U.S. studies withheld

Cuban tie in JFK murder?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shortly before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, U.S. officials secretly studied the possibility that Fidel Castro might retaliate against American leaders for their attacks on Cuba, according to informed sources.

Existence of the study was kept secret from the Warren Commission, which investigated the possibility of a Cuban connection in the Kennedy slaying, and, until recently, from the Senate intelligence committee.

Committee investigators came across documents relating to the study in the course of their probe into the performance of the CIA and the FBI before and after the Kennedy assassination, the sources said Tuesday.

The panel's findings are expected to be made public within two weeks.

In an article to be published today, the New Republic says the team which performed the study was created by then-Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. But the two sources told The Associated Press that although the attorney general was in overall command of U.S. operations in Cuba, there is no evidence that he played a role in the workings of the group known as the "Cuban Coordinating Committee."

One source identified a member of the group as Desmond Fitzgerald, a CIA officer involved in a plot to kill Castro that was in progress on the same day President Kennedy was

Judge halts stamp cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today temporarily blocked the Ford administration from initiating new regulations that would eventually remove more than 1.6 million families from the food stamp program.

U.S. District Judge Howard F. Corcoran stayed the regulations for at least 10 days. The new regulations would have gone into effect next Tuesday.

Another U.S. district judge, John H. Pratt, will hear arguments next Friday on whether he should issue a preliminary injunction against the regulations until legal and constitutional issues raised by groups opposing the new rules are resolved.

A second source said other members of the "Cuban Coordinating Committee" included John H. Crimmins, then a State Department Caribbean specialist who now is the U.S. ambassador to Brazil, and representatives of the FBI and Defense Department.

All members of the group were aware of the U.S.-supported commando raids against Cuba, but apparently only Fitzgerald knew about the assassination plot against Castro, sources said.

Existence of the group was first revealed last November in the intelligence committee's report on U.S. attempts to assassinate Castro.

The report described the group as an interagency panel established after the 1962 Cuban missile crisis "with responsibility for developing covert action proposals." The report didn't say anything about the group studying the possibility that Castro would strike back.

Two sources said it was not clear what had triggered the study of possible Cuban retaliation, but one source said the timing was consistent with the appearance in September

1963 of an AP dispatch which quoted Castro as saying, "U.S. leaders should think that if they are aiding terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders, they themselves will not be safe."

The AP article has been prominently mentioned in speculation surrounding Lee Harvey Oswald's motive in killing Kennedy. The article appeared in the New Orleans Times-Picayune at a time when Oswald, known to be an avid newspaper reader, was living there.

Judge enters pleas for silent Hearst

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst refused to speak at a pretrial hearing today and Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler entered innocent pleas for her on each of 11 state charges.

Brandler set a tentative trial date of July 26.

The innocent plea was entered over the objection of Miss Hearst's attorney, Al Johnson, who said it would be "inappropriate for her to plead at this time."

Hays rejects resignation

Sinless to cast first stone

WINTERSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, rejecting calls for his resignation in a sex scandal, suggested today that those "without sin" should be the first to cast stones at him.

Hays returned to his district for the first time since his former mistress charged that Hays had kept her on the government payroll at $14,000 a year.

Hays, who has admitted he had an affair with Elizabeth Ray but denied she was on the payroll for that purpose, was asked whether he would heed calls for his resignation. His answer: "No."

At one point, a newsman asked him, "Do you think you owe an apology to anyone?"

Hays shouted back: "I told you I'm not going to comment about it. My lawyers told me not to. Now, let me alone."

Hays also commented on remarks by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who said earlier that the scandal "couldn't have happened to a nicer guy." Goldwater added that Hays has been a "thorn in the side" of Congress for years.

"I read it," the 65-year-old Ohio Democrat said during a hand-shaking tour here. "If Mr. Goldwater is without sin, that's all right with me. I'm glad to find that out."

Hays spent about an hour at a road dedication ceremony in eastern Ohio but made no formal address to the crowd of 50, mostly officials and politicians who responded favorably to Hays' appearance.

His new wife of six weeks, Pat, did not accompany him to the ceremony, although she did go to Ohio with Hays.

Many district Democratic leaders were at the ceremony. He appeared grim and talked to most of them tersely, but passed a special luncheon and instead returned 50 miles to his farm home in Belmont.

He was blunt with the few responses he did make with newsmen who were trailing him through the dignitaries.

Hays, powerful chairman of the House Administration Committee, returned to the quietness of his Ohio farm on Thursday to prepare a defense against Justice Department and House Ethics Committee investigations of allegations that he put Miss Ray on the congressional payroll as his mistress.

As Hays was preparing to leave Washington Thursday, Rep. Romano L. Mazzoli, D-Ky., told the House the Ohio congressman should resign to help restore the legislative body's prestige. Hays was not in the chamber at the time.

House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., said there was "great concern" among Democrats about Hays' position as chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

The committee will funnel about $500,000 in private political contributions to House Democrats campaigning for reelection this fall, and the chairman's signature appears on the checks.

Mrs. Clawson said Hays "has been meeting attorneys, putting together all relevant information concerning allegations in the Washington Post. The information will be presented to the proper forum at the proper time."

The Hays-Ray relationship was first reported by the Post.

Mrs. Clawson did not elaborate but Justice Department sources in Washington said a federal grand jury has begun hearing testimony about the 33-year-old Miss Ray's position with the Hays committee.

Sources said the grand jury was asked to consider whether Hays' relationship with Miss Ray might have involved violations of federal laws covering conspiracy to defraud the government or to convert tax funds to personal use.

British lawmakers have 'grave disorder' melee

LONDON (AP) — One Tory charged at the Laborites with the ceremonial mace as members of House of Commons brawled with fists and insults after a one-vote Conservative loss.

The Laborites provoked the Conservatives by breaking into "The Red Flag," the anthem of British socialism, after winning a procedural vote 304-303 Thursday night. The motion blocked a Conservative maneuver to delay action on the Labor government's bill to nationalize the aerospace and shipbuilding industries.

The Conservative spokesman on industry, Michael Heseltine, grabbed the ornate, crown-topped mace symbolizing authority and swung it over his head as he rushed toward the Labor benches.

The historic hall rang with howls and jeers as other Conservatives grabbed Heseltine; Tory Nigel Lawson and Laborite Peter Snape swung at each other, and burly, 6-foot Andrew Faulds separated them.

More fistfights broke out. Less militant members broke them up and held on to members trying to join the fray.

The sergeant-at-arms was jostled as he elbowed through the melee.

"There have been scenes of grave disorder here tonight," said Speaker George Thomas as he adjourned the session.

RECORDING PORTSMOUTH — Keen amateur photographers among the crew of the Russian destroyer Chaztsovy recording their first view of Portsmouth as the 5,200-ton vessel docks here today at the start of a visit. It is the first visit by a Russian warship to the port since the incident 20 years ago when naval frogman Commander "Buster" Crabb vanished after diving near a Russian cruiser in Portsmouth harbour. The destroyer will be in Portsmouth until Tuesday and open to the public over the weekend.

Nuclear test ban treaty signed today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev today signed a precedent-setting treaty that will open some Russian nuclear test sites to American inspectors for the first time.

The simultaneous ceremonies here and in Moscow followed 18 months of complex negotiations and a delay in signing that some thought was politically inspired. It may, according to U.S. officials, spur negotiations in Geneva to reach a long-delayed agreement limiting strategic nuclear weapons.

Ford said the treaty "demonstrates that our two countries can soberly negotiate responsible and beneficial agreements despite the difficulty of the challenge."

Negotiators in Moscow completed work on the treaty in early April and it was initiated on May 12. However the signings were delayed.

Some administration officials privately suggested that Ford wanted to wait until after the Michigan primary before signing the treaty. But the administration said "technical reasons" caused the delay.

Since smaller explosions could escape other means of detection, the U.S. has been reluctant to press ahead for a broader treaty until the Russians permitted on-site inspection.

Farm 68 per cent of farmers may go broke in 5 years

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sixty-eight per cent of America's farmers and ranchers could be forced out of the business because of economic considerations within the next five years, if a poll conducted by Cong. Bob Krueger (D-Tx) is indicative of the rest of the country.
The figures released by Krueger were from a survey he conducted by mailing questionnaires to farmers and ranchers throughout his 50,000 square-mile West Texas congressional district, once represented by Cactus Jack Garner. In response to the question "Could economic considerations force you out of the agriculture business in the next five years?" 68 per cent said yes, 16 per cent said no, and 13 per cent were uncertain.
Similarly, 43 per cent of those responding said they would not recommend that a young person pursue the agriculture business, and 17 per cent were not sure. Thirty-nine per cent said they would recommend it.
"These results should be a matter of grave concern to the Congress and the American people," Krueger said. "The American farmer is under siege from forces beyond his control and the defenses must be shored up," he added.
Of particular concern, Krueger noted, was the government's interference in the marketplace and the issue of predator control. Sixty-four per cent of those responding thought that "a return to the market concept in national farm policy" would be a good idea. Similarly, 65 per cent of those responding felt that such a move would have no adverse effect on the stability of the market.
Fifty-two per cent of the farmers and ranchers felt that they had less control over their businesses than other businessmen. Sixteen per cent felt farmers and ranchers have more, while 28 per cent thought they had as much.

