China Mourns Premier Chou En-Lai, Successor Predicted

TOKYO (AP) — China began a week of mourning today for Premier Chou En-lai amid expectations that Teng Hsiaping, his 71-year-old first deputy, will succeed him as premier. But Chou's more powerful second spot in the Communist party hierarchy may go to 39-year-old Wang Hung-wen, a vice chairman of the party and the boy wonder of Chinese politics.

Chou, China's premier since the Communist victory in 1949 and one of the outstanding statesmen of the century, died Thursday at the age of 78. The death announcement was delayed for 16 hours. He had been in the hospital since he had a heart attack in May 1974, but cancer was given as the cause of death.

The Chinese Embassy said the funeral would be held in Peking on Jan. 15. Hsinhua, the official Chinese news agency, announced a 107-member funeral committee headed by Mao Tse-tung, the 82-year-old chairman of the Chinese Communist party and for 40 years Chou's mentor.

A Peking radio broadcast said that "in accordance with China's customs and protocol reform," no foreign dignitaries would be invited "to take part in the mourning activities."

Hsinhua said all Peking's newspapers devoted the entire front page to the obituary notice with a portrait bordered in black. A black-bordered streamer across each page read: "Eternal glory to Comrade Chou En-lai, great proletarian revolutionary of the Chinese people and outstanding Communist fighter!"

Western embassies in Peking reported that flags were at half staff in Tiananmen Square, the symbolic center of China, but that the emotional reaction was low key. They said crowds gathered in the cold outside newspaper offices to get copies of the People's Daily and to read the news on displays.

A correspondent for the Hungarian news agency MTI reported that redoubled security patrols were circling Peking streets but that otherwise the scene was normal.

Japanese correspondents in Peking said Communist party leaders met Thursday night at the Great Hall of the People and there was speculation the party Central Committee was deciding on Chou's successor.

The reports cited unidentified sources saying a new leadership would be set up after the funeral. They said the Central Committee would hold a plenary session shortly and that the National People's Congress was expected to meet this month.

Observers believed the choice was sure to be Teng, a protégé of Chou who was purged in 1967 during the Great Cultural Revolution, returned to power in 1973 and has been running the government since the premier became ill.

Teng is considered a strong advocate of relations between China and the United States, and U.S. officials said because of this Chou's death was not expected to have an adverse effect on contacts between Washington and Peking. Teng became known to American television audiences when he was President Ford's host last month.

However, the funeral committee list, which presumably listed the members in the order of their party standing, placed Wang second after Mao and Teng fourth, following Defense Minister Yeh Chien-ying, 79. This could mean that Wang would inherit Chou's party mantle, putting him in line to succeed Mao as party chairman. Wang was chosen for high office as a concession to the nation's youth, but his star seemed to waver in recent months. Following Chou's illness, he ceased to accompany foreign visitors to audiences with Mao and in recent months he has made his headquarters in Shanghai. He reappeared in Peking Dec. 17 to preside at the funeral of another party vice chairman, Kang Sheng.

Teng and Chou were students in France together in the early 1920s and organized a branch of the Chinese Communist party there. In the formative years of the party in China, he was one of Mao's and Chou's most valued administrative and political aides.

He was party general secretary and a member of the Politburo as well as a vice premier when Defense Minister Lin Biao engineered his disgrace during the Cultural Revolution. Lin was killed in 1971 in a plane crash in Mongolia, reportedly after an unsuccessful plot to assassinate Mao, and Teng reappeared two years later at a banquet in Peking for Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The news of Chou's death was announced to the Chinese people by a radio broadcast early today. The people of Peking were reported stunned and subdued even though they knew for months he was gravely ill.

Ford said Chou "left his imprint not only on the history of modern China but also on the world scene."

IN THE LIMELIGHT DURING NIXON VISIT — Then President Richard Nixon lends a hand to China's Premier Chou En-lai who was taking off his coat prior to the start of a meeting in Peking in Feb. 1972. On Thursday the official news agency of China, Hsinhua reported that Chou En-lai died of cancer.

U.S. MUST BE NO. 1 IN DEFENSE

Webb Important Air Base, Tower Stresses

Webb AFB is a "viable base and I hope it will continue to be an important air base," Sen. John Tower told a press conference at the base here this morning.

What happens to the military structure, he said, depends largely upon what Congress does.

"Congress talks about de-emphasis of the military. Social programs are more popular with voters, but I think if Congress swings too heavily in this direction it has its priorities wrong. We can't afford to be less than No. 1 when it comes to defense."

Serving as President Ford's campaign manager in Texas, Tower admitted that the President acted on poor advice when he signed the energy bill and that it hurt his strength in Texas.

CORRECT ENERGY BILL "I hope there can be some remedial legislation to correct some of the bad features. We need to exclude strippers and enhance recovery," he added.

The senator said that he thought revenue sharing will continue in its present form because it has proved to be both popular and productive.

Noticeably upset when Vietnam was mentioned in connection with Angola, Sen. Tower lashed back. "There is no analogy between Angola and Vietnam. We are not going to repeat a mistake like Vietnam. We have no military advisors in Angola or any treaties in Africa like we had in Vietnam."

NOT ENOUGH AID "We could not become involved in military action there without Congressional approval. And, so far, Congress has not even approved what they should in indirect aid to Angola. We cannot abandon the underdeveloped world and simply give the Soviets the privilege of being the strongest power in the world."

The senator pointed out the importance of the location of Angola, which faces the seaport where oil goes from the Middle East to Western Europe. It also is accessible as a naval and air base facing South America.

For the second day in a row, Tower also called for an end to all investigations into the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He blamed the news media for the assassination of Richard Welch in Greece because Welch had been identified by a Washington D.C. publication.

UNFORTUNATE ACT "The committee was very careful not to make revelations blowing confidentiality, and we consider it very unfortunate that the news media abused their privileges."

He commended the choice of George Bush to head the CIA, and when asked if he engineered the nomination of Ann Armstrong as Ambassador to Britain, he laughed.

"If she receives the appointment, she will be outstanding, since she is charming, full of grace and in-elligent." Regarding the tax cut bill, he said, "I hope that Congress will live up to its responsibilities and try to hold down government spending."

HIDDEN TAX He listed inflation as a hidden tax that strikes hardest at those on fixed incomes and said that inflation is partially caused by government deficit spending which the citizens cause by demanding more and more federal programs.

Sen. Tower refused to speculate on either the possible Democratic nominee for President or the GOP vice-presidential nominee. He admitted that former Gov. Ronald Reagan has a lot of strength in Texas, "but believes that by the time of the primary, Texas will back President Ford."

The Texas senator said that he did not think that Reagan, if he fails to be nominated, would even loan himself to a third party movement.

"He is an able man, and he is also a good and loyal party man," Sen. Tower said.

Estimated 140 Guests Attend Reception For U.S. Senator

Local Republicans hosted a reception for Tower at the Big Spring Country Club at 8 p.m. Thursday with around 140 guests attending and close to 200 contributing to the event.

A total was not revealed but the reception was $50 per couple plus any donations anyone wanted to make, according to Winston Wrinkle.

Co-hosts for the event were G. Ben Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Choate, Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Mays, Mr. and Mrs. George McAlister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McMahon Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Wrinkle.

Tower had been met at the airport earlier by a full contingent of the Big Spring Ambassador's Club along with Col. Robert Owens, wing commander at Webb AFB and Mayor Choate. The mayor presented the senator a copy of a book about Big Spring written by Shine Phillips.

WELCOME TO BIG SPRING — Sen. John Tower was being welcomed to Big Spring Thursday night by Col. Robert Owens, wing commander at Webb AFB, shown in the center. At the left is Winston Wrinkle, long active with the local Republican party, and on the right, Mayor Wade Choate.

