Bitter cold escalates shortage

By The Associated Press
A major Texas supplier of natural gas asked its customer utilities along the East Coast today to immediately shut off deliveries to nonessential customers as gas shortages caused by severe winter weather escalated.

Meanwhile, a severe storm bore down on the East with blowing snow and bitter cold that threatened to intensify the gas shortages.

Transcontinental said the curtailment was necessary to ensure that residences and other human-need customers which lack alternate fuels would not suffer an interruption in service.

A blizzard blew across the Midwest this morning, halting ground and air traffic and forcing numerous schools to close in Indiana and lower Michigan, where visibility was down to zero at times due to blowing snow.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, who on Thursday declared an "energy crisis" in the state, ordered state employees to go home and asked all businesses and nonessential services in the state to close by noon as the storm approached.

Public Service Electric & Gas Co., New Jersey's largest utility, shut off virtually all natural gas service today for 2,500 industrial and commercial customers until at least Tuesday.

Gas cut off in homes 'likely'

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House energy adviser James R. Schlesinger urged Congress today to enact President Carter's emergency energy proposals as a "temporary safety net" to meet natural gas shortages spawned by the unusually cold winter.

While some areas of the country are short of natural gas, other regions have adequate supplies and can help meet the shortages, Schlesinger said. He said legislative authority to shift gas supplies is urgently needed.

Senate Democrats can no longer blame a Republican administration for the nation's lack of a comprehensive energy policy.

legislation but hoped the committee would amend the bill to provide some price protection for Texans and residents of other natural gas-producing states.

Coahoma revises tax formula

COAHOMA — The city tax structure will be different here, the city council decided at a meeting held here Thursday evening.

Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., led off Senate debate on the legislation by claiming it "does not alleviate the natural gas crisis, it redistributes the natural gas crisis."

Police probe harassment

City police are investigating an incident which occurred at about 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, when the west window of Elmer's Liquor Store, located at Birdwell Lane and FM 700, was shattered by a shot from what appeared to be a 12-gauge shotgun.

'Chico' critical after gunshot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Freddie Prinze, the 22-year-old star of the hit television series "Chico and the Man," was in critical condition today following a bullet wound in the head following an apparent suicide attempt, police said.

home. He said Prinze gave no hint of personal problems and said the actor didn't "leave her suicidal."

Lt. Dan Cook said Prinze had been despondent Thursday night and that several friends and his psychiatrist were in his apartment trying to cheer him up when the shot was fired.

The shooting occurred about 3:30 a.m. in Prinze's suite at the plush Beverly Comstock hotel in West Los Angeles.

Prinze, a Puerto Rican who traded heavily on his ethnic background in his routines, grew up in New York City. His break came three years ago when he appeared on the "Tonight Show" and was spotted by Komack.

"All of a sudden, he reached down into the sofa, pulled out an automatic pistol, and shot himself in the head," Cook said.

Prinze was staying there since he and his wife, Katherine, filed for divorce last month. They were married in Las Vegas in October 1975. They have one son, 14-month-old Freddie.

In the half-hour NBC situation comedy, Prinze played the Mexican-American employee of a garage in an East Los Angeles barrio, or Mexican neighborhood, and traded jokes with the crusty, white boss, played by Jack Albertson.

Cook said a note was found but he would not reveal the contents.

Richard Green, administrator at the nearby UCLA Medical Center, said Prinze was listed in "serious to critical condition."

When the show first began, some Mexican-Americans protested that it portrayed them in a bad light.

"He is not in surgery," Green said. "We have admitted him to one of our intensive care units."

Prinze was rushed into surgery at the nearby UCLA Medical Center.

But Prinze disagreed, arguing that, "The Chicanos are a warm people. They're dynamite friends. I don't think it's the majority making the fuss. It's a few radicals. I was a radical when I was 16. Then I realized it's a one-way street."

Green said Prinze arrived at the hospital's emergency room at 4:06 a.m. and a team of doctors immediately went to work on him.

James Komack, creator and executive producer of "Chico and the Man," said he had been with Prinze early Thursday evening in Komack's

Weather

Temperatures to drop sharply

Colder weather surged back into Texas today and promised to rout a travel-crippling cloak of fog which plagued broad areas of the state for a second straight morning.

Winter sent the new batch of frigid air knitting into the Texas Panhandle before dawn. Except for winds up to 20 miles per hour in its wake, however, there was little immediate effect on the state's weather pattern.

Dense fog engulfed areas along the coast and across much of East and North Texas most of the night. It dropped visibility to zero at many points, halting air traffic and slowing motorists to snail's pace.

Official observers looked for temperatures to drop sharply as the cold front advanced, at the same time sweeping away the misty cloak downstate. It was expected to reach a line angling from Midland in the west to Houston on the coast by evening.

Except for the fog and occasional haze, skies were clear. Forecasts promised overnight temperatures as low as the lower teens in the Panhandle, 15 in parts of North Texas and 23 in the chillier part of South Texas.

As the frontal system approached, readings near dawn sagged to 27 degrees at Dalhart and 29 at Amarillo in the Panhandle and ranged at other points up to 62 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Gunmen, bombers kill three

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Gunmen and bombers today killed three policemen and wounded three others, police said, in a new outbreak of violence that sorely tried the post-Franco government's attempts to keep law and order.

The killings came only a day after the government adopted emergency measures aimed at ending the violence.

Police said two men using pistols with silencers fatally wounded two police guards at a postal substation in southwestern Madrid.

At almost the same time, a car carrying two paramilitary civil guards exploded on a highway outside Madrid, killing one and gravely injuring the other occupant, police said.

Three other civil guards were seriously injured when a bomb was thrown at their jeep as they arrived at the site of the car explosion, police said.

Police said earlier reports of an attack on civil guards near a bank were incorrect.

None of the patrons in the postal station was injured, police said, and the gunmen took no money and fled in a waiting car.

Witnesses said the gunmen, wearing raincoats, walked into the postal station this morning without speaking and shot the two uniformed guards several times. The two died later in a hospital.

Premier Adolfo Suarez called an urgent meeting of top law enforcement and army officials and scheduled an emergency session of the full cabinet later in the day.

The outbreak followed the killings of seven civilians earlier this week, five in a right-wing terrorist attack and two during demonstrations.

Foreign diplomats and other sources have suggested that police had been helping rightwing extremists in a campaign of violence to show that law and order in Spain has disappeared.

The government has said the violence, which has included the kidnappings of two top government officials, was an attempt to provoke the army but did not mention rightists.

An extreme rightist group calling itself the Apostolic Anti-Communist Alliance claimed responsibility for the fatal shootings Monday night of five Communists in a lawyer's office in Madrid.

Those deaths set off a nationwide wave of strikes and mass demonstrations against violence in the biggest crisis faced by the government since dictator Gen. Francisco Franco died in November 1975.

Womanless beauty pageant tonight

COLORADO CITY—The annual womanless beauty pageant will be held tonight and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. each evening in the Colorado High School auditorium.

The annual tongue-in-check event will be sponsored by the high school band with admission set at $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The beauty pageant is being organized by Mrs. Midge Ledbetter, Mrs. Esther Guelker, Mrs. Rita Hardegree and Mrs. Delores Gilstrap.

Tandy Curlee is director and Gary Dennis will be master of ceremonies.

Impersonations of well-known personalities will be given, including some local personalities.

Glenn Polk will imitate Geraldine of Flip Wilson fame and Trina Taylor will do Lilly Tomlin with Midge Ledbetter doing an imitation of Edith Ann and Mark Reynolds as John Wayne. Eddie Swinney will be Elvis Presley.

Perhaps even funnier to Colorado Citizens will be Don Banta's imitation of Joy Culwell; Bill Erwin's impersonation of Juanita Schafer; Portrace by Porter Richardson and Porter Wagoner by Jeff McGowan.

Shannon is the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mack Coleman Salt Lake City, Utah, and was an alternate to the Olympic Team this past year. She is hoping to make the U.S.

gymnast team by the next Olympics.

She began working with gymnastics when she was ten years old. She practices five hours a day or 9,190 hours a year.

Her grandparents operate a country store in Vincent. Upon occasion, they have seen their Salt Lake City granddaughter on national television. They have not heard whether any part of the competition in Africa will be televised.

Car stickers on sale Tuesday

Texas auto license tag stickers for 1977 will go on sale Tuesday at the Howard County courthouse, at the Webb Credit Union, and at Newsom's Grocery.

According to County Tax Assessor-Collector Zirah Bednar, residents who have received a renewal slip from the state do not require any additional information to renew their tags, but persons without the renewal will be required to show a title and 1976 registration.

The '77 fees will be $12.30 for cars weighing under 3,500 pounds, $22.30 for 3,500 to 4,500 pounds, and $30.30 for 4,500 to 6,000 pounds. There will be additional charges for additional weight. If registration is mailed in, an extra dollar will be assessed. Tags will be available in Coahoma March 9th and 10th.

Airman hurt in accident

John E. Pryor, 23, of Webb AFB suffered injuries in a traffic accident about a mile north of Water Valley on US 87 about 12:55 a.m., Thursday.

Pryor was treated and released from the Good-fellow AFB Hospital in San Angelo.

Pryor was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Harold Hughes, 23, also of Webb. Hughes and a second passenger, Jeffrey Johnson, 25, of Webb escaped unhurt.

The Hughes car was in collision with an unattended vehicle parked on the shoulder of the highway.

Death gun recovered

COLORADO CITY—A murder weapon was pulled out of South Lake Champion late Wednesday by deputies from Mitchell County and deputies from the Scurry County sheriff's department.

It was the weapon used in the slaying of Clyde Dennis, 78, who was found last Saturday in his home in Snyder. The weapon was Dennis' own gun and was a .22 lever action rifle.

He had been shot in the chest and head by a small caliber weapon. A four-daylong search for two suspects ended Tuesday afternoon when one of the men turned himself in to law enforcement officers in Snyder and the other man was arrested.

Jerry Mack Dennis, 18, the grandson of the slaying victim was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bobby Goodwin on a complaint charging him with murder.

The other man, Danny Ray West, 18, was arraigned on a complaint charging him with auto theft. Dennis bond was set at $35,000 and West's at $20,900. West turned himself in and Dennis was arrested six miles southeast of Snyder.

