Wallace, Jackson, Daley back him

Carter nears Demo nomination

By The Associated Press
Jimmy Carter picked up new political support from former opponents today, moving the front-runner still closer to the Democratic presidential nomination.

Carter emerged from Tuesday's primaries with more than 1,100 of the 1,505 delegates needed for nomination. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who sought the nomination himself, said today he was throwing his support to Carter. "I feel that Gov. Carter will be the nominee," he said.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley also announced his backing of the former Georgia governor and Carter said that Sen. Henry M. Jackson, a one-time candidate, had promised an endorsement. "I can announce without quoting him (Jackson) that I have no doubt about his support and as many delegates as he can talk to. He will have an announcement to make next week," Carter said.

He said the new endorsements give him "much more" than he needs for the nomination.

It was not immediately known exactly how many delegates Carter will pick up by the endorsements or how many will be free under the law to vote for him on the first ballot.

On the Republican side, President Ford and his challenger Ronald Reagan fought to a standoff that virtually guarantees a fight at the GOP convention in Kansas City two months from now.

As he has through much of the just-completed primary season, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey remained the big question mark for the Democrats. He said he would talk to Carter and California Gov. Jerry Brown before announcing his plans later today.

Carter won only in Ohio of the three big states that held primaries on Tuesday. But he picked up more than 200 delegates, giving him more than 1,100 of the 1,505 needed for nomination. Most of Carter's rivals seemed ready to concede him the nomination.

The exception was Brown, who won big in his home state and, with Humphrey, was backed by an uncommitted delegate slate that won in New Jersey. "I will go forward," Brown said. "I think the nomination is still open."

Humphrey, who has refused to become an active candidate, but has remained available for the nomination, said he was "very pleased" with the New Jersey outcome. He added, however, that Carter "has a very comfortable lead and I think it would be very difficult to really overcome that lead."

Here is how the delegate count looked with the primaries over:

Carter, who picked up 211 delegates on Tuesday, now has 1,118 of the 1,505 needed for nomination. His closest pursuer is Rep. Morris K. Udall, who has 332.5. Brown, who won 204 in California, has 229 and a number in the uncommitted bloc of 470 delegates.

On the Republican side, counting 67 New Jersey delegates who are nominally uncommitted, but generally back the President, Ford's total would be 962 of the 1,130 needed for nomination. Reagan has 865.

Reagan took the California primary and with it, the 167 delegates that go to the winner there. But Ford won almost all of Ohio's 97 delegates, along with support from uncommitted New Jersey delegates.

Daley spoke to reporters as he entered City Hall today. "Carter's victory in Ohio is the ballgame," he said. "I'll cast my vote for him and there will be a Carter victory."

Daley said the other Illinois delegates were free to act as they chose, but the mayor's decision is certain to influence the others.

There are 86 delegates committed to Illinois Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, who was supported by Daley as a favorite son and most of these could be expected to follow the mayor's lead.

There is no legal requirement that the Stevenson delegates vote for him, meaning they could vote for Carter or anyone else on the first ballot at the party's national convention. Carter won 59 delegates in Illinois' primary. Stevenson said he released all of his delegates "of any obligation to support me for the presidential nomination." He said he personally did not intend to endorse a candidate before the July convention in New York City.

Alabama Gov. Wallace has 168 delegates pledged to him. But his support is scattered in several states and it was not immediately known how many of the delegates would be free to vote for Carter on the first ballot if they chose.

As the votes were counted Tuesday and even before, it was clear it would be a day for jumping on the Carter bandwagon.

Carter himself told supporters in Atlanta: "I think I'm going to be the nominee." (For more information, see Primary results, p. 2A, col. 1.)

U.S. concerned over Lebanese fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is increasingly apprehensive over the disintegrating military outlook in Lebanon and is worried that Syria will not be able to control the situation resulting from its invasion of the war-torn nation.

Syria has sent 3,000 new troops into Lebanon since the weekend, increasing its total force there to just under 10,000. U.S. officials attribute the jump to the failure of the original contingent to restore order between warring Lebanese Christian and Moslem factions.

However, a ranking State Department official says Syrian troops have had their noses bloodied by the Moslem leftists in the fighting over the past day or two in spite of the reinforcements and the use of tanks and air power.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Illegal meeting

Q. Was the Herald wrong last week when it said the Howard County Commissioners Court violated state law when it met with the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee without posting a meeting notice?

A. The Herald is right, says editor Tommy Hart. All five members of the commissioners court met with the chamber committee to discuss the proposed airport lease to Louis Rosenbaum of El Paso.

The Texas Open Meetings Act requires that written notice of the date, hour, place and subject of each meeting be posted.

Under the act, a meeting is defined as any deliberation between a quorum of members of a governmental body at which any public business or public policy is discussed or considered. Excluded from the definition are "social functions unrelated to the public business" and some conventions, but no other circumstances.

Editor Hart said the Herald story was not complete in that it should have also stated that the meeting was called by the chamber's transportation committee and was held in the chamber. The commissioners were there at the invitation of chamber officials.

But that does not relieve the commissioners court of the responsibility of posting the notice to comply fully with the law. The chamber, of course, is not a governmental body and is not required by law to post meeting notices.

Offbeat: Maternity uniforms

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force is considering proposals for a special military maternity uniform or a civilian maternity outfit for pregnant servicewomen.

The changes were suggested at a workshop at the U.S. Air Force military personnel center at Randolph Air Force Base here.

The Air Force allows pregnant WAFS to wear civilian maternity clothing when Air Force uniforms no longer fit because of advanced pregnancy.

One of the new proposals would have the Air Force issue military maternity uniforms. The second would allow pregnant servicewomen to continue wearing civilian maternity clothing, only with name tags and rank insignia attached.

"We're trying to determine which idea is feasible," a Randolph spokesman said.

Best bet on TV: Judy

PBS comes through again. At 7 p. m. on the cable channel 5, the special "Judy Sings" comes shining through the rerun season. The special was taped in 1964 and is a memorable program featuring Judy Garland singing many of the old standards for which she is so well remembered: "Once in a Lifetime," "If I Had a Talking Picture," "Dirty Hands, Dirty Face," "Love of My Life," and many more.

CARTER NEWS CONFERENCE — Former Georgia Governor and front runner for the Democratic nomination for President Jimmy Carter and his mother chuckle as his news conference was interrupted by a train as it passed through his home town of Plains, Ga., today. The news conference was held on the platform of the old train station which now serves as Carter's campaign headquarters.

Glenn Margolis competing in National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Competition in the 1976 National Spelling Bee got under way in the Mayflower Hotel this morning.

Prominent among the 80 entries is Glenn Margolis of Big Spring, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Margolis, competing for the second time on the national level.

Young Margolis, accompanied here by his father and brother, David, won the regional bee at Lubbock in 1974 and lasted through five rounds in the National Bee before misspelling the word "extempore."

A champion likely will be determined here by noon Thursday.

First place winner in the National

Bee earns $1,000, a trophy and a plaque for his high school. Second place prize is $500 while the third place finisher earns $250. Fourth through eighth place finishers each get $100. Ninth through 18th place each pays $75. The remainder of the finalists each earn $50.

Engraved certificates will be awarded to all participants in the event.

Puerto Rico and Guam have representatives in the competition, as do most of the states.

The contestants started arriving in the nation's capital the past weekend and activities began with a party Monday night for contestants and their families at the Mayflower. They took a bus tour of the city Tuesday morning, visiting such monuments as the Jefferson Memorial, the John F. and Robert Kennedy gravesites and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The entries were escorted through the White House Tuesday afternoon on a special tour.

The group takes a guided walking tour of Old Towne Alexandria, George Washington's home town, before traveling to Mount Vernon Thursday afternoon. Mount Vernon, as every school child knows, was Washington's home on the Potomac River.

Thursday night, the participants go on bus tours to the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts, the Lincoln Memorial and the National Archives Building before returning to the hotel for a boat ride up the Potomac River.

Possible tours for the group Friday morning include a visit to the Capitol building and a stop at the History and Technology Building of the Smithsonian Institute.

The annual awards banquet is scheduled for Friday night in the Mayflower's Grand Ballroom. During the banquet, entertainment will be provided by "The Young Columbians," who will offer a musical journey through the nation's heritage. Young Margolis and his kinsmen will leave for Big Spring Saturday.

Baseball park to be dedicated here Monday

The Roy Anderson Baseball Park will be officially dedicated at ceremonies held 5:30 p. m. Monday.

The ceremonies at the park, off of the north service road of IS 20 near the intersection of Hwy. 87, will be headed by several dignitaries. Judge Ralph Caton, member of Dora Roberts Foundation Board of Directors, will speak, and Mayor Wade Choate will give a brief history of the naming of the parks in the complex.

Special guests for the evening will be Mrs. Bob Whipkey, Mrs. Horace Garrett, and Mrs. Roy Anderson.

The four parks in the Anderson complex, to be named Garrett, Whipkey, Roberts and Hayward, will be dedicated to the memory of their honorees, Horace Garrett, Bob Whipkey, Dora Roberts and G. Hobson Hayward.

Also attending the ceremonies will be members of the Little Miss Softball League, as well as a number of city and county officials.

Choate to appear before Senate subcommittee on banking Friday

Wade Choate, general manager of Webb AFB Federal Credit Union and mayor of Big Spring, will appear before the full Senate subcommittee on banking, housing and urban affairs at 10 a. m., Friday. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss his recent appointment to the board of directors of the National Credit Union Administration, which was announced by President Gerald Ford May 19.

According to the Federal Credit Union Act, the seven-member National Credit Union Board "is appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate." The meeting with the subcommittee Friday will be to discuss the various aspects and details of Choate's experience and involvement in the credit union movement. Once Choate has met with the subcommittee, the nomination will be sent to the Senate floor for final approval, which is expected to be shortly after the Friday meeting.

Sen. John Tower of Texas, who is the minority leader of the Senate subcommittee, will accompany Choate to the hearing.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., is chairman of the 13-member committee and will preside over the hearing.

OH MAN! A HOLE — It appears as though a backward workman with a lot of sole may be fined for just hanging around on the job. Actually with a little help from city employe Frank Marin all the workmen may get back to the job of repaving Scurry. The level of the street will be raised to the lip of the manhole.

New panel to decide if CIA can destroy records of misdeeds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders have left it to the new Intelligence Committee to decide whether the CIA should be allowed to destroy its files on its past misdeeds.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield and Minority leader Hugh Scott said Tuesday they would leave the question of the CIA files in the hands of the newly created committee.

CIA Director George Bush wrote to Mansfield and Scott to tell them he planned to destroy the files now that congressional investigations into allegations of improper conduct had been completed.

Mansfield and Scott were the ones who had asked the CIA to save the files while Congress was investigating the alleged misdeeds.

Although the files are no longer needed for congressional investigations, many of the same documents are the subject of pending court cases involving the CIA's mail-opening program, as well as the illegal domestic spying on American citizens.

Meanwhile, the heads of two subcommittees have urged Bush not to destroy the material.

Rep. Bella Abzug D-N.Y., who chairs the House Government Information Subcommittee, wrote Bush and said, "I urge you to rethink your request and withdraw it."

Rep. Abzug told Bush, "Your request presumably would include files and records relating to assassinations of foreign leaders and other matters which may be of continuing interest to various congressional committees."

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the Senate Administrative Practice and Procedure Subcommittee, also wrote to Bush and said, "I urge you to defer any such planned destruction for the foreseeable future."

RESCUE STRANDED WORKER — Jackson, Mich., firemen pulled Dan Tate to safety on the roof of the City Bank and Trust Co. after Tate's mechanical scaffold got stuck 115 feet above street level. Tate had been touching up trim on the new building when the mishap occurred.

Tate, who exceeds 6 feet and 200 pounds, suffered only hand cuts. Fire officials said their tallest aerial ladder only goes up 100 feet so ropes were used to haul Tate to the top of the 11-story building.

Primary results

These were the figures on the final primaries:

CALIFORNIA
With just over 90 per cent of the precincts counted:

REPUBLICAN
Reagan 1,374,294 or 65 per cent
Ford 727,005 or 35 per cent
Reagan got all 167 delegates under the winner-take-all system.

DEMOCRATIC
Brown 1,831,156 or 59 per cent and 204 delegates.
Carter 633,811 or 20 per cent and 67 delegates.
Church 232,886 or 7 per cent and 7 delegates.
Udall 156,449 or 5 per cent and 2 delegates.

OHIO
With about 90 per cent of the precincts counted:
Ford 471,582 or 55 per cent and 91 delegates.
Reagan 380,784 or 45 per cent and 6 delegates.

Among Democrats:
Carter 535,970 or 52 per cent and 119 delegates.
Udall 219,291 or 21 per cent and 20 delegates.
Church 144,553 or 14 per cent.

NEW JERSEY
With just under 90 per cent of the vote counted in Republican delegate competition, a nominally uncommitted slate of party leaders who actually favor Ford won all 67 convention seats.

In the Democratic presidential preference vote, which was only for show since it committed no delegates, 91 per cent of the precincts had been counted.

Carter had 188,261 or 57 per cent.
Church was second with 64,771 or 19 per cent.
The rest was split three ways.

In the Democratic competition that really counted, 88 per cent of the precincts had reported, and the uncommitted delegate slate led for 75 delegates, Carter for 25. The uncommitted slate was the haven for Humphrey and Brown supporters. Udall was leading for three delegates. New Jersey elected 108 Democratic delegates, but no returns had been tallied in the other contests.

The statewide delegate vote, which was for 27 of the delegates, showed:
Uncommitted 166,402 or 42 per cent.
Carter 113,185 or 28 per cent.

Murder suspect fails to post $25,000 bail

LAMESA — A Gaines County man remained in Dawson County jail late Tuesday in lieu of $25,000 bond set in the shooting death of one Lamesa man and the wounding of another.

Fidel Lopez Jr., 27, was arraigned in justice of the peace court in Seminole County officers arrested him in Gaines County.

He is charged with murder and aggravated assault in the 11:45 p.m. Saturday shooting death of Richard Perez, 30, and wounding of Andrew Martinez, 42, at an east Lamesa residence.

