Small towns growing faster than cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in recent American history the nation's small communities are growing faster than the cities, reversing decades of rapid urban growth.

A new Census Bureau report on the changing metropolitan areas shows that while three-fourths of the population lives in cities and their surrounding suburbs, these have grown only 3.4 per cent since 1970.

By comparison, nonmetropolitan areas have grown by 5.5 per cent.

Some of the fastest growing areas are in Florida, Arizona and southern New Jersey where retirement communities have lured older persons. Nevada and Utah, with their expanding entertainment and recreational facilities, also have grown considerably, the report said.

The census report shows that by mid-1974, an estimated 155 million people lived in metropolitan areas, an increase of about 5 million since 1970. About 56.4 million people lived in small communities, an increase of about 2.9 million.

were startled by the changes in urban growth.

"It really had us shaken up here," Starnic said in an interview. "It never occurred to us it was happening."

A lingering recession coupled with spiraling inflation are the biggest reasons for the rapid growth of southern and western states, he said.

"Smaller places are attracting people," he added. "These are areas with less crowded conditions where people can live more cheaply. Cities have a reputation for being expensive. It costs less to live in the South than it does in the North. And as these communities expand, employment opportunities increase because more services need to be provided."

Another surprise in the report, Starnic said, was that California has slowed to a growth rate of 4.4 per cent since 1970, much less than the previous decade.

"There aren't as many employment opportunities," Starnic explained, adding that the depression of the aerospace industry "took the bloom off some areas."

The census report shows that areas in the Northeast and midwestern states with their faltering urban centers have not been growing much at all.

Largely because of a declining birth rate, the nation's growth has dropped from 1.2 per cent annually during the 1960s to eight-tenths of one per cent annually during the last four years, Census officials say.

Don Starnic, chief of the state and local population estimates branch of the Census Bureau, said that government demographers

Brother of escapee Love in trouble

Glenn Love, 18, Big Spring, whose brother broke jail in Johnson City, is charged with auto theft in Mineral Wells, Tex.

Love is accused of stealing a car in Mineral Wells, driving it to Big Spring and selling its mag wheels and tape deck, said Jim Folly, Palo Pinto chief of deputy sheriff.

Love was given probation for two counts of burglary in Howard County. A motion to revoke probation is anticipated.

Herschel Love, who escaped from jail here in November and fled the Johnson City jail Friday, remained free Saturday night.

'Good times' on rodeo circuit

Booze, bulls, beauties

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Brushing beer suds from his soggy red beard, Dick Green flashed a broad grin at his bull riding colleagues and snorted:

"One of these years I'm going to win $15,000, go to the national finals and say to hell with it!"

After a moment of meditation, he added:

"That's when I get serious about this whole thing. I don't know. Maybe next year. Or the next. I don't know when, but I'm gonna do it."

"But right now there's just too many good times."

More skeptical than curious about the green legend, a reporter had tracked Green down during a stopover at the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo, which ends tonight, locating him as predicted at a beer stand in Will Rogers Coliseum.

"Just call me Dirty," said Green, 30, a rakish Colorado cowboy whose beard, flowing mane and lifestyle are totalling at odds with the quasipristine image put forth by the Rodeo Cowboys Association (RCA). Despite 11 years on the professional rodeo circuit, Green, a Denver native, has covered himself with little glory and even less money, neither of which concerns him.

"The way I came up you can survive on $1,000 a year," he joked.

"This is a real kick," he said.

"You can borrow when you have to. Nine guys can squeeze into a motel room. And I travel most of the time with four or five other bullriders. Where there's a will there's a way."

Even the whiskers could not shield the licentious grin spreading across his face as he suggested that more often than not some young lady will surface to foot certain bills.

"There's lots of 'em and you find 'em everywhere. We had a group of Dallas schoolteachers following us for awhile. Every locality's got their own herd— Texas, California, Colorado or wherever."

Green admitted to spending the previous night alone in the back seat of a car but asserted that Fort Worth poses a somewhat unusual problem: drug store cowboys.

"There's so many 'would-be cowboys' running around here that the girls don't know who to believe. If you got a calf roper's buckle and a big belly you're on," he grumbled.

Suddenly lighting up, he noted that "Phoenix has gotta be the best in the world when it comes to girls. I guess they just like down there in the sun waitin' for us."

Green admits he got serious once: "That was 1972, and I'd won $5,000 by July. But I broke my leg the first of August when I was right there knockin' on the door."

Not one to shed tears over spilled beer, Green uttered the barnyard equivalent of "shucks" and declared:

"This is the life. There's a great bunch of guys out here. They're tough. They'll fight and chase girls and arm wrestle anyone who's interested."

"And the bullriders, at least, they all like Budweiser!"

Earthquakes kill at least 7,375

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (AP) — Foreign rescue experts expressed fear Saturday that starvation and epidemics will sweep Guatemala in the trail of earthquakes that killed at least 7,375 persons by official estimates.

Other estimates by foreign relief agencies say the quakes may have killed as many as 14,000, with casualty reports beginning to arrive from outlying towns and villages.

Ruined roads, broken bridges, landslides and fuel shortages blocked delivery of food into devastated rural areas.

Messengers rode mules and bicycles into the capital with tales of whole communities leveled by the upheavals in this Central American country of six million persons.

Guatemala's emergency relief committee said that according to reports from burial details, at least 7,375 persons have perished since the first earthquake hit before dawn Wednesday.

The U.S. Embassy reported an American Mormon missionary working outside the capital had been seriously injured. This was the first known casualty among some 5,000 Americans living or visiting here. The missionary, who was not identified, was evacuated to the United States, the embassy said.

Associated Press reporter Kernan R. Turner drove by Jeep to Antigua, 20 miles west of Guatemala City, with the trip taking three hours because of the dozens of landslides across the highway.

He found some 40 American students who were in Antigua for a language institute helping the Guatemalans with relief work.

One of the students, Kathleen Chandler, 18, was working at a makeshift hospital set up on the soccer field. Miss Chandler, daughter of Los Angeles Times publisher Otis Chandler, told Turner she was staying at the home of a Guatemalan family when the quake struck.

A wall of the house fell in, she said, crushing the legs of two of the family's sons.

Miss Chandler said "One of the boys later died from the injuries. I did not know these people very well. I arrived in Antigua only a few days ago ... but after that night we were very close to one another."

She helped care for patients evacuated from the damaged hospital to field tents before returning to Guatemala City Saturday.

From 5 a.m. Friday until 5 a.m. Saturday the national observatory recorded 133 new tremors, but they tapered off later in the day and authorities said the situation in Guatemala City was improving.

Water service was re-established in several sections of the capital and soldiers were delivering water to other districts. Relief workers passed out registration numbers in badly damaged neighborhoods to set up a food distribution system.

Newspapers began publishing again and the Guatemala Red Cross was establishing first aid centers throughout the city to relieve the strain on the hospitals. Patients were moved from the damaged Social Security Hospital and Maternity Hospital to tents. The large San Juan de Dios Hospital was evacuated Friday.

Officials said a group of residents in the El Sauce neighborhood whose homes had escaped most of the damage fired on a band of men armed with machetes and clubs Friday night when they tried to enter the houses. No casualties were reported.

The eight-station national radio network appealed to truck owners to donate their vehicles for food distribution.

Birthday tragedy Vaughn charged with murder

A. J. Vaughn, 64, is in the city jail in lieu of $25,000 bond, charged with murder in connection with a shooting at his home at 606 S. Scurry around 9 p.m. Friday. Bond was set by Justice of the Peace Bobby West.

Dead on arrival at the Veteran's Administration Hospital was Edward Charles Schummer, who would have been 50 Saturday.

Vaughn's birthday was Friday and officers said that they had apparently been celebrating together. Schummer rented an apartment in the Vaughn home.

The deceased man's wife, Elva June Schummer, was also present. Rodney Carter, who works in the oilfields and rents an apartment in the house, arrived at the front door just as the shot went off. He said he saw Schummer fall in the doorway of Vaughn's bedroom.

The young man first called an ambulance and then police and waited in the front yard for their arrival. Two officers, Ron Newby and David Spillman, arrived at the scene. Carter was waving and yelling, "This is the place."

The police report noted that Vaughn had a gun and a fifth of Old Charter whiskey in his hands when they arrived. Mrs. Schummer was standing near her husband, who was lying facedown in a pool of blood.

One of the officers had to pull a gun to obtain the gun held by Vaughn. When asked to put down the whiskey, police said Vaughn uncapped the bottle and took a drink. The officers reported that they took the bottle and handcuffed Vaughn, according to Detective Leroy Spires, who is conducting the investigation.

Vaughn told one officer that he "did not mean to shoot him" and then a few minutes later said, "I shot him because he was an obnoxious d... Yankee," according to Spires.

The gun used was a Wesley .45 caliber handgun from a collection of firearms owned by Vaughn.

Justice of the Peace Bobby West ruled death by gunshot wound. The bullet entered in the lower left side of the chest and exited through the victim's back. There was a shattered china closet where a bullet went through the glass.

The Schummers had been residents of Big Spring three weeks, having moved here from Dallas. Both were employed by a local hotel. She is a waitress and he was a maintenance man.

Funeral services are pending with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Schummer was born Feb. 7, 1925 in Wheaton, Ill. He married Elva June Thompson, Aug. 11, 1965 in Chicago, Ill. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago, and served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters; a son, John Schummer, Chicago; his mother, Mrs. Josephine Alexander, Wheaton, Ill.; a sister; two brothers, Jerry Schummer, Fritz Schummer, residents of Illinois, and a grandson.

GOP committee slated to convene Feb. 15

Winston Wrinkle, Chairman of the Ronald Reagan for President Delegate Selection Committee of Congressional District 17 announced Saturday that the committee will meet on Feb. 15 at 2:00 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Sweetwater. Purpose of the meeting is to choose four delegate nominees to represent Gov. Reagan on the ballot in the May 1 Texas Republican Primary.

The Presidential Primary in Texas was approved by the last session of the Texas Legislature. Often referred to as the "Bentsen bill," it provides that these committees will select the delegate nominees to appear on the ballot in the respective party primaries pledged to either a certain candidate or an uncommitted slate.

"Gov. Reagan's strong showing," Wrinkle said, "is due to his forthright stands in favor of reducing the size of the bureaucracy that now absorbs more than forty-four (44) per cent of our personal income. I think most Texans share Reagan's concern that government has become more intrusive, coercive, meddlesome and less effective."

"His candidacy will be good for the Party and the nation," concluded Wrinkle, "and I believe his excellent record as governor of California proves he has the leadership qualities that Americans would like to see in their President."

"The public is invited to attend, and participate in this important part of our nation's electoral process," said Wrinkle, "and we feel that Reagan's strong grass root support will enable him to win the Texas Primary handsily."

Members of the committee, in addition to Wrinkle, include W. J. Sheppard, G. Ben Bancroft and Polly S. Mays, all of Big Spring; J. Marcus Anderson, Clyde N. Morgan and J. W. Webster, all of Abilene; Marvin W. Sapaugh, Clyde C. Stevenson and Bobby J. Sledge, both of Sweetwater; Gene L. Dulaney, Snyder; John N. Farris, Floydada; and Mark Jones, Graham.

Shut up dog, man is told

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A San Antonio man has been ordered by a district judge to prevent his dog from barking day and night.

Andres Corona was ordered by 166th Dist. Judge Peter Michael Curry to appear in 57th District Court Feb. 11 to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued.

A neighbor, Raymond A. Theriault requested the injunction, alleging Corona's dog was barking incessantly. A temporary restraining order issued by Curry Wednesday requires Corona to prevent the "violent, constant and vicious barking" of his dog.

Expect more indictments against Senate secretary

AUSTIN (AP) — A holdover Travis County grand jury is expected to return at least two more indictments Monday or Tuesday against Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith has said Schnabel will be invited to appear before the grand jury prior to any further indictments, and he said the state needed only one more day to present its evidence to the jury.

But Schnabel will not testify, sources have told The Associated Press, for two reasons: the grand jury has no power to rescind its earlier indictments against him, and it has shown by its unwillingness to hear him before returning those charges that it is likely to return more regardless of anything he might say.

He begged to testify Dec. 30, hours before the grand jury issued one official misconduct and two theft indictments against him, the sources said.

