Girl Scouts buried

Camp clues uncovered

LOCUST GROVE, Okla. (AP) — Authorities hope that three fingerprints and a footprint will lead them to the person who killed three Girl Scouts on a camping trip at Camp Scott here.

The girls were beaten, strangled and molested. The first of the girls was buried Wednesday and the second was to be buried today.

Investigators have been close-mouthed about developments in the case, but there were reports that three excellent fingerprints had been obtained from the victim's bodies.

Authorities also were looking into several more clues.

Lori Lee Farmer, 8, of Tulsa, was buried Wednesday. Doris Denise Milner, 10, also of Tulsa, was to be buried today. Michelle Guse, 9, of Broken Arrow will be buried Friday.

The bodies of the girls were discovered early Monday at Camp Scott, a 49-year-old, 410-acre camp site owned by the Magic Empire Girl Scout Council based in Tulsa.

The camp is in the heavily wooded area on the fringe of the Cookson Hills of eastern Oklahoma, about 45 miles from Tulsa. It was reported that a counselor had reported her purse stolen Monday.

The development led probes to theorize that the counselors' tent had been entered the night of the murders.

Dist. Atty. Sid Wise said the four counselors who had slept in the tent had been questioned extensively and were available for more questions.

Griffin to appeal school board action

According to ex-Big Spring High School basketball coach James Griffin, his appeal to the Texas State Education Commission next week will allege discrimination as the reason for his contract not being renewed for the 1977 school year.

Griffin became the first black head coach in District 5-AAAA two years ago.

Interim Superintendent Lynn Hise said today that Griffin's prior complaints that he had received no written explanation for the non-renewal was not entirely accurate.

"We will not release the contents of the letter," said Hise, "but Mr. Griffin should have received a write-up of the conference held between himself and (Big Spring High principal) John Smith."

Hise said that the letter Griffin had passed out to the School Board of Trustees at the controversial June 9 meeting was the write-up of a February conference between Griffin and Smith.

"It is standard procedure that the principal write up the conference and have the teacher who was there sign it," Hise continued. "At the February meeting, Smith recommended postponement of any decision on Griffin's contract. After the May meeting, he recommended non-renewal."

Griffin said he never received a copy of the May meeting.

Assistant superintendent Harold Bentley later said that if Griffin did not have a copy of the May 6 report, one would be available to him at the administration office. However Bentley confirmed that Griffin had signed the report.

When asked what he wanted the state commission to do, Griffin replied, "Whatever they think is fair." When asked whether he would take his old job back if offered, he replied, "Yes."

Hise pointed out that even if Coach Harold Robbins, the man Griffin said at the School Board meeting discriminated against him, had recommended the renewal of Griffin's contract, the contract would not have been renewed.

"Everything has been pointed toward the coaching situation," said Hise, "but this was a routine teaching matter. Coaches are hired as teachers. They are paid a bonus to coach."

County strikes down 'unfair' tax practice

The Howard County Commissioner's Court, as the County Board of Equalization, has thrown out part of the work done by the Tax Appraiser's office in the last year.

The commissioners agreed with a protest registered Monday by Jimmy Ray Smith and Jack Watkins. The two held that the joint Tax Appraisal Board was unfair in dropping the "depth scale" on a 20 per cent basis. Smith maintained he would be paying additional taxes several years before his neighbors would.

The depth scale is a percentage deduction on property taxes for irregularly-sized lots. The scale changes the tax appraisal value for lots other than 140 feet deep.

The action by the commissioners would hold in abeyance the new values which have been computed by the tax appraisal office over the past year, and would not use the new values until all the irregular lots have been estimated. Exactly how much work the adjustment of the remaining irregular lots it has not been firmly established. Estimates range from six weeks to three months for one full-time man.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Zerah Bednar said the change would not affect a large number of her tax roles, but that the decision would force her to examine all the roles for those persons affected by the decision.

Head Tax Appraiser Weldon Boggus pointed out that, at present, there was no person available full-time for the kind of evaluation needed to complete the project next year. Boggus pointed out that the new appraiser hired by the county would be faced immediately by this situation.

"I don't know what he'll do," said Boggus, "but I'm checking back through all the cards we did this year."

THROUGH THE TEARS — Little Misty Pittman, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Blane Pittman, 818 W. 8th, was trying to be happy about finding a friend after her long jaunt from her home to 4th and Gregg Wednesday afternoon. Patrolman Dusty Choate found the little girl walking down Gregg Street, crying and returned her to her parents, who had reported her missing. Misty went for a walk but strolled a little farther than she planned.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Disgusting

Q. There are no signs around the kiddies' wading pool giving the age limits of those children who can use the pool. Neither does it say what kind of apparel can be worn. I was out there recently with my two children and it was disgusting — there were kids up to 14 years of age in the pool, dressed in their street clothes. Also, why are there no restrooms this pool? There were kids using even the pool and the area around it for restrooms. Something should be done or the pool should be closed down for sanitary reasons.

A. City parks officials are the first to admit that the way some local citizens abuse park facilities is disgusting. There are public restrooms less than 1/2 block from this wading pool where anyone with pride and decency could walk. The restrooms are cleaned daily and fresh water put into the wading pool. The city cannot pay additional summer employees to guard a wading pool if park patrons have no common sense or decency, according to the parks department. It was designed for small children during the 30s and for many years was properly used without a guard on it. Nowadays, older youth seem to think it is smart to abuse property, and behave like animals, according to officials at the parks department. Jerry Foresyth, parks superintendent, said, "We probably ought to close it down like the questioner requests and make a flower bed out of it. The city cannot pay enough employees to stand around and guard each and every facility. If the public will call police and file complaints on persons involved in vandalism or indecent exposure, it will be stopped."

Offbeat: Surprise delivery

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — If you want to be heard, says restaurateur John Beery, first you have to get attention. One way is to dump five cubic yards of horse manure on the steps of City Hall.

Beery was mad because the city had dumped debris on city property next to one of his three restaurants.

"I protested that what they were doing was bad for the neighborhood and bad for business," he said. "But all they told me was that they were sorry, but they didn't have the money to do it any other way."

Beery made his surprise delivery Sunday in a rented truck. He said the manure cost him $70.

"If they can dump on their property next to mine, I'll dump on my property. I'm a citizen and a taxpayer of this city and City Hall is my property," Beery said.

He said he's received no reaction from city officials.

Use of Webb ambulances proposed

Chamber supports EMS system

By JAMES WERRELL

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce will support efforts to bring the Emergency Medical Service System (EMS) to Howard County.

The decision to do so was made after members of Start Talking Ambulance Today (STAT) addressed the chamber board 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. After listening to the STAT presentation, the board voted unanimously to "support the STAT organization in its efforts to acquire the Emergency Medical Service System for the citizens of Howard County."

The issue of bringing the EMS service to Howard County is a volatile one with possible repercussions with the privately operated Alert Ambulance Service here. Also, in the past, those wishing to bring EMS to Howard County have met with jurisdictional problems between the county and city governments.

Board members were aware of this Wednesday, and required that the original proposal by the STAT group be changed before they agreed to support it. The initial proposal contained a sentence which read, "The ambulance service available to the community should be operated and maintained by the Fire Department and be owned by the city and county."

State Hospital patient hit by auto dies

Mrs. Juan (Isela) Torres, 39, died Monday in Malone-Hogan Hospital as a result of injuries received when she was hit by a car in front of the Big Spring State Hospital, June 5.

Mrs. Torres had been a patient at the State Hospital, and stepped in front of a car southbound on Hwy. 87, 1/4 mile north of Big Spring.

According to reports, she had attempted to step in front of two other cars before being struck by an automobile driven by a New Braunfels woman.

Services are pending at River Welch Funeral Home, and burial will be in El Paso.

She is survived by her husband, Juan, her mother, and three brothers, all of El Paso.

Himes takes lead in bareback bronc

BOZEMAN, Mont. — Jack Himes of Howard College is leading in the bareback bronc competition in the 1977 College National Finals Rodeo, after two rides with 134 total points.

Himes is also second in the calf roping event with a combined time of 27.34.

His wife, Terri was leading the first round of the breakaway roping with 2.6. The best time in the second go-round has apparently been turned in by Mary Vroman of Black Hills with 2.9.

The second round concludes Friday night after all 297 participants have had their second chance in their various events.

The top 10 winners in each event, on the basis of average scores, will then participate in Saturday's finals.

It looks as though Howard College will at least have the Himes combination in the finals in a possible three events. Nobody has yet heard how Terri fared in the barrel racing. There are also no details yet available on other possible top ten positions by members of the team. There are five men and three women from Howard College who were eligible to compete in the national finals.

Sharon Fouts of Washington State is a double placer, along with Jack Himes.

Shelly Woodson of Central Arizona turned in the fastest goat-tying time so far with 8.73. This is the event that Margo Powell of Howard College won at in so many area shows.

Shelly Mueller of Wisconsin-River Falls has a combined two-goat time of 19.01 to lead at this point.

"I know we need EMS here, but we shouldn't get into the operation of the ambulance service. That isn't the function of this group," said Roger Brown, board president.

Diana Weir, STAT member, explained to the board that EMS was originally sanctioned by the Permian Basin Planning Council and the Federal Health, Education and Welfare Agency. She claimed that Howard was one of the few counties in this area that has not adopted EMS.

Ms. Weir also presented a report to the board from the Texas Department of Health and Resources claiming that Alert Ambulance Service has failed to pass state inspection twice since May 12, and will lose its license if it fails a third time. The report stated that on the May 12 inspection three ambulances were found deficient for a variety of reasons, and on the June 7 inspection two ambulances were found deficient.

The STAT representatives also presented an estimated first-year cost for the system. Including the cost of personnel, two ambulances, insurance and a variety of equipment, STAT estimated first-year expenditures to be $235,028.

The most emotional appeal of the meeting came from Mrs. Fred Simpson who claimed to have been a nurse working in intensive care units for the last 10 years.

Following the passing of the resolution to support the drive for EMS, board member Bill Pollard suggested that the two ambulances at Webb AFB could possibly be acquired by the city as excess Air Force property.

"These ambulances are fully equipped with life support systems, and they meet federal specifications which are stiffer than those for the state," said Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander at Webb AFB, when asked about the condition of the vehicles.

MOTORCYCLE CRASH — A 14-year-old boy is in stable condition in Malone-Hogan Hospital after his motorcycle collided with an automobile 2.8 miles north of Big Spring at 7:30 a.m. today. James Allen Perry Jr., an unlicensed driver, according to Highway Patrolman Ken Joyce, was riding an unregistered motorcycle without wearing a helmet when the accident occurred. The boy was reportedly northbound beside the pavement. A Cadillac, driven by Lloyd Wasson, 800 Edwards, was also northbound. According to reports, Wasson sounded his horn before passing the boy, but the motorcycle swerved into the pavement, forcing the car into the inside lane where the right forward side struck the motorcycle. The car continued onto the median, while the bike caromed off the pavement for 50 feet. The boy was assumed to be headed for a gravel turn-around in Hwy. 87 when he cut onto the pavement. He was riding a 50 cc Suzuki. No citations have been filed.

General in trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American three-star general who predicted the United States may become entangled in a Soviet-Chinese war is in hot water with the Pentagon less than a month after another general lost his job for warning of a possible war in Korea. Lt. Gen. Donn Starry, commander of the Army's 5th Corps in Germany, was directed Wednesday to postpone a planned leave and report to the Pentagon on Friday to explain his remarks to Army Secretary Clifford Alexander and Army Chief of Staff Gen. Bernard Rogers.

Vet benefits cut?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unhappy with President Carter's decision to upgrade less-than-honorable discharges of many Vietnam-era servicemen, the House wants to deny veterans benefits to those taking advantage of the program. Debating a $70.2 billion money bill for several agencies, the House also voted Wednesday to order the Department of Housing and Urban Development to review a regulation that some feared would be used by homosexual couples to obtain federal housing assistance.

Moderate wins in Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Premier Adolfo Suarez' moderate coalition headed for victory today in Spain's parliamentary elections, winning nearly half the Senate seats and leading the Socialist Workers party by a 2-1 margin in the Chamber of Deputies. With 54.1 per cent of the vote counted, unofficial returns gave the premier's Democratic Center Union 37.9 per cent of the vote to 27.3 per cent for the Socialist Workers party led by Felipe Gonzalez. A right-wing Francoist party was third with 8.7 per cent and the Communists had 7.4 per cent.

MOSCOW (AP) — In the biggest Kremlin power shuffle since the overthrow of Nikita Khrushchev in 1964, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev replaced Nikolai V. ## Special term on July 8?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The date for the special legislative session on school finance is still up in the air, but Gov. Dolph Briscoe says he is looking with favor on July 8. "It would give them the weekend for committee work," the governor told a news conference Wednesday.

July 8 was suggested by Speaker Bill Clayton, who said a session could end by July 15 unless Briscoe opens it to subjects other than school finance. Clayton said he and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby have requested an attorney general's opinion that might persuade Briscoe to expand the session. They want action on property tax reform and a constitutional change allowing lawmakers to set ground rules to tax "open space land" on its productivity instead of its market value.

Open records decision

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill said Thursday that the Texas Open Records Act covers "working papers" of the state auditor unless it is shown they are specifically exempted.

The attorney general said records would have to be considered on a case-by-case basis because it was possible "that a request might seek a large and cohesive body of factual information which would be analyzed to reveal audit strategy or factual information which is impossible to separate from the auditor's evaluation of it."

The ruling was asked by State Auditor George W. McNeil who said a news reporter had asked a copy of a letter regarding disallowed

Odessa DA asks for $8 million

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Ector County Dist. Atty. John Green has filed a $4.5 million libel suit against the Odessa American, bringing to $8 million the amount of damages he seeks in connection with articles printed about him by the newspaper.

Green filed his latest suit Wednesday and later told a news conference he looks "forward to the truth brought out in a court of law, not in a newspaper." He had earlier filed a $3.5 million libel suit against the American.

The West Texas newspaper and Green have been feuding since last year. The district attorney's latest libel suit stemmed from publication in some of the American's Tuesday editions of details of a civil rights suit filed against Green by Leroy Lafoon, a convicted murderer.

"The most recent article being published only yesterday (Tuesday) in some of the papers describes me and your sheriff Elton Faught as being involved in a conspiracy to commit murder," Green said Wednesday.

