Owens was a member of Lions Club (officer), Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club in Jacksboro...

He was chairman for four years of the Cripple Children Easter Seals. During the 1969 year the football team was the leader in the entire state for class "AA" Schools...

Owens spent eleven years working in the First Baptist Church of Jacksboro either as teacher or Superintendent of a department.

He was voted the class "AA" coach of the year one season, and was one of the nominees from Region 11 for the All Star coach at the Texas H.S. Coaches Association.

Owens has coached 11 all state football players. Two of these players are playing pro football at this time. Approximately 40 of his football players have received scholarships in college in football.

Owens philosophy of coaching football is: "To have a well conditioned team knowing fundamentals taught to make as few mistakes as possible. To also have a good program down through all grades teaching pride and desire."

County Civil Defense Men Watch Weather

This newspaper has received requests from local citizens for a list of names of the men who work with the Weather Watch and are doing such a good job of keeping Hansford County citizens informed during the storm alerts.

The County Civil Defense network has only recently been organized and has as its director, County Judge Johnnie C. Lee.

Others include Leroy Mitchell, FM Radio Communications Director for Hansford County, along with Sonny Riley and Don Gross, all from Gruver. Riley and Gross are observers.

From Spearman is John Wilde-County Civil Defense Coordinator; Jim Fowler, observer.

These men all have FM radios in their pickups, and relay messages into Mr. Coy Palmer, Spearman Radio dispatcher.

County Civil Defense equipment includes a receiver in Spearman, purchased by City, and one in Gruver which was purchased by that City.

The county purchased the emergency power unit, which had to be placed in action when the electricity went off here during the tornado watch last week. Then there is the Communications Mobile Bus, purchased by the County Civil Defense unit, which houses equipment allowing the network to talk anywhere in the world.

Director Judge Lee said along with the Civil Defense network, other weather-watch observers included all members of the Hansford County Sheriff's department and members of the Spearman Police force.

Judge Lee said in the very near future, the County CD unit plans to organize a Citizens band network--this includes everyone with either a mobile or a base unit. Judge Lee would appreciate it if all who have one of these units would call and list them with him.

Evans, who had been indicted by the Grand Jury in the spring term of District Court, had been a fugitive until last week when Sheriff Cooke picked him up in Kansas. Evans was charged with forgery of a check on D.V. Bayless of Gruver.

He was given a 3-year probation and will soon be released to the U.S. Marine Corps for discipline. Evans has been A.W.O.L. from the San Diego Marine base since October, 1969.

Sharp Rise In Use Electricity Locally

In what shape will Hansford County be this summer with respect to its electric power needs? Will the local area be faced with the power shortages that are in prospect in many sections of the country?

The situation is so critical, nationally, that President Nixon called his cabinet into special session recently to devise steps that might be taken to ease the expected summer crisis and to discuss ways and means to provide for the steadily rising demand for electricity.

The demand doubles in the United States every 10 years or so, the Federal Power Commission's figures show.

In the area embracing Hansford County, residential consumption alone rose about 50 percent in just 5 years.

Despite the efforts made by most utility companies in the country to add new generating units to cope with this rapidly expanding demand, they have been unable to keep abreast. It takes a long time and a big investment to build new power facilities.

As a result, according to John A. Carver, Jr., of the Federal Power Commission, "a crisis exists right now. For the next three decades we will be in a race for our lives to meet our energy needs."

In Hansford County, the amount of current required for residential consumption has jumped because of the great increase in the number of electrical appliances that have come into use in recent years.

In Hansford County, the amount of current required for residential consumption has jumped because of the great increase in the number of electrical appliances that have come into use in recent years.

In a period of five years the rise in the local area was from 10,000,000 kilowatt hours annually to a high of approximately 15,000,000 kilowatt hours. Per household, the average went from 4,995 to 7,574.

The figures are exclusive of the amount required for commercial, industrial and municipal purposes.

Shortages are expected to occur this summer in many parts of the country. Voltage drops may affect TV reception, air conditioners, electric razors, elevators, X-ray machines and other equipment.

Ray Lackey reported to Sheriff Cooke this week the theft of 3 lawn mower motors. Lackey resides on South Roll and Street.

Court Suit Contends Women's Vote Denied

PERRYTON, TEXAS...

Denial of women the right to vote is alleged in a petition due to be filed in 84th judicial court here seeking to void the May 11 wheat referendum conducted by Texas Wheat Producers Association.

W. H. "Bill" Lance, Perryton mayor, farmer and seed processor, is plaintiff in the suit, with the producers association as the defendant.

The petition also alleges general laxity in the conduct of the election, both in absentee voting and in personal voting, and that persons who were not legitimately producers were allowed to cast ballots.

Under the terms of the wheat vote, authorized by the Texas Commodity Act of 1969, producers in a 34-county area of Texas will be taxed one-half cent per bushel of wheat for a research and promotion program.

The program would be administered by a board which was elected at the same time as the referendum.

