Ford assails Carter's foreign policy views

By the Associated Press
President Ford intensified his criticism today of Jimmy Carter's foreign policy views, saying the Democratic presidential nominee advances "potentially dangerous" ideas on how to deal with Soviet expansionism and an oil embargo.

Carter, launching his own final push to win the Nov. 2 election, defended his statements on foreign affairs and accused the President of authorizing a "scandal sheet" that makes what he called "a slanderous attack on me and my family."

As the campaign moved into its final week before next Tuesday's showdown, a poll by the Louis Harris organization was made public that showed Ford benefitting from a sharp reversal of sentiment among college educated voters.

The poll of 1,503 voters, taken just before their third and final debate, showed that 51 per cent favored the President and 38 per cent preferred Carter. A similar poll in July gave Carter the edge by 62-33 per cent.

The net loss of 42 points was the most drastic shift of preference by any segment of the voting public in the past three months, Harris said, attributing the change to Carter's failure to dispel key doubts about him as the election approaches.

Voters with some college training represent 43 per cent of the electorate, the pollster said.

Ford campaigned in the suburbs of Chicago after delivering a speech to the Pittsburgh Economic Club in which he asserted that Carter's statements on foreign policy invite aggression and carry "a strong flavor of isolationism."

In particular he criticized Carter for having said he would not send U.S. troops to Yugoslavia if that country was threatened by a Soviet takeover, and that he would wage economic warfare against any nations that imposed an oil embargo against the United States.

Applauded several times and given a standing ovation at the end, Ford said the former policy would "concede such nations as Yugoslavia to the Soviet sphere" and the latter would limit the nation's options in event of an embargo.

"In the past, American presidents have always known they should never say in advance precisely what course of action this country would take in the event of an international crisis... When a potential adversary knows what you will and won't do in advance, your flexibility is limited and his is increased. He can probe with impunity or redirect his efforts at more tempting targets," Ford said.

In a CBS interview, Carter was asked about Ford's criticism and replied that "on six different occasions he (Ford) has said flatly that we wouldn't send troops to certain parts of the world. To Angola, for instance, to Lebanon, to Eastern Europe, to Rhodesia. Those are examples. And I think my statement on Yugoslavia was accurate."

He said his proposed response to any new oil embargo is "the best way to prevent a future embargo, which I now think is highly unlikely."

Carter was angered by the disclosure that the President Ford committee had mailed out a four-page publication called "Heartland," with a political cartoon on the cover showing Carter in a church pulpit holding a Bible in one hand a copy of Playboy magazine in the other. The caption reads: "All things to all people."

In the CBS interview, Carter called the magazine "a very personal attack on me and my family."

A spokesman for the Ford committee said about two million copies of Heartland were mailed to voters in 17 states about 10 days ago. Jack Horner, the committee spokesman, disagreed with Carter's characterization of the pamphlet and added that Ford probably had no role in approving its distribution.

"It comes as no surprise that Jimmy Carter is upset by this mailing because it vividly highlights his inconsistencies on the issues," Horner said.

A spokesman for the Postal Service said there had been a technical violation in the mailing, because the envelopes carried no return address.

Webb hearing set Nov. 3, 4

U.S. Rep. Walter Flowers (D-Ala.), in a speech made in Marion, Ala., recently, said the Air Force's final decision on the closure of Craig AFB, Selma, Ala., is "too close to call."

Craig, along with Webb AFB, Big Spring, is one of two Air Training Command bases projected as candidates for closure.

The public hearing on the draft impact statement relating to Webb will be held in the High School Auditorium Nov. 3-4. The Craig hearing starts Nov. 15.

Flowers reassured his listeners that the closing of Craig "would not mean the end of the world for Selma and the surrounding area. Of course, we want to continue to work to try and convince them Craig should remain open, and all our guns are pointed in that direction now. But there are other things to keep in mind."

"One of the main items to remember," Flowers said, "is that if we do save Craig now, it will be a constant battle to keep it open."

Friday is last absentee chance

A total of 660 absentee votes had been cast this morning in the Nov. 2 presidential election, County Clerk Margaret Ray said.

Yet to be returned by mail are another 404 ballots.

Mailed ballots will be counted if received by the county clerk's office election day. Absentee voting in the office ends at 5 p.m. Friday.

won't be like we won the war, but more like winning a small skirmish."

Big Spring civic leaders well know what Flowers means, that the Defense Department must fight a battle with the budget every year and, for that reason, must look for ways to slice expenses. Local leaders, for that reason, think Webb's chances of escaping the pruning knife rest mainly through a change in mission. They have been working toward that objective.

Should the decision be made to close Craig, "the people need to turn their attentions to what good can come of it," Flowers told his listeners. He mentioned "massive federal aid" could be anticipated if the base is shuttered. Such aid would come in the form of help to locate suitable industries for the area.

"The economic adjustment bureau, I think that's what it's called," Flowers stated, "has funds available to help areas that suffer economic problems that could be the result of Craig closing its doors."

Flowers, who gained a measure of fame as a member of the Watergate investigative committee, said he was hopeful the Department of Defense would accept an alternate plan to close only one base rather than two, "and that one wouldn't be Craig." Flowers of course, was alluding to Webb as the one facility, under such a plan, that would be closed.

Flowers declined to speculate what effect the upcoming general election would have on the Craig issue, but said: "If Carter is elected, I feel the decision on Craig would be postponed until at least after Carter took office. After all, he would be formulating defense policies for the next four years."

Flowers also cited Carter's "regional ties" to Alabama "that can't do anything but help Craig's chances."

A Selma committee organized to fight the decision to close Craig has retained the services of a Washington-based economic consultancy firm to conduct its own economic impact study, which will be presented at the impact hearing in Selma Nov. 15.

Former governor will campaign for Ford here

John Connally, former Texas governor and former secretary of the treasury, will arrive in Big Spring at 10:30 a.m. Thursday with the Texans for Ford campaign. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Connally.

Connally will be at the Howard County Airport. Any who wish to welcome him are invited to attend, according to R. H. Weaver, chairman of the Texans for Ford group in Big Spring.

There will be a brief press conference before Connally flies on to the Midland-Odessa area in his swing across West Texas.

Connally has been on campaigns through Big Spring on many occasions dating back to the years when he swung across the state in a special train caravan while seeking the post of governor.

The Republicans also report that Ed Vetter, under Secretary of Commerce, will be in Big Spring at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday in behalf of the Ford Campaign. Ben Bancroft, county chairman is in charge of arrangements for this meeting which will be at his office.

'Outstanding' solon to stump for Carter

Rep. Bob Krueger, D-New Braunfels, will attend a reception hosted by the Howard County Young Democrats Thursday tentatively set for 10 a.m., according to Larry Don Shaw, YD president.

Krueger, selected by other Congressmen as the most effective member of the House of Representatives for this session, will be campaigning for Jimmy Carter for president, along with other Democratic nominees.

He has been praised editorially by Texas Monthly magazine and the New York Times. The Times said about him, "Men and women who have been around Congress for years say they cannot remember another freshman House member gaining such stature in such a short time."

Krueger's 21st District extends to the southern Howard County line and includes Glasscock and Sterling Counties.

Krueger holds a doctorate in Elizabethan literature from Oxford University in England and was the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Duke University before returning to his hometown of New Braunfels. He is the author of several scholarly works, including "The Poems of Sir John Davies," published in 1975 by Oxford University Press.

The public is invited to attend the reception, to be held at the County Democratic Headquarters, 4th and Rannels.

