TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES
Austin.

NO JUDICIARY REFORM.—Hon. C. H. Jenkins, member of the legislature from Brown county, one of the ablest lawyers of the state, who introduced a number of court reform measures in the house in line with resolutions adopted by the Texas Bar association has abandoned all hope of any substantial part reform so long as the legislature is so largely composed of young lawyers. In a letter to the press he states that the judiciary committee of the house, composed of 21 lawyers, killed all the bills looking to reforming court proceedings, without giving any consideration to the merits of the bills, and without offering any amendments or substitutes. A few of the older lawyers strongly favored all the measures, but the young attorneys of the kind usually sent to the legislature evidently do not want and will not have court proceedings simplified in the interest of those who are forced to resort to the courts. The present almost unbearable conditions will continue in Texas as long as the people continue to send fledgling lawyers to the legislature. From Judge Jenkins' experience it would seem that Texas courts are suffering from lawyer-made laws.

CISCO'S NEW HOTEL.—Cisco is doing the things that make it look more and more like the city its progressive people are determined it shall be. That new 8 story hotel is about completed and those who have seen it say that there will be nothing in Texas hotel architecture or equipment to beat it. The Cisco News, which fosters every worth-while local enterprise, is going to help commemorate the hotel completion by issuing a special hotel edition.

WEST TEXAS ENTERPRISE.—That West Texas is developing rapidly and that there is strong local rivalry between the towns is shown in the increased activities of the chamber of commerce. A few years ago it was difficult for any West Texas town to raise even $5,000 or $10,000 for its chamber of commerce, but Abilene has decided that it will need $40,000 for that purpose this year and will go to work with that amount as the goal. As this is only $7,000 more than was used in 1928, the undertaking is not so difficult as it first appears.

BUYING CHURCH SCHOOLS.—It is bad that in their denominational efforts to establish schools that can not be properly supported, but it seems even worse that in admitting their poor business judgment in starting too many schools, the successful school should have to suffer along with the unsuccessful. Both the Methodist and the Presbyterian churches in Texas have, it seems, more schools than are needed. Some are self-supporting and others are not, and both denominations are now planning consolidations or removals. The localities in which these schools are situated have put their money into them in good faith with the churches, and it looks like bad faith on the part of the denominations to abandon or remove a self-supporting school built up largely on the gifts and enterprises of a community. It is even worse when a church puts such a school on the auction block and sells it to the city that will pay the highest price. Churches should be careful, even more than individuals, to maintain their business integrity.

TEXAS "STAGGERS" VISITOR.—A traffic representative of the Canadian Pacific railway, making his first visit to Texas since 1917, says: "The development since then has been such as to stagger the imagination, and Texas' greatest development is yet to come." He adds that "principles of sound business forced us to establish a Texas office." Many of us who see Texas growing all the while fall to see anything remarkable in that growth, but the occasional visitor is impressed with the progress that is everywhere so evident.

HOOVER ILL FOR BIGGEST JOB

Principals In Tomorrow's Great National Spectacle Calmly Await Readjustment of Political Stage

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Herbert Hoover's last day as a private citizen was about like any other day for him. He spent the day quietly at home with his family, devoting himself to resting and cleaning his desk.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Calvin Coolidge, on his last day as president of the United States, spent those hours as he has spent many others, shaking hands. This time, it was the handclasp of goodbye.

CABINET COMPLETED BY HOOVER.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President-elect Hoover's cabinet was completed today with the announcement that Robert Patterson Lamont of Chicago, head of a large steel foundry, will be secretary of commerce.

Lamont, an engineer by profession, is the "surprise" for the commerce post which was promised by Mr. Hoover's associates. The frenzied speculation about this last post came today upon this name, which was confirmed officially.

The other "surprise" cabinet member is former Governor Arthur M. Hyde, of Missouri, who will be secretary of agriculture. This selection was revealed last night, checking for the moment a frenzy of speculation unequalled before in similar circumstances. The speculation was resumed over the commerce post.

Mr. Hoover draws from the camp of his leading pre-convention (former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, in bringing Hyden into his official family. Hyde supported Lowden for the presidential nomination.

Hyde who is 51, has participated in farm relief movements. Lowden was chairman of the McNair-Haugen bill which Mr. Hoover refused to espouse. The selection came as a distinct surprise to fiscal Washington. Hyde had been mentioned in the wealth speculative gossip.

Lamont, a native of Detroit, 61 years old, and a director of several of the nation's leading industrial firms, including American & company, the American Radiator company, the International Harvester company and the Illinois Bell Telephone company. He was educated in the University of Michigan.

He was chief in the procurement department in Washington from October, 1928, to Feb. 1919, and held the rank of colonel.

The other eight men whose appointments already are conceded are:
Secretary of state — Henry L. Stimson, of New York.
Secretary of treasury — Andrew W. Mellon, (incumbent), of Penn.
Secretary of war — James W. Good, of Iowa.
Attorney-general — William D. Mitchell, of Minnesota.
Postmaster general — Walter F. Brown, of Ohio.
Secretary of navy — Charles Francis Adams, Mass.
Secretary of interior — Ray Lyman Wilbur, Calif.
Secretary of labor — James J. Davis, Penn.

WHEEL LOST BY LINDBERGH IS LOCATED

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—The right landing wheel of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's plane, the loss of which nearly cost the lives of the flier and his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, during an air excursion last Wednesday, has been found, the newspaper La Prensa reported today. The wheel was found in the village of Huesuetoca, only 25 miles north of the capital.

JUDGESHIP NOMINATIONS PASSED OVER

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senate confirmed today the last group of nominations sent to it by President Coolidge failing to take action on numerous judgeship nominations and other important appointments against which objections have been launched.

The list of confirmations included Charles F. Summerall, to be a general while occupying the office of chief of staff of the army.

Quick Thinking Saves Lives of Pilot and Two Companions When Poisonous Gas Fills Plane at High Altitude

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 2.—Quick thinking by Lieut. E. S. Hughes, government aviator, saved his life and that of two companions when carbon monoxide gas filled their airplane while the three were flying 12,000 feet in the air.

Hughes was piloting a plane containing two engineers, William O'Rourke and Hugh O'Boyle, who were taking pictures of the Arkansas flood district when the latter two were overcome by gas. At the time they were overcome the engineers were taking pictures through a hole which had been cut in the bottom of the closed plane.

"While we were flying at an

Ordinarily, cabinet appointments by an incoming president are confirmed perfunctorily at the short special session of the senate called for the purpose after the inaugural ceremonies. A fight on confirmation would be unusual.

The senate waged a successful fight against one of President Coolidge's cabinet appointees, the nomination of Charles Beecher Warren of Detroit as attorney general but this did not come at the time of the inauguration, as he retained the Harding cabinet.

In recent years, the senate has taken a different view about cabinet appointments. President Hoover's cabinet, was confirmed without question. Recent years have brought a careful scrutiny of these selections.

IMPEACHMENT IS RECESSED TO NEXT WEEK

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2.—Salacious rumors of immorality and charges that proposed slabs of concrete were discarded for layers of asphalt were features this week in the defense case of the Governor-suspend Henry S. Johnston removal trial which today was in recess over the weekend.

An anticipated story of how the governor would tell the senate court of impeachment he once said he would resign rather than discharge his confidential secretary, Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, because of rumors of misconduct between the two gave way yesterday to a technical story of concrete.

BANDITS ROB SALESMAN OF $100,000 GEMS

OMAHA, Neb., March 2.—No trace had been found tonight of the two bandits who this afternoon bound, gagged and robbed Rubin Plotkin, New York jewelry salesman of uncut diamonds which Plotkin believes to be worth in excess of $100,000. The robbery occurred in Plotkin's room in a hotel here.

The robbers had evidently gained entrance with a pass key and hid in the closet until he returned from a business trip when they robbed him at the point of revolvers.

