Carter takes holiday, greets Texas singer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is putting Bert Lance and the Panama Canal behind him, tuning in some country music and heading for the hills. He set aside time today to say howdy in the Oval Office to Willie Nelson and Emmy Lou Harris, who are country and western singers. An aide said they worked in the Carter campaign.

Then the President summoned a helicopter to lift him out of Washington later in the day, away from its criticism of Lance and its opposition to his Panama treaties and into the quiet of the Catoctin Mountains of Western Maryland.

There, at Camp David, the presidential retreat, he will spend Labor Day weekend. It is Carter's eighth visit to Camp David. He likes to shuck his business suit, climb into blue jeans and stroll through the woods around the presidential lodge.

Carter arranged to leave the capital as suggestions mounted Thursday that he replace Lance as budget director because of questions about Lance's dealings as a Georgia banker. A lengthy probe by the comptroller of the currency has cleared Lance of any crime.

But Congress opens hearings next week on "unsafe and unsound" banking practices the comptroller said he found in Lance's affairs. At the same time, published reports have raised more questions about Lance's transactions.

The suggestions that Lance leave government came from Republican National Chairman Bill Brock and Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. The senator opposed Carter in the Democratic presidential primaries last year.

Brock challenged Carter to replace Lance or admit violating a pledge to govern without apparent impropriety. Church said Lance would serve Carter well by withdrawing from his administration.

Support came from Lance's home state. Georgia Gov. George Busbee said critics have denied Lance even the right to reply given to persons "accused of rape, child molestation or anything else."

Busbee said Lance will remain in Washington "for a long time as part of the Carter administration."

Anita hits coast, misses Texas

TAMPICO, Mex. (AP) — Hurricane Anita, a mighty display of nature's raw power, moved ashore early today with 155 mile-per-hour winds over a sparsely populated area about 100 miles north of this port city, but then spent itself rapidly.

Anita moved west-southwest into Mexico and by midmorning, Anita's winds had diminished to less than 100 mph, dumping several inches of rain over the farming communities in its path.

Mexican authorities said there were no reports of casualties. "We haven't had anything we can't handle," said Mario Flores, director of public safety for the state of Tamaulipas.

Electric power was cut off in Soto La Marina, the town directly in the hurricane's path as it came ashore at about 4 a. m. rushing in at 12 miles per hour.

Soto La Marina and La Pesca, both on the edge of the Laguna Madre, had most of their residents evacuated by the Army early Thursday ahead of torrential rains and vicious winds.

"People are more afraid of the wind than the water," Flores said.

Mayor Leonel Tavares said the drought of recent months would help keep floods to a minimum.

Anita, the first hurricane of the season, first had aimed its punch at the lower Texas coast, but veered south Thursday morning and drifted into northeastern Mexico as South Texas sighed with relief.

In Matamoros, across from Brownsville at the tip of Texas, nearly 8,000 people were taken to shelters. Officials said today most of them were returning to their homes and there appeared to be little danger of flooding.

"We were very, very lucky," said Brownsville meteorologist Al Druemont, "torrential rains and excessive winds passed up by only 25 miles."

The National Weather Service said that the primary concern was a serious threat of flash floodings in northeastern Mexico as rains of more than 8 inches fell in the area.

La Pesca, a tiny coastal fishing village, and Soto la Marina bore the brunt of Hurricane Ella in 1970.

Brownsville, some 100 miles to the north, recorded winds of 45 mph and "moderate" rain.

The leading edge of the storm dumped torrential rains along about 200 miles of the Mexican coast. Water covered some Tampico streets and the highways north of Tampico and Ciudad Victoria were reportedly flooded.

"This is a sparsely populated area, but some communities are so isolated, that it is possible they may not have heard warnings and may not have a chance to get out," Al Druemont, Weather Service chief meteorologist in Brownsville, said late Thursday.

"If a storm of this intensity hit an unsuspecting community, it would kill a lot of people," added Druemont.

In San Fernando, a small town of about 15,000 located 20 miles inland in a marshy area, soldiers, police and volunteers evacuated about 2,000 persons Thursday afternoon.

"They're using trucks, pickups, army vehicles and cars to carry people to shelters," said Jose Luiz Gonzalez, a volunteer manning the San Fernando police department.

Mexican troops, aided by police and navy units, evacuated about 35,000 persons from Matamoros, across the border from Brownsville, Tex., and HURRICANE REFUGEES — Marselina Saldivar (L) keeps watch over her four grandchildren while they curl up against her for a short rest. They were among many families seeking refuge from Hurricane Anita in Brownsville's Central Junior High School gym Thursday night as the season's first hurricane approached from the Gulf of Mexico.

about 60 miles north of San Fernando. "The evacuation is proceeding in an orderly manner," said Brig. Gen. Edmundo Castro Villareal, commander of the military district stretching from Tampico to the U.S. border. "The Ministry of Defense has given us the authority to take whatever measures are necessary during the emergency."

The general said the national railroad system had been placed at the army's disposal. Castro Villareal said military and police patrols had been set up in the evacuated areas to guard against looting. He said refugee centers were stocked with about three days of food. Doctors, nurses and other Red Cross personnel were on standby, said Jesus Nava, the Red Cross administrator in Matamoros.

West Texans named to state water panel

Two of the three men named Thursday to the new Texas Water Commission by Gov. Dolph Briscoe have strong ties in West Texas.

They are Joe Carroll of Palestine, a former resident of Snyder, and Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo. Carroll was named to a four-year term while Hardeman, a former state senator, was appointed to a two-year term.

Chairman of the board is Joe Carter of Gainesville, selected for a six-year term. The new commission will have plenty of experience to bring to bear in deciding whether to grant water use, pollution and weather modification permits.

Carter, Carroll and Hardeman were all members of the old Texas Water Rights Commission, which went out of business this week.

Hardeman has been serving on the water rights commission even though his term expired several years ago. Briscoe presumably had chosen to let him serve without reappointment because of the difficulty he might have in winning Senate confirmation. Hardeman, recognized as a man familiar with water problems in West Texas, is a former member of Texas' upper legislative house whose sometimes abrasive style won him several enemies who remain in that legislative chamber.

The water commission was created by the legislature this year in a reorganization of water agencies into a single Texas Department of Water Resources. The commission will make its decisions on water permits autonomously but will be served by the department staff.

CRMWD lakes trap runoff

The Colorado River Municipal Water District benefitted to the extent of about 7,000 acre feet of water from rains which fell on the watersheds of Lakes J.B. Thomas and Spence last weekend.

Owen Ivie, general manager of CRMWD, said that Lake Thomas trapped about 2,000 acre feet of water while Spence grew by an estimated 5,000 acre feet.

Heavy rains fell in both Scurry and Mitchell counties.

Bible fund nearing goal

Friends of the Bible Fund refuse to admit defeat.

The campaign is drawing to a close this weekend short of its goal but supporters have clipped away at the $10,000 objective to the extent that only $417 is now needed for it to be over the top.

In the 24-hour period ending at 11 a. m. today, gifts totaling $650 reached The Herald, bringing the aggregate collected to $9,583.13.

One of the contributions was for $250 and came from Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vice Jr.

The sponsoring organization, the Howard County Ministerial Alliance, sought $10,000 to insure Bible chairs at high schools in Big Spring, Coahoma and Snyder.

Late donors can make checks out to The Bible Fund and forward them either to The Herald or to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the Big Spring First Baptist Church, coordinator of the campaign for the alliance.

Elvis look-alike creates furor just like the King

By JAMES WERRELL

Johnny Harra's time has come. Being a nearly exact duplicate of Elvis Presley down to the vocal chords had Harra in demand before. But now, with the death of Elvis, it is a whole new ball game.

Harra will spend two weeks here performing at the Brass Nail beginning Sept. 5. He will do two shows daily 9 and 11 p. m. at $7.50 admission.

"Elvis imitators are a dime a dozen, but none of them look like or sounds as much like him as Johnny Harra," said Charles Wash, owner of the Brass Nail. "He has every mannerism down pat. He even mumbles on stage like Elvis."

Harra apparently has Elvis' fans convinced. During a recent concert in Dallas, he tossed a scarf into a crowd of nearly 20,000 spectators at the Cotton Bowl.

This touched off a fight among some 15 women who wanted the scarf as a souvenir. Police Sgt. John Newton said three of the women received minor injuries in the melee while one policeman suffered a back injury when the mob pushed him against the stage.

Harra went to all lengths to double as Elvis, according to press releases. When Elvis put on a few unwanted pounds, so did Harra.

"He was right up there at the same weight as Elvis. But now that Elvis is dead, Johnny has already lost about 10 pounds," said Wash. "He wants to look the way people like to remember Elvis looking," he added.

Although Presley's death may help to make Harra a wealthier man, the imitator joined the rest of the fans in mourning the rock-and-roll king.

Harra wanted to cancel his show the night of Elvis' death but the crowd wouldn't let him and he cried through most of the performance. Harra's usual attire for the show had been a white sequined jump suit of the type ELVIS PRESLEY?no, Johnny Harra that Presley so often wore. But now, in deference to Elvis, the jump suit is black.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Flying the flag

Q. Why does Howard County Courthouse and the Howard County Library never fly their flags? The courthouse has a couple of flagpoles, and they are almost always bare. It seems the courthouse would be the one place in town where the American flag would be most proudly flown. Who is responsible for this? How can we teach our children to be patriotic if the flags do not fly?

A. For the county, Judge Bill Tune replied, "The flag flies daily from the pole at the east end of the courthouse. The flag pole atop the north end of the courthouse has been abandoned because of the wind conditions up there and the wear and tear on the roof itself." The Howard County library admitted that it has not been as faithful as it might have been, but librarian Ann Smart promised to keep the flag flying from now on.

Offbeat: 'Bird brains' strike

CARROLL, Iowa (AP) — Many birds were without their usual bathing spots after youngsters swept through the northwest section of town grabbing bird baths, police said.

Police Chief Maury Dion said the youngsters did not seem to care whose bird baths they stole. His was among the missing.

Police, including Dion, were not aware of the thefts until neighbors of a vacant lot reported about 10 bird baths had been dumped there.

"They said if anybody calls for the bird baths, we have a bunch of them here," Assistant Chief William Heller said.

After arriving with two other officers to investigate, Dion noticed one of the baths looked like his. He went home and discovered it was.

Mystery gun spices Davis trial

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Defense lawyer Phil Burleson told newsmen today a gun has been found but has not and may not be connected to the Cullen Davis capital murder case.

Curry, chief prosecutor in the Davis capital murder trial here, confirmed rumors circulating overnight that a mystery pistol has surfaced in the case.

Investigators reported never finding the weapon used in the so-called mansion murders of last year.

Curry said there was nothing at this point to connect the gun with the shootings but said he had advised the defense of the discovery.

"I doubt if anything will come of it," Curry told newsmen, adding that he was bound by rules of the court from telling when and where the weapon was found.

No cash, no gas?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Crystal City officials met with Atty. Gen. John Hill and Lo-Vaca Gathering Co.'s lawyer today, then returned home to draft a new proposal to keep Lo-Vaca from turning off the gas.

"I'm not optimistic," said Lo-Vaca's lawyer.

Pete Torres of San Antonio, a lawyer for Crystal City, said the municipal council would have a new written proposal for Lo-Vaca by tonight.

"It will be to come up with some cash and pay the interim rate," Torres said.

The amount of cash down payment on Crystal City's $700,000 back debt to Lo-Vaca is a major issue in settling the debt.

The two parties still haven't agreed on how long Crystal City will have to pay the balance, with the town insisting on 10 years and Lo-Vaca on three.

'Big John' predicts

DENVER (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John Connally says unless more Republicans are elected to office next year, the 1980 GOP presidential nomination won't be worth running for.

Connally declined to put himself in or take himself out of the presidential race, saying, "It's three, light years away."

The former Texas governor spoke Thursday in Denver to nearly 200 people who paid $100 each to attend a fund-raising cocktail party sponsored by the conservative Business-Industry Political Action Committee.

The 60-year-old Connally said he is working on 1978 campaigns because there may be a move to split the party if the GOP doesn't improve its dismal position in terms of governorships, state legislatures and Congressmen.

Connally said he is in no hurry to run for office himself, but added, "I'm not saying I won't be a candidate."

He said he may set up his own political action committee in the near future, but added it's "not really, not at all aimed at securing the GOP nomination."

