Industries may be urged to go on four-day work week

Carter's little shiver pills

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter hurriedly called his Cabinet into an hour-long session over the energy shortage Saturday and said he may ask industries to go on a four-day work week to conserve fuel.

He also said he was ordering federal disaster relief for New York and Pennsylvania because of the extreme cold, snow and ice in those states and will sign emergency aid legislation for Florida on Monday because of weather-inflicted crop losses there.

"I don't want anybody to be unduly the President told the Cabinet. "I'd like the whole process to be done carefully, methodically and coordinated with Jack Watson.' Watson is the White House assistant Carter placed in charge of the White House team monitoring the energy

He added: "I'll be maintaining personal contact with the governors. The President also urged the governors of 17 states to give him assessments of their current energy problems.

He pointed out that 11 states are in "some degree of crisis" and six states are having problems because of blizzard conditions.

The 11 states he listed as in the "crisis" category were Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

Carter and White House aides did not list the six others affected by blizzard conditions.

Noting that 8,000 to 8,500 factories are closed and 500,000 persons out of work because of the energy shortage, Carter said he might go along with "a few amendments" offered by members of Congress to the emergency natural gas bill he sent to Congress earlier this week.

He initially said these amendments might include a requirement that industries go on a four-day work week, perhaps operating 10 hours a day to combat the energy shortages.

But Carter and his press secretary, Jody Powell, cautioned that this requirement would face serious legal problems because legislation limiting the number of hours in a workday would have to be changed, and there was a reluctance to do that.

Powell told reporters that Carter would like to see industries and other private employers implement the four-day plan voluntarily on the local level. No specific industries were

Carter also said he might urge the businesses to shift from natural gas to using oil or coal during the gas

Powell said Carter's chief energy adviser, James Schlesinger, had reported that a "significant amount of fuel," particularly natural gas, has been located and could "have a significant impact" on alleviating the energy shortages.

The spokesman said there is an excess of natural gas in storage in the West, but it cannot legally be moved into interstate pipelines to needy areas elsewhere without the emergency legislation that Carter is seeking from Congress.

Carter, wearing a brown, suedetrimmed sports jacket and brown shirt, presided at the start of the Cabinet meeting and called for coordination of all of government agencies that have some dealings with energy-related problems.

He said requests for federal disaster declarations for states other than New York, Pennsylvania and Florida were being processed.

Lorin McDowell III, third generation rancher in Howard County, who intends to hang on, said, "During the last half of the year we saw some strength in cattle prices. I tried marketing my own beef direct to the consumer for a couple of years, but that didn't really work out.

"I didn't have control over the processing. A lot of things will affect how the cattle market goes this year - the fact that we're running out of wheat, the fact that the fat market has been down and feeder cattle off and the winter weather picture all enter into the end result.

"I just keep hoping that somehow, it's going to take a turn around and do better," McDowell concluded.

Rich Anderson, another longtime area rancher said, "Calves are the same as a year ago. The price of yearlings are down. Feed lot cattle are 37.50-38.00 where they were 40 cents a year ago. A carcass of beef was $64 last year and is down to $59. And we thought last year was bad.

"However, I think the number of cattle is finally getting down. I think that we'll see prices improve in the next few months or at least by 1978." Anderson related.

Action/reaction: Christmas quiz

Q. Why did it take the City of Big Spring so long to remove the Christmas decorations? Why were they being removed at 10 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 16 when the workers should have been in church?

A. The city of Big Spring does not own the Christmas decorations. They are owned by Downtown Merchants and the Chamber of Commerce. The city employes did not take them down on Sunday when they should have been in church nor on any other day. Others probably did it on their spare time. They may work the other six days of the week.

Nurse Linda Rufkin's emergency measures could not keep the 22-year-old Prinze alive.

Early Friday, as his horrified manager watched helplessly, Prinze fired a bullet through his brain. Friends said the young comic was despondent over the breakup of his year-long marriage and the pressures of his hectic career.

Death came at 1 p.m. after an all-night vigil by his estranged wife and other relatives and friends. "A doctor brought the wife and mother into a room and broke the news," said Paul Wasserman, Prinze's agent and friend. "They fell on the bed and each other, crying."

Prinze never regained consciousness. Doctors, who operated on Friday, said the bullet passed through his head. causing extensive brain damage.

Frigid winter weather and natural gas use by 4 per cent. a wind-whipped blizzard brought much of the East natural gas legislation proposed by President and Midwest to a near standstill Saturday, closing roads, factories, businesses and places of entertainment.

The freezing or subzero weather that hit much of the eastern half of the nation during the early morning followed a blizzard that dumped as much as 14 inches of snow on the Northeast.

At least 36 weather-related deaths in eight states have been recorded in recent days.

More than half a million people were thrown out of work as a shortage of natural gas brought on by the weeklong cold closed factories and businesses.

State officials mapping plans to conserve available heating fuel gave essential services and homes priority access to natural gas - and some said that could as much as double the layoffs.

New gas shutoffs in New York State were expected to double the 100,000 layoffs recorded there. At least 20,000 workers in New Jersey were laid off Friday and further restrictions on the use of natural gas could bring as many as 300,000 more layoffs in coming days, officials said.

Bradford, Pa., was the coldest spot in the 48 contiguous states with the temperature dropping to 25 below in the early morning.

Hermit almost forgotten

PARIS, Tex. (A) — There was a time when Lamar County residents whispered tales of great wealth hidden in the crude cluster of scrap lumber shacks on the northeastern fringe of paris.

But 14 years later, only Paris police detectives occasionally discuss who lived and was brutally slain in those shacks.

The battered, bound and frozen body of Auvord Bevans Breathwaite Jones was discovered Jan. 29, 1963, lying amid rags and foreign newspapers inside on of the five shabby buildings.

His hands were tied behind him with binder twine. His skull was crushed. Rats had gnawed his hands and face. Nearby was the hat in which rumor said the 79year-old recluse kept large sums of money. It was ripped — and empty.

Paris Police Chief, Lloyd

Matthews said the "murderrobbery" has since stymied Texas Rangers and city and county law enforcement officials. He admitted, "I can't recall a new lead in the last four or five years."

It is difficult to find anyone in this bustling Northeast Texas city that remembers A. Jones, as the hermit chose to sign his name. But nearly every Lamar Countian has Paris has spilled over the area to which A. Jones retreated in his search for anonymity. A new animal hospital stands where the illclothed little man used to plod as he sold peanuts and homemade brooms.

But Matthews said Paris police, who inherited the case when the city annexed the area, have not forgotten. 'Our detectives still talk about the Jones case whenever they hear about a similar murder-robbery,' said Matthews. "It is very

Paris artist Anthony Paness, who kept a memorial to the slain hermit in the window of his art studio until last spring, remembered:

"I met him three times and bought brooms from him. He was a good man. He spoke Polish, German French and some Spanish and was very intelligent. I had to study electroplating for six months before I could learn it, but Mr. Jones came

Three changes have been made which editors of the Big Spring Herald believe our readers will appreciate.

FIRST, THERE will no longer be a "daytime" listing. The listing for each day will be full and complete beginning at 5:30 a.m. in the morning and running through the late, late show

This will allow us to put all movies in their exact time space, and it will save the reader from having to flip back and forth through the magazine. It also will allow us to be inform the reader of special broadcasts on any one given day, where this could not be done with only one "daytime" listing for the entire week.

The second change will enable readers to know at a glance if the Big Spring TV cable number is different from the station's real channel

The real channel numbers are on miniature black screens with white channel numbers. If the cable number is different, it will be in a white miniature screen with black numbers immediately after the black one.

For example, suppose you want to watch the public television program "Masterpiece Theatre" at 8 p.m.

Sunday. The show is on Channel 13 out of Dallas, but on the Big Spring cable, this is channel 5. You will find the listing first with a black-screened channel 13 immediately followed by a white-screened channel 5, the cable

This will enable us to do away with the cable conversion lists in the magazine, and it will enable the reader always to know both what the real channel number is and what the Big Spring cable number is for any

THE THIRD change involves our specials and sports columns. These will no longer be confirmed only to network programming but will in-clude all sports and specials from the stations that can be viewed in Big Spring. The speicals also will have the specific channel and cable number on them and not only the network.

These changes are made possible by a new computer which is handling TV listings. This new system also will allow us to have better last-minute changes in programming from the

The boys' are here

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON - In answer to who was responsible for the surgically adroit elimination of Greg Schneiders from President Carter's inner circle, the consensus reply consists of two words: "The Boys.

