

GOP convention begins Monday

The 'gunfight' at KC corral

KANSAS CITY Mo. (AP) — With every vote crucial and every delegate a potential kingmaker, President Ford and Ronald Reagan arrive in Kansas City on Sunday bearing rival claims to the presidential nomination of a Republican National Convention that will prove one of them a pretender.

Ford and Reagan both claim the strength for first-ballot victory, but no one can say for certain which candidate will emerge in triumph and which will see his long quest for the White House fall agonizingly short of the prize.

It will be close, perhaps closer than Republicans ever have seen.

Indeed, it has been a generation and more since the party assembled in convention without knowing in advance who would lead them at the final gavel.

The Associated Press count of publicly committed and legally bound delegates shows Ford 75 votes ahead of Reagan, but 21 votes short of the 1,130 that will make a nominee.

The numbers: Ford 1,109, Reagan 1,034, uncommitted 116.

For the moment, that last group includes America's most pampered housewives, lawyers and politicians, for the uncommitted hold the balance of power, and both sides are paying them court.

Ford's delegate counter, James A.

W. J. Sheppard, Big Spring, will be one of the 2,259 Republican delegates attending the Republican National Convention in Kansas City beginning Monday. Alternates who will attend from Big Spring are Dorothy H. Halland and Winston Wrinkle.

All but Wrinkle left for Dallas Saturday where they caught a plane for Kansas City. Wrinkle will leave this morning from Midland.

Along with all the other delegates and alternates from Texas, the Big Spring delegates and alternates are committed to vote for former Gov. Ronald Reagan on the first ballot.

Baker III, claims 1,135 votes, five more than a majority. Baker said more will be coming aboard in the next three days.

John P. Sears, managing the Reagan campaign, contends the former California governor will have more than 1,140 votes on the nomination roll call. He said the Ford count includes some people who really want Reagan but cannot afford to be identified with the challenger until the vote comes.

One of them is wrong, and the 2,259 delegates will determine which it is on Wednesday night, at the climactic moment of the 31st Republican National Convention.

Then, the sonorous roll call of the states will record at last the real judgment of Republican delegates who have been prodded, persuaded, argued with and analyzed as never before.

Then, Rep. John J. Rhodes, the convention chairman, will gavel order so that he can announce officially the verdict of delegates who will have kept their own tally sheets and will have signals by their cheers and their despair when the majority has ruled.

The letters have been analyzed along with the numbers. "The Reagan strength is in the early part of the alphabet," said Baker. "We recognize that we'll be behind until the M-N-O-P range of the alphabet."

HEADED FOR THE COUNTDOWN — President Gerald Ford and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan are scheduled to arrive in Kansas City today for the Republican National Convention, nearing the end of their long contest for their party's presidential nomination. Delegates began arriving in force Saturday at the convention, where balloting will be held Wednesday.

for Ohio, P for Pennsylvania, big states — and Ford states.

That moment alone, that time of ultimate political tension, was the objective of all the maneuver, all the plays and counter-moves, all the year-long Republican struggle through primary elections that could not settle the issue, all the $25 million and more the two candidates spent.

That same object guided the candidates in handling the question of vice presidential preference. Seeking to gain strength, Reagan broke tradition and designated Sen. Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, a liberal, as his running mate in advance.

Ford, by contrast, has let it be known that he is assembling health and financial dossiers on a long list of Republicans from every faction of the party for consideration as potential running mates.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said he doesn't expect the President to make the final decision until after the presidential nomination.

Nothing else really counts, and until the presidential roll is called, the maneuvering will continue. Afterward, it will be for the victor to try to unite an almost evenly divided party and lead it to an uphill campaign to hold the White House against Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, runaway leader in the early public opinion polls. While Ford and Reagan are the contenders, the improbable venture of Sen. James L. Buckley, Conservative-Republican from New York, could affect the outcome. Buckley said his door is open but that he has not decided whether to become a presidential candidate at the convention.

He disclosed the possibility on Tuesday, saying Republicans he would not identify had approached him about candidacy. He said at first he would run only if he thought he could deadlock the first presidential ballot, "and thus give all of the delegates a chance to later vote the way they want to" between Ford and Reagan.

The only disclosed promoters of that move were Reagan advocates, but Sears said his campaign organization had nothing to do with it. He said Buckley would hurt Ford; Ford men said Buckley would hurt Reagan.

By Friday, Buckley was saying that if he did enter the race, it would be as a serious candidate, not for the sake of a convention maneuver. "If I allow my name to be put in, it would be a candidacy, pure and simple," he said. Then he cancelled all appearances until he leaves New York for Kansas City on Monday.

There was no evidence of significant Buckley support. And it would take a demonstration of majority support in five delegations to gain him the right to formal nominating speeches on Wednesday. Delegates could vote for him on the roll call, however, even if his name was not officially placed in nomination.

Carter was nominated at a plaid Democratic National Convention in New York City, where usually contentious Democrats applauded in unison.

JUST RESTING — Jim Van Slyke, worker in Kansas City's Kempner Arena, has ample seats to take a break in Saturday as preparations continue for the Monday opening of the Republican National Convention.

Motorists let him swing

Man hanged from highway sign

TYRONZA, Ark. (AP) — John Henry Young was strung up on a road sign by hitchhikers and left to hang by the neck. Motorists driving along a highway in rural Arkansas left him swinging for about 20 minutes before anyone called the police.

Young, a 40-year-old black man who was in satisfactory condition at a hospital Saturday, told police he picked up two white men Thursday night and that they hanged him after he refused to buy them a drink.

Young, who stopped to let out the hitchhikers about 8:30 p.m., said he could remember his toes barely touching the ground as he passed out. He was cut down about 9:25 p.m. by Tyronza Police Chief Chester Ford, who said he believed Young had been hanging no more than 20 minutes.

Ford estimated in that time period about 150 vehicles would have passed by the spot.

"Maybe they don't have a conscience," Ford said Saturday when asked why motorists did nothing to help Young. "I don't know, some people are just cruel-hearted, I guess."

Ford and State Police Trooper John Williams, 30, of Lepanto said they believed a number of motorists saw Young being strung up on a road sign, but kept going to avoid getting involved.

"It's a well-traveled spot," Ford said. "A lot of cars went by. There's no way they could have missed it. Somebody had to see it happen. The sign is only eight feet from the road."

Williams said that some people saw Young tied to the sign and did nothing, but later returned when police cars were on the scene. "They said they were afraid to do anything," the trooper said.

One motorist got a glimpse of Young hanging from the sign, drove back to confirm what he had seen and then drove off again without reporting it, Williams said.

A minister who passed the scene went to the nearest house and called state police district headquarters at Jonesboro, 30 miles to the northwest of Tyronza. About the same time, another man called the police in Tyronza.

Young said he picked up the hitchhikers near Tyronza, the small town in the farmlands of northeast Arkansas where he lives, and let them out near the intersection of U.S. Highway 63 and Arkansas 118.

First they asked for some rope to tie up their bedrolls. Then they asked him to buy them a drink. When he told them he didn't have the money, one pulled a knife. Young was then knocked down and tied up by the roadside.

One piece of rope was used to tie his hands and feet while another length had been put around his neck and looped over the sign. Ford said the white nylon rope was highly visible in the headlights.

"He told us that they had him there on the ground, and they used their bodies to hide part of what they were doing from the traffic that was going by," Williams said. "When the traffic would thin out, then they would jump around and that's when they stood him up and hung him on the sign."

Poll shows Carter is 'doing well'

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter's own polls show he is doing well except for "a certain softness" in some traditionally Democratic Northeastern states, a Carter aide said Saturday.

But Carter pollster Pat Caddell added that the Democratic presidential nominee has not campaigned extensively in the Northeast and said, "It's not so much a problem as a case where the perception and support are not as firm or as hard as they might be."

Caddell commented at a news briefing as Carter prepared to fly to Charleston, W. Va., for a fundraiser and a speech Saturday night.

He said his polling group, Cambridge Reports, Inc., has received results from 15-20 individual states since the Democratic National Convention and from all regions of the country.

"In everything that we have looked at so far, we are either ahead or almost even or close to even, including some of the more traditional heavy Republican states," Caddell said.

He said that since the convention, support for the Carter campaign has increased among almost all categories of voters, particularly among Catholics, liberals and voters under 30.

Caddell said he expected results from a few traditionally Republican states to show Carter "a couple points behind." He said a campaign stop in a still unnamed midwestern farm state late this month is intended to project a positive Carter image in an historically Republican area.

Bible fund past $1,500

A $350 gift from the East Fourth Street Baptist Church Mission Fund propelled the Howard County Ministerial Alliance's Bible Fund past the $1,550 mark Saturday.

The total is now $1,556, still far short of the $6,500 being sought by the alliance to underwrite the expense of offering Bible courses in high schools at Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan.

Those wishing to make donations can forward them either to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, c-o First Baptist Church, Big Spring, or to The Herald, which is helping the alliance coordinate the campaign. Patrick, for the fourth year in a row, is chairman of the Bible Fund campaign.

Action/reaction: Litterbug law

Q. Does the city have an ordinance against littering? I've seen so many people throw trash on the streets it's disgusting. Other towns I've been in have signs that say $200 fine for littering. Why doesn't this town? And if there is an ordinance, why isn't it enforced?

A. Chief of Police Stanley Bogard indicated that there is such an ordinance on the books, (section 24-7) that carries up to a $200 fine for littering public streets or sidewalks. "If a police officer had observed someone throwing trash into the streets, he would have given the subject a ticket," said Bogard. The lawman also stated that if a private citizen observes such littering, and can identify the offender, he or she may come to the police department and sign a complaint on the litterbug.

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) — Eggs have been flown in from Singapore, wine from Romania, horses from Pakistan.

The Chinese have built the conference hall, the Russians a 700-ton statue honoring Sri Lanka's late prime minister, Solomon Bandaranaike. Yugoslavia has shipped in cable machines and teleprinters — with a stipulation that only Yugoslavs can make repairs — and the West Germans have constructed the building housing the press center.

After years of preparation and the spending of at least $50 million dollars, Sri Lanka — formerly Ceylon — is ready to play host to what is billed here as one of the largest-ever gatherings of world leaders: the fifth nonaligned summit conference.

Eighty-five countries, nearly two-thirds of the United Nations membership, are expected to be represented at the four-day summit, which begins Monday.

Estelle defends West Texas prison

By MARK BROWNING
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — A West Texas prison won't be "a camp in the wilds in the mesquite," Texas Department of Corrections director Jim Estelle told budget examiners Thursday.

Responding to examiners' questions about potential problems of a West Texas prison remote from other units, Estelle said, "There are civilized cities out there, too."

All other TDC facilities are located in Central East Texas, and Estelle acknowledged that some "logistical problems" would be caused by a West Texas unit. At the same time, though, benefits could be expected such as locating many prisoners closer to their homes and expanding cotton production, he said.

Would there be "significant logistical problems" caused by an isolated West Texas unit, David Klarer of the Governor's Budget Office asked.

"THE PROBLEM may be significant, but neither is it insurmountable," Estelle replied.

"But it may be un-fundable," Klarer said. Yesterday's budget hearing was the first formal step in a TDC request for two major new prison facilities. Budget examiners will review the proposal and make recommendations to the Legislature and Governor in the fall.

ESTELLE REPEATED past statements that inmate population is expected to top 30,000 in the early 1980s and said current facilities could hold a maximum of 22,500 by stretching resources to the utmost. Population is almost 21,000 now.

The TDC wants to build a new prison in West Texas at a minimum cost of $64 million and a "multi-treatment" facility at Sugarland for at least $72 million.

Estelle gave a graphic example of overcrowding and understaffing to the budget examiners. The TDC director said he visited the Coffield Unit near Palestine on a recent Sunday afternoon and found senior guards filling in for lower-ranking officers during lunch breaks. Estelle inquired further and found only 19 security personnel on hand to watch 1,500 inmates and a number of visitors.

"AT ATTICA, they took 43 hostages," Estelle said. "They couldn't have gotten 43 hostages at the Coffield Unit if they wanted to."

Estelle listed an increased staff as a priority along with the new prison units. Among security personnel, the TDC inmate-staff ratio is 12 to 1 compared to a national average of 5 to 1. Requested funds would reduce the ratio to between 10 and 11 to 1. A 12 to 1 ratio is "dangerous, extremely dangerous," Estelle said.

Estelle repeatedly told examiners that his budget reflects "catch up" measures, not an attempt to attain ideal conditions. The current population increase must be taken care of before objectives such as single inmate cells can be reached. "I don't see it as an achievable goal in the near future," Estelle said.

THE PROPOSED new facilities would add a total of 4,875 beds to the prison system. The West Texas unit, which would hold 2,000, is given top priority over the Sugarland facility, which is designed to take care of many medical services to prisoners.

The two are intended to be a package, though, Estelle said, and priorities were assigned only because the state budget formula requires it.

A West Texas location is desirable for several reasons, including cotton production and proximity to families, Estelle said. West Texas land that is properly irrigated is better suited for cotton than East Texas, Estelle said.

Bond issue passes, merger nixed by voters

A two-part bond election passed overwhelmingly in Borden County, while the proposition to consolidate the Borden and Fluvanna School Districts was nixed by Fluvanna voters.

The first section of the bond election, which was passed by a vote of 182 to 69, will permit the district to exceed $1.50 per $100 value in maintenance taxes.

The second part of the election will permit the district to sell $1 million worth of bonds. A vote of 184 to 67 was recorded in favor of the bond sale.

Borden County voters approved of consolidation by a vote of 206 to 40. Fluvanna voters apparently felt differently, defeating the proposition with 137 no votes to 62 votes favoring it.

Members of Chapter 47 of the Disabled American Veterans and their auxiliary will conduct their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the VFW Post home on Driver Road.

All disabled veterans in Howard County and Stanton, as well as those in towns immediately east of Big Spring, are invited to be in attendance.

DAV members are uniting in efforts to stop legislation which would reduce or eliminate their pensions and medical care.

PRISONS DEPEND on cotton for clothing, towels and bed linens, and need more acreage for it than is available now, he said. East Texas sites were originally chosen because "that's where the population started and that's where the tillable land was."

"One hundred years ago, if you thought of raising anything but longhorn cattle in West Texas, it was inconceivable," Estelle said. Now, "I think you need to take into account the cultural and socio-economic differences in our state."

Forgery plea nets probation

Richard L. Robertson, 29, 1908 Nolan St., was granted probation Friday for forgery but was ordered to pay $1,418 for worthless checks the same day.

James Earl Ray changes prisons

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Convicted assassin James Earl Ray has been moved from the main prison here to Brushy Mountain State Prison in East Tennessee, Correction Commissioner C. Murray Henderson said Saturday.

Ray, serving a 99-year prison term for the 1968 assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was among 450 prisoners scheduled for transfer to the Petros, Tenn., prison beginning Monday.

Henderson said Ray was moved by himself in the pre-dawn hours Saturday as a security measure.

The commissioner said Ray will be living with the general inmate population at Brushy Mountain as he had been at the main prison in recent months.

Ray, who had been working in the main prison's laundry, has not been given a job at Brushy Mountain, the commissioner said.

pressed concern that TDC transportation costs would increase greatly because a West Texas prison would be far from existing units. But Estelle replied that problems exist now with taking prisoners from West Texas to East Texas prisons.

Ector schools slash budget

ODESSA — Trustees in the Ector County Independent School District have approved a $30.3 million budget for the 1976-77 school year after ordering $5,000,000 in yet undetermined cuts from the administration's proposal.

The budget will be financed by a new tax rate of $1.4075 per $100 valuation, which is assessed on 75 percent of market value.

The trustees left the cuts up to School Supt. Bill Holm. Money for a proposed site for a junior high school, located in the western part of the city, likely will be deleted from the budget.

Under the proposed budget, Holm's salary will go to $33,892 annually. Other administrators will be raised accordingly.

Youth hurt jumping White House fence

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young man who authorities said had made the jump three times before stabbed his leg on a protective spike as he tried to scale the White House fence again Saturday.

Henderson said Ray was moved by himself in the pre-dawn hours Saturday as a security measure.

The commissioner said Ray will be living with the general inmate population at Brushy Mountain as he had been at the main prison in recent months.

Ray, who had been working in the main prison's laundry, has not been given a job at Brushy Mountain, the commissioner said.

In his previous attempts to enter the White House grounds, Gainous said he was trying to gain a presidential pardon for his father, a 21-year Air Force veteran who is serving a 10-year sentence in Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary for conspiring to import heroin.

Warner did not indicate whether Gainous offered any reason Saturday.

"If Nixon could get a pardon, my father should get one also," Gainous said during a previous attempt to see President Ford.

Police beat Vandals, thieves shatter windows

Vandals blew out a local office door with a shotgun Friday night.

The manager of Berkley Homes Inc., 11th Place, reported that vandals had destroyed the door of his office, a show window and the glass partition above the door, sometime between 9:30 p.m. Friday and 5 a.m. Saturday.

Police determined that the damage had been done with a shotgun of unidentified gauge. Five pellets were also found embedded in a wooden wall panel inside the office.

The vandals left the scene without entering the office, but the damage they caused was estimated at $502.

Burglars knocked out a plate-glass window at the Fast Gas Service Station on 18th and Gregg, and ransacked the inside, sometime between 11 p.m. Friday and 6:35 a.m. Saturday.

