Moslems Call For Holy War After Resignation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem preachers called for all-out holy war against the Christians in Lebanon today in the wake of Moslem Premier Rashid Karami's resignation.

But the country's chief Moslem religious leader, the grand mufti, Sheikh Hasan Khaled, denied there had been any official call for such a war.

A government source also reported that Christian President Suleiman Franjeh had rejected Karami's resignation, but that Karami insisted on going through with it.

Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat vowed to "escalate the war on all fronts" unless a Christian attack on a Moslem-populated slum in eastern Beirut was called off.

"I shall not be responsible for Palestinian and Moslem reactions to this attack," he said. "The area is to be saved at any cost."

But the Christians defied Arafat's warning and announced the capture of the Karantina slum after a four-day battle. Police said scores of slum dwellers were burned to death in their shacks during the fighting.

In Cairo, 120 Lebanese students occupied their country's embassy and vowed to stay until they get "firm word from home that the current bloodshed will come to an end."

Muzzains in Beirut shouted through bullhorns from their needle-shaped minarets: "Believers are called upon by their religious duty to rise in arms for jihad (holy war) to defend their attacked brethren."

Loudspeaker vans toured Moslem quarters of Beirut repeating the call.

Fierce fighting between rightwing Christians and leftist Lebanese Moslems and Palestinians raged through the night in Beirut and areas outside the capital. Police reported 102 more persons killed in the city and its suburbs.

Karami resigned after the warring factions ignored another of his cease-fire calls. Local papers said President Suleiman Franjeh was planning to form a military government to replace Karami's six-man coalition of Christian and Moslems.

Franjeh installed a military government last May, a month after the civil war started, but pressure from most of the civilian politicians forced it to resign after three days. Another military government probably would run into the same opposition, particularly from the Moslems, since most of the officers are Christians.

Karami said in a broadcast he was passing responsibility for the country to the Christian president "to take whatever steps he thinks proper."

Karami, a 53-year-old millionaire, became premier in June with a pledge to end the civil war. He negotiated more than a dozen cease-fires, but all collapsed, and the nine-month death toll is now estimated at more than 8,500.

Police reported house-to-house fighting throughout the night in a fire-gutted Moslem pocket in eastern Beirut and a besieged Christian enclave in south Lebanon.

The whole of Beirut was illuminated during the night by huge fires in the Moslem slum area of Karantina, on the eastern edge of the city's harbor.

The district has been under attack by right-wing Christian militiamen for more than 24 hours. The Christians said they captured it Sunday night.

LOOK OVER MAP — A group of Channel 13 CBers are looking over a map of the area as they searched over the weekend for any traces in the disappearance of a local truck transport dispatcher. Here Ken Steen, James Seagraves, Kenneth Steen, Gene Rutherford, Ronnie Richardson and William Anderson attempt to find directions before walking in different directions through the underbrush east of town.

Search Here Fails To Turn Up Clues For Missing Man

By MARJ CARPENTER

Friends of "Tree Top", transport dispatcher who disappeared here Saturday, Jan. 10, spent most of the past weekend beating the bushes in an area where they thought they might find him.

They looked in an area east of Big Spring since the 55-year-old Wilton D. Pybus was last seen at Denny's Restaurant. His car was deserted in that parking lot.

Persons affiliated with Channel 13 on the Citizens Band radio began the search on both sides of IS 20 east and in the area just east of town in heavy brush and past the sanitary landfill in the brush there.

The group used a plane from San Angelo, several horses, a motorcycle group from Midland, and walked on foot through the underbrush seeking clues for the missing man.

One CBER took his dog, which was good at following footprints, all to no avail. Members of the family cannot believe that he would have left voluntarily and were hoping for some leads in the search.

The group had hunted earlier in the week, then on the weekend made an all-out effort to find the missing dispatcher.

One woman CBER made sandwiches for the group so it could keep working.

Members walked the ditches all along IS 20 and FM 700 in the area where it was thought he might be found.

Tom Wilcox worked the base radio and attempted to keep the channel clear for the group to talk to each other as it underwent the search.

When he asked one lady to move up to 17 because of an emergency, she tried to keep on the air asking questions, but the base operator calmly persuaded her to get off the air.

The group expressed satisfaction at the end of the day-long search that he is not in the area just east of town.

Police and members of the family are still seeking clues for the whereabouts of the 6-foot one-inch man. He was reported by a waitress to have last been seen drinking coffee at Denny's Restaurant.

Nobody apparently saw him meet anybody or leave with anyone. The search continues.

IT'S GREEN Delivery Due On New Truck

Over two years after the bids were opened on Jan. 14, 1974, the City of Big Spring will accept delivery of a 75-foot aerial fire truck Wednesday, according to City Manager Harry Nagel.

The truck was purchased at a cost of about $94,500 and has capability of raising a bucket up to 75 feet in the air to spray water down on fires in large buildings.

Snorkel Fire Equipment Company of St. Joseph, Mo. was the company which built the truck, which is so tall that a door at the Central Fire Station had to be enlarged to accommodate it.

The truck will be easily recognizable because it is yellow-green in color, officially called lime green.

The reason for the color, unusual in that the rest of the city's fleet of trucks is red, is that the color is easier to see, according to the manufacturers.

County Cotton Production May Surpass 60,000 Bales

Area cotton production has come very close, and may surpass, the predicted 60,000 bales this year. A survey of eight Howard County gins shows that 58,990 bales have been tagged in so far.

Total number of ginned bales comes to 48,555 for the eight gins. All reported that there was still cotton in the yards and in some cases, still cotton on the stalk.

The Big Spring Co-op Gin reported the largest amount of cotton with 10,883 tagged bales and 8,500 ginned bales. The Farmers Co-op of Knott

MANY HAVE BLUE SUNDAY 5,000 Swindled Out Of Super Bowl

MIAMI (AP) — Up to 5,000 football fans sulked in hotel rooms or threw themselves at the mercy of scalpers after learning they had been swindled out of Super Bowl tickets in a "too-good-to-be-true" package tour to Florida, police say.

"I can't believe I came all the way from Toronto, Canada, to watch the game from a lousy hotel," Matt Crone said Sunday after watching the game on television. "It sounded too good to be true at the beginning — a guaranteed ticket to the game. I guess it was too good."

Police said the swindle may amount to $1.5 million and involved fans who paid $375 to $800 for package tours with promises of a ticket to the Super Bowl game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Dallas Cowboys.

But there were no tickets, and police said the tour company of officials disappeared.

A group calling itself Super Tours International and claiming to be associated with the International Travel Bureau contacted travel agents in several states and offered the package deals, police said.

Officials of ITB could not be reached for comment. The fans were booked into several luxury hotels in Fort Lauderdale, Miami and Hollywood. Most of them got their rooms and transportation, but at least one group could find no accommodations and camped outside a hotel, police said.

Temper flared the most at the Fort Lauderdale Sheraton Hotel, where police had to quiet several hundred fans who learned shortly before the game that they had no tickets.

"I'm trying to celebrate the victory," a Steelers fan said later when Pittsburgh won 21-17. "But it's hard after peering at a tube for the afternoon."

"I gotta say it's a letdown, since we were promised the tickets would be part of the package."

Angry and hounded travel agents from Pittsburgh, Dallas and other cities said they were misled by employees of STI, who promised plenty of tickets for the game.

James Udeschas, 44, part-owner of a Pittsburgh travel service, said he booked 298 of the persons taking the tour.

"I don't know what went wrong," he said, adding that he previously dealt with International Travel Bureau and had no reason to suspect anything was amiss.

An Ohio man said he wound up paying $40 above the $20 list price to a ticket scalper outside the Orange Bowl.

Police said that three men who said they were STI representatives met the travelers when they arrived Saturday but checked out of a Fort Lauderdale hotel that night.

ANGOLAN FRONT Western Forces Drive Back Reds

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Pro-Western forces are reported on the march to reopen the railroad across central Angola after driving back attacking forces of the Soviet-armed Popular Movement (MPLA).

Sketchy battle reports reaching Johannesburg said National Union (UNITA) troops turned back an attack north of Luso by a column of 1,000 MPLA and 500 Cuban soldiers. UNITA troops were reported advancing on Texeira de Sousa, the only town on the railroad held by the MPLA.

Texeira de Sousa is on Angola's eastern border with Zaire, and Luso is 180 miles to the southwest. Both are on the British Benguela Railway over which Zaire and Zambia ship their copper to the Atlantic coast.

The second pro-Western Angolan group, the National Front (FNLA), announced in Zaire that it will continue to resist "the Soviet-Cuban invasion armies that now number 15,000 men." The MPLA is reported to have routed the FNLA in northern Angola.

Diplomatic sources in Lisbon reported that Cuban planes carrying troops to Angola apparently have stopped using Portugal's Azores Islands as a fuel stop on the transatlantic flight. Newsweek Magazine reported that the Russians are providing long-range Ilyushin-62 jets to fly the Cubans from Havana to Africa.

The magazine said 3,000 to 6,000 Cubans may be en route to join the estimated 9,000 already in Angola. President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania, on a visit to India, told reporters that the letter which President Ford sent African heads of state before the recent summit meeting on Angola was a factor in the deadlock that developed at the meeting of the Organization of African Unity.

Nyerere said Ford wrote the African leaders that the United States would press for withdrawal of South African troops from Angola if the Africans would demand the withdrawal of Cuban troops and Soviet advisers.

Echoing the Nigerian government's previous criticism of the letter, Nyerere said it was "arrogant and uncalled for."

He added, "For us this Angola problem is a very simple matter. In some African countries, independence was achieved without fighting. In others it was necessary to fight... and we can only get arms from the Communists.... We are not fighting for communism in Africa. We are fighting for the liberation of our nations."

Mothers March Is Tonight

Mothers' March volunteers are declaring a revolutionary war on birth defects today when they come out in force for the annual March of Dimes campaign.

"Physical and mental birth defects strike more than 200,000 infants every year. Low birthweight, strongly associated with increased risk of brain damage and death, affects another 200,000 babies," said Rose Teems, executive secretary of the CapRock chapter of the March of Dimes.

She continued that America's infant death rate is higher than that of 17 other countries.

Daflene Leatherwood, Big Spring Mothers' March chairman, has headed efforts to marshal the more than 600 volunteers who will be at work today distributing information about birth defects and collecting contributions.

Regional chairmen working under Mrs. Leatherwood are Millie Moore, Kentwood; Ann Lane, Parkhill; Cathy Hopper, Washington; Betty Kloor, Boydston; June Rutledge, Lakeview; Carol Reeves, Marcy; Mrs. A. J. Pirkle, Moss; Barbara Hall, College Heights; and the following Big Spring High School groups: Key Club directed by Brad Carr, Bauer; Student Council directed by Paige Little, Cedar Crest; Future Homemakers of America, Airport.

Radio buffs of the 5-Watters Club once again will pick up contributions collected by walkers and deliver them to March of Dimes campaign headquarters tonight.

Representing all youngsters in the local area with birth defects is 4-year-old Jonathan Whitehead. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Whitehead of Lomax.

Though he was born with spina bifida, a defect of the lower spine which can cause paralysis, Jonathan is now mobile. Thanks to six major surgeries, he can maneuver himself about with leg braces and crutches.

Anyone not contacted by March of Dimes volunteers can mail his or her contribution to the MOD office, Room 504, Permian Building.

