

'HOT DOG' HE'S NOT — Roger Levier assured those who asked that this was not a strange growth on his chest. It is merely his dog, Panama, sharing his master's coat. The temperature in Big Spring soared downward from 66 degrees Tuesday to a low of 18 this morning, weather fit for neither man nor beast.

Senate Reverses Carrillo Action

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate reversed itself today and decided to accept a transcript of a confidential hearing involving District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo. It will take until Monday to prepare copies of the 29-volume transcript for each of the 31 senators.

The Senate recessed until this afternoon to give lawyers on both sides time to work out a plan for duplication of the Judicial Qualifications Commission transcript and also of hundreds of documents.

The trial is expected to resume Monday.

Carrillo's impeachment trial will be shortened by as much as two weeks, some senators said, by avoiding the laborious introduction of that documentary evidence.

The Senate voted 16-11 to accept the South Texas judge's offer of the transcript despite a provision in the Texas Constitution that makes such records confidential without exception.

The vote Tuesday to reject the offer of the transcript was 15-13.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, stressed what he said was the absurdity of pretending the Senate was not violating the confidentiality of the evidence before the commission.

Court Rules Nixon Papers Are Not His

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special three-judge court ruled today that millions of documents and the White House tapes accumulated while Richard M. Nixon was president belong to the government and not to Nixon.

The ruling upholds the constitutionality of a new federal law providing public access to thousands of hours of tapes and about 42 million documents.

The court said, however, that the records of the Nixon years would remain locked up for the present pending a possible Supreme Court appeal by the former president.

The three judges said Nixon's complaint claiming ownership of the records "is dismissed without merit."

Issuing the opinion were U.S. Court of Appeals Judges Carl MacGowan and Edward A. Tamm and U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey E. Robinson Jr.

MEMBER OF ARMED SERVICES PANEL Texas' Senior Senator To Speak At Luncheon

Sen. John Tower, who comes here Friday for a series of appearances, is one of the leading figures in the U.S. Senate.

The Texas senior senator will speak at a luncheon, open to the public, at the Officers Mess at Webb AFB at 12 noon. Service Clubs are being urged to meet jointly with the host American Business Club on that day, said Don Brooks, program chairman. All interested persons are invited and it will be helpful if they call the Chamber of Commerce to make reservations. Tickets for the affair are $4.

Sen. Tower is a ranking member when every senator knew he was looking at that same evidence.

Sen. Don Adams, D-Jasper, agreed. "Senator, I quit 'playing like' when I quit playing like I had a stick horse."

The first witness against Carrillo told the Senate Duval County paid thousands of dollars for rental of nonexistent equipment, and that Carrillo ended up with the money.

Cleofas Gonzalez testified Tuesday at Carrillo's impeachment trial that he wrote invoices for the rentals at the direction of Carrillo's brother, Ramiro, a Duval County commissioner.

Gonzalez is a former employe of the Farm and Ranch Supply Store of Benavides, owned by the Carrillo brothers and through which Duval County made purchases. Gonzalez testified at Carrillo's income tax evasion trial that he worked at the store although he was on the county payroll.

Judge Carrillo's lawyer, Arthur Mitchell of Austin, objected to Gonzalez' testimony on the ground it was hearsay and irrelevant to charges against his client.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, president of the Senate, overruled the objection.

Gonzalez said Ramiro Carrillo told him to make the invoices for a few dollars less than or more than $1,000. Invoices for $1,008, $995, $1,018, $1,005 $1,006, $982 and $1,013 were introduced into evidence.

Mitchell asked Gonzalez if he argued with O. P. Carrillo in May 1972 and has not spoken to him since that time. Gonzalez said he could not remember, that he may have talked to him as recently as 1974.

Mitchell then introduced Gonzalez' sworn testimony before the Judicial Qualifications Commission in which he said, "Yes, I think it was May. Yes sir, it was May because I worked all of June in Corpus Christi."

After Mitchell read that testimony, Gonzalez said: "I didn't say what year." The Senate laughed.

Hobby predicted the trial will take six weeks.

The Senate rejected, 21-7, two postponement motions Tuesday morning.

The Senate first voted 15-13 against accepting an offer by Carrillo to give the Senate the transcript of the commission hearing.

Special Counsel Leon Jaworski told the Senate the Texas Constitution provides no exception to the confidentiality of proceedings before the commission.

of the Armed Services committee and on its sub-panels for control, general legislation, military construction authorization, preparedness investigation, and tactical airpower.

He also is on the banking, housing and urban affairs committees, serving on the sub-committee for financial institutions, housing and urban affairs, international finance and securities. He also is vice chairman of the select committee on intelligence operations, and on defense production.

Sen. Tower has been a member of the Senate since May 27, 1961.

CIA Sending $6 Million To Fight Reds In Italy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA is funneling $6 million to anti-Communist political leaders in Italy to head off what Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger considers alarming advances by the Communist party in Europe, an authoritative source said today.

The money, which represents a dramatic increase in traditional CIA funding of Italian centrist elements, is going directly to members of the Christian Democratic and Socialist parties, the source said.

Disclosure of the aid comes during heated debate over covert U.S. funding for anti-Communist factions fighting in Angola. The Senate has voted to cut off covert funds for Angola. It could not be learned whether any such action was being contemplated on funds for Italy.

A State Department spokesman has declined comment on published reports of funding for Italian anti-Communist political parties.

CIA Director William E. Colby briefed Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and ranking Republican member Clifford Case of

New Jersey on the agency's Italian operation Dec. 8, shortly after the funding decision was made by the Ford administration.

Case refused to confirm or deny the funding, but said he was dissatisfied with the manner in which Congress was given after-the-fact notification of CIA covert operations.

In accordance with a 1974 law, Colby also briefed members of the oversight subcommittee of the House International Relations Committee on Dec. 9. Rep. Wayne

Hays, D-Ohio, a member of the subcommittee, refused to confirm specifics of the CIA operation, but said he had told Colby that "I didn't think it was a very bright idea."

It had been reported previously that the CIA was providing funds to non-Communist parties in Portugal.

Initial reports of the funding for non-Communist parties in Italy were published by The New York Times and The Washington Post.

The Communist party last June won 33 per cent of the vote in balloting conducted in 15 of 20 districts and has boosted its share of the vote by 1 1/2 to 2 per cent in every national election since 1948, the Post noted.

The United States funded non-Communist political groups in Italy for almost 20 years, beginning in 1948 and ending only after covert contributions were disclosed by Ramparts magazine in 1967.

Kissinger said last month that the United States is determined to do whatever it can to prevent Communists from joining in coalition governments in Europe.

'IT'S DONE ALL THE TIME'

Freeing City Prisoner Triggers Squabble

A disagreement over the method by which Meliton Rangel was removed from the city jail on the night of Dec. 20 developed today between city police, and municipal court officials and justice of the peace.

Sgt. Bill Baker of the city police was on the front desk when Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena came in and requested a prisoner (Meliton Rangel).

Sgt. Baker told Chief Stanley Bogard today that he brought the prisoner and a regular bond form and handed the bond to the Peace Justice to sign.

WROTE SOMETHING

"Gus scratched out something on the bond and wrote something on it and took the bond and the prisoner," Sgt. Baker stated.

"I mentioned to him that the highway patrol had arrested the man and that we should notify them and he said, 'I'm the magistrate. I'm the justice of the peace and left.'"

"Nobody was released to me, Justice of Peace Ochotorena said. 'I fixed a personal recognizance bond on him, and he was released.'"

Rangel's wife called him, Ochotorena said, so he went to the police station and effected the recognizance bond.

"He (Rangel) was never told what he was in jail for," Ochotorena added. Magistrates are to sign a form which shows that defendant's have been advised of their rights. There is no such form on file, only the arrest sheet.

County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. said the question was whether a magistrate could authorize release of a prisoner when a law enforcement officer had not requested bond setting.

"I'm going to have to do a little looking in the books," Eysen said. "It's a question I've never encountered before."

NO QUESTION

"Had the officer sent for him and asked him to sit as a magistrate — no question," Eysen said.

Ochotorena said he authorized the personal recognizance bond, because he had known Rangel for a long time, that Rangel had a good reputation, that Rangel owns property here and that Rangel would not flee.

The peace justice said he signed the form authorizing posting of personal recognizance bond. But Ochotorena said he left a blank for police to set the amount of the bond, which he understood would be $30. He did not take a copy, Ochotorena said.

"Would it be proper to authorize bond for a man not yet charged?" Eysen was asked. "It's done all the time."

Wednesday afternoon is the regular trial time in Municipal Court. Ochotorena said.

TRIAL DATE

The first Wednesday after Dec. 20 was Christmas eve and the second was New Year's Eve, Ochotorena said.

"There were no trials set for those days," Ochotorena said. "How could he have failed to appear when he had a bond?"

Municipal Judge John R. Coffee issued a warrant for Rangel's arrest Saturday, Jan. 3, Ochotorena said. But no pick-up was made. Ochotorena said he talked with Coffee and that Coffee set a Monday morning trial date for Rangel.

Hobby Launches Fifth Senate Money Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby has launched the fifth separate investigation of the way in which Senate money is spent.

Hobby said a seven-member task force, including one member of his staff, will study Senate audits since 1970 and determine "what areas need to be looked into in more detail."

The staffer will work with two assistant state auditors, an assistant and investigator of Travis County

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith's staff and two representatives of Atty. Gen. John Hill's office.

Hill announced Monday he will investigate alleged fiscal irregularities involving Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel.

Schnabel, 43, was indicted by the Travis County grand jury Dec. 30 on two counts of theft from the state and one of official misconduct.

The indictments resulted from an investigation by Smith's office.

Car-Wash Machine Injuries Bring $500,000 Settlement

Attorneys for a corporation and for a man who lost most of one foot and all of another due to a car-wash machine accident agreed Monday to a $500,000 settlement.

"I think it's great," Michael C. Dennis, the accident victim, said today. "I'm happy it's over with."

On Sept. 3, 1973, Dennis, now 19, 703 E. 16th St., was injured when his feet were caught in a car-wash conveyor at 2100 S. Gregg St. He was employed here.

He and his mother, Ouita B. (Jody) Hatfield, sued Hanna

Industries, Portland, Ore., first in Howard County's 118th District Court.

The suit was removed to U. S. District Court in Abilene. Monday, attorneys reached a settlement at a pretrial hearing before Judge Leo Brewster.

Attorneys for Dennis were Robert H. (Bob) Moore III and John Burgess, both of Big Spring, and Joe Jamail, Houston.

Although the case has been settled, a judgement has not been entered yet.

SAND SPRINGS VOTE HASSLE

May Petition City Dads To Withdraw Protest

By JOHN EDWARDS

Proponents of the proposed municipality of Sand Springs are discussing petitioning the Big Spring City Council to withdraw a protest to the election for incorporation.

