Children 'want to stay alive'

ASSEN, The Netherlands (AP) — Captive children chanted "We want to stay alive!" today as South Moluccan extremists holding more than 160 hostages again threatened to kill them if the Dutch government did not meet their demands. A deadline for death passed without apparent incident, however.

Two hours before the deadline at 2 p.m. local time (8 a.m. EDT), several children were brought to the windows of the village school in nearby Bovensmidde where they have been held for two days. They cried out in unison, "We want to stay alive, Van Agt."

Andries van Agt is the Dutch justice minister and the top government strategist in dealing with the gunmen.

Six gunmen were holding 105 children and six teachers in the school. Seven other terrorists, one believed to be a woman, were holding at least 55 hostages on a hijacked train stopped in the middle of open pastureland 10 miles north of here.

Earlier today the Asian militants spoke with senior Dutch officials by telephone for an hour, rejected a government appeal for release of the children and repeated their threat to shoot hostages.

The gunmen, members of an immigrant community from the former Dutch colony of the South Moluccan Islands, now part of Indonesia, were demanding release of 21 jailed countrymen and a jumbo jet flight, with hostages, from Amsterdam to an undisclosed destination.

Some South Moluccans are serving terms in Dutch jails for using political violence in the past in fruitless attempts to force the Dutch government to help them win independence from Indonesia for their homeland.

"If you dare not to meet our demands ... we will not hesitate or bluff to shoot down a number of hostages for your pleasure," the terrorists said in a letter to Dutch authorities that was released Tuesday.

The government refused to discuss any deals unless the schoolchildren were released first.

But, said Justice Ministry spokeswoman Toos Faber, "The terrorists see the children as their ace in the hole, their safeguard." She described the negotiations, conducted by telephone, as courteous and "businesslike."

The tension eased noticeably in Bovensmidde as the deadline passed with no sign of violence in the school building. Police who had been jumpy earlier simply sat down in the shade with their carbines and made no effort to stop reporters or other passers-by.

The gunmen, who seized the school and train in twin attacks Monday, also threatened killings if mediation was attempted, if authorities did not meet the deadline or if there were reprisals against other South Moluccans living in Holland.

Busing doesn't worry kids

By BOB BURTON

Tuesday Big Spring school children received their first taste of what the recent decision to close five elementary school campuses means.

Three hundred and fifty-seven fourth grade students toured Lakeview Elementary, bused over from their neighborhood schools. Earlier, fifth and sixth grade pupils had toured Goliad Junior High, their home next year. Seventh graders were guided through Runnels Junior High.

The busing went smoothly under the combined direction of principals from all schools and interim school superintendent Lynn Hise. They arrived outside Lakeview just after the scheduled time of 1:30 p.m. and the children filed inside for a tour of the building.

The pupils were accompanied by teachers and parents through the facility. All assembled in the gym to hear a presentation from the new Lakeview principal, Harmon Smith.

Smith, former principal of Cedar

Crest and Boydston, conducted a brief introduction comparing each child to a string, saying that alone each is easily broken, but bonded together they have strength and energy. Smith then introduced the children to each other by calling the name of each school represented and having its students stand with the others.

Around the edge of the room stood parents, some enjoying, some plainly worried. But for the kids it was all a lark.

Lisa Burnett from Park Hill had a front row seat for the program.

BURNETT TOWNSEND RODRIGUEZ MARTINEZ WATSON

She knows she will be bused from College Heights but she says the prospect doesn't worry her. She is looking forward to the next year.

Brent Townsend from College

Heights also knows he is going to be bused. "But I've been on a bus all the time anyway," he said, "so it won't make much difference." Townsend said he likes the bigger building.

In comparison, Domingo Rodriguez from Boydston said his mother would probably drive him to school. He said he wasn't worried about coming across town, and he was excited to be with all the other classes.

Mary Lou Martinez from Moss thought everything was good. The bus ride was good, the building was good, the 357 students in the Lakeview gym were good. Mary Lou was not worried.

Samuel Watson from Marcy felt the same. "No, it won't be bad," he said.

Parent Darlene Pirkle, 626 Tulane, watched the presentation. Her son, Jay, will come to Lakeview from Moss next year.

"I think it will be good for the kids," she said. "I don't know yet how it will all work out, but so far I'm impressed. The building is very nice. We didn't have a gum comparable to this at Moss."

In comparison, Margaret Gilstrap is more worried for daughter Tonya. "I've been against it all along," she said. "I've attended all the meetings and been outvoted at each one. I think the building here is adequate, but the environment here is bad. You have the compress, the lake, and the railroad spur all in the same neighborhood."

"I hope they have good teachers here," she continued, "as well as plenty of playground supervision and supervision while they are waiting for buses."

School Board member Mrs. Carol Hunter toured the building with the children. She appeared pleased with the first steps toward the major changes scheduled for the next school year.

THEY ARE FEARLESS — As the sign around the guide's neck says, it will be the students who make success or failure out of the plan to combine all fifth graders into Lakeview school. The first hesitant step was taken by children and parents alike Tuesday at a congregation and tour of the new facility.

Crippled man given van

By MARJ CARPENTER

Overcome by emotion, Kenneth and Jean Williams wept when they were presented a van, complete with a lift for Kenneth's wheelchair in special ceremonies Tuesday night at the Howard County Fair Barn. It has been 17 years since Kenneth was injured when he suffered a broken neck while performing as a clown for a 4-H rodeo here in 1960.

All those years, the Williams have managed. Jean would push Kenneth's wheelchair up to their car, let him over onto the seat, fold the wheelchair and place it in the back.

She went through this ritual daily and as she said Tuesday night, "We did what we had to do."

A group of 200 friends and several organizations decided in April that the Williams "had done what they had to do long enough."

A collection began for the family to have the van as a present from friends.

There were not too many dry eyes in the audience when it was presented. Kenneth's mother was there and recalled that on the night he was injured, when a horse fell on his neck, he never lost consciousness.

She related, "Jimmy Taylor was announcing the rodeo. He was county agent then. He hurried down into the arena to Kenneth to ask if he was hurt and was the first to hear the words from Kenneth, 'I can't move.'"

Taylor was also among the beaming group of friends at the ceremonies presenting the van.

Friends who gathered the funds included Skipper Driver, R.G. Click, Repps Guit, Charles Phillips, Danny Kirby, Red Hiltbruner, and others. Driver said, "It was the easiest money I ever collected. It came from groups like the junior horsemen club and the sheriff's posse and from many individuals. It came from the heart."

Close to 200 attended the presentation and signed a guest register. Cake and soft drinks were served.

About the time emotion was running highest, Kenneth's seven-year-old son Lathey broke the strain by climbing inside the van and calling out excitedly, "It even has a telephone."

Trans Regional gets 20 days to answer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Aeronautics Commission said today it has given Trans Regional 20 days to file statements about suspension of air service between Big Spring and Dallas-Fort Worth.

The TAC issued an order May 1 giving Trans Regional temporary authority to suspend the service but Big Spring and Howard County objected.

"A hearing on the suspension of service, if required, would be costly and burdensome to all parties involved, would delay the resolution of the matter and would not significantly aid in the commission's final decision," the commission said today.

TAC directed Big Spring and Trans Regional to file statements of position within 20 days and said the TAC would determine at its next regular meeting whether a hearing is needed before a final order is issued.

County Judge Bill Tune said today in Big Spring that he was not sure what the actions of the county commissioners would be. He said any action would be taken by the commissioner's court as a body.

Trans Regional vice president R.E. McClure said that the statement filed by him would essentially recap his original letter asking for the suspension order. That original letter cited differences between Trans Regional and the county government as well as dropping passenger load as reasons to request suspension.

General would have followed orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The general whom President Carter reassigned for criticizing administration policy on Korea told congressmen today he would have enthusiastically carried out Carter's plan to withdraw U.S. forces there even though he personally believes that likely would lead to war.

"It has always been my belief and it is my firm belief now that I will carry out any decision made by my superiors regardless of how hard I had previously argued against that decision," Maj. Gen. John K. Singlaub told a House Armed services subcommittee.

But the general told the subcommittee that he does believe withdrawal of U.S. forces from the South is likely to encourage North Korean leader Kim Il-sung and lead to war.

The general said he naively answered that question in an interview with a Washington Post reporter, believing he would not be quoted by name. The Post has said the general agreed to be quoted by name.

After the interview appeared,

Carter recalled Singlaub and fired him from his post as chief of staff for U.S. forces in Korea. He is awaiting reassignment.

Singlaub said his response to the reporter's question whether Carter's plan is likely to lead to war was that senior Korean officers "would give a very definite 'yes' to that question and that, from the purely military point of view, I agree with them."

"I want to point out, however, that President Carter has many other factors to consider, and since he has available to him the same military intelligence we have in Korea, I assume that other nonmilitary factors are overriding."

The general said he told the reporter that when final withdrawal plans were made by the President and his aides "we would execute them with enthusiasm and a high level of professionalism."

"I sincerely regret that my naiveness about press relations has generated this situation and has obviously and justifiably distressed our President," the general testified.

Action/reaction: Both owe tax

Q. My husband and I still owe income taxes from 1972, but we've been separated since 1971. Don't I owe just half and not all the taxes?

A. The Internal Revenue Service isn't picky. The tax people say that on a joint return, the taxable income is considered one income. Therefore, they'll be happy to accept the tardy tax money from either you, your husband or both.

Offbeat: Kept his chicks in dark

MILLSBORO, Del. (AP) — Dr. Hiram Lasher's chickens didn't win in the International Chicken Flying Association's distance competition this weekend but the Millsboro man did come home with a few prizes.

Lasher said the best performance for his chickens in the event at Rio Grande, Ohio, was by Henrietta, a white Leghorn who managed a 41-foot flight — far short of the winning 297 feet and two inches by a Japanese Bantam.

Lasher said he had kept some of his birds in the dark in preparation for the competition. But he said that the sudden exposure to daylight did not improve their flying.

However, Lasher was awarded a certificate of ownership of one square foot of land in southern Ohio and the title of "Southern Ohio Country Gentlemen Farmer" for his interest in the sport.

Top fathers honored

NEW YORK (AP) — It was national Father of the Year awards time, and a lot of the children of the honored fathers took it all in stride.

Entertainer Father of the Year, Jerry Stiller, said his 15-year-old daughter Amy responded to her dad's announcement of his award with: "How come? No one checked with us!"

Jurisdiction Father of the Year, Leon Jaworski, said his son suggested he wear tennis shoes so he wouldn't "be struck by lightning" while accepting the award.

Some dads reminded the others about the serious side of paternalism. Yankee outfielder Roy White told the honored fathers not to "be too tired to talk to your children."

Others who received the awards Tuesday included Ambassador Andrew Young, named National Father of the Year in absentia because of his current trip to Africa and Benjamin Hooks, incoming executive director of the NAACP, named Humanitarian Father of the Year.

Others honored, in their fields, were: James Broderick, television; federal energy chief James Schlesinger; John Chancellor, communications; John Newcombe, tennis, and United Federation of Teachers President Albert Shanker, labor and education.

Books: No greater gift

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is no greater gift in the world than a great book," said Anna Haley, daughter of award-winning "Roots" author Alex Haley as she launched the 33rd annual book drive of the American Merchant Marine Library Association.

She presented an autographed copy of "Roots" to Mel Barisic, vice president of the association, on Tuesday in front of a lifeboat placed beneath the statue of Atlas in Rockefeller Center. It will remain there during American Merchant Marine Book Week.

"Alex Haley always went to sea to write," she said, referring to her father's career as a chief petty officer in the U.S. Coast Guard.

The ceremony was attended by a small group of friends of the Merchant Marine, including writer and actress Cornelia Otis Skinner, who dropped books into the lifeboat as the master of ceremonies.

Sinatra not over death

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Sinatra says he has not gotten over the death of his mother in an airplane crash last year.

"That's going to take a little while," Sinatra said on an NBC television interview Tuesday night with Aileen Mehle, who is the gossip columnist known as "Suzy Knickerbocker."

Appearing relaxed and reflective in his Palm Springs, Calif., compound, Sinatra said his wife, the former Barbara Marx, had cured him of what he once called "an over-acute capacity for sadness."

"Well, she's helped a good deal," he told Suzy. "You know, finally put the icing on the cake. I think Barbara did that."

Seige obscures election

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — The Dutch voted today in parliamentary elections that focused on unemployment and inflation although the campaign has been overshadowed by terrorist takeovers of a school and a train in the north of the country. About 80 per cent of the record 9.5 million eligible voters were expected to vote in the nation's first general election since November 1972.