The station wagon which had been missing was found abandoned in a pasture outside Snyder late Tuesday.

The search for the weapon ended when one of the two men apprehended told law officials where to look for the gun. Robert Rammage of Colorado City was the scuba diver who brought the gun up at that location.

Dog bites Jack Redding

According to the Sheriff's log, Jack Redding, a Coachman Circle, was bitten by a dog at 7:20 p.m. Thursday 15 miles west of Big Spring. The dog was located and the owner asked to keep him tied up so Redding will not have to undergo a series of painful rabies shots.

Rash of hot checks cashed

STANTON—A rash of hot checks were passed in Stanton Thursday, according to Sheriff Dan Saunders.

He said the men would purchase a small item of around $1 to $2 dollars and cash checks ranging from $25 to $75.

He was reported to have been six feet tall, a well-dressed black man, and "a fast talker." Merchants were warned to cash checks with caution from persons unknown to them.

HELEN SHELLY

Helen Shelly

Mrs. Helen Hathcock Shelly, 71, died at 12:05 a.m., Friday in a local hospital following an illness.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. William F. Henning, pastor, officiating. Burial will occur in Mount Olive Memorial Park under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. Shelly, a member of a pioneer Big Spring family, was born May 24, 1905, in Big Spring to the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hathcock. She attended college in Denton, Tex., and taught school in Coahoma. She also owned a private school here for many years. For the last several years, before her health began to fail, she was active in real estate circles as a broker.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153. Survivors include her husband, Galen W. Shelly, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Lucas, Fort Stockton, and Mrs. Cathryn Quirk, Fort Worth; and a granddaughter, Susan Lucas, Fort Stockton.

She was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. Lee Rogers. The family suggests memorials to the First Presbyterian Church or to favorite charities.

Cecil Thixton

Services for Cecil Arvis Thixton, 71, who died 6:40 p.m. Wednesday, will be held 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Pallbearers will be: Corky Perry, Bill Morris, M.A. Long, Bud Summers, Mark Shortes, Elliot Yell, Moon Mullins and Jimmy Kelly.

Everywhere, people are talking about 'Roots'

MAKING TELEVISION HISTORY — LeVar Burton, as Kunta Kinte, a slave from Gambia, waits to be sold at auction in Maryland in 1787 in the television dramatization of "Roots." The network, ABC, expects it to be the most-watched and most talked about program in television history.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Roots" is well on its way to becoming the most watched program in television history — and the most talked about. Word of mouth has increased its audience every night since its premiere Sunday, when ABC estimated 75 million people tuned in. By its conclusion this Sunday, ABC expects it will pass "Gone With the Wind," the highest-rated TV show to date.

Everywhere, people are talking about "Roots," a portrayal of slavery in which the white man, either casually or deliberately, dehumanizes and brutalizes the black man. The series is based on the book by Alex Haley.

Despite the nudity, violence and language, many schools are encouraging students to watch. Los Angeles schools have distributed hundreds of copies of the book for a study course beginning next week. In Inkster, Mich., Supt. Cleveland Hammond said, "I don't find the nudity objectionable. I think the series handled those scenes appropriately."

He said some parents were apprehensive when it was made required viewing, but "We have had no complaints from parents so far."

Fuqua, executive deputy elementary school teachers superintendent, overruled who made it required viewing. He said one reason was that it came on too late for young children.

"Roots" has caused varied reactions across the country, including blame for school racial incidents in Detroit and Harrisburg, Pa.

"What a good thing it is," said Henry Dotson, president of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. "It's timely, well-written. It's prolific and people don't want to miss it. I had to cut short a committee meeting so people could go home to watch it."

David Duke, head of Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, called the program "highly inaccurate, a wholly contrived bit of propaganda." The show was blamed by principal Frank Korkuch for racial trouble in Harrisburg, Shouting "roots, roots," black students pushed and shoved whites. At Detroit's Ford High School, four white students said they had been beaten by black youths yelling "roots, roots."

Dr. Joshua Golden, an associate professor of psychiatry at the UCLA School of Medicine, said he thought "Roots" would have a good effect. "I think people will be more aware of the injustices that occurred," Dr. Golden said. "Sometimes people feel troubled coming to grips with that, but fundamentally I think it's going to make people more sympathetic to the plight of suppressed minorities."

In the South, Lynn F. Avery, general manager of WTVM in Columbus, Ga., said, "The reaction has been quite good." General manager J. Fred Pierce of WJCL in Savannah, Ga., said, "It's been very well accepted. I have not received any unfavorable reaction."

The series has rolled up phenomenal ratings. Sunday night it got a Nielsen rating of 40.5 and a 61 per cent share of the audience.

Monday night the rating was 44.0 and the share 62 per cent.

The Tuesday night rating was 44.8 and the share 68 per cent. Only the two-part presentation of "Gone With the Wind" got a higher rating.

Among the group taking the course from Stanton are Chief C. L. Rogers, Steve Vestal, Charles Sebastian, Deputy Tim Hudson and Deputy Chuck James.

Search continues for three

BAYTOWN Tex. (AP) — A sunken tug boat was expected to be raised today and the search continued for its three crew members, presumed drowned when the vessel sank after a series of explosions ripped across the Exxon docks here.

The tug, Nathan B., sank and the tanker Exxon San Francisco sustained minor fire damage in the early Thursday morning incident. Eleven persons were hurt in the explosion and fire but only one was hospitalized.

The missing men were identified as Capt. Dale Wolford of Jasper, Ruffin Hardin of Orange and Wendell Drodzy of Port Neches.

Juan Vasquez, 25, of Baytown, an Exxon employee, was reported in satisfactory condition in a Galveston Hospital with second and third degree burns over 12 per cent of his body. The other injured men were treated at a Baytown hospital and released.

"The were loading heating oil through a loading arm when the arm broke, spraying heating oil over the dock," said Lt. Dennis Sande of the U. S. Coast Guard, which has scheduled an inquiry into the blast.

Sande said that according to reports, the tug, which was docked on the other side of the pier from the San Francisco, started her engines "and it was shortly after that the explosions occurred."

Sande said the tug went down immediately in the murky bay waters.

Thomas Votisis, 28, one of 26 crewmen on the Norfolk, Va., tanker, said he had just gone to sleep in the crew quarters at the stern of the 800-foot vessel when he heard the blasts.

"All of a sudden I heard this big bang," Votisis said. "I saw flames when I got on deck and I jumped into a fire station on board. I was on the ship some 45 minutes afterwards and I kept hearing these explosions and it seemed like there was no hope so I jumped overboard and went under."

Votisis was rescued as were several other crewmen of the tanker who leaped into the water.

An Exxon spokesman said the tanker sustained only minor fire damage on the deck. The refiner's operations were not affected by the blast.

Comments came freely in survey

The Herald appreciates the tremendous response it received to its readership survey.

More than 1 per cent of the subscribers responded, and that's not too bad since it was strictly a voluntary, one-time thing. We thank everyone who went to the trouble to fill the survey out and mail it back to us.

THE POINT OF THE readership survey was to give us an idea what you are reading in the newspaper and what you are not. The survey, which ran in the Sunday Jan. 16 newspaper, was not a scientific one, so we cannot say with any certainty that the response was representative.

But at least it gives us ideas on how to make our newspaper better. The most interesting part of the survey to us were the comments — and boy, did we get lots of comments. One comment that many persons made was that the boxes and the questions in the survey did not line up correctly. They were right. Somehow, we put two extra rows of boxes, and it made marking the answers more difficult. The Herald apologizes.

A sampling of other comments were:

- It is not safe to quote anything from the Herald.
- Finley is funny.
- Columnists and feature writers are boring; more news needed about Howard College; some headlines badly written.
- Need articles that somehow would wake up these bleeding hearts who are more concerned with protecting criminals than their victims.
- Need more national news on Page One; after 40 states and 14 countries, the Herald is one of the best papers I've ever read.
- The paper really lacks something.
- Content and make-up is excellent.
- I want Dick Tracy again.
- Errors hurt (like Boogy for boggy). Thank you for Walt Finley, Marj Carpenter, Tommy Hart.
- The rims are nice. (Around the Rim columns)
- Hate all rims except Sunday.

—MOST NEWS IS slanted, and you're guilty of cover-up. We need to know more of what is going on in our city government.

- Not enough on farm markets.
- The editorial page is excellent; keep up the good work, especially Action-reaction.
- The Herald does not tell things the way they are. It's too friendly. Be controversial.
- I take it partly for the ads.
- We like it as is; we have read it 26 years.
- It's okay for a small town paper.
- You're doing a good job.
- Danny Reagan is a fine human being.
- Let us see something positive about ERA (Equal Rights Amendment).
- Too many egotistical writers; taking it all in, it is a good small town paper.
- To (sic) many mistake (sic) in English.
- An idea corner to improve city where people could write to communicate ways of improving city life.
- Pages don't always look good. Got sick of Carter during election.
- Not enough on Big Spring.

—I like Focalpoint; good pictures.
—You covered Carter good.
—The Herald is great in my thinking.
—No in-depth reporting on controversial issues.

—WHEN YOU RUN a survey, I'd like for the number of answer blocks to be the same as the number of questions.
—So much improved; very, very pleased.
—I detest Doonesbury.
—I want Doonesbury every day.
—We are very proud of the Big Spring Herald. We think it is the best small town paper anywhere.
The list of comments could go on and on. We could have pages of them. In fact, some readers attached separate comment sheets. We are now studying these and others for ways to put some of the ideas into practice.
A story on how the survey came out will be featured in this Sunday's issue of the Herald.
Again, thanks for the comments good and bad.

Up from misery
William F. Buckley, Jr.

A friend of long standing who has never asked me to devote this space to advertising any enthusiasm of his has now, diffidently, made the exception. He does not want to do anything less than what he can do, through his own efforts and those of his friends, to pass along the word that, within walking distance of the great majority of Americans, there is help waiting which can lead them out of the darkness as indisputably as an eye surgeon restoring sight to someone who has suffered from near-blindness.

Kenneth (we'll call him) is a cocky feller, something of a sport, tough-talking, an ace in his individualistic profession, (who remembers getting drunk at college in the late 20's on the night he won an important boxing match, but at no other time during his college career.) Emerging from college into the professional world, he reeved up slowly, hitting in his late 30's his cruising speed: two or three martinis per day. These he was dearly attached to, but not apparently dominated by: he would not gladly go a day without his martinis, but neither did he, after the third, require a fourth.

