

Nixon show said healing; a hype

By the Associated Press
Former President Richard M. Nixon's interview with David Frost generally stirred the same partisanship that marked the Watergate era: His detractors complained the full story was yet to be told. His supporters applauded what they said was his candor.

"The evidence compiled by the committee and its staff total 7,200 pages and filled 36 books of information," said Rep. Peter Rodino, the New Jersey Democrat whose House Judiciary Committee voted to impeach Nixon.

"I think it's going to have a healing and cleansing effect," said Raymond K. Price, Nixon's chief speech writer when he was in the White House. "I think it was forthcoming. I think it was a very generous concession by (Nixon) of his own errors."

E. Howard Hunt, recently released from a prison term for taking part in the Watergate break-in and now on a speaking tour, told a Santa Clara (Calif.) University audience that the interview was "a tough act to follow."

Appearing before students at the university after watching the telecast Wednesday night, Hunt termed the show "a big hype job and a ripoff."

CONCEDES HE LET NATION DOWN — Former President Richard M. Nixon exhibited this expression during Wednesday night telecast of paid-for interview with David Frost. Nixon conceded that he had let his friends, the nation, and "our system of government" down, but emphasized that he had not committed an impeachable offense, in his own view, in the Watergate coverup.

College aid alive, grant axed

AUSTIN — The possibility of a $2 million direct grant to Big Spring through Texas Industrial Commission was turned aside by the state senate in spite of the fact that Sen. Ray Farabee pled that an economic disaster was as deadly as a natural disaster.

Sen. Farabee said, "There were three reasons they wouldn't approve the funds. One, of course, is that no other city which has had a base closure has received this type of funding and the senators from Mineral Wells and other areas remember that."

"The second reason is that it would establish a dangerous precedent. A lot of Texas cities undergo economic disasters of many types. The third reason, of course, is that with the high cost of highway funding and educational programs, there is very little money left for anything else."

Sen. Farabee was able to get an amendment attached on the community college funding bill which would grant Howard College $100,000 in emergency funds if the method and formula of funding the junior colleges is changed to an annual basis. If this bill fails, Howard College will be funded for a two-year period on the present enrollment, rather than after the drop expected when Webb AFB personnel leave the city.

Third straight month Wholesale prices soar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices, an indicator of prices consumers eventually pay, soared 1.1 per cent in April, the third big monthly increase in a row, the government reported today.

The April increase, which matched the March rise in wholesale prices and followed a jump of nine-tenths of a per cent in February, adds to worries of accelerating inflation. The March increase had been the biggest monthly jump in wholesale prices since October 1975.

Government economists had expected the April jump because farm prices have been rising at a rate of better than 1 per cent for the past five months.

In April, prices for farm products increased 3.4 per cent, the biggest jump in a year, while prices for processed foods and feeds climbed 2.5 per cent.

Wholesale coffee prices rose another 7.3 per cent last month following a jump of nearly 31 per cent in March.

Not all the news was bad as the increase in prices for industrial commodities eased slightly last month. These prices rose six-tenths of a per cent in April, following an eight-tenths increase in March.

Economists look to prices of industrial goods as a truer measure of underlying inflationary trends. Much of the recent increase in farm and food prices has resulted from the winter weather's effects on crops and shipments, and economists expect these prices to begin moderating with the new harvests.

Price trends at the wholesale level are eventually passed along to the consumer, at least in part, since they represent higher costs to businesses that produce the goods consumers buy. Consumers are already feeling the effects of higher prices at supermarket counters, where the index for consumer foods — those ready for sale on grocery shelves — rose 2.5 per cent at the wholesale level last month.

The 1.1 per cent April increase in wholesale prices, if continued for a 12-month period, would result in an overall increase of 13 per cent for the year marking a return to the double-digit range for inflation that the nation experienced in 1974. Consumer prices that year rose 12.2 per cent. Consumer prices last year rose 4.8 per cent.

Over the past twelve months wholesale prices have increased 7.2 per cent.

The big increases in wholesale prices this year have been matched by large increases in consumer prices, which have risen at a 10 per cent annual rate during the first quarter.

The wholesale price index stood in March at 194.3, meaning that goods priced at $100 at wholesale in 1967 cost $194.30 last month.

In addition to higher prices for coffee, there were sharp increases last month in live poultry, eggs, milk wheat and livestock. Prices declined for cocoa beans and fresh fruits and vegetables.

Your town . . .

. . . needs your help

With the fall closing of Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring must attract new industry and jobs for its people as never before.

This requires that the Big Spring Industrial Foundation be recapitalized to support such an effort. Location of new industry in Big Spring takes money for interim financing, utility placements and countless other expenses.

At this crucial time in Big Spring's history, the Industrial Foundation must be in a position to meet these kind of needs for the next three years.

The Industrial Foundation has launched a drive to capitalize. This campaign needs the support and investment of every Big Spring business, of every Big Spring citizen.

A pledge to the foundation is an investment in the future of Big Spring. Please clip out the pledge coupon below and mail it to:

Memorial for a cowboy

By MARJ CARPENTER
Every afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m., John Masters sat in a chair outside the City Finance Company office on the corner of 2nd and Main.

There were usually two or three of his old friends there leaning back in the chairs, placed outside especially for them.

They sat there in the warm sun of the summertime and talked about the really hot days out on the range in the old days.

They sat there in the beautiful days of autumn and commented on how and when Big Spring grew.

They sat there in the hard days of winter with their coat collars drawn up around their necks and commented on the terrible snow storms they recalled.

And they sat there in the sandy days of spring and laughed about the real sandstorms in the old days.

Long after he was ill, he got back to his chair as often as possible.

Then on Monday Masters died at the age of 83.

On Wednesday afternoon, which was the day of his funeral, his chair appeared on the corner. Sitting in the chair was one of John's own boots, filled with a floral arrangement and a special tribute.

The tribute didn't mention the thing that John hated. This was the fact that he was selected for a minor role in "The Midnight Cowboy" because he looked like an old cowhand. He hated the role when he saw the picture.

The tribute was unsigned but did talk about the hard working, good man that was John Masters.

He was as typical of the early Big Spring area as anyone around. And now John's chair is empty.

Webb reuse plan studied at meeting

By BOB BURTON
The Webb steering committee today met the members of the consultant team selected by the Office of Economic Adjustment (OEA) to assist in the preparation of a base reuse plan. The four-man team, representing Chechchi and Company of Washington, D.C., met with the complete committee this morning and will meet with each of the five subcommittees through the afternoon.

OEA Regional Director Eldon Erickson introduced the consultant team, along with OEA representative Lt. Col. Jerry Perring.

The team is made up of Chechchi vice president Jack Corbett, senior consultant Harry Clements, economist Spiros (Spik) Coutavis, industrial engineer Eric Erickson, and expert on transfer of government property Ed Oppenheimer.

Perring told the committee that Chechchi is the second-oldest consulting firm in the nation's capital and has handled development projects in Africa, Asia, and Latin America as well as the United States.

Perring's document on the scope and schedule of the consultant's job reads like a kitchen blender. They are to "document, identify, analyze, formulate, prepare, and develop" the base's future plan during their Big Spring stay.

Their preliminary timetable will have a draft report of preliminary recommendation filed by the end of June. By mid-August, at the latest, a final report will be publicized before the federal team visits Big Spring in early September. By November, at the latest, a final report on the base reuse plan should be filed with both local and federal officials.

Also present at the meeting were representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers, who will be performing preliminary individual appraisals of Webb facilities. Ed Bunn and Jim Cain represented the Corps.

Corbett addressed the committee on the intentions of the firm. "We are here to provide maximum assistance in putting down on paper a plan, however preliminary it may be, which will be useful in mitigating the effects of base closure and help development in this area."

"The report should reflect your thoughts, your aspirations, your work," said Corbett, emphasizing the community's role in this process. "Over the next week we want to draw out of you enough information to create a working document to enable you to handle the next step with federal agencies."

Corbett told the committee that his people had a good bit of information already on Big Spring and Howard County, but he added apologetically, "This is drawn from the Environmental Impact Statement, and we'll need to run over it with you to make sure it's valid information which you can accept as a basis for strategy."

"We know the community is not waiting for our visit to make things happen," Corbett wound up, "and they will be happening after we go. There's no reason anything should slow down a step because of our visit."

A brief question-and-answer period followed the introduction. Questions were directed at Erickson on the present status of Webb property, federal funds, and personal property inventory, with members of the firm taking notes on the present situation.

The firm will meet this afternoon with each of the subcommittees to discuss specifics of the Webb negotiations.

Itemized hospital bills proposed

WASHINGTON — Representative Barbara Jordan, D-Houston, introduced legislation today which would provide hospital patients with detailed statements of hospital charges. Called the "Truth in Hospital Billing Act," the bill would require hospitals of 50 or more beds to give itemized billing statements to patients.

Representative Jordan said, "After a patient has left a hospital, the typical billing statement is so general that it is difficult to know what was provided. Instead of merely listing the general category of 'laboratory fee' next to a charge, my bill would require the hospital to list the exact test performed by the laboratory. Instead of the general category of 'room charge,' the hospital would be required to list the type of room and the duration."

Remarriage penalty reduced

CHICAGO (AP) — Roman Catholic bishops have acted to lift a century-old decree excommunicating divorced American Catholics who remarried.

The action here does not by itself require them to share Holy Communion without further steps to resolve their status.

"It welcomes back to the community of believers in Christ all who may have been separated by excommunication," said Bishop Cletus F. O'Donnell of Madison, Wis., head of a canonical committee that proposed the action.

The bishops' decision on Wednesday to repeal the 1884 decree of the Third Council of Baltimore must be approved by the Pope. This is considered certain since the decree applies only in that country.

Of the 49 million Catholics in the United States, about 5 million are divorced and remarried.

Competency hearings set

Competency hearings for Ollie Biles and Johnny Lee Thomas are scheduled this afternoon in 118th District Court. Jury selections began this morning with three juries, including a civil case titled James Duffy vs. the State Highway Department, to be selected from a panel of 27 people.

Biles is charged with the murder of a migrant worker, and was transferred from Stanton to Big Spring recently.

Thomas was arrested Feb. 5 for auto theft. Charges were filed in Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena's office.

Competency hearings differ from insanity hearings, according to Assistant District Attorney Don Richard, in that competency establishes present ability to stand trial rather than sanity at the time of the alleged crime.

Evidence in both cases is expected to be presented today.

Construction more than doubled

The Big Spring building permit picture looked a little brighter for the month of April.

Permits issued totalled 34 for April, as compared to 25 for the same month last year. Construction costs came to $127,215, far above the $47,065 figure for April 1976.

But the total for the year so far is still considerably less than that for 1976. For 1977, the total number of permits issued is 109 with $524,379 in construction costs. For the year to date in 1976, the total came to 135 with $2,927,890 in costs.

The increase for April 1977 came mostly from residential building. Two new homes accounted for $89,000 of the total construction costs.

Joe Horton received a permit for a $55,000 new home at 809 Mt. Park Drive. A.C. Diaz received a permit for a $34,000 new home at 2906 Parkway.

These two were the only projects to total over $7,000 in cost.

Poker-faced lawyer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The lawyer who for most of 1973 represented former President Richard Nixon in the Watergate tapes case said he is "pokerfaced and tight-lipped" about the Nixon television interview Wednesday night with British journalist David Frost.

Charles Alan Wright allowed AP newsman Rick Scott to join him for the viewing of the telecast. The 49-year-old University of Texas law professor watched the first 45 minutes of the interview, then left for another engagement.

Wright showed no reaction to any answers by Nixon.

He left the White House Oct. 27, 1973, about two weeks after a U.S. Court of Appeals turned down Nixon's request to withhold certain tape recordings. After the ruling, Nixon announced he would comply with the ruling and, Wright explained, his job was finished.

Wright defended Nixon during the special Senate investigation into the Watergate scandal.

Growth gene isolated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Genetic engineers working with minute fragments of the chemical that transmits heredity say they have isolated and analyzed the gene that directs the production of a human growth hormone. The gene is one that orders the human placenta — also called the afterbirth — to produce the hormone lactogen, which directs the growth of a fetus from a tiny cluster of cells to a fully-formed infant.

Representative resigns

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Richard A. Tonry stepped off the airplane that had brought him back from Washington where he had just resigned from Congress and began campaigning to win back his seat in a new election. Tonry, 42, his election tainted by alleged vote fraud, resigned from the House on Wednesday after six months and two days as a congressman.

Troops running stations

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British government says it will keep Northern Ireland's power stations running despite a vote by key technicians at the biggest plant to join the Protestant general strike now in its third day. Roy Mason, Britain's Secretary of State for Northern Ireland, said army specialists are on hand to prevent "great suffering to the community."

Twisters kill four

Tornadoes swept through sections of Missouri, Iowa and Kansas on Wednesday, leaving at least four dead and millions of dollars in property damage.

Two persons were killed at Pleasant Hill, Mo., a community of 3,400 about 40 miles southeast of Kansas City. A tornado reduced a trailer court to a field of rubble, destroyed about 20 homes and damaged twice that many, then ripped apart the senior high school and tore the roof from the primary school.

A third person was killed when he swerved his car to avoid a tornado crossing a highway between Pleasant Hill and Harrisonville.

About 1,000 students at the two Pleasant Hill schools, huddled against corridor walls in a well-rehearsed tornado drill, escaped with a few cuts and one broken arm. A school official called it a miracle that no one was killed.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported that 11 persons were hospitalized with injuries, at least two in serious condition.

One man was killed and at least 21 were injured when two tornadoes smashed Fort Dodge, Iowa, demolishing at least 40 homes and damaging more than 100 more.

'Will it create jobs?'

Colonel says ask questions

By MARJ CARPENTER

Col. (Ret.) Gail Peck of the Laredo Air Force Base, told the Big Spring Steering Committee, here Wednesday, "Each lease of property on the base has to be handled under regulations, but each case must be viewed separately."

He pointed out that, in Laredo, they had to turn down some applicants because it would not really benefit the citizens. The two questions we asked, were "Will it create jobs? and Has the potential tenant exhausted the possibility of facilities elsewhere in the city?"

"Certainly, we were not competing with longtime citizens, who had worked hard and owned businesses in our town. On the other hand, things that would bring about growth for the city as a whole had to be considered," Col. Peck added.

Peck is now the airport manager at the Laredo Airport, and was formerly wing commander of the Laredo Air Force Base.

Of the ten men invited from towns who had undergone base closures, Peck was the only one who came to help the committee study possible problems and dangers. The man from Mineral Wells was coming until illness developed in his family.

"We couldn't have had a better man to come and tell us the problems, City Manager Harry Nagel said here Wednesday.