Shakeup in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nikolai V. Podgorny's ouster from the Communist party's ruling Politburo is the first major shakeup in Kremlin leadership since Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was ousted 13 years ago.

But its effect on the Soviet people and government policy appears to be slight.

"He doesn't appear to have had a major impact on policy in the past, and I don't see that his absence will have a major impact," a Western diplomatic observer said.

"No one knows why he was dropped," another observer said.

The possibilities included age or ill health, but the lack of any mention of these suggested that the reason was more serious.

The people of Moscow appeared to take Tuesday's announcement in stride and a number of Muscovites had not even heard about the change four hours after the brief announcement was broadcast. It was not the topic of political discussion in gatherings at Red Square or Lenin's tomb.

One woman selling candy in a department store said, "Well, he's not a young man, is he?"

The balding, portly Podgorny, 74, is the oldest of the three men who ousted Khrushchev in 1964. Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, the country's real leader, is 70 and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin is 73.

Since 1964 the top leadership has remained stable, with a gradual shifting of power to Brezhnev. Some observers suggested Brezhnev would take over the presidency to further consolidate his position.

He could take over the post directly or through some provision in the new Soviet constitution — due to be published during the next few days — that would restructure the entire Soviet leadership system.

Podgorny, who rose from sugar plant manager to become president in 1965, remained one of the Soviet Union's top leaders until it was announced that he had been "freed" from his duties on the 15-member Communist party Politburo, the power center of the Soviet Union.

Elderly man killed in freak accident

DIMMITT — James Raymond Riley, 72, died in a Lubbock hospital about 2 1/2 hours after he was involved in a freak accident 13 miles southeast of Dimmitt about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Driver of the second vehicle involved in the mishap was Kevin Ray Riley, grandson of the victim. He was traveling north on a dirt road, according to investigating police. His grandfather was southbound on the thoroughfare when the vehicles collided.

The elder Mr. Riley's wife was listed in satisfactory condition in a Lubbock hospital.

A spokesman for the Castro County Sheriff's Office said the youth may have been crossing from one field to the other when the accident occurred. The spokesman said that both drivers apparently crested a small hill unaware of the other.

The color of the two vehicles involved — both were brown and dusty — may have made it difficult for each driver to see the other.

Arrangements for services are being completed at Dennis Funeral Home in Dimmitt.

At least six perish in sauna bath fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire raged through a sauna bath and rooming house in mid-town Manhattan today, killing at least six persons, the city fire commissioner said.

At least 13 others were admitted to a hospital, two of them in critical condition.

Fire Commissioner John T. O'Hagan, at the scene, said he didn't know whether more persons were trapped inside by the four-alarm blaze, whose cause was not immediately known.

"We now have the job of searching 100 cubicles," he said.

The fire broke out in the Everard Baths on 28th Street between Sixth Avenue and Broadway about 7 a.m.

Five persons wearing only towels were assisted from the bathhouse, which an employe said catered to homosexuals.

The fire began in the upper floors of the building, and portions of the top two levels collapsed.

The commissioner said the operators of the bathhouse had been ordered last August to install a sprinkler system in the building but had failed to do so.

Carter, Fahd continue to talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says he has told Crown Prince Fahd of Saudi Arabia that the United States is deeply committed to the security and peaceful existence of Israel and that the Arabs "understand this very well."

Carter and Fahd hold their second day of talks today. The emphasis of their talks Tuesday was on solving the problem of the Palestinians.

At a White House dinner for the visiting prince Tuesday night the President said he has also told the Saudis that the United States is dedicated to a fair and permanent peace in the Middle East.

"In both these commitments the Saudi

CARTER GREET'S DINNER GUEST — President Carter welcomes Saudi Arabian Crown Prince Fahd to the White House Tuesday night. Carter hosted a working dinner at the Executive Mansion for the visiting leader.

Arabians share our purpose," Carter told the all-male dinner party.

Thanking Carter for a "realistic view and increased understanding" of the Middle East, Fahd said the greatest hindrance to stability in the region is the "displacement, destitution and expulsion" of the Palestinians.

Fahd was not clear whether he and others listed as Arab moderates are pressing the United States for a portion of Israeli-held territory to be set aside for the Palestinians or have as their objective the dissolution of the Jewish state in the Middle East.

Earlier, Carter and Fahd explored how a Palestinian homeland with "recognized boundaries" might be set up.

The "process" was discussed with "some degree of specificity" in a meeting in the Oval Office that lasted a little over two hours, White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said.

"The United States is not pushing for any particular solution at this point," Powell said. He stressed that the two leaders are in considerable disagreement on their concept of a settlement.

Carter is the first American president to endorse a Palestinian homeland.

Airport designation

The Webb Steering Committee voted Tuesday to designate a portion of the Webb Air Force Base flight line and runways for future use as an aviation area.

The committee accepted the recommendation of Clyde McMahon Sr., chairman of the steering committee's aviation subcommittee, that 21 buildings, the eastside taxiways and the T-38 runway be outlined for use in the municipal airport.

McMahon pointed out that the designation was only preliminary and would probably be changed several times before the base is deeded over to civilian authorities.

The next step for the committee will be to designate the areas which will be used for health or educational purposes, such as the facilities which have been requested by Big Spring Public Schools and Howard College.

The next meeting of the steering committee is expected to deal with this question, according to Chairman Wade Choate, mayor of Big Spring.

The portion of the base used by schools would be deeded to them through a program of the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Department. The property would return to

J. H. Ruth recovering

J.H. Ruth, 74, is recovering from a heart attack suffered Monday. Ruth is in intensive care at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Valdes awaits court hearing

Ishmael Valdes is in custody in the Howard County jail awaiting a habeas corpus hearing in 118th District Court. Valdes is presently under a life sentence handed down in 1968 for assault with intent to murder enhanced by two previous convictions.

Valdes, in his writ, alleges that he was denied due process, access to witnesses, and had ineffective counsel.

Judgment suit filed

A judgment suit was filed Tuesday in 118th District Court against Teri Arlene Williams calling for forfeiture of her $10,000 bond after she failed to appear at her docket call.

Williams is charged with the Jan. 14, 1976 shooting of Nancy Lemons. When she failed to appear at her docket call May 16, 1977, District Judge Ralph Caton issued a judgment against Frank Robinson, 908 Ohio, who was on the bond.

According to District Attorney Rick Hamby, the case is still scheduled to be set for trial soon.

Burglary count filed

Charges were filed today in Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena's court against George Bustamante for burglary with intent to commit theft and burglary entering and committing theft.

Bustamante was arrested by Big Spring police Monday at 1:33 a.m. while he and a juvenile were allegedly removing a television from Cedar Crest school.

Lamesan posts bail after murder charge

LAMESA — Oscar Ortiz, 34, is out of jail on a $2,500 bond charged with murder of Jerry Ramirez, 22, of Midland.

The bond was set by Justice of the Peace Richard Nelson after city police arrested Ortiz at his Lamesa home Monday night.

The shooting occurred at a bar in the 400 block of Lamesa Road in Midland Sunday night.

According to reports, Midland police were called to the scene about 10:45 p.m. Sunday where they found Ramirez shot once in the lower left abdomen. He was scheduled to have gone to trial on Monday for a narcotics related charge.

Ramirez was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital where he died about 11:55 p.m. Sunday.

The shooting was alleged to have occurred after Ramirez was reported "to be attempting to take money from an older man at the bar when the Lamesa man intervened," according to statements released to law officials.

Fire marshal in hospital

Howard Dodd, Big Spring fire marshal, is in the intensive care unit at Highland Memorial Hospital in Lubbock. He was transferred there Tuesday from a Big Spring hospital. His condition is regarded as serious.

Police beat Vandals smash pane of auto

Vandals broke out the right front window of a car belonging to J.L. Phillips, 1705 Jennings, around 5 p.m. Tuesday. It is undetermined what was used to do the damage which was estimated at $75.

Burglars ripped off a bike belonging to Dwayne Haynes, 1510 Johnson, sometime between 2 and 9 p.m. Tuesday. The two-wheeler was lifted from Haynes' front porch, and was valued at $90.

Five mishaps were reported Tuesday.

A vehicle driven by Emilio Villa, Stanton, collided with a traffic control device at the corner of Eighteenth and Goliad, 7:50 a.m.

Vehicles driven by Clemente Sanchez, 513 N. Goliad, and Ruby Bagley, 1113 Mulberry, collided in the parking lot of Rannels Junior High School, 8:28 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Michael Bernzotti, Sterling City and Charles Huntoon, 143-B Dow, collided at 100 W.

Deaths

Helen Heckler, 27, was declared dead by Justice of the Peace Lulu Adams Tuesday evening at Malone-Hogan Hospital. Death was attributed to an accidental overdose of medication.

According to the report filed by Deputies Bill A. N. Reeves

LAMESA — Services for Archie N. Reeves, 56, of Midland will be at 11 a.m. Thursday in Northside Baptist Church here with the Rev. Billy Bush, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Field of Honor at Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Reeves died Sunday in the VA Hospital in Dallas after enduring a five-month illness.

The Vernon, Ala., native had farmed in Dawson County from 1948-1952 and was a member of Lamesa First Baptist Church here.

He was in the trucking business at Ocala, Fla. nine years before moving to Midland in 1975, where he was a self-employed carpenter. He was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include his widow, Mildred; four daughters, Mrs. Kathy Bowden of Galesburg, Ill., Mrs. Patsy Henderson of San Juan, Puerto Rico, Mrs. Rita Shreeves of Gilson, Ill., Mrs. Kathy Holt of Hawthorn, Fla.; a son, David Mitchell of Ocala, Fla.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Reeves of Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. Mary Seewald of Denver, Colo.; three brothers, T.C. Reeves of Lewisville, Ky., and C.B. Reeves of Griffin, Ga.; and 10 grandchildren.

Victim of overdose

Shankles and Robert Puento, the Sheriff's Department received a call for help at 6:32 p.m. from a woman at the Heckler Ranch north of Coahoma.

When the deputies arrived on the scene, they found the dead woman sitting on the passenger side of a car with a pillow behind her head.

Shankles said he was advised by her mother that she had recently undergone surgery and complained of severe pain. The mother, according to the report, showed Shankles two pill bottles.

Alert Ambulance attendants after working on the woman for several minutes without obtaining a pulse, drove her to Malone-Hogan where she was pronounced dead.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at the River-Welch Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. George Harrington, pastor of the Church of God, officiating. Burial will occur in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

She was employed by Boat Valley Lodge in Colorado City. She was a member of the Church of God.

Survivors include a son, Albert Jason Heckler III; her mother, Mrs. Willie Belle Heckler, both of Coahoma; a grandmother, Mrs. Annie Heckler, Big Spring; a brother, Albert M. Heckler; a sister, Mrs. Ann Dwiels; an uncle, Leonard Grisham, all of Big Spring; and several nieces and nephews, aunts and uncles.

She graduated from Big Spring High School in 1969 and attended Howard College. She was a licensed vocational nurse since 1971. She worked at Malone-Hogan Hospital before accepting employment with Boat Valley Lodge.

Weather

Winds from south fan West Texas

By The Associated Press
Humid warmth enveloped Texas as patches of low clouds spread over the west and south parts of the state today. A few heavy thunderstorms dotted the north edge of the Panhandle.

Skies were mostly clear in other sections, although occasional fog dotted coastal areas in early morning.

Winds from the south and southeast at 10 to 20 miles per hour fanned West Texas. Breezes were light and variable elsewhere.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from the upper 50s in the West Texas mountains up to 72 degrees at Del Rio on the Mexican border and McAllen in the extreme south. Tuesday's top marks went as high as a summery 97 at Presidio in the Big Bend country.

Partly cloudy and warm weather was forecast throughout the state with widely scattered thunderstorms in many areas again by evening.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy through Thursday with scattered, mainly late afternoon and night thunderstorms. Thunderstorms possibly locally severe north portion early tonight. No important change in temperatures. Low tonight upper 50s to the upper 60s except near 50 mountains. High Thursday in 80s except 90s Big Bend.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Scattered mainly late afternoon and evening thunderstorms through Sunday with above seasonal afternoon temperatures. Highs mainly in 90s except near 100 Big Bend. Lows in 60s except 50s mountains.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is forecast today for the Northwest. Showers are expected for the Southeast, except Florida, and from western Texas into the central Plains. Cool weather is expected from the Pacific coast to the Rockies and warm weather is forecast elsewhere.

School finance differences

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Only "seven or eight" of the 22 issues between House and Senate negotiators on public school financing have been resolved, says Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

The conferees meet again this morning to resume their deliberations.

They chipped away at their differences Tuesday but failed to reach agreement on any of the big issues.