James W. Gregg, assistant city manager and city attorney, filed the protest with County Judge Bill Tune Tuesday afternoon.

Because of the protest, County Judge Bill Tune said he will not call the election as planned.

TOO CLOSE

Monday, Judge Tune cited a state law and court ruling which indicated he had no choice to calling an election. But, later Monday, the city attorney mentioned the two-mile jurisdiction of Big Spring.

The protest was filed without prior Big Spring city council action. Marshall Day, one of 33 petitioners for incorporation, said city council may be asked to withdraw the protest.

City Manager Harry Nagel indicated in January 1974 that city officials "didn't have any intention of bothering Sand Springs," Day said.

If city council declines to withdraw the protest, city limits of the proposed town could be redrawn so it is located outside the two-mile area, Day indicated.

The Big Spring city attorney filed the written protest to calling an election for incorporation of parts of Sand Springs Tuesday afternoon, stating that the area lies within the two-mile "extraterritorial jurisdiction of the City of Big Spring."

State law provides "no city may be incorporated within the area of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city without written consent of the governing body of such city," Gregg noted.

ANNEXATION

"As of October 24, 1975, the city limits of the City of Big Spring extends to the east section line of section 47, block 32, T-1-N," Gregg observed.

On Oct. 14, 1975, the Big Spring City Council voted to annex this area, which is between 11th Place Extension, south service road of IS 20 and the Midway Road on the east.

Reasons cited for annexation then were a desire to include the landfill (dumping grounds) within city limits and protect the eastern city limits. While officials said they did not want to annex the industrial area north of IS 20. The practical effect is to prevent any other body from annexing since the area now falls within the two-mile definition.

The World At-A-Glance

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant leaders are threatening a military offensive against the Irish Republican Army and a general strike in retaliation for the ambush killing of 10 Protestant workmen in the South Armagh area. But Merlyn Rees, the British government's secretary for Northern Ireland, rejected Protestant demands that the government crack down on the IRA in South Armagh, a stronghold of the Roman Catholic guerrillas.

ROME (AP) — The collapse of Italy's 37th postwar government appeared imminent today as the Socialist party prepared to withdraw its support from Premier Aldo Moro's 13-month-old minority coalition of Christian Democrats and Republicans. The Socialist executive committee was meeting to approve a recommendation from party leader Francesco de Martino that the party demand a new "emergency" government. Political sources said the government would probably resign by Thursday at the latest.

PARIS (AP) — The family of a kidnaped recording company president expressed fears for his life today after the French police blocked the delivery of a $3.4 million ransom by arresting two men who came to collect it. A brother of Louis Hazan, the chief of Phonogram, France's largest record firm, said he "totally disapproved" of the police action. He said he and Hazan's wife feared the kidnapers would kill their 54-year-old captive.

Half Million Gained In Tax Fraud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An expensive home, a private plane and seven foreign cars were bought by a former Internal Revenue Service employe who used his knowledge of IRS to get more than $500,000 in illegal tax refunds, authorities say.

David Glen Robinson, 31, of Pasadena, pleaded guilty Tuesday to submitting false tax claims totaling $565,340.31 for the years 1972-74.

Assistant U.S. Atty. A. Howard Matz said it was the largest fraudulent refund scheme ever by a single taxpayer.

The government said that in the last half of 1975, Robinson bought an $84,500 home in Pasadena, a $30,000 Piper Warrior airplane, and three Jaguars, two Lamborghinis, a Ferrari and a Mercedes Benz.

Matz said four other counts will be dropped at sentencing as part of an agreement with Robinson.

He has agreed to a five-year prison term for two of the counts and an additional 5-year suspended sentence on the third count, Matz said, in addition to aiding the IRS in recovering as much of the money as possible.

Our Hero Images

The newest sensation appears to be revelations or allegations about how John F. Kennedy spent his private hours during his years in the White House. After the Senate intelligence probe uncovered a supposed JFK link to a woman who also knew some Mafia bigwigs, muckrakers have gotten busy dredging up other facts about Kennedy's private life.

This sort of thing is unavoidable, curiosity and competition being what they are. Once the spring is tapped, revelations of this sort come gushing forth about any public figure, politicians in particular. It may or may not bear any resemblance of truth. There are generally known skeletons in the closets of many (but not all) public men — but those skeletons remain hidden for the most part. Journalists, the majority of them, shy away from revealing the details of public figures' private lives. And that is a good rule to follow, unless private behavior has or could have a demonstrable effect on public performance.

That is where the JFK dam broke. His alleged liaison with a woman linked also to the Mafia persons believed implicated in plots against Fidel Castro made that part of JFK's private life subject to public scrutiny. And once public notice was taken of this aspect of JFK's private life, then the digging began.

Now no doubt we are in for a round of similar allegations. Perhaps a book or two is in the offing, a sort of backstage at the White House memoir. Everyone with a big mouth wants to grab the center stage. None of this should subtract from the public record of the man involved. But sadly, it most certainly will. The public mind is unforgiving, when it comes to human traits of its heroes. We like to think of them as better than us, as not subject to the temptations and the mistakes which beset us. When we find that isn't true — and it can't be — great is our wrath and scorn.

Something To Shudder About

Russell Baker, the columnist, had a piece the other day in which he noted that the plot of a recent popular series was enough to make one shudder.

A two-hour episode of "Cannon" had "the assistant attorney general of the United States" in the part of a megalomaniac who ordered corruption of justice, murder of a Mafia type, took part in a mass murder scheme, and then was snared for murder of a prostitute.

Of course, there is no "assistant attorney general," rather several assistant attorneys general about four rungs down the ladder. But the alarming thing is that television producers should consider that this sounds plausible enough to work it into part of the plot.

"A few years ago, no television network would have dared present a melodrama suggesting that the upper drawer of the federal government was infested with gangsters and killers," wrote Baker. (But then, a lot of garbage gets on television today when formerly it was unthinkable.) Alas, the fiction that gangsters and killers might be calling the turn in the Justice Department is disquieting and is a shocking comment on our times.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My husband is not a Christian, and he even refuses to go to church with me. He just does not seem interested in spiritual things. I get after him for this and try repeatedly to convince him that he is wrong, but it does not seem to do much good. What do you suggest? — Mrs. C. F.

DEAR MRS. C. F.: I appreciate your concern for your husband. However, I wonder if it has occurred to you that your constant criticism may actually be hurting him rather than helping him. Human nature being what it is, we all tend to react negatively to people who tell us we are wrong, and criticism often has the opposite effect to what we intended.

Let me make two suggestions to you. First, pray consistently for your husband, that he may come to see his need of Christ. Pray also for yourself, that you will have wisdom to help him find Christ. And pray that you will learn when to speak and when not to speak, and that your words will be spoken in love. The writer of Proverbs described the perfect wife in this way: "She opened her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness." (Proverbs 31:26)

Second, remember that your example of love may be far more important than your words alone in winning him to Christ. You may even need to confess to him that you have been harsh in your words, and that your desire is to reflect Christ in your life. Remember the word of Peter: "You married women should adapt yourselves to your husbands, so that even if they do not obey the Word of God, they may be won to God without any word ever being spoken, simply by seeing the pure and reverent behavior of you, their wives." (I Peter 3:1-2, Phillips Translation)

Rabin Says 'No'

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The virtual refusal of Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin to accept one vital part of a private letter from President Ford last month coldly underlines deepening problems between Israel and its oldest, best ally.

THE U.S. quickly acquiesced, agreeing to strike from the President's letter the offending paragraph which strongly objected to Israel's plan for new settlements on the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights of Syria. The effect was to postpone yet another burning issue between the U.S. and Israel.

What makes these problems particularly dangerous today is next week's United Nations Security Council debate on the Palestinian issue, which seems certain to put the U.S.-Israeli connection under new tension. In this context, U.S. avoidance of confrontation last month threatens escalation of present problems into future crises.

RABIN'S REFUSAL to accept the full text of the President's personal letter to him on Dec. 7 shocked diplomats here, who say privately that under more normal conditions the U.S. would consider such treatment by a close ally as unacceptable. But conditions in Israel today — and between Israel and the U.S. — are not normal. Therefore, despite profound regret over the incident, officials here are trying to play it down.

FORD'S LETTER contained a paragraph appealing to the Israeli government to cancel plans for four new Israeli settlements on the Syrian Golan Heights, occupied by Israeli conquest in 1967 and still under Israeli control.

For Rabin, that appeal spelled grave political trouble. If left in the President's letter, it would automatically become a cabinet-level matter to be discussed with leaders of political factions in the government both far to the left and far to the right on the question of new settlements. Few matters contain so much lethal potential in Israeli politics today as Israel's continuing efforts to "create political facts" by populating occupied Arab lands.

THE UNDERLYING Israeli strategy for this policy is clear: the existence of Israeli settlements on the Golan Heights and elsewhere will someday be potent bargaining counters when final borders are fixed between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

"At of Israel has suffered acutely from the UN Zionism-racism resolution and from U.S. refusal to veto the presence of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) in next week's Security Council debate.

Economic Illiterates

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — John Q. Jennings has a message for America in the year 1976, a year in which many important labor contracts will be negotiated.

We are a nation of economic illiterates, says Jennings, excusing nobody. Students, teachers, workers, executives, government officials — all illiterate, he says.

Because we are so ignorant, he continues, we suffer a plague of economic ailments, including inflation, strikes, a shortage of capital for expanding industry, and a variety of needless frictions and frustrations.

Particularly irksome to Jennings, who is a lawyer and consultant, is the misunderstanding of profits. No matter whom he asks, he says, they seem to think profits are greater than they really are. He includes businessmen.

During the first half of 1975, he says, all manufacturing corporations earned a net profit after taxes of $21.7 billion on sales of $513.7 billion, for a return on sales of 4.2 per cent.

Recently he questioned some corporate personnel officers. Analyzing their written responses, he found they believed profit margins were 33 per cent. He wasn't shocked. Almost nobody knows the answer, he says.

He asked the same group what they considered a fair profit. They said 10 per cent. That's more than twice what manufacturers have been making, and seven times the 1.4 per cent earned by retailers.

"Nobody knows the arithmetic," said Jennings, a former mediator of union-management debates and later a corporate executive and head of John Q. Jennings Associates. In the mid-1940s he headed the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Michigan.

"I've never had trouble with unions," he said, adding that he has found union leaders reasonable in their demands when presented the facts. "Give them the facts and they act responsibly," he said.

Gout 'Classless' Ailment

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has been told recently that he has poor man's gout. It affects his knees and is very painful. We would appreciate any information you can give us on this problem. — Mrs. K. M.