Freeman hearing reset Wednesday

Because several witnesses sought by the defense are out of town, District Judge Ralph W. Caton this morning postponed a pretrial hearing for an accused sex offender until 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Among the witnesses named by George Gilkerson, Lubbock attorney for Maj. Harold Roy Freeman, are Sam Smelser, Houston; a state welfare secretary in San Angelo; and Texas Ranger George Frasier.

Frasier and Deputy Sheriff Eddie Owen left earlier this morning for a man being held in Austin on a Big Spring burglary warrant. Clarence Brown Dunn is charged with the May 19 burglary of a building and theft of an impact wrench belonging to Kenneth Dewees.

The burglary is not related to four family sex crimes Freeman is accused of committing in Sand Springs.

Strike could be costly to Midland

MIDLAND — The City of Midland stands up lose upwards to $30,000 a month as long as the strike of Continental Airlines pilots continues, Col. Wilson Banks, city aviation director said.

Continental and Texas International are the only two major airlines serving the air terminal.

Banks cited potential losses in parking, rental cars, restaurant business, landing fees and etc., as a result of the suspension of flights.

Early settlement of the pilots' strike has reportedly been blocked on issues of safety and working conditions. The strike began at 12:01 a.m., Saturday.

Judge says speed limit unconstitutional

Ralph Caton, Big Spring 118th District Court Judge, drives 55 out on the highway. But he says that he is not legally bound to do so.

Caton mentioned in his address to the West Texas Justice of the Peace convention here and elaborated today, his belief that there is no legal, national 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

Caton said today, "Congress should repeal the Federal law which would withhold highway construction funds from states unless they pass certain speed laws."

"The regulation of speed on public highways should be left to the legislation of the various states."

Caton said section 106 of federal law, which encourages states to pass the speed limit by withholding funds, was first passed as an emergency measure by the Congress under the pressure of the oil embargo. He says that the Emergency Highway Energy Conservation Act, as the law was titled, has continued to exist past the state of "emergency" which caused its creation.

"Congress," said Caton, "at this time does not need to regulate state speeds."

In addition, Caton believes that the Texas speed limit right now, on the books, is 70 mph. He says the 55 limit was imposed by the Highway Commission after the responsibility was delegated to them by the state legislation.

Caton said that it is unconstitutional for the legislation to delegate that authority, and therefore, the 55 limit does not legally exist.

But he said he is not encouraging people to speed.

"There is a test case, Kenworthy versus Texas, challenging the law in Stanton. That should clarify the issue," said Caton.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Who gets money?

Q: Every year when the United Fund starts their campaign they list the Boy Scouts of America as one of the agencies who receive funds. Who gets this money? Does it stay in the county? Who is the check made out to?

A: Dearl Pittman, president and campaign chairman for the Big Spring and Howard County United Way, said, "The check is made out to the Boy Scouts at their council office in Midland. The money is applied from there back to the Big Spring area."

Offbeat: Mobile wedding

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — It was marriage on the move for Devoy Geiger and his new bride, Phyllis. They tied the knot while Geiger piloted a bus along I-40.

The highway nuptials surprised about 20 guests on the bus Saturday who thought they were being driven to the location for the ceremony.

The reception was held at a Nashville hamburger stand.

"I'm a bus driver, and we met on a bus trip," Geiger explained.

The Rev. James Barton, pastor of the First Christian Church here, said it was the most unusual ceremony he had ever performed.

Immediately after the wedding, Geiger drove into a filling station to refuel.

Relatives later tied cans to the bumper of the bus.

"The worst thing on earth is to be returned to the Soviets," Mrs. Peters said in an interview Monday. She has lived in the United States since leaving the Soviet Union in 1966.

In a letter to the Iranian embassy in Washington, Mrs. Peters asked the shah not to order the return of Lt. Valentin Zashimov, who crossed the border Sept. 25 in a single-engine plane. She said she does not know the pilot personally, but that an old friend asked her to help prevent his return.

Annual assault on apartheid idea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly marks the birth of Transkei today with the start of its annual attack on the South African white government's apartheid racial policy and a condemnation of the first protege nation it has produced.

The black African blueprint for the apartheid debate also includes a condemnation of alleged "increasing collaboration" between Israel and South Africa, a charge certain to draw strong opposition from the United States.

U.N. officials said at least nine resolutions would be introduced during the debate. The first, timed to coincide with the start of Transkei independence at midnight Monday, demands that all U.N. members pledge to boycott the new nation and all other tribal states set up by the South African government in an effort to preserve white rule in the more valuable parts of the country.

The Transkei is an area of 14,300 square miles on the southeast coast of South Africa with a population of 3.3 million blacks. The South African government has aside nine such Bantustans, or tribal homelands. This country's land area to the 18 million blacks, while the 4.5 million whites retain control of the other 86.3 per cent, including industrial and mining areas and the most fertile agricultural lands.

WARMING UP — Workers in the 1976 Howard County United Way campaign are responding to the challenge. Collections have passed the $35,000 mark, which means the committee has reached 26 per cent of its $134,000 objective. Division leaders will meet with UF President Dearl Pittman for a Dutch treat luncheon at the Spanish Inn at noon Wednesday for a new report on the drive. Pittman said he hopes the campaign can be successfully ended by Nov. 15.

Publisher's corner Situation needs examination

Whenever a question has been raised about why Webb Air Force Base is operating at a lower level, the Air Force answer has been: It is because of the change in mission at Webb announced Jan. 1, 1976, and which took away the Undergraduate Training Program (American) pilots and left the Security Training Assistance Program (foreign) pilots.

HOWEVER, AS Big Spring has found out more about the process of selecting Webb, the top performance base in the Air Training Command, as a candidate for closure, this reason obviously can be questioned. Indeed, even the decision to change the mission at Webb appears suspect.

We now know that Webb fell from near the top of the Air Training Command bases in priority to next to the bottom in early 1975. This happened when the flight simulator for Webb was canceled without explanation.

We also know that the decision to make Webb a candidate for closure was made in November 1975.

Lt. Gen. John Roberts, commander of the Air Training Command, decided to change Webb's mission at Christmas 1975 — at least one month after the decision to make Webb a candidate for closure.

This decision could be little more than a subterfuge of the law to draw Webb down during the environmental impact process.

The announced reason for changing

Webb's mission was to "level the load" between ATC bases. But this has not happened. All of the other bases have gained at Webb's expense since spring time, but the load remains as unlevel as it once was. Laughlin has simply taken Webb's place as the base with the heaviest number of programmed flying hours and pilots.

LAUGHLIN, WHICH already had a UPT mission of some size, has shot up from 48 SATP student pilots in March to 118 in September. Meanwhile, Webb has dropped from 174 SATP pilots down to only 137, and Webb is supposed to have the primary mission of training SATP pilots.

When Secretary of the Air Force

Thomas Reed promised the Big Spring delegation that Webb would not be drawn down until a final decision was made on the future of the base, I believed him. He is a high official of our government, and I took him at his word.

I did not feel it necessary to press him to make certain that there was not some secret, questionable legal plan to reduce Webb prior to a final decision.

The secretary has a reputation as a square shooter, and those of us in the Big Spring delegation accepted his word.

But I think the secretary needs to examine what is happening here.

He needs to get personally involved to make sure that his promise is kept.

Letter of clarification

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — With everyone misspeaking these days "clarification experts" have been put on a 24-hour shift answering mail from groups that have been offended by something someone has said.

