Hitler admirer kills five

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — A husky, heavily-armed rifleman, said to idolize Adolf Hitler, invaded a warehouse today and shot and killed at least five persons, including a policeman. At least three other persons were wounded and he held at least two hostages.

The gunman, identified as Fred Cowan, was said to be wearing a Nazi storm trooper's uniform. He held police at bay outside the Neptune Moving Co. warehouse where he was said to have recently been suspended from his job.

Police said the gunman shouted that he had "plenty of grenades and other guns and ammunition to last me all day."

New Rochelle Police Commissioner William Hegarty said the gunman was well armed. In addition to a rifle, Hegarty said the gunman had plenty of ammunition and was believed to be in possession of grenades and some hand guns.

The gunman took control of the warehouse shortly before 8 a.m., when he stormed into it brandishing what police described as an M16 rifle, with ammunition slung over his shoulder. One company employe said the gunman opened fire, yelled at workers to leave and asked them not to tell his mother what he was doing.

Four police officers arrived on the scene within minutes, and were hit by the gunman's fire. Three of them were taken to hospitals, but the continuing gunfire kept officers from getting to the body of the dead officer for several hours.

One employe, Clynt Wynant, said Cowan shot two fellow employes in the chest. "He got them point blank," Wynant said. "They weren't moving." The bodies of the two men were removed from the building hours later when police took control of the first floor of the warehouse. Two other bodies were recovered later.

The gunman had retreated to the upper floor of the two-story building shortly before noon EST. As of 1 p.m., there had been no gunfire for at least four hours.

Nearly five hours after the siege began, police said they had made telephone contact with the gunman. They said he had asked for food and that he "sounds rational, but very hostile."

"At this point, we will do whatever he asks for," a spokesman said, adding that authorities wanted to re-establish contact.

"We are hopeful of resuming negotiations with him and trying to work this thing out without further injury or death," Hegarty said.

Police said they had talked with two hostages, who were believed to be two employes of the moving company who could not be accounted for. Police were unsure whether there were other hostages.

A taxi company said one of its drivers, James Johnson, was delivering a worker to the warehouse at 8 a.m. this morning. They said he shouted into his radio, "Hey, there's a guy out here with a tommy gun and he's pushing us into his building." Johnson, a 20-year employe of the cab company, had not been heard from since 8 a.m.

The dead policeman was identified as officer Allen McLeod, 29, of Larchmont, a six-year veteran of the New Rochelle force who was married and the father of children. His body was removed from alongside the warehouse about 11:30 a.m.

All of the bodies were recovered with the use of armored rescue vehicles. The tank-like machines would move close to the warehouse and policemen crawled to recover the bodies.

Company workers present when the shooting began confirmed the identification of the gunman as Fred Cowan, about 35. The son of a retired postal worker, Cowan was described as a brilliant student who had a dishonorable discharge from the Army.

A neighbor of Cowan's said the man maintained an arsenal of guns at his residence.

"He's got every kind of rifle that ever was made, and has been collecting them since he was a kid," said the neighbor, who asked not to be identified. "Ever since he was a kid, he's been bugged on Hitler. Hitler is his idol."

Company workers said the gunman was a strapping man whose body was tattooed with Nazi symbols. The neighbor said he had Nazi uniforms and swastikas on a wall in the house he lived in.

BARBARA BAUGHMAN

Mother tells of missing daughter

DALLAS (AP) — Those Valentine cards which Ladina McCoy addressed to her classmates went undelivered today.

The blonde, blue-eyed first grader disappeared while walking eight blocks alone to school from her East Dallas home, and police said they feared she was kidnapped. They reported clues were lacking.

Ladina, who had never spent a night away from home, set out Friday morning. Officers said efforts to find someone who spotted her along the way had been fruitless.

"They were supposed to have a party at school," said her mother, Barbara Baughman, "and we addressed 26 cards to children in her class."

Mrs. Baughman's voice broke as she added, "They were the same little valentines like I used to have when I was in school."

The mother picked up her husband Robert, a catering service truck driver, and returned home about 4:30 p.m. It was then that she learned that Ladina — also called Dina and Dine — never reached school that morning and a search began.

The two valentine sweethearts will ironically have to spend this day of Cupid's separated from each other. Carla and her teammates left early this morning for Alpine, where they will be in action against Sul Ross State tonight, while Mike and his buddies will be involved in a St. Valentine's Day Massacre of the Amarillo Badgers in Hawk gym at 7:30.

Four young men shot to death 'Execution-type slaying'

HOLLANDSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Four brothers were shot to death early today in their family's isolated mobile home in what police described as an "execution-type slaying."

The victims ranged in age from 14 to 22. A state trooper said initially the victims' heads "were blown off." But a spokesman said later that the victims were badly mutilated, and not decapitated.

The mother, Mrs. Betty Spencer, 41, was wounded and escaped by playing dead until the shotgun-wielding assailants fled in one of the family's cars, police said. She was listed in satisfactory condition at a Terre Haute hospital with wounds to the back and the back of the head.

Indiana State Police spokesman Don Aldrich said the trailer was ransacked and the victims' wallets were missing, indicating possible robbery. But he added, "We've determined there might have been at the most $30 taken and killing four people over $30 doesn't make a whole lot of sense."

The victims were identified as Ralph Spencer, 14; Reeve B. Spencer, 16; Raymond M. Spencer, 17, all sons of Mrs. Spencer and her husband, Keith; and Gregory B. Brooks, 22, Mrs. Spencer's son by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Spencer told troopers there were four assailants armed with shotguns, Aldrich said.

Two suspects were taken into custody about 10 miles away, a state trooper said. No weapons were found in their car.

The four brothers and Mrs. Spencer were lined up face down on the living room floor of the double-wide mobile home and shot, Aldrich said.

Police said Mrs. Spencer telephoned the Parke County Sheriff about 1 a.m. and reported the slayings. Hollandsburg is a rural community on Racoon Lake, a state park about 45 miles west of Indianapolis near the Illinois line.

Harold Escue, a neighbor to whom Mrs. Spencer ran for help, said that after calling police, the woman "just kept sitting there saying her four boys were laying up there dead. Some teenagers came up there and lined 'em up on the floor and robbed 'em and shot 'em."

"She said, 'I'm shot in the back' and said, 'If you don't keep talking to me, I'm going to pass out.'"

Panel repeals tax on utility bills

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved legislation repealing the 4 per cent state sales tax on residential gas and electric bills and providing inheritance tax relief.

If the committee has its way, the sales tax repealer would take effect July 1.

The bill would exempt from inheritance taxation the first $200,000 of an estate, with heirs dividing up the tax on the rest according to how much they get. Present law exempts only $25,000 of each heir's portion.

Rates would start at 1 per cent on taxable inheritances up to $50,000, escalating to 6 per cent on amounts of more than $1 million.

Revenue loss to the state would be $28.3 million. Combining the sales tax and inheritance tax relief, the committee cut $256.8 million from anticipated state revenue for the next two years, assuming the legislature passes its recommendations.

By Green on audit County 'chided'

By BOB BURTON
In their morning session, Howard County Commissioners heard from Johnny Walker and J.C. Broughton on county road problems, and received a gentle "chiding" from Maxwell Green on the county audit.

Green, the county's certified public accountant, told the court that the county was in "great shape." He pointed out that the county's bonded indebtedness would drop significantly in 1978, from $113,000 to $50,000. Green said that the county would clear its debt completely in five years. He listed the total assets at $3,836,000, liabilities at $315,000, and reserve balance fund at $3,521,000.

But Green told the court, "I chided you about these two items last year and I'm going to do it again."

Green told the court that the Howard County Airport had run at a $4,000 surplus through 1976. But, Green pointed out, by including depreciation in the estimate, the figures "mean you are losing $34,000 after depreciation."

Green's other point was the county equipment operating fund, which was in the red for the second year. Green advised the commissioners to "scrutinize this fund."

"Consider putting more money into this fund to cover the cost of replacing equipment," said Green. "I know that revenue-sharing covers part of that expense now, but the court should keep the cost of replacement in mind."

Green said that the switch to a fiscal year ending Sept. 30 each year would prove to be a great help to the county.

Johnny Walker and J.C. Broughton appeared before the court with County Engineer Neel Barnaby, to complain about a road Barnaby called "abandoned" off Hwy. 350. After lengthy discussion, the court agreed to visit the site of the problem road and attempt to resolve the difficulties in maintaining it.

Bids were taken to award the contract for the county's 1977 and 1978 depository. The bids, which were judged according to interest rate, were submitted by Security State Bank, First National Bank and State National Bank. The contract was awarded to State National Bank, which has held the contract for the past two years.

In other action: the commissioners approved the use of the Howard County Airport for the Big Spring Jaycees for their annual Air Show. Ken Johnson, who represented the Jaycees at the meeting, told the court that the show was being planned for mid-August.

The court also heard from Jim Fuller of Kustom Radar Co. Fuller asked the commissioners to consider the newer brand of radar equipment for the state highway patrol to use. Fuller called the new CB and radar detection craze "an escalation of the arms race" and asked the court to consider leasing the equipment.

Commissioner Ikie Rupard remarked during the discussion that he couldn't understand how the state could train a man, and hire him, and send him out to do a job, all without providing him with equipment. The commissioners will reconvene this afternoon to consider bids on six different items: a 2½ ton fuel truck, a 12-month contract for fuel oil, a copying machine, an air conditioning system for the courthouse, a water softener, and a depository for county school funds.

Also considered will be the appointment for airport manager.

Offbeat: Hooker's Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is no ordinary Monday in the Big Apple. Besides being Valentine's Day, it's also Hooker's Day, New Yorker for New York Day, Sadie Hawkins Day and, for some government workers, it's Lincoln's Birthday.

Prostitutes will dance at a masquerade ball, Evel Knievel will wheel his way in a wheelchair to help open the American Toy Fair and Monte Rock III will host a discotheque marathon.

If none of the above events grab you, try these:

—Elderly females in western-style kerchiefs will chase male senior citizens in cowboy hats at a "Sadie Hawkins" Day party at the Hebrew Hospital for the Chronic Sick in The Bronx.

For the hookers, it'll be a 10 p.m. masquerade ball at the Copacabana. COYOTE, the prostitute's organization, expects a sellout.

"It's our one affair where everybody lets go," said Helene Gaillet, ball coordinator. "We expect everything.... We never schedule entertainment at our parties. Our people are the entertainment."

Tops on TV: The Sunshine Boys

Once again this year, Charlie Brown finds an empty mailbox on Valentine's Day in "Be My Valentine, Charlie Brown," airing at 7 o'clock on CBS.

Mayor pro-tem is seeking third term on city council

Mrs. Floyd (Polly) Mays, mayor pro-tem, became the first candidate to officially file for the city council, when she filed this morning at City Hall for position three.

