Flooding threatens after Belle passes

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York metropolitan area cleaned up and bailed out today from its first major hurricane in more than a decade as the storm, downgraded in strength, carried its heavy winds and heavy rains north through New England.

Flash flooding in the wake of Hurricane Belle, now a tropical storm, posed serious problems for Vermont and other parts of New England.

"There are just too many to list them. We're in real trouble," said Earl Osgood, operations director of Civil Defense for Vermont when he was asked about flooded roads and washed out bridges.

The impact of Belle, which made its first landfall on suburban Long Island early in the morning, was not so severe as had been expected in the metropolitan area. But it was bad enough to flood basements, snarl traffic and leave hundreds of thousands of people without electricity after fallen trees snapped power lines.

"God was with us," said Connecticut Gov. Ella Grasso this morning. Forecasters said the worst of the storm, which had packed winds of up to 110 miles an hour during its three-day journey up the Atlantic Coast, would be over by noon.

But the danger of flooding from heavy rains remained and flash flood watches were posted in parts of Connecticut, Massachusetts and northern New England. Five to eight inches of rain were expected in Connecticut; up to six inches was predicted for Vermont.

Osgood said almost all the towns from the Massachusetts line to Shrewsbury, Vt., about 12 miles south of Rutland, were threatened by severe flooding. The National Weather Service advised that the storm would intensify, not abate as expected, before moving northward out of the area.

At 6 a.m. the center of the storm was near Springfield, Mass.

"It's lost its punch," said Tony Gregory, a weather service forecaster in Boston. "It will weaken quite rapidly as it moves over the land, but it still has lots of rain left in it."

Only one fatality was directly attributed to the storm, the first major hurricane to hit New York since Donna killed 36 persons in 1960. A 19-year-old Long Island woman, out to see the storm, was hit by a falling tree.

During the morning, Belle moved north up the Connecticut River valley, already drenched by four days of rain associated with another weather system.

The Deerfield River in the Green Mountains of Vermont overflowed its banks and the National Weather Service urged valley residents to evacuate their homes. By 7 a.m., the storm, which dumped almost four inches of rain on New York City overnight, had left 4.3 inches in West Dover, Vt., and 3.3 inches in Becket, Mass.

Dozens of families in southern Vermont were evacuated from their homes and major highways were cut off as Connecticut River tributaries overflowed.

Seventy flights were canceled at Boston's Logan International Airport, many of them because the planes had been ferried to other airports for safekeeping.

Bible fund gifts lagging

The campaign to raise funds for the teaching of Bible in area schools is slowly gaining traction.

Free-will offerings are needed, since the classes cannot be sustained under federal law by tax dollars. The Howard County Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring the campaign. Checks can be forwarded either to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, chairman of the alliance, or to The Herald.

Operating on 'bare bones' budget County dads will utilize reserves to pay expenses

By CANDY SMITH
According to county commissioners, the Howard County budget approved Monday for the 1976-77 fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 will utilize reserves from previous years to pay estimated expenditures which are expected to exceed the estimated revenue for the coming year.

Total expenditures are estimated to exceed total receipts by $238,759.50 according to the adopted budget for 1976-77.

However, the $1,958,252 allocated for expenses does not include $255,088 budgeted to be spent from the revenue sharing fund.

Pending Senate action and the President's signature, commissioners anticipate receiving an equal amount of revenue sharing funds. The opening and closing balance in the revenue sharing account would be left with the same $75,000.

A comparison of the 1977 fiscal year budget with the previous years budget however does not give a true picture because the 1977 budget will be the first 12-month period beginning October 1. The preceding fiscal year ran only nine months as a transition period.

Assessed valuation 25 per cent of market value of $108,251,297 shows an increase of $2,071,300 from that of the preceding year. Also bond indebtedness will decrease over the coming year, due to a road bond which will run out in 1977. In the last 7½ years, bond indebtedness has decreased from approximately $1.5 million in 1969, to approximately $300,000 now, said commissioner William B. Crocker Jr.

In regard to expenditures exceeding revenue, a key factor is that, although the county will have the proposed expenditures, they will also have some bond indebtedness out of the way, said Commissioner Simon Terrazas.

The commissioner's court, in drawing up the proposed budget, traditionally underestimates expected income, said Crocker, although it does appear that reserves will be used as they were last year and the year before.

Crocker added that the county was operating on a "bare bones" budget and did not anticipate a tax increase for quite some time, despite the fact that the court plans to spend more than it receives from local taxes and fees during the coming fiscal year.

Beginning the fiscal year Jan. 1 was changed to October 1 in order to conform with the tax collection schedule, said Virginia Black, county auditor.

Money collected in October, November and December may be used immediately beginning Oct. 1 instead accumulating for use during those months awaiting the opening date of Jan. 1 for the coming fiscal year.

Included in the budget was a 5-per cent across-the-board pay raise effective Oct. 1.

Also included was an increase in the juvenile probation officer's car allowance effective Oct. 1. There will be no inquest payments allotted in the budget to the justice of the peace those payments have been foregone for the coming fiscal year.

In other action by the court Monday, a motion was made and passed to support the Family Medical Rentals, headed by Dr. L. J. Barron, in front of the Texas Medical Commission in Austin for a certificate of need permitting the establishment of the Home Health Agency Service.

The non-profit service intends to help all persons, regardless of ability to pay, who are not required to be hospitalized, yet do need a LVN or RN to administer medicine and medical services in the patients home.

Jack Buchanan, commissioner of precinct four, volunteered to accompany Dr. Barron to Austin and left with him at 6 p.m. Monday. Judge Tune, who was originally asked to accompany Barron, was unable to go.

Fees were waived for a fund-raising dance to be held in the County Fair Barn sponsored by the Northside Day Care Center. The request was made by Jane Thomas.

In other business, the Board of Equalization was routinely closed after the current tax rate had been set. No action was taken on the revised Trans Regional Airline contract submitted by the airlines' attorney Robert Miller July 26. Miller did testify Monday that the contract will not tie up the hanger and prevent other commuter airlines from operating out of it.

The commissioner's court has not yet voted on a replacement for the position of county librarian. Mrs. Susan Conley, current county librarian, submitted her resignation June 28 to be effective Aug. 15.

The court decided to withhold action another two weeks in order to continue reviewing applicants for the position. There have been approximately 25 applications submitted to date. Two applications were reviewed Aug. 2.

"I feel that there is no reason why the commissioner's court couldn't reach a decision by now," said Mrs. Conley. She predicts that during the interim, library bills will not be paid on time.

Ford, Reagan battle for spotlight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — President Ford's allies and potential running mates paraded before the Republican platform committee today while Ronald Reagan sought a share of that spotlight for Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, his designated vice presidential choice.

Gov. Robert D. Ray of Iowa, the platform chairman and one of the Republicans on Ford's list of prospective vice presidential nominees, said he was trying to arrange an appearance by Schweiker on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, in the Republican rules committee, Reagan's campaign lawyer urged rejection of a proposed regulation that would compel delegates to heed primary election commitments in balloting on the presidential nominee.

Athletic budget increased School tax to remain same

Although there is a projected decrease in state revenue of $161,309, the Big Spring Independent School District tax rate and assessment ratio will remain the same as last year. The tax rate is $1.70, which $1.46 goes for local maintenance and 24 cents for debt service.

The budget was adopted at Monday creased emphasis being placed on girls' athletics. The track and field evening's meeting of the school board which saw all trustees but Don Reynolds present. Estimated tax roll for next year is $176,000,000, compared to $171,941, 630 for the 1975-76 school year.

Federal revenue is budgeted in the same amount as in the 1975-76 budget. The receipts are based on P. L. 874 legislature and resulting federally connected pupil attendance, components of which are difficult to forecast.

Overall expenditures of the local maintenance and debt service budget represent a boost of $70,242 over 1975-76 expenditures, which represents an increase of less than one per cent.