SINCE EVERYONE is so busy campaigning I thought I might provide some form letters that could be sent out to mollify the populace.

This is one President Ford's people could send.

Dear Mrs. Gronowski, The President was very happy to receive your letter concerning his remarks where he alluded to the fact that he was proud that Poland was not dominated by the Soviet Union.

What he meant to say, in the heat of the debate, was that he was proud that the Soviet people were not dominated by Poland.

The President has always had a very strong interest in what is going on in Eastern Europe.

If President Ford is re-elected his first act will be to send Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to Warsaw to see if Poland is dominated by anybody. If Mr. Kissinger discovers that it is, he will give Poland seven nuclear power plants, six squadrons of F-16 fighter planes and 12 missile cruisers.

THE PRESIDENT believes a strong Poland is essential to the defense of the free world, and will do everything in his power to see that it never becomes a Communist satellite.

Sincerely yours,

*** This is one Gov. Carter's people could mail out.

Dear Mr. Archibald,

Thank you for your kind letter concerning Gov. Carter's interview in Playboy magazine. I would like to explain to you that Mr. Carter did not say he was lusting after "your" wife. What he said was that he has lusted after women in his heart by God has always forgiven him.

The governor, according to our records, has never met your wife, and therefore the possibility of him lusting after her is out of the question.

This is nothing against your wife as it's possible that if the governor had met her he might have committed adultery in his heart.

BUT THIS is a hypothetical question, and there is no reason for you to be suspicious of your wife or the governor. To put your mind at ease we have rescheduled Mr. Carter's itinerary so he will not campaign in Mayville, Kan., this year and his chances of running into Mrs. Archibald will be nil.

Sincerely,

*** The third form letter could be sent out by ex-Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz' people.

Dear Mr. Washington,

Mr. Butz was very disturbed by your letter concerning his remarks as to why black people did not vote Republican.

For some reason the press misquoted him. What he really said was that "All that the fine hard-working Negroes in this country want are tight sneakers so they can win more gold medals in the Olympics, loose blue jeans to enable them to dance easier and a warm place to cook their wonderful soul food." This was said on an airplane and because of engine noise John Dean misinterpreted what the secretary meant.

Sincerely,

Nickel can cause skin reaction

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I pierced my daughter's ears myself. Every time I put earrings in her ears they swell up and get runny. It is very painful.

I have tried cheap earrings and expensive ones. She is now five years old. Can you give me any information on how to correct this? — B.C.

This sounds like a reaction to a metal. The usual cause is nickel, which is often used in coating costume jewelry and coins. Of course such a reaction can occur with any material. It's sometimes called "nickel itch."

You should inquire about the content of the metal used in the earrings. If you can't, then obviously you should forget about earrings altogether. Such a reaction wouldn't be limited to the ears, but would show itself on the fingers where rings are worn, etc.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Thank you for your health column, particularly for the one dealing with heart congestion. I recently spent 13 days in the hospital, ordered there on short notice by my doctor (one of the best), whose instructions to me later, including insistence on total bed rest, were almost word for word the same as your advice in your column.

Now I'd like to ask a favor. Can you give me the name of a book I can purchase that tells in layman's language something more about the problem? — Mr. J.C.J.

There's not much disagreement about the treatment of congestive heart failure, but it's nice that my column can, from time to time, provide readers with a bit of insight into the whys and wherefores of their doctors' sometimes inconvenient instructions.

There are so many good books for laymen on the heart that I hesitate to name one. On my shelf is a brief, intelligent, plain language discussion of the subject. It is "The Illustrated Coronary Fact Book," co-authored by Drs. J.E. Edwards and Bernard Goot. Your library or bookstore should be able to tell you if it is available. The publisher is Arco Publishing Company, Inc., 219 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10003. My copy is the paperback edition. My own little booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," may also be a good "starter." If you send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald I'll send you a copy. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is ptosis of the left eyelid? What causes it and what is the treatment or cure for it? — W.W.D.

Ptosis (TOE-sis — don't pronounce the "p") is a sagging of any structure, in your case of the eyelid. It stems from a defect in a nerve or in a muscle that raises the lid. Since only one lid is involved I would suspect that as the problem.

It might be considered an early symptom of myasthenia gravis if both lids are involved. It is treated with drugs.

If it came on rather suddenly one might also suspect a "little stroke," or some circulation disorder.

Surgery can be performed if no treatable cause can be found. Ptosis calls for a thorough examination of the affected muscle or nerves.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will you tell me what radioactive iodine does for an overactive thyroid gland? My gland has lumps on it. — Mrs. B.E.

The radioactivity destroys some of the gland tissue. This is so it won't produce the hormones that tend to speed up general metabolism. If the lumps (tumors) are "functional" it means they are actually mimicking the normal gland tissue and producing hormones on their own. Thus the need to destroy them.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a person's blood type change during his lifetime from positive to negative? — M.R.

No.

Carter's Texas rescue

Evans, Novak

AUSTIN — The best that can be said for Jimmy Carter's chances to bring home the Texas bacon of 26 electoral votes is that he may have stopped his precipitous decline from the giddy heights of midsummer — just in time.

This is far from certain, however, a fact proved by the Carter camp's revealing effort to stem the hemorrhage by sending in a flying platoon of blue-ribbon Atlanta bankers and businessmen last week.

THEIR UNPUBLICIZED mission: to "allay the fear syndrome," in the words of a leading pro-Carter Dallas businessman. That syndrome of fear over Carter's economic policies had dangerously diminished Carter support among most conservative and many moderate Democrats who control this state's oil, gas, banking, insurance, real estate and construction billions.

Indeed, with John B. Connally, the former conservative Democratic governor, exploiting his influence over Texas business — particularly on his own Houston turf — on behalf of President Ford, Carter's business support was down to a devastating low point. "In Houston," a top Democratic officeholder told us, "Big John's got the money taps turned off tight."

The flying squad of Atlanta's finest dispatched last week by Carter was headed by Charles Kirbo, Carter's backroom eminence, and included Bert Lance, head of the National Bank of Georgia, Richard L. Kattel, president of the Citizens and Savings Bank, Frank Moore, a longtime Carter operative, and others. In Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, El Paso, Lubbock and here in the state capital, worried Texas businessmen listened to their soothing words that Carter is, too, a fiscal conservative.

Back to business Around the rim

Troy Bryant

Yes, that's my familiar Tuesday face staring back at you, after two weeks' absence.

I know it was quite a shock for people expecting to see me here last week and then finding what they did.

IT WAS JUST what we felt that we needed to get some Ford propaganda to go along with the Carter propaganda in a Rim. None of the present Rim writers here care to stick up for him, apparently.

It took us about two seconds to find a Rim writer willing to give his side of the campaign. Now that's out of the way, let's get down to business.

This is the last Rim I'll be able to write before election day. By that time most people will have cast their vote.

I only have one thing to say — vote.

Did you know that a presidential candidate by winning one-vote margins in the top 11 states, will be elected? Only one vote can make the difference in the election.

The states, and their electoral votes are California, 45; New York, 41; Pennsylvania, 27; Texas, 26; Illinois, 26; Ohio, 25; Michigan, 21; New Jersey, 17; Florida, 17; and Massachusetts, 14.

The other 39 states combined have fewer electoral votes than these 11 states.

For that reason, the voters in those 11 states probably have more "power" with their votes than those in any other state.

Theoretically, a candidate could get only 11 votes more than his opponent (one for each of the top 11 states) and still be elected president. Even if the loser in those states gets a million-vote plurality in each of the 39 other states, he would still lose the election.

