tendants, law officers and others are trying to extract the body of the driver from the wreckage. The boot shown on the foreground flew off his foot, which reportedly was hanging out the window.

Irving pair killed

By MARJ CARPENTER

Kerry Lee White, 22 and Kay June White, 23, both of Irving, were killed in a one-vehicle accident when an 18 wheel trailer-tandem truck overturned 2.5 miles east of Cosden on IS 20 at 3 a.m.

The couple, apparently man and wife, team, were apparently drivers for a trucking firm, J. H. Rose Jr. of Houston and the truck was headed west on IS 20 carrying a complete pumpjack.

Kerry White, driver of the vehicle trapped inside five minutes short of two hours, was finally extracted at 4:55 a.m. It had already been determined that he was dead inside the cab of the truck.

The woman was halfway between the sleeper compartment and the seat when her body was removed. Henry Page, who lived at a house near the service road, told City Policeman Arvin Henry that the first truck driver to stop thought he heard moans from the truck, but the woman was dead when removed from the cab.

Getting the driver out turned out to be complicated. Several workers tried feverishly to pry the cab apart to no avail. Workers then took the large wrecker, which is one of the biggest in West Texas, owned by Floyd's Wrecking, and jerked the cab up until they snapped the fifth gear and got the cab loose from the trailer.

The cab was then rolled completely over to set it on its wheels. Five men stood atop the cab and peeled back layers of the roof of the cab to extract the body which was mashed into the top of the cab, trapped between the roof and the seat.

The driver died of massive injuries and the woman occupant apparently died of chest injuries.

Ken Joyce, investigating state trooper, said that apparently the truck left the road on the curve, and that the driver "may have been asleep."

The truck took out 133 feet of fence in the median and dumped heavy oilfield equipment into the median, but the cab came to rest on the south side of the westbound lanes of IS-20.

A full moon was shining and residents who had been awakened along the service road, stood and watched the removal of the wreckage. This is the third major accident on the curve in the past two years, according to one observer.

One woman reported that she had been talking to her Citizens Band radio inside the house to truckers coming down IS-20 for over an hour.

Justice of the Peace Bobby West ruled both victims dead at the scene and ordered a blood test on the driver at the request of the investigating officer.

Oil field accident fatal to man, 22

Mike McClure, 22, was dead on arrival at Malone-Hogan emergency room here shortly after 9 a.m. today after being injured in an oilfield accident on a lease 18 miles southeast of Big Spring.

McClure was found lying on the rig floor with his head against a piece of pipe, according to a spokesman at Riley Drilling Co. for whom he was employed.

McClure was apparently taking a battery cable off and it was not known by fellow employees, who did not see the accident, whether he was electrocuted or died as a result of a blow to the head.

He was rushed to the hospital emergency room by ambulance where he was dead on arrival.

Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena Jr. had not made a ruling the death. The youth was hooked up to a 12-volt battery which should have not given a fatal jolt, but had burns on his chest, according to the JP.

He also said that he had an apparent fractured skull and that an autopsy has been ordered.

McClure had been employed by Riley Drilling for approximately one month. A rig had just been moved to an Atlantic Richfield lease which is located at the end of the pavement on the south section of East Howard Road and a few miles east.

McClure's parents reside in Colorado City and his father, Bob McClure, works for Big Spring Seed and Chemical here.

Born March 5, 1955, he was a graduate of Colorado High School in May 1973. He was a member of the Wolf Band for two years and was a distributive education student, active in the DEC organization.

Seven handicapped persons drown

LAKE COWICHAN, Canada (AP) — Seven handicapped persons at a summer camp drowned when their pontoon boat overturned and they were trapped underneath by a wire fence meant to ensure their safety. Two victims were strapped in wheel chairs locked to the deck.

A lifeguard and counselor on the boat escaped but were unable to rescue any of the campers, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said after the tragedy Thursday.

Identities of the four women and three men killed were withheld until relatives could be notified. Autopsies and an inquest were ordered.

The victims, attending a Lions Club Easter Seal camp on Lake Cowichan in British Columbia, were riding on a 12-foot craft with a deck measuring 8-by-10-feet on two pontoons. The deck was surrounded by a three-foot-high wire fence designed to protect the passengers.

Authorities said the boat was heading for a water-skiing jambooree along the lakeshore when one of the pontoons caught under a swell as it made a sharp turn.

The five handicapped men and women sitting on the deck slid to the right side of the craft, which dipped into the water. The vessel then flipped over, throwing camp employees clear but trapping the seven victims inside the fence.

The buoyancy of the life-jackets which all the victims wore then forced them up against the deck of the craft, making the railing in effect a cage, authorities said.

Texas pilot dies during war games

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A San Antonio, Texas-based pilot has died when his jet fighter crashed at Nellis Air Force Base near here during war games.

Nellis officials said Capt. Mark Cleaves, 34, died Thursday afternoon when his 149th Tactical Group fighter from the Air National Guard went down.

The crash is under investigation and there were no further details.

Is Briscoe's slip showing?

Poll confirmation sought

By BOB BURTON

Attorney General John Hill, who can only get closer to campaigning openly against Governor Dolph Briscoe when he makes his formal announcement, made a whistle stop in Big Spring Thursday.

The Attorney General and his wife, Bitsy, were brought here by local attorney Bob Miller. Hill had been in Amarillo for the annual Sheriff's Convention and to work with the Muscular Dystrophy group there. He was asked to stop in Big Spring on a tour which included Snyder and other West Texas towns.

Hill told the 32 people in the Reddy Room at Texas Electric that he expected to make the final decision on the race the third week in September.

Said Hill, "We want to travel to sound out our support base in Texas. We have an appreciation reception in Austin Sept. 15, and after that we will look forward to the decision. We will be touring communities of under 50,000 people — the heartland of Texas.

"The main thing I've noticed is confirmation of the Belden poll test. That stated that the Governor did have the present support of Texans, but when asked if they would support him for the next 10 years, 58 per cent said 'No way'.

"I believe that all the high offices of the state, including the one I presently hold, should be rotated," he continued. "You can stagnate after a period of years, and I see fresh challenges and horizons in the governor's chair."

Hill's basic attack on Briscoe was economic, claiming that the present governor was a too little, too late politician.

"If we had any political chips with the President after the election, why didn't we cash them to get someone on the Schlesinger Energy Board? Texas had no representatives there, and I think it's disgraceful.

"Our budget has an accelerated spending pattern; it's up 150 per cent from $7 to $16 billion. I want to place priorities on the present spending.

"I believe that after 6 years, we still don't have a school finance bill which will meet a court test. Federal court in Austin will probably throw it out. The best way to fight court encroachment is to solve the problem ourselves. With the inequality of the property tax and the inequality of distribution of school funds, 1979 may be our last chance to resolve the problems ourselves.

OLD FRIENDS, NEW CAMPAIGNERS? — Attorney General John Hill, a likely candidate for the governor's chair, and his wife, Bitsy, greet local attorney Bob Miller Thursday at a reception held in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. Hill, a personal friend of Miller's, agreed to stop in Big Spring for about an hour after his visit to Amarillo. Hill said his final decision on the campaign would be made the third week in September.

Hill, predictably enough, called for the maintenance of "viable, strong" oil, gas and agricultural industries for our young people.

He called the question of water development in West Texas a "litany," saying it was easy to talk during the political season, but the state had yet to live up to its capabilities.

"With utility bills choking people to death," he added, "we could have removed the sales tax from the bill if we'd had the proper commitment."

While he fielded several questions from the audience with expected ease, Hill also took the safe road around several opportunities to declare himself.

On whether he supported an oil refinery tax, Hill told the group that he did not support any kind of tax unless absolutely necessary. When pressed later as to whether an income tax would be more acceptable to him, Hill replied that he was not ready to get into the position of talking about this tax or that tax — he would rather work with spending priorities. He did say he favors zero-base budgeting, and that he believed the governor should be involved in the budget-making process.

A question about a water district lawsuit brought an emphatic response from Hill.

"I have no animosity with the water districts, but they don't own the water — the people own the water. I feel we need to watch the cost in the utility rate base," he said.

Hill said he had never written a formal opinion on the constitutionality of the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit, he felt his office had been aggressive on open-meeting law questions, and he, as governor, would strive to improve funding to schools and law enforcement agencies.

Hill was in Big Spring for just over an hour, and he promised to return after his hat was in the ring. Though he answered questions while here, Big Springers will have to wait for some campaign heat to get the fireworks they can anticipate in the coming race.

By House subcommittee

Webb property sale OKed

The final roadblock to Webb property being dissolved on schedule to the city was dissolved today when a House Armed Services subcommittee voted on dispersal of the surplus property.

According to Congressman Omar Burlison's office, the House Subcommittee on Military Installations and Facilities of the Armed Services Committee took action before 11 a.m. to approve the dispersal report on Webb.

This action, according to Burlison assistant Judy Curtis, will now allow local leaders to follow through with plans being made to implement the transition to industry and other activities at the base. The Air Force can now proceed to turn Webb properties over to the General Services administration in order that local plans be implemented.

This move by the subcommittee has been eagerly awaited by the Webb steering committee for several months. If it had taken place as scheduled in May, the special request for release of property to house Lubbock Manufacturing Co., would not have been necessary.

But with this step, the Webb property has been declared ready for dispersal through federal agencies and can be expected to be readily available for city use.

According to City Manager Harry Nagel, the action will greatly simplify rental. Nagel said that official applications for property at Webb would be issued by the city soon.

Despite the usual procedure which would call for notification of federal agencies that the surplus properties were available, Nagel anticipated no further federal claims against Webb land.

The General Services Administration began that notification procedure some time ago," he said, "and they would probably have received all the replies they were going to."

Despite the fact that the land was available, however, Nagel said he believed that the municipal airport was still about a year away.

"They promised us they would move faster in our case," he said, "but all the other bases we've studied have taken about this long to get the final transfer of property."

17 tons of coins stolen

PARIS (AP) — Somewhere today four bandits sit and consider their loot — 17 tons of shiny new coins, worth $3.54 million. They may know what they're going to do with the heavy haul, but to others it's a mystery.

"You can't buy a chateau, a car or even a pair of crocodile shoes with bags of change," the newspaper L'Aurore reminded them in an open letter. "And even if you go out to celebrate your coup, the owner of the smallest cafe will start to suspect before you drop the 10th coin on the bar."

"Please write to us and tell us how on earth you are going to get rid of it," the newspaper suggested.

The gangsters hijacked a semitrailer truck carrying the coins as it left the Gare de Lyon railroad station here Thursday, headed for the Paris headquarters of the Bank of France. The coins were in a container that had been shipped by rail overnight from a mint in southern France.

Identical to thousands of other containers on the French rail system, it was deliberately left unguarded so it would not attract attention. It was labeled "fabricated metal" and the bank said, it was insured only for the value of the metal in the coins, not their monetary value, which is higher.

The loot was largely in 10-franc pieces, each worth about $2. They were recently put into circulation to replace notes and have proved unpopular with the public because they are smaller than coins of half the value and are confusing in a pocketful of change.

The driver, Jean Trottin, 51, said he simply rolled his truck into the Gare de Lyon freight yard, the container was loaded onto the rig in 15 minutes, and he drove out, unarmored and alone.

The hijackers, who officials said must have been following a carefully devised plan based on inside information, got an unexpected break when another truck stalled in front of Trottin's rig.

The gang grabbed the two drivers as they talked, drove off with them and the truck and released them 30 minutes later. Meanwhile, one of the bandits disappeared with the truck into the traffic of Paris.

"They didn't hit me or molest me," said Trottin. "They were relaxed, whistling in the car as they drove out to the outskirts of town. They seemed to know exactly where they were going."

A special anti-gangster brigade today led police in a search of the greater Paris area, looking for a hideout big enough to hold the container while it was unloaded.

Police said the driver of the stalled truck was innocent of any complicity.

Worker's comp to cost

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Higher workers compensation benefits will cost Texas businessmen $50 million in insurance premiums in the fiscal year that starts Sept. 1.

The State Board of Insurance ordered a 7.2 per cent rate increase Thursday to cover the automatic increase in benefits provided by the 1973 legislature.

Board actuaries had recommended an 8.9 per cent increase to cover benefit increases that will raise the maximum from $77 to $91 a week.

The board, however, went along with an insurance industry recommendation to pare the staff proposal slightly because of a change made this year in the Workers Compensation Act.

In the past, an employer or his insurance company had to pay for an injured worker's total disability, even though the same part of his body might have been damaged in an on-the-job accident while working for someone else.

The new law makes an employer liable only for the portion of a disability arising from an accident in his shop.

Jim Yancy, senior vice-president of the Texas Association of Business, said the effect of the new law should have been to cut the increase to no more than 3.7 per cent.

Both Yancy and Bob Wilson of Wichita Falls, representing the Texas Trial Lawyers Association, cited profit data of the state's biggest workers comp insurance firm, Texas Employers, as evidence that rates should not be raised.

Police beat Stereo equipment is stolen from house

Burglars broke into the home of Kenneth Boothe, 2307 Brent, and stole some stereo equipment and other items worth over $700 at around 11:15 p.m. Thursday.

According to reports, the burglars made their entry by removing the screens on an unlocked window on the west side of the residence.

Besides the stereo equipment, consisting of four speakers, an eight-track player, an AM-FM radio and clock radio, the burglars also got out with a camera and a gold ring.

A man, apparently the witness to too many spaghetti westerns, was arrested at 10:18 p.m. Thursday for carrying a weapon into the Ebony Club.

The man was armed to the teeth with a loaded ".38 special," 20 rounds of ammo, and a 6½ inch butcher knife.

Sometime between Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. and Thursday at 11 p.m., burglars broke into the home of Bonnie King, 4201 Oak.

According to reports, the burglars made their way into the home by going through the south door. So far, the only evidence that burglars were in the house is the fact that they left the telephone off the hook.

Debbie Bradbury, 622 Cayler reported the theft of her bicycle from under her carport between 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. Thursday.

The bike is worth about $60.