School Business Manager Don Crockett said that although the district was able to hold expenditures near those of last year, it will be necessary to reduce the reserves by over 50 per cent. Future budgets, Crockett said, should provide sufficient revenue to meet current operational expenses.

Projected expenditures for the school year total $9,112,409, with payroll costs amounting to $6,849,561. Contracted services will cost $375,044, materials and supplies amount $794,577 and debt services $484,976.

Anticipated receipts will total $8,687,566.

The tax rate has not gone above the $1.70 for the past eight years, although it dropped five cents for one year (1972-73). The assessment ratio went from 60 to 75 per cent in 1968-69 and has since remained at that level.

The district's teacher force, because of declining attendance, has been reduced by seven.

The budget school's athletic budget was increased from $120,610 to $142,840 due principally to the program, for instance, will cost an estimated $24,401, or $10,843.54 more than last year.

Whereas no money was expended on a swimming program last year, the project cost of such a program this year will be $4,122.

Anticipated receipts from athletics this year include $29,900 for varsity football, compared to $27,785.26 for the 1975-76 school year.

Parents of school children will be cheered by the news that the same prices of lunches as last year will prevail in school cafeterias. That is possible because of increased federal disbursement rates.

Projected peak enrollment in the public schools this year is 6,461. When classes ended last May, the total enrollment was 6,157. Anticipated peak enrollment in high school is 2,010. When school ended last year, the head count in high school was 1,768.

Dandy cotton crop predicted

A cotton production estimate of 1,952,000 bales for the 25-county High Plains area, including Howard County, has been issued by the joint statistics committee of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers Inc.

If achieved, the crop would be substantially up from last year's output of 1,420,000 bales and the ten-year average of 1,637,087 bales.

The final figure could not course vary widely, since the critical fiber maturation period is just ahead. Weather conditions will, of course, influence the size of the crop.

Action/reaction: Water meter in charge

Q. What has happened to the City Water Department? Last week we received a water bill six times as big as our usual bill. We were charged with using the ridiculous amount of 18,900 gallons. The two of us were out of the city for two weeks during the meter reading period and not one person was left in the house. In addition, July was considered a very wet month. I called the water department and was bluntly told nothing could be done about it. Bills like this are unreasonable and unfair and smack of legalized robbery to me. Do I have any recourse at all?

A. Jake Trantham, manager of the city water department said, "We go by strictly what the meter reads." He indicated that the readings are based on a span of days ranging from 25 to 35, taking into account weekends. Trantham also indicated that when a customer has a question about a bill, the meter is reread to see if some error has been made. But when the amount shown is verified, the department charges for that amount. "We can't estimate how much water has been used," concluded Trantham.

Offbeat: No celebration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford let his second anniversary in office pass quietly.

There was no special ceremony in the White House on Monday to mark the occasion, spokesman Ron Nessen said.

Ford became the nation's chief executive on August 9, 1974, after President Richard M. Nixon resigned.

Ford worked on the acceptance speech he hopes to deliver at the Republican National Convention in Kansas City on Aug. 19. He also met with staff members to plot strategy for next week's showdown with Ronald Reagan for the GOP presidential nomination, Nessen said.

The only other event on Ford's agenda Monday was a National Security Council meeting.

Individualized Study Center designed to aid 'poor' pupils

The board of trustees discussed a policy of in-school suspension at the regular meeting Monday.

In order to keep suspended students from falling far behind in class work, the BSISD proposes to establish an Individualized Study Center where students with disciplinary problems will be assigned by the principal from the regular classroom schedule for a specific number of days.

Students will be allowed one supervised restroom break in the morning and in the afternoon.

Students are not allowed to use tobacco in any form or go to the smoking area.

TARDIES AND ABSENCES

Students who are tardy to the Individualized Study Center may be penalized by the addition of extra days to their original assignment.

Students absent during their assignment will have to make up days absent and may have extra days added to the original assignment.

CAFETERIA

All students in the Individualized Study Center will be required to go in a supervised group to the cafeteria for lunch. Students may bring their lunch if they do not wish to eat the regular lunch served in the cafeteria. There will be no snack-bar privileges.

There will be a twenty minute limit for lunch and this will occur between 11:05 a.m. and 11:25 a.m. while there are no other students in the cafeteria.

Students may visit quietly while eating.

Students are expected to exhibit courtesy to cafeteria personnel at all times.

Students will return to the Individualized Study Center in a supervised group.

Examination exemption policy changes okayed

The center will be in a classroom in the high school building and will be staffed by one certified teacher. David Reynolds is assigned to the center.

When in the center, students will be assigned work by their regular classroom teacher. The work will be graded by the regular classroom teacher and averaged into the students quarter grade the same as work done in the regular classroom.

Privileges according to students in the regular program will not be extended to students assigned to the Individualized Study Center.

Rules to be followed by students in the center are as follows:

IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSION

Students are not allowed to sleep during the class day. They will work on assignments, read and sit quietly.

Students are not allowed to leave their chairs or desks without permission from teacher. They will not be allowed to move about the room to visit each other.

The Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees met Monday 5:15 p.m.

The group reviewed and approved the request of Judith Jarvis to use the high school auditorium to house a town meeting Sept. 11.

In other business, the group examined the quarter examination exemption policy modification. Two areas proposed for modification in the policy were: no absences occurring in one, two, or three days immediately prior to quarter examinations will be considered for exemption except for verified personal illness.

The other modification dealt with the fact that eligibility for exemption following extended illness exceeding three days will be considered only when all those absences are on consecutive school days. The board approved the modification.

The exemption plan is as follows:

Students in grades 9-12 will be exempt from quarter exams beginning with the 1975-76 school year, who meet the following conditions during a given quarter:

Must have no more than three excused absences. (It is not the intent of the policy that a student having no absences in a given quarter take one, two or three days immediately prior to quarter examinations and remain exempt. Therefore, the only absences which will be excused for exemption purposes on one, two or three days immediately prior to quarter examinations will be those resulting from verified illness.)

Must have no unexcused absences.

Must have no more than three tardies.

Must have passing grade at exam time.

Must be in good standing in the office of the principal.

A student meeting the above described conditions will have the option of taking the quarter exam for possible raising of quarter grade but in no case would said exam serve to lower quarter grade.

Under these conditions, it is possible students may be exempt from exams in some classes and not exempt in other classes. A student cutting assemblies, advisories, and study hall periods would jeopardize his exemptions from any and possibly all exams. Also, an exempt student getting into trouble either on or off campus while exempt would jeopardize his remaining exemptions.

An exempt student will not be required to be on campus at the time of the exam from which he is exempt.

A student whose serious illness results in his confinement in hospital or at home for a period in excess of three consecutive days in any one quarter may request administrative review of his eligibility for examination exemption. Such requests will require certification of the student's attending physician that he or she was unable to attend school. However, no student will be eligible for exemption with more than three days absence in a quarter unless all absences are consecutive school days.

In reviewing such circumstances, the principal will consider other exemption criteria and render a judgment on an individual basis. The decision of the principal shall be final in such requests.

The group then met in executive session to discuss a vacancy on the board.

Police beat Thugs escape with loot

Officer George Quintero was called to the Discount Center at 801 E. 4th, Monday to take a burglary report. Thugs had kicked open the back door and broken the glass to gain entry. They took a battery charger valued at $300, a hydraulic jack worth $30, a set of $50 socket wrenches, a case of oil priced at $15 and spark plug wrenches valued at $40. Damage to the door was estimated at $30.

Burglars entered the unlocked home of Charles E. Hamm, 1405 Lincoln, according to a report by Officer V. Y. Garcia, and took $250 worth of rolled coins and bills.

Bill Rexroat, 538 Westover, reported to Officer Robert Sims that a CB radio was taken from his car as it was parked at the Barcelona Apts. Value of the missing radio was placed at $189.

Officer James Hensley responded to another auto burglary report from David H. Fogle, Barcelona Apts, no. 8, that thugs had made off with his CB radio at the same location. Value was placed at $110.