U.N. to prolong force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Security Council meets today to extend the life of the U.N. peacekeeping force separating Israeli and Syrian troops for another six months. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim received high praise Thursday night on his return from Damascus after obtaining Syria's unconditional consent to extension of the mandate for the 1,194-man U.N. Disengagement and Observer Force. Israel said last week it would agree to another extension if the Syrians did not try to exact any political conditions.

Union corruption charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small group of union dissidents is charging widespread corruption among Teamster officials, saying they make six-figure salaries, use a fleet of private jets and dine on French cuisine prepared by chefs on the union payroll. The Professional Drivers Council, known as PROD, charged the Teamsters is run by "money-hungry and power-hungry" executives lavishly lining their pockets at the expense of the rank-and-file.

Trade deals fail

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Negotiations to set up machinery to stabilize world trade in raw materials collapsed early today at the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD). The month-long conference was scheduled to end tonight. Officials said unless a last-minute compromise emerged, the votes by delegates from more than 130 nations on resolutions later today would reflect deep splits between the rich and poor nations.

Congress takes tax steps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is taking steps to head off a tax increase scheduled for July 1 that would cost a typical four-member American family earning $15,000 an extra $180 annually. The Senate Finance Committee voted unanimously Thursday in favor of extending current tax cuts. The House has approved a similar bill. If the antirecession tax cuts enacted last year are allowed to expire as scheduled on July 1, it would mean a $245 tax increase for a family of four earning $6,000 a year; a $204 hike for a couple earning $10,000, and a $151 increase for a single person with adjusted gross income of $10,000.

Col. Owens' farewell shot

'Don't give up Webb fight'

"Thank you for two of the best years of our life," Col. Robert A. Owens, Commander of the 78th Flying Training Wing, said in his farewell to the Century Club Thursday night.

A dinner honoring the colonel and his wife was hosted by the group at the Big Spring Country Club. "The friendliest people in the world live in Big Spring and our day-in and day-out relationship has been wonderful," Col. Owens said.

Mayor Wade Choate presented Col. Owens a proclamation which designates June 8 as Col. Robert A. Owens day in Big Spring during the change of command at the base. He also presented him a mayor's citation, commending him for his work with the United Way, help in city emergencies, work with Vietnam refugees and work in making "Webb one of the best and most efficiently operated bases in the United States."

Jimmy Taylor acted as master of ceremonies and quoted the late Robert Whipkey in saying "One of the greatest rewards in having an Air Force Base in your community is the association with the personnel and one of the greatest sorrows is in bidding them goodbye."

Ron McNeil of Tampa, Fla., former head of the Century Club, presented gifts of crystal to the Owens family from the club. Tom Locke, also a former chairman of the club now in Wichita Falls, was on hand for the event.

Candidate for sheriff indicted

BALLINGER — The Runnels County grand jury has indicted Hershall Hall, successful Democratic candidate for the office of Runnels County sheriff in the May 1 primary, on a charge he illegally "took and received" $84.77 for travel expenses.

Hall defeated incumbent sheriff Don Atkins in the May 1 election. Hall specifically was accused of "abuse of office."

District Attorney Royal Hart said the indictment alleges the incident took place May 9, 1975, while Hall was deputy sheriff. Hall left that position June 1, 1975.

Hall said he planned to continue campaigning for the sheriff's office.

Paving poses problems for Al

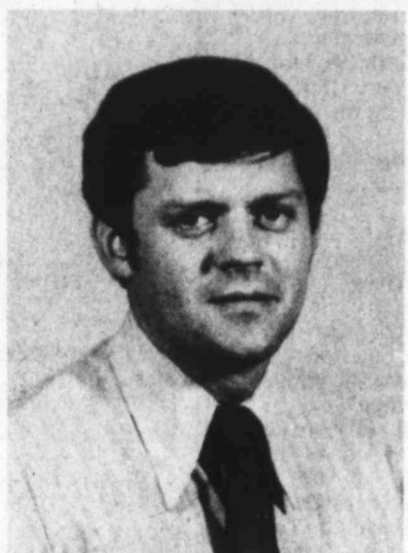

Managing a business is tough enough, even if you have a street. It's not a laughing matter, but I cannot help but be tickled at Al Stephens, manager of Gibson Discount Center, and his woes over the work on Scurry Street which is under way.

SINCE MID-April, Stephens has been forced to operate his discount store at 2303 Scurry with the street torn up in front.

It has not been easy. The original plan called for the construction to be done one end at a time, but little did anyone know that the West Texas monsoon season was beginning. Rain, believe it or not, threw the work behind, so the entire southern half of Scurry Street is being worked on at once.

The paving and curbing work is being done by Price Construction Co. for the City of Big Spring and the State Highway Department.

Stephens says that both the city and the construction company have been

AL STEPHENS "very, very kind and understanding about our problems." But that hasn't kept the manager from stewing over the problems of getting customers into his streetless store. "They took out the parking and cut a deep ditch which made it hard to get in the store," Stephens relates, "but I said to myself, 'Smile, it could be worse.' The next day it was. They poured a barrier of oil on both sides." And when it rains, store workers have built bridges to carry traffic across the mud.

STEPHENS SAYS the customers have been patient, but when he watches a woman drive up in her car to the parking lot across Scurry Street, climb out and look at the torn up street, then climb back in her car, he considers that an unspoken complaint.

So what do you do? The manager has opened the building supply door on the south side and made an entrance and exit with two cash registers, and he's considering even opening up the back of the store, except he is afraid the customers would get mixed in with the freight.

Or what about this: Stephens is considering offering a free shoeshine to those who dust or mud their shoes crossing Scurry. Or maybe he will hire an extra crew of sack boys to lug customers' goods across Scurry where the buggies will no longer roll.

STEPHENS EVEN thought about asking the Colorado River Municipal Water District to hold up on its rain-making efforts, but he feared that might make him unpopular with the farmers.

But he has one major consolation. If he can survive until mid-June when the south portion of the repaving is scheduled to be finished, he will have a much improved street in front of the store.

In the meantime, the confusion is blowing plans.

When Stephens asked his assistant managers, Doug Henry, why the annual April sidewalk sale wasn't held, Henry replied:

"Who has a sidewalk?"

Top taxpayers

Around the rim

John Edwards

A firm which gathers information for bond investors has published a report of the top ten taxpayers in the City of Big Spring for 1975.

The information and other figures were compiled and published by the Municipal Advisory Council of Texas.

THE LIST WITH the 100-per-cent property values indicated follows:

1. First National Bank with property appraised to be worth $3,690,108 (true market value) for taxes.

4. Texas Electric Service Co., $2,030,500.
5. Duncan Drilling Co. (property and equipment) $1,299,300.
6. Pioneer Natural Gas Co., $1,207,600.
7. Security State Bank, $1,173,185.

The State Department of Public Welfare protective services unit here has been filing suits with pauper's oaths to avoid paying court costs.

"It's the only way we can get them filed now," Ronald W. Sweatt, protective services supervisor here, explained. The problem is one protective services representatives hope to resolve in connection with a request for county financial support, Sweatt said.

"It should be part of the county attorney's (office) expenditures," Sweatt said.

COUNTY ATTORNEY W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. represents the state in these suits for child protection.

Eysen felt the state would be "the proper place it should be budgeted." Eysen, however, had no objection to including court costs within his office budget. Thus, the county would pay itself instead of losing the fee.

In other words, this would be meaningless.

"Normally, all court costs go to the County of Howard, county treasurer," District Clerk Peggy Crittenden said.

The county collects a $15 fee for court costs plus $5 law library fee with each civil suit without a pauper's oath, Mrs. Crittenden said. Other fees may be added, including the $4 assessed for each defendant cited, she said.

The state's child protective services unit here, which employs eight persons, has prepared information for seven child welfare suits filed to date this year. Financial records in the district clerk's office also indicate four of the suits were filed during January.

All the unit's activity may not be reflected in the number of suits, though.

In addition to 411 "ongoing cases," 35 new cases were investigated during the first three months of 1976, a report to commissioners court states.

OF THE NEW CASES, all but four were classified as being "valid" after investigation. The "valid" cases were 14 of child neglect, 13 of runaways and four of child abuse, the presentation shows.

Pauper's oaths are filed with Uniform Reciprocal Child Support suits also. Glenda Brasel, deputy district clerk, said. These suits are filed on behalf of ex-wives (and ex-husbands) who live out of state and are seeking child support payments.

These suits also are filed by the county attorney.

Issue troubles

Robert Novak

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — After two successive Tuesdays of suddenly unimpressive primary election performances, Jimmy Carter has himself from a candidate of faith and love to a candidate of issues.

Carter tried recently, following disappointing results in Michigan and Maryland, to incorporate issues into his basic campaign speech; he simply could not bring it off. His delivery of one written speech was a fiasco. Moreover, Carter was on the defensive about assorted matters ranging from his religious beliefs to the Calley affair. Overall, neither Carter's campaign style nor voter reaction to it reflected a candidate with the Democratic presidential nomination wrapped up.

