The City Beautification Committee met in session Tuesday morning to further plans to clean-up Spearman of trash, weeds & rubbish, old abandoned cars and buildings. This committee, backed by a large majority of the citizens of this town, have drawn up long-range plans to rid Spearman of such eye-sores and a giant step in this direction was made at the meeting Tuesday.

A map of the city was divided into sections and representatives from various civic groups and organizations drew for numbered sections. Each group will canvass its designated section of the town, block-by-block making notes of weeds, old cars, barns, buildings, etc. which need to be removed.

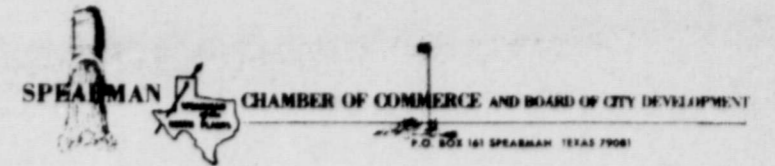

These findings will be submitted at a meeting set for Oct. 19 at which time the names of all land owners will be listed for committee members. These land owners will then be contacted and asked to comply with city ordinances in the removal of unsightly & unused buildings and machinery, etc.

After a given length of time, if property owners have not obeyed such ordinances, the task will then be turned over to city officials. If the city has to do the work, a charge and/or fine will be assessed against the property owner.

This clean-up committee, interested in making Spearman a more attractive city, met recently with City Aldermen and submitted its plans and asked the council to help with the task. The City Council went to work immediately drawing up ordinances where needed to comply with a general city-wide clean-up. These ordinances have been published in the legal columns of this newspaper for the past several weeks.

The public is asked to cooperate with this committee in making our city a better place in which to live.

Twelve persons, representing various civic groups and organizations were present at the meeting Tuesday morning along with J.L. Brock, chairman, and Dr. Tom Latta, Chamber committee member.

What Is A Football Player?

By Charles Loftus, Director of Sports Information, Yale University

BETWEEN the innocence of boyhood and the dignity of man, we find a sturdy creature called a football player. Football players come in assorted weights, heights, jersey colors, and numbers, but all football players have the same creed: to play every second of every minute of every period of every game to the best of their ability.

FOOTBALL players are found everywhere—underneath, on top of, running around, jumping over, passing by, twisting from or driving through the enemy. Teammates rib them, officials penalize them, students cheer them, kid brothers idolize them, coaches criticize them, college girls adore them, alumni tolerate them, and mothers worry about them. A football player is Courage in cleats, Hope in a helmet, Pride in pads, and the best of Young Manhood in molenskins.

When your team is behind, a football player is incompetent, careless, indecisive, lazy, uncoordinated, and stupid. Just when your team threatens to turn the tide of battle, he misses a block, fumbles the ball, drops a pass, jumps offside, falls down, runs the wrong way, or completely forgets his assignment. A FOOTBALL player is a composite—he eats like Notre Dame, sleeps like Notre Dame, but, more often than not, plays like Grand Canyon High. To an opponent publicity man, he has the speed of a gazelle, the strength of an ox, the size of an elephant, the cunningness of a fox, the agility of an adagio dancer, the quickness of a cat, and the ability of Red Grange, Glen Davis, Bronco Nagurski, and Jim Thorpe combined.

TO HIS own coach he has, for press purposes, the stability of a mule, the fleetness of a snail, the mentality of a mule, is held together by adhesive tape, bailing wire, sponge rubber, and has about as much chance of playing on Saturday as would his own grandfather.

TO AN ALUMNUS a football player is someone who will never kick as well, run as far, block as viciously, tackle as hard, fight as fiercely, give as little ground, score as many points, or generate nearly the same amount of spirit as did those particular players of his own yesteryear.

A FOOTBALL player likes game films, trips away from home, practice sessions without pads, hot showers, long runs, whirlpool baths, recovered fumbles, points after touchdowns, and the quiet satisfaction which comes from being part of a perfectly executed play. He is not much for wind sprints, sitting on the bench, rainy days, aftergame compliments, ankle wraps, scouting reports, or calisthenics.

NO ONE ELSE looks forward so much to September or so little to December. Nobody gets so much pleasure out of knocking down, hauling out, or just plain bringing down the enemy. Nobody else can cram into one mind assignments for an end run, an off-tackle slant, a jump pass, a quarterback sneak, a dive play, punt protection, kick-off returns, a buck lateral, goal line stands, or a spinner cycle designed to result in a touchdown every time it is tried.

A FOOTBALL player is a wonderful creature—you can criticize him, but you can't discourage him. You can defeat his team, but you can't make him quit. You can get him out of a game, but you can't get him out of football. Might as well admit it—be you alumnus, coach or fan—he is your personal representative on the field, your symbol of fair and hard play. He may not be an All-American, but he is an example of the American way. He is judged, not for his race, not for his religion, not for his social standing, or not for his finances, but by the democratic yardstick of how well he blocks, tackles, and sacrifices individual glory for the over-all success of his teams.

HE IS A HARD-working, untiring, determined kid doing the very best he can for his school or college. And when you come out of a stadium, grousing and feeling upset that your team has lost, he can make you mighty ashamed with just two sincerely spoken words—"We tried!"

Kick-off at Gruver Friday nite 8 p. m.

J.L. Brock, chairman of the City Beautification Committee, goes over plans for the city-wide clean up with Mrs. John Bishop, right and Mrs. Roy Russell.

CLEAN UP SPEARMAN---Is the plans of a committee made up from a large cross-section of the citizens of Spearman. This group met to make more plans Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Fisher "Hobbyist" Of the Month

Mrs. Pete (Alta) Fisher's art work is on display at the Hansford Library this month.