The grand jury has subpoenaed a bank employee and an oil company employee for Monday, and they are to bring all records of Schnabel's personal checking account and purchases on a service station credit card.

The jury also is expected to examine Schnabel's complaint against Alex Martinez, whom he fired Sept. 15 for allegedly stealing state paper. Martinez was supervisor of the Senate Print Shop.

The earlier indictments involve placing a parking lot owner on the Senate payroll for two months to pay for secretaries' parking; placing a camera shop owner on the payroll for one month to pay for a Senate camera; and working a print shop employe on Schnabel's farm.

The employee, Frank J. Smith III, says he volunteered to do the work, would do it again, and he never worked fewer than 40 hours in the print shop in any week that he also worked at the farm.

The new indictments are likely to allege more official misconduct, a felony punishable by a prison term of two to 10 years and a fine up to $5,000.

The strongest of the allegations yet remaining against Schnabel involve the purchase of a hifi set and speakers for Schnabel's office behind the Senate chamber at about the same time in 1971 that a supplement paycheck was issued to Beth Beto, who worked in his office, and the work of five Senate employes to type "heatsheets" at the Texas Relays.

Miss Beto reportedly claims she never got the supplemental paycheck.

To honor Kiwanis governor

Earl Walker, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma District of the Kiwanis Club, will be honored at a banquet 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Big Spring High School cafeteria. This was announced Saturday by Henry Thames, lieutenant governor of the Big Spring district.

Walker, a native of Okemah, Okla., has long been active in Kiwanis activities. He was his club's president in 1969, and lieutenant governor of District 21 from 1970 to 1971. He was on the committee for new club buildings from 1970 to 1974, and was named vice president of the Texas Oklahoma District in 1970.

Walker served as governor elect for the Texas-Oklahoma District from 1974 to 1975, and is acting governor for the district for 1975 through 1976.

He is also active in a variety of civic activities in his home-town area of Okemah.

Favorites selected

Howard College has announced the results of the voting for favorites for the 1975-76 school year. The student body of Howard College voted in December for its choices with the following winners:

- Freshman Class Favorites — Viena Arencibia, 2508 Lynn, Big Spring, Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Armis Arencibia; and Nolan Russell, Rt. 3, Colorado City, Parents: Mrs. Dorothy Russell.
- Sophomore Class Favorites — Debra Williams, 2305 Allendale, Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams; and Jimmy Paye, 515 Murchison, Fayetteville, N.C., Parents: Mr. and Mrs. James Paye.
- Mr. and Miss Hawk — Martha Trevino, Box 1631, Big Spring, Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Trevino; and Marvin Johnson, 236 Cedar, DeRidder, Louisiana, Parent: Mrs. Christine Johnson.

These students will be featured in the college yearbook, The HAWK, and will receive a certificate from the college. The favorites were presented at an all-school dance held to announce the winners.

Trinity Memorial Park purchased by Childress

Trinity Memorial Park and Mausoleum has been purchased by Steve Childress, according to an announcement this week by Orville C. Shapland.

Shapland will remain on a consultant basis for the present time and assist with surveying the work and design of the new section of the cemetery, according to Childress, new president. Childress purchased Shapland's stock.

Childress, who presently resides in Waco, has served for the past three years as national sales director of Southeastern Advertising and Sales System headquartered at Atlanta, Ga.

This firm either owned or operated 18 cemeteries, including Memorial Hill Park in Austin and Waco Memorial Park.

During the time Childress has served as sales director of the company, sales jumped from $1.6 million in 1973 to $3 million during 1975.

A native of West Virginia,

STEVE CHILDRESS

University of Southwestern, La. and has done graduate work at the University of Maryland and Baylor. He was in the service, stationed in Turkey from January 1956-58 prior to receiving his college education.

His wife, Elizabeth, is Hungarian and speaks six languages. They have three sons, Steve, 17; Alex, 15; Tony, 13 and a daughter, Joella, 4. They will be moving to Big Spring in the near future.

At one time, Childress served as a security officer in Washington D.C. in the offices of U.S. Sen. Russell Long. He also at one time served with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He worked five years in the Washington D.C., Baltimore area as a sales manager for Sinclair, now affiliated with Atlantic Richfield.

He is very active in organizations affiliated with cemeteries and mausoleums at a state and national level.

Trinity Memorial Park And Mausoleum Historically

Trinity is the realization of an idealist's dream. In 1917, Dr. Hubert Eaton of Los Angeles conceived a cemetery plan based upon life, not death. He envisioned replacing a cold, forbidding forest of tombstones in grim rows, with a garden setting, flowering plants and shrubs, and well-tended lawns. His cemetery would be a hymn to natural beauty, with bronze memorials level with the lawn and statuary representing man's most creative efforts. From Dr. Eaton's dreams and planning was developed America's most beautiful and famous cemetery — Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

With this thought in mind, O. C. Shapland, former president, chartered Trinity Memorial Park in 1950 to operate under the Texas Perpetual Care Cemetery Law. Under this law a portion of the amount paid for each lot must be set aside and deposited with a bank having a Trust Department. This ever-increasing fund is invested and re-invested by the trust officers in safe securities, then the interest only comes back to the cemetery for use in maintenance or beautification of the developed sections. This Trust Fund is supervised and regularly audited by the State Banking Commissioner.

This fund and many other regulations are designed so that the people of Howard County may be assured of the permanent upkeep of their cemetery.

Over the past 26 years Trinity Memorial Park has grown from the original Garden to 15 fully-developed acres, an additional 15 acres under development, 36 acres set aside for development in the years to come, and 4,000 deeded property owners. This growth could not have been possible without the tireless efforts of the Vice-President, Ray Nichols, Maintenance Superintendent, E. B. Hooper, the cemetery staff, and finally, the support of the community and the residents of Howard County.

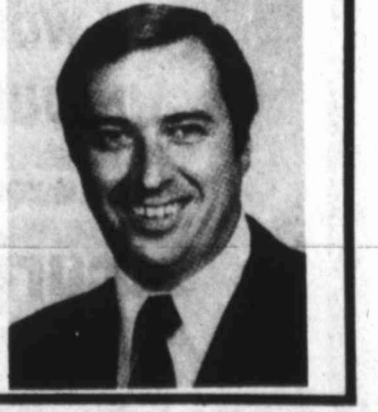

A Philosophy And A Pledge

I have known Mr. Shapland and Trinity Memorial Park for over four years. In that time I became very familiar with the background and history of this beautiful cemetery. Over the years there have been many changes — improved facilities, expanded size, the addition of more beautiful statuary, the ever-growing loveliness of gardens and landscaping. One thing has never changed: the "philosophy of excellence" that has been a guiding light from its very inception — this philosophy has been handed down from Mr. Shapland. All of us, whatever our duties, have a strong sense of pride, of craftsmanship, of satisfaction in a job well done. I think this is reflected in the beauty and serenity that is Trinity — in the meticulous attention to detail — in the smooth and unobtrusive functioning of our courteous staff. Trinity today is unique among Texas cemeteries — not alone for its physical beauty, but for its concept of unsurpassed service.

Our philosophy of excellence is your assurance that Trinity's high standards will remain unchanged — today, tomorrow, and for the years to come. Trinity will forever be a calm place for quiet contemplation — WHERE MEMORY LIVES IN BEAUTY. That is our promise to you.

Gladstone once said, "Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead and I will measure with mathematical exactness the very tender mercies of its people, their respect for the laws of the land, and their loyalty to high ideals." Trinity Memorial Park and Mausoleum speaks well of the Big Spring community and Howard County residents.

Scout dues 'bargain' Boy Scout troop organized in Big Spring during 1911

Boy Scout dues are still a bargain. For many, many years, they remained at 50 cents and finally climbed to $1. Just last year, they went to $2 a year with the price of the Boy's Life magazine going from $2.50 to $3 per year.

Explorers and adults pay $3.50 a year. This all seems much higher, but when you consider that the dues have only gone from 50 cents to $2 in 66 years in comparison to other prices in 66 years, they are still a bargain.

The dues are deliberately kept low so that more youths may take advantage of boy scouting.

Ronald Reagan receives 'ears'

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Republican presidential hopeful Ronald Reagan has received a citizens band radio for his 65th birthday from supporters.

"You can use it in your jeep when you're going out to the ranch," one supporter said during a luncheon Friday.

"Is this the kind that the truckers use to avoid the speed traps?" the candidate asked.

When the supporter said yes, Reagan said, "Well, I guess we'll be getting to the ranch a little faster."

A man named W. D. Boyce, originally from Chicago, was lost in a fog off the coast of England and was rescued by a group of boy scouts. From there, the scouting program began.

Boy scouting began in the United States 66 years ago in 1910 when it was brought here from England.

The first organized boy scout troop west of the Mississippi was Troop 1 in Big Spring, Texas, of which Dave Reynolds was the scout master. It organized in 1911.

Therefore, scouting in this area began in Big Spring and Big Spring has remained a stronghold of scouting in the Buffalo Trail Council and the Lone Star District.

For many years a camporee was held here each spring in the area in the Silver Heels addition. This practice was revised last year when hundreds of boys camped out there one April weekend.

This year, the spring camporee will be April 23 at the Hogan Park in Midland.

However, the local campsite is used by some troop at least twice a month for individual campouts. There was a district camporee held there in October.

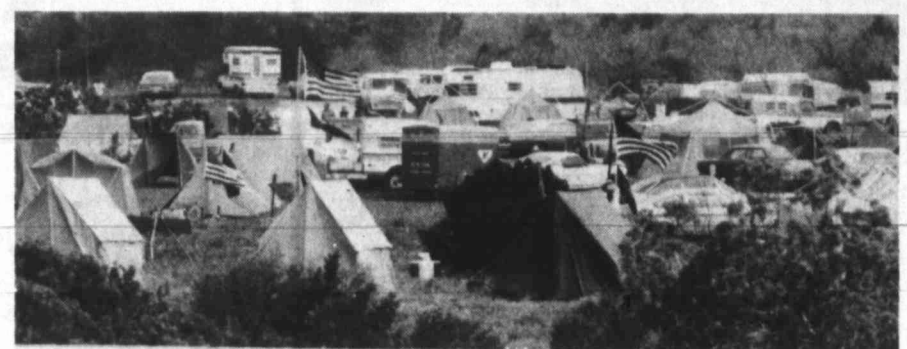

A big bicentennial pageant is scheduled this year to be held on April 30 in the local amphitheater with all cub packs, scout troops and explorer posts to participate, according to Art Hyman, scout executive assigned to Big Spring.

Bill Bradford is chairman of the event and will be assisted by a number of volunteers including Charles Burke, Bill Priebe, and Joe Pickle.

From time to time, local boys get the opportunity to attend national jamborees. There will be one held in 1977 in Pennsylvania and at least two local troops, Troop 5 and Troop 401 are making plans to attempt to attend.

jamboree will be limited to 35,000 youths.

During 1975 there was a world jamboree in Lillehammer, Norway. There were six scouts from the council from the Odessa-Midland area who attended. The last national Jamboree was an east-west program with one group in Pennsylvania and one in Idaho.

$20,000 in gold coins seized

LAS VEGAS (AP) — About $20,000 in gold coins were seized when two Texas men tried to sell them at a coin shop, Las Vegas Metropolitan Police reported.

Roy Gerald Arbuckle, 27, and Terrence L. Ormsby, 25, both of Houston, were booked into the Clark County Jail Friday on charges of possession of cocaine, possession of marijuana, and carrying concealed weapons.

When the men tried to sell the coins, the coin shop clerk became suspicious and notified police.

Davis Mountains ranch lures Buffalo troops

Boy Scouts from Big Spring and other towns in the Buffalo Trail Council can attend Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains in the summer by troops.

A number of troops take advantage of this program. The rugged campsite in the Davis Mountains is well-known and loved by many former scouts.

There have been numerous improvements through the years including a chapel, activities building, swimming pool and enlarged dining hall and many others are planned under a development fund began last year.

The main camp near the entrance to the Scout Ranch is no longer able to accommodate all the troops that want to camp there. The dining hall was rebuilt in recent years, doubling its original size.

A second camp further up the canyons and nearer the highlands area is contemplated.

This will be in what scouter call the park, which is timbered with a large variety of trees.

Improvements and campsites are planned to be constructed so as not to disturb the natural beauty of the facility.

There are also plans

calling for an inter-faith chapel, an activities field, more roads and parking area, storage and water system and enlarging of the swimming pool.