Martinez was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Services for Perez will be at 2 p.m. today in St. Margaret-Mary's Catholic Church with the Rev. Jerome Vitek, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Plants brighten Ackerly triangle

ACKERLY — The red cannas planted in a triangle in downtown Ackerly were a contribution of the Future Homemakers' class at Sands High School.

The girls, led by Mrs. Donna Cunningham, sponsor, obtained cannas, cleaned off the triangle and planted them for the summer months.

The group plans to continue with city beautification projects in the future.

Police beat Runnels School looted

Over $1,000 worth of equipment was stolen from Runnels Junior High School, 200 E. 10th.

Sometime between 8 p.m. June 3, and 8 p.m. Tuesday, burglars slipped into Runnels Junior High and made off with $1,036.50 worth of audio-visual equipment. Big Spring Police have found no specific point of entry into the school.

Stolen items include a 16 millimeter projector, a film strip projector, a plug-in listening center, two sets of headphones, and two staple guns.

Connie Rodriguez, Route 2, reported the theft of her purse, around 12:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Ms. Nichols was visiting the Nichols Automatic Laundry, 209 NW 2nd, and stepped out for a moment, leaving her purse behind.

When she returned to the laundry, the purse was gone. It had contained $400 in cash, according to reports.

The Rev. Steve Martinez, 1011 N. Scurry, had a visit from house breakers sometime between 3 and 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

According to reports, burglars pried open a screen and entered through a rear window of the home. Missing was a stereo console valued at $250.

Gary Grosse, 1809 W. 3rd, was nearly run off the road by another car around 12:15 p.m. Friday.

According to reports, an orange Chevrolet Camaro followed Grosse along FM 700 and rammed the right side of his car forcing him to stop near the 11th Place exit. The driver then tried unsuccessfully to pick a fight with Grosse. Both sides of the right front wheel of Grosse's car were damaged. Officers are investigating the incident.

Christy Turner, Coronado Hills Apartments, reported that a large rock was thrown through her upstairs window around 10:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Robert Milton Langston, Sandra Gale Apartments, lost a hanging plant from his front porch to burglars between 2 and 5 p.m. Tuesday. The greenery was valued at $10.

A bicycle was stolen from the backyard of James Ryan, 1701 Runnels, sometime Tuesday. The bike was valued at $35.

A number of Big Spring mishaps were added to June's already rising tally. Reports for last month show a total of 125 accidents. This accounted for 22 injuries and one fatality. Of the 125 accidents, 11 involved drivers were allegedly intoxicated.

In Tuesday's accidents:
Cars driven by Melnese White Huckabee, 3707 Caroline, and Amelia Erwin Walker, 4211 Dixon, collided 2 p.m. at Westover and Lancaster.

Cars driven by Ruth B. Melton, Cale, Ark., and Clyde Cecil Johnson, 2011 Runnels, collided, 5:33 p.m., on E. 3rd. Ms. Melton was treated and released from Malone and Hogan Hospital following the mishap.

Cars driven by William E. Scoggin, 1506 Mesa, and Beatrice O'Brien, Lennox, and Kenneth W. Williams, 4000 West Hwy. 80, collided, 11:21 a.m., in the parking lot of the Foodway Store.

Cars driven by Thomas W. Neel, Garden City Route, and David B. Brotherton, Lockney, collided, 1:01 p.m., at 2nd and Gregg.

Nolin owes $60,000, cotton company claims

LUBBOCK — The Allenberg Cotton Company — a co-defendant with Vaughan B. Nowlin in several West Texas lawsuits — has itself filed a claim saying Nowlin owes it nearly $60,000.

The proof of claim, filed in federal bankruptcy referee Frank Murray's court, also asks for contingency indemnity claims up to $306,000 in the event courts rule against it in the pending civil cases.

Alenberg filed its unsecured claim for $57,898.33. In the claim, Allenberg said it agreed March 5 to purchase 1,430 bales of cotton at 44.75 cents per pound from Nowlin, and paid a $330,587.37 draft March 9.

The company alleges that Nowlin delivered only 1,330 bales and failed properly to deduct compress charges, making the draft amount $49,423.51 too high.

On March 13, several Paducah area farmers sued, claiming they were unable to redeem checks Nowlin's company had given them in return for cotton.

Eventually, 31 farmers joined in the suit, saying they were owed $375,000 for around 1,800 bales of cotton. Some Howard County cotton was involved.

The monetary value of cotton evidently claimed by Allenberg involved in Howard County litigation was listed at around $76,000.

Nowlin is a 33-year-old businessman whose firm handled between $40 and $50 million worth of cotton transactions last year.

Seek better pay Refugees abandon sponsor

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — A cooling breeze blew across this South Texas coastal town from the Gulf of Mexico, cutting into the stifling heat as workers prepared their shrimp boats for the peak shrimping season.

The beginning of the season this year was supposed to be something special for Ansel Isbell of Isbell Seafoods.

But it won't be.

Last year, when the government was attempting to find homes and jobs for hundreds of thousands of refugees who fled South Vietnam as the war drew to a close, Isbell agreed to sponsor a group of more than 100 refugees who had been fishermen.

He said he trained them, spent about $150,000 and fought charges of discrimination and counter charges of special treatment which some workers here said was being provided for the refugees.

Now the peak shrimping season is here and most of the Vietnamese he trained are gone, apparently lured to another area by tales of higher pay.

Most of the refugees climbed aboard a bus provided by Catholic charities and left last week for Edna, Tex., in search of better jobs and new homes.

With the departure of the refugee fishermen, Isbell was forced to hire local labor to go after the shrimp.

Only two families remain in Port Isabel, living in a motel owned by Isbell and left devastated with the departure of the refugees.

Before new tenants can move into his motel, Isbell said, "It's got to be stripped and completely refurbished." He estimates this will cost about $50,000.

Refrigerators in the motel units were pushed outside when they no longer functioned.

Vo Van Hai, a former captain in the South Vietnamese navy and one of the few remaining refugees here, said the refrigerator doors were left open and stopped running when the compressors burned out.

"These were country people, fishing people, who had never had things like stoves or refrigerators," Hai said.

Isbell said the refugees removed the window screens and used them to dry fish and then left the butane stoves

Accused hot checker's pattern leads to cell

A 28-year-old arrested twice Friday for the same offense was taken into custody again Tuesday.

This time, District Judge Ralph W. Caton and Justice of the Peace Bob West denied bond for Garry Homfeld, 611 Steakley St.

Homfeld is serving probation for theft by check and now has made restitution for 13 worthless checks for a total of $896.

The guilty plea was heard in 118th District Court in June 1973. In January 1974, a motion for revocation was filed because of a worthless check.

In September 1975, another revocation motion was filed for failure to make restitution.

His attorney filed a motion to have him discharged from probation in February, but Judge Caton did not sign the prepared order.

Friday, Homfeld was arrested for forging a $450 check on May 4 and for revocation of probation for

New ambulance used three times

ACKERLY — The new ambulance service at Ackerly has already been used three times, even though official training for the attendants will begin in mid-June.

The ambulance has made three runs taking sick persons to the hospital from Ackerly. The training for 15 volunteers will begin at Martin County Hospital around June 15.

This is part of the Emergency Medical System, adopted in Martin County. The ambulance is stationed at the firehouse in Ackerly for use in emergency runs in that area.

Teen plunges 16 stories to his death in Midland

MIDLAND — William Eric Riley, 16, employed by a window cleaning service, fell 16 stories to his death while working on the Gulf Building here Monday afternoon.

Riley apparently lost his balance while working at the southeast corner at the top of the structure. Witnesses said winds were gusty at the time.

The body landed 6 1/2 feet from the building. Riley was pronounced dead at the scene by Peace Justice Robert Pine.

Services are scheduled at 4 p.m., today in Newnie W. Ellis Funeral Home Chapel. Burial will occur in Valhalla Mausoleum.

Riley was born Aug. 31, 1959, in Hobbs, N.M. He moved to Midland 13 years ago with his parents.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Riley, Midland; two brothers, Roy G. Riley, Temple, and Anthony Riley, Pomona, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Sandra Galo, Denver, Colo.; and a grandmother, Mrs. Edna Morrison, St. Jo, Ark.

Sterling City woman hurt in car-truck wreck

STERLING CITY — Lola Looney, 68, Sterling City, was reported in good condition after suffering a leg injury in a car-truck accident 18 miles south of Big Spring about 8 a.m. today.

Glenn Harper, San Angelo, was driving a tank truck, and Laquina McClain, Sterling City, was driving the car involved in the accident. State Trooper Ken Joyce said.

Both vehicles were headed the same direction, Joyce said.

The car went 366 feet down a ditch on the right-hand side of the road and then crossed the road and broke through a fence, Joyce said.

Texas to become financial center of the nation?

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe says Texas could become the financial center of the nation if it can maintain the favorable economic climate that has attracted new industry.

"Texas is No. 1 for oil and gas production and No. 1 for economy. If we can maintain a favorable climate, Texas can and will become the financial center of the United States," Briscoe said Tuesday at the final session of the two-day Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association meeting.

The governor told the 450 independent operators that the oil and gas industry has made possible the state's industrial growth and assured them they will have incentives to find new supplies.

Briscoe also said, "As long as I am governor the state I will not place a ceiling on commodities, services, wages or rents.

"Price controls don't work and we're not going down that path. The market place will determine prices. We are not going to fall victim to any shortsighted solutions."

Briscoe also repeated his earlier calls for decreased state spending.

One of the greatest wastes in the state is higher education which produces graduates who cannot get jobs, the governor said.

"It is breaking the state," he said, "and it's not only a waste of money but a waste of human resources."

Employees on the state payroll have also increased, he said, from 45,000 in 1957 to 135,000 in 1974. One out of every six workers is employed by the state, he added.

"It's sapping our resources and turning us one into one huge bureaucracy," Briscoe declared. "We must face the harsh reality that neither man nor government can afford to live beyond his means. Government does not have the power, wisdom or resource to solve problems."

He said he was determined that Texas will not experience the fiscal problems that have plagued other states and said he was proud of the state's $2.6 billion surplus.

World Senators renominated

Incumbent members of the U.S. Senate appeared headed for renomination in Tuesday's primary elections, together with dozens of members of the House of Representatives. Presidential primaries in Ohio, New Jersey and California overshadowed senatorial races in those states. The only other senatorial voting was in Maine, where Democratic Sen. Edmund S. Muskie was unopposed for a fourth term. The most hotly contested Senate race was in California, where first-term Sen. John Tunney held nearly a 2-to-1 lead over Tom Hayden, former anti-war activist, Chicago 7 trial defendant and husband of actress Jane Fonda. Former San Francisco State College president S.I. Hayakawa jumped to an early lead over former California Lt. Gov. Robert Finch and Rep. Alphonzo Bell for the GOP senate nomination. Rep. Wayne Hays, seeking the Democratic nomination for a 15th term in Congress under the cloud of a sex scandal, built a substantial early lead in his race.

Labor contracts settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor contracts in the construction industry are being negotiated without the strikes and inflationary wage settlements that former Labor Secretary John Dunlop warned of six months ago. Federal officials say the moderation is mainly due to high unemployment and competition from non-union labor. With two-thirds of the 2,800 construction union contracts up for negotiation this year already settled, industry strike activity is at its lowest level in five years.

Syrian advance slowed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian guerrillas and their leftist Lebanese allies claimed they slowed the Syrian armored advance on Beirut today as foreign Arab leaders tried to arrange a cease-fire in the Lebanese war. Palestinian spokesmen said more than 500 persons have been killed and 1,200 wounded since the Syrians on Sunday launched their drive on Beirut and Sidon, the ancient port city 25 miles to the south.

Liz surprised

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor was surprised to hear reports that her estranged husband Richard Burton tried and failed to get a quickie divorce in Haiti recently, a spokesman for the actress says.

She was prepared to give Burton an engagement present — their yacht, the spokesman said.

"I would have done nothing to stand in the way of the happiness of Richard Burton and Susan Hunt," Miss Taylor said in a statement released Tuesday through a publicity firm. "But he never asked me for my signature."

Fire destroys Lubbock plant

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Firemen battled flames Tuesday night that destroyed much of a paint factory on the Lubbock's northwest side.

A spokesman for Technical Coating, Inc., Don Wood, said damage to the plant could be as high as $1 million.

Firemen stretched hoses 1 1/4 miles to reach the flames, which burned out of control for hours. Three persons suffered minor injuries but were released from a hospital after treatment, authorities said.

The blaze started in the manufacturing end of the plant while solvent was being pumped into a can, and went out of control after an explosion at about 3 p.m. The plant contained seven 5,000-gallon tanks of resin and several large tanks of solvent, officials said.

Fugate paroled, private life jeopardized

YORK, Neb. (AP) — Carl Ann Fugate will be released from prison after serving 18 years for murder but her desire to settle down in obscurity and perhaps get married and raise children may be just a dream.

Her chances for anonymity on the outside were threatened Tuesday when the chairman of Nebraska's Parole Board, John Greenholtz, said Miss Fugate would report to a parole officer in St. Johns, Mich., after she is freed.

California voters nix nuclear ban

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California voters, placing their faith in nuclear energy, have firmly rejected the nation's first ballot proposal to restrict the use of nuclear power rather than risk radiation disaster.

Proposition 15, a controversial measure placed on the primary ballot by environmentalists, went down to defeat by a 2-1 margin. Voters appeared unimpressed by dire predictions of the potential for radiation disaster.

In late results, with 54 per cent of precincts reporting, the vote was: yes, 1,066,650 or 35 per cent; no, 2,046,281, or 65 per cent.

The vote in the nation's most populous state was seen as a bellwether of public opinion for at least 10 other states now considering similar proposals. Colorado and Oregon have nuclear safety measures on their November ballots.

The "Yes on 15 Committee," which ran a vigorous campaign for tough safety restrictions, vowed to continue the campaign with fervor.

"We've scared the bejeesus out of the nuclear industry," said David Pesonen, a San Francisco attorney who drafted Prop. 15. "We are not going away."

"The voters responded to the overwhelming number of scientific, educational and political leaders who came out against Prop. 15," said Chuck Winner, campaign manager for "No on 15."