'Crazy suggestions' not rejected

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith termed key provisions in the British-American peace plan for Rhodesia "crazy suggestions" today but did not reject the proposal yet.

"It seems to me that the plan is not only ill-conceived, it is rushed," Smith told a news conference. He accused Britain of "seeking revenge" for his declaration of independence in 1965.

The 8,000-word blueprint for ending Rhodesia's five-year guerrilla war and transferring power to the black majority next year was presented to Smith on Thursday by Ambassador Andrew Young and British Foreign Secretary David Owen.

Today after arriving back in London, Owen warned against being discouraged by the "public voices" of various factions in the Rhodesian conflict.

Guerrilla leaders have also reacted negatively to parts of the U.S.-British proposals.

"Some countries or individuals may be more committed to this than they have in their possession a .38-caliber pistol.

"We were told at that time that ballistic tests had not been made. We have been advised that the gun was turned over to the police department by people who had the gun and said it belonged to Horace Copeland and that it was the gun which killed Stan Farr."

Burleson refused to identify the people who turned the weapon over to police.

Copeland's name has surfaced frequently during the trial. He was shot to death last month at his Fort Worth apartment. Attorneys have described him as a

Lake Champion catches rain

Lake Champion, located south of Colorado City, caught about five feet of water from heavy rains which fell in the area last weekend.

Heaviest rains were in the Loraine area, where upwards to seven inches fell and gauges ran over.

Lake Colorado City did not catch any runoff and rains were lighter in the western and southern sections of Mitchell county.

Meany says Carter applying 'Band-Aids'

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany says the Carter administration is applying only "Band-Aids" to ease the country's unemployment problem.

In his annual Labor Day message, released today, the AFL-CIO president chided the administration for what he said is its failure to develop a comprehensive plan to put people to work in good jobs at decent wages.

"There are public service jobs, housing programs, mass transit programs, public works, school aid — but they are essentially Band-Aids for specific problems and just don't come to grips with the more general problem of mass unemployment," Meany said.

Meany, organized labor's chief spokesman, renewed his appeal for congressional enactment of the Humphrey-Hawkins Full Employment and Balanced Growth Act.

The measure, now in legislative limbo, would require the planning and coordination necessary for the government to reduce unemployment among adult job-seekers to 3 per cent in four years and to keep it within that figure.

calling for a Briton to head an interim government during the transition to black rule and the formation of a new national army which he said would be based on the guerrillas of the Communist-backed Patriotic Front.

"I think it's a very cunning scheme to ensure that the Patriotic Front will be the next government of Rhodesia," he said.

Meanwhile, Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe, the leaders of the Patriotic Front, said the proposals "contain aspects which are unacceptable."

Smith made it plain to reporters that he would hold out for a settlement more favorable to the whites.

Strengthened by his landslide victory in a general election Wednesday, Smith said he would pursue his previous plan to negotiate a settlement of his own with black moderates "as a second string to the bow — a wise precaution."

The British-American plan, made public on Thursday but leaked last week, calls for Smith's government to surrender power to an interim government headed by a British resident commissioner, a U.N. peacekeeping force to enforce a cease-fire in the war between the Rhodesian army and the black guerrillas of the Patriotic Front, "free and impartial elections on the basis of universal adult suffrage" and a new constitution "providing for a democratically elected government, the abolition of discrimination, the protection of individual human rights and the independence of the judiciary."

The British government nominated Field Marshal Lord Carver, 62-year-old former chief of the British General Staff, to be the resident commissioner.

British newspapers were not optimistic about the success of the plan. The London Daily Mirror said to ask Smith "to surrender on the very day he has just won all 50 white seats in the Rhodesian parliament is expressing a naive belief in the powers of Father Christmas." The Financial Times said the British-American plan lacked "a crucial ingredient — evidence of acceptability to any of the parties most directly concerned, both white and black."

Construction site blast investigated

ROUND ROCK, Tex. (AP) — A U.S. Army demolition crew worked late into the night Thursday to gather blasting caps that were strewn by a window-shattering dynamite explosion at a construction site near here.

A spokesman for the Texas Department of Public Safety said that no injuries were reported in the ground-shaking blast, which erupted Thursday afternoon when 15,000 pounds of dynamite was touched off by a grass fire.

Construction workers fled the area when they spotted flames licking the underside of an explosives storage building, according to state troopers at the scene.

Six or seven new homes in various stages of construction received moderate to severe damage, troopers estimated, and Round Rock authorities received complaints of broken china and glass for a mile around the subdivision.

The explosion knocked out several utilities in the area, but none were believed to be

HC trustees discuss property acquisition

Howard College trustees called an emergency session at noon Thursday and met in executive session to discuss possible acquisition of property.

The board opened the meeting at the conclusion and voted to file an official request with the Big Spring Steering Committee for the machine shop and mechanics buildings at Webb AFB.

The steering committee was facing a decision today at noon concerning this property which could also be used by a prospective industry.

Dr. Bobby Wright remained in the closed session with the board. He is occupational dean for the college.

In the open portion of the meeting, the board of trustees voted to join the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission. Dr. Charles Hays told the board,

"We have received help on many occasions from this group and I think that the college should be a member."

Unemployment rate hovers at 7 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate rose from 6.9 per cent to 7.1 per cent in August as climbing unemployment among blacks matched a post-World War II high, the government reported today.

In August, the Labor Department said, "the over-the-month increase in unemployment was concentrated among black workers," whose jobless rate rose from 13.2 per cent to 14.5 per cent. The August level matched the post-war high for blacks recorded during the recession in September 1975. Unemployment among blacks has been traditionally higher than for whites, whose jobless rate was unchanged last month at 6.1 per cent.

Overall joblessness has hovered at about 7 per cent of the work force since April, showing little month-to-month change after dropping steadily from its 1976 high of 8 per cent last November.

Economists say economic growth has slowed following a sharp expansion earlier in the year, and this means fewer jobs are being created to meet the needs of the growing labor force.

"The ratio of black-to-white jobless rates continued its recent updrift to the unusually high level of 2.4 to 1 in August," the Labor Department said.

The rise in black unemployment comes at a time that civil rights and labor leaders have been increasingly criticizing the Carter administration programs for easing unemployment. Earlier this week, the government

Sweetwater stabbing death witnesses sought

SWEETWATER — Julius W. (Peanut) Graham, 48, attendant at the Farrington Service Station here, was found stabbed to death in the station's restroom about 2:45 a.m. Thursday.

Four persons who stopped at the station, located between Sweetwater and Roscoe, discovered the body and notified police.

Authorities are checking a youth's story that a man and a woman had told him they saw two men walking toward the restroom. A man identified as Graham was walking in front. The man behind had the attendant's arm twisted up behind his back and had a knife against him.

According to the youth, the couple, said the attendant yelled at them to "get out of here." Investigating officers placed the time of the stabbing was between 1:25 and 2:45 a.m. Thursday.

The cash register of the station had been rifled, according to Nolan County Sheriff Don Underwood. The amount of money taken was not disclosed.

Underwood said Graham was a friendly, outgoing type but apparently had no enemies. Mrs. Graham has been ill in recent years, according to Underwood. Several years ago she suffered a stroke that left her partially paralyzed. More recently, she has had high blood pressure.

Health plan task forces

The Permian Basin Health Systems Agency announced today the formation of 10 task forces to develop the Health System Plan for the Permian Basin.

The plan will consist of goals, objectives, resource requirements, recommended actions and alternative solutions to existing health concerns in the 17-county area of the Permian Basin.

The committee will provide technical assistance and guidance in the areas of alcoholism-drug-abuse-retardation and mental health and emergency medical services, rehabilitation, heart disease, cancer, renal disease, maternal, perinatal, child and adolescent health, communicable disease, and dental health, and environmental health.

The chairmen have been selected for these 10 Task Forces and members of each committee are now being selected. Individuals from the Region who have a special interest in one of these 10 areas of health concern are invited to participate in providing direction for the health plan.

Anyone interested in serving on these task forces should contact Mrs. Jeanne Kaferle at the agency office at P.O. Box 6391, Midland 79701 or call 915-563-1061 Ext. 63.

Free meals eligibility

Approval has been received from the Division of School Lunch, Texas Education Agency regarding the free and reduced price meals for the 1977-1978 school year.

The eligibility standard has been increased on the meals for the current school year for a family of two $5,160 to $15,590 for a family of twelve. The reduced price meal has been increased to 20 cents instead of the 15 cents charged last year. The eligibility standard for the reduced price meals ranges from $5,160 to $8,050 for a family of two to $15,590 to $24,310 for a family of 12. Each additional family member over 12 there will be added $910 to $1,420 to the income standard.

Eligibility determinations are made on a family basis, that is, all the children in the same family attending school under the jurisdiction of the same school food authority are to receive the same benefits, a free lunch or reduced price lunch, not some a free lunch and some a reduced price lunch.

Breakfast will be served again this year at Runnels, Bauer, Moss and Lakeview Schools using the same eligibility standards as the for free and reduced price meals. The other schools in the district will be added to the free breakfast program at a later date.

Applications for the lunch program offered in the district may be obtained from each school office. Parents will be notified of approval or disapproval of the application.

Writers put IRS under microscope

At a meeting of Dallas businessmen earlier this week, I listened to them discuss an article in the September issue of Texas Business magazine.

The article, entitled "The IRS: Everybody's Big Brother," had really gotten them excited and angry about the power of this omnipotent federal agency.

I had seen a copy of the magazine, but I had not read the article. When I returned to Big Spring, I opened the magazine, and to my surprise, found that it had been researched and written by Maxwell D. Green, a Big Spring certified public accountant.

Assisting in the writing was Roy Earden, formerly a newscaster with KBYG Radio in Big Spring and now a television employe in Lubbock.

The magazine also contributed the introductory and concluding paragraphs, but the heart of the article, and the most chilling portion, was done by Green, a Paducah man who has been in Big Spring for 16 years.

GREEN TELLS the reader what his like to disagree with the Internal

MAXWELL GREEN

Revenue Service and fight your case all the way to the Supreme Court.

As the CPA outlines the process, it is the closest thing to a no-win situation since the American Civil War.

You have run afoul of the most powerful adversary you will ever face: the commissioner of Internal Revenue," Green writes.

Some of the points Green makes as he traces the shock and frustration of the audited taxpayer include:

—Except for a jury in federal district court, every judge or decision maker the taxpayer will face will be one that gets his money from the federal treasury through taxes the IRS collects, so the taxpayer's best chance to win (and perhaps only chance) is at the federal district court level.

"Tax advisers, from experience, recommend that taxpayers go ahead and pay amounts up to $2,000 even if the taxpayer may be in the right because it costs too much to fight in court."

—The IRS fights for your tax dollars by using your tax dollars, and it has almost unlimited resources to appeal in the courts should the taxpayer win at the federal district level.

—Where the tax code is vague, the law gives the IRS commissioner the authority to interpret the code and to write regulations which are, in effect, laws within themselves.

—At the time you prepared your taxes, you and your tax adviser may have believed all deductions valid. But the auditing agent may tell you that the deductions are not allowable under a ruling made by the commissioner of the IRS, and you owe not only the tax—but also interest and penalties too.

—Even if you go all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court and win, it may not help other taxpayers. The commissioner has the right to nonacquiesce. The commissioner says, in effect, "Alright, this taxpayer can keep his money, but the next one is fair game."

The article outlines the difficulty of a fair appeal either with the IRS or through the courts. It is a frightening presentation of what the magazine calls the "monstrous, ungovernable, completely autonomous" IRS.

MAX'S WIFE, Neva, said that this is his first article on this similar subject, but it will not be his last. He is working on others.

She said Green feels that something has to be done, and he, though only one voice, is trying to start a reform going.

If enough "only one voices" begin to clamor for changes in the IRS, maybe even Washington will hear.

In the meantime, I hope Green is ready to be audited and reaudited back to the statute of limitations.

New Catch 22

Around the rim

Bob Burton

They tell me that Son of Sam has been declared insane. Not that it should surprise anyone; a person who kills six persons and wounds eight others, says he was inspired by the devil who spoke to him through a dog, and leaves irrational notes behind his killings may be said, sight unseen, to be crazy.

But there are a lot of crazy things in this world, and for my money one of the craziest is the law and insanity.

IN A BOOK CALLED Catch-22, one WW II pilot asks a doctor to certify him insane so he won't have to fly any more missions. Only crazy man, the pilot says, would fly one of those suicide runs.

