

Couple shot in head by 'Son of Sam'

NEW YORK (AP) — The killer who calls himself "Son of Sam" marked his first year of terror by pumping slugs into his 12th and 13th victims as they sat in a parked car watching the full moon over New York harbor. One of his victims was near death today. He struck in Brooklyn, turf untouched in previous forays into Queens and the Bronx and unguarded by the beefed-up police patrols in those boroughs. Stacy Moskowitz and Robert Violante, both 20-year-old Brooklynites, spent their first date Saturday night seeing a movie, dancing at a popular neighborhood discotheque and walking hand-in-hand in the moonlight. The date ended Sunday morning with the pair in critical condition at Kings County Hospital, both shot in the head. Hospital officials said today they were "very pessimistic" that Miss Moskowitz would survive. She was grazed by one shot, but severely wounded by a second that slammed into the base of her skull, shattered bone and lodged in her neck. She underwent eight hours of surgery

Sunday morning and, late Sunday evening, was returned to the operating room for an additional 30 minutes to drain fluid from her nasal cavity. Her brain continued to swell today, and Ira Clark, assistant hospital administrator, said, "Everything known to neurosurgeons has been done in an attempt to save her." Violante's condition was improved today. Clark said he was "alert, lucid, stable and talking," and had spent some time with his parents this morning. The bullet which struck Violante entered the left temple, "completely shattered" the left eye and exited above the right eyebrow. His left eye was removed and Clark said that while the right eye could distinguish lightness from dark, it would be some time before doctors knew how much — if any — sight he would retain. Police reported they were swamped with calls today regarding the case. "Everybody knows the killer," a police spokesman said. Police said several prime suspects had been under surveillance this weekend but that all were accounted for when the Brooklyn shooting occurred. "It's like looking for a needle in a haystack," a police official said, "except when you look through a haystack, you know what the needle looks like." "We had 2,000 cops out looking for Sam this weekend," a member of the special task force investigators said. "We thought for sure he'd strike in Queens or the Bronx but all the publicity must have driven him into Brooklyn." Mayor Abraham Beame ordered the assignment of 100 more policemen to the 70-man task force and promised Police Commissioner Michael Codd, "If you need still more men you'll have them." Friday marked one year since the .44-caliber killer's first attack, when 18-year-old Donna Lauria died. The killer became known as Son of Sam following the April 17 fatal shooting of a man and woman as they sat in their car in the Bronx. A note attached to the car's steering wheel was signed, "Son of Sam." His toll is now eight attacks, four women and one man dead, five women and three men wounded. In one of two handprinted notes left by the killer, he hinted he would kill again near the July 29 anniversary of his gruesome debut. Starting on that anniversary, and all through the weekend, police had concentrated heavy patrols in Queens and the Bronx, neighborhoods where the Son of Sam had struck. But it was in the Bensonhurst section of Brooklyn, shortly before 3 a.m., that the killer spotted the young couple. Violante, in his father's brown Buick, had promised his father he would avoid Queens. According to Chief of Detectives John Keenan, a witness parked with his girlfriend nearby "saw a man approach the car, crouch down, fire four shots and turn and walk away." The gunman walked calmly past a playground and into a park, with the witness unable to pursue, Keenan said. The description of a young white man, about 5-foot-7, of medium build, was similar to that given by witnesses to previous attacks by the Son of Sam.

SON OF SAM'S VICTIMS — Robert Violante, left, and Stacy Moskowitz, right, Sunday became the 12th and 13th victims of the gunman who calls himself "Son of Sam." Both were shot in the head as they sat in a car in Brooklyn, N.Y., on their first date. Violante lost sight of one eye and is partly blinded in the other, but is expected to recover. Miss Moskowitz is in critical condition with head and neck wounds. Four women and a man have been killed by the gunman in a little more than a year.

ONE KILLED — Austin Martin, county employee, was killed and three persons injured in a two vehicle accident at the intersection of two farm roads six miles north of Fairview at 8:14 a.m., today.

Three others injured Veteran road employee dies

Austin Martin, a Howard County road employe for 16 years, was killed this morning in a two vehicle accident at the intersection of FM 1584 and FM 846. There were three other persons injured, including Andres Sanchez of Lamesa, driver of the second vehicle who is in Cowper Hospital suffering a concussion, severe lacerations of right ear and other lacerations. His daughter, Patricia, 6, is also suffering a severe concussion. They were rushed to town by Sonny Tucker, of a transport firm bearing his name, who came up on the scene at 8:14 a.m. and police escorted them from the edge of the city. Johnny Green, a passenger in the county pickup with Martin, was taken by Alert Ambulance to Malone-Hogan Hospital suffering from apparent shock. Martin, apparently fell out of the pickup and was dragged, dying of apparent head injuries. The pickup was believed by investigating officers to have been headed north on 1584. Neel Barnaby, county road engineer, said that the two men were headed for Darwood Road, by way of the Vealmoor Road, where paving was in progress. The small car driven by Sanchez was apparently headed south and appeared to have attempted a turn east. Highway patrolman Dean Richardson was investigating state trooper.

Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena Jr. ruled Martin dead at the scene of the accident. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Mr. Martin's survivors include his widow, Geneva, of the home; a daughter, Debra Watkins, Big Spring; two grandchildren; four brothers, Jack Martin, Arkansas, R.P. Martin, Big Spring; Harold Martin, Tucumcari, N. M.; and Arlie Martin, Australia. Mr. Martin was born June 4, 1921, in Howard County and had resided here all his life. He married Geneva Cottle on Oct. 2, 1948, in Big Spring. He was a Baptist and an Army veteran.

