Moroccan troops on the way

Zaire can't survive?

Editor's Note: AP Correspondent Michael Goldsmith was expelled from Zaire on Tuesday for reporting that a rally to demonstrate support for President Mobutu Sese Seko aroused no enthusiasm in a crowd that only half filled the Kinshasa stadium.

by MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

Western military analysts in Kinshasa, the capital of Zaire, have been saying for weeks that Morocco's King Hassan II is the only man likely to come to the aid of hard-pressed President Mobutu Sese Seko.

These officials believe that Mobutu cannot survive the invasion of southern Zaire by an estimated 5,000 Katangan exiles without the help of foreign forces, that these forces have to be African, and that the only African able and willing to undertake the task is the Moroccan ruler.

Well informed sources in Rabat, Hassan's capital, reported Thursday that a battalion of 600 to 800 crack Moroccan troops was on the way. The Belgian radio, quoting government sources in Zaire, said the first contingent would be in the battle zone today.

Early in the Shaba invasion, Mobutu appealed to the United States, Belgium and France for military assistance. The United States sent a million dollars worth of medicine and other supplies but no arms. Small arms from Belgium and France began arriving in Kinshasa two weeks ago.

All three governments told Mobutu they could not send troops under any circumstances.

Jan. 3, 1961.

But, McGovern added, Castro spurned the idea of a partial lifting of the trade ban.

"Trying to negotiate with the embargo is like trying to negotiate with a knife in your throat," the South Dakota Democrat quoted Castro as saying.

Base closing series begins

Residents in the cities of Laredo and Roswell, N.M. have experienced an ordeal which will soon grip Big Spring — the ordeal of adjusting to the closure of a military installation and the resulting economic loss.

Herald reporters Marj Carpenter and Bill Werrell visited the cities and will begin a series of articles about what those residents went through following the closure of their Air Force bases.

The first article in the series will appear in Sunday's Herald.

Prisoner trade said a fraud

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Leaders of a group seeking repatriation of Americans in Mexican prisons said today a prisoner exchange treaty is a "fraud" because U. S. ratification has stalled.

The treaty was signed in November and has been ratified by Mexico but has not even been sent to the U.S. Senate for ratification yet, said Paul Parsons.

Parsons, a University of Texas law student, is a leader of Rights in Mexico (RIM) and has petitioned both President Carter and the Organization of American States on behalf of Americans in Mexican prisons.

He said Carter "sat on it after he took office" and "to the best of my knowledge, the treaty is in the Justice Department and hasn't reached the (Senate) Foreign Relations Committee."

Bill May, president of RIM, called the treaty a fraud and said, "We do not believe the American government ever intended to enact a treaty as long as there is no public outcry."

Parsons said the Organization of American States has docketed for next week his petition concerning alleged torture and extortion of Americans, both to extract confessions and as prisoners.

Suez drill crash puts county counsel in cast

Visitors to the Howard County Courtroom next week will find that justice, in the form of County Attorney Harvey Hooser, is not only blind, but slightly lame. Hooser, in a walking cast from a recent motorcycle accident, maintains his performance will be unaffected.

He was knocked off his Honda 550 Wednesday while practicing motorcycle drills with ten other members of the Big Spring Suez Motor Patrol.

Dusk was settling over the Highland South parking lot at 6:30 p.m. as the ten machines practiced precision maneuvers. According to Hooser, "We were doing a four-leaf clover, and I was going a little slow while Sam Turner was going a little fast."

Hooser's bike was struck in the rear wheel, and "the cycle fell one way and I fell the other." His foot caught in the safety bar.

He suffered a double spiral fracture of the right leg and will be released from Malone-Hogan Hospital next week in a cast he expects to wear for four months.

"The time would have been better if we'd had twelve riders," said Hooser. "There probably wouldn't have been any problem."

The Motor Patrol, directed by Col. Roy McKendrie, will be required to perform its maneuvers within a 125-foot square at the June state competition. The twelve riders will start near the corners of the square and guide their machines through an imaginary X in the center, wheel to the left and right and pass through the center again, until they have approached from all four corners. The four-leaf clover is described by one rider as "fairly intricate."

Although Hooser said the cast would be "no problem," he expects to wait until it is off before trying the four-leaf clover again.

Trade ban lift urged

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Sen. George McGovern urged today that the United States lift its embargo on trade with Cuba "without delay." He said Fidel Castro's brother had told him such a step would help in the process of settling other issues between the two countries.

"I recommend that the embargo be lifted now without delay," McGovern told reporters here. "It never made any sense. It hurts everyone but our competitors. We trade with Peking, Moscow, why not Cuba?"

"There may be some objections in the Cuban community in Miami but we can't let a small group determine U.S. foreign policy," he said.

McGovern spoke with reporters as a goodwill mission of South Dakota basketball players and 100 tourist-supporters prepared to depart for the United States after a five-day visit.

McGovern said he was remaining in Cuba this weekend and hopes, when he returns, to ask President Carter about ending the embargo.

He also said the Cubans have accepted an invitation to send a basketball team on a reciprocal visit to the United States, with details yet to be worked out.

Two congressmen with him, Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., and Rep. James Abourezk, D-S.D., prepared to leave today. They also talked with the Cuban president's brother, Raul Castro.

Fidel Castro was in Moscow during the games and was not expected to return until after the American teams left. There was no indication whether McGovern's plans to stay until Sunday would give him a chance to meet with the Cuban leader.

McGovern said that in three hours of talks with Raul Castro Thursday, the head of Cuba's armed forces told him all other issues — such as restoring relations — could be discussed after the embargo is lifted. U.S.-Cuban relations were severed

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Missed some?

Q. I understand that school officials are letting kids come back to school when they are not yet over the measles. Some of them still have the rash when they come back. I thought the students had to be cleared by a doctor.

A. "We are not always aware of what students have when they leave," said John Smith, principal at the high school, "but if it is something contagious, we want him cleared by a doctor before he returns. However it is certainly possible we missed some."

Outside: Mild Easter

Mild weather and wind is forecast for the weekend in Big Spring. High today and Saturday is expected in the mid 80s, low tonight near 50. Winds will be southerly at 15 miles-per-hour, dropping to 5 to 10 m.p.h. tonight.

HC takes rodeo lead

The Howard College Rodeo Club took a commanding lead Thursday in the first night of this year's competition.

Howard College led with 150 points followed by Western Texas College with 70; Texas Tech University with 50; and South Plains College with 40.

Club members swept the calf roping, win, place and show. Ron Mitchell won the event with a time of 12.1 seconds. He was followed by Olin Smith with a time of 12.2 seconds, and Bud Marshall with a time of 13 seconds.

Texas Tech roper Tommy Bynum took fourth with a 15-second time.

Local cowboys also took a first and third in the team roping competition. Ken Smith and Joe Martinez snatched a first place with an 8.7-second time. They were followed by Rode Walker and Randy Jackson of Western Texas with a 14.1. Bud Marshall and Joe Martinez took third with a 16.4, and Carl Kinsel and Cliff Wheeler of Texas Tech captured fourth with a 19.6.

The only competitor to stay aboard in the bareback riding event was Marc Barrington of Western Texas, who rode Sorrel Top, gaining 37 points for his team.

No one qualified in the steer wrestling.

In the bull riding event, only Mark

Terry, South Plains, and Dusty Morrison, Texas Tech, qualified.

Competition will continue through Sunday at the Big Spring Rodeo Bowl.

HEY, GET OFF MY HEAD — This poor calf was set upon by three determined Howard College administrators in Thursday's calf dressing competition. The three cowpunks are Johnnie Lou Avery, assistant to the president (in tennis shoes), Mike Bruner, business manager (holding leg), and Dr. Charles Hays, president (seated on calf's head).

Weather Extended forecasts call for no rain

By the Associated Press
Ideal weather loomed today for Easter parades everywhere in Texas. Although considerable cloudiness was moving into southern areas of the state, official observers again predicted Sunday will be clear to only partly cloudy and warm. It was expected to be rather windy in the western sections, however.

Extended forecasts
FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Sunny and warm Saturday. Fair tonight. Highs Saturday in the 80s except low 90s Big Bend. Lows tonight mid 40s to the mid 50s except 30s mountains.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: No significant threat of precipitation Sunday through Tuesday. Warm and windy Sunday. Not as warm north Monday. Highs 80s on Sunday except 90s Big Bend valleys lowering to 70s north to 80s south except low 90s Big Bend valleys Monday and Tuesday. Lows 50s and low 60s on Sunday except 60s and 70s in the mountains lowering to 40s north and mountains to 50s south by Tuesday.

WEATHER FORECAST — Cold weather is forecast today for the north and central Pacific coast with snow flurries expected inland over the Rockies. Warm weather is expected for the Southwest and western Plains but most of the eastern half of the country will also be cool.

School election results confirmed

In a brief meeting Thursday noon, the Big Spring Board of Trustees canvassed the recent election and discussed in executive session the possible loss of Superintendent Emmett McKenzie.

