House overrides Ford's veto of HEW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted today to override President Ford's veto of a $56.6 billion appropriation bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

The vote was 312 to 93, 42 more than the two-thirds needed to override. It left the final decision to the Senate, which was expected to act promptly.

Ford had said the bill was inflationary, calling for $4 billion more spending than he had recommended for the departments.

Supporters of the appropriation said Ford's budget made no provision for rising costs and would have forced cuts in programs for children, the disadvantaged and the elderly.

The House then moved toward consideration of a revenue sharing measure that could be the key to determine whether Congress meets its weekend deadline for adjournment.

Ford said Wednesday he will sign or veto two different jobs bills only after Congress acts on the revenue sharing measure, for which he has pushed hard.

The two jobs bills awaiting presidential action are a $3.7-billion measure for public works construction and legislation extending 260,000 public service jobs in state and local governments through the coming fiscal year.

Because these bills will be killed by a pocket veto if Congress adjourns and Ford doesn't act 10 days after he received them, supporters of the measures want Ford to sign or veto them. If Ford vetoes them, Congress then could attempt an override before adjourning this weekend.

Ford said Wednesday he will make decisions on the two bills if Congress approves the revenue-sharing bill that comes before the House today. That measure would provide $25.5 billion in federal revenue-sharing funds to cities, states and counties through 1980.

House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill said Wednesday that Congress will stay in session beyond Friday if that is necessary to prevent a pocket veto.

The veto of the HEW-Labor bill was Ford's 59th in his 49 months in office. Of the 59, Congress has overridden 11.

An override attempt failed Wednesday when the Senate sustained Ford's veto of a bill authorizing $100 million for research to develop automobiles that would pollute less and burn less fuel. The House voted to override but the Senate failed to do so.

Congress also took these other actions Wednesday:

JOBLESS BENEFITS
The unemployment tax on employers would be doubled and jobless benefits would be extended to all state and local government workers, under a bill approved by the Senate. The measure now goes to a conference with the House, which has approved a bill that is similar but which also extends unemployment compensation to farm workers and many domestics.

The Senate bill also would make it impossible for a person to draw both a retirement check and full unemployment benefits.

Another unemployment bill won final congressional action when the House approved a three-year, $4.8-billion extension of programs to help regions with high unemployment.

CIVIL RIGHTS

The Senate approved and sent to the House a bill that supporters say will help citizens enforce their civil rights. The measure would permit courts to order losing defendants to pay attorneys fees to private citizens who bring successful suits to enforce their civil rights. The measure also says courts may award attorney's fees to taxpayers who prevail in civil suits brought against them by the Internal Revenue Service.

SWAMPS AND DUNES
Final congressional action was given to a 3,662-acre expansion of the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore along Lake Michigan and to plans to create the Congaree Swamp National Monument in South Carolina. Both bills now go to President Ford.

FLOOD CONTROL

The House passed and sent to the Senate legislation to authorize $993 million worth of flood control and water resources programs. Forty-four projects in 27 states would be authorized money under the bill, subject to appropriations.

The program empowers the Army Corps of Engineers to establish wetland areas to reduce the loss of such preserves, to fight beach erosion by adding new sand, and to assess waterway improvements to determine what is needed and what already has been done.

LIVESTOCK CREDIT

The House voted to extend the Livestock Credit Act of 1974 for 21 months and sent the approval to the Senate. The act provides for government guarantees of 90 per cent of the principal and interest on private loans up to $350,000.

The loans would be made to livestock producers who have suffered economic hardship and are unable to obtain private financing needed to stay in business.

'Free of impropriety allegations'

Ford proud of record

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today he is confident the current inquiry into his past campaign finances will demonstrate he is "free of any allegations" of impropriety and expressed hope the matter can be resolved quickly.

Perched on the side of his Oval Office desk, Ford told reporters he had never diverted any campaign contributions for his personal use.

The President was asked if a rash of news reports about the inquiry by the Watergate special prosecutor, coming in the midst of his campaign against Jimmy Carter, was troubling him.

Ford replied that he was not as concerned about it for political reasons as he was because of his "record of personal integrity."

"I'm very proud of my record of personal integrity," the President declared.

At the news conference, convened without advance notice, Ford declined to assess the political impact of the investigation, being conducted by Watergate special prosecutor Charles Ruff.

He did say that he has "full confidence in the integrity" of Ruff and declared: "I strongly believe in the special prosecutor concept."

Carter had challenged Ford on Wednesday to submit to cross-examination by reporters on the investigation, into whether Ford illegally diverted campaign contributions to his own use during his years in Congress.

Ford also reported that he has given orders that "nobody on my staff has any authority whatsoever" to make inquiries about the investigation at the Justice Department or special prosecutor's office, suggesting that such moves might be interpreted as hindering or impeding Ruff's work.

Asked if he didn't have a perfect right to inquire whether he is the target of the investigation, Ford said that even in that event he felt "any inquiry would be misconstrued."

Ford also discussed his golf outings as a congressman with big business lobbyists — some of which involved travel to corporation-owned course and resorts.

Asked whether pending business before Congress was discussed on the golf course, the President replied, "Not to be the best of my recollection."

Friday is latest you may register to vote Nov. 2

Do you want to vote in the Nov. 2 Presidential election? Friday at 5 p.m. is the latest you may register in the county tax office and qualify to vote in the general election, Zirah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, said.

But completed applications arriving by mail Monday will enable citizens to vote for the next President, she said. Mailed applications should be postmarked no later than Friday.

Those without blue voter registration cards and those who have moved since receiving the blue cards should contact the county tax office about registration.

To register, you must be a citizen, a resident of the county and 18 years of age or older.

TALKS OF PAST CAMPAIGN FINANCES — Perched on the side of his Oval Office desk, President Ford talks with reporters today in the White House. Ford said he is confident the current inquiry into his past campaign finances will demonstrate he is "free of any allegations" of impropriety and expressed hope the matter can be resolved quickly.

Warning voiced by Kissinger

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger warned non-African powers today against "fueling the flames of war and racial hatred" in southern Africa.

In a report on his recent shuttle diplomacy, Kissinger told the 31st General Assembly that outside interference "would make a mockery of Africa's hard-won struggle for independence from foreign domination."

Kissinger's remarks appeared aimed at the Soviet Union. In a speech to the assembly Tuesday, Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko scorned "political gimmickry and financial handouts" by which he said national liberation movements in southern Africa were being diverted.

Kissinger said Africa "has before it the prize for which it has struggled so long — the opportunity for Africans to shape a future of peace, justice, racial harmony and progress."

Medicaid fraud probe

Senators issue subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel today issued a subpoena for a federal employee accused by witnesses of accepting payments from private computer companies bidding on lucrative Medicaid antifraud contracts.

Acting chairman Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said that Charles A. Cubbler had refused an order by Secretary David Mathews of Health, Education and Welfare to appear voluntarily before the subcommittee on investigations this morning.

Cubbler's attorneys informed the subcommittee that he would take the Fifth Amendment if questioned about his activities, and that he thought he should not be required to appear in an open hearing. Five other HEW employees appeared voluntarily at Mathews' direction.

The first three called to testify said that Cubbler had been in a position in HEW's Medicaid Department to be aware of documents being circulated internally which would be valuable to private companies bidding on government contracts aimed at reducing fraud in the program.

A subcommittee investigator disclosed today that, in addition to thousands of dollars that Cubbler allegedly received from FMS Management Services and Richard Ney Associates, the HEW employee also had received $2,552.48 from Health Application Systems, Inc., which won a $59 million contract from the State of Pennsylvania.

Action/reaction: Converging traffic

Q. Why was the authorization approved to have six lanes of traffic converging at a three-way stop? This demolition corner is Eleventh Place and State.

A. "The city previously had a light at that corner, but we found that traffic volume didn't warrant the light," said Susan Thomas, city traffic coordinator. "A one-way stop didn't work either. We had at least five accidents which was too many. The only alternative was an all-way stop," she added.

Miss Hearst's attorneys seek new trial Pair indicted for kidnaping heiress

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — William and Emily Harris, underground companions of Patricia Hearst, have been indicted for the kidnaping of the newspaper heiress 2½ years ago.

Shortly before the Alameda County Grand Jury returned the indictment Wednesday, Miss Hearst's attorneys filed a motion for a new trial on the armed bank robbery for which she has been sentenced to seven years in prison.

The indictment accuses the two avowed members of the Symbionese Liberation Army of kidnaping for ransom with bodily harm in the Feb. 4, 1974, abduction of Miss Hearst from her Berkeley apartment. The maximum penalty would be life in prison without possibility of parole.

Ball for the Harris was set at $300,000 each, with arraignment set for Friday in Alameda County Superior Court.

The indictment supercedes a criminal complaint filed by the district attorney against the couple for which a preliminary hearing had been scheduled Oct. 7 in Berkeley Municipal Court.

The indictment — 13 counts against each defendant — includes charges of robbery and assault likely to produce great bodily harm against Steven Weed, with whom Miss Hearst shared the apartment from which she was kidnaped.

Weed, who has not seen his former fiancée since the abduction, was seriously beaten at the time.

Miss Hearst said she was hit in the face with a gun during the abduction. She also contends that Harris held her down while she was bound and gagged and that Mrs. Harris drove one of the getaway cars.

The indictment also lists seven counts of assault with a deadly weapon for shots fired at five neighbors who witnessed the kidnaping, false imprisonment of Steven Suenaga, another Jodell Hudgins has announced he will be a write-in candidate for the office of Howard County sheriff, subject to action in the Nov. 2 general election.

Born and raised in Big Spring, Hudgins graduated from Big Spring High School in 1961. He later entered Howard College, majoring in Physical Education and Law Enforcement and Criminology.