MAY RAIN

A marginal, 20 per cent, chance of light rain tonight. High today in the mid 50s. Low tonight, upper 20s. High Tuesday, upper 40s. Northerly to northeasterly wind 20-30 miles per hour and gusty this afternoon. Diminishing tonight.

Man Wasn't Hit, Insist Troopers

By JOHN EDWARDS

The Loraine man a Texas Highway Patrolman chased from near Stanton to Big Spring outskirts today claimed he was hit after he was handcuffed and lying on the ground.

Texas Highway Patrolmen deny this. "No, sir," Texas Highway Patrolman Wade Turner, Stanton, said. "That's not true."

"As far as I know, he was never hit after he got handcuffed," Highway Patrolman Bill Priest, Big Spring, said.

"I sure didn't hit him or see anybody hit him," after he was handcuffed, Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Jennings said. "There was a scuffle before we got handcuffs on him."

"I'm willing to take the lie detector test, because I'm not lying about it," Steven Warner Hurst, 25, Loraine, said. Hurst said he did not know who hit him after he was handcuffed.

Blood was caked on his forehead and had stained his torn shirt. "Why did he speed and fail to stop?" "I don't know," the tall man said. "I just put my foot on the floor."

After an almost 20-mile chase, Texas Highway Patrolmen forced a car driven by Hurst off IS 20 near the old drive-in theatre about midnight Sunday.

Highway Patrolman Wade Turner, Stanton, said radar showed the man speeding 83 miles per hour three miles west of Stanton.

Turner said he pursued the man at speeds up to 120 miles per hour to the outskirts of Big Spring where he and two other Highway Patrolmen in a car ran the fleeing car off the road. Highway Patrolman Bill Priest said he was driving the second patrol car with Bill Jennings working as his partner.

Bumping and scraping the car into the median caused minor damages to both patrol cars, the state troopers said.

A deputy sheriff took Hurst to city jail, state troopers said. Hurst was cited for speeding and fleeing from an officer.

Ron Mercer Named To Airlines Post

Louis Rosenbaum, the El Paso owner of Trans Regional Airlines, announced the appointment of Ronald E. (Ron) Mercer as chief executive officer of Trans Regional effective today.

Mercer is the former chief executive officer of Big Spring Industrial Growth and Development and the former executive vice president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. He left employment with the organizations Nov. 30, 1975.

"R. E. (Bob) McClure, who has spent countless dedicated hours with Trans Regional over the past several months as vice president, will remain as director of operations and chief pilot," Rosenbaum said.

In the announcement, Rosenbaum said the 19 years of education and experience Mercer has in transportation, business development, and organization management qualifies him for this position.

Mercer's main priority will be to build a profitable airline and "continue to develop current projects now under way for increased revenue to the company," Rosenbaum said in the announcement.

Rosenbaum, unsuccessfully tried to obtain a second fixed-base operator's lease at Howard County Airport. And he has filed a complaint with the Federal Aviation Administration. In it, Rosenbaum's attorney claimed Big Spring Aircraft Inc. was granted "exclusive rights."

RON MERCER

Needs Penetrating Look

It's time — past time, really — to get to the bottom of corporate contributions to politicians. We may not influence the entire waterfront, but we can address the problem in Texas.

It has now been revealed that Gulf Oil Corp. for more than a decade made secret cash payments to a variety of Texas officials — railroad commissioners, Supreme Court candidates, a governor, a candidate for attorney general. The revelations were made by a panel appointed by Gulf's own directors; the report they made is not a complete story. Some names are omitted, and of course the independent panel lacked subpoena powers and legal standing.

It seems illogical that there were no violations of the law involved in the Gulf payments. That means a cloud is once again over Texas government. It's too big to sweep under the rug.

The Texas secretary of state is charged with investigating supposed election law violations — such as illegal contributions. But the secretary of state is a gubernatorial appointee, and lacks the facilities and staff to do a thorough job in any case. What is called for is an extensive investigation and full public disclosure of the extent of corporate contributions (business or labor) — who gave them, who got them, and for how long. It's a job for the attorney general, or perhaps a special investigation and prosecution team. If legislation is needed to get the ball rolling, then it's a fit subject for a special session.

Public Disservice

Coin operated photocopying machines disappeared from Post Offices across the country Jan. 1. Local postal officials said the machines here received considerable use, particularly at night and on weekends. But it was a Postal Service decision to remove the more than 2,000 machines.

The removal appears to be a response to lobbying by a trade group representing office equipment firms which didn't like the competition.

The machines provided a consumer service and netted the Postal Service a profit of nearly a million dollars last year.

The two House subcommittees which requested the removal should reconsider the decision.

Dogs A Worry?

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Not that it matters, but — The United States has done everything it can, short of making smoking illegal, to ban the sale of cigarettes.

IT CAN be considered ironic then that a pack of top American cigarettes is worth considerably more than an American dollar in many parts of the world.

American companies haven't lost their know-how, fortunately. Unfortunately, they may come to adopt a "what for" attitude.

Most women are convinced that if they dressed to please their husbands, they'd be wearing last year's clothes.

Americans ignore their feet far more than they do their teeth. In either instance, it's a tragedy.

Upwards to 70 per cent of the people in this country have foot problems bad enough to cause them pain or disability.

Athletes order special shoes with holes cut out where bunions have grown. Businessmen have slippers squirreled away at their office and slip into them to ease their torture. Housewives shuck their shoes at home and walk around barefooted — the very thought of footwear makes them groan with memories of aching tootsies.

Millions of dollars a year are lost to business and industry because foot-sore employees miss work, and others who report for toll turn their worst faces to customers because their corns are giving them fits.

Only an estimated three per cent of those who need professional foot care seek it out.

THE AMERICAN Podiatry Association, members of which worry about your dogs, suggest that, in order to improve your foot care and get more mileage out of your pedal extremities, you should (1) stop cutting corns, (2) quit using acids or other chemicals to burn out calluses or corns, (3) abandon the idea that corrective shoes will make corrected feet; (4) stick to sensible shoes and (5) keep the feet clean and dry.

And raise your son to be a foot doctor. Only four schools in the country specialize in such training and graduates are very much in demand.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Please help me. Do we have to confess our sins after we have become Christians? If so, what is the purpose of confessing our sins? —L.M.

DEAR L.M.: One of the greatest truths of the Gospel is that God forgives us of all of our sins when we come to Christ. "It is through Him, at the cost of His own blood, that we are redeemed, freely forgiven through that full and generous grace that has overflowed into our lives and opened our eyes to the truth" (Ephesians 1:7 and 8, Phillips). As a result of what Christ has done for us, we become the children of God.

At the same time, the Bible also recognizes that sin still dwells within the believer. When we sin, our fellowship with God is broken. The only way to restore this fellowship is through confession and repentance of our sins. "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:8 and 9). We are still children of God when we sin, but our fellowship with God is broken.

It is similar to what may happen in a family. A child may get very angry with his parents, and their fellowship is broken. That does not, however, change the relationship; the child is still a member of that family. However, it is only when confession and forgiveness take place that full fellowship is restored. How wonderful it is to know that God loves us and forgives us when we confess our sins to Him.

Aid And Rights

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — What began as a routine congressional hearing into the humdrum question of human rights violations in Indonesia suddenly erupted into an angry backlash when testimony of the key witness, a former British Communist lobbyist against American aid for Jakarta, infuriated two House members.

THE IMMEDIATE and completely unplanned effect of the hearing was to shore up the Ford administration's case for increasing aid to anti-Communist Indonesia, despite new efforts to block U. S. arms for countries charged with a "consistent pattern" of gross violation of human rights.

Thus, the Dec. 18 hearing, unreported until now, ended in a surprising defeat for those in Congress using the human rights issue as another weapon to whittle down the administration's freedom to conduct foreign policy, and to expand congressional power.

THE PURPOSE of the hearing held by Democratic Rep. Donald Fraser of Minnesota, chairman of the House International Relations subcommittee, was to spread on the public record a vivid description of what has long been known about Indonesia and many other developing and developed countries: that human rights have been and are being systematically eroded and violated.

Partly due to Fraser's efforts, Congress easily adopted an amendment to the foreign aid bill last year "recommending" that President Ford take account of the Human rights balance sheet in parceling out U. S. aid.

UPSET THAT THE President, despite that recommendation, is now asking quadrupled arms aid for Indonesia — an obvious result of the American debacle in Vietnam and new Communist pressures in what remains of non-Communist Asia — Fraser started the Dec. 18 hearing by complaining that "these figures (for new aid) suggest that human rights did not have much impact, if any, in the decision-making process."

He then introduced Mrs. Carmel Budiardjo, a British citizen and former member of the British Communist party. She said her husband, an Indonesian Communist in the regime of former President Sukarno, has been in jail almost the full 10 years since the Communist party in Indonesia (PKI) attempted its coup d'etat in September 1965. The coup was drowned in a blood-bath.

MRS. BUDIARDJO was not shy in instructing the U. S. Congress how to treat Indonesia today. "I believe that a clear case exists," she told the subcommittee, "for regarding Indonesia as a country that is grossly and persistently violating human rights. No aid should be allowed to flow until these violations end."

"I do believe that adherents of a government and a foreign Communist party that terrorized their own people and vilified the United States have their guts to appear before this body as defenders of human rights and as accusers of anyone."

State Of Union Encouraging

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — We may never be sure whether it was by design or by accident, but the President's State of the Union Message coincides with a spate of encouraging news about the economy.

Over the past few months, conditions have been gradually improving, and the public is aware of it. Strong retail sales in December were to a great extent an expression of returning confidence.

Wholesale prices actually fell in December. The prime interest rate is falling. It is now under 7 per cent and headed downward. The rate of inflation has tended to slow. More people are at work in recent weeks.

Economists are inclined to say that this is just how things were planned. Government economists especially will be inclined to take credit, claiming this was their script for the past year or more.

And, indeed, it is true that if you look back at the forecasts made a year ago you will see that many of them were right on the mark. Then you may recall, however, how lamentably inaccurate was their record in prior years. It remains a question, therefore, whether the President can convince the people that the economy is responding solely to the perception and shrewd guidance of the Ford administration.

Regardless, Ford certainly can enjoy the results. The economic condition is better than it was six months ago, and it does show some signs of further improvement. Things are breaking for the President.

The real test still is ahead, however, and that is to keep the recovery on track. Strong as those economic signals might seem, there are weaknesses present, there are obstacles on the track.

One of these weaknesses is unemployment, and that can cost Ford many votes. Even under the best of conditions foreseen, few economists expect the jobless rate to get under 7.5 per cent for 1976.

This also could be a poor year for labor-management relations. A panel of labor authorities assembled by the Conference Board, a non-profit research organization, foresees an increased number of strikes this year.

The inflation rate still is a danger. The Commerce Department expects prices to rise by about 6.5 per cent in 1976, compared with 7 per cent last year, and that is a rate not easily accepted by most people.

If we went through the worst decline in demand for products in many years and still didn't manage to overcome inflation, what will prices be like when demand increases, as we expect it to? Flashing red light!

One of the biggest tests for the President, economically and politically, is expected to come in May. The President believes an additional $10-billion tax cut and a $395-billion budget is needed to keep the economy on track.

Many members of Congress, which is now required to adopt its own budget resolution, including spending and deficit targets, disagree. They want a bigger budget; a bigger battle could ensue that could have direct bearing on election results.