According to the Texas Farm Bureau newsletter, only eight percent of the 18,000 eligible producers voted in the May 11 balloting, with 1,440 votes counted.

Count released by the Texas Wheat Producers Association Amarillo office showed 966 votes for in favor, and 474 against, giving 67.08 percent in favor, just barely above the two-thirds majority necessary.

Lance said that a switch of six votes would defeat the proposed program.

Enumerated reasons for voiding the election as listed in the petition include: That a substantial number of the ballots cast in the election were not completed as to the volume of production for the relevant period.

That substantial numbers of absentee ballots were handed out indiscriminately, and voters were not required to execute affidavits that they would be absent on the day of the election.

That conduct of the election was, as a whole, exceedingly lax. That a substantial number of ballots cast were not cast by producers under the provisions of appropriate statutes.

That on a substantial number of ballots cast, producers overstated their volume of production by more than ten percent, in violation of statutes.

That rules and regulations given by the Commissioner of Agriculture (John C. White) contained a provision that no married female would be eligible to vote in the election unless she was a producer in her own right.

That because of such ruling, substantial numbers of women holding community property interests in wheat production were not allowed to vote.

The petition further alleges that ballots were not numbered, unused ballots were not preserved, and no record was maintained of names of persons to whom absentee ballots were distributed.

Plaintiff Lance asks that the election be declared void, and that the court order immediate impoundment of all records of the election for inspection by plaintiff and his attorneys.

Pro Shop To Be Constructed At Golf Course

The Hansford Golf Club members voted unanimously to build a new $15,000 pro shop, to be constructed just next to the putting green at the local course. The contract for the new pro shop was given to a Lubbock RediBuilt Home Company, which was the low bid. Construction will be brick veneer with a hip roof. The building will be 24 ft. wide by 50 ft. long and will have showers, restrooms, locker space etc. and will add a great deal of class to the local course.

The country club land, located just South of the present 9 hole course, is still available for another 9 hole course, but no action was taken on putting in another 9 holes, although it might be a fine investment for the county and city to look at for future growth in the area.

The Hansford Club had a total of 115 players at their tri-state tourney Sunday, and this was almost double what most of the tournaments have been having. Gruver, Spearman and Morse residents have really been "using" this golf course. And, it is about the only place in the county that we have for recreation. In fact, it is the only, other than the swimming pools for the kiddies.

President Mickey Owens conducted the meeting Monday night and a total of 31 members were present. Rules changes were discussed along with other business.

Me See

ters to the newspaper. Every other paper I pick up have them and they make great reader interest columns.

If Billy or I ever fail to say anything in our columns you can take issue with, maybe you can find something in Terry William's "Guidelines" columns. He is the new pastor at Fellowship Baptist Church. Soon as Terry moved to town he stopped by the news office to ask if he could write one each week. We were thrilled to death that he wanted to. When he asked if there had been any comments we were quick to tell him he would never hear from the ones who were pleased with it. But he seems to be an energetic, on-the-ball young man with the capacity for acting, and I'm sure he could handle most any situation. So, if you read his column, let him know it.

OFTEN TIMES we have calls from people wanting to know how much it costs to put a news item in the paper. This always sorta throws me... but I guess newspaper people take for granted that everyone knows news items are what we want, and need. There is no charge for anything in the paper, except advertisements.

Please, please turn in your news to us. Call the newspaper office and report your parties, visits, vacation trips, and who you had as house guests. We want it, and others like to read about goings-on. This helps us so much, and its what makes our newspaper. If we don't know about it, we can't print it. Nelva White is helping us out with calling for club reports now, but if she isn't at home when you call, give us a ring at phone 3434.

ANOTHER bit of excitement for me last week was when I acquired a very old grandmother's clock. I got this at Spearman jewelry because my name was drawn for the jackpot. First thing I ever won in my entire life. Mr. Hickerson had rejuvenated the old antique and I chose it for my merchandise gift. I'm real proud of it. It has the most beautiful chimes. I suppose Mr. Hickerson has the best reputation as a clock and watch repairman as any jeweler in the Panhandle. Don't hesitate to take your old clock to him he does a top-notch job.

I've worked for two weeks on refinishing an old kitchen cupboard. I'm convinced there is nothing more time consuming and back-breaking work than taking off old paint and varnish. I am surprised at myself for tackling the job. I swore years ago I would never do it again. But this was a piece I had always wanted... and it was in such good repair, etc. Anyway, I'm nearly through with it and the cupboard is going to be beautiful. Course I don't have any place to put it... but I guarantee if I decide to sell it, the price will be high. Noticed an ad in my antique trader this week where this stripping company can have your piece of furniture stripped of all its many coats of paint, clean and ready to re-finish in exactly 12 seconds! Knowing what I do know, I would have hauled it to Georgia and back to get it stripped in 12 seconds.

