of Theford's Black-Draught brought relief to a man who had been suffering from frequent spells of severe headache, is told below in the statement of Mr. Charles F. Todd, of Esteburg, near this place.

"I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have these headaches, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear.

"A merchant at Esteburg saw me one day when I was suffering, and told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did.

"I took a package home that night, and took a few doses. It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come on.

"Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do my work, and don't lose any more time with headache.

"I haven't had a headache in six months."

Costs only one cent a dose. Get a package today. NC-159

BLACK-DRAUGHT

CHURCH PAPER PAYS TRIBUTE TO CISCO GIRL

The Workers' Council, a magazine of religious education, published at Nashville, Tenn., in the published house of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has a neat little complimentary story regarding Mary Stewart, one of Cisco's bright little girls and Sunday school attendants. She is the daughter of the presiding elder of the Methodist church of the Cisco district, Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Stewart, of whom they are justly proud. The Workers' Council says:

"Mary Stewart was born November, 1917. In August, 1926, her mother started something when she took her grade school daughter to Sunday school. Mary has attended it every Sunday since—an unbroken attendance record of eight years—in all more than four hundred Sunday school sessions. Last year she completed the seals on the Robert Dalkes diploma. She is now a second year junior. What an achievement to the credit of father, mother and daughter! The readers of the Workers' Council rejoice in the flowers, face and fidelity of Mary Stewart, of Cisco, Texas."

DUAL SLAYING IN HASKELL CO. IS CONFESSED

ABILENE, Oct. 29.—Bill Fritz, 36-year-old Haskell county farmer, has confessed to the murder of Dudley W. Hamilton and his son, Earl.

This was the announcement Saturday afternoon of Clyde Grissom, Haskell county district attorney. Fritz made a statement to Grissom in the presence of Sheriff Al Cousins, also of Haskell county, admitting the slaying of the Hamiltons. The confession was made in Abilene where the admitted slayer is being held for safekeeping.

Other than to say Fritz had admitted to slaying, Grissom refused to divulge in detail the confession.

Fritz was questioned in Abilene Friday night by Grissom and Cousins. The prisoner made a statement to local officers and newspapermen preceding the arrival of Grissom and Cousins in which he admitted being present at the slaying of the Hamiltons but declared he did not fire the shots that ended their lives. However, he was evasive in answering questions in connection with the shooting, referring vaguely to "others there."

Fritz told here of his two days and nights as a fugitive from officers and possession. He surrendered Friday noon to George Flournoy, Sheriff chief of police, and John Epley, Haskell county farmer. He escaped capture by hiding in cotton fields two miles southwest of jail and on the Brazos river.

He was brought to Abilene by Flournoy and Epley, hidden in the rumble seat of an automobile. Authorities feared mob violence at Haskell if he was placed in jail here. When Fritz gave up, he expressed a desire to be placed in either the Fort Worth, Wichita Falls or Abilene jail.

He was willing, however, officers said, to return to Haskell Saturday. The confessed slayer has been a defendant in a half dozen liquor cases in Haskell county. In one of the cases, officials of that county said, he pleaded guilty.

In Abilene, Friday night, Fritz, referring to the Hamilton case said, "I must have been crazy."

It is believed that insanity will be his plea when he goes to trial. The grand jury has been called at Haskell by Judge Bruce W. Bryan to convene Monday and investigate the case.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at Rochester for the Hamiltons. Nearly 2,000 joined in paying final respects to the father and son. It was one of the largest funerals in the county's history.

RIO CROWD BRAVES RAIN TO HEAR BLANTON FLAY RECORD OF G. O. P.

Sincere Effort Has Been Made by Republican Administration to Enforce Law, Congressman Avers

By R. W. H. KENNON.
An audience that practically filled the city hall auditorium last night Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, of Abilene, made one of the best Democratic political talks of the campaign. Arriving at 7:30 minutes late Judge Blanton and the crowd waiting for him to hear the message of denunciation that he would bring, and despite the inclement weather which followed the speaker as he came to the city hall, he was given the closest attention from his opening remarks to the close of his address. Even when he showed an inclination to stop his speech to a close there were cries to go ahead.