Meanwhile, the President can bask in some of the most encouraging economic news we've seen in a long time.

Gives Up After Surgery

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you please comment about proper exercise after a major illness?

My husband was sick for over nine months this past year with fluid on his lungs. He has recovered and his doctor says his heart is good and his lungs clear.

But he remains weak. He does nothing but sit in his chair or go to bed, because he says he is weak and it tires him to even walk. I try to tell him that not having exercised his muscles for months, except to go to the bathroom or the kitchen, has caused his muscles to become weak.

Can you advise me? — Mrs. L. L. M.

The lung situation could have caused his weakness for a few weeks after his hospitalization, but with his new, clean bill from his doctor he should be up and about a bit.

You are absolutely correct about the disuse of muscles creating a kind of vicious circle effect. He doesn't use them. Then when he tries, they are weak, and he feels he is still ill.

He should exercise. He can begin by taking brief walks that don't entail going up hills or stairs. A few bending exercises will tone up his back muscles. A few arm-stretching exercises will improve his chest muscles. These are important sets of muscles in giving us the feeling of over-all good health.

There is probably a strong psychological factor in his reluctance to "get with it" again. There might be fear of a relapse or, as is often the case, a desire, conscious or otherwise, to prolong his infirmity.

Perhaps at his next checkup his doctor can order him to get some exercise, and this might have more effect than your urging it. In his condition, he probably interprets your suggestions as nagging.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had what I have been told is anicteric hepatitis. I've had it for 14 months, but have never been severely ill from it, except for a mild flu-like, uncomfortable feeling. My doctor feels it is not a chronic condition.

I cannot believe there is nothing to be done. I'm not even convinced this is hepatitis. I am 21, and have become a social outcast because of this. — Ms. T. G.

Anticteric hepatitis is a mild form of the disease "anicteric" means "without jaundice." The absence of jaundice can make this difficult to diagnose, and a carrier may have it without knowing about it, posing problems in epidemics.

There is no specific treatment, but after 14 months you should be well over it, a fact that follow-up liver function tests would verify. A biopsy would give additional information about your present status. Like other forms of hepatitis, this subsides with time.

The anicteric form occurs chiefly in young persons.

To learn of the many factors involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia (which concerns the esophagus), write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (13 cents now) envelope and 25 cents.

Bicentennial Ballot

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Would you invest nine cents in America, the price of a postal card, to show you care about your country?

THE CYNICS ARE saying that democracy is failing. They point to the refusal by great numbers to participate in the democratic processes. This is evidence, claim the cynics, that the processes don't work anymore.

In the 1974 elections, only 38 per cent of the electorate voted. Current polls show that confidence in political parties and public institutions is at an all-time low.

So the cynics conclude that Americans have lost faith in their system, that the United States is on the decline. As evidence of this, the cynics predict that the bicentennial will be a dud.

WE DON'T believe it. During the past year, we have called for one of those small participations in our 200th birthday celebration; we have invited the people to help select the official bicentennial motto.

Astonishingly, more than a million slogans have flooded in from people across the country. These have been screened by the General Federation of Women's clubs, National Jaycees and American Legion. The 55 state and territorial bicentennial chairpersons have now narrowed down the best slogans to six finalists.

BUT THE FINAL choice, we thought, should be made by the American people. As a small gesture of your faith in American, we invite you to vote for the slogan you want for the bicentennial. Write down your choice and mail it to: SLOGANS, USA, Box 1976, Washington, D. C.

Here are the six finalists (voting continues to midnight Feb. 16.)

1. America is your past; you are her future.
2. America — the possible dream.
3. Honor the past; challenge the future.
4. Take Pride in America's past; take part in America's future.
5. Stand fast, stand tall, stand American.
6. Freedom's way — USA.

THE SURVIVAL of democracy, we believe, depends on public participation. We complain that there are no real leaders. But the government official who is elected by only a majority of a minority becomes inevitably overtaken by the reality that he has no mandate to do anything; indeed, he has no real idea of what the people want done.

In a democracy, if there is no popular following, there can be no bold leaders — only wheelers and dealers engaged in backroom manipulations that are often against the public interest. For rest assured, the special interest lobbyists will not desert their posts just because the people do.

WHETHER DEMOCRACY is really in trouble rests upon the distinction between two words. Is the national mood one of skepticism or cynicism? Skepticism is the doubt which takes the form of questioning, probing, testing. As such, it is the essential ingredient of free government. Cynicism is the doubt that sneers and derides and says that only selfishness motivates politics.

The difference between skepticism and cynicism is the difference between "show me" and "don't bother me," between periodic regeneration inspired by popular demand or irreversible decline into the apathy which ensures that every measure will fail and which in the end begets a Caesar.

THE AMERICAN democracy is today teetering toward cynicism, thereby inviting fulfillment of Abraham Lincoln's prophecy that America, though it could not be conquered by a foreign foe, could fall through internal demoralization; that America would either live forever or die a suicide.

There are many outward signs that our democracy is seriously endangered by the one eternal threat that can bring it down — the refusal of the people to participate.

Candidates sense the public antipathy toward government. They are running under the banner that they are not politicians or that they have no past association with the office for which they run. This reflects a presumed general sentiment that party regulars and incumbent office holders are, ipso facto, tainted by failure, falsehood and malfeasance. This is a dangerous game.

But we believe that the national mood of discontent, as in times past, will resolve itself on the side of hope, participation and reform — an outcome justified by a national history of unparalleled achievement. The battle must not be lost, however, by default.

Book Says Ray Plotted King's Death

NEW YORK (AP) — James Earl Ray plotted for a year to kill Martin Luther King Jr. and believed that King's death would help Alabama Gov. George Wallace, according to a book to be published this fall.

The book was written by George McMillan, who said he talked to members of Ray's family and to inmates who knew Ray when he was at the Missouri State Prison.

McMillan, a free-lance writer, said Monday that his book quotes members of Ray's relatives as discounting Ray's story that he was set up by a man called "Raoul," whom he met in Montreal.

Ray, who is serving a life sentence after pleading guilty to King's assassination, has been trying to win a new trial.

McMillan said Jerry Ray dismissed his brother James' story about meeting "Raoul" in Canada. He said "Jimmie" only went to Canada "to look the place over, to see how to get out of the country."

However, Time magazine said this week that one of its reporters later interviewed Jerry Ray and that he insisted that "Raoul" was behind everything and "set up" his brother.

Time also said McMillan paid Ray's brothers, a sister and his mother a total of $3,850 for information.

McMillan said Monday that "actually, it was nearly $5,000, but you have to realize that this was in nickels and dimes over seven years. For instance, I would talk to Jerry Ray and give him $200 sometimes." He said he talked to Jerry Ray more than 100 times.

McMillan said he also spoke with inmates at the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City. James Earl Ray escaped from that prison in April 1967, one year before King was shot to death in Memphis.

One inmate who was at the prison when James Earl Ray was there said there had been talk around the prison that some Mississippi businessmen would pay to have King killed, McMillan said. But the author said that did not necessarily mean that Ray heard the same rumor.

McMillan said an inmate told him that when Ray saw King on television, he would be galvanized by the sight and say "somebody's got to get him."

Weanling Filly Given To Youth Horsemen

The Youth Horsemen Club decided if one is going to give a prize to its group, it should be a horse.

A weanling filly has been donated to the club as a project on the correct feeding of horses. The project is being sponsored by the Ralston-Purina Company. The filly is being kept at Jay's Farm and Ranch Service Center where she will be fed and groomed for 90 days and then be given away as a prize.

Donations will be $1 or more and can be purchased from any Youth Horsemen Club member as soon as a date has been set for the awarding of the horse.

The date is dependent on the dates to be set for the club's annual Little Britches Rodeo.

In other business, the club appointed a new senior secretary after the present secretary had to resign. Joann Guitier and Jan Moser will be recommended to the board of directors, who make the final selection.

Club member, Kyrenea Hull volunteered to purchase halters for the club. They will be distributed at each monthly meeting. Miss Hull and Missy Lundie will serve as the telephone committee.

A report was presented on the West Texas Barrel Racing Association play day sponsored by the Youth Horsemen last month. They plan a second or in the near future.

Buford Hull read a schedule of district play days with the first Feb. 7 at Sweetwater beginning at 12 noon.

Closed play days will be held March 6 at Howard County arena; April 10 at Snyder Sundowners arena; May 1 and 19 at arenas to be announced.

The first parade in which the group will participate this year will be March 12 in San Angelo. Rita Hull will serve as this year's parade marshal.

Fired Tires Casts Pall Over Tulsa

TULSA (AP)—About 1,000 used tires, a small storage building and two storage trailers belonging to a trucking firm were destroyed by a spectacular two-alarm fire Sunday.

Black smoke hung over northside Tulsa, competing with the Super Bowl television game as drivers turned into fire-engine chasers, jamming traffic and hampering firefighters' efforts.

Roy Davey, director of road operations for the trucking firm, said the loss alone from the tires was about $54,000.

Winds gusting up to 31 miles per hour prompted firemen to request assistance for a second alarm.

At least one non-injury accident involved sightseers. Several city streets were blocked by lines of traffic. Backup fire engines responding to the second alarm were stalled for several minutes behind cars of onlookers.

There were no injuries. District Fire Chief Vernon Charlton said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

BS People Gain Cups

Four local persons shared in the awards distributed during the sixth annual All Breed Show & Obedience Trial staged under the auspices of the Big Spring Kennel Club at Webb AFB Saturday.

A record 1,063 dogs were exhibited during the show and club officials, headed by Mrs. Hattie Belle Boland, president, expressed gratitude to Webb for providing the facility in which the event was staged.

"This is far and away the best physically arranged show we've had," Bruce Wright of the club said, "and we attributed that to the facility we were permitted to use."

Among local winners were: Jerry Yarbrough, winner's bitch in pugs, Lazy Y's Little Joy of Bomber.

John Yarbrough, showing the same dog in junior showmanship competition, won the novice junior class.

Dr. Henry C. Willbern and wife, Billy, Doberman Pincher, Herry Luxemburg Willbern, in obedience competition, qualified and won the first leg toward an obedience degree of companion dog. A dog must achieve three wins before it can be awarded a degree.

Nixon — Incredible Tension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower says "there was incredible tension" in the White House during the closing months of her father's presidency.

She said her father resigned because "at the end he saw the futility of putting the country through the six to six to eight months" it would have taken for the impeachment process.

"The cost would have been enormous," her husband, David Eisenhower, added in an appearance by the couple on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation."

Mrs. Eisenhower said her father was under considerable tension, but she termed as "fabrications" reports that the former president was mentally unstable during his last months in office.

Father Was Better Governor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former California Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown says his son, Jerry, the present governor, is doing "an excellent job." But the former governor adds that he thinks he was a better governor.

The elder Brown, who was elected governor in 1958 and served two terms ending in 1966, said he would like to see his son seek the Democratic nomination for president by entering the California primary as a favorite son.

Nancy Smokes Too Much

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 22 months of marriage, Henry Kissinger says he wouldn't change anything about his wife, Nancy — except maybe her smoking.

"Our marriage has made my job more bearable and my life happier," the secretary of state was quoted in McCall's magazine.

Kissinger, who was married once before, called his wife "a marvelous balance wheel... I don't know if I could take the constant pressure without her."