He started a career in law enforcement with the Hurst, Tex., City Police Department in 1962. After living at Hurst for a short time, he enlisted in the Navy and was honorably discharged in 1964.

stepsons, Rod and Brad. Until April of this year, Hudgins resided in Las Vegas, Nev., where he was employed as a plainclothes and uniformed officer for several hotels and casinos and by security companies.

He worked for the Golden Gate Hotel and Casino and later for the Sahara Hotel, Caesar's Palace, and since January, 1974, has been with the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel and Casino. Among other firms he worked for was Carex Security, Allied Security and Sunrise Security.

Hudgins said he thought he could offer good law enforcement to the people of Howard County, adding: "I met a lot of show people in Las Vegas, people who always gave 100 per cent of their talents when performing. I'm sure I can offer 100 per cent of my talents while serving as your sheriff. I would organize a department I feel the people in Howard County would be proud of."

Gas firm's application for cost review axed

ASUTIN — The Railroad Commission of Texas has dismissed Pioneer Natural Gas Company's application for a review of its cost of gas for its West Texas system.

The dismissal resulted from "The Stipulation of Parties to Dismiss the Application for Pioneer in Docket 706," filed Sept. 13. This "stipulation" was entered by the cities of Lubbock, Brownfield, Pampa, Canyon, Lamesa and Midland and joined by Pioneer Natural Gas Company. The filing stated that the cities, through their representatives, had examined the testimony and exhibits of Pioneer in Docket 706 and "have no dispute with the correctness of the company's cost of gas as reflected by the contracts and exhibits submitted."

Connally's law firm gives money to Demos

By MARK BROWNING HARTE-HANKS AUSTIN BUREAU AUSTIN — Like its national counterpart, a Texas political contribution fund financed by members of John Connally's law firm donates money primarily to Democratic candidates, according to its 1976 financial statements.

Wire services reported Monday that the National Good Government Fund, financed exclusively by members of Houston's Vinson, Elkins, Searls, Connally and Smith law firm, has given $16,000 to Democratic candidates even though Connally is chairman of President Ford's Texas campaign. Jimmy Carter was among recipients of National Good Government Fund money.

On the state level during the past year, the Texas Good Government Fund gave all but $100 of the $10,900 it spent to Democratic causes. Republican Sen. Ike Harris of Dallas got a $100 contribution from the fund, but all other contributions went to Democrats.

The Texas fund also gives to many judicial candidates and shows $25,300 in total expenditures in its most recent report filed with the Secretary of State's office in July. The fund received $25,475 in contributions from members of Connally's law firm, including $250 from Connally personally.

The huge Vinson, Elkins, Searls, Connally and Smith firm has 255 members, including 92 senior partners, according to the 1975 Houston city directory. Of those 92 partners, 55 are listed on Secretary of State documents as having contributed to the Texas Good Government Fund since November, 1975. No one outside the law firm is listed as a contributor.

Included in the $10,900 the fund spent statewide on Democrats were $500 gifts to the state Democratic Party itself and the "Democratic Eight in Texas" in June honoring national party chairman Bob Strauss of Houston.

Not included in the $10,900 were gifts to Democratic judicial candidates on both the state and local level. The Good Government Fund also participates in local races for public office in the Houston area; and gave the largest contribution, $1,000 in such a race to Houston's Democratic mayor, Fred Hofheinz.

Farm Garden City farmer testifies

DALLAS — Cotton urgently needs increased research and promotion funds to maintain and strengthen its current momentum in the battle for markets against synthetic fibers.

This point was stressed here today at a U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing to determine grower sentiment on proposed amendments to the Cotton Research and Promotion Order.

Clifford Hoelscher, a cotton producer from Garden City, was one of those testifying in favor of proposed amendments to the Cotton Research and Promotion Order at the hearing.

Under the proposed amendments, grower assessment for research and promotion would be increased by four-tenths of one per cent of the gross sales price of each bale of cotton, beginning with the 1977 crop. Current assessment under the program is $1.00 per bale.

Hearings also are set in Phoenix, and previously were held in Memphis and Atlanta. If the USDA determines that grower sentiment favors the proposed order, it will call for a referendum in which producers will vote on the increased assessment.

Most of today's session was occupied with testimony of Cotton Incorporated (CI), Cotton Board (CB), National Cotton Council (NCC), and cotton grower organizations.

CI officials testifying in support of the amendments included E. Hervey Evans, Laurinburg, N.C., board chairman; Dr. C. R. Sayre, Greenwood, Miss., vice chairman; L. C. Unfred, New Home, Tex., secretary; and Joe A. Sheely, Tolleson, Ariz., treasurer. They also are cotton growers.

All four producers emphasized progress that has been achieved under the current $1.00-per-bale assessment.

Cited as a prime example was research leading to a more efficient system of seed cotton processing and handling. It was reported that the system saved producers $7 million in 1974 and that the saving could exceed $10 million during the 1976 harvest season.

Grower-financed work to increase the percentage of cotton — and thus its market share — in broadcloth, oxford, and other lightweight fabrics also is paying off.

As a result to the CI effort, the growers testified, six mills and converters are producing "Natural Blend" shirting fabrics. Twelve prominent shirt brands are using the fabric which must contain at least 60 per cent cotton.

The growers pointed out, however, that cotton faces tremendous odds in research and promotion.

They estimated that in 1975 producers of synthetic fibers spent $230 million in fiber research compared to CI's $5.4 million. The odds in fiber advertising ran $60 million versus $3.4 million for cotton.

It also was emphasized that inflation has hurt cotton's research and promotion effort. The $1.00 per bale approved by

When Webb goes, schools lose

The draft impact statement on Webb Air Force Base pays very little attention to the secondary reaction of any closure in Big Spring.

About the only area that this is dealt with at all is in the stab at unemployment figures.

This stab is a weak one.

FIRST, WE MUST remember that the statement relied basically on previously published data, that is numbers that can be found in library-type research rather than in research in the community.

Then these published numbers were interpreted by national models and the experiences that the Air Force claims to have from other base closures.

In some areas, the impact statement is incredibly naive.

For example, in talking about state and local taxation, the statement says, "There should be no immediate reduction in real estate property tax revenue derived from owner-occupied homes vacated by relocated personnel."

Whoever wrote that must have his head in the sand. Unless there was no secondary reaction at all, it is likely that a pretty high number of home owners may be forced to seek work elsewhere and could simply be forced to abandon homes. That could not help but hurt tax revenues.

IN THE HOUSING section, the impact statement writer says, "Vacated units can be absorbed partially by the Howard County Community through reduced sales prices and reduced rental rates."

Homeowner-occupied and renter-occupied by Air Force personnel are generally above value level in comparison to houses occupied by personnel of the Howard County civilian community."

What nonsense. It doesn't even deserve a reply. That may be true outside air bases in San Antonio, but not here.

The statement is filled with examples of this type.

Clearly, the Air Force wasn't interested in actually finding out what the impact would be on Howard County (and Midland-Odessa which are missing from the report), but only in going through the motions required by law.

The statement is quite spotty. In some places, it is specific. Other areas are neglected. — J. TOM GRAHAM

Big blow

WASHINGTON — The day that Jimmy Carter's famous quotes from Playboy were released was also the same day he issued a paper on how to save the American family. Mr. Carter has said that he is very concerned about what is happening to the American family, and if he becomes President one of his priorities will be to bring it back together again.

Well, I must say the Playboy interview didn't do much in our family to heal any wounds.

FOR THOSE WHO have been down in a coal mine all week and haven't read what Mr. Carter told Playboy, he admitted that he has looked at a lot of women with lust. But he said God forgives sinners, including adulterers. "This is something God recognizes I will do," he was quoted as saying, "... and I have done it ... and God forgives me for it. But that doesn't mean that I condemn someone who not only looks on a woman with lust, but who leaves his wife and shacks up with somebody out of wedlock."

The problem with this thinking is that while God is willing to forgive men for lustful thoughts, most wives aren't—at least not where I live.

The night after Mr. Carter's views were publicized I went to a dinner party at a friend's house where there were some very attractive wives and single women.

When we got home my wife said, "I saw you lust after Florence Pennyweather."

"I WASN'T lusting after her," I protested. "I was talking to her about tax cuts for the median class of American who makes an average of $12,000 a year."

"You were lusting while you were talking."

"How do you know that?"

"I saw it in your eyes."

"That wasn't lust," I protested.

"The look was caused by my eyeglasses. You see, when you wear bifocals they give off this odd effect that some people could interpret as lust. Ask any optometrist."

"Are you trying to tell me you weren't committing adultery in your heart when you sat on a stool at her feet?"

"Adultery was the furthest thing from my mind. I was breathing heavily because I had too much chicken cacciatore."

"Jimmy Carter says he's committed adultery in his heart many times."

"But he's from Georgia. They have nothing else to do down there. I live in Washington where none of us has time for such thoughts."

SHE SAID, "Well, he says God forgives him when he does it, but I'm telling you right now, if I ever catch you committing adultery in your heart you can pack your bags."

"You'll never catch me," I assured her.

"There are some men who lust after women and there are others who don't. You're fortunate to be married to one who doesn't."

"Don't tell me you've never had a fantasy about having an affair with another woman?"

"What's an affair?"

"What President Ford said he would never approve of his daughter Susan having."

"Oh, that kind of an affair," I said.

"The answer is no. The Lord said to think of having one is the same thing as having one, and frankly since I've been playing tennis, I tire easily."

"Well, at least Jimmy Carter is man enough to admit his sins," she said bitterly.

"The strike ain't doin' much for THIS Ford pickup, either!"