Stolen were 144 packs of cigarettes, 48 cans of beer and 8 packages of candy. Damages and loss of merchandise totaled $240.

Police had trouble when they interceded in a fight between two brothers at a local drive-in Saturday.

Officers John Burson, Dusty Choate and Robert Sims reported to the scene while on patrol, and immediately arrested one of the brothers.

According to reports, after being arrested, the brother "tried to get away by fighting with (Choate) and Officer Sims. The subject had to be forced into the patrol car by (Choate) grabbing his head, and Sims grabbing his feet, and pushing him into the back seat."

The man was arrested for his Field Operations Division during the month of July revealed an all-time, one-month high of $18.3 million in additional revenue owed the state.

Bullock said field audits alone totaled $15 million for the month — compared to $18.6 million for the entire calendar year 1974.

In-state audits during July totaled $11.7 million, while audits of out-of-state firms totaled $3.3 million, said the Comptroller.

"Investing in a sound, aggressive audit program is better than hitting it lucky on the stock market," said Bullock.

The Comptroller said field audits and enforcement officer desk examinations have turned up $88.6 million during fiscal 1976 so far, exclusive of field collections.

Raquel wants musical role

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Actress Raquel Welch, here to star in Richard Fleischer's film version of the Mark Twain classic "The Prince and the Pauper," said Saturday she would like to do a movie musical.

Miss Welch has appeared in 28 films, generally cast as a sex symbol.

"It is now difficult not to be treated as such," she said. "I feel I have mostly been improving with every new film."

She said she would like to retire from films "within 10 years," settle down in Mexico or France and enjoy her family.

Reunion long overdue

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — After a decade in South Vietnam, Ford Wilder Thomason returned home this month to a reunion with the father he hasn't seen in 35 years.

Thomason, 57, was one of several dozen Americans left behind when Saigon was evacuated before the Communists took over. A mechanic who worked in a variety of American-owned power plants in South Vietnam, he lived for the past 16 months in a cramped apartment shared with four children and two other adults.

He finally was able to leave the country — but without his Vietnamese wife and adopted son — on Aug. 8.

He arrived here last Saturday to live with his daughter and her family. This week he received a telephone call from his 82-year-old father, whom he had thought was dead. Thomason said he left his home in his late teens and lost contact with his father, Al Thomason of Santa Rosa. A family reunion is planned soon.

President signs energy bill boosting gas prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford signed into law Saturday a major energy bill that will boost gasoline prices up to one-half cent a gallon and provide $2 billion in long-term guarantees to encourage energy-saving efforts by large users.

The new law also extends the life of the Federal Energy Administration for 17 more months, until Dec. 31, 1977.

It provides a variety of incentives to produce more domestic oil, including the lifting of crude-oil price controls from wells producing less than 10 barrels of oil a day.

Such "stripper" wells account for about 15 per cent of the nation's oil production, and the incentives translate into $1 billion a year added to the price consumers pay for domestic oil products, according to congressional energy specialists.

The specialists said that in the case of gasoline, this will account for an increase for consumers of about one-half cent a gallon.

Stripper well production had been free from federal price controls prior to enactment of an energy law last December.

The exemption contained in the new law allows stripper well prices to climb from $11.63 to roughly $13.18 a barrel.

The new law also provides incentives for energy conservation in industry and homes, such as:

—Up to $2 billion in federal loan guarantees to small businesses, universities, hospitals, local governments and others to install energy-saving equipment, with a limit of $5 million per applicant.

—A three-year, $200 million program of grants to help low-income families insulate their homes.

—A three-year, $200 million demonstration program to encourage other home owners to insulate their homes to save fuel.

—Some $105 million for state conservation grants to give owners of homes and other buildings information about energy-saving methods.

The bill started out as a simple extension of the life of the Federal Energy Administration but as it made its way through Congress a number of energy conservation measures, some of them part of the President's conservation program, were added.

Carter names campaign regional coordinators

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — A former executive assistant to Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and a former coordinator of Sen. Frank Church's presidential push are among regional coordinators named Saturday for the Democratic ticket of Jimmy Carter and Sen. Walter Mondale.

The names were announced by Tim Kraft, national director of field operations for the Carter-Mondale campaign, during a briefing for newsmen here.

Regional coordinators included:

Malcolm Dade, 45, former executive assistant to Young, to coordinate Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

Joe McCarter, who coordinated Church's campaign in the Nebraska primary, to coordinate Idaho, Wyoming, Montana and Utah.

Chris Brown, 27, formerly chief of staff for New Mexico Gov. Jerry Apodaca, to coordinate California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska and Hawaii.

Arvonne Fraser, wife of U.S. Rep. Donald M. Fraser of Minnesota, to coordinate Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

David Hales, 33, coordinator for Oklahoma and Texas during Carter's primary campaign, to coordinate North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Diana Rock, 29, former legislative representative for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), to coordinate Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Mary Scheckelhoff, 29, former legislative representative for AFSCME, to coordinate Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York.

Charlotte Wilmer, a former member of the staffs of U.S. Reps. John Breaux and Edwin Edwards of Louisiana, and Ken Hechler of West Virginia, to coordinate Maryland, Washington, D.C., West Virginia and Delaware.

Phil Wise, 25, a native of Plains, Ga., and Carter coordinator during primary campaigns in Florida, Wisconsin, Maryland and New Jersey, to coordinate Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia, Louisiana, Kentucky, Florida, North and South Carolina and Arkansas.

One other coordinator is still to be named, Kraft indicated.

Allergy drug mistake could kill

FDA recalling potentially lethal drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time this week, the Food and Drug Administration is urgently recalling a prescription drug that could be lethal. Two of the drugs were involved in labeling mixups and the third was found to be unexpectedly dangerous. More than 29,000 bottles of pyribenzamine hydrochloride, an antihistamine prescribed for allergies, are being pulled off the market because some may mistakenly contain the powerful stimulant Ritalin. The FDA said it could prove fatal if a patient accidentally took Ritalin at the maximum dosage recommended on the antihistamine bottle's label. To date, no injuries have been associated with the mixup.

The bottles containing a total of 2.9 million tablets were distributed east of the Rocky Mountains between Jan. 16 and April 4. The manufacturer, Ciba Pharmaceutical Co. of Summit, N.J., is alerting the nation's doctors and pharmacists of the recall.

The Pyribenzamine tablets are light blue and scored so that they can be split in half.

The mixup could be fatal to a heart patient who took the wrong drug for several weeks, the FDA said, but no injuries have been reported.

The Cooper drugs were distributed east of the Rocky Mountains between March 26 and 29. The manufacturer is alerting doctors, pharmacies, hospitals and other health professionals, asking them to return supplies coded R60978 and to notify patients.

The third recall, listed as a public warning because of imminent hazard, involved the drug Triazure taken by patients suffering from extremely severe cases of the skin disease psoriasis.

The FDA said the drug causes blood clots in the veins and arteries, and has been associated with one death, one patient whose leg had to be amputated, and six other injuries of varying degrees of severity.

The manufacturer, Parke, Davis & Co., agreed to remove Triazure from the market, recall all existing supplies, alert doctors and pharmacists, and advise doctors to monitor patients closely for the next month after Triazure therapy has been discontinued.

Cap Rock gets REA loan

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Omar Burleson announces the approval of a $1,744,000 REA loan to the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc. with headquarters at Stanton, serving Borden, Howard, Dawson, Martin, Andrews, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Irion, Reagan, Sterling, Tom Green and Upton Counties.

Purpose of the loan is to finance service for 633 additional consumers; to finance 153 miles of distribution line; and to finance system improvements.

30,000 evacuated when Caribbean volcano erupts

POINTE-A-PITRE, Guadeloupe (AP) — More than 30,000 residents of this Caribbean island were ordered to leave their homes Saturday after eruptions of the Loufriere volcano worsened on this French island in the Caribbean. Authorities have already evacuated the villages of saint-Claude and Baillif.

When La Soufriere — French for sulfur mine — began acting in early July thousands of persons fled from their homes to escape the foul-smelling gases, steam, mud and showers of ash.

An estimated 25,000 people left or were evacuated from the volcano zone in the two days following its first outburst in 20 years. But within a week most had returned, apparently calling the volcano's bluff. One man said, "Soufriere is like one of the family."

Generally the island's residents do not view the volcano as a serious threat. Guadeloupe's elite have built lavish homes around it, preferring the cool mountain air of La Soufriere to the humid heat of Point-A-Pitre, the island's capital.

On Thursday, however, the 4,869-foot mountain with the blast furnace on top increased its rumblings, leading to the current evacuations. French authorities reported 193 tremors on Friday and 52 Saturday morning.

Military Col. Gannaway assumes Webb duties shortly

Col. Jay T. Gannaway will arrive the latter part of this month to assume duties as Deputy Commander for Operations at Webb AFB.

He recently returned from Diyarbakir, Turkey, where he served as commander of the United States Logistic Group (TUSLOG) Detachment 8, a space track site. Colonel Gannaway is replacing Col. Robert A. Meisenheimer who will become vice commander for the Air Force Technical Applications Center, Patrick AFB, Fla.

A native Oklahoman, Gannaway served with the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon from July 1972 to August 1975. First he was chief of the Control Division then became the executive secretary of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

COL. J. T. GANNAWAY Gannaway's wife, Charlotte, and two of their children, Kerry and Karolyn, will accompany him to Webb. Another son and daughter, Keith and Kathrine are married.

Energy NRC curtails nuclear plant works

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission says it is sharply curtailing operations at new nuclear power plants and banning further plant construction until it re-evaluates environmental dangers posed by fuel reprocessing and handling of atomic wastes.

While the NRC action will not affect those nuclear plants already producing electricity, it places a moratorium on new construction and limits newly constructed plants to producing only 1 per cent of their capacity.

If its study finds that present rules inadequately deal with fuel reprocessing and waste disposal, new regulations will be drafted for the nation's 59 nuclear plants licensed for full operation, an NRC spokesman said.

The action announced Friday by Bernard Rusch, director of the NRC's Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, is in response to a pair of U.S. Court of Appeals decisions last July 21 saying the commission didn't pay enough attention to environmental issues in granting licenses to plants in Vermont and Michigan.

"The whole area of fuel reprocessing and waste management has been looked at for the last few years, and we have accumulated a lot of information since those cases in 1973 and '74," an NRC spokesman said.

"That's why we think we can compile the information in a relatively short time and come up with the answers — whether or not we need a new set of regulations."

Peter Strauss, NRC general counsel, said during Friday's news briefing that the commission had begun examining its regulations when the court ruled. "We did start the review some time ago, but we didn't start it in the particular form that the court of appeals called for," he said.

The two cases involved an operating license for the Vermont Yankee Power Corp. plant at Vernon, Vt., and a construction license for Consumer Power Co.'s Midland, Mich., station.

Austin voters decide city's share in plant

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin residents voted for the third time Saturday on the city's role in the controversial South Texas Nuclear Project.

Only about one-fifth of the city's 151,110 registered voters were expected to vote on whether Austin should sell its 16 per cent share of the Matagorda County nuclear plant.

In 1972 voters rejected participation in the project, even though the city council favored it. In 1973 voters — apparently worried about the energy shortage — approved taking part in the project.

The new proposition was to authorize the council to sell the local share of the project for enough to recover an estimated $55 million that the city will have put into the project by the time the local share could be sold.

Opponents of the project have contended it costs too much and question the availability of uranium to fuel the plant. Supporters have argued it will provide a cheaper source of energy.

Councilman Lowell Lebermann predicted consumers would pay 19 per cent less in utility bills in the first 10 years the plant is in operation if Austin remained a partner.

The nuclear plant is being built near Bay City on the Gulf Coast and is expected to begin producing power in 1981.

It was started as a joint effort by Austin, San Antonio, Houston Lighting & Power Co. and Central Power & Light Co. of Corpus Christi.

Houston Lighting & Power said the plant would be built regardless of Austin's action. Tentative proposals to buy Austin's 16 per cent share were made by the Lower Colorado River Authority and Central Southwest Corp., parent company of Central Power & Light.

Blast victims 'never had a chance'

CHALMETTE, La. (AP) — "Them boys never had a chance," said an eyewitness to an explosion which killed 12 men inside a Tenneco Oil refinery cracking tower.

The men were doing maintenance work inside the 30-story-tall unit when it was shaken by an explosion and flash fire Thursday.

Seven others were seriously injured, most with body and lung burns. "One of our boys came out of there and said he smelled gas," said boilermaker Arthur Miller. "He didn't get finished telling us and it blew."

Miller said there is usually a faint odor of gas inside such a facility, no matter how long it has been shut down, but "in this vessel it got strong and he came out."

The tower, 207 feet tall and 16 feet in diameter, had been shut down and aired out before the repair work started.

The blast smashed 160 of the 200 horizontal steel partitions in the tower, which separates heated crude oil into various petroleum products. Men working in the narrow spaces between partitions were mangled. Workers at the bottom received severe burns.

Ten of the dead were employees of Delta Field Erecton Co., a Baton Rouge firm specializing in refinery repair and maintenance work. The other two were Tenneco employees.

Miller, who worked with the Delta crew, was outside at the time of the explosion.

Things sometimes go wrong

Sometimes things just seem to go wrong in the newspaper business. I've been going through a period when everything about this column turned to dust instead of gold.

For example: Did last Thursday's "Publisher's Corner" look familiar? If it did, it might be because you had read it already in Tuesday's newspaper.

I DON'T really have the space here to explain to you how something like that can happen, but it does. It makes me very red-faced for a few days, so I have to slip up and down the alleys rather than walk on the sidewalk where people can chunk vegetables at me.

Another thing that has happened to this column is that the "morgue" system at the Herald broke down. The "morgue" of a newspaper is not where our dead bodies are kept. The "morgue" is newspaper slang for our filing system for pictures and biographical information of people. Twice recently this column has been about well-known people in the community, and it has included a photograph of them.

J. TOM GRAHAM

Unfortunately, instead of running our more current photograph of the two, we have somehow dug back and picked up pictures that were a number of years out of date. A goodly number of years out of date to be more specific.

Now I suppose there is some readership interest in what our prominent citizens looked like years ago, but that was not what the columns intended to show. Both persons involved are too big a person to complain.

BUT ONE fellow in town wasn't. He said to me: "Don't you know it's not polite to point out how young people once looked? Why don't you publish an old photograph of yourself?" He is right, so I am in this column inflicting the punishment of a 20-year-old picture on myself. Yes, that's me when I was young enough to be trusted by a teenager.

And if all that wasn't enough, Postmaster Frank Hardesty phoned to tell me that I had confused the Cong. Charles Wilson, a Democrat from California, with Cong. Charles Wilson, a Democrat from Texas, in the article that ran not once but twice. Hardesty is much more politically astute than I am, so I know he is right. I didn't even know there were two Cong. Charles Wilsons.

I wish there were two J. Tom Graham. I'd blame last week's columns on the other one. — J. TOM GRAHAM

Which goes to prove the old saying:

Toys for shah

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The State Department makes everyone write an essay when he or she comes back from vacation. Here is the one Henry Kissinger wrote.

"I went to Iran on my summer vacation. I met a new friend named Shah. He is a very nice person and we had a lot of fun together in his palace. Shah likes to play with missiles and airplanes and specially fitted destroyers and tanks and guns and toys like that.

"HE ASKED me if there were any toys we had in America that he didn't have. I said we had a lot of toys that he would love and he said he would like to buy some.

"Shah has a very big allowance and he said he would give me $10 billion if I would send him some new toys when I got back home. I told him it would be no problem and all he had to do was give me a list of what he wanted and I would go to the toy store in the Pentagon and buy them for him.

"He seemed very happy because he said that if he couldn't buy the toys in America he was going to buy them some place else. I told him America makes the best toys there are and they are all brand-new and they can do things no foreign toys could duplicate. Some of them had lasers and others were controlled electronically and still others had heat-seeking devices on them that could blow other people's toys to bits.

"He got very excited and said maybe he should buy $15 billion worth of toys instead of $10 billion.

"I told him that was a very good idea. I described a new American toy airplane called the F-18 fighter and another called the F-18. They were so new that American kids didn't even have them yet. He liked that and said he would buy as many of them as I could get my hands on. Then he asked me if there were any new toy ships that would be coming out for Christmas.

"I TOLD HIM about a guided missile attack frigate that could fire 20 missiles at one time in 20 different directions. His eyes lit up and he made me promise I would send him a dozen of them as soon as they were available.

"He also told me how much he loved submarines and I said he would go nuts over the submarine toys that had just been designed. They could stay underwater for months at a time. He got so excited that he bought me an ice-cream soda.

"Then he asked me if I could get him 25 nuclear energy plants for his playground. I said that they were considered dangerous toys and the stores couldn't sell them to him unless they could control the waste material that the plants made, because if it got into the wrong hands it could hurt somebody.

"He got very angry at this and said he didn't want to play with me any more if he couldn't have the waste material for himself.

"I TOLD HIM I would try to work something out if he promised to be very careful of the waste material and not tell anybody what he was going to do with it. He apologized for getting mad and said he would probably buy another $5 billion worth of toys next year and another $5 billion the year after.

"I never saw a kid who had so much money to buy toys in my life. We had a swell dinner and the next morning as I left he gave me a World War II collection of bubble gum cards as a going-away present. I thought that was real nice of him because I really hadn't done anything to deserve it. I like buying toys for other people. It makes me feel I've done something to earn my vacation."