Byrd Enters Demo Race For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, one of the Senate's most powerful members, today joined the already crowded field of candidates seeking the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

Byrd, 57, announced he would run in the West Virginia primary election to be held May 11 and did not rule out entering other primary races. He said he hopes to be regarded as more than a favorite son.

Byrd described himself at a news conference as a darkhorse candidate who might capture the nomination in the event of a deadlock at the Democratic national convention and said he has "as good a chance as anyone."

"The national convention may or may not choose from those who travel the presidential primary route," Byrd said.

"In saying this, I do not close the door on my entry into primaries other than the West Virginia primary," he added. "That will be a matter I will have to decide in the days ahead."

Byrd, the Senate majority whip, joins ten other well-known politicians already who have announced their candidacy.

He said he would formally file papers to enter the West Virginia primary next week and will file for election to a fourth term in the Senate at the same time.

Meanwhile, Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., said today he has asked to have his name removed from the Republican presidential primary ballot in Massachusetts. But he did not indicate that this step amounted to an abandonment of his presidential ambitions.

Mathias said in a statement released here that he will continue visiting other states "to discuss the practical problems facing the country and to develop solutions that command support of the great middle-of-the-road mass of voters."

Mathias had earlier said he might enter the contest if it appeared President Ford was leaning too far to the right in an effort to stave off the conservative challenge of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Reagan was to take his campaign to Florida in his quest for the Republican nomination. President Ford's campaign manager, Howard H. Callaway, attacked Reagan's budget-cutting proposals on Thursday, calling the plan "a $90-billion boondoggle."

Byrd has been testing the political waters for a possible presidential bid for some time, casting himself as a potential dark horse who might capture the nomination in the event of a convention deadlock.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second consecutive monthly decline in wholesale farm prices eased inflationary pressure in December, but there was no improvement in the nation's stubborn unemployment rate, the government reported today.

In separate reports, the Labor Department said wholesale prices fell a seasonally adjusted fourth-tenths of one per cent last month while the unemployment rate was unchanged at 8.3 per cent with 7.8 million Americans unable to find jobs.

For the year, unemployment averaged 8.5 per cent, the highest level since 1941, before World War II snapped the nation out of depression. That year, the joblessness averaged 9.9 per cent out of a labor force of 55.9 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet guided-missile cruiser is reported steaming southward along the West African coast, raising the possibility that it could eventually join other Russian Navy vessels in the Angola area. The heavily armed Kresta 11 cruiser, which sailed out of the Mediterranean, was last reported off Mauritania. Pentagon sources said the cruiser is expected to reach Conakry, Guinea, this weekend.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — African foreign ministers were meeting informally today "to narrow areas of differences" in preparation for the Organization of African Unity's weekend summit meeting in Angola, a spokesman reported. The foreign ministers gathered Thursday for a brief public session at which four of them condemned South African military intervention in the civil war in the former Portuguese territory. But they said nothing about Soviet or Cuban intervention.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant militants sounded new threats of all-out civil war in Northern Ireland Thursday night. Protestant political leaders reiterated that they will not share power with the Roman Catholic minority under any circumstances. If Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government does not accept that, declared Vanguard party leader Ernest Baird, it must face the "inevitable consequence of a final conflict" in Ulster.

HEAT WAVE?

Warming trend under fair skies. High today and Saturday in the upper 60s. Low tonight, mid 30s. Southerly to southwesterly wind 15-25 miles per hour this afternoon. Blowing 10-15 m.p.h. tonight.

Harnessing The Wind

At the summer home of Rep. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin a windmill of modern design drives a generator to provide electricity, since electrical requirements of the home are minimal. This is a reminder of the crude attempts many years ago, before REA lines criss-crossed rural areas, when many homes had a windcharger capable of at least operating the radio. Before that was the water windmill, which helped open the western frontier.

But what makes Rep. Reuss' windmill experiment unique is that it generates a power in excess of the home's limited needs. The surplus goes into the local utility's power grid.

Across the land more modern versions of the windmill are being used to generate power for a specific location but not for feedbacks of surplus.

The congressman's model also is different in that most federal research concentrates on big wind energy experiments. He thinks a legion of smaller units, capable of diverting surplus into utility power banks, would accomplish more.

Perhaps in Wisconsin, but perhaps not in West Texas where the wind blows bountifully without hindrance. Moreover, diversion of small surplus power to power grids may not be as practical and as easy as the lone experiment indicates. Tuning the grid to every minute variation on the line might be expensive prohibitive. Gigantic wind-powered generation units, however, would be different.

Nevertheless, experimentation with both is in the public interest. We still feel that there is a place in the wind energy research efforts for tests in the West Texas area. We could suggest a number of hilltop locations where this restless energy supply almost always seems to abound.

Fuzzy Picture

There appears to be a difference in versions of how a prisoner was released from city jail back in December. The police version says that Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena appeared, ostensibly changed a standard bail bond to be a personal recognizance bond, stuck it in his pocket and released the prisoner. The JP's version is that he had been called by a relative to the city jail to set bond for the prisoner, which he did.

This is a fuzzy way of doing business on the part of the JP and of the police. In the first place, there is record of a formal charge against the prisoner, so fixing bond for someone who has not been charged with an offense skirts the law. The county attorney says that "it's done all the time" and that is true—but it is questionable if this meets the requirements of the law. If the JP caused the prisoner to be freed without a duly executed bond filed with the police, he is at fault; if the police released the man without a legal bond, they are at fault. Surely we can do better than this.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: We have been married over 40 years, and are a faithful churchgoing couple. To all our friends we are a model Christian couple. However, my husband is only playing the part, and in the privacy of our home he is profane and makes fun of my faith in Christ. He says he does not even want to hear me mention such things. Is there any hope for a man like this? — Mrs. S. D.

DEAR MRS. S. D.: Some of Jesus' strongest statements were directed against religious hypocrites — those who went through the motions of religion but lacked the reality of a personal commitment to God.

You ask if there is any hope for a man like this. Yes, there is. In fact, his statement that he does not want to hear you speak of Christ may be indication that he has a guilty conscience and knows that he needs God. It is true that many years of rejecting God have hardened his heart greatly, but never forget that God's Holy Spirit can melt even the coldest heart. The man Saul was filled with an intense hatred of Christians; yet God changed his heart and he became the apostle Paul. One of the great stories of the Old Testament is the way God changed the heart of Manasseh, the most evil king Judah ever had. (II Chronicles 33) Pray for your husband, and seek to live a Christlike life before him so that he can see the reality of God in your life. Sometimes old age and the knowledge of approaching death will be used by God to direct a person to Christ.

I know that in many ways this has made your marriage less than it could have been if your husband had been a believer. I do not know if you were a Christian when you married your husband. However, a letter such as yours certainly should be a warning to all Christian young people to seek God's leading in marrying a Christian mate.

Deceiving Glow?

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes when the patient is very ill he may develop a deceiving glow, a fever that to the untrained eye might be mistaken for ruddy good health.

Touche Ross & Co., the big accounting firm, suggests that corporate financial statements might be emitting that glow.

"How can U.S. corporations be reporting record sales and profits at a time when they are wracked with record problems of liquidity, debt and capital shortage?" it asks, and quickly supplies its answer: "Because the profits they are reporting have little relationship with reality."

The dollar figures used are inflated, said Russell Palmer, managing partner, in launching a campaign this week to experiment with more meaningful accounting. Today's dollar cannot be compared with yesterday's, he said.

To illustrate: Nonfinancial corporations reported 1974 after-tax profits of $66 billion, compared with $38 billion in 1965, an apparent increase of 74 per cent.

Now adjust for inflation; that is, use the same dollar to measure both years and thus obtain comparable results. Pick the 1968 dollar as a measure and you learn those earnings didn't rise — they fell, from an adjusted $37 billion in 1965 to around $21 billion in 1974.