"Ah," replies the doctor, "but you have to be sane enough to ask me not to send you up. You have to be sane enough to want to save your own life. So I can't certify you, because you're obviously sane."

But given that New York law is similar to Texas law, here is what legal eagle Don Richard says is Bertowitz situation:

First, Berkowitz is being found insane at the time of the trial, not at the time of the crime (although they shouldn't have much trouble with that later). The move by the prosecution to have him re-examined is intended to bring him to trial, not necessarily to declare him the sanest man in the borough of Brooklyn.

If the insanity plea holds up (and remember, this is under Texas law) Berkowitz will be placed under custody in a mental institution until such time as he is declared ready to stand trial. In Texas, that would mean an institution like Rusk, which has a reputation of making crazy men sane in a hurry.

Then, after the nearly impossible task of assembling a jury which has never heard of Son of Sam is completed, he will stand trial and the question of sanity at the time of the crime comes up. That one shouldn't pose too much of a problem, if errant behavior means errant thinking.

If found insane at the time of the crime, odds are he will go back to an institution for the criminally insane.

ACCORDING TO Jake Glickman at the state hospital, once he stands trial there are three possible results, discounting innocence. First, he could be found guilty and sane. This would mean a prison term. Second he could be found guilty and insane, meaning his commitment to a hospital would have a prison term attached so that if declared sane at the institution, he would finish his term at a prison. Third, he could be found innocent by reason of insanity. He would be committed and released into society when declared sane by the powers that run such institutions.

But the bugaboo with all this is the definition of insanity. "You're crazy!" is heard often enough to mean anyone on the street. The new mental health code stumped a five-minute search by Glickman for a pocket definition. And the question of responsibility still hangs around beyond that: is insanity enough to remove the responsibility of a person's actions from him?

It is muddy water to wade in. For local persons accused of crimes, however, Assistant District Attorney Richard takes the hard line.

"We committed Ollie Biles and Johnny Lee Thomas to Rusk. They are now ready to stand trial. In the case of Major Harold Freeman, the Air Force found him sexually insane (unable to adhere to the right) and dropped their court martial, but the Air Force mental standards are not as tough as the State of Texas."

Biles and Thomas are charged with murder and auto theft respectively. Freeman is charged with eight counts of sex crimes.

We will have to wait and see how the vaguest definition in the legal handbook affects their trials.

Tito's triumph

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — The exaggerated affection and respect lavished on Marshal Tito by Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev during their long meetings this month carry ominous implications for chances of post-Tito Yugoslavia keeping free of the Kremlin's domination.

When they met in Belgrade last November, President Brezhnev tried — without the slightest success — to bully the ornery old guerrilla fighter who led his nation out of the Comintern nearly 30 years ago. The Russian's abrupt switch from bruising to loving when he met President Tito in Moscow Aug. 16-19 raised well-founded suspicions in Washington, Western Europe and in Yugoslavia itself.

THE OSTENSIBLE triumph of Tito actually puts the Kremlin in position to say this when the 85-year-old Marshal finally leaves the scene: we got along well with Tito, but his successor has changed the rules of the game — and we do not accept that change.

Such a claim could quickly become a pretext for open Soviet political intervention in the Yugoslav Communist party. The excuse would be that Tito's successor was embarked on an anti-Soviet course that Tito himself never would have countenanced, as shown by the cordiality of their August 1977 talks in Moscow.

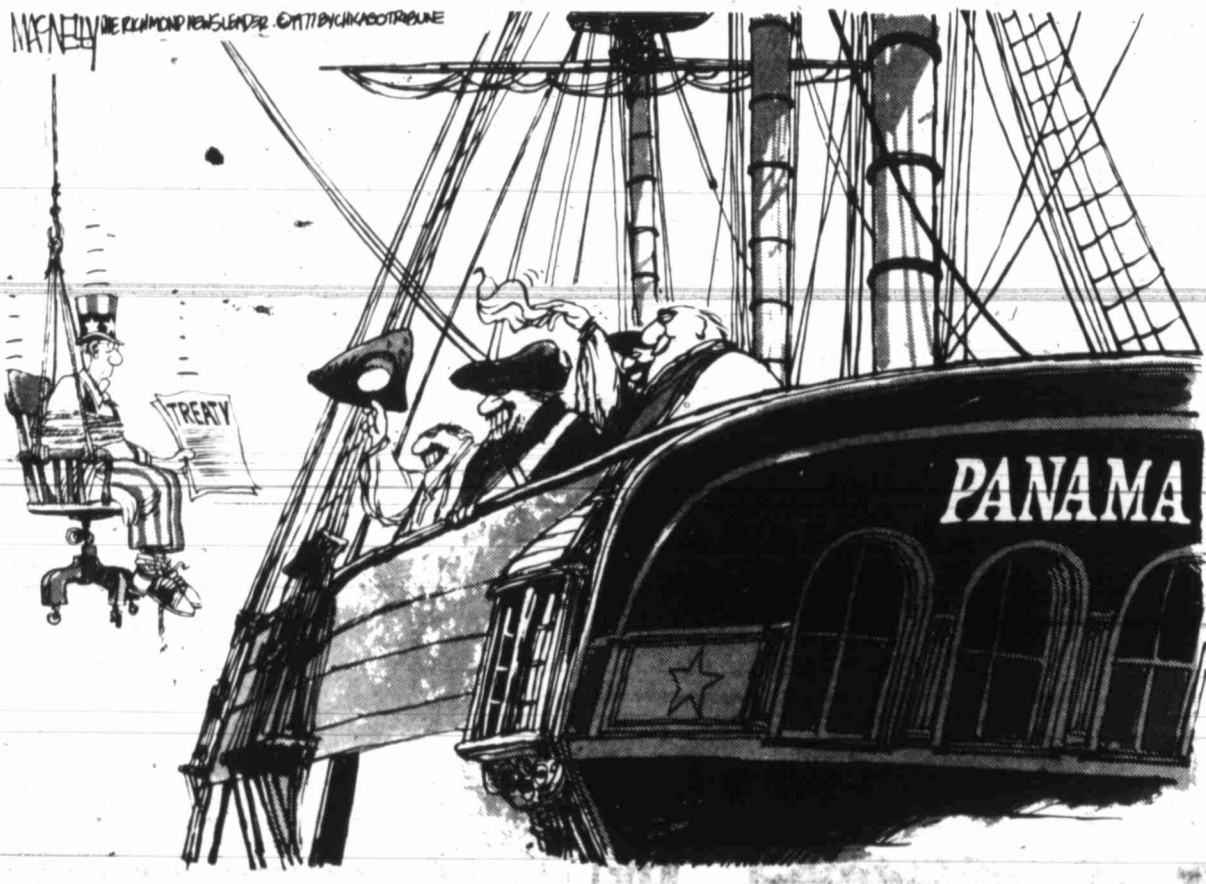

Soviet meddling in Yugoslavia has failed to produce lasting political benefit for the Kremlin since the first Soviet-Yugoslav break in 1948. Relations between the Communist superpower and the first breakaway Communist country since then have run hot and cold.

THIS LATEST shift by Brezhnev to unexpected all-out support of Tito with unprecedented warmth is ironic: while proving the failure of past efforts to undermine Tito, it sets the stage for a dangerously different post-Tito assault on Yugoslavia, claiming a deviation from today's apparent intimacy.

In their private sessions in Belgrade last November, Brezhnev squeezed Tito hard to grant Moscow major military assets in Yugoslavia, as follows: the right to overfly Yugoslav territory, for transport of military materiel to African countries or for any other reason; the right to build what would amount to a fully-equipped Soviet naval base at Yugoslavia's Adriatic port of Tivat-Kotor; a new military arrangement which would help bridge the gap between the Warsaw Pact and non-aligned Yugoslavia.

Tito flatly refused these and other Soviet "requests," which sometimes were couched by the imperious Brezhnev more in terms of outright demands than requests. This confrontation, behind closed doors in Belgrade, was not at all reflected in the official communiqué.

Two weeks ago in Moscow, not one of these demands was made by the very same team of Soviet negotiators, headed by Brezhnev, that Tito had faced down in Belgrade. This time, the official communiqué did not accurately reflect the excessive warmth of their meetings in Moscow when Brezhnev pinned more medals on Tito's chest than ever had been received before by a leader outside the Soviet orbit.

THAT'S MY FINAL OFFER — TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT.

Spine problem causes leg symptoms

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had continual pain in the small of my back and my doctor has recommended surgery. I am told I have "spondylolisthesis of the L-5-S-1 vertebrae." I haven't made my decision on surgery yet.

Another physician did tests and X rays to check for rheumatoid arthritis because of the aches and pains in my hips, thighs, and knees. The tests came back negative. Is it possible that the problem in my legs can also be due to spondylolisthesis? — Mrs. C.A.S.

Not only possible but likely. Before tackling that six-cylinder word, let me digress. Because there are so many references to vertebrae in question, I believe it might be well to have a brief anatomy lesson before getting to the nub of your letter.

The spinal column is made up of 33 vertebrae (bony segments). This arrangement allows the spine the flexibility needed for people to move about — bend, and so on. For convenience the segments are listed in five categories according to their place in the column. The group up by the neck are called the "cervical," or "C" for short. From top to bottom these are known as the "C1," "C2," etc. Next in line are the thoracic (T) vertebrae, the lumbar (L) in the lower back, the sacral (S), and finally the coccygeal at the base of the spine.

Spondylolisthesis is a kind of overlapping of one vertebral section over another, in your case the fifth lumbar (L5) over the first sacral (S1). Since X rays revealed the condition, that is the likely cause of your leg problems. Any disarrangement of such vertebral sections (as from injury) can cause pressure on nerve roots there. The nerves in the area of the lower back serve the hips and legs, accounting for your pains there.

There are too many factors that only your doctor knows about for me to try to help you decide for or against your surgery. However, preserving nerve function is always a prime consideration in spinal column disorders. If you remain in doubt your doctor may suggest that you get a second opinion, which would be a good idea, I think.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: It seems to me I read somewhere that handling cats when you are pregnant can somehow affect the fetus, causing the child to develop defective eyesight in later life. Is there anything to this? Send me your nails booklet. — H.H.C.

Cats can be a source of a disease called toxoplasmosis. If the mother is infected, the fetus may be, and it can affect the eyes. One should use caution especially handling a cat litter box, the prime source of the germ.

You might have the cat checked by a veterinarian if that is your situation. But not all cats have toxoplasmosis, so handling a healthy cat is not a problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read in your column recently where you called liquid weight loss programs horrible. I would like to know more. I thought they contained plenty of vitamins. — C.P.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I believe I am a Christian, although I am not certain of this fact. The reason I am not certain is that I am continually subjected to certain temptations over which I have no control. How can I avoid these temptations? — G.R.

DEAR G. R.: Remember even our Lord was "in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Hebrew 4:15). No one is without temptation although there are many who do not recognize it.

After we yield to temptation many times, we fail to see that we are tempted. The more we resist temptation, the more aware you will become of its presence. Now, the really important thing is not that you are tempted, but whether or not you yield. Yielding to temptation is the downfall of character. Therefore, I would say that inasmuch as you are tempted you are normal, for all are tempted.

The victory over temptation is victory indeed, and when you have confronted temptation and resisted it you have become stronger for it. If you find you are utterly unable to resist the temptation, always remember that "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape" (Corinthians 10:13).

Sure they do, but vitamins aren't going to supply the bulk needed to keep bowels functioning properly let alone the chewing needed for dental health. These are my chief concerns about liquid diets. I stand by my statement.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother is 77 and has been taking blood pressure pills for two years. We didn't learn until last month that she should eat foods rich in potassium while taking them.

She has developed pain and stiffness in her knees. She does not have arthritis. I read your column cautioning older people who are taking blood pressure pills to be careful about not replacing the potassium lost. Now we wonder if it could be the pills that are causing the pains. — A.L.

It's a possibility, and joint disturbances would be among the symptoms. Potassium is available in most foods, but the amount can vary widely in different samples of the same foods. Have your mother tested to see if she is losing too much potassium. There are high blood pressure pills that minimize the loss of this valuable mineral.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Tip implicated

Had the two men been talking?

WASHINGTON — Suzi Park Thomson, the glamour girl of the Korean scandal, has implicated House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill in secret testimony before the committee last week. Until then, Ms. Thomson, a former Girl Friday for retired Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., had stubbornly resisted answering questions in secret session for the panel. She would rather testify in public, she said. She finally appeared for a closed-door hearing only after being threatened with a Contempt-of-Congress citation.