In 17th congressional district 'Iffy' race is shaping up

The campaign for the 17th Congressional District House of Representatives seat has suddenly become a very "iffy" race. Charles Stenholm of Stamford said last weekend he might offer for the seat if the incumbent, Omar Burleson of Anson, does not again offer for the office. State Rep. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge said over the weekend he is considering becoming a candidate should Burleson decide to retire. Burleson has not indicate his future course of action but has said he will make known his future plans sometime this month. Hanna is in his fourth term in the legislature. He represents the 54th District in Austin, which embraces Eastland, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto and Stephens counties. All are in the 17th Congressional District, as are Howard and Taylor counties. Dusty Rhodes, Abilene attorney, is another prospective candidate but he says his plans will not depend upon Burleson's decision. There is every indication he will be in the race in 1978. He told the Herald several weeks ago "It's time for a change in Washington."

Nagel: Air Force more than fair

The Air Force has agreed to leave behind more hospital and medical equipment at Webb AFB than had been hoped for, according to Harry Nagel, city manager. "The Air Force was more than fair," said Nagel. The list of equipment valued at $428,000 was reviewed over the weekend by Dr. P.W. Malone. Malone found that the supplies contained more than could be used locally, and will mark a number of items to be returned to the Air Force. "We will take all we can possibly use, and then return the rest in the event that it is needed elsewhere," said Nagel. "The Air Force was very generous. This is more than we could have hoped for."

Rhodes also said it might take as much as $250,000 to finance such a race but he felt confident he could rally such backing.

The rules subcommittee of the Texas Democratic Party is scheduled to meet Saturday in Austin to consider state party rule changes, according to an announcement made by State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest.

Harold Hammett, Fort Worth, is chairman of that subcommittee. Calvin Gambill, Democratic chairman of Baylor County, was named Saturday afternoon to succeed Stenholm as a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Gambill was chosen over Larry Lambert, chairman of Wichita County. Gambill's name will be submitted to the state executive committee for final approval Saturday.

If approved by the state committee, Gambill will serve on the state executive committee with Marguerite Snyder of Snyder, who is the woman representative for the 30 state senatorial district.

Bloody fights flare near nuclear site

FAVERGES, France (AP) — An increasingly violent struggle between Western European governments and foes of nuclear power flared into a bloody battle that left one person dead and more than 100 injured near a nuclear plant site in southeastern France. Authorities blamed firebomb-throwing militants among an international group of 30,000 antinuclear protesters for provoking the bloodshed Sunday in this town in the French Alps. Interior Minister Christian Bonnet said French, German and other militants "illegally and deliberately attacked" security forces. Medical personnel said the one death, of a French demonstrator, apparently resulted from a heart attack. Grenade explosions blew off the hands or feet of two demonstrators and two policemen, officials said. Five of the injured were reported to be policemen. The 30,000 demonstrators gathered in this area over the weekend to mount a march on the Super Phoenix fast-breeder reactor plant, under construction in nearby Creys-Malville. On Saturday night, small groups of West German protesters smashed windows at the town hall in nearby Morestel.

Neutron bomb may be built near Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — If President Carter certifies the need for the controversial Neutron Bomb, it will be built at a somewhat isolated nuclear armaments plant 17 miles northwest of this Panhandle community. Ross Dunham, manager of the Energy Research and Development's Pantex Plant here, has confirmed project but said there have been no protests from nearby Amarillo residents regarding the bomb despite the furor it has raised elsewhere. The weapon has been called a "clean bomb" by its proponents and "immoral" by detractors. It is a nuclear device designed to kill people by massive doses of radiation that can penetrate buildings but leave them standing in most cases. "If the weapon is OK'd by Congress, we'll be assembling it," said Dunham. "Like many of the other weapons we have worked on here, it will be made ready for use when it leaves our facility." Dunham said the Pantex Plant is the only complex in the country presently involved in assembling nuclear weapons for the United States arsenal.

All four seats are asked for

All seats on the Lively Week in London trip planned Oct. 11-19 by four West Texas newspapers, including the Big Spring Herald, have been reserved. Bill Ragsdale of Skipper Travel, 110 W. 3rd St., who is making local reservations, said he would still take orders for the tour in event there are some cancellations. Harold and Doris Canning will be local hosts on the trip.

$1 million bribe paid Nixon to bar Hoffa?

NEW YORK (AP) — Justice Department officials believe former President Richard M. Nixon was talking about a $1 million cash payoff he allegedly received from the Teamsters Union when he told White House Counsel John W. Dean III he could get hush money for Watergate burglars, according to Time magazine. Time reported in its current issue that the Justice Department believes Nixon received the $1 million from Teamsters Union President Frank Fitzsimmons in exchange for keeping former Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa out of office in the union. Hoffa vanished from a restaurant parking lot outside Detroit on July 30, 1975. He is believed by authorities to have been murdered. Nixon had commuted Hoffa's 13-year prison sentence for jury tampering and mail fraud in December 1971, with the provision that he have nothing to do with running the union until March 1980 when his sentence would have expired. Quoting unidentified government sources, Time said government informers have claimed that in early January 1973, New Jersey Teamster boss Anthony Provenzano ordered that $500,000 in cash be delivered to a White House courier in Las Vegas.

Provenzano allegedly told an associate he collected the money at Fitzsimmons' request and that another $500,000 had been provided for Nixon, also on Fitzsimmons' orders, by Allen Dorfman, a convicted Chicago labor racketeer. Dorfman had been acting as an adviser to the Teamster's Union pension fund. According to the magazine, the second $500,000 payment was made in Las Vegas on Jan. 6, 1973, and was arranged for by Nixon White House aide Charles Colson. Colson told the FBI last February that he knew nothing about the alleged payoffs, Time said. Although at least one payment was made before the Las Vegas meeting, the magazine said, the $1 million may have been what Nixon referred to in the March 21, 1973, White House meeting with Dean concerning the Watergate burglars' demands for huge sums money in return for keeping quiet. Last Thursday, NBC News, quoting FBI sources, reported that more than $250,000 in two separate payments were made to members of the Nixon administration in exchange for keeping Hoffa out of the Teamsters Union. It was not known whether the two reports dealt with the same incident.