INDEED, THE nomination still seems all but assured for Carter, who would be a heavy favorite in November. Nevertheless, Carter aides are troubled by stubborn voter resistance to truly accepting him as the next President. The tense mood as the Carter campaign travelled through Oregon, Nevada and California last week resulted from less than successful efforts attempting to break down that resistance.

Actually, fitful efforts to bring Carter's campaign to a new level go back to April 6 after his narrow Wisconsin victory. Carter was advised that he must now enter a new phase with more specific discussion of issues. Nothing much happened, however — partly because of Carter's continued string of primary election wins.

But when the Carter high command met in Detroit the night of May 18, the consensus was that something must be done. Besides losing more votes the more he campaigned in Maryland, audiences generally seemed bored by Carter. A new speech, oriented to issues, was overdue.

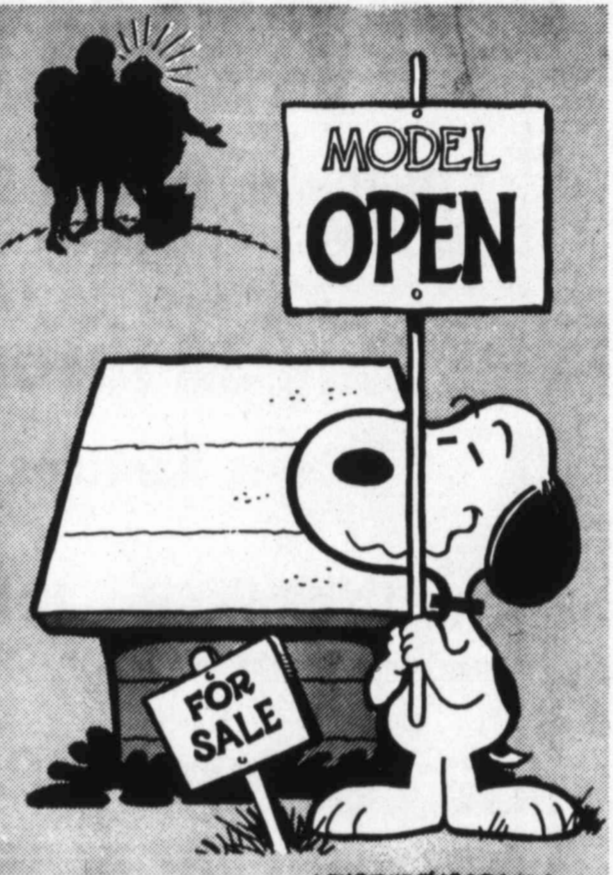

That task was assigned to Patrick Anderson, a respected Washington author who became Carter's newest speechwriter following the kiss-and-tell defection of Robert Shrum. Anderson, though a dedicated liberal, is a Carter true-believer who will not repeat Shrum's public protests over Carter's insufficient zeal opposing black lung disease and the B-1 bomber.

AFTER FLYING to Oregon from Detroit May 19, Carter delivered Anderson's new formulation. It was ingenious, if a bit disingenuous. Although Carter did not become front-runner by discussing issues, he told audiences in Portland and Eugene that key issues "have tied me together with the voters" in "an intimate, unbreakable relationship." Specifically, he listed governmental reorganization, tax reform, welfare reform and abolition of nuclear armaments. As usual, Carter did not venture into the likes of the economy or U. S.-Soviet relations.

Carter, seemingly uncomfortable with his new package, quickly began shedding parts of it. In Las Vegas the next morning, hard by the Nevada nuclear test center, Carter dropped point four banning atomic arms (though he reaffirmed his stand in answering a question). By the time he addressed a $125-a-plate dinner in Beverly Hills, Calif., that night, he was down to one issue — governmental reorganization.

"Something for under $30,000...? It just so happens we do have one available in that price range."

"Now, if you'll just step over here...!"

Insect desensitization wise for some

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son, 32 years old, was rushed to the hospital last year near death in a reaction to a bee sting on his arm. Immediate treatment saved his life, and he's carried a kit with him in case he is ever stung again and is out of reach of a hospital.

It has been suggested that he be desensitized and I'm wondering about the effects of this treatment. He was told it is a procedure that takes over a year. What are your thoughts on this?

— C. Y.

It is a good idea — for some. Desensitization reduces reaction to stings by about 90 per cent. The procedure is long, and may, in fact, have to be continued for the rest of his life.

Whether he undertakes this or not would depend on his potential exposure to bites. If he is an outdoor person — a gardener, for example, or anyone who works out of doors — it would be best to have the treatment.

As an adult, and with the kit available, he might not want to have the treatment. If not, then care to avoid insects is his only other alternative. He should be wary of flowers, and not use fragrant cosmetics, as hair dressings and lotions. He should avoid bright clothing on sunny days.

Reaction may be immediate or occur within 30 minutes of the sting, hence he should use the kit promptly when stung. He apparently is highly sensitive, however, and should consider the desensitization — especially, as I mentioned, if his exposure risk is high.

Knowing the culprit involved is important in desensitization — whether hornet, bee, wasp or yellow jacket.

Your son should consult your city health department or state agriculture agent for advice on removal of any nests or hives that may be on his property. He should have someone else do the actual work of removal, though. He should also consult an allergist if he plans on having the desensitization done. Finally, if he is depending on the kit he should not wait for an emergency to learn how to use it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a girl, 13 years old. I have a curling iron and curl my hair every morning before school with steam. Could that be harmful to my hair now or later in life? — W. M. C.

The hair you see above skin level is as dead as a wig. But this doesn't mean you can't damage it, although any damage would be local. It can be damaged with excessive heat or use of strong chemicals. It is not wise to routinely use "blast furnace" settings on hair driers or curlers.

But you needn't worry about this causing lifelong effects. Your new hair will grow out with no problems. The hair follicles imbedded in the skin (where growth begins) are not sensitive to what is taking place outside.

The only way you can damage hair permanently is by damaging the follicles. For this reason you should not wind the curlers too tightly. That and tight ponytails can disturb follicles and cause real hair problems.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I run track and

Not all Washington County tavern owners are fired up about extending drinking hours to 2 a.m. instead of an hour earlier at present. The legislation has been introduced at the prodding of some tavern owners who claim that extra hour is an economic necessity.

Once bars and taverns in Washington County close, there seems to be an exodus to adjoining states where drinking is legal as late as 4 a.m. in private clubs.

Which reminds us of some advice handed down years ago by a man who was rather adept in imbibing alcoholic beverages. There was considerable furor over extending the drinking time beyond to the then existing midnight deadline. Said he:

"Anybody that can't get drunk by 12 o'clock doesn't have any business drinking."

We are not advocating drunkenness which can aggravate traffic, employment and domestic problems, and contend that existing drinking hours are adequate.

I would like to know if there is anything I can put in my track shoes to give my arches the needed support. Most running shoes don't come equipped with a well-built arch. Mine aches. — A. A.

If your arches ache, perhaps you should find some other activity. Meanwhile see a podiatrist or orthopedist. Either can suggest an appropriate support or find out why you have the trouble. There might also be exercises you can take to strengthen your arches.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any residual or permanent damage to the nerve following a bout with shingles? I mean as much as six months later? — Mrs. J. S.

What is called "post-herpetic neuralgia" can be a complication, with pain lingering for many months, even years in some cases. In most, though, once the virus infection (herpes zoster) has run its course there are no lingering effects.

Herpes zoster, when it affects the eyes, can lead to conjunctivitis and damage to the cornea. For these reasons early diagnosis and treatment is necessary.

Shingles can be a painful disease! For a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Billy Graham

My answer

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: When we die will we become angels? — L. M.

DEAR L. M.: Perhaps you are thinking of Jesus' statement that those who are raised from the dead and go to Heaven "are as the angels which are in heaven" (Mark 12:25). However, Jesus was not teaching that we become angels when we die, but simply that our heavenly nature will be similar to that of the angels.

Remember that Jesus Christ died on the Cross to save us from our sins. The Bible teaches that some day God will give new bodies to all believers who go to be with Him. "We shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed" (1 Corinthians 15:51,52). Then we will join with the countless multitudes of angels around the throne of God, praising Him. "And every creature which is in heaven, and on earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb forever and ever" (Revelation 5:13).

No, we will not become angels, but some day we will worship God perfectly, as they do now. What a glorious prospect.

If you want more on the subject, my new book, "Angels, God's Secret Agents," is available at most bookstores.

handsome millionaire with dark wavy hair, a nervous grin and a few congenial wrinkles, urged the President to go on the attack against the Democratic Congress. "Your issue is the Congress," Brock told the President.

The runtish, roosterish Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, agreed that the "anti-Washington syndrome" should be directed against Congress. "Our effort to change the composition of Congress is where the emphasis belongs," he said.

SEN. MILTON YOUNG, R-N.D., who at age 78 isn't young any more, also gave echo to this strategy. "People are mad at Congress," he said. "I'd take out (against) the Democratic Congress."

Whatever the President did, Rep. Elford Cederberg, R-Mich., cautioned him against reacting all the time to Reagan.

"The media is ready to pounce (on you)," agreed Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., "if you seem to be devising strategies simply to woo the right."