Read the following "Prayer For a Friend" in my church bulletin Sunday, and I'd like to pass it on:

"Give me this day, good Lord, a plain-spoken friend. For the good of my soul, let me smart under his honest criticism. Let him not soothe me with the honeyed phrases, which are casual friendship's common currency. Let him be a mirror to my faults, that I may see myself as the world sees me. Let him describe the errors of my way with firm yet kind frankness. And having revealed my errors, may he continue to love and respect me as before. Give me this day this friend, and I shall face the world unashamed and unafraid."

Mr. and Mrs. O.E. Hext are new Spearman residents. They moved here this week from Mose, where they had lived the past 5 years. Mr. Hext has been employed by Hansford Feed Yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bresina of Denver, Colorado have been visiting in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Riley. Mrs. Bresina is the former Ruth Riley.

MR. AND MRS. LELAND K. WOOD were installed as Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron for the Order of Eastern Star.

LETTERS from READERS

Dear Mr. Editor: In your paper dated May 13, 1971, you stated that a group of so called sports fans and quarterbacks met with our local school board in support of Mr. Collier Huffman. I was one of the strong supporters of Mr. Huffman and the issue that was brought up. You complimented the sports fans on their conduct at this meeting, which I am proud of. I am also proud of the decision the board made on this issue. One board member told us that no group or individual was running our school system, which I was also glad to hear, but Mr. Editor, he also said that any coach that came to Spearman already had two strikes against him. What are the two strikes? You, Mr. Editor then wrote your article about some went to the football games only to get drunk and yell at the coaches. In the twelve or thirteen years that I have attended the football games, I have not seen more than two people drunk at the games. How many have you seen? Was Mr. Huffman scared of these? Or Mr. Editor, could it have been that he read your article in the paper after he visited our city; or suppose may have heard the loose tongue talks about a "Cotton Sack Coach" making football players out of "Cadillac" boys; or could it have been the loose tongue talk of our boys being so bad that no coach would come to Spearman; or could it have been the rumor that our boys just aren't interested? Who started that one?

There were only three adults in there with Mr. Huffman and these so called "Cadillac" boys and the "Cotton Sack Coach". The first I heard came from our school system, and where did this individual get this loose tongue talk? Mr. Editor, regardless of your feelings or other individuals, I think and firmly believe we have the best group of kids in the state in Texas. Full of mischief? Yes! Meanness? No! But Mr. Editor you along with the other ones, look back, can't you remember being a teenager at one time? I am sure that all could not have been "Angels" at all times.

On June 9, 1971, Mrs. Miller stated that the reason for the "Cotton Sack Coach" not coming to Spearman was possibly the lack of interest that our children have, could that have been caused from your many years of write-ups on "The Hinxing Lynx;" or Mr. Editor could it have been caused somewhere between their years from Junior High to the "Hinxing Lynx" period? Also, the June 9, 1971, issue brought up people not supporting our Little League Program. We never seemed to get much help from you or your paper until this year. I, Mr. Editor, with many others have supported this program for a number of years. This Mr. Editor is where I have gotten to know some of these fine youths that you have stated were disinterested or "Cadillac Football Players."

Sincerely, Bobbie J. Grayson P.S. Mr. Editor, I will give the first $100.00 to build a six-foot chain link fence to keep your so called "Dunks," "Quarterback Daddies," and the handful of sports fans from hurting your so called "Cotton Sack Coach." Will you, Mr. Editor give the second $100.00? If so, let's build the fence so that you might be able to ride it and keep one leg on each side.

Dear Ed., A word in defense of Sybil, although I strongly suspect she can defend herself pretty good. Most people realized, I think, that she was making light of the current hysteria over ecology and pollution. Her attitude reflects the untimely feeling of most people these days, concerning this hysteria. Much more often than not in times past, the intuition of the mass of ordinary people has proven wiser than the considered opinion of experts, when projection into the future was required. This is why democracy, which is government by a host of amateurs, is a better form of government (faults and all), than totalitarianism, which is government by a few professionals, or experts. Expert opinion has its place, when it deals with specialized facts, but not when it enters into the realm of conjecture. I do think you are to be commended for opening the columns of your paper to young people as they practice the skills they are learning. And stay right in there, Sybil! --I enjoy your column mucho. Chalmers Porter

DEAR EDITOR

APPRECIATION NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF SPEARMAN

After 25 years of working for and with the thoughtful people of Spearman, I must of now study and go to work for myself. It has been a delightful and educational long-long trip. On that morning in the old "Corner Drug Store" (over a coke) The Mayor and a continuum of citizens hired a bewildered Ex G.I. Joe Sergeant. I am he.

There were many facets of duty. One was that of trouble shooter. It seems as though, that my having been in anti-aircraft, G-2, and General Mac Arthur's Hq. In Personnel had, had something to do with my being hired. In fifteen years Spearman grew from about 1,000 population to over 3,500. We all worked long hours, and got Spearman out of debt (caused by a previous legendmain act). My first thirteen years with Spearman The Flapper, I did not take one vacation, nor did I require the half-time over pay for myself. I let it "ride", so that in the event I had to be off work in care of mother, my time was paid up. Fortunately, I did not have to use the time off.