"The Boys" are the intense, largely anonymous, slightly left-of-center young men who owe their eminence to key Carter staffer Hamilton Jordan. Schneiders, slated to be Mr. Carter's appointments secretary until derogatory FBI reports about his financial background emerged, was never one of "The Boys." Whether or not "The Boys" actually engineered his fall, that half-suspicion has intensified their power within the new administration.

INDISPUTABLY, JORDAN'S circle has taken over the White House machinery, using the intimidating sense of power that generates fear and authority in a bureaucracy. With Carter aides privately questioning whether the new President's concept of cabinet government will work, the Jordan circle's impact may soon spread to the executive departments. Today, the White House; tomorrow,

During the campaign, the youthful staff around 33-year-old campaign manager Hamilton Jordan became known, pejoratively, as "Hamilton's Boys" or simply "The Boys." But as with sophisticated Nixon staffers who belittled the crew-cut, eager young aides of H.R. Haldeman as "the Beaver Patrol" in the early Nixon days, the smiling condescension has disappeared in the Carter camp.

Jordan's ability to brush aside rivals Peter Bourne and Jack Watson has been well-publicized, but a potential competitor remained. Schneiders was clearly not one of "The Boys." His congenial contacts with journalists worried Jordan's circle. Most menacing, as Mr. Carter's personal aide on the campaign trail, Schneiders was filtering information from "The Boys" to the candidate. In the strategic post of appointments secretary, he could block acess to the President.

NEXT CAME disclosure of derogatory financial information about Sch3neiders to eliminate him as appointments secretary, quickly followed by his exoneration and selection for an innocuous "special projects" job in the White House. In fact, Carter insider Charles Kirbo applied the coup de grace to Schneiders, and Mr. Carter himself was unhappy about Schneiders' alleged leaks to the press.

"It was no 'Boy' who got Schneiders, but a man - maybe the President," one staffer confided to us. But the prevailing view at the White House is that Kirbo and the President acted on information supplied by the Jordan circle - a view of great importance at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. "Everybody sits with his back to the wall at the 7:30 (daily morning staff) meeting - for protection," one uide told us.

Whoever is truly responsible, "The Boys" gained from the replacement of outsider Schneiders as appointments secretary by Jordan aide and campaign field director Tim Kraft, one of 'The Boys' despite his advanced age of 35. But the most typical and potentially most powerful of Jordan's men is 24-year-old Rick Hutcheson, who in little more than a year has emegered from youthful obscurity to precocious dominance.

It looked pretty simple as I watched Dad shave. He would get out his mug with the soap in the bottom, put a little water in it and stir up vigorously, making a bunch white foam, thick like whipped cream. He would put it on his face with the brush then get his straight razor out. He would always stroke the razor several times on a leather strop then commence to shave. He would hold the razor a certain way, screw his mouth around and in no time

Oversized bowel can be birth defect

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, who is five, has been bothered with chronic constipation since birth. She was hospitalized at 11 months and found to have an enlarged colon.

Since six months of age she has been on stool softeners, suppositories and enemas. Last month she was again hospitalized and diagnosed as still having an enlarged colon. Her pediatrician has suggested we start treatment with a child psychologist. We've followed his instructions, and started her on therapy, but we just don't understand the exact problem or this new course of treatment. You seem to be the only doctor I can understand. - T.R.

This is also called "megacolon," or large bowel. One form is Hirschsprung's disease, due to an absence of certain nerve fibers in the lower bowel walls. This delays propulsion of fecal matter and the bowel dilates from fullness. It is a congenital disorder (present at birth). Surgery is the answer. You don't mention anything about surgery.

The problem may also be acquired from longstanding poor bowel habits. There may be discomfort or distaste for the defecation process in some tots. Some may feel a sense of insecurity on the stool.

I suspect that the pediatrician had something like this in mind in referring you to a child psychologist. A psychological problem such as this can be overcome with time. Stay with the therapist. All the special attention required to treat the large bowel problem has probably given the child a fixation about bowel movements by

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My fingernails keep separating from the fingers. It occurs on three or four nails at a time. Then the nails get back to normal, only to start separating again. I'd like your booklet on nail problems, for which I enclose 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. All my nails are affected at one time or another. - H.M.

Hyperthyroidism has been related to nail separation. Suggest you have your thyroid function checked, as well as your blood for anemia. I suppose you have investigated detergents or other household chemicals as possible causes. Try wearing rubber gloves. The nail booklet you request should provide some leads in that. Other readers may have a copy by sending 25 cents and a stamped, selfaddressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: After surgical menopause is it necessary to take hormones, say for a woman 50 years old? If one needs the hormones what would the symptoms be? Also, are there other precautions one should take or special care indeed? — Mrs.

A surgical menopause (removal of the ovaries) deprives the woman of her own hormone (estrogen) Replacement dosage usually depends on the age of the woman at the time of the surgery. The younger she is (30s or 40s) the more likely the need.

By the late 40s the natural hormones secretion tends to diminish and the impact of surgical menopause may not be as pronounced as with a younger woman. The need, at any time, is dictated by the classic symptoms of estrogen deficiency - hot flashes, irritability, depression, insomia, fatigue, etc. No other precautions are really necessary after a surgical menopause. Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a child pick up a virus infection from a drinking fountain? - Mrs. H.F.

The fountain contact would have to be almost immediately after contact by the infected person. Most of these germs are passed on by droplet infection (coughs and sneezing).

I have seen fountains in public places (as schools) where the water stream is at a very low level, forcing children to press their lips against the bubbler. I guess the idea is to avoid spills and discourage playfulness. I think a little spillage would be a small price for educing the chances of in-

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a law that iodine must be added to salt? -

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Not long ago I heard a sermon about the antichrist and the persecution Christians often have to endure. I have become very fearful, wondering if my family and I would really be able to endure if persecution came. Is my fear wrong? — Mrs. M.P. DEAR MRS. P.: Someone has wisely pointed out that the Lord has not promised grace for anticipated

The Bible tells us that we should not fear persecution and worry about our ability to withstand it. If we trust our own natural courage, we should be fearful, because we do not have strength. However, the important thing is that the Bible promises us that God Himself will supply us with strength when the time comes, if we are trusting Him.

This was the promise of Jesus: "They will lay hands on you and persecute you . . . But make up your minds not to worry beforehand how you will defend yourselves. For I will give you words and wisdom that none of your adversaries will be able to resist or contradict . . . not a hair of your head will perish" (Luke 21; 12, 14, 15, 18, New International Version). This truth has been the experience of believers throughout the ages. It was the experience of Paul. "At my defense, no one came to my support . . . But the Lord stood at my side and gave me strength . . . And I was delivered from the lion's mouth. The Lord will rescue me from every evil attack and will bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom" (II Timothy 4:16, 17, 18, NIV).

Whatever the future holds, now is the time to strengthen our relation ship with God. One of the best preparations for persecution is emorizing Scripture. Then if difficulties come, we can face them with quiet confidence in His strength, knowing that He is with us as He was in the furnace with Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego (Daniel 3).

The testimony of many persecuted Christians is that they were sustained, strengthed and cheered through the verses they had stored up in their

The Christmas season has ended, but I vividly remember the 500 Big Spring children who attended the Christmas party at Webb and had the opportunity to enjoy many of the nice things normally associated with this joyous holiday season.

The 1976 Webb AFB Children's Christmas Party was an overwhelming success. This was made possible, only through the tremendous support we received from the Big Spring business community. This outstanding group of citizens opened their hearts and pocketbooks to the tune of nearly $3,500.00 worth of donations that included cash, toys and food. Hundreds of used toy donations were also accepted and subsequently distributed through the Salvation Army and State Hospital.

Your generous contributions enabled these children to have a hardy lunch (all they could eat) of hot dogs. chips, cokes, cookies and candy. They also received a take-home bag of fruit, cookies and candy. In addition, each child received a new toy wrapped in colorful Christmas paper.

The successful outcome of a venture of this nature and magnitude is a tribute to the entire community. Those of us at Webb sincerely appreciate the total support that you, the Big Spring community, so graciously provided. This project serves as testimony that Webb AFB and Big Spring continue to have the finest of base-community relations.

I want to extend my personal thanks to the following individuals, businesses and associations (listed on the attached sheet) who so willingly gave to this worthy project.