Good or bad, that's the way it is. There have been 15 presidents who failed to garner the majority vote, but only three of those didn't even get a plurality.

ANDREW JACKSON got 43.13 per cent of the popular vote in 1824, while John Quincy Adams got only 30.54 per cent of the vote. Jackson also got more electoral votes than Adams, 99 to 84, but Adams was elected president on the first ballot by the House of Representatives. Neither of the candidates was affiliated with a political party.

Another president who didn't capture the hearts of most of the voters was Rutherford B. Hayes in 1876. He got 47.9 per cent of the vote while his opponent, Samuel J. Tilden got 50.9 per cent. Tilden led Hayes in electoral votes 185 to 184. In that election 19 electoral votes from Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana were disputed. After months of controversy, an electoral commission was appointed to determine the valid election returns. The commissioners, eight Republicans and seven Democrats voted along party lines to award the 19 votes and the presidency to Hayes, also a Republican.

Another Republican, Benjamin Harrison, was elected after having won only 47.8 per cent of the popular vote to Grover Cleveland's 48.6 per cent. Although the more voters favored Cleveland, the Democrat, Harrison became president.

Police supported

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency not only has provided financial support to some of the world's most notorious secret police, but has condoned their operations within the United States.

Such brutal police agencies as South Korea's KCIA, Chile's DINA and Iran's SAVAK have terrorized exiles in this country. There is reason to believe that they have violated U.S. laws. The FBI has received reports that they have committed burglaries, attempted kidnappings and plotted murders.

An alarmed Rep. Donald Fraser, D-Minn., has asked the CIA to divulge the details of its agreements with foreign intelligence agencies, which allow the spies to operate within each other's countries. The CIA has stubbornly refused to cooperate.

THE CIA has good reason to be sensitive. Over the years, it has developed cozy relationships with some of the most repressive foreign intelligence agencies in the world.

South Korea's KCIA even took its name from our spy agency. We cited evidence over a year ago that KCIA agents were threatening, intimidating and abusing Korean exiles in this country. A Korean embassy spokesman then called the charges "groundless" and said the KCIA was not active in the United States.

But now, South Korean Ambassador Pyong-Choon Hahn has admitted that KCIA agents have used "goon psychology and tactics" against Korean residents in this country. They were acting on their own and are now being ordered back to Seoul, he said.

A year ago, we also reported that Chile's DINA "has hired thugs to track down and assassinate prominent exiles." Last month, a prominent Chilean exile, ex-Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier, was blown to pieces by a bomb that had been rigged beneath his car. DINA had been suspected of arranging the assassination.

But a strange thing has happened.

The CIA, which is forbidden by statute from conducting investigations within the United States, has entered the case. Coincidentally, newspaper accounts, quoting "intelligence officials," have reported that Cuban, anti-Castro extremists were behind the Letelier killing.

This raises some questions. What business does the CIA have becoming involved in a domestic murder investigation? Is the CIA trying to solve the murder to protect its undercover relationship with DINA? Has the CIA been planting stories in the press to divert suspicion away from DINA?

The Iranian secret police force, SAVAK, was actually organized by the CIA in 1956. The ties between the two agencies have always been close. One intelligence source, whose reliability has been tested, told us that SAVAK agents hound and harass Iranians in the United States, with the full knowledge and sometimes the assistance of the CIA.

Answerable only to the shah of Iran, SAVAK has become one of the most feared secret police agencies in the world. It uses terror and torture to achieve its ends. Experts say that SAVAK has tighter control over the people of Iran than the KGB exercises over Soviet citizens.

ASSISTANT STATE Secretary Alfred Atherton has acknowledged that SAVAK agents are loose in the United States. They seek information, he explained cautiously, about "potential terrorists who may be among students who would return to Iran."

Our intelligence sources say SAVAK's U.S. operations are directed by Mansur Rafizadeh, who poses as an Iranian attaché at the United Nations. He works out of secret apartment hideouts in New York City. He supervises scores, some say hundreds, of SAVAK agents in this country. A number of them work under diplomatic cover at the Iranian embassy in Washington.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: If a person died suddenly without repenting, would God forgive him? Although my intentions are to follow God's way, it's often easier to follow the path of least resistance and do the things others are doing. Please help me. — K.P.L.

DEAR K.P.L.: The Bible does not offer any encouragement to people who defer repentance until after death. It explicitly states that affairs should be settled with God before death.

The Lord said to Hezekiah, "Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live" (Isaiah 38:1). The Bible teaches that there is an "acceptable time," a time to repent and get right with God. David prayed, "But as for me, my prayer is unto thee O Lord, in an acceptable time. O God, in the multitude of they mercy hear me" (Psalms 69:13). He went on to say in Psalms 95:7, 8: "To-day, if you will hear his voice, harden not your heart."

The New Testament is even more explicit: "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (II Corinthians 6:2).

Hebrews 2:3 speaks to your problem: "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?"

God's Spirit has obviously been speaking to you about this matter. Believe me, He has some purpose in so doing. If I were you I would "set my spiritual house in order" before it is too late. God loves you, and is "not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance" (II Peter 3:9).

I urge you to confess your sins, and accept Jesus Christ into your life as your personal Lord and Saviour.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

I am writing concerning the Gala Evening Benefit for our local Rehabilitation Center. After reading Sunday's Herald of the coming event, I was very disappointed in the board of directors of the Center again sanctioning a champagne and cocktail buffet for the benefit of the Center.

The directors stress to the community, "This is your Rehabilitation Center." As a proud member of this community, and a former patient and former employe of the Center, I resent very much the means by which you are adding funds to "our" Center.

I realize an organization has to have finances to operate properly, but an organization such as the Rehabilitation Center does not operate on funds alone. Pride from the community and the employes of the Rehabilitation Center plays a great part.

A neighboring community has a cattle auction each year to benefit its center; Big Spring has a Gala Evening "literally blitzed with champagne and cocktails" to benefit its center. I cannot take pride in this! In the past the people of this community and the surrounding communities were proud of our Rehabilitation Center because we cared about the whole person, not just his disability.

This image is carried over in the way funds are raised for our Center. Let's hope patients of the Center can continue to be proud of this organization.

You say the Gala Evening benefits? Whom?

Dear Editor:

The Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 77-01 will be leaving Webb and Big Spring soon. We have enjoyed our stay and would like to take this opportunity to thank the merchants, neighbors and friends who made us feel at home while we were here.

We will take many fond memories with us, especially the West Texas hospitality shown us by the people of Big Spring. Hopefully, we can carry some of it with us to our next assignments.

Country cotton buyer

with Marj Carpenter

HERBIE KEATON

A Big Spring citizen and his wife received a signal honor recently. Herbie Keaton was one of eight Americans invited to the Liverpool Cotton Association annual meeting in Liverpool, England as a member of the newly-created International Membership category which draws its members from 50 countries.

All of the Keatons' expenses were paid to Liverpool, including their hotel and meals and they attended some of the fanciest dinners and events that you can imagine.

The other Americans invited included W. D. Lawson, III, South Carolina, president of the National Cotton Council of America; A. R. Russell of Memphis from the National Cotton Council; H. H. Molsen Jr., Memphis, president of the American Cotton Shippers Association; R. E. Scheldt, Memphis, immediate past president of American Cotton Shippers; Earle Billings of the American Cotton Shippers; Herman Riddle, president of Howard Cotton Company of Memphis; and J. B. Blankenship of the business department of Howard Cotton Company. The eighth man was Herb Keaton of Keaton-McCrary Independent Cotton Merchants in Big Spring, Tex.