One answer to such numerical misrepresentation may be to report a company's financial condition in current or real values rather than current prices, that is, with inflation wrung out. Palmer says we should seek to develop techniques.

"Reporting assets and liabilities at current values reflects true economic profits — not illusory profits, the kind any number of companies have reported recently, even while heading into bankruptcy," he said.

Touche Ross isn't the first to make such suggestions, but it seems willing to throw more weight than the others into what it calls "Economic Reality in Financial Reporting," subtitled "A Program For Experimentation."

The proposal, aimed initially at directors and senior corporate managements, and then at securities analysts, educators and accountants, seeks to experiment with current value accounting this year.

"The goals of accounting are to measure, record and communicate reality," the proposal begins, soon illustrating just how these goals are encumbered by persistent inflation.

"Inflation is distorting the economic decisions of almost every enterprise," and government agency," the accounting firm commented. One need only match his or her paycheck with last year's to get the central idea, which is:

You cannot use two different measuring sticks, one of perhaps 10 inches, the other of 12, and claim to have comparable measurements. Regardless of whatever size measuring stick you use, it must be the same for both years.

Curiously, the U.S. government doesn't seem to care a lot about this, at least in releasing some of the statistics that have popular appeal, such as for Gross National Product or retail sales.

The Beep Beep JP

Around The Rim

John Edwards

Through a service he leases, Justice of the Peace Bob West is available to the police department, sheriff's office and Texas Highway Patrol at almost all times.

"It gives me more opportunity to spend with my family riding around and so forth," West explained, paradoxically.

ONCE, THROUGH the communication system, law enforcement officers alerted West at a Christmas social. The magistrate left the party and held court for an out-of-state traffic violator.

Another time, police used the system to contact West while the JP was driving home. West was notified of a death requiring investigation.

"For all the major cases, I've been available at the phone," West said. The system, however, could easily benefit the public in an emergency before long. West, who was appointed Oct. 1, 1975, started using the system in November.

HE SUBSCRIBES to the same "beeper system" nurses, doctors and emergency technicians use. Anyone may contract for the service, West understood. Out of his own funds, West pays $20.25 monthly to the Midland company providing the paging service.

"THEY FURNISH you this pager and a battery charger," West said. "It works for eight hours, and it has to be charged for 12."

"Each one of these pagers has a different frequency," the JP said.

WHEN SOMEONE knowing West's frequency designation calls a phone number, a paging operator takes the message. The hand-size pager carried on his belt beeps, and the message is read to him.

"Most of the time, they repeat it twice," West said. "Sometimes, they don't. The repeat is because you cannot talk back," West said.

"THERE'S NO way of telling you don't get the message unless you don't call back," West said.

West can be reached anywhere within a 15-mile radius of Big Spring, though. And he is better able to fulfill his promise of being available 24-hours daily because of the pager.

Nixon Eavesdropped

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who was implicated in tapping the telephones of seven subordinates and four newsmen, had his own phone calls monitored.

No less than Richard Nixon, in a fit of presidential pique, ordered the Secret Service to monitor calls to and from his top foreign policy adviser in December 1972.

THIS HAD BEEN confirmed by the man who transmitted Nixon's orders to the Secret Service, Charles Colson, then a member of Nixon's inner circle. He has described the incident in a sizzling, soon-to-be-published book, "Born Again."

We have also spoken to other sources familiar with the backroom machinations that led to the eavesdropping. Here are the incredible details:

ON SUNDAY, Dec. 17, 1972, President Nixon ordered the Air Force to bomb North Vietnam into submission to force a settlement. The devastating round-the-clock raids outraged our adversaries and allies alike. Even at home, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield called the bombing "Stone Age strategy."

Kissinger pleaded with the President to explain his reasons for the bombing to the world. Nixon not only declined but ordered strict silence about the bombing throughout the bureaucracy.

Not long afterward, New York Times columnist James Reston wrote that Kissinger had opposed the bombing. Reston was critical of the air assault, calling it "war by tantrum."

COLSON READ the column to Nixon, who was furious. "I will not tolerate insubordination," he exploded. "You tell Henry he's to talk to no one, period! I mean no one! And tell him not to call me. I will accept no calls from him."

Colson relayed the message to Kissinger who agreed not to discuss the bombing with anyone in the press. Meanwhile, Nixon buried himself in a Washington Redskins football game, but it didn't cool him down, Colson recalls.

Possibly to escape Nixon's wrath, Kissinger had flown off to Palm Springs, the California resort for a few days of relaxation. But Nixon, still fuming, decided to keep tabs on Kissinger.

AS COLSON recounts it, the President "ordered me to have the Secret Service keep a record of all incoming and outgoing calls from Kissinger's heavily guarded villa in Palm Springs."

Colson issued the orders through an aide and the Secret Service began monitoring Kissinger's calls, says the former White House aide. He's unsure whether the Secret Service tapped Kissinger's lines, bugged his end of the conversation or merely used devices to list incoming and outgoing calls. The Secret Service had the capability, according to our sources, to do all three.

THE SECRET SERVICE learned from the monitoring that Kissinger tried to reach Nixon. But true to his threat, the angry President refused to take the calls. Colson reports that Kissinger then "proceeded to call his old friend, Joe Kraft."

Three days later, the columnist wrote in the Washington Post that Kissinger had valiantly opposed Nixon's bombing order. This so infuriated the President that he began "counting the days until Henry left to return to Harvard," recalls Colson. Sources close to Kissinger says he was acutely aware of the move to send him back to Harvard and make him the scapegoat of Nixon's bombing policies.

'Hardball' Error

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — That the White House and Maine's two young Republican Congressmen ended 1975 in mutual rancor and distrust is simply one more sad example of incompetency enveloping President Ford's White House, partially explaining his present political condition.

WHEN A WHITE HOUSE aide linked the Congressmen's prospective votes on the tax veto override with the President's prospective decision on possible reappointment of a prominent Maine Republican, it was redolent of the days of James G. Blaine, the Maine Republican "stalwart" of the 1880s. But even if that brass-knuckle tactic had worked on the two Congressmen, it would not have been necessary to win the vote. Adding the final dash of biters, a stiff-backed White House still refuses to admit its mistake.

THE INCIDENT is a classic study of what ails the Ford White House. What was called "hardball" in Nixon days is still stiffly played in Mr. Ford's Oval Office, more closely reflecting the personality of Richard M. Nixon than Jerry Ford but lacking the ruthless Nixonian competency.

The Maine incident goes back to Dec. 17 when a reporter noticed Max Friedersdorf, chief White House Lobbyist, in Capitol Hill. Are you up here, Friedersdorf was asked, to lobby against an override of the tax cut veto? No, said Friedersdorf, he was lobbying for budget director James T. Lynn's pay increase.

THE NEWSMAN PASSED that information on to sometimes short-fused Rep. Barber Conable of New York, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee.

Conable, an architect of Republican tax strategy, was aggravated. That news fortified other reports that the White House was not lobbying against an override, causing Democratic leaders to surmise this would be what they were calling a "friendly" veto. Conable contacted Friedersdorf and urged him to get moving.

AS A SURVIVING Nixon holdover, Friedersdorf sometimes betrays his origins. Ex-newspaperman Friedersdorf, for instance, takes pride in avoiding contact with reporters and generally declines to return their calls.

Many Varieties Of Cysts

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you please tell me about ovarian cysts? I am 23 and had one on my right ovary, then on my left one early in my pregnancy. That was about two years ago. My periods are very irregular. Can such cysts cause a skipped period? — C. M.

There are several varieties of ovarian cysts. Some are benign, some malignant. The key word in such matters is observation.

Of least concern are the follicle cysts, also called retention cysts. These form as a natural result of ovulation and usually disappear by themselves.

