

Local Youths Bound For College Emigration Leaves City Dissipated

YORK-Hansford County's people are heading for college in greater numbers than ever. To pay for their tuition and other expenses, their parents will have to dig deep into their pockets, since most colleges have raised their fees substantially for the forthcoming school year.

A random survey covering 100 colleges and universities, conducted by the Insurance Agency Management Association, a national organization, discloses that 60 percent of them have raised their fees. In some cases, the increase in tuition, room and board is more than $200. Many families find the financial pinch is acute. To meet the spiraling costs, some parents are refinancing home mortgages, negotiating bank loans, taking extra shifts at work, and other means. It is difficult for families to have two or more children going through college. The cost of tuition, fees, and board will be $1,000 to $1,500 for in-state residents and $1,500 to $2,000 for those coming from other states, according to a survey.

The new median at private national colleges will be $1,200, with variations above and below this figure. All these amounts are necessary outlays for books, supplies, clothes, transportation and recreation. The overall total comes to $1,500, on average, in colleges and $3,500 in private colleges.

The estimated cost of $3,500 that Hansford County students have to meet is upon the expectation that the students from the local area will be going to local colleges and half to out-of-state colleges.

Loye Randall Back In Town

Loye Randall, former manager of Ideal Grocery in Spearman, is once again the manager of Ideal Grocery in Spearman. Loye spent a couple of weeks away from Spearman, managing the Elkhart, Kansas Ideal Grocery but said he just "couldn't stand it away from Spearman." We are glad that Loye is back and feel that he has learned a lesson that we have always preached to our readers. Don't ever leave Spearman. No place on earth has as much to offer as Spearman has, and we are the best community on earth!

Weekend Thefts Reported

A rash of tool thefts during the past weekend have been reported to the Hansford County Sheriff's office. Sheriff Cooke said thieves took tools, radios, oil, and everything that was loose from tractors and machines belonging to Philip Turner, M.D., McLaughlin, Jack McWhirter, Mike Garnett, Wallace Berner and Hansford County. At the McWhirter farm NE of the city, the tool house was burglarized. Oil and antifreeze was stolen there. Mr. Jerry Gee reported to the Sheriff that someone had shot a hole through his irrigation engine Saturday night. Sheriff J.B. Cooke is investigating these thefts and incidents. Other business in the Sheriff's office this week included the trial of one Santiago Gonzales in County Court Monday. Charged with aggravated assault against Lola Royva, Gonzales was fined $25.00 plus court costs.

Fire At 1:30 Here Tuesday

Rotary will not meet Monday, Labor Day

The Spearman Lynx footballers had their pictures made Monday of this week, and we were surprised to learn that the Spearman High School is going to have three high school teams. The Lynx will have a varsity, B team, and Freshman team. Spearman is one of the few high school teams in the area that can boast enough players for three teams. We will have the Freshman schedule in this week's paper, if Coach Miles gets it to us in time. He still has one more town to check with this Monday night.

"YOU NAME IT"

Had coffee with Newell Allen Monday and he reminded me that he also won a tennis medal while playing for Spearman High School. He has promised to come out and play tennis with the "twilight tennis" player. Newell also told us to remind the farmers and ranchers to watch for rattlesnakes this time of the year. Newell was setting irrigation tubes Monday of this week, and saw a set of rattlesnakes slithering up near the tubes where he was setting them; and, he never did hear the snake rattle. I think this is the time or the year, when they don't rattle, so keep an eye out for those critters.

Chief Wood has joined the "Quick Weight Loss" group, and has dropped 35 lbs. The best weight loss in Spearman that I know about is still J.L. Pierce; he has lost about 45 lbs. I am still having a hard time with my eating habits, but I have never quit trying, and I plan to keep this weight off at least 1 year. Only 2 percent of the people who lose their desired weight, keep it off 1 year or longer.

Citizens Committee Requests Help From City Councilmen

A contingent of local citizens with city officials met Monday night for the aid of the city in a city-wide clean-up campaign. Representatives from various clubs and organizations met with the chairman of the Beautification Committee to discuss suggestions to present to the council. City Manager for the group, J. J. Foshie, presented City Ordinance No. 316, which provides for the new trash container system. Foshie said that although the new system of disposal recently implemented here and said that although people could tell a difference in cleaner alleys about the town, the citizens committee wants to go further in cleaning up the city. "We would like to see the city enforce trash ordinances already on the books and to draw up any such ordinance needed to help clear up the unsightly things such as abandoned automobiles and abandoned buildings", he said. Foshie asked how the citizens could help in cleaning up the city. "We are interested, but the city does not have the personnel, nor the equipment to do it with."