Action/reaction: Not agency
Q. Why is there no humane society in Big Spring? I've lived in almost 50 cities in the United States and everyone of them had such a society. You can see a number of cats and dogs every day out by the dump that have apparently been "thrown away." Who can we contact to get a humane society started in this city?
A. A humane society is privately funded by interested persons and is not a governmental agency. The closest one is in Midland and more information could be obtained there on how to begin one here. That number is 684-7582. An attempt to begin a society here three years ago failed. Stray animals near the city dump, which is in the city limits, will be picked up by the city animal shelter by calling 3-8311 and asking for the animal warden.

Offbeat: Stork recaptured
BROOKFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A giant African stork that escaped from Brookfield zoo has been recaptured near Lake Geneva, Wis., zoo keepers say. Zoo officials said late Sunday night that the bird was shot with a tranquilizing dart and it fell out of a tree near the resort city but was in generally good shape. The fugitive stork is one of six brought to the zoo two weeks ago from Kenya. When they arrived, all the birds had their wings clipped to keep them grounded. But zoo keepers said that the feathers of one stork were not cut back adequately. "It was out in the Rhino yard with the others, when it took off and flew around the park for about two hours," said Brookfield's bird expert Dennis DeCourcey. "We were trying to figure out how to get the thing down from a tree, when it just took off," he added. "I'm not going to tell you the explicative I repeated."

Heart care unit plaque unveiled in Lubbock

Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, Big Spring, unveiled a bronze plaque officiating dedicating the Dorothy Garrett Coronary Care Unit in a Sunday ceremony at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Others participating in the ritual included George M. Brewer, hospital president; Jimmie L. Mason, chairman-elect of the hospital's board of trustees; and Sue Garrett, daughter of the donor.

The unit, located on the seventh floor of the hospital, will consist of two central monitoring systems which will serve 24 rooms.

The unit produces continuous digital readings of patients' pulse rates.

Mrs. Garrett, members of her family and the Roberts Foundation donated funds which made the unit possible.

The unit utilizes wide-screen cardioscopes which constantly display electrocardiogram tracings for each patient.

Electro-cardiograms are regularly obtained on printout tapes for observation reports and for the patients' permanent records. Pulse rates are indicated by audible signals — another method of allowing nurses to know the second-by-second condition of each person in the unit.

Blood pressure wave tracings are transmitted through closed-circuit television. Other nurses are on duty throughout the unit, hospital spokesmen said.

Following the ceremony, donors and physicians were honored at a luncheon.

Sadat says he wasn't trying to overthrow Libya strongman

NEW YORK (AP) — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat says he wasn't trying to overthrow Libya strongman Moammar Khadafi in the recent four-day conflict between their two countries, but it was not because he doesn't think Khadafi should be ousted.

Sadat said the overthrow of Khadafi would "not only benefit the Arab people but the people of the whole world."

Sadat, interviewed on the ABC program "Issues and Answers" which was broadcast Sunday, also said he believes "for sure" the Soviet Union provoked the fighting between Libya and Egypt.

He said he would protest to Moscow what he called interference by Soviet helicopters.

Farm Bumper soybean crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bumper U.S. soybean crop this year will mean a hefty increase in the world's supply of high protein meal and vegetable oil in 1978, an Agriculture Department analyst said today.

Hatcheries decline noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of hatcheries that produce chicks and poults for the nation's poultry flocks continues to decline, according to the Agriculture Department. As of Jan. 1, there were 651 commercial chicken hatcheries, compared with 797 two years earlier in a similar survey, the department says in a current report on the poultry and egg situation.

Military Moore serves on destroyer

Navy Machinist's Mate Second Class Gary L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. White of 1206 E. 16th St., Big Spring, is currently on an extended deployment in the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea. He is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Richard E. Byrd, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

During the deployment, he and his shipmates are scheduled to participate in training exercises with U.S. ships and those of allied nations and will have the opportunity to visit several Caribbean and Atlantic coastal ports. His ship is 437 feet long, displaces 4,500 tons and carries a crew of 354 officers and enlisted men. She is armed with guns, missiles, and an anti-submarine rocket launcher, and can travel at speeds in excess of 31 knots. A 1972 graduate of Big Spring High School, he joined the Navy in August 1972.

JIMMIE McCAIN

McCain now in Mississippi

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Jimmie L. McCain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie W. McCain of Rt. 1, Big Spring, has been assigned to Keesler AFB, Miss., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland AFB, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman McCain will now receive specialized training in the avionics systems field. The airman is a 1976 graduate of Coahoma High School. His wife, Debra, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Ferrell of 509 Johnson, Big Spring.

Big Springer's son promoted

GRAFENWOHR, Germany — Darrell W. Martin, 18, son of Mrs. Dorothy Martin, 1319 Mulberry, Big Spring, recently was promoted to army specialist four while serving as an in-processing clerk with the 1st Armored Division in Grafenwohr, Germany. He entered the Army in March 1976.

caused by tight oilseed meal supplies appears headed for an anticlimactic end this fall if USDA forecasts of bumper 1977 oilseed crops prove correct," Alan E. Holz of USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service said in a report.

Soybean crops and other sources of meal and oil in southern hemisphere countries, notably Brazil, also will have an important bearing on 1978 supplies, Holz said.

The department will not issue its first official 1977 U.S. soybean harvest estimate until Aug. 11. But officials have "projected" a potential record crop of almost 1.6 billion bushels, compared with the skimpy harvest last year of 1.27 billion. The standing record is 1.56 billion bushels of soybeans in 1973.

