First major racial violence in white area of city

Police charge demonstrators

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Riot police fired tear gas and charged more than 3,000 colored, or mixed race, demonstrators in downtown Cape Town today in the first major racial violence in a white area of the city.

Hundreds of colored students were reported arriving at Cape Town's railway station to join the protesters, who were rallying to show solidarity with South Africa's blacks.

Police used the tear gas after demonstrators smashed a police truck with stones and scaffolding poles from a building site. Screaming and choking bystanders ran for cover in nearby shops and office buildings.

Traffic in the area came to a halt as the demonstrators marched through the center of town, rocking cars and molesting whites. Elderly women were knocked down in a baton charge by police, and pedestrians in Adderley Street, one of Cape Town's main arteries, fled for refuge.

The demonstrators then broke up into several groups. One group marched past the Houses of Parliament and a larger group gathered in Greenmarket Square.

There were no reports of serious injuries.

In Johannesburg, the South African Council of Churches called on South Africans "concerned with the need for Christian justice" to note the widespread detentions of black leaders in South Africa in recent weeks.

Over 800 blacks have been detained, many under laws providing indefinite detention without trial, as the government moved to crush widespread rioting in segregated black and colored townships across the country since June 16.

"It is alarming that protest by South Africans concerned with the need for Christian justice has been almost nil," the statement said.

"As Christians we must protest in the strongest possible terms this flagrant violation of human rights. And we call for the release of those detained — or for them to be charged," it added.

In Durban, transport for thousands of black and white commuters was disrupted in a strike over higher wages by 500 black bus drivers. They are demanding a raise of $105 a month following a decision to give white drivers a higher rate of pay than blacks, colored and Indians.

Prime Minister John Vorster has rejected Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's criticism of South Africa's racial policies, saying "moral lessons and threats" from outsiders will not influence his government.

In a statement three days before he and Kissinger meet to discuss racial tensions in southern Africa's white-ruled nations, Vorster said Wednesday that South Africa determines its own internal and foreign policies and will not be dictated to by other nations or individuals.

He said he was not commenting directly on recent "speeches or events" but wanted to clarify his nation's attitude.

SOUTH AFRICAN VIOLENCE — A crowd of colored, or mixed race, demonstrators, are charged by riot police in downtown Cape Town today. It was the first major racial violence in a white area of the city.

Hays calls it quits to escape inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — His political power destroyed by scandal, Wayne L. Hays chose resignation from Congress as the only way left to halt the House ethics committee's investigation into payroll-sex charges.

The Ohio Democrat quit late Wednesday after a two-day effort by his aides to negotiate an end to the ethics committee investigation. The ethics panel quickly terminated the probe when Hays resigned.

Hays' resignation ended 28 years in Congress during which he built his chairmanship of the House Administration Committee into a pinnacle of legislative power.

The power he wielded, sometimes with seeming arrogance, began to crumble three months ago when the payroll-sex charge by Elizabeth Ray touched off a Capitol Hill scandal that involved sex allegations against half a dozen congressmen.

Sources close to the ethics committee said one reason Hays wanted to halt the panel's inquiry was his concern that the publicity and lurid details would put too much emotional pressure on his wife, Pat.

House Speaker Carl Albert told newsmen after he received Hays' resignation letter: "I think he did it to save his family."

Hays' press secretary, Carol Clawson, said earlier this week that Mrs. Hays had suffered emotional stress.

The resignation came two days after the ethics committee voted to begin hearings into the allegations that Hays put Miss Ray on the payroll of the Administration Committee, although she had little to do other than provide him with sex.

Stay tuned for great debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stay tuned for the Great Debates, starring (in alphabetical order) Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, and billed as the political spectacle of the decade.

Democratic presidential nominee Carter and Republican candidate Ford agreed Wednesday to meet for three nationally televised debates, with the first live confrontation scheduled for Sept. 23, a Thursday.

The debates will be the first between presidential candidates since the clashes between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

Negotiators for the two candidates reached agreement on the format for the debates after an all-day meeting Wednesday with representatives of the League of Women Voters, which will sponsor the debates.

In addition to the trio of debates involving the presidential candidates, an unprecedented debate between the two vice presidential candidates, Republican Sen. Bob Dole and Democratic Sen. Walter Mondale, will be slipped in after the second Carter-Ford meeting.

The topic for the first Ford-Carter debate will be economic and domestic issues. The second debate topic will be defense and foreign policy and the final meeting will be open to any subject.

Both Ford and Carter hailed the agreement. "I believe the American people will be the winners," Ford said.

The President earlier had spent part of the day arguing for increased defense spending and a strong U.S. military posture overseas in a speech before a National Guard group.

Then, meeting with reporters at a hastily called news conference on the White House lawn, Ford said debates "are very important" and will give voters "an honest picture of the candidates."

Meanwhile, Carter said at his home in Plains, Ga., that the debates will not make or break either candidate unless one of them "failed miserably."

He added: "I think I can hold my own. I do intend to be aggressive and to draw as sharp a comparison as I can between President Ford and myself and our ability to lead this country."

Carter indicated that the Ford negotiators had given way on nearly every point that Carter stressed. Carter had wanted the first debate topic to be the economy and domestic affairs, which it will be, and not foreign policy, which Ford had wanted. And the debate will take place somewhere other than Washington, also as Carter had sought.

Colorado City police chief resigns early

COLORADO CITY — Police Chief Jesse Browning presented a letter announcing his retirement one month early here Tuesday night.

That set off a chain of events which left ex-Big Spring James Campbell, now the Colorado City city manager, as temporary head of the police department.

Browning faces compulsory retirement because of his age. Campbell announced during the meeting that Assistant Chief L. C. Devorce was to be dismissed for not properly performing his duties.

Browning's surprise announcement is believed to have been inspired by Campbell's decision to fire Devorce. It's apparent Browning did not think those reasons were valid. Devorce is being separated from the force immediately.

Campbell has declined to discuss the reasons for Devorce's dismissal, but disclosed that the assistant chief would be handed a letter, wherein the reasons would be detailed. Campbell said he had no plans to make the letter public.

The city council has been screening applications in preparation for Browning's departure from the force.

Campbell predicted an announcement about a new chief would be made within the near future.

It is now U.S. Senate's turn to decide pay raise issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is now up to the Senate to decide whether senators, congressmen and other members of the upper strata of the federal government should accept pay raises in the home stretch of a national election year.

Members of the House of Representatives, most of them in the midst of re-election campaigns, decided on a 325 to 75 vote Wednesday that they really don't need election year pay hikes. And, in a surprise move, the House also decided the election year salary increases should be denied to senators, federal judges and high executive officials.

The pay raise for the law-makers and high-level officials would be automatic as of Oct. 1 under usual procedure. If members of the House and Senate take their automatic pay raises their salaries would rise from $44,600 a year to about $46,740 a year.

The House voted against the pay raises by adding an amendment to the bill that provides money to run Congress and its related agencies. The House then passed the $780-million measure.

The bill now goes to the Senate, which is expected to take it up after the Labor Day recess.

While all House seats are up for election, only one-third of the Senate seats are at stake and senators presumably are feeling less political pressure to avoid a raise that might inflame voters.

George Zachariah, former Big Spring mayor, dies

George J. Zachariah, 68, former Big Spring mayor, died at 12:55 a.m., today in a local hospital following a recent illness.

Rosary will be at 7 o'clock this evening in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Services will be at 10 a.m., Friday in the chapel, with the Rev. Louis Moeller, pastor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, Catholic Church, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Zachariah took a role in much of the civic promotion and in city programs over a period of two decades. He served as mayor four years and was on the city commission over a decade.

Mr. Zachariah was born Sept. 10, 1907, in Baton Rouge, La. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army. He moved to Big Spring from Fort Worth in 1940 and was a retired purchasing agent for Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. He was a member of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, the American Legion, the American Business Club. He was president of the Texas Crippled Children's Association, a member of the Ambassador's Club of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board of directors of the Heritage Museum.

He was past commander and served on the executive committee of Howard County American Legion Post No. 355. He was a member of the board of the Cosden Employees Federal Credit Union.

Zachariah was interested in young people and was instrumental each year in the selection of the American Legion Youth awards. He served on the advisory committee for Industrial Cooperative Training. He was executive director for the United Fund and also served at one time on the board of the YMCA.

He was a former vice president and director of the Chamber of Commerce. He was a longtime member and a past president of the Easter Seal Society of Texas for Crippled Children. He helped establish the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Zachariah was a past president of the American Business Club, past exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge and past chaplain of the Eagle Lodge.

He was presented a certificate from the governor for his efforts in promoting mental health and mental health retardation work. He was affiliated with the Catholic Church.

Zachariah also helped organize and was a past president of the Heritage Museum in which he was extremely active. He was already at work on this year's United Fund drive.

Survivors include his widow, Evelyn, of the home; his mother, Mrs. M. N. Zachariah, Galveston; three brothers, Emile Zachariah, Houston, Woodrow Zachariah, Belgium; and Joseph Zachariah, California; sister, Mrs. Agnes Powell, Galveston.

The family suggests memorials to the Texas Crippled Children's Association.

Garden City youth dies in crash

GARDEN CITY — Stuart Wooten, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wooten of Garden City, died in a one-vehicle crash at 9:50 p.m. Wednesday south of here.

The youth, who worked as a ranch hand in Glasscock County, apparently lost control of his small car on County Road 332.1 miles south of town.

The accident report said that the car was headed north when it left the roadway on the right-hand side, whipped back across the road, struck an embankment and rolled over 4 1/2 times.

The car came to rest on top of the driver who had been thrown from the vehicle. Justice of the Peace John Robinson pronounced the youth dead at the scene. State Trooper Ben Lockhart was investigating officer.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Who funds BBB?

Q. Who funds the Better Business Bureau? I've written two letters complaining about a business transaction and the Better Business Bureau with headquarters in Midland has refused to acknowledge receiving my letters. Who do you go to when the BBB ignores you?

A. A spokeswoman at the Better Business Bureau in Midland said that the BBB is funded (or supported) by local businessmen. She also stated that when a letter of complaint is received, the Bureau forwards that letter, along with a letter of their own, to the business involved. "We work on a voluntary basis here," she said, "and the business involved is also on a voluntary basis to clarify the matter."

A letter to the Attorney General of Texas office in Austin asking for a "Consumer's Complaint Form" will bring fast action. The office will send a two-page form to fill out concerning the complaint, and upon receiving your reply, they will send a letter of inquiry to the business involved, asking for their side of the story within 10 days. If the business doesn't reply, the Attorney General's office will contact them personally.

Calendar: Young Demos meet

TODAY
The Big Spring Steers Junior Varsity will start their regular season action Thursday night at 7 o'clock in Big Spring's Memorial Stadium against the Andrews JV squad.

Organizational meeting of Howard County Young Democrats, 7:30 p.m., county courtroom, courthouse.

No movies will be shown at the Howard County Library. Summer has passed, and the program ended.

Both Big Spring Steer ninth-grade football squads will be in action in Andrews Thursday night. The Toros will play at 5:30 p.m. and the Brahmas will follow them at 7:30.

Offbeat: Frozen chickens 'hot'

Law officials here today said it had been a number of years since they had booked a charge of chicken theft.

Charles Walter Douglas, 28, Richard Hodnett, 36 and Danny Ray Johnson, 22, were all charged with theft over $200 in regards to theft of several cases of frozen chickens.

Their bonds were set at $5,000 by Justice of the Peace Bobby West and they were all out on bond this morning after being transferred from the city to the county jail.

The theft occurred from a truck parked at the American Restaurant Wednesday night. State Trooper Bill Jennings assisted city police with the arrests.

Best bet on TV: Holiness or heresy?

The ABC News special Close-up at 9 p.m. offers an interesting topic, "New Religions: Holiness or Heresy." This investigative report will look into the background of the Unification Church and its leader, self-proclaimed Rev. Sun Myung Moon, and will also bring into focus some of the controversy surrounding the American Church of Scientology and its founder L. Ron Hubbard.

Inflation in America easing

Big dip in farm prices posted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steepest drop in farm prices in 18 months drove wholesale prices down one-tenth of a percent during August, the government said today. The report showed a further easing of inflation.

The Labor Department said prices of agricultural products fell 2.9 per cent during the month, the fifth price decline this year and the largest since a 4 per cent drop in February, 1975. The new declines should mean lower supermarket prices for the consumer, since at least part of the food price decreases at the farm level usually are passed along to the retail level within a relatively short period of time.

Prices declined sharply at the wholesale level for grain, hogs, cotton and oil seeds, the agency said. Partially offsetting the decreases were higher prices for poultry, cattle, eggs and coffee.

Processed foods and feeds declined 2.9 per cent, the sharpest drop in this category since a 5.5 per cent drop in September, 1973.

The price trend has been a positive development in the economy for the Ford administration. Price increases have been running only about half of what they were a year earlier.

The wholesale price decline of one-tenth of a percent in August compared with an increase of three-tenths of a percent in July and was the first decline since February when wholesale prices fell four-tenths of a percent.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices increased 4 per cent during the 12 months ending in August, which reflects a continuing slowdown in the rate of inflation in the economy. Wholesale prices increased 5.6 per cent during the 12-month period ending in August, 1975.

The department said the wholesale price index in August stood at 183.7, meaning that goods which cost $100 at the wholesale level in 1967 cost $183.70 last month.

On the negative side for consumers was a seven-tenths of a per cent increase in prices of industrial commodities, led by price advances for wood products, fuels, rubber, plastic products and transportation equipment.

Economists usually are more concerned about price trends for industrial commodities as an indication of the underlying inflationary pressures in the economy, since they are less volatile than farm prices.

Industrial commodities prices also increased seven-tenths of a per cent in July.

Businessmen in 'Limbo' after peso devaluation

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Rio Grande Valley merchants were to get an inkling today whether they will sink or swim with the "floating" Mexican peso.

Businessmen—left in limbo after Wednesday's devaluation of the peso—nervously awaited the opening of Mexican banks this morning.

The banks closed their doors Wednesday in observance of a national political holiday.

The Mexican government announced Wednesday the peso would be allowed to float in the international money market.

When U.S. merchants opened their doors to peso-carrying customers the rate of exchange varied from 16 to 25 pesos per American dollar.

Tuesday's standard was 12.5 pesos per dollar. The value of the floating peso fluctuated from four cents in the McAllen-Hidalgo area across the Rio Grande from Reynosa, Mexico, to five cents in Brownsville, the sister city to Matamoros, Mex.

"For a while, the confusion (over the value of the peso) will cause concern," said W.M. "Buster" Stevenson, president of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce.

"But the lower prices in Mexico that results from the devaluation will attract more U.S. tourists which will help our tourist trade also."

Tourism is big business throughout the Rio Grande Valley.

The Brownsville area alone gets "more than $46 million a year in tourist trade," says Stevenson.

Businessmen from the McAllen-Hidalgo area were urged to accept pesos.

Andy Paris, one of the spokesmen at a Wednesday meeting in McAllen for retailers, asked merchants to risk taking a loss at the 20-to-1 exchange rate.

"The goodwill generated between McAllen and its Mexican customers by the continued acceptance of Mexican currency will more than make up the difference," he said.

