POLITICAL EFFICIENCY.

An American who is both a practical politician and a student of government announces that he is going abroad for a couple of months to study the English system.

"I want to observe closely," he says, "how the English elections are run, and how the people react to them."

I'm a great believer in the parliamentary system, the most liberal form of government. One can become a member of the English Parliament without even being a citizen of that country.

In 1924 we started machinery in motion for nomination of presidential candidates in January. In July the candidates were selected. August saw the campaign started. In November we elected a president. He took office the following March. Congress was seated 13 months after election.

October 29 saw a new parliament elected and ready to function.

It might be a good thing if more Americans would engage in such studies. We as a people were nurtured in the English political system, and branched off from it. We have improved on it in some ways. Possibly the British people have improved on it in other ways since we parted company with them.

The president of Mexico, in sending out a force of armed men, is alleged to have made this statement: I am sending them to the south for the purpose of putting down the "Catholic" revolution.

COMING LATE.

It has been a very trying winter in New York for young society people, because dinner and dance guests have been coming later and later.

"Are you in favor of having dinners on time? Will you arrive punctually at the hour set? Will you get to dances on time?"

"If you accept a dinner invitation will you really attend? Are you in favor of early luncheons so that afternoon appointments can be met?"

"Will you take pains to arrive on time so that you will not have to leave before luncheon is finished?"

That ought to do some good. The general tendency all over the country is to do everything later and later. Promptness as a virtue is waning.

"Sociologist scoffs at bugaboo of over-population." We should think so, with fewer farmers raising more food than they can sell.

"T. B." STILL A MENACE.

There seems to be a general impression that tuberculosis is dying out in this country. Yet we find a large insurance company reporting: "Tuberculosis, though lessening in deaths because of remedial measures, is the greatest single cause of the total disability claims." Intelligent people have lost most of their old fear of tuberculosis, and that is well.

EUROPE'S AIR BOUNDARIES.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the giant dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, has been planning a flight over the Orient, starting from Germany.

GUN COURAGE.

"The gangsters and other criminals of today have no courage," says Police Commissioner Whalen of New York. "They are all cowards, every one of them. They rely on guns to attack women and children and defenseless men.

From the expert economic dope we get on the farm situation, we gather that if the farmers can just stall along somehow with their interest and taxes for a generation or two longer, their heirs may make money.

SPRING MEET OF OIL MEN IN DALLAS

Houston, D. B. Harris of Luling, A. S. Field of Dallas and S. M. Gladney of Eldorado, Ark.

Selection of the next meeting place and the reports of committees will complete the Thursday morning session.

A golf tournament at the Brook Hollow Country club will feature the afternoon session Thursday. C. W. Murchison will be host to those who do not play golf at his country home on Preston road.

LEGAL BATTLE FOR MILLIONS BEFORE LORDS

LONDON, March 28.—Another stage in the fight for what is known as the L'Epine millions may be reached in the house of lords in the near future, it is learned. The action, which was dismissed in the chancery division in December 1927, and lost on appeal last summer, took the form of a petition of right by the next-of-kin of Maria Jenny L'Epine, of Portsmouth, for the payment with accrued interest of estate valued in 1792 at $225,000. At compound interest of 2 1/2 per cent, that sum would now amount to millions of dollars. The last member of the L'Epine family to hold the estate was Maria, who died interstate and lunatic in 1798. As she was then believed to be illegitimate she could have no legal heirs, and the fortune, instead of going to a daughter, became escheat to the crown. King George III. presented the money to Lord Howe in recognition of his services abroad, with the stipulation that, in the event of heirs of the L'Epine family being discovered, he would hand back the property. Marriage Proof Found. Two years ago that was a dramatic turn in the affair by the discovery in the registers of a London church of a marriage entry proving that Maria L'Epine had been married in London, and that her daughter, Abigail Eccles was legitimate. The discovery was made by the Misses Mason of London, three of the ten claimants to the estate, and it came as the reward of years of searching through church registers. This information was of no avail against the statute of limitations, which in the decision of the chancery division and the court of appeal barred the claim. Although the Mason family have already spent practically every penny they possessed in the effort to establish their claim, they are determined not to relinquish the struggle. Quite recently, Miss J. M. Mason pleaded the case in "forma pauperis" before the application committee of the house of lords. Although the application in that form was disallowed on technical grounds, the committee granted a request for an extension of time in which to bring the case in the ordinary way. The cost of carrying the case to the upper house will be at least $7,500.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that. That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality. Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