"Reagan has seized on our problem," said Brock. "We have not seized on his." Coming back to his proposal that Ford campaign against Congress, the senator suggested this was an issue that Reagan "can't deal with" as effectively as the President can.

At the opening of the secret strategy session, Anderson called upon his colleagues to swear their political allegiance to the President.

"We haven't been fighting hard enough for you," Anderson told Ford. "If it's in order, I'd like to move a resolution that the leadership fully supports you."

SEN. HUGH SCOTT, the portly Senate Republican leader, playfully took the gavel away from the President. "I'll preside for a minute, if I may," said Scott. "Is there a second?"

Sen. Tower, squirming awkwardly in Vice President Nelson Rockefeller's chair, piped up: "I'll second. But will someone explain why I'm sitting in Rocky's chair?"

"All in favor?" Scott asked for a vote. It was unanimous.

Otherwise, the political powwow ended without any positive results. As Quillen asked plaintively: "Why can't we get our own fresh issues?"

CONFLICT OF INTEREST: The Food and Drug Administration has awarded a $59,000 grant to the Nutrition Today Society for developing teaching aides. The government project officer who handled the grant is Dr. Marylyn Stephenson, who happens also to be a staunch member of the society that got the grant. Moreover, one of her bosses, Dr. Allan Forbes, is listed as a director of the society.

Spokesmen for both Food and Drug and Nutrition Today insist there is nothing improper about the relationship or the progress under the grant.

FUTURE KING?: Our associate Joe Spear reports from Riyadh that Saudi Arabia's 35-year-old Foreign Minister Saud, tall, handsome, articulate, education at Princeton, "is being groomed for the throne." Spear describes the young foreign minister as "impressive," with "an intimate grasp of the issues."

Dear Abby

Preacher gives funeral in honor of his ex-wife

DEAR ABBY: My husband died recently. We had only two years together, but ours was a perfect marriage. Never a cross word. He was a saint. We both had been married before, raised our children and lost our spouses through no fault of our own.

At my husband's funeral, I was shoved over on the bench behind the organ where I wasn't even able to see the casket. To add insult to injury, the minister preached a whole service, referring only to my husband's ex-wife. (She was a member of the church and I wasn't.)

The final insult came afterward, when the minister sat holding the hand of my beloved husband's ex-wife. I was so angry and hurt I could hardly bear it.

If I had it in my power, I would dig my husband up and bury him in a private cemetery with a private service. I know he is not at peace where he now lies. He loved me too much to have me hurt this way.

Please print this so that ministers will give more consideration to widows instead of ex-wives.

CRUSHED IN MADISON

DEAR CRUSHED: The privilege (and responsibility) of making the funeral arrangements for your deceased husband was yours, not his ex-wife's. (She apparently got to the minister first.) Unless you failed to assert yourself as you should have, the minister deserves to be severely censured for having handled the service as he did.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to pass on some very valuable experience to women who might find themselves in the situation that I was in 10 years ago.

As an attractive 55-year-old widow, I was winned and dined and courted by a very desirable widower in his early 60s. He proposed marriage to me on the condition that his children approved of me. (He had two sons and two daughters—all married.)

Well, I passed their inspection with flying colors, but I wish I hadn't. When he was well, his children came first. Now he is sick, and he's all mine.

STUCK WITH AN A.K.

DEAR STUCK: Nobody gets a lifetime guarantee of good health. YOU could have become sick and been all HIS.

DEAR ABBY: First, some joker wants to sue his parents for $100,000 for having circumcised him when he was an infant and unable to defend himself.

Then someone writes in and suggests that his mother sue the idiot for "womb rent."

If she does, she might as well try to get "carrying charges," too. Just a suggestion.

DALE P. SCOBEE: HOOD RIVER, ORE.

DEAR DALE: It seems only fair since the mother was stuck with the delivery charges.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Members met in the home of Mrs. A. C. Moore. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with the bicentennial theme. Red, white and blue African violets composed the centerpiece.

Mrs. Rowe was honored in conjunction with her retirement from Duncan Drilling Co., May 14. She has been with the company as a book-keeper for 23 years. Prior to that position, Mrs. Rowe worked with her husband, the late C. L. Rowe, at Humble Oil.

Mrs. Rowe has four daughters. They are Mrs. Travis Carlton, Abilene; Mrs. Russell Wood, Midland; Mrs. Gladine Cox, Big Spring; and Mrs. Mary Jane Campbell, Midland. She also has five grand children and three great-grandchildren.

RINGING IN THE NEW — Beginning in June, Southwestern Bell customers will receive newly-designed telephone bills similar to the one shown. The bills go into detail on long distance service, noting the number of minutes talked, the time the call was placed and the rate period that applied.

Interstate or intrastate

June telephone bills to list time of calls

A newly-designed telephone bill with more detailed information will be mailed out by Southwestern Bell to customers in Big Spring starting in June.

Harry Sawyer, manager for Southwestern Bell, said the monthly statements have been revised primarily because of growing cost consciousness on the part of consumers.

Sawyer said the new monthly statements will include greater detail of long distance service.

"Our computers will now print the time of day or night each long distance call was placed and the number of minutes talked," Sawyer said.

Sawyer added the new bills also will denote the classification of each long distance call — customer dialed station-to-station, operator-assisted station-to-station, or person-to-person. Whether a call was interstate or intrastate will be indicated, as well as the rate period that applies to each call.

"In addition to more information on long distance service," Sawyer said, "the revised statements will show any adjustments from the previous month, as well as any unpaid balance. If there is no unpaid balance, this will be indicated to let customers know their accounts have been properly credited."

Fluvanna-Borden school district merger sought

GAIL — Indications suggest that the possibilities are good for a merger of the Borden County and Fluvanna school districts.

Residents of Fluvanna indicated their desires for such a consolidation in an opinion poll taken Wednesday. In the straw vote, 123 persons participated and the proposal carried by a margin of about 2-1.

Fluvanna school board president Gilbert Merritt said the board took no action Wednesday night but will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Fluvanna School to discuss results of the poll. Merritt said the Fluvanna trustees have had talks with officials of both Borden County and Snyder school districts about consolidation. No action has been taken as a result of the talks with Borden County school officials, Merritt said.

The president said the board presented at Wednesday night's meeting the results of a study it has been conducting for four or five months concerning consolidation with either Snyder or Borden County. Some of the comparative points included taxes, board representation and facilities, Merritt said.

In the event of consolidation with Borden County, Merritt said, students from Fluvanna would attend school in Gail, which is approximately the same distance from Fluvanna as Snyder. There are about 80 students in the Fluvanna district. Some now transfer to Borden County and Snyder, leaving about 45 to 50 in the Fluvanna school.

Jones, Mrs. Flanagan named 'outstanding older citizens'

STANTON — Mrs. Lila Nunn Flanagan and James Jones were named "Outstanding Older Citizens" of Martin County during a reception and antique show held Wednesday in the Martin County Community Center.

The award presentation, reception and antique show were sponsored by the Aging Committee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Flanagan was nominated by the Stanton Study Club. Jones' name was projected by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Flanagan was born in 1895 in the Indian Territory, later to become Oklahoma. She moved to Texas with her parents at the age of three months and has been a resident of Martin County since 1902.

Educated in the Stanton public schools, Lila married Webb Flanagan in 1921. Three daughters were born to the union. She has six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Following the death of her husband, she entered the business world. For ten years she owned and operated a grocery store five miles west of Stanton.

In 1949, she purchased a dress shop in Stanton, which she owned and operated for 23 years. She retired in 1972.

Mrs. Flanagan has been active in community affairs throughout her life and was one of the first women to serve as a director of the Chamber of Commerce.

She served as secretary of the Cemetery Association and played a leading role on the planning committee for the annual Martin County Old Settlers Reunion. She has been a member of the Home Demonstration Club and the Garden Club.

Jones has been a community leader in Martin County for many years. He has played a major role in the development of Stanton.

He worked closely with the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, the Stanton Lions Club and the First United Methodist Church. Although he is identified as an "Outstanding Older Citizen," his role as a civic leader has by no means diminished.

Jones was born Dec. 18, 1900, in Altus, Okla., but has resided in Stanton since the age of six. He attended and graduated from the Stanton public schools and later from Draughn's Business College in Abilene.

Upon his return to Stanton, he began working in Hall's Drug Store. He later worked in Home National Bank for one year before opening a men's store and cleaning establishment here.

In 1941, Jones sold the men's store and entered the hardware business. He later bought out his partner, Bill Clements, after which the business was identified as James Jones Hardware.

After 29 years in business, he retired in 1970. He was married to the former Opal Nichols in 1929. They have two daughters, Mrs. Dean Forrest and Mrs. Ellis Britton, both of Big Spring. Jones is a member of the Masonic order and served for many years with the Stanton city council.

"MARIA TALLCHIEF, WHERE ARE YOU?" — So asks Big Spring's version of "Swan Lake," two swans and an unidentified companion. The birds seem to be creating their own ballet, as they cut the still waters that run deep at the pond near Trinity Memorial Park. Big Spring is fortunate in being the natural and imported habitat of many species of birds. These two fellows (and their Heinz 57 webbed friend) are very much at home in the scenic pond.