Numerous theft reports also came into the local police department over the past 24-hour period.

Officer George Quintero responded to a call from the Baroid Co., Box 311, that thieves had taken a $200 electric wrench and a $150 hoist from an open field storage lot at the facility.

Buttons Moore, 906 Aylford, reported to Officer Tony Chavez a theft of a $30 CB antenna from his vehicle as it was parked in the driveway of his residence.

Officer Gary Porter also took a theft of a $25 CB antenna report from Susan Munn, 402 W. 12th.

And Steven C. Mowels, OK Trailer Court, advised Officer James Hensley that someone had taken the license tags from his van as it was parked at 102 S. Lancaster.

In other police action over the past 24-hour period, officers responded to four disturbance calls, four prowler calls, one suspicious person call, and arrested two people for public intoxication, one for drunk in auto, and one man for investigation of insanity.

A major accident in the city Monday around 5 p.m. sent a woman to a local hospital. Tessie Bloch, 1506 W. 1st, was taken to the emergency room of the hospital where she was listed in satisfactory condition. Her car was in collision with a car driven by Gilberto Chavez, 307 NE 9th.

In minor accidents Monday, Officer V. Y. Garcia was called to the corner of 6th and Goliad to investigate a minor collision between cars driven by Cristine Turner, P.O. Box 746, and Marvin Spivey, 434 Dallas.

Harris convicted of kidnap, robbery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William and Emily Harris, avowed revolutionaries who shared Patricia Hearst's underground life, stand convicted of kidnaping and robbery in a trial which is not yet over.

In a verdict with grave implications for Miss Hearst, the Harris were acquitted Monday of six counts of assault but were convicted of two kidnapings, one robbery and two car thefts — all involving Miss Hearst.

The jury apparently believed the Harris' contention that Miss Hearst, a codefendant, willingly took part in the shooting that led to the assault charges.

The jury delivered its verdict unaware of a controversy about possible bias against the Harris. Without dismissing the jury and ending the trial, the judge scheduled an unusual hearing today to investigate whether the verdict was tainted by prejudice.

In a surprise move, the jurors asked and were permitted to remain sequestered at a guarded hotel overnight to prevent contact with publicity they were ordered to avoid.

The sources of possible jury bias included reports of the construction of two mock hangman's nooses by potential jurors, the smuggling of an inflammatory newspaper article into a jury room and an allegedly biased remark by a juror who took part in the verdict.

The verdict by the seven-woman, five-man jury was angrily challenged by the defense.

"I don't think this verdict will stand in any court," said chief defense attorney Leonard Weinglass. "It was the most tainted of verdicts."

Unless the verdict is set aside, Weinglass said he would appeal on numerous grounds.

Chief prosecutor Sam Mayerson said if prejudice were shown at the jury hearing he would join in a motion to set aside the verdict and seek a new trial.

"There were some unusual events in the trial, but I don't think they indicate the jury was tainted at all," he said.

Immediately after the verdict was announced, Dist. Atty. John Van de Kamp announced he would pursue the prosecution of Miss Hearst.

Although a codefendant with the Harris, Miss Hearst's trial has been delayed until Jan. 10 while she undergoes psychiatric testing prior to sentencing on a federal bank robbery conviction in San Francisco.

Miss Hearst has admitted her role in the May 16, 1974, crime spree which led to charges against all three, but she said she was an unwilling captive of the Harris and the Symbionese Liberation Army.

She has said she sprayed a Los Angeles sporting goods store with machine-gun fire to free William Harris after he was stopped for shoplifting. The prosecution said the trio then commandeered a van and car to escape, the basis for the other charges.

The panel reduced the most serious charge — kidnaping for the purpose of robbery — to simple kidnaping, sparing the Harris a mandatory life sentence.

Home nursing care, grid contest, signs discussed

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met at noon Monday in the La Posada restaurant.

J. D. Nelson presided. Ray Don Williams was appointed by Nelson to fill the vice-presidential spot in the community development committee vacated by Larry Williams.

The group discussed and approved the financial statement for July. Ralph Brooks, vice-president for Public Affairs, discussed the results of a meeting of the public affairs committee. The group discussed Operation Crimecheck, and the continuation of the Starlight Specials. The board approved continuing the entertainment in the future.

Sam Barron, owner and operator of the Family Medical Rental agency here, reported to the group on a home nursing care program which may be offered to a five county area, including Howard County and four surrounding counties.

Barron explained the working of the home nursing care program to the group, and explained that the organization would ask $30,000 for one year of service. The UpJohn cooperation is opposing the home nursing care program, and is asking 150,000 to cover a 17 county radius.

The home nursing care program is designed to give home health care to elderly, needy patients. Barron told the group that the program would be an "asset to area doctors", and would be funded by Medicaid and Blue Shield programs.

Barron also told the group that the activity calendar provided by the chamber was being revamped.

Clyde McMahon Sr., gave a report on the economic development committee. He discussed the Sept. 24 farm and ranch barbeque and the highway funding crisis.

John Arrick told the group that Dr. Don Newbury, Fort Worth, has been slated as speaker for the Jan. 24 chamber banquet.

It was announced that the Century Club, headed by Adolf Swartz, has 84 members. The club is working for a membership of 100 members, and has allotted a $11,000 budget. Hanson gave an industrial report on the Nuclear Fuel Insurance Act in place of Tom Roy, who is in Washington.

The group adjourned following the industrial report.

Ocean spills

NEW YORK (AP) — Mini sponges of foam may hold the answer to soaking up large ocean oil spills, according to a story in Modern Plastics.

It says Ocean Design Engineering of Costa Mesa, Calif., has designed and fabricated a system using polyurethane foam chips to soak up oil.

"The system reportedly can collect 50,000 gallons hourly using 3.6 million buoyant foam chips which are distributed over a 20-foot-wide spill area," it says.

Cross Plains residents ired by land appraisal increase

CROSS PLAINS — Rural land owners in the Cross Plains Independent School District have grown sullen but not yet mutinous over sharp increases in the appraised value of their land.

In some cases, the appraised value of property exceeds 300 per cent. The district's board of tax equalization worked up a schedule of values for farm land ranging from $140 to $280 an acre, assessed at 30 per cent of market value.

Coin-operated service stations issue sent to Attorney General

Harte Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — A hot-potato issue that could determine whether computer-operated and coin-operated service stations proliferate in Texas has been tossed to the Attorney General's Office.

The tossing was done by State Board of Insurance members who have been trying for several weeks to decide whether such operations are legal under the state's Flammable Liquids Law. They finally decided that the law is ambiguous and asked for an attorney general's opinion.

At the center of the controversy is the Save-A-$ Club in Corpus Christi. Persons who are accepted as "club" members are issued a plastic card which is inserted in a device at the station to activate the gasoline pump. The computer charges for the amount used and the customer gets a monthly bill.

According to comments made before the insurance board, a similar operation is either planned or under way in Abilene.

The question the attorney general must decide is whether it is legal to have gasoline sales operation without an attendant on duty. Operators of service stations with attendants feel such operations are unfair competition and claim they are unsafe because no one is on duty to put out or report any fires.

Save-A-$ (pronounced Save-A-Dollar) representatives maintain their service is legal despite attendant requirements in the Flammable Liquids Law because they operate as a private club.

Several other gasoline sale firms have been paying particular attention to the case because they would like to install unattended coin-operated facilities in various Texas towns.

Solon says Marine deaths expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine Corps training should be "as tough as combat itself," even if some recruits are accidentally injured or killed, Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., says.

McCloskey, a former Marine combat officer in the Korean War, cautioned against physical abuse of recruits, but he told a House panel on Monday, "The face that some men will be injured or even killed in training is something we must accept."

McCloskey said casualties in training were "a small price to pay" for a combat-ready force.

Another congressman with a Marine background told the House Armed Service subcommittee that the corps' leaders have made vast improvements recently in the morale and quality of recruits.

Rep. Robin Beard, R-Tenn., said the difference from past years was like "night and day."