'Overbreathing' creates problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor says I have hypoventilation. It is mighty uncomfortable. Could it be caused by a hiatal hernia? I breathe into a paper bag, but it doesn't seem to help. — T. Y.

Are you sure your doctor said "hypoventilation"? I suspect he said "hyperventilation." The paper bag trick is for the "hyper" state.

It's simpler to discard those two terms, anyway. Let's call the "hyper" state overbreathing and the "hypo" state underbreathing.

In a way you have to visualize the body as a chemical furnace. Through the lungs it rids itself of excess carbon dioxide while it takes on a fresh supply of oxygen from the outside air. If you overbreathe (as in vigorous activity), there is too much carbon dioxide leaving. The body needs some of it, so rebreathing your breath from a paper bag helps put it back. If you underbreathe, there is too little carbon dioxide leaving, thus a build-up in the body. You can see that breathing from the paper bag would only worsen this imbalance and return more unwanted carbon dioxide into the body.

The central nervous system normally controls these functions. Overbreathing is followed by underbreathing and the oxygen-carbon dioxide balance is maintained without our realizing it.

The hiatal hernia (in the esophagus) is not normally associated with either state. It might be a factor if it were serious enough to cause anxiety. In view of your mix-up of terms, you had better discuss the whole matter again with your physician.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My problem started when I was 12. About once or twice a year I get terribly itchy inside and around the vagina. I have used the creams and vaginal pills, but nothing really works. I have had it during pregnancies and at menstruation, and now, a month after a D and C, doctors tell me it is yeast. If that is what is wrong, tell me where this comes from and how to cure it. — Mrs. S. L.

Yeast is a fungus, a one-celled organism that can grow only where the environment is just right for it. Why, then, should it grow in the vagina and cause so many women so many agonizing episodes? It is because the state of the vaginal membranes has undergone a change that allows it. This can result, for example, from use of antibiotics. Such drugs can "overkill" certain natural bacteria which are important to the health of the membranes, and in turn encourage the growth of the fungus. The same can happen with the birth control pill.

A fungus called "candidiasis" (or thrush) is a common culprit. This can be treated by application of Nystatin. A vaginal smear would identify the specific organism present.

Don't overlook synthetic fabric (panty hose) or a scented soap as causes of itching. Also, if you are using an anti-fungal agent you may have to continue its use after the itching subsides to do a complete job. You may find my new booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment," a further interest. For a copy send 25 cents to me in care of The Herald with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm a middle-aged woman with a heart condition. How safe is it to have electrolysis for removal of superfluous hair on the face? — Mrs. C. F.

I can't imagine any bad effects on the heart from having electrolysis done. Have it done if you wish to.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would appreciate your opinion on whether sex relations will improve health in any way. Also if it is harmful for people past 70 if in good health. — J. R.

Sex relations have little effect on health either way.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you please give me some information on where to get silicone shots to increase my bosom? — P.L.K.

There are no "shots" to do this. They are illegal in most countries. In the legally permissible form of surgery, the plastic surgeon places a silicone envelope under the breast muscle, raising the existing breast tissue. But illegal silicone injections pose the potential danger of shifting position and causing foreign body reaction, including serious infection.

To find out what causes high blood pressure and what can be done to treat it, send for a copy of "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)" by Dr. Thosteson. Write to him in care of the Big Spring, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: I guess you are surprised to be getting a letter from an unknown all the way from Va. We are Texans but the Civil Service transferred us here nearly 2 years ago from Ft. Hood in central Texas. Killen is our home.

The reason I'm writing is because a city in Virginia went and has been going through the same thing your city is going through now — the closing of a military base. About 3 years ago the army wanted to close Ft. Monroe in Hampton Va. The people of the town and post got together and really went to bat to keep the post open. They flooded the President, their Congressmen, and the military with letters to keep the post open and the huge impact on the economy of the area if it was closed.

Well for 3 years the post has stayed open and the announcing lately of all the military bases and posts that were to be closed, Ft. Monroe was on the list again. So far it is still open and going strong. The mayor and business men of the town started it all. I'm sure you all have been busy trying to keep Webb AF Base open but I thought I would let you know about another town that wouldn't go down without a fight. They would hang signs in the store windows and everywhere saying "We love Ft. Monroe. Help us keep it!" They had them on bumper stickers. It may have cost a little and they knew they were taking a risk but it certainly has paid off for them.

I wish you all the good luck there is. I've written to the President and Senator Tower. Being close to DC we go there when we can and sit in the

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

Spying at Olympics

WASHINGTON — Communist countries won most of the gold medals at the 1976 Olympics. In an earlier column, we told how they did it. They train athletes from childhood to become Olympic stars.

We charged that most Communist countries subsidize their athletes, providing special luxuries for those who perform best. The training and indoctrination is so intensive that the sport becomes their main occupation. Thus, the Communist regimes send professional athletes to the Olympics to compete against amateurs from other lands.

THIS DOESN'T seem to trouble the Olympic authorities, who actually enforce the double standard. Any American athlete who accepts a subsidy, for example, is classified as a professional and is barred from the games.

Not only the athletes but the secret police are trained for the Olympics in the Communist world. Confidential intelligence sources indicate that the training is every bit as rigorous for the gumshoes as for the performers.

In Russia, the Olympics security force are drawn from both the First Chief Directorate and the Second Chief Directorate of the dreaded KGB.

The First Directorate corresponds roughly to the Central Intelligence Agency. Its principal duty was to check out anti-Soviet elements, such as the Ukrainian separatists and the Jewish Defense League, who might try to harm the Soviet athletes.

But the Olympics also provided the KGB with an excellent cover for espionage sessions in Montreal. Top agents of the First Directorate were able to enter the country, no questions asked, as part of the Soviet Olympics delegation. The games also made it easy for agents throughout North America to travel to Montreal. They were able to move unnoticed in the crowds.

While the athletes competed in the stadium, the agents compared notes in the backrooms. One source described the occasion as sort of an "old home week" for spies.

The Second Directorate, whose functions are somewhat similar to those of the FBI, was responsible for preventing defections. For months before the Olympics, according to reliable intelligence, the faceless men of the Second Directorate sifted through the records of the Soviet athletes.

Those who drank too much or who had a weakness for strange women were either eliminated or placed under special watch. Past statements of the athletes were checked for any hint of antagonism against the regime. A network of informers was developed within the Olympics delegation to report on the athletes.

The agents themselves infiltrated the delegation. Intelligence sources estimate that at least one but often two KGB agents accompanied every Soviet sporting team. At a previous Olympics, FBI and CIA specialists spotted seven middle-level KGB agents posing as delegation members.

THE AGENTS actually accompanied their charges on shopping trips, sightseeing tours and dinner engagements at restaurants outside Olympic Village. The agents also mingled with their athletes when they met socially with performers from other countries. The effect was a disconcerting sameness in the conversation of Communist athletes.

As a result of the strict surveillance, only 17-year-old diver Sergei Nemtsanov defected.

The only other goof was the discovery that Boris Onischenko, a Soviet fencing master, used an electronic device to cheat in his epee match. When he triggered a button in the sword's grip, it scored a hit for him.

CONGRESSIONAL LOOPHOLE: A 1968 law, enacted by Congress itself, requires House members and their principal assistants to report their financial holdings. The purpose is to prevent conflicts of interest. The assistants are included because they influence legislation.

Back to school screening set

On Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will offer its third annual back to school screening program for the children of Big Spring and surrounding communities.

The screening program is designed to detect existing or potential problems in the following areas: posture, speech, hearing, visual perception, and fine gross and motor activities.

In addition a dental check will be offered by Dr. John Key. Wilfrid M. Calnan, director of Howard County Family Service Center will offer social adjustment evaluations of the children, and visual check will be offered by Dr. P.W. Malone of Malone and Hogan Clinic.

All parents who wish to take advantage of the visual check should have their children at the center before 12:00 noon. All of these areas are of the utmost importance if a child is to perform well in school.

"We may find potential problems that could conceivably go undetected. The program is open to children of any age. It is not restricted," said Jack Davis, director of the rehabilitation center.

In addition to professional volunteers, the Big Spring Jaycees will offer their services to the project.

"We will give as much help as possible with organization, supervising the kids and just about anywhere we are needed. This is one of our favorite projects," said Louie Smith, local Jaycee.

The cost element is another important factor in considering whether to send a child to be screened, according to Davis. All screenings will be administered by qualified and registered personnel who will work on a voluntary basis.

"The cost to my staff alone will be $50 to $60 per child. This does not include the visual or dental check. But the screening will only cost the parent $5," said the director.

During a recent screening, 52 children were screened between the ages of 5 and 13, and of those, 43 were found to have problems in one or more areas. Appointments may be made by phone or at the center on the day of the screening.

A charge of $5.00 a child (or 3 in the same family for $12.00) will be assessed. Total time for screening in all areas should be approximately 30 to 40 minutes.

Motor home fire ends vacation for pair

Plans for an extended vacation were thwarted Friday morning for Mr. and Mrs. Veris Smith and Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Schriver when their motor home caught fire and burned.

Both couples expressed their appreciation for the help many Big Spring citizens gave them when their motor home caught fire. The group thanked the CB's React Club, for carrying them around town, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Johansen, for providing a lunch.

Both couples are from Austin, and had spent the night in the Comanche Trail Park campground.

The fire "guttered the motor home from front to rear," said Smith.

"If this had to happen anywhere, Big Spring was the best place it could have happened," said Schriver.

Farm New food stamp rules okayed

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The House Agriculture Committee has approved by a 21 to 19 vote a Food Stamp bill designed to eliminate fraud and abuse in the program, simplify its administration and increase benefits for lowest income families while removing others from eligible lists.

Simplifies the certification process involved in determining household income. In addition, families with a horse show set at Sweetwater member over 65 or disabled will receive an additional $25 deduction, working families can deduct an additional $30 plus income and Social Security taxes, and child care expenses up to a maximum of $75.

While Connally's "public and private positions may not directly violate any conflict of interest statutes, his simultaneous duties as adviser and advocate contravene the spirit of public policy directed at intelligence community reform," said Harrington.

It is expected to lower existing program costs by about $100 million annually.

Chairman Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., said the legislation with an accompanying report is expected to be submitted to the House Rules Committee before Congress begins its Labor Day recess.

There will be trophies given first through sixth place in each event. All-around Belt Buckles will be given to high-point in each age group. Age groups are 12 and under, 13-17 and 18 and over. Age as of show day. This show is open to anyone who wishes to participate. The public is invited to attend for a day of enjoyment.

Several additional actions were taken to strengthen program administration and eliminate fraud.

Participation in the Food Stamp Program is currently around 17.8 million, a decline of 1.5 million from the peak levels reached in the spring of 1975.

There was no immediate comment from the White House.

Harrington wrote that, in February, "you affirmed your commitment to a comprehensive program of reform of the intelligence agencies to halt documented past abuses. As part of the broader effort at reform, you expanded the membership of the board and reappointed John Connally to it.

Farm markets

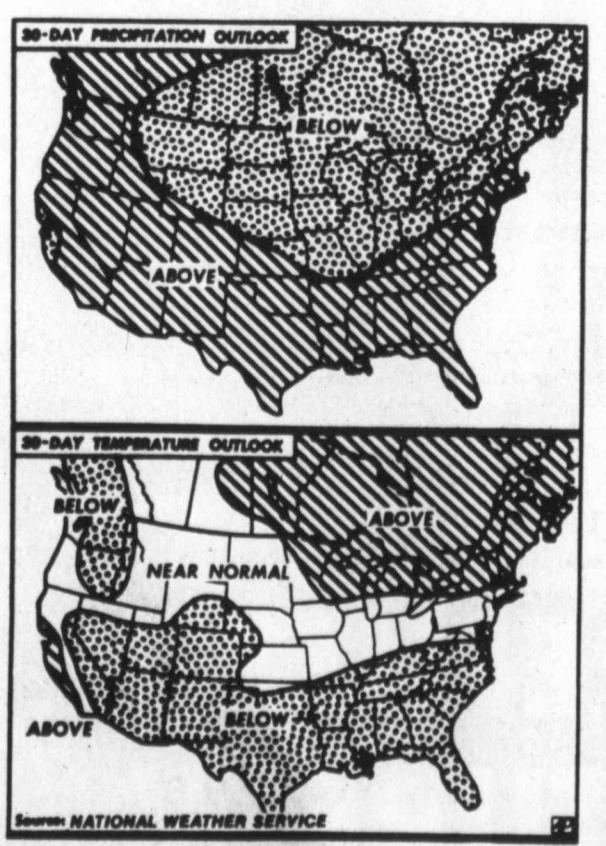

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of active cotton futures in the domestic market rose sharply this past week.

At the close Friday, No. 2 contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange were up 105 to 345 points, following advances of 127 points to declines of 90 points the week before.

Events for the day are halter, weaning and yearlings, all sexes and breeds, registered and grade mares, registered and grand geldings and stallions — all ages. Western pleasure, trail class, reining, barrels, flags, arena race (8 and under only) poles, goat tying. There will be jackpots after the show if interest permits.

A Kermit, Tex., firm (Permian Watch Co.) is coming out with a Jimmy Carter wrist watch, complete with a comic likeness of the Democratic presidential candidate.

One of the youngest of White's Inc., managers, no doubt, is Big Spring's Jerry Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Read of 1517 E. 17th St.

At the age of 22, he recently took over the stewardship of the Montgomery, Ala., store.

Originally committed to White's as a DE student here, Jerry later went to work full time with the firm following his graduation from high school and later was transferred to Tupelo, Miss. He moved from there to Montgomery.

He is married to the former Cindy Barham of Tahoka, Tex.

Look to the moral in this poem by Harold G. Sandall, and you'll probably be a better person than you were yesterday:

Love that is hoarded, moulds at last,
Until we know some day
The only thing we ever have
Is what we give away.
And kindness that is never used
But hidden all alone
Will slowly harden till it is
As hard as any stone.
It is the things we always hold
That we must lose some day.
The only things we ever keep
Are what we give away.

Natural gas, more so than petroleum or coal, is the energy source in greatest danger of extinction.
If natural gas continues to be used at its present rate of consumption, the world's proven reserves will last only 20 years.
Coal deposits, on the other hand, should last 500 years.

Local Jaycee on state speaker's bureau

The Texas Jaycees have announced the appointment of Perry Culwell of the Big Spring Jaycees to the Energy for Living Speaker's Bureau. This bureau is comprised of enlightened citizens concerned with community welfare and in particular with the energy crisis.

The Texas Jaycees have undertaken this educational project to demonstrate that by disseminating factual information, public understanding and intelligent participation can be gained in a concern to assure adequate energy to meet expanding requirements on an economical basis.

The purpose is to encourage conservation and to provide public information on energy to meet community requirements. With planning and operational support from cooperating agencies and technical specialists, the Texas Jaycees are conducting this education program to develop support and understanding for timely, appropriate action.

As part of this Speaker's Bureau, Mr. Culwell will participate in an effort to reach local audiences in Big Spring of business and professional men, women's clubs, consumer groups, students and religious organizations. The audio-visual presentation is available free to organizations wishing this service. Organizations interested in this interesting and enlightening presentation should contact Staff Director Betty Brooks at AC 214-262-1586 for scheduling.

Heat causes water problems at Lockney

LOCKNEY — Lack of water, or more properly the inability of the water mains to carry enough of it at peak periods of demand, has caused a curtailment of service here.

Lockney residents have been told not to use water for lawns and gardens until Tuesday so that more of it can be stored for emergency use.

Beginning Tuesday, residents living in odd-numbered houses are being asked to use outside water on odd-numbered days. Those living in even-numbered houses can use water on even-numbered days.

The situation will prevail throughout the remainder of the summer.

The crisis arose when the city's three pumps were putting water directly into the lines, bypassing storage, yet still not meeting demands.

Current pumping capacity is 700,000 gallons a day. Demands have been exceeding this.

Forsan student registration this week

FORSAN — Registration of new high school students at Forsan will take place from 1 to 4 p.m., Tuesday, high school principal Jack Woodley has announced.

Students who have been in school here and who will be seniors this fall will register from 8:30 a.m., until 12 noon Wednesday while juniors will sign in from 1:30 p.m., until 4 p.m., that same day.

Sophomores will register from 8:30 p.m., until 12 noon Thursday and freshmen from 1:30 p.m., until 4 p.m., and the same day.

A "get acquainted" party is scheduled on the school tennis courts starting at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, at which time ice cream will be served to students and friends of the schools. The Forsan Booster Club will serve the ice cream.

The swimming pool will remain open until 8:30 o'clock that evening.

Gospel concert starts Aug. 20

The annual Andrews Gospel Concert has been slated this year as a two-day event starting Aug. 20 and lasting through Aug. 21 at the Andrews County Civic Center.

The concert will feature amateur talent along with three professional groups including The Thrashers of Nashville, Good News of Amarillo, and Snider and Rhea of Dallas.

The Aug. 20 opening of the concert will start at 8 p.m. with an amateur contest. Entries are currently being taken at the Chamber of Commerce office (915-523-2695).

The following night, top winners in the amateur contest will perform with the professional groups, starting at 8 o'clock.

Tickets will be on sale at the door. Friday night tickets will cost $2 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under. Saturday night tickets will cost $3 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under.

All entries in the talent contest should be registered by Thursday, Aug. 19th at 5 p.m.