The camp is essentially a wilderness camp, remaining as near unspoiled as is possible.

Scouts also have a camp at Colorado City, donated by the Cosden Oil and Chemical employees from their former camp. This area includes boat piers, storage sheds, picnic areas and campsites.

About 800 boys join scouting events weekly

In the Big Spring area, once a week, some 800 boys are meeting at cub packs, boy scout troops or explorer posts.

Among the active explorer posts are Post 236 at the Veterans Administration Hospital where a medical post is led by Rod Tank. Post 305 is a communications post. Post 246 is a veterans medical post headed by Dr. Larry Brown of Webb; a general interest explorer Post 300 is headed by Paul Sheedy and plans a trip to Colorado this summer; Post 136 is a General Interest Post at Sand Springs headed by Jimmy Wright.

Two new posts are being organized. They are Post 175, a motorcycle post being organized by Jack Irish and a law enforcement post being organized by John Massey at Howard College.

There are numerous boy scout troops, including one sponsored by the American Legion Post 355, one by First Baptist Church, St. Paul's Presbyterian, Northside Methodist, First Christian, Rotary, Kiwanis, Downtown Lions, Westside Community Center, Forsan Oil Well Service, Boy's Club, and the Sand Springs Lions.

Two picked up on dope count

DALLAS (AP) — Two men arriving at Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport on a flight from New York have been arrested by security agents who confiscated nearly seven pounds of cocaine with an estimated value of $1 million.

Len Limmer, director of the D-FW's department of public safety, said the arrest of the two Dallas-area men culminated three months of investigation by airport agents.

The two men, aged 28 and 35, were not identified. They were taken into custody at the Tarrant County Jail in nearby Fort Worth.

Limmer said the two men were arrested as they were trying to load their luggage into their vehicle.

Scouting. It Knows No Limits

There are no city limits or county lines in Scouting. A boy is a boy, whether he comes from a big metropolis or a farming community. His interests may differ, but his high goals never vary—working to better the community or working at developing a personal skill. He will give his all to achieve good sportsmanship as well as to conservation. He is a realist who deals honestly with himself on all counts. Bright, alert and proud of what he stands for, the only limit he might strive for is the sky. We think he'll make it.

Reward offered

BASTROP, Tex. (AP) — Bastrop County Sheriff Jimmy Nutt announced today a reward of $10,000 is being offered for information on the whereabouts of John Whately and his wife or for information leading to their arrest and conviction of their possible abductors.

The millionaire couple was last seen Jan. 27 at their ranch in the community of Hill's Prairie in Bastrop County.

Sheriff Nutt said the reward is being offered by a family member on behalf of relatives living in Austin, Houston, El Paso, Nacogdoches and Oklahoma City.

According to the sheriff, personal belongings such as the 73-year-old Whately's billfold and eyeglasses and his 68-year-old wife's purse, currency were found un- touched in the Whately house.

SNYDER — Tim Watts of Big Spring and Dale Mitchel of Coahoma were among the 67 new members inducted into the Psi Zeta chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at Western Texas College recently.

Phi Theta Kappa is the national honor fraternity for two-year college students. Organized in 1918, it was recognized by the American Association of Junior Colleges in 1929 and now has 458 chapters.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Feb. 8, 1976 7-A

Membership in Phi Theta Kappa is restricted to students who maintain at least a 3.2 grade point average while enrolled for at least 12 hours of college credit work.

Watts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Watts and is a Petroleum Technology major at WTC. He was named to the President's List for the fall semester.

Miss Mitchel was graduated from Coahoma High School and is a sophomore Law Enforcement major at WTC. She is also a member of the Dusters, women's basketball team. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Mitchel.

The amazing Boy Scout

By MARJ CARPENTER

What is a Boy Scout? He is a sharp looking youth in his uniform trying to be friendly, honest and trustworthy, and many other things.

He is a tired youth following an all-night campout when the wind blew the tent down twice.

He is a hungry youth following a hike that went over hills, rocks and through the creek.

He is a quick-thinking youth when he gets the opportunity to use his first-aid training.

He is a disgusted youth when he draws KP twice the same week at camp.

He is an enthused youth as he tells his mother about the snake he killed on a campout.

He is a reverent youth as he sits with his buddies in church on scout Sunday the first Sunday in February.

He is a mischievous youth as he puts crackers in the bed of his leader at camp.

He is simply a boy that received a lot of extra and important training because some adult volunteer cared enough to give it.

He is thankfully part of the future of America.

OUTDOOR CRAFTS — Building campfires is only one of many outdoor activities stressed by boy scouting. Todd Gilbert, Billy Davey and Mike Gild are three of 800 youths in the Big Spring area involved in the boy scouting program at some level.

Getting away from it all

FLASHMAN IN THE GREAT GAME. By George MacDonald Fraser, Knopf. 324 Pages. $8.95.

The latest installment of the adventures of Sir Harry Flashman, culled from his memoirs to delete the really offensive passages, is the ultimate in reading to get away from it all.

Admirers of "Royal Flash," "Flash for Freedom!" and "Flashman at the Charge" will appreciate Flashman's account of the Indian Mutiny of 1857.

George MacDonald Fraser can narrate a good adventure yarn with the best of them. His Flashman, military hero and perfidious cad, fights, runs and loves his way across the Indian subcontinent for the glory of England and Queen Victoria.

(He never could, he says, bear Albert — always had to resist the temptation to put a pinch of pepper down his shirt.)

Cholera, crocodiles and cavalrymen chase Flashman everywhere, but it makes for a very good read.

Is there anyone there?

'Automatic writing'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of seven articles dealing with the supernatural. Automatic writing is the term used to describe the seemingly involuntary movement of the hand when penning words and phrases.)

By STARBUCK WOOLF
Automatic writing is a phenomenon that everyone can become involved in. Unlike astral projection, ESP, divination and other subjects of the supernatural which are intangible to most people, automatic writing can be attempted by anyone with a pen and paper.

Automatic writing is just that — automatic writing, an unwillful movement of the writing hand. Many people claim that writings produced in this manner are nothing more than the "surfacing of the writer's unconscious mind." This is no doubt true in many of the cases, but too many manuscripts written "automatically" cannot be explained by this simple solution.

The best known of all automatic writers was Mrs. Curran, through whom were produced the writings of Patience Worth. Mrs. Curran had no particular interest in history and had certainly never traveled to Europe, yet she produced volumes of seemingly authentic first-hand accounts of Elizabethan England. The style, words and phrases were all absolutely correct for the period.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT?
Another well-known case of automatic writing was Miss Grace Rosher of England. With a fountain pen placed lightly in her hand she found herself writing in a strange handwriting which finally signed itself "William Crookes." On comparison it was found that the writing matched perfectly with that of the late William Crookes, a pioneer in parapsychology.

Some people think that the "spirit" of a dead person takes over the writing hand, and in many cases (as the one above) this does seem to be the case. And a number of these involuntary "mediums" find themselves writing in different scripts at different times, therefore affirming (if you accept the first hypothesis) that more than one "spirit" can use someone for automatic writing.

As mentioned earlier, anyone can take a hand (excuse me) in automatic writing. The method by which most people interested in the subject suggest to begin is by just sitting down to watch television, or to read a book. Place a pen or pencil lightly in your free hand and place it on a sheet of paper.

Then, try to forget completely about your hand... concentrate on the television program or the book. In a half an hour or so, look down at the paper and more than likely you'll find that the hand you thought was inactive, has been moving around, sometimes forming words and phrases.

TAKES PRACTICE
At the outset the writing may not be very legible, but it takes practice and sometimes many sessions before the writing will settle down to one particular style or another.

Try not to be too disappointed if nothing happens the first couple of times you try this. You may be too conscious of your hand. Try to forget it. Just relax and enjoy whatever you are doing.

The method this writer finds most effective is engaging in a little TM (Transcendental Meditation) before attempting a session of automatic writing. Relaxing totally increases the Alpha waves transmitted by the brain. Those waves increase as one relaxes and are at a height during sleep and the dreaming stage.

Laboratory controlled test instruments indicate that Alpha waves seem to have a distinct bearing on psychic phenomenon.

At any rate, meditating (or relaxing if you will) increases those Alpha waves and aids in a successful session of writing. Perhaps the unconscious mind does produce automatic writings, but perhaps a super-relaxed state of mind is conducive to communication with another plane... say the astral world.

A very interesting method of automatic writing is the seance method. A group of people who are interested in having a session should sit around a table with the pinky fingers touching the person's on either side of them.

'NERVES'
One person is appointed "medium" and should only have one hand in the circle. The other hand holds a pen or pencil lightly on a sheet of paper. The "medium" then starts writing his or her own name across the top of the paper, and before long the writing should change. If not, the medium lets her hand stay on the paper until she begins to feel "nerves" in her hand.

Questions can be asked, such as: "Is there anyone there?" This method of automatic writing is very similar to the talking board, or Ouija Board of parlor game notoriety. And a "planchette" can even be improvised to simulate the moving board.

A "planchette" can be made by taking a board (usually round) about six to eight inches in diameter. Fix three legs on the bottom of it, the two rear ones being small ball-bearing type casters, and the front one being the point of a pencil.

In a seance the medium would be resting her hands on the "planchette" instead of a pencil, or any number of people could place their hands on it. The "planchette" will invariably move about irrationally, and you might even be lucky enough to get an occasional message.

Sample questions to ask when participating in group automatic writing are as follows:

Did you once live on Earth?

What was your name in that life?

In what country did you live?

What year did you die?

What was your occupation?

Are any of your descendants still alive?

Are you related to anyone at this table?

What does one experience at the moment of death?

Where are you?

Have you ever lived on another planet?

FOOLISH?
Ask any number of questions you feel like asking. If you feel foolish, well you've felt foolish before. Perhaps you will be rewarded with something totally inexplicable, an experience that will be a mystery you will wish to solve.

Or perhaps you will just be whispering in the wind, completely wasting your time. But then, you've wasted your time before too. Automatic writing could just be the unconscious mind playing tricks on the motor reflexes of the body, or perhaps it is a communication to us from someone or somewhere we are not even familiar with. Who knows?

Celebrate the bicentennial. Secede from the union.

The economists say that 1976 won't be a bad economic year. On the other hand, it won't be a good economic year either.

That means you're going to have to be careful with your money. You're going to have to put it where you can get the most out of it.

That's why it should be in First Federal instead of a credit union. Look at the advantages.

Guaranteed Interest. Every passbook and savings certificate account pays a specified, guaranteed rate of interest. You know how much your money is going to earn. In a credit union, you don't. You have to wait and see how efficiently the credit union has operated during the dividend period.

Better Choice of Plans and Better Rates. We have a variety of plans, including both Passbook accounts and Certificates of Deposit.

The interest on all of them is compounded daily. So, you actually earn more interest than the quoted standard rate.

A Passbook account can be opened for any amount, and it will earn interest for every day it's open. There's no penalty or loss of interest for withdrawing any or all of your funds.

There are also several longer-term, higher-rate Certificates of Deposit. You can choose any one of these:

Maturity Period	Minimum Deposit	Standard Rate	Effective Annual Yield
90 day	$ 500	5¾%	5.92%
1 year	$1,000	6¼%	6.72%
2½ years	$1,000	6¾%	6.98%
4 years	$5,000	7½%	7.79%

Fund Transfer. You can save a little each month by arranging an automatic fund transfer from your checking account. Or, use our TELE-TRANSFER system to transfer funds from your checking account to your savings account, or vice versa with one phone call to us. You get your deposit or drafts made in one day.

Personal Loans and Instant Credit. If your family is buying a car, boat, appliance, or needs another kind of loan, we can help you. It doesn't make any difference whether you have an account with us or not. However, if you do have a First Federal account, you automatically have instant credit up to the amount of your account. You don't even have to wait for a credit check.

Special Interest in Big Spring and Howard County. When you save at First Federal you're contributing to the growth and prosperity of your community. We're deeply involved in financing the housing and construction industry. So, First Federal is committed to the progress of this area, and your deposits are committed to that same progress.

Lost memories return

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Ten years ago Linda Akins lost her purse at an amusement park. She got it back this week, opened it and...gee, times have changed.

"I was 19 when I lost that purse. I'd forgotten what a different time that was," she said Saturday.

