

School roles revised again

School plan won't meet HEW rules

By BOB BURTON

If you thought you knew where your elementary school student would go to school this fall — look again, he may be going somewhere else.

The Big Spring School Board, in an act more of disgust than defiance, Thursday decided on a final 1977 plan of operations for the school district which is different from the plan released in May.

The plan, according to Board President Roy Watkins, won't meet Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) officials desegregation guidelines, but "we couldn't wait any longer."

"THE CRUX," said Watkins, "is that we apparently are unable to reach any tentative decision with HEW. They got to the point where they were busing first grade and kindergarten children to the point of overloading a school. We felt that wasn't in the interests of our children."

The plan, although introduced as a "revocation" of the public hearing plan of May 12, is actually just a modification of the original. It follows very closely the amendment proposed at the May gathering by Jim Bill Little, which provided for the closing of the five schools as planned, but stated, that in the event of HEW noncompliance, no busing would take place for any reason other than an educational one.

The plan would still close Park Hill, Airport, Cedar Crest, Kate Morrison, and Boydston.

THE REMAINING schools would handle students as follows: Bauer, grades 1-5; College Heights, grades 1-5 including students from the Cedar Crest attendance area; Kentwood, grades 1-5 as well as five units of half-day district-wide kindergarten;

Lakeview, Head Start program and all-day district-wide kindergarten; Marcy, grades 1-5 including students from the former Lakeview, Airport and Park Hill areas; Moss, grades 1-5 including students from the former Boydston area and special education classrooms as in previous years; Washington, grades 1-5 and all rural bus routes.

Goliad junior high will handle sixth and seventh grade students and Runnels will handle all eighth grade students.

"Let's get on with operating the schools," Watkins told the Board. He later added, "We have no plans to communicate any further with HEW, although, when they hear of this action they will undoubtedly level more charges."

Interim Superintendent Lynn Hise said, "The original proposal we made had the tentative approval of the two representatives from HEW's Office of Civil Rights. In the discussion which has followed, we feel like we have been caught in a dispute between the Dallas office and the Washington office of the agency.

"THE STUMBLING block originally was supposed to be Bauer. The government wanted additional busing, while we pointed out that Bauer was already filled to capacity.

"But when we started to talk about Bauer, other problems appeared to crop in. This is supposition, but it is my understanding that they wanted our full-day kindergarten students to spend the morning on one campus and afternoon at another.

In addition, they seemed to hold that any transfers because of crowded conditions would be controlled by guidelines. For example, transfers from a minority school could only be minority while transfers from a non-minority school could only be Anglo and could only go to a minority school."

HISE RELATED problems in dealing with the bureaucracy, citing a string of unreturned phone calls, delays, and stalling tactics.

"At one point the statement was made that the school district, which was running out of time, should not hold the government to a timetable because the bureaucracy doesn't work that way."

BACK TO NEIGHBORHOOD — This map delineates the new program for the 1977-78 school year. According to the school board, it is intended to minimize busing while still dealing with the problems of dropping enrollment and pending desegregation action. The plan deals directly with Lakeview School, the only "de jure" minority school in the district; the only school that was built as a minority school. All other schools will return to the neighborhood system from grades one through five.

Most of hospital items to be left here

Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander at Webb AFB, was informed today by the Surgeon General's office in Washington that 78 per cent of the equipment will be left in the Webb AFB Hospital.

That means that equipment valued at $141,000 will be leaving the hospital but the remaining equipment, valued at $547,000, will be left here.

Four to six of the electrical beds will be taken by the military but an estimated 20 will be left behind. The Surgeon-General informed Spannaus that a specific list of the equipment and the way it will be dispersed will be sent to Col. Spannaus shortly.

Coahoma, Forsan deny TESCO's rate request

The cities of Forsan and Coahoma have both denied an average 23.6 per cent rate increase requested by the Texas Electric Service Company, this week.

Forsan decided to take action against the new rate proposal Tuesday, and Coahoma acted upon the proposal Thursday.

Coahoma Mayor Joe Swinney said that the TESCO proposal had been unanimously turned down by the Coahoma Council.

According to Swinney, the increase was "simply too large" despite presentations by Jack Redding and Adrian Randall.

According to Jack Redding, divisional manager of TESCO, the electric company will appeal the denials to the Texas Public Utility Commission as soon as possible. TESCO will also file the rate request with the appeal.

Redding explained that the Public Utility Commission will determine rates for rural areas and cities which have denied utility rates.

Justice Yarbrough resigns

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Don Yarbrough resigned Friday after the legislature refused to postpone a hearing to remove him from office on charges of perjury, forgery and solicitation of murder.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's office announced late in the morning that it had received Yarbrough's letter of resignation.

A lawyer for Yarbrough announced the decision before the legislature, meeting in joint session as committees of the whole. The announcement followed the refusal of the House and Senate to postpone a removal hearing for at least 30 days.

The House vote was 82-62 against, and the Senate vote was 14-13 for, but under the joint rules a motion must be passed by both houses.

The joint hearing continued. Each house met as a committee of the whole to consider a resolution that would compel the governor to unseat Yarbrough.

Carr said Yarbrough could no longer pay his minimum expenses, including his attorney fees.

"I have been told by my friends, including members of the legislature that my removal is assured," Yarbrough said in a statement read by Carr.

The 36-year-old justice said he "accepted this as a fact of life, but I do not accept it as fair or equitable."

Yarbrough said he had come to the conclusion not to subject his family or his friends to a continuation of the fight.

"Therefore, I shall today deliver to the governor my resignation as associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas," he said.

Enthusiasm voiced for cancer center

M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston appears very interested in the establishment of a regional cancer treatment center using the Webb Air Force Base Hospital, said Dr. P. W. Malone Thursday.

Dr. Malone flew to Houston on Wednesday to visit with officials at M.D. Anderson about the possibility.

"They were just quite enthusiastic about the possibility for this section of West Texas," the doctor said.

Dr. Malone, a co-founder of Malone-Hogan Hospital, said that regional treatment centers were operating in McAllen, Amarillo and El Paso, but there was not one in this portion of the state.

Officials at M.D. Anderson felt that a regional center at Webb could tie in nically with the efforts of the new Texas Tech Medical School to provide intern and residency training for its students, the doctor said.

Because the building and perhaps some equipment would be already available by using the base hospital, the Houston officials felt that it would be much easier to get such a treatment center off the ground, Dr. Malone said.

Efforts are being made by the Webb Steering Committee through members of Congress to retain the equipment in the hospital after it is turned over to civilian control.

The steering committee learned earlier this week that the Air Force intended to send the equipment to other bases, and contacts were made with Cong. Omar Bureleson, Sen. John Tower and others on Capitol Hill to prevent it.

Jimmy Taylor, president of First National Bank and a member of the committee, talked to the Air Force Chief of Staff's Office in Washington several times during the week.

Taylor was told that a temporary hold had been placed on the equipment which would keep it at Webb until the Air Force has a chance to restudy the question.

Dr. Malone noted that the hospital cost $3.5 million five years ago and is probably worth more than $5 million today.

With a start like that, he said the cancer center would have a home and already be beyond the "dream" stage.

Dr. Malone said that the Malone-Hogan Foundation had been formed about a year ago to work towards a cancer center, a long-range goal of the two doctor partners in Big Spring. Space was left at the new Malone-Hogan Hospital and Clinic site for such a facility.

Dr. Malone said that the foundation had been thinking in long-range terms like five or six years, but the possibility of acquiring the Webb hospital has caused plans to be stepped up.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe verbally committed to Big Spring that if Webb should close he would add another state agency with 200 or 300 jobs.

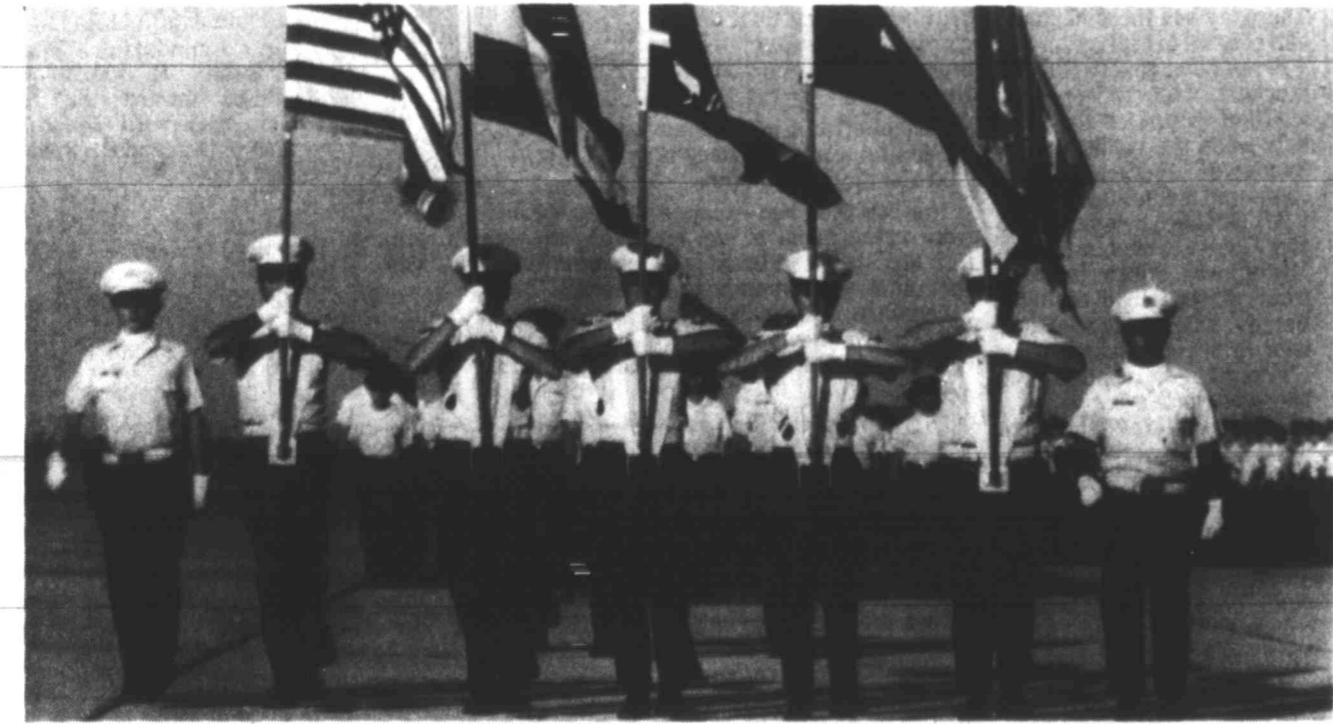

Armed Forces panel to meet July 25

The Armed Forces subcommittee assigned to the task of turning the Webb AFB property over to Big Spring will meet in Washington the week of July 25, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's office informed Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate today.

The presence of no one from Big Spring will be required at the session. Instead, either Bentsen or Cong. Omar Bureleson will alert the Webb Steering Committee of the consequence of the meeting.

TWO OFFICERS HONORED — Col. Jerry Grimes, former base commander at Webb AFB who is leaving for a new assignment in Germany, accepts congratulations from Maj. Gen. Edwin W. Robertson II, commander of Chanute Field, Ill., during a ceremony at Webb this morning. At the left is Col. Paul Brown, Deputy Commander of Maintenance at Webb, and at the right Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander. Both Grimes and Brown received the Meritorious Service award.

PASSING IN REVIEW — The color guard at Webb AFB passes in review during a parade at Webb AFB this morning. The parade followed a general inspection of the base and was the last public event planned by the military facility, which is closing later this year. Upwards to 200 persons watched the ceremony.

'Dining out' set at Webb AFB

In what will probably be the last formal function for commissioned personnel at Webb AFB, a "wing dining out" is scheduled to get underway in the Combined Open Mess on the base at 6 p.m., Saturday. The program likely will extend through 9:30 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Maj. Gen. Edwin W. Robertson II, commander of Chanute Technical Training Center, Ill. Gen. Robertson arrived here early to conduct a general inspection of the base this morning.

A one-time Army private, Gen. Robertson is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. Robertson's wartime career began at the outbreak of the Korean War in 1950 when his outfit, the 49th Fighter-Bomber Group, moved from Itazuke AFB, Japan, to Taegu, Korea.

Robertson earned the Silver Star while on temporary duty as a forward air controller with the 24th Infantry Regiment.

His direction of an attack against North Korean forces helped save a battalion of U.S. infantrymen.

While serving with the 187th Regimental Combat Team, Robertson jumped with the unit at Munsanni, Republic of Korea.

The general's decoration included the Parachutist Badge, the DFC with an Oak Leaf cluster, the Legion of Merit and Air Medal with 22 Oak Leaf clusters.

A command pilot, he flew 218 combat hours in the F-80 Shooting Star during the Korean conflict and 500 combat hours in the F-100 Super Sabre during the Vietnam War in '68-'69.

Robertson has also served in Torrejon AB, Spain; and Bitburg AB, Germany. He served as vice commander of the 16th Air Force at Torrejon; USAFE Inspector General, assistant to the commander-in-chief of USAFE; and wing commander of the 36th Tactical Fighter Wing at Bitburg.

Live music by the "Heritage," will be provided in the ballroom following the dining-out. The musicians hail from the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The band also plays in the ballroom this evening.