A recent chamber of commerce poll of the area's merchants revealed that 38 per cent of their business generated from across the border.

Government employees meet

The American Federation of Government Employees, Local 1926, will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The meeting will be in the Union Hall across from Cosden Oil Refinery. Purpose of the meeting is to install new officers.

Also Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, $20; James C. Pickle, $25; Duncan Drilling Co., $100; Bethany Sunday School Class, First Baptist Church, $20; Mr. and Mrs. Merel Ringener, memory of Mrs. Ted Hull, $10; and Ruth Patricia Goebel, $5.

Back in jail

Floyd Wharton, who is in custody of the Howard County sheriff's office, was transferred from the VA Hospital back to the jail Wednesday.

He was taken to the VA hospital for medical treatment on Aug. 23.

Museum to close

The Heritage museum will be closed Friday morning for the funeral of museum director and past president George Zachariah.

The museum will open at 1 p.m.

Deaths

Stuart Wooten

Funeral services for Stuart Wooten, 19, of Garden City will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist church in Garden City.

The youth was killed in a one-vehicle accident south of Garden City on Wednesday night. Interment will be at the Garden City Cemetery with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge.

Born March 19, 1957 in Big Spring, he was a lifelong resident of Garden City. He graduated from high school there in May and was working on the Glen Riley ranch. He would have entered the Marine Corp next week.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Wooten; three brothers, Joe Wooten, Austin; Gerald Wooten, Dallas; and David Wooten, Garden City.

Grandmothers include Mrs. W. L. (Bill) Robinson, Garden City and Mrs. Ruth Childress, Enid, Okla.

Elizabeth Barlow, 71, of Borger, formerly of Big Spring, died Tuesday in Borger. Services will be at 2 p.m. today at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel here.

Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick, pastor of First Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include a daughter, Mary E. Pace of Borger; a sister, Annie Mae Hodge of Houston; a grandson; and three great-grandchildren.

Police beat Beer, boot burglars strike

A boy was nabbed inside the Hillman Saddlery, 110 E. 2nd, 10:05 p.m. Wednesday.

According to reports, several officers covered each entrance to the building while Detective J. D. Carter boosted Officer James Nettles through an open window on the shop's south side. Once inside, Nettles found that the "floor was covered with open boot boxes and boots lying around."

Nettles continued the search into the main office where he found a male juvenile crouched behind a desk. The youth was arrested for suspicion of burglary and possession of marijuana.

Beer burglars broke into Betty Lou's Bar, 1012 W. 3rd, around 3 a.m. today.

After breaking the hasp and lock on the front door of the establishment, the thugs entered the main barroom, and loaded up 20 cases of Coors, 10 cases of Budweiser and five cases of Schlitz. They then emptied the cigarette machine of $50 in cash. Total loss including damage was estimated at $375.

Officer James Nettles arrested a Pampa man on a warrant from that city, Wednesday. The man was wanted by Pampa police for the unlawful delivery of marijuana, a felony. He was collared at the Wagon Wheel Drive-in on Fourth and Birdwell.

Brad Dugan, 1408 Lancaster, reported the theft of two CB antennas from his truck sometime between 1 and 6 a.m. Wednesday. The loss was estimated at $65.

Burglars made off with a $150 CB from a car belonging to Larry Clawson of Coahoma sometime after 8 p.m. Wednesday. The car was parked at the Lamp-lighter Club of the Ramada Inn.

James Ray Wrightsil, 1605 Bucknell, reported that intruders broke into a house owned by him on 604 N. San Antonio, sometime during the week.

According to reports, the thugs unsuccessfully tried to enter through a window on the home's south side, and a door on the east side. They were successful, however, in breaking a door window and unlocking the door on the northside of the home. It is at this time unknown what was stolen.

Many streams bankfull or overflow in Texas

Renewed rains hit soggy sections of Texas today, keeping many streams bankfull or overflowing in low areas.

They followed a round of heavy thunderstorms across most of the state during the night, which in turn capped downpours measuring up to about 9 inches around Sonora in Southwest Texas and sent the Devil's River on the rampage through some of its narrow canyons.

Deluges in other areas dumped 6.80 inches of rain along the San Saba River around Ft. McKavett in Menard County, about 6 inches on the north fork of the Llano River above Junction and 5.45 inches which boosted the total to 8.15 in 36 hours at Ennis in Ellis County.

By this morning many of the roughest storms belabored areas from Central Texas into the Hill Country and beyond, hitting around Corsicana, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Junction, Kerrville, Lampasas and Del Rio. Many turned loose rain at rates up to 2 inches per hour.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy north and considerable cloudiness south through Friday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms, more numerous and heavier in south. Low tonight low 50s mountains, mid 50s north to mid 60s south. High Friday 80s except upper 70s mountains.

EXTENDED FORECAST — WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy with widely scattered showers and thunderstorms Saturday through Monday. Warmer Monday. Low 50s mountains and north to 60s south. High Saturday and Sunday 70s mountains 80s north to 90s south. Highs Monday mid 70s mountains to 90s elsewhere.

Sun sets today at 7:09 p.m. Sun rises Friday at 6:22 a.m. Highest temperature this date 105 in 1947. Lowest 50 in 1974. Most precipitation 2.23 in 1927.

WEATHER FORECAST — Warm weather is forecast today for most of the nation. Cooler weather is expected for Minnesota and mild weather for the Northeast. Showers are forecast for much of Texas and areas of New Mexico and Oklahoma and from the Carolinas to the Midwest.

U.S., North Korea fail to wrap up pact

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Representatives of the United States and North Korea scheduled another meeting Friday after failing today to wrap up an agreement on arrangements to prevent violence between their forces in the Panmunjom truce village.

The secretaries of the Korean Military Armistice Commission have been meeting daily since Tuesday. They are discussing North Korea's proposal that its forces and those of the United Nations Command be separated physically by the military demarcation line which runs through the middle of Panmunjom and the rest of the demilitarized zone. Allied sources said after Wednesday's meeting that agreement on major points was near. They said the North Koreans agreed to give up their four check-points on the south side of the demarcation line. The negotiators were reported still discussing guarantees for free movement by reporters, tourists and other civilians throughout the truce village.

Panmunjom, the only site at which the adversaries of the Korean war meet regularly, is a joint security area about 850 yards in diameter. The Korean Armistice permits the armed forces of both sides to move throughout it without restriction.

Freeman sex hearing ends

The hearing conducted by the Air Force on allegations of misconduct by Maj. Harold R. Freeman while stationed in the Philippines ended Wednesday at Webb Air Force Base.

The information office issued a statement late Wednesday which said, "The article 32 investigation has been completed. No further comment may be made until a decision has been made by a competent authority concerning the charges."

Maj. Freeman also faces state charges on sex crimes alleged to have been committed in his Sand Springs home.

Farm Dawson County tour

Around 75 Dawson County farmers took time out to study better methods of farming and better varieties of cotton when they held their annual farm tour Wednesday.

One of the items of most interest was reports on nematode control. The farmers, in addition to studying the resistant strains at the J. D. Eldridge and Gary Jones farms, saw results of an off-station cotton nematode fumigation test on the Jones farm. This was conducted by Dr. Calvin Orr, who pointed out that fumigation may be the answer in the increase of nematodes in cotton roots on Dawson County farms.

The problem traditionally worsens with the number of years of regular cotton crops.

The farmers also showed a great deal of interest in an irrigated off-station cotton variety test at the Blaine Middleton farm.

They studied cotton varieties at the Tom Boyd, Bobby Cohorn, Andy Bratcher and Milton Schnieder farms.

John Farris, assistant county agent, said that one of the sideights of the trip was getting to see how good the crops look in the county this year.

"I imagine that this last rain will mean an additional 20,000 to 25,000 bales of cotton in the county," he predicted.

Farris said that there are still a lot of blooms which will probably turn to bolls the next two months.

He said that the entire county got a beneficial rain, except in the Welch area.

Sponsors of the annual farm tour included the Dawson County subcommittee on crops in cooperation with the Lamesa Cotton Growers, the Chamber of Commerce, the Dawson County Farmers Union and the Dawson County Farm Bureau. Bill Meares served as chairman.

The meeting will be in the Union Hall across from Cosden Oil Refinery. Purpose of the meeting is to install new officers.

peanut protein has been lagging behind other proteins like those from soybeans and cottonseed because of the government's artificially high price.

Total costs for the peanut protein concentrate were estimated at 32 to 35 cents a pound by Mattil. He said the protein is highly soluble, and important advantage over soybean protein.

Federal funds from the Office of Education, a part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), had been slow in coming this year due to revised guidelines and reinspection of individual programs, which takes place every five years.

"We didn't even make our proposal until about July," said Herbert Johnson, director of Upward Bound.

Apparently, funds are dwindling for the two-year-old project. Last year's "low budget" was about $73,000. This year the program at Howard College requested about $50,000 and received about $3,000 less.

The basic philosophy, said Johnson, is to bring under-achieving, financially disadvantaged young people into the middle class, by giving them a chance at a post-secondary education, which they would not have considered without assistance, both financially and scholastically.

All high school youths in the program must be at the poverty level or below, although not all of them are under-achievers in their school work. Johnson stated that he might be hard-pressed to justify why some kids are in the program. Some are in national honor societies and some are struggling to stay in school.

"A lot of these students are ones that it would never have occurred to them that they would ever walk through the doors of a college."

The Office of Education feels that helping high school youths before they get to college is the only way out for them, Johnson said.

During the academic year, students from Forsan, Big Spring, Coahoma, Colorado City and Snyder meet on Saturdays for cultural and recreational activities along with vocational and academic counseling.

In the summer students live in dorms at Howard College and seniors who have just graduated may take their first six hours at no cost. Dorm facilities and meals are also paid by the program.

Stipends of $5 are paid to winter students who meet on Saturdays since most of them have jobs. It's just a token payment which cannot compensate for a day's work, said Johnson.

Johnson said the Upward Bound proposal, which includes a narrative of the program and a budget, could not be made without guidelines. The

Peanuts to stretch 'cheese-like' foods?

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Peanut growers see their product as a possible answer to forecasts of diminishing supplies of milk for use in producing cheese and Texas J&M University is looking into the possibility.

A research project is under way at the Food Protein Research and Development Center at the university testing blends of a protein made from peanuts and milk components in making "cheese-like" foods.

A $16,778 grant from the Texas Peanut Producers Board at Gorman is backing the project.

Dr. Karl F. Mattil, head of the protein center, said some major manufacturers of dairy products fear that by 1985 they will be able to buy only about one-half of the milk that will be needed for making such products as cheddar and cottage cheese and yogurt.

He said the peanut protein could be used to stretch milk supplies while posing no threat to dairy farmers. He said it was a "safe bet" that within 10 years dairy products like cheeses and ice cream will be stretched with protein from peanuts.

Mattil said the use of

To help 'poor' get education Upward bound program funded

By CANDY SMITH

The Upward Bound program at Howard College, which had been "in limbo" over funding for the last few months, received word Wednesday from Cong. Omar Burleson that the $46,356 federal grant had been approved.

Federal funds from the Office of Education, a part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), had been slow in coming this year due to revised guidelines and reinspection of individual programs, which takes place every five years.

"We didn't even make our proposal until about July," said Herbert Johnson, director of Upward Bound.

SEoul, South Korea (AP) — Representatives of the United States and North Korea scheduled another meeting Friday after failing today to wrap up an agreement on arrangements to prevent violence between their forces in the Panmunjom truce village.

The secretaries of the Korean Military Armistice Commission have been meeting daily since Tuesday. They are discussing North Korea's proposal that its forces and those of the United Nations Command be separated physically by the military demarcation line which runs through the middle of Panmunjom and the rest of the demilitarized zone.

Allied sources said after Wednesday's meeting that agreement on major points was near. They said the North Koreans agreed to give up their four check-points on the south side of the demarcation line. The negotiators were reported still discussing guarantees for free movement by reporters, tourists and other civilians throughout the truce village.

Viet veteran to conduct church services tonight opens 'pride drive' season

David Roeber, an ordained minister of the Assemblies of God will be conducting services at Evangel Temple Assembly of God Church, 2205 Goliad, at 7 p.m. tonight.

The public is invited to attend services through Sunday night at the church.

Roeber is a Vietnam veteran, having served in the United States Navy and was serving on a river patrol boat near the Cambodian border. He worked in conjunction with the United States "Seal" team.

On July 26, 1969, while in an attempt to destroy an enemy bunker, he was wounded when a sniper's bullet penetrated the back of his hand.

This caused a white phosphorus grenade to explode six inches from his face. He was burned over 37 per cent of his body, 30 per cent being third degree burns.

After his recovery, he resumed full time evangelistic work and has conducted meetings from coast to coast and in many foreign countries.

In 1974 and 1975, Rev. Roeber returned to Viet Nam on tours in world ministries. He was in Vietnam when the communists were taking over DaNang.

The public is cordially invited to hear this unusual and dynamic evangelist, according to Terry Wilson, Evangel Temple pastor.

Traveling to Andrews, Friday, the Steer Band will make its marching debut. To open this season, the "Pride Drive" will perform "Steer Band Fanfare," written by Gene Currie exclusively for the Big Spring High School Band.

Under the field direction of drum majors Debbie Shroyer and Blane Hinton, the band will then perform the march "Klaxon." The 1976-1977 twirlers, Lisa Kelly, Anita Butler, Shonna Garrison, and Cindy Cowan, will then be featured in an arrangement of the disco favorite, "That's The Way I Like It."

The band will then form the letters S.W.A.T., which "Steers Will Attack Tonight."

'Private---keep out'

Occupants of complex bare it all

AUSTIN (AP) — The apartments at a small Northeast Austin complex may be furnished, but there is a bare look about some of the tenants.

Dwellers of this unique residential complex cavort in the nude, romping around a small swimming pool.

It is a way of life that costs about 10 per cent more than standard rental rates for similar apartments.

A sign on the locked gate reads: "Private-Keep Out. Attention guests-Nudity Inside."

And inside the small red brick complex consisting of 14 one-bedroom apartments the tenants lol in unclad ease.

It all started because a group of friends in another apartment building liked to skinny dip at night, Manager Terry Parker of the Canyon Villa told the Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University of Texas.

He checked a number of management companies and apartment owners about a nude complex and got an eager response. The group finally decided on Canyon Villa.

"Until we got our gate up we were semi-officially nude," Parker said. "But I filled the place up right away. Now that we've got our gate, we're legal and we have a long waiting list."

Perry said the clothing optional feature is reflected by the higher rent.

"Nudity is a feature just like being on a shuttle bus route corner," he said.

A tenant sunbathing on a chaise lounge volunteers that "the thing about this place is that people are real peaceful... People here are more free."

Parker, a former Jehovah's Witness minister, now is thinking about expanion. "Before, people had to go out in the woods to a resort somewhere. This is the first time we're bringing nudity into the place where people live and work," he said. "I'm building up a list so I can open a new place."

Command selects Parrish

Charles R. Parrish is Air Training Command (ATC) selectee for the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Civilian Maintenance Personnel Award. He is a worker and supervisor who troubleshoots and repairs aircraft navigational systems components.