Ear wax can promote infection

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a furuncle in my ear. It is swollen and it hurts, but it has never come to a head or drained. Instead it is now just a soft, swollen place almost filling the ear opening. It is impairing my hearing.

Will this condition clear up without medical attention? What causes furuncles? Should I use moist heat? — Mrs. M.K.

A furuncle is a pus-forming inflammation of the skin caused by bacterial infection. The canal of the ear is a common place for one to form. Collection of cerumen (wax) promotes formation and growth.

Furuncles can be mighty painful and if not treated can cause distress in chewing and, of course, as in your case, obstruct the hearing.

Treatment depends on exactly where in the ear canal the central core of the furuncle is, and until you find out it would be unwise to resort to home remedies.

There is a specific group of medicines to apply to the area. They would have to be prescribed. You may also require oral antibiotics to combat what appears to be a chronic infection.

Moist heat may be effective in reducing pain, but I think you would be wise to have this looked into right away. It can be cleared up. You may have to have it drained.

This is a good reason for persons, especially older folks, to have their ears examined periodically, if only to remove wax buildup deep in the canal.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My niece has been bothered with kidney stones for 12 years, and the medicine prescribed for her is making her sick to her stomach. She is now 40. She has had one operation and is still passing stones. — Mrs. S.A.

The cause of kidney stones varies considerably among individuals. Some are chronic stone-formers, and unless the cause can be found there is little that can be done.

Causes include infection, abnormality of the urinary tract or overactivity of the parathyroid glands. (These glands are important in releasing stored calcium from the body.)

Unless such a cause can be identified the best way to prevent stone formation is to consume large volumes of water. Chemical analysis of the stones, if that has not already been done, would go a long way to determining their origin.

In another part of your letter you mention a swelling of your niece's throat. She should be checked for thyroid function, which may or may not be indirectly connected with her stone problem.

There is usually little reason to continue using a specific medication that makes you sick. In this day and age of new drug development there is generally a substitute that would not have such effects. Your niece should be seen by a urologist and just possibly a gland specialist. My booklet on kidneys discusses stones and related problems. If you'd like a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 65. Ten years ago I had a prostate operation. Now at times when urinating I have a full stream, and at other times I have to go back to urinate a little more. Can you suggest anything? — H.W.

After ten years it's possible for the original prostate problem to recur—that is, for the obstruction removed in the first surgery to grow back. I suggest an update on your present prostate situation. You may need further surgery.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Have you ever published anything on how a Christian should cope with singleness? I am 29 years old and sometimes have difficulties. — C.D.

DEAR C.D.: First, do not consider singleness to be abnormal. God has not willed that all persons should marry, even though there may be a strong desire for the companionship of the opposite sex. You are not on your own if you have given over the lordship of your life and personality to Jesus Christ.

Consider the unmarried state a holy calling in Christ Jesus (I Corinthians 7:7). God puts within your grasp a ministry that a married person could not perform. You may have your times of self-pity and loneliness, but reaffirm to God, "My life is Yours. Fill me. Use me. The time is short—let's get Your work done together." So it all boils down to, "Yes, Lord." It should encourage the unmarried woman to know that she has a special place with the Lord. Read the Song of Solomon to discover that God is best friend, husband, lover, father, and so much more to you. He has not withheld his best from you. As His Word says, "I came that they may have and enjoy life, and have it in abundance—to the full, till it overflows" (John 10:10, Amplified).

The problem of temptation in the life of a single person is the result of the need to be loved and needed, and to feel important and useful to someone. Thus, to become involved in other people's lives and to learn to give yourself away in unselfish service can be a constant source of satisfaction to you.

Regardless of what the future may hold, your greatest joy will be found in accepting the will of God for your life and knowing that, as you commit your future to Jesus Christ, it is in good hands.

Evolution of shoe

Around the rim

James Werrell

With famine and pestilence, Ford and Carter, war and swine flu weighing down a weary world on each turn about its axis, I have decided to comment on something really important: tennis shoes.

Tennis shoes are a way of life for many; Woody Allen, Elton John, Rod McKuen, Chevy Chase, Arthur Ashe and me, to name a few.

A FRIEND of mine wore them year round. In summer he wore low-tops. In winter he switched to high-tops for extra protection against the snow.

This brings up an interesting point. Only a few years ago tennis shoes were available in merely four styles; black low-tops, black high-tops, white low-tops and white high-tops.

Now, of course, the most comfortable shoe in the world comes in all the colors of a child's crayon box, and in as many shapes and materials.

The evolution of the tennis shoe to its present status of high style is a strange one. The true story reads like a fairy tale.

Once upon a time, two brothers were born to the family Dassler in Germany. They grew up to hate each other. One brother formed a tennis shoe company (Adidas), and the other brother did the same thing (Puma), and now they are the competing kings of the tennis shoe dynasty.

Although I can't remember the name of one of the brothers, the other's name is Adi Dassler, explaining the origin of his company's trademark.

In case you're interested, all Adidas shoes are now manufactured in France.

YOU MAY have grown to accept these weird looking tennies as part of life as it was meant to be. But don't forget the furor that arose when Broadway Joe Namath wore his white football shoes onto the field of valor for the first time.

With the advent of another modern oddity, astroturf, the shoe became commonplace adorning the talented feet of O.J. Simpson, Paul Warfield, etc.

This is all recent history as I have said.

All I was concerned about in second grade was whether my P.F. Flyers would make me "run faster, jump higher."

In third grade my year was made when my parents bought me a pair of Red Ball Jets. These were for casual wear. I had a pair of high-top Keds to change into for dodge ball in gym class.

Later Converse All-Stars and Jack Purcells became cool. Only the scientists in high school wore high-tops.

I recently, for the first time in my life, paid more than $20 for a pair of sneakers. They are green and white, with nylon webbing interspersed with leather trim. The toe slopes gently to a pebbled sole of reinforced rubber, while the toe of the shoe extends stylishly over the bottom part of my sweatsock.

They go great with a three-piece suit.

Well, I have about exhausted the topic of tennis shoes. I hope I have not exhausted the reader. But I think it is certainly a more refreshing subject than the origin of the wingtip.

Put to flight

WASHINGTON — The Lockheed military-industrial empire is now so heavily subsidized by the taxpayers that the company allegedly has siphoned government money into its commercial projects.

Federal investigators have accused Lockheed of channeling more than $45 million of the taxpayers' money into such commercial developments as the L-1011 jetliner.

THIS WAS accomplished through a complex bookkeeping maneuver. In its simplest form, the technique was to commingle costs from nongovernment work with costs from government contracts, explain the investigators.

It is alleged that Lockheed charged to defense contracts some costs that actually went into building the civilian jetliners. Thus the unwitting taxpayer wound up helping finance the company's commercial endeavors.

It is small wonder that Lockheed had trouble separating its government and commercial bookkeeping, for the industrial colossus did a whopping $2.2 billion in government business last year. At the pleading of President Ford, Congress also granted $200 million in federal loan guarantees to keep the company from going bankrupt.

Its books, therefore, are supposed to be open to government auditors. But as we reported in July, the Defense Contract Audit Agency was barred from inspecting Lockheed's books. The company preferred to deal with the more lenient Renegotiation Board.

The audit agency, nevertheless, has been investigating Lockheed's vast California aerospace facilities, Seattle shipyards and Marietta, Ga., complex. The Renegotiation Board, for its part, assigned a special three-man committee to procure other financial data.

The General Accounting Office, thereafter, asked to see Renegotiation Board's financial findings on Lockheed. This information was submitted, together with a highly confidential covering letter, by Chairman Richard Holmquist.

Although Holmquist's letter doesn't specify the precise amount that Lockheed took from Peter to pay Paul, it is estimated that well over $45 million was involved in the juggling operation in 1972 alone.

President Ford, meanwhile, has held down the Renegotiation Board's staff to less than 200. This has left too few watchdogs to keep an eye on the skulduggery of the industrial giants. While the President pinches pennies, his industrial pals apparently are stealing millions.

Footnote: Lockheed has denied knowledge of any diversion of funds from government to commercial purposes. The Defense Contract Audit Agency and the Renegotiation Board declined comment. Meanwhile, Rep.

Joseph Minish, D-N.J., is seeking to give the audit agency a larger role in checking the books of government contractors. His legislation has been sidetracked, however, by friends of the industrialists.

HARTKE HOWLS — The normally amiable Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., howled with indignation over our report that his daughter Sandra had found employment with a union and insurance company that benefited from the senator's votes.

Her employers, we also reported, were remarkably tolerant. They allowed her to work only when she felt like it, and sometimes mailed her paychecks to her home.

Hartke responded that his opponents, "by damn," had better "leave my children out of it." It wasn't easy for Sandra, he said, "being Sen. Vance Hartke's daughter."

It wasn't Sandra but the senator whose conduct we were questioning. He voted down the line for legislation endorsed by the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks at the same time that his daughter was on the union payroll.

THE UNION let her off, with pay, to campaign for her father six years ago. Confidential union records show that she missed work 110 days from January through November, 1970.

She claimed 52 days sick leave, and our sources confirm she had some legitimate medical problems. But she also took off an additional 58 days during the height of the campaign from June through November. Sandra has acknowledged that she spent some of this time in Indiana helping to re-elect her father. Under union rules, she was entitled to only 17 days sick time and 10 days vacation time. Yet the union paid her for the entire 110 days. Not until after the November election did the union threaten to dock her pay.

It is also clear from the confidential records that the union vigorously supported Hartke in the campaign. As one memo puts it, "Winning this election will depend largely on our ability to convince an informed electorate that Vance Hartke should be returned to the Senate."

