

Gulf Oil Chief Dorsey Resigns

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob R. Dorsey, under fire because of an illegal company slush fund that doled out more than $12 million to politicians at home and abroad, resigned today as chairman and chief executive of the Gulf Oil Corp.

The resignation of Dorsey and three other top officers climaxed a dramatic and extraordinary meeting of Gulf's board of directors. The two-day meeting ended at about 1 a.m. today after a 16-hour session that had directors sending out for meals.

In making the changes, the board accepted the so-called "McCloy Report," a 300-page study of Gulf's legal and illegal political contributions. That report found that Dorsey "perhaps chose to shut his eyes to what was going on" with the political slush fund.

The report was prepared by a three-man committee headed by New York attorney John J. McCloy and was turned over to Gulf directors and the Securities and Exchange Commission last Dec. 30.

The slush fund came to light in 1973 when Gulf admitted it had illegally given $100,000 to Richard Nixon's 1972 presidential campaign. The McCloy report quoted one intermediary as saying he made secret cash payments to Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania of $10,000 a year for about 13 years.

Scott has not denied receiving Gulf payments but has said he only received political donations. He has denied knowing such donations came from corporate funds.

Scott has since said he will not seek re-election.

Other Gulf donations included $4 million to the ruling political party in South Korea, $627,000 to Italian political parties and a $108,000 helicopter to the late Bolivian dictator Rene Barrientos, who was killed when the aircraft crashed.

The shake-up forced out three other top executives. Herbert C. Manning, Gulf vice president and secretary, resigned as a Gulf officer but will remain as an employee.

The board also asked for — and got — the resignations of William L. Henry, president of the Gulf Oil Real Estate Development Co., and Fred Deering, its senior vice president and secretary.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning next month, shoppers buying "prime" and "choice" meat will be getting some meat that is less juicy and tender than this month's meat. The Agriculture Department announced plans to put the new system into effect Feb. 23 after Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmun last Friday denied a further bid to halt the new definitions. Initially planned for adoption last April 14, the grade changes have been delayed by months of court challenges from consumer groups and others.

GULFPORT, Miss. — When banker Charles W. Marter paid $25,000 in a desperate attempt to win freedom for his kidnaped wife, the woman may already have been dead. She had been dead several hours, "Coroner Edgar Little said Tuesday after authorities were led to the crumpled body of the 36-year-old mother of two. She had been shot in the back of the head. An unemployed shipyard worker was held without bail today, charged with murder in the kidnaping and death of Edwina Marter.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Attorneys for Alabama's Board of Corrections say no decision has been made on whether to appeal a federal court order demanding sweeping reform of the state's prison system, described by the court as "barbaric and inhumane."

LIED? — A special grand jury says Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner James Barger, above, lied in his testimony about a policy to keep incidents of state police drinking off accident reports. In a report Tuesday, the jury recommended criminal charges against Barger and two of his top officers.

Secretary Of Labor Quits Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — John T. Dunlop has resigned as secretary of labor, the White House announced today.

In a one-paragraph letter to President Ford dated Tuesday, Dunlop told the President: "This letter records my resignation as secretary of labor and coordinator of the President's labor-management committee. 'I have appreciated the opportunity once again to try to be of service to the country and to you, Mr. President, to the best of my ability. Your willingness to listen to divergent views and numerous courtesies to me, I shall always cherish.'"

In a letter of reply dated today, the President told Dunlop: "You will be greatly missed by all who have had the privilege of working with you."

Ford said he received Dunlop's letter "with the deepest regret."

The announcement came one day after Dunlop met privately with the President to inform him of his decision.

Dunlop maintains that his position with organized labor was unworkable in the aftermath of Ford's veto of the controversial common-site picketing bill.

ACCIDENT VICTIM — C. R. McClenny, Rt. 1, Box 482, was injured in a car-motorcycle accident at the corner of 3rd and Birdwell at 12:58 p.m. today. Patrolman Jimmy Wallace is assisting the victim prior to his being rushed to Malone-Hogan Hospital for treatment.

Couple Tortured By Thugs Using Electric Dart Gun

BLUE BELL, Pa. (AP) — The Taser electric dart gun, sold for protection against crime, was an instrument of terror for a Montgomery County couple in the hands of four masked bandits.

"The assailants used this dart gun to force the man and his wife to say where they had more money or valuable belongings," police Sgt. Joseph Stemple said Tuesday. He refused to name the man and his wife.

Stemple said a man appeared at the door of the couple's home at supertime and identified himself as a police officer. He said the bogus cop rushed in with three other men, all wearing ski masks.

The man carried the Taser — designed by a space technology engineer inspired by the weaponry of Buck Rogers and James Bond. "The couple was tied up with clothing, handcuffs and telephone wires," Stemple said. "Apparently, the suspects knew there was money in the house."

"While the people were tied up, one of these guys shot them with this dart gun. They were both shot twice in the stomach," Stemple said. "The darts stuck in their flesh. It's like a needle, except it gives you a shock."

He added, "It's called the Taser Public Defender and it gives you a hell of a shock. They say it immobilized you. I know it hurts, but it doesn't kill. Both the man and the woman were treated at a local hospital and released."

The four fled with $7,000 cash, $4,000 in jewels, the man's Mercedes-Benz and two .22-caliber rifles.

Taser Systems, Inc., manufactures the $199 weapon, which it calls "the alternative to the gun." It looks like a flashlight, though in California it is officially termed a "gun" and must be registered and bear a serial number. The Montgomery County incident is not the first in which the Taser was used to commit a crime. Last September a Taser was used to hold up a gas station attendant in Miami.

Alvin Simon, president of Taser Systems, said: "All of our information, research and data indicate that it's nonlethal. We've been working on it since 1968 and everything bears out the fact that it's not lethal."

Simon said that although the gun has a rating of 50,000 volts at the source, it has such low amperage and wattage that its shock is relatively harmless. He said it has only three watts of power, less than in a Christmas tree bulb or an electric heart pacemaker.

Taser Systems has admitted that the weapon might cause serious injury to victims with heart or respiratory problems.

A dart is fired from the gun with a fine wire attached. Once the dart sticks in the target a button is pushed to emit the charge.

Arms Pact Talks Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will fly to Moscow next week for talks with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev on a prospective nuclear weapons agreement.

The State Department, in a brief announcement, said Kissinger's three-day visit will begin next Tuesday and concern "questions of mutual interest."

A similar announcement was expected from the Soviet capital.

The scheduling of Kissinger's previously postponed mission indicates the two superpowers are approaching agreement on a compromise for a new treaty to limit offensive nuclear weapons until 1985.

A well-placed U.S. official said Kissinger would not be making the trip if he were not confident that a break-through is now in sight.

Further amplification was expected during a news conference Kissinger announced at the State Department.

APPOINTEE AND CRITIC — President Ford announced Tuesday he is appointing S. John Byington, right, to head the Consumer Product Safety Commission. Carol Tucker Foreman, left, executive director of the Consumer Federation of America, said the appointment is "more White House cronyism," and the nominee has been "largely a White House lackey." Byington, who grew up in Ford's home town, Grand Rapids, Mich., is now deputy director of the Office of Consumer Affairs.

EVIDENCE VOTE IN SENATE Could Bring Quick End To Impeachment Trial

AUSTIN (AP) — Judge O.P. Carrillo's lawyer today tried to discredit testimony of a man who linked the suspended district court judge with a scheme to drain more than $156,000 over a four-year period from local governments in Duval County.

Arthur Mitchell's cross-examination of Rodolfo Couling of Benavides at Carrillo's impeachment trial centered on a pair of bulldozers purchased by Benavides Implement & Hardware Co. while Couling owned it from 1971 to 1975.

