President keeps newsmen guessing about fate of Webb AFB

Will Ford sign before deadline?

By TOMMY HART

The deadline for President Ford's decision on the military appropriations bill, which has a rider on it that could dictate the future of Webb AFB and other military establishments, arrives at midnight.

The President has not indicated what position he will take. Weighed by a rumored recommendation from the Pentagon which would have him veto it exclusively because of the rider, Ford could send the bill back to the Congress. He could sign it and, in so doing, open up a real "can of worms" for the Pentagon. Or he could let it become law without attaching his signature.

A call was made by a Herald newsmen to the White House this morning. A spokeswoman for the White House Press Relations office indicated the President had not discussed the proposed legislation with members of the PR office but obviously had concluded whatever course he took would make headlines around the country by Saturday.

It's obvious to those close to the President that not only the Pentagon but some members of Congress have been in contact with Ford, trying to influence his decision on the matter.

Meanwhile, the White House Press Relations team is doing a spectacular high-wire act in trying to stay neutral about the issue. None would voice an opinion on what course of action the President would take.

The military appropriations bill rider, authored by Rep. Tip O'Neill

Editor's note: Legislation which could effect the economy, even the size of Big Spring, has passed Congress and is now awaiting the signature of President Ford. It concerns the military appropriations bill,

(who has the inside track to succeed Carl Albert as Speaker of the House) would require that Congress be notified in writing of all proposed base closings.

Webb AFB of Big Spring was included on a Department of Defense more importantly a rider attached to the bill. The deadline for Ford's decision is hours away. The accompanying article details Ford's prerogatives and the dangers lying in each.

list for possible closures earlier this year.

For several days, Herald newsmen have been trying to find out what the specific Pentagon timetable for such decisions is, as regards to Webb. The feedback from the Pentagon has been, to say the least, ambiguous.

Some military advisors have set about to convince the President and the public that any long delay in the proposed closing of military establishments would cost the nation $150 million, a claim knowledgeable people are refuting.

The issue comes at a particularly bad time for Ford, who could get hurt politically, no matter how he decides. His opponent for the Republican Party's nomination for the presidency, Ronald Reagan, could well benefit from a decision to veto the bill because Reagan has not deviated from taking a strong military stance.

Some of Ford's staunchest supporters, their eye on the National GOP Convention and their campaign to sway uncommitted delegates to the support of "their man," had just as soon the problem hadn't been tossed in the President's lap at this time.

But the problem exists and Ford must solve it in one of three ways. Any way he, does, the danger is great that some of his support will erode. His problem is that he can ill afford to let such erosion become a landslide.

Death penalty laws upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld the death penalty today but struck down laws in two states that make death mandatory for certain crimes.

The court approved death penalty laws in Florida, Georgia and Texas but invalidated laws in Louisiana and North Carolina.

The laws the court upheld leave the death penalty decision in the hands of judges or jurors but provide guidelines for them.

According to an Associated Press survey, 572 men and 10 women on death rows in 30 states were awaiting the court's decision on whether to uphold death as a punishment.

The vote was 7-2, with Justices

William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall dissenting.

The court outlined its views in separate opinions by Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White as well as a brief statement by Justice Harry A. Blackmun, who said simply that he concurred.

Widespread re-enactment of the death penalty after the Supreme Court invalidated it in many states has been a "marked indication of society's endorsement of the death penalty for murder," the justices said.

"We hold that the death penalty is not a form of punishment that may never be imposed, regardless of the circumstances of the offense, regardless of the character of the offender, and regardless of the procedure followed in reaching the decision."

In North Carolina, where 116 persons were on death row, the law required execution in the gas chamber for murder which is "willful, deliberate and premeditated" or committed during a felony or an attempted felony.

The vote striking down the laws in Louisiana and North Carolina was 5-4 with Justices Brennan, Marshall, Lewis F. Powell Jr., and John Paul Stevens joining Stewart in the majority.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Tax shockers on list

Q. As a taxpayer, I would like to know: Wasn't it stated at some meeting or another that the Herald would publish the names of those persons that the City of Big Spring wrote off its tax records as having not paid their taxes up to a certain period of time?

A. The Herald considered publishing the names — until the editors saw how long the list was. There are far too many to run in the newspaper. Most of them are for very small, insignificant amounts involving people who are long gone from Big Spring.

Also, there are some problems with fairness, says publisher J. Tom Graham. For example, running the amount written off years ago would reflect badly on some firms who are now under different ownership and are paying their taxes.

Some of the amounts involve legitimate disputes with the city, and the city may not necessarily be right 100 per cent of the time.

The amounts written off and the names are public record. Any citizen can go down to City Hall and inspect them. There are some shockers on the list.

The Herald is trying to do some additional stories on this matter, but the newspaper is not able to run the complete list.

Calendar: Bicentennial happenings

Authorities said Obera allegedly shot his wife and died following an exchange of gunfire with police. Top photo shows him holding his estranged wife. Photo in center shows him falling after he was wounded. In bottom photo, Mrs. Obera appears to be gasping, possibly as she was shot by Obera, according to the photographer. Mrs. Obera died later.

Jobless rate inches back up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped to 7.5 per cent of the work force in June, up two-tenths of a per cent and the biggest monthly climb since the depths of last year's recession, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the number of unemployed in June increased by 280,000 to a total of 7.1 million.

Fourth may be glorious day

Many rarin' to celebrate

Saturday will see activities pick up fast in Big Spring for the biggest three days of the Bicentennial celebration in the city.

Merchants expressed pleasure at the first day's participation in the Sale-a-bration with sidewalk sales and parking lot sales. Government bonds of $200 and $100 will be given away at the "Let Freedom Ring" pageant at 8 p.m. Sunday in the amphitheatre at the park.

Saturday will see square dance demonstrations at 10 a.m. east of the courthouse, 12 noon at College Park, 2 p.m. at Highland Center and 4 p.m. at Gibson's parking lot.

Over in Coahoma, there will be a dedication of the Luke West Museum at 10 a.m. Saturday. The baseball tournament is in progress at the Webb Air Force Base sponsored by the Evening Lions Club.

Sunday will see a number of special church activities in the city. At 11 a.m., the Gospel Wagon will be in the park and will also be there on Monday.

MEXICAN-AMERICAN culture and history will be highlighted at a July Fourth Bicentennial celebration. Sponsoring the event are the Mexican-American Service Council and American G.I. Forum, Frank Martinez, council chairman and forum secretary, said.

The public is invited to the gathering which starts with barbecue at a Comanche Trail Park pavilion noon Sunday.

Teatro Libre de la Gente, a free theatre of the people, will be performing. And there will be readings of Chicano literature, Martinez said.

A number of cultural artifacts will be displayed. Shown will be a molcajete used to grind chili peppers, metate used to grind corn, Ojo de Dios or Eye of God, pinata and pottery.

There will be a Chicano calendar showing historical events affecting Mexican-Americans since 1848, an Aztec calendar and photos of all the Mexican-American war dead from Howard County.

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON, the Highland South parade will take place at 4 p.m. The pageant will be held in the amphitheatre at 8 p.m. with a Bicentennial birthday cake served. Fireworks will be shot off Scenic Mountain at 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

On Monday, activities begin with a Veteran's Parade down Main Street to the courthouse at 9 a.m. The People's Parade will be at 10 a.m. in the park.

During the day at the park, there will be showing of 1949 Centennial year movies in the small room at the north end of the amphitheatre. Mrs. Dene Sheppard is in charge, using movies from Dr. Richard Deats, loaned to the Bicentennial commission by Mrs. A. W. Moody.

There will be a flag ceremony in the park at 10:30 a.m. with the Elks Club and the Veterans groups in charge.

A NOON BARBECUE will be sponsored by the Evening Lions Monday in the Old Settlers Pavilion. The public is invited to attend.

The Jaycees will sponsor contests and games from 2 p.m. all afternoon. There will also be a number of booths and activities in the park. The Elks Club bike races are at 1 p.m.

Hicks named 'organizer' of international narcotics smuggling ring

Ex-Big Spring car dealer, wife face dope raps

By JOHN EDWARDS

A former Big Spring car dealer was arrested after a federal grand jury Thursday returned a sealed indictment naming him as the "organizer" of a multimillion-dollar international narcotics smuggling ring.

In addition to Joe Dee Hicks, now of Plano, Tex., his wife, Janet, and Coleman Ray Bandy, Hicks' shop foreman in Big Spring, were among six who remained in a Fort Worth jail.