In 1971, Sandra found a better job with the Travelers Insurance Company. But again, she was permitted to spend most of her time attending to personal interests. Hartke also happens to be a power on the Senate Commerce Committee which has jurisdiction over insurance matters.

Footnote: In his attack on us, the senator stated that our story "was first used in the 1970... campaign." The confidential memos in our possession hadn't been made public previously. In fact, Sandra didn't even go to work for Travelers until the year after the 1970 campaign.

Proud of flag football, Gray-Y action

Jan Smith named Y program director

Jan Smith has been appointed Program Director at the Big Spring YMCA. Although she doesn't start officially until October 1st, she is already hard at work preparing for the new job.

Although the job is new, people who frequent the YMCA will tell you Jan isn't. She has been working as office manager for the past one and a half years, and has previous experience in Odessa and Wichita Falls.

Her job will cover the non-physical aspects of the physical director's post which had been held by John Schiebel. She will administer the informal education, Tri Hi-Y, Gra-Y,

Hi-Y, aquatics, and Indian guides programs, and the physical programs will be extension. Mrs. Smith says that the physical programs will be continued under the auspices of Executive Director Bill Etchison. These programs include men's fitness, tract, and cardio-vascular fitness testing.

Mrs. Smith has long been working with children and sports. Aside from the three she raised herself (Randy, the oldest, works as a golf pro in Dallas), she was at one time the only woman staff member in charge of a program handling 300 boys per day. Here in Big Spring, she is especially proud of the flag football and Gra-Y programs.

In addition to handling her new job, she is carrying a full load of college courses toward her degree in social agency management.

How does it feel to be taking over a "man's" job? Smith says it's a challenge. She hopes to eventually expand the informal education program and organized basketball to the Lakeview extension, but says that for now her overall goal is to "keep interest up and programs going, especially programs for young people."

WALL IN PICTURE PUZZLE — This is part of the north wall at Carter Furniture Company, which served as a model for the third Great Puzzle Contest staged by the Herald. Billy G. King correctly figured out the clues offered in the Herald and won himself $100 in cash. Another contest begins in The Herald today.

Web worms attacking trees in Big Spring

Web Worms are attacking local trees in greater numbers this year. The worms have been building up for the last two or three years, according to Bruce Griffith, Howard County extension agent. "This is just speculation," said Griffith, "but I think this build-up may be because of the mild winters we have been having. The eggs are laid and hatched earlier, and the worms have longer to spread." Griffith also explained a little about the life cycle of the worm. "A group of worms will come in and lay eggs on a tree. The hatched larvae will feed on a tree, and then form a web and lay more eggs. One web will clean a whole branch on a tree," he said. What is the best way to get rid of the web worms? "They are pretty easy to control if you have a sprayer with enough pressure. Usually, 200 pounds pressure is enough to penetrate the web," said Griffith. "You must penetrate the web to get to the worm," said Doris Crane, owner of D & M Garden Center, 3209 West Highway. "There are several sprays on the market. The non-toxic sprays will attack the digestive system of the worm, killing it in a matter of a few hours to a day. The more powerful chemical sprays are more dangerous to humans. You have to be more careful when you spray. But it won't hurt the tree, itself," she added. Griffith listed two effective chemicals, Carbyl and Malathion. A pint of insecticide may run from $2 to $4, and will be good for two or three trees, according to Ms. Crane. She also estimated that commercial spraying could run as much as $25 per tree. "There is one other method to get rid of the worms. If you catch them early enough, you can cut the limb off the tree where the web has been built," said Griffith. "But if you do this, be sure to burn the limb and the web. If they are just thrown in the trash, the worm will live off of weeds until the colony can get back to a tree," said Griffith.

Musical narration highlights program

A musical narration given by Hope Harrington highlighted the Downtown Lions Club meeting Wednesday at the Settles. Miss Harrington, who lived here during her younger years and is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George Harrington of Highland Church of God, interspersed contemporary religious songs with stories of modern persecution of Christians under European and mid-East dictatorships. She had elaborate taped accompaniment for her program, which is available to other groups. Songs included, "Only One Way to the Promised Land," "Who is the King of Glory?," "Who is Going to Teach Your Children's Children?"

and "Let Them Know." She is a graduate of Gulf Coast Bible School, Anderson College and taught in Alberta College in Canada. Cleo Carlisle introduced the program. Gary Bradbury, president, expressed regret and sorrow of the club in the death of Harry Sawyer, a long-time Lion. He also announced that Lions will collect serviceable used clothing for the State Hospital and other institutions on Oct. 8. Thompson Furniture Company will be a receiving point.

Employees at the Webb AFB Accounting and Finance department laid a prize-winning table with some of their best desserts. They do this about once a month, said Hazel Mixon, to celebrate birthdays. Sometimes they have so much, they have to set up two tables, she added.

The group will also be celebrating again tomorrow. Being the finance department, their new year comes October 1, the fiscal new year that is.

It may not be a holiday but the feast is similar. Among the unusual recipes are Peanut Butter Pie, Raspberry Salad, Blond Brownies, Potato Cake and a Greek dish calling for eggplant, Moussaka.

The Moussaka was baked by Hoagy Carmichael, whose Greek wife was no doubt a strong influence in the choice. Carmichael usually bakes a cake, confided Mrs. Mixon. By the way, it's pronounced moo-za-ka with the accent on the last syllable.

MOUSSAKA

By MSGT HOAGY CARMICHAEL

2 eggplants (do not peel) sliced 3/4 inch thick
2 or 3 large potatoes (peeled and sliced 1/4 inch thick)
3/4 c. butter
8 tbsps. olive oil
1/2 c. flour
1 quart milk
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. Kimyon (comino) (cumin)
6 eggs
1/4 c. dry bread crumbs
1 c. Parmesan cheese (freshly grated)

Slice eggplants first and prepare as following: Slice eggplants and salt both sides, set aside for 45 minutes. Rinse well with water and wipe off salt (this removes bitterness).

Melt butter and blend in flour, gradually stir in milk and stirring constantly, cook until thickened. Season with salt, nutmeg and pepper. Beat eggs and blend the hot sauce into them.

After washing the salt from eggplants place eggplants and potatoes on 2 well-oiled 10 by 15-inch baking pans and dress both sides of them with olive oil. Bake in 400 degree oven for 30 minutes or until soft. Turn once.

Arrange half the eggplant and potatoes in a 9"x13" or larger baking pan. Mix meat sauce as following.

In a large fry pan, saute 2 pounds lean ground beef in 2 tablespoons butter until meat is browned and crumbly. Add 3 medium-sized onions finely chopped and saute until golden. Add 3 tablespoons of tomato paste, 1/2 cup dry red wine, 3 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, ground pepper, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice and 3 cloves garlic, minced. Cover and simmer 45 minutes. (Sauce should be thick.)

Mix meat sauce with crumbs and spread half over the eggplants and potatoes. Sprinkle with half the cheese. Cover with another layer of eggplant and potatoes and remaining meat sauce. Spoon custard sauce over the top and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 50 minutes to 1 hour or until lightly browned. Let stand 15 to 25 minutes and cut into squares. Makes about 12 servings.

Dear Abby

Nose problems all in her head

DEAR ABBY: I am a 34-year-old woman who has divorced three husbands. (Not my fault. I always picked losers.)

My problem is my nose. I had plastic surgery on it when I was 18, and the doctor botched the job, so at 21 I had it reshaped and then it was worse. I think it makes me look stuck-up and keeps me from making friends.

I went to a well-known local plastic surgeon, and I offered to pay him in full in advance but he refused to take me as a patient! He said he didn't think any plastic surgeon could please me because I had "emotional and social problems." I should face up to instead of blaming everything on my nose. Then he insulted me further by suggesting that I use my money to see a PSYCHIATRIST!

Abby, there is nothing wrong with my mind. It's my nose! Will you please recommend a good plastic surgeon? I can afford to go anywhere.

DETERMINED IN HARTFORD

DEAR DETERMINED: Since you're determined to have plastic surgery, you'll have to find a doctor without my help because I am in total agreement with the last one you saw. Trust me and reconsider. I think his advice was on target.

DEAR ABBY: The other night I had a date with a girl I've admired and respected for some time. I received a surprise when she insisted on buying her own ticket to the basketball game. She wasn't putting on a show, Abby; she absolutely refused to go in unless I let her buy her own ticket.

Throughout the evening she wouldn't let me open doors for her either.

I am only 16. I really like this girl, and I'd like to date her again. To tell you the truth, I don't care if she is a feminist. I respect her ideas and what she believes, but I don't know how to react to her. Everything my parents taught me about how to treat a girl was blown up that night.

FLUSTERED IN RICHMOND

DEAR FLUSTERED: If you want to date her again, go ahead and date her, but you'd better be prepared to let her do things her way. But don't reject everything your parents taught you, because some girls still want their dates to buy the tickets and open the doors.

DEAR ABBY: When a couple divorces after a comparatively brief marriage, I contend that the wedding gifts given to the couple by the parents, friends and relatives of the bride should be considered HERS. And the gifts given by his parents, relatives and friends should be considered HIS. The gifts are NOT common property to be divided equally. (Not legally, I mean morally.)

Would you please comment on this?

MASS. READER

DEAR READER: Your contention makes sense to me.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Bake and plant sale

The Rosebud How to Grow Garden Club met September 21, in the home of Mrs. S.J. Kamm. Eight members and two guests were present.

Mrs. Brent Womack gave a program entitled, "Types and Varieties of Flowering Spring Bulbs." She explained how the indoor gardener could control the blooming of bulbs during the winter months. The Quick Grow and Plant technique forces plants into bloom by storing the plant in a cool place, then bringing into the warmth and well-lighted areas of your home.

Mrs. Womack explained the method.