A former Air Force enlisted man, Mr. Parrish has worked at Webb AFB since shortly after it was reactivated in 1952. His military service was from his high school graduation in 1949 to December 1952.

"I know of Mr. Parrish's work and heartily agree with ATC's choice," said Col. Harry A. Spannaus, wing commander. "This is an outstanding achievement of his part as well as a feather in the cap of the 78th Flying Training Wing."

"Overwhelmed," was the comment of Parrish. A fellow worker Winfred "Red" Campbell, said, "He is the most deserving in the Air Force, there's no doubt in my mind."

Mr. Campbell added that not only is Parrish very good in his job and a well balanced technician in all areas, but he has good rapport with men he supervises plus his supervisors "all the way up and down the line."

Active in his community, Parrish was city councilman in Coahoma for eight years. He also assisted in the federal wage surveys because of his talents in dealing with business leaders when representing Webb.

On the job, Parrish's crew established an impressive record. They repair or return some items awaiting parts to the supply depot, either on or ahead of schedule about 99 per cent of the time.

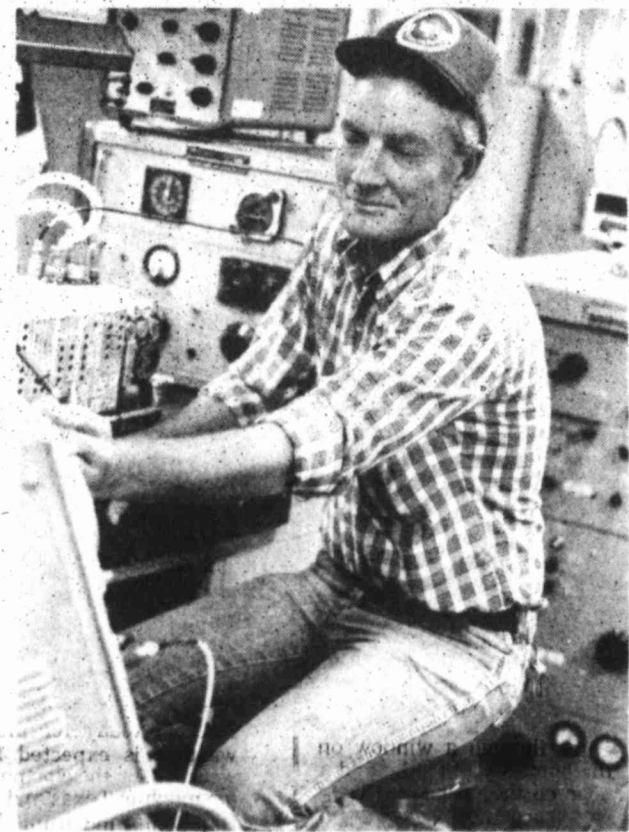

At a time when costs are going up, Parrish has motivated his crew to consider the cost in all instances. As a result, the radio-radar section has decreased its expenses while almost every other section has increased. Operating expenses have averaged only 80 per cent of target expenditures. "Mr. Parrish is one of those rare individuals," said Col. Roy D. Dayton, deputy commander for maintenance. He was talking about his technical know-how which enables him to solve any complex maintenance problem on all equipment for which he is responsible as a supervisor. Ordinarily a supervisor in his capacity has to seek another supervisor's assistance for about 5 per cent of the problems encountered.

In his letter announcing parrish's award, Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, ATC commander, said, "The competition for this year's awards was keen. Of the six categories available, personnel have been selected in three to represent ATC at Air Force level."

Support of citizens make difference

Does the support of citizens for an Air Force base make a difference? The answer is most certainly yes. Consider this letter received recently from Sen. John Tower. The senator said in part:

Force of the folly inherent in its announced proposal to close Webb. "It will be my intention to join the citizens of Big Spring in closely scrutinizing the draft environmental impact statement at such time as it may be released by the Air Force. "The positive attitude and high degree of community interest on the part of the Big Spring citizens has certainly been the backbone of our efforts to get to the facts of this matter," the senator concluded. So it does matter that the community stand together in support of Webb, especially at the critical two or three-month period following the release of the impact statement.

PRESIDENT FORD has promised Sen. Tower that he will personally review the Webb situation before any decision is final.

There is every indication that the President plans to stick by that promise. The next two months should be most interesting. —J. TOM GRAHAM

Farm Policy

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Governor Carter. What I said is not exactly right, not to be taken literally. Great God, man, obviously there are exceptions. When I say there will be no more embargoes on farm products quote once and for all unquote, I really mean that there won't be more dangerous embargoes on farm products except under extraordinary circumstances. My goodness, what's so special about that? When you go to the altar and promise to love and care for your wife in sickness and in health till death do you part, everybody knows that there are special circumstances which might lead to divorce. Heh-heh, Senator Dole must know what I'm talking about.

SURE, I wouldn't let Americans starve while we are shipping out grain to keep foreigners fat. What's that? Why would American farmers be selling abroad if there were Americans starving? Well, to get a higher price for their grain. Now, I don't mean by that to say that farmers in America are so greedy they'd rather make an extra buck selling abroad while their fellow Americans are starving to death. No sir.

But there is such a thing as a market, and normally a farmer sells to a broker, and a broker sells to the highest bidder. What's that? Do I anticipate the possibility that Russians will have more money to buy American wheat than Americans? Well, now, I didn't say that, did I? Did Senator Dole say I said that? Well, I didn't. The American consumer is the most affluent in the entire world... why couldn't he buy wheat ahead of the Russians? Well, I didn't say he couldn't, did I?

Well, when I said there might be a wheat embargo under catastrophic circumstances. I meant if there was a sudden, terrible shortage created by a natural disaster of some sort. If there was such a shortage, there wouldn't be a surplus to send overseas, you're saying? So why would we need an embargo, if there's nothing to embargo, you're saying? Well, you're right, looked at that way, quite right. But I'm trying to make the point that when you lay down a general principle, you can't allow for every possible contingency, I mean life isn't that way.

LIFE ISN'T just a matter of black and white — except (GRIN) for the choice being given to the American people between me and Mr. Ford! That's what I meant to say, but you have to keep any statement within the bounds of rationality. Yes? Would it be a fair summary of my position that although under exceptional circumstances when there was a terrible shortage of grain I might order an embargo of grain, in fact in such circumstances an embargo would be unnecessary? You ask, and I say, yes, that is a fair statement of my position. Next question.

Senator Dole. Yes, that's what I said. I said, quote, We will never use the bounty of America's farmers as a pawn in international diplomacy. No embargoes, unquote. That's what I said, no ifs, ands, or buts, not like Governor Carter's statements. Yes, that's true, the Administration has embargoed the sale of wheat four times in the last three years, that's a matter of historical record.

DO I THINK those embargoes shouldn't have been instituted? Well, you remember in the summer of 1974, the Russians managed to create an inflationary spiral by cornering the market, by cornering their purchases, and there was a big increase in grain prices, and in meat prices, catching the American consumer unaware... No, I didn't say the American farmer wasn't entitled to the increase. The American farmer works as hard as any member of the productive community, and he is entitled to a break.

Body can get too much iron

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My sister has hemochromatosis and her doctor wants to take a pint of blood from her each week. Is this curable? How long will it take? — R.T.

It's not a common disorder. (HEE-mo-CROW-muh-TOE-sis) results from a metabolic error which leads to an unusually high uptake of iron from food. This excess iron eventually gets into the liver and other organs, including the pancreas. When the pancreas is involved a particular kind of diabetes develops called "bronze diabetes." There is a characteristic coloring to the skin.

Weekly removal of blood is the usual treatment. This helps remove the excess iron from the organs and generally lowers the amount of iron circulating. The procedure is repeated until tests show the iron level at or near normal.

The length of time depends on just how much iron has been deposited in the organs. If treated early enough normal liver function returns.

If the pancreas is affected and diabetes results, standard diabetes treatment is in order. Otherwise the success of treatment depends on just how much iron can be removed by the bleeding procedure.

If no cause can be found (such as abnormal iron ingestion over long periods) then the disease is thought to be inherited. If so you might be wise to be checked for it yourself.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 5 feet, 7 inches, and weigh 160. I must get off 30 pounds as soon as possible. Being a widow, I live alone and have just let my nervous tension make me eat. Why is it that people are so stupid as to let themselves become so overweight when they know better? Also, will you please send me your booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing." I'm sending the 35 cents for it to this newspaper along with an enclosed, self-addressed envelope. — Mrs. L.R.

"Stupid" is a pretty strong word. Often it's not that. New widows seem particularly prone to this problem. It stems from a sudden change in lifestyle. It is not easy to maintain a consistent schedule of eating when one is alone. As a result you probably have become a "non-stop" snacker, perhaps loading up with calories without even realizing you are.

Difficult as it may be, you will have to get back to your former ways of eating. A peculiar thing about this snacking business — many youngsters shun regular meals and "load up" bit by bit throughout the day. It's not the best way, but you will notice they all seem to keep their weights up, even though mothers live in constant fear they will die of starvation. With older persons this kind of snacking tend to add pounds

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why is it that God allowed Solomon to have so many wives? Solomon, in his heart, must have known he was sinning. Any lover of God knows the difference between right and wrong. — I.D.

DEAR I.D. Your question really should be addressed to the prophet Nehemiah, for he dealt with it specifically. Having found the people of his day committing a sin similar to Solomon's, he wrote: "Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? Yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel; nevertheless even he did outlandish women cause to sin" (Nehemiah 13:26).

Solomon stands today as a warning to all Christian people. When God blesses us richly and enlarges our heart to feel love for all of His people, across denominational and national boundaries, we should be wary of the temptation of that love to move along wrong paths. Today the writings of Solomon in the Bible stand as a real treasure chest of wisdom for all generations to read, but the life of Solomon is no more than a tragic shipwreck.

Solomon knew that he was sinning, and God was deeply grieved by that sin. You may read the whole tragic story in I Kings chapter 11. One sin led to another, for it was the many women he married who persuaded him to turn from God to idols. God's reaction is shown in that chapter also. "The Lord was angry with Solomon" (verse 9), and in that verse and in verses 14, 23 and 26 you see how the Lord raised up adversaries against Solomon to try to lead him to repentance.

But nowhere in all of Solomon's writings do you find a word of real repentance. What a warning is contained in the last years of Solomon's life. May God's blessings always keep us humble.

Love his craft

Around the rim

James Werrell

To like antiques is a developed taste, and the preference was spoon fed to me by my parents at an early age.

OUR FAMILY spent many a weekend hunting antiques in the area around Akron, Ohio. Not to overromanticize: there were times when spoon feeding turned to force feeding, and my brothers and I couldn't understand why Mom had to look at just one more corner cupboard when Bonanza was already half over.

Eventually my parents ran across an antique dealer, Lloyd Cain, who operated out of an old auction barn, and knew more about the ins and outs of antiquing than anyone they had ever met (or ever will).

He was a big man, in his early forties, with a high voice and a quiet manner. He wore blue jeans all the time and almost never shaved. And he was a real eccentric.

He lived with his family in a house on a hill overlooking the city. The house was literally filled, wall to wall, with choice antiques that he couldn't bring himself to sell.

Let me give the wrong impression of a stately manor filled with elegant antiques, let me say that none of the pieces of furniture were in the right place. It was not odd to see three sets of chests of drawers in the middle of the "living room" floor.

It was not unusual at all to see a disassembled, curly maple, bedroom suite in the kitchen. And it was common to see everything in the house, including the family dog, covered with sawdust, with the smell of shellac wafting through the air.

MOST OF his best pieces had stories behind them such as: "I found this Heppelwhite end table in a barn covered with burlap, and filled with mice. I paid $20 for it and the old lady thought she got the best of the deal."

Crisis nipped

WASHINGTON — The story can now be told how the three superpowers, thanks to a word that President Ford has banned during the presidential campaign, averted a military crisis in Korea. The word is "detente."

The murder of two American officers by axe-wielding North Korean guards was the sort of incident which, in times past, might have brought the United States to the edge of a war that could have involved Russia and China.

INSTEAD, SECRETARY of State Henry Kissinger asked both the Russians and Chinese to use their influence to cool the crisis. Secret intelligence reports state that both superpowers intervened with North Korea.

The pressure was too great for North Korea's militant Kim Il Sung to buck. He issued a personal statement that the slaying of the two Americans was "regretful." It was the first apology Kim has ever made to the U.S.

The attitude of the Russians and Chinese raises the hope that future incidents can be defused before they develop into a war of incredible magnitude. In a typical cable, for example, the U.S. embassy in Moscow quoted the comment of an official in the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The confidential cable quoted the Soviet as saying: "With friends like Kim, who needs enemies?" This probably wasn't the official's exact language but, rather, the embassy's paraphrase of what the official meant. But he went on to decry Kim's meddling with the balance of power.

But Assistant Secretary of State Philip Habib probably summarized the Korean incident best in a telephone conversation with Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y. Habib called to protest a resolution that Murphy had submitted on the Korean crisis.

"I know you agree with the display of force we put on," said Habib. "I mean, Christ, we sent a squadron of F-4s from Japan, a squadron of F-111s from Idaho and put the carrier Midway with five escort vessels and 75 fighter-bombers in the Sea of Japan."

"We flew over B-52s and on the morning we cut down the tree, we lined up every troop and every piece of equipment on the hill so the North Koreans could see. I didn't think we could go any further than that."

Murphy agreed. "Why do you think the North Koreans sent the United States an apology of sorts?" he asked. "This is unprecedented for them."

"I think they overplayed their hand," suggested Habib. "It backfired on them. Realizing this, they had to back off a little."

"Don't you think the Russians and the Chinese let Kim Il Sung know that they thought this was a totally insane act and that they weren't about to let him start something and expect them to finish it?" asked the Congressman.

"Yes," said Habib. "I think Russia and China definitely had input into the incident after it happened, but I don't think they would go so far as to abandon him. They probably told him,

Or: "This Chippendale chest was painted green. The guy was using it as a tool cabinet. I paid sixty bucks for it, and it has the original brass."

Some of the stuff my parents bought, usually from the old antique bar, had also been painted or disfigured by some relative of the original owner who didn't know what it was. Lloyd patiently taught my parents how to remove the paint without ruining the wood; the value of worm holes in furniture; how to recognize hand-made nails and hand-blown glass panels.

He also showed them how to feel the bottoms of drawers to check a piece. If the wood is rough and uneven, then it may be old and original. If it is smooth and a different type of wood from the rest of the drawer, then it is probably a copy.

His recipe for refinishing any wood (which looks especially great on cherry) is one part white shellac, one part yellow shellac, and one part wood alcohol. This was applied to stripped furniture, steel woolled, and then reapplied several times. That was followed with a layer of paste wax.

Lloyd loved the character of old furniture with all its nicks, scratches, splits and holes. And he stressed using the original wood, nails and knobs with the same fanaticism as those who restore old cars.

He is a unique man who loves his craft more than money. And for that I admire him.

For those who may be interested in refinishing furniture, may I recommend a small, unexplicated book entitled "From Gunk to Glow." It contains sensible advice as to how to take the warp out of a table top (essentially: soak it in water and put it somewhere flat with rocks on it), how to remove paint and other unwanted finishes, and on and on. It is a great book.