THEN IN THE spring of 1972 his gentle, devoted (teetotaling) wife had a mastectomy; the prognosis optimistic, but with a shade of uncertainty. So, to beef up his morale, he increased the dosage just a little bit. When, later that year, the doctor called to tell him the worst, he walked straightaway to the nearest bar, and in the agonizing months ahead he was able clinically to meditate what was happening. After she died, he began buying a fifth each of bourbon and gin on Saturdays, a week's supply to eke out the several martinis he had been drinking at and after lunch. Fascinated, he watched himself casually making minor alterations: "Make that quarts" was the modest beginning. Then the resupplying would come on Friday; then Thursday. In due course it was a quart per day.

In the morning he would begin; one, then up to five snorts before leaving for the office, at later and later hours. Before reaching the door he would rinse out his mouth. But always — this too fascinated him, as he realized the totality of his servitude — he would, on turning the door handle, go back: for just one more.

(At night he would prepare himself dinner, then lie down for a little nap, wake hours later, go to the kitchen to eat the dinner — only to find he had already eaten it. Once he returned to a restaurant three hours after having eaten his dinner: he forgot he had been there. Black-outs, he called the experiences.)

Food delays alcohol absorption

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm told that if one eats when drinking alcohol, the alcohol won't get absorbed into the bloodstream, and you won't get drunk. Is this so? — M.G.

If I had never seen a drunk at a banquet I'd agree with you.

Ordinarily alcohol is absorbed pretty quickly, some through the stomach, most through the small intestine. The greater the concentration the more rapid the absorption, and the faster the drinker gets drunk. Distilled spirits (such as gin and vodka) are absorbed more rapidly, the alcohol from wines and beers more slowly.

Food in the stomach is a definite factor, especially with the distilled spirits. One study indicates that when alcoholic beverages are taken with a substantial meal the peak blood-alcohol concentrations may be reduced by as much as 50 per cent.

The speed of drinking is also important. The more rapidly the beverage is ingested the higher the peak of blood-alcohol concentration and the "higher" the drinker.

The emptying time of the stomach, also plays a role. Under some conditions (for example, with the "dumping" syndrome), the stomach empties faster than normal and the alcohol is absorbed more quickly in the intestines. Fear, anger, stress, nausea, and the state of the stomach lining can be factors.

Also, the greater the body weight, the lower the blood-alcohol concentration. In one example, the blood-alcohol level produced in a 180-pound man consuming four ounces of distilled spirits are substantially lower than when that amount was taken by a 130-pound man over the same time period.

Intoxication occurs through the digestive tract, so the story about the fellow getting sloshed by sniffing a bottle cork is medically impossible.

Carbonated beverages used with liquor increase the absorption time of the alcohol, which is normally absorbed at the rate of one ounce of 90-proof whisky per hour.

One further note about food and alcohol. I'm afraid the eating would have to be continuous throughout an evening of drinking. Most of the alcohol is, as I noted, absorbed through the lining of the first (small) intestine. When food has left the small intestine, the alcohol absorption rate there returns to what it was.

Vaginitis can strike any woman at any time in her life. You can find out about the causes — and the cures — for this troublesome complaint in Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment." To get your copy, write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am 95 years old, and have been a Christian for more than 80 years. Please tell people that it is worth it to be a Christian. God has been so faithful to me throughout the years, and I long for others to know that Christ is always with us. — S.C.H.

DEAR S.C.H.: Thank you for that testimony! There is always something inspiring about someone who has lived for Christ many years, and has learned through experience of the constant love of God. God is completely faithful, and it is good to know that His promises are just as good when we are old as when we are young. "Till you grow old I am He, and when white hairs come, I will carry you still; I have made you and will bear the burden, I will carry you and bring you to safety" (Isaiah 46:4, New English Bible).

I think a lot of people today are interested in Jesus Christ, but as you say, they really wonder if it is "worth it" to be a Christian. People want a faith that works. How wonderful it is that Jesus Christ gives us true life. He said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (John 10:10).

This is no empty promise, because when we come to know Christ as our Lord and Saviour we are adopted into the family of God, and we become children of God. Nothing can take that away from us.

Some of God's choicest servants were old when God used them. Abraham was 100 when his son Isaac was born. Moses was 80 when God called him to lead the Israelites out of Egypt. Daniel was an old man when he was cast into the lion's den for his faithfulness to God. Simeon and Anna were old when they recognized the infant Jesus as the Messiah. Some of Paul's most fruitful years were when he was an old man.

God bless you as you seek to serve Christ the rest of your life!

Bob Burton

So you thought pet rocks were just a fad?

I have just perused a page from ECKANKAR, a "non-profit religious educational organization". The address of this group is Menlo Park, Calif., but they're really much further out than that.

Here is the release:

"Will Corkey go to heaven?" the crying child asked at the backyard funeral of her pet parakeet. The parents couldn't comfort her, because they didn't know about ECKANKAR, the Ancient Science of Soul Travel, as taught by Sri Darwin Gross, the MAHANTA, the Living ECK Master.

'ANIMALS DO INDEED have a heaven that they go to after translation," says Darwin Gross. "And there is an ECK Master named Prajapati who takes care of them and guides their spiritual unfoldment."

Many basic answers to the questions in life go unanswered for a lack of a key that has always existed within each individual, to open the way into the heavenly realm for him to see for himself. That key is Soul Travel, and the way is called ECKANKAR, or 'all-inclusiveness with God' as taught by the ECK Masters in every age.

Sri Darwin Gross continues, "The way into heaven, including the animal heaven, has been taught for ages in ECKANKAR. The animal form is but one of many forms Soul takes on in a long succession of lifetimes to learn Self-Realization and God-Realization. Animals as well as plants and minerals are divine Soul only in a different form. Each individual Soul, in whatever form, has four bodies around Soul: the physical, the astral (emotions), the causal (cause and effect and the time track) and the mental. These bodies comprise the microcosm which corresponds with planes of existence in the macrocosm.

Each form of life, whether it be a rock, a dog or a bird, or man, is imbued by SUGMAD (as God is called in ECKANKAR) with a divine spark called Soul. The lower forms of life have a wordless consciousness that does not reason; nevertheless it perceives the world in its own way, and the consciousness does not end at death of the animal or human, but goes on to another level."

Well, rock-lovers! What can we anticipate from this? Will there be rock-mediums to contact the wordless SUGMAD of dear departed boulders?

And what about ECK? I always thought it was spelled Yecch, but I won't argue.

TO BE PERFECTLY, if briefly, frank, I was out wandering in the wilderness late one evening when I somehow began debating the meaning of life with a nearby prickly pear. The fact that the pear won the discussion and convinced me to donate to his (favorite) religion was the turning point of my life. All my savings are channeled toward what the pear told me. I remain unshakable in my conviction that there is a life after death. I am convinced that Gary Gilmore has returned to the earth as a Liberian tanker.

Still unsolved

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Three years after the Arab oil embargo, Washington still hasn't developed a plan to protect the nation from another oil squeeze.

This incredible failure is acknowledged in a secret national security memo, known as Policy Study No. 38, which President Jimmy Carter found waiting for him when he settled into the Oval Office.

The recent cold spell, meanwhile, has put a squeeze on America's dwindling oil and gas reserves, even though there is no embargo.

A YEAR AGO, President Gerald Ford ordered his national security adviser, Brent Scowcroft, to set up a task force to find ways "to ensure a reliable supply of required energy imports at reasonable prices over the next five years." The task force was instructed to give special consideration to "influencing pricing and production decisions in exporting nations."

Their report was supposed to be completed by March 15, 1976, but the policymakers kept sending the drafts back for revision. A tentative report was submitted last July. But, according to a secret briefing paper prepared for President Carter, this was also returned "to answer major questions that had been omitted, and a new working outline was developed."

The report still hasn't been "finalized." The briefing paper blames the State Dept. for keeping "overly tight control of the study." The striped-pants set allegedly tried to manipulate the study "to rubber stamp (their) existing international energy initiatives."

This charge has irritated State Dept. officials, who hold the Treasury experts responsible for the delay. "They came up with questions, but they never had any answers," grumped one official.

The State Dept. wants to "lessen the impact" of future oil price increases, according to the briefing paper, but cutting back imports.

But the Treasury Dept. contends that "further arbitrary reductions in the amount of oil we import do not appear economically justified at present." This would merely result in a corresponding cutback in trade and an economic slowdown at home, the Treasury experts warn.

They, therefore, fear "such a policy could inflict higher costs upon the American consumer than the anticipated (oil) price increases." Treasury officials would rather stockpile oil, as a hedge against an embargo, than reduce imports.

But in the backrooms, the experts are quarreling over who should pay for the strategic petroleum reserves. "If oil for storage is procured domestically," states another briefing paper, "it will have to be replaced with additional imports." Of course, this would raise prices, and the consumers would get stuck with the cost of building up the stockpile.

BUT IF THE government purchased oil for the stockpile directly from foreign sources at world market prices, the taxpayers would wind up paying the bill. Or the government could compel the refiners and importers to establish an industrial reserve. Then the oil companies would have to put up the money, although they likely would collect it back from their customers by raising prices.

The Treasury experts are also toying with the idea of buying "directly from foreign governments," according to the document. If this principle should be applied to all overseas oil purchases, it could save millions by eliminating the oil middlemen.

BURTON'S BROUHAHA: A congressman with a toothache, like a grizzly bear that is out of sorts with the world, is better left alone.

Rep. Phil Burton, D-Calif., for example, is one of the most amiable men in Congress when his tooth isn't hurting. But the other morning, he set out for the dentist to get a painful chipped tooth repaired. The bitter cold weather didn't improve his disposition.

AT A RED LIGHT, Burton impatiently ordered his driver to make an illegal right turn. The infraction was witnessed by a policeman, who motioned the car to the curb. He approached the congressional vehicle, his face flushed with righteous indignation.

But he was unaware, poor fellow, that he was approaching a grizzly bear of a congressman with a sore tooth. Burton threw open the door, leaned out and began to berate the befuddled cop. "I want your badge number!" bellowed Burton.