American soybeans have developed into a remarkable crop over the years, providing sought-after protein meal for domestic and foreign livestock producers and top-quality oil for food use.

Lard output up 10 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — With stepped-up hog production, lard output also has gone up. But the hogs farmers sell today continue to be slimmer than they once were, says the Agriculture Department.

Lard production from last Oct. 1 through May 31 totaled about 722 million pounds, an increase of about 10 per cent from the same eight months of 1975-76, according to a recent report on the fats and oils situation.

Traffic accidents claim 32

By the Associated Press. Traffic accidents took a heavy toll on Texas roadways over the weekend, accounting for the majority of recorded violent deaths.

The Associated Press' violent death count totaled 37 early this morning, with 32 of the deaths occurring in traffic mishaps.

One of the most violent deaths was that of Toni Diane Kumpf, 23, whose body was found Sunday morning in a cotton field near Lubbock. Authorities said her throat had been slashed almost to the point of decapitation earlier in the day. Lubbock County sheriff's deputies said they were looking for a 6-foot, 220-pound man with a white pickup in connection with the case.

The AP tally began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday. The deaths included the following: The Dallas County medical examiner's office said Grady Ford Carwile, 25, of Dallas, died Saturday after he apparently drilled into a live electric wire while installing a television. head-on collision near Cuero on U.S. Highway 183. The Department of Public Safety identified the victims as Clarence Kopecky, 55, of Corpus Christi; Carrie Neuse, 46, also of Corpus Christi, and three children from Gonzalez. The children were identified as Kathy Karnau, 10, and her twin sisters, Karen and Sharon, both 15.

Police said Joseph Alexander Gauer, 6, of Waco, drowned in the Gulf of Mexico near Rollover Pass on the Bolivar Peninsula Saturday.

MACHINE GUN FOR SALE — A Pakistani gunsmith shows off a .50 cal. machine gun, which he built recently in his home workshop in Darra. Copied from an authentic weapon, which fell into Pathan tribal hands long ago, perhaps 100 such guns have been made by this gunsmith and his father in their workshop. The guns are sold for about $2,000 each to feuding fellow tribesmen. Darra is a small tribal town near the Khyber Pass, and local gunsmiths produce remarkable facsimiles of complicated mass-produced arms.

EASY DOES IT—Sally Worcester demonstrates the fine art of glassblowing in a shop she runs with her husband, Bill, in Cannon Beach.

Glassblowers keep ancient art alive

CANNON BEACH, Ore. (AP) — Mix these ingredients: silica, soda ash, lime, borax, potash, feldspar, potassium nitrate, antimony oxide. Heat until done. What you have is glass. Stock a molten glob of it on the end of a blowpipe, work with it for an hour or so, intensely, oblivious to all else. If your name is Worcester, what you now have is a thing of beauty.

The Worcesters, Bill and Sally, are among perhaps 300 American glassblowers who bring to that ancient craft a new art form.

"In the old shops," Bill Worcester said, "somebody built the furnaces, somebody else mixed the chemicals and made the batch of glass, finally the glassblower did his work. Maybe a half dozen people were involved. The difference is that we do every bit of it ourselves."

What the Worcesters do is comparable to an artist who conceals his own brushes, weaves his own canvas, constructs his own easel, then sells his own paintings in his own shop.

At their glassworks, every instrument bears the Worcester signature; furnaces, blowpipes, ladle-like wooden blocking bowls for shaping the glass, even the workbench, which began as a piece of redwood cast up on the Pacific shore.

"That's what makes it an art," Bill Worcester said.

"Finding the precise mix of chemicals and temperatures to get clear glass, without bubbles, discovering the formula for a specific color, these things require a good deal of effort and creativity. Some blowers are terribly secretive about it.

"When we began, I always started with an idea. Now I start with an amount of glass, an arbitrary amount. I watch how it flows. Somehow a pattern develops, a shape begins to form. The result, I hope, is something graceful, something not forced."

Bill and Sally Worcester, both in their 30s, grew up in Ohio, met in college, married, and moved to Florida to teach biology. Bill became interested in oceanography, so they moved to Hawaii where he went to graduate school. There they got interested in glassblowing as a hobby.

Hawaii didn't appeal to them. Neither did oceanography. They moved to Oregon five years ago and decided, as Bill Worcester said, "to see if we could make a living at what we love best."

Housework service makes use of cleaning know-how

SEATTLE (AP) — Are you tired of walking on the peanut shells from your husband's poker game? Does the endless drudgery of housework get you down?

Dial-A-Mop may be the answer.

For the price of $25 to $31, a Dial-A-Mop team will scour your humble cottage or palatial mansion with satisfaction guaranteed.

Mary Johnson formed Dial-A-Mop several years ago after her job in social work ended. She says business is booming — with just one small problem.

"Generally my home has been a disaster area. I'm about to have someone come in to do the bathroom and the laundry," she said.

Ms. Johnson cleaned house

she recalls.

Now, she has three women working for her and she owns most of the necessary basic equipment. She still cleans houses herself, but hopes to be strict a supervisor soon.

Ms. Johnson's clients include mothers with young children, elderly persons who can't push a vacuum and couples in which both partners work at demanding jobs and have little time for house cleaning.

Ms. Johnson keeps files on every client. She charges by the job, not the hour. Written service agreements specify the work to be done and she urges customers to tell her when they aren't satisfied.

"People forget we don't live in their house," she says, explaining that light may reflect an irritating smudge when the homeowner is there in the evening, but not when the house cleaner was there in the morning.

The cleaners have a list of tasks to do in each home, "and with four or five houses a day we're hustling."