Coughs...

quick action plus safety PERTUSSIN relieves the cough by getting at the immediate cause. Made by the Special Taeschner Process, it helps to loosen the phlegm, soothes the irritation and quiet the cough. That's why it is safer and quicker. Ask any doctor or druggist.

PRISONERS ESCAPE HILLSBORO, March 28.—Three prisoners saved their way out of the county jail Tuesday night and were still at large Wednesday. A reward was offered for their apprehension. The collision occurred in the mouth of the Yangtze river. Six foreigners and 79 Chinese were rescued.

NEGRO CONVICTED. MARSHALL, March 28.—A verdict of guilty, carrying a 50 year prison sentence, was returned by a jury in district court here Wednesday against Lonnie Madden, 18-year-old negro. Madden was charged with the slaying of Clifford Miles, another negro. The jury deliberated six hours.

NIGHT FLYING SCHEDULE.

COPENHAGEN March 28.—Plans are being laid for a month's trial this summer of night-flying on the Copenhagen-Amsterdam-London-Paris and the Helsingfors-London-Paris and the Helsingfors-Oslo-Stockholm air mail routes.

If the experiment is successful it is probable that a regular night service during the summer months will follow in 1930. Schedules will probably be arranged so that the "night" hours of the flights will fall in the most northern sections of the routes where during the summer months it remains comparatively light throughout the night.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 28.—Fifteen minutes after being released from jail, Thomas MacGregor, 65, was arrested on a drunkenness charge.

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN ON NARCOTICS

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Captain Richard P. Hobson, secretary general, World Conference on Narcotic Education, states the association plans a vigorous educational campaign on narcotic drug addiction in the next 12 months. Captain Hobson reports efforts will be made to strengthen the Harrison anti-narcotic law to have offenses made felonies instead of misdemeanors. Special efforts will be made to strengthen the fight of the government against smuggling by the international dope ring. The report of the chief of narcotic division of the treasury department that 98% of all the drugs used by addicts in America is smuggled and that the international dope ring within a year has tripled its operations against America, is a challenge to American people and to the power and independence of our government. The association plans a general system of standard material which will be reported and recommended to the state boards of education for incorporation in future textbooks. The education of the public will be pushed. Narcotic education week, the last week in February in 1930, should surpass all previous records. By that time the association hopes to increase largely the number of other countries joining with America in this annual institution.

The power of the law will be applied with increasing effect. The special objective will be the police power of the states and the foreign commerce and treaty making power of the federal government. The main drive will be for enactment of uniform state laws, now before all the legislatures. The association will seek to have the government strike at the source of supply through agents stationed at strategic points abroad, and through the development of public opinion abroad, cooperating with the efforts of the state department to bring about the observance by foreign governments of their treaty obligations to limit the quantity of harmful narcotic drugs manufactured to the amount necessary for medical purposes. The opium commission of the League of Nations estimated that the amount manufactured is over 20 times the amount thus needed.

Feeding The Multitude—

"And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. And they all ate and were filled."—Mark 6:41, 42.

But life is more than food and raiment. Christ came to bring food for the soul. "Labor not for the food which perisheth," he says, "but for the food which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of Man shall give unto you." He is the bread of life. All who hunger and thirst after righteousness shall in him be filled.

A multitude of five thousand were fed by the hand of Christ. At another time, a multitude of four thousand were fed by him. And through all the days of a silent past, a happy present, and the hopeful tomorrow, the hand of God is stretched out to feed the countless multitudes of earth. Through the chosen agency of man, the earth gives up its food in obedience to the will of its great Creator.