The firm had received money from Duval County for equipment rental, but Couling had testified no equipment was on hand to rent.

"You had equipment to rent," Mitchell said, because the firm held title to the bulldozers.

"The tractors I bought just in name. I never took possession," Couling replied, explaining that they were delivered to Carrillo's ranch.

"The question is whether the written agreement signed in 1972 speaks the truth or whether we should believe what you are saying up here, trying to save your hide," Mitchell said.

He also elicited from Couling testimony that only Couling could sign checks drawn on the Benavides Implement & Hardware account.

"I was sole owner on paper," Couling said. He earlier had called the judge and the judge's brother silent partners.

Senators on Tuesday approved a rule letting them vote on any of the 10 articles of impeachment immediately after hearing all the testimony concerning it. This could bring the trial to a sudden halt if the Senate votes to convict Carrillo on one count and disqualify him from future office holding.

FAIR

Fair through Thursday. High today in the low 50s. Low tonight, upper 20s. High Thursday, mid 60s. Easterly wind 5-15 miles per hour this afternoon. Light and variable tonight.

Carrillo has been convicted in federal court of income tax evasion. In addition, Austin District Court Judge Jim Meyers has submitted his secret report to the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission after hearing 29 days of testimony on whether Carrillo should be removed as a judge.

A reliable source said today that Meyers recommended Carrillo's removal. It is unlikely, however, that the commission would act if the Senate convicts and disqualifies Carrillo, another source said.

Couling said in Tuesday's testimony that Carrillo profited from dealings between various governmental units and Benavides Implement & Hardware.

County checks were issued to the store for such things as equipment rentals and hauling caliche, but Couling said the firm never even owned a truck.

"We had no equipment to rent to the county at all," said Couling.

SCULPTURE DEDICATED — Mrs. Gerald Ford, right, talks with Louise Nevelson, sculptress, left, at dedication ceremonies in Philadelphia Tuesday night. Mrs. Ford dedicated the $175,000 sculpture, which dominates the lobby of the new federal courthouse in Philadelphia. The sculpture is called "Bicentennial Dawn."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Betty Ford says she likes the Liberty Bell's new home and thinks the moving of the bell will mean more Americans will see the famous symbol of freedom.

"It's a very handsome setting," the First Lady said Tuesday, describing the bell's new glass and steel home one block from Independence Hall.

Mrs. Ford was in town to dedicate a $175,000 sculpture at the new federal courthouse two blocks from Independence Hall.

But before the dedication, she stopped to see the bell, moved on New Year's Day from its cramped quarters at Independence Hall to the new structure.

"It will allow more people to find out what it means and what it stands for," said Mrs. Ford of the new building. "I think many people will travel a great many miles just to be on this spot."

BOSTON (AP) — Former Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox has been named to head a committee to recommend improvements in the Massachusetts court system.

Cox, a Harvard Law School professor, was Watergate prosecutor until 1973 when he was fired by former President Richard Nixon.

When his appointment was announced Tuesday, Cox conceded that court reform "hasn't particularly been my bag in the past."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Olivia Newton-John is resting at her home to recover from injuries suffered when she was thrown from a horse, a spokesman said.

The incident occurred Monday at the Malibu Riding and Tennis Club. Her doctor said she suffered a cervical and lumbar sprain and bruises of the back. He said the full extent of her injuries will not be known for several days.

Miss Newton-John, described as an accomplished rider, was nominated Tuesday for a Grammy award as best pop vocal female performer of 1975 for her recording of "Have You Never Been Mellow."

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Volunteer fireman Sylvia Leger says an order barring her from the fire station after 6 p.m. was designed to drive her off the force.

Miss Leger, 21, described the order as a classic case of sex discrimination.

Fire Chief Clifford Batz says his directive applies to both male and female volunteer fire fighters. But he acknowledged the rule was instituted to stave off any criticism that a woman might be staying overnight at the fire station.

"It's almost like saying I don't have anything better to do than hang around the fire station and seduce 19 men," said Miss Leger, who added she has no plans to spend a night at the fire station.

Supplemental Incomes

Comptroller Bob Bullock says those state employees who receive pay supplements from private funds won't get their state checks unless they report the source of the private gifts. And he has an opinion from Atty. Gen. John Hill to back him up.

That's good. But here's a better idea. Private supplements in pay for public officials should be ruled out, period. They're bad business. They open up the suspicion of all sorts of evils; even if there is no substance to those suspicions, the result is still damaging to confidence in the integrity of public officials.

The state should pay its public officials — be they university presidents, heads of departments or whatever — the amount necessary to attract and keep the quality personnel needed. The state should not go begging, nor let its employees go begging, to private special interests for salary supplements. Public officials should work for the public alone, and their salaries should reflect that fact.

It will take legislative action to rule out the supplements. And it will take additional state expenditures to take their place. But in the interest of good government — government responsible to the people in every way, and not indebted to outside special interests — that's what we must have in Texas in the meantime strict reporting of all supplements is the best alternative.

Relax — No Translation

Politicians in Texas can relax. Their names need not be translated into Spanish in bilingual ballots and other bilingual information supplied to voters.

A bit of icy fear may have overtaken some politicians as they viewed the prospect of names translated unfamiliarly on a ballot. But the U. S. Department of Justice, constraining the Voter Rights Act, ruled that names did not have to be translated.

What would voters have thought if they had found John White translated into Juan Blanco, John Hill into Juan Collado, or William P. Hobby into Guillermo Caballico?

Some politicians ought to be ashamed of the meanings they have been saying about the Department of Justice!

Lost Dream

William F. Buckley, Jr.

MOSCOW — Mr. Hedrick Smith, correspondent for the New York Times in Moscow, has written an indispensable book, "The Russians" collecting data, analyses, and insights into the tormented people who need to worry not only about the usual ailments, but about Communism as well. Solzhenitsyn has written that there is probably not in all of Russia anyone left who genuinely believes, any longer, in the complex of fancies that compose Communist dogma.

THAT MAY be so, but there is nevertheless an animating principle that persuades one class of Russians to devote their lives to tormenting their fellow Russians, and to keeping the rest of the world in a state of armed frenzy. Perhaps it is simply the old instinct to dominate the world, a pleasant enough ambition entertained by many men and races throughout history without the aid of ideology. Perhaps Communism has reduced to a useful superstition.

The Russian people know that their leaders believe that the Soviet Union has a sacred mission to catalyze the collapse of the bourgeois world. They know this because they are taught it at school. Those few of them who are sent abroad are especially trained in the polemics of their creed. Those who stay at home won't find anyone to argue with them — to argue is unsafe. What they do, simply, try to get along. They have proved marvelously adaptable. Socialism for them is nothing more than an encyclopedia of prohibitions they are always running into, and, often with some success, maneuvering around.

MR. SMITH TELLS of a popular underground story involving Leonid Brezhnev who takes his aged mother on a transfiguring tour of his offices in the Kremlin; his dachas in the suburbs, and on the Black Sea, whisking her from palace to palace by private jet, helicopter, and train. Throughout it all she is silent. But finally she speaks. "It is all very well, Leonid. But what if the Reds come back?"

IT IS DIABOLIC how successfully the Soviet State has introduced an order exactly the opposite of what the Communist visionaries spoke of. The privileged class in the Soviet Union lives a life on an entirely different order from that of the mass of the people. They have chauffeured limousines, and fresh food, and hard currency to purchase what they want from abroad, and country houses, and telephones, and servants, and children at private school, and friends who will grant their sons deferment from the army, their daughters entrance to a medical school.