Mrs. Akins lost the straw purse in a cave ride at the Six Flags Over Texas park. She was 19 at the time and was on an outing with girlfriends. Workmen found the purse and returned it to her.

She opened the moldy purse—a kind of straw time capsule—and found items from not so long ago. And yet...

There were matches carrying then Humble Oil Co.'s "put a tiger in your tank" slogan.

There was a beer can opener. "Ahhhh," recalled Linda, "that was 1966, before they had pulling soft drink cans."

She was Linda Pike then, working as a grocery store cashier. "Remember those counter checks? You didn't have to have personalized checks. You could write a check on anything. I was making $25 a week. I guess that's why I could afford to write those big checks in my checkbook. Look, I wrote them for $1, for $2.34, and $3.50."

There was a container of aspirin. The price label said 15 cents. "The same tin sells for 52 cents today," she said.

There was an address book filled with names she'd forgotten long ago.

There were cosmetics, including "white look" lipstick. "Why on earth did you take all that makeup just to go to Six Flags?" asked her mother standing nearby. "We thought we might meet some boys," Mrs. Akins, now a high school teacher, said.

And, finally, there was a Brownie Starflash camera.

"It was the latest thing," she said, but it seemed heavy and cumbersome by today's standards. It also was filled with exposed, undeveloped film.

Mrs. Akins quickly turned down her mother's offer to have the film developed.

"Hm...m...m," mused her mother.

NEW YORK (AP) — Five-times-married actress Gloria Swanson has taken a sixth husband — writer William Dufty — after inspiring him to lose 83 pounds.

The ever-slim screen and stage star, 76, disclosed Friday that she and Dufty, 60, were married Monday by Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Allen Myers.

Pizza Hut has record income

Pizza Hut, Inc. (NYSE:PIZ) established a record level of revenues, net income and earnings per share in both the third quarter and the first nine months of the current fiscal year, Frank L. Carney, president and chief executive officer, announced today.

Net sales for the nine months ended Dec. 31, 1975, increased 41 per cent to $180,561,000 and net income increased 45 per cent to $11,558,000 as compared to restated net sales and net income for the same period last year of $128,142,000 and $7,994,000 respectively.

Fully diluted earnings per share for the nine months increased 31 per cent to $1.48 a share compared to a restated $1.13 for the same period last year.

Campaign leaders predict YMCA goal to be reached

Both the YMCA participating membership and the sustaining membership committees are close to achieving their goals as the campaigns grind to a halt.

Friday afternoon, workers in the participating membership drive had turned in $17,742.88 toward a $22,500 goal. Of 76 workers, 49 have turned in reporters while 27 have yet to be heard from.

Campaign leaders said the objective would be reached, when all workers provide reports.

Zale earnings at new high

Zale Corporation set new records for both sales and earnings during the third quarter and the nine months ended December 31, 1975.

Net income hit a high of $30,669,346 or $2.32 per share for the first nine months of fiscal '76 against $26,660,331 or $2.04 per share for the same period a year earlier, while sales rose to $516,197,942, up from $493,803,486.

Third-quarter earnings were $19,055,302 or $1.44 per share compared to $16,354,331 or $1.25 per share a year ago. Sales increased from $213,729,534 to $237,108,092 for the quarter.

"We had our best holiday season ever and registered our first $10-million sales day the Saturday before Christmas," said President Donald Zale.

Atlas resigns post as regent

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — McAllen lawyer Morris Atlas resigned Friday as a regent of Pan American University in order to run for another term as Hidalgo County Democratic party chairman. Atlas was forced to choose between the two posts when an attorney general's opinion held that he could not hold his post on the board of regents at the Edinburg University and retain his post with the Democratic party. He had been a regent at Pan American for the past 11 years and had three years remaining on his current term at the time of his resignation. A replacement for Atlas will be appointed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Move accused kidnaper of child

LUBBOCK — Eileen Rock Lowe, 30-year-old Muleshoe woman accused of kidnaping 10-day-old John Paul Norris in Albuquerque, N. M., has been ordered removed to Albuquerque to face federal kidnaping charges. The infant was taken at gunpoint from the victim's grandmother, Mrs. Lou Norris. The incident occurred Jan. 30.

Crooker's goal

Economical, efficient effective government

Bill Crooker has announced his candidacy for re-election for a third term as County Commissioner, Precinct 3, with his name to appear on the Republican May 1 primary.

Crooker, who lives at 2802 Parkway, has been a resident of Big Spring since 1954. During World War II he came here for training at the Big Spring Bombardier School and served with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

He received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Economics at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Crooker was office manager for Cosden until 1966. He is presently associated with The Prudential Insurance Company.

Mrs. Crooker is the former Joyce E. Glenn and served as a court reporter at the Legal Office at Webb. The Crookers have three children — Mrs. David Profit, who resides in Austin; Billy, a senior at North Texas State University; and Dori, a freshman at Howard College. The family attends St. Mary's Episcopal Church, where Crooker is a lay reader. He has been active in numerous civic activities and is currently a director and president of the Boys Club.

In his statement, Crooker said: "For the two terms I have served I have endeavored to base all my actions and decisions on the best interests and needs of all the citizens of Howard County.

"In 1969, when I sought your support, my goal was economical, efficient and effective county government. You, the voters of Precinct 3, gave me the privilege of serving you and I have strived to fulfill that responsibility so gratefully entrusted.

"During these days, economy is difficult, but I have attempted to curtail county spending as much as possible and limited any further taxation to all citizens. I have a harmonious relationship with the other county commissioners and the City Council and in so doing have sought to attain the ef-

Migrant worker gives up gun

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An armed migrant worker took over a food stamp office with his wife and six children to demand help for his family Friday. He and an accomplice held at least three people hostage for 3½ hours before surrendering and releasing them.

Multnomah County sheriff's deputies arrested Thomas Bornson, 35, and Lonnie Davis, age undetermined, and booked both on kidnaping charges.

Bornson, who said he took over the office to get food and medical aid for his sick infant daughter, wife and five other children, said he had been promised his family would be cared for.

iciency expected of elected officials.

"Local government has been delegated many of the responsibilities of the federal government, and it seems this will continue with proposed legislation — thus, to have an effective court, you should have an experienced commissioner who is familiar with the transition trend and can accept the responsibility at the local level.

"Your vote at this time is of utmost importance because it can determine the future of Howard County. I ask again that you give me your support to continue to have an economical, efficient and effective county government."

Stanton sheriff named to panel

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced Friday that he has reappointed V. F. Neuhaus of Mission and Hugh Wolfe of Stephenville to the board of regents at North Texas State University.

Their new terms expire in 1981.

Briscoe also made the following six-year appointments:

Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education—Rex Kelly of Vanderpool, Sheriff Dan Saunders of Stanton. Dewey Presley of Dallas reappointed.

Trustees, County and District Retirement System—County commissioner Arch Lamb of Lubbock. County commissioner Roy Orr of DeSoto and Judge Ramiro Guerra of Edinburg were reappointed.

State Board of Tuberculosis Nurse Examiners—Kathryn Fortenberry of Decatur was reappointed.

The governor also named J. C. Farris of Houston and C. Ronald Platt and Charles Christensen, both of Austin, to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission for 1976.

Police hunt slayer of two

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Police are looking today for a hitchhiker believed to be in his 50s in connection with the slaying of a woman and her daughter who were found in the trunk of a car partly submerged in Taylor's Bayou.

The two dead women were identified as Rose Martin and her daughter Barbara Jan Webster. Their ages were not disclosed.

A spokesman for the police department said officers received a call about a "car in the bayou" shortly after noon Friday. "We found the two women in the trunk," he said.

He declined to say how the women had been killed, but it was believed they had been stabbed.

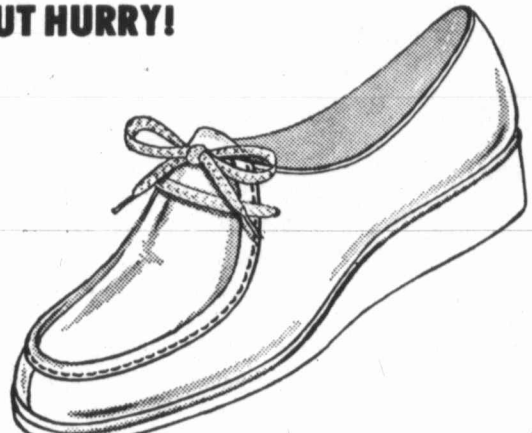

A man believed to be in his 50s reportedly asked the women for a ride and then forced them to drive to the edge of town.

Bulldogettes win, Bulldogs lose

The Coahoma Bulldogettes defeated Hamlin 54-41. The win brings the Bulldogettes District record to 11-1 and season record to 23-4.

The win puts the Bulldogettes into a tie with Anson for the district championship. The Bulldogettes will meet the Anson Tigers in a playoff game to decide the championship.

Coahoma's Deborah Meyer was leading scorer with 31 while Becky Snell had 12.

Forsan splits with G. City

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City girls came on strong in the final period to topple Forsan, 59-41, here Friday night and move a step closer to the District 11-B basketball crown.

Now 8-1 in district and 3-1 this half, the Kittens can win it all by defeating Sterling City here Tuesday night.

CASPER WALKS THROUGH FAIRWAY LAKE — Billy Casper, who was in a tie for second place during the start of the fourth day of the Bob Hope Desert Classic, walks towards the 1st hole of Indian Wells golf course through a lake on the fairway made by the intense rain that halted play Saturday for almost an hour.

Nicklaus, Casper have edge in final rounds

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Buddy Allin still has the lead, but Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper have a tactical advantage going into the windup rounds of the $180,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

He was tied with Casper, who had a 74, Dwight Nevil, 73, and obscure Dave Newquist, 67.

Rik Massengale shot a 71 in the rain and cold wind and was two shots back at 212. The group at 213 included defending champion Johnny Miller, 73, Mason Rudolph, 71, and John Mahaffey, who went over par for the first time this year with a 73.

terms after the first quarter, but by then Permian had built up a 12-point lead 23-11. Permian added to their lead near the end of the game when Big Spring coach James Griffin put his subs into the game. The Steers return home to encounter Midland Lee Tuesday night. Lee was knocked out of a share of the top spot last night in an upset to Abilene Cooper 63-51.

Sands wins two over Klondike

ACKERLY — Sands swept both ends of a conference doubleheader from Forsan here Friday night.

The resident boys won, 68-49, after the Sands girls had upset the team rated No. 1 in Class B competition in the state, 59-53.

The two teams clash in Ackerly next Friday night. Ann Nichols waxed warm for the Sands' girls, scoring 30 points. Leslie Davis tallied 27 for Klondike.

American vaulter jolts fans

ON WAY TO RECORD — Dan Ripley, 22, starts on his way to set a world amateur indoor pole vault record of 18 feet 2 1/4 inches Friday night in the 17th Los Angeles Times Indoor Games track meet.

I DID IT — Dan Ripley, 22, yells with joy after he cleared 18 feet 2 1/4 inches on his first attempt Friday night to set a world amateur indoor pole vault record in the Los Angeles Times Indoor Games track meet.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Athletes from the world over captured most of the events, but it took a couple of powerful home-grown products to earn the headlines at the 17th Los Angeles Times Indoor Games track meet.

And no one looks more like the All-American boy than Dan Ripley, who established a world record of 18 feet 2 1/4 inches in the pole vault Friday night despite not feeling all that good.

"I really wasn't psyched tonight, but I was very relaxed and able to concentrate on my jumping," said the 22-year-old, who has now set world amateur indoor marks three times.

Ripley hit the world mark on his first try and that brought 15,156 fans at the Forum to their feet for almost the first time after a dozen non-Americans had captured events.

The meet started when France's Guy Druet won the 70-yard high hurdles in 7.0 and continued when Jamaican sprinter Don Quarrie won the 60 in 6.1.

One American victor was Mac Wilkins, the massive discus thrower from Oregon.

It's impossible to throw the discus indoors, so Wilkins has switched to the shotput for training purposes and stunned a good group with a lifetime best 68-4 1/2.

"Everything just seems to be clicking for me right now, but I don't think I'll try to double at Montreal unless I can get around 70 feet in the shot," said the 6-foot-4, 235-pound Wilkins. He has a lifetime best in the discus of 219-1 and appears a cinch to make the U.S. Olympic team in that event.

