Race is 'dead heat'

By the Associated Press
Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter wind up their campaigns tonight barely 100 miles apart in the President's home state of Michigan. And if the poll takers are right, the candidates are approaching Election Day in a virtual dead heat.

Too close to call is the forecast coming from most quarters in the hours before Americans go to the polls in the nation's bicentennial presidential election.

One major national poll gave Carter a one point lead. Another gave Ford a one point lead.

But it's the electoral vote rather than the national popular vote that will determine who occupies the White House starting next Jan. 20.

The electoral votes for each state are equal to the state's representation in Congress, the two senators plus the number of House members. And the candidate who carries the state gets all the electoral votes.

It takes 270 electoral votes to win the election and few surveys show either candidate with a firm lead in enough states to make him feel certain of victory.

In his final day of campaigning for the office he now holds through appointment, the Republican President was in Ohio and planned to go on to Michigan for a closing rally in his hometown of Grand Rapids.

His Democratic challenger campaigned in California and then planned to wind up his two-year quest for the presidency with a rally in Flint, Mich., before flying to his Georgia home.

The Michigan stop was inserted in Carter's schedule at the last minute, an indication the candidate believes he still has a chance to carry Ford's home state with its 21 electoral votes.

Of uncertain impact was an incident Sunday at the Plains, Ga., Baptist Church. The church canceled services after a black minister from Albany, Ga., who had applied for membership in the church, attempted to join the worshippers.

Carter, a member of the church's board of deacons and a regular teacher at its Sunday school, learned of the incident while campaigning in Texas and said he believed "anyone who lives in our community who wants to be a member of our church, regardless of race, ought to be admitted." Carter later said he would "seek action" to provide that guarantee to those "who share our religious faith."

The Rev. Bruce Edwards, pastor of the Plains church, said he believed the effort of the Rev. Clennon King to join the church was politically motivated. The Rev. Mr. King had once announced his intention to seek the 1972 Republican presidential nomination and the 1970 Republican gubernatorial nomination in Georgia.

William I. Greener Jr., spokesman for the President Ford Committee, said "Obviously, we were not involved and have no further comment."

Both Ford and Carter have purchased time on each of the three major television networks tonight for final appeals to an electorate which pollsters continue to find closely divided with many undecided voters.

The final Gallup Poll, released Sunday night, gave Ford 47 per cent, Carter 46 per cent, others 3 per cent and 4 per cent undecided. It was the first time since March that Ford had led Carter in a national poll, though the difference is so small that it has no statistical import.

Harris, whose latest poll, showed Carter with a 45-44 lead, said he plans to continue polling through Tuesday. "The vote is so close and so soft, you have to go right down to the wire," he said.

A New York Times-CBS poll, released Sunday, also gave Carter a slight edge but his margin was less than the 2.5 point margin of error. The Harris poll found 7 per cent still undecided; the Times-CBS survey put the figure at 10 per cent.

The paths followed by the candidates during the final days of the campaign reflected their own views of where the undecided voters are.

Both campaigned in New York with 41 electoral votes and California with 45, as well as in Ohio with 25, Texas, 26, Pennsylvania, 27, and Illinois, 26.

More than the White House is at stake in Tuesday's election.

Voters also will choose 33 senators and 435 House members, as well as 14 governors and thousands of state legislators and local officials.

The Republicans are given no chance of overturning Democratic control of the House and Senate. Thus, if Carter wins, the Democrats will be back in control of the two elected branches of the federal government for the first time since Richard M. Nixon captured the White House for the Republicans in 1968.

No one could be certain what factors might be decisive ones in the presidential contest.

The presence of former Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota in the race as an independent candidate appeared likely to drain normally Democratic votes from Carter in some states.

Ford has warned audiences in all parts of the country that Carter would raise taxes for middle income families and would press for bigger and bigger federal budgets.

Carter has said his plans for changes in tax laws are designed only to eliminate provisions that enable the wealthy to avoid payment of taxes on large amounts of income. The Democratic candidate has said he has no intention of asking for a tax increase for middle-income wage earners.

Abortion was an issue early in the campaign when first Carter and then Ford met with Catholic bishops. Both men have said they oppose abortion and the use of federal funds to pay for abortions.

But Ford said he would support a constitutional amendment that would permit states to determine whether abortions should be legal. Carter opposed any constitutional amendment on the abortion question.

The abortion issue might help Ford in some normally Democratic urban areas with large Catholic populations.

But the President's slip in his foreign policy debate with Carter when Ford said "there is no Soviet domination of Eastern Europe" may have lost him votes in the same areas.

Post-television debate surveys by The Associated Press gave Ford a narrow edge in the first debate, Carter an equally slim margin in the second and found the third a virtual tie.

The factor that may have the biggest bearing on the outcome on Tuesday is the number of Americans who vote.

Carter stressed to every audience, the importance of voting. "Every vote counts," he told a rally in San Francisco and went on to note the narrow margins by which John F. Kennedy won in 1960 and Richard Nixon prevailed in 1968.

Conventional political wisdom has it that Republicans are more likely to make a point of voting than Democrats and therefore, small turnouts tends to benefit GOP candidates.

Democrats plan calling, rides

Local Democrats will be busy today and on Election Day, according to Rafor Dunagan, chairman of the Howard County Democratic Party.

Democrats plan to reach 10,000 voters by telephone today and election day, reminding people to vote.

They plan to call everyone who did not vote in the Democratic primary, hoping to reach the vast number of Democratic voters, who probably wouldn't vote otherwise.

In addition to that plan, Democrats and the Spring City Breakers CB club will be offering rides to anyone needing transportation to the polls Tuesday.

Anyone needing a ride should call 267-1686 and make arrangements.

The Democrats feel that their work will not go unrewarded, though, as they are scheduling a return-watch and victory party Tuesday night at the Democratic Headquarters, 4th and Rannels.

Absentees votes now total 1450

County Clerk Margaret Ray reported the number of absentee ballots for Howard County at 1450. There are still 125 mail ballots still out, but the total far exceeds the figures for 1972 when only 1100 ballots were cast absentee.

Curfew imposed after spree

DENVER CITY — An 11 p.m., curfew has been imposed on youths 18 years of age and younger here.

Police Chief A. F. Fowler said the move was taken in an attempt to curb vandalism. He said he counted 34 acts of vandalism the night of Oct. 22. Denver City is a city of 5,000.

The Oct. 22 outbreak of vandalism resulted in several thousands dollars in damages to businesses, schools and homes, mostly in the form of windows being shot out.

The unprecedented acts occurred within a span of 122 minutes. No arrests have been made in connection with the cases.

GOPs are working to get out vote

The Howard County Republicans have called all the people on their primary voting list in a telephone campaign to get out the Republican vote. G. Ben Bancroft, Howard County chairman, said that as many voters as possible will be called before election day.

PLAY VITAL ROLES IN ELECTION — Howard County employe Leroy Statham unloads some of the voting machines which will be used by voters taking part in Tuesday's general election here. County officials are anticipating a big turnout, although only one local race of any consequence will be decided. In theory, the machines will accelerate the counting of voters. Voters will be casting ballots at 20 boxes around the county.

Tower, Reed meeting to take place soon

The meeting on Webb Air Force Base between Sen. John Tower and Secretary of the Air Force Thomas Reed will take place before Nov. 10, Mayor Wade Choate said Friday.

No exact time has yet been worked out, but the senator's office has said the meeting should occur about Nov. 8.

The mayor was meeting with the Legislative Action Committee to make plans for next Thursday's public hearing on Webb.

Choate, chairman of the Legislative Action Committee which is leading the fight to save Webb, said that the Air Force has offered to meet with members of the committee Thursday morning to answer questions which have been asked and present documents which have been requested.

This meeting is being planned for 9 a.m. Thursday at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce office.

The public hearing actually will begin at 1 p.m. in the Big Spring High School auditorium with Cong. Omar Burleson making the first statement to the hearing panel.

The mayor emphasized that as many people as possible are urged to attend. The afternoon session will be devoted to testimony by public officials.

The evening session, at which anyone may testify, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Individuals will be given 10 minutes and representatives of groups can have 30 minutes.

The hearing is scheduled to end by 10:30 p.m. but will resume the following night if more persons wish to give testimony.

All sessions will be open to the public.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SHAH — A five-tiered birthday cake for the Shah of Iran was cut Saturday night by Col. Harry Spannaus (left) wing commander at Webb AFB, and Maj. Mehdi Arbabi (center), Iranian Country liaison officer. Partially hidden behind the tall cake is Mrs. Mary Spannaus. The party, attended by more than 500 persons, marked the Iranian king's 58th birthday. See story on Page 2A.

Vote in these places Tuesday

The only place you have to be Tuesday Nov. 2 is at your polling place.

If you are a registered voter in Howard County there are 22 possible places for you to go, only one of which is correct.

A list of all Howard County Polling places follows. To find out which place you are registered, check your voter registration card. It should, in a box on the upper right, give you a precinct number. Just go to the indicated address anytime between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday Nov. 2 and you'll be able to vote.

According to County Tax Assessor-Collector Zirah Bednar, there are 17,090 registered voters in Howard County. The size of each polling place will vary according to the number of voters registered there. Each polling place has an Election Judge, appointed by the County Commissioners.

If you have any problems finding your polling place, or are just plain confused, call County Clerk Margaret Ray at the Howard County Courthouse.

The County Clerk's office will be open all election day.

Action/reaction: Permit needed

Q. I have noticed boys selling candy and representing themselves as an organization which helps delinquents. What ordinances govern this type of selling?

A. According to the Big Spring police department, a permit is required to sell door-to-door at any private home. The permit defines hours and days permitted for sale. Also, no one may sell from a car parked on a public street. Aside from this, there are no ordinances governing the types of solicitation or sale permitted in the city.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — When a young mother of three called police and asked them to rush to "319 Victoria," they went to Victoria Ave. By the time they got to Victoria Blvd., she had been knifed to death.

Amalia DeLong had neglected to mention that she lived in Kenmore, a suburb.

Buffalo police released Wednesday the transcript of the taped phone conversation.

"Police? Police, please come to 319 Victoria right away!"

"What's wrong?" asked the man at the emergency switchboard.

"There's a burglar.... I saw his face in the back. He was trying to break into the house. Please come right away."

"Okay, right away."

A squad car was dispatched immediately to 319 Victoria Ave. in Buffalo. Officers reached the street in minutes, but reported the number was nonexistent.

Meanwhile, at 319 Victoria Blvd. in Kenmore, Mrs. De-Long was being attacked.

Police said Wednesday that even if Mrs. DeLong, 28, had specified that she lived in the village adjacent to Buffalo, they might not have arrived in time to stop the killer on Monday. But they said they definitely would have had a better chance to catch the killer.

Kenmore police chief Elmer A. Arnet said there have been no significant leads in the slaying.

Briscoe wants school aid boost

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe today recommended a massive increase in state aid to local school districts, tied to a ceiling on local school district taxation.

The approximately 3,000 schoolmen who packed Municipal Auditorium applauded enthusiastically when Briscoe said his recommendations would reduce by an average of 60 per cent the local shares of the Foundation School Program cost.

Briscoe told the educators from school districts around the state that he would ask the legislature to pump $850 million in additional state funds into public education over the two fiscal years that begin Sept. 1, 1977.

"The level of local fund assignment would require approximately nine cents for $100 (of property value) in effective tax effort, compared to the existing 35 per cent rate," the governor said.

At the same time, Briscoe's office of education resources laid out market value figures on property in all school districts, which would be used as the basis for determining each school district's share — or "local fund assignment" — of Foundation School Program cost.

The governor's recommendations, if adopted by the 1977 legislature, would not necessarily mean tax reductions within the districts because most districts fund their schools at levels higher than the foundation program. The foundation program is designed to provide a minimum standard of school funding.

At the end of his prepared text, Briscoe added his recommendation that the school finance package be accompanied by additional legislation placing a ceiling on local school district property taxes.

He commented that the possibility is "remote" that Texas will continue indefinitely to build up big surpluses in the general revenue fund.

The governor said he would not approve a school finance package "unless its ceiling or cap is part of that legislation."

The governor's plan to increase school aid breaks down thusly:

- A $640 million increase in the state's share of the Foundation School Program, raising it from 75 per cent to 90 per cent of the total cost.
- A $50 million increase in state funds for routine maintenance and operating expense, raising the amount per pupil from $95 to $105 per year.
- An additional $25 million in state funds for transportation.
- A total of $15 million to provide larger staffs for small school districts, defined as those with fewer than 1,000 pupils.

—An increase of $10 million to the Texas Education Agency to set up a process to determine how well each school is performing and to help make improvements.

—An increase in the neighborhood of $150 million in "equalization aid" to help poor school districts that have low tax bases.

—A total of $10 million to improve school district tax offices.

Briscoe said he also would seek creation of a state board that would train and certify school district tax assessors/collectors and "promote equity among tax payers."

Briscoe did not include a pay raise for teachers in his recommendations, but his budget officer, Dickie Travis, said he thought money would be available to increase salaries for state employees and teachers.

The size depends on Comptroller Bob Bullock's next estimate, expected Nov. 23, of general revenue income, Travis said.

Briscoe already has recommended more than $800 million in new spending for highways, plus about $50 million for a new state prison.

The 1975 legislature increased state support for public schools by about $650 million, including teacher raises. Base pay for a beginning teacher was jumped from $6,600 to $8,000 a year.

More than 500 attend Shah's birthday party

More than 500 persons celebrated the Shah of Iran's birthday at a giant party Saturday night at Webb Air Force Base.

The celebration, hosted by Iranian Country Liaison Officer Maj. Mehdi Arbabi and the Iranian student pilots at Webb, was in honor of Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, the Shahanshah of Iran.

Highlight of the evening was the cutting of a five-tiered birthday cake by Maj. Arbabi. He was assisted by Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander at Webb, and Mrs. Spannaus, and Maj. Ali Mansouri, assistant senior liaison officer who is stationed at Lackland AFB, and Mrs. Mansouri.

The evening began with Col. Spannaus jumping to his feet to toast the Shah, followed by a toast proposed by Maj. Arbabi for the President of the U.S.

Attending the evening of music and dancing were student pilots and their instructors and wives.

In a short talk about the Shah's birthday, Maj. Mansouri explained why he said the people of Iran love the Shah.