Carter aide wants Guest re-election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jimmy Carter campaign aide Frank Moore has asked Texas Democrats to stop fighting over the re-election bid of Calvin Guest of Bryan for state party chairman.

The Austin-American Statesman said Moore, deputy campaign director for southern states, wrote Texas delegates to the September state Democratic convention that Democrats could lose the November presidential election "through divisiveness and bickering."

"We sincerely hope," Moore said, "that internal differences can be resolved and minimized and that we can proceed to work on the election as a party united under the banner of Jimmy Carter."

"With this in mind," he added, "I urge you to unite behind the re-election of Calvin Guest as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee."

The American-Statesman quoted liberal leader Billie Carr of Houston, Democratic National Committeewoman, as saying, "I'm not sure but what this will hurt Guest's campaign more than it will help."

She said the letter will have no effect on liberal plans to "elect a chairman who is not tied hand and foot to the governor's office."

John Henry Tatum of Lufkin is campaigning for the job.

Travel trailer plant planned

BROWNWOOD — Sprouter Manufacturing Inc., has announced plans to build a travel trailer assembly plant here.

The plant will be constructed on a 26-acre site near the Brownwood Municipal Airport.

Production of the travel trailers likely will begin by January, although construction of the plant itself may take up to two years.

Initially, the firm will hire about 40 persons. Ultimately, up to 100 may be employed by the concern.

Drug abuse prevention seminar set by PBRPC

A community drug abuse prevention training seminar is to be conducted Oct. 4-8, at Prude Ranch in Fort Davis. Co-sponsored by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission Drug Abuse Advisory Committee and the Drug Abuse Division of Texas Department of Community Affairs, the training will be directed toward responsible civic-minded individuals who are in a position to effect changes in a community. Vic Rhoads, coordinator of drug abuse and alcoholism for the PBRPC, said fifty persons will be selected from over the 17-county region and will be taught skills and training in team building, communications, pharmacological and physiological aspects of drug abuse, values clarification, psychological aspects of drug abuse, family dynamics, and community dynamics. The goal of this training will be to develop skills that can be taken into each community to build teams that will have the capabilities to develop and implement drug abuse prevention programs in the communities as the needs arise.

The training will be conducted by Human Services Associates, Inc., of Norman, Okla. Headed by Dr. Rebecca R. Cohn, the training team includes ten professionals in drug education who have trained educators, military, law enforcement, counselors, and medical personnel.

Rhoads said interested individuals should contact their county judge or the planning commission for more information.

A SIGN OF DROUGHT — A London office worker views poster Thursday issued by the Water Board which are going up around Britain urging people to conserve water as the drought worsens. The government asked the National Water Council Wednesday to study Britain's water supplies because of the possibility of a dry winter.

Water demands up due to hot weather

Dry, hot August weather, in the wake of cool and wet weather in July, is stepping up the demands for water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Tuesday the system peaked for 1976 at 76,900,000 gallons, but if the trend continues, this could increase within the next week.

Donna's Rock shop opening

Big Spring's newest shop, Donna's Rock and Gem Shop, 1708 Gregg, will hold its formal opening on Monday.

The shop will offer a variety of items of interest to local rockhounds. Lapidary equipment by Raytech, as well as Findings and Dremel power tools will be featured.

For jewelry makers, the shop will display a selection of gems, turquoise, coral, silver hooks, beads, rough and polished stones and much more.

Opening day will serve as a time to get acquainted and register for door prizes. The management is anxious to help redesign out-of-date jewelry, or restring broken chokers and necklaces. For new pieces, the store offers "make it yourself kits" in many styles.

Gospel concert at East Fourth Baptist Church

Mary Lou Boggus of Corpus Christi, will be presented in a concert of gospel music at East Fourth St. Baptist Church Wednesday, Aug. 18, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

This will be her second concert at East Fourth St. Baptist Church. She has recorded a sacred album entitled "One Day At A Time" and has other albums forthcoming.

Revenues are reported down

Siboney Corporation reported revenues of $4,002,000 for the second quarter ended June 30, 1976, compared with revenues of $4,093,000 in the second quarter of 1975.

For the six months period ended June 30, 1976, revenues were $6,064,000, compared with $6,062,000 in 1975.

Net income figures were $74,000 for the second quarter and a loss of $141,000 for the first six months of 1976, compared with $135,000 for the second quarter and $18,000 for the first six months of 1975.

While the overall volume of sales for the first six months is almost identical to that for the same period in 1975, advances in some areas were more than offset by declines in others. The asphalt emulsion business has been experiencing a softening of prices with a resultant reduction in income. The company's educational equipment and supply business has been adversely affected by the suspension of school construction contracts in the City of New York, and a slowdown in sales that appears to be industry-wide.

Improvements in both of these areas are expected in the last six months of 1976.

Siboney is the parent firm of a Big Spring industry, GAMCO.

SACK GAINS BRONCOS 15 — Dallas Cowboys tackle Jethro Pugh sacks Denver Broncos quarterback Steve Ramsey in first period of game Saturday night in Texas Stadium. End Ed Jones (72) battles off tackle Claude Minor. The Cowboys were penalized 15 yards for illegal procedure.

Stranded leader clings to one-shot PGA edge

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Surprise leader Dr. Gil Morgan lost three strokes to par but clung with drowning desperation to a precarious, shrinking one-shot lead Saturday in the storm-interrupted, incomplete third round of the PGA National Championship.

Morgan, an obscure, non-practicing optometrist from Wewoka, Okla., was one of 24 players stranded by a violent thunderstorm that struck the Congressional Country Club course at 5:09 p.m., EDT, and forced a suspension of play just as the national television coverage was beginning on this, the last of the year's four major international golf championships.

A hour and seven minutes later, officials decreed the heavy rains had made the course unplayable. The players who failed to complete their rounds — and they included such challengers as Charles Coody, David Graham and defending champion Jack Nicklaus — will resume play from the point they were interrupted at 7:30 a.m., EDT, Sunday.

The final round of 18 holes will be played immediately afterward — weather permitting. More thundershowers are forecast.

The 29-year-old Morgan, who had a four-stroke lead when the day's play began in sweltering heat, lost three strokes to par over his first 11 holes of the third round. He was three under par for the tournament and playing the 12th hole when play was held up.

Coody, a former Masters champion who marks his play with an assortment of nervous mannerisms, had pulled to within one stroke. He was two under par after 13 holes. Graham, a slender Australian who won the rich Westchester Classic less than a month ago, was one under par after 15 holes.

Nicklaus, holder of a record 14 major professional championships and the pretourney pick to gain a record-matching fifth PGA title here, was three strokes off the pace. So were veteran Don January and young Tom Kite. All were at even par, Nicklaus through 13 holes, January and Kite through 12.

Steelers crush Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quarterback Terry Bradshaw passed for two touchdowns and set up a third Saturday night as the two-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers defeated the puncheon Washington Redskins 27-7 in a nationally televised National Football League exhibition game.

Bradshaw, taking advantage of two second quarter interceptions, set up a two-yard plunge by Rocky Bleier with a 22-yard pass to Lynn Swann, and then hit Swann with a 10-yard TD aerial, all within 1:53.

In the third period, Bradshaw culminated a 63-yard drive with a four-yard touchdown on a play-action pass to Randy Grossman.

The Steelers added another touchdown in the fourth period when quarterback Mike Kruczek, replacing Bradshaw, threw a seven-yard touchdown pass to Theo Bell after Pittsburgh took over the ball deep in Washington territory.

With 1:07 remaining in the game, Joe Theismann scooted around his own end on fourth down for Washington's lone score.

Bombers win two in state tourney

BROWNWOOD — The Big Spring Bombers won their first two games in the State Class A Fast Pitch Softball Tournament here whipping Waco 7-1 Friday night and Bryan 7-6 Saturday morning.

Jim Allen fanned nine and allowed just three hits to pick up the victory over Waco.

Herb Sorely and Joe Sharpnack each blasted solo homers for the Big Spring nine. Jimmy Roger was 2-for-3 and Roger Battle went 2-for-4.

Sam Kirby was the winning pitcher over Bryan. Freddy Koontz, Sharpnack and Jim Roger all went 2-for-3. One of Sharpnack's went for a two-bagger.

Bomber manager Cotton Mize was on the mound Saturday night as the Big Springers tried to chalk up their third straight victory versus Western Trailer of San Angelo.

Sex test for U. S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — All competitors entered in the women's division of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships will be required to undergo sex determination tests, the U.S. Tennis Association said Saturday.

The action stems from a bid by Renee Richards to compete as a woman in the Open which gets under way at Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 1. Before a sex change, Renee Richards was Dr. Richard Raskind, an ophthalmologist and a leading player in the men's 35-and-older category. Dr. Richards is 41 years old and stands 6-foot-2.

In a two-paragraph statement, the USTA said that "persons competing as women in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships will be required to undergo sex determination tests (sometimes referred to as the chromosome test) as used by the Olympics.

"While the USTA is sensitive to and respects the rights of individuals to live as they may choose, it believes that the entry into women's events at the U.S. Open, the leading international tennis tournament, of persons not genetically female would introduce an element of inequality and unfairness into the championships," the statement said.

As Dr. Richards, she won a women's singles tour-

Baugh, Post tied

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Sandra Post and Laura Baugh fired sub par rounds Saturday to lead the second round of the $50,000 Wheeling LPGA Classic by three shots.

Miss Post, boosted by a 30-foot birdie putt on the par-4 16th hole, shot the best round of the tournament — a 3-under-par 69 — for a two-round total of 141 entering Sunday's final round.

Miss Baugh, still looking for her first tour victory, fired her second straight sub-par round, a two-under 70 for her 141 total.

Connors dunks Dibbs

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors survived a sluggish start, then overpowered No. 5 Eddie Dibbs with an awesome array of backhand volleys Saturday night to win 6-4, 6-3 and advance to the semifinals of the $157,000

U.S. Clay Court tennis tournament.

Connors on Sunday will meet No. 6 Harold Solomon, who broke a personal jinx earlier Saturday and upset defending champion Manuel Orantes in three sets.

Pirates nip Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Mario Mendoza's double with two out in the ninth inning drove home Richie Hebner with the winning run Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied to defeat the Houston Astros 5-4.

With one out in the ninth and Houston leading 4-3, Dave Parker reached first on Rob Andrews' error. He scored the tying run on Hebner's double, then Hebner came home on Mendoza's bad-hop double off Houston reliever Gene Pentz, 3-3.

Dave Giusti, 3-3, picked up the victory with two scoreless innings in relief of John Candelaria and Bob Moose.

Broncos buck Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Quarterback Steve Ramsey, a part-time starter for five years, rifled two first half touchdown passes and Denver's stout defense smothered Dallas in the clutch Saturday in a 13-9 National Football League preseason victory over the Cowboys.

Ramsey, heir apparent to retired Charley Johnson, authored touchdown passes of 18 yards to tight end Riley Odoms and four yards to Haven Moses.

Efren Herrera's field goals of 26, 21, and 50 yards were the only way the sputtering Cowboys could dent Denver before 54,567 fans in saunlike Texas Stadium in 97-degree heat.

Denver is now 2-2 in preseason play, while the Cowboys are 0-3.

Ramsey went to work on Denver's third possession after Herrera's first field goal. The former North Texas State University product, playing for the first time as a professional in his hometown, lofted a third down-four yards to go strike to Odoms over the middle. Odoms made a leaping catch and romped uncontested into the end zone. Denver struck again in the second quarter after Steve Foley intercepted a Roger Staubach pass at the Bronco 43 yard line. Ramsey whipped a quick pass to Moses for the score after Moses had beaten rookie defensive back Aaron Kyle, Dallas' No. 1 draft choice.

Dallas rallied for two field goals in the third period, but could never get closer to the Denver goal line than the Bronco 12.

Linebacker Tom Jackson intercepted a pass from secondstring Cowboy quarterback Danny White late in the fourth period to beat back Dallas' final comeback attempt.

Ramsey played only the first half and finished with rather unimpressive statistics except for his two touchdown passes. He completed only three passes of 12 attempts for 37 yards.

Staubach, playing with a nine-stitch cut over his right eye inflicted in a training camp fight with the departed quarterback Clint Longley, completed 10 of 13 attempts for 90 yards.

Denver Coach John Ralston inserted John Hufnagel and Norris Weese into the lineup in the second half and both quarterbacks had difficulty penetrating the Cowboy defense.

Dallas middle linebacker Randy White gave the Cowboys an excellent opportunity to tie the score midway in the third period with Denver leading 13-6. White hit Hufnagel on a blitz and recovered the quarterback's fumble.

However, the Dallas drive bogged down and the Cowboys had to settle for Herrera's 50-yard field goal.

Dallas stormed to the Denver 30 yard line midway in the fourth period but on a fourth and two, halfback Charles Young dropped White's pass in the flat to end that threat.

White, playing because Longley was suspended after he left the Cowboy camp following the fight with Staubach, completed eight of 16 passes for 95 yards, but was intercepted once.

Dallas piled up big yardage between the 20 yard lines with a total offense of 308 to only 118 steps for the Broncos.

Csonka scores

Giants crush Oilers 30-14

HOUSTON (AP) — Larry Csonka and Larry Watkins scored on one-yard plunges and Jerry Golsteyn hit Jim Obradovich with a scoring pass in New York's 21-point second quarter Saturday night, leading the Giants to a 30-14 National Football League exhibition victory over the Houston Oilers.

The win pushed the Giants record to 2-1, while Houston suffered its third straight loss.

New York marched 59 yards on 12 plays on their second possession of the game with George Hunt's 36-yard field goal giving the Giants a 3-0 lead.

After Houston's offense failed to generate any momentum, New York's Gordon Bell returned a Leroy Clark punt 13 yards to the Houston 27. Seven plays later, Csonka plunged over from the one, making it 10-0.

Goldsteyn, taking over from starting quarterback Craig Morton after one quarter, led the Giants on a sustained drive on the next possession, eating up 46 yards on the ground against Houston, the AFC's leader against the rush in 1975.

Watkins ended the drive by bolting across from the one. The Giants tacked on their third touchdown of the quarter as Goldsteyn passed three yards to Obradovich. It culminated a 17-yard drive set up by Harry Carson's interception of a John Hadl pass.

Houston fought back in the third period behind quarterback Dan Pastorini. A pair of long touchdown passes, 50 yards to Ken Burrough and 61 yards to Billy Johnson, cut the score 24-14 midway through the third quarter.

Bell scored the Giants final tally on a 13-yard fourth quarter run.

Cubs strip LA

By The Associated Press

Ray Burris, 10-11, stopped Los Angeles on four hits in posting his sixth consecutive victory. George Mitterwald drove in both Cubs runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Rookie Nino Espinosa and Skip Lockwood combined to stop Cincinnati on seven hits. The Mets scored their runs in the first inning when Pat Zachry walked the first three batters, then allowed a sacrifice fly and a single by Roy Staiger.

Coach's lingo

By FRED BREWER

Football coaches come and football coaches go — oh, how they come and go — but, one thing remains constant, no matter what region or what type, high school, college or pro, and that's their lingo, jargon, whatever. No, I don't mean all that gibberish such as: slant-ins, tea-pot lanes, red-dogs, blitzing and hitting the creases. Shucks, all us football fans use those terms. I mean the terms coaches reserve for themselves — like "people."

Ask any football coach, "What's new?" And, you will get some version of the following: "We lost some good people last year." "We've got good people in the line." "We're short of people in the skill positions," etc.

Of course, this tradition isn't reserved just for football coaches. I heard a basketball coach, being interviewed on TV, use the term "people" more in three minutes than a census-taker does in 10 years.

There is one phrase containing "people" that is used by football fans, "He likes to hit people." Or, to be more lustful, "He loves to hit people."

I realize football players have to enjoy contact or they shouldn't be out there. As Duffy Dauraughty said when he coached Michigan State, "Dancing is a contact sport, football's collision sport."

But, I still think some people get carried away. A sportscaster describing one of Navy's linebackers, for instance, he gushed, "HE LOVES TO HIT PEOPLE."

He said it with such emphasis. Didn't know who was the sickest, he or the linebacker.

Skilled people

Mentioned above is another favorite term of coaches, "skill." According to Webster's it is defined thus: "The ability, coming from one's knowledge, practice, aptitude, etc., to do something well; competent, excellence in performance; expertness; dexterity."

Now, one would think that would cover any position — depending on the expertise of the player filling it. Ahah, but not by coaches. They reserve the term "skill" for backs and ends — I think (no coach has ever explained it to me thoroughly. I had to put it together bit-by-bit from the positions "people" played when they said they were "skilled").

One thing I am sure of, is that tackles aren't considered "skilled people."

While listening to Penn State coach Joe Paterno tell reporters about skill positions, I had a vision.

A 250-pound tackle walks over to Paterno, drapes his powerful arms around his shoulders and asks, "Duh, coach, what's a 'skill' position?"

"Uh... tackle, yes, tackle," says a nervous Paterno, "tackle's a real skilled position, played there myself."

Of course, I realize that little scene could never happen. One of Paterno's withering looks could stop a brontosaurus at 50 yards. An itty-bitty, 250-pound tackle wouldn't stand a chance.

Another position considered unskilled is guard — and that's strange. Paterno is one of a number of successful coaches who played guard. You'd think they would have more respect for their old position.

