

Carter doesn't understand oil crisis?

By TOMMY HART
 WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Jimmy Carter comes across as a man who seems much more at ease discussing foreign policy than he does domestic issues.

The amiable Georgian met with 24 newspaper editors from around the nation for the better part of 45 minutes in the White House on a rainy Friday.

Mr. Carter is sligher than he appears on television screens, with relatively narrow shoulders. He appears healthy and he says "we have enjoyed the job of serving as president," referring, I assume, to members of his family, as well as to himself.

"It offers adequate diversity, with no boredom," the president says, no doubt understating the case.

The president fielded all questions that came his way with consummate ease. They ranged from his stand on the alien (or, as Texans call it, the 'wetback' problem) to his frosty relations with the oil industry.

I CAME away from the meeting with the feeling that Mr. Carter does not understand the oil crisis and, furthermore, has surrounded himself with advisors who are determined to whip the oil titans into line.

The Georgian repeated that he sincerely believes that the oil plan his team has proposed to Congress is fair. (It allows for no deregulation.) He reasons that oil price structure is generous. The fact that the American people have not responded to his challenge to cut down on the consumption of future disturbs him a lot.

Carter thinks the oil industry might be replete with profiteers who lust to "rip off" the consumers. The oil people reply:

"Have you ever sunk a million dollars in a dry hole? What incentives are there to gamble on new production?"

Mr. Carter says the possibility is strong that no legislation on energy will be enacted by the Congress before it ends its current session, although he is hopeful the House bill will pass.

"(It is not exactly what I wanted," he concedes).

Mr. Carter prefers to call the non-citizens streaming across the Mexican-U.S. borders "undocumented aliens." He has advocated some rights for those who have lived here seven or eight years but the reporter who said he was recommending amnesty for them was accused of being guilty of "gross misrepresentation."

ONE GETS the idea that Mr. Carter thinks our immigration laws are much too stringent, that the United States has room for a lot more people, even with the problems they are sure to bring.

It was suggested that Mr. Carter had tended to "ignore" the city of Chicago since Mayor Dick Daley (a Democrat and last of the old-time city bosses) had died, a claim the president vigorously denied. On the contrary, Carter said, his relations with the new Chicago administration have been most cordial.

Carter said he has no plans to get involved with any of the major labor strikes in progress around the nation unless "national security was involved." He sees no such threat at this time.

The arms buildup in the Indian Ocean causes him some concern and he said it was imperative that disarmament talks between Russia and the U.S. continue. "We cannot allow the luxury of even one mistake," Carter told his listeners. He reasons tensions in the volatile spots will be eased in the forthcoming Geneva Conference.

HE COMMENTED on his morning meeting with Panamanian leader Gen. Omar Torrijos, which he referred to as productive. He thinks there has been far too much adverse and false information circulated about his plan to yield ownership of the canal zone to Panama.

Carter has assembled a most unusual team in Washington, one that certainly does not fit the concept the average person has of that community.

For the most part, his appointees are youthful, somewhat reticent about offering anything but programmed views, with very little charisma. They are not prepared to offer an opinion on "everything," perhaps because they haven't been on the scene long.

Most seem in transit, too. They want the fact that they worked in high government on their records, hoping that such a file will enable them to take a few shortcuts to administrative jobs in big industry.

MANY ARE women and more than a few of those are of ethnic background. Invariably, they resort to stodgy bureaucratic terms in explaining the purposes and intentions of their departments. That, lamentably, is a disease all Washington importees retreat into after they have No gas legislation?

President won't take deregulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is unwilling to accept any compromise energy bill that contains any form of natural gas deregulation, the chairman of the Senate energy committee said today.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said that as a result, there may be no natural gas legislation enacted this year.

"The administration is going to be very tough and I'm pleased," Jackson said in an interview.

House and Senate conferees begin work on Tuesday on hammering out a compromise energy bill. Jackson is the head of the Senate's team of conferees.

Although the House has passed Carter's plan to lift the price lid on natural gas from $1.46 to $1.75 per thousand cubic feet and to extend controls to gas produced and used in the same state, the Senate has voted to lift controls from gas after two years.