Maj. Mansouri explained how the Shah's 17 principles have made life better in Iran. These principles began with land reform in 1963. At that time, most land was in the hands of a few landlords, and the Shah said that land must be owned by those who were working on it.

Maj. Mansouri said that this was the beginning of the white revolution, so-called because it was a revolution without bloodshed.

Then the Shah gave his

Deaths

Gertie Pinkston

STANTON — Mrs. Gertie Maria Pinkston, 74, died at 9 a.m. Sunday in Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

Services will be at 3 p.m., Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Stanton, with the Rev. David Blancett, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Mount Olive Memorial Park

Two are hurt in Lamesa

LAMESA — Two persons injured in affrays in Lamesa over the weekend filed no charges in connection with the incidents, according to Police Chief Lee Bartlett.

Ray Hunnicutt was treated for a laceration to the ear and a possible broken jaw, and reported to police that his pay check was missing, but did not want to file a complaint.

Candido Rodriguez, suffered a cut to the cheek and lip, apparently done with a blunt instrument but told officers that he did not know who hit him, Chief Bartlett added.

Other arrests over the weekend included three illegal aliens and several drunks.

F.P. Early

Services for Frank P. Early, 71, Big Spring, who died at 7:10 p.m., Saturday in a local nursing home, will be at 2 p.m., Tuesday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Born Dec. 25, 1904, Mr. Early came to Big Spring in 1929. He worked for the T&P Railway until his retirement in 1961.

He was a member of the Airport Baptist Church and Staked Plains Masonic Lodge 598 AF and FM.

Carl Parker

Carl Parker, 61, died 12:40 a.m. today in a local hospital.

Services will be held Tuesday, 3:30 p.m. at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Dallas Nash, interim pastor of Airport Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be at Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Mr. Parker was born Aug. 5, 1915, in Quanah. He attended Big Spring Public Schools and started work at Texas Electric Service Company in 1947 in the distribution department.

He married Mrs. Lillie May Wilson Oct. 31, 1933, in Big Spring. He was a member of the Baptist Church and the Staked Plains Lodge 598, A.F. and A.M. Masonic graveside rites will be observed, and Texas Electric Company employes will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Routh named to new post

AUSTIN — Clinton Kersey, executive director of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, has announced selection of Cope Routh of Odessa as new area coordinator of the El Paso area office. Routh will work closely with alcoholism programs and service providers in a 51-county area.

A Dallas native, Routh has served as executive director of the Odessa Council on Alcoholism for four years. He attended Oklahoma Baptist University for three years before beginning a career as a newspaper reporter. He spent several years as a reporter in New Orleans, in Midland with the Midland Reporter-Telegram, and in Odessa with the Odessa American. In 1960, Routh received the prestigious Headliner's Award from the Austin Press Club for his outstanding reporting.

The Texas Commission on Alcoholism has area offices in six Texas cities: Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Fort Worth, and Houston. Routh will, at least for the present, work out of the Midland-Odessa area, coordinating closely with Commission personnel in El Paso.

Man recovering from surgery

Noel D. Morgan, 1011 Main, is back home after undergoing recent heart surgery in Lubbock.

Morgan was operated on for three by-passes in the open heart surgery. This was two weeks ago and he is back at his home, recuperating there.

Incidents mar observance

Two incidents marred a relatively peaceful Halloween weekend in Big Spring.

On Saturday night D. W. Overman reported an attempted abduction of two little girls trick-or-treating at the 2600 block of Central.

According to reports two male teenagers pulled alongside the girls and demanded they get in the teenager's car.

Hearing this, the girls ran for home. They found refuge at a neighbor's house along the way, and are none the worse for the incident according to reports.

Mrs. Bertha Jolly, 1006 North Gregg, reportedly found a razor blade in a miniature Three Musketeers bar given to her child. The child received the candy bar while trick-or-treating on Saturday night.

Stafford

MESQUITE — Mrs. Robert (Bobbie) Stafford, sister of police chief Stanley Bogard, died in Dallas Sunday following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services will be at the Anderson Funeral Home at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Mesquite. No other details were available.

Police beat Trio nabbed after robbery

Mrs. Viola Airhart, who lives in the building adjacent to the Knott 66 Service Station, awoke Sunday morning to hear men's voices in her residence.

Before she could get out of bed, she told local sheriff's officers that a man put his hand across her mouth and threatened her. They demanded money, and were hurling insults all the time they were in the residence, according to the report.

They left with several rolls of coins, a radio, a flashlight and some jewelry, including her wedding ring. Mrs. Airhart quickly notified the police dispatcher who called both the sheriff's officers and also alerted city police as to a general description of the culprits.

Two city officers, Raymond Hall and Richard Johnson, waited at the edge of Big Spring watching for the arrival of the trio. They were taken into custody at the intersection of NW 4th and Trades.

The two men and one male juvenile, 15, had in their possession items from the residence at Knott when they were apprehended.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that he expected charges to be filed today and he commended the city police for the professional way the dispatcher handled his duties and also the officers who made the arrest.

In other action over the weekend, Yolanda Carrillo, 1002 Main, told police that as she left a dance at the GIF Forum Hall at 1:45 a.m. Sunday, unknown persons in a passing car fired two shots. One .22 bullet struck her in the calf on the leg and she was hospitalized at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

In other weekend action, Glen Johnson of Iraan reported a CB radio stolen from his vehicle while parked at a local address. Jimmy Bledsoe, 4201 Oak reported a .38" revolver, grips and pistol taken from his residence.

The Sands Motel reported that a tenant left without paying his bill. Cecil Littlejohn at the Howard House reported a pocket watch from his railroad days taken from his room.

Johnny Grayson, 1502 Cherokee had a bicycle stolen. A car belonging to Hicks Auto had two wheels and tires stolen. It had been propped up with a two-by-four board over a cinder tile block.

Boydston School was broken into with a record player and two speakers missing. Richard Knoke, 1310 Wood, reported damage to his pickup. A. N. Jackson, 1015 Sycamore, had four windows broken in his vehicle.

Henry Earl Spears was picked up while involved in a contest of speed in the 1500 block of W. 3rd and charged driving while license suspended. Frank Morgan reported that his vehicle was stolen while parked at Moffatt Carpet Saturday night.

M. C. Prevo reported a stereo taken at 505 Lan-caster.

John Darden reported that somebody took a colored television from his room at the Big Spring Nursing Inn. The Lasso Service Station reported that a self-serve motorist left with $1 more gas than he paid for.

Accidents were few and far between, which was a pleasant surprise to officers working on Halloween weekend.

At 11:13 p.m. Saturday night in the 1200 block of Gregg, vehicles driven by Melissa Padgett, Box 94B and Raul Garcia Jr., Knott, collided.

$800,000 vacuumed out of Dallas

By SCOTT CARPENTER

Marfa-Hanks Austin Bureau
"You know, the $1,000 limit was the biggest single problem," Republican U.S. Senate candidate Alan Steelman says while seated on the right-hand side of the blue "Steelman for Senate" van motoring along the Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike. He's turned slightly in his bucket seat so he can talk directly to the reporter who's popped into one of the two bean bag chairs thrown into the back to keep riders from being thrown about. Also in the back are campaign worker Susan Caskey, who wanted to see what it was like on the campaign trail, and her daughter Chris who took the day off from school to travel with the young man almost everyone calls Alan. "The presidential race," the Dallas congressman continues, "Was a big vacuum. It took $800,000 out of here in the last month. The Republican National Committee put $35,000 back into my race."

What would he do differently to get the money? Nothing. "I don't think that Alan Steelman could raise several million dollars for a political race," he says.

He came up just $100,000 short of the $800,000 he figured he would need to unseat Bentsen. The lion's share of that $100,000 would have gone to pay for television advertisements for the last month of the campaign rather than just the last 10 days.

When the campaign began, Steelman was a two-term member of the U.S. House of Representatives. He was known in his home district in Dallas, and he was known by environmentalists. But he wasn't known well in other parts of the state.

Even the polls taken for his Democratic opponent, Lloyd Bentsen, show Steelman's name recognition is up to 74 per cent. But in the early going, when television time had to be purchased since it has to be paid for well in advance, there just weren't that many people who were willing to give him a substantial contribution.

Those that were were limited to $1,000 each by Federal law.

"Sweat and shoeleather," is the way Steelman describes his bid for the Senate. Nearly a year ago Steelman started visiting city after city. He had a "Steelman for Senate" brochure pinned to his chest. He walked door to door, talking about issues and answers to the problems that face Texans. His detractors said it was a publicity stunt. Certainly it was a "Media event" aimed at getting the maximum exposure for the candidate.

But it was also Alan Steelman. He is what Lyndon Johnson folks used to call a "flesh presser." Steelman seems to gain strength from rolling up his sleeves and getting out to shake hands and visit with the citizenry. He was uncomfortable at the Western Electric plant near Mesquite when he was called from shaking hands in the cafeteria to have a private luncheon with corporate executives in a private dining room.

That's the way he won his first race for Congress — by walking door to door and visiting plants and shaking hands in shopping centers. It was an upset victory over Democratic conservative Earl Cabell who had represented the 5th District for eight years.

Steelman remembers that race well. He notes that in the closing two weeks virtually every poll had him trailing Cabell by more than 10 points, but his campaign manager said to take heart. "Cabell had about 46 per cent of the vote, and he (the campaign manager) said that if an incumbent couldn't hit 50 per cent in the last two weeks of the campaign he's in trouble."

Steelman actually took heart in the Harte-Hanks commissioned poll which showed him trailing Bentsen 33 to 49 per cent since Bentsen was below half.

The issue given credit for the upset victory over Cabell was the proposed channelization of the Trinity River — to make it wide enough and deep enough for barges to be able to travel from Dallas to the Gulf of Mexico. His opposition built him an image as an environmentalist, the one he talks most about to liberals.

Steelman agrees that if you take away his environmental stands, there are few matters on which he and liberals agreed.

On college campuses and with liberal groups, he talks proudly of his fight against the Trinity Barge Canal and says that Bentsen wants the canal built. He also talks about having co-authored the Sunshine Law which opened deliberations of many federal agencies to public view.

He also thinks the Equal Rights Amendment is proper and that abortions are between a woman and her doctor and between her and God. He talks about ethics and full disclosure of financial holdings of politicians. And, that's where he hits at Bentsen. Steelman realizes full well that the only way to beat an incumbent is to show that he is not in tune with the feelings of the electorate — that the politician (in this case Bentsen) has betrayed the voters.

He claims Bentsen has violated the public trust by carrying tax break amendments for special interest groups in order to get political contributions. He also charges that Bentsen became more liberal than he promised Texas voters in 1970 when he was running for the presidential nomination.

A former union member and the son of union members, Steelman is a strong supporter of the right-to-work provision of the Taft-Hartley law. He pledges he would filibuster any attempt to remove 14-B from the act should he be elected. He hints that Bentsen wouldn't oppose the matter — Bentsen does — because Bentsen said on a network interview show back when he was a presidential candidate that he would follow his party platform should he get the nomination. Steelman says the Democratic platform is anti-right-to-work, ignoring that if Bentsen had controlled the convention it might be a different platform.

Nation's weather mostly clear, dry

Light snow in northern New England and scattered showers in the Pacific Northwest Sunday marred an otherwise dry fall weather picture around the nation.

Skies were clear over central and southwestern states and along the southern Atlantic coast. They were mostly clear between the Appalachians and Rockies and into California.

Temperatures dropped into the 20s overnight in northeastern Minnesota and Upper Michigan, but held in the 70s in southern Florida.

Early morning temperatures around the nation ranged from 20 at Hibbing, Minn., to 73 at Key West, Fla.

Today's forecast called for rain in New England and the northwestern states of Washington, Idaho and Oregon.

Skies were to be cloudy over much of the upper Missouri Valley and clear to partly cloudy skies over the rest of the nation.

Mild temperatures were expected from the upper Mississippi Valley through the Plains states and into the Pacific coast area. Elsewhere, readings were to be cool to cold.

Morning weather conditions in key cities:

EASTERN U.S.: Atlanta 41 clear, Boston 50 cloudy, Chicago 32 fair, Cincinnati 32 fair, Cleveland 39 fair.

Detroit 27 clear.

Good weather seen for election day

By the Associated Press

Fair skies and crisp temperatures were reported around the state today and forecasts indicated the good weather would remain through Tuesday's general election.

Only a few clouds were reported in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and along the coast to blot an otherwise perfectly clear morning.

Temperature extremes early today ranged from 32 at Marfa in Southwest Texas to 62 at Brownsville in South Texas. Other early morning readings included 36 at Amarillo, 42 at Wichita Falls, 38 at Texarkana, 43 at Houston, 47 at San Antonio, 41 at Lubbock and 50 at Del Rio.

Presidio had the state's high reading Sunday of 79.

Forecasts call for skies to remain clear and daytime temperatures to be mild.

Carter holding slight edge

By the Associated Press

Jimmy Carter holds a slight lead in Texas over Gerald Ford but 22 per cent still are undecided about who they will vote for in Tuesday's presidential election, according to a random telephone sampling by The Associated Press.

Out of 30 persons in several parts of the state, nine, or 30 per cent, said they would vote for Carter; six, or 20 per cent, said they would vote for Ford; and five, or 17 per cent, said they were still undecided. Two said they would not vote at all, one said she would vote for Eugene McCarthy, and seven said their vote preference was their own business.

The Texas Associated Press mini-poll coincides with AP's national poll which shows Carter in the lead for the state's 26 electoral votes.

Among the Carter voters, Ann Hines, an Irving housewife, said her enthusiasm has been slightly dampened since Carter was nominated, but that she would still vote for him. "It (the election) could still go either way," she said.

Greg Aguilar of McAllen said he will vote for Ford because of the president's experience. "Carter sounds a bit hypocritical ... besides, if you have a Democratic Congress and a Democratic president, there will be no way to stop their spending."

Russell Miller of Beaumont said he never votes. "There are three kinds of people in politics," Miller said. "Thieves, liars and egomaniacs."

Undecided couples in Amarillo and Corpus Christi asked that their names not be used, but Mrs. Oscar Neel of Waco said she is undecided, too, as did Mrs. H.M. Hart of Gainesville. "I just don't know," Mrs. Hart said.

Among the Ford voters are

Marshall automobile dealer Murray Conley and Doc Henry, retired, of Gainesville. "I just have no confidence in Carter," Conley said. "I think Ford's the better man," Henry said. Glenda Payne, a supervisor at a Brownwood manufacturing firm, said she wouldn't vote this time, although she normally does. "I don't think either of them is any good," she said.