Her files also include notes on whether a client's cat can be allowed outside, whether a radio should be left on as a burglary-prevention device or whether anyone in the family has allergies affected by the way the house is cleaned.

"We have to know enough so we can respect their lifestyle and assist it," said Ms. Johnson.

Teen Urges End To Prejudices

DEAR ABBY: I love my parents, but they have their faults, and the one that bothers me most is their prejudice against people of other races and religions. They have tried their best to make me believe as they do, but I am happy to say they have not succeeded.

I know that children are supposed to honor their mothers and fathers, and I honor mine in most ways, but not in all. We've had some very heated arguments over this subject but I am only 14½ and I know they will never change, so now I just keep my cool.

I am writing to you, Dear Abby, because some of the stuff in your column has helped to open up my eyes.

Please keep stressing the importance of doing away with bigotry and prejudice.

I believe that we are all brothers in the family of man, and we could love each other if the children all over the world would refuse to accept the prejudices of their parents and society.

If this letter is good enough for your column, please sign me.

JIMMY

DEAR JIMMY: It is. And it's young people like you who give me hope for the future. Thank you for a beautiful letter.

I think you will appreciate the following philosophy which supports your view, and came to me unsigned. I hope that someone out there will identify its author:

"First they came for the Jews,
And I did not speak out
For I was not Jewish.

Then they came for the Catholics,
And I did not speak out
For I was not Catholic.

Then they came for the Gays,
And I did not speak out
For I was not Gay.

And then they came for me,
And there was nobody left.
To speak out for anybody."

DEAR ABBY: Someone signed SPEAKING FOR TEENS stated in a letter to you that, in Samoa, premarital sex was customary. As a native of Samoa may I set the record straight?

Premarital sex is NOT the custom in Samoa today. We are taught that the very best gift a Samoan girl can give to her husband is her virginity, and to lose it before marriage not only brings disgrace to her family, but automatically places the girl into the category of a prostitute. Thank you.

PROUD SAMOAN TEEN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell those women libbers not to feel slighted when the pronoun "he" or "him" is used when referring to people in general.

"She" and "her" is always used when referring to battleships and tornadoes.

BIG AL

DEAR AL: True. But who wants to be a battleship or a tornado? I notice that "He" and "Him" is always used when referring to God.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box, No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Immunization important to prevent epidemics

Immunization for the whole family is the goal of "August — Immunization Action Month" — as public and volunteer groups promote that campaign across Texas, says Carla Shearer, health education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The danger is that immunizations are often delayed or forgotten. Childhood diseases don't seem threatening now. However, it is only by immunizing that we prevent epidemics, she says.

Here's what "immunity" is about: The body's immune mechanism — once activated — is a defense

Home cuts can cut hair care cost to families

By VIVIAN BROWN

Families might save a good deal of money by cutting one another's hair, believes former barber Bob Bent, 35. After all, "we're growing our own vegetables and cutting our own firewood, so why not our own hair," he says.

In the '60s, a shaggy-haired student at Davidson College in North Carolina, Bent began to cut his own hair. He discovered it wasn't all that difficult.

"I was appalled when I saw the prices of haircuts in big cities like New York, where you might pay $20 at a good place for a haircut. When long hair became fashionable every little barber shop was turned into a salon and the barbers suddenly became stylists," said Bent.

He was explaining his newest book, "How To Cut Your Children's Hair." A few years ago his book, "How To Cut Your Own or Anybody Else's Hair" was published.

Bent was especially bothered that it cost so much to cut a child's hair.

"As a kid in Pawtucket, R. I., I went to barber shops every few weeks, but people can't afford to do that today. For a child, anyway, a haircut often is a very scary experience. In fact, I know some adults who are terrified to get a haircut in strange barber shops or salons. We all have been burned by bad haircuts.

"In cutting children's hair we should remember that they move about quite a bit, so the child should be kept busy. Timing the haircut to a favorite television show is a good distraction. It should take an hour to give the first haircut they ever get. After that it can be done in far less time. But you shouldn't remove more than an inch of hair anywhere when doing the first haircut. You gradually can remove more," he said.

Haircutting can be learned just as you learn gourmet cooking or anything else that seems complicated, he claims. It takes time. In a family, one should cut another's hair, which makes it easier. For using a book, he suggests looking through the book and pretending you are following the directions as you get acquainted with scissors.

"If you are going to save money cutting the family's hair, invest at least $5 in a good pair of scissors," Bent advises. "Don't use your sewing shears. You can use electric clippers at the neck if you wish, or one of those razor shears. And it is important for an adult to get hair styled occasionally, perhaps once a year."

At the luncheon were the attendants of Miss Pettitt and the mothers of the future bride and groom, Mrs. Leon Thompson, Mrs. Denver Pettitt and Mrs. Jasper Mallicote, grandmothers of the couple, also attended.

Storm damage

By the Associated Press
Heavy thunderstorms flung high winds, heavy rain and hail into southwest Oklahoma Sunday evening, leaving a trail of damage across five counties.

Three persons were injured when the 50 to 60 mile per hour winds hit Lawton, overturning their trailer home. The unidentified persons reportedly received minor injuries.

Winds wrecked two buildings at the Oklahoma State Reformatory at Granite and left the facility without electrical power. Power had not been restored by late Sunday, but no disturbance was reported.

Initial damage estimates were placed at $200,000 by officials at the reformatory, but there were indications that amount might be scaled down.

Similar high winds smashed two barns near Corn, did extensive damage to the Corn elevator and disrupted utility service, the Oklahoma Highway Patrol reported.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL — Other candidates were using ground transportation, but then congressman Lyndon Johnson took to the air using a helicopter in his 1948 senate campaign. Shown at Alice during the campaign are, left to right: Paul Bigaman (deceased); B.O. "Barney" Goldthorn, then mayor; Stokes Miconheimer, then chief of police (deceased); LBJ; Ed Lloyd, attorney, deceased; unidentified pilot; and Homer Dean, attorney.