Action/reaction: Burglary record

Q. One can see raises for fire fighters, but how many burglaries have been solved by the police in the last six months?
A. Burglaries in Big Spring have increased by nine per cent this year compared to the same time period last year. According to Captain Jimmy McCain, even with this increase in crime, clearance rate for burglaries has increased by 11 per cent for the first six months of this year compared to the same time period in 1976. Out of a total of 352 burglaries, the Big Spring Police Department has solved 106.

Offbeat: Who's first in freedom?

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A Superior Court judge dismissed a license plate mutilation charge against a well-read traveling salesman who folded his plate to conceal the slogan, "First in Freedom."
The salesman, Victor Graham Jefferys, 23, of Burlington, said Monday he folded the plate because he didn't think "North Carolina has any monopoly on freedom, no more than the other 49 states."
He told Judge Lacy H. Thornburg he read recently that the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that states have no authority to require citizens to display slogans or mottoes.
Judge Thornburg agreed, citing the same court opinion. The charge was dismissed after a 20-minute trial.

Won't reconsider

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has no plans to reevaluate the planned withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Korea despite the downing of a U.S. Army helicopter by North Koreans in the first potential military crisis of his administration.

The North Koreans have been relatively restrained in their references to the incident, a mood which has not escaped the White House.

Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, noted Thursday evening that "both they and we have remained reasonably calm in our statements compared with past situations."

He said that by Thursday afternoon, the situation room at the White House, "which the night before was bustling with activity with the secretary of defense, the secretary of state, the vice president and the national security adviser and all the sophisticated communications equipment, was calm and quiet with its normal complement of men."

Dandy Don to ABC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Meredith, the ex-Dallas Cowboys quarterback, will leave his post as an NBC sports commentator and return to ABC TV in the fall to again provide color commentary on ABC's Monday Night football.

Meredith, who played for Dallas for nine seasons, joined NBC in 1974 as a sports commentator and actor after four years at ABC.

An ABC spokesman said Thursday that Meredith signed a "multi-year" contract with the network but declined to say how much the joke-cracking 39-year-old Texan will earn.

The network said the contract primarily calls for Meredith to rejoin Howard Cosell and Frank Gifford as a commentator, but also allows him to appear in TV series, TV movies and various specials.

Alex Karras, the ex-Detroit Lions linebacker who worked with Gifford and Cosell on the football telecast the last two seasons, won't be on the program next fall, the spokesman said.

He said Karras' contract was not renewed and that Karras had decided to concentrate on his acting career.

Princess is born

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Queen Silvia has given birth to a princess, a joyous occasion for Swedes but one that left open the question of who will succeed to the throne. The centuries-old monarchy does not allow female succession.

Doctors at the Karolinska Hospital reported that both the baby girl and the 33-year old German-born queen were doing well.

King Carl XVI Gustaf, who was present during the delivery on Thursday, is the first Swedish monarch in 199 years to become a father during his reign. It was also the first royal birth in a public hospital.

Farm Report predicts crop yields to double if . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new report by Congress' scientific analysis branch predicts that crop yields could easily double if agricultural researchers could find a way to make natural photosynthesis more efficient.

Photosynthesis is the process by which green plants convert air, light and nutrients into food. The Office of Technology Assessment urges that work be focused on it, on ways to increase natural fertilizers like algae that "fix" nitrogen in the soil and on studies of cell cultures to find genetically ideal crops.

The OTA report, said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is designed as back-up material for floor debates on the omnibus farm bill.

Gas deregulation plan defeated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's energy program is ready for consideration in a special House committee largely as he wanted it with the defeat of a proposal to deregulate natural gas.

After days of fierce lobbying on both sides of the natural gas issue, the House Commerce Committee voted 23-20 on Thursday against a compromise deregulation

Industry signing delayed

Negotiations with the industry expected to be the first to locate at Webb Air Force Base are progressing, but a formal signing of an interim agreement has been delayed until the last week in July, announced Winston Wrinkle Friday morning.

Wrinkle, leader of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Team which is seeking prospects for the base, said the closing should come by July 26.

He said delays caused by persons on vacation and a couple of legal matters had been responsible for the postponement. Chamber officials had earlier indicated their hopes that an announcement of the first Webb industry could come this week.

Wrinkle said basic agreement has been reached and the closing is expected to be simply a matter of ironing out a couple of details.

The industrial team leader also said that chamber officials are working very closely with several other strong prospects for the base which might be finalized by August or September.

Guessers sticking to same old rut

By The Associated Press

Any hopes of Texans for cooler weather by the weekend went glimmering today.

Sticking to the same old rut, official forecasters said it's going to stay hot — may get even hotter — for at least the immediate future.

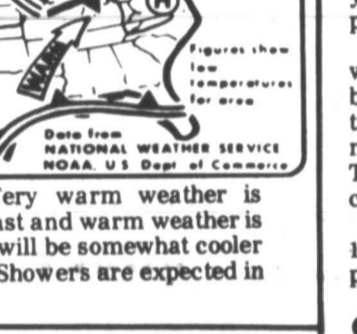

Chances were seen for the usual scattering of showers and thunderstorms in one section or another.

Some of that warm weather turbulence built up into a tornado Thursday near the Upper Texas Coast, where it toppled trees close to Texas City before the funnel cloud lifted back into the sky.

Showers pelted the El Paso area again during the night. It was still cloudy in that vicinity and around San Antonio this morning, while the skies were generally clear over the rest of the state.

Why did lights go out?

NEW YORK (AP) — Pulsing again with a heavy flow of auto traffic and nearly normal runs of subways and commuter trains, New York City went back to work today. Federal officials opened their investigation into why the lights went out — and why they stayed out for so long.

The National Weather Service promised an added spice to the first day with full power back. Temperatures were expected to reach or exceed the 98-year-old record for the date of 95 degrees.

However, officials for Con Edison said its system would be able to cope with the demand for power to run air conditioners.

"We believe that we'll be able to handle the situation. We don't anticipate any problems," a spokesman said.

Today's Federal Power Commission hearing in School bill advanced

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A school finance bill spending $945.4 million in new state funds over the next two years won final House passage today.

Senators faced a decision whether to accept the House bill, which is a substitute for the considerably different measure they passed Tuesday, or send it to a conference committee.

The final House vote was 139-24 for the bill and took place in a House chamber that had been rearranged for the removal proceedings against Justice Don Yarborough of the Texas Supreme Court.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said he would vote against accepting the House bill but acknowledged "there is sentiment by some of the members to concur."

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's chief lobbyist, Howard Richards, was working to persuade senators to accept the House version of the school finance bill — a decision that could come this afternoon.

Senate concurrence would dispose of the sole issue now before the special session, other than the Yarborough case, unless Briscoe opens it to other subjects.

The House tentatively approved the bill, 120-22, Thursday night after nearly 12 hours of debate.

Pushed hard by Speaker Bill Clayton, the bill weathered all attempts to change its major features.

Representatives tabled 95-46 a substitute by Rep. Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, that would have provided $318 million to help equalize spending between rich and poor districts. Clayton's bill provides only $142 million, while the Senate bill would spend $210 million on equalization.

"It is not right that we should continue to fund richer districts at a higher rate than poor ones," Coleman said. He warned that inequities would breed court suits challenging the Texas school finance system.

Clayton's bill is more generous in reducing local costs — or local fund assignments (LFA) — for the Foundation School Program. It spends $341 million toward that end, compared with Coleman's $168 million and the Senate's $233 million.

The speaker's forces, in league with local school superintendents, whipped back an attempt to force the districts to return about $60 million of the LFA cuts directly to taxpayers.

Slayer of sheriff sentenced to 40 years

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Stacey Albert Carter, 26, of Olivia, N.C., one of two men charged in the slaying of Motley County Sheriff Jalmar (Jinks) Wilson, has been sentenced to 40 years in prison.

The sentence was pronounced Thursday by State District Court Judge George Miller Carter when he was charged originally with capital murder, but after the case was moved here on a change of venue, he agreed to plead guilty to a murder charge in exchange for testimony in the trial of his companion, Larry Fortenberry, 28, of Mount Hermon, La.

Fortenberry is to be tried on capital murder charges next Monday in Plainview.

The two men had escaped from a Louisiana prison on Oct. 31. Sheriff Wilson was shot on Nov. 12 when he and a companion, John Rogers, ran into two men apparently tampering with Roger's car by the side of a road. Rogers was wounded during the shooting.

A statement by Carter, read before Judge Miller, said Wilson informed the two men he was the county sheriff and started asking them questions. At that time, the statement said, Fortenberry said, "you are asking too damn many questions" and grabbed a sawed off shotgun from his car and fired at the sheriff.

"I saw blood and the sheriff staggered back," Carter's statement said. "At this time I shot across the car in the direction of the sheriff. I don't know if I hit the sheriff or not."

The statement said the sheriff staggered past Fortenberry and Fortenberry shot him again from behind. Prosecutors said it was the second shotgun blast that killed the sheriff.

The two men were arrested hours later in Crosby County.

Deaths

Bob Harris

Robert (Bob) Harris, 44, cousin of Walt Finley, Big Spring Herald wire editor, died Thursday in Baptist Medical Center in Oklahoma City, Okla., following a heart by-pass operation.

Services will be held 10 a.m. Saturday in Sinclair Baptist Church in Oklahoma City.

Burial will be in Sunny Lane Cemetery under direction of Hunter Funeral Home.

Mr. Harris was born Dec. 13, 1932 in Oklahoma City. He was employed as an FAA computer technician in Oklahoma City.

Gun show Saturday

The Morning Optimist Club's Gun Show will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Gibson's Warehouse, with many antique guns to be displayed and traded.

The club will sponsor the show until 10 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

At the show, there will be a turkey shoot with BB guns, along with many gun dealers and collectors.

Services will be at 2 p.m., today at the Hilltop Chapel. The Hatches moved from here to Odessa in about 1962 and only recently moved to the Hilltop Lakes.

Those desiring can make out memorials to the West Texas Boys' Ranch, San Angelo.

A son and a daughter also survive.

John Moss

John Clarence Moss, 71, died at 5:35 a.m. today at the VA Hospital in Big Spring after a lengthy illness.

Services are pending at Gilbreath Funeral Home, Stanton.

Sheriff solves seven burglaries

The Howard County Sheriff's department cleared seven burglaries, some of which were part of last fall's rash, in a coordinated search Wednesday involving Texas Ranger Eddie Almond and District Attorney Rick Hamby.

According to Sheriff A.N. Standard, Deputies Bill Shankles and Raymond Bedford uncovered a lead Wednesday afternoon which led to a Martin County search at 2:30 p.m. and later a Lamesa raid at approximately 10 p.m.

Recovered from a residence were two TV's, a calculator, a stereo tape deck, a radio, electric shavers, hand tools, sporting equipment, an electric drill, a camera, a CB, a fan, and several tapes.

A Dawson County man, Benny Garza, 24, was arrested in connection with the evidence on the search. Garza was transferred to Howard County jail Thursday by Ranger Almond and Deputy Bill Whitton.

Burglaries resolved by the raid include the property of Clay Reed, Gilbert Salazar, the Airhart Grocery, Dwayne Taylor, A.F. Langford, and others.

Standard said he expects to clear several other burglaries before the investigation is over. He said that the most significant point of the operation was the cooperation between the bodies involved.

Club bids farewell to Webb officers

The Century Club said farewell to the officers of Webb Air Force Base Thursday night at a dinner described by Jimmy Taylor as "the end of an era in Big Spring."

Taylor, co-chairman of the club's Hospitality Committee, told the 100 persons attending at the Big Spring Country Club the evening would probably be the last full gathering between the base and civilian community.

The Century Club, organized three years ago to support Webb, has voted that it would not continue as an organization after Thursday night's farewell dinner.

The dinner was held instead of a change-of-command function because, as Taylor pointed out, this time there will be no new officers coming to replace those who will leave.

"The town will survive — no question about that,"

Taylor said, "but as we talk about the fine base-community relations we have had, I think the civilians have been on the receiving end more than the giving."

Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander, and his wife, Mary, were presented with a gift and several other items at the dinner. Col. Spannaus will be retiring from the Air Force and remaining in Big Spring to manage the Webb facility as a civilian.

The colonel also was presented with a photograph of the "urban encroachment" which the Air Force listed as a prime reason for closing Webb. The presentation, made by Century Club president Adolph Swartz, was a photograph of Kimo's Palace on Highway 80 West.

Maj. Medhi Arbobi, country liaison officer from Iran, also was presented with going-away presents, including a Texas hat.

Arbobi said that when he arrived in the U.S. and told people at Lackland AFB that he was going to Webb, they all responded, "Sorry."

As he drove from Lackland to Big Spring, the major said he "wanted to cry" he had become so worried about Webb.

But after only a couple of months here, he had changed his mind. "Now I want to cry because I hate to say goodbye to Big Spring. People here have been nice to me and my students... You have made this past year one of the most memorable years of my life."

Arbobi noted that Webb had the best results in training students of any base in the U.S. with only three students washing out in the past year — the best record in 25 years of training in the U.S.

Other presentations were made to Col. Jay Ganaway, Col. B. L. Tarleton and Col. Jerry Grimes.