Dallas nurse Maureen McDonald and an Amarillo couple said they would vote for Ford. "He has had to deal with many and varied difficult situations," Mrs. McDonald said. "I think he deserves a chance to finish them."

Mrs. Carlene Price of Lampasas, a civil service worker, said her vote will go to Carter. "Mostly because I'm a Democrat," she said. "I think we need the Democrats in there for awhile."

The Rev. Arthur Anderson of Lampasas, a Methodist, said he will vote for Carter. "I like his setup," Rev. Anderson said.

Mrs. Buster Lewis of Del Rio, Mrs. David Lee of Waco and Wayne Harrison of Fort Worth said they had no particular reason, but would vote for Carter.

Joe D. Pennell, a machine operator from Brownwood, said Carter is his choice. "I just like him a little better," he said.

Son of judge found dead

LUBBOCK — The son of 119th District Judge Curt F. Steib was found dead here Saturday in his apartment.

The victim was Curt Steib Jr., 29, a senior in law school at Texas Tech University. Investigations said that Steib had been shot once in the left side of the head behind the ear by a .38 caliber revolver. Steib was born in Austin.

The parents reside in San Angelo.

Midland man shot to death

MIDLAND — Paul Fremont Whiting, 32, Midland, was shot to death by a Midland sheriff's deputy and a Department of Public Safety officer here last Saturday.

Authorities had been called to the scene of the Brazil Trucking Company, located two miles south of Midland, about 7:45 p.m., Saturday on complaints a man was firing a gun there.

Deputy Joe Payne responded to the call, as did DPS Sgt. R. W. Howie.

According to a statement made by Payne, Whiting approached Payne's car before the deputy could get out of the vehicle and aimed a gun through a window. When Whiting fired, Payne ducked.

The officer then fired two shots into Whiting's chest, according to the statement. An autopsy conducted Sunday morning showed that Whiting had been shot four times through the heart, lung and liver.

Neither officer was injured in the exchange of gunfire.

President Ford Is Best For Texas!

If you're undecided how to vote, just remember that President Ford is on the right side of the issues important to Texas, while his opponent is on the side of George Meany, Cesar Chavez and the big labor unions. President Ford doesn't doubletalk. He's a man we can trust.

Vote Texan... Vote President Ford

Paid For By The Republican Party Of Howard County, Ben Bancroft, Chairman.

Celebrate the July 4th feeling on November 2nd.

Vote. It's the Bicentennial thing to do.

Remember the name; Tom Lorraine

Tomorrow, don't forget to vote. Please take the time and trouble to be a part of this most important election in our nation's history. Just in case you think your vote won't count for anything, consider the closeness of the presidential race. The polls are saying only that it is "too close to call."

A HANDFUL of votes in one pocket of the country could make the difference for either candidate as a handful did in the 1960 election. Texas, which looks very close now, could be the pivotal state. With Texans apparently so evenly divided, a little place like Big Spring might be decisive.

In addition to the presidential election, Big Spring voters have state and local races of significance to decide.

One state issue is the two state amendments which will pave the way for the Texas Water Quality Board to continue keeping Texans in water. These amendments deserve your support. Another thing the voters of Texas must do is to correct a very serious wrong made in the primaries. In the Democratic Primary, a man named Don Yarbrough was nominated for the State Supreme Court. Voters apparently thought this was the Don Yarbrough who ran for governor, but they were wrong.

This Yarbrough, who upset a man who was quite qualified to be a supreme court judge, turned out to be a Houston attorney who is most unqualified. He is involved in a tangle of lawsuits and is the last person who should be selected to sit on the state's high court.

A write-in campaign is being carried out by another Houston attorney who is qualified. His name is Tom Lorraine, and he came to Big Spring to explain his position to the people a month ago.

IT IS most difficult for a write-in candidate to be elected. In a lesser state race like this one, it is almost impossible. But the supreme court of our state shouldn't have a judge of Yarbrough's caliber. We deserve a better man like Tom Lorraine.

So when you go to the polls tomorrow write in the name of Tom Lorraine. Unfortunately, it is not an easy name to remember, as is that of another write-in candidate, Denton District Judge Sam Houston. But Lorraine is the man who is most qualified, so Lorraine is the name that should be written in.

Take a minute to study the name, you don't have to get it exactly right, just enough for your intent to be clear to the election judge. Here is the name again:

TOM LORANCE

But whatever else you do Tuesday, please remember to go to the polls.

It is important to the community of Big Spring that we have the best turnout possible. We have few enough voters out here in West Texas anyway, even if we all go to the polls.

The clout that our community has with the government is related to the numbers we can turn out at the polls. So cast that ballot.

New breed

William F. Buckley, Jr.

CARACAS — Carlos Andres Perez, the President of Venezuela, is passionate on the subject about which almost every Latin American is passionate: national sovereignty. And of course no discussion of national sovereignty can go forward in any other context than the relation between a Latin American country and the United States. A century ago, the Latin American republics thought about liberation in the context of Spain. Domination by Spain is as remote from the imagination as domination by Uruguay. Whereas the United States is the power whose marines venture even to the shores of Montezuma, the President Perez will wince as he recalls the American "intervention" in the Dominican Republic as lately as in 1965.

Does this mean that President Perez regrets the Monroe Doctrine? NO. THE MONROE Doctrine was okay for back when it prevailed. In those days — in the early hours after liberation from European colonialism — the little republics of Latin America needed a helping hand from the colossus of the North. But now, the Monroe Doctrine is an anachronism. How can it be an anachronism if we have the colonization of Cuba going on before our very eyes?

At the mention of Cuba, public officials of Latin America have considerable difficulty. The grand old man of Venezuelan democracy, Romulo Betancourt, is at once the political godfather of President Perez, and the liveliest enemy of Fidel Castro alive. It was Betancourt who was substantially responsible for the boycott of Castro by the Organization of American States. His hostility has not lessened. But his proteges, while substantially sharing his sentiments about Castro, find it politically unsuitable to ventilate that hostility, which is why they lean now towards the normalization of relations with Castro.

Perez is cagey in discussing the matter. What — he is asked — would Venezuela do if, for instance, Castro proceeded to back a revolution in Jamaica, an international development at least as imminent as the much-discussed Soviet intervention in Yugoslavia. Well, President Perez would not intervene directly under any circumstances, non-intervention being the supreme commandment in foreign policy. On the other hand, any inchoate threat to Venezuela's own sovereignty would be "realistically dealt with." Well, if Castro, financed by the Soviet Union, should begin to extend his empire, for instance into Jamaica, and then hopscotch his way east along the Caribbean, skipping over, say Puerto Rico, and the Dominican Republic, would Venezuela sanction — sanctions?

The President of Venezuela here clutches into the Aesopian mode. We begin to talk in terms of the "neutralization" of offensive powers. Questions about how exactly neutralization is effected are neither welcomed, nor answered.

Carlos Andres Perez is a bright and sophisticated statesman of the new variety.

"HAROLD STASSEN! WHERE ARE YOU NOW THAT WE NEED YOU?"

Vitamin waste known for years

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been taking vitamin C for years, and just recently heard that it was harmful to the kidneys. Could you tell me which vitamins are safe and which are harmful? — Mrs. H. J.

Let me deal with vitamin C first. The body doesn't manufacture vitamin C, so it must be obtained from our food, chiefly the citrus fruits, tomatoes and green vegetables.

NEITHER IS vitamin C stored in the body, so we need a rather steady continual intake of it. The recommended daily intake is between 60 and 100 milligrams. You don't tell me just how much supplement you have been taking daily, and how much above your daily needs it represents.

Excessive doses can be an indirect cause of kidney stones. The vitamin "degrades" (breaks down) to a substance called oxalic acid, and this in turn can cause kidney stones.

Overly large doses also may degrade vitamin B-12, which could lead to anemia.

But if you are taking a modest supplement of C you need not worry, except it is wise to keep the possible effects mentioned above in mind.

As to your second questions, all vitamins are safe when taken in required amounts. These daily amounts are usually listed on containers.

Vitamins A and D in excessive amounts can cause toxic symptoms, chiefly because they are fat soluble. That means that they can become part of the fat and thus be stored in the body. Like C, B vitamins in excess are normally lost in urination.

Vitamins are essential, each in its own specific way, to our health, but many persons go overboard. The thinking is that if a little helps, more will be better. Ideally, vitamin supplement takers should use only what their bodies need. Charts are available that list vitamin values for standard servings of most foods. It would not be difficult for anyone to find out just how much of each vitamin he is getting from food intake. The use of supplements should be based on this.

But from a practical standpoint we know most folks don't do this and continue to overload their systems with vitamins which at best only lighten their pocketbooks and at worst hold potential dangers.

A recent publicized study pointed out that Americans have the "most expensive urine" in the world. This implies that much of the vitamin supplements taken by Americans are wasted as the body gets rid of them via urine. Readers of this column are probably not surprised. I hate to be an I told-you-so guy, but I have been telling readers this for years.

BUT THERE ARE exceptions. SOME people DO need SOME vitamin supplements, chiefly babies and undernourished oldsters.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a problem with phlegm in my throat when I wake up in the morning. It coats my throat and I have a hard time getting it out. I have had this for several months.

I also choke easily, even on orange juice. I am 69 years old and overweight. Can you advise me on this? — A. M.

To begin with, oldsters tend to have a more difficult time swallowing. Better chewing of food and swallowing more slowly can help.

This would not be true, of course, of your difficulty with liquid. I would suspect such factors as obesity. We sometimes forget that when we gain weight we gain it generally — that is, all over, even in the gullet. There it would tend to narrow the passage and cause difficulties in swallowing.

As for your excessive phlegm, this should be investigated. Excessive smoking can be a cause, as could excessive nasal drainage, caused either by sinus infection or an allergy, perhaps to some material in your room. Mouth breathing during sleep can cause the mucus to be drier and thicker.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why do you use some of the modern versions of the Bible? I've heard that some of them were translated by unbelievers and are not reliable. — Mrs. W.M.

DEAR MRS. M: The King James Version, translated in 1611, is still loved and used by millions of English-speaking Christians, and I use it frequently myself both in study and preaching. At the same time, I am also grateful for some of the modern translations and paraphrases that have been published, and often find them helpful in understanding the meaning of the Bible. There are many available, and perhaps your pastor can recommend some that are especially accurate and helpful.

There are two reasons for using some of the modern translations in addition to older translations. First, the meanings of various English words have changed over the centuries. For example, the word "prevent" meant "go before" to people several hundred years ago; today it usually means "to stop or hinder." Thus a modern version helps us to understand a verse like Psalm 88:13, "In the morning shall my prayer come to meet you" (The Amplified Version).

In the King James Version this is a difficult verse to understand ("In the morning shall my prayer prevent thee"). The original Hebrew meaning is brought out by a modern translation.

The other reason for using some modern translations is that Bible scholars have discovered thousands of original Greek and Hebrew manuscripts of the Bible over the last 100 years. These have helped us to understand the Bible better, and modern translations reflect this new knowledge. For example, we now know that the rather strange statement to Mark 16:18 (They shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them) does not occur in the earliest manuscripts and was apparently not part of Jesus' original instructions to His disciples.

Most important, however, is that you use the translations that best help you understand God's Word. God has given us the Bible to read and love and, most of all, to obey.

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

Somehow this weekend I completely forgot to write a rim. So here it is Sunday right in the middle of the Dallas Cowboy game, two days after I should have had it on Tommy Hart's desk.

So before it gets too late, and before Hart can look at me anymore like one of those coffin nails, here is a quickie, drawn from my extensive files.

THIS WILL probably be interrupted from time to time because of good Cowboy plays. (My spotter is in the other room, yelling the play by play to me.)

Being guilty of some bloopers myself in this paper, I thought I would give you a few more actual ones that came from other papers. (Excuse me, Dallas just intercepted a Washington pass.)

Okay, here they are: HEADLINES

"Jury gets drunk Driving case here." — Austin paper
"Man is fatally slain." — Los Cruces paper.

"Prisoners escape from prison farm after execution." — Pennsylvania paper.

"Driver of death car held on suspicion of negligible homicide." — Calif. paper.

"Hotel burns. Two hundred guests escape half glad." — Boston paper.

"Infant morality shows drop here." — Conn. paper.

"Hamm fails to identify yeggs." — Oakland paper.

"Enraged cow injures farmer with ax." — Wichita Falls paper. (Excuse me the Cowboys are cooking again. Be right back.)

"Santa Rosa man denies he committed suicide in south San Francisco." — Calif. paper.

"Onion prospects reported strong." — Wash. paper.

"Nebraska officers best bank bandits." — Texas paper.

"DEAD OFFICER on S.F. force for 18 years." — Calif. paper.

"Scent foul play in death of man found bound and hanged." — Toledo paper.

"Car leaves road, suffers broken nose." — Calif. paper.

"Peace or war deemed near." — Oshkosh paper.

"Wild wife league will meet tonight." — Va. paper.

"Two convicts evade noose; jury hung." — Oakland paper.

Well that's all I have time for. The Cowboy defense is sacking Joe Theisman time after time, I've been informed, and I can't miss the last minutes of a Washington defeat. It's almost as sweet as a University of Texas downfall.

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

This is in regard to your recent report of an interview with Jimmy Carter in which he addressed his proposed reductions to our nation's Defense budget.

Mr. Carter has repeatedly stated that he believes that from $5 to $7 billion can be cut from the defense budget, and that we can still have a military strength in this country that is "second to none." This is a preposterous claim that simply ignores the "hard realities of the ambitious modernization and expansion programs now underway in the Soviet Union's military and naval forces. It is deceiving for Mr. Carter to attempt to persuade the American people he can eliminate $5-$7 billion in what he calls "waste and inefficiency" without seriously limiting the strength of our armed forces.

The specifics cited by Mr. Carter in the interview point to his shallow understanding of what the unavoidable costs of our national defense are. Mr. Carter has simply cited some of the steps already initiated by the Ford Administration in trying to accommodate the substantial cuts already made to the Defense budget by Congress since 1972. Specifically, each of the services have already made considerable improvements in their training programs, though Mr. Carter is in error when he cites a ratio of two students per instructor in the armed forces. The figure he used includes all training staff support personnel, such as typists and record clerks, not just instructors. DOD has already improved its student-staff ratio from 1 to 1.6 in fiscal 1976 to 1 to 2.0 in the current fiscal year. Savings to be gained from future, planned improvements in this ratio are already incorporated in the long-term budget plans of the DOD.

