C City man nabbed for capital murder

Benny Del Real, 24, of Colorado City, was arrested here Tuesday afternoon and charged with capital murder in connection with the stabbing death of Julius Weiborn Graham, 51, at an all night truck stop in Sweetwater.

Del Real is a Colorado City resident and was working in Big Spring for the Haney and Sivley Contractors at the Webb Credit Union Construction site.

Sheriff Bill McGuire of Colorado City received a warrant for Del Real's arrest from Nolan County Sheriff Don Underwood on Tuesday morning.

In checking around Colorado City, it was discovered that Del Real and a friend were working in Big Spring, probably for a pipe construction crew.

Detective Avery Falkner of the Big Spring Police Department had word that Del Real's friend might be working for Haney and Sivley and went to the construction site to question the friend. He was surprised to find Del Real himself at that location and arrested him on the Nolan County warrant. Information which led to the quick arrest of the alleged murderer came from witnesses who drove hurriedly away from the truck stop after the attendant hollered for them to leave. The man was apparently taking Graham to the restroom at that time.

Graham was found lying in a bloody heap in the restroom by patrons who stopped for gasoline around 2 p.m. There was at least one trucker who also was questioned in the crime. He was halted in Big Spring the day of the crime and reported to Department of Public Safety officials in Midland to reveal what he had seen at the location.

Justice of the Peace Bob West set bond on Del Real at $75,000. He was taken by Mitchell County sheriff's officers to Nolan County at Sweetwater where the murder occurred. He was then transferred to the jail in Roby in Fisher County, while the Nolan County jail is under construction.

Panama pact signed tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter and Panamanian head of government Omar Torrijos will sign the Panama Canal treaty tonight, celebrating the finale of a 13-year negotiation in a ceremony witnessed by 19 chiefs of state.

The historic moment also was to be televised to audiences in the United States and most of Latin America. Representatives of 27 nations were on hand for the signing.

The Organization of American States, host for the occasion, has been the scene of many anti-American confrontations in the past. Now it is the forum for a rare display of hemispheric unity.

The treaty has won much more acclaim in Latin America than it has in the U.S. Senate, which could render the festivities an empty exercise by failing to ratify the treaty by the requisite two-thirds majority.

U.S. officials believe Senate defeat of the treaty would trigger guerrilla warfare and mob violence in the Canal Zone.

The treaty calls for phasing out U.S. control over the canal by the year 2000. Panama then would assume full operational control with the United States reserving the permanent right to intervene militarily against any threat to the canal.

But many Americans retain a strong emotional attachment to the canal and wonder whether Panama, with a long record of political instability, could be trusted to run it.

Carter has been holding separate meetings with the visiting dignitaries, taking advantage of their presence to push for his favorite foreign policy themes: human rights, nuclear non-proliferation and cutbacks in weapons purchases.

After an hour-long meeting with Torrijos on Tuesday, Carter met separately with presidents Alfonso Lopez of Colombia, Augusto Pinochet of Chile, Francisco Morales of Peru, Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay and Vice President Adalberto Pereira dos Santos of Brazil.

Carter is hopeful that the bipartisan flavor of tonight's activities will help in his struggle to win public acceptance for his canal strategy.

Board opposes zone change

By JAMES WERRELL
The Big Spring Planning and Zoning Board voted to recommend denial of a zoning change that would allow the construction of a skateboard park here.

Board members voted three in favor, two against and one abstention for a motion to recommend the denial of the rezoning request. Brothers Keith and J. Gordon Bristow had requested that 4.34 acres of property behind the Barcelona Apartments between Westover and FM 700 be rezoned from residential to light commercial.

The city council chambers, where the meeting was held, were packed with people.

"I would say that at least 35 people were there. We had to bring in extra chairs," said Dewey Byers, chief inspector for the city.

The Bristow brothers were represented by attorneys Robert Moore and John Burgess. Those who opposed the zone change were represented by attorney R.H. Weaver.

"Our objection to the change is that this is a predominantly residential area with the Coronado and Barcelona Apartments and many fine houses. We think it should remain residential," said Weaver. "My clients are not willing to compromise on this," he added.

"Those people are against anything that prevents them from having a large back yard," said Moore.

"All our clients have ever intended to do is to build a skateboard park on that property. In order to justify their time and expense, we feel that the whole area might as well be rezoned light commercial," said Burgess.

Though, according to Weaver, residents will accept no compromises regarding the skateboard park, a compromise may be imminent anyway. All three board members who voted against the zone change would favor construction of the park under more controlled conditions.

The request for a zone change covered all 4.34 acres in the area. The skateboard park would take up only 1.3 acres.

An area which is zoned light commercial may contain a large variety of businesses such as barber shops, drive-in grocery stores, filling stations and many others.

"This is just too all inclusive. If the park is to be built there has to be restrictions," said Dr. Rip Patterson, board member.

A compromise that would be acceptable to a majority of board members, and one which is recommended in the minutes which will go to the city council, is the Planned Development District zone. Under this stipulation, the council has authority to regulate and get guidelines for the construction of the park.

"This compromise is unacceptable to residents and acceptable, but not preferred by the property owners."

"We would go along with anything that will allow us to accomplish what we first intended to do, which was to build a skateboard park on that property," said Burgess.

A bone of contention between the two groups is not only what should, but also what could be done with the property.

"What it amounts to is a condemnation of that property," said Burgess in reference to the board's decision not to grant the zone change. "Harold Talbot (local realtor) said so to the board. That property is not suitable for a single family dwelling, and the building of the skateboard park at that site will not be detrimental to property values."

Weaver disputed this.

"This is not a condemnation of that property. That is an excellent location for a home site," he said. "What they (the Bristow brothers) intend to do is condemn the land owners' property by opening that area up to many types of businesses that would be allowed in a light commercial zone."

The motion to deny the request for a zone change was actually the fourth motion to be submitted by the board. Two others died for lack of a second, and a compromise motion was denied by the chair.

Voting for the motion to deny the zone change were board members Rip Patterson, Hudson Landers and Sidney Clark. Voting against the motion were Bob Miller and Jeff Brown.

Omar Jones abstained. The motion to rezone will now go before the city council for two readings. Both will be open public hearings.

Action/reaction: Road holes

Q. I live on Connally Street and I drive to work by way of Wasson Road. The city has repaired the chuck holes on Wasson several times, but every time it rains, the holes appear again. Couldn't the city do something more permanent? The front end of my car is a mess, and people are going to think I am a drunk driver the way I have to dodge those holes in the road.

A. T. C. Arista, superintendent of the City Street Department, said that nearly 450 city blocks of road have been submitted to the city for a new seal coat job. Wasson Road is one of these, and it should be completely resealed and repaired during the coming year. Temporarily, a cold mix is used to fill chuck holes in the road. Unfortunately this particular mix does not have too much staying power, and often runs off after a rain.

Offbeat: Rapist's lament

DALLAS (AP) — Police are still musing over the actions of a 28-year-old accused rapist who was arrested after asking to meet his victim's parents.

Officers said an 18-year-old woman told them the man raped her twice last Sunday, then offered to drive her home because "he wanted to meet her parents."

She told police she gave the man her cousin's address and told him to wait in the car while she went inside to get her parents. A quick call to authorities followed and the man was arrested outside the residence still waiting to meet mom and dad.

Steers cleared of UIL rule allegations

Big Spring Steers can breathe easier today after a 5-4 panel decided they did not violate UIL rules.

The District 5-4A Executive Committee, comprised of the superintendents and athletic directors from the five school districts in the league voted 6-2 shortly before noon today to pass a resolution stating that there was no violation of University Interscholastic League rules by Big Spring, Odessa and Abilene High.

The executive session (closed to the press and public) was chaired by Dr. James Nevins of San Angelo.

The only item on the agenda today was an examination of allegations of rules violations by the three league schools.

Videotapes taken from an area television station that had been reported to contain violation of contact equipment rules by Big Spring and Odessa were evidently shown at the meeting.

In a statement read by San Angelo Superintendent Nevins, the committee resolved that the UIL rules for 5-4A football be interpreted to mean "contact equipment used between players, not merely equipment on the field." In view of this interpretation and of the lack of evidence of use of the equipment between players, no further action was taken.

If the three schools had been found in violation of UIL rules, they could have been placed on probation for a period of one year.

The two Midland representatives cast the dissenting votes.

TOTAL LOSS — A mobile home belonging to Floyd and Maxine Roper burned to an empty shell when fire of an unknown origin swept through the residence shortly after 11 a.m. today. The home was situated on Tubbs Road on a plot of land belonging to Jack McNew. Coahoma fire trucks responded to the call because the Sand Spring's fire truck was not available. The delay gave the fire about 35 minutes head start on firemen; hence the total loss. Maxine Roper, (left) suffered minor smoke inhalation and grief over her massive loss.

Child actress injured

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Child actress Danielle Spencer, who plays the cynical little sister in the ABC-TV situation comedy "What's Happening," is in "guarded condition" after a three-car accident that killed her father, a hospital spokeswoman says.

The 12-year-old Danielle was in the intensive care ward of Santa Monica Hospital Medical Center after undergoing surgery, the spokeswoman said late Tuesday.

Her father, Timothy Pelt, died at the same hospital from injuries sustained in the Tuesday morning accident in Santa Monica.

The driver of the second car, Zev William Litenatsky of Los Angeles, was hospitalized in guarded condition with possible fractured ribs and internal injuries. His passenger, Ronit Cohn, 13, of Beverly Hills was treated for head, arm and leg bruises.

Police said Pelt's station wagon collided with Litenatsky's car, and both cars sideswiped a van. The driver of the van was unhurt.

Girl's body found

WHARTON, Tex. (AP) — Wharton County Sheriff H.R. Flournoy said today he is convinced the decomposed body found in a culvert on Farm Road 2919 is that of a young woman missing since last January.

Diana Kaiser, 21, vanished sometime during the early hours of Jan. 6. The compact pickup she was driving was found abandoned on U.S. 59, about 10 miles from where police said the skeleton was found near East Bernard in southeast Texas.

"There's no doubt in my mind that it's her," said Flournoy. "The skeleton was found yesterday (Tuesday) about 3:30 in the afternoon. The Texas Highway Department was out mowing and they came up on a small 24-inch culvert. When one of the men went down to cut the grass around the culvert by hand, he saw this skeleton shoved up in there. We found a white jacket, a blue blouse that she was supposed to be wearing at the time, a ring and a necklace."

Flournoy said the remains were sent to the Harris County Medical Examiner in Houston where dental charts would be checked.

Mrs. Leslie Kaiser, the girl's mother, said the dental records had been checked two or three times previously against other bodies since her daughter's disappearance.

Wallace's wife leaves

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — With her six-year marriage to Gov. George C. Wallace apparently coming to an end, Cornelia Wallace has instructed her attorneys to "do what is necessary" to protect her.

Whether that means a divorce, Mrs. Wallace, 38, wouldn't say for certain Tuesday, as she had her personal belongings moved from the executive mansion.

But Montgomery attorney Ira DeMent said Tuesday evening that he and two other attorneys representing Mrs. Wallace — George Dean of Destin, Fla., and John Kohn of Montgomery — soon will discuss with the governor's attorney an "amicable settlement."

DeMent said the governor was told Tuesday afternoon as his wife supervised the packing of her belongings that his attorney would be contacted.

Daniel announces candidacy for AG

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former Texas House speaker Price Daniel Jr. announced today for the attorney general's race, stressing he will take no part in the expected 1978 battle between Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Atty. Gen. John Hill.

Daniel, 36-year-old Democrat, told of his campaign plans in news conferences in Austin, Dallas and Houston but saved the "formal" announcement for a hometown fund-raising barbecue tonight in Liberty.

"My first priority as attorney general will be making certain that the basic duties and responsibilities of the office under the constitution and laws of this state are properly and efficiently attended to," Daniel said. "I believe the people of Texas are somewhat tired of hearing politicians promise new programs to solve problems when we already have more government bureaucracy than we can handle. What I promise is to first make sure that those nuts and bolts functions are being fulfilled."