"The man they quoted has now managed to use, as so many of the criminals have used the Odessa American in the past, to accuse your D.A. and others of committing crimes," he added. "It is common knowledge that the criminals we convict often sue us on frivolous allegations."

Lafoon alleged in his suit that Green and others had tried to coerce him into killing a man now in the state prison. He alleged they threatened to block any future parole unless he cooperated.

At the news conference Wednesday, Green, who said he had not been served with Lafoon's suit, denied all of the allegations.

"... I am guilty of no wrongdoing in any way nor have I ever misused this office you have elected me to," he said.

American Managing Editor Olin Ashly, contacted after Green's suit was filed, said, "I'm just not going to talk about it. You'll have to ask Green."

Green also accused The Associated Press of "covering up much of this stuff" and protecting the American because "it's one of their own."

After talking with The Associated Press later, Green said, however, that his "cover-up" charges were the result of a "misunderstanding" of the manner in which the information became available to The AP.

"I apologize," he said, adding that he was convinced The AP "had covered the stories fairly, down the middle and attempted to cover up nothing."

The AP has carried a number of stories on developments in the struggle between Green and the newspaper that have included the indictment and arrests of several American staff members.

The feud between the newspaper and Green began last year when the American reported Green had taken a weekend trip to Las Vegas with an ex-convict. Green did not deny making the trip, but said he didn't know the man was an ex-convict.

He filed the $3.5 million libel suit over the story.

Burglary investigated

Sheriff's deputies are investigating a burglary reported Wednesday at the home of Gregory Salazar, Rt. 1, Knott.

According to Sheriff's reports, the rear door was pried open, and possessions valued at $250 were missing. Articles missing included $16 worth of meat, 25 8-track tapes, two speakers, a car stereo and a battery charger.

Forgery confessed

Virginia Faye King, charged with the June 3 forgery of a $116 check, pleaded guilty Wednesday in 118th District Court. She was sentenced to three years probation.

Police beat

Local pastor's auto looted

Burglars hit a car belonging to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the First Baptist Church, while it was parked in the church lot, Wednesday afternoon.

Stolen were a CB radio, a checkbook, a wallet containing identification and a credit card holder containing nine cards. Total loss was estimated at $240.

A small electric motor was stolen from a vacant home at 1100 E. 5th, owned by Lanette Miller, 1747 Purdue. Jack Watkins, friend of Ms. Miller, spotted the crime in progress while passing by the home. He reported that a Mexican-American man, in his early twenties, approximately five feet, eight inches tall, weighing about 190 pounds was the culprit.

The motor was valued at $40. A car parked at the Classic Body Shop, 4330 West Highway 80, was stripped of four chrome wheel trim rings sometime Tuesday night. Loss was estimated at $60.

Vandals shot BBs through the windshield of a brand new GMC pickup on the lot of Shroyer Motor Co., 424 E. 3rd, Tuesday night. Damage was estimated at $150.

A diamond ring belonging to Big Spring Police Officer W.D. Kissinger was either lost or stolen at the swimming area of Moss Creek Lake between 1 and 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. The ring was valued at $1,500.

Two mishaps were reported Wednesday. A vehicle driven by Darlene H. Leonard, 1925 E. 6th, collided with a parked vehicle belonging to Marilyn Kay Stewart 1110 Main, on the 3300 block of East IS 20, 12:36 a.m.

A vehicle belonging to E.J. Thomas, P.O. Box 2503, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene in the lot of College Park Shopping Center, 9:47 p.m.

Survivors include his widow; five daughters, Mrs. John A. Miller of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. A.G. Board and Mrs. Calvin Fideisen, both of Corpus Christi, Mrs. A.D. Sparks and Lillian Sullivan, both of Willis Point; three sons, C.E. Clawson of Corpus Christi, J.C. Clawson of Albuquerque, N.M., and Dwayne Clawson of Coahoma; a sister, Mrs. Tranny Smith of Mt. Pleasant; a brother, W.W. of Sulphur Springs; 12 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Her husband kills himself

Woman loses 272 pounds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Saundra Ruddle says her losing 272 pounds through an intestinal bypass operation caused her husband to kill himself and left her in such pain that she became a heroin addict.

Three years ago, Ms. Ruddle, then 25 and weighing 403 pounds, was one of the few persons accepted for the bypass operation at Los Angeles County's Harbor General Hospital.

Today her weight fluctuates between 130 and 140 pounds. She said that within a year of the operation, her husband, 11 years her senior, felt so threatened by the change that he hanged himself.

He "started freaking out, raging that I was going to bed with everybody..." she said. "I wanted to get out and go to school; he wanted me home as before. I was growing by leaps and bounds; he couldn't keep up with me."

Ms. Ruddle said Wednesday she has pain in her bones so severe that she cannot hold a job or drive a standard-shift car. She said she was addicted to heroin for a time because of the pain.

She also said she wants surgery to correct excess skin and fat that hang from her arms, abdomen and legs. The hospital warned her that the unforeseeable could result from the operation, in which surgeons hook up the small intestine so that food is absorbed by only two feet instead of the intestine's entire 22-foot length.

But she said she wishes doctors had pointed out the psychological stress the weight loss could place on loved ones. She said most of the women who have had the operation have not stayed with their men.

"Think how insecure a man would feel," she said. "You may not look like Marilyn Monroe after the operation, but after you've lost all that weight, believe me you feel like her."

Dr. Richard Atkinson, an internist at the hospital's Clinical Study Center, said the operation is done for research and is not encouraged. About 53 bypasses have been done at Harbor General since 1971. Post-operative complications have developed with 50 per cent of the cases and three men have died, Atkinson said. He estimated that 25,000 such operations have been done across the country.

Ms. Ruddle said she was always fat, starting with her childhood in an orphanage and through experiences with 30 different sets of foster parents.

"I ate everything in front of me," she said. "That's how the state raises its children. 'Fat babies are healthy babies.'"

She said she was always in trouble as a child and as a teenager because "nobody loved me." At the age of 16, she was released from a juvenile institution, standing 5 foot 6 and weighing 240 pounds. She married her husband within a year and, through the course of three miscarriages, gained 150 pounds.

Now she lives in Atascadero in central California with his boyfriend.

The attorney general said records would have to be considered on a case-by-case basis because it was possible "that a request might seek a large and cohesive body of factual information which would be analyzed to reveal audit strategy or factual information which is impossible to separate from the auditor's evaluation of it."

The ruling was asked by State Auditor George W. McNeil who said a news reporter had asked a copy of a letter regarding disallowed amounts paid for tests by laboratories.

Watch program 'great success'

Highland South, the first area in Big Spring to adopt the Neighborhood Watch Program, held its first meeting Wednesday night. It was a great success, according to organizer Polly Mays.

Twenty concerned neighbors gathered at the Mays' home, 602 Highland, to discuss their community crime problems and listen to expert advice from Sgt. Ed Kissinger, head of the Big Spring Police Crime Prevention Unit.

Most of the 20 attending were designated as block captains. A captain representing each block in the neighborhood was given an electric engraver to mark valuables of neighbors on the block and a variety of literature on crime prevention.

"We think it was a great success. But we don't want to just chase criminals from one neighborhood to another. We want to make crime unprofitable in the whole city," said Mrs. Mays.

Both Mrs. Mays and Sgt. Kissinger are anxious to help anyone who is interested in starting a Neighborhood Watch Program. Mrs. Mays may be contacted at 267-6192, Sgt. Kissinger at 263-8311, ext. 45.

Stanton councilmen pick lot for depot

STANTON — The city council selected a lot to place the depot on for use as Chamber of Commerce office.

Mrs. Margy Douglas, chamber director and George Hedstrom, president, told the council they preferred the lot northeast of the First United Methodist Church.

This is one of the city's urban renewal lots being considered as a site. The lot previously held a mobile home and the city had tentatively planned to utilize the lot as parking space for the community center.

There will still be parking room around the center. The city granted the chamber a 99-year lease for $1 per year.

The chamber and the council are keeping the depot for the historical value of the building as well as use for a chamber office.

The men behind the man who minds your meter

A legion of workmen in steel mills, lumber camps, mining shafts, machine shops and oil fields make their living helping you get electricity. They produce the lines, poles, substations, fuels and wholesale power which are higher now than they used to be. Cap Rock Electric Cooperative cannot control these prices.

But through careful management and greater efficiency the cost of distributing power has been kept under control. In spite of escalating prices, the men and women up front at Cap Rock Electric Cooperative are holding the line on the cost of delivering power.

Fearless clown doesn't like snakes

Why does a rodeo clown make his living that way?
"I do it for the roar of the grease paint and the smell of the crowd," joked internationally famous Quail Dobbs, who will be entertaining crowds and attracting bulls when the annual Big Spring rodeo begins next week.

DOBBS, WHO was raised at Colorado City, was guest speaker at the Big Spring Rotary Club's weekly noon meeting Tuesday in the Settles Hotel, and he just naturally clown around a bit.

"I am a lot more afraid of a snake than I am a bull," he said, explaining why someone brave enough to be chased by two tons of bull several hundred times a year would decline an invitation to go rattlesnake hunting.

QUAIL DOBBS

A Rotarian asked how Dobbs got started being a rodeo clown. He said that he grew up liking the rodeo, and he went to bareback riding school (he wasn't about to put his feet in the stirrups of anything about to buck with him).

Whenever he rode at bareback riding school, Dobbs said they thought he was putting on a clown act, so he decided he might as well get paid for it.

The little Coahoma fellow is now in his 15th season as a rodeo clown. He travels 35,000 miles a year making 35 to 40 rodeos, including some of the best like Calgary and Cheyenne.

"I wouldn't do it as much as I do," he said, "but it's the only thing I know how to do. I've been a clown all my life, or so my teachers said."

He said he felt like the "luckiest guy in this world" to work in so many rodeos.

BUT IN response to a question if he had ever been hurt, he said the worst was a broken leg at Texas Tech University. Of course, he has broken everything from ribs and arms to a tear duct. A bull's horn got inside the barrel with Dobbs to break his arm and his tear duct.

"You can get hurt crossing a street," he said philosophically.

Although he makes the rodeos in Houston and San Antonio, he said the Big Spring rodeo (June 22 through 25) was one of his favorites.

His task as clown will not only be to create fun for the crowd but also to keep the bulls from injuring a rider by distracting the animal.

Dobbs said the horn was not the most dangerous thing about being around a bull. The cowboys who are hurt worse get stepped on by the hoof of a jumping animal weighing from 1,600 to 2,000 pounds.

Dobbs' job next week will be to do his best to keep that from happening.

U. N. Legates

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young keeps insisting that no matter what he says publicly, President Carter never mentions it to him. This is hard to believe. Since we have nothing but conjecture to go on, as to what takes place in the Oval Office, we'll have to base this conversation in conjecture.

"Well, Andy, how's it going?"
"Very fine, Mr. President. I'm really enjoying my work. I didn't realize foreign affairs could be this much fun."

"Tell me about it."
"Well, you get to insult anybody you want to."

"Oh?"
"YOU CAN'T believe how many racists there are in this world. Do you know they have as many racists in Sweden as they do in Queens, N.Y.?"

"That many?"
"Maybe more. Of course, I haven't been to Sweden, and I don't spend too much time in Queens, except to go to the airport — but they're there."

"What seems to be our problem with Sweden, Andy?"
"Nothing, Mr. President. Things are fine with Sweden. At least they were until I called them racists. Now they're all upset."

"I don't see why."
"Of course, they're not as upset as the people in Queens. I didn't mean it the way they took it in Queens."
"How did you mean it?"

"WELL, I WAS trying to make a point about Sweden and I had to compare it to something. My U.N. office overlooks Queens, so I just said Queens. I could have easily mentioned Brooklyn, the Bronx, Manhattan or Staten Island. They're racist, too."

"Is there anything I can do to coll things down in Sweden or Queens?"
"We could probably make it up to Sweden, but I wouldn't give New York another dime."

"Didn't I read somewhere that you called England racist also?"
"Yessir. They are, too. But they took that statement out of context. What I really meant to say was that all of Europe was racist. It's not their fault — that's just the way they are. I think it's America's job to point it out to them."

"Andy, do you believe it's advisable to go around the world and tell everyone they're racists? I know it's important, but it seems to me, and I'm new on the job, that role of our U.N. ambassador is to make friends — or at least not lose the ones we've already got."

"Lincoln was a racist."
"I didn't know that."
"So were Kennedy, Nixon and Ford."