Increased tour lengths and constrained military recreation programs (including golf courses) have already come under DOD scrutiny as means of saving money. But until Congress stops its insistence on cutting manpower levels back, greater stability, and thus savings, in military personnel management will be hampered. Mr. Carter does not mention that there is already a DOD program to make military golf courses self-sufficient.

I was most amused at Mr. Carter's claims that $2 billion can be saved by standardizing U.S. and NATO weapons. There simply can be no sudden savings of this magnitude on a problem as complex as standardization has shown itself to be. Our government has been striving for standardized weapons with our European allies since 1946, and though progress under Secretaries Schlesinger and Rumsfeld has been encouraging, any significant savings to our own defense budget are still years away.

Problems cited by Mr. Carter in the increased costs of new weapons procurement and the repair and maintenance of existing ships and aircraft are not new. But we cannot avoid the fact that modernizing and maintaining our forces is going to cost more — not less — in the years ahead. The seriousness of the challenge we face from the Soviet Union in both strategic and conventional forces is such that there is no way we can afford to cut corners with our already limited procurement and maintenance funds.

In short, it is high time for Mr. Carter to talk straight about defense. I don't believe people in Texas are so naive as to accept his absurd claim that a defense cut of $5-$7 billion won't curtail our military strength. Those of us on the Senate Armed Services Committee who study the Defense budget know that a cut of this magnitude would have major consequences. The realities of the budget would require us to curtail our needed force modernization of strategic weapons, ships, aircraft, and tanks, and, most assuredly, close more United States bases here and around the world. In addition, since sixty percent of our defense dollar is for payroll and personnel support costs, there would inevitably be a major impact on our military personnel strengths and our civilian employment levels, as well as further cut-backs in the fringe benefits extended to active duty and retired personnel. Five to seven billion dollars simply cannot be eliminated without having these and other serious effects.

I can think of no issue more important in this election to the people of Texas and our nation than that of our national defense. These are critical times, which call for much more than rhetoric about squeezing a defense budget that can be squeezed no more. Our nation can ill afford to have a Commander-in-Chief who would lower the priority of our defense needs, and who fails to understand the real costs of maintaining the military strength which we, as a free nation, must never lose.

John Tower
Member, U.S. Senate

Dear Editor:

One positive point about the Presidential campaign is that President Ford under pressure from Gov. Carter has started acting on long overdue items and has started acting Presidential but —

1. Remember it is the Ford Administration that has announced the closing of Webb Air Force Base, and

2. Ford announced he would not be a candidate for President in 1976 when testifying for Senate Confirmation as Agnews Vice Presidential replacement, and

3. Ford announced he and his administration would never start talks toward establishing relations with Viet Nam until the MIAs were accounted for and then just last week Viet Nam announced acceptance of the Ford Administration's proposal to start discussions to re-establish relations with the U.S., and

4. Ford's setting of beef import limits came two weeks ago — not two years ago and are too little too late to be of real benefit to cattlemen and consumers, and

5. Ford balleyshoos a do-nothing Congress and its not passing the Nixon to Ford energy plans yet he was the Republican leading Congressman until two years ago and he has not fought for an energy policy and his agencies continue to block deregulation of gas prices as the FPC does and we continue to increase foreign oil imports daily, and if nothing else Jimmy Carter's election will take Mondale's liberal vote out of the Senate!

I'm voting for Carter for a leader for a change!

'Republican politics' blamed

Carter to seek church action

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Jimmie Carter, whose Baptist Church canceled services rather than admit four blacks, says he will "seek church action" to guarantee that "those who share our religious faith" are allowed to worship there.

The confrontation outside the Plains Baptist Church on Sunday, just two days before the election, prompted allegations that the incident was staged in an attempt to embarrass the Democratic presidential nominee.

But the Rev. Clemmon King, a 60-year-old black minister and political activist who once sought the presidency through the Republican and Afro-American parties, denied that political motives caused him and three other blacks to seek entrance to the church.

The church's pastor, the Rev. Bruce Edwards, blamed the incident on "Republican politics," and he said, "I am sure it is an attempt by enemies of Gov. Carter to sabotage his campaign."

Spokesmen for President Ford denied any involvement in the incident, but they used it as an occasion for criticizing Carter.

Meanwhile, the church deacons, who had decided to enforce a 1965 resolution excluding "Negroes or other civil rights activists," voted Sunday to recommend that the Rev. Mr. Edwards be fired, a published report said today.

The pastor, who said he disagreed with the resolution, had told reporters at a news conference earlier in the day that the phrasing of it banned "niggers and civil rights activists" from joining the church.

The deacons were upset because the quote had been publicized throughout the nation, the Atlanta Constitution reported. The newspaper said the move to fire the pastor would be made at a church prayer meeting Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards was not immediately available for comment on the report.

Carter and his family have expressed opposition to the 1965 resolution, which reads, according to a typewritten copy the deacons gave to reporters:

"The ushers refuse to admit any Negroes or other civil rights agitators to all worship services in this church."

Carter's mother, Lillian Carter, said later in Washington, D.C., that she had invited blacks to worship in the church "and given them a seat on the front row." She said she wished they could become members.

When the Rev. Mr. King — no relation to the late Dr. Martin Luther King — showed up with his companions at the church on Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Edwards told him that "There will be no services today."

The Rev. Mr. Edwards said the board of deacons voted Tuesday night, 24 hours after the Rev. Mr. King applied for membership, to enforce the 1965 resolution. He said they later decided to cancel worship services Sunday to avoid possible trouble.

"I felt that under the extreme tension we would be under, it would be impossible for us to worship," the Rev. Mr. Edwards said.

The Rev. Mr. King who makes his home in Albany, Ga., about 30 miles from Plains, said he would return to the church next week.

He denied his move was politically inspired, saying: "There is no timing at all. God times it. I don't know why God timed it this way."

The deacons' decision was kept secret until during Sunday school. The Rev. Mr. Edwards said that during the deacons' meeting on Tuesday, he had brought to their attention the possible effect their decision could have on voters.

Carter, hearing of the church closing on the campaign trail in Texas, told reporters:

"The only thing I know is that our church for many years has accepted any worshippers who came there, and my own deep belief is that anyone who lives in our

The Beaumont Enterprise-Journal has endorsed Gerald R. Ford for election as President, but some editorial leaders disagree.

The unsigned lead editorial in the newspaper Sunday recommended President Ford as its choice for Tuesday, but on the same page the paper's executive editor and editorial page editor wrote a letter disagreeing with the endorsement.

Meanwhile, in San Antonio the two daily newspaper organizations took differing editorial stands.

"We frankly do not know what Jimmy Carter would do in the White House. What he has said has been so contradictory and vague, we don't think anyone can predict what a Carter presidency would mean to the country," the lead Enterprise-Journal editorial said.

It added: "Because we believe the nation would be better off with a known quantity instead of an unknown one, the Enterprise-Journal recommends Gerald R. Ford for election to the presidency Tuesday."

But in a letter on the same page, executive editor Darrell Mack and editorial page editor Kim McMurray said, "We disagree with the Enterprise-Journal's endorsement of President Ford, which appears elsewhere on this page."

"We do not feel that we can oppose many of the President's policies throughout the last two years, as we have done, and then ask our readers to vote for him Tuesday."

Then the letter added, "But we also do not feel that we could ask you to vote for Jimmy Carter. Therefore it is our position that we should not endorse a candidate for President."

The San Antonio Sunday Express-News, a combination of the Morning Express and afternoon News, endorsed Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter. The newspaper said Carter "has demonstrated effective executive ability and — importantly — initiative that is essential to leadership."

The Express-News said the Ford administration "has failed to cope with inflation, high unemployment, sluggish

Use This Method To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, TEXAS — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... grow more hair.

Have you faced the fact that you have a hair loss problem? Hair loss occurs so gradually that men and women often ignore it. Until it's too late. Even though you see yourself in a mirror every day, many of you won't admit to abnormal hair fall.

If you think, honestly, that you might be in this category, look at a picture taken a year ago — three years ago. Notice a difference? If so, now's the time to stop your hair loss. You could be going bald.

If it appears that you are already losing hair, whatever your daily hair routine is, if you continue to follow it, your hair will probably gradually thin away to nothing.

But it doesn't have to happen. Often hair fall is NOT normal. Now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that not only stops hair loss, but actually grows hair! And you don't even have to take their word for it. You can try their treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself. Naturally they wouldn't offer this opportunity unless it worked. But it's impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness seems to "run in the family," it is certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

If you have thinning hair, the Loesch treatment may be the answer for you. If you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair, do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days — at their risk — if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send loss, but actually grows hair! them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially by mail.

community and who wants to be a member of our church, regardless of race, ought to be admitted. And I know that the pastor agrees with me."

Later, while en route to San Francisco, Carter said in a formal statement:

"For several years, the Plains Baptist Church has admitted worshippers without discrimination. I will seek church action to continue worship opportunities and also offer membership to those who live in our community and who share our religious faith."

William I. Greener Jr., chief spokesman of the President Ford Committee, said in Washington, D.C., "Obviously we were not involved and have no further comment."

Peter Teiey, deputy press spokesman for the Ford committee, said, "If nothing else, it shows up some of the inconsistencies about Carter's beliefs on civil rights and religion."

In Atlanta, Rep. Andrew Young, Georgia's only black congressman and a Carter supporter, said the incident might actually win Carter votes among black Americans.

"If it was an attempt to siphon votes away from Carter, it's almost certain to backfire," Young said.

The Rev. Mr. King, pastor of the nondenominational Divine Mission in Albany, movement a "back to Africa" movement for skilled blacks in the late 1950s. He sought the presidency in 1960 on the Afro-American party ticket and in 1962 sought political asylum in Jamaica because of what he termed "insidious persecution" in the United States. Jamaican officials rejected him.

In 1971, he announced in Concord, N.H., that he would enter that state's Republican presidential primary. Records show he never did.

In 1970, when Carter sought the Democratic nomination for governor in Georgia, the Rev. Mr. King ran for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as a write-in candidate.

This year, he was defeated simultaneously in the August primaries for the Georgia legislature, Dougherty County Commission and Albany City Commission.

He was arrested in 1966 and spent four years in California prisons for failure to pay child support for his six children. The state Supreme Court later overturned the law under which he was jailed.

The Atlanta Constitution said in today's editions that the Rev. Mr. King had spent two weeks in the Mississippi State Mental Hospital in 1958 after trying to gain admission to the then-segregated University of Mississippi at Oxford.

El Campo, died late Friday when he was struck by a pickup truck on Texas 71 at El Campo.

Billy Wayne Jones, 25, of Greenville, Miss., died late Friday when his car ran off a bridge into Spring Creek near Victoria.

Billy Dean Spears, 22, of Grangerland, died Saturday of a gunshot wound he suffered Friday night.

Two Killeen residents died Friday when the automobile in which they were riding struck a tank truck on a Dallas freeway. They were retired Army Maj. Joseph Franklin Bohn, 60, and his wife, Dorothy, 56.

An unidentified woman was shot to death in a grocery store at Abilene. Officers said a man came to the store, asked the woman to go on a date with him and shot her several times when she refused.

Luka Vukovic, 33, died Sunday following a shooting incident at his El Paso apartment. A woman was taken into custody.

Violent death tally boosted by car crash

By the Associated Press

A two-car accident in Central Texas claimed four lives Sunday as The Associated Press count of weekend violent deaths reached 13, with nine in traffic. Three persons died in shootings and one drowned.

The tally began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Dead in a crash on Texas 317 near McGregor were Glenn Edward Lockett, 21, and Clarence Johnson, 21, both of Temple; and Dwayne Edward Robinson, 18, and Nathaniel Quinn Kelly, 18, both of McGregor. Officers said the impact of the crash was so great it could not be determined who was driving either car.

Here is how some others died:

Two persons died early Sunday in the collision of two pickup trucks on Texas 21 near Chireno in East Texas. They were identified as Wiley White, 65, of Chireno, and Robert Sullivan, 20, of Broadus.

Something missing on election eve?

PEANUTS ANYONE? — Students from Carleton University's School of Architecture pulled-off another of their annual pranks when they erected a giant, papier-mache peanut in front of the US embassy in Ottawa, early today. Past pranks by the students have included such bizarre escapades as placing a giant chicken on top of the National Arts Centre and "borrowing" a statue from Montreal's Man and His World. The statue was placed in front of a men's clothing store for big men.

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the eve of a unique and perplexing presidential election, something is missing. Instead of fervor, there is an air of frustration. At the hour of decision, there is indecision.

At the fringes of the campaign crowds, in suburban living rooms, after the PTA meeting, conversation again and again brings a request for simple, compelling reasons to cast a ballot on Tuesday for President Ford or for Jimmy Carter.

But after this long campaign, the question answers itself by the fact that it is so often asked. For it has been a campaign with few hurrahs and no overriding issues. Neither Ford nor Carter has found the theme or the argument to put his imprint on the wavering, undecided voters who hold the key to Tuesday's outcome.

This has not been a good year for slogans, for either candidate or—perhaps more important—against him.

The choice was made far in advance by voters who would not have bought a used car from Richard M. Nixon long before Watergate, or feared Barry Goldwater's finger on the nuclear button, or saw George McGovern as the candidate of amnesty, acid and abortion.

That kind of built-in opposition did not always determine the outcome, but it did draw clear lines of opinion.

Neither President nor challenger has ever before run in a national election. And while Ford is a familiar figure after 27 months as president, he is in a new role now.

Neither man carries the baggage of past elections, the foes of past campaigns. Neither can successfully depict the other as extreme, or - dangerous, or unacceptable to a significant bloc of the electorate. There is less to be against than in elections of the recent past—but neither candidate has been able to convince decisive numbers of voters that he offers them something to be for.

The public opinion analysts detect an unusually high, and persistent, level of indecision among the voters. They find also that there is a lack of intensity in the support for both candidates.

And by every indicator, the contest is close, this election to restore the seal of voter approval to a White House run since Aug. 9, 1974, without benefit of ballot.

Both Ford and Carter have been criticized—and have assailed each other—for the conduct of the campaign, with its diversions into trivia and name-calling. Both have acknowledged mistakes. Both have said the disillusion born of a divisive war and of wrongdoing in high office may have turned off the voters. But there is no evidence that they have been able to turn the electorate back on.