He calls himself a country cotton buyer. Ralli Brothers and Coney Limited entertained with cocktail parties, dinners, luncheons and other events in London, Manchester and Vienna. The food and decorations were lavish and some of the plate favors included such items as hand blown brandy snifters embossed with cotton bolls.

"I'm not sure what a country boy was doing there," Keaton said, "I'm just lucky." His wife quipped, "I don't know, but it was kind of nice to see you decked out in a tux and tie for almost a week." She laughed and added, "Sometimes when I tell my friends that Herb is in cotton, they think he picks it."

As Keaton recalls it, he first worked for J. B. Alvis in Weatherford as a cotton broker and was sent to Howard County in 1925. He worked some with Avanda Lewis and Will P. Edwards. Then later, he worked for the Japanese Goshu Cotton Company, a large exporting firm.

"Right before World War II, my boss from Japan said, 'It looks like bad things are going to happen. You better start looking for work.' That was right before Pearl Harbor.

He then went into the independent market at the advise of 'Uncle Tim Currie.' In the late '40s or early '50s, a representative of the Howard Cotton Company in Dallas arrived in Big Spring hunting a certain type of cotton. Mr. Keaton obtained the cotton for him.

The local independent buyers began purchasing cotton for the Memphis Company and the company sends buyers to spend part of the cotton season in Big Spring. Through them he met representatives of Ralli Brothers and Coney and their vice president, B. B. Davis began to come to Big Spring. Then he met Herman Riddle, the company president.

In 1973, he was first invited to an LCA convention in Liverpool and this year he was invited to bring his wife. Keaton knows cotton all over the world. For a while, he owned a portion of 14 gins in this area of the state and has sold half of them.

The Liverpool Cotton Association is the European Organization which sets governing trade rules, and arbitrates differences between buyers and sellers. For example, in 1973, the cotton market dropped sharply and affected the price of cotton per bale tremendously. The solution that year came in the East.

Mr. Keaton says he has been lucky, but he also emphasizes "most people who live in this area of the world do not realize how important it is to the world cotton market. In this 26-county area around Lubbock and south to Howard and Midland Counties, we raise around two million bales. This is about half of the four million bales raised in Texas.

"There are about ten million bales raised in the United States. In other words, this area raises from one sixth to one-fifth of the entire American cotton crop. Lamesa may raise as high as 350,000 bales. That's why we have a branch office in the Dawson County."

When you get to feeling like Big Spring is unimportant, go out and talk to Herb Keaton. He's that unimportant cotton buyer that is considered by his colleagues to be among one of the most knowledgeable cotton men in the world.

"Ah, who believes that?" says the modest Mr. Keaton. I do, says this fence writer, who really enjoyed hearing about him — Sunday when I was out ridin' fence.

Big Spring speech team won second in sweepstakes honors in the Muleshoe Fosensic Tournament with Amarillo High placing first.

Of the 14 students entered, ten made semi-finals and five placed in the finals. Amarillo High brought 29 students and placed 17 points in semis and nine in the finals.

The debate team of Angie Fulgham and Donny Knight; Hardy Wilkerson and Lucian Grathwol were two of the four teams in advanced debate semi-finals with Fulgham and Knight placing third and Wilkerson and Grathwol fourth.

In prose, Carol Morehead and Jan Whittington made the semi-finals. Jan made fifth in the finals out of 64 prose readers entered.

In poetry, Sean Grathwol and Robin Von Rosenberg made semi-finals. Grathwol placed second in the finals out of 51 poetry readers entered.

In persuasive speaking, Cappy Tatom and James Burleson made the finals. Burleson placed second; Cappy Tatom, seventh, out

Students placing first, second or third in finals received individual trophies.

Other speech team members entered included Joe Edwards, prose; and Anita Butler, Cindy Roberts and Shannon Mullin in informative speaking.

Schools entered include Amarillo, Big Spring, Brownfield, Friona, Clovis, Tulia, Amarillo Caprock, Monahans, Denver City, Levelland, Hereford, Dumas, Canyon, Muleshoe and Floydada.

Col. Dethlefsen reminds listeners

Purpose of Veterans Day unchanged

Col. Merlyn H. Dethlefsen of Dyess AFB, principal speaker at Monday's Veterans Day program at the VA Hospital, reminded his listeners not to forget the purpose of the special day.

"The date has been changed," Dethlefsen said, "but the purpose remains the same — to honor our nation's military veterans."

Dethlefsen said that the first Veterans Day was observed 58 years ago during the presidency of Woodrow Wilson. One of every eight Americans is now a military veteran, according to the speaker, one of two Congressional Medal of Honor winners present for the program staged on the steps of the local medical facility in nearly perfect weather.

Seated among the dignitaries was George O'Brien Jr., a native Big Spring, who also won the nation's highest military honor. O'Brien now resides in Midland.

Dethlefsen urged his listeners not to forget those men and women who have helped preserve the nation's freedom down through the years and emphasized the importance of the country remaining militarily strong.

Without military muscle, the speaker added, it would be possible for Russia to conquer American through intimidation.

Dethlefsen focused attention to the fact that 59 aviators, seven of them Texans, had been awarded the Medal of Honor.

W. T. Evans, VAVS representative for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented Jack Powell, VA Hospital director, with 37 colored television sets on behalf of his organization.

One of the sets will be set up in the hospital lobby. The others will be wall-mounted around the hospital.

Mrs. Betty Ray Coffee served as mistress of ceremonies for the program, offered by Bill Bradley and the Big Spring High School band, elements of which remained for the playing of Taps ending the program.

Legion VA and R Chairman, led the pledge of allegiance. The presentation of colors was offered by the Webb AFB Color Guard. The Rev. Bill Smythe, pastor of the First Christian Church, a part-time VA Hospital chaplain, offered the invocation.

Following the program, refreshments were served in the hospital lobby by members of the VA Voluntary Service Committee and tours were conducted in the hospital's nursing home care unit from 2 until 4 p.m.

Honored guests for the program included Gold Star Mothers and Gold Star Dads.

TWO OF MANY — Big Spring's own George O'Brien Jr., and Col. Merlyn H. Dethlefsen, now stationed at Dyess AFB in Abilene, are two of the nation's Congressional Medal of Honor winners for whom the live oak tree back of them were dedicated. The tree stands on the grounds of the VA Hospital here. Dethlefsen delivered the principal address at Monday's Veterans Day program at the hospital. O'Brien, now a resident of Midland, was an honored guest.

Fisher named publisher

BROWNWOOD — Norman Fisher, managing editor of the Brownwood Bulletin in the past ten years, has been named publisher of the Stephenville Empire Tribune. The change becomes effective Nov. 15.

Both papers are owned by Crago Inc. President of Crago is Craig Woodson. Other papers in the chain are the Waxahachie Daily Light, Alice Echo-News and Miami, Okla., News Record.

Fisher succeeds Darwin Ellis as the Stephenville publisher. Ellis is retiring for health reasons.

Fisher formerly was state editor of the Abilene Reporter-News. He also worked for the Clyde News and the Baird Star.

Label locker rooms 1, 2, 3

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — In these days of sex discrimination suits, Lake Superior State College officials weren't taking any chances with their new $10-million physical education complex.

That's why they labeled the locker rooms "1," "2," and "3" instead of the more traditional "men" or "women."

Officials said after wading through volumes of federal regulations governing sex discrimination and equal opportunities that they were afraid labeling the locker rooms by sex might trigger a lawsuit unless the facilities were identical.