There is an unwritten rule on Capitol Hill that the "gentlemen" in Congress do not openly talk about one another. But hard-driving Republican freshman Bruce Caputo of New York is more interested in the facts than in backscratching his colleagues. It was he who dared to broach the O'Neill-Park relationship.

The questioning of Thomson had been tedious and a few bored souls in the hearing room had been nodding. Then came Caputo's turn to question the witness. What had been the nature of the relationship, Caputo bluntly demanded, between Speaker O'Neill and Tongsun Park, the alleged payoff man who fled the country to avoid being questioned in the Korean affair.

Heads popped up. An electric tension penetrated the atmosphere of the hearing room. Ms. Thomson's attorney, Philip Hirschkop, asked Caputo to be more specific.

Caputo, one of the few lawmakers on the ethics panel who seems prepared to let the chips fall where they may, retorted with a more precise question. Had Ms. Thomson attended a party where O'Neill and Park were present?

"Yes," the petite divorcee replied tersely.

MS. THOMSON PARRIED the question. She supposed they had said hello, she stated, but she hadn't made any effort to follow their conversation. The inquisitive New Yorker pressed her. Had it been a "serious" discussion, say in a corner of the room?

The witness continued to dance around the questions. She didn't watch things like that, she said politely.

The party Caputo was speaking of had been thrown by Park in honor of O'Neill's birthday. It was one of two Park soirees at which O'Neill had reportedly been the guest of honor. Now, continued Caputo, what exactly was the nature of the O'Neill-Park liaison?

Congressmen and staff members waited while Thomson turned to Hirschkop for a quiet conversation. The lawyer encouraged her to talk freely.

Haltingly, Thomson then recounted how Park's secretary had occasionally called Carl Albert's office in search of her boss. Park, it seems, had left a message that he would be with the "leader." The secretary had mistakenly called Albert instead of O'Neill, who was then the majority leader.

Thomson had then called O'Neill's office and left a message for Park to call her. The Korean millionaire had indeed dropped by O'Neill's office, picked up his message and called her, Thomson testified.

According to our sources, incidentally, it was not uncommon for O'Neill and the Korean man-about-town to be together. O'Neill's staff, say insiders, often took messages for Park.

Dear Editor:

I would like to commend Karen Earls on her editorial concerning the problem of teens on parking lots.

The parking lots along Gregg Street are my hang-outs as they are for the majority of young people in Big Spring. I've been sitting on those parking lots talking with friends for over a year now and not once have I seen any type of vandalism by a teenager. Sure there is littering — people are littering all over this town. But I'm sure if there were more litter barrels around town, and especially on parking lots, there would be fewer messes.

Some good friends of mine received citations the other night for criminal trespassing. My friends are not criminals. They were just having a friendly conversation. Yes, there was a no trespassing sign but it was not clearly visible in the dark.

I don't believe this type of treatment is fair. I can understand giving someone a citation if he's being noisy, littering or causing trouble, but for just being parked and talking. That's senseless.

There are not that many things to do in Big Spring and even if there were the kids wouldn't do it. Because the thing to do now is cruise up and down the drag and gang up on parking lots. That is fun too.

Now that there is a crack down on trespassers the kids are forced to find something else to do. Like maybe stay home and argue with their parents, or even try to get into a club or bar. Then, of course, there are going to be some rebels who will protest and really start causing some trouble.

And doesn't John Law have more important things to do than ride up and down Gregg busting teeny boppers? There is real crime in this town that needs to be taken care of. Why isn't one extra patrol car put out on the streets to stop crime instead of ticketing high schoolers?

I agree there are a few teenaged trouble makers but they're a minority. Most of use are decent kids who have no intention of damaging property.

And when the city council was deciding our fate were there any teenagers there to defend themselves? Just because we're minors doesn't mean we don't have an opinion.

I just hope that my generation is different from the present one. I hope we're able to recognize the needs of teenagers and meet them.

Colonel 'roasted' after flight

Some 5,281 flying hours ago a young aviation cadet climbed into a T-6 trainer to begin his Air Force flying career.

That was in 1951. Twenty-six years later last Monday that same man climbed out of a T-38 trainer to end a long and distinguished flying career. Col. Harry A. Spannaus, commander of the 78th Flying Training Wing, had completed his last Air Force flying mission.

Capt. Tom Michaelis, Public Information officer at Webb, rode with Spannaus on the mission. Following the flight, Michaelis gave this report:

"I was fortunate enough to fly with Col. Spannaus on that mission. We flew a "standard" formation profile with Col. Jay T. Gannaway and Lt. Col. Arthur Burer in the other airplane. The day was near perfect for flying. It was cool, a nice breeze was blowing, and there were some beautiful clouds in our flying area.

"I am a six-year captain with 1,800 hours of flying time. Some will say I'm an experienced pilot, but not in comparison with Col. Spannaus. I learned a lot on that mission with the colonel. He didn't know it, but he was instructing me.

"And after that last flight what do you say to a man who has spent his entire adult working life as an Air Force officer and pilot? If there is a universal correct answer I don't know. But, I'll tell you what I said. As I reached to shake his hand I simply said, "Thank you Colonel!"

Follow pilots toasted Spannaus following his last flight by 'hosing him down' and pouring champagne over his head. Cols. Arthur Burer and John Gannaway were handcuffed to Spannaus and shared in the roasting.

Capt. Frederick Riccardi, Chief of Webb's Security Police, was present to "read" the three their "rights."

Crucial days ahead for Vance

WASHINGTON (AP) — For Bert Lance, there are crucial days just ahead as Congress comes back to town, presumably bearing a message from the voters.

That may be the signal that determines whether Lance will go or remain as director of the Office of Management and Budget.

So far, there is no real evidence that the controversy over Lance's personal finances and banking transactions has become a political issue nationally. It has been a central topic in Washington, but that is not the same thing.

And a major phase of the Lance case has been played during the capital's summer doldrums, with Congress away for vacation, politicking and pulse-checking at home.

As a result, congressional commentary on the Lance matter has been scattered and muted. But after Labor Day, school will be in, and there soon will be choruses of comment — pro and con — on Capitol Hill.

Senators and House members tend to do more talking on such issues when they are together than when they are apart. It's contagious.

What one member says, on or off the floor, another seconds and a third disputes. As that process unfolds, the full impact of the controversy over Lance, and the political cost to President Carter, may become clearer.

Not that the side with the most voices, or the loudest ones, will necessarily get its way. But the depth and duration of the debate cannot go unnoticed at the White House.

For as determined as Carter has been to keep the aide he says has done nothing illegal or even improper, there is a limit to the political capital he can wisely spend defending Lance, whose financial transactions were hardly tidy.

On Wednesday, while Carter signs the new Panama Canal treaty with a burst of diplomatic pomp, the government's chief banking overseer will go before a Senate committee to testify on the Lance case. Lance himself is due before the panel on Thursday.

That is at least a division as the administration heads into a difficult campaign for Senate ratification of the treaty.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell has been heavily committed to the defense of Carter's budget director. It has not been an easy role, given the persistent, sometimes repetitious, questioning of newsmen, and Powell's irritation often shows.

Reporting that the White House mail was running two to one against Lance, Powell

Another McClure in Marines

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Another Texan named Pvt. McClure is going through Marine basic training at a seaside base where the death of his uncle after a training exercise caused the Marine Corps to tighten its enlistment policies.

But William McClure Jr. doesn't like to talk about the December 1975 incident that led to his uncle's death four months later at a Veterans Administration hospital in Houston.

Pvt. Lynn E. McClure asked for trouble, the 18-year-old nephew suggested in a recent interview at the nation's largest Marine base.

He "wasn't mentally unbalanced, but he was slow at doing things. If he didn't have to do it, he didn't want to do it."

Lynn McClure, 22, of Lufkin, Tex., was injured during a drill using pugil sticks, padded sticks used to teach close combat. He lapsed into a coma, never regained consciousness and died four months later.

Marine enlistment policies were later tightened after it was disclosed that McClure was an abnormally slow learner who had a record of minor police scrapes before he signed up.

Marine officials were ordered to closely check drill sergeants and to report any abuses. Three drill sergeants and three other officers who supervised McClure's unit were court-martialed or reprimanded and a colonel was reassigned.

A $21 million wrongful death suit filed by McClure's family was dismissed last May when a federal court in nearby San Diego ruled that the federal government was immune from prosecution.

William McClure said he met his uncle 10 years ago during a visit to his older brother's home. William said he "didn't get along" with his uncle and saw him only occasionally in the years since.

His uncle's death had nothing to do with his decision to enlist, said William, a dark-haired, slightly built youth.

In his basic training, William is undergoing the same pugil stick training that resulted in his uncle's death.

$110,000 bail posted by Freeman

Maj. Harold Roy Freeman was called into the Howard County Sheriff's office Thursday to post bond on two additional charges which were filed in June in 118th District Court.

Freeman posted an additional $30,000 bond, bringing the total bond posted for him to $110,000. Freeman faces six counts of sex crimes both with his natural children and with the children of his wife, Carol Ann Freeman.

Freeman has one bond covered by Ike's Bonding Service, three by his defense attorney George Gilkerson, and two by Continental Bonding Service.

is retiring

Bob Johnson, formerly manager of the C.R. Anthony store in Seminole, assumed duties here Sept. 1 as manager of the Big Spring store.

He replaces Cuin Grigsby, longtime store manager here, who retired. Grigsby was honored by fellow employees and by store officials from the head office. He was presented a special memorial watch and commended for his years of service.

Grigsby went to work for C.R. Anthony on Sept. 1, 1929 47 years ago at Stillwater, Okla. From there he went to Cleveland, Okla.

He opened the Big Spring store in 1941 and has helped open approximately 15 stores in this area of the state. He has helped place 33 managers from the company in this part of the state. Many of these men are still working for the company, including Johnson, who is taking the helm here.

Johnson at one time worked for Grigsby in the local store prior to going to Seminole as manager.

Need students for Head Start

The federal Head Start program held at Lakeview School has room for 57 more students. The program is designed to begin the education process in children three years, six months to five years. The educators stress that it is not a program either for day care or for mentally retarded children. It is an educational experience to ready children for kindergarten.

The program runs on weekdays from 8:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. It is urgent that applicants register for the free program as soon as possible, bringing a birth certificate and shot record with them.

For further information, call 3-7401 or 7-6721.

NEW MANAGER — Bob Johnson, shown at the left, is receiving keys to the C.R. Anthony store here from Cuin Grigsby, who has been manager of the local store ever since it opened in 1941. Grigsby officially retired on Sept. 1 and was honored by the company for his years of service.

Americans' families to leave Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — The chief U.S. diplomat in Cuba says he hopes several Americans can leave for the United States "in a matter of days."

Other U.S. sources, however, say the families won't leave before late next week at the earliest.

The head of the new U.S. interest section here, veteran diplomat Lyle Lane, says his 10-member mission's first priority is helping Americans who want to return to the United States with their Cuban families plus a handful of other Americans in Cuban jails.

Responsibility for U.S. affairs in Cuba shifted from Swiss to American hands on Thursday with the formal opening of the U.S. interest section.

The ceremony marked an end to more than 16 years of official hostility between Havana and Washington. A news conference afterward, Lane said, "It is clear that the Cuban government as well as our own looks at this as a significant step."

Since President Fidel Castro agreed last month to let the Americans' families leave, Lane said, the Swiss have found only 22 families who wanted to go and 20 others who don't.

Forty-two families either haven't responded or haven't been located, he said.

But Lane conceded that the process of finding the families and seeing what they want to do is proving more difficult than anticipated.

He also said paperwork required to process those wishing to leave has proved a burden to Cuban officials. The families include 120 persons with U.S. citizenship. They have always been free to leave Cuba themselves but elected to stay because their Cuban relatives could not go along.

Castro dropped this restriction following an appeal by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, during a visit here last month.

Bangor music

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — The Bangor Symphony will open its 1977-78 season with a Chamber Series Concert in Portland Hall given by the symphony's chamber orchestra.

The full orchestra will include among its repertoire in the coming season Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Scheherzade" and Verdi's "Otello."

Among attractions in the chamber series are Aston Magna, a group that per-

You've seen the sign on 1520 — Dorn Road. Well there's also a Dorn church. Only it's not on Dorn road. It's on the next road to the east.

BEEN THERE AWHILE
... Dorn Chapel

There's a historical marker on that chapel, and it is still an active church.