Cuts in budget bill 'essential'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton and his lieutenants earnestly "worked the floor" of the House today to assure that the trimmed down $15.7 billion state budget bill will pass.

More cutting was to be attempted, with a conservative coalition planning to run with an amendment reducing general revenue spending, except for salaries, by two per cent. That would raise from $252 million to about $400 million the funds culled from the bill since it was first laid out April 25.

One representative said he had been approached by five committee chairmen.

Another said the chairmen of two of the committees on which he serves had asked how he planned to vote.

When asked how the poll was coming, Clayton said, "I haven't seen it" but he predicted the bill would get at least 85 votes.

A $263 million teacher pay raise bill and $213 million in benefit improvements for retired teachers are awaiting their turn on the floor, meaning cuts in the budget bill are politically essential.

Assuming it does pass, Senators will substitute their own $15.6 billion version. Differences will be worked out by a joint conference committee for a final up or down vote near the session's May 30 adjournment date.

Wednesday's floor session included an 87-56 vote to freeze the number of state employees and use the money saved for bigger raises for those already on the payroll.

Rep. Ben Z. Grant, D-Marshall, said five per cent annual raises instead of the 3.4 per cent recommended by the House Appropriations Committee would cost $172 million.

Energy Oil in Alaska?

HOUSTON (AP) — A marine geologist says oil companies drilling in the only offshore federal leases in the Gulf of Alaska are going to encounter much tougher problems than they anticipated.

Dr. Bruce F. Molnia, a marine geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey, said Wednesday the oil firms first will have to find the oil—"if it is there."

"The way they are going at it up there, they act like there is plenty there," Molnia said in an interview Wednesday.

He said three companies, Exxon, Arco and Shell, have rigs working in the Gulf of Alaska.

Molnia said once deposits worth developing are found, the companies face even tougher problems imposed by nature and environmental concerns.

He recently concluded a series of studies of the Icy Bay region of the gulf and presented a paper on his findings at the Ninth Annual Offshore Technology Conference now meeting here.

Icy Bay is some 800 miles south of the Alaskan state-leased oil fields at Prudhoe Bay. It is relatively close to the Gulf of Alaska port of Valdez, which is the end of the trans-Alaskan pipeline from Prudhoe Bay.

Drilling in the gulf began last November and Molnia expects that it will take about two years before the companies know what the extent of the production from the gulf will be.

Since the bay is the only sheltered bay near many of the offshore tracts, it was selected as a primary on-shore staging site to support the offshore activity.

Police beat Repairs prove costly

Mickey Lee Holland of Erwin, N.C. probably regrets haggling over the price of some auto repair work at a local service station Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports, Holland's auto was on the grease rack at a local station when an argument arose over the price of the work. It went to the point, according to the station manager, where Holland called him an obscene name.

Then, say police, the manager pulled out a .38 caliber pistol and fired four shots at Holland, hitting him once in the upper left arm. The irate customer was taken to Medical Arts Hospital where he spent the night, and was released this morning.

Burglars broke into the Seven-Twelve Grocery Store, 700 N. Lancaster, sometime between 6 a.m. and midnight Wednesday. According to reports, the intruders entered a storage area next to the store. They then used a tire iron, later found on the scene, to break through a sheetrock wall into the store. Stolen were six cases of beer and eight boxes of chewing gum. With damage, total loss was estimated at $215.

A suspicious man visited the Seven-Eleven Store, West Highway 80, around 3:45 a.m. today.

According to the clerk at the store, a well-dressed man in his late 40s walked in and asked if he could look around. He appeared to be very intoxicated, and stumbled over to a display of soft drink cans.

At this point, the clerk noticed a gun protruding from the man's coat. But fortunately the man tried nothing fishy, and walked out and drove off in a late model, two-tone Cadillac.

A quick-fingered thief lifted a 900 karat turquoise necklace from Ye Old Pottery Shoppe, 502 Gregg, sometime Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports, the thief entered the store, and took the necklace from the store's jewelry case without anyone noticing. The item was valued at $450.

Chevrolet Dealership, 1501 E. 4th, sometime between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Stolen from new vehicles at the lot were two side lights, two chrome taillight panels, a set of mirrors, a tail light and two parking lights. Total loss was estimated at $135.

Burglars also took $120 in cash from a chest of drawers in the home of M.E. Stuart, 509 1/2 Bell. The incident occurred sometime between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 12:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Sneak thieves stole a 1970 Chevrolet Nova from a storage shed belonging to Al Richard, 2607 West Highway 80, around 1:30 a.m. Wednesday. The car was valued at $750.

Two mishaps were reported Wednesday.

Vehicles driven by Lady Jane Gray, 603 Rannels, and Ronald Newby, P.O. Box 391, collided on the 600 block of Rannels, 6:15 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Gloria Montez, 1602 Morrison, and Patricia L. Rothman, Macomb, Okla., collided at 1613 Harding, 12:09 p.m.

Deaths

Mary Cross

Mrs. Kelly (Mary Jo) Cross, 57, of 826 S. LaSalle, Abilene, sister of Coy Nalley of Big Spring, died at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at her home.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in Stevens Memorial Chapel in Coleman, with Dr. H.O. Wynn officiating. Burial will be in the Coleman City Cemetery.

Mrs. Cross was born Nov. 8, 1919, in Atwell, Tex. She married Kelly Cross Sept. 18, 1950. She had lived in Abilene since 1965 and prior to that in Coleman.

Survivors include her husband, two other brothers, T.H. Nalley, Chipley, Fla., and Neal Nalley, El Paso; and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by two sisters and a brother.

Tex. He had been a resident of Big Spring the past 22 years. He was an agent for American National Insurance Co.

He married Mamie Allen June 7, 1937, in Brady, Tex. He was a member of Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Survivors include his widow, of the home; two sons, Jerry Thornton and Stanley Thornton, both of Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. Bubba Martin, Big Spring; a grandson; three brothers, M.H. Thornton, Burnell, Tex.; H.G. Thornton and M.J. (Buddy) Thornton, both of Abilene; three sisters, Jewel M. Latimer, Abilene, Ella Mae Jeter, Arlington, Tex., and Grace Spanick, Rockport, Tex.

Eliza Patton

Mrs. Eliza Patton, 85, died in a local hospital at 9:05 p.m. Wednesday.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Friday in First Church of the Nazarene. Officiating will be the Rev. Larry B. Holmes, the Rev. Lewis Patterson, Abilene, and the Rev. D.R. Phillely, Berea Baptist.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Patton was born May 5, 1891, in Throckmorton, Tex. She married John Denton Patton Dec. 26, 1912, in Arlington, Tex. He preceded her in death Aug. 14, 1960. She was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene.

She moved to Oklahoma with her parents at an early age. They returned to Texas when she was six years old and lived at Arlington, Throckmorton and Graham, Tex., after she married John Denton Patton. They later lived in Rockwall County and finally moved to Big Spring in 1942.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Hugh (Lillian) Rhyne, Big Spring, Mrs. Lola Marie Williams, Mesquite, and Mrs. Lowell (June) Holland, Topeka, Kan.; four grandchildren; four great-grandchildren and a host of nieces and nephews.

Thunderstorms around El Paso

By The Associated Press
Dry weather returned across most of Texas today.

Scattered light rain from Junction toward Del Rio and across the border into Mexico provided the only moisture. Thunderstorms around El Paso dried up before midnight.

There was a checked pattern of clouds and clear skies all across the state and temperatures were mild, ranging in early morning from 73 degrees at Brownsville and Dallas-Fort Worth into 52 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Wednesday's top marks went as high as 90 at Midland and 91 at Presidio and Wink in West Texas.

Ford discusses energy 'crisis'

DALLAS (AP) — Former President Gerald R. Ford talked about energy in Dallas Wednesday night, but ignored the subject of a televised interview with the man he succeeded.

Ford's speech to the annual Dallas YMCA meeting was delivered at the same time that British journalist David Frost's first interview with former President Richard Nixon was aired.

A Ford aide said arrangements had been made to tape the telecast for later viewing by Ford if he desired.

Ford was to spend the night at the home of wealthy Dallas businessman Trammel Crow.

The Nixon interview did not deal with the pardon Ford gave Nixon following Nixon's resignation in 1974 over the Watergate affair.

4-H'ers attend meet at Alpine

Forty-eight Howard County 4-H'ers participated in the District six 4-H judging contests and method demonstrations this past week in Alpine.

The district contest serves to eliminate the senior division contestants for State 4-H Roundup to be held in June at College Station.

All first and second place teams qualify for state in the senior division and the juniors receive team placings as well as preparing them for senior level competition when they reach 14 years of age.

Senior division members from Howard County and their placings are: Livestock judging, 1st Jackie Buchanan, Bret Griffith, Paul Ray, and Kent Robinson; Soil judging 1st, David Long, Brent Rhoton, Lyle Grantham; Public speaking, 1st — Van Gaskins; meat identification, 1st Tresea Sneed and Roxanne Daniell; grass

French academy inducts first U.S. painter

PARIS (AP) — Andrew Wyeth has become the first native-born American painter inducted into the French Academy of Fine Arts.

"Well, it's a moment I never expected would happen to me," the 59-year-old Wyeth said after the ceremony Wednesday, "and it's sort of a dream to have an American standing in this room.... It's very hard to put into words, but I'm very thrilled."

The academy said Wyeth's subjects are "fixed in a supernatural immobility as in a block of ice, continuing to live with an intensity accumulated in their habitual context, and forever."

Hearing is set on standards

LAMESA — A delegation of 18 farmers and businessmen will speak up at the hearings on proposed cotton dust standards at federal hearings in Lubbock May 10-11.

The National Cotton Council is first on the list, followed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and many others. There will be a total of 78 delegates heard at the hearings.

The Dawson County delegation is against OSHA regulations which they claim will put cotton gins out of business.

Each individual who will speak at the hearings has been allowed five minutes.

The Lamesa Co-op Gin and West Texas Co-op Oil Mill, represented by Jack Hines, manager of the gin and president of the oil mill, has been allotted 15 minutes.

Welch Farmers Gin Inc., represented by Tom Byrds, manager, is also allotted 15 minutes.

Reds doing more to protect people

One bubbling national controversy in recent months is whether the Russians have developed a "civil defense gap" with the U.S.

The question is if the Soviets have spent so much money and developed such good civil defense as to make an unthinkable nuclear war thinkable.

LEON GOURE'S book, "War Survival in Soviet Strategy," has started many people wondering if the Russian civil defense program isn't so elaborate as to turn a defensive program into a potentially potent offensive capability.

This controversy made a recent tour of the Soviet Union by 44 members of the U.S. Civil Defense Council unusually spotlighted. Big Spring's civil defense director, W.D. Berry, was one of those making the first-time-ever tour.

So I read with great interest Berry's report on his visit.

Just how much the Russians are spending annually on civil defense is one point in the controversy. Berry said the Russian officials admitted that their budget is $1.35 billion, or quite a bit more than the U.S.'s $85 million.

Berry's report says: "As we had been told, there were no large factories to be found in the metropolitan areas."

Although free to move about in Leningrad and Moscow, travel for the group was arranged always at night. They were not allowed to take pictures from the air or near airports or train depots.

The Soviet subways, with blast doors easy to spot, make unique and safe shelters, Berry said. They are 200 to 700 feet deep and were used as shelters during World War II. Ventilation pipes, he said, were easy to spot throughout Leningrad, even though they were carefully hidden among shrubbery and flower beds.

The five million people who ride the Moscow subway every day make mass transportation an impressive primary tool in evacuation, the Big Spring civil defense man reported.

BERRY SAID ONE American civil defense official summarized the visit in these words: "Americans who still labor under the delusion that the Soviets are not 100 per cent serious about civil defense ought to get the same breathtaking eye opener that we got. It would erase all doubts. Americans deserve the kind of consideration and protection that Russians and others are getting."

But as Berry talked and listened to the Russian officials, it was fear of war, not plans for it, that was projected as the motivating factor for the huge civil defense effort.

The Soviets said: "Sleep quiet, we do not want war anymore than you do. The Soviet Civil Defense system seeks to insure the highest degree of security for its people. We suffered badly in World War I and tremendously during World War II. We are very apprehensive about war."

Whether or not nuclear war will come, Berry's trip to Russia points up how little America is doing to protect its people.

With an unsettled world full of disasters both natural and man-made, I believe a stronger civil defense effort will pay for itself in lives saved over a span of years.

Bittersweet warmth

Around the rim

James Werrell

"Rocky" is a tough, sentimental little movie.

At first, these words may seem contradictory, but they're not. "Rocky" manages, like no other movie in recent history, to evoke a bittersweet warmth without losing its guts.

It is hard to say anything new about this Academy Award winner (which will show here beginning Friday). Quite a bit has already been written about the movie and its Cinderella writer-star Sylvester Stallone.

NONETHELESS, I FEEL compelled to put in my two cents for those who haven't picked up a paper or turned on the tv for the last six months.

The story is about a small-time Philly boxer who, as a publicity stunt, is asked to step into the ring with the world-heavyweight champ. Boxing fans claim that the idea was based on the real-life match-up between Joe Bugner and Muhammad Ali in which the "Bayonne Bleeder" showed courage if not much skill.

What is great about the film is that it takes risks that aren't readily apparent. The line it walks between the maudlin and the macho is a fine one. If it had gone too far either way it could have been a syrupy mess or a bloody one.

"Rocky" attempts, for example, one of the oldest ploys in movie history, and gets away with it. That is: homely girl takes off glasses, gets hair done, spruces up wardrobe and blossoms as love interest.

The actress Talia Shire shines in the role, and plays it down enough to be believable. She is vulnerable but has a core of spunkiness that makes you want to put your arms around her.

Stallone alternates between acting grotesque and sexy (women friends attest to the sexy part). He has a face that is borderline ugly, with droopy eyes set in a head that is nearly too small for his weightlifter's body.

BUT LIKE THE movie itself, he makes good-bad looks work for him. He is a big guy with grace, who moves and talks like a boxer. He is the archetypal hero who finds dignity in a seamy world.

As I have said, this flick nearly becomes sappy. It could have been another "Somebody Up There Likes Me" or "Boy's Town '77".

Instead it is hardhearted enough to leave the audience cheering.

A couple of years ago, some red-necks stood up and cheered for the movie "Walking Tall". This was immediately picked up by the ad men and used to hype the film.

"When was the last time you stood up and cheered for a movie?" they asked. But that movie was malicious and nasty-minded.

In "Rocky" there is no maliciousness behind the cheers. The audience is rooting for the little guy who makes a small victory at the expense of no one, and to the benefit of all who witness it.