COUNTRY MUSIC performers Willie Nelson and Ray Price were called to testify before the grand jury, but they were not among those arrested. There was no indication the indictments named Nelson or Price, who performed for Hicks' Big Spring car dealership.

Among those arrested and arraigned before U.S. Magistrate

Alex McGlinchey were Kammel Kouri and Charles Boltz, both of Dallas; and John Lewis Wall, Carrollton, Tex.

BOND FOR HICKS was fixed at $500,000. He was indicted for being the "organizer" working "in concert with five others." McGlinchey set bonds ranging from $10,000 to $250,000 for the other five arrested.

They face charges of conspiring to import and distribute cocaine and heroin from June 12, 1973, to April 15, 1976.

Hicks, the former owner of Joe Hicks Motor Co. in Big Spring, was reported in Saigon, Vietnam, when a state grand jury in Big Spring began investigating cars sold without titles on April 9, 1973.

WHILE THIS DATE is near the date the alleged conspiracy began, the final date, April 15, is the same day Bandy, now of Argyle, Tex., was arrested in San Francisco for delivery of cocaine.

Bandy and Jackie Norwood Kennedy, Fort Worth, were arrested at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport Feb. 6 and charged in state court with possession of $1 million worth of cocaine.

Kennedy has not been named as one indicted for federal violations.

A federal grand jury returned a sealed indictment charging 15 Thursday, capping an investigation of more than two years.

Dale Norris and Jerry Coffman, two men serving prison sentences in Oklahoma for drug convictions, were charged also. Narcotics agents mounted an interstate search for the other seven, whose names were not disclosed.

GHOST RIDERS IN THE SKY — Old Droopy, the one longhorn in the YO Ranch herd that has a broken horn, treads down the street in Midland Thursday on the next to last day of a symbolic trail ride across Texas.

Trail ride thrills many West Texans

Thousands of West Texans watched a herd of Texas Longhorns from the YO Ranch near Kerrville walk six miles from the Midland stock pens to the Holiday Inn Thursday afternoon.

The Divide had planned to be the trail boss but turned it over to Jimmy Dee and his son, Charles IV. Three other Schriener boys also made the ride.

The day before, in Stamford, the drive got caught in the middle of a wind and hail storm and they could do nothing but plug their hats down over their ears and go the end of the trail.

Police beat Vice charges jail two women

Big Spring detectives arrested two local women on prostitution charges at 10:20 p.m. Thursday. Both women were allegedly working out of the Melba Hotel, 813 E. 3rd where they resided.

James Fred Henrichs, Garden City, reported that the windshield of his parked car was smashed by vandals while he was viewing the 8:30 feature at the Ritz Theater.

Deaths Stella Daylong, 87, died Thursday in an Oakland, Calif., hospital. Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Clarence Mortuary in Oakland.

Deaths W. R. Burleson, 80, father of Harold Burleson of Big Spring, died at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Blackwell Hospital.

Three other automobiles were damaged here Thursday.

the number of asphyxiation deaths was "appalling," Denton said. He faulted the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for not keeping internal records on causes of deaths.

"If the numbers and causes of death within institutions are not shown, or even mentioned within TDMHMR, how do people who run the institutions expect to identify the major causes of death and try to reduce those that could be prevented?" Denton asked in a statement.

Eleventh Place has recently been constructed from FM 700 east to Abrams Street. The proposed project would begin at Abrams Street and proceed east to Gregg Street (U.S. 87). The proposed street design calls for a four lane, noncontrolled access arterial with curb and gutter and a 48-foot paved travel surface with 80 feet of right-of-way.

Balloonist found after ditching

NEW YORK (AP) — Karl Thomas steamed safely toward Holland aboard a Russian ship today after a severe thunderstorm aborted his attempt to become the first person to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon.

After not being heard from for almost four days, Thomas radioed Thursday from the 423-foot Soviet freighter Dekabrist to say the ship had plucked him from a raft in the Atlantic.

Thomas reported that he had been forced to ditch his 90-foot, red, white and blue, star-studded balloon about 6 a.m. Sunday, some 33 hours after he had lifted off from Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station on Friday.

He said he cracked three ribs and suffered some bleeding in his right lung when he jumped 200 feet from the open 14-foot gondola of his balloon and hit the water. "I'm feeling a little bit on the sore side," the 27-year-old adventurer said in a ship-to-shore telephone conversation with radio station CJCH in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Rape nets $2.5 million judgment for singer

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Connie Francis, who testified that a motel room rape spoiled a comeback attempt and almost ruined her marriage, has won a $2.5 million verdict against the Howard Johnson chain.

Miss Francis was staying at a Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Westbury on Long Island in November 1974, when an intruder raped her and left her tied to a chair. A six-man jury that heard her sobbing testimony about recurrent nightmares and her inability to have relations with her husband returned the $2.5 million verdict after about 5½ hours of deliberation Thursday in Brooklyn Federal Court.

The jury also awarded $150,000 to her husband, Joseph Garzilli, for loss of her services. The 37-year-old singer, from Essex Fells, N.J., had sued for $5 million and her husband for $1 million, charging that Howard Johnson had not provided sufficient security in the motel.

At one point in the trial, Judge Thomas Platt barred the press and public, charging news media were having a "field day" over Miss Francis' testimony about the rape and her marital relations.

Farm U.S. could expand cropland by one-third

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could expand its crop-growing land by as much as one-third if the extra output is needed, a new government study says. Much of this land appears to be in the South and Midwest, the study said.

The U.S. Soil Conservation Service said an estimated 111 million additional acres could be used for crops. Last year, farmers planted about 333 million acres with crops ranging from wheat, corn and soybeans to cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

Previous estimates of potential "new" crop land have run as high as 266 million acres. The agency said those estimates now appear much too high. Officials of the Agriculture Department agency said that the study was started in May of last year and involved surveys by SCS employees at 41,000 sites in 506 counties selected at random. The surveys included sites in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands but did not include any federally owned land.

The report identified three kinds of acreages of potential crop land that could be switched from present use with "varying degrees of difficulty and expense." About 24 million acres of "prime farm land" could be converted to crops simply by beginning tillage. Those soils "would require little or no protection from erosion and, with normal rainfall, should produce high yields," the agency said. Another 54 million acres of high-potential land could be used for crops, but would require some soil and water conservation management. Finally, about 33 million acres of medium-potential land could be converted. Those acres "pose more serious erosion hazards and water disposal problems" and would be more costly to put into production.

Funds needed to buy carillon for hospital

"The carillon is nearer to becoming a permanent installation, but we have to come up with about $1,600 more before we can keep it," Mrs. Dorothy Lusk said Thursday.

Mrs. Lusk is chairman of a committee named to administer the Frank Wharton Memorial Fund. The committee hopes to purchase a carillon for Big Spring State Hospital, using this fund.

The carillon, now installed for demonstration in the Harrison Building, is a versatile instrument which can be utilized in chapel services as well as for various special occasions. For the remainder of the demonstration period, it has been programmed for Westminster chimes on the hour and music three times daily, but additional tapes could provide hymns, Christmas and Easter selections, call to worship and classical music.

Mrs. Mary Thomas, also a member of the committee, noted that Wharton had brought pleasure to many people in the hospital and community with his music. "A contribution to the

Pilots too busy to be scared

I cannot imagine what it would be like to be sweating in the back seat while a student pilot lands a T-37 or T-38.

To me, it seems those instructor pilots (IPs) at Webb Air Force Base have a knee-knocking job. I asked one of them recently how he felt about it: "It can get pretty hairy at times, he admitted."

But is he afraid?

THIS INSTRUCTOR pilot, a veteran of many missions over Vietnam, said that there are too many things to do and think about to be afraid. In short, just as it was in combat, he is too busy to get scared.

But the T-38s approach landings at such terrific speeds?

Yes, he said, the T-38 is a less "forgiving" aircraft than many others. By less "forgiving," he meant that the pilot is allowed fewer even minor mistakes than in slower planes.

(In the background came boos from several T-37 instructor pilots who quickly contended that they had weeded out the poor student pilots in their program and left the T-38 instructors with a piece of cake.)

Of course, an instructor pilot is ever ready to take control of the aircraft should a problem appear.

Many IPs to keep little problems from growing worse.

However, the instructor pilot said, the back seat of a jet is not what one might call the world's best vantage point. The view occasionally leaves something to be desired.

THE BAD VIEW, plus the watching for light aircraft, are how things can happen like a student pilot touching down on the taxiway when he should have landed on the runway, the instructor pilot explained.