The marker says it was organized in March 1891 with the Rev. J. W. Montgomery as the first pastor. The church was built by J. M. Dorn and his neighbors.

That was the father of M. P. Dorn, whose widow still lives a few miles away from the chapel.

The marker also pointed out that it was used as a school and a community meeting place. In 1905, they renovated the original chapel. When the chapel was first built, the pews were planks sitting on top of kegs.

There's a little cemetery next to the chapel. Some of the Dorns in that cemetery include a William Dorn, born Sept. 29, 1898 who died April 24, 1975. There was an Arthur A. Dorn, born in 1874 who died in 1931 and a Jessie Dorn born in 1871 who died in 1954. There was an infant marker for an Inez Dorn. There are other persons than Dorns in the cemetery but they have a prominent place near the gate.

John Melvin Dorn's son was Melvin P. Dorn. He also has been buried in the Dorn Cemetery, having died on March 23, 1967.

His widow was born in Bell County on Oct. 26, 1896 and moved with her family to Mitchell County. She met M. P. Dorn in — yes you guessed it — the Dorn Chapel when she was there at church. And when she was "14, going on 15," they got married. They married in the Plainview Baptist Church which was on land donated by her family.

They had six children — many of whom still reside around this part of the state.

The Rev. C. C. Dorn, who was a Methodist pastor, is deceased. Another son, James W. Dorn lives in a house on the Dorn place. It's still a little way farther, after you turn right and go east and then north and then left to James' house and then east again to his mother's Dorn place.

Junior Dorn (M.P.) lives in Coahoma and two of the daughters, Mrs. Virginia Worley and Mrs. H. R. Bell live in Colorado City. The other daughter, Mrs. Lucille Jarrett, lives halfway between the Dorn place and enough.

The Dorns have big trees, on their place. The trees are big because they've been there awhile and because they've been well cared for.

Mrs. Dorn said when they put the Colorado Lake and put a road to the lake, it completely confused her on old landmarks and roads around the Dorn property.

"But everything has to change," she added.

She did not consider herself an authority on Dorn. After all, she just moved to Mitchell County in 1909. Most folks would consider that long enough ago to be an oldtimer.

But Mrs. Dorn said, "Don't ask me about early Dorn. I haven't been here long enough."

But it's a wonderful family

HILLCREST BAPTIST CHURCH

Worry is like a rocking horse; it keeps you going, but it gets you nowhere. Many fail to distinguish between intelligent concern on one hand and lopsided concern on the other. The advice of Jesus given in the Sermon on the Mount does not say, "Take no thought for tomorrow," as one translation contends. As a matter of fact, most of what He said added up to exactly the opposite. Taking thought for tomorrow is the essence of discipleship. Where would the church — or the nation — be, if thought were not taken for the future? His parables about the soils, the talents, the man building a tower — yes, most of them fit under the heading of thought-taking in proper degree about the future. Jesus did say, "Be not distracted about tomorrow." Distraction is that befuddled state of affairs when one tries to go in two directions at once. Arriving at a "Y" in life's roads, distraction would have the traveler going forward on neither road.

Nowhere did the Saviour imply that people who follow Him are to be shifting, unprepared lot, floating in naive detachment. Such would not be faith but foolishness. Yet, after a man has sat down and figured the cost of his tower and started construction, then to refigure, reappraise, and never permit the kind of security which comes when one has done his best is merely to drop in that old rut of worry and to rob the construction of its fine potential joy.

Big Spring Steers vs Andrews Mustangs--8 p.m.

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

Tonight at Memorial Stadium, promptly at 8 o'clock, the Big Spring Steers officially open the 1977 football season against the Andrews Mustangs.

Much has been said about the Ponies' head signal-caller Booger Brooks. The bronic buster from that powerful, grid-oriented school should put on quite a performance in Big Spring tonight, if he even lives up to half his reputation.

Brooks, a 180-pound senior, led his team to a 21-6 victory over the Steers last year on his own home turf. That night, he combined his running skills and infrequent, but deadly, passing artistry, to total 305 total yards offense against the Bovines.

Despite two scrimmages that were somewhat less than spectacular, Andrews is expected again this year to beat the locals. Brooks, and fullback Joe Don Barnes, who some people indicate weighs more in the neighborhood of 200 or 205 pounds rather than his listed 190, will head up a potent ground game.

From a first glance at both rosters, the situation, weight-wise looks pretty grim for the Steers. But on closer examination, when both starting squads are lined up against each other, the story is rather a close one.

The Andrews offensive line averages in at 181½ pounds. The Steer defensive down linemen weigh in at a 190-pound clip, and the entire local defensive line averages 178 pounds... close all the way.

The Mustang backfield averages 173-pounds and the Andrews overall offensive starting club averages 178-pounds. Big Spring's linebackers average 164 pounds and the safeties weigh in at a 162 pound average. The entire defensive 11 for the locals adds up to a little under a ton — 1,961 pounds. That's an average of 178 pounds.

That couldn't be closer. Andrews' offense averages 178 pounds and the Longhorns' defense averages 178. No edge there.

The Steer offensive line averages in at 180-pounds. That compares to the Andrews defensive down linemen's bulk of a 189-pound average. The Steer backfield weighs 177 a man, while the Mustang linebackers average 164-pounds and the safeties come in at 162.

Overall, the Mustang defense averages 177 pounds a man. The Steers weigh in offensively at 179-pounds per man. A slight edge for Big Spring there. Considering of course that it is the player behind the weight and not the weight itself, and also considering that listed weights are not always precise, the comparison may not be that important.

Still, the locals are not grossly out-weighted. And they will attempt to prevent being grossly out-played.

The Steers almost have a clean bill of health. Joey Vasquez (wrenched knee) and Eddie Puga (sprained ankle) were in the whirlpool bath this morning, but Coach Don Robbins thinks the two will be ready for tonight's action. The rest of the herd is in top-flight physical condition.

The meeting tonight will be a sort of homecoming for two of the Mustangs, senior twins Weldon and Eldon Jones. They lived in Big Spring when they were in grade school. Their father, who was also a twin, was in the paving business here. Their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Jones, still live here.

Andrews is expected to bring over 2,000 fans to see the game. All Steer fans are urged to attend and support in top-flight physical condition.

Will the real dummy please stand up?

What happens when politics, an overkill number of rules and adult jealousies invade high school athletic programs? Programs which are meant to build the character of America's youth? Those programs are made mockeries, that's what happens?

The current chapter of "University Interscholastic League: Behind Closed Doors" began Tuesday, Aug. 23, when the UIL "suggested" to the District

5-4A Executive Committee that it better do something about Midland Lee's violation of highly coveted and equally vague rule No. 24, which prohibits the use of contact equipment (pads) in football practices before a certain date.

Jim Cree's crew at Midland Lee was not aware that it was in violation of the rules. Those pads used which faulted Lee looked more like lifeboat preservers than contact equipment, and the rule against them was so vague, an estimated 100 different schools throughout the state used them, including most of the schools in District 5-4A.

Big Spring and Odessa now have been accused of the same violation. Whether those two schools are proven to have been in violation is of little consequence now. The harshest fine that could be levied would be a year's probation, a mere slap on the wrist, telling the schools to watch it and not let it happen again.

Minor violations of UIL rules have been going on for a long time, so say the old-timers. And the violations have been more numerous in recent years, as the hydra-headed monster in Austin has been piling more and more restrictive regulations on the districts, many of them downright unhealthy.

The recent house-cleaning at the UIL has not seemed to change things. Somewhere there are a bunch of old fuddy-duddies revelling in presenting new and unnecessary regulations to that governing board.

No one ever asks why the UIL doesn't stick other high school activities, band, drama, speech, debate and other programs with the same plethora of useless garbage. Only in athletics are the rules so numerous and so complex that coaches are in violation of them without even knowing, and are in such ignorance of their misdeeds that they allow television camera crews to film such no-nos. That doesn't sound like your typical sneaky violation.

"The more rules there are, the more they get broken, the theory holds up logically. One coach in the area said, "They're legislating these boys into mediocrity. It's senseless!"

Surely there must be guidelines to practice, but those guidelines needn't be self-defeating. August in Texas, any part of Texas, is very hot. Football practice in Texas begins in August. Football players in August in Texas aren't even allowed to wear a hat to shield the searing heat... violation of rules you see.

Abilene High School was placed on probation for violation of Rule 24 back in March. Evidently they (Eagles) were using the large blocking dummies in direct violation of the rule. Fine, Coach Louie Spinks admitted that the dummies were on the field during a "fun" day. The dummies were being used as an obstacle rather than a bumping tool.

But the opposition to Spinks' defense was that "the issue here is that the dummies were being used. Whether or not they were being hit is not an issue."

That egg is grade A UIL, and it shouldn't have been in the icebox in the first place.

The American way stresses striving for certain goals, making oneself better in whatever field of endeavor one chooses. Rules that hinder those drives, without any valuable effect being seen from them, are disgraceful. They do indeed promote "mediocrity."

SMU coach Sonny Allen could've put a dent in the UIL's armor this year. He was taking them to court over the rule that prohibits a high school basketball player from competing in summer basketball camps. His son wanted to attend a summer camp to better himself in the sport. The suit was withdrawn by Allen.

Not until someone has the guts, money or whatever it takes to take the UIL to court will the rules again be suited to favor the betterment of high school sports, instead of the whims of lawmakers.

If other high school students can attend summer camps, for example, a band member, and use their instruments and practice as much as they want, measures must be made for athletes.

Otherwise, the dirty-dealing and name-calling that is currently in full flower in District 5-4A will continue, and that is not good for the sport, the people of the communities and most importantly, the athletes.

5-4A heads to meet

SAN ANGELO — District 5-4A Committee Chairman Dr. James Nevins of San Angelo announced Thursday that an Executive Committee meeting will be held next week, perhaps as early as Wednesday, to discuss allegations raised this week against three more conference schools.

The Big Spring Steers have evidently been caught up in the current controversy over the use of "pads" before the UIL prescribed date.

Videotapes of alleged violations and unsigned letters naming Big Spring, Odessa and Abilene High as violators are reportedly in the hands of UIL Athletic Director Bailey Marshall in Austin. Those tapes have been or will be turned over to the District 5-4A Executive Committee by the convening date, and steps may be taken against the three schools if violations are determined.

Abilene Athletic Director Shorty Lawson has already admitted that AHS was in violation of the rules last March.

The probable penalty for such misdeeds would be a one-year probation for the schools in question. No rights or privileges would be taken away from the league schools in that case. The period of time would merely be one of watchful waiting.

Midland Lee, on probation from the preceding year, was prohibited from winning the District 5-4A crown in 1977 for the same violation levelled at three other schools. However, Big Spring, Odessa and Abilene would be first time offenders.

Commentary

Robbins, Winder comment

Don Robbins of Big Spring and Dick Winder of Odessa, coaches whose schools have been informally accused of violations of UIL rules, this morning had choice comments that were brief and to the point concerning the current "pads" situation.

"I have no comment to make to a television man's accusations. I understand we're going to have a district meeting next week, and we'll discuss it there," the Steer coach commented.

And in discussing a subject unheard thusfar in the controversy, Odessa High Head Coach Dick Winder told the Herald this morning: "Before such accusations are made, the main thing to remember is that the kids are the ones that are involved the greatest, and the ones who will get hurt."

"I think the press has an obligation to have the evidence on hand before it presents such accusations," Winder said, in obvious reference to the use of unsigned letters as "proof" by various news media.

Steerettes open BIG!

ANDREWS — The Big Spring High School volleyball squads picked up where they left off last year, sweeping all three games from the Fillies Thursday night.

The local freshman teamed topped Andrews 15-2, 15-11, with Holly Peurifoy being commended by Coach Nancy Deason for set play. Deason also singled out Jackie Rose, high point server with eight points.

The Junior Varsity won 9-15, 15-10, 15-3. Brenda Beil was highpointer with 13, while Penny Ray had nine. Misty Vailos and Debbie Wiggins were also commended for their strong offensive work.

The Steerette varsity whipped Andrews 15-4, 15-8, with Karen Tibbs garnering 15 points. Becky Ragan, Rose Magers and Sherry Kelley were outstanding on offense and defense, according to their coach, and Cassandra Green and Karen Tibbs were noted for strong backcourt play. "It was a good general team effort," Deason said.

The opening home game for the volleyballers will be this Saturday afternoon against Pecos: Freshmen at 2 p.m., J.V.'s at 3 p.m., and varsity at 4 p.m.