"The whole ball game had changed," said Beard, who holds a major's commission in the Marine Reserve.

The subcommittee, concluding hearings on reports of abuses in Marine training, also heard assurances from a top Marine officer that the corps has taken steps to end any abuse of recruits.

'Administration is... dishonest'

A couple of articles in the "Federal Times" have come to my attention as being of interest to Big Spring.

One was an interview with my former congressman when I lived in Huntsville. His name is Rep. Charles Wilson. He is a Democrat from Lufkin, a member of the House Armed Services Committee and the House Post Office and Civil Service Committees.

HE HAS PLEDGED to me personally that he will do whatever he can for Webb Air Force Base, now being considered for closure.

Cong. Wilson is a tall Texan who is given to blunt talk and not afraid of unpopular causes. For instance, I have heard him speak on the campus of Sam Houston State University in favor of restoring the draft, a bit of courage equal to presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's 1964 criticism of Social Security to an audience in Florida.

I think some of Cong. Wilson's quotes from the "Federal Times" are most interesting:

"Everyone is under pressure to reduce the Defense Department budget," he said. "The easiest way is to cut civilians."

"There's no question about it. The closure of bases, the transfers of employees are done in such an irresponsible way. This is one of the most legitimate complaints of the Defense worker."

"There's no question that bases have been closed for political purposes... I suspect that this whole damn real estate thing since 1968 and 1969 when Nixon came in has been done on a straight political basis. They close bases in districts where there are Democratic members of Congress, places which are Democratic strongholds.

"It is absolutely criminal what has been done in the Northeast. This administration is absolutely dishonest when it comes to base closings."

The congressman also said he could not accept the theory that military bases are public works projects. The first priority in the decision to close a base must be the defense of the country, he said.

Wilson also would not support the amendment to the military construction bill which gave Congress the right to review base closing decisions because he felt that it should be unnecessary with an "honest administration."

He explained how he would trim defense spending in this way:

"The real fat that could be trimmed, the real place where savings could be made is in the major weapons systems. There is lax supervision by the officers who are assigned to police the companies. They are more concerned with helping shipbuilders than with supervising contracts."

Another interesting view came from Times columnist Jerry Waldie, a former five-term Congressman and a lobbyist in Washington. Before the Senate failed to override President Ford's veto of the military construction bill, Waldie wrote:

"If Congress fails to override the President's veto of the military construction authorization bill, add 11,300 more people to the unemployment rolls in the next year.

"That is part of what is at stake in the confrontation between the Executive and Legislative Branches as to the exercise of the President's power to close or reduce military installations.

"The use of that power has always been a sore spot with Congress..."

"FIRST, THE President's contention that economies would be achieved was to be thoroughly analyzed. In that analysis, the impact of the closing would be studied beyond its initial effect on the military budget. It goes without saying that closing a military installation reduces a military budget.

"But it is not equally clear the taxpayer benefits by lower costs of government. A base closing often throws onto other governmental budgets increased expenses for items such as demolition of the base, unemployment insurance, early retirements, welfare, moving expenses, etcetera. The costs of these items, Congress has said, are to be balanced against the savings from the closing. Thus, a more accurate picture of 'economies' from the closing can be obtained.

"Secondly, Congress insists upon longer advance notice of any such drastic impact announcement. Usually because of the political sensitivities involved in such closings, the affected congressmen are notified a very short time in advance of the actual shut-down.

"Opportunity to develop citizen opposition to the DoD closing plan is purposefully limited. By proposal, it has moved so far to completion that ability to prevent it by citizen action is greatly limited.

"The President and DoD recognize this and are not desirous of permitting time to mount effective opposition to their closing proposals.

"So Congress has required the President to notify them nine months before the fact. During that nine-month period, the necessary economic surveys will be completed. And even more important, the necessary mobilization of opposition to the proposal can be accomplished.

"IT IS THIS latter condition that offends DoD and the President the most. They are not desirous of subjecting their decisions on base movements to community approval.

"Though Congress carefully avoided conditioning the executive power to close bases for reasons of military emergency or national security, in all other cases the affected communities will have an opportunity to mount a campaign against the proposed closing.

"Congress should override the veto. There is nothing wrong in requiring the DoD decision on base closings be scrutinized far more intensely than they have been in the past. These views, of course, come from writings and interviews in Federal Times, a news magazine for federal workers.

But they are of particular interest here because our current Webb situation.

Peace at last

Around the rim

Troy Bryant

What did you do in the Great Revolution, Grandpa?

The old man thought a moment, rummaging through 100 years of old index cards in his mind until he came to the 1960s filed in his brain when he was in his 20s.

HE SUDDENLY straightened his bent spine and proclaimed, "Son, I was a veteran of the Democratic National Convention of 1968." He poked himself in the chest, then went back to his normal, senile self.

It must have been rough, Grandpa, please tell me about it.

A smile added a couple of dozen wrinkles to the roadmap around his eyes and he stroked his beard.

"Do you know what an atom bomb is, Son?"

I saw one in a history tape once, but we don't use them anymore, do we?

"No, we have atomic everything else, even atomic underwear for the space pioneers, but no atomic bombs. That's one reason why the Great Revolution started," he said as if he had rehearsed it many times.

"It started back in '63 and we won it without firing a shot."

How did you do that, Grandpa?

"We shed a lot of blood."

The old man stopped abruptly and wiped a tear from his eye. "A lot of blood."

"We were dedicated to peaceful change in the ways of the leaders of the country. Most of us were willing to die for our civil liberties and some of us did."

"The first to go wasn't really one of us, but he had some promise. He was a President who kept us out of one nuclear holocaust and was working the country out of another jam in Asia when they killed him."

You mean they killed Presidents instead of having an election?

"NO, NOT INSTEAD, we had elections, too, but some men took it on themselves to kill for political reasons. The man who replaced him was bad for us. He sent thousands of us overseas to kill Asians. It was tragic, because we were fighting against a communist government so that a dictator could take over. We protested, and most of those on our side refused to fight. They kicked and beat us and shot us and put us in jail, but they couldn't stop us. There were battles at Kent State, Woodstock, Chicago and Washington."

Why was that, Grandpa?

"It was a holy war for them, they believed anyone who didn't believe in killing and dying for no reason, must be a communist, the enemy."

How did you win, Grandpa?

"Fortunately, there were people in the United States who realized how the leaders were using the wars to make money for themselves and the other rich people. They found out how they used illegal means to keep the government in the hands of the government."

You mean, that's how it used to be?

"Yes, Son, but after we got a lot of publicity over our battles and how we were treated, they began looking into what the government had been doing, and they discovered some terrible things."

But what about the Schematic National Prevention?

"What? Oh, the convention of 1968. That was one only one of the battles, the one I was in. We lost it. We just didn't have enough blood to keep going."

But, what did the Revolution do?

"You'll study it in school before long, but I might as well tell you now. After people began looking into things, they found a lot more wrong than we had fought for. They found that blacks, women and other minorities were not really free as they should be, so they were set free once and for all... and they started using their wealth to feed the hungry instead of making weapons to sell to other countries... and every man was free..."

THE OLD MAN had a wild look in his eyes and was breathing hard as a mechanical voice on the wall crackled. "It's time to go."

The young boy rose and rapped on the heavy steel door to the small, white room. It creaked open and then shut again after he had left.

He solemnly walked down the hall to the entrance, as small television cameras panned with him. He asked the nurse at the desk for his monitor. Everyone had to wear one when they were outside the range of the ever-present television cameras. It provided them with a complete record of a person's activities.

"Can I make an appointment to see Grandpa next month?" the boy asked?

"No," the nurse said, "we've been trying to get that confession out of him for years. He'll be terminated tomorrow."

"Why," the boy asked.

"Because all war criminals are executed."

The boy nodded, then quietly left.

Leaks uncovered

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Ex-President Richard Nixon's infamous efforts, so named because of their efforts to plug White House news leaks, wound up their nefarious works with an investigation of congressional leaks.