I really appreciate the honor of my work with Mayor and ex-Mayor Bruce Sheets. My "Court-House" trouble shooting is of an experience to remember. Also, as Ex-Mayor, his seven laconic words of authority, saved the City of Spearman $50,000 to $150,000. The pride of my joy over the many, many years... are that of the youth of Spearman. They are something wonderful to behold!

Also, to the youth of Spearman; know your insurance man. When one insurance co. I had, changed hands. I lost my $233.00 cash deposit in the company. And now my last duty as a trouble shooter for the City of Spearman: The sediment tank for sewage effluent in the dumpground is 22 feet deep and uncovered. I admonish the city of Spearman to cover at once. About one hours' work. Children use it to test sticks in. If one should fall in... he will be gone forever. So will the reputation of Spearman. Also, a $250,000 lawsuit could be a follow up.

And as I muse over my 25 year separation check of $257.72... and if that is a criterion depicting the financial status of the city of Spearman... my admonition should be complied with. What do you think? Sincerely, Ernest M. Newcomb Wayne Hines (right) receives watch for 25 years' service...

Northern Nat. Honors Wayne Hines For 25 Years Service

Wayne Hines, district manager for the Northern National Gas Company operation in the Fort Stockton area, was honored for 25 years of service with the company at a dinner in Omaha, April 23. Hines was one of 72 employees honored for having completed a quarter of a century with the company. A total of 512 employees have received recognition since the award dinners were initiated.

The awardees were presented with inscribed gold watches and cash bonuses by Chairman of the Board and President Willis Strauss. They also will receive an extra week of paid vacation. Hines resides at 1903 West Callaghan. Mr. and Mrs. Hines are well known in Spearman. He was born and reared in the rural Waka community. His wife is the daughter of Mrs. W.R. Shaull of Spearman.

New and Mack Heald, Farmer County Agricultural Agent, conducted corn irrigation studies last year on the Aubrey Heathington farm that supports this information.

There was no yield increase from an irrigation applied at the last of five additional alternate furrow irrigations was applied during the early dough stage about August 1. However, the application of six additional irrigations so that the last irrigation occurred during the dough stage on August 15 brought a 15 bushel per acre yield increase. "Slight yield increases can be obtained if the first irrigation is at the six-leaf stage and optimum soil moisture conditions are maintained through grain development," contends New. "Such an irrigation program may be profitable where the irrigating capacity is sufficient to irrigate frequently enough to maintain these moisture levels through the later stages of plant development." "The big yield boost comes from irrigation, tassel, milk and grain filling," says the specialist.

CORN IRRIGATION GUIDES AIDED

Timely irrigations often can mean extra bushels of harvest and often more production per acre-inch of water, states Robert Adamson, Hansford County Agent.

"Corn irrigations should be applied with the plant's seasonal water use pattern in mind," explains Leon New of Lubbock, Area Irrigation Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Irrigations during high water use stages of growth contribute heavily to high corn yields while only slight increase in yields is obtained during growth stages requiring less water."

Generally, irrigation should begin at the six-to-eight leaf growth stage, he points out. The water requirement is normally about one-inch every ten days by this stage and increases rapidly as growth continues. Irrigations prior to six leaves often produce rapid vegetative growth that results in a larger, more lush plant early in the season. Such plants may require more water later in the season for grain production. Larger plants can increase the demands for irrigation water that is already limited on many farms.

"Corn has a high water requirement from just prior to tasseling through the dough stage of grain development," adds New. "adequate moisture is especially vital to the corn plant during this period. Water use can be four-to-five inches during tasseling and selling, especially when temperatures are high. Irrigations should be keyed to this growth period."

4 Rural Accidents Counted In May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Hansford County during the month of May, according to Sergeant C. E. Henderson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and three persons injured. The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1971 shows a total of eight accidents resulting in no persons killed

New Senate Bill Says School Students Must Be Vaccinated

Senate Bill 27, amending Section 2.09 of the Texas Education Code, was signed into law by Governor Preston on April 26. This law now in effect and requires that all children entering schools or institutions of higher education must have been immunized against six diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, measles, mumps, rubella and smallpox. The law states that the State Department of Health shall provide immunizations in areas where no provision exists to provide these services.

Senate Bill 971, an amendment to Senate Bill 27, has become law. It enables the State Board of Health to modify any of the six required immunizations, and the provisional admission of students if the required immunizations have been given and are continued to be given "as rapidly as is medically feasible," and requires the State Department of Health to promulgate rules and regulations relating to the provision of immunizations to an individual or to a group of persons at a school or institution of higher education.

This statement is issued to inform parents and plans implementation of the law and the amendment thereto.