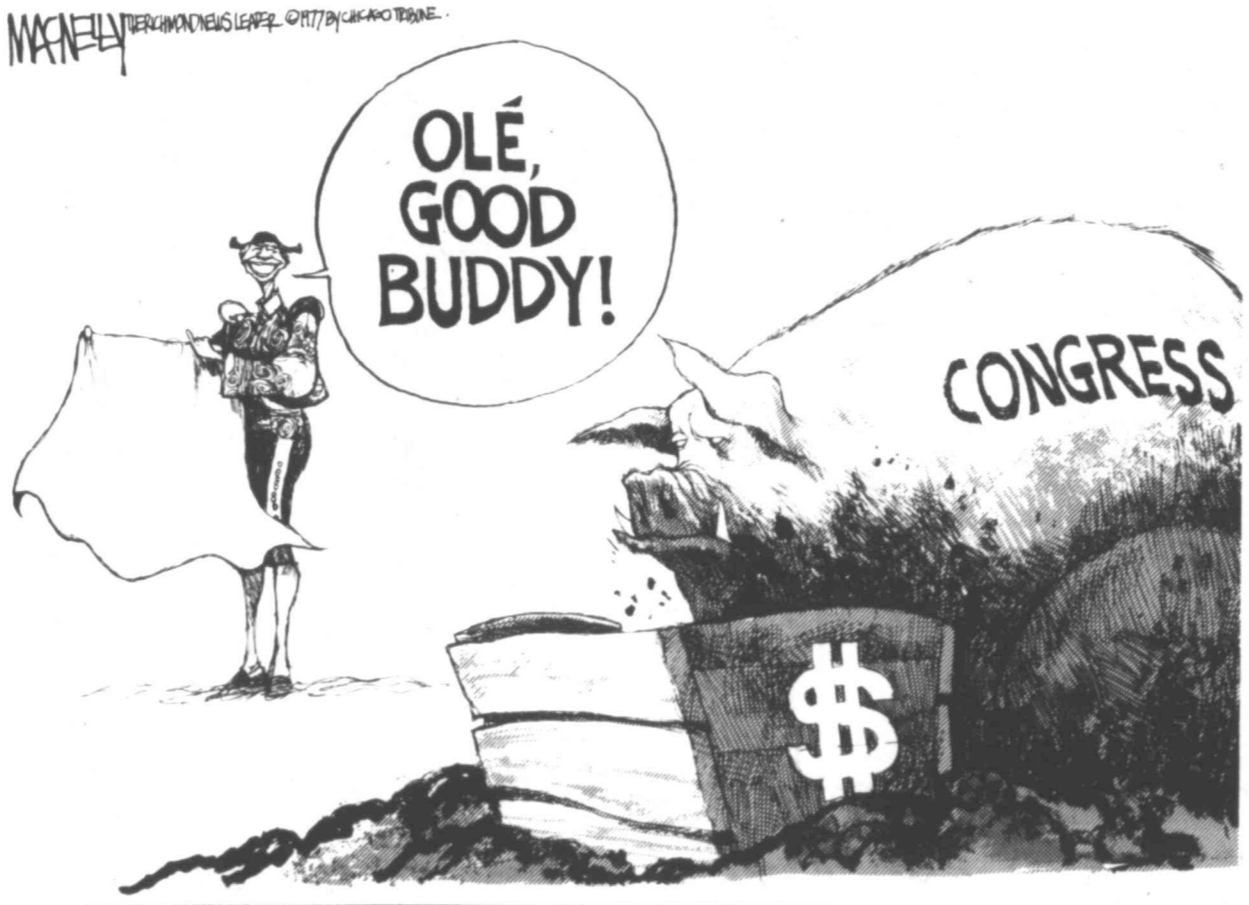

"But what has that got to do with foreign affairs, Andy?"
"It has a lot to do with Africa."
"But the Africans are mad at you also, Andy."

"ONLY THE racist ones. The black countries have inverse racism there, and when I told them that they didn't like it. That's why I said Cuba was a moderating influence in Angola."

"You haven't said anything about Japan, China or Korea yet."
"I was planning to take a trip there."

"Do you have to?"
"Mr. President, anytime you think I'm not doing my job I'll be very happy to resign."

"I wouldn't want you to do that, Andy. I really wouldn't."
"Why not, sir?"
"If I accepted your resignation, everyone would say I was a racist."

Eczema: A medical 'catchall'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had eczema for a year now and have gone to several dermatologists, but nothing seems to help. Do you have any suggestions on the subject? Does eczema ever go away? — Miss B.M.C.

Eczema can be somewhat of a dermatological catchall for a couple of dozen assorted skin disorders. Each requires classification. I'd think that by now you would have been able to narrow things down a bit.

Skin lesions must be seen and matched up with a lot more information than you have given me. Where do the lesions appear, when, and for how long? Are they related to a sensitivity to food or materials, drugs, fabrics?

In children, eczema is usually caused by an allergy. In adults it is often a contact dermatitis — some external source, perhaps related to work or some household substance used the year around. A hobby can be a tipoff in some cases.

Your statement that you have seen "several dermatologists" may be revealing. Unless you have good reason to switch doctors, you probably should stick with one. Any detective needs time in which to sort out evidence, and with skin problems a dermatologist has to be, in effect, a detective. You might try an allergist, but this time stay with him a while.

Eczema can persist or it can disappear if the cause is eliminated. I recall the case of a man who had a chronic severe allergic reaction no one could pinpoint. It disappeared suddenly when he moved to a new neighborhood. The man never did determine just what had caused it, but the odds are good that it was some environmental agent in the old neighborhood.

Overtreatment with random salves and lotions can prolong eczema or make it worse, no matter what the source.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have hypoglycemia (low blood sugar). I am to eat lots of protein foods, but I cannot eat seafood of any kind, so it does limit me badly. Please send me your booklet on hypoglycemia and any other information you might have on what is good to eat. Enclosed is 35 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope. — Mrs. R.D.

While the control of hypoglycemia is based pretty much on diet, there are many other causes that should be looked into and treated. You'll find them listed in the booklet. It's true that protein is emphasized over carbohydrate foods, but there are many non-fish sources of this — meats, eggs, dairy products, and nuts.

A more complete listing is in the booklet you requested. There is plenty of variety available. Frequent meals are suggested over the traditional three a day.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been having hot flashes for a year and a half. They have steadily gotten worse. I am taking vitamin E, hoping it will help. But so far I can't say it has done much good. I have a fear of taking hormones. Would they be harmful? I am 54 and had a hysterectomy nine years ago. My ovaries were left. — Mrs. D.M.

Witty your uterus out and no family or personal history of cancer, you should have no fear of an appropriately prescribed dose of hormone. It is obvious the vitamin E is not effective, and there is little reason to expect it to be.

I sense you are treating yourself. I suggest you see your doctor for appropriate treatment. If hormones are ruled out for you, aspirin or a mild sedative might be helpful.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I use manganese dioxide to color clay used in pottery. Is this dangerous? — L.W.

You should take sensible precautions. The principal effects of long-term occupational exposure to manganese compounds include central nervous system poisoning and pneumonia. Acute inhalation exposure may occur in manganese miners. It's called "metal fume fever."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will lifting weights stunt a 12-year-old's growth? — A.E.

No.

For a better understanding of colitis and other intestinal ailments, their causes and treatment, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, for a copy of his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have heard you say that we are saved by faith alone. How do you understand James 2:24, which says "that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only"? — Mrs. J.P.

DEAR MRS. P.: If you look at the whole passage carefully (James 2:14-26), I think you will see that there is no contradiction between this and other passages that tell us we are saved by faith alone (such as Romans 4:5 and Ephesians 2:8-9).

James is pointing out that there are really two kinds of faith. One is a faith that is just "head knowledge." It agrees intellectually with the truth of the Gospel, but does not do anything about it. As James says, "the devils also believe, and tremble" (James 2:19). This kind of "faith" has no personal commitment to it. It is like having faith that a bridge will hold you up, but then refusing to drive across it. This kind of faith, James warns, cannot save a man, because a person with this kind of faith is not really trusting Christ.

I think verse 26 explains what James is saying: "For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also." A person is only alive if there is some outward sign; a faith is only alive if there is outward evidence.

A 'cult' movie

Around the rim

James Werrell

I guess there are still a few who haven't heard of the new movie, "Star Wars."

According to advance reports, those few don't have long before they are inundated along with the rest of us. After one week in the theaters, the San Francisco Chronicle called the movie a "cult."

SHORTLY AFTER its release, Time used the upper right corner of its cover to call the film, "the best movie of the year." Released in 37 theaters around the country, "Star Wars" set opening day records in all of them.

In its first week of distribution, the flick broke the house record of every theater in which it played. High rollers have already gotten rich off of "Star Wars" by buying stock in 20th Century Fox (the movie's production company) which has doubled since the release of the flick.

"Star Wars," which was written and directed by George Lucas who brought us "American Graffiti," is described as a "science fantasy" film with good guys and bad guys, no sex or bloody violence, and the most dazzling special effects ever filmed (including those in "2001").

The story line basically involves a rebel space army pitted against an evil galactic dictator. An eight-minute space, dog-fight sequence in it is supposedly an instant classic.

But by mid August, at the latest, I predict that the story line will be familiar to everyone. By then, at least half the population may be sick of anything remotely connected with "Star Wars."

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

Secret deal

WASHINGTON — There is disturbing evidence that Panama's strongman Omar Torrijos has struck a secret deal with Libya's wildman Muammar Qaddafi to give the Arab boy a foothold in the Americas and to cooperate with the Arab boycott against the Jews.

The erratic Qaddafi is regarded as one of the world's most irresponsible rulers. He has armed radical terrorist groups, tried to purchase nuclear weapons, subsidized Uganda's zany Idi Amin and engaged in various harum-scarum intrigues.

TWO MONTHS ago, he invited Torrijos to Tripoli for some joint rhetoric against the United States. With much bluster, they pledged political allegiance to each other, arranged to exchange military delegations and agreed upon economic cooperation.

But indications are beginning to leak out that the two leaders also reached a secret understanding, with some ominous overtones. Here are the details:

A secret Panamanian document certifies that a contractor, who is constructing a hydroelectric project in Panama, "has never had any ties of any kind with Jewish or Zionist firms nor persons." The document is dated April 28, 1977 — just 11 days after Torrijos returned from Libya.

A sudden flurry of anti-Semitism has been reported in Panama. Handbills reportedly have been circulated calling for the expulsion of Jews and accusing them of unsubstantiated illegalities. In a confidential letter to Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., notes that the anti-Jewish outbreak "follows on the heels" of Torrijos' visit to Libya. The Congressman concedes that his evidence is "limited," but expresses concern that it might herald "a far wider campaign directed at Jews and Zionists."

Torrijos has quietly agreed to grant Libya one hectare of land in Panama for "commercial, industrial, financial and other international activities." This has raised a red flag with Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla. He has written a private letter to Vance, citing Qaddafi's "rather detailed record of terrorist support" and asking tersely: "What interpretation do you give to 'other international activities'?"

QADDAFI HAS also arranged to establish a $100 million Arab bank in Panama. Government analysts are worried that he might use the bank to launder the money he hands out to terrorist groups. He has used commercial companies, offices and facilities abroad to promote terrorist activities, our sources point out.

In the past, Torrijos has been a mild Israeli supporter. But government analysts fear Panama is in such desperate financial straits that he might be willing to change his attitude toward the Jews in return for Arab petrodollars.

Footnote: We submitted our evidence to the Panamanian Embassy for comment. We heard first from Ricardo Holzer, the Jewish community leader in Panama, who sent us a message that he had received strong assurances from the Panamanian government rejecting anti-Semitism. The timing of his message suggests that he may have been pressured by the government to contact us.

An embassy spokesman, after cabling his government, assured us

Right now we all have the opportunity to sit back and watch a phenomenon happen. And it is different from either the "Jaws" or "King Kong" phenomena.

WITH "JAWS" we had the book that everybody loved, and the movie that brought the book to the screen all too vividly, making it a sure thing. "King Kong" was dubbed a phenomenon by Dino De Laurentiis, its producer, a full year before it was released, making the country slightly fed up with the great ape before he even had a chance to snatch the damsel.

But "Star Wars" came out of nowhere. Director Lucas was reportedly too shy to do a publicity tour to hype his own film, so there was no chance of "Kongism" striking. And of course there was no book.

The picture just struck a nerve in the American psyche where most speculators didn't know (or had forgotten) it had one. And that is how phenomena are born.

As an indicator; after a week in the theater, "Star Wars" had grossed in excess of $3 million, an average of approximately $10,000 per theater per day. In comparison, "Jaws," the all-time gross king, did around $5,000 per theater per day in its early release, and "King Kong" less than $3,000.

My advice is to relax and enjoy this particular phenomenon, and, at the same time, use the opportunity to observe what makes our country go cuckoo. You may not have such an opportunity until "Star Wars II" (already in the works) is released.

OIL DARLING — The oil barons always seem to find a protector when they need one on Capitol Hill, some worthy solon who recognizes how essential petroleum is to the national defense, the American economy and the welfare of the fur salons and Cadillac dealers in Dallas and Houston.

Some unsympathetic Senators, for example, wanted to protect the U.S. coastline from oil pollution. Led by Sen. John Durkin, D-N.H., they are pushing legislation to place environmental safeguards on oil drilling along the vast Outer Continental Shelf.

The oilmen looked around for an advocate who would uphold their interests inside the Senate Energy Committee. They quickly found Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., a balding, baby-faced freshman, who wears three-piece suits to match his three-piece name.

Overnight, he has become the darling of the oil industry. He has loaded down the legislation with amendment after amendment to exempt certain oil leases from the environmental bill.

The amendments, 17 in all, contain "grandfather" clauses that would exempt oil firms, already drilling offshore, from the new safeguards. This would leave such companies as Getty, Standard of California, Shell and Union free to pollute the shores, without too much worry about penalties.

The status gag about phones in cars was to have your chauffeur say, "Just a minute, he's on the other phone." But now the real inside bit is press a couple of buttons and arrange for "that important call" to be received while your hostess looks on as you arrive at her gala. And if call-transfer doesn't quiver your liver, how about pressing a few buttons and bringing in a third party to your telephone sessions?

The Way It Crumbles: It's always interesting to detect trends in popular culture and there's one a-building in the movie world. They are reading a film called "The Boys In Autumn" with further adventures of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn. They are talking about putting Rod Steiger and Glenda Jackson into a sequel called "Whatever Happened to Mr. Chips?"

There will be a remake of "Lassie" as a feature and they want Jimmy Stewart to play a grandpa in it. (Wasn't he a handsome young leading man only yesterday in "Vivacious Lady" with Ginger Rogers? . . . And writer-director Bryan Forbes wants Elizabeth Taylor to act her grown-up self in a sequel to "National Velvet" to be called "International Velvet." Mrs. Warner is said to be fascinated at the thought. This proves that the old stories are best.

DON'T BLAME ME! — Six-year-old Bobby Whitehouse of Hamilton, Ont., has no intention of taking the blame for a fire which damaged the living room of his parents' home Tuesday. Bobby explained that the fire, which burned the drapes and the ceiling, started when "there was a match on the rug and my friend Andy slipped on it."

Hill orders probe into man's death

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Dist. Atty. Carol Vance says he didn't ask for state assistance in the investigation into the death of a Houston man who drowned while in police custody but he said he would welcome it.

Texas Atty. Gen John Hill said Wednesday he would order a state investigation into the May 8 death of Joe Campos Torres, 23, whose body was found in a bayou.

Torres had been arrested three days earlier during a disturbance at a tavern. Officer Terry W. Denson, 27, has been charged with murder. Four other officers were dismissed from the force and another suspended with pay.

Hill said his office would forward to the Justice Department any information it might receive regarding possible civil rights violations and to Vance's office any criminal information.

"It's fine with me," said Vance, who has taken the case to a grand jury. "We've been working with the FBI and we'll be happy to work with the attorney general. They have competent folks in the criminal field. We didn't ask them but we welcome them."