Daniel said he wanted to make clear "that I will not under any foreseeable cir-

Watergate burglar walks to freedom

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy, who served more time than anyone convicted in the case, was released from prison today on parole after 52½ months confinement.

Liddy, who served extra time because he refused to cooperate with Watergate prosecutors, walked to freedom from the medium-security Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, at 9:38 a.m., accompanied by his wife, Frances.

He faces an uncertain future with debts of more than $250,000.

Liddy took with him several cartons of belongings and two attaché cases which were loaded into the brown Ford Pinto subcompact car for the drive to the Liddys' Oxon Hill, Md., home and a reunion with the couple's five teenage children.

LOVE ME TENDER — Johnny Harra had just run out of scarves and there were seven girls left up front at the Tuesday night performance by the Elvis Presley simulator, singing this week at the Brass Nail in Big Spring. Harra's stardom has risen fast since the rock and roll king died in August.

Looks, sounds like Elvis

Girls love Harra, too

By MARJ CARPENTER

Girls in Big Spring are no different from girls anywhere when Elvis Presley's look-alike, Johnny Harra, sings "Love Me Tender."

They rush up and stand around the platform waiting for a scarf and a kiss just like they did when "the King" was singing.

Harra, who was already on the road doing an imitation and a tribute to Elvis Presley has been in great demand since the death of the King of rock and roll.

The singer is appearing at the Brass Nail in Big Spring through Saturday with shows at 9 and 11 p.m. This performer doesn't run on stage, sing a couple of songs and head for the wings.

He unloads a selection of Presley songs that is truly amazing and goes the whole route from "Ain't Nothing But a Hound Dog" and "All Shook Up" and "Jail House Rock" to "Are You Lonesome?", "Dixie" and "Singing in the Chapel."

And even the longtime Presley fans admit that the sounds more like Presley than they dared believe. The shadows in the spotlight behind the band stand bounce back and forth across the wall and are not unlike the shadows once-cast by the singing star who died suddenly August 16 at the age of 42.

Harra canceled his second week of scheduled performances here since he is drawing crowds up to 40,000 in coliseums nowadays.

He assured Charley Wash, owner of the Brass Nail, he would return at some time in the not too distant future to fulfill his commitment to the club.

One of the things Harra plans to do while everything is going so good is record a number called "Seeing is Believing."

Harra was sitting in a hotel in Dallas when he heard Elvis had died. He noticed a bulletin on the television and looked out the window and thought, "It doesn't look like we're going to have rain."

He related that when he looked back at the set and saw that Elvis had died, he just sat there and shook. Harra, in his show, said that the show is a tribute to Elvis' style and to preserve the legend of Presley. There are one or two songs that Harra performs with a lot of emotion.

He wears a black jump suit in the early show and a white one in the second show. A woman from Levelland named Mrs. Viola Kirksey made the jumpsuits.

She is in Big Spring this week and said that she was president of the Elvis Presley Fan club and that everybody in Levelland knew how she felt about Elvis. When Harra came to Lubbock, they told her

Return of 'fugitive' Park sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter may personally ask South Korea's president to return fugitive businessman Tongsun Park to the United States to face trial for conspiracy to buy friendly treatment from Congress.

Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell appealed for Carter's help Tuesday as the Justice Department unsealed a 36-count felony indictment that charges Park with conspiracy and corruption.

The federal grand jury indictment provides the first official details of the alleged South Korean scheme to lavish money and other gifts on certain members of Congress in exchange for their efforts to promote South Korean interests. Bell said he wants Carter to contact South Korean President Park Chung-hee to ask that he arrange for Tongsun Park's return. The attorney general said he has no hint about whether President Park would cooperate.

Tongsun Park, a rice dealer and Washington social figure, is "now a fugitive from American justice and we would hope he would appear for trial," Bell told a news conference.

"We're ready to go to trial immediately," Park disappeared from Washington when the congressional scandal began developing. He arrived in Seoul about a week ago after spending the past year in London.

Priscilla's reputation in shreds

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Story intact, reputation in shreds, Priscilla Davis faded into the background today as phase II unfolded in the capital murder trial of millionaire Cullen Davis.

In a dramatic climax of 11 days of testimony, the cool Mrs. Davis twice Tuesday identified her estranged husband as the triggerman in a murderous shooting spree last summer that left two dead and two wounded.

But she endured a relentless, withering, damaging cross-examination by crafty defense lawyer Richard "Rachehorse" Haynes.

The once carefree Mrs. Davis said her husband shot her and killed her lover Stan Farr in the midnight ambush a year ago at the $6 million Davis mansion in Fort Worth.

The wealthy industrialist is on trial for the slaying of Andrea Wilborn, 12, his stepdaughter and the first to die in the Aug. 2, 1976 shooting spree.

Gus Gavrel, 22, a chance visitor to the estate that night, was critically wounded.

A clerk-bookkeeper, quoting from a dispatcher's log, testified today that the first ambulance was dispatched at 12:49 a.m. Aug. 3 to a home near the mansion to pick up the wounded Mrs. Davis.

Denise Jones, an employee of Ray Crowder Funeral Home, said police subsequently summoned three more ambulances to the mansion at 4200 Mockingbird where Farr and Miss Wilborn lay dead and Gavrel wounded from a crippling spinal injury.

The first ambulance arrived at the mansion at 1:05 a.m., the records indicated.

Attorneys dismissed Mrs. Davis late Tuesday but told her she was subject to recall and that she might be summoned back to the stand today outside the presence of the jury.

Perhaps sensing an end to her marathon ordeal, she emerged as confident, almost cocky, as the questioning by Haynes droned into the third week Tuesday.

"Did Stan Farr have a large sum of money secreted in the master bedroom that you and Stan shared?" Haynes asked.

Rather mischievously, and flicking her hair, she replied: "The money or the bedroom?"

"She went on to add that 'Stan did not have that kind of money.'"

But during her 11 days on the stand she did admit to two prolonged sexual encounters, addiction to a pain killing drug and friendship with a dubious group of Fort Worth companions.

However, she wound up her testimony denying she ever used, bought, sold or gave away cocaine, heroin, LSD or other hard drugs.

Outside the courtroom Tuesday Mrs. Davis denounced a lawyer as a "bald-faced liar."

Mrs. Davis disputed attorney Charles Baldwin's claim that Farr was afraid Horace Cardwell of Fort Worth was out to kill him.

Last week Baldwin produced a mystery pistol and said Farr once told him,

"Horace Copeland's out to kill me."

Mrs. Davis asserted that Baldwin is little more than a publicity seeker.

Haynes also questioned Mrs. Davis about her relationship with Beverly Bass, a 19-year-old friend of Mrs. Davis' daughter Dee.

The witness denied speaking to Miss Bass several hours before the shooting and discussing a visit to divorce court.

Haynes had asked Mrs. Davis if she had told Miss Bass that she had "got what she wanted and (would) tell her about it later."

"No sir, I did not," she replied.

Miss Bass was at the mansion when Gavrel, her date, was wounded. Prosecutors anticipate the defense will try to infer that Mrs. Davis and Miss Bass conspired to name Davis as the gunman.

Weather Rains sprinkle portion of state

By the Associated Press

Most Texans awoke to bright skies this morning as all but a few lingering showers had dissipated by dawn.

The scattered rains sprinkled the eastern portion of the state and partly cloudy skies stretched through northeast Texas.

Predawn temperatures ranged from a cool 54 at Marfa to 80 at Corpus Christi. Most stations reported readings in the 60s and 70s as dawn approached.

The weatherman said skies will be partly cloudy over most of the state today with widely scattered afternoon thundershowers in most areas. Only the northwest and mountain regions will escape the scattered rains. Temperatures will continue warm with highs generally in the 90s.

Police unit to be discussed

COAHOMA — A routine meeting awaits the Coahoma City council when it meets at 7:30 p.m. here Thursday.

The police department will be discussed. Tires for a front-end loader owned by the city will likely be authorized, as will a clutch for the big maintainer.

Other items due for review include Jimmy Hirsley's caport, the general fund and the payment of monthly bills.

The meeting takes place in City Hall.

Man should change story

An Andrews man was placed under arrest for public intoxication after reporting a robbery at Pinkie's Liquor Store at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The man told Sheriff's deputies that a white man in a green Pontiac had robbed him of between $70 and $80. Sheriff's deputies said that the man still had some money in his possession.

Man shot out

Loren Hanley Spencer reported the rear window of his pickup shot out at his home at Terry and Martin Roads. The shot retainer from a shotgun shell was found in the cab. Damage was estimated at $150.

11 theft raps, jail two men

Jeffrey-Russell and Roy Boyd are in the Howard County jail after transfer from the city on 11 counts of theft by exercising control and burglary of a habitation.

Russell is under $60,000 bond set by the recent grand jury on three charges of theft and three of burglary. Boyd is under $62,500 on three charges of burglary and two of theft. Both cases were the product of the recent Shade Tree undercover police operation.

WHAT'S PAR?

In any endeavor, there are certain standards to be met.

In funeral directing, we feel that these standards have to be very high... because a family's need for help is so great.

Only if our service fulfills their every requirement can it be considered up to par.

Stable dollar would ease inflation

Who benefits from inflation?
The government.
Who suffers? Everyone else.
If you want to know why inflation is not stopped, you should first consider the benefits to government:

- 1) Inflation automatically brings in more tax dollars as individuals reach higher tax brackets.
- 2) Inflation has the effect of automatically reducing the effect of the giant national debt each year.

For government, a 6 per cent inflation rate each year is good policy. For people and businesses, it is disaster.

MRS. J. W. Phillips of 1602 E. 17th Street recently sent me some interesting material on what the combined rise in inflated income and higher tax brackets mean to the average family.

The material noted that the graduated income tax was not written for 1977 but for days when each dollar would buy twice as much or more. Families who earned $10,000 annually in 1965 must now earn $20,000 to stay even, it contended.

As the wages go up, so do taxes — without even a vote for more taxes by Congress.

But as wages go up, so do living expenses, a fact the graduated income tax does not take into consideration.

The wage earner finds himself with more income, but also higher expenses and a higher percentage of income tax as they fall into the higher tax brackets.

The result: a net loss.
Meanwhile, government revenues keep climbing without any one representative or senator having to vote more taxes.

WHEN INFLATION is discussed, what kind of talk do we get from government?

The Carter Administration economists point with a rather unbelievable pride to an inflation rate which they say should not go above 6 per cent in 1978.

That kind of inflation is now being accepted as tolerable, but how quickly we forget that only a few short years ago President Nixon put the nation under wage-and-price controls when inflation hit 5 per cent.

Multiply 6 per cent annually out for 10 and 20 years, and the wage earner can quickly see what he is up against. Going back to inflation of less than 2 per cent is a dream few government economists will even discuss seriously.

Yet, stopping inflation would not take magic.

The return to a sound monetary policy would do it quicker than any other single action. If the government would cease to weaken the dollar by expanding the supply of them, inflation would quickly lessen.

To keep the nation from sliding into recession again, the government would have to cut dramatically its loan demand so the private sector would have available funds with which to grow.

The return to a stable monetary policy would have to be accompanied by a balanced federal budget; otherwise, the government would borrow all the available money and throw us into depression.

BUT THE FEDERAL government cannot kick the inflation addiction since balancing the budget, facing up to the national debt, and the other repercussions of ending inflation would demonstrate Washington to be just another New York City, only with a dollar bill printing press.

Washington, instead, moves to institutionalize inflation by tying every possible thing from Social Security to minimum wage to the soaring consumer price index. But the one thing the government does not tie to inflation is taxes.

Let's see them revise the graduated income tax to reflect inflation as demonstrated by the consumer price index. When the price index goes up, the tax percentage should go down.

Then when government needed a tax increase, the congressmen would have to vote for it.

Around the rim

Dusty Richard

With television, movies, and the recording business becoming increasingly more popular and thriving industries, reading seems to be, for some people, a thing of the past. Ask a friend the name of the last book he read and when he read it, and he is likely to say, "I don't remember, it's been so long; probably something I had to read for high school English." This is really unfortunate, since reading can be one of the most enjoyable things a person can do.