"The administration holds all the cards," Jackson said. "Either there is no bill and the price remains at $1.46 or if there's a bill with deregulation, the President will veto it."

And Jackson said the administration has indicated it would prefer no bill at all to the Senate-passed measure.

Jackson had offered a "compromise" on the Senate floor during the natural gas debate that would deregulate gas prices after nine years. It was reluctantly supported by the administration at the time as preferable to the industry-backed deregulation bill that the Senate went on to pass.

Jackson's proposed compromise had been viewed as a possible middle ground for the House-Senate conferees to adopt. But Jackson said today that even this phased form of deregulation would probably be vetoed by the President.

He said he doesn't intend to even bring it up again.

The natural gas issue will be the last item the conferees consider so that if they remain deadlocked, it won't jeopardize other parts of the President's energy program, Jackson said.

Jackson said that he will work to get the conferees to approve natural gas legislation that the President will sign.

But he said at this point, no breakthrough appears in the making. The entire natural gas portion of the President's energy program may have to be bypassed this year, he added.

The conference committee will begin its work with the non-tax portions of the energy program.

Consideration of energy taxes will come later.

In the Senate, legislation is being considered that would temporarily block the government from reducing Medicaid payments to states that do not comply with federal requirements for independent medical inspections of nursing homes.

And the House is debating legislation to delay the Food and Drug Administration's proposed ban on saccharin for at least 18 months.

Although the House has acted on the full Carter energy plan, the Senate has yet to approve the tax parts. This opportunity could come on Friday, when the Senate may begin debating a "tax" bill approved by its finance committee that contains no taxes.

The committee voted late last week for legislation containing billions of dollars worth of tax breaks but none of the taxes Carter proposed to help save scarce fuels by making them more expensive.

The conference committee has the job of reconciling the energy bills passed by the House and the Senate.

The panel affords a final opportunity to the administration to try to salvage the House-passed parts of the Carter plan that have been defeated in the Senate.

In other action this week, Congress is expected to send the President legislation to boost the minimum wage to $3.35 by 1981.

The saccharin ban postponement would allow time for new studies on whether the artificial sweetener poses a cancer risk to humans. It has been linked to bladder cancer in laboratory animals.

Q. Why isn't Goliad School having the same programs for the students this year as it has had in the past? Why isn't there any student council, honor society, pep rallies, year book or student clubs?

A. The Goliad School is no longer a Junior High school but is now a middle school consisting of sixth and seventh graders according to Harlan Huibregtse, principal of the school. The concept is different and does not include so many extra-curricular activities. However, there will be a student council when it gets organized, and there has already been a pep rally.

Offbeat: Success secret

YADKINVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Stanley Allen says the secret to his success is the crack between his front teeth.

Allen outspat a group of men and women of all ages to take the grand prize — a spittoon — in the weekend Harvest Festival tobacco-spitting contest. His winning mark: 20 feet, 5 1/4 inches.

Allen, a 30-year-old resident of Tobaccoville, says he has the benefit of many years of experience. He has been chewing since he was 14, and he doesn't care if some people think his expectorating is unbecoming.

"They say it doesn't look nice," Allen said. Among the competitors was Mabel Brinkley, 55, of East Bend. After her 15-foot effort, she said: "Most women dip snuff. But chewing tobacco doesn't make a mess the way dipping snuff does."

"You don't get it on your mouth."

Pilot killed, seige continues

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — With one pilot dead and 86 hostages still aboard, the hijackers of a West German airliner landed in Somalia today and let two ransom deadlines pass without carrying out a threat to blow up the plane.

A West German government spokesman said in Bonn the pilot was apparently shot dead before the Lufthansa Boeing 737 jet took off late Sunday from South Yemen. His body was dumped onto the runway shortly after it landed without permission in Mogadishu, the Somali capital.

The four hijackers have demanded the release of 13 terrorists imprisoned in West Germany and Turkey and payment of $15 million, but no effort to meet the demands was reported as the hijackers extended their deadline first to 10 a.m., EDT, then to 10:30 a.m.