Washington vs

Detroit

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — When dazed representatives of U.S. and foreign auto manufacturers left the White House April 18 after a briefing on the energy program, they came to this puzzled conclusion: President Carter's energy team had no idea of how his small car rebate program would work.

The automakers were quite correct. At this writing, the President's men are not an inch closer to figuring out how to hurry an energy-saving switch from big to smaller cars without dislocating the automotive industry and the U.S. economy.

"I WOULD SAY our best hope lies with the UAW," one cabinet member confided to us. That betrays secret support within the administration for the politically influential United Auto Workers (UAW) to succeed in knocking out the small car rebate and the "gas-guzzlers" punitive tax, permitting Detroit to gradually adjust to the federal government's present gas-economy regulations without disrupting the sensitive industry.

But the Carter proposals, even if never passed, could cause disruptions in Detroit not envisioned at the White House during three months of drafting the program. For this reason, economic pollster Albert Sindlinger says the energy program could be "an economic Pearl Harbor" — a tragic outcome of the President's laudable effort to come to grips with energy.

This results from the nature of the program as basically the creation of two men sharing an ascetic dislike for big, fast cars: Jimmy Carter and energy czar James Schlesinger. Business-oriented administration officials more aware of the consequences of fiddling with the delicate automotive market were not consulted until the 11th hour.

So, foreign and domestic representatives on April 18, hours before Mr. Carter's moving fireside chat on energy, came to the White House for a briefing. S. David Freeman, Schlesinger's aide, confirmed that new gas-guzzlers would be heavily taxed and that purchasers of new economy cars would receive rebates.

WOULD THE REBATE go to buyers of foreign cars, which are preferred by American motorists over their U.S. competitors? Although this is now denied by the administration, Freeman's answer is clearly indicated in the notes taken by those present: The U.S. would pay the rebate on foreign cars only if imports were limited to the "traditional" share of the U.S. market by each country, to be spelled out in new agreements.

The automakers' present, foreign and domestic, considered this an "obvious violation" of international trading rules. When one asked whether the tax against gas-guzzlers would not sufficiently spur small car sales without rebate, Freeman replied that "econometric models" indicated otherwise. Confidence in his grasp of what was involved was not improved when Freeman suggested foreign manufacturers could build more plants in the United States if they did not like the new program.

Two days later, the administration's energy "fact sheet" confirmed Freeman's briefing.

Future usually good for palsy victims

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two weeks ago I developed Bell's palsy on the right side of my face. My doctor suggested I take therapy and nothing else. Another doctor gave me cortisone for five days, then stopped. Now I am not doing anything about it. Could you tell me what the correct treatment is? — Mrs. H.L.

This is paralysis caused by a defect in the facial nerve. It is usually one-sided, but it could cause a general weakening of all facial muscles. The origin is unknown and there is no specific cure. About 60 per cent of patients recover fully in from three to six weeks. Of the other 40 per cent, about 90 per cent recover satisfactorily in time.

Most of the damage is done within the first 48 hours, and there isn't really much that medicine can do after that. Steroid drugs don't help.

An important part of treatment is the reassurance your doctor can give you about the future along with suggestions about protecting the eye during recovery. One of the effects of Bell's palsy is an inability to close the eye on the affected side. Glasses or a protective patch are needed and should be worn at night to avoid scratching and infection.

There are certain exercises you can try before a mirror. Patients are often advised to do such exercises (and even if they cannot actually produce the movements. Ask your physician if such exercises are in order for you. Electrical stimulation of facial muscles is also effective.

Although recovery may be as short as six weeks or less, in some cases 6 to 12 months may be required for nerve recovery to occur and for movement to return to its fullest. You can expect symptoms such as the crying of crocodile tears and the usual speech and other difficulties associated with facial muscles.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know if other ailments are ever mistaken for angina pectoris. Sometimes I have angina pains soon after eating a fatty food, especially. At other times foods don't bother me, but cold air usually gives me pains. — J.J.L.

The answer to your first question is yes.

There are several causes of chest symptoms other than angina pectoris, which is a specific problem (lack of arterial circulation to the heart muscle).

Having distress following a fatty meal suggests gall bladder disturbance, but cold air distress is a part of angina. Otherwise, the range of other chest pain causes is wide, indeed — from hiatal hernia (gullet hernia), peptic ulcer, infection of the esophagus, Tietze's disease can be mistaken for angina. This pain at the junction of the ribs and the breastbone.

To ferret out your pains and their causes you should have an electrocardiogram, preferably one taken after exercise. X rays of the chest, stomach and gall bladder will detect any problems there unrelated to angina pectoris. Pain from any number of non-angina causes can be felt in the general chest area. If you are interested specifically in angina you will find it discussed in greater depth in my booklet, "How to Handle Angina Pectoris." Send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Have you ever heard of a case of a person's hair turning white overnight? — G.S.

If you mean a scientifically documented case, no. I can guarantee you, though, that my next mail will bring many personally documented ones.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the Schmirmer test for measuring tears in the eyes? Any side effects from it? — Mrs. R.O.

A piece of filter paper is inserted under the lower lid between the lid and the eyeball with the edge of the paper hanging outside. It's left there for about 15 minutes. If the paper is dry after that time the doctor can assume deficient tear production.

It is harmless and there are no after effects. It's to be done by your physician unless he should instruct you.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung problem, write for a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Recently I read in your column about a woman who gossiped, and you said it was wrong because her stories about others were lies, and lying is wrong. However, is it wrong to talk about other people when the stories are true, if it puts them in a bad light? — P.D.

DEAR P.D.: There are certainly times when we should speak the truth boldly, especially if a spiritual principle would be compromised by keeping silent. However, I think the Bible definitely condemns talking idly about people and telling stories that destroy their reputation. The Book of Proverbs has much to say about the sins of the tongue. It's been said our remarks about others should pass three tests: Are they kind? Are they true? Are they necessary? There are at least two reasons why Christians should not gossip, even if the stories are sometimes true. In the first place, stories about people become distorted when they are told and retold. Repeated distortions might result in a story that is a gross lie. The other reason is that such talk is almost always spoken for the wrong motives. The Christian is called to love others. If there are things wrong in someone else's life, we should not rejoice, but should do what we can to help that person overcome the wrong. "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted" (Galatians 6:1).

Let the Psalmist's prayer be our guide: "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips" (Psalms 141:3).

ODESSA — The Odessa College Associate Degree Nursing Program will graduate 41 students in special exercises to be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the OC Auditorium.

After this graduation, representing each student's completion of a two-year program in nursing education, each will be eligible to take state board examinations to become a registered nurse.

Dr. Philip Speegle, OC president, will confer the degrees on the current class, which is the school's 15th. Betty Seeker, nursing instructor, will present nursing school pins and Sid Holden, dean of admissions and registrar, will certify the graduates. Dr. Charles A. Stephens will be the featured speaker.

An academic award will be given to the student with the highest grade-point average, and an alumni award will go to the student who performed best in clinical laboratory functions while attending the nursing program.

Roxie Stell is director of the associate degree nursing program and is assisted by instructors Seeker, Carolyn Anderson, Betty Jackson, Celia Harris, Maxine Parks, Janet Phillips, Janet Wallington, Maureen Watson, Karen Redwine, and Ann Winn.

The graduating class includes Jannie Early, Coahoma; and Connie Wright, Linda Owens, Peter Jefferson, Jan Mayes, Elvira Flores and Ladona Honea, all of Big Spring.

early Friday afternoon at the fairgrounds and set up and be ready for the two-day square dance festival. Marvin Burcham, Westex Traveler member will serve as Wagonmaster of the camping group at the fairgrounds.

Hospitality chairmen Jimmy and Charlene Parkhill and their committee will be busy serving coffee and doughnuts to the morning square dancers and other guests.

D.W. Overman, festival general chairman said, "Visitors are welcome to attend the Saturday morning square dance."

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith, decoration chairman, have announced that the theme for the two-day square dance event will be 'Growing With Square Dancing.' Green and white will be carried out in the decoration of the Fair Barn.

Club members have been growing house plants that will be given as door prizes for the Friday and Saturday night dances. The plants will be used as a part of the decorations.

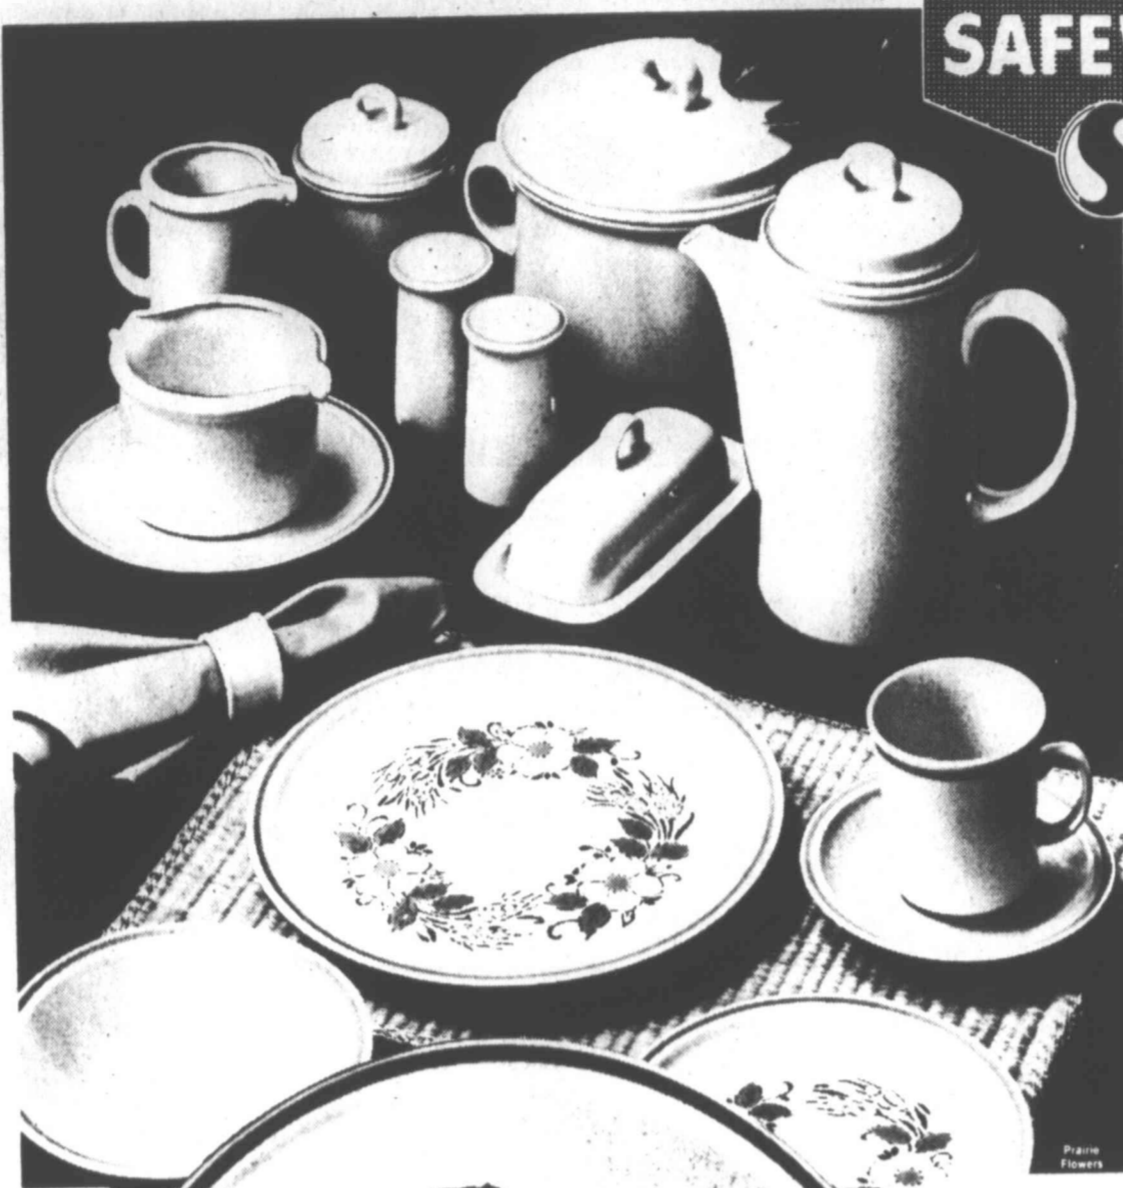

Other decorations according to Mrs. Gene Smith will be native West Texas greenery. The Fair Barn will be transformed into a West Texas Paradise with true Texas pioneer friendly spirit and sounds of 'Alamande you comer' and 'Yellow Rock your jaw' will echo from the hall. In all probably visitors will receive a yellow rock.

Osteopaths set May meeting

Texas osteopathic physicians and surgeons will meet in Corpus Christi May 5-7 for their 78th annual convention of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association. TOMA President David R. Armbruster, D.O. of Pearland, said the principal purpose of the convention is a series of scientific seminars for Continuing Medical Education (CME).

Dr. Armbruster stated, "Twenty per cent of primary health care is provided Texans by doctors of osteopathic medicine. The majority of DO's are family practitioners committed to the concept of total family or primary care." The scientific seminars feature medical programs certified by the American Osteopathic Association. Each osteopathic physician and surgeon is required by the AOA to complete 50 hours of annual CME.

Carter embarks on first overseas mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter embarked on his first overseas diplomatic mission today predicting success in a quest for world peace and promising to turn the summit into "continuing day by day" cooperation with America's allies.

"I feel good about the prospects for success," Carter said in farewell remarks on the White House lawn, "and I think I'll come back after his five-day trip with a major step having been made forward in dealing with the world's problems."

A short while thereafter, Carter took off from nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

Carter said the aim of economic discussions in London which begin his European visit will be "to put people back to work" and fight the inflation which he said is robbing working people around the world.

"I feel well-briefed and well-prepared," Carter said, "and my only hope is that I can well and truly represent what the American people would like to see their President do in discussing world problems with other government leaders."

"We will be pursuing our long-range goals for world peace, for nuclear disarmament, on holding down the sale of conventional weapons, of preventing the spread of the capability for nuclear explosives among nations that don't share it, for discussions about the proper use of energy and the sharing of world trade with others, for loans and direct aid to less developed countries," Carter said.

Carter also said he would seek "the establishment of basic mechanisms by which these discussions can continue, not just at the summit level on special occasions but on a continual, day-by-day interrelationship."

Although Carter has met with several world leaders in Washington in the first three months of his presidency, this is his first overseas mission, and he said, as he boarded his helicopter, that this is the only trip outside of this country which he plans this year.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale, who led a delegation of well wishers at the brief White House ceremony, told Carter he was leaving with the "complete and enthusiastic support of the American people," which he said was the "strongest mandate that any President could ever have."