Southwest Airlines info may be subpoenaed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A U.S. Magistrate is expected to rule by Friday on whether to force federal prosecutors to subpoena records of Southwest Airlines for a federal grand jury probe of possible antitrust law violations by two other airlines.

Lawyers for Braniff International and Texas International Airlines told U.S. Magistrate John P. Giles at a hearing Wednesday the Southwest records might clear them of the allegations.

The grand jury probe stems from claims that Braniff and TIA violated antitrust laws in their efforts to keep Dallas-based Southwest out of the lucrative Texas intrastate air market.

"The grand jury's purpose is to clear the innocent as much as to bring to trial those who may be guilty," Melvin Garbow, lawyer for Braniff and TIA, told Giles at the hearing.

Garbow said government prosecutors should not be allowed to keep from the grand jury any evidence that might show the innocence of Braniff and TIA.

Southwest is considered an intrastate air carrier — all its flights begin and end in Texas — and thus outside the regulatory domain of the federal Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB).

But Garbow said credit card records of Southwest passengers, if allowed before the grand jury, would show that "a substantial portion" of Southwest's business comes from passengers traveling interstate.

And, Garbow argued, if Southwest is really an interstate airline, then efforts by Braniff and TIA to bring Southwest under CAB regulation were not antitrust violations as the government claims.

Federal prosecutors from the Justice Department's antitrust division told Giles the Southwest records were irrelevant to the grand jury probe. They have refused to subpoena the records.

A previous antitrust

Vance said he could not speculate on the procedures Hill's office might follow "but their scope might be broader."

"We're concerned with whether there have been state criminal violations," he said. "We are not investigating police procedures."

Meanwhile, a second officer allegedly present when Torres drowned received immunity from prosecution Wednesday and will testify before the county grand jury.

Visiting State District Court Judge Lee Allgood of Conroe issued the immunity to Glenn L. Brinkmeyer, 25, after attorneys had conferred for two days. Louis G. Kinney, 27, also was granted immunity and testified before the grand jury last week.

"There will be no more grants of immunity," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Bert Graham who is handling the inquiry.

"The expected testimony of Brinkmeyer adds new information which is essential to the investigation. We are trying to put together a case which will hold up in trial court. We aren't merely trying to gain indictments."

indictment returned by a federal grand jury here against Braniff and TIA was dismissed by U.S. District Court Judge Adrian Spears who said prosecutors had not properly conducted their investigation.

Prosecutors said Wednesday the current grand jury is to consider returning indictments again on June 29.

Broiled Porterhouse Steaks

Beef Porterhouse Steaks, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick
Salt and pepper
Place Porterhouse steaks on grill (1-inch steaks, 2 to 3 inches from heat; 1½-inch steaks, 3 to 4 inches from heat). Broil at moderate temperature. When first sides are browned, turn, season with salt and pepper and finish cooking the second sides. Turn and season. Steaks cut 1 inch thick require 12 to 15 minutes for rare and 18 to 20 minutes for medium. Steaks cut 1½ inches thick require 22 to 25 minutes for rare and 28 to 30 minutes for medium.

Scalloped Barbecue Potatoes

9 medium potatoes (approximately 3 pounds)
3 tbsps. flour
2¼ c. water
¾ c. barbecue sauce
1 tsp. vinegar
1½ tpsps. salt
2 small onions, thinly sliced
paprika
snipped parsley
Pare potatoes, slice thinly and sprinkle with flour. Combine water, barbecue sauce, vinegar and salt in Dutch oven and heat to boiling. Stir in floured potatoes and onion; simmer 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour 10 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Sprinkle with paprika and snipped parsley. 8 to 12 servings. Potatoes can be cooked in covered Dutch oven on grill top over ash-covered coals, if desired.

Roast Herb Potatoes

8 medium potatoes
Melted butter or margarine
Dill weed
Chives
Salt and pepper

Scrub potatoes under cold water with a vegetable brush. Cut each in 6 to 8 wedge-shaped sections almost through to bottom skin, but do not separate. Brush cut surfaces with butter or margarine; sprinkle with dill weed, chives, salt and pepper. Rub outside of potatoes with butter or margarine and wrap each in heavy-duty foil. Roast potatoes in hot coals about 40 minutes, or until tender. Or bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 1 hour or until tender. 8 servings.

Roundup Sauce

1 envelope (1.25 ounces) onion soup mix
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ cup water
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
¼ cup brown sugar

Combine onion soup mix, tomato sauce, water, vinegar and brown sugar in a saucepan and cook slowly 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Yield approximately 1½ cups. Note: Sauce can be used to brush on roast while it is cooking, if desired.

Baby sitter unfairly accused of theft

By ROBERT WALLACE, Ed.D.
Copley News Service

Dear Doctor,

A few nights ago, I baby-sat for neighbors while they went to a party. I baby-sat for them regularly, and their three children like me very much. Yesterday the lady called me and said she wanted to see me. When I got there I was shocked to hear that she thought I had taken $10 from a cookie jar. She said there was $50 in the jar when she went to the party, and when she checked two days later, $10 was missing.

She said if I didn't return the money, she would tell my parents. I told her I did not take the money but she said for me to go home and think about it and to call her back in a few days.

I'm really upset and don't know what to do.

Caroline

Dear Caroline,

Talk to your mother immediately and share the conversation you had with your neighbor.

Have your mother call the husband, not the wife, and ask if there could be another explanation for the missing money. Also have mother inform him you did not take the money, that you are a good baby sitter, and that you still want to baby-sit for them.

Chances are good that you will receive an apology, and continue to be their baby sitter.

Dear Doctor,

This might sound stupid but it is true. I'm 17 but my birth certificate states that I am 18. It so happens that a mistake was made in the county office when I wrote and asked for the certificate. I was born in January of 1960 but the certificate says January of 1969. My school records show my correct birthdate but I used my birth certificate stating

Super Solomon

The king of the father's had to be Solomon. He had 700 wives and 300 concubines, with the inevitable offspring. The Bible doesn't say how many, says Hallmark researcher Sally Hopkins. On the king's heels was Emperor Maulai Ismail of Morocco, who reversed Solomon's statistics with about 300 wives and 700 concubines. He died in 1727 at the age of 81, leaving 548 sons and 340 daughters. No doubt the descendants of some of those offsprings will honor the emperor's memory when Father's Day rolls around this Sunday.

that I am 18 to get a job that I really need and enjoy.

Last week I was arrested for petty theft and they are treating me as an adult because my driver's license says that I am 18.

My question is this. Should I tell them that I am a minor and lose my job or should I keep quiet and be tried as an adult and keep my job? You see, I must be 18 years old to work.

T. W.

Dear T. W.,

Tell the authorities that there was a mistake on your birth certificate and that you are 17. Have them check with your school to verify this. Let's hope they do.

Contact the county office and share with them the mistake and obtain a birth certificate that has your correct birthdate.

What would you have done if there had been a war, and you would have been drafted at 17 because the military thought you were 18?

Dear Doctor,

My good friend lives across the street from me and we walk to school every morning together. She is a good person, but is terribly disorganized and I usually wind up helping her get ready. We have been late to school several times, but talking to her does no good.

I enjoy walking to school with her very much. Do you have any suggestions?

Sally

Dear Sally,

Your friend probably depends on you too much in the mornings.

Tell her if she is not ready when you pick her up you will leave without her and mean it. How about calling her in the evening before to remind her to get it together?

Questions may be sent to Dr. Robert Wallace, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper.

Variety available for sugar-free diets

By CAROL HART

Preparing meals today is a "real turn-over" from six years ago for Mrs. Truett Thomas, who discovered at that time that her husband was diabetic, and immediately set about to prepare food he could enjoy without worrying about his diet.

"I haven't used over five pounds of sugar in several years," Mrs. Thomas said. "Cooking today is a lot different from just picking up a cookbook."

Mrs. Thomas listed several of the things her husband must stay away from, such as starches, bread, rice, macaroni and sugar. He uses sugar substitutes to sweeten his foods, and his wife prepares such foods as dried fruit for breakfast.

"He used to love dessert," Mrs. Thomas said, concerning her husband's diet. "But the doctor warned him that if he wanted to live, he should go by the rules." She added that he seemed to have little trouble sticking to the rules a diabetic must live by, but that he did miss such things as chocolate pie and cakes.

"We've really worked at it," Mrs. Thomas said, explaining that both she and her husband stay with a sugar-free diet as much as possible. She admitted that she will eat desserts and other recipes containing sugar, but not in front of her husband. "I eat what he eats," she said.

The Thomas' diet consists mainly of meats and vegetables, which her husband enjoys. She also takes advantage of diabetic cookbooks to aid her in preparing a variety of recipes.

Mrs. Thomas said that she experiments with different recipes to come up with "tasty ones to serve." Not all the recipes she has tried have tasted good, she said.

Sugarless recipes often taste better when warm, Mrs. Thomas advised. She said she will often warm up a dish immediately before serving to improve the taste.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas reside at 1608 Osage. Thomas is the administrator at Cowper Clinic and Hospital. Mrs. Thomas is the treasurer for the Jack and Jill School, and works one day each week as a volunteer at the Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Mrs. Thomas is a member of the Gold Star Mothers, a group for families that lost sons or daughters during a war, and serves as president of the organization.

The upkeep of her home is an activity that keeps Mrs. Thomas busy. She also enjoys gardening and working with decoupage.

Several of the recipes Mrs. Thomas considers "tasty" for persons following a sugar-free diet appear here.

Recipes from Mrs. Thomas

GRANDMA'S PUMPKIN PIE

1½ c. canned or mashed cooked pumpkin
¾ c. Sugartwin
½ tsp. salt
1 to 1¼ tpsps. cinnamon
½ to 1 tsp. ginger
¼ to ½ tsp. nutmeg
¼ to ½ tsp. cloves
3 slightly beaten eggs
1¼ c. milk
16-oz. can evaporated milk
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell

Thoroughly combine the pumpkin, Sugartwin, salt and spices. Blend in eggs, milk and evaporated milk. Pour into unbaked pastry shell (having edges crimped high — filling is generous). Bake in 400 degrees oven for 50 minutes or until knife inserted halfway between center and outside comes out clean. Cool.

MOLDED APPLE WALDORF SALAD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ c. cold water
1 c. hot water
½ tsp. salt
1-3rd c. Sugartwin
¼ c. lemon juice
1¼ c. peeled diced apple
¾ c. diced celery
Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in hot water. Stir in salt, Sugartwin, lemon juice. Chill until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Stir in apples and celery. Spoon into quart mold. Chill until firm. Makes six servings.

LOWER-CALORIE PIE CRUST

(1-inch pie serves 6)
¾ c. graham cracker or zwieback crumbs
2 tpsps. unsalted butter or margarine, melted
Combine crumbs with butter. Press into an 8-inch pie pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 8 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

Each serving (1-6 pie) provides 108 calories, 3g. protein, 10 g. carbohydrate, 7 g. fat, and 105 mg. sodium.

LO-CAL PIE CRUST

1¼ c. corn flake crumbs
¾ c. Sugartwin (artificial sweetener)

¼ c. butter or margarine, melted

Combine corn flake crumbs, sweetener and melted butter. Mix well. Press into 8-inch pie plate, bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees, cool and fill with desired filling.

CREAM CHICKEN WITH MUSHROOMS

3 ozs. cooked white chicken meat, cut up
1 c. whole or evaporated milk

½ c. mushrooms
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
few strips pimiento
1 tsp. butter
Heat milk in top of double boiler. Add cut-up chicken and allow to heat through. Brown mushrooms in frying pan, using 1 teaspoon of the butter. Pour this into the milk and chicken, and allow to simmer until flavor of mushrooms goes through milk. Serve on toast, garnished with few strips of pimiento and a sprinkle of nutmeg.

TUNA BARBECUE

2 cans chunk tuna (6½ to 7 ounces each)
1 large onion
1 c. catsup
2-3rd c. water
2 tpsps. sugar or 2 tpsps. Sweet 'n Low
2 tpsps. vinegar
1 tsp. prepared mustard
½ tsp. salt
pepper, as you like
6 hamburger rolls
Drain oil from tuna into a large pan. Chop onion. Cook onion in tuna oil until tender. Add rest of ingredients, except tuna. Cook slowly about 20 minutes, stirring to keep from sticking. Break tuna in large pieces into the sauce. Cook 10 minutes longer, stirring as needed to prevent sticking. Serve on hamburger rolls.

DIET APPLESAUCE CAKE

½ c. margarine
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg or cloves
2 eggs
3 tsp. Sweet 'n Low or 1 tsp. liquid sweetener
1 c. dates cut line or raisins

1 1-3rd c. unsweetened applesauce

1 c. pecans
1 tsp. vanilla
2 c. flour
2 tsp. soda
Put in oiled pan and bake at 350 degrees for about an hour. I use my Bundt pan. Can use dieters Dream Whip or margarine on cake or eat it as it is.

APPLE TUNA SALAD

1 pkg. (4-serving size) D-Zerta low calorie lemon gelatin dessert
½ tsp. salt (optional)
1 c. boiling water
1 c. cold water
2 tpsps. lemon juice
dash of pepper
1 can (7 oz.) water-pack tuna, drained and flaked
½ c. chopped unpeeled red apple
¼ c. minced onion
1 tsp. chopped parsley
Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add cold water, lemon juice, and pepper. Chill until thickened. Fold in tuna, apple, onion, and parsley. Pour into a 4-cup mold. Chill until firm — at least 3 hours. Unmold. Serve with crisp salad greens, if desired. Makes 3 cups or 3 servings.

Each serving provides 98 calories, 18 g. protein, 5 g. carbohydrate, 1 g. fat, and 26 mg. sodium.

SUGARLESS CARROT COOKIES

(for dieters)
½ c. shortening
2 tsp. liquid sweetener
1 egg, beaten
1½ c. flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 c. sieved cooked carrots
1 tsp. vanilla
½ c. chopped nuts
½ c. raisins (optional)
Cream the shortening, sweetener, and eggs in a bowl. Sift the dry ingredients together and add to the creamed mixture alternately with carrots. Stir in the vanilla, nuts, and raisins, and drop by teaspoonful onto lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees until lightly brown. Do not over bake.