I am not aware that gout is a respecter of income, and I'll bet your husband's gout is every bit as painful as "rich man's gout." The notion that gout is a penalty for a life of gorging on rich food and drink is only partly true. For example, organ meats, rich gravies, and seafoods such as sardines are high in purines, the chemical precursor of gout.

It is a metabolic disease, a form of arthritis, actually. It stems from the way a person's system handles a certain chemical waste — uric acid, which is a byproduct of purine metabolism. When this is produced in excess, some of it can combine with other chemicals to form urates, and these can accumulate in the form of crystals.

The joint of the big toe is a common site but, as your husband's condition indicates, it can form just about anywhere. The skin in the affected area, usually at bone ends, becomes red, hot and swollen, and there is great pain. A study of the fluid drawn from the inflamed section will reveal urate crystals.

Fortunately, drugs are available today to relieve the pain in short order. Newer drugs can help keep the uric acid level balanced and ward off future attacks. Readers will find more detailed explanations of the disease and its treatment in my booklet, "Gout: The Modern Way to Stop It." For a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped (13 cents now) and self-addressed envelope.

Diet plays a rather minor role in treatment of drug therapy, so the victims can continue to enjoy many of their favorite dishes.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard about trace elements in connection with organic foods, but would you tell me the extent of any benefit that zinc would have (other than that obtained in a regular diet)? Could it be beneficial? Or could it be harmful? — L. K. W.

There are several trace elements which are obtained in a well-balanced diet. These elements apparently play significant roles in enzyme activity in the tissues. Zinc is one of them.

It promotes efficient healing of tissues and has something to do with growth and sexual development.

Some experimental work shows and improvement in patients with advanced arteriosclerosis after treatment with zinc supplement.

Except for some areas of the Middle East, where a zinc deficiency exists, a well-balanced diet will provide 10 to 15 mgs. of zinc daily. The metal is abundant in seafood, meats, eggs and legumes. Of the 10 to 15 mgs. Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung problem, write for a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (13c now) envelope and 20 cents.

Ol' Snuffy Speaking

Around The Rim

James Werrell

After years of looking at those little cans on the grocery store shelf, I finally decided to try my hand at the venerable art of dipping snuff.

THE EXPERIENCE was a lot like the first time I fell off a horse; not much fun, but not as bad as I thought it was going to be.

I didn't approach the matter lightly either. I first sought the advice of a gentleman claiming to have retired from the Herald who has the look of one who had dipped and — or snorted in his day.

"Well," he said, "There's the dry snuff that you stick between your lower lip and gums and let it sit there until your juices start to run. The damp snuff already has juice in it."

I DECIDED to stick with my own natural juices.

I bought a tin of W. E. Garrett-Mild and Sweet. This sounded like a fine beginner's brand (seasoned dippers are probably already fed up with this wet-behind-the-ears account). Gently removing the top, my first impression was that this must be a cheap habit. A 23 cent tin contained what looked like a three-year supply.

BEING A novice, my initial approach was the refined one, a little pinch gently sniffed into each nostril.

Snuff sniffing was first introduced into Europe from the colonies in the 16th century. It was an immediate hit and was picked up by most members of high society on the continent. Miniature snuff boxes made of gold, silver and precious stones abounded, and it became a popular custom to offer a new acquaintance a pinch from one's box. Shades of the Scarlet Pimpernel.

Sniffing, for me, was a lot of fun and a great rush for the sinuses. I immediately began to say things such as, "Jolly good cup of tea," and "that's not quite cricket, old chap." Try it some time.

THERE ARE basically three kinds of snuff, Irish, Scotch and Sweet. All three have their variations. Dry snuff is about the same consistency as baby powder, while moist snuff, looks something like wet coffee grounds. The Copenhagen brand moist snuff comes in about as many flavors as chewing gum.

After I had a nose-full of mild and sweet, I decided to try a more down-to-earth approach. That is "a leetle pinch 'tween your cheek and gums," as Cowboy Walt Garrison puts it. And there ain't nobody gonna put a powdered wig on Walt.

SO I DIPPED a pinch and sat back and waited. The Encyclopedia Americana says that snuff is often flavored with jasmine, essence of bergamot, lavender, attar of roses, and tonka beans. These subtle flavors eluded me. All I got was an urge to spit.

As I have said though, it really wasn't bad. I can see how you could develop a taste for it. Once you perfect a method of keeping the snuff in one corner of your mouth instead of its forming a thin brown film over all your teeth, dipping could be a lot of fun. As a matter of fact, I have decided that the next time I buy a ranch or become a member of English nobility I will definitely take up the habit with a passion.

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

Hoover's Wrath

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — We have been digging into the secrets of the late J. Edgar Hoover, whose abuses of power made him the most formidable and feared bureaucrat in the history of the republic.

ONLY A COMPLETE exposure of his abuses can prevent them from happening again.

He built his enormous power by manipulating the press and maligning his critics. Thanks to carefully publicized human strengths and carefully hidden human failings, he appeared as a man of action fighting the forces of evil.

More than 40 years of planted press notices transformed his bulldog visage into a national symbol. His staccato speech and stern mannerism completed the image.

Writers who dared to criticize Hoover wound up on his hate list, which was far more deadly than the FBI's most-wanted list.

ATTORNEY MAX LOWENTHAL, for example, questioned the FBI's fabled reputation in a book entitled simply "The FBI." It dealt more with the corrupt agency Hoover had inherited than the effective crime-fighting organization he built. But there were some passages that were less than flattering about Hoover.

After he read it, he let out a roar of rage and summoned a trusted assistant whose function it was to prevent such embarrassments. Hoover angrily threatened to fire the man for failing to block the publication of the book.

THE AGENT WOULD rather have faced gangland gunfire than Hoover's wrath. The tongue lashing was more than he could take; he broke down and wept like a baby. "Mr. Hoover," he sniffled, "if I had known this book was coming out, I'd have thrown my body into the presses to block it."

Although it was too late for this sacrifice, Hoover ordered his minions to prepare half-a-dozen black, fiber-bound volumes of critical analysis tearing apart the Lowenthal book. These were used to compose harsh book reviews, which were secretly circulated to compliant newspapers and magazines. Agents were even reduced to canvassing booksellers and urging them not to stock the book.

But this wasn't enough to placate the irascible FBI chief. He also ordered every index in the FBI checked for derogatory information about Lowenthal. He seized upon a vague tie with a communist-front group, which was spread through FBI field offices to the media.

THE FUND FOR THE REPUBLIC, meanwhile, conducted a scholarly study of domestic communism, which concluded the FBI was overblowing its importance. This inflamed Hoover, who ordered an all-out investigation of both the Fund and its head, Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins.

The FBI chief directed his subordinates to prepare a monograph ripping Hutchins to pieces. They became so impressed with Hutchins from their research, however, that they produced a mild monograph. Down came instructions to rewrite the piece, making it suitably derogatory, on pain of being censured. The second, more vicious monograph was leaked to the press.

ANOTHER FAMOUS SCHOLAR, Henry Steele Commager, also offended the great G-man. Hoover fired off pink sheets to field agents, directing them to smear Commager. The use of pink paper was understood to mean they should destroy the message after reading it.

A recalcitrant former agent, Jack Levine, was railroaded out of the FBI by Hoover but struck back with an article ridiculing the FBI director. The vengeful Hoover blocked Levine from getting a job at the Justice Department and tried to block his admission to the Arizona bar. Similar smear campaigns were run against former agents Bill Turner and Bernard Corners, who also wrote critical books about the FBI.

In contrast, Hoover directed a vigorous promotion campaign to sell his own book on communism, "Masters of Deceit," which was written for him by FBI ghostwriters. The FBI chief arranged with a friend to set up a front group, which bought hundreds of copies of the book and distributed them to influential Americans. Glowing reviews, prepared inside the FBI, were distributed to the press.

One agent wrote a detailed letter explaining why Hoover's favorite hymn was "The Old Rugged Cross," then learned the correct hymn was "Rock of Ages." The agent simply changed the names, utilizing the same reasons.

BAD NEWS FOR SOME DALLASITES — Paul Ford, chief of Dallas' city warrants division, stands behind a stack of overdue warrants. City officials are cracking down on some 70,000 delinquent warrants, mostly unpaid traffic citations. There has been a "heavy response" to the crackdown, which began Monday. The city estimates there is between $2.5 million and $3.2 million in outstanding fines.

100,000 Pupils Get Vacations Because Of Striking Teachers

By The Associated Press

Some 100,000 pupils in three states were out of school today because of teacher strikes.

About 4,400 teachers and their aides remained on strike in the 62,000-pupil Pittsburgh school system after intensive negotiations failed to end their five-week-old walkout.

Allegheny County Judge Donald E. Ziegler was scheduled to decide today whether the teachers are in contempt of court for refusing to obey his order to return to the classrooms.

Striking teachers also remained off the job in Madison, Wis., and in the Minnesota communities of Sauk Centre and Faribault.

In Madison, 1,900 teachers struck the city's school system Monday, shutting down all 47 schools and giving 30,700 pupils an unscheduled vacation.

Teachers in Madison, who now make between $8,800 and $18,480, want the base salary raised to $12,000.

The Pittsburgh teachers defied a threat of heavy fines and contempt citations and refused to end their strike. Ziegler granted on Saturday a school board request for a temporary injunction and ordered the strikers back to work.

Ziegler scheduled a hearing for today on the board's demand that both the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers and its members be fined for continuing their strike.

The PFT is seeking salary increases totaling between $2,700 and $6,000 by next year while the board is offering $1,200 across the board. Other strike issues include class size, job security and discipline.

Teachers in Pittsburgh now get between $8,700 and $16,700 a year.

'Deep Throat' Rap Reversed By Court

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed the obscenity conviction of a Killeen club operator for showing the film "Deep Throat" because the viewers were admitted free.

A Bell County jury assessed Leslie R. Owens Smith of the Roaring Twenties Club a 120-day jail sentence and a $1,000 fine on charges of commercially exhibiting an obscene film Sept. 19, 1974.

Officers who saw the movie were invited by the club, the court said, along with newsmen and others who were not charged admission. Police were unable to testify that anyone paid or was asked to pay to see the film.

The high court said that the term "commercially exhibit" means to exhibit "in exchange for valuable consideration."

It noted that the state speculated the "valuable consideration" sought by the club was preferential treatment by the police.

"The record is devoid of any evidence to support this theory," the court said.

In addition, the court said, "the mere appearance of members of the press does not present 'valuable consideration.' The press did not agree to give coverage of the film in exchange for a free screening; the members of the press did not incur obligations by viewing the film."