The City Council did agree to draw up ordinances, and try to put "teeth" in them, concerning 1-0ld abandoned cars, 2-0ld abandoned buildings. At Monday's meeting the council passed a new trash ordinance which is published in this issue of the Reporter on the classified page. City Manager Foshie said that he felt sure every property owner in Spearman would go along with this committee (when contacted) to cooperate by cleaning up their property. Foshie said that it was very difficult to "enforce" city ordinances unless officials had the much needed "backing" from people interested enough in their city to urge the enforcement of these laws. He cited ordinance No. 316 which stated that it is unlawful for property owners to allow weeds, rubbish, trash, garbage, all unsightly or unsanitary matter to accumulate on the property which they OCCUPY or OWN. The penalty clause in this ordinance reads that such owner can be fined up to $200.00 per day, until the property is cleared of such. Ordinance No. 329 on city records states that it is unlawful to abandon refuse, junk, rubbish, automobile parts, etc. on private or public property. The penalty for this is not less than $10, nor more than $200, per day--after notification. Foshie hinted Monday night that the City would cooperate with this committee in seeing that these ordinances began to be enforced. Members of the Beautification committee said they planned to meet again soon to draw up plans for a long range city clean-up campaign, and would bring these plans before the City Council at a later date. Other business on the agenda for the Aldermen Monday night included the passing of the new trash ordinance, drawing up of other ordinances along this line, and the discussion of bids for gasoline and bids for a new Civil Defense siren. The city will take bids on gasoline to supply needs of city vehicles at 8 p.m. September 13. Last April the City applied for a 50% matching grant for a Civil Defense warning siren. The office of Civil Defense approved the grant and alderman Monday night accepted the offer. Bids for this siren will be received at 8 p.m. September 27. City Council meetings for September were set for the 13th and the 27th.

ALCOHOL and its effects on drivers is the subject under study as a team of professional race car drivers take on enough alcohol to reach .10 percent blood alcohol concentration and then tackle a driving skills course. The test was sponsored by the San Antonio Association of Insurance Agents and conducted at Pan American Speedway by the Southwest Research Institute. Officials say the test is a graphic demonstration of the fact that .10 percent blood alcohol concentration is a level at which even professional drivers are unable to handle a motor vehicle safely.

WTSU Nursing Students To Get Scholarships

Canyon, Tex--A $20,000 special appropriation has been made West Texas State University for tuition scholarships for its new baccalaureate in nursing program, Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said Sunday.

The appropriation was approved by the recent Texas Legislature which earlier in the session authorized the university and Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo to coordinate the nursing degree program.

Mrs. Eunice M. King, director of nursing for the Amarillo Hospital District, was named by the West Texas State Board of Regents as acting head of the baccalaureate program.

Malzahn said guidelines remain to be established for awarding the scholarships. He added the $20,000 was for one year since the second year of the appropriation bill was vetoed by Gov. Preston Smith.

The legislative enactment granting the tuition scholarships to nursing students at West Texas State also provided grants to Texas Woman's University, the University of Texas System and Prairie View A.M.

The act states: "Each such scholarship shall be granted only after a review of the economic circumstances and need of the individual student and may be in an amount deemed necessary to cover any part, or all, of the tuition of such student."

The cooperative program calls for the Amarillo Hospital District to contribute $2,000 during 1970-71, $25,000 in 1971-72 and $75,000 during each of the next two years.

Students in the program could become registered nurses and earn a bachelor's degree at the same time. Amarillo Hospital District instructors would be used in the program.

The district, which includes Northwest Texas Hospital and the Psychiatric Pavilion, currently operates a three-year diploma school of nursing. No change in the diploma school is planned.

4 Planes Acquired Will Be Used To Train Mechanics

Amarillo--The Mid-Continent Campus of Texas State Technical Institute has acquired four U-6 aircraft--nicknamed "Beavers"--from the Texas Surplus Properties at Fort Hood... The planes were requisitioned through the office of Health, Education and Welfare for "Educational Use."

Mr. James Scott, head of the Aircraft Mechanics Department at State Tech, said the four airplanes will be used to teach airframe and power-plant mechanics.

The U-6s are 8-passenger planes build for the U.S.