THE ABOLITION of the materialist order would free the human being from his ties to avarice and ambition. Communism preached. But surely there was never a world more materialist than modern Russia's. And why not? Those other things that can absorb a spiritually hungry man are taken from him. Religion, justice, a sense of the nobility of the individual, privacy, intellectual adventure. Take these things away, and you have left only the desire for a full stomach, a car, the companionship of a few trusted friends: and vodka.

What Others Say

A new widget for transmitting the human voice has just been announced by two electronic researchers. The heart of the apparatus is a tiny microphone fitted into the ear, picking up the vibrations from vocal chords as they travel along an internal cranial passage.

The news story described this as an amazing system which enables people to talk through their ears. But the feat of talking by other means than the mouth is not particularly new, when you think about it.

We know people, for instance, who have been talking through their hats for years.

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the age of the study committee. In business, government and academic life the phrasing is similar: "The matter was referred to the committee for further study."

If after due study the committee fails to reach a conclusion, it might hand off the problem to a sub-committee, from whence it might be passed on for further "action" by a foundation or institute, where study is permanent.

Name the subject and it is being studied, but name the subject and the chances are you won't find the answers. Studies raise questions, like beating a rug raises dust, sometimes blinding.

Documents Bad Moods

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I hope you don't come to the conclusion that I am crazy, but I know something is wrong. Usually I am an easy-going person, but once a month I go through a very upsetting time. I nitpick at things I normally wouldn't give a second thought to. I also become very jealous and suspicious of my husband. I cross-examine him even if he's only 15 minutes late in getting home — although he's never given me reason to doubt him.

When I'm upset and picking at small things my children become upset too. Later, after my mood passes, I can't understand why I was so unreasonable. I decided to check to see if there was a pattern to my madness, and do you know what I discovered? My unreasonablebleness always occurs five to seven days before my monthly period.

Does this make sense to you? Is there any type of pill I can take that will make me more rational during these upsets? I am 40 and am not on any type of medication, not even aspirin or oral contraceptives. — B. O.

rather than clarifying. And so, in the spirit of not expecting much, a few unanswered questions are hereby cast into this murky oblivion, offered as subjects that might be studied somewhere, sometime, without the least expectation of resolution.

—Is a gentlemen's club a social rather than a business establishment? There is an intriguing tax angle to this.

In some parts of exclusive city "social" clubs, in a taproom perhaps, you are forbidden from writing or shuffling papers on the surface of the table. Such conduct suggests business rather than socializing. The rules are enforced too, and people so rude as to require reminding are watched carefully and might find themselves asked to leave if they persist in such crude behavior. The line has to be drawn somewhere.

Oddly, almost everyone at one such club on a certain day was gathered for the specific purpose of talking business. Their memberships, in fact, were obtained through business associations. Their firms paid the dues.

When they were through, their checks were offered to the Internal Revenue Service as business lunch tax deductions, and the waiters who enforced the "no business" rule gladly provided receipts for that purpose.

"blues" can often be traced to the sudden decrease of hormonal secretions in the body following the busy ovarian activity, which is a part of the menstrual cycle. There may also be a bloating, an uncomfortable feeling of fullness.

If you have been able to document your cycles of anxiety and irritability as precisely as you say you have, then you should raise the subject with your doctor. He might want to prescribe a mild tranquilizer to get you over these bad times of the month. A diuretic to eliminate retained water and the restriction of salt a week before your period might also be effective. I don't believe it is something you should have to put up with at the expense of family peace.

A final thought. If your problem is very severe, you might want to talk with others who have similar emotional problems. A group which deals with this is called "Recovery, Inc." It uses a group therapy method and is quite successful in coping with such mental upsets. If there is a local group, it would be listed in your telephone book.

Zaney '76 Ball

Around The Rim

Julie Simmons

Now that 1976 is finally here and the bicentennial celebration is in full swing, club programs, fund-raising events, parties, campaigns and sales will carry bicentennial themes until at the end of the year, everyone will be seeing red, white and blue spots before their eyes.

MOST OF THESE events only feature bicentennial decorations, historical programs or merely a tag dubbing them "bicentennial." I have an idea for an unusual event for 1976 — a Revolutionary War masquerade ball with ordinary costumes banned.

If I had suggested an ordinary bicentennial masquerade ball, what would you think? There would be at least a dozen George Washingtons and Marthas. Betsy Rosses would be all over the place. Wounded infantrymen and Redcoats would escort milk maids and colonial ladies. King George III would be seen patting Ben Franklin on the back. Tories and patriots would dance side by side. How mundane.

GUESTS AT MY masquerade ball would have to use their imagination to invent costumes that would be suitable for the party. Imagine an enormous powdered wig and an English snuff box knocking at your door for a cup of tea before the ball. Think of your neighbors' surprise when you walk out of your house as the entire Continental Congress with your wife dressed as the Stamp Act. Singles could attend as quill pens looking for the Declaration of Independence to sign or as Betsy Ross's half-finished flag in search of a good-looking thimble or needle and thread.

THE STORY of Paul Revere suggests many fine costumes. A guest could attend dressed as Revere's horse, a Revere pewter ale mug, with or without the ale, or the lantern hung in the church belfry. Couples could dazzle the crowds if they came dressed as Ben Franklin's kite and key with the accompanying electricity, or as a wounded cherry tree and the ax George Washington used to cut the tree down.

THE HIT of the party would have to be the guest who masqueraded as "The Shot Heard Round The World." But he couldn't stay long. In keeping with the theme of his costume, he could only dash in, run around the dance floor, and dash out again. This would be an excellent costume for a party hater, don't you think?

Et Tu, Richard?

WASHINGTON — Not even Richard Nixon, perhaps as puritan a President as ever occupied the White House, could escape the sex watch of the late J. Edgar Hoover.

BURIED DEEP in the FBI director's secret blackmail files was a story of an illicit love affair between Nixon and a Chinese woman. During Watergate's darkest days, no one accused Nixon of a romantic indiscretion. His worst enemies considered him to be untainted by sex scandal.

But an FBI agent in Hong Kong dug out a report, admittedly unconfirmed, of Nixon's involvement with a beautiful Chinese woman during a visit to the Far East for his law firm in the 1960s.

THE WORD has seeped throughout the FBI that Hoover wanted to know about the peccadilloes of the powerful. His minions, therefore, gathered gossip and passed it up to the cantankerous old FBI chief.

He kept the juiciest tidbits under lock and key in his personal custody. Since these files contained scandalous reports having nothing to do with law enforcement, the only possible purpose for their existence was blackmail.

Even in faraway Hong Kong, an FBI agent assigned as a legal attache was on the alert for stories to pass on to Hoover. We have agreed not to identify the agent, because he is now involved in dangerous work. Any mention of his name could jeopardize his life.

WE CAN REPORT, however, that the agent learned about Nixon's alleged amourette and made a veiled reference in a letter. He may have been extra cautious because at the time he wrote the letter, Nixon was already reigning in the White House. Later a second letter came from Hong Kong laying out the whole story. The letter stated that Nixon reportedly had consorted with the Chinese beauty, who was much younger than himself, during a Hong Kong stopover on a business trip. The agent made no claim that he had any solid evidence to back up the story. The agent was also concerned that Nixon, as a former vice president, could be compromised in a place like Hong Kong. For the city was then a hotbed of spying and intrigue.

The report on Nixon's alleged indiscretion was accompanied by a newspaper photo, showing Nixon with the woman and her husband. Long after the incident, according to our FBI sources, Nixon helped the couple gain admission to the United States. There is no evidence, however, that he got them any special preference.