Doubts confirmed, prober says

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A man who investigated rumors of voting fraud in a 1948 election that launched Lyndon Johnson toward the Presidency says he wishes he could have had 29 years ago information revealed Sunday about vote tampering.

San Antonio lawyer T. Kellis Dibrell referred to an exclusive interview of former Jim Wells County election judge Luis Salas by The Associated Press. In the interview, published Sunday, Salas, 76, said he had increased the total votes for Johnson by about 200 in one ballot box.

"Luis Salas has finally confirmed what we knew all along," Dibrell said. "But we had some clues at the time there was going to be election cheating by the Johnson forces. We would have given anything to have this information 29 years ago."

Salas' statement concerned Box 13, which produced enough votes for Johnson to win the Democratic Party primary runoff for the U.S. Senate over Coke Stevenson, three time Texas governor. The final tally gave Johnson an 87-vote margin out of almost 1 million ballots cast.

Salas said his orders to certify the bogus ballots came from South Texas political kingpin George Parr during a meeting in Alice attended by Johnson. Parr committed suicide in 1975.

However, unlike Dibrell, Mary Rather, who served off and on as Johnson's secretary from 1941 until his death in 1973, remains convinced her late boss knew nothing of the meeting.

"I know he wasn't in Alice," she said. "I have a very vivid recollection of that election and the days after. I'm positive he hardly left his residence where he and Mrs. Johnson lived. I was there constantly those days."

Dibrell said he always believed Johnson knew the votes were going to be changed. He said he had worked for Stevenson in Austin while attending law school and decided to help in Stevenson's 1948 election campaign.

"I had spent the last few months of a seven-year FBI career in Laredo and I had some idea of political problems in South Texas at that time," he said. "One of the Stevenson supporters called us from the Panhandle and said a person from the LBJ office had erroneously phoned him. He said the LBJ office thought he was a Johnson man and asked him if he would alter some election returns if necessary."

"That gave Coke a pretty good clue of what was about to happen. This call to alter the votes came about 24 hours after the election. Coke told me if there was going to be any heavy vote altering it would be in South Texas. I went to a good police source in Laredo, a Laredo police captain, to help me try and uncover any vote irregularities. I dropped him off in Duval County and I went to Alice. When the Box 13 thing popped up, we were right there."

GEORGE PARR political kingpin

Dibrell said he went to question Salas but that the election judge had gone to Mexico.

"Of course, the case went to court, but when U.S. Supreme Court Justice Black voided a temporary injunction against putting Johnson's name on the ballot, that ended all investigation," he said.

Justice Hugo Black's action stopped a federal court investigation of the election. The probe included a hearing at which Salas testified the election was "level."

Salas now says he lied during the investigation.

Young secretary's throat slashed

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Police here are still searching this morning for a man in connection with the slaying death of a young secretary.

Witnesses told homicide detectives they were jarred awake about 6:25 a.m. Sunday by Toni Kimpf's screams. Her neighbors said they saw the 23-year-old woman being dragged from her efficiency apartment by a big man with shoulder-length blonde hair. They said the man stuffed the hysterical woman into a white pickup and sped away.

Two hours later in some pasture land south of the downtown area, farmer J.B. Allen said he thought he saw a mannequin lying in a field. It was the Kumpf woman, clad in underwear and a tee-shirt. Police said her throat had been slashed so badly her head was almost severed from her body. Allen said it appeared as though the body had been carefully placed in the field—not tossed.

Investigators have declined to comment on a possible motive. An autopsy has been ordered today to determine if the victim was raped.

Weather man

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new factor in climate change, reports National Geographic. For the first time, say scientists, man and his activities may be beginning to affect the weather.

One expert, Dr. Reid A. Bryson of the University of Wisconsin, says man may even be the decisive factor in the climate equation. He calls the overall effect of man's activities "the human volcano," citing his smoke, tractor dust, jet exhaust and smog.

Many scientific efforts are under way to assess man's impact on the climate. Whatever the studies show, climatologists agree that man is a new factor in the game of climate change.

Grocery prices checked

By the Associated Press
Grocery prices continued to increase at a relatively moderate level during July, although there were scattered sharp boosts for a variety of items, an Associated Press survey shows.

Among the products most frequently rising in price were frozen orange juice concentrate, tomato sauce, milk and frankfurters. Decreases were spotted in the price of chopped chuck, pork chops and eggs.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has checked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Highlights of the latest survey were:

—The marketbasket total at the checklist store increased during July in five cities, up an average 2.2 per cent, and decreased in eight cities, down an average .9 per cent. The biggest increases — just over 4 per cent in Providence, R.I., and Salt Lake City — occurred because items that had been on sale at the start of July were at regular price levels in the current survey.

On an overall basis, the bill at the end of July was about a third of a per cent higher than it was a month earlier. The rate of overall increase was the same as it was during June, when the marketbasket was higher at the checklist store in nine cities and lower in four.

Comparing prices at the start of August with those seven months earlier, the AP found the marketbasket total was higher in every city, up at average of 9.4 per cent. When coffee was removed from the totals, however, the increase was only 2.7 per cent.

Coffee prices took a dip last month, decreasing at the checklist store in six cities, generally about 20 cents a pound. Coffee is now between $3.50 and $4 a pound in most cities. The drops reflect cuts at the wholesale level which in turn, mirror decreases in the cost of coffee beans. The decrease has been credited partly to a drop in consumption among shoppers who rebelled at high prices.

—Orange juice increased in more places than any other single item during July, rising at the checklist store in eight cities. There have been predictions of higher prices ever since the winter freeze which hurt the Florida citrus crop.