Valley Citrus Grove Sherbet

6 large orange shells, frozen
1 cup fresh orange juice (or ¼ cup water and 6 tablespoons orange juice concentrate)
¼ cup fresh lemon juice (1 large lemon)
¼ cup milk
½ cup Imperial Granulated Sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
Dash salt
4 egg whites, divided
4 tablespoons Imperial Granulated Sugar

Cut 1 inch slice from tops of six oranges; extract juice and measure 1 cup. Grate rind from tops and reserve rind. Scrape out and discard remaining pulp from orange shells and freeze shells in muffin tin to keep shells upright. Combine orange juice (or water and orange juice concentrate) with lemon juice, milk, Imperial Granulated Sugar, corn syrup and salt. Heat in saucepan until sugar dissolves; mixture will curdle. Cool, then freeze about two hours, stirring a few times. When frozen firmly, break sherbet up with fork until fluffy. Fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites and scoop into frozen orange shells; freeze until firm. Beat remaining two egg whites with 4 tablespoons Imperial Granulated Sugar, beaten in thoroughly one tablespoon at a time. Pile meringue in high peaks on top of sherbet, sealing meringue around tops of shells. Bake in preheated 350° oven about two minutes, or until a light golden tan. Serve immediately or freeze until serving time. Let frozen sherbets stand at room temperature about five minutes before serving. Garnish with grated orange rind and mint leaves, if desired. Serves six.

Serving suggestion: This dessert is served beautifully in champagne glasses.

WASHINGTON, MO. — 67th ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray of Washington dressed as newlyweds as they celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary recently. The couple were married in 1910. Mrs. Murray commented that their love for one another now, "is just the same. We're kissing bugs. Just kissin' all the time."

Love and Marriage: No Experience Necessary

DEAR ABBY: You never gave worse advice than when you told that 20-year-old theology student to go ahead and get married without getting any premarital sexual experience. You said the mating instinct was natural, and he didn't need any lessons.

Well, mating and lovemaking are two different things. Any animal can mate, but lovemaking is an art that requires instruction and practice to perfect.

For a man to jump into the marriage bed without previous experience (assuming his bride is as innocent as he is), could result in disaster! It could ruin their marriage and their relationship.

It is a crime that you, with your old-fashioned moral values, are giving advice to millions.

MODERN MAN

DEAR MODERN: Call it "mating" or "lovemaking" or whatever you wish, it's the same act. A truly kind, loving, unselfish man does not need to be taught tenderness and consideration. That will come as naturally as the mating instinct. Almost every church has premarital counseling, and there are some excellent manuals on the subject.

Read on for another point of view:

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that young man that it wasn't necessary for him to rush out and get sexual experience before marrying.

When my wife and I were married, we were both virgins. Somehow we managed to learn together. We have been married for 22 years and have three children, and may I say that we have a fantastic sex life. There is something especially reassuring and sacred about our relationship, knowing that each has always been totally and exclusively committed to the other.

DUKE

And yet another:

DEAR ABBY: Talk about two dumb kids: My husband and I were about as inexperienced as two people could be. He was 20 and I was 17 when we married. That was 66 years ago, and now we can look back and smile, because we figured out exactly what had to be done and how to do it, and we may have invented a few new things, for all we know. And by the way, we may have slowed up a bit of late, but we haven't given up entirely.

R. AND J.

DEAR ABBY: In listing West Virginia's most distinguished natives, you omitted probably the most distinguished of all: U.S. Senator Jennings Randolph, who has served in Congress (both the House and Senate) longer than any other elected official presently there.

JOHN D. MONTGOMERY

DEAR MR. M.: Thanks for reminding me of something I already knew.

Phi Sigma Alpha meets, elects officers

The Texas Delta Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha met last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Ross Boykin for an election of officers.

The program consisted of the discussion of programs to be studied and planning the agenda for the coming year.

The annual yardstick was reported by Mrs. Cantrell. Mrs. Warden was hostess for the meeting.

The next meeting will be the second Tuesday in September.

MS. HASTON receives honor

Bride-elect honored with shower

The country home of Mrs. A.A. Price was the place of a bridal shower Sunday afternoon honoring Miss Pati Porter, bride-elect of Alan Chepregi.

Co-hosting with Mrs. Price were Mrs. Paul Kionka, Mrs. P.W. Malone and Mrs. J.W. Tipton.

Mrs. Charles Lewis poured and presided over the organically covered table in which a large colorful arrangement of white and cream daisies, pink carnations and miniature purple iris was placed.

Miss Jill Dunnam helped the guests register in the bride's wedding book.

Guested adjourned to the game room decorated with an overhead flower arbor of ivy, weigela, oleander and daisies over a smaller table with a picture of the bride and groom.

At a lower level sat a large table laden with presents. Miss Nancy Peery helped the future bride open the presents.

Miss Porter wore a creamy yellow long gown with caplet sleeves while the hostesses chose pastel long gowns for the afternoon affair.

The hostesses' gift was a blender and ice crusher.

The couple will be married July 19 in the chapel at First Presbyterian Church.

Scenic chapter gives award

Woman of the year named

Ms. Zenuia Haston has been named Woman of the Year of the Scenic Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA). The announcement came at the chapter's monthly meeting in May at the Western Sizzler.

Ms. Haston is a PBX operator for Webb AFB. She has been there for 21 years. She has been a member of the Scenic Chapter since 1963.

Annually, each ABWA chapter selects one of its members for this award. Selection is based on the member's achievement in her field of business, education, participation in the association, and in community activities.

As a qualified chapter Woman of the Year, Ms. Haston may enter in competition for the 1977-1978 Top Ten Business Women of ABWA and the "American Business Woman of the Year" awards. Announcement of the national award recipients will be made at ABWA's 1977 National Convention, October 20-23, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Clock works

BASSETERRE, St. Kitts (AP) — After a lengthy slowdown, the "Circus Clock" atop the Berkeley Memorial Monument in Basseterre is working again. The monument, standing in the middle of a circular open space called The Circus, was built to honor the former president of the island's general legislative council.

WINDOW FASHIONS by Ted Hatfield

Windows can be the decorative focal point of a room or they can be just plain windows. Most of us are missing the boat with one of our best architectural features.

The window treatment can be as elegant or informal as we desire, but both can be a thing of beauty. The new decorative drapery rods, hold backs, trims and beautiful fabrics are available for even the most modest budget and only our imagination stops us from having beautiful windows.

We have all the beautiful fabrics in the latest patterns and colors. Fabrics that have been selected by Home Fashion Designers to enhance your other home furnishings.

Stop by soon and let us show you how your own home can be transformed by the addition of beautiful draperies, designed in window treatment just for you.

Climbing again

with Marj Carpenter

Now I told you reading fans and after I climbed the Mountain at Cloudfroft, N.M., last month, I was through climbing.

But suddenly in Mississippi, I found myself climbing again. When I went down there for the press women's meeting, the furthest thing from my mind was a possible climb.

After all, it's all magnolia trees, gardenia bushes and flat beaches. But bless my soul, I climbed.

The Mississippi Press Women hosted a tour of the Litton Shipyards in Pascagoula, Miss. They build multi-mission destroyers, and carrier size helicopter assault ships.

Now those assault ships are as tall as 22-story buildings. Just up to the flight deck is about ten stories. And we walked. We walked up the ramp into the hold, and up the ramp to the next level, and up the ramp and up the ramp until we finally got to the flight deck. When I climbed the mountain, I got a good view of the ground all the way up. While climbing the ramps, I viewed the floor.

That ship was huge. You could put a bunch of helicopters on that flight deck and still have room to play football. They have a hospital at one level that was as large as a lot of Texas county hospitals I've seen.

But my favorite thing I saw was on the lowest level. At the very edge of the ship, there was some water and a fellow was stooped down with a little bucket, bailing water. I thought it was hilarious that in that huge ship, there was any spot on it, that somebody had to resort to plain old bailing.

That entire trip was a revelation. I found out how small the world is when I sat down at breakfast and turned out to be sitting at a table with press women from Sulphur, La. who know my old college roommate well.

When visiting at lunch with Faye Packett, president of the Maryland Press Women, she asked "Where is Big Spring?" When I told her, she said, "You don't know where Pyote is, do you?"

MISSISSIPPI SHIPYARDS ...AT PASCAGOULA

When I admitted that I did, she turned to her friend Flo Burge from Reno, Nev. and said, "That's the first person I have ever found since World War II that knew where Pyote Air Force Base was."

She related that back in the early 40s, she had ridden sitting up in a coach on the train all the way from Maryland to meet her husband at Pyote. He got her a room in a boarding house. The next morning, she got up and it was 110 degrees in the shade and no shade. She started walking to the base, fainted and hit her head on a rock. She woke up in the base hospital.

So there really wasn't much use in me telling the stories about how it really wasn't very hot in West Texas. It was either Dorothy Edwards or Frances Carroll from Louisiana that had a father named Henry Gibson who designed the rooster that sits on top of the San Angelo Standard Times building and appears in their paper when it rains.

Her friend said, "They run a rooster everytime it rains?" The Louisiana woman laughed and said, "That isn't really all that often in West Texas."

So I couldn't tell any rain stories. Then when I met the national president of the Press Women and it was Charlotte Schexnayder from Arkansas, she asked about my home town.

When I said Big Spring, she brightened up and said, "My husband and I lived there a year when he worked for Texas and Pacific."

So I couldn't make up any tales at all. There were women there from Washington to Alaska and Florida to California but every time I turned around somebody knew something about West Texas.

I thought it was great. And being a typical Texan, I bragged a lot — out where I was ridin' far from the fence.

Motel occupancy tax voted

COLORADO CITY — The city council passed a 3 per cent motel occupancy tax in Colorado City when it met in regular session at city hall Tuesday.

The tax will bring an estimated $9,000 per year into the city tills to be used for tourist development. It will be handled in a separate fund through city hall, according to a decision by the council.

The council awarded Bobby Nobles of Colorado City the bid on a new three-block long street on 18th Street in a new subdivision. The low bid by Nobles was $49,603.

In other action, they paid $10,000 as the first installment of a $36,000 contract for renovations of the overhead water storage tanks with Southwest Tank and Tower, Inc.

The council also discussed working out an agreement with Loraine to use the city landfill.

The city also agreed to use approximately $4,000 in revenue sharing money to build new restroom facilities in Ruddick Park near the Little League fields.

The lease renewal with Webb Air Force Base for an auxiliary field near Colorado City was canceled by the Air Force so the land will revert to the city. City Manager James Campbell said that the 160 acres northwest of town will go back to the city on June 30.

Mayor Marian Bassham presided at the meeting with all council members present.

ATTENTION TEACHERS!!

Registration is now being conducted for a graduate-level seminar being offered through the Education Department at Abilene Christian University under the sponsorship of The Abilene Reporter-News.

Three hours of graduate credit will be offered for this two-week seminar to be held July 11-22.

This special seminar is an outgrowth of a series of workshops The Abilene Reporter-News has been conducting in the Big Country on the use of newspapers as an educational tool. The interest expressed has been far greater than we had anticipated, and a strong desire for such a seminar has been indicated.

A field of about 10 professionals who have been working in some way with the Newspaper in the Classroom program will participate in the instruction for the seminar. The professor of credit will be Dr. Ed Coates of ACU, who has extensive experience in working with group activities.

Since the Reporter-News is underwriting the seminar, the regular tuition rate will be reduced considerably. Total tuition cost for the course will be $75, less than half the normal tuition rate for a three-hour course.

Housing in air-conditioned dormitories on the campus will be available for those who want it. The cost will be only $30 for the two-week period. Meal tickets will also be available.

Don't miss this opportunity to participate in one of the most interesting graduate seminars you will ever experience.

It will be the most enjoyable way you will ever earn three hours of graduate credit, and will be a solid investment in your career as a teacher.

More and more teachers are finding that the newspaper can be one of the most effective teaching tools in their classrooms.

Why don't you get started on the road to effective teaching?

Contest winner

Susan Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin of the Ackerly community, is in Washington, D.C., the reward of her winning speech in the Government-In-Action Youth Tour Contest sponsored by Cap-Rock Electric Cooperative.

Susan boarded a chartered bus in Waxahachie for Washington.

Miss Martin and 32 other young people from around the state will spend four days in Washington, seeing their "government in action." They will visit their respective congressmen, visit both the House and the Senate while the legislative bodies are in session and will be special guests at the White House, at which time an audience with President Carter might be arranged.

The Texans will also visit many of the historical sites around Washington, D.C., and will tour the Smithsonian Institute while there. They will return by way of Jamestown, Williamsburg, Va., and Lookout Mountain near Chattanooga, Tenn.

Their arrival back in Waxahachie is scheduled for June 21.

Farm Tick woes ticked off

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — State animal health commissioners Wednesday called for extensive federal funding of a program to keep tick-infested Mexican livestock out of the state.

The Texas Animal Health Commission adopted a new tick policy agreement, including requests that the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Inspection Service provide carcicide, vats and dipping facilities along the Texas-Mexican border.

To implement the prevention program, a 24-hour-a-day, seven days a week border patrol of at least 83 "capable and experienced men" would be created. Commissioners would appoint an executive director with full state and federal authority to head the border program.

Part of the new agreement also calls for eliminating use of the U.S. Civil Service test for picking border patrolmen. Jim Donnell, a member of the special tick advisory committee that reviewed the new agreement, said this would ensure that "the right kind of men" would be picked. Donnell stressed that patrolmen should have experience with livestock and familiarity with the tick problem.

Although ticks have not been such a problem this year, with no spotting since December 1 in areas where outbreaks had previously occurred, commissioners said there is a shortage of dipping facilities to combat the problem. In Webb County, some cattle must be hauled 80 to 100 miles to be dipped.

Commissioners also declared pseudorabies, or "PRV" a reportable and quarantinable disease. The sickness affects primarily pigs but can infect cattle, sheep and dogs. It is highly contagious but does not contaminate meat for human consumption and can not be contracted by humans. The change will take effect in 30 days. Veterinarians around the state will be notified to inform the commission of any outbreaks they diagnose, and the commission will then decide whether to issue a quarantine.

Donnell and Dr. Gilberto Trevino of the Institute of Tropical Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M expressed disappointment that a prominent Hindu researcher had been "hired away" by Australia.

Texas Pesticide Control Act viewed

Howard County producers are reminded that certain pesticides will be restricted and available for use legally only by or under the supervision of certified applicators.