The West German government let a Sunday deadline pass without any attempt at compliance. However, it sent negotiators to the airport in Mogadishu in an effort to save the hostages, who include a California woman with a heart condition and her 5-year-old son.

Armed soldiers surrounded the plane at a distance in front of the main terminal in the Somali capital — the jet's sixth stop since two Arabic-speaking men and two women commandeered it over the French Riviera last Thursday.

The West German government said it could not confirm beyond doubt that the dead man's body was that of the chief pilot, Juergen Schumann. But a spokesman said the dead man had a notebook containing the name Monika Schumann, the chief pilot's wife.

Monika Schumann, who has sons aged 11 and 2, told a German newspaper last week that her husband had expected his plane might be hijacked some day, and had told her: "If that happens, just stay calm. I'm not the type for dangerous heroics."

Citizens praised for blackout conduct

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mayor Lilla Cockrell praised San Antonio citizens today for their behavior during Sunday's complete blackout while embarrassed utility officials said the outage "was one of those emergencies that can be expected in a large system."

Only this past summer a utility company official had said that an earthquake was more likely to occur in San Antonio than a blackout.

The lights in this South Texas city went out at 7:10 p.m. Much of the city had power restored by 8:40 with a pickup of power from Austin. Full power was restored at 10:02.

City Public Service officials said the blackout was caused by a static line that snapped and wrapped around major transmission lines from the Calaveras Lake power station about 14 miles south of San Antonio, the nation's 10th largest city.

The blackout gave city officials throughout Texas a close view of what to expect in such incidents. Thousands of delegates to the Texas Municipal League convention were in the city for their annual convention.

Mayor Cockrell, dismissing isolated instances of looting during the blackout, said, "I think our citizens showed what they are made of. I think they showed we have a wonderful city."

Police officials said two stores reported looters. A man was shot and wounded when he tried to stop one of the looters, officers said.

CPS chairman Tom Berg said at a news conference today, "We are very sorry the incident (blackout) occurred, but it is one of those emergencies that can be expected in a large system as this."

Quiet funeral for Bing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A simple, low-key funeral is planned for Bing Crosby on Tuesday, a family spokesman says.

Crosby's body was to arrive in Los Angeles tonight, accompanied by his son Harry, 19, on a flight from Spain. Crosby died of a heart attack on Friday in Madrid, after playing a round of golf. He had listed his age as 73, although baptismal records list the crooner as 74.

The Roman Catholic service will be held at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in Brentwood. Crosby, a devout Catholic, will be buried in a family plot at Holy Cross Cemetery near his parents and first wife, Dixie Lee, who died of cancer in 1952.

Crosby's second wife, Kathryn, told newsmen outside their home in the San Francisco suburb of Hillsborough that the service would be a low Mass.

"He wanted only the children and myself," she said, "but I think there are those who worshiped him for 40 years who have a right to be there."

Maury Poladare, Crosby's press agent, said several of Crosby's office employees would be invited, in addition to his four sons from his first marriage, his brother and his sister.

Planned his own suicide

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — Morgan Sibbett and Wallace Proctor shared a final dinner and reflected on the brilliant sunset. Dr. Proctor then went upstairs and quietly died — all according to plan, Sibbett says.

Sibbett, 65, publicly acknowledged on Sunday that he allowed his friend of 39 years to use his home as the stage for the suicide by a drug overdose two months ago. "Our leave-taking was quite matter-of-fact," said Sibbett. "They were just quiet days of reminiscence."

The two friends spent five days together, going for walks, dining out and preparing for Proctor's death. "We had said good-bye adequately. Nothing could be upon suicide with uneasiness or disfavor, but it may also represent a logical, considerate and effective means to satisfy one's responsibility to the world," Proctor wrote family members on July 30.

According to Sibbett, Proctor chose to die here because he knew suicide was not a crime in Pennsylvania and he was concerned about taking his life in Pocatello, where his wife, Marie, works as a nurse.

A week after the Aug. 16 suicide, Sibbett informed Delaware County District Attorney Frank Hazel by letter of the circumstances surrounding Proctor's death.