WE REACHED the former Hong Kong agent who refused to comment on the incident. We also tried without success to get a comment from Nixon's office in San Clemente. But friends say it is "unthinkable" that he would ever have been unfaithful to his wife, Pat.

The important issue, however, was Hoover's use of the FBI to blackmail the nation's elected leaders. Sources close to the old G-man say he would have let Nixon know he had the Hong Kong story. It would have been a friendly, subtle approach, they say with Hoover claiming he wished only to protect Nixon from the misuse of the information.

Hoover used this line, according to our sources, to let dozens of key officials know that he was aware of their secrets. This may help explain his extraordinary success in working his way in Washington.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I recently became a widow and I am very lonesome. I go to church but still when I come home it is so lonely. My two daughters are a great distance away, and have homes of their own. Should I go and live with them? — Mrs. M.W.

DEAR MRS. M.W.: Loneliness is one of the great burdens of our society. If you have given your life to Jesus Christ, know that he has promised that He will be with us in every circumstance of life. God could use this time in your life to draw you closer to Himself if you will but take advantage of it. Learn to spend time in prayer each day, and learn to read your Bible and study it each day. Cultivate your relationship with Him. Seek to find out the problems of others and the needs of missionaries supported by your church, and make these the object of your prayers. Remember also that you have many brothers and sisters in Christ in the church where you worship. It is very likely that many others in your church are also widowed and lonely, and you could be of mutual help and encouragement to one another. Many churches now have Sunday School classes or Bible study groups for such individuals. You might ask your pastor about this, and if your church does not have such a group perhaps God would have you take the initiative in forming one.

In regard to living with one of your daughters, there is no general rule to lay down. Certainly your daughters have a responsibility for your welfare, and if they should recognize this it might be wise to live near them. Make this a matter of prayer, and only take such a step if you feel you have clear leading from the Lord. God bless you.

A Devotion For Today

"Faith, hope, love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love." (I Corinthians 13:13, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, give us love that will result in our realizing more help to minister to the spiritual and material needs of persons. Amen.

They said Joseph Thorn, Derby, Kan., was found beaten and robbed at a rest area south of here on Interstate 35. He was kept at a hospital overnight for observation and treatment of a concussion.

Officers said Thorn gave this account:

A man who appeared to be in his late teens jumped into Thorn's automobile at a Derby intersection Monday morning, pulled a pistol and ordered Thorn to drive south on Interstate 35. They stopped once for gasoline and then at the Marietta rest area about 2 p.m.

The man took Thorn into a restroom, beat him and robbed him of his wallet, wrist watch and wedding band.

Thorn had tossed the car keys under the front seat before entering the restroom and his automobile was not taken. Patrolmen said they did not know how the assailant fled the rest area.

Plans Call For Busing

DALLAS (AP) — Plaintiffs in the Dallas school desegregation case have filed two new mixing plans, both calling for busing more pupils than previously considered proposals.

Under one of the new proposals, 55,484 pupils would be bused to achieve a racial balance in the city's schools. The other would require busing 37,847 pupils.

The more extensive plan would leave no segregated schools, while the second plan would not alter the racial makeup of 15 all-black schools, mostly in South Oak Cliff. They were filed Monday in U.S. district court.

The Dallas school board submitted a plan last September which left 46 all-black schools. A court-appointed desegregation consultant suggested a plan that left 40 one-race schools.

Both of the plaintiffs' new proposals would allow kindergarten pupils to attend neighborhood schools.

Revival Plans Are Unveiled By Baptists

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Baptists are working on plans for a statewide revival that would include heavy use of the mass media and would hopefully reach every Texan.

"We are seeking a revival which is nothing short of a Christian revolution," said James H. Landes, executive director of the 2.2-million members Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The program was adopted in December, but the first phases of planning were unveiled Monday at the annual Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference. An exact date for the revival has not been set.

"The revival can be the greatest thing to happen in Texas in this generation. Perhaps even this century," Landes added.

The campaign is projected to include advertisement, radio and television spots, news releases, a statewide TV spectacular, and other means of communicating with every Texan.

More than 15,000 Texas Baptist pastors and laypersons are expected to attend the meeting which continues through Wednesday at the Tarrant County Convention Center.

Jail School Bomber Suspect

HOUSTON (AP) — Jay Phillip White, 17, has been charged with second degree felony arson after a homemade pipe bomb exploded at Klein High School.

School officials said the Tuesday explosion outside the school's open-air student center broke about four windows and a glass door on the west side of the center. One pupil received superficial cuts from flying glass, they said.

Sheriff's detectives quoted White as saying a pupil he did not know produced the bomb and told him it would only make a loud noise.

Rail Tract Is Surplus Four Are Promoted At Security State Bank

A tract of railroad right of way near Webb AFB is being declared surplus.

Congressman Omar Burleson, 17th District, announced Tuesday that the General Services Administration is notifying the state and local authorities that the parcel has been declared surplus to federal needs.

The property consists of approximately 16.88 acres of right-of-way easements improved with 4,832 linear feet of railroad trackage adjacent to Webb AFB. An interest in the property has been expressed by the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

Rene Brown, president of the foundation, explained that the law requires declared government surplus to first be offered to other federal agencies before state, county or city interests are considered.

Other federal agencies have expressed no interest in the property, however, and on Jan. 16 it will be offered to Howard County and the City of Big Spring for a negotiated sale.

"We will then have 20 days to express an interest in the property," said Brown. "The foundation will cooperate with the city and county in expressing that desire," he added.

The property contains a portion of track which has been used to service the International Technovision Inc. (Intech) building near Webb AFB.

BOWLING FOR DOLLARS — These representatives, left to right, of the Big Spring Bowling Association (BSBA) and the Big Spring Women's Bowling Association (BSWBA), Louise Booth, secretary BSWBA, Ed Booth, secretary BSBA, Beverly Martin, president BSWBA, Russ Hoover, recreation director at Big Spring VA Hospital, and Neel Bumgarner, president BSBA, presented the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital with a check for $300. The money was raised through tournaments in the area, and will be used for new equipment and supplies for the hospital's recreation department.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Leftist Moslem street fighters punched into Beirut's port area today in an attempt to cut off the last Christian bastions in the hotel district.

The Moslem advance came as plans were reported for an Arab mini-summit in Damascus to try to end Lebanon's nine-month civil war.

Police said squads of Moslem militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas overran a police cordon and captured Christian positions on the western edge of the port.

The Christian Phalangist militia claimed the Moslem attack was repulsed. But the government radio said fighting was still raging in the port area at mid-morning.

A Moslem spokesman said the attack was designed to cut off 500 Christian gunmen in the hotel area half a mile to the west.

Firing also was reported in the hotel area, and several rockets hit the Vatican Embassy next to the Holiday Inn. Army armored cars evacuated the papal nuncio, Msgr. Alfredo Bruniera, and his staff.

Another rocket landed in the port. A police said several prostitutes were killed or wounded, while "others fled in panic to shelter in an adjacent police station."

The police said at least 48 people were killed and 87 wounded in the Moslem assault on the port and in mortar and rocket duels Tuesday night between Moslem and Christian suburban neighborhoods. Another 15 dead and 51 wounded were reported in Zahlah, 35 miles east of Beirut, and neighboring Moslem villages, and in Moslem Tripoli and Christian Zagarta, in north Lebanon.

This brought the casualty toll in the war to more than 8,650 dead and more than 26,200 wounded, according to government figures.

The Christians kept up their 11-day-old food blockade of 32,000 Palestinian refugees in three camps on the northeast side of Beirut. Moslems and Palestinian guerrillas retaliated by blockading several Christian villages in northern and southern Lebanon with a total population of 30,000.