And, guards are so important, especially pulling guards. As great as Paul Hornung, Jim Brown, Leroy Kelly and Jimmy Taylor were, any able-bodied back could have gained a lot of yards behind those terrific pulling guards the old Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns had in the fifties and sixties.

They were such a thing of beauty, pulling out in unison and chopping down the opposition. Some say tears would come to Vince Lombardi's eyes when he watched his guards perform (not Paul Brown, it's rumored he had his tear ducts removed).

HOLE 8

410 YARDS FOR MEN
370 YARDS FOR WOMEN

Play this hole safe. Remember the leftward tilting fairway and try to get good position on your approach shot.

Par four, 410-yard hole eight's fairway has a gradual slope to the crest of a hill, about 200 yards from the tee, and then gradually slopes down to a flat green with a large tree on either side.

This is usually the toughest hole on the course. The fairway is tilted to the left and there's almost always a stiff breeze into the golfer's face.

Most average golfers use a four or three-wood for their second shot while the better golfers use a two or three-iron. Almost everyone has a chip-shot remaining.

It's a very difficult hole to birdie. On the rare occasions when the wind is with you an eight or nine-iron approach-shot is possible.

Big Spring Tennis Club's Closed Tournament

'Weekend warriors' arise and start swinging now!!

By WALT FINLEY
Tennis "hackers" of Howard County here's your chance to make your dreams of becoming a trophy-winning champion come true.

The Big Spring Tennis Club's Closed Tournament will be held Aug. 27-28-29 at Figure Seven Courts.

MEANWHILE MEN and women involved in this venture are busy in a myriad of duties. They hope to make the "weekend warriors division" the really BIG attraction of the tourney.

So arise "warriors" and start swinging — unlike the "mad bomber."

This division includes singles and doubles for men, singles and doubles for women and mixed doubles. "It is only for occasional players and entries must be approved by the tournament director." Who said that? The tournament director — David Redwine, that's who.

PLAYERS PAY an initial entry fee of $2.50, plus $1 for each additional event. Only three events to a customer.

Players automatically become members of the Big Spring Tennis Association upon payment of an entry fee, Redwine said.

Other divisions are youths 14 to 16, 18-year-old boys and girls, singles and doubles; men's singles and doubles' women's singles and doubles' mixed doubles; husband and wife doubles.

Also over 25 division for women, singles and doubles and over 30 for men, singles and doubles.

Trophies will be awarded first and second-place winners in each division. Each event must have a minimum of four swingers to start the ball bouncing.

FUTURE CHAMPS may start signing up this Sunday at the tennis center. Deadline is 6 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 26. Tournament play will get under way at 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 27 and conclude Sunday evening.

Tennis club officers will be elected during the tournament. Players will be issued ballots to mark when fees are paid.

Dutch-treat luncheon Monday Preview of Angelo St. Rams

SAN ANGELO — With the first game of the season now just four weeks away, Angelo State University Ram Football gets off to an action-packed start on August 16 with a dutch-treat luncheon that will feature an early season preview of prospects for '76.

Ram mentor, Jim Hess along with his coaching staff will be on hand to supply those in attendance with a complete run down on the '76 season, key players to watch along with all of the other details of what all signs show to be an outstanding season of Ram football.

The Rams, with 40 returning lettermen including seven offensive and eight defensive regulars, are looking for their best season ever. The Hess and Company Rams will pit their experience and talent against a string of formidable opponents in what promises to be their toughest schedule ever.

Following their trip to Alabama when they do battle against Troy State, the Rams will open their home season on Sept. 11 against Central State from Oklahoma. Then it will be Alcorn State from Mississippi. The Alcorn crew will bring its number two nationally ranked defense to San Angelo on Sept. 18.

Then it's back on the road for the Rams as they take on Southwest Texas State in San Marcos on Sept. 25 and Eastern New Mexico in the peanut county near Portales on Oct. 2.

From there on out, it will be Lone Star Conference action exclusively as the Rams go against Sam Houston here on Oct. 9, Howard Payne in Brownwood on Oct. 16 and the national champions, Texas A&I, here on Oct. 23.

The Rams-Texas A&I tilt on Oct. 23 is being billed as the "big shoot-out" in Lone Star Conference grid action for certain, and it could turn out to be the game that determines the national championship. Add the fact that it will be homecoming for the Rams and you get an evening of color and football excitement second to none.

As if this isn't enough, the Rams will travel north to Abilene for the season topper with Abilene Christian — always a popular game abounding in inter-school rivalry.

Talent abounds on the Ram squad this season, designated the '76 Star Spangled Rams.

Quarterback Lynn Leonard holds most of the school passing records and now sits on a 127 consecutive pass-without-interception record.

Johnny Cole is probably the team's top pro prospect. Last year he gained 1,075 yards and scored 13 touchdowns.

Defensive stars include James Cross, the All-American defensive back who marked eight interceptions in the '75 season.

Kenneth Kennard, 6'2", 250-pound nose guard, was All-American and All Conference.

The Aug. 16 luncheon, which is open to the general public, also will promote season ticket sales scheduled to open the same day. In fact, plans call for having season tickets available at the luncheon.

Last year's season ticket holders will have priority to renew last year's seats between Aug. 16 and Aug. 30.

Season tickets which will be on sale through Sept. 3, for the five home games will be $15 per seat — a savings of $2.50 under the list price of tickets if purchased individually for each of the games. In addition, season ticket holders are entitled to free stadium parking.

To purchase tickets, contact the ASU Fiscal Office in room 104 of the administration building beginning Aug. 16.

Persons who plan to attend the kickoff luncheon should make advance reservations by contacting the ASU Athletic Department at 942-2264. Cost of the meal will be $2.60.

Soap Box Derby has new look

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Philip Raber from Sugar Creek, Ohio, won the junior division championship Saturday in the 39th running of the All-American Soap Box Derby.

The 4-foot-11, 85-pound sixthgrader drove his red, 125-pound kit car down the 970-foot hill in 28.32 seconds to win the top prize, a set of tools.

Second place in the junior division went to Billy Cave III, a 12-year-old from Newport, Ky. The third place finisher in the category was Greg Sorley, 11, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Competition in the senior division, for boys and girls up to 15 years old, continued. Rain interrupted the race for about 45 minutes and chased much of the crowd home before the finals.

Derby backers said the event is seeing a resurgence after several lean years, and the 1976 run has a new look. For the first time, 10-year-olds were eligible to participate in the new junior car division, in which youngsters up to 12 years old built their own machines from a $36.95 kit with diagrams and instructions.

Wins 3rd round KO Foreman batters LeDoux

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Former world heavyweight champion George Foreman battered little-known Scott LeDoux mercilessly and knocked him out with 2:58 gone in the third round of their scheduled 10-round fight Saturday on national television.

Foreman started slowly, sizing up his smaller opponent, but landed several effective left jabs in the first round. Foreman, aiming at a shot at regaining the title he lost to Muhammad Ali in Zaire two years ago, became more aggressive in the second round.

Waving his right hand close to his chin, Foreman moved in on LeDoux, 27, and wobbled him with a right-left combination. LeDoux managed to keep his feet during the second round but was bleeding from the nose.

Then, in the third round, Big George began to pummel LeDoux with lefts and rights. LeDoux went down from a right uppercut, the first time the blond-haired LeDoux had ever been knocked from his feet.

Foreman, at 229 1/2 pounds only 4 1/2 pounds heavier than he weighed for his fight against Joe Frazier in April, clearly was the stronger of the two fighters. LeDoux weighed 223.

The knockout was Foreman's 40th in 43 victories. His only loss came at the hands of Ali. It was the fourth loss for LeDoux against 18 victories and one draw.

In his last two outings, against Frazier and LeDoux, Foreman had looked awesome. He stopped Frazier in five rounds.

LeDoux was all but helpless against Foreman. In the first round, he threw several left jabs but they fell short. And when the Fighting Frenchman did get within striking range, it was Foreman who did the damage with crisp left jabs that snapped LeDoux's head back.

Foreman had a slight edge in the first round, then made it clear in the second he would dominate. After being staggered, LeDoux grabbed Foreman, who pushed him to the canvas and onto his knees. Referee Tony Perez halted action briefly but ruled it a slip.

LeDoux' only effective punches in the round were counter-rights that landed several times but didn't appear to bother Foreman.

LeDoux was hurt at the end of the round but answered the bell to the third, apparently undaunted. In his side-to-side — but never backward — style, LeDoux came after Foreman.

Foreman landed several good jabs and left-right combinations. Every punch the former champion threw landed with authority.

LeDoux finally went down as a result of an accumulation of those punches, although it was the right uppercut that finished him.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lenny Randle's run-scoring single in the 10th inning carried the Texas Rangers to a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians Saturday.

Jim Kern, 8-6, walked Jeff Burroughs to open the 10th, then yielded a single to Danny Thompson before Randle slapped the game-winning hit to left. Steve Foucault, 8-6, was the winner, giving up only one hit in 3-2 innings of relief for the Rangers.

Burroughs had four hits, including his 12th home run of the season, and drove in three runs. Rick Manning had four hits for the Indians.

Season tickets on sale for: Big Spring Steers

Season tickets for home football games of the Steers go on sale at the school business office the coming week. Last year's season ticket holders, if they desire the same locations, can notify the personnel of the office anytime from Monday through Friday. Hours are from 8:30 a.m., until 5 p.m. The tickets are good for five games and sell for $10 each. That figures out to $2 a game. Pre-game sale price for individual game tickets sell for $2.50. If one waits until he or she gets to the gate before making their purchases, the ticket will cost $3. Each person who purchased a season ticket last year received a letter suggesting renewal from the school business office. If a ticket purchaser requests additional tickets to the ones he or she reserved last year, such tickets will not go on sale until Monday, Aug. 23, when all unsold or unclaimed pasteboards will be made available to the general public. Last year, a total of 598 season tickets were distributed by the business office. All seat locations are on the west side of the stadium.

Coahoma Bulldogs

COAHOMA — Season football tickets for home games of the Coahoma Bulldogs go on sale at the school tax office, located in the administration building, at 8:30 a.m., Tuesday. All persons who would like to have the same seat locations they had last year can contact Mrs. Laura New, 394-4259, no later than Aug. 20. On Monday, Aug. 23, the reserve seats will be offered to the general public on a first-come, first-serve basis. Price for the season ticket is $7.50.

Colorado City Wolves

COLORADO CITY — Season tickets to the Wolves five home games go on sale Monday and the CHS cheerleaders will have a booth in the lobby of City National Bank from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Individual tickets would cost $10 for the games but the season tickets are $7.50. After Monday, the high school business office will handle the tickets, phone 728-3424. Students have the option of purchasing tickets at the schools before each game for 75 cents each but they will cost $2 each to both students and adults when bought at the gate. Colorado High Athletic Director Mike Farda pointed out that there will not be any student tickets available at the gates at the games due to a District 6AA rule. All student tickets must be purchased at the school prior to the game. Colorado City school officials are hoping for a large number of season ticket sales this year as the Wolves are favored to win District 6AA and are rated by two magazines to be in the top 10 in AA football in Texas. Home games are Sept. 3 against Slaton, favored to win District 5AA; Sept. 10 vs. Sweetwater; Oct. 8 vs. Wylie; Oct. 29 vs. Ballinger, and Nov. 12 vs. Stamford.

Banks, Feller, leaders in Midland

The El Paso Diablos and Amarillo Gold Sox locked in a neck-to-neck battle for the Western Division crown, invade Cubs Stadium beginning August 15. El Paso's Willie Mays Aikens, who leads the Texas League in runs (80), hits (132), total bases (240), HR (27), RBI (98) and slugging percentage (.602), leads all offense that has a team batting average of .302. Other offensive stars include infielder Ron Farkas (.335) and infielder Butch Alberts (.316, 14 HR). The Diablos staff is led by All-Stars Bob Nolan (10-3) and John Canera (11-2). The Diablos will play single games August 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20. The Gold Sox will follow with single games on August 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, and 26th. The Gold Sox are led by hard-hitting outfielder Don Reynolds (.334, 17 HR, 75 RBI), designated hitter Gene Delyon (.334, 7 HR, 67 RBI), second baseman Gene Menees (.316, 4 HR, 32 RBI), plus pitchers Bob Owchinko (4-1, 2.35), Galen McSpaddon (9-6, 2.90) and Vic Bernal (5-5, 16 saves). Midland, which won 6 of 9 in San Antonio, has gotten good pitching from Wayne Doland (11-5, 3.85), Chuck Rogers (12 complete games, 3.55) and Gary Jung (no earned runs in last 6 appearances). Offensively, Bill Huisman, Mike Umfleet, Keith Drumright and Ed Putman are all flirting with the .300 mark. Mike Gordon tops the Cubs with 8 home runs and 46 RBI.

Stanton Buffaloes: 'A building year'

By FRED BREWER
STANTON — The Big Red, breaking in their third new coach in three years, will have a difficult time matching last season's 5-5 (2-2 district) record, but there are signs of better offerings in the future. New Stanton Buffalo head coach David Thompson says all he knows about his team, and the district, is what he's read, heard and seen in the movies. From those sources Thompson concludes: "Marvin Jones should be a great one — runs a 4.6, 40 — he gained 633 yards last year as a sophomore. "Tim Glynn is our best lineman. Ken McCalister and Bimbo Allred are excellent defensive players. We expect good line play by Mike Swinson and Miles Tollison. "We have two good ends in Terry Smith — split end — and Kenny McCalister — tight end. "Todd Smith, a sophomore, will be our quarterback — as it looks now. This is his first season on the varsity. I think he'll do all right this year and be one of the best before he graduates." The Buffaloes will go with the "I" primarily, occasionally going into a multiple set on offense and the split six on defense. Thompson will be assisted by Bob Denison, line coach ("I'm also track coach," he said. "We won the district,"); Doug Parker, linebacker coach ("I'm new and fresh," he said. "No, just make that, new,"); Roddy McIver, Arcadio Rivera and Gary Krejci. Krejci, junior high coach, says his squad looks good, both in numbers and talent. "We have 33 eighth-graders and 25 seventh-graders," he said, "and most of them look like good football players. Or, at least, have the strength and speed to be good football players."

Care needed in releasing bass

BEAUMONT — Largemouth bass are schooling on many of Texas' large reservoirs, with numerous undersized fish being caught.

A good portion of the small bass released by anglers will die. In one study conducted by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, mortality of bass hooked and released was 33 per cent. A bass mortality survey during one Toledo Bend bass tournament this summer put the death rate much higher.

Fish usually die from deep hooking, gill damage and injury to the fish from improper unhooking and delayed mortality from stress and handling.

But inland fisheries officials at the Parks and Wildlife Department say with proper technique bass can be unhooked and released with good chances of survival.

The best way to land an undersized bass is not to land it at all but to release the fish while it is still in the water. This especially is important in the summer since bass are more affected by heat than are most other species.

Use of a landing net is a good means of controlling a fish in the water until it can be unhooked and released.

Without a landing net, the angler should grasp the fish by its lower jaw and keep it partially submerged until unhooked.

If the fish must be handled, the angler should wet his hands since any dry surface removes the bass' protective body slime and makes it more susceptible to bacteria.

Careless hook removal kills many fish. Use of a pair of long-nosed pliers is more effective than a pair of clumsy fingers. If the fish is hooked in the lips or outside jaw, the fisherman can use pliers to grasp the hook and shake it free without removing the fish from the water.

Single hooks embedded deep in the gullet or gills should not be removed. Clip the leader or hook as close as possible and release the fish. According to one expert, tests show these hooks will rust or be covered with a cyst and the fish usually survives.

Any fish that floats belly up or floats on the surface when released probably will not live. In such cases, it is possible to administer first aid by holding it by the tail and gently moving it back and forth in the water. This forces water through the gills and induces the fish to breathe again.

Many bass boats are equipped with live wells. But many still die if kept in wells for long periods of time during hot summers.

have already submerged due to the increase in water that recently flowed into the top catfish lake in these parts.

Eisenhower Park closed for year

AUSTIN — Improvements and additional development at Eisenhower State Recreation Area on Lake Texoma have made it necessary for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to close portions of the Grayson County park until July 1977.

Park operations officials at the P&WD say as of Aug. 9, 1976, some of the park's camping areas will be closed so that 42 regular campsites may be converted to provide 46 multi-use sites with water and electricity with the addition of four new sites.

A picnic area will be converted to camping facilities with 20 sites and comfort station. An existing concession building will be renovated to provide a group pavilion with outdoor cooking facilities.

Recipes with Reagan

AUSTIN — Texas cooking has been called a potpourri of many cultures. To this the Gulf Coast has contributed a wealth of seafoods which has enhanced the ethnic dishes brought by our settlers.

Texas Fish Chili is a fine example of the blending of foods and flavors that represent Mexican, Indian and Spanish tastes.

This kettle of chili is a meal-in-one, quick-to-fix entree that calls for seconds, says the Seafood Marketing staff of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. It is rich in the onion and garlic the Spaniards used so well, the chili and oregano of the Aztecs, and our native beans and seafoods.

When appetites are Texas size, this chili served with jalapeno cornbread, a chilled salad and beverage becomes a nourishing and savory meal.

- TEXAS FISH CHILI
2 pounds shark filets or other fresh fish
2 cups sliced onions
1 cup diced green pepper
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons margarine or cooking oil
1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans, undrained
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained
1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste

Cut fish into 1/2-inch chunks. In a large boiler pot, saute green pepper and garlic in margarine until tender. Stir in chili powder, salt, oregano and pepper. Add beans, tomatoes and tomato paste.