Army during World War II. The reciprocating engine planes were used for light cargo and short haul passenger runs, said Scott.

New classes in Aircraft Mechanics Technology will begin September first at the Mid-Continent Campus. Enrollment for classes is now in progress. For full information on the Aircraft Mechanics program contact Mr. Scott or the TSTI Registrar's Office.

Frank Phillips College Serves the Panhandle

Frank Phillips College is a living-learning center for students of all ages entering many "walks of life."

Programs are available for students preparing to transfer to senior colleges or universities; technical training is offered for those students who want to enter in a specialized field after only one or two years of college education; and special courses are offered for adults wishing to further their educational or cultural enlightenment through part-time evening or day classes.

Students wishing to use Frank Phillips College as a springboard into senior college or universities find comfort in the fact that their courses will be accepted by any accredited senior college in the United States.

This is the result of the local college's meeting the accreditation requirements and being fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, one of six regional accreditation agencies in the nation.

Other agencies giving full accreditation to Frank Phillips College include the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities and the Texas Education Agency.

Being a member of these associations, especially the Southern Association guarantees the transfer of credits from Frank Phillips to any accredited college in the United States.

Frank Phillips is often referred to as a "junior college" because its most popular purpose is the offering of the first two years of a four-year "senior" college program.

The term "community college" better describes its broad scope of offerings. On-the-job training; special interest subjects such as computer programming; Conversational Spanish; reading; cultural activities such as oil-painting workshops, and recreational programs such as boys' basketball and ladies golf are but a few of the diverse offerings that depart from the "junior college" concept.

Efforts are made continuously to link the college to the community and many short-term, low-cost community service programs are offered for students of all ages. The "open door" admission policy, low tuition and accessibility of Frank Phillips have drastically increased educational opportunities for residents in and around Borger.

Frank Phillips has two qualities that make it ideal for each type of student: the facilities are modern and complete; and the instructors are chosen with the student in mind.

The technical facilities at the college rival those in the most modern college relating to that field. The academic facilities include, among other things, a library with microfilm and other modern educational aids that are equal to any college library in this area and on-campus bookstore that carries required texts and related books, materials and supplies.

A versatile and diverse instructional media center aids both academic and technical programs with video tapes, films, pictures, and other visual aids to facilitate the instructional progress.

Frank Phillips College great resource, however, is its faculty. High faculty requirements insure that each teacher is well prepared academically. In addition, the instructors were selected because they are interested in students as people.

Instructors maintain and post office hours so that they are available to counsel with students between classes. They have an enthusiasm about their work and about the problems and growth of students. Teachers at Frank Phillips College place total emphasis on the teaching-learning process rather than research.

The college follows this emphasis by keeping classes small. Each full-time instructor teaches five classes with an average of slightly more than 20 students in each class. With this small number of students per semester an instructor can quickly learn each student by name and can be personally involved in the development of that student.

In large institutions where a single class may have from 300 - 500 students, this is impossible. The result is a student feeling neglected and uninvolved.

In small classes also, group discussion is possible and ideas which are not covered in detail in lectures can be discussed in an atmosphere of give-and-take. The divergent background and viewpoints of other students give an insight into authorities other than the textbook and the instructor.

Another advantage of the small classes is that the student gets an opportunity to do things himself and to see things he is learning as they are practiced. This is accomplished through labs, organizations and clubs on campus relating to the various academic areas, and through class field trips.

All of the Frank Phillips College activities--instructional and social--are oriented toward the student. And something is available for every individual in the district, regardless of age, previous educational experience, or background--to either prepare him for future livelihood or to merely give him "An Education for Living."

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Pope Gibner went to Amarillo Friday night to see the Lawrence Welk show.

Combo & Choir Is Outstanding F-P Organization

Several states and many towns of the Texas Panhandle are represented in the combo and choir of Frank Phillips College, Borger, and make it one of the outstanding organizations on campus, and of the area.

Students who love to sing are welcome members of the choir even though they do not plan to major in music. All students interested in choir will have the opportunity to tryout during the first week of school.

Mrs. Evelyn Hubbard, head of the music department, will conduct tryouts in FA-23, from 1:10 to 2:10 p.m. on Mon., Wed., and Fri.

Students interested in Combo (stage band) will have the opportunity to tryout on Tuesday and Thursday of the first week of classes. Tryouts are scheduled for 4:30 to 5:50 p.m. in the choir room. (FA-23)

Members of the Medicine show group will be selected from members of the choir and combo. Tryouts for this group will be conducted after choir and combo is completed.