This bread of life Christ still ministers to the multitudes through his disciples. They are gathered together in the churches, and invite you to the feast. From the churches the disciples go out into needy places administering physical needs and bearing the food for the hungry hearts all about them. Come partake and be satisfied.

NOTICE, VISITORS!

Don't think that because you are away from home you are away from friends--there are many friendly churches in Cisco and Eastland county, all denominations. They extend to you a cordial invitation to attend their services.

mor Spending Many Hours n 102 Bills Left on His Desk With Adjournment of Legislature

March 28—Those of bills left on Governor desk by the 41st legislature are neither signed nor April 3 will become laws of the governor's signature. The governor's intent to dispose of the measure more than union hours of the session is being taken up in which they were composed of the legislature and sent to the governor. The order of bills is being followed, except where there is a demand for action. Bills will be sent to the state with approval of the governor. It was the governor's plan at first to consider his action on all similar bills. Paper men are largely responsible for disbanding him from office. They pointed out at a conference with the governor that if all were issued at once papers could not carry an intelligible statement of each of the 102 bills.

Moody's objection to filing a bill as acted upon is might lead to the false impression that those acted upon by the governor is the last person upon a bill, and has a task in deciding to sign it. Three, which were during the session on the ground that they were not to be by anyone had to be later because of misapprehension of them. The governor's process of bills is thorough. He has contended that he can get through his eyes than his ears and so he reads them personally. As he expects during the recent session a conceivable thing also has been legislated about so the bills repeal or amend laws. Therefore is necessary for the governor to consult the existing law and find out just what the law will do to it. The governor has to call in his secretaries to help check present law and its changes, a tedious process at best and

ELLIS COUNTY AGAIN LEADS COTTON OUTPUT

DALLAS, March 28.—Ellis county was again the chief cotton producing county of Texas in 1928, final figures on the crop issued by the federal government show.

The county's total was 122,926 bales, an increase over 114,987 in 1927. Williamson county with 111,995 was second this year, McLennan with 110,912 was third and Hill county with 101,995 bales was fourth. Nueces county, where one plantation produced a tenth of the entire cotton crop last year, was exceeded by a number of other counties. Its crop was 28,823 bales. Last year it had 99,455 bales.

Neff resumed law practice after his two terms as governor. Governor Neff, however, remained in private life only a short time before accepting a federal appointment.

COCK FIGHTING NOT ENTIRELY A LOST ART

ALBANY, March 28.—Cock fighting as a sport has not departed so far into the vista of yesterday that it cannot on occasion be recalled for clandestine entertainment, according to Albert Cook, deputy sheriff here, whose nose for lawlessness precipitated a riot Sunday, a week ago. Says the Albany News: Yes, a big cock fight out in the wild pasture lands of Shackelford county. Who would have thought about it? Albert Cook, deputy sheriff, got scent of the trail last Sunday, and the trail led away out into the wild pasture lands in the southwest part of the county. Albert driving along the highway, scenting for a trail, finally he espied a white flag by the road side, and following the auto tracks, leading out into the desert wilds, he flushed the human covey, and doggone Albert said that they sure did scatter, went in every direction, did well. Said there must have been a thousand sports there. Said he got the names of about 100, shot the casings off one man's car to bring him to a slow down. Said they were there from Breckenridge, Albany, Abilene, Stamford, Anson and other nearby towns. Think about a thousand sports gathering out in the wild lands of Shackelford county to witness a cock fight. Sports, eh? Well, as it has often been said, most of us are gamblers—the game of chance appeals to man. Yes, sports, gamble on an oil well, a mercantile business, a newspaper. All of life is a gamble and lots of folks will bet on a cock fight. A horse race always gets us, yes, when the feet-footer horses start down the track to save our life we can't keep from backing our judgment, picking the winner and putting our money on the barrel head. But a cock fight seems too tame. But Albert said the sports were there.