Heat until bubbling around edges. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add fish chunks. Cover and simmer for 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve in mugs or large soup bowls. Makes six to eight servings.

New licenses in mid-August

AUSTIN — One million resident hunting, combination hunting and fishing and exempt hunting licenses are on their way to license sales deputies and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offices across the state.

Mailed Aug. 13, the licenses should be available for sale to sportsmen during the week of Aug. 16. They will be valid for use on Sept. 1.

P&WD officials say the 1976-77 licenses are much the same as they were last year, with buck and antlerless deer tags and turkey tags printed on waterproof, tear-resistant paper. Date of kill on deer tags this year either may be marked out in ink or cut from the tag.

License fees also are unchanged — $8.75 for a combination hunting and fishing license, $5.25 for resident hunting and 25 cents for a resident exempt license.

OUT BACK in West Texas

By TIM LEIFESTE
SAN ANGELO — Well, it's almost that time again. Hunting season is just around the corner and I, like many other West Texas hunters, have developed a telltale twitch in my trigger finger. D-Day (the "D" is for dove), noon, Sept. 1, a Wednesday, can't get here soon enough.

Dove hunting has always been big in West Texas and this season should prove no exception. Hunting the "gray ghosts" fills a lot of leisure hours. Personally, it's my favorite hunting activity, a preference I'm sure I share with many other West Texans. To me, an opportunity to go dove hunting is like receiving a draft notice: it's next to impossible to ignore.

Early reports indicate this should be a good year for the dove crop and therefore the hunter, too. However, with all this lush vegetation downed birds are going to be more difficult to locate, especially if you are going to be hunting around stock tanks.

Also, don't forget to replug your shotgun to a three-shell capacity, required by law.

Let hunters also forget, licenses are due for renewal soon. All hunting licenses expire Aug. 31 each year. So, if you want to be legal for the Sept. 1 opening date of mourning dove season, you'll need to get a new license.

Hunting license fees remain unchanged from last year — $8.75 for the combination hunting and fishing license, $5.25 for resident hunting, $37.50 for non-resident hunting, $10.25 for non-resident migratory game bird hunting and 25 cents for a resident hunting exempt license.

Hunting licenses, valid for use Sept. 1, will go on sale in this area Aug. 16 at P&WD offices and wherever licenses are sold.

Counts of the antelope herds in the Trans-Pecos, Permian Basin and Panhandle regulatory districts have been completed by P&WD and buck permits for antelope will be issued to landowners in mid-September.

P&WD Big Game Director Charles Winkler says the department expects to issue about the same number of permits as last year, this despite the fact antelope numbers are down considerably from last year's estimate. However, there was a 20 per cent increase in the number of antelope counted in the Permian Basin and landowners there can expect a corresponding increase in the number of permits that will be issued this year.

Several special hunts, in addition to the regular gun hunts, have been scheduled this year on Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Management Areas.

Public hunting of two exotic species, sika and axis deer, will be allowed for the first time on the Kerr Area during the regular whitetail hunt, Nov. 13-Jan. 2. Applications should be available at P&WD offices soon and a drawing will be held in October.

A special hunt for muzzle-loaders is set for the Chapparral Area. Hunters with muzzle loading rifles (no scopes allowed) will be issued half of the 200 permits and will have a chance to bag a deer or coyote. Hunting dates at the Chapparral will be Nov. 15-16, 29-30, Dec. 13-14 and 28-29. Applications will be available in the fall for a drawing in October.

Archers will have five management areas open to them for bow hunting of white-tailed deer this October. Two of the areas, Kerr and Engeling, require permits and deadline for applications to P&WD is Aug. 30 at 5 p.m. A public drawing is set for Sept. 2 at 10 a.m. in Austin to select a total of 575 archers for the two areas (375 for Engeling and 200 for Kerr). Permits will be assigned for two day hunts during Oct. 25-31 at Engeling and during Oct. 16-24 at Kerr. Those hunters selected will be asked to remit a $20 fee to help cover the cost of conducting the hunts. Three other areas will be open to archers for deer hunting at no cost with no permit required — Pat Mayse, Oct. 1-18; Angelina Dam B Unit and Angelina-Neches Scientific Area, Oct. 1-31.

P&WD officials remind hunters that those selected for archery hunts will not be eligible to participate in the regular firearms hunt on these areas.

Could Duval corruption have been prevented?

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — State agencies have come under the criticism of the Duval County Grand Jury that charges in a report that they could have prevented some of the corruption uncovered in the county by a task force sent by the Texas attorney general.

The criticism was included in a report issued here Friday which included the indictment of a Benavides School Board member and a former district court clerk.

The grand jury singled out the State Banking Commission in its report, charging that officials should have known that the bank was being used "as a playpen for professional thieves."

Bank president B.O. Goldthorn was indicted earlier this year by the grand jury on theft charges. State officials are continuing an investigation of the bank activities and its connections to county officials who have been indicted as a result of the investigation of county corruption.

The grand jury charged that state agencies had shown very little interest in Duval County, and named the Judicial Qualifications Commission, the Texas Education Agency, state auditors and the Federal Bureau of Investigation as agencies that should have conducted county investigations.

An investigation was finally ordered last year by the state attorney general and as a result many county officials have been indicted.

"As the conscience of our county for our six-month term as grand jury we readily admit that our county has lacked honest leaders and concerned people willing to help make (it) honest in government," the report said.

It added: "We are aware of our failures as responsible citizens, but we are also very much aware that those outside the county could have helped, but instead refused to help and even contributed to the climate of dishonesty... We have just reason to be critical of the State Commission of the State of Texas. We feel that conditions existing in the First State Bank of San Diego could not have continued without the Texas State Bank examiners' knowledge."

The report said examiners let go unnoticed banking violations that were obvious even to laymen.

It also criticized the Texas Education agency, saying "it could not help but know that dreadful conditions existed in our schools and yet waited until the conditions were on the way to being corrected before one of the schools lost accreditation."

The report also asked why "the FBI did not help us when civil rights of people were being trampled?"

Mrs. Canales was charged with accepting a salary from the Benavides Independent School District when she did not work for the district.

Saenz, a former clerk for suspended district judge O.P. Carrillo, was charged with having his personal car repaired by the Duval Motor Co. and having the repairs charged to the county.

Polio cases in big drop

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, AUGUST 15, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is good for thinking of spiritual outlets by which you can improve yourself. In the evening think in terms of how you can build up your abundance by changes that are apparent.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Look to a wise person you know who can point the way to greater happiness. Plan to extend and expand your activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Concentrating on ethical and spiritual values can be most inspiring in the morning. Later engage in recreational activities you like.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Know what your personal aims are in the morning and how best to go after them. Plan how to improve your position in business.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate on improving your reputation in the morning. Also, plan how to become more successful in business.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use different tactics where some problem of long standing is concerned and get it solved wisely. Make the evening a delightful one.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use good judgment in the morning instead of relying so much on your hunches, which are not too accurate now. Engage in favor to hobby later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more willing to make the changes that friends desire of you today. Keep promises you have made to others. Relax at home tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) The early part of the day is fine for doing a favor for one who has been loyal to you. Don't neglect important civic matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Engage in creative activities early in the day. Show more concern for mate who is irritated. Visit long-time friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some new ideas you get in the morning can be put in operation very nicely. Don't neglect important correspondence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show more understanding for others. Enjoy spiritual talks that are inspiring early in the day. Take it easy tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Give more time and effort to a practical affair early in the morning. Entertain friends and relatives in the afternoon. Show that you have poise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 he or she will be one of those very active persons who can learn a great deal by doing. Direct education along banking or big business lines. Be sure to give good spiritual and religious training to set this life on the right path.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, AUGUST 16, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until late afternoon you would be wise not to take any chances where money, property or possessions are concerned, or you could have an unnecessary loss. Evening finds you in a more practical frame of mind and you are able to accomplish much.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take care you do not overspend in the morning and then you can be very scarce in the evening. Consult with an expert where financial matters are concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Persevere where personal aims are concerned. Try not to argue with a loved one in the morning. Later, all clears up and you are in a position to gain rewards.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't neglect your work even though you may be children. Later, all clears up and you are in a position to gain rewards.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good friend will not come to your aid until evening, so wait until then before asking for it. Think along more constructive lines.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't look for favors from bigwigs during the morning. Try not to argue with a loved one in the morning, but evening is fine for that. Don't upset routine matters and lose out where it counts the most.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) First carry through with important work at hand; later, look into the new and promising. Go to right sources for information.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Pay pressing bills and get your accounts in order. Try not to argue with a loved one in the morning, then the evening is fine.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try not to argue with an associate regarding some contract you may have in the morning. By afternoon at work all in order. Try not to argue with a loved one in the morning, then the evening is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Cooperate more with co-workers during day and you reap benefits later. Take treatments that improve health and your looks. Don't be taken in by one who is insidious of you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make the daytime more productive through fine efforts on your part. Relegate pleasure to the evening. Study budget and make necessary changes for more efficiency.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are quiet about some annoying situation at home in the morning, by evening it will all blow over and everything is fine again. Being careful with anyone could have dire results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be careful in motion during the day. Devote the evening to hobbies you like. Exercise care in speech or big arguments could ensue.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 he or she will be very practical from the beginning and will require a good, sensible education. Much success is possible in big business, banking, property management, etc.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Cobalt blue plates decorating library

By REBECCA TAYLOR
REFERENCE LIBRARIAN
The Howard County Library display case has held a variety of different collections, advertisements and exhibits. One of the most fascinating, as well as one of the prettiest, collections is now on display.

Mrs. Agnes Currie, Big Spring, is a collector of Danish Royal Copenhagen plaquettes. These tiny earthenware plates, three and one-quarter inches across, each depict a scene, monument or figure in shades of lovely cobalt blue.

the glazes. Later the company became a royal possession for almost a hundred years. No longer a royal possession, the company still thrives. Their porcelain is famous especially for the commemorative and Christmas plates begun in 1885 and 1908. These are designed and, after a limited number is made, the molds are destroyed.

THE LITTLE plaquettes are done differently. These are not porcelain but earthenware.

Copper plates are used to impress the design on the unglazed plaquettes and a new casting is made periodically of each of the 104 motifs.

Mrs. Currie has collected 100 of the series lacking only four of the animals' plaquettes having a complete set.

THE FIRST 85 are of Danish scenes, churches and castles. Six are of antique autos.

Six more are of American Presidents. Six of animals and one of the Danish-American colony of Solvang in California. Come and see this lovely and historic collection.

Let us know about your hobbies or collections for possible display. There are many others whose treasured possessions would be enjoyed by library patrons.

Dr. Fred Cunningham has been appointed director of Pan American University's Brownsville Center. Dr. Cunningham, who has served as dean of the university's school of education since 1970, will replace Dr. Ralph Pennington, who is retiring. Dr. Bill Reeves, former dean of Pan American's graduate school, will replace Dr. Cunningham. The appointments will become effective Sept. 1.

McCarthy wants name on ballot

NEW YORK (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy has begun a campaign to collect 20,000 signatures to get his name on New York's ballot as an independent presidential candidate in November.

McCarthy, 60, who has already qualified for the ballot in 13 states, said he hopes to make the ballot in 45 states by election day.

Captain and Captain

Webb couples share rank

CAPTAIN WANDA WOOD

CAPTAIN LESLIE WOOD

By CAROL HART
"Opportunities are much better today than a few years ago for women wishing to enter the military," said Capt. Wanda Wood, chief of military personnel at Webb Air Force Base. She makes her office in the Consolidated Base Personnel Office.

Capt. Wood has been in the Air Force for six years, and shares the rank of Captain with her husband, Leslie Wood. "Les" is at Randolph Air Force Base at present in preparation to becoming a chief of T-37 academics at Webb. Wanda explained that this would be a supervisory position for her husband.

The couple will celebrate their second anniversary Aug. 17, although Les will still be at Randolph. The couple was married at Randolph. Wanda was captain at the time. Les was a first lieutenant, and made captain about a year later.

Wanda said "people tease me about pulling rank on Les, but there has never been a hassle about it in our marriage." She said that their marriage was an equal partnership, and that they have equal shares in running the home.

Wanda has a Bachelor degree in English and education from the University of Southern Mississippi. She graduated in 1968, and started officer's training in June of 1968.

Wanda had a sister in the military, and said that entering the Air Force had been "in the back of her mind" for quite a while. She said that the equal opportunities offered by the Air Force appealed to her.

Wanda explained that women can enter almost all areas of the Air Force once closed to them. Jobs associated with combat are still closed to women.

She mentioned that women will be admitted to Undergraduate Pilot Training in September. This is a first for the program.

"Traditionally, women were given the soft-core jobs in the military," said Wanda. Today, they have a choice of almost everything.

Wanda describes her job as resident consultant for military women. She says she is "sort of an advisor." She is also the commander's advisor, giving him advice on problems women in the military may have.

Wanda explained the ways open for women to enter the Air Force. Those interested can take Officers Training School, ROTC programs or, now, enter the military academies.

Wanda said that she also entered the Air Force because of the travel it offered, something she has had an opportunity to do. Her first assignment was at Maxwell AFB in Montgomery, Ala. At that time, she was a bit apprehensive at her choice of careers. "I didn't know what it was all about."

She was then transferred to Udorn Royal Thai Air Force Base in Thailand, where she was one of only 16 "round-eye" women. "Round-eye" was what American women were called, she explained.

She was then transferred to Kelly AFB in San Antonio, then across town to Randolph. It was there she met her husband. He was attending a school for professional military education squadron officers, and was stationed at Webb at the time.

Wanda said that the Air Force provides "join spouse assignments" which allow husband and wife personnel to be transferred to the same bases. When one or the other gets an assignment, the other can apply for an assignment at the same base. If there is no slot available for the spouse, the one transferred can request to stay. In cases when one spouse is sent on a "remote" such as Wanda's assignment to Thailand, the other spouse will usually get a remote assignment to another base although they may not be together for a period of time.

Wanda says that she has never had trouble adjusting to any assignment in the Air Force. "I make something good of every place, and try to be happy wherever I am assigned. I have enjoyed them all."

Wanda plans to make the Air Force a career. She enjoys it, and recommends it as a career for other women. "I have never regretted one day in the Air Force," she said.

Wanda is originally from Nettleton, Mississippi. Les is from New York, and attended college at Clarkson College of Technology in Potsdam, NY. His major is in mechanical engineering.

Capt. Maggie Irwin, charge nurse and physician extender of the Webb hospital, came to the Air Force through the Army. She changed after she married her husband, Capt. Donald Irwin.

Maggie attended college at Arizona State University and has been a captain since Dec. 1975. Her husband made the rank in November 1975.

Maggie was a first lieutenant when she transferred to the Air Force. She said now that she is a captain a lot of people joke around with the fact that she and her husband are Capt. and Capt. Irwin.

On the other hand, she added that many people weren't aware of the fact that she is also in the military.

The military appealed to her because of travel and expenses. Out of her high school graduating class, there were 15-20 girls planning to go into the service.

Maggie signed up for a five-year commitment with the military. "I enjoy the military," said Maggie. "I may not make a career out of it, though." Her five-year commitment runs out in March of 1978. She wants to go into public nursing, and go back to school to gain a master's degree.

Her husband Donald wants to make the Air Force a career, according to Maggie.

Maggie has been at the Webb hospital longer than any nurse there at present. In her role of physician extender, she does some of the work often expected of doctors, as there is a shortage of doctors at the base. "I work in a mini-physician role," she added.

Maggie says of her Air Force career "I've enjoyed it. It's been easier for me, I don't have to rotate shifts." It is a lot like any job, but the pay is better.

Donald Irwin is an Instructor Pilot in the 83rd Squadron at Webb in the check section. Maggie explained this as being the section where students go for evaluation.

Both Maggie Irwin and Wanda Wood say they enjoy the opportunities offered them in the Air Force. They both recommend military careers for women interested in that route.

Put it 'in writing'

The will: Family insurance after death

By CANDY SMITH

Wills are only written by men of great fortunes. Or so the myth goes. And legacies mean millions.

In truth, most wills are far less exciting or confusing than that of Howard Hughes. And seldom the source of hard feeling as was the will of Aristotle Onassis.

The mistaken impression is similar to assuming that all marriages are like Elizabeth Taylor's. Nor is it true that wills are only for the wealthy.

Since a will is the legal declaration of a man's wishes, to be carried out after his death, the amount of material wealth is not the basic factor. In fact the less property you have, the more important it may be to you that it goes to whom you desire.

A will is a person's only surety that the distribution of his property, expressed during his lifetime will, if it is legal, be executed the way he intended it to be. Without a will, a person's estate will be left to the courts to decide how it should be distributed. Smaller estates are the ones least able to afford the costs involved in a court-administered distribution of property.

It has been said that the women of the Goth tribes, who had aggressively invaded most of Western Europe by the sixth century, fought alongside of the men in battle and were thus entitled to an equal share of the spoils of war.

The history of the Goth's in 600 A.D. may seem far removed from today's property rights. But at least here in Texas, the tradition of community property began there.

So strong were the traditions which filtered from Spain and France through the Louisiana Purchase and the laws of Mexico, which once governed Texas, that prior to 1948 married couples were not allowed to convert their community estate into separate property. Modern Texas laws have changed that. The way in which property is distributed in the absence of a will depends now on whether it is held in common or separately.