It was noted that this is the third time that Grimes, base commander, has left Big Spring with hopes that the next time he returns he will be retired and planning to stay.

PUBLIC NOTICE

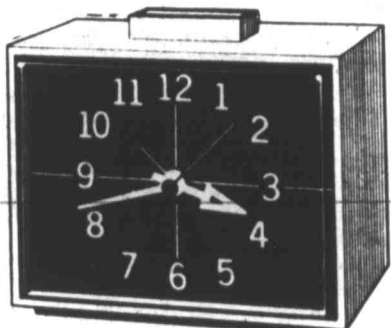

Texas Electric Service Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rate schedules for electric service in areas served by the company, effective August 3, 1977, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The new schedules will result in a 23.63 percent increase in the adjusted gross revenue of the company.

A complete copy of the new rate schedules is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality. Copies are also available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices.

Burt tackles task Aug. 1

COLORADO CITY — C. C. (Mike) Burt, defeated by C. G. (Skeet) Harkins in the last election, will assume office as Mitchell County's next tax assessor-collector Aug. 1.

Harkins decided to vacate the position, citing health reasons.

Burt formerly worked for Magnolia Oil Co., before he was hired to teach shop, math and drawing by the Colorado Independent School District.

Later, he served as assistant principal at Wallace School here before

Wallace was closed. Burt graduated from Texas A&M in 1943 with a Bachelor of Science degree and obtained his Master's degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1969.

He served for 12 years on the Colorado City city council, five as mayor.

Capehart units are of public concern

One hears all kinds of rumors about what will happen to the 465 units of Capehart housing once Webb Air Force Base is closed.

It is a question of concern to many people in the town who see the present Air Force housing units as either:

1) A factor which could collapse the rental market in Big Spring if all the units were tossed on the market at one time, or.

2) A TREMENDOUS waste of housing potential if the units are allowed to run down over a period of years without being used.

Most of the buildings were constructed in 1959 at a cost of about $24,000 each. Many millions of dollars is still owed on them by the government, and the Air Force is making the payments.

Needless to say, the Air Force does not want to continue making payments forever on units it no longer uses, but the government recognizes that it would be unfair to toss all the units on an already depressed rental market at once. Besides, the government could not get much money out of them that way.

THE BASE reuse plan, which is now being prepared by consultants and which should be available in August, will address this question.

The plan will probably suggest that the government hold the units off the market for at least 12 to 18 months.

In the meantime, it is possible that the city will enter a "protect and maintain" agreement with the government to keep the units from running down. Small blocks of the Capehart housing might be leased on a temporary basis, but most would probably be off the market.

Most likely, the government will sell the entire complex to a developer at one time, perhaps two years from now. This has been done in other places, such as Roswell, N.M.

The developer could rent, or lease, or sell the units as he is able to do so.

WHO MIGHT buy the units? I have heard a number of persons in Big Spring discuss the idea of perhaps trying, but everyone agrees that it will be a big money, big risk proposition.

The units may sell for several million on the market, which would enable the government to recoup some of its loss.

If there was strong demand for housing in Big Spring, a speculator might make money. If there was not, the losses could run high.

There have also been rumors of a group forming to attempt to have the government finance the housing itself as a low-income proposition, but the Herald has been unable to find anyone associated with such a group. No one seems to know of a program that would allow the government to buy the units from itself.

ONE THING is certain. Nothing will happen to change the present ownership of the Capehart housing for quite a while.

At this point no one could get any deals from the government, or even an offer. The paperwork process will take until at least sometime next year.

What happens to the Capehart units is of public concern to Big Spring, and the newspaper will do its best to make sure the public knows what is going on with them.

Citizens can discount most rumors they might hear. The government has a set and open procedure for disposing of the housing, the Webb Steering Committee is committed to dealing with the question in the open, and the Herald will try hard to keep everyone abreast of developments.

No worse

Around the rim

Bob Burton

More and more publicity has been given recently to the rise in crime and with it, the rise in juvenile crime.

Well, despite your hopes and fears, Howard County seems to be just about as bad and no worse than the rest of the country.

A recent cover article in Time quoted the percentage of crime in this country committed by juveniles at over 50 per cent. That means over half the murders, assaults, rapes, burglaries, and robberies are committed by people under 17. And according to Howard County juvenile officer Ed Cherry, and police captain Jim McCain, the figure holds true both statewide and in Howard County.

How can they do it?

FRANKLY, they do it because they are encouraged to. If somebody offers a reward for something, it usually gets done. Well, by the same token, the juvenile system in this country offers to prove that crime pays for the young. If they get away, well and good. (The police crime clearance rate, while excellent, is still only 20 per cent.) But if they get caught, and confess, what then?

According to Cherry, the worst that could happen (the worst, now) is that the offender be sent to Gatesville until he turns 18. Gatesville is one of the Texas Youth Council facilities used to handle juvenile delinquents. It is, in fact, according to Cherry, more of a summer camp.

No bars, no walls. Bowling, recreation, privileges, trips into town. Cherry claims it resembles nothing so much as Howard College.

The offender could, of course, be certified as an adult, but according to Assistant District Attorney Don Richard, this happens only very rarely.

The average stay at Gatesville (if the kid decides not to simply walk away) is about six to eight months. At that point he is released on parole, which, if he violates it could mean... you guessed it, another six to eight months at Gatesville.

On the lighter side, Cherry uses two methods to discipline youths he faces. The first is voluntary supervision, which avoids a court situation by having the person agree to be supervised as if on probation without the court record. The second is official probation, reporting monthly to Cherry and staying clear of trouble and troublemakers.

BUT CHERRY AGREES that the penalties are too light in many cases. The problem here is not the one time offender who, payment made, sets straight. The problem is the J.D. who, as Cherry said "studies more of the family code than the police or the attorneys do." They take advantage of the lack of correctional capabilities within the system, of the newspaper's leniency in not using juvenile names (which Cherry believes should be changed), and they take advantage of the fact the juvenile records in Texas can be sealed after the offender reaches adulthood, and the crimes committed washed away, burned clean.

Who's at fault? We are. Cherry places the cause of delinquency squarely on the home. "Parents are the cause of it," he said. "Families fail to give proper supervision."

District Judge Ralph Caton comes around the other way. "The Texas Family Code," he commented, "was created by legislators who were elected by citizens, not by the judicial system. In fact, the last amendment passed was in 1973, liberalizing the code even further."

CHERRY POINTS out that "we had one place with walls around it once for things like armed robbery. But the state turned it into a ladies correctional institution."

Probably the best answer is first to realize that not all young criminals are "victims of the society they live in" and that, even at 15 and 16, they can be held accountable for their actions. The second step is to create an atmosphere for the hardened criminal which will, to put it politely, discourage their appetite for crime. The third step is to make it clear to the two areas responsible for youth — the family and the legislature — that while we cannot hold everyone young responsible for the crimes of a few, and we cannot punish all in the hopes of catching some (a curfew, for example), we can and will take steps to close the biggest legal loophole in the country today: the kid's who have a license to steal.

War between states

William F. Buckley, Jr.

In his endlessly heuristic speech of June 27, Sen. Moynihan included the following passage:

"The United States Army today is trained almost exclusively to fight a war in Nicaragua, which is to say from training camps in the balmy regions of the Old South. I honor the Marines who, when tons of snow fell in upstate New York last winter, were discovered to have a few companies at Fort Drum on winter training exercises. Similarly, I honor the great Southern Congressional chairmen who served their region and this nation so well in sustaining the Armed Forces in an earlier period of isolationist clamor. But the time has come to introduce our soldiery to the thought that in many parts of the world it frequently freezes and sometimes snows."

THE LEVITY IN tone sustains the passage, which went, perhaps understandably, unnoticed in the coverage of Mr. Moynihan's speech. But coupled with a preceding passage — in which Senator Moynihan, without saying so in exactly as many words, nevertheless unmistakably asked for protection for New York's garment workers — we have an insight into what, really, is going on. A war between the states.

"In the period from fiscal year 1968 to fiscal year 1976 California veterans have received $3,173,600,000 in GI bill payments, while New York veterans have received only $1,124,300,000. One might ask whether in this respect this is a direct, if unintended policy of the Federal government to make veterans feel that New York is not a good place to settle down."

It doesn't, as it happens, take very long to penetrate the insinuation. For one thing, only 63 per cent as many New Yorkers went into the Vietnam war as Californians. For another, more out-of-starters go to California for college training, than to New York.

But what is important is that Senator Moynihan should be using arguments of this character, every thing from asking for protective tariffs for New York workers, to suggesting that we move our infantry divisions up from warm climates to cold climates: all of it to achieve a higher return on the tax dollar. All of it, one might add, at the expense of other states.

BUT OTHER states are bound to catch on. Granted, it is a wonder they have not already done so. In 1973, in a small book (favorably reviewed by the New York Times) I pointed out that there were 19 states in the union whose average per capita income was less than the national average, so that any attempt at economic redistribution had as its implicit purpose helping 19 specified states at the expense of 31 wealthier states.

What happened, of course, is that the ideologues discovered it was easier to vote social welfare programs through Washington than through state capitals. Accordingly, states like New York (first in wealth), and California (9th in wealth) began running money from their citizens, through Washington, back to themselves. But logic quickly advises us that this will only work for so long as the elected representatives of other states are fast asleep in Washington, unaware of real economic movements.

Hernia definitions differ

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About five weeks ago my doctor diagnosed my groin problem as "dilated inguinal canal." This causes my left side to ache often, occasionally with sharp pains, even when I am inactive for days. I am 28 and otherwise healthy. I was physically active until my diagnosis.

My doctor says I do not have a hernia, but he insists that I not lift, jog, or ride bicycles, and that I lose weight even though I am only five pounds overweight. In your opinion how long should I refrain from physical activity? Is it necessary that I not jog? Would any kind of support help? Would an operation help? Would this affect fertility? — Mr. R.N.

It would be helpful to describe the inguinal canal and how it can become involved in hernia. It is the passage between layers of the abdominal wall through which a testicle descends into the scrotal sac. Normally the structure is seldom heard from again. But in some men it can be the site of the groin hernia if a section of bowel enters and protrudes.

By pressing with the fingers the physician can tell much about what has occurred. There are different definitions of hernia and some doctors may not use the term unless there is a bulge that can be felt. It would be foolish to try to second guess your physician without an examination.

A hernia can be present for many years and not become evident until the bulge appears. Your symptoms do suggest at least the beginning of a hernia. In fact, you sound close to surgery to me. If you can detect a bulge, return immediately to your doctor or have a second opinion.

The period of inactivity is up to the physician treating you. Jogging and lifting should be avoided. Some victims are allowed bike riding. A support is seldom effective in these groin hernias. Infertility does not result. Surgery is a decision made after continued observation of the situation.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What can be done about a diaper rash on a five-month-old baby? He has had it for six weeks. We have tried ointments, but nothing seems to help. The baby wears two diapers, one pair of plastic pants, and pajamas all the time. — L.O.

Diaper rash usually results from either chemical irritation or mechanical irritation. Suspect either the laundering soap or incomplete rinsing. Diapers should be boiled, then rinsed. Mechanical irritation can be from the diaper or plastic pants material. Often a change in brand of soap, detergent, diapers, or plastic pants can bring results.

Everyone is trying to cut corners financially these days, so you may be surprised at my next suggestion. Try a diaper service. Despite the cost it might be worth temporary use to see if there is a lessening of the rash. These services take special precautions to leave diapers sterile and as non-irritating as possible. That's their business.

Finally, you say the youngster "always" wears his full gear — the diapers, plastic pants, and pajamas. Perhaps a bit of airing of the irritable bottom would help. I believe a little bare-bottomed airing would prevent many of these problems.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do birth control pills cause a woman to enter menopause later? — G.K.

No.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: By mistake my insulin supply got into the freezer compartment of the refrigerator. Is it still good? — D.P.

Most likely not. Freezing changes its chemical structure. Get a new supply and keep it away from the freezer area of the fridge.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could cold packs help relieve pain from arthritis? — R.W.

No. Heat of any kind is preferred.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This is troubling me. What should a young woman do if she just doesn't know or isn't sure whether she ever had or was exposed to German measles and wants to have a baby? — Mrs. L.J.S.

There is an antibody test you can have taken to determine your immunity. Ask your doctor. It is 80 to 90 per cent accurate.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know about polyps in the rectum. The doctor wants me to go into the hospital for a checkup and also to take care of the polyps. How will I be after that? Will my rectum bother me? — V.P.

I would follow the advice. Polyps can ulcerate and bleed. Most are benign, but some may be malignant. You should have no trouble after removal if you abide by post-surgery rules.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Another scandal

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — The nation's scandal-plagued nursing homes keep coming up with new ways to skin the taxpayers. Now senators have discovered that most nursing homes collect kickbacks as a routine business practice.

Just about all of those who provide a service to nursing homes — from doctors to undertakers — allegedly return part of their payments under the table. Of course, the homes collect the full amount from government Medicaid funds and the proprietors pocket the difference.

All this petty chiseling adds up to a multimillion-dollar scandal. The sordid details have been assembled in a confidential report which the Senate Committee on Aging will release later this month. Committee investigators found that pharmacies, laboratories, laundries, food suppliers and other businesses pay kickbacks of up to 25 per cent to nursing homes.