Their purpose was to embarrass Nixon's detractors by portraying them as security risks. Instead, the plumbers found Washington so porous that they couldn't sort out all of the leaks. It was "difficult to prove," reported one of their investigators, that any given "leak came from the Hill."

THE PLUMBERS' secret findings have a special significance today in light of all the excitement on Capitol Hill over leaks. The House Ethics Committee, suddenly more concerned about leaks than ethics, has invested $150,000 to find out who leaked a House report to CBS newsman Dan Schorr.

Earlier, the committee stopped short of condemning Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., for an alleged leak. And now the Justice Department is investigating Rep. Robert Leggett, D-Calif., for allegedly leaking classified information to the South Koreans.

All this has got investigators chasing in dizzying circles. For Washington is a Yellowstone of leaks, bubbling here, spouting there, spraying out suppressed information.

The White House plumbers discovered three years ago that government information channels would spring leaks faster than anyone could plug them. The plumbers started out to investigate the leaks on Capitol Hill. Chief plumber David Young sought the help of the Pentagon. He contacted Fred Buzhardt, then the Defense Department's general counsel, who assigned Pentagon investigator W. Donald Stewart to ferret out the security risks in Congress.

Stewart reported back on Feb. 13, 1973, that Capitol Hill was a sieve but that many of the leaks originated in the downtown government agencies, including the Pentagon and the White House.

On the Hill, he found classified documents stored in ordinary cabinets, transmitted without the regulation double envelopes and scattered around offices for any visitor to see.

The Secretary of Defense hasn't given adequate instructions, Stewart suggested, "detailing what can be given or cannot be given to members of Congress or the procedures for transmitting classified documents."

No central index was kept at the Pentagon, he added, to show what classified information had been distributed to congressional offices. As a result, the military brass had no idea what classified data was loose on the Hill.

Stewart found that government agencies often shower congressmen with classified information they don't want. "Many situations arise," he reported, "where members of Congress desire to 'dump' unwanted classified material on military liaison officers on Capitol Hill."

In a lengthy memo, Stewart cited a number of lax security practices in Senate offices. But invariably, he found that leaks had their beginning in the State Department, Defense Department or White House.

For example, he investigated a New York Times leak on July 23, 1971, about the arms limitations talks. He reported that the New York Times correspondent, William Beecher, had been referred by a State Department source to the office of Senator Henry Jackson, D-Wash.

The FBI, joining in the probe, spoke to two of the senator's employees. They admitted discussing the subject with Beecher but denied revealing the classified details.

Observed Stewart: "Circumstantial evidence would tend to point the finger at Sen. Jackson, as we had learned that a State Department briefing was held in his office on subject matter with him prior to the publication." But there was no proof.

STEWART ALSO suspected that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had leaked information to reporters about U.S. bases in Spain. But before he could question the suspects, he was headed off by William Macomber, then an Assistant Secretary of State.

According to Stewart's memo, Macomber declared emphatically that then-Foreign Relations Chairman William Fulbright, D-Ark., "would not look favorably on such interviews." The investigation was halted in its tracks.

Stewart also failed to establish that his leading subject, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leaked stories to the press about the spiraling costs of producing the Air Force C-5A transport plane.

But Stewart learned that the information came from some confidential charts that had been slipped to Proxmire by a person identified only as "hostile toward the Air Force."

Of course, the government uses the classification system to censor embarrassing news, which officials don't want the people to read. The government has the authority to classify embarrassing facts, the ability to shut off channels of information and the power to intimidate sources who could tell the truth.

Are what you wear

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There is something going on in the clothing industry of which you may or may not be aware. Designers and manufacturers are now putting labels on the outside of their clothes instead of on the inside. It started a few years ago when Pierre Cardin, Courreges, Christian Dior, Gucci and others discovered that since women had paid so much for their outfits, they wanted everyone to know where they bought them.

THE PRACTICE soon spread like wildfire and the saying "You are what you eat" has been replaced by "You are what you wear."

I was at a party the other evening and I noticed a lady with a large "CD" on the back of her fur coat.

"What a beautiful Christian Dior coat," I said.

"How did you know it was a Dior?" she said in amazement.

"I just guessed from the cut of it," I replied. I helped her off with the coat and she gave me her silk scarf. It had "Givency" printed all over it.

"What a beautiful Givency scarf," I said.

"Oh, is that what it is? I just grabbed one out of a drawer."

"I'd know a Givency scarf anywhere. Say, is that a Pucci blouse you have on?"

"Yes, it is. How did you know?"

"It says 'Pucci' on the collar, the sleeves and the cuffs."

"You are observant. You're the first person who ever guessed this blouse came from Pucci."

I BLUSHED modestly and then said, "It goes beautifully with your Diane von Furstenberg skirt."

"Don't tell me your wife has one just like it."

"No, she doesn't. I just noticed the 'DVF' embroidered along the entire hem — on the outside."

She looked down. "Why, of course. I never noticed that before."

"Would you be insulted if I told you I've never seen anyone look better in Pierre Cardin black silk stockings?"

"Now how on earth did you know they were Cardin stockings?"

I was looking at your Gucci shoes with the big 'G' on each toe and my eye naturally traveled up to the 'C' which is stitched every inch along the seams of your stockings."

"You are the wicked one," she laughed.

"The Courreges leather belt is smashing with your Hermes handbag," I said.

"You have very good eyes," she said.

"I once read a Calvin Klein logo on a woman's sweater 200 feet away," I bragged.

"You're putting me on."

Varicose veins: Just cosmetic problem?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You say surgery is the best thing for varicose veins. I believe you are wrong, as are other physicians. I developed one or two superficial veins in my legs. I had them injected. I continued to get more of them.

I found that to leave them alone is best. If it was made during a fasting condition, it would be considered high. But if within a couple of hours of a meal, it would be normal. This is why the tests should be made in both the fasting and non-fasting states. A normal count could range from 70 to 100. The figures refer to milligrams of glucose (sugar) per 100 milliliters of blood.

I assume you have had confirming tests made and are now considered to have a mild diabetes. Orinase is a blood sugar-lowering medication. For this to work you must adhere to a strict diet that limits carbohydrates and sugar intake. Eliminating "sweets" is a must. Various aspects of diabetes are discussed more fully in a booklet of mine which help you understand things a bit more than you apparently do now. If you want a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

It is possible to treat borderline diabetes without insulin, but it takes understanding and the same precaution any diabetic must use.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How can I told me not to eat sweets and I am taking one orinase tablet a day. — Miss L.

Depends on when the reading was made. If it was made during a fasting condition, it would be considered high. But if within a couple of hours of a meal, it would be normal. This is why the tests should be made in both the fasting and non-fasting states. A normal count could range from 70 to 100. Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the normal count for blood sugar? Mine was 128. Is that too high? My doctor avoid frequent dentist visits to remove tartar from my teeth? My dentists tell me it is caused by acid in the saliva. — M. W.

Tartar is a yellowish film that forms over the teeth. It results from the reactions of various dental minerals in contact with food and it is deposited via the saliva. The only way to avoid this is to improve your dental hygiene — brushing and rinsing your teeth well.

It is well to have tartar removed. Bacteria can lodge between the tartar build-up and the gums, causing infection and problems such as loosening of the teeth.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you name a vitamin that may be good for the brain? I have heard there is such a vitamin for people like us who are in our mid-70s and hope we never get senile. — A. T.

The search continues but we still haven't come up with a medicine or a specific vitamin to weather the ravages of aging, including that of the brain. Presumably the vitamins included in a well-balanced diet are all helpful in maintaining the health of the brain as well as the rest of the body. Maintaining the other organs and keeping the blood pressure at a good level seem to be more immediately important in this.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Is there forgiveness for adultery? I have been involved in this until recently and very much want to know. — A.L.