City, county benefit from mixed drink sale

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that mixed drink sales reported for April-June quarter of 1977 totaled $134 million, nearly a 25 per cent increase over the same quarter a year ago.

In Howard County, the total county tax revenue was $1,733.67 with $1,805.33 going to the county; and the total city revenue in Big Spring as $9,313.71 with $1,397.06 going to the city.

In dry Dawson County, the total county tax revenue was $1,733.67 with $260.05 going to the county. In Mitchell County, also dry, the total county revenue was $2,561.22 with $384.18 going to the county. City revenue totals $2,227.69 with $334.15 going to Colorado City.

Martin, Sterling, Borden and Glasscock Counties have no clubs.

Bullock said he mailed checks today totaling $3.9 million to 196 counties and 327 cities as their share of the 10 per cent mixed drink tax collected during the April-June quarter.

The remainder of the tax collected, $9.5 million, stays in the state general revenue fund, the Comptroller said.

Bullock said the 196 counties received a total of $2 million, while the 327 cities received a total $1.9 million.

Harris County received the largest check, $599,383, based on total reported mixed drink sales of $39.9 million. Dallas County reported sales of $24.6 million, Bexar County, $10.3 million, and Tarrant County, $9.9 million.

The mixed drink gross receipts tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Bullock explained that the Comptroller's Office remits to counties and cities 15 per cent of the total tax collected within their boundaries on a quarterly basis. The state keeps the remainder, he said.

Houston crime statistics fib

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Police Chief Harry Caldwell says the city's crime problem is greater than the statistics indicate.

Figures released by the department's records division Thursday showed the rate of serious crime in Houston rose by 12.9 per cent during the first six months of 1977, compared to the same period a year ago.

Every category was on the increase with aggravated assault leading the way, up by 20.1 per cent.

"My own feeling is that there is much more crime than is reported to us," Caldwell said.

The figures showed that during the same period cases cleared increased by 12.4 per cent.

Caldwell said he was proud of the clearing rate because "I couldn't stop crime if I had 50,000 policemen."

The police figures will be later incorporated into the year-end national crime report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Rogers' parents, Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. J.E. Rogers live in San Antonio.

It was reported in Thursday's edition of the Herald that the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce decided to spend $8,750 for an 8-page spread in the Texas Parade using the cities motel occupancy tax.

In actuality, the decision to appropriate funds for the publicity was made by the Tourist Development Council of the City of Big Spring. It also approved in the City Council meeting July 21.

City, county benefit from mixed drink sale

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that mixed drink sales reported for April-June quarter of 1977 totaled $134 million, nearly a 25 per cent increase over the same quarter a year ago.

In Howard County, the total county tax revenue was $1,733.67 with $1,805.33 going to the county; and the total city revenue in Big Spring as $9,313.71 with $1,397.06 going to the city.

In dry Dawson County, the total county tax revenue was $1,733.67 with $260.05 going to the county. In Mitchell County, also dry, the total county revenue was $2,561.22 with $384.18 going to the county. City revenue totals $2,227.69 with $334.15 going to Colorado City.

Martin, Sterling, Borden and Glasscock Counties have no clubs.

Bullock said he mailed checks today totaling $3.9 million to 196 counties and 327 cities as their share of the 10 per cent mixed drink tax collected during the April-June quarter.

The remainder of the tax collected, $9.5 million, stays in the state general revenue fund, the Comptroller said.

Bullock said the 196 counties received a total of $2 million, while the 327 cities received a total $1.9 million.

Harris County received the largest check, $599,383, based on total reported mixed drink sales of $39.9 million. Dallas County reported sales of $24.6 million, Bexar County, $10.3 million, and Tarrant County, $9.9 million.

The mixed drink gross receipts tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Bullock explained that the Comptroller's Office remits to counties and cities 15 per cent of the total tax collected within their boundaries on a quarterly basis. The state keeps the remainder, he said.

Houston crime statistics fib

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Police Chief Harry Caldwell says the city's crime problem is greater than the statistics indicate.

Figures released by the department's records division Thursday showed the rate of serious crime in Houston rose by 12.9 per cent during the first six months of 1977, compared to the same period a year ago.

'Upset' man charged

Shotgun blast kills boy playing football

VERNON, Tex. (AP) — Murder and assault charges were filed on a 23-year-old Vernon man this morning in connection with the shotgun slaying of a 12-year-old boy and the wounding of his 14-year-old companion.

David Daughtry, who police described as being "real upset" over his divorce proceedings, was charged with the murder of Tommy Hall. Young Hall's friend, Kevin Collins, received a minor wound but was treated and released at a local hospital.

Justice of the Peace Ruth Gobin set bond at $100,000 on the murder charge and $50,000 on the assault charge. Daughtry was returned to jail after his arraignment.

Police said the youths were playing football in a residential street about 9 p.m. Thursday when a man armed with a .410 shotgun approached from a nearby house, said something to them and opened fire.

Arriving officers found Daughtry standing in the middle of the street with his hands on his head. A shotgun lay nearby.

Hall was struck in the head. He was first taken to a Vernon hospital but then transferred to a Dallas hospital, where he died early this morning. Collins was hit in the back by a shotgun pellet.

"Right now, we don't have a motive," said Police Chief Wayne Hendricks. "He (Daughtry) had just returned from Oklahoma last night and was real upset. There is a child, his own, involved in that. It looks like he just came back and started drinking, heard the boys playing out front, loaded up his shotgun and went out and shot them."

Hendricks said he was unable to make much sense out of Daughtry's explanation last night because of the man's "unstable condition."

Sunsets today at 4:55 p.m. Sun rises Saturday at 7:00 a.m. Highest temperature this date 108 in 1960. Lowest temperature 56 in 1971. Most precipitation 1.54 in ches in 1916.

While the turbulence still was building up Thursday afternoon, a tornado flicked down into the Houston-Pasadena area. Police said it wrecked a shed but inflicted no other harm.

Many of the thunderstorms grewled through the Panhandle-Plains sector and West Central Texas, spreading on across the state toward the east. There also was light rain mixed with occasional showers from Austin southward to Victoria and Corpus Christi, plus more of the same around Galveston.

Clouds overhead kept the warmer air need the ground and kept thermometers warmer than usual at many points near dawn, when it was still 82 degrees at Galveston and 83 at Del Rio. At the same hour the reading was 68 at Dalhart in the Panhandle.

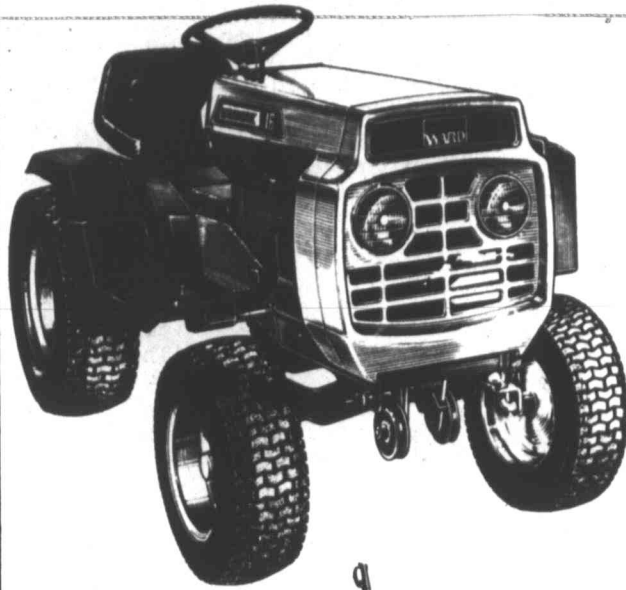

Thursday afternoon's top marks went as high as 101 at Wichita Falls and 102 at Cotulla and Del Rio.

Little change was indicated in the weather pattern. Forecasts called for partly cloudy skies and thunderstorms again dotting most sections of the state.

Curtis Smith on committee

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Curtis Smith of Curtis Implement Co., Big Spring, as an Action Council Member to the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) in San Mateo, Calif. and Washington, D.C.

NFIB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing the needs of small businesses across the country. Founded in 1943, it was designed to promote the concept of free enterprise and to give independent business a greater voice in shaping the laws which govern business and government.

The idea of the Action Council Member was developed by NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson, who felt the need for members to take a more active role in furthering the cause of small and independent business at the grass roots and federal level.

Cheerleaders' camp planned

The Big Spring Varsity Cheerleaders will host a cheerleader camp for all interested girls, grades 5-8.

The camp will be held at the high school physical education gymnasiums starting on Aug. 15 and last through Aug. 20.

Fee for the camp is $10 per person. Individual ribbons, spirit sticks and other awards will be given. Refreshments will be served.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 15 at the high school gym. Classes will last from 9:30-12:30 a.m. daily.

Money raised will go to the varsity cheerleader budget for their activities this year.

"For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." Psalm 91:11.

Many nervous and emotional disorders are the accumulated result of years of self-indulgent living. A lifelong pattern of running away from difficulties, of avoiding incompatible people, of seeking the easy way, of quitting when the going gets rough. Numerous books may be read, many doctors and preachers consulted, innumerable prayers may be offered, and religious commitments made; the patient may be swamped with drugs, advice, costly treatment, and spiritual scourgings; yet none lay bare the real cause: lack of discipline. And the only cure is to become a disciplined person.

The Bible says, "If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small." Days of adversity are bound to come. The weakening will faint by self-induced illness, by blaming others, by resigning, by display of "nerves" — almost any method which presents the possibility of escape. Only by consistent disciplined living can that strength of character be developed which can face adversities without fainting. Our Lord is eager to give you power to overcome.

Thunderbird faced 'his moment'

No one ever knows what he would do in the moment he faces death. Most of would like to think that in the split second of decision we would not flee our comrades in combat or we would swerve our automobiles off a cliff to avoid hitting a child. But we never know.

Capt. Charlie Carter, 38, the narrator for the Air Force's Thunderbird aerial demonstration team, faced just such a moment Monday.

CHARLIE CARTER

plow into a row of camper-trailers parked at the rodeo campground at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Staff Sgt. Ted Foster was able to eject and was not seriously hurt as he landed into the rodeo arena stands.

Carter, however, apparently made a decision too quick for contemplation. He stayed with the plane extra seconds to guide it past the campers where many were sleeping at 6:40 a.m. It crashed instead into the rodeo stock pens of the Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo.

As a result of his decision, only

Carter died in the mishap.

SUCH REACTIONS are what have given American pilots throughout the Air Force the highest of reputations. There is no greater heroism than that of a person who might save himself but instead chooses to save the lives of others.

Carter had survived 352 combat missions in Southeast Asia, and who could suspect that his moment would come at a rodeo in Cheyenne?

He did what all of us hope we would do, though many of us would not.

—J. TOM GRAHAM

Around the rim

I understand there's to be a skateboard park in Big Spring. Coincidentally, the marvelous establishment will be located near enough to my home that the cheery grind of rolling wheels and hashed-up elbows ought to easily reach my ears.

But what I can't understand is why the thing has been so underplayed. It will be a milestone, a first in West Texas history. It will put Big Spring on the map, and from what my contact in the skateboard world tells me, should draw millions of frustrated fanatics.

longer will they roam the streets afoot, hungry for entertainment. Now they can call, cheerily, "Hey, Mom, I'm off to the skatepark!" as they begin each new day.

Just in case you don't really understand what a skatepark is, it's a series of cups, bowls, ditches, grooves, tunnels, and rims, all paved in concrete and ready to be challenged by the plastic devices of a crazy person.

It is supposed to be fun, like roller skating, ice skating, and any other sport where the penalty of being a beginner is pain. You get to fall repeatedly and look awkward while learning, and after that you still get to fall repeatedly, but the awkward part lessens.

DR. MALONE'S plans for the cancer clinic are nothing beside it. The Chamber of Commerce's efforts to provide "meaningful" industry here pale beside the wizardry of this soon-to-come creation.

Think of it! Wide World of Sports here to do the West Texas Downhill Invitational Skateboard Slalom Championships and Pie-Eating Contest. Jim McKay, Dick Young, and Heywood Hale Broun vie for scoop after scoop on the youthful wizards of balance. Lithe young girls alternately swoon at the sight of their heroes' golden locks flowing in the breeze and at the sight of their heroes' mashed lips, knees, and shins from the frequent falls.

What better way to gain the attention of the world than to provide a sports forum unlike anything else for miles?

But think, further, of the educational experience and diversion it will provide for our children. No

IT IS not as noisy as some people think, although it is sure to be just noisy enough to bother the neighbors. I am anticipating a kind of background hum, punctuated by yelps of pain.

Fortunately, the whole thing is also reasonably close to Malone-Hogan where the broken bones can be quickly treated.

So, overall, I think it's really going to be something. There will be an attraction for everyone — something for the whole family. Blood to suit the most ardent sadist, thrills to excite the weak-hearted, and the agony of a sport that takes a long time to learn.

Viva skatepark! May you be both successful and silent. I can hardly wait to be awakened by the whizz of wheels and the crash of cocci on concrete.

Liking, not loving

Evans, Novak

BALTIMORE — The flight from involvement in the great affairs of Jimmy Carter's Washington is in full swing on the white ethnic east side of Baltimore where blue-collar wage-earners give the President a high approval rating but one stripped bare of emotional connection with him.

With Patrick Caddell and three of his top pollsters from Cambridge Survey Research, we sampled reaction to Mr. and Carter's politics in 83 separate households of the 29th Precinct, 26th Ward. The reaction there — so different from recent passions of Vietnam and Watergate, is typified by 56-year-old bartender who voted for Mr. Carter last year and approves of his performance, but adds: "Honest, I can't think of too much he's done."

IN RESPONSE TO "What is the best thing President Carter has done in his first half year?" almost 60 per cent of our 83 voters either said "nothing" or "I don't know." These are the same voters who gave Mr. Carter an approval rating of 63 to 9 favorable (with 11 uncertain).

Just under one-half of the voters could not answer the other side of that question — the "worst" thing Mr. Carter has done.