PLANE LAST SIGHTED OVER BROWNSVILLE

HOUSTON, March 2.—Some concern is being felt here for the safety of Joaquín Pacheco, Mexican civilian flier, and C. E. McMillan, American air mail pilot, who are attempting a non-stop flight from Mexico City to Washington.

The fliers were last sighted when they swooped low over Brownsville, Texas, at 11:48 this morning and dropped a 120 gallon tank filled with gasoline, evidently to lighten their load.

It was expected they would continue along the gulf coast to Galveston and follow approximately the same course taken by Colonel Charles Lindbergh in 1927 when he made a non-stop flight from Washington to Mexico City.

The fact that the aviators had not been sighted since leaving Brownsville has caused some to believe that they either decided to suddenly to change their course or else passed over the country without being sighted.

The fact that they were bucking headwinds may have caused them to seek such a high altitude that they would not be visible to those beneath, it is thought.

MAN SUBDUED RABID WOLF IN FINISH FIGHT

AMARILLO, March 2.—A man who fought a rabies-crazed wolf until he fell exhausted tonight was unaided in his fight for his life. The man, I. W. Cole, a pumper for the Dixon-Creek Oil company, said he was attracted to his back yard by a struggle between his bird dog and what he thought was a police dog.

EAKER DOWN AT MIDLAND BY TROUBLE

MIDLAND, March 2.—Captain Ira Eaker landed at the Midland airport Saturday afternoon from Tucson on his way to Brownsville, Texas, where he will start his dawn-to-dusk flight to Panama on March 10. A damaged fuel line forced him to land here. He plans to leave early Sunday for San Antonio.

POSTOFFICE BUILDING ASSURED

Washington, D. C., March 2, 1929. Cisco Daily News, Cisco, Tex. Treasury and postoffice departments have approved and recommended $95,000 dollar building for Cisco. Senator Sheppard and I are arranging to get construction authorized and begun as early in the coming special session as possible. This approval and recommendation by departments controlling building program assures building.

LITTLE HOPE FOR BILL TO QUIET TITLES

AUSTIN, March 2.—Governor Moody's veto of the river bed title validating bill, passed at the urging of West Texas land owners, will go to the senate Monday morning where, under the rules, it must be considered at once. If the senate passes the bill over the governor's veto it will then be sent to the house.

Whether the bill will receive the two-thirds vote necessary to pass it over the governor's veto is doubtful. When passed by the senate and house before, it received more than a two-thirds vote of each house but at that time the attorney-general's opinion holding the bill invalid had not been given.

Arguments will be submitted to the senate Monday opposing the attorney-general's opinion. The house expects to settle definitely on a date for adjournment Monday. This likely will be March 9. The proposed road bond issue which has passed the senate can be taken up until within 24 hours of adjournment. It is now with a house committee.

Prison concentration or relocation has a chance of passing if a conference committee of house and senate can adjust the differences between the separate bills passed by the two houses.

DAWSON HAS WOMAN FOR NEW SHERIFF

LAMESA, March 2.—A woman today succeeded her husband to the office of sheriff of Dawson county following the death Friday of Sheriff Joe L. Ray. Within four hours after her husband's death, Mrs. Ray was appointed by the commissioners' court to fill out his term.

Defeated Congressman Is Charged With Taking Contributions From U. S. Employes, Says Waco Newspaper

WACO, March 2.—The Waco News-Tribune tonight says that Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach, Republican of Texas, has been indicted by the federal grand jury here on charges of accepting contributions from federal employes.

The indictment, according to the News-Tribune, is now in the hands of a United States marshal, and will not be officially announced until the arrest of Wurzbach. According to the indictment the contributions were received by him in 1926, the News-Tribune says.

Wurzbach, the only Republican in congress from Texas, represents the 14th district, which includes the city of San Antonio. He has represented that district for the past eight years.

Charges that Wurzbach had collected contributions for his campaign were made before the senate patronage investigating committee in Washington Friday by R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman from Texas.

Wurzbach subsequently entered a categorical denial of all charges, saying he had never in his life "collected a dollar" for his campaign. Creager testified before the committee that while Wurzbach was a candidate for re-election in 1926 he received contributions from at least four employes of the federal government.

STEWART IN LAST APPEAL FOR VICTORY

CHICAGO, March 2.—Col. Robert W. Stewart brought his campaign for re-election to the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana to a close today with an appeal to the voters, that savored of the day-before-election statements of candidates for the presidency.

With the vigor of a William Jennings Bryan he attacked the "greatest accumulation of wealth on earth"—the Rockefellers—and he "pointed with pride" to the fruits of his administration.

He offers the following remedies:
1. Priestly marriage should be possible. Celibacy is against interests of any cult, he maintains.
2. The wholesale condemnation of contraceptives should give way to the condemnation of their absence.
3. The church's attitude towards the flesh should be changed to respect based on biological principles.
4. Its indifferent attitude toward the mating of youth should change to tender concern.
5. The antipathy of the church toward divorce should be supplanted by a discriminatory attitude encouraging divorce in cases of wrecked marriages.

DEFENDANT IN SLAYING CASE FOUND GUILTY

TEXARKANA, March 2.—A jury which deliberated 24 hours found Joe Reagan guilty of murder in connection with the slaying of H. T. Rossmore and sentenced him to three years in the penitentiary. Rossmore was shot and killed at Elyon, near here, last October.

RACERS PLAN SPEED TESTS IN FLORIDA

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., March 2.—Major O. B. Seagrave, of England, and J. D. White, of the United States, expect during the coming week to put their two fantastic appearing racing cars through first speed tests in an attempt to travel at 240 miles an hour or more and determine the world's championship.

Major Seagrave's car, the Golden Arrow, was built in England and now stands behind guard rails carefully protected in an old garage here. It carries a 12-cylinder motor.

RAPID CREDIT EXPANSION IS WARNED ABOUT

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A further warning against too rapid expansion of bank credit was sounded today by the federal reserve board's annual report which said it is the board's duty to restrain undue growth of credit "in any direction."

Reserve bank credit, the report pointed out, is the base of the entire credit structure and the board's responsibility for credit conditions is, therefore, correspondingly broad.

"Too rapid expansion of bank credit in any field may result in serious financial disorganization and it inevitably leads to increased demand for reserve bank funds," it added.

"Because the system has a broad responsibility for the general soundness of credit conditions, and because a growth of bank credit for any purpose ultimately leads to a demand for reserve bank credit, it is duty to use its influence against undue credit expansion in any direction."

HUMOR IN NATURE.

Nature has a sense of humor. Nature does funny things. At times Nature's humor is rather grim. Perhaps ironical.

Nature seems to have a liking for capers. Possibly after all we might say that Nature is more mischievous than humorous—more like a prankish school boy than a wit.

In fact Nature often behaves like a practical joker. She produces now and then a four-legged chicken or a two-headed calf, to make people oh and ah; she gives some couples twins so much alike that their own mother can not tell them apart, except that when she puts her finger into Mike's mouth and he bites her, she knows it is Dennis.

Observe the funny looking legs and faces Nature has put onto some of us. Some of Nature's creations outcartoon the cartoonist—the monkey, the elephant, the duck-bill, the opossum; the crab is a ludicrous thing; so is the catfish; chickens are comical; and ducks are more so.

Nature shot a bolt of lightning at a man named Henderson, who lived in Kentucky, and ripped off the soles of his shoes and burnt out the seat of his pants without harming Henderson in the least. One night a Kansas farmer and his wife were awakened by rain beating into their faces. They got up to discover that one of Nature's tornadoes had neatly whisked their house from over their heads and deposited it in a neighboring corn field.