Mrs. Fisher was invited to be "one of the artists of the month" for the current year. However, Alta said she did not feel she has acquired the title of "artist". Mrs. Fisher enjoys the entire scope of arts and crafts, because it is a constantly changing field that requires a knowledge and skill in many different art forms. She enjoys doing many types of art work, and is not just a slave to pictures to hang on the wall. She prefers to be called "Hobbyist of the month" rather than "artist."

In fact Mrs. Fisher is a novice in the oil painting field, having had only 10 lessons. However, her pictures reveal a definite talent in this field.

Mrs. Fisher tole paints, paints china, does decoupage, purses and plaques and enjoys restoring old trunks. If it stands still, she paints it!

She has studied with Mrs. Ann Thom of Gruver; David Slade of Albuquerque, Anna Cameron and Margo Cox of Amarillo and various local artists.

Among other hobbies she enjoys is knitting, needlepoint, snow skiing and playing golf.

The wife of Pete Fisher, owner of Cut Rate Grocery, the couple has one son, Tim Fisher, who is currently stationed with the Navy in Barbados, West Indies. The oil painting above is a still life of Tim's horn and drum done in brilliant reds and golds. She is busy at present painting a large chest for her son.

Mrs. Fisher commutes to Amarillo once a week where she is enrolled in a special Arts & Crafts class, and to Gruver where she is taking lessons in oils from Mrs. Ann Thom.

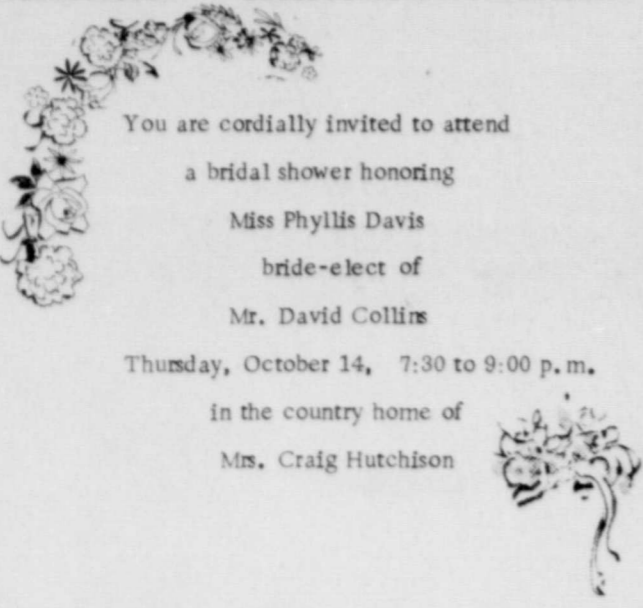

The public is invited to visit the Library this month and view her outstanding display of art pieces and pictures.

Let Me See
by Sybil...

Our editor and fearless leader marched in this week and announced to the crew that Oct. 10 thru 16th is Newspaper Week. This met with such a rousing response that you could hear the ink dry. So what? Around here every week is newspaper week. Personally I would get much more excited over Fun & Games week.

Our leader was not to be put off. What did we intend to do about it? I was wholeheartedly in favor of taking the week off and celebrating it properly. This didn't seem to be what he had in mind. Our shop foreman Yarbrough suggested that we could probably do our readers a favor by not going to press this week. Then everyone else could celebrate. This met with 20 lashes. Elmer Faye (our type setter & bookkeeper) proffered the idea that we might print this entire edition in red--you know, a red letter edition. Our editor put thumbs down on that as he muttered something about we were already in the red. He had the idea that the entire staff write testimonials (in blood) telling how much we loved the newspaper. We all quickly agreed to "die" if we could use his blood.

Anyway, one week of Oct. 10-16 is National Newspaper Week and this is the one time during the year when the more than 9,000 weekly and daily newspapers of the nation join hands as a group and make concerted effort to promote a better understanding of newspapers and the vital role they play in preserving the great American way of life. The American exercise of the right to a free press is not perfect, but the fact it is the best there is was not achieved easily. Freedom of the press is not the exclusive property of the newspapers. It belongs to each citizen. You might say it this way... this non-profit organization is owned and operated by US, but it is YOUR newspaper.

It is not easy---at times it is most difficult---to try and please so many masters, and yet be subservient to none.

I suppose an editor is not meant to be loved, (who in public service is?) If he seeks affection and popularity, he should be in public relations. If he publishes the hot issues because he thinks the community is entitled to know, he catches it from the left...if he ducks the hot issues, people quote him the proverb from Poor Richard's Almanac which says "It is hard for an empty sack to stand upright."

We couldn't do without our big daily newspapers...but on the other hand everyone enjoys their little community newspapers too. Where but in your small weekly newspaper do you find such interesting articles (with a story between every line) as Jimmy's black dog with a spot on his tail is lost. Please return to Jimmy who is lonely. Mrs. Franzetti wishes to thank her friends for their kindness during her bereavement. And the ever present man who wishes it known that he will no longer be responsible for debts--other than his own. Or the important notice which reads "Anyone found near my chicken house at night will be found there the next morning."

Small town weekly newspapers are interested in you, your children, your club news, their scout dens, who has had a baby, who has died, married, moved away, had company, made the school honor roll, etc., etc. To the townspeople, our newspaper serves as a great topic for conversation (good and bad). You gotta have SOMETHING to talk about in this small community. To the publicity seeker, it is a haven; to the publicity shy, a source of annoyance. To some it brings good news, to others sad tidings.