Mayors Back Concorde

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayors of Dallas and Fort Worth have told the U.S. Transportation Department that there is definitely an overseas market for the supersonic Concorde jet transport at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Mayors Wes Wise of Dallas and Cliff Overcash of Fort Worth appeared at a series of public hearings on whether landings by the aircraft should be allowed in the United States. A decision is due by Feb. 4.

There has been widespread criticism of the supersonic Concorde from environmentalists.

Neither Overcash nor Wise mentioned the environmental impact in their five-minute presentations.

Wise said the expanding economy around the North Central Texas area leads cities to seek more air routes to South America, Europe and the Middle East.

Overcash called supersonic commercial aviation a developing necessity. He added that the D-FW airport was designed to handle supersonic aircraft and could minimize any trouble with the Concorde.

People In The News

Caroline 'Dog In Pants'

CAROLINE KENNEDY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Caroline Kennedy has been named the worst dressed woman in the world by fashion designer Mr. Blackwell, who called the daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy a symbol of young America's "careless" attire.

He described the 17-year-old as "a shaggy dog in pants."

Also named Tuesday were Nancy Kissinger, wife of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who called "a traveling fashion stew," and Princess Anne of England, who was scolded for dressing like "a royal auto mechanic."

Others on the list were: singers Helen Reddy and Bette Midler, TV actress Sally Struthers, country singers Tammy Wynette and Donna Fargo, who received a dual citation, fashion designer Sonia Rykiel, and actress Tatum O'Neal, 12-year-old daughter of actor Ryan O'Neal, described by Blackwell as "12 going on 40."

Tenth place went to rock star Elton John.

"He would be the campiest spectacle in the Rose Parade if he entered," said Blackwell.

Hookers Run No More

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "In the past we'd always have to run when we spotted the cops," said Red, a hooker. "But now we ain't gonna run no more."

Red made the remark as several prostitutes gathered on a downtown street corner Monday night to celebrate and circulate an announcement by the city's new district attorney that he will virtually stop prosecuting prostitution cases.

"If it's a nonviolent, noncoercive activity between adults, and it doesn't involve any other crime, my office will not bother with it," said District Attorney Joseph Freitas Jr., who takes office Thursday.

Freitas specified that his policy included minor cases of marijuana possession and prostitution cases "where there is no coercion or other crime involved."

He said he would instead devote his staff's resources to fighting violent crimes and enforcing laws protecting consumers.

Freitas, a liberal lawyer, said he expected his policy would not please supporters of the police vice squad which, under the guidance of Capt. Gerald Shaughnessy, makes most prostitution arrests.

California law makes prostitution a misdemeanor, punishable by a $500 fine or a maximum jail sentence of six months.

"It's fair to say that our office will fail to prosecute vice cases with the vigor that Capt. Shaughnessy might desire," Freitas said.

Shaughnessy's initial comment was: "We'll just have to wait and see what the policy will be."

He said he was waiting for a statement from Mayor-elect George Moscone.

Likes To Dance At 114

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Valentina Cotta sings love songs and says she'd like to go dancing, though she may be as old as 114.

She was hospitalized on New Year's Eve after complaining of pains in her legs and back. She remains hospitalized, but her family says her doctor blamed old age for the pains. The doctor said her heart was strong and she is in good health.

With her great-granddaughter, Luz Atkinson, serving as translator — Mrs. Cotta speaks Spanish — she told newsmen Tuesday that "if it weren't for a few pains, I'd go dancing."

She also said that "if I weren't blind, I'd get married again." Then she sang a loud love song about a man's promise to buy his girlfriend a house with a porch, dresser and looking glass.

Her family said Mrs. Cotta was born in February 1861 in a village in Puerto Rico, which would make her 115 next month. Hospital records showed her age last year at 109 and welfare records list it as less.

Ford Takes Horseshoeing

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — Steve Ford, 19, youngest son of President Ford, has enrolled as an animal science major at California State Polytechnic University here.

He signed up Tuesday for classes in farrier science, which is horseshoeing, and basic equitation, the anatomy of a horse as it pertains to riding.

A spokesman for Cal Poly said Ford would live off campus at an undisclosed location. He told college officials he would have a part-time job. Speculation was that he would work on a local ranch.

Ford dropped out of Utah State University in Logan this past fall.

1975 Worst Year For Auto Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Despite an improved economy and a spurt in the new-car market during the fourth quarter, the nation's auto makers close the books on 1975 today with their worst sales reports in more than a decade.

Year-end sales figures to be released today will confirm that consumer appetites for new domestic cars were the poorest since 1962, industry analysts say.

A public craving for low prices and high fuel economy, however, provided a boom for imports, which withstood a sales lull in the waning months of 1975 to log their third best year in history and carve out a record share of the U.S. market, the analysts say.

Seven of eight importers which released final 1975 figures on Tuesday said they set sales records last year: Fiat, British Leyland, Volvo, Mercedes-Benz, Subaru, Peugeot and Alfa-Romeo. Fiat surpassed the 100,000-sales mark for the first time in its history.

All four U.S. car makers and distributors for 13 other imports report their December and year-end sales figures today.

Analysts predicted December domestic sales would be up 33 per cent and import sales up 17 per cent from the disastrous levels of December 1974, when the industry was caught in a sales downturn brought on by recession.

For the domestic companies, it would be the third consecutive month in which sales were up sharply from the same year-before period. November sales were up 35 per cent and October sales up 23 per cent.

The fourth-quarter gains, however, were not enough to offset depressed volumes in the first nine months of the year. Analysts said domestic sales for 1975 would be off more than 5 per cent from an already poor 1974 and down 27 per cent from the record established in 1973.

Domestic sales for 1975 were estimated at 7,045,000, compared with 7,449,000 in 1974 and 9,670,000 in 1973.

Sales of predominantly small and fuel-efficient imports, which profited handsomely from consumer concerns over rising gasoline prices, were estimated at 1,575,000 for the year, up 12 per cent from 1974's total of 1,408,000. Importers sold a record 1,730,000 cars in 1973.

The imports' gains combined with a weak domestic performance would give foreign companies a record 18 per cent share of the U.S. market, topping the previous high of 16 per cent in 1974.

Total sales for the year, including imports, were estimated at 8,617,000, down 3 per cent from 8,857,000 in 1974 and off 24 per cent from the record 11.4 million sold in 1973.

SW Airlines Shows Growth

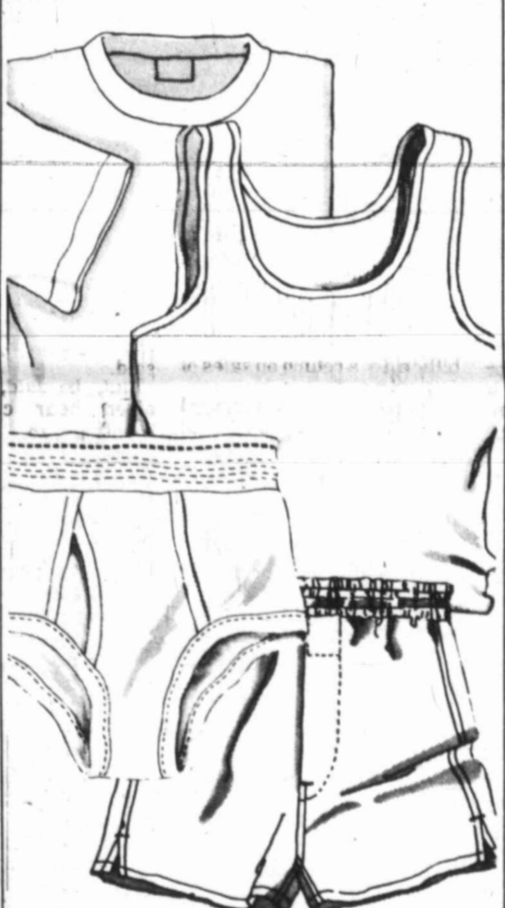

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Airlines, which has been in and out of court to stay alive, says it had its best year ever in 1975 when it flew more than a million passengers to various Texas cities.

The four-year-old airline said Tuesday its flights between Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and the Lower Rio Grande Valley increased by 50 per cent over the year 1974.

Southwest's existence and its routes have been challenged in court by Texas International Airlines and Braniff International.

Telephone, Water Bills Up In Snyder

SNYDER — City council members granted two utility rate increases but delayed action on another Tuesday. Southwestern Bell Telephone's application to raise rates was approved. Included were business phones from the present to $12.85 to a new level of 14.85 per month, and residences from $5.90 to $6.50. Water rates were also changed, imposing a new minimum charge of $4 for the first 3,000 gallons instead of the current $3.75. All water in excess of 3,000 gallons will go at 63 cents per thousand instead of the present 55. The raise was in anticipation of rate hikes by the Colorado River Water District when directors met in Big Spring Thursday.

Darwin Melton, manager for Lone Star Gas, asked for a fuel adjustment to make the base gate rate $1.15 per thousand cubic feet, but Mayor W. A. Vetal accused the company of dealing in "half-truths" by hinting it had not received a previous increase. In fact, he noted, the city granted a 38.99 per cent increase, although Lone Star has asked for 42.61 per cent.

Mayor Indicted For Molesting Young Girls

HOUSTON (AP) — Seabrook Mayor Larry G. Sullivan, 38, has been indicted by a Harris County grand jury on five counts of allegedly molesting three pre-teenage girls during a 17-month period. The indictment followed a three-week investigation by Seabrook Police Department and the district attorney's Special Crimes Division.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Mike Andrews said ages of the girls are nine, 11, and 12 years old. Investigators said the parents of one of the girls first went to a Seabrook city councilman, who took the reports to police. Investigators said no force was involved in the alleged molesting and some of the alleged incidents took place in public places.

State Dist. Judge Dan Walton set bond at $1,000 on each of the indictments.

Big Spring Housing Market 'Excellent'

Jolly Dyer, assistant director of the Housing and Urban Development office in Lubbock, feels that the housing situation in Big Spring has improved in the last 18 months. Dyer was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Big Spring Board of Realtors Tuesday night.

"Big Spring has had its ups and downs, but during the past 18 months, we have had an excellent market. The former FHA has no more available repossessed homes in this area," he said. Dyer pointed out that in the late 60s, there were as many as 240 repossessed FHA homes here.

"There have only been three during the past 12 months and they were quickly snapped up," Dyer added.

The HUD spokesman told the Realtors that this also is

Asks Decision Be Overruled

DALLAS (AP) — Plaintiffs in the Dallas school desegregation case say they will ask the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals to overrule a decision which eliminated the Highland Park school district from their suit.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. ruled Dec. 11 that all-white Highland Park was not an unconstitutional district and did not contribute significantly to segregation in the Dallas school district.

Arrested For 'Moonshine'

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Bailey Buchanan, 27, posted $1,000 cash bond and was released from Tarrant County jail Tuesday afternoon after being charged with transporting illegal liquor into Fort Worth from East Texas.