All students will be allowed to enter their respective schools during the summer and Fall 1971 terms, on the provision that their immunizations against at least one of the aforementioned diseases will have been started by January 1, 1971, and all completed as of a medically feasible date.

STUDENTS INCLUDED IN REQUIREMENTS: The immunization requirements are specified elsewhere in this policy statement and apply to all students attending public, private, or parochial schools, including kindergartens, elementary and secondary schools, academies, colleges, universities, and schools for the blind, deaf, and mentally ill and mentally retarded.

EXEMPTIONS FROM COMPLIANCE: Exemptions from compliance are allowable on an individualized basis for medical, contra-indications and religious conflicts. Parents falling into these categories must submit signed affidavits as specified in the law.

Medical Contrindications: The student must present an affidavit signed by a physician, duly registered and licensed under the Medical Practice Act, in which it is stated that, in the physician's opinion, the immunization required would be injurious to the health and well-being of the applicant or any member of his family or household.

Religious Conflicts: The student must present an affidavit signed by the applicant, or if a minor, by his parent or guardian stating that the immunization conflicts with the tenets and practice of a recognized church or religious denomination of which the applicant is an adherent or member; provided, however, that this exemption does not apply in times of emergency or epidemic declared by the Commissioner of Health.

REQUIRED IMMUNIZATIONS: For complete immunizations the following are required in the respective class or age grouping:

Children in Kindergarten and Grades One Through Five, or Children Ages 5 Through 11 in Ungraded Schools

POLIO: At least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday.

DIPHTHERIA/TETANUS: Minimum of 3 doses, with at least one dose having been received since the fourth birthday.

MEASLES: 1 dose of vaccine, or history of measles illness.

RUBELLA: 1 dose of vaccine. Not required past age 12 years.

SMALLPOX: 1 vaccination within the past 10 years.

Children and Others in Grades Six Through Twelve, or Children and Others Ages 12 and Older in Ungraded Schools Other Than Institutions of Higher Education

POLIO: At least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday. (Polio vaccine is not required for persons nineteen years of age or older.)

DIPHTHERIA/TETANUS: Minimum of 3 doses with last dose within 10 years. Booster dose only after initial series. (Td adult type.)

SMALLPOX: 1 vaccination within the past 10 years.

At the present time, reinforcing or "booster" doses of DIPHTHERIA/TETANUS and SMALLPOX vaccines are required every ten years after the last dose completing the series; however, boosters are not required for POLIO, MEASLES, and RUBELLA.

SCHOOL RECORDS. All schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students. The State Health Department is designing a standard form for this purpose.

ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTS OF IMMUNIZATIONS: Since many types of personal immunization records are in current use, any document listing each immunization received by year will be acceptable during the 1971-72 school year for either initiating or updating school immunization records.

Signature or rubber-stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is recommended but not required until the Summer 1972 Semester, after which validation of new records is required.

A new, standard Certificate of Immunization form is being developed; however, compatible documents will always be acceptable.

STUDENTS ENROLLING IN SPRING 1972 and LATER SEMESTERS: Effective at the start of the Spring 1972 Semester, and continuing thereafter, new enrollees (those not previously enrolled in the Summer or Fall 1971 Semesters) who have not completed the required immunizations at time of enrollment, must complete them as soon as is medically feasible.

have been previously immunized or obtained natural immunity through infection. Recommended but not required on an individualized basis if history of vaccine or illness is thought to be negative.

RUBELLA: Not required past age 12 years.

SMALLPOX: 1 vaccination within the past 10 years.

Students in Institutions of Higher Education

POLIO: At least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday. (Polio vaccine is not required for persons nineteen years of age or older.)

SCHOOL PROGRAM TO FIGHT CRIME

DALLAS--Development of classroom and outside activities keyed to a Texas public school program to fight crime was approved Saturday (June 5) by the State Board of Education meeting in Dallas.

Crime prevention will now become a working partner of the drug and narcotics education program which got under way last year. Both were authorized by the 61st Legislature.

Design of the crime prevention phase of the program will follow the same general format outlined in 1970-71 for drug and narcotics education.

Under the 1971-72 State Plan for Crime Prevention and Drug Education, the Texas Education Agency, regional service centers, public schools, law enforcement officers, and other interested citizens will work together to tailor programs to the needs of each community.

Work will begin in July with a series of three workshops to be held at Education Service Center Region I in Edinburg, ESC Region IV in Houston, and ESC Region XVII in Midland. Some 100 education, law enforcement, and health services professionals will attend each of the four-week sessions.

Here they will receive intensive training in planning skills, working with groups of people, and drug information. During the 1971-72 school year, men and women who attended the workshop will serve as interns in local school districts and work with law enforcement agencies.

Lawyers and health specialists will field test methods of counteracting growth of the "drug culture" and related crime.

The drug and narcotics phase, which began last summer with a similar training program for a cadre of specialists to work with school districts, will move into the classroom in September.