DEAR A. L.: The Bible certainly underlines the seriousness of this sin. One of the Ten Commandments says simply, "Thou shalt not commit adultery" (Exodus 20:14). However, the Bible also tells us that there is forgiveness for this sin, as well as for every other sin we commit against God's law. Jesus Christ died for our sins, and because of this we can know forgiveness and salvation. If we truly repent of our sins and confess them to God, we have his promise that "He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9).

One of the most thrilling stories in the Bible is Jesus' confrontation with a woman who had been caught in the act of adultery. Those who had discovered her sin condemned her strongly, but Jesus responded with love and forgiveness: "and Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more" (John 8:11).

God loves you and wants to forgive you, not only for this sin but for all your sins. I urge you to accept Christ as your personal Lord and Saviour, and come to know God's forgiveness.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, AUG. 11, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds sudden estrangements that could cause difficulty to the unwary. There are much better influences in the evening and you are able to gain the goodwill of others by a new attitude.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan your activities intelligently and you will be of greater service to others. Make long-range plans for the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make certain you are not too forceful with friends at this time. Show increased devotion to loved one. Be careful in motion.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use tact in dealing with higher-ups or you could get in trouble with them very quickly. Take care of a credit affair you have neglected.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Daytime is not good for going after new appeals but the evening is fine for cultivating new friends. Obtain the data you need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find a better way of handling your duties during the day and get much accomplished. Come to a better understanding with your mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try not to argue with an associate during the day, or a severance of connections could result. Be more cooperative with others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use much tact in the handling of your work early in the day. Strive to be more cooperative with co-workers. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Daytime is not good for recreation but the evening is fine, so get busy at whatever is practical. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Being tactful at home is wise and will increase harmony at this time. You can benefit from constructive discussions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use extreme care in motion and avoid considerable trouble. Search for possible errors in written material. Be more alert.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take no risk where finances are concerned in the daytime. Try to put in economy measures where you can. Take health treatments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Improve your health and appearance by taking right treatments. Strive for increased harmony in the home. Know what your personal aims are.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be a practical-minded person who will require a good education to get ahead in life. There is an innate understanding of rightness here that will stand your progeny in good stead and guide the life properly.

"The Stars smile, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

$200,000 AWAITS MISSING GIRL.
Lisa Anne Beery, an Oakland high school girl who disappeared two years ago, stands to collect $200,000 if she returns home, her parents said Tuesday. Three months after Lisa disappeared, her great-grandmother died and left the girl the money in trust from a life insurance policy. Her case is still under active investigation, according to missing persons investigators.

Prostitution ban passed in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas city councilmen passed an ordinance Monday aimed at curbing a growing prostitution problem that has been centered in an area just north of downtown.

Vice squad officers said they hope to have the new ordinance "on the books" before the end of the month. The regulation makes it an offense for an individual to loiter in a public place "in a manner manifesting the purpose of inducing, enticing, soliciting or procuring another to commit the act of prostitution."

Repeated hailing of vehicles through waving or "other bodily gestures" is prohibited by the ordinance, as is stopping a passerby or engaging him or her in conversation when that action is taken by a "known prostitute or panderer."

The ordinance defines a "known prostitute" as someone who has been arrested during the past year for prostitution violations.

Ruth Rhinehart, who said she is a former prostitute, chided the council for aiming the new regulation at the "sellers" and not at the "buyers." Councilman John Leedom said she was "wasting her time if she believed she could convince the council not to enact the new ordinance."

Gas blast kills six

CALHOUN, La. (AP) — Sheriff's officers say a natural gas explosion which killed six persons at their trailer homes apparently was triggered when a road grader hit an underground pipeline.

The explosion Monday near this north Louisiana town sent a blowtorch of flame 200 feet into the sky, dug a 30-foot crater and scorched trees and fields up to several hundred yards away. Deputy Sheriff Bennie Kennedy said the fire generated so much heat that rescue crews could not enter the area. The fire burned for almost an hour before the gas supply was cut off.

Sheriff's officers said the grader was scraping a ditch beside a rural road when it apparently hit the 20-inch underground pipeline. The gas was under a pressure of 770 pounds per square inch. A witness said the explosion threw one trailer home into a tree where it burned. In all, three trailers and two houses were destroyed.

The dead were at two of the trailers, and authorities said other residents apparently were away when the explosion occurred.

The dead were identified as Herbert C. Whitney, 70; his wife, Clara, 67; Mrs. John Redding, 34, and her three children, Billy Joe, 4, Suzy Ann, 6, and Douglas, 11. Bob Eldridge, 48, of Ruston, the driver of the grader which reportedly hit the pipeline, was in guarded condition at a Ruston hospital with burns over 45 per cent of his body.

Almost everyone needs help with crawling bugs

Does she or doesn't she... Chances are she DOES... have roaches, ants, and other crawling pests in her home. But like everyone... she hates to admit it. Don't be embarrassed, "Mrs. Homemaker," these pests have been with us since prehistoric times — and all we can do is rely on science to provide ways to prevent and destroy them. There are many products which offer temporary solutions but only one which offers protection 24 hours a day for months and months — Johnston's No-Roach.

APPLYING JOHNSTON'S NO-ROACH... to rid crawling pests

Johnston's No-Roach (comes in an amber bottle with a free brush attached) is different... and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powders... No-Roach is clean and easy to use. Simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and everywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish and crawling insects — and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months.

across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant the coating. Use No-Roach with confidence. Available at: Safeway, Dist. by Kimbell.

Disturbed stepmom after son-in-law

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just celebrated our 30th wedding anniversary. Three years ago my father died. He was very wealthy and left everything to my stepmother. Last June, my stepmother (who is 11 years older than I am) was visiting my husband and me, and I found them in bed together. My world came crashing down, and I ordered her out of the house.

After conferring with my two sons and their wives, I wrote a letter to this woman and told her I never wanted to see her again. She responded with a letter stating that she has been in love with my husband as long as I have, and she could never say no to him.

My husband has asked me to forgive him, and he promised never to see her again. I forgave him, but this woman won't give up. She calls here, and if I answer the phone she hangs up on me. I don't know whether she calls him at his office, but I assume she does.

My sons and their wives tell me that she has called them and they have slammed the phone down on her.

Just when I think I'm getting over this terrible hurt, she calls and upsets me. Please tell me how to handle it.

HURT BADLY

DEAR HURT: She sounds disturbed. Ask your lawyer what steps should be taken to put an end to this harassment. You don't have to tolerate it.

DEAR ABBY: I am the only female in an office of 10 men. Although the restrooms are clearly marked "MEN" and "WOMEN," the men use the women's restroom in addition to their own. I strongly resent that practice!

I do want privacy in the restroom, but if I mention it, I will be labeled a prude. My job is well paying, and I would hate to change for that reason, especially at age 50. May I have your suggestions?

DESIRES PRIVACY

DEAR DESIRES: If you DON'T MENTION it, how will the offenders know that you resent their actions? The solution is obvious. Speak up. And don't worry about what they call you.

DEAR ABBY: I notice that you sometimes let people air their beefs in your column. Well, here's mine:

I've been a waitress for many years in two of Seattle's finest restaurants, and it positively infuriates me when a lady speaks to me through her escort as though I am not good enough for her to speak directly to.

Example: Me to her: "Ma'am, how would you like your steak?" She ignores me, turns to her escort and says, "Honey, tell her I like my steak rare."

Abby, what is wrong with those snobbish women, anyway? This probably won't make your column, but I feel a lot better just telling somebody.

CHARLENE

DEAR CHARLENE: Those snobbish ladies are going by some very archaic rules of etiquette. At one time (and don't ask me why) it wasn't considered proper for a lady to speak to a waiter or waitress, so she communicated through her escort.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DRIVEN UP A WALL" IN BROOKVILLE, PA.: How much clutter can a man make with "a lot of little notes he has written to himself?" Sitting in an uncluttered living room while your husband is cluttering up someone else's living room with his little notes will not bring you the peace of mind you seek. Get off his back, dear.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Officers were installed at the Thursday evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 355.