Buchanan was stopped on the Fort Worth turnpike Monday evening by federal agents who said they found 25 gallons of "moonshine" in the trunk of the Harleyton man's vehicle.

Teen Died From Arsenic Drink

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Large amounts of arsenic were found in a teenager's body found dead in a brushy field on New Year's Day, Bexar County medical examiner Ruben Santos says.

Santos ruled Tuesday that Richard Forestello, 18, died after being poisoned with tichloride arsenic.

Police said earlier that they suspected a cocktail toast to welcome the New Year may have been what contained the arsenic.

A former high school counselor, Charles Francis Howard, 28, remained in Bexar County Jail under a $25,000 bond, charged with murder.

Homicide Detective Robert Urban said Forestello was last seen alive about 2 a.m. New Year's Day. He was home for the holidays from Austin College in Sherman, Tex., where he was a freshman.

Braniff Will Build Complex

DALLAS (AP) — Braniff International Corp. will build a $25 million complex to house its headquarters at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Harding Lawrence, board chairman, said Tuesday the 340,000 square-foot complex would be known as Braniff Place and should be completed in early 1978.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher by as much as $3.85 a bale in midday trading today. Futures firmed after initial declines, brokers said.

Early selling was believed to be hedging by dealers and merchants following purchases of raw cotton in the cash market.

The average price for strict low middling 1-1/16-inch spot cotton advanced 12 points to 57.45 cents a pound Tuesday for the 10 leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Midday prices were 35 cents to $3.85 a bale higher than the previous close. March 41.90, May 42.81, and July 42.40.

Blakley Buried

DALLAS (AP) — The body of William Blakley, noted Dallas philanthropist, politician and business executive, was laid to rest Tuesday.

Jacobsen Trial Reset For Mar. 22

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Trial of Jake Jacobsen, the chief accused in the bribery case against John Connally, on a theft charge has been postponed until March 22.

It had been set to start Jan. 12 in state court here on charges that Jacobsen misappropriated a loan from a savings and loan firm. His lawyers requested the continuance Monday.

Dist. Court Judge Curt F. Steib, in granting the delay, noted an abundance and complexity of proceedings in federal court involving Jacobsen.

The former mill lobbyist is charged in state court with four counts of theft in connection with an $825,000 loan made while he was director and majority stockholder of First Savings & Loan of San Angelo in 1970. That institution is now under new management.

The indictment alleges Jacobsen profited from an improper loan he made to Abilene developer Roy Herring in 1970.

Jacobsen's business partner, Ray Cowan, pleaded guilty to a federal misapplication of funds charge in August 1974 and was sentenced to a five-year prison term.

Jacobsen's lawyers also asked a San Angelo federal judge Monday to stop the state court trial. Jacobsen currently is free under $30,000 bond.

Government lawyers sought to have the federal indictment against Jacobsen dismissed since he testified in the bribery conspiracy trial of Connally, who was acquitted in April.

Dismissal of the case was disapproved by a Dallas federal judge, who appointed three special prosecutors to handle the case. The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans ruled the judge overstepped his authority in appointing the special prosecutors. That decision was appealed by the special prosecutors to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has yet to rule.

DALLAS (AP) — The body of William Blakley, noted Dallas philanthropist, politician and business executive, was laid to rest Tuesday.

Six wreckers and 48 hours later, the Blazer was freed, said Kruml, adding that it was then confiscated by the wrecker service until the bill could be determined.

TWQB Blocks Plans To Dump Chemicals

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Orders have been issued by the Texas Water Quality Board to block reported plans to dump Kepone insecticide wastes in Texas.

"I will do all in my power to stop such plans, if in fact they do exist," said Hugh C. Yantis Jr., executive director of the Water Quality Board. "My information came from a high source in the federal government and we are taking immediate steps to see that such plans go no further."

A spokesman for the board said a Virginia plant making the insecticide has been closed and is being destroyed with decontamination efforts being made. Signs of the deadly poison have been indicated as much as 40 miles downstream from the plant site. Several Kepone plant workers appeared on national television recently after becoming ill.

Yantis said the order was issued after "hearing of a rumor that plans were underway to transport liquid toxic wastes from the Virginia plant to Texas for disposal." He said all the board's field operations personnel were alerted "to locate all parties involved and instruct them to warn that such wastes were not to be brought into Texas."

The main speech of the evening, Dyer also mentioned a one-quarter interest drop in FHA mortgage payments, but these call for a point system. Realtors indicated that this made the loans more, not less — difficult because the seller has to come up with additional fees under the point system.

Dyer told the Realtors that he had no idea why this was approved. He also discussed a revival of the old 235 plan, but said that since the mortgage limit on it would be $21,600, it would not help much because homes can no longer be constructed for this price.

Truck Released After $3,600 Towing Bill

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Stan Kruml of Dallas obtained the court ordered release of his truck Tuesday after contending that $3,600 was too much to pay to have the vehicle pulled out of the mud by a wrecker.

The order was issued by 213th Dist. Court Judge Tom Cave after Kruml filed suit against Wayne Cook's wrecker service in Fort Worth Tuesday afternoon.

Kruml said he called Cook's blazer to pull his 1976 Chevrolet Blazer out of the mud Dec. 6 and that the first wrecker to arrive got stuck.

A second came to pull the first free and "this was the beginning of a parade of vehicles," said the suit.

Six wreckers and 48 hours later, the Blazer was freed, said Kruml, adding that it was then confiscated by the wrecker service until the bill could be determined.

Patient Aid For Child Of Local Viet Family Granted By MOD

Patient aid for the child of a local Vietnamese refugee family has been granted by the National Foundation March of Dimes, it was announced at Tuesday night's MOD CapRock chapter board meeting.

The grant will be made for an infant born last fall in Big Spring. The child has a congenital heart defect.

Approximately $1,700 has been pledged by the National Foundation to the local six-county chapter for use in covering the Vietnamese baby's hospitalization during the first month of life, according to Rose Teems, the chapter's executive secretary.

"This is the first March of Dimes medical grant of such a large amount to a local child having a birth defect," noted Mrs. Teems.

Ordinarily, the medical care of children with congenital heart defects is covered through the Texas Crippled Children's Division. However, because the Vietnamese family did not meet residency requirements for Crippled Children's aid, the local March of Dimes chapter petitioned the national organization for special funds to help with the baby's care.

Further details will be released upon presentation of the grant.

In other action, the board voted to buy new corrective shoes and repair braces for a Colorado City woman crippled years ago by polio.

Final details for the March of Dimes Mothers' March slated for Jan. 19—in Big Spring were discussed.

Mothers' March contributions go to the prevention, treatment and cure of birth defects, the nation's number one child health problem.

"This new year gives us a special opportunity," said chapter chairman Vaughn Martin, "not only to celebrate our country's 200th birthday, but to insure a happy 'birth-day' for generations of children to come."

Martin says that a few more volunteer walkers are needed to fill last minute cancellations for the Mother's March. Persons willing to volunteer an hour or two to distribute educational material and collect contributions may call the March of Dimes at 283-3401.

Regional field representative Ed Ramey from Lubbock commended executive secretary Teems for her work in organizing the first Mothers' March in Lamesa and Ackerly for many years.

Attending the board meeting were chapter chairman Vaughn Martin, Craig Fischer, Felice Logan, Norma Porter, Carole Owen, Ray Owen, Tito Arenchiba, Sandy Sibilsky, Mattie Watson, Edith Gay, Ed Ramey, Danny Knight, Betty Kloor and Rose Teems.

Probe Death Of Philanthropist

DALLAS (AP) — Investigators sifted through the rubble and ashes of a two-story mansion today to retrieve any valuables and determine what caused the fire and explosion which killed noted philanthropist, Mrs. Alla Mae Russell.

The fire did about $150,000 damage.

Mrs. Russell, about 75, was killed and two firemen were injured in the fire Tuesday raged through her fashionable Colonial home in North Dallas.

Investigators found her in the ruins of a second-floor bedroom just a few feet from a window she had apparently been trying to reach.

Her attorney, Pat Russell, estimated about $300,000 worth of paintings, jewelry and antiques were lost.

"She was a big supporter of the arts, a patron of the ballet and opera," Russell said. "She devoted most of her time to humanities and animals, and over the years, I would say she gave several hundred thousand dollars to the Dallas arts."

A widow, Mrs. Russell was a director of the Dallas Civic Opera and a member of the Civic Opera's Womens Board and Opera Guild.

Firemen said there were about 40 to 50 cats on the premises and most of them were lost in the fire.

Heroin Causes Death Of Man Facing Trial

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bexar County Medical Examiner Ruben Santos says a heroin overdose may have caused the death of a man facing capital murder charges stemming from a 1974 escape attempt at the state penitentiary in Huntsville.

Police found William H. Colsten, 26, dead in a parked car on the city's northside Tuesday.

He still clutched a nearly full bottle of soda pop and had an unlit cigarette in his mouth.

"We can't be for certain right now," Santos said after initial examinations of the body. "However, heroin was found."

Colsten and a brother were arrested in 1974 after one-time South Texas drugs czar Fred Gomez Carrasco and two inmate confederates tried to escape the state prison.

Carrasco, one of his accomplices and two women hostages died in a hail of bullets in the prison courtyard. Walker County authorities charged the Colsten brothers with buying the guns used by the rampaging inmates and had said they would ask for the death penalty under capital murder provisions.

City Receives $80,877 Check

The City of Big Spring received a check for $80,877 for the quarter in revenue sharing, according to Tom Ferguson, city finance officer.

The check arrived Tuesday. Ferguson said estimated revenue sharing funds are included in budgeted programs, including additional paving in the city.

How much will your son know about business when he applies for his first full-time job?

Plenty—if he's ever been a newspaperboy. Through route experience he's already a lap ahead of his classmates. While they both mastered ideas, the boy with a newspaper route was able to put them to practical use. Business? He's learned the basic principles from the first day he started delivering newspapers. He bought at wholesale, sold at retail. Made collections. Kept his own books. Dealt with people face to face. Quickly found out that "profit" and "loss" are more than textbook terms.

The benefits of managing a newspaper route are an equation for a future successful citizen. A great number of today's prominent men started their public careers as newspaperboys. And they all vouch that a newspaper route gives a boy a head start on the future.

Patients Are 'Surprisingly Calm' About Doctor Slowdown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A hospital official says patients are reacting "with surprising calmness" to a doctors' slowdown but that some of the people affected are complaining about problems in obtaining medical care.

"I am absolutely miffed at everybody, and right now it focuses on the doctors," said Irvin Korn of Northridge, who claimed he made "about 50" telephone calls before finding a hospital that would admit his wife for emergency treatment of a hip problem.