Ripley, who broke his own world mark of 18-1 1/4, rebounded from disappointment last week.

In a meet at Albuquerque, Ripley attempted what he thought was 18-1 1/2, which would have been a new record. He made it, but the bar was remeasured and found to be only 18-1—no record.

"I didn't know the bar was at 18-2 1/4 tonight, but it didn't make much difference," he said. Ripley cleared the height by at least three or four inches. Tom Woods and Dwight Stones battled until past midnight in a thrilling high jump that finally was settled when Woods cleared 7-2 and Stones missed on a jumpoff. Both athletes failed to clear a world record 7-6 after making 7-4 and a jumpoff was necessary to determine the winner. As the bar was raised and lowered, Woods made the 7-2 vault and Stones missed.

Young won't retire

By The Associated Press

Miss Young, who Tuesday announced her plans to marry cyclist James Ochowitz of Milwaukee and to retire, reversed direction on the issue of retirement. The versatile performer, world cycle champion in 1973, said Friday: "I will not retire from speed skating and I will continue cycling, too."

But today's 1,000 meters was to be her last Olympic performance and she was favored to go out in a blaze of glory. Her Friday victory was in a new Olympic record time of 42.76 seconds. Cathy Priestner of Canada was second and Tatiana Averina of the Soviet Union was third, .04 seconds ahead of Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill.

Rumors circulated here that Galina Stepankaya of the Soviet Union, gold medal winner in Thursday's 1,500-meter speed skating event, had failed her drug test, which would have elevated Miss Young to another gold medal. But the rumors proved unfounded.

There was another controversy in speed skating Friday, when Dianne Holum, U.S. figure skating coach, said U.S. Olympic Committee President Phil Krumm had tampered with the team's selection of racers, charging that Krumm forced several selection committee members to vote against a skater following the Olympic trials.

Krumm denied the accusation, saying: "You can't hold trials after the Olympic trials."

The American ice hockey team performed admirably against the mighty Russians, who last month had beaten five of eight teams in the National Hockey League.

SHEILA WINS A GOLD MEDAL — U.S. speed skater Sheila Young of Detroit, Mich., answers newsmen's questions Friday at a news conference held shortly after she won the women's 500-meter speed skating competition. Miss Young won in 42.76, an Olympic record for the event and will be presented with a Gold Medal.

Soviet skates to gold

INNSBRUCK (AP) — Tatiana Averina of the Soviet Union won the women's 1,000-meter speed skating race today at the 12th Winter Olympics and Sheila Young of Detroit picked up her third medal of these Games but failed to capture her second gold.

Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill., was second and Miss Young, the winner of the 500 meters and second-place silver medalist in the 1,500, was third.

Miss Averina set an Olympic record of 1 minute 28.45 seconds. Miss Poulos, who twice had failed to win a medal, clocked 1:28.57 and Miss Young was timed in 1:29.14. The old record was 1:31.40 set in 1972 by Monika Holzner of West Germany.

And the Russian pair of Irina Rodnina and Alexander Zaitsev held a commanding lead as the figure skating competition went into the freestyle segment, the last phase of the competition.

Young wins third

INNSBRUCK (AP) — Speed skater Sheila Young, on a collision course with history, missed her prime target but still came away with a bronze medal today to wind up a sparkling Olympic career that ranks with the best in American history.

No other American has ever won three medals in one Winter Olympics.

Having gained the attention of the sports world, the former waitress from Detroit was attempting a unique triple play in the 12th Winter Games today. First there was a silver medal in the 1,500-meter race, then a gold in the 500, and today she was seeking immortality with the pursuit of a second Winter Games gold medal.

Had she flashed across the finish line with the fastest time today, Miss Young, the 25-year-old speed skating sensation from the frozen ponds of Michigan, would have placed herself in the company of only two other Americans who have won double gold medals at a Winter Olympics.

And, with a silver medal added to her bounty, Miss Young's achievement would have surpassed John Shea and Irving Jaffee, who both won two gold medals when the United States swept the men's speed skating events in 1932.

But in the end, it was not to be as Miss Young failed in what she calls her best event, the 1,000 meters, losing to both Russia's Tatiana Averina and Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill.

"I'd rather have one gold than four silvers," Miss Young said.

Miss Young said that she would compete in the World Skating Championships later this year and then retire and marry her fiancé, James Ochowitz of Milwaukee, an Olympic cyclist.

Racing in her third event in three days, Miss Young said, "my legs didn't feel good."

There was a false start in her race but she said that did not distract her. "Sometimes they help relieve the tension," she said.

ACC teams have an amazing record of 70-8 vs. interconference foes

By The Associated Press

Think the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball teams have been tough on each other this year? Look at what they've been doing to everyone else.

The ACC teams, who have knocked each other around with little regard to national or conference ranking, have a stunning won-lost record against outside opposition.

Fourth-ranked North Carolina and 10th-ranked North Carolina State improved that record to a dazzling 70-8 with victories Friday night. The Tar Heels beat Georgia Tech 79-74 and the Wolfpack routed

NATIONAL AND AMERICAN LEAGUE BASEBALL ALL-STARS TO BE FEATURED IN "THE GREAT CBS ALL AMERICAN MAJOR LEAGUE SOFTBALL GAME," FEB. 21

"The Great CBS All American Major League Softball Game," with teams comprised of National and American League baseball all-stars who could probably make a run at the 1976 World Series, battle for $30,000 prize money and bragging rights in a charity game to be played at the Boca Raton Hotel & Club in Florida and to be broadcast on "CBS Sports Spectacular," Saturday, Feb. 21 (5:00-6:00 PM, ET) on the CBS Television Network.

Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates, twice the homerun hitting king of the National League and six times an All-Star choice, will captain that team, and Jim Rice, rookie sensation of the Boston Red Sox, with a .309 batting average, 22 home runs, and 102 runs batted in his rookie year, will captain the American League team.

"It's been ten years since I played softball," says Stargell, "but I'm totally looking forward to it" — a comment that unquestionably reflects the attitude of both teams in what shapes up as a combination of free spirits and top talent.

Following are the lineups, with 1975 batting averages:

Furman 102-76 in the annual North-South doubleheader at Charlotte.

"I enjoyed the game, but it probably wasn't very exciting for the fans," said North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan, indicating relief from the tension of the mad ACC race.

Kenny Carr scored North Carolina State's first 16 points and wound up with 39 in the lopsided contest.

"He pushed himself and played real hard," Sloan said.

Phil Ford scored 20 points and North Carolina overcame the loss of center Mitch Kupchak with an eye injury to beat Georgia Tech.

"I was pleased by our performance and the way our team hung on to win," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith. "This was the kind of game you need to win. Maybe we weren't ready for Tech but that was my fault."

In other games involving ranked teams, No. 3 Nevada-Las Vegas was upset by Pepperdine 93-91 and No. 15 Princeton whipped Columbia 69-53.

Carr, a 6-foot-7 sophomore who led the ACC with a 29-point scoring average before the game, equalled that figure in the first half against Furman, hitting 13 of 16 shots. Most were layups or short jumpers as he hit eight times in less than eight minutes for a 16-10 Wolfpack lead over the Southern Conference team.

Carr finished with 15-of-24 shots from the field, 9-of-13 from the foul line and 20 rebounds as his team, 16-3, hit the century mark for the eighth time this season.

Kupchak, North Carolina's top rebounder and a 17.9 points-per-game scorer, was struck in his left eye in the fifth minute against Georgia Tech and never returned. He complained of double vision and was taken to a hospital for examination.

Without Kupchak to contend with, Georgia Tech, 8-11, ran up an early 24-10 lead. After North Carolina battled back with 10 straight points, the teams were tied at the half at 42. North Carolina took the lead for good at 65-63, then resorted to its four-corner spread offense over the last five minutes to stay in front.

Ollie Matson, Jr., hit a jump shot with five seconds left to give Pepperdine a shocking upset over previously unbeaten Nevada-Las Vegas. It was the first loss in 23 games this season for Jerry Tarkanian's team, which had swamped Pepperdine 118-101 in their last meeting. Barnes Hauptfuhrer scored 19 points to lead Princeton past Columbia and boost the Tigers' Ivy League record to 5-0.

SCOT elects new officers

AUSTIN — A Wichita Falls radio newsman and outdoorsman, Joe Tom White, has been elevated to the Presidency of the statewide Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, Inc. (SCOT).

White, immediate past Vice President and former Director of SCOT, has been associated with radio station KWFT in Wichita Falls since 1959. He is News Editor at that CBS affiliate and for the past 17 years has broadcast twice-daily outdoor programs.

The 36-year old newsman has served on the Board of Directors of the 3,000 family member Northwest Texas Field & Stream Association since 1959 and was President in 1965. He has been Publishing Chairman of the Field & Stream Association's monthly, "Family Sportsman", for 17 years.

White, a native of Vernon, was graduated in 1962 from Midwestern University with a B. S. in Agriculture. He served two years in the US Army Signal Corps as a First Lieutenant.

The new SCOT President — who assumed the Presidency following the resignation of O. R. Crawford of Houston — serves on a number of Boards, including: Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Wichita County Livestock Association and Cancer Society. He was listed this year in the American Biographical Institute's "Personalities of the South" edition.

TALKING WITH THE FOLKS BACK HOME — Sheila Young of Detroit, Michigan talks with the folks back home Saturday after the speed skater won her third Olympic medal in Innsbruck, Austria. Miss Young, whose time was 1:28.43, won the bronze medal in the women's 1,000 meter speed skate match. Tatiana Averina of the Soviet Union and U.S. teammate Leah Poulos won first and second respectively.

Beauties chosen by sorority sisters

MRS. JEANANNE GAFFORD
Alpha Beta Omicron

Beta Sigma Phi Valentine sweethearts

Valentine sweethearts representing the local Beta Sigma Phi chapters are selected for their beauty and loyalty to the chapters.

The sweethearts will be presented during the BSP Valentine Ball planned for Saturday evening in the Dora Roberts Community Center.

Opus III will provide dancing music from the hours of 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Tickets for the event are $10 per couple if purchased prior to the dance and $12 at the door.

Mrs. Karen Frette will represent the Beta Sigma Phi City Council. She is the president of Alpha Beta Omicron which she has belonged to for two years. She has also served as vice president of the chapter. Mrs. Frette has been a member of BSP chapters in Mississippi and Lubbock, totaling eight years.

Representing Alpha Beta Omicron chapter is Mrs. Jeanne Gafford. She has been a member of the sorority for three years and is serving as vice president this year. Mrs. Gafford has held the office of corresponding secretary in past years. She is the chairman of rush activities this year.

Mrs. De Anne Tucker was chosen as Valentine sweetheart by the members of Alpha Kappa Omicron. She is serving as vice president this year. She was corresponding secretary in past years. Mrs. Tucker has been a BSP member for two years.

Mrs. Pam Carroll is representing Beta Omicron chapter. She has been a member for four years and is presently recording secretary and city council representative. She was a member of a Nu Phi Mu chapter and was elected sweetheart of her chapter. She has held every office in the BSP chapter except president and vice president.

Members of Mu Zeta chapter selected Mrs. Suzanne Haney as their Valentine sweetheart. She is presently serving as vice president of the chapter. She has been in the Mu Zeta chapter for two years and was enrolled in the Stanton Rho Xi chapter for one year. Mrs. Haney has held the office of recording secretary. She is in charge of membership this year.

Mrs. Melba Smith was chosen to represent Xi Pi Epsilon. She is president of the chapter. Mrs. Smith has been in Xi Pi Epsilon for two years. She was a member of Beta Omicron for four years and a member of a Midland and an Abilene chapter for one year each. She has held all offices but recording secretary.

Beta Omicron was in charge of selecting the place, date and band for the dance.

The presentation of the sweethearts will be handled by Xi Pi Epsilon. The chapter members also were in charge of tickets and reservations.

Decorations depicting the theme of "Moonlight and Roses" will be designed by members of Mu Zeta, Alpha Kappa Omicron and Alpha Beta Omicron.

Mu Zeta was in charge of publicity for the Valentine Ball.

Mike Dierdorf will be the master of ceremonies for the dance.

Anyone wishing to attend the Valentine Ball may contact Mrs. Jo Ogle at 263-1646 or Mrs. Lou LaRochelle at 263-4490 for ticket information.