As one vendor explained to the committee, with a shrug: "Kickbacks are a way of life in Medicaid. There is a little larceny in all of us."

The report describes how pharmacists, for example, make their payoffs. Some simply slip cash, running into thousands each year, to the convalescent homes in plain envelopes. Other pharmacists supply the homes with free drugs, vitamins, cosmetics and other booty.

For homes that prefer less gross transactions, the druggists secretly pay the salaries of attendants or buy stock in the homes. Some also purchase advertising in nursing home brochures at 10 times the normal rates.

Investigators found some pharmacists who even rented space in the linen closets of nursing homes at ridiculous rates up to $1,000 a month. Others made their payoffs in color television sets, boats, desks, automobiles, trading stamps, free use of ski cabins or beach houses and prepaid vacations to Hawaii or Europe.

"The evidence is overwhelming that many pharmacists are required to pay kickbacks to nursing home operators as a precondition of obtaining business," the report states. Those who refuse to play the kickback game are barred from doing business with the corrupt homes. One pharmacist lost three nursing home clients when he tried to cut his kickbacks from 25 to 20 per cent.

What are the dimensions of the scandal? An incredible 90 per cent of the druggists surveyed in Florida, for example, told the committee that kickbacks are widespread. Investigators also found the practice prevalent among doctors, laboratories and vendors.

Complained a California pharmacist: the "sole concern" of many nursing homes "is for the buck. Nothing else matters. The pathetic patient in these convalescent homes and hospitals... (is) treated as a piece of living meat — a commodity."

FOOTNOTE: ALTHOUGH the Senate investigators found the evidence abundant, only one kickback case has been prosecuted in the last five years. "The Internal Revenue Service has been anything but aggressive in its enforcement" of the law, the report charges. Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, wants to make kickbacks a felony and encourage a federal crackdown.

ICE CREAM CAPER — The Food and Drug Administration, already under fire for banning saccharin, is now trying to tamper with America's favorite dessert.

The agency wants to relax the recipe requirements for ice cream, permitting manufacturers to replace the milk with cheaper substances such as they, casein and even cornstarch.

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor: We strongly object to the impression given by rodeo secretary M.L. Patterson, in the July 10 Sunday paper.

According to Patterson, Big Spring High band members had to be paid, or bribed, with free rodeo and barbecue tickets to get them to lead the rodeo parade.

Let's set the record straight. The band led the parade because they asked to go in front of the horses so they would not have to march thru the manure as in previous years.

For four days prior to the parade, including Sunday, these kids went to school and practiced music and marching in the hot sun. They marched thru the city streets and played nightly at the rodeo performances willingly and free of charge.

No member was offered or received free rodeo or barbecue tickets to perform.

The amount paid to the band fund was for use of the band at the nightly rodeo performances, and any band hired for this purpose would have had to be paid.

The students did not receive any individual remuneration. These kids did get into the rodeo "free" each night, but so did everyone else who was working there.

We think the band deserves not only an apology but a thank you as well. Would adults have been willing to put forth the effort and give up vacation time to do the same? This is a wonderful group of kids — don't sell them short.

Nursing home death

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Justice of the Peace Cliff Roberts said the transcript of an inquest into the death of an 85-year-old nursing home resident will be turned over to the Potter County district attorney.

Roberts held a formal inquest Thursday into the death of Willie Homer Homeyer. He said 12 witnesses testified.

Roberts, who withheld an immediate ruling in the death, said "It needs to be studied closely. Some strong accusations were made."

The justice of the peace said authorities need to investigate further to determine if any effort was made to cover up the actual cause of death.

A preliminary report said Homeyer's body was exhumed Wednesday for an autopsy that indicated he had suffered four broken ribs, a collapsed lung and chest injuries.

The report of the death came one day after a federal investigator reported nursing home conditions in Texas were "critical."

Texas Atty. Gen John Hill has convened a panel of senior citizens to look into nursing home problems in the state. The panel will meet next week.

Another resident of Homeyer's nursing home told police he had a fight with Homeyer, according to police Lt. Keith Ferguson.

"We were called to the scene on June 13," Ferguson said. "We escorted a mental patient from the nursing home to the psychiatric detention pavilion. On the way to the pavilion he explained he had been in a fight with his roommate. The assault was not reported by the victim or the nursing home."

Homeyer died June 20 at an Amarillo Hospital, one week after the incident. His death certificate lists cardiac arrest as the cause of death.

The roommate was returned to the nursing home after several hours of tests at the psychiatric facility.

The case will be "worked up" for the grand jury, Ferguson said. He said it appears that the case involves "just a couple of men who got into an argument and were unattended and unsupervised."

Reports in The Lufkin News concerning abuses in East Texas facilities spurred the federal investigation. The News-quoted Department of Public Welfare documents which reported scant food supplies at the homes, unsanitary conditions and mishandling of drugs.

Galveston building destruction halted

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has ordered destruction halted on a 117-year-old downtown Galveston building until the Secretary of Interior is able to survey the building and catalogue historical data.

U. S. District Court Judge Robert O'Connor Jr. issued the order Thursday at the request of the Galveston Historical Foundation.

The granting of a temporary injunction does not protect the building from the eventual blow of the wrecking ball, said members of the foundation, but it gives the organization more time to negotiate with First Hutchings-Sealy National Bank of Galveston which owns the building and wants to tear it down for a parking lot.

The structure lies within The Strand historical district, the foundation's suit said. The area, designated last year as a national historic landmark, contains abandoned offices of import-export firms and other port businesses.

El Paso GI aboard downed copter

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — "I'm just waiting and praying that he's the survivor," a retired Army sergeant said after learning that his son was the crew chief on an Army helicopter shot down over North Korea. "That's all I have been doing — it's nerve wracking," said Melvin Wells several hours after he was notified that his son, Sgt. Ron Wells, 22, was listed as missing. Young Wells was one of four men aboard a U.S. Army Chinook helicopter that strayed over the 38th parallel into North Korea where Communist troops shot the craft out of the sky. Two service men were killed in the crash and another was shot to death. The fourth crewman was taken prisoner. The U.S.-led United Nations Command in Seoul asked that the surviving crewman and the three bodies be returned Saturday. The elder Wells said he believed it would be late tonight before he would be able to learn his son's fate. "All we can do is wait," he said.

"What I don't understand is why they fly those helicopters so close to the DMZ (demilitarized zone between North and South Korea)," the elder Wells said. He said he served two tours of duty in Korea in 1948-49 and 1958-59. "He wanted to make a career of the Army, but was getting pretty fed up with things," Melvin Wells, the father, said. "He didn't like the way it had changed and said the Army just wasn't the way it used to be."

"This was his second trip to Korea since 1974. It used to be they'd send you on a long and short tour. The short was to Europe and the long was to Korea, but not any more. Now they send you where they need you."

"Korea was causing a lot of problems for him. He wanted to spend more time with his family. He's a soldier and he does his duty."

but he would have liked to take his family over with him once in a while."

Wells has 10 months left on his present tour in Korea. He joined the Army in 1973 after graduating from an El Paso high school. After basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif., Wells went to Virginia to learn helicopter mechanics and maintenance.

"Outside of the pilot, he's the one in charge of the helicopter," his father said. "They told me that the South Koreans had fired a warning shot at the helicopter when it strayed too far over and may have landed to inspect the damage."

"Then they got back in and took off. When the helicopter went down, it evidently landed in a river."

An Army staff car pulled up to Wells' home at 11 a.m. Thursday to bring word to the soft-spoken man with pale blue eyes that his son was missing.

The Army notification officer and chaplain from Ft. Bliss were sympathetic, but information was sketchy and there was nothing definite about young Wells.

The officers made one other stop before reaching the father's house. The same ceremony took place at Edna Wells' home where she waited with her two young children, Ronnie, 21 months, and Laurie Ann, age 3.

The elder Wells said, "She's not in too good condition today. I talked to her mother today and she's taking this real hard. She's in real bad shape at the moment."

TRANQUILITY

Mrs. Baxter looks as if she doesn't have a care in the world. She is always perfectly groomed. Her house and her garden, with its beautiful flowers, are always just so.

She isn't trying to give a false impression; in fact, she would be horrified at the thought. But the truth is that things have not been all that easy for her. Her husband is a semi-invalid; their only son was killed in a tragic accident. She works in her husband's business three days a week, to help keep things going.

Where does she get her serenity? How has she had the courage to accept so much adversity with so much grace? A friend asked her one day, and she pointed to the tall, white steeple at the end of the street.

Many people have found their answer in the Church. Have you looked there?

GLORIETA, N.M. — More than 2,400 persons met at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center July 2-8 to participate in the 25th annual Church Music Leadership Conference.

The conference, which was planned and coordinated by the church music department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn., was designed for all persons with music responsibility in a church.

The dramatic presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" highlighted the week's activities. Seven musicals were also premiered during the conference.

Special concert guests during the week included Russell Newport, tenor from Springfield, Mo.; Robert MacDonald, organist from New York, N.Y.; and the Texas Baptist All-State Youth Choir.

Classes and seminars during the conference were planned for all age groups and for general and age-division church music leaders. They covered topics, including basic choral conducting, instrumental instruction, puppets and music, music theory, vocational guidance and music leadership.

Program guests during the conference include Boyd Hunt, professor of theology, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., conference pastor; Mike Malek, Southwestern Seminary, conference choir director; and Wesley Forbis, William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., choral director and clinician. Glorieta, a year-round religious retreat and conference center located 20 miles east of Sante Fe, N.M., is owned and operated by the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board.

Is the former Black Panther sincere?

Cleaver, Christian or rebel?

EDITOR'S NOTE — The return of Huey P. Newton, a former Black Panther party leader, from exile in Cuba brings to mind the return from exile of another party leader, Eldridge Cleaver. The man who once preached violence against his country now embraces it.

America is truly a disgusting burden upon this planet, a burden for all humanity. — Eldridge Cleaver, 1968.

"With all its faults, the American political system is the freest and most democratic in the world." — Eldridge Cleaver, 1977.

By TONY LEDWELL

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — "I wanted to send waves of consternation through the white race," he wrote in "Soul on Ice," his 1968 book. "I know that if I had not been apprehended, I would have slit some white throats."

Today, he renounces those words, "but they were honest at the time." When he goes on trial on charges of attempted murder, he will be flanked by three attorneys — all white.

At 41, Eldridge Leroy Cleaver says he finally knows who he is. The ghetto-bred firebrand whose thundering rhetoric once exhorted masses of angry young men to arms and scared the wits out of others now speaks gently to well-dressed audiences, preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Occasionally, the former White House "dirty tricks" political operative, Charles Colson, is at his side. They proclaim themselves "brothers in Christ" and talk of their past contempt for each other, their religious conversions and their new devotions.

Cleaver spends his days lecturing and preaching, his trial in limbo awaiting the outcome of legal maneuvers. Just this month, the California Court of Appeals turned down Cleaver's request for access to FBI files on him.

After a nine-year stretch in prison for assault, Cleaver moved swiftly to the front ranks of the Black Panther party and almost died in a shootout with police in 1968. That same year, he ran for president as the candidate of the Peace and Freedom party, seeking to dismantle many of the institutions he now embraces. He got more than 25,000 votes.

THE SINGING BIBBS — These six talented musicians sing and minister the word of God, and they're all one family! Evangelist Robert Bibb, the father, pastored in Pocatello, Idaho for over 17 years. Since resigning that pastorate to enter the full-time evangelistic field, they have travelled nationwide.

Within three weeks of the election, he was on the run, launching a seven-year exile to avoid arrest on charges stemming from the shootout. He wandered through Cuba, North Korea and North Vietnam, eventually settling in France.

The confusing portrait of a gun-rattling rebel turned spiritual pacifist and devout Christian triggers the inevitable question: Is Cleaver sincere or trying to win sympathy from potential jurors?

When he was released from jail on $100,000 bail last Aug. 13, he acknowledged that he was trying to win the trust of people, but because of his sharp personality change due to a profound religious experience, he also said it would be a long and arduous road.

When Cleaver returned, the Black Panthers called a news conference and suggested he had turned into an FBI informer. Later, the party toned down its rhetoric, saying it had no evidence.

Cleaver's wife of 10 years, Kathleen, says with a chuckle that all her once-bitter husband wants now is "to be an elder statesman."

For Cleaver, the revolution is on ice. Many of his friends died in the recurring war between the Panthers and the police.

Former comrade Huey Newton, exiled in Cuba for three years, recently decided to return to the United States, saying a changing political climate in the United States made possible a fair trial on the murder charges he faces.

But while Newton vows to resume the leadership of the Black Panther party and to expand its social programs, Cleaver says he wants to spend his remaining years as a writer, expounding on his social philosophy and explaining how religion changed his life. He has a contract to write a book on his personal spiritual revolution.

"I've studied carefully, and I agree with the teaching of Jesus, but I don't like the idea that I've been 'born again' in my cell. I'm certain that people would see that as some kind of opportunistic gambit on my part," he says.

Cleaver says his experiences in exile "led me to refresh my contact with the whole spiritual dimension. What I found was that my previous philosophy had an emptiness at the core."

"I came to see that there is a fundamental mistake contained in the Marxist-Leninist ideologies, where they make the distinction between idealism and materialism. Everything dealing with the spirit or with religious subjects is lumped under 'idealism' and condemned."