The slowdown — which began Jan. 1 to protest skyrocketing malpractice insurance premiums — caused a sharp reduction in services available Tuesday at many private hospitals in Los Angeles county and five surrounding counties. There was a corresponding increase in the caseload at public facilities.

room there was averaging about 100 extra patients a day. He said most of those brought in "seem to be taking it with surprising calmness. There are even less complaints than we usually get."

said the family surgeon told her he wasn't working and could not help.

Mrs. Zeltner said she holds no grudge against the doctors.

"I think it's terrible," she said. "I think the legislature's at fault. I think the malpractice rates are far too high. I sympathize with the doctors."

The doctors are protesting announced increases of up to 486 per cent in their insurance premiums. Some physicians in high risk categories, who paid about $6,000 in 1975, will be faced with premiums of about $36,000 under the proposed increase.

In Sacramento, Robert Gnaizda, deputy secretary of the state Department of Health and Welfare, met again Tuesday with representatives of the United Physicians of California.

Dr. Michael Freilich, a Los Angeles surgeon and spokesman for the group, said several points of agreement were reached but that "no conclusion can be drawn from the meeting."

Couple Weds During Holidays

Miss Delynda Barker and Richard C. Reed exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony held Dec. 23 in the First United Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barker and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reed, Big Spring.

The Rev. Bill Flemming read the service before an altar enhanced with poinsettias and Christmas garlands.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Victorian-styled dress of off-white linen-like material. The formal-length dress was designed with an empire bodice featuring a deep U-neckline rising to a high collar. The bodice front, which also marked the neckline and the lines of the dress. Full lace sleeves were gathered into deep cuffs which were accented with matching braid. The softly gathered skirt was bordered with a deep ruffle. The bride wore a mantilla-style prayer cap of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations tied with white streamers.

Miss Robbi Rogers served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a dress of red floral design on an off-white background. The dress was fashioned with an empire waistline marked with a red satin ribbon, a scooped neckline, leg o mutton sleeves and a deep bottom ruffle.

Steve Mundell acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception honoring the newlyweds was hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Diliberto in the Patterson home. A centerpiece of candles and Christmas greenery accented the refreshment table.

Mrs. Reed is a senior at Big Spring High School and is employed in the Howard County Clerk's office.

Reed is a graduate of Forsan High School and is employed by McNallen Oil Service in Forsan.

The couple will reside on Sterling City Route, Big Spring.

Charles Neeb Speaks On Insect Control

Members of the Organic Soil Builders met Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preach Martin.

Charles Neeb, area entomologist from Fort Stockton, presented a program on control of insects common in West Texas. He answered questions posed by the members of the club.

He explained that to discourage sow bug infestation the garden should be kept free of debris and rotting fruit. To trap sow bugs gardeners may place wet rolled up newspapers in the garden. The sow bugs will be attracted to the paper. Then the paper can be destroyed.

A pan of beer and molasses or grapefruit halves can also be used to trap sow bugs.

Neeb said that dry fruit beetles are drawn to damaged fruit.

He stated that tree borers are attracted to fresh tree wounds. Any damaged limb should be cut off and the wound covered with pruning paint.

Webb worms lay eggs in masses on the back of leaves. The nested portion should be pruned away from the tree or plant and burned.

The June beetle is also attracted to damaged fruit. A commercial spray may be used to kill them.

Members presented a gift certificate to Dr. Paul Koshi who is being transferred to Woodward, Okla.

Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Smith.

The next meeting will be in the home of the Melvin McFalls, 1710 State, at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 2.

MRS. RICHARD C. REED

Dear Abby

Naval Wife Let Her 'Warrior' Run Free

DEAR ABBY: You recently published a letter from the wife of a military man. (She went snooping through his things while he was away and discovered love letters from three different women.)

I have been a naval wife since age 19, and I've never questioned my husband about possible extramarital affairs. In fact I've said, "Don't tell me. I don't want to know."

I'll never know why some women punish themselves by trying to find out things that they know will hurt them.

From where I have sat, women on shore did not behave any better than men on shore leave. I should know. I was 80 last week.

I welcomed my "warrior" home with open arms every time he could get home. There was never a doubt in my mind about where I stood with him. He loved me, and he let me know it.

I cannot understand these holier-than-thou wives. If a woman loves a man, that's that, and if there were other women in his life, what would she gain by knowing?

My warrior died two months ago, and I miss him terribly. I was lucky. He was the one man I loved. And I loved him enough to let him go free. Whatever he did away from me was HIS business.

ADMIRAL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I hereby nominate you the "Matron Saint of the Women's Liberation Movement." (And you'll get a lot of votes from men, too.)

DEAR ABBY: I have three daughters. The two oldest are in their 30's and are respectably married. But the youngest, who is 23, has been shacking up with her boyfriend for nearly a year.

At Christmastime I sent presents to the two oldest ones and their husbands, but I purposely did not send anything to the daughter who is shacking up because I wanted her to know that I disapprove of the way she is living.

I later found out that my husband slipped this shacking-up daughter a check for Christmas! This really burned me up.

Do you think my husband had the right to do this behind my back? And didn't I have the right not to give her anything?

A FAMILY DIVIDED

DEAR DIVIDED: Since gift-giving is voluntary, your husband had the "right" to give his daughter a gift (publicly or privately), and you had the right to withhold one.

DEAR ABBY: A woman asked if it was proper to complain to the driver about his reckless driving while she was in the car.

Here's how I handled that situation while riding with my brother, who was going much too fast down a narrow, winding mountain road:

In a very pleasant voice, I said, "Brother, I just want you to know that if we have an accident and I get killed while you are driving, I am leaving all my children for you to raise."

At the time I was a widow with 10 minor children whom my brother and his wife loved dearly, but his wife quickly said, "Slow down, dear."

Women Chase, Arrest Armed Bank Robbers

AMBOY, Ind. (AP) — Two sisters who foiled a bank robbery in this tiny northern Indiana railroad community of 476 are heroines to their children, but their husbands wish they'd leave cops-and-robbers to someone else.

"My husband is a little unhappy because I had my 2-year-old son with me," Rebecca Griggs, 28, said. "But my daughters are jumping up and down, saying their mommy caught a bank robber."

Mrs. Griggs used her belt to tie up a suspected bandit Tuesday after her sister, Shirley "Casey" Bowland, 27, disabled the getaway car. A second suspect was caught a short time later as he missed jumping on the caboose of a moving freight train.

Mrs. Bowland said she and her sister were waiting at the drive-up window of the Farmers National Bank branch Tuesday afternoon when they saw a car with its engine running parked across the street.

"Becky said, 'Do you think they're robbing the bank?' You know, just as a joke," Mrs. Bowland said after the incident.

She said the bank's manager, Herman Agness, 64, then ran out of the bank, told them the bank was being robbed and asked them to go for help.

"I turned their car off and started letting air out of their tires," she said. "I was there when they came out of the bank and I beelined it for the restaurant — I didn't know if they had a gun."

Mrs. Bowland said she jumped back in the car with her sister and they took off after the suspects who fled on foot after they found their car disabled.

Agness said he watched the women round a building from one direction and Ehrhardt Ballschmidt, 32, owner of the community's lone supermarket, come from the other.

"Ehrhardt fired one shot, then the robber threw up his hands and said 'I give up,'" Mrs. Bowland said. "We told him to lay on the ground and spread 'em. Becky took off her belt and we tied his hands."

"I'll be damned if one of those girls didn't have a foot on the guy," Agness said. "Then they marched him up town in front of their car and waited for the state police."

Just to make sure the men didn't find another car key and get away, Agness shot out a tire on the car, Mrs. Boland said.

Held in the Miami County jail in Peru were Clarence Bailey, 27, and his brother Alvin, 23, both of Gary. Alvin was delivered by the women, police said.

Agness said the holdup men were armed with a sawed-off shotgun and herded all the employes and customers into the vault — but they didn't see him because he was in the back of the building. He wouldn't say how much money was taken but that every dime of it was found on the railroad tracks, along with the sawed-off shotgun.

ARRESTING WOMEN — Shirley "Casey" Bowland, left, and Rebecca Griggs, right, her sister, helped capture a suspect in the robbery of the First Farmer's National Bank in Amboy, Ind. The women took the keys from a car being used by three men suspected of robbing the bank, and then chased the suspects, and with the aid of other townspeople, apprehending one of the suspects. Mrs. Griggs is holding her son who was with them as they chased the suspects.

Cold Causes Ranch Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wintry blast of cold weather which opened the new year has meant troubles for livestock producers in much of the country, says the Agriculture Department.

The cold and rain limited grazing in much of the South and East while drifting snow and blizzard conditions caused stress problems for animals in the northern Great Plains and mountain areas, the department said today in a weekly weather review.

"Supplemental feeding continued widespread across the nation and condition of some livestock is declining because of the adverse weather and poor quality of hay," the report said.

As of Jan. 4 cold weather in California and Arizona had caused "uncertain" damage to citrus groves in those areas. Officials said the effects of the freezes had not been determined.

Garbologist Likes 'Personal Contact'

EAST MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — The city's first annual "Employee of the Year" is Joe Perez, a "garbologist."

A garbologist? That's a term of respect used by Richard Tittle, city public works director, for a garbage man.

"All the guys on the truck work just as hard as I do," said Perez, 23. "Everybody else should have an award, too."

Mayor Dennis Jacobs, who announced the selection at a City Council meeting Monday night, said it was particularly appropriate that a garbologist was the first winner.