By their own testimony, 51 of our voters backed Mr. Carter last November, 23 voted for Gerald Ford and 9 did not vote or could not remember. The lack of emotion for or against the President was scarcely different between Carter and Ford voters.

In the absence of any earthshaking issue today, Mr. Carter and his administration might not exist, as far as these voters of East Baltimore care. The President clearly has not yet made a durable impression. While comfortably accepted as President and generally liked, he remains remote and elusive, his policies often puzzling.

Consider human rights, both praised and damned, but little understood. "That's good, because he's sticking up for the U.S.A.," a disabled World War II veteran told us in the living room of his small, attached house on Bonview Avenue. "Yeah," his wife put in, "but you'd better be careful, Mr. President, or you'll make those Russians mad at us."

MR. CARTER'S Soviet policy emerges here as a potential cause for political trouble. By a four-to-one margin, relations with the Soviets were labeled "worse" than under Ford; by a margin better than two-to-one, Mr. Carter was blamed for being "too soft" rather than "too tough" on Moscow; yet, by almost two-to-one (28 voters to 15 voters, balance undecided), Mr. Carter is perceived as conducting a "tougher" policy with the Russians than Ford did.

The high level of confusion over U.S.-Soviet relations was sustained in answers to this question: "Would you favor Carter continuing his human rights campaign even if it damages our relations with the Soviet Union?"

The replies split almost evenly, with 39 voters favoring and 34 opposing continuation (10 having no opinion). Thus, the same voters who see rapid deterioration in U.S.-Soviet relations and who blame Mr. Carter for being "soft" on Russia, split down the middle when asked if Mr. Carter should pursue his policy of human rights, identified as a cause "damaging our relations."

ANOTHER AREA of incipient trouble is the President's Middle East policy. Although 44 voters say he is showing no preference for Israel or the Arabs, 17 see a pro-Israel bias against only 4 perceiving a pro-Arab bias. That probably results from the non-Jewish ethnic nature of the 29th Precinct.

MALONE THE RICHMOND NEWS-LEADER (SAT) PHILADELPHIA

Artery hardening: Just what is it?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a good layman's explanation of arterial hardening? What are the effects on a person's heart? Just how serious is it? —Mrs. B. U.

No matter how much is written on this subject (and there must be enough to fill a good-sized library) the basic question you ask continues to appear. So, while regular readers of this column can probably skip this item, I'll answer your question in as simple language as possible.

As we grow older, the vessels that supply blood to all parts of the body accumulate unwanted matter on their inner walls. We call these plaques. The condition is atherosclerosis, and because the result is narrowed vessels, blood supply is reduced. But since the heart continues to pump at its accustomed rate, another result is increased pressure against the vessel sides (hypertension).

That's one form of hardening. Another form is "arteriosclerosis" (note the difference in spelling). This is part of the aging process in which calcium is deposited within the artery wall. It usually is evident in larger blood vessels. In some it's called "pipestem" arteries because the vessels lose their ability to flex with surging blood and the wall becomes rigid.

Either condition may affect the heart by forcing it to work overtime and harder to overcome the inefficient system of blood vessels.

Everyone will develop some degree of hardening with age. The seriousness depends on the degree and type of hardening and the vessels affected, whether in the legs, heart or those supplying the brain. If they are coronary arteries, then supply to the heart muscle is affected and a heart attack is possible. The plaque-type hardening is considered more serious.

While I dislike to have to repeat information, I do so in such cases as this to allow newer readers to "catch up" with old friends of this column, for whom this is "old hat" stuff.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son's wife allows their five-year-old son to stay up all hours. Sometimes it's midnight before they tuck him in. I say it's not healthy, but who am I? I only raised five of my own. Can you set these "modern parents" straight on the matter? —Mrs. F. K.

I don't relish the idea of stepping into a mother-in-law hassle, but I can give you two views on the matter, which might offer something for both sides. Biologically, it doesn't matter when sleep or rest is obtained. The body requires a certain amount in a 24-hour period, but it's no more valuable at 7 p.m. than at midnight. That's for your daughter and her husband.

You are right if you are considering the more practical aspects of the problem. We are largely an 8-to-5 society and most of us have to adjust to this. When the youngster starts school he could have difficulty getting into a schedule that will leave him bright and alert on school mornings.

Judgment: the child should be tucked in by about 8 p.m. to assure a good night's rest.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When using the diaphragm and contraceptive jelly for birth control when should it be removed after intercourse? What about if one has intercourse a second time? —Mrs. P. M.

The diaphragm should not be removed for six hours, to give the jelly a chance to work. Most tubes of contraceptive jelly have a nozzle so that more can be inserted later on without disturbing the device. The rest of your letter reveals serious misunderstanding about diaphragms. I suggest you find a doctor who will demonstrate just how to insert one correctly. When it is properly positioned, the cervix can be felt in the center of the device.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A while back you had an article concerning the problem of dry eyes. You said this could be relieved sometimes with the use of artificial tears. I would like to give my sister the name of this preparation in hopes it will relieve her problem. —Mrs. A. S. D.

Ask the pharmacist to recommend one of the artificial-tear preparations. No prescription is needed. However, it is more important that your sister see an eye specialist for a diagnosis and recommendation of the drops rather than taking your word (or mine) for it.

Birth control is a highly relevant topic in today's society. Find out what you should know about it in Dr. Thosteson's easy to read booklet, "The Twelve Birth Control Methods." For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Someone told me that keeping things in deep freeze too long is bad for your health. Would you please comment? —K.O.B.

Prolonged freezing — a matter of several months — can cause loss of flavor and consistency of meats or poultry. This would not be injurious to your health, however. If improperly wrapped, foods can become dehydrated in a freezer.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you know of any poisoning from use of aluminum cookware? —C.S.A.

None that I'm aware of.

FOR MRS. E.L.S.: A mole present for 29 years is probably innocent. Nonetheless, a change in color or size of any mole requires attention. A skin specialist or plastic surgeon should see it.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I read your column in which you pointed out that a Christian should not marry a non-Christian. I am a young Christian and want the Lord's will for my life, but it seems that it would be better for me to marry the man I love, even though he is not a Christian, than to marry someone who is a Christian but whom I do not love. —P.C.

DEAR P.C.: I know this may seem to be the best thing for you right now, but I urge you not to do it. God's Word is clear that we are not to be "unequally yoked together with unbelievers" (II Corinthians 6:14). That is not to say that every marriage between a believer and an unbeliever will be completely unhappy, but such a marriage simply cannot be all that God intends marriage to be for His children. There must be spiritual compatibility and an agreement on spiritual goals in a marriage, and that is not possible when we choose to wed an unbeliever.

The important thing, however, is that you are wrong in thinking you only have two choices open to you — marriage to the particular man you are now seeing, or marriage to someone you don't love. Do you honestly think God wants to make you miserable? God is concerned about your future — in fact He is more concerned about it than you are. Trust Him with your life, including your marriage plans! He loves you, and He wants what is best for you. He has commanded that you not marry an unbeliever because He knows that is not best for you. But if it is God's will for you to marry some day, you can be sure He has someone just right for you in the future. Trust Him, and ask Him to give you the patience to wait for the person of His choice.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: We would like to thank all of the wonderful people of the Century Club for the lovely dinner Thursday evening.

We would also like to thank you for your many efforts on behalf of Webb Air Force Base and its people. In 26 years as an Air Force wife I have never met such warm and open-armed people as those in Big Spring. Our tour here will be long remembered and will always have a special place in our hearts.

God bless all of you and may the days ahead be full of the beautiful sunshine that is abundant in Big Spring.

Briscoe tackles Seadock funding

DALLAS (AP) — Seadock, Inc., should know within 60 days whether it will be able to complete its proposed deepwater port for super-tankers in the Gulf of Mexico, according to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

The governor also said Thursday that despite his signing of legislation allowing the Texas Deepwater Port Authority to issue revenue bonds to build an offshore superport, he hopes the project can be accomplished by private interests.

Briscoe said, "They're still trying to put it together. And I will work with them in any way possible."

Seadock, Inc., a consortium of oil companies investing in the proposed port, has acknowledged problems in getting the terminal financed and government regulations.

The comments from Briscoe came at a news conference before he spoke at the annual awards banquet of the Dallas Mexican Chamber of Commerce.

Although he praised the Dallas gathering, he refused to compare it with the Zavala County Development Corp., which he has termed a "little Cuba." That project is a cooperative effort embracing several enterprises.

"There is no comparison," Briscoe said.

Shirley Barnett

has concussion

Mrs. Shirley Shanks Barnett, 21, was rushed to Malone-Hogan Hospital this morning suffering from an apparent concussion after a two vehicle accident on N87 in front of the Big Spring State Hospital.

Mrs. Barnett was headed north on the highway in a small car and was in a collision with a vehicle driven by Jay Hobbs McNew, 78 of Sterling City Route.

Hobbs was crossing the highway from the east side to the crossover on the median. Officers said the Barnett vehicle had several feet of skidmarks where it apparently attempted to stop.

State Trooper Davey Jones was investigating officer.

PRELIMINARY BACCHANALIA — Dancers who will perform during the wine festival at Vevey, Switzerland, go through a rehearsal Wednesday in the town's streets. More than one million spectators are expected to attend the two-week "Fete des Vignerons," which begins Saturday.

Bean hole beans popular

SOUTH PARIS, Maine (AP) — Every summer, Doc Hall cooks beans — not your run-of-the-mill beans, but old-fashioned, Down East, bean hole beans, placed in big cast-iron kettles, buried in sandpits lined with firebricks and cooked underground for at least 24 hours.

"An awful lot of people plan their vacation around it," said Charles "Doc" Hall as he prepared for the annual Bean Hole Bean Festival, which will mark its 24th anniversary Saturday.

"I can't understand it. What the hell are they coming for? A plate of beans."

More than 2,000 people are expected to converge at the nearby Oxford Fairgrounds to sample Hall's beans, now a savory New England institution.

Hall, a South Paris optometrist, and some friends cooked up the idea of a bean festival in 1954 as a way to publicize South Paris, until then distinguished only by its position as the site of a murder.

Now it's known for the aroma of Hall's beans, and people have forgotten "about this other business," he said.

"There's four of us left who started this foolish thing," said the 62-year-old Hall, who has traveled around New England to show folks how to cook bean hole beans. "I'm the one who does the cooking actually. They're the ones who do the work."

For $3, Hall and company provide "a complete feed," including charcoal-broiled hot dogs, brown bread, sauerkraut and beverages.

He is preparing 900 pounds of beans — 500 pounds of kidney beans and 400 pounds of pea beans — enough for 3,000 servings. Handing his recipe to a visitor, he said, "We used to call this foolish thing a secret."

His recipe for 100 pounds of beans calls for one gallon of molasses, two cups of natural salt, 1 1/2 cups of dry mustard, a half-cup of white pepper and 25 pounds of salt pork.

Hall does not use tomatoes, catsup or onions. "That's not a Maine way of cooking," he said. "This come down from the old lumber camps ... and they didn't use those fancy things."

Economic indicators forecasting slowdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's index of leading indicators dropped six tenths of 1 per cent in June, foreshadowing a slowdown in economic activity, the Commerce Department said today.

The decrease in the index was the biggest since a drop of 1.3 per cent in January and followed a decline of two tenths of 1 per cent last month.

This is the first time the index has dropped two months in a row since August and September of 1976. The government index has increased steadily since last May and showed an increase as high as 2 per cent in March, reflecting recovery from the severe winter.

The administration has predicted a slight decline in the economy in the second half of the year after particularly strong activity in the first six months. Government economists still expect the economy to grow at a rate of 5 per cent in the last half of the year.

The biggest contributor to the decline was a drop in sensitive prices of raw materials, meaning less demand from manufacturers, the report said.

Government economists said the decline in the overall index does not necessarily indicate a sharp downturn in the economy since some indicators were up while others were down.

The index, put out monthly, measures the change in 10 fields that particularly influence short-term future economic activity. Also contributing to the decline in June were a higher layoff rate, change in liquid assets, contracts and orders for plants and equipment, the money supply and new orders.

Four of the 10 indicators increased: average work week, vendor performance, stock prices and building permits.

Snake doctor displays good cageside manner

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — There are still some uncrowded, challenging professions in this world.

Snake doctoring is one.

Dr. Jack Shuler, a young St. Augustine veterinarian, moves warily but determinedly into this uncluttered field in conjunction with his mor routine services to the animal kingdom.

One of his snaky ungrateful patients is a deadly, nasty-tempered Eastern diamondback rattler with a sore mouth. Dr. Shuler makes house calls to treat the ailing rattler and other reptiles at the St. Augustine Alligator Farm on Anastasia Island.

First moves include "getting a handle" on the patient, Shuler says. His assistant — and snake doctors must trust their assistants fully — is Ross Allen, world-famous reptile expert and exhibitor. Allen performed for 47 years at Silver Springs and now does his thing daily before wide-eyed spectators at the Alligator Farm.

"I've been handling snakes — the non-poisonous ones — since I was a child and I guess it grows on me," Shuler said.

Here's how a day goes in a snake doctor's life:

Allen brings out his patient, the ailing rattler, in a metal tool chest.

The lid is raised and Allen, unbelievably nearing age 70, zips his hands in and brings out the big rattler. He maintains a firm grip behind the snake's spear-shaped head. Allen's left hand grasps the snake's coiling body as he lifts him clear of the tool box.

Shuler moves quickly with a cotton swab saturated with a red mixture containing iodine. The rattler responds to the pressure of Allen's fingers on the strategic spot on its neck by opening its mouth fully, exposing the curved white fangs capable of squirting a deadly hemotoxic poison that attacks the blood components and muscles of the snake's victims.

Shuler slowly maneuvers the swab around the fangs and paints the deep recesses of the rattler's inflamed throat.

Carefully, and with the ease of many years spent handling deadly snakes, Allen lowers the snake to the table. The snake doctor moves in closer and dabs medicine on an infected area on top of the rattler's head.

Treatment over, Shuler steps back and Allen lifts the patient and puts him slowly back into the metal box.