Mrs. Don McCray, George S. Berry Unit 575 of Lubbock, acted as installing officer.

Installed were Leta Metcalf, president; Wanda Wiley, first vice president; Helen Gonzales, second vice president; Violet Melton, secretary; Janet Whitehead, treasurer; Shirley Bodine, historian; Bertha Hamill, sergeant at arms; and Wanda Grubaugh, Mary Littlejohn and Fern Smith, members at large.

Following the installation, all members met at the Brandin' Iron Inn. Mrs. Metcalf reminds all members that their 77 dues are now being accepted. Next meeting for the group is at 8 p.m. Aug. 19.

Hill country school house

DIVIDE, Tex. (AP)—One cannot deny that school days are coming. Children know this better than anyone.

The shadows of trees—gaunt from long days in August's heat—lie stamped on brown field grass like charred images. And—far away—wispy clouds float high above school yards like cobwebs in the sky.

Youngsters feel time slipping through fingers soiled in the dust of a summer of make-believe. Pet dogs sniff the air for autumn's chill and know their masters soon will be off to school.

The school at Divide, in the Texas Hill Country west of Kerrville, is a one-room limestone building where nine little people attend grades one through six.

You may recall such a school from your own childhood.

For who could forget the musky smell of a cloak room, or the sullen pouting of an iron radiator? And a leaden sky glowering there just over winter's rim?

Who, indeed, could forget spring afternoons when a warming breeze through an open school window reminded one that woods, and fields, and a creek good for swimming were more fetching than gerunds and gerundives.

Maiden Garven teaches class in the Divide Common School. Her days, and those of her young charges, are simple, uncompromising excursions into discipline and learning. Reading and English take up the morning; science, social studies and spelling fill out the afternoon.

What child today can boast of an uncomplicated school where life and the mere fetching of it are things happiness are made of?

—There are no rulebooks. Mrs. Garven supplies from her graying head all that a child needs to know about spitball throwing, and pigtail dipping. And the perils therein.

—There is no school gymnasium. The school sits amid a sheep pasture and nature has provided all. Horned toads and quail and jack rabbits visit the schoolyard frequently. How could a fortune in athletic equipment compare with chasing these models?

Women reporters banned from class

PLAINS, Ga. (AP)—Two women reporters, part of the press corps covering Jimmy Carter's stay in his home town, were barred from the Sunday school class that Carter attended Sunday.

Carter said after church that he had nothing to do with the decision but has no objection to it.

The women reporters and tourists had attended the class several times recently, but Theron Hobgood, head of the Plains Baptist Church's Board of Deacons, said the class has traditionally admitted men only and two weeks ago had voted to bar women from the class from now on.

"Our men just don't want mixed classes," said one woman church member, who

After church, Carter, who said he supports the Equal Rights Amendment, said: "It suited me fine to have the women present, and at first, I asked that they be allowed. But the deacons acted within their authority and I have no objection to it."

Landry plans harsh future for Cowboys

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry wasn't very happy with what he saw Saturday night against the Los Angeles Rams, and the last week of Cowboys training camp here won't be a picnic as a consequence.

Landry has set up a harsh week of workouts to correct what he considers to be the team's problems.

Dallas will break camp at the end of the week and return home for Saturday's pre-season game against the Denver Broncos in Dallas.

End sweep defense is high on Landry's priority list this week after the Rams ran extensively around the corners in downing the Cowboys 26-14 last Saturday. "The Rams looked awfully good for this time of year," Landry said. "They were doing most everything well, which made us look pretty bad."

Landry said the only bright spot he saw against Los Angeles was the Cowboys' punting. Punter-quarterback Danny White and rookie Bill Farris each punted four times, White for a 47.5 average and Farris for a 36.5.

Pirate hurls no-hitter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was "Candy Night" at Three Rivers Stadium and Pittsburgh Pirate left-hander John Candelaria gave everyone a treat.

The first 10,000 fans entering the stadium Monday night received a free candy bar in honor of the occasion and Candelaria followed that up by pitching a 2-0, no-hitter over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I've been dreaming about this since I was five years old," said the 22-year-old pitcher known as "The Candy Man" to Pirate fans. "I don't know if I'll come down. It's going to take a while to realize what's happened."

THE DYNAMIC DUO — Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher John Candelaria, right, gets the high sign from Pittsburgh catcher Duffy Dyer after the two teamed up for a no-hitter Tuesday night against the Dodgers in Pittsburgh. It was only the second no-hitter ever thrown by a Pirates pitcher in Pittsburgh. The Pirates won it, 2-0.

Only in his second major league season, Candelaria, 11-4, became the first Pirate pitcher to throw a no-hitter in Pittsburgh since Nick Maddox accomplished the feat at old Exposition Park in 1907.

He extended Los Angeles' losing streak to six games as he walked one batter and struck out seven. With the exception of the third inning, Candelaria retired the Dodgers in order.

A walk to Steve Yeager and two Pirate errors loaded the bases before Candelaria got Bill Russell to ground out to end the inning.

In the first inning, Al Oliver made a running grab of Davy Lopes' fly ball and Dave Parker made a shoestring catch of Ted Sizemore's sinking liner to snuff out possible hits.

Frank Taveras caught a line drive off Sizemore's bat in the sixth and Oliver ranged far to his left to make a running catch of Ron Cey's fly ball in the seventh.

The last out in the ninth was also the last threat to the no-hitter. Russell blooped a fly to center that Oliver gloved after nearly colliding with Taveras at shortstop.

"I looked out and thought, 'That's a heck of a way to lose it,'" Candelaria said.

When Oliver made the catch, Candelaria jumped into the air and the celebration began.

His teammates made a path of white towels extending from the clubhouse door to Candelaria's locker and added a few candy bars along the way to keep up the spirit of "Candy Night."

Candelaria sat down, opened a can of beer and promised it wouldn't be his last.

"I'm gonna drink beer all night," he said with a broad grin. "I don't think anyone can blame me."

Wynn win a 1st, edges Gilder on final hole

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — Meet Bob Wynn, a golfer who had just won a chance to play in the PGA Championship and decided instead to relax in the sun.

With a $40,000 check in his pocket, the 36-year-old resident of Santa Clara, Calif., said he and his wife Ann had planned to spend the rest of this week with their 3-year-old daughter Jennifer on an Atlantic Coast beach.

"We won't be going there because of the hurricane," he said Monday shortly after winning the $200,000 B.C. Open title with a 13-under-par 271. "I guess we'll fly to California. I know there's a lot of sun there and besides we've had too much rain here."

Wynn and the rest of the field in the B.C. had more than their share of rain during midday Friday and Sunday night.

The rain, caused in part by the approach of Hurricane Belle, became so heavy Saturday that the third round in the 72-hole event at the par-71, 6,888-yard En-Joie Golf Club was postponed until Sunday.

Then, after that round was completed in the morning, a deluge flooded the course late Sunday and forced a halt in final-round play until Monday morning, with 11 players still out on the links.

At the time, Wynn and rookie Bob Gilder were leading the 64 survivors of the cut, tied at 12 under par. They had two holes to play.

With the sky filled with leaden clouds Monday, the pair went to the 17th tee. Gilder's six-iron shot on the par-three, 175-yard hole put him two feet from the pin. Wynn, also using a six iron, dropped his ball 20 feet out.

"I thought I lost him there," said Gilder, winner of the Phoenix Open this year in his second pro start. He made his birdie.

So did Wynn, who putted it "straight in."

Both found the rough at the 18th. Gilder to the right behind trees and Wynn to the left.

Gilder's second shot landed in tall grass to the left of the green; Wynn hit the green 30 feet from the pin.

From there, Wynn putted within a foot and tapped in for a par. Gilder, ever cautiously, took his turn. The ball broke from left to right as planned, but lipped the cup and Wynn had won his first major PGA event since he joined the tour in 1971.