Mrs. Mays, who will be seeking her third term on the council, said "I would like to serve on the city council another term. I've enjoyed the past years on the council and am proud of the progress made by our city. I am very optimistic about the future of Big Spring and would like to continue working for its development and growth."

Mrs. Mays had given some thought to switching and running for position four.

Last year, Eddie Acri chose to switch over and run against Harold Hall instead of running for his own position again. Acri has indicated that he may seek position four this election.

However, Mrs. Mays expressed the belief, "We probably shouldn't play switching games with the people of this city. I have decided to run for reelection to the post in which I have served. "I am running on my record as a councilwoman."

Mrs. Pandit, a former ambassador to the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, said she would not run in the parliamentary election next month nor join any political party formally. But she pledged to campaign actively for "the human values to which India has traditionally ascribed."

Miss Lillian Bombay bound

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Carter's mother, Lillian, planned to fly to Bombay tonight for a visit to the clinic where she was a Peace Corps nurse 10 years ago. ## POW probes popped WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Department officials failed to conduct a thorough investigation of whether any U.S. servicemen violated military law while they were prisoners of war in North Vietnam, a special Pentagon committee charges. "The investigations were minimal and the rationale supporting dismissal" of charges that some former POWs brought against others in 1973 "was very weak," the Defense Review Committee said.

Carter welcomes Mexican President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter welcomed Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo with special expressions of friendship today, pledging to go beyond the requirements of diplomacy to enhance future relations. At South Lawn ceremonies with some of the pomp familiar in previous administrations absent, Carter told Lopez Portillo:

"I pledge to you in the coming months and years I will go even further than is required through diplomatic courtesy to work closely with you on a personal and official basis" to make an "unprecedented demonstration of common purpose, common hope, common confidence and common friendship." Carter noted that his wife had attended Lopez Portillo's inauguration in December and that Mrs. Lopez Portillo had come to Washington for the Carter inauguration. He cited this "exchange of personal friendship" as an indication of the close continuing consultation that will go on between Mexico and the United States.

This two-day visit would provide an opportunity to try to correct longstanding economic problems and "to show there are new ways to deal with old problems," Carter said. Speaking in Spanish, his words translated for several hundred diplomats, tourists and government workers gathered on the South Lawn, Lopez Portillo said that he wished "to be very good friends of the American people."

Noting that he was new in office like Carter, Lopez Portillo said he hoped the two neighbors could "bring

'Pack the pews' theme of revival at Webb

"Pack the Pews" is the theme for the chapel Protestant revival scheduled at 7:30 each evening, through Wednesday. The Rev. James F. (Jim) Humphries, who served eight years as a missionary in Vietnam, is the featured speaker. Jackie Peters of Dallas, soloist for the first Chapel revival in 1974, is also here.

The "pack the pews" project is assigned to a different group each night. It is up to the men on Monday and women Tuesday. "We feel that when people experience one service they will all want to be here Wednesday for the final service," said Chap. (Lt. Col.) Jimmie D. Baggett.

A Navy veteran of World War II, Humphries and his family lived in Vietnam from 1966 to 1973. He was pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in Saigon and was a member of the major press corps while there. His portrayals of the Vietnamese situation helped servicemen understand their valued roles while there. Humphries received the highest civilian award by the U.S. Air Force chaplaincy for services rendered to American military men in Vietnam. He was commended by Congressmen Jim Wright of Texas and Wm. Jennings Bryan Dorn of South Carolina for services performed with the U.S.

Farm Area group fights OSHA

LAMESA — Area cotton producers and ginners are joining ranks in an effort to battle the Occupational Safety and Health (OSHA) proposal which would place such strict dust standards on the cotton industry that it would kill it and probably cripple the nation. Area cotton ginners and producers held several meetings during the past week, attempting to formulate plans to determine what statistics are needed to help the rest of the industry in opposing the proposal which would require gins and textile mills to reduce cotton dust in all phases of the different operations to no more than 200 micrograms per cubic meter.

As the state's leading cotton producer, Dawson County personnel have a special interest in the proposal as enactment of it could spell the death of the industry, according to Jerry Harris, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The regulations would exclude harvesting but would include all other phases of the industry. The new regulations would require the industry to reduce dust levels to 500 micrograms through engineering controls immediately and to achieve further reductions to the 200 ug level through changing work practices and the use of respirators by employees. Within four years, engineering controls would have to be installed to reduce dust to 350 ug, again using work practices and respirators to achieve the level with 200 ug set as the goal for seven years.

A meeting in Lamesa Friday saw local agribusinessmen go on record as asking for the help of everyone in the area in opposing the OSHA proposal. It was noted that nearly everyone in Dawson County would be affected by the proposal if it were made into law, as most gins would be able to comply with the regulations and would consequently be forced out of business. Dr. David Smiley, one of the persons attending the meeting, pointed out that local doctors are not conscious of byssinosis as a health problem in the area. He pointed out that individuals with chronic lung problems normally do not work in the cotton industry.

A study by the National Cotton Ginners' Association said that studies show that expenditures to attempt to lower dust emissions in gins would exceed 300 per cent of the current individual plant value. Survey forms are to be mailed to all area gins asking if any of their employees have ever suffered from byssinosis, the number of employees they have, rate of turnover, and if they would attempt to comply with dust limitation proposals or go out of business. The Lamesa Area Chamber of Commerce is also going to request to be heard during the public hearings in Washington, D.C.

All persons are urged to write their Congressional representatives to officially oppose the OSHA proposal.

Cramer draws term

Michael Cramer, 20, 1303 Lexington, pled guilty today in 118th District Court to delivery of a controlled substance. Cramer was sentenced to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections, with an additional five years probation after his eventual release. Cramer was arrested along with seven other Big Springs Jan. 31 in a drug bust precipitated by undercover police officer Michael Kelly.

Cramer had an examining trial Feb. 1. He was being held in the Howard County jail without bond due to his probation, which resulted from an August, 1976 burglary. Cramer allegedly sold the drug, methaqualone, to Kelly on October 8, 1976.

Certification is end result

Howard County producers will have an opportunity to complete a training program leading to certification as private applicators at a program scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday at the conference room of the County Extension Office (basement of courthouse) according to Bruce Griffith, County Extension Agent.

The Private Applicator Certification Training Program, one of the optional means of qualifying for certification as a private applicator of restricted-use pesticides, includes a discussion of laws, labels, and labeling, pesticide safety, mixing and calibration and pests and pest damage identification. The program prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service includes a review of certain questions relating to the information presented. The program will require approximately 3 hours. Those attending and seeking certification as private applicators will have an opportunity to complete a Request for Private Applicator Certification which will be forwarded to the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) for issuance of certification.

As an alternative to participation in a training program an individual may qualify for certification as a private applicator by submitting a completed questionnaire to the Texas Department of Agriculture following a review of self-study materials. The self-study materials may be obtained at the county extension office.

Prices are edging up

Local cotton prices advanced by 3 cents per pound during the week ending Feb. 10, according to B.B. Manly, in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene. Prices were at the highest levels since mid-December, at 30 cents over CCC loan rates. Demand was good for all qualities of cotton, and trading increased to active levels. Grade 42, staple 32 cotton that milled from 3.5 to 4.9 brought about 64 cents per pound. Below-grade cotton brought from 40 to 42 cents per pound. Cotton prices have ranged from 18 to 36 cents over CCC loan rates during the 1976-77 season.

The quality of late season ginnings declined slightly. Grade 42 continued as the predominant grade at 26 per cent. Grades 31 and 32 followed at 12 per cent each. Spotted and Tinged cotton comprised 20 per cent of the total classings. Staple length was 36 per cent staple 32, 31 per cent staple 31, and 17 per cent within the 3.5 to 4.9 range, 33 per cent below 3.5, and 1 per cent above 4.9 during the week. Cotton quality was relatively high during the 1976-77 season. Grades were about 31 per cent White, 60 per cent Light-Spotted, and 9 per cent Spotted or Tinged. Staple length was longer than usual, with 50 per cent being staple 32 or longer. Micronaire readings were much higher as compared to the previous season, with 77 per cent miking within the 3.5 to 4.9 range.

As of February 10, samples from 500,300 bales had been classed at the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene. An additional 68,000 cotton samples were classed at the temporary office at Munday. Mr. Manly estimated that an additional 4,500 samples would be classed in Abilene this season.

Weather Northern coasts through state

A dry norther coasted through Texas today, gusting up to 40 miles per hour but exerting no great effect on the state's weather. Although low clouds moved into the Panhandle section before daybreak, forecasts made no mention of moisture anywhere in the state. By early morning the forward edge of the cool air mass lay along a line from Wichita Falls to Lubbock. It was due to reach the Upper and Middle Texas Coast by sunset. Farther south the skies remained clear and breezes blew from the southwest at 5 to 10 m.p.h. Temperatures near dawn eased down to 23 degrees at Marfa and 27 at El Paso in extreme West Texas.

Police beat Weekend was intoxicating

Some 34 people spent time in the Big Spring drunk tank within a 28-hour period, starting at 8 p.m. Saturday and ending midnight Sunday. According to Police Chief Stanley Bogard, the number of people put under arrest for public intoxication and driving while intoxicated was not excessive, considering the number of people who were "out on the town" over the weekend. He said that last weekend was the first with good weather that we've had in a long time, and thinks that this may have had something to do with the number of people who felt like partying over the weekend. Ms. Betty Weeks, 1106 Pennsylvania reported that someone had broken into the shed behind her home and made off with wood-working equipment valued at about $150. According to reports, the burglars pried the hasps off of the door frame of the shop and took two table saws, a drill press, and other tools between 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 a.m. Sunday. Burglars struck at the residence of Charlie Williams, 1512 Harding, sometime between 9:30 and 11:30 p.m. Saturday. According to reports the thieves broke into the residence through the back door, and stole a stereo system worth about $350. Damage done to the back door was estimated at $30. Someone unbolted and stole the spare tire off of a pickup truck belonging to William Miller, 1303 Elm. According to reports the tire was worth about $112. James M. Morgan, 1607 Avion, reported that someone stole his CB Saturday. Thieves got to the CB through the right front door window. It was worth about $150. ### Love Story

with Marj Carpenter

It's Valentine Day's and the time to tell love stories. I found a doozy.

The story is about Myrtle Pate and John Nichols. He's been dead now for nine years. But before he died, they were married 58 years.

It wasn't supposed to last. They eloped. And when they eloped, her parents had an absolute fit. Because Myrtle was only 14 years old. John was 20 and "should have known better."

The date was August 18, 1911 and it was a dark summer night out near Knott when Myrtle climbed out the window of the Pate home, carrying with her two changes of clothes, which she had rolled up in a wad.

John was waiting. He had said he would be. He was a few yards from the house. They were scared. They knew her dad was going to be very angry. They heard a noise in the night and suddenly they were running out across a field filled with grass burs and thorns. John lost a shoe, but he left it behind.