He also cited the support of such figures as former Govs. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown and Ronald Reagan, and President Ford. The current California governor, Edmund G. Brown Jr., took no stand on the issue.

The "No on 15" group, supported largely by major utility companies, spent more than $3 million to defeat the initiative. The proponents spent nearly $1 million.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader, who campaigned for Prop. 15, blamed the imbalance of funds for its defeat.

Greenholtz' revelation of Miss Fugate's parole address may have upset a plan to set Miss Fugate up with a "new identity."

His comment was the first indication of where Miss Fugate is going.

"I do not wish to give interviews today or in the future," said Miss Fugate as she appeared before the board.

"I'd like to just settle down, get married, have a couple kids — you know, dust the house, clean the toilet — you know, just an ordinary little dumpy housewife. That's all I want to be — wash the socks, you know, burn the toast."

The board's vote was 4-1 to grant Miss Fugate's request for parole. She will be released June 20, apparently for the new start in Michigan.

About 30 persons attended the hearing. The board's decision brought applause.

Now 32, Miss Fugate accompanied Charles Starkweather, the red-haired mass killer, on a rampage in 1958 that left 10 dead. Starkweather was the last man executed in Nebraska's electric chair — 17 years ago this month.

Miss Fugate said Starkweather forced her to go with him, but Starkweather swore that his companion, then 14, was a willing accomplice in as many as six of the murders.

Starkweather's victims included Miss Fugate's mother, stepfather and 2-year-old half-sister.

She was convicted of first-degree murder in connection with her part in the death of one of Starkweather's victims, Richard Jensen.

During her prison years, Miss Fugate became a member of the Nazarene Church. She taught Bible classes, babysat for worshippers attending Sunday services and occasionally delivered sermons.

"I would just like to say thanks," said Miss Fugate before being led quickly from the room with tears in her eyes.

Judging our town by shoe leather

When I moved to Big Spring, a dozen people told me how the town comes to grow on you.

Many phrased it in this manner: "After you wear out your first pair of shoes in Big Spring, you'll never want to leave."

I mention this only because last week I purchased a new pair of shoes to replace a brown pair that had worn through my cardboard and into my socks.

As I bought the shoes, the commonly held tenet that one comes really to like Big Spring after going through the first pair of soles popped up from my memory.

Somewhat to my surprise, I agree. And not just to the concept that after adjusting to West Texas and the community, one would come to love it, but also to the approximate timing of one pair of shoes.

I have been in Big Spring just over five months, and I have indeed come to adore it.

I will concede that, being a native West Texan, I may have adapted more readily than, say, a New Englander.

On the other hand, those old shoes of mine already had a few months wear in East Texas on them before I moved here Jan. 2.

In giving a brief personal background of himself before the Big Spring Rotary Club Tuesday, Gibson's manager Al Stephens said that one pair of shoes was all it took him to become a devoted Big Springer.

So I reckon one pair of shoes is about right. It might take two pairs for someone from "the city" (New York) since Manhattan residents secretly consider even Chicago as provincial. Three pair might be worn out before a Californian might be lured away from his smog, but for your average American, I would bet on one pair of shoes.

My wife also has come to love Big Spring, but I cannot score her conversion by pairs of shoes since she has brought home seven — none of which are anywhere near worn out. The principle must work only for men.

So if you're a newcomer and you want to know how long it will be before you truly think of Big Spring as home,

FINAL PROOF OF "I LOVE BIG SPRING" CLAIM

check your shoes. Are the bottoms thin? Are the heels worn down? (No fair going to a repairman.) If the answer is yes, you may be stuck here forever, and love it. —J. TOM GRAHAM

Since the residents of Big Spring will have to put up with me for the next successive Wednesdays in this little corner, I guess an introduction is in order.

THE LAST TIME I had to do this sort of thing was in a news reporting class when we had to write our own obituaries. I enjoyed it then, too.

Let me say first that I have been pleasantly surprised by Big Spring. Those of us who come from the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the metro-mess as we so fondly call it, tend to have preconceptions of what a small West Texas town is like, which is usually something along the lines of the Mojave Desert.

I was happy to see that there are, contrary to popular opinion, trees here. Maybe a little smaller than usual, but nevertheless, they do have the common characteristics. Bark, leaves, trunks, in fact, pretty much regular old trees. I really didn't go for all the big types in the Big Thicket anyway. I'm little too, so I can kind of sympathize with the sage brush.

MAYBE EAST TEXAS and West Texas could work out an exchange program. Dallas certainly doesn't need all those big trees. The sun never gets past the smog, and nobody has the time to sit in the shade if there did happen to be a few rays peeking through.

Which is another fine thing here. You can actually see the sky. Lo and behold, it's not brown either. I was born in Houston, which accounts for my tendency to run in circles during deadline hours, and it was a long time before I knew that clouds weren't synonymous with the sky. I just figured "Chicken Little" was a true story.

I'm also very impressed with your sunsets. I realize you don't have a lot to do with them one way or the other, but they are quite beautiful. For those of you who have the pleasure of getting up before the crack of dawn, you know what I'm talking about.

Also, I've had this irresistible urge since I came here to say Big Springs and have been reminded about four million times that wishing isn't being and that there remains only ONE spring. Well, if you really want to get technical, it's not even that big.

I hate to be all praise and no constructive criticism, besides being suspicious it's unethical, but anything I could say about the water would not change it. My dog, Rikki, seems to be able to drink it alright, but then she eats Friskies, too, and I doubt I'd enjoy that much either.

All things considered though, I think I will enjoy living in Big Spring (s) a great deal. I also think it was pretty slick the way I got out of introducing myself.

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

In regard to Mr. Graham's editorial of June 2, 1976 concerning Louis Rosenbaum and the Howard County Airport, I am in full agreement with the first paragraph in which he says that he does not understand the problem and certainly believe the remainder of the editorial furnished abundant proof of his ignorance. He has indicated some attempt to learn the facts before expressing his editorial opinions. I wonder who he talked to. He did not discuss the matter with any of the officers of Big Spring Aircraft or the airport manager. If he discussed it with the members of the Aviation Committee, he certainly gave no expression to their viewpoint. I understand he had a brief conversation with Judge Tune but, again, he failed to make his views and the facts he made available to Graham known.

First of all, let me clarify the position of Big Spring Aircraft. We have made it clear from the very beginning that we want no consideration of our welfare to interfere with the best interests of the community. We have made it clear to the commissioners and to the Aviation Committee at all times that we have no claim of exclusive rights at the airport, and that if the commissioners' best judgment require granting the franchise to Mr. Rosenbaum, we would have no complaints. At the same time, we have made it clear that there is no possibility of two fixed base operators operating economically and that in all likelihood, we would simply sell our equipment and get out. Even though our lease on the hangars has three more years to run, we have told the commissioners we would surrender the lease if they desired us to do so.

I am told Graham examined Rosenbaum's financial statement, as well as the indictment against him and judgment of conviction in the Federal Court in El Paso. Graham is certainly enough of a businessman to know that no intelligent banker would loan any substantial amount of money on that financial statement. The Commissioners Court certainly had a right to request more adequate financial information. Furthermore, if Graham made any investigation at all, he knows that Rosenbaum has admitted losing $30,000 a month in the Trans-Regional operation, and looking at his financial statement, Graham must have wondered where the money was coming from. Considering the indictment and conviction, it must have occurred to Graham that if a man will violate the law by filing false official reports to one governmental agency, his representations to another governmental agency are entitled to some skepticism.

Big Spring Aircraft has performed the duties of management of the airport for the commissioners for the past five years (incidentally, at no cost to the County), and the prospects are that if Rosenbaum is made a fixed base operator, the County will either have to employ an airport manager at a cost of $20,000 to $25,000 per year or turn management of the airport over to Rosenbaum. I will let Graham be the judge of whether he would turn the operation of his business over to him.

Judge Tune and the commissioners have consistently been placed in a most unfavorable light by Graham and the newspaper. I know I speak for a great many people when I say we respect Judge Tune and Commissioners Buchanan, Rupert and Crooker for having the political courage to resist the efforts of Rosenbaum and the FAA to compel them to make a decision contrary to the best interests of the taxpayers and the users of Howard County Airport. I have absolutely no explanation of why the FAA insists on compelling Howard County to turn taxpayer-owned facilities over to a man like Rosenbaum, but I certainly do not share Graham's apparent feeling that Bill Howard is going to vindictively punish Howard County because of this disagreement. I do not believe he is that kind of man. In fact, he may personally disagree with many of the regulations under which he is forced to operate.

I would like to hear Graham's reaction to Judge Tune's suggestion that if a large number of business and civic leaders will go on record as requesting the commissioners to give Rosenbaum a franchise, that he at least (and probably the commissioners as well) would give it favorable consideration. I would invite Graham to put his name at the head of the list if he is willing to give his personal backing to Rosenbaum. Why expect them to do business with Rosenbaum if he is not willing to give him his unqualified support?

While Graham is throwing stones, he might consider as a target those people who have thrown their support behind Rosenbaum as opposed to Chaparral Airlines in the recent hearing before the Texas Aviation Committee. If his investigative efforts showed him anything, it should have been that Trans-Regional cannot possibly survive, and that the best interests of this community would have been to support Chaparral in its application for routes out of Midland which might have included Big Spring. Graham's next consideration might be what he is going to do after Big Spring Aircraft is out of business and Trans-Regional has folded up and Chaparral is flying over Big Spring from Midland to Abilene and D-FW. Rosenbaum himself has said to me, to Judge Tune and others that if he did not get the Abilene route he was going to fold up. He has lost the Abilene route, and if Graham continues to hang on to him, he is going to go down without a parachute.

Finally, before Graham or anyone else imputes to me self-interest in this matter, let me tell him the facts in that regard. After our former airport manager tragically lost his life, a group of business and civic leaders in Big Spring took over the airport operation and consistently lost money on it for a period of about two years because of their lack of time to spend supervising it because of other business interests. They asked me, Jack Cook (former manager of Big Spring Municipal Airport), and Bill McClendon, a 25-year professional pilot, to take over the operation. Subsequently, we personally obligated ourselves for about $12,000 for equipment to carry on the operation. In January of 1975, Jack Cook and I sold our interest back to the corporation, although all three of us are still personally liable on the notes. We did not go into the business to make any money and have not, but likewise, we did not go into the business to lose money, and we are not going to, so it is not a matter of any deep concern to us financially. What is of concern to us is that Rosenbaum will get a lease on the airport facilities, then go out of the airline business, and we are stuck with him as airport operator, controlling the hangars and fixed base operations. If that happens, we will never get a reputable commuter airline in Big Spring.

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in protest of the method of delivery of the Big Spring Herald.

As of June 2, 1976 the carrier informs us that the paper will not be delivered to the door, but will be thrown.

This method of delivery is not acceptable to me. I prefer my paper in the door or on the mailbox, this is the type of service that I was paying for. Notice I said was paying for, because I immediately cancelled my delivery order.

I hate the thought of not getting the Herald anymore, but I feel like I am entitled to what I pay for — "home delivery."

Russian fascist?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Parade Magazine's contributing editor Walter Scott, whose column is devoted to answering questions from correspondents who want answers to questions about the high and the mighty and the glamorous, recently printed the following question: "The Russian writer, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, isn't he fundamentally a fascist?"

To this, Mr. Scott published the following reply:

"SOLZHENITSYN BELIEVES in and will support passionately any force or ideology opposed to the Soviet Union. His hatred of Soviet Communism is so visceral and pervasive that he exalts Francisco Franco's Spain and denigrates Gerald Ford's America. He loses sight of the fact that were it not for American reaction to Soviet oppression he would not be a free man today. He serves the purpose, however, in advising the West never to trust the Soviets."

It is difficult even to comment on such a travesty as Mr. Scott's. Just for example, there is no mention that Solzhenitsyn fought bloody campaigns against Hitler. Those who say that this is of no consequence because young Solzhenitsyn after all had no alternative than to do so, having been conscripted by the Soviet Army, are left without explanation for Solzhenitsyn's recent impassioned congratulations to Great Britain for having fought against the "monster" Hitler. What is monstrous in Solzhenitsyn's eyes is not only the Soviet system, but any totalitarian system. That he should devote most of his time to describing the horrors of Soviet tyranny one would think would be natural.

And what about Solzhenitsyn's venture in Spain? What Solzhenitsyn said in his television broadcast was that Spain was by contrast with the Soviet Union a wildly free country. "The progressive forces of this country," he said in Madrid, "tell us that the Spanish regime is a dictatorship... If in the USSR we had the liberty I have witnessed here, we would not be able to believe it."

CONCERNING LIBERTARIAN reforms in Spain, Solzhenitsyn cautioned, reflecting on the experience in Russia before 1917: "Those who desire democratic reforms to come more rapidly to Spain than they are doing — are they sufficiently wise to concern themselves not merely with what is going to happen tomorrow, but with what may happen the day after tomorrow? Those who love liberty and also love Spain," he added, "are obliged to meditate on the day after tomorrow, rather than on the morning alone."

Does that justify Mr. Scott's shallow characterization, passed out to the tens of millions of readers of Parade? Those who say there is no freedom of expression in Spain should read Cuadernos. There they will see exactly the kind of thing Solzhenitsyn is talking about. The writer Juan Benet, after describing Solzhenitsyn's novels as "the most insulated, fossil-like, and literarily decadent and puerile of recent years," came to the solemn conclusion that as long as there are people like Solzhenitsyn around, there is a place for concentration camps indeed, that perhaps the best criticism of Soviet Russia is that the Soviet Communists ever let Solzhenitsyn out of a concentration camp.

Biopsy method: Knotty problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a 48-year-old woman who had a benign tumor removed from my breast. I have talked to other women who have had tumors or cysts and who found disagreement among doctors about it. Some do a needle biopsy and others say they prefer to remove a lump and have a pathologist there, then proceed according to what is found.

If a doctor does a needle biopsy and the tumor is found to be benign, does he just leave it there? How do they know the best method to use? — Mrs. J.O.

This is a knotty problem. The answer lies in the skillful preliminary diagnosis of suspicious tissue. The surgeon must then use his own judgment as to the best method of making a final determination — which biopsy technique to use.