MENS HATS IMPORTANT

In keeping with the growing luxuries and beauty of American homes, motor cars, wardrobes and other modern features of life since the war, men's hats are becoming increasingly important as a demarcating note in the apparel of the well dressed man. After a nationwide survey the Hat Institute of America, comprising 90 per cent of the makers of men's hats, have learned that the man who would be properly garbed for all occasions now possesses a derby, a snap brim felt, a well brim felt, a homburg, a silk hat and a collapsible opera hat, the two latter having returned to popularity amazingly during the past two years. The fashion in summer straws calls for three distinct hats, the straw sailor with colored band, the panama or leg-horn for informal and sport wear and the split straw sailor with black band for formal occasions.

FINDS MONEY

HUTCHINSON, Kan., March 28.—Flicking up $10,000 in silver and gold strewn over an area of 75 yards was the experience of William Carr, former guard for the payroll agent located in the Tampico oil fields of Mexico. The money, wages for oil workers, was dropped by airplane from sacks in absence of a landing field. One day when the plane flew higher than usual, three sacks hit the ground, burst open, and scattered their golden contents over the surrounding area. Only 294 was missing when the guard finished picking up the money.

SELECTED TO REPRESENT TEXAS CLUBS

COLLEGE STATION, March 28.—Two 17-year-old home demonstration 4-H club girls, Mary Lou Harbour of Mt. Pleasant and Clarice Young of Lake Creek, have been selected to represent Texas girls at the National 4-H club encampment at Washington, D. C. in June. Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent of the extension service, A. & M. College has announced. These girls will share the honor of representing the youth of Texas at the national gathering with Paul Robinson, of Madison county and Isaac Corns of Cameron county, whose selection to represent the boys at the National Council as guests of the Texas Bankers association was announced recently. Announcement of the girls representatives follows a state-wide competition open to the more than 15,000 4-H club girls of the state. Judging was conducted on the basis of actual profits from the productive projects undertaken, such as gardening, poultry raising and dairying, and from the direct and indirect returns from canning, cooking, sewing, and home improvement work. In four years of club work each of the two winning girls made considerable more than $1,000 which compares favorably with the profits realized by the boy winners. As a general thing, we drop out of the convention when it becomes technical.

REVIVAL IS IN PROGRESS AT RANGER

RANGER, March 28.—The revival at the First Methodist church here is "gaining in interest" each day. One of the greatest days in the history of the church is being planned for Easter Sunday. A sunrise service for young people will be held from 6 until 7 a. m. Children will be received into the church at 9:45. At 11 the pastor will speak on "Sunrise After Darkness." Knights Templar Easter services at 2:30.

NEW METHOD TO DISCIPLINE BOYS WORKS

DALLAS, March 28.—The sheriff's office received a "riot" call from Kleburg, a small town near Dallas. "That's a gang of hoodlums here again, just like every Sunday night," said the call. Two county deputies went to investigate and found 25 men and boys engaged in various forms of devilry. "Boys," said one of the deputies, "you're going to be made to see the light. You're going to church for once in your lives." The deputies then rounded up the "rioters" and herded them into a nearby church where services were being held. The peace disturbers all sang and listened attentively to the sermon as though they enjoyed it.

"It did them a heap more good than jail," the deputies said. EARS DECEIVE YOU. NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 28.—When one listens to the tinnitulation of the bells, one does not hear what one thinks one hears. An exhaustive study of chimes has led Professor Arthur Taber Jones of the physics department of Smith College to this conclusion. The "strike note" of a bell is a whole octave higher than the hearer thinks it is, he believes. There was a regular tin can parade at Center when a local theater, joining in the clean up campaign, offered to admit any child bringing ten cans, and more than 400 attended.