Pokes, Oilers to vie for title

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini won't be punting and Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach won't be playing at all Saturday night when the two teams meet in the Astrodome in a National Football League exhibition game.

Danny White will again fill in for Staubach, who is recovering from a leg injury in hopes of being ready for the Cowboys' final preseason game Sept. 8 against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Pastorini, who starts a controversy almost every time he opens his mouth, reacted to the waiving of two prospective punters Thursday by saying he would not handle Oiler punting chores unless he got extra pay.

Oiler Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips said he never had any plans to use Pastorini as a punter and signed free agent Rich Sanger to punt against the Cowboys.

Phillips says he understands his quarterback.

"They (some of Pastorini's statements) don't always come out like he means them," Phillips said of his disgruntled signal caller, who has asked repeatedly to be traded. "He may say he's not going to do it but it's what he does that counts. He'll do whatever is necessary to help this team."

After hearing that punter Danny Lee, who had been used in Houston's previous exhibition games, had been cut along with Mike Green, another punting prospect, Pastorini however had said he wanted more compensation.

"This is my option season and I don't intend to risk my career by punting," Pastorini said. "You're naked back there. Anybody that wants to can punt me out and all it's gonna cost them is a 15-yard penalty."

Phillips said he is sticking to his preseason plan of finding a punter. "We don't want to take the change of the quarterback getting hit and also losing the punter like happened last year," Phillips said.

Pastorini doubled as the Oiler punter last season until he was sidelined for three games with broken ribs. His career average is 39.9 yards per punt but it dipped to 36.7 last year.

Dallas comes into the game with a 2-2 exhibition record while the Oilers are 1-3 after Monday's 17-3 victory over San Francisco.

Oiler running backs Ronnie Coleman and Fred Willis, starters last year, will be starting for the first time as a unit this season. Coleman has been recovering from hepatitis and Willis is recuperating from a shoulder injury.

Rookie running backs Tim Wilson and Rob Carpenter, among the biggest surprises of the Oilers training camp, have handled starting duties in previous games.

Aggies, apes and angels . . . not especially in that order

MAKING A MONKEY OF HIS OPPONENT—Tennis star Ilie Nastase watches Kelley the Chimp go fetch the ball during a dress rehearsal in New York Monday for "Super Night at Forest Hills." The rehearsal at the West Side Tennis Club was for a 60-minute television salute to the U.S. Open Tennis Championship scheduled to be aired on CBS-TV on Sept. 9.

JOY VICTORY BRINGS—Tracy Austin, a 14-year-old tennis wonder of Rolling Hills, Calif., overcomes a nervous start to beat Heidi Eisterlehner of West Germany in the second round play of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships at New York's West Side Tennis Club Thursday. Miss Austin let out her joy as she scored the match point to down her opponent in 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

GETTING INTO THE AGGIE SPIRIT—Texas A&M University Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Emory Bellard leads yells during the first school-year yell practice at G. Rollie White Coliseum. Students and faculty members joined in the practice to get the Aggie spirit started rolling for the upcoming football season.

No U.S. Open surprises

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Virginia Wade turned away the adventuring Renee Richards.

Chris Evert politely thrashed her first-round opponent.

And the two top male seeds, Bjorn Borg and Jimmy Connors, flicked away their rivals like pieces of dust, despite injuries that delayed their first appearances.

Dr. Richards, the 43-year-old transsexual who went to court for the right to play here, got her chance Thursday, but lost to the Wimbledon champion 6-1, 6-4. The second set gave cause for alarm as Dr. Richards took the fourth and fifth games before Ms. Wade regained her service.

Miss Evert disposed of Sharon Walsh of Mill Valley, Calif., 6-0, 6-1, and looked as though she were doing little more than a light workout in the 90-degree muggy air.

Top-seeded Borg overcame an aching shoulder to eliminate Trey Waltke of St. Louis, and defending champion Connors, whose back had ailed him for several days, set aside Jasjit Singh of Grossinger, N.Y., 6-2, 6-0.

Borg, Connors and Miss Evert faced second-round opponents today. Borg was to meet John James of Australia, while Connors plays Bob Lutz of San Clemente, Calif., tonight. Miss Evert was to battle Pam Whytcross of Australia.

Dr. Richards clearly was nervous as Ms. Wade bounced about the court accurately returning and delivering piercing volleys.

But she was smiling and dignified after the match as she said, "I can't think of losing 6-1, 6-4 as a victory of any kind, moral or otherwise. But it was certainly a big experience for me."

"I'm in very good condition," she said. "But it's not all physical; it's partially mental. And nervous exhaustion can take its toll physically just the way running from side to side does during a match."

Dr. Richards had had an emotionally torturing year since she underwent an operation to change her sex. The Open is the first major tournament she has been allowed to enter as a woman. A state Supreme Court judge said the chromosome tests required of her before were discriminatory.

Miss Evert, starting her first major tournament since losing startlingly to Ms. Wade in the Wimbledon semifinals, was frank about her feeling that the Open will be essential to maintaining her dominance in the women's field.

"It means a lot to me," she said. "I'm really psyched for this. Ever since the day I lost Wimbledon, I've been looking forward to coming here."

Borg and Connors came to their matches confidently and had no trouble passing their opponents. But each took a different view of what their injuries might mean to their chances in the Open.

The cautious 20-year-old Swede said there was no way he would risk seriously injuring himself for the sake of a shot at the Open title. "I know people expect me to win," he said, "but I'm not going to hurt myself just because the No. 1 ranking is at stake."

"It's important to take care of myself."

Borg's streaking serve was considerably slowed Thursday.

But Connors was playing at full strength and was adamant that he wouldn't change his style to accommodate his chronic back problem, apparently caused by a curvature of the spine.

Harris gets last laugh on Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Harris was bitter despite his earnest efforts to hide his feelings. As the first black quarterback to gain and hold regular status in the National Football League, he felt the Los Angeles Rams were wrong to demote him late in 1976.

He wasn't unhappy when the Rams traded him to the San Diego Chargers, and he set about earning a starting job there.

On Thursday night, the Chargers invaded the Rams' Coliseum home field, where Harris had been introduced for three seasons.

Even as a Charger, he was cheered on introduction and he thought, "That's one of the great cheers I've had."

The 30-year-old Harris responded with two touchdown passes in the first quarter — one going nine yards to Chuck Bradley and the second seven yards to Johnny Rodgers.

The Chargers won, 26-25, at the final gun, thanks not only to Harris but to a stellar performance by Rodgers.

After four seasons in the Canadian league, the Heisman Trophy winner from Nebraska came back to the National Football League and the coaches, fans and players are equally impressed.

"That Rodgers is unbelievable," declared Harris. "That one catch he made, I don't see how anybody could have made it."

Harris had thrown to Rodgers on a play starting at the Rams' 34. Rodgers made a diving catch at the 20, retained his balance and went in for the touchdown.

Then in the final minute, it was Rodgers who hauled in a 16-yard pass from Harris that gave the Chargers the ball at the three and set the situation for Tony Fritsch's 22-yard field goal just at the gun. Rodgers caught five passes for 80 yards. He returned three kickoffs for 74 and he brought two punts back 25. That totaled 179 for his night's work before the 55,946 in Memorial Coliseum.

Pat Haden, the former University of Southern California star who took over for Harris with the Rams late in the 1976 season, brought the Rams back from the 14-0 deficit with touchdown passes covering 32 yards to Terry Nelson and nine to Harold Jackson. The Rams went ahead on a safety and led 25-23 into the final minute before Fritsch hit his second field goal of the game — the first having come in the second period on a 36-yard boot at the gun that ended the first half.

Coach Tommy Prothro's Chargers are now 3-2 in the preseason while the Rams of Chuck Knox, who succeeded Prothro here, are 1-4.

Four preseason games are scheduled for tonight with Chicago at St. Louis, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Baltimore and Denver at Seattle.

In Saturday's games, Dallas plays at Houston, Cleveland is at Green Bay, San Francisco visits Oakland, New Orleans plays at Miami, Tampa Bay is at Buffalo and Minnesota at Cincinnati.

The New York Jets play the New York Giants and Washington is at New England Sunday. Monday night's game sends Atlanta to Kansas City.

St. Louis is the only NFL team without a preseason victory so far and the Cardinals hope to snap that four-game losing streak against Chicago.

"We're going to go with the veterans," St. Louis Coach Don Coryell said of tonight's game. "We've got to be ready on September 18 (when the season opens)."

Burns leads Buick Open

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — George Burns has already won over $100,000 on the Professional Golfers Association tour this year, but the 29-year-old former Maryland football player still isn't happy.

"I've had sort of an attitude problem," the second-year pro said following a blistering eight-under-par 64 that gave him a one-shot lead Thursday in the first round of the Buick Open.

How, Burns was asked, could one win $100,000 playing golf and not be happy?

"Well, I haven't won on the tour yet, and that's the name of the game out here," replied the 6-foot-2, 210-pounder. "I was so down I was going to skip this one — withdraw," he said, "but my father insisted that I play here, since I had committed. And now I'm glad I did."

Burns' sparkling score over the par-72, 6,902-yard Flint Elks Country Club layout wiped out the mark of 65 set in 1975 by pro George Cadie when the Buick was a satellite tour event.

"It's important to take

Mississippi State is wary of NTSU

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi State Coach Bob Tyler believes the multi-formation attack expected from North Texas State Saturday will prepare his 16th ranked Bulldogs for future football opponents.

But Tyler, remembering it took a final quarter touchdown pass to defeat the Texans 7-0 last year, said his Bulldogs aren't looking past the season opener.

"We know they'll be ready to play when they get here," Tyler said.

Meanwhile, Mean Green Coach Hayden Fry says Mississippi State, despite its national ranking, is still "very much underrated. They had a deep, talented team that was 9-2 last year and many of those people return." The Bulldogs are coming off a probation from the NCAA for recruiting violations and will be eligible for the first time in two years for bowl competition and the Southeastern Conference championship.

Both coaches expect their teams to be over practice bruises by Saturday but Fry said 22 players on his sick list last week had missed scrimmages "and we worry about their timing."

"North Texas is the kind of team you like to play in the opener," Tyler said. "They run out of so many formations that you'll probably see every formation that you'll face all season in one game."

"You've got to line up expecting anything, then react to each play."

Tyler and Fry said they expected a defensive battle. The Bulldogs, who have won all six previous games with North Texas, scored on a 31 yard pass from quarterback Bruce Threadgill to Robert Chatman for the winning touchdown last year.

Chatman and Threadgill, who has accumulated a total of 2,361 yards as a collegian, are among the returning starters in the Bulldogs' wishbone attack.

"We've had some success in the past few years in defending the wishbone and that gives me a little hope," Fry said. "Rather than have them exercise all three of our options, we'd like for our defense to dictate the option they select."

North Texas will have five returning starters on offense, including quarterback Ken Washington, and three starters back on defense.

FORSAN 'JUNIOR' POWER — The Forsan Buffaloes open their 1977 season at home tonight against Bronte in Buffalo Stadium at 8 p.m. Figuring to play a prominent role in tonight's action are juniors Randy Cregar (38), Angel Miranda (11) and Rusty Henderson (42). The Buffs are a young team this year and will be relying heavily on their underclassmen in the grid wars.

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPT. 3, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There could be a number of delays in whatever you try to put in motion today as well as some confusion as to the exact procedure to take to be successful. Keep alert at all times.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have fine creative thoughts now that need to be worked out in detail if they are to be successful. An associate can be helpful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't be frustrated because some personal aim has not been attained. Take steps to improve your health and appearance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Remove any stumbling blocks in the path of your progress today. Not a good day for social affairs. Take time for informative reading.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Sidestep an argument with a friend since you are both at odds where views are concerned. Relax at home tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you feel frustrated because an outside activity is not working out right, consult an authority who can be helpful. Be careful in motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to expand but this is not the right time to do so. Be more concerned with improving your financial status.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your responsibilities can be handled well now if you use that determined attitude for which you are well known. Safeguard your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Think more about your associates' needs and less of your own and come to a better rapport with them. Engage in favorite hobby.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Complete whatever you have begun and forget about new interests for now. Strive for increased happiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show your particular abilities to higher-ups and gain their support and become more successful. Take time out for recreation.