The IPs at Webb have even another complication. They are teaching student pilots whose first language is not English. In some cases the student pilot may not speak a great deal of English. What if at some crucial moment a language barrier popped up?

The instructor pilot contended that this was not a great problem. He added, however, that most of the foreign students have a textbook understanding of English. The important thing for instructor pilots is to speak precisely and not lapse into the American idiom, he said.

I WAS AMAZED at the instructor pilot's aplomb. From a layman's point of view, it appears that iron courage would be needed to fly one of those zipping T-38s, much less sit in the back seat while a shaking student tries his hand.

How does the Air Force test these instructor pilots? By making them bite through nails?

I was tempted to cut this instructor pilot's wrist just to see the ice water leak out.

Homeless fleet

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — As the U.S. aircraft carrier America approached the Greek harbor of Rhodes on May 24 ready for overdue shore "liberty," carefully planned political rioting in the streets of the port city prevented anybody from coming ashore — a painful and humiliating incident signifying the constraints, some self-imposed, on U.S. power in the world today.

THE SUCCESS of the rioters on Rhodes in denying shore leave for hundreds of Yankee sailors has received no publicity. Nor are official spokesmen in either the State Department or Defense Department anxious to talk about the ugly little affair. But it dramatizes this fact, both depressing and dangerous: lack of liberty ports in the eastern Mediterranean is making the powerful U.S. Sixth Fleet virtually homeless. This condition depresses morale, reduces reenlistments and may eventually make that sea a Soviet lake.

Here is a classic case of how blunders in Washington subtly undercut national security throughout the world. That a superpower's capital ships can find no port for rest stems from tragic misjudgments in the White House and State Department and iron-headed obstinacy in Congress.

Overdue for liberty, the officers and men of the America were ready to disembark for the storied island of Rhodes May 24 when they were halted by word of rioting in the streets. The America's officers, easily seeing every move on shore with their binoculars, noted that the demonstrators were exuberant youths but that older men were stage-managing the proceedings.

In fact, the riots were directed by Andreas Papandreu's left-wing party and one Communist faction for the overt purpose of keeping the America from landing. Government police were on hand but did nothing to stop the demonstrators, partly because the conservative government of Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis does not feel strong enough to crack down on anything so popular as an anti-American disturbance.

THE INABILITY of a U.S. carrier to land in the ports of its once steadfast ally is the bitter fruit of the mistaken U.S. policy of intimate friendship with the former Greek military dictatorship at the cost of alienating the Greek people. The demonstration at Rhodes, but it was clearly popular with Greek public opinion.

Nor is it politically possible today for a U.S. carrier to visit Turkish ports. In this case, the senseless congressional cutoff of military aid to Turkey, resulting from its invasion of Cyprus, has cooled previously warm relations with another ally in the eastern Mediterranean.

"ANY SIGN OF KANSAS CITY YET, ROG?"

Sensible steps can avoid reactions

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you give me any information on heat exhaustion? My son became ill last summer from being out in the sun too long. Now he is afraid of being hot under any conditions. What can I say to calm his fears? — Mrs. R.B.

There are three abnormal reactions to intense heat. One is muscular cramps. Rest and drinking of salty fluids corrects this.

Next is heat exhaustion. This results from a failure of the tiny blood vessels to dilate (expand) enough to allow natural cooling through the skin. The victims of heat exhaustion are usually listless. The skin is pale, cool and clammy. The body temperature is usually normal. For this, it's best to remove the victim to a cool, shady spot and give him salty fluids. He will begin to feel better as soon as circulation adjusts and fluid needs are replenished.

The more serious problem is heat stroke. A person who, like your son, has had heat exhaustion (as described above) may be susceptible to this, so care is needed. In heat stroke there is a complete breakdown of the body's heat-regulating mechanism. The skin is hot and dry and the body temperature is extremely high.

This requires emergency steps. Ice cold compresses can be applied to the body. A salt solution may have to be injected. The victim should not be given any alcoholic drink. A doctor or someone qualified in first aid should be sought.

The usual cause of any of these three heat reactions is too much activity in a hot, humid atmosphere. Humidity interferes with the natural skin-cooling process. Your son may have an unstable vasomotor nervous system — which is the one that regulates the size of blood vessels. He may blush easily.

There are steps he can take to eliminate threats of a repeat of the previous episode. Gradual exposure to the sun should help. The use of a salt tablet or two a day will eliminate part of the problem and keep him feeling better. He should wear light porous clothes and a light cap out of doors. His confidence should return as he realizes the value of these steps.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife had hysterectomy. A few days after her operation the doctor told her she had a "vesico vaginal fistula." He said it would go away in about five or six weeks.

Can you tell me what these words mean? Whatever it is, will it go away? — H.M.

A fistula (FISS-tyoo-la) is a tube-like channel which appears where it isn't supposed to. They often develop in secreting organs, allowing material to seep out at points where it is not intended to do so.

Fistulas are named for the organ in which they occur and for areas they affect. So a vesico-vaginal fistula refers to the urinary bladder (vesico). It is an abnormal opening in the bladder which allows urine to seep out into the vagina. Another common fistula is one that develops in the rectum from hemorrhoids.

Fistulas tend to correct themselves (close) in time. How completely depends on their size and location.

The type of fistula your wife has can develop in women who have had hard labor in pregnancy.

Five weeks is a reasonable time for one to correct itself, and if it hasn't I suggest you see your surgeon. Sometimes when healing is incomplete surgery is needed to close it up.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you tell me about "arthralgia bilateral scapulae"? what is it and what can you do about it? — R.L.J.

Those are three 50-cent words that add up to pain in the shoulder blades. Doing something about it depends on what is causing it, something I can't judge from your letter.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To learn more about it, write for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw you," care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am 10 years old and a Christian. I would like to know how to teach others about the Lord Jesus without them laughing at me. — A.M.

Dear A.M.: I am delighted to know of your faith in Christ and your concern to share your faith with others. Many of us who are older could profit from your example.

First, I would urge you to pray specifically for your friends and relatives who do not know Christ. Only the Holy Spirit can convince them of their need for Christ, and we should pray that He will do this.

Then ask God to give you a greater love for your friends, especially those who laugh at you. Pray also that God will give you opportunities to express your love to them in specific ways.

In addition, remember Peter's statement that we are to "be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear" (I Peter 3:15). Learn more of what the Bible teaches that God has done for you in Christ, and practice putting this personal testimony into words.

Finally, be sure your life reflects Jesus Christ. Often this will do more to draw people to Christ than anything we may say.

God bless you as you continue to grow in Christ.

Distinctive styles

Around the rim

If you've never mistaken the Big Spring Herald for great prose and can discern the different personalities of the staff here, you should pass the following test.

EACH OF these well-known reporters is represented in one of the 16 writing samples below.

First, the locals: J. Tom Graham, publisher and columnist; Tommy Hart, editor and former sports writer; Walt Finley, city editor; Troy Bryant, wire editor; Fred Brewer, sports editor; Candy Smith, women's editor; Carol Hart, assistant women's editor; and reporters Marj Carpenter, James Werrell, Danny Reagan, James Heywood Broun, Damon Runyon, Dan Jenkins, Ernest Hemingway and Ernie Pyle.

Gleaned from the pages of books and magazines were the words of Heywood Broun, Damon Runyon, Dan Jenkins, Ernest Hemingway and Ernie Pyle.

1. "Nowadays the average woman does not wear enough undergarments to make a boxing glove for a butterfly, and if you want to know how I acquired this info, why, goodness gracious fellows, I am married, am most observing and have a wonderful mind for detail."

2. "Over the years," said Proxmire, "they've spent literally millions of dollars to turn normal rats into rodent luses with little or no success."

"I have a couple of questions for you, Senator:

"1. What do you mean by 'they'?"
"2. Do you mean the four-legged rats with tails or the two-legged elected kind?"

3. "No culture is so great that it cannot be benefited in some way by the sway of other civilizations. Najiba Moats brought a little of the Middle East to Texas.

"She is 4,000 miles from her native home of Afghanistan but her command of the English language belies her origins."

4. "WE LANDED at Pamplona at night. The streets were solid with people dancing. Music was pounding and throbbing. Fireworks were being set off from the big public square. All the carnivals I had ever seen paled down in comparison. A rocket exploded over our heads with a blinding burst and the stick came swirling and whirling down. Dancers, snapping their fingers and whirling in perfect time through the crowd, bumped into us before we could get our bags down from the top of the station bus. Finally I got the bags through the crowd to the hotel."