With Ford, the question is competence, and Carter has done his utmost to feed what one Republican leader acknowledged is a nagging doubt that the President is up to the job he holds.

Ford did little to allay such doubts with the tactical missteps that dogged his campaign against Reagan, with his misstatement that there is no Soviet domination of eastern Europe, or with his handling of campaign and official personnel problems.

But his record is there for all to see, 27 months in the White House, with economic, foreign and military policies he says have been, and remain, the right ones. No mystery there; with Ford it is all on the record and on the table, the personality as well as the policy.

He says he would be proud indeed to have the American people say on Tuesday "Jerry, you've done a good job. Keep right on doing it."

Nonetheless, judgments about the characteristics of men are difficult judgments, more difficult this time because neither candidate has been this campaign route before.

The campaign has broken little ground on issues that affect the average American. Arguments about the U.S. response to a hypothetical Soviet move against Yugoslavia are about as relevant to the concerns of 1976 as Quomoy and Matsu were to the voters of 1960.

Mistakes and misstatements have been magnified into major campaign topics. For a time, there was more talk about Playboy than platforms.

In the end, as public opinion analyst Peter Hart puts it, the election may turn on the judgment of the voters about Ford's competence and about Carter's character.

Eskimos, stranded for weeks, return

GJOA HAVEN, Canada (AP) — An Eskimo hunting party stranded for weeks in an icebound boat in the Canadian Arctic returned home to this Northwest Territories village to find a Halloween party in progress.

"They just came in and we welcomed them," George Porter, settlement manager at Gjoa Haven, said Sunday.

"They were pretty tired," Porter said reaction to the snowmobile rescue operation was low-key in this village of 400 on Queen Maud Gulf, 1,200 miles north of Winnipeg.

There were 15 Eskimos in the party that left in mid-September for a two-week trip. Eight were children, two of them under 2 years old.

"They're in good shape," Porter said. "These people are old-timers. They're used to things like this. It's all the same to them whether they're in Gjoa Haven or out on the land."

Cpl. Scott Wentzell of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police coordinated the rescue effort. "There are no ill effects, no injuries," he said. "Apparently the children did very well."

Wentzell said gas supplies, necessary for cooking and warmth, ran out Friday, the day the rescue party arrived. Temperatures had dipped to 20 below zero as rescuers crossed the 120 miles separating Gjoa Haven from the spot the hunters' 40-foot motorized boat became ice-bound.

Wentzell said winds also caused problems, delaying the rescue party's return by a day.

Milk, sugar and other supplies were air-dropped to the stranded Eskimos last Tuesday after three of the hunters trudged 40 miles to summon help.

Parents are advised

'Safety proof' children

It's that time of year again when parents should attempt to "safety proof" their youngsters — many of whom are entering school for the first time.

Whether walking, riding in a bus or car, or bicycling to school, plans should be made to ensure the safety of every child, reminds the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Darting across streets without looking, crossing at mid-block from between parked cars, and doing bicycle tricks in traffic are just a few of the pitfalls to be avoided, advises the Health Resources Department.

Parents can caution their children about all careless practices, and they also can show them. If your child is starting to school — or going to a new school — it's a good idea to make the trip at least once with the child.

If he will be pedaling to and from school every day — often in inclement weather — you'll want to be doubly sure that your child is observing safety rules. If you're a motorist in the vicinity of schools, be especially wary, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

What are the trouble spots for bicyclists and motorists? Collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles occur as follows: Well over half at intersections. Seven out of ten during daylight hours. Most bicycle riders killed or injured in traffic accidents, were violating a traffic law at the time of the accident.

Half of the motor vehicle-bicycle accidents involved a violation on the part of the motor vehicle operator.

One out of five bicycles involved in accidents had some mechanical defect.

Some of the most common traffic violations of cyclists are (not in order of frequency):

Failure to yield right-of-way. (In most cases, the cyclists did not "see" the car; in some cases he intentionally infringed on the motorists's right-of-way).

Riding in the center of the street.

Speed too fast for conditions of traffic and road surface.

Disregard of traffic control devices — signal lights and stop signs.

Improper turning. To avoid such situations as just described, here are some safety rules for bicyclists:

A skillful bicycle rider always has his bike under control. He never drives too fast and he never rides too far. He always has both hands free to steer.

The cyclist must develop skill in balancing and pedaling to avoid swerving into traffic, hitting a fixed object, running off the sidewalk or highway. Parents have the responsibility to be certain their child has the skill to cope with traffic before permitting him to ride on the street.

Every bicycle driver should be familiar with the laws governing bicycling in his community, or the one in which he is riding. These rules are usually available through the school or local police.

Cyclists must ride on the right side of the street with the flow of traffic: not on the left, facing traffic.

Hand signals should be used by the cyclists, and are now commonly accepted as a safe riding practice.

Cyclist should avoid crowding between cars at stop signs, or between an automobile and the curb.

Carrying more passengers than a bicycle is designed and equipped for is dangerous and illegal. Two on a bike also increases stopping distances. The polo or "banana" seat, standard equipment on the hi-rise bike, appears designed to carry two. Such is not the case!

Never hold onto a moving vehicle nor in any way attach the bike to the vehicle.

Always ride single file. Trick riding is always dangerous. Drivers of hi-risers are especially cautioned against making the bike rear up and riding on back wheels only, or jumping the bike over obstacles.

MP Corp., achieves record

ST. LOUIS — Mr. D. B. Jenks, chairman of the Board of Missouri Pacific Corp. has announced that the corporation has achieved record financial results for the third quarter and for the first nine months of 1976.

Consolidated net income for the three months ended Sept. 30, 1976 was $21,630,000. Earnings per share were $1.66 primary and $1.52 fully diluted. This represents an 83.6 per cent increase over the third quarter 1975 earnings of $11,782,000, or $1.27 per share primary and $1.13 diluted. Consolidated revenues for the third quarter were $314,277,000 compared to $263,409,000 in 1975.

Consolidated results for the first nine months of 1976 were as follows: net income, $50,267,000; earnings per share, $4.53 primary and $4.05 fully diluted; revenues, $933,653,000. The comparable 1975 figures were: net income, $31,221,000; earnings per share, $3.36 primary and $3.11 fully diluted; revenues, $806,193,000.

The regular quarterly dividend was paid in September at the increased rate of $4.00 per share on the corporation's common stock. This was the second dividend increase in 1976.

First nine month net income of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, a 92 per cent owned subsidiary, was $45,043,000, compared to $25,043,000 earned in the same period of 1975. Operating revenues were $753,911,000 against $643,444,000 for the first nine months of 1975.

Military

Webb delegation will attend Randolph rites

Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, commander, Air Training Command (ATC), will be honored Nov. 12 at Randolph AFB, Texas, by command noncommissioned officers (NCOs) for his accomplishments on behalf of the Air Force community and the NCO corps.

Roberts will be inducted into the ATC Order of the Sword, the highest award that NCOs of the command can bestow. The Order was formed as a means of "recognizing individuals, both military and civilian, for conspicuous and significant contributions to the welfare and prestige of the NCO corps and military establishment."

Thirteen Webb AFB NCOs, along with Col. Harry A. Spannaus, wing commander, plan to attend the ceremony. There were only a limited number of tickets available for each wing and center.

The NCOs are: CMSgt. Leo Kane, SMSgt. Samuel Earl, Jesus Canedo, James Harmon, James Cooper and Leonard Gagne; MSgts.

John Leach, Isroe Cooper, Virgil Yockum, Charles Kizer and Michael True; and TSgts Wallace Pendleton and Harvey Schirmer.

The nomination letter described Roberts as a creative and decisive leader whose accomplishments have had a great effect on Air Force personnel. "Roberts had demonstrated a keen sense of the Air Force's responsibilities to its individual members and to the society at large; he has substantially improved the opportunities for minorities and women in the Air Force mission and has provided the catalyst for NCO professional development."

Roberts will be the sixth person honored by the command NCOs through the Order of the Sword. U.S. Representatives F. Edward Hebert, D-La., former chairman of the House Armed Services Committee; Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page (USAF-Ret.), former Sheppard AFB, Tex., Technical Training Center commander; the late Gen.

George B. Simler, former ATC commander; Maj. Gen. Frank M. Madsen (USAF-Ret.), former ATC vice commander and deputy chief of staff for Technical Training; Maj. Gen. Frank W. Elliott Jr. (USAF-Ret.), former commander, Technical Training Center, Chanute AFB, Ill, were previously honored.

The ATC Order of the Sword, established in 1971, is similar to an honor dating back to the age of chivalry in Europe in the Middle Ages. The military order of the sword was established in 1522 by Gutavus Vasa of Sweden in recognition of military service.

Roberts will receive a set of swords mounted with an ATC shield, inscribed with his name, title and date of induction. A brass plate will be put on the six-foot master sword which is displayed in ATC headquarters. Roberts will also be presented a scroll signed by NCO's attending the presentation ceremony.

How much change does our American Economic System need: A lot? A little? None?

You may be reassured—or troubled—by how a number of your fellow citizens answered this question recently.

A recent study shows that an overwhelming majority of Americans have a basic faith in our economic system. Only a relatively small number favor major structural changes. Yet almost all — 92% — feel some modifications are needed.

In the months and years ahead, we're all going to be called upon to make great decisions as our American Economic System adjusts to new conditions everywhere, both home and around the world.

Obviously, the more we all know about our system and how it works, the better we can decide what to preserve, what to change.

To help give you a clearer picture of our system, a special booklet has been prepared. It's easy to read, informative and free. Mail the coupon for your copy.

Every American ought to know what it says.

The American Economic System.

It's one of your basic freedoms.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC SYSTEM CAMPAIGN NEWSPAPER AD NO. AES-76-631 [6 9/32" WIDE]

Did you know? • With 6% of the population, America uses 31% of the world's energy production. • The US economy created 26 million new jobs between 1950-1975. • In 1975, the US imported about $96 billion of goods, exported over $107 billion.

WILL HALLOWEEN BE NOV. 2 THIS YEAR?

Will The Socialistic Witch Brew Us Four Years of More Poisonous Brew? Will The Ingredients Be:

- (1) A double portion of Government spending?
- (2) A good amount of higher income tax and social security taxes?
- (3) A lot more Government imposition in our lives?
- (4) More deficit spending and a return to double-digit inflation?
- (5) An ultra-liberal Congress without a President to veto their poisonous spending?
- (6) A blend of 90 proof socialism?

Briton urges coalition

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Wednesday night called for a government of national unity drawn from all parties to head off dangers of a British economic collapse or a Communist revolution.

The 82-year-old Macmillan, who led Britain from 1957 to 1963, told an interviewer in a British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) television program that neither the ruling Laborites nor the opposition Conservatives could on their own, solve the nation's economic and political woes.

"What is the alternative to a government of national unity?" The former Conservative premier asked. "Either we go down or, of course, we have a Communist revolution. Those are the alternatives."

Macmillan, breaking a 12-year political silence, said he advocates a government of national unity drawn from all parties "with the goodwill of the people and with the support of moderate trade union leaders, managers and investors."

As Macmillan saw it, "the real distinction in Britain is not between Liberals, Conservatives and Labor, but between people who want to make a mixed economy run properly and those who want to destroy the system."

He added: "If you are a Communist, or even want a pure Socialist state which I suppose what communism is supposed to be, of course you want to destroy it."

The ex-prime minister declined to say who, in his view, should lead the sort of national government he advocates because he felt to name such a person would be a jeopardize his chances.

Taxes in Sweden eating them alive

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ingmar Bergman fled Sweden in a rage over what he called income tax persecution. Gunilla Jansson, who is neither rich nor a famed movie director like Bergman, stayed behind, her anger just as real, but with her life recast by the tax man.

Bergman chose to move to Munich, West Germany, and soon will begin a film called "The Serpent's Egg," a story whose vague theme is money.

With Bergman's mobility, Mrs. Jansson says she closed her private practice as a physical therapist because of taxes, and went to work for the Swedish state, a painful compromise with her ambitions.

This means: one businessman earning $36,000 a year retains $13,240. A factory worker whose yearly salary is $10,000 takes home $6,200. A very successful executive who makes about $340,000 gets to keep $67,000.

The tax board's control division has had the power since the beginning of the year to enter any business office and remove tax records without a court order. With a subpoena, it may enter homes. Almost every one of five million tax returns is individually checked.

In return for high taxes and strict enforcement, Sweden's welfare state provides free education, a medical care program under which the maximum price for a visit to a clinic is $3.40 and generous sick and retirement pay. Someone making $11,000 a year gets 90 per cent of that if he's sick and $8,700 a year at retirement.

BERGMAN SAYS he suffered a nervous breakdown after his arrest and interrogation this spring on tax evasion charges. A criminal charge against him was dismissed, but another administrative investigation is going forward. Bergman left Sweden saying he had no intention of living in a place with a "bureaucracy that grows like a galloping cancer."

"I felt humiliated," he told a newsman in his first interview since his flight. "I couldn't just sit here like a sacrificial lamb. That's not my role in life. So I got up and left. It wasn't a politically motivated action or revenge. I haven't regretted a minute of it."

But Mrs. Jansson — her real name is not used because she is now a government employee — has regretted the loss of her practice. And she insists she is a much more typical victim of the system than Bergman.

In setting up her private practice, Mrs. Jansson said she had to pay her own social security, health insurance and an employer's tax even though she had no employees. She said she made $14,000 a year and was paying 60 or 70 per cent of it in taxes.

"I NEVER HAD more than $200 in hand to live on, and I was in the best bracket, because I was living alone with my daughter. My entire time was spent filling out forms, writing letters and seeing people about what I owed the state."

Now, working for the state, she makes $977 a month and takes home about $600. She gets an hour for lunch, takes two coffee breaks and quits 45 minutes early "because everybody who comes to the clinic comes when they can use it as an excuse to get out of work and never at the end of the day. So I'm part of the system. But I'm not proud."

The most famous case here of a self-employed person losing out to the tax authorities is that of Astrid Lindgren, a children's book author, who this year was taxed 102 per cent of her income. The government said it happened because of a freakish aspect of the tax law, since revised.

But Mrs. Lindgren has become impatient about the subject. "The finance minister has said," she wrote, "that tax cases like my own only concern a small, insignificant group of high income earners. He knows that is not true. I can give him examples, such as the tax bill of a barber who was billed $4,300 in taxes on taxable income of $6,750."