The policeman was too startled to press charges, and the congressman completed the journey to the dentist. "It was just one of those crazy things," he told us afterward. Now that his tooth is feeling better, he's sorry about the incident.

CARTER CAPSULES: Now that Jimmy Carter is installed in the White House, his campaign aides have loosened up on some of the campaign secrets. Here are a few stories they are now telling:

—Carter's irrepressible mother, "Miss Lillian," was so painfully frank that campaign aides quietly limited her appearances. They feared she would speak too honestly about some of the pro-segregationist views of the president's father. In New York, for example, her escorts went out of their way to keep her from the press.

—The campaigning Carter family became scattered so far and wide that they used the peripatetic advance men to pass messages to each other. Little Amy Carter, for example, got birthday greetings from her brother Chip, courtesy of an advance man who passed the message on to "Miss Lillian."

—One group that came out with high marks with the Carters was the Charlie Daniels Band. The Carters were so impressed with them that they may want the band to play a concert on the White House lawn.

Sutton named manager of plant in Snyder

SNYDER—Ronnie Sutton has succeeded Don Finnell as manager of the Walls Industries plant here.

Spears accepts chairmanship

Bill Spears of Coahoma has accepted the chairmanship of the Annual Spring Special Event on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Spears will be recruiting volunteers within the community to plan an entertaining activity to take place this spring. Purpose of this special event will be to provide the community with information about Cystic Fibrosis and to raise funds to support research, education and care programs for children affected by cystic fibrosis, and other lung-damaging diseases like severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, and bronchiectasis.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children. Approximately one in every 20 Americans is a symptomless carrier of the recessive C-F gene. Cystic Fibrosis is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene. At the present time, no cure for Cystic Fibrosis is known.

LVNs study special diets

Howard College and the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital are involved in a cooperative effort to make future LVNs aware of procedures and methods involved in dietary services in hospitals as each of the 21 LVN students at the college spend a day in the VA Hospital's Dietetic Service Area.

The students observe how food is prepared, how special diets are determined and prepared, how special eating utensils are used by the disabled, and how diets are evaluated.

Lisetta Brickman, R.D., Chief of Dietetics, and JoBeth Adamson, R.D., Therapeutic and Clinic Dietitian, are in charge of the instruction. The 21 students are instructed two at a time with a full day of instruction from Jan. 31 through March 7.

LVNs include: Loretta Walls, Dlynda Reed, Amber Jones, Terri Droke, Rhonda Kerby, Gladys Kirkland, Sandra Marshall, Debra Sizenbach, Ethel Williams, Betty Schmidt, Dora Harris, Sandra Jaure, Opal Gaskins, Janice Huff, Bertha Chavez, Deborah Allen, Olnee Menges, Susie Ryerson, Carol Bair, Julie Nobles, Leta Hodges.

Carter faces impeachment

ANDREWS—Psychic Jeane Dixon told the annual Andrews Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday that she believed Americans would be shooting for the impeachment of President Jimmy Carter this year because of the nation's negotiations over the Panama Canal.

The Panamanian government has long advocated the return of the canal to Panama. Ms. Dixon said she also expected a serious confrontation between the United States and Russia over Yugoslavia. County Commissioner Jax Moxley was honored as the county's outstanding citizen.

of the Walls plant in Big Spring, has been promoted to assistant manufacturing manager. In that capacity, he will work with Victor Conrad, executive vice president and manufacturing manager of the parent firm.

Sutton formerly managed the Aileen Inc., firm in Snyder and more recently has been serving as manager of the Walls operations in Sweetwater.

Mike Conrad is the new manager of the Walls plant in Sweetwater.

Walls operates plants in Cleburne, Clifton, Gatesville, Breckenridge, Big Spring, Snyder and Sweetwater. The company manufactures a wide variety of wearing apparel.

Knox, Pickle D. C. bound

Malone-Hogan's Norman Knox will be in Washington, D.C. Jan. 31 through Feb. 2 to participate in legislative dialogue, under the auspices of American Medical Association and Texas Hospital Association.

One of 35 hospital administrators from Texas Hospitals, Knox's partner in dialogue will be Congressman Omar Burleson.

The occasion is THA's annual sojourn into the legislative arena in an effort to acquaint itself with upcoming legislation affecting Texas hospitals, and eventually its patients.

"Most people know that many governmental regulations have been good for the patient, but few people understand that these regulations almost always result in highest costs to them when it comes time to pay the hospital bill," Knox commented. Administrators will caucus with its own peers, then be assigned to specific legislators for orientation into upcoming legislation.

Board member Joe Pickle will accompany Knox to Washington.

C-C banquet at Stanton

STANTON—Bob Murphy, popular after dinner speaker, will provide the entertainment at the Martin County Chamber of Commerce banquet in Stanton at the community center at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Special awards will be Outstanding Man, Outstanding woman and Outstanding Farmer. Two employees of the quarter will also be named.

George Hedstrom is incoming president, with Jimmy Mathis, outgoing head officer of the chamber. Other incoming officers are Bill Young, vice president and Mrs. Latrelle Welch, secretary.

The incoming directors include Paul Crosthwait, Mrs. Margie Douglas and Mrs. Welch. Holdover directors include Terry Neill, Hughlyn Todd, Mike Black, Rodger Burch, Young and Hedstrom.

Outgoing directors are Gary Chastain, Charles Blocker and Mathis.

'Amber Jim' excites fans

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Her No. 1 fan, murderer Gary Gilmore, is dead, but 11-year-old "Amber Jim" Hunt continues to excite the local Golden Gloves boxing world.

The Salt Lake City girl, who received hundreds of dollars worth of gifts from Gilmore before his Jan. 17 execution, has won all eight of her fights against boys by technical knockouts.

"For her weight and experience, she's the best in the world," says her coach, "Chappie" Hayashi of the Police Athletic League.

When two boys damaged a bike Gilmore gave her, she knocked them down and they "crawled off" into a store, said her father, Jack Hunt.

Amber Edwina Hunt—she prefers "Amber Jim"—has had six exhibition victories in the 65-pound class, all first-round TKOs. She won her first Golden Gloves Junior Olympics bout with a first-round TKO, and her second, against Freddie Gonzales, 55 seconds into the second round. Both were preceded by rhyming predictions, in the manner of her idol, Muhammad Ali, of the victory rounds.

Her next bout will be Feb. 18. She doesn't know who it will be against, but "I call him Winnie the Pooh, and he'll follow Freddie out in Round 2," predicts Amber, who hopes to win the Olympic boxing gold medal in 1984, then turn pro.

Amber said she wrote Gilmore in prison after reading a story quoting him as advising children to get into sports to stay out of trouble.

Gilmore responded with a telegram, a $200 money order, and the first of about a dozen letters, most of them several pages long.

Jack Hunt said he didn't consider releasing the letters while Gilmore was alive, but now he feels Gilmore liked publicity and would want to help advance Amber's publicity.

Hunt and Amber say the letters help to show Gilmore, who admitted killing two men in a drunken rage, was a good man.

Amber and Gilmore exchanged poems, pictures, religious thoughts and affection. The Hunt family follows a Buddhist-type faith, including a belief in reincarnation shared by Gilmore. Amber said she believes she is an incarnation of sportswoman Babe Zaharias.

Home plumbing repairs shown

"Powder Puff Plumbing" as presented by Mrs. Kenneth Orr at Tuesday's meeting of the Center Point Home Demonstration Club, explained the fundamentals of household plumbing, along with procedures for making common repairs.

Mrs. Orr illustrated her instructions by using miniature fixtures supplied by the extension office.

Business included the announcement that suggestions for the 1977 yearbook should be given to Mrs. L.J. Davidson. Also, it was agreed to sponsor a plan to present token gifts to each young person taking part in the recent 4-H stock show.

Hostesses were Mrs. C.T. Lindley and Mrs. Oscar Nabors, with the attendance prize going to Mrs. H.M. Haygood.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Feb. 8 when a representative of The Final Touch, a local accessory shop, will speak on home decorating.

Find Out Why Mate Needs to Lie

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a college graduate and successful businessman. He is also a habitual liar. When we're out socially (or on vacation) he tells such outrageous lies that I'm embarrassed. He has tripped himself up so many times, then vows he'll never lie again, but he continues to do so.

It's a way of life with him. It's bad enough that he lies to others, but his constant lying to me has become more than I can bear. We've been married for 25 years and have four children.

I considered divorce because of his lying, and he dragged me into therapy. It gave me a handle on my life, but it didn't help him, so don't suggest therapy. I've offered him his freedom, but he swears he loves me and won't consider it.

I love him, but every time he lies I'm ready to throw in the towel. Maybe if I knew why he lied so much I could cope better. Help me.

FEELING HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: Chronic liars are insecure people who feel that they must appear better, more important or "bigger" than they really are. And they usually lie to create that impression. Others merely fabricate tales in an effort to be more entertaining. Perhaps your husband could be helped if he were to understand why he seems unable to resist lying.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy. Almost 16, really. I recently got kicked out of school until my parents had a talk with the principal.

Well, because of that, my dad says I can't get anything that requires a license to operate until I am 18. No car, no motorcycle—nothing with wheels.

Abby, I know I did wrong. I am sorry and I even said so, but my father doesn't believe me. How can I get him to change his mind and lower the line? Please give me some suggestions; man, two years is a long time to wait.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Go about your daily life, proving at every opportunity that you are a more mature, responsible boy than you have shown yourself to be previously.

Study harder, be especially courteous and willing to help around the house, and in general start a self-improvement program.

I promise you, it will be noticed, and if you change your ways, your father may change his mind.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! Does a runaway 17-year-old girl have any rights? I have a 5-month-old baby and am living with a guy whom I care about very much. I also have a job and a roof over my head. I haven't been home since the baby was born for fear my parents would have my boyfriend arrested.

I've heard that at 17 there is nothing they can do providing I am O.K. Is this true?

HOMESICK AND WORRIED

DEAR HOMESICK: Check with the Legal Aid Service listed in your telephone book. There you will get legally sound and confidential advice.

Ceremony Young Homemakers performed in Stanton

Miss Terri R. Graves and Mark A. Crosby were united in marriage the afternoon of Jan. 22 in the First Baptist Church, Stanton. The Rev. Clinton Eastman solemnized the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crosby, Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves, Stanton.