5. "I had been 'hiding' the money in several envelopes and suitcases during our stops at El Paso and Tucson. Tonight, I placed the billfold near a lamp on a table nearby and slid into bed, with three room lights ablaze.

"Kim was snoring. I was awakened after dozing about 30 minutes by someone wearing a brown leather jacket slipping around the room.

"Hey, I yelled."

6. "On a California road map you could see a place called Cave Springs. But when you got there you found it was not a town. It was not a village, not even a country post office. It was just a private home with two people in it."

7. "The first traffic light came as a complete surprise way out there in the boonocks and when I applied the brakes for a red light, I hit an oil slick left by a dripping oil truck.

"The car slid sideways, bounced over the top of the median and went boomdoggedly on through the other two lanes of traffic, where lucky for me, everybody was halted at a red light."

8. "At first I wasn't going to do another rim, but when you go around holding up your rim and picture and asking everyone if they have read the paper today, it's hard to give it up."

9. "Oh, no — that's it. Did you see that. Oh well, that's the ball game — I knew those dummies would choke. "What's he doing, look at that — he's carrying that ball like a loaf of bread."

"No, no, no don't arm tackle. Hit him with your shoulder ya bum. Look at that, he's going to go all the way. That's it, that's the ball game."

10. "Last year's Super Bowl, and I use the term loosely, was so dull Bradshaw could've been Grandpa Walton. The Steelers will have to play a much better game this year if they don't want to be flattened by the crumbling of their own steel curtain."

11. "A cloak of funereal quiet enveloped the Big Spring Steers on their way back to the dressing room from Memorial Stadium last Friday night, interrupted only occasionally by one or two boys who were in deep grief.

"The Longhorns had reason to be emotional. They felt they had played well enough to win and might have had their hands raised in victory had Lady Luck been in their corner. The luck they have been having of late has been the kind people try to avoid with the help of shamrocks and horseshoes — all bad."

12. "A long time ago, way back in college at TCU, me and Shake and Barbara Jane to a certain extent had worked up this rating system for girls

"A Ten was a Healing Scab . . .

"A THREE was a Semi, which a Texas pronounces semey. You had to beware of Semis because you might marry them in a weak minute. Threes had it all put together in looks and style and sophistication. They could drink a lot and dance good and hang around and make conversation.

"A Two was a Her. With a capital. If a Semi was tough, a Her was tougher. You might marry the same Her twice. Or three times. Barbara Jane was a Her, or a Two.

"And there just never had been a One. Ever."

13. "Chapped lips are another nightmare. Chapped lips start out small, but, by the time they are licked for about two hours, they begin to feel like a pair of pot holders. When they get to this point, somebody cracks a joke, laughter follows, and your lips suddenly resemble a quartered tangerine."

14. "In the march up to the heights of fame, there comes a spot close to the summit in which man reads nothing but detective stories."

15. "WASHINGTON — Snow covered the ground, and the air was still and cold Wednesday night when a hurried Big Spring delegation arrived at Dulles Airport just after 10 p.m."

16. "A helmeted man harnessed to cloth wings stood on the cliff, ran off the edge and yelled."

A superagency

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Getting the jump on Jimmy Carter, President Ford is preparing to demonstrate that he can knock bureaucratic heads together and get more efficiency out of the federal government.

HE WILL BEGIN, unless the plans go awry, with a dramatic overhaul of the scattered bureaucratic enclaves that deal with energy problems. His reorganizations are busy behind closed White House doors, pulling together the widespread energy functions and putting them under one giant superagency.

The reorganization plan is supposed to be ready, according to internal White House documents, on August 20. This happens to be the day after the Republican national convention will wind up.

If the President wins the nomination, he could beat Jimmy Carter to the punch with a move to streamline the federal bureaucracy. The Democratic candidate has made an issue of the cumbersome bureaucracy, promising a shake-up if he should become President.

Inside the Ford Administration, meanwhile, the reorganization move has touched off some savage infighting. Critics claim that it not only is strictly a campaign stunt but that the proposed superagency would rival such balkanized departments as Health, Education and Welfare or House and Urban Development in mindboggling unmanageability.

But White House advocates believe the reorganization would increase bureaucratic efficiency and speed U.S. energy independence, thereby saving billions.

As laid out in the documents, the superagency might include the Federal Energy Administration, Energy Research and Development Administration, Federal Power Commission and Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

It probably would also draw in bits and pieces of the Agriculture, Commerce, Defense, Interior, State, Transportation and Treasury Departments, not to mention the Council of Economic Advisors, Energy Resources Council, Environmental Protection Agency and Water Resources Council.

THIS JUMBLE OF bureaucratic jigsaw pieces are supposed to be fitted into one vast agency, with the possibility of forming a smaller, secondary agency to handle the regulatory functions.

The White House documents reveal that the work on this gigantic shotgun marriage began on May 20. The task force was given three months to prepare a "presidential decision paper" for Ford to contemplate.

Texas communities will keep post offices

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Eleven Texas communities that were threatened with loss of their postal offices will be permitted to keep them while some other areas may lose their Sunday post box services.

Regional post offices in 11 Southern states last week issued an order to suspend Sunday postal box service to several cities, especially small communities. That order has also been rescinded but persons already notified of the order will lose their Sunday service.

John Billimek, district manager of customer services in the Southwest, said the original order to suspend the Sunday services was a national effort to standardize postal services. Billimek said some communities across Texas were notified that they would not receive their box mail Sunday.

He said those persons not notified will continue to receive box mail on Sunday. Billimek said the order affected mostly second and third class post offices, which includes the small communities.

The Postal Service in Washington, D. C. said Wednesday it would not close or consolidate any post office while Congress considers legislation to increase postal subsidy.

Texas communities affected by this order include: Black, Carey, Frankel City, Glazier, Lowake, Middle Water, Pettit, Rockwood, Stacy, Vineyard and Voss.

Posting the colors

with Marj Carpenter

The two youngest flag bearers in the history of the Big Spring Rodeo led the parade and posted the colors at the grand entry last Wednesday.

Any of you who have ever ridden a horse in the grand entry know that it is difficult, even for a good horseman.

Any of you who have ever carried a flag in a parade know that this is also a difficult feat. The wind whips and your arm gets heavy.

But anybody who has ever carried a flag in a grand entry already knows that it is a doubly difficult task. This year, a 12-year-old girl and a 10-year-old girl did the honors.

KRISTI TAYLOR

MELODIE CHOATE

Melodie Choate, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Wade Choate is 12 years old. She carried the Texas flag. Kristi Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, is 10 years old. She carried the United States flag.

They rode on a pair of matched horses that belong to Steiner Brothers Rodeo. The reason that they used these horses instead of their own is that they are trained as standard bearers, and don't panic when the wind whips the flag.

These two girls have been riding in 4-H Club shows all over West Texas this year on their own horses. They have won quite a collection of trophies.

They have ridden in Lamesa, Odessa, Midland, Andrews, Rankin and San Angelo.

They each take two horses along with them to the horse shows. Melodie takes her sorrel mare called Fancy and enters in the halter class. Kristi takes a gelding called Bueno.

For the riding events, Melodie rides a bay gelding called Macho and Kristi rides a sorrel gelding called Chico.

Melodie is a sixth grader at Park Hill Elementary and Kristi is a fourth grader at Kentwood.

And they are really accomplished young horsewomen. If you look closely at their pictures, you can see that they are taking their duties as standard-bearers very seriously.

Elks sponsor the bike races at 1 p.m. Saturday.

There's a baseball tournament out at Webb with the Lions Club as host Friday through Sunday. The Highway 80 tennis starts July 5 at the tennis center.

There are barbecues in Comanche Trail Park at noon Sunday and Monday.

If you can't find anything to do around here, I feel sorry for you. Because ridin' along the fence, it looks like there's plenty of forthcoming activity.

July paycheck

MIAMI (AP) — Dade County Judge Dominic L. Koo opened his mail and found his July paycheck was a Bicentennial note for $1,776.

"It has a very special meaning for me," said Koo, a naturalized U.S. citizen.

Koo, 49, moved to the United States from Shanghai in 1948 and chose to stay after Communists won control of the Chinese mainland in 1949.

Koo said a state computer in Tallahassee prints his monthly paycheck after withholding taxes, pension contributions and other fees.

"My check varies from month to month," he said, "but somehow I hit the jackpot for July. I've never had a check for $1,776 before."

Koo said he intends to have a photograph made of the check he received Wednesday and will keep it as a Bicentennial memento.