The months recommended for planting bulbs are October, November, and December. The gardener may get them started in the garden, only if it is a "cold" spot, or in a rectangular container placed in an outdoor closet where it is "cold." Water the bulbs well with rainwater or distilled water.

Place a burlap sack over them for a 6-8 week period. When shoots begin to appear it is time to place in a pot and bring into your house. Choose a well-lighted area for the growing plants. The warmth of the house will force them to bloom faster.

It is important that the soil is compatible with the plant. It should be comprised of gravel or sand, potting soil, and perlite at 3-3-3 proportions. Place pebbles in the bottom of the pot for proper drainage. The pot should be chosen according to the size of the bulb.

Place bone meal in the soil surrounding the bulb to provide proper growth. Plant the bulbs at different depths to designate the blooming time of each during the winter months. Water well, check periodically, and fertilize in either rainwater or purified water every 10 days.

Mrs. O.S. Womack, president of the Garden Club Council, announced that there will be a plant and bake sale Oct. 2 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. in the Highland Mall to help raise operating funds for the council. All clubs will participate. Bring sale items to the mall.

Visitors to the meeting were Mrs. Jerry Beth Whitaker and Mrs. Betty Warden.

Faculty Ma'ams met

Faculty Ma'ams met Tuesday afternoon September 28 with Mrs. Jerry Dudley.

Mrs. Kenneth Sprinkle presided as co-hostess. A new member, Mrs. Caroline Rekoft attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held Tuesday October 26 in the Student Union Building with Mrs. Caroline Rekoft and Miss Ann Ward as hostesses.

Irish women ask U.S. to stop sending aid

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — two leaders of Northern Ireland's women's peace movement said Tuesday they will take their crusade to the United States next week to plead anew with Americans to stop sending money that, the women say, fuels terrorism.

Betty Williams and Mairead Corrigan, cofounders of the non-partisan and nonsectarian six-week-old movement, said they will fly Monday to Buffalo, N.Y., at the invitation of the Public Broadcasting System (PBS).

Mrs. Williams said that they will appeal in a nationwide telecast to Irish Americans to cut off the flow of funds that they claim supports the Roman Catholic and Protestant gunmen waging terror warfare in Northern Ireland. She and Miss Corrigan are Catholic, but their movement includes both Protestants and Catholics.

"The people who give the money have no idea about where it goes," Mrs. Williams said. "They are third-generation American Irish. They have just no idea about what is going on over here."

She said U.S. money has been helping sustain the main guerrilla armies — the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army, the predominantly Catholic guerrilla army; and two Protestant paramilitary bands, the Ulster Defense Association and the Ulster Volunteer Force.

Britain and Ireland have frequently alleged that Irish-Americans send money to Northern Ireland thinking it will be used for rehabilitation. In fact, officials say, the major recipient is the IRA. No figures were immediately available.

The Provos are waging a bombs-and-bullets terror campaign to unite the Protestant-dominated British province of Northern Ireland with the Catholic-led Irish Republic. The Protestant militants are fighting to maintain their control over the province.

"Many people have gone across to the United States to try to stop the flow of cash to the terrorists and have failed but we hope we'll be more successful," Mrs. Williams said, that money could be channeled into factories to provide work for our menfolk."

Miss Corrigan, 23, said there had been considerable support for the Northern Ireland women's peace movement in the United States.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1976
SECTION B SECTION B

UNCORKS A BIG ONE — San Francisco Giants pitcher John Montefusco dribbles champagne over his head in dugout at Atlanta Fulton County Stadium Wednesday night after his 9-0 no-hit victory over the Atlanta Braves. He's wearing earphones for a broadcast interview after his 16th victory against 14 losses. In the game, right hander Montefusco gave up one walk.

Brag bags swag

John Montefusco has had the bragging rights on the San Francisco Giants for the past two years. Think what he'll be like to live with now that he's pitched a no-hitter.

"This ain't going to shut me up for a long time," said the swaggering Montefusco after hurling a 9-0 classic over the Atlanta Braves Wednesday night. "I'm going to be talking all winter now."

Montefusco, known as "The Count" for his exceptional poise and often cocky appearance, really has a right to brag now. He came within one pitch of a perfect game — issuing a leadoff walk to Jerry Royster in the fourth inning on a 3-1 pitch.

Characteristically, that irked the colorful egoist. "Can you believe that — that annoys me that I didn't throw a perfect game," Montefusco said of only the second no-hitter ever thrown in Atlanta Stadium since the Braves came south in 1966. Phil Niekro of the Braves threw the other one on August 5, 1973 in an 8-0 victory over San Diego.

Montefusco was the National League's Rookie of the Year last season with a 15-9 record and has posted a 16-14 record so far this season.

In the other National-League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0; the Montreal Expos whipped the New York Mets 7-2; the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-5; the Los Angeles Dodgers stopped the Houston Astros 1-0 and the San Diego Padres defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6-1.

Montefusco, relying primarily on fastballs and "a sinker I learned to throw the other day", four batters and forced the Braves to beat the ball into the ground for the most part. Shortstop Johnnie LeMaster alone had eight chances.

Montefusco finished his brilliant performance in the ninth by striking out Jimmy Wynn, getting Cito Gaston on a pop fly and Royster on a soft fly to right.

Cubs 6, Pirates 0
Rick Monday's two-out home run in the sixth inning backed Steve Renko's five-hitter and gave Chicago its victory over Pittsburgh. Despite the loss, the Pirates clinched at least a tie for second place in the National League East when Montreal defeated New York.

Expos 7, Mets 2
Wayne Garrett hit his first career grand-slam home run to pace Montreal over New York and Tom Seaver. Steve Rogers, 7-17, went all the way for the Expos, limiting the Mets to five hits.

Phillies 6, Cardinals 5
Jerry Martin slammed a one-out double in the eighth inning, snapping a 5-5 tie and lifting Philadelphia over St. Louis. Martin's blow off Cardinal lefthander John Curtis, 6-11, scored pinch runner Rick Bosetti.

Big Spring Steers open District play

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

For those football fans who believe in omens, (either good or bad portending ones), Friday night in Memorial Stadium may not be as bad a district debut for the local team as once thought earlier in the season.

The Steers open competition at 8 p.m. on their home field against a bunch of high-flying Abilene High School Eagles.

The new jerseys finally arrived in Big Spring Tuesday afternoon, and the Bovines will be playing in all-black uniforms, their home and favorite colors.

The Longhorn starting 22 (see above photos) has a new look in a few places. Mike Harris, the Steers' husky flanker, has been switched to halfback, and Del Poss will be starting in his place.

Gregg Adams will be the starting fullback. Mike Abreo is still not at 100 per cent after battling with a week-long flu infection.

The defense has been shifted around somewhat as well, due to the injury to Steve Wolfe. Tommy Wegner will be in as strong-side linebacker, John Birdwell will shift to defensive right end, Tony Mann has moved to left end, and Ernie Nichols becomes the weak-side linebacker.

The Steers are shortest in depth at the linebacker slot, and if the Abilene Eagles live up to their billing, the defensive squad will be taxed sorely, and there won't be much room for replacements if any injuries surface.

Steer Head Coach Don Robbins and his staff have viewed all three of Abilene's previous games on film, and Robbins feels that Abilene may have the best offensive line in the district.

"In their skill spots they are very talented," Robbins said,

"and they could score any time they get their hands on the ball."

"Their quarterback Stirman is a real strong-armed athlete. He sets up so deep, about 10 yards, that it is hard to rush him. And he can easily throw the ball 40 or 50 yards," Robbins observed.

Abilene's 1-2 record should not be deceiving. In the first game of the season, they whipped the then second-rated team in the state Wichita Falls Rider.

It was probably hard for them to "come down" after such an impressive win, and the following week they were upset by Austin. The next week they played Temple and lost. Temple is currently rated 10th in the state, and will no doubt finish even higher.

"They may not have been mentally ready for Austin," said Robbins, "but you can bet they are mentally ready for us."

They're one heckuva football team."

Just about every team in District 5-4A has been mentioned as a possible title-taker except Big Spring. There's no sense sugar-coating, (as the college football coaches say) . . . any district games the Steers win will all be upsets.

But one important aspect about the Steers being picked dead last is that they have nothing to lose. And when a team has nothing to lose, they ordinarily tend to play with more abandon, sometimes becoming "Spoilers."

The Steer defense has proven earlier this year that they can be tank-stoppers. Friday night they must be jack rabbit-stoppers, when the fleet-feet from sixth street trample out onto the yellowing sod of Memorial Stadium.

Game time is 8 p.m. and a large crowd is anticipated. Forecast for game time is clear and fair, with a slight chance of cool temperatures.

A full slate of local Junior High football games are on tap this afternoon.

The Goliad Junior High 8th grade steam-rolling squad will travel to Snyder to do battle there at 5:30.

Cross-town comrades Runnels will host another Snyder 8th grade team at 5:30 on Blankenship Field. The Runnels 7th graders will bus to Lamesa for a game at 5:30.

Goliad's 7th grade will host Stanton's 8th grade team at 4 p.m. on Blankenship Field.

The Steer 9th grade teams are idle this week, and the Junior Varsity travels to Abilene Saturday for a contest with the Eagles at 1:30 in the afternoon.

Blackboard whizz, key-magician, and part-time ticket hawk down at the BSISD business office, Don Green, said that there is "fairly steady traffic" through the ticket department of people who are buying duets for this Friday night's district opener.

Green indicated that less than a 1,000 tickets had been sold Wednesday, and that "this is normal for a home game." Green, often remembered as the King of the understatement, said that Friday is the biggest day for ticket sales to a home game.