Mr. Blanton, always popular in Cisco audiences, was at his best and made one of the best speeches that has gathered in the city hall to hear a public speaker during this campaign. As he entered the hall he was greeted by a loud and continuous cheer.
A. St. John, one of the youngest and oldest Democrats in the country, introduced R. Q. Lee, congressional nominee, who will represent the 17th district. In turn introduced the speaker, Mr. St. John stated that it had been a great pleasure to introduce "our congressman," who has won his spurs in congress, in the bar in the legal practice in courts of the land and as a legislator, but this honor had been delegated to another. There will be two great parties in this country, one of which will be the Democratic party and the other will be the party which is betrayed by those who previously supported its nominees. Mr. St. John said:

Religious Intolerance to Fore.
"The prohibition, but religious intolerance that is causing present disturbance within the ranks of Democracy," he said. "Why this disturbance? It is because a few years ago an institution, conceived in iniquity and born in hell, for the sake of adding a few dollars to its treasury, spread abroad its propaganda of hate that has arrayed the Protestants against the Catholics. But I want to tell you that the Catholics are not yellow. They followed the flag in all conflicts which our country has waged, and under the white crosses that dot the fields lie the mouldering remains of Protestant and Catholic dead alike, who made the supreme sacrifice for their country. Under none of these are buried those who belong to the church with which the Republican nominee is affiliated—the Quakers—as they were conscientious objectors."

Mr. Lee briefly introduced the speaker, whom he said needed an introduction to a Cisco audience, and he would simply announce him, as no man was better known in West Texas than Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, who had represented the 17th district in congress so long and so well.
As he stepped forward Judge Blanton was greeted with a round of applause. His introductory remarks were that he was glad to speak at a meeting presided over by that old Democratic war horse, R. A. St. John. "Cisco was famous when I first came to West Texas. A disastrous cyclone had devastated this city, and it was the home of R. A. St. John, who was even at that early date, recognized as one of the most staunch and outstanding Democrats west of Fort Worth.

Cites Prohibition Record.
"I have no criticism to make of the preachers who go out on the political rostrums and advocate the cause and candidates they believe to be right, nor am I here to criticize or find fault with the churches," the speaker said. "I see the issue in this campaign, and that issue is from what party the masses may expect the least harm or the most good.
"I am a prohibitionist—I have been all my life. I have never had a drink. Can any Hoover Democrat say more? I have helped to dry up every county west of Fort Worth. I would like to see a Hoover Democrat who has done more. I helped to frame and pass the Volstead act, and I was one who helped to pass the Volstead act over President Wilson's veto. Wilson was no prohibitionist. Yet you have more to fear from Hoover than you had from Wilson. I know Smith is well—as well as he can be, but at that the Republican administration is better than Smith ever dared to be. This is verified by the enforcement of the dry laws in the city of Washington. Bootleggers in the national capital carry on their illicit traffic in liquor under police protection. One of the biggest bootleggers of the nation was operating openly and notoriously under the protection of the police commissioner. He owned his private yacht on which he brought bottled in bond whiskey to America, and his privately owned trucks unloaded this liquor into his private warehouses. I presented the location of his warehouse and the number of the trucks, and these, with the name of this bootlegger, I presented to the Republican administration, and asked for the removal of the police commissioner. After much prodding I was successful, but his successor was just as wet and as corrupt as the man removed, and the bootleggers are still growing, rather dispensing illicit liquor in Washington and other cities of the nation."
Fight Against Booze Futile.
"I discovered a specially constructed truck in which liquor was brought into Washington. To look at the truck had an innocent appearance, but by the manipulation of secret springs the truck was shown to be a vehicle capable of transporting many six gallon cans of liquor. I had three men in my office who testified under oath that the truck was theirs, and that they were operating under police protection until they were recently hijacked by policemen in uniform, who appropriated the whiskey, and they came to me to get me to recover their liquor for them. This, my friends, is Republican enforcement. An overseas man, who helped me work up these cases, was soon after dismissed from the service. When I go back to Washington I propose to do my best to have him reinstated.
"Green Hat Cassidy is another well known Washington bootlegger. Cassidy used to bring liquor in suit cases into the capital building. I asked the doorkeeper of the house why he did not stop him. He told me if he did he would lose his job. I replied if he did not that I would see that he lost his job. I kept prodding him until he finally placed Cassidy under arrest, but he was released on a $50 bond. In about a year, after I kept on prodding, Cassidy was tried and fined less than $100, and is still serving liquor at Washington. Mr. Lee, you will meet Cassidy when you go to Washington."
Mellon "Prince of Bootleggers."
"The Bible says by their fruits ye shall know them. If a tree brings forth not good fruit, cut it down. And yet some say they are voting for Hoover because Smith is wet. If the Republicans were conscientious about enforcing the prohibition laws why was Mellon put at the head of enforcement? Would you elect a sheriff, judge and prosecuting attorney who believed it was right to murder? Mellon admits owning $25,000 worth of distillery stock. I have called him on the floor of congress the 'prince of bootleggers.' He did not tell you that he and his family at one time owned 51 per cent of all the brewery stock, and 51 per cent of all the whiskey in bond in the United States. Mellon has only one assistant in prosecuting the bootleggers—Mrs. Wollebrandt. She is an excellent woman, but what can one lone woman do, be she ever so efficient, in drying up the nation. I was talking to her some time ago and she said she was discouraged. Said she would have to move her apartments in Washington for the reason that the other tenants held so many wild parties that she could see no peace. Think of it. One lone woman to make the country dry who cannot clean up the hotel in which she lives!"