Target price of wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress agrees to keep the so-called target price of wheat at $2.90 a bushel when it sends the farm bill to President Carter, it will pump more than a billion dollars into this year's sagging farm economy, the Agriculture Department says.

The $2.90 wheat target represents an income supplement level which the Senate and the House have decided growers need to help meet this year. If the cash market price of wheat falls below the target, as is now the case, USDA will make up the difference in cash payments.

Department officials said Thursday the $2.90-a-bushel target will mean payments of around $1.2 billion to wheat farmers in 1977, the most they have received in federal subsidies since the government began price support programs 45 years ago.

According to USDA technicians, the market price of wheat nationally during the first five months of the 1977-78 marketing year, June through October, is expected to be around $2.25 a bushel. This is the price tentatively being used to compute payments.

The payments would be 65 cents a bushel, the difference between $2.25 and the target of $2.90.

Under the program, farmers are paid according to so-called "allotments" for wheat they plant, based on their average yields per acre.

For example, a farmer might have an allotment of 500 acres and an average or normal yield of 30 bushels an acre. Thus, his payments would be based on 15,000 bushels of wheat.

The farmer might have planted and harvested 600 acres with a yield of 32 bushels an acre this year — some 19,200 bushels — but under the program he would get payments based on the 15,000-bushel allotment.

Using this example, it might be possible for the farmer with a 500-acre allotment to get payments totaling $9,750 this year — 15,000 bushels multiplied by a payment of 65 cents a bushel.

The payments, of course, would be in addition to what the farmer receives on the cash market for his crop.

Nationally, approximately 1.9 billion bushels of this year's total estimated wheat crop of more than 2.04 billion bushels are eligible for target-price payments, USDA officials said.

Using the formula of 65 cents a bushel, more than $1.2 billion would be paid late this year to 1977 wheat farmers, the first target price payments since the concept was adopted in the 1973 act which Congress is modifying and extending.

Previously, federal payments went to farmers under different formulas, including subsidies for taking wheat land out of production.

Under the plan seen likely now, corn farmers will not get any 1977 target price payments because the target of $2 a bushel in the House version, as an example, is the same as the $2 provided in 1977 loan rates for corn. Loan rates are the amounts farmers can borrow from USDA by using their crops as collateral.

Yarbrough returns seized TV equipment

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Texas Supreme Court Justice Donald B. Yarbrough, asking newsmen not to "roam over our yard at will," has returned television equipment he seized from a cameraman.

Yarbrough, who took the equipment Wednesday, called newsmen to his home Thursday. He spoke briefly about his seizure of the equipment and his reasons for doing so, returned the equipment but refused to answer questions asked by the newsmen.

A photographer for KHOU-TV went to the Yarbrough home Wednesday following reports the home had been sold and an earnest money contract to buy a home in Austin had been entered by Yarbrough's wife, Julie.

Yarbrough said his wife, accompanied by a neighbor, asked the photographer to leave. Yarbrough said the camera equipment was parked in his driveway and the photographer was "roaming about our yard at will."

"Because I believe it's important that the privacy of our family and our home be protected, I felt like it was important that this particular newsmen's supervisors know and understand my point, which is that we do value our privacy," Yarbrough said.

"We do not want newsmen or media personnel or anybody else for that matter traipsing around our yard at will."

Yarbrough said he asked KHOU-TV "to give us a private letter of apology, together with a written statement assuring us that they will not roam over our yard at will."

Because the station declined to do so, Yarbrough

Beef, pork production up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat production by the nation's federally inspected packing companies last month totaled nearly 3.3 billion pounds, up 5 per cent from 3.1 billion in June 1976.

The Agriculture Department says that all categories of red meat increased in June from a year earlier. Beef output, at almost 2.2 billion pounds, was up 1 per cent, and pork production rose 14 per cent to more than one billion pounds.

Wichita to host wheat producers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Great Plains Wheat, Inc., plans to hold its annual summer meeting next month in Wichita, Kan., to review global supply and demand prospects for wheat in the coming year.

Officials of the organization said Thursday that the meeting is scheduled for Aug. 15-16. It will include participation by Agriculture Department officials, including Assistant Secretaries Dale E. Hathaway and Robert Meyer, and Kansas Gov. Robert F. Bennett.

Cotton outlook appears strong

AUSTIN — The strong outlook for cotton is reflected by Texas certified seed growers in the increased acreage committed to certified cottonseed production this year, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

"Our records show more acres planted to cottonseed production this year than certified seed production of all crops last year," said Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, "and applications for certification are still being received."

Farmers should reserve space

AUSTIN — Faced with the largest grain surpluses in several years, Texas grain farmers are reminded to reserve warehouse storage space prior to next harvest season, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said today.

"With the recent onset of the milo harvest, some problems were encountered in finding storage space because of the oversupply of wheat in warehouses," said Brown. "In addition, with the prospect of more storage under government loan programs, grain storage space will be at a premium."

They call it Lamesa

with Marj Carpenter

The year was 1904. A group of 5 men sat in the home of M. C. Lindsey and attempted to come up with a new name for their settlement. They were going to apply for a post office.

There were a lot of terrible things going on two miles away at the settlement of Chicago. There was an open saloon. There were cowhands bringing in supplies from Big Spring and reselling them.

So this new group started their own settlement. And it needed a name. Finally, everybody put a name in a hat and they drew. A member of the group, other than Lindsey, was Arthur Wasson from Big Spring. He placed the name La Mesa, meaning "the table" or tablelands.

When they drew it out, some of the other 4 were disappointed, but that was the name that was drawn out. They finally talked Wasson into allowing them to "Anglicize" the name and change it to Lamesa.

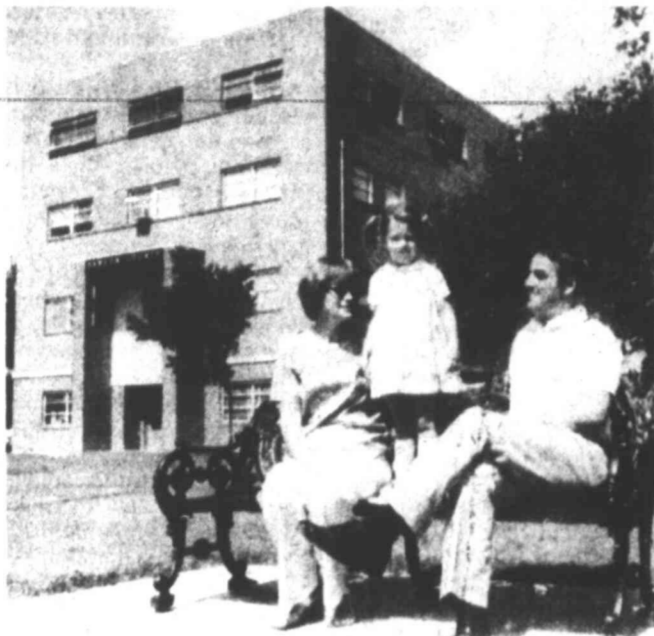

Lamesa it was, and the post office application went off and approved. The following year, in 1905, an election was held to determine the county seat. Lamesa won and within the week, everybody had moved lock, stock and barrel from Chicago and that settlement was gone.

The county of Dawson was officially organized and Lindsey was the first judge. The first sheriff was C. D. Crowley, who served until 1910.

Mrs. Lindsey is still living in Lamesa at the age of 91. She was the former Pommie Smith and is a walking encyclopedia of early Lamesa history.

The city was incorporated on May 25, 1917. The first mayor was J. R. Lowrie, followed by W. M. Norris, Jess Walker, S. E. Cleveland, R. E. Simpson, E. B. Warren, J. R. Lowrie, re-elected; W. L. Marr, Charles Jobe, Sam Richardson, S. T. McCollom, J. W. Bryant, Bob Crowley, and J. D. Dyer Jr.

Lamesa grew rather quickly and in the early days was known for ranching, followed by a period when it

For the past two decades, the county has gradually changed to all cotton. Almost every available acre of ground is in cotton and two out of the past four years, Dawson County has been the largest cotton producing county in the nation.

Lamesa is the county seat and as such has many persons active in national cotton associations, and national ginners associations, and many other related groups.

Its Chamber of Commerce is area oriented and a farmer, Jerry Harris is president. Another farmer, Lloyd Cline is mayor. R. B. Snell is chairman of the board of trustees of the school district. Neal Chastain is superintendent of a fine school system. Leslie Pratt is judge of Dawson County.

The entire area is up and coming, enthused and progressive. They stay right on top of national and statewide legislation that involves them.

They take part in athletic events with a vengeance and win way more than their share. They compete in science fairs and regularly send students to the

But if somebody comes in and makes a dumb bureaucratic ruling that effects the cotton farmer to the cotton ginner, they band together and get loud.

Last year, national television showed them hooping and hollering at a public hearing on gin regulations.

Lamesans may have drawn their name out of a hat to start with, but they're proud of it. If Chicago had survived instead of Lamesa, they might have named their team the Chicago Fires but instead they are called the Golden Tornadoes. That name was suggested by the late Ted McCollom, an early coach.

But whatever caused them to call it Lamesa, the citizens have made it known. They're always there to be counted on what they believe in Lamesa, out where I ride fence.

Mexican shrimp boat seized, captain charged

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — The captain of a Mexican shrimp boat was being held aboard his trawler here late Thursday night after the U.S. Coast Guard seized his boat and arrested him for allegedly fishing without a permit within a restricted zone.

Jose del Carmen Lopez of Tampico, Mexico, was arrested Thursday before U.S. Magistrate William Mallett, who set a $10,000 personal recognizance bond.

Mallett ordered the captain taken back to the Coast Guard docks at Port Isabel, where the 68-foot Adriana was being held.

Maximum penalty for the alleged violation of the federal misdemeanor is one year in prison and a $100,000 fine.

Medicaid funds flowing for elective abortions

NEW YORK (AP) — The ruling of a federal judge here will keep Medicaid funds flowing for elective abortions around the country until at least next Wednesday.

U.S. District Court Judge John Dooling on Thursday ordered the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to continue making Medicaid money available to states. Without his temporary injunction, virtually all elective abortions for Medicaid patients would have ceased immediately because the federal government would have stopped paying for them.

Dooling said he would hear arguments next Wednesday on whether he should issue an injunction ordering the federal payments continued, first on a temporary basis, but possibly on a permanent basis.

The American Civil Liberties Union, the Center for Constitutional Rights, and Planned Parenthood Inc. argued before Dooling that the directive limiting the use of federal funds was vague.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Edward Radofsky, representing the federal government, argued that the congressional order was clear and did not require any guidelines from HEW.

It marked the second time that rulings by Judge Dooling have stopped the cut-off of Medicaid funds for elective abortions.

His order last October barred HEW from enforcing the Hyde Amendment which was attached to a congressional appropriations bill. The amendment, named after its sponsor, Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Ill., provides for Medicaid reimbursements for abortions only when the life of a woman is endangered.

Dooling, citing the Supreme Court landmark abortion ruling of 1973, said in his first ruling that the Hyde Amendment would effectively deny poor women their right to an abortion.

On June 20, the Supreme Court ruled that states have no legal obligations to provide indigent women with assistance for abortions that are not medically necessary. It vacated Dooling's order on June 29 and sent the case back to him, telling him to reconsider it in light of the court's new ruling.

Dooling said Thursday that the cases before him differed from the cases which the U.S. Supreme Court cited in its June 21 ruling.

He said an immediate halt of funds would hit poor women hardest, and "could well endanger the lives of the young poor who are most likely to take unwise actions and seek illegal abortions."

Jurors study police, drug trafficking link

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — Top officials in this South Texas town were to go before a Jim Wells County grand jury today probing alleged links between the Alice Police Department and border drug trafficking.

Among those subpoenaed were Mayor Ren Reid and Police Chief Juan Rodriguez. Reid called for the grand jury probe when former Alice policeman Mauricio Gonzalez was arrested in a San Antonio drug raid July 12.

Two days after the arrest, Reid asked Atty. Gen. John Hill to investigate the matter. Hill suggested that the mayor go before the grand jury.

Two San Antonio police detectives, A.C. Alonzo and Rolando Tafolla were also to appear before the grand jurors today.

Other city officials subpoenaed include City Manager Roel Valdez and Asst. City Mgr. Lupe Garza and the city council members.

Joan Mondale says aid can be given to artists

DALLAS (AP) — Federal jobs programs can aid unemployed singers, dancers, artists and actors in the same manner they aid other unemployed Americans, says Joan Mondale, wife of the vice president.

Mrs. Mondale made the suggestion in a brief news conference here Wednesday before ending a two-day tour of Texas. The news conference was held after Mrs. Mondale toured the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts with director Harry Parker.

Earlier, Mrs. Mondale made appearances at Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

Of her position as unofficial "arts advocate" of the current administration, Mrs. Mondale said, "I hope to put the spotlight on art, to focus attention on the arts."

Mrs. Mondale said that although she says she doesn't believe the federal government is doing enough for the arts, it would help if the government jobs programs could be used to assist unemployed performers and artists. "They can be included in programs for the unemployed just like other persons," she said.

After the tour of the museum, she announced that the Dallas museum will coordinate an exhibition of contemporary art works from the Southwest to be shown next year in the vice president's home in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Mondale said, "This home belongs to the nation, and in its official capacity offers an opportunity for us to spotlight the achievements of these contemporary American artists."

The work of women, black and Spanish-American artists should be included in the exhibit which she said will include various types of art.

Mrs. Mondale and Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, widow of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, toured the Johnson Library at Austin earlier in the day.

Tiny pans hold recipe

Those tiny loaf pans can often be found in the toy departments of dime stores. They measure 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches. A yeast-bread recipe that calls for 3 cups of flour will usually fill about 6 of the small pans.

Showings highlight week in Paris

'Tis the season in Paris when all of the beautiful people come out of hiding to gawk and gaze at the latest fall and winter fashions that have been whipped up by the famous city's designers.

The past week has marked the beginning of the buying time for such fashions as showings upon showings of the many designers who work in Paris have uncovered their creations for the upcoming year.