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton

Scare Unites Liz, Burton

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor says she and Richard Burton decided to remarry after a night-long cancer scare.

The couple was reconciled in September and remarried Oct. 10 in South Africa.

Miss Taylor said she had X rays taken for a possible broken rib that turned up spots on her lung which she believed cancerous.

She said she and Burton spent the night "holding each other with a kind of awe" before they found out the next morning that the spots were not cancer.

Writing in the current issue of Ladies Home Journal, the actress said the evening led the couple to remarry.

Before the couple remarried, she said, Burton made her an old-fashioned proposal — on bended knee — in Johannesburg.

Jury Resumes In Bodde Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — A jury was to resume deliberations today on punishment for Lee Bodde, 29, convicted of the robbery-slaying of Bernice Hartsfield.

The jury deliberated Saturday but could not reach a verdict and retired for the weekend.

The jury in State District Judge Dan Walton's court convicted Bodde Friday of murder in the death of Mrs. Hartsfield, 80, his landlady. Her body was found in her house Jan. 4, 1975.

Steel Curtain Puts Crimp In Shotgun

Cowboys Go Down Fighting

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — They sawed off the shotgun. They outmuscled the flex. They did everything that it takes to make for good, basic, dull football — and it was anything but dull.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, for the second straight year the greatest team in professional football, dealt the wild-card Cowboys of Dallas a fistful of fundamentals Sunday and came away with a 21-17 victory in what was easily the most thrilling Super Bowl game yet played.

And having carved an X on the bad rap these National Football League extravaganzas have carried since their inception, the Steelers immediately began thinking about carving a special niche of their own in the record books by winning a third title in a row.

The Cowboys, with quarterback Roger Staubach passing out of a deep-set shotgun offense and a "flex" defense designed to consternate Pittsburgh, had added a few new wrinkles to play, a 29-yard touchdown pass from Roger Staubach to a shockingly wide-open Drew Pearson, Dallas bashed a gaping hole in the aura of Pittsburgh's Steel Curtain invincibility, becoming the first team all season to score a first-quarter touchdown against the Steelers.

Was this, then, to be the first tolling of the bell that would ring down that curtain?

It took Pittsburgh less than 4½ minutes to dispel those fears, tying the game on a touchdown pass from Terry Bradshaw to an equally wide-open Randy Grossman.

From then until the fourth minute of the fourth period, "I'm a big deal today — but tomorrow we start working for Super Bowl XI." — Reggie Harrison

It was a war of attrition, a series of missed opportunities. Toni Fritsch kicked a 36-yard field goal 15 seconds into the second period, putting Dallas on top again 10-7. He might have had a shot at another three-pointer later in the period if Pittsburgh's defense hadn't flexed its own muscles, turning a second-and-10 situation on the Pittsburgh 23 into a fourth-and-35 by creaming Staubach on successive pass attempts.

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh was blowing some chances of its own, but doing it more blatantly, compliments of place-kicker Roy Gerela's inaccurate right foot. He lined a 36-yard try of his own to the left of the luminous yellow-green uprights in the final minute of the second period, then repeated his act of futility about a third of the way into the third quarter by hooking a 33-yarder.

He had a pretty good excuse, though, for his lack of marksmanship. It seems he was nursing a broken rib. He busted it on the first play of the game by knocking Dallas' Tom Henderson out of bounds, preventing the razzle-dazzle reverse runback from the Super Bowl's first kickoff returned for a touchdown.

So into the fourth quarter these two teams went, the Steelers pounding away at Dallas and coming up empty; the Cowboys cracking away at Pittsburgh and holding, ever so tenuously, their three-point lead.

Something had to give. Something did. It was, of all things, the Cowboys' punting unit. And what had been an intense, fierce, frustrating game of near-misses became a roller-coaster of scoring, changing the numbers on the scoreboard almost as quickly as the numbers on the big board in the stock exchange.

Harrison, a 1974 mid-season acquisition by Pittsburgh after the St. Louis Cardinals cut him adrift, came through the line like a locomotive at full throttle and met the football face first, an instant after punter Mitch Hoopes' foot hit the ball.

"I think I got it with my mouth," he said later, impishly displaying a tongue with a gash up the middle. "I thought I had it with my arm, but after the block I turned around and spat and got nothing but blood, so I guess I took it in the face."

It seemed impossible to some that Harrison wouldn't know where he'd been hit. It was even more incredible that he didn't know how much impact his play had. In fact, it wasn't until he was in the locker room that he

"I don't think it was so important. Heck, there were some really big plays." — Reggie Harrison found out he'd drawn Pittsburgh within one point of a tie.

He didn't think much about the block itself, either. Both coaches — Chuck Noll of Pittsburgh and Tom Landry of Dallas — and plenty of players on both sides said it was the turning point, the instant the Steelers began smelling blood.

But Harrison brushed it off.

"I don't think it was so important. Heck, there were some really big plays," he said, referring to a Mike Wagner interception that helped the Steelers pad their lead and a 64-yard Lynn Swann touchdown catch that put the game away.

"Those were the big ones. Mine was just lucky. I'd never take credit for winning the game, for doing something as big as that."

THE STAUBACH SCRAMBLE — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach scrambles to try to get away from Pittsburgh Steelers Dwight White (78).

in front of wide receiver Drew Pearson, grabbed the pass as though it had been meant for him all the time and streaked 19 yards to the Dallas seven. Only a Harris fumble — and his own recovery — at the oneyard line a few plays later forced Gerela to kick a field goal instead of an extra point.

He got that extra-point chance about 3½ minutes later, with barely three minutes to play.

The Cowboys went nowhere and punted, then the Steelers went for the winner. Swann had already made two dazzling catches despite cornerback Mark Washington's coverage. He'd made a leaping, fingertip, 32-yard grab in the first period to set up Grossman's TD reception, then had made an even more mind-boggling, mid-air, juggling catch that went for 53 yards — and went for nothing when Gerela missed his second-quarter field goal.

This time Swann beat Washington flat out. He flew down the right side and gained a step on the Dallas defender. Bradshaw, unloading as though he had the aid of a bombsight, laid the ball right into Swann's arms at the five-yard line and, when Washington lunged and missed Swann's feet, the skinny wide receiver was home free.

Then Harris laid out Terry ... Terry No. 1, that is. The Steelers have two of them. After Dallas cut the lead to 21-17 with 1:58 to go on Staubach's 34-yard touchdown pass to Percy Howard, Terry Hanratty came on to quarterback Pittsburgh. Starting from the Dallas 42 after the Cowboys' onside kick failed, three plays netted one yard. Then, incredibly, a fourth play gained two more and Pittsburgh had to give up the ball right there instead of burying the Cowboys with a Walden punt.

With 1:22 to work with,

Staubach got the Cowboys from their own 39 to the Pittsburgh 38. Now there were 20 seconds to go and counting. An incompletion stopped the clock at 12. Another stopped it at three. And on a wing-and-a-prayer pass into the log-jammed end zone, safety Glen Edwards got to the ball for an interception and Pittsburgh got the game for the title.

WINNING CATCH — Pittsburgh Steelers wide receiver Lynn Swann goes up to take in a pass from Terry Bradshaw on a 64-yard touchdown play in the fourth quarter of the Super Bowl game with Dallas Cowboys in Miami Sunday. Cowboy defender is Mark Washington (46).

Evert Upset By Czech In Finale

HOUSTON (AP) — Martina Navratilova, who defected to this country from Czechoslovakia, has reached another milestone in her Americanization—she beat American institution Chris Evert in Sunday's finals of the $75,000 Women's Pro Tennis Tournament.

Prior to her 6-3, 6-4 victory Miss Navratilova, who drives an expensive car and lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., cheered Dallas in the Super Bowl and downed a foot-long hot dog shortly before taking the court against Miss Evert, the defending champion.

The animated Miss Navratilova delighted the crowd with her gestures and facial expressions, growled at linesmen after several questionable calls and made her victory look almost easy.

Miss Evert, who put America's name in the winner's circle all over the world last year with 14 tournament victories, was off form for the match, but Miss Navratilova figures she had something to do with that.

"She beat me so easily last week (in World Series of Tennis at Austin, Tex.) but I played much better this time," Miss Navratilova said. "She didn't play as well tonight but I feel I her play worse by my own play."

Miss Navratilova, who captured $15,000, flared briefly when she lost her serve in the third game of the first set but from that point she took control of the match, breaking Miss Evert in the fourth and sixth games.

The Czech then broke and held to end the match, marking the first time since the 1975 Wimbledon tournament that Miss Evert didn't make it to the winner's circle.

"It was a mental problem," Miss Evert said. "She played well. But I still believe I'm a better player than Martina."

"I'm going to lose some matches but I think it will make me more humble. I really want to win the next tournament now."

STAUBACH SACKED — Roger Staubach is about to be sacked by Steelers' Steve Furness (64).

"We're No. 1 two times in a row ... now it'll be nice to try for No. 3..." — Franco Harris as uneven as a manic-depressive, first raising the Cowboys' hopes, then dashing them, then doing the same to the Steelers' emotions.

The tempo crashed back and forth, bouncing as crazily as the football that careened into and out of the Dallas end zone after Harrison had collided with it in mid-air, jawbone to pigskin.

It was the Cowboys who got on the scoreboard first. They stamped into Pittsburgh punter Bobby Walden as he juggled the ball. In one

'They Had Us' Says Hondo, But Celts Win

"They had us dead to rights," said Boston Celtics' forward John Havlicek.

But it was the Celtics who finished on top, running off the last 12 points in the game to edge the Milwaukee Bucks 97-94 in a National Basketball Association game Sunday night.

"Our strategy in the last minutes simply was to pressure the ball," Havlicek said. "That's all we could do. Anytime you steal one like we did tonight, it's great."

In the only other NBA game Sunday, Phoenix defeated Detroit 122-118.

Only two American Basketball Association games were on tap, with New York outlasting San Antonio 134-130 in overtime and Kentucky edging Denver 119-117.

Sparked by Jim Price's 26 points, Milwaukee moved out to a 94-85 lead with 3:35 remaining to play. But JoJo

With Gerela's track record, it seemed certain Noll would opt for a shot at a first down. He didn't. He gave Gerela a chance to redeem himself. Gerela did with perfect 36-yard field goal that put the Steelers ahead for the first time.

Barely two minutes later, Gerela made another three points, inching the Steelers' lead out to 15-10 with a chip-shot 18-yarder. After the 36-yard kick, Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach, whose success with the shotgun had been minimal, went to the air immediately — and Wagner went for the jugular.

The Feeling Of A Big Victory

The feeling that comes with a big victory was one Norm Sloan got to know well the past three years, but it was one the North Carolina State coach hadn't experienced lately.

"I'd forgotten what ecstasy is like — and believe me, this is sheer ecstasy," Sloan said after his Wolfpack stunned seventh-ranked North Carolina 68-67 Sunday on a free throw by sophomore guard Al Green after time had run out.

With David Thompson and Tom Burleson leading the way, Sloan's teams compiled records of 27-0, 30-1 and 22-6 the past three years. But with those two gone to the pros, this was to be a rebuilding year.

Apparently the Pack has rebuilt in a hurry. "We've agonized and struggled all season," said Sloan, whose team is 12-2 and ranked 13th nationally, so it couldn't have been such agony. "We're young, but we're going to get better. This is a big win for us."