The election results confirmed that Al Valdes, Mrs. Carol Hunter, and Delbert Donelson were elected to the board. Bobby Fuller lost to Donelson by four votes. Fuller, who was present at the meeting for the canvassing, did not contest the results. Board President Roy Watkins told him, "You didn't serve long, but you served well." In turn, Fuller said he was available for any purpose if needed by the Board.

In other action, Roy Watkins was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees, Jim Bill Little was elected vice president, and Al Valdes secretary.

"I hope I'm up to the problems ahead," said Watkins.

"We do too," joked Little. After the executive session, Watkins told the media there had been no action taken, and that the alternatives for finding a new superintendent had been discussed.

The Board of Trustees accepted the offer of Cotton Mize, representing other Big Spring donors, to provide Steer Park with an electric scoreboard.

"We've got a baseball team that can compete with anyone in the state," said Mize to the Board, "and we need to supply them with adequate equipment."

Mize said the project was his own brainchild, but that donors had been very generous. Mize listed the donors who have already contributed: Hayes Stripling Jr., First Federal Savings and Loan, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Quarterback Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Webb Spring Lions, the Evening Lions, First National Bank, Tom Vernon for Rockwell Lumber, Dr. Pepper Corp. Six or seven others have also offered to donate. The scoreboard will include a remote control and a vandalism screen.

The Board also accepted the offer of the Big Spring

Band Boosters to supply The carpeting will "improve measurably" the senior high band hall.

Energy Oil leases auction completed at Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — The first public auction of University of Texas oil and gas leases outside of Austin has been completed at Midland, with sales netting the third highest total in the 52-year history of the bidding.

Oil and gas companies and independent operators bid a total of $13,326,500, which will go into the UT System's Permanent Fund.

The bidding at Midland Thursday exceeded only by the $16,274,500 in 1966 and the $16,238,000 in 1963.

Gulf Oil Corp. was the champion bidder of the sale, paying bonuses of $3,945,000. The Superior Oil Co. was second with $1,143,000 and Charles J. Cerf, a Midland independent oilman, was third with $724,000.

Another Midland independent, Clayton Williams Jr., paid $707,000 in bonuses.

Bass Enterprises, headquartered in Fort Worth, purchased $619,000 in leases and Getty Oil Co. put up $591,000. Another major company, City Service Co., bid successfully for leases totaling $507,000.

Superior purchased the most expensive single tract, paying $480,000 for 320 acres in Ward County.

The Superior purchase also was the highest per acre price, $1,498.

James B. Zimmerman, geologist in charge of the University Lands office in Midland, said of the 147,000 acres offered for sale, 143,911 were sold for an average per acre price of $92.

An act of the state legislature last year enabled the sale of university lands oil and gas leases to be held outside of Austin for the first time.

Oil film to tell 'the true story'

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A Midland-based committee has been formed to produce a television film that would tell "the true story" of the risks involved in drilling for oil and gas and the advantages of a free enterprise system.

The committee, called the American Oil and Gas Story Committee (AOGSC), is made up of several Midland oilmen and persons from other areas of Texas and New Mexico.

Snyder firm will drill well north of Silver

Par Producing Co., Snyder, will drill the No. 2 M.C. Hendry as a 1 1/4 mile northwest outpost to the Mitchell County portion of the Jameson, North (Strawn) field, one location south of the recently re-opened Dixon (Strawn) field four miles north of Silver.

Location is 2,173 feet from the south and 1,787 feet from the east lines of 2-1A-H&TC. Contract depth is 6,400 feet.

The Apple Creek (Wolf-camp) field of Glasscock County reported its second producer and a 5-mile southeast extension with completions of Adobe Oil Co., Midland, No. 1 Adobe-James Currie, eight miles east of Garden City, for a daily pumping potential of 52 barrels of oil, gravity unreported, plus eight barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 712-1.

Production was through perforations at 7,374-576 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons and fractured with 38,500 gallons and 53,000 pounds of sand.

Scheduled as a wildcat, it was drilled to 9,857 feet and tested through perforations at 9,644-658 feet and 9,110-225 feet, prior to plugging back to 7,700 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of 29-32-48-T&P.

The discovery, Belco Petroleum Corp., No. 1 Ratliff, was finished Nov. 16, 1976, for 126.38 barrels of oil, gravity unreported, with gas-oil ratio of 1,353-1, through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations of 8,019-137 feet.

Estes' dealings probed

(AP WIREPHOTO)
HELPING HAND — A girl whose mother was arrested with other striking Kansas City teachers was comforted by another teacher outside Central High School in Kansas City on Thursday.

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — At least three state and federal law enforcement agencies are investigating the business dealings of former West Texas promoter and financier Billie Sol Estes.

At the heart of the probes are two suitcases full of documents, letters and canceled checks copied by the Internal Revenue Service, Texas Attorney General John Hill's office and The Associated Press.

The correspondence was provided by Don Trull, a Mississippi promoter, (not to be confused with the former Baylor football player) who, during a two-day, 10-hour interview with the AP, said he officed with Estes during the latter part of last year.

And in the midst of the renewed investigations, the Federal Parole Board, which supervises Estes' limited freedom, will conduct an April 19 hearing in Fort Worth. At that time, Estes' business dealings will be reviewed and the commission will consider whether or not to withdraw supervision.

Confronted with Trull's interview and statements from other parties, Dr. William Amos, federal parole commissioner in Dallas said flatly, "you haven't told us anything we haven't heard already. We are looking into these matters."

Estes was located at Solex Realty Co. here Thursday afternoon, but refused to comment on the documents or the probes and referred any and all statements to his attorney, Jack Bryant.

"Probably all the things you have come from a man called Don Trull," said Bryant. "...About all I can say is print what you want and be prepared to stand by."

Bryant further blasted Trull's credibility as a news source and added, "If you have something from the FBI, well ... print what you want."

A spokesman for the FBI indicated they too are aware of the documents.

David Pace, an investigator for Hill's office, confirmed the state's investigation, but said he could not comment beyond that because of possible "litigation."

One of the letters Trull provided is from a man who identifies himself as a Tennessee college student. It is purportedly addressed to Estes. The writer states he is about to graduate and mentions his qualifications "that would be beneficial in your new venture in Saudi Arabia."

The letter was dated Nov. 14, 1975.

In an order dated April 26, 1971, the parole board stated Estes could not engage "in any self-employed or promotional type activities without specific prior approval of the parole board."

The AP obtained a copy of all Estes parole orders from April 26, 1971 through March 24, 1977. The orders do not state that the original edict has been changed.

On Jan. 29, 1974, the board denied Estes' request that he be allowed to travel outside Texas on behalf of Permian Petroleum Co., his employer. However, the same order allowed him to "continue in the operation" of the firm.

Estes entered Leavenworth Penitentiary in March 1965. He was convicted of fraud in a multi-million dollar government fertilizer tank scheme. The court fight dragged on for three years before Billie Sol heard the prison doors clank shut behind him.

The sentence read 15 years, but Estes served only six before he was paroled under strict supervision.

Last September, the parole board voted to continue the supervision stating, "There is a likelihood that you will engage in conduct violating a criminal law. The magnitude and sophistication of the offense (of which he was convicted) indicates a potential for further criminal activity..."

Bullet wound proves fatal

HOUSTON (AP) — Christopher Downey of Sealy, charged with killing his estranged wife, died Thursday in a Houston hospital of a bullet wound to the head which police said was self-inflicted.

Downey was charged with murder Tuesday in the shooting death at Brookshire of Carolyn Downey earlier in the day.

Tom Wright, manager of a motel where Mrs. Downey worked as a desk clerk, said a man walked into the motel and shot her several times in the face with a pistol.

Authorities searched for more than two hours for Downey following the shooting. They said they found him beside his car in a wooded area just west of Brookshire with a bullet wound in the head. Police said he shot himself.

laboratories operated by federal, state and local law enforcement agencies.

The test is being conducted by the Forensic Science Foundation with $330,904 from LEAA. The foundation guaranteed anonymity to the participating laboratories and LEAA officials said even they don't know the names of the labs.

Crime labs often do poor work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime labs often do poor work and sometimes are wrong about the evidence used against defendants in criminal trials, a new government study says.

The report from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, released today, said many crime laboratories operated by state, local or federal governments make mistakes and overlook important features in comparing bloodstains, firearms, glass, paint, soil and other items used as evidence.

A lab technician's court testimony often is crucial in linking a defendant with a crime. For example, bloodstains on a defendant's clothing are compared with a victim's blood type to determine whether the defendant could have committed a murder.

If the crime lab is unable to match the blood, a guilty defendant may go free. If the lab technician mistakenly concludes that the blood matches, an innocent defendant could be convicted.

But the LEAA report offered no conclusions on the impact of poor lab work on criminal trials.

The report was based on findings in a three-year project to test the capabilities of 240

No trace of nitro found

HOLLIDAY, Tex. (AP) — An explosives demolition squad from Oklahoma was expected to complete its search today for a possible stockpile of nitroglycerine in a caved-in cellar.