This season being fashionable will mean looking feminine, as ruffles, frilly hats and soft fabrics dominate the new looks.

FASHION BY LANVIN — This red lame see-through circular tunic over a full skirt by designer Jean-Francois Crabay is for evening wear, as were most of Crabay's creations for the Lanvin autumn-winter collection in Paris.

Bundles of Joy

RAINER, Ore. (AP) — Loretta McKay, 30, welcomed her third set of twins in six years, a boy and girl, at a hospital recently. The new arrivals are Tivon Douglas, 6 pounds, and Trudy May, 5 pounds, 12 ounces. At home were the children of a previous marriage, Trina Marie and Teresa Darlene Higley, who arrived June 5, 1971, and Tonia Sue Douglas, and Troy Lee Higley, who were born Feb. 15, 1974.

New rules aid consumers

COLLEGE STATION — Appliance warranties should be easier to find and understand — because of new federal rules to help consumers, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

Federal Trade Commission rules, developed under the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, went into effect Jan. 1.

They require a company to disclose a number of facts on a product over $15 if a warranty is offered — but the law does not require warranties, the specialist explained.

Among facts a company must disclose are 1) to whom the warranty is extended, 2) what it covers, 3) respective warrantor and consumer responsibilities, and 4) when the warranty begins, if date is other than purchase date.

"More importantly, sellers are bound by law to make warranties available for consumer perusal at point of purchase," Mrs. McCormack noted.

Consumers should look for the warranty in one of the following places: —displayed in close conjunction to the warranted product. —in a binder prominently titled "Warranties" and indexed by product or warrantor (if binder is not evident, signs should indicate its location). —on product package or container.

Teens need boundaries, freedom

COLLEGE STATION — Teenagers need clearly defined boundaries — with some freedom, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Parents have the right, as well as the responsibility, to establish guidelines that might help to reduce their teenager's vulnerability to peer pressures," Miss Taylor says. "Young people want, above all, to be accepted among their own families and friends and, of course, as long as they 'follow the leader,' there is peace at home and with friends.

"But failure to conform or to 'do as we do' subjects the teenager to name-calling, ridicule and outright snubbing, especially by other teens.

"It is here that parental boundaries can save the teenager from hurtling in a foolish or even dangerous direction," she advises.

Meanwhile, teens yearn to escape the confines of home. They need to feel a part of their generation and to show their "belonging" in obvious ways — dress, slang, behavior imitation, and all the "in" ways, the specialist says.

"Youthful 'in' ways may even include noisy disregard for family standards and discipline," Miss Taylor explains.

"Teen pacesetters may demand rejection of parent, teacher, or church value systems.

"War against 'the establishment' is often a reflection of ideals set by the peer group. Recognizing these signs as bids for independence, wise parents give their teenagers freedom but it is necessarily limited. Without some limits, teens face confusion and chaos."

Parental limits — beyond which a teen is not allowed to go — can protect against peer pressures that would otherwise restrict ultimate growth, the specialist says.

'Big is beautiful' says 200-pounder

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP News Features Writer

There's a fat chance the skinny woman's reign is nearing an end, if you'd listen to blonde Stella Jolles Reichman, 5 feet 8 and 200 pounds.

A 1944 graduate of Vassar, 50-ish Stella believes there are more big women in the United States (she measures 48-38-48) than thin ones, and she's determined to get them out of hiding. They'll form a formidable front in the glamor stakes, she vows.

What's more, there already is a trend to bigness, she thinks. Just in the nick of time, too. How much longer could big women take the unrealistic propaganda that skinny is beautiful, asks Stella, author of a new book devoted to larger women, "Great Big Beautiful Doll."

"I've got a barrage of letters to prove it. When I visit various cities, big women of all sizes and all ages often burst into tears when they see me. There is a lot of encouragement for them now. More designers, even Halston, are designing for large women," said Stella before taking off on another lecture tour.

To her large following Stella points out that big women have always had it. "It's just that somewhere along the line they stopped flaunting it. Helen of Troy was 'well rounded,' the Venus de Milo had a 13½-inch thigh, Catherine the Great was 'a huge woman with a double chin,' Madame Recamier was sizeable enough to fill out her specially designed sofa, and buxom Lillian Russell was the toast of the Gay Nineties and Diamond Jim Brady. The Gibson girl 'had plenty fore and aft,' Stella says.

In every age big women have charmed men, says vivacious, size 22½ Stella, who has her own devoted mate, Heinz.

"As a general rule men really prefer big women," she declares. "I've been told they don't even like to take skinny women to restaurants where they must watch them nibble at good food."

Stella takes the other tack. She suggests calorie-laden, mouth-watering food when you ask that man to dinner. Her rich "sumptuous recipes fit for a queen-size romance" include stick-to-the-ribs goulash and a cream onion soup from her family's Viennese kitchen.

She has tried diets "for the sake of research." Three crash diets include: unlimited-high protein (she gained 10 pounds), grapefruit diet (she "got terrible heartburn"), a fast which lasted two days, kept her awake at night, and gave her palpitations and dizzy spells. But she wouldn't want to lose weight, anyway. "I'd lose my husband," she says.

Large women often become discouraged with their appearance and do not do anything for themselves, says Stella, who aims to correct that. She tells them to start the day by pampering their bodies and paying attention to face, teeth, smile.

Cosmetics expert Evelyn Marshall put her on the right track, she said. When she took her makeup course Evelyn told her that she had observed that "large faces are more beautiful, have fewer wrinkles, stay younger-looking longer and need plastic surgery far less."

Dress attractively for breakfast "even if you are alone" is her advice to the overendowed. After all, "if you feel good about yourself, you'll look better."

Some other tips for large women include these: Don't overdo perfume or makeup. No need for false eyelashes if you have good lashes. And do not become shriveled from over-exposure to sun. Large women often have short necks, so keep your hair about the neck uncluttered.

Don't buy anything too tight — belt or pantyhose — or too long or too short. Don't wear too many layers of clothes. Stop hiding your shape under a tent. Wear vertical stripes whenever possible. Wear pants if they look better on you than a dress. Look at your back view and profile.

Large women need more time to shop, so don't rush it, says Stella, who is a consultant to a New York store that specializes in large-size clothes. And "once in a while treat yourself to a sexy negligee or hostess gown."

Needs a Referee, Not Rules for Marriage

DEAR ABBY: Please rush me 10 "Do's and Don'ts" on how to get my husband back. He hasn't actually left me, he's just not here. I am 26 and Jeff is 28, and he hasn't even held my hand since last December!

We have two adorable children. We planned to have four, but if I'm going to have any more, I will have to look into artificial insemination. I've been complaining about this for a long time, but it hasn't done me much good. Jeff says he's "tired." (But he's not too tired to play two hours of tennis every Sunday!)

Then it suddenly hit me. I guess I don't appeal to him anymore. I don't know why. I'm the same girl he chased all over the campus at Boulder, Colorado eight years ago. I haven't let myself go to seed, and I know there's nobody else. I just hate to be the aggressor, but if I wait for Jeff to make the first move, nothing will ever happen. Besides, I have my pride. So please be a pal, Abby, and send me those 10 Do's and Don'ts on how to get my husband back. Thank you.

RUTHIE

DEAR RUTHIE: I wish there were 10 "Do's and Don'ts" on how to revive a marriage. But there aren't. Every marriage is different. (And so is every Jeff!)

Face your problem squarely, and tell it to Jeff. Don't play a waiting game, and forget your pride. He obviously has a problem. It could be physical. Or emotional. In any case he has cooled off far too much for a young man who is still on the sunny side of 30. Get counseling!

DEAR ABBY: I am a directory-assistance operator at a telephone exchange, and I want to speak for myself and other telephone operators who take a lot of guff and abuse from the public.

Our job is to help people find the telephone numbers they need. We are not hired to tell people whether a tomato is a fruit or a vegetable. We are also not allowed to carry on conversations with people who call us to "visit."

Men, we are not a dating service, and we can't give our names or marital status, or describe what we look like just because you like our voices. We do not care to hear about your bodies, and we don't get "turned on" by suggestive language.

We don't have to listen while people call us four-letter names, just because we don't know what street John Smith lives on, or which of the seven ways Mr. Schaeffer spells his name.

Many report us if we don't sound like a recording, but very few commend us if we sound human and interested, and try to be helpful.

YOUR TELEPHONE OPERATOR

DEAR OPERATOR: That's tellin' 'em! And I hope that several million people got your message.

DEAR ABBY: How do you think our young people compare with the generation before them?

INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: Despite all the crime, violence and rebellion that has surfaced today, I have seen more compassion, love and caring and less bigotry, prejudice and selfishness than was evidenced 20 years ago.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

True or False

Could this be your picture? Are you putting on a false face when you get up each morning? Are you pretending that you live surrounded by big, bright balloons? Or, on the other hand, that things are down, down, down? Or, that you were just born unlucky, and at this late date there isn't much you can do about it?

Most of us would have to admit that there is more than a little of the clown in the image we present to others — whether on the high side or the low side. More's the pity. Because we would come across a lot better if we could just be ourselves.

There is a place where you can be yourself, where you can find yourself! No questions asked! The Church. Won't you try it?

Sacred Heart Festival set

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church will hold their summer festival Saturday and Sunday at the church at 508 N. Aylford. On Saturday, tamales will be served starting at 11 a.m. and from 6:30-11 p.m., there will be a Mexican supper served. There will also be booths, games and bingo at the church. Some $1100 in prizes will be given away.

PREPARING FOR EVENT — Women of the Altar Society of Sacred Heart Catholic church are shown preparing for their big summer festival which will be held Saturday and Sunday. Cruz Martinez is president of the altar society.

A queen will be crowned and special attractions will include the Mariaches from Ciudad de los Ninos de Monterrey, Mexico. They are orphans from Monterrey who furnish mariache music. On Sunday, barbecue will be served starting at 11 a.m. Again at night, from 6:30-11 p.m., there will be a Mexican supper, booths, games and bingo. The public is urged to attend the events. Food may be taken to go at noon or eaten at the church. Drop by the church for their big summer fund-raising project.

Salem Baptists slate special revival services

The Rev. Darrel Robinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pasadena, will be guest evangelist for revival services at Salem Baptist Church Aug. 1-7. Music program will be directed by Vaughn Martin, director of music for the Berea Baptist Church of Big Spring. Services will be held at 8 p.m. each day. There will be no morning service. Rev. Robinson is a native of the area and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Robinson reside in Howard County. He is a known leader among pastors throughout the state. The song leader is a retired Air Force colonel. He is a charter member of the Berea Baptist Church and has served as music director there many years. He is also the present owner of the Hobby Center and Frame Gallery.

Latter Day Saints Church stresses month of July

The month of July holds a special emphasis in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, (more commonly known as Mormons) the world over. The first week of the month, they traditionally honor the birth of the nation. In every Branch, Ward, and Stake, members gather in the predawn hours for a pancake breakfast and a flag raising ceremony, in honor of their American Heritage. In Big Spring, it was no exception. Primary children and their parents and grandparents and friends met for a pancake breakfast, and the Cub Scouts of Pack 187 (Danny Bradley, Michael Stansell, and Scott Jones) raised the flag and led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance. Wendy Loveless gave a short talk on "What the 4th of July Means to Me" and my family. The primary children then sang patriotic songs and had a parade in the church parking lot. The girls were dressed in pioneer dresses, and the boys drove miniature covered wagons, or rode decorated bicycles. The last week of July, is celebrated as Pioneer Day. Members of the church gather at various places the world over, to honor their pioneer ancestry. For over a 100 years, these two events have been celebrated. They state that the pioneers they honor, are the ones who gave their lives to establish a freedom to worship as they saw fit. The original Mormons walked across the great plains, pushing handcarts to the Great Salt Lake Valley. Many members sold all their early possessions in the old country, to come to America for the trek. Here in Big Spring, the members gathered in various celebrations. The primary children sang pioneer songs. The mutual group of young people had an old-fashioned hay ride, and ended the evening with a sock hop. A fireside night was held, and members enjoyed a film called "The Three Witnesses."

The week was climaxed with a picnic, and the old American favorites, watermelon and baseball.

Mt. Bethel serves barbecue

Mt. Bethel Baptist Church will serve barbecue Saturday starting at 11 a.m. The barbecue plates are for sale either at the church or to go. The church is located at 603 NW 4th.

Witnesses will attend meeting

Jehovah's Witnesses in the United States are holding 108 conventions this summer. Of these 16 are being held in the Spanish language. Eliseo Gamboa, spokesman for Jehovah's Witnesses in Big Spring, said the local Spanish congregation will send 40 representatives to San Angelo, Texas, July 28-31. The meeting will be held in the San Angelo Coliseum where English-speaking Witnesses gathered two weeks previously. Gamboa said that some 3,500 persons are expected to attend the Spanish language convention. Gamboa added that the delegates will be primarily from West, North and Central Texas. The principal address of the convention will be delivered on Sunday afternoon, July 31, at 2 p.m. by a representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society. The subject will be "How God's Kingdom Can Benefit You." All who understand Spanish are invited to attend.

THE WORD OF GOD

... is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (Heb. 4:12, NASB)

... being manifested that you are a letter of Christ... written not with ink... but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone, but on tablets of human hearts. (2 COR 3:3, NASB)

College Park Church hosts Puppet show slated guest singers at First Pentecostal

The College Park Church of God will host a special singing group for the second night at 7:30 p.m. today. The Binion family has traveled across Texas telling the Gospel in song. O. D. Robertson, pastor, invites the public to come out tonight and hear the gospel singing group from Lewisville. The group of four men and three women will perform again tonight at 603 Tulane. They concentrate on old-fashioned gospel singing.