Evangelist won't allow probe of children's home

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A state welfare worker said Thursday, night that evangelist Lester Roloff's employees won't permit court-ordered inspections of his children's homes.

Dixie Huffman, institutional licensing representative here for the welfare department, said she and another worker were refused entry to the Anchor Home at Zapata. Margaret

May, director of institutional licensing at Austin, and a state welfare attorney were turned back at the Rebekah Home here and the Lighthouse, on Padre Island, Huffman said.

"I was told by (Roloff employee) Harmon Oxford at the Anchor Home 'never to set foot on the property again,'" Huffman said. The welfare workers were seeking the inspections under a restraining order issued Thursday in Austin. Roloff was cited for contempt for not obtaining state licenses for the three homes.

No indictments made in King Ranch case

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A state grand jury wrapped up its investigation of an alleged break-in and burglary against a famed King Ranch heir's family by voting not to return indictments.

Grand Jury Foreman Dr. John Glock said the jury had completed its investigation into the matter and asked to be dismissed after sitting for nearly eight months.

Glock did ask that the case be kept open for possible investigation by a future grand jury.

The foreman told Dist. Judge Walter Dunham the grand jury voted one no-bill "in connection with our investigation of the alleged break-in at the (Stephen) Kleberg home on the morning of Dec. 17 and the alleged rape and kidnap attempt."

Glock's mention of alleged rape was the first official mention of rape in connection with the case. Dist. Atty. W.B. Mobley Jr. said after Glock's announcement that the panel had been looking into rape as a possible motive for burglary.

Texas Rangers said they would continue to investigate the case, and Mobley said he would present the case to a future grand jury if new evidence is developed.

Mrs. Kleberg had told officers a masked intruder surprised her in her bedroom and locked her in a bathroom. She said she was able to free herself, surprising the man as he held the couple's 4-year-old son, Chris, near the front entrance of the home.

She said she was able to grab the child and pursue the intruder out the front door.

Stephen Kleberg is secretary of the King Ranch board of directors and a grandson of one of the ranching corporation's four original stockholders.

Avoid CIA abuse, don't elect fool

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Former CIA official John M. Maury says the way to avoid CIA abuses is "don't elect a fool or a scoundrel for a president" because presidential orders cause most abuses.

"The tracks all lead back to the White House," the special Pentagon consultant said Thursday during a stop to address an Armed Forces Appreciation banquet.

Citing congressional probes of excesses in the U.S. intelligence community, Maury said "virtually all of the things that caused trouble" were directed by the executive branch.

Congressional committees were kept informed of many of the operations, he said.

Maury said he thinks future presidents will be reluctant to try to misuse CIA power and that the agency would resist such attempts.

But he added that leaks about CIA operations and its structure have left the nation's intelligence capability in a "shambles." It will be a long time before the agency recovers, he said.

The CIA has acquired an image abroad of being "indiscreet or undisciplined," he said, adding this could have "very serious, long-range effects on our intelligence capabilities."

U.S. consul exposed to microwaves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. ambassador in Moscow, Walter J. Stoessel Jr., has been exposed to radiation carried into his Embassy office over his own telephone line, according to a State Department source.

The phone-wire radiation was discovered several weeks ago, the source said, by a team of Central Intelligence Agency technical specialists dispatched to Moscow to investigate microwaves apparently being beamed at the Embassy by the Soviets.

The CIA's tests showed radiation considerably higher than indicated by earlier tests by the State Department's bureau of security, the source said.

CIA personnel operate much of the Embassy's highly sophisticated communications equipment, housed in upper floors of the 10-story structure. Those same floors — which also contain the offices for Stoessel and other top U.S. diplomats — have been the main target of the searchlight-like microwave beams.

The reason for the Soviet microwaves remains unclear. It also was unclear why Stoessel's telephone line was conducting radiation. There was, however, some suggestion that the radiation found on the telephone line was an unintended byproduct of the microwaves.

The microwaves aimed at the building are suspected of being used either to foil reputed U.S. electronic eavesdropping devices or to allow the Soviets somehow to eavesdrop on the Embassy.

The situation has sparked concern over possible effects of the radiation on health or behavior of U.S. embassy officers.

Since early February, aluminum screening has been installed on the Embassy's windows to help block out the radiation.

However, even after the screening was installed, the CIA found that Stoessel's outside telephone wire was "bringing the radiation right into his office on that line because of the exposure — the way the line is hooked up," the State Department source said.

The source noted that "these new tests that were made, with new equipment, picked it up where nobody had picked it up before."

Earlier tests had failed to detect the phone-line radiation, he said, because State Department personnel used "faulty equipment."

The CIA testing team also detected radiation being conducted into the ambassador's office along wires connected to an overhead light, according to the source, who requested that he not be identified.

The source said that when Stoessel was informed of the new radiation tests, the ambassador was "beside himself" and expressed his concern in classified cables to Lawrence K. Eagleburger, deputy undersecretary of state for management.

Slender Ade allows diet without going hungry

Many people are overweight and know that it's unhealthy as well as unsightly. Most of you have tried the "can't fail" fad diets; strenuous exercise, starvation, diet pills or phony gadgets and none have worked.

These methods failed because starvation diets require will power, true, but they sap you of all energy and protein. Exercise can be monotonous and plain drudgery. Diet pills are not only unnatural but can leave you weak, nervous and prone to illness. They speed up your metabolism to burn off the excess weight, but leave your system totally exhausted and lacking in protein.

Slender Ade works where others fail because it is not a diet, but a nutrition plan. It works with nature, not against it and is 100 per cent safe. It does not require starvation or diet pills and doesn't leave you weak or nervous. It does make you feel healthier and more vibrant than ever before, because it substitutes proteins and vitamins for excess bulk.

Most important, you never have to go hungry.

Using the Slender Ade nutrition plan as directed, you will get fast, steady and permanent weight loss. You can start losing the first day and many have lost up to 14 pounds in two weeks.

With these kind of results, you will be encouraged to lose even more. Yes, you can reach your ideal weight and be fat-free forever. Think about it. How many times have you tried a diet, but lost your incentive because of constant weakness and nervousness?

Slender Ade is a modern, convenient nutritional approach to weight loss; a food powder used in conjunction with a multiple vitamin and mineral supplement, it supplies you with all the essential amino acids, vitamins and minerals the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council says are necessary for daily good health and proper nutrition.

The product, according to a study at the University of Chicago, helps burn calories, curbs hunger pangs and helps shrink the small intestine. By this, your capacity for heavy eating is reduced, simply because your stomach can't hold as much as it used to. Other benefits noted were better sleep, more vitality and energy, better nerve condition, stronger and more beautiful nails, better hair condition, a tightening, and an aid to new skin growth.

Start now on your Slender Ade program for a healthier, more vibrant life, by calling Barbara Carr at 263-2254 or drop by 1212 E. 15th. Make it your springtime resolution.

SLENDER ADE — Barbara Carr says Slender Ade products won't let you suffer through an agonizing diet. In fact, they'll make you feel better.

Putting right applicant on the job is a habit

Success in finding a job or in finding the right person to fill a position is better assured by consulting a professional employment service such as Big Spring Employment Agency, located in the Permian Building.

Finding the right person for the right job is the duty of Mrs. Sue Brown and Mrs. Ruby Taroni, the experienced personnel counselors at Big Spring Employment.

Each employer has the right to demand the person best qualified for the job, considering the requirements of the work, the salary to be offered and the availability of applicants.

With this in mind, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Taroni carefully evaluate each applicant before they are sent out for an interview.

The agency spends many hours screening job applicants so employers do not waste time interviewing persons not qualified for the job opening. The agency refers only those who measure up to the job's requirements.

Many highly qualified job applicants prefer to use the services of a private employment agency, thus protecting their own identity. Big Spring Employment carries on an extensive testing program in the area of office skills, exposing applicants to personnel tests in business and industrial situations.

From the clerk to the executive, job applicants come to the agency because they know private agencies are specialists in job-hunting and can, because of experience and contacts, place applicants in desirable jobs sooner than they could locate jobs themselves.

Ridin' fence Unusual accomplishments

with Marj Carpenter

J. P. Smith has been a deacon of Oak Street Baptist Church in Colorado City for over 55 years.

This in itself is an unusual accomplishment. But the fact that Smith also has a son who is a Methodist minister makes it doubly unusual.

Smith was honored at the recent dedication services at the church. He was taken in his wheelchair to the church where the 91-year-old man took part in the ceremonies.

He and his wife, the former Julia Birmingham, who is 85, admit that they do not very often get to attend church anymore due to their combined illnesses. But they do a good job of looking out after each other.

Smith was around 20 when he arrived in Mitchell County with his father, the late M. M. Smith. They came from Crawford west of Waco and they arrived on the train.

They farmed for many years in the Buford area. Mrs. Smith arrived the following year from Shreveport when she was 16 years old. Her mother had died and she was the oldest of seven children "and I looked after all of us," she recalls.

She said her five little brothers used to give her a little bit of static and her only way to maintain order was to threaten them with "when Dad comes home."

Originally from a family in the deep South, she said that Birmingham was named for distant relatives. Smith's family background goes back to Ireland.