The military team from Ft. Sill, Okla., dug a hole about seven-feet deep and 10 feet across Thursday, but no trace of nitroglycerine was found.

Five soldiers, including one woman, who are members of the 61st

Explosives Ordnance Detachment (EOD) searched the collapsed cellar where 30 years ago the nitro supposedly was stored.

Late Thursday the yawning hole had yielded only some putrid jars of peach preserves, bits of timber and tin, cans, empty bottles, "ceramic" bowls, plates, hinges, several bricks and what appeared to be the remains of a bucket.

The digging started Wednesday after Georgia T. Lynch of Wichita Falls notified authorities that her late sister, Mrs. W.C. Curlee, had told her that her husband mixed and stored nitroglycerine for use in oil fields before he died in 1947.

The nitro reportedly was stored subsequently in the cellar here in an old residential area.

About 150 residents were evacuated from a potential three-block danger area Wednesday and returned to their homes shortly before dark that night. They were evacuated again Thursday.

Farm More food must be produced

LUBBOCK — The world must learn to produce as much more food in the next 25 years as it has since the dawn of time to meet population demands, the Texas Tech University dean of agricultural sciences said Thursday.

Dr. Anson R. Bertrand made the statement before the Southwest Region of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, meeting in Lubbock.

Bertrand's solution is to find ways to increase yields through immediate research emphasis, technology adaptation and extension service for farmers worldwide.

Malnutrition already is widespread, Bertrand said. It is estimated that 460 million, or one of every six people, are seriously malnourished, and the immediate cause is poverty.

Distribution systems and cost of imports are factors in malnutrition. Although food production has increased, demand outstrips these increases.

An easy solution might appear to be "just plow up some more land, put some more into cultivation," the dean said. However, the good land already is in production and new agricultural land development is costly. Much of it would have to be cleared, irrigated, drained, made fertile. And much of it is inaccessible.

Energy, too, presents problems.

"Changes in the availability and energy pricing structure can drastically influence production potential, even in a labor-intensive country," he said.

The only solution to producing more food, Bertrand said, is in yield-increasing technology.

"But it's going to be a slow, costly input, and it's going to be a long time coming. It is not going to meet some needs for the next 15 or 20 years."

The challenge, he said, faces every country that has a population that needs to be fed an adequate, nutritious diet.

"It challenges countries to think of their priorities and their planning and funding for the future. It's a challenge to the public to support programs and policies that will have to be developed and financed to meet food needs 25 years from now."

Three principal ingredients for yield-increasing technology, he said, are strong, sound, aggressive agricultural research; a strong technology transfer system

Jury sequestered in capital murder trial at Fort Stockton

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP) — A sequestered jury will begin hearing testimony Monday in the capital murder trial of Alan Ladd Woody, who is charged with the 1975 slayings of two teenaged girls.

Woody is standing trial here on a charge of venue sequester the jury when testimony starts Monday. The 12th juror for the trial also is charged with the slaying of Carol Ann London, 18.

Both girls were killed in 1975 but were not found until last August, when their bodies were discovered in a pasture near Kerrville.

State District Court Judge Robert Martin said he would sequester the jury when testimony starts Monday. The 12th juror for the trial was selected Thursday.

Here's good way to trap skunks

In rural areas where skunks find plenty of food and shelter away from man, they do little harm and in fact, are very beneficial to farmers and ranchers because of the harmful animals that they consume. The diet of skunks consists of 50 per cent insects and grubs, 25 per cent mice and other small rodents, 10 per cent vegetable matter, and 15 per cent a mixture of spiders, millipedes, centipedes, reptiles, amphibians, birds and eggs.

However, when these animals den in areas close to man, their foul-smelling musk (a clear, golden yellow sulfide fluid known as n-butyl mercaptan) is a disturbing nuisance. Another problem stemming from populations of skunks is that they, along with foxes, are a major rabies reservoir and can infect domestic animals as well as people. Skunks that are out in the daytime or that are aggressive should be treated with caution for they could be rabid.

In many Texas cities and towns, skunks sometimes live under houses or out-buildings. The safest means of removing the animal is to trap it, and the common garbage can may be used as the trap. The garbage can is placed in an area frequented by the skunks. Then, the lid is removed, and bait such as pork tallow, old hamburger, or sardines is placed inside with a wide board propped on the can to form a ramp which will allow the skunk to walk up to the rim of the can. After he jumps down to eat the bait, he will not be able to get back out of the can so the lid can be replaced and the animal transported to a safe place or destroyed. Normally, skunks will not release their scent in a dark enclosed space so there is less chance of scent contamination when the garbage can trap is used.

New concept in horn fly control

MoorMan's IGR Minerals* for grazing beef cattle contains an insect growth regulator that zeroes in on costly horn flies, but doesn't harm cattle or beneficial insects.

- It stops their growth in the harmless pupal stage.
- They never develop into mature flies that can harass your cattle, suck their blood, cut your cows' milk flow, reduce your calves' or yearlings' growth and gains.
- Your cattle also get the benefits of a complex combination of performance promoting minerals. Plus vitamin D and 200,000 units per pound of vitamin A.

Find out more about IGR Minerals and other MoorMan Fly-Control Products from your MoorMan Man when he brings his feed-counseling service to you.

Manges dodges court hearing

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Plaintiffs seeking a total of $454,000 they say is owed them by South Texas banker-clinician Clinton Manges have found no relief in a Laredo bankruptcy court.

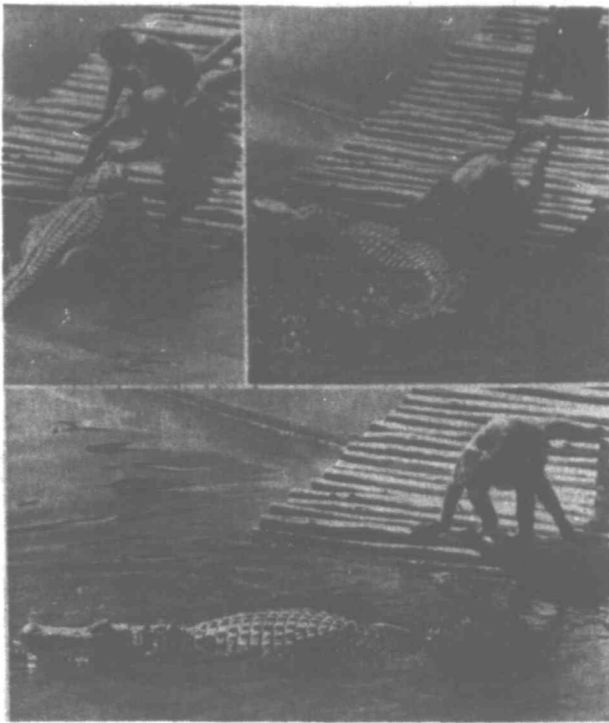

Manges failed to appear in court as ordered Thursday and the plaintiffs said they next would take their case to a bankruptcy judge in Houston.

Manges had been ordered by Judge E. H. Pettou to appear in court to "be examined concerning his acts, conduct and property."

The plaintiffs, John Cutright and Arthur Mitchell of Austin and Virgil Guerra of Roma had filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition arguing that Manges owed them money.

Mitchell seeks $30,000 in attorney fees, Cutright is asking for $5,000 for an unsecured loan and Guerra claims $419,000 for another loan.

The plaintiffs had argued that while Manges was insolvent, he transferred interests in oil and gas leases in Zapata and Webb counties to a number of persons.

Photographer sued By Tulsa TV station

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A free-lance photographer who filmed a fight between Texas Rangers Manager Frank Lucchesi and player Lenny Randle in Florida last month has been sued by Television Station KTEW here.

The station contends that photographer Dan Knowles of Tulsa has refused to deliver the film under his contract to film spring training of the Rangers and the Tulsa Drillers, a Texas League team under the Rangers organization.

The lawsuit states that Knowles received four rolls of film and a camera to film the training sessions after he entered into an oral contract with the station.

Knowles refused to return one roll "showing an altercation which took place between ... Frank Lucchesi and Lenny Randle," the suit contends. District Court Judge Richard Armstrong has set a hearing for Wednesday on the suit.

He prohibited Knowles from "secreting, concealing, damaging, destroying ... transferring or disposing" of the film before the hearing.

Knowles could not be reached for comment.

Lucchesi, 51, underwent plastic surgery to repair a right cheek bone which was broken in three places after Randle struck him three times. The incident occurred March 28 at the Rangers' camp near Orlando, Fla.

Randle, 28, was fined $10,000 this week and suspended 30 days, which will cost him another $13,000 in salary.

Rodeo records listed

DENVER, Colo. — Professional rodeo continues to grow each year in terms of prize money, contestants and spectators, and officials of the Denver-based Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association said 1977 should be another banner year for the sport.

Each year almost 600 PRCA rodeos are held throughout the United States and Canada. In 1976 total prize money hit nearly $6.7 million, with an estimated 14 million spectators in attendance.