BAIRD WORKS TO ESTABLISH CREAM ROUTES

BAIRD, March 28.—The poultry and dairying industries are being pushed in Callahan county and the chamber of commerce, Lions club and county agricultural agent are now working to establish cream routes throughout the county. Monday night a meeting was called in the Admiral community for the purpose of discussing the initial route and about 40 people were present. Most of the farmers in this territory are deeply interested and pledged their support and agreed to add more cows as soon as the route is permanently established. Other meetings will be held in the different communities and it is hoped to have the route in operation within the next three weeks. A meeting will be held this week at Rowden. At the meeting at Admiral Monday night talks were made by A. M. Cooper, county agricultural agent, H. M. Dandley, representative of the Lions club and James C. Ashby, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

SPRING BED IRKS KING OF AFGHANISTAN

BOMBAY, March 28.—Bachul-saka, water-carrier, rebel leader, and now self-proclaimed king of Afghanistan must be a simple sort of fellow judging from the stories which are being told about him. Habibullah, as he calls himself, is described as a short man with a thick beard, and although he gives the appearance of having a bold air, he wears clothes conspicuous for their lack of finery. One typical story of his simplicity, the authenticity of which is not vouchsafed for, deals with a spring bed. Upon occupying the palace in Kabul after he had entered the capital at the head of the rebel army, he eventually found his ideal bedroom in what had formerly been Amanullah's bathroom. There a spring bed was placed for him, but when he lay upon it for the first time he was greatly alarmed at the movements beneath him as he turned. Jumping out of bed, he called his guard to search for an assassin in the room, but without result. Habibullah's personal aversion to crime is illustrated by the story of the treatment of a man who was brought before him on a charge of stealing a carpet. His

CHARGED IN LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Complaints charging violation of the liquor laws have been filed in Justice of the Peace Jim Steele's court at Eastland against Ruscoe Thames, Van Tickner, and Mack Kimborough. Each of the complaints were sworn to by Sheriff Virge Foster. The complaints against Tickner and Thames, who live south of Cisco, grew out of the same transaction and followed a raid made on their premises by Sheriff Foster and members of his force who secured 11 one-half gallon jars of alleged intoxicating liquor which they found hidden about the residence and the chicken house on the place. Tickner and Thames are charged with possession of intoxicating liquors for the purpose of sale. The charge against Mack Kimborough is also one of possession for the purpose of sale. The officers stated that when they approached Kimborough's home someone on the inside of the house locked the door and by the time they forced the door open the alleged liquor had been poured into the bath tub. They were able to secure a small quantity of it from the bath tub, however.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Lb.)

Hardworking, Faithful to Their Homes and Tasks Were Those Who Paved the Way for Prosperity in This County

(BY ISHAM LAMB.) Bill Dill was an old timer. He moved from Arkansas to Texas and settled in Brown county. In 1880 he moved to Eastland county. Jack Hogner lived in Brown county but with the Eastland county bunch because he said he liked them. Several of those whose names are given here lived in Callahan county but we always numbered them with the Eastland county bunch.

One reading the names given here would think the country was pretty well settled up but, over the territory, the settlers were in reality few and far between. Few of the old timers of that day are living now. Many of them lived to a good old age and served their time and generation well and left a goodly posterity.

This part of the country did not settle up fast until the coming of the T. & P. railroad. The use of barbed wire fences made it possible to enclose a farm much more rapidly than it did with fencing of poles and rails.

All those west of Sipe Springs had to go that place to get their grain ground into meal and flour. Sipe Springs was also a trading point for the west at that time. The range was fine and all kinds of stock did well. No pastures were then enclosed and the range was free for all. But when the barbed wire came and those who were able to buy it did so and fenced their land it roused the ire of those that could not afford it. Trouble began. But of this we will tell in another chapter.

There was but little surface water in this part of the country. But an abundance of fine water could be obtained by digging wells to shallow depths.

This part of the country did not make as rapid advance in the development of schools as other sections due to the fact that the population was so badly scattered with hardly enough people in a particular neighborhood to support a school. There were many wide-awake people among the early settlers but they had many difficulties to overcome and most of the people were those who could not buy land in other sections where it was high. They had little ready cash and many of them would go east or south and work for a surplus to live upon while their families would stay and work the little farm at home. They had a hard struggle to make a living but they stayed with the little home and many of them are today well-to-do.