Nature will catch an unsuspecting boatman and blow his craft out to sea; and after she has scared him almost to death, cut off the wind and let him row back. Nature had one of her twisters pick up a horse and buggy and a little darky and carry them 150 feet to set them down without injury. Nature has been known to blow a prairie fire down to a settlement, then suddenly reverse the breeze and hold back the flames. Nature had considerable fun once with Wallace, Idaho. A forest fire swept down on the town, and when the people had given up all hope, the fire jumped completely over the town, which lies in a deep hollow, and roared on without igniting a building. Perhaps Nature enjoys seeing human beings scurry about like a colony of ants disturbed.

But probably one of the most delicate bits of humor that Nature ever evinced occurred a short while ago when in Tennessee—the state that has outlived evolution—a baby girl was born with a seven inch tail.

TWO FAREWELL ADDRESSES.

President Coolidge took advantage of Washington's birthday to give a rational interpretation to a policy often misunderstood or misrepresented. Referring to the warning against foreign alliances contained in the "Farewell Address," he explained:

"In the thought of that day an alliance meant a banding together of two or more nations for offensive and defensive purposes against certain other nations, either expressed or implied. It was a purely artificial creation. It had no reference to an association of practically all nations in an attempt to recognize their common interests and discharge their obligations."

This statement, contained in what many have regarded as President Coolidge's own farewell address, has an obvious bearing on the attitude of the United States toward the world court. Mr. Coolidge evidently would have joined the court without hesitation. Secretary Kellogg recently issued a note to the other powers reopening the question of American membership in that body. Mr. Hoover is known to be friendly to American adherence. It need surprise no one if diplomats find a way to bridge the gap left by the senate's reservations.

FEWER CAR THIEVES.

The car business is bad. Who says so? Professional automobile thieves say so. The "car business" they refer to is the business of stealing cars. In a typical city the automobiles stolen in 1928 numbered fewer than the total stolen in 1927. Of these, 94.5 per cent were recovered as against 92.1 per cent in 1927. Detective agencies for years have been relentlessly pursuing the auto thief. Police departments and automobile clubs have cooperated in curtailing that criminal's activities. As a result of this continued effort, the number of professional car thieves is dwindling appreciably. Since the statistics indicate such notable progress, the present year should show still further success in this particular branch of crime detention and prevention.

WASHINGTON'S STILL.

It is said that in the plans to restore further property once belonging to George Washington, a large whisky still is to be restored. At Dogue Run, not far from Mount Vernon, the first president had a mill which converted the finest grain raised on his estate into excellent flour. He also had a distilling plant in which the surplus grain was converted into excellent corn and rye whisky. The foundation of both these plants have been located and their structures could easily be rebuilt. The mill is to be restored for posterity to look upon with interest and admiration. Not so the distilling plant. The distinction seems unnecessary. There is nothing particularly shocking or dreadful in knowing that George Washington was a distiller as well as a farmer, a statesman, a soldier, a surveyor and a few other things. His greatness is not dimmed by the fact that he was successful in a business sideline which was not illegal or disgraceful in his day.

REGULATING PEDESTRIANS.

A motorist writes to the paper to express his gratification over the more frequent arrest of pedestrians these days. It's about time, he says, that these malefactors were getting what they deserve. The destruction of automobile lamps and fenders from people walking into them has become a public scandal. "Arrest the rascals by all means," he urges. "But don't stop there. Before the country will be finally rid of the nuisances, we must have a law compelling pedestrians to take out licenses. I have been working on the idea ever since I had to pull a reckless pedestrian out of my radiator last week. It was a perfectly good radiator, but you ought to see it now. It's the bane of my existence the way pedestrians rush across my path when I'm driving somewhere in a hurry. Don't they know that rushing around like that shortens their lives and makes them irritable and hard to live with?" Tail lights, of course, will be required when this license plan is adopted.

HJACKERS' CONSCIENCES.

An idealistic group of laymen and clergymen of Montreal is contemplating a "mission to the bootleggers and rum runners of eastern Canada." This group believes that matters have been growing worse instead of better as the result of legislative and punitive methods now in force against the liquor traffic. It hopes that personal appeal to bootleggers will at least eliminate the violent episodes which have lately become almost commonplace. Appealing to the bootlegger and hijacker on moral grounds is a new and courageous idea. There is something rather fine in the quiet assumption that even illicit liquor dealers have consciences. It would be a good plan at the same time to send out a supplementary mission to the patrons of bootleggers. Without their thirst and consequent demand for illegal beverages a lot of dealers in liquor would have to seek other means of livelihood.

LEGAL FOOLISHNESS.

Oliver Deardorft, New York taxi driver, probably agrees with the Shakespearean character who said "The law is an ass." He has good reason. Deardorft, attacked by a hold-up man, fought his assailant, took the man's gun from him and put him to flight. He then began to think what he should do with the gun. It is unlawful, he knew, to carry a weapon in New York. So he stopped the first policeman he saw, told his story and gave the gun to the officer. To his amazement the officer arrested him as a violator of the firearms ordinance. He was taken to jail. There was no doubt of his story. The policeman, the judge and the prosecutor all sympathized with him. But the law was law, and the law said he had committed a serious offense in "possessing" that weapon from the time he took it from the bandit until the time he gave it to the policeman. Moreover, with his arrest, his taxi license was automatically canceled, so his livelihood was gone. The law did that, too. Possibly by this time the New York authorities have discovered some way to undo this legal asininity. A mere private citizen can't help wondering why they couldn't have done so in the first place. Why should crooks have all the good breaks, as far as criminal justice is concerned? When technical loopholes can nearly always be found for criminals, why must an honest man be manacled with red tape?

PLAYING FOR PLACES.

Lest we forget, the senate of the 41st legislature passed the gas tax raise but failed to cut the license fees. Now the leaders of the house of the 41st declared that the popular branch of the general assembly is determined "not to permit a recurrence of the action of two years ago and will hold up the pending four-cent gasoline tax until the senate acts on the license fee reduction." House leaders say the house holds the whip hand; that they are going to stand pat. That the sweeping reduction in license fees must receive the approval of the senate before the gallonage tax bill goes over. This makes it interesting all around. Submit the bond issue to the people. Give the people an opportunity to shoulder the responsibility. They know what they want. It is their right to return a verdict.

WHY A ONE-SIDED LAW?

Representatives Conway and Holder are responsible for a bill which makes wife and child desertion a felony. This measure was engrossed by a vote of 70 to 50. Why not a 50-50 bill? Why not make husband desertion or child desertion by the mother a felony? Woman has the ballot. She has all the legal rights as well as all the privileges which man enjoys. Why shouldn't a woman, a wife, who deserts husband or child be sent to the penitentiary if a husband is to be branded as a felon and given punishment by a long term of penal servitude? "One law for all," regardless of sex would make the punishment fit the crime.

How Best to Use Vicks VapoRub In Case Of Flu

Begin This Simple External Treatment at First Sign of Any Cough or Cold.

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-heat, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

Mothers, especially appreciate Vicks for the children. As it is applied externally it can be used freely and often, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

As in 1918, in spite of tripled capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating all night long. The public is demanding over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.—Adv.

How Best to Use Vicks VapoRub In Case Of Flu

Begin This Simple External Treatment at First Sign of Any Cough or Cold.

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-heat, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

Mothers, especially appreciate Vicks for the children. As it is applied externally it can be used freely and often, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

As in 1918, in spite of tripled capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating all night long. The public is demanding over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.—Adv.

NEW BUILDING BOOM IS GATHERING IMPETUS HERE

Three Large Business Projects Under Way; Ground Broken for New Ice Company Structure Friday

Prospects of a building boom in Cisco have brightened considerably during the last few days with work having already started upon one large new business structure, another announced and plans for a third in process of formation.

The special permit was issued for construction and material and a regular building permit is yet to be obtained. No announcement of the character of the building or the plans of the T and P Coal and Oil company has yet been made.