Membership in the PRCA totals about 4,000 annually, with another 4,000 "permit-holders," or fledgling cowboys, working toward full membership.

Here is a list of rodeo records:

Most money won — Dean Oliver, Boise Idaho, $511,975 (career total).

Most money won in one year — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $96,913 in 1976 ($114,110 counting bonus awards).

Most money won in one event — Tom Ferguson, 1976, $52,889 in steer wrestling (including National Finals Rodeo).

Most world all around championships — Larry Mahan, Dallas, Tex., six.

Most money won at one rodeo — Paul Tierney, Rapid City, S.D., $9,562 at Fort Worth, Texas, 1977.

Highest scored ride — John Quintana, Redmond, Ore., 98 points in bull riding at Las Vegas, Nev., 1974. (No world records kept in timed events because of varying "score" lengths at arenas).

Division leaders:

All around champion — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $20,742.

Saddle bronc riding — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tex., $11,279.

Bareback bronc riding — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $13,801.

Bull riding — Bulch Kirby, Albu. Tex., $11,501.

Call roping — Roy Cooper, Durant, Okla., $79,152.

Steer wrestling — Larry Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $11,230.

Team roping — Jerold Camarillo, Oakdale, Calif., $4,715 and H.P. Evetts, Hanford, Calif., $4,715.

G.R.A. barrel racing — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Tex., $4,758.

Discrimination suit filed against Sears

MIAMI (AP) — A man who claims he was denied promotion and training by Sears Roebuck & Co. because he is not black or female has filed a discrimination suit against the giant retail chain.

"Every time I asked for a promotion, I was told that Sears had an 'affirmative action program' and that blacks and women would be promoted and transferred ahead of men," said Raymond Turner, 30.

The suit alleging racial and sexual discrimination was filed Thursday in federal court here.

Turner said he worked for Sears for nine years but was fired after he told the company he planned to file the discrimination suit.

Sears officials refused to comment on the alleged firing or the suit.

Frank Malone, assistant personnel manager for Sears in the Southeast, said only that the chain strives for racial and sexual balance.

"My nine years, my good record and my company training meant nothing because I was white," said Turner.

He said he repeatedly was denied promotions and transfers from the Coral Gables store. He also said he was turned down for the company's automotive training program after allegedly being told it was for women only.

He said his problems started when company officials replaced him with a black woman in washer and dryer sales.

He said a promotion he sought as head of the refrigerator sales force was given to a black person with less experience. Turner also said he was refused a transfer to Clarksville, Nashville, Jackson and Memphis, all in Tennessee, as well as Winter Haven, Fla.

His suit alleges that stores in all five cities told him they would hire only blacks and women, not white males.

ENTERS TRAINING — David E. Upton, son of Mrs. Wilma J. Upton of 2615 Cindy Lane, Big Spring, is in training at the Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics at the Allegheny Airport, West Mifflin, Pa. A graduate of Big Spring High School, this is the first step in David's career in the aviation industry. He is schedule to graduate with an Associate Degree in Specialized Technology and a Federal Aviation Administration license as an Aeronautical Maintenance Technician in October, 1978.

Dear Abby

Sore At Sister's Permanent Steady

DEAR ABBY: My sister, who is a very attractive 47-year-old single woman, has been going with the same 50-year-old man for 15 years! He openly dates others, and my sister puts up with it.

He is a divorced man who plays the field, and he's convinced my sister that marriage at his age is a bumper and that all men need variety.

Our whole family has tried to make her see how foolish she is to waste her time on him, but she insists she "loves" him and is satisfied with things as they are. She could easily get someone else but she won't look at another man.

What is wrong with this dummy? And how can I convince her to break off with this heel?

PROBLEM SISTER

DEAR SISTER: The man is apparently playing it straight with your sister so why is he a "heel"? And if your sister is satisfied to go along with things as they are, why is she a "dummy"?

As I see it, even though you and your family mean well, you'd like your sister to live according to your values—not hers. It's her life, and she has a right to live it as she sees fit. Get off her back.

DEAR ABBY: My father was a very successful businessman, and my mother came into a large inheritance soon after her marriage. They were regarded as "high society," yet I was constantly beaten, kicked and brutally mistreated all through my childhood. To this day I have a semi-crippled hand as a result of the beatings I received as a child.

Today I am 30, happily married with two children of my own. Long ago I broke off all relations with my parents, as I could never forgive them for the way they treated me as a child.

My wife is urging me to make friends with my parents who are now in their 60s, have begged to see their grandchildren and repeatedly asked us to visit them.

I want nothing to do with them. Most recently they have dangled a large inheritance in front of us. My wife thinks I'm crazy to pass up this fortune. She wants me to forgive and forget. I can't seem to convince her that I can't forget what they put me through and want none of their handouts now. Am I wrong?

LONG SUFFERING

DEAR LONG: Your feelings of resentment are understandable. However, if you want no part of a prospective "large inheritance" for yourself, you might consider it your wife and children. And for them, if not for your parents, letting bygones be bygones would seem to be a timely compromise.

DEAR ABBY: I have seen plenty of those so-called sportsmen at the store buying bullets and beer. (A great combination—almost as good as drinking.)

Every deer season we wait for the news: how many hunters will kill other hunters by mistake; how many will have heart attacks from overexertion and have to be flown out of the mountains at the taxpayers' expense.

Anybody who wants to buy a hunting license can get one, you know, regardless of how lousy a shot he is. Farmers have had their livestock accidentally killed by some of these "marksman" who shoot everything that moves. (One farmer even considered putting signs on his animals reading, "THIS IS A COW!")

I've never been hunting, and I don't care to go. The only kind of shooting I do is with a camera. That way I'll have something beautiful to remember—not the bloody, lifeless remains of a once beautiful animal.

HATES HUNTING

DEAR HATES: Well said.

Speaker describes music as therapy

The Howard College music building was the site of a Monday evening meeting of the Piano Teacher's Forum. Harlen Thornton, president, presided.

Mrs. Terry Newman, program chairman, introduced Ms. Janet Frizzell, registered musical therapist from Big Spring State Hospital, and her assistant, Ms. Karen Abbott. They led the group in musical participation as Ms. Frizzell lectured on musical therapy.

"Musical therapy is the scientific use of the art of music to change behavior," said Ms. Frizzell. She explained it's use in schools, hospitals, nursing homes and day care centers.

Forum members made plans for a Saturday workshop in October to be conducted by Mrs. Ella Catugno of Lubbock. She will lecture and demonstrate the development of technique on all levels.

Barbara Pierce, a student of Bill Evans, West Texas State University at Canyon, will be the guest performer at the forum meeting slated at 8 p.m. May 16 in the home of Mrs. Marguerite Hyden, 1725 Yale.

Ms. Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Pierce, 1405 E. 18th, studied with Mrs. Emilee Beckham and at Howard College under Mrs. Mary Skalicky. She will give her senior piano recital at WTSU next fall. Her major is musical therapy, and she recently was elected as alternate state delegate to attend the Musical Therapists National Convention in California next fall.

The next forum recital will be at 2:30 p.m. April 24 in the Howard College auditorium.

Club to hold gift bazaar Saturday

WWI Vets, auxiliaries convening Saturday

The Newcomers Handicraft Club will hold a spring bazaar Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Edward Gormley, 2604 Cindy. Gifts and decorator items include candles, ceramics, macrame, knitted and crocheted articles, decoupage and miscellaneous creations.

Final plans for the bazaar were made Wednesday during a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Charlene Foly. At that time, instructions on shirt painting were given by Mrs. Linda Williams.

The next regular meeting of the club is slated April 20 in the home of Mrs. Theresa Lewis, 2806 Navajo, where members will be taught to make cloth flowers.

Anyone interested in joining the club is invited to contact Mrs. Raymond Heitz, 263-6622, or Mrs. Joseph Woodward, 263-4675, for more information.

Bride-elect is honored

Miss Diane Swindler, bride-elect of Fred Franklin Jr., was honored with a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. Jackie Zitterkopf, Sand Springs.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Ginny Archer, Mrs. Johnnie Bennett, Mrs. Aileen Bohannon, Mrs. Billie Frazier, Mrs. Sherry Fryrear, Mrs. Nellie Kerby, Mrs. Katie McAdams, Mrs. Jeffie Phinney, Mrs. Patsy Shaw, Mrs. Charlyse Smith, Mrs. Jo Ann Stafford, Mrs. Nita Stone and Mrs. Frances Swann.

Corsages were presented to the honoree and mothers of the couple, Mrs. Bill Swindler, Dallas, and Mrs. Fred Franklin Sr., Big Spring. Franklin's grandmother, Mrs. Lucille Jacobs, Big Spring, was among those attending.

The serving table was covered with a white net cloth. A centerpiece of white and yellow daisies accented the table, and crystal and silver appointments were used.

State hospital needs piano

The Music Therapy Department at Big Spring State Hospital is in need of a good, used upright piano that will hold its tune and provide dependable service for this important patient therapy.