In advance of today's mid-morning departure for London and an international economic summit, Carter said, "I'd like to have a common approach among the developed industrialized nations toward dealing with inflation and unemployment."

Although this is the central challenge facing Carter and his foreign counterparts, they also will confront other minefields of conflicting national interests.

In addition to discussing how to achieve economic stimulation free of rampant inflation, the conferees will discuss other knotty issues such as help for the world's poor nations, nuclear policy, East-West relations and trade.

The summit will occupy only part of a busy six-day schedule for Carter. He also will participate in a NATO summit in London, fly to Geneva for talks Monday with President Hafez Assad of Syria, take part in a four-nation meeting on Berlin, and confer individually with his country's most powerful global allies.

Escapes from Mexican jail

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP) — David Driscoll was en route to his home in New Mexico today after authorities determined that the man who escaped from a prison in Piedras Negras, Mexico, was not wanted for any offense in the United States.

Driscoll was in San Antonio today awaiting a flight to Albuquerque. He spent the night in the Maverick County sheriff's office while authorities checked his records.

The 28-year-old New Mexico man dodged bullets fired by Mexican prison guards and did a hand-cuffed dog paddle across the Rio Grande, to reach this South Texas border city. Some of his relatives arrived here Wednesday to accompany him home.

Driscoll spent 13 months in prison in Mexico following his arrest on a marijuana possession charge. He said that although he was tortured while in custody, he was never tried on any charge.

He's fugitive once again

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Roy S. Bell, whose family lives in Texas, escaped from the detention ward of the Maricopa State Hospital Wednesday after brandishing a pistol and handcuffing a guard to a bed.

The 41-year-old Bell escaped from the Arizona State Prison once before, but was caught after only 30 minutes of freedom. Bell was given an additional two years on his sentence for that first escape in 1975.

He was serving 18 to 50 years for burglary and had been taken to the hospital for treatment of tonsillitis, officials said.

Filibuster votes listed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Here is how Texas senators were recorded as voting Wednesday in final passage 23-7 of a workmen's compensation bill that sparked a world's record filibuster:

For (23): Adams, Aikin, Bracklein, Brooks, Clower, Doggett, Farabee, Hance, Gene Jones, Grant Jones, Kothmann, Longoria, Mauzy, McKnight, Ogg, Parker, Patman, Santiesteban, Schwartz, Sherman, Snelson, Truan, Williams.

Against (7): Andujar, Creighton, Harris, Lombardino, Meier, Mengden, Traeger.

Absent: Moore.

Death-by-needle race waged by Texans, Okies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas may be the first state to execute a man or woman by a lethal injection in the veins.
Right now it's a close race with Oklahoma.
The Texas Senate approved on voice vote Wednesday and sent to the governor a House-passed bill that would change Texas' method of execution from "Old Sparky," the electric chair, to a fatal injection.

The measure, originally introduced by Rep. Ben Grant, D-Marshall, calls for those convicted of capital crimes and sentenced to death to die by injection of a "lethal substance."
The injection would be made by the director of the Texas prison system or anyone he designates.

Sen. Bill Braecklein, D-Dallas, said a licensed physician could not make the injection because of the oath he takes as a doctor.
If the Texas bill is signed into law by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, the bill becomes effective 90 days after the end of the legislative session on May 30.

"So far no other state has this" said a spokesman for Grant. "Both houses have approved it in Oklahoma and a conference committee report adopted. The Senate has adopted it and if the House adopts it later this week it will go to the Oklahoma governor."
Other House bills sent to the governor included:

—A complete revision and recodification of Texas liquor laws. "This makes no substantive changes," said Sen. Frank Lombardino, D-San Antonio. "It is been in the making for four years. . . It definitely does not provide for a full-time paid (Texas Alcoholic Beverage) commission."
—Authorizes the Texas Employment Commission to set up special counseling services for "displaced homemakers," mostly divorcees and widows who have not worked for a living previously.
Senate bills sent to the House included:
—Replacement of certain juvenile courts and domestic relations courts by 35 state family district courts. Cost was estimated at $490,000 for the first year.

—Issuance of a certificate instead of a policy for auto insurance.
—Optional "under-insured motorist" coverage that would pay for injuries received in an auto accident caused by a driver whose liability policy was insufficient to cover the full cost. It also would enable drivers to increase their uninsured motorist coverage beyond the present maximum of $10,000 per person up to $20,000 per accident.

MARY LAMPFORT
To represent state of Texas

Mrs. Mary Frances Lampport, sister of Mrs. William Wright of Big Spring, has been chosen Handicapped Professional Woman of the Year by District 8 of Pilot International.

Mrs. Lampport will represent the state of Texas in national competition. The winner on that level becomes a member of the President's Committee for the Handicapped.

Mrs. Lampport is author of "The Impossible Tree," the story of her life before and after the tragedy that left her confined to a wheel chair and with very limited vision.

Mrs. Lampport now writes children's books, using the theme "nothing is impossible if we set our hearts and minds to the task."

Mrs. Lampport's name was submitted by the Pilot Club of Corpus Christi Inc. The Pilot Club is a service organization of professional women. One of its projects is to recognize the contributions professional handicapped women have made to their communities, states and country.

Building up in Snyder

SNYDER — Building figures in Snyder soared past the $1 million mark during April.

Biggest permit issued in the city during the month was for $750,000 for the Snyder Oaks Nursing Home project. Residential permits accounted for approximately a quarter of a million dollars during April, however.

The April total of $1,105,246 increased the total for the fiscal year to $5,416,189.

So far this fiscal year, permits have been issued for 33 new single-family dwellings and for 36 mobile homes.

Rudy Vallee's salty letter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Chances are Rudy Vallee won't be singing "My Time is Your Time" here anytime soon.

Vallee, who lives in Los Angeles, recently appeared as a judge in the Boardwalk Easter parade and to promote a proposed entertainers' hall of fame. His salty language upset a number of civic leaders. Some critics suggested he never come back.

That was just fine with him, Vallee said in an even saltier letter to Atlantic City Press columnist Sonny Schwartz.

"If the mayor of Atlantic City is as lousy a mayor as he is a showman, then may fate help Atlantic City," Vallee wrote of Mayor Joseph Lazarow. "I'm sure he didn't realize it, but to ask me to try to entertain a group of his old, senile poops who are too senile to even understand what I was offering them on a Sunday afternoon defies the imagination."

CHECKING THE PROVEN FIGURES ON A NEW DIESEL RABBIT
Demonstrator can be seen, tested at Quality Volkswagen Company here

Rabbit diesel arrives

Volkswagen's Rabbit diesel has arrived at Quality Volkswagen.

Jerry Snodgrass, owner of the Quality firm, is inviting selected car-owning households to participate in a "Consumer Evaluation Panel" test of the new diesel-engine Rabbit. Reaction has been most favorable.

The diesel model will sell for somewhere less than $300 over the comparable gasoline-powered Rabbit model.

Snodgrass said of the new model: "It's a revolutionary diesel design; it's lightweight and high speed. Very smooth, great mileage."

Starting the Rabbit diesel requires no retraining for a driver. Turn the ignition key and the Rabbit roars to life. It is noticeable there is a "clickety-click" sound as the motor idles, but it quiets down once the driver gets underway. It's getaway proves smooth — there is no stalling, no hesitation. The driver feels "at home" behind the wheel immediately.

Acceleration is excellent. The smoothness makes it easy to creep over the speed limit. For that reason, the driver must watch it in city driving.

On the freeways, the diesel is nobody's kid brother. Volkswagen says it'll do 80 m.p.h. easily — which is well over the legal limit of 55 m.p.h.

Most diesel car buffs will assure you "fuel's no problem." Diesel fuel can be found at many local stations and especially at the big highway truck stops.

The diesel Rabbit may look small and cramped but it has plenty of room inside. The Rabbit is a far cry from being an "updated Beetle." Volkswagen refers to it as its 'new generation' car.

What kind of mileage does the diesel Rabbit get? Original EPA claims rate the car at 52 m.p.h. on the highway and 39 in the city. Snodgrass says more realistic figures are between 40 and 45 m.p.g. as an around-the-clock demonstrator.

The diesel Rabbit sent to Snodgrass is the only one he has in stock now and it's strictly for demonstration

'Growth' gene isolated, analyzed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Genetic engineers working with minute fragments of the chemical that transmits heredity say they have isolated and analyzed the gene that directs the production of a human growth hormone.

The gene is one that orders the human placenta — also called the afterbirth — to produce the hormone lactogen, which directs the growth of a fetus from a tiny cluster of cells to a fully-formed infant. The researchers said the development could speed the day — still years away, however — when scientists can use genetic engineering to "order" bacterial cells to produce the growth hormones needed in the treatment of dwarfism and other genetic defects.

Other scientists have been successful in analyzing genes from lower animals, but human genes are far more complex and difficult to work with. The report by a research team at the University of California-San Francisco represents only the second human gene scientists have been able to analyze.

"We're concerned with understanding the control of the growth hormone," said Dr. John Shine, a member of the UCSF research team. "We would hope to be able to get bacteria to produce the growth hormone," he said in an interview here on Wednesday.

The research was presented this week by Dr. John Baxter of the UCSF Metabolic Research Unit in meetings in Washington of the Association of American Physicians and the American Society for Clinical Investigation.

Shine said the next step is to plant the gene into bacterial cells and analyze the results. It is this kind of "recombinant DNA" research that some scientists fear could lead to the creation of new life forms hazardous to man.

But Shine said the method used by the UCSF researchers involves isolating the specific gene before it is planted into the cell, instead of the "shotgun" approach used in some experiments. Using the "shotgun" method, Shine said, "you would have to take the whole gene, chop it up, and throw it into the bacteria. Then you'd have to hunt through all those bacteria to find the one that picked up that particular gene. "Because we can now isolate the gene we are drastically reducing the possibility of a genetic accident," he said.

School malpractice suits

OMAR BURLESON, M.C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In recent years there has been a spate of malpractice suits against doctors, hospitals and the producers of pharmaceuticals. More recently, there have been malpractice court actions against lawyers but now a fairly new one has come on the scene.

The latest of malpractice actions has been against school systems. The parents of a 19-year-old have brought suit in Long Island, New York against the school district from which their son graduated. The action is based on the inability of the high school graduate to read. They say he is unemployable because he cannot read and write well enough to fill out a job application; that the piece of certified parchment scroll he received on graduation is worthless. The parents say their son lost a job as a carpenter because he was unable to read figures on estimates.

The idea of taking a school system to court for malpractice or breach of contract to educate is a novel one which raises questions about professional accountability for the consequences of the educational process.

The threat of this kind of action must leave school administrators asking just how much obligation, if any, schools legally have to their students. The question arises if there is an agreement implied between the educators and the pupils and are the courts the proper place to assess negligence in meeting the specific requirements of that contract.

In the case of the 19-year-old, the attorney for the parents claims the school had no right to give him a diploma in the first place. He said, "My client can only read about the fourth grade level." He points out that, even after the high school graduate had special tutoring in the latter part of his year of graduation, little improvement was made and the tutor suggested that he should not be allowed to graduate. The school let him graduate anyway, even though as the boy now says, when he went out to get a job he could not fill out an application and couldn't even read the want ads or the street signs.

In 1972, a similar suit was filed in California by the parents of a high school graduate alleging that, after thirteen years of regular attendance in the public schools, he could not read. According to a Harvard Educational Review, this boy's high school records indicated his intelligence to be average or slightly above and that he had never been involved in any major disciplinary action. He maintained average attendance and average grades but couldn't read.

A lower court ruled favorably but the California Court of Appeals recently reversed the decision on the grounds that negligence had

Rainbow girls take part in community activities

Becoming involved in community activities is an important part of the work done by members of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Association 60. The group meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month in the Masonic Hall at 7 p.m. The group occasionally holds salad suppers in addition to regular meetings.

The group is presently preparing to go to the Grand Assembly, which will be held this year in Fort Worth in June. The Grand Assembly is conducted each year, and Rainbows from throughout the state of Texas attend the event. The group consists of girls ages 12 through 20. Projects that the girls participate in every year include visits to rest homes, and participating in various activities with the residents there, and participating in the Easter Seal balloon sales.

At Christmas, the group visits hospitals and sings carols. Projects to make money include bake sales, garage sales, and selling programs at local football games, as well as running the concession stands. Serving as the group's mother advisor is Mrs. W.C. Fryar. Officers are Miss Leilani Thomas, worthy advisor; Miss Kenda Born, worthy associate advisor; Miss Cappy Tatom, charity; Miss Robin von Rosenberg, hope; and Miss Cindy Roberts, faith. Miss Mary Jane Wright represents the Big Spring assembly as Junior Member of the Grand Music Committee, Grand Assembly of Texas.

Several members of the group shared some of their favorite recipes below.

MEXICAN CASSEROLE
 By MRS. W.C. FRYAR

1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
 Salt
 1 onion, chopped
 1 can cream of mushroom soup
 1 can cream of chicken soup
 1/2 can green chilies
 1 pkg. tortillas
 1 lb. cheese, grated
 Mix ground beef and onion in a skillet and brown. Add salt to taste. Mix all other ingredients, except tortillas and cheese in the skillet and warm. Break each tortilla into four pieces. Alternate the tortillas and meat mixture in a baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese and bake at 300 degrees for 30 minutes.

Texas Recipes

Hill Country Rodeo Sandwiches

2 cups thinly sliced stew meat, or
 1/2 pound ground beef
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 tablespoon Imperial Brown Sugar
 2 teaspoons paprika
 1 teaspoon crushed dry oregano
 1 teaspoon chili powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 bay leaf
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 cup catsup
 1/4 cup water
 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
 2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
 1/4 teaspoon liquid smoke, optional

Brown stew meat in small amount of fat or ground meat in its own fat. Combine sauce ingredients and toss with meat. Put in heavy skillet and bring to boil. Reduce heat to very low, cover saucpan, and simmer until stew meat is tender, about two hours. If using ground meat, simmer over medium heat without saucpan covered; cook until sauce has thickened, about 10 minutes. Serve on split, open-face buns with onion slices, pickles and mustard, corn on the cob and cola.

Yield: 2 cups or 4 (1/2-cup) servings.