Tired, scared and with stickers in one foot, they ran a quarter of a mile to "the Kemper place" where John's brother, Garland, 23, was waiting with a horse and buggy.

Away they went, laughing and hugging and hysterical and scared. They went to the home of a Baptist preacher, Rev. Frost.

They had a marriage license which they had obtained in Stanton "with a lie or two." Mrs. Nichols recalls, John had slept all night on his saddle on the courthouse lawn to get the license.

There followed all kinds of hassle. The parents instructed the Stanton sheriff to go get their daughter. Myrtle wasn't going into jail or home either one, without John. John was pretty upset too. Then they were going to take him in for kidnapping.

People around the area thought they were going to be arrested for sure and began to take up bond money to get them out. As it turned out, the decision was finally "to let them stay married if they're so determined."

Well, they did. They had eight children, 24 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. That's pretty married.

Their four sons are Barney, Claude, J.P. (Chuck) and Don. Their four daughters are Mrs. Ope Grantham, Mrs. Henry Samples, Mrs. Johnny Barber and Mrs. Edith Conners.

Most of them are still around Knott. One of the daughters is just down the street from Mrs. Nichols, here in Big Spring. Some of them moved as far away as Midland. It's a close family.

In fact it was one of her granddaughters that called in and said, "I have a grandma who would make a good Valentine tale. She has had quite a love story."

Mrs. Nichols says, "The incident gave us something to talk about and laugh about all those years. Who knows? Maybe it's the glue that held us together during the hard times. We were going to make that marriage work if it was the last thing we ever did. And marriages will work out if you work at it," she said philosophically.

When asked if she would do the same thing again, Mrs. Nichols said, "Certainly. But I'd make John stop and get his shoe."

And that's the way it was out around Knott — back in 1911. Out where they were ridin' fence.

He finds out the hard way

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) — The government gives, and the government takes away, Bob Neumann, a disabled construction worker, has found out the hard way.

Neumann, who received $300 as compensation for being a mugging victim, found out the government will now recover it from his $265 a month handicapped allowance.

Although his social worker told him last September the criminal injuries payment wouldn't be deducted from his allowance, "now she tells me the law has been changed and I'll have to pay it back," Neumann said.

New ideas welcomed by Chamber

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce is looking for new ideas. The chamber's new executive vice president, W.L. (Bill) Albright, wants to hear from people all around the Big Spring area on how the chamber can better serve the community.

THE DOOR IS wide open. Albright says he would like to hear from anyone on any subject that they feel important to this area. For example, how can the chamber be more effective in attracting industry? How can the chamber better promote Big Spring? What needs to be done in the community where the chamber should take the lead? How can the organization of the chamber be changed to help it serve the community more efficiently? These are only a few of the questions that the new chamber manager, under the guidance of President Roger Brown and the Board of Directors, will be struggling with as it begins a program of work for 1977.

TO ATTRACT some input, Albright has sent out a "chamber action survey" to the membership. It contains two questions:

1) Please take a few minutes and express your ideas and suggestions on improvements you feel that your chamber should consider.

2) Now take another minute and offer any constructive criticism that you feel will benefit our organization and our community.

Albright is serious about wanting input. The new chamber leadership will be responsive.

So take two or three minutes and send in your ideas.

Terror (III)

William F. Buckley, Jr.

BUENOS AIRES. — Everyone here talks about the frequency with which President Carter adduces his devotion to human rights, and wonders what will this mean for Argentina. Anyone choosing to do so can plausibly maintain that human rights here are not respected, using the standards, of, say, Switzerland, or Canada. But most Argentines, and a member of well-situated Americans, plead the irrelevance of such standards in a society torn by civil strife and governed by martial law.

MOREOVER, THERE IS bitterness against some Americans who in their apparent anxiety to condemn Argentina appear to be almost mischievously indifferent to the quality of the information they get. Mr. Robert Cox, the totally independent, frequently anti-government Englishman who is the editor of the local English-language daily, put it this way in his influential editorial page last October:

"It's not difficult to see why 'human rights' crusaders have got themselves a bad name. Just take a look at two of the people who testified before the congressional hearings in Washington conducted by Representative Donald Fraser.

"Gustavo Roca, the Argentine lawyer who identified himself as the head of the 'Argentine Committee on Human Rights' when he appeared before the U.S. congressmen, is better known in Argentina as the editor of a scurrilous magazine which jubilantly reported assassinations and even carried a report by one group of killers who gloatingly told how they carried out a particularly barbarous murder. Lucio Garzon Maceda, a lawyer associated with the self-styled 'classist' unions in Cordoba, was another apostle of violence while he was in Argentina. With witnesses like these, what possible use can the hearings serve?"

THE ABLE AMERICAN ambassador, Mr. Robert Hill, highly experienced as a diplomat (he has been ambassador to four Latin American countries, and also to Spain), argues heatedly against the imposition by the United States of sanctions against Argentina. Here are the mechanics by which this could happen. Upon complaint made to the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, which is a division of the Organization of American States, that body issues a report which various divisions of the U.S. government are required to conduct — not necessarily, to heed — when deciding whether to render certain kinds of economic aid, or whether to authorize the sale of certain kinds of military equipment. The apprehension is that the tendentious report of Congressmen Fraser's committee having been filed, executive officials using their own discretion will move to impose sanctions, rhetorical, economic, or military, against Argentina.

Those who oppose sanctions reason that they would be counter-productive. They would wound Argentine pride, perhaps bringing on a callousness to public opinion which is precisely not wanted at this delicate moment, public opinion, being the strategic weapon by which excesses are in due course tempered. Conceivably, sanctions could even bring about the deposition of the Videla junta, and a replacement by officials scornful of the very idea of human rights.

ONE SEES, THEN, a curious coincidence of interest. The hard left desires sanctions for the purpose of discrediting the Argentine government. The fascistic right desires sanctions for the purpose of discrediting the Argentine government.

'Up, down' pressure requires diagnosis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We are concerned about a relative, age 39, a professional man whose work involves quite a bit of pressure. His blood pressure is checked weekly and sometimes goes to 180 over 120 and 165 over 125. When it does he has to be sent home to rest. He is given no medication, because a week or two later it may go as low as 118 over 62. There seems to be nothing else wrong with him. He keeps his weight down by dieting. What can be the cause of this fluctuation, and what can be done about it? — M. R.

This is called labile hypertension, one in which pressure is high at times and normal at others. Yes, tension from work can be a cause. Knowing this he would have to analyze his situation so as to better cope with it. The condition should be watched. He could easily slip into a chronic hypertensive state, which would require treatment. Labile hypertension requires no medicinal treatment.

There is another, rarer type of fluctuating blood pressure caused by a tumor of the adrenal gland, in which there is an outpouring of the gland's epinephrine. However, this would be accompanied by other symptoms, such as headache, sweating, heart pounding. It is readily diagnosed by a urine test, and is also treatable. If these symptoms accompany his episodes of hypertension, that possibility should be investigated.

Otherwise, he had better start considering work that is not quite so tension-producing. It's better to do that himself than have his bosses tell him his constant absences are no longer acceptable.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a female of 44. I was stricken with what a neurosurgeon described as "Guillain-Barre" syndrome. It has been a year and a half and I am still quite miserable.

I suffer some weakness in my knees, shoulder blades and back. Will you please elaborate on this illness? — Mrs. L. A. S.

G.-B. is an infection of certain nerves emerging from the spinal cord. It's named for two doctors who identified it. Other names of it are Landry's paralysis and infectious polyneuritis. The cause or the specific organism involved are not known, although it has occurred frequently in connection with upper respiratory infection.

The nerve involvement leads to a variety of symptoms, chief among them being muscle weakness, depending on the nerves affected. Leg weakness is common.

Although you are still suffering distress, you are fortunate to have come through the initial phase — the acute state at the time of infection. There is no specific treatment for it except physical therapy and making the patient as comfortable as possible. Corticosteroid drugs have been tried, but results are not too encouraging. Guillain-Barre gained some prominence recently in connection with the swine flu immunization program.

As with any nerve infection, symptoms may remain for long periods. However if the acute stage is weathered, chances for complete recovery are good.

NOTE TO J. C. — You are right. I have warned about the use of birth control pills for women with varicose veins, in fact, quite recently. I wrote no exceptions to this. It would be wise for you to stop taking them, at least until you get another opinion on the matter.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know if I should force myself to drink water when not thirsty. We are told to drink two quarts a day, but when I do it keeps me running to the bathroom

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Could you tell me how I can know that my sins are forgiven, and that I will go to heaven some day? — M. T.

DEAR M. T.: The gospel is so profound that the greatest minds will never understand it fully, but it is also so simple that even a young child can believe it.

First, I think you have taken the first step to real faith by admitting you are a sinner. The Bible says, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). We cannot save ourselves by our own good works, because God's standard is perfection.

Second, believe what God has done for you in Jesus Christ. Christ came to forgive you of your sins. He died on the cross for you. Actually, the Bible tells us, we all deserved the cross. "But God commendeth his love all day and night. I can drink three or four glasses with no ill effects. — E. R. C.

No need to force water on yourself. You get enough with your few glasses along with your mealtime beverages. Your body will let you know when "it is thirsty."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can periods of loss of breath be caused by muscle relaxing medicines? I Mrs. P. Z.

There can be a connection. Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung problem, write for a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

NOTE TO READERS: Please do not send me clippings that you wish returned! My volume of mail is such that it is difficult to keep track, and occasionally one will get misplaced, as happened recently. Thanks. This also applies to medical records.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble" — it could be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them." For a copy write to him in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8). Believe also that God accepts you and forgives you when you put your faith in Christ.

Finally, open your heart to Christ. "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9). Ask God to forgive you of your sin. Tell God that you are trusting Christ for your salvation, that you want Him to be Lord of your life, and that you want to follow His will.

When you have done this, thank God that He has promised to forgive you and save you. You may or may not feel any different. But God's Word promises that "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name" (John 1:12). When you trust Christ, it is the beginning of a whole new life of fellowship with God.

Finally, a subject

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

The subject for today was originally to be about this absurd television commercial I spotted on the tube one day last week. You know, the one about the classy chick, dressed in a $500 Gucci dress, wearing a diamond necklace, sporting Farrah-Fawcett hair, and rubbing a roll of toilet paper up and down her face singing "It's a new elegant feeling." I wanted to throw up. But that was last week and I've forgotten all the cheap shots I was going to make about it.

ANYWAY, NEWSPAPER VET Walt Finley, in an inter-office memo marked, "Urgent! Armistice declared," assured me that every time a writer mentions the words "toilet paper" in a story, the readership of that article immediately drops 60 per cent. Think about it.

Then, I was going to write about "Starbuck" the cat, again, pleading for someone out there to take him off my hands. I was even going to lie and say that my wife had suddenly developed a terrible allergy to him. Pearl had even agreed to the giveaway, prompted mainly by Buck's attempt to end the drought in the corner of the carpet. But she had a change of heart, and I'm still stuck with the little cigarette-soft hoarder.

