Ray is holding the peas

for my inspection and, you can take it from me podner, these peas are the real pot poppers. The original seeds were brought to this part of the country around lived North of Waka in the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Ray says they look a little like black eyes or chick peas but that's what they aint. He says they are yard peas and I'll testify to the fact that they do measure about sixteen inches in length. He planted them in rows but Ray believes they would climb on a fence. He says they can be snapped before maturity or shelled, in their present state. They look good enough to eat and that's the pea pickin truth.

HARPER "CLOSE TO WINNER" IN USGA JUNIOR TOURNAMENT

Tony Harper returned the past week end from a very exciting week in Spokane, Washington where he played in the USGA National Junio Tournament which concluded Saturday.
Tony, 16-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E.

Harper of Spearman, qualified for the National tournament by winning the Amateur championship tourna-ment at Lubbock.

Tony suffered from too much excitement and tension the first day and "played a real poor round" with penalties for four outof-bound shots. He came in with an 87 for his first 18 holes, but improved with a 76 his second round of play. Harper said he missed the cut off by 5 strokes.

"We played lots of golf" the Spearman youth said, "and I met lots of boys who were very different from Texans in general, and Spearmanites in particular.' Tony said that one day he got to play on what is sup-posed to be the finest municipal course in the United States.

Young Harper's room mate, a boy from San Diego, won the tournament. "Although I didn't win, I was real close to the winner," Harper said.

Buddy King, a former Spearman resident, who resides near Spokane, came to the tournament to watch Tony play. Harper said he was real glad to have a friend in that huge crowd of people.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rhode was her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Bowers and children of Pasadena, Texas. While they were in Spearman visiting, the two families went to Chama, New Mexico and did some fishing. They reported a very good catch. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gene Rhodes and son Michael of Irving, Texa were also recent visitors in the home of his parents.

Mrs. C. L. Foshee, mother of Darce Foshee, is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Mrs. Foshee is now improving after being very ill for some time. Mrs. Jim Neely returned

BAPTIST SOUL BROTHERS WIN ANOTHER ONE

The Baptists "Soul Brothers' pulled another one out of the fire at the local Little League Park Tuesday night, as they potted the "Shouting Methodists" 11 runs, and behind the fine pitching of B.J. Grayson, and Bill Douglas rallied late in the game, to win 18-16, on a home run by the "King of Swat" Lawton "long-ball" Guthrie. The King came up to bat late in the 7th inning, with the score tied 16-16. The Baptists had one man on pase, and the King had a full count (2 strikes, 3 balls), when he connected with one of Sid Beck's famous curve ball pitches, and knocked a home-run for the Baptists to win the game. A Methodist pep squad with pep cheerleaders Mrs. P. A. Lyon, and Jane Meek kept the Methodists all pepped up for the game. Drum majors P. A. Lyon, Sr. and George Buzzard, also cheered for the losers.

But, as in the past, the Baptists, who are always spotting their opponents from 6 to 11 points before they start hitting the ball, came through when it counted! But, this was truly a miracle, and the Soul Brothers" all admit that they had to have help from a mighty strong source to overcome the "Shouting Methodists" Tuesday night.

Another important game will be played at the local ball diamond Thursday night. The Church of Christ and The First Christian Church will meet in a survival game for the winner!

The First Christian team is led by Bill Jackson, Don Smith, and Dr. Gregg. The Church of Christ team is a dark-horse, and since Gordon "home run" Parrish was injured in their opening game, the Church of Christ has had a hard time fielding a team. However, it is understood that Jim Evans is back in shape, and ready for the big game this Thursday.

It's sure been hot.

And that means I've been working extra hard for you.

This summer has been the hottest in recent years. A real scorcher. And it sure has kept me humpin'

I've been on the job around the clock keeping folks cool with air conditioners, fans and evaporative coolers. I've had to work longer and harder keeping foods fresh in electric refrigerators and making extra ice cubes and cold drinks. And, there have been more loads of soiled clothes to wash and dry. All this in addition to the usual ways I serve you every day.

So when you look at your electric service bill, remember all the extra hours I worked. I'm still your lowest-cost servant and the more hours I work, the less I cost per hour.