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH IN OHIO BLAZE

STUEBENVILLE, O., March 2.—Four persons were burned to death today when the home of William Prim, 46, at Goulds Station, 11 miles west of Steubenville, was destroyed by fire.

Prim was brought to the Ohio Valley Hospital here with his feet burned off.

Those burned to death were: Mrs. Dora Prim, 45, wife of William Prim.

Mrs. Anne Crawford, 22, daughter of the Prim.

Charles Crawford, husband of the daughter.

Osas Crawford, 8 months old. Searchers headed by Corporal A. L. Bell have been unable to find any trace of the four victims.

Their bodies are believed to have been completely cremated in the flames.

In church history flagellants were a body of morbid fanatics of southern and central Europe in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, who sought to secure the pardon of sin by walking in procession bare to the waist and scourging themselves until the blood came.

Two other building permits were taken out yesterday, both by Joe Clements as contractor. One was for a four-room residence for Mrs. Nat Terry in the 98 block on Eleventh street, costing $1,700, and the other for repairs to a residence owned by Bill Hall on Avenue L, costing $1,500.

The third large business building project scheduled to be undertaken here is that announced by the Southeastern Bell Telephone company which contemplates the construction of a relay station in this city, the terminus of the first long distance underground telephone cable to be laid in the United States.

FLOOD WATERS SPREAD OVER NEW AREAS

ATLANTA, Ga., March 2.—Crests of floodwaters spread over new areas today in four southeastern states, as overflowing rivers swirled toward the sea.

Toll of life stood at ten, all Georgians who were drowned. Property damages to bridges, highways, railroads, crops and farms was estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Southern Georgia suffered most heavily. Thousands of acres of new crops were turned into silt-covered wastes.

To the list of dead was added the name of Ernest Siegler, 26, believed drowned in the Savannah river. His companion on a fishing trip, Leonard De Loach, was found near exhaustion yesterday in a tree top above a raging torrent.

RACE BILL BEATEN.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 2.—A bill to legalize horse racing in Arkansas was defeated in the house by a vote of 68 to 22 today. Sponsors of the measure proposed the building of race tracks at West-Memphis and Hot Springs.

"PEACE PACTS GOOD, BUT—" SAYS SUNDAY

SHREVEPORT, La., Mar. 2.—Peace pacts are excellent but keep the navy strong," is the advice of Bill Sunday, noted evangelist, here yesterday en route to Corpus Christi for a revival.

"I favor anything to eliminate war but I'm not a pacifist," Sunday said. "You can't always trust some nations in Europe on account of their jealousy."

Sunday said he had every confidence in Herbert Hoover's ability to handle foreign problems.

4 HOUSES AT GAINESVILLE DESTROYED

GAINESVILLE, March 2.—Fire starting in the Earl Acree home here Friday destroyed four dwellings before firemen succeeded in bringing the blaze under control.

A strong north wind handicapped firemen in their work. Besides the Acree home, the residences of Claude Talley, W. R. Mammernig and A. B. Ramsey were destroyed.

The Acree family was warned of the fire by cries of a 3-year old child.

TWO CABINET SELECTIONS CRITICIZED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Stumbles of opposition against two of President-elect Hoover's cabinet selections were heard at the capitol today.

Whether the dissatisfaction in some senatorial quarters against these two men—James W. Good, Chicago, secretary of war, and William D. Mitchell, attorney general, will develop into real fights against confirmation could not be determined today.

Some southern senators, interested in Muscle Shoals legislation, have criticized the Good appointment on the ground that it is friendly to the so-called "power trust." The opposition against Mitchell is by those who claim he had a part in suppressing a grand

SISTER OF WRIGHT'S ILL.

VITAPHONE MEETS WITH GREAT ACCLAIM

The most thrilling innovation in the history of motion pictures will be seen and heard when the Palace theater presents Vitaphone on next Wednesday. Vitaphone has thrilled the world. And it has captured the imagination of artists from every field of entertainment. Vitaphone has corralled the stars of all fields of entertainment, and their voices and personalities will in the future be an integral part of the regular programs at the Palace theater.

Vitaphone, New York, the theatrical center of the world, awoke one morning to discover that a new era had been ushered into motion pictures. The New York Times on the morning following the debut of Vitaphone proclaimed from its editorial columns: "No single word, Vitaphone, however compounded, is quite adequate to suggest the amazing triumph which man has at last achieved in making pictures talk naturally, sing entrancingly and play all manner of instruments as skillfully as if the living beings were present instead of their shadows."

And from the critical standpoint of Mordaunt Hall, the Times' critic, Vitaphone was "marvelous and uncanny." Mr. Hall said: "Nothing like it had ever been heard before in a motion picture theater."

Before the Civil War, Indian tribes west of Arkansas, kept numbers of negroes as slaves.

DOCTOR WILL BE ALLOWED TO TESTIFY

LOS ANGELES, Cal. March 2.—The physician accused of giving morphine prescriptions to Alma Rubens film actress will be permitted to testify at his own request in the federal investigation of the narcotic situation here.

Dr. I. Jesse Citron, the physician, was not subpoenaed by the jury but asked to appear.

Charges have been made as a result of the Rubens case, that physicians were permitted to issue narcotic prescriptions without punishment and that they paid "con-promise firms" to prevent prosecution on charges of violation of the federal narcotic act.

IDENTIFIED. — Eddie Skinner, held in Jefferson county jail here on a charge of swindling the Seaboard State Bank & Trust company of Port Arthur of $235, was identified last night as a fugitive from justice, wanted in New York City and Hammond, Ind.

WOMAN SUICIDES. — Death followed soon after Mrs. Eugene Van Meter, 38, drank a large dose of carbolic acid at the home of her parents here. Dependency over separation from her husband was believed responsible for her act.

The mule is a hybrid animal generated between a jackass and a mare; if between a stallion and a she-ass it is called a hinny. With the male, procreation ceases.

Lingering Colds Have In System Weakened

Physicians advise that danger of this year's epidemic in the after-effects. Coughing the weakened system lead to bronchitis, pneumonia, or even death. This is especially true of old folks. These colds must be checked immediately. And yet too many may upset the digestion is already disturbed by the of influenza.

Vicks VapoRub is especially suitable here. As it is so normally, it can be used in the first sign of a cold, upsetting the mucous membrane. Just rub it on the nose and chest at bedtime.

WEST TEXAS REACTION TO VETO DUBIOUS

AUSTIN, March 2.—Will West Texas secede is a question being asked about Austin today as a result of Governor Dan Moody's veto of the river beds bill passed by the legislature.

West Texas is admittedly angered but none of her leaders have declared for secession. Division is authorized in the treaty by which Texas entered the union.

The question is the result more of the action taken in 1921 when Governor Pat Neff vetoed a West Texas bill than of any expression from West Texans now here.

At that time a mass meeting was called at Sweetwater to take action toward division because Governor Neff had vetoed a bill for a West Texas agricultural and mechanical college. Later Texas Technological College was established and the School of Mines at El Paso enlarged to include a general university course.

That an attempt will be made to put the river beds bill over the vetoing veto is probable. The effort likely will be made Monday when the legislature reconvenes.

GROVER HELD. GROVETON, March 2.—Ed McGaughey, Groveton grocer, was held without bond today after he surrendered and was charged with murder of Cleon McClain, lawyer, shot to death at the Trinity county court house here Friday.

BUYS LOEW'S. NEW YORK, March 2.—William Fox has purchased a controlling interest in Loew's Inc., from the estate of Marcus Loew for about $120 a share. It was located in Wall street today. This block of stock together with other holdings recently obtained by Fox, is said to give him working control of Loew's.

President's Oath Contains 35 Words

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Exactly 35 words make up the oath of office of a president of the United States.