There are many ways you readers can show your respect to your beloved newspaper. This week when you wrap the garbage up in the REPORTER, put a bow on top. When the kiddies wipe their muddy feet on somebody's bride, ask them to say "thank you." This week when you scream "on the paper!" at the puppy give him the opportunity to cover some of our finer reading material. He might like a shot at this chatter from the Let Me See column.

You gals who are up to your eyeballs in fall housecleaning have a wonderful opportunity to show your respect to the REPORTER. As you paint the kitchen walls, stand on one of the editorials and give it your full support. As baby watches you do your painting, place him tenderly on the Editor's column. This way he can really absorb knowledge from the bottom up.

I could go on and on with public service activities of the newspaper, but right now I can't think of any more. However, I rest assured that for all the many important uses I have left out---someone will tell me about them later today.

So--on the occasion of National Newspaper Week (I know that sends a little tremor of excitement coursing through your bloodstream)--it is good to pause for a moment and reflect upon the many ways your local newspaper serves you. So this week when your Reporter or Plainsman goes by, stand up and salute.

What else costs so little, is so useful, and adds so much to your life?

Purcell Known As Post Office Watchdog

WASHINGTON, Action by United States Postmaster General Winton Blount postponing a scheduled sale of Postal Service bonds was termed "a step in the right direction," today by U.S. Representative Graham Purcell (D-Tex.).

Purcell questioned the propriety of the selection of President Nixon's former New York law firm to provide legal assistance to the new Postal Service in a letter to the White House last Friday. The letter also pointed out serious deficiencies in the capabilities of two of the underwriting firms selected to handle the sale of up to $10 billion in Postal Service bonds.

In his statement issued today, Purcell re-emphasized that Congress created the new Postal Service "to take the Post Office out of politics." Noting that the Administration has taken significant credit for the new Service, the senior North Texas lawmaker said, "They can have the credit now for what may be one of the biggest political fiascos of the year--involving tens of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money."

Purcell, who has earned the reputation of a Post Office watchdog for his successful investigation of deliberate cutbacks in Texas postal service last year and more recently for his role in the discovery of possibly unlawful activity surrounding the issue of the Postal Service bonds, is a veteran member of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

WTSU Grant For Disease Study

Canyon, Tex--The West Texas State University School of Agriculture announced today a $10,000 research grant to study diseased calves in commercial feed yards of the Texas Panhandle.

The grant was made by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Research Committee. The research will be undertaken by John W. McNeill, acting head of the school's Department of Animal Science.

McNeill said the "main problem confronting the cattle industry was developing an economic and effective regime for preventing and treating diseases of calves coming into the area."

He said the problem has been intensified because of competition for replacement cattle in the rapidly expanding feed yards.

"Prices have increased, and as a consequence, more stockmen have resorted to lighter weight calves to place on feed," he said. "Even though these lighter calves represent a cheaper per head investment, they demand more intensive management and disease control practices."

McNeill said changes in environment, shipping stress, dehydration and ration changes generally result in respiratory diseases.

"Death losses are certainly a problem, but probably of greater economic concern is weight loss and reduced performance resulting from diseases," he said.

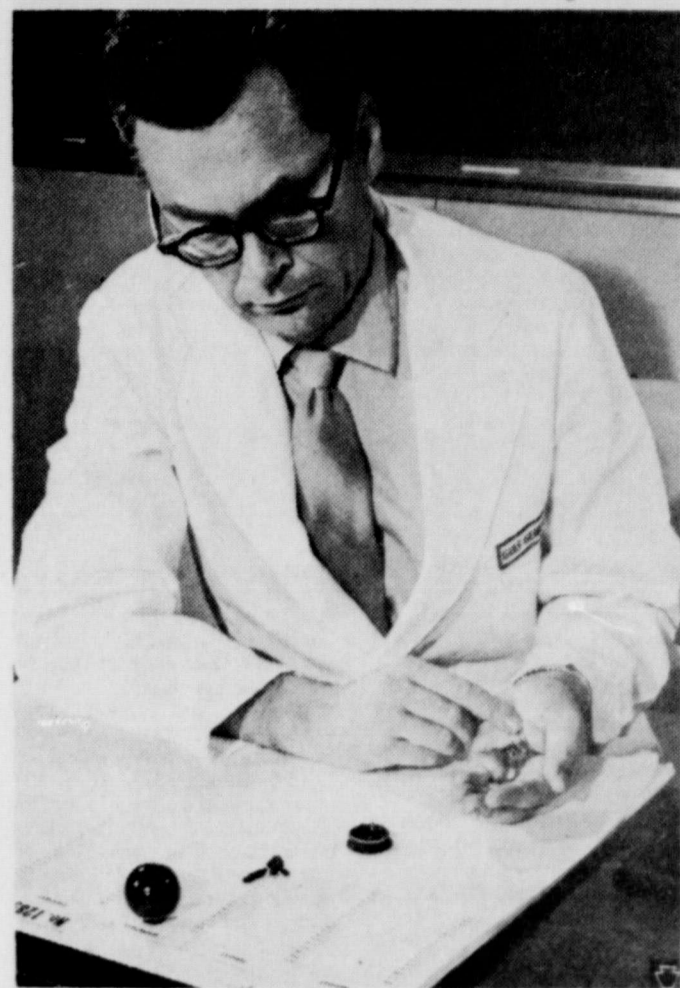

"We can't put a price tag on the loss. A majority of the cattle are affected to some degree."

In the beginning the research will seek preventive medicines to be used in the feed yards, he said, but "we would like to extend it to the producer's end."