White chrysanthemums and carnations interlaced with greenery entwined the gold spiral candelabra holding white tapers to form the altar background.

Mrs. Roy Koonce, organist, accompanied the vocalist, Roy Koonce.

The bride wore an A-line creation of Quiana knit, Alencon lace and crystal pleating. The fitted bodice was enhanced with a deep V-neckline traced with Alencon lace, pearls and pleating, and the long, slim sleeves graced the wrist with lace and pleating. The skirt was highlighted with a deep flounce at the hemline.

Alencon lace tracing the flounce. Her mantilla of French illusion was edged in matching lace and gathered to a matching lace Camelot caplet sprinkled with pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of white carnations and chrysanthemums, tied with streamers of blue picot satin ribbons.

Miss Leigh Ann Graves sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. James A. Crosby, father of the bridegroom, was best man.

The tapers were lighted by Craig Graves, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church where the refreshment table was draped in white satin overlaid with French lace and net. Serving were Miss Rena Koonce, Miss Glee Henson and Mrs. Roy Koonce. Guests were registered by Miss Tracy Williams.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School and attended Angelo State University. The bridegroom is an employee of Pool Oil Company of San Angelo.

More than 700 members and advisors of the State Association of Young Homemakers of Texas are expected for their 15th annual state meeting in Fort Worth, today and Saturday. The Sheraton-Fort Worth Hotel will be convention headquarters.

Young Homemakers, an association of young adults ranging from 18 to 35 years of age who are interested in improving their home-making knowledge and skills, have chosen "Families — The Firm Foundation" as the convention theme. The group has scheduled three distinguished presenters to highlight the meeting.

Keynote speaker for the opening session will be Dr. Thomas J. Shipp, pastor of Lovers Lane United Methodist Church in Dallas. Dr. Shipp is well known as a speaker and author. His address is entitled "Life is What You Make It."

During the afternoon session Dr. Genevieve Blair, director of the graduate program in early childhood education at Lewis University's Lockport campus, will present a talk with visuals based on "A Child's Eye View of the World." On Saturday morning, Larry and Sharon Rice of Lubbock will present a program of music interspersed with comments about their respective roles as husband-father and wife-mother.

Today, a luncheon will be held in the Tarrant County Convention Center featuring the presentation of YHT awards. An Outstanding Chapter and Outstanding New Chapter Award are presented each year to chapters judged to have contributed the most toward the growth of individual members and the community.

In addition, a State Little Sister Award is given to a Future Homemaker of America who has been outstanding as a member of her family, school, church, and community. At this luncheon Honorary Members will also be named. The Swingers, a musical group from Duncanville High School, will be featured entertainers at the luncheon. Throughout the two-day sessions exhibits and displays will be hosted by representatives of various companies and manufacturers.

During the Saturday session, YHT delegates will elect a new state president to succeed Nancy Cannon of Hale Center. The annual meeting will conclude with the installation of officers. Recently elected to begin a two-year term on the state executive committee are Soundra Christy of Childress; Ellen Nelson, League City; Phyllis Rogers, Krum; Pam Lester, Gonzales; and Della Madison of Port Arthur. Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency, sponsors the Young Homemakers of Texas, while homemaking teachers serve as chapter advisors.

Texas slayer granted stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A convicted Texas murderer, who says he knows he's going to die in the electric chair, has been granted a delay in his Feb. 10 execution by a U.S. Supreme Court justice.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. on Thursday ordered Texas officials to allow Woodkins to live until the court decides whether to hear his appeal. Woodkins, 21, of Marshall, Tex., was convicted in March 1975 of the kidnap-slaying of Marshall insurance agent Jimmy Kuykendall.

According to testimony at Woodkins' trial, he and two other persons abducted Kuykendall from a public phone, forced him at gun point to a rural area where he was shot. Kuykendall was robbed of $90.

Ruby Hicks, one of the persons with Woodkins during the abduction, received total immunity for her testimony against Woodkins. Douglas Pilot, the other member of the trio, is serving a 25-year prison term for murder.

Woodkins' conviction was upheld by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, which ordered a state district court judge to set an execution date. Woodkins was sentenced on Dec. 1 to die in the electric chair.

Attorneys for Woodkins told Powell, who serves as circuit justice for Texas, the condemned man will appeal what he considers to be numerous trial errors.

The attorneys claimed prospective jurors were wrongly excluded on the basis of general opposition to the death penalty, that

Captain Kidd 'nice guy'?

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Captain Kidd, the infamous 17th Century pirate, was really a bumbling buccaneer whose buried treasures don't exist, says a University of California historian.

The purportedly roguish 17th century Scottish area captain who was hanged in London lacked even "the killer instinct to be an effective pirate," says Dr. Robert C. Ritchie, who sums up:

"The fact is, Captain Kidd is basically a nice guy."

Ritchie, an associate professor of history at UC San Diego, has traveled to England a half dozen times in 10 years of research on William Kidd.

Texas state penitentiary at Huntsville.

The condemned man has said he would be prepared to spend the rest of his life in prison if allowed to live. He called death by electrocution "the terriblest way to die."

Texas' death penalty law was upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court last July 2. The state has since scheduled several executions but all have been postponed pending appeals.

Wrong number, Ma Bell claims

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court has been asked by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to order a state district judge to suspend a rate increase less than 20 per cent as big as the one Bell wants.

Bell asked for a writ of mandamus from the high court Thursday. It said Judge Jim Meyer of Austin should be compelled to reverse his refusal to suspend the order by the new Public Utilities Commission.

Bell asked for rate increases totaling $296.7 million a year. The PUC granted only $57.8 million. This is so low, Bell contends, as to amount to confiscation of its property.

The law creating the PUC provides for suspension of PUC orders in confiscation cases.

Bell says it should be allowed to charge the rates it originally asked for, pending appeal. It will post a reasonable bond to insure repayment if it loses the appeal, it says.

"We feel strongly that the commission's rate order must be set aside," said Doyle Rogers, Bell's chief executive in Texas. "The ## Fear triggered shotgun death?

HENRIETTA, Tex. (AP) — A witness in the murder trial of William Leon Pinson says Pinson told him he shot John Keith during a 1975 robbery of Keith's Wichita Falls home because he "got scared."

Alton Woodruff Fanchier Jr., 25, serving a 12-year prison term for his part in the Keith slaying, also testified Thursday that former Wichita Falls businessman James F. LeBus set up the robbery of the Keith ranch home that ended up in Keith's shotgun slaying.

LeBus is also in state prison in Huntsville, serving four years for burglary as the admitted fingerman behind a series of burglaries in the country club section of Wichita Falls.

Fanchier, who later testified that his life has been threatened, said Pinson, 51, shot the 61-year-old Keith during the robbery.

Fanchier said Pinson told him he shot Keith because "I got scared."

He testified that LeBus "called Clyde Burns and said he had done business with them (brothers Jim and Kenneth Keith) and had checked out their coin collection through a coin book." Fanchier said plans for the robbery were made six months prior to the robbery.

LeBus, who was convicted in a Dallas state court last September, had never been implicated in the Keith robbery throughout his trial.

commission and the district court have ignored the company's established need for additional rates and also have ignored the law regulating public utilities in Texas."

Atty. Gen. John Hill argued in Meyer's court that Bell should stop behaving as if it were entitled to special privileges. Bell should follow the normal appeal route and not seek extraordinary judicial remedies, he said. Posting a bond will not guarantee repayment in all cases, Hill said, because customers must file claims.

"THOSE CRAZY EPISCOPALIANS"

do they really "go to school" before joining the church?

As much as anything else, the Confirmation (or Inquirers) Classes are for the "joiners' own protection... so that he knows exactly what he's getting into. This simple, interesting set of instructions from the minister assures complete understanding of the church's tenets. Attendance at these classes carries no obligation to become a member.

Episcopalians don't discount the sudden revelation of God's presence. They do, however, believe that a more deliberate initiation into church membership may be less likely to wear thin in subsequent years.

They have some pretty good reasons for believing the Christian faith involves both the heart and the head. They don't mind being joshed about their "thinking-man's religion." Christ, they say, demanded simple faith — but not blind faith.

Periodically, your nearest Episcopal church offers a series of inquirers' classes. Here's an excellent opportunity to learn, without obligation, if the Episcopal Church offers something you've found missing in your previous religious experience. The minister — if you call him — would be delighted to discuss it with you.

Confirmation and Inquirer's Classes begin Sunday January 30, at 4 P.M. in the Parish Hall. You are invited

East Texas University Choir due Saturday

COMMERCE — East Texas State University's 50-member Chorale will begin its spring concert tour series next week.

The Chorale will sing at First Christian Church in Big Spring at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 29.

The Chorale has appeared with such groups as the Dallas and San Antonio Symphony Orchestras in addition to its many concerts.

Other concerts during the week will be at Fort Worth, Irving, Midland and Iowa Park.

Alan R. Hill, a tenor with the Chorale, is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He is a graduate student majoring in music education and the son of Robert C. Hill, 1419 Sycamore, Big Spring.

Robert Lloyd, also with the Chorale, is a bass and graduate of Big Spring High School. He is a senior music education major and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson H. Lloyd, 1007 E. 15th St., Big Spring.

Lamesa Baptist set dedication of organ

The long-awaited organ dedication ceremony will take place at the First Baptist Church in Lamesa Sunday at 7 p.m.

John Bryant, a former Lamesan, now minister of music at the First United Methodist Church in Odessa, will be guest organist.

The $25,000 Rogers Providence 330 was purchased in September and has been in use at the church for several months. The dedication service will give those attending the opportunity to hear the instrument's many qualities exemplified.

The three monaural Rogers 330 has balanced expressive pedals with illuminated sincremental expressive indicators. An electronic masterpiece, the organ has a speaking system designed to deliver either full spectrum organ tones or specific segments corresponding to a closer range of voices.

The guest organist is a native Lamesan who began piano study there at the age of seven and the organ at 13. He studied with both Mrs. Ireba Edwards and Mrs. Lorene Groves before attending North Texas State. He graduated from Baylor and did graduate study at Michigan and SMU.

Bryant is a former organist of First Baptist Church and the son of Mrs.

the Meistersingers while at Big Spring High School and was an All-State Bass two years. He is currently serving as president of the East Texas State University Chorale and will perform as a soloist with the choir.