The constitution prescribes it and it has been repeated by every executive in the history of the country. It is:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

White House Staff Is Invaluable to President

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD

WASHINGTON, March 2.—After induction into the presidency March 4, the personal safety of Herbert Hoover and to a large extent his daily actions will be in the hands of Richard Jervis and his staff. As head of the white house secret service detail, Jervis will be charged with guarding Mr. Hoover from the moment he becomes president until he quits office.

Jervis has guarded the lives of six presidents. He entered the secret service in 1907, during President Roosevelt's administration. Social assignments, however, left him little time at the white house. He began his regular presidential staff in 1909, under President Taft. He was made chief of the white house corps toward the close of President Wilson's term, 1919.

His thoroughness in guarding the "boss" secret service operates thus refer to the president—as demonstrated when Mr. Coolidge attended the opening game of the 1928 Washington baseball season. A heated door barred the president's exit when the president ought to leave the park. In momentary confusion, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington team and the president's host, sent for the necessary keys. A small crowd assembled.

Splintered Barred Door

Jervis, however, refused to consider delay. A far-fetched conclusion, but there was the possibility the blockade had been planned by persons having designs on the president's life. One mighty shove of Jervis' shoulder forced the door. Mr. Coolidge smiled as he stepped through the splintered bar frame, and followed Jervis to his car.

Two Mr. Hoovers will have charge in the white house after March 4.

One, Herbert Hoover, as president of the United States. The other, Irwin Hoover—known to hundreds who have been white house guests as "Ike"—as head usher, major domo and steward.

Other old-time white house employees who have been in service for a quarter of a century or more, will form the little personal cabinet of Hoover as they have for past presidents. These permanent white house employees, who know more inside history than any other group in Washington, steer new presidents through the devious formalities and routine problems and save them from making embarrassing blunders in trivial matters through ignorance.

In some respects a president's little personal white house cabinet is as important to his success as his regular cabinet which advises as to policies.

Mr. Hoover, the head usher at the executive mansion, who entered presidential employ in May, 1891, virtually is indispensable to the daily program at the white house. He superintends the servant staff of more than 40 with the exception of the personal servants of the president and first lady. In this capacity, he will relieve Mrs. Hoover of innumerable and trying details that go into the management of a large establishment.

Direction of numerous minor household functions also come under Hoover's supervision. He receives foreign diplomats, statesmen, and visitors who call on the president; arranges details of official and social events; and anticipates the wants of the first lady in her household direction.

Authority on Procedure.

Hoover is an authority on white house procedure, having directed hundreds of social and state affairs under eight presidents. This knowledge will enable him to offer helpful hints and suggestions to the new occupants of the executive mansion.

Mr. Hoover in his desire for almost complete isolation while at his business desk will find a staunch ally in Patrick E. McKenna, doorkeeper of the presidential office at the white house since July 1, 1903.

McKenna is the buffer, at times suave, at times stern, but always unyielding, that protects the chief executive against intrusion.

Rudolph Forster, executive clerk is the real assistant president of the United States. He tells the president and he official secretary to the president what to do about thousands of routine matters which if not handled in accordance with precedent would cause all sorts of complications and had feeling. The smooth operation of the white house staff is due to the careful quiet efficient hand of Rudolph Forster. A president might just as well try to dispense with the oath of office as with Rudolph.

the current issue of World's Work. As mistress of a $3,000,000 home staffed by 30 servants, with a fleet of motor cars at her call, Mrs. Hoover may be envied by the unknown. But the social strain of the position, according to Mrs. Rinehart, actually "destroyed the health of Mrs. Taft and undoubtedly was a large contributing factor in the death of Mrs. Harding."

Mrs. Coolidge's comparative youth and calm temperament have been her saving factors, she says, while "Mrs. Hoover, physically, mentally and temperamentally is notably fitted for her duties."

But the duties themselves, Mrs. Rinehart shows, constitute probably the most trying situation that can be faced by an American woman today.

Mrs. Hoover, for example, must put aside her intimate friends and associates as they fit into official functions. The president and his wife make no calls except upon the vice president and members of the cabinet. There is no time for others.

She must plan and supervise from 12 to 35 large and formal white house functions a year—cabinet dinners, diplomatic dinners, musicales, garden parties and receptions. To these are added the hundreds of private dinners, luncheons, even breakfast, plus afternoon teas at which she must receive diplomats' wives, congressmen's wives, wives of visiting notables. Her day begins with conferences with the housekeeper on menus and arrangements for the day's entertainments, and with her social secretary, who with a corps of assistants has sorted the scores of letters which pour in daily.

If she goes to shop, it is with a secret service guard at her elbow. The World's Work points out. If she dares to stop at the home of a friend for an intimate chat, a thousand other women of equal social status are offended—so that she does not dare. She must recognize some of the demands made on her time by charity and welfare organizations, yet she cannot recognize all. So constant is the strain that it has become customary for the president and his wife to retire while even the formal white house functions are at their height in order to get the rest necessary for the next day.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE IS NOT INDEPENDENT

WASHINGTON, March 1.—When Mrs. Herbert Hoover becomes mistress of the white house on March 4 she will assume probably the most envied of social positions in America—but she will no longer be mistress of her own time, her own affairs; she will hardly be mistress of her own soul.

The degree to which conventions and the demands of her unofficial office as First Lady have made a virtual social prisoner of the modern president's wife is shown in graphic detail by Mary Roberts Rinehart in an article written for

PLENTY OF GOVERNORS AT INAUGURAL

By ALFRED P. RECK
WASHINGTON, March 2.—There will be more governors in Washington for the inaugural ceremonies Monday than usually gather for the annual governors' meetings.

Chief executives from 28 states will be present with their military aides in glittering gold braid, their national guard bands and their state troops in colorful array. Three other states will be represented by officials.

In fact so many governors and state troops will pour into Washington they will provide the main feature for the second division of the mammoth parade.

Regiments renowned in history such as the Richmond Blues and the Richmond Grays will display their swanky uniforms for the amusement of inaugural crowds.

OFF TO INAUGURAL.

AMARILLO, March 2.—Stanley Blackburn, 12, on his way to Washington with his father, H. Walter Blackburn, is believed to be the youngest person going from Texas to witness the inauguration of President Hoover as president of the United States. Blackburn is a resident of Amarillo.

New President Will Represent New Era

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The sun sets Sunday upon the administration of Calvin Coolidge, the last of the Yankees.

Herbert Hoover, the fair-haired son of the new machine age, the world-famous engineer and administrator, who eight years ago was so ignorant of politics that he said he did not know whether he was a Republican or a Democrat, moves into the white house Monday noon.

With Hoover comes a new period in American public affairs. Mr. Coolidge, the economical, cautious-footed New Englander, applied a

CAPITAL IS BRILLIANT FOR INAUGURATION

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The national capital is blazing forth with brilliant colors for the inaugural day on March 4.

California's state colors—gold and blue—form the base of the official color scheme while the red, white and blue of the American flag is in profusion.

When the inaugural parade passes from the capitol plaza down historic Pennsylvania avenue past the white house it will go over a route fluttering with the gold and blue and the red, white and blue.

Three nine-foot American flags and a banner with gold and blue streamers will be draped on each light standard along the entire route.

Along the north side of the avenue in front of the white house will fly flags of all states. Eight 60-foot flag staffs will be erected in this section, which will be known as the Court of States. From each will fly a gigantic American flag.

This same Court of States will contain the presidential reviewing stand of the garden pavilion type, covered with awnings and fitted with a removable glass front. The presidential stand will be 140 feet long and will seat 800 guests.

Other reviewing stands are being erected at strategic points along the line of march. One of the most ideally situated will be at the rear of the treasury building. Spectators in this stand will be able to witness the progress of the march down the avenue and watch the parade swing north on 15th street and onto Pennsylvania avenue again.