Cysts that become larger over a period of observation are best removed, if for no other reason than to determine their exact nature. Some cysts fluctuate in size, enlarging prior to menstruation, then growing smaller afterwards.

A woman may develop a number of cysts on her ovaries, and this is what is meant when we say that a woman has "cystic ovaries." These can be treated by removing a small sliver of each ovary, which often alleviates the problem. In older women, ovarian removal is usually recommended.

Any ovarian cyst may cause menstrual irregularity, and it is the first thing looked for in such cases. Most cysts are benign, but even benign ones can grow large enough to create pressures. These require removal.

If it has been two years since you were told you had ovarian cysts, an examination is overdue, especially since you now report menstrual irregularity. Remember the need for observation. This would be especially important if you have been using oral contraceptive pills, which can tend to make cysts grow larger.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For the past three years I've suffered from sinus trouble. I have regular checkups and have been given decongestants to dry it up. But when it dries up it seems to close off the nasal passages so tightly that I have headaches.

I also have ear troubles with this. Do you have a sinus booklet? — Mrs. C. E. C.

First of all the booklet. It is called "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble," and you can get a copy by sending 35 cents in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped (13 cents now) and self-addressed envelope.

You may be taking too much of the decongestant, which can cause this kind of rebound effect. You should report it to your doctor and he may want to adjust the medication or the length of time you use it.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

January 9, 1776:

A 47-page, 18-cent pamphlet entitled "Common Sense" appears for the first time in Philadelphia bookstalls. The pamphlet's author is Thomas Paine, a 38-year-old Englishman who had a checked career in Britain before coming to the colonies 13 months ago. "Common Sense" is an instant success — selling 120,000 copies in just three months. The most influential pamphlet ever published in this country, it does more to persuade Americans to independence than any other document of the Revolution, except perhaps the Declaration of Independence. Believing the time for liberty to be at hand, Paine writes: "Everything that is right or reasonable pleads for separation. The blood of the slain, the weeping voice of nature cries, 'tis time to part."

A Devotion For Today

"I run straight toward the goal in order to win the prize, which is God's call through Jesus Christ to the life above."

(Philippians 3:14, TEV)

PRAYER: God, keep before us today a clear vision of the prize of salvation. May we fix our hearts upon Your kingdom and resist all deviations which might hinder our gaining it. Amen.

Gas Shortage Closes East Texas Schools

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Scores of Northeast Texas schools were closed today after Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. (Arkla) told school districts in its service area that frigid weather had lowered its natural gas supply.

The closings gave an unexpected holiday to thousands of children in more than a dozen Northeast Texas communities.

Arkla asked all schools in its five-state area late Thursday to close today so that residential customers and hospitals would have enough gas for heat.

Other schools affected were in most of Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana, all but the north part of Oklahoma and the Wichita, Kan., area.

"There has been an abnormally deep and extended period of cold weather over the entire five-state system of Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co., causing the normal curtailment of large industrial customers and further curtailment of large commercial customers not ordinarily curtailed," said D.W. Weir, Arkla's board chairman.

The utility asked that thermostats in the closed schools be set at 45 degrees Fahrenheit to conserve gas and allow adequate pressure to be maintained for homes and hospitals. Weir said gas to low priority industrial customers has been curtailed since Jan. 1 and all industries using natural gas as a raw material had been curtailed for 36 hours.

"All industrials have been requested to stop production if necessary to lower the use of gas to the absolute minimum required to prevent damage to their plants and equipment," he said. "Large commercials have been requested to reduce consumption to a minimum even if ceasing operations is required."

Weir said Arkla was having problems with freezing gas wellheads and pipelines, which reduced supplies at a time when more gas was needed.

Among the school districts to be closed today in Northeast Texas were Gilmer, Harmony, Paul Hewitt, Ore City, Diana, Mount Pleasant, Mount Vernon, Texarkana, Hughes Springs, Linden-Kildare, Daingerfield, Lone Star, Pittsburg, Atlanta, Queen City, Liberty-Eylau, Jefferson, Harleton, Union Hill, Naples and part of the Longview district.

Official forecasters predicted afternoon temperatures in Northeast Texas would rise to the mid 40s.

Released On Bond, Kills Girl, Brother

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — A man released on bond Thursday evening returned to his home and shot two people to death and wounded two others, police said.

Justice of the Peace Hulen McClure said Herman Bryant, 33, was charged with two counts of murder. McClure did not set bond at once.

Police said Bryant was arrested Thursday morning on a simple assault warrant sworn out by Ella Mae Glenn, 35, who was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital after the shootings.

Investigators said Terry L. Tutt, 18, and his sister Edna Dean Tutt, 15, were both killed. Each was shot in the head with a .25-caliber pistol.

The other wounded person is Arthur Earl Starnes, 27, who was identified by police as Mrs. Glenn's common law husband. Starnes was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Police said they were en route to the scene of the shooting in response to a report of a man with a gun in the area. A police spokesman said the squad car was passed by an ambulance on the way to the residence.

Authorities said Bryant posted a $300 bond about 6 p.m.

The shooting occurred at 8:30 p.m. at a north Lufkin residence where Bryant lived with Miss Tutt, identified by officers as Bryant's common law wife; her brother, Starnes, Mrs. Glenn and five minor children.

Investigators said Bryant was arrested without incident as he walked away from the residence on the street where the shootings took place.

Charged With Murder Of Three In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — An insurance clerk was held today in the psychiatric ward of a city-county hospital after being charged with murder in the slaying of three Houston men last year.

Joseph Edward Stanwick, 25, was charged in the deaths of Morris L. Williams, 46, Daniel Louis O'Connor, 53, and Charles Albert Vogel, 52.

Police quoted Stanwick as saying he was a homosexual and a male prostitute.

They said he gave them a written statement and Homicide Detective L. Brock Porter said Stanwick talked freely about the slayings and described the surroundings in which each man was killed.

Officers quoted him as saying each of the three victims had picked him up.

The body of Williams, an American Party committeeman and insurance writer, was found tied and beaten and shot in his apartment Sept. 16. An autopsy said he died of a massive skull fracture although he had been shot three times in the back.

Firefighters found the nude body of O'Connor, a parking lot owner, in a ransacked apartment he used as an office Sept. 18. Firemen had responded to several fires which had been started in the apartment.

They found the body bound hand and foot. He had been stabbed through the back of the neck with a spear, which had a 12-inch blade.

The nude body of Vogel, a cost engineer for a building contractor, in Vogel's trailer home Oct. 20. He had been beaten with a blunt instrument and shot in the head.

Harris County Sheriff's detective said Stanwick called him Wednesday night and Evans arranged for Stanwick to meet him at police homicide offices.

Fill Out Tax Box

Individual Internal Revenue Service taxpayer returns for 1975 include a box that has questions on residence intended to provide an accurate basis for equitable distribution of general revenue sharing funds, according to the U.S. Treasury Department.

City officials urged that all taxpayers fill out the box that includes city and county of residence, stating that the amount of money that will be received by Big Spring and Texas in the future depend upon this count.

Anyone not filling it out simply gives their share of the funds to some other municipality but it will not change the total in revenue funds expended by the government.

The information from the residence questions will be used by the Bureau of the Census to make biennial population and per capita income estimates needed to insure state and communities the amounts of general revenue sharing funds to which they are entitled.

Insurance Tips Offered By VA

Veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policies are encouraged by the Veterans Administration to give consideration to converting the five-year level premium term insurance to a permanent-plan policy.

The NSLI program was started in 1940 to serve the insurance needs of World War II servicemen, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, explained. More than 22 million policies were issued before the program was closed in 1961. There were 16 million policies in force with a face value in excess of $121 billion during the peak enrollment in 1944.

At the end of fiscal year 1975, there were four million policies still in force with a face value of $26 billion. Of these, 2.5 million have been converted to permanent plans.