—As usual, food products accounted for more of the fluctuations than nonfood items. Nonfoods represented 20 per cent of the total number of items, but only 16 per cent of the ups and downs.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, frozen cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

Odessa sweeps MSA tourney

Although Big Spring teams went down to defeat, two local players, Kim Jones and Alice Lopez, were named as outstanding players in this weekend's Miss Softball America Tournament.

Odessa teams triumphed, taking first and second place in the minor-minors and first in the minors competitions.

The Big Spring minors were put out of the tourney Saturday by Midland No. 1 by a score of 24-8. In the mini-minor league, Big Spring took Sweetwater 23-18, but lost to Snyder Saturday 24-4.

Odessa East faced Odessa West in the Saturday night finals of the minor-minor division. East took the trophy 11-9, in a close-fought contest.

Odessa went unbeaten into the finals against Midland Gold Sunday. Odessa had blanked Gold once Saturday, 28-0, sending Gold against its sister team, Midland Red.

Gold took that one 33-4, and went on to a rematch with Odessa Sunday. Gold took the first game in the finals 20-7, but lost the deciding battle with Odessa, 7-2.

Final standings in the mini-minors show Odessa East in first place, Odessa

West in second, and Snyder taking consolation and sportsmanship honors. Minors show Odessa in first, Midland Gold in second, Midland Red in third, and Sweetwater taking the sportsmanship honors.

Big Spring's Kim Jones was named to the list of outstanding players in the minor league, and Alice Lopez made the roster in the mini-minor division. The players were selected by a poll of the umpires at the tournament.

Other minor division outstanding players were Paula Brigrance, Odessa, Michelle Fisher, Midland Red, Helen Oudems, Midland Gold, Cindy Henley, Sweetwater and Rosie Rios, Snyder.

Other outstanding players in the mini-minor division were Jessica Rogers, Odessa West, M. Burnes, Odessa East, Teresa Ashworth, Sweetwater and Jackie Parham, Snyder.

Big Spring players will again take to the diamond when they meet Odessa 9 a.m. Friday in the major league tourney. In the other Friday game, Snyder will face off against Sweetwater.

IT'S MINE — Jerry McGee of East Palestine, Ohio, lifts trophy over his head after winning the Philadelphia Golf Classic at Whitemarsh, Pa., Sunday. McGee won $40,000 for his 12-under-par 272 for 72 holes, four strokes ahead of second place finishers.

Bull's bat pays dividend

By the Associated Press
Greg Luzinski is one of those high-salaried players who demanded and got a multi-year contract. Now he's out to prove he's worth the reported $1.2 million he received from the Philadelphia Phillies.

"I know the fans felt that we (players) were greedy, getting paid too much money, that guys wouldn't go out and play their best," Luzinski said. "I'm determined to show people I'm worth every penny I'm getting."

The Philadelphia fans received another dividend from Luzinski's bat Sunday when he slammed his 25th and 26th home runs of the season — the latter a solo blast in the eighth inning to snap a tie and give the Phillies a 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

"I got something to prove," said Luzinski, who has hit at a .409 clip with four doubles, nine home runs and 27 runs batted in in his last 18 games.

In other NL games Sunday, the New York Mets outlasted San Diego 10-9, Atlanta defeated Pittsburgh 8-3, Cincinnati stopped St. Louis 6-2, Los Angeles needed 10 innings to down Montreal 8-2 and Chicago clipped Houston 4-1.

Mets 10, Padres 9
Steve Henderson smashed a home run and drove in three runs while John Milner added two RBIs leading New York over an error-plagued San Diego.

The Padres committed six caution laps. Rutherford averaged only 164.191 miles an hour.

It was the third USAC victory of the year for Rutherford, who is second to Sneva in USAC point standings.

Rutherford won the pole position in a tie with Danny Ongais at 205.421 m.p.h. Ongais went out early with clutch problems.

A.J. Foyt, the four-time Indianapolis winner, didn't have it in this Indy car race. His Coyote died after 17 laps with suspension problems.

"I love winning in Texas," said Rutherford. "But I've got to get that danged radio fixed."

Rookie puts Bosox back in first

By the Associated Press
Don't tell Don Aase you can't go home again.

The 22-year-old Boston rookie right-hander pitched his second complete game since being recalled from Pawtucket of the International League, blanking the California Angels 1-0 Sunday with a three-hitter.

It was a happy homecoming for the Anaheim native.

"I can't really explain the feeling I have today," said Aase, who grew up just a few miles from Anaheim Stadium. "I'd like to have been an Angel, but this feeling is just as good. It was my dream to pitch here."

Aase pitched the Red Sox back into first place in the American League East, striking out seven in out-dueling Frank Tanana and Dave La-Roche. The victory, which came when Carlton Fisk singled home Jim Rice in the ninth inning, vaulted the Sox past Baltimore by one percentage point. The New York Yankees are just one game back in the tightest divisional race in the major leagues.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Kansas City split a doubleheader, the White Sox rallying twice for a 5-4, 10-inning victory in the first game and the Royals pounding out an 8-4 win in the nightcap, New York overwhelmed Oakland 9-2, Seattle defeated Baltimore 6-1, Toronto snapped a nine-game losing streak with a 4-1 decision over Milwaukee, Cleveland and Minnesota split a pair, the Indians taking the opener 9-2 and the Twins the nightcap 9-4, and Texas topped Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

White Sox 5-4, Royals 4-8
Chicago's Ralph Garr singled in the winning run in the 10th inning of the opener. Moments earlier, Chet Lemon's second home run of the game, a two-run shot, tied the contest.