"If anybody gets excited we can rotate the rooms monthly or weekly if necessary," said college President Kenneth J. Shoultice.

HHH up, about

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are able at last to accept a good opportunity to get your practical interests on a solid and secure foundation. Make sure you organize all phases of such interests for they can be more as you wish them to be for a long time to come.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listening to the suggestions of a bigwig can be most helpful to you now in your daily dealings with others. Become more involved in community affairs and add to your prestige.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Getting into new outlets that appeal to you can bring fine results today. Find the right person to give you the information you lack and need.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stop all that wishful thinking and get down to brass tacks with others and get good results. A more practical approach with a loved one is wise also. Avoid a troublemaker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ask questions of a partner and then you know better where you stand and how to proceed in the future. Be sure you keep any promises made so you have a better understanding with others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan your work and then schedule it so that it is easy to perform in the days ahead. Plan time for getting your health improved, also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Iron out the wrinkles out of any creative work you have done and get it perfected. You can then get the right benefits from it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to have serious talks at home and come to right decisions today in order to better the situation there. Make sure you get pressing matters handled also in business world.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get the information you need so that you can operate more efficiently with associates in the future. Make an effort to get your personal life better organized.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Formulate a plan that will guarantee you a greater abundance in the days ahead. Confer with an expert in finances and get good advice where you are in doubt.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can make real progress now toward gaining some personal goal by applying yourself more. Do not neglect credit matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be more practical if you are to gain those personal aims that mean so much to you. Have a more ideal relationship with loved one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You like to work alone but more contacts should be made today if you are to get ahead faster. Get personal affairs better organized also.

Photography winners

Winners in the Howard College Photography Contest sponsored by the Press Club were Richard Hall and Caroline Rekoft.

Hall won first place in the black and white division. Second place winner was George von Hassell, III. Hall also won third place.

First place winner in the color division was Ms. Rekoft.

First place winners in each division will now compete in a regional photography contest.

All photos entered in the contest will be on display through Thursday in the Howard College Library.

Judges for the contest were Bryon Rogers of Keaton Kolor in San Angelo, Greg Kinney of Abilene Christian University in Abilene, and Larry Smith of Keaton Kolor in Abilene.

"I was very pleased with our entries, and I know the judges had a hard time in selecting the winners. I hope everyone will stop by and see the exhibit. The students put a lot of hard work into this," said Ms. Ann Ward, contest director and sponsor of the Press Club.

Map Halloween carnival at HC

The Howard College Student Union Building will be the site of a Halloween carnival Thursday evening beginning at 7 p.m. and running until 10 p.m., according to Gary Stretcher, director of student activities at the college.

The carnival will be open to the public, said Stretcher. The admission price is 50 cents per person.

Thirteen booths are being sponsored by various clubs at the college.

Lucky draw for tax pros

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore area residents who dial 837-1040 expecting to reach the information desk of their local Internal Revenue Service office are in for a surprise. Now they'll be getting H&R Block, the private income tax preparers.

IRS dropped the 1040 exchange, the same as the most commonly used federal tax form — last October, and the private firm immediately applied for it.

A spokesman for Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. said the assignment was just the luck of the draw.

Hydraulic heist caper

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police are investigating a hydraulic heist from the Hillcrest Hotel here, but authorities said so far their investigation has turned up dry.

A $150 waterbed was stolen Sunday from the hotel. Police said the thief probably used a hose and pump to empty the bed's 300 gallons of water into a shower basin.

Downtown Book Stores offers large selection

If you are a book lover, I hope you have already found the Downtown Book Store. It's located at 117½ Runnels. They have over 200,000 books. A lot of them are paperbacks and some of them are used books, but you can find nearly any particular author that you might be hunting.

They also have collector's item books and books autographed by famous authors and famous people.

If you are hunting a particular book, they have a service where they will try to locate that book.

They also have a large selection of different types of magazines including such magazines as Popular Mechanic, some of the old Lives, and many others.

It's really an amazing place if you are a book lover. If you have some paperbacks or other books that you want to discard, take them in for a trade.

In fact, if you're a bookworm, you're going to love this place. Drop down there between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Bill Clatterback will help you find the book you are wanting.

Time to heat up, call Hester-Robertson

It's time to get the heating equipment in order. The early mornings have already been cold. If your heating equipment isn't working properly or if you need additional heating or new equipment, it's time to call Hester and Robertson.

Hester and Robertson are both cooling and heating experts. They can keep you at a comfortable temperature all year round.

They will place heating or cooling units in a large business or a smaller home.

But when you get ready to buy one, don't go off half-cocked with a sale unit that's self-installed. You probably never will have anything that works correctly.

Instead, go to the experts and let them install the proper needs for either heating in the winter or cooling in the summer.

You'll be glad you did. Call Hester and Robertson Mechanical Contractors, Inc., on North Birdwell. Their telephone number is 263-8342.

Artist once college rodeo contestant

H. C. Zachry, in Big Spring this week, grew up on a ranch, was a rodeo contestant and received a college degree in art. It was only natural that he become an artist interested in painting the Southwest.

"I was never really happy with my painting," Zachry says. "until I started of the country—the things I know best." What he paints best had made Zachry one of the most prominent young artists in the Southwest.

His work is included in more than six hundred private and institutional collections. Born in 1940, he was raised near the Red River in the heart of the north Texas ranch country. He attended Texas Tech University.

While at Texas Tech, he competed on the rodeo team (riding bulls, bareback broncs and steer wrestling) and qualified for the College National Finals Rodeo three years in a row.

Zachry has never been completely separated from the rough and tumble existence, and this close proximity to his subject matter gives strength to his works' strongest appeal—authenticity. Zachry presently resides with his wife, Lanita and children Hank and Holly, in Abilene.

Dear Abby

Comes home to find 'other' woman

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to this man for six years, and I don't think he loves me anymore. I came back from a trip one day earlier than I was expected, and I found my husband and this woman together. Not only that, but she was wearing my best nightgown—the one my husband had given me for Mother's Day!

I started a fuss and the police came and broke it up. They took her to the emergency hospital to repair some cuts and bruises I had given her during the fuss. I know I shouldn't have torn into her that way, but I have a very bad temper.

The next day when I was straightening up my house I found all her underwear behind the sofa cushion. What should I do with her underwear?

BANGOR, MAINE

DEAR BANGOR: Give it to GOODWILL. (Maybe the underwear isn't hers!)

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for four months, and my wife and I are having our first disagreement. She insists that it's bad manners to clean up one's plate. She says when we are at someone's home or dining out, I look like I'm half-starved when I finish every morsel of food on my plate. She says I should always leave a little something.

I say it's foolish and wasteful to leave perfectly good food on a plate to be thrown out—especially at today's prices. Also, cleaning my plate is a habit of mine. Ever since I was a wee lad, my mother prodded me to clean my plate.

Please settle this.

CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: Old-fashioned etiquette books suggested that we "leave a little." But new-fashioned common sense tells us to "waste not."

I'm not recommending that the last drop of gravy be sopped up with bread; just don't put any more on your plate than you can eat.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing as one woman who has been in love with a married man to other women in the same boat. I suggest the following message to the man's wife:

Dear Wife: Your husband is going to leave you and marry me just as soon as:

- (a) you recover from your nervous breakdown, eye infection, hysterectomy.
- (b) you complete your vocational training, find a job, retire.
- (c) your kids are grown, out of high school, married and produce the first grandchild.
- (d) his parents are "gone." (He can't divorce his wife as long as his parents are living.)
- (e) The dog has its pups.