"Of course, I'll spend it, too," he said about the check.

State 'surplus' vanishing?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Inflation and population growth will reduce that expected $2.6 billion state treasury surplus by almost half, Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday.

Bullock said "surplus" is a misnomer, anyhow.

The comptroller said what he does expect is for revenues in the next two fiscal years to exceed by $2.6 billion the expenditure level for the current two years.

"Those who have interpreted the April revenue estimate as indicating a $2.6 billion surplus have assumed that expenditures will remain unchanged in 1978-79 from the present biennium. To assume that spending will remain unchanged in 1978-79 is akin to assuming the wind won't blow in Muleshoe," Bullock said.

He said the impact of inflation alone will require an $800 million increase in spending just to maintain state services at their present level.

And another $400 million will be needed to hold services at their present per capita level if the state's population grows as expected, Bullock predicted.

Calnan re-elected

Wilfrid M. Calnan, director of Howard County Family Services Center, has been reelected to the board of the Texas Chapter, National Association of Social Workers, for a two-year term.

Calnan previously served as chairperson for the West Texas nonmetropolitan unit which is comprised of 30 counties.

The association will hold its first meeting of the year July 24-25 in Austin to view current objectives and continue long-range planning. Calnan said the association wants passage of a licensing act for social workers, and this commitment will take top priority during the meeting.

Also to be examined are plans for additional recruitment and a wide-spread continuing education program to serve the association's 1,900 members in Texas.

Kennedy center gets addition from Japanese

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will have a new studio theatre, courtesy of the Japanese people.

Japanese Prime Minister Takeo Miki presented President Ford with $3 million for the construction of the theatre, Japan's Bicentennial gift to the United States.

"This moment fulfills my own wish, as well as a desire of the Japanese people," Miki said at a ceremony Wednesday in the White House Rose Garden.

In addition to the studio theatre, Japan is also donating thousands of cherry trees to the cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle, where many Japanese have settled.

Local churches set special services

Many local churches are planning special commemorative Bicentennial services, or special music and activities on Sunday, July 4.

One of the most unusual services will be at St. Mary's Episcopal Church at 9:30 a.m. There will be a parish breakfast with a service enacted following the breakfast as it would have been in 1776.

The church will use the 1662 Anglican prayer book. This was the one used in the time of King George. It was never changed until 1928. The Rev. Steve Birdwell invites friends of the church to attend the services.

At the First Church of God, there will be a service at 10:45 a.m. with Rev. James Curtis of Albuquerque as speaker. There is also a candlelight communion service and all church dinner planned.

At The First Baptist Church, there will be a brush arbor tent revival starting on July 4 and lasting all week. Dr. Carlos McLeon, pastor of First Baptist Church of Plainview is guest preacher.

At the Hillcrest Baptist and College Baptist, there will be a church dinner and at Baptist Temple, a church picnic.

Trinity Baptist Church is planning the kickoff of a "Pray for Power" week. Evangel Temple Assembly of God also is planning a church picnic.

Among the churches planning special music that is significant to the day are the First Christian Church, First United Methodist and East Fourth Baptist.

Many other churches in the city will also have some special activity in connection with the Fourth of July.

TO SPEAK — Rev. James Curtis, Albuquerque, N.M., is featured speaker at a special Bicentennial service Sunday at 10:45 a.m. at the First Church of God, 2009 Main.

Methodists call meet to discuss building plans

The First United Methodist Church has called a church conference for 7 p.m. July 11 for the purpose of receiving a proposal of the building committee regarding the present building program.

All members of the church are given the opportunity to vote on the proposal as presented.

Architectural drawings, model, plan, designs and pictures will be presented to explain the proposal of the committee.

Members of the committee include K. H. McGibbon, chairman; Charles Bell, Russel Dorsey, Mrs. Dorothy Duncan, Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, Mrs. Marilyn Newsom, Arnold Marshall, Herb Keaton, E. H. Bouliouin Jr. and advisory members including Stormy Thompson, Ted Hatfield, the Rev. William R. Fleming and the architects, Daryl Hohertz and John Gary.

Church league names champion

Monday saw the completion of the regular season for the church Fast Pitch League. The Nazarene Superstars won the season with a perfect record of 12-0.

The Superstars have lost only 2 games in 3 years. The top four teams will now play in a double elimination tournament.

Near capacity crowds have been in attendance to watch the fast-paced action of the fast pitch competition.

Four Latter-Day Saints missionaries arrive

Four new full time missionaries have been assigned to the Big Spring area by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Texas, Dallas Mission, of which Big Spring is a part.

ELDER HANS R. KUHN, who is a native of Provo, Utah. Elder Kuhn attended the Brigham Young University at Provo for two years prior to his mission call. There he studied chemical engineering. His plans are to return to school following his mission to finish his education in this field.

ELDER D.E. HAMILTON, who is a native of Lakeland, Florida. He attended Ricks College at Rexburg, Idaho prior to his call, and plans to return to resume his education. He has been in West Texas for eleven months.

ELDER RANDALL DAW is a native of the state of Idaho. He was born in Idaho Falls and raised in Blackfoot. He also attended Ricks College where he excelled in wrestling and track. His plans are to finish his education after his release from the mission field.

ELDER DAN LANDAVATTER is another native of Provo, Utah. His field of study prior to entering the mission was business management to which he will return.

Each of these young men are teaching in a full-time capacity. They are completely supported by their own savings or by their immediate families' donations. The residents of Big Spring are encouraged by the Church of Jesus Christ to take time out to listen to these Elders as they have been sent by the church officials. They may be contacted for appointments at 7-8931 or 7-8351 or through any active member of the Big Spring Ward.

A CORDIAL WELCOME

'Freedom Is' premiere set

Tell anyone about a new television show that's billed as a "Bicentennial Special," and you'll probably be greeted with some indifference. But add the fact that the show is paid for by children; that it uses the talents of some of today's top stars; that it is the fourth prime-time family special from a religious organization; and that it is highly entertaining... and the indifference will change into great interest.

The program that incorporates all these unusual attributes is "Freedom Is," produced by Lutheran Television, the communications arm of the International Lutheran Layman's League and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. Lutheran Television also receives credit for "This Is The Life," television's longest running half-hour weekly syndicated dramatic series and winner of a 1974 Emmy Award.

"Our Synod was determined not to pass up the opportunity presented by America's Bicentennial," commented the Rev. Carroll Kohl, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church. "Frankly, however, the budget was just not there." According to

Rev. Kohl, Lutheran Television enlisted the support of the children of the Missouri Synod school system, the strongest Protestant parochial school system in the U.S. The children came through with over $150,000 enabling Lutheran Television to carry a message of freedom to families in America.

"Freedom Is" represents the fourth venture for Lutheran Television into the prime-time arena. Previous shows — "Christmas Is," "Easter Is," and "The City That Forgot About Christmas" — have consistently pulled enthusiastic audiences and high ratings. It all began with "Christmas Is" in 1970. This past Christmas was the strongest mail response yet received for the two yuletide specials. Over 250,000 letters poured in requesting a Bicentennial calendar offered at the end of the show. Well over a million letters have been received since 1970.

"Freedom Is" stars Jonathan Winters, Richard Roundtree, Edward Asner, Joseph Cotton, and Dan Dailey. The music was written by Grammy-winner Jimmie Haskell.

David Alsbrook will speak at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Christ's Fellowship Center and nightly through Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Williams invite the public to attend the services at FM 700 and E. 11th Pl.

Alsbrook is the son of an ordained Nazarene pastor. The old saying about preachers' kids seemed to hold true with him, according to his news release. He claims that, "He fell away from the church's teachings and used drugs in his early teens and became deeply involved in the occult and eastern religions. He was booked with the police and practiced Karate and other martial arts," he added.

Alsbrook has been in fulltime evangelistic teaching ministry since February of 1972.

Jehovah Witnesses plan meet

The governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses has revealed in New York completion of plans for 94 district conventions of the religious group in the United States during the summer of 1976.

Harvey Correa, spokesman for the Big Spring Spanish congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said two conventions in the Spanish language are scheduled for parts of a 5-state area at El Paso County Coliseum. He said each convention is expected to attract approximately 4,000 delegates.

Correa, said 10 persons would represent Big Spring at the first of the two meetings, July 1-4.

The theme of the assembly is "Sacred Service" and Correa said the program is comprised of Bible lectures, symposiums, discussion periods, and full-costume dramas, and will focus on the problems facing society today and suggest positive solutions to these problems.