Judge Blanton told about going to President Coolidge and suggesting that he introduce laws giving him authority to hand passports to ministers and ambassadors of countries whose ships were flooding America with illicit liquors and to disarms from public service those purchasing liquor from bootleggers, but was told that he wanted no such authority.
"Yet there are those who are going to vote for Hoover because Smith is wet. If I thought Smith would destroy the 18th amendment and Hoover would enforce the prohibition laws I would quit the Democratic party and vote for Hoover. But I know that Smith is powerful to do this, and I know that from past experience that the Republican party will not enforce the law. Some say that Smith would get congress to change the law. Even congress is powerless to do this," the congressman said.
Norris Paid $100 to Speak.
"I spoke at Anson recently, and was told that Frank Norris came there earlier to speak at the invitation of the Hoover Democrats. Norris demanded $100 to make the speech. I was told that some difficulty was experienced in raising the desired amount, but the committee had succeeded in raising $50, and on the arrival of Norris he was told the difficulty in raising $100, but they were sure he would accept the $50 and make them a good talk. Norris told them there was nothing doing that they would have to raise the other $50 or he would make no speech, and they got out and raked up the $50 and Norris made his talk. I was told that he told his Anson audience that there were 10,000 negroes in New York city who were members of Tammany and that Governor Smith's private secretary was a negro. As soon as I arrived home I sent a telegram to Congressman John Carey of New York, who replied that Tammany Hall was a strictly white organization and that Governor Smith had never appointed a negro since he has been governor of New York except a negro messenger, and that Governor Smith's secretary was a white man and a 32nd degree Mason. I was told that Norris exhibited a picture of a negro dictating a letter to a white woman. My friends, it was not Democrats who made it possible for a negro to hold this prominent office, but it was the Republicans of New York, and the office is not filled by appointment of Governor Smith. I am also told that this office has no stenographer, and if the office wants stenographic work done he employs some one to do it. No, my friends, it is not the Democrats who are responsible for negroes in the nation's offices. It is the Republicans."
"Is there anyone in this crowd who does not believe in the supremacy of the white race? In Washington there has been an attempt by the Republicans to mix the whites and negroes in the schools, theaters and hotels. By a gentleman's agreement we have kept the races separated in the departments, but as soon as Mr. Hoover became secretary of commerce he abolished this segregation in that department. I was told that there was no written order from Secretary Hoover abolishing this segregation. Certainly there is not. It was not necessary to put the order in writing. A verbal order was sufficient."
Religious Prejudice Worst Crime.
"Religious prejudice is the worst crime in our civilization. I am a Protestant and don't believe in Catholicism, but I believe in permitting the other fellow to join the church of his choice."
"I was told if I made a Democratic speech in this campaign that I was doomed politically. What would you think of me if I was that kind of coward? I could not be. I will always be found fighting on one side or the other, and the Democrats have honored me too long for me to desert the party now."