With all highways into the city closed for five days, the government said it was negotiating an airlift of flour from Syria to ease a bread shortage in Beirut. "But nothing can be done to ease the fuel shortage as long as the highways remain closed," a spokesman said.

Government sources said President Suleiman Franjeh would visit Damascus this weekend for talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad on a Syrian-sponsored formula to end the Lebanese war. The sources said if they come to an agreement, the heads of state of Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iraq, Algeria, Libya and Kuwait and guerrilla chieftain Yasir Arafat of the Palestine Liberation Organization would join Franjeh and Assad to help seal the accord.

Burriss Resigns, Going To PA

Bob Burriss

Bob Burriss, head football coach and athletic director for Big Spring High School the past three years has resigned to accept the head coaching job at Port Arthur's Jefferson High.

Tuesday when the announcement was made at a news conference there. At Port Arthur Jefferson, Burriss replaces interim coach Bill Hicks, whose teams posted an 0-7 record after taking over the third game of the season. Central Coach Smitty Hill was once the coach at Jefferson. Burriss posted a 6-24 in three years at Big Spring. His best finish was 1974, when the Steers were 3-7. Last year, Big Spring was 2-8, and finished last in District 5-4A in team offense and team defense. Burriss' first head coaching job was at Pauls Valley, Okla. in 1959. He spent five years there, posting a 36-16-1 record, and in 1964 he became head coach at Hobbs, N.M. The team was 11-1 that year, and played in the New Mexico State schoolboy championship. He went to Midland Lee in 1966, and was successful in turning Lee's sagging fortunes around. The Rebels were 1-9 his first season, but then had back-to-back 7-3 finishes. Burriss then went to Oklahoma State as an assistant, and dropped out of coaching for one year before taking the Big Spring job in 1973. Burriss-coached teams have usually been pass-minded squads, and the Steers led 5-4A in passing in 1973 and 1974.

Mojo Streaks Stun Steers

By FRED BREWER

Two spurts by Odessa Permian Tuesday night led the visiting Panthers, 17-5, 2-1, to a 68-53 victory over the Big Spring Steers, 11-10, 1-2. The first one came with two minutes left in the first period and Big Spring leading 13-8. Permian's tight 2-1-2 zone defense forced the Steers to shoot from the outside all night. About the time Big Spring started missing these shots the Panthers started hitting theirs. They ran off 18 straight points. Jim Ray, Big Spring's leading scorer with 13 points, snapped the streak with a jump shot, registering the Steer's first points of the second quarter with 3:30 left to play. Big Spring then rallied, itself, for six straight points. The Steers went into a three-quarter court press in the second half and the maneuver worked. They cut Permian's 11-point half time lead to seven, 40-33. Then the Panthers went on their second tear which ended with the buzzer. With one second showing on the clock in the third period Mojo's Stan Strifler threw up a desperation 30-footer — swish. Those two points gave Permian a 50-35 lead to carry into the final quarter. A few minutes later Permian's coach Al Agollesby and Steers' coach James Griffin were putting in their subs. Both teams were sluggish at the start. Ray sank an early free throw, then neither team scored until Ray broke the ice with a bucket almost three minutes into the game. The score stayed fairly even after that until Permian's 18-point streak began to take its toll. Just about Permian's entire offense centered around their leading scorer James Hunter. He had 25 points and could have had more but he passed off to his teammates for easy layups. Strifler was next for Mojo with 11. The Steers' scoring was more evenly distributed. Rob Aldridge followed Ray with 12 points and Mike Harris had eight.

When someone told Oglesby his squad appeared flat before the game he nodded in agreement.

"I didn't try to get them up for the game," Oglesby said. "They were sky high for our last two games and played poorly both times (winning a close one over Midland and losing by one point to Abilene in overtime). This team doesn't play well when they're tight, they have to be loose."

Permian's highly regarded JV unit beat Big Spring 59-33. The Steers' Marta Latta was high in the game with 11 points. Huey Chancellor and Donnie Gray both had 10 for Permian.

Big Spring's sophomores raised their record to 8-1 with a 56-52 win. Kent Rice 18, Greg Broadman, 11, and Scott Wilder, 10, led the Steers in scoring. Rickie McManigle with 11 and Steve Neal with 10 topped the Panthers.

Ahhhh Fine Wine, Super Bowl X

MIAMI (AP) — "It's like fine wine," Mel Blount said, a smile creasing his face as he savored the next sentence. "Every year it's got to get better."

For Pittsburgh's All-Pro cornerback, the National Football League's Defensive Player of the Year, Super Bowl X is indeed, like wine. He and the rest of the Steelers are back for another glass, having tingled their taste buds for the first time a year ago.

They're no longer novices. They're connoisseurs now, not overwhelmed by the attention and fanfare leading up to Super Sunday at the Orange Bowl. And for a totally different reason, neither are the Dallas Cowboys.

"We know what to expect now," Blount said Tuesday before the Steelers began a practice session. "Before last year's game against Minnesota (won by the Steelers 16-6), some of us may have been a bit overawed by everything. Now we're all ready for it — and can put it out of our minds."

"Coming to the Super Bowl for the first time can be an unerving thing. That's why, for the most part, teams that have been here before have beaten teams playing for the first time."

The only exceptions have been the Green Bay Packers, who won Super Bowl I, and Pittsburgh, last year's winner over the Vikings, a three-time loser. Why was that?

"Well," Blount grinned, "We were better." And how do the Steelers rate against Dallas? Blount grinned again — and didn't say a thing.

None of the other Steelers would be so foolhardy as to predict a Pittsburgh victory, but a few of them seemed to agree that being in the Super Bowl for the second straight year gives them an emotional advantage.

Unlike last year's Vikings, many of whom were visibly uptight in the week prior to the game, the Cowboys appear as cool as the Steelers. And more high-spirited, too.

And why not? After all, they weren't even supposed to be here.

"This was supposed to be a rebuilding year for us," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry, reflecting on his club's having been depleted by retirements and defections to the now-defunct World Football League.

"Everybody was talking about how we were going to have to take a long road back — and at the start of the season I guess I believed that, too," Landry said. "But when we won our first four, my thinking began to change. And when we really started putting it together, maybe halfway through the year, I knew we had a shot at the playoffs."

Those playoffs resulted in upsets over Minnesota and Los Angeles and the unexpected trip to the title game for a team which had been to two others and which, a few years ago, was rated a perennial powerhouse.

As defensive end Larry Cole sees it, the rebuilding tag gave the Cowboys an edge this year. "We had one thing going for us besides the real good attitude of the team ... and that was that nobody really expected too much from us. It wasn't like other years, when the Cowboys always were favored to win. There wasn't a whole lot of pressure."

HANDOFF TO PRESTON — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach (12) hands off to running back Preston Pearson as the team showed a play during picture day Tuesday in Ft. Lauderdale. The Cowboys meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in Super Bowl X in Miami on Sunday.

And that, he says, will help Dallas on Sunday. The Cowboys are seven-point underdogs, not expected to win — just like they were not expected to win in Minnesota and Los Angeles.

They're not newcomers to this biggest game of the year. It's the third Super Bowl for 13 of the Cowboys. But unlike his 12 teammates, Preston Pearson's appearing in the championship with his third team — Baltimore, Pittsburgh and now Dallas.

"We're not as new to this thing as it might seem," Pearson said. "It's not like I was going to call all the guys together and say, 'Now let me tell you what it's like to be in a Super Bowl ...' Sure, we've got a lot of rookies (11 compared to Pittsburgh's three), but we've also got the guys like Roger (Staubach), Lee Roy (Jordan) and Larry (Cole) who have been here before."