McNeill said there are many drugs available for use on diseased animals but most drug companies test their products on healthy animals.

"The diseased animal is physiologically different from a healthy animal. This alteration of physiological processes may alter the absorption and distribution of the drugs used in treatment to such an extent that they are no longer as effective as claimed," McNeill said.

New Material For Human Implants

Pyrolite Carbon, used to coat nuclear fuel pellets such as Dr. Jack Bokros is holding in his hand, is finding additional uses in medical applications because of its durability and inertness to the chemistry of the human body. Developed by Gulf Energy & Environmental Systems, a division of Gulf Oil Corporation, the carbon is being used on artificial heart valves (next to Dr. Bokros' hand), and is under study for dental implants, balls for artificial hip joints (both shown here) and whole artificial hearts. Pyrolite Carbon was developed to clad nuclear materials, such as uranium and thorium, and in a power reactor withstands the force of fission inside each pellet, permitting only clean heat to escape.

The university will obtain the calves to be used from the Central Cattle Co., a division of Mesa Agro, Inc., of Amarillo. The research will be carried out at the university's Nance Hereford Ranch.

McNeill said the grant came about after Don Jobs, assistant manager of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, toured Panhandle feed yards and saw the problem.

The money will be used to purchase vaccine, feed, equipment and help cover undue death loss, McNeill said.

The study was initiated for one year, McNeill said, but "I hope funds will be renewed. I would like to see a minimum of three years for this research."

The experiment facility at the Nance Ranch is scaled to approximate commercial feed yards. About 500 head of cattle will be used.

Dr. John Coleman, veterinarian in charge of the diagnostic clinic at Texas A&M University's Bushland facility will assist in the project.

"All information derived from the experiment would be subjected to routine analysis of variance to determine the statistical validity of the findings," McNeill said.

Visiting with Mrs. Terry Schneider Sunday were her mother, Aka Faye Harrelson of Follett and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gustin of Book-er.

The Wage-Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

Q-- Can travel agencies raise their prices on tours in foreign countries?

A--Yes. Travel agents can raise prices on tours to the extent that the costs of foreign services offered in the tour package, such as foreign hotel rates, restaurant meals transportation costs, etc., are increased. However, prices cannot be raised on that part of the tour package relating to services in the U.S. In addition, markup for overhead and profit cannot be raised.

The records of the travel agency must clearly establish that each increase meets this test. If it cannot be so demonstrated, this exemption will not apply to the increase.

Q--I'm a Federal employee and I'm supposed to get a within-grade increase next month. Can I still get this raise?

A--No. Merit and longevity increases, such as Federal Government within-grade raises, are not permitted during the freeze.

Q--My landlord is installing dishwashers in each apartment in my development. Can he use this as a reason to raise rent during the freeze?

A--An increase in rent can be charged for property which undergoes a substantial capital improvement, such as this, if this improvement equals at least three months rent with a minimum of $250 and would be classified as a capital improvement by the Internal Revenue Service. If these conditions are met, the unit may be treated as a new apartment, with rent no higher than that charged on comparable apartments in the market area. Also, your monthly rent must not increase by more than 1 1/2 percent of the amount spent for capital improvement.

Q--Who is running the wage-price freeze program?

A--The new Cost of Living Council determines the policies of the freeze and the Office of Emergency Preparedness answers questions and investigates complaints. Assistance with information and complaints is provided by 360 Internal Revenue Service offices throughout the country and 2,800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Q--Can my union raise dues during the freeze?

A--No. Dues for professional associations, trade associations, unions, country clubs, etc., are a fee for service, and, as such, are frozen.

CONGRESSMAN BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT—TEXAS

In remarks on the House floor today, Congressman Bob Price stated his opposition to the two-China-United Nations proposal:

"The present U.S. proposal to create a two-China United Nations policy is extremely ill-considered. It is one thing for the President to exchange communications with the leaders of Red China -- after all, our Nation cannot continue to act as if the most populous nation in the world does not exist; however, it is quite another thing to welcome them into the United Nations, a proposal which I violently oppose. I have been a longtime opponent of United States participation in the United Nations and as late as last December urged our withdrawal from the organization. It is my contention that seating Communist China in the United Nations would only serve to further reduce the organization's ability to maintain world order. When we consider the realities of the Peoples Republic of China, we find a government which enslaves its own people, continues to support hostilities in Viet Nam, and actively promotes revolution in neighboring countries. Seating the Peking delegation in the United Nations would provide Communist China a legitimate forum from which to pursue her oft-stated illegitimate goals at even a greater peril to the free nations of the world. Those who maintain that the Peoples Republic of China would have a better incentive to be peaceful if it gained membership in the United Nations have only to remember Neville Chamberlain's policy of appeasement toward Nazi Germany and the resulting costs to Europe and the United States in World War II. Will we never learn that aggression is not stopped by yielding to it?"

"Before Communist China is provided the opportunity to sit in world councils, it should be required to demonstrate a sincere interest in protecting human rights and pursuing world peace by acting responsibly and justly toward its own citizens as well as the citizens of other countries. The tyrannical state of the Chinese Communist government is graphically shown by the continued stream of people who are willing to risk their lives and the safety of their loved ones by fleeing the mainland and joining the teeming refugee colonies in and around Hong Kong."

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Her boyfriend enjoys his single way of life

By PAT AND MARILYN DAVIS
Copley News Service

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
I am 23 years old, have my own apartment, my own car and a good job. Most people I meet seem to like me and I never had trouble finding dates.