Developed under guidelines set by the Texas Education Agency, the classroom attack on drug abuse will be integrated into many elements of the existing curriculum. It will not be a course in itself. It will be more of an attitude, of giving students information and helping them develop their own methods of making their own decisions, according to Dr. L. Harlan Ford, Agency assistant commissioner for teacher education and instructional services.

During the past year, 906 of Texas' 1,148 school districts worked closely with drug education specialists at the 20 regional education service centers throughout the state. Many of the remaining districts called on the ESC consultants to help them develop drug education programs on their home grounds.

In May, 1972, local schools will evaluate their own drug education programs and make any necessary changes. By this time, too, they will have added their own curriculum guides on crime prevention and be ready to test their ideas in the classroom.

Mites Pose Threat To Grain Sorghum

LUBBOCK--The number one threat to Texas' number one grain crop, grain sorghum, may well be the Banks grass mite in 1971 because of its growing resistance to formerly effective chemical treatment.

This pesky mite is posing the latest and most serious threat among the many pest problems which put a big management load on growers.

Texas Tech University Entomology Prof. Charles R. Ward said the mite problem is aggravated by necessary greenbug control. Greenbugs attack emerging plants, and although these insects can be destroyed by chemicals, the process causes Banks grass mites to build up resistance to the chemicals formerly useful in their control.

When the mites follow the greenbugs into the field this year, there is evidence that they could wield a "free reign," Dr. Ward said.

The mites suck juices from the plant. Where water is limited, the plants go into severe water stress which weakens them and makes them more susceptible to disease. At harvest, extensive lodging may occur--both as the result of the mite attack and subsequent diseases--making the harvest difficult.

The solution, according to Ward, could lie in a combination chemical and biological control program.

In looking for a new control, Ward pointed out that alternative chemicals must be found that can be registered for use on grain sorghum or corn. Registration is under the control of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency which requires that the chemicals be effective, constitute no public health hazard, leave a residue at harvest that is within an established tolerance limit and do not cause bad side effects.

"New chemicals will have to be found," Ward said, "but it is important to look at some of the known predators of the Banks grass mite because these could offer additional biological control possibilities."

"Chemical control is only a temporary measure to reduce mite damage until alternate, more effective and, in the long run, cheaper methods of control can be developed."

Ward added that sorghum producers need to look also at the sugarcane rootstock weevil, although it is not as dangerous to this year's crop as the Banks grass mite. Because this insect has only recently been discovered in large numbers on the Texas Plains, reasonable recommendations for control cannot be made because chemical control data for this area are not available, he explained.

"In regard to this insect," he said, "insecticide screening tests are desperately needed so that data will be available on which to base proper recommendations."

Ward also proposed that weevil populations be monitored on a continuing basis, so that some advance warning of any large infestation might be afforded producers during the coming season.

The Entomology Section of Texas Tech's College of Agricultural Sciences, he said, also is concerned with developing the life history and habits of the weevil in West Texas in order to understand better any future problems it may cause.

Although other pests affect sorghum harvests, Ward said, they are not as critical this year as the Banks grass mite and the sugarcane rootstock weevil.

In addition to the troublesome greenbug and the corn leaf aphid, the corn earworm and the southwestern corn borer may increase as the corn acreage is increased, he said. Stinkbug infestations may depend more upon the maturity date of forage crops. In the case of false chinch bugs, the proximity of pasture land to the grain sorghum crop is a factor.

Ward and others in the Entomology Section of the Department of Park Administration, Horticulture and Entomology have worked with pest controls for grain sorghum since 1961 and have had particular success with their studies on the grain sorghum mite. Their research has been conducted not only in West Texas but as far away as Argentina and Hawaii.

Farmers Union Opposes Postal Rate Increase

The Farmers Union has urged the Postal Rate Commission to turn down a proposed increase in second class postal rates.

Dr. Weldon V. Barton, assistant national legislative director of the Farmers Union, said in testimony before the Commission that increasing second class postal rates would threaten the existence of small town newspapers. But in addition, he said, it would also "combine with other forces working to stagnate rural America."

Loss of weekly newspapers and other printed information sources that move through the mails "would serve to drag down and frustrate efforts to upgrade health, transportation, employment, education, and other activities essential for rural revitalization," Barton said.

Furthermore, he urged that rates on other classes of mail not be increased in order to absorb the deficit that will result from maintenance of current second class rates. "Instead," he said, "Farmers Union urges that--after the Postal Service makes every effort to secure financial savings by squeezing out operating inefficiencies--the deficits be allowed to accumulate so as to encourage remedial amendment of the 1970 Postal Reorganization Act."

"Over the long run--as deficits accumulate--Farmers Union recommends amendment of the 1970 Act to authorize continued subsidization out of general revenues of the federal government for essential mail and other information-communication services. We are convinced that efficient and inexpensive mail service to all areas of the nation is related to the public interest in a way that fully justifies the subsidization out of general tax revenue that is required to secure this objective."

Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said in Waco that the rural people of Texas have an important stake in maintaining a strong rural press. He said, "We see blocking this effort to increase second class postal rates as an essential aspect of our effort in behalf of rural development. There is a growing commitment of the nation that we must stop the senseless migration out of our small communities and rural areas, and into the nation's overcrowded and congested cities. The loss of small town newspapers would be only one more factor that would hinder efforts in this direction."

The leaders are Jimmy Allen, president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; Dr. T. A. Patterson, BGCT executive secretary; James Harris, chairman of the BGCT Executive Board and pastor of the University Baptist Church, Fort Worth; and C. Wade Freeman, director of the BGCT Evangelism Division.

About 15,000 young people from churches across the state are expected to descend on Fort Worth July 1-2 to hear messages by Christian celebrities, ministers and other young people in the Tarrant County Convention Center.

Also the youth will participate in a spiritual "blitz," singing and telling about Christ in the downtown area, the zoo, shopping centers and local church fields. A committee of Fort Worth pastors are making preparation for the "blitz."

George Worrell, academic evangelism associate in the BGCT Evangelism Division and the conference coordinator, suggested that churches pray that the young people will receive proper training for witnessing, be spiritually prepared to share Christ and receive courage to take the divine risk of witnessing.

Churches are also urged to pray that "unsaved" people in Fort Worth will be open to the gospel and that many will receive Christ as personal Savior.

The young people will hear messages by Terry Bradshaw of the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team and Bill Glass, former professional football player for the Cleveland Browns.

Other speakers include W. F. Howard, director of the BGCT Division of Student Work; Ben Loring, Jr., minister of evangelism at First Baptist Church, Houston; Dan Yearly, minister of youth at First Baptist Church, Lubbock; and Billie Hanks, Jr., an evangelist and Christian composer.

Several young people will tell of unusual Christian experiences. They are Jan and John Semple, sister and brother from First Baptist Church, Paris, and Skipper Allen of First Baptist Church, San Antonio.

Simultaneously with the Friday morning session of the youth meeting, a Baptist authority evangelistic outreach will speak to pastors and other church workers in the nearby Convention Center theater.

FARM SAFETY

THIS HARVEST...
MAKE Farm Safety
AN EVERYDAY HABIT!

Harvest the Rewards in Profit, Production and Protection . . .

The success of today's highly mechanized farm depends to an ever-increasing degree on the safety practiced by today's modern farmer. When safety is your constant companion, you run a more efficient and productive farm.

Safety is a full time job. Practice it all year around, and you'll never stop harvesting the benefits.

Be careful on the highways... Watch for slow moving combines and tractors....

As a modern farmer, you put heavy dependence on the proper operation of costly, often specialized equipment. Be sure it is safe to use . . . keep all machinery in tip-top shape.

Accidents are fewer when your farm area and buildings are neat, clean and in good repair. And even your youngest farmers-to-be should practice safety. The best way for them to learn is by following your good example.

Tuition Increase Facing W-T Students

CANYON, Tex.--The recent Texas Legislature boosted the tuition for higher education at all state-supported institutions but it will be the only increase facing students coming to West Texas State University this fall.

"We feel it is important to hold the line on other student fees at this time because of the tuition increase," said Virgil Henson, financial vice president.

"We are not doing so because additional money is not needed to operate the university," he said. "But we feel a deep obligation to parents and students to hold down costs as long as possible without affecting the quality of education to which they are entitled."

The new tuition bill sets out these rates:

Resident (Texas) students--$4 per semester credit hour but the total of such charge shall not be less than $50 per semester. A student registered for from one through 12 hours would pay the $50 minimum.

Students registered for 13 or more hours would pay $4 per hour a semester (i.e., 13 hours, $52; 14 hours, $56; 15 hours $60.)

Non-resident (out of state) students--$40 per semester credit hour. The legislation provides that students who were non-residents at West Texas State in the spring semester of 1971 will be permitted to pay the old $200 per semester non-resident tuition as long as they continue their education uninterrupted until they obtain the degree for which they are presently working.

Foreign students--$14 per credit hour with a minimum tuition of $200 a semester. This applies to students who are not citizens of the United States but are in this country for educational purposes.

"In effect, a resident student at West Texas State carrying a regular 15-hour course load would pay only $10 a semester more than he has been paying in the past at the university," Henson said.

Dr. Don Cates, dean of admissions and registrar, and Henson said there is no way of predicting what effect the tuition increase will have upon enrollment at West Texas State this fall.

West Texas State had an enrollment of 7,905 last fall, second highest in its history, and had a record 3,001 registrations for the first session of summer school this year.

"There appears to be three factors that could have a positive effect on our enrollment," Dr. Cates said.

He listed them as more adequate housing with the construction of two high-rise dormitories, small class size by providing additional sections rather than having overly large classes and more students from the Panhandle region coming to the university.