Your HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Make sure you do nothing of an extravagant nature and that you have every detail of a plan you have in mind well organized. Plan a better budget. Be alert to new opportunities. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to exercise care in monetary affairs or you could lose out where present security is concerned. Be logical. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your reflection in the mirror and know where natural flaws can be eliminated. Take better care of your health. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) It is better to keep those promises you have made instead of trying to wriggle out of them. Show devotion to mate. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have important goals but pressuring others is not the way. Use tact and gain the cooperation of others. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try not to argue with a higher-up today or you could get into serious trouble. Make sure you get all your bills paid. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A new plan you have needs careful study before putting it in operation. Making radical changes is bad at this time. LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those promises you've made instead of deliberating any longer. Mate may be irritable so make allowances. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't clash with one who has been acting in an unfriendly way or you could get into trouble. Relax at home tonight. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get busy early and handle those duties that are important to your welfare. Safeguard your reputation. Be happy. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't engage in any unusual entertainments that you would regret later on. Show others you have a good sense of humor. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Conditions at home are hardly ideal right now, but quiet reflection can help you improve them. Curb your temper. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Much care in motion is important right now, so be alert. Show courtesy when conversing with others. Be more cheerful.

Dear Abby

Businessman Needs Crash Course In ABC's

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to teach a 51-year-old man to speak correct English? Joe (not his real name) went only as far as the fifth grade, and his grammar is terrible. I have corrected him in private, but he makes the same mistakes repeatedly in public, which I find very embarrassing. Most of my friends are well educated (so am I), and when Joe and I are in their company, I keep hoping he won't talk much because he is sure to say, "He don't" or "We was." He is a fine-looking man of good character who has made a remarkable success in business, but this one fault is too big to overlook. I guess what I really want to know is: Can a 51-year-old man who is smart in money matters learn proper grammar at his age? Or is it too late?

JOE'S LADY FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A smart person can learn anything he wants to learn if he's sufficiently motivated. The questions here are, "Does JOE think he needs to learn? And if not, how important is this fault to YOU?"

DEAR ABBY: That letter from ALL WORE OUT IN L.A. gave my husband and me a chuckle. It was from that poor old wife who wanted to know where she could buy some salt peter to slip into her husband's food. Salt peter must be one of those delayed-action chemicals because they gave it to my husband in World War II, and it just started to take effect last year! Sign me....

PLENTY OF SLEEP IN ALTADENA

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I recently moved into a new home. We love the place, but we're having trouble with our landlord. He keeps dropping in on us unexpectedly. I have told him several times that he is welcome anytime, but to please telephone us first. Tonight at 10 p.m., this landlord came over to introduce us to his son! I was in my undershorts watching TV on our bed, and my wife wasn't dressed, either. That nifty man used his passkey and walked right into our bedroom! Abby, we like our privacy, but how do you tell a man who is 45 years older than you are to please be a little more respectful of your privacy without seeming disrespectful to him?

STATEN ISLANDER

DEAR ISLANDER: Get a "Do Not Disturb" sign and hang it outside your door. If he drops by unexpectedly again, "respectfully" point it out to him.

WWI Vets, Auxiliary Have Meeting

Veterans of World War I Barracks 1474 and its Ladies Auxiliary met Saturday at Kentwood Center for their business meeting and covered dish luncheon.

Paul McCoy of Villa Grove, Ill. was a guest at the meeting. He is the brother of Mrs. Edna Monroney.

The charter was draped at the beginning of the meeting in memory of Mrs. Pearl Hornbeck. She was a member of the auxiliary.

Miss Virginia Younger, auxiliary president, announced that the state mid-winter auxiliary meeting will be held Friday and Saturday in Brownwood.

A joint meeting and covered dish luncheon will be held with the Stanton Barracks and Auxiliary at Stanton on Feb. 7. A carpool will leave from Kentwood Center at 10 a.m. that day.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Are Announced

First-place winners of the Wednesday morning duplicate bridge game held at the Big Spring Country Club are Mrs. Joe Hayden and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins.

Others placing in the competition were Mrs. H. W. Smith and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, second; and Mrs. Hayes Stripling and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, third.

MRS. BRYON LEE HENDERSON

Couple Weds In Ackerly Church

Miss Jana Lee Grigg and Bryon Lee Henderson were wed in an evening ceremony on Jan. 3 in the Ackerly Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don N. Grigg of Lamesa. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meeks of Slaton.

Roy Phimester officiated at the ceremony. The couple stood before an altar enhanced with a branched candelabrum flanked by baskets of spring flowers.

A vocal group from the N. 14th and Downtown Church of Christ in Lamesa furnished wedding music.

The bride was attired in a formal-length gown, of candlelight batiste over bridal taffeta. The dress was designed with an empire waistline. The lace-covered bodice featured a square neckline accented with lace ruffle trim. The long lace sleeves were gathered at the wrists. She wore a garden hat covered in matching lace and tied with a satin ribbon. Her bouquet was of spring flowers accented with pink baby roses.

Mrs. Sandra Womack of Odessa attended her sister as maid of honor. Terry Hans was the best man. Ushers were Neal Grigg, brother of the bride, and Kevin Meeks, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride will continue her education at Sands High School in Ackerly. The bridegroom is a graduate of Slaton High School and Texas Tech. He is the manager of the Co-op Gin in Knott. The couple will reside in Big Spring.

Mrs. Karen Fette asked members of the decoration committee for the Valentine Ball to meet after the next business meeting to begin work on decorations. The theme of "Moonlight and Roses" will be carried out in the decorations.

The Valentine Ball will be held in the Dora Roberts Community Center on Feb. 14.

Mrs. Debra Wilson reported that a Christmas gift was taken to Mrs. Bertha Bloss during the holiday season. Mrs. Bloss is the club's adopted grandmother.

Refreshments will be served to residents of the Veterans Administration Hospital on Jan. 30 by Mrs. Beverly Smithie and Mrs. Mary Brooks.

Mrs. Jo Ogle gave a report from the Beta Sigma Phi Gray Book on the naming of chapters.

Mrs. Jane Doane presented the program on "My Half of the Apple."

During the next meeting slated at 7 p.m., Jan. 20, at the Spanish Inn, members will observe the chapter's ninth birthday.

Members will complete personal chapter questionnaires sent out by International Beta Sigma Phi.

Graumann Is Graduate Of OU

Keith David Graumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graumann of 1903 Nolan, graduated this December from the University of Oklahoma at Norman.

Graumann received a Bachelor of Music Education degree. He was a member of the OU choir and is choir director of the Hillcrest Christian Church, in Oklahoma City.

Graumann attended Texas Christian University for two years. He will continue his education at OU by working on a master's degree in music theory.

'76 Officers BSSH Film Shown To Hyperion Club

Mrs. Suzanne Curotto will head the list of 1976 officers for the Newcomers' Handicraft Club.

The new officers were elected at the Wednesday morning meeting held in the home of Mrs. Curotto.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Kathy Foster, secretary, and Mrs. Karen De La Rosa, treasurer. Mrs. Karen Wallace will serve as hostess chairman.

Mrs. Peggy Crabtree is a new member. The new officers will take office on Feb. 1.

An appreciation luncheon for the out-going officers will be held at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 21 at Furr's Cafeteria.

Members of the 1955 Hyperion Club met Tuesday afternoon at the Big Spring State Hospital Staff Development Building.

Mrs. Margaret Baum presented a program on mental health. She showed a video tape filmed at the hospital by KMD-TV on the "Public Responsibility Committee." The committee is composed of eight members: one from Odessa, two from Midland and five from Big Spring.

One day a week the committee members go into assigned wards to listen to patients' complaints. The complaints are then reported and evaluated at the monthly meetings of the committee. This program is called the "Ombudsman Program."

A business meeting followed the program. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. W. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Beil, and Mrs. John Davis.