This is another reason why wills are important to people with even a small amount of property. And, in some cases, persons who own no property at the time of making a will may still have some earning potential and life expectancy, which in the event of sudden death, would allow the decedent's family to sue for a sum based on that potential, burial expenses and other circumstances.

It's a contradiction of sorts that most men take out insurance policies to protect their families in case of death, yet few consider the benefits of having made a will. And no doubt most wives feel that it would sound too selfish to ask their husbands to author a will making provisions for them.

But it's very likely that the surviving spouse would be subject to extensive court costs and unneeded legal entanglements that the deceased spouse would not have wanted, in the event that there is no will.

"It's definitely necessary. There are a lot more complications if a will is not made. Instead of being able to specify who you want to take care of your property, the court will appoint an administrator," said Chloe Newton, an employee in the County Clerk's office through which wills go.

A local attorney added that, "an appointed administrator must go through court, file an annual account of the estate's finances, get a court order for any transactions and finally file a final account to close the Lon Gresham"

"WISHES PLAIN"? — It took this particular will two trips through the Supreme Court of Texas and several excursions through various lower courts before its meaning could be deciphered. In trying to avoid the fee for preparing the will, the author, not understanding the reasoning behind the "whereas and wherefores," cost his estate great sums of money to execute his will.

After death, please send all to the Red Cross; They might be able to do some good with the little I leave.

Gus Lavant

VALID WILL — This will, written by Gus Lavant, a trapper in Alaska was held to be valid holographic although it bore only the authors signature. There was no date or witness. It did entitle the Red Cross, however to receive Gus' entire estate.

estate. This costs fantastically more than if there had been an independent executor.

"Texas is unique in providing an independent executor," the attorney added.

Another local attorney agreed that it is a very smooth system in this state. "We have a streamlined probate system that most people don't appreciate. Within this system, the person named as executor of the state can operate completely without court supervision," said Lanny Hamby, an attorney experienced in preparing and probating wills here.

The executor of an estate, "who is named by the decedent in the will, must take an oath, file and have an inventory appraisal. From then on out he has a more or less free rein," said another local attorney. "He is responsible to the deceased's family, but not within the confines of court."

A will is as much a means of avoiding legal red tape and unneeded expense as it is a surety that the persons of your choice will receive your belongings. A common misconception is that, should a woman's husband die without a will, if their property is community owned, she would automatically control his estate.

In a way, a will is the representative of the person who has died. Should a person with community property die without a will, the surviving spouse may administer the estate only under the supervision of a court.

"The state of Texas determines how an estate passes in the event that there is no will," explained Hamby. "A typical situation between a husband and wife is what happens to their community property when the husband dies and the wife survives. Half passes to the wife and half passes to the children. That's alright unless the children are under 18. Then they have the trouble and expense of a guardian.

"For instance, if a piece of real estate was involved, they couldn't sell it. The same with a car," Hamby added.

It is possible to write a will without the assistance of a lawyer. Many people feel that the cost of drawing up a will, added to the cost of having it executed, may be more than it is worth. But it's also a dangerous risk. If for some reason it doesn't stand up in court, it's too late to write another.

Having a will drawn up may range from $25 to $75 in ordinary cases. Executing a will, that is having it proved (probated) at the time of death starts at a base minimum of about $200, and may range up to $500 or more.

Holographic wills, written by the testator himself, in his own handwriting and in layman's terms can be valid if done properly. Unfortunately, legal jargon is not applied only to impress itself, and without certain rules of procedure a will, which may look and sound fine to the testator, may not stand up in court once the author has died.

For example, a father may decide to write his own will disinheriting his children. Should he simply fail to mention them, the will may fail under the reasoning that the testator may have forgotten his children and in that case was not mentally capable of making a will.

Absence of a signature will bar probate even though there may be conclusive proof that the text of the will is in the handwriting of the testator. Courts have recognized wills signed only as "father" but most stipulate that the signature must come at the end.

One of the many myths surrounding wills probably has their origins in the movies. An example is the daughter of a wealthy man who leaves his estate to her on the condition that she never marry.

Courts do not recognize clauses in wills which go against "public policy", such as the condition not to marry. Nor can a will bequest its estate to a government or organization attempting to overthrow the United States or a government with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations.

Texas law requires two witnesses and that the testator be at least 18 years of age. The witnesses should not be beneficiaries in the will. The courts also agree that the testator have some degree of mental capacity, that is understand the nature and extent of his property, the persons whom he has been most interested in life, the act of making a will, and be free from any delusions or hallucinations.

Should a will be contested, a witness named as beneficiary may be forced to forfeit his interests. According to County Judge Bill Tune, any beneficiary who contests a will should forfeit his claim, although he said in the one and a half years he has been county judge, he has never had a will contested.

A will does not guarantee that 100 per cent of an estate will go to its heirs.

"A lot of people," said Hamby, "confuse the cost of probate with estate and inheritance taxes. You pay those taxes regardless of a will."

Miss Diane Hamilton weds TV violence questioned Robert Charles Killingsworth

Miss Diane Hamilton and Robert Charles Killingsworth exchanged vows in a ceremony performed Saturday evening in College Baptist Church.

Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in front of an arch adorned with smilax and white roses. Arched candelabra and palm trees holding the large memory candle was placed at the right of the altar. Draped garlands around the choir rail completed the altar decorations.

Mrs. Marvin Standerfer, Lenorah, and Mrs. Danny Burden provided the wedding music.

The bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta with a Victorian neckline trimmed with lace. A wide panel of floral applique enhanced the center front of the bodice and skirt with white daisies scattered throughout. Long tapered Victorian sleeves applied in lace fell in scallops over the wrists. The princess skirt was enhanced with traces of Venice lace and the hemline of the gown was marked with scalloped lace and swept to back fullness to form a chapel-length train.

The bride's tiered veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of candlelight peau d'ange lace trimmed in pearls.

The bride carried a Colonial tudor rose bouquet of off white roses and natural German statice with green foliage. The bouquet was tied with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Stephanie Dickens. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Nell Corson, Houston, and Mrs. Charles Coats, Jewett.

John Gary Jr. served as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Lindsey, Glendale, Calif., and Lanny Jones, San Bernardino, Calif. Ushers were Richard Hamilton, brother of the bride, and Lonnie Gary.

Following a trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard College. She also attended the University of Texas at Austin. She is presently employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The groom graduated from Borger High School and Texas Tech University. He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Sigma Delta honorary fraternities. He is employed by Gary and Hohertz Architects.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Big Spring, Mrs. C. S. Killingsworth, Borger and the late Mr. Killingsworth.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Serving were Ms. Theresa Cadino, Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Terry Denton, Lewisville; Mrs. Gary Gressett, and Miss Barbara Eason, Mrs. Robbie O'Daniel registered guests.

Guests attended from Borger, Midland, Lewisville, Evant, Groesbeck, Coleman, Colorado City, San Angelo, Star, Jewett, Coahoma, and Lubbock.

EDITOR'S NOTE — For those who oppose violence on television, a new tactic is developing of pressuring sponsors to withdraw their commercials from shows featuring violence.

By LEE MARGULIES
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A growing number of people who feel there is too much violence on television are directing their complaints to the advertisers whose commercial dollars support such programming.

Convinced that TV violence can be harmful to young viewers and maybe older ones, too, these people are declaring that the sponsors must be held accountable along with the creators and broadcasters who put the shows on the air.

Some are suggesting a boycott of sponsors' products.

Network executives decline to discuss the issue beyond saying there is no evidence that the complaints have had any effect so far. On the contrary, demand for commercial time on the tube is at an all time high and the Television Bureau of Advertising estimates that the TV industry will receive $6.4 billion from advertisers this year.

But this new assault on TV violence is still in its infancy. In just the past two months:

—The American Medical Association approved a resolution condemning television's "massive daily diet of symbolic crime and violence in entertainment programs" and called on physicians, their families and their patients "actively to oppose TV programs containing violence, as well as products and — or services sponsoring such programs."

—The nation's largest advertising agency, the J. Walter Thompson Co., said a small survey it conducted showed eight per cent of the respondents "consciously not buying a product" advertised on programs they considered excessively violent.

—The National Association for Better Broadcasting, a media activist group, wrote letters to 13 advertisers to complain that their commercials were helping to support a series of "degenerate horror movies" on Saturday afternoons on independent station KOOP-TV in Los Angeles. The association reported that 10 of the companies responded and said they were withdrawing their ads from the programs.

—The National Citizens Committee for Broadcasting, another activist organization, spent six weeks analyzing the prime time programming of ABC, CBS and NBC to determine which programs were the most violent and what companies were sponsoring them. Their message to advertisers: "We think you ought to know what you're sponsoring and you ought to be responsible for it."

The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Richard M. Wiley, recently told advertisers they could play a role in keeping excessive violence off the tube:

"You, after all, must make a basic decision on whether or not to support particular types of programming fare. It is your 'buck,' so to speak, which may be decisive, and thus I think it is fair to say that the buck must stop with you."

Diahann Carroll begins summer series soon

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer-actress Diahann Carroll, last regularly seen on TV as a nurse in "Julia," starts her own four-week summer variety show on CBS this Saturday. Alas, the start is not too sturdy.

She's a fine talent. But an advance peep at the scheduled opener indicates its two writers, script consultant, producer and two executive producers didn't quite know what to do with her talent.

They put her in a bubble bath to sing the opening number, a disco thing called "This Is It." Then they had her get dressed, say hello and do a solo comedy skit as an airline ticket agent on the telephone.

The airline skit managed the feat of crashing before takeoff.

Summer variety series often give new comics and singers, of which TV needs more, a chance to break in. Here, the authorities broke in two completely new faces, Telly Savalas and Sammy Davis Jr.

There actually was a newcomer, a singer named Jon Lucien, but he was whisked on and off so fast he could have called in the act.

Telly's top effort had him seated in a big wicker chair. His shirt was open to the sternum. He sang "Who Loves Ya, Baby," a disco song, with much more feeling than Warren G. Harding will ever display.

Telly also was in a skit with Miss Carroll, playing a computer matched suitor. He kept glancing past her while talking, which suggests he either was reading a cue card or seeking his agent.

Sammy Davis Jr. momentarily perked up the proceedings with a rock-gospel song, "John the Baptist," but the tune lasted so long one felt Matthew, Mark and Luke would soon demand equal time.

Past matrons hold meeting

Members of the Past Matron Gavel Club of the Laura B. Hart chapter of the Eastern Star met Thursday. The group held a dinner meeting at Coker's Restaurant.

Mrs. E. A. Fiveash, vice president, presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Oza Green gave a devotional on salvation and worded the prayer.

Members celebrating birthdays were Mrs. Bill Griese, Mrs. Elmo Martin and Mrs. Oza Green.

Reports were made on visits and flowers sent to the sick. Plans were begun for the Christmas party.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Oza Green and Mrs. Chuck Boland.

The next meeting is slated for Sept. 9 at Coker's with Mrs. Martine McDonald and Mrs. Ollie McDaniel as hostesses.

How to grow garden club

The Rosebud How To Grow Garden Club announced that Mrs. William Headley, Dallas, will present a program and workshop on dried flowers and arrangements at the club meeting on Aug. 17.

The meeting will be held at the YMCA from 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m. with a salad luncheon following.

All members are reminded to bring the following materials for the workshop: 3x3 porcupine holder, thick styrofoam or other base, "sticky stuff" floral putty, thin pliable florist wire, dried flowers, grass, etc., and scissors. All members are to bring a salad.

Mrs. Headley is a national council accredited master judge, a member of Ft. Worth judges council, National Orchid society, Ft. Worth Orchid society, and president of the Denton Orchid society. She is president of the Denton Council of Orchid clubs.

For further information and reservations, contact Mrs. Susan King at 263-0667.

Chapter hosts party

Members of the Delta Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha hosted a welcome home ice cream party for Fay Newman recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Boykin, 101 Jefferson.

Mrs. Newman has been in Dallas the past few months visiting her brother and daughter.

The party followed a business session where Betty Warden presided. Programs for the coming year were distributed.

The group made plans to attend the Founders Day meeting of the Permian Basin Area Assembly at the Ramada Inn in Midland on Sept. 10.

The Zeta Mu Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha, Midland, will host the meeting.

Attending from the Big Spring chapter are Johnnie Winham, Callie Joe Mason, and Betty Warden.

Women's club hosts workshop

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs of the Western District held a workshop in the Pioneer Gas Building Thursday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Clubs represented were Coahoma, Forsan and Modern Woman's Forum of Big Spring.

The Modern Woman's Forum served as host club.

The workshop was conducted by Mrs. Charles D. White, Odessa, president of the Western District.

Mrs. White presented the Western theme, which is her theme. It reads: "Take action: Make Dreams a Reality."

A skit was presented of a poorly organized club meeting, to show the weak points of program planning and member participation on a program.

Mrs. W. E. Singleton of the Modern Woman's Forum was presented an oil painting on a shingle from Mrs. White for writing the best club report of workshop.

Bridge club

Mrs. Elizabeth Phelan was first place winner in the last meeting of the Newcomers Bridge Club. The group met Aug. 11 in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Building.

Mrs. Fran Roberts won second place and bridge-o.

Mrs. Linda Roser was guest. Mrs. Kathy Prindible was hostess.

Next meeting for the group is Aug. 25 in the Flame Room.

Society meets

Thursday

The Genealogical Society of Big Spring met Thursday evening at the Howard County Library.

Margaret Barnett, president, presided.

The society is working to secure a sponsor for a booth at the Howard County Fair. A garage sale was finalized for the week-end.

A membership drive was discussed as dues are now payable.

Mrs. Richard Atkins requested a bibliography of personal genealogical libraries of the membership.

Mrs. Al Stephens was welcomed as a new member.

Guests were Ms. Cindy Moline and Ms. Mary Owens. The next meeting for the group will be at 7:15 p.m. Sept. 9 in the Conference Room of the Howard County Library. All meetings are open to visitors.

Altrusa meet

Members of the Altrusa Club met at Coker's with 14 members and one guest recently.

Kathleen P. Beahan was the guest. She attended with Olive Ruth Camden.

The group discussed the district conference of Altrusa, which is slated in Dallas Oct. 15-17. Myrtle Tatum was elected delegate with Frances Hendrick as alternate.

Both Kay gave the Altrusa accent. She described the Altrusa shield and gave its meaning.

Margaret Wooten gave the program, reviewing the article "Altrusa as a Builder of Women" which appeared in the magazine "The International Altrusa."

Food comes first

Food comes first — a recent poll showed the highest cost of food ranked first on the list of public concern. Crime and violence, inflation, high cost of medical care, high cost of gasoline, corruption in government and drug addiction followed in descending order, Mrs. Sally Coble, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

AAUW meets

The Big Spring branch of the American Association of University Women invites any prospective member to a membership coffee at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday, Aug. 21 from 10 a.m. until noon.

For reservations and further information, call 267-7017.

Webb women plan events

Plans for upcoming events of the next few months were announced Tuesday evening during the business meeting of the NCO Wives Club. All enlisted wives are urged to attend a social Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the NCO club. It will be a "fun evening for all" according to Joyce Back, publicity chairman.

Women planning to attend the social are asked to call Ellie Gregory at 263-6301 or Liz McConahay at 267-6008.

All women are invited to a luncheon Wednesday sponsored by the Federal Women's Program. It will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the NCO club at $2.50 per plate. Call Ida Raney, 267-2511, ext. 2162 or 2222, for reservations.

Commemorating women's suffrage, the program will include a film, "We Are Women" narrated by Helen Reddy.

ELLIE GREGORY is the new president of the NCO Wives Club. She is the wife of SMSgt. Shirley Gregory, first sergeant of Supply Squadron.

Season for sausage

This is the season for summer sausages, which are processed in several ways — fresh, cured and dried, and cured and cooked.

What goes into these summer sausages? They are made from varying combinations of beef, pork and veal, although meat byproducts such as heart meat, tongue meat and tripe also are used, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

In addition some sausage items include cereal or nonfat dry milk as extenders.

Most sausage products processed in federally and state inspected plants cannot contain more than 3 1/2 per cent of these extenders without being labeled as imitation, according to the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, the USDA agency which handles federal meat and poultry inspection.

However, some loaf items may contain more than 3 1/2 per cent extenders — including such other ingredients as pickles, olives or macaroni.

Other ingredients in summer sausages are seasonings. Salt is always used and serves as a flavoring ingredient and a preservative. Other common seasonings are sugar, pepper, sage, mace, ginger, nutmeg, and garlic.

Some sausages are characterized by a particular seasoning ingredient. For example, cooked salami contains whole pepper corns.

EMPLOYEE-OF-THE-YEAR Elaine Arnold watching the monitoring board during a working day at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Elaine Arnold has qualities for employe-of-the-year

Elaine Arnold, head nurse on the Intensive and Coronary Care Unit at Malone-Hogan hospital was honored last Friday in conjunction with being named the Dr. Frist-Employee of the Year.

Emily Ward, public relations, said that the contest was handled differently this year, with many hospital employees taking part in the nomination and election of Elaine. Ms. Ward said that 28 people were in the running for the employe of the year position. Winners were decided in part by ballots collected from almost every department in the hospital, said Ms. Ward. Eighteen judges went over all the nominations before announcing Elaine as the winner.