"There will be specific information for all family members," Correa said, "including husbands, wives and young people. The content of the convention program is centered on spirituality and how it can be achieved in these difficult times."

Correa said a baptismal service will highlight the program on Friday, July 2.

The principal speaker at the convention will be R. S. Cornelius of New York, who will discuss the question, "Will Serving God Solve Your Problems?" It is set for Sunday, July 4 at 2 p.m.

Shows porno movies at card club

DEAR ABBY: For five years, four of us couples have met once a month to play cards. Well, last month one of the men brought a movie projector and all the gear, plus some dirty movies he had rented, and proceeded to show a filthy movie! Two of the men were all for seeing these movies, but their wives were not.

I stopped the idiot as soon as I realized what kind of "entertainment" he had brought to the card club.

Abby, I think the people who make such filth should be burned at the stake, and the nuts who buy them should be locked in institutions.

Awaiting your reply. Sign me...

SICK OF FILTH

DEAR SICK: Filth doesn't bother me unless it intrudes upon my right to avoid it. However, I am opposed to burning and incarcerating those whose taste in entertainment differs from mine.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were recently invited to dinner at the home of another couple. The invitation was for 8 p.m.

We arrived promptly and were fed cocktails and chips and dips for what seemed to be an eternity. Finally dinner was announced at 10:30.

"Dinner" consisted of raw meatballs, sausages and shrimp that we had to cook in a fondue. Nothing would cook properly. Everything was charred on the outside and raw on the inside.

After "dinner" everyone retired to the living room. My husband and I left exactly 11 minutes after eating.

We were both sick that night. Should we let our hostess know that we were sick? Must I send a "thank-you" note for such a poor excuse for a dinner? Has anyone ever sent a "NO thank you" note?

SICK IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR SICK: Write a "thank-you" note anyway and don't mention your illness. And if this couple has nothing more than food for the stomach to offer, avoid future invitations to their place.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very best friend whom I love dearly. She and her husband have been best friends with my husband and me for many, many years, and they are in our home often. She is the sweetest lady I've ever known and would do anything in the world for me.

The problem is that she is a chain smoker. She talks with her hands and waves her cigarette around. She burns herself, my furniture, my carpets and my curtains. She lets the ashes fall all over the food when she's eating. Once she even set her dinner napkin on fire!

When she leaves, even though I air out the house, the smell of the smoke lingers in my draperies, the clothes I was wearing and even in my hair!

She knows how much cigarette smoke bothers me (and her husband hates them, too), but she absolutely cannot quit!

I can't tell my best friend not to smoke in my house. My husband says, "Nobody's perfect—you have to take the bad with the good."

Please be realistic, Abby. Is there a solution? SMOKED OUT IN GADSDEN, ALA.

DEAR SMOKED: When she arrives, hand her a LARGE ashtray and ask her to please be careful with her cigarettes. If she gets careless, remind her. Also, place two or three dishes of vinegar wherever she is. The vinegar will help to absorb the cigarette odor. And lastly, pray for her.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Wolverton honoree

Miss Renee Wolverton, bride-elect of Mike Price, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Ed Seay.

The table was covered with ecru lace over linen and was centered with yellow and white daisies and yellow tapered candles. Appointments were silver and crystal.

Mrs. M. A. Porter registered the guests. The house was decorated with baskets of fresh flowers. Miss Wolverton was dressed in a pastel pant suit and was presented with a corsage of daisies and baby's breath, as was her mother, Mrs. Truett Vines, and the groom's mother, Mrs. J. B. Price.

The hostesses were Mrs. Ed Seay, Mrs. M. A. Porter, Mrs. Jon Seay, Mrs. Nila Allen, Mrs. James Coates and Mrs. Mildred Wright.

MRS. HAZEL DUGGAN, instructor, helps some of the sewing students with their work. The classes also work in knitting and crocheting. From left to right are, Irene Gonzales, Mrs. Duggan, Pat Vezey and Nell Dowhower.

MISS TWILA LOMAX, right, separates squares and hands them to Concha Vega, left, to sew together. The squares will make a quilt for Concha's grandchild when it's finished, but the grandchild came first.

A regular in sewing

Concha Vega has been coming to the sewing class since it first began April 22, 1971. In recent years she hasn't missed a single Thursday, though, when the class first began, during bad weather, Concha's arthritis would act up and keep her from going out.

When Concha first came to the sewing class, she used an old treadle machine, the kind that her mother had taught her to sew for the family on. For several classes in the beginning, she refused to try the electric machine. Now, having gotten used to it, she can sew at a much faster rate with a lot less trouble.

Yesterday Concha worked on a quilted baby blanket for a new grandchild. Asked how many children she had, Concha help up four fingers, because she doesn't speak a lot of English. But she understands quite well.

Details, at 74 years of age, just don't concern her much. Asked how many grandchildren she had, she answered, "I don't know. Can't count 'em." The blanket was being made, though, for one born just Monday, who hasn't yet been named.

In the last few months, Concha had made two little girls' dresses, an apron, two pillows and a skirt. The skirt was for herself. The rest was for her family.

The sewing class Concha is involved in is part of the social concern program at the United First Methodist Church. It meets once a week and is taught by volunteers in the parish.

The class originally began as a means to help patients of the State Hospital integrate into the community, giving them something to work at, too.

But many, like Concha, wanted to join although they were not patients of the State Hospital. Mrs. Frances Zant organized the classes in 1971 with the help of Mrs. Dolores Norred and Mrs. Mary Ernsing. Some of the others who attended yesterday's class were Miss Edith Gay, chairman of social concern, Miss Twila Lomax and Mrs. Hazel Duggan, both instructors.

The classes last from 9-11 a.m. Thursday mornings.

Mrs. Jack Bowers honoree

Mrs. Jack Bowers was the honoree at a baby shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bob Wheeler.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Wheeler, Miss Carrie Wheeler and Ms. Rue Ann Cox. The hostesses presented Mrs. Bowers with a playpen.

Refreshments were served to guests from a table covered with a beige tablecloth which was decorated with pastel carnations. Crystal appointments were used.

Walls plans to purchase sewing plant in Snyder

Walls Industries Inc. has announced that it plans to purchase a sewing plant in Snyder. The building with 30,000 square feet of space is owned by Aileen Inc., which had previously announced the plant would be closed.

In making the announcement, Sam Walls, president of Walls, stated the firm expects to take possession of the building about August 1 and will begin operations soon thereafter. The Snyder plant, conveniently situated near other Walls' plants in Big Spring and Sweetwater, currently employs about 125 people. Walls hopes to be able to retain most of the present personnel and expand the work force to about 200 operators by early 1977.

In addition to the three West Texas plants, Walls has four other Texas sewing facilities located in Cleburne, Clifton, Gatesville and Breckenridge. Walls' cutting facility in Sweetwater will service the new Snyder plant and finished garments will be returned to Walls' Sweetwater Distribution Center.

Walls manufactures a variety of men's apparel, principally insulated garments for the work and sport's markets. The new Snyder plant will produce a portion of the Company's line of down insulated apparel.

Man 'incompetent' to stand trial sits in jail

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A Wichita Falls man found "incompetent to stand trial" has languished in the county jail off and on for nine months with county officials undecided as to what to do with him.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Don Martin says the "sanity laws" are so confusing that no one is sure what the legislature intended when the law was written.

Meanwhile, Terry Jeffers Hood, 18, who was arrested originally on a capital murder charge on Sept. 13, 1975, remains in jail after having been sent to Rusk State Hospital where he was found to be competent to stand trial. Earlier a jury had found him incompetent to stand trial.

However, on Tuesday, District Court Judge Stanley Kirk ordered a psychiatrist to examine Hood, but no date has been set for a hearing.

Kirk said a defendant has a right to a speedy trial. He referred to the U.S. Constitution and a Texas statute "intended to prevent the government from oppressing a citizen by holding criminal prosecution over him for an indefinite time and also to prevent delays in the customary administration of justice by imposing on the judicial tribunal an obligation to proceed with reasonable dispatch."

Hood is not alone. There are two other men in the Wichita County jail that have county officials worried. Both have been charged with felony and both have been found incompetent to stand trial.

They are Shibley Lingo Byas of South Bend, Tex., indicted on two counts of aggravated assault on a peace officer in August 1975, and Sam Pointer of Wichita Falls, indicted for burglary.

Byas was first found incompetent in November, 1975, and was committed to Rusk Hospital.

He was then returned to jail after Rusk officials said he was competent to assist his attorney. On Wednesday, Byas was found to be incompetent again by a jury.