"I tell you what we can do," said Sen. A. M. Aikin, D-

Paris. "We can do what Bill Healy used to do — get a room at the hotel and lock everybody up."

Healy, Democratic representative from Paducah, served as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for 20 years.

The conferees tentatively agreed to spend $4.6 million on testing 6th and 11th graders on reading and math skills. The House bill had called for $8 million, and the Senate measure $4 million.

"It's just a question of whether you want to waste $4 million or $8 million," Aikin said before they reached an agreement.

He called it pouring money "down the rathole."

Aikin refused to vote for that section of the bill until the others consented to delete language calling the governor the chief planning officer for schools. He said former Gov. John Connally had that language put in the law when it really wasn't true.

The conferees agreed to allow school districts to require payment of several kinds of fees, including the cost of driver training programs and admission charges for extracurricular activities where attendance is optional.

The driver training course fees cannot exceed the difference between the average statewide cost per student, which was $50 last year, or the actual district cost last year, whichever is less, and the payment per student from state funds for such programs.

Raymon Binum of the Texas Education Agency said the difference in cost between the highest and lowest driver training programs probably wasn't more than $15, except where "the coach is giving the job in the summertime and they give him regular pay, and that's very expensive."

Sidewalk, gutter work Voted in Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — Bids were awarded for sidewalk, curb and gutter improvements to the downtown area when the city council met Tuesday afternoon.

The bid went to Felix Franco, local cement contractor on a low bid of $4,000. City councilmen also approved advertising for bids for pavement for eight blocks in a new subdivision.

The council approved a $29,755 payment to Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Inc. of Lubbock, engineers for water and sewer improvements under the bond issue.

The council, with Mrs. Marion Bassham, mayor, presiding, also discussed the possibility of new restrooms at Ruddick Park. No action was taken.

It went into closed session to discuss land use. It was reported to be a discussion concerning potential park property.

Councilmen present included J. Lee Jones Jr., Cliff Thomson, Mrs. Jody Neff, Jo. O. Dockery, Rick Perkin and Mrs. Bassham.

Friday registration for YMCA summer fun

Registration for the YMCA Summer Fun, Learning and Fitness Program will begin 4 p.m. Friday at the Lakeview Branch Y.

The program is designed to offer a well-balanced fun and fitness program for youths from the ages of six to 12. Mrs. Vernice Jacob, arts and crafts instructor, will assist those at registration who are not accompanied by a parent.

According to Sam Dawson, program director, a number of new indoor and outdoor activities have been planned.

"We had a good turnout last year, and we anticipate that many and more to enroll this year," said Dawson.

Included in the activities for the summer are two cross-country hikes, a bus trip, a bicycle rodeo and swimming in conjunction with the Central Y's Learn to Swim Program at Comanche Trail Park.

This year's bicycle rodeo will feature eight different events, with prizes going to the first, second and third place winners in each event.

No transportation will be provided to and from the program areas. All transportation must be provided by parents.

Problem simmers for 25 years

At Sunday night's Air Force Association banquet, conversations naturally touched frequently on President Jimmy Carter's policy on Korea.

The president's decision to withdraw gradually some 33,000 American troops from the peninsula over the next five years had been banner headlines on Sunday morning because of the relieving of Maj. Gen. John Singlaub.

GEN. SINGLAUB, who had been chief of staff of the Eighth Army in Korea or the third ranking American officer, apparently granted an interview to the Washington Post which angered the President by saying that the withdrawal plan is an invitation to war in Korea.

President Carter recalled the general to the U.S. and fired him from his post in Korea and responsibilities which also included being the chief negotiator of the U.S. side at Panmunjom.

I was surprised to discover that Gen. (retired) Ed White Jr. of Midland, the incoming president of the Big Spring Chapter of Air Force Assn., had gone to school with Gen. Singlaub and knew him well.

White reconfirmed what press reports had indicated: Singlaub is a top professional soldier with 33 years of experience in the Army.

White also pointed out that the public does not know all the factors behind what happened. He said he could understand why Singlaub said what he did, and he could, of course, appreciate the President's right to fire him.

Having served a year in Korea, I have more than a passing interest in events in the little strip of land sandwiched between Japan and China.

I can see President Carter's side: Keeping 33,000 U.S. troops overseas is a terrific expense for the American taxpayer. It hurts an already burdened dollar by increasing balance of payment problems. The south Koreans have a 600,000 man standing army, one of the world's largest and 100,000 more than North Korea. It has been more than 20 years since the Korean War, and it is time for the GIs to come home.

BUT I can also see Singlaub's side: North Korea is an armed camp, ready for war at a moment's notice. Its leader, Kim Il Sung, is a megalomaniac who has vowed to recapture the South. Virtually every person in North Korea is trained for war, and the North is much better supplied in terms of weapons than the South. Since the cease-fire was negotiated 25 years ago, no progress has been made to an agreement which would end the state of war existing in Korea. The South Koreans saw what happened to the American commitment in South Vietnam after the GIs went home.

When all the factors are washed out, I suspect that Gen. Singlaub is basically right. Removal of Americans must increase the risk of renewing the war that every Korean believes to be inevitable.

But would the Americans support the use of GIs in another Korean ground war? Should the U.S. back President Pak Chung Hee until he has improved his position on "human rights" and moved back to the direction of democracy in South Korea?

Withdrawal or not, the Korean peninsula remains one of the world's danger areas for war.

If the North Koreans thought the U.S. would not support the South, the fighting would begin tomorrow morning.

Nix-Frost III

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The final hour and one half with Richard Nixon was disappointing primarily in its failure to get from him his estimate of the bearing of Watergate on the loss of Indochina. It is very perplexing that David Frost did not bear down on the point. Here was Richard Nixon, claiming all kinds of immunity for himself in virtue of the exigencies of war, but failing to probe his own contribution to the failure of a national undertaking.

Nixon's summary is as follows: The Democrats began a war which they declined to consummate. A Republican Administration was voted into power. Rather than help that Administration complete the task bequeathed to it, critical members of the Democratic family did everything they could to undermine what should have been a national rather than a factional effort. The symbol of the opponents was Daniel Ellsberg. (I pause to remark that I thought Mr. Nixon's referring to him as a "punk" was as refreshing as mountain water, and I hope Judge Byrne out in Los Angeles can be discouraged from ruling Mr. Nixon's statement as out of order).

NIXON'S NEW APPROACH consisted in intensifying pressures on the field, and diplomatically on the Russians. His principal obstacle during those years was precisely the conviction in North Vietnam that Nixon's efforts would fail because of the strength of the domestic opposition. But when Nixon was reelected by the landslide of 1972 and ordered the December bombings, finally the North Vietnamese caved in: "We've decided that President Nixon is not going to be affected by the protests," he tells us Le Duc Tho advised Henry Kissinger in January, 1973, when they got down to working out an agreement.

But what then happened? In no time at all, the North Vietnamese conquered South Vietnam. Nixon is the king who had lost a war. But about this he said virtually nothing at all. We are all supposed to know the official story: The Gulf of Tonkin Resolution was repealed, the President was stripped of authority to carry out aggressive missions in defense of the terms of the treaty. Congress turned niggardly in supplying South Vietnam with arms, no one seemed to care that the North was indifferent to the obligations of the treaty.

The political reality was — Watergate. Richard Nixon, returned triumphantly to the White House, was a slave to Watergate. Whereas under normal circumstances he might have exercised his responsibilities as President and demanded of Congress a consistency of performance, he was, instead, beginning his dreary retreat from victory. Having asked the nation to underwrite the awful sacrifices of Vietnam, he was himself unwilling to risk the humiliation of revealing the complicity of his staff in the Watergate venture.

By the end of 1973, Richard Nixon was far-gone in solipsism. Vietnam had lost its strategic reality. In saying that perhaps he was "the last casualty in Vietnam" he showed an awesome callousness. The last casualty of Vietnam is Vietnam.

'Anyone for tendinitis?'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: From my observation there has been an increase in the affliction called "tendinitis" lately. At what age does this seem to be most prevalent? What is the main cause, and how can one prevent having this? Also, specifically, what is "trigger thumb"? What causes it, and how can one avoid having it? — M.D.

I have to agree with you that we are seeing quite a bit of this lately, and my mail on the subject confirms the fact. You can lay most of it to greater athletic participation by all age groups. Perhaps the old line, "Anyone for tennis?" should be changed to, "Anyone for tendinitis?" because growth in popularity of that sport seems to be accounting for much of the problem. You can spell tendinitis with an "i" or an "o" — although the "i" form is preferred — but it adds up usually to the same thing: over use of a joint.

It can have other causes, though, for example as part of the rheumatic state or a generalized infection. In tendinitis, there is usually damage to the sheath, the tiny sleeve-like structure through which tendons pass to attach to muscles.

Hands are vulnerable because of the many uses to which they are put. In tennis they can be damaged by unaccustomed stress, especially in beginners. For that reason tendinitis probably runs neck and neck with "tennis elbow." Women seem more vulnerable to all varieties of tendinitis than men. "Trigger thumb" is a variation on the tendinitis theme. When the joint is flexed a snap occurs and the joint is "stuck" in position until straightened. As with other forms of tendinitis, treatment is with rest and application of heat. However, trigger finger is often a special case, where the tendon sheath I spoke of is too narrow to allow passage. It can be corrected surgically.

Most tendinitis produces sharp pain when the affected joint is moved a certain way. In stubborn cases or when it is untreated for any length of time there can be a laying down of calcium in the joint, which compounds the problem. Here again, surgery may be needed to remove the calcium deposit. Hydrocortisone injections locally can also be used to relieve stubborn cases.

Fortunately, most tendinitis can be treated successfully. But the best way to avoid it is never to subject joints to sudden or prolonged activity to which they are not accustomed. Work up to it slowly, whether it's tennis or typing.

On balance — I suppose these unpleasant joint problems are an acceptable price to pay for the positive effects of exercise. Direct participation in sports — providing it's not overdone — is better than TV armchair participation.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a woman become pregnant from a man who says he suffers from "psychogenic aspermia"? — Mrs. L.H.

I haven't heard that phrase. Aspermia means the absence of sperm or semen. The word psychogenic means a psychologically caused condition. Both could add up to old-fashioned "impotence" or "infertility." Better ask the man involved what he means and what his doctor says about his potential for impregnating a woman.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had pain in my arm for seven months. It seems to be in the muscle halfway to my wrist. I have a portable washing machine with no wringer on it, so I have to squeeze clothes out by hand into the bathtub, rinse them, then squeeze them out again. It's quite a problem.

I have been to several doctors for shots, but it won't go away. I don't know what to do next. I know it isn't arthritis. What do you suggest? — Mrs. E.P.

I can't suggest such from your sketchy information. I wonder why you don't apply some of the money you are spending on shots, which are doing you no good, for a modern washing machine. At least you would get relief from that constant hand-wringing of clothes. In fact, that is most likely the cause of the problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a polyp (which was discovered in a Pap test recently) be removed in the doctor's office? — F.S.

Can be. If afflicted with problem fingernails or toenails, learn the practical, medically correct form of treatment. Write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of his booklet, "Solving Your Nail Problems," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: No one wants to believe more than I do, but I just can't believe that God is a loving God. There is just too much evil in the world. — W.P.

DEAR W.P.: Yes, there is a lot of evil in the world, and this makes a lot of people wonder whether or not God is really a God of love. Why then does the Bible say with such emphasis that God loves us? What evidence is there?

The Bible actually says two things that might be helpful to you. First, it tells us that our present world is distorted and twisted. The Bible says God created the world. "And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (Genesis 1:31). But something happened to it. While the Bible does not give us too many details, it tells us that sin entered the world. Sin marred the creation God had made. Sin marred man, and man's fellowship with God was broken. We live in a broken world, and man must bear the responsibility for this. Our greatest problem is our sin — ourselves.

The second thing the Bible says is that God still loves us. Although we have cut ourselves off from Him, He loves us and wants us to be His children. How do we know? Because God himself came down on this earth, in the person of Jesus Christ, to tell us of God's love. And the greatest proof of that love is that Christ died on the cross for us. In a way I can never fully understand, God Himself took the punishment for my sins, so that I might be forgiven. Because Christ rose from the dead, I know that He was the Son of God, my Redeemer.

If you are sincere about wanting to believe, I suggest you ask God to show you Himself and then read carefully and prayerfully the gospel of John. It was written "that ye might believe" (John 20:31), and I believe God will answer that kind of prayer.

Should lead way

Around the rim

Susan Hampton

The new administration is proving to be a shrewd, tight running machine just as it said it would. Already in his fifth month of office, President Carter is quickly turning each of us into misers of one sort or another. And that is good.