ONE OF "THOSE"

DEAR ABBY: The letter from GOING CRAZY really hit home. Please remind people that even if a patient isn't seriously ill, he is in the hospital to get well, not to entertain visitors.

I just came home from a hospital stay and was pleased that I had had the foresight to tell friends and relatives that I didn't think I would want any visitors. My roommate in the hospital appeared to welcome graciously a stream of well-intentioned friends and relatives, but I noticed how relieved she seemed to be after they left because she really didn't feel up to seeing them.

Please ask your readers to check to see if a patient REALLY wants visitors before popping in with a surprise visit. A card may be much more appreciated than a visit or a phone call.

RECOVERING FROM SURGERY

DEAR RECOVERING: Well said. And while we're on the subject, I wonder why everyone thinks a NO VISITORS sign on a door means everyone but THEM?

Dallas Cowboys lead the East

Washington wins mudball

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington 20, Mother Nature 13, St. Louis 10. A two-day rain, pelting at times in the first half, caused 13 fumbles, one shy of a National Football League record, in waterlogged RFK Stadium Monday night when the Redskins scored a 20-10 victory over the Cardinals in a nationally televised game. The Cardinals lost eight of their nine fumbles, in addition to suffering two interceptions, as the Redskins moved into strong contention in the race for the National Conference East title. The Dallas Cowboys, the East leader with a 6-1 record, visit the nation's capital Sunday to meet the Redskins, who now are tied with the Cardinals for second place at 5-2. "This is probably the first time we've played totally together," said Washington Coach George Allen, winner of nine of 10 Monday night games since coming to the Redskins. "We had to play that way to win." The Redskins gained the advantage early in the fourth quarter when Cardinals' running back Terry Metcalf fumbled and the ball was recovered by Washington defensive end Dennis Johnson on the St. Louis seven with 10:38 remaining. On the next play, Mike Thomas, the 1975 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year, ran to his left behind the blocking of tight end Jean Fugett and running back John Riggins for a touchdown, putting the Redskins ahead 13-10. On the ensuing series, the Cardinals were forced to punt. Terry Joyce kicked the ball 35 yards, and Eddie Brown took it on the Washington 29, raced up the middle, then cut to the right sideline, scoring on a 71-yard play. Brown picked up blocks from Doug Winslow and Pete Wysocki, but also highstepped out of the reach of Steve Neils, Jerry Latin and Steve Jones before making it into the end zone. "I was really getting tired," he said. "The last 10 yards were the hardest. My shoes weighed 10 pounds apiece." The Cardinals still had plenty of time left, despite the 10-point deficit. However, quarterback Jim Hart's pass was intercepted by middle linebacker Harold McLinton, ending one series, and Metcalf fumbled for the fourth time in the game at the Redskins one, ending another. "Even after the punt return, we still figured we were in the game," said Hart. "If we score at the end and then force a mistake, we can take the game into overtime." Cardinals Coach Don Coryell said simply: "This time last year we were 5-2. Now, we're 5-2. So we're still not out of it."

OFF AND RUNNING — Washington Redskin Eddie Brown romps on a 71-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night in Washington. In wet pursuit on the rain soaked field are Cardinal players Dwayne Crump (26), and Terry Joyce. The Skins won the NFL game 20-10.

Big 8 sour grapes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Big Eight football coaches say they're tired of beating up on each other week after week while lesser teams with cleaner won-loss records rise above them in the national ratings. But they also agree there's nothing they can do about it. "I look around the country and see other people's schedules, and who they play," said Barry Switzer, whose Oklahoma team lost Saturday to Oklahoma State and tumbled from fifth to 13th place in the Associated Press poll.

"Because of the next four weeks several of us are going to be knocked out," Onofrio said. "Somebody has got to win and somebody has got to lose, and we're going to have some awfully good football teams not rated as high as they should be." "When I look and see teams that are ranked ahead of Big Eight teams," said Bill Mallory of No. 19 Colorado, "I think, 'There's no way.' I just don't think we're given credit for a heck of a league. I'd love to see some of those teams come in and play a Big Eight schedule."

the top challenger. UCLA climbed from the fourth to third spot, followed by Southern California and Maryland. Unbeaten Texas Tech, which received one first place vote, is in sixth place with Georgia moving from 10th to seventh. Ohio State, Nebraska and Missouri round out the top ten. Notre Dame heads the Second Ten, followed by Florida, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma State, Alabama, Mississippi State, Colorado and Cincinnati.

"And it's frustrating to know that every week you play a team that you know you've got to play as hard as you can to even be in the ball game." The Big Eight has produced four national champions since 1970 and landed five teams in this week's Associated Press top 20 — Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Colorado, Nebraska and Missouri, all with 2-1 conference records. "We probably have five teams right now who are as good as any team in the top 10," said Al Onofrio, whose Missouri Tigers whipped Nebraska last Saturday 34-24, rising from 17th to 10th and shoving the previously third-ranked Cornhuskers to ninth. Missouri beat Southern Cal and Ohio State earlier this year, but the Trojans are rated fourth this week and Buckeyes are eighth. "Like Maryland," said Oklahoma State Coach Jim Stanley, whose Cowboys jumped to 16th this week by beating Oklahoma. "Maryland doesn't have a good team on its schedule, and they're rated real high (fifth). They would have a hard time in the Big Eight." Kansas zoomed to the top 10 after winning its first four nonconference games this year, then suffered successive losses to Oklahoma State and Oklahoma and tumbled out of sight. Meanwhile, Michigan retained the top spot in this week's ratings — receiving the first place nod from 53 of the 60 voters. It was the fifth straight week Michigan was first and for the fifth consecutive week Pittsburgh was

Cooper Coogs next

By all logical assumptions, this is the week for the Big Spring Steers to throw a few hob-goblins into the neatly carved Jack O' Lanterns of the Abilene Cooper Cougars. Even though Halloween isn't for two days after the game, the spirit-filled night air of Abilene will be just right for upset-city. The early signs don't look all that encouraging, however. Offensive tackle Pete Cedra is out for the season with a dislocated elbow, the Monday practice session was listless, and not much enthusiasm has surfaced as yet for the contest. However, by game-time Friday the Steers should be ready to start making that climb out of the district cellar.

However, Cooper is by no means a pushover. They won their first two games of the season over Brownwood (14-13) and Wichita Falls Hershey (16-6), two good squads, but have lost five in a row since then. They are bothered by an injury problem, and the difficulties a rebuilding program creates. They graduated a lot of seniors last year.

The Cougars throw up a variation of formations from the offense, but prefer the "I" formation so that they can get the ball to their big bazzard Tim Orr (6'5", 200 pounds). Orr usually lines up as wingback, and in the four district games, he has carried the ball 65 percent of the time.

Cooper doesn't have the team speed that Abilene, Permian or Midland has, but they are a pretty good-size bunch of guys. One of those big men is a very good tight-end, Jim Cook, 200 pound senior, who is also the monster man on defense. Cook is utilized in the tight-end screen a lot.

Another fine athlete is center Trennon Young, another 200 pound senior, who is noted for his blocking ability. The Cougar with the most speed is probably Randy Jones, a 163-pound senior who runs out of the slot-back, and is dangerous on reverses.

There is a lot of variation in the passing routes. In fact, Steer coach Don Robbins is amazed that they can learn that many.