Let Me See ... by Sysil

Chief of Police Leland Wood said July accidents in Spearman were the lowest number on record as far as he knew. Only 5 auto accidents were investigated, and one of these involved HIM. The chief's car was rammed from the rear by a truck and he received back injuries. Since the Doc wouldn't let him work for a couple of weeks, he and his family went on a vacation. Leland said he pulled his boat over 000 miles and never put it in the water. He returned home over a weekend so he and his son fished at Lake Pryer. Leland caught a 21 lb. bass with worms! You've heard the old saying "right in your own back yard. ".... Look for repercusions from Tuesday's election. No. 1 on the ballot would repeal 52 sections of the Constitution as obsolete or superfluous. This seemed to be a good thing until the Attorney General expressed fear that some of the deletions would unsettle land titles (those backed up by old Spanish and Mexican titles, land grants to railroads, land certificates, etc.) It was not possible to leave those untouched; it was the "whole package or none."

Does it strike you as being a little weird that satellite-borne "sensors" (powerful cameras and infrared sensing devices) are now operating miles high in space, and can pick out people walking on earth bound streets, spot specially marked automobiles on expressways, and even find pools of water 50 feet underground? You can be sure SOMETHING up there is watching!

The following bit of exaggerated sermonizing has been around before, and perhaps you've already seen it. It is still amusing, especially for parents. The author, so far as we have been able to determine, wishes to remain anonymous---perhaps to preserve peace in his own family:

There's nothing sadder than a childless couple. It breaks your heart to see them stretched out, relaxing around swimming pools in Florida, sitting all suntanned and miserable on the decks of their yachts, trotting off to Europe like lonesome fools. It's an empty life with nothing but money and time.

The poor childless couple can't fight over a child's nauseous characteristics, and they miss all the fun of doing without for the child's sake.

They go along from day to day, doing only what they want, buying only what they want, and liking only each other. It's a pretty pathetic picture.

Everyone should have children. No one should be allowed to escape the wonderful experiences attached to each stage of development of their young. Oh those happy memories! Wide-awake nights, coughing spells, dirty diapers, saturated mattresses, spilled food, tantrums, dippy baby sitters, debts, emer-gencies and frequent crises. Then comes the real fulfilment as the child starting as a little acorn, grows into a real nut. The wonder of watching your over-weight ballerina in a baggy leotard. The warm smile of the young lad with the sun glittering on $500 worth of dental braces, just before he chomps into the peanut brittle.

How dismally vacant is the peaceful home without the constant childish problems which make for a well-rounded adult life and an early breakdown. Just think of those report cards giving proof that your progeny are among the most mentally retarded! And those evenings around the fireplace giving evidence that the family which roasts marshmallows together will stick together.

What a feeling of reward the first time you take the boy hunting. He didn't really mean to shoot you in the leg. He was excited. Remember how he cried? Especially after you hit him? These are moments that a man treasures, captured forever in the heart-and limp-somewhat akin to the feeling of pride you got when the son who seemed to be all bad arrived home early after getting two years off for good behavior.

what childless couple could ever share the stark drama of romantic adventure with no beautiful daughter to elope with the unwashed flower-child with a satchel full of LSD? Could a woman without children touch the strength and heroism of your wife as she tries to fling herself in front of a speeding truck? Only a father would have the stature to stand by, ready and resolute to jump after her.

Poor childless couples---simply not realizing how engulfed they are with terrifying emptiness, with nothing to fill the void but golf, swimming, dinner and dancing, weekends in Acapulco, winters in Nassau, summers in Tahiti!

All you have to do is look at them to see what the years have done to them. He looks boyish, unlined, and rested. She is slim, well groomed, and youthful. It just isn't natural. If they had kids they would look like the rest of us---tired, gray, wrinkled and sagging.

wedding service was an archway garlanded with greenery and tropicana roses which accented the beautiful stained glassed window centered high in the front of the sanctuary. Votivelighted candelabra further enhanced the setting.