I know men who came to West Texas with a yoke of oxen and a cheap little wagon that long since have become bankers and own large property.

When I came to Eastland county the most of the people lived in the eastern part and considered it the only part of the county that was worth anything as a farming country. They did not think deep, sandy land was worth putting in cultivation. But they soon found that deep sand would produce a crop where tight land would fail.

There were few orchards planted by the early settlers and it was after the railroads came and the fruit tree agents invaded the country and persuaded a few of them to buy trees which, when planted, proved successful, that everyone wanted to plant trees and Eastland county became famous for its fine fruit. I think the Arkansas people took the lead in fruit growing.

In my next chapter I will tell of the Rising Star country.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—When Heber Player filed suit for annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Grace Player he said the woman told him she was 19 and that he was the "first and only man in her life." He said he later discovered she was 29 years of age and had a 12-year-old child in boarding school.

Mothers and Daughters Banquet

An evening to be remembered with pleasure was the Mothers and Daughters banquet Tuesday evening in the Methodist church basement. This meeting was in keeping with the March voice program of the Missionary society. The guests were welcomed at the door by a committee and flowers pinned on the daughters and mothers. Seven long tables were artistically arranged and decorated with cut flowers and pot plants and gleaming with silver and china. Covers were laid for 150 and at the appointed hour every seat was filled. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. R. A. Williams and, after invocation, each daughter was presented by her mother. After partaking of a most sumptuous feast the audience was favored with a solo by Mrs. John Meyers, with

Mrs. H. C. Porter at the piano. The devotional was given by Miss Claudia Hope. Her plea for more Christian homes was very appealing. Following this, "A Tribute to Our Daughters" was given by Mrs. C. O. Shugart, and Miss Zelia Blanche McClinton responded beautifully with "A Tribute to Our Mothers." Another interesting feature was several piano selections by Mrs. Bernard Webb. "Home Dedication" was the theme of Mrs. J. J. Youngblood. She paid a beautiful tribute to the home, and the service and sacrifice of mother. The evening came to a close after a few minutes of silent prayer for home and mother. An Easter egg hunt furnished a happy hour for the little tots.

Mrs. Low, Mae Durson and Charley Sherman entertained with a duet during the social hour. Mrs. Duncan served ice cream and cake to seven members, two new members and one visitor.

Death Valley Soon Will Become Vast Blazing Furnace Deserted By All Save One Solitary Human

BY FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW.

RYAN, Cal., March 28.—Four thousand feet below this little town, which clings to a plateau honeycombed with mines, is Death Valley.

Automobiles and motor buses this month wind down the 15-mile length of Furnace Creek wash, from Ryan to the valley floor, bringing thousands of tourists from California and from the East to explore the vast, mysterious, color-filled and ominous sink.

The motor caravans will continue throughout April. On the first day of May, all this life and movement so foreign to Death Valley, will cease. The luxurious hotels here and at Furnace Creek, on the valley floor, will close.

The heat will come.

One man, perhaps, will remain at Furnace Creek ranch, which today shows a solitary patch of green in the great panorama which unfolds below Ryan, to the north and west. I talked with the man who held solitary dominion over all Death Valley last summer, the caretaker at Furnace Creek ranch.

"No, I won't stay here this summer," he assured me, and added, with a touch of grave naivete: "It's too hot."

Mercury Up to 138.

The mercury went up to 138 here one summer, and mostly it stays between 120 and 130.

"A man can hardly stand it, you know. When the night wind sets in from either end of the valley, north or south, it seems like its going to kill you. It's a great, hot, alkaline blast, and you can't get out of it. The heat and the wind, and the terrible loneliness, is more than I want to go through again. I am leaving this summer."

"Sure, someone will have to stay. There are cows here, and the ranch must be kept up for the folks who will come to Furnace Creek Inn and Ryan again in the fall."

"The cows seem to stand the heat all right. It kills dogs and cats, though, and humans barely survive it."