On defense, Cooper runs a 5-2 slant defense with a monster man. They have three secondary men and the monster goes to the strength of the play, similar to the defense Snyder showed the Bovines. It should be a very close ballgame.

RJH-GJH split VB

Runnels and Goliad split their 7th and 8th grade volleyball encounters Monday night. The Goliad 7th "A," led by high-point server Tracy Snell (14), Pam Caudill (11) and Anesa Rogers (9), won their game 15-1, 11-15, 15-5. Linda Magers, Chris Paul, Aleece Sweet and Dawn Estes also played well for Goliad. Christie Clanton won 8 points, Sherry Rich and Tianna Moore played well for Runnels in that contest.

Goliad also won the 7th grade "B" team fracas, 10-15, 15-5, 15-13. Kim Cluck (10), Paula Hughes (8), Lisa Baumgartner (7), Lori Calhoun, Gina Dalvy, Jeri Cox and Joni Aciri gave a good team effort for the Mavericks. Milltia DePute (7 points), Jamie Phillips and Becky Abney performed well for the Runnels squad.

Runnels 8th graders (8-4 season), won both of their contests over Goliad. In the "A" game, won 15-4, 15-12, Hollie Peurifoy (9), Mary Ann Parediz (9), Cynthia Washington, Julia Montanez and Linda Magers played aggressively. Goliad players that stood out in defeat were Teresa Beacham as high-point server, and Carrie Hughes.

In the "B" game won 15-3, 15-11, Melinda Lopez (12), Debra Abreo, Cynthia Rubio, Shelly Wood and Sherry Blalack contributed to the cause.

Women's Bowling

The Big Spring Women's Bowling Association elected their delegate to the National Bowling Association Meeting in Milwaukee, Wisc. April 25-27. Mrs. Ed Booth was named.

Mrs. Jimmy Foresyth, Mrs. Jerry Clark, Mrs. Ed Booth, and Mrs. Thomas Ferguson were selected as delegates to the annual meeting of the Texas Bowling Association in Amarillo May 13.

There are now 700 members in Big Spring who belong to the association. Mrs. Charles Martin is the president of the organization. The City tournament will be held Feb. 19-20 and Feb. 26-27, with entries opening Jan. 9, and closing Feb. 6.

For more information, Call 267-6361 or 267-6898.

QB Club 7:30

Tonight at 7:30 in the High School cafeteria, one of the best Quarterback Club meetings of the season will take place. The game film of the Lee game should be interesting indeed.

The scouting report on the next team the Steers are going to beat (Cooper) should be very interesting itself. Attend the meeting. Show the Steers you support them.

Gra-Y football

Kyle Robbins scored 3 TD's and one conversion, Tommy Gartman had 2 TD's and 3 conversions, and Aubrey Robertson had one touchdown, as the Bears beat the Dolphins 44-6 in Gra-Y football action over the weekend. Danny Mathis made the only score for the Dolphins.

The Bobcats whipped the Cowboys 28-6, as Billy Paul had 2 TD's and one conversion, and Jay Kinkle and Charlie Reagan had one score each.

The Oilers remained the league's only unbeaten team by sneaking by the Steelers 6-0. Mike Hecker had the only score for the Oilers.

The Gra-Y play-off games will begin Oct. 30, and will conclude Nov. 13, just in time for registration for Gra-Y Basketball Saturday, Nov. 20.

Reds dominate All-star team

NEW YORK (AP) — Four members of the World Champion Cincinnati Reds were named today to The Associated Press All-Star baseball team for 1976. Second baseman Joe Morgan headed the Cincinnati contingent with one of the largest voting pluralities in the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters. He received 277 votes with runner-up Dave Cash of Philadelphia getting only 14.

Morgan batted .320 with 27 home runs and 111 runs batted in and is considered a favorite to repeat as the National League's Most Valuable Player.

The other Reds selected were shortstop Dave Concepcion and outfielders George Foster and Ken Griffey.

Concepcion, who batted .281 for the Big Red Machine, had 161 votes to 101 for Philadelphia's Larry Bowa. Foster, the major league leader in runs batted in with 121, who batted .306, led all outfielders with 215 votes. Griffey, the National League's second leading hitter with a .336 average, received 125. Squeezed between the two Reds' outfielders was Mickey Rivers of the New York Yankees, who had 134 votes, following his .312 batting average and 43 stolen bases for the American League champions.

Joining Morgan and Concepcion in the All-Star infield were Minnesota's Rod Carew at first base and George Brett of Kansas City at third.

Carew, who batted .331 and missed a fifth straight batting crown by just two percentage points, won the closest race, receiving 114 votes to 103 for Steve Garvey of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Brett, the American League batting champion with a .333 average, had 179 votes and easily outdistanced Pete Rose of Cincinnati, who finished second with 76.

Catcher Thurman Munson of the New York Yankees was the leading vote-getter with 298 votes to only 22 for Johnny Bench of Cincinnati. The voting for that position was particularly interesting because Munson was involved in a post-World Series controversy with Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson when Anderson said that no catcher could compare with his man, Bench. Munson batted .302.

ALL-STAR TEAM — This is the 1976 Associated Press Major League All-Star Baseball Team.

DALLAS COWBOYS WILL ROGER START?

DALLAS (AP) — If it's up to Roger Staubach, he will be the starting quarterback Sunday for the Dallas Cowboys against Washington, fractured fifth metacarpal or not.

Staubach said Monday his fractured little finger on his right hand would not keep him out of action against the Redskins.

"The finger has nothing to do with throwing the football," said Staubach, who was injured in Sunday's 31-21 victory over Chicago. "I'll play. I've had a dislocated finger before and still played."

Staubach had his little pinky iced down Monday and didn't practice.

If Staubach can't play, Danny White will start against Washington with strong safety Charlie Waters, a former quarterback at Clemson, as the backup.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry was waiting until later in the week to make a decision.

"Roger may be ready, but I would say (He will miss) a couple weeks," said Landry.

The Cowboys issued a statement Monday, saying "Staubach didn't practice and is listed as questionable. It will be late in the week before any decision is made for Sunday's game with the Washington Redskins."

Hogs picked in SWC roundball

HOUSTON (AP) — Eight of the Southwest Conference coaches have put Arkansas coach Eddie Sutton on the spot by picking his Razorbacks as the team to beat in the upcoming SWC basketball race.

All nine of the coaches were in town Monday to drum up interest in the Southwest tournament scheduled March 3-5 at The Summit.

Texas Tech won the inaugural tournament at Southern Methodist's Moody Coliseum last March, beating regular season champion Texas A&M in the finals.

SS benefits cited here
Bennie R. Jones, life underwriter from Abilene, appearing at the local meeting of the C.L.U. group on Thursday, spoke about the importance of the election on their profession. He told the group attending that such things as Social Security benefits, national health insurance and the consumer movement definitely affect their profession. Each member was urged to closely watch and keep up with political trends and to take part in elections. He also encouraged them to speak to student groups and civic clubs and exchange ideas and points of view. "We need to be informed about each candidate and each political platform," Jones emphasized. State Rep. Mike Ezzell was a special guest and distributed a questionnaire concerning coming legislation in Austin. John Bennett, vice president, presided at the luncheon meeting during the business session.

Merit Cigarette Sets New Taste Standard.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

Today there's a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

That's the report on a new taste discovery called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco is remarkable new MERIT.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

In tests involving thousands of smokers of filter cigarettes, the majority reported

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

MERIT delivered more taste than five current leading low tar cigarettes having all the way up to 60% more tar.

Repeat: delivered more taste. In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.
