

Waka Hosts P-TA School

A. president, introduced Mrs. Brian Pruitt, Berger, Tex., District 19 president, who conducted the school.

survey of the P. T. A. goals and explained how the various officers and committee chairmen work within these goals in carrying out the program of the local unit. She said the P. T. WHAT IS THE "COST" OF AN AUTOMOBILE... First of all, it is the "trade difference" or cash you pay between the car you are trading in and the one you are buying. BUT ARE YOU PAYING A LOW TRADE DIFFERENCE WITH A HIGH FINANCE OR INSURANCE CHARGE? Do you compare the finance charges (including life, health and accident) the same way you compare the features of the various cars you are thinking of buying? But are you taking into consideration of cost of being able to get your new car, truck or pickup serviced by capable technicians? This cost is sometimes hidden from sight until you need GOOD warranty adjustment and then you cannot get it done. We invite you to compare all of the costs of trading for your next automobile
WE INVITE COMPARISON OF OUR "COSTS".

About this series:

Publication is being made in The Spearman Reporter of the fourteen proposed amendments to the State Constitution which will be voted on at the November general election. These publications, required by law, were divided between the Gruber Leader and the Reporter. Amendments 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 are being published in this newspaper. Others are being published in the Gruber Leader.

With this issue, and continuing for the next few weeks, the Reporter is beginning a series of articles explaining the amendments, general provisions and arguments for and against each of the 14 proposed amendments so that interested citizens can check the commentary and be better informed.

Some of these amendments are "local amendments" which apply to certain primarily to a particular county. Also included are several amendments which have been voted down in the past, but are back again. These deal with the pension retirement system for state employees, and one that would raise the state welfare spending limit.

During arguments FOR and AGAINST, the Reporter is presenting the arguments most commonly offered by proponents and opponents of each proposal.

funds to meet federal standards. The public welfare provisions of the Texas Constitution originated during the depression years. Amendments to them have been proposed and adopted almost as regularly as the Congress has changed the terms whereby the states become eligible for available federal funds.

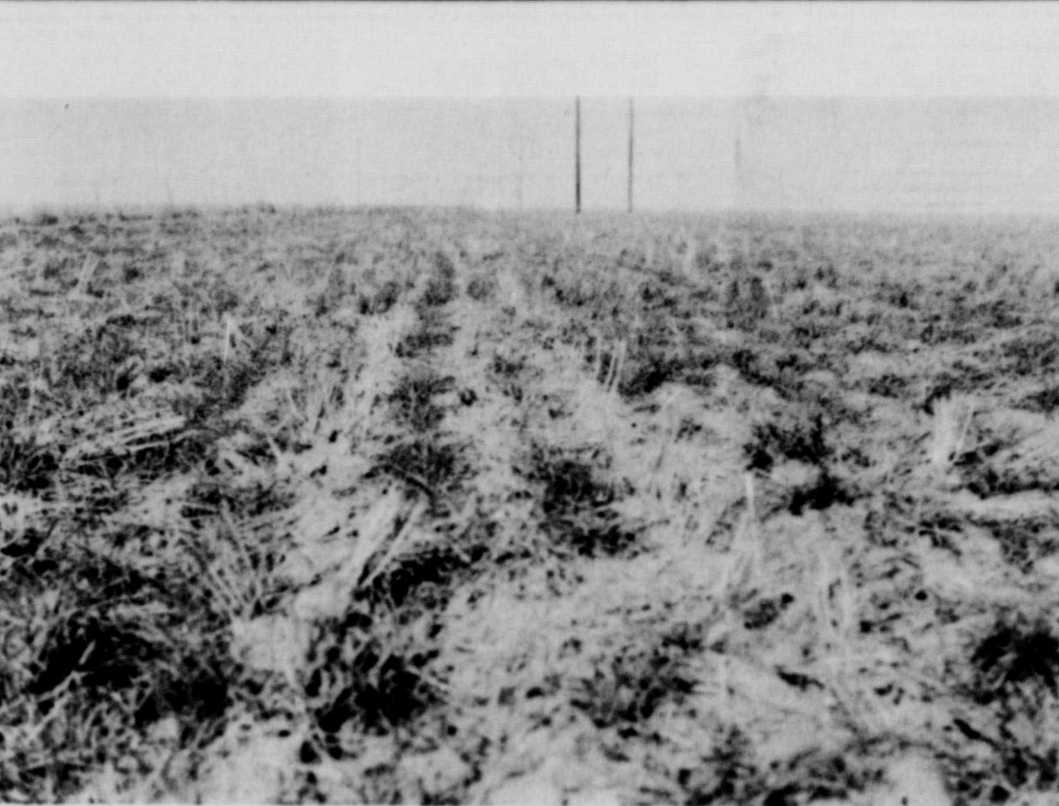

Prior to 1933, public assistance was held by most Texas citizens to be the concern of local government units rather than the responsibility of the central state government. The depression of the 1930s, the shift in Texas from an agrarian to an industrial society and economy, and the influence of federal legislation left to the passage of the first public welfare amendment. This first amendment authorized the state to issue 4 1/2 percent general obligation bonds in the amount of $20,000,000 with proceeds to be used "in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving hardships resulting from unemployment."