Dear Editor: I was amazed to read Evans and Novak's recent story of the supposed intrigue surrounding my appointment to the White House staff. The reason their "inside story" has not appeared elsewhere is because there is no basis for it. Literally dozens of other reporters were responsible enough to contact me and get the facts before writing on the subject; Evans and Novak did not. The truth is that President Carter. Charles Kirbo and Hamilton Jordan made every effort to treat me fairly in a very difficult situation and it is primarily due to that fact that the problem was successfully resolved.

I too, love dogs (and all animals). I do not love pepole who "own" our strays. I never blame the animal that bites or gets into trouble: I blame the person who takes home a cute puppy or kitten and when he is no longer cute, loses interest in him then allows him to roam to seek the love and attention he no longer receives. At the risk of opening a new subject, I must say that some of our children get the

So I plead, as do others, for more sympathetic treatment of these unloved and unwanted strays. It is the humans who allowed them to be here and who turned them out who are at fault. It is up to the humans to prevent the slaughter in the first place, and when it must be done to find kinder ways than bullets!

However, headlight glasses and what is left of windows shoots out in thousands of pieces of glass squirting around the area. The gas tanks had been

Tools to stem crime tide

Wiretapping defended

BySCOTTPARKS

AUSTIN - Wiretapping. Bugging. The words conjure images of sinister, blackcloaked spies invading the privacy of the Democratic National Committee at the WatergateOfficeBuilding. To law enforcement officers, however, the words are merely additional tools needed to stem the rising tide of organized crime which, by some estimates, is a $2-3 billion per year industry in

A bill topermit wiretapping - it's called the interception of oral or wire communications in the proposed legislation - is the most controversial part of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's so-called anti-crime package. Briscoe is sponsoring the legislation despite previous defeats in the Legislature and despite the raised eyebrows of disapproval from several of his fellow governors.

The bill would grant 230 district court judges and nine court of criminal appeals judges the power to authorize local officials to wiretap anyone suspected of organized crime activities.

A recent $100,000 study prepared for the Texas Organized Crime Council says about 80 per cent of the people interviewed in a random survey agree that wiretapping should be used to harness organized crime.

One of the key features of Briscoe's wiretap bill, sponsored by Sen. Bill Meier Euless in the Senate and Rep. Ed Mayes of Granbury in the House, is a com-prehensive definition of organized crime that goes far beyond the stereotyped Mafia Organized criminals would be five or more persons who collaborate in murder, assault, arson, robbery, bruglary, theft, kidnaping, forgery, credit card abuse, felony gambling activities, compelling or promoting prostitution or commerical obscenity, unlawful manufacture or sale of firearms, loan sharking or illegally compelling repayment of loans, bribery or corruption of public officials and the manufacture or distribution of drugs.

The participants would be guilty of organized criminal activities even if they did not know each other. They would be guilty even if the syndicate's membership changes from time to time.

The maximum penalty for These are hoisted around engaging in organized in wrecking yards where criminal activity would be life tached to the various crimes Sen. Tati Santiesteban of El Paso, the chairman of the Senate subcommittee which

John Duncan, executive director of the Texas Civil Liberties Union, undoubtedly will be lobbying against the bill as it is now written.

Moreno is unique in more ways than one. He is technically a quadraplegic, although he has the use of both hands. He serves as a constant reminder to most of the handsome, well-dressed, walking representatives that there are a lot of handicapped people out there in the areas outside of insulated Austin

Once inside the Capitol building, Moreno doesn't have much trouble getting around in his wheelchair. There is one exception. He cannot get through the front door to the Senate floor.

"I am not accepted in the front door. It's just like hanging a sign saying, 'No Cripples Allowed here.' I have to go in through the rear," said Moreno, who broke his neck in a 1953 swimming accident.

But the aura that surrounds the premier outsider may dictate that Moreno must get one of his friends to introduce the legislation if it is to go anywhere except a committee grave. "I expect that I will not pass any legislation this session," he says. Clayton did not really do

Moreno wrong in assigning him to the Labor and Judiciary committees. Judiciary was Moreno's first choice. The Labor committee - Moreno has been called a puppet of Labor by his opponents — looks like an AFL-CIO Club. It is liberal through and through, which means that Clayton won't let

The other is a poster with the pictures of 16 Watergate coconspirators. Each has the word 'apprehended' stamped across the front. There is a notable exception. Richard Nixon's picture does not show that stamp.

But Moreno knows you can't win them all. He is not niave. He has been in the House since 1967 except for the term he sat out after a defeat in his 1972 race for state senator.

Fort Worth artist Dan Brown will exhibit a collection of dry-brush water color and acrylic paintings Monday and Tuesday at the First National Bank. The artist will be at the bank both days to discuss the exhibit, which is titled, "The Texas I Know. A native Texan, Brown admits to a life-long love affair with the Texas landscape. The 20 paintings included in the show will acquaint the viewer with several areas of the .Lone Star State.

The water color realist says almost any forgotten object offers him an invitation to capture a vanishing moment with brush and paint. The ability to preserve those evanishing life styles has won Brown numerous awards including the Best of Show Award in the Snyder Palette Club 1975 Exhibition. IN 1976 he was featured in one and two-man shows in Snyder, San Angelo, Brady, Garland, Fort Worth, Brownwood and Abilene.

His paintings are in private collections in many Texas cities and towns and in nine other states.

In 1976 his dry brush water color painting, "The Texas I was published as full-color limited edition collector print. Copies of that painting will be available at the Big Spring Show as will four black and white prints by the artist.

Brown sometimes chooses to paint what he calls "the ordinary absolutely reminders of vesterday. onions hanging from a cellar beam, a waiting mailbox, a lone chimney reaching to the sky." He says he is captivated by the state's seemingly endless waves of prairie grass and says he often hears the Texas wind sing her song.

"Many people say my work gives them a feeling of solitude and tranquility. Perhaps that's because these are the emotions I find welling up in me as I sit studying a subject I am about to paint," says Brown. He and his wife, Joyce, have two children, and their home is often filled with teenagers. "Tranquility is sometimes hard to come by, and it is usually worth preserving in

OMARBURLESON.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -Most people will agree that welfare programs need reform. Most people will agree that there should be a willingness on the part of all able-bodied people to work. It is neither economically nor morally right for the Government to make it more attractive not to work than to work. Sure, there have to be jobs available but, as mentioned last week, jobs are going begging and something is wrong. The several jobstraining programs have turned out people who either can't get work or don't want it.

The next thing is how can the government give millions people employment without running the public debt higher and higher, decreasing the value of our money, thus raising the cost of living for everyone? Who gains? - just about everyone

In seeking solutions is the danger of "out of the frying

Massachusetts is advancing a plan which has as its purpose to turn Government welfare and unemployment benéfits into paychecks. Massachusetts has one of the highest rates of unemployment and one of the most generous welfare payments of any state. "Oil operators all over the country, regardless whether they are independents or majors, must have con-fidence in continuity and consistency in what we can look forward to," Halbouty

In an interview, the outspoken Houston independent, petroleum geologist and engineer said President Carter "missed the boat" by calling for emergency six-month decentrol instead of calling for deregulation of natural gas prices.

What the administration deem't realize is what we have to have is a good energy policy and we have to start with deregulation, Halbouty said.

"That is the first thing for the policy. And so long as we don't have an energy policy, and I don't care how you cut it, our foreign policy will not be made in Washington. It will be made in foreign complished very little.

"I just think Carter missed the boat again, just like the other presidents," he said. "Six months will not cut the mustard at all. Nothing is going to be created unless we get something that really will do some good in finding oil and gas."

The former president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists said, 'A hell of a lot of oil and gas' remains to be discovered but the industry is not drilling the wildcat tests that should be drilled.

"And we are not going to drill the wildcats until we have confidence in the continuity and consistency, he said. "We just don't have the confidence. The few independents that are really left and really staying in there pitching are reaching the point they don't know what to look forward to. Not only independents, but the major companies are the same way."

He added that few rank wildcats are being drilled any more.

'Everybody's hugging right close to proven areas so as to reduce risks. When we do that we are not finding large reserves. We are just finding small fault blocks and just making enough drilling more wells that money to keep our heads out of the water.

Halbouty said there is a need for the spirit of the old wildcatters "but our spirits have been whipped down because of what government has done to us.'

'We need the confidence to know we can do something for years or at least a long period of time without the government cutting it out from under us," he said. "And that means confidence in continuity and consistency. Until we have that, not only in the oil industry but in all industries, this country is not going to grow. It is just going to stay on a status quo basis and unemployment is going to increase.