Veterans College Benefits Announced

Veterans who plan to attend Panhandle State College this fall should contact the Veterans Administration immediately, the agency urged today.

The first thing a veteran should do is choose a school and an educational objective, Joe W. Anderson, Director of the Muskogee VA Regional Office explained; He should then request a certificate of eligibility from the nearest VA office. VA will send copies of the certificate which should be submitted to the school. The school will endorse one copy and forward it to the regional office, Anderson said. The VA official suggested also that the veteran follow through to make sure the school forwards the certificate, to help insure he starts receiving his monthly checks promptly.

If the veteran is returning to the same school he attended last semester, it is not necessary to get another certificate. If he plans to change schools or his education objective, however, he must get VA approval.

Anderson underlined the importance of acting promptly because many colleges and universities have already been filled. He noted, however, that many schools give special consideration to veterans.

To be eligible for educational benefits, a veteran or serviceman must have served at least 181 days of continuous active duty, any part of it after January 31, 1955. Or, he must have been separated for a service-connected disability without regard to length of service.

Former Lynx Star Visits Friends In Spearman

Bob Fuller received quite an amount of attention on Tuesday of this week when he visited here. Bob played basketball in Spearman in 1952 and '53, and was the star on the famous team. He was 6 ft. tall, and possibly one of the greatest basketball players in the state of Texas. During his visit here Tuesday, he met with the coaches and also Supt. Cunningham and Principal McKay. Of course, he met the personnel who were instrumental in getting Donny to come to the school.

Bob Fuller is now a successful businessman in Lubbock, but as we said before, Hansford County is still his home. In fact, all of his oil interests are located in this county in the Morse area. Bob told your editor, that Bill Russell was the most enthusiastic sports fan that he had back in the old days. Bill was a star baseball player and would haul the Lynx players all over the country to play baseball. Bill is still very active in civic and church activities here.

work that Coach Garlin is doing at Raiderland, and of course he praised Coach Weese and his Lynxettes, who have put Spearman on the map. He also praised the "Fellowship of Christian Athletes." And, Bob learned that this fine group of athletes is now conducting the Red Cross drive in Spearman. Of course he was extremely proud of them and as a passing remark, he stated that he loved sports, but most of all, he was proud of an institution that first emphasized the importance of athletes "making their grades." In closing, all of us in Spearman might say that we were truly honored to visit with a man as fine as this former Lynx star, Bob Fuller!

While here he visited in the home of his brother, Guy and Blance Fuller.

Gordon Parrish, who has been hospitalized the past several days, is back on the job at his drug store this week. Gordon will work short hours until he regains his strength.

Weekend guests in the O. K. Pendergraft home were Mrs. Cleat Brazzel, Mrs. Bob Staton, all of Mangum, Okla.; Mrs. Teresa Russell & sons Rodney and Ryan of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Sandra Lindsey narrated the fashion show and explained the various phases of work the missionary union is engaged in. "The W.M.U. carries out various mission tasks on all age levels, from the pre-school age group through the mature women's group," she said.

The fashion show was designed with this in mind, and as each model emerged, the mission activities of her particular age group were explained by the narrator. A nice crowd enjoyed the show and a social hour which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robertson enjoyed the Lawrence Welk musical show in Amarillo Friday night.

BAKER HOTEL OR EQUITY ELEVATOR SPEARMAN, TEXAS

Where Is Our Pride?

IS SPEARMAN'S PRIDE DEAD?
CAN IT BE RESURRECTED?
ARE YOU WILLING TO HELP?

A group of citizens—who still feel there is a glimmer of hope that Spearmanites "still care" have taken the first step in a long-range plan to beautify our city, and make it one of the most attractive cities on the North Plains.

This hopeful group sincerely seeks the cooperation from EACH & EVERY citizen in this town. Will you be proud also? Will you clean up that vacant lot you own? Will you haul off that junk you have allowed to accumulate? Will you make your homestead attractive?

If you will, the task will be almost complete. The question then arises: Whose duty is it then to clean up the rest of our city? Out-of-town property owners could care less what Spearman looks like. Will you go and clean off their property? Then who should? Who will? What should be done about all the unsightly eye-sores that are so numerous throughout our village? Your ideas are solicited. Your suggestions are needed. This newspaper urges you to write a letter to the Editor - if you care at all - if you have any pride in your town, and its impression. Don't just care about your property. The time has come to CARE about the entire Spearman community. The need for P R I D E is Now. Let us publish your suggestions. Or do you care?