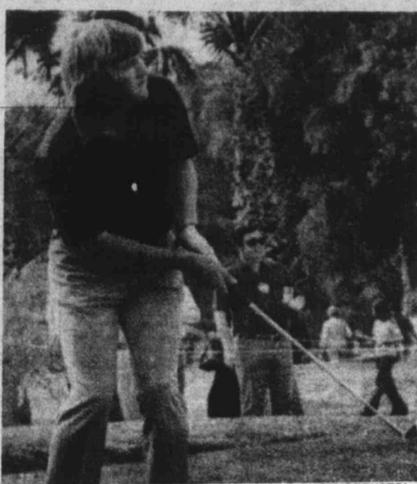

Making it even bigger was the fact it took place in Chapel Hill, on North Carolina's home court. And winning away from home in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference is a difficult task.

Green scored only three points. The big one came after he was fouled at the buzzer by John Kuester in a rush downcourt after a North Carolina pass had been picked off by Dirk Ewing.

N.C. State wiped out a 10-point deficit in the nationally televised battle with a 12-2 burst midway through the second half. With the score tied at 67-67, Ewing missed a free throw with 1:11 left, got his own rebound but Green was called for traveling with 20 seconds remaining. Ewing then intercepted a pass by Phil Ford near the Tuer Heel baseline and set up Green, who was fouled by Kuester.

Kenny Carr's 29 points and 16 rebounds topped State, 2-1 in the ACC. Ford had 23 points for North Carolina, 12-2 overall and 4-1 in the ACC.

The ACC showdown was Sunday's only major college game.

A BIG PUTT — Rookie Bob Gilder putts on the fifth hole during Sunday's final round of the $200,000 Phoenix Open. Gilder shot a 67 Sunday for a 16-under-par 268 to win the event.

ROOKIE WINS PHOENIX OPEN

'I Knew... I Had It'

By BOB GREEN

PHOENIX (AP) — There wasn't much about Bob Gilder's golf game that would impress you: His only amateur credentials consisted of a three-year-old Western Athletic Conference title.

He had to make four tries before he was able to gain his card as an approved player on the pro golf tour. He was making only his second start on the American circuit. He'd never been under pressure, or before the television cameras.

And in this tournament, Gilder and the field faced the challenge of Johnny Miller, seeking an unprecedented sweep of the tour-opening Tucson and Phoenix tournaments for the third consecutive year.

It didn't seem to bother Gilder a bit. "I knew I had the game," he said after his victory in the $200,000 Phoenix Open. "It was just a matter of getting in position to show that I had it."

"This kid is some kind of player. He can really play the game. Some kind of dude," said Lee Trevino, who, like Gilder, was once an unknown and who also burst into the spotlight rather spectacularly. Gilder, 25, shot a final round 67, four under par, and finished the 72 holes over the 6,726-yard Phoenix Country Club course with a 268 total, 16 under par.

Roger Maltbie, the 1975 Rookie of the Year and the leader through the first three rounds, slipped to a 70 and was two strokes back in second at 270.

Trevino, who got to within a single shot of the lead late in the warm, sunny day, blew himself out of it with three consecutive bogeys starting on the 12th hole. He faded to a 71 and a tie for third at 273 with Rod Curl, Jim Simons and Bruce Lietzke. Curl had a 65, Lietzke 67 and Simons a 69.

Miller, who had won five consecutive Arizona tournaments including last week's Tucson Open, finally saw his string end, he tied for seventh at 274, six shots back. Miller had a last round 66, but it was too little after he shot a 73 on Saturday's third round.

"I'm not too disappointed," Miller said. "It had to end sometime. I just couldn't get myself motivated. In a way, I'm almost relieved that it's over."

Gilder was even more relieved. "When I came out on the tour, everybody told me to get out of that Monday qualifying as fast as I could," he said. "I guess that's about as quick as you can do it."

He now has a two-year exemption. He's exempt for the rest of this year with his victory and the $40,000 first place check — the first check he's received — makes him a cinch to gain the year's top 60 money winners and thus be exempt throughout 1977.

"That's the first thing I thought of," Gilder said.

Super Swann Song

THE WINNING COACH — Pittsburgh Steelers coach Chuck Noll.

MIAMI (AP) — "It was the greatest game I ever played."

Thus, Lynn Swann summed up his hero's role in Pittsburgh's Super Bowl victory over Dallas. He might have added it was also his most courageous performance.

Swann, who caught a 64-yard touchdown pass that sealed the Steelers' victory, played his greatest game under a threat of possible permanent brain injury.

The wide receiver had his playing career placed in doubt two weeks ago when he suffered a concussion in Pittsburgh's final playoff game against the Oakland Raiders. It left his brain blood vessels damaged.

Doctors warned that a hard hit on the head could cause further brain damage, possibly leaving him crippled — or worse.

Swann's answer: "To hell with it."

He took the field against the Cowboys and played his heart out — totaling 161 yards on four receptions and winning Most Valuable Player honors, a new car and a diamond ring. His first two catches were spectacular, and his touchdown grab was certainly out of the ordinary class.

"It's like being thrown by a horse — you've got to get up and ride again immediately or you may be scared the rest of your life," Swann said of his injury, adding: "Once I had made up my mind, I couldn't think about that (further injury)."

"I read that stuff (Dallas safety) Cliff Harris said all week, trying to intimidate me. He said because I had a concussion, I would be afraid out there."

"I said to myself 'To hell with it, I am going to go out with it.'" there and play 100 per cent. That's what I did. I said to myself, 'If he thinks he can intimidate me or intimidate the Steelers, he's got another think coming.'"

If the Steelers weren't intimidated, neither were the Cowboys in their bid to unseat the defending champions.

Dallas, which had never trailed, led 10-7 when momentum suddenly shifted. The turning point came when Mitch Hoopes' punt was blocked by the Steelers' Reggie Harrison for a safety early in the fourth quarter.

Field goals of 36 and 18 yards by Roy Gerela followed, and Swann's 64-yard catch against cornerback Mark Washington boosted Pittsburgh into a 21-10 lead with 3:02 to play.

"It was the first time we lined up in a 10-man rush," said Harrison. "I lined up on the outside shoulder of the center and stepped in front of the up-back. I heard the ball, but by the time I spotted the ball, it was already out of the end zone."

Harrison not only didn't see what he'd done in blocking the punt, he didn't feel it. As he came off the field, he spat. Only then, when blood gushed from his mouth, did he realize he'd split his tongue.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, knocked out when he released the winning pass to Swann, said, "I didn't know it was a touchdown until I came into the locker room. I didn't see the catch."

'That Play' Beat Cowboys, Landry

MIAMI (AP) — "That play changed the whole thing," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "It changed the momentum."

"That play really hurt us," said wide receiver Drew Pearson.

"That play" was Reggie Harrison's block of a Dallas punt. The ball bounced wildly through the end zone, giving the Pittsburgh Steelers a safety, two points, good field position and the spark that erupted into a 21-17 Super Bowl victory over the Cowboys.

The Steelers, down 10-7 with 3:32 gone in the fourth quarter, lined up in a 10-man rush and poured through the Cowboys line, going for punter Mitch Hoopes. Harrison, a reserve running back, had a clean shot at the ball.

"Until then, we had it well under control," said Landry, whose Cowboys were the first wild-card playoff entry to survive until the finals. "It cost us five points and that was the difference."

After the Cowboys free-kicked from their 20, Pittsburgh climaxed a seven-play, 45-yard drive with a 36-yard Roy Gerela field goal.

The Cowboys promptly gave the ball to Pittsburgh when quarterback Roger Staubach drilled a pass right to Steelers safety Mike Wagner. The defending champions wasted no time capitalizing on the interception, collecting another three points on Gerela's 18-yard field goal for a 15-10 lead.

"When I looked down the middle, it was open," said Staubach, who was trying for Pearson. "But Wagner came up and made the play. "The blocked punt and the interception by Wagner did it to us," he said. "They made the really big plays when they had to."

Pittsburgh dented the Cowboys' well-publicized "flex" running defense 46 times, collecting 149 yards. Bradshaw completed nine of 19 passes for 209 yards and two touchdowns.

"I'm disappointed we didn't contain their run as well as we expected," said middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, who may retire after 13 years. "We let them have five or six yards on first down too often."

Staubach, who completed 14 of 24 passes for 204 yards and two touchdowns but who

Aggies Win With 'Two-On-Two'

By The Associated Press

The defending champion Texas Aggies are making signs they may be better than anyone suspected in the Southwest Conference and they are doing it with two-on-two basketball.

When the Aggies got into trouble Saturday in Lubbock, Coach Shelby Metcalf, who has four freshmen playing regularly, called time out and said "Let's get the ball to Barry and Sonny P."

"Barry" is Barry Davis, and "Sonny P" is Sonny Parker. Both are seniors and deadly shooters. Instead of a playground brand of game the Aggies settled down and dusted off preseason favorite Texas Tech 64-62 with Parker scoring 20 points and Davis 24.

"Sonny and Barry were fantastic ... you were just watching two-on-two basketball out there," said Metcalf.

The Aggies also played well defensively, stopping high-scoring Rick Bullock in the second half. Metcalf had said at halftime "I don't know whether we can stop Bullock even if we pull the hair on his legs."

But Davis played a strong defensive game and Bullock only scored eight of his 31 points in the second half.

A&M is now 3-0, in the SWC race and hosts Houston Tuesday night. The Aggies then travel to Arkansas Saturday night.

Tech, all alone in second place with a 4-1 ledger, hits the road Tuesday night at Baylor then meets Southern Methodist Saturday afternoon in a regionally televised game in Lubbock.

SMU has been lighting up some scoreboards itself, thrashing Baylor 95-71 Saturday night to leap into third place with a 4-2 mark. The Mustangs entertain independent North Texas State Tuesday night.

Baylor, Arkansas, and Houston are still within striking distance of the top spot with 3-2 records. Houston drubbed winless Texas 63-58 and Arkansas routed TCU 100-65 Saturday night.

Arkansas is at Texas and Texas Tech is at Baylor Tuesday night.

Violence Slowed On Super Weekend

By The Associated Press
Violent deaths were recorded at slow tempo in Texas during the Super Bowl weekend.

Traffic accidents accounted for eight fatalities and the total from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday was swelled to 14 with four shootings, a drowning and a fire death.

Here is how some died:
Mavis Robinson Baird, 54, was killed shortly before midnight Sunday when her small car hit the back of a tractor-trailer truck at Lufkin in East Texas.

A double shooting left a Shallowater couple dead on the South Plains. Margaret Jenkins, 54, died Sunday night in a Lubbock hospital of gunshot wounds suffered Saturday at her home. Authorities said her husband, Floyd M. Jenkins, was found shot to death in the home. A justice of the peace ruled homicide and suicide.

Ann Smith, 82, of Los Alamos, N.M., was killed in a traffic collision near El Paso Saturday. Officers said she was a passenger in a car involved in a crash on Interstate 10 just west of El Paso.

A fire in a Dallas home Sunday killed Carolyn Renee Dennis, 11. Authorities said she was asleep and apparently awoke confused in darkness amid smoke and flames. Efforts by relatives to save her failed.

James C. Moore, 32, of Grand Rapids, Ohio, was killed in Houston early Sunday when the car he was driving hit an uprooted tree.