"SMALL NEIGHBORHOOD stores and small businesses operated individually are treated like fleas in the fur of the Social Democratic society," she added.

Yet, there never has been anything like a tax rebellion in Sweden and the issue is not one of the key issues in the national election Sept. 19. The Social Democratic party of Prime Minister Olof Palme could lose ground because of irritation concerning taxes, but none of the more moderate opposition parties has proposed any major program of relief.

"Everybody agreed to a government spending program and everybody realizes a reduction in social services would come from a major change," Bjorklund said of the National Tax Board. "When you have $1 billion to $2 billion slipping away through tax fraud a year, everybody realizes that we'll be paying even more if there isn't serious investigation of tax returns."

In Denmark, where the tax structure also is stringent, an anti-tax party is now the second strongest political force in the country, after the Social Democrats. But there is no equivalent in Sweden.

Similar conditions are developing in our Government. The National Democratic Platform supports this trend.

WE DO NOT BELIEVE TYPICAL TEXAS DEMOCRATS WANT THESE THINGS FOR TEXAS AND OUR NATION.

CARTER will accelerate the above move to socialism.

PRESIDENT FORD has proven by his prudent use of the veto power that he has the courage to Hold the Line on this trend. We need to support him in this effort and work toward the election of legislators from both parties who represent Texans in regard to free enterprise and individual liberty.

WE SALUTE OMAR BURLISON, DEMOCRAT, for his fine representation of this Congressional District.

WE SUPPORT, NOV. 2, ALAN STEELMAN, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE for U.S. SENATE.

VOTE for PRESIDENT FORD and ROBERT DOLE if You Believe in the Preservation of Free Enterprise, Reducing Socialistic Trends and Inflation.

Abby's rules for rearing kids

DEAR ABBY: I know the libraries are full of books on the subjects, but you seem able to put so much into a few words. What makes some kids good and some bad? In other words, is there a formula for raising good kids? Is it heredity or environment?

TRYING HARD

DEAR TRYING: That battle has been going on for a long time, but I'm inclined to be on the side of environment. All kids need discipline. ("Discipline" does not mean punishment; it means "teaching.") Kids need to know how far they can go. And they don't really want everything they ask for.

Reward them when they're good, and deprive them of something they enjoy when they misbehave. I don't believe in hitting a child. A little slap on the foot (just enough to hurt his dignity) is all right. However, hitting a child hard enough to hurt him physically may rid you of YOUR hostilities, but it will only teach the child that violence is the answer to all conflicts.

Don't ever tell a child he's "bad." If he misbehaves, tell him you do not like what he DID; don't tell him you don't like HIM.

Give a child lots of love, and when he comes to you with a confession, don't be too hard on him.

DEAR ABBY: Another guy and I have shared an apartment for three years. (I'll call him Bob.) We're both adults and don't depend on our parents for financial aid, but Bob is still afraid of his mother. Or maybe I should say he's afraid of hurting her feelings, so he lies to her.

She's very religious, and so was Bob until he left home, but he hardly ever goes to church anymore.

What should I say when Bob's mother calls here on Sunday morning and asks me if her son is home from church yet?

Sometimes he doesn't even come home to sleep on Saturday night, but I can't tell his mother that.

I wish Bob would tell his mother the truth and get it over with, but he can't seem to do it. In the meantime I have to lie for him. So what's the solution?

HATES TO LIE

DEAR HATES: You don't HAVE to lie. You're not obligated to give Bob's mother any information. When she phones, tell her her son is out and you'll ask him to return her call when he returns.

DEAR ABBY: I am not a vain man, but I'm only 29 and I'm rapidly losing my hair. I suppose I could consider a hairpiece, but I'd rather keep what hair I have if it's at all possible.

I've heard that taking female hormones can prevent baldness in men. It makes sense to me because you never see any bald women.

Have you ever heard of men taking female hormones to prevent baldness? Can it be dangerous? If it's okay, will I need a prescription to get it?

GOING BALD

DEAR GOING: Baldness is hereditary. And my consultants tell me that if men start monkeying around with female hormones, they'll have to start making brassieres in men's sizes. And yes, you DO need a prescription for it, so the word from here is to forget it.

Miss Smith honored

A bridal shower honoring Pam Smith, bride-elect of Jeff Bartlett, was held Tuesday evening at the Big Spring Country Club.

The serving table was draped with a white bridal cloth. Appointments of silver and crystal were used. A candelabra accented with daisies and greenery centered the serving table. The bride's chosen color of yellow was used to complete the table decorations.

Corsages of yellow and white daisies were presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Sid Smith, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. L. K. Bartlett.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Martha Cohorn, Mrs. Sue Von Rosenberg, Mrs. Tonia Spivey, Mrs. Cheryl Reed, Mrs. Gale Patton, Ms. Lisa Gautreaux, Miss Nancy Conway, Mrs. Connye Ward, Mrs. Roy Brooks, and Mrs. Stanley Ballou. The couple will be married at 6 p.m. Nov. 27 in the First Christian Church of Big Spring.

Sewing club meets

The Sew and Chatter Club met in the home of Mrs. Ruby-Billings, 1603 Rannels, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. V. Crocker, president, presided during the business session. She reported that the quilt for the Christmas basket is finished for a needy family.

Mrs. F. C. Appleton and Mrs. M. A. Cook presented a demonstration on china painting. Mrs. Appleton explained materials needed to begin lessons.

Members worked on crochet and knitting.

The group celebrated the birthday of Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales.

Girl Scouts contribute to international fund

Instead of a traditional Halloween party at their troop meeting on Saturday, Junior Girl Scout Troop 36 began an imaginary tour around the world.

The tour will eventually lead them through many member countries of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girls Scouts as the scouts learn how children live in other lands. They will be earning the World Friendship badge and will also receive the World Association pin at the end of the project.

Troop 36 and their leaders, members of Senior Scout Troop 360, began the trip in honor of the birthday of the founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Low.

Events on Saturday's tour were an observation game from India, a Pinata party and the ancient folk art of bark painting from Mexico and looking at souvenirs collected on a real trip to Mexico by several of the seniors.

During a candlelight ceremony, Debbie Earnest and Sheri Rogers were invested into Girl Scouting for the first time. Other scouts receiving a variety of pins and badges were Janet Anderson, Carol Davey, Teresa Little, Jackie Leash, Dana Kohl, Jennifer Richardson and Jamee Scarbro, all juniors, and Lavelle Bradford, senior.

Mrs. Tom Stephenson, senior advisor, awarded service aide bars to Diana Garcia and Pat Hamilton for their volunteer work at Malone-Hogan Hospital; to Jerri Davey for her hours at the Big Spring Herald, and to Pat Ferguson for volunteering time to the Dora Roberts Rehab Center, Coahoma Elementary school and the Coahoma Junior Scout troop.

The ceremony concluded with each girl making a wish for the future of scouting and contributing to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund to make the dreams come true for scouts around the world.

TECH SCORES ON PLUNGE — Staff Photographer Danny Valdes captures Texas Tech tailback Billy Taylor in a mid-air plunge over the University of Texas line to score from the one-yard line. Defending for Texas in the first quarter play is safety Steve Collier (28), with help from linebacker Rick Fenlaw (55). Final score in the Saturday game was Tech 31, Texas 28.

Big Day coming up

Tech to shoot it out

Circle Nov. 27 on your calendar. That's when Arkansas and Texas Tech collide in Little Rock for what shapes up as the Southwest Conference shootout of the year.

Arkansas and Texas Tech were the only October survivors of the SWC wars which claimed preseason favorite Texas, newcomer Houston, and dark horses Baylor and Texas A&M.

Tech's explosive offense cut the Longhorns down a peg Saturday with a come-from-behind 31-28 victory and Arkansas outlasted Rice 41-17 to give both teams 3-0 ledgers.

Both the sixth-ranked Red Raiders and the Razorbacks trailed closely by Houston (4-1) and Texas (2-1).

Houston and Texas meet in an elimination joust at Austin Saturday. Arkansas puts its perfect mark on the line against a well-rested Baylor team which has been idle two weeks.

Tech, which is bruised and battered from the physical matchup with the Longhorns, plays winless Texas Christian at Fort Worth and SMU is at Rice in the other game.

Texas A&M, which blasted SMU 36-0 Saturday, is idle.

Houston has jockeyed itself into the position that the Cougars could go to the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day if they win the rest of their games. Tech Coach Steve Sloan said "The win over Texas really helps because Arkansas has to play both A&M and Texas and it's tough to beat both those teams."

"The schedule is with us now in that we have only to play TCU and Arkansas on the road."

Sloan added "I feel the Cotton Bowl team might have a loss. I don't feel who wins it will be undefeated. I thought for a time two losses might have a chance."

Houston secondary coach Clarence Daniel said he was happy that the Texas game had finally arrived.

"They (the players) were thinking about Texas all week and now they can do it legitimately," said Daniel. Houston gained 443 yards passing against TCU and Bill Yeoman said "Nebraska nor anybody else at those people (the Horned Frogs) up on the ground."

In the A&M-SMU game in Dallas, dazed Mustang Coach Ron Meyer noted that emotion doesn't help when you play a bigger team that also has it.

"Emotion is important, but it helps to have emotion with big, fast people who knock you down," said Meyer. "Hey, there was a helluva lot of emotion at the Alamo, but there wasn't a survivor."

HAMPTON PULLED DOWN FROM BEHIND — Philadelphia Eagles' running back Dave Hampton, left, is pulled down from behind Sunday by New York Giants main linebacker Harry Carson (53). Giants free safety Rick Volk (23) is at right. Giants lost 10-0 to the Eagles, for their eighth straight loss.

B-ball season underway, Cavaliers hard to beat

Bill Fitch is a hard man to please. Maybe that's why his Cleveland Cavaliers are a hard team to beat.

"Always the perfectionist, Fitch was not even happy after a 106-92 victory over the New Orleans Jazz Sunday night.

"We only played seven good minutes," said Fitch after unbeaten Cleveland's fifth victory of the National Basketball Association season. "There are a lot of areas we're going to have to be better in. We had too many turnovers (16). That's what really ruffles me."

Despite the impressive margin of victory, the Cavs almost faltered. They dropped their guard in the last quarter and lost most of a big lead before regrouping.

This lack of killer instinct upset the highly-critical Fitch.

"The worst thing to do is get a belt-and-suspenders attitude with a 15-point lead," Fitch said. "You should keep running, but you've got to be smart."

One thing Fitch couldn't complain about was the rebounding. For the fifth straight game, the Cavs topped their opponents in that department—this time by a 57-48 margin.

"There's no team in the league deeper than we are," noted Bobby Smith, Cleveland's high scorer with 17 points.

In other NBA games, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Detroit Pistons 121-101 and the Seattle SuperSonics topped the Atlanta Hawks 126-112.

Led by Smith, Cleveland put seven men in double figures, offsetting a 27-point performance by the Jazz' Pete Maravich. The Cavaliers hit 11 of their first 12 shots, jumping into a 25-11 lead with 4:37 left in the first period.

Maravich scored 14 of his game-high total during a thirdquarter spurt that brought the Jazz within 66-

58, midway through the period. But center Jim Chones connected on two quick jumpers for the Cavs, who took a 13-point lead by the end of the third period and coasted the rest of the way.

Goliad Junior High gridders were beaten by Brownwood 22-12 over the weekend. But they looked tough.

"Our defense had an outstanding ballgame. They didn't let down the whole game. We are real proud of the whole team," he said.

Goliad led off the scoring in the first quarter with a touchdown by Ben Watson, the team's leading rusher for the day with 151 yards.

The extra point effort was unsuccessful, however, and Brownwood came back with a TD and extra points to make the score 8-6 at the half.

Goliad came off the bench in the second half to score a quick six points, putting them back in the lead 12-8. This score was to remain the same until the last four, fatal minutes of the game.

Unable to get off a punt, Goliad was forced to hand the ball over to Brownwood on its own 20-yard line. Brownwood went in for the score, giving them the edge, 14-12.

go, Goliad was struck down by a penalty. Unable to move ahead on a fourth down play, Brownwood took the ball on the 40-yard line, and scored again, making the final tally 22-12.

Goliad rushed a total of 257 yards. Other leading rushers were Rex Dannatt with 87 yards; Tommy Madigan with 11 yards; and Mark Warren with an eight-yard pass.

Stanbach pinky no problem

Dallas skins Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Combine Roger Staubach, injured pinky and all, with the Dallas defense and that could only spell trouble for a National Football League opponent. As a matter of fact, it could be bad news for the entire NFL.

Staubach, who played with the little finger of his throwing hand taped because of a broken bone, led the Cowboys to a 20-7 victory over Washington Sunday, cementing Dallas' lead in the National Conference East and diminishing the Redskins' playoff hopes.

"This was not a good day offensively," said Staubach, "other than we didn't have any turnovers. It was the defense. They gave us great position."

Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan also was pleased with the Cowboys' defensive performance, which saw them make seven quarterback sacks, two interceptions, one recovered fumble and shut out the Redskins until the final seconds of the game.

"I think we have the best defense we ever had," said Jordan, a 14-year veteran with Dallas. "It has more ability to do things, more size, more speed, more everything."

"I don't think we are nearly as good as we are going to be in eight or 10 weeks," he said, obviously referring to a return to the playoffs and the Super Bowl.

The victory gave the Cowboys a 7-1 record. Washington is 5-3. St. Louis now is in second place in the NFC East with a 6-2 mark after beating San Francisco 23-20 Sunday.

"This is a real big step," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "If you get to thinking in a positive way, that's the way you will play. If you get to thinking you will lose, that's what is going to happen to you."

At no time did it appear the Cowboys were thinking about losing to the Redskins, despite dropping five in a row in the nation's capital since 1971.

touchdown. In the second quarter, a Redskins threat was snuffed out by Charlie Waters, who intercepted a 19-yard pass by Bill Kilmer to Jean Fugett in the end zone.

"If only we could've gotten a field goal before the half, it would've been a big lift," said Washington Coach George Allen.

Staubach, who completed 13 of 23 passes for 152 yards, including six of 10 for the Cowboys' spread formation for five first downs, started picking up the Washington blitz in the second half and drove the length of the field before taking the ball over himself from the one.

"They took away our running game," he said. "So I had to go to the pass. We didn't expect them to blitz so much. They gave us a lot in the first half but we didn't take advantage of it until the second half."