Miss Tollett honored at Friday bridal shower

Miss Ann Tollett, bride-elect of Grady Cunningham, was honored Friday morning at the Big Spring Country Club with a coffee-shower.

Hostesses for the event included Mrs. Ray Boren, Mrs. Cui Grigsby, Mrs. Joe Moss, Mrs. Leland Pierce and Mrs. Houston J. Zinn.

The room was decorated in blue and white, the bride-elect's selected colors.

Her floor length blue floral gown was complemented with a white corsage. Corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. Iris Tollett, and Mrs. L. M. Cunningham, mother of the bridegroom.

The registry table was graced with a bud vase holding a single blue carnation and a blue plumed pen with the white bride's book.

Gifts were displayed on a table covered with white and blue and the refreshment table was laid in white cutwork over a blue floor-length cloth.

The centerpiece was a floral arrangement of blue and white carnations and daisies in a silver epergne. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve hot spiced tea and coffee, miniature sausages and rolls.

One out of town guest, Mrs. Jake Springer of Andrews, was among those attending the event.

Also assisting at the shower were Mrs. Louise McAdams, Mrs. G. E. Peacock, Mrs. Alvin Thigpen, Mrs. James Raoul, Mrs. Hayden Griffith and Mrs. Roy Lassiter.

Altar Society meets Tuesday

The Altar Society of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church met Tuesday evening in the school hall.

The Rev. Ralph Zinzer was a guest. He is in charge of parish needs in the absence of the Rev. Louis Moeller.

The Altar Society will host the March meeting of Church Women United on March 5 at 10 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

March 5 is World Day of Prayer.

The next business meeting of the Altar Society will be March 1.

Open house Wednesday

The Office Education Association of Big Spring High School will have an open house on Feb. 11.

The club plans to feature a Valentine theme.

Employers, supervisors, parents, administration, faculty and former students are invited to attend. The open house will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

MRS. MARK LEE EARHART

Miss Guertler weds in Abilene

Miss Nancy Lee Guertler became the bride of Mark Lee Earhart in a ceremony performed Saturday evening in the First Baptist Chapel, Abilene.

Dr. James Zambus united the couple. Dan Bentley, organist, provided nuptial selections during the wedding ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton B. Guertler of Abilene. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Earhart, Gail Route, Big Spring.

Mrs. Earhart graduated from Cooper High School in Abilene. She attended Hardin-Simmons University.

Earhart is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Sul Ross State University. He is employed by Sul Ross in Alpine.

The couple will make their home in Alpine.

Valentine customs

Feb. 14, St. Valentine's Day, is traditionally the day when birds choose their mates. According to Hallmark Cards researcher Sally Hopkins, there's a legend in the English countryside that if a girl sees a rooster and a hen outside her front door on Valentine's Day morning, she'll be married within a year. Another myth from Olde Engleland says that if a girl places a sprig of bay leaves sprinkled with rose water under her pillow on Valentine's Eve, she will see her future husband in a dream.

RSVP Council plans future projects

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program Advisory Council discussed upcoming projects for Dawson, Mitchell and Howard counties at the Tuesday meeting.

Council members met at the Big Spring Senior Citizen Center.

Tentative dates for the RSVP coffees have been set. A coffee will be held in Big Spring Feb. 26 at the Howard County Senior Citizen Center. The Colorado City RSVP coffee will be on Feb. 17. March 4 will be the date of the Lamesa coffee.

Big Spring volunteers are needed to help replace bottle caps on prescription bottles in the Veterans Administration Hospital pharmacy. They will be replaced with child-proof caps.

RSVP staff members will deliver the bottles to volunteers and pick them up when the project is completed on Tuesday.

Anyone interested in assisting with the project may contact the RSVP office at 267-2261.

Club members construct sand sculpture

Members of the Newcomers' Handicraft Club worked on sand art projects during the Wednesday morning meeting in the home of Mrs. Sharon De La Rosa.

Mrs. Jean Denton was the hostess.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Millie Moore, Mrs. Carol Simmons, Mrs. Jackie Zimmerman.

Members presented a baby plaque to Mrs. Silvia Acosta.

Club members gave a macrame plant hanger to Mrs. Ann Holcomb. The gift was given in appreciation of her work on the bicentennial quilt project.

Members voted to adopt secret pals.

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 18. Members will meet in the home of Mrs. Jean Denton, 188A Hunter. Mrs. Alicia Perez will be the hostess.

Leap year customs, history

Leap Years like 1976, when February has 29 days and it's ok for women to ask men to marry them, go back to 46 B. C. In that year, says Hallmark researcher Sally Hopkins, Julius Caesar's astronomer discovered the solar year has 365 days, 6 hours. So they invented the Julian calendar, inserting an extra day every four years to eliminate the quarter-days. Nobody knows when the leap year custom of women proposing to men began. But Hallmark's Sally Hopkins quotes a Scottish law of 1288 that reads as follows: "It is ordained that during leap year any maiden lady of high or low estate shall have the liberty to bespeak the man she likes. Albeit he refuses to take her to be his lawful wife, he shall be mulcted in the sum of one pound, except he can make it appear that he is betrothed to another."

Nuts 'N Bolts supper show Forum slates student recitals

By JAMES WERRELL
A new group called Friends of the Family Service Center is kicking off a special project immediately after getting organized. To raise funds for the center, the group will hold a Nuts 'N Bolts Supper Show at the Dora Roberts Community Center 7:30 p.m. Friday. Music and entertainment will be furnished by the ever-popular Nuts 'N Bolts group from First United Methodist Church. The meal will be catered by Al's Barbecue. Tickets may be purchased for $5 by contacting Mrs. Guilford Jones III, Mrs. Robert Owens or at the Family Service Center offices at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

The American Freedom Train that everybody is talking about will be at the Midland-Odessa Regional

NCO wives elect officers

The Non-Commissioned Officers' Wives Club elected new officers for the coming six months at the January meeting.

Officers elected were Mrs. Janie Harmon, president; Mrs. Jean Murphy, first vice president; Mrs. Nan Buske, second vice president; Mrs. Shari Fuhrer, secretary; and Mrs. Karen Parry, treasurer.

Installation was performed Jan. 25 by Col. Robert F. Brodman at a dinner meeting at the Brandin' Iron Restaurant.

Mrs. Harmon extends an invitation to all wives of non-commissioned officers to join the group at the next social on Feb. 24. Women interested may contact Mrs. Harmon at 263-3073 or Mrs. Buske at 267-2273.

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

BIG SPRING — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement. Send for this non-operating model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any hearing aid, this non-working model will show you how tiny hearing help can be, and it's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Beltone Hearing Aid Service, 4233 N. Dixie Blvd., Odessa, Texas 79762. Dial 915-362-0261.

Another program sponsored by Tech will be an appearance by Dr. Martin Luther King, Sr., father of the much-revered civil rights leader. He will speak of early days with his family and his concepts of non-violence. Tickets will be on sale at the University Center Ticket Booth and will be $1 for Tech students and $1.50 for general admission.

The Herald would appreciate hearing from Big Springers who know of local entertainment or social functions, open to the public, that could be announced in "For Your Pleasure."

Members of the Piano Teachers Forum discussed future recitals at the Monday evening meeting. Members met in the home of Mrs. Ann Houser.

A bicentennial recital featuring local piano students will be held in October.

Members approved plans for a piano workshop in September.

Mrs. Ann Cheatham will be the chairman for the student recital on Feb. 22. The piano concert will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the Howard College auditorium.

Mrs. Chester Barnes and Mrs. Fred Beckham led a discussion about the different school of piano technique.

Mrs. Linda Mason, will host the next meeting in her home at 2200 Lynn. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m., March 1.

Cowbelles set Tuesday meeting
The Tejas Cowbelles will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Furr's Cafeteria. Plans for Agriculture Day, March 22, are in progress. Mrs. J. M. Sterling is committee chairman for the State Cowbelles. Mrs. E. P. Driver is the local chairman for Agriculture Day activities. Mrs. William Gressett and Mrs. Sterling will be the speakers at Agriculture Breakfast on Feb. 17. They will explain the beef referendum plan. Anyone interested in joining the Cowbelles are invited to attend a meeting.

Rinse Away Blackheads

See Blackheads "Wipe Off" After A Single Queen Helene Skin Treatment

By INA LEE

Look! See them come off on your cleansing tissue — and without squeezing or digging!

With luke-warm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your tissue. And your skin feels clean — really clean — and refreshed and smooth, like velvet!

Pore Sponging & Closing
The third step in the treatment is an exhilarating application of a unique anti-septic astringent — a facial "mint julep" that sponges and tightens emptied pores and tones up your complexion.

Nothing Else Like It
Even after a single treatment, women who have been troubled by blackheads for years see a marked improvement. Many find it hard to believe their eyes. Some blackheads and whiteheads just rinse away. Others are softened and made ready to be drawn out by future treatments. Enlarged pores appear to be smaller. The skin looks smoother and firmer — feels fresher and more alive!

In short, after a single treatment taking only 15 minutes, you can expect to see results that normally you would not dare hope for even after many weeks... but don't expect everything at once. Damage done by years of neglect can't be undone in a day. Yet with 3 or 4 treatments a week, you may confidently look forward to startling complexion improvements within 30 days. Then one treatment a week — or every second week — will probably be all your skin will need to keep it clear, lovely and healthy looking.

The medically developed products used in this treatment are manufactured and quality-controlled by QUEEN HELENE. They are Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream, Queen Helene Medicated Masque and Queen Helene Penetrating Astringent. The three items are sold as a complete skin and beauty kit for $5.00. Quite a bargain when you think of what it will do for a person's good looks — and self-esteem!

LGA has Friday luncheon meeting

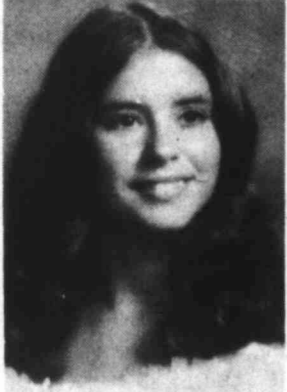

The Ladies Golf Association held its monthly luncheon Friday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Louise McAdams presided at the meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Adolph Swartz and Mrs. Jim Owens.

Visitors at the meeting included Mrs. Helen McCrary and Mrs. Hubert Stiff.

Mrs. Swartz won the attendance prize.

MARRIAGE PLANS — Mr. and Mrs. Valcus E. Best of Coahoma announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Valrae, to Ralph Sides, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sides of Jacksonville. The couple will be married May 29 in the Coahoma Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Charles Murphy officiating.

shallow well-drained soil or in rock crevices. Conditions in which violets thrive provide low light intensity, high rainfall and humidity and average temperature of 60 to 80 degrees.

She said that the African violet will adapt and grow to flower under low light intensity found in the average home. Mrs. Wilkinson said that if natural light is lacking violets will grow successfully under fluorescent light.

Light and humidity are important conditions affecting the growth of the leaves. Temperature and the supply of fertilizers affect both leaf and root growth, she said.

Mrs. Wilkinson explained that it is possible to tell from the violets' appearance whether it is getting too much or too little light.

Insufficient light is probably the most common reason for failure to bloom, she commented.

Mrs. Wilkinson suggested that violets should not be exposed to direct sunlight. She explained that light intensity can be accurately measured with light meters. She gave a simple test of proper light intensity for violets. A hand held over the plant on a bright day should produce a barely visible shadow on the leaves.

Mrs. Wilkinson explained that violets grown under properly regulated fluorescent light usually have better flower and leaf color, grow more rapidly and flower more profusely than those grown under natural light.

Violets grown under artificial light will appear drier than those grown under natural light. More water and food are necessary for plants grown under artificial light.

Constant feeding has been proven successful. Mrs. Wilkinson stated. She suggested that plants be kept slightly moist to the touch.

MRS. STEVE CROFT

Shari Nix weds Steve Croft

Miss Shari Nix and Steve Croft exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony held Saturday evening in the Central Baptist Church in Elbow.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nix, Sterling City Route, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McCarty, 706 Bell.

The Rev. Bill Ballard officiated at the ceremony.

The bride chose to wear a formal-length gown of white lace over bridal satin. The dress was styled with a square neckline accented with seed pearls and sequins. The long sleeves formed petal points over the hands. Her chapel-length train swept to back fullness from a large bow at the waistline. The train was appliqued with sequins and seed pearls. Her three-quarter length veil fell from a bandeau of lace petals.