AS A CHILD, I was brought up to believe that reading a book was more fun than playing with dolls or riding my bike. My parents weren't concerned with what I read, as they knew that a person gets tired of comics after a while, and will progress to more "respectable" forms of literature.

My little friends and I built up small libraries of Nancy Drew mystery stories, Truxie Belden adventure books, volumes about the "Five Little Peppers and How they Grew", and of course, the Little Women series.

We devised a make-shift drama studio in my garage, and when we weren't holding circuses and fairs, we would act out our favorite stories, over-acting as much as possible. "Little Women" was our favorite play, with everyone vying for the part of Beth, since she got to die and was fertile ground for budding actresses to dramatize death throes, which one of us had ever seen and so our imaginations ran wild.

One thing that I consider to be a big plus about reading is the painless way it teaches spelling, grammar, sentence construction, vocabulary, etc. Reading does more good than all the English classes you can take, and is a lot less dull. A person who is an inveterate reader can spot a misspelled word a mile away. He should. He's seen it spell correctly while reading many, many times.

There are a few drawbacks to reading, as with everything else. How many times have chronic readers heard the anxious cries of their mothers, "Turn on that light while you read! You'll ruin your eyes! Go outside and play! It's not healthy to stay cooped up inside all day! Put down that book and eat your dinner! Will you listen to me instead of sticking your nose in that book! The scenery on this trip is marvelous, as you'd see if you'd look out the window and stop reading!" The list goes on, but you get the picture.

ONE PROBLEM many people have, caused in part by reading, is that they can spell a word, define it, and use it correctly in a sentence, but can't always pronounce it. There has been many a conversation in which I was waxing eloquent with learned colleagues using as many polysyllabic words as I could remember when I was stopped short by the stares and titters of my friends. "Did you say poly-SIL-ahic? HaHa! She said poly-Sy-La-bic! My dear, the word is pronounced polysyl-LA-bic!" As this has happened just too many times, I am considering carrying a pronunciation dictionary around with me.

But even with the minor drawbacks reading can have, it is worth it for the flights of imagination it produces, the feelings of intimacy a reader can get with a really good book. (I'm sure there must be people like me, who, in times of stress, take down an old, many-times-read book and read it over again to get the same sense of solace they would get from talking to an old friend) and for the education it can give you, not only in grammar, but in any area under the sun. So what if you've never been to Egypt, or seen a surgical operation, or met Abraham Lincoln, or anything else? You can read about them, and more. Just open a book — there are worlds waiting for you to discover them — right between its covers.

Slick scheme

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Senate Minority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., rounded up enough fellow Republicans recently to block public financing of Senate elections. He also concocted a slick scheme to raise private funds for those same Republicans.

The able and agile Baker signed his name to a fund-raising letter which discussed the need for a strong national defense. The need for campaign funds was barely mentioned. The letter was mailed to about one million well-heeled prospects.

A detailed questionnaire, identified as the "1977 National Defense Survey," was enclosed in the same envelope. "I've gone ahead and registered a special survey number in your name," explained Baker, "so that the results can be tabulated accurately and quickly."

THE SENATE REPUBLICAN leader continued urgently: "I personally believe this is NOT the time to gamble, in any way, with our national defenses. . . . But I want to know what you think. That's why I've sent you this specially numbered survey assigned for your personal use."

Oh yes, $300,000 had to be raised, Baker added, to fund two top priority projects: "(1) distribute nationally the 1977 Survey on National Defense to thousands of Americans and (2) elect Republicans to the U.S. Senate who'll vote to keep our defense strong."

The questionnaires and the checks began rolling in this summer. The checks were processed by the Bank of Virginia, which carefully deposited the money and kept a list of contributors.

Surgery possible in problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me more about surgery for the relief of achalasia. I am 25 and have suffered with this for four years, with swallowing difficulties and tightness in the throat. Just like you said recently, it is easier for me to swallow solid food than soft. I have been frustrated to the point of getting up from the table still hungry.

A doctor has dilated the muscles, and concludes it is triggered by emotion. He prescribed tranquilizers. To date I haveno relief. Does it sound as though I am a candidate for surgery? — B.S.

Achalasia represents a failure of the muscles in your lower esophagus to relax. The muscles are controlled by nerves, so it becomes a very difficult problem to overcome. Drugs will not help, and dilation of the esophagus has only a limited effect. If emotions are involved, treatment is all the more difficult.

There are newer surgical techniques which have been quite effective, but as you can gather it is delicate business. A thoracic surgeon would be able to evaluate the possibilities of surgery for you. Candidates are selected carefully. The surgery involves cutting through the muscles involved.

Before considering surgery you might be better off trying to cope with whatever emotional problem you have, especially since your doctor, who has examined you firsthand, suspects that as a cause.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a hysterectomy, including ovary removal. When I went back for my six-weeks check the doctor told me I could do anything I wanted. I started taking exercise, like sit-ups and push-ups. Everybody tells me my insides will fall out. Is this so? Also, why do some doctors give Premarin and some don't after surgery? Mrs. B.

Six to eight weeks is usually enough time for healing to occur and allow normal activity. Exercise within your tolerance won't cause your insides "to fall out." It will help tone up the muscles and prevent prolapse (dropping) of organs.
Premarin is a brand of estrogen compound used to make up for any hormone deficiency brought about by removal of the ovaries. Some women may not need it if their ovaries weren't producing prior to surgery. Others may need it temporarily to make up for the shock of a sudden loss of hormone production.

SEC fires one

William F. Buckley, Jr.

One day after the Securities and Exchange Commission released its report charging that the mayor of New York, the comptroller, six major banks, and sundry epigones, had conspired to deceive New Yorkers about the financial condition of the city, the New York Daily News featured on its front page the activities of a sniper in New Jersey. Doesn't this, really, tell the story?

The New York Daily News is concerned to publicize that which interests most people, not that which should interest most people. It is established that most New Yorkers are indifferent to the issue of New York's municipal crisis. The race for mayor of New York in which there are a half dozen Democratic contenders and two Republican contenders, has elicited remarkably little interest in the finances of the city, and one can go for weeks without hearing a politician report on so recent an event as the bankruptcy of the city in 1975.

THE SEC REPORT became a front page item in the Daily News only after it became a political controversy, as distinct from a historically illuminating document. Mayor Beame called two successive press conferences in which to denounce that document ("a vicious hatchet job"). The attention of the reading public was diverted from the meaning of the SEC document to its political implications. Why should the SEC seek to interfere in a New York primary election? Or, put another way, if the SEC had come up with information the public ought to have, shouldn't it be released in time for the public to act on it in an election?

The distinction is important here because the SEC has no warrant to regulate the sale of municipal securities. The SEC sets the rules to prevent the misleading of the investing public by private companies. But state agencies are thus far exempt. The SEC, under the circumstances, released the fruits of its investigation without alleging criminal misconduct under the Securities and Exchange Law.

BUT THE SEC discovered, on conducting a private poll, that 83 per cent of the polled investors were unaware that city expense items were included in the capital budget; 66 per cent did not know that the city had incurred short term debt to close the gap between expenses and revenues; 97 per cent didn't know the city's expense budget was prepared without creating reserves for noncollection of tax revenues; 96 per cent did not know that the city included in its tax rolls properties not subject to taxation; and 95 per cent didn't know that the city had used nonrecurring revenues as a technique for producing a balanced budget in earlier fiscal years (this paraphrase of the SEC's report is quoted from the New York Times).

From which we conclude what?

1. Investor ignorance clearly reflected a belief that securities analysts, bankers, and city officials would apprise the public of the realistic value of city paper.

2. The failure of the Beam administration to take the lead in doing so is sufficient for its repudiation at the polls.

3. If we are going to have securities and exchange laws it is preposterous not to extend them to cover municipal transactions.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

Your Sunday edition printed a letter from a local minister concerning many issues facing this city plus some vicious accusations which do not merit a reply.

This letter asked many questions concerning One Mile Lake and also requested that I should answer publicly and without equivocation.

This information has been presented in open meetings and public hearings held by the City and the Corps of Engineers since May 22, 1962. In 1970 a report, approximately 1 inch thick was presented to the city and the news media. These meetings and/or hearings were for the purpose of answering questions and recording favorable or unfavorable comments. If an individual does not attend, then this individual's feelings are unknown and unrecorded.

Now, I will attempt to answer these questions and where possible I will quote from the "Interim Report on Colorado River and Tributaries, Texas," covering Beals Creek at Big Spring, Texas, which the City received some 2 years before I moved here from the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

1. Q. What are the real reasons for the proposed drainage of One Mile Lake?

A. From the above listed report entitled "SYLLABUS,"

SYLLABUS. The District Engineer finds from his investigations that a serious urban flood problem exists at Big Spring, Texas, because of floodflows on Beals Creek. He finds that urban damages have been extensive in the past. Under present conditions and values, an average annual flood loss of $269,500 can be expected. He concludes that this flood problem can best be solved by construction of an improved channel generally along the existing alignment of Beals Creek, and implementation of flood plain management techniques. He concludes further that there is an immediate need for the local protection works and that they are fully justified. The estimated average annual benefits would exceed average annual costs, with a benefit-cost ratio of 1.6.

The District Engineer recommends construction of the local protection project at Big Spring, Texas, generally as outlined in the report, at an estimated cost to the United States of $1,578,000, subject to certain conditions of local cooperation.

2. Q. Who are the individuals who will benefit directly and personally from the drainage (and I won't consider "the public" an adequate answer.)

A. From the Report pp. 15, C-1, 350 residences, 250 businesses, and the railroad.

From the report p. 24, Item 23, Annual Benefits, a, b, and c:

23. ANNUAL BENEFITS — A. General. — Flood control benefits credited to the proposed plan are based on control of the 50-year flood and a 100-year period of analysis. These benefits include damage reduction benefits for existing and future development, and benefits from increased land utilization.

b. Flood losses prevented. — Average annual benefits for flood damage reduction accruing to the proposed channel improvement were determined by use of discharge-damage and discharge-frequency relationships. The average annual flood damages of $269,500 for 1968 conditions of economic development in the flood plain area would be reduced by the improved channel to $109,300, thus resulting in benefits of $160,200. An allowance to reflect the economic trends and future development anticipated in the flood plain area during the period 1975-2075 would increase these flood control benefits to a total of $197,000.

c. Increased land utilization. — Flood protection provided by the project would result in benefits from changed use of land in the urban flood plain. About 36 per cent of the total area, currently idle or in limited agricultural use at locations higher than the residual 100-year storm elevation, will increase in value, based on potential, commercial and industrial uses. Benefits from such increased land use, evaluated on an annual basis, are estimated at $40,400. These benefits would be realized on relatively small tracts of land held by a considerable number of individual owners.

From the report, Item 30, pp. III-17.

30. Lands expected to benefit from increased utilization with the project installed involves about 75 parcels owned by 72 individuals, a railroad, a foundation and an estate. The average size ownership of the individually owned tracts is approximately 2 acres. The largest is 20 acres. The individually owned land comprises about 67 per cent of the total and will receive about 64 per cent of the benefits. No single owner will receive a windfall or a disproportionate share of benefits provided by the flood protection project. The most advantaged landholder is expected to receive benefits estimated at $6,200, on an average annual basis which is approximately 15 per cent of the total.

3. Q. What will become of the lake basin? How will the insect problem created by the drainage be dealt with? Are there plans for development? If so, by whom?

A. PP. 26, Item 25 —

25. EFFECT OF THE PLAN. — The proposed channel improvement will provide a high degree of flood protection for a large segment of the business and industrial area of Big Spring. The proposed flood plain management measures will minimize residual flood damages to future development from floods up to the magnitude of the flood expected to occur on the average of once in 100 years. Prevention of flood damages will permit the use of available economic resources for development rather than for replacement of losses. The improved channel will allow the City of Big Spring to proceed with storm drainage plans in other areas of the city without adverse effects along Beals Creek. Significant public health benefits will accrue due to the protection from flooding. Further benefits will be derived by the reduction of ponding areas which are conducive to mosquito breeding. The improved channel will provide a cleaner and more aesthetic drainageway through the city. Detailed statements on the environmental impact of the proposed plan have been prepared in response to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, Public Law 91-190, and are presented in appendix VI.