Anyone having a piano that fits this description and is willing to donate it for patient use is asked to call the Volunteer Office, Big Spring State Hospital, 267-8216, Ext. 308.

Women invited to luncheon

FORSAN (SC) — The Pioneer Sewing Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C.L. Gooch.

Mrs. J.W. Overton read a letter from the Chamber of Commerce and from Big Spring State Hospital, thanking the club for cookies. Club members were invited to be guests at the Volunteer Services Council luncheon April 14.

The club voted to donate a gift to a worthy cause in memory of Mrs. J.H. Cradwell's brother.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ted Henry at 2 p.m. April 19.

Religions are examined

WESTBROOK (SC) — "Dialogue, A Way Of Witness," was the theme of a Baptist Women's program Tuesday evening in the fellowship hall of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Gerald Rollins directed the program.

Mrs. Floyd Rice spoke on "How Baptists and Catholics Talk to Each Other."

Mrs. Altis Clemmer discussed the Baptist and Jewish religions. Mrs. Bob Manning talked of the Baptists and Muslims, assisted by Mrs. Homer Rice. Mrs. Clemmer led prayer.

During the business meeting, it was reported that clothing has been mailed to the First Baptist Church in Rio Hondo for mission work. The local group will send more clothes in the next two weeks.

Mrs. Rollins and Mrs. Lee Shaw were honored with a birthday cake and gifts.

The next meeting is April 19.

Marion B. Irland, Commander, Big Spring Barracks 1474, will issue the official call to order at 10 a.m., Saturday as District 19, Veterans of World War I, U.S.A. Inc. holds its spring meeting in Big Spring.

Well, she sure has a lot of gall

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Afraid to criticize your mother-in-law, prod your former husband for alimony or tell a man you'd like to get to know him better? For $5, the "Chutzpah Phone Service" will do it for you.

"I got a call this week from a girl who wanted to seduce her boss but was embarrassed to say anything to him," said Rachel Borden, who founded the service.

"I called him, and he was very pleased with the idea. The message to be relayed back to her was: 'What took you so long?'" Mrs. Borden said.

"Chutzpah" is a Yiddish word for gall. Mrs. Borden has it.

"I've got a new customer where I'm supposed to call her husband twice a week for the next three months to remind him to make his alimony payments because he hasn't been paying," she said.

In other cases she has told people their barking dogs are bothering neighbors and that a man was spending too much time with his best friend, to the detriment of the friend's marriage.

Not all of Mrs. Borden's calls are nasty, she insisted in an interview Thursday. In fact, nice calls and romantic exchanges have made up the majority of her work since she began the service about CHUTZPAH — Rachel Borden, Philadelphia, runs the Chutzpah Phone Service. For $5, she'll ask your boss for a raise or tell your husband to get hopping with the alimony.

2½ months ago. Mrs. Borden, 29, the mother of two, has found her customers via advertising in a suburban newspaper and a local magazine. She said the project originally was suggested by her husband, Gene.

"I was always home and on the phone talking to people," she said, "and he said I might as well do something constructive with it."

She said the $5 fee covered not only the requested call but also the relay of any message to the customer.

"I won't make threats or say anything obscene," she added. "When I get an obscene reply, I usually 'un-obscene' it or simply tell my client that the reply was obscene or nasty," she said.

She said she enjoyed the work — which has grossed about $200 to date — and already has some satisfied customers.

"I had a call from an old woman whose family had moved away," Mrs. Borden said. "She didn't want them to feel that they had abandoned her. She just wanted to say she really missed them."

"I called the family and told them how she felt, and they've since gotten together. The old woman has called several times since to thank me for it."

Crop-dusting flying service owner killed

DELEON, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Place, 45, who had recently moved to Texas from Cincinnati and purchased a crop-dusting flying service, was killed Thursday when his aircraft crashed four miles south of here.

Department of Public Safety officer Roy Kubiak said the plane nosed down for no apparent reason, and then crashed.

Place was believed to be test flying one of the crop dusters he had purchased at the time of the crash.

He had planned to return to Ohio Friday to bring his family to Texas.

Place was a former resident of Gillette, Ark., who had a doctor's degree from Purdue University and taught agronomy at the University of Arkansas.

He is survived by his widow and two sons.

She carried pet pebble for 56 years in her ear

HOUSTON (AP) — Marie Pierce of Chicago doesn't have a pet rock but she has a pebble she carried with her everywhere she went for 56 years.

It was in her ear. The pea-sized pebble was removed from her ear by Dr. Robert K. Smith of Houston while Mrs. Pierce, 62, was visiting a son, John R. Williams, here last November and December.

In a letter to the Houston Post Thursday, Mrs. Pierce said she put the pebble in her right ear when she was six years old.

"I didn't tell my mother about it because I was afraid she would spank me," Mrs. Pierce wrote. "And I never knew whether it fell out or stayed in. The ear never gave me any trouble."

While Dr. Smith was treating an infection in the other ear, Mrs. Pierce asked him to check the right ear and see if the pebble was still there.

Instrument of Death

Can you imagine the electric chair or the gallows being thought of as a symbol of Life? Every day we see the Cross; but only on Good Friday do we remember it was once an instrument of execution.

This tremendous reversal in the meaning and implication of a device of torture and destruction bears simple witness to the profound effect the Resurrection of Christ has had on human culture.

Yet the thrust of the dramatic events that led to that first Easter is aimed not at culture but at YOU and ME. Christians believe Jesus died and rose again for US.

Celebrate Easter with all who share this joyous belief. The Lord made the Cross a symbol of His life — an inspiration for ours.

EASTER MESSAGE — Reina Hamby, Daniel Sunday and Bob Burer, members of the Bible Class at Big Spring High School, bring a message of Easter at the school prior to the Easter holidays.

Usher in Easter season

Good Friday services

All three Catholic Churches and St. Mary's Episcopal Church set special Good Friday services today and all churches in the city are planning special services Easter.

St. Mary's Episcopal, Immaculate Heart of Mary, Sacred Heart Catholic and St. Thomas Catholic all plan two Easter Sunday morning services.

Other churches have set special soloists and special music in their respective services. First United Methodist and First Presbyterian just completed a week of special services.

Sunday activities at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Ninth and Scurry Streets, will begin with a special sunrise service in the courtyard, time for 6 a.m.

A pancake breakfast, prepared by young people of the congregation, will be served at 6:45 a.m., after which there will be a free will offering.

A Sunday school movie will be shown to children of the church at 9:30 a.m. while regular Easter church services will get underway at 10:30 a.m.

"The Coming Invasion of Israel," a hard hitting film, deals with today's headlines from the Middle East. Using the Bible as its authority, in Daniel 11 and Ezekiel 36-39th chapters, it reviews and reveals God's plan for Israel as that nation faces grave crises in the months to come.

One of the phenomena which characterizes the modern world is the rapid rise of Russia to the place of one of the great nations of the world. Only 20 years ago Russia was a broken nation its manpower destroyed, its cities in ruins, and its industries disorganized. Today, unquestionably, Russia is one of the great military and political powers of all history.

What does the Bible say about this great power? How does this nation fit in God's Plan? These and other questions are dealt with in this unusual film which will be presented at the First Assembly of God at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Graham winds up crusade

ASHVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham has wound up a five-day crusade here in his home community, and he says it was a sentimental time for him. The initial invitation came from blacks, and the affair enlisted cooperation of the full religious spectrum.

"So far as I've been able to tell," Graham observed of the event which regularly overflowed the Civic Center Arena and also involved meetings in schools, hospitals, prisons and other places, "it's one of the few places we've ever been that we've had no opposition."

The Grahams live on Black Mountain a few miles east of Asheville.

McClendon named pastor at Hillcrest Baptist

Phillip McClendon, a native of Neosho, Mo., is the new pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church here.

Joining the minister in the parsonage at 406 Westover Road are his wife, the former Jackie Rozzell, and two children, Scott, 7, and Gwen, 2.

The Rev. Mr. McClendon comes here from Taos, N.M., where he served as pastor of the First Baptist Church for four years. Previous to that, he was Director of Religious Activities at Crowder College.

The Rev. Mr. McClendon graduated from Neosho High School in 1964 and from Cumberland College in Williamsburg, Ky., in 1969. He then enrolled in Midwestern Baptist Seminary at Kansas City.

Boys' ranch director offers church program

Delbert Davidson, a native of Howard County, now ranch director of the Rolling Hills Boys Ranch near Cleburne, will preach at the Sunday morning service at Crestview Baptist Church.

Davidson will also present a short program following a 7 p.m. Easter cantata at the church.

The cantata will feature about 20 members of the church choir and will be directed by David Scott. Narrator is Bruce Odom, the organist Ruby Fowler and the pianist Billy Scott.

Soloists will be Tommy Musgrove, Henry Chin, Karen Sullivan, Debbie Scott, David Scott, Josh Sullivan, Susan Musgrove and Kenny Scott.