AN OLD problem is again in a flutter because of Carter's proposed energy-saving ideas. The thought of how to conserve our dwindling oil reserves and natural gas deposits has crossed every American's mind since the Carter energy program's inception. We are thinking again and making new commitments towards saving the world for our grandchildren.

For a while, perhaps during the turbulent times of the Watergate scandal and succeeding actions, we as Americans had forgotten that we were using energy faster than it was being produced. The subject had almost slipped our minds as we were swept away by the drama of the moment.

With the arrival of Carter, we are again free to ponder our precarious destiny as a nation running on low supplies of fuel.

Certainly the United States is not alone in the world in the problem which surrounds us. Other countries are feeling the energy pinch more than we and some to a lesser extent.

The massive oil supplies of the Arab countries will eventually run out if we continue to exploit energy. Then what?

We need to develop some strong regulations affecting the use of energy in our homes, businesses and places of leisure to ensure we will still have these places in the future.

In our homes, we need more efficient appliances to use.

The current ones use an alarming amount of energy even though the recent models claim to be energy-saving devices. With technology advancing as fast as it is, every year more energy can be saved with better made appliances.

The refrigerator uses a lot of energy to keep it cooling and freezing our foods and air conditioners in our homes are well-known sources of energy waste. Carter, just as Ford before him, has encouraged us to turn down our cooling systems, for a little less wasted energy, and we, in turn, receive a little less cost on our electricity and gas bills. Indeed, such an offer is hard to resist.

In our businesses, many times lights and office machines are left on all night. This can be eliminated simply by a little forethought. And why can't maids of large office buildings clean up during the day when business people are at work instead of waiting until the middle of the night when lights are needed?

AT PLACES we go to relax and have fun, such as swimming pools, baseball parks and amusement parks, energy can be reduced by the ton. Heated swimming pools are extravagant and useless. If we have to, swimming can be limited by law to an outdoor, summer activity.

Sports such as baseball and football can and I believe should be limited to the daylight hours. The big time amusement parks probably burn energy by the ton a minute. Something could be done, not to eliminate them, of course, but to conserve, conserve.

We should follow Carter's plans, not as good Americans, but as responsible people who have always led the way in the world as good thinkers and doers.

O'Neill's high marks

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, the great grizzly bear of the House, loomed massively behind the marble rostrum. He surveyed the House floor with an imperious eye and rapped his gavel for order. Then he slumped into his throne-like leather chair and, with studied detachment, began leafing through the House calendar.

On the floor below, an Alabama congressman whispered to a colleague, indicating the Speaker: "He's a good ol' boy." It was the ultimate compliment that a Southerner could pay a Boston politician.

DURING HIS FIRST four months as Speaker, the bear-hugging, back-slapping O'Neill has won the respect of his colleagues. In the process, he has also emerged as the second most powerful man in Washington.

He is too much of a Boston politician to behave otherwise. His natural environment is a smoke-filled backroom. He enthusiastically contributes to the pollution by blowing out great billows of cigar smoke. His massive bulk always dominates the room, with his lion's mane of white hair the most visible landmark through the smog.

Tip O'Neill is Democrat, Catholic and Irish in that order. He is a tower of affability, full of goodwill and Irish songs. Yet this genial friend of the people has an inner toughness tempered by the rough-and-tumble of Boston politics.

We have talked to two dozen congressional leaders about their new Speaker. To encourage, we promised not to identify them. Almost to a man, they praised O'Neill as a strong leader who has taken full charge of the House.

But they had their criticisms, which our reporters, Marek Smolonsky and Jack Mitchell, took up with him during a lengthy interview.

PERHAPS THE SPEAKER'S greatest weakness, in the opinion of his House colleagues, is that he's too parochial. He is inclined, they say, to put Boston ahead of the nation. "Tip hasn't shown that he can rise above local issues," one colleague put it.

O'Neill shrugged off the criticism. "Every Member of Congress looks out for the economic interests of his home district," he snorted. "But," he insisted. "I'm a national legislator and always have been."

Others complained about O'Neill's political style. "He'll never escape the vestiges of his Boston political background," said one congressman. The Speaker conceded that the characterization was accurate but claimed his Boston political training was his greatest strength.

"I'm a door-opener," he said. "That's my life-style." His backroom manner, his ability to strike a deal, his give-and-take operation — these were the secrets of his success, he said.

Despite O'Neill's long legislative experience going back 41 years to the Massachusetts legislature, several congressmen agreed that he doesn't have a strong grasp of the issues. "He's more a politician than a tactician," explained a Midwestern congressman.

The Speaker conceded that he isn't a "floor legislator" and that he relies upon colleagues with a better technical command of complex legislation. "But," he said, "I'll take to the floor when I have to."

Other House Members accused O'Neill of not being assertive enough at the White House. They charged that he began pushing the President's energy program even before it reached Congress. "Not true," retorted Tip. He began boosting an energy program, he said, before Carter became President.

THERE HAVE BEEN CONTRARY reports in the press that the Speaker has been overbearing at the White House, that he doesn't get along with the President. O'Neill confessed he had turned down several invitations to dine with Carter at the White House. The Speaker said that he had intended no offense but that White House aides apparently had been upset. He attributed the press reports to them.

He said he actually had "great affection" for Carter. "We're part of the same team, and I'm a team player." As long as Carter is the "leader of our party," said O'Neill, "he's the man I'm going to work with."

Other Democratic colleagues accused the Speaker of being overly accommodating in order not to offend a ny political faction. "I'm a listener," he replied affably. "That's one of my virtues." But, he cautioned, "I know how to be firm without vacillating."

Her marriage goes to pot

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — After admitting that her marriage had literally gone to pot, a San Diego woman was granted a divorce, $200 a month in child support and was urged to testify before a Duval County grand jury about her ex-husband's activities.

The husband's alleged activities came to light during questioning of the woman by Judge Ricardo Garcia.

Judge: "What does your husband do?"
 Woman: "He is self-employed."
 Judge: "What does he do? How does he earn his money? Is he a truck driver, equipment operator, a laborer?"
 Woman: "No, he is self-employed. He moves around a lot."

 Judge: "All right, when he is moving around a lot, how does he make money. I need to know how much so I can determine if $200 a month child support is fair."
 Woman: "Well, he sells marijuana."
 Judge, after a pause: "You realize this is serious?"
 Woman: "Yes, sir. I talked to him about it a lot and that's why I want a divorce."
 The judge granted the divorce and then told her: "Now that you are no longer married... I suggest you go before the grand jury and tell them anything you may know about your husband's activities. It would be intolerable for this court to have knowledge of criminal acts and have nothing done about them."
 Dist. Atty. F. A. Cerda said Tuesday he would subpoena the woman to appear before a grand jury next week.

Bentsen may get judicial plum

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a bill creating 10 new federal district judgeships in Texas becomes law, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., may land one of the choicest political plums ever handed to a senator.

President Carter has decided not to tamper with a tradition that the senator whose party is in the White House gets to name the federal district judges for his state.

The bill was passed by the Senate Tuesday and would also create a new 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, comprised only of Texas and Louisiana. It has yet to gain House approval.

President Carter has said that he will appoint commissions to make recommendations for appellate court posts, in an effort to take politics out of those appointments. Bentsen said Tuesday he would not even make recommendations to the commission for the 11th Circuit, although he might veto the nomination of a Texan who was "totally unacceptable" to him.

Bentsen is liable to have his hands full anyway in coming up with 10 names to recommend to Carter for the new district judgeships.

Currently, Texas is part of the 5th Circuit, which stretches across the Gulf Coast to Florida and Georgia. The new 11th Circuit court would include the six Texas and Louisiana judges now on the 5th Circuit, plus six new ones.

If the House goes along, there would be five new spots in the Southern district, three in the Northern district, and one each in the Eastern and Western districts. Texas gets more new judges than any other state because it has the highest number of cases per judge.

Bentsen said he does not plan to appoint commissions in each district to recommend candidates, as some senators are doing. He said he will solicit recommendations from around the state. He will submit the recommendations to the State Bar Association and "other groups" for their opinions. And he will ask for background checks on the finalists.

A federal judge is paid $57,500 per year and has a lifetime tenure.

Farm Carter veto warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed bill containing subsidies for farmers probably will have to be whittled down by the House to avoid a veto by President Carter.

Before passing the bill 69 to 18 Tuesday, the Senate rejected arguments that it should trim the price tag on the measure to conform to the budget resolution passed by Congress only 10 days earlier.

"If we are going to balance the budget in the next decade, as the Carter administration has proposed, then we must face up to the fact that this bill would go against that goal," Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, said.

However, Muskie's amendments to lower crop subsidies were defeated on 50-45 and 51-43 votes.

The bill would cost an average of about $4 billion annually over the next five years in crop supports for wheat, feed grains, cotton, rice and soybeans.

The administration wants about a half that and Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has said that the President would veto a bill with the levels of the Senate bill.

Before the votes on the Muskie amendments, farm state senators said that the crop subsidies likely would be reduced before any bill is sent to the White House.

"We still have a conference (committee) to go to," Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., said. "Adjustments can still be made."

The pending House bill would set the supports at about $2.3 billion.

The farm state senators said the Muskie amendments would single out farmers for sacrifices to meet budget goals.

"The farmer cannot make a living at the support prices" proposed by Muskie, said Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M.

Horsemen club maps holiday trailride

The Howard County Youth Horsemen Club is sponsoring an overnight Memorial Day trailride. All interested riders will leave the Buford Hull home on the Snyder Highway at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 29.

The group will ride to the Higginbotham Ranch corrals on the Gail Road where it will spend the night.

On Monday morning, they will saddle up and ride into Gail where they will visit the Borden County Museum.

All riders need to furnish a sack lunch for the Sunday evening meal, and bedding for the campout.

There will be a charge of $1 for the Monday breakfast and lunch. For additional information, call the Hulls at 7-8814.

Invitational playday data

The Dawson County 4-H Horse Club has scheduled its Open Invitational Playday for July 9 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Dawson County Rodeo Grounds. Tom Gibbs of Wichita Falls will be the judge.

Entries are $5 per class with no entries being changed after fees are paid. Mrs. Albert Culp, 1608 North 14th Street, Lamesa, telephone 806-872-7019 will accept entries by mail or by telephone. Entry blanks are available at County Extension offices throughout the area.

The overall high point junior or senior will receive a saddle; all-around peewee, junior and senior will receive a hand crafted Navajo saddle blanket each and the reserve champion mare and gelding winners will each receive a trophy tray.

All 4-H members are urged to mail their entries to Mrs. Culp prior to the Horse Show so they can be numbered and posted. They may pay their entry fee and pick up their number when they arrive. Entries will be accepted from any 4-H member who is presently active in a 4-H club.

Guards targets for murder Lockup tactic

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Washington State Penitentiary officials want to release 1,372 prisoners locked up for 45 days because they fear a riot. Prison guards refuse — they fear they'll be murdered in retaliation for the lockup.

But two decisions issued Tuesday in Thurston County Superior Court cleared the way for a resolution of the impasse, and a prison spokesman said inmates would be released gradually, beginning today.

Judge Gerry Alexander refused to grant a guard-sought order to continue the lockup. He also denied a motion from the inmates that they be released immediately.

The lockup at the maximum security facility was ordered April 10 by Supt. B.J. Rhay after hundreds of inmates set fires and looted the prison store.

They were reacting to a search of the prison that turned up barrels of contraband drugs and homemade weapons, officials said.

Since then, prisoners have been fed TV dinners twice a day and allowed out of cells in small groups once a week for bathing.

The lockup tactic was given as the reason for a terrorist bomb that exploded earlier this month at a suburban Seattle bank. The George Jackson Brigade, which the FBI says is made up of ex-convicts, said the bomb was planted to bring attention to the complaints of the inmates. No one was injured in the blast.

Rumors of a "hit list" of guards who would be murdered once inmates were freed began to circulate during the lockup.

"There have been numerous threats against the lives and safety of my clients," said guard attorney Ed Younglove. "They feel that it would not be safe for them to work within the walls of the institution with the lockup lifted."

A prison spokesman said the administration knew of no "hit list."

Rhay, fearing a major riot by the confined prisoners, ordered them released beginning Tuesday morning. However, to get the prison back to normal status, working inmates had to be released ahead of time. Three officers refused to release 18 inmate cooks, and about 130 prison employees walked out in their support Monday.

On Tuesday night, only eight guards of a normal 35-man crew agreed to work. Thirty State Patrol officers guarded the prison, and Rhay said dissident guards would be suspended.