All business firms along the line of march have been requested to have their places decorated in harmony with the general color scheme.

Instructions for decorating have been issued and individualistic treatment of buildings will be discouraged.

Decorations

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Every window has its "Hoover and Curtis" decoration. They range from giant portraits six feet high, to postcard size. Without exception they are draped in the vibrant colors of the nation—red, white and blue. Comment on the artistic ability of the makers of the picture had led to the belief Vice-president-elect Curtis is much easier to "catch" than Mr. Hoover. Attempts to paint the peculiar Hoover smile have given some queer results.

Inaugural Sidelights

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Air space over the District of Columbia has been declared prohibited area through an executive order issued through President Coolidge. Only aircraft with special permits may operate over the district from now until Wednesday at midnight when the period ends.

New York peddlers, 34 of them, arrived yesterday, to be greeted with news at police headquarters that a fee of $25 was necessary under a new police order. A few had the necessary cash. The rest, treated in disorder, some of them facing the necessity of beating their way back home because of insufficient funds. They spent their last few cents for fare here, hoping to "clean up" in the great crowds, hawking doodads and souvenirs.

Here and there in the hundreds who walked the streets today in a pre-inauguration day inspection of the route over which the giant parade will pass, were seen the now stooped shoulders of grey-haired men, evidently southerners. They were part of the delegations from Chattanooga, Tenn., and Gulfport, Miss., whose numbers include Confederate veterans.

BOOTLEGGERS BUSY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—One batch of inaugural liquor will never be swallowed. It was found unguaranteed a few moments after delivery in a hallway on E street following an anonymous phone call to police. The owner of the 190 quarts of rye, gin and alcohol, could not be found.

FIFER MAKES READY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Every day now a man with a healthy stride for all his years can be seen marching briskly through the streets of the city. He is A. B. Bates, veteran Topeka, Kan., fifer, whose thrilling notes have been heard in dozens of parades of all kinds. His marching ahead of time is not without purpose. Four miles daily, he said, will prepare him for the grind down Pennsylvania avenue next Monday.

John William Butts Post Drive for $5,000 Fund to Get Under Way With 102-Hour Endurance Drive

The local American Legion campaign to build up the post here and beautify the home is on. At the close of this campaign the John William Butts post will stand 150 strong, declares C. E. Yates, post adjutant.

The Legion is fortunate in securing the services of "Buck Hoover," nationally known daredevil stunt artist and thrill man, who will risk his life in an endurance drive for the benefit of the local post. Records show that Buck has to his credit eighteen months as an ambulance driver in France, later spending six years in government hospitals as a result of injuries received "over there."

According to word received from other places, Buck is a hard worker and an enthusiastic booster for the Legion. Hoover has contracted to drive a new Ford for 102 continuous hours without food or sleep. If he is able to finish this drive it will be a new world record for such a performance.

The drive was originally planned to start March 11th, but according to the latest information from Legion headquarters the long grind will begin on the afternoon of March 10th. Buck states that he will begin training at once in order to be in perfect condition for this man killing stunt. He will spend three times as many hours in his car as Lindbergh did in his plane during his flight to Paris. At the finish of Buck's drive, which is scheduled to come to a close at Lake Cisco pavilion, the legionnaires are staging a banquet and performance. Buck will do some news-making stunts at this time, he promises.

Loboes Bi-District Basket Ball Champions After Decisive Victory Over Abilene in Game Here Friday

Abilene's mighty Eagles swept down upon the fair of the Loboes Friday night with all the ferocity of their embattled totem, but they came away with the humility of a plucked chicken. The visiting clan for the first three quarters were good and they might even have been conceded a match for the smooth running Lobo machine but it was in the last quarter that wrote the final and dramatic chapter to the tale of Cisco's superiority on the court.

In that period which held forth Abilene's last opportunity to even the series, the spirit of the Eagles frittered away under a rain of field goals that carried the game from a nip and tuck proposition to a two to one victory for the Loboes. The final score was 35 to 16 and the margin of the victory is a measure of the rejuvenation that seemed to have taken hold upon the park in those last rushing minutes.

Abilene eked out two bare free tosses in that final quarter while the Loboes, led by George Van Horn, who for once this season had "not right" amazed 15 extra points. The feature of this period, if a few particular plays may be singled out to feature, was the skillful dribbling of George from the farther end of the court to the near center where he straightened up from a bewildered nest of Eagles to loon goals with the nonchalance of an idle man throwing pebbles at an indifferent target.

The Loboes made only one or two big shots during the session. The great majority, in fact practically all of them, were made from 10 to 30 feet and more away and with an accuracy that demoralized the visitors. They fought it for three periods but it looked as though the doctrine of predestination was staring them in the face and their own shots grew wilder and wilder as the accuracy of the yellow-clad boys improved. The psychological effect of combination is apparent to the simplest mind. So today the Loboes are on top of Districts No. 2 and 3 and next Friday and Saturday will go to the state meet at A. & M. college where a new state champion will be determined.

Abilene, as in the first game of the series, started off with a rush. Before the game had been under way a minute or the Loboes had laid more than a finger upon the ball. Cisco and Smith for Abilene registered free tosses. Little went in for Whitehead after the latter had collided with an Abilene player dazing him somewhat just as the third quarter ended. Salyer for Abilene sunk a free shot and then Pippen from the center of the court sunk a beautiful field goal. George Van Horn repeated under similar circumstances. A double personal on Ray for Cisco and Salyer for Abilene sent both from the court and Price went in for Ray and Carter for Salyer. Ray before going out stunk the free throw awarded Cisco but Salyer missed for Abilene.

George Van Horn came weaving and dribbling up the center of the court and from the center looped a perfect shot. Little made a field goal and then George Van Horn, dribbled down and shot another perfect one. Pippen looped a field goal and Smith for Abilene made good a free throw. Little, on a crisp shot, scored the final points.

George Van Horn was high point with 11; Pippen next with 9; Salyer for Abilene scored 6 points.

"MONKEY BILL" DEAD, AUTHOR ANNOUNCES

AUSTIN, March 2.—No effort will be made to revive the anti-evolution bill at the special session of the legislature, which the governor is expected to order about the middle of April. Representative J. W. Harper of Mount Pleasant, pastor-author of the bill, said after the bill's defeat in the house late yesterday that he will not ask the governor to submit it. This is the only way it could be brought up.

After being a subject of turbulent discussion at various times in the session the "monkey bill" was killed silently. It had led by 17 votes on a former vote but at that time there was no quorum. When the vote was taken then the "previous question" had been ordered cutting off further debate. Speaker W. S. Blanton ruled yesterday the previous question still was in effect. Scores were on their feet, clamoring to be heard. Shouts went up from opponents of the bill as the vote was registered on the electric voting machine showing 59 blue "no" lights to 50 red "ayes." Harper, whose seat is in the last tier in the house, never lost his smile. "They just beat us, that's all," he said.

A member handed him a toy monkey on a string. Swinging it he walked toward the microphone to speak. A vote of recess cut him off. The bill was a replica of the Arkansas law as introduced. It penalized any teacher in a state supported school who taught "as a fact" that men evolved from one of the lower animals. The first patent issued by the secretary of state for a threshing machine, was dated March 11, 1791, being the seventh on the records of the office to Samuel Muliken of Philadelphia. There was once a time when the exception of schoolbooks, Sabbath school books, three literature at all for children.

LEGISLATURE OFF ON JAUNT TO SAN ANTONIO FOR WEEK END

Governor Moody Stays at Home to Work on Mess of Bills Which Have Been Passed by Lawmakers

AUSTIN, March 2.—Members of the state legislature left on a holiday jaunt to San Antonio this morning while Governor Moody stayed in Austin to work on the mess of bills they have already passed and sent to his desk for approval or veto.