Halbounty said there also is need for "a real, honest to goodness study" of possible restoration of the industry's depletion tax allowance that been practically eliminated.

"Maybe not the old 271/2 per cent, maybe 25, maybe 221/2 per cent, but sustain it and keep it there," he said.

"You'd be surprised at the amount of money that would flow into risk capital for

Poss and Wilder's 'Friendly Feud'

I've been looking forward to Monday night ever since I first heard that Delnor Poss had taken the head coaching job at Midland College. I'm, of course, speaking of the "Friendly Feud" that will take place in Hawk gym tomorrow night at 7:30 between the Howard College Hawks and the Midland College roundballers.

And this won't be the first time Harold Wilder and Delnor Poss have opposed each other as coaches. Exactly 20 years ago, they began an association that has lasted through the years.

Back in 1957, Wilder got his first coaching job at Barnhart High School, a town south of San Angelo. Delnor was coaching at Garden City at the time, and the two teams met in the second round of the Garden City tournament. The Bearkats won that meeting, and the most vivid memory that Wilder holds about the contest is that he became extremely mad at the young official who called the game, one Oakie Hagood.

In the same year, Wilder and Poss were teammates on the San Angelo "Aeroplastics," a city league team that "beat everybody unmercifully," remembers Wilder. Their best player

HAROLD WILDER

"the"), and Wilder and Poss would drive into San Angelo every weekend to play in the league.

The two coaches didn't see each other for a few years until Delnor started coaching basketball at BSHS. At the time, Wilder was officiating high school games, and he called a number of the Steer games.

Ironically, a few years later, Poss got out of coaching and began of-ficiating, and Wilder became head coach at Abilene High. Then Poss called a number of the Abilene games. Wilder cannot remember a time when one or the other threw the other one out of the gym.

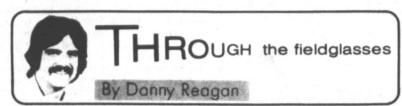

This writer went to BSHS when Poss was coaching basketball, but the most memorable event (for me) concerning Poss came during a SWC game in Austin. While living in Austin I never missed a University of Texas home basketball game...not because I was (or ever have been) a Longhorn fan, but because college roundball is always exciting.

Poss called a few of those games, and on one particular evening, the UT fanatic I was with cussed a blue streak at Delnor that would have made a sailor faint. This guy I was with had been thrown out of three games already, and I was sure we'd see the door at any minute. (We were sitting not five feet from where Poss would always come over and stand during a break in the action.) Delnor never flicked an eyebrow.

Earlier this year, I asked Poss if he remembered the incident. "Not really. That happens all the time, everywhere you go, and they all seem to melt into one," Delnor replied.

Wilder and Poss will no doubt continue to be best of friends no matter what happens Monday night, but business is business. The two rode to the Steer game together Friday night and talked about the rest of the Western Juco picture, but Wilder told me that not once did they discuss the upcoming battle between the two.

The earlier meeting between the two teams this year was a heartbreaking affair that the Hawks lost by two points at the buzzer, on the shot of all night.

Wilder feels that the key to success in tomorrow's contest will be to do the same thing they did in the first meeting, but more of it. The Hawks played an excellent defensive game in that first outing, neutralizing the two biggest post men in the conference-Taylor and Hudgins (6-7, 235 and 6-6, 250). Another tough job for the conference Tommy Parks, the leading

'Roots" will be over Monday, and there really isn't anything that great on TV, so if you want to see a good basketball game, with all the emotion and action, and this time a little added drama, stop by Hawk gym about 7:30 Monday. I doubt if you will be disappointed.

Watson cards 5 birds. takes lead in Williams

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Tom Watson birdied all the par five holes for the second day in a row and, with a fiveunder-par 67, broke out of a three-way tie and established a two-stroke lead Saturday in the third round of the $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

Watson, winner of the Bing Crosby last week and a strong, fourth-place finisher the week before that, put together a 54-hole total of 200, matching the tournament record at 16 below par. For his last 11 rounds, the red-haired Watson is a whopping 37 strokes below par.

hazy day, came on a 15-foot putt on the 18th hole at the 7,047 yard South course at the Torrey Pines Golf Club and dropped into the cup just moments after the national television cameras had ended their coverage for the day.

When the TV broke away, Watson enjoyed only a single shot lead over Bob Shearer of Australia, a frequent winner in Europe and his home country but a 28-year-old rookie on the American tour. Shearer, along with Lon Hinkle, shared the second-round lead with Watson but couldn't match Tom's heroics on the par-five holes.

Storms, cold bus

There are athletic storm clouds brewing at Big Spring High School that have recently come into view through my glasses (and ears), and once all the people involved are contacted personally, I'll try to give you the whole ball of wax in the least painful way possible.

Speaking of the high school, the Big Spring Steer roundballers didn't fare too well in Abilene Friday night. It's a wonder they did as well as they did. Of course, you all know they've been riddled with the flu for the past couple of weeks. And if you think that's making excuses for them, why don't you try to get out of bed, much less play basketball after a bout with that Frankie Rubio, a very important man underneath the basket for the locals, didn't make the trip to Abilene. He was too sick. Big man Kenneth Perry, who had been in the hospital five days prior to Friday, suited up and gave it all he had, but he, too, was weakened. Other Steers were in various stages of the bug as well.

For some reason, the team didn't get to take the regular athletic bus with a real live heater. They were given a bus that had a small front seat heater that was designed to keep the front two feet of the bus warm. In addition, some players indicated that a number of the windows were 'screwed up" and couldn't be closed all the way. This was all to the con-sternation of a few of the parents of the players.

Also, for some reason, money was not available to buy the team a pregame meal. The Steers wound up paying for their own hamburgers at the Whattaburger. And after the game, with the temperature dropped to 12 degrees, the Steers had to leave Abilene without taking a shower after the game. With most of them sick already, little chance could be taken with wet hair and a freezing bus. They wore their warm-ups underneath their clothes on the way back.

One player who usually sleeps on the way back, said that it was much too cold to nod off, and that he could 'see his breath all the way home.'

One parent said that if it had been the football team, a plane with two sideline heaters would have been chartered for the trip.

I don't know what happened. I'm sure someone will tell me. The Steer roundballers are a great bunch of guys. They play with a lot of heart, sick or not, and they deserve better

Mike Little, the freshman from Abilene High, still leads the Preybirds in scoring with 396 total markers. Abilene Cooper sophomore Reggie Leffall is slowly gaining on his former opponent, however, with a total of 389. Paul Cathey, the 6-6 Hawk center, has also broken the 300 mark with 312 total points. Cathey is also way out in front of the pack with total rebounds. He has 310. Eugene William's 225 is the closest

The Hawks have hit 469 per cent of their shots from the field and .680 from the free throw line. Jim Ray has the individual high of .544 per cent from the field, while Little leads the free throw shooters with a .737 mark.

Little also had the most assists, 98, while Paul Cathey has garnered the most personal fouls, 82.

Arkansas Hogs maintain big roll

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas' Big 3—Marvin Delph, Sidney Moncrief and Ron Brewer—combined for 60 points to give the 15th-ranked Razorbacks their ninth-straight Southwest Conference victory, 68-59, over Baylor Saturday afternoon.

Delph and Moncrief had 22 points apiece and Brewer added 16 to dominate the regionally televised game at Heartof-Texas colisieum.

Arkansas outshot Baylor 63 per cent to 29 and outrebounded the Bears 18-7 in the first half to take a 34-21 lead at intermission. However, the Razorbacks led only 22-17 at one point with Baylor's Arthur Edwards accounting for 13 of the points while Arkansas was plagued by turnovers and fouls.

Razorbacks are now 16-1 for the season while Baylor dropped to 4-5 in conference play and 9-10 overall. Edwards finished with 17 points to lead the Bears, followed by Russ Oliver with 11.

Arkansas' biggest lead was 66-47 before Baylor scored 10 points in a row late in the game to cut the final margin.

Racetracks face many?in future

LAS CRUCES (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.(FDIC), would rather close Sunland Park and Ruidoso Downs race tracks than rush to find new operators, an attorney for the federal agency said

Attorney Terrence Ponsford said if the controversial members of the Alessio family aren't re-licensed, the FDIC would probably have to foreclose on their debt of more than $7 million.