At least he's not at home as much now since Burton's sly female cat moved in down the way. They've really hit off, and before long there will probably be the pitter-patter of more kitten litter hitting the walls. I don't know what kind of off-spring will come from the union, but I know one thing... they'll be half nuts.

One lady sent in a prayer about dogs about cats (one in particular) long ago: "Lord, give me strength."

NO, DON'T WANT to write about him again. So I thought I might say something about the letters received here concerning "Roots." Contemporary people trying to describe how they "know" slavery was back then, white people at that, is like a member of the bombing crew telling how it was to be at Dresden during the holocaust. Guilt trips, right?

But I decided not to write about that, because me telling people what I thought about them thinking they knew how to think about something they really didn't have any firsthand experience about would be like telling an Aggie joke to Jim Baum.

Then I thought that since this would be printed on Valentine's Day I would write an appropriate rim about that subject, you know, love and kisses, the whole smear. I was even going to let you know that my wife and I met on Valentine's Day 17 years ago, but ex-boss Joe Pickle would call that self-aggrandizement. I could still say it, because current news chief Tommy "Mack" Hart never reads this far down in my rim.

But I finally decided to write about tonight's "St. Valentine's Day Massacre" in Hawk Gym at 7:30. Harold Wilder said he'd give me free-trow lessons if I'd give it a plug.

So go!

Pushes for action

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Congress is bringing quiet pressure on Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell to crack down on companies that may be withholding vital gas from the market. This would be a dramatic departure from the Administration's hands-off policy toward the oil and gas companies during the Nixon-Ford years.

The Federal Power Commission, for example, ignored the call of an administrative law judge for "criminal action" against Gulf Oil. He found evidence of a "conspiracy" to withhold gas and, thereby to drive up prices "in violation of federal antitrust laws."

THE JUSTICE DEPT. has also been sitting on evidence that two gas companies lied about their ability to deliver gas during the 1974-75 winter. Factories in Alabama in New Jersey were threatened with shut-downs.

Now that the nation is caught in an icy grip and the worst fears of 1974-75 have materialized, investigators have charged that gas companies may be holding back gas to force an end to all price controls.

That indefatigable congressional watchdog, Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., is pushing the Carter administration to prosecute the corporate offenders. This would set an example, he believes, that would stimulate the flow of natural gas.

The Gulf case is complex. But essentially, Gulf contracted to supply gas to Texas Eastern, a giant pipeline company, which delivers gas to 16 states from Texas to New York. Beginning in 1971, Gulf began cutting back the flow in defiance of the contract.

Yet at the same time, Gulf seemed to have plenty of gas to sell other customers at higher prices. Investigators claimed this was a squeeze play to push up prices. They also found out that Gulf has been dilatory about producing the gas from its leases. Thus the gas has remained securely in the ground while the price has been shooting up.

None of this seemed to disturb Texas Eastern, which merely purchased more expensive supplementary gas and passed on the cost to the consumers in the form of higher rates. Indeed, Texas Eastern was so indifferent about Gulf's breach of contract that the administrative law judge suggested the two companies had conspired together "to withhold gas from the interstate market until the price has been driven up."

Another alleged corporate culprit, the Mitchell Energy Corporation, contracted to supply gas to the Northeast from its offshore reserves along the Louisiana coast. Its wells were supposed to start pumping gas into the pipeline in September, 1974.

BUT CURIOUSLY, the offshore platform didn't get completed throughout the cold winter, and the gas didn't start flowing until the following June. In the meantime, of course, the price had moved up.

The company was called on the carpet over the mysterious delay. Testifying under oath, the corporate vice president, Sidney T. Walker, swore to the Federal Power Commission that the hold-up had been caused by bad weather. The FPC has evidence, however, that Mitchell caused the delays by insisting on numerous technical revisions.

Big Spring Herald

Dear Editor: I am greatly disturbed by the seemingly wholesale abandonment of our military facilities. The Department of Defense talks continuously about the need to retain a posture that will allow for immediate mobilization in the event of a national emergency. Then, one of our greatest assets, the functional installation on which to mobilize is indiscriminately discarded.

I continue to believe that the Air Force will have to do a far better job in justifying its proposed action to close Webb, and we must insist that it address the many points it has thus far failed to consider. I am meeting with Charles Duncan, Deputy Secretary of Defense-Designate and will be discussing Webb AFB with him at that time. You can be assured that I will also convey my concern for Webb AFB to the newly appointed Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Air Force.

I appreciate your keeping me informed of your views and I will continue to do all I can to keep Webb AFB open.

Lloyd Bensen
U.S. Senator

Dear Editor: I visited my mother, one of the real old timers in Big Spring, last week. She gave me an article to read. I don't know the little lady's name that wrote the article. If I did, I would write to her.

It seems she made a big thing out of not getting a telephone number that wasn't there. I am sure she hoped to get a lot of laughs and probably did, from those that think our information offices are run by a computer that automatically comes up with every number from Ft. Worth to El Paso. There is just one thing — even a computer must have the correct information put into it, to get the correct answer back.

The article I am writing about is the one about the Post Office in Silver, Texas. I have two things to say. (1) There is a difference in saying "They don't have a telephone" and saying "I don't find a listing under that name." We are taught to give the latter phrase at all times. (2) I have been given permission to invite the young lady to visit our information office in Midland. We in the office, would welcome the chance to show her how wrong she is. We would buy her lunch — even coffee — if she will come over.

If she wishes to accept our invitation she can call 694-7481 in Midland and ask for Mrs. Joyce Morrison, our chief operator, or, my number 683-1771.

We would appreciate it very much if she can find the Silver Post Office telephone number and tell us how it is listed. It may take her a while to look at all the names we have to, since we have about 200 towns and over 1,000 Johnsons alone, about that many of most other names. They are not divided by towns — just all together.

Let us hear from you, and we all sincerely hope she will accept our invitation.

Medical insurance

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Medical Liability Insurance Underwriting Association is now providing malpractice insurance for 2,445 doctors, professional associations and hospitals. The association was created by the 1975 Legislature to provide a temporary means of providing such medical insurance when it could not be obtained through normal channels.

Prisoners bill voted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senators voted 29-0 today to permit prison officials to grant inmates emergency furloughs of up to 10 days. Inmates could get out temporarily for medical treatment or to visit critically ill relatives or attend relatives' funerals.

Currently, such furloughs must be granted through the Board of Pardons and Parole and the governor's office. It was noted that when an emergency arises on Friday, it is often Monday before any action can be taken on the inmate's request.

The bill, by Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, now goes to the House. The Senate also sent to the House a bill to spend $20,000 to erect a statue of Fray Antonio San Buenaventura, the founder of the Alamo, in San Antonio.

MAN OF A THOUSAND HEARTS — Pathologist Maurice Lev, 66, examines specimen in his laboratory at Chicago's Hektoen Institute. The shelves are lined with jars containing hearts sent to Dr. Lev by surgeons to assist him in his research on congenital heart defects. The hearts are mostly from Chicago area hospitals.

FORMER POWS — Former World War II POWs Carl Eschback of Dayton, Ohio, and Helen Mann of Menlo Park, Calif., look through a scrapbook with Rokuru Tomibe of Kyoto, Japan, in San Francisco Sunday. More than 150 former civilian prisoners of war, interned in the Philippines between 1941-45, met for the first time since their liberation in Manila in 1945. Tomibe, former Bilid Prison commandant, was given a medal by the group for relative compassion.

Three Webb officers are enrolled in AFIT

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. — More than 600 officers have been chosen as primary and alternate selectees for Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) training during fiscal year 1977. Three Webb AFB captains are listed among those picked and they are scheduled to begin their training in August. Captains William O. Cottingham of Student Squadron (STURON) and Stephen M. Haskell of 2050th Communications Squadron were selected for master's degrees in logistics management. Capt. Thomas S. Cummings, also of STURON, was chosen for procurement management in the education with industry program. Fifty-four of the primary selectees were picked for doctoral programs, 120 for education with industry and 482 for master's degree programs. There were 33 alternates chosen and their status will be determined when the primary selectee list is finalized. The starting dates for the fiscal year 1977 program began in January and will continue through September. All of the quotas for the period were filled. Vacancies created by officers who can't attend the schooling will be filled by drawing from the alternate list. Additional vacancies beyond those which can be filled from the alternate list will be filled by supplemental selections. Air Force officials say there was a small drop in the number of quotas this year and expect there will be a similar decline next year. The next AFIT selection board is scheduled for this fall. Officials encourage those interested to begin the application process now. The first step is a letter to AFIT requesting evaluation. The format for the letter and full application details are contained in Air Force Manual 50-5, Volume I.

Webb captain is ATC nominee for award

"In a command that can boast of outstanding judge advocates, Captain Sherman stands out clearly from his peers," says Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, commander of Air Training Command (ATC). Capt. (major-selectee) William E. Sherman, Webb AFB staff judge advocate, has been chosen the ATC nominee for the Albert M. Kuhfield Award. The award is given to the most outstanding young judge advocate in the Air Force. When asked what he felt got him nominated for the award, Sherman stated that he really wasn't sure what the requirements were or who was competing. "I guess it's judged on hard work and your performance," said Sherman. Quoting again General Roberts, "Aggressive and hardworking, he exemplifies the kind of lawyer and officer that a busy commander requires. Captain Sherman is a finder and fixer who always knows exactly what to do. He thoroughly understands Air Force business and possesses a rare ability to anticipate and resolve problems before they disrupt base harmony and performance." The 31-year-old native of

WILLIAM E. SHERMAN

North Dakota received his bachelor's degree in history in 1967, and his juris doctor (law) degree in 1970, both from the University of North Dakota. Upon graduation from law school, Sherman went active duty, after being commissioned in 1967. Sherman and his wife Helen, arrived here in January 1975. When asked how an Air Force law practice compares to his civilian counterpart, Sherman laughs and says, "Do you have 30 minutes?"

"The military justice system is far better than most state and local judicial systems and far surpasses those of many nations. As a member of the United States military we have more rights under the military judicial system than in most civilian judicial systems," the Captain said. "Even though the legal office is limited in the assistance they can offer, few military members are aware of the Legal Assistance Program. This program saved Webb personnel more than $100,000 in 1976."

Richardson is at Fort Hood

FT. HOOD — Army Specialist Five DeWayne A. Richardson, 23, son of Doug Singleton, 1209 S. Third St., Lamesa, recently was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood. An electronics repairman in Company C of the division's 27th Maintenance Battalion, he entered the army in August 1972. The specialist, whose wife, Ann, lives in Killeen, is a 1971 graduate of Natrona County High School in Casper, Wyo.