They are three basic methods to obtain a sample of the tissue. They are the needle technique, the "incision" method and the "excision."

Using the needle, the surgeon draws out a bit of material from the growth to be studied under a microscope. Or he may make a small incision to remove a larger sample. With excision the entire growth is removed.

The needle method is the simpler and less expensive way, but it has its drawbacks, especially if the growth is a tiny one. However, with this method there is less chance of disturbing surrounding tissue and lymph glands.

The incision technique is usually favored if the suspicious mass is large. The object is to get as large a sample as possible. This cuts down chances of getting a false reading from a bit of tissue that is not representative of the whole.

The last method, where the entire growth is removed, is decided on when the tissue has been identified as cancerous or where strong suspicion exists that part of it may be or become so.

Often, a combination of these methods is used. For example, the needle sample may prove to be benign. But was the sample accurate? To be sure, the surgeon may have to use one of the other methods.

As I said, it is a knotty problem. If tissue is inaccurately found to be non-cancerous, that is even worse than if it is inaccurately judged to be malignant.

Often, the doctor or pathologist (the one who studies the tissue for him) does not have time on his side. Tests are not 100 per cent reliable and they do take several hours.

My advice for anyone having a biopsy is to have a frank discussion with the doctor regarding the proposed method and the alternatives that must be decided on by him.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We eat a lot of lettuce in our diet, and I read recently something by a nutrition expert that lettuce has "fiber." Now my wife is afraid to eat it because we don't know what fiber is. Can you tell us? — A.A.

Lettuce is a good fiber food. There's nothing bad about it.

All foods contain three basic things — proteins, carbohydrates and fats. These can all be broken down (or digested) so that the body can use them. Digestion of these substances takes place somewhere along the digestive tract.

With the plants we eat a fourth ingredient is added — cellulose. This is a non-digestible material that forms the plant's cell walls. This is fiber.

While your body cannot digest cellulose, it puts it to good use. As bulk it is a great help in the digestion of other foods. It provides the bowel with the bulk it needs to work efficiently. Without bulk constipation would result.

You'll occasionally hear reference to high-residue or low-residue diets, or one high in bulk or low in bulk. It all means basically the same thing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.E.: "Phimosi" (ie-MOE-sis) is excessive tightness of the foreskin to the point where it cannot be drawn back normally. The answer often is surgery (circumcision).

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write to him in care of The Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can we know each other in heaven and still not remember the past life on earth? — E. Y.

DEAR E. Y.: Whenever we start likening conditions in Heaven to those on earth we are creating difficulties for ourselves. There is no comparison at all between Heaven and earth, or between the people dwelling in those two spheres. When it is stated in Revelation 21:5, "Behold, I make all things new," it means everything, including people, their memories and their minds.

While it is true, as the question suggests, that we recognize each other in Heaven, this does not mean that we see each other as we used to be on earth. In Heaven we are all brothers and sisters in Christ, which is closer than any human relationship on earth. "In the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven" (Matthew 22:30 Revised Standard Version).

It is quite clear that there will be no unhappy memories in Heaven: "He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning nor crying nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away" (Revelation 21:4 Revised Standard Version). Paul summarizes just how great is the change that takes place when we pass from earth to Heaven: "This perishable nature must put on the imperishable, and this mortal nature must put on immortality" (1 Corinthians 15:53 Revised Standard Version).

We are completely new beings in a new creation. Let us never underestimate how gloriously new and different everything will be in Heaven. It bears no comparison whatsoever to earth.

Conflicting shark advice abounds

By The Associated Press

There are plenty of stories around these days about sharks.

Some of them probably are true, and some of them probably aren't.

There is an equal amount of advice around these days about where to find sharks, how to avoid them once you've found them and what to do if you meet one face-to-face, or even jaw-to-jaw.

You can find just about whatever piece of advice one would like to hear.

For instance, let's say you like to swim in the ocean at night. A published report quoted statistics gathered by the Mote Marine Laboratory in Sarasota, Fla. The report said that few shark attacks occur at night, because sharks' prime feeding hours are 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Dr. Perry Gilbert is the director of the Mote laboratory. Gilbert recommends not swimming at night, because that's dinner time for sharks.

Take your choice. Suppose you like to enjoy a quiet, relaxing swim by yourself. Don't swim alone, says Mote Director Gilbert. But the Mote statistics report says that solo swimmers are much less likely to be attacked than swimmers in a group.

Take your choice. But take heart, there are some areas of agreement: —There are sharks off the Texas Coast—sand sharks, lemons, hammerheads, and even great whites.

—Sharks are more attracted to swimmers who use a thrashing stroke instead of a smooth one.

—Sharks rarely circle their prey. They bear toward it fast and hard.

—Most shark attacks occur in water four to six feet deep.

—Sharks would rather attack men than women. Ninety-three per cent of all recorded attacks are against men.

—There is no such thing as a shark repellent.

Ernest Simmons, director of the Fisheries Division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, certainly about sharks is summed it up: "The one their uncertainty"

Idaho disaster

$1 billion lost, nine are dead

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The death toll from the collapse of Idaho's Teton Dam and the flooding that followed rose to nine today and some damage estimates soared past the $1 billion mark.

Thirty persons still were listed as missing and Idaho Falls Hospital said Tuesday it had reports of 1,750 flood-related injuries, most of them minor and the result of cleanup work.

Only five of the reported deaths were drownings, officials said. Three were attributed to heart attacks and one was the accidental shooting of a man guarding his property to prevent looting, they said.

As mopping up continued, Congress promised two investigations into the dam's collapse Saturday. And Asst. Interior Secretary Jack Horton informed Gov. Cecil D. Andrus that President Ford authorized his department to contract for repairs and construction of damaged canals and diversion dams.

But Horton said the question of whether the federal government is liable for damages as a result of the dam break is "a tricky one" that will have to be settled later.

Damage from flooding was reported along 80 miles of the Teton and Snake rivers below the dam. The House Operations Committee announced in Washington it will investigate the collapse of the dam amid reports that predictions of danger were ignored. Chairman Jack Brooks, D-Texas, said the conservation, energy and natural resources subcommittee headed by Rep. Leo J. Ryan, D-Calif., will hold field inspections in eastern Idaho and Washington.

Earlier, the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee announced its staff also would investigate Saturday's collapse of the 307-foot high dam. It was built at a cost of $55 million for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, whose commissioner, Gilbert Stamm, has said water seepage may have hastened the collapse of the recently completed structure.

Besides threatened drought to 400,000 acres of farmland that depend on irrigation, more than one dozen eastern Idaho communities suffered damage to homes, businesses and public facilities. An assistant to Andrus said 3,150 families were affected in the upper Snake River Valley, but the Red Cross said its estimates were approaching 5,000, with some areas yet to be checked.

Getty's will clear, billions divided

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unlike Howard Hughes, J. Paul Getty left one clearcut will spelling out how his billions in cash, holdings and art treasures are to be distributed.

Getty's will, a neatly-typed, 23-page document, was filed Tuesday in Los Angeles County Court, leaving various bequests to his four sons and others but giving the bulk of his wealth to the J. Paul Getty Museum in Malibu.

The will placed no value on the estate left by the 83-year-old billionaire who died in his sleep Sunday at his country estate in Guildford, England. But the worth of Getty's global financial empire was estimated at between $2 billion and $4 billion.

At least 20 purported wills have been filed on behalf of Getty's fellow billionaire, Howard Hughes. Novelty companies have even begun marketing "do-it-yourself" Hughes wills.

Getty's will directed that he be buried in a "small marble mausoleum" on a portion of his 65-acre ranch at Pacific Palisades.

The rest of the ranch, along with his entire art collection valued at $200 million and a variety of rugs, tapestries, antique furniture and silverware also were left to the Getty Museum.

The will also specified that anyone later declared to be a wife or child of Getty's be paid "the sum of $10 and no more."

The will named two of Getty's sons, Gordon Peter Getty and Jean Ronald Getty, and the Title Insurance Trust Co. of Los Angeles as executors of the estate.

Two other sons, J. Paul Getty Jr. and George F. Getty II, were named to receive parts of the billionaire's art collection and cash, though George Getty died in 1973.

Getty's will also left varying amounts of stock to eight female friends and directed that annuities be set up for some of them.

William Bell, vice president of Title Insurance Trust, said he was not certain who the women were.

"I'm not too familiar with Mr. Getty's personal history," Bell said. "They probably were just friends of his."

Similar annuities were set up for members of Getty's household staff and several key business executives.

Red Cross conducting $5 million fund drive

The American Red Cross is conducting a $5 million fund drive. It will provide assistance to the 14,000 families in Guam who suffered losses as a result of Typhoon Pamela.

Red Cross disaster specialists have been flown to Guam, and have joined local Red Cross workers to provide food, shelter, nursing and health care to the homeless.

Red Cross caseworkers are dispersing funds for groceries, clothing, furniture and household accessories, temporary home repairs, replacement of eyeglasses and prescription medicines, and a variety of other emergency items.

The Red Cross, our nation's principal disaster relief agency, will remain on the job until the needs of victims have been met. But the job will be costly.

All chapters of the American Red Cross are appealing for funds to help the citizens of Guam. Those who wish to send funds should earmark the donation to, "Typhoon Pamela Relief" P.O. Box 1970, Big Spring.

For more information, contact Nat Roll, executive with the local Red Cross chapter.

Court halts Frisco strike

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A temporary restraining order was granted the Frisco railroad Tuesday, preventing 3,400 members of the United Transportation Union from striking the nine-state carrier.

The strike was to have gone into effect Tuesday night, presumably in a dispute between the union and the railroad over a washroom torn down two weeks ago in Springfield, Mo.

Judge William R. Collinson of U.S. district court issued the order on the Frisco's contention that the strike would paralyze its operations in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida at a cost of $500,000 a day.

Collinson set the matter for a full hearing June 18.

Arrest made in stolen bond sale

DALLAS (AP) — A Wichita Falls man has been arrested on a federal indictment from Indiana in connection with the sale of about $1.4 million in stolen municipal bearer bonds, the FBI said.

Ennis Monroe Aikin, 46, also known as A.E. Aikin, was arrested at his home in Wichita Falls Tuesday by an FBI agent and a Wichita County deputy, said Ted L. Gunderson, special agent in charge of the Dallas FBI office.

Aikin was indicted Monday by a federal grand jury in Indianapolis on charges of receiving and disposing of the stolen municipal bearer bonds which constituted part of an interstate shipment between California and Indianapolis, Gunderson said.

A federal judge in Indianapolis issued a bench warrant for Aikin and set a bond of $100,000, Gunderson said.

Viewers turned off by TV violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the nation's largest advertising agency says a survey conducted for his agency shows that many television viewers are turning off violent TV programs and may also be rejecting the products advertised on those programs.

Don Johnston, president of the J. Walter Thompson, Co. said a poll conducted in March shows that 10 per cent of viewers apparently consider not buying products because they are advertised on programs they consider excessively violent.

Eight per cent reported "consciously not buying a product," he told the annual convention of the American Advertising Federation here Tuesday.

He said that even if subsequent polls show only 4 per cent of viewers reject products because they are advertised in connection with violence, "I cannot imagine any advertiser who would want to risk negative sales of these proportions."

Johnston said the survey, although preliminary, corroborates other indications "that public hostility to violent TV programming is growing."

He said the J. Walter Thompson agency is "counseling our clients to evaluate the potential negatives of placing commercials in programming perceived as violent."

Opponents of TV violence are organizing, he said, and Johnston predicted their actions will be felt "more and more ... in letters of protest and in product boycotts."

Johnston also said he personally opposes excessive violence on TV, and sodes the agency.

"We are questioning that part of TV programming that exploits violence," he said. "We believe it is socially and psychologically damaging to large sections of the population."

Johnston said the agency's analysis of existing scientific and social research on TV violence reveals the following areas where it believes "damage is caused."

"If they (children) are constantly given models of violent behavior, their behavior will probably turn violent."

"Incidents have been reported in which unstable adults have modeled crimes on television dramas."

"Excessive doses of violence tend to desensitize even stable adults. They become indifferent to the suffering of others."

"Heavy watching of TV violence contributes to the tide of paranoia that afflicts a major part of the population ... Caution is a useful emotion. Terror is not."

U.S. faces swelling of senior population

The following is the first of three articles on America's growing elderly population. It looks at the social and economic ramifications of having an increasing proportion of the population over 65.

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Get ready for a shock, America: You're getting a little older every day. Soon you will need more hospital units for the elderly, more doctors and nurses trained to care for them.

You will be under pressure to change your Social Security and pension systems, to reconsider the way you force people to retire.

Your swelling population of old people will press you increasingly to create new jobs for them, both private enterprise and government programs that draw on the skills of retired professionals.

They will seek government programs to retrain them for new jobs and will be banging increasingly on the doors of your colleges and universities, even as the number of traditional college-age youth drops off.

These are no idle predictions. They are based on headcounts of people already born, plus predictions in present trends in births and deaths.

Today there are 1,600 more Americans over 65 than there were yesterday.

Tomorrow the number will grow again, and by the year 2020 — when the post-World War II baby boom crop passes age 65 — there will be an estimated 43 million older Americans, almost twice as many as there are now. About one in 10 Americans is over 65 today. But if young people continue their present taste for late marriage and small families, the year 2020 will see at least one in six Americans over 65.

And because women probably will continue to live longer than men, the 65 and older population of the future will be largely female, most of them widows.

Strains on the Social Security system are among the most pressing problems created by this "gray revolution."

Under the present system, benefits to retired people are paid from the payroll taxes of those presently in the work force. That means that today's young and middle-aged are putting money aside, not for their own retirement, but for those now retired. Who will pay the retirement benefits of the baby boom generation?

Chances are it will still be the young and middle-aged, but it may cost them twice as much as it does now. The Social Security Administration estimates that in the year 2020, there will be 22 persons working for every one drawing retirement benefits. That compares to 32 workers for every beneficiary today.

Last year the administration estimated that by 2025, each worker may have to contribute 10.2 per cent of his salary to Social Security, compared to the 5.4 per cent he throws in today. Under present law, the employer contributes the same amount to the system.

Such a move is likely to be unpopular with the working force. But political pressure from pensioners, already strong, will increase as their numbers grow.