4. Q. Has there been any thought given to cleaning and beautifying the lake and if not, why not?

A. The city does not own the lake nor the property surrounding it. Also the retention of One Mile Lake would severely limit the full effect of flood control. The drainage area for the creek is some 494 square miles and the major run-off comes from outside the city limits.

Also, we have been advised that the draining of this lake will lower the underground salt water table below our existing sewer lines which will decrease the infiltration of this untreatable water into our sewer plant.

Also, the draining and channelization of One Mile Lake would improve our drinking water quality by decreasing our chlorides. I do not believe we ever said it would remove all chlorides but to reduce them.

The CRMWD admits that there are many things which contribute to the high chloride content and they have initiated many sound programs to reduce this and this is only one of them.

5. Q. Why haven't the drainage ditches east and south of the lake been maintained over the past several years?

A. You refer to the past several years. There has been limited work done on Beals Creek. We have limited this work because we anticipated funding of the Corps-City project to be funded in 1975. We were advised in 1977, in a public meeting, that the project was still a minimum of 5 years away.

In that we are concerned about this time span, the City Council, after two public hearings, authorized a staff recommendation to apply for Federal Assistance to dredge Beals Branch including the drainage of One Mile Lake, which in no way will be duplicated again, but in actuality lessens the costs when Corps project is funded.

6. Q. Information has come to me from a city employe that there are pipes under the railroad which were designed to allow drainage from the south and southwest areas of Big Spring. I understand these pipes are clogged up and inoperative and have been for quite some time. Why has this not been attended to when it increases the possibility of flooding downtown Big Spring?

A. In that I do not know who the city employe was, I cannot comment on his knowledge or his expertise on this project. But I do know that some areas of this Branch are inaccessible with equipment. Also, siltation of the whole stream bed causes this problem and this condition has existed for more than a few years.

7. Q. Does the Texas & Pacific Railroad have any responsibility in seeing that adequate drainage ditches be maintained?

A. In that the majority of the water comes from outside of their area, they have no more responsibility to maintain a natural drainage structure than any other property owner.

8. Q. If there is an odor problem in the lake area, could it be due to a lack of sanitary facilities and a lack of adequate accessibility to the city sewage system?

A. The Corps report does not reflect any sewer infraction nor do we have any evidence supporting such a fact.

I was admonished by the letter writer to not play "God." This project birth was some 10 years before I became City Manager of this City. Through all the public meetings and/or hearings for the past 16 years, no known objections occurred. Also, Goals for Big Spring, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, held many public hearings and one of the goals adopted is the draining of this lake. Now recently objections occur from a very few citizens, and now I am accused of playing "God" for supporting this project. There were some objections to the scheduled project at 17th and Lancaster — I supported then and do now this project — was I playing God then also? If so, then at that time it was evidently acceptable because my stand coincided with the letter writer's.

Finally concerning the "Public be damned" attitude of the City Administration concerning the skateboard park. The city did not initiate the specific use permit nor the rezoning request. Nor did the City Administration initiate any law suits.

If the day comes that the threat of a lawsuit should be the major consideration in arriving at a decision or an act, then we will be damned — case in point — Mini Flick Theater closing — City Manager, Chief of Police, and County Judge sued for $150 thousand dollars each. But for your information — both sides threaten suits, so any decision made will probably end in court.

In conclusion, the Corps report includes an environmental report with letters from 14 Federal and State agencies including the State and Federal Fish and Wildlife agencies. These letters support the Corps findings that this project will have little or no effect on fish and wildlife.

Drafting legislation to refinance Social Security

Editor's note: This is the second of two articles on the immediate and long-range problems of Social Security and what Congress may do about them.

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans at some future time may have to work beyond age 65 to qualify for full Social Security benefits, if some serious students of the system have their way.

The mere mention of this possibility recently provoked an uproar, even though there is no pending legislation and no proposal by President Carter's administration for such a change.

Congress is now working on a more pressing problem: how to keep the system's reserves from running out in about five years. There is no real prospect that Congress will permit such an outcome, which would mean cutting off or reducing benefits.

Actual drafting of legislation to refinance Social Security is scheduled to begin in a House subcommittee Sept. 12.

However, while the subcommittee and the corresponding Senate panel were conducting hearings on Carter's proposals to provide Social Security funds, they received testimony on a wide variety of future threats and present inconsistencies in the huge system that collects taxes from more than nine out of ten U.S. workers and their employers and pays benefits to 33.3 million persons.

A major concern is the aging trend of the population. By early in the next century there may be one retired person to every two active workers carrying the tax burden of the system — instead of the present ratio of one retired person to every three workers.

Other problems Congress was told it will have to face sooner or later included:

—Eliminating discrimination against women.

—The perennial demand that the retired not have their benefits reduced because of money earned from a job.

—The advisability of drawing a clearer line between needs that should be met by Social Security and by welfare systems, and financing each accordingly.

—Deciding how much of a worker's income should be replaced by Social Security and how much should be left to company and individual pension plans, and how government could encourage these.

—The possibility of merging Social Security with other public retirement programs, such as the Civil Service system for government workers.

Little public attention had been given to the possibility of raising the standard retirement age until Commerce Secretary Juanita M. Kreps mentioned it, as a personal concern, in an interview.

Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., of the House Committee on Aging, fired off a letter saying he was shocked and urging Mrs. Kreps to "withdraw your proposal."

She replied she had made no proposal, the administration was considering none and so there was nothing to withdraw.

But, she added, she thinks the possibility may have to be examined in the future.

Some nongovernmental witnesses did make such proposals to the committees. A typical one was to add one year to the standard retirement age in 1985 and two more years at five-year intervals, bringing the age to 68.

Persons still would be able to retire at 65, but with a reduced benefit, just as they now may retire at 62, but with a 20 per cent reduction.

A long-standing complaint about the treatment of women under Social Security stems from its provisions affecting a dependent spouse — usually the wife — who nevertheless has worked and paid the payroll tax.

When she retires, she receives either the benefit earned by her contributions or half the amount of her husband's benefit, whichever is greater, but not both. Accordingly, in most cases, she is no better off than if she had never worked and never paid the payroll tax, since a nonworking wife is entitled to half the amount of a husband's benefit when they both retire.

This and other provisions relating to women reflect 1930's views that a standard family consisted of a working husband and a nonworking wife caring for children.

But the committees heard testimony that this description now fits only 16 per cent of American families, that recent statistics show 54 per cent of all working-age women are in the labor force, including 44 per cent of married women and 29 per cent of women with children under six.

Supreme Court decisions during the past year force some change. The law provided that a wife was automatically a dependent, but a husband was not entitled to corresponding benefits based on a working wife's earnings unless it were proved he actually depended on her economically. The court held this distinction unconstitutional.

The decision was estimated to affect 520,000 men at a cost to Social Security of $515 million. Among other things, it requires payment of dependent or widower benefits to some men who had actually been the main support of the family, if their employment — for example, by the federal government — were outside Social Security coverage.

In response, the administration has proposed establishing a dependency test applicable to both husbands and wives. The dependent would be the member of the couple who had less than half its total income in the three years prior to retirement, disability or death. In most cases, this would be the wife.

Other provisions cited as unfair to women include the requirement that a divorced woman receives benefits on her former husband's earnings only if the marriage lasted at least 20 years; that a nonworking wife gets no benefits until her husband retires, even if he continues working after 65 and even if she is older than he; that a widow can draw no benefits during the years after her children are grown and before she reaches 60.

Some have suggested that a couple's income be split evenly, without regard to the proportion each earned, and that separate Social Security accounts be set up for each; that Social Security somehow recognize the economic value of a housewife's services; that women be given a preference in computing the average wage base for benefits — because their working careers are predictably interrupted by child-bearing and rearing.

Under present law, persons who retire under Social Security lose benefits if they earn more than a specified amount, although they may have any amount of investment or other unearned income without undergoing such a reduction.

Activity is noted in area field

A Mitchell County extender and a Dawson County confiner are included in the action in the oil patch this week.

A south extension area of the Westbrook, East (Clearfork) field of Mitchell County gained its fifth and sixth producers, three miles northwest of Westbrook, with completion of MHM Operators, Midland.

The No. 2 Pruitt Keel, one location north, was finished to pump 72 barrels of 29 gravity oil, plus 15 barrels of water through perforations at 2,855-3,045 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 40,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 660 feet from the north and west lines of 30-27-T&P.

The No. 1 Shoemaker, one location south was finished to pump 96 barrels of 29 gravity oil, plus 10 barrels of water through perforations at 2,921-3,077 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 36,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds of sand.

Location feet from the south and west line of 29-27-T&P.

The Block 35 (Dean sand) field of Dawson County gained its seventh producer with completion of Collier Diamond and Oil, Inc., Midland, No. 1-A E.V. Cornett, surrounded by marginal production and six miles southeast of Lamesa, to pump 36 barrels of 38 gravity oil, plus one barrel of water, with gas-oil ratio of 56:1.

Production was through perforations at 8,593-865 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 64,100 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east lines of 38-35-T&P, Abst. 590-813.

Kidnapers demand release of 11

COLOGNE, West Germany (AP) — The kidnapers of industrialist Hanns Martin Schleyer have demanded release of 11 jailed terrorists, $478,500 ransom and a flight out of the country for the freed prisoners, security officials said today.

But the deadlines set by the kidnapers "can no longer be met," Interior Minister Karl Schiess of Baden-Wuerttemberg state said.

Security sources said the kidnapers had warned that their demands must be met by this afternoon.

The officials said 100,000 marks — $43,500 — was demanded for each of the prisoners to be released.

Officials said three jailed members of the notorious Baader-Meinhof anarchist gang were among those whose freedom was demanded, but Schiess said no preparations were under way to release them from Stuttgart's Stammheim Prison.

He said the federal government would have to decide whether to free the prisoners. A cabinet meeting was under way in Bonn.

The three gang members are Andreas Baader, Gudrun Ensslin and Jan-Carl Raspe, all serving life sentences for 1972 bombings that killed four U.S. servicemen.

Security sources earlier had reported that the kidnapers demanded the release of 14 terrorists.

Schiess also disclosed that Schleyer is apparently in good health. "With 90 per cent certainty, we know that Schleyer is unhurt," he said.

According to the security sources, the terrorists demanded that 85-year-old German theologian Pastor D. Martin Niemoeller and an unnamed United Nations official accompany the flight out of the country. But it was unclear whether the kidnapers planned to be on the plane themselves.

Niemoeller spent time in Nazi concentration camps for preaching resistance to Adolf Hitler. Since the war, he has become a prominent member of the Committee for Freedom, Disarmament and Cooperation — a group which has been criticized for its Communist affiliations.

The federal prosecutor's office in Karlsruhe announced, meanwhile, that authorities have freed two persons taken into custody in connection with the attack Monday in which Schleyer's chauffeur and three bodyguards were killed and the industrialist was abducted. Those suspects were never identified.

The security sources said the demands were made by a group calling itself the "Commando Hausner" in a letter received Tuesday evening by the Federal Criminal Office in Wiesbaden.

Hausner is the name of a German terrorist who died in a 1975 attack on the West German Embassy in Stockholm.

The government announcement Tuesday indicated that the kidnapers' statement would be made public. But there was no confirmation of the demand for the release of prisoners.

The announcement, read at the start of an evening news program, said the kidnapers' ransom letter reached police late Tuesday and would reach the federal government "only by late evening, and the deadline for the public statement you desire therefore cannot be met."

Chief Federal Prosecutor Kurt Rebmann said the kidnaping appeared to be the work of associates of the "Haag-Mayer gang."

Defrauding Air Force charges hit four men

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A federal grand jury here has indicted four men for allegedly defrauding the U.S. Air Force by submitting false claims for work and material provided on repair contracts.

Three separate indictments were returned by the grand jury Tuesday, charging three San Antonio men and one Abilene resident with falsifying claims for payment to two companies, Mikelco of San Antonio, Inc., and Mikelco of Bandera, Inc., for work done at Kelly Air Force Base.