In Lufkin, Danny Harvey, 24, died when the pickup in which he was a passenger ran off a arm road and overturned. Two other persons were injured.

Jessie E. Martinez, 37, of Ennis was killed Saturday night when his pickup truck went out of control on a county road about a mile south of Seagoville.

Beline Johnson Jr., 39, of Houston was shot to death Saturday in an apartment. Police said the shooting apparently occurred after an argument between Johnson and another man.

The body of Gary Lee Helton, 19, was found floating in the swimming pool of a Houston apartment building Saturday.

A .38 caliber bullet killed David Thomas, 27, of New Waverly Saturday. Thomas was found near Texas 150 and officers said he presumably died Saturday morning. A Huntsville man was picked up for questioning.

Michael Woodard, 24, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding ran off a Houston street into a ditch.

A pickup truck collided with an oncoming car in Corpus Christi Saturday and the crash killed Richard Allen Pinegar, 15. No one else was hurt, police said.

James Glenn Kattner, 29, was killed Friday night when his vehicle rolled over several times at Temple. Officers said Kattner was thrown clear.

Murder Charged In Picket Death

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — A formal charge of first degree murder was due to be accepted today against Wilbur J. LeLeux Jr. in the death of a construction worker during a flareup at a construction site here last week, Calcasieu Parish authorities said.

Dist. Atty. Frank Salter Jr. said additional charges of attempted murder would be lodged against LeLeux, 34, who was being held without bond in the parish jail.

LeLeux and two other Lake Charles men were booked during the weekend after violence over AFL-CIO picketing of construction at Jupiter Chemical Co. Workers at the site are referred through American Federation of Unions, an independent union.

Joe Hooper, 26, was shot to death Thursday shortly after he reported for his first day at work.

Five other persons were wounded in the early morning attack by what officials said was a mob of about 100 men. Attackers allegedly stormed through company gates that had been smashed with a stolen fork lift.

The violence followed by one day picketing at the site by the Southwest Louisiana Building and Trades Council, AFL-CIO.

Council lawyer William Baggett said pickets will probably ring the site again today.

But an official of Payne & Keller Construction Co., the contractor, said the firm will ask Gov. Edwin Edwards to provide protection if the pickets reappear.

Spokesmen for the independent union say there were no pickets at the site the morning of the attack.

Victor Bussie, Louisiana's top AFL-CIO official, was expected to comment on the violence today while meeting with reporters at the state capitol in Baton Rouge.

Authorities said LeLeux and Kenneth E. Hooper, also booked in the case, are AFL-

CIO members.
Hooper, reportedly not related to the slain man, and John H. Jensen Jr. will be charged with attempted murder, Salter said. He said Jensen will also be charged with aggravated criminal damage to property and theft of a fork lift.

Salter has vowed to prosecute any persons he can find who were among those who broke through the company gates.

The FBI was investigating to determine whether federal anti-racketeering statutes had been violated.

Officials of the independent union, meanwhile, were pledging to provide manpower for the job despite the violence.

"We have a legal right to be there and we will honor all legal contracts that we obligate ourselves to," said Tom Duchmann, a union spokesman.

Another Payne & Keller construction site was the scene of an attack by an estimated 1,500 men Wednesday in Houston. Officials said $1 million damage resulted.

Gusty Winds Return Winter To Texas

By The Associated Press

Gusty north winds drove a new batch of wintry weather through the Panhandle-Plains sector in West Texas today with prospects for light rain — possibly light snow at higher elevations — on that side by evening.

Forecasts held out a possibility of a little moisture spreading into Central and East Texas, with skies starting to clear in most sections by Tuesday.

Temperatures dipped a bit by this morning, when the leading edge of the cold air stretched along a line linking Childress and Lubbock.

Forecasts promised overnight marks in the teens for the Upper Panhandle by early Tuesday, but little cooling was expected in southern areas of the state.

Prime Minister Says 'No Change'

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia's new prime minister, Hussein Onn, said he would make no major changes in the foreign and domestic policies of his pro-Western predecessor, Tun Abdul Razak.

Hussein told his first news conference since taking office Thursday following Razak's death that regional cooperation within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations — ASEAN — will be the cornerstone of his foreign policy.

Last week, the defense tried to prevent further examinations of Miss Hearst by Kozol, claiming he had bullied her to hysteria with accusatory questions during a Jan. 7 session. After Kozol denied the accusations during a two-day hearing, Judge Carter last week ordered the 21-year-old newspaper heiress to either undergo further questioning or face sanctions, which could bar use of defense psychiatrists in the trial.

Miss Hearst's trial on bank robbery charges is scheduled to start Jan. 26 and may last from six to eight weeks.

The News quoted New York City sources close to the defense as saying the tests were conducted over three days by four experts — Charles Zimmerman of the Scientific Security Co. of Boston; Drs. Gordon Barland and David Ruskin of the University of Utah; and Dr. Stanley Abrams of Kaiser Hospital in Portland, Ore.

Dr. Barland declined comment, and the others were not immediately reachable.

The News reported that tests indicated Miss Hearst was telling the truth when she claimed she was held in a dark closet for days after her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnapping, then was forced by her Symbionese Liberation Army captors to take part in the April 15, 1974, robbery of the Hibernia Bank here.

"The motions will be based on Kozol's background and why the prosecution selected him. I think you're going to see a lot of surprises," Smith said in a telephone interview from Boston.

The News reported in today's editions that Miss Hearst's attorneys are expected to file an application with U.S. District Court Judge Oliver Carter seeking to have the results of the polygraph tests admitted as evidence. Such tests are usually not admissible as evidence in court cases.

Defense attorney Al Johnson would not comment on the report — "On the eve of the trial, to say that kind of test was given would not be right because of the inference the public would draw."

May Call Sinatra To Tell Kennedy-Mob Relation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate intelligence committee this week is expected to consider calling Frank Sinatra to testify about the relationship of President John F. Kennedy, Judith Campbell Exner and mobster Sam Giancana.

"I think the committee will be asked when it meets" to consider calling Sinatra as a witness, a committee source said Sunday night. The panel is scheduled to meet Tuesday.

Mrs. Exner has said Sinatra introduced her to Kennedy and to Giancana and John Rosselli, another underworld figure.

She said in a 10-page book outline released by a literary agent that she had an affair with Kennedy in the early 1960s and personal relationships with Giancana and Rosselli.

The Central Intelligence Agency enlisted Giancana and Rosselli in an effort to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. The Senate panel uncovered Mrs. Exner's relationship with Kennedy in trying to determine if Kennedy knew about the Castro assassination plot. It concluded he did not learn of it through Mrs. Exner.

However, the committee source said, "I don't think the staff is eager at this point to go back and open that up again. They feel they investigated the relationship in the first place — whether or not Sinatra had anything to offer in connection with the question of whether Kennedy was connected with the Castro plot."

The source added: "They decided then not to call him because it was doubtful he could add anything."

However, the source acknowledged there has been pressure for the committee to question Sinatra.

Mrs. Exner's book outline said: "There may have been a reason beyond what has yet come to light for Sinatra's introduction of Judith to Kennedy and then to Giancana and it is interesting to speculate on whether he was attempting to set up a connection."

The Los Angeles Times said Monday that, contrary to previous reports, Sinatra's friendship with Kennedy continued after apparent warnings to the former president that Sinatra associated with hoodlums.

Continuation of the friendship is documented by correspondence on file in the John F. Kennedy Library in Waltham, Mass., and substantiated by former Kennedy aides Kenneth O'Donnell and Dave Powers, the Los Angeles newspaper said.

No Room For The Enterprise

SAN DIEGO (AP) — What do you do when one of the Navy's largest aircraft carriers comes to town but can't find a place to park?

Simple. Anchor eight miles offshore.

What do you do when the ship carries 3,000 sailors who have just been paid, are due for liberty and anxious to go ashore?

Round up all the available small craft in the area and start a water taxi service.

That's what the Navy did Friday when the Enterprise arrived here but found no place to tie up. The carriers Ranger and Kitty Hawk and the guided missile cruiser Long Beach were berthed at North Island and there just wasn't room for the Enterprise.

A steady stream of small boats, each carrying between 40 and 200 sailors, will be making the 90-minute trip from the carrier to the fleet landing the rest of the weekend, the Navy said.

HUD SECRETARY HAS OTHER PLANS

Humphrey Seeks Fed Action On Housing

DALLAS (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., called Sunday for a reduction in interest rates and the creation of a Federal Housing Bank which would help assure a steady supply of mortgage money and give a boost to the U.S. housing industry.

Humphrey's statements were made in a speech he delivered here at the opening session of the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) calling for more aggressive federal action by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). He asked for "a fair rate of interest and more careful planning to help eliminate the 'urban sprawl.'"

Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., will be the guest speaker today.

Humphrey criticized the policies of President Ford's administration saying it "has failed and failed miserably" to meet the nation's housing needs.

"It is no wonder that the American people are so cynical about the ability of the federal government to meet their needs," Humphrey said.

"Administration actions have turned the government's promise of a decent home in a suitable environment for every American into an empty promise and a cruel hoax," Humphrey stated.

He predicted that housing starts, which reached a record low during 1976 to about 1.5 million homes. In the early 1970s, the number of starts reached two million annually.

Humphrey blamed the housing slump on what he called the Ford administration's policies of slow growth and high interest rates.

The former vice president, who has twice been a Democratic presidential candidate, said the best way to cut back on federal spending and increase government income "is to restore health to the economy."

"Strong recovery in 1976 and 1977 could reduce greatly the need to spend billions of dollars that we now must pay out in food stamps, unemployment compensation and the like to the victims of the recession," Humphrey said.

Another speaker, HUD Secretary Carla A. Hills, announced $1 million in grants for the installation of solar power units in 143 new and existing dwellings in 27 states. She said it would be the nation's first large-scale test of solar power.

Mrs. Hills, following the Republican political line, said an economic recovery already is in progress. She said family income rose more quickly in 1975 than did housing costs and that the Ford administration has taken steps, through HUD, to help people buy homes.

The homebuilders association (NAHB) expects some 50,000 of its 76,000 members to attend the annual convention here this week. J. S. "Mickey" Norman of Houston, NAHB president, said much of the convention will be aimed at ways to speed up housing's recovery.

More than 50 educational workshops are scheduled beginning Monday and those attending will be able to view more than 500 exhibits of building materials and fixtures.

Scholarships Offered For Music Camp

Two scholarships of $600 each plus $100 toward transportation will be offered in Texas for students who would like to attend the National Music Camp in Interlochen, Mich., during the summer session.

A full tuition and board for the eight weeks is $1,200. A student must also deposit $50 for personal expenses such as laundry, spending money, etc. Any unused balance is returned at the end of the session.

One scholarship at the National Music camp is offered for voice or stringed instrument (no piano), and the second scholarship is offered to a player of an orchestral instrument other than string (wood winds or brass).

Applicants must be residents of Texas, and interested in a musical career. They must also be a member of some division of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs. Applicants must be high school students at the grade level of sophomore or above.

A record of past achievements or awards in musical activities will be considered.

The applicant must complete an application blank and provide a letter of recommendation as to musical ability, scholarship standing, and character from a private teacher of music, or from the school principal.

The applicant must be a performer of above average talent and ability and a good sight reader.

The application must be returned to the chairman of the scholarship board of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs by Feb. 15.