Staying right in character, Green shifted hesitantly in his chair, threw his paper weight down emphatically, looked me straight in the eye and said, "Students can buy tickets for 75 cents at all schools."

Not waiting to see the impact of that statement, Green jumped up and ran out of the door yelling, "That's half of what they will cost at the gate."

"Pre-game tickets stay on sale until 2 p.m. Friday," said a note written on the back of a geometrical equation that had fallen out of his pocket.

Following the usual post-season player movements, the Midland Cubs have set their roster in anticipation of the 1976 winter draft. There were few surprises, as the club made the move necessary to protect the players at the AA and AAA level.

Two veterans were released, pitcher Gary Junge and outfielder Steve Verban. In four years at Midland, Junge had a record of 22-22 and an ERA of 3.65. Verban, used sparingly in 1976, batted .263 in 78 games.

Wide receiver Travis Tadlock has the distinction of being the smallest player on the Texas Tech team at 5-7, 142 pounds. Coaches and players have nicknamed him "Tadpole" in reference to his size. Recently, when players were kidding him about being small, one kidded, "what do you want to be when you grow up?" Tadlock's reply? "A Texas Tech Frog," of course.

Texas Tech defensive coordinator Bill Parcells is preaching the old football expression, games are won or lost in the fourth quarter, and evidently his players are listening.

The Red Raiders have not given up a point in the fourth quarter in their first two outings. Actually, the Raider defense has been tough through all eight quarters so far.

Tech defenders have given up an average of just 3.1 yards per play in two games.

The University of New Mexico rolled up 21 first downs on Texas Tech last week, but six of those were the results of defensive penalties against the Red Raiders.

"That many penalties is a reflection of poor coaching on my part," said head coach Steve Sloan. "You can bet we'll work on that."

Quote for the day — Texas Tech head coach Steve Sloan after his Red Raiders had to come from behind twice in a 20-16 win over New Mexico last week: "It may have been a great game for the fans, but I went through a whole case of Roloids and Life Savers before we got out of there."

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Passing should be confined to the football field and not take place in the stands where coeds are being picked up bodily and passed overhead by the rows of seats, says the University of Illinois Athletic Association.

People-passing at football games has reached a dangerous level this season because coeds are being raced from the bottom to the top rows, Carol McHugh, president of Delta Zeta Sorority, said Wednesday.

Susan Dempsey, a trim, 115-pounder, says she was passed and that "it was frightening. I'd look down and see a bunch of hands ready to grab me and bounce me up to the next row."

Miss McHugh said her sorority supports a request mailed to all fraternities and sororities on the campus by Richard Tamburo, assistant director of the athletic association, that people-passing be stopped.

"We want it stopped before someone really gets hurt," said Tamburo.

Miss McHugh said people-passing is sort of traditional at Illinois football games, but "it now is getting out of hand because of the races."

She thinks fraternities have scouts at the games, picking out coeds for a passing race. "They can either be girls who don't

It wasn't horseshoes

NEW YORK (AP) — The argument continues over whether Ken Norton was robbed in Muhammad Ali's latest defense of his heavyweight title. It probably will go down as one of boxing's all-time disagreements.

Those who argue that Norton won the fight and should be the new heavyweight champion unless you beat him badly.

Clearly, Norton did not beat Ali badly. If they had been two contenders scrapping for a title shot, the decision might have gone the other way. But boxing judges throughout history have been reluctant to award a decision to a challenger in a close heavyweight title fight.

Add to that the mystique that Ali has built up, and the money that the Ali glamor brings to the boxing game, and you begin to realize that whoever finally beats Ali will have to either knock him out or stop him. And he never has lost as a champion.

This is not to say the Tuesday night fight in Yankee Stadium, in which Ali was awarded a close but unanimous decision, was fixed. It was not — as far as anyone can tell. It probably would have gone that way if any three judges who have been involved with the boxing establishment were working the fight.

This writer's card had the bout even at the end of the 14th round. So did the cards of two judges. The referee had it 7 for Ali, 6 for Norton and 1 even after 14.

This writer gave the last round to Norton, as did most writers at ringside. The two judges and the referee, however, gave it to Ali. That made the big difference. That was the fight.

Ali said it best: "To beat a champion, you got to BEAT him. You can't fight like Jimmy Young or Norton. You got to convince people you won. You got to whup the champion, just like I did to

TEXAS A&I still no. 1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Unbeaten Texas A&I is ranked first in Division I football ratings announced today by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Javelinas, undefeated in four games, had 15 first-place votes on 239 points of a possible 240. NAIA coaches rate the teams.

Jacksonville (Ala.) State, unbeaten in three games, was the runner-up followed by Eastern New Mexico, undefeated in four games, and Troy (Ala.) State, with a 3-0-1 record, tied for third.

Henderson (Ark.) State is fifth, East Central (Okla.) State sixth, Southern University-Baton Rouge (La.) seventh, Salem (W.Va.) College eighth, Elon (N.C.) College ninth, and Southern Arkansas University 10th.

Division II rankings rate Texas Lutheran first, with Georgetown (Ky.) College second, Midland Lutheran (Neb.) third, Concord (W.Va.) College fourth, Hanover (Ind.) College fifth, Dakota State College sixth, Bethel (Minn.) College and Dakota Wesleyan tied for seventh, Grand Valley (Mich.) College ninth, and Missouri Valley 10th.

Foreman. You got to whup him."

Norton said later that his corner had told him he was ahead and that he should not take any chances in the 15th. Even if he had, he would not have won unless he had at least decked Ali.

Then the judges would have had something to point to. As it was, they had a close call, and close calls go to the champ.

DOUG DENNISON

Doug Dennison, 6-0, 208-pound third-year running back from tiny Kutztown State in Pennsylvania, came to the Cowboys as a free agent in 1974. By the end of the 1975 season, his play had prompted Coach Tom Landry to say: "Doug Dennison is the best guy I know to give a football to on the goal line or short yardage. If you want to make it you give it to Doug. Dennison is going to give you everything he's got."

Q — When Tom Landry says this about you, Doug, what is your reaction?

A — "It establishes a confidence. But I feel all of the Dallas runners can get the ball into the end zone."

Q — If all the Dallas runners can do the job then why would Landry single you out?

A — "I suppose it's my running style. It's an explosion. I come off the ball fast and hard."

Q — It has been well established that you are an excellent short-yardage runner. Are you satisfied with that description?

A — "I want to be exceptionally good in the open field. That's where the halfback can have a pay day. You just don't get much yardage running up against defensive linemen. You may get a yard or two. But in the open field you get the chance to go one-on-one against a defensive back. That's the situation you always want."

Q — Explain your running style and how it may change in a game and during the season.

A — "Your running style varies as you mature in the game. You get more knowledge, more understanding of your offense such as where your blocking will be setting up and the type of running you will need for a particular type of play. Not all plays are explosion plays. Not all plays are speed plays. You have a combination of all of these. Therefore you have to know the play and the situation you are in on every down."

Q — Describe Doug Dennison's running style.

A — "It's a hard, slashing style of running combined with a great deal of speed."

Q — Explain your relationship as a running back with the offensive line.

A — "The offensive line's primary duty in relationship to running backs is to get us into the secondary. Once they make their initial contact it's up to us to do the rest. However, a lot of times they go down field and block also. Our offensive line is usually all over the field. They always do the job you ask them to do."

Pass-happy TCU meets Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pass-happy football fans may get their fill Saturday at Fayetteville when Arkansas takes on TCU.

TCU is the passing leader in the Southwest Conference, but also has been susceptible to the pass.

TCU coach Jim Shofner says his Horned Frogs' ability to throw the football is "as good as anybody's."

Shofner said the arm of TCU quarterback Jimmy Dan Elzner is "as good as most of them in the big leagues."

Flanker Vernon Wells has caught 12 passes in three games and is averaging 19.6 yards per catch — tops in the SWC. Teammate Mike Renfro is averaging 17.6 yards per catch on his 12 receptions.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles says Wells and Renfro are "great receivers." He also says they run a lot of deep routes.

Shofner is the first to admit that the Frogs' running game is lacking. "When we get bad field position, we can't run it out of there," he said. TCU's leading rusher is Tony Acomando, who has accumulated 81 yards on 21 attempts.

TCU, 0-3 for the season, is coming off a 64-10 loss to Nebraska. The Cornhuskers threw four touchdown passes.

"We're very concerned about our defensive backfield," Shofner said. "The front seven play good against the run, but the back seven...including the linebackers...have not been able to cover against the pass. And, we haven't been able to rush the passer."

Does he expect Arkansas to exploit the Frogs' apparent weakness on pass defense?

"I certainly do," he said. "They are going to need to pass if they're going to be as good as they want to be."

Arkansas completed four of 23 passes for 98 yards in last week's 9-3 upset loss to Tulsa. Broyles was quick to point out that quarterback Ron Calcagni practiced little for two weeks and that tight end Charles Clay missed the week of practice prior to the Tulsa game. Calcagni has practiced all this week. In addition, Doug Barwegen, Arkansas' fastest receiver, will probably get to play against TCU after being sidelined the first three weeks because of a knee injury.

"As usual, Arkansas has a very fine team," Shofner said. "They are suffering some with their passing game just as we have with the running game. But I know they will improve in that area."

Broyles was asked if Arkansas would throw a great deal against TCU.

"We will if we feel we can be successful," he said. "Their running defense is very tough."

Broyles, in response to another question, said that Calcagni is Arkansas' best passer and that more passing would not mean a change at quarterback.

He said running back Michael Forrest would play more against TCU than he did against Tulsa and would likely start. Forrest, who gained 224 yards on 47 carries in five games last year, carried once against Tulsa. Broyles said that Jerry Eckwood's knee was bothering him and that his status was "wait and see." He also said that Barnabas White, who was given a try at wide receiver before being moved back to running back, was "looking better and better."