Youth meeting now in progress Bible School held this week

GLORIETA, N.M. — Leadership Roles for Youth will be one of the special emphasis during the Church Training Leadership Conference, July 30-August 5, at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center. This section of the conference is for youth who have completed grades 7 and above. It is designed especially to help them to creatively use Church Training curriculum and other resources. Leading special youth celebrations during the week will be Steve Ceelig, Willowmeadows Baptist Church, Houston, Tex., and George Gagliardi, artist-in-residence at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Berea Baptist choral scheduled

The Living Witness Choral of Second Baptist Church of Jacinto City, near Houston will appear at the Berea Baptist Church here Monday night. The singing group, made up of 26 enthusiastic young people, will appear at 8 p.m. D.R. Phillee, pastor, invites the public to attend the gospel singing program. The church is located at 4204 Wason Road.

Holy Lands tours slated

Phillip W. McClendon, pastor at Hillcrest Baptist Church will serve as sponsor of the tour to the Holy Lands right after Christmas. Anyone interested in making the trip should call him at 263-8309 to hear details. The tour will include the Sea of Galilee, Bethlehem, Nazareth, Calvary, Mount Olive and other locations. Outstanding seminary professors will lead the on-site Bible studies and services. The 11th annual Bible Land Seminar is conducted by Dr. Wayne Dehoney, past president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

RANDY DANDY AND FRIEND

College Park Church hosts Puppet show slated guest singers at First Pentecostal

"Something exciting will be happening at the First Pentecostal Church, 1010 West Fourth at 7:30 p.m. tonight," according to Pastor M.J. Mullins. Ventriloquist, Miss Judy Wasmundt from Stockton, California, with her ventriloquial friends and puppets will be presenting the gospel in an interesting way to children of all ages. Miss Wasmundt, who is a member of the North American Association for ventriloquists, has been performing for the last five years. More recently, she has toured the United States and parts of Canada with her favorite friend, Randy Dandy. Randy Dandy is a delightful, mischievous, red-headed, freckle-faced dummy who wiggles his ears, winks, blinks, raises his hair, shakes hands, raises his eyebrows, talks from a suitcase and even spits! Miss Wasmundt has been performing for YMCAs, public schools, hospitals, churches, church camps, conventions and other civic organizations. Although she enjoys performing for all of these activities, she claims that her main interest is in "telling the good news that Jesus does love you!" The public is cordially invited to attend.

Police nab 61 demonstrators

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Sixty-one persons protesting planned construction near the Kent State University hill near which four students were killed in a 1970 antiwar demonstration were arrested early today as they tried to reoccupy the site.

Within hours of the arrests, construction equipment was moved into the fenced-in construction site, and a bulldozer began preparing the site on Blanket Hill.

About 15 onlookers gathered at the site but offered no resistance to the construction work.

The demonstrators, defying a court order, had set up tents and a shrine to the four dead late Thursday, but the encampment lasted less than four hours as unarmed campus police began dragging the passively resisting protesters, linked arm in arm, to two waiting university buses.

About 100 supporters outside a chain link fence watched the end of the brief occupation as Portage County sheriff's deputies with night-sticks stood guard.

The scene was a nighttime version of the July 12 arrest of 193 demonstrators, many of whom had camped on the hill for 62 days, seeking relocation of a $6 million gymnasium annex, which would overlook the scene of the 1970 shootings. On Monday, Portage County Common Pleas Judge Joseph Kainrad gave the go-ahead for construction work.

Alan Canfora, one of nine students wounded in 1970, remained outside the fence. "This is to prove the courts and to everybody else that our struggle is continuing and we want everyone to know this not a last ditch effort," he said.

As the first bus left a nearby parking lot, supporters attempted to block its path. Several were knocked to the ground, but none appeared injured.

Portage County Sheriff Allen McKittrick said those arrested would be charged with criminal trespass. Bond on first offenders was placed at $500 cash, but bail for those arrested a second time was $1,000.

Members of the May 4th Coalition, which wants the annex built elsewhere, had voted 79-20 late Thursday to disregard the judge's order to stay off the construction site.

"WE SHALL OVERCOME" — A group of demonstrators gather around a fence after some of them, right, jumped over it to re-occupied the Blanket Hill on Kent State University campus early today. Defying a court order, demonstrators set up tents on the campus in an attempt to block a planned construction of a gymnasium annex near the area where four students were slain by Ohio National Guardsmen during May 4, 1970, antiwar demonstrations.

Tip leads narc agents to marijuana patch

DALLAS (AP) — It took an informant's tip Thursday to lead Dallas-area narcotics agents to a marijuana patch they flew over every day.

Dallas narcotics agent David Hawkins said the tipster told officers to go to a farmhouse in suburban Sunnyvale. The investigators went to the scene — one mile from the regional Department of Public Safety headquarters — Thursday afternoon but didn't see anything suspicious.

Hawkins and DPS narcotics agent David Dimick then resorted to aerial reconnaissance. Using a helicopter, the agents traveled the same flight path they use every day. From the air they were able to spot what looked like a marijuana crop growing amidst dog pens and chained fighting dogs.

"Our helicopter flew over it every day," Dimick said. The agent said he was somewhat glad they could not see the 90-pound marijuana crop, which had some stalks growing up to seven feet.

"It would have been hard to walk that yard at night without getting bitten. There were 20 or more dogs chained and in pens and hundreds of puppies," he said.

Major quake socks Solomon Islands

By the Associated Press

A major earthquake struck the Solomon Islands in the Pacific Ocean early today, the National Earthquake Information Service at Boulder, Colo., reported. There were no early reports of casualties or damage.

The quake occurred at 7:16 a.m. EDT and registered 7.3 on the Richter scale, spokesman Waverly Person said.

He said the quake was centered off the south coast of Bougainville in the Solomons and about 360 miles to the northwest of Guadalcanal, where two major earthquakes on April 20-21 killed 12 persons and caused considerable damage in the Honiara area.

Therefore, a quake which measures 6.5 is 10 times stronger than one which measures 5.5.

An earthquake of 6 on the Richter scale can cause severe damage in the local area. A 7 reading is a "major" earthquake, capable of widespread heavy damage; 8 is a "great" quake, capable of tremendous damage.

The 1906 quake which devastated San Francisco has been estimated at 7.9 on the Richter scale.

Rumors and running backs

I'll be glad when Big Spring Athletic Director Don Robbins returns from coaching school in Dallas to confirm or deny all these rumors that I keep hearing.

Funny thing about rumors. They always flourish when the only person to confirm or deny them is out of town. Some of these may hold water however. Just to whet your appetite, they center around 1) new basketball coach has been named... someone you are familiar with; 2) a new trainer has been hired and 3) Bobby Zellars has given up sunflower seeds.

I'll let you know what is truth and what is fiction as soon as possible.

What job has a worse future than a civilian Air Force jet cleaner in Big Spring? How about a rookie running back for the Dallas Cowboys... if you aren't Tony Dorsett, that is.

There are 12 running backs in the Dallas training camp at Thousand Oaks right now. You can bet your Cowboy t-shirt, Baum, that only six will be wearing the royal and metallic blue and white.

Currently there are seven veterans and five rookies trying out. The vets are Robert Newhouse, Preston Pearson, Doug Dennison, Scott Laidlaw, Charley Young, John Smith and Jim Jensen. Rookies are Tony (Who?) Dorsett, Secedrick McIntyre, Abel Joe, Larry Brinson and Fred Williams. Who will make it? Dorsett wrote his own ticket, so you know he's going to hang around. Then there's Robert Newhouse, Doug Dennison and Scott Laidlaw. They are good and the Cowboys won't take a chance of losing them.

On, what the heck, let's say Preston Pearson too, even though he was rather listless last season. That leaves one spot to fill right? Six take away five... yeah.

Mark off the other four rookies and John Smith. They really don't have a chance. So that leaves Charley Young and Jim Jensen. Someone has to get cut.

Let's look at the book. In 1976, Dennison rushed for 542 yards on 153 carries. Newhouse had 450 in 116, Laidlaw was good for 424 on 94 attempts, Pearson had 208 on 48 and Young made 208 on 48 carries. Where's Jensen?

He was running back kickoffs, and doing a fine job of it too. He only carried the ball on 13 returns but picked up 313 yards for a 24.1 average. Butch Johnson, the number one return man for the Pokes last year, carried the ball more than twice that number (28) and had a 24.8 average.

Jensen is a better athlete in this fan's opinion. Say goodbye Charley Young.

Which state supplies the NFL with the most players? The record shows that Texas leads all states with 177. California is second with 125, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Florida follow with 80, 70 and 49 respectively. That is based on last year's rosters, of course.

TOUCHDOWN NORTH — Don Earl, representing the North in the Texas High School Coaches Association game in Dallas Thursday, goes for short yardage and a touchdown in first quarter. Coming in for tackle after score was made is South's Bert Vasut of La Grange. Earl is from Stamford.

North, South stars play to 20-20 knot

DALLAS (AP) — Mike Mosley, the most valuable player in the Texas schoolboy All-Star football game, won't need his kicking shoe at Texas A&M, where barefoot Tony Franklin holds forth—but mercy, could he have used it Thursday night.

The South flubbed two extra point attempts off the toe of Mario Garza and the North escaped with a 20-20 tie before a paltry 11,848 fans in the Cotton Bowl.

Mosley of Humble, an all-stater and one of the most sought after bluechippers in the country, kicked 61 of 65 extra points in high school.

"I just forgot my kicking shoe and left it in Humble," said Mosley, who hadn't been informed he would be doing any kicking anyway.

Mosley also wasn't informed he was going to play Bobick TKO's Le Doux in 8

Heavyweight Duane Bobick scored an 8th round TKO Thursday night against his opponent Scott Le Doux.

The fight was the first for Bobick since his loss to Ken Norton and the death of his brother Rodney.

hback more than his normal quarterback position. Again, it was a matter of being a "foot" or inches short when he was knocked just out of bounds late in the fourth quarter shy of the goal.

The North held but Mosley claimed he scored on the play.

"I definitely thought I got in," said Mosley. "I brushed the flag with my hip before I was knocked out of bounds."

It was the first tie in the all-star game since 1955 but the contest was replete with big plays.

North linebacker Doug Carr of Gainesville tackled Allen Polk of Huntsville on fourth and one at the South goal late in the fourth period to keep the score tied.

Actually, the North had extra point problems of its own.

Mel Maxfield of Gorman fumbled an extra point snap after Tim Orr of Abilene Cooper had tied things 20-20 on a one-yard scoring plunge.

The first half ended tied like the game, 14-14. Mosley dashed three yards for a South touchdown and Don Earl of Stamford retaliated with a three-yard scoring run for the North.

Hard-running Allen Polk of Huntsville, the leading rusher with 85 yards, tallied on a seven-yard run for the South. Then quarterback Ricky Ethridge of Port Neches-Groves nailed Mark Harsellson of San Antonio Churchill with the two-point conversion.

The North scratched back on San Angelo Central Bill Woodard's two-yard run.

The South appeared to take charge in the third quarter when Bobby Shaffer of Orange Grove romped 12-yard for a touchdown.

Hiehl takes lead in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Terry Diehl has the first-round lead in the $200,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic, a secret notebook that helped him get there and no intention of revealing his methods.

The notebook contains the wit and wisdom of Ken Venturi, a former U.S. Open champion and now a television commentator.

"He's a tremendous guy, and he's made a world of difference in my game," Diehl said after his six-under-par 65 gave him a one-stroke edge in Thursday's opening round of the chase for a $40,000 first prize.

"I'm a much better overall player" since working with Venturi, said Diehl, "but he made me vow not to tell anyone" precisely the nature of the help.

"I think he's been plagiarized a couple of times," Diehl said. "If you want to know what it's all about, ask Venturi."

The instructions, however, are scribbled in the little notebook the 27-year-old Diehl studies from time to time.

"I worked with him several days down in Florida," said Diehl, whose only victory came in his rookie season of 1974. "The first day, I made notes of 55 items. The second day 27. The third, about a dozen. I kept adding to it."

Diehl, who lost a playoff for this title a year ago, said he sought help from Venturi early this season. "My career was in a valley," he explained.

Since then, he said, "I haven't missed a cut since Doral (in March) and that's pretty good for me. I've played very steadily, very solidly."

'Bum' will keep best

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Houston Oilers Head Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips says he is going to keep the "best 60 players," regardless of position, after upcoming cuts.

"I am not going to keep them by position — just what I feel is the best 60 players," he said Thursday at the Oilers' training camp here.

Defensive end Elvin Bethea, involved in a contract dispute with the club, did not report for practice for the fifth straight day. He reportedly is being fined $500 each day he fails to report.

Rangers win 6th in a row

TORONTO (AP) — Veteran pitcher Gaylord Perry met the expansion Toronto Blue Jays for the first time and proved that experience will beat youth nine times out of nine.

Innings, that is. Perry, accused frequently of doctoring the baseball during his 15-year major league career, pitched out of a number jams and scattered 11 hits to shut out the Blue Jays 3-0 Thursday night.

The loss went to Jerry Garvin, 7-11, who allowed four hits but ended up losing his eighth game in a row. Garvin has not won a game since June 5, when he beat Oakland 7-3.

It was the seventh loss in a row for the Blue Jays, their longest winless streak of the season. The Texas victory was their sixth in a row—equaling the club's season high, including a 14-0 bombing of the Blue Jays on Tuesday night. The Rangers scored a run in the first on Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly and added two in the ninth on Harrah's single, a triple by Kurt Bevacqua and Jim Sundberg's squeeze bunt.

Perry, a 38-year-old North Carolina native whose record now stands at 9-8, had help from the Blue Jays in some of the tight situations en route to his fourth shutout of the season.

In the first and second innings, the Blue Jays had their leadoff men on first, but both were thrown out stealing by catcher Sundberg. In the first, Texas Manager Billy Hunter ordered a pinchout with Steve Staggs on first and Bob Bailor up.

"I called it," Hunter said. "It was a good time to make things happen (in the hit-and-run play), so I thought I'd call a pinchout. Bailor likes to do that."

In the seventh inning, the Jays missed a chance at tying the game when Al Woods led off with a single and, after Perry struck out Sam Ewing and Hector Torres, Woods was thrown out trying to reach third on a single by Alan Ashby.