Application must be made through the chairman of the scholarship board of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs. A maximum of three applicants will be recommended from each District. The board, with the approval of the president of the National Music Camp, will select the winners of the scholarships, taking into consideration musical ability, scholarship record, character and previous achievements. In case of difficulty in reaching a decision through evidence presented, auditions may be held.

For information on the camp and questions concerning application forms, interested students should contact Mrs. Lamoine M. Hall Jr., Chairman of Scholarship Board, TFMC, 4137 Whitfield, Fort Worth, Texas 76109.

Dear Abby

Man Says Arranged Marriages Last Longer

DEAR ABBY: You're wrong when you say that a person can't learn to love someone.

In the old country, the marriages were arranged by the parents or a matchmaker, and those marriages were more solid than our modern marriages are.

In China, Japan and India, marriages were arranged while the children were growing up. The couple learned to love each other, and you never heard of divorce.

Here, a couple of dizzy kids decide they're "in love," and before you know it, they're married. Then they have a baby or two, and discover that their "love" has worn off, so their parents have to help raise the babies while they get a divorce and start looking around for somebody else to fall in love with.

I'll bet that if we went back to the old system of arranged marriages, we'd have a lot fewer divorces.

And by the way, in case you think I'm an old fogey, I'm only 28.

SINGLE AND STRAIGHT

DEAR SINGLE: A return to "arranged marriages" as a move to reduce divorce is as plausible and logical as returning to mutilation and torture to cut back crime. Both are remnants of a grisly past, imperfectly remembered.

DEAR ABBY: There must be thousands of women in my position, so if you have an answer for me, please print it and help all of us.

I am married to a man who has children by a previous marriage. I love his children and they love me. The problem is their mother.

On occasions such as first communions, birthdays, weddings, etc., she makes it clear to me that I am not welcome, and that if I attend, she will leave.

Naturally, I stay away. When the children ask me why I didn't come, I say that I was "ill." I don't want to tell them the truth because it would only cause trouble.

Maybe lots of women will see themselves in this letter and decide to be big enough to let their husbands' present wives share in their children's celebrations. We love their children, too.

EXCLUDED

DEAR EXCLUDED: Here's your letter. I hope it helps.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a good-natured mother-in-law who insists on cooking a large elaborate dinner on holidays for the same crowd year after year? I begged her to let me cook Thanksgiving dinner this year and she downright refused! I love to entertain and she knows it, but she gave me the excuse of "you don't have enough room" and "I have more time than you" (since I work).

She is the best mother-in-law a girl could ever ask for, in more ways than one, but I think this is going too far. I would love to give her a relaxing holiday just once so she could enjoy herself also. Maybe she does not think I could handle it (my husband and I have been married for one and a half years) but I've entertained as many as 25 before! Abby, I know she reads your column faithfully so maybe you could suggest that enough is enough?

MOUSE

DEAR MOUSE: Your mother-in-law obviously "enjoys herself" being in command of the holiday feasts. Demonstrate your dinner skills for others and let your "good-natured" mother-in-law have a good time — her way.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Boosters To Meet Tonight

The Coahoma Band Boosters will meet in the high school band hall at 7 p.m. today.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Shumate Discusses England

The 1948 Hyperion Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Zollie Boykin.

Mrs. L. T. King served as co-hostess for the meeting.

A club member, Mrs. A. K. Shumate, presented the program. Her subject dealt with England and living with the British people.

Mrs. Shumate and her family spent 1968 on the campus of the Royal Air Force staff college at Bracknell, Berkshire, England. Her husband was an exchange student at this time.

The club then held a business meeting.

Members discussed a proposal submitted by Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, which dealt with the possibility of making the lake side of the Dora Roberts Civic Center into a women's club building.

Next meeting for the group is Feb. 19, in the home of Mrs. Merle Stewart.

Woman's Forum Meets In Clyde Thomas Home

Members of the Woman's Forum met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., with Mrs. Clyde Johnston serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Floyd Mays, guest speaker, showed slides and gave the history of several old homes located in Big Spring.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Bill

Prindible and Mrs. Kenneth Chadd.

Mrs. C. R. Wiley presided over the business meeting.

Next meeting for the women will be Feb. 20 in the home of Mrs. E. B. Compton, 1901 Choctaw.

Carpet Beetles Like Moths' Diet

Carpet beetles may prefer woolen rugs and carpets, but they'll join with moths in making mincemeat out of clothing and upholstery as well as silk, feathers and fur.

And like the moth, it's really the larvae, the small worm-like infant stage, that does the actual damage, say the entomologists at the Johnson Wax Biology Center, Racine, Wis. The carpet beetle remains in the larvae stage for many months.

One aerosol spray, Raid Moth Proofer, is a major ingredient of a campaign against carpet beetles and clothes moths, and should be applied not only to the potential meals but to other areas where these insects like to lay their eggs. This means frequent vacuuming and then spraying of cracks in walls and baseboards too.

Short Fashions Can Be Renewed

COLLEGE STATION — Fashionable shirts and dresses are hanging unworn in many closets — simply because they're too short for today's styles.

But many of these can be "recycled" at little expense to become useful and enjoyable additions to a wearable wardrobe, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, suggests.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Spend a few minutes visualizing possibilities on the too-short clothes. Would the hem allowance add enough needed length? If so, check to see if the old hemline would show. If it does, consider whether or not rows of trim or narrow tucks could be used for camouflage and still look as part of an original garment.

Child Study Club Meets Wednesday

The Child Study Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bill Reynolds with Mrs. Lenny Prudhomme as co-hostess.

The program was given by Julian Patterson. He reviewed the book "Child Psychology Affiliation," by Stanley Schachter. The book deals with the effects the sequence of birth has on the children in the family.

Two new members, Mrs. Ray Don Williams and Mrs. Wayne Henry, were welcomed.

Next meeting for the group will be at 1 p.m. Feb. 11 in the home of Mrs. Calvin Daniels, 421 Edwards, with Mrs. Larry Fryar as co-hostess.

Rehab Center Class Begins

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will offer a special class for expectant mothers which will begin at the Center on Jan. 27.

Class will be held on Tuesday at 1 p.m. and will run for two consecutive weeks. An evening class will also be offered beginning at 7 p.m., Jan. 27. At the end of each three, week period a new class will begin.

The classes consist of prenatal and postpartum exercises, emphasizing proper body mechanics and muscle strengthening.

Enrollment must be confirmed prior to the first class period. To be eligible for participation in the prenatal classes it is necessary to obtain a written referral from a licensed physician.

Homemakers Form New Club Tuesday

The Creative Homemakers Home Demonstration Club held their first business meeting Tuesday evening in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Officers were elected to serve the club for 1976. Elected were Mrs. Pat Johnston, president; Mrs. Jonnie Beasley, vice president; Mrs. Peggy Williams, secretary; Mrs. Pam Thompson, treasurer; Mrs. Peggy Soldan, reporter; and Mrs. Patti Cox, council delegate.

Mrs. Gayle Wagner, decorating consultant for Sherwin-Williams, was the guest speaker. She showed slides on the proper selections of carpets and wallcoverings. Mrs. Wagner also explained how to select the best carpet piles, textures, designs and colors.

When buying wallcoverings, Mrs. Wagner told the group that the types of rooms, the ages of their occupants and type of covering must be considered.

Mrs. Wagner said that when measuring a room, measure the length, width and height. If there are doors, windows, archways, fireplaces and wood paneled areas, measure the size of each.

Railway Vets Attend Thursday Meeting

Members of the National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway employees attended a meeting Thursday evening at the Kentwood center.

J. H. Eastham presided. Members decided to place a book in the Howard County Library in memory of Mrs. John Corcoran.

Eastham urged members to write congressmen and representatives to support the "widow's bill," HR-8586, which is a bill which will aid widows of deceased railroad men.

Officers for the next two years were installed. Elected as president is J. H. Eastham, with H. L. Shirley as chaplain and Mrs. Margaret Barnett as secretary-treasurer.

Other elected officers will be installed at a later date.

Woman's Forum To Award LVN Scholarship

The Big Spring Progressive Woman's Forum completed arrangements to award a club-sponsored scholarship at the Thursday afternoon meeting held in the home of Mrs. Virginia Bryant.

The club will award a scholarship to a student enrolled in the licensed vocational nursing program at Howard College. Funds for the scholarship were raised by the club project of selling pecans.

Mrs. Don Priddy reviewed the life of Ben Franklin in keeping with the bicentennial programs of the club.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Thomas, 2907 Goliad, at 1 p.m., Feb. 19.

Sorority Members Discuss Dance

Members of Xi Pi Epsilon met at the home of Mrs. Mackie Hays on Wednesday.

The Valentine dance was discussed and projects for the year were discussed.

Secret-sister gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. Jeannie Cunningham gave the program entitled "Viva La Difference."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Nancy Fulgham on Jan. 21.

Mrs. McClair Honored At Shower

Mrs. Alfred McClair, the former Melba Carter, was honored at a shower in the Texas Electric Reddy Room Jan. 11.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Carl Eason, Mrs. Roy Bruce, Mrs. Elmo Phillips, Mrs. James Bowen, Miss Lynn Doss and Miss Kathy Gunnels.

The table was centered with yellow pom poms and spider mums with greenery.

Mrs. McClair received a bedspread from the hostesses.

The honoree was presented a corsage of yellow carnations.

Guests attending from out of town were Mrs. Randy Jones, the honoree's daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Carter, her daughter-in-law, and Kathy McClair, all from Odessa.

Hyperion Club Hears Speaker

Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., was the speaker for the 1905 Hyperion Club meeting held Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. D. Elliott. Mrs. W. Earl Ezell was co-hostess.

Mrs. Stripling topic was "This is America to Me." She commented on five areas of national life which help furnish a guide and a measuring stick for citizens; crime, courts, religion, citizenship and apathy.

Mrs. O. T. Brewster, president, presided during the meeting.

A new member, Mrs. W. R. Fleming, was introduced.

Mrs. W. T. Barber, legislative chairman, reported that letters had been written to representatives in Washington opposing the use of the special building designed for the Library of Congress to be used for Congressional aides instead of for the library.

The other letter opposed day care institutions free of charge for working mothers at Federal expense.

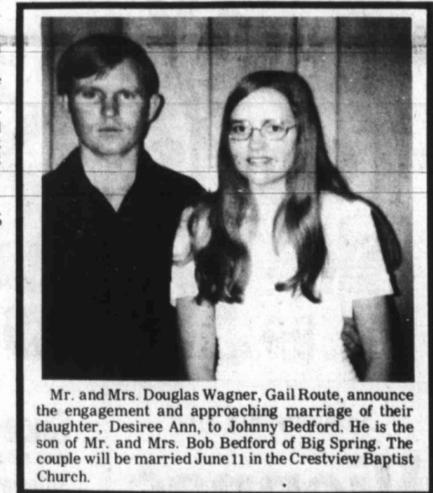

Hostesses for the Feb. 19

Hairdressers' Club Elects 1976 Officers

Members of the Texas Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Affiliate 24, met at 7 p.m. Thursday in Eloise's Beauty Salon to elect officers.

Elected to serve include Mrs. Eloise Faulkenberry, president; Mrs. Jewel Wheeler, first vice president; Mrs. Ina McGowan, second vice president; Mrs. Ann Reeves, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ila Murphy, reporter and historian; and Mrs. Linda Foresyth, style director.