Miss Lee Ann Neill of Coahoma served as maid of honor. Bridal attendants were Miss Shawna Nix, sister of the bride, Miss Denise Bedwell and Miss Macell McDonough.

Arland McCarty of Odessa was the best man. Groomsmen were Ronnie Shultz, Mike Paul and Richard Nix. Ruthie Sides, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Ray Nix, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Candle lighters were Tina and Karla Nix.

Ushers were Ricky Sides and David Buckner, both brothers of the bridegroom. A reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the home of the bride's parents. Serving at the reception were Miss Debbie Kinsey, Miss Marie McDonough and Miss Jeannie Paul.

Miss Shari Sides registered the guests. The bride attended Forsan High School. Croft attended Big Spring High School and is employed at Firestone.

Home League meets Tuesday

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army met Tuesday morning at the Citadel.

Members discussed plans to order bicentennial calendars published by the Salvation Army.

Women planned to attend the League of Mercy workshop in San Angelo. Workers will be instructed on rest home work and volunteer programs.

Mrs. Nella Stephens presented Mrs. Brigadier Robert Ball with a welcome gift. She is the wife of the new commanding officer of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Stephens gave the devotional on praying hands. A Valentine party and quarterly birthday celebration are planned for the Tuesday meeting to be held at the Citadel.

Mrs. Daniels speaks about Indian history

Mrs. Anita Daniels presented a program on Indian history at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the 1965 Hyperion Club. Members met in the home of Mrs. H. C. Ernsting.

Mrs. Robert Penner and Mrs. Jack Powell were cohostesses.

Mrs. Daniels reviewed the history and life style of the Comanche Indians living in Texas. She also included brief summaries of the history of other wandering tribes in Texas.

Members will meet at 10:30 a.m., March 2 in the home of Mrs. L. B. Edwards. They will go to Midland for a luncheon at the Midland Country Club and for a tour of the Permian Basin Museum.

Focus on family living Gardening activities begin in February

By SHERRY MULLIN COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Dr. William Peavy, area horticulturist for Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has compiled monthly gardening calendars.

The February calendar which follows lists gardening activities that should be done this month.

1. If you missed planting the season vegetables in January (cabbage, lettuce) you can still plant a seed tray to February 15, grow on a windowsill, and transplant about March 15.

2. Best time to transplant cabbage and lettuce outdoors is February 15-28.

3. Make a planting plan and order seeds for your food garden if not done already.

FLOWERS

1. Begin preparing flower beds for annuals.

2. Sow these annuals direct to flower beds: balsam, cornflower, four o'clock, hollyhock, California poppy, annual phlox and nasturtium.

3. Sow these annuals in flats indoors for planting in April after danger of frost is past: astor, candlestick tree, coxus, petunia, geranium, periwinkle, and marigold.

4. Plant summer flowering bulbs: dahlia, canna, and oxalis.

5. Plant gladiolus at two week intervals to prolong bloom.

6. Pansies (Viola tri-color) — apply a light application of fertilizer.

TREES

1. Pecan trees — for trees 1 year or older, apply 0.2 — 0.3 lbs. actual nitrogen plus 1 lb. of zinc sulfate per inch of trunk diameter in vertical bands 1 yard apart in soil under dripline of tree (holes

16-20" deep) and water in. For newly planted trees, wait until July to fertilize.

2. Other trees — if growth has not been satisfactory apply 0.2 lb. nitrogen per inch of trunk diameter.

SHRUBS

1. Check for scale insects and if found, spray with dormant oil.

2. Complete dormant season pruning of evergreen and summer flowering plants.

3. Continue to select and plant landscape plants according to plan.

4. Non-climbing roses — Prune from Feb. 20-March 10. Select four to six of the healthiest canes and cut back to twelve-fifteen inches. Remove other canes.

5. Climbing Roses — Wait until after the spring flush of bloom. Remove or cut back any cane over 2 years old. Thin last season's growth by at least one-half. Cut other canes back to three inches to encourage new growth.

GENERAL

1. Soil moisture check — check lawns 8" deep and shrub or perennial flower-beds or trees 12" deep to see if soil is moist. If not, irrigate.

2. Check for scale insects. If found, spray with dormant oil.

Tuesday shower honors Mrs. Langston

Mrs. Daniel Langston was honored Tuesday evening at a bridal shower held in the home of Mrs. J. O. McCrary. Mrs. Langston is the former Kelley McCrary. She was married Jan. 17 in her parents' home.

Moss PTA to sponsor workshop

The Moss Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a parent and family life education (PAFLE) workshop at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The workshop will be held in the Moss school cafeteria. The goal of the PAFLE workshop is to help parents meet their responsibilities more effectively and to build stronger family units. Dr. Jim Lewis will present a program on transactional analysis. The program is designed to help individuals understand themselves and their moods. Lewis is director of planning and evaluation of the West Texas Education Center. Interested persons are invited to attend the workshop. For more information, contact Mrs. Sherry Wegner at 263-4832.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. George Bair, Mrs. Leon Kinney, Mrs. Roy Tidwell, Mrs. Neil Norred, Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. Ward Hall, Mrs. Roy Lassiter, Mrs. John Affleck, Mrs. E. P. Driver, Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., Mrs. Robert Satterwhite and Mrs. Clyde Johnston.

They gave the honoree an electric toaster. The honoree and the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. J. B. Langston, were given corsages of white carnations.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with an imported white embroidered batiste cloth over a yellow liner. A centerpiece of pastel spring flowers and candles adorned the table. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Serving at the reception were Miss Carol Arbuckle, Miss Dona Carpenter, Miss Lorie Little, and Miss Brenda Nethers.

Miss Debbie Burks registered guests. Special guests from Fort Worth were Mrs. Mamie Thompson and Mrs. Nancy Smith, grandmother and aunt of the honoree.

Rebekahs install officers

Two officers were installed at the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekahs in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Jana O'Brien was installed as conductor and Mrs. Lavelle Hill was installed as outside guardian.

Mrs. Billie Martin presided at the meeting. Expressions of thanks were given to Mrs. Gladys Fiveash and Charles Leek. Mrs. Fiveash installed the carpet in the lodge anteroom and Leek installed the new outside lodge door.

Mrs. Martin appointed members to the February refreshment and program committees.

Leek reported on the Stanton meeting held Saturday evening which several members attended. All members are invited to attend a Valentine party at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the lodge.

Parents Club slates antique show in April

Immaculate Heart of Mary Parents Club members made initial plans for an antique show at the Tuesday evening meeting in the school hall.

The antique show and sale will be held April 9-10 in the Highland Center mall.

Antique dealers and craftsmen who wish to participate in the show are invited to contact Mrs. George Wilson, 435 Hillside Drive, 263-8126.

George Wilson presided at the meeting. Members approved a donation to the school scholarship fund in memory of Mrs. Ruth Sneed.

They also voted to donate funds to the Junior Girl Scout Troop 80.

Wilson appointed members of an officers nominating committee.

Mrs. Virginia Ross thanked club members for their participation in the Campbell's Soup labels collection. The labels will be used to purchase physical education and playground equipment.

Leap year load of valentines

More cards are sent for Valentine's Day (Feb. 14) than any other occasion except Christmas. The average American, says Hallmark Cards researcher Sally Hopkins, sends five, and 80 per cent of the buyers are women. This year, being leap year, an extra-large volume of valentines is expected to go through the mails — 500 million is the estimate. Judging by previous years, says Sally Hopkins, roughly a third of the cards will be either unsigned or marked "guess who?"

A workshop on crafts using sea shells will be held Friday in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. The session will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Miss Sherry Mullin will demonstrate slow cookery on Feb. 17 in the Reddy Room. Each member attending is to bring a covered dish for a noon luncheon.

Mrs. W. N. Woods will be the hostess. Mrs. O. E. Hamlin gave a demonstration on making yarn flowers at the Tuesday meeting.

Dear Abby

Husband's free time tied up by family

DEAR ABBY: My husband is being used by his family, only he can't see it.

He works six days a week, and I like to plan something for us to do together on his day off.

Well, three weeks ago, his mother called on his day off and asked if he would take her shopping. He said yes, so there went our plans.

The next week, his sister called and asked if he would help her move on his day off. He said he would, so there went our plans for the day again.

Last week, his brother called and said he needed help to unload a truckload of wood, so my husband, the fool, spent his whole day off helping his brother.

I finally got mad and told him that he was putting his family before me, and he said, "Well, I've known them for 21 years, and I've known you only a year and a half."

When do you think he will start putting me ahead of them?

EVERYBODY BEFORE ME

DEAR EVERYBODY: According to the way your husband figures, it will take at least another 20 years.

DEAR ABBY: A man I had always thought was married asked me for a date. I turned him down, saying I do not date married men.

He then told me that he was not really "married" because he is a Catholic and he was married by a justice of the peace, so in the eyes of the Church he is single.

Is that right?

Please let me know because it's against my principles to go out with married men. Thank you.

PLAYING IT SAFE

DEAR PLAYING: Unless this man obtained a legal divorce, in the eyes of the LAW he is married.

DEAR ABBY: Clyde and I have been dating for eight months. We love each other very much and have talked about getting married.

We eat out on weekends and take turns paying for the meal. (We both have good jobs.) Here's the problem:

I am a very slow eater, and Clyde eats fast. While I'm eating my first course, Clyde eats his, plus his salad, and then he eats my salad, too.

When the main courses come, he devours his in no time, and then reaches over and starts in on mine. Before I've had three bites, Clyde has eaten everything on my plate!

I don't order dessert anymore because Clyde gobbles his up and mine, too.

What kind of husband do you think he'd make? His hogghishness is not only disgusting and embarrassing, it leaves me...

HUNGRY

DEAR HUNGRY: Clyde's hogghishness isn't your only problem. An appalling lack of communication between two people who "love each other" is just as serious.

What's wrong with telling Clyde how you feel about his eating habits? Do that, and then you'll know what kind of husband he'd make.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (26¢) envelope.

Prevention of tooth decay depends on individual

This is the last in a series of articles by Dr. Ben Anderson on dental health. The Big Spring Herald is printing the articles in cooperation with the Permian Basin District Dental Society in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 1-7.

"I have seen news articles recently which say that tooth decay will soon be completely eliminated as a disease problem. Is this really true?"

Tooth decay will not be totally eliminated, at least in the foreseeable future.

Jo Bright speaks to Hyperion Club

Mrs. Jo Bright presented a program on the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Services during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the 1946 Hyperion Club.

Mrs. Bright explained the various volunteer assignments that are offered at the State Hospital. Mrs. Bright is the assistant coordinator of Volunteer Services.

Mrs. Ron McNeil was cohostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gary Turner. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m., March 3.

However, it can be prevented in large part even today if individuals take advantage of proven public health measures, professional treatment, and complete home care.

One of the well-established and most effective decay preventives is fluoridation of public water supplies. Today, more than 100 million people in this nation drink fluoridated water. Many communities have had fluoridated water supplies for more than 20 years.

The experience in these communities has demonstrated that fluoridation reduces the incidence of decay in children by as much as 65 per cent. Its benefits are lifelong.

Fluorides are being used in other ways to prevent decay. Chewable fluoride tablets can be beneficial if they are taken every day throughout the entire time teeth are being formed (at least until age 12-14).

The American Dental Association recommends the use of fluoride dentifrices, particularly for children.

Additionally, fluoride can be applied directly on children's teeth at periodic intervals.

Many school districts provide fluoridated water for school children.

Non of these alternate uses of fluoride is as effective as fluoridation of community water supplies.

Scientists are studying a new plastic material which is applied to teeth surfaces to seal the pits and fissures in teeth to provide protection against tooth decay. The pits and fissures are especially prone to decay.

Studies of the sealant have shown that it appears to form a barrier between the tooth surface and decay-causing bacteria which are always present in the mouth.

Preliminary investigations indicate that the sealant may withstand chewing forces in the mouth for as long as a year.

Because the sealant protects only the chewing surfaces of teeth, we must

'Texas Mafia' indictments

DENVER (AP) — A Denver District Court grand jury indicted three men Friday in connection with a year-long police investigation of the so-called "Texas Mafia," a group of Denver topless bar owners.

Authorities said the indictments were in connection with the slaying of a bar owner and two alleged murder-for-hire schemes.