The classification of certain pesticides as restricted-use pesticides and the requirement for certification are each requirements of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended, which is scheduled to be fully implemented on October 21, 1977.

The Texas Pesticide Control Act although not requiring certification of private applicators, authorizes the Commissioner of Agriculture to establish a program to certify private applicators, on a voluntary basis, who wish to use or supervise the use of restricted-use pesticides in compliance with federal law.

The term "private applicator" means a certified applicator who uses or supervises the use of any pesticide which is classified for restricted use for purposes of producing any agricultural commodity on property owned or rented by him or his employer or, if applied without compensation other than trading of personal services between producers of agricultural commodities, on the property of another person.

The program established by the Texas Department of Agriculture provides three options for certification of private applicators to include:

—Completion of an approved training program conducted by a qualified institution or training group.

—Submission of a completed questionnaire to the Texas Department of Agriculture following review of self-study material, and

—For emergency situations, a single-product, single-purchase, single-use certification available through the Texas Department of Agriculture.

A private applicator certification training program is scheduled as a means by which Howard County producers may qualify for certification as private applicators.

The meeting will be held Friday, June 17 in the County Courthouse in Big Spring at 1:30 p.m.

The self-study option is an alternative to participation in a training program. To complete the self-study option the person seeking certification must submit a completed questionnaire to the Texas Department of Agriculture following a review of self-study materials. The self-study materials are available at the county Extension office.

The single-product, single-purchase, single-use certification will be available as restricted-use pesticides are marketed.

The full implementation of the amended Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act is scheduled for October 1977. On this date, barring any changes in the law, producers of agricultural commodities must be certified applicators as a requisite to the use of restricted-use pesticides.

OFF TO POLAND — Daria Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan, leaves this week for Poland on an international foreign exchange program. She will stay three months with government farm families and three with private farm families. She is a recent graduate of Texas Tech with an agriculture communicating degree. She graduated from Big Spring High School and attended one year at Howard College. She was active in 4-H Club work at the Gay Hill Community during her school days.

—Completion of a questionnaire to the Texas Department of Agriculture following review of self-study material, and suddenly we came up with the idea of a mud-slinging contest. It was so silly we figured it might work."

—For emergency situations, a single-product, single-purchase, single-use certification available through the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The challenge was issued forthwith to the Democrats and accepted grandly, not only to a mud-slinging contest but also to a tug-of-war across the park pond.

At a time when the dirt of less literal mudslinging, and worse, has not yet worn off the American politician's image, there they were, the town's councilmen, school board members, zoning commissioners and all their families, out on a Sunday afternoon cooking hamburgers and playing in the mud.

Ludicrous? It was a joy to behold.

"In 15 years I've watched this town grow from 15,000 to about 28,000," said Councilman Uccello. "We not only grew fast, we grew apart. This is the sort of town event that can get us all together. I think it's a great idea — even if it was the Republicans'."

Republican LaPorte laughed.

Special election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two Democratic women and a Republican man have filed as candidates in the special July 16 election to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former Rep. Ken Vaughan, D-Garland.

The candidates — all from Garland — are Earlene Rosengartner, homemaker; Mrs. Harris Hill, homemaker and legislative aide; and Mike McCauley, lawyer.

The filing deadline was 5 p.m. Wednesday. Vaughan resigned to accept a judicial appointment.

Pros compete in mudslinging

By JULES LOH
AP Special Correspondent
NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Politicians are nothing but a bunch of mudslingers, right?

Last Sunday afternoon a gang of politicians gathered in the park. They brought their families and picnic lunches and also hauled a load of fine red dirt from beside the road and piled it in the shade of a big maple tree.

They fetched buckets of water from the park pond and mixed it with the dirt. Their children helped, with obvious delight and anticipation. Soon it was mud. The kids squeezed it through their fingers and approved.

The politicians took up handfuls of the mud, stood back and let fly. They slung mud at one another, the children slung mud at the politicians, the politicians at the children. Everybody ran around slinging mud.

"Dirty politics," said Paul Uccello, Democrat.

"Muddy but unbowed," said Bill LaPorte, Republican.

When it was over the politicians clasped each other's slimy hands, slapped each other's splattered backs, laughed at each other's grimy faces and headed for the keg.

"Did you enjoy it?" asked LaPorte, toweling off his wristwatch. "Meet Bunny Husmer. She's the nut over whose kitchen table this crazy idea was hatched."

"I confess," Mrs. Husmer said, shaking mud out of her hair.

"We were sitting around trying to think up ways to get more people involved, to take an interest in the town. It was late, we were all tired, ready to go home, when

Strike-breaking shots

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A truck driver says he was fired on by a roadside gunman then almost chased off the road by another truck—the latest reported incidents involving strike-breaking drivers for the McNair Transportation Co. Seven shootings have been reported since Teamsters struck McNair a month ago, but no drivers have been hit.

Webster Parish sheriff's deputy Jimmy Morgan said Wednesday that J.D. Bradley, a shop foreman for McNair in El Dorado, Ark., reported he was driving late Tuesday night on Arkansas 19 near Walkerville, just over the Louisiana line, when someone started firing over the hood of a car that was parked beside the road.

Bradley said his windshield was shattered, but he was not injured.

About four hours later he reported getting into an argument on a CB radio and having a truck-fight with another driver trying to run him off the road.

Bo Garrison, superintendent of Louisiana state police, said investigators are worried that other motorists could be injured.

"Our concern is not only for the safety of the people involved in the situation," he said.

Howard College reveals honor list

Howard College has announced the honors list for the spring semester 1977. These students have attained the distinction of academic achievement in one of the five honors divisions.

The purpose of the Howard College honor roll is to commend officially those students who are enrolled for a minimum of 15 scholastic hours and whose grades are meritorious.

Huddleston selected

Ed Huddleston, Borden County resident and former BHS teacher, has been selected for membership in the Law Review program at Texas Tech School of Law.

The Law Review is a professional legal journal managed and edited by law students. Membership is limited to those who rank at the top of their first year class. The Law Review publishes both student written notes and comments on various areas of the law and leading articles by professors, judges, and practicing attorneys.

Huddleston also has been selected for membership in the Warren Inn of Phi Delta Phi, and international legal service fraternity whose membership is limited to top ranking law students world wide.

Huddleston, a second year student at Texas Tech School of Law, is ranked fifth academically in a class of 153 students, according to Frank Elliot, dean of the Law School.

Huddleston is the son-in-law of the Rev. and Mrs. Monroe Teeters of Coahoma.

Experts mistaken

A. L. Fulcher, local insurance man and sports enthusiast, has one up today on Mickey Herskowitz and Steve Perkins of the syndicated column "Sports Hot Line".

Wednesday morning, Fulcher noticed the following question and answer in the San Angelo paper:

Q. During a family discussion about dog racing, I made a statement that at one time the promoters tried using monkeys as jockeys on dogs. This brought down the house. Am I correct or not? Seems to me I did see pictures of monkeys holding tight to the dogs' bellies. — C.B. O'Keefe, Lake Worth, Fla.

A. Just when you think you have seen or heard all the questions, here comes another one. Other than the clown acts at Barnum and Bailey, we could find no other instances where monkeys were used as jockeys for dog races. But we have to admit, the spectacle of monkey in riding silks, whipping a greyhound with his riding crop, would be worth seeing.

Well Mickey and Steve, look to your right there. That's not a picture of Steve Cauthen or Seattle Slew. That's a real live monkey on the back of a greyhound. Fulcher took the picture when he lived in far West Texas some time back. Such races were common in Juarez.

Reporter Bill Werrell has pictures of the same sort he acquired while on a recent trip to the border town, and if you needed it carved on stone tablets, ex-sports exec Tommy "Mack" Hart observed such races live.

The world-famous "Texas Cowgirls" basketball team is commencing preparation for the 1977-78 season. Originally organized in 1949 by the late Jack Kearns, well-known fight manager of six world champions, including Jack Dempsey, the Texas Cowgirls have played in Spain, North Africa, Italy and Alaska.

The group is again looking for talent. Applications for try-outs may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Texas Cowgirls, P.O. Box 406, Rockton, Illinois, 61072.

Girls must have a good background in basketball, athletic ability and a good moral character, the release states. There is a lot of female basketball talent around this area. If you're interested, why not apply. Send a resume and background.

Pat Summerall, the likeable commentator on CBS Sports, has had his contract extended through 1982, making him a 20-year man with the network.

Summerall began his association with CBS in 1962, after a successful 10-year career as a player in the National Football League.

During his career in the NFL (through 1961), Summerall was a fine tight end, and also compiled an excellent record as placekicker. He scored a total of 567 points, and before retiring after the 1961 season had converted 129 consecutive extra points.

Summerall, 45, was a football star at the University of Arkansas before turning pro with the Chicago Cardinals, with whom he played six seasons. His final four years were spent with the New York Giants.

AP NOTES: Texas junior right-hander pitcher Don Kainer has signed a professional contract with the Texas Rangers and will pass up his final year with the Longhorns to report to the Rangers' 2A farm club in Tulsa, Okla.

Kainer, a Houston Milby graduate, had a 15-2 record but was not drafted until the 13th round. He said the Rangers gave him a bonus between $15,000 and $20,000.

THE DALLAS Cowboys announced Wednesday the signing of quarterback Glenn Carano of Nevada-Las Vegas to a "series of one-year contracts at undisclosed terms."

Carano, 6-3 and 195 pounds, completed 337 out of 636 passes for 5,095 yards during his career at Nevada-Las Vegas. He was the Cowboys' second-round choice.

O.J. SIMPSON, telling why he'll retire after two more seasons, said he'll never forget seeing his boyhood idol, Willie Mays, fall down while running the bases for the New York Mets. "I don't want anybody seeing me fall down," explained O.J. "I hear all these young players talking about Johnny Unitas as if he played at the same time as Red Grange. All they ever saw were his wobbly passes. I don't want to be remembered that way."

Pate, Watson, Chi Chi U.S. open top noddors

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Defending champion Jerry Pate had the rest of the U.S. Open field just where he wanted them today—"feeling sorry for me."

"I'm going to give everybody something to write about ... there's no reason why I can't win," said the 23-year-old former University of Alabama star who has been plagued with a shoulder injury since he won the Phoenix Open, the first tournament of the year.

With a field of 152 other players chasing Pate on the opening round of the 77th National Championship, the confident Georgian said: "I'm pain-free, both physically and mentally. I was on the practice tee Wednesday and my shoulder and arms no longer hurt. I wasn't even thinking about it until somebody mentioned it."

Pate has abandoned the use of the drug butazolin which had helped ease the inflammation in his shoulder.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, whose suddenly revamped game has made him one of the favorites over Southern Hills Country Club's 6,873 yards of treachery, said "Jerry is playing so well I wish he had taken another month off. He's really putting."

Pate, one of the PGA's young turks with the nerveless putting touch, is aware that repeaters have seldom been successful in the Open. Since 1920 only Bobby Jones (1929-1930), Ralph Guldahl (1937-1938) and Ben Hogan (1950-1951) have repeated in America's most prestigious tournament.

Pate said he felt "somebody is going to shoot this thing under par if the weather stays like it has. The greens are super slick but fair. The rough is tough and is going to get tougher. But the weather is the main thing."

Dave Stockton shot one-under-par 279 when he captured the PGA title here in 1970.

Tommy Bolt, who won the 1958 National title at Southern Hills, said: "The course is playing much easier than it was back then. The rough was a lot higher."

Going...going...GONE

By the Associated Press

The top names bartered away before baseball's trading deadline also were the biggest name-callers in recent weeks.

—Tom Seaver once called his boss "a lunatic."

—Dave Kingman said his employers were living in the dark ages.

—And Rawly Eastwick said his chiefs were good at backstabbing.

These players today work for different organizations, although it was ironic that Seaver now plays for the team Eastwick could not stand.

Seaver, perhaps the top pitcher in baseball the past 10 years, and Kingman, a boom-or-bust slugger, were traded by the New York Mets Wednesday night.

The right-handed Seaver went to the Cincinnati Reds for right-handed pitcher Pat Zachry, the National League's rookie of the year in 1976, infielder Doug Flynn and minor league outfielders Steve Henderson and Dan Norman. Henderson, who swings a big bat, and Flynn, a versatile infielder, were unable to crack the Reds' talent-rich lineup.

Seaver's main complaint with his boss, M. Donald Grant, was that he was cheap. He would not lay out millions for last year's talented free agents and he would not renegotiate Seaver's three-year, $675,000 contract.

Bob Howsam, the Reds' president, said Seaver's contract would not be renegotiated this year.

Kingman takes his all-or-nothing bat to San Diego, where he will be toiling for the Padres, who did spend millions on a couple of free agents last year. Kingman, who is unsigned, also thought Grant was tight with money. It was not known whether Kingman would sign with the Padres, who sent reserve infielder Bobby Valentine and left-handed pitcher Paul Siebert to the Mets.

Eastwick also was unsigned, and he said that he does not intend to put his name on a St. Louis contract. The Cardinals, who now pack a potent one-two punch in Eastwick and Al Hrabosky out of the bullpen, sent minor league pitcher Doug Capilla to the Reds in the deal.

The fact that Kingman and Eastwick were unsigned will not invalidate those deals, although, exactly one year ago, Oakland owner Charles O. Finley sold two of his unsigned players, Rollie Fingers and Joe Rudi, for $1 million apiece to the Boston Red Sox, and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn blocked the transactions.

Kuhn, in a landmark decision which has been affirmed by a federal judge, voided those sales, plus the $1.5 million sale of Vida Blue to the New York Yankees one year ago, citing his powers to act in the best interests of baseball.

Kuhn said the Oakland sales of a year ago would dismantle the club, and that the A's had not received any major league players in return. At least the 1977 deals, completed just prior to the trading deadline, had players moving in both directions.

LAST NIGHT — Pitchers Pat Zachry, left, and Rawly Eastwick stand together in the Cincinnati Reds dugout before Wednesday night's game with Philadelphia in Cincinnati. By the end of the night, both men had been traded with Zachry going to the New York Mets and Eastwick moving to St. Louis. Ironically, Zachry said later that the two had discussed trades while standing together but both men thought they were going to get past the trading deadline without moving.