But the federal agency is slow to move, he said, and would take its time before selling the tracks or even selecting temporary managers. The FDIC knows nothing about racing, "doesn't want to get into the racing business," and is satisfied with the operation of the Alessios, Ponsford said. "Their practice is not to hold fire sales," the attorney said. The FDIC takes its time in order to get as much money as possible in selling off assets, he said. The Alessios contend the two tracks will net more than $1.2 million a year, averaging more than $500,000 above what they need to satisfy the FDIC and other creditors.

'Red Heads' coming to Big Spring

The entertainment event of the year is coming to Big Spring Feb. 22. The band of women's basketball super stars known as Moore's All-American Red Heads will be bringing their world champion professional basketball team to Steer gym to do battle with a motley crew of local male coaches and teachers.

And it's all for a good cause. The Big Spring Quarterback Club is using the event to raise money for the Spring Athletic Banquet for the boys and girls basketball, swimming, golf, track and boy's baseball teams. Advance tickets are available at the Big Spring ISD ticket office or by contacting Quarterback Club stalwart "Jumpin" Jerry" Foresyth, who will be a member of the local

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students before the game, with both prices raised 50 cents at the door the night of the game. Big Spring Athletic Director Don Robbins stated that the contest was set up to avoid interferring with other local sporting events, and he feels that the contest will be excellent entertainment, filled more with good humor than male-female grudge matches. The local crew of opponents for the Red Heads will be named at a later date, but rumors indicate that students who attend the game will be able to laugh at and-or cheer on their most loved or hated elders.

The All-American Red Heads were originated in 1936 by "Ole" Olson, coach-owner and feature star of the world famous "Olson's" Terrible Swedes. "Ole" Olson, originator and the greatest exponent of back-hand passing the game has ever known, was thrilling audiences all over American with his antics long before the now fabulous Harlem Globe Trotters were ever heard of The Swedes were taken off the road in 1935, and in their place came a team that was destined to be recognized all over the basketball world, year in and out, as the greatest girl's team in the annals of girl's basketball. This team was to become known as the All-American Red Heads.

Mrs. Doyle olson, wife of the legendary "Ole" Olson, had a chain of beauty salons operated in the Ozark area of and near Cassville, Mo. ugls basketball, being a very popular sport, the girls who worked for Mrs. Olson, formed a basketball team.

Two members were red heads, but the other members were not, so in order to have a more striking appearance, the girls as a prank, with the aid of henna, all became red heads. From their appearance, the 'Cassville Red Heads' was an attraction with box offices appeal. Requests poured in. Before the 1935 season was over, the "Cassville Red Heads" became known as the "Missouri Red Heads", which was an amateur team.

C.M. Olson attraction wise as he was, immediately knew he had a "hit attraction" and the following year, a team was put on the road as the "Red Heads"! All players were red headed. Then came the change to All-American Red Heads, as many national A.A.U. Stars of All America status were added to the Red Heads' roster, hence, the All-American Red Heads. In 1950, C.M. Olson obtained a copyright in sports and no athletic amusement, entertainment, may use the term "red heads", without the consent of the management of the All-American Red Heads. Today, the All-American Red Heads is the only team in the history of girls basketball with a copyright.

YOUNG IDEAS

By DICK YOUNG

For love of money is a root of all sorts of injurious things, and by reaching out for this love some have been led astray from the faith and have stabbed themselves all over with many pains.

-1 Tomothy VI, 10.

The self-inflicted pain is over now for Thurman Munson; for the moment. On Wednesday, he flew in from Canton, and George Steinbrenner flew up from Tampa, and they talked, and they decided they both wanted Thurman Munson to play baseball in New York, which is how it will

"It was a misunderstanding," said Thurman Munson.
"It was a misunderstanding," said George Stein-

MISUNDERSTANDING - OR ENVY?

It goes deeper than that. It is envy. It is, as the Bible says, the love of money that is so manifest in baseball today, in all professional sport. It is the self-torment over somebody else doing just a little better than you are, the coveting of what another man is getting, whether you need the extra money or not.

Thurman Munson was a very happy man, until one recent day when somebody told him that Reggie Jackson is to be paid more money by the Yankees than he is. Then Thurman Munson was a very unhappy man.

Thruman Munson, 29, is a millionaire, or close to it. He has invested well in Ohio real estate, his native land. He has a very lucrative contract with the Yankees, one that will gross him well over $1 million for the next five years. He has a bright wife, and healthy young children, and he has the admiration accorded a Most Valuable Player, and he has status as the captain of the Yankees.

For all this, Thurman Munson made himself unhappy. He stood up at a banquet in Ontario, Canada, the other night and said he wanted the Yankees to trade him.

Now, Munson and Steinbrenner have thrashed it all out, and there is harmony again on the Yankees, or is there? Have we seen only the tip of the discontent? The danger lurks below, hidden in the troubled deep, and the Yankees can crash on it. Can't they Thurman?

When you got a lot of free time in the winter, and you're not playing," he said, on the phone from Canton. "it's easy to say things, and do things, and let them bother you. But in the summer, when you play ball, there is not time for that.

I wonder. Idle hours do let the mind run rampant, magnifying the discontent and the envy, but it is more than that. There will come a time, next summer, when Reggie Jackson will pop up in the last of the ninth, with the bags full, and Thurman Munson will look at him across the Yankee clubhouse and say to himself, how can they pay him more than me?

And Reggie Jackson can read. He has seen by now that Thurman Munson resented certain things, and Reggie Jackson will resent his resentment. It is the Boston Red Sox all over again.

"I know, Boston got in trouble last year because guys like Fisk and Lynn and Burleson weren't signed. I said, when we signed Reggie and Don Gullett, that the key would be to get the important guys on our club signed, said Munson over the phone. He mentioned Chambliss, Lyle Figueroa, White, still unsigned. ERNIE BANKS AND TIMOTHY HAVE ANSWER

It's not all that simple. This is the reserve clause revolution. This is a time when a man will sign one day, and renegotiate the next. This is a time of big money and Ernie Banks, on the day he was elected to baseball's

Hall of Fame, told the secret of his unfading smile. "You

Yung new WT coach

CANYON, Tex. (AP) -Baylor University offensive coordinator Bill Yung was named Friday as new head football coach at West Texas State University, which almost gave up its football program because of financial problems.

West Texas regents Chairman Jack Shelton made the announcement at a morning news conference.

Yung replaces Gene Mayfield, who quit earlier this month as West Texas coach after regents doubted the school could afford to keep playing football at the NCAA Division I level.

The regents set a deadline of 30 days for $300,000 to be raised to save the football program. However, enough money has been donated and pledged in a fund-raising drive to keep the program alive for at least another Yung, 41, a native of Ranger, Tex., played on the 1956 Texas Christian Cotton Bowl team.

He coached in the high school ranks at Colleyville and Grand Prairie before joining Grant Teaff's staff when Teaff first went to Baylor. Yung became offensive coordinator in 1974, the year Baylor won the Southwest Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bailey, Jal, N.M. — 9 lb. and 11 lb. stripers. Jim Crownover, Odessa — 8 lb. stripler. Leslie Bagwell, Robert Lee - 31/4 lb. striper, 2 blacks at 4 lbs. each. Harvey Huckaby and Roy Daughtery, Arlington - 4 stripers at 3, 41/4, 41/2 and 63/4 lbs.

Most of the fishermen around the area say that fishing up the river is still the best. Some of these fish were caught up river about four miles from N.J.'s Marina, near the oil well mounds. Hellbenders and slabs are bringing in the big ones, so you might want to try your luck with either of those lures.

Right about now some of you quail hunters are probably thinking that hunting is over for another year, so you might as well retire the old shooting iron back on the rack until another season rolls around.

Well, this doesn't necessarily have to be the case. If you like to hunt quail (and you don't mind a little traveling), you can. And it will only cost you $1 to boot.

No, there is no quail hunting in Coke County, but there is hunting allowed on four of the wildlife management areas operated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

For example, if you like the lower Panhandle as a hunting ground, there is an area open to quail hunters on Feb. 5-6, 12-13 and 19-20. This area is the Matador, 11 miles north of Paducah in Cottle County. There is no restriction on the number of daily hunters allowed on the 28,183 acre area, but the bag limit will remain 12 per day, with $1 fee.

How about South Texas for a hunting spot? The Chaparral area in Dimmit and LaSalle counties is open to hunters. This 15,200 acre facility has no restriction on the number of daily hunters, and is located eight miles west of Artesia Wells on State Highway 133. Hunting is allowed on this area Feb. 5-6, 12-13, 26-27.