Letters to the Editor--letting others know how you feel about beautifying this city, will be published. Name will be withheld if you so desire, but all letters must be signed. Let us publish your suggestions, your ideas, your feelings. If ENOUGH people show that they CARE, something can be done.

Washington Russets in Hearty Casserole

Washington State Russet Potatoes team up with Swiss cheese in this hearty Potato Cheese Casserole which is sure to rate high with your family.

Cooked potatoes are sliced and placed in a casserole with alternate layers of Swiss cheese slices and chopped green onions. A mixture of eggs, milk and seasonings is poured over and forms a custard as the casserole bakes.

Washington State Russets, grown in the rich mineral soil of the Columbia Basin, are all-purpose potatoes high in quality and rich in nutrients. Whether baked, boiled or fried they stay moist and flavorful.

POTATO CHEESE CASSEROLE

2 pounds Washington State Russet potatoes	1 cup milk
6 ounces Swiss cheese, sliced	1/2 teaspoon salt
2 green onions, thinly sliced	1/8 teaspoon pepper
Salt and pepper	1/8 teaspoon cayenne
4 eggs	2 tablespoons butter

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover. Peel and cut into thin slices. Fill buttered casserole with alternate layers of potatoes, cheese slices and green onions, seasoning each layer with salt and pepper. Beat eggs with milk and seasonings. Pour over potatoes. Dot with butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until custard is set and top lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Let Me See
by Sybil...

"Don't despair," I keep telling myself. I must persevere. I must go on resolutely and stubbornly in spite of opposition. Somehow I must conjure up a greater amount of patience, practice long-suffering, all the while holding my tongue, turning the other cheek, showing sympathy, great understanding and compassion. Surely I'll reap if I faint not. I think the correct meaning of "faint not" is "cave in", and that's more what I feel like doing!

'Tis the season of the year when Billy succumbs to Hay Fever. I should have been ready for all this persecution. I think every year (come summer time) "Sybil, ole girl, it's almost time, start practicing being strong." But then

I forget, and the seasons roll around too soon and invariably I am caught unprepared. No tranquilizers, no sleeping pills.

Billy suffers with the disease. I suffer the consequences. If the good Lord (or a change in the weather) doesn't intervene, I shall be seeking a new address or the services of a marriage counselor. I will decide which in the near future.

Like I said before, time flies, and soon it will be cold weather and our air will no longer be polluted with pollen. Oh happy thought.

I'm ready for cold weather. Wood-wise anyway. That's one thing we didn't let slip up on us this year. Our backyard looks like Woody's woodpile, except that it is not for sale. We'll burn most of it off before the winter is gone.

Spreading of winter--where has the summer gone? Here it is the 2nd week of school and the next thing you know we'll be buying graduation gifts already.

All summer we've been preparing Steve to enter college. The time came last weekend for Steve to leave, and as you might suspect, we were the ones who were not prepared. Steve was. We had all the arrangements made, it's true. All his papers were in order, his room had been reserved, the money all paid, etc. But here again, we were tripped up by this time element thing.

Surely it was just a few short years ago he started to school, wasn't it just last year or so he was a freshman in high school? Old enough for college--and a life of his own. How could this be? Time flies.

You have a lot of last-minute thoughts when you take a boy you've lived with for 19 long years off to college, deposit him in his dorm, walk off and leave him.

Have we instructed him right, taught him enough? Will he be good, get into trouble? He hasn't washed a load of clothes in all his life, much less ironed a shirt. Will he go dirty to college? Does he know to put soap in the washing machine. Will he have his necktie cleaned after he spills gravy on it. Will he hear the alarm, or sleep thru his early morning classes. He is so used to finding toothpaste, shaving cream, and deodorant a standard part of his home life. Will he know to keep his supply replenished? Will he keep his shoes polished, his hair cut? Will he study and make his grades?

Time will tell. Next thing you know, he'll be a Senior, and then Old Father T. will prepare another stage, and we'll all find something else to worry and wonder about.

This is a very traumatic experience. Taking your boy off to college. He represents your very own life, wrapped up in him is all your love, blood, sweat and tears, hopes and dreams. For 19 years he has been a boy at home. Now he is an adult, launching a career on which to build his own home.