New communicants include Cindy Bentley, Colleen Craver, Richard Dockett, Joel Jennings, Glenda Kohl, Melanie Leonard, Mark Silen, Tommy Taylor, Elizabeth von Hassell and Mike Winkleman.

This is an important day in the lives of these young people, local church officials pointed out and special ceremonies are held in conjunction with the event.

The Westside Baptist Church, 1200 West 4th, will host a gospel singing group Sunday at 6 p.m.

Jimmy Boyd and the Joint Heirs will present a concert at the church at 6 p.m., according to H.C. McPherson, pastor.

The entire evening service will be musical. The public is invited to come and enjoy the program, according to the Rev. McPherson.

Richard Crawley, longtime resident and musician, will also play for the service. Another performer will be Mark Hall, bandmaster of Lamesa Middle School.

KNOW HIM

And by this we know that we have come to know Him, if we keep His commandments.

The one who says, "I have come to know Him," and does not keep His commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him;

First Big Spring Catholics came from Stanton area

The earliest Catholics in Big Spring came from Stanton in the 1880's. Stanton was known at that time as Marienfeld. The first priests, Rev. Father Anastase Peters and his brother, Boniface Peters who arrived there in August, 1882, camped in tents for awhile until a wooden shanty could be built.

These men introduced to the spiritual needs of Catholics along the railroad from Colorado City to Toyah and since there were no churches, they celebrated mass in various homes. These homes in Big Spring were: Theo Scholz, J. Peters, Louis Huttanus, James Blair, and A.F. Weeg. Father Boniface directed the building of the first Catholic church in Big Spring in 1885. During this time several missions were founded in western Texas. In addition to the one in Big Spring, they were Colorado City, Midland, Pecos City, Toyah, and as far as 200 miles to Eddy, New Mexico.

Another mission was founded in 1889 in Fort Davis, Texas with two residing priests of the order. Father Boniface had no railway connections; one of the two priests had to visit the stations of this large parish, 300 miles square, with a hack, a pair of sturdy mules and a Mexican driver. The trip usually took about six weeks and was made six times a year.

Father Boniface was one of the first to minister to the needs of the Catholics in Big Spring and he directed the building of St. Mary's Church, the first Catholic Church in Big Spring, in 1885. The Carmelite Fathers left Stanton in 1901 and Big Spring was attended only infrequently by Father Joseph Hoban, a secular priest, and by Father Herbert Brockman, a member of the Franciscan order, from Carlsbad, New Mexico.

The year 1906 is significant in Catholic history of Big Spring as the Oblates of Mary Immaculate (O.M.I.) arrived in Stanton. The Rev. Isidore Tresch attended Big Spring and definite steps were taken to provide special facilities for the Mexican people of Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

KFYO—790 "Words of Love" Sunday, 9:06 a.m.
A Series of Sermons on The Lord's Supper is Now in Progress. Sermon Subjects are:
"Is a Plurality of Communion Cups Scriptural?" Jan. 30
"Literal Until Proven Figurative" Feb. 6
Did You Know —
--that THE BIBLE IS WRITTEN IN CLEAR UNDERSTANDABLE WORDS THAT HAVE MEANINGS?
--that WE MUST HAVE A STANDARD TO WHICH WE CAN GO FOR THE MEANINGS OF WORDS — OR WE CAN MAKE THEM MEAN ANYTHING WE WANT THEM TO MEAN?
--that THE BIBLE DOES NOT "DEFINE" A WORD AND GIVE IT A MEANING CONTRARY TO WHAT THE DICTIONARIES OR GREEK-ENGLISH LEXICONS GIVE?
--that TO MAKE THE WORD "CUP" MEAN "FRUIT OF THE VINE", ALL LANGUAGE AUTHORITIES MUST BE IGNORED?
--that IF THE WORD "CUP" (MATT. 26:27) DOES NOT MEAN "CUP" (DRINKING VESSEL AS WE NORMALLY UNDERSTAND THE WORD TO MEAN) THIS MEANS THAT THE BIBLE CANNOT BE UNDERSTOOD AS IT IS WRITTEN AND THAT THE WORDS OF THE BIBLE HAVE NO FOUNDATION ... GREEK OR ENGLISH?
--that IF THE WRITERS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT HAD MEANT "THE FRUIT OF THE VINE", THEY COULD HAVE SAID, "HE TOOK THE FRUIT OF THE VINE"?
--that SINCE THEY SAID "HE TOOK THE CUP" (GREEK-DRINKING VESSEL ... SINGULAR) THIS PLACES EMPHASIS ON THE FACT THAT JESUS USED ONE VOLUME OF THE FRUIT OF THE VINE?
--that THE "CUP OF BLESSING" ACCORDING TO AUTHORITIES IS "A CUP OF THE FRUIT OF THE VINE"?
--that THE BIBLE DAY BEGINS AT "EVEN" ... SUNSET? (LEV. 23:32)
--that WHEN A CONGREGATION SERVES THE LORD'S SUPPER AFTER SUNSET ON SUNDAY ... THIS SUPPER IS BEING SERVED ON MONDAY — NOT THE FIRST DAY OF THE WEEK?
For more information on this subject or your free copy of each radio sermon, please write P.O. Box 1018, Lubbock, Texas 79408 or Call 267-7158

...learn how to land

It's easy to jump. Just leave the solid trail behind you and soar into space. But before you jump - learn how to land! One man can alight gracefully and continue his course. Another will wrap his skis around his head and end up in the hospital.

There are important life-decisions we often describe as "taking the leap." Going to college, choosing a career, getting married - these are just a few. And these "leaps" lead to happiness for some - and tragedy for others.

The Church with its program of worship and religious education makes essential contributions to our life. For what happens after our major "leaps" depends on the character which has been instilled in us, and on the principles by which we live.

Hope to clip inflation gradually

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration will appeal to business and labor to hold down wages and prices, but there is little hope of a quick reduction in the national rate of inflation, says Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal.

"We'll be very conscious of the danger of inflation, just as we're conscious of the need to bring unemployment down," Blumenthal said in an interview Thursday. He said this is why the administration won't go "full steam ahead" to stimulate the economy.

He said President Carter's policy will be aimed at reducing inflation gradually over the next few years and that it could include national "targets" for wage and price hikes, as well as tax incentives to businesses to encourage production of goods in short supply.

But it will be voluntary and informal, he said.

"I think there's a strong disposition on the part of everybody to do this in the most informal way possible," Blumenthal said. "There is no intention for mandatory prenotification (of price increases), nor for controls or standby controls or for any of those things."

Even in the best of circumstances, he said, inflation probably can be reduced only gradually from what he said is a current rate of 5 per cent to 6 per cent. He declined to predict when the rate might return to the early 1960s level of 2 per cent to 3 per cent.

"I'm convinced we will be able to get it down gradually... I think by 1980 we should be able to be at a level that is appreciably lower than the 5 to 6 per cent we're having now," he said.

Consumer prices rose 4.8 per cent in 1976, a four-year low, but the rate was helped by an unusual decline in food prices that is not expected to be repeated again this year. Inflation was 8.8 per cent in 1973, 12.2 per cent in 1974 and 7 per cent in 1975.

Success of Carter's anti-inflation policy will depend in large part on winning the cooperation of labor and management leaders and this may be attempted through a series of informal meetings, he said.

He also said Carter may explain in a "fireside chat," or some other forum, "how he hopes labor and management will work together and work with him"

Harte-Hanks helps fund promo event

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — North Texas State University will hold a circulation management and newspaper promotion seminar funded by $30,000 in grants from the Frank E. Gannett Foundation and Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc.

The seminar is scheduled for July 10-16.

The Gannett grant is for $27,000 and the Harte-Hanks grant is for $3,000.

In addition to the seminar, the funds will be used to provide visiting professorships and scholarships for a new business journalism course at NTSU.

A team of three newspaper management experts will evaluate the seminar. They are Richard Clester, corporate director of marketing for Harte-Hanks; Frank Feuille, publisher of the El Paso Times; and Roy Appleton Jr., general manager of the Denton Record-Chronicle.

FAST ACTION — After a slow start Thursday night, both Howard College and visiting New Mexico Military Institute began playing with a flurry of movement. In the left photo, Johnny James (back to camera) and big Paul Cathey engage in a battle with a NMMI Bronc underneath the basket. By DANNY REAGAN

The stage has been set for Monday's "Friendly Feud" in Hawk Gym. Delnor Poss' Midland quintet upset Amarillo College Thursday night, and the Howard College Hawks, all 10 of them, put the screws to New Mexico Military Institute 85-81.

Midland has a three-game winning streak going under their new mentor, and the Hawks are on a two-game roll themselves. Something's gotta give Monday night at 7:30 in Hawk gym, when two close friends (Poss and Harold Wilder) throw their charges together in what should be the highlight of the season.

It is open to contention, no doubt, which team in the WJCC has the best starting five players. Most people around the league would probably say Western Texas, with its five sophs, gets to take that title. But there is very little doubt who has the best "team" in the league. The Hawks have 10 men who can come in at any time without the effort losing any punch.

Unlike teams such as NMMI, who have two good players, when those men leave the game, their team hurts. The respective strengths and weaknesses of such teams were illustrated in Thursday night's wood-burning game in Hawk gym.

The Preybirds had five players in double figures, with the other five adding points here and there, and everyone adding fire and brimstone to the game — once the first quarter slug-bugs were squashed.

The locals missed their first eight attempts from the floor and didn't score until almost three and a half minutes into the game, but a solid defense prevented the Broncs from capitalizing on the Hawk's lack of aim.

Mike Little, Reggie Leffall and Russell Sublet, increased the tempo of the game going into the second quarter, and the "three-guard" offense was responsible for 29 points in that 10 minutes of fleet action. Lowell Walker came in off the bench and hit eight points in that period to pace the surge. Leffall also hit five of eight from the floor to lead the attack.

Center Paul Cathey, who ended the night as top scorer for the locals with 15 points, came out the second half with his motor approaching the red line as usual to keep the Hawks honest until the fourth and telling stanza. Cathey was robbed of at least six points in the game when the ball unbelievably spun back out of the bucket on three different occasions when it looked as if P.C. had sure net-poppers. Russell Sublet hit three clutch baskets right at the end of the third quarter and moments into the fourth period to bring the Hawks back from a three-point deficit to a one-point lead. The locals were never to be headed after that.