The Cowboys also got field goals of 37 and 21 yards by Efran Herrera in the second half, the first after Ed Jones recovered a fumble and the second following an interception by Mel Renfro.

In the final minutes of the game, Washington's Eddie Brown returned a punt 59 yards to the Dallas 20 and three plays later Joe Theismann threw a seven-yard touchdown to Roy Jefferson with 45 seconds remaining.

Big Spring Herald

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1976
SECTION B

Sunday football action:

Bears claw Vikings 14-13

By the Associated Press
Fran Tarkenton and the Minnesota Vikings came in from the cold—and they came in as losers.

Until Sunday, Johnny Unitas had passed for more yards than anyone else in the history of the National Football League. Tarkenton took care of that matter.

And until Sunday, only the Vikings were unbeaten this year. The Chicago Bears took care of that matter, nipping them 14-13 in nippy, windy Soldier Field.

The Bears couldn't kick in that earlier loss, when they missed two extra-point attempts. They didn't have anything to kick about this time.

Tarkenton, who scored the only Minnesota touchdown on a two-yard rollout, completed 24 of 46 passes for 272 yards. That gave him 40,421 yards—that's nearly 21 miles—in his career to Unitas' 40,239.

But it was hardly a consolation. "It means nothing," he said. "I wasn't thinking about breaking the record today. Hell, I only needed 91 yards and I knew I would get that sometime."

an-hour wind. Neil Clabo, trying to kick into that wind, shanked a pair of punts. Both resulted in Chicago touchdowns. A 15-yarder was followed instantly by a 39-yard Walter Payton touchdown run in the first period.

Clabo's 16-yarder in the fourth quarter gave the Bears the ball on the Minnesota 33 and they marched to the game-winning TD, when Johnny Musso ran three yards, fumbled at the goal line and recovered in the end zone.

And overjoyed Chicago Coach Jack Pardee grinned: "Now the Vikings have lost one like everyone else in the league."

Cardinals 23, 49ers 20
The Cardinals remained one game back of Dallas in the National Conference East on Jim Bakken's 21-yard field goal with 6:42 gone in sudden-death overtime.

Lions 27, Packers 6
Ray Jarvis and Greg Landry teamed on touchdown pass plays of 74 and 13 yards, rookie Lawrence Gaines scored on a 26-yard sprint and rookie Bennie Ricardo kicked two field goals in the Lions' rout of Green Bay.

Dolphins 10, Patriots 3
Bill Arnsparger returned to head up the Dolphins' defense. It responded with a vengeance against the Patriots. Bob Griese's 16-yard TD pass to Jim Mandich in the second period was the winning score.

Eagles 10, Giants 0
John McVay came in as a head coach of the War Arnsparger went out—a shutout loser. The Giants, who lost 27-0 to Pittsburgh a week ago, were blanked again as their scoreless string stretched to 10 quarters.

Steelers 23, Chargers 0
Pittsburgh limited San Diego's sometimes-potent offense to just 124 offensive yards, 44 of them on the ground, and the Steelers blew open a close game with three touchdowns in the final period.

Bengals 21, Browns 6
Rushing back Boobie Clark, who has often complained about his lack of use in Cincinnati's aerial-oriented game, couldn't complain after what he did to the Browns.

Raiders 19, Broncos 6
Oakland struggled for three quarters against second-place Denver before Ken Stabler broke a 6-6 tie with a 31-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff.

Rams 45, Seahawks 6
The Rams moved back atop the NFL West by one-half game over the 49ers by routing Seattle. James Harris, returning to action for the first time since an Oct. 11 shoulder injury, passed for touchdowns of 15 yards to Ron Jessie and 20 yards to Harold Jackson.

Jets 19, Bills 14
The Jets, who had beaten only Buffalo through their first seven games, did it to the Bills again. Richard Todd, starting in place of injured Joe Namath, tossed a 20-yard TD pass to David Knight.

Falcons 23, Saints 20
Scott Hunter entered the game in the second half and passed for touchdowns of 17 yards to Alfred Jenkins and five to Haskell Stanbach that wiped out New Orleans' 14-0 lead, then Stanbach scored on a one-yard plunge to snap Atlanta's four-game losing spin.

Chiefs 28, Bucs 19
Mike Livingston's pair of third-quarter touchdowns passes woke up Kansas City's sluggish offense against Tampa Bay, offsetting a pair of Steve Spurrier touchdown tosses for the winless Bucs in the fourth period.

Beef prices to rise

Bad news for coffee drinkers

October brought relief to consumers in the form of lower supermarket bills, an Associated Press market-basket shows. But there was continued bad news for coffee drinkers.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Among the highlights of the latest survey:

—The marketbasket bill declined during October at the checklist store in 11 cities and increased in two. The average drop was 2.5 per cent, and the average increase was 1.9 per cent. On an overall basis, the marketbasket bill at the checklist store dropped 1.8

per cent last month. During September, there was an overall increase of 2 per cent.

—Over a 12-month period, the marketbasket bill increased at the checklist store in nine cities and decreased in four. Overall, the bill at the start of November was 2 per cent higher than it was a year earlier.

—Many of the savings came at the meat counter. The price of a pound of chopped chuck decreased at the checklist store in six cities, pork chops were down in eight cities and frankfurters dropped in six cities. The good news may not last, however. There are fewer cattle in feedlots now than there were at the start of the year, and the government has predicted higher beef prices this winter.

—Higher prices at the wholesales, with increases ranging from 5 to 19 per cent. The price of coffee was unchanged in four cities and decreased in two. The requested size and brand of coffee was not available at the checklist store in the 13th city. The retail price has now topped $2 in almost every city.

—Milk prices, which went up in nine cities during September, rose at the checklist store in eight cities during October. The increases have been only a penny or two, but have been fairly steady in boosting the cost of the staple to an average of about 45 cents a quart in one-quart containers.

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases during October than in September. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

	Sept.	Oct.
Up	30.3	25.6
Down	22.6	21.5
Unchanged	44.6	50.3
Unavailable	2.5	2.6

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

THE LAST BILLIONAIRES — With the deaths of Howard Hughes and J. Paul Getty, the United States is down to its last two billionaires. John D. MacArthur, right, made his fortune in insurance and Daniel K. Ludwig, left, is one of the largest independent ship owners in the world. Both left school in the eighth grade.

U.S. facing acute billionaire shortage?

NEW YORK (AP) — Daniel K. Ludwig lives in a New York penthouse, running his shipping empire and overseeing the creation of a timber plantation in the Brazilian Amazon.

John D. MacArthur, an insurance company executive, holds court at a corner table in the coffee shop of a Florida hotel.

Though miles apart, the men share a bond: They are the last two living American billionaires, according to Fortune magazine.

Both MacArthur and Ludwig were born in 1897, dropped out of school after the eighth grade and "operate through an intricate web of private companies about which there is only limited public information," the financial magazine says in its November issue, to be published Tuesday.

There the parallel ends, according to Lewis Beman, Fortune associate editor who wrote the article on those he termed "magnificent relics of an earlier age of capitalism."

MacArthur and Ludwig took different paths to become billionaires in a nation that now boasts about 180,000 millionaires. They outlived the three other men who until recently shared their status as billionaires: Howard R. Hughes, J. Paul Getty and H.L. Hunt.

Fortune estimated each man's financial worth at more than a billion dollars, but said it did not have access to figures on their exact holdings.

MacArthur, whose late brother was playwright

Charles MacArthur, is the only stockholder of the Chicago-based Banker's Life and Casualty, the nation's 44th largest insurance company.

Fortune describes MacArthur — the fourth son of an itinerant preacher born in Pittston, Pa. — as looking "less like a billionaire than a retired postal clerk."

Vote Democratic

8 years of Nixon-Ford have increased employment and the national debt is near the total accumulated for the last 200 years on which the interest is about $350 per family. Reduce unemployment and waste.

Convict wins event, and gets parole

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas convict Rusty Huff of Pampa won $100 as the Texas Prison Rodeo champion bareback bronc rider but today he got something more important — his freedom.

Huff, who has participated in the last six Texas prison rodeos, was released on parole today from his 30-year sentence. He plans to work on a ranch near Pampa.

Meanwhile, Ivory Daniels of Bunkie, La., serving 10 years, won a record $350 prize in the hard money contest at Sunday's final performance of the 45th annual prison rodeo before a crowd of 18,000 fans.

But the top hand championship award went to Willie Craig of Greenville, serving 30 years.

His total earnings for the month in all events totaled $220.75. Craig also won the saddle bronc riding championship with a total of $177.50.

Hard money event winners are not counted in the best overall cowboy contest.

Craig, 56, has been competing in prison rodeos since 1944, with the exception of seven non-consecutive years.

Top hand bullriding honors went to Gregory Davis of San Angelo, serving 10 years. He chalked up a total of $117.

The team of Lucille Thomas of Villa Platte, La., and Erma Hickman of Bryan each won $75 to share championship honors in the cowgirl events.

The hard money contest, which features 40 red-shirted convicts trying to remove a sack from the horns of a vicious bull, attracted the most attention as the animal cleared the arena of participants on several occasions.

But apparently the $350 prize, which included $50 donated by country singer Tom T. Hall, was something the convicts didn't want to miss and before the five-minute time limit was up, Daniels was the winner.

Industry at the crossroads

Finally won one

by Tom E. Roy

Industrial Manager, BS Ch. of Commerce

A few years ago there was a baseball team called the New York Mets. Nobody thought they had a chance at winning the national league pennant or the World Series.

In fact, they were referred to as the "amazing Mets" because winning a game always surprised everybody. One person on that team is unforgettable. He was a pitcher named Tug McGraw and he stood out because he was probably the only Met who believed they could win. He coined a phrase that became their slogan throughout the World Series and it was quite simply, "You gotta believe." It must have worked, because they were successful.

For months now you have heard all this Chamber of Commerce talk about how good the future looks for industrial development. But talk is cheap unless something happens to validate what you're saying. The announcement made last Friday was payday for a lot of people because it marked a point where talk became a reality and the belief that it would happen was rewarded. Highwood Products Company will be an asset to the community in many ways, and space does not permit a full disclosure of all those who worked hard and believed we could do it.

Two things I think are apparent. First, the industrial team made an important contribution just with their existence. They didn't get an opportunity to perform as they are capable of simply because the company preferred to deal with a very small group. But the work the team had done prior to Highwood's visit and the support they gave during the negotiations was invaluable. Also, they all believed we could do it.

Secondly, the city's contribution gave the valid impression that Highwood was welcome and they would help in any way possible. These things made the difference in a decision to locate here or elsewhere.

Possibly the most rewarding aspect of Highwood's decision to locate is the fact that they will generate about $35,000 annually in new city taxes. For the first time, the city is getting a return on their investment. From now on, all taxes generated by new industry will be "gravy."

You gotta believe. That's the name of the game. I personally believe this is the first of several locations that will be made in Big Spring. We are not looking back; we will press forward. If we all believe we can make it, we will. It worked for the Mets, and it will work at the Crossroads of West Texas.

Feds gaining in 'buttlegging' fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials say they are "establishing a foothold" in the fight against cigarette smuggling.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, in a report issued Sunday, said officials in seven states that are part of a pilot program "may be making inroads against" the cigarette smuggling gangs that are costing the states hundreds of millions of dollars per year in lost taxes.

The smugglers buy their cigarettes legally in states which grow tobacco and levy low taxes on it. They are North Carolina, where the tax is 2 cents per pack; Virginia, 2½ cents; and Kentucky, 3 cents.

Legislators in the tobacco-producing states are loathe to raise the taxes for fear that high sales taxes will decrease the demand for tobacco and hurt their tobacco-growing constituents.

"You can see the tremendous profits to be had in buying them in those states and bootlegging them in Minnesota, with its 18-cent tax; Connecticut, with a 21-cent tax; New Jersey, 19 cents; or New York, with a 15-cent tax," said George Stewart, executive director of the Interstate Revenue Research Center in Indianapolis.

The center has received $787,000 from LEAA to coordinate investigations of smuggling in the seven-state pilot area of Missouri, Michigan, Ohio, Florida, Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana.

To date, the investigations have resulted in 38 arrests, with 54,000 cartons of cigarettes confiscated.

Unsung hero

"Don't those firemen ever do anything except sit around the station?"

"Is that the only work they have to do?"

These are the normal questions cast out in the open about firemen as people drive by the fire station and see them sitting out on the steps.

That's until you have a fire. Firemen are paid to be ready and also to be willing to chance their life and put it on the line.

Many of them hold other jobs, working a shift part of the week at the fire station and moonlighting in other positions. It doesn't pay all that good.

They are on duty 24 hours and then off 48. They work from 5 p.m. one day to 5 p.m. the next day, then go home and live their "other life" for two days and then return.

They furnish their own food and own recreation at the station, such as television set or other items. It's easy to ask questions about the firemen kind of disdainfully. Until you have a fire.

Did you ever wake up in the night with the acrid smell of smoke . . . dense, lungsearing smoke? You're lucky that you have awoken.

I've been there. I awoke with an apartment full of smoke, groping through the bedroom to get my son out. Lucky, lucky to be awake.

I've covered fires in the news business where the smoke is billowing so that your lungs will hurt from the smell of it. I've been in close enough and long enough to go over and throw up on the ground.

I've been close enough to chemical fires to have the acrid sting of the chemicals actually make you gasp for breath.

I've watched firemen go inside with gas masks and grope around hunting small children left behind — on one occasion, a three-year-old who had set his grandmother's house on fire and then hid in the closet.

I've watched them fight fire in the oilfields, refineries, on docks, in cotton gins, at home fires and out in the terrible intensity of a West Texas grassfire.

But the most terrifying fires are those in which a human being is left behind. There's nothing worse than seeing a mother regain consciousness out in the yard and suddenly scream, "Where is the baby?"

There has been more than one fireman hurt or even killed going back in for human beings left behind in a fire.

A fire on your hearth or in your furnace — a controlled fire — is a comfort.

But a fire out of control is a savage, brutal, vicious, raging inferno.

How well the firemen know this. They fight fires to help protect our lives and property. They see, time after time, families lose some of their most priceless possessions in fires.

Fire prevention week came and went this year with little notice. And the firemen continue to sit out front at Central Fire Station watching the traffic go by.

But they're there for a reason. They're there so that when you have a fire, they can come quickly.