You wouldn't live the past 19 years over again for anything. But they've been more difficult for him, than you. You've had the opportunity to teach, train, instruct and mold his mind and character and brother if you haven't, it's too late now. Time flies. I saw tomorrow marching by On little children's feet; within their forms and faces read Her prophecy complete. I saw tomorrow look at me from Little children's eyes; And thought how carefully we'd teach If we were really wise.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

One evening I was tuning my violin before a concert. As I turned the pegs to tighten the strings my little brother cried, "You're going to break them." "No," I explained. "I am going to make them sound beautiful."

The sacred singer had that in mind when he wrote in Psalm 94:12. "Blessed is the man whom Thou chastenest, O Lord."

What is chastening? Censure? No, correction. Sometimes it is punishment for doing wrong, but most of the time it is preparation for doing right.

What form does the chastening take? Loss of health or wealth, but the Lord who loves us makes all things work for our good.

Why are we chastened? "For our profit," among Hebrews 12:10, "that we might be partakers of his holiness." No one is saintly but He wants us to be like Him. He wants us to be like David confessed in Psalm 119:67. "Before I was afflicted I went astray; but now have I kept Thy word."

What should be our attitude under chastening? No scorn or self-pity. That makes us bitter. But our mission. That will make us better. Not they who have studied much but they who have suffered much have made the greatest Christians.

"They Came From Spain"

THE CORONADO STORY IN LIGHT AND SOUND

For the first time in history, the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon will close one great production and open another during the same week.

"Texas", the spectacle describing the life on the plains in the 1880's by Paul Green, closes on the 28th of August after a great season. The rains which came after two years of drought cancelled only two performances, and left the Canyon so green and beautiful that they added measureably to the appreciation of the beauty of the place. In answer to queries made of the audiences from time to time, it was learned that about a third of the audience was returning to see it a fourth or fifth time. Although information about the production was obtained through many media, the overwhelming majority - at least three quarters - said that they had come on someone's personal recommendation.

Thanks to the vigilance of William and Margaret Moore, the Directors, the show remained swift and sparkling throughout the season, in spite of a few minor misadventures. The cast members created an "Impy" award to be granted to the person making the biggest error and it went on various occasions to the man who lost his horse, to the dancer in the fire ballet who became so involved that she danced over the edge of the stage and to the man who gave the great flag of United States such a swing that the pole broke in his hands.

More than 75,000 persons attended "Texas" during the 1971 season - raising the total who have had the experience to 415,000. Final count almost exactly 76,000.

Flaming torches and floating banners will transform the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park for the gala opening of the new production, "They Came From Spain". Mounted against the merging colors of the 600 foot bluff behind the stage in the twilight, the brilliant colors of the Spaniards' costumes will remind the audience of the picture they made when they first made their way across the plains and into the great canyons in the 1540's. Telling the story of the creation of the canyon then of the dramatic days they spent within the shelter of the walls. "They Came From Spain" will use the Sound and Light resources of the theatre to tell the story. Sound and light film and live action. This will be another opportunity to experience sound in this unusual acoustical situation.

As part of the gala opening, the backers and friends of the theatre, and their special guests led by the Mexican consul for the area, Ignacio Otero Arrieta and the vice-consul Luis Felix Pacheco will enjoy a Spanish meal. Starting with Paella - the famous rice dish which sometimes has as many as sixty-eight ingredients ending with Sevillian coolies with their special flavor drawn from sugar dissolved in a very dry liquor.

The ten dollar fee will cover attendance at the festivities, the Spanish dinner and the first performance of the new production, "They Came From Spain". The director Eddie Thomas of Dallas has drawn together the making of costumes, the making of armor, the making of tents and weapons, the directing of the cast for the filmed section, the director of the cast for the live sections, the taping of the voices, the technical processes carried on from California to Florida and the adaption of the script to heighten the dramatic emphases.

There was excitement in the Canyon in 1542 - and it will be repeated on September second. For tickets write Box 268, Canyon, Texas... Call 806-655-2182.

Super Rider To Perform At Raton Trail Bike Event

Raton, N.M. -- There's a fellow named Jim Begano roaming the mountains around Trinidad, Colo., who already is a bike riding legend.

Begano's exploits on two-wheeled are almost unbelievable and the opportunity to watch Colorado's "super rider" in action would alone be worth the trip to Raton for the first annual world series and super bowl of trail bikes, Sept. 4-6 presented by the National Trail Bike Association.