The federal probe was triggered by a General Accounting Office report issued last December charging substantial overcharges on $24.4 million in of repair-contracts during 1975.

Indictments against William F. Thorne, 41, and William W. Crater, 50, both of San Antonio, allege they billed Mikelco for parts allegedly sold to the company by Aztec Electronics Corp. of Brownsville. However, Aztec never sold some of the equipment, the indictment alleged.

Named in separate indictments on five counts each of submitting false claims to the government were Juan Teran Jr., 38, of San Antonio and Owen G. Cook of Abilene.

Teran is charged with billing the Air Force with 153 hours of labor more than was performed by Mikelco of San Antonio employees. Additional counts against Teran allege he submitted claims for ammeters, voltmeters, transformers and rectifiers which were not used in the repair work done by the company.

Cook allegedly billed the Air Force for power supplies, motors and other equipment which were not used by Mikelco of Abilene, the document states.

Cooke and Crater surrendered Tuesday and were freed on $100,000 personal recognizance bond each.

Thorne said before his indictment that the government has withheld final payment of $75,000 for work done in 1975 and he is appealing that decision.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A 22-year veteran of the Fort Worth Police Department died Tuesday three hours after he was shot while answering a disturbance call at a liquor store.

Jesse R. Parris, 51, died while in surgery, according to hospital officials.

A 57-year-old man was taken into custody at the scene shortly after the 3:30 p.m. shooting.

Deputy Chief Bill Kennedy said a preliminary investigation showed Parris was responding as a backup unit at the liquor store after a citizen reported a man with a gun at the scene.

The officer got out of his car to confront the suspect and was shot, Kennedy said.

"He returned to his car to call for help. He collapsed on the front seat and another officer arrived," Kennedy said.

Officer John Barton said when he arrived at the scene Parris was in his patrol car and the suspect was standing nearby.

"He was shot and he was bleeding," Barton said. "A large caliber pistol that was not the officer's service revolver was lying on the seat next to him."

Ma Bell trial heads to jury room

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The trial of a $29 million dollar suit against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. headed for the jury room today after four weeks of testimony that included claims of expense account cheating, office sex and political slush funds.

State District Court Judge Peter Michael Curry was prepared to instruct the jury before lawyers began their final arguments in the suit.

Double slaying suspect jailed

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — A Texas man was arraigned here Tuesday on a charge of first-degree murder in connection with the slayings last March of two men, authorities said.

George Edward "Pete" Kay was arrested in Houston and brought back to Durant to face charges of killing Earnest Fielder and Junior Metcalf last March at an isolated fishing spot on Lake Texoma.

At his arraignment, Kay was denied bond and a preliminary hearing was scheduled for Oct. 6.

Kay is the fourth person to be arrested in connection with the double slaying. The charges against Roy Lee Leeds, however, were dismissed when evidence showed he had not participated in the actual slaying. Leeds is being held in lieu of a $10,000 material witness bond.

Still charged in the slaying were Charlie Mains and Gene Sexton. Mains is being held in lieu of a $75,000 bond. Gene Sexton of Durant is being held in a Texas jail pending extradition.

filed in November 1974.

The action was leveled against the telephone company by fired Bell executive James Ashley and the family of T. O. Gravitt, who was Bell's top Texas official when he committed suicide Oct. 17, 1974, at his Dallas home.

Curry sent the jury home Tuesday morning after lawyers on both sides announced they were finished with their cases. The judge then retired to work up the "very, very extensive" instructions he had to give the panel before final arguments.

The suit claims an improper internal company investigation in late summer and early fall 1974 destroyed the reputations of Ashley and Gravitt. The probe also drove Gravitt to suicide and resulted in Ashley's improper dismissal Oct. 31, 1974, the suit alleges.

Testimony was often sensational, ranging from allegations that Bell operated a political "slush fund" and kept two sets of books for rate-making purposes, to claims by the company that Ashley and Gravitt had sex in their offices with one female employee.

One witness testified Ashley liked to watch pornographic movies in his office conference room during work hours.

The plaintiffs claim Ashley and Gravitt were targets of the probe to oust them from the Bell power structure because they had started to grumble about what they considered unfair rate-making methods, slush funds and wastes of company money.

Southwestern Bell, in a counterclaim in the suit, alleges Ashley and Gravitt defrauded the company of about $30,000, mostly by filing false expense vouchers.

The trial began Aug. 8 with the selection of a jury of 10 men and two women.

The plaintiffs called 22 witnesses to testify and read from 21 sworn depositions during their 11 days of presentation.

Bell countered with 34 witnesses and readings from 16 depositions in eight days.

In addition to the testimony, jurors also must consider nearly 200 exhibits which were introduced by the two sides.

Bell officials testified they ordered the internal probe after hearing rumors of improper sexual conduct among San Antonio area employees. Witnesses for the company included several women employees who said they had sex with Ashley and Gravitt. Some said they felt pressured to participate to get promotions.

Special AFDC services grant

Approximately 1,300 families receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children living in the Midland-Odessa region are due to receive a $30 per child one-time only special social services grant early this fall.

Legislative appropriated funds totaling $89,505 will enable almost 3,000 children to purchase back-to-school supplies and meet other expenses. Payments can be expected by eligible families who received a financial aid check in August.

The Welfare Board will consider the feasibility of making an additional $30 per child payment sometime in the first part of 1978.

Now can we play some football?

As we sit here writing this (our left hand and our right hand) The District 5-4A Executive Committee is meeting, probably in closed session, in a conference room at the local high school. Herald reporter Bob Burton is no doubt waiting patiently on the other side of those doors, so that you will have an account of the proceedings on the front page of today's paper.

What's happening behind those doors anyway? Probably a goodly amount of argument, heated discussion and healthy shouting. The issue is a touchy one, especially to the schools and coaches accused of violating UIL rules governing football practice.

Something else that might be going on is further allegations against the remaining schools in the district. There is no way, well, let's say it's highly improbable that athletic programs in schools as large as those in District 5-4A can go through the year without violating at least one trivial little rule. Someone always notices.

Those schools that can get by without any infractions should be highly commended, not only for their sense of fair play, but because they were able to get by the gauntlet of rules itself.

Don't be surprised if, after it's all over, there are only one or two schools in the conference who aren't on probation. Also, don't be surprised if, after it's all over, there aren't any district schools on probation. Also, don't be surprised if I'm completely wrong.

Speaking of this mess, the commentary article on the UIL last week ruffled a few feathers. Fine, feather-ruffling is good for the soul. I ought to know. I get mine turned the wrong way a lot of times sitting at this desk.

But unlike you the reader, I can't write a letter to the editor and blow off steam. But having just as many rights as you, I can mark a story "commentary", telling you that it is not to be construed as a news story, and let out my feelings about a subject that gripes my gut.

And you, as the reader, can take it or leave it, or write a letter to the editor yourself, or sink back into your TV chairs and ignore it, or just do anything you dang well please.

I'll leave this subject with a quote from the new director of the UIL, Bailey Marshall, taken from an Associated Press story of about a month ago. The subject discussed at the time was a court case filed against the UIL, concerning the senior transfer rule.

Marshall states: "It's not a right of someone to play sports. The schools have a right to establish rules."

Admiral Don Green at the BSISD Business Office has some good news and some bad news. Total season tickets bought for the 1977 season were only 520, down considerably from the 624 figure for 1976. Shameful.

Now the good news. Starting today, season tickets will go back on sale until next Wednesday at 2 p.m. The tickets will cost $8, and will be good for the four remaining Steer home games. That is still a 33 per cent savings over the price at the gate.

Speaking of the Steers-Hobbs game, the New Mexicans sent over 500 student tickets and 500 reserved seats for the Friday night game in Hobbs. Price is $1 for students and $2.50 for reserved. Student tickets can only be purchased at the High School or Business Office this week.

ROBBIE WEGNER Big Spring Steer RONALD SUNDY Coahoma Bulldog GARY MARTIN Forsan Buffalo EDWARD GUILLEN Sands Mustang MARVIN JONES Stanton Buffalo

First 'Above the Call' winners named

For Inspirational Courage on the Football Field. So states the wording on the Herald's first annual "Above the Call" weekly award to players on the Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan, Sands and Stanton football teams.

The Herald Sports Desk will present the certificate of recognition to a player from each of the five schools during the 10-week football season. At the end of the season, all weekly honorees will be eligible for the "Brad Stevens Award", a travelling trophy to be presented annually by the Sports Department of the Herald that will signify the winner as the "most talented and courageous" high school player in the five-city area.

Winners this first week included three seniors, a junior and a freshman.

Marvin "Lemon Juice" Jones was a shoo-in as the Stanton High School award-winner. Marvin, an all-state, and depending upon SHS' successes this season, all-American candidate at halfback, was a one-man show last Friday night in the Buffs' 26-14 beating of Tahoka.

The 6-0, 170-pound senior picked up 180 yards rushing, intercepted a pass on defense, caught a 40-yard pass and scored all four of the Buffs' touchdowns.

Edward Guillen, a 160-pound freshman tackle at Sands High School in Ackery was in on several tackles in last week's opening loss to Shallowater.

"For being a freshman, Edward did an excellent job," said his coach Travis Molinex. For his never-say-die attitude on the field, Edward wins this week's award for the Mustangs.

Forsan's Gary Martin epitomizes what "Above the Call" is all about. He played both offense and defense, recovered a fumble, and made an outstanding 88-yard run. Even though hurt on the long rambles, he asked the coaches if he could still play anyway.

They let him, and the 170-pound senior was instrumental in the Buffs' victory.

Ronald Sundy, 145-pound, junior halfback for the Coahoma Bulldogs, also went both ways during the defensive struggle against Wall last Friday. He graded highest in the game films on defense, and because of his numerous tackles, was chosen to win the award.

Big Spring's own Robbie Wegner, a 159-pound senior who plays fullback on offense and "Shufflebacker" on defense, had three unassisted tackles against the Andrews Mustangs and was in on 28 others in the home opener last Friday.

Wegner's willingness to tackle with authority and desire to perform to the best of his ability gained him this first week's honor.

"Above the Call" winners will be announced in the Herald's Sports Section every Wednesday.

Twins doublemint Blyleven, Rangers

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Bert Blyleven might be more popular with the Minnesota Twins now than when he used to play for them. At least the Twins batters enjoy hitting against the Texas curveballer.

The Twins ripped Blyleven for five runs in less than four innings enroute to a 7-4 victory Tuesday night as Dave Goltz recorded his 17th victory of the year.

"The big thing about pitching for this club is you know our guys are gonna score," said Goltz, who fell behind 3-0 in the first inning.

"David didn't get any help right away," said Twins Manager Gene Mauch, referring to a pair of Minnesota errors in the first inning. "I told him not to worry. Maybe we can spot Bert three runs tonight."

Larry Hise's 27th homer of the year, a two-run shot 400-feet into the left field seats, cut the deficit to 3-2 in the bottom of the first inning.

"That really gave us a boost," said Mauch.

Blyleven, who has been shelled three times and is 0-2 this season against his former teammates, claimed he is still bothered by a groin injury he suffered in June.

"I'm not helping the ball club pitching like this," said Blyleven. "My control has really been off in my last three starts."

In the fourth inning, Blyleven walked in two runs after hitting a batter to load the bases.

"I can't remember walking a guy with the bases loaded and I did it twice," said Blyleven, who dropped to 13-12. "It's frustrating."

Claudell Washington and Kurt Bevacqua singled in runs and Bert Campaneris scored on an error by Bob Randall as the Rangers grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first.

Texas took a 4-2 lead in the third on Bevacqua's rbi double, but Minnesota scored three times with two outs in the fourth to finish Blyleven.

First 'real' college week, pick a winner folks!

NEW YORK (AP)—As we were saying when we were so rudely interrupted by the end of the 1976 college football season...

Return with us now to those glory days of yesterday — well, actually Jan. 1 of this year — when Pitt whopped Georgia 27-3 in the Sugar Bowl to nail down the national championship.

This corner picked it 28-17 to cap a perfect 11-0 record in bowl game prognostications.