Kansas City took the nightcap as Hal McRae drove in four runs. McRae, Amos Otis and George Brett each homered for the Royals and Dennis Leonard pitched a five-hitter. The victory salvaged the final game of the four-game series for Kansas City, which trails the surprising White Sox by 5½ games in the AL West.

Yankees 9, A's 2
The Yankees kept pace in the East with their three-game sweep of the A's in which they outscored Oakland 22-5. Cliff Johnson socked a three-run homer and Mickey Rivers also had three RBI to support Ed Figueroa's complete game. Figueroa, 10-7, beat Oakland ace Vida Blue, 10-12.

Seattle dropped Baltimore out of first place in the East behind Glenn Abbott's fifth straight victory. Abbott, 8-7, hurled a four-hitter, struck out six and retired the last 18 Orioles batters.

In winning Sunday's ballgame, the Mariners beat Baltimore ace Jim Palmer, 12-9. Leroy Stanton drove in three runs and belted a two-run homer for the Mariners.

Blue Jays 4, Brewers 1
Dave Lemanczyk, 9-9, retired the first 17 batters but needed relief help from Tom Murphy to tame Milwaukee. Lemanczyk surrendered just two hits and Murphy completed a four-hitter with 2 2-3 innings of solid relief.

Indians 9-4, Twins 2-9
Al Fitzmorris's first complete game of the season, a five-hitter, led the Indians to their first-game victory.

'We're ready,' says Hunter

Rangers get hot!

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The sizzling Texas Rangers move into Chicago tonight for a critical four-game series with the front-running White Sox and Ranger Manager Billy Hunter says they're ready.

"We've been playing super and I don't see any reason we should stop because we're going to Chicago," he said after his Rangers nipped Detroit 3-2 Sunday night.

"I know they've (Chicago) been scoring a lot of runs but I believe our pitching can offset some of that. I'm looking forward to the series."

"It's a matchup of the two clubs who've played the best in the league the last month."

The Rangers, who've won eight of nine since the All-Star break, closed out July with the best month since coming to Texas six years ago.

The 10th inning triumph over Detroit hiked their July record to 19-8, gave them 17 victories in 21 decisions and left them 20-10 under Hunter.

Unfortunately for Texas, the White Sox have been equally impressive, permitting the Rangers to pick up only 1½ games during that 21 game span. Chicago leads the American League West by five games over Kansas City and Minnesota and 7½ over Texas.

Mike Hargrove's ground single into right field in the bottom of the 10th scored Tom Grieve with the winning run as the Rangers took two of three games from the Tigers.

Detroit rookie Jack Morris, making his first major league start, hurled a four-hitter and struck out 11 before yielding to reliever Jim Crawford in the 10th.

And Bert Blyleven, who surrendered to Adrian Devine in the 10th, was just two outs away from recording his 11th victory, when tagged for a game tying home run by Ben Oglivie in the ninth.

Oglivie's clout into the centerfield stands followed another solo shot by John Wockenfuss in the fourth and was the eighth hit off Blyleven.

Devine, 7-5, then got the win and Crawford, 3-4, took the loss. Grieve opened the tell-tale 10th with a walk, took second on a sacrifice bunt by Dave May, reached third on Jim Sundberg's single and scored when Hargrove's grounder eluded the second baseman.

The Rangers got their earlier runs in the first on two walks, Claudell Washington's RBI single and a wild pitch by Morris that enabled Washington to score from third.

"He was wild in the first inning but he was just trying too hard," said Tiger Manager Ralph Houk.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, AUG. 2, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to effectively handle whatever chores and tasks awaiting your attention so that you have the free time you will need later to conduct important activities. Be thoughtful.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure to keep any promises you have made to others and gain their goodwill. Not a good day to start a new project.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Coercing others is not wise today but clearing up any misunderstanding is possible. Take time to relax tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle any civic matters wisely today and avoid trouble later on. Show more thought for family members and increase happiness.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) New outlets are good to look into today, but be sure you follow through in a practical way. Don't neglect to pay your bills.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle those obligations that face you in a most efficient fashion. Being gentle with loved one is wise and brings fine rapport.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be completely honest with associates and come to a better understanding with them. Forget outside matters for the moment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't be upset by a co-worker who is highly sensitive now and you avoid an argument which could prove costly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forget pleasure that is too expensive, otherwise you could regret spending the extra money later on. Show others you have wisdom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Money and family matters should be handled in a most precise way today for best results. Take needed health treatments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Using much care in motion today is wise. Be sure not to criticize others at this time. Express happiness at home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't spend money too freely now and later you will have a reserve which you will need. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You may be depressed about current conditions but problems are often the means through which to advance if handled properly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have the ability to make needed changes at times of intense depression or emergencies, so teach to work with the hands and then this can become a most successful life. There is much artistic talent in this chart.

Grand jury criticized for info leak

HOUSTON (AP) — A Harris County grand jury, in its final report, criticized another grand jury for "leaking information and giving interviews to the news media about cases under consideration."

The panel, headed by attorney Tom Lucas of Houston, said it is improper for a grand jury foreman "to grant television interviews about grand jury business. It violates his oath and is damaging to the citizens."

Baptist leader, Dr. Harris, dies

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Funeral services have been set for Tuesday for Dr. James G. Harris, the president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, who died over the weekend. He was 63.

Dr. Harris died of an apparent heart attack Sunday morning while jogging, a spokesman for University Baptist Church said.

The El Dorado, Ark., native had served at the University Baptist Church since 1954.

Dr. Harris would have completed his second term as convention president in November. His administration launched this spring a multi-million dollar statewide media campaign called "Good News Texas."

Dr. Harris was a graduate of El Dorado Junior College, Louisiana Baptist College in Pineville, La., and received his masters and doctorate degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary here.

Surviving are his widow, Tunis, three children, three sisters and a brother.