"A player should know

Landry praises McIntyre

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Although there's a Heisman Trophy winner in the Dallas Cowboys stable of rookie running backs, a free agent from Auburn has drawn special praise from head coach Tom Landry.

Speaking of rookie Secedrick McIntyre, Landry said, "He's the best looking running back among the rookies right now. He doesn't always hit the right hole yet, but he is looking good."

Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett worked out in both sessions Thursday but was held out of contact drills. Landry also hinted that Dorsett, who suffered a bruised knee earlier in training camp, may miss Saturday's annual intrasquad scrimmage because of the injury.

The Cowboys spent much of Thursday's workouts on goal line situations for both the offensive and defensive units.

Robert Newhouse, John Smith, Preston Pearson and Roger Staubach each scored once and Jim Jimsen scored twice before the defense stiffened and threw back attempt after attempt from near the goal line. The next score came later when rookie quarterback Glenn Carano scored on a keeper.

what inning it is, what the score is, where the defense is positioned and, most of all, where the ball is hit at all times," said Blue Jays Manager Roy Hartsfield of Woods' baserunning.

"You do not go to third base after weighing all those factors unless you are sure you can make it or unless you're drawing a throw to allow an important run to score."

Hartsfield was most upset with his hitters.

Local MSAers lose

Both Big Spring teams participating in the Miss Softball America tournament here fared badly Thursday night in their opening round contests.

The Mini-Minor contest with Odessa was called because of the 15-run rule, and the locals took a 25-10 loss. The Big Spring Minors out-hit Midland 6-2, but fell short in the score category, 9-8. Ten errors and 8 walks by Big Spring spelled the difference.

In the Minor League game, the winning pitcher was Nancy Jordan, and Big Spring's Kim Madry took the loss. Kim Jones belted a two-run double for the locals, Connie Winchester had a two-bagger and Tracy Sparks RBled in a single.

Big Spring was behind 9-4 in the last frame and rallied for 4 quick runs before running out of outs.

Both local teams will again be in action tonight at 6:30 and 8:30 against both Sweetwater teams. The Minors still have a chance at the crown as that journey is double elimination.

Reggie can't laugh his way to bank

NEWS ITEM: REGGIE JAX IN HASSLE WITH KID
The pressure is getting to Reggie Jackson, the pressure of being rich, of being the establishment. It's like the story of the guy who told his wife to taste a shot of straight booze, and when she did, reluctantly, and made a terrible face, he said, see, and you thought I was having a good time.

See, he thought coming to New York and making all that money would be a pleasure. Now he realizes, there's a lot more to it than just swinging a bat or chasing a fly like the other players. When the fans know you're making a couple of million they demand perfection. Not now and then, but every day. The guy who pays $4 to go to the game on Saturday doesn't care that Reggie Jackson hit a home run on Friday. He wants a home run for the ticket he bought, and if he doesn't get it, he boos Reggie Jackson. That goes for catching a fly, and hustling. Perfection, nothing less. Every day.

And that goes for off-field abuse. That's part of the $2.4 million, too. It doesn't make any sense that a man should have to listen to a lot of profanity, but neither does being paid $2.4 million to play a few years of baseball make much sense. Both are reality, and one goes with the other, so if Reggie takes one, he must take both. You can't punch out everybody who calls you a vile name.

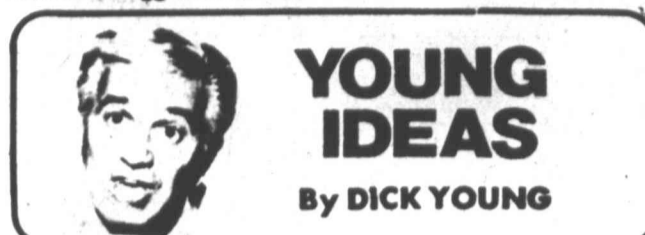

Reggie really was lucky this time, lucky someone intervened before he struck the kid he was chasing. What is unfair is that Jackson tried to be a nice guy by asking the cops on duty to let the kids into the walled parking area so that he could sign their autographs. He'd have been better off if he'd been a louse, like so many others, and told them to get lost.

"We're not going to issue any order to discontinue autograph signing," says Gabe Paul, Yankee president. That's fine, but he can't make the players sign, either, and human nature being what it is, the wide-eyed kids who hang around, asking their heroes to sign, will be the losers now.

NEWS ITEM: GARDEN GETS ALI-SHAVERS BOUT
It is set for Sept. 29 — maybe. Nothing is all that simple any longer. Bob Arum is banging around State Supreme Court, insisting it's his fight, not Madison Square Garden's. There is a decision due Monday on a motion by the Garden, restraining Arum from interfering with the fight's promotion.

Arum, lawyer-promoter who heads Top Rank, says he has offered the Garden $1-million cash, plus the right to stage the fight in the Garden, if they will acknowledge his promotional contract with Shavers. The Garden says it has offered Arum $10,000 to withdraw. Arum says his offer to them is bigger and better.

YOUNG IDEAS

By DICK YOUNG

"Everything still is negotiable," says Arum, claiming he could settle the matter in a moment with Mickey McCauley, Garden veep, if Mike Burke would keep his nose out of it. Burke's nose, appended to the rest of the president of Madison Square Garden, has vested stature, and Burke wants no part of Arum.

Beneath it all is your basic TV network struggle. Arum has promised the fight to CBS, if he gets it. The Garden has a commitment to put Ali-Shavers on NBC. ABC isn't in this squabble. It has Norton-Young, via Don King, the co-conspirators of the U.S. Boxing Championship Tournament, deceased.

I do hope Arum and the Garden, and CBS and NBC agree this thing straightened out, because Ali-Shavers will be an interesting boxing match, at least a refreshing match, not a replay.

Earnie Shavers have a punch like a mule and a chin like the Hall of Mirrors. He gets over his dynamite punch more often than his tin chin catches one as witness the stats: 54 wins, 52 by kayo. Five defeats, three by kayo. (Also one fractured Shavers jaw while training for a bout.)

I would love to see Shavers pop Ali flush on the button, because I think it would prove, once and for all, Ali's immense ability to take a punch. That is the most underrated part of Ali's repertoire of talents. I'm quite sure, even at age 35, that Ali would take Shavers' best shot, tie him up, wink over Earnie's shoulder to ringsiders, letting them know he was unhurt and proceed to punch out his opponent.

NEWS ITEM: BAD NEWS BEARS' SEQUEL

It's called "The Bad News Bears in Breaking Training," and the charm of the movie is that your Little League kids can identify so readily with the characters and plot.

First of all, the kids rip off a van in order to drive from southern Cal to Houston. Having fired their coach because they don't care for his discipline (realistic big-league touch), the kids are driven halfway across the nation by their 13-year-old spiritual leader, who looks much older because he smokes cigars, and reads Playboy Magazine.

The reason they're going to Houston is to play the champs of Texas in the Astrodome, with the winner promised a trip to Japan for the World Series of juvenile baseball.

After much tribulation, the Astrodome game comes off, as a preliminary to a regular big-league game there — with a full house roaring and the Dome's scoreboard doing its exploding specialty when home runs are hit. Midst the fireworks, Tanner Boyle, the precociously profane shortstop, slams down his glove and asks if this is a ballgame or the damn 4th of July.

I'm not going to tell you who wins, but a big play in the game is the old hidden ball trick, effective but slightly illegal inasmuch as the pitcher is seen taking his stretch on the rubber without the ball.

No matter. The entire thing is almost as charming as the original film, and I can hardly wait till the kids go to Tokyo in Bad News Bears III, and visit a geisha house, and other places, with Sadahura, Oh.

Randle fined $1,000

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — New York Mets infielder Lenny Randle was fined $1,000 and given a stern lecture Thursday for a slugging and kicking assault on Manager Frank Lucchesi when both were with the Texas Rangers.

"If you prefer to engage in actions like this," Circuit Judge Maurice M. Paul told Randle, "you should change to the profession of boxing where your opponent is prepared to defend himself."

Under an agreement worked out 10 days ago, the prosecution reduced the charge from a felony to a misdemeanor and Randle pleaded no contest. The judge then found him guilty.

Randle was ordered to make sure that all Lucchesi's medical expenses were paid.

"All I want to do," Randle said later, "is concentrate on baseball."

The attack on Lucchesi occurred March 28.

Randle, unhappy about losing his starting job at second base to rookie Bump Wills, approached Lucchesi prior to an exhibition game in Orlando against the Minnesota Twins.

Randle suddenly began punching Lucchesi, knocked him to the ground and kicking him.

Lucchesi, who was later fired as the Rangers' manager and now works in the team's scouting office, was rushed to a hospital where he remained for a week.

The American League fined Randle $10,000 after the incident, suspended him for a month and later waived him out of the league.

He ultimately signed a five-year contract with the Mets where he has been a regular at second and third base. He was batting .312 at midweek.

Get out the beer 'n pretzels Mabel!

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Richard Todd replaces his boyhood hero this season as the New York Jets try to climb back into National Football League contention.

"Joe Namath always had been my idol since the eighth grade," said Todd, who takes his first step as full-time successor to Namath hall's immortals to 93.

"I'm no Namath," said Todd. "Joe is the greatest quarterback that ever played the game. I've got to do it my own way."

Todd alternated with Namath in the Jets' 3-11 season last year. Namath, who became a free agent, signed with the Los Angeles Rams in the off-season.

Cubs outslug Reds, 16-15

By the Associated Press
The game was a strange one, in many ways, for the Chicago Cubs.

Rick Reuschel, normally a starter, came on in relief and beat Cincinnati 16-15 Thursday. He pitched just two-thirds of an inning and scored the winning run in the bottom of the 13th inning. It was his second victory over the Reds in their fourgame series and his 10th without a loss at Wrigley Field.

The game marked the return to duty after 12 days of reliever Bruce Sutter, who pitched three innings, didn't allow a hit and struck out six.

The Cubs collected 24 hits, against six Cincinnati pitchers, and there were a total of 11 home runs, tying a major league record, in the game which lasted 4 hours, 50 minutes.

Chicago used 21 players, the Reds 16, and three Cubs changed positions four times. Outfielder Bobby Murcer even played shortstop and second for a while when the Cubs ran out of infielders in the late innings.

Dave Rosello, shifting between second and shortstop, depending on whether a lefty or righty was batting, drove in the winning run. That made up for an error that had given the Reds a 15-14 lead in the top of the 12th.

Reuschel, 15-3, who threw a five-hitter to beat the Reds 3-0 Tuesday, said: "I'm not tired. I got pumped up so quick, the adrenaline was really flowing. I'm just trying to get down now."

The Cubs hit six homers, two in the first inning, and the Reds smacked five, three in the first inning. The five homers in one inning by both teams also tied a major league record.

In other NL games, Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 2-1, Montreal downed San Diego 5-4, Pittsburgh beat Houston 9-4 and St. Louis blanked Atlanta 3-0.

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Rockets have announced they will play home exhibition games with the National Basketball Association finalist Philadelphia 76ers and the San Antonio Spurs.

The Rockets and the 76ers will open exhibition play Sept. 28 at the Summit and the Spurs will be in Houston Oct. 6.

The Rockets will also play road exhibition games Oct. 1 in San Antonio, Oct. 4 against Kansas City in Salt Lake City and Oct. 14 against Washington in Philadelphia.

Atkinson to remain aggressive

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — George Atkinson, who says he's aggressive but not criminal, doesn't plan to change his style of play just because he lost his slander suit against Chuck Noll and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"I'll go on being an aggressive player, the type of player I've always been," the veteran defensive back says. "That's how I've lasted 10 years in this league, by being aggressive."

Atkinson was the loser in the two-week trial of his $2 million slander suit when a federal court jury returned a verdict for the Steelers and Noll, their coach since 1969.

Atkinson filed suit after Noll linked him to a "criminal element" in professional football and said Atkinson tried to maim

Steelers receiver Lynn Swann when he clobbered him with a forearm during an Oakland-Pittsburgh game last September.

After the trial, Steelers attorney James Martin MacInnis said the verdict might give Atkinson "an indication of how he should play. It may in the end make him a better and more glorious player."

"I don't think the court case had anything to do with making me a better player," Atkinson said at the Raiders training camp here.

Disabled athlete serious

STOKE MANDEVILLE, England (AP) — Mikel Strole's brown eyes danced with laughter as she sat in her wheelchair and clutched two gold medals.

"I have only taken up sport seriously in the last two years," said the 26-year-old disabled secretary from

Commerce City, Colo. "It has made me realize how totally in the dark I used to be, how much I was confined to my own little corner."

Mikel is the captain of the United States women's team in the current World Paraplegic Games at Stoke Mandeville. A polio victim at age eight months, she has never been able to walk.

She picked up gold medals in the shot put and javelin throw this week and has a chance of more medals in the track events today.

"Do you know how this started?" she asked, as if it was one big joke. "It started with square dancing."

"Can you imagine someone like me square dancing? I went along with some friends to watch, and they asked if I wanted to join in, in my wheelchair."

From wheelchair square dancing she graduated to wheelchair athletics.

"Before that, all I attempted was tennis," she said. "I used to stand at one end of the court leaning on a crutch and try to hit the ball."

Miss Strole works for an insurance company in Aurora, Colo. Every evening, when her work is done, she propels her wheelchair to a nearby athletic field and practices sports until it is dark.

"It's strange what sports participation can do for you," she said. "It makes you feel that you're just the same as everybody else. Life opens up like you never dreamed."

Mikel's parents brought her up with no emphasis on her disability. She went to a public school with 1,000 other pupils and was the only disabled child.

"That was how it should be," she said. "I never thought of myself as different. But in these last two years I have realized what I have been missing."

And off she went, pushing herself along, laughing and waving to other girls on the American team.

HARD WORK — Mikel Strole, a 26-year-old secretary from Commerce City, Colo., grips the shot during a warmup recently at Stoke Mandeville, England, for the World Paraplegic Games. Mikel, captain of the U.S. women's team has won gold medals in the shot put and javelin throw. A polio victim at age eight months, she has never been able to walk.