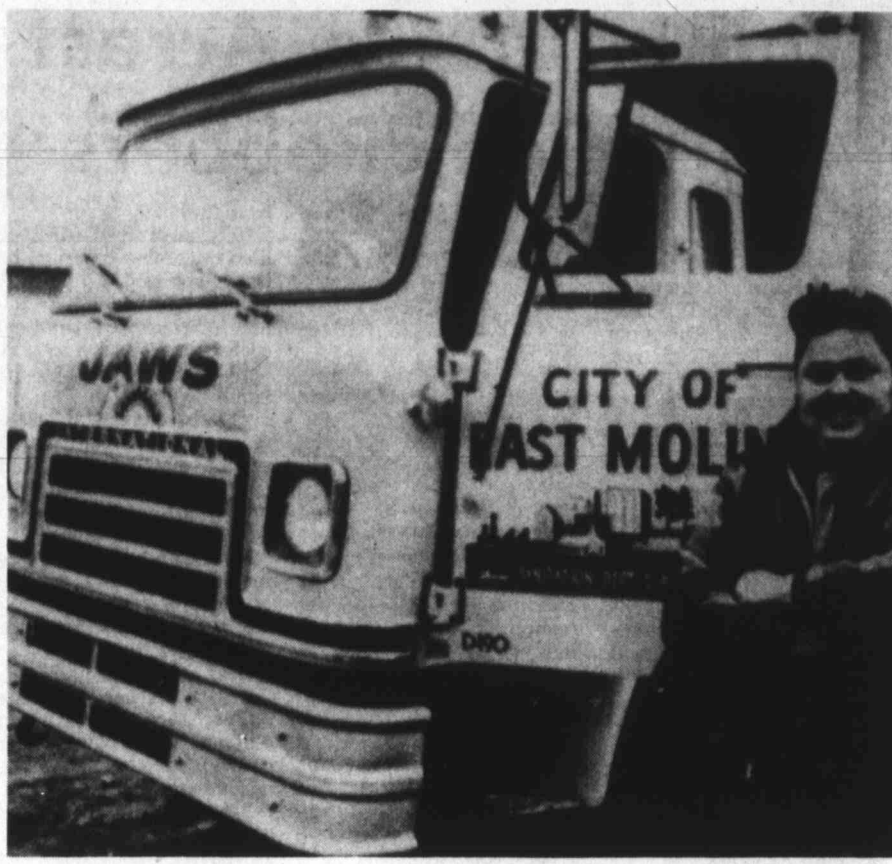

"They are the unsung heroes. And without them, we'd be pretty stinking."

Perez, single, earns $5.02 per hour and said he was surprised that his peers selected him for the honor.

A former service department employee of a local auto agency, Perez became a garbologist two years ago and says he enjoys the personal contact with people along the route.

He often performs "little personal extras" such as carrying out the garbage cans of elderly residents from their homes to the truck in the street.

"I grew up in East Moline and I know all the people, and, heck, it just makes the day go real good, talking with everybody and all," he said.

GARBOLOGIST IN OFFICE — Joe Perez, an East Moline garbage man, stands in his "office" today after being named the city's "Employee of the Year" last night. The new title was coined by public works director Richard Tittle.

British Expected To Rush Approval

LONDON (AP) — The British government is planning to give swift approval to the appointment of Anne Armstrong as the new U.S. ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

Authorized British government sources reported today that the approval had been formally requested Tuesday night and was likely to be given by the end of this week. This would be lightning action by the Foreign Office, which usually delays agreement on ambassadorial nominations for up to two weeks pending an examination of the nominee's credentials.

Mrs. Armstrong will be the first woman to be U.S. ambassador to Britain.

Her appointment coincides with a new British law banning all forms of sex discrimination and guaranteeing equality of treatment in law and pay, but there has thus far been little public reaction to reports of her nomination.

Elliot Richardson, the retiring U.S. ambassador who has been confirmed as the new U.S. secretary of commerce, called British Foreign Secretary James Callaghan at his farm in Sussex Tuesday night and told him that President Ford had chosen Mrs. Armstrong to head the embassy here.

The envoy-designate held the Cabinet-level post of presidential counselor for two years before resigning in December.

Judge Hears Suit On Red River Bridge

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A federal judge hears opening arguments today in a suit seeking to block construction of a bridge over the lake that supplies this city's drinking water.

The bridge would be part of the proposed I-220 loop that would steer traffic on I-20 around Shreveport and Bossier City.

The Louisiana Environmental Society, Inc., and Mrs. Vernon B. Chance filed suit four years ago in an effort to block construction of the bridge over Cross Lake, the primary source of the city's water. The suit asks that the loop be rerouted.

U.S. Dist. Judge Edwin Hunter of Lake Charles heard an earlier request for a preliminary injunction against construction and refused to grant the request. That decision was upheld by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

But the 5th Circuit did instruct Hunter to consider alternate routes for the highway.

State Highway Department Director W.T. Taylor said his office would have studies of routes around the lake available at the trial opening today, as Judge Hunter has requested.

However, Taylor said that unless something in the studies should change the department's thinking, he would recommend the Cross Lake bridge.

GOP Women's Meeting Axed

The Republican Women's meeting for the month of January has been cancelled, according to Mrs. Frances Wheat, president.

The meeting had been planned for Thursday noon. Members are urged to attend the civic luncheon for Sen. John Tower at Webb Air Force Base at noon Friday.

Sears Tops Sales Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. says its sales in December were the highest for any four-week period in the company's 89-year history.

A Sears official said gross sales were $1.76 billion, up 11.5 per cent over last December.

Arthur M. Wood, chairman and chief executive officer, said the strength in consumer spending was "clear evidence that the economic recovery is proceeding as expected."

Russia, U.S. Wheat Crops Said Faltering

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the winter grain planted in the Soviet Union last fall may be so frail that the 1976 harvest could depend to a large degree on whether the crop gets protective snow cover in a week or two, says an Agriculture Department expert.

But part of the U.S. winter wheat crop also is in poor shape, particularly in the Great Plains where planting was delayed by dry weather last fall.

The department last month tentatively estimated the 1976 U.S. winter wheat crop at less than 1.5 billion bushels, down 9 per cent from last year's record harvest. Officials warned that a more accurate reading will not be possible until spring.

No one is predicting now that the crops in either country are on the verge of catastrophe, but January is a critical month and USDA crop watchers say the situation is potentially grim in Russia.

Fletcher Pope Jr. of the department's Economic Research Service says, however, that the Russian winter crop could survive and yield well if protective snow develops quickly. But reports from Moscow on Tuesday said those were lacking in many parts of the country.

Asked to comment on those reports, Pope said that much depends on whether Russia's grain areas have to endure severe cold without snow for very long. He said January is the most precious time for Soviet winter grain.

"But I think that because of the limited soil moisture last fall that some of it — we really don't know how much — went into winter dormancy in less than optimum condition," Pope said.

Fall-planted grain normally lies dormant during the coldest part of winter and then begins growing in the spring, maturing for harvest in the summer.

The Soviet harvest of all grain last year was 137 million metric tons, the smallest in a decade and about 80 million tons short of Moscow's goal. It forced Russia to buy huge amounts of grain abroad, including 13.2 million tons of wheat and corn from the United States. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Pope said that Moscow's 1976 goal of 206 million tons of grain seems "realistic" in view of past weather and production trends. Fall planting was about on target in terms of acreage, he said.

"I really don't think at this point that we could say that weather or yields will be significantly from trend," Pope said.

The winter crop produces about 30 per cent of total Soviet grain, meaning that spring-planted wheat and other crops will make up most production. Thus, Pope said, total output will depend largely on the situation in a few months.

Meanwhile, the U.S. winter wheat crop by Jan. 4 also was hit by severe cold and was in "poor to fair" condition in western areas of Kansas, the leading producer, the department said Tuesday.

However, in Oklahoma and parts of Texas recent moisture has helped im-

Plymouth Shows New Small Car

DETROIT (AP) — The Plymouth Arrow, the latest entry in a growing U.S. field of small, low-priced cars imported from Japan, makes its debut today on the West Coast, where the minicar battle is fiercest.

Chrysler Corp., which is staging the little car's mid-year preview in Los Angeles, plans to import 25,000 Arrows in the first quarter of the year.

About the size of the Toyota Corolla, Datsun B-210 and Chevrolet Chevette, the Arrow becomes the eighth Japanese car to compete in the U.S. market for 1976, and the third to be imported by a U.S. company.

The Arrow will join its look-alike Dodge Colt, which Chrysler has been importing for several years. Both cars are built by Mitsubishi.

General Motors' Buick Division is importing for the first time in 1976 a Japanese Opel, built by Isuzu and similar in size to the Arrow and Colt.

The Opel had been built by GM's Adam Opel subsidiary in West Germany, but GM decided to stop importing it last year because of rising costs abroad that priced the Opel out of the economy market.

In addition, the American public can choose among Toyota, Datsun, Honda, Mazda and Subaru. Each sold strongly in 1975, despite the domestic car slump.

All small imports with good fuel economy sold well last year because of rising gasoline prices, but Japanese cars flexed the greatest sales muscle. Industry analysts attribute their success entirely to low prices.

Suspect Cut Bullet From Own Chest

DALLAS (AP) — Surgeons thought they were about to remove a bullet from a robbery defendant's chest when they learned the man had beat them to it.

The bullet was wanted for evidence against the defendant.

The operation on Wilmer Houston was cancelled Tuesday when X-rays revealed the bullet was no longer in him.

Police said Houston apparently cut the skin on his own chest or had another jail inmate cut it and remove the bullet. The slug was found in a matchbox among Houston's personal possessions.

Houston had been scheduled for surgery at Parkland Hospital before a second X-ray analysis showed it was gone.

Ballistics tests Tuesday afternoon linked the slug to the .38 caliber pistol which Garland Asst. Police Chief Bob Wade said he fired at an assailant during a Nov. 24 incident in Dallas.

Bonham Has Sam Rayburn Day

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — It was Sam Rayburn Day in this North Central Texas farming community near the Oklahoma border and several of the late U.S. House speaker's colleagues, friends and the governor turned out for his birthday celebration.

Many of the moments the powerful congressman cherished when he was alive were displayed inside the Sam Rayburn Library.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe had designated Tuesday, Rayburn's birthday, as the first annual Sam Rayburn Day.

Several hundred persons, less than anticipated, braved cold weather to attend the ceremonies on what would have been Rayburn's 94th birthday. He died in 1961.

Many were school children from Bonham and nearby communities.

Also visited was the old Sam Rayburn home, opened last year as a museum by the Texas Historical Commission.

The library, valued at $12 million, has been open since 1957, but the opening of the Rayburn home prompted the birthday celebration.

The two-story white frame house had been restored complete with furnishings, nostalgic Victrolas and radios, china figurines, dollies, photographs of the Speaker and political cartoons.

Rayburn's 1947 Cadillac, given to him by members of Congress when he was replaced by Republican Joe Martin as Speaker for the 1947-1949 term, has been restored and was used to chauffeur Gov. and Mrs. Briscoe around Tuesday.

Briscoe said at a ceremony that Rayburn exerted a profound influence on the policies and directions of government while serving with eight presidents, from Woodrow Wilson through the first year of the Kennedy administration.

"But, as President Kennedy said, 'It was the quality of that service more than its length that was so distinctive,'" Briscoe recalled.

Rayburn served 48 years in the House, 22 of them as Speaker.

Rayburn will be remembered, Briscoe said, "as one of the nation's strongest legislative leaders... a man who relied on the gift of persuasion, and not on raw power."

U.S. Rep. Wright Patman, a Texarkana Democrat, said Rayburn is missed more in Washington today than any other former member of Congress.

"We sorely need leadership in Congress," he said.

Judge Won't Order Uranium Contracts

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A federal court judge refused Tuesday to order Westinghouse Electric Corp. to honor canceled uranium contracts with 13 electric utilities while suits about the cancellations are pending.