For the season, the score was 549 right, 222 wrong, 13 ties, for a percentage of .712.

The highlight of the new season's first big weekend is a rematch of last year's opener — Notre Dame vs. Pitt. The Panthers' 31-10 triumph in South Bend got them off and winging toward the national title. This one's in Pittsburgh, with Notre Dame ranked No. 3 and Pitt No. 7.

Both coaches have been playing a little psychology this week.

"This is not a must game for us," says Pitt's Jackie Sherrill, who took over when Johnny Majors loped back to Tennessee.

Over to you, Dan Devine: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation and they could have three first-team All-Americans... opponents had better be prepared for a real dogfight."

So had the forecasters.

Notre Dame 27-17.

UCLA at Houston: Notre Dame-Pitt is ABC-TV's first national telecast and this Monday night encounter is the second one. It's also the week's only other meeting between ranked teams — UCLA is No. 11, Houston No. 14. The Bruins had a great recruiting year — keep your eye on Billy Don Jackson, a defensive boss from Sherman, Tex. — so quicker than you can say Manu Tuasosopo. UCLA 28-14.

Southern California at Missouri: Another rematch of a 1976 opener. You'll recall Missouri upset USC 46-25, the Trojans' only setback and one which ultimately cost them the national championship. And the year before that the Tigers upset Alabama and all that did was cost the Crimson Tide the national championship. Of Mizou's string of upsets has got to end some time. Southern Cal 38-14.

Vanderbilt at Oklahoma: Sooners are No. 1 in the preseason poll but they'd better not be reading their press clippings against underrated Vandy. Oklahoma 27-7.

Michigan at Illinois: Gary Moeller, Illinois' new coach, was an assistant at Michigan last year, so Bo Schembechler will go easy on him. Right, Bo? Bo? Welcome to the violent world of head-coaching. Gary, Michigan 42-6.

Miami, Fla., at Ohio State: And welcome back to the college football ranks, Lou Saban, and the violent world of opposing Woody Hayes. Ohio State 42-6.

Washington State at Nebraska: Warren Powers, Nebraska's new coach, was an assistant at Nebraska last year so Tom Osborne will go easy on him. Right, Tom? Right! If only Jack Thompson, the Throwin' Samoan, played for the Cornhuskers instead of the Cougars. Nebraska 28-17.

Mississippi at Alabama: The Crimson Tide stumbled against Ole Miss a year ago and they just might be looking ahead to next week's trip into the violent world of the Big Eight, namely, Nebraska. Bear Bryant won't let that happen.

Texas Tech at Baylor: On paper, this seems like a mismatch — with Rodney Allison, Tech's clutch quarterback, leading the Red Raiders while injury-plagued Baylor goes with third-stringer Scott Smith for openers and keeps its fingers crossed that he'll be heralded sophomore Sammy Bickham may see action thanks to a special pad to protect his injured shoulder. However, things aren't always what they seem on paper, so for the first Upset Special of the season, Baylor 19-12.

Kansas at Texas A&M: When Wishbone meets Wishbone, someone's gonna come away with broken bones. Texas A&M 35-14.

Stanford at Colorado: Guy Benjamin is the most accurate passer in Stanford's long line of great quarterbacks but this is the best Colorado team in a while. Colorado 35-21.

North Carolina at Kentucky: Seems like only yesterday that these teams wound up the 1976 season in the Peach Bowl, with Kentucky winning 21-0. This time... Kentucky 21-0.

California at Tennessee: Johnny Majors has told Volunteers not to expect any Pitt-type miracles right away, but the first five games are at home and none of the opponents is a world-beater. Tennessee 24-21.

Borg defaults in Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A computer, in its infinite wisdom, spewed out the seedings at the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament, predicting that top-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden would meet No. 2 Jimmy Connors in the final, a rematch of their grand, five-set thriller at Wimbledon earlier this summer.

The computer didn't know about the pectoral muscle. It didn't know about pain. So it certainly didn't expect Borg, the Wimbledon champ, to be sitting on his stool when the bell rang for the second game of his third set with Dick Stockton of Dallas on Tuesday.

And the computer never will understand that only the severest kind of pain in his injured muscle could make the 21-year-old Swede default his fourth-round match, robbing him of the chance to win the only major tournament that has eluded him.

"I'm very disappointed. I wanted to do really well this year, especially after coming so close (second) last year," said Borg after he defaulted his match to Stockton 3-6, 6-4, 1-0. "This was the worst. It was much too painful to serve, and what can you do if you can't serve?"

So there will be no rematch with Connors, no new data for the computer in its effort to decide whether Borg or Connors is No. 1.

Connors downplayed Borg's default. "He's out of the tournament? Oh, he's deadpanned. Then he joks. I got one round farther than he did, maybe I'm No. 1 on the computer now."

He was certainly No. 1 on the court Tuesday night when he devastated Roscoe Tanner, the No. 11 seed from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., 6-0, 6-2 in a match that took 55 minutes only because it takes time to change courts every odd game.

Connors and Stockton joined Manuel Orantes and Brian Gottfried Tuesday in advancing to the quarter-finals of the Open. Orantes, of Spain, the No. 5 seed who is playing marvelous tennis, easily handled 18-year-old John McEnroe of Douglaston, N.Y. 6-2, 6-3.

Stockton was to meet Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., and Guillermo Vilas of Argentina was scheduled to play Ray Moore of South Africa in the quarter-finals today.

Five more women Tuesday moved into the quarter-finals, including top-seeded Chris Evert, who whipped Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-0.

Miss Evert meets Billie Jean King, a four-time champion here and the No. 7 seed, tonight in a quarter-final match.

Apparently fixed in the Pacers' backcourt already is 6-2 John Williamson, obtained from the New York Nets during last season, who averaged 20 points a game.

Up front, the 6-5 Dantley averaged 20.3 points per game last year, while the 6-9 Bantom averaged 18.6 with the Nets.

"We can alternate Dantley, Bantom and Danny Roundfield at forward," Leonard said. "I think you win games in the NBA up front and it's no secret we were hurting there last season."

The Pacers, meanwhile, still are trying to sign their top draft pick, 6-6 Alonzo Bradley of Texas Southern. Bradley failed to show up for a four-day rookie camp in July, apparently not satisfied with the Pacers' contract offer.

Big names cut by Pros

Linebacker Mike Curtis and running back Ed Marinaro were the best-known victims as National Football League teams cut their rosters to 48 players Tuesday.

Curtis was waived by the Seattle Seahawks and Marinaro, a former NCAA rushing champion, was cut by the New York Jets. For Curtis, a 34-year-old veteran of 13 pro seasons, it may be the end of the line. For Marinaro, it is the end of an unhappy experience.

"I can't help but feel a little bitter," Marinaro said after being cut by the Jets, with whom he signed as a free agent in 1976. "I left a championship team in Minnesota to play in New York and I played well when I got the chance. But, when they feel you're not helping, you're expendable. The past performances don't matter."

Marinaro's best NFL season was 1975 with the Vikings, when he caught 54 passes for 462 yards and rushed for 358. With the Jets, Marinaro played just six games before being sidelined with a foot injury. He rushed for 312 yards in 77 carries and caught 21 passes for 168 yards.

Curtis, a mainstay of the great Baltimore defense of the late 1960s and a former All-Pro, was obtained in the expansion draft by Seattle last year. He started at outside linebacker in every Seattle game last season.

As a middle linebacker for Baltimore, Curtis gained a reputation for aggressive play. He once used a forearm smash to deck a fan who ran onto the field during a Colts' game.

Also cut as NFL teams entered the final week of the preseason was quarterback Gary Marangi of Buffalo, who started the Bills' last seven games last season, all losses. Marangi had been traded to Green Bay last week but failed the Packers' physical and the deal was nullified.

Elsewhere on cutdown day, Cincinnati waived tackle Ken Kuhn, guard Jose Saint-Victor and wide receiver Bob Farnham and Cleveland axed Terry Brown, who started at strong safety for them last season.

Kansas City waved Mark Vitale, a rookie quarterback from Purdue, wide receiver Waddell Smith, linebacker Clyde Werner and defensive tackle Cornelius Walker.

New England placed wide receiver Don Westbrook on waivers, Philadelphia cut cornerback Mark Mitchell, San Francisco released veteran running back Manfred Moore and defensive backs Frank Oliver and Steve Jackson, and Washington cut offensive tackle Mike Hughes, defensive end Duncan McCall and wide receiver Kevin Farrell.

Meanwhile, Baltimore and Seattle added players. The Colts obtained defensive lineman Alden Roche from Green Bay for a future draft choice.

What are the Pacers up to anyway?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—In the space of one week, the Indiana Pacers have traded away the National Basketball Association's top defensive player and the league's No. 2 scorer, but Coach Bobby Leonard already is convinced he made the right moves.

"These two trades have helped us in all three areas: board strength, depth and scoring punch," Leonard said Tuesday after the Pacers sent guard Don Buse to the Phoenix Suns for guard Ricky Sobers.

Last week, high-scoring forward Billy Knight was traded to Buffalo for NBA Rookie of the Year Adrian Dantley and forward Mike Bantom.

"I just didn't feel like we could come back with the same team and win as many ball games as last year," Leonard said, "and when you're not a .500 ball club, you have to try to make some changes to fill particular needs."

Knight was second in the league with a 26.6 average last season, but at 6-foot-6 he was too slow to play at guard. He was more effective at forward, but it was physically wearing to battle the much larger opponents he usually faced.

Buse, a 6-4 ballhawk, led the league in assists and steals. But his career average in five years with the Pacers was just under eight points a game.

Both Knight and Buse were named to the NBA's Western Conference All-Star team last season.

The varsity squad triumphed 15-1, 10-15, 15-8, with Rose Magers grabbing top scoring honors with mine. Magers, Becky Ragan and Casey Green were commended for their strong defensive work in the backcourt, and Kathy Birdwell looked strong at the net.

"Our offense still wasn't as strong as it should have been," said Deason.

All these teams will be in Seminole Thursday for contests beginning at 5 p.m. The varsity unit, with a record of 2-1 now, will be involved in the Angelo State Tournament this Friday, playing El Paso Burges at 9:30 in the morning.

Volleyball teams win games

The Big Spring High School volleyball teams won two of three from the visiting Monahans squads Tuesday night in Steer Gym.

The freshmen defeated their opposition 15-1, 5-15, 15-5. Brenda Trevino was high-point server, with eight, and Cynthia Washington was strong at net and Linda Magers looked good in the backcourt, according to their coach.

The Junior Varsity fell to Monahans 4-15, 17-15, 15-9. Penny Ray took top local high-point honors with 14. "We had an easy first game, but lost concentration. We should've won the match," Coach Nancy Deason commented.

Olesens competing at Forest Hills

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Ginger Olesen and her son, Danny, 16, recently of Big Spring, will be going after the national championship of the Equitable Family Tennis Challenge on Thursday and Friday (September 8 and 9) at the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills, where the U.S. Open is in progress.

They will be competing against 15 other teams, each the winner of local and sectional tournaments earlier this summer, enabling them to advance to the championship playoffs of this unique mixed doubles event.

The tournament began with 128 local events in 49 states, conducted in cooperation with the United States Tennis Association.

The Equitable Family Tennis Challenge, sponsored by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, brings together family teams of mothers and sons, fathers and daughters, grandmothers and grandsons, grandfathers and granddaughters.

Harold Olesen, the husband and father of the pair, respectively, was a dentist at Webb AFB until his very recent transfer to Biloxi, Miss. Accompanying Ginger, Danny and Harold to Forest Hills will be siblings Kim, 12; Dave, 10; Phil, 7 and Steve, 2.

Ginger plays piano and has been playing tennis for about six years. Danny is a junior in high school, enjoys growing tomatoes and is interested in meteorology.

Webb linkmen in tourney

WEBB AFB — Six golfers will represent Webb in the Air Training Command tournament Sept. 9-12 at Randolph AFB. Planning to compete in the open division is Tim Lynch who plays from scratch along with Neil Cleveland who carries a 4 handicap. In the 54-hole qualifying tournament last weekend, Lynch led the field with 223 trailed by Cleveland at 233 gross total.