ERA: Separate But Equal

DEAR ABBY: I just came from a meeting in which the guest speaker was against the Equal Rights Amendment, and I must say now I'm more confused than ever. She said if the ERA is passed, men will no longer be forced by law to support their families. She also said with ERA, women would be drafted just like men, and they would have to use the same bathroom and sleeping facilities. Is that true?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: If the ERA is passed, the matter of supporting one's family will remain unchanged. According to the courts, a married woman living with her husband receives only what he CHOOSES to give her. Support will (as it always has) depend on LOVE, not LAW. You can't get blood out of a turnip.

The ERA means that women will be subject to the draft (if we ever have one again—right now, we don't). If so, either or both parents could be exempt from service if it would be a hardship on the family, just as some men formerly were excused from serving if they had a legitimate reason.

And as for women being forced to use the same restrooms and sleeping quarters as men: That's so much hokey. The constitutional right to privacy will still justify separate restrooms, dormitories and barracks.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 10-year-old boy and my problem is girls. I have loved a lot of girls, but they never loved me. I gave them gifts, but they threw them away.

Last summer I went to camp, and there was this real pretty girl I liked a lot, and I thought she liked me. At the first dance of the season, as soon as the music started, I went over to this girl and asked her if she wanted to dance.

She said, "Yes, but not with you!" I got so mad I went straight back to my cabin and said, "That's the end—no more girls for me!" But, Abby, I can't seem to quit liking girls. Can you help me?

LONELY LOVER

DEAR LOVER: Time is on your side, and you have plenty of it since you're only 10. Maybe you come on too strong. Most girls are attracted to boys who don't seem to notice them. The word from here is, cool it, lover.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17, but have always been very mature for my age. I am in love with a 24-year-old guy, but I have to see him behind my parents' back because they hate him without even knowing him. You see, he was married to a no-good run-around, has two children by her, and his divorce is not quite final yet, and my folks don't want me going with a guy who has had that kind of record. Abby, you've got to believe me, he is a wonderful guy, and the messed-up marriage wasn't his fault. It was hers. Please tell me how I can get my parents to at least meet him and judge him for what he is.

LOVES THE GUY

DEAR LOVES: Assuming that this fellow is guiltless, I am wondering what kind of a "wonderful" 24-year-old guy, not yet divorced, would see a 17-year-old girl behind her parent's back.

Airport HD club meets in Mrs. Key's home

The Airport Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Francis Key, 1109 E. 16th. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Key, president.

Miss Janet Sargent and Mrs. Wayne Godwin were introduced as guests.

It was reported that the state THDA meeting will be in Galveston Sept. 20-22.

A style show will be presented at the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. June 2, sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Co. The Kentwood Older Adult Center will be the site of a covered dish luncheon June 14. The Centerpoint HD Club will also be present.

Miss Sargent presented a speech on spoilage in home canning.

The next meeting is May 17 in the home of Mrs. Vern Vigar, 1612 Avion.

Miss Sargent won the door prize.

BPO does plan supper

The BPO Does met Tuesday evening in the Elks Lodge. Mrs. Ora Jenkins presided.

Plans were made for a salad supper, to be in conjunction with a spring gathering with all Elks and their families. This meeting will begin at 7 p.m. May 17 in the Elks Lodge, and will be in lieu of the annual Does Mother-Daughter banquet.

The Does presented a gift of an electric can opener and knife sharpener to the Elks for their kitchen.

Mrs. Alma George and Mrs. Hay Williams reported visits to shut-in members. They also reported serving refreshments to patients in the Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Officers installed

The 1970 Hyperion Club met Tuesday in the Big Spring Country Club. The annual installation of officers was conducted.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Roy Don Williams, a member of the 1948 Hyperion Club, who installed the new officers.

Installed were Mrs. John Latham, president; Mrs. Dan Allen, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Donelson, treasurer; Mrs. Willie Lane, secretary; Mrs. Bill Sanders, historian; Mrs. Dennis Tucker, parliamentarian.

Guests were Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Mike Moates, Mrs. Richard Richardson and Mrs. Kirby Brown. The next meeting is 10 a.m. May 19 in the home of Mrs. John Latham. It will be a closed planning meeting for the coming year.

Mrs. McDaniel, now a Las Vegas resident, worked as a plainclothes officer here for 10 years.

Desk, Derrick members attend regional seminar

Two members of Desk and Derrick Club of Big Spring attended the annual seminar of Region V, Association of Desk & Derrick Clubs. Headquarters for the gathering were at the Hilton Inn of Amarillo. Delegate for the local club was Mrs. W.E. Barnett. Also attending was Mrs. Paul Sheedy, who acted as timekeeper for the meeting.

Featured activities during the weekend of business sessions, guest speakers, field trips, industry related events, included a Friday night barbecue in Palo Duro Canyon, a tour of Asarco American Smelting and Refining Company, and multiple group discussions.

Guest speaker for the Saturday noon luncheon-style show at Tascosa Country Club was Mrs. Murrel Jones of Borger, secretary and bookkeeper for Diamond Well Servicing Company. Mrs. Jones is quite active in Desk and Derrick Club work, Toastmistress Club, Borger Chamber of Commerce and is a well-known speaker in that area. On Saturday evening the speaker for the seminar banquet was C. David Culver of Pioneer Corporation. He is vice president and executive assistant to the company president. Culver is quite active in civic and professional organizations and is a University of Texas graduate, with a degree in petroleum engineering.

Culver repeated the oft-mentioned comment among the petroleum sector that President Carter's reliance on conservation in his program will not cure the energy woes but merely prolong the shortage. Petroleum officials have attacked the program because, they say, it does not supply incentives for seeking oil and gas and continues the restrictions on petroleum prices. "You risk being lulled into complacency if you think conservation alone can solve our energy problems," he stated.

He added conservation proponents argue the United States has only 6 per cent of the world's population, but consumes 32 per cent of the world's energy. The facts are, however, that we produce the lion's share of the world's good and account for 31 per cent of the world's gross national product. Culver conceded that some of Carter's ideas have merits including the conservation proposals, but "his basic promise that higher prices for oil and gas should be used as a conservation tool rather than to stimulate additional production is fraught with danger."

As of 1975, Culver said, the nation's proved recoverable reserves of fuel was estimated at 228 trillion cubic feet of gas and 34 billion barrels of oil. Estimates of undiscovered U.S. recoverable reserves go as high as 750 trillion cubic feet of gas and 104 billion barrels of oil, he added. In addition, that estimate could soar much higher when the more exotic and expensive energy sources are taken into consideration, including oil shale. Culver said a recent study disclosed oil could be feasibly transformed from shale if the prices could go to the cost of world oil, but not at controlled U.S. prices.

The Carter proposals would continue the current price ceilings of $5.25 and $11.28 per barrel for previously discovered oil and allows new oil to rise over a 3-year period to the current world price. "But, the Catch 22," Culver said, "is the producer does not get to keep the money. He only gets to handle it as it glides swiftly through his hands to the tax collector."

Mrs. Jones' speech expressed a similar theme. She also relayed what the Desk and Derrick organization can contribute in easing the present energy crunch.

ADDC dignitaries attending were Mrs. Lilly Wright of Ponca City, Oklahoma, ADDC immediate past president; "B.J." Thorpe of Cleveland, Ohio, ADDC president; Ms. Dixie Lee of Bartlesville, Okla., ADDC first president; Ms. Dorothy Rowe of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Mrs. Mary Shingler of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Region V director.

Region V is composed of clubs located in Abilene, Albuquerque, Amarillo, Andrews, Artesia, Big Spring, Borger, Breckenridge, Farmington, Graham, Hobbs, Midland, Odessa, Pampa, Perryton, Roswell, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, and has a total membership of 742 members.

TV producer directs attentions toward women

By GINNY PITT
NEW YORK (AP)—When television producer Joan Shigekawa approaches industry executives with ideas for programs of interest to women, she is generally told that "target audience" shows are not marketable.

Noting that the majority of the U.S. population is female and the majority of the U.S. television viewing audience is female, Ms. Shigekawa asks: "Why is the female population considered a target audience? Why aren't men the target?"

In fact, most television programming is aimed directly at the minority of the viewing audience—men, Ms. Shigekawa says. There is a need for programming aimed at women and there is a market for programs of interest to women, she says, but such programs rarely get on the air because industry executives and sponsors are mostly male.

Since 1973, Ms. Shigekawa, 40, has been executive producer of a Public Broadcasting Service series, "Woman Alive!" It began as a series of hour-long documentaries on topics of interest to women.

Although the programs were well-received by viewers, financing became a problem in the second season and the series was cut back to half-hour programs.

This year, Ms. Shigekawa proposed a series of 12 hour-long documentaries, with funding of $2.2 million. But the $2.2 million she hoped to raise from various corporations and foundations which sponsor other PBS programs was not to be found.

"Most of them said, 'Gee, this looks interesting, but we'll have to pass.' The reason they always gave was that money was tight and they were all filled up on their commitments."

"But we found out later, of course, that corporations have such a poor record in their own treatment of females that they couldn't very well put money into sponsoring programs with feminist themes," Ms. Shigekawa said in a recent interview. The Corporation for Public Broadcasting and Ms. magazine eventually provided funding for the series, but only on a limited basis—enough for just five hour-long documentaries at about $60,000 each. With the limited amount of money available, Ms. Shigekawa decided to distribute it to as many women as possible, so she assigned five different women to produce films for the series.

The first program was broadcast April 8 on public television stations across the country. The second and third programs dealt with how the feminist movement has changed the lives of some women.

Recently, the show features a film made at a British shelter for battered wives. The last program, to be aired May 6, consists of four segments—a photographic essay on girls reaching womanhood; self-defense and assertiveness training; female farmers, and women who left a sewing factory to start a plant which treats women with respect and dignity.

Texas Arts Showcase awards

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Liberty Hill, the only tiny Texas hamlet with a town square full of sculpture, has been honored for its contributions to the arts in Texas.

The Central Texas town of 800 and the City of Dallas received Texas Arts Awards Wednesday night at the first Texas Arts Showcase at the University of Texas.

The first ever presentation of the 11 awards for distinguished contributions highlighted the Showcase, which included performances by many Texas musicians, singers, actors and dancers.

More than 500 persons from across the state, including several state officials, attended the ceremonies that completed the Texas Arts Alliance's annual meeting.

"It's incredible that such a small town could win a prize like this over every other town under 100,000 in Texas," Texas Arts Alliance Chairman Steve Oaks of Houston said of the citation.

"We were flabbergasted when we found out we had won," said Liberty Hill sculptor Mel Fowler, who received the award from Mrs. Bill Hobby. "It's really terrific."

Liberty Hill put on a two-month sculpture symposium last fall, attracting 25 sculptors from around the world. The town raised $125,000 in sculpture materials for the artists and citizens housed them in their homes. The artists donated their finished products.

The result was several works that will soon fill a sculpture garden in the town. They are in the town square now, said Fowler, who worked more than three years to organize the symposium.

Dallas was honored for its "overall fine arts program," said Oaks. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby presented the prize to councilman William Nicol. The community awards are considered the most coveted.

Margaret Batts Tobin of San Antonio and L.P. Gilvin of Amarillo won individual awards, while the media prizes went to the Wichita Falls Times and Record News and KMDI-TV, Midland.

The Houston National Bank, the Temple Independent School District, Angelo State University, the Junior League of Fort Worth and the Laifkin Service League also were honored.

There were more than 200 nominations.

The diminutive, white-haired Mrs. Tobin was honored for her longtime promotion of the arts in the San Antonio area, while Gilvin, an Amarillo contractor, was significant in establishing the outdoor theater in Palo Duro Canyon.

The alliance, a non-profit organization of about 5,000 private citizens dedicated to the growth of Texas arts, was formed in 1976 to assist the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities.

"The Texas Thirty," an exhibition of paintings and sculpture by outstanding young contemporary Texas artists, was displayed after the Showcase. The exhibition, valued at more than $250,000, was selected by Texas museum directors. The average age of the artists was 32.

Chicken Ranch moving, main fare now on a plate

LA GRANGE, Tex. (AP) — The infamous La Grange Chicken Ranch is being moved to Dallas, but before the streetwalkers leave their corners to apply for a job, let them be warned that all they will get is a menu.

The Chicken Ranch, so well known as a brothel that it almost had status as a Texas institution, was closed in 1973 under orders from Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe after wide publicity from a Houston broadcaster.

The brothel became known as the Chicken Ranch during the depression when the proprietor announced a new payment plan of "one appointment — one chicken." Soon the place was overrun with chickens.

Bill Fair III of Dallas has announced plans to move the old establishment to Dallas and convert it into a restaurant on Greenville Avenue.

The actual work of moving the building is scheduled to begin in about a month and Dallas interior designer Fred Merrill says it'll take about three months to put it back together and have it ready for its new contents.

School funds can accrue

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — The new Veteran's Educational Assistance Program (VEAP), which helps young people accumulate educational funds during a military enlistment, was explained recently by Lt. Col. William Bonnett, Army recruiting commander for New Mexico and West Texas.

The VEAP program started the first of this year and allows service members to set aside $50-$75 monthly for their education, which is then matched two dollars-for-one by the government. "This means that an Army enlistee may leave the service after three years with several thousands of dollars to pursue college or vocational-technical education," Colonel Bonnett explained.

"If the maximum $75 monthly is saved by the soldier, this amounts to $2700 during a three-year enlistment. The government contributes another $5400, bringing the total to $8100," Bonnett continued.

The VEAP funds are paid out in monthly installments for each month of college or vocational-technical school completed after enlistment. If the soldier decides not to use these funds for education after discharge, all the money saved is returned, less the amount contributed by the government.

Totie Fields faces surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedienne Totie Fields, who resumed her nightclub career only last month after her left leg was amputated a year ago, will enter Stanford University Hospital in Palo Alto for eye surgery next week.

Miss Fields will have a vitrectomy performed on her left eye, her manager, Howard Hinderstein, said Wednesday. The operation, usually performed on diabetics, involves using light beams to seal off blood vessels that have hemorrhaged and caused formation of scar tissue.

The comedienne's leg was amputated because of a severe circulatory problem, and her quick return to performing has been mentioned as a possible reason for the complications causing the new surgery, Hinderstein said.

He said she will spend about three weeks in the hospital.

Not much, however, is going to be changed. There's no furor in La Grange over the building being moved. In fact, most citizens of the town probably aren't even aware that it's being moved.

Anesthetist week shapes

Governor Dolph Briscoe has designated the week of May 9-15 as Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist Week in Texas.

The Texas Association of Nurse Anesthetists will hold its 41st annual state meeting in Dallas May 13-15. The TANA has over 1,000 members and has an objective of keeping its members abreast of current happenings in the field of anesthesia.

The administration of anesthesia plays an important role in health care, and the Nurse Anesthetist administers a large percentage of the anesthetics given today in the United States.

A Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist is a skilled professional who has undergone the required training for a Registered Nurse as well as additional training in the specialty of anesthesia.

There are Certified Nurse Anesthetists practicing in all 50 states and Puerto Rico and they are recognized as professionals in all branches of the Armed Services.

with it. I have no feeling at all about it leaving town, not one bit. They can junk it for all I care." The sheriff, Chicken Ranch history buffs will tell you, was called to Austin by Gov. Briscoe and told to close the establishment in 1973.

Lester Zapalac, owner-editor of the La Grange Journal newspaper, wasn't even certain what was going to be done with the building. "No one ever sent me any information about it moving to Dallas. We thought it was going to Houston," he said.

When told of the new fate for the Chicken Ranch, Zapalac commented, "That's kind of a cute idea. Some of those people in Dallas are going to be embarrassed when they see their names or initials on those walls unless they're planning to paint over them," Zapalac said.

"Nobody in La Grange seems to care one way or the other. They may wait to holler until they see it hauled off, but by then it will be too late to do anything," he said.

While the moving of the Chicken Ranch has caused few ripples in La Grange, William Fair Jr., father of the new Chicken Ranch owner, says it cost him a city council seat in last month's election.

"When it was announced that Bill Fair was bringing the Chicken Ranch to Dallas, a lot of people thought it was me," said Bill Jr., a member of First Baptist Church. "The Chicken Ranch has spelled disaster with a capital D for me."

Java jive conclusions

TORONTO (AP) — A new study further linking caffeine and mental disturbance has found that among a group of psychiatric patients those with a large caffeine habit were more depressed.

The study of 83 psychiatric patients also showed that patients who drank large amounts of coffee containing caffeine were more anxious and tended to use tranquilizers more often.

The conclusions by researchers at the University of Michigan were drawn in a paper to be presented today to the American Psychiatric Association.

The doctors concluded that the higher the caffeine intake — and this included tea, cola drinks and pills that contain the stimulant — the more likely it was that the subject would report symptoms of mental discomfort.

But the Michigan researchers emphasized that because their subjects were under treatment for psychiatric disorders, they did not know in what way the results could be applied to the general population.

They also said they could not definitely link caffeine consumption with depression.

Previous studies have linked high caffeine intake with increased anxiety.

"Individuals may become depressed and later self-medicate themselves with caffeine," said Dr. John F. Greden, who headed the research.

Or, he suggested, "chronic caffeine ingestion might play a causal role in producing depressive symptoms."

For purposes of the study, high caffeine consumption was arbitrarily classified as 750 milligrams or more a day from all sources. The average cup of coffee contains about 100 mg. but can vary widely. Tea contains 50 to 75 mg. of caffeine per cup.

Low consumers of caffeine were those whose intake ranged from none to 249 mg., and moderate use was classed as 250 to 749 mg. per day. The doctors noted that one patient consumed 400 mg. of caffeine a day solely from stay-awake pills and another consumed a startling 4,000 mg. per day from various sources.

Medical society honors Dr. Griffin

Dr. Robert S. Griffin, Big Spring, has been admitted to Fellowship in the American College of Physicians, a 62-year-old medical specialty society which represents specialists in internal medicine and related fields.

Dr. Griffin is one of 373 new Fellows so honored. All were named at a recent meeting of the college's board of regents in Dallas.

James A. Clifton, M.D., F.A.C.P., Iowa City, president of the American College of Physicians, said the honorees have earned the medical specialty society's membership rank through evidence of scientific accomplishments and by acceptance as leaders in their specialty as determined by fellow practitioners.

The 37,000-member ACP dedicates itself to upgrading medical care, teaching and research through stringent membership requirements and programs of continuing education. It was the first group to offer periodic self-assessment examinations to physicians, enabling practitioners to judge their competence in specific medical areas and to determine their need for postgraduate education programs.

Dr. Griffin specializes in internal medicine at Malone-Hogan Clinic.

Mrs. Medders guilty of theft

DALLAS (AP) — State District Court Judge John Vance today was to sentence Mrs. Margaret Medders, who once traveled in high social circles in the Southwest, following her conviction on a felony theft charge.

It took a state district court jury only 25 minutes Wednesday to find Mrs. Medders, 58, guilty on a felony theft of services charge in connection with her alleged failure to pay a $352 hotel bill.

The posh Fairmont Hotel claims Mrs. Medders owes them a total of $14,485 for lodging, food and services, but she was only tried on a specific charge of failing to pay $352 for a period between last May 25 and June 1.

Maximum punishment for FUND STARTED — Little Misty Parsons, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Parsons of Big Spring, is shown in M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston awaiting cancer surgery. She has had a $500 donation from truckers and patrons at Rip's Truck Terminal. Now a fund has been opened at First National Bank. Anyone wishing to donate may place funds in the Misty Parsons Cancer Fund at the bank. Deposits will be forwarded in cashier's checks to the parents.

Mrs. Medders would be ten years in prison and a $5,000 fine. State prosecutors have asked Judge Vance to give her the maximum punishment. Although Mrs. Medders was tried by a jury, she chose to have her sentence imposed by the judge, an option open to defendants in criminal cases in Texas.

Mrs. Medders and her late husband, Ernest, once gave parties for the famous and powerful at the ranch they operated near Muenster, north of here. On one occasion, they rode to Texas from Washington on Air Force One with then-President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Friends, neighbors and businesses were convinced that Medders and his wife were heirs to a billion dollar oil fortune, but their fortunes fizzled in 1967 when suits showed there was no oil fortune. The couple had accumulated an estimated $3 million in debts.

Nudity can be beautiful? Nope

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Chase of Plantersville told the Houston City Council nudity can be beautiful.

Councilmen didn't necessarily disagree with Chase Wednesday but they ruled that Sam Houston Coliseum cannot be used for a nudist pageant. Federation, told the council the pageant would exploit American Naturist nudity and sex.

Mayfair in Midland

MIDLAND — Trinity School, 3500 W. Wadley, Midland, will host the fourth annual Mayfair Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Mayfair, a family event based around an Arts and Crafts Show, will present 50 artists from all parts of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. ## Dorsett from Heaven

No, Jack . . . actually what it's like is 8,000,000 lemmings being told they don't have to jump off a cliff into the sea this year. That's how all the Cowboy fans must feel now, after the news of Tony Dorsett's acquisition has had a few days to soak in. There hasn't been this many people really sincerely happy since twist-off caps were invented.

How many times have you told someone or been told the following statement after the Pokes dropped a three-point decision to St. Louis, Washington or some NFL doormat: "If they only had someone like O.J. Simpson!"

Well now, provided they sign him of course, and provided he lives up to his rep, the Cowboys DO have someone like O.J. Simpson who can mount just as serious an offensive threat as the passing of Roger Staubach or Danny White.

Seattle was very, very smart in opting for the deal, and Dallas was even smarter. To repeat what has been said in the last two days and what is painfully obvious, "one super player can't make a team."

Gale Sayers didn't make Chicago a super bowl power and the Juice couldn't get Buffalo above the .500 mark too often. But four extra picks in the first three rounds can provide some very good talent . . . talent that can blossom into a solid team in a few years.

Dallas already has a solid team, but they needed a major running threat. Those extra picks wouldn't have helped the Pokes . . . they probably wouldn't even have lasted through the first cut.

Numerous people have told me they've already made bets on next season's games and are trying desperately to get a Super Bowl ducat even now.

There's only one aspect of the whole situation that is bad, and if anything about that's bad, it's really not that bad. But you can stick this in your double T and smoke it: Tickets are going to be hard to come by next season. Better send in your reservations on the first day possible.

Actually, what it's really like is finding out your wife tore up all her credit cards and bought you a new Davis Imperial racket.

Miller to stand up

DALLAS (AP) — The real Johnny Miller may be about ready to stand up and be counted.

"That wasn't Johnny Miller out there," Johnny Miller said of the dismal, frustrating slump that plagued him early this season.

"That was somebody else with somebody else's swing," Miller said before teeing off today in the first round of the $200,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic, a tournament that kicks off a busy, six-in-eight week playing schedule for Miller.

"I think I'm on the right track. It's just a matter of time—maybe a very little time. Now it just depends on

Little League results—Rangers cut Cards

The Rangers of the National little league kept their slate clean by virtue of an 18-7 pounding of the Cardinals Wednesday night.

Pete Valenzuela won his second game from the hill in as many starts, and Billy Paul was credited with the loss. Valenzuela led his team with three hits, one a homer. He only allowed two hits and struck out nine Redbirds.

Tom Thompson also had a three-run triple, while Gus Fierro had three hits and Robert Eggleston had two singles for the Rangers. Mark Johnson and Billy Paul got the only hits for the Cards.

The Rangers are now 2-0, while the Cardinals dropped to 1-1.

Mustangs nip Panthers

The Mustangs of the American Pee Wee League nudged the Panthers Wednesday night 10-9.

Taff Weenick was the winning hurler, while teammates Sam Ross and Brent Ainsworth hit safely for the winners. Ross had a single and a double, while Ainsworth cracked a triple.

The Mustangs are now 1-0 while the Panthers are 0-1.

Sparks ignite Angels

The Sparks of the National Pee Wee League fought a tough defensive battle with the Angels Wednesday night, and won the war 4-2.

Bobby Madigan was the winning hurler, while Frazier suffered the loss from the hill.

Atkins, Madigan and Moore had the three hits for the winners, while Burton and Bunker hit safely for the Angels.

The Sparks sport an undefeated 2-0 reading, while the Angels dropped their first contest and sit on a 1-1 mark.

Hawks rip Cabots

In a major upset in the American major league Tuesday night, the previously winless Hawks knocked off the previously undefeated Cabots 3-2.

Tom Cudd was the winning hurler and whiffed 11 batters. Jamie Thompson was credited with the loss.

Tony Shorties of the Hawks captured the only extra-base hit of the game, a double.

The Hawks, 1-2, meet the Pirates Saturday, while the Cabots, 2-1, entertain the Colts Friday night.

PAUL CATHEY
Signed with Gonzaga

Cathey uses Gonzaga ink

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

Paul Cathey, Howard College's human spring at center last year for the Hawks, has signed a national letter of intent with Gonzaga University of Spokane, Washington.

Cathey, the 6-7 sophomore from Bay City, Texas, led the Western Junior College Athletic Conference in rebounding this past season with 452, for a per game average of 14.1. The popular player also had 454 points, an average of 14.2 an outing.

Gonzaga University is a NCAA division 1 major school, that plays such conference members as Boise State, University of Idaho, Idaho State, Montana State, University of Montana, Weber State and Northern Arizona University.

Gonzaga, (Bing Crosby's alma mater), is a Catholic school, with the same order as Loyola, San Francisco and Marquette. The University came in third last season in basketball, losing by one-point to Idaho State, the team that went on to represent the conference in the NCAA basketball tournament and knock off UCLA in the first round.

Adrian Buonchristiani, head coach at Gonzaga, expressed delight with the acquisition of Cathey because of his team play and rebounding ability. Gonzaga lost its front line from last year and has recruited three junior college players, Cathey included, to fill the holes.

Buonchristiani found out about Cathey from a friend, Mike Mitchell, at the national Juco tournament. Mitchell, Western Texas coach last season, recommended Cathey highly, and the Gonzaga coach has been considering the HC standout since that time.

Harold Wilder, Paul's coach at Howard College, had nothing but praise for his two-year starter.

"Paul has really improved while he's been here and he still has a lot of improvement ahead of him. He'll definitely be a major college basketball player," Wilder said.

Cathey was also named to the All-Conference and All-Region teams this year.

Rockets vs 76ers tonight in semi's

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Henry Bibby, the Philadelphia 76ers' playmaker and key defensive player, insists it will take the same mental and physical toughness to beat the Houston Rockets as it did the Boston Celtics.

"Houston is a hell of a team," said Bibby after Wednesday's final full-scale workout and strategy session for the best-of-seven National Basketball Association semifinal opening here tonight.

"We can't forget that Houston is capable of putting us away," he said.

Bibby, Coach Gene Shue, George McGinnis and the rest of the 76ers are keenly aware that Houston's greatest strength is Philadelphia's Achilles' heel — offensive rebounding.

OVER THE TOP — Los Angeles Lakers center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar goes up and over the head of Golden State Warrior Robert Parish Wednesday night during their NBA playoff game at the Forum. Kareem had a season high in rebounds with 25 and scored 36 points as the Lakers beat the Warriors, 97-84.

Russell leaves Sonics

SEATTLE (AP) — All Bill Russell wanted was to win his way.

But after four years filled with more disappointments than victories, Sam Schulman apparently grew restless of Russell's dictatorial approach, and Russell resigned Wednesday as coach and general manager of the Seattle SuperSonics.

One of the nation's most familiar but complex personalities, Russell was cheered four years ago as the Sonics' salvation when team owner Schulman lured him back into the game he dominated for more than a decade as a player to coach the National Basketball Association team.

But the Sonics never became the consistent winner under Russell that Schulman — and Russell — yearned for. So Schulman put his foot down and decided that Russell would not return for the fifth and final year of his $250,000 contract with the club.

"Bill Russell has always given me 110 per cent, just as he gave the Celtics and NBA fans 110 per cent as a player," Schulman said in a prepared statement announcing agreement with the former Boston Celtics great on settlement of his contract.

The agreement calls for a payment of $150,000 a year to Russell for the next two years, a team spokesman said.

During the past season, in which the Sonics finished 40-42 and missed the playoffs for the first time in three years, Schulman said Russell had become "too expensive" in his dual role as coach and general manager.

Schulman said he preferred that Russell continue in one or the other

Watson breaks Astro's slump

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Watson, who has been struggling at the plate along with his Houston Astros teammates, was due to erupt. And he couldn't have picked a better time than Wednesday's eighth inning.

With the Astros trailing the Chicago Cubs 4-0 and having suffered through 18 straight scoreless innings, Watson smacked a low fast ball from Bill Bonham into the left field bleachers for a three-run homer.

That two-out blast shattered Bonham's two-hit spell over the Astros and sent him to the showers. Bruce Sutter relieved him and gave up the tying and winning runs on singles by Julio Gonzalez in

Palmer unhappy, so are his foes

By the Associated Press

Jim Palmer doesn't like the way he's pitching.

Neither does Milwaukee, Texas, Detroit and now Oakland, for that matter.

Oakland got its dose of no-vintage Palmer Wednesday night, falling victim to the ace right-hander's seven-hitter as the Baltimore Orioles crushed the A's 9-2.

"I haven't thrown the ball well the last couple of starts," said Palmer, who hasn't given up more than two runs in any of his six starts this season. "I haven't had my good rhythm."