There are two more areas in Texas open to quail hunters. In the upper Panhandle, six miles east of Canadian in Hemphill County, there is an area called the Gene Howe. In this area, quail hunting is allowed on Feb. 5-6 and March 5-6, but only 30 hunters per day will be allowed on

The Pat Mayse area in East Texas, located 11 miles northwest of Paris in Lamar County is the fourth area open. but in this one, there is no fee, nor is there any restriction on the number of hunters allowed on the property. Quail hunting there began Dec. 1, 1976 and runs through Feb. 13, 1977.

Michigan upset

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) -Billy McKinney tossed in 29 points and lowly Northwestern handed secondranked Michigan its first Big Ten loss 99-87 in a major college basketball upset Saturday

The Wolverines fell behind by six points at the half and never were able to catch the Wildcats, who scored only their fifth victory of the season against 13 losses.

Michigan, suffering only its second loss of the season, fell behind by 13 midway in the second half and rallied to cut the Northwestern lead to two points at 74-72 with eight Northwestern then opened a 77-72 lead and with 6:31 remaining Michigan Olympian Phil Hubbard, who had scored 19 points, fouled out and the Wolverines were doomed.

It was touch and go in the first half, with the teams taking turns holding the until Northwestern pulled ahead 45-39 at the Michigan had a horrid time at the free throw line, missing 11 of 20 in the first Northwestern had five players in double figures with Bob Svete scoring 17, Tony Allen 13, Bob Klaas 11 and Mike Campbell 10.

Care for a "goo goo"? The juniors have taken the task of selling these gooey candies. They sell for 35 cents each or $2.00 a box. A contest is also involved in the selling between the girls and the guys. According to a secondhand source, the group that wins has the honor of throwing pies at some members of the other group. Also, each person who buys a goo goo writes his-her name on the wrapper. A name is drawn from the collected wrappers and an award is given. Profits of the junior class projects go toward the financing of the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The art club contributed some after-school time in order to decorate lockers for basketball. Coach Thompson also made a contribution to basketball by exhibiting his bulletin board covered in paper basketballs.

Speech contestants entered into the Monahans tournament Saturday, leaving as early as 5:40. A little later, the math club took off for the Andrews tournament. They were followed by the science club. With the now complete cast, the one-act play is in its beginning stages. The cast gathers daily for readings and, of course, runs lines on and off school time.

Friday was the last day for students to play their solos and ensembles for director, George Walker. A fee of $2.00 was required at the time of playing which will be refunded if-when the student performs at the actual solo and ensemble contest.

Band pictures were taken Thursday morning during first period. As usual, a few last minute "miracles" were necessary to accommodate those who remembered their uniforms the moment the second bell rang.

'Assertiveness is no match for the smarts," said Prof. Eugene Jennings, who has spent his adult life studying the routes and techniques used in ascending the corporate management

Jennings, management professor at Michigan State University and confidential adviser to many corporate chief executives, said the female behavior pattern has revealed itself as more managerial jobs open up for

"Potentially competent women are opting themselves right into oblivion," he said. After promising beginnings, and in spite of equal rights legislation, their upward mobility is stalled by an insensitivity to the code.

Jennings states that the first principle of mobility is to see the corporation as it really is. Assertive women, explained, sometimes try to make the company over to fit their desires rather than to work with it as it is.

"American women have been misled into thinking the assertiveness of the service world, such as advertising, will work in the more sedate tough-minded manufacturing sector of our society," he continued.

Those who understand the real world of manufacturing know that "nobody is put in charge of an enterprise unless trusted implicitly, and hard work and assertiveness are not trust," said Jennings.

A woman with the smarts, as Jennings chooses to call a knowledge of the corporate code, recognizes that it is a team effort that cannot be played by just one person, no matter how assertive that person might be. Compromise is essential.

talented subordinate who Competent women are will work hard to get him promoted, and who in fact believes she is crucial to his mobility.

"Women, who are selfcentered cannot work to get the boss promoted and therefore cannot themselves promoted,' Jennings observed, adding: "No woman is allowed to walk over more than one boss to get a promotion.'

Asked if that remark might not provoke a caustic retort from women, Jennings revealed that his sympathies are entirely with the women — that in fact he is guiding a seminar for women executives on the subject at his college on Feb. 12 and that he pioneered a similar seminar back in 1965

Nevertheless, he added that "Women who react to that statement have themselves as their worst problem." Assertiveness by itself, he emphasized, can be counter-productive.

A lot of women are doing great things in corporations but nobody sponsors them, said Jennings. "They don't have the smarts." Not that the situation is all their fault. "Women are given training but no private coaching.'

"ROOTS" DESCENDANTS - Judge A. Nelson Waller, 73, top, Benjamin Cole, 73, bottom left, and Julia A. Thompson, 84, bottom right, have one thing in common, their ancestors were involved in "Roots," the dramatization of Alex Haley's novel of his black family's history which has the third largest audience in television history, according to ABC-TV. Judge Waller's ancestors were the planatation owners who bought Haley's great-great-great-grandfather. Cole remembers his grandfather telling him about the slave days on the Waller family plantation. Mrs. Thompson recalls her grandmother telling of "being auctioned off a block in Charles Town, W.Va., "before arriving in Spotsylvania, Va., as a Waller slave.

Nor will he be the last.

"Breezin" may not be pure jazz, but it is reaching a much wider audience than other jazz albums have. It is smooth and easy music played at a leisurely pace. The mood is lyrical rather than funky, romantic rather energetic. The improvisation is more relaxed and almost predictable, which distresses some jazz purists. "I can't put a label on it -I like pretty music," Benson says. "But I would have a very short career if I just played pretty music.

ahead of the fickle rascal by naming their Valentine Sweethearts before he was out and about his business.

Traditionally presented in a formal ceremony at the annual Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball, the "sweethearts' represent five local chapters and the BSP City Council. Different sweethearts are named each year by their sorority sisters for the special honor and are joined by their escorts to be introduced at the ball and presented a long-stemmed rose.

The Valentine Ball, open to the public, is an event to raise funds for charities supported by Beta Sigma Phi and is sponsored by the BSP City Council. This year, it will be held in the Dora Roberts Community Center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Feb. 12 and will feature the appropriate theme, "The Twelth of Never." Music for dancing will be by the River Bend Edition featuring Johnny Cantrell.

Seeks revision of practice act

The revision of the Texas Nurse Practice Act, currently House Bill 594, was the main topic of discussion at the Advisory Council of Nurses Texas Association, held in Austin, Jan. 20-21. Nurses attending from Big Spring were Mrs. Molly Butler, regional member of the TNA Board of Directors, and Mrs. Lettie Lee, vice president of the District 24 Texas Nurses Association.

The Texas Nurses Association feels very strongly that the present 54-year-old Nurse Practice Act needs revision. The licensing regulations of barbers, beauty operators, and plumbers are stricter than Nursing Practice Act will upgrade nursing in Texas by requiring that those persons performing professional nursing be licensed to do so, and that continuing education to up-date skills be required for re-licensing. This proposed act will not infringe on the rights of other medical professions or health care providers, nor will it adversely affect the licensed status of currently registered professional nurses or vocational nurses according to the TNA.

The revision of the Nursing Practice Act will also enable the patient to expect qualified persons to administer nursing care just as he expects a qualified physician to administer medical care. Nurses in the Texas Nurses Association say they need the support of all persons interested in better health care now. This can be done by writing to State Representative Mike Ezzell. He may be addressed: Representative Mike Ezzell, House of Representatives, P.O. Box 2910, Austin, Texas

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Butler or other members of District 24 Texas Nurses Association. While in Austin, Mrs.

Butler also attended a breakfast for members of the Texas Legislature. Some 76 representatives and their aides attended. Mrs. Lee is director of the School of Nursing, Howard College, as well as the Allied Health Program Mrs. Butler is a supervisor of nurses at Big Spring State Hospital.

Dating is an exciting stage in young people's development - but one which some parents face with apprehension or confusion.

Dating in the U.S. is a major way of socializing youth and providing them with opportunities to get to know members of the opposite sex. And as families increase their understanding of the dynamics of adolescent dating and intimacy, hopefully their fears will subside, and both teenagers and parents will grow from this experience. Dating is a means of satisfying a basic, inherent need during adolescence, the need for intimacy. It includes the need for a close personal relationship with another person and the need for intense closeness and involvement with something meaningful.