Others on the Webb team will compete in the handicap divisions. They are (scores listed as net): John Autry, 233; Russ Conn, 222; Don Layton, 229 and Ron Miller, 225. Noe Gonzales, 236, is an alternate for the team. No women tried out for that division.

Astros' new goal: Catch the Reds

HOUSTON (AP) — Joaquin Andujar and his Houston teammates have set a goal for the rest of the season — catch the Cincinnati Reds.

Andujar, making his first start since July 14, hurled six innings to pick up his ninth victory in his last 11 decisions as the Astros defeated the Reds, 8-3, Tuesday night.

The victory, Houston's 11th in its last 12 games, leaves the Astros just 4 1/2 games behind second place Cincinnati in the National League West Division.

"We're going to catch them (the Reds)," said Andujar, 11-5. "I haven't pitched in almost two months and I feel weak but we're going to catch them."

The Astros collected 11 hits off a total of five Cincinnati pitchers to take their ninth consecutive home contest.

Art Howe's second inning RBI single off losing pitcher Doug Capilla, 6-7, and run-scoring third inning grounders by Cesar Cedeño and Bob Watson staked Houston to a 3-0 lead.

Enos Cabell's fifth inning solo homer into the left field seats preceded a three-run Astro sixth as Houston took its seventh contest from the Reds in nine home games this season.

Howe's two-run double and reliever Dan DuMoulin's wild pitch accounted for Houston's three sixth inning runs, with Jose Cruz' run scoring grounder in the seventh producing the final Astros run.

The Reds scored a fifth inning run on Pete Rose's RBI single and added a pair of sixth inning runs on a run scoring single by Johnny Bench and Champ Summers' grounder.

"Sure, we can catch them," said Howe. "They're not aggressive. They seem to be waiting back for the big inning."

Houston reliever Joe Sambito, who blanked the Reds over the final three innings while gathering his sixth save of the season, also believes that his teammates have a good shot at capturing second place.

TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS

Raiders open in Waco

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders opened the 1977 football season Saturday, Sept. 10, against Southwest Conference rival Baylor. Kickoff is set for 4 p.m. at Baylor Stadium in Waco.

The opener against Baylor marks the first time since the Red Raiders began competing for the SWC championship that Tech has opened the season against a conference opponent. Baylor, however, opened last season against eventual co-champion Houston, losing 23-5. More than 40,000 fans are expected.

Texas Tech has piled up an impressive record in season openers. Since 1925, the Raiders have won 37 opening games, while losing only 11. There have been four ties. Tech has won its last five opening games, but all have been at home. The Raiders defeated Utah 45-2 in 1972, Utah 29-22 in 1973, Iowa State 24-3 in 1974, Florida State 31-20 in 1975 and Colorado 24-7 last year. The last Tech opened the season on the road was 1971 when Tulane downed the Raiders 15-9 in New Orleans.

Texas Tech head coach Steve Sloan has fared well in openers himself, winning 11 straight in four years as a head coach. In his four years as a head coach, Sloan has compiled an overall record of 28-16-1 (.622). He is 16-7-0 (.696) in two years at Texas Tech.

Grant Teaff, head coach of the Baylor Bears, has compiled a 25-27-3 record in five seasons at the Baylor helm. He was 19-11 in three years as head coach at Angelo State University before going to Baylor in 1972.

"Every time I think about that game we played last year with Baylor, I have to sit down. I still see that Gary Blair getting the ball and the referee signaling first down. And I know Sammy Bickham made the Guinness Book of World Records for the fastest touchdown drive in history against us. Both of those guys present great problems for us defensively."

"This will be the first time our staff has taken a team to Waco and we're not exactly relishing the thought. We have a great deal of respect for the Baylor Bears. The game should be excellent from a spectator standpoint with both teams realizing that it is a very important conference game. This is the kind of game fans love but give coaches gray hairs," Sloan said.

Texas Tech trails in the series which dates back to 1929. Baylor won that 1929 meeting 34-0 in Waco. Since then, Tech has won 14, lost 20 and there has been one tie. Since joining the Southwest Conference the Raiders have fared better, however. In SWC play, Tech is 10-7 against the Bears.

Heisman Trophy candidate Rodney Allison is one of the few Raiders who has not been injured this fall and the gutsy quarterback is ready to lead the Tech attack against Baylor. Last season, Allison rushed for 106 yards on 11 carries and completed nine of 16 for 122 yards against Baylor. His long play of the game was a 77-yard touchdown run on the first play of the game.

A couple of players who dented the Raider defense heavily in last year's game will be in the lineup for Baylor in the opener. Sophomore quarterback Sammy Bickham threw only two passes in last season's game but completed them both for 62 yards and a touchdown. He will be joined by running back Gary Blair who ripped 1111 through breder defenders a tough place on 30 carries in 1976.

Waco has been a tough place for the Red Raiders to play over the years as each is 11-12 in games played on the Brazos. Baylor won the first 11 games played in Waco before Tech broke through with a 7-3 win in 1970. Tech won 13-7 in 1972, but lost the last meeting in Waco, a 17-0 game in 1974.

Texas Tech trainer Bob Bissell has been the busiest staff member for the Red Raiders during fall workouts as the team has had an unusually high number of injuries. At one point, five of the six starters in the offensive line were out with injuries as was running back Billy Taylor, defensive backs Mike Patterson and Alan Emerson and quarterback Tres Adams.

Aggie QB predicts championship

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — There is no lack of confidence on the Texas A&M football team this season, least of all with starting quarterback David Walker.

"We can win the national championship if we don't have any injuries," Walker said when asked about a national title. "We'll have to keep the offense together especially at wide receiver, tight end and running backs."

Bears have to risk QB

WACO, Tex. (AP) — If Saturday's opener with Texas Tech wasn't a Southwestern Conference game, Baylor Coach Grant Teaff says he wouldn't even be thinking about risking quarterback Sammy Bickham's injured shoulder.

Teaff, who has seen injuries deplete his quarterbacking corps, said Monday that he will have to start freshman tight ender Scott Smith at quarterback.

But Bickham, a sophomore from Plano who was scheduled to start before injuring his shoulder in practice, might see action against the Raiders — thanks to a special shoulder pad developed by Baylor trainers.

Longhorns are slowly healing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas punter Russell Exleben, whose 46.6-yard average led the nation last year, has recovered enough from back problems to take his first swipes at the ball this fall.

And Johnny "Lam" Jones worked out Monday, though probably not at full speed.

Exleben boomed several punts 60 yards in practice Monday. He has had back problems since he was in high school.

Oklahoma's but there's no wishbone like ours," Walker said. "We made minor changes last year and suddenly nobody could give us a bad play."

With Walker operating at peak efficiency, Ballard's only quarterback concern is adequate backup help. If Walker is injured, freshmen Mike Mosley or David Beal will be thrown into the fight.

"I think Mosley will be a super football player in time," Ballard said. "And that's just what he needs, time. And David Beal is out of the same mold."

If Mosley or Beal suddenly were thrust into the starting lineup, they'd be following what Walker did five seasons ago as a green 17-year-old from Sulphur, La. Walker suffered through seasons of frustrations and confusion before finally emerging.

Overstreet pads OU devastation

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The development of freshman sensation David Overstreet has given No. 1-ranked Oklahoma one more potent weapon in an already devastating offense.

The Big Sandy, Tex., product has worked his way into a possible starting berth at right half when the Sooners open their season this Saturday here against Vanderbilt.

"Overstreet is on the No. 1 team right now, but we haven't made a final decision yet," Coach Barry Switzer said Monday at his weekly news conference. Battling Overstreet is redshirt sophomore Billy Sims.

Switzer says 'I'm a little concerned'

Switzer said, "I'm a little concerned. But he thinks he'll make it, and the trainer thinks he'll make it. We'll just have to see. He didn't practice today, but will try tomorrow (Tuesday)."

If Lott can't play, senior Dean Blevins will start. The play of another freshman, Jay Jimerson, at quarterback also has been a pleasant surprise for Switzer.

"It gives us real good depth at quarterback and allows us to redshirt J. C. Watts," Switzer said. Watts, a sophomore, has the potential to be the first complete wishbone quarterback at Oklahoma, able to throw and run equally well.

Defense is the one area that continues to worry Switzer, however.

"We're in a situation where we may start five people on defense this Saturday who have never played a down of defense for Oklahoma," Switzer said. "That worries me."

The positions include both ends, one linebacker and two secondary players.

Switzer said all five were "looking good" in practice, but said it would be different this Saturday "when they don't have a coach standing there telling them what to do. That's when we will find out how good they are."

Band members man phones for telethon

By EILEEN McGUIRE
The Big Spring High School Band played a good tune last weekend for Jerry Lewis and Big Spring. The band was responsible for nearly $3,000 in cash and pledges collected for this year's Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

Bill Bradley, BSHS band director, and Dale Wardin, fleet salesman at Bob Brock Ford, assisted the 30 youths who manned telephones at KWAB-TV from 7 p.m. Sunday until 7 p.m. Labor Day, working in four six-hour shifts.

According to Miss Lindy Thames, 15, a junior at Big Spring High School, the school band was asked by the Monahans' Telethon Committee to take part in this year's campaign.

"We had a real big response," she said. "By 9:30 Labor Day morning, we had collected $2,612 and still had ten hours to go."

Miss Thames said they received several unusual calls during the night.

Among those was a man who appeared to be intoxicated and wanted to challenge the whole town of Big Spring. Another call, taken by Bradley, came all the way from England. "She had a very heavy English accent," Bradley said of the mysterious caller.

"Apparently she had lived in Big Spring five or ten years ago. She sure was glad to have somebody from Big Spring to talk with."

While pledges were being taken over the telephone, members of the local CB club, "React", were out collecting those pledges.

"Before the telethon was even over, we already had cash for half the pledges taken," Bradley said.

In preparing for the telethon, Bradley said, "We were instructed by the Monahans committee to explain to anyone requesting to speak to Jerry Lewis in person that he was 'busy on stage at the moment'."

Meals for the 32 participants were donated by

Couple Takes Tumble Without Insurance

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I fixed up our backyard with a slide, swings and a sandbox for our grandchildren to enjoy when they visit us on weekends.

The neighbors' children (and there are many) asked if they could play in our backyard during the week, and we saw no reason to refuse them.

Well, last week a neighbor girl fell off our swing and broke her nose and two front teeth! (They were not baby teeth, so they have to be replaced.)

The girl's father informed us, through his lawyer, that we are liable for the doctor and the dental bills.

Our own lawyer said we had to pay it because it happened in our yard. Abby, we're just average middle-class people, and this has hit us hard.

I hope you'll print this as a warning to other naive, big-hearted people who can ill afford such generosity.

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: Will do. But if you had spent just a few dollars for insurance, you would have been "covered"—not stuck! Readers, talk to your insurance agent, and be sure YOU'RE protected.

DEAR ABBY: I have a European man friend who lives abroad but comes here very often on business for his government.

We are very close physically and emotionally, have even spoken of marriage and have exchanged "I love you's" many times.

The only thing I don't like about him is that he's cheap. Last Christmas he sent me a seashell and a T-shirt. The seashell was beautiful—if you like seashells. And the T-shirt was obviously secondhand. I have nothing against secondhand clothes, but I don't think they are appropriate for a gift.

I didn't mention it for several months, but it kept bugging me, so I finally wrote him and got it off my chest! Well, I haven't heard from him since.

All his letters up until then were lovey-dovey. Do you think I made a mistake telling him I thought he was cheap? I'm sorry now. Should I write him again and apologize? I miss him, and I do love him.

GIRLFRIEND

DEAR GIRLFRIEND: A secondhand T-shirt is a firsthand indication of his chintziness. However, it's the thought, not the value of the gift, that counts. You were right to level with him, but if you love him and miss him, write and tell him so. And if you get him back, I hope you realize you'll have a man who's cheap.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

Cooking school slated

A popular, nationwide cooking school, under the direction of two expert cooks, will be returning to Big Spring next week for local and area citizens to attend.