"We'll handle the pressure. Maybe the pressure should be on the Steelers since they're supposed to win. We'll be up for the game."

And so, of course, will the Steelers. As Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll put it: "If a player has to work to get himself up for a Super Bowl, he's in trouble."

Buffs Have Teamwork

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — From week to week as West Texas State has built a 10-1 record, one basketball player after another has been outstanding.

In the Buffaloes' 75-59 victory over Tulsa last week it was Dallas Smith's turn. As a result he was named Missouri Valley Conference player of the week today.

Smith scored 20 points, grabbed eight rebounds and blocked seven shots in the game.

"Dallas really dominated the game both offensively and defensively," West Texas Coach Ron Ekker said of his 6-foot-10 center. "He was responsible for keeping Tulsa from shooting well inside, and offensively he gave us a strong inside attack."

Of the number of shots he blocked, Ekker said, "Seven is a heckuva lot of blocks, especially in our defensive system where the other team doesn't really get a lot of shot opportunities."

Sox' Lynn Voted Male Of Year

BOSTON (AP) — Just three years ago Fred Lynn was a senior at the University of Southern California, dreaming of a pro baseball career.

Now the young outfielder for the Boston Red Sox ranks among sports immortals as The Associated Press' 1975 Male Athlete of the Year.

Lynn, who helped the Red Sox to within a bloop single of baseball's world championship, was named winner of the AP award Tuesday in recognition of his feats, including an unprecedented sweep of both Most Valuable Player and Rookie of the Year honors.

He received 88 votes in the national poll of sports writers and sportscasters. Quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings was second with 55 votes and heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali third with 42. Ali was last year's Male Athlete of the Year.

"I appreciate this very much," Lynn said in a telephone interview from El Monte, Calif. "It's quite an honor to be voted over such other fine athletes. I'm very happy. My wife and dad also will be very pleased."

A second round draft choice after playing on three NCAA championship teams at Southern California, Lynn spent one-half season with Bristol in the Eastern League in 1973. The next year he hit .282 with 21 homers at Pawtucket of the International League.

In a brief trial with Boston in 1974, he hit .419 with two homers and 10 RBI in 15 games. That spectacular showing earned him a trip to training camp last spring and he won a regular job.

A left-handed power hitter with good speed, Lynn batted .331 — second to Minnesota's Rod Carew. He hit 21 homers and drove in 106 runs. He also led the American League in slugging (.566), runs scored (103) and doubles (47).

Lynn, who will be 24 on Feb. 3, also frustrated opponents with his defensive play in center field. Spectacular catches became almost routine and he threw out 11 runners who tested his powerful left arm.

In Boston's three-game sweep of Oakland in the playoffs, Lynn batted .364 and drove in three runs. He hit .280 and drove in five runs as the Red Sox lost the World Series to the Cincinnati Reds on Joe Morgan's bloop single in the ninth inning of the seventh game.

"I would like to improve in every department this year," Lynn said.

"However, if I have the same season as I did last year, I'll be happy, more than satisfied."

Dolphins' Aide Gets 49'er Job

MIAMI (AP) — New San Francisco 49ers' head Coach Monte Clark, restraining his joy at replacing the ousted Dick Nolan, says Nolan helped him get his former job as the Miami Dolphins' offensive coach.

The 38-year-old Clark, who became the National Football League's youngest head coach Tuesday, recalled "Dick recommended me to Don Shula" in 1970, when the Dolphins' mentor was looking for an offensive line coach.

"I'm sorry his misfortune has turned into my opportunity," Clark said.

He declined to release the terms of his contract, but said he was satisfied with it. "I've been given all the authority I need to function properly," he said.

Perhaps foremost among his functions at San Francisco will be to rehabilitate the 49ers' inconsistent offense, which led the league in fumbles and penalties this past season. While the offense has been blamed for the team's 5-9 record, the defense performed well.

Clark must also lead the search for a new quarterback.

Veteran Norm Snead started the season, but soon was followed by Steve Spurrier and, in the final three games, by second-year pro Tom Owen. For the past few weeks, there have been reports that the 49ers were trying to snare New England quarterback Jim Plunkett.

During five years with

the Dolphins, Clark molded the offensive unit into one which led the American Football Conference in rushing three times and which set a league rushing record in 1972.

Clark said his first step would be "to evaluate the team and hire a coaching staff," but he ruled out taking to San Francisco any colleagues on the Miami staff.

Clark said he is "excited" about going home to San Francisco, where he began his 11-year career as a top NFL lineman. A fourth-round draft choice of the 49ers in 1959, Clark was a defensive lineman for three years before being traded to Dallas.

At Dallas, he switched to the offensive line and went on to play at Cleveland before Shula made him coach of Miami's offensive line in 1970. He has been the Dolphins' overall offensive coach the past two seasons.

Cold Chills Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Subfreezing cold chilled the Texas Panhandle and steamy showers lingered in coastal areas of the state today.

Clouds near the coast and over the Lower Rio Grande Valley kept temperatures up on the heels of the latest cold front, which finished a weak push across Texas by Tuesday night. It was clear in other sections.

Occasional thunderstorms were mixed with the showers as they tapered off this morning.

Overnight temperatures tumbled as low as 15 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle while the reading still was 67 at McAllen in the extreme south. Among other cool spots were Amarillo and Lubbock 21, Wink 25, Childress 26, Midland-Odessa 27, Abilene 28 and Wichita Falls 32.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon ranged up to a balmy 88 at Alice and McAllen in South Texas.

Clearing skies were promised in the shower belt and fair weather everywhere else in the state through Thursday. A warmup was forecast after another cold night in many areas.

Board To Revive HEW Ruling On Integration

Faced with the prospect of reduced funds, Big Spring Independent School trustees decided Tuesday to take another look at the system's sleeping legal contest law suit with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

A report at the regular board meeting Tuesday noon showed that the district lost about $90,000 in federal funds this year and stands to lose approximately $240,000 next year unless the HEW class is cleared. Trustees instructed Supt. E. H. McKenzie to call in the school attorney for a review of the situation.

HEW took a stand that three schools in the district do not conform with integration requirements. A HEW hearing was held two and one half years ago in the federal court at Midland with an administrative judge from HEW presiding.

OFF INTO SPACE

The decision mailed to the board at that time was a denial of the school's appeal. BSISD appealed but have never heard of the matter again.

It was determined at that time that the hearing would advance through all necessary HEW channels and if denied, all the way to the top including the courts.

The board plans to meet soon with its attorney and seek his advice on the subject as to what would be the best course for the school district at this time.

BILINGUAL CHANGES

The discussion of the bilingual policy in Big Spring schools concerned a few minor changes to conform with state requirements in the state-mandated program. The bilingual program will be taught next year in kindergarten through the third grade in any school where a given grade level contains as many as 20 children of limited English-speaking ability.

Latin American constituents attended the meeting but left without commenting. The discussion was to approve a state program, not a local one.

INDO-CHINA AID

In another decision affecting students of another language, the board approved amending the budget to receive $6,300 in federal transitional grant under the Indo-Chinese Migration and Refugee Assistance Act.

This will be used partially to pay a campus aide to visit each campus and work with the 21 refugee children attending the local schools. Funds also will be for car allowance, materials and supplies.

The board heard Don Crockett, business director, discuss the joint tax appraisal board's new contract. It approved the contract with other taxing agencies in the county. Don Reynolds, board member, brought up the possibility of some type of combination collection agency. No action was taken on this.

SERVICE FEE UP

It was pointed out by Dr. McKenzie, that the annual service fee for the Texas Association of School Boards had jumped from $686.41 to $931.48.