"What is Hoover? Where is his church? Is there one in Texas or south of the Mason and Dixon line? What kind of citizen is he? He is a Quaker, whose members were conscientious objectors during the war. When he was married he ignored the Protestant ministers and civil officers and was married by a Catholic. His running mate is a Catholic. The Quakers got themselves exempt from military service during the world war, and while I hope we will never have another war, but if we do I don't want a 'conscientious objector' but a red-blooded American as commander in chief of our armies."
Smith Proven Ever Honest.
"Honesty in public office is the chief concern. Despite the fact that Smith has been responsible for the handling of billions of dollars, no man can point to a single act of dishonesty on his part. Can we say as much for the Democrats that brought Miller and Forbes to justice and sent them to the federal prison, but the Democrats would never have been able to do so had not the American Legion been behind them. Then turn to dishonesty in the Republican cabinet; the naval officer of Tropic Deane and Elk Island scandals are still fresh in the memory of all, and yet those proven guilty of these high crimes have never been brought to justice. Three cabinet members have stolen millions of dollars from the government and are yet unpunished. And yet there are erstwhile Democrats who say they will vote for Hoover because Smith is wet. The Republican party is not only wet on prohibition enforcement, but condones dishonesty in office, high and low. Albert Fall, one of the most outstanding examples of official dishonesty, is enjoying the proceeds of his ill-gotten wealth on his ranch in New Mexico and is not brought to trial because he says he is sick. Fall is not only a big offender but a lit-offender as well. Thousands of dollars of carpets bought for the government were condemned by Fall before they were uncrated, that they might be bought in by Fall at a ridiculously low price and sent to his ranch home, where he is now enjoying them."

"But the dishonesty in the cabinet is not all Bascomb Sloop, a leader in the party, against whom it was proven that he sold federal postoffices, was made secretary by President Harding. Sloop lived in Virginia, which is away off yonder. But I have something closer at home, the postoffice at Putnam, and I will just read you the following affidavits and let you draw your own conclusions:
"The State of Texas,
County of Callahan.
"I, Willie Culwell, being duly sworn, upon oath state:
"I was born and raised in Callahan county. Shortly after we entered the war, I enlisted in the service on May 9, 1917, and made five round trips to France and back during the war, and was honorably discharged on July 26, 1920. I became postmaster at Putman on May 1, 1922, and when my first four years were up I made application for reappointment, but for some reason it was held up. I was advised by John W. Robbins, who is the Republican postmaster at Clyde, Tex., that if I would turn Republican and send my note for $100 payable monthly out of my salary to the Republican secretary at Dallas, Leonard Withington, for the Republican organization, that I would be reappointed. I told Robbins that I was a Democrat, was honest, and would not buy my office. Robbins indicated to me that unless I turned Republican and sent my note for $100, that I couldn't get the office."

"Miss Willie Kennedy was also an applicant for appointment to succeed me. On the civil service examination for this appointment she made 73, while I made 95. There was not a single charge against me. My record was clear. Over 300 citizens and patrons endorsed me and asked for my reappointment. Hon. J. A. Reed, Republican chairman of Callahan county, endorsed me. The Republican chairman of Taylor county also endorsed me. The state commander of the American Legion endorsed me. Mr. Y. A. Orr is the only local Republican in Putman, and he endorsed Miss Kennedy. She had been away teaching school and had not resided here for the length of time required by law. Shortly after I had refused to send my note for $100 to the Republican organization at Dallas, I saw a letter which Leonard Withington, as Republican secretary from Dallas, wrote to Miss Kennedy thanking her for sending the Republican organization her note for $100, and congratulating her on being a loyal Republican. My brother, J. Y. Culwell, also saw said letter. Immediately thereafter I saw that the tide had changed against me in favor of Miss Kennedy, and soon thereafter I received notification from the department at Washington, dated April 26, 1927, for me to turn the office over to Miss Kennedy, as she had been appointed 'acting postmaster.' To succeed me. I am reliably informed that Miss Kennedy is paying off said note by installments to said Republican organization."

"Signed: WILLIE CULWELL."
"Sworn to and subscribed before me by said Willie Culwell on this the 27th day of October, A. D. 1928, at Putnam, Texas."
"PIERCE SHACKLEFORD,

"I, J. Y. Culwell, under oath state: I saw the letter from Leonard Withington thanking Miss Kennedy for sending them her $100 note. This was shortly before she got the appointment."

At the conclusion of his address Judge Blanton was enthusiastically congratulated on his masterful presentation of his party's claim to the support of all true Democrats by most of the audience coming to the speaker's stand and shaking his hand.

SHACKLEFORD CO. RANCHER SELLS 1640 HEAD OF STEERS
"ALBANY, Oct. 30.—John Bowie, Shackelford county rancher, has just completed a sale of 1640 head of two and three year old steers to Jack Farmer, of Fort Worth, Texas. Seven hundred head of this sale were loaded Saturday and the remaining animals today. This sale follows a previous sale of 750 head of same class steers to Cotton Bros. of Kansas. These animals were loaded out on the tenth of October. This makes a total of 2390 head of cattle Mr. Bowie has sold during the month of October. All these cattle raised in Shackelford county and brought amount $90 per head.