Begano usually rides one of the hybrid trail bikes the Colorado mountain men refer to as "Hotshots." They're actually mini-bikes equipped with 25 horsepower engines, no pegs, no footbrakes, massive tires utilizing large tractor cleats and a centrifugal clutch. They can go almost anywhere, and Begano goes with them.

Favorite pastime of the talented Begano is riding up the side of a sheer cliff which prompted one dazed Amarillo rider to comment: "I've just seen a miracle." For practice, Begano rides atop a gas line which goes over the mountains. When he asked the gas company for permission to do so, officials just chuckled. "We'll give you all the permission in the world," they said "but you couldn't get over it on all fours, much less on a bike." Begano has ridden it every day since just to keep in shape.

Begano's efforts will be just one of the attractions at the Labor Day Event, the first sanctioned by the newly-formed national trail bike association.

More than $25,000 in prizes, including round trip plane tickets to Paris, London and Rome, will be given away during the three-day meet. Tickets are currently available at a reduced rate of $14 for adults and $2 for children under 14. Reservations may be made by writing to bike fun, Inc. Box 9006, Amarillo, Texas, 79105.

Spotlight on HEALTH

CONTROLLING HAY FEVER

Allergy specialists advise that there is something you can do about hay fever. In fact, they advise a number of measures that can be taken to avoid hay fever and its distressing symptoms. Some of them follow:

Wear glasses. Large motorcycle types are considered best.

Keep doors and windows closed, especially on windy, dry days when pollen flows freely.

Turn air conditioner on a few hours before spending time in a room. Be sure the unit has a good filter.

Keep front windows of automobiles closed to prevent pollen-saturated air from blowing in.

Stay indoors on days on which there are high pollen counts.

Avoid garden work and garden sprays. Do not allow fresh cut flowers in your home.

Stay away from insect, mothproofing, deodorizing and other household sprays as well as strong soaps, ammonia, waxing solutions and other substances with irritating odors.

Fresh fruits and spices make some victims feel worse. Discover which foods affect you, and eliminate them from your diet.

Consult a physician about medications to alleviate symptoms. The more common of these, itching, watery eyes, sneezing, and stuffed-up runny nose, can usually be relieved with an antihistamine-decongestant nasal spray such as NTZ.

Or, the physician may recommend a pill with a similar combination, or other therapies.

One out of 15 persons in the U.S. suffers from hay fever. Ragweed "hay fever" lasts from mid-August through September in many states, and "until the first frost" in others.

Bienvenidos al Cuzco - Peru

Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Lee have just returned from a three weeks trip abroad where they toured various South American countries. The trip, sponsored by The Hereford Breeder's Association, was highlighted by visits to many fabulous ranches throughout these countries.

Mrs. Lee is a veteran traveler, having made world-wide trips quite frequently, but this is the first time her husband has accompanied her. Eck, a cattleman and rancher himself, was particularly interested in making this tour along with many other cattle breeders from across the U.S.A.

The first leg of their long journey took them to Bogota, Columbia. The outstanding attraction here was the magnificent Cathedral built in a salt mine.

In Peru, they visited Cuzco, the oldest continually inhabited city in the Western Hemisphere. To reach the city, you must travel 8,000 feet up a mountain to Machupicchu. One-thousand years older than Babylon, this was the capital of the exiled Inca civilization before most of the great cathedrals were ever built in Europe. The area up on the mountain side is all terraced where the once tremendous city was located. This area receives so much rainfall and the foliage is so dense it is said that if workers did not continually keep it cleared, the site would be completely covered with growth in a short 3-month period. They work at it constantly to keep it cleared.

In Bolivia, the group visited the city of LaPaz, where that very day the recent revolution began. The Lees said it was quite an experience to see truck loads of soldiers filling the streets. The uprising was kept very quiet. They had heard shooting from their motel the night before, but no one would tell them what it was all about. Their tour guide rushed them out of this city in a hurry the next morning.

In Bolivia, the people are very superstitious and practice all sorts of rites. For instance, before they break ground for any sort of building, they feel they must appease their God for disturbing "mother earth". The retribution for breaking into the earth requires the uterus from a pregnant Llama, which is dried, broken into pieces and sold. Later the priest will pronounce special blessings upon the project.

In Argentina, Eck enjoyed visiting the stockyards where he discovered that the normal daily run of cattle was about 20,000 head. The Hereford breeders in Argentina are famous for their steaks, and the group had the opportunity to enjoy a lovely steak dinner at the La Bana Steak house.