JOHN WAYNE OPTIMISTIC

'This Here Machine Turns Garbage Into Oil, Pilgrim'

HARTFORD (AP) — Shifting his sights from shoot-em-ups to break-em-downs, actor John Wayne is trying to interest Connecticut in a process for turning garbage into oil and methane gas.

Wayne says the "pyrohydrogenation" process backed by his Duke Engineering Co., of Irvine, Calif. could turn the state's annual load of three million tons of garbage into 7.1 million barrels of oil and 12 billion cubic feet of gas.

The United States uses about 16 million barrels of oil a day. If Wayne's process worked as outlined, it would provide about 19,450 barrels of oil a day, a significant amount of oil but hardly a dent in what's needed in the nation or even Connecticut.

Nonetheless, 19,000 barrels a day is better than most individual oil wells produce in this country. The key to success of a project such as Wayne's would be the cost-per-barrel. If the process can come close to the price-per-barrel of conventionally produced oil, then it could be economically viable.

Otherwise he might be producing oil that costs more to produce than it is worth in the marketplace.

struction and implementation of a facility in Connecticut where the process would be carried out.

Another alternative is for the recovery authority, a quasi-government agency supervising the state's resource recovery program, to sell bonds for the project that would be guaranteed by Wayne and his associates, he says.

Wayne says his system will give Connecticut "a reliable source of energy, solve a severe environmental problem and provide a profit to boot."

The process, which is also being experimented with by major American petroleum producers, involves treating solid waste in a special reaction chamber in the absence of oxygen and using hydrogen as a catalyst.

"They all seem to work on small scale models," says Stroh, "but no one knows for sure whether they'll work on a large scale."

But Wayne is insistent about the worth of his version of the process developed by his friend, Bill Chambers of Oklahoma.

"We put trash in at the front end and out the back end comes the oil, the methane, the propane and char residue which can be used as a fuel or made into high quality briquettes," the actor said in a recent interview. "Our system uses no water, operates its own energy. There's no pretreatment, no auxiliary plants and the closed system is free of all pollution. There's nothing to get the Friends of the Earth or the Sierra Club upset about."

(AP WIREPHOTO) ALLEGED NAZI LIVING IN CALIFORNIA — Two U. S. agencies are studying whether Andrija Artukovic, now living in Surfside, Calif., should be deported to Yugoslavia to stand trial as a Nazi war criminal. Yugoslav officials say Artukovic ran concentration camps during World War II in which hundreds of thousands of people died.

Ambassador Tries To Free U.S. Vet

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Theodore Britton Jr., American Ambassador to the Barbados and other Caribbean islands, is expected to cablegram U.S. State Department officials Thursday about Gary Martin's health.

A spokesman for the State Department in Washington said Britton's emergency trip to Antigua from his office in Bridgetown, Barbados, came about after the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported the possibility that the Vietnam veteran may be dying.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Rep. Jim Wright both have asked Britton to intervene to assure medical care for the 25-year-old man.

Also, Bentsen Wednesday hand-carried a letter to Sir Peter Ramsbotham, British ambassador to the United States, asking for aid in the "expeditious release of Mr. Martin" so that he "might obtain the proper medical treatment in this country which could save his life."

Bentsen said Martin's parents reported scars on Martin's head and arms which could indicate physical abuse.

Martin has been held in a mental institution on Antigua for nearly four years after he killed a taxicab driver on the island.

He arrived on the island shortly after he was released—prematurely, his parents say—from a Veterans Administration hospital in Waco.

Since that time, his parents have tried in vain to have him transferred to an American hospital closer to home so they could visit him.

After they saw him Christmas, the Martins said they are now more concerned about his heart ailment and his not being able to eat.

He said the Star-Telegram's interviews with Martin's parents, Ret. Army Col. and Mrs. James Martin of Fort Worth, triggered a special report to Washington from the American consulate in the Barbados.

The consul, Sydney Woolons, reportedly found Martin to be in a "zombie-like" state Nov. 21. He said he was thin but not emaciated.

Britton is expected to meet with the Antiguan premier to secure treatment from medical specialists. If Martin's condition is believed to be fatal without intensive care, the ambassador is expected to try to transfer him to an

Flat In Odessa Sparks Arrest

A flat tire spelled arrest for Wayland Wade Whiteley, formerly of Big Spring. Whiteley was in a car that had a flat in Odessa this week.

The officer that stopped to help the duo thought they answered the description of two local suspects, so he ran a check on them.

That was when Whiteley was taken into custody for Big Spring. Whiteley was brought back to Big Spring on a charge of felony theft from the Kent Station last August. Bond was set by Judge John Coffee at $3,000 and he remains in county jail here.

Auto Makers Expect 20 Per Cent Gains In '76

DETROIT (AP) — Buoyed by a sharp yearend upturn, the nation's car makers have wasted no time in shutting the books on their worst sales year since 1962 to set their sights on a strong recovery for 1976.

Sales reports released by the industry Wednesday showed domestic sales last year of 7,050,120, down from 1974 by 5 per cent and off 27 per cent from the record 9.7 million sold in 1973.

The sharp gain over 1974 levels for December followed increases of 23 per cent in October and 33 per cent in November.

"The industry officially laid its two-year slump to rest in December," said one auto analyst. "The industry should have a good year in 1976."

Bennett E. Bidwell, Ford Motor Co. sales vice president, said, "We are entering 1976 in an economic climate considerably improved from that facing us at the beginning of 1975."

ARCHBISHOP FULTON SHEEN

Archbishop Fulton Sheen Slates Area Lecture Series

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen, famous Catholic cleric, will be in San Angelo Jan. 19-21 for a series of addresses. He arrives about 1 p.m. Jan. 19 and will appear first at 8 p.m. that day in the San Angelo City Auditorium.

The public is invited to hear the Archbishop speak at both the Cathedral and at the Auditorium. People of all faiths are welcome through the invitation of the Catholic Diocese of San Angelo. No charge for admission is being made.

Archbishop Sheen, who in 1968 received the Catholic Radio and Television Association annual award for outstanding contribution to this media, has chosen for his topic, "God, Man and the Universe." His presentations at the City Auditorium are designed to spark excellence and depth of theology which made him famous and for which he received the "Emmy Award" in 1952 and the LOOK Television Award for three consecutive years. Archbishop Sheen's "Life is Worth Living" TV series terminated in 1957. His subsequent series on the life of Christ and a second TV series produced in 1964, "Quo Vadis America?", were shown throughout the United States, until the appearance throughout the country in 1966 of "The Bishop Sheen Program" in color.

On October 26, 1966, Pope Paul VI appointed Bishop Sheen Ordinary of the diocese of Rochester, New York. The Bishop was installed as Bishop of that See on December 15, 1966. From 1950 until that time the Bishop was National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith which, according to Vatican II, is the Church's principal mission organization. Bishop Sheen resigned as Bishop of Rochester in 1969 and was appointed by the Holy Father Titular Archbishop of Newport (Wales).

Four Missionaries Here Work For Mormon Church

Four full-time missionaries for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day-Saints are working in the Big Spring area bringing the Gospel of Jesus Christ to those in this area who have not yet had the opportunity of hearing it. They are Elder D. N. Hermansen, Elder R. Turnbow, Elder P. K. Barnes, and Elder V. E. Noble.

Elder Hermansen was born in Murray, Utah where he attended Hillcrest High School as the son of Brother and Sister Don Hermansen. He has four younger brothers and four younger sisters. He plans to return to school following his mission.

Elder Turnbow was born at Heber City, Utah where he attended Wasatch High School as the son of Brother and Sister Glen L. Turnbow. He has four brothers and five sisters.

Elder Barnes was born in Montebello, California. He has two sisters and three brothers. After ten years at Montebello his family moved to the Pacific Northwest where he graduated from McNary High School in Oregon.