"I think my family has always farmed. We had the love of the land that the Irish often have," he remembered.

J. P. SMITH

Their children include Mrs. Lee Ruddick and Mrs. Clyde Alexander, Alvin Smith, who is a Methodist preacher in Dresden, Kansas, Lloyd Smith, a

Dr. Holston will leave Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — Dr. Robert Holston, who moved here less than two months ago, has resigned the Sweetwater medical staff, effective today.

Holston thus became the sixth doctor to leave Sweetwater this year.

Holston, age 29, is a doctor in osteopathy. He received his training at the Texas College of Osteopathy in Fort Worth, spent four years at West Texas State University in Canyon and one year's internship at the Dallas Osteopathy Hospital.

rancher and Forrest Smith, who still ranches in the Colorado City area as well as Carroll Smith, who teaches down around Gatesville.

When commended for bringing up a "bunch of good kids," Mrs. Smith simply answered, "The Lord led us."

She looked toward her husband to be sure he was going to be all right for a few minutes and said, "I need to see about my chickens." She returned and joined in the conversation.

She recalled that when her Dad came from Shreveport in 1906 he had hoped to get on at the railroad shops in Big Spring. There was no opening and he went to Fort Worth a while and then returned to Colorado City.

"The ranchers arrived first around here," Smith recalled. "Then for a number of years, nearly everybody that came either came to farm the land or to work for the railroad."

Smith recalled that "By the time we arrived, Colorado City was already dry. The old rip roaring saloons and the gunfights were already things of the past although there were an awful lot of people around who remembered them."

Their days now center around visits from their children who live close, letters from their children who live far, and the daily task of caring for each other.

Their independence is important to them as they take care of their own home, in spite of any health problems.

"Life has been good," was the agreement between the Smiths. That's how it was last week out ridin' fence around Colorado City.

Survivors' parents become friends

Bus crash leaves mental scars

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — None were friends until they met in the hospital waiting room, each the parent of a child critically injured in California's worst school bus tragedy.

"Now, we have a special kind of closeness," said one. By Thursday, the four girls still patients at Mt. Diablo Hospital had improved enough to be listed in good condition.

The four were members of the Yuba City High School choir. They were traveling to another school for a concert a week ago today when their chartered bus sailed off a highway exit ramp. It landed upside down 25 feet below.

Twenty-eight students and a music teacher were killed. Memorial services were planned today at Yuba City High School and two nearby high schools.

The heart of one of the dead — 15-year-old Donald Wright — was transplanted to a 33-year-old man at Stanford Medical Center.

The Alameda County coroner's office confirmed that the body of Wright, whose father is a physician, was taken to Stanford soon after his death. His vital organs were kept functioning with mechanical aids.

Deputy Coroner Kenneth Pollard said young Wright's kidneys and the corneas of his eyes also were used in transplant operations.

The heart recipient was described as a New York resident who had spent some time in Israel before returning to the United States.

JoAnn Watt, whose 16-year-old daughter, Reene, is at Mt. Diablo Hospital, said that before the accident she did not know any of the parents who have become close friends during the hospital vigil. "All the children we knew the parents of were killed," she said.

At least one parent of each of the hospitalized girls has been spending the week in Concord, about 85 miles from home in Yuba City. When they're not in the rooms with their children, they're talking with each other in a conference room set aside for their use.

Their biggest worry now is how their children are taking the news that many of their friends were killed.

"We know now they're going to be physically okay. It's mentally we're worried about," said Mary Kearns, mother of 16-year-old Colleen.

Reene Watt is taking it especially hard — so hard that doctors delayed her removal from intensive care for a day in fear she would hear television reports about the magnitude of the crash.

"I've had knots in my stomach dreading the day I'd have to tell her," Mrs. Watt said.

College Baptist sets film

The College Baptist Church, 1105 Birdwell, will host the film, "In God We Trust," this Sunday evening. The film is this month's program in connection with the monthly Bicentennial celebration services which are held during the last service of each month.

The film is concerned with a conservative politician who takes his two grandsons on a pilgrimage to America's past. The film poses the questions: Is America truly a Christian nation by birthright? Why did we place 'In God We Trust' on our coins? What happens when a nation begins with God, then turns to secularism and outright apostasy?

What happens weaves a provocative tale sure to challenge the thinking of evangelicals not only in the U.S. but across North America. "This beautiful, deeply meaningful film is must viewing for every evangelical church and ideal for showing to Christian young people," according to the local pastor. The film features new music by John W. Peterson. Viewing time will be 7 p.m.

WHICH WAY TO TURN?

There he goes, walking into the future. But what direction will he take? Whatever his choice, he will have to face problems and obstacles before his chosen goals can be reached.

One thing is sure, the years ahead hold much promise. One day he may be landing a jet on a carrier at sea, building a bridge in a foreign country, closing a big sale, or perhaps covering a fast-breaking news story. But to successfully reach his goal he will have to find the strength and wisdom to rise above the knotty problems of life.

Fortunately, he need not make his decisions alone. With the help of the Church, he can determine a course for successfully living his life in the world of tomorrow.

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Muirfield Village came to grips with pro golf's hotshots for the first time Thursday. With few exceptions, it was no contest. The course won. Jack Nicklaus' $7 million project even turned on its creator, depriving him of a share of the lead with Don Bies with a bogey-double bogey finish.

Shortly after his 68, four under par over the 7,072 yards that once served as Nicklaus' childhood hunting grounds, Bies offered tips on how to handle the 2-year-old monster.

"You have to be conservative. You have to think defensively. You have to lag every putt, even uphill," observed the quiet 16-year veteran, a single shot up on leading money-winner Hubert Green.

Gibby Gilbert, stalking a second consecutive victory, lost a share of the lead with a double bogey at 17 and was two off the pace.

Despite his horrendous finish — "I played like a yo-yo" — Nicklaus was one of just seven to master par in the field of 94. He was at 71 with Jerry McGee, Hale Irwin and Roger Maltbie.

Caught in the course's tree-lined, lake-filled vices were some of the game's biggest names. Bruce Crampton had 77. So did Tom Weiskopf. Lee Trevino needed a 15-foot par putt on 18 to crack 80.

"I hit every fairway, had no three-putt greens, but the balls I brought today were thirsty. I hit four of them in the water," cracked Trevino.

The scores were so high — 16 at 80 or higher — in the warm, sunny weather that a 157 was the projected cut figure today. That would be a whopping 10 strokes higher than the year's previous high, 147 at the Heritage.

Bies, 38, said his was a shaky lead, considering the new course's toughness. "Look at Jack today. That can happen if you get three or four under. You don't feel very secure. You have to work all the way."

The leader hit every fairway and missed just two greens. "The score was great, but it was not a fantastic round," he said.

Nicklaus' erratic performance was spiced with one double bogey, five bogeys, six birds and an eagle. In one eight-hole stretch, he had no pars.

"All the mistakes were made by me, not something else," said Nicklaus. "It was a lack of concentration. I rarely play a round like that."

The final rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally (CBS-TV).

BACK AT HOME — Jack Nicklaus, who makes his home course Fairfield Village, Ohio, the site of the Memorial Tournament, drops his putter as he waits for his putt to drop during first-round action Thursday. Nicklaus, playing on the course he built, finished the round with a one-under-par 71.

'Nasty' Nastase heads for Romania

HONOLULU (AP) — Tennis star Ilie Nastase reportedly has been ordered to return immediately to his native Romania.

Nastase left here Wednesday night after telling the Hawaii Leis of the professional tennis league that his government had issued an immediate call for his return.

The Leis said in a statement Thursday that Nastase was unable to give any reason other than the fact that his passport had expired and had not been renewed.

There were reports here that Nastase was called home to explain why he missed the Davis Cup competition and why he did not show up for a ceremony in which he was promoted from captain to major in the Romanian army.

Bill Schoen, the Leis' general manager, said the team does not know whether Nastase will return. He said management has no alternative but to consider the possibility of canceling Nastase's contract.

The temperamental Romanian played in the Leis' loss to the Golden Gaters here Wednesday night, shortly before he left.

Nastase last Sunday defeated Ashe in the $100,000 wintertake-all finals of the World Championship Tennis Challenge Cup at Keauhou-Kona, Hawaii.

'Really got psyched' Crowd sees 'Suns-set'

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's pro basketball fans are used to watching the Celtics destroy opposing teams with one explosive period. But rarely have they witnessed anything like what they saw in the second game of the 1976 National Basketball Association championship series.

With a capacity crowd of 15,320 screaming loudly Thursday night, the Celtics combined near-perfect offense and defense for the first five minutes of the third period, outscoring the jittery Phoenix Suns 20-2. After that, the Celtics had to put down only one belated Phoenix rally before registering a 105-90 victory and assuming a 2-0 lead in the nationally televised best-of-seven series.

"The crowd really got psyched," Phoenix rookie center Alvan Adams said afterwards.

What really set the crowd afire was a deliberate foul called against former Celtics' backcourt man Paul Westphal with Boston leading 51-41 early in the third quarter.

Westphal was called for the rare infraction when he grabbed Boston's Jo Jo White from behind as the Celtics' guard headed for what appeared to be an easy layup after he had stolen the ball from his ex-teammate.