Power, prestige, pictures

By MARK BROWNING
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Committee leaders in the Texas House enjoy a number of advantages that "regular" state representatives do not have, among them being power, prestige and pictures.

Pictures? Well, actually there are pictures, press releases and gavels — courtesy of House Speaker Bill Clayton and Texas taxpayers.

Cost estimates provided by Clayton's office indicate in excess of $300 has been spent to send out pictures and news releases to hometown papers of committee leaders showing them receiving a gavel from Clayton.

The money comes from the Speaker's Office budget appropriations press secretary George Works said. That means public funds.

Publicity from the Speaker's Office is provided for committee chairmen, vice-chairmen and vice-chairmen of subcommittees on appropriate matters. There are a total of 71 positions to publicize. A few representatives are officers on more than one committee. Works estimates that 600 news releases and pictures were sent out concerning Clayton's presentations of gavels to committee leaders.

Each photo was obtained from the House Media Services office at a cost of 30 cents, Works said. That doesn't include the state salaries of Media Service employees. Works puts the photo cost at $180.

Each news release costs approximately three cents to print for a total expenditure of $18, not including the staff time of Speaker's Office employees who prepared the releases.

The releases and pictures were mailed first class at a total cost of $78.

Gavels for the presentation by Clayton to committee chairmen were purchased from the Texas Department of Corrections, but Works said he was not sure of the cost. Not including public employees salaries, or the cost of the gavels, $278 in public funds was spent for the publicity.

Press releases and pictures were mailed to most hometown newspapers, Works said, with the exception of big city papers which will not use them.

'A day without human rights is like a day without sunshine'

HOUSTON (AP) — The State Bar of Texas has dropped plans to have Anita Bryant sing at its Houston convention next month because of the entertainer's recent involvement over the Equal Rights Amendment, which she opposes.

State Bar officials said the cancellation was not related to Miss Bryant's campaign in Florida against a series of proposals backed by homosexuals.

A brochure said Miss Bryant would sing June 16 during the President's Dinner, a social highlight of the bar's annual convention.

"We received a number of complaints, including some from women lawyers and decided to select someone less controversial," said a spokesman for the Texas Bar. "Her views regarding women's rights had a lot more to do with it than her opposition to homosexuals."

Area counties gross sales

According to Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock, Howard County produced $164,258,342 in gross sales during the fourth quarter of 1976. It was 26th in the state, ranked by gross sales per county.

Howard County also reported $78,518,825 in gross taxable sales, $56,053,057 in deductions, $3,113,863 in use tax purchases, and $25,579,632 subject to tax. A total of 911 outlets reported to the state.

Other area counties gross sales included Dawson, $35,286,789 and Mitchell, $10,010,896.

Ezzell votes on winning side

The Texas House narrowly passed, 64-63, a bill to exempt state licensing homes for children operated by religious groups.

Voting for the measure was Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder, who represents Howard County in the Legislature.

An unsuccessful move was made to get the Senate to consider a bill to have a non-voting student and non-voting faculty member on the board of regents of state supported schools. The vote was 16-15.

Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, who represents Howard County in the upper house, voted for the proposal.

Embarrassed investigators

WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Wilkes County deputies harvested 131 marijuana plants — all growing under their noses on the courthouse lawn.

Grant Sebastian, courthouse janitor, noticed the plants sprouting among flowers and shrubbery near a memorial.

Embarrassed investigators speculated that a prankster may have scattered marijuana seeds around the monument.

Kindergarten information

Pressing problems of campus reorganization, staff assignments, and related problem areas, have prevented the opportunity of conducting the annual kindergarten round-up that the Big Spring Independent School District traditionally holds in May of each year.

Consequently, parents of kindergarten-age children are asked to watch and listen for announcements regarding pre-registration prior to the opening of school in August. A concerted effort will be made to pre-register all eligible kindergarten children after Aug. 1 but before school begins Aug. 22.

To be eligible for kindergarten, a child must be five years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1977. A birth certificate must be presented for documentation at the time a child is registered for kindergarten. Also, the following immunizations are required by state law:

—Polio — "At least 3 doses of vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday."
—Diphtheria-Tetanus — "Minimum of 3 doses, with at least one dose having been received since the fourth birthday."

—Measles (Rubeola) — "One dose or proof of illness (through age 11)."

—Rubella (3-Day or German Measles) — "One dose (through age 11)."

On the polio and diphtheria-tetanus immunizations, "the law specifically requires that at least one dose of each of these vaccines must have been received since the fourth birthday. This is the state law and takes precedence over any medical interpretation or personal opinion of any physician."

In order for a student to enter and/or remain in school this requirement must be met, along with the other requirements." (Communication from Texas Department of Health Resources - May, 1977).

Plans are to offer both a full-day, full-year, and half-day, full-year kindergarten program beginning with the 1977-78 school year. To be eligible to attend the full-day program, a child must not only meet the age and immunization requirements but must also qualify as "educationally handicapped." According to Texas Education Agency guidelines, an "educationally handicapped" pupil is defined as "one who lacks English language proficiency or whose family income is below subsistence levels." Generally speaking, any pupil who qualified this past year for the Head Start program would qualify for the full-day kindergarten program.

Any pupil may attend either the full-day or half-day kindergarten program. However, if a pupil who is not identified as "educationally handicapped" attends the full-day program, parents would pay tuition for the equivalent of one-half the cost. Conversely, any "educationally handicapped" pupil who attends the half-day program would have only one-half day of kindergarten service available.

All means of publicity available will be used to inform parents about the times and places kindergarten enrollment will be held in August.

Journalism scholarships

SNYDER — LaDonna Powell, Big Spring; Stacy Payne, Stanton; and Connie Jones and Debbie Sutton, Colorado City, have been among students awarded journalism scholarships to Western Texas College here.

Diane Wright, Brownfield, a sophomore, will be editor of The Western Texan, the bi-weekly student paper.

Ms. Jones will be editor of Phase Seven, the campus-magazine-yearbook published for fall and spring semesters.

Ms. Powell, a photography major and journalism major, will be staff photographer and artist for Unity, campus literary magazine.

Ms. Sutton, a journalism major and photography minor, is a WTC freshman. She served on The Western Texan staff this year.

Ms. Payne will be Western Texan feature editor and Phase Seven assistant editor this fall.

Local student selected for $500 scholarship

Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard Jr. has notified Gary Wayne Howell that he has been selected for one of the eight Texas AFL-CIO $500 scholarships given to Union members' sons and daughters, based on qualifications and ability.

Gary Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howell, 2503 Carol, Big Spring. Kenneth Howell is a member of Local 826, International Union of Operating Engineers.

Applications for the eight Texas AFL-CIO Scholarships were received from all Union members' sons and daughters throughout Texas affiliated with the Texas AFL-CIO.

The Big Spring Central Labor Council Screening Committee sent to the Texas AFL-CIO seven applicants from Local 826 members' sons and daughters for consideration for the scholarship.

The Big Spring Central Labor Council Screening Committee members were Mrs. Bert Bedford, State Representative Mike Ezzell,

GARY WAYNE HOWELL

County Judge Bill Tune, Cecil Riordan and Loyd Arnold.

Gary Wayne is a member of the National Honor Society and was in the top 10 per cent of his class. He was a member of the Student Council, president of the senior class, Tri-Hi-Y, and captain of the varsity golf team.

Gary Wayne has tentatively been accepted at Texas Tech University for the fall semester.

MOTORCYCLE MINISTRY — The Rev. Thomas C. Pitman sits aboard his "Gospel Goose" in front of his church at Crawfordville, Ark. Instead of traveling to frontier communities of the Old West, he'll find his congregation at motorcycle rallies. He's joining the Christian Motorcycle Association.

Cycle circuit rider

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. Thomas Pitman is preparing to strap on a motorcycle helmet, stow his Bible in a saddle bag and board his "Gospel Goose" to become a modern-day circuit rider.

Instead of traveling to frontier communities of the Old West, he'll find his congregation at motorcycle rallies. He's joining the Christian Motorcycle Association. "I feel like God called me into this," said the Rev. Mr. Pitman, 47 and a grandfather. "God began to speak to my heart about it."

The association was founded two years ago by another Arkansas minister, the Rev. Herb Shreve of Hatfield, who said the nondenominational group now has members in every state.

They visit rallies, which usually are weekend events, on Sunday mornings and begin preaching, usually about an hour before the program starts, Shreve said.

"I just preach. I don't preach any denominational doctrine, but just the salvational doctrine that you must be born again," he said. "Nobody has ever refused us."

Gerber merger hits snag

WHITE CLOUD, Mich. (AP) — Gerber Products Co. has lost another round in its effort to avoid takeover by a Texas food firm.

Newaygo County Circuit Court Judge Harold Van Domelon revoked Tuesday a restraining order he issued last Friday against Anderson, Clayton Co. of Houston.

Gerber, based in Fremont, Mich., had sought a court order forcing the Michigan Corporation and Securities Bureau to hold hearings on the $330 million takeover bid.

But Van Domelon said bureau director Hugh Makens handled the offer "properly and with discretion." The judge did, however, grant a two-day stay against the offer to permit Gerber to appeal his ruling.

In statements today, Gerber officials said they intended to appeal Tuesday's ruling to the Michigan Court of Appeals, and Anderson, Clayton said in Texas that unless otherwise prevented, it intended to proceed with the proposed offer immediately after the two-day extension of the restraining order expired.

Anderson, Clayton has offered $40 a share for all outstanding Gerber stock. Gerber has objected, saying the takeover would result in a monopoly in the baby food industry.

Gerber also has complained of "inadequacies" in Anderson, Clayton's statements about the purchase offer, and accused the Texas company of "media meddling" in its descriptions of the offer.

Gerber still has a federal court suit pending over the takeover.

Anderson, Clayton has filed a countersuit seeking dismissal of the Gerber action. The Texas company also asked the federal court to ban further Gerber comments about the offer until Gerber corrects earlier statements, Anderson, Clayton insisted were false.

Agnew was 'going to get it'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, who fought his own accusers to the brink of impeachment, says he never had much hope that his vice president could survive the charges that finally pushed him from office in disgrace.

In the fourth of his interviews by television personality David Frost, to be aired tonight, Nixon says that when he learned of the Justice Department's case in 1973 against Spiro T. Agnew, "There wasn't any question ... that he was frankly going to get it."

In tonight's segment Nixon also says he decided against pardoning former aides John D. Ehrlichman and H.R. Haldeman for their involvement in the Watergate scandal because "If my last act (as president) was to pardon everybody ... that would inflame the situation and also would obviously look like the ultimate cover-up."

The interview is the fourth and last of the current series, which is expected to pay Nixon more than $1 million. Frost taped 29 hours with Nixon and the $600,000 plus share-of-profits contracts allow one more hour-long show, but it won't be aired until fall.

The show's producers were hoping tonight's topics, also including Nixon's thoughts about his own pardon from President Ford and matters relating to his final days in office, would wind up the series with a rebound in the audience ratings.

According to new figures from nationwide Nielsen surveys, the first interview, based on Watergate, drew an audience of 17.3 million homes, or 41 per cent of all viewers during that period on May 4. The second show, on world affairs, dropped to 8.5 million homes or 25 per cent.

A Frost spokesman says the third show, a week ago, probably drew under 20 per cent of the audience. Industry standards say it takes a 30 per cent audience for a show to be considered a ratings success.

In tonight's interview, Nixon says his handling of the Agnew case was "pragmatic" without putting himself in the position of a judge.

The former president, who at the time had plenty of his own problems because of Watergate, says he asked

Agnew point-blank on Sept. 25, 1973, whether he was innocent and the vice president replied that he was.

But, Nixon said, Henry E. Petersen, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, told him the case against Agnew was strong. The department had put together a 40-page statement detailing kickback payments from engineering firms to the vice president. Agnew later was allowed to plead no contest to a single charge of tax evasion and was placed on three years probation.

TEACHER LEADERS — Mrs. Carolyn Harrell of Gonzales, state president-elect of the 140,000-member Texas State Teachers Association, confers with Lynn C. Hise of Big Spring, who will begin a one-year term as president of TSTA District XVIII June 1.

Dad kills son, self

RICHARDSON, Tex. (AP) — Police said Eugene Murff, 49, took his own life Tuesday evening after he shot and killed his son David, 16, in this Dallas suburb.

Officers tried in vain to talk to the father as the body of his son lay on a porch next door for nearly three hours while they surrounded the Murff residence.

Until they stormed the house and found Murff dead in the garage, police said they had no indication he had also shot himself in the chest. Tear gas was fired into the place beforehand.