Such conflicting pressures may increasingly pit the generations against each other, said Dr. Robert N. Butler. His examination of the status of today's elderly is outlined in his recently published Pulitzer Prize-winning book, "Why Survive? Being Old in America."

Butler, who was recently appointed the first head of the new National Institute on Aging within the National Institutes of Health, advocates having the federal government contribute to the Social Security system, something that has not been done in the past. This would have the advantage of taking relatively more money from people of higher income than is now the case, but would still be taxing the productive sector of society to pay the pensions of the retired.

A more fundamental change, Butler suggests, would be to find ways for older people to remain longer in the work force.

"What we are studying here," Butler said, "is not just older people the way they are now, but older people as they can become. We have to integrate them into the work force and keep them younger."

Because older people have more medical problems than the population as a whole, more facilities will be needed to care for the growing aging population, argues Dr. George Maddox, director of the Duke University Center for the Aging in Durham, N.C.

"We have contrived a system of medicine that does magnificent things for terrible problems but doesn't deal with chronic illness," Maddox said. "We require pitifully low standards for nursing homes... The American medical system is geared to acute and specialty medicine, and the biggest problems of old people aren't characterized that way. We have no cleverness to deal with the medical problems of late life."

For example, Maddox said the country spends much more money on spectacular medical achievements like heart transplants and artificial kidney treatment than it does on preventive care, especially for older people.

"We don't care for them until they're sick enough to go to the hospital," Maddox said, "and all that does is raise costs." Maddox said that medical institutions must be encouraged to include the physical and psychological problems of the elderly in their courses, that doctors must be encouraged to study them, that semiprofessional people must be trained to deliver health care in the home.

Besides changes in how it administers medical care to the elderly, the country will have to consider what kinds of housing its old people will live in, whether there will be more planned towns or if an effort will be made to integrate the elderly more into the community. There may be a demand for more one-level apartments.

Experts on the elderly say communities should draw more on the professional skills of retired people, such as having retired lawyers offer legal services to the aging, retired doctors and nurses offer care in the home and retired teachers give courses in the schools.

Educators say that there will be more and more elderly signing up for courses in the colleges and universities, that a semester of French literature or a course in art history will become a recreational as well as a learning experience.

One must ask how all these changes will manifest themselves. One way will be in the political system. Voting records show that older persons are much more likely to register and vote than younger ones.

Dallas dam could fail

DALLAS (AP) — An engineering consultant has told the city of Dallas that White Rock Lake Dam in the northeast part of the city could fail during a heavy flood and cause "significant" loss of life and property.

The report by USR-Forrest & Cotton, Inc., said the dam should be about six feet higher. The firm also recommended raising an embankment and reinforcing the back slopes of the dam to increase stability.

The dam could be flooded over two to 10 feet during heavy flooding, causing rapid erosion that would leave the dam useless, the engineering firm said. A flood of that magnitude is not likely, but could occur, the report said.

A recent Texas Water Rights Commission report also said the dam is not capable of holding the maximum projected flood.

The city has known about problems with the dam since 1965, and did raise the height by three feet in 1971. The recent report estimated it would cost the city $777,000 to make the recommended improvements.

The report said the dam has settled considerably

Four area youths win junior rodeo awards

Four area youths have just returned from Idabel, Okla., where they competed in the "World's Largest Junior Rodeo." There were contestants from 16 states and a total purse in excess of $14,000.

Hank Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams, Sterling City Route, competed in bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and team roping.

Hank's sister, Valerie Adams, competed in pole bending and was the ribbon runner for Hank.

Donald Ray Luce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Luce, Coahoma, also competed in bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and team since it was built, and said development of land in the White Rock Creek watershed has increased the amount and speed of water runoff during heavy rainfall.

roping. Sandy Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sewell, Sterling City Route, competed in barrel racing and goat tying and was the ribbon runner for Donald Luce.

The first go-round in the rodeo was held June 2 through 4, with the top 15 contestants in each event competing in the finals on Saturday night, June 5.

Hank Adams and Donald Luce made the top 15 in calf roping and Sandy Sewell made the top 15 in goat tying, and they competed in the final performance on Saturday night.

Sandy Sewell, Hank Adams, and Valerie Adams are students at Forsan High School. Donald Luce attends Coahoma High School. All four who attended the Idabel rodeo are members of the American Junior Rodeo Association and compete regularly throughout the spring and summer in Texas and New Mexico.

Hank Adams was World Champion Bull Rider, Runner-Up Calf Roper and Runner-Up for All Around in his age group in AJRA last year. Another sister, Christi Adams, is also an AJRA member and was World Champion Calf Roper in her age group last year.

Hays wins renomination in Ohio

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Wayne Hays, facing a showdown with House colleagues over a payroll-sex scandal, has won renomination to a 15th term in Congress.

The 65-year-old Democrat won Tuesday's Democratic primary over Nick Karnick, a 56-year-old Steubenville court bailiff making his fifth run at Hays.

Karnick's best previous showing against the incumbent was 20 per cent, but with 64 per cent of the vote counted, the challenger had 43 per cent of the total — Hays 20,175, Karnick 14,925.

Hays will face Republican Ralph R. McCoy of Woodsfield and William Crabbe, Steubenville's mayor and an independent, in the general election.

Hays retired early to his farm, telling reporters initial returns were gratifying "according to the circumstances and the pressure I have been under."

He planned to return to Washington today to join the House in action on key legislation which forced him to postpone until next week a decision on whether to step down temporarily as chairman of the House Administration Committee. He previously stepped aside as chairman of the House Congressional Campaign Committee which hands out funds to candidates.

He is under investigation by the U.S. Justice Department, a federal grand jury and the House Ethics Committee. They are examining allegations of misuse of federal funds. Elizabeth Ray, a 33-year-old former member of Hays' staff, has charged he put her on the payroll as his mistress.

Hays has admitted a "personal relationship" with her but denied the allegation of misuse of federal money. Hays fared poorly as a favorite son presidential candidate in the six congressional districts among Ohio's 23 where he was on the ballot. He did not get a single delegate.

SQUADRON LEADERS — The color guard and squadron leaders march forward at the Review Parade during change of command ceremonies at Webb AFB Tuesday. Panel okays record defense bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing concern over the Soviets' nuclear missile strength, the House Appropriations Committee approved a record $106 billion defense bill Tuesday.

The committee rejected Senate efforts to trim expenditures for Trident submarine long-range missiles by $600 million to $2.26 billion and to block a $350 million advance payment for a nuclear aircraft carrier.

The committee also approved President Ford's $1.5 billion request for the B1 bomber.

The $106-billion bill for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1 is only $814 million below Ford's request, the smallest cut in a decade. Cuts had ranged near $5 billion in recent years.

The full House is to act on the bill next week.

The committee chopped $101.4 million off Ford's request for intelligence funds, but, as always, refused to say how much money for intelligence agencies is hidden among the defense items in the bill.

The committee said that until present reorganization determines the future of U.S. intelligence activities (which) will not result in major new commitments.

On the B1 bomber, the committee rejected 26 to 15 an amendment by Rep.

Joseph P. Addabbo, D-N.Y., to prohibit any production spending for the plane until March 1 so that whoever is elected president in November can decide whether the plane is needed.

Opponents, including Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said the next president obviously can halt the B1 program whether Congress approves such a provision or not.

The B1 is being developed to replace the B52 as the Air Force's chief strategic bomber. No decision has been made yet on whether to go ahead and begin production of the aircraft.

The appropriations committee also rejected two other Addabbo amendments. One would have cut $80 million for the purchase of 80 Trident missiles. It was rejected 30 to 10.

Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., noted the Soviets also are developing a large Trident-type missile-firing submarine and the amendment "just puts us further behind the Soviets."

The other amendment sought to postpone for a year a $350-million advance for another nuclear aircraft carrier requested by Ford. It was defeated 22 to 16.

Vietnam vets protest loss of education aid

NEW YORK (AP) — A small band of Vietnam veterans seized the Statue of Liberty to protest the loss of education benefits under the GI Bill.

About 15 members of the Vietnam Veterans against the War refused to leave the statue at closing time Tuesday. Instead, they ordered about 10 employees out and barricaded themselves inside.

No hostages were taken and Luis Garcia, the National Park Service's manager of the statue, called the occupation peaceful.

Before midnight Tuesday, U.S. Dist. Judge Milton Pollack signed an order temporarily restraining the veterans from continuing the occupation. There was no immediate response to the order from the veterans.

U.S. Park Police, New York City Police and the FBI were kept informed of the situation but said no plans were being made to remove the protesters.

Shortly after taking over the statue, the veterans draped a banner from the crown that read, "Extend and Expand the GI Bill."

In a statement read from a Manhattan office after the move on the statue, the veterans said, "We are not rising up to beg but to demand that the GI Bill be extended and expanded."

The cutoff of the education benefits, the statement said, "is forcing thousands of us onto the streets, with no jobs to be found and no income to survive. We will not starve."

On June 1, the GI Bill education benefits expired for veterans who served between Jan. 31, 1955 and

Chile pressured to free prisoners

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's military government was under new pressure from the United States and some other American countries today to free the 4,000 political prisoners it is estimated to be holding or at least to respect their human rights.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger warned the ruling junta that U.S.-Chilean relations will remain cool unless it improves its performance on human rights. Venezuela and Jamaica called for a large-scale release of prisoners.

A Chilean representative said the demands for release of the prisoners was "demagogic and simplistic."

The U.S. secretary of state told the annual general assembly of the Organization of American States Tuesday that the situation "has impaired our relationship with Chile and will continue to do so."

Kissinger cited the report on human rights in the hemisphere made to the meeting by the OAS Human Rights Commission. He said it showed there has been a drop in the number of cases of abuse of human rights in Chile.

"Nevertheless, the commission has asserted that violations continue to occur, and this is a matter of bilateral as well as international concern," Kissinger said. "In the United States, concern is widespread in the executive branch, in the press, and in the Congress."

Kissinger said the commission's report "confirms our worst fears of Cuban behavior." Informed sources said the report told of continuing repression, women prisoners being kept nude in overcrowded cells, prisoners being denied visitors and mail, and prisoners' meals being served deliberately at erratic hours.

U.S. officials said Kissinger also discussed the human rights issue at a meeting Tuesday with Gen. Augusto Pinochet, president of the Chilean junta. But there was no information on whether the secretary linked the issue to economic and financial support the junta gets from the United States and international lending agencies it controls. There also was no indication of what Pinochet told Kissinger.

Chilean delegate Sergio Diez told the OAS session his government is trying to improve the human rights situation.

Big Spring firm awarded contract to repair 275 blocks of paving

Price Construction Co., Big Spring, has been awarded the contract to repair 275 blocks of paving in Colorado City on a bid of $254,083. Seven bids were submitted to the Colorado City council.

Work on the project will be undertaken prior to June 21. Under terms of the contract, the job must be completed by Aug. 14.

The council agreed to revise ordinances referring to a Parks and Recreation Board and to amend them to provide for a membership of three with advisory powers only.

City Manager James Campbell petitioned the council for a revision in city personnel policy which would make retirement mandatory at the age of 65.

Previously, the policy had allowed retirement at 65, with the provision that the council could grant extensions. The change was granted.

Teens exploring veterinary medicine vocation field

Busy teens of the Big Spring-Webb AFB Veterinary Explorer Post No. 246 are exploring a vocational field, in which they are interested, from the inside out.

"Exploring, the young adult division of Boy Scouts of America, is designed to introduce youth to adult life style through a well-programmed career-oriented organization," according to Capt. (Dr.) Larry D. Brown, base veterinarian who is the post's advisor.

The local Explorers include eight boys and five girls who are all interested in veterinary careers. They have visited the base hospital surgical ward and laboratory to observe instruments and machines which are identical to those used to treat animals.

In the Big Spring area they visited an equine veterinarian, Dr. Joe K. Neff, who is also a post advisor. At his horse ranch north of town they saw him treat large animals.

The Explorers traveled to Thomason Ranch at St. Lawrence to see Dr. Henry Thompson perform surgical procedures and vaccinate cattle. They also plan visits to a feedlot at Lubbock and to Dr. Akin Simpson's Highland Animal Hospital. Both vets are also post advisors.

Later this month the young men and women will visit the Texas A&M School of Veterinary Medicine at College Station. All of the exploring gives members a chance to investigate the career field and determine what it takes to apply to vet school.

Membership in the Explorer post is open to all interested in veterinary medicine. Ages are from 15 through high school. Present members are dependents of Webb military along with civilians.

To earn money for their trips, Explorers hold bake sales, wash cars, etc. Annual membership fees are $8.50 which includes accident insurance.

Members have visited grade schools to talk on responsible pet ownership including rabies dangers, animal control, bites, etc. They also help with base vaccination drives and watch demonstrations in Dr. Brown's office as well as hold regular meetings there.

The Webb Federal Credit Union helps sponsor the post and purchased a veterinary 4-H slide audio-visual program which they use in their talks.

Another post advisor is Dr. Sid Hanslik, while Col. Robert F. Brodman is the post executive officer.

Second largest wheat crop predicted this year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department prepared today to issue a new estimate of 1976 winter wheat production, a crop which farmers are busy harvesting now in the southern Great Plains.

A month ago the department's Crop Reporting Board estimated the wheat harvest at about 1.46 billion bushels. Although that would be down 12 per cent from last year's record crop of more than 1.65 billion bushels, it would be the second largest on record.

Winter wheat, planted in the fall for harvest the following summer, accounts for about three-fourths of total U.S. wheat output. The balance is from wheat planted in the spring and harvested the same year.

If farmers produce as much spring wheat as indicated in earlier planting surveys, the total wheat crop this year could be around two billion bushels, nearly as large as the 1975 crop of 2.1 billion, according to USDA experts.

The report today will be based on field surveys made

June 1. No estimate of spring what production or the 1976 crops of corn, soybeans and other spring-planted crops will be ready until next month.

Meanwhile, the department said Tuesday that "critically short moisture" in South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin had caused wheat prospects to decline by early this month.

"Unseasonably hot, dry conditions prematurely ripened winter wheat on short straw," the department said in a weekly weather review.