"For the last few years, when West Texas State was in a period of rather continuous growth, one of our largest problems was housing," Dr. Cates said. "The amount of housing available on campus for single students and the amount of housing in the city of Canyon for married students presented a constant problem to the university."

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs, said "applications for housing for the fall semester are substantially increased over this time last year."

Regarding class size, Dr. Cates said:

"It is becoming well known throughout the region that our class size, especially at the freshman and sophomore levels, is very favorable when compared to similar classes at both public and private institutions our size and larger in Texas.

"For example, freshman English classes did not exceed 25 students in the fall of 1970 and the spring of 1971."

Dr. Cates said class size is a factor that should be strongly considered, especially by beginning freshmen, when comparing universities.

He said surveys conducted by the university the last four years show that although there is "no significant increase in the number of students graduating from Panhandle area high schools, we have noticed an increase in the percentage of students from our region who come to West Texas State."

Dr. Cates said there are several factors besides the tuition hike that could adversely affect the university's enrollment this fall.

"I would say the thing that is identified to us through student contact more often than anything else is the severe effect the drought has had on economic conditions," he said.

A second factor affecting enrollment, Dr. Cates said is the "decreasing importance of a selective service deferment for student purposes."

What effect will the tuition increase have at West Texas State? Dr. Cates said: "Although the minimum charge of $50 will be a disadvantage as compared with previous semesters for part-time students, there is at least one hidden benefit."

"That is students who previously felt they could afford to take only one course will already have paid enough under the new tuition bill to take two or three courses."

"We hope these people will be motivated to take advantage of the minimum charge to enroll for more semester hours and thereby make more rapid progress toward their educational objective, be it a degree, or teacher certification, or the personal satisfaction of attaining a goal at a faster rate."

Registration for the fall semester will be Aug. 26-28, with late registration continuing through Sept. 4. Application from students new to West Texas State must reach the dean of admissions by Aug. 1.

With his vision obscured by the can, the squirrel's careful and deliberate gait made him appear to be tiptoeing, McCrless said.

Ringneck Pheasant Eyed by Biologists

WHEELER--Ringneck pheasant in the Texas Panhandle produce an annual harvest of more than 12,000 birds and thousands of man-hours of creation, so biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are going to study the bird with a new technique this year, says biologist Jim Dillard.

In the past the birds were censused by attempting to count the crowing birds in the spring, but roadside noise and irrigation motors made the task difficult and often inaccurate. This new method has been devised.

Over counties with human populations of birds, 15 in all, field personnel are setting up roadside counts, a system close to being an actual head count of birds seen.

The lines will be run during the last two weeks of July and the first week of August to obtain data on pheasant reproduction, then again during the first two weeks of October and the first week of November to determine the distribution and density prior to the breeding season. This will enable the department to advise hunters where concentrations of the birds may be found.

Texas Has More Cars - Best Roads

Texas will have 7.2 million motor vehicles registered for 1971 according to H. C. Pitt Executive Vice President of Texas Automobile Dealers Association in Austin.

Only the State of California will exceed Texas in motor vehicle registration.

"We have now passed the mark of New York, and Texas is during the first five months of 1971 were up over the same period for last year. As an example, Pittman stated, in Dallas County, registrations the first five months of 1971 exceeded the registrations during the same period last year by 2,252 units.

"This continuing increase in our motor vehicle population makes us mindful of the importance and outstanding job of the Texas Highway Department in planning, constructing and maintaining the finest system of roads in the world to care for these Texas-owned motor vehicles.

"Also," Pittman continued, "these statistics are meaningful and underline the importance of the establishment of the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission created by the Legislature this year. Members of the Commission are expected to be appointed by the Governor within the next few weeks."

"At this rate of increase," Pittman predicts, "within a few years our motor vehicle registrations in Texas will reach the 10-million mark, and the manufacturers will be manufacturing new motor vehicles at the rate of 10-million per year."

Mrs. Wesley Brinkley and daughter Mindi have been visiting here with her parents the Granville Boyds. They returned to Lubbock Sunday where her husband is attending summer school at Tech.

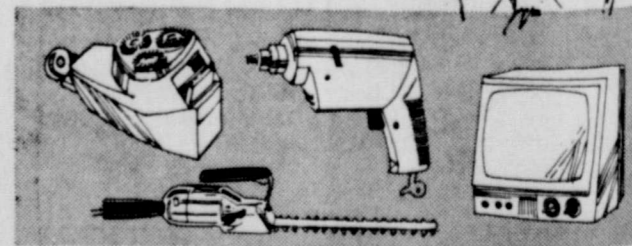

Very Odd Animal Sighted In Park

SAN JACINTO--What's furry, has a red head, is blind and tiptoes?

Answer: a squirrel. Superintendent Jerry McCrless of San Jacinto State Park was startled to see a squirrel crossing a park road on tiptoes and with a red object covering its head.

He caught the little fellow and removed the red past can which was wedged firmly on its head. The squirrel was glad to be rid of the can, and appeared to be healthy.