Poiner was also returned from Rusk last April and has been in the county jail since. According to the new law enacted in January 1974, a defendant must have a hearing in district court, and if he is found incompetent, he must have another hearing in county court where a jury must find that he is mentally ill before he is committed.

WATCH THE BIRDIE — Joe Porter of Scottsdale, Ariz., grimaces as he misses an eagle on the 12th hole in the first round of the Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament Thursday. Porter, who was second in the Western Open last Sunday, still got his birdie.

Pros shatter Tuckaway

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ken Still played very well Thursday as did most other pros who tore up the tidy and meticulously groomed 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course in the first round of the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Tournament.

Still fired an eight-under-par 64, one stroke off the course record, for a two-stroke lead over Fuzzy Zoeller and Dave Hill.

Gay Brewer, the 1967 Masters champion, was bracketed at 67 with Steve Melnyk, Rex Caldwell, Johnny Jacobs, George Johnson, Cesar Sanudo, Mac McLendon, and Homero Blancas.

An even 50 players shattered par under ideal weather conditions as the torrid shooting belied absence of most of the tour's top names, who have skipped this tournament and its comparatively small purse to prepare for next week's British Open.

"The course is just in fantastic shape," said Zoeller, a second-year pro who entered the GMO ranked 100th among the tour's 1976 money winners.

"Any time you have good fairways and good greens, you're going to have low scores," Zoeller said. "The best players in the world are on the tour. When you have those conditions, you'll have those kind of scores, no matter where the tournament is played."

But he wouldn't predict such low scoring necessarily would continue.

"A lot depends on the weather," he said.

Still added that the contrast between Tuckaway and Butler, site of last week's Western Open at Oak Brook, Ill., also was a major factor in the low scoring.

"Butler is the highest rated scoring course in the U.S.," he said. "This is no easy course, but coming away from a course like Butler makes scoring tend to come easier. You just feel like charging."

Melnyk, Brewer, Johnson, Sanudo, McLendon and Blancas compiled their 67s during the morning round. Their scores held up as the first round's best until Still went six under on his 12th hole. He finished his eight-birdie, 10-par round by birdying two of his last three holes.

Strong defense wins Cardinals rake Hawks

BLOCKING THE PLATE — Hawk hurler Tom Cudd blocks the plate and keeps his eye on Cardinal Cavan McMahon trying to score on a wild pitch. Cudd doesn't seem to be aware that the ball is not in his glove, but near his left knee.

GOTCHA . . . OOPS — Cudd tags McMahon, but without the ball, which is now by his left foot. Umpire Rocky Viera is aware of where the ball is and calls McMahon safe. It was the first run for the National League Cardinals enroute to their 6-2 win over the American League Hawks.

By FRED BREWER
A burst of wildness in the first inning and a fielding lapse in the fifth cost the W.R. Grace Hawks of the American Little League five runs Thursday night in their 6-2 loss to the Pollard Chevrolet Cardinals of the National Little League.

The National League champs now move into the finals of the Big Spring Little League City Championship versus the Texas League Champion Cardinals tonight game time 8:00. The Hawks will meet the Starfighters of the International League in the consolation game at 5:30. Both games will be at Pittman Field, home park of the National Little League (located off 87 behind the American Legion).

Wildness by Hawk starting pitcher Tom Cudd enabled the Cardinals to score their first two runs and knock him out of the game without benefit of a base hit. Cavan McMahon, Kip McLaughlin and Chris Austin walked the bases-loaded in the first inning.

McMahon came in on a wild pitch and the other two moved up one base. With one out and first base open it appeared Chris Teer beat out a bunt when Cudd threw the ball home where there was no play.
As it turned out, though, Teer had already struck out and shouldn't have been batting. Home plate umpire Rocky Viera, after a long hassle, decided Teer was out on strikes and Matt Warren was up.

Warren flew out to short, but not before the Cards picked up another run on a wild pitch.
While the Hawks had to suffer through two bad innings winning hurler Kip McLaughlin and the Cardinals only had one bad moment . . . and that was the difference. McLaughlin surrendered six hits, one Big Spring Cardinals vie in Ft. Stockton tourney

The Big Spring Cardinals will meet the Odessa Stars Saturday afternoon 2:00 in the first round of the Fort Stockton Bicentennial Tournament.
The Cards are one of 10 teams vying for the top spot in the weekend tourney. Others include: two teams from Odessa, two from Fort Stockton and one apiece from Hobbs, N.M., Monahans, Crane, Midland and Mcamey.

McCamey game at 8:30 Saturday night. If they lose they play the loser of the same game at 6:30.
Fernando Urista will pitch for the Cards in the first game and Frank Rubio will hurl in the second. The Midland Nine is considered the tourney favorite so the Cards will have their ace ready for them if they can beat the Stars.
Clem Sanchez would go to the mound for the third game and Jody Flores in the fourth, if needed.
The tourney will continue on Sunday and conclude on Monday.

Evert wins her second Wimbledon crown

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert defeated Evonne Goolagong 6-3, 4-6, 6-6 today and won her second women's singles title at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.
It was the first time Miss Evert has ever beaten her Australian rival on grass.
Miss Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won her first Wimbledon in 1974 and then was beaten by Billie Jean King last year. Miss Goolagong, now married to Roger Cawley, was a Wimbledon champion in 1971.
Chris, imperturbable and poker-faced as usual, won because she kept her head at the crucial moments, particularly in the final set when Miss Goolagong suddenly came to life and took a couple of games from her with the loss of only a single point to go ahead 5-6.
In the main, it was a final with plenty of rallies to keep the fans happy, and more than its fair share of unforced errors by both girls. It was saved from mediocrity only by a seesaw final set.
Up to this point, Miss Evert had been looking the more authoritative. Her baseline driving was steadier and when she did come to the net, her volleying was generally crisper and more accurate than that of the Australian.
From 3-3, games went to 4-4, then Chris struck again by breaking to 5-4 up with her own service to come for the match. Evonne had been in one of her apprehensive moods in that game, but in the 10th she suddenly came alive, forced Chris into three errors in a row by pressing her from the net, then got the break to level at 5-5 with her best shot of the whole match—a crisp forehand volley she punched away from the net.
She didn't allow Chris the luxury of even one point that game, and on her service the next game was almost as good. A passing backhand, another volley from the net, a heavily sliced forehand and a power service that Chris put out gave Evonne the game and the lead at 6-5, with Chris only picking up a single point.

Evonne, demure and graceful, has always been a center court favorite and the crowd, sensing an Australian victory, cheered her every point. But Chris levelled at 6-6, then broke again on the 13th, after trailing 30-40, to take a 7-6 lead. She did it by prodding away at Evonne's backhand and forcing her into a couple of errors, then by conclusively smashing a rather weak Goolagong lob, and forcing her into yet another backhand error.
That put Chris serving for the match once again. And this time she did not let the chance slip.
The game opened with a long rally that finished with Evonne going over the sideline, followed by another with Evonne hitting over the baseline. Then a netted service return from Evonne gave Chris her first and only match point which she eagerly grasped with a lob so deep that Evonne didn't even try to reach it.
Ilie Nastase of Romania will play Bjorn Borg of Sweden for the men's title Saturday in a bid for his first Wimbledon title. Nastase reached the final in 1972 but lost in five sets to Stan Smith. His temperament frequently lets him down at crucial moments.
Bst this year, Nastase's behavior has been impeccable—until Thursday's semifinal in which he beat Mexican Raul Ramirez 6-4, 9-7, 6-3. Then in an outburst of irritation at dropping a service game, he complained that photographers were upsetting his concentration, and even took a swing at one of them with a towel.

Political bombs hit sports, U.S. departs Davis Cup . . .

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. pullout from Davis Cup tennis competition has drawn a divided reaction from Americans attending the Wimbledon matches.
Arthur Ashe says it's wrong. Roscoe Tanner agrees with it. Donald Bell is Protesting "political meddling," the United States announced Thursday that it pulled out of the Davis Cup competition and resigned from the ruling organization. France and Britain withdrew from the 1977 tournament but stayed on as members of the Davis Cup committee, at least for the present.

The breaking point came over the issue of some countries refusing to play South Africa. Mexico declined to play South Africa in 1975 and 1976. South Africa won the 1974 Davis Cup when India refused to play in the finals.
"It's a strange way for the United States to punish itself," said Ashe. "It's crazy. Tennis politics are ridiculous and silly. I think pulling out is the wrong thing to do. That's avoiding the problem. It's a strange situation that the United States, Britain and France are banding together on principle concerning South Africa."