After losing to Texas 2-1 in 10 innings opening day, Palmer beat Milwaukee 1-0 on a two-hitter, beat Texas 5-0 on a three-hitter and beat Detroit 3-1 on a four-hitter. He also was involved in a no-decision game when he pitched 10 innings against California and left with the score tied, 2-2.

The American League Cy Young Award winner three of the last four seasons, Palmer sports an earned run average of 1.13 this season.

"I can pitch better," he said.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox tripped

Bus planned for Angelo tilt Saturday

Reservations are being taken for a bus load of student fans to San Angelo Saturday for the Steer baseball game, according to Craig Fischer, student activity director.

Tickets for the bus are $2. The students will need to take money for their game ticket and supper. The bus leaves at noon Saturday. Call Fischer at the high school for reservations through Friday.

Get what you need

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a clear case of drafting for need.

What the Dallas Cowboys didn't need was a bunch of fair-to-middlin' players who probably couldn't break into the starting lineup anyway. What they did need was one super runner to fill the only noticeable gap in their arsenal.

What the Seattle Seahawks didn't need was one star player. What they did need was quantity, a bunch of kids to develop with the young team.

What the Chicago Bears didn't need was more running backs or pass receivers. What they needed was someone capable of getting the ball to them.

What the Tampa Bay Buccaneers didn't need was another season like the last one. What they needed was something more than a bunch of anonymous runners, the stars who could burn up the yards that might burn a few opposing teams.

What the Washington Redskins needed was draft choices... for a change.

And what they all got in the National Football League was just what they needed.

The Cowboys fired a salvo of selections in Seattle's direction and got in return the No. 2 pick that brought in Touchdown Tony Dorsett, the Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Pittsburgh.

The Seahawks caught Dallas' delivery — a first-round pick and three second-round choices — and wound up with a healthy collection of talent in Tulsa guard Steve August, Boston College tackle Tom Lynch, Kansas linebacker Terry Beeson and, via a draft choice return to Dallas, second-year wide receiver Duke Ferguson.

The Bears, saddled with ill fortune the past few years with all-run, no-pass quarterback Bobby Douglass and then with not-much-better Gary Huff and Bob Avellini, decided to get a replacement.

What they wound up with was Mike Phipps, compliments of a trade with Cleveland that gives the Browns the Bears' No. 1 pick next year. But Chicago kept on calling signals and came out of the draft's sixth round with Vince Evans, Southern California's quarterback and Most Valuable Player in the Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. And all this after the Bears picked up former Heisman winner Pat Sullivan, a dud with Atlanta and Washington.

The Buccaneers, who came out on the short end of everything last year, did so in part because they had runners like Louis Carter, Essex Johnson and people even less exciting than that. Now Tampa Bay's backfield has been converted into USCSE — University of Southern California-Southeast. Former Trojan Coach John McKay has gotten a pair of Southern Cal alumni — Anthony Davis on rebound from the World and Canadian football leagues and, on the first pick of the draft, Ricky Bell. The Bucs' ground game could be really dazzling this year.

The Redskins, under Coach George Allen's tutelage, became instant contenders by importing a ton of proven talent. To do so, though, Washington dealt away a ton of draft choices — sometimes unloading choices that didn't belong to them. Just an oversight, of course.

The problem with that tactic is that time eventually had to catch up with the 'Skins. It did; they were getting somewhat crumbly around the edges last season. So Allen pulled off a bit of legerdemain. He got three draft choices from his old club, the Los Angeles Rams, while giving up only one.

The Rams relinquished this year's seventh-round and ninth-round picks (the Redskins drafted Nevada-Las Vegas tight end Reggie Haynes and Purdue running back Mike Northington with them) and next year's eighth round in exchange for the 'Skins' third-round pick in 1981.

It was not, many scouts agreed, the most talent-laden draft field in recent years. Bell and Dorsett were the only real stars on offense.

Had Joe Roth lived, he might well have been picked before one of the super runners. But without the handsome Roth from the University of California, a cancer victim last February, there was no quarterback star. Missouri's Steve Pisarkiewicz was the first to go, 19th in the first round to St. Louis.

Likewise, the crop of wide receivers left something to be desired. The first one picked was Tennessee's Stanley Morgan, 25th by New England.

On defense, it was not a year for the Leroy Selmon-Too Tall Jones-John Matuszak-type of lineman. No sensational players. Just a lot of solid starters like Miami defensive tackle Eddie Edwards, the No. 3 pick by Cincinnati, and Southern Cal's Gary Jeter, the No. 5 selection of the New York Giants.

The two sweepers obviously enjoy their duties as much as Billy enjoys receiving a clean sweep. The Braves also took a clean sweep losing the full three-game series with Pittsburgh.

Dusty Run ducked Slew?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Smiley Adams didn't smile when someone suggested he'd purposely avoided running Run Dusty Run against Seattle Slew this year.

"I ain't been ducking that so-and-so," the crewcut trainer said Wednesday in his country twang. "I run 'em as they come."

Unbeaten Seattle Slew and Run Dusty Run will be running against each other for the first time on Saturday in the 103rd Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Entries were taken today.

"I've been waiting for this day since the 2-year-old Eclipse Award was made," said Adams, who saddled 1975 Preakness winner

Master Derby. "We'll see who the best horse is on Saturday."

Although Seattle Slew raced and won only three times as a 2-year-old, he was voted the division honor. Included was an impressive 9 1/2 length triumph in the Champagne at Belmont Park.

Run Dusty Run was much more active, going to the post nine times last year, registering six victories and two seconds. Seattle Slew's purses in 1976 amounted to $94,350 while Run Dusty Run's bankroll totaled $268,241.

"We got robbed on that one," said Adams. "Seattle Slew didn't run enough." Adams, a Kentucky native from the small town of Versailles, near Keeneland race track, has passed up running his horses at New York and West Coast tracks.

Another case of stupid rules

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Things are in such a snarl, Kingsville may have to lose its last regular season game to get in the Dist. 27 playoffs for Class 4A schoolboy baseball.

Under the district rules, Corpus Christi Carroll — as winner in the season's first half — can claim the championship outright if it wins or ties for the second half crown.

For Carroll to tie, Corpus Christi Moody must lose to Kingsville in Friday night's final game. Moody presently leads for the second half by one-half game over Carroll.

Thus, if Kingsville beats Moody and Carroll wins its last game, Kingsville would be eliminated by winning. Kingsville can be sure of a playoff berth only by losing.

Coach John Kardow said his Kingsville team nevertheless "will play to win and take our chances that Carroll loses to Corpus Christi King (in their finale). We've lost our last four games, and I don't think we could go into the playoff and hope to win it."

Ironically, Moody was the actual winner in the first half but was disqualified because of use of an ineligible player forced it to forfeit three games.

Friendship's one thing, and winning's another

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a well-defined line where friendship ends and the quest for success begins. Julio Gonzalez crossed that line twice Wednesday and buddy Bruce Sutter stumbled.

Gonzalez, a rookie shortstop traded by the Cubs last December, singled in the tying and winning runs off the Houston Astros rallied to overtake Chicago 5-4 in 11 innings.

The pair played together for four years in the Cubs organization and Sutter said, "He's a friend of mine. Any time you play with anybody that long, he's a friend."

But personal relationships went out the window when Gonzalez came to bat in the ninth with two outs, Wilbur Howard at second and the Cubs leading 4-3. Sutter fed him a fork ball and Gonzalez, who "just tried to make contact," popped a bloop to left that fell in front of an on-rushing Greg Gross. Howard raced around with the tying run.

Gonzalez came through in the 11th with two outs, runners at first and third and the score knotted at 4-4. He tapped another Sutter fork ball into short centerfield, scoring Ken Boswell.

"He was throwing fork-balls low and I tried to get down low," said Gonzalez, who raised his batting average to .355 and atoned for an error that contributed to a two-run fifth inning when the Cubs went ahead 3-0.

"He didn't hit the ball very good. You get a hit, that's baseball," said Sutter, who had given up just one run in 15 innings before Wednesday and is 0-1. "You can't say I made bad pitches. It's not like he hit the ball over the fence."

"That last one just got up the middle. It barely got on the grass. It's a game of inches," said Chicago Manager Herman Franks.

Chicago second baseman Manny Trillo found that out the hard way.

With Joe Ferguson on second and one out in the 11th, Boswell hit a grounder that eluded Trillo for his second error of the day.

"I was waiting for the ball. It took a bad hop and hit my stomach. Maybe I should have had it," he said.

Pinch hitter Enos Cabell then hit back to Sutter for what might have been the third out and Ferguson was erased at the plate in a rundown during which Boswell reached third. Then Gonzalez struck his winning blow.

Joe Wallis' first homer of the year with nobody on base gave the Cubs a 4-0 lead in the seventh. Chicago began the scoring with a run in the first on Ivan DeJesus' double and Bobby Murcer's single and added two in the fifth off starter Joaquin Andujar.

Bob Watson got the Astros back into the game and Cubs' starter Bill Bonham out of it with a three-run homer in the eighth. Bonham had given up just two hits in the first seven innings.

Another no-hitter spoiled

By the Associated Press

Ed Cipot blasted a two-run homer over the 50-foot fence in right field Wednesday night to spoil Andy Regople's no-hitter and help the Jackson Mets to a 6-2, 12-inning Texas League victory over Arkansas.

Regople had gone eight and two-thirds innings without allowing a hit and Arkansas led 2-0 when Cipot hit his homer. Gene Menees was on first on an error by the shortstop.

Reliever Victor Cruz walked in two runs in the 12th and Jackson's Ruben Cruz popped a single that scored two others to give the Mets the victory.

In the only other league game, Midland ripped error-prone Amarillo 15-8 behind the four-for-five performance of Carl Pagel.

Pagel crashed a single, two doubles and a triple in addition to a walk.

Midland capitalized on five Amarillo errors to create a strange situation for losing pitcher Galen McSpadden.

McSpadden entered the game with a 1.71 earned run average, but took the loss because of seven unearned runs. His ERA was lowered despite the loss.

Steve Davis crunched a three-run homer for Midland.

Dolphins busted

MIAMI (AP) — Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula says he will wait for a report on cocaine-peddling charges against defensive tackles Don Reese and Randy Crowder before making any decisions on the two players.

"I'm disappointed and I'm waiting for additional information," Shula said late Wednesday. His players were jailed on bonds of $13,500 each.

Reese and Crowder were arrested at a South Miami motel Wednesday night after allegedly selling a pound of cocaine with a street value of $233,000 to an undercover agent, police said.

"It was seized in their hands, they personally delivered it," said Miami Police Lt. William Fleming. "They knew they'd been and they just gave up."

They were very calm and polite."

Another police spokesman said the arrests came after an eight-day investigation. "More arrests are pending, but that doesn't necessarily mean they'll be Dolphins," he said.

Reese, 25, who played at Jackson State, was the Dolphins' 1974 first-round draft choice. Crowder, 23, from Penn State, was a sixth-round pick that year.

Dolphin spokesman Bob Kearney said both Reese and Crowder had recently signed new one-year contracts with the club.

Both were regulars last season.

Fleming said all 15 of his men involved in the case were Dolphin fans. "It's shocking," he said. "We have mixed emotions. It's a shame it had to be this way."

GENTLY DOWN THE STREAM — A New Yorker reverses engines Wednesday as he finds himself intruding on the privacy of two oblivious youngsters on banks of the rowboat lake at New York's Central Park. Could be the year

with Marj Carpenter

Once in a while, in spite of all the cures I have taken for the disease, my interest in sports sneaks back up on me. For 15 years I wrote sports in two towns as the sports editor and caused quite a bit of commotion getting into many of the area press boxes.

Nowadays, this is not one of my functions. But now and then I get to help out with sports. Anybody who says "get to help out with sports" enthusiastically has got to be a little bit whacko.

Tomorrow, I'm going to comment on another area town in the weekly series I have begun, but today I have reserved for the Big Spring Steer baseball team.

It's been so many years since Big Spring has won the district in any sport. They may or may not win in baseball. But the thing is that they can.

They can go over to San Angelo Saturday and lick the Bobcats and nail down at least part of the second half crown. They would then face either one or two Abilene teams in playoffs for the district title depending on the outcome of the game between the two Abilene teams.

This is all very complicated, but what is great to me is that there is a chance for a title. We mope around over here like there is no way that our great Big Spring kids, who are just as talented, just as smart, and just as tough as kids in the other 5AAAA schools, can ever win.

To appease our wrath in being unable to put together wins, we go around talking in numbers. We constantly converse about how small our school is in comparison to others in the district.

But as the baseball boys can tell you, they only let nine play on each side in any given game. When they put in ten, it's all over.

If we had just defeated Permian, Odessa, both Abilenes, Lee and Midland in football and were waiting to play San Angelo, people would be in absolute shock — and would be smiling broadly all over town.

Well, we just did that in baseball. We've beaten every 5AAAA high school in one half or the other except San Angelo, and we've beaten some of them twice (the mighty Mojo for instance).

Some team has to be the first one to turn it around and be the first to win a district sport in Big Spring in many years. I thought last fall, it was going to be the girls' volleyball team. They came close.

Now it looks as though it just might be the mighty Steer baseball team. I hope so. They say losing is character building. Well, I'll tell you one thing. We have built enough character around here to last us 20 years.

Let's win. The game is in the land of the Bobcats on Saturday afternoon.

Through my years of sports writing, I've had some favorite wins. I thoroughly enjoyed seeing the Pecos Eagles beat the Monahans Big Green Machine for the district championship in 1972 after many years of defeats.

And I enjoyed seeing Lamesa beat them in regional the next year.

I was elated when the Andrews cage team upset the undefeated Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa — who win so many times — in 1974 and went to the state playoff. (Before all of the Tornado fans write in and call me ugly names, let me add that my son was on that Andrews team and most mothers feel that way.)

For the same reason, I rejoiced when (a daughter, not a son) was playing Pecos volleyball and they beat Seminole in 1967. Just this past football season, I thoroughly enjoyed the Forsan wins — especially Roby.

In baseball, my favorite would have to be the time Andrews beat Dumas in regional to go to the state finals in 1969.

But I could cheerfully add another memory to my favorite victories. Come on Steers. You can be the ones to turn it around for Big Spring. I'm going to be out by that fence a yelling.

'I cry' burned into boy's back
Child is 'vegetable'

HOUSTON (AP) — The prosecutor said 8-year-old Daniel Brownell was a "vegetable" because of injuries inflicted on him by his stepfather.

A doctor testified the words "I cry" had been burned into the boy's back.

The doctor said brain damage had resulted from the trauma of a ruptured colon and the gangrene which had set it. He said the boy's colon had been ruptured apparently by the insertion of a foreign object some 18 inches into the body through the rectum.