In Azul the tourists visited many famous ranches. Some of the finest spreads in the world are located here.

The interesting thing about Buenos Aires is the huge Mat Del Plata river which runs along the border of this great city. The river looks like an ocean.

They took in the Stock Show and watched the selecting of the Grand Champion Bull. Much to the disgust of the Hereford breeders, the champ was a Polled Hereford!

Eck said he was amazed at the number of cattle on ranches in this area. The huge Mehlem Ranch, an 80,000 acre spread, runs 17,000 head of cattle. Another one, the Bucha De Ro ranch, contains 40,000 acres. The breeders run 9,000 cows, 500 bulls, 18,000 sheep and some 450 head of cattle.

The homes are great—like you read about in story books—and they visited many of these where hosts served tea and refreshments.

On Lake Titicaca in Bolivia, the group took a ride on a boat called a Hydrofoil. These huge boats travel on skis, at a high rate of speed standing high above the water. They docked at many beautiful islands along the lake shore.

They visited Iguassu Falls. Located on the border of Brazil, this is the largest waterfall in the world.

In Brazil they visited Sao Paulo, a city of sky scrapers and 6-million people. It is called "Little Chicago."

In Santos, the tour group visited that city's famous coffee plants. They watched coffee auctioned off to the highest bidder. Bidders are "tasters." This was a spectacular thing to watch, the Lees said. First off, spittoons are spaced about. Tasters chew a few coffee beans, spit them out, and reveal the price they will pay for that chew. "I'll give you 30¢ per lb. for this." Another chew may bring 20¢ per lb., etc.

The people on this tour were a little surprised to hear that most of the people throughout South America favor Cuba very highly. They like what's going on there, and appreciate the great amount of trade Cuba sends their way. Cuba buys all the beef they can export from South American cattle breeders.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee enjoyed their trip. Eck would have enjoyed it much more had he not been ill most all the time. It was winter time in that country, and Mr. Lee developed bronchial pneumonia. A medical doctor on the same tour, also suffered from this affliction, but was able to aid the many other travelers who developed colds and virus ailments.

NEWS FROM YOUR

Home Demonstration Agent

By Nelle Albrecht

We've been hearing about cases of botulism recently much to our dismay. This is a disease caused by eating foods contaminated with the botulin toxin. In the past this disease, which is 65% fatal, has been primarily associated with home canned foods. But recently numerous cases have been attributed to commercially canned goods. Lack of sanitation, insufficient cooking and improper storage may cause the bacteria to increase to dangerous levels.

What can you do to protect your family from the dangers of botulism? 1. When you are canning at home, cook food at least 30 minutes at 240 degrees F. 2. Avoid use of jars from swollen or leaking cans or jam whether home or commercially canned goods. 3. Always wash your hands with soap and water after handling any leaking can or jar. 4. Always return any swollen or leaking food cans or jars to the store where you bought it. Not only can you get your money back but this also alerts the manager to the possible danger of contaminated food.

This is the time of year when we are busy reorganizing 4-H clubs in Hansford County. Some of you may not realize the scope of 4-H. Four H is an organization for boys and girls from 9-19 to develop leadership, citizenship and teach subject matter. Anyone may join who is willing to work on a project and attend the monthly meetings. If you have a child who is interested in being a 4-Her but who has not yet joined please call the home demonstration agents of-rice at 659-2030 or the county agents office at 659-2136.

In order to be of the greatest benefit to our young people 4-H needs the support and help of volunteer adult leaders. If you have an interest in cooking, sewing, home decoration, insects, livestock, etc. and are willing to spend several days a year as advisors to a project group of 4-Hers you are desperately needed. We'd appreciate your calling the extension office and letting us know of your specific interests and times you could work with the youngsters.

Want to remind the Senior Citizens of their special day at the Tri-State Fair. This will be on Thursday, September 23. On this day all persons with Medicare cards will be admitted free. A special program has been planned with gifts being presented to the oldest lady and gentleman, one who lives farthest from Amarillo, has the most living children etc. We have been asked to let the fair association know approximately how many will attend from Hansford County so plans may be made accordingly. If you think you might be going please call us at 659-2030 by Friday, September 17 and we will notify the fair officials.

Would like to remind you that I am doing a regular radio program over KBMF-FM at 6:45 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Why don't you give me a listen sometime?