Midland edges 'Rillo, only 3 games behind

El Paso stretched its lead to three games over Midland in the West Division of the Texas League Wednesday night with a twin-bill sweep of San Antonio, 6-5 and 11-10.

Midland edged Amarillo 6-5 in the only other league action. Tulsa and Arkansas and Shreveport at Jackson were both washed out.

Bob Slader's two-out double in the 10th inning drove in Steve Strouther with the winner in the first El Paso-San Antonio contest. It was a continuation of a game suspended May 4 because of a power failure. There was no power failure Wednesday night, though, as San Antonio catcher Ted Farr and El Paso's Terry Stupny each slugged three-run homers.

Farr blasted another three-run homer in the nightcap, but Stupny's two-out single drove in the tying and winning runs for El Paso.

Astros block too!

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros were involved in two baseball trades Wednesday.

The Astros assigned outright the contract of catcher-outfielder Cliff Johnson to the New York Yankees for the consideration of $100,000 or the contract of a satisfactory player to be named by Oct. 30.

In conjunction with the Johnson assignment the Astros acquired from the Yankees the contracts of minor league shortstop Mike Fischlin and left-handed pitcher Randy Neimann.

Fischlin, who was at Fort Lauderdale of the Florida State League, and Neimann, at West Haven of the Eastern League, will be assigned by the Astros to the Columbus AA ball club.

Johnson was hitting .298 with 10 home runs and 23 runs batted in.

The Astros also assigned the contract of outfielder Willie Crawford to the Oakland A's. In that transaction the Astros received outfielder Dennis Walling, who was assigned to Charleston of the International League.

Kern takes early lead

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Jeff Kern of Tucson, Ariz., took an early lead at the 62nd Annual Men's Southwestern Amateur Golf Tournament here Wednesday, but Roger Armstrong of Oakland, Calif., caught up and both carded three-under-par 70's at the end of the first round.

With temperatures that baked the hilly, 6,500-yard Coronado Country Club course at 104 degrees, only 9 players out of 198 starters managed to match or break the par-70 layout. Putting woes were aggravated by tricky winds that first blew to the east and then to the southwest.

Meredith back to ABC

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Dallas Cowboy quarterback Don Meredith will return to ABC Television as a commentator on Monday Night Football, it was learned Wednesday.

Sources said that Meredith will replace Alex Karras on the Monday Night broadcast team that also includes Frank Gifford and Howard Cosell.

Chet Simmons, vice president of sports, confirmed the report, saying Meredith left with NBC's best wishes.

"He just felt he wanted to go back to ABC and rejoin Frank and Howard," said Simmons. "We had lengthy talks with him but that's what he wanted to do so we wished him godspeed."

Brown mix beats Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — After 10 years in the minors and five years in the American League Jackie Brown is finally making his presence known as a starter in the National League. Brown, traded to Montreal by Cleveland last December, hurled a four-hitter for his third consecutive victory Wednesday night as the Expos rolled past the Houston Astros, 2-0.

"I was mixing up my pitches well," said Brown, who picked up his first NL career shutout. "I established my curve ball early and the batters just got themselves out." Brown, 44, received the only run he needed in the second inning. Tony Perez and Warren Cromartie opened the inning with singles, preceding Gary Carter's sacrifice fly to right off Houston loser J. R. Richard, 5-6.

A single by Cromartie, Carter's sacrifice, an infield hit by Andre Dawson and Wayne Garrett's RBI single up the middle added a seventh inning insurance run for Montreal as the Expos took their eighth victory in their last 12 contests.

Short likes Cleveland?

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert E. Short, former owner of the Texas Rangers, has indicated an interest in the financially burdened Cleveland Indians. Short, 60, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and owner of several hotels and trucking companies in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, said he is interested in the team. He said by telephone from his St. Paul office, "It (the purchase of the Indians) is a long way from happening, but we're working at it. We'll be talking some more."

Pro-Am Friday at Comanche

Another leg of the West Texas Professional Golfers Association Pro-Am tournament will get underway Friday at the Comanche Trail Golf Course. The event is open to all local and area golfers, and tee-off is anytime between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday. For further information, contact Munny pro Bobby Howell at 26-8311, ext. 78.

Redwine leaves FHS, takes Cee City post

FORSAN — David Redwine, tennis coach at Forsan High School, has resigned from his position there to take a similar post at Colorado City High School. Redwine, who has been at Forsan for 13 years, will be head coach at Cee City, as well as a chemistry and biology teacher.

DAVID REDWINE

The personable Mitchell County native was a golf coach for four years, and tennis coach for eight years with the Forsan system. He received his B.S. degree from Texas A&M in 1964, and his M.A. from SMU in 1971. While at Forsan, he led the golf team to the Regional and State Championship in Class B in 1970. He has also coached several players who have won regional championships in tennis, and who have subsequently advanced to the state tournament.

Before assuming his new position in the fall, Redwine will take part in the instruction at the Tyler Apache Land Tennis Camp this summer.

"Short asked me about the club and I said it was available," Bonda explained. "He came to Cleveland and I told him the numbers (price) and all that, which is where things stand. I haven't heard from him since then."

"If Short gets back to me, we'll talk," he added. "I will be surprised if he does, but I don't know." Short bought the Washington Senators in 1969, then moved them to Arlington, Tex., as the Texas Rangers in 1972. He sold the club to a group headed by Brad Corbett in May, 1975. The Minnesota businessman tried unsuccessfully to buy the San Francisco Giants last year.

NBA to help needy

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The National Basketball Association has extended a helping hand to its four neediest members, approving a plan designed to ease their financial burden. The NBA Board of Governors announced Wednesday the adoption of a two-point program which should help the four teams which joined the league for the first time last season. And they took a step which is expected to make it easier for the four teams to borrow money, agreeing to subordinate the league's security interest to that of any lending institution. This means that a bank would have first claim on the assets of a whose combined debts total more than $30 million. They agreed to extend until June, 1980, the deadline for payment of the final $200,000 of the $3.2 million entrance fee each team owed the league. That money had been due this month. And they took a step which is expected to make it easier for the four teams to borrow money, agreeing to subordinate the league's security interest to that of any lending institution. This means that a bank would have first claim on the assets of a franchise ahead of the league, making the prospects for obtaining a loan more attractive.

"This shows that the other 18 teams in the league are aware of our problems and that they are trying to help us," said New York Nets executive Bill Melchionni.

"It wasn't mandatory that we got this," said San Antonio Spurs President Angelo Drossos, referring to the three-year deferral on payment of the $200,000, "but it certainly helps."

Sick U.S. Open men

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus hobbled into the locker room, limping on his right foot. "Stepped into a hole back home at Muirfield last week," he said. "Not serious, I hope. But, see, I've had to cut out my shoe to ease the pressure." Across the room, young Ben Crenshaw wheezed and sneezed. "This chest cold; can't shake it," he said. "Been bothering me for weeks. I had to skip Memphis last week." Elsewhere, Jerry Pate held a virtual clinic in trying to explain the pinched nerve in his shoulder that has erased him from all but one tournament since the Masters. And Lee Trevino continues to wince from the back operation that has dulled his magnificent game. "Nicklaus, Crenshaw, Pate, and Trevino—take your choice," mused Fred Corcoran, the graying Bostonian whose life has been inextricably woven into one-half century of American golf. "One of them is certain to win." Joseph C. Dey Jr., who as a reporter chronicled Bob Jones' 1930 Grand Slam and later became the virtual czar of both amateur and pro golf, nodded agreement. "As old James Braid, the Scotsman, used to say, 'You can't beat a man with a headache,'" Dey commented.

Marshall relieved from Ranger relief

CLEVELAND (AP) — Suddenly it was like 1974 again as Mike Marshall whipped sliders almost effortlessly past the opposition. Instead of Dodger gray, though, the stocky pitcher was clad in Texas Ranger blue and, even stranger, he was the starter. As he mowed down Cleveland Indians' batters for seven innings on the way to a 6-0 triumph, it was easy to remember Marshall as the game's leading relief pitcher of several years ago.

triple to ice it in the ninth. The Indians managed just two runs in the three Texas games. Added to the Indians' torrent of troubles was the walkout Wednesday night of third baseman Buddy Bell, who pleaded "personal problems" after leaving the ballpark prior to the start of the game. Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi was glowing after Wednesday's victory. "I can't ever remember a team of mine playing a better series in Cleveland," he said. "I just told my infielders they played great ball tonight. What a difference from a year ago. "And Marshall didn't surprise me," Lucchesi added. "He went out a couple of times and did a so-so job.

WGA Bull's Eye results

The Tuesday Playday of the Women's Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club began with a "Bull's Eye" Tournament. Peggy Marshall was closest to the pin with her drive on No. 13, and took a par. Helen Terry had longest drive on No. 10, while Bernice Jordan had low putts, taking only 29 on the round. Flo Hallam had low net of 67, while Peggy Marshall had low gross of 90. Sandra Rhodes had low putts in the in the 9-hole flight.

Clubhouse confidential—Finley's boot explained

Finley's unexpressed reasons for firing Jack McKeon after only 53 games (and some damn good results): (1) Players were undisciplined during games, some roaming to clubhouse, others wandering in chute area behind home plate, instead of sitting in dugout, paying attention to game (2) Dick Allen and McKeon had a shouting match in Toronto about Allen being taken out of game. They later made up, but by then Finley was looking for new men. . . Those 53 games are record in shortevity for a Charley O. manager — not counting Luke Appling's interim service of 40 in 1957.

Thurman Munson wound up in hospital with infected hand because he picks at scabs on knuckles, just as Muhammad Ali does. . . is ABC getting small convulsion over possibility of Cubs winding up in World Series? They have only unlighted park in bigs and this year is the NL's turn to play the midweek night games. (I can't believe as rumored, Cubs would agree to play their games under White Sox lights.)

Butch Wynegar is fine young catcher, but his inexperience is showing in some slow reactions to play-situations. . . Gene Mauch commenting on Mets' situation: "I was a second-string player, and had to battle to hold on. If I was on Seaver's team, and he made cracks about them needing some good ballplayers, I guarantee you I'd have a few words with Mr. Seaver." . . . Because players' union pushed through new rule that no club can have three days off in calendar week, some teams have hurriedly booked an exhibition game to comply: Figure that one out.

MORE BASEBALL FAMILIES

Roberto Duran-Edwin Viruet return set for Panama, July 2. . . Viruet will have to knock him out to win down there, and nobody knocks out Duran. . . Recent draft of free-agent kids had 14 sons of baseball people, ex-big league: or office personnel — including Tom Mee, son of Twins' press agent, and Steve Macko, son to Texas equipment manager.

Few people know Roy Campanella has spent past year at Rusk Institute, where five skin-graft operations were performed on his ulcerated buttocks. He now is sitting again in wheelchair and ready to go home. Nineteen years have flown by since the tragic car accident. . . Skip Lockwood doesn't have arm iced. He has it "milked" — a kneading process that flushes lactic acid from arm after game, preventing overnight stiffness. That's how he can relieve several nights in row.

George Scott, man with the gold glove, making careless errors this season. . . Guess who was in stands at Shea other night when Joe Torre got bounced by ump for first time? Leo Durocher, that's who. Could it have been ventriloquism?

Bob Howsam says he doesn't believe in trading an everyday regular for a starting pitcher. How about Jim Fregosi for Nolan Ryan? . . . Cincy boss also says he would not renegotiate an existing contract with Tom Seaver, were he to get him, or with any player, "just as we do not renegotiate with our own players."

Home-run distances painted on fence in Seattle's Kingdome are fake if you ask Don Zimmer. He says he paced off power-alleys and found them to be closer to 365 than marked 365; also claims 316 down lines is an exaggeration. . . During recent game at Shea, Mets tried a 3-6-1 DP. Return peg flew wild past first where Jerry Grote, backing up, caught ball one-handed, on run, on fly. I had never seen catcher do that.

Did you see where Astros run a "foamer night" during home stands? Free beer goes to everybody if designated visiting batter strikes out while orange light on scoreboard clock is on. Dave Kingman was man during this Met's visit. If they tried that with him at Shea, he'd bankrupt the Stevens Brothers. . . Gimmick presents a delay-of-game problem. Orange light turned on during even minutes on clock. Bill Madlock, with two strikes on him, stepped out of box and stalled till light went out. So pitcher Mike Cosgrove stepped off mound and stalled till light went on. NL office may have to deal with that.

Unpublicized part of report on lively-ball tests: Spalding ball used last year actually proved below big-league specifications. New ball, made by Rawlings, really is only few test points above minimum requirement in resiliency, but seems much livelier by comparison. Anyway, fans like new action, so both leagues will stick with the juiceball.

Here's switch on Little League parental pressure cliché: Thurman Munson showed up at play performed by first-grade class of Kelly Munson, 6. Everybody in audience paid more attention to Yankee star than kid-actors, which is why Thurman was reluctant to attend, but Kelly beamed with pride.

Sonny Werblin has made $500,000 purse bid to lure Hambleton away from DuQuoin. . . Two grandmas teaming with their grandsons in Equitable Family Tennis Challenge next Saturday.

L.A. 1984 Olympics?

PRAGUE (AP) — The door appears wide open for Los Angeles to stage the Olympic Games of 1984, if it wants them.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) is worried by the prospect that an American city may be the only candidate. At the IOC's 79th session, which opened in Prague Wednesday, there are some behind-the-scenes efforts to whip up interest elsewhere.

But the spectre of Montreal, which still faces a huge debt following the Games last summer, does not encourage candidates.

Bids have to be posted to the IOC by next Oct. 31, and the decision will be made at next year's session in Athens.

Los Angeles is one of six U.S. cities reportedly interested in hosting the Games, and the U.S. National Olympic Committee (USNOC) will have to give its backing to one of them.

The other American cities reportedly interested are Atlanta, Miami, New York, Washington D.C. and Chicago. IOC members expect the Americans to back Los Angeles, which has bid for the Olympics twice running. It lost out to Montreal for 1976 and to Moscow for 1980.

Law almost beat Slew

NEW YORK (AP) — The best 3-year-olds in America couldn't stop Seattle Slew from becoming the first undefeated Triple Crown winner in thoroughbred racing history. But a legal technicality almost kept the sensational Slew away from Belmont's starting gate last week.