Texans trying to extend life of fighter plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Texas congressmen were to go to the Pentagon today, trying to extend the life of the A7 attack fighter plane. Secretary of Defense Harold Brown invited the trio on Sunday. They represent the Dallas-Fort Worth area, where the plane is manufactured by LTV Corp. Rep. James Wright, the House majority leader, said he did not know what the Carter administration planned to do about the A7, which has been a prime target of Pentagon cost cutters for several years. Two years ago, the Air Force tried to stop A7 production, but Texas congressmen managed to reinstate it into the defense budget. This year, the A7 has been on at least one of the lists of potential spending cuts circulated by Brown as he searched for ways to fulfill President Carter's campaign pledge to cut defense spending. The administration said Friday it had finished its work on Ford's defense proposals. The budget that Carter inherited from the Ford administration provided for construction of six A7 planes, just enough to keep the assembly line at Grand Prairie, Tex. in operation. Wright said he felt it would be a false economy for the Pentagon to eliminate the A7 entirely. He said that closing it would spread LTV's fixed overhead costs among its remaining projects, which include some work on the B1 bomber. That would raise the costs of the other planes LTV is building for the government, Wright said. Employment at the Grand Prairie plant has dropped from 26,000 in 1970 to 9,000 currently as the production of the A7 has declined from year to year. Wright and Democratic Reps. Jim Mattox and Dale Milford were the group slated to see Brown. Wright said he did not know whether they could talk Brown into maintaining A7 production. "You never know until you sit down and talk it out."

Albertson on program

DALLAS — An appearance by Jack Albertson, star of NBC's "Chico and the Man," will highlight a major regional conference sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons and National Retired Teachers Association March 14-16 at Dallas' Fairmont Hotel. More than 1,000 older Americans from the southwest are expected to attend. Albertson, who will address the conference Tuesday, March 15, served as a spokesman for older Americans at the nationally televised Inaugural Gala for President Jimmy Carter in January. Also featured at the three-day conference will be an address by national political analyst Richard Scammon, director of the Elections Research Center in Washington, D.C. Entitled "Count Us In!", the meeting is part of a nationwide campaign by the two associations to end all forms of age discrimination in the U.S. AARP and NRITA have led the fight in Congress, state legislatures and the courts to outlaw mandatory retirement and discrimination in credit, housing and other areas. A series of special interest workshops will be conducted throughout the conference on topics such as health care, Social Security, employment opportunities, community service activities, retirement education, nursing homes, and estate planning. Conference registration will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, March 14. No registration fee will be charged, and the meeting will be open to all interested persons. A reception for registrants and guests will be held Monday evening in the Fairmont's Regency Ballroom. The Dallas regional meeting is one of six being sponsored by the 10-million-member associations this year. Older persons from Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas will attend the conference. "They wouldn't let us bring our gunpowder," said the man in the skunk hat. He seemed disappointed, like he might find a use for it. His female compatriot, looking for all the world like Pocahontas in buckskin and braided hair, said the same group caused quite a stir last time they "invaded" the capitol. "We walked into a committee meeting carrying our rifles," she said. "The committee turned kind of pale."

RESUSCITATION TECHNIQUES — Michelle Couvillon, Kim Wolf, and Marie Smith, members of Explorer Post 236, sponsored by the Veteran's Administration Hospital, are shown demonstrating cardio-pulmonary resuscitation techniques for new members. Medical careers are the major emphasis of the post, but they also participate in other Scouting activities. The group meets on the first, third and fifth Monday nights of each month, 7:30 p.m., Room 216, of the VA Hospital. Janet Awtry and Jim Roberts are adult advisors for the post. Interested youth are invited to attend the meetings.

"The committee turned kind of pale."

Sen. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, one of two freshmen in the Senate, found he was having trouble getting his more experienced colleagues to pay attention to him during a routine session on resolutions and matters of local business.

After getting recognition to speak from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Parker yelled out, "This bill relates to repealing medical malpractice, the right to work and busing of school children."

A startled silence fell in the Senate chamber. Then Parker added with a grin, "Now that I have your attention, I'd like to tell you what's really about."

Parker also got his two cents' worth in on a bill that would raise the occupancy tax allowed on hotel and motel rooms.

Sen. Ike Harris of Dallas sponsored the measure. Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler asked if the bill "makes us country folks pay more to go to Dallas. "It does, Senator," answered Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells. "It also lets them advertise more to make you want to come." Parker noticed a curious phrase in one section of the bill relating to taxes on motels used "for sleeping purposes only." Parker suggested that might make for some interesting stories people would tell to get out of paying the tax. He wondered "could you sign an affidavit on that like on the motor fuels tax?" Tax assessors are not always consistent in their valuations, Charles Whitford told a Senate committee. One problem is their longevity in a particular place. "Tax assessors are like poor football coaches," he explained, "they're not wanted and they move around a lot."

KNOW YOUR FOOD

AN EASY WAY TO GO FISHING!

Since there are over 240 species of fish and shellfish sold in the United States, they provide more variety than any other protein food group. You can buy them fresh, frozen, canned, cured and in many convenience and specialty items. By choosing seafood at a market with a reputation for quality products, you can be pretty sure of getting fine seafood. Lower quality seafood can be disappointing and cause you to exclude seafood from your fare. Then you'd be missing some great eating experiences!

Make it a habit to read labels on seafood products for information on contents and quality.

Much of today's raw fish and seafood is frozen fresh. Freezing cannot improve quality so it's imperative the product quality be the finest from the start. When you buy frozen seafood, get it into your home freezer as quickly as possible to hold it at peak quality. Unless instructions on the package say otherwise, thaw before cooking. Refrigerator thawing is best. Allow 24 hours for a pound package. It is best not to thaw fish at room temperature. Raw frozen breaded seafood needn't be thawed before cooking but extra cooking time should be allowed. Cooking instructions are usually on the package. Precooked breaded seafood items need not be thawed... just follow heating instructions and they're ready to eat!

Seafood is a rich source of high quality protein and provides minerals and vitamins important to sound nutrition. Because seafood is naturally tender, short cooking at moderate temperature is imperative. High heat and long cooking will result in a tough, dry, flavorless product.

Come in to Safeway this week for a copy of this column plus a recipe leaflet for "Halibut Espanol", which tells you how to combine halibut steaks with wine and tomato sauce for a tasty dish. The leaflet is free... no purchase required.

MRS. WELDON JOE HARTLEY

Nuptial rites held Sunday

Miss Wannah Leigh Rybolt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob R. Rybolt, 2607 Lynn, became the bride of Weldon Joe Hartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Hartley, Sunday afternoon in a formal ceremony performed by the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand in Wesley United Methodist Church. Rev. Hildebrand is pastor of Saint Mark Methodist Church, Midland.

The altar setting featured a candle and two pedestals holding floral arrangements. Nuptial music was performed by Louis Loveless, vocalist, and Mrs. Charles Boland, organist.

Carrying a cascade bouquet of a white orchid, pink roses and gypsophila, the bride was attired in a princess-styled gown of bridal satin with lace yoke, front and back, and round neckline with stand-up collar. The bishop sleeves were of lace, and lace overlaid the train of the gown.

Mrs. Debrah L. Underwood, sister of the bride, was

Gardner has tips on plants

Mrs. J.D. Leonard offered advice on the care of house plants and hanging baskets when she spoke Wednesday morning at a meeting of the Oasis Garden Club in the home of Mrs. L.S. Bonner. Mrs. D. Gordon was cohostess.

"Commercial soil is recommended because this will eliminate the problem of gnats in the house which are brought in with dirt used from the yard," said Mrs. Leonard.

She stressed not to over-water or over-feed plants, both of which should be done on a regular schedule. "Let a pot of water sit overnight so the salts will settle to the bottom, and the water will be at room temperature and not be a shock to the plants," continued Mrs. Leonard. "For leaves that are turning yellow, add a small amount of copperas to the water as a source of iron."

Mrs. Charles Harwell presided, announcing that the spring district convention of garden clubs will be held March 8-9 in Amarillo.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Shirley Walker and Mrs. Robert Parker. The exceptional children at Moss Elementary School will be assisted by Mrs. Harwell, Mrs. Paschal Odum, Mrs. J.F. Skalicky and Mrs. Boone Horne in making bird feeders Feb. 17. The next meeting will be March 9 in the home of Mrs. C.V. Wash with Mrs. Lois Smith as cohostess.

Dear Abby

Gift Giver Gets Tax Deduction

DEAR ABBY: When someone makes a donation to a charity in the name of a friend as a Christmas gift, who gets the tax deduction?

Don't pass this off so hastily. If A sends B a card saying that he has given $100 to the American Red Cross in B's name, A has either made a gift to B, which is not tax deductible (B being an individual, not a charity) or he has made no gift to B.

If A has made a gift to the ARC for B, then B should claim and get the tax deduction. If A has made no gift to B, but rather a gift to the ARC, why should he brag to B about it? I object to those "gifts."

DBL IN BERKELEY

DEAR DBL: The person who lays out the money for a tax-deductible gift gets the deduction, not the person in whose name the donation was made.

Read on for a letter from another reader who objects to the "gift-in-your-name" gift for yet another reason:

DEAR ABBY: I give to those causes in which I believe, and I do not want anyone to make a donation in MY name to any charity without my permission. I would prefer NO gift to one that identifies me (even indirectly) with some of those "worthy" causes that are not of my choosing.

WASHINGTON STAR READER

DEAR ABBY: You recently wrote that if a person receives an obscene telephone call, he can tie up the caller's line by simply not hanging up. That's not true! It's the other way around. The caller can tie up the line of the callee by not hanging up.

The callee cannot disconnect himself from the caller unless the caller hangs up! You've probably had a thousand letters on this, but one more won't hurt.

EX-PHONE OPERATOR

DEAR EX: You're right—I called it wrong! Thank you (and the other 999 who wrote to straighten me out).

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six months and have put up with about as much nagging from my husband as I am going to.

Here is the problem: My 27-year-old "baby" wants me to wash his back. He claims his mother washed it for him every day when he was home. We have gotten into several fights over this. I don't need anybody to wash MY back, and I don't see why he needs somebody to wash his.

What should I do?

MARY LOU

DEAR MARY LOU: Give him "the brush"—the kind with a nice long handle on it. And don't forget the soap. (Soft.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHUNNED AND HEART-BROKEN IN SEATTLE: Herpes is NOT a venereal disease, and those who say it is do not know what they're talking about. It is a virus, and one of the most difficult to get rid of, but a venereal disease it is NOT!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Rickenbacher's kin will learn to fly

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — "I love to fly" — a trait that runs in the family — says Carroll Rickenbacher. Now she's joining the Army Reserve to learn to fly helicopters.

Mrs. Rickenbacher, a former model and actress who is in her 20s, is the daughter-in-law of World War I flying ace Eddie Rickenbacher. Her husband William flew Air Force transports during the Korean War.

"It's a great thrill and it's even more fun than skiing, which I love," Mrs. Rickenbacher said.