Joe and I have been going together three years and became engaged about six months ago. He has been out of college about two years and his salary is good, but every time we talk about setting a date for the wedding, Joe finds some excuse why we can't get married. The reasons he gives are so weak I just feel he doesn't want to marry anyone. Yet, he has never gone out with anyone else and is a perfect gentleman. Help!

Baffled

Dear Baffled:
Joe has many advantages with this arrangement. He has a girl who is always there and a permanent social calendar and no responsibility. Let Joe worry for a while. Tell him you agree that marriage is not in the immediate future for either of you. You might suggest to him that you both find other interests, and don't see him so often.

When he discovers that others find you interesting, he just might change his tune to "Here Comes the Bride."

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
Life is hopeless! I feel that it is of no use to go on. No one really cares if I live or die. I am 19 years old, unmarried and pregnant. The father of the child is married and has two children.

It is strange just how stupid a girl can be. I met John at night school. He was very nice and the first man that I have loved. We began meeting each other at a motel.

My parents have been abroad and they know nothing of my problem. When I told John I was pregnant, he announced that he didn't need another wife and child.

I feel that my worth as a human being is zero. The baby is due in a couple of weeks and an adoption will be arranged. What can I tell myself to keep going?

Just Dumb

Dear Just:
I am sure you realize that others have had to face your same problem. If each one of us gave up all hope for happiness when we made an error, few people would ever be content. True, your mistake was a big one. However, confide in your parents. I am sure they can be of help. Tell your doctor how you feel. He may wish to recommend a counseling service. Good luck.

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
I am 14 years old and I do well in school. My parents want me to go to a private school next fall and I want to go to the public high school near my home. They tell me that the teachers will help me more in the school they have chosen. It does have a good reputation and the size of each class is smaller. They also say that fewer of the young people there use drugs and it would be a better atmosphere for me. Is this true?

I just want to go to a school where all my friends are. Why won't my parents see it my way?

Trapped

Dear Trapped:
I am assuming that you and your parents have discussed this matter fully. If they are firm in their opinion, why not give it a try for one year?

Keep an open mind and develop some new friends. Don't condemn the school your parents have selected until you have tried it.

If you have a question, write Pat and Marilyn Davis, Copley News Service, P. O. Box 12, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

MOST COMMON, EASILY CURED CANCER

Skin cancer, the most common form of cancer in America, is the least dangerous and is slow growing. It may be easily cured in a doctor's office, says the American Cancer Society. So don't delay if you find any change in size or color of a wart, mole, or a dry, scaly patch of skin, or any lump, bump or pimple that doesn't clear up in two weeks. See your doctor!

What had been a loyalist to the Crown was reversed increasingly, however, both by arbitrary policies of the Royal governors as early as 1660, and particularly by the acts of the regime of George III, which began in 1760.

Peculiar People

God is looking for peculiar people. You might think He already has all the peculiar people He can handle. But not the kind He wants. God has said, "If only you will now listen to Me, and keep My covenant, then out of all peoples you shall become My special possession; for the whole earth is Mine. You shall be My kingdom of priests, My holy nation." (Exodus 19, New English Bible)

Easy Harvestime Feast
Reaping the harvest and delighting in fresh aromas from the kitchen are part of the nostalgia of autumn for most Americans. Sound out of reach today? Not at all! Fond memories linger on in a new and tasty casserole recipe developed in the Kraft Kitchens. But use of delicious, creamy Macaroni and Cheese Packaged Dinner makes the recipe strictly "today"—perfect for the busy cook getting children ready for school or welcoming guests after a favorite sports event.

- Harvest Bake
- 1 pkg. Kraft Macaroni and Cheese Dinner
 - 1 7-oz. can tuna, drained, flaked
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 2 tomatoes, chopped
 - Kraft Grated Parmesan Cheese
 - Fresh bread crumbs
 - Parkay Margarine, melted
- Prepare dinner as directed on package. Add tuna, milk and tomatoes; mix lightly. Pour into 10 x 6-inch baking dish. Top with additional tomato slices sprinkled with cheese. Surround with bread crumbs tossed with margarine. Bake at 350°, 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

God in Man
Anyone, these days, who "listens to God" and "keeps His covenant" is peculiar. He prays and reads the Bible to find out how to live. He believes God is not only watching his life but actually working things out every day to use his life in a planned way. He cooperates with God by not mistreating people — lying about them, stealing from them, being jealous of them. He controls his natural tendencies toward selfishness and instead respects people, not misusing anyone socially, sexually, or in any other way. In short, he tries to love other people just as much as he loves himself and to treat them just as well. All this is possible, he believes, not because he is a special person; rather, it is because the Spirit of God lives in his body.

Vernon Wins 1st

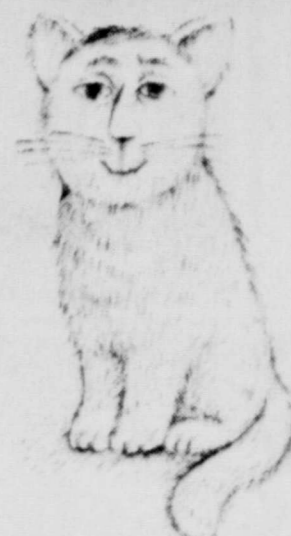

Scott Vernon, SHS junior and a member of Boy Scout Troop 51, won first place in a national public speaking contest held October 1 in Pampa.

The contest is being sponsored jointly by the Reader's Digest Association and the Boy Scouts of America to provide a program of interest to all Boy Scout members by bringing to their attention the many opportunities offered by participation in the program of Scouting.