But U.S. District Court Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. said during a pre-trial conference here Tuesday that he would hear arguments Feb. 2 on a motion by the utilities to enjoin Westinghouse from renegeing on the agreements.

More than 30 lawyers representing Westinghouse and the utilities attended the pre-trial conference in the contract dispute assigned to Merhige last month after a panel of judges in Philadelphia consolidated the cases into one.

Westinghouse canceled the contracts to supply uranium to the utilities last fall. It contended increases in the price it paid for uranium made it economically impossible to furnish the nuclear fuel to the utilities at the prices agreed upon in the contracts.

The contracts call for delivery of 5.5 million pounds of nuclear fuel this year, of which 2.8 million pounds had been promised to Virginia Electric & Power Co.

Westinghouse said between 1977 and 1993 it had agreed to supply 63.1 million pounds to the 13 utilities, including 7.2 million pounds to Vepco.

San Antonio Applies For Solar Firm

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — San Antonio may join with El Paso in submitting an application for Texas for the Solar Energy Research Institute.

The Solar Energy Task Force discussed Tuesday applying for the institute under a consolidated application rather than as an individual city.

The federal research institute is expedited, to employ about 1,500 persons. It will ultimately become national technical center for solar energy.

OIL SPILL CLEANUP ACCELERATED

New York Oil Fire Contained

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard stepped up the recovery of spilled oil today after firemen extinguished a stubborn oil tank fire on the South Brooklyn waterfront that had raged for more than 36 hours.

Arthur Soule, president of the Patchogue Oil Co., said an estimated 2.1 million gallons of oil, valued at $800,000, was either burned or spilled. The five-alarm fire destroyed three tanks with a combined capacity of 7.5 million gallons.

At the same time, fears persisted that the massive oil spill, estimated at 1 million gallons, would spread to neighboring waters, endangering wildlife.

The fire was declared under control at 8:02 a.m. Tuesday, but firemen continued to pump foam on the tanks until mid-afternoon. The blaze began Sunday with an explosion of unknown origin.

Aided by private contractors, the Coast Guard used specially equipped skimmer barges and eight vacuum trucks to clear the Gowanus Canal, an inlet of Upper New York Bay and a major route for fuel and industry supplies.

The Coast Guard could give no estimate on how long it would take to reopen the 100-yard wide canal which was clogged with oil for a three-quarter mile stretch.

Ogden Reid, state commissioner for environmental conservation, said an aerial survey by his department Tuesday showed that at least some of the oil had seeped beyond the plastic flotation booms set to contain it and had been swept by the tide into the lower East River.

Nineteen firemen and two civilian employees suffered minor injuries while fighting the blaze.

Electronic Mail Worries Postal Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service, with nearly 700,000 employees, is beginning to worry about competition from electronic communication systems which threaten to make mailmen obsolete.

"We are being by-passed technologically and these new developments have a potential impact on the bread-and-butter part of our business, first-class mail," said J. T. Ellington Jr., senior assistant postmaster general, in an interview.

The Postal Service has a legal monopoly on first-class mail, but the electronic systems were never anticipated by the laws establishing this monopoly.

One of the first major uses of the new technology begins this month as the federal government bypasses the mails to begin depositing some Social Security payments directly in pensioners' bank accounts by electronic transfer. This is done by providing each bank with magnetic tape that records all Social Security deposits for that bank.

The government plans to use electronic transfer in the coming years to pay federal employees' salaries and make other payments, such as to veterans and retired government workers.

Within five years, 18 million fewer government checks will be moving through the mail every month, the Treasury Department estimates.

Financial institutions are considering similar means to transfer money instead of mailing pieces of paper, a move that could mean less mail volume. Financial mail comprises over one-third of the Postal Service's revenue. In addition, some businesses have invested in systems of electronic message transmission, a related area.

Describing the technological change facing the service, Ellington said, "The majority of business mail already is generated by computer — computerized invoices, computerized addresses or what have you. Once you have a relationship like that, you have to ask why not just send the message from one computer to another without the middleman."

The message industry envisions a receiver in everyone's home to receive messages 24 hours a day. A customer upon awakening would find all of his "mail" in a tray waiting for him.

The technology for such systems may already exist in microwaves and satellite channels.

Ellington described the Postal Service as "the last of the mass personal services. The milkman and the deliveryman are gone but we still have mailmen."

The Postal Service, with nearly 700,000 employees, is what economists call "labor intensive," meaning people do most of the processing.

Ellington said the inroads of the new technology "are causing us to look again at the nature of our mail system. Should we deliver mail every day? Should we impose a 'charge' for delivering mail to a new address? If we are to continue the present type of service, there may have to be higher subsidies from Congress."

Ellington said the Postal Service is "evaluating going into" electronic transfer.

Woman Found Dead In Tub

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A partially nude woman was found dead in the bathtub of her north Lubbock apartment Monday and a police investigation continued today.

A ruling was expected in the death of Marcella E. Valenzuela, 20, a Carlsbad, N.M., native who had lived in Lubbock the last 18 months.

Justice of the Peace F. H. Bolen said he had asked detectives to investigate the young waitress' death "as if it were a homicide—until it's proven different."

Although an autopsy had not been completed, initial reports indicated no wounds were visible on the woman's body.

Jeanette Condray, apartment complex manager, told police she sent an employe to the apartment to check on Miss Valenzuela after receiving a long distance phone call from the woman's sister.

The employe reportedly entered the apartment and smelled a strange odor, but was too frightened to check.

Miss Condray went to the apartment, noticed the bathroom door open, and pulled back a closed shower partition to find the body.

Sources close to the investigation said they believe the woman was placed in the bathroom where she was found face up and wearing only a t-shirt.

Investigators said Miss Valenzuela was last seen alive New Year's Eve at the Village Tavern where she worked. They said she last early because she was ill.

Derailment Cleanup Begins

STUART, Okla. (AP)—Repairmen were to be back on the job again today repairing damage because of a 15-car train derailment over the weekend.

Part of the railroad trestle collapsed and extensive damage was done to 10 of the cars which plunged into a ravine. But there were no injuries reported in the Saturday night incident.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

ELLINGTON described the Postal Service as "the last of the mass personal services. The milkman and the deliveryman are gone but we still have mailmen."

The message industry envisions a receiver in everyone's home to receive messages 24 hours a day. A customer upon awakening would find all of his "mail" in a tray waiting for him.

The technology for such systems may already exist in microwaves and satellite channels.

Winterhawk... A Blackfoot Legend.

COUNSELS MANY — Fannie Pegram, 45, claims her extra sensory powers have helped many persons in time of trouble. From her downtown office in Dallas, Tex., she advises businessmen on pending deals, assists drug addicts and alcoholics in breaking the habit and seeks ways for couples to solve their marital problems.

DISCOVERED GIFT AS YOUTH
Woman With ESP Counsels Businessmen In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The sky looked different to young Fannie Pegram that morning as she lugged a bucket of water from a nearby pond to her small North Texas farm home.

The child paused, listened, and knew her aunt's baby was dead. Several hours later the aunt informed the family the infant had died.

As a teenager, other youths came to Fannie for advice on school problems, their social life, and parental troubles. She was never wrong.

As a maid in several Dallas homes, Fannie attempted to help others with this special power she said had been given to her by God.

"I could see the trouble ahead for so many people, but as a maid I couldn't speak out. But for those who asked, I advised, and I know I helped."

Today, Fannie uses her extrasensory perception in a carpeted suite located in a fashionable office complex on the fringe of downtown Dallas.

She advises businessmen on pending deals; assists drug addicts and alcoholics in breaking their habits; seeks ways for housewives and husbands to solve marital troubles; and answers questions, often before they are asked, of the curiosity seekers.

Fannie Pegram is a tall—about 5-feet-9-inches— attractive black woman of 45; a housewife, a mother of four; her eyes penetrating and her laughter more relaxing to edgy nerves than any tranquilizer.

She insists she has no desire to be wealthy or famous, only to use her talent to guide others around or over the pitfalls of life.

"I am no witch. I just have a natural God-given talent. I hear the spirit talk and I know, I know," she said in a recent interview.

A psychiatrist, an osteopath, an advertising executive, and others who had benefited from Fannie's counsel and ESP encouraged her to open her own office. One family gave financial assistance until she could handle the expenses.

How could an untrained person, who never had the opportunity to complete the fifth grade, assist those with mental or emotional problems?

Fannie answered, "a person often tells the psychiatrist only what he or she wants him to know. That is all he has to work with. A lot of people won't face facts. I can tell them their hagnaps, their problems, and then they are out in the open, they must face them."

Reared on a farm near the community of Wills Point, Fannie, as she prefers to be called, had limited opportunity to attend school.

"When the cotton had to be chopped, it had to be chopped, and when it had to be picked, it had to be picked. One of the hardest things was to stand in that cotton field and see the yellow bus go by and know I couldn't get on."

She said her lack of a formal education troubled her at times because, "I know a person has a problem, or an illness, and I can't find the words to describe it. I cannot cure them, nor will I ever try. I send them to a doctor, but I wish I could tell the doctor in medical words what is wrong."

Can Fannie tell you things she has no way of knowing? Can she see you for the first time and know facts that you have shared with few others?

Her eyes closed, opened slowly, and she told the person across the desk: "You don't eat right. You had better change your ways."

The man did, in fact, skip meals, and often went all day with nothing more than a salad or a bowl of soup.

"You have two children and both are in college."

He has two children and both are in college.

"Your father is dead. He was in sports but he always wanted to be a preacher."

His father is dead. He was a high school football coach for 30 years but wanted to be a missionary.

"Your mother is not feeling well."

His mother was fine, until a telephone check showed down with a back ailment.

"An associate of yours, not long ago, ripped you off."

He had been ripped off of not long ago by an associate.

"The headaches you suffer are from tension. You are working too hard."

He has headaches.

There were many other things from the past told by Fannie and visions of the future.

Even without a problem or a question, Fannie can give you some philosophical gems, such as:

"Parents go around saying they can't do anything with their children. They sure can. A child is resentful and angry with parents who won't do anything, so the kids go out and do something worse."

And, "Religion is a personal thing. Everybody has the right to see God in their own way. If you don't trust people, then you better trust God. Everybody needs somebody, somewhere who cares."

And, "Some are ashamed of what they do for a living. I was proud of being a maid, because I was a good one. There is nothing wrong with hard work."

School Count About Same
Only losses from the senior high school reduced enrollment at the close of Big Spring schools before the holidays, and even so the figure was near last year's comparable level.

The total was 6,435, only 13 less than the Jan. 10, 1975 total. The elementary figure was 3,253, up one, while the secondary total was 3,064, down nine (the senior high drop was 10). Hospital and homebound enrollment was 109, down one.