Hise will head TSTA unit June 1

Lynn C. Hise, interim superintendent in the Big Spring Independent School District, will become president of District XVIII of the Texas State Teachers Association June 1.

Hise, of 2225 Lynn Drive, has been district president elect for the past year. He will succeed Mrs. Jo Ellen Meeks of Odessa as president.

Counties covered by District XVIII are Andrews, Borden, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Loving, Martin, Midland, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton and Winkler.

Neighbors told of seeing David dash from the house and drop after the father fired two shotgun blasts. They said Murff then darted back inside.

Mrs. Murff and her daughter had left while David and his father were arguing, investigators reported.

Associates described Murff, a former Richardson police reservist, as quiet and good-mannered.

Energy Texas utilities view

WASHINGTON — Forcing Texas Electric utilities to connect with other electric companies.

Austin declared that such connections would not benefit Texas consumers in any way. Such ties would, in fact, threaten the reliability of electric service.

"Electric utilities in Texas have designed an efficient, reliable and economical network of electrical facilities to serve their respective customers," Austin said.

"This interconnected system has been a model of efficiency and its freedom from blackouts or brownouts has been unparalleled."

Connecting the Texas system with other systems, he said, "would cost the customers a lot of money and threaten the reliability of service within Texas with absolutely no corresponding benefits to the public."

Reliability would be threatened, according to Austin, because the transmission facilities in Texas were never designed for massive interconnection.

PROPER TREATMENT — Hypertension, sometimes called high blood pressure, can be controlled. Getting a blood pressure test is the first step in detection of the sometimes fatal disease. John DeNardo, clinical pharmacist at the VA Hospital, has his blood pressure checked by Ms. Marianne Simpson, registered nurse at the hospital.

Hypertension painless, sometimes fatal disease

By SUSAN HAMPTON
There are no symptoms, and no pain is involved in the disease, according to John DeNardo, clinical pharmacist at the local Veterans' Administration Hospital.
But from it can lead to stroke, coronary disease and sometimes death. The disease is hypertension, sometimes called high blood pressure, and an estimated 6,867 residents of Howard County have it, according to a national pharmaceutical company's survey.
The survey was made by correlating Census Bureau data with information disclosed by the survey on the sex, age and race of those with high blood pressure. The data were released in connection with the Federal government's designation of May as National High Blood Pressure Month.

Only about 1,376 of the above figure have their blood pressures under control, the survey indicated, which leads to other, more serious problems for the individual.
The only way to detect the disease, DeNardo said, is to have the individual's blood pressure taken. Then if it is indeed high, treatment must follow.
The Kentwood Senior Citizen's Center and the YMCA here check blood pressures free of charge to the entire community, according to Ms. Marianne Simpson, registered nurse and nursing instructor at the VA Hospital.

The senior citizen's center has a program which during one day of the month blood pressure is checked. The YMCA, on the other hand, Ms. Simpson said, can check an individual's blood pressure anytime.
"The persons who check blood pressures do not have to be registered nurses or doctors, as many believe," DeNardo said. The people at the centers are laymen who have learned how to use the gauge, which, he said, takes about 15 minutes.
The persons who become skilled in administering blood pressure tests are normally called blood pressure scanners, Ms. Simpson added.
Someday, she said, blood pressure cuffs will be able to be bought in stores, for home use. Everyone should be able to monitor their blood pressure, she said.
An estimated 23 million Americans are living with hypertension, which can affect kidneys, heart, eyes, arteries and the brain, which may cause the person to lose a part of his clear thinking processes and memory retention, DeNardo said.

Start Adding Up Husband's Assets

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I married an older man after waiting for three years for him to get a divorce. He settled out of court, giving his wife practically everything she asked for, including a beautiful home and all the furnishings.
He says he wants her to have the house for his children's sake. (They have three teenagers.)
Last summer he invited his three children to spend two weeks with us in our small apartment, but they liked it so much they stayed a month! Now he wants to do it again this year.
I would leave tomorrow, but I have a 7-month-old baby and another one on the way.
He treats me well, and I'm not exactly starving to death, but it bugs me the way his ex-wife and three children always come first.
Should I get out now while I'm still young and have my looks, since talking to him does no good? Or should I be quiet because he also provides me with a good home?
NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Nowhere have you mentioned that you love him. It appears that you are concerned mainly with money, material things and getting the short end of the deal. Only you can decide whether you're getting more out of this marriage than you're putting into it. But I suggest that you do some adding and subtracting before you do any more multiplying.

DEAR ABBY: Would you say it was proper to "neck" (or whatever you want to call it) with your ex-husband? And how about going beyond that point?
He still turns me on.
LYNNE

DEAR LYNNE: It is just as proper to "neck" (if that's what you mean, that's what I'll call it) with an ex-husband as it is to neck with any other single man. However, past relationships confer no special privileges.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a senior in high school, and my problem is my best friend's brother. (I'll call him Tom.) There's nothing wrong with Tom and there's nothing wrong with me, but my friend has been pushing her brother on me, and he's getting too serious.
In the first place he's too old for me. I know most girls my age think it's cool to date older guys, but I don't. Tom just got out of the Navy, and he's pretty wild. I went out with him a few times, and now he acts like he owns me.
Tom's sister has been doing all she can to build up this thing between her brother and me.
Is there some way I can discourage Tom without getting my best friend mad at me? She thinks her brother is tops. Maybe he is, but his kisses are too mushy and he's too fast for me. Thanks.
HANGING LOOSE

DEAR HANGING: The direct approach is the best one. Tell Tom you like him as a friend, but that's all. And if he can't accept that, quit dating him. And if his sister gets "mad" at you, get yourself another best friend.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

1941 Study Club awards Miss Choate scholarship

Miss Laurie Choate was awarded a scholarship from the 1941 Study Club at the club's May meeting.
Mrs. Johnny Justiss, president, presented Miss Choate with the scholarship. Miss Choate, a May graduate of Coahoma High School, plans to use the scholarship this summer at Howard College.
Mrs. Justiss installed officers for the coming year during the meeting. They are Mrs. Jack Cauble, president; Mrs. Quail Dobbs, vice president; and Mrs. Lawrence Davis, secretary-treasurer.
Mrs. Polly Mays presented the program on the W.T. Flanagan family, pioneer ranchers near Moss Creek.
The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Carroll Choate. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Grady Tindol and Mrs. Johnny Zitterkopf.

The English's have another daughter, Leigh Elizabeth, who was born in Big Spring in 1975.

Miss Cook is honoree

Miss Linda Cook, bride-elect of Curtis Harbin, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Gene Gresham Friday evening, May 20.
Fabric fashioned rosebud corsages were presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Horace Cook.
Guests were served from a table on which silver and crystal appointments were used. An arrangement of fabric fashioned poppies in bridal colors centered the table.
Hostesses were Mrs. Bob Newsom, Mrs. Delmer Hartin, Mrs. Walter McWhirter, Mrs. D.D. Johnston, Mrs. Benny Porter, Mrs. Benny McGonagill, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. A.J. Pirkie, Mrs. Ross Callihan and Mrs. Gresham.
The couple will be married in the Baptist Temple Church June 18 with Brother Bill Hatler officiating.

MISS TANYA CLINTON

State competition slated in Fort Worth June 20-26

Miss Tanya Clinton will be among several Big Spring girls who will be entered in state competition in the Southern States Pageant in Fort Worth June 20-26.
The Southern States Pageant was organized in the 1950's to promote poise, posture control and good grooming through a program of pageant modeling for girls through age 17.
Tanya will be competing in the Dainty Dixie Doll category, as well as vying for the title of Miss Photogenic.
Tanya was the first runner-up and Miss Photogenic in the Our Little Miss Pageant in Big Spring in 1975 and 1976. She later placed sixth in the talent category in the state Our Little Miss Contest in Waco in 1976.
In 1977, she was the first runner-up and was named Miss Photogenic in the Southern States Beauty Pageant in Big Spring. She won first place in four fashion divisions.
She was also entered in district competition in Midland, where she was named Miss Dainty Dixie Doll, and won eight first places in fashion.
Several other Big Spring girls will be entered in the state competition. Winners in the Big Spring Southern States Pageant were Dawn Underwood, Tessa Underwood, Suzanne Bowers, Sheri Snodgrass and Karol Stevens.

Ridin' fence

Once a Thunderbird

with Marj Carpenter

Once a Thunderbird, always a Thunderbird. When that precision group performed here Sunday before a record-breaking crowd, several autographed photographs of the pilots and planes were presented to special guests.

And on the bottom of the pile was one for Col. (ret.) Ralph Brooks of Big Spring, Capt. Charlie Carter of Luling made that presentation. Ralph was a member of the Thunderbird flying group back in 1962.

It's hard to say what an impact that group has on a crowd. I quit watching the expert flying for a while Sunday afternoon and started watching the crowd. They are even more flexible than a crowd at a tennis match where heads go back and forth and back and forth.

At an air show, heads go over, and up, then down, then over and up and back and around. And once in awhile, during a particularly startling maneuver, they all of a sudden all snap straight up.

The old jokes about people standing in New York City looking at the skyscrapers, until people could tell that you are from the country — have nothing on people viewing an air show.

Captain Carter, who was doing the narration, is from Luling. He said he goes around the country telling everybody he's from San Antonio, because it is too difficult to tell where Luling is located.

I talked to three of the flying group of five before they left the operations building. They had just attended a briefing.

Lt. Col. Dan Cherry of Marietta, Ga., is commander of the group and he said they do about 90 shows a season.

Capt. Joe Prater from Atlanta, Ga. and Captain John Lapointe from South Pasadena, Calif. said they had a real desire to be a member of the precision team prior to obtaining that recognition.

The trio stood around the hall and talked a while, completely relaxed, then said suddenly, "It's time. Let's go to the air show." And out the door they went to an admiring group of West Texas fans.

It's hard to say what the magic is about this group. I've covered several of their performances and each group has the same kind of calm, efficient, personable pilots.

Both the Thunderbirds and the Blue Angels have an uncanny ability to draw a crowd.

They are a long way from the old barnstorming days. This week, the papers have been filled with the 50-years-ago exploits of Charles Lindbergh. I was one year old at the time he flew to Paris.

When I was around three or four and my brother, five or six, we ran on foot across the Mercedes floodway where Lindbergh had landed briefly to check something on the motor of his plane. He talked to the 12 or so kids who quickly gathered and told us he was flying south of the border. My memories of it include the long run, the airplane and the rest of the memories are from what my brother said later.

The encyclopedia says that after he returned to the U.S. and was acclaimed for his Paris flight, he made a flying tour of 75 American cities. To quote the encyclopedia, "Thereafter, he flew to Mexico City and then made a good will tour of Central America and the West Indies."

It had to be during one of those trips that we were honored. We were actually beside ourselves with joy. My brother had a Lindbergh-like helmet and goggles and Mother couldn't get them off of him for days.

I had this feeling that I had really seen somebody wonderful, even though I was very small. I get this same kind of feeling when I see the Thunderbirds perform.

They won't be back to Webb so I may have to crank up and go to the nearest Air Base to see them perform again some other year.

But I may do it because I've become a pretty good neck craner — watching Thunderbirds out where I'm ridin' fence.

Seventh, eighth graders will register Tuesday

Registration for seventh and eighth graders planning to enroll in summer school here will be conducted in the lobby of the senior high school building from 9 a.m., until 12 noon Tuesday, May 31.

Two-hour classes will be offered to both seventh and eighth graders in Language Arts, Science, Mathematics and Social Studies from 8 until 10 a.m., and again from 10 a.m., until 12 noon. Registration fee will be $35 per course and will be payable at the May 31 registration. Students can take only two courses.

Courses begin Wednesday, June 1, and extend through Friday, July 8, with one holiday observance, Monday, July 4.

Problems relating to the payment of tuition can be discussed when the student reports for registration.

This is a new program and the demand by parents will determine whether the classes will 'make.'

Courses in Math and Reading will be offered at Moss Elementary for elementary students. The courses begin Wednesday, June 1, and continue through Friday, July 8, with time off Monday, July 4.

Potential Dallas Cowboys

I'm sorry, but the Dallas Cowboys are already in my blood, and since all the high school and area sports are over for a while, here's some "stuff" to begin your Cowboy scrapbook.

The Cowboys picked 14 players in the recent NFL draft, and though most of them probably won't make the team, here's who they are:

TONY DORSETT — Does that name sound vaguely familiar? He will make the team, you can take it to the bank. Coach Tom Landry says, "We have never had a back with this much breakaway ability."