The contest provides opportunity for the more proficient speakers and a challenge to those speakers who are determined to improve themselves. Scott, 16-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Vernon, is an outstanding speech student in SHS and has won numerous awards in this field at various tournaments throughout the state.

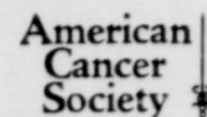

Scott is a member of Boy Scout Troop 51, sponsored in Spearman by the Lions Club. He has been an active member of scouting since he was 8 years old. Vernon prepared his own 7-minute speech on the topic "Youth's Responsible Involvement" by winning first in the district contest, Vernon will speak at the regional meet which will be held Nov. 6 at Lubbock. The winner of regional will go to Washington, D.C. to compete nationally for a $5,000,00 scholarship.

PREPARATION CAN AVOID TRAGEDY FROM FIRES

A great majority of the 100 lives taken by fires in city homes last week needlessly lost because families failed to plan escape measures, according to the National Fire Protection Association.

1. Pick an escape route. For upper floor escape, a window may be your only alternate route. Use any available roof-porch, shed or garage--a: ways down to safety. If necessary, install a ladder. Locate children in bedrooms with easy rooftop access.
2. Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet for "roll-call" and be sure everyone understands that the house must not be reentered for any purpose.
3. Establish ways to call the fire department from an outside or a neighbor's phone, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.

Linda Schaefer en route from Canyon, stopped in Amarillo and picked up her cousin, Jacky Millwood, and traveled on to Spearman where they spent the weekend with Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schaefer.

Qualified Voter To Be Permanently Registered

VOTER REGISTRATION UNDERWAY—For the first time under Texas law, registration will entitle the voter to vote for successive "voting years" and each time you vote during a year, you are automatically re-registered for another 3 years. The certificate you sign for from now until January 31, 1972, will be permanent, if used according to specifications, so reserve it! Mrs. Vicki Warren, above, displays the new voter registration certificates available now at the County Tax office in the courthouse.

Voter registration certificates have been mailed to every tax payer in Hansford County. These forms MUST BE SIGNED and returned to the office in order for you to become a qualified voter in 1972. Tax officials Tuesday that many people return the forms, but fail to sign them. If you do not receive a certificate through the mail, you may call in person at the County Tax office in Spearman so that you may register in elections in 1972. The voter registration law has been changed somewhat, and all persons are urged to take note of the latest rule changes. At the first time since the new law, Texas law provides for permanent registration, Under Senate Bill 51, registration will entitle the voter to vote for three successive "voting years" in place of one year, under the current annual registration system. For the first time, under Texas law, voters may register by voting, a common practice in other states with permanent voter registration systems. After a person receives his voter registration certificate, he is urged to preserve it in plastic or some other enclosure, for this will be his permanent form. A qualified voter is automatically re-registered for another three successive voting years when he votes in a general or primary election, including a run-off. Registrars will make yearly checks to determine who failed to vote during the preceding three years, the first 3-year period commencing in 1972. Non-voters will be notified by mail that they will be dropped from the registration lists unless they return the notice affirming their qualifications. The new registration system removes the old January 31 deadline registration. Any qualified elector may apply for a voter registration certificate at any time. The registrar will issue a voter registration certificate which will be effective for any election 30 DAYS AFTER the application is received. In other words, you may register to vote at any time, but your certificate does not become valid until after the expiration of 30 days. The 1972 voting year begins March 1, 1972. The initial voter registration period is October 1, 1971 to January 31, 1972. All these registrations received prior to Jan. 31 are effective on March 1, 1972.

A person who moves from one precinct to another in the same county may vote in the precinct of his former residence for 30 days unless he transfers his registration during that time. He may vote in his new precinct five days after official transfer of registration. A person MUST ALWAYS notify the registrar of any address change. Persons who change their residence from one county to another must register anew in accordance with procedures for new registrants but for the first six months he may vote a limited ballot, using the registration certificate of the former county as evidence of registration. 1972 is a Presidential Election year and everyone will want to vote. In order for you to be eligible, you will want to register with the county tax office in Spearman.

LYNX GO TO GRUVER FRIDAY NIGHT

Texas and Oklahoma play football Saturday to determine the champions of Oklahoma and Texas and Friday night at Gruver, the black and red Greyhounds will meet the purple and white Lynx to decide the Hansford County Championship.

Last year, when these two teams were to play in Spearman 15 inches of snow was on the playing field and the game had to be postponed until Saturday night. The Lynx squeaked by 7-6, in their hardest game of the season. This one at Gruver Friday night promises to be just as tough.

So far this year, both teams have the same win-loss record. Spearman lost their opener to Sunray, their second game to Canyon and their third game to Wheeler. They won their 4th game against Stratford last Friday night. Gruver also has a 1-3 record. They lost their opener to Stinnett, their second game to Phillips, their third to Wellington and won their 4th outing at Booker last Friday night. By comparative scoring, the game promises to be a "barn burner."

Of course, weather permitting, Spearman is planning to send 5,000 fans to Gruver Friday night. And, Gruver will also have plenty of fans out to see their Greyhounds.

Spearman's quarterback Scott Beedy seemed to have "found himself" last Friday night as he scored two touchdowns for the Lynx and played a real fine type ball game. The big "Craig Morton" type quarterback, could turn out to be one of the finest football players in the school's history, as he has a fantastic throwing ability and the team works well with him. Of course, Spearman has a whole host of fine running backs and plenty of power in the line. The Lynx like the Hounds have lost some good boys to injuries and some have moved but both teams will be in top shape for the game Friday night.