I came to feel that there is not only room but a necessity for us to address ourselves to morality and the relationship between people.

"So I was wrong, and the Black Panthers were wrong. We had a totally political and economic approach, without giving any consideration to the more civilizing influences."

"Our membership in the United States is the supreme blue-chip stock, and the one we have to exercise," Cleaver now declares.

Cleaver is charged with three counts of attempted murder and three counts of assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer in the April 6, 1968, shooting with Oakland police.

Singing Bibbs featured at 1st Pentecostal

The Singing Bibb Family will be the featured singers at the annual anniversary services for the First Pentecostal Church, 1010 West Fourth Street. From Twin Falls, Idaho, the family consists of six members, all of whom sing and play several musical instruments. Evangelist Robert Bibb, the father of the family, pastored in Pocatello, Idaho for over seventeen years. Since resigning that pastorate to enter the full-time evangelistic field, Reverend Bibb and family have sung and ministered the word of God in Canada, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, California, Arizona, New Mexico, and now in Texas.

The anniversary services, scheduled for July 20th through 24th, are commemorating the third year of the consolidation of the previous churches Calvary Tabernacle and the First Jesus Name Church. Since the consolidation of the church has increased fivefold and the local congregation is entering into the preliminary stages of a building program, Pastor M. J. Mullins and the local congregation invite the public out to hear this great singing family and great Bible preaching. Services will start each evening at 7:30 except on Sunday beginning at 7:00 p.m.

"A BIBLE CENTERED CHURCH WHERE SOMEONE CARES."

Passover service at Phillips Baptist

The purpose of the "Christ in the Passover" presentation is to enhance the Christian understanding of the New Testament by showing a Jewish background for the Communion celebration. Ancient and modern Jewish customs are discussed and described with an emphasis on the aspect of redemption that Christ accomplished at Calvary.

A table is set with the traditional Jewish Passover items, including representative foods which are explained, but not eaten. Members of the Jews for Jesus group have given this demonstration in more than one thousand different churches. It was originally written in 1956 by Moishe Rosen, the founder and leader of Jews for Jesus. It was abstracted from the writings of the former rabbi, Leopold Cohn, who came to Christ in 1894 and died in 1936.

Rosen contends that some of the most important elements of Christian doctrine, such as the Trinity, the principle of Substitutionary Atonement, and salvation through a personal relationship with the Messiah, are implied in the Seder (Passover feast) as observed by Orthodox Jews even today. The Christ in the Passover demonstration is an abbreviated form of the Seder. Ordinarily, the celebration of the feast takes about four hours to present in the Jewish home.

Many of the elements of the Passover feast are observed by Orthodox Jews today in the same manner that they were in Jesus' time. One important ingredient, however, is missing, inasmuch as the Jewish people of today do not eat the Passover lamb since the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem in 70 A.D.

Testimony at Church of God

The Church of God of Prophecy will be having a special service Sunday night, July 17th. The featured speaker will be Josie Madrey, a resident of Big Spring, who approximately five years ago was given up to die of cancer. She will be telling how God healed her of this cancer. Her many friends in Big Spring will want to hear this testimony. The public is cordially invited to come and listen.

The service will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Church offended by profanity

ANDERSON, Ind. — The General Assembly, policy-making body of the Church of God, issued a strong statement urging presidents of major American television networks to eliminate the use of profanity and violence from their telecasts.

Supporting action recommended by the church's Commission on Social Concerns, the Assembly protested "an alarming increase in the use of profanity, violence and portrayal of life-styles inconsistent with Christian values in an increasing number of telecasts."

FAITH BRINGS RIGHTHOUSNESS

... who has bewitched you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified?

This is the only thing I want to find out from you: did you receive the Spirit by the works of the Law, or by hearing with faith?

Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh?

Did you suffer so many things in vain — if indeed it was in vain?

Does He then, who provides you with the Spirit and works miracles among you, do it by the works of the Law, or by hearing with faith?

MRS. DEAN WOOD and Larry Chandler, team captain, monitor the Official Emergency Channel 9 on the Citizens Radio as part of "their duty as good citizens." The local REACT Team keeps active with many activities and meetings.

Local CB'ers use hobby to help others

By SUSAN HAMPTON
A local group devoted to helping persons, places or things in any way they can through the use of the good 'Citizens Band Radio, is the work of the REACT "team", as Larry Chandler, team captain for the local chapter, explained.

"If I can save a life through communications, I feel this is my duty as a good citizen," Chandler said.

The local REACT Team is a part of a nationwide volunteer civilian emergency radio service with more than 1,500 groups in different cities comprising the total organization. In those groups, it is estimated that more than 100,000 persons belong to REACT Teams.

REACT Teams stand ready to work with all official agencies to assist local emergencies, such as those which would threaten the safety of life or property, according to a REACT brochure.

For example, a grass fire which occurred recently near Big Spring was reported initially on the emergency channel. The REACT Team member monitoring at the time immediately called the police department and the fire department to notify them, Chandler said.

REACT Teams also assist motorists in such instances as if the motorist runs out of gas, needs information to get somewhere or has an accident. A REACT Team will also call a wrecker for the motorist if needed, he said.

Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and Abilene are other West Texas towns that have REACT Teams, and Andrews is in the process of starting one, Chandler said.

The Big Spring charter is now in its second year of operation after application was made to the central headquarters in Chicago. Requirements to start a REACT Team, Chandler said, include the ability to monitor the Official Emergency Channel 9 on the Citizens Radio, the channel REACT uses exclusively, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, he said.

planning stages to recruit more team members, especially since four of the current members are Webb employees who will be leaving, he added.

The REACT Team here meets each first Thursday in the month for a business meeting, Chandler said. On each third Thursday of the month the team gets together for a "coffee break" and to talk.

REACT Team members make a monthly calendar indicating the times each will be monitoring the channel. On the average, each member must monitor 4 times a month, 6 hours each time, Chandler said.

One team member, Mac Williams, monitors the channel every day, Chandler said. "Williams is confined to a wheelchair, so it keeps him busy," he said.

A fee of $4 is charged to team members each year for dues. Part of the money goes to the national organization and part goes to local team dues, he said.

On Independence Day, the local REACT team set up a roadside rest stop for traveling motorists on IS 20, west of Big Spring. Coffee, Coca-Cola, iced tea and other refreshments were offered to those who stopped, Chandler said.

There was no charge for the refreshments, but donations could be made to the REACT Team. After the day was over, the team actually made a profit on the rest stop because of the motorists' generosity, he said.

Many of the travelers appreciated the rest stop, he said. One motorist told

Youth Confirms Abby's Statement

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked you if a 13-year-old boy could get a girl pregnant, and I'm glad you said yes because I am living proof of it.

Five months ago I got a 15-year-old girl pregnant. Her parents and mine raised a terrible fuss and sent threats back and forth. The girl finally got an abortion, and we aren't allowed to see each other again.

Might I add that my puberty started when I was 11.

THIRTEEN AND OLD ENOUGH

DEAR THIRTEEN: And might I add that you aren't the only 13-year-old boy who wrote to confirm that fact? I also heard from several girls stating that they had become pregnant at the age of 12. (Readers: If you find that shocking, consider this: In 1975, 12,642 babies were born in the U.S. to girls between the ages of 10 and 14.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a fourth grade teacher employed in a suburb of Minneapolis, Minn. During the past few years I have found that most of my students seem to appreciate physical contact.

In early December my building principal called me into his office and told me that a parent had called the superintendent and expressed concern that my actions were, if not morally improper, certainly "weird" and abnormal.

After my initial shock I asked who complained, and what specifically was the nature of their complaint. I never was told who, but I was told that each of the following actions was cause for alarm.

1. I had allowed some of my students to occasionally sit on my lap.
 2. I had occasionally given a student a back rub.
 3. I had occasionally given a student a hug.
- For many months thereafter I have been continually impressed how a paranoid, bigoted, uniformed minority could make a life miserable and influence school politics.
- I deeply regret that an all too influential element of my community finds it impossible to accept a MALE teacher who is physically affectionate to his students but has no intention of sexual exploitation.
- How can I possibly continue to meet the human needs of my students when I am expected to respond like a cold-blooded computer?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: I fail to see what being male has to do with the criticism. I'm sure a female teacher would be criticized for giving her students back rubs, allowing them to sit on her lap and hugging them.

While your motives may have been beyond reproach, the kind of physical contact you engaged in might easily be mistaken for intimacy beyond acceptable limits. Kindergarten and possibly first graders, yes—but fourth graders, no.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

More on farm wives

Texas included in latest delegation to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — What began as a fragmented movement by small groups of farm women who watched prices of wheat and other commodities plummet is blooming into a coordinated national effort aimed at convincing the Carter administration and Congress that more needs to be done to help the nation's food producers.

For months, waves of farm wives have descended on Washington from Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Washington, Nebraska and other states. Their message is that their family enterprises are being threatened by financial disaster.

Another group, representing a budding national organization, American Agricultural Women, is here this week, trying to raise the consciousness of administration and congressional farm leaders to their plight.

But so far, some of the women admit, they have had a sympathetic ear and understanding but little action to support their cause. Basically, they want a new farm bill with higher federal price support guarantees for key crops than Congress appears ready to approve or President Carter to accept.

Julia Hinthner, who farms with her husband, Gary, near Buffalo, Okla., said Wednesday that 61 women are visiting government farm leaders, urban members of Congress, labor organizations and others to seek help in getting more federal help.

The latest delegation, which will be in Washington through Friday, represents 16 states: Alabama, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

One of the main targets is the wheat portion of the new farm legislation. The Senate has passed a bill calling for $2.25 a bushel loan rate for 1977 and the House Agriculture Committee has approved a figure of $2.25, a level also in effect for this year's wheat crop in the Agriculture Department's price support program.

Ridin' fence

They call it Iatan

with Marj Carpenter

Iatan is east of Big Spring along the south side of IS-20. All that is left to remind the passing motorist that there was ever such a place is a highway marker which says "Iatan Road."

If you go off on Iatan Road and go under the highway and north, you come to a neatly kept cemetery, named "Iatan Cemetery". This is all inside the west edge of Mitchell County.

On the south side of the road, where the really original Iatan stood, if you go down the service road and cross the railroad, you'll come on private property of the T.L. McKinney family who has lived there since at least 1919.

Their home is one of the early homes in Iatan and their barn was the early post office.

First Postmistress at Iatan was Cottie C. Griffith.

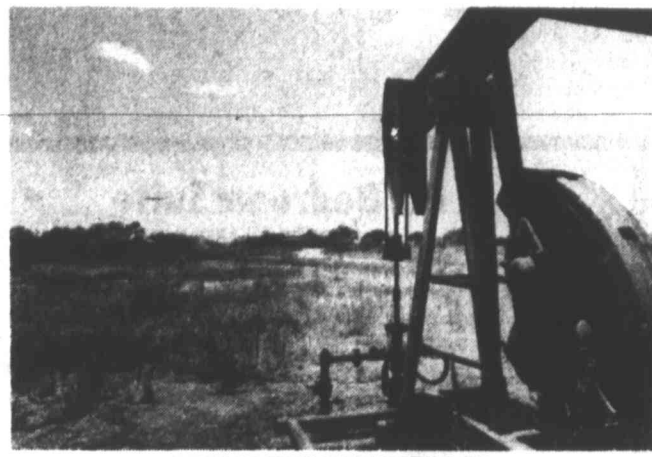

from 1906-1912. At that time, there was a depot and a section house, a store and a post office.

The late Mrs. Griffith was the mother of Mrs. H.T. Sefton, Mrs. Ella Neel and Mrs. C.W. Davis, who used to reside at 1400 Scurry. Mrs. Sefton and Mrs. Neel still live in Big Spring.

Now in those days, that red mud out there was really something else. When you head from Coahoma toward Westbrook, take note of the big red hills that the railroad slices through. Don't run off the road looking, but that used to be a muddy valley when it rained.

It was also reported by early railroaders to be heavy on rattlesnakes. They said when the area would become a sea of red mud, the snakes would crawl up on the railroad to try to get away.

When wagons went

through the gap, they would become bogged down to their axles. There were a lot of colorful phrases used by team drivers, mule skinner and railroaders out around Iatan.

Some of the nicest of the terms was the word Satan. There is still a Satan Road not too far from there. They called that area Satan's Vol firemen burned up !!

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — You might say the volunteer firemen at the North Hampton station, which is outside Houston in the north part of Harris County, almost literally were burned up.

Fire broke out in the station about midnight. Before being put out two hours later the flames destroyed a fire truck and took the roof off the building.

Land grants meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The last chance for more than 1,000 Spanish land grant claimants to press claims for payment by the Mexican government will come at a meeting here Saturday.

Reies Lopez Tijerina, who is acting as agent for the land grant claimants, said the meeting is the final one prior to presenting all substantiated claims to Mexico.

Tijerina, founder of Alianza Federal de Pueblos Libres, said the claims for payment totalling 433 land grants in Texas alone are based on a 1941 treaty between Mexico and the United States which was to settle land grant claims estimated at more than $400 million.

"This is the deadline meeting. Immediately following the meeting, I will take all substantiated claims to Mexico City. The Mexican government will prepare a summary of all claims presented to enable President Jose Lopez Portillo to present them to the Mexican Congress for action," Tijerina said.