Elder Noble was born in Nampa, Idaho. He attended and graduated from Kuna High School as the son of Brother and Sister John Edgar Noble. He has three brothers and four sisters. Anyone wishing to hear the inspired message these young men have to teach may make appointments with them by calling 7-8351 or 7-8931.

Chapel Dedication Scheduled Sunday

The Big Spring Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day-Saints is making preparations for the dedication of its Chapel at 1803 Wasson Road. The ward Chapel was erected in 1973 and completed in early 1974.

It has been in use since that time but has not been dedicated because of delay in completing a well system and associated structures, all of which will be dedicated together.

The complete structure itself was begun in the early 1960's and its first phase completed and dedicated in 1962. The second phase, which included a Junior Sunday School room was begun in 1969, and completed and dedicated in 1970. It then served as the chapel until the new structure was attached.

Each phase of the project was paid for prior to the initiation of construction and much of the work was donated by ward members. Finishing touches on the chapel prior to its dedication have been performed by many of the ward members under the direction of Bishop Joseph Mower and his counselors.

With the ward membership increasing rapidly, it is hoped that construction on a fourth phase, to include a cultural hall, will be realized soon.

The dedicatory services will be held in conjunction with the annual ward conference on Sunday the 11th of January at 4 p.m.

Rabbi Will Be Honored

Today at the Friday Night-Sabbath Service, Rabbi Josef Zeitin will begin his seventh year of association as Rabbi with Temple Beth El in Odessa, which will celebrate its 30th anniversary during the Bicentennial year.

Dr. Zeitin is chaplain of the Veterans Hospital and also of Webb Air Force Base in Big Spring.

Since his coming to Odessa in 1970 he has done much interfaith work at his services at Beth El or whenever he spoke to church classes and congregations in their houses of worship. Recently he conducted classes at Odessa College at the invitation of Pastor Michael Miller. On Jan. 27, Rabbi Zeitin will be the luncheon speaker at the St. John's Episcopal church in Odessa. He will speak on the topic, "Judaism and Christianity — a road to peace."

THE SINGING SLOANS

Revival Services Slated At Foursquare Church Here

Sunday evening, the Rev. Velda Mae Sloan, a husband-wife team with a background in independent and Foursquare Church evangelism, will open revival services in the Big Spring Foursquare Church.

Services are planned to begin Sunday, Jan. 11 thru 18, nightly at 7 p.m., 1210 East 19th Street.

The Sloans will be serving the church as co-pastors, and are ordained ministers. For the past 30 years, the couple have been active in evangelism, traveling throughout the United States.

The Rev. Sloan became a Christian several years ago through camp meetings in Oklahoma. He entered the ministry at the age of 16 years and was ordained in the Assemblies of God at 19.

His wife was converted under the ministry of Aimee Semple McPherson in 1930 in a revival meeting in Oklahoma City. Mrs. McPherson was the founder of the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel, which is headquartered in Los Angeles.

The Sloans' primary work has been holding revivals and starting new churches. For the past 20 years they have been affiliated with the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel, working under the direction of the denominations home missions department.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sloan are musicians and use

"country Gospel music" in their ministry. "In the Foursquare church there is a graded Sunday school system which takes in everybody from babies to grandma and grandpa," said Mrs. Sloan.

The Sloans' teachings fall within classic Pentecostalism and the manifestation of the spiritual gifts. "According to 1st Corinthians 12, healing through prayer is one of the occurrences which have occurred frequently in our ministry," Mrs. Sloan added. The public is invited to attend.

DRACULA OR DRACULETTE — A baby vampire bat is seen at center left, snuggling close to its mother after being born at the Milwaukee County Zoo Wednesday. The mother, about 10 inches long, hangs upside down by her feet. She was one of two females brought to Milwaukee from the Cincinnati Zoo last year. Zoo director George Sneider said the baby, first vampire bat born in Milwaukee, will be named Dracula or Draculette as soon as its sex can be determined.

Is Oliver Snowman, Big Foot Or Just A Chimp

NEW YORK (AP) — Oliver has a bald pate even though he's supposed to be only seven years old, and sharp pointed ears like Spock of TV fame.

He's hairy all over, but more hairy on his arms and legs than on his body. He stands very erect, and usually wears a grim expression.

At least, that's what Oliver looks like in the picture released here Wednesday by Manhattan attorney Michael Miller, who claims to have purchased the "very, strange-looking creature" for $8,000 from an unidentified animal act in an unidentified upstate New York area.

"I have promised to protect everyone involved," the 34-year-old Miller said in explaining why he's so secretive about where Oliver came from.

Miller said he plans to have Oliver put through various tests to determine whether he is an ape or a man-like creature — or even a young "Big Foot."

Big Foot is the creature who is America's answer to the Abominable Snowman of the Himalayas, and his tracks have been reported so often there is now a Big Foot Information and Research Center out in Oregon.

Miller says he doesn't think Oliver is a Big Foot, but that if he should turn out to be, his $8,000 would turn out to be a pretty good investment.

Miller said after the tests on Oliver are completed, he plans to introduce him to the press, possibly in a few weeks.

In the meantime, he reports that Oliver is four feet, six inches tall, weighs about 120 pounds, and likes fruit, vegetables, cheese and nonfatty meats.

Albaugh To Drill Wildcat

Ray A. Albaugh, Big Spring, will drill a 9,600-foot wildcat in Glasscock County. Location will be 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east lines of 208-29-W&NW, 17 miles northeast of Garden City, 2 1/4 miles northeast of Wolfcamp and 3 1/2 miles northwest of Cisco production in the Credo North-field and 4 1/2 miles northwest of Cisco gas production in the Credo, East multipay field, both of Sterling County. It is No. 1 Linda Childress.

Coquina Oil Corp., Midland, will drill two stepouts to the two-well Gin, North (8000 Spraberry) field of Dawson County, four miles west of Lamesa.

Both projects, contracted to 8,500 feet, are in Taylor CSL No. 1.

The No. 4 Holton, one location southeast, is 4,521 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines.

The No. 5 Holton, one location northeast, is 5,973 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines.

Stoltz, Wagner & Brown, Midland, No. 2-30 Ray, 660 feet from the south and 1,914 feet from the west lines of 30-22-H&TC, became the ninth producer for the Big Salute (Canyon oil) field of Sterling County. The 5-8 mile east-northeast extension, seven miles southwest of Sterling City, came in with 150 barrels of 42 gravity oil, with five barrels of water, with a gas-oil ratio of 2,333-1.

Production was through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,497-992 feet, which had been fractured with 60,000 pounds of sand.

Drilled to 8,123 feet, the test set 4 1/2 inch casing at 8,111 feet and plugged back to 8,025 feet.

CAUTION
Your savings may be costing you money.

Your savings are earning interest, right? But are they earning as much as they could be? If not, your savings are actually costing you money.

The truth of the matter is that many financial institutions, including banks and credit unions, are simply not structured to pay the highest interest rates. In fact, some can't even guarantee payment of the interest rates they quote.

And other kinds of investments have even higher degrees of risk. For example, mutual funds and other stock investments don't even guarantee return of the money you put in, much less earnings.

If you want to make the most of what you've got, and you want guaranteed interest rates, you've got to go to a savings specialist. Like First Federal Savings and Loan.

We call ourselves savings specialists because we can offer you higher guaranteed interest rates, more specialized savings-related services, and more ways to save than anyone in town.

And if none of our standard plans fit your particular needs, we'll custom tailor a savings plan specifically for you, whereby you can receive your interest checks any way you want. Monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

The following are just a few of the many special services and savings plans available to you from First Federal:

PASSBOOK SAVINGS Our Passbook Savings account is basically the same as a regular savings account offered by a bank — only our interest rates are higher. Passbook Savings earn a full 5 1/4% interest compounded daily, and paid daily. For example, if you make a deposit and withdraw it three days later, you'll be paid interest for the three days your money was on deposit.