Then "Mr. Hustle", Jim Ray, and Marc "Mr. Moves" Meyers came into the game and showed a charge of gunpowder underneath the hardwoods. Ray hit two for three from the floor and two straight from the line, while Meyers left faked-out jockey shorts strewn all over the floor and hit five out of five from the gratis line himself. While the little men were moving all over the court, big Joe Cooper and Cathey kept the boards clean.

"It was a good balanced effort again," said coach Harold Wilder. "It's obvious we didn't play well in the beginning, but everyone gave a good effort after that."

SWC race decided? Hogs hide bacon

By The Associated Press
Thanks to a large assist from the Texas Tech Red Raiders, the 15th-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks are on the verge of running away and hiding with the Southwest Conference basketball championship trophy.

Arkansas blew away Southern Methodist 77-59 Thursday night in Dallas then let out a big cheer when Texas Tech nudged Houston 84-63 on a layup with one second left in overtime in Lubbock.

Equality of parity marks NBA Central

By The Associated Press
There may not be parity throughout the National Basketball Association but there certainly is equality in the league's Central Division.

After Thursday night's action, the Washington Bullets, Houston Rockets and Cleveland Cavaliers are separated by just three percentage points at the top of the Central with fourth-place San Antonio not too far behind.

The Rockets overcame a nine-point halftime deficit to defeat Detroit. Mike Newlin came off the bench to score 27 points and was aided by teammates Moses Malone, who had 25 points and 23 rebounds, Rudy Tomjanovich (24 points) and Calvin Murphy (22) as Houston kept pace in the frantic Central.

Portland handled San Antonio despite losing Bill Walton and Larry Steele on fouls in the fourth quarter. Maurice Lucas scored 23 points and Dave Twardzik added 20 as the Blazers stayed atop the Pacific Division with their 24th victory in 25 home games this season.

Phoenix stopped Philadelphia's seven-game winning streak as rookie Ron Lee had his best game as a pro. The Oregon grad scored 28 points, grabbed 15 rebounds, assisted on eight Suns' baskets, stole the ball six times and blocked a shot.

"You bet this was my best game," said Lee. "I felt good. I wanted to take the ball to the hoop just about every time I got it."

SMU Coach Sonny Allen concluded "They are a very good team . . . not awesome . . . but a very good team."

Marvin Delph scored 21 points to pace the Razorbacks who shot 57 per cent from the field. Arkansas hit 15 of its first 20 shots in the second half.

Sutton said "We never, never expected anything like this. It was very similar to our game with Texas with a sellout crowd looking for an upset."

Allen certainly didn't expect it, snapping "I was played a horrible game right from the start."

A sellout crowd of 9,650 witnessed the mismatch with reserve Bob Arnold pitching in 14 points as the Mustang high point man.

At Lubbock, Houston Coach Guy Lewis was in a daze. "I don't know what to say - I am shell-shocked," moaned Lewis. "Who would expect Mike Russell to throw an air ball on the last shot and have some guy find it and put it in the basket. We played our guts out and still lost."

any given night we could beat any team in the country. We should be awfully good next year when we return everybody. To be a great club you have to have a dominant center, and we don't have one yet."

Tech freshman Kent Williams flipped in a backhanded crisp shot over one second left in overtime after he fielded Russell's missed 25-footer. Regulation play ended tied 73-73.

Otis Birdsong scored 30 points in a losing cause. "Heck, I'm not worried about our upcoming game with Arkansas, now," said Lewis. "I just want to win a ball game."

In games Saturday, Arkansas is at Baylor in an afternoon regionally televised contest, Houston is at SMU, TCU is at Texas, and Rice is at Texas A&M.

Whitley awarded Lombardi trophy

Houston (AP) — As a 6-foot-3, 225-pound eighth grader at Brenham, Tex., Wilson Whitley almost didn't get to play football because his mother was afraid he might hurt someone.

He broke up, choking back emotion, as he accepted the trophy from former President Gerald Ford and comedian Bob Hope.

Luckily for Whitley, his sisters induced their mother to let Whitley play football. And after the shock of winning the award sank in, Whitley's power of speech returned.

"You set a goal for yourself but you never dream that it will come true," Whitley finally told the capacity crowd of 1,200 at a $100-per-plate dinner. "I've never been in this position before. It's beautiful. That's all I know to say."

Whitley, who anchored a Houston defense that helped the Cougars rally from a 2-8 season in 1975 into the Cotton Bowl in 1976, beat out three other finalists for the award, named in honor of the former Green Bay and Washington coach who died of cancer.

Other finalists were Texas A&M middle linebacker Robert Jackson, Notre Dame defensive end Ross Browner and Pittsburgh nose guard Al Romano.

"I was an assistant coach at West Point with Coach Lombardi," beamed Houston Head Coach Bill Yeoman. "I can tell you, Wilson is exactly the type of player that Vince Lombardi would have approved of."

"Last year's record was tough on us and Coach Yeoman," Whitley said. "The coaches asked us to write down our No. 1 goal during pre-season and every player put down the Cotton Bowl."

Kite flies at Williams

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Bob Zender and Tom Kite performed some last-hole heroics for the lead in $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open, but they had to be keeping an anxious eye on threatening Tom Watson.

"You'll see the good players, the Millers and the Greens and the Nicklaus and, hopefully, the Watsons, they get on a streak and they ride the momentum until the wave runs out," said Watson, a winner last week and looking for another triumph.

And Watson definitely has the momentum still going. He scored only the second hole-in-one of his pro career — an eight-iron shot that hit to the left of the hole, ran about three feet past, then sucked back into the hole — on his way to a six-under-par 66 Thursday that left him one shot back of Kite and Zender, each of whom birdied the final hole for 65s.

Watson, a former British Open champion who has finished fourth and first in his last two starts, was tied with Homero Blancas and Lon Hinkle. At 67, five-under-par, were veteran Don January, Leonard Thompson, Bill Rogers, Barry Jaekel, Rick Acton, Australian Bob Shearer, Dennie Meyer and rookie Jay Haas. Ben Crenshaw headed a group of more than a dozen at 69. Defending champion J.C. Snead had a 71, while Arnold Palmer, playing with a painful sprain in his right hand, was far back at 74.

In all, 81 of the starting field of 156 bettered par 72. Most of the low scores came on the shorter, easier North course, which Kite, Zender, Blancas and Watson all played. All players switched courses today and the final two rounds will be played on the 7,047-yard South course. Each layout is a par 72.

Zender, a six-year veteran still seeking his first title, used his length off the tee to dominate the par fives. He played those four holes four-under-par and capped off a course record 30 on his front nine with an eagle three. He lashed a two-iron shot to the green and holed a 40-footer. A birdie four on his final hole gave him a share of the top spot.

Kite, who scored his first tour victory in Philadelphia last year, made his round with a string of four consecutive birdies, beginning on his seventh hole, where he chipped in from about 30 feet.

Marshall Holman, Medford, Ore., used a perfect 300 game, the second of the tournament and only the seventh on the tour this year, to advance from 13th to fourth place, while Norm Meyers of St. Louis, Mo., was in third and Tommy Hudson of Akron, Ohio, held down fifth.

Gonzalez, a virtual unknown on the pro bowling circuit, continued to lead the field heading into today's final 16 games of match play in the $90,000 Men's Pro Bowling tournament.

The top five scorers after today's games were to advance to Saturday's nationally televised finals. Gonzalez, a right-hander from Colorado Springs, Colo., who averaged 240 per game Thursday afternoon to build a 79-pin lead, increased his margin to 81 pins Thursday night on scores of 255, 180, 233, 234, 209, 260, 227 and 192.

Gonzalez' seven wins in the eight match play games also gave him 210 bonus pins and a 6,155 total. Craig Mueller of Union, N.J., was second with a 6,074 total, which included 195 bonus pins for six victories and a tie in match play games.

REBOUNDING has been one of the Stanton Buffalos' main strengths this year and here Buffalo Kenny McCallister (32) comes up with the ball in action under the basket against O'Donnell Tuesday night.

Stanton won the game going away to tie for first half 5-A laurels and set up a shootout with Plains on the local court next Tuesday night.

Stanton 5's rest on 5-A laurels

STANTON — The two Stanton varsity roundball squads take a breather this week with open dates as they relish their top spots in the first half race for the District 5-A crown.

The Stanton fems won the first half title going away with a 4-0 league slate, while the boys grabbed hold of a three-way knot for the top spot with a record of 3-1 to match both Plains and Seagraves. The boys lost out on an outright title when they fell to Plains in quadruple overtime two weeks ago.

Stanton should be the favorite to capture both boys' and girls' season titles, as no one can touch the fems, and the boys' quintet host both Plains (this Tuesday night) and Seagraves the second time around.

If Stanton should defeat both Plains and Seagraves at home and take dormrats Shallowater and O'Donnell on the road, the Buffs would win the 5-A crown without a playoff.

The girls need only do what they've been doing so well to easily bring home the bacon.

SLAM — Jimmy Connors hits an overhead slam back at Wojtek Fibak during their match Thursday night in Philadelphia during the Pro Indoor Tennis Championships. Connors won, 6-2, 6-2.

Economic package defended

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress tries to add too much to President Carter's $31.2 billion economic stimulation package, the President's advisers might recommend that he veto the package, an administration economist warns.

The administration's three top economic officials explained and defended the package before the House Budget Committee on Thursday.

But some Democrats pled their questions about how firm the administration is on holding the program to $15.5 billion this year and $15.7 billion next year.

The officials avoided commitments, but insisted the totals they cited represented the best judgment of the President and his advisers.

Asked whether he would recommend a veto if more were added, Charles Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said "the likelihood of such a recommendation would grow with the size of the addition."

Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr. of New York, the senior Republican member of the Taxwriting Ways and Means Committee, said he doubts the new administration and the Democratic majority in Congress can resist pressures to pump more funds into the public works, jobs and other non-tax parts of the stimulation package. Carter budgeted them at $1.7 billion this year, $7.6 million next year.

"The pressure will come from the constituencies the Carter administration jumps to — the AFL-CIO, the mayors and the others. Each will want his slice made bigger," Conable said in an interview.

Conable said there were hopeful signs that the economy is recovering on its own, with most private economists predicting a bigger growth than the administration projected.