Nursing homes quiz damaging?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The head of the Texas Nursing Home Association says he is confident that a "sincere honest investigation will confirm the fact that a vast majority of nursing homes in Texas operate well above the minimum standards required by law."

"Our one concern at the moment is that fact that the attention focused on a few isolated incidents is so damaging to the many fine facilities and staffs which are dedicated to delivering quality care," said a statement released by Douglas G. Pendergras, association president.

Our position supporting all honest efforts to improve the quality of life for residents of nursing homes has not changed and will not change."

Kenneth Hall

Kenneth Hall is obviously the biggest name in Texas schoolboy football of all time.

This is not an opinion I gained through watching him, you understand, I never knew the guy. He was rushing 4,000 yards in a season while I was still keeping the diaper service happy.

No, I have just finished reading a sports record book, and discovered this "walking record book" in it.

This guy was unbelievable, folks! The 6-1, 205-pound running back from Sugar Land, who could run a 9.7 in the 100-yard dash and a 49.0 quarter, rushed for 11,232 yards in his four years of school from 1950-1953.

Don Green told me that figures out to over six miles or "about 11 meters, give or take a meter."

Hall scored 899 points in his four-year career, capped off with a 395 senior season (the year he rushed for 4,045 yards).

Those 899 points came on 127 touchdowns and 137 extra-point kicks or runs. During the 1953 season, Hall had 57 TD's and 53 extra points. He scored 87 touchdowns in 21 straight games over one period of time, including seven against Houston Lutheran.

It was against Lutheran in 1953 that Hall had his single biggest night. He rushed for 530 yards on only 11 carries, scoring 49 points on seven touchdowns and 13 extra points. Sugar Land won, 73-14.

That was the night he also had 687 total yards... 530 rushing, 64 on a kickoff return, 21 on a pass interception and 82 on a punt return.

He also did a little passing, (3,326 worth in four years). In rushing and passing alone, that adds up to 14,558 yards. Add a few thousand more to that for punt and kickoff returns.

In 1950, he scored 58 points and rushed for 569 yards. In 1951, the tally was 224 points and 3,160 yards. In 1952, the total was 222 points and 3,458 yards. And then of course 1953, 395 points and 4,045 yards.

The stories about him could reportedly fill volumes.

For the sake of an example, in one 1953 game, he caused the officials to ask for "time."

First, Hall went 80 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown. Sugar Land was offside and the ball was brought back for a five-yard penalty. Then Hall went 85 yards. That's when the refs needed a rest. They called time out.

Quite a hero for any young high school football player to emulate! Hall went on to Texas A&M after high school and failed to become a player of any note in Aggieland.

From what I gather, most people think he's dead now. I don't know. I called Jim Butler, assistant SID at A&M and he wasn't sure about Hall.

"I don't think he's dead, though," said Butler. "He hung around A&M for about two years before Bryant (of "Paul Bear" fame) ran him off."

"He then went to play for the pros for a few years... Washington, I think. I don't know where he is now, but I don't think he's dead," Butler concluded.

I'd hate to think that Hall finished like Jim Thorpe, reputed by some to be the greatest athlete that ever lived.

Thorpe died an alcoholic, the worth of his football hero memories forgotten.

P.S. — Big Spring was in the record book twice. Since 1950, when rule changes and such affected the sport, the local high school leads in the class 4A category of "Most Points Scored in One Game." That was 86 rung up against Plainview in 1962.

Also, the Steers are mentioned in the recap of Abilene's 49-game winning streak from 1954-57. Big Spring fell to the hot shots 42-6 in 1956 and 32-0 the following year.

Will AL field an All Star team?

NEW YORK (AP) — It's beginning to appear as though the American League may not field an all-star team for the All-Star Game.

First it was pitchers Frank Tanana of the California Angels and Mark "The Bird" Fidrych of the Detroit Tigers who suffered injuries this week that forced their withdrawal from next Tuesday's All-Star Game at Yankee Stadium. Ironically, AL Manager Billy Martin of the New York Yankees was figuring on one of them as his starter.

On Thursday, just as the AL reserves were announced, one of the selections, second baseman Don Money of the Milwaukee Brewers, had to leave a game with a strain of the lower back. It was not known whether the ailment would affect his All-Star participation.

And later in the day, fireballer Nolan Ryan of the Angels, who was named by Martin to replace Tanana,

BILLY MARTIN
"Please go easy!"

NOLAN RYAN
"Hell no, I won't go!"

MARK FIDRYCH
"Broken wing, can't go!"

said he would not go as a second-hand choice.

"I'm not going," Ryan said. "I heard there was a possibility I might start. Well, that might be very difficult since I'm going to be lying on the beach at Laguna. If I can't go on my own merits, I'm not going."

To replace Fidrych, Martin ignored the other Detroit pitchers and picked slugger first baseman Jason Thompson.

The rest of the AL pitching staff, announced earlier, consists of starters Jim Palmer of Baltimore and Vida Blue of Oakland plus relievers Bill Campbell of Boston, Jim Kern of Cleveland, Dave LaRoche of the Angels and Sparky Lyle of the Yankees.

For his other bench strength, Martin named catcher Thurman Munson of New York and Butch Wynegar of Minnesota, first basemen George Scott of Boston and Ron Fairly of Toronto, second baseman Money, shortstop Bert Campaneris of Texas, third baseman Graig Nettles of New York and outfielders Fred Lynn and Jim Rice of Boston, Ken Singleton of Baltimore, Larry Hiale of Minnesota and Ruppert Jones of Seattle.

The AL starters are catcher Carlton Fisk, shortstop Rick Burleson and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston; first baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota; second baseman Willie Randolph and outfielder Reggie Jackson of New York; third baseman George Brett of Kansas City and outfielder Richie Zisk of Chicago.

One of the National League pitchers, Houston's Joaquin Andujar, reinjured a hamstring muscle Thursday night. The Astros' team doctor said the injury might keep Andujar out of the All-Star Game, but the pitcher said otherwise.

Nightmare--Andujar pulls hamstring

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros pitcher Joaquin Andujar's dream season may have turned into a nightmare with only one out to go in Thursday night's 4-3 victory over the National League Western Division leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Andujar, who was within one out of completing the game against the Dodgers, suffered a hamstring pull and may miss next week's All-Star game, although he vows he'll be ready if Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson should need him.

After a shakey start through the first three innings, Andujar, 10-4, held the Dodgers to one hit through the final five innings until he suffered the injury in the ninth inning.

"It's a pretty good hamstring pull," Astros team physician Dr. Harold Breisford said. "It's hard to tell about hamstring injuries. He may be all right tomorrow and then again he may not be able to go to the All-Star game. No two hamstrings are alike."

If Andujar's determination is any factor, he'll be present for next week's All-star game.

"I am going to pitch in the All-Star game," said Andujar, who came to Houston from Cincinnati after the Reds gave up on him three seasons ago. "I will be there."

Andujar got off to a slow start against the Dodgers, who lost for the fifth time in six games. The second year starter yielded five hits and two runs in the first three innings before getting a firm grip on the Dodgers.

Reggie Smith clubbed a two-run home run in the first inning and socked a solo homer in the eighth to account for all of Los Angeles' runs.

Houston countered with two runs in the fourth on a grounder by Jose Cruz and a double by Joe Ferguson.

After Smith's second homer gave LA a 3-2 lead in the eighth, Cruz doubled to tie it up in the eighth and Ferguson belted a single to right field to score the winning run.

"I don't do anything different from the start of the season," said Cruz, who extended his hitting streak to nine straight games. "Before, I was hitting it to somebody. Now they are falling in."

Andujar won a duel with Don Sutton, also a member of the National League All-Star pitching staff. Sutton, 10-4, got the loss.

There was little joy in the Dodgers' dressing room where Manager Tom LaSorda and All-Star first baseman Steve Garvey consoled each other.

"Don't worry Tom, we're going to break out of it," Garvey told LaSorda.

LaSorda replied, "Don't you worry either. They've all have their bad streaks—DiMaggio, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig—all of them. They all had their bad breaks and bounced back. We will too."

Finch named

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Larry Finch of Memphis has been named assistant basketball coach at the University of Alabama in Birmingham by head Coach Gene Bartow.

Finch was a star at Memphis State when Bartow was coach there. He is the first assistant hired by Bartow since he left the coaching post at UCLA to become UAB's athletic director and head coach.

The school plans to field its first basketball team in the fall of 1978.

Finch played at Melrose High in Memphis, Memphis State and two seasons with the Memphis Sounds of the National Basketball Association. He has since coached junior high and high school ball in Memphis.

Slow pitches foil Rangers' hitmen

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Reminiscent of the heyday of former Baltimore pitcher Stu Miller, Ross Grimsley is frustrating American League batters with an assortment of slow, slower and slowest pitches.

Arlington Stadium this year is equipped with a radar gun that times every pitch during a game and after each inning a pitcher's fastest throw is flashed on the scoreboard.

The fastest pitch recorded for Grimsley during his 6-1, seven-hit victory over the Texas Rangers Thursday night was a tantalizing 82 miles per hour.

"I used a changeup off a changeup and they (the batters) couldn't believe it," Grimsley said. "That makes the fastball look faster although I don't throw that hard, particularly tonight."

In several innings during the game, Grimsley's fastest pitch was timed in the 75 mile per hour range.

"He's faster than that, but it was his changeup that was working for him tonight," Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver said.

"I really didn't pitch that well," said Grimsley, who upped his record to 9-4. "I hit my spots and changed speeds and had a lot of luck keeping hitters off balance."

Four Orioles batters had RBIs and five had two hits each to pace a balanced 11-hit Baltimore offense. Two of the runs off Texas starter Gaylord Perry, 8-8, were unearned because of errors by Bump Wills and Claudell Washington.

Ken Singleton had a run-scoring double in Baltimore's tworun first inning, pinchhitter Tony Muser knocked in a run with a fielder's choice grounder in the sixth and Eddie Murray and Doug DeCinces added RBI singles in Baltimore's three-run seventh.

The victory was Baltimore's 11th in the last 13 games and kept the Orioles just one-half game behind East Division leader Boston.

"We're doing all this and Lee May hasn't even started hitting yet," said Weaver.

May, a notorious streak hitter, went 0-for-5 Thursday night, lowering his average to .241.

Baltimore travels to Milwaukee tonight, with Mike Flanagan scheduled to pitch for the Orioles and Mike Caldwell for the Brewers.

Texas continues its home stand with a doubleheader against Cleveland. Bert Blyleven and Len Barker are slated to hurl for the Rangers and Jim Bibby and Pat Dobson for the Indians.

Amazin' Cubs have the punch

NEW YORK (AP) — In the six seasons Bill Buckner spent with the Los Angeles Dodgers, playing against the Chicago Cubs was something special.

"It was," says Buckner with a wicked grin, "a chance to build up our average."

Buckner is on the Cubs' side of the fence now... make that the Amazin' Cubs, the first-place Cubs, who haven't finished in the National League East's first division since 1972 but lead by four games as they begin an important four-game weekend series with the runnerup Phillies in Philadelphia tonight.

Picked in most quarters to finish fifth or sixth, the Cubs are amazin' everyone except themselves.

"This is a different team," says right fielder Bobby Murcer, a first-year Cub who is one of the major reasons for the improvement. "It has better defense and more punch than last year's team. We're just playing good, steady baseball offensively and defensively and we're getting good pitching."

Murcer, who spent the last two seasons with the San Francisco Giants after a six-year hitch with the New York Yankees, sees a similarity with the one-time Yankee dynasty.

"DeJesus, Ontiveros, it's the same as the old Yankee teams which had guys sitting on the bench who could play elsewhere but never got the chance," he says.

Shortstop Ivan DeJesus was up briefly with Los Angeles the last three seasons, but the Dodgers were committed to Bill Russell. So last Jan. 11 they shipped DeJesus, Buckner and Jeff Albert to the Cubs for Rick Monday and Mike Garman.

A steal for the Dodgers, the experts said.

Third baseman Steve Ontiveros came to the major leagues with the Giants during the 1973 season but shifted between third base, first base and the outfield and never played an entire campaign as a regular. On Feb. 11, the Cubs acquired Murcer, Ontiveros and Andy Muhlstrook for two-time National League batting champ Bill Madlock and Rob Sperring.

A steal for the Giants, the experts said.

"The experts have been wrong before," says relief ace Bruce Sutter, who leads the majors with 23 saves in addition to a 5-1 record and 1.15 earned run average.

"Spring training was more or less a feeling-out process because Herman (Manager Herman Franks) didn't know us and we didn't know him. But towards the end of spring training we started playing pretty good baseball."

And they haven't stopped yet.

"We just play to stay in the game until the seventh inning," says Murcer. Then, the Cubs usually turn things over to Sutter, whom Franks calls the best reliever he's ever seen.

to win in 14 years of tour activity. "Very few manage to go from wire to wire, so it's hard to say how important the lead is."

But his seven-under-par effort, a tournament record that included a string of five consecutive birdies, some fantastic approach shots and a 29 — another tournament mark — on the back nine, kept alive what he has called "the great American dream."

"You never know. In the next three years I could win a half million dollars. So could a lot of other guys. The opportunity is there."

Jack Nicklaus agreed.