Arkansas has beaten TCU 17 straight years, but Broyles says the past has nothing to do with Saturday's game.

"The game of football is so mental that the mental part dictates what you can do physically," he said. "We will have to be ready to play, because TCU certainly will."

The game is the SWC opener for Arkansas, a 24-point favorite. The Razorbacks are 2-1 for the season. TCU lost its SWC opener to Southern Methodist University 34-14.

A crowd of about 40,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. kickoff.

Royals clinch tie

OAKLAND (AP) — The Kansas City Royals are home today, in the city Charles O. Finley deserted eight years ago, preparing for a pennant-clinching party.

"You could say an era is over," said Gene Tenace of the Oakland A's after Wednesday night's 4-0 Royals' victory over the Finley-owned team which has won five straight American League West titles and claimed baseball world championships in 1972-73-74.

"We're lifted up right now and I hope we stay up this weekend," said Kansas City Manager Whitey Herzog, whose team had lost six of seven games before Wednesday night.

The A's had won five of six, charging within reach of the leaders.

"We haven't ended it yet, but we're comfortable now," said the Royals' John Mayberry.

Herzog went to his bullpen for a starting pitcher and got a four-hit shutout from Larry Gura, 4-0, while Amos Otis drove in two runs with a homer and double in his first game since a two-day stay on the bench.

One victory over the Minnesota Twins in the final three-game series of the regular season will clinch the title. The series opens Friday night in Royals Stadium.

The Royals, with a 3½-game lead, also can uncork the champagne if the A's, moved to the West Coast from Kansas City by owner Finley in 1968, lose one of their four remaining games.

Oakland faces Frank Tanana, the California Angels' 18-game winner, Friday night.

In other games Wednesday, the New York Yankees downed the Boston Red Sox 9-6, the Milwaukee Brewers topped the Baltimore Orioles 6-3, the Minnesota Twins defeated the Texas Rangers 9-1, the Cleveland Indians turned back the Detroit Tigers 3-2 and the California Angels blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0.

Yanks 9, Red Sox 6

Graig Nettles drove in six runs and scored four, belting two home runs — one of them a grand slam — and two doubles. Nettles now has 32 homers, tops in the American League. Catfish Hunter, 17-15, got the victory with relief from Sparky Lyle.

Brewers 6, Orioles 3

Hank Aaron scored on a single by Dan Thomas in the sixth inning and moved into a tie with Babe Ruth for second place on the career runs scored list with 2,174.

Ty Cobb is first with 2,244.

Twins 9, Rangers 1

Pete Redfern evened his record at 8-8 with a five-hitter, with Bill Campbell pitching the last two innings. That gave Campbell a team record 76 appearances this year and broke the American League record for innings pitched by a reliever. Rod Carew homered and drove in two runs for Minnesota.

Indians 3, Tigers 2

Dave LaRoche posted his 21st save of the season for the Indians to tie Sparky Lyle of the Yankees for the American League lead.

The Tuloso-Midway junior varsity must have suspected it was in for a long evening by halftime of its game last week against Ben Bolt, the fourth ranked Class B team in the state.

Diminutive Juan Bernal, 5-9, 140, already had scored four touchdowns and three two-point conversions for a 30-0 halftime lead.

Bernal, a senior all-stater, finished with 285 yards rushing on 18 carries and accounted for 46 points (six touchdowns and five two-point conversions) in a 52-0 victory to set an all-time Class B single game individual scoring record.

Bernal's feat, which ranks fifth in the state for all classifications, included touchdown runs of 24, 16, 34, 32, 36, and 65 yards and earned him mention in this week's Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

The speedy South Texan shares the spotlight with a trio of Cypress-Fairbanks backs, each of whom rushed over 100 yards in Cy-Fair's 32-0 victory over Galena Park North Shore.

Quarterback Sam Ansley led the pack with 172 yards on 27 carries. Then came running backs Robert Hoot with 142 yards on 30 carries and Don Burns with 18 carries for 124 yards.

Cy-Fair gained 511 yards in total offense and had 33 first downs.

Sophomore halfback Ken Jenkins is a major reason San Antonio Southwest has outscored the opposition 135-0 in its four games this season, including last week's 47-0 shutout of Crystal City.

Jenkins rushed 14 times for 100 yards and touchdowns of 31 and 11 yards and returns punts and kickoffs 170 yards, including an 85-yard touchdown return on a punt.

Coach Jori Zabava says Jenkins is Mr. Inside-Mr. Outside wrapped into one runner. "He got outside on his 31 yard touchdown run and he just ran over two people and went right into the end zone on his 11-yard touchdown," Zabava said.

Nose guard Max Bordon of San Antonio Central Catholic returned an interception 100 yards last week en route to a surprising 44-0 upset of South San Antonio. On another play, Bordon knocked the ball from a runner and recovered the fumble at his own six.

Gorman rolled into the No. 1 ranking in Class B this week with the support of senior halfback Billy Burgess, who rushed 33 times for 280 yards and scored touchdowns of 41, 56 and one yards.

Other schoolboys receiving mention this week include:

—Andrews quarterback

Booger Brooks, who competes in rodeos after football season is over, passed for touchdowns of 15 and five yards and ran for a three-yard score in a 20-11 victory over previously unbeaten Snyder.

—Senior tailback Chester Strickland of previously top-ranked Pittsburg, rushed 232 yards on 38 carries and had TD runs of 1, 1, and 85 yards in a 45-21 victory over Gladewater.

—Dual performer Hebert Moore rushed seven times for 127 yards and two touchdowns and intercepted two passes to set up two more touchdowns for Odessa Ector in a 56-0 rout of El Paso Jefferson.

—Livingston's Eddie Robinson picked off a Tomball pass and returned it 97 yards for a touchdown and that was the difference in a 17-13 victory.

—Alan Cherry of Monahans rushed only five times but gained 111 yards and scored two touchdowns on offense and intercepted three passes on defense, including one he returned 95 yards for a touchdown.

Baylor favored over Gamecocks

Does Baylor ever remember South Carolina? "We're going after them because we have a score to settle," says Baylor cornerback Gary Green, recalling last year's loss to the Gamecocks.

The Baylor-South Carolina match is one of the top inter-sectional matchups on this week's Southwest Conference football card that also has Texas Christian at Arkansas and Texas at Rice in SWC games.

Texas A&M is at Illinois and Southern Methodist is at Memphis State in non-conference games.

"We were terribly overconfident the last time we played them (the Gamecocks)," Green said. "We had tied Auburn and Michigan and instead of figuring how we were going to beat South Carolina we were trying to decide by how much."

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff has lost three out of four collisions with teams coached by Jim Carlen.

Baylor is a three-point favorite over South Carolina. Arkansas is a 26-point choice over TCU, Rice is a 20-point underdog to Texas, Southern Methodist is a six-point underdog to Memphis State and Texas A&M is a one-point pick over Illinois. Aggie Coach Emory Bellard figures the Cadets will be at a psychological disadvantage against Illinois because of the beating Baylor inflicted on the Big Ten team.

"The way football is now, you have to be ready to play every week," Bellard said. "Any team we have left (on the schedule) can beat Texas A&M and we can beat any of them. But it's going to be a tough fight every week."

Some 60,000 fans were expected for the Rice-Texas game. Texas Coach Darrell Royal has a 15-3-1 record against the Owls.

Arkansas has won 17 consecutive games from TCU and the prospects are bright for making it 18 in a row.

"They'll have one of the best defensive teams we'll face all season," said TCU Coach Jim Shofner. "They really swarm around the football. That defense is what carried them to the Cotton Bowl last year."

SMU Coach Ron Meyer said Memphis State "has really an outstanding team and I don't say outstanding unless I mean it."

Houston, which leads the conference with a 2-0 ledger, and unbeaten Texas Tech are idle.

IT IS WRITTEN — A fan at Wednesday's baseball game between the New York Mets and the Montreal Expos holds up a sign as the 1976 season draws to a close. For the Mets, now 12 games behind first-place Philadelphia, last night's 7-2 thumping by the Expos brought the New York team that much closer to the end of a disappointing season. Visible in foreground is an unidentified Montreal Expos coach. The game was played at New York's Shea Stadium.

Grand old man

with Marj Carpenter

"There's Ira Bird. He hasn't missed many sales," one rancher told another Monday out at the annual Wallace Hereford Production Sale.

I turned to look toward a gentleman who looked "pioneer West Texas." I figured he was in his 70s and that from what the ranchers had said he was probably interesting so I went up and introduced myself.

"Yes," he admitted. "I've been to a lot of sales around these parts. But then I've lived in Robert Lee for 90 years." I gasped. "How many years?" And he smiled and said, "I said 90."

"How old are you?" I queried. "Well," he drawled, "I'll be 95 in a few days, the good Lord willing."

His daughter, Mrs. Evelyn McKinley, came up with a glass of tea. "Oh, he came out to Robert Lee with his dad when he was five back in 1887," she related.

"His Dad came from Hico three years before there was a Coke County and settled in that area," Mrs. McKinley added.

"You mean that you were there when the county was formed?" I queried. "Do you remember who was the first sheriff?"

"Oh, it must have been old Frank Buchanan and I guess Uncle Harve Adams was the first judge. The county seat was in Hayrick then instead of Robert Lee," he recalled.

His daughter recalled, "I was teaching school there at Silver years ago when the oil boom occurred."

"When it started I had 32 pupils and suddenly we were just overrun with kids. We built a big school plant and then later when the oil boom was over, everybody left. The vandals have torn up the school building. It's really kind of sad," she added.