The veto was sent to them late yesterday. It disapproves the bill to validate titles of west Texas land owners whose grants extend to or across river beds. The bill is based on an opinion of the attorney general that the act is unconstitutional.

Members of the bill called it "land grab." Its supporters desired it a bill to protect the occupants from "oil sharks."

Upon return to Austin next week the house will be faced with action on the proposed $175,000,000 state bond issue. Its first setback came when the senate came yesterday when it was referred to a sub-committee. A speedy report had been sought the session is fast drawing to close.

Chief action of the house in a brief session Friday was final passage of the bill providing for a state board of education as authorized by recent constitutional amendment.

An effort to retain a separate text book commission was defeated.

The house also passed finally the underground search and seizure bill. It was one of the two agreed on search and seizure. It allows search on probable cause without warrant, except search of places which is covered by another bill.

A bill to place commercial trucks under the state railroad commission under a plan like that relating motor buses was also passed finally by the house. A use prohibits the transfer of any truck line permits to competing railroads.

Final house vote was taken to submit a constitutional amendment to raise legislators' pay to $10 a day and hold sessions of 120 days. The first thirty days of the session will be for introducing bills and emergency matters. Thirty days will then be given to committee work and public hearings and the final 60 days to passage of measures. Matters specially submitted by the governor can be acted upon at any time under the terms of the proposed amendment.

Other bills finally passed by the house in last night's session were the ginning regulation bill; the bill making wife and child desertion a felony; a Confederate pension bill embodying the terms of the recent constitutional amendment; a bill requiring physical education in state schools and a bill to require affidavit that automobiles have been rendered for taxation when the auto license is issued. An attempt to pass finally the bill reducing the liquor law violation penalty from a felony to a misdemeanor got 96 votes to 42. The vote went undeclared as it disclosed lack of quorum.

Before the vote was taken the bill was amended to make the penalty for first offense a fine of $25 to $500 and not more than 12 months in jail.

The measures finally passed by the house have yet to go to the senate.

The senate will continue its debate Monday over the Woodward Motor truck traffic regulatory measure. An amendment and substitute amendment are pending. Though the senate apparently agreed that some sort of regulation should be applied to what is termed the monopolistic features of the original bill is very strong.

The original bill would put the motor truck traffic under the railroad commissioner. Before changes would be granted in the future, the commission would have to be convinced of the convenience and necessity of the new truck route.

The pending amendment and substitute amendment would eliminate the feature to some extent.

BANDITS IN MEXICO HOLD UP FREIGHT

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Mexican bandits who were reported to have held up and burned a freight train en route here Thursday night, between El Parque and Alarcon, were being pursued today by troops from the military garrison at Cuernavaca.

Reports of the holdup said the bandits relieved the train crew of their money and watches before setting fire to the train.

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

SEMINOLE, March 2.—Production of 1,810 wells in the Seminole and Potawatomie county was thrown wide open at 7 a. m. Friday for a 24-hour test of the greater Seminole field. It was predicted by Ray Collins, oil umpire, that the nine pools would produce approximately 475,000 barrels. Today's production will be used as a basis of prorating production, according to Collins.

SEMINOLE, Okla., March 2.—Production of the greater Seminole area was up 1,742 barrels on the gauges Thursday, the total being 309,781 barrels from 1,441 wells.

The St. Louis area south of Shawnee, registered an increase of 10,833 barrels, bringing the total to 111,401 barrels from 303 wells.

This increase was caused by a resumption of drilling on leases which had been shut down and the opening of wells to take the potential gauge.

HOUSTON, March 2.—Texas company's No. 1 Botney Bay, in Saint Landry parish, Louisiana, which came in last week, has been drilled deeper to 3,673 feet. It has 400 feet of fluid in the hole, 100 of which is oil. It is being placed on the pump. This well proves up the Port Barre structure, adding that section to the producing fields of the coastal area.

Mary McLean has abandoned No. 1 Cade 'A' at Higa Island at 2,410 feet. Shaw-Texas Exploration's No. 2 Fitzsimmons 'D' at Pierce Junction, has been abandoned in shale at 4,500 feet.

SAN ANGELO, March 2.—A well which topped the pay at 25 feet and again at 40 feet and is estimated good for 35 to 40 barrels of oil daily, is the latest entry in the Yates pool, of Pecos county, famed for its 100,000 barrel production.

Squeeze from wells in the regular horizons in which casing strings were not cemented and migration of oil through the sands account for the freak. The well was drilled by the Marland Production company.

SAN ANGELO, March 1.—A new high production record of 2,962 barrels of 56 gravity oil from 8,323 wells was registered Friday from the world's deepest well, Group One Oil Corporation's No. 1-B University, in Reagan county. This is 23% barrel more than its previous high.

SEMINOLE, Okla., March 1.—The greater Seminole field was down 2,663 barrels on the gauges yesterday, the total production being 307,118 barrels from 1,445 wells. The Mission and Little River pools were contributors to the decline.

The St. Louis area south of Shawnee, also was in a decline, the total production being 108,129 barrels, down 3,272 barrels over Thursday. Producing wells numbered 310.

The election will be held at the city hall.

JONES BILL, AIMED AT BOOTLEGGERS, BECOMES FEDERAL LAW

Maximum Sentence of Five Years in Prison and $10,000 Fine Provided in Measure Signed by President

WASHINGTON, March 2. — A law providing a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for liquor law violations intended to curb bootlegging, into existence today when President Coolidge signed the Jones bill.

Several judges are specifically mentioned in the act to discriminate against criminal or habitual violators and casual or slight violators in imposing sentences thereon.

The measure is effective at once, together with the $3,000,000 added appropriation for the fiscal year, it will mark a new prohibition enforcement effort on the threshold of the new administration.

The drastic law quinqupling present penalties, is a triumph for Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willebrandt and the Anti-Saloon league, who have pushed it for five years. Sponsored by Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, Washington, the measure was expedited through congress in the closing days of the session and passed by large majorities in both houses.

The effect of the law is simply to provide another means of prosecuting vendors of liquor. Its clause providing the maximum of five years or $10,000, or both, applies in cases of illegal manufacture, sale, transportation or exportation of liquor, but not the mere possession.

DEATH HALTS CONTRIBUTION RACING CASE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 2.—The validity of the contribution racing system has been decided in Missouri because of the death of a party involved in a test case brought to the supreme court, it was learned today.

Several years ago H. J. Plotell of St. Joseph, a betting commissioner was arrested on a charge of violating the anti-betting law. The supreme court en banc, on a habeas corpus hearing, brought by Plotell, ruled that he had not violated the anti-gambling law.

A motion for a rehearing was filed and granted. While awaiting for the opinion to be written Plotell died and the court did not hand down the opinion.

STOCKS SWIRL UPWARD WITH BUYING BOOM

BY ELMER C. WALZER.
NEW YORK, March 2.—An avalanche of orders, pouring into the New York stock exchange from the corner of the country, has stocks swirling upward on the day of a frenzied "Hoover boom," advice to buy went out over the air yesterday and an active wave of speculation set in. The result was the biggest market day in the history of Wall street since sales totaled more than 6,000,000 shares. The exact figure was 6,300,000.

The bullish traders were lifting their profits and the end not in sight. Herbert Hoover's signature, to which the strong sentiment is ascribed, is getting a reception along the street many feel that the boom will wane for some time after the final induction of the new President Monday.

Money held at 8 per cent Friday when it normally was expected to be much higher. A rise of only 60,000 in brokerage loans could be forgotten when a new president is to take office. Wall street gets Hoover to say something "bullish" as regards business. He makes his inaugural address. This assumption is being counted.

Both fled, the boy escaping on the left side of the truck but only after he had been badly burned. Ryan jumped to the left, the truck swinging quickly and trapping him underneath it. It was about 30 minutes before he could be pulled out, the truck was laden with merchandise being taken from Houston, Navasota, Bryan, Fort Worth and other points.