I notice them quite often and think about people misunderstanding the meaning of the department — when I'm out ridin' fence.

Can we afford four more years without effective leadership?

There is a critical decision to be made on November 2nd. It goes far beyond the question of which Presidential candidate can govern with integrity and honesty. We must determine which candidate has the ability and strength to lead our country out of economic chaos, and the vision to see that all Americans — not just the powerful and influential — have a better future.

During the past two years, the middle class has paid far too dear a price for a President lacking that ability. Since Gerald Ford took office, the unemployment rate has risen 50%, from 5.5% to 8.3 million people, to 7.9% or 7-1/2 million jobless Americans. Today's inflation rate of 6% is higher than it was at any time between the Korean War and the inauguration of Richard Nixon.

The 1968 food dollar is now worth 57¢. Mr. Ford's budget will account for the largest single deficit and more than 1/3 of the public debt incurred during our entire 200-year history. Real GNP has actually declined during each of Gerald Ford's two years in office.

And who is most affected by these distressing statistics? Not the Washington establishment, or the economic elite courted by the Republicans. The burden falls on the person who can least afford it: the average American.

Jimmy Carter means to change all that. As President, he will make government responsive to your needs.

Vote for JIMMY CARTER. A leader, for a change.

KNOW YOUR FOOD

UNIT PRICING CAN HELP YOU

Because family food buying is a never-ending responsibility, shoppers have enthusiastically welcomed Unit Pricing as a guide to smarter buying. If you shop where it's available, use this guide to shop better and save more. Unit Pricing was installed in Safeway stores as a consumer service to make it easier for you to fit purchases to your needs and your budget. Next time you're in our store, take time to acquaint yourself with these tags and their meaning. The savings can be impressive. Seasoned shoppers are already making extensive use of this aid. But for new homemakers and those who are new to the guide, here's what it can mean to you.

Unit Pricing: While many factors affect buying decisions, a primary one is price. Unit Pricing makes cost comparisons simple because it's just what its name implies. That is, the cost per pound, per ounce or whatever unit of measure is being used. The tags which show this information are usually placed directly below the item in question. For instance, let's say you want to buy canned peaches. Unit Price tags for various brands of peaches will tell the per-measure price. If quality and appearance are vital, you may want to choose from the top brands. But if peaches are to be used for pie, you can choose the lower priced because appearance isn't important. Unit Price tags will also help you determine which size is the best buy for your needs.

Cereal is a good example of items in different weight packages with varying total prices. How do you decide among the vast array of packages? Look at the Unit Price tags! They provide helpful quantity-cost information. Study the tags and then make your choice based on price, taste preference and the amount you need. Buy the larger sizes only if they will be consumed while still fresh. Make your buying decisions by using the Unit-Price tags and you'll be a better shopper.

Pre-paid legal insurance popular

By the Associated Press
A growing number of Americans are signing up for prepaid legal insurance, and the number of plans is expected to increase sharply next year, thanks to a provision in the recently passed tax bill.

The programs are designed to provide legal services to middle-income Americans who do not qualify for public defender plans and cannot afford expensive lawyers' fees.

There are two basic types of group legal arrangements — those providing a minimum of service, such as advice and consultation, and those offering substantial benefits in both civil and criminal cases.

Among the states where legal plans have been established are Alaska, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Arizona, Louisiana, Ohio, California, Maine, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Most of the comprehensive plans are linked to labor unions and have been set up as a result of collective bargaining agreements.

Philip J. Murphy, a California attorney, said there are about 125 or 150 such plans across the country.

Murphy, who is the American Bar Association expert on prepaid legal plans, said that between 1.5 and 2 million persons, including union members and their dependents, are covered by the programs.

Until now, there was a question as to whether employers' contributions to legal plans and the value of any legal services received under the plans were considered income for the individual.

If the Internal Revenue Service decided that this money should be reported as income, it would be taxable. That would have meant that a participant in a legal insurance plan who received services for which a lawyer normally would have charged $3,000, would have been required to report the $3,000 as income and pay tax on it. He also would have been required to pay tax on his employers' contribution to the plan.

The legal insurance plans vary from area to area. Some plans limit participants to a small group of lawyers; others allow individuals to choose their own lawyer, who then bills the program, much in the way a doctor or a hospital bills a health insurance plan.

Statistics on the legal plans are difficult to find since the programs are relatively new. The oldest prepaid plan still operating, involving laborers in Shreveport, La., did not start until 1971.

Murphy said the number of union members using legal services in Shreveport doubled after the insurance plan went into effect. He said about 15 to 20 per cent of those covered by most collectively bargained plans use some legal service during the year.

The amount of coverage provided varies from plan to plan and ranges up into the thousands of dollars. In Shreveport, for example, the insurance plan provides up to $1,685 per year for legal expenses.

A plan sponsored by labor unions and the construction industry in Alaska collects 13 cents an hour from a estimated 4,000 members. In exchange, participants get up to $7,500 worth of legal services per year for each covered family member. As in most legal insurance plans, contingent fee cases — where a lawyer takes a case with his fee depending on if and what he wins — are excluded.

Democrats to Retain Senate majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued Democratic control of the Senate in the next Congress seems assured despite the 33 seats at stake in Tuesday's election.

Republican strategists conceded this, saying they will do well if they make a net pickup of two seats. They would need a gain of 13 to wrest control from the Democrats.

Democratic campaign aides, while expecting to lose three or more seats they now hold, say that overall they have a good chance of increasing their majority in the Senate by two or three.

In the outgoing 94th Congress, the party lineup in the Senate is 62 Democrats and 38 Republicans, counting Independent Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia with the Democrats and Conservative-Republican James L. Buckley of New York in the GOP column.

Of the 33 seats on the line, 22 are held by Democrats and 11 by Republicans. But at least half of the Democratic candidates are regarded as easy winners.

These include such well-known senators as Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, John C. Stennis of Mississippi and Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey.

In contrast, only two of the Republican senators up for reelection, Lowell P. Weicker Jr. of Connecticut and William V. Roth Jr. of Delaware, fall in the easy-victory category.

Some of the chief battlegrounds, and likely to account for a large part of the turnovers, are states in which incumbent senators are retiring.

Democratic and Republican campaign aides pretty much agree on the outlook in these states.

Take Missouri State Atty. Gen. John Danforth. The Republican candidate is regarded as a sure winner over his Democratic opponent, former Gov. Warren Hearnes, for the seat being given up by Democrat Stuart Symington.

And retiring Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., is expected to be replaced by Republican John H. Chafee, a former three-term governor and secretary of the Navy under President Richard M. Nixon.

Chafee's Democratic opponent, wealthy automobile dealer Richard P. Lorber, won a surprise primary victory over Gov. Philip W. Noel, but the battle wounds have lingered on.

The Democrats are counting on offsetting expected losses in those states by picking up the seats from which Sens. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., and Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, are retiring.

In Arizona, former Pima County (Tucson) attorney Dennis DeConcini, the Democratic candidate, is expected to defeat Rep. Sam Steiger, a 10-year House veteran who won a bitter GOP primary fight against a House colleague, Rep. John Conlan.

As for Hawaii, Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga, a Democratic liberal, is rated as the likely winner over his GOP opponent, former Gov. William F. Quinn.

The retirement of Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has brought on a battle for a Senate seat by two House members, Reps. Donald W. Riegle Jr. and Marvin E. Esh.

Riegle, who switched party allegiance from Republican to Democrat three years ago, has strong labor backing, but his victory prospects may have been dimmed by personal issues raised during the campaign.

In states where incumbents are running, Republicans say they are confident that Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., will be defeated by former Indianapolis Mayor Richard G. Lugar.

They also say they expect Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, to be unseated by his GOP opponent, Orrin G. Hatch, a 42-year-old trial lawyer.

Democrats here acknowledge they are concerned about Moss' prospects for winning a fourth term.

Democrats contend that losses of seats in Indiana and Utah would be counterbalanced by victories they foresee in Maryland and New York.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., is rated a likely loser to Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, a labor-backed Democratic liberal. And in New York, Buckley is battling the challenge of his Democratic opponent, former Ambassador to the United Nations Daniel Paruck, moynihan.

Races in California, New Mexico, Ohio and Tennessee are all regarded as close, with Republicans and Democrats figuring they offer prospects for unseating incumbents.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very strange day, but one which requires care in whatever you undertake to do. Planning a new and more successful course of action will be easier now than it has been in the past. Consult with a bigwig.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) First study your problems, then find the best way to handle them. You get good advice from one who has had sufficient experience. Make the evening a happy one.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) An influential friend can give you the assistance you need today if you construct a right plan. Make arrangements early for social pleasure.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Meet with a person who truly understands your ability and can help you to get ahead faster. Take part in important public affairs.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study into changes you want to make that can clear the path to greater undertakings. Make plans for a trip you want to take in the near future. Show more interest in your fellow man.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ask questions if you don't understand completely what should be done in some responsibility you have assumed. Use tact with a loved one in daytime and then evening can be most delightful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know your true position with friends who do not say much, and then enjoy them more. Look into civic work that is appealing and get ahead faster via such a route also.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are in an excellent mood to get much work done and can be most efficient. Cooperate with co-workers and get better results. Evening can be particularly delightful from social standpoint.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan evening's entertainment early so it works out well. Some special attention to a loved one brings fine results. Avoid a troublemaker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Good day to put more charm and comfort into your home and enjoy it more. Plan time for looking into a new outlet that could prove to be ideal. Take no chances where reputation is concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Consult with an expert and gather information you need in order to be more successful in your own field of endeavor. More backing can be yours from kin if you ask for it nicely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Good day to make your appearance more charming. Take health treatments you need (Get the cooperation you need to gain a personal aim).

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take time to improve confidential matters and get everything in better order — especially at home. Once work is done, be with a good friend. Much happiness can be yours in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will have the ability to solve problems wisely and quickly and would do well in whatever is of a confidential nature that requires exact thinking. Give as fine an education as you can and add psychology to the curriculum for best results.

AUSTIN - An Angleton attorney told the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission recently it has no business telling people what they can do with private land. Commissioners replied in a strong and united voice that they have every right to protect the state's wildlife.

The issue under discussion was mitigation - that controversial process whereby government requires the setting aside of some area for wildlife in compensation for upsetting a wildlife habitat.

The particular case was mitigation for losses to wildlife resulting from the Freeport Harbor project.

In compensation for placing spoil from dredging operations on wetland marsh areas the Brazos River Navigation District is being asked to set aside 477 acres for mitigation.

"We don't think mitigation is justified and we are protesting its requirement," Leland Kee of Angleton, attorney of the navigation district, told the commissioners.

Although the only question on the commission meeting's agenda was whether the Parks and Wildlife Department would accept control and responsibility for the mitigation area, the item initiated a lengthy discussion on the good and bad points of mitigation itself.

Kee was particularly upset about a prohibition against the district placing spoil on a particular 182-acre tract behind a storm protection dike near the area to be dredged.

"If we are denied the right to use this tract, this commission is participating in denial of the right to use private land," Kee argued.

Commissioners answered that the denial was made by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the state agency was just agreeing to supervise the mitigation area. Kee claimed that state employees had participated in the recommendation.

The attorney claimed the storm protection dike had been constructed to protect the land behind it and the land, which is owned by private interests, could not be developed until it is built up. Placing spoil on it would increase its elevation.

Commission chairman, Pearce Johnson, said Kee's arguments pointed up an interesting phenomenon: He said the district was wanting to dredge under the pretext of improving a navigation channel but it also wanted to build up private land and improve its value.

"You are taking the taxpayers' spoil out of the bays' and converting it to your use," Johnson said.

He added that persons interested in projects which upset wildlife habitats should look for ways to work with mitigation.

"This mitigation thing is the out," Johnson said. Without it the whole project might be denied because of an unfavorable effect on nature's balance, he said.

The discussion continued until commissioner Jack R. Stone complained the issue was being "beaten to death."

Commissioners then unanimously approved accepting the mitigation area with the understanding that there was no responsibility other than occasional supervision to make sure the area was protected for wildlife.

First styrene shipped from new plant

CARVILLE, La.

Shipment of the first styrene monomer from the enlarged Cos-Mar Plant has been announced by Louisiana Governor Edwin W. Edwards at the dedication ceremony. The additional 700 million pounds per year facility, which came on stream Oct. 18, increases the total capacity to 1.3 billion pounds of styrene monomer per year.

The Cos-Mar Plant is a joint venture of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company and Borg-Warner Chemicals. Located on the Mississippi River, between Baton Rouge and New Orleans, the second styrene monomer plant is adjacent to the original styrene plant. The second facility makes the complex the largest styrene production facility in the world - 1.3 billion pounds per year - at a single location. The original plant when it came on stream in mid-1968 was the largest single-train styrene monomer facility in the world. The original 500 million pounds per year capacity was expanded to 600 million pounds per year in 1973. Originally a 50-50 partnership, the Cos-Mar Plant is now nine-thirtieths owned by Cosden, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Incorporated, and four-thirtieths by Borg-Warner Chemicals, which is an operating group of Borg-Warner Corporation.

Edwards, on April 26, 1974, announced plans for Cos-Mar to build the second styrene monomer plant. Construction began in early 1975. Cost of the plant was in the range of 50 million dollars. Like its forerunner completed in July of 1968 Carville, the plant utilizes the processes jointly developed by Cosden, Unifac Carbide Corporation and J. Badger Company Inc. Badger was the prime contractor for construction of both styrene monomer plants.

Regular shipments of styrene monomer are made from the Carville plant to U.S. markets via barge, railroad and tank trucks. The original plant occupies approximately 50 acres and the new plant 13 acres. In addition, the adjacent tank farm covers 20 acres with storage for benzene, styrene and toluene. The two basic raw materials used to make styrene are benzene and ethylene - both derived from crude oil. Benzene is received at the plant by barge and ethylene comes to the plant via pipeline.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

Taste-science breakthrough gives low tar MERIT the flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

By locating certain flavor-rich ingredients in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have disproven the theory that cigarette flavor depends on the amount of tar that goes with it.

They've discovered how to pack flavor—unprecedented flavor—into a cigarette that delivers one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor, natural flavor, and only MERIT has it.

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Tests Verify Taste

In taste tests involving thousands of cigarette smokers like yourself, MERIT was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than current low tar leaders.

What's really startling is that these brands have up to 60% more tar than MERIT.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT. Incredible smoking satisfaction at only 9 mg. tar.