The Rolling Hills Boys Ranch, which Davidson serves as director, offers a home to homeless boys. Ministers, interested individuals, school and juvenile officials refer boys to the ranch.

Each boy has individual responsibilities on the ranch, where cattle are raised and farming is undertaken. There are also opportunities to learn about auto mechanics, welding and a time devoted to sports activities like horseback riding, hunting, fishing and hobbies.

Spiritual training is stressed. The ranch, in existence since 1974 embraces 19 acres.

Foes of death penalty rally

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — On this weekend commemorating the resurrection of Jesus from death by state execution, opponents of the death penalty are offering an "Easter Witness Against Executions."

The gathering here of Protestant and Roman Catholic leaders and others includes seminars, a prayer vigil and a march.

MARRIAGE LIKE CHRIST AND THE CHURCH

For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh.

This mystery is great; but I am speaking with reference to Christ and the church.
—Eph. 5:31, 32 (NAS)

But to the married I give instructions, not I, but the Lord, that the wife should not leave her husband (but if she does leave, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband), and that the husband should not send his wife away.

Teacher pay delayed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The legislature's four-day Easter holiday has delayed House committee approval of a $263 million teacher pay bill until Tuesday — the same day representatives are due to consider a school finance bill.

DISCHARGE REVIEW — Rows of telephone operators take calls from Vietnam-era veterans who received general, undesirable or clemency discharges and want them upgraded to honorable status. The program, initiated by President Carter to fulfill campaign promises is being separated by the Joint Liaison Office at the Military Records Center in suburban Overland, Mo.

Rep. Tom Massey, chairman of the House Public Education Committee, said Thursday's scheduled meeting on the bill, which calls for a 12.5 percent raise to the most experienced teachers but virtually no increase for beginners, was postponed because of holiday schedule conflicts.

The House and Senate adjourned Thursday for Easter.

Massey had said he wanted approval by the full committee before the Easter weekend so representatives could take the bill home for study before considering the $694 million comprehensive school finance measure.

"I don't think it makes much difference at this point if we pass it out now," Massey said Thursday. "Subcommittee reports are available. Since everyone has scattered, if we kicked it out now, they would not have any more material than they do now."

$85,000 reward posted

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (AP) — The West German government has offered an $85,000 reward for the motorcycle assassins who gunned down the country's chief prosecutor as he rode to work.

One person was taken into custody Thursday about five hours after the killers sprayed Federal Prosecutor Siegfried Buback's limousine with bullets, killing him and his driver and wounding another official.

But officials said they did not know whether the prisoner was a "genuine suspect."

Buback, 57, led the prosecution of a number of West German terrorists, including leaders of the Baader-Meinhof anarchist gang charged with two 1972 bombings that killed four U.S. servicemen.

A man telephoned the West German news agency DPA and said the assassins were from the Ulrike Meinhof Action Committee, named for the woman anarchist who hanged herself in her jail cell last May. The caller warned that more violence would follow.

Buback had warned several times this year that his investigators expected a new round of terrorist attacks. Police said he frequently took different cars and routes to work but used a bodyguard only on special occasions.

Steers in Odessa

District 5-4A co-leader Big Spring will travel to Odessa to be the guests of the OHS Bronco diamond men Saturday for a 2 p.m. crucial league meeting.

The Steers are currently tied with Abilene and Abilene Cooper for the first half laurels. The three teams have 4-1 records. Odessa High is sitting in a three-way tie itself, with a 2-3 W-L record.

The Ponies sport a 10-8 season record and are coming off an impressive 11-7 victory over Midland High last Tuesday. MHS had the Steers down 6-0 in their meeting earlier this season before the locals rallied to defeat the Dogs 10-8.

Steer coach Tom Collins will go to the mound with either Charlie Vernon (0-1) or Mike Harris in this next-to-the-last game of the first half. Odessa will either go with Sullenger (1-1) or Cantrell (1-1).

Steer Stalwart Frankie Rubio is still leading the district in batting and pitching. In 20 times at bat, the "Rube" is sailing along with a .600 average. He has 11 RBI's, five more than the nearest competitor.

Rubio has also struck out more batters (29) than any other pitcher, has pitched more innings (23.2) and has the best record (4-0).

A large following is expected to accompany the Steers to Odessa, but for those who can't make the game in person, local radio station KBST will broadcast the play by play.

The locals will conclude first half play next Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in Steer Park against the San Angelo Bobcats.

'Bump, you did it for me'

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Frank Lucchesi may have merely been hoping against hope, but his premonition about Bump Wills came true.

Prior to Thursday's American League opener against the Baltimore Orioles, the manager of the Texas Rangers said he had a feeling that Wills "would prove me right today."

Several hours later, the rookie's 10th inning single chased Juan Beniquez home with the winning run to give Texas a 2-1 victory and justify Lucchesi's faith in his ability.

Last week, after he named Wills as a starter, Lucchesi was attacked by deposed second baseman Lenny Randle. The 49-year-old manager suffered three broken bones in his right cheek and had to undergo plastic surgery.

The Texas club subsequently fined Randle $10,000 and suspended him for 30 days. Randle had planned an appeal to an arbitration panel today, but it was announced Thursday he would not contest the decision.

Wills was met on the field by his teammates after Bert Blyleven won the pitching duel with Jim Palmer, and an emotional Lucchesi led the greeting party as 31,307 fans filed out of Memorial Stadium.

"All I could do was put my arms around Bump," Lucchesi said. "I couldn't get anything out."

But in his office, where he frequently jots down significant thoughts immediately after a game, Lucchesi had scribbled on a piece of paper: "Bump, you did it for me."

Wills, the 24-year-old son of former star Maury Wills, said he was gratified with his major league debut because it gave him the feeling "that maybe things worked out for the best."

"I told myself that Frank had been through a lot," Wills said, "and I wanted to show him that I could play."

As for his own part in the confrontation, Wills said he was only involved indirectly because "it could have been someone else." He said the Texas players had agreed that what happened "is all behind us now."

The single to center by Wills came on a fast ball delivery from Palmer, the ace of the Baltimore pitching staff who has won the American League's Cy Young pitching award in three of the past four seasons.

Beniquez had doubled with one out on a ball which sailed a bit in the wind, but most observers thought it should have been caught by rookie Larry Harlow, a ninth-inning replacement in center field.

The erudite Palmer agreed with the observation, adding: "It was rather disheartening when I saw it feather its way into the turf."

YOUNG IDEAS

By DICK YOUNG

WEPNER WAITING FOR ROCKY, ROUND TWO

The other night, when they were giving out the Oscars, Chuck Wepner sat watching it on TV, and when they gave the Best Actor award to Peter Finch, Chuck Wepner said to his friend, "This is a sentimental thing. If Peter Finch don't die, I win it easy."

He meant Rocky Balboa, Sylvester Stallone would have won it easy Chuck Wepner thinks of himself as Rocky by now. Chuck Wepner was robbed again. He's used to it by now. Only this is the first time he was deprived by a ghost.

"I sent him a telegram the day before," says Chuck Wepner. It read:

GOOD LUCK, ROCKY. I'M QUITE SURE YOU'LL SCORE A CLEAN CUT KNOCKOUT OVER ALL YOUR OPPOSITION. YOUR BUDDY, CHUCK WEPNER.

"WOULD HAVE READ IT ON THE AIR"

"I'm sure he'd have read it on the air if he won."

Oddly, they have not yet met, Chuck Wepner and Sylvester Stallone, who created in script, then acted out The Italian Stallion in the surprise hit motion picture of the year.

"But he says that I was the inspiration for the story," says Chuck Wepner.

Indeed, The Italian Stallion is really the Bayonne Bleeder — a journeyman heavyweight pug, going nowhere, who suddenly is given a shot at the title by the champ, Apollo Creed, who really is Muhammad Ali, of course. "I want to give a white man a chance," Apollo Creed says, just as Ali had explained his choice of Wepner two years ago in Cleveland.

Have you seen "Rocky?" Remember that scene where he's lying in bed with his eyes open the night before the fight, and he says he can't win, he can't beat the champ, not a bum like himself, he realizes that. All he wants to do is go the distance.

"It was so realistic. I saw myself all over again. Honest. When I fought him, I said to myself, hey man, you can't beat Ali. He's the champ. He's the greatest fighter who ever lived. But you can prove to the world you really belong in there, that you deserve this fight. That's what made the picture so great. He was really the way a fighter thinks."

The script did take some liberties. Some things are hoked up, says Chuck Wepner.

"That thing where they took a razor and slit his eye in the corner to take down the swelling. They'd never do that during a fight. It would squirt so much blood, they'd have to stop it."

And there were the scenes in the meat storehouse, where Rocky is punching out the sides of beef to get in shape. "Nobody would train like that," said Chuck Wepner. "If you work up a sweat in a refrigerator, and stop, you'd catch pneumonia."

"But the fight scenes were great," said Chuck Wepner. "I saw it three times so far. First time, I went with my friend, Peter Lemongello, the singer. It was at the New York premiere. "During the movie, the people in the theatre were yelling, Chuck . . . Chuck . . . Chuck while Rocky was punching him, just like they did in the Garden on closed circuit, when I knocked down Ali."