Viva Valdez! Gush of black gold arrives

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP) — Sirens wailed, firecrackers snapped, horns honked, cheers erupted in bars. All celebrated the first gush of Alaska's black bounty of crude oil from the end of the trans-Alaska pipeline. A journey of 38½ days — and a struggle of nine years — ended with arrival of oil from above the Arctic Circle at the line's southern terminus here. The North Slope crude officially ended its pipe journey at 11:02 p.m. Alaskan time (4:02 a.m. EDT).

Like the proud father of a newborn child, Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. President William Darch, contacted at his Anchorage home, bragged about the 800-mile, $7.7 billion pipeline. It also ended a turbulent period of energy history in which the forces of development clashed with conservationists in a struggle over the rich Prudhoe Bay oil fields — the nation's largest pool of oil, discovered in 1968. The crude will be the first shipments from what is estimated to be a nine billion barrel field at Prudhoe Bay along the Arctic Ocean. In the pipeline's present configuration, Alyeska hopes to deliver 800,000 barrels a day to Valdez.

Major and minor shut-downs added 14 days to the time it took to move the heated oil from fields north of the Arctic Circle to Valdez, an ice-free port. Pump Station No. 8 southeast of Fairbanks was destroyed in an explosion, the line suffered its first sabotage attempt and one mishap spewed 42,000 gallons of oil onto the tundra. Construction began in 1974 only after years of haggling with environmentalists over the necessity and desirability of the project. But Alyeska notes with pride that it is meeting its 3-year-old, self-imposed Aug. 1 deadline for completion of the line and movement of the oil.

"It even took dynamite and shrunned it off!" enthused Darch, referring to a sabotage attempt detected earlier this week. Oil flowed immediately into storage tanks at the $1 billion oil handling facility. An Atlantic Richfield supertanker, the 120,000-ton ARCO Juneau, will take oil to the west coast after several days. The journey of 38 days, 12 hours and 56 minutes ended a trouble-plagued maiden run

House begins working on Carter's program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives is starting work on President Carter's energy program, which is arriving on the House floor essentially as he outlined it in his April 20 energy message to Congress.

The House Rules Committee cleared the bill for floor debate Thursday night under guidelines which could mean numerous floor fights on amendments challenging the administration package.

The House begins a week of scheduled debate on the legislation today. The House leadership intends to continue debate throughout next week, with the aim of sending the bill to the Senate by next Friday.

Major provisions of the legislation include a tax on cars which use fuel inefficiently, a credit for weathering homes, a tax on crude oil to force conservation, continued federal price controls on natural gas, but at a higher level than is now the case, and a major overhaul of electric utility rates.

In addition, a special House energy committee, which reviewed the legislation but had no authority to change work done by other panels, recommended a doubling of the current four-cent federal gasoline tax. Republicans, charging that Democrats ignored their views while the legislation was being drafted, are planning to seek approval for their own energy legislation.

In addition, a tough floor fight is expected over a controversial proposal to continue federal price controls on natural gas. The legislation calls for allowing the price of new gas to rise to $1.75 per thousand cubic feet, compared with the present figure of $1.45 per thousand cubic feet.

An alternative plan to remove federal price controls on the natural gas industry has been prepared for debate by Reps. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, and Bob Krueger, D-Tex.

Crude oil taxes were proposed by Carter to bring U.S. prices in line with world prices to encourage conservation. The effect of the tax would be to add roughly five cents to the price of each gallon of gas.

Carter's plan calls for giving some of the money back to consumers as rebates on their fuel oil bills and earmarking the rest as credits on next year's taxes.

'Bionic Bear' that's who

What puts scare into polar bear?

BURNABY, Canada (AP) — What puts a scare into a polar bear? The roar from "Bionic Bear," a device that amplifies a bear's roar to keep marauding animals away from northwoods oil workers.

Don Wooldridge, a graduate biology student at Simon Fraser University, came up with the idea for Imperial Oil, which was looking for ways to protect its workers from bears.

"The idea was that the intruding bear might think it's the world's largest bear just over the hill," Wooldridge said.

Wooldridge says he analyzed the roars electronically and synthesized a sound similar to a roar — but twice as long as that of a real bear.

He experimented by taping the grunts and roars of captive bears fighting over a piece of meat near Port Angeles, Wash. When he played the amplified sound back, it sent one kodiak bear up the walls of the cage.

That was good enough for Imperial, which has installed the recordings, amplifiers and speakers at various oil drilling sites.

"One of Imperial Oil's concerns was the morale problem it causes immediately after," Wooldridge said of attacks by bear in recent years. "People start saying: Hey, wait a minute. I'm not sure I want to work here."

Wooldridge says bears in the wild are not naturally vicious and aggressive, but problems occur with young ones whose food catches are often stolen by larger males.

"We've seen them licking up diesel oil," Wooldridge said. "They're naturally quite desperate."

Wooldridge is now working on a system using bear bait containing chemicals to sicken bears in an attempt to drive them away and ensure they won't return.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually good time for making unusual changes and for doing whatever is your particular aptitude in the most modern, unusual manner possible. There is zest and excitement in the air so be sure to make use of this desirable influence. Be careful, though, not to upset any appointments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get together with good friends who can help you get ahead faster. Personal aims have a good chance of succeeding now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handling vocational and credit affairs well is important now. Add to present knowledge. Look for more up-to-date methods also.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good day to seek out new places and meet people. Many advantages come your way so be alert to them and advance in your career.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Good time for coming to a better understanding with loved one or mate via some thoughtful act. Get routine matters done in a quiet and efficient way.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to help partners and come to a better understanding with them. Not a good time for gabbing about socially. Enjoy own home instead.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get that work done that improves your position in life; get co-workers to cooperate with you. Look for new items to add to your wardrobe.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Finish a project you have started before going out with congenials. Don't take chances in the evening. Show more affection for mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study your home and make necessary improvements. Avoid arguments at home. Do some entertaining, but invite only congenials.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can get the information you need, but be careful not to step on the toes of others in the doing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find a better way of adding to present abundance for a more secure future. Listen to what a monetary expert has to say.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Good time to express new ideas and fine talents which you possess and become more successful thereby. Fine things can happen for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Update your method for handling routine matters and get better results. Make a plan for the future that is more progressive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be a Modern Era product and will have most advanced ideas. Educate in modern schools and there can be much success in this lifetime. Much dynamism here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Sen. Moore's nursing home faces loss of Medicaid, Medicare funds

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Sloppy handling of Medicaid and Medicare funds, according to State Welfare Department records, is chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee and is a partner in the Sherwood Health Care Facility in Bryan. The home was placed on a "vendor hold" - withholding of Medicaid and Medicare funds - for nearly two months in 1975 because of unsanitary conditions and patient care deficiencies. Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson brought those problems to light this week. Welfare department records show that since April 6, the home has been on "30-day compliance" - three extended - because of deficiencies in its medication rooms. The latest extension was ordered July 22 "due to continuation of some of the problem areas."

ordered if a nursing home does not correct major problems noted during inspections. Woody G. Shultz, pharmacy consultant for the department, reported that his inspection of Sherwood turned up numerous problems, including: -Some capsules and suppositories were not labeled. -Liquid medications were prepared at 10:25 a.m. for administration at noon, but "liquids shouldn't be prepared longer than 15 or 20 minutes before they have to be administered." -A medication cart was outside of the door and unattended. While I was there, a patient came through the nurses station and attempted to pick several items from the Welfare department documents are clear, however, that the vendor hold was in effect from April 28 until June 20, 1975. A vendor hold penalizes a nursing home by cutting off most of its cash flow, often forcing it to borrow money to pay bills and meet payroll until the Medicaid and Medicare funds are restored. Moore was shown as "present but not voting" on all Senate roll calls on nursing home legislation during the 11-day special session this month. Lawmakers passed, at Gov. Dolph Briscoe's request, a bill tightening state regulation of the homes. The bill makes it a prison offense for a nursing home employe to physically harm a patient, makes the health department responsible for all inspections and allows emergency shutdowns of homes with conditions that endanger the lives or health of patients.

Tablet crushers were dirty in two out of the three medication rooms. -"Disposable syringes were not cut or mutilated. -Internal and external medications were stored together. The 1975 vendor hold was for deficiencies such as failure to provide morning care. "A number of rooms were not used with bed pans full of excreta and not being emptied." After Anderson's column was published this week, Moore said, "The whole thing is out of proportion."

'Afternoon Delight' band needs writers

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Having gotten two Grammys and lotsa bucks last year with their hit, "Afternoon Delight," the Starland Vocal Band now commences a new venture - a CBS summer series - this Sunday night.

Glad to say the show isn't staged in a studio. The settings range from the streets of Georgetown in Washington, D.C., - whence the band began, to a miniconcert at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif.

Sad to say, the premiere of this half-hour, six-week series fails to rise above routine, save for the mellow vocalizing of band members Bill and Taffy Danoff, Margot Chapman and Jon Carroll.

Five writers labored on the show, but its scattered comedy bits are limper than a seersucker suit on a muggy afternoon on Capitol Hill.

After the Starlanders reprise "Afternoon" before a lunctime crowd near the historic canals of Georgetown, Dave Letterman, the show's announcer and cowriter, essays a "Mailbag" skit.

Which consists of answering such fan queries as how old is the band, how much does it weigh, and is it really John Denver, John being the chap with whom the Danoffs wrote "Take Me Home, Country Roads."

Then it's off to the annual Renaissance Pleasure Faire, an Old English festival held in the hills west of Los Angeles, for a quick skit, another song and a pie-in-the-puss spoof of bureaucracy.

Later, but not much, another Letterman skit ensues, something called

IRS taps pension plan for firemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has tapped a Missouri city's pension plan for 140 firemen for $50,000 in taxes, but the IRS hasn't gotten a penny from the huge California state employees pension system, which is in the same legal position as the small Missouri plan.

Both of these pension plans are not exempt from taxes in the eyes of the IRS. But the Missouri IRS office has been pressing the issue, while the California office apparently has not.

For years the IRS paid little attention to state and municipal pension plans. But that may change if the IRS' interpretation of some old tax laws and the new federal pension law is upheld by the courts.

Confusion over just what the law means for the more than 6,000 governmental pension plans and their nine million participants appears certain to end up in the courts.

But if the IRS position in the case of the fire fighters' pension fund of St. Joseph, Mo., prevails, there could be hundreds of millions of dollars in federal taxes owed by pension funds and millions more owed by the plan's participants.

The St. Joseph case revolves around whether a city or state pension plan has to file formally with the IRS for tax-exempt status — as corporate pension plans must.

The IRS — at least the IRS regional office in St. Louis — says governmental plans must file. If they don't, the plans' investment income is taxable and the government's contributions to the pension plan are immediately taxable to the covered employees.

"We are not covered by the ... law," said Jerry Mogg, a certified public accountant who advises the St. Joseph city government.

"There's no need to qualify nor any purpose for it," says Albert A. Weinberg, consulting actuary to the Illinois legislative committee on pensions.

No one, including the IRS, knows how many governmental plans have qualified and how many have not.

A check of several city and state plans showed no pattern.

Major New York City and New York state plans have qualified. The 550,000-member California Public Employees Retirement System has not. Neither have the employe pension plans of Chicago, Atlanta, Illinois or Connecticut.

The only IRS office concentrating on governmental plans is the one in St. Louis, which has responsibility for St. Joseph.

A check of several city and state plans showed no pattern.

Major New York City and New York state plans have qualified. The 550,000-member California Public Employees Retirement System has not. Neither have the employe pension plans of Chicago, Atlanta, Illinois or Connecticut.

The only IRS office concentrating on governmental plans is the one in St. Louis, which has responsibility for St. Joseph.

TELLS OF OPENING MAIL — Chief Postal Inspector C. Neil Benson testifies Thursday before a House Government Operations subcommittee that is looking into mail opening operations by Customs. Statements submitted by the Customs Service and Postal Service described how Customs agents have illegally opened or read mail and in some cases stolen letters.

Skunks, raccoons sold at auction 'dangerous'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Any person who came into contact with skunks and raccoons sold at the Canton auction July 2-4 is in "immediate danger" of rabies, says a state health department spokesman.

State health officials are seeking information on the skunks and raccoons because the animals could be incubating rabies.

Canton is between Dallas and Tyler.

"There is an immediate danger to any person who bought, sold, traded or possibly even petted one of the exotic pets," said a health department spokesman.

One skunk with rabies was found in Paris, Tex. and 11 persons have had to take anti-rabies vaccine.

The general manager of the auction told the department he thought the person who provided the pets lives in Oklahoma, but he doesn't know his name.

The Oklahoma Health Department has been unable to locate the man.

"It's a sad thing, but all of the animals will have to be destroyed for the safety of families and other pets," said Dr. William Bilderback of the Texas Health Department.

Kurt Sproul and Robert Beal proudly present
'HOT STUFF'

Kurt Sproul and Robert Beal are stopping in Big Spring for a fast week with their sizzling new revue from Las Vegas called "HOT STUFF." It is a mini-revue that features fast-paced choreography in their dance numbers, comedy, singing, magic acts, lightning-fast costume changes, and "one of the best-looking casts ever to be in show business." The majority of the cast were in an all time favorite show called Bottoms Up.

Kurt Sproul and Robert Beal put their heads together and decided to produce a show very similar but faster, fresher and newer. Sproul and Beal, currently being billed as the youngest producers in show business, have worked with such names as Ann-Margret, Sammy Davis, Jr., Phyllis Diller, Bob Hope, Olivia Newton-John, Miti Gaynor, John Davidson, Jerry Van Dyke, Rip Taylor, and a host of other luminaries. The sets and costumes that Sproul and Beal have conceived have been executed by the same companies in Las Vegas who work for all the production shows, such as Hallelujah Hollywood, Follies Bergere, Lido de Paris, and Casino de Paris. Ennea will be providing the background music. "HOT STUFF" will be appearing at the Brass Nail for one week only. We are unable to accept reservations, so make plans early to see the show.