CONDITION OF MARSHAL FOCH IS UNCHANGED

PARIS, March 2.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch's condition remained unchanged today but his physicians admitted they were worried over the persistence of the pulmonary congestion.

The congestion, in the base of the lungs, was difficult to treat despite flogging.

Foch's temperature this morning was 100.4 and his pulse 92.

Dr. Davaniere and Dr. Hertzinger left the Foch residence early last night after examining the aged marshal. They first announced they would spend the night, leaving grave developments, but apparently the examination reassured them.

2 INSTANTLY KILLED IN RAIL CRASH

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 2.—Two men were instantly killed at St. Clair near here today when 20 heavily loaded freight cars ran wild down a steep incline and crashed into an engine and caboose standing in the Reading railroad yards.

The dead: Guy Drantz, 33, Reading railroad engineer; Joseph Hartnett, Schuylkill Haven, brakeman.

John Howells, 24, Port Corson, another member of the train crew, was taken from the wreckage of the caboose and rushed to a hospital here in critical condition.

Col. C. C. French, Industrial Agent for Ft. Worth Stock Yards, Booster for Cisco Livestock Association

Col. C. C. French, industrial agent for the Fort Worth Stock Yards, spoke yesterday afternoon to the Cisco Cooperative Livestock Marketing association at the dinner of commerce. Colonel French is an ardent admirer of the association here and once took it upon himself to issue a circular describing in detail the methods of operating and telling of the history of the local association, this circular being broadcast at the state fair at Dallas and elsewhere as an incentive toward the development of the livestock industry in Texas.

In a brief interview Saturday Colonel French pointed out that government forecasts and the opinion of others intimately connected with the livestock industry hold that a period of from four to six years will be required to bring conditions as they pertain to cattle back to normalcy. This is based upon what may be called normal expectancy, and conditions are subject, of course, to other factors which cannot be foreseen, such as a change in the appetite of the public for meats, destructive droughts or epidemics. Right now the public is showing a decided preference for meat diets, he said.

The days of great cattle herds have largely passed, the colonel intimated in the statement that the bulk of meat animals produced henceforth will be produced by farmers. There is at present in Texas a decided trend toward livestock farming, he said, and the result will be that packing houses and stockyards will draw not from comparatively few large cattlemen but from the multitude of small producers. Thus, it may be seen, livestock marketing associations such as that here, have a mission of incalculable importance.

SECT HOPEFUL AS PATRIARCH FAILS TO RISE

DENVER, Colo., March 2.—Confident that their leader, Emmanuel Yihvi, somewhere out in space, is waging a terrific battle with the devil, members of the Yihvi temple religious cult are in no way cast down by the failure of Emmanuel to arise from the dead.

Yihvi was to have walked the earth again yesterday, but when he did not, the coroner's office removed his body to the county morgue.

An autopsy will be performed later to learn if Yihvi died from any cause other than pneumonia.

GIRLS, LURED BY MODERN "GOLD COAST", PICKED UP HERE and 16, they Followed the Trail of Adventure Until It Ended Rather Prosaically In Cisco City Court

The distant glimmer of that modern "gold coast" the lure of big and old alike whose spirits have been touched with the fires of the spirit of adventure, is thought to have been the incentive for an adventure which ended rather prosaically but not altogether unhappily in the corporation court of Cisco Saturday morning.

Shyly dressed and not unpleasant to look upon, two young women, 19, the other 16, students in the Cliff high school, were taken in a West Texas Coaches westward bus late Friday night by two officers who had responded to a telephone call from the Cisco police. The girls, who were taken to the Cisco police station, were taken to the Cisco police station, where they were held until their parents were notified.

Story of Dairy Development About Marshall Told Cisco Dairy Night School by T. P. Agricultural Agent

The story of dairy development as it has taken place about the city of Marshall was told to a group of farmers and milk producers at the Cisco Dairy Night school Thursday when C. M. Evans, agricultural agent for the Texas and Pacific railroad appeared as one of the principal speakers. Another speaker was D. H. Van Pelt, vice-president and feed specialist of the Universal Mills of Fort Worth.

The Marshall milk plant was opened in June, 1928, and upon its first day received 4,100 pounds of milk. In February the milk received daily was in excess of 33,000 pounds, Mr. Evans said, all of which increases had been brought about through a practical and systematic program of local development, fostered by Marshall business men and carried on by farmers in the section who have found that dairying and livestock farming pays big dividends.

With their report they filed the statement of Rep. Erwin Carron of Waxahachie asking that the charges be declared unjustified. They had been placed before the house by him.

county oil litigation at the request of the attorney general, whose department had been criticized for alleged settlement of a suit for $1,000,000 to be paid the state.

It was brought out that by the settlement the state got royalty on the oil at from $1.20 to $1.40 a barrel while if the state had figured a consolidation of the contracts it would have had to settle on a basis of later market prices which had dropped to 60 cents a barrel. Possibility of adverse judgment in final decision of the case was also brought out. Attorney employed by the regents of the university of Texas participated in the suit, it was testified.

Both the countess and her young husband, Count de Merode of Belgium, entered the World War at its beginning. Count de Merode was killed the first day he went into action. The young widow put aside her own sorrows and took command of a field hospital near Ypres.

Twice the countess was gassed. She sustained a broken back when her hospital was bombed by the enemy. In another hospital catastrophe one side of her face was blown away. This was later restored by a plastic surgeon so well that few were aware of her injury.

The heroic countess was twice decorated by King Albert of Belgium. Premier Poincaré and General Paul of France each awarded her their country's highest medals of honor. Twice she was rewarded for her valor by King George of England, who also bestowed upon her the title of Lady Meda.

About eight years ago Countess de Merode came to the United States.

But even in this country the countess was not allowed to live in peace. She was kidnapped twice by Rumanian political conspirators. Once she was carried to the Canadian border by her captors in their attempt to return her to Rumania in the hope that she would eventually ascend to the throne. She was rescued by American officials at the border. But on the second attempt it was a signal known only to medical officers overseas that enabled her to go free.

After escaping from her kidnappers the second time she met Charles Waterhouse in Los Angeles. A short time afterward the couple were married and came to Phoenix to make their home. Since then she had lived here in obscurity, her past being kept secret from even her most intimate friends.

Goitre Not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. E43, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

Heroic War Record of Woman, Four Times Wounded, Revealed in Death; Former Countess Six Times Honored

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 2.—Four times wounded in the World War, and six times awarded war medals of the highest honor in recognition of her services, Countess de Merode died here unknown and penniless after being struck by a boy on a bicycle. Countess de Merode, Marquise of Roumania, a direct descendant of the deposed Queen Sofia and a member of the Belgian royal family by marriage, was known here as Mrs. Charles E. Waterhouse by a recent marriage to a Los Angeles man. Not even her closest friends knew of her real identity and heroic war record. Both the countess and her young husband, Count de Merode of Belgium, entered the World War at its beginning. Count de Merode was killed the first day he went into action. The young widow put aside her own sorrows and took command of a field hospital near Ypres. Twice the countess was gassed. She sustained a broken back when her hospital was bombed by the enemy. In another hospital catastrophe one side of her face was blown away. This was later restored by a plastic surgeon so well that few were aware of her injury. LINDBERGH AND FIANCEE BACK TO CUERNAVACA

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his fiancée left at 10:45 a. m. today for another week end in the idyllic surroundings of Cuernavaca, where their courtship started. They accompanied United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, parents of the bride-to-be and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Morrow. The party left in two cars over a route made dangerous for travel because of recent bandit activities, but the Mexican government had the way well guarded by troops. Lindbergh and his fiancée were alone in the car, Lindbergh driving with his left hand. His right arm still was bandaged because of the dislocated shoulder he received when he and Miss Morrow crashed in an airplane Wednesday.