Steelers slobber past Belle and Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was the kind of night a guy wouldn't even send his mother-in-law out in torrential rain and wind gusts up to 41 miles per hour from Hurricane Belle.

But the elements didn't stop 16,823 fans from watching the action at Veterans Stadium Monday night as the Pittsburgh Steelers slobbered their way to a 14-7 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The National Football League preseason game proved nothing, since both coach Dick Vermeil of the Eagles and Chuck Noll of the Steelers were unable to evaluate the young talent striving to make both teams.

The artificial surface was soaked, puddles dotting the field. Winds and sheets of rain swept through the stadium.

"I thought the winner tonight (Monday) was Hurricane Belle," said a disgusted Noll after his team drove 72 yards on nine running plays for the winning touchdown scored early in the fourth quarter.

"It was a very difficult game because the circumstances to look at people were less than favorable," said Noll. "You really didn't even get a chance to work on a rainy day offense, because usually it rains only a little bit. The ball got heavier and heavier as the game went on, and it certainly was difficult to evaluate anybody."

Noll's view must have been a disappointment to rookie running backs Jack Deloia, a sixth-round draft choice from Salem (W. Va.) College, and Tommy Reamons from Missouri.

Deloia carried the ball 14 times over the slippery surface for 83 yards, including a 20-yard run for the winning TD. Reamons gained 29 yards on six carries.

Ranger batters age Houk 10-yrs.

DETROIT (AP) — It was Detroit Tiger Manager Ralph Houk's 57th birthday, but his pitchers gave the presents to the Texas Rangers.

Twelve hits, eight runs, seven walks, two hit batsmen, two wild pitches, a balk — happy birthday, Ralph!

"After this game I'm about 10 years older," Houk said Monday night after the Tigers were 8-1 victims of Nelson Briles and the Rangers.

It was Texas' sixth triumph in the last nine games, while Detroit was snapping a four-game winning streak.

"I was feeling pretty young after the doubleheader yesterday," said Houk, whose team swept two Sunday from Cleveland, 2-1 and 15-5.

"I think they were just tired out after yesterday," one Tiger fan moaned.

Detroit and Texas battle in a two-night doubleheader today, with Dave Roberts, 11-11, and Jim Crawford, 0-3, scheduled to pitch for the Tigers against Bert Blyleven, 9-12, and Steve Hargan, 4-3.

Texas scored five runs in the third inning with the aid of four consecutive walks, three by starter Dave Lomax and one by Bill Laxton. It was no contest thereafter.

"Seven walks? I thought it was 20," Houk said. "They'll murder you. I saw it happen yesterday with the Cleveland club. They had a four-run lead and couldn't get the ball over."

Briles scattered eight hits and didn't walk a batter to win for the first time since July 3 to even his record at 8-8.

"It's been a long time between drinks," he said.

The only damage off him was Rusty Staub's homer in the sixth inning.

"I don't walk too many guys," Briles said. "When I do I'm in trouble. I'd rather give up a hit than a walk. When somebody walks the fielders can't help you. Walks break up the momentum of a game."

Lamesa team wins pro-am

BROWNFIELD — Jay White captained the winning team in the Brownfield Pro-Am Monday as the Lamesa four-some fired a 14-under-par 58.

The team had While, Cindy Barron, Randy Addison and Kim Hawkins. Second at 61 was the team of Charles Morris, Clyde Obar, Buz Steele and Jo Hickman. Lanny Moore, Dan Powers, Al Self and Roy Howell fired a 62 for third.

Ted Griffin of Big Spring won the pro division with an even-par 72. Courtney White of Slaton shot 73, Lanny Moore of Odessa 74, Derrick Hammett of Levelland had a 71 to lead all amateurs.

Cedeno cycles Astros to 13-4 Cardinal win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Cesar Cedeno, having already connected once for the cycle in his major league career, found a repeat performance more simple.

"The last time it happened I hit a home run, double and a single," the Houston Astros' center fielder recalled Monday night.

"The last time up I had to hit a triple," he added. "This time it was easier. I was kind of pressing, though. I knew I needed a single."

A one-base Cedeno hit, climaxing his memorable night, came in the eighth inning of a 13-4 Astros runaway facilitated by four St. Louis Cardinal errors.

But until his fusillade was triggered by a first-inning triple off Bob Forsch, 5-7, the wing-footed Cedeno had been struggling to collect any hit at all.

"I didn't get mad. I didn't panic," said Cedeno, who in seven previous games during a losing Houston trip had batted 4-for-28 and seen his average dip to .287.

"Everybody that plays this game goes through what I did in San Diego," he added in further reference to his 1-for-22 performance immediately ahead of Monday night.

"It's part of the game. If you don't panic, you'll come out of it," he asserted. "It just takes hard work. The last day I felt like I was swinging a little better."

Cedeno, whose toll included a marathon batting practice session three days earlier, began reaping dividends in rapid fashion.

Forsch jammed the Houston hitter with a fast ball in the leadoff inning but watched helplessly as the delivery was blooped into the right field bullpen area for a triple.

While golfers have a paved road (out-of-bounds) to their right they have a "rocky road" to their left, in the rough.

Once again the prevailing wind plays an important role. When its with you four is easy, when its against you four's one of the toughest.

With the wind at his back a golfer can put his drive beyond the dip, leaving himself a three-quarter wedge approach shot.

Ridin' fence Dad collects spurs

Dad collects spurs

with Marj Carpenter

Wayne Mitchell, high school principal at Stanton and his sister, Charlotte Wetzel of Gatesville are really proud of their dad, Lloyd Mitchell of Gatesville.

Now I was supposed to go by Gatesville on my vacation and do a story on his spur collection, only the time for me to dilly-dally on my vacation ran out long before I got to Gatesville.

But for those of you who head in that direction and have the time, stop and see the spur and western paraphernalia collection of Mitchell's.

Mitchell started out collecting spurs years ago when he was working in the summer at Yellowstone Park. And he kept on and on collecting in between his coaching jobs. Suddenly, he found himself with what is considered by some as the world's largest collection of spurs.

Mitchell, who is the father of the Stanton principal and of Mrs. Wetzel, was also at one time the recipient of the General Wainwright Valley Forge Freedom Award for his work with government courses with young people.

He also was a Baylor weight lifting star back in 1929-31. He's done a lot of interesting things.

His son, Wayne came along behind him following in his footsteps and also went to coaching. He also worked summers at Yellowstone Park. He laughingly tells his wife that when he got married that was the first summer he didn't go back to Yellowstone and he sure "missed it."

Wayne also was a coach and after coaching awhile went into school administration in Stanton.

One thread runs strong through the Mitchell family. Apparently every generation is concerned with youth. Wayne is probably as interested in freedoms and the furthering of patriotism as his father.

Now he didn't get around to starting a spur collection, however. And the spur collection has really given Lloyd Mitchell plenty to do.

He was written up in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram for this collection of western memorabilia.

And he likes nothing better than to show his collection to visitors passing through Gatesville.

Crime fighter

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Police here have discovered a new crime-fighting aid — the office copier.

A store owner in the city made copies on her Xerox machine of some hand-made jewelry. A few weeks later, robbers entered her store and stole the pieces.

Browsing through a neighborhood chain store, the lady spotted her jewelry on display. She pointed out to police that the distinctive marking that showed on the copies matched those on the jewelry. Burbank detectives soon arrested three men, who were found guilty of armed robbery and fencing stolen property.

The chain store was found to be innocent and the lady recovered her jewelry.

Introducing the Average Billing Plan from Texas Electric.

If you've ever wished the amount of your electric bills could be more consistent every month — instead of changing so much between seasons — here's your chance.

The Average Billing Plan is being provided by Texas Electric to help smooth out the highs and lows that occur in your electric bills. As the name implies, this new plan enables you to pay an "average" rather than the actual amount used each month. It allows you to pay less during high-use months by paying more during low-use months.

If you'd like a folder that explains the plan in detail, call Texas Electric. Or request one on the comment portion of your electric service bill.