The valley at this time of the year is pleasant in the extreme. The atmosphere is bright and clear, the days are warm and the nights crisply cool.

Only for the past two years has Death Valley really been added to the accessible scenic attractions of the West. Prior to that time, when the Pacific Coast Borax company was operating its mines here at its floor 310 feet below sea level. To the northwest is Mount Whitney, towering two and a half miles in the air.

Phantom of Water. The effect of a great shallow river sweeping through the valley is particularly vivid from Dante's View. This phantom of water in a seared and terrible land lured hundreds to death in the early days of California. The river, in reality, is a white sweep of borax and salt.

The cliffs of the Panamints to the west and the Funeral range to the east are particularly eroded, and of vivid hues of red, gold and gray.

Water does exist on the valley floor, but it is salt water, peculiar pools like volcanic eruptions in the rugged, snow-like salt sink. This salt is known to extend to a depth of 1,000 feet, which is as far as it has been tested.

Water for Ryan is brought in by narrow-gauge tank trains daily, hauled a distance of 20 miles. At Furnace Creek Inn, a pipe line brings pure water down from a hidden spring in the Funeral range. Part of this water is used for a luxurious open-air swimming pool, the overflow of which is flumed a mile farther to irrigate Furnace Creek ranch.

WANTS PENSION AT 110. CAPETOWN, March 28.—John Abrams, an African native, has just applied for his old-age pension. There is nothing extraordinary in that except that John claims to be 110 years old, and is believed to be the oldest applicant for such relief. He was emancipated from slavery by the Act of 1864.

Death Valley itself, at this time of the year, is almost past description. There is, perhaps, nothing in the world quite like it.

From Dante's View, a precipitous cliff in the Funeral Mountains a half dozen miles from here, the highest and lowest points in the western hemisphere are visible.

Death Valley lies a mile directly below, years in the heat waves.

REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF GOD STARTS SUNDAY

Rev. C. H. Featherston of Decatur, Illinois, will conduct a two weeks revival at the Church of God, corner 2nd avenue and beginning Sunday night, March 31. Rev. Mr. Featherston has had many years experience in evangelistic work, is an exceptionally speaker and is well prepared for the spiritual labors he is undertaking in Cisco.

Old time revival spirit, inspiring congregational singing, and preaching of the old time gospel of full salvation from sin will characterize this meeting and everybody is cordially invited. Rev. John B. Bortolotti announced.

Considering that they have no prohibition to vex them, it does seem that the Mexicans are very dissatisfied with their country.

DIRECTORS OF C. OF C. HEAR AIRPORT NEEDS

Due to the possibilities for concentration of mail at Cisco there is an excellent chance that Cisco will be made one of the few ports on the Dallas to El Paso line of the Texas Air Transport provided the proper air field facilities can be provided here. Silliman Evans, vice president of the T. A. T., told a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening here. Mr. Evans pointed out that the present field is regarded as inadequate by his company. He was assured by the board and by Mayor J. M. Williamson, who was present, that if the present facilities could not be made adequate, a satisfactory site would be secured elsewhere.

On a motion by F. E. Harrell the aviation committee, of which P. P. Shepard is chairman, was given authority to take whatever steps may be deemed necessary to provide satisfactory facilities in that connection.

Guay Dabney reported upon several conferences which have been held in behalf of the chamber of commerce with the operating officials of the T. A. T.

J. A. Bearman, of the municipal affairs committee, reported upon the clean up campaign now in progress here stating that the campaign is moving very satisfactorily and that he was pleased with the splendid cooperation that local people are giving.

R. L. Poe, chairman of the agricultural committee, told of the judging contest held under the direction of E. H. Varnell on the R. Q. Lee farm, pointing out the value of the contest to Cisco and the Cisco Country at large.

Arrangements were also made at the meeting for the program to be given in connection with "Stockholders Night" on Friday, April 5, preceding the formal opening of the Leguna hotel on Saturday, April 6.