According to her fellow employes, Elaine has all the qualifications which make an employe of the year.

Bruce Hinshaw, educational director of respiratory therapy, said "Elaine is concerned with high quality care of all patients. She takes the responsibility of seeing that patients needs are accomplished. She is not the type of person to pass the buck. The buck stops with her."

Myrtle Banks, central supply, said "Elaine is a superplus person and nurse. She loves her work, and has compassion for all her patients. She is very warm and outgoing, and puts patients and fellow workers at ease. She's tops."

"It was like getting the nomination myself," said Cris Vandenberg, an ICU staff nurse who works closely with Elaine. "Elaine is my best friend as well as a person I work closely with. She cares for everyone as a person. The staff here is a reflection of Elaine's leadership. She never asks someone to do something she wouldn't do herself."

Mrs. Vandenberg added that the staff on the ICU ward bought Elaine a charm to present her in addition to the Dr. Frist-employe of the year award.

Elaine has been in Big Spring around 25 months. She is married to Rick Arnold, a T-37 instructor at Webb. She said that she was called in to see Norman Knox, hospital administrator, and found a line of people waiting for when she arrived. "It was really weird," said Elaine. The group told her right away of her election.

Elaine said that the reception was hosted by the volunteers and Ms. Ward. The nomination was an honor she never expected. She added that everything was "So pretty," especially a cake prepared by Kay Shaw.

Nursing was a career that Elaine came into "cold dystripping or hospital services, and had gone to college to major in education.

"It wasn't exciting enough," said Elaine. She changed her major to nursing, gaining a bachelor of science degree from Seton Hill University in South Orange, N.J.

Elaine said the nursing courses were tough, and that she had to learn to pace herself when involved with them.

"People are 95 per cent of the job," said Elaine. She added that she was pleased with her choice to make nursing a career.

Elaine and her husband have enjoyed their stay in Big Spring, and are not sure how much longer they will be here. "Everyone is so friendly and helpful here," said Elaine.

There were five fianlists listed during the contest, according to Ms. Ward. Other employes were Mary Alice Anderson, Carmen Phillips, Marquarrette Bryant, and Ann Fitts.

ELAINE ARNOLD stands with Dr. J.E. Mathews during the reception held in her honor last Friday at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Rudolph creator dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Advertising writer Robert L. May, who died recently at 71, became rich by translating the classic Ugly Duckling theme into reindeer terms.

His reindeer was Rudolph, the red-nosed little misfit who was scorned until his very deformity turned him into a hero.

May first wrote the story of Rudolph in 1939 as a Christmas giveaway for his employer, Montgomery Ward and Company. The original version was in prose.

May's tale of Rudolph guiding Santa Claus' sleigh by the light of his nose caught on fast. Ward's gave away 2.4 million copies of the tale during the 1939 Christmas season alone.

By the time he was temporarily retired for World War II, Rudolph was already one of the most successful advertising promotions of all time.

Rudolph came back strongly in 1946, in a new verse version May had written to fit the Moore's "A Visit from St. Nicholas," the Christmas poem which first made American children reindeer-happy back in 1823. By that point, Rudolph already had become better known than Comet or Cupid or any of the other six originals in Moore's poem. Ward's gave away 3.6 million copies of Rudolph that year.

Ward's turned the copyright on Rudolph over to May in 1947. A publisher turned out 100,000 copies of the poem as a children's book in time for the Christmas season.

The biggest break for May and his red-nosed brainchild came in 1949, when songwriter Johnny Marks set Rudolph's saga to music. Three record companies promptly jumped into the sleigh. Columbia's version alone, recorded by Gene Autry, sold 2 million copies in its first season.

The record sales never stopped. Neither did the Rudolph novelties. Thousands of plastic Rudolphs still adorn lawns, rooftops and Christmas trees every winter. His image has appeared on everything from neckties to plastic pencils.

Rhonda Carr exchanges vows with Joe Pat Harding

Miss Rhonda Carr and Joe Pat Harding exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony conducted Aug. 6 in the Vincent Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dalton F. Carr, 1601 Kentucky Way, and Mrs. Pat Harding, Vincent Rt., Coahoma.

The Rev. Ray Cunningham performed the ceremony in front of an altar adorned with twisting candelabra, palm trees, and blue and white carnations and mums. Mrs. Wally Cambell, cousin of the bride, provided music at the organ.

The bride wore a Victorian-style gown of imported silk and lace. Alencon lace flowers accented the bodice and sleeves. Small printed flowers encircled the silk hem that fell to a long train. The veil was enhanced with tiny clusters of pearls and fell beyond the train. Both the gown and the veil were ivory white and moon glow white imported silk.

The bride carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses, baby's breath and blue carnations.

Danna Martin, Layne Stallings, both cousins of the bride, and Donna Carpenter were bridesmaids. Groomsmen were Geary Williams, Terry Shafer, Tony Shafer, cousins of the groom from Coahoma.

Randy Carr, Rodney Carr and Ricky Carr, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The couple will reside in Vincent following a wedding trip to Dallas.

The bride will attend Snyder High School in the fall. The groom attended San Angelo State, Texas Tech and the University of Houston. He is employed by B&H Construction at Skelly Oil Company.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. G. N. Walker, Tammy Burrow, Mrs. Ted Hull, Renee Halden, Mrs. Loy Acuff, Cindy Brooks registered guests. The groom's family hosted a rehearsal dinner Thursday night at the home of Vernon Wolf.

MRS. JOE PAT HARDING

Mrs. Moore is honored

Mrs. H.T. (Birdie) Moore will be honored from 3:30 p.m. today with a 90th birthday party in the party room of the E. 4th Street Baptist Church. All friends are invited to come help her celebrate her birthday.

CEREMONY PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Sieler, 171A Fairchild, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Mark Hedges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hedges, 808 Lancaster. The couple will be married Sept. 4 in the Grace Baptist Church with the Rev. C. B. Hedges, grandfather of the groom, officiating.

Super secret suburb brings American influence

KWAJALEIN ISLAND (AP) — This super-secret suburb in the middle of the Pacific has brought American affluence tantalizingly close to native Marshall Islanders.

The United States moved the natives away to make way for a military base that became key part of the missile program. Now the islanders live on a dusty, disease-ridden slum island eight miles away, and only those with jobs on the missile base are allowed here.

Island leaders sometimes wish the missile test range would go away, but they concede they need the dollars that flow from it. The 3,000 American residents of Kwajalein Island are pampered with free movies, a golf course, sparkling beaches, subsidized food and top-flight schools and medical care. The tropical climate is perfect for bicycling to work along tree-shaded streets.

California seems much closer than 4,600 miles away.

The Marshall Islanders live on Ebeye — 73 parched acres where 7,000 people have crowded out all but a few trees and patches of grass. There is only one doctor to treat common ailments such as influenza, scabies, dysentery and malnutrition.

"There is no question that there is discrimination," says George Allen, an American lawyer employed by Micronesian Legal Services. "It is just like South Africa's apartheid."

But American officials say Kwajalein is no different from any other U.S. military base.

Kwajalein Atoll, a necklace of more than 90 small islands surrounding 1,000 square miles of lagoon, has been a missile test base since 1969. The Nike-Zeus, Nike-X, Sentinel and Safeguard ABM systems were tested here, and Kwajalein Lagoon is the target for ICBMs test-fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Security is strict. Visitors must get permission from the Army, and reporters have been allowed on the island only in the last few years.

Although the Safeguard system was scrapped, Kwajalein is now preparing to test radar and computers for another missile defense system.

"As long as there is ballistic missile defense testing and intercontinental ballistic missile testing, there will be a need for Kwajalein Missile Range," says Col. Robert L. Russell, the base commander.

Russell estimates the U.S. investment here at $1 billion. For the Marshallese, though, "Over the long term, Kwajalein is a real liability," says Sen. Amata Kabua of the Congress of Micronesia. "All of the evils of the ghetto are on Ebeye."

Rep. Ataji Balos, a member of the congress who was born on Kwajalein, concludes: "We're stuck with it."

The islanders have become dependent on the base. Kwajalein is worth $3.3 million a year in salaries to Marshallese employees, $2 million a year in taxes to local government and $704,000 in reparations to those who were relocated from Kwajalein.

Here, this is big money. The rest of the Marshall Islands earned barely $1.1 million in 1975 from exports and tourism.

Price of rice

During almost every month throughout the past year, the national average retail price of rice has declined. This is in contrast to the gradual rise in prices of most other food products.

The cost of a half-cup serving of cooked rice today is just over three cents, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reports.

The Army spent $7 million between 1966 and 1968 to build housing on Ebeye for 3,500. Today as many as 20 people are crammed into single $10-a-month units in now-dilapidated buildings.

What is the attraction for the Marshallese?

Some Marshallese are asking for a better deal—for example, access to Kwajalein's schools, stores and hospitals.

Col. Russell responds that Marshallese may not shop on Uwajalein for the same reason that Hawaii residents may not use the PX at Pearl Harbor. And he notes that seriously ill Marshallese are treated on Kwajalein, qualified Marshallese are given preference for jobs on Kwajalein and Kwajalein charities contribute more than $90,000 a year to projects in the Pacific.

Though a slum by American standards, Ebeye continues to be a magnet for the Marshallese. The lure of jobs and Western ways has pushed Ebeye's population from 2,000 to 7,000 in 15 years.

The 505 Marshallese who commute by boat to jobs on Kwajalein earn an estimated average wage of $3.15 an hour — four times the pay considered good elsewhere in the Marshall Islands. The Marshallese generally have menial jobs, though several hold skilled positions.

But few of the islanders are getting ahead because virtually every wage-earner is inundated by free-loading relatives.

"You can't just send people away," explained one Ebeye resident. "It is very bad in our custom."

The Army spent $7 million between 1966 and 1968 to build housing on Ebeye for 3,500. Today as many as 20 people are crammed into single $10-a-month units in now-dilapidated buildings.

He's hung up on having vasectomy

DEAR ABBY: My wife just had her fourth child, and we now have two boys and two girls, which are all we want.

My problem is that she wants me to have a vasectomy, but I'm chicken. It's not the pain I'm afraid of; it's just that I'm afraid I'll feel like less of a man just knowing that I won't be able to father any more children.

My wife can't tolerate the Pill, and the other methods of birth control turn her off, so it's up to me.

I feel dumb asking this, but should I or shouldn't I? What do other men who've had it say?

CHICAGO CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: If you're afraid you'll feel like "less of a man" after a vasectomy, the chances are you WILL, so unless you can overcome that feeling, I wouldn't recommend it.

Ask your wife to talk to her doctor about the new, quick and painless method of sterilization for women known as "laparoscopic tubal cautery." A tiny incision is made below the navel. The surgeon then inserts a scope, locates both tubes and seals them permanently. The incision is then closed with a small stitch, covered by a Band-aid. The patient can go home an hour later.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 32-year-old divorcee. No kids, thank heavens. I met a wonderful man. He's 68, but before you say he's too old for me, let me say that he can do everything a 25-year-old man can do, and I'm not just guessing.

He has had two bum marriages and says this is the first time in his life he's ever been in love. I get along fine with his two married daughters, and his grandchildren are crazy about me.

He has a summer home in Indiana and a winter home in Florida, and he's been retired for 10 years.

He has a pacemaker, but you'd never know it unless he told you.

My brother is trying to talk me out of marrying him because he's afraid I'll end up being a young widow, but my mother and father both died before they were 50, so I could be dead at 35. What is your advice?

WILLING TO GAMBLE

DEAR WILLING: No one knows how long he's going to live or what shape he'll be in next year, so gamble if you like. But if you live to be 50, and he's still alive, you'll have an 86-year-old husband.

DEAR ABBY: Howie and I have been married for two years.

Everything is fine except for one thing. Whenever Howie needs to see a doctor, he goes to his pediatrician. Abby, Howie is 20 years old and I think it's time he stopped going to a pediatrician and went to a regular doctor.

I've told him this, but he doesn't pay any attention to me. Maybe if YOU told him, he'd listen.

A BABY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: A pediatrician has all the training of a "regular" doctor, plus specialized training in the care of children, so if Howie is more comfortable with his pediatrician, why make waves?

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Earl of Aylesford

with Marj Carpenter

Earls were once top royalty, according to John Hutto's book on early Howard County. He said that the earls used to preside over English territories named shires and that the term shire-reef eventually got changed to the term sheriff in this country.

Then, as he discussed Big Spring's only earl, the Earl of Aylesford who came to the area in 1880s, he pointed out that Aylesford was a town of 3,000 inhabitants in Kent, England.

The seventh earl was born in 1849 and by the time he came to live in Big Spring, he was a middle aged man. He arrived some time in 1883. The early courthouse records show that on Dec. 10, 1883, he bought from John and J. G. Beaver a lot in block 29 of the city. He paid $800 for it. A year later, he was dead.

He was well born, well educated, took high honors at Cambridge and married a daughter of a member of Parliament. However, something went awry and he separated from his wife and two daughters, Hilda Gwendolyn and Alexandra Mina.

The Earl was reported to have been an intimate friend of the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII. He was known to have accompanied the Prince on a famous hunt to India. Guns and equipment made for that hunt later ended up in Big Spring.

The Earl apparently ran up a lot of debts and the courts of England condemned his high flings. They curtailed his expenses to $50,000 a year and he left in disgust, coming to Texas.

He was divorced and his brother was to succeed to his peerage since he had no son, so he came to Texas trying to accumulate property for his daughters. He had visited Colorado City, which was a rickety town and met John Birdwell and ended up coming to Howard County. He purchased sections 17, 19 and 25 in the county 15 miles north of town for $5,760 in cash. He along with two others, bought the Cosmopolitan Hotel for $1,000. He built the first permanent structure in town on 1212 Main Street.

The El Paso Times ran a story on Sept. 11, 1912 which said that the Earl arrived late one evening in Big Spring and went to a hotel seeking accommodations. When the proprietor said all of the rooms were occupied, the Earl purchased the hotel and took over enough rooms to accommodate his party.

There was also a story that he purchased a local saloon one night and asked all of his friends to drink their fill without cost. The party lasted all one night and the greater part of the next day. Practically every man in town got some of the free liquor. When the fun was over, he gave the saloon back to the owner.

A reporter of a Chicago paper is said to have visited Big Spring while the Earl was here and that the Earl originally came to West Texas after making the acquaintance of Jay Gould.

The reporter told of the Earl's fantastic gun collection, the loyalty of the cowboys who knew him, and the fact that he apparently preferred his whiskey straight and drank quite a lot of it.

His eulogy said in part, "The citizens of Big Spring are called upon to mourn the death of one of their number who has an interesting history and whom all revered and held an high esteem. The Right Honorable Earl of Aylesford (Heneage Finch), the seventh of that title, departed this life on Jan. 13, 1885 at his residence in the Cosmopolitan hotel. The Earl, though apparently an old man, was but in his 36th year at the time of his death, but his experience and pleasures would cover the life of a man of seventy."

Revenues increase by $606,000 at CRMWD

Revenues and expenses both are up for the Colorado River Municipal Water District through the first seven months of the year.

Revenues gained about 20 per cent on the sale of about 7 per cent more water, this being due in part to higher rates this year. Virtually all the margin between expense and revenue went to debt service, which is running higher this year because the payments on Lake Spence and Ward County well field projects from 1966-69 and 1970 are falling due.

Through July, revenues amounted to $3,699,973, up about $606,000 for the period. Of this amount $2,268,455 came from sales to cities, a gain of some $441,000, and another $1,371,382 from sales to oil companies, up $155. Recreation revenues of $52,109 were up by $10,000.

Operating expenses stood at $1,319,427 for the initial seven months of the year, up $306,000. The biggest contributor was energy charges of $665,000, a gain of $180,825 over the corresponding period in 1975.

In the seven months $2,345,000 of net revenues was transferred largely for debt service. Water sales which generated the revenue amounted to 10,844,739,000 gallons, up 673,000,000 gallons.

COMMISSION SALES
 San Angelo, Abilene, and Big Spring area.
 If you have some (outside) sales experience, a way with people, the desire to advance your income... and your career, we can help you reach your career potential and accelerate your professional growth in an environment that thrives on personal achievement.
 We are the nation's largest supplier of equipment, furnishing and supplies for hotels, restaurants, and institutions, and have an immediate opening in the above listed territory. We offer excellent commissions, where earnings are in direct relation to your efforts. Our average salesmen earn annually:
$22,000
 (Based solely on commission.)
 Everything is up to you... You must have your own car and take care of your own expenses... But we'll take care of all the rest. If you have the confidence it takes, call us.
 For personal interview, call Mr. Bob Denker (of the Edward Don Co.)
 Sunday 5:00 p.m.-8:00 p.m.
 Monday 9:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m.

Card of Thanks

THE FAMILY OF MRS. BUD (OPHELIA) TUCKER EXPRESSES A Card of Thanks
 Perhaps you sang a lovely song Or sat quietly in a chair; Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers, If we saw them there. Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words As any friend could say; Perhaps you were not there at all, Just thought of us that day. Perhaps you prepared some tasty food, Or maybe furnished a car. Perhaps you rendered a service unseen Near at hand or from afar. Whatever you did to console the heart We thank you so much Whatever the part. Especially thanks to the nurses and doctors of Cowper Hospital and Nalley-Pickle for wonderful service rendered. Bud Tucker & The Roberts Family