Dorsett became an All-American as a freshman for Coach Johnny Majors and went on to rush for an all-time NCAA record of 6,082 yards. He was the first player ever to have three 1,500-yard-plus seasons (including 1,948 and 21 touchdowns as a senior), and the first to have four 1,000-yard seasons. He's 5-11, weighs 192 pounds and was born 4-7-54.

GLENN CARANO — "We think he is a terrific prospect," said Cowboy's scout Red Hickey. "Coach Landry thinks we will carry three quarterbacks and this kid is the type who could eventually battle Danny White when Roger Staubach gets through."

Carano holds all the Nevada-Las Vegas passing records and completed 337 of 636 passes for 5,095 yards and 37 touchdowns in four years. He is 6-3, weighs 195 pounds and was born 11-18-55.

TONY HILL — Wide receiver from Stanford. His four-year totals in college came to 140 receptions for 2,225 yards and 18 touchdowns.

He broke all of (San Francisco 49er) Gene Washington's records at Stanford and is considered a tremendous all-around athlete. Hill is 6-2, weighs 197 pounds and was born 6-23-56.

VAL BELCHER — A guard from Houston. "We judge linemen on quickness, agility, pass protection and pulling ability," said Red Hickey, "and Belcher has all of those." He is 6-3, weighs 250 pounds and was born 7-6-54.

GUY BROWN — A linebacker from Houston. A possible "sleeper" pick to the Cowboys. Brown played only one year of high school ball and was injured most of his sophomore and junior years at Houston. The Dallas organization sees him as a real prospect as a linebacker.

He is 6-4, weighs 215 pounds and was born 6-1-55.

ANDY FREDERICK — Offensive lineman from New Mexico. Frederick, who the Cowboys have already signed, played defensive tackle at New Mexico, but Coach Landry plans to try him in the offensive line when training camp comes around.

He is 6-6, weighs 241 pounds and was born 7-25-54.

JIM COOPER — Tackle from Temple. He has size and the Pokes took him on potential. He is 6-5, weighs 252 pounds and was born 9-28-55.

DAVID STALLS — A defensive tackle from Northern Colorado. He was an excellent pass rusher as a defensive player in college, but also may be given a shot at offensive lineman. He is 6-4, weighs 236 pounds and was born 9-19-55.

AL CLEVELAND — A defensive lineman from Pacific. He's definitely a gamble. Only played one year of football... a basketball player who is the fastest lineman the Cowboys have ever drafted. He is 6-4, weighs 246 pounds and was born 7-1-54.

FRED WILLIAMS — A running back from Arizona State. Not much of a chance against the likes of Dorsett, but gained 3,381 yards in his college career, averaging 5.4 a carry. He is 5-10, weighs 189 pounds and was born 9-2-55.

MARK CANTRELL — A center from North Carolina. He's not spectacular, but the Pokes felt that at that particular point in the draft they needed a center and he was the best one available. He is 6-3, 252 pounds and was born 9-1-54.

STEVE DEBERG — A quarterback from San Jose State. Offensive Player of the Year in the PAC 8, setting nine club records. He reads defenses extremely well. He is 6-2, weighs 205 pounds and was born 1-19-54.

DON WARDLOW — A tight end from Washington. The Pokes are going to build him into an offensive lineman, a position they definitely feel is weak next year. He is 6-6, weighs 230 pounds and was born 4-13-55.

GREG PETERS — An offensive lineman from California. The Pokes will try him at offensive guard. He is 6-5, weighs 257 pounds and was born 4-27-55.

There are also 46 other free agents who will be trying to make the grade in addition to the almost 40 coming back from last year. That's 90 players and only 40 can wear the star next year.

PROGRESS REPORT ON INJURED JOCKEY — Mrs. Myra Cauthen, right gets a report on the progress of her son apprentice jockey Steve Cauthen, who was injured in a triple spill Monday at Belmont Park, from Dr. I. Ronald Shenker, physician in charge of adolescent services for Long Island Jewish Hospital in New York, Tuesday. His mother says Cauthen, though out of horse racing for perhaps as long as six weeks with a broken arm, already is raring to return to the occupation which made him a national figure at 17.

Hawks ink Randolph

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

Howard College Head Basketball Coach and Athletic Director Harold Wilder announced Monday the signing of 6-2, 170-pound blue chipper Robert Randolph from Memphis Treadwell High School in Memphis, Tennessee.

Randolph was one of the most sought-after athletes from Tennessee this year and the awards he has received throughout his basketball career are numerous.

Robert led his team in scoring and assists for the past two years, scored 700 points his senior year, hitting 50 per cent of his field goals for a 19.5 average per game.

Out of the 35 high schools in Memphis, Randolph made first team All-Memphis. He was selected to All-State in Class AA, made the All-District 16 Tournament team, was on the first team of All-Region 8, played in the All-State tournament, leading his team to the state championship, and was named Most Valuable Player at the State Tournament to crown his achievements.

In leading his team to the Delta League Championship and subsequent State Championship, Robert averaged six assists and eight rebounds a game. Treadwell's record the past season was 30-7 Tennessee

ROBERT RANDOLPH
Latest HC signing

Randolph visited Tulsa University recently where McLendon is now assistant coach and liked the school and program, but Tulsa is returning three good guards.

"It looked as if Robert wouldn't be playing much the first year if he went to Tulsa," said Harold Wilder, "and he decided to attend HC where he would go through a program of 31 games and become an integral part of our team."

Randolph's father coached him at Treadwell, and fatherly pride notwithstanding, he is impressed with Robert's accomplishments.

"I think he is a smart player, he's a terrific shooter, a dedicated ball player and is a coach on the floor," the elder Randolph stated. Coach Randolph has had three state championship teams in the past four years.

Coach Wilder is approximately halfway through his recruiting season. Coming back from last season is Joe Cooper, Russell Sublet, Eugene Williams, Johnny James and Jim Ray.

In addition to Randolph, Wilder has also successfully recruited his son Casey, for a total of seven players.

Wilder would like to have a total of 14 players ready for next year and within a week an announcement of maybe three more "very good" prospects could be made.

Randolph has only three divisions, A, AA and AAA.

Randolph will also be playing in the July 22 Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association's All-Star game. He was listed as one of the top five best basketball players in the state this year.

The process that eventually brought Randolph to HC began in the Summer of 1974 when former assistant Hawk coach Leroy McLendon met Robert at the Mississippi State Basketball Camp. McLendon also saw graduating HC star Lowell Walker at the same camp

Palmer's mind at ease

By The Associated Press

Pat Kelly and Billy Smith are putting Jim Palmer's mind at ease — and that spells trouble for Palmer's American League foes.

"I guess I was fairly negative or I was waiting to have it proven," Palmer said after leading the Baltimore Orioles to a 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Tuesday night with a 12 strikeout, seven-hit performance.

Palmer was referring to remarks he made during spring training about the Orioles' loss of Reggie Jackson, Bobby Grich and pitcher Wayne Garland, all of whom played out their options last year, then signed with other teams.

"I had my doubts. Things didn't look real good," the right-hander said. "But we had so many guys coming up, you figure a couple of them had to come through."

Kelly, who had a 19-game hitting streak — one short of the club record — snapped by Milwaukee's Jerry Augustine, 5-5 in the pitching duel, is batting .326. Jackson, who signed a multi-year, multi-million dollar contract with the New York Yankees, is struggling with a .252 average.

Smith, a second baseman, is batting .269, six points better than Grich, who signed with the California Angels.

Palmer, 6-3, posted five of his strikeouts in the final two innings, including a game-ending whiff of Milwaukee's Charlie Moore with the bases loaded.

In other AL games Tuesday, Cleveland downed Seattle 7-5, the New York Yankees edged Boston 6-5 and California nipped Detroit 2-1.

Baltimore's Ken Singleton led a two-out, eighth-inning home run, snapping a tie forged by a solo homer by Milwaukee's Don Money in the top of the inning. The Orioles' other run came in the third on Lee May's bases-loaded sacrifice fly.

Indians 7, Mariners 5

Cleveland won its third straight game when Frank Duffy squeezed in pinch-runner Andre Thornton in the eighth inning, breaking a 5-5 tie. Duane Kuiper then singled home an insurance run.

Seattle jumped to a 5-2 lead, highlighted by Rupert Jones' homer, but the Indians tallied three times in the sixth, tying the score. They eventually gave reliever Rick Waits, 2-0, the victory.

Yankees 6, Red Sox 5

Graig Nettles and Carlos May slammed consecutive home runs, triggering a four-run rally in the seventh inning and giving New York its victory over Boston.

The loss prevented Luis Tiant, 2-4 from gaining his 100th triumph for the Red Sox.

Americanization of Navratilova

By The Associated Press

For Martina Navratilova, it's great to be young and a Yankee.

The Czech defector has taken to the American way of life as easily as one, two, three — or 15, 30, 40 as it's known in tennis circles.

"I'm Americanized. I got used to the easy way of life here. That's not really too tough to do," said the friendly Miss Navratilova, who now laughs about the time there was a toilet paper shortage in her native Czechoslovakia.

Martina also has gotten acclimated to the new concept of World Team Tennis, starring for the Boston Lobsters. She leads the league in doubles and is second in both singles and total offense this season.

Tonight the first-place Lobsters will be in Cleveland to meet Martina's old team, the Nets. But wherever she is — her Boston apartment, her Dallas house or on the road — Martina feels quite at home in the United States.

If Mark Twain doesn't mind, we'll just call her a Czechoslovakian Yankee in King Larry's court. (Larry King is a founding father of WTT.)

"Sometimes I'm just amazed how well she fits in," says Marcia Young, the team's publicist. "Coach (Roy) Emerson has nicknamed her the 'Professor of English' because she's always doing crossword puzzles."

"One day we were naming the capitals of the states, and she did better than I did."

Miss Navratilova, 20, defected from her native Czechoslovakia during the 1975 U.S. Open. She says she hopes to become an American citizen by the end of the month, bypassing the normal five-year waiting period.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., submitted a bill last week asking for accelerated citizenship for Miss Navratilova, who hopes to play for the U.S. team in the Federation and Wightman Cups.

"I hope it (citizenship) happens soon," Miss Navratilova said by phone from Boston. "The Federation Cup is the week before Wimbledon (June 13-18). I'd be very proud to be on the same team as Chris (Evert), Rosie (Casals) and Billie Jean (King)."

Little League results

Rangers tonto Yanks

The Rangers found 13 hits last Saturday to beat the Yankees 11-2, behind the two hit pitching of winner Robert Eggleston. Kevin Watson was in the mound for the Yanks.

Eggleston also went four for four from the plate, while teammate Pete Valenzuela Jr. had three hits, Rod Harris, two, Brent Townsend, two, and Gus Fierro and Scott Underwood one each.

Mark Walker and Rocky Morris had the only two hits for the Yanks.

Tigers tail Pirates

The Tigers ripped the Pirates 11-4 in the Texas League Tuesday. Winning hurler was Peter Carrillo, with a 4-1 mark. The loser was Napier. Carrillo had 11 strike-outs.

Big bats belonged to Tony Ontiveros with two home runs, David Renteria with one, David Renteria, Carrillo, and Jim Brown with doubles, and Renteria, Carrillo, Ontiveros, and Jimmy Olague with two hits for the Tigers.

For the Pirates, Napier had a double and three hits, and Parras had two hits. The Tigers are 9-2.

Rebels bilk Elks

The Rebels revolutionized the Elks in the Teen Age Junior League Tuesday. Winning pitcher was Gilbert Rubio, loser was Freddy Hernandez. Marquez had a double and Pfeiffer had three hits in the game.

Rockets socket to Comets

The Rockets blitzed past the Comets Tuesday to keep their perfect slate at 10-0 in the International League. The final score was 4-1 with pitcher Jon Krug smoking his second no-hitter and striking out 14 David Anquaino was the losing pitcher.

Krug also drove in the go-ahead run in the fifth with a two-run single. Other sluggers were Dean Garban with two singles and Ronnie Barna with a double. The Comets record is 4-5-1.

Tigers fly like an Eagle

The Tigers pitted the Eagles 21-7 Tuesday to bring home the bacon with their 7-1 record in the National Minor League. Winning pitcher was Sammy Watson with a 4-0 record.

Home runs belonged to Louis Puga, Robert Murdock, Greg Blythe and Watson for the Tigers. Robert Murdock had a double and Bruce Strickland and Tom Cates had two singles. The Eagles record is 1-7.

Ranger shuffle Cards

The Rangers masked the Cards Tuesday 8-5 to lift their record to 5-3. Winning pitcher was Robert Eggleston, 3-0, losing pitcher was Billy Paul. The Cards record is 6-2.

Eggleston struck out 12. The lone homer belonged to Card George Bancroft, a three-run blast in the sixth. For the Rangers, Eggleston led the posse with three hits in three tries. Harris, Valenzuela, and Mellinger had two apiece.