Spiral candelabra entwined with greenery and set with apricot tapers flanked either side of the bridal altar which was swagged with white satin roping. Floral bouquets of white gladiola, apricot chrysanthemums and large Boston ferns were used. Apricot satin bows and chrysanthemums marked the aisleway which was laid with a white aisle carpet.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over taffeta and Alencan lace. It was designed on Victorian lines with closely fitted neckline and empire bodice with a scalloped waistline. Her full organza sleeves were caught at the wrist by a deep Alencon lace cuff. The A-line skirt swept to back fullness and cascaded into a full Chapel train. Her matching coif of lace appliqued with seed pearls held her tier veil of silk illusion with lace appliques and a hand-rolled edge. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white roses centered with a white orchid. English Ivy and white satin streamers tied in lover's knots fell from her bouquet.

Attendants of the bride were Miss Debra Largent, Spearman, who served as Maid of Honor, and Mrs. Gary Jacobs, Dallas, Texas, Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Jones, Spearman; Miss Pat Wright, Springfield, N.Y.; Mrs. Gary Wiggins, Keyes, Oklahoma. Holee Reed of Spearman served as flower

They wore floor length dresses of apricot silk organza over satin trimmed in white lace. Their headpieces were caps of apricot silk organza over satin with short veils of illusion. They each carried cascade arrangements of mist green fugii mums and tropicana roses accented with English Ivy and velvet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sanders chose a beige silk A-line dress, matching whimsey and gloves and misty bronze shoes and bag. The groom's mother wore a light apricot A-line dress. matching whimsey, white gloves with slate gray shoes and bag. Both mothers wore corsages fashioned of English Ivy and cymbidium orchids. Grandmothers were honored with yellow mum corsages for the occasion.

Guests were greeted at a reception in the fellowship hall at the church where the bride's table was draped in white organza with bridal satin appliques. At the center and at either end the cloth was caught with white satin swags and bouffant bows. Two three-branched silver candelabra and a silver punch bowl adorned the table which was centered with the regal four-tiered wedding cake. Emphasizing the bride's chosen colors of apricot and white, the cake held delicately molded gar-lands of rose buds, orchids and calla lilies nesting on tiers. Topping the cake was an icing masterpiece of wedding bells and posies centered by a sparkling jeweler's box opened to reveal two wedding rings. Flanking the serving table were seven branched candelabra holding apricot tapers. Hostesses at the reception included Karen Baggerly, Bonnie Vernon, Marilyn Blodgett, Myrna Crum, all of Spearman. Sue Crawford of Gruver registered guests.

REBECCA HUTCHISON AT ROTARY By Chet Wise

The Spearman Rotary Club was honored to have Rebecca Hutchison as guest speaker for their Monday Luncheon. Rebecca gave an informative talk about her work in 4-H and told of the great rewards in that field of activity for herself as well as older people. One of the highlights of her talk was the narration of her 4-H trip to Washington. She said she was deeply impressed with the Lincoln Memorial. Other points of interest were: the tomb of the Unknown Soldier with the colorful changing of the guard, a visit to the Kennedy burial place,

House and other points of

One of the outstanding descriptions was her visit to the Senate dining room. Rebecca said they had a table reserved for the meal but, when they reached the entrance, they were told they would have to wait for a table. The reason for the delay was explained to her by Senator Yarborough. When a Senior Senator enters the dining room and sits down at a table, he takes precedence over anyone else and Senator Dirkson had just seated himself at her table.

Rebecca said they just stood and watched the Senator eat until he was through. She said Yarborough waved to Dirkson as he left the room and introduced him to his 4-H friends.

The boys in the group asked for the Senators autograph which he preceeded to pro-

She said Dirkson remarked that he couln't sign autographs for pretty girls unless he kissed them first. This he proceeded to do.

She gave a vivid description of the western atmosphere in the decor of the office of Congressman Bob Price and expressed gratitude for his attentions to her group.

She paid special tribute to Penzoil United incorporated who have been sponsoring 4-H activities in her field of activity for over twenty years in the State of Texas and for twenty two years in three other states. She also expressed graticontributions, both financial and otherwise, that made her work in 4-H possible. The Rotarians were appro-