"Fred's a good player. He should have won two or three tournaments," Nicklaus said. "You can't tell. He might win one and have a breakthrough, win a bunch of them."

Nicklaus and Watson, well back of Marti, resumed their duel that saw Watson win the British Open last week in one of golf's great confrontations. They matched 68s in the bright, hot sunshine, but both admitted to an emotional drain from the epic encounter in Turnberry, Scotland.

"I was playing on instinct," Watson said.

"It's always hard for me, the week after a major championship, for me to really get interested," Nicklaus said.

Marti leads PV tourney

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Fred Marti took a sober, realistic view of his surprise first-round lead, forged on a record 64, in the $250,000 Pleasant Valley Golf Classic.

"Rarely does the first round leader go on to win the tournament," said the veteran Marti, who has yet to win in 14 years of tour activity. "Very few manage to go from wire to wire, so it's hard to say how important the lead is."

Golfers advance to Trans-Miss quarters

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — NCAA champion Scott Simpson of San Diego, Calif., takes on Mel Callender of San Marcos, Tex., today in the 74th annual Trans-Mississippi amateur golf tournament at Midland Country Club.

Cimpon beat Mark Mattingly of San Angelo, Tex., 3 and 2 Thursday to advance to the quarterfinal round.

Other quarterfinals include Oklahoma State University standout Lindy Miller of Fort Worth, Tex., John Grace, also of Fort Worth, medalist John Fought of Portland, Ore., Rod Nuckolls of Wichita, Kan., Scott Watkins of Scottsdale, Ariz., David Rasco of Metairie, La., and Mel Callender of San Marcos, Tex.

Watkins was a surprise winner Thursday over Dave Edwards, the OSU golfer who tied with Fought for medalist honors in qualifying play earlier in the week. Watkins beat Edwards 3 and 2.

Nuckolls upset NCAA runner-up Lee Mikels of Arizona State University 1-up in a sudden-death playoff.

Callender, who had to engage in a playoff with 18 other golfers Monday just to earn one of the last three spots in the 64-man playing field, upended Blaine McCallister of Ft. Stockton, Tex., 4 and 3.

In other quarterfinal matches, Grace takes on Miller, Fought faces Nuckolls, Watkins tangles with Rasco and Simpson meets Callender. The tournament continued through Sunday at the 7,400-yard, par-72 MCC course.

Pokes scrimmage tough

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — A 30-minute scrimmage produced no scoring Thursday as the defense dominated at the Dallas Cowboys training camp.

Free agent Keith Ponder, a rookie defensive back from Northern Michigan, flattened tight end Don Wardlow, an 11th round draft choice from Washington, so hard that the ball flew loose, drawing a loud reaction from players on the sideline.

On another rough play, cornerback Aaron Kyle, in his second year, was knocked woozy when he collided with tight end Jay Saldi, another second-year man who reported early.

Abel Joe, a rookie free agent running back from Cheyney State, broke several tackles and burst into the open field twice during the scrimmage, continuing his standout performances in rookie camp.

Chuck Lawson, a free agent defensive lineman from Abilene Christian University, voluntarily left camp Thursday.

The rookies will be joined this weekend by veteran quarterbacks, including Roger Staubach, and veteran receivers, including Drew Pearson. The entire squad will be in camp by July 22.

STRIKES OUT — Janet Goldstein, a .600 hitter for her women's softball team, has been benched by the state agencies league. She's six months pregnant and the other teams don't approve of her playing. She says the decision is "archaic."

Tom the artful Red

By the Associated Press

Tom Seaver is certainly the perfectionist. He isn't merely satisfied with a no-hitter—it has to be "arty."

"A no-hitter isn't necessarily anything," says the Cincinnati pitcher. "You can pitch a no-hitter and give up 10 line drives. If I pitched an 'artful' no-hitter, that would be something."

It would be just like Seaver, then, to relish his performance Thursday night, even if it was "just" a two-hit, 7-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

"We needed a win today, and that was the important thing," said Seaver.

Along with Seaver's marvelous pitching performance, the Reds got some marvelous hitting from George Foster, who is on the hottest long-ball streak of his big league career.

Foster drove in five runs with three homers, taking over the National League home run leadership with 28 and padding his league-leading RBI total to 88.

"I thrive on pressure," said Foster, succinctly.

On his unusually high offensive totals, Foster remarked:

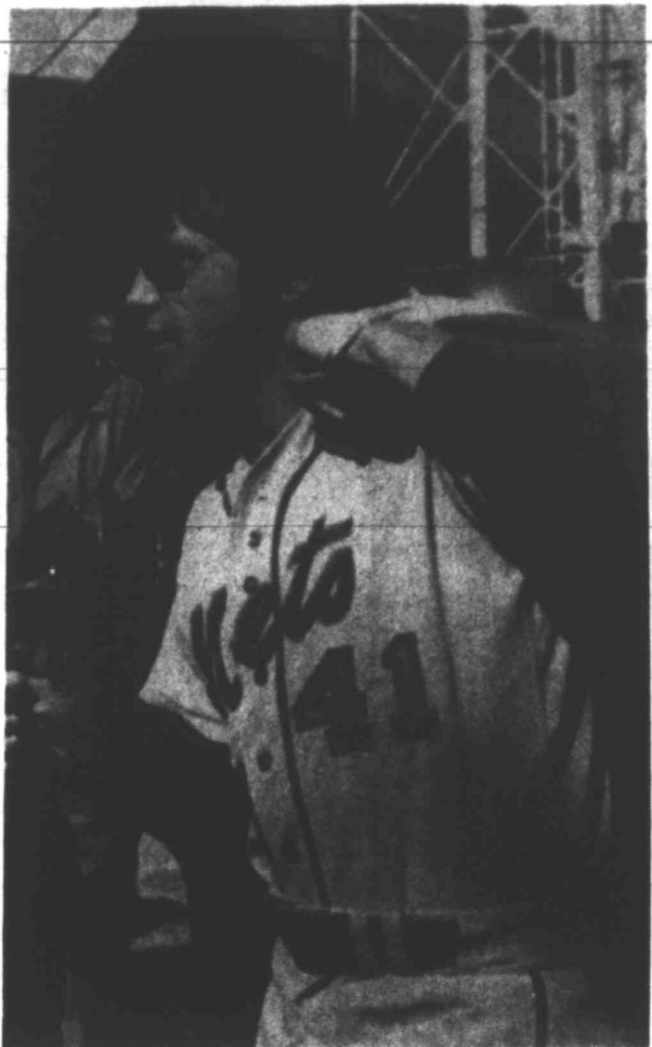

"I can't help but think about records. (But) I don't set specific goals for myself. Goals are good as far as setting guidelines for yourself, but if you think about them too much, you feel letdown if you don't accomplish them."

In limited National League action, the Houston Astros defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals tripped the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in 11 innings. The Chicago Cubs and New York Mets were postponed due to the after-effects of the massive power shortage that struck New York City Wednesday night.

Also slugged a home run, walked the first two batters in the game and then retired 18 batters in a row. Willie Montanez hit a one-out double in the seventh inning to end Seaver's bid for his first career no-hitter. Foster became the 14th Reds' player ever to hit three home runs in a game.

Cardinals 7, Phillies 6
Pinch-hitter Hector Cruz smashed a run-scoring double in the 11th inning, then scored the winning run as St. Louis defeated Philadelphia.

Before the Cardinals rallied to tie the game with a three-run ninth and then win it in the 11th, the Phillies had taken a 5-2 lead on sixth-inning homers by Greg Luzinski, Richie Hebner 7-15

Midland wins on Pagel's 25th HR

By the Associated Press

Karl Pagel slammed his 25th home run of the season as Midland took a 4-1 Texas League victory over Tulsa Thursday night.

Pagel hit the homer with a man aboard and increased his RBI output to 94. He leads the league in both home runs and runs batted in.

In other games, Amarillo edged Shreveport, 4-1, El Paso walloped Jackson, 9-1 and San Antonio exploded for five runs in the 10th inning to defeat Arkansas 14-9.

Darrell Turner, now 8-5, pitched a five-hitter to pick up the victory for Midland. Mike Umfleet had a run-scoring double in the sixth inning to break a 1-1 tie. Paul Mirabella, now 5-5, took the loss for the Drillers.

Rusty Gerhardt, now 1-5, went the distance for Amarillo, giving up five hits, one run, one walk and had six strikeouts. Doug Nelson, now 3-4, took the loss for Shreveport.

El Paso scored seven runs in the ninth inning to break open what had been a close game as the Diablos took advantage of five Jackson errors in the inning. A three-run triple by Steve Stroughter was the key blast for the Diablos. El Paso starter Bob Leslie, who gave up four hits in eight innings, was the winner, upping his record to 5-7.

Luis Lunar, now 1-2, took the loss.

San Antonio exploded for five runs in the top of the tenth in a real slugfest in which they had 18 hits and Arkansas had 15. Charlie Meyers had a home run for San Antonio and Mike Rushdie added an inside-the-park homer for the Dodgers. Jim Lentine homered in the ninth for Arkansas to tie the game. Mike Seberger, now 4-6, was the winning pitcher. Ryan Kurosaki, now 4-5, took the loss.

Howe takes lead in Women's Western Am

FLOSSMOOR, Ill. (AP) — Lauren Howe, a trim 18-year-old blonde from Colorado Springs, Colo., says she was doing sit-ups last November when something popped in her back.

"It put me in a slump and only now is my game coming around," said the daughter of the golf pro at the Country Club of Colorado. "My emotional stability is also better."

Miss Howe, 1976 Western junior champion, said her two victories in Thursday's double round of the Women's Western Amateur "were the most satisfying golf I've ever played."

Miss Howe, who said she has yielded her golf scholarship and dropped out of the University of Tulsa because she plans to turn professional, defeated arch-rival Cindy Hill of Colorado Springs in the third round 1-up in a match that was squared five times. She then ousted medalist Beth Daniel of Charleston, S.C., 5 and 4 in the afternoon quarter-finals.

In today's semifinals at Flossmoor Country Club, Miss Howe will face another 18-year-old daughter of a pro, Lori Garbacz of South Bend, Ind.

Miss Garbacz advanced with a 19-hole triumph over Lancy Smith of Williamsville, N.Y., the 1974 Western Amateur winner.

Miss Garbacz pitched six inches from the cup for a winning birdie on the extra hole after Miss Smith had evened the match with birdies on the 17th and 18th holes.

The other semifinalists are co-medalist Carolyn Hill of Placentia, Calif., and Nancy Porter of Ardmore, Pa.

Miss Hill, 4 down at the 10th hole, pulled even with an eagle 3 on the 15th and finally closed her match with Pat Cornett, of Salinas, Calif., with a par win on the 21st hole.

Miss Porter gained the semifinals by trimming Lisa Baxter of Los Gatos, Cal., 4 and 2. Miss Porter went ahead for the first time with a birdie deuce on the 13th and then expanded the margin.

'Yaz' catches Williams' stick

By the Associated Press

Arl Yastrzemski, who replaced Ted Williams as the Boston Red Sox left fielder 16 years ago, has now replaced the "Splendid Splinter" as Boston's all-time leader in hits.

"I think Ted Williams was the greatest hitter of all time in baseball, and if he hadn't missed those five years in the service, I'd probably still be chasing him for 10 years," Yastrzemski said after getting a single and a home run Thursday night to increase his career hit total to 2,654.

Williams, a member of the Hall of Fame, was a Marine pilot in World War II and the Korean conflict.

"Anytime you pass a guy like that, it's a thrill," Yastrzemski said.

With Yastrzemski's two hits and Butch Hobson's third home run in as many games, the Red Sox battered the Cleveland Indians 7-4 to remain atop the American League East Division race.

In other AL games

Thursday, the Chicago White Sox edged Toronto 2-1, the New York Yankees defeated Milwaukee 6-3, Baltimore stopped Texas 6-1, Kansas City downed Detroit 4-1 and Seattle knocked off California 4-1.

White Sox 2, Blue Jays 1
Richie Zisk raced home from second on an error eighth-inning error to back Ken Kravec's three-hit victory and give Chicago its eighth. Kravec outdueled loser Jerry Garvin, who yielded just four hits.

Zisk and Lamar Johnson walked after two were out in the eighth. When Eric Soderholm's sharp ground ball ricocheted off Toronto third baseman Dave McKay into left field, Zisk scored the winning run.

Yankees 6, Brewers 3
Two home runs by Reggie Jackson—his 14th and 15th of the year—and a two-run homer by George Zeber powered New York to its victory over Milwaukee.

Jackson smacked a two-run roundtripper in the seventh, snapping a 1-1 tie, and after Graig Nettles followed with a single, Zeber slammed his third homer of the season. Orioles 6,

Royals 4, Tigers 3
Frank White continued his hitting streak with a single and double, driving in three runs to pace Kansas City to victory. White's RBI triple to right in the sixth inning marked the fifth consecutive game in which he has driven in a run.

Jason Thompson and Ron LeFlore homered for the Tigers.

Blair traded

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Bears have sent pitcher Dennis Blair to Rochester of the International League to complete a trade involving the two teams' parent clubs, the American Association team announced.

In the trade, Rochester's parent club, the Baltimore Orioles, sent pitcher Fred Holdsworth to the Montreal Expos. Denver's parent team, a Bears spokesman said Thursday.