"When they saw their beloved Paul (until then still a favorite of the Boston fans even one year after his trade to Phoenix) do something they didn't like ... it got the crowd rockin', it got the Celtics rockin', too," said Adams.

Phoenix Coach John MacLeod protested the call against Westphal and was tagged with a technical foul.

White, although infuriated, sank all three free throw attempts and the Celtics were winging.

White's steal had been preceded by a theft and an easy layup by Charlie Scott, and those two plays unglued the young, inexperienced Suns, who have not beaten the Celtics in 12 games on Boston's home court in five years.

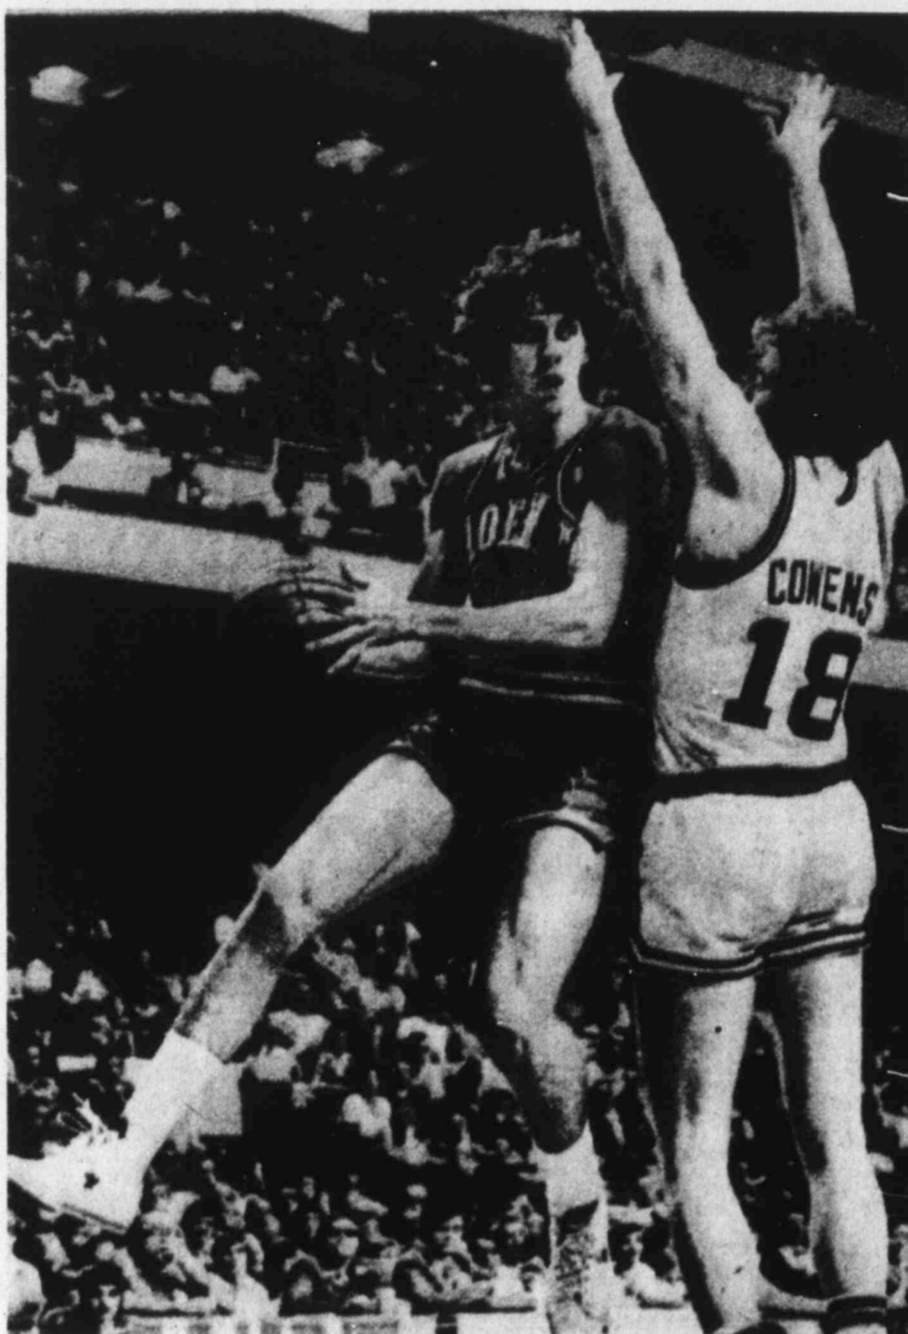

After White's three foul shots, Scott and John Havlicek hit long jump shots, giving the Celtics 12 consecutive points in the first three minutes of the period and a 58-41 lead. Adams broke the string with a tipin, but Boston came right back with eight points in a row and it was 66-43.

Later in the period, the lead had ballooned to 80-52. The Suns, after shooting a poor 33 per cent from the floor through the first three periods, finally found the range in the fourth quarter, but it was too late.

With the help of 14 points in a row, they whittled Boston's lead to 89-80 with 3:16 left, but the poised, unrelenting Celtics didn't let them get any closer. They scored the next eight points, and that was all for the game — but undermanned — Suns.

Havlicek led Boston's balanced offense with 23 points, while Scott and Dave Cowens each scored 16. Westphal, Phoenix' leading scorer during both the regular season and playoffs but limited to just eight points in the Celtics' 98-87 openinggame victory, paced the Suns with 28. Adams finished with 19 and Curtis Perry scored 15, 13 in the final period.

IN HIS WAY — Alvan Adams of the Phoenix Suns finds his path blocked by 6-foot, 9-inch Boston Celtic center Dave Cowens during third period play Thursday night in the NBA championship game at Boston Garden. Boston won the second game in the series 105-90.

No more K.C. hex

Rangers rout Royals

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — So much for the Kansas City hex over the Texas Rangers.

Lefthander Joe Hoerner, a 39-year-old journeyman who was released by Kansas City in 1974, came back to haunt his former teammates Thursday night with a brilliant relief stint and suddenly the Rangers are just a half game behind the Royals in the American League Western Division.

Texas used catcher Jim Sundberg's one-out bases loaded single to defeat the Royals 5-4 in the 10th inning of a suspended game and the Rangers tripped the visitors 6-4 in the regularly scheduled second game.

Designated hitter Jim Fregosi knocked in three runs with a homer and a single in the second game and Hoerner came on strong when Ranger starter Bill Singer weakened.

"I went two and one third innings and that's the longest I've pitched since I can remember," said Hoerner. "I was really up for those guys. You always want to beat a team which releases you. I wanted to beat them bad."

Hoerner yielded just two hits as he gained his third save of the year. Singer is now 4-1.

"I'm throwing the ball better than I have in two or three years," said Hoerner. "I came to spring training without a job and (Manager) Frank Lucchesi gave me a chance. I've had to impress people every time out to make this team."

Hoerner throws with a peculiar sidearm motion because a doctor told him an overhand motion might damage his heart.

"I'm throwing the ball just about as hard as I can remember throwing it," said Hoerner. "I think the race in our division will go down between these two clubs and the winner will be the team that comes up with the best pitching."

The first game was suspended early Thursday morning because of a curfew with the game tied 4-4 after nine innings. Sundberg picked a Kansas City runner off second base in the top of the 10th inning then delivered the game winning blow with Roy Howell on third base.

"If I had to pick a game outside the opener that was the most important one of the season, it would be that one inning," said Lucchesi. "We had to have that (suspended) game. If the Royals had swept us tonight, we would have been four and one half games behind them."

Steve Foucault picked up the victory in relief in the opener and Marty Pattin was the loser.

TUNNEL SKIER — Aiken Scherberger, billed as Canada's fastest skier, skis at speeds of more than 120 miles an hour in Ottawa Wednesday with his skis strapped to the ground. Scherberger and three other Canadian skiers are using the National Research Council wind tunnel to simulate conditions they may encounter in trying to set a speed record in Cervinia, Italy, in a few weeks.

In comes the fastball, out goes the fastball,

Wayne Garrett vs. Tug McGraw.

"I'm saying to myself, 'don't try and pull him. Just try to go the other way,'" said Met pinch-hitter Garrett.

Two outs and the bases loaded. Ninth inning. Phils ahead 2-1.

"I remember playing with him and he's a good hitter," said ex-Met McGraw, working in relief.

The count is 2-2. "With the bases loaded and two out, I don't look for the fastball," said Garrett.

"I tried to keep the ball away from him," said McGraw.

"There is no earthly way he'll give me a fastball," said Garrett.

"I tried to sneak the fastball by," admitted McGraw.

In comes the fastball. CRUNCH. Out goes the fastball. Three runs score and Garrett winds up on third with a triple. Mets win 5-2.

"My eyes really lit up when I saw that fastball," said Garrett.

"Sometimes they pop 'em up, sometimes they hit a line drive, sometimes they miss it," said McGraw. "It's a round ball and a round bat ... and anything can happen."

There were only two other games played Thursday in the National League. Chicago beat St. Louis 2-1 and San Diego topped San Francisco 3-1.