Henry C. "Curly" Attwood, 59, now apparently living near North Platte, Neb., was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting death of Horacio Orlando "Orlie" Quintana in Denver a year ago.

Lawrence A. Goetz, a Denver bar owner, and Jerry F. Brinklow, a suspect in the bombing of a state weight station on the highway north of Fort Collins in December, 1974, were indicted on charges of attempted murder, solicitation to commit murder and conspiracy charges.

Attwood was arrested today in Sutherland, Neb., by Lincoln County, Neb., authorities, officials said. Goetz was arrested today in a downtown bar and Brinklow was arrested in Colorado Springs where he resides.

Denver Dist. Atty. Dale Tooley said Goetz and Brinklow were reported armed when arrested, but the arrests were made without incident.

Attwood is being held without bail pending return to Colorado and Goetz and Brinklow were being held in jail here with bond set at $200,000 each. The "Texas Mafia" is a small group of bar and topless nightclub owners who have been known for their strong-arm tactics in operation of the bars. Most of the members of the group came to Denver from Texas.

Denver Police, the district attorney's office and the Colorado Bureau of Investigation have been investigating the group for several years.

The break in the investigation apparently came when CBI agent Kenneth Brown, posing as a Mafia "hit man" named Pat Ryan, infiltrated the group.

Tooley said Brown was allegedly hired to kill at least two men. One of the targets, Norman Granberry, disappeared last week and was presumed dead by local crime figures, authorities said. But Tooley said today that Granberry was actually cooperating with police and had been in protective custody since his disappearance.

Brinklow was free on bail from a charge of transporting explosives from Rock Springs, Wyo., to Colorado allegedly to blow up the port-of-entry station.

The grand jury also indicted two men on minor charges from the investigation. Charged with pimping and conspiracy were Domenic LaRocco and Louis Francisco, both identified as Denver bar owners.

Mercer slates commission appearance

Ron Mercer of Trans Regional Airlines will tell County Commissioners Court 1:30 p.m. Monday about a protest Trans Regional is filing with the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

Trans Regional is protesting an application filed by Chaparral Airlines, Abilene, seeking approval of flights between Big Spring, Abilene, Brownwood and Austin.

The local airline plans to serve the same airports.

Monday morning, the court will discuss cooling tower and roof repairs and a malfunctioning radio in a Sand Springs fire truck.

Kenny Thompson, a local building contractor, advised that a bid on cooling tower repair was not high. He points to wages paid carpenters and cost of rewood, Commissioner Jack Buchanan said.

Women pilot helicopters

WASHINGTON (AP) — With six more women helicopter pilots qualifying by the end of 1975, total membership of The Whirly-Girls, international women helicopter pilots, has reached 210 in 13 countries.

Those recently qualifying included a U.S. Army aviator in Germany, a housewife in France, another in Illinois, a flight instructor-charter pilot in Arizona and in England two housewives who are members of the Helicopter Club of Great Britain.

Mini-bus big woe in Lamesa

LAMESA — Dawson County commissioners will consider assuming operating expense of the local mini-bus service after June 30. This will be on the agenda for their regular meeting Monday at 9 a.m.

Other items on the agenda include considering a change in the Community Building Administration contract with the city of Lamesa.

Commissioners also will consider payment of emergency transportation expense of a county patient from Lubbock to Galveston. A county clerk will be appointed to serve until the general election. Bond is expected to be approved for Jan Napper as deputy county clerk. Names will also be drawn for the grievance committee.

Finding library books easier after inventory

By REBBECA TAYLOR OF COUNTY LIBRARY

The Howard County Library staff has completed the bulk of the inventory begun last Christmas. With most of the library's books out of circulation, there was not enough room on shelves. Since the first of January, some 5,500 books have been checked out so that all books are off the floor.

Inventory fringe benefits, which will be felt by the patron, are numerous. For example, errors in marking of some books were corrected making them easier to locate. Also, some books which were on the shelves had no cards in the catalogue. A new feature of library service is a brightly colored little box just inside the front entry hall which invites suggestions. Drop in suggestions for changes or additions to the present library service.

As a member of the Texas State Library Association, the Howard County Library has been allotted $4,000 with which to revise and update our reference and non-fiction collections. About $2,400 worth of volumes have been ordered and should start showing up on our shelves some time next month.

The Friends of the Howard County Library organization was a sponsor and initiator of the legislation which began the State library system in Texas.

'The Cat Who Went To Heaven' And other winners available

By JAN STEPHENSON
CHILDREN'S LIBRARIAN

Many of the children's books at the Howard County Library have been recognized as outstanding children's literature.

The two best known children book awards in the United States are the Newbery Medal and the Caldecott Medal.

The Newbery Medal is named after John Newberry, the first English publisher of children's books. It is presented annually by the American Library Association (ALA) for the year's most distinguished contribution to American children's literature.

The Caldecott Medal is named after Randolph Caldecott, an English artist. Each year, this medal is awarded by ALA for the most outstanding picture book for children published in the United States. Other awards include these:

The National Book Award given for a distinguished book written or translated by a United States citizen.

The Laura Ingalls Wilder Award presented every five years to an author or illustrator whose books over a period of years have made a substantial and lasting contribution to children's literature.

And the Regina Medal awarded annually by the Catholic Library Association to an individual for lifetime dedication to the highest standards of literature for children.

Two awards are based on the choice of children themselves. The William Allen White Award has been presented for such books as "Old Yeller" and "Incredible Journey." The Pacific Northwest Young Reader's Choice was given in recognition of such books as "Mr. Popper's Penguins" and "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang."

The British Library Association also presents awards annually for outstanding children's books — the Carnegie Medal and the Kate Greenaway Medal.

These titles and award-winning authors are among those available at the Howard County Library: NEWBERY MEDAL BOOKS (first awarded in 1922) — O'Dell, Scott, "Island of the Blue Dolphins"; Latham, Jean Lee, "Carry On, Mr. Bowditch"; DeJong, Meindert, "The Wheel on the School"; and Henry,

Marguerite, "King of the Wind."

Also, Lenski, Lois, "Strawberry Girl"; Forbes, Esther, "Johnny Tremain"; Coatsworth, Elizabeth, "The Cat Who Went to Heaven"; and Lofting, Hugh, "The Voyages of Dr. Dolittle."

CALDECOTT MEDAL BOOKS (1938) — Shulevitz, Uri, "The Fool of the World and the Flying Ship"; Sendak, Maurice, "Where the Wild Things Are"; and Keats, Ezra Jack, "The Snowy Day."

Also, Bemelmans, Ludwig, "Madeline's Rescue"; and Ward, Lynd, "The Biggest Bear."

And Politi, Leo, "Song of the Swallows"; and McCloskey, Robert, "Make Way for Ducklings."

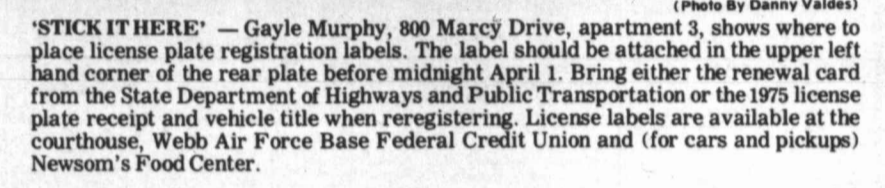

NATIONAL BOOK AWARD (1969) — Lloyd, Alexander, "The Marvelous Misadventures of Sebastian."

LAURA INGALLS WILDER AWARD (1954) — Laura Ingalls Wilder, Clara Ingram Judson, Ruth Sawyer and E. B. White.

REGINA MEDAL (1959) — Leo Politi, Ruth Sawyer, May Hill Arbuthnot, Bertha Mahoney Miller, Lois Lenski and Frederic Melcher.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE AWARD — "Old Yeller" by Gipson and "Incredible Journey" by Burnford.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST YOUNG READER'S CHOICE — "Mr. Popper's Penguins" by Atwater and "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang" by Fleming.

Hobby helps Girl Scouts

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — When William Andrews retired, he felt he had to have something to do. So he took up carpentry.

He put up a good many buildings and made various structures during his 10-year retirement, and recently he was asked to help the Girl Scouts on some projects.

As a result the Girl Scouts have a new dock at Camp Low Echo on the shore of Lake of the Woods.

Briscoe keeps about 80 'lame ducks' guessing

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe is more than four months behind in filling 80 state board and commission slots, but a man who handled appointments for two other governors says that's a good record.

Briscoe's longest, most mysterious lapses are the year since two terms on the Texas Finance Commission and one on the water rights commission expired and the three years since Jim Lindsey of College Station became a lame duck on the State Banking Board.

Some agency officials say they feel handicapped when Briscoe leaves expired terms unfilled, even though a member of a board of commission continues to serve until his replacement is named.

"When you've got some good members on your board who support your program and take their job seriously, and you've got some things going, yes, it is a burden. You could lose them tomorrow," an agency executive said.

One agency with lame duck members is the Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

Two members' terms expired Aug. 31.

Jess Erwin, its executive director, said there has been no uncertainty or insecurity because of Briscoe's failure to reappoint or replace chairman John Simpson of Austin and member Marjorie Kastman of Lubbock.

"We just go on," he said. "They have been at every meeting."

"It doesn't bother me, and I don't think it bothers the other members of the board," Lindsey said. He said he has voted against three out of four bank charter applications, which puts him in league with banking commissioner Robert Stewart.

Hardeman, a former senator brusquely told a caller, "I haven't talked to him (Briscoe). You'll have to get all the information from him." Then he hung up.

George Christian, who handled appointments for Govs. Price Daniel and John Connally, said he thought Briscoe is "as current as anybody" before him.

Briscoe's unfilled appointments are "a small number—I really don't think that is a significant delay compared with other governors," Christian said.

Appointments to the finance commission "are traditionally late" because of heavy pressures on behalf of numerous prospective appointees, Christian said. "It is much sought after like a board of regents."

Gov. Preston Smith, Briscoe's predecessor, doesn't appear to have been any faster on appointments. A list of expiration dates prepared around March 1972 indicates he was more than 100 appointments behind.

Lindsey said he paid Briscoe a call in the early days of his administration, in 1973, and "told him I would like to remain on the board... He didn't say yes or no."

Lindsey, director of news and information at Texas A&M, said he did not know why Briscoe had not acted but wasn't concerned.

"I don't think it bothers the other members of the board," Lindsey said. He said he has voted against three out of four bank charter applications, which puts him in league with banking commissioner Robert Stewart.

Solar heater heats coffee

HONOLULU (AP) — A solar water heater was used to heat coffee for visitors at the groundbreaking ceremony for the Hawaiian Energy House, a University of Hawaii at Manoa Department of Architecture experimental dwelling.

Designed to use the sun and wind for more than 75 per cent of its power needs, the house is being built to take advantage of maximum natural ventilation and light while meeting the need for lower cost housing. Solar collectors, installed on the roof, will heat water. A wind generator outside the house will provide some of the electricity.

'Peeping Tom' arrested, inflatable dolls seized

GLASSBORO, N. J. (AP) — Three Glassboro State College coeds told police they were worried about the strange noises they heard in the walls of their apartments — especially since the noises seemed to follow them as they moved around.

Armed with a search warrant, police entered the apartment house Friday and found a plushly carpeted crawlspace connecting the landlord's apartment with each of the girls' apartments. Built into the crawlspace were vents enabling a person to see virtually every inch of the three apartments, police said.

The passageway was outfitted with pillows, mirrors, and mirror-boxes that allowed a viewer to see around corners.

In the attic was a red light attached to each individual apartment's bathroom light, police said. The red light would alert anyone in the attic that the bathrooms were in use.

Also found was a variety of pornography and related paraphernalia, including lifelike inflatable dolls, police said.

Police arrested the landlord, William C. Weigelt, 56, of Ocean City. He was arraigned on three counts of invasion of privacy and released on $1,500 bail.

Goats help fight fires

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — The National Forest Service is using domestic goats to maintain firebreaks in the brushlands of southern California's national forests. The goats are expected to provide an inexpensive and efficient way to prevent the spread of fires.

Goats were chosen, according to the National Automobile Club, because they eat brush not eaten by other livestock and because they crop it off close to the ground, clearing the areas in which they graze of the dried bushes and grass that provide fuel for fires.

To ensure that the goats clear only the areas set aside for firebreaks, they are penned at night and closely herded during the day.