The Progressive Farmer's Southern Kitchens Cooking School will be Thursday, Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. Sponsoring the event will be the Big Spring Herald and various Big Spring merchants.

Free tickets are available for the two-hour cooking school from participating merchants, including Furr's, Foodway, Newsom's, Gibson's, Keaton Kolor, Big Spring Hardware, First National Bank, Young N' Alive and Arcand Electronics.

Though the tickets are free, they are a "must" for admission. If ticket supplies are exhausted, the public will be seated on a seat-available basis.

Door prizes, consisting of ten bags of groceries and approximately $1,000 worth of gifts donated by local merchants, will be given away. In order to qualify for the drawing, tickets must be filled out and left at the door.

Program coordinator, Beth Hawes, will be on stage to introduce the program and conduct the drawing. She is a graduate of Southern Methodist University in Dallas where she held a Lloyd Price Scholarship and was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Pat Pittman, who holds a degree in home economics from East Texas State University, will be demonstrating the ten dishes which will be prepared on stage. Ms. Pittman's other qualifications include working eight years as a home economist for a utility company and later, as a much-in-demand free-lance home economist.

All men, women, and youth interested in cooking are urged to attend. A bag of free goodies, donated by local merchants, will be given away at the door to all who come.

Crowds for this popular traveling cooking school averaged more than 1,500 in each of a hundred cities last year, so be sure to come early for good seating.

with Marj Carpenter

I sat with mixed emotions last week and read the news notices and listened to the television warning about the terrible hurricane that was about to hit Brownsville.

Mercedes, where my 78-year-old mother lives, is 32 miles inland, as the crow flies, and when a hurricane hits Brownsville it blows all the way through the valley.

The television program kept giving a history of disasters including the tidal wave in Galveston in 1900 then they began to talk about bad hurricanes, such as Carla that struck Corpus Christi in the 60s. They forgot to mention Celia that struck the valley later, but the one they really forgot and they have left plumb out of their records is what the Valleyites call the "hurricane of 1933."

That's the one where around 84 were killed and millions of dollars worth of property damage occurred. And that was in Depression years when nobody had the money to buy insurance or to repair anything and there was no such thing as federal aid.

Although it was beginning, FDR was in there and he had started the NRA and the CCC and the WPA and the PWA. Whoopie do.

Tommy Hart says nobody would admit to being old enough to remember the hurricane of 1933, but I do. I was a child (7 years old). It was in September the week school started. We were out of school two days.

The first part of the storm struck at night and I slept though it. My parents and brother rolled up carpets, propped up furniture, put rags in the windows and pulled my bed away from a window. In the morning, I woke up and put my feet in water which was all over the house from the rains.

Dad walked to town to see our three story brick garage. The roof had been lifted off and sliced down through the center of the building. It stayed that way through the Depression years until 1942. Dad and Mother moved the car out parts out of the building, rented a store and opened an Auto Parts store which they ran until they retired in the 60s.

The next morning after the first blow, there was a lull. Then the hurricane blew in the other direction. I remember Dad went out during the lull and told us about several friends who had been killed. That was the first I realized that it was bad.

When it blew in the other direction, our rabbits blew away. The rabbit hutch flew by the window with the rabbits against the wire and their ears pinned back like wings. Goodbye rabbits.

Most of the time, hurricanes that head for Brownsville turn at the last minute and go down toward Tampico and batter the mountains in Northern Mexico. Very few people live there. The Valley and Mexico residents call it Hurrican Alley. That's why nobody lives there.

My son and I were down visiting Mother the week before this latest hurricane threat. We had been to South Padre and the waves were high like they get before hurricanes. We told Mother, "It may be time for a hurricane to hit the Valley." "Oh," she shrugged, "It will probably turn and go to Mexico." It's a shame that the weather experts couldn't figure that out. It would have saved a lot of traveling of civil defense, Red Cross utility workers and national press media.

Mother's been on the same plot of land 70 years. During that period of time, there's been two bad hurricanes. Before the floodway system was constructed in the Valley, she went through three bad floods.

Her philosophy is that "A hurricane will either turn and go to hurricane alley, where it's supposed to go, or it will hit. If it hits, it will either blow you away or it will not." That's a very good philosophy. It keeps you from getting panicky, down by the hurricane fence.

Knott post office not likely to be KO'd

The postal service has proposed rules on procedures for closing rural post offices that it considers uneconomical.

Affected communities will continue to receive mail addressed to their local post office, which will keep their names in the national postal register for purposes of identity.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster in Big Spring, said, "I do not believe this is going to affect any of our small post offices around here. 'Knott is the only fourth class post office in this immediate area and it was recently closely checked by the postal service at the time that the postmistress retired."

"It was decided at that time that the post office should remain open and Mrs. Edith M. Christian was named the new postmistress."

Other small post offices in the immediate area of Big Spring are third class post offices and there has been no talk of closing them.

These include post offices such as Tarzan where Mrs. Doris McMorris is postmistress; Lenora where Mrs. Cassie Huckabee is postmistress and other locations such as Ackerly, Big Lake and out at Forsan where Mrs. Reba J. Ward is postmistress.

Most of the smaller post offices are one man or one woman operations and they do not work a full day.

Hardesty said that in this particular postal service section the fourth class post offices include only Knott that is near Big Spring. Others in the Midland-Big Spring section include Silver, Water Valley, Toyahvale, Tennyson Texon, Royalty, Pendale, Orla, Mereta, Mentone, Knickerbocker and Girvin.

Many of these are in the Pecos, Monahans portion of the section. Mentone is the county seat of the least populated county in Texas and it is doubtful that a county seat post office would be closed.

Deputy Postmaster General William F. Bolger said that many small town residents "believe that it is like being taken off the map if their post offices is shut down. People in rural America are worried that if they lose the post office, they will also lose community identity."

The General Accounting Office last year said the postal service could save millions of dollars each year if it shut down most of the 12,000 rural and small town post offices scattered around the nation, primarily because they often lose more money than they earn in operating costs.

The Postal Service emphasizes that the adoption of the proposed new rule will not signal the beginning of a campaign to close large numbers of post offices. It will simply bring postal regulations up to date.

The public has until Sept. 23 to address comments to Assistant General Counsel, Legislative Division, U.S. Postal Service, 475 L'Enfant Plaza, West, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20260.

Lion for sale ad nets $650 cash

BLANCHARD, Okla. (AP) — When Mr. Ben Gunter and his wife decided the time had come to get rid of their lion, they turned to advertising.

That's why a newspaper carried the classified ad stating, "African Lion, Young male, $650 or trade."

Although Mrs. Gunter said her husband would have been willing to work out a trade, he didn't have to. The lion was sold Monday to a Hereford rancher for $650 cash.

Mrs. Gunter said the lion was kept in a cage surrounded by chain link fence in their back yard. But she said they didn't think the lion — named Leo, naturally — would be able to withstand the winter.

In addition, Gunter said, the curiosity of passersby made them decide to get rid of the lion.

We aim to please.

Yarbrough allowed to resign

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court has accepted the resignation of Don Yarbrough as a lawyer, but court precedent would allow him to apply for reinstatement later.
 In its announcement Tuesday, the court did not mention the disbarment suit pending against Yarbrough in Houston. Logically, it would seem a man could not be disbarred if he has no license.
 Davis Grant, general counsel for the State Bar, said there has been only one case similar to the Yarbrough case.
 A lawyer named Richard Pena resigned in 1964 under threat of disbarment on the ground he collected money for legal services he did not render.
 In 1974, Pena applied to be reinstated. The case went all the way to the supreme court, which ruled Pena's resignation under threat of disbarment was "tantamount to disbarment" and said Pena could go through district court in his home county and make restitution for legal fees collected for services unperformed and be reinstated.

 Two justices dissented on the ground a lawyer could escape disbarment and later move to another county and have a district court not involved in the disbarment suit in effect nullify the acceptance of a resignation by the supreme court.
 Those justices said it would be better to make him go through the State Board of Legal Examiners and reestablish his good character as well as make restitution.

Pena had moved to Bexar County and applied for and received reinstatement in a Bexar County district court.
 The Harris County Bar Association grievance committee filed a motion earlier Tuesday opposing the acceptance of Yarbrough's resignation and urging the high court to allow Yarbrough's disbarment suit to proceed.
 Yarbrough asked the court to accept his resignation last Friday. The court requested a concurring motion from the grievance committee and said it would rule on the matter Tuesday.
 The grievance committee prosecutor, Frank Bean, handed down Tuesday after Trull, 40, testified at his own request.

 He is charged with taking a vice president of Pyron Investments hostage in the firm's gasoline-splashed office Aug. 9, 1977, and threatening to burn it down if he didn't get $10,000, a Cadillac and a promissory note for $775,000 from the firm's owner, Tyler millionaire Billy D. Pyron.
 The hostage, Bill May, was released after four hours of tense negotiations.
 Trull's fiancée, Mrs. Glynell Logan, 42, and two of her children were also considered by the grand jury for possible aggravated kidnapping charges, but were not charged.

Trull, who says he shared an Abilene office with Estes, claims Pyron and Estes bilked him out of $1.5 million in a business venture.
 While waiting for the grand jury results Tuesday, Mrs. Logan said she, Trull, her 21-year-old son, Mark, and her 19-year-old daughter, Julie, all passed lie detector tests over the weekend, administered by "a man from Austin."
 Prior to his arrest Aug. 9, Trull had turned over documents, some of which bore Pyron's name, to state and federal authorities. The documents prompted current investigations into the business dealings of Estes, who is specifically barred by the terms of his 1971 parole from engaging in any promotional activities.

Farm Ag population skids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's farm population declined another 610,000 persons last year, the sharpest percentage drop this decade, according to new government figures.

In all, some 8,253,000 persons lived on farms in 1976 — an average for the entire year — for a decline of 6.9 per cent from 8,864,000 reported in 1975, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.
 Vera J. Banks, a demographer in the department's Economic Research Service, said, however, that changes in Census Bureau processing and survey procedures accounted for about 130,000 of the decline.
 Even so, she told a reporter, the adjusted 1976 decline of 481,000 persons was "a significant drop" and is the largest on a percentage basis since the farm population slipped 5.8 per cent from 1969 to 1970.

Offhand, I just can't give you any good explanation for it," Ms. Banks, who prefers that designation, said of the sharp decline.
 The farm population skid has accelerated in recent years. Since 1974, the average rate of loss has been 5.8 per cent, compared with an annual average loss of 1.2 per cent from 1970 to 1974 when it appeared that the long-term decline in farm population was leveling off.
 Despite the drop in the number of people actually living on farms, the population of rural areas — including small towns and areas where people simply have homes in the countryside — has made a resurgence in recent years. From 1970 to 1975, rural populations overall have increased 6.6 per cent compared with a city growth

Tillage tips to save water

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's Extension Service has issued a new 32-page booklet intended to help Great Plains wheat farmers save water, soil and energy by adjusting their tillage methods to fit their climate and land resources.
 Titled "Conservation Tillage for Wheat in the Great Plains," the publication covers what experts see as a need for conservation tillage, the planting of wheat and the control of erosion, weeds, diseases and insects.
 The booklet was prepared in cooperation with the Wheat Industry Resource Committee, a panel representing Extension, research and the National Association of Wheat Growers.
 Terms and practices such as minimum tillage, no-till, stubble mulch, till-planting and ecalofall are described. The booklet is available for $1.30 a copy — with a discount of 25 per cent on orders of 100 or more — from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

rate of 4.1 per cent, Ms. Banks said.
 The farm population, meanwhile, has dropped 15 per cent from 9,712,000 in 1970 to the 8,253,000 now reported for last year.
 In other words, Ms. Banks said, about one out of every 26 Americans had a farm residence in 1976 — some 3.9 per cent of the population. When the U.S. farm population peaked at about 32.5 million in 1916, about one of every three Americans lived on a farm.
 The farm population declined gradually in most years after 1916 but increased during four years of the early 1930s in the midst of the nation's worst economic depression, rising from about 29.4 million persons in 1930 to 31.2 million in 1933. By 1936, however, it had dropped back to 30.4 million and 20 years later, in 1956, fell to 18.7 million.