In 1935 a new section was added which initiated the policy of providing aid to aged citizens. More sections were added in 1937 and authorized grants to the needy blind and needy children, $35,000,000 was the amount that could be spent out of state funds for public assistance to needy aged, needy blind and needy children. The limit was increased to $42,000,000 in 1954; to $47,000,000 in 1957; to $52,000,000 plus $2,500,000 for permanently and totally disabled in 1962; and in 1963 to $60,000,000 in money payments for all classes of public assistance. This $60,000,000 ceiling would be raised to $75,000,000 by adoption of the proposed amendment No. 2.

ARGUMENTS FOR: The proposed amendment does not make an appropriation but rather allows the legislature greater discretion in meeting the needs of all four classes of welfare recipients (needy aged, needy disabled, needy blind, needy children) in the state by raising the ceiling on the use of state funds for this purpose. Texas consistently has been in the lowest percentiles of the nation with respect to welfare, ranking 50th in administrative cost per recipient for old age assistance, 44th in percent receiving old age assistance, 49th in assistance in aid to dependent children, and 45th in assistance in aid to permanently and totally disabled. Because aid for dependent children allotments are based on a family of four, the higher ceiling provided by the proposed amendment would make it possible for the legislature to have greater discretion in giving budgetary consideration to larger families. Further, the proposed amendment would permit consideration to be given to last year's 4 percent rise in the cost of living in budgeting for all four classes of recipients.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST: The large overall expenditure of state funds which this amendment would authorize would increase each recipient's income only a few dollars a month but would require $15,000,000 in new funds at a time when the state is already hard pressed to meet existing financial obligations. Instead of encouraging dependency on public welfare, the state should begin to draw a line in combatting growing socialism and the welfare state.

STUBBLE MULCHING IN HANSFORD COUNTY

Wheat residues are left on the soil surface for the protection of the soil. Several area farmers participate in this practice. Among these are Glendon Edling, Joe Cox, Joel Stavlo and J. C. Harris.

For the protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water, nothing can take the place of continuous cover of dead or living plants, or both. This is true regardless of location, rainfall, soil or the kind of farming or ranching that goes on. It is especially true for this area on dryland, since the conditions tend toward the dry side.

One method of retaining the dead litter cover is through stubble mulching. Stubble mulching is simply managing residues on a year round basis in which harvesting, tilling, planting, and cultivating operations are performed in such a way to keep protective amounts of vegetative material on the surface of the soil.

This retention of stubble on the soil surface may be accomplished in varying degrees by tillage with various types of equipment. Those most used on the High Plains are sweeps, tandem disk, and one-way plows. Large sweeps are the best for retention of the greatest amount of stubble. Usually about 10% of the stubble is turned under. Close spaced sweeps will turn under around 15% of the stubble, the tandem disk about 25%, and the one-way plow about 50%. Normally a fine textured soil such as found in this area requires around 750 lbs. of residue on drill planted crops and 1000 lbs. of residue on row planted crops. If enough residue is not retained to protect the soil from water and wind erosion, then emergency tillage should be performed.

Wheat residues left on the soil surface through stubble mulching assist the farmer in protecting his soil from wind and water erosion; maintains and improves the physical, chemical, and biological conditions of the soil; improves the intake of rainfall; and reduces the rate of decline of soil organic matter.

THIS WEEK'S NEW MACHINERY NEWS

to the National Implement Dealers Convention in Houston.

His last orders were, "MOVE OUT SOME MACHINERY AND CLEAN UP THE YARD!!" HE is the one who traded for all those used tractors, and HE is the one who ordered all that machinery - would you believe 50 new tractors, 20 new combines, etc. Now WE are to "move" 10 new tractors, 3 new #95 combines that are left! Plus a few used trade ins!

He didn't say a word about price. He didn't even say to make expenses. He just said to MOVE it... So we sure intend to do just that. If you have been wanting a real bargain, come by this week. Or let us bring one out for you to test drive, (if you had rather take a chance and talk to Gene about the price after he gets home). All of here at the Hansford Implement Company know that John Deere makes the best machinery, we know that we were hired to give the best, quickest service possible, and we are going to do our BEST to get that yard cleaned up. We sure need your help to move the machinery

BOAT SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

Safety measures to prevent boating accidents this summer were urged today on the boat users of Hansford County by the Hansford County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The Red Cross is one of 17 organizations sponsoring National Safe Boating Week which begins Sunday, July 2.