What the hell are you doing, the United States is not going to tolerate this, and you had better make some conciliatory gesture."

O'NEILL'S KITTY: Rep. Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., the likeable, loquacious House majority leader, is quietly passing out campaign cash to Congressmen whose votes he seeks. He hopes to drum up enough votes to replace retiring House Speaker Carl Albert.

The pattern of the payments suggests that O'Neill is really trying to buy support for his bid for Speaker. With suspicious charity, he has handed out generous contributions to colleagues who have no serious opposition and, therefore, no real need for campaign cash. But they are powers in the House who could influence the election of the next Speaker.

WE REPORTED last December that O'Neill threw a $1,000-a-plate fund-raising dinner at a fashionable Washington hotel. He has now amassed a campaign chest over $100,000.

The burly, big-hearted Bostonian is deputy chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, which distributes funds to all Democratic candidates for the House. But he has offered the committee only $5,000 of his campaign booty. He plans to hand out most of the money, apparently, to Congressmen who can do him some good.

He has handed out $500 contributions, for example to 14 incumbent Congressmen who hardly seem to need the money. Here are a few of them:

— Rep. James Delaney, D-N.Y., won 93 per cent of the vote the last time he ran. He has little need, therefore, for campaign money from O'Neill. But Delaney is a power in the House, who is in line to head the potent House Rules Committee next January. O'Neill wants him in his corner.

— Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., another key Congressman, was elected easily two years ago with 79 per cent of the vote. But O'Neill slipped him $500 anyway.

— Rep. Joe Gaydos, D-Pa., piled up 82 per cent of the vote in his last election. Yet O'Neill courted him with a $500 contribution.

— Congressmen Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., Andy Young, D-Ga., and Ed Patten, D-N.J., all had easy elections the last time they ran. But despite comfortable victories over 70 per cent, O'Neill gave them each $500 anyway so they would remember him when it comes time to choose the next Speaker.

So far, the big Bostonian has doled out three times more money to incumbent Congressmen than to challengers. The incumbents, of course, will have more clout in choosing the Speaker.

Footnote: In 1974, O'Neill also collected a campaign kitty and distributed the money to Congressmen whose good will he sought. He already had his eye on the Speakership.

New VA Hospital guidelines ire many veterans

By JAMES WORRELL
There are rumblings in the halls of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

The rumblings come from irate veterans who have recently been faced with a new set of guidelines governing the Ambulatory Care Program devised by Congress in 1973. Under the new guidelines, some medicine and medical care which had been provided free for non-service related illnesses of veterans has been cut off.

THE COMPLAINTS from veterans have come ringing in from across the nation. Letters of protest have been filed in chapters of Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans, according to local vets.

But the problems resulting from the new guidelines have no simple solution, and stem primarily from a lack of communication, according to Peter J. Pegan, chief of medical administrative services, and Don DeLeuw, administrative assistant to the chief of staff, at the VA Hospital.

According to the two administrators, the problem has its roots in the original implementation of the Ambulatory Care Program. Under a "loose interpretation" at that time, many veterans who were actually ineligible received medicine and treatment under the program.

THE NEW guidelines, which were received here in May and implemented in June, limit treatment to service related disabilities or treatment of an illness until the "need for hospital care is obviated."

Under the new guidelines, out-patient care is still available, as well as ambulatory care for non-service related problems. The key to the new interpretation of the program lies in the phrase, "until need for hospital care is obviated."

AN EXAMPLE of how this applies was offered by the two administrators: If a diabetic veteran were to suffer from insulin shock, free medicine and treatment would be available immediately. When the veteran's condition had stabilized, he would no longer be entitled to a free supply of insulin under the Ambulatory Care Program.

This rule of thumb also applies to the veteran with hypertension. If blood pressure reaches a dangerously high level, then the veteran is entitled to free treatment and medicine. When, however, the "need for hospitalization is obviated," he is no longer entitled. Other non-service-related, chronic illnesses not covered by the program except in emergencies include arthritis, emphysema and arteriosclerosis, among others.

"WE WANT to make it clear that although the guidelines have been updated, no veteran will be turned away from the doors of the VA Hospital," explained DeLeuw. "If he is not eligible under this program then he can try for others. We will serve wherever we can, using every resource possible."

"Also, if a veteran is not eligible on one occasion, this does not bar him from coming back if his problem becomes worse or another problem develops."

Lack of funds may have been one of the main reasons for instituting the new guidelines. Pegan and DeLeuw stress that there is neither a shortage nor an abundance of funds.

THE Veterans Administration budgets monies before the beginning of each fiscal year. Last fiscal year, the VA budgeted monies for an estimated 12.7 million outpatient visits, nationwide. As of June 10, 1976, the VA had already reached 13.2 million outpatient visits," explained Pegan.

IS FUNDING THE major reason for the change in guidelines?

"Money is always a consideration in any organization this large. But funding in this community and the surrounding area is not a problem. The veteran is given what he is entitled to. We have enough staff, and most of our equipment has been upgraded," added Pegan.

Money is at the root of the issue though, according to a local veteran George Kunkle. This was also the claim of officials Kunkle talked to at the Veterans Outpatient Clinic in Lubbock, he claims.

"We have a problem because when the outpatient program first started for ambulatory disabled vets, so much money was left over that it was used for the non-service connected problems. Now it is like a rampaging river overflowing its banks, and there is no money. We are being cut off," said Kunkle.

REGARDLESS OF why the free medicine will be cut off, Kunkle, and possibly other area veterans, will suffer if a source for funds is not found.

Kunkle had a heart attack requiring open heart surgery after leaving the Armed Services. Ever since then he has been unable to work, and lives on a pension from his previous employer (60 per cent of his salary in 1970), a veteran's compensation, and a monthly Social Security check.

Kunkle is also required to take $100 worth of medicine, 10 different types of pills a month. This medicine had been provided by the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital until Aug. 6 of this year when he received his last free supply. That supply will last until Sept. 6.

KUNKLE HAS applied for continued funding from the VA.

"It's still up in the air. We'll just have to wait and see," he said.

Kunkle also told of a trip through the bureaucratic jungle in search of funding by the VA.

"I was referred from here to Mr. Di Grappa, who referred me to Mr. Russell in Lubbock. He was on vacation, and I was referred to Mrs. Stotzenberg who referred me back to a Mr. Contreras in Lubbock. He referred me to Dick Staggers (counselor at the Big Spring VA Hospital), and that's where it stands now," said Kunkle.

What is the solution to the problem? "The Veterans Administration will just have to get more money from Congress. They are buying land for national cemeteries across the country, and they just put up eight new hospitals. What's the use of building new hospitals when they can't furnish medicine for the veterans?" said Kunkle.

Portions of a letter sent to Thomas C. (Pete) Walker, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is similar to many sent to D.A.V. and V.F.W. leaders, according to its author Carliss (Buck) O'Neal, commander of Chapter 47 of the C.A.V. The letter which was read at the national V.F.W. Convention, is indicative of the fears of many veterans.

"During the past year many of our disabled veterans who live in this area have been denied both hospital and medical attention in the Veterans Administration Hospital located here in Big Spring, one of the best and finest equipped hospitals that we have," said O'Neal's letter.

"We are now trying to find out why, as these men, all who have aged in years, especially those of W.W.I and II, who today suffer the effects of their service to their nation, are denied their rights for medical and hospital attention for their disabled bodies and the illnesses they now suffer after all these long years.

"They have been turned away without any explanation as to the reason or cause of this inhumane treatment. This is the crux of my message to you for our comrades who are now so desperately in need. Many are surviving on small pensions and Social Security, especially the older veterans where both husband and wife have to pay large medical and hospital bills with no other means of support," O'Neal adds.

"Most of the rumors come from people who don't know what they're talking about," said Pegan. "Ninety per cent of the problems are generated because of the attitude that 'Joe Blow gets free medicine, why not me?' Or they just don't understand what they are entitled to," he added.

THE MISUNDERSTANDING between the veterans and the Veterans Administration is a complicated one. As Pegan and DeLeuw point out, the administration, and the Big Spring VA Hospital in particular, are willing, with the help of social workers and specialists, to help find avenues other than the Ambulatory Care Program to provide proper medical care. It also seems apparent that lack of communication between vets and administrators is at the bottom of many of the problems.

But it also seems apparent that the bureaucratic wall, such as the one George Kunkle encountered, contributes to this communication breakdown. The question of a solution to this problem will be in the forefront during this election year, and perhaps for years to come.

Six Jim Wells County officials indicted

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — All five members of the Jim Wells County commissioners and the county auditor were indicted by a grand jury Wednesday night for alleged misapplication of public funds and for knowingly approving bills for work done on private property.

Property owners listed in the indictments included District Court Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin, who received the indictments from grand jury foreman Jim McGrady at 8:50 p.m.

Those indicted are County Judge T.L. Harville, Commissioners Tina Villanueva, C.W. Price, J.B. Freiley, W.M. Laughlin — a brother of the judge — and County Auditor W.L. Powell.

The six identical indictments allege misapplication of public funds took place April 16, 1975.

Harville, Price, Freiley and W.M. Laughlin sat in the courtroom in stunned silence as Judge Laughlin read the names on the indictment and released each official on his personal recognizance.

The judge did not set any bonds. When asked by reporters about the bond, Judge Laughlin said, "They are officials and they are not going anywhere."

Dist. Atty. John Mullen, who drew up the indictments with Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Otis Klar, said, "Apparently they will not be arrested and booked."

The indictments Wednesday night came as the result of a grand jury investigation which began several weeks ago. The grand jury has met three times during the past two weeks, presumably considering the evidence for the indictments. Although not officially announced, the indictments are believed to be the result of the commissioners' approving bills from an asphalt paving contract for county roads, while allegedly knowing that the contractors also were instructed to pave roads on private property.

Commissioner Laughlin obviously knew an investigation was being conducted in his precinct, which includes Premont, because Texas Rangers had been working in the area and making surveys by helicopter.

Laughlin has served as county commissioner since 1945. Freiley is completing his second four-year term. Mrs. Villanueva is also completing her second four-year term. Price, recently reelected in the Democratic primary, first took office in 1967.

"I can't imagine what this is all about," said Harville.

Commissioner Laughlin repeated that remark and asked someone to read the indictment to him because he did not have his glasses.

Price, in the courtroom with his wife and two children, shook his head and said, "I don't know — I don't know."

Mrs. Villanueva and the county auditor were not present.

'Volunteers do a lot of good in this hospital'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of 13 articles about the Big Spring State Hospital. This article examines the role the volunteer services group plays in the operation of a well-organized mental facility.

By DANNY REAGAN
The Volunteer Services Council to the Big Spring State Hospital was begun in 1957 and incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1967.

Since the time of its inception, the Council, through donations and volunteers, has been responsible for many added benefits for the patients and the local institution.

The primary goals of the Volunteer Services are to promote public understanding of the hospital, provide volunteer services for the benefit of the residents, and, through the Volunteer Services Council, solicit funds for items that are not available through state-budgeted funds.

All volunteers work through the Volunteer Council under the direction of the Coordinator of Volunteer Services, Margaret Baum, and follow the rules and regulations of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and the policies of the Volunteer Services State Council and the BSSH.

Each volunteer is placed through the Volunteer Office and works under the direct supervision of the staff of the department the volunteer serves.

Coordinator Margaret Baum said that "What the state and family cannot provide for the patient, we endeavor to do. And we always need help.

"We have a list of clubs and organizations that we ask to take a week twice each year to bring cookies for the units' use."

"Operation Cookie" is a part of the year-long project that the Volunteer Services coordinates with the help of the local clubs. Additionally, birthday parties are held every month on each of the units and through volunteers, cakes and cookies are provided for the events.

For those volunteers who have no means of transportation to the hospital, there is a "Circuit Rider" program, whereby station wagons transport volunteers from the area to the hospital. Mrs. Sonya Swindell is director of this program.

In this manner, more regular volunteers who for some reason or another cannot drive to the hospital, are available to give their time.

More volunteers are especially needed in the summer because of a greater amount of outdoor activities, but many volunteers are active throughout the calendar year.

SPECIAL EVENTS are held in addition to the weekly and daily activities that the BSSH volunteer program performs. The weekly dance held in the gym is one of the favorite pastimes of the patients. "The patients get out there and just have one BIG time," said one volunteer. There are also special events for Halloween, Christmas and Easter.

"Practically anyone can be a volunteer," said a woman at the volunteer building. To be sure, a wide range of talents and actions permeates the typical volunteer. One may give his time to read a book to a patient, one may sing songs while accompanying herself on the guitar or one may conduct group therapy.

Another volunteer may accompany a patient on a nature walk and many just visit and talk with the patients, which is sometimes the best treatment of all, said one volunteer.

Margaret Baum indicated the Hospital is blessed with approximately 3-5 new volunteers a month.

VARIOUS methods are used in recruiting volunteers. Speeches to community groups, use of the news media, word of mouth and request to service clubs and other organizations are the main ways the hospital acquires a volunteer; however, "we're recruiting all the time," said Margaret Baum.

The Volunteer Services Council oversees the organization of volunteers, gives advice on procedures and helps in the distribution of material needs provided by donated funds.

Burglar sentenced to four years in pen

DALLAS (AP) — Criminal District Court Judge Stanley Kirk has assessed a four-year prison term for James F. LeBus, who pleaded guilty to theft and burglary charges here Wednesday.

LeBus, of Wichita Falls, had been charged with investigating the burglary of Metallic Development Corp.—the offense for which he was being tried here. He also pleaded guilty to three other indictments returned by a Wichita County grand jury.

Judge Kirk assessed LeBus the four-year prison term following the recommendation of Wichita County Dist. Atty. Tim Eyssen and special prosecutor Howard Martin.

Formal sentencing was set for Oct. 1 in Dallas. LeBus can not be taken to prison until after the formal sentencing.

The defendant briefly took the stand Wednesday and confessed to the four indictments against him.

Asked by defense attorney Jack Banner if he instigated the burglary of the Metallic Development Corp., LeBus replied, "Yes sir." LeBus was unemotional during the sentencing, but his wife wept openly.

Under questioning by Banner, LeBus confessed to obtaining gold and silver bars taken in the burglary, helping melt the precious metals and delivering them to Sweetwater, Tex., for "distribution to the East Coast."

LeBus was charged with two other counts of burglary and one count of theft over $10,000.

Adam S. Nacol, a Wichita Falls jeweler, is also under indictment in Wichita County in connection with the alleged burglary ring. The indictments against Nacol include theft over $10,000 and theft over $200.

The state's star witness, Clyde Burns, testified Tuesday that LeBus urged him to burglarize Metallic Development, where numerous metals worth $25,000 were stolen. Burns also testified that LeBus drove him to the Metallic plant and showed him where the safe was located.

The class on Theories of Counseling, PED 630, has been completed and will hold the first session at 6 p.m. Monday, Sept. 13 in Room 3 of the Education Building 603 at Webb Air Force Base.

Anyone desiring additional information should call Mrs. Virginia Smith at 7-8360 or 7-2511, ext. 2464.

Hughes jury trial sought

HOUSTON (AP) — Probate Judge Pat Gregory was expected to hear arguments today on a request for a jury trial here to determine the legal residence of the late mystery billionaire Howard Hughes.