Slew's ownership is being investigated by the New York State Racing and Wagering Board, the board announced Wednesday. The principal subject of the probe is Dr. James Hill, a Garden City, N.Y. veterinarian whose part ownership in Slew violated New York law.

"It's a good law," said New York Governor Hugh Carey Wednesday. "We're not going to change it. They have the same law in Kentucky, but they didn't enforce it" for the Kentucky Derby.

Dr. Hill agreed to turn in his veterinarian's license before last Saturday's Belmont Stakes, which Slew won, completing the Triple Crown.

Halt in air travel to London pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most air travel between the United States and Great Britain could halt in less than a week unless the two countries break a stalemate delaying agreement on a new transportation treaty.

A halt in flights over the North Atlantic would disrupt vacation plans for thousands of summer travelers.

Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, described as "worried" about the situation, scheduled a news conference for today to discuss the talks underway in London, but later canceled the meeting with the press without explanation.

Adams met Tuesday and Wednesday with the presidents of Trans World Airlines, Pan American and Seaboard World Airways to consider alternate landing sites in Europe in case the carriers of the two nations have to stop service between the United States and Britain.

TWA and National Airlines, which flies between Miami and London, have filed proposals with the Civil Aeronautics Board to divert their Londonbound flights to Paris.

Pan Am likely would shift flights to Brussels and Amsterdam. Pan Am also is proposing that its Tokyo-Hong Kong flights land at Taiwan because Hong Kong is British territory and falls under the agreement.

Seaboard, a cargo carrier, also is likely to change to Paris.

Some American officials have expressed optimism that an agreement in principle can be reached by the deadline next Wednesday. That would allow extension of the present treaty while details are made final.

The chief negotiators, Alan Boyd of the United States and Patrick Shelvont of Britain, said in May that "concrete progress" had been made. The talks, which began last September, are being held in secret.

Seal becomes big curiosity

ROCKPORT, Maine (AP) — Long a crowd-pleaser, Andre the seal has become a traffic stopper.

The trained seal's nightly aquatic shows have attracted such big crowds that town officials required Andre's trainer to hire a traffic officer.

Officials said they feared that an ambulance would be unable to reach the waterfront in the event of an emergency.

"It's so crowded sometimes that it would be impossible for an ambulance to get within 150 yards of the place," said Selectman Albert F. Bird.

5,000 in Alamo City rely on hard drugs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A University of Texas researcher says his studies of drug use in San Antonio indicate about 5,000 residents rely on hard drugs to get them through the day.

The researcher, Dr. James F. Maddux, a psychiatry professor at the UT Health Science Center here, includes morphine, heroin, codeine and methadone in his category of hard drugs.

Maddux says his studies also show the city's chronic heroin users generally started their habits at age 18, are mostly Mexican-Americans and do not use drugs continually.

In 1966, Maddux said associates began following 248 men from San Antonio who were admitted to the federal hospital for addicts in Fort Worth and eventually discharged back to San Antonio. Prior to 1970, there were no large treatment programs here.

The average age of the group in 1966 was mid 20s, but now many are approaching 40, Maddux said.

"Most of our sample group generally began using heroin at age 18 after dropping out of school and most had a prior history of juvenile delinquency, alcohol and marijuana use," he said.

"Our study also is 90 per cent Mexican-American, which compares with the approximate 50 per cent Mexican-American population in San Antonio.

"We are inclined to attribute this disproportion to adverse psychosocial experiences, but it may also arise from their easier access to the nearby Mexican (drug) connection than other ethnic groups."

Maddux said the studies indicate that addicts do not use drugs continually.

"On the average they have been addicted only about 50 per cent of the time," he said.

"Many quit periodically by themselves or by going to a drug rehabilitation center."

Maddux said his estimate of 5,000 hard drug users in the city was based on projections from his studies of smaller groups and is about average for a city of San Antonio's size, which is about one million population.

Estelle: Too many strings

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The head of the Texas Department of Corrections says he no longer wants federal law enforcement funds from "that brokerage house on the Potomac" because there are too many strings attached.

TDC Director W.J. Estelle said Wednesday that the TDC stopped seeking the funds 13 months ago.

"They wanted to tell me who I was going to fire and hire," Estelle told about 200 members of the Texas Narcotics Officers Association. "They had regulations that exceeded the equal employment opportunities laws."

Estelle said federal regulations require the TDC staff to reflect the makeup of the clients (convicts).

"In this prison system seven per cent of the prisoners are sexual deviates. Do you want them on my staff?" the director said he asked federal officials.

Estelle said the media in Texas have been fair in reporting on the prison system, even though he rapped a Dallas newsman's attempts to film an execution.

"The Department of Corrections has been treated fairly, sometimes generously, by the media," he said. "When they report our mistakes, they have been reported accurately."

Singer will be under tight security in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston police say singer Anita Bryant will be under tight security from the time of her arrival for an appearance at the Texas Bar Association convention tonight until her departure Friday.

Miss Bryant, leader of a successful fight to repeal a Dade County, Fla. (Miami) ordinance that guaranteed equal employment and housing rights for homosexuals, is to sing tonight at a State Bar banquet and then speak at a prayer breakfast for lawyers the next day.

The Texas Gay Political Caucuses has scheduled a rally at a parking lot and then a protest march to the downtown hotel where Miss Bryant will perform.

It is doubtful if the singer will see or hear the demonstrators as she will be in the hotel ballroom, far removed from the sidewalks where the protestors will parade.

Gary J. Van Ooteghem of Houston, chairman of the gay political organization, said the demonstration will be a peaceful one and "we mean no harm to anyone. But Anita Bryant is currently using a mixture of sex, fear and religion in what appears to be a national campaign to make lesbians and gay men third class citizens."

"We intend to increase community awareness and understanding of the threat posed against one segment of the community against another. We believe that by using facts, not myths, we will be able to help people understand us and not be fearful," he said.

Those supporting human rights, Ooteghem said, will wear black armbands with a pink upside-down triangle.

At the same time of the protest demonstration, The Rev. Joe West, pastor of the Town East Baptist Church of San Antonio, will be conducting a prayer meeting in support of Miss Bryant at the mall in front of Houston's city hall. West organized a rally in front of the Alamo May 29 to support Miss Bryant. He said he expected at least 10,000 persons to join him tonight to pray "for the family and morality."

Ooteghem said he expected between 3,000 and 5,000 to attend the rally for human rights.

Miss Bryant's appearance also brought an attack from the Houston area chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW).

The feminists group passed a resolution recently expressing strong disapproval "of the Texas Bar Association's blatant insensitivity to human rights, its insult to women attorneys, and its disregard for women in general."

Miss Bryant was invited several months ago to sing at the State Bar convention and she accepted. Bar President Gibson Gayler of Houston then withdrew the invitation because he said he feared violence over the Dade County ordinance controversy.

Later the State Bar board of directors reconsidered and reissued the invitation.

Houston police said today there would be no special security measures taken during the gay-sponsored demonstration, but that officers would be stationed along the parade route and at the hotel.

The gay organization said it would have its own security to protect the marchers.

Call is out in Hondo for free loaders

HONDO, Tex. (AP) — Hondo's mayor says about 35-40 loafers from all over the nation have called — collect, of course — asking to be one of the 180 free loaders the town needs to beef up its unemployment rate.

Mayor Woodrow Glasscock Jr. figures this hard-working Southwest Texas town of about 6,000, with an unemployment rate of only 3 per cent, needs the loafers to hike its unemployment rate to 6 per cent — qualifying it for federal assistance. Glasscock wrote President

Carter this week, asking him to send a list of hard-core unemployed who Hondo could invite to qualify for federal help for a proposed $1 million civic center.

The mayor says his farming ranching town can't afford the center alone. Glasscock said Wednesday night that he didn't really anticipate having to actually house the 180 new loafers, but said Hondo is prepared to take them in. "I have the support of the town," he said. "If it really gets down to the nitty gritty, we have some abandoned barracks on an old air force base near here and I guess we'd put them there."

In his letter, Glasscock, 37, wrote: "I want a list of people who won't work under any circumstances. I intend to write them letters to move here in sufficient quantities to enable us to qualify for some of your programs. Surely there are enough to go around."

"We are a proud people here, with a proud heritage born of hard work and enterprise, so trying to get enough locals to quit work so we may qualify is out of the question," the letter continued. "We will have to import the unemployed."

"We've been turned down for federal funds for our new civic center for the last two years because our unemployment figures to qualify," Glasscock said.

Glasscock's request brought him the collect calls Wednesday night from unemployed persons who somehow got the word in Washington, D.C., Richmond, Va., and Charleston, S.C. "I accepted a few just to see why they were calling," said Glasscock. "They want to take me up on it and come down here and live."

Glasscock said the town, which subsists mainly on agriculture, simply can't afford to approve the bond issue needed to build the $1 million civic center themselves. "Our folks can afford the local share of $400,000," said Glasscock, "but we just can't swing the whole thing."

Oddly enough, Hondo is the midst of one of the nation's poorest areas, where unemployment rates reach 20 per cent.

Midair crashes said likely

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Increased military jet training over southwestern Oklahoma has raised the likelihood of midair collisions with private planes, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said Friday.

Joe McKnight, FAA traffic representative for Ft. Sill Army Base and Altus Air Force Base, said he will meet with Air Force officials June 14-16 in Fort Worth to establish new routes to and from the restricted corridor over the west range of Ft. Sill.

The military jets come from bases in Lubbock, Austin, Dallas-Fort Worth, and Childress, Tex., Fort Smith, Ark., and Oklahoma City to Ft. Sill.

"We've had a considerable amount of complaint from commercial and general aviators who felt the pilots came too close," McKnight said.

What's going on and why

OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — From the time schools close in May or June until they open again in the latter part of August or September, there is an influx of visitors to Washington. Included are large numbers of young people who come to view firsthand those things they have learned about during the school year. For many, this is their first trip away from home and, no doubt, will be long remembered.

It is a fine thing for people to see their Nation's Capital, and, especially, the Congress in session. It must give a greater appreciation of what the seat of Government is about.

We have just had a group of Future Farmers of America who were here on an annual trip sponsored by the FFA and their schools. In a few days, we will have a large group of 4-H Clubbers and Government-in-Action students who will tour various Government buildings, including visits to the galleries of the House of Representatives and the Senate. This is also an annual occasion, as are a number of other groups of young people chosen from their organizations to come to Washington.

Those who have been here and observed the Sessions of Congress may have experienced disappointments in seeing the procedures on the Floors of the two bodies of Congress. Depending on the type of legislation being considered and at what stage it is being debated, all too often the impression is left that there is not a total participation by Members.

Oftentimes, a Member is up making a speech with few Member in their seats and apparently those not paying very close attention to what is being said. This impression is not good and, especially, for younger people who expect to see every Member in his seat and everything in order. The fact is that it is virtually impossible for every Member to be in attendance at all times. There are Committee meetings where, in most instances, the real work on legislation is performed. Others are seeing Constituents, answering their telephones, responding to the multitude of letters which arrive daily or conferring with staff people. All sorts of demands are made on a Member's time and becomes a part of his daily duties.

Legislation is first debated under what is known as "general" debate. The time for general debate is set by the Rules Committee and can be from one hour to ten hours, depending on the particular legislation. During this period, time is yielded by the managers of the bill to other Members. When the time for a general debate has expired, rules permitting amendments follow. Members of the Committee from which legislation comes are first recognized for amendments, followed by other Members who wish to offer some change. In this period, the attendance is much greater since only three Committees, namely, the Ways and Means, Rules, and Appropriations, can hold sessions during this time. It is necessary for a Member to be present to become informed before voting.

So, a lot depends on what period a particular debate is in for visitors in the galleries to get a true impression. There are times when the conduct in the Chamber appears to be something like the New York Stock exchange and, again, when it appears that no one is interested in what is taking place.

As often as possible this is explained to Constituents and, particularly, our young people. It seems important that they have an understanding of what goes on and why.

Laetrile delay looms

BY MICHELLE O'LEARY
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Cancer patients looking forward to getting the controversial drug laetrile under a new law legalizing the drug in Texas may have to wait.

Attorneys at the State Department of Health Resources say they are looking into a possible conflict within the laetrile law and may submit it to the attorney general for an opinion.

Hal Nelson, assistant chief of the department's legal division, said there is a "very good possibility" an opinion on the proper interpretation of the laetrile bill will be sought.

The problem lies in an amendment tacked on the bill in the Senate which placed the new act under provisions of the Texas Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. It requires companies seeking to manufacture drugs to prove that they are "safe and effective" before a permit to manufacture may be issued by the state health department. That might require some testing of the drug, which hasn't been approved by the federal government.

But the first section of the laetrile law says that "it is lawful to manufacture amygdalin (laetrile) in this state and to sell the substance in the state for distribution by licensed physicians." That indicates no testing is needed.

Nelson said several different interpretations could be applied to the meanings, which health department attorneys have been looking at for about a week.

Normally, the laetrile bill, the newest one, would take precedence over the food and drug act where there is a conflict.

Health department attorneys are currently "inclined to think" that manufacturing of the drug, which is made from apricot pits, should be placed under regulations of the food and drug act while the laetrile act could be applied to sale and distribution, Nelson said.

While the food and drug act does not speak primarily to manufacture, putting manufacture under provisions of the act would force testing or evidence to prove the drug's safety and effectiveness.

Garden City cowboy in national rodeo

STEPHENVILLE — Two Tarleton State University cowboys, Steve Fryar and Dan Webb, are competing in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association championship at Bozeman, Mont. this week.

Fryar is a May graduate at Tarleton and will be competing in steer wrestling at the national finals. He was Southwest regional champion steer wrestler in both 1976 and 1977 and placed 6th in the NIRA world finals. Fryar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fryar, Garden City Route, Big Spring.

Webb is a senior from Bridgeport and finished second in calf roping in the Southwest region. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Webb Jr.

The NIRA finalists are competing for $100,000 in scholarships in the five-day championship. The scholarships are awarded to the winning contestant's college or university in the name of the contestant.

Munch exhibit

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Graphic Arts Gallery of the Virginia Museum recently acquired eight lithographs and color woodcuts by the Norwegian artist Edvard Munch, on long-term loan from the Norwegian Embassy in Washington. Munch 1863-1944, described as "perhaps the most important Norwegian artist ever," was one of the leaders of the Expressionist Movement.