"Only about half the nation's 40 million boat users can swim well enough to save their lives if they fall into deep water," said J. B. Cooke, the chapter's chairman of Safety Services. "That is why it is vital that small craft safety rules be carefully observed."

The Red Cross recommends that everyone who uses the water learn to swim," Cooke said. "But beyond this, there are safeguards against trouble that every boat operator and passenger should observe."

Section 1. That Section 11a, Article VII, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 11a. In addition to the bonds enumerated in Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, the Board of Regents of The University of Texas may invest the Permanent University Fund in securities, bonds or other obligations issued, insured, or guaranteed in any manner by the United States Government, or any of its agencies, and in such bonds, debentures, or obligations, and preferred and common stocks issued by corporations, associations, or other institutions as the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System may deem to be proper investments for said funds, provided, however, that not more than one per cent (1%) of said fund shall be invested in the securities of any one (1) corporation, nor shall more than five per cent (5%) of the voting stock of any one (1) corporation be owned; provided, further, that stocks eligible for purchase shall be restricted to stocks of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid dividends for five (5) consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase and which, except for bank stocks and insurance stocks, are listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors."

"In making each and all of such investments said Board of Regents shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital."

"The interest, dividends and other income accruing from the investments of the Permanent University Fund, except the portion thereof which is appropriated by the operation of Section 18 of Article VII for the payment of principal and interest on bonds or notes issued thereunder, shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purposes declared in Section 10 of Article VII of this Constitution."

"This amendment shall be self-enacting, and shall become effective upon its adoption, provided, however, that the Legislature shall provide by law for full disclosure of all details concerning the investments in corporate stocks and bonds and other investments authorized herein."

what do you attribute your long marriage?" The old man answered: "When we were married we made a pact that - would insure harmony. We decided that if we ever became involved in an argument I would leave the house and go for a walk to give us both time to cool down." "So," sighed the elder, "I guess I'd have to attribute my health and longevity to a vigorous outdoor life."

We didn't have very many June weddings. Last year the most popular wedding month was December, maybe it will be so again. However, did you know that statistics prove that fishing is more popular than marriage? Last year 38,530,460 Americans applied for fishing license while only 1,926,523 applied for marriage licenses. This proves that fishing is 20 times more popular than marriage!

I know of many housewives who are glad the Republican convention is over so they can get back to As The World Turns & Days Of Our Lives, etc. I think this will be a long, hot August merely in terms of political verbage. This could be the year of the hotly contested, non-candidate election. Oklahoma radio stations carry a "get out and vote" commercial ever so often. The announcer reminds the listening audience that Texas was admitted to the Union by ONE vote and then quietly adds that this just might have been a mistake!

If you haven't made your reservation yet for the chartered bus trip to Palo Duro Canyon Friday August 16, do so at once. Mrs. Graves at the Baker Hotel informs me that they can add another bus if necessary. I intend to go (and take Eddie Faye & Bessie) for I am sure the bus driver will get us home all in one piece. I can't ever say the same for Billy who goes to sleep immediately after sun down. The bus leaves at 4 p. m., stops in Amarillo for passengers to have dinner, makes a short tour of the canyon before seeing the better-than-ever TEXAS. Plan to go, you'll enjoy it. 36,504 persons have attended "TEXAS" in the first 6 weeks of the show.

1 bottle (12 oz.) ginger ale, chilled (optional)
In large pitcher, combine tea and sugar, stir until sugar dissolves. Add remaining ingredients and stir briskly. Makes 1-1 1/4 quarts.

Fresh Lemon Strawberry Julep
1 qt. (2 boxes) fresh strawberries
2 c. freshly squeezed lemon juice, chilled
3 c. unsifted confectioner's sugar
2 c. orange juice, chilled
1 bottle (25 oz.) sparkling water, chilled orange cartwheels, cut in quarters, fresh mint leaves.

Wash and stem berries; slice enough berries to yield 1/2 c. and set aside. Mash remaining berries in large bowl. Add 2-3 T lemon juice to confectioner's sugar, stirring until sugar is dissolved and mixture is smooth; add more lemon juice as needed.
Stir sugar mixture into mashed berries, let stand in refrigerator at least 30 minutes. When ready to serve, stir in remaining lemon and orange juice; pour over block of ice in punch bowl along with sparkling water. Add sliced strawberries, orange pieces and fresh mint for garnish. May also be combined as directed in large pitcher and poured into tall ice-filled glasses to yield 8-10 servings. Makes about 2 1/4 quarts.