The request for the trial was filed in Gregory's court Wednesday by Rush Hughes of Palm Springs, Calif. and Avis Hughes McIntyre of Montgomery, Ala., both paternal relatives.

Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill, who has argued that Hughes was a legal resident of Texas, filed a petition in support of the request for a Houston trial.

A Las Vegas judge agreed last week to hold a trial there on a purported Hughes will and had told attorneys not to "subvert" his court by taking action elsewhere. That trial is scheduled to

Gregg County probe ends; no indictments

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A Gregg County grand jury has ended its probe into alleged voting irregularities without indictments and without a report.

The grand jury probe ended Tuesday. Dist. Atty. Odis Hill said he is "satisfied" with the probe, which saw 133 witnesses interviewed.

"This is definitely not a whitewash," Hill said, adding that he sent a letter-reporting the grand jury findings to the U.S. Department of Justice.

"I'm not saying we didn't find something that looked wrong, but what our feelings are and what the law is are different things," Hill said.

The jurors were looking into allegations about the May 1 primary this year and the ensuing June 5 runoff elections. The probe was sparked by a letter sent to federal and state authorities alleging irregularities, including bribery and voter hauling.

The officers of the governing body are Don Deleeuw, chairman; Curt Mullins, vice-chairman; Agnes Currie, treasurer and Jewell Richter of Colorado City, secretary. This group meets quarterly and concerns itself mainly with advice on money matters.

The volunteer program's major problem is money. Funds are scarce currently, and the group engages in many different projects to raise capital for its endeavors. Rummage sales and other activities are held. This fall, a craft booth at the Highland Center Mall will help with money problems. Concerned volunteers are contributing arts and crafts items to be sold, with all the proceeds going to the volunteer program.

According to the people at the volunteer office, they receive excellent community cooperation. "People rarely say 'no' when we ask them for donations or help," said one volunteer.

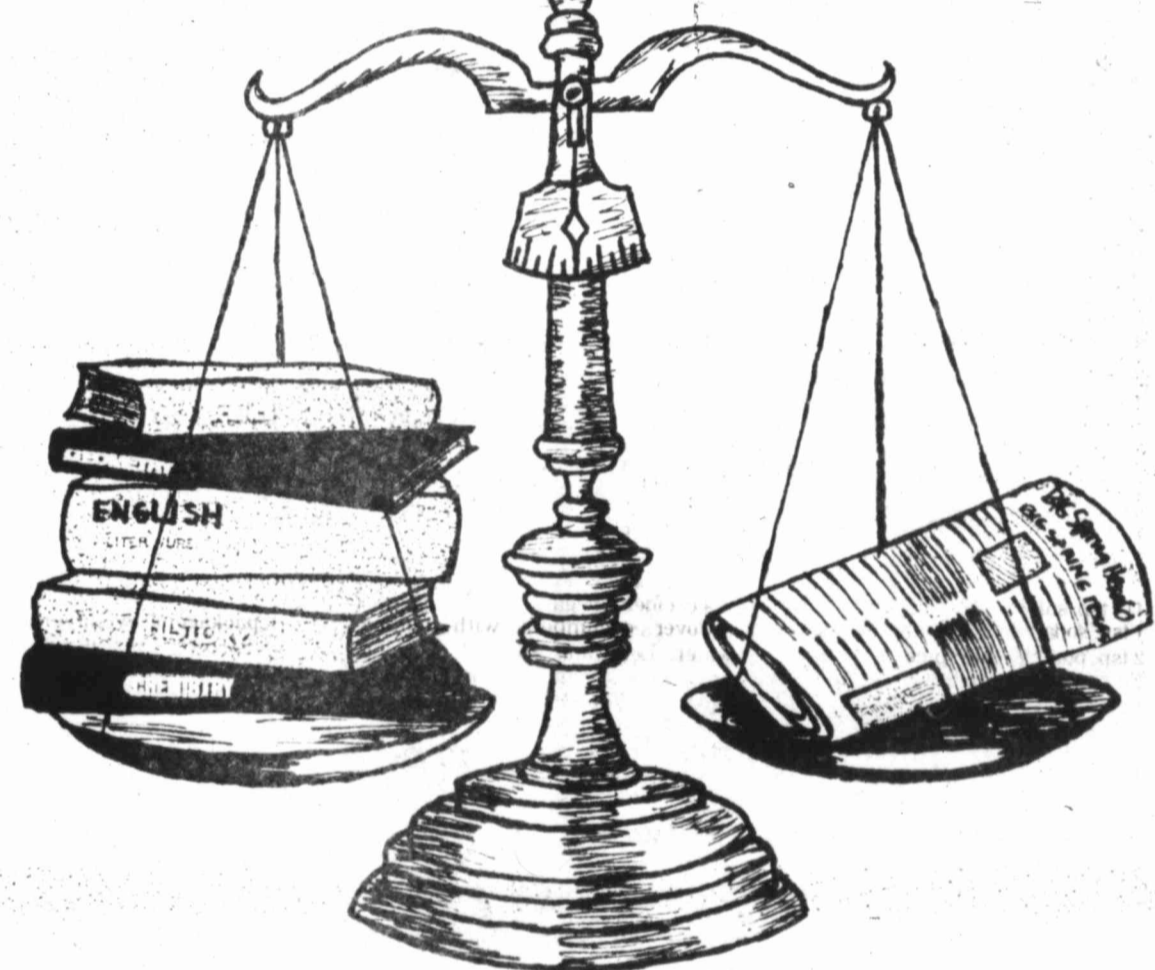

The volunteer organization has a strong Midland-based

BALANCE

That's What The Newspaper In Education Is All About

BIG SPRING HERALD LIVING TEXTBOOK Conference

Use of the daily newspaper in the classroom

SEPTEMBER 18, 1976

Howard College Science Building

A textbook is a necessary part of classroom instruction, but it can't possibly cover an event or principle or discovery that has developed in the past 24 hours. Many teachers have found they can utilize a newspaper as a source for information not yet available in the textbook, thus providing a balance between yesterday and today. How can you achieve that balance? By teaching such events as Watergate along with the Teapot Dome Scandal, or Skylab alongside man's first efforts to fly. You can balance the past from the textbook with the now from the newspaper. Put some balance in your classroom. Try a newspaper.

Malone-Hogan workers give great desserts

The employees at Malone-Hogan are apparently on no diets judging from the delicious dessert recipes they are sharing this week.

Letha Duke, day supervisor and a registered nurse, is shown holding the Swedish Crescents. They make a perfect touch for teas and receptions.

Delia Cevallos, linen supervisor, is tasting the Bavarian with peaches made by Kay Shaw, posting clerk while Mrs. Shaw is busy cutting the Pumpkin Cake.

Ann Fitts, senior ward clerk, takes a bite of a thumbprint cookie made by Better Garner, an employee in the pharmacy.

PUMPKIN BREAD
By KAY SHAW

3 c. sugar
1 c. salad oil
4 eggs
3 1/2 c. flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
2 tsp. pumpkin pie spice
2 c. mashed pumpkin
1 c. nuts

Combine sugar, oil and eggs and beat them well. Mix together flour, salt, soda and pumpkin pie spice. Combine sugar mixture with flour mixture, and then add pumpkin and nuts.

Pour into 2 greased loaf pans or a large bundt pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes, or until it tests done with a toothpick.

SWEET POTATO CASHEW BAKE
By LETHA DUKE

1-3rd c. packed brown sugar
1-3rd c. broken cashews
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground ginger
4 medium sweet potatoes, cooked and sliced (about 3 cups)
1 c. drained and diced canned peaches
2 tbsps. butter or margarine

In a small mixing bowl, blend together the packed brown sugar, broken cashews, salt and ground ginger. In 1 1/2 quart casserole dish, arrange in alternate layers: half of the sliced sweet potatoes, half of the diced peaches and half of the brown sugar mixture.

Repeat the layers — Dot with butter or margarine. Bake the casserole, covered, in 350 degrees oven for 25-30 minutes. Uncover and bake an additional 10 minutes. Garnish with additional peach slices if desired.

Makes 6 servings.

"PICKLE CHUNKS"
By ANN FITTS

10 medium cucumbers
8 c. sugar
2 tbsps. pickling spices
5 tps. salt
4 c. cider vinegar

Cover cucumbers with boiling water. Let stand till next morning and then drain. Repeat same procedure the next 3 mornings. On the fifth day, drain and slice in 1/2 inch pieces. Combine remaining ingredients and bring them to a boil. Pour boiling mixture over cucumbers. Let it stand for two days. On the third day bring them to the boiling point again. Pour in jars and seal.

COCONUT AND BUTTER CAKE
By ANN FITTS

1 c. milk
2-3rds c. shortening
2 c. flour
1 1/2 c. sugar
4 eggs (separated)
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. lemon extract

Cream shortening and the sugar and add the beaten egg yolk. Stir in the milk and the flour to which the baking powder has been added. Mix in the beaten whites of the eggs. Add lemon extract. Bake about 30 minutes.

Frost with "Seven Minute frosting," and coconut. This cake is delicious plain — baked in a tube pan or made into muffins.

TUNNEL OF FUDGE CAKE
By LETHA DUKE

1 1/2 c. butter (must be butter)
6 eggs (at room temperature)
1 1/2 c. sugar
2 c. sifted flour
1 package of two-layer size fudge butter cream frosting mix
2 c. chopped walnuts

Use a twelve-cup size bundt pan. Cream butter in a large mixer bowl at high speed. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each. Gradually add sugar; continue creaming at high speed until light and fluffy.

By hand, stir in flour, frosting mix and walnuts until well blended. Pour batter into greased bundt pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 60-65 minutes. Cool 2 hours and remove from pan. Let the cake cool completely before serving. Yields a ten-inch bundt cake.

BAVARIAN
By KAY SHAW

1 c. sugar
1 1/4 oz. can evaporated milk
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
3 1/4 c. water
1/2 pint sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla

Heat sugar and milk until sugar dissolves. Soften gelatin in water and add to milk and sugar. Bring to boil. Let set until it mounds. Fold sour cream and vanilla into mixture and chill overnight. Serve with strawberries or peaches.

Serves six.

SWEDISH CRESCENTS
By LETHA DUKE

1 c. soft butter (must be butter)
confectioners' sugar
2 tps. vanilla extract
1 3/4 c. sifted flour
1-3rd c. each almonds, pecans, and filberts, finely chopped
1/4 tsp. salt

Cream butter; gradually beat in 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, flour, nuts, and salt. Chill well. Shape into crescents, using 1/2 tablespoon dough for each, and put on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in slow oven (350 degrees) 18-20 minutes.

Roll warm crescents in 1 cup confectioners' sugar, to which 1 teaspoon of vanilla has been added. Makes 6 dozen.

YEAST SOPAPILLAS
By DELIA CEVALLOS

3 c. lukewarm water
1 package of dry yeast
1 tbsps. sugar
1 1/2 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. shortening
2 c. frying oil

Add water, sugar and yeast and let stand until the yeast dissolves. Add salt, shortening and 1 cup of flour and mix thoroughly. Continue adding flour until the dough does not stick to hands.

Knead five minutes and rub with shortening. Cover and set in a warm place and let dough rise one hour. Roll a small amount of dough out to 1/4 inches thick. Cut this into three-to-four inch squares. Fry them in deep hot oil until golden brown on both sides. Drain on paper towels and serve hot with butter and honey.

THUMBPRINT COOKIES
By BETTY GARNER

1/2 c. margarine (softened)
1/2 c. shortening
2-3rds c. brown sugar
2 eggs (separated)
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. almond extract
2 c. flour
1/2 to 1 c. pecans

Cream margarine and shortening. Add sugar, egg yolks, salt, vanilla, almond, and cream until fluffy. Add flour and pecans. Shape into balls and place on cookie sheet. Place thumb in egg whites and press each cookie making a thumbprint.

Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Fill thumbprint with icing. Yields about three dozen.

CHOCOLATE ICING

3 tbsps. stick margarine (melted)
1 c. cocoa
1/2 c. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 c. milk
confectioners sugar

Mix margarine and cocoa. Add other ingredients using sugar to desired thickness.

QUICK YEAST BREAD
By BETTY GARNER

1 1/2 pkg. dry yeast
1 c. milk (scalded)
4 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/2 c. melted margarine or butter
3 1/2 c. sifted flour

Dissolve the yeast in lukewarm milk. Stir in sugar, salt, butter, and let rise in a warm place until almost double in bulk. Work down and roll out on a lightly floured board to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut in diamond shaped pieces about 2 1/2 inches long.

Dip each piece in melted butter or margarine and arrange in a 9-inch ring mold. Let rise until almost double in bulk. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes or until golden brown. Yield 12 servings.

SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING
By ANN FITTS

1 1/2 c. sugar
1-3rd c. cold water
1-3rd c. white corn syrup
2 egg whites
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix all in top of a double boiler and beat with a mixer two or three minutes. Put over boiling water and beat with electric mixer while cooking until stiff peaks stand up, about seven minutes.

SPANISH LIVER
By ANN FITTS

1 lb. beef liver
1/2 c. flour
2 tbsps. fat melted
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. flour
1 tsp. chili powder
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 c. catsup or tomato sauce

Cut liver into serving pieces. Dredge in flour and brown quickly on both sides in melted fat. Season with salt, pepper and chili powder. Cover liver with onion slices and catsup. Reduce heat and continue cooking slowly until liver is tender.

GREEN BEANS CREOLE
By BETTER GARNER

2 large cans green beans (French style)
1 green pepper
1 large onion bacon grease
1 tsp. garlic juice or garlic powder to taste
1 small can tomato sauce
1 can tomato soup
1 c. grated cheddar cheese cooking oil — salt — pepper

Cook beans down to 1/2 cup juice. Add bacon grease and season to taste. In cooking oil, brown green pepper and onion. Add garlic juice or powder and other ingredients. Stir in cheese. Bake at 350 for 10 or 15 minutes.

Country would be better off if Congress adjourned?

OMAR BURLESON,
M.C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Under new procedures, the Congress is required to have all appropriation bills completed by Sept. 15. After that time it is the feeling of quite a few of us that the country would be better off if the Congress adjourned for the remainder of the year. As long it is in Session, there is always someone dreaming up some new expensive scheme in the name of "benefits" to the country.

There is some encouragement in the fact that the leadership in both the House of Representatives and the Senate has abandoned consideration of several highly controversial proposed measures. One such measure is the so-called Humphrey-Hawkins bill providing for full employment and balanced growth. This measure has been discussed here before and will be around in the future but, at least for the time, there is little prospect of its being passed in this Session. Hopefully, it will not be in the next or the next but it will doubtless be pushed.

The oil "divestiture" bill which would force oil companies to engage in only one facet of the business is also being abandoned for the time.

Natural gas price deregulation, although approved by the Senate Commerce Committee, is not likely to be considered. It lost some of its impetus when the Federal Power Commission raised the ceiling price for new natural gas.

Any national health inurance legislation is too big a subject to tackle at this late date. Here again, it will be around in the next Session as it has been for the last several years.