CAPTURES HONORS — David Long, Howard County 4-Her and son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Long, was one of 14 individuals competing in the State Farm and Ranch Management Contest held on the Texas A&M campus during 4-H Roundup June 1-3. David's presentation, "Cotton Module System vs Trailer System," took top honors on the county and district levels to qualify for the state competition. The annual event is sponsored by the Production Credit Association of Texas.

Food preservation to be program topic

COLORADO CITY — Residents of Mitchell and Scurry Counties will receive first-hand information on recommended food preservation techniques during programs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

The program is scheduled for Tuesday, June 15, in Colorado City at 2 p.m. The location is the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Medallion Room, intersection of East 80 and South 208. The entire program will be repeated on Friday, June 18 at 2 p.m. in the Union Community Center, six miles west of Snyder on Lamesa highway.

County Extension agents, Janis Choate and Ruby Butts, will present guidelines for freezing and canning with slight emphasis on drying techniques.

In each area, the agents will discuss equipment and correct procedures and probable reason for failures. Time will be allowed for questions and individual consultation.

Such educational programs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are available to all people regardless of age, socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Beekeepers asked to file report

Beekeepers are asked to file a report of their colonies with the Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

This must be done before July 15 to obtain any program benefits.

Anyone who needs more information may call or visit the ASCS office on the second floor of the Federal Building.

Six from Big Spring attending Boys State

AUSTIN — The 36th annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the campus of The University of Texas, got under way today as 900 high school boys from all parts of Texas, and two from Mexico, began registration, Larry Lahaie, department commander, announced.

Among those registering from Big Spring were Ralph Rocha Miranda, Jesse Fred Griffin, Kyle Lindsey Stripling, Stephen Edward Hughes, Steven Casey Wilder and Charles Stephen Evans who were sponsored by local American Legion Posts.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties — the Nationalist or Federalist.

Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of our government. These civic workshops stress the importance of maintaining our form of government and bring better understanding of our national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men who are participating this year.

In Boys State, the American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

The program takes on added significance since the vote has been extended to 18-year-olds. Most Boys Staters are in the 16 to 17 age category.

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol Tuesday morning where each elected Boys State official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 20,138 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Ridin' fence

See you there

with Marj Carpenter

See you at Lottie's. If this is one of your sayings, you probably either live in or around Ackerly.

Lottie's is the downtown cafe in Ackerly. While Coahoma, much larger in population, is getting a drive-in restaurant opened on the service road to replace the one and only cafe which went up in flames last year, Ackerly has had a cafe all the time. At times, they have two.

The breakfast crowd is the big one at Lottie's. Ackerly is a farming town and the farmers get up and at it early.

Farm wives no longer have to get up and feed the hands, some of the wives do not arise that early.

But Lottie's opens at 6 a.m. and she serves lots of breakfasts and coffee.

This is where the comparison in crops is made. "Is your cotton up yet?" "Did that last shower put a crust over it?" "Did you notice in the lower end of the field, I've already got weeds?"

These are the bits of information exchanged at Lottie's. That's the place where the discussions hinge on what type cotton seed you used this year and why?

Cotton markets, types of fertilizers, and what they're doing about the boll weevil in neighboring Mitchell County are mixed in with the bacon and eggs. And lots of coffee.

After the breakfast rush is over, Lottie sometimes shuts it down and heads for town, if she's needs to run errands. Some days she stays open all morning.

But she's always back in time to fry hamburgers for lunch. She doesn't serve a plate lunch, but fixes a bunch of those short orders.

She lives in the trailer out back and takes care of her grandchildren.

There's really no way to count the number of pots of coffee that have been served to Ackerly citizens at Lottie's.

The town includes or touches parts of four counties, all of which are "dry" at Ackerly. These four are Howard, Martin, Dawson and Borden Counties. Howard County was voted dry in that area years ago. Martin and Borden Counties are dry — period. So is Dawson, but during the past two years, there have been three attempts to vote it wet.

The most recent of those attempts was in the Ackerly area and it was a big controversial question around that town for a few weeks. The vote was decisive and against.

It was one of the things discussed at Lottie's and everywhere else around Ackerly back during the month of March. You ask the average Ackerly resident what Lottie's last name is and they stare at you briefly. A lot of them will shake their heads. But it's Crittenden.

However, in Ackerly, it's just Lottie. There's more than one "CB crackles. "Meet you at Lottie's. For coffee."

Wins 100th game Dierker Day

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros may be thinking about making June 8 "Larry Dierker Day."

Dierker, in what may have been one of the best all-around efforts of his 13-year career, blanked the St. Louis Cardinals on five hits and scored both runs for a 2-0 victory Tuesday night.

"This was my day," said Dierker, now 6-5. "I don't think I can pitch any better."

"The Cardinals have been struggling but for a right-handed pitcher I don't think there is a harder lineup in the league."

The veteran Astros pitcher encountered little trouble from St. Louis batters as he struck out nine and walked only three in notching his 100th career complete game.

"I really had exceptional control," Dierker said. "I really don't think that there's anybody around who can pitch with better control than I did tonight."

Dierker recorded his 23rd career shutout and the Astros pitching staff's third whitewash in their last six games. The Astros broke a scoreless tie with an unearned run in the sixth inning off loser Bob Forsch, 1-2.

Dierker was safe at first on an error by St. Louis shortstop Don Kessinger and moved to second on a sacrifice by Greg Gross.

With two outs, Cesar Cedeno was intentionally walked but Bob Watson crossed up the Cardinal strategy by delivering an RBI single off Forsch to score Dierker.

"It got the adrenalin pumping," said Watson of the St. Louis plan. "But I can't blame Red (St. Louis manager Red Schoendienst). It was a good move."

Houston added another run in the eighth off reliever Bill Grief on a single by Dierker, another sacrifice by Gross and a pair of errors by Cardinals third baseman Hector Cruz.

The victory was Houston's 10th in its last 13 games.

FIRST PICK — Arizona State University southpaw Floyd Bannister was the first-round pick of the Houston Astros yesterday in the summer free-agent draft.

Big Spring Herald

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1976

SECTION BSECTION B

Astros draft winningest pitcher in college ball

HOUSTON (AP) — Everyone seems to agree that Arizona State southpaw Floyd Bannister, Houston's No. 1 choice in the baseball's free agent draft, will start his career in the minors—even Bannister.

"I've talked to Houston about starting out in the major leagues and I don't want to," Bannister said Tuesday after the Astros made him the first pick in the draft. "I'd rather start out in the minor leagues and work myself up."

"I've seen too many cases of people starting out in the big leagues and it hurting them. I'd like to start off low and build up my confidence."

Houston Astros Manager Bill Virdon said he knew nothing about Bannister except from scouting report but he thought Bannister likely would start somewhere in the minors.

"I would imagine if we sign him, they (Astros management) would plan on starting him in the minor league system," Virdon said. "I don't say it couldn't happen, but it would be rare for him to come straight here and do well."

Bannister, the winningest pitcher in college baseball with a 37-5 record over three seasons, compiled an 18-1 record this season and a 1.35 earned run average.

Bannister struck out 195 batters this season, the most of any major college pitcher, and has led Arizona State into the college world series at Omaha, Neb.

After selecting Bannister, the Astros picked infielders for their next three selections including second-round choice Phil Klimas, a third baseman from Xavier University, catcher Reggie Baldwin from Grambling and third baseman Jim Pankovits, from South Carolina.

Other Astros selections included outfielder Thomas Weidenbauer, Tucson, Ariz., pitcher David Smith, San Diego State, pitcher George Ploucher, Middle Tennessee State, catcher Jerry Williford, University of Houston, infielder-outfielder Gary Rajcich, Arizona State, pitcher Ronnie Estes, Boise State University, infielder Charles Gardner, John Brown University.

Briles takes it easy, lets his jersey win

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lefthanded Fritz Peterson took the mound for Texas wearing the uniform jersey of righthander Nelson Briles.

It may have been confusing to the fans for awhile, and it certainly provided amusement for the Rangers. But for the Orioles, it didn't make much difference—all pitchers look alike to them these days.

Briles, er, Peterson, with relief help from a clearly identified Steve Foucault, won 6-3 Tuesday night and dealt the Orioles their eighth defeat in 10 games.

"Way to go, Fritz," teammates yelled to the real Briles in the clubhouse after the game, while they awaited for Peterson to complete a postgame television interview.

"I don't feel like I pitched," Briles deadpanned. "I could have gone all night. I didn't even work up a sweat. But I got a little careless in the eighth inning."

It was Peterson, of course, who allowed four of Baltimore's nine hits in the eighth, including run-scoring hits by Lee May and Paul Blair.

Foucault, recording his second save in two nights, came in to retire Ken Singleton on one pitch with two runners in scoring position. In the ninth, Foucault fanned two of the three batters.

It was Peterson's first start with Texas, after two relief appearances following his acquisition in a trade with the Cleveland Indians.

"My new jerseys were supposed to be sent air mail, special delivery to Baltimore," Peterson said, "but they didn't arrive. The other two times I pitched, I wore (coach) Dick Gernert's jersey—but he failed me. I'm still wearing his pants, though."

Houston expects to sign Bannister after the series

NEW YORK (AP) — The Atlanta Braves, winners of the Andy Messersmith free agency sweepstakes earlier this year, get to take the lid off today's secondary phase of the baseball draft and they've narrowed their choice to a pair of speedy Californians.

It will be either Gerald Price, an 18-year-old infielder with fast feet and a quick bat, or 19-year-old Ron Roenicke, a switch-hitting center fielder, who will lead off the draft for previously selected but unsigned players.

Both Price and Roenicke were selected before by Detroit but went back into the hopper because the figures the Tigers offered to sign were too small.

Price, whose brother Mike was selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1970 but got cut from their minor league system in 1972, is a freshman at Diablo Valley Junior College in Pleasant Hills, Calif. This season, Price, a second baseman, batted .400 and knocked in 24 runs in 24 games.

Roenicke, whose brother Gary was promoted from the minors to the Montreal Expos this week, is a sophomore at Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif. This season, he hit .356, setting a team record with 10 triples.

Houston apparently has whispered acceptable figures to prime prospect Floyd Bannister of Arizona State, who was selected by the Astros Tuesday as the No. 1 pick in the regular phase of the free agent draft.

The Astros had said they would not draft Bannister if they felt they could not sign him. But Tuesday they drafted him, and a

FLOYD BANNISTER Pitching for Arizona State in College World Series

Houston spokesman said, "We do expect to sign him."

The Astros said they would not approach Bannister about signing a contract until Arizona State finishes competing in the College World Series in Omaha, Neb. The San Devils, 62-8 this season, are the No. 1 ranked team in the country and they face rival Arizona Saturday night in their opening game of the double elimination tournament.

Twice an All-American, Bannister has blazed his way to a 37-5 record in three varsity seasons at Arizona State. Employing three effective pitches, Bannister—who will be 21 Thursday when the draft is scheduled to end—has led the nation in strikeouts the past two years.

Bannister's teammate, Ken Landreaux, the sixth player chosen, was selected by the California Angels. A center fielder, he batted .413 with 14 home runs and 87 RBI this season.

The 24 major league clubs spent most of Tuesday attempting to fix their pitching staffs. On the first round alone, 14 pitchers were taken, including Pat Underwood, who was chosen by the Tigers, who had the second pick of the draft. Underwood's brother, Tom, pitches for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cubs blank San Antonio for doubleheader split

Fast-balling Bernie Beckman hurled a seven-inning no-hitter as Midland hung a 5-0 defeat on San Antonio in the second half of Texas League twin bill Tuesday night. San Antonio took the opener 10-6.

Lafayette clung to its one-game lead in the East Division by blanking Jackson 7-0, and runnerup Shreveport kept pace by beating Arkansas 9-3. El Paso maintained a four-game bulge over Midland atop the West by nipping Amarillo 8-7.

Beckman, whose record now is 2-2, had a perfect game for four and one-third innings until an infield error and a wild pitch put runners on base. He fanned seven batters and walked none.

"I stuck mostly with fast balls after I got the five-run lead," Beckman said. "I just wanted to challenge them. I didn't want to walk them."

A two-run homer by Scott Thompson in the third inning and one by Mike Supper with the bases empty in the fifth contributed to Beckman's lead. In the first game San Antonio's Mel Barrow helped overcome a 5-0 Midland lead by belting a three-run homer. Thompson swatted a two-run homer and a double for the losers.

Rick Bradley's grand slam homer, one by Tony Pepper with a man on base and a solo poke by John Andrews accounted for all the Lafayette scoring. Winning pitcher Jay Dillard, now 6-1, tossed a five-hitter and

Cubs meet Amarillo for a 4-game set

MIDLAND — Following a short 4-day roadtrip to San Antonio during which they will play 6 games, the Midland Cubs return home Saturday, June 12, to begin a 4-game set with Amarillo. The Cubs have defeated the Gold Sox 6 times in 10 meetings in 1976. Amarillo is led by outfielder Don Reynolds (11 HR, 31 RBI, .383), outfielder Bobby Mitchell (.346) and infielder Gene DeLyon (.353).

El Paso follows the Gold Sox into Cubs Stadium, playing 6 games in 5 days from June 16-20. The doubleheader is a makeup of the rained-out game on April 28. The division-leading Diablos feature an attack led by Marty Friedman, whose .388 average currently leads the Texas League. In addition to Friedman, the Diablos have offense galore in Butch Alberts (.385), Danny Goodwin (.353) and Willie Aikens (9HR, 35 RBI, .322). As a team they are batting .299. Manager Bobby Knoop's pitching staff features Bob Nolan (4-0, 2.40), John Cameira (4-1) and Virgie Barrientos in the bullpen.

With the Cubs currently trailing El Paso by 4½ games, this homestand promises to be very important in shaping the 1976 pennant race.

STILL FLYING HIGH — Dwight Stones, fresh from setting a new world's high jump record, easily clears the net after winning a tennis match in a celebrity tennis tournament now under way in Las Vegas. Stones jumped 7 feet 7 inches Saturday in winning the national collegiate championship.

Lubbock Christian has 2 All-Americans

LUBBOCK — John Harris and Buddy Davis, both of Lubbock Christian College, continued to reap post-season honors last week as they were named to the NAIA All-America first-team unit.