Double Trouble

Paul Eggers has a surprise to add to this political year of the unexpected. Eggers is the Republican candidate for governor and he plans some "double trouble" for his opponent, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Monday evening from Walla Walla, Washington, Arthur (Art) Eggers will arrive on the Texas scene for several campaign appearances with Paul. The two will meet in Dallas at the airport and proceed to Wichita Falls Monday night.

This is "double trouble" for his opponent? Yes, Art is Paul's identical twin. He concedes he may be a "little" heavier, but he says this is because he hasn't been campaigning like Paul.

Paul has, in fact, been campaigning long and hard. Since the Republican State Convention in June, Paul has visited more than 100 cities on a bus tour.

After a brief timeout for business at the for business at the National Convention this week, Paul will get together with Art in Paul's hometown, Wichita Falls, then it's back on the campaign trail.

On Tuesday, the Eggers duo will "blitz" Iowa Park, Electra, Vernon, Chillicothe, Quanah, and Childress. Voters in these Northwest Texas cities have been "warned" in advance, through their newspapers, to expect Paul to show up with his look-alike brother.

RC SWIMMING BOOKLET AVAILABLE
"Teaching Johnny To Swim", a Red Cross manual written especially for parents, is available to the public this week from County Red Cross executive secretary Mrs. Leona King.

The manual gives easy, step-by-step illustrations on how to teach your child to swim.

The booklet also includes many lifesaving hints and describes the art of giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

If you desire one of these booklets (price 25¢) contact Mrs. King or Mrs. Patty Sheppard.

Last in a series on Home Freezing--FREEZING PREPARED FOODS

During hot summer months, it is easier to open the freezer door for baked goodies or casseroles than to spend hours in the kitchen. Freezing is the only method to preserve many of these baked or cooked goods.

Mrs. Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist, says to cook most breads, cakes and pies before freezing. Cool them and wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material.

Use standard recipes for breads and cakes. For quick breads use double-acton baking powder. Biscuits and muffins are better frozen uncooked. Bran muffins, fruit and nut breads are better if baked before freezing.

You may freeze bread and rolls baked or unbaked. Use a recipe with a fairly large amount of fat and sugar. Baked products may be stored as long as 9-12 months. If you want to freeze dough, allow it to rise until double in bulk. Doughs shaped before freezing may be inferior, even when stored only two weeks.

Pre-baked cakes containing fat may dry out slightly after two months, and after four months, flavor changes may be expected. Use pure extracts as imitations may produce off-flavors. Angel food, yellow sponge, chiffon and fruit cakes baked before freezing will keep up to a year. Uncooked confectioners sugar frostings freeze best. Boiled and other soft frostings containing egg whites and cream fillings are not suitable for freezing.

Fruit, vegetable and chiffon pies freeze successfully. Fruit pies may be frozen either before or after baking. Crust is more tender and flaky and flavor fresher when the pies are frozen before baking. The specialist advises against freezing lattice top pies. Don't cut steam vents in top crusts of frozen unbaked pies until they have been removed from the freezer.

In using the freezer, here are some suggestions about making combination dishes better.

1. Do not overcook foods that are to be heated before serving are best if only partially cooked; meat should be tender but still firm, vegetables slightly underdone.
2. Use as little fat as possible in gravies and sauces. Fats have a tendency to separate, but if used in smaller proportions, they will combine when heated.
3. Fried foods are apt to become rancid after one to two months of storage.
4. Use seasonings sparingly as some of them change during storage. Pepper gets stronger. Cloves may become stronger and discolor frozen fillings.
5. Garlic becomes stronger during storage and onions gradually lose flavor. Green peppers, sage and pimientos increase in strength.
6. It is important to cool cooked foods promptly to prevent continued cooking. Foods lose flavor rapidly when held at high temperatures. And warm foods invite bacteria growth.
7. After cooling, package in moisture-vapor-resistant material immediately. Pack as many types of cooked foods as will fit as possible to avoid air spaces in the containers.

8. Enhance the flavor of meat, poultry, seafoods, pre-cooked foods and vegetables with monosodium glutamate (MSG).
9. Casserole dishes containing macaroni, spaghetti, noodles or rice may be frozen.
10. To serve, bake in 350 degree F. oven for 40-60 minutes. You can move the baking dish directly from the freezer to the oven with little danger of breakage.
11. You can freeze almost any type of creamed dish except those containing hardcooked egg whites. Avoid overcooking and cool rapidly in pan of ice water. Don't store longer than two to four months.

Packaged prepared foods amounts suitable for serving. You may safely freeze frozen foods that have been thawed if they still contain crystals. Thawed foods spoil faster than fresh foods.

Thawing and refreezing lower the eating quality of some foods, says the specialist, particularly fruits, vegetables and prepared foods.