"There's a story going around that Ernest Tubbs went to school at one time in Silver. Is that true?" I asked. "He probably did," Bird said. "There were more Tubbs around there than most anything else."

Bird has two daughters, Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. Mary J. Pentecost. "She's not here today, but her husband, Nolan is... he's raised Herefords for about 56 years himself."

The gentlemanly Mr. Bird adjusted his tie, tipped back his Western straw a little bit and began to eat a plate of barbecue and beans. "Good fixins," he added.

"I've been to all of Leland's sales. And met him a long time before that at a bunch of other sales. Those of us who know and like Herefords all know each other," Mr. Bird added.

Detox center will be built

ODESSA — A $90,000 detoxification center funded by the Odessa City Council and a grant from the Texas Commission on Alcoholism will be built adjacent to Gwin Park here.

Ector County Commissioners have approved construction of a 14-bed center which will occupy 3,000 square feet.

In other business, commissioners urged Medical Center, the county-supported hospital, "to do whatever necessary" to start obstetric services at the facility as soon as possible.

The county now reimburses Women's and Children's Hospital, a private facility, for obstetric care for indigent patients.

Godfrey shows true grit

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Arthur Godfrey says he'll be "damned if I eat any grits" during his stay in Dixie.

Godfrey, 73, and approaching his 47th year in broadcasting, is in Nashville to host a show which will be telecast later this season on the syndicated program "Music Hall America."

"Most of these motel restaurants serve you grits at a meal before they do the water. I'm not knocking Southern cooking, but I don't like grits," Godfrey said. "I think grits is, are, a terrible thing to do to an ear of corn."

Godfrey added, "I've done a great many things in this business since that Oct. 5 night in 1929."

Wichita Falls cowboy critically injured

DENVER, Colo. — A bareback rider from Wichita Falls, Texas, was critically injured last week (Sept. 22), during the New Mexico State Fair rodeo in Albuquerque.

Johnny Trout bucked off a horse and landed head first, crushing two vertebrae in his neck. He's in St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque, paralyzed from the neck down. Doctors tentatively plan to operate in the next day or two, but can't speculate on whether Trout will recover. X rays confirm, however, that the spinal column isn't severed.

The Albuquerque rodeo paid cowboy winners more than $80,000; the contest sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, ended Saturday.

All around champ Tom Ferguson of Miami, Okla., was the big winner, taking more than $6,000 out of calf roping and steer wrestling. Ferguson won first in the steer wrestling average with 8.2 seconds on two runs, and placed in the second go-round of calf roping.

Calf roping average winners were Bucky Bradford of Sylmar, Calif., and Dennis Watkins of Taft, Calif., with 15.3 seconds on two runs, good for $708 each.

Another major contest ending over the weekend was the Western Washington Fair rodeo in Puyallup, Wash. Top winners there included Don Tescher of Medora, N. Dak., $1,066 in saddle bronc riding; Buster Green of Redmond, Ore., $1,139 in bareback riding; Rick Zeis of Puyallup, $1,131 in bull riding; Danny Torricellas of Eugene, Ore., $1,186 in calf roping; and Bob Christophersen of Glendive, Mont., $972 in steer wrestling.

Team roping average winners were Bucky Bradford of Sylmar, Calif., and Dennis Watkins of Taft, Calif., with 15.3 seconds on two runs, good for $708 each.

Division Leaders:

ALL AROUND CHAMPION — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $62,130.

Kremlin probes for strategic arms lid pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — With strategic arms limitation negotiations stalled, the United States and the Soviet Union have begun a new probe to see if they can move toward a treaty by the end of the year, according to high-level U.S. officials.

The acid test of how well the two superpowers may do, these officials say, will be Friday's meeting at the White House between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and President Ford. The officials are skeptical of an imminent breakthrough, but reporting late Wednesday night on Gromyko's steak-and-wine dinner with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, they credited the Soviets with genuine interest in moving ahead.

Kissinger was scheduled to give a major foreign policy address to the 31st U.N. General Assembly meeting today. It is expected to include an accounting of his African diplomacy and the administration's position on curbing terrorism. West Germany has called for the drafting of an international convention to ban the taking of hostages and to provide for the punishment of perpetrators.

U.S. officials say that technically, working day and night, it is possible to hammer out terms for a new treaty to limit offensive nuclear weapons by the end of the year. But within the Ford Administration itself there is said to be still no consensus position among the State Department, Pentagon and intelligence agencies on how hard to press the Russians to curb their Backfire bombers — and how hard to resist Soviet efforts to restrict the fast developing U.S. cruise missiles.

The Soviets demanded tight controls on the low-flying drones in their last arms proposal in March. The administration has yet to respond formally, and U.S.

officials said Kissinger did not present a U.S. counteroffer in his talk with Gromyko, their first since last January.

However, these officials left open the possibility that Ford would give Gromyko a new U.S. outline to take back with him to Moscow.

Kissinger, according to U.S. officials, reminded Gromyko at their 3½-hour meeting that the Soviets have been "negative" about his latest round of African shuttle diplomacy. In a speech Tuesday to the General Assembly, the Soviet minister scorned "political gimmickry and financial handouts" by which he said national liberation movements in southern Africa were being diverted.

Stung by Soviet and Cuban advances in Angola, the Administration launched a campaign to promote black rule in Rhodesia and Namibia — and at the same time block Soviet influence there.

The tenor of the meeting was described by U.S. officials as "matter-of-fact," indicating some sharp differences of view. Gromyko was said to be especially troubled by the new drive against Palestinians in Lebanon launched by combined Syrian and Lebanese Christian forces.

In a speech Wednesday to 18 Arab foreign ministers, Kissinger said the Ford administration believes a comprehensive, Geneva-style meeting on the Arab-Israeli dispute is now preferable to step-by-step diplomacy.

School bus safety week

Texas School Bus Safety Week will be observed both on and off the big yellow vehicles throughout the state Oct. 3-9.

The special week, part of a nationwide salute to the men and women who transport millions of students each day, has been officially proclaimed in Texas by Gov. Dolph Briscoe. School districts across the state will honor their own drivers in a number of different ways, according to Gabe Gilley, Texas Education Agency director of school transportation.

A number of districts will hold bus driver recognition dinners while others will feature window displays or posters in local business firms, school assembly programs on bus safety, safety awards for drivers, and news features in newspapers or on radio and television stations. A total of 780,000 Texas public school students ride from home to school and return each day on the school buses, according to the Texas Education Agency reports. Additional bus trips also transport students on field trips, band trips, athletic trips, and to vocational programs held away from the home district.

During the past year, 14,577 school bus drivers received special safety instruction under the state's new training program. Developed by the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Public Safety, the program will train an additional 8,000 to 10,000 drivers during 1976-77. Each driver will also be required to complete a refresher course every three years.

The training sessions are conducted by the 20 regional education service centers throughout the state.

BLONDIE

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1976

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Avoid an irate partner and plan time for keeping any promises you have made to those in authority. Some new project adds appreciably to your present income. Be careful of strangers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do only work that is necessary. Handle important personal matters in a friendly and proper way in the afternoon. A new friend can give you the information you need. Avoid a troublemaker.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Forget recreation today and try to improve your surroundings, credit. Seek advice of an expert on how to improve your position in life.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate on coming to a fine understanding with a partner and do not involve your family who do not use words wisely. An influential person will come to your aid if you explain your situation honestly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan time to discuss with bigwigs how to improve your position in the community in which you reside. Show others you are a fine worker and gain the proper benefits. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget money matters today and concentrate on discussing your affairs with newcomers who are experts in whatever it is you have in mind. Take time for fun, but don't let it be too expensive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to rearrange your life at home so that there is more unity and constructive purpose to it. A heart-to-heart talk with a loved one can result in a better understanding. Avoid one who is jealous of you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get right into your routines without all that fussing and fuming and get them done efficiently. Look to that practical associate for the assistance you need. Do nothing drastic in afternoon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrate on whatever is of a practical nature. Avoid those who would waste your valuable time today. Take care of a financial affair wisely now. Don't put it off.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make appointments early in the day. Be careful in the handling of practical matters or you could get in deep debt. Avoid taking risks.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure everything is in good order at home. Do not get into any new projects that you are not sure about. Study them first.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Gain the cooperation of good friends for a plan you have in mind that can be profitable to all. Be sure first to handle some responsibility wisely.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will have a great abundance throughout the lifetime because of the practical, level head here. There is the power of decision here and it is irrevocable. Give good spiritual training early.

Pilot didn't explode

MARIPOSA, Calif. (AP) — In 1926, when Army Lt. John Macready set out to fly higher than anyone ever had, a newspaper headline predicted, "Macready to Explode for Benefit of Science."
But Macready managed to set a record at 40,800 feet without exploding. And on Saturday, the 89-year-old pioneer will be inducted into the International Aerospace

Hall of Fame at San Diego. Of course his 1926 record has been far outdistanced. The current altitude record for horizontal flight was set last July 28 when an SR71 jet flew to 85,126 feet. But Macready's effort — and survival — helped promote the exploration of the atmosphere.
"I guess in some ways I was like an astronaut," he says. "After we set that altitude record, people began to talk more seriously about aviation and to think that maybe man someday could make it to the moon."

Macready, who is living in retirement here, admits that he was frightened by the grim forecast expressed in the headline. "Life was sweet at the moment and I had no desire to have it terminated, especially in such an undignified manner," he says.

According to the "explosion theory," the pressure inside his body would surpass the pressure outside when he reached the stratosphere, causing him to burst like a balloon.
Macready, then 39, flew an open-cockpit biplane. He was bundled up in several layers of clothing and a snow suit to combat the minus-80 temperatures.