The postcard voter registration bill has passed the House of Representatives but it is in dispute in the Senate as to which Committee has jurisdiction over it. It is fortunate the prospects for its final enactment into law are slim. This is a measure which attempts to tell States how to conduct their voter registration. It is obviously an imposition on States' rights. Although our State of Texas has a postcard registration law it nevertheless need not be told how to further conduct its affairs in this regard.

Gun control legislation has been approved by a Senate

Subcommittee but the sponsors say no further actions will be taken unless they are assured that the House will act. Just this past week, the House turned down gun control legislation passed by the District of Columbia Government controlling handguns which pretty well assures that there will be no gun control legislation in this session.

An omnibus revision in the federal criminal code, although good in some parts, hardly has a chance of passage before the adjournment of the Congress and has taken a low priority to both Chambers.

Tentative plans call for the Congress to either adjourn or recess on Oct. 2. Due to the November election on Nov. 2, it is necessary that members return home for their campaigns. If the usual pattern is followed, there is a good chance that the Congress would only recess and return after the election and would likely be in session for the remainder of the year. It is worth repeating that the nation would probably be better off for the Congress to remain out of session until next January.

Tammy, fourth husband deny marriage is on the rocks

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The husband of country music singer Tammy Wynette and several associates denied Tuesday reports that her two-month-old marriage is on the rocks.

Michael Tomlin, a real estate executive and Miss Wynette's fourth husband, had refused comment earlier.

After a Nashville television station broadcast word of the reports Tuesday, however, Tomlin called the station and denied the story.

"The only trouble I'm having is with the news media," he said.

Miss Wynette was in Los Angeles and not available at once for comment.

Her personal secretary, Dottie Runyon, said she had heard "nothing about any trouble." She said the singer had seemed relaxed as she boarded a plane for Los Angeles Monday.

A Nashville city trustee, Glenn Ferguson, had said the couple came back on separate planes earlier this week from Florida, where Miss Wynette had been recuperating from gall bladder surgery last month.

Suspected bank bandit arrested in courtroom

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A Texas man was arrested Tuesday in Houston on a charge of robbing the State National Bank of Weleetka, Okla., the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced.

Kenneth W. Whitaker, special agent in charge of the FBI for Oklahoma, said William Benjamin Bryan, 37, of Pasadena, Tex., was arrested as he left a Houston courtroom, where he had appeared on robbery and narcotics charges.

Bryan was charged last Friday in Muskogee, Okla., with the $40,000 holdup of the Weleetka bank on July 28, 1976.

Melvin Thomas Cook, 32, formerly of Wetumka, Okla., was charged in the Weleetka holdup Aug. 12 and still is being sought.

Martin wildcat slated

Martin County has a wildcat slated and Sterling County has an outpost in the oilfields this week.

R.K. Petroleum Corp., Midland, will drill the No. 1-C Wolcott as a 12,200-foot Devonian wildcat, 3/4 mile southwest of its No. 1-B Wolcott Devonian prospect and 1/2 mile southeast of its No. 1-A Wolcott, Strawn prospect, 5 1/2 miles northwest of Martin County and nine miles northwest of Tarzan. Location is 6,413 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 250-Hartley CSL.

The No. 1-B Wolcott, in Ward CSL No. 251 west testing Devonian open hole at 12,065-095 feet, after making 58 barrels of unidentified fluid in 15 hours on a 4-64-inch choke.

The No. 1-A Wolcott, in Rig count shows gain

A total of 678 rotary rigs were turning in Texas during the week ending Aug. 30, a gain of seven over the preceding week. A year ago, the total was 644.

Throughout the United States, the rig total was 1,720 for the week ending the past Monday, compared to 1,729 for the preceding week and 1,684 for the corresponding period (Sept. 2) in 1975.

Hartley CSL No. 250, 12,103-foot Devonian failure was testing through Strawn perforations at 10,848-948-feet. It recovered distillate, along with water blanket, on two tests of the Strawn at 10,845-856 feet and 10,905-941 feet.

W.C. BLANKS, Midland, will drill the No. 2-20 R.T. Foster as a 1/2 mile north outpost to Fusselman oil production in the W.A.M. South multipay field and as a Canyon gas test, surrounded by that pay, in the Conger multipay field of Sterling County, six miles southwest of Sterling City.

Location is 1,650 feet from the north and 990 feet from the west lines of 20-13-SPRR. Contract dept is 8,600 feet.

(AP WIREPHOTO) CONSTRUCTION — Thousands of blackwinged skimmers moved onto part of a construction site for a huge $300 million petrochemical expansion at the Texaco Inc. refinery at Port Arthur, Tex., about six weeks ago. The late summer nesting season of the birds has construction workers waiting patiently for the young to fly. Work has been held up in the nesting area, but has continued in the adjacent areas not claimed by the skimmers. The young should fly in about three weeks.

U.S. offers to finance mining sea for metals

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Some delegates at the Law of the Sea Conference welcomed the U.S. offer to help finance international mining of the seabed. But they doubted agreement could be reached before the current session of the conference ends Sept. 17.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met Wednesday in roundtable sessions with about 30 delegations to explain the U.S. proposal, hoping to break a conference deadlock. He gave a reception Wednesday night for the conference delegates and was meeting today with the conference president, Hamilton S. Amerasinghe of Sri Lanka, and U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to continue his efforts.

"He's opened the door to dialogue," an African delegate said. Others termed the American proposals "interesting," "constructive," and "worthy of detailed consideration."

Under Kissinger's plan, the United States and other advanced countries would guarantee bank loans and provide technical help for an international authority that would mine half the deep seabed for the benefit of poor developing countries. In return, private firms in the United States and other industrialized countries would be guaranteed equal access to the ocean-floor minerals.

REMARRIED — Oklahoma Governor's ex-wife remarried a Texas oilman recently. This photograph was taken off her when the governor was running for office.

Governor's ex-wife remarries oilman

DALLAS (AP) — Janna Boren, divorced wife of Gov. David Boren of Oklahoma, was remarried here today to John Clinton Robbins, president of Robbins Petroleum Co. of Longview, Tex.

The ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. at the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Ben Ollifant.

Mrs. Robbins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuel W. Little of Madill, Okla. Robbins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins of Longview.

The newly married couple planned a wedding trip to Aspen, Colo.

Mrs. Robbins filed for divorce from Gov. Boren last Oct. 23. The divorce became final Dec. 8. They had two children, Carrie, 4, and Dan, 2, at the time of the divorce.

Gov. Boren's office issued a brief statement after the ceremony.

The statement, issued by Press Secretary Rob Pyron, said, "The governor and the former first lady continue to have mutual respect for each other and plan to continue to cooperate fully in providing for and raising their two children.

"Neither they nor any member of the family will have further comment."

Miss Rodeo Texas gets under-way

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Local winners begin competition in three divisions today in the five-day Miss Rodeo Texas pageant in conjunction with the Erath County championship rodeo.

The winner of the contest will go to the Miss Rodeo America contest in Oklahoma next December.

Contestants for the Miss Rodeo Texas crown must be local titleholders sponsored by a chamber of commerce, city, riding club or rodeo association.

Trophies will be awarded title winners in horsemanship, personality and western attire divisions.

Troops on hand for leader's wedding

DEAR ABBY: This is for the bride who said she didn't have her three older sisters in her wedding party because they already knew how much she loved them, her friends were more attractive, then could add more "class" to her wedding, and she could afford only three attendants.

I was married last June. (My bride is a social worker and I'm a school teacher.) We had 106 attendants in our wedding party—three men, three women and 100 junior bridesmaids.

My bride is a Girl Scout leader, and she included all her "girls" in the wedding ceremony. What a beautiful sight to see 100 young Girl Scouts, all shapes and sizes, ranging from 10 to 14, in the wedding procession!

I would like to tell that bride who found so many excuses for excluding her three sisters that talk is cheap but love conquers all. And if we could have 100 Girl Scouts in our wedding party, she could have worked her three sisters in somehow.

JUNE BRIDEGROOM

DEAR BRIDEGROOM: Congratulations to you and your bride. You are beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently attended a dinner party where a new couple in town was introduced. The woman, who was pretty and vivacious, immediately singled out my husband, who was the best-looking man there, and they were soon into a lively, two-way conversation.

They spoke only to each other, ignoring everyone present. I tried several times without success to get into the conversation.

I finally couldn't take it any longer, so I asked my husband for the car keys and started toward the door. He followed me and asked me what was wrong. By then I had tears in my eyes, and told him how I felt. He said I was being childish, but I insisted on leaving, so we both left without saying goodbye to anyone.

He has barely spoken to me since. Was I wrong? I think I was wise to have left before I created a scene.

FRANKLY JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: I would say you created at least a minor scene, but what's done is done. Your husband was insensitive and you were childish. Perhaps you both learned something from the experience. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old boy and, believe it or not, I have never gone all the way with a girl.

I am going with a girl now, and I don't know whether she's a virgin, but here's the problem. We've done a lot of making out together. I mean we have done just about everything BUT...

If she has V.D., could she give it to me without going all the way? Please answer in the paper because my family is very nosy, and I don't want them to know my business. Thank you.

WORRIED IN AMSTERDAM, N.Y.

DEAR WORRIED: It is possible to contract V.D. without going all the way if one of the two parties has it. A free examination (and treatment if necessary) is available through your county Department of Health.

Study shows more workers among women

The labor force participation rate of women 45 years of age and over has risen dramatically since 1950, while the rate for men in the same age bracket has persistently declined, according to a study released this week by the Women's Bureau, Employment Standards Administration, U.S. Department of Labor.

"Mature Women Workers: A Profile" reports that increases in labor force activity have been particularly pronounced for married women. However, mature married women are still less likely to be working than mature women who are widowed, divorced, or separated.

"We are especially concerned with the re-entry problems of women who have been absent from the labor force because of family responsibilities and now seek to return to work." Women's Bureau Director Carmen R. Maymi said. "The study, which examines the economic status of mature women and their employment-related problems, provides the base for a Women's Bureau program directed to women in their middle years who are working or seeking work."

Women who drop out of the labor force when they marry or start a family may encounter many obstacles in the job market when they decide to return to work, the report states. With rusty or outmoded skills, little or no recent experience, inadequate counseling, and lack of job contacts, these women often must settle for low-skilled and low-paying jobs which require little or no specialized training, and which afford limited opportunities for upward mobility.

In 1975, 12 million mature women had jobs or were looking for work. Statistical data in the report indicate that the occupational distribution of women aged 35 and over is similar to that of younger women.

Steers battle Mustangs Friday

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers kick-off a new season Thursday night in Andrews, and by most people's thoughts, a new era in local football will accompany. The game against the Mustangs is rated a toss-up by most observers.

"I think if we stick to our game plan, play real good defense, and play for field position we can win the game," said Head Coach Robbins.

The only major question mark in the minds of Robbins and his staff is the kicking game. "We haven't really had a good chance to work on our kicking game, but we hope we have enough to have that winning edge," Robbins stated.

Mike Harris, a 190-pound senior, and Ricky Cluck, a 175-pound sophomore are the backbone to the Longhorn kicking game, and are expected to be ready for action. Cluck had been sidelined earlier in the week with a throat infection, but Robbins believes he will be ready to see action.

Harris is the stronger kicker of the two and will not doubt see most of the punting and place-kicking duties assigned his way.

Robbins is respectful of the Andrews Mustangs, and indicates that "they are a good football team with skilled people."

'Our boys want to be winners'

Turning football fortunes around is a community affair, not something for a handful of young men. This was the evaluation by Don Robbins, head coach and athletic director, to the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting.

"Our kids are not any different from those in Permian High," Robbins declared. "They may have more athletes, but individually they are no differently equipped."

The road back, he added, starts Friday night at Andrews. Robbins hopes the showing of fans will be better than it was at the initial meeting of the Quarterback Club. "Frankly, I was disappointed at the turnout," he confessed.

"Our boys want to be winners — they really do," he continued. "What they have to find out is that they can be like Permian if they are willing to pay the price like Permian. When things begin to go wrong, you've got to suck up your middle and bow your neck and put out that little extra that gets the job done!"

He was not overly pleased with results of the scrimmage with Sweetwater last week, but Sweetwater has a lot better football team than most people give them credit for, he noted. Because of the urgency of intensive teaching, Robbins said he is running two teams solely on defense, and two solely on offense. Defense should jell quicker than offense, but he hopes that if his quarterbacks come through, the offense can make a contribution.

"We're concentrating on defense to keep from being beat, and hope to get enough offense to score the winning points," he added.

"We've got one advantage here — a one-high school town," Robbins said. "We've got just one town, too, and we are yours and you are ours. When we change things, it'll be together."

The main Mustang threat should come from quarterback Booger Brooks, a skillful aerial jockey that can give the Steer defensive backs headaches. Brooks, who is a starter back from last year, has been hampered by an ankle injury, however, and he may not be up to 100 per cent by kick-off time.

"Their (Andrews) defense is also very tough," said Robbins, "and their coach says it is the best ball club he's coached in his four years there." Robbins also pointed out that the 1975 edition Andrews' junior varsity went 10-0, assuring a very impressive beginning for the team this year.

"All but two of their starters are from that same junior varsity club," Robbins said, "and that winning tradition they've started is going to be tough to handle." But Robbins is by no means pessimistic about his charges chances, and feels that they are "getting ready with a winning attitude."

Robbins indicated that success in the early-going could mean the difference in the ballgame. "If we don't have any bad breaks and play real fine football, we should come away okay," Robbins stated.

Indications are that the Steer offense is going to be throwing the ball a lot, but Robbins emphasized that the ground game and the type of play-action passing that is the Steers' forte will complement the airway display.

The Mustangs finished their 1975 season with a 2-8 mark, the same as last years Steers, but everyone who views the contest with any sort of objectivity can see that the circumstances are much different this year. Both teams have something to prove, and the winner will no doubt be the team who has more faith in its abilities to do so.

Don Green at the Big Spring ticket office indicates that ticket sales to the game are "fairly brisk," and that anyone who wants to still purchase a ticket here for the game in Andrews must buy them by 2 p.m. Friday.

"We have to close down then so that we can tally up the total and send the remaining tickets back to Andrews," Greensaid.

Of course, there will be tickets sold at the gate for those Steer fans who make the journey. And indications are that a sizeable following will be sporting the black and gold standard in Mustang Stadium.

The Steers will taper off somewhat in practice this afternoon, and work out mainly in shorts and pads, "just to keep the bounce in their legs until game time," Robbins said.

The Steers will leave from the high school parking lot at about 4:45 Friday afternoon, and arrive by charter bus in Andrews about an hour and a half later.

The varsity elected co-captains for the season Tuesday, and they are quarterback Bubba Stripling and defensive back Steve Hughes. They also elected a weekly tri-captain, Jack Buchanan, an offensive tackle, and will be naming a new one for each week, based on his performance in the previous week's game.

"We have an excellent chance to win the Andrews game if we play the football we are capable of and NOT make any mistakes," Robbins again emphasized.