Kick off will be at 8 p. m. at Greyhound Stadium. Plan to attend.

Mrs. Jimmy Shieldknight, Study Club project chairman, presented winners in each grade with $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00 prize money for their fire prevention poster ideas.

"YOU NAME IT" by Billy Miller

Do you remember the big 15 inch snow of one year ago? It happened on Thursday evening, just before the big Spearman-Gruver football game. It was one of the few times in history that it was impossible to play football at the local field because of any type of moisture. The game was postponed to Saturday night last year and the Lynx won the thriller 7-6. We are in for another one of those thrillers this Friday at Gruver, but I don't expect that much snow this weekend. However, we could have some different kind of weather. The weather has been so pretty this month, it is hard to believe.

I journeyed to Canyon Saturday to watch the bubbling Buffaloes, and they sure put on a show. They almost upset the Tulsa team and I plan to go back this Saturday night and watch the Arlington-WT game. While in Canyon, I visited the tennis complex at the college. They have about 14 lights per court, and several of the courts have rubber surfaces on them. I plan to take my tennis rackets and shoes over this Saturday and try and play a game on the soft, spongy rubber course. It looks like it will be terrific. My congratulations to WT for such a fine football and tennis program.

We have been "getting with it" at the newspaper office for the past eight or ten days. We have been upgrading our photo department and also have gone into the office-machine cleaning and repair business. We have been very successful in both endeavors and along with our printing, really plan to make some improvements in our operation. So far, we have cleaned and tuned up many machines, and have never had a complaint. All of our work is guaranteed, and we live right here where you can contact us on a moment's notice. Incidentally, we will also have plenty of new typewriters, etc. in the future. Plus some calculators and computers. And, please, if you're adding machine or typewriter hasn't been cleaned or tuned up in quite some time, bring it in or call us, and let us get to it before it "totals out." You would be surprised at the things that we get out of these machines. So far the oldest machine we have repaired has been the Santa Fe typewriter. It is a "doll" and has a wooden roller for a platen (covered with rubber). Our local depot agent still uses it however and we think it is as good as new, now that we have put it through our shop. The biggest piece of steel we have found in a machine, was one of the Gulf electric machines, which had a building-nail in it. We saved this to show Alton and Peggy because we couldn't believe our own eyes when we found this thing wedged in the machine. Alton wisely let us tune up both of his electric machines, and so he has no worries about them for a long time. I missed my first Chamber of Commerce luncheon last week, when Ab Abston's calculator went out on him but we got that rascal fixed in top shape and back on the job. I sure hate to miss my C. of C. dinners however, but it won't happen again.

No wonder we so called Christians have been such poor witnesses for Christ. Actually, the way some of us act, who would want to become a Christian? Or in other words, can we show what the new birth, or what Christ has done for us? Of course, we show it in our daily living, and what kind of a witness are we? This newspaper has a better than 2,000 paid circulation, and how many times have you read in this paper the importance of your knowing Christ as your personal Saviour? I have been doing a little thinking along this line, and have come up with some cold facts. If you are past 40 and don't know Christ you are treading on thin ice. Or if you are past 40 and are overweight some 10 to 50 lbs., and don't know Christ, you need to start praying at least for salvation, and also try and lose some weight. Or, if you smoke, drink or drive your car excessively fast you need to know Christ. If you are under tremendous pressure with your daily routine of business, you may be doing more damage to your heart than any of the above practices, so you sure need Christ in your everyday business affairs. Now, if you drink, smoke, over-eat, drive fast, get all "shook up" occasionally in your business affairs, owe a lot of money, and none of your kids will do what you want them to do, you sure do need to know Christ. So, if you fit in any of the above categories, start reading your Bible more and for your sake (not God's sake), "turn it all over to the Lord, and let him help you." And, in the meantime, pray for your editor that he will do a better job and lose some of this fat. I am sure having a time keeping this weight off for 1 year. Remember, Nov. 1st, will be 1 year since I started on my diet, and it is tough.

Remember, be a better witness for Christ by showing what Christ has done for you. Most of us have such a hard time witnessing, because no one wants to act like a Christian, that has "dead lice" falling off of his body. If you know Christ, show it, by being enthusiastic about your Saviour, your town and your fellow man. The hardest part of being a Christian, is having to love your neighbor, but that is one of the commandments. Read your Bible this week and remember the revival now going on at the First Baptist Church in Spearman. Come on out and hear some good singing and preaching this week, each night at 7:30 p. m.

See you at the big Baptist Revival... in Spearman... tonite at 7:30

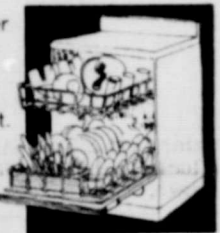

DONATIONS NEEDED FOR XMAS DECOR

The Board of Directors the Spearman Chamber of Commerce met in general session Monday night and set January 24 as the date for the annual banquet. Other business to come before the board included the ordering of Christmas decorations. Last year the FFA boys at school made large iron tree-forms which were placed on main street. Lights and tinsel are needed to complete these, and decorations will be placed this year in the Shopping Center. These decorations received many compliments and since it is the cheapest form of holiday decor yet, the Chamber feels everyone will want to help with contributions toward this project. Donations are needed. Chunky Blackburn submitted the list of nominees for new board members. Ballots will be in the mail soon to each Chamber member. Six board members will be selected from a list of 12. These men will serve two year terms. Chamber President Gene Cadd presided at the session Monday night. Other board members present included Junior Lusby, Carl Reed, Kent Guthrie, Chunky Blackburn, Jim Evans, Faye Palmer, Dan Desjone, Tom Latta.