The blonde-headed boy was wheeled into court curried up on a roll-away bed and Dr. Wallace Fagan testified Daniel had the reflexes of a newborn infant and had to be fed with a syringe inserted in his mouth.

Fagan said the boy apparently could not see, hear or move.

"But nurses have told me that now and then there are tears in his eyes," the doctor testified.

Some of the jurors wept when the doctor testified. Prosecutor Hogan Stripling, in his closing arguments Wednesday asked the jury to tell "this community what you think of (his) behavior."

The eight-woman, four-man jury deliberated about an hour before convicting Lozier Ray Pickering, 25. It then assessed him the maximum 20-year prison sentence.

Carolyn Pickering, 28, Pickering's wife and the boy's mother, also is charged with injuring the boy. She is awaiting trial.

Pickering, a construction worker, did not testify in the emotion-packed trial which had an overflow crowd the final day in the courtroom of State District Judge Bob Scofield.

"If an eye for an eye were true, you should reduce Pickering to the life of a vegetable," Stripling told the jury.

J. B. Davis, Pickering's attorney, claimed there was no evidence directly linking Pickering to the child's injuries and criticized the circumstantial nature of the case against him.

"Don't find this man guilty because of what you feel for his child," Davis said in closing remarks to the jury.

Pickering brought the boy to a Houston area hospital last Oct. 13. Doctors said the child was in an unconscious condition. The boy still is a patient at the hospital.

Hofheinz recall election fizzles

HOUSTON (AP) — A petition drive to force Mayor Fred Hofheinz into a recall election appears to have failed.

Sponsors said Tuesday the required petition had about 30,000 of the needed 62,000 signatures with only two days remaining.

The recall move was started by three groups, Citizens for Responsive Government, Citizens against Pornography and Women Who Want to be Women.

The organizations accused Hofheinz of being too lenient on adult book stores and X-rated movie theaters and protested the hiring of Nikki Van Hightower as the city's women's advocate.

The City Council recently abolished the job of women's advocate leaving Ms. Hightower without a job but Hofheinz immediately named her to an identical job in the mayor's office.

The law specifies that a recall petition must contain only names signed within a 30-day interval. The petition was put into circulation April 5 so signatures can be collected only until May 5, Suzanne Thomas, president of Citizens for Responsive Government, said.

DISTRAUGHT MOTHER — Neighbors comfort Karen Rogers, 23, after an apparent murder-suicide left her husband and two young children dead. Police said Donald Rogers, 24, shot and killed his son and daughter, ages 2 and 3, then committed suicide Wednesday following a domestic dispute. Mrs. Rogers was not injured.

Worker outraces 28 policemen

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — If someone had told Al Becken six years ago that he could run 54 miles he'd have said it was impossible.

But Becken, a 48-year-old Civil Service worker, jogged the 54 miles around San Antonio's Interstate Loop 410 in seven hours, 56 minutes on Sunday.

He easily outran 28 city policemen and a few others who started the benefit police marathon at 6 a.m. "I went out there with the intention of running 35 miles," Becken told the San Antonio News after his feat.

"But when we got to 35 miles, I figured I'd go 45. When I got to Nacogdoches Road, I felt real good and they told me I only had about nine miles to go," he said.

Then Becken, who "couldn't even jog a mile" when he first began running several years ago, got leg cramps. "That's where I should have stopped. Without that cramp, I could have run eight-minute miles," he said.

But Becken didn't quit. He forged ahead, walking the last three miles in 45 minutes and running the final stretch.

Five policemen finished hours later and the other runners dropped out.

Becken had high blood pressure in 1972 when his oldest son persuaded him to start running. Today, he celebrates in religious pages or sections for its weekly supplement on religion, Crossroads.

The winning Times entries were edited by Lee now of Austin, Tex. Gen Hammond, 47, of the Niagra Falls, N.Y., won the Cassels Award for excellence in religion news reporting for papers with 50,000 or less circulation.

Each of the awards carried a $100 prize. The RNA is a professional organization of reporters for secular newspapers, news services and magazines.

CHICAGO (AP) — Los Angeles Times religion writer Russell Chandler has won the top award of the Religion Newswriters Association for reporting of religion in the secular press.

said, his blood pressure is normal and he is ill less often.

He joined the San Antonio Roadrunners in 1973 and now runs eight to 10 miles daily. On weekends, he and fellow roadrunners run anywhere from 16 to 20 miles per day.

"I ran my first marathon here in San Antonio and got hooked," the late blooming runner recalled. "I'm just hooked on running, period."

This year, Becken said he has run in a marathon — all are 26 miles, 385 yards — every month, traveling to Denton, New Orleans, Galveston and Austin.

Becken said not everyone is cut out to be a runner. "But if people would just get out there and give it a try — walking, jogging or whatever — it might resolve a lot of their problems and make them feel so much better," he said.

CLAIMS Tom Ogl says can revolutionize system

CLAIMS 160 MILES PER GALLON INVENTION — Tom Ogle, El Paso mechanic, stands by his car which he says can go as far as 160 miles per gallon with its revolutionary system that enables the car engines gas system to run off gasoline vapors enabling the more efficient use of gas. He said he received a phone call from General Motors who wants to look at the car. With two gallons of gas, the car runs with no carburetor but with modified gas filters and pressurized fuel tank and fuel lines.

Filibuster exercise in futility

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Scholarly Bill Meier, a Fort Worth-area lawyer, is the new filibuster champion of the Texas Senate — which has produced six world champion talkers since 1955. Sen. Meier, 36, lowered his aching body into a soft armchair at his desk at 10:20 a.m. Wednesday after talking — and reading — on his feet for 43 hours. Once he had quit, however, the Senate passed the bill he had been fighting since Monday afternoon. Meier's world record filibuster eclipsed the mark of 42 hours 33 minutes, set in 1972 by Mike McKool, who is now a Dallas lawyer. The measure prohibiting commercial use of workers compensation claim files was sent to the House on a 23-7 vote. Sponsoring Sen. Ray

Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, said there was a "legitimate fear and concern" that companies might use the injury claims to "blacklist" workers. The non-profit Texas Industrial Foundation of the South, consisting of 282 employer-members, has sought for 2½ years to get to the records. Its efforts include winning a lawsuit that went to the U.S. Supreme Court. Meier admitted that foundation officials have contributed to his political campaigns, but he indicated this was not related to his talkathon. Meier, D-Eules, referred to the bill as the "first chink" in Texas' Open Records Act. Asked who wanted the bill passed, Meier listed the Texas Industrial Accident Board, trial lawyers, labor unions and firms that write workers compensation insurance. After he sat down, senators and hundreds of spectators in the balcony gave him two standing ovations. Most of his colleagues shook his hand. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby noted that McKool had broken the 1971 world record of another Texas senator, Don Kennard of Fort Worth. "I don't know how we get so lucky," said Hobby. Later, it was learned that three other senators had set world filibuster records in 1955. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton was the first, followed by Wayne Wagonseller of Bowie and Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock. All of the records surpassed the U.S. Senate record of 22 hours 26 minutes, set by Wayne

Film industry plans party

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is planning a 50th birthday party at the same place where the academy was born. A gala luncheon will be held May 11 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel, where film industry leaders met in 1927 to found the Academy. Douglas Fairbanks Sr. headed the event at which 231 of the 275 guests signed up as academy members.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A real chance is now present for you to advance and progress in a new plan of action through your own good judgment and efforts. Be wise, however, and concentrate on a workable formula if this plan is to succeed.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make new plans that seem wise, but be sure to show them to a bigwig and gain the backing you need. Make friends of associates whose thinking is logical.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You now can get the needed finances to gain your most cherished personal wishes. Use tact with one who does not agree with you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good friend gives good suggestions how to improve your method of operation and have more success in the future. Welcome new changes.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Associates can show you a better way of operating in the future. Organize time and energies and accomplish a good deal.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A new plan you have in mind needs the backing of good friends, so be sure to get it. Use care where finances are concerned.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Success is indicated if you display self-confidence. You make friends easily and are able to sway them to your way of thinking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to be more idealistic where practical matters are concerned. Listen to what an associate has to say and go along with his ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show associates you take your work seriously and gain their respect and cooperation. Don't be afraid to ask for advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Financial affairs are most vital to you now, but find the best way for handling them efficiently. A money expert could help.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to visualize personal aims more vividly and then you know better how to gain them. Avoid unnecessary expenditure of money.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Organize your talents so that you can achieve more in the future. Be more cheerful and contented. Conditions brighten.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look to an older friend for help in solving a personal problem. The ideas of a family tie can be the source of your gaining more money.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have much ability and can put across the fine talents in this chart if there is faith in oneself. Give as fine an education as you can. Much organizational power here, too, as well as optimism.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

OC trustees purchase dorm

ODESSA — The Odessa College board of trustees have voted to purchase Downs-Parker Hall, a dormitory on campus owned by Ector Shopping Center Inc., for a consideration of $190,000.

The dorm owned by a corporation of Murphy and Rochester Real Estate and Insurance Co., will be sold at a contract price of $250,000 but the buyer, Ector Shopping Center Inc., will donate $60,000 of the price back to the college.

The dorm, built in 1974, embraces two stories and includes 54 rooms, 26 bathrooms, two kitchens, an apartment for a supervisor, an office, student area and a laundry room.

Original cost of the dorm was about $175,000.

PRODUCE — Louis Valasquez, produce manager, adds some onions to the mountains of fresh produce which await the customer at "Save-U". Under the new merchandising system the grocery offers savings to its customers.

Business booms at Save-U store

Since its grand opening Sunday, the Save-U Food Warehouse has done a booming business.

The grocery store, part of the same franchise as the "Piggly Wiggly" it replaced, offers a new concept in grocery merchandising.

While still selling "Shop-Rite" foods, the store has combined an economical warehouse type environment; selling groceries by the case rather than shelving everything, with the traditional grocery store layout.

According to store manager Morrison Donaghe, the store is able to offer its customers real savings on groceries because of several innovations which reduce the costs of running the store.

"We buy all our groceries in large quantities and when we get a good deal, we pass it on to the customer," said Donaghe.

The store has also stopped giving savings stamps, a luxury which used to cost the consumer nearly 3 per cent of the cost of the merchandise.

The grocery has cut down on the number of different sized packages for one product. For instance, where Piggly Wiggly used to sell four sizes of tomato sauce, Save-U only sells two, and saves money on labeling costs, and shelving.

All merchandise is priced as it comes off the trucks, rather than pricing it when it gets to the shelves. This also cuts down on the store's overhead.

"Our front end service has been increased by about triple, and it'll really make things move fast," said Donaghe.

The store will not offer a carrying service from the store to your car anymore in an attempt to cut down on unnecessary costs.

The new Save-U store is located in Highland Mall and is open every day of the week from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Not funny, says soprano

NEW YORK (AP) — The program for comedienne Lily Tomlin's one-woman Broadway show no longer lists former opera star Zinka Milanov as a standby. Miss Tomlin's lawyer has told a judge. Miss Milanov has filed a $2.2 million damage suit over the matter.

"It was done with light-hearted humor," lawyer Peter Parcher said Wednesday. He said there was "no such thing as a standby in a one-woman show... No one who read the playbill would have taken it seriously."

Three Midland women arrested

STANTON — Three Midland women were arrested Monday in Midland on charges in Martin County of burglary of the Stanton Drug Company in February.

Ms. Sherilyn Lott, 22, remains in the Martin County jail in lieu of $15,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace M.L. Gibson.

Mrs. Peggy Jones, 19, and Mrs. Deborah Wright, 20, are both out on $15,000 bonds each, both set by Gibson.

Sheriff Dan Saunders said the arrests are the result of several months investigation by the Martin County sheriff's office and the Stanton police. Midland police officers also cooperated in the raid of a residence in Midland where some of the drugs stolen in Stanton were recovered and identified.

Burglars entered the Stanton Drug on Feb. 15 by forcing open the back door and took all the narcotics on the premises, valued at over $3,000.

Charges were filed against Carolyn Neal Ford in Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena's office Monday. Mrs. Ford was charged with aggravated assault after she allegedly attacked Christine Schryver with a knife early Sunday morning. Mrs. Schryver was cut in the hand and treated and released at Webb AFB hospital.

Mrs. Ford was released under $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West Monday.

Haston sells his interests

Gene Hastob, owner and operator of Haston Electric Co., for 16 years, has sold his business interests to Albert C. Pettus.

Haston has been in the electrical repair business for 35 years and will continue to be associated with Pettus Electric as a consultant.

Pettus said the firm would continue to handle trouble calls and accept orders for electrical work in new buildings or remodeling projects.

Air conditioning motor problems can also be handled by the Pettus company. The firm's service shop is also capable of installing air conditioners.

The business is located at 109 Goliad. Complete electrical services can be assured by dialing 263-8442 or 267-5103.

THE MONEY SAVER!

THE MORE YOU SHOP THE MORE YOU SAVE

Shop Today and Save!

You may be wondering what SAV-U is all about, and how we can save you money. The secret is we buy in large quantities and price the merchandise as it comes off our trucks. This and other money saving innovations reduce our labor costs, passing the savings on to you. Another added feature to help keep prices down is a coupon exchange table we provide to help reduce your costs. You may exchange coupons in order to save money on brand name items. We ask you to help us keep prices down by carrying your own groceries to your car. We keep our overhead to a minimum so we can have lower prices everyday.

COME BY...SHOP AND SAVE-YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID!

- ### HOW DOES SAV-U SAVE YOU MONEY?
1. WE BUY IN LARGE QUANTITIES TO SAVE YOU MONEY.
  2. WE DO NOT STOCK AS MANY ITEMS. THIS REDUCES OUR LABOR COSTS.
  3. WE CUT AND PRICE MERCHANDISE AS IT COMES OFF OUR TRUCKS. THIS REDUCES OUR LABOR COSTS.
  4. WE DISPLAY GROCERIES BY THE CASE AND PRODUCE BY THE LUG.
  5. WE SEARCH FOR SPECIAL DEALS AND PASS MANUFACTURER'S ALLOWANCES ALONG TO YOU.
  6. WE SELL GROCERIES IN GREAT VOLUME. THIS KEEPS OUR COSTS DOWN.
  7. WE PROVIDE A COUPON EXCHANGE TABLE TO HELP REDUCE YOUR COSTS.
  8. WE ASK YOU TO HELP US KEEP PRICES DOWN BY CARRYING YOUR OWN GROCERIES TO YOUR CAR.
  9. WE KEEP OUR OVERHEAD TO THE BARE MINIMUM SO WE CAN HAVE LOWER PRICES EVERYDAY.