A report was made by W. W. Wallace, chairman of the highway committee, upon the conference recently held with State Highway Commissioner Ely. The report said that the committee is very much pleased with the fine attitude of the highway commissioner.

Those present at the meeting were: A. D. Anderson, W. J. Armstrong, J. A. Bearman, E. P. Crawford, Guy Dabney, H. S. Drumford, J. T. Elliott, Dr. Charles Hale, P. E. Harrell, W. K. Johnston, R. L. Poe, P. P. Shepard, P. D. Wright, all members of the board, and J. E. T. Peters, secretary, C. E. Yates, Silliman Evans and Mayor J. M. Williamson.

RICE SAVED. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 28.—Senator John L. Rice of El Reno was saved from expulsion from the Oklahoma senate yesterday by a vote of 26 to 15. A motion to expel Rice was made after the El Reno senator failed to substantiate his charges that the Governor Henry S. Johnston impeachment trial was "infamous," and that bribery was attempted to influence votes of senators in the trial.

BOSTON, March 28.—A group of West End residents, including Mendelson, Layden, Brahm, Liszt and Schubert, in their district, should have been named after composers of jazz. The melody of notes created by trucks and wagons passing over the rutty thoroughfares is out of key with the symphonies associated with these music masters, they say in an appeal for smoother streets.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CALLED IN PROBE OF WOMAN'S SLAYING

State Attorney Aroused by Charges that He Is Suppressing Evidence in Killing of Mrs. De King in Raid

AURORA, Ill., March 28.—Investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Lillian De King by raiders who invaded her home looking for liquor, was put up to the state attorney general today.

State's Attorney General George B. Carbery, aroused by the charges of the De King family that he was suppressing evidence and delaying investigation, announced he would call on Attorney General Oscar E. Carleton to take a hand in the investigation and any prosecution that might result.

PREDICT PROHIBITION LAW KILLED.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 28.—After a scathing denunciation of the killing of Mrs. Lillian De King in Aurora by dry raiders, wets in the lower house of the state assembly today predicted the state prohibition law would be wiped off the statute books.

The predictions came after wets and dries had staged a spectacular battle of oratory in the lower house and the wets had forced consideration of a bill that repeals the state dry act. Dries won in committee but the wets, by a vote of 72 to 70, forced adoption of a minority report, thus assuring a vote on the measure.

The Paramount all-talking picture "Interference" will close a 3-days run at the Palace theater tonight. It proved one of the most gripping pictures ever shown in the city, made doubly effective by virtue of the Paramount Quality Sound equipment.

The all-talking version of this Paramount picture impressed the first night audience as lifting the new-found form of screen entertainment from the experimental stage to the lofty peak of technical perfection. There is not a single flaw in the reproducing of the human voice during the showing of the picture. Talking motion pictures have overcome all obstacles with "Indifference," and are now definitely a success.

"Interference" is outstanding not only because of the talking feature, but also due to its exceptional fine cast of players who delighted the audience with convincing and appealing dramatic performances.

There are four principal characters in the drama portrayed by Evelyn Brent, William Powell, Clive Brook and Doris Kenyon, each of whom essays equally important parts in the development of the plot.

Much credit is due Roy J. Pomeroy for the direction of the sound version of "Interference." Mr. Pomeroy has been developing sound motion pictures for the past three years.

DRIVE STARTED AGAINST WINE GRAPE JUICE

DALLAS, March 28.—Federal prohibition agents here launched a crusade against manufacturers of unfermented grape juice offered to the public for the purpose of making wine.

Charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act by selling and transporting grape juice for wine-making.

The offenses charged against the two men come under the new Jones law, which increased the penalty for sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors to a maximum of $5,000 fine or five years in prison—transporting grape juice for wine-making, or both.

making the actual selling and transportation of wine and possession of a quantity of wine were filed against Edward Blanchard and Lyle L. Wright, the former, manager of the Bottling House Supplies company, and the latter a salesman.

The men were released under $1,000 bond by United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith following examining trial. The arrests are the first made in Dallas for engaging in the wine grape juice traffic.