The Bears activated infielder Rick Renick, who has been on the disabled list since June 6, to replace Blair.

Blair, 23, was in his second year with the Bears.

Foster robbed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The longest road trip of the season turned out to be an expensive one for Cincinnati Reds slugger George Foster.

Thieves stole $500 worth of personal belongings from his downtown apartment, Foster said. He said the items included two radios, clothing and traveling gear.

Conroe leads All America

HOUSTON (AP) — Tom Dunn of Conroe held a one stroke lead today going into the final 18 holes of the ninth annual Junior All-America golf tournament.

Dunn fired an even par 72 Thursday to give him a 36-hole total of 143. Tom Garcia of San Antonio was in second place with a 144 after a second round 77 and an opening day five-under-par 67.

DISPLAY OF HOCKEY BRUTE STRENGTH — In a recent training match the Duisberg, West Germany, Bruins, light jerseys, display their brute strength against the Duisberg Chimpanzees, as the referee tries to keep order. But it was surely a case of monkey see, monkey do, as the chimps covered the ice. Actually the animals have been in training for four months as part of a planned circus act. Every game official who has had to argue a call with a player will appreciate the muzzles included in the bruin's equipment.

Alagia on 'One on One'

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the most important game of the year and I was sitting on the bench. First one guard fouled out, then the other. I knew I had to get the chance to play. There was no choice."

"We were down by three points with three minutes left when I got in. I made a quick steal, then hit a jumper from the top of the key. We were down by one."

"They came down the court and missed, and we got the ball back with less than 10 seconds left. I make a move to the basket, but I'm fouled. It's up to me, a one-and-one situation with just four seconds left."

"The first shot goes up; it's good. Then the second; it's good. My teammates and the crowd surge on to the court and lift me up and down. I remember a lot of people hugging and grabbing me."

Although this scene is very similar to a dramatic situation in the new film, "One On One," it's not cinema, but the real stuff.

"It was the biggest game I ever played," said Frank Alagia Jr., former standout guard at St. John's University, referring to a

IL homerun record tied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gene Locklear of the Syracuse Chiefs slammed four homers to tie an International League baseball one-game record Thursday night as the Chiefs downed the Columbus Clippers 11-1.

The switch-hitting Locklear showed what a designated hitter can do. His four homer performance ties him with five other players for the single game mark.

Locklear swatted a two-run blast in the second inning to begin his night, added another two-run shot in the next inning, and solo four baggers in the seventh and ninth innings.

Karras cut, Dandy back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alex Karras, the former Detroit Lions linebacker who worked with Frank Gifford and Howard Cosell on ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" for the last two seasons, has been cut from the line-up.

In his place will be Don Meredith, the ex-Dallas Cowboys quarterback who has spent four years with ABC and three with NBC as a sports commentator.

A spokesman said ABC's contract with Karras' renewed and that Karras had decided to concentrate on his acting career.

The spokesman said Meredith, 39, signed a multiyear contract with ABC, but declined to say how much the joke-cracking Texan will earn.

But Alagia, winner of the Francis P. Naismith Award in 1976 as the outstanding player under six feet in the nation, says the picture painted by the film, at times, was out of focus.

"The portrayal of the coach was very shady," said Alagia, who is now a government bond broker on Wall St. "This is really where my career breaks off. The coaches in the movie were completely different than the coaches I've come across. Coach (Lou) Carnesecca (of St. John's) was a human being while the guy in the movie just had a heart of stone. He had no feelings. I don't believe there's ever been a coach like that."

No-fault insurance odds improve

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief sponsor of national no-fault automobile insurance legislation says President Carter's support may be enough to win passage in Congress after years of narrow defeats.

"With that help I think we can win," Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said Thursday after a White House meeting with Carter. Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Carter told him Transportation Secretary Brock Adams would announce the administration's support for no-fault when he testifies today before the panel.

Under no-fault, persons are compensated for injuries in car accidents regardless of who is to blame. Under the traditional liability system, insurance companies must determine, often through lawsuits, which driver is at fault and which insurance company must compensate victims.

With opposition coming mainly from lawyers who handle auto accident cases, no-fault lost in the Senate in 1972, 49-46.

In 1974 the Senate passed no-fault legislation, 53-42, but the House failed to act before Congress adjourned.

On a third attempt to pass a no-fault bill, the Senate killed the measure, 49-45 in March of last year. Magnuson held his first hearings on no-fault in 1967 and the result was a law ordering a Transportation Department study, which eventually concluded that the new insurance system should be adopted. Recently, the Transportation Department said the concept was working well in the 16 states that had it.

Vets seek guaranteed pension

HOUSTON (AP) — The commander of the World War I section of the Veteran of Foreign Wars (VFW) says there have been a lot of "frustrations and disappointments" for the oldtimers.

Bruce Bennett, 78, said Thursday. "Our people have just reached that time in life when it is hard to get around. They are tired."

Bennett commented in an interview during a meeting of the World War I group here.

He said there are documented cases of veterans surviving on dog food, of those unable to pay for needed medical services.

He said the top legislative goal today is a guaranteed pension of $150 a month for all veterans or their widows.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's dark of the Moon gives you the chance to first decide some very basic conditions requiring satisfactory solutions. Later you are in a very creative frame of mind and can be alert to the best ways by which you can have greater success.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Complete important family matters before you seek amusement. Make use of those ideas that bring you more happiness and contentment.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do whatever shopping is necessary then make plans to entertain at home. Invite only the most trustworthy, though.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A touch of rivalry develops if you join in group activities. Face competition with courage and avoid saying something you'll be sorry for later.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Handle money and other practical matters early and get your life on a more even keel. Contact those persons who can be of assistance to you in the future.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) A personal aim can be reached that has been difficult before this. Avoid a troublemaker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Come to a better understanding with friends today and then be happy at amusements together. Think along more practical lines.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to handle difficult duties; then be with congenials for amusement.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Ideal morning to study a new project and then plan how to get your ideas to the attention of bigwigs. Spend enough time planning an upcoming trip.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be on the alert for news interests of worth. Drive with utmost care and be careful of strangers.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Maintain good standing among friends by keeping any promises you have made. Show cooperation with others if you really want to progress now. Be active and happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Organize work carefully and then carry through. Situations arise that give you a better idea how to advance more quickly in your career.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan just how to get a good deal of work done with those who are congenial, and then talk over with a partner a new project that interests you. Take treatments early to improve health.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will, early in life, comprehend the basics of living and should be given a chance to solve problems, to earn some money and to handle practical affairs wisely.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

NANCY

WHY HAVE YOU BEEN SITTING THERE ALL DAY?

HOPING SLUGGO WILL CALL

I THOUGHT YOU WERE MAD AT HIM... WHY DO YOU WANT HIM TO CALL YOU?

SO I CAN HANG UP ON HIM.

ON A SCALE OF ONE TO TEN—HOW MUCH WOULD YOU SAY MY EMPLOYEES LOVE ME?

I CAN'T ANSWER THAT!

WHY NOT?!

BLONDIE

YOU DIDN'T EXAGGERATE YOUR CULINARY SKILL, MR. WINGATE!... YOU MUST HAVE SPENT YEARS ACQUIRING IT!

MY FRIENDS... OF WHICH I HOPE YOU WILL BE ONE... CALL ME HENRY... RUTH!

AS FOR LEARNING TO COOK, IT WASN'T REALLY BY CHOICE! MY LATE WIFE WAS AN INVALID FOR MANY YEARS!

I'M SORRY TO HEAR THAT... HENRY!

EXCUSE ME!... I SHOULD TAKE SOME OF THIS UPSTAIRS TO BARBARA!... WHILE IT IS HOT!

SOMEBODY BUSTED IN OUR HOUSE WHILE WE WUZ OUT OF TOWN, SHERIFF

WHAT DID TH' VARMINT TAKE, SNUFFY?

NOTHIN'—HE LEFT A SACK OF GROCERIES, SOME CLOTHES AN' THREE DOLLERS

EVERY TIME I REALLY BEAR DOWN, I LOSE CONTROL!

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED, JOE... LEARNING CONTROL WILL TAKE TIME!

YOU'VE GOT A GOOD LIVE FAST BALL... AND I'M IMPRESSED!

REALLY?!

YOU GUYS COMING TO THE BARN DANCE TONIGHT?

I WONDER WHAT HE SEES IN BARN DANCES

PROBABLY THE RAFTERS

I SUPPOSE I'D BETTER TELL 'ER ABOUT THE DARTS MATCH, BUT SHE'S NOT GOIN' TO LIKE IT— FIVE NIGHTS IN A ROW, I'VE LEFT 'ER ON 'ER OWN...

I'LL AVE TO CHOOSE ME WORDS CAREFULLY...

PET WOULD YOU MIND IF...

I AVENT ASKED YOU YET!

SO THE HARE STEPPED OFF TO GRAZE IN A MARIJUANA PATCH AND GOT SO SPACED OUT THAT THE TORTOISE WON.

SOUNDS LIKE A FIX TO ME.

WHAT'S THE MATTER? STILL HAVING TROUBLE WITH YOUR GARDEN?

MY STRING BEANS LOOK VERY UNHEALTHY

MAYBE THEY DON'T GET ENOUGH EXERCISE...

THANKS FOR LETTING ME SPEND THE NIGHT ON YOUR COUCH, HOPE IT WON'T CAUSE THE NEIGHBORS TO TALK.

WE DIDN'T DO ANYTHING WRONG, HERB, BEGIDES THEY'LL NEVER KNOW.

WELL, I THINK IT'S GHOCKING! MAYBE THE NEIGHBORS WON'T FIND OUT.

BUT EVERY DOG IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD IS GOING TO HEAR ABOUT IT!

MAYBE SILENT EAGLE AND I COULD RIG SOMETHING... LIKE A TRAVOIS...

ME... GO...

GO? GO WHERE?!

NO, SILENT EAGLE... NOT NOW... COME BACK...

NESSY WORKS JUST FINE... I OPENS THE CAR DOOR AND POINTS TO A WOMAN, BESSY JUMPS OUT, GRABS THE WOMAN'S PURSE, AND JUMPS BACK IN.

HUMPH! AIN'T BUT 42 DOLLARS IN BOTH PURSES.

THE BIG MONEYS IN THEM LITTLE ATTYSHAY CASES— PAYROLLS— JEWELRY SAMPLES.

COME HERE, BUTCH, YOU AND BESSY GONNA START WORKIN' TOGETHER.

BUT ONE DOG CAN'T HANDLE ANYTHING THAT BIG!

He's a sensation, Mr. Pert!

Amazing, Mr. Beans!

That's his sinker!

We must sign him at once! Money is no object!

Offer him fifty dollars a week!

HE'S PULLING UP!

THE APP SAID THEY'RE ARMED AND DANGEROUS! COVER ME!

I'M DR. BRICE ADAM! I'VE GOT TO GET TO THE HOSPITAL, OFFICER!

LEAN AGAINST THE CAR, MISTER!

SHE LOOKS UNCONSCIOUS!

SHE'S IN A COMA! THERE'S NO TIME TO WASTE! THIS IS AN EMERGENCY!

IT'S FUNNY... THERE ARE BLACKS IN FOOTBALL, BASEBALL AND BASKETBALL.

WHY AREN'T THERE ANY BLACK HOCKEY PLAYERS?

JUST LUCKY, I GUESS.

CRASH! BAM! SOCK! OW!

PEANUTS

WHY AREN'T THERE ANY BLACK HOCKEY PLAYERS?

JUST LUCKY, I GUESS.

Test of siren planned Monday

A test will be conducted on the new warning siren installed on Westover Road, W. D. Berry, director of Big Spring-Howard County Civil Defense, has announced. The test will take place at 10 a.m., Monday.

The facility is a new remote electronically-controlled activated siren. The first test will be a three-minute steady tone, followed by a two-minute interval of silence. The second test will be a waning tone lasting three minutes, and will conclude the morning test. Observers will be stationed at six locations around the area to test sound levels.

At 2 p.m., Monday, all sirens within the city will be tested. Berry said that, hopefully, with the aid of the new siren, the others will bounce sound levels to 15 percent for all the systems. The test will be concluded at 2:03 p.m.

The tests will be postponed if severe weather warnings are out for this area.

CARD OF THANKS

Words of thanks to the First Federal Savings, the president and staff. This day June 23, has past, yet it rings in my memory and out of a pure heart. I thank you for the honor that was placed upon me as a representative of our Howard County Heritage. To those who read this article: Now is the time to open your child a savings account. Where? First Federal Savings, 500 Main, Big Spring. Thank you again. Bertha Johnson Payton

Plans to open his own office

Tom Fetters, who has been working with Dan Wilkens in the Edward D. Jones and Co., investment office here, is planning a move to Huntsville in August or early September where he will open his own Edward D. Jones office.

Fetters, who came here in 1961 on assignment with the Sid Richardson Company, served on the Big Spring school board from 1972 through 1976.

A native of the Southern Ohio-Indiana area, Fetters attended Wabash University and Indiana University.

He is a member of the Lions Club, the Big Spring Country Club, the Ambassadors Club of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce and at one time headed up the Special Gifts division of the Howard County United Way campaign.

He will be accompanied to Huntsville by his two sons, Steve 16 and Mike 13.

Now open under new management of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Daniels