She has a license to fly fixed-wing aircraft, but evidently that's not enough for her. Next month she starts nine months intensive flight training at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

"She should have her wings by Christmas," said her husband. "I'm delighted. The separation will only be for about the first four weeks, and then I can fly down on weekends to visit her."

Punching down

Yeast dough recipes usually call for punching down the dough; this is done to eliminate large gas bubbles. Be sure to follow the directions so your bread loaf or coffee cake won't have large holes in it.

Tartar tip

Make up a batch of tartar sauce to serve with fish. It's good, too, with sandwiches made from sliced ham or home-prepared ham spread.

MRS. MILTON KNOWLES

Sweetheart named by Altrusans

Mrs. Milton Knowles, a past president of the local Altrusa Club, was chosen as its "Valentine Sweetheart" during a business luncheon held Thursday at Coker's Restaurant.

Mrs. Knowles was presented three rosebuds in a white milk glass vase.

An initiation rite was held for two new members, Mrs. Ernest Welch and Mrs. Mamie Roberts, by Mrs. Knowles assisted by Mrs. W.H. Kay.

Mrs. Bonnie Bennett was chosen to fill the vice president's post left vacant when Mrs. Katherine McDaniel was advanced to the presidency. The former president, Mrs. Fred Tatum, has moved to Lubbock.

Mrs. Willard Hendricks announced there will be a night meeting March 31, time and place to be announced.

Snappy addition

Apples or pears make a fine addition to snap beans. The combination is good, with a sweet-sour flavor achieved by adding lemon juice and sugar or honey.

A little lower You don't gotta

By WILFRID M. CALNAN,
A.C.S.W. Director,
Howard County Family
Service Center

Jason and Mandy were about a third of the way through their weekly counseling session with Helen. They had gotten down at last to the basic fault in their interaction process. It had become clear to Mandy that she was angry and demanding of Jason. It had become clear to Jason that he was passive on the surface, accepting Mandy's demands but, underneath, rebelling. And boiling so hard that frequently he sabotaged the efforts of Mandy in a secretly aggressive manner.

Helen had begun zeroing in on this conflict. One of the things she was doing today was getting each to listen to his own words. The three were discussing an example of Mandy's and Jason's conflicts. The example pertained to the purchasing of a home, a rather big venture on which they were embarked. In Mandy's view the real estate agent had not been as open with Jason and Mandy as he might have been in describing the house. Instead of being assertive, Jason had backed away from direct confrontation with the salesman. Mandy was furious as they detailed this difficulty. Suddenly Mandy blurted, "Jason, you have got to stand up for yourself. For me, too. For both of us." "Wait," Helen interjected. "Mandy, did you hear what you just said?" "What do you mean?" Mandy looked startled. "Mandy, what did you just say?" "I said, Jason you've got to — oh!" "What were you doing, Mandy?" "I was ordering Jason to do something."

"That's right," Helen affirmed. "Let me give you a word — INJUNCTION — Many of us learn to use injunctions. I mean learn. That's what we've heard so often in our growing up years that we learn to do it ourselves. Mandy, this is what your Mother taught you. 'Do this.' 'Don't do that.' What happens when you're told to do something or not do something?" "Why, I remember," Mandy recalled. "When I was a child I used to do the opposite of what I was told." Jason interrupted, "I just didn't do anything, not a thing."

"What could you have said, Mandy, that would have helped?" Helen asked. "Let me see, now," Mandy reflected in one of her moments of humor. "Jason, you sure shouldn't have done that!" Then all three laughed. "How about 'Jason, you need to?'" Helen queried. "Yes," breathed Mandy slowly. "Makes sense to me," Jason spoke up.

"Let me give you another word," Helen went on. "IMPERATIVE. We do need to do certain things to survive. When you say to another person 'you need to, you show respect for him. An insistent kind of respect, it's true. Buy you are saying, 'I know you can.'"

"Hm," said Mandy. "Injunctions — no. You don't gotta. Imperatives — yes. You need to. Gee, that's neat!"

Gooley oil endangering birds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gooley bunker oil from a container ship spill that dumped more than 20,000 gallons into San Francisco Bay is dirtying oceanfront beaches and bayfronts and endangering wildlife, says the Coast Guard.

Bethlehem Shipyard, where the dry-docked container ship Hawaiian Progress leaked the oil last Thursday, "has undertaken the financial responsibility of the spill," the Coast Guard said.

More than 130 seabirds, badly soaked by the oil, were picked up over the weekend for treatment at the International Bird Rescue Center in Berkeley.

Coast Guard spokesman Larry Clark said Bethlehem had hired about 200 persons to cope with slicks that reach the beaches.

Clark said there have been reports of the oil showing up on the Marin coast, north to Muir Beach and at various points as far as Bolinas.

The Coast Guard said that Bethlehem had not admitted legal responsibility for the spill.

Billy knows what he likes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Billy Carter says he doesn't know much about art or fancy French cooking. But he knows what he likes.

President Carter's younger brother was here Sunday at the unveiling of an art exhibit depicting Plains, Ga., his hometown.

The day started with a late, leisurely breakfast at a French Quarter restaurant. He ordered ham and eggs while his wife, Sybil, sampled the gourmet fare.

Water Inc., Uncle Sam may demand full refund meeting set New incentive for vets in school

LUBBOCK — "Food and Fiber for a Hungry World: A Decade of Progress" will be the theme of Water, Inc., 10th annual membership meeting at the Hilton Inn here Saturday.

About 300 persons are expected to attend the meeting and a hearing scheduled by the Texas Water Development Board Friday in conjunction with the Water, Inc., session.

Speakers at the Water, Inc., gathering will include Congressman Jack Hightower, TWDB Executive Director James Rose and Dr. Gerald W. Thomas, president of New Mexico State University. State Sen. Kent Hance and State Rep. Pete Laney also will address the meeting.

The Water, Inc., program will examine the role of the High Plains of Texas and New Mexico in food and fiber production for the state, the nation and the world, provided adequate water resources are supplied the region.

The meeting will begin Saturday at 8:50 a.m. in the ballroom of the Hilton Inn. The session is open to the public.

Water, Inc., is a non-profit organization which encourages long-range water resource planning and development with an emphasis on securing supplemental water for the High Plains.

The TWDB hearing is set for Friday at 2 p.m. in the Hilton ballroom. The TWDB is currently revising the Texas Water Plan, the topic of the hearing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans going to school under the GI bill have a new incentive to complete their course work. If they don't, Uncle Sam will demand full refunds from them.

In the past, if a veteran dropped courses and ended up carrying too few hours to qualify for his payments, the Veterans Administration paid for the courses up until the date he dropped them.

But under new legislation, the VA is seeking retroactive refunds from any student who drops courses and takes fewer classroom hours than required for his VA payment. The amounts vary for full-time, three-quarter-time and half-time students.

Congress passed the legislation last year to reduce overpayments to veterans who dropped out of school or canceled courses without telling the VA. Those overpayments totaled more than $2 billion since 1971, but the VA says it has managed to get about 70 per cent of the money back. The biggest overpayments were $883 million in the year ending last July 1.

The retroactive refund provision went into effect on Dec. 1. The rule also applies in cases where a course is completed but the grade is ignored by the school for graduation purposes.

The penalty does not apply when the situation was caused by circumstances beyond the student's control.

Andrew H. Thornton, chief of the VA's education benefits, said in an interview "it's too early" to guess how many students will have to make refunds for the school term that ended recently.

However, "some schools have expressed concern about the effect (the rule) will have" on the veterans, he said.

No repayments for the past term can be collected for VA payments made before Dec. 1. But for the current and future terms, the retroactive repayments can be assessed back to the start of the term.

SEATTLE (AP) — President Carter and his administration have shown more sensitivity to the needs of federal courts than Congress, says Chief Justice Warren Burger.

In his annual state of the judiciary address to the American Bar Association convention Sunday, Burger said Congress has shown an "unfortunate propensity to legislate increased judicial work, without providing people to perform the work."

He also praised two Carter appointments — Griffin Bell as attorney general and Wade McCree as solicitor general.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — After nearly a four-hour search, state police said they finally located the light airplane that crashed near Port Allen, La. Three persons, all from Oregon, died in the crash.

State police said the single engine plane went down about one mile from Interstate-10 around 8 p.m. Saturday. The wreckage wasn't spotted until midnight, police said.

The Federal Aviation Administration is investigating the crash.

The dead have been identified as Allard Croeni, 55, his son Steve, 24, and his 23-year-old wife Lana.

All three were from Forest Grove, Ore., and were reportedly on a trip from Longview, Tex., to Pensacola, Fla.

SEATTLE (AP) — President Carter and his administration have shown more sensitivity to the needs of federal courts than Congress, says Chief Justice Warren Burger.

In his annual state of the judiciary address to the American Bar Association convention Sunday, Burger said Congress has shown an "unfortunate propensity to legislate increased judicial work, without providing people to perform the work."

He also praised two Carter appointments — Griffin Bell as attorney general and Wade McCree as solicitor general.

Proof needed for deductions

All charitable contributions of property must be substantiated to be claimed as a deduction, the Internal Revenue Service said.

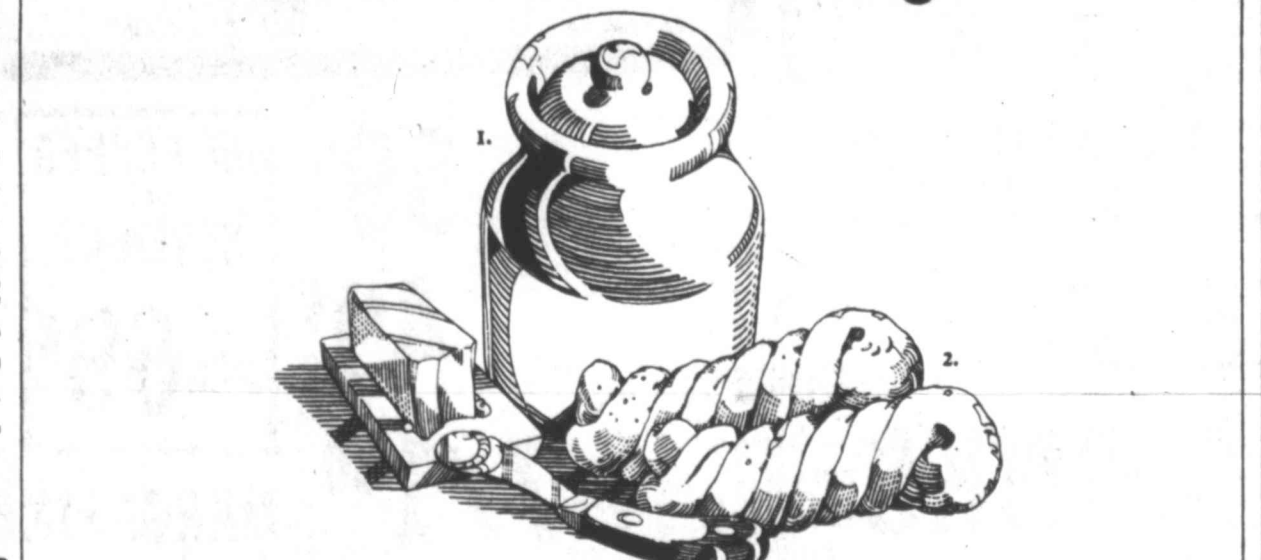

Any deduction claimed for property donated to an organization must be verified through a statement to the IRS listing the dates and amounts of each contribution, the type of property donated, and the method of determining the property's value.