The group will hold meetings the first Tuesday of each month at Eloise's Beauty Salon.

Mrs. Douglas Wagner, Gail Route, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Desiree Ann, to Johnny Bedford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bedford of Big Spring. The couple will be married June 11 in the Crestview Baptist Church.

Your HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have a day when your greatest success can be realized by being conscientious. Any plan of action should be handled wisely. Improve your physical condition.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Duties coming up should be scheduled intelligently. Take steps to improve your health. Don't confide in strangers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do something about improving your appearance. Bills should be paid as quickly as possible. Plan your life better.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Attending to duties at home will improve conditions appreciably. Plan how to make a new project more profitable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Cooperate with co-workers so that your mutual duties will be better performed. Strive for more harmony.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make improvements to property that are necessary. Consult a business expert so you can have greater abundance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Makeshift methods where personal aims are concerned could give you trouble at this time. Await a better time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get an early start at those tasks awaiting your attention so you'll have more time for recreation later. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A personal aim you have will not be forthcoming until later in the day. You need to improve your social life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take care of practical tasks awaiting your attention and be efficient at them. Follow your intuition today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A new method in your line of endeavor could help you get ahead in the future. Don't confide in a newcomer today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many responsibilities to take care of and you should postpone any new ventures until a better time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Attend to routine duties instead of wasting time conferring with others today. Strive for increased happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those meticulous young people who wants things in order. It would be wise to direct the education along lines of scientific research.

DOOMSDAY PREDICTION FIZZLES OUT — Premier Don Dunstan of the state of South Australia, strolls with crowd in Adelaide, Australia, Monday, the day an earthquake and tidal wave were to destroy the city of 800,000, according to the prediction of housepainter John Nash, who claims to be clairvoyant. Surrounded by newsmen and skeptics holding "earthquake picnics," Dunstan stood on a jetty at an Adelaide beach at the predicted doomsday hour of 12:30 p.m. to demonstrate he had no fear of the tidal wave. ## Doomsday Fizzles, Superstitious Flee

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — It was a joke for most residents, but it caused hundreds of the less skeptical to flee to higher ground. In any case, 12:30 p.m. today failed to produce the doomsday earthquake and tidal wave housepainter John Nash predicted for Adelaide.

Nash, who claims to be clairvoyant, said on Nov. 3 that he had a vision of a newspaper front page reporting the disaster to the capital of the state of South Australia, a city of 800,000.

An astrologer in Sydney seconded the prophecy, and some residents of Adelaide reported snails climbing to the tops of houses and sheep acting queerly.

Despite Premier Don Dunstan's broadcast assertion that the prediction was silly, it disturbed the uneducated and the superstitious. A number of businesses were closed because employees took refuge at nearby Mt. Lofty or in trailer parks on higher ground. One secretary took a six-foot inflatable raft to work.

Surrounded by newsmen and skeptics holding "earthquake picnics," Dunstan stood on a jetty at Glenelg Beach at the predicted hour of catastrophe to demonstrate he had no fear of a tidal wave.

"It's Doomsday for Adelaide: Six-Inch Waves," a headline in the Sydney Sun reported.

Radio and television newscasts throughout Australia carried hourly reports that there had been no disaster.

It was a joke for many in the city.

"Sin now — tomorrow it will be too late," said a banner displayed downtown by a group of secretaries.

Car salesmen offered "Doomsday Deals," telling customers they might never have to make their payments.

Killer Of Six Can Get Life Or Death

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — Erwin Charles Simants will be sentenced on Jan. 29 either to life imprisonment or death in the electric chair, 103 days after he murdered six members of the Henry Kellie family of rural Sutherland.

The sentence will be imposed by Lincoln County District Court Judge Hugh Stuart, who presided at Simants' trial, or by a three-judge panel of District Court judges, including Stuart. Stuart has declined to say whether he will ask the State Supreme Court to have the other judges sit with him in determining sentencing, provided as an option under state law.

A jury of seven women and five men Saturday convicted Simants, 30, on six counts of first-degree murder while in the commission of or attempted commission of sexual assault. He confessed to shooting three children and three adults to death last Oct. 18 at point-blank range.

A death sentence would be automatically appealed to the State Supreme Court, in accordance with state law. Such an appeal could take one year or more. A person sentenced to life cannot be paroled unless the pardon board commutes the term to a specific number of years.

Simants had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. There was conflicting testimony on this point by defense and prosecution psychiatrists and psychologists.

The case attracted national attention when a court-imposed "gag" order on pretrial news coverage evoked a free press versus fair trial controversy.

Railroad Group Urges More Lines

DALLAS (AP) — A regional meeting of the National Association of Railroad Passengers has urged improved rail service between Dallas and Houston and a new route from New Orleans to Denver through Dallas.

Resolutions passed by the group at its weekend meeting here also said service from St. Louis to Laredo via Dallas is "haphazardly handled," financially mismanaged and circuitously routed.

The resolutions asked the NARP board of directors to pressure Amtrak for a daily, direct 6-hour trip between Dallas and San Antonio.

On the Lone Star route from Fort Worth to Houston, a resolution asked a full stop in Dallas of the entire train, with routing south through Corsicana and Bryan-College Station.

About 30 persons attended the regional meeting Saturday.

Chinese Hold Mass Swim

TOKYO (AP) — Some 12,000 Chinese workers, peasants, troopers and party cadres recently swam across the Yungchiang River in Nanjing, where Mao Tse-tung once swam in winter, Peking's official Hsinhua news agency reported today.

Hsinhua said red flags fluttered along the riverbank on the day of the swim and people flocked to the Yungchiang bridge carrying portraits of Chairman Mao and placards inscribed with the words: "Promote physical culture and sports, build up people's health."

HERE'S HELP FOR TAXPAYERS

Tax Forms Admittedly More Complex This Year

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1975 tax returns.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax form package that taxpayers will use in computing their 1975 taxes begins with the following apology from Donald C. Alexander, the commissioner of Internal Revenue:

"I am sorry to say that the 1040 form is more complex than last year's and this package is larger than last year's."

But that's putting the bad news first. The good news is that the tax rate for most taxpayers will be lower.

For example, a family of four with $15,000 income would pay about $1,612 in income taxes for 1975, a savings of $208 from 1974, if the standard deductions are claimed.

The complicated tax forms result from the tax reductions voted by the Congress, and approved by the President in March. Most of the tax savings already have been paid to taxpayers through lower withholding tax rates that went into effect in May.

As usual, the deadline for filing 1975 tax returns is April 15. Tax form packages were in the mail to most taxpayers in early January, and employees should have their W-2 forms from their employers by Jan. 31.

Persons who fail to receive tax forms, and need them, may obtain them from most banks and from any local IRS office.

Because the forms are complex, the IRS says taxpayers will benefit more than ever by getting an early start in preparing them.

Here is a brief summary — to be explained in greater detail in this series — of some major changes in the 1975 tax law:

— Taxpayers are entitled to an extra $30 credit for each personal exemption claimed on the tax return. This is in addition to the regular $750 exemption for each dependent.

— Persons with earned income below $8,000 may qualify for a so-called earned income credit. The maximum credit of $400 would be paid to a husband and wife with joint earned income of $4,000.

— Taxpayers who have contributed to an individual retirement savings program may be able to deduct up to $1,500 in savings.

— Buyers of new homes during 1975 may be eligible for a tax credit equal to 5 per cent of the purchase price of the home, up to a maximum of $2,000.

— Both the minimum standard deductions and maximum standard deductions have been increased.

The maximum standard deduction for 1975 is 16 per cent of income to a maximum $2,600 for a joint return, $2,300 for a single return, and $1,300 for a married person filing separately.

The minimum deduction, also called the low income allowance, is $1,900 for married persons and $1,600 for singles. The effect of this allowance, which is built into the tax tables, is to reduce or eliminate the tax liability for many low-income persons.

Because of the higher deductions and other changes in the 1975 returns, taxpayers who itemized deductions in past years may find they can do better by taking the standard deduction this time.

The IRS says that as a general rule, the following taxpayers will do best by itemizing: joint returns with incomes less than $11,875 and itemized deductions totaling more than $1,900; joint income between $11,875 and $16,250 and deductions totaling more than 16 per cent, and joint returns if income is more than $16,250 and deductions total more than $2,600.

There are both the short and long 1040 forms again this year. Taxpayers who don't itemize and whose interest and dividend income does not exceed $400 may use the short form.

Two Arrested After Death Of Gridder

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Statements to police by a young girl who survived a car chase that resulted in the death of a Coronado High School football player have led to the arrest of two El Paso youths on charges of murder.

The girl, Cindy Lou Clark, told police she was with the player, Edward Figueroa, in a pickup truck when two youths in another car chased them and forced Figueroa's truck to hit a railing of a curve on Interstate 10, roll over, and burst into flames on Jan. 12.

The two youths charged in the case were identified as John Steven Lewis, 18, and Richard Moreno Apodaca, 19. They were charged Sunday before Justice of the Peace Walter McGhee who set individual bonds of $20,000.

Miss Clark told police that on Jan. 12 she and Figueroa had finished work at their jobs and were taking a friend home in Figueroa's truck. When they dropped the friend at his home, some men in a car stopped and tried to pick her up. Miss Clark told police. She said they tried to fight Figueroa, but he refused and got into his truck with her and drove away.

She said the men then chased her and Figueroa and bumped Figueroa's truck trying to force it off the road.

Witnesses told police Figueroa's truck was going at about 80 miles per hour when it failed to make the curve.

Police at first thought Figueroa's death was a traffic accident, but reopened the investigation after Miss Clark made her statements and Lewis surrendered accompanied by his father at an El Paso police substation.

Apodaca was arrested hours later.

Environmental Science Park

SMITHVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The president of the University of Texas cancer center at Houston predicts that a proposed environmental science park of more than 1,000 acres near this Central Texas community will have a "national impact."

Dr. R. Lee Clark helped Mayor Albert Crawford turn the first shovel of dirt Friday with the same silver-plated spade that was used for groundbreaking ceremonies of the Texas Medical Center in 1950.

"So far as I know," said Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Tex., who aided in securing a $1.25 million federal grant for the facility, "there is not another area this size — over 1,000 acres — in the world set aside specifically in its pristine nature to study, research and stamp out the organism of cancer."

Clark told a crowd of 200 that everyone must do whatever is possible to prevent cancer-causing materials from polluting the environment, and he added, "The most likely one thing which each of you here today can do in that regard is not smoke."

Crawford hailed the science park as "the greatest thing to happen to Smithville since the Katy Railroad came here."

"Press-Tab" adds a new dimension to the convenience and anti-litter benefits of the all aluminum recyclable can.

The Coors "Press-Tab" eliminates the "ring-pull" litter that is a concern at beaches, in lakes or streams and parks or golf courses. The "ring" of the ring-pull generally has been more damaging to the environment than the entire beverage can, improperly discarded.

Easily opened, if the proper technique is used, this feature will benefit our parks, forests and all outdoors. If you experience difficulty in opening the can, call your nearest Coors Distributor; his expertise and instruction will change frustration into a pleasantly simple function.

- 1 Press as illustrated to break seal and release pressure.*
- 2 Break the remaining seal by pressing opposite side of opening.

Gently Depress Tab, can now ready for use.

*Hold the can at either the top or bottom do NOT grip in the can's center.