Junior first sacker who was expected to be picked high in the June 8 free agent draft, it was the third time in his storied career he has been tabbed an All-American. The two previous times, however, he was a second-team choice.

Coach Larry Hays signed yet another new baseball player last week, Alvin Community College's MVP Darrell Elliot, an outfielder-catcher who hit .325 for a 30-17 team this year plus led the team in RBI's, walks and stolen bases.

Morgan can do it all, just ask him

The "MVP" in Joe Morgan's credits not only stands for "Most Valuable Player" — but "Most Versatile Player" as well.

The Cincinnati second baseman likes to brag that he can beat you any number of ways — and Tuesday night, he did it the easy way with two home run swings and a sacrifice fly.

"I don't think there are many things out there I can't do," said Morgan after his three RBI led the Reds to a 10-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, "and there are a heck of a lot of things you can do."

Morgan, who won the MVP Award last year while leading the Reds to a World Series victory, is hitting the ball with more authority this season. His two shots Tuesday night gave him four in two nights and 11 for the season, tying him with George Foster for the lead on the Reds.

Braves 7, Cubs 3

Jerry Royster hammered a two-run homer and Rod Gilbreath had four hits including a triple and a double to lead Atlanta over Chicago. The triumph was the fifth straight for the rejuvenated Braves while the Cubs lost their fifth in a row.

Phil Niekro, 4-4, scattered eight hits, including a solo homer by Bill Madlock, before being replaced by Adrian Devine with two outs in the ninth.

Padres 3, Mets 0

Righthander Dave Freisleben hurled his third shutout in four starts since being called up from the minor leagues last month to spark San Diego over New York.

Phillies 14, Dodgers 2

Bob Boone knocked in two runs in a six-run fifth inning to help Philadelphia rout Los Angeles. The victory, the Phillies' 17th in 21 games on the road, lifted them 7½ games over Pittsburgh in the National League East.

Expos 9, Giants 4

Larry Parrish scored three runs and knocked in a pair with a double and two singles as Montreal capitalized on five San Francisco errors to beat the Giants. Veteran lefthander Woody Fryman, 7-3, scattered 12 hits before getting ninth-inning relief help and the Expos chased rookie Rob Dressler, 1-3, with four runs in the fourth for a 6-1 lead.

Signs $850,000 contract

Lucas 1st in NBA draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Can John Lucas find happiness on both the basketball and tennis courts? He's going to try.

Lucas, a college All-American in both tennis and basketball, was the No. 1 pick in Tuesday's National Basketball Association draft, by the Houston Rockets.

After quickly signing a five-year no-cut contract for a reported $850,000 with the Rockets, the 6-foot-4 Lucas said he also was negotiating with a franchise in World Team Tennis and probably would sign with a WTT member — which he did not identify — next week.

"Eye-hand coordination is the most important factor in both sports," said Lucas, who reached the third round of the recent NCAA tennis tournament at Corpus Christi, Tex. "The footwork in tennis also helps me as a guard in basketball."

"But right now, my primary concern is playing basketball," added Lucas, who averaged 18.3 points a game in four years as a starter at Maryland.

The Rockets, operating under new Coach Tom Nissalke, acquired the No. 1 draft on Monday by trading center Joe Meriweather, guard Gus Bailey and their first-round pick to Atlanta

ROBERT PARISH
An early pick by Golden State for center Dwight Jones and the Hawks' top choice.

The Rockets and the other teams, meanwhile, chose 175 other players in the 10-round draft which lasted 2 hours, 5 minutes.

Four of them were from Indiana's national champions. All-American forward Scott May, the College Player of the Year, was the No. 2 pick, by the Chicago Bulls. Two others, guards Quinn Buckner and Bobby Wilkerson, also were drafted on the first round. Buckner, like May a member of the U.S. Olympic team, was selected by the Milwaukee Bucks, and Wilkerson went to the Seattle SuperSonics.

Indiana forward Tom Abernethy was chosen on the third round, by the Los Angeles Lakers.

The only starting member of Indiana's NCAA winners to avoid the draft was All-American center Kent Benson, a junior.

The other 1976 Associated Press All-

Americans, forwards Adrian Dantley of Notre Dame and Phil Sellers of Rutgers, were high picks in the draft. Dantley, a junior who decided to pass up his last year of college eligibility for the pros, was taken by the Buffalo Braves in the first round. Sellers went to the Detroit Pistons in the third round.

In addition to May, Buckner and Dantley, two members of the 15-man Olympic team were chosen. They were centers Mitch Kupchak of North Carolina, by Washington in the first round, and Scott Lloyd of Arizona State, by Milwaukee in round two.

Dantley also was one of seven college undergraduates or high school eligibles from a list of 16 to be chosen. The others were forward Richard Washington, by Kansas City; guard Larry Wright of Grambling, by Washington; forward Norm Cook of Kansas, by champion Boston; guard Johnny Davis of Dayton, by Portland; forward Lonnie Shelton of Oregon State, by New York, and forward Jacky Dorsey of Georgia, by New Orleans.

Other first-round choices included: Alabama center Leon Douglas, by Detroit; Virginia forward Wally Walker, Portland; Centenary center Robert Parish, Golden State.

WITHDRAWS FROM THE NBA DRAFT — UCLA's junior forward Marques Johnson talks with an Associated Press reporter this morning on his decision to withdraw from the National Basketball Assn. professional draft Tuesday morning. Johnson said an offer by the Denver Nuggets had been withdrawn and he had decided to take his chances in the regular pro draft next year after graduation.

Jackson may be out with a broken hand

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have dipped to eight of their last 10 games, and they may also lose injured and slumping slugger Reggie Jackson for an extended period.

Jackson was to have his swollen right hand examined today by an orthopedic specialist, after an initial diagnosis indicated he had cracked a bone in the wrist.

The 30-year-old outfielder, whose average has dipped to .205 after getting only two hits in his last 26 times at bat, first hurt the wrist on a swing in a game on May 7. He sat out one game, then returned to get three hits in the next contest.

He left another game on May 16 after reinjuring the wrist on another swing, and caused further aggravation during his last at bat Monday night.

"The X rays that we took support the possibility of an injury to the navicular bone," said Dr. Leonard Wallenstein, the team physician, following an examination Tuesday.

Jackson was out of the lineup Tuesday night, and will be on the bench again tonight when the Orioles close out a home stand against the Texas Rangers.

If the injury is indeed a cracked navicular bone, it would take six to eight weeks of rest to heal completely. Jackson probably could play with pain, but he would run the risk of further aggravation. As a compromise, a rest period of a week or more might be tried initially.

Signs of the injury are obvious. Jackson can barely close his right hand and he reported waking up at 5 a.m. Tuesday morning with a throbbing pain.

LANDING TOO LATE — Denise Smith of the Kilowatts in Miss Softball America jumps for first to no avail, because Pam Carey of the league-leading Gibson Gals is already holding the ball. The Gibson Gals beat the second-place Kilowatts 24-7.

Miss Softball America

Gals discount Kilowatts

The Gibson's Gals marked down 24 hits and remained undefeated by limiting the Kilowatts to only seven hits. Winning pitcher was Selena Harris, (5-0), and Denise Smith was charged with the loss.

Selena Harris received good support from Julia Montanez, Pam Banks and Jennifer Shirey, all of whom hit for homers.

For the Kilowatts, Sherry Byrd had two four-baggers, and Ann Cadehead had one homer.

Optimists pessimize Kiwanas

In Mini-Minor League action in Miss Softball America Tuesday night, the Optimist roar-shocked the Kiwanas 30-8.

Monette Wise (4-1) was the winning pitcher and Dana Cannon was the losing hurler. Wise also went 4-for-5 with one triple. Natalie Ryan went 4-for-4.

The Optimists are now 8-1.

Misfits curl Kittens

In Miss Softball America the Forsan Oil Well Misfits snipped the First National Bank Kittens 12-5 behind the nine-hit pitching of Lori Calhoun.

Calhoun (4-1) along with Dana Thomas led the Misfits

12-hit assault each blasting losing hurler Verhonda Boothe for three hits. Karla Cregar touched Boothe for two hits including a homer.

L. Overman had three of the Kittens, nine hits and T. Miller had two.

Little League

Fighters scabbard Sabres

In International Little League play, Wayne Coffey fired a no-hitter as the Starfighters clobbered the Sabres 14-0.

Coffey struck out 15 in picking up the win. The victory clinched at least a first-place tie with three games remaining. The big bats for the Starfighters were Ben Termin, Wayne Hilliard, and David Hendrix. Termin had three hits including a bases-loaded triple. Hilliard had two hits and Hendrix hit for an out-of-the-parker.

Teen-Age League

Tigers stripe Mustangs

The brother combination of Mike Harris pitching and Mitch Harris catching resulted in the first Senior League no-hitter of the season in Teenage baseball, as the Big Spring Hardware Tigers nudged out the Bob Brock Mustangs, 2-1.

Ken McMurtrey scored the Mustang run on a passed ball and an error after receiving a base on balls.

Leading hitters for the Tigers were Steve Evans with two singles and Mitch Harris with a single. The Tigers are now 3-2 on the season.

Girls basketball camp on WTC campus in June

Western Texas College junior college, Snyder, is featuring a girls' basketball camp as part of its Second Annual Sports Camp June 20-25. Periods will also be devoted to recreational swimming and other sports.

The camp is open to all girls below high school level who will not compete on varsity teams in any sport next year (primary grades 6-9).

Camp instructors will be selected from the top high school coaches of West Texas and the staff will be headed by Dr. Sid Simpson, coach of the WTC Dusters.

Duster players will serve as assistants and dormitory counselors.

Theresa Beal, who graduated from Coahoma in 1973, will be one of the Dusters at the camp.

Coach Sonnie Barnes, who coached the Coahoma girls the past three seasons and is taking over the girls program in Rotan, will be one of the coaches in charge.

Girls interested in the camp can call Coach Barnes for an application — 394-4551 in Coahoma — or write to Dr. Sid Simpson, Athletic Director, Western Texas College, Snyder, Tex., 79549.

Westerner tied for medal honor

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A two-stroke penalty for conferring between players didn't prevent Alexander City (Ala.) Junior College from taking the first round lead Tuesday in the National Junior College Golf Championship at Galveston Country Club.

Doug Clark fired a one-under-par 71 to pace the leaders and he tied for the medalist lead with Grant Collyns of Western Texas Junior College in Snyder. Collyns registered four birdies over the course, but also posted three bogies.

Western Hills trailed Alexander City by two strokes in the team competition.

Tournament favored Brevard Community College of Cocoa, Fla., was in third place at 298 while Chipola Junior College of Marianna, Fla., was in fourth at 300. McLennan Community College of Waco, Tex., was fifth at 302.

Fierro, Pirkle win handball awards

WICHITA FALLS — Big Spring's George Fierro is a two-fisted brandy drinker, or at least he could be if he wanted to, because he won two engraved silvery brandy snifters in the 20th Annual Red River Handball Tournament and his partner A. J. Pirkle won one.

The brandy snifters were awarded for second-place finishes and Fierro placed second in singles and he and Pirkle finished second in doubles.

The tournament sponsored by the YMCA June 4, 5 and 6 is the second largest in Texas.

To reach the finals Fierro beat Mack Odschlaeger of Wichita Falls 21-15, 21-9; Ngil Lavern of Portales, N.M. 21-18, 21-11 and Dave Gregory of Dallas 21-18, 21-20. In the championship Fierro lost to Steve Bell of Beaumont 21-7, 6-21, 21-19.

Pirkle beat Rickey Bell of Beaumont in singles 15-21, 21-13, 21-9 before he was eliminated by Dave Gregory of Dallas 21-17, 8-21, 3-21.

Fierro-Pirkle beat Altman-Prothro of Wichita Falls 19-21, 21-13, 21-8 and Cantrell-Wabler of Waco 1-21, 21-15, 21-17 to reach the doubles championship.

Bob Lindsay of Wichita Falls and Neil Lavern of Portales beat them in the finals 31-21, 13-21.

Can Lucas make Houston a threat?

HOUSTON (AP) — If Maryland guard John Lucas can lead a fast break as quickly as he can sign a five-year no-cut contract for a rumored $850,000, the Houston Rockets may be a contender next season the National Basketball Association.

The Rockets traded for the No. 1 pick in Tuesday's NBA draft, used it to take the Maryland All-American and in the same breath announced they had signed Lucas to a five-year pact.

Terms of the contract were not announced but a Rockets source said Lucas received about $850,000 to sign a Rockets contract after a midnight to dawn negotiating session with Lee Fentress and Donald Dell, Lucas' agents.

The Rockets did not want a repeat of two years ago when they failed to sign No. 1 draft choice Bobby Jones, who became the American Basketball Association rookie of the year. Ironically, Dell and Fentress represented both Jones and Lucas. Asked how he reached Patterson."

such a quick agreement with Rockets President Ray Patterson on Lucas' contract when none could be reached with Jones, Fentress said "You'll have to ask Mr. Patterson."

Seepage caused Idaho dam disaster?

AT NUCLEAR SYMPOSIUM — Kathy Lloyd, left, student at Big Spring High School, and Big Spring teacher Joan Metzger, attended the 16th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium held at the University of Texas at Austin June 1-4. They were guests of Texas Electric Service Company at the conference, co-sponsored by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which TESCO is a member.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Water seeping past concrete barriers that lined Idaho's Teton dam may have caused the dam's disastrous collapse last Saturday, a government spokesman says.

The collapse, as the earthen dam's reservoir was being filled for the first time, sent a flood racing down the Teton River, killing at least nine persons and destroying homes and farms.

With the disaster under investigation in Congress and by government scientists, a spokesman for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation said attention was centering on signs that water seepage first began eating a hole into the base of the downstream, "dry" side of the 307-foot-high dam, rather than the upstream side where its new 17-mile reservoir was half full and still rising.

The spokesman said investigators did not know how the water might have reached that area on the face of the dam. The $55-million structure was completed last December after being authorized in 1964 for flood control and irrigation.

The spokesman said bureau experts speculated that once the seepage washed a channel through to the reservoir side, the high-pressure reservoir water began pouring through, rapidly enlarging the break until the dam burst.