If used furniture, clothing or other property, for example, is donated, it may be claimed as a deductible contribution to the extent of its fair market value. Fair market value is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and seller.

For each piece of property valued over $200, the original cost or other basis in the property, fair market value, appreciation, conditions of the gift and a copy of the gift's appraisal must be included in the tax return. This required information must accompany the tax return, according to the IRS.

Two free IRS pamphlets, Publication 561, "Valuation of Donated Property," and Publication 526, "Income Tax Deduction for Contributions," discuss contributions and can be obtained from most IRS offices.

College roundball skirmishes Indiana upsets Michigan

By The Associated Press

If ever a college basketball team went to court without a defense, it's the Michigan Wolverines.

Coach Johnny Orr certainly found them guilty Sunday after a 73-64 upset by Indiana. "They just ran their offense in the second half," a grim Orr said of Indiana. "I don't know how they got Woodson opened so often."

Orr referred to Mike Woodson, Indiana's freshman forward who flowed through the Wolverine defense with shocking ease and scored 26 points.

While fifth-ranked Michigan wasn't playing defense, Indiana was. The Hoosiers seemingly had stop signs up all over the court and the traffic was terrific.

"We concentrated all week on defense," said Indiana Coach Bobby Knight. "We thought we had given up some easy baskets last week (in an 89-84 loss at Michigan) before we set up. We told our kids this week that our defense started when the shot went up."

Indiana's overbearing defense got Kent Benson into foul trouble, however, and things looked discouraging when the All-American center was tagged with his fourth personal.

"We had no intention of taking Benson out," said Knight. "We were either going to win it or lose it right there. We started to hold the ball when they were in the zone because Benson was least susceptible for fouling. Benson played extremely smart with four fouls. He positioned himself well and made the key plays. And we had three guys out there setting up Benson and Woodson."

Benson wound up with 24 points. In college basketball action Saturday, top-ranked San Francisco trounced St. Mary's 99-82; Washington upset No. 2 UCLA 78-73; No. 3 Kentucky trimmed Auburn 89-82; No. 4 Wake Forest defeated North Carolina State 84-77; No. 10 Nevada-Las Vegas nipped No. 6 Louisville 99-96; No. 7 Alabama turned back Mississippi State 73-69; No. 8 Minnesota outscored Iowa 61-58 and No. 9 Marquette hammered Manhattan 86-60.

In the second ten, No. 11 Tennessee whipped Louisiana State 91-64; No. 12 Cincinnati stopped Georgia Tech 84-73; No. 13 Arkansas routed Rice 78-51; No. 14 North Carolina bested Tulane 106-94; Maryland upset No. 15 Clemson 84-78; No. 16 Providence tripped LIU 99-85; St. Bonaventure stunned No. 17 Syracuse 91-84; No. 18 Arizona beat New Mexico 88-84; No. 19 Detroit downed Wayne State 123-77 and No. 20 VMI turned back Richmond 92-87.

Bill Cartwright, Winford Boynes and Marlon Redmond scored 21 points apiece as San Francisco beat St. Mary's and clinched a tie for the West Coast Athletic Conference.

Hawks host Amarillo in Valentine brawl

It was almost a month ago to the day that the Howard College Hawks traveled to Amarillo to do battle with the Badgers and came back on the sloppy end of a 108-89 score, the worst defeat the locals have experienced all year.

The humiliation woke the Preybirds from their midseason slump and they have now won seven of their last eight games, six of them in a row, only falling to power-house Western Texas in Snyder.

The Hawks were 2-4 after the first Amarillo game and in seventh place in the 10-member WJCCAC. Now they sport a 9-5 record and command sole possession of second place.

"The addition of Russell Sublet to the line-up has been very important," said Coach Harold Wilder. "He has given everyone confidence in their own game and has taken some of the pressure off of Reggie Leffall and Mike Little.

"And Paul Cathey has helped tremendously. You know he was sick for about a month prior to the Christmas holidays, but he's come back to be our best defensive player," Wilder said.

"Most teams usually go into a slump this time of the year, but we're peaking," he added. The Hawks have indeed peaked and are coming off one of their best offensive outputs of the season, a 110-84 bombing of hapless NMJC last Thursday night.

One added bit of drama to tonight's St. Valentine's Day Massacre, as Coach Wilder wants it known as: Sophomore Reggie Leffall is a doubtful starter, due to minor surgery on his toe. If he is not able to start, very capable Lowell Walker will probably fill in the starting line up, along with regulars Mike Little, Russell Sublet, Paul Cathey and Eugene Williams. Super tall Joe Cooper will also be a candidate for early action, along with Jim Ray and "Kid" Johnny James.

Game-time is 7:30 p.m. in Hawk Gym, and a very large crowd is expected. This is the next to the last home game of the season for the Preybirds.

All-Star game won on defense

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The matchups involved the most awesome assemblage of offensive talent in basketball, but the 1977 National Basketball Association All-Star Game was won on defense.

There was Golden State's Rick Barry, diving to the floor to tear away the loose ball from two scrambling Eastern Conference players. Sprawling on his side, Barry flipped the ball to Denver's Bobby Jones, who fed Phoenix' Paul Westphal for the layup that produced the decisive point in the West's 125-124 victory over the East Sunday.

Westphal's basket gave the West a 125-122 lead with 38 seconds to play. Then, after two free throws by Bob McAdoo of the New York Knicks had brought the East to within 125-124 five seconds later, along came Westphal to strip the ball from New Orleans' Pete Maravich, who was set to launch a potential winning shot for the East with seven seconds left.

Effective defense requires intensive play, and the 10,938 fans at Milwaukee's packed Arena and a national television audience saw more of that than many had expected in this annual exhibition, traditionally a one-on-one shootout.

"It was more competitive than usual," said Philadelphia's Julius Erving, named Most Valuable Player in the defunct American Basketball Association the previous three years and an overwhelming choice as MVP in this game.

"The players never lost interest, that's for sure," said West Coach Larry Brown of Denver. "It was really neat to see guys diving after balls at the end. I never thought I'd see Rick Barry go on the floor."

Barry said the intensity existed because 10 of the 24 All-Star players — he being one of the 10 — once had played in the ABA. Brown both played and coached in it.

Maravich, however, said some of the intensity was illegal. Specifically, he thought Westphal had fouled him as he tried to shoot from the top of the key on the East's last possession.

Maravich's shot was plotted during an East time out called with 16 seconds left after a steal by McAdoo. "We tried a simple pick and roll," Maravich said. "I came off McAdoo and Westphal fouled me, hit me on my right wrist. It was not a clear steal. In a key situation when the ball game is being decided, they (officials) should call it."

McAdoo also said Maravich had fouled. "You could hear the contact," he said. "I was the pick and roll man. He (Maravich) came around me

'An honor to finish second' Massengale dominates

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Rik Massengale so completely dominated the rest of the field that it was almost dull.

"I feel no sense of frustration," badly-beaten runner-up Bruce Lietzke said Sunday. "The way Rik was playing, it's an honor to finish second. He played one of the finest weeks of golf that I've ever heard of."

It was such a runaway that the only excitement was generated in Massengale's challenge to Arnold Palmer's 17-year-old scoring record in the prestigious Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic. And he got that, the only goal he could set for himself, with a dramatic, 30-foot birdie putt on the 90th hole of this, golf's longest tournament.

The outcome, the winner, was never in doubt. Massengale had it all the way, scoring the third victory of his career, and third in as many years, by a handsome, comfortable margin of six strokes.

"It was just a race for second place," said Lietzke, who eventually claimed that position with a five-under-par 67 that extended to 26 the number of consecutive rounds in which he's been at par or better.

And the triumph prompted Massengale to make a change in plans. He was set to skip this week's Los Angeles Open, the last event on the Winter segment of the schedule. His triumph put him in position to gain a spot in the rich World Series of Golf off the Winter point standings and he decided to enter Los Angeles to protect his position.

Just as he'd done in earlier victories at Tallahassee and Hartford, Massengale led at the end of every round. He started six strokes in front in the final round of the 90-hole, five-day Hope, stayed in front and finished in front.

Only his quest for Palmer's scoring record lent any suspense, any drama to the proceedings that tailed off in spectator interest after former President Gerald Ford and the other celebrity amateurs completed their four days of play Saturday.

"I thought about the record a lot," he said. "I didn't want to go out with that big lead and play cautious, maybe shoot par and just squeeze in. I didn't want to back in. I decided to go for the record."

The softly-drawing, handsome Texan got it with the bold putt on the final hole. It capped off a five-under-par 67 last round and gave him a 337 total, 23 under par and one shot better than Palmer's old mark for the four desert courses used in this unique event.

Lietzke's five-under-par effort on the La Quinta Country Club course took the $22,800 second prize with a 343 total, 17 under par. He pushed his leading money-winning total to $123,350 for the year.

Massengale won $40,000 from the total purse of $200,000.

Bobby Walzel, who closed with a 64, finished third at 347 and was the only other man within 10 shots of the run-away winner.

Gary Player of South Africa had a closing 71 and was seventh at 350. Palmer shot 71-355. Johnny Miller, who won this tournament the last two years, beating Massengale in 1976, failed to qualify for the final round.

WINS BOB HOPE DESERT CLASSIC — Rik Massengale has this reaction after sinking a 30-foot birdie on the final hole Sunday in the Bob Hope Desert Classic. Massengale won with a tournament record of 23 under par, beating Arnold Palmer's 1960 performance.

Playoffs slated

Lamesa will host the girls' basketball AAA bi-district playoff tonight in the Lamesa Middle School Gym at 7:30 when the Canyon Eagles face Fort Stockton.

The Canyon Eagles have won the District 1-AAA championship for ten years running. For the season they have 18 wins to 11 losses. Bob Schneider is the Eagle's coach.

Fort Stockton has rolled up an impressive 29-1 record coming in to the playoffs.

Bufs meet Owls in practice match

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes, winners of the District 10-B basketball crown will entertain 9-A champs Big Lake in Forsan gym Tuesday night at 7:30 in a practice game.

Forsan will not meet District 9-B champs Sands until March, and Buff coach Bob Evans has lined up the practice match to keep his charges in condition until the big shoot-out with the Mustangs from Ackerly.