New employes approved by the board include Mrs. Lauretta Glass, third grade, Bauer; Janice Jones, speech therapist, high school; Terri Gay Manns, Latin-English, high school; Aaron O'Neal, high school tennis and history; Mrs. Janice Stephens, high school art; and Mrs. Catherine White, high school special education.

Resignation accepted were from Mrs. Susan Brooks, head start; Mrs. Jill Jones, speech therapist; Mrs. Nadara Lueneburg, high school special education; Mrs. Sara Magnusson, third grade at Bauer; Mrs. June Ricketts, high school Latin; and Mrs. Gwen Stanislaus, art.

FREE LUNCH RATES

The board discussed the new free lunch program which will be announced at a later date and which will

WOMAN KIDNAPER? Tears Interrupt Testimony Of Girl

HOUSTON (AP) — When lawyers questioned 7-year-old Roberta Wesley Dodd in court she answered them with tears.

The tears fell Tuesday when prosecutors asked about her alleged kidnaping Jan. 4, 1975.

The child had told police of being in a strange house and seeing a man remove rings from the body of Bernice Hartsfield, 80, a retired school teacher.

Roberta said the beaten body of the retired teacher was rolled in a quilt and stuffed in a closet.

Gerald Lee Bodde, 29, being tried on a capital murder charge in the death of Mrs. Hartsfield, watched as the sandy-haired girl, her tiny frame dwarfed by the witness chair, sobbed while trying to tell her story.

Bodde also is charged with aggravated kidnaping of Roberta.

With jurors gone from the courtroom the child was called to determine if she was qualified to be a witness.

Defense lawyers Marvin Teague and Donald Rogers contended she was too young to correctly recount any story. The law specifies a witness must be able to know the consequences of perjury.

Prosecutors Doug Shaver and George Jacobs had brought Roberta to the empty courtroom Saturday and let her sit in the witness chair in an attempt to familiarize her with the surroundings.

motion to disqualify the witness. Walton said he would withhold an immediate ruling and recessed court.

Bodde is accused of taking Roberta, daughter of a former friend, robbing and killing Mrs. Hartsfield and driving Roberta to San Antonio, where she was left with a landlady. Police said Roberta's story led investigators to Mrs. Hartsfield's home here where the body was found.

Roberta nodded.

"And you know what will happen if you tell a lie?" the prosecutor continued.

"The devil will get us," Roberta replied.

Then something happened. She fell into silence. Questions about ice cream, dogs and brothers were not answered. She looked down at her blue sun dress.

Then the tears started. District Court Judge Dan Walton extended a handkerchief. She twisted it in her hands and pressed her palms to her eyes.

The sobs started slowly and soon were amplified over the courtroom by the microphone at the witness chair. A glass of water had on a temporary effect.

As the lawyers waited, Roberta was ushered from the court clutching Shaver's hand.

Teacher Tenure Ruling

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that a teacher receiving most of his salary from federal funds is entitled to acquire tenure under Oklahoma law.

The ruling overturned a Seminole County district court ruling.

Wayne Lollar, a teacher in the Sasakwa district contended that he was entitled to four years of tenure as a teacher in the New Model school district before the district was annexed to the Sasakwa district.

Sasakwa school officials argued that Lollar was not entitled to tenure for his service in the New Model district because some 83 per cent of his salary came from federal funds.

The district court upheld the Sasakwa school board, but the appellate court held in Lollar's appeal that "both state and federal funds are public funds, and even if 83 per cent of respondent's salary was paid from federal funds, that in itself, would not keep him from acquiring tenure."

Under Oklahoma law, a school board cannot refuse to renew the contract of a teacher who has completed three years of tenure except for cause.

HORRIBLE FACE Offer Reward For 'Big Bird'

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Interest in the mysterious "Big Bird," a reported stork-like creature with gruesome features and massive wings, was heightened Tuesday with the offer of a $1,000 reward for its capture.
A search for the elusive creature, which one observer described as from another planet, has been under way since December in this Lower Rio Grande Valley area.
Even policemen and children have reported seeing the animal. There also was an unconfirmed report that the bird ransacked a tavern in a nearby county.
Radio station KRIO of McAllen announced a $1,000 reward Tuesday for its capture. To collect, "Big Bird" must be delivered alive to the station here.
Large, three-toed tracks were found Jan. 2 in a field in the back of the Stanley Lawson home on the outskirts of Harlingen. The tracks, about foot long and six to eight inches wide, continued into the field 80 yards before they vanished.
Two children said they saw a hairy, ape-like creature making the tracks.
Early the next morning, San Benito policemen Arturo Padilla and Homero Galvan sighted a huge bird with a wing span of perhaps 15 feet gliding over a canal in that nearby city.

Padilla described the bird as similar to a stork or a pelican.
A few hours after the police sighting was publicized, an area television station showed a science fiction movie called "The Flying Serpent." More sightings of "Big Bird" followed.
Late that same evening, someone reported seeing an unidentified flying object between San Benito and Olmito. They said it appeared to disappear into a canal.
Alverico Guajardo, who lives in a mobile home on the outskirts of Brownsville, said he heard a noise one night the following week and went outside his trailer to investigate.
When Guajardo turned on his car headlights, he said he was confronted by a bird-like creature about four feet tall with a huge wing spread.
The creature had a bat-like face and eyes the size of a silver dollar, he said.
"His face was horrible and he had real big eyes," Guajardo told authorities. He said the animal had a skinny beak "three or four feet long."
"It's got wings like a bird, but it's no bird," Guajardo said, adding, "That animal is not from this world."
"I was scared," he said.
Guajardo said the creature walked away within a few minutes.
Near Rio Grande City, about 80 miles west of San Benito, there have been reports of sightings of a half-bird, half-man creature, Star County Sheriff Ray Alvarez said.
Dr. Don Farst of the Gladys Porter Zoo at Brownsville said the only birds that could come close to matching the description given by Guajardo would be either a California or an Andean condor. He said he could not explain what either of those birds would be doing in South Texas.
As news of the sightings spread through the Valley, more persons volunteered information. One witness said he saw the creature Dec. 13 near Los Fresnos.

Brown, who has been publisher since 1966, said he would remain in Austin.
Cox Enterprises Inc. of Atlanta, Ga., acquired Newspapers Inc., which owned the American-Statesman and newspapers in Waco, Port Arthur and Lufkin, in a transaction that was completed last Tuesday.
The outgoing publisher said his brother, Tim Brown, production director of the American-Statesman, will remain in his present position and general manager Bill Meroney also will remain.

Ezzell Moves To New Office

State Rep. Mike Ezzell moved to a new office in Austin this week for the renovation of the old offices. He now operates from Room 102-B, John H. Reagan Building, which is just north of the Capitol.
His mailing address will remain the same as will his phone number.
The address is Rep. Mike Ezzell, House of Representatives, Box 2910, Austin, Texas 78767. The phone number is 512-475-2617.

Wind Damage Is Posing Treat

Wind damage to fields in 68 counties in this area is greater than a year ago, according to the early January report of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service state office at Temple.

Covering the period from Nov. 1-Dec. 31, the report by George C. Marks, state conservationist, showed 267,794 acres with wind damage. For the same period a year ago the total was 141,040 acres, an increase of 126,754, or 89.3 per cent.

GOP Judges Increased

HOUSTON (AP) — The Harris County Commissioners Court has increased the number of Republican election judges for the county voting precinct from 11 to 101.

The court named Democrats for 367 precincts.

Under a new policy basing election judge appointments on recommendations of each area commissioners, the court, by a 3-2 vote, made the appointments.

The 101 were recommended by Commissioner Bob Eckels, a Republican who said each represented a precinct that went Republican in the 1974 gubernatorial election.