Anyone can open a Passbook Savings account with only a $5.00 deposit. There are no term restrictions. You can make deposits and withdrawals whenever you want. And with our new convenient, easy-to-use Tele-Transfer service, you can transfer money from your Passbook account to your checking account with just a phone call.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT First Federal offers you four Certificate of Deposit savings plans to choose from.

- 4-year plan (min. $5,000) earns 7 1/2% interest
- 2 1/2-year plan (min. $1,000) earns 6 1/4% interest
- 1-year plan (min. $1,000) earns 6 1/2% interest
- 6 month plan (min. $1,000) earns 5 1/4% interest

Interest on all of our Certificate of Deposit savings plans is compounded daily and distributed quarterly.

SELF-EMPLOYED PENSION PLAN (KEOGH) This plan is designed for the individual who wants to establish a retirement plan for both himself and his employees. All contributions are TAX DEDUCTIBLE. You don't have to pay any income tax on either the contributions or interest until you begin drawing funds.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT (IRA) This plan is designed for employed individuals, not currently participating in a retirement plan. Self-employed persons are eligible, but are not required to include employees in this plan.

All contributions are TAX DEDUCTIBLE. You don't have to pay any income tax on the money you contribute to the plan or the interest it earns until you start drawing funds.

AUTOMATIC DEPOSIT OF SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS This service allows you to deposit your Social Security check in your savings account without lifting a finger. The check is sent directly from the U.S. Department of Treasury to First Federal.

And deposit is guaranteed. You never have to worry about losing it. What's more, our new Tele-Transfer allows you to transfer as much of it as you want to your checking account. All it takes is one phone call.

INTEREST COMPOUNDED DAILY Interest on all First Federal Savings Plans is compounded daily. That means that if you leave your Passbook savings on deposit a full year, or your Certificates of Deposit in until they mature, your money actually earns more interest than quoted as our standard rates.

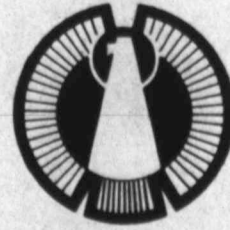

Here's how it works. When you make a deposit, your money (principal) starts earning paid interest the first day. Then each day following, the interest on your principal is compounded along with the interest accumulated from the preceding day or days. So if you have a Passbook account which earns 5.25% daily, and you leave your principal on deposit for a full year, you have actually earned 5.39% interest at the end of the year.

The following chart shows how much interest (percentage-wise) your savings actually earns annually when the principal is left on deposit until maturity, and the interest is compounded daily.

STANDARD INTEREST RATE	TYPE OF SAVINGS PLAN	ACTUAL PERCENTAGE OF INTEREST PAID ANNUALLY
7.50%	4-year Certificate of Deposit	7.79%
6.75%	2 1/2-year Certificate of Deposit	6.98%
6.50%	1-year Certificate of Deposit	6.72%
5.75%	6-month Certificate of Deposit	5.92%
5.25%	Passbook account	5.39%

All things considered, it just makes better sense to save the First Federal way.

Court Upholds Dismissal Of Suit Filed For Paddled Students

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Reversing itself, a federal appeals court agreed Thursday with the Florida judge who dismissed a damage suit filed for two Florida schoolboys who were paddled by teachers.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals split 10-5 on Thursday's ruling, issued after an en banc hearing — that is, one involving all the judges instead of the usual three-judge panel.

Texas is in the jurisdiction of the 5th Court. "We do not mean to imply by our holding that we condone child abuse, either in the home or in the schools," the majority said. This suit was filed in 1970 for James Ingraham and Roosevelt Andrews, junior high school students in Dade County who said they were paddled and found it painful to sit down for several days thereafter.

They sought damages from Principal Willie J. Wright and an injunction against corporal punishment.

When U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Eaton of Miami dismissed the suit an appeal was filed. At first, the 5th reversed Eaton. Then an en banc rehearing was granted and the 5th reversed the 5th.

Paddlings violate the Eighth Amendment's ban against cruel and unusual punishment, the suit said, and were imposed without first holding full hearings, thus violating the 14th Amendment ban against arbitrary governmental action.

The 5th circuit ruled, however, that the Eighth Amendment does not apply to school paddlings and that if such punishment is deemed too enthusiastic it is a matter for state court, not federal.

As for the 14th Amendment, the 5th said it agreed with Dist. Judge Eaton's decision that the paddlings were not arbitrary or capricious. Therefore, the 5th said, it would be "a misuse of our judicial power" to draw into the argument of whether 5 licks would have been more appropriate punishment than 10.

"Paddling of recalcitrant children has long been an accepted method of promoting good behavior and instilling notions of responsibility and decorum into the mischievous heads of school children," the 5th said. "We do not here overrule it."

In dissenting, Judges John Godbold of Montgomery, Ala., and Chief Judge John R. Brown of Houston said they could not agree it would be an abuse of judicial power to determine whether punishment inflicted in a particular case exceeded constitutional limits.

They "suspect that if in a future case the punishment inflicted has broken the victim's leg we will face the issue and hold that substantive due process has been violated."

Political Father, Son Disagree On Candidate

BOSTON (AP) — House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. has trouble enough trying to keep his congressional troops in line. Now he can't get his own family lined up behind his favorite presidential candidate.

The Massachusetts Democrat endorsed his House colleague of some 14 years, U.S. Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, for the Democratic presidential nomination this week. O'Neill's son, Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Thomas P. O'Neill III, has endorsed and is actively working for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

"I respect him for the judgment he made," the congressman said of his son's decision. "There will be no family feud over this, I can assure you of that."

In a family that grew up in politics, disagreements and debates are a way of life. "You can't sit around a dinner table for 25 years of your life and not have it rub off on you," the younger O'Neill said. "This isn't the first political issue father and son have disagreed on and it's not likely to be the last, the lieutenant governor said."

The Vietnam war split the family for a time, with the congressman finally denouncing the war but taking "six to nine months longer than he should have," his son said.

The older O'Neill has also recognized his son's political independence. "Tom ran for lieutenant governor without the advice or consent of his father... He has his own circle of political friends and apparently he was impressed with Birch Bayh."

But both men cited many of the same reasons for choosing their different candidates.

"He speaks to the problems of New England,"

Hunt Starts For Texas' Rural Hero

The search is under way for Texas' rural hero of 1975.

The Rural Heroism Award, sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, is presented annually to some person who has performed an act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis, according to Ben Bullard, council vice president and assistant safety director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

All entries must be submitted by Feb. 21, to the Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, P. O. Box 489, Waco, 76703, according to Bullard. The heroic act or deed must have occurred within Texas during 1975 and should be related to farming or ranching operations.

the lieutenant governor said of Bayh, adding his candidate might help counter a growing pessimism "that's not good for America."

The congressman praised Udall for his charisma, his wit, and a sense of humor which could provide "a shining example for America at this time."

The elder O'Neill's endorsement also dampens speculation that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy might still be available.

"Ted Kennedy and I are both personal and political friends," O'Neill said. "I talked with him about getting back into the presidential race just one month ago. He said, 'No way.'"

Now O'Neill is in the Udall camp for keeps.

The O'Neills for the time being have agreed to disagree. "I think the fact that the O'Neills can't agree is indicative of the caliber of individuals running," the lieutenant governor said. "But ultimately the Democratic party will pull together, just like our family is together."

Klein Lauded As Salesman

Dick Klein was recognized by Downtown Lions at the Wednesday meeting as the outstanding salesman during the Autumn mop-and-broom sale.

the top team, and Bert Andries the leading commercial salesman. Second high individual salesman was Green, and second team captain was M. A. Barber. The sale netted the club's humanitarian fund about $700.