An Old, Old Story With A New Twist

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD... WITH A RUSSIAN-AMERICAN TWIST

Once upon a time, in a faraway country, there lived a little girl called Red Riding Hood. One day her mother asked her to take a basket of fruit to her grandmother, who had been ill and lived alone in a cottage in the forest.

It happened that a wolf was lurking in the bushes and overheard the conversation. He decided to take a short-cut through the grandmothers house and get the goodies for himself. The wolf killed the grandmother, then dressed in her nightgown and jumped into bed to await the little girl.

When she arrived, he made several nasty suggestions and tried to grab her. But by this time, the child was very frightened and ran screaming from the cottage.

A woodcutter, working nearby, heard her cries and rushed to the rescue. He killed the wolf with his axe, thereby saving Red Riding Hood's life. All the townspeople hurried to the scene and proclaimed the woodcutter a hero.

At the inquest, several facts emerged. The wolf had never been advised of his rights. The woodcutter had made no warning swings before striking the fatal blow.

The civil liberties union stressed the point that, although the act of eating grandma may have been in had by the wolf was only "doing his thing" and thus didn't deserve the death penalty.

The SDS contended that the killing of the grandmother should be considered self-defense since she was over 30 years old, therefore, couldn't be taken seriously because the wolf was trying to make love, not war.

On the basis of these considerations, it was decided that there was no valid basis for charges against the wolf. Moreover, the woodcutter was indicted for unaggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Several nights later, the woodcutters cottage was burned to the ground.

One year from the date of "The Incident at Grandmas," the cottage was made a shrine for the wolf who had bled there. All village officials spoke at the dedication, but it was Red Riding Hood who gave the most touching tribute.

She said that, while she had been selfishly grateful for the woodcutters intervention, she realized in retrospect that she had overreacted. As she knelt and placed a wreath of honor on the brave wolf, there wasn't a dry eye in the dark forest.

At the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Short had as guest recently in their home Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harbour and Birch, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Cook and family, all of Cagle, Okla., the Larry Mitchell family, Woodward, Okla., and the R.P. Shorts of Hoger. They celebrated the birthdays of Cathy Short and Charlie Harbour.

ADULT VOCATIONAL PROGRAM BEGINS IN SPEARMAN

An adult vocational program, Conversational Spanish, began in Spearman October 5th and will run thru January 27th. The classes will meet each Tuesday night through October and November, and on Thursday nights December and January. A total of 15 meetings or 45 hours of class work will be held. A minimum of 12 students will be required to have the course. A charge of $10.00 per student will be made, and this includes tuition and books. The class will be limited to 20 students. The classes will be held in room 105, at the high school at 7 p.m. Interested persons may enroll between October 5th and October 12th. Teaching the course will be Glenna McMullan.

NEWS FROM YOUR

Home Demonstration Agent

By Nelle Albrecht

In the last few weeks numerous people have asked the question, "What is Home Demonstration Club?" therefore the following. The purpose of a home demonstration club is to provide learning opportunities for homemakers to improve the quality of their family life. Any woman may join or assist in the organization of a new club. A new club should begin with at least 5 members. Most clubs have a maximum membership of 12-16. A smaller membership is good in that often members actually do what they are learning in a group. If any of you are interested in a new club it can easily be organized to meet in day or evening as preferred by the members.

Clubs do carry out an annual program of work in their twice monthly meetings. Just to give you an idea here are some of the program topics for the 1971-72 year in Hansford County. Right Kitchen Tools, Remodeling, Keeping Food Safe To Eat, Mood Food, Refinishing Furniture, Clothing Accessories and Common Poisonous Plants, Special meetings and workshops are also held on a county wide basis. These will include a Christmas decoration workshop, defensive driving course, home furnishings home study course and furniture refinishing workshop.

Perhaps one of the problems you have in caring for your home is spots on the carpet that just mysteriously appear. There are methods to use to remove them.

If present blot liquid with tissue or scrape off semi-solid material with a knife or spatula. Use a spot cleaner of one quart warm water, one teaspoon gentle detergent (not soap) for fine fabrics, and one teaspoon white vinegar. Dab on cleaner with a clean cloth. Wipe gently from the edges of the spot into the center. This is very important to prevent spreading the spot. Keep the carpet from becoming too wet by blotting it with a dry, clean cloth. Dry the carpet quickly with air from a fan or a vacuum cleaner to prevent mildew.

If the detergent spot cleaner has removed some of the spot use it again. Be sure to brush the carpet tufts back up gently after it has dried.

However, if the detergent spot cleaner has not taken away the spot, try a dry-cleaning solvent used for clothing. Follow the directions on the container. Also, be sure to dab on cleaning fluid gently with a cloth. Again work from the outside toward the center of the spot.

If you would like more information about carpet care call or come by the extension office in Spearman.

The week of Oct. 3-9 is National 4-H Week. This year's theme is "4 H Bridges the Gap."

There are nearly 3-million members enrolled in the 4-H programs through organized clubs, special interest groups and television series. More than a million other youths receive educational assistance from 4-H, bringing total participation to 4-million.

In 1971, individuals, corporations and foundations offer some 265 educational and college scholarships valued at $179,000 to 4-H members. These and 200,000 other awards are arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Some 1,400 youths will receive all-expense paid trips to the 50th National 4-H Congress and other 4-H events through the generosity of donors to the National 4-H Service Committee.

This year marks two Golden Anniversaries of major significance to 4-H. The 50th National 4-H Congress will be held in the Conrad Hilton Hotel Nov. 28-Dec.