Printers guttenberg Colts

The Printers of the National Minor League slipped by the Colts 8-7 Tuesday night on the strength of triples by Tommy Rawls, Rodney McMillan, Kevin Freeman and Mark McMullan, Randall Crawford and Doug Baum, (2 for 2), also had doubles.

Craig McKenzie (11 strike-outs) was winning pitcher, while Kevin Hagood took the loss. There were no errors in the game.

A rose by any name

By The Associated Press

Jerry Reuss took a bath in beer and still came up smelling like a rose.

"Any time you win a ball game, it's a good feeling," said the Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher.

Actually, this was only the first victory in 1977 for Reuss. So the smell of success was even sweeter.

Reuss had an 0-5 record in nine previous starts before beating the New York Mets 5-2 Tuesday night.

His teammates celebrated the occasion by dumping cups of beer on Reuss as he entered the locker room.

"It feels like champagne," said Reuss, then added: "We play 162 games. This had to come sometime."

Reuss was not especially overpowering. He needed relief help in the seventh inning after giving up the Mets' seventh hit and his second walk.

"He didn't look like the Jerry Reuss of old," said loser Jon Matlack, "but I'm glad to see him win a game. Too bad it came at my expense."

Elsewhere in the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5, the Montreal Expos edged the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 13 innings, the San Diego Padres nipped the Atlanta Braves 4-3, and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Houston Astros 4-2.

The Pirates took a 1-0 lead in the second. A bloop double by Rennie Stennett brought home the first run and snapped a string of 19 scoreless innings by Matlack, who had pitched

Blue Angles buzz Pioneers

The Blue Angles of the Major League decided the Pioneers 21-5 Tuesday night. Cynthia Deliberto was the winning pitcher; Linda Fannin the loser. Both teams are 1-1 and each had a double play.

Leading hitters were Angela Cobb, Lisa Hartman, Deliberto, Kris Paul, Joni Avery, Lisa Holland, Valeri Meeks, Cindy Mize and Rhonda Beene.

Cards short Kilowatts

The Cardinals of the Major League edged the Kilowatts 20-19 in a game last week. Anna Ruiz was the winning pitcher, Irma Ramos had two home runs, Christine had one, as did Mona Lisa Vierra.

Warriors scalp Kiwanis

The Warriors beat the Kiwanis 39-23 Tuesday night with Glenda Hogg taking the win and Jackie Leash the loss. Melissa Fuller had two home runs, and Hogg, Pam Martinez and Leash had round-trippers as well.

Carriers sink Cards

The Carriers of the Major League beat the Cardinals 17-9 Tuesday night. Judy Fox, 2-0, was the winning hurler; Anna Ruiz took the loss. Leading hitters were Anna Ruiz, Angie Albira, Demetra Hall, Millita Depute and Debra Green.

Pecos wins first game

PECOS — Pecos, benefiting from Linvel Mosby's no-hit pitching, blanked Canyon, 4-0, in a Class AAA bi-district baseball game here Tuesday.

The second game of the series starts at 1 p.m. Saturday in Canyon. If a third game is needed to determine the winner, it will follow immediately. Pecos is now 13-13 on the year. Canyon is 16-12.

Expos 5, Cubs 4

A pinch single by Jose Morales scored Chris Speier in the 13th inning, giving Montreal its victory over Chicago. It was the second straight triumph for the Expos, who ended an 11-game losing streak Sunday.

Padres 4, Braves 3

Doug Rader drove in three runs with a bases-loaded triple, highlighting a four-run rally in the fourth inning that carried San Diego over Atlanta.

Rick Sawyer held the Braves to no hits and one unearned run in four innings of relief in gaining the victory. Rolie Fingers pitched the last inning for San Diego and notched his eighth save of the year.

Dodgers 4, Astros 2

Ron Cey's RBI double in the fifth produced the decisive run as Los Angeles beat Houston.

Puterbaugh back in 500 line-up

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bill Puterbaugh is back in Sunday's Indianapolis 500-mile race after Salt Walther turned down a chance to drive the car his father purchased after Puterbaugh qualified it.

Walther was bumped from the field because his car was too slow and he was unable to qualify a backup auto.

"I had nothing to do with the whole thing," Walther said Tuesday night. "I appreciate the thoughtfulness of my father and brother to purchase the Elkins car for me, but I thought about it all night and if I took the ride away from Bill, I would lose respect for myself."

"I figured the only fair thing to do was to turn the car over to Bill and help him in any way I can to make our car successful in the 500."

Walther's father, George, and brother, Jeff, bought the Eagle Monday that Puter-baugh qualified Sunday in 28th place. They purchased it from Lee Elkins, ailing Kalamazoo, Mich., sportsman who said he no longer was physically capable of "running the team right."

George and Jeff Walther then announced Salt would replace Puterbaugh.

Puterbaugh, who had considered legal action before Salt stepped down, said, "It's my understanding that I'm going to start the race and finish the race in the car. I would accept the ride under no other circumstances."

Dick King, president of the U.S. Auto Club, which sanctions the 500-mile race, said he was pleased and relieved the situation had been resolved. And Chief Steward Tom Binford gave his immediate approval to Salt's decision.

Seattle jumped to a 5-2 lead, highlighted by Rupert Jones' homer, but the Indians tallied three times in the sixth, tying the score. They eventually gave reliever Rick Waits, 2-0, the victory.

Yankees 6, Red Sox 5

Graig Nettles and Carlos May slammed consecutive home runs, triggering a four-run rally in the seventh inning and giving New York its victory over Boston.

The loss prevented Luis Tiant, 2-4 from gaining his 100th triumph for the Red Sox.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There is a strong tendency for success as a result of policies which you are eager to put in motion. There could be some difficulty in attaining desired results if delays are permitted.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Hang on to those good ideas you have even though it seems difficult to put in motion at this time. Cooperate more with others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are expected to accept new conditions, but study them well before you do so. Strive for increased harmony with mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure to clear up any possible misunderstanding you have with associates. Be sure of facts and figures of a new plan you have in mind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Stop day dreaming and become more active in career matters. Don't criticize others now and avoid trouble.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It's all right to plan ways now to add to present income, but not a good time for putting them in operation. Relax at home tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A personal affair needs more study before you get working on it. Think kindly of one who has done you favors in the past.

LIRRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take time for analyzing the path ahead where your career is concerned so you will know where to make needed changes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't rely too much on a friend at this time. Get busy handling an important affair yourself for best results. Avoid a group affair.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan how to handle personal affairs better. Sidestep an opponent who could give you trouble. Be poised.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A new contact could give you the wrong information, so be alert. Make plans to have greater abundance in the days ahead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study a new system so that you can handle your daily routines more efficiently. Mate is under planetary pressure so be more thoughtful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Avoid long talks with associates since they wouldn't help matters at this time. Be sure to keep any promises to others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will want things in apple-pie order, but teach to give more attention to the over-all objectives for best results throughout lifetime. Direct education along lines of research. A fine scientific mind in this chart.

FAKE OUT — Houston Astros first baseman Bob Watson (27) tries to fake everyone out as he tags Dodgers Dave Lopes, but without the ball. Lopes had bunted down first base line during the first inning Tuesday night in Los Angeles. Lopes was safe at first. The Dodgers beat the Astros 4-2.

Luck of the Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It's not that I don't trust anybody," said the 29-year-old Dominican. "It's just that it brings me good luck. I trust everybody. Especially when I have my money in my own pocket."

Martinez and Ron Cey doubled in the fifth inning, producing the third and decisive run as Rick Rhoden posted his seventh victory in eight decisions, most on the Dodger staff and making him one of two seven-game winners in the National League. The victory enabled the Dodgers to gain a half game on idle Cincinnati in the NL West. The Dodgers now lead by 1 1/2 games.

Rhoden had the Astros blanked through five innings, gave up single runs in the sixth and seventh innings and then Charlie Hough took over to preserve the victory with his 12th save of the season, tops in the majors.

Rhoden struck out seven and scattered four hits before leaving with two outs in the seventh.

"I threw better last year than I am throwing this year," said the Los Angeles right-hander. "It's just that we're scoring more runs this year. I figure if I can keep a team under three runs I have a chance to win."

Asked about the possibility of winning 20 games, Rhoden replied, "Right now, I'm thinking only about No. 8. But if I stay healthy, I should win at least 15 with this club."

Los Angeles took a 2-0 lead against losing pitcher Mark Lemongello, 1-6, when Steve Garvey opened the second inning with a single. Rick Monday drove him home with a double and Dusty Baker followed with a run-scoring single.

'Gone with 34 apple turnovers'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was not Jack Ramsay's favorite picture, certainly not "Gone With the Wind."

The coach of the Portland Trail Blazers had just gone over the game films of Sunday's 107-101 loss to Philadelphia in the opener of the National Basketball Association championship playoffs, and his review was something less than a rave.

"It's hard to win a game where you make 34 turnovers — our average is about 17," said Ramsay. "We gave them fast break opportunities. We didn't run our offense effectively. We didn't pass the ball crisply. We didn't come to meet the ball with authority. We didn't have steals from our guards in the backcourt."

On and on, Ramsay ticked off the things the Blazers did wrong before finally stumbling onto a silver lining, of sorts.

"The fact that we can play as ineffectively as we did and still be in the game at the end should show something," he suggested. Indeed, the only Portland player who really played up to par in the opener of the best-of-seven series was Bill Walton, who had 28 points and 20 rebounds. Power forward Maurice Lucas fouled out and was never a dominating force; Bob Gross fouled out chasing after Julius Erving, and starting guards Lionel Hollins and Johnny Davis combined for just 13 points.

"Our game is not predicated on one man playing well," said Ramsay after running the Blazers through a practice session Tuesday. "All five have to play well."

Did he feel Portland had played at 90 per cent of its potential? "Oh, no, by no means," he replied. "We played way below that. If we had played 90 per cent, we'd have won by 15."

Ramsay said if the Blazers are to even the series by winning Game Two Thursday night.

Texas sports briefs

All-SWC tourney picks
DALLAS (AP) — Baylor, champion of the Southwest Conference postseason baseball tournament, landed three players on the all-tourney squad picked by sports writers and broadcasters.
Runnerup Texas claimed four places, regular season SWC champion Texas A&M two and Arkansas one.
The choices:
Baylor — Pitchers Burl Coker and Sammy Bickham, and shortstop Steve Macko, also tabbed for an outfield position.
Texas — Second baseman Andre Robertson, outfielders Wendell Hibbett and Jerry Jones, designated hitter Rusty Getter.
Texas A&M — First baseman Kyle Hawthorne, third baseman Winston Whiddon.
Arkansas — Catcher Jeff Hemm.

Thornally leads golfers
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Dave Thornally of Arkansas-Little Rock fired a 2-under 69 to lead the opening round of medal competition in the 1977 NCAA Division II National Golf Championship here.
Cleve Coldwater of Alabama's Troy State was second Tuesday at 70 and defending champion Mike Nicolette of Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., was one of four golfers tied at 71. The 72-hole tournament winds up Friday.

Aggies get last laugh
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M will get a shot at the NCAA baseball playoffs after all.
After winning the Southwest Conference title, the Aggies lost to both Baylor and Texas in a postseason tournament. A&M was invited Tuesday to compete in the NCAA Midwest Regional playoffs at Norman, Okla., May 27-28.

500ers in Texas race
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Indianapolis 500 qualifiers have entered the USAC-sanctioned Texas 500 stock car race, to be held June 5 at College Station's Texas World Speedway.
Roger McCluskey qualified ninth at Indianapolis Sunday, A.J. Foyt of Houston, who will be trying for his fourth Indy title, has also signed up for the Texas 500.

They'd rather be fishin'
BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Ben Crenshaw of Austin and Bruce Lietzke of Beaumont, both leaders on the PGA tour this year, have decided to chuck it all for the next two weeks and go fishing.
Where are they heading? The Gulf of Mexico — in Lietzke's new boat.
"I've been telling all my friends I've got the boat, and I'm completely booked, every day, for fishing the next two weeks," Lietzke said.

Pole vaulter jumps to A&M
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Randy Hall of Port Lavaca, who holds the national schoolboy pole vault record, has signed a letter of intent to attend Texas A&M.
Hall vaulted 16 feet-10 this year to break the record of 16-7 set by Casey Corrigan of Orting, Wash., in 1969.

WTSU signs All-Starter
CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Allstate schoolboy center Brad Cadenhead has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at West Texas State University.
Cadenhead averaged 20.1 points and 13 rebounds per game at Dalhart High School.