After the premiere, after Rocky Balboa had gone 15, a bloody mess, the people in the theatre came up to Chuck Wepner for his autograph, and most of them said, "It was you, Chuck," and Chuck Wepner felt good, and said, yeah.

It wasn't exactly he. In Cleveland, March 24, 1975, Chuck Wepner didn't go 15. He missed by 19 seconds. Chuck Wepner never will forgive the referee for that. "He shouldn't have stopped it. I wasn't hurt. I went down from exhaustion. It was the first time I'm down in 139 fights."

WHO ASKED FOR A REMATCH?

At the climax of the movie, with the fighters locked in a survival clinch, Apollo Creed grunts into Rocky's ear, "There ain't gonna be no rematch," and Rocky gasps back, "I don't want it."

"He was great, too, the guy who played Ali. He was a defensive back on the Oakland Raiders," said Chuck Wepner, meaning Carl Weathers. "He should have got the supporting actor award. He portrayed Ali to a T."

They had to pick a relatively small man to portray Ali because Sylvester Stallone is not at all a heavyweight. "He's only 5-foot-9 and about 165," said Chuck Wepner. "He wears those built-up shoes in the movie, and everything they shoot is from down low to give the illusion. He lifts weights and is muscular, so he looks bigger."

Chuck Wepner says Sylvester Stallone is coming to New York in May, and he's supposed to do "some TV stuff" with him. Now there's talk of a sequel to the Oscar-winning film. Chuck Wepner thinks they should call it: Rocky, Round 2.

Mudpies with Jack and Art

Even without the continuing mudpie fight between Abilene's Art Lawler and San Angelo's Jack Cowan, next week's District 5-4A track meet in Abilene is destined to be perhaps the most-watched of recent meets.

Spring included, could finish third in the head-knocking Permian-Midland-Abilene-Odessa and Big Spring finished the SA Relays with 19, 18, 11, 10 and one points, respectively. In track, a swing of less than 20 points can take place in a matter of seconds, for the craziest of reasons.

San Angelo Central and Abilene Cooper will probably fight it out for the top spot (the Lawler-Cowan tilt will take place in an alley across from the stadium).

Midland Lee was the only 5-4A team not involved in the San Angelo Relays, but they aren't expected to give anyone much of a run for even small change.

However, don't let the Central 73, Cooper 56 finish in the SA Relays fool you. They are closer than that. Power tracksters from Killean and El Paso Burges were factors thrown in there that will be absent when all the league teams gather a week from today.

Any one of the six remaining teams, Big perfect ball club. But we did play well.

The Chicago White Sox were upset at having had to play at all. When told there were more than 44,000 people in the stands despite the harsh weather conditions, White Sox Manager Bob Lemon quipped, "I'm glad we weren't the only idiots out there today."

Chicago outfielder Richie Zisk had four hits, including a homer and a double, but that didn't take his mind off the weather.

"I didn't expect, but I'll accept it," Blue Jays Manager Roy Hartsfield said of his team's offensive output. "There's something about opening day that brings out the best in everyone."

The other American League expansion team, the Seattle Mariners, did not fare as well as Toronto. They were shut out by the California Angels for the second straight night, Nolan Ryan doing it this time with a three-hitter in pitching California to a 2-0 victory.

AND THERE'S ANDY — Big money, college breeding and value-toting agents have made tournament golfers about as colorful as a bank teller, but thank goodness there's Andy Bean. Andy once got so mad when he missed a putt that he bit the cover off the ball.

Royal calls Bellard's bluff

By the Associated Press
Texas' Darrell Royal has called upon Emory Bellard of Texas A&M to report any University of Texas recruiting violations to the NCAA and Bellard has issued a statement saying he has no intentions of making accusations against Royal or UT.

responded to an article in the spring edition of Texas Football in which Bellard said, "... Texas has broken as many rules as any university in this United States." He also said Royal was quoted in Americans Statesman Wednesday:

"Coach Bellard has stated that he knows of rules violations at the University of Texas. If this is true, he is honor bound as a member of the NCAA to report these violations to the NCAA or the Southwest Conference. As far as I am personally concerned he can tell the press.

"I did not make nor do I have any intentions of making any accusations against Darrell Royal or the University of Texas. I have great respect for both.

programs within the intent of the rules. There are infractions from time to time, most of which are of a technical nature, and are not intended to gain advantage in any way.

Green leads Masters, Kratzert closing in

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "I was the last guy to pull the trigger."
Bill Kratzert was the last man in the field to tee off, but his first shot sent him on his way to the three-under-par 69 that thrust him among the frontrunners in the 41st Masters golf championship.

"I welcome any investigation by any authorized body. I have nothing to fear."
Bellard was quoted in a news release today as saying:

"The 'whole point' of my opinions is that I think the people who are in charge of the athletic programs over the country are people of high integrity and are endeavoring to carry out competitive athletic Heard said he agreed to allow Bellard to go off the record only one time during the two-hour taped interview, when Bellard said he inherited "a miserable program... The people were great, but the attitude was negative."

Green, the easy-going Floridian who has won 11 tour events but never a major tournament, used a new driver to birdie all four par-five holes en route to a 67 in the opening round Thursday.

Kratzert, a 24-year-old tour rookie, wasted no time making his move. He birdied the first hole, added birdies on Nos. 13 and 15, then saved par several times with testing putts to finish ahead of the other young lions.

Cabell said. "Last year we just kind of said we'll play our best. This year we'll at least be thinking we can play with them."

now, but if some of our new players come through for us then we can be compared with Cincinnati. But our pitching is still a question mark."

One of those newcomers is second baseman Julio Gonzalez, who beat out Rob Andrews for the starting job and will be starting his first major league game.

Sutton's groove

It took Don Sutton one pitch to find his groove. And after he grooved that one pitch, the Los Angeles right-hander settled down to hurl the Dodgers past the San Francisco Giants with a four-hitter.

Sutton's first pitch, a 1977 landed over the right field fence for a leadoff homer by Gary Thomasson of the Giants. With that out of the way, the Dodger ace permitted just three more hits and finished with a 5-1 opening-day victory Thursday.

Violent crime in Texas declines

AUSTIN — Violent crime in Texas dropped six per cent in 1976 while crimes against property rose by four per cent, according to preliminary figures released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS).

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, said the preliminary Texas crime report was compiled from uniform crime reporting data submitted monthly by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police. The DPS coordinates collection of crime data in Texas in cooperation with the FBI's nationwide uniform crime reporting program.

Reports of actual offenses were collected from law enforcement agencies representing 93 per cent of the state's total population. The statewide figures show these trends:

- Murder and homicide, down six per cent;
- Rape, up seven per cent;
- Robbery, down 14 per cent;
- Aggravated assault, down two per cent;
- Burglary, down five per cent;
- Theft, up 10 per cent;
- Vehicle theft, down eight per cent.

Speir said the statistics revealed that there was at least one major crime every 45 seconds in Texas during 1976. A total of 665,051 major criminal offenses were reported, of which 152,660 or 23 per cent were cleared by arrests.

Law enforcement agencies, however, cleared 86 per cent of the 1,468 known murders. Clearance rates for other crimes were aggravated assault, 70 per cent; rape, 59 per cent; robbery, 41 per cent; motor vehicle theft, 22 per cent; larceny-theft, 21 per cent; and burglary, 20 per cent.

Of the 665,051 major crimes, almost 91 per cent occurred in urban areas. Cities over 100,000 population accounted for 408,862 of the known offenses.

Police agencies reported that property valued at $241.8 million was stolen during the year in Texas, with approximately $78.3 million recovered.

A separate segment of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program deals with drug arrests, and Speir said data submitted by local law enforcement agencies indicates that 52,789 drug abuse arrests were made in the state during the year. He said the statistics indicated that 45,555 of those arrested for drug offenses were males, while 7,234 were females.

The largest single segment of persons arrested on drug charges were males and females between 25 and 29 years of age. Some 6,959 were juveniles age 16 and younger, including 22 persons age 10 or under.

Speir said the Texas crime report indicates that 12 law enforcement officers were killed in line of duty during 1976 as the result of felonious criminal action. During this same period, there were 2,757 officers assaulted in the line of duty.

Agencies having at least two police officers murdered included the Houston Police Department, the Dallas Police Department, and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Crystal clear case

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — Because employees refused to accept the loss of their jobs when a glass company closed its plant here in 1963, fine handblown, lead crystal stemware is still being made here. In fact, this is the only place in the country where such stemware is made, according to Ken Morrow, plant manager.

four employees pooled their resources and brought the plant, including glassware inventories, reopened it and kept it going.