HUMAN NEED Psychologists note that intimacy is as basic a human need as are the needs of love, food and water. Without it, people experience great anguish. Its importance becomes central during the adolescent years, when the peer group begins to disintegrate and heterosexual sexual pairing-up prevails. Plagued by various emotional conflicts, the teenager needs a close companion, someone to talk to, confide in, and share intimate problems and experiences. Unfortunately, intimacy is not always an easy need to satisfy. It is neither characterized by per-manance nor free from exploitation by others. president of the Men's Bible Teenagers are not always Class, First United sure just what they seek in intimate relationships, When an adolescent is rejected, he may have feelings of pain and inadequacy, but when intimacy is openly received, there are feelings of self-

Four Freshmen will appear here in concert Monday

In the beginning they created the sound — a fresh, vibrant and invigorating blend of harmony. It was inventive and it left an indelible mark on the face of modern music to be an influence for any group that was to come.

They are The Four Freshmen. and members of the Spring Concert Association will have the opportunity to hear them again Monday evening when the group appears here on stage at the Municipal Auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m., and lucky ticketholders are advised to be in their seats early so as not to miss a note.

The "Freshmen" been honored in most national and international polls as the "best vocal group' time and time again. Through eras of sound, through fads of fancy, The Four Freshmen have been a constant; showing in polls, selling records and attracting sell-out audiences at concerts and club ap-pearances. The Four Freshmen have been an unparalleled vocal and instrumental influence on music. Never before and quite possibly never again will such a combination exist. The unique sound and format were formulated by four very young men in 1948

Mrs. Thelma F. Odom, postmistress at Silver for 331/2 years, retired last post office. Friday and was honored at a recognition party.

"How about the Silver Post Office?" "What's it near?" voice said belligerently. 'It's between Colorado City Robert Lee." and "They don't have a post office listed," said the voice.

"But," I objected, "I have a news clipping here about the postmistress retiring from the post office and telling the name of the next postmistress. There must be a telephone." Voice said in disgust, "I will turn you over to my supervisor."

Says supervisor, "Yes?" dripping with ice. I explained the problem. "What post office?" says super-visor. "Silver" says says reporter. "What's it near?" I thought, "Dear God, give me patience. I might have to be a telephone operator some

She was gone. So I called the Colorado City post office. "This is ridiculous," they said, "There's a post office at Silver. They must have a phone. Now to get the confusion of the telephone service and the postal service all into one operation is a terrible snafu. But to make a long miserable story short, finally found a sectional center manager at Midland in the postal service who knew Mrs. Odom. "I do not have the postal office number, but I have her home number," he said. And he gave it to me. I shall treasurer it.

"I am seeking the number extended vacation."

'Open house' at KBST

Radio Station KBST Big Spring will observe its 40th anniversary with an "open house" from 2 until 4 p.m., today at its studios at 608 Johnson Street.

The public is invited to come by and inspect the expanded facilities of Big Spring's oldest station and sample refreshments prepared by the management.

Winston Wrinkle, the present owner of the firm. was a partner in the Snider Corp., which purchased the station from Affiliated Newspapers in October, 1959. At the time, Wrinkle had three young partners -Ted L. Snider, Robert M. Newgard and John K. Withers.

Newgard, Withers and Wrinkle bought Snider's interests in 1961. Four years later. Wrinkle became sole owner of the firm. Since that time. KBST has experienced consistent growth.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to the many kind and loving friends and relatives of our darling Mother, Mrs. Zora Harrison Little, for the words of comfort and consideration to her husband and for all the expressions of sympathy in our time of bereavement, and for the abundant supply of food that was so graciously sent to our home. In our love.

CLYDE HARRISON JEANIE BURLESON EUNICE FLATT

In the midst of our sorrows, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the loss of our Son and Brother, Danny Hooser. We especially wish to thank the Rev. William H. Smythe for his comforting words, those who sent the many beautiful floral offerings, the pallbearers, the organist, the singer. Also those who prepared and served the delicious food and the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home for their efficient management of the service.

With a $2,042,240 estimated con-struction cost for the new coliseum, the building permit total for the city in 1976 edged the 1975 total by a little over $200,000.

Total costs for last year came to $4,888,162, compared to $4,664,115 for 1975. Though costs were up, the total number of permits was down, from 457 in 1975 to 312 in 1976.

With the coliseum permit issued March 10, just before the announcement of a possible closure of Webb AFB, March was far and away the top month of the year. The figure for March came to $2,359,590, well over half the total for 1976.

With a $450,000 permit issued to Rip Griffin on Aug. 12 for a new motel, and a $56,000 permit issued to Bill Sears on Aug. 16 for an addition to the Burger Chef Drive-in, the month of August was the second best of the year. The month's total came to $654,450.

Other big projects for the year included an extension to the First Federal Savings and Loan, $350,480; an apartment building to be constructed on Goliad, $120,000; an extension of Berkley Mobile Homes Inc., $90,000; the construction of a beauty salon at College Park Shopping Center, $85,000; and an extension of the Don Crawford Pontiac Dealership,

A Matter Of Pride

We, at Gibson's, are proud of Big Spring and the way it continues to progress. It has just completed a year that was predicted nationally to be a disaster and turned out to be a great year at Gibson's and Big Spring.

We have grown with Big Spring the past 17 years and we are optimistic about its future. Gibson's came to Big Spring 17 years ago, with our first store located at 3rd and Johnson.

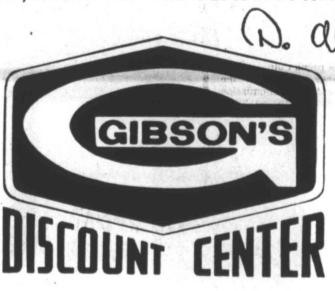

At that time, we offered an opening sale and had 6,000 items in stock. Today, we have more than 66,000 items for sale. We have progressed with Big Spring and are very appreciative of our Big Spring customers and friends.

Gibson's is now in the process of arranging our merchandise to make for easier shopping, and will soon have a Locator Directory for all items.

Through this and other continued improvements, we can continue to offer our customers what we consider the best merchandise at the best prices.

We congratulate Big Spring for its continued growth and progress. And we congratulate you, the people who have chosen to live in this community.

We are here to serve you and will continue to do so in the coming year.

The Big Spring School District and the Board of Trustees faced three significant events in 1976.

In January a major coaching change brought Don Robbins to the high school as athletic director along with other major coaching changes.

The most significant event of the year, however, was the reluctant approval in August by the Board of a $9 million budget which ran a deficit of $420,000. The deficit was the result of inflationary expenses and reduced state funds. The budget included a $6,849,561 teacher payroll. The deficit was covered by reserve funds saved from Superintendent Emmett McKenzie said that another year of such deficit would exhaust the funds.

The Board approved the use of the reserve funds as an alternative to either cutting back programs or increasing taxes. The most recent tax increase was in 1968 when the assessment ratio was increased from 60 to 75 per cent.

The third major event was the continued freezing of federal funds to the school district by HEW because of alleged desegregation violations. Various appeals within the government agency have yet to resolve the problem

McKenzie said that because of the federal freeze, funds which could have been as high as $800,000 were reduced to $550,000.

The district came through changes, but of a year which will mark some very significant beginnings. In 1977, the state legislature 17, Elder Smith, 1309 Scurry, will face some crucial lift the burden of waiting from the Board's shoulders.

> Dependent on all these situations is the 1977 budget which should, if programs are not reduced, be comparable to the $9,112,409 budget of 1976.

"The attitude we will proach our future is with said McKenzie, "Whatever situation we are faced with; what ever attendance, campus numbers, or revenue size, we will use our resources to provide the throughout the year, the Board in February approved $50,000 in improvements to the high school gym for remodeling and lighting. In October, Bobby Fuller and Delbert Donaldson were appointed to the Board to fill vacancies left by resigning members Tom Fetters and Jerry Jenkins.

The Board approved in May a mandatory 65 retirement deadline. They approved in November bids for new band uniforms.

The district operated 14 campuses plus a Head Start program during 1976, which McKenzie stated was a quite large number for the size of the district.

In relating the number of campuses to the financial position of the district, McKenzie said, decision made about the number of campuses will be very emotional. In regard to 1977, those decisions will be based on the economic situation, our enrollment figures," and any desegregation decision.

Two killed in record fire year

Every Big Spring Fire Department emergency was up last year except false alarms.

Fires in buildings rose from 115 for 1975 to 125 in 1976. Brush or grass fires totalled 255, as compared to 200 for 1975.