The Phils built their 2-1 lead against Jerry Koonsman on the strength of Bob Boone's RBI single in the fourth and Ollie Brown's homer in the sixth. Dave Kingman's 17th home run of the season, tops in the majors, accounted for the New York offense until the ninth.

A pinch-hit single by John Milner and an error by Phils starter Jim Kaat started the Mets' rally, and a force play and a brilliant throw by centerfielder Garry Maddox, to cut down Bud Harrelson at

Two Odessa men tops in tourney

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Perfecto Alina and Beeyong Sison, the top two seeds and both of Odessa, Tex., College, continued their winning ways Thursday in the National Junior College Athletic Association tennis championships.

Jefferson State, Ala., held the team lead with 24 points, but all its players have been eliminated. Midland, Tex., is second with 23 points while Odessa is third with 21. But Odessa has two singles and a doubles team remaining.

Alina, the defending singles champion, defeated Ray Anders, Tyler, Tex., 7-5, 6-2, then in the quarterfinals Alina defeated Denis McKeown, Midland, Tex., 7-5, 6-2.

Sison defeated Michael Kelly, Central Texas, 6-4, 6-4, and Willie Feliciano, Jefferson State, 6-4, 6-2.

Coast to coast horse race set

AUBURN, Wash. (AP) — A prize of $25,000 awaits the first horse across the finish line of this summer's New York to California cross-country horse race. Calvin Paulette says he plans to win it if he has to carry his horse across the finish line.

Paulette, 24, who will be riding Mr. Tinkey Cat, will be among the men and women, ages 18 to 69, from 47 states and 10 foreign countries who will gather in Frankfort, N.Y., on Monday, Memorial Day, to start the 3,200-mile race.

With 240 starting steeds, the 99-day race will use 15,000 bales of hay and 17,900 horsehoes.

Paulette, an Auburn resident who along with the Nevada-Utah state line, and on to an historic pony express stop in Sacramento, the finish line.

The riders will complete a given distance of about 50 miles each day, with the winner selected on the basis of total riding time.

Experienced veterinarians will be in charge of preliminary inspections before the start of the race as well as checks several times daily during each day of riding.

The ride is expected to take about 100 days, with 76 days riding time and 23 of rest.

steady pace than a horse. They can go for hours and hours. They just never get tired."

The idea of a cross-country horse race was conceived by two men, Randy Scheiding, 32, and Charles Waggoner, 26, who set up race headquarters in a bedroom-office in Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Kankakee, Ill.

They've amassed a $50,000 purse, with $25,000 for first place and $25,000 distributed between second and 10th places.

Each rider is allotted two mounts to cover the five phases of the race: from Frankfort to Lisa, Ohio; to St. Joseph, Mo.; to Cheyenne, Wyo.; to the Nevada-Utah state line, and on to an historic pony express stop in Sacramento, the finish line.

The ride is expected to take about 100 days, with 76 days riding time and 23 of rest.

A first for women, Guthrie qualifies

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "I think she realizes now that I'm not bulling her," engine-builder Ralph Moody said Thursday after Janet Guthrie became the first woman to qualify for a major stock car race.

Miss Guthrie, foiled in her recent attempts to make the Indianapolis 500 field, averaged 152.797 miles an hour in the former Chevrolet of A.J. Foyt to land the 27th starting position for Sunday's 17th annual World 600 at Charlotte Motor Speedway.

"She has proven she can drive a Grand National car and that will help her confidence," said Moody, who built Miss Guthrie's engine. He was half of the former Holman-Moody team whose cars dominated the sport for so many years. "She will get faster and be able to tell us more about the car's handling as she gets experience." Miss Guthrie, a 38-year-old physicist from New York City, helped bump the likes of veterans Buck Baker, Bobby Isaac and David Sisco from the field. Her two-lap qualifying sprint around the 1.5-mile super speedway was the 12th quickest of the day as 15 drivers made the 40-car field and 18 others were left to vie for 10 spots Friday.

"Don't ask me about that woman driver," quipped Baker, who at age 57 is attempting to make a comeback.

Beginning June 7 the Big Spring YMCA will offer two men's fitness classes for its members. These classes have been designed for men who want to improve cardio-respiratory endurance and general muscle tone.

Each participant will receive a fitness test which will determine maximum oxygen uptake, oxygen utilization, percentage of body fat, strength and flexibility. It will also include blood pressure and heart rate readings, at rest and during exercise. Classes will consist of walking and jogging plus general body calisthenics.

Classes will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 7 to 7:45 a.m. or from 5:15 to 6 p.m. Cost to members is $6 for three months (non-members are not eligible for the program). Membership fee is $40 per year for an adult 18 years of age and over.

12 students win fitness awards

Twelve students of Immaculate Heart of Mary School were awarded the AAHPER Youth Fitness Achievement certificates. The AAHPER Youth Fitness Test is a battery of six test items designed to give a measure of physical fitness for boys and girls from 10 to 17 years of age. The tests were selected to evaluate specific aspects of physical status which, taken together, give an overall picture of the young person's general fitness. It is the only fitness test for which national norms have been determined.

Students attaining the 50th percentile in each test area receive the Official Achievement Award certificate and a standard emblem. Those attaining the 80th percentile in each test battery receive the merit emblem and the achievement award certificate. The highest award given for the performance on the AAHPER Youth Fitness Test is the Presidential Physical Fitness Award. The winners of this award have to score the 90th percentile in each test item.

The twelve winners of the standard emblem at IHM School are as follows: 6th grade — Chris Brown, Robert Pekowski, Anne Mullen, and Brenda Salazar, 5th grade — Alicia Ramirez, Bret Crenwelge, Billy Thompson, and Jesus Franco; 4th grade — Skip Hinman, Michael Pekowski, Dan Kaiser, and Russell Brown.

Special honorable mention was given to the following students who missed the standard award because one test was less than the 50th percentile: Maria Garcia, Sandy Puga, Susanna Mason, Adriel Saldivar, John Rodriguez, Becky Adams, Javier Casillas, Belinda Daugherty, John Williams, John Gilbert, Melinda Corwin, Katy Thompson, Kelli Gilbert, Melissa Gattis, and Bertha Rodriguez.

ENCAMPMENT OPPORTUNITY FOR TEEN CAP MEMBERS

Local young people who are cadet members of Civil Air Patrol (CAP) will have an opportunity this summer to attend an interesting encampment at Sheppard AFB in Wichita Falls, according to Lt. William Collier, CAP representative here.

Lt. Bates is commander of the Dragonfly Squadron, local unit of Civil Air Patrol.

During the encampment, the teenage CAP members will spend a busy time learning what life is like in an active Air Force installation as well as will observe various operational and support functions of the base, the CAP officer said.

Attending such an encampment is required for advancement in the CAP Cadet Program. Lt. Collier explained. Youngsters are eligible to join CAP as cadets when they turn 13 or enter the seventh grade, he said.

Civil Air Patrol is a nationwide, non-profit organization, whose members are all volunteers and is also a civilian auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force. It is best known for its air search and rescue, and other emergency missions, but also conducts aerospace education and youth motivation programs.

HOPPING FOR A RECORD — These Queen Anne High School students claim they set a record May 25 for the number of people simultaneously jumping one rope. There is no such event listed in the Guinness Book of World Records, however. With a twirler on each end and 23 people, the group managed to complete 12 consecutive jumps.

Hughes will envelope has right numbers

HOUSTON (AP) — An envelope containing a purported will of Howard Hughes bears at least three postage meter numbers that correspond in sequence to the numbers on a meter registered to the Las Vegas hotel where Hughes lived, the Houston Post said it has learned.

The three-page handwritten document dated March 18, 1968, was found April 27 at Mormon church headquarters in Salt Lake City.

"This is quite a coincidence at the very least," the newspaper quoted Carol Moore, office manager of the San Diego, Calif., office of Pitney Bowes, as saying Thursday.

She told the Post that postage meter No. 841862 was registered to the Desert Inn at Las Vegas on June 1, 1967. This was the late mystery billionaire's home during the some four years he lived in Las Vegas.

The other three digits cannot be read without further examination of the envelope with chemicals or a microscope. Each meter has six digits.

The Post said the three readily visible numbers were identified under a microscope by Michael Kratz of Dektor Counterintelligence of Springfield, Va. He said they correspond to the 4, the second 8 and the 6.

The document's authenticity has been questioned and it and about 30 other purported wills—most of them pranks—have been filed at the Clark County courthouse in Las Vegas.

The Post also quoted the Rev. Dan Newman, a Las Vegas Baptist minister, as saying he was once told by a Hughes lawyer that the billionaire recluse had written a will that was sure to cause controversy if it ever came to light. The former Hughes lawyer mentioned by Newman was Richard Gray of Houston.

"Dick and I were at a party," Newman was quoted as saying. "It was about the fall of 1973. He said he knew Hughes had a handwritten will because he had seen it. He (Gray) said he told Hughes that if it ever went to court it was sure to cause problems.

"I didn't talk to him about it any more because at the time it didn't mean anything."

Gray, who lived in Las Vegas while he worked for Hughes about 1967 through 1969, died about a year ago.

Hughes died April 5 while en route from Mexico to Houston on a chartered jet.