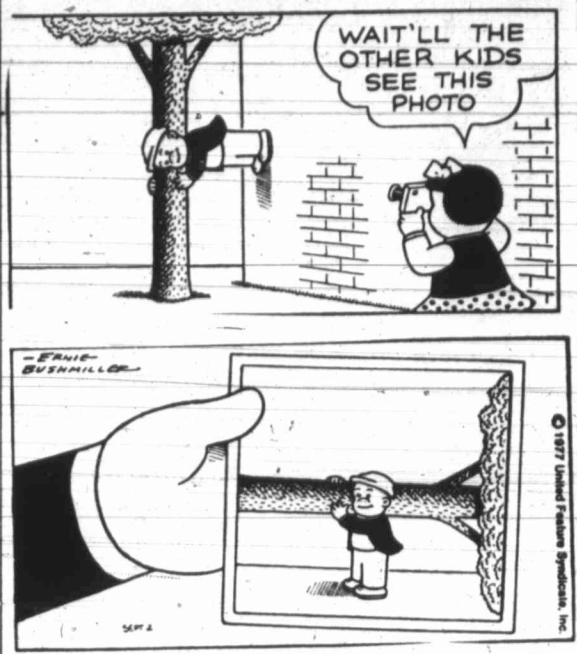

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to solve a problematical affair at home in a diplomatic way and establish more harmony there. Avoid an argument.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use particular care in motion and avoid possible accident. Don't lose your temper with a friend who may have acted foolishly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be very good at solving puzzles and could become a great troubleshooter. The education should be directed along such lines, particularly where police and government work is concerned. Do not neglect ethical training.

Reception Sunday marks wedding anniversary

Geography had a hand in the events which climax Sunday in a reception marking the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G.G. Morehead.

Their daughter, sons and daughters-in-law are hosting a tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 704 Highland, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sharing in the occasion are seven granddaughters and their respective husbands and a great-grandchild.

The Moreheads have been residents of Big Spring for two score years and have figured prominently in church and community affairs. Although he retired officially seven years ago, he keeps busy with many activities. Both of them delight in a new hobby—bird watching—from the glassed-in den on the south side of their home at 612 Highland. This is also her indoor garden spot.

George Gilbert (Gibby) Morehead was born near Moore, Okla. to Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Morehead, who moved to Hemphill County near Canadian, Tex., when he was 2. After graduation from Pampa High School, Norman, Okla. was a lot closer than most Texas schools so he settled on Oklahoma University. This was where Theima Staggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.E. Staggs, lived after her family moved from her birthplace in Stonewall, Okla. They had a couple of classes together, and saw each other at church functions and socials. When she went to Okmulgee in the summer of 1927, he made a great discovery—he just couldn't live without her. So they were married Sept. 6, 1927 in Okmulgee, and he went to work there. Their first child, Doris Jean, was born before they moved to the Texas Panhandle in 1929.

This was just about the time the economic bubble burst and the Great Depression fastened its grip on America. "But we didn't know it," quipped Morehead. "We were so poor we couldn't tell the difference. We only knew it was over when one day someone noticed a rabbit and no one was chasing it." Nevertheless, as things gradually better, they managed to send their three children through college.

He operated a country grocery store (with credit, business, too), while Mrs. Morehead helped when she wasn't busy putting in seven years as postmistress at Gageby, Tex., no longer on the map. Jimmy Lee was born there, and shortly after they came to Big Spring in 1936, Robert Earl was born.

The very first Sunday they were here, they joined the First Baptist Church. This made a lasting impression, for as they worshipped that night, someone stripped their new car parked in front of the church. At Gageby, he had sold feed at his store, and when he left, the milling company contracted to serve him in Big Spring with John Davis, to whom he sold his interests after four years. In 1948 he became Allied Van Lines' representative, and the business struggled in rented quarters. He decided to build a new warehouse and the debt seemed insurmountable, but somehow business promptly got better.

Another factor may have been a quiet dedication of the business by Joe Evans, cowboy lay preacher, who was holding a meeting at the time. With Evans was Pecos Higgins, a cowhand reprobate who had a marvelous conversion at the age of 75 and went with Evans to give his witness for Christ. Pecos was something of a rhymer and got so fired up that in a week's time in the Morehead living room he put down on paper—with Amy Brooks at the typewriter—enough material for a book of poems which was published and dedicated to the Moreheads.

"The Lord has really blessed us," said the Moreheads. And, in turn, they blessed numerous causes, and with their time, too. Mrs. Morehead was teaching a class of junior high school girls in Sunday school when she was married, and now, 50 years later, she teaches a women's class in Adult VII. One of her friends laughed that "you've worked your way up, and nearly out."

Mrs. Morehead was also a Training Union superintendent, and active in the WMU. She was state Bible secretary for the Gideon Auxiliary. A heart attack interrupted her work, but as strength returned, she went back to her teaching.

Morehead has been a Sunday school teacher and superintendent, and a deacon for over 30 years. He served on the Baptist General Convention executive board six years, was on the board of the Baptist Geriatrics Hospital in San Angelo, and on the board of Mary Hardin-Baylor (where he had the thrill of helping lead the procession and wording of the invocation when Doris Jean graduated). An early member of the local Gideon camp, he held numerous offices, including the state presidency.

For about 20 years he has been on the Salvation Army Advisory Board, having served as chairman. Also for a score of years he has been a Kiwanian. He is still president and chairman of the board of Morehead Transfer and Storage, now directed by Jimmy L. Morehead. Robert is a psychologist for the University of Houston, and Doris Jean teaches in Amarillo.

Grandchildren due here for the occasion are Mr. and Mrs. Riley Falkner (Jan), and their daughter, Jamie Lee, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. David Clinkscales (Kay), Big Spring; Carol Morehead, Big Spring; Michael and Kimberlee McCullough, Amarillo; Kristen Lee and Cynthia Rae Morehead of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Morehead have no recipe for marriage, but they know what worked for them: "We just turned it over to God and had faith that He would take care of us regardless. And He has."

Dear Abby

Newlyweds Tussle Over Late-Night TV

DEAR ABBY: Ron is 21 and I am 19. We're newlyweds, and our problem is the TV in our bedroom. Ron likes to lie in bed and watch TV until midnight every night, and some nights he watches it until 1 a.m. I want to turn off the TV at 11 p.m. because I have to get up at 7 a.m. for work, and if I don't get eight hours of sleep, I am very crabby the next morning. Ron gets up at 7 a.m., too, but he says he doesn't need as much sleep as I do. Anyway, I can't fall asleep while the TV is on, and Ron refuses to turn it off at 11. How can this problem be solved? Don't suggest earplugs because I've tried them, and they bother my ears. CRABBY

DEAR CRABBY: You have two choices. Separate rooms, or a 50-50 compromise. (Turn the TV off at 11 every OTHER night.) But remember, although a compromise makes a good umbrella, it's a poor roof.

DEAR ABBY: I work for a large corporation and for the last few weeks, my boss has been acting very secretive. I walked into his office yesterday, and he quickly slammed his desk drawer shut. Then I noticed smoke coming out of the drawer, but I didn't say anything. He supposedly stopped smoking three months ago, but I know he's at it again because I've seen him in the hall with a cigarette in his hand. He tried to hide it, but I'm sure he knows that I saw him. I'm afraid he might try to ditch another burning cigarette in his desk drawer, forget about it and burn up the building. Don't you think he's acting very immature for a 55-year-old executive? Should I write him an anonymous note and ask him who he thinks he's fooling? ON TO HIM

DEAR ON: No. Anonymous notes are also immature. But do tell him that in the interest of safety for others, he should refrain from placing lighted cigarettes in the drawer.

DEAR ABBY: Is marriage contagious? It seems to be an epidemic around here. I'm 21, male and single, and one by one, all my friends are getting married. My first love went away to college, and during the first quarter, she fell in love with a theology major, and they decided to get married. Now she's pregnant, and I don't know whether to cuss or pray. Another old girlfriend is soon to marry the drummer of a rock group. Other good friends, male and female, are headed in that direction. Why would anyone want to end the fun of being young and footloose by getting hitched so soon? All of them are under 21. Is marriage a contagious disease? I hope not. SINGLE IN SEATTLE

DEAR SINGLE: Marriage in a sense is "contagious"—like divorce, shacking up, or growing a beard; some people get the courage to do it because their friends have made the move. But you're safe. Anyone who suspects that marriage is a "disease" is probably immune.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 62708, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Couples should plan home in prime years

BOSTON (AP) — Want to live happily ever after in the home of your choice? "Then you'd better keep abreast of your overall financial picture while you are still in your prime years," advises an executive of an organization in the private mortgage insurance industry. "It is sad but true that unless married couples in their 30s or 40s start planning ahead, they may not be able to live out their lives in the home they truly love," says Jackson W. Goss, president of Investors Mortgage Insurance Co. here.

"Your home is a tremendous contribution to your happiness — protect it," he urges. "Often the dollars saved regularly over the years can be the difference between continuing to live in the old home — or having to give it up." Goss offers a few safeguards: — Do anything you can to avoid saddling yourself with mortgage payments that will continue after your retirement. — Never take on huge debts before you retire. — Keep your home in prime condition. When you are young, it is easier to keep ahead of deterioration and costly repairs. — If you must refinance your home, make every effort to pay it off early. Accept sacrifices while young in order to have the home free and clear of debt for later years. — Add up your financial pluses and minuses that will exist when you retire. List expected pension plan income, savings, income from prudent investments, social security and potential proceeds from maturing life insurance policies. Then subtract all anticipated expenditures: mortgage, if any; taxes; insurance; fuel; maintenance, and emergency expenses. If your pluses — which will remain relatively static — are not substantially higher than your debts — which will be affected by the ever-present inflationary spiral — step up your savings program in your earning years, Goss warns.

BUILD BEFORE YOU FLY

We know an airline pilot who used to make model planes. Yes, and we know a doctor who was "first aid man" in his scout troop. And we know an engineer who used to build the best bridges ever built with damp sand at the seashore.

There isn't any important role in life that doesn't have to be rehearsed before the curtain goes up!

Now in every field there are men and women whose Christian character is admired, respected and relied upon by all who know them. You can be sure they didn't suddenly wake up one morning with that kind of personal "nobility." Where then did it come from? How did they acquire it?

Through experience — just as the engineer, the doctor and the pilot acquired their "feeling" for the vocation they would one day pursue!

The church at the corner can't manufacture noble Christian souls. But it can go a long way toward developing in you and me — and in our youngsters — a sense of the potential with which God has endowed us.

PROPOSED NEW CHURCH — The Midway Baptist Church has proposed this new building designed by Bill Brooks with a kickoff date for fund raising set on Oct. 2. The Rev. Sandy Sandlin, pastor, has set a theme of "Together We Build" for the new facility. Plans are to make the old auditorium into a fellowship hall and an area to be utilized by area youth and senior citizens. The church is located on the South Access road of IS 20 about two miles east of Cosden Refinery.

Four Assembly of God Churches slate Missions Convention talks

Four Assembly of God Churches in the area have combined to hold a Missions Convention beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 7 and lasting through Sunday, Sept. 11.

They are the Evangel Temple Assembly of God in Big Spring, the First Assembly of God in Big Spring; the First Assembly of God, Snyder and the First Assembly of God, Lamesa.

There will be four speakers who alternate at services at the local churches. They include the Rev. Morris Plotts who has just returned as a missionary to Africa; the Rev. Warren Newberry, just back last week from Central Africa; Rev. Duane Collins, a missionary to West Africa and the Rev. Walter Kornelsen, missionary to South Africa.

Plotts was known in Africa as Bwan Tembo which means Mr. Elephant. He has been in the Tanzania bush and jungle country, along the Ruaha River where the old Africa still lives. He pastored at such places as Wilcox, Nebraska and Lake Charles, La. prior to going to Africa.

Pulotts speaks at Evangel Temple at 7 p.m. Thursday and at First Assembly of God here on Saturday and again on Sunday at both morning and 6 p.m. services.

Rev. Kornelsen served in South Africa, which is much in the news today because of the white rule in that African nation. The veteran missionary and his wife have served six terms in Africa. He speaks at Evangel Temple at 7 p.m. Wednesday and at First Church at 7 p.m. Friday.

Rev. Collins has served in West Africa in Senegal and Dakar. They are returning for a second term. They previously were pastors in Mercedes, Tex. and Oklahoma City. They speak at Evangel Temple at the Saturday and two Sunday services. They speak at First Church at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Rev. Newberry speaks at Evangel Temple at 7 p.m. Friday and at First Church at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The public is invited to all services.