He said he suspected the Democratic White House is maneuvering for position to claim credit for an economic gain that would occur anyway.

The Carter program's emphasis on tax rebates and reductions disappointed the AFL-CIO and some Democrats who favored the labor federation's $30 billion, one-year proposal. The AFL-CIO's approach would rely entirely on job-stimulating programs, housing, and payments to state and local governments, with no tax breaks.

payment for each taxpayer and each dependent would hit 96 per cent of the population and be the quickest way to galvanize the sluggish economy.

Slower-developing jobs programs could take over later, they said.

"This will immediately add to consumer income and ... will shortly begin boosting sales of consumer goods," Schultze predicted.

"A further enlargement of public service employment or accelerated public works would not meet this objective. Neither can be expanded faster than the President has proposed without running into very serious management problems."

Mickey Mouse an alcoholic?

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — A play that has been criticized by Walt Disney Enterprises because it depicts Mickey Mouse as an alcoholic opens here this week.

The one-act play, entitled "And They Used To Star In The Movies," was written by former State University of New York at Oswego teacher Campbell Black and is set in a sleazy hotel barroom.

An aging Mickey Mouse is with Minnie and Donald Duck. While Mickey awaits a phone call regarding a part in an Italian film, Minnie reminisces about love affairs with Bugs Bunny, Popeye and others. Donald complains bitterly about always playing "second fiddle." Goofy, Disney's canine cartoon character, is referred to as a hopeless junkie.

The Disney company successfully quashed the play once when it appeared in published form in the Trans-Atlantic Review, a literary journal published in New York and London. The magazine decided against waging a legal battle with the Disney corporation and halted its Spring of 1973 issue.

Church integrating its schools

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa's top Roman Catholic says his church is integrating its schools because "we could no longer live with our conscience."

Archbishop Joseph Fitzgerald, a 63-year-old Irishman who came to South Africa as a missionary in 1948, said in an interview with The Associated Press that the church hierarchy had been discussing integration for a long time.

"The door was thrown open a few years ago when the government asked us to take in the children of black diplomats," he said. "We looked at them not as children of diplomats but as blacks and took the analogy."

"If the government's new sports policy can allow a black and a white to batter one another in a boxing ring, then why can't they allow black and white children to sit behind the same desk?"

The Catholic church condemned the white-minority government's apartheid policy of racial separation in 1952 and has opposed such repressive measures to carry it out as imprisonment without trial, house searches and banning orders restricting movement.

Last week about 80 black, Indian and "colored" (mixed race) children were admitted to nine of the 171 Catholic schools for white children in South and South-West Africa. The Anglican and Methodist churches indicated they would follow suit.

The number of integrated schools and nonwhite pupils in them is small because very few of South Africa's nonwhites are allowed to live in the white residential areas in which white parochial schools are located. The Catholics also operate schools for black and colored children in the segregated townships in which most urban nonwhites are forced to live.

The decision to integrate was made quietly so as not to provoke a confrontation with the government, the archbishop said.

"We do not see this in terms of race," he said. "Our schools are private, and Catholics should not have to ask permission to send their children to Catholic schools." Government officials initially threatened to lift the schools' registrations and prosecute parents who continued to send their children to such unlicensed schools. But Education Minister Piet Koornhof had second thoughts and invited the churches to discuss their admission policies with him. He conceded the wishes of parents would have to be taken into account.

The Catholic church has 1,616,737 members in South Africa, about 70 per cent of them black. There are 1,250

Price of candy sticky issue

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — Fourth-graders at Robertson Elementary School here have advice for President Carter on everything from war to pollution — but their main concern is the price of candy.

priests, 376 brothers and 4,776 sisters. The church does not classify people by race so it is difficult to ascertain the number of black priests and nuns, church officials say.

Jobs plan for ex-GIs unfurled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, who pardoned Vietnam draft evaders as his first act in office, now wants to give a break to the thousands of jobless Vietnam-era veterans.

Carter's new labor secretary, F. Ray Marshall, announced a $1.3 billion program Thursday to find jobs for 200,000 of the nation's 558,000 unemployed Vietnam-era veterans. The government hopes to create 145,000 public-service jobs for veterans, and to persuade business and industry to hire 50,000 to 60,000 more.

The jobs program was endorsed by both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, which last Friday denounced the President for pardoning draft evaders.

A VFW spokesman, asked if the jobs program would blunt that criticism, said: "No. He (Carter) chose to recognize those who ran and broke the law before he chose to recognize those who served honorably."

The jobs plan was linked with the pardons in a 29-page agenda prepared by Carter aides for the President's first six months in office.

The agenda, made public last week, said the jobs program was a chance for Carter to show "his deep, personal feelings that those who served during the war deserve to be honored."

The veterans' jobless rate is well above the national average of 7.9 per cent. For veterans aged 20 to 24, the jobless rate is even worse: 18 per cent, compared to 12.5 per cent for nonveterans of that age.

Marshall said the hardest hit have been young black veterans, more than 20 per cent of whom are out of work.

The program is part of the $31.2 billion, two-year economic stimulus package that Carter sent to Congress on Thursday.

Marshall said local and state governments will be asked to earmark 35 per cent of their public job service openings for veterans.

Marshall unveiled the plan at the White House shortly after he was sworn in as the last of Carter's Cabinet members to take office.

Salon to open in March

A March opening is planned for the beauty shop in College Park Shopping Center, which is more than doubling the floor space by moving to the east corner of the south wing of the center.

Now known as the College Park Beauty Shop, the business will get a new name and manager Mrs. Diane Wash. The firm is owned by Forsan Oil Well Service.

DIANE CLINTON

The salon will have an estimated 2,100 square feet of floor space and will have ten operators on duty, according to Mrs. Clinton.

The shop will have a men's styling room, facial room and makeup bar, where clients will be taught how to apply makeup and advised on what to wear.

Mrs. Clinton said she was still taking applications for two operator positions, as well as for a manicurist and shampoo girl.

Among those already employed are Verna Gamble, receptionist; Betty Bruton, Angie Hernandez, Sue Holguin, Virginia Lujan, Jerry Tubb and Angie Foster, all operators; Oma McCown, facial expert; and Edna Henry, maid.

Mrs. Clinton is planning to stage the grand opening of the new business at night and will send out invitations.

 The year was 1939
 with Marj Carpenter

Ah yes. The year was 1939. Hitler was marching on Poland and Czechoslovakia. America was still more or less unaware of impending doom and trying times. Up at Big Spring High School, enthusiasm was high. There was a new football field called Blankenship Field. The Big Spring Steers were winning more than they lost. The school song was written that year by two women called Eloise Haley and Mrs. R.E. Blount. Miss Haley was an English teacher at the high school, well loved by the students. She was quite sentimental about Dear Old Big Spring High. She later left to accept a teaching position in Snyder and apparently, nobody knows where she is at this time.

ALMA MATER — These three persons were responsible for the words and band arrangement to the Big Spring High School song. Since then, another band arrangement has been made which is presently used at the high school.

Mrs. Blount was a parent of one of the football players — Peppy Blount. The late Mrs. Blount used to sing with two other women in a trio around Big Spring. They took their words o Dan Conley, band director and they had a familiar tune in mind and asked him to prepare a band arrangement. He worked on one and wasn't quite satisfied with it, so he sent it off to a friend who was a composer and the friend worked out the first band arrangement of the Big Spring School song. He told Conley that the tune was from a little known composition by John Phillip Sousa from an opera called "The Love of Three Oranges." Conley was band director 12 years from 1933 to 1945. I read with great interest that Elnora Hubbard was one of the drum majors of that band in 1939. (That's Mrs. Tommy Hart, wife of our managing editor). Conley quit in 1945 and went into private business for ten years before returning to the schools and serving as a visiting teacher and textbook chairman. He retired in 1973 and the next morning after retirement went to work at Dibrell Sporting Goods which is where he works at this time. Some of the other teachers whom I noted were teaching at the high school in 1939 were Lillian Shick and Lillian Jordan, both of whom are well-known in Big Spring.

Some of the school personalities among the student body were Jacqueline Fair, Billies Bess Shive, Mary Neil Edwards, Alton Bostick, Sara Lanan and Horace Bostick, as well as Sam Mellinger, Emma Ruth Stripling, Otis Grafa, Cecil Peruiroy and Harold Hall, who was listed in the senior class as the school romeo. The entire annual is small and thin but it was an air of real school spirit running through it. Actually, it made me kind of wistful as I flipped through the pages and could feel the sense of humor, the pride and the feeling for the high school. Most of those students who attended Big Spring High in those days remained around here and became community leaders. That was 37 years ago. I hope somebody can look back in the year 2014 and look at the 1977 yearbook and find it interesting. Because the 1939 one sure is! I looked at it this week — when I was out ridin' fence.

Two suspended after probe

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Two employees of the Webb County Tax Assessor-Collector's office have been suspended with pay after a state probe turned up discrepancies in sales tax collections.

The discrepancies surfaced a week ago after a state audit on sales tax collections relative to motor vehicle title applications and transfer of titles from the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

State auditors said they could not reconcile state highway information on some 2,400 to 2,500 receipts with sales tax data in the comptroller's office or the local tax office.

Yarbrough says man seeking double pay

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Supreme Court Justice Donald B. Yarbrough says a man who claims Yarbrough owes him $1,472 for constructing 23 bookcases is attempting to get paid twice for the same job. Yarbrough is a defendant in a suit being heard in Harris County Court-at-Law in which R.E. Blue contends Yarbrough owes him the amount for construction of the bookcases in Yar-brough's new offices here in 1975. Yarbrough testified Thursday he contracted for the bookcases through a company called Opal Construction Co. and that Opal hired Blue to do the work as a subcontractor. Blue, owner of R. E. Blue Construction Co. of Houston, testified he never contracted with anyone but Yarbrough and said Yarbrough orally agreed to pay for the work.

Vol firemen flunk test
 SALMON, Idaho (AP) — The Salmon Volunteer Fire Department flunked a state safety inspection. There was no fire extinguisher at the station. Fire Chief Frank Barsalou agreed an extinguisher might come in handy if a fire should start at the station while the department's three trucks are out fighting a blaze. Elden Ryals, a safety inspector from the Idaho department of labor, inspected the station this week.