Robbins plans to take a 50-man squad to Friday night's opener at 8 p.m., and the starting line-up is as follows:

OFFENSE
Split End — Kenneth Coffey, 163, jr. Weak-side tackle — Jack Buchanan, 188, sr. Weak-side guard — Lance Perry, 186, jr. Center — Allen Partee, 191, sr. Strong-side guard — Frosty Reynolds, 215, sr. Strong-side tackle — Jimmy McChristian, 225, sr. Tight end — Greg Moore, 186, jr. Quarterback — Bubba Stripling, 156, sr. Fullback — Greg Adams, 188, sr. Halfback — Mike Abreo, 149, sr. Flankerback — Mike Harris, 190, sr.

NFL Eastern Division has two hungry teams

The two chief contenders in the Eastern Division of the National Football League's American Conference clash head-on for the first time this season earlier than ever.

And, by the time Miami visits Baltimore in the fifth week of the season it may already be apparent which is the hungrier team, the despondent Dolphins or the "Cinderella" Colts, who ended the Dolphins' four-year division reign a year ago.

The other three teams in the division — Buffalo, New England and the New York Jets — appear a notch or two behind Baltimore and Miami, both of which posted 10-4 records last season.

Buffalo finished at 8-6 in 1975, but the Bills since have lost superstar O. J. Simpson, plus veteran players from an already porous defense. Both the Jets and the Patriots were 3-11 last year, and they also are undergoing changes.

"Being knocked out of the playoffs for the first time since 1969 should make our team hungrier than ever," said Miami Coach Don Shula.

Baltimore's Ted Marchibroda, NFL Coach of the Year in his first season as head coach, recognizes the hazards following the miracle turnaround of the Colts, who were 2-12 in 1974.

"Some teams didn't respect us last season and we were able to take advantage of it," Marchibroda said. "But not this year. They know all about us and we won't be able to sneak up on anybody. Hopefully, we can carry over our enthusiasm and confidence into a new season."

Off the preseason competition, it won't be easy. After winning their first two exhibitions, giving up just three points, the Colts dropped their next three while playing uninspired ball.

In addition, Baltimore made what appears to be a dangerous gamble by trading veteran quarterback Marty Domres to the San Francisco.

That leaves Bill Troup, who has called just one play in two NFL seasons, as the backup to Bert Jones, an emerging star who is sometimes a reckless runner and played with injured ribs much of last season.

Miami, which never has won fewer than 10 games during Shula's six seasons at the helm, hardly crumbled last year and was nudged out of the playoffs because of two losses to Baltimore — the second by a 10-7 score in overtime.

Injuries, which plagued Miami last season, still are a troublesome factor as the new season approaches. But Shula, whose record ranks No. 1 among active NFL coaches, was expected to move as decisively in that area as he did in dispatching unhappy veterans Jake Scott and Mercury Morris to other teams in recent weeks.

The Colts can hardly expect to start 1976 the way they finished last year, with nine consecutive regular-season victories and one more in the playoffs before being eliminated by the Super Bowl champions, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

But neither can they afford to lose four of their first five games as they did a year ago. They need respectability from the start. A comeback wouldn't be as easy a second time around.

Jones was the NFL's No. 4 passer last year, a jump of 15 notches in one year, with 2,483 yards and 18 touchdown passes. Lydell Mitchell ranked third in rushing with a club record 1,193 yards, operating behind a line which was stabilized when tackle George Kunz was acquired in a trade.

Mitchell also led the Colts with 60 pass receptions, while wide receiver Glenn Doughty had 39, tight end Ray Chester 38 and wide receiver Roger Carr 23.

The Baltimore defense led the league with 59 quarterback sacks in 1975, but the rush has been almost nonexistent in exhibition games while end John Dutton is sidelined with an injury. It will be needed, however, to help a secondary still learning to work together.

The Colts have had other serious exhibition injuries, but they pale in comparison to what hit Miami. However, the Dolphins won their first five preseason games.

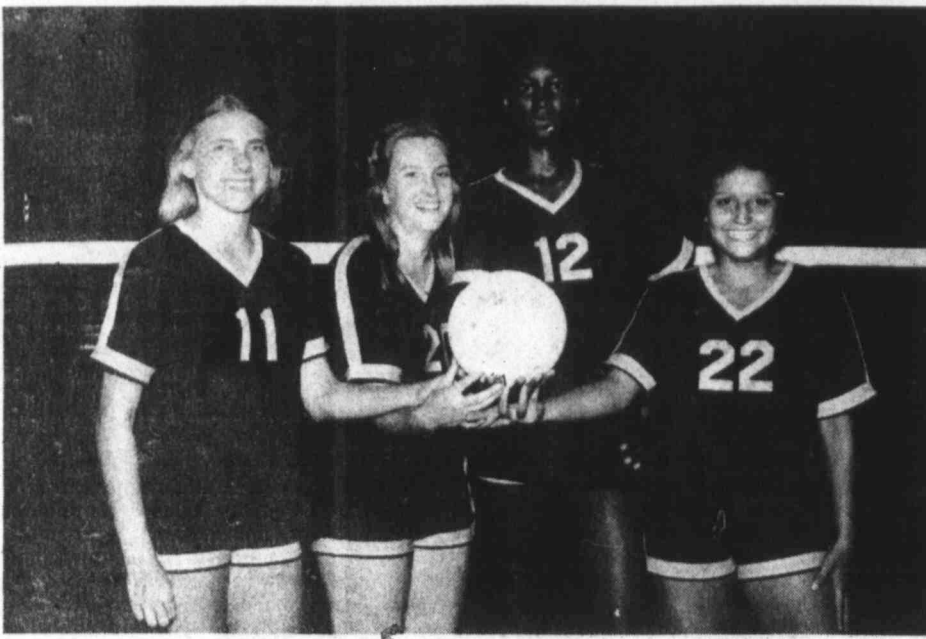

Knee injuries to Earnest Rhone and first-round draft pick Kim Bokamper, plus the uncertainty that Mike Kolen would recover from knee surgery, forced Shula to talk 35-year-old linebacker Nick Buoniconti out of retirement.

Further depleting Miami's defense, end Bill Stanfill and safety Dick Anderson are hobbled, with Anderson out possibly for the first third of the season. In addition, wide receiver Freddie Solomon is out with a kidney ailment as the season opener nears.

Since winning their second straight Super Bowl after the 1973 season, the Dolphins have lost a host of veterans through trades, the expansion draft and the defection of those who played out their options.

But they still have quarterback Bob Griese, who missed the final 4½ games of 1975 with a foot injury, running backs Benny Malone, Don Nottingham and Norm Bulaich, and a strong offensive line headed by guards Larry Little and Bob Kuechenberg, and center Jim Langer.

After failing to be traded by Buffalo as requested, Simpson apparently has chosen to sit out the season.

May continues homer spree

By The Associated Press

Home run hitters are supposed to drive fancy cars and hog the headlines, but one of the best of the breed, Baltimore's Lee May, labors in obscurity.

He has hit 20 or more home runs in each of the past nine seasons. His three-run homer Wednesday night, which helped Baltimore beat the Kansas City Royals 7-1, tied him with Sal Bando of Oakland for the American League lead with 24. His four runs batted in raised his league-leading total to 90. But still the headlines have escaped him.

"That has been the story of my life," May said. "I have learned to live with it. But if you do enough, the owners know it and they give you a decent salary."

"A lot of guys like to see their names in the papers, but I don't care about ink. I'm a low-key guy. I can't stand a lot of controversy."

In other American League games, the Boston Red Sox beat the Texas Rangers 3-0, the Minnesota Twins edged the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 in the 12th innings, the Cleveland Indians blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0, the California Angels defeated the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and the Oakland A's shutout the New York Yankees 5-0.

May's three-run homer in the fifth inning capped a five-run outburst that broke the game open for the Orioles. Reggie Jackson, one slugger who gets more than his share of headlines, hit a two-run single right before May connected.

"The race between Reggie and me gives each of us a little extra incentive, you need it at this time of year," observed May. Jackson has 22 homers and 80 RBI.

Red Sox 3, Rangers 0 — Ferguson Jenkins' season ended in the fifth inning against Texas, when the Boston pitcher suffered a torn right Achilles tendon in making a putout at first base. He faced surgery today.

Jenkins allowed four hits for 4 1/3 innings, then reliever Tom Murphy held Texas hitless the rest of the way to get the win. Indians 3, White Sox 0 — Cleveland won its fifth in a row as Jim Bibby, 10-5, pitched a five-hitter. Ray Fosse homered and Buddy Bell doubled home one run and scored another.

Angels 4, Tigers 1 — The Angels equalled their longest winning streak of the season, four games, as Frank Tanana raised his record to 15-9 by stopping the Tigers on six hits. Dave Collins had three hits for California, including a two-run double in the fourth inning when the Angels scored all their runs.

SPORTS BRIEFS

NEW YORK National Football League teams, with the exception of expansion clubs Seattle and Tampa Bay, will be limited to 43 players with no taxi squads this season, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced.

DOVER, Del. — Delaware kicked off its controversial pro football lottery games with plenty of fans and some other states watching to see if the courts block the betting games.

Coach Robbins, and Steer football players. I read with interest your statement as quoted in the Big Spring Herald Sept. 1 regarding fan participation and our Quarterback Club membership and attendance at Quarterback Club meetings.

"I as a fan apologize to you, your coaches and the Big Spring Steers for my lack of participation and interest therein. I do accept your challenge and will change my attitude about Big Spring football. I now believe we can win and I shall be there to see it happen."

"I call upon all past and present football fans to do the same."

Omar, who once served as QBC co-captain, said he would be in the stands when the Steers open play Friday night in Andrews.

Jones' statement:

"I am pleased to hear of your interest in the Steers and to see that you are participating in the Steers' activities. I am sure that you will be a great asset to the Steers and to the community."

Astros winning!

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros are enjoying their longest running streak of the season and part of that winning streak is causing some concern for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Rookie starter Bo McLaughlin fired a six-hitter and Cliff Johnson blasted his eighth homer of the season Wednesday night as Houston took its seventh straight victory with a 1-0 decision over the Phillies.

The loss was Philadelphia sixth straight, including three in a row to Houston, leaving the Phillies only 9½ games in front of second place Pittsburgh in the National League East Division.

McLaughlin, 3-2, walked only two and struck out five as he recorded Houston's sixth consecutive complete game by the Astros pitching staff, a club record.

Johnson's home run, a seventh inning smash off loser Jim Kaat, 11-10, proved the difference as the Astros strengthened their hold on third place in the National League West.

"I feel like I've hit a groove," said McLaughlin. "I had a pretty good fast ball and tried to challenge the hitters." Johnson called McLaughlin's pitching effort "masterful."

"He did the thing that a pitcher has to do to win games," Johnson said.

The Phillies, who have seen 5½ games of their one-time 15-game advantage slip away in the last eight days, are concerned but not panicky.

"I'm always concerned with our ball club but we're capable of coming out of it and winning some ball games," said Philadelphia manager Danny Ozark.

"McLaughlin pitched a dandy game. We haven't had a streak like this all year and it sure is a bad time to have one."

Defending champs kickoff Friday

Five defending state school-boy football champions and five others picked to finish No. 1 this year kick off the 1976 season Friday night.

Port Neches-Groves, the Class 4A titleholder last year, is ranked 10th in The Associated Press preseason poll this season. It opens the season against Pasadena Dobie.

Brazoswood, 1974 state champ, is top-ranked again this year and will host Angleton in its lidlifter Friday night.

Beaumont Hebert, demoted from 4A, is rated first in Class 3A and will meet Crosstown 4A rival Forest Park. Defending 3A champion Ennis, ranked fifth in preseason, also plays a 4A team — Corsicana.

In Class 2A, top-ranked Rockdale challenges Brenham and defending champ La Grange, ranked third, meets Bellville.

Aledo is sitting atop the Class A contingent and will tangle with Cedar Hill while ninth-rated DeLeon defends its title against Gorman.

Cubs and Midland approve new lease

The City of Midland and the Chicago Cubs reached an agreement, pending ratification by the city council, to lease Cubs Stadium for two more years, 1977 and 1978.

"We are extremely pleased with the new agreement," said Cubs General Manager Bill Rigney, "and are looking forward to operating our AA club here for the next two years and, hopefully, beyond then. The two-year agreement coincides with our AAA agreement at Wichita and brings some uniformity to our minor league system."

"The City of Midland has been most cooperative especially Bob Thompson and Fred Poe and Mayor Angelo. After two preliminary, fact-find meetings, we were able to conclude our agreement in a third meeting involving these gentlemen, myself and John Cox, Asst. General Manager of the Chicago Cubs."

It is expected that the proposed lease will go before the City Council on September 14.

DALLAS COWBOYS

COWBOYS FACT SHEET
THIS WEEK — The Dallas Cowboys (2-3) host the Houston Oilers (0-5) Saturday night at Texas Stadium in a nationally televised "Texas Pro Football Championship" battle. It is the final warm-up game for both teams. Houston lost a hard-fought game to Miami Saturday night, 10-6, while the Cowboys were winning their second in a row, 20-10, over Pittsburgh.

SERIES STANDING — The Cowboys and the Oilers have met for the Governor's Cup in pre-season action each summer since 1967. Dallas holds a 7-2 edge in the series, including a 19-13 overtime win at Texas Stadium in 1974 and a 17-14 squeeze in the Astrodome last year. In regular season play, Dallas won 52-10 in 1970 and 10-0 in '74.

KICKOFF — 8 p.m. CDT Saturday at Texas Stadium. Crowd estimate: 55,000.

TELEVISION — Telecast nationally by ABC (Dallas blacked out) with Frank Gifford, Howard Cosell and Alex Karras.

RADIO — KRLD (1080) in Dallas, KFJZ (1270) in Fort Worth and the Cowboys Radio Network with Verne Lundquist and Chris Needham.

THE COACHES — Tom Landry, the only pilot the Cowboys have had in 16 seasons, is at the beginning of No. 17 with a 126-90-6 record.

G.A. "Bum" Phillips is in his second year as head coach of the Oilers after directing a 10-4 season in 1975.

HOW IT SHAPES UP — The Cowboys had lost their first three pre-season games (which happened last year) before turning it around against Detroit (36-16) and then seeing the cement start to set with a good night against Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh. It was by far the club's best all-around effort of the warm-up season and players and coaches took heart that they were indeed progressing toward the long championship season ahead.

Defensive end Harvey Martin, with four quarterback traps, and No. 1 draft choice Aaron Kyle, with two-pass interceptions off deflections, led the defense. Roger Staubach tossed two touchdown passes, a 16-yarder to Drew Pearson and a two-yarder to Billy Joe DuPree, for all the points the Cowboys really needed.

"It was a good football game, a great effort against a very good team," said Landry. "Our defense was exceptional. We were moving, setting up the quarterback traps and keeping a pressure rush on which forced some turnovers."

"I'm not sure just how well we played because I can't be sure how mentally ready Pittsburgh was without (Lynn) Swann and some of the others. But it was an impressive win just looking at it from the sidelines."

"Danny White is just super with his punting (4 for 43.2). He keeps the ball up long enough for us to get down and it really helps the defense. Our specialty teams are playing right now with a lot of emotion. We have cut down to 49 players so they know they have a chance and are going after that spot on the roster."

Landry said he intended to use Danny White a quarterback against the Steelers for at least one quarter but changed his mind because, "as the game went on, I figured Roger really needed the work."