Local scouts receive award

During the morning worship service at First Christian Church, August 28, Barry Fish and Barry Rosson received God and Country Awards. The award came after a two-year exploration into various areas of Christian responsibility. The two candidates considered five "projects" including responsibility toward one's own faith; responsibility toward the wide variety of communities in which one lives, such as school, family, church, social and service organizations; responsibility toward the broader communities of the world; and responsibility toward the future.

Even though the God and Country award is fully endorsed through the National Commission on Scouting, the award program is earned and fulfilled through the church. Upon completion of the award, the scouts were presented a badge to wear on their scouting uniform and a pin to wear on dress clothing as well as pins for each of their parents to wear on dress clothing. The God and Country achievement is the only non-scouting award that may be worn on the scouting uniform.

Over the period of two years during which the scouts pursued the award, Rev. Bill Smythe, minister of First Christian Church, served as the God and Country counselor.

Rosson is an active member of First Christian Church having served in many leadership capacities on the local and area levels of Christian Youth Fellowship. As a recent recipient of the Eagle Scout Award, he is a member of Troop 1776. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosson, 2605 Ann Drive.

Barry Fish is also active in the membership of First Christian Church. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. John H. Fish, 907 Mountain Park Drive. Barry is active in many extra-curricular activities and involvements in Big Spring High School. He is in Troop Number 313.

WATCHMAN'S DUTY

And the word of the Lord came to me saying,

"Son of man, speak to the sons of your people, and say to them, 'If I bring a sword upon a land, and the people of the land take one man from among them and make him their watchman; and he sees the sword coming upon the land, and he blows on the trumpet and warns the people, then he who hears the sound of the trumpet and does not take warning, and a sword comes and takes him away, his blood will be on his own head.

'He heard the sound of the trumpet, but did not take warning; his blood will be on himself. But had he taken warning, he would have delivered his life.

'But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, and the people are not warned, and a sword comes and takes a person from them, he is taken away, in his iniquity; but his blood I will require from the watchman's hand.' —Ezek. 33:1-6 (NAS)

WINSTON HAMBY

Hamby named new director

Winston Hamby has been named the new youth and educational director at the 14th and Main Street Church of Christ.

He arrived this week from Roswell, N.M. where he has worked for the past one and one half years. He has also served recently in Lovington and Hobbs, N.M.

He and his wife, Mardell and their two children, Brian, 10 and Dena, 6, moved to Big Spring this week.

A native of Beaumont, he is a graduate of Abilene Christian University. Jack McCall is minister of the Church of Christ here.

Mormons hold country fair

Members of the Big Spring Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints held their annual Country Fair at the Church.

The county agent and home demonstration agent were the judges. There were several categories and entries were placed in baked goods, canned goods, sewing, arts, crafts and children's crafts.

No one actually loses at the Church Fair. There were blue ribbons for first place, red ribbons for second, and yellow for third.

A talent show followed the fair, with Howard Stansel, Marlon Hale and Bonnie Hervol as judges.

Michael Henry of Coahoma took first place for his own piano renditions, and the theme from Charlie Brown. Catherine and Rachel Jones came in with a close second for their song, "A Nose is a Nose."

All the baked goods were served as refreshments after the talent show.

Immaculate Heart festival slated

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met in the altar society meeting room in the pre-school building on August 29. Mrs. Wanda Anderson, president presided over the meeting.

Plans for the fall festival to be held on September 10-11 were discussed and chairmen named for the various committees.

The Diocesan Council of Catholic women will meet at St. Mary's Church in San Angelo on September 20. The theme of the conference will be "Catholic Women at the Crossroads."

Mrs. Helen Anderson and Mrs. Vada Perring were elected as voting delegates with Mrs. Elizabeth Childress and Mrs. Jewel Hyer as alternates.

New class set

A class will be started Oct. 9 at the Ramada Inn on the south service road of IS 20 for singles.

The non-denominational group will be taught by Bill Adams. The class will meet for breakfast or coffee at 8:30 a.m. and hold a Bible class at 9 a.m.

For additional information call Adams at 263-8016 at home or 263-7671. Additional details will be announced later.

Farm Drought loans red tape

WASHINGTON (AP) Two federal agencies have come to an agreement on how to proceed with emergency loans to farmers stricken by droughts, hurricanes and other natural disasters in hopes of not getting tangled in each other's red tape.

A memorandum of understanding between the Farmers Home Administration and the Small Business Administration has been signed with that in mind, officials said Thursday.

The FmHA is part of the Agriculture Department and the SBA is an independent agency. Both have been engaged in making emergency disaster loans to farmers. The agreement was signed by Gordon Cavanaugh, administrator of FmHA, and Vernon Weaver, head of SBA. Officials said that the agreement pledged the two agencies "to cooperate in the use of their respective loanmaking authorities to complement each other" and to improve and expand financial assistance to farmers "with the least possible degree of overlapping confusing or duplicating activities."

A spokesman said that prospective borrowers from FmHA will still have to show that they cannot get credit from regular commercial sources—a policy of many years; while those who get loans from SBA do not have to meet such a credit test.

For some time, the FmHA offered emergency loans to qualified farmers at an annual interest rate of 5 per cent. Since authorized to make farm emergency loans in 1975, SBA has offered loans at 3 per cent. But recent legislation which grew out of congressional oversight hearings on farm emergency credit now requires FmHA to charge interest rates no higher than SBA for similar loans. Thus, the spokesman said, current FmHA emergency loans are being made at the 3 per cent rate.

The memorandum signed by Cavanaugh and Weaver also provides for "prompt and continuous interchange of information between the two agencies at national, state and district office levels where each is authorized to make farm disaster loans."

"A farmer may make initial inquiry about emergency financing to either agency but will be directed for filing of a formal application to the one where, it appears, the applicant can best be served," the announcement said.

Also, although a farmer will have an application pending only to one agency at a time, he will be able to apply to the second agency if denied a loan by the first.

GRAND LADY OF GOSPEL AND BLUES DIES — Ethel Waters is shown, from left, in 1935 in "At Home Abroad"; in the Broadway play "Mamba's Daughters," in 1939; and in the years 1949; 1959; and 1972. The actress and singer who became the grand lady of gospel and blues toward the end of a 50-year show business career, died Thursday after a long illness. She was 80.

Ralph Nader of phone company?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. employe has testified his former boss, former Bell executive James Ashley, threatened he "would be the Ralph Nader of the phone company."

Jim Reed, a Bell San Antonio division manager, testified Thursday that Ashley, who was fired after an internal company investigation, once told him he would be the "knight in shining armor striking out at the telephone company."

Reed's testimony came in a $29 million dollar lawsuit filed in behalf of Ashley and the family of T.O. Gravitt, the former head of Bell's Texas operations. The suit alleges Ashley was fired as the result of an improper internal company investigation that hounded Gravitt to suicide.

DID YOU SEE WHAT I SAW? — Bob Herbst, 39, Hometown, Ill., is an artist with a rather unusual medium — a chain saw. Here, Herbst begins cutting out a face on a log (left) and poses with previously finished product (right). Herbst buzzes Indian heads, squirrels, horses, dogs, cats, monkeys and mushrooms — from eight inches to three feet in height.

Testimony was to resume today.

Reed also testified that Ashley told him he wasn't worried about having to prove anything in a possible suit against Bell — he could "just make allegations and let the phone company scramble to field them."

Reed said the threats of suit were made in an Oct. 13, 1974, conversation, several days after Ashley was suspended and shortly before he was fired Oct. 31, 1974.

Bell witnesses testified earlier that Ashley was suspended so the company could continue an investigation in his department.

Company witnesses also testified the threats Ashley made against the phone company during his suspension were a factor in the decision to fire him.

After talking with Ashley, Reed said he called C. L. Todd, general manager and vice-president of Bell's San Antonio operations, and told him of Ashley's threats.

Soviet grain harvest pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union had almost 50 per cent of this year's grain harvest in by Aug. 15, according to the Agriculture Department.

Officials say mid-month progress was ahead of the normal pace and that recent rains have helped improve prospects for planting fall crops in several major areas of the Soviet Union.

Russia is expected to harvest a near-record grain crop of 220 million metric tons this year. Its biggest harvest was last year, when 223.8 million tons were produced. The second largest was in 1973, when 222.5 million were turned out. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Pesticides workshop set

Pesticide applicators or users in Howard County are reminded that certain pesticides will be restricted and available for use legally only by or under the supervision of certified applicators, according to Bruce Griffith, county agent.

The classification of certain pesticides as restricted-use pesticides and requirement for certification or each requirements of the federal insecticide, fungicide, and rodenticide act (FIFRA), as amended, which is scheduled to be fully implemented on October 21. The law, administered by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), was to have been fully implemented in 1976; however, a 1975 amendment delayed the full implementation.

The Texas Pesticide Control Act (TPCA) requires not only certification of commercial and non-commercial applicators but licensing as well. The commercial applicator as defined by the TPCA means "a person who owns or manages a pesticide application business engaged in the application of restricted-use or state-limited use pesticides to the land of another."

The noncommercial applicator as defined by the TPCA means "a person or government agency or department which wants to use restricted-use or state-limited use pesticides or the authority to demonstrate

Floating brothel Rotterdam goal

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — City officials are considering a plan to put Rotterdam's prostitutes aboard a floating brothel in an abandoned area of the local docks.

Mayor Andre van der Louw and three other members of the City Council are going to Denmark today to look over a 400-bed hotel ship that might be for sale.

A campaign to confine the city's estimated 700 prostitutes to a secluded part of the city started in 1974 when the two main red light districts began spreading into residential districts.

The ship plan will be presented to City Council on Oct. 13, and City Hall sources say approval is expected.

"The sooner it gets going the better," one streetwalker told a reporter who asked what the ladies of the evening think of the idea.

Rotterdam's brothel owners — not the city government — would buy the ship.

Heritage Museum no longer topless

The Heritage Museum is no longer topless. Board members expressed appreciation this week for the fact that the Howard County Commissioners Court approved a new roof for the facility.

Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator, announced that the museum will again exhibit at Howard County Fair, Sept. 19-24, courtesy of the Coahoma State Bank which furnishes the museum a booth. The 1978 historical souvenir calendars are now on sale at the museum and will be on sale at the fair.

The museum reports that several out-of-town reporters visited the facility during the past month as well as a steady stream of visitors. They had three special tours, including a group of Republican Women, the Library Reading Club and students from the Jack and Jill school.

New members this month include Clyde McMahon Supply, Dr. and Mrs. Allen R. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Puckett, Mrs. Fern Hurn of Oklahoma and Mrs. Doris M. Crane.

Scott Syler, former roping student of Toots Mansfield, and his wife from Athens, were also special visitors this week. They now own a ranch near Athens where they breed and race thoroughbreds and quarter horses.

Officials from Webb Air Force Base donated a number of items to the museum including the family services scrapbooks, class emblems and pictures and other memorabilia.

The museum is currently taking reservations for special tours, according to Mrs. Atwell.

Two steer ropers big cash winners

DENVER, Colo. — Two steer ropers, one a three-time world champion in the event, ended up the big winners as four major rodeos ended this weekend.

Paul Rice, Jr., of Pendleton, Ore., came away with the most cash, topping the steer roping average at the Vinita, Okla., and Douglas, Ariz., contests for $3,310. Rice, who joined the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association in 1969, will compete in his first National Finals Steer Roping this year. The contest, held in Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 10-11, features the top 15 money winners in PRCA steer roping, competing for the world title. Rice's winnings, which now total $5,902, vaulted him from 17th to sixth place in current standings.

Veteran cowboy Sonny Davis, of Kenna, N.M., picked up third place in the average at Vinita and Douglas for a $3,199 payoff. The 42-year-old, who was world champion steer roper in 1964, 1966 and 1968, also is tough to contend with in other roping events. With $11,107 won this year, Davis has a good hold on second place in the steer roping standings. The 6-3, 220-pounder won the event average at the rich Cheyenne Frontier Days rodeo in July for better than $7,600.

The winner of the all around cowboy award at Douglas was Jimmy Brazile of Gruver, Tex. He placed second in calf roping and one go-round of steer roping to collect $1,366.

Top cowboy at the Kennewick, Wash., contest was Butch Knowles. The Bend, Ore., cowboy won the saddle bronc riding, then placed in bull riding to pocket more than $968.

At Indianapolis, Ind., it was Dennis McKinley who hauled in the biggest share of the payoff. McKinley, of Brookings, S. D., won the calf roping average there for $1,302.