Of the total land damaged in the current two-month period 90 per cent was cropland (240,842). Crops or cover destroyed on damaged land during the period constitute 12,275 acres. Emergency tillage was applied to 336,825 acres during the period to control erosion.

Land reported in condition to blow is 1,896,803 acres compared with 1,627,410 for the same counties a year ago.

Damaged acres during November-December in the general area included 42,300 at Pampa, 21,945 at Amarillo, 39,990 at Vernon, Lubbock 33,740, Stephenville 68,950 and Big Spring 53,150.

Secretary Of Texas Senate Reported Ready To Testify

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Secretary of the Senate Charles Schnabel is willing to go before and answer any and all questions from the grand jury that indicted him, the Associated Press has learned.

The Travis County Grand Jury still is investigating Schnabel. When it indicted Schnabel Dec. 30, Dist. Atty. Bob Smith said "only the tip of the iceberg" of his investigation of Schnabel's office had been revealed. Monday, he said the investigation and grand jury action should be completed by mid-February.

Schnabel has told senators he is prepared to testify before the grand jury. Grand juries almost never receive such offers from persons they have indicted.

It would be up to the grand jury to decide whether it wanted to listen to Schnabel.

The Senate voted 18-13 on Jan. 5 to allow Schnabel to keep his job and his $3,125-a-month paycheck, but it stripped him of his power to hire and fire personnel or spend Senate money. Sen. Don Adams, D-Jasper, chairman of the Senate Administration Committee, must approve all personnel and money decisions.

The grand jury is expected to hear testimony later this week that five women on the Senate payroll drew extra pay for typing "heat sheets" last April at the Texas Relays, an annual track meet for which Schnabel is a timekeeper.

However, Senate personnel records show no attempt to keep the matter secret. One woman, Lillie G. Hibbs, now Mrs. Jim Evans, drew $92 for working both days of the relays, April 3 and 4. The other four women, Shirley K. Hearn, Beverly Johnson, Linda Kay Willis and Joslynn Diskin, all received $50 for working 6½ hours on April 3.

In every case, a "Senate

Personnel Action Request" form—filled in by someone in the Enrolling and Engrossing office, where all five women worked—carried the notation: "Additional salary—$50 (or $92) gross more—Texas Relays."

The five women reportedly volunteered for the extra work.

Diskin reportedly claimed she never received extra pay for the work at the relays. She regularly received $630 a month. Her personnel file shows she quit on April 25 and was entitled to be paid $544.09 for 19 working days, plus $50 for the relays work. Actually, she received her regular $630 for the month of April, according to payroll office records.

Schnabel is indicted on two counts of theft and one of official misconduct. None of the charges involve allegations that Schnabel profited personally, except in the sense that he kept senators happy, and they, being Schnabel's bosses, continued to raise his salary.

Police Recover Loot Valued At $500,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — FBI agents have arrested three persons in the wake of a series of burglaries last week which saw goods valued at $500,000 stolen from homes in an exclusive suburb of Houston, Tex.

A fourth person was taken into custody by Houston police. All the arrests were made Sunday.

The three were charged here with interstate transportation of stolen property, a federal offense, and released on bail.

The stolen property, which had been shipped to Philadelphia from Houston under a false name, was recovered Monday night at the airport, officers said.

Those arrested in Philadelphia as they stepped off a plane from Houston are Thomas Bruce Agnew, 33, of Haddonfield, N.J.; Thomas F. Seher, 33, of Westville, N.J.; and Marilyn D'Ulisse, 32, of Cherry Hill, N.J. Houston police arrested Louis J. Krippelbauer, 40, of Cherry Hill.

According to the FBI, the burglaries occurred from last Wednesday through Saturday in Village, Tex., an exclusive suburb of Houston. The stolen goods included furs, rare coins and stamps, jewels, silver and cash.

Car Insurance Hike Approved

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Mid Continent Casualty Co.'s request for a $1.5 million annual rate increase on private automobile insurance was approved Tuesday by the State Board for Property and Casualty Rates.

The board approved the increase subject to the firm's filing a separate rate schedule for citizens' band radios and other special equipment.

Under a policy announced recently by State Insurance Commissioner Gerald Grimes, CB equipment is considered an item covered by comprehensive automobile insurance unless the policy specifically excludes it.

The Board for Property and Casualty Rates was told Tuesday that one of every six cars in Tulsa now has CB equipment. Law enforcement officials say that thefts of CB equipment have soared in recent months.

Review Reasons For Renting Items

COLLEGE STATION — Practically any household item can be rented rather than bought outright.

But "when does renting pay?" is a question consumers often ask, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, noted this week.

"The monthly charge for renting a typical item usually ranges from one-twentieth to one-tenth of its original cost. So renting a piece of equipment for a long period may cost as much as buying," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Sometimes it's possible to rent with an option to buy — especially with medical or exercise equipment. In these situations, rent payments are applied to the purchase price.

"Some people feel that renting an item motivates them to use it more often than if they owned the item. They say that if they rent it for a day, they'll probably use it instead of putting off the job," she said.

Mrs. Chenoweth noted some points consumers might want to consider in deciding whether to rent or buy household items.

—How often will the item be used? A garden tiller or floor sander may be used only once a year for a day or two. A frequently used item such as a lawn mower would be needed more often.

—What about service for the item? Some people prefer to rent because of the convenience of having someone else sharpen the blades, oil the engine or perform maintenance.

—Is storage space available? Some items require storage space disproportionate to their frequency of use and seem to be always in the way.

—Will the item be satisfactory for a long time? Will next year's model change or improved features make a difference? Renting offers the advantage of flexibility — consumers can change their minds.

Mate May Acquire Taste For Topless

DEAR ABBY: I don't know why that lady was upset because her husband ate lunch at a topless restaurant. What difference does it make where he gets his appetite as long as he comes home to eat?

BROAD-MINDED BROAD IN YAKIMA

DEAR BROAD: Maybe she's afraid he'll work up such a hunger at the restaurant that he'll go back for dinner.

DEAR ABBY: This is my second year as a school teacher. I teach third grade in a very good public school. At the beginning of the semester I received the following letter from the mother of one of my pupils:

Dear Ms. G—: I understand that there is a rule at Danny's school stating that the teachers are not allowed to hit the kids. Well, I am giving you permission to hit my son, Danny, whenever you think he needs it. He is mouthy, stubborn and very mean, and the only thing he understands is a good hit. (Not in the head, please.) I know him better than you do. Please keep this letter in case you hit him. It will relieve you of all responsibility in case Danny tries to get away with something. He told me he can do whatever he wants at school because if the teacher lays a hand on him she will get fired. Thank you.

Mrs. T.J.McD.

Abby, is the above letter legal and binding? And should I hit Danny if I think it's necessary?

MS. G—

DEAR MS. G—: A lawyer I'm not. The advice from here is: Do not hit Danny or any other child.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were watching the news on television the other evening, and along came an announcement that a 41-year-old woman had just given birth to a full-term baby only a few minutes after learning that she was pregnant.

The newscaster said that the woman had gained 30 pounds in the last few months, but she didn't know why. But here's the payoff in case you're thinking that the woman was either uneducated or very dumb. She had been working in a doctor's office for the last 17 years!

My husband said it was probably just an attempt at humor on the part of the newscaster. I said it wasn't. What do you say?

CURIOS IN N.Y.

DEAR CURIOUS: I say truth is stranger than fiction. It actually happened.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WASHINGTON STAR READER: Figures DO lie. Just because a marriage lasted 50 years doesn't necessarily mean it was "successful." Not all unsuccessful marriages end up in the divorce court.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