The plant, now owned by a New Jersey corporation, manufactures more than 75 lead crystal stemware patterns in a variety of cuttings and etchings, and with gold or platinum decorations.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There is much confusion in your life at this time so organize your time sensibly and do not yield to daydreaming or illusive ideas. Avoid confrontations.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get into credit and business affairs of importance and forget going off on some tangent today that could get you in trouble. Gain the advice of a bigwig for some problem that is difficult for you to solve.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to gain the confidence of newcomers now and put unimportant activities aside. Take little trips where you can be inspired anew.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep promises made and gain respect and confidence. Show you are conscientious.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to cooperate more with associates and you get ahead faster and more pleasantly. Handle some civic matter well and gain prestige.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make sure you know what allies expect of you and try to please them so there is more harmony and mutual success. Do what you can to improve health. Be clever with money.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into amusements you most enjoy and be happy with congenials. Create more harmony at home with kin. Put finest talents to work.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan what should be done so that home situation can be easier and more pleasant, comfortable. Find some new interest that will bring in a handsome profit. Think constructively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Good planning at this time will see you accomplishing a good deal in days to come, with good chances to advance. Gain support of close ties and good friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find out what your true financial status is and then make arrangements and changes that are necessary. Listen to what a money expert has to suggest, also. Be careful of way-out ideas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to improve your life in some way by being more optimistic and practical. Make any changes that are needed. Plan some amusement in the evening that will really please you. Be careful in the expenditure of money.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Look for ways that will make life better and more satisfying. Be with a loved one as much as possible and be happy. Attend social functions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact a good friend with more experience to your own and get good advice you need. Attend social functions later where you can make new friends, make a good impression on others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will do well in public work of all kinds since there is much ability at organization and much prosperity is possible during the lifetime. Teach early not to be so concerned with little details that are unimportant. Otherwise your progeny could become a bore and annoying to others.

authorize a multi-million-dollar, nationwide census of horses next year.

"Accurate data about horses are of national importance," says Rep. John Breckinridge, D-Ky., who is sponsoring a bill to appropriate $3 million in federal funds to pay for the survey.

Actually, the Agriculture Department estimates that the study could cost as much as $10 million, according to John Chwat, legislative aide to Breckinridge. "The figure is negotiable," he said in an interview Thursday.

Mike Nolan, a spokesman for the American Horse Council, which is seeking the census, says it is needed to help the horse industry, recreational planners and health officials.

Asked for specific examples of how badly the nation needs a horse census, Nolan said: "We get calls weekly from business concerns looking for marketing information which just doesn't exist."

He said in one recent case, "A guy wanted to bring out a new type of saddle, and he wanted to know how many people use an English saddle." The information wasn't available.

He said also federal officials had been forced to overproduce vaccine during an outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis in a few Texas counties in 1971 because nobody knew how many horses needed it.

And he said, "In recreational planning, many towns ask, 'Should we put in a horse trail or a bicycle trail?' Well, they don't know how many people own horses, so they ignore it."

In a statement in the Congressional Record, Breckinridge said present government counts of horses are inadequate because they cover only those animals on farms, leaving out a larger number used in racing and recreational riding.

Nolan said it would be too difficult and expensive for the industry to gather the information it needs on its own.

Temple campaigning for speakership post

By SCOTT PARKS
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Rep. Arthur "Buddy" Temple III, an East Texas millionaire from Diboll, is campaigning hard day and night to take the House speakership away from Billy Clayton in 1979.

You won't see Temple's name on any ballot, and the only voters are his 149 colleagues in the Texas House of Representatives. But the man with the Speaker's gavel in his hand has a lot to say about the outcome of legislation that affects the whole state.

Temple is the 35-year-old son of Arthur Temple Jr., the man who sold Temple Industries, an industry that turns East Texas trees into paper products, to Time magazine.

Buddy Temple and his father have political and economic clout that stretches from Austin to New York City offices of Time. His father is on the Time board. The younger Temple sits on the boards of at least 14 companies including banks and concrete manufacturing plants.

Despite his wealth and business enterprises that usually wed a man to conservative lines, Temple picked up a liberal tag when he came to the legislature in 1973.

Ardent support of former Speaker Price Daniel Jr. and his 1973 reform package — financial disclosure for politicians and lobbyists, open meetings and open records — coupled with support for consumer and environmental legislation brought the liberal tag, Temple said recently.

"It's funny," Temple says, dragging on a cigarette. "In Texas a conservative is a person who votes to put half a billion in highways. Someone who would put the same amount in education is called a liberal. I think that says a lot about labels. Conservatism in Texas means subservience to the special interests without regard to the merits of an issue."

Temple sees Clayton as this kind of conservative. "I'm frankly disappointed in Clayton," Temple said. "He has just reacted to the pressures of the moment. The members have no feel for what is really happening in the legislative process."

Clayton has said he has more than the 76 votes he needs to retain the Speaker's post for a third consecutive term in 1979. Some of those "voters" may be defeated in 1978. Others may not run again.

"It's the next legislature that will elect the Speaker, not this one," Temple, who is married and has four children, said.

Temple paints Clayton as a man who only wants to remain Speaker because there is no higher governmental post to which to move.

"That is the height of arrogance in my opinion," Temple said. "Anytime the person feels like the system can't do without him, that's the time to get out. We need to firmly establish a two-term limit (for Speaker) if not by rules then by tradition."

Temple reportedly has been spending a lot of money for parties and receptions designed to woo more legislators over to his side. Temple denies personal wealth gives him an unfair advantage over his opponents.

"The doctors gave $10,000 to my opponent last year," Temple reflected. "Did that give him an unfair advantage? My money has allowed me to remain independent."

Alone with thoughts

with Marj Carpenter

Last week, when I was going down the road to attend the Texas Press Women's convention in Wichita Falls, I kind of wished there was some way I could type my thoughts as I was driving along.

But typing and driving don't mix too well. So I tried to remember some of them. I went by way of Snyder and came back by way of Abilene for variety.

As I headed out the Snyder highway, I noticed purple wildflowers along the sides of the road, and the thought that went through my head was that there were wildflowers like that along the road the very first day that I set out to get stories to write this column.

And then I realized that it was April last year when I started it. I'll have to look up the anniversary date soon and will remind you that if you are a reader, you may have plowed through over 300 of these fool things.

I enjoy writing it, so I'll keep on if you can stand it. As I went through Snyder, I looked at the oil monument — that's what I call that courthouse. It looks more like a monument than a courthouse. I'm not jealous because our courthouse is paid off next year. Somebody told me that. I think it was Walter Grice, who was judge at the time the money was borrowed to build the thing.

I turned at Snyder and headed on down the road. I couldn't help but notice that the nearer you got to Anson, the better the roads were. When you come into Anson, by golly, there's big four-lane roads in every direction. Don't tell me it doesn't pay to have a Congressman live in your town for a long, long time.

As I drove by the courthouse, I noticed old Anton Jones' statue out front and Omar Burleson's bust out back. The thought went through my head that probably the bust cost more than the statue — everything's gone up so much.

As I was driving on down the road, I recalled that I made a new Big Spring friend the day of the dedication of the Burleson bust. I met Clyde Angel at the dedication and barbecue. At that time, I hadn't been in Big Spring too long and I hadn't met him over here yet. It's a funny world.

Went on by Stamford, where Ted Ferrell's relatives live and started to Haskell. The road got back to two lanes. They don't have a Congressman. Stamford has a Cowboy Reunion and not too far away from them is Albany, who got famous with the Fandangle.

I stopped in Haskell for gas and thought surely, I'm nearing Wichita Falls. The station man answered my query as to "How far?" with this answer, "It's one hundred miles." If he'd said 99, it would've seemed a lot less.

But he did still have a gum machine that gives you three gumballs for a penny. And anybody with a three-for-a-penny gum machine can't be all bad.

On down the road piece, I passed a sign with an arrow pointing off to the right. The sign said "Noodle."

One of these days, I'm going to take time to follow some of those signs that rouse the old curiosity — like "Noodle."

The nearer I got to Wichita Falls, the uglier the landscape. But it's kind of a pretty city. I don't know why anybody settled there, but the Indians did and I guess they ought to jump right in and take it away from them.

Suddenly, I was there. And I hadn't been bored at all. I forgot to turn on the radio, and was — as James Whitcombe Riley used to call it — "alone with my thoughts." But I can still stand myself — when I'm out ridin' fence.

It's better to wait, says controller

HOUSTON (AP) — City Controller Leonel Castillo says he will remain in his present office until the U. S. Senate acts on his confirmation as head of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Castillo said Thursday "anything can happen in a Senate confirmation hearing."

"If I should resign, some senators might see that as presumptive," he said. "It's better to wait."

The confirmation hearing would be held sometime after the congressional recess ends April 17.

He confirmed a report that a briefing book is being prepared to facilitate a smooth transaction for his successor.

An interim successor would have to be appointed by the Houston City Council. Castillo declined to say whether he has any personal choice for a successor.

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Savoy, 51, a railroad employe from nearby Vidor, suffered fatal injuries as a tank car jumped the track here Wednesday night.

He died at a hospital an hour later.

Savoy was riding on the tanker when it rolled off a spur line into a ravine, pinning him underneath. It was the only car derailed.