Miller's reaction came Thursday after learning of the Canadian decision to shut out the Taiwan team from the 1976 Olympics. The action, taken under prodding from Peking, was seen as a political move, since Canada apparently does not want to sacrifice its official ties with Communist China.
Glen Shortliffe, an external affairs spokesman for the Canadian government, said Taiwan's athletes would not be allowed into the country unless Canada receives guarantees that they will not claim to be representatives of China.
During the Games they may not use the flag, designation, symbol or name of the "so-called Republic of China," he said.

Canada bans Taiwan as China

U.S. Olympic officials are "shocked" over Canada's ban of the Taiwan team in the Montreal Games.
"Politics should be kept out of the Olympic Games," said Don Miller, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "Taiwan is a member in good standing with the International Olympic Committee and has done nothing to merit this action by the Canadian government."

Ali hospitalized with blood clots

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (g)ap) — Kicks by Antonio Inoki in a much-criticized World Martial Arts match in Japan last week have sent heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali to a hospital with blood clots in his legs.
Ali, 34, who earned $6 million and a draw in the 15-round match that many called a "put-on," was taken to St. John's Hospital after arriving in Los Angeles to confer with Columbia Pictures officials on an upcoming movie, "The Greatest."
"They said that match wasn't for real but this proves how real it was," said Angelo Dundee, the boxer's trainer, his voice choking.
"The champ's legs are bad. It looks serious."
"Inoki laid on his butt kicking just to survive. If he'd have stood up, the champ would have landed one and we'd all have been out of there."
Dundee, who was interviewed by telephone at his Florida home, said Ali developed hematomas in his legs from the Japanese wrestler's kicks. "The pain was so bad that we put ice packs on them between rounds just so he could go back in there," Dundee said.

MAJOR ALL-STARS — The seasoned veterans of the major division of Miss Softball America who were picked as All-Stars are: Peggy Calhoun, Karla Frise, and Debbie Fuga — Blue Angels; Sissy Yancey, Penny Coffee — Mixers; Selena Harris, Pam Banks, Pam Casey — Gibson Gals; Starla Mize, Carrie Custer — Cardinals; Demita Spears, — Crystallettes; Cynthia Washington — Carriers; Arleida McClintock, Ann Cadenhead — Kilowatts; and two alternates, Paula Witte — Mixers and Debra Green — Crystallettes. The coaches for the team are Elaine Morrow, Charles Braddock, Max Coffee and Charles Green. Scorekeeper is Gladys Custer.

Viking landing set for July 17

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - America's plan for landing on Mars is back on the track, with the squat, three-legged Viking lander now scheduled to plop down on the planet's ruddy surface July 17 at a site scientists believe is smooth and safe.

Viking's new target, about 150 miles northwest of the area found too rugged for a July 4 landing, may also be somewhat more likely to harbor life, if Mars has any.

Scientists said Thursday in announcing the revised plan that the Northwest site is a low basin once washed by flowing water. And because it is nearly a mile lower than the original site, the planet's thin atmosphere may exert enough pressure there to allow a small amount of liquid water to exist.

"Snow, ice and maybe even liquid water are possible on the site that we've picked - as well as sand dunes," said Dr. James Fletcher, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Fletcher met with project officials at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory to make the final decision on a landing site.

Scientists say recent photographs indicate that the new site is a plain built up by material deposited by rivers - long since dry - that flowed in that direction from the original landing site, called Chryse or A1.

This material could contain living organisms, or traces of past life if it no longer exists on Mars. One biologist said the area may be covered by wind-blown material like fine sand, and thus would provide samples of soil from other areas for the lander to study.

Winner of $1,000 playwriting prize to be announced Saturday

COLORADO CITY - The winner of a $1,000 prize in a play-writing contest sponsored by the Mitchell County Bicentennial Commission will be announced here Saturday during a Heritage 76 program.

The program gets underway at 3 p.m. in the Colorado City High School auditorium. Chief speaker in that event will be William Robert Smith of San Antonio, son of a one-time area congressman, the late W.R. Smith. The younger Smith is now an attorney.

The Heritage 76 program continues through Sunday, with the annual Fourth of July Fly-In scheduled for the day.

Parachute jumps are scheduled for 9, 10 and 11 a.m., that day, along with acrobatic stunts performed by a daredevil in a Dehavilland Chipmunk.

Airplane rides over the city and two area lakes will be offered during the fly-in, with four planes providing the service. Tickets for the rides sell for $3 each.

The winning play in the contest will be produced this fall by Colorado City Playhouse Inc.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1976

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Use care in the handling of unpleasant duties that have to be done. Don't get in the way of associates who are busy right now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your creative ability can easily be expressed today. Take time to engage in your favorite hobby. Take needed health treatments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is best for planning what you want to do. Make sure to please kin first of all. Some creative work can bring added success.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take time to gain the favor of local friends early in the day. Don't neglect to handle an important communication.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to have a more worthwhile monetary structure in the morning. Later you can engage in favorite hobby with other hobbyists.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get rid of whatever is not to your liking where a personal matter is concerned. Handle monetary matters with dispatch. Be logical.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make long-range plans that will improve your future. Do some entertaining in the afternoon and evening and invite your best friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You could have some trouble with a friend in the morning but don't let it get you down. By evening all will be right again.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take advantage of some opportunity to show that you are an excellent citizen. The evening is fine for sociability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study new interests and get rid of any bugs in them so they are workable. A newcomer can give you the support you need.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle an important task early in the day so that later in the day you can enjoy the company of a treasured friend. Strive for happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is a good time to come to a new understanding with an associate. One who opposes you should be avoided or you could get in trouble.

Three-man TEA team makes racial balance check here

A three-man team from the Texas Education Agency visited three Big Spring elementary schools last week for a report for the agency on the desegregation of racially identifiable elementary schools.

The team included Bob Alexias, Harvey King, and Donato Rodriguez, representing three different racial groups.

The committee investigated Bauer, Lakeview and Cedar Crest as three elementary schools within the Big Spring School district that have an enrollment of over two-thirds of a minority racial group.

The committee also checked on such programs as the bilingual program and the migrant programs offered in Big Spring. They recorded such facts as mileage points between the schools.

This investigation was not connected with the Department of Housing, Education and Welfare's ruling on Big Spring. The group here last week investigates for the Texas Education Agency, because the agency was handed the responsibility of calling for racial balance in the state's schools in Civil Action 5261.

Dr. Emmitt McKenzie said that the committee will send back recommendations to the Big Spring Schools. If the schools fail to accept the recommendations, they could place their state foundation funds in jeopardy.

The Big Spring schools already have part of their federal funds in jeopardy. The funds placed in jeopardy are the Impact funds, although the HEW ruling did not touch Title I funds.

Attorneys for HEW recently requested that the scope of the ruling be broadened to include the Title I funds. Guilford Jones, attorney for the schools, appealed this request and the request by HEW was denied. At this time, Big Spring can still obtain their Title I federal funds.

The HEW case which was heard before an administrative law judge in Midland three years ago is apparently right back where it started when the case was

Parker takes school job

COLORADO CITY — Arnold Parker has quit as a teacher in the Colorado City school system to become principal at Matador.

High school counselor Claude Woolsey has also submitted his resignation to take a similar job at Round Rock.

Parker has been affiliated with the Colorado City schools for 13 years, Woolsey for nine.

Gwen Landers, a native of Sweetwater, has been named to succeed Leslie Schnauer as speech and drama teacher at the local high school.

Plaque honors Globe donors

ODESSA — "The Spirit of '76" plaque honoring a special group of Globe donors will be dedicated and unveiled here at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, preceding the play "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Olin Ashley, editor of the Odessa American, and Kaye Jones, Bicentennial Commission director will present the plaque. It will be hung in the foyer of the Globe of the Great Southwest as a permanent honor to these donors.

A special section of the theatre will be roped off and members of the '76 Committee are urged to attend.

The Sunday matinee curtain will be delayed one hour from the regular time of 2:30 p.m. because of other Bicentennial events scheduled for July 4.

Soviets renege on tax deal

MOSCOW (AP) — Dissident historian Andrei Amalrik says the Soviet government has reneged on a promise to allow him to leave the country without paying special taxes, so he's not leaving — yet.

Amalrik, 37, who had expected to fly today to Amsterdam with his wife, Gyusel, told Western correspondents that his departure has been postponed indefinitely because the government had changed its earlier promise to let him take along 18 paintings without paying any special charges.