Big Lake took top honors in their conference this season with a 25-5 slate, and should offer all the competition the Bufs will need to keep in shape.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, and a return match will be held in Big Lake Thursday at the same time.

Evans indicated that he is working on procuring games for the following week.

Just 8 1/2 days left before Red Head tilt

Practice continues today behind closed doors, as the Big Spring "Bombers" try desperately to come up with a winning formula before the All-American Red Heads pro women's basketball team arrives Feb. 22 for an all-out confrontation.

"I still can't believe they made me an official," said court wizard Bobby Zellars, "I wanted to play!"

Still holding out on the negotiating table is giant "Jumpin' Jerry" Foresyth. "I'm sure that if they want me bad enough we can come to terms... but they better hurry," said the moody superstar.

Tickets to the sporting event of the season are currently on sale from athletes at the high school and junior highs. Tickets can also be obtained by calling the Athletic Department at the high school. Proceeds from the sales will go to finance the Spring Sports Banquet at BSHS.

What a time to arrive

By Bill Albright

Executive Vice President,
Big Spring Area Ch. of Commerce

Inez and I have been most favorably impressed by the warm and cordial reception extended to us by the fine people of our Big Spring Community.

We are already completely immersed in the activities of our Area Action Agency at the Chamber of Commerce. We are fortunate to have arrived on the scene at what is probably the most exciting, important and trying period that most Big Springers can remember.

It's been trying on everyone because of the past year of indecision, the consequence of possible alternatives and sometimes misleading information.

Its importance is punctuated by the economic impact and the degree of that impact on every man, woman and child in the Big Spring Area.

And finally, the excitement of the situation is found in the courage, the determination, the vision of everyone. There is an expectant, positive antiicipation of something good going to happen. There is no standing still. We either proceed up the trail of progress or we regress backward. And if I read the signs correctly — there are no backward tendencies in any of the fine people that I have met to date.

All of which indicated one thing to me, regardless of what occurs in the next few days — weeks or months — Big Spring, Texas is on the move — forward.

Those are not idle words and I really don't mean them as a challenge. They are simple uncomplicated facts. We — you and I — the total community will work together to improve the quality of life of all our citizens. We'll work to create new and better jobs — increase the economic base through diverse industries, business and activities.

We'll ask folks to patch up their differences and mend the fences that need mending. We'll encourage all the citizens of the area to unite their resources of ideas, energy, ability in an effort to put forth a concentrated community campaign to Build a Bigger Better Big Spring Area. And that, folks, is the whole point of this initial discussion. One or two or half a dozen little groups are generally pretty ineffective in achieving the progress and success that we have in mind.

But your Chamber of Commerce is designed, organized and equipped to provide the leadership and direction necessary for community growth. And your Chamber includes every individual, firm, business, farmer and rancher who is interested in the future of our Big Spring Area.

To paraphrase a trite old cliché to fit our present situation. "It takes three — YOU, YOUR CHAMBER and ME — plus lots of HUSTLE — HUSTLE — HUSTLE!"

Man shot by officers, autopsy is ordered

DALLAS (AP) — An autopsy has been ordered on the body of a man, who Dallas police say was shot by officers while robbing a restaurant and found several hours later in a car in Ennis.

Officials said the body of Willie Delbert Thompson, 30, of Ennis, was discovered in his car early Sunday on a city street of the North Central Texas city about 35 miles south of Dallas.

The discovery came several hours after Dallas police opened fire on a man who robbed a South Dallas fried chicken restaurant of about $37.

According to a Dallas police spokesman, two police tactical squad officers had stalked out the restaurant Saturday night because five fried chicken establishments in Dallas had been robbed in less than a week.

The two officers fired two blasts from their shotguns at a man as he escaped from the restaurant and jumped into a waiting automobile.

Thompson was identified by the tactical officers as the robber.

Officers followed a trail of blood to where the man jumped into a waiting car. Local hospitals were alerted to watch for a person seeking treatment for gunshot wounds, but no one appeared.

Area students are on rolls

Eighty-one students have received the highest scholastic recognition at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin in Odessa by being named to the President's List. This designation was conferred for having a 4.0 semester average. Named to the Dean's Lists were 118 students who maintained a 3.5 semester average.

Among those designated were:

PRESIDENT'S LIST — Bruce Hinshaw, Big Spring, College of Science and Engineering; Mary Butler and Carole Hope, both of Big Spring, and Sandra Louder, Stanton, College of Arts and Education.

DEAN'S LIST — Donald Howard and Thomas Mullen, both of Big Spring, College of Management; Enola Ballard, George Frank Broyles, Sylvia G. Harry and Thurman R. White, all of Big Spring, College of Arts and Education; and Kenneth Randall and Stanley Shanks, both of Big Spring, College of Science and Engineering.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

SAYS SHE'S SCARED — Judith Campbell Exner, above, who claims she was simultaneously a girlfriend of John F. Kennedy and Chicago underworld boss Sam Giancana, says she is scared as she completes a book about the events. According to Mrs. Exner's lawyer, she is afraid because both Giancana and a friend of his were assassinated and she doesn't know whether the slaying were related to her.

Youth held in slayings of farmer, wife, son

LARNED, Kan. (AP) — A 15-year-old Pawnee County youth was being held today in the weekend slayings of a grain farmer, his wife and one of their sons, authorities said.

The youth, unidentified because of his age, was arrested on charges of juvenile delinquency after the bodies of Joe Wurm, 36; his wife Diane, 35, and son Jim, 9, were found early Sunday morning in separate rooms of their small white farm house. Another son, Michael, 15, had attended a high school dance Saturday night at nearby Macksville. Neither Sheriff Cliff Atteberry nor County Atty. Jerry Lawson would comment on Michael's whereabouts at the time of the slayings.

Atteberry said each victim was shot at least once. Several guns were found at the scene, but authorities would not say if one was the murder weapon.

Food stamps free-for-all

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — After a weekend attempt to distribute millions of dollars in food stamps turned into a free-for-all, Erie County officials planned to try again today with a more systematic approach.

Residents in the nine New York counties declared disaster areas after blizzards two weeks ago are now eligible for emergency food stamps if they lost income due to storm-related problems.

More than 12,000 persons turned up at six county centers Sunday. Almost 5,000 were turned away. Tempers flared as people pushed and shoved to try to get out of the cold and snow and into the centers.

Rick Olejniczak of Buffalo, who got in line at 7 a.m., criticized the city for not roping off the street so people would stay in lines.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT

Write your suggestion to President Carter. Let him hear from Big Spring.

As our new president, Jimmy Carter, begins his term, he has asked the American people to give him ideas and suggestions, questions or comments about this country and its government.

The Herald thinks the president should get many comments and suggestions from people in Big Spring, since our town is much affected by what happens in Washington.

Here is our chance to send input directly into the White House. A special section of the Big Spring Herald on Sunday, Feb. 20, will contain as many ideas and questions for President Carter as this newspaper can gather from the Big Spring area. Copies of the section will go directly to the White House and President Carter.

Here's how to participate. Just sit down and write a letter to President Carter on any subject that might be of interest to our government. Begin it, "Dear Mr. President;" Be sure to include your name and address. Then mail it to:

Suggestions for the President Dept.
Big Spring Herald
P.O. Box 1431
Big Spring, Tex. 79720

Or bring it by the Herald's office at 710 Sturry. Please try to keep the letters as short and to the point as possible. The letters should reach the Herald as soon as possible but no later than Thursday, Feb. 17, to be included in the special section.

When this tree is 25-feet high, the Gas air conditioning you install now will still be in warranty.

Now...there is a 10 year warranty on Gas Air Conditioning!

Install Gas air conditioning now and forget about major cooling problems for at least ten years. And, ten years is a loooong time. Time for children to finish junior high, high school and graduate from college. That's a lot of summers for you to enjoy a cool, comfortable home without worrying about expensive maintenance to your cooling system.

How can we give a 10 year warranty on Arkla-Servel Gas air conditioning when the other kind offers only five?

The answer is in quality construction and Gas air conditioning's simple operating system. Most of the important parts in an Arkla-Servel are stainless steel and they are put together by craftsmen. And, there are fewer moving parts to wear out. Gas air conditioning lasts longer, lasts better.

Install Gas air conditioning now and be ready for next summer . . . and the next . . . and the next . . .

Call for a free cooling survey. There is NO OBLIGATION.

A manufacturer's limited warranty on the sealed unit only. Valid on ACB series residential units purchased after January 1, 1977, through August 31, 1977, only.

NOW IN BIG SPRING! TELLER 24

1. What is TELLER 24? TELLER 24 is a fully-automated personal banking facility which provides the customer the convenience of around-the-clock banking for most transactions previously only available during normal banking hours.

2. What do I need to use TELLER 24? Your Master Charge card which has the special magnetic stripe on the back. You must also know your personal identification number which will be furnished you shortly after you receive your TELLER 24 card. The maximum benefits from TELLER 24 can be obtained if you have a checking and savings account with us.

3. How do I use TELLER 24? Step by step instructions are posted on TELLER 24. In addition, the lighted display window in the center of TELLER 24 will guide you through each step of the transaction.

4. When and how frequently can I use TELLER 24? Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, three hundred sixty-five days a year. You may obtain two cash withdrawals in any twenty-four hour period. However, there is no limit to the number of other transactions you may perform each day.

5. If I make a payment or a deposit in cash, what precautions are taken to protect my TELLER 24? TELLER 24 is equipped with silent alarms which will alert authorities should anyone attempt to abuse or tamper with it. Prior to the bank's processing of your deposit or payment each deposit envelope is stamped with the transaction number, which also appears on your receipt thus assuring the safety and integrity of your transaction.

6. What services will TELLER 24 provide? At your own TELLER 24 bank, you may withdraw cash from your Master Charge, checking, or savings account, deposit to your checking or savings account, transfer money from checking to savings, Master Charge to checking, or savings to checking, and make payments on installment loans, Christmas Club, Master Charge, or mortgage payments. A Special feature of TELLER 24 permits you to withdraw cash from your Master Charge or checking accounts at TELLER 24 banks other than your own bank.

7. What if I make a mistake in the transaction? If you enter the wrong amount, you can push the CLEAR button and enter the correct amount. If you change your mind and wish to make a different type of transaction, immediately make another selection and continue.

8. What if I forget or lose my personal identification number? Just call or come into your bank and one of the Security officers will again provide you with the number.

9. Should my card be lost or stolen, can anyone else use my TELLER 24? No one else can use your TELLER 24 card without your personal identification number. Therefore, always keep your personal identification number separate from your TELLER 24 card. Immediately notify the bank if your card is lost or stolen. TELLER 24 will then be programmed to capture the card should someone else attempt to use it.

10. How much does it cost to use TELLER 24? TO "CASH" CHECKS there are no charges other than your normal check charge. When borrowing you pay interest only on the money you borrow. There is no charge for transferring money from one account to another and there is no charge when making deposits.