The coach said the two victories, and the progress they reflect, brighten the outlook for the start of the regular season on Sept. 12.

"Well, we are improved. We are playing the veterans now and it's showing up. Against teams like Los Angeles and Oakland you are going to get burned with some of the younger players. But now we're getting down to the limit and the continuity is showing up."

Trainers said Robert Newhouse (groin) and Cliff Harris (knee) would both start working in practices this week and, depending on how much they are able to do, could see action against the Oilers. Running back Preston Pearson has experienced some swelling in his post-surgery knee and may be at least two weeks away from entering everyday drills.

Rookie wide receiver Duke Ferguson will be lost for about six weeks after pulling a tendon of the fourth finger, right hand, loose from the bone in the Steelers game. He had surgery Sunday afternoon.

Rookie defensive end Greg Schaum hurt a knee and was listed as doubtful for the Oilers. Cornerback Mark Washington, hit in the head for the second week in a row, was to be examined by doctors as a precautionary measure. Ron Johnson, held out of the Pittsburgh game because of fluid from a rough knee joint, could have played, trainers said.

NEXT WEEK — The Cowboys host the Philadelphia Eagles on Sunday, September 12, at Texas Stadium in the regular season opener.

JV, freshmen play tonight

The Big Spring Steers junior varsity will open its regular season tonight at 7 o'clock in Memorial Stadium. Head Coach Don Robbins indicates that between 60 and 65 players will be ready for action in their first encounter since the Sweetwater scrimmage last week, where they came up on the short end of a two scores to zip final.

Robbins feels that the team will be improved; because this has been the first complete week they have worked as a unit. The Andrew's JV should be more ready to play, as they have already had two scrimmages and started work earlier in the season.

Defensive players that should be leading the way, according to Robbins, are Ricky McAllen and Johnny Hardeman, defensive tackles, Jerry Baeza, linebacker, and Rusty Braun, in the secondary.

For the offense, Wade Cobb, quarterback, Larry Smith, fullback, Ricky Torres, split end, Lloyd Jones and Eddie Puga, running backs, should also see a lot of action.

The two Big Spring freshmen teams, the Brahmas and the Toros, will also play their first game of the season in Andrews, starting time, 5:30 and 7:30, respectively. There will be approximately 40 players on each team, mostly from Goliad and Rannels, but a few transfers from out-of-town will see action and Robbins says, "We really don't know how to judge them or their opponents as this will be their first action."

Although much is "unknown" about what to expect, Robbins suggested that the Andrews teams will be more organized as they have been working longer, and it is likely that they might be running the same type offense as the varsity.

Steers gain support

Omar Jones, longtime civic worker and a former school board member, is one who reacted in a positive manner to Coach Don Robbins' challenge to friends of the local athletics.

Jones agreed with Robbins that the coaching staff's task of restoring the Steers' dignity in athletics would become less difficult if greater and more intense interest were manifested among fans.

Jones released a statement in support of the athletic program, expressing hope that others would rally behind the school. He said the public could best channel their enthusiasm through the Quarterback Club, which held its first meeting earlier this week despite an unusually small attendance.

Jones' statement:

"I am pleased to hear of your interest in the Steers and to see that you are participating in the Steers' activities. I am sure that you will be a great asset to the Steers and to the community."

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite a number of questionable activities that are going on about you, there is an influential man who will give you some good suggestions for adding to your success and advancement. Listen closely to his comments and you will find it possible to eliminate confusion over the best way to handle tension.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are apt to be confused where your regular work is concerned, so try to straighten out your thinking. Take treatments you need to improve health. Be with loved ones in the evening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) New aims require up-to-date thinking if they are to be launched properly. Make as good an impression as you can on those who count.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A partner could be trying to pull a fast one on you, so be more cautious in your dealings with this person. You can start some new venture provided you are properly equipped for it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Your associates could be very demanding today, but take it easy since they are under pressure of some kind. A problem arises that can be handled most intelligently at this time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Proceed with plans you have made and get much done instead of listening to one who would distract you. Use only proven methods where health is concerned. Be careful of strangers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Carry through with creative ideas; make sure they are handled in a practical and not a radical manner. This is especially true of your closest tie.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Avoid arguments at home that could become serious. Maintain poise, harmony instead. Handle problems intelligently today. Forget hurt feelings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be especially careful in travel, particularly if you drive. Study written material and don't sign contracts until you've read them well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your financial affairs need some revision and careful handling so that you do not get into any further trouble. Show that you have good practical sense. Relax in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are discontented, but a good friend gives you the advice you need to help you feel better and operate more efficiently.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are faced with a puzzling private matter, so be sure to study it well before you take any action on it. Keep calm even though you may be pressured in some way.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look on the good side of your friends and forget the weak points and you have a better relationship with them. Plan how to gain more progress in personal matters. Avoid a troublemaker.

Ridin' fence

with Marj Carpenter

The whole world is changing. One thing you used to count on was that the pamphlets from the Department of Agriculture that were available in county agents' offices were dull, gray and fine printed and difficult to read.

They always looked just alike and always came in big bundles of federal government envelopes.

It used to prove that the whole world is changing, how long has it been since you visited a county agent's office? They now have walls filled with beautiful rose-pink and sky-blue pamphlets.

Each one has a special design and they no longer all look alike. They still give lots of advice on when to plant trees, how to kill your hackberry tree, and what kind of disease plague West Texas citrus.

Obviously, they really do include a lot of useful tips on gardening, home improvements, canning and many other items.

But they don't look like they did in the good old days, the pamphlets were grey colored and boring.

Many things change. Up at First Presbyterian Church Sunday night, the congregation had a wonderful dose of nostalgia as they recommissioned their original sanctuary into a chapel.

Rev. R. Gage Lloyd told such a funny story on that occasion that I simply can't repeat it. He has a lot of lifetime friends out in the community who will enjoy it.

He said, he had called on a Vietnam Air Force base couple that he had been told wanted to join the church. She was Presbyterian. He was Baptist. They wanted to transfer their letter.

When Sunday came, he was happy to see them sitting right down on the front. At the end of the service, he welcomed new members and went ahead and welcomed them into the congregation.

The officers of the church accepted them as members pending the arrival of their church letters. He welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

The couple remained after the service. "Mr. Lloyd," the man said politely, "I sure hate to tell you, but our name is not Jones and we do not want to join the church. We were just visiting."

The following Sunday, the Joneses arrived and joined the church. The Rev. Lloyd kept a straight face for the occasion. The church welcomes the young couple.

An older woman in the church said to the preacher as she went out the door, "I thought the Joneses joined last Sunday." "Oh no," the preacher replied, "they were just visiting."

A Hale County grand jury indicted the deputy Aug. 16, apparently being unable to determine if the alleged offense occurred in its jurisdiction. The jurors recommended that the charge be investigated by Floyd County officials.

According to a charge prepared by Floyd County district attorney Randy Hollums, Anzuldua is charged with stopping the woman's car on SH 70 East in Hale County and allegedly forcing her at gunpoint to get into his car. The woman admitted he took her to another location where the father took place.

Anzuldua was on duty at the time and reportedly had been drinking.

The deputy sheriff was indicted on charges of official misconduct by the Hale County grand jury and will stand trial on that charge at a later date. He is currently at liberty on bond.

The Floyd County grand jury likely will take up the Anzuldua case Thursday.

World is changing

Rev. Lloyd quickly replied, "This couple has never joined our church before." Giving the new pastor, the Rev. Bill Henning a little equal time, the funniest thing he said this week is "I notice in The Herald that they said that the weekend tennis tournament was for the not-so-good tennis players. Well, I won a trophy out there, so for the moment I am the best of the not-so-good tennis players."

I notice that I was recently quoted as having woke up from watching the Republican National Convention and being confused by seeing "Sanford and Son." In the first place, I never watched Sanford and Son, but one time. That was enough. And I would never, never confuse it with the Republican Convention. That's probably enough said on that subject.

In fact, that's probably enough on all three subjects — and I'll get back to ridin' fence — out where I belong.

Champion cowboy sets mark

DENVER, Colo. — World champion all around cowboy Tom Ferguson this week set a new record for earning the most money in a single year in professional rodeo.

The Denver-based Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association said Ferguson's 1976 earnings total $67,684. The old record, set by Ferguson two years ago, was $66,929.

Coupled with rodeo bonuses, including the $150,000 Winston Rodeo Awards, Ferguson stands a good chance of becoming the sport's first $100,000-a-year cowboy.

It was just nine years ago that six-times all around champion Larry Mahan set a new high in rodeo, winning more than $50,000 for the first time. Total prize money in the PRCA that year was $3.6 million. The 1976 figure will be near $7 million, officials predicted.

Ferguson said he plans to continue his competition "as long as I'm still able to win." Although Ferguson will be the biggest winner for 1976, the PRCA has changed its format for naming world champions, and he'll start from "scratch" this December at the National Finals Rodeo, where the top 15 men in each of six events will vie for the championships, determined solely on the amount of money they win at the Finals. The NFR is set for Dec. 3-11 in Oklahoma City, Okla.

The same format will be used for the upcoming National Finals Steer Roping, which pits the top 15 steer ropers after 12 sanctioned ropings in ten grounds of competition at Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 10-12.

Division Leaders:
ALL AROUND CHAMPION — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $67,684.
SADDLE BRONC RIDING — Monty Hennessy, Mesquite, Tex., $26,024.
BAREBACK BRONC RIDING — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $17,258.
BULL RIDING — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $26,142.
CATTLE ROPING — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $26,440.
STEER WRESTLING — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $38,797.
TEAM ROPING — Leo Camarillo, Oaktale, Ca., $24,303.
GRA BARREL RACING — Connie Combs, Comanche, Okla., $15,628.
STEER ROPING — Marvin Cantrell, Nara Vista, N.M., $9,827.
NOTE — The Steer Roping Standings include 11 of the 12 regular sanctioned ropings of 1976. The last sanctioned roping of 1976, the last winners after final contest will compete in the national Finals Steer Roping in Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 10-12.

Highway maintenance technician gets award

Monroe M. Koenning of Garden City, a maintenance technician with the forces of Maintenance Construction Supervisor Henry E. Barton of Sterling City, has received a 25-year Certificate of Service and lapel emblem from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT).

Monroe began his DHT career in 1951 with then Foreman Jim Butler of Sterling City. Beginning as a laborer, Monroe soon became a skilled truck driver, and since 1956, has been operating a maintainer in the Sterling-Glasscock area.

Monroe and his son, Terry, live in Garden City. He is a member and an officer of the American Legion Post in Big Spring, and is an avid fisherman.

District Engineer D. R. Watson of San Angelo sent a letter of congratulations to Monroe expressing appreciation for his long, faithful, service, and wishing him future pleasant association with the department.

HOUSTON (AP) — Area health officials say more cases of St. Louis encephalitis (SLE) can be expected in Harris County the next three or four weeks despite spraying efforts, now going on to kill the culex mosquitoes which carry the virus.

Three additional confirmed cases of the sickness were reported Wednesday in the county, bringing the total for the year to eight confirmed cases and six suspected cases. There have been no deaths.

Not like 'Bentsen' primary

New primary law predicted

By SCOTT CARPENTER
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The best thing about this year's presidential primary law in Texas was that it had a self-destruct clause.

The law was designed to further the presidential candidacy of U.S. Lloyd Bentsen who was blitzed by the growing Jimmy Carter steam roller. The result was that the "Bentsen bill" was renamed the "Carter-Reagan bill" after those who benefited the most.

A special House subcommittee is being named this week to study whether Texas should continue to have a presidential primary, and if so, what kind of primary it should have. There's little doubt that the committee will recommend that the system of picking national convention delegates be a primary election.

There is also little doubt that the primary system recommended won't be like the one used in May.

Not only did the Carter and Reagan near unanimous pickup of Texas delegates dash the hopes of Bentsen and give President Ford a cold chill — it may well have smashed the leadership of both state parties.

Backers of Calvin Guest, State Democratic chairman, had lined up behind Bentsen and his favorite son candidacy. Carter was an unknown at the early date for selection of the Texas national convention delegates, and as such his list of delegates included the names of unknowns and persons disgruntled with Bentsen, Guest and Guest's main support, Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

State Republican Chairman Ray Hutchison straddled the fence and didn't pick Reagan or President Ford. His compatriots sided with Ford, and the Reaganites who swept the primary aren't the kind to forgive and forget, or really to accept fence straddling.

Since the delegates picked by primary voters also have a vote at state conventions. Guest and Hutchison are facing strong challenges in their respective races to stay in control of their parties.

Briscoe and Guest have made peace with the top Carter people, both in Texas and nationally. Carter has urged the state party to avoid any splits and to reelect Guest. But that hasn't slowed the campaign of John Henry Tatum who has picked up the support of the longtime disgruntled liberals and of Carterites who never felt included by Guest.

Hutchison is being opposed by Ray Barnhart, the ultra conservative Houstonian who led the Reagan campaign in May the Texas delegation to Kansas City. Barnhart is said to be considering a race against Sen. John Tower in 1978, and Hutchison is said to be readying for a 1978 race for the governorship.

The decisions by the special House subcommittee can't affect the outcome of the September conventions and the selection of a state party leader. But no one seems to like the system used in May.

The chair of that special committee, Rep. Sarah Weddington of Austin didn't like the Bentsen bill when it was first brought before the House. She battled to get several changes — to make it a true statewide primary law.

Weddington won her first battle and the House quickly adjourned. Overnight a number of legislators reported they got calls from Bentsen and Bentsen aides they'd never heard of before. The following day, the House reversed its position, and Bentsen got the bill he wanted to use as a springboard to the presidential nomination.

Pilot perishes in plane crash

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A Waco pilot died Wednesday night when his experimental aircraft crashed into a pond near the Pancake Community in North Central Texas.

Peace Justice Stoney Hammack pronounced Sammy Paul Mayhew, 42, dead at the scene.

Tuition grant program to cost $12 million

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Dr. Abernethy McCall, longtime president of Baylor University, says it will cost $12 million a year to fully implement the tuition equalization grant program that helps needy Texas residents pay tuition at private colleges. Full implementation of the program would increase from 15,000 to 20,000 the number of students receiving the maximum $600 per year grants, Dr. Bob Hunter of Abilene said. There are 50,000 Texas residents in private colleges.

The two were appearing before a House subcommittee looking at funding a higher education.

McCall and Hunter said they were looking with some interest at a proposal by House Speaker Bill Clayton to change the current system of state aid to colleges and universities. Clayton's proposal would expand help to all Texas residents who attend colleges, whether public or private.

Reagan backer to shun fight

HOUSTON (AP) — Michel Halbouty says he will remain neutral in the contest over the Republican chairmanship in Texas and will devote his efforts to producing a victory for President Ford in the state.

Halbouty was a Texas at-large delegate to the national Republican convention last month and served as finance chairman of the national Committee of Oilmen for former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"I very much regret the contest for the chairmanship," Halbouty said Wednesday. "Unity in the party may be impaired by a fight for this position which could seriously affect the November presidential election."

Ray Barnhart of Houston, chairman of the Texas delegation to the GOP national convention, announced Tuesday he will seek the state chairmanship post now held by Ray Hutchison of Dallas.