Auto fires jumped from 72 in 1975 to 103 in 1976. The only figure showing a decline was for false alarms which dropped from 85 in Insured fire losses for the year totalled $1,729,393.99. This was up from 1975 when totalled losses $155,492.12.

Uninsured losses came to only $12,100, down from $15,600 for 1975.

Two fatalities occurred as a result of fires during the year. On Aug. 18, Frank Franco, an eight month old child, was burned to death in lot of the Salvation Army. On July 7, Donald McEvers received burns which later proved fatal in a gas explosion in his home, 508 Johnson. Attempts were made to save McEvers at the Galveston Burn Center, but he died several days after the incident.

In addition, two serious burn cases were reported. On nov. 24, Gary Hopper, a car fire in the rear parking 2509 Ann, used highly

The City of Big Spring's official audit for 1976 showed a cash balance of $139,182 in the general fund and $107,866 in the water and sewer fund. This is up considerably from the balance of $24,206 in the general fund and $40,104 in the water and sewer fund at year's end in 1975. 'This is probably our best economic indicator, and it shows that we are in pretty good shape," said Tom Ferguson, director of Ferguson, finance for the city.

The balance for the year was also up for both funds The general fund showed a balance of $126,851, while the water and sewer fund balanced out at $7,548,566.

The lopsided nature of the two funds began in 1975 when all fixed assets of the city were listed under the water and sewer fund. This caused the fund's balance to jump from $261,137 in 1974 to $7,151,678 in 1975, explained

Operation major action for CRMWD

At long last, the Colorado River Municipal Water District experienced in 1976 that year when operations were the major happenings.
The one extension, of sorts, was taking over the City of Pyote water system from the University of Texas, from which the CRMWD obtains water rights in Ward County. A contract was executed with Cosden Oil and Chemical Company whereby the district will see that the company's refining and petrochemical complex at Big Spring obtains water from Lake J.B. Thomas. The weather modification program continued, being oined for the first time by Texas Tech University and Texas A and M. University as well as the Bureau of Reclamation and Texas Water Development Board. During the year, the district expereinced record revenues of $6,450,306, partly due to increased deliveries but more to higher rates to generate funds for increased debt service. In 1975, revenues had been $879,000 less, or $5,571,017. The cities paid $4,143,174, or $708,000 more than the $3,435,260 he year before. Oil and industrial users paid $2,317,561, or $268,000 more than the $2,049,791 the previous year.

Suspend judges

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A proposal that would give the Judicial Qualifications Commission the power to suspend judges has been introduced by Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur.

Parker said under present law the commission "can only recommend suspension or removal of a judge who has been indicted by state or federal grand jury.

His proposed con-stitutional amendment, he said, "would permit the commission to provide for the suspension of judges under certain cumstances."

Fiber Glass System had $4 million sales

Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., Big Spring's fiber glass pipe manufacturing facility boomed to over $4 million in sales during 1976 and this may be a springboard to an even greater year in 1977.

in October. Of the eight robberies which took place during last year, seven occurred in small local business places. Half were robberies of Seven-Eleven Stores.

Perhaps dramatic of all was the robbery of Winchell's Donut House, 2111 Gregg, on Feb. 22. At 12:26 a.m. that day, 16year-old Andrews Grosse, the cashier at the shop, was stabbed 30 times with a letter opener by two assailants who got away with $85. He survived his wounds.

Meanwhile, an alert police dispatcher, Mrs. Paula Smelser, alerted Colorado City Police to detain two young males who had just been picked up for a traffic violation. They matched the description of the assailants.

Because the suspects were juveniles, (one was only 14 years old, and the other 15 years old at the time of the robbery), their names have only recently appeared in the

An hour earlier that same day, two men wearing stocking masks walked into the Town and Country Store, 3104 Parkway. One held a gun on the cashier while the other emptied the register of $796.50.

The only available description of the masked men was a rough approximation of weight, height and hair color.

Although the descriptions of the culprits differe in each case, robberies of other small businesses had much the same outcome. On Feb. 28, a five-foot, nine-inch tall man robbed the Pizza Inn of $500. It was also noted by witnesses that the man had bright red hair and a red moustache. He was thought to be in his late teens.

On June 1, a six-foot man around 30 years of age, Store at 902 Willia of between $50 and $60. The next day, a five-foot, nine-inch tall man, weighing about 180 pounds, with black hair, got away with $150 from the Seven-Eleven Store at 2310 Wasson.

On Aug. 26, a man answering the same description as the June 1 robber held up the Seven-Eleven Store at Eighteenth and Gregg in the early morning hours. He pulled a gun on the clerk and customer there, and lifted blank money orders and $45 in cash from the register. Big Spring Detectives have been on the trail a suspect in these two robberies, and he may soon be brought to

Perhaps the brightest spot in the year for the police department is the success of the new Selective Traffic Enforcement Program (STEP) initiated in October.

The program is headed by Capt. Sherrill Farmer, and Sgt. Jimmy Wallace is the chief patrolman in charge of the experiment.

"The idea is to try to reduce accidents by concentrating our efforts in especially bad areas," said Wallace. "The program has never been used continuously anywhere, and if it $100,000 gift works here, we may try to go statewide with it."

It does seem to be working here. During November of 1976 accidents were reduced by 22, from 161 for November of 1975 to 139 for last year. A total of 110 accidents was reported for December of last year, down from 143 accidents recorded for the month in 1975.

Total wrecks for the year numbered 1.552, as compared to 1,636 for 1975.

Unfortunately, the number of accidents resulting in injuries increased last year. A total of 217 major accidents, with 301 persons injured, occurred in 1976. In 1975, the total was 181 major accidents with 246 persons weathered the announcement of a possible closure of Webb AFB, the near loss of local airline service, and some abrupt personnel changes, and seemed none the worse for wear.

The spring membership drive netted 75 new duespayers, 20 more than the year before. Spearheaded by the Chamber Ambassadors and its president, Ellis Britton, the membership drive was the most successful in recent memory.

The other side of the coin found the chamber in a state of turmoil Nov. 18 when Terry Hanson, manager, quit, and Tom Roy, industrial manager, was fired. Loss of the two was the result of eight months of comanagership of the chamber. When Roy came the chamber was divided between him and Hanson, confusing the responsibilities of both, according to all concerned.

To remedy the situation, the chamber board met and decided to go back to the oneman-at-the-helm system. Hanson tendered his resignation, and the board decided that Roy was not the man for the job.

Since then, a five-man chamber committee has lured ex-Army-Colonel Bill Albright to fill the manager's position. He is presently the director of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce in Hereford, and will take over here on Feb. 1.

Perhaps the blackest day of the year for the city was March 10, the day the possible closure of Webb AFB was announced. And from that day on, the chamber took up the fight to prevent the closure in earn-

Hilton Cheque program will be expanded

NEW YORK - Because of its great success and wide acceptance, Hilton International's unique HiltonCheque program will be expanded for the season April 1, 1977 to March 31,

Five more Hilton International properties will be added to the list of participating hotels, bringing to 28 the number of hotels in Europe, North Africa and Israel in the HiltonCheque program. The present HiltonCheque program ends on March 31, 1977.

The price of the new HiltonCheques will be $36 single and $45 double, including tax and service charges. They guarantee year-round room rates which in many cases represent a savings of over 15 per cent on hotel accommodations. HiltonCheques also include the bonus of one or more meals at some hotels.

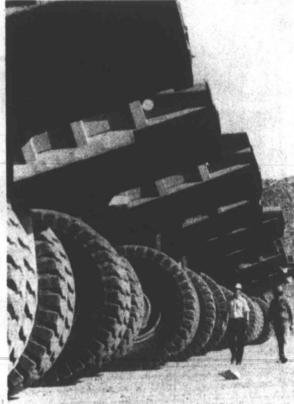

Resembling travelers checks HiltonCheques help business and vacation travelers beat the problems of currency fluctuation, inflation, and currency exchange. In 1976, more than $300,000 in HiltonCheques were sold in the United States.

HiltonCheques must be purchased in minimum quantities of six single or double checks through any travel agent, at the 135 city ticket offices of Trans World Airlines, or through the offices of Hilton International, 301 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

HiltonCheques not used beyond the minimum ourchase can be redeemed at full value less a $10 handling

The present HiltonCheque rates of $35 single and $42 double will be honored at participating hotels after March 31, 1977 upon payment of the difference between the old and new prices.

The five Hilton International hotels being added the HiltonCheques program are the Malta Hilton, the Corfu Hilton, the Cyprus Hilton, the Tunis and the Hilton,