Explaining the current theory of the dam's collapse, the bureau spokesman said engineers knew they could not build a successful earthen dam without protecting it against direct water seepage through its foundation and its anchor points in the canyon walls.

To prevent such seepage, he said, they dug trenches into the riverbed and into the canyon walls and lined them with concrete.

Water which might have flowed through natural channels across those areas then was blocked and forced to detour underground around the ends of those barricades, called "grouts." These grouts extended beyond each end of the dam to divert underground water away from the dam.

He said this underground water was expected to reappear as seepage from canyon walls at a safe distance downstream. At first it did.

But then, he said, a much larger seepage recently appeared where it was not supposed to be — where the front of the dam itself met the canyon wall. Last Thursday, the local authorities began to get worried.

Their fears were confirmed, he said, when a whirlpool developed in the reservoir just behind the dam, evidence that water was flowing rapidly out through a new channel.

Finally, with a public evacuation already under way downstream, the dam burst open Saturday and sent its water smashing down the valley.

Howard County wildcats listed

Wildcats are slated in Howard County, a re-entry in Glasscock and Mitchell County gains a discovery.

Estoril Producing Corp., Midland, will attempt to reopen Canyon oil production 3/4 mile northeast of depleted Canyon production and one location east-southeast of the re-entered Spraberry reopener of the depleted Bond field of Howard County, with the scheduling of its No. 1-26-1, Fryar, a 9,000-foot wildcat, 10 miles north-northwest of Big Spring.

Location is 1,600 feet from the south and 567 feet from the west lines of 26-32-2n-T&P.

The Canyon opener, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 C. W. Burton, was finalized Nov. 11, 1940 for 218 barrels of 45 gravity oil, plus 21 per cent water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,635-1, through a 15-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,970-920 feet.

The re-entry, Estoril's No. 1 Fryar, in 27-33-2n-T&P, tested through perforations at 4,843-888 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 30,000 gallons and 61,000 pounds of sand, making 466 barrels of load water. Perforations were squeezed.

A re-entered 8,958-foot failure, it was cleaned out to 6,900 feet and finalized May 28, 1975 to pump 10 barrels of 38 gravity oil, plus 20 barrels of water, through perforations at 6,644-675 feet.

SOHIO PETROLEUM CO., Midland will re-enter and deepen for recompletion attempt as extensions to the Calvin (Dean) field at two former Spraberry producers in the Glasscock County portion of the Spraberry Trend Area, 22 miles southwest of Garden City.

The No. 6-C.R.S. Davenport, scheduled to deepen to 8,680 feet, 1 1/2 miles north and 2 3/4 miles south of production in a west extension area, is 1,984.5 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the east lines of 11-37-5s-T&P.

The No. 6-A.R.S. Davenport, scheduled to deepen to 8,600 feet, 5/8 miles north and slightly east and three miles south and slightly east of production in a west extension area, is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of 14-37-5s-T&P.

MITCHELL COUNTY gained a discovery. Eastland Oil Co. Midland No. 1-A Wulfjen, Mitchell County Yates gas discovery, eight miles south of Colorado City, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 3,400,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was from open hole at 346 feet, where 7-inch casing was set and 394 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of 90-26-T&P.

ROBERT L. ANDERSON Anderson due service awards

Robert L. Anderson with Exxon Company, U.S.A., a native of Big Spring, has observed his 30-year service anniversary. He is assigned as senior operator, at Means in the Andrews District, Midcontinent Production Division.

In 1946, he joined the company as a roustabout in Odessa. Field assignments continued in that area on the J. A. Parker lease, in Goldsmith, Andrews, and later a transfer took him to his present location in the Means area.

He and his wife, the former Jane Thompson, make their home in Andrews. They are parents of a daughter, Betty Bob, who resides in Dallas.

A dinner in honor of Anderson is planned for the near future. At that time, he will receive service awards.

CONTRACTOR'S NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION Sealed proposals for constructing 15.421 miles of Safety Improvements From Nolan Co. Line To Abilene West Urban Limits on Highway No. 147, covered by 120 2 (108) 240 in Taylor County, will be received at the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Austin, until 9:00 A.M., June 23, 1976, and then publicly opened and read. THIS CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO THE WORK HOURS ACT OF 1962, PL. 87-581 AND IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, in accordance with the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252) and the Regulations of the U.S. Department of Transportation 15 C.F.R., Part 81, issued pursuant to such Act, hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that the contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder without discrimination on the ground of race, color, or national origin, and further that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color or national origin in consideration for an award. Plans and specifications including minimum wage rates as provided by Law are available at the office of Charles M. Kitchell, Jr., Resident Engineer, Abilene, Texas, and State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Austin.

Oil panel to decide debt payment

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission is expected to make a decision in the next few weeks on whether the Lone Star Gas Co. has to pay $1 million in back payments to the Lo-Vaca Gathering Co, according to the Dallas city attorney.

Alex Bickley said Tuesday that Lone Star Gas may be asked to make the back payments to Lo-Vaca and pass the charges on to its Dallas customers.

If Lone Star loses the argument against making the payment, company officials have said they will have to increase fuel adjustment charges by at least one cent per thousand cubic feet of gas.

Announcing a great new lawn fertilizer!
(At a savings that is not bad either)

New formula Turf Builder® is made especially for lawns in this area. Its high nitrogen content and prolonged feeding makes grass grow greener and thicker, and it keeps it that way for weeks and weeks, thanks to the special patented way it's made. New Turf Builder contains a healthy portion of iron too, to help make up for our iron deficient soils. And it lets you stop worrying about burning your grass too—just use as directed. Its clean, light weight, free flowing granules will give you a lawn to be proud of.

the '76 Toyota Celica
GT Liftback™

Take one out and open it up.

Sporty looking! Sporty handling!
But more practical than a sports car!

The Toyota Celica GT Liftback™ is more than just sporty. It's very practical!
The rear hatch lifts up and the back seat folds down so you can pack a bundle!
The 5-speed overdrive transmission helps save gas* and reduce engine wear.

The new digital-readout ESP™ (Electro Sensor Panel) is an early warning system that gives you time to take care of minor problems before they become major ones.

But we haven't forgotten that the GT Liftback™ is a sporty car. So we added a sporty 2.2 liter engine, wide steel-belted radial tires, styled steel wheels with beauty rims, corner-hugging MacPherson strut front suspension, power front disc brakes, and an outside "GT" mirror.

The spacious interior includes an AM-FM stereo radio. An 8000 rpm electric tach. Reclining 60-back bucket seats. Thick nylon carpeting. Tinted glass. A readable trip meter. Even an electric clock.

Car pool song cost delays police class

HOUSTON (AP) — A new police cadet class due to begin this week has been delayed because of a funding snag but the city will use $3,000 in state and federal funds to come up with a song promoting a car pool program.

The car pool program already has been declared the most successful in the country and the expenditure for the successful program didn't escape Councilman Larry McKaskle Tuesday. He suggested costs could be cut by getting the new police cadet class to sing it.

Golden Anniversary celebration 'surprise' contained over 750 letters from members of their various congregations which they had served through the years.

LONE SURVIVOR — A dog waited as a tow truck prepared to move the car from the scene of a car and motorcycle accident in Correyville, Kan. The dog's owners, George and Frances Morse, and a rider on the motorcycle, Paul J. Wright, were killed in the crash. The accident was the first fatality accident in Coffeyville since 1973.

Final arguments in Yarbrough trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Final arguments were scheduled today in the trial of a lawsuit in which two Houston businessmen are suing Texas Supreme Court nominee Donald B. Yarbrough.

Yarbrough Mrs. Masters testified she loaned Yarbrough $25,000 "to get the ball rolling" in a March 1974 plan to obtain controlling interest in the Commercial State Bank of Houston.

STANTON — District Judge Ralph W. Caton found attorneys had only 27 qualified jurors from which to choose for a series of civil suits here Tuesday and postponed jury trials.

Sam Houston to oppose Yarbrough

DENTON, TEX. (AP) — State District Court Judge Sam Houston of Denton said he will announce today whether or not he will make a bid for the Texas Supreme Court as a write-in candidate against Houston attorney Don Yarbrough, the winner of the Democratic primary May 1.

Barrow because voters associated his name with that of Donald Yarbrough, former gubernatorial candidate, and that of former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarbrough. There is no relationship among the three, despite the similar name spellings.

Dear Abby
Afraid friends try to fix up steady

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged divorcee. For the last two years I've been dating a very attractive single man. We are not officially engaged, but since we've been seeing each other I haven't dated anyone else, and the only time he has when one of his friends or relatives fixes him up with a "lovely lady" they think he should meet, or when he's asked as a favor to escort a lady somewhere.

I very much resent others casting my gentleman friend in the role of a single available man. When I tell him that I don't appreciate his accommodating others by escorting another lady, or agreeing to accept an arranged date, he tells me I'm being foolish.

How can I handle this annoying situation without appearing possessive and jealous?

DEAR LADY: You can't. Don't blame others for casting your gentleman friend "in the role" of an available man. He doesn't have to accept that role unless he wants to.

DEAR ABBY: Do they sell donkey blinders anymore? If so, I would like to buy a pair for my husband. He never looks at the road when he drives. Instead, he is busy gawking at the young women who are walking along the streets.

He slows down to about five miles an hour to be sure he doesn't miss anything. We've come within inches of having accidents more times than I can count.

How can I get this old coot to keep his eyes on the road? He's 62 and I'm 60.

DEAR WIFE: Even donkey blinders would be useless for this breed of donkey. If you can't get him to keep his eyes on the road, take the wheel. And if he doesn't like it, let him trot!

DEAR ABBY: A friend of ours who is a married woman with children recently lost her mother.

My mother and I disagree on how the condolence card should be addressed.

I say condolences should be addressed to: "Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and family."

My mother insists that the condolence card be addressed only to my friend whose mother died.

Is it proper to console only the party directly bereaved? Or shouldn't my friend's husband and children also receive condolences? After all, her husband lost his mother-in-law, and the children lost their grandmother.

DEAR FRIEND: I vote with you. Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Innovative methods in hair design

The equipment is modern, the rates are great and the girls do real good work here, says a co-owner of the Academy of Hair Design. It's surprising, in fact, to find such a professionally advanced school of hair so far from a sophisticated metropolitan area.

The academy, which opened in Big Spring five years ago, is run by Mary Rider, chief instructor there. The key point of the academy, she said, is that it is a Pivot Point franchise. The Pivot Point concept was conceived by the Olympic team hair designer, Leo Passage, in conjunction with the University of Chicago's Fine Arts Department.

No other hair school in the area is allowed to use the same concept or become a franchise. The benefits include updated educational equipment and the latest publications in hair design.

For example, students are not taught by instructors but by simultaneous film and tape presentations. The film sessions are exclusive to the members schools and are replaced every two months.

"A lot of instructors haven't been back to school since they graduated and got their license. The films insure that students get the most up-to-date training available," said Ms. Rider.

Only 15 Pivot Point franchises exist in Texas. "Not many schools can put up the money needed to get this kind of training, approximately $7,500," she said, adding "not many people know anything about it."

After watching tapes and films, the students use what they've learned on mannequins and each other. When they are qualified, they continue training on customers who get hair styling for about half the price they would pay at a beauty salon. Some of the advanced students are learning how to set hair with a new type of roller, conical shaped, which is reported to help in getting stubborn hair to cooperate.

The training program requires 1,500 hours or approximately nine months for a license. Applicants must be at least 16 years old to apply for a beauty operator's license at the state board.

Modern equipment available included an ear-piercing gun which is a painless innovation, microscopes and a micro gran scale which tests the condition and elasticity of hair, and an electrode which stimulates the scalp and prevents hair loss.

The academy also has a dispensary where students learn to mix colors used for tints and bleaching. Professional products are used, which differ from commercial products in that they are not diluted. Products which require a license to purchase are full-strength and work better, but are dangerous in the hands of amateurs. "Most people will use market products until they damage their hair so badly that they have to come in for professional help," said Ms. Rider.

Styles are always changing and one of the newer hair fashions is a simple cut which can be fixed several different ways. Especially practical for summer because it is usually short, it can be straight, wavy or curly, depending on whether or not, and how, it is set.

Anyone who has ever had a bad experience in a beauty salon knows the anxiety of getting a haircut from someone who seems to be scissor-happy. Ms. Rider teaches students to be moderate. "I think everybody should wear their hair the way they want to. I don't believe in people being told to cut their hair just because it's long or it's summer." Generally they do get more requests for short hair in the spring and summer. Ms. Rider offered comments on hair care regardless of the length. Curling, both with hair rollers and curling irons, can damage hair if it's done every day.

"Especially if you sleep with rollers overnight, it's bound to pull and break off hair, and more so if it's long," she said. The sun, too, can be damaging because of its tendency to bleach, as does chlorine in swimming pools.

These are some of the more basic rules in keeping hair well-conditioned, but a license is the result of months of study into understanding the why as well as the how of cosmetology.

As Ms. Rider summed up the academy's concept of education, "The education is only worth what you can sell it for when you get out, not what you pay for it."

Shower given

Mrs. Jack Bowers was honored with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. Charles Beil and Miss Beverly Beil Monday evening.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Johnny Swindell, Miss Elizabeth Swindell, Mrs. Don Brooks, Miss Becky Brooks, Mrs. Bruce Wright, Miss Mary Jane Wright, Mrs. Judson Lloyd, Miss Kathy Lloyd, Mrs. Ernest Boyd and Miss Emily Boyd.

The table was covered with a beige linen and lace tablecloth. The centerpiece was yellow daisies and greenery with three baby rattles inside.

The honoree was presented with a yellow daisy corsage. Crystal appointments were used. Cake and punch were served.

Resources topic of 4-H club youth.

Cosden employs 1,500 persons in the oil industry. Cattle, cotton and milo are grown from the soil. Representing youth are 8,025 in schools and 1,524 in college. Colleges offer 324 classes in the area. Horticulture in the form of home gardens was stressed.

Twelve members and eight visitors were present. Mrs. C. L. Kindley won the door prize.

The next meeting will be a covered-dish dinner July 22 at Kentwood.