Sibbett told the prosecutor that Proctor "wanted those last days to be peaceful and free from melodrama. And they were in a measure that is difficult to imagine."

Hazel says he will not bring charges against Sibbett and that, as far as the county is concerned, the case is closed.

"What, in effect, Mr. Sibbett said he did here was to allow Dr. Proctor to be at his home, to offer him support and pleasant surroundings where he could be comfortable," Hazel said.

Pennsylvania law makes it an offense only to aid in a person's suicide, with the felony if the attempt results in death and a second-degree misdemeanor if it does not.

POST MORTEM — Morgan Sibbett reflects over a letter written by his friend of 39 years, Dr. Wallace Proctor of Idaho. Proctor, riddled by Parkinson's disease, planned his own suicide with his friend, then came to Sibbett's Swarthmore, Pa., home to die.

She's convinced agency will succeed

Consumer job proving difficult

WASHINGTON (AP) — Esther Peterson says she is convinced that the drive for an independent consumer protection agency will succeed, despite recent setbacks. "I'm not going to say when," she adds, "but I certainly think in this Congress that decisions will be made."

Mrs. Peterson is President Carter's special assistant for consumer affairs. Her mission, she explained in a recent interview, "is ... to help get this bill (establishing a consumer agency) through Congress."

That job is proving more difficult than most people expected earlier in the year. Both houses of Congress passed similar bills last year, but, in the face of a threatened veto by President Ford, failed to produce compromise legislation.

With Carter's support, backers of the concept predicted victory in 1977. They now concede they would lose if the issue came to a vote today. Mrs. Peterson said the reason for the problem is twofold.

"Number one, it was a very safe vote for people in the other administration because many people who voted for it knew that the president would veto it ... and a lot of those people changed when it became a reality." They changed, she said, "because of the second reason, which is the extremely strong opposition that has come from (part of) the business community."

She believes the trend will turn around before the end of 1978. She said there is a growing realization in government that the consumer's voice is important and a growing realization in business that consumerism can be profitable.

Comparing the consumer movement to the drives for organized labor, civil rights and women, Mrs. Peterson said, "My feeling now is the consumer movement is the next of the popular movements ... People who say that the consumer movement is on its way down, I think, are missing the signs on the wall. I think it's quite the opposite. I think we're just beginning to surface ... Change takes time. You have to have patience."

Mrs. Peterson, 70, has plenty of experience in change and time. A native of Provo, Utah, she has been in Washington since the late 1930s. She was assistant director of education for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, served as the union's lobbyist, was an assistant secretary of labor under President Kennedy and was vice chairman of the President's Commission on the Status of Women.

When, in 1964, President Johnson created the post of special adviser for consumer affairs, he named Mrs. Peterson to the job. She held the post for three years.

Leaning back in a chair in her office in the Old Executive Office Building next to the White House, Mrs. Peterson reflected on the changes that have come in the past 13 years.

Acceptance of consumerism did not come "until we began bringing industry in and showing that there was a commonality of problems and it could be helpful for them to understand."

Castro hailed in Kingston

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — President Fidel Castro and Prime Minister Michael Manley make a joint speaking appearance today at the north coast resort of Montego Bay amid protests from Manley's political opponents over the Cuban leader's first visit to his island neighbor.

Castro's arrival Sunday was greeted with warm praise from Manley, by a cheering crowd of several thousand people watching his motorcade pass through downtown Kingston and by a boycott of his six-day visit by the Jamaican Labor party. It called the visit "mistimed and ill conceived."

Presenting his guest with the Order of Jamaica, the country's highest award for foreigners, Manley said Castro "stands out as a giant in the struggle against imperialist intervention and aggression."

"All who fight for the right to independence and self-determination of all peoples remember the inglorious invasion of the Bay of Pigs and glory in the victory of the Cuban forces there," said Manley. "We salute the man responsible for that victory."

Castro replied that Manley's "extraordinary efforts" were "responsible for the excellent relations that exist today between the people of Jamaica and the people of Cuba."

people of Jamaica and the People of Cuba."

Castro and Manley were going to Montego Bay to speak at a rally honoring Jamaica's seven national heroes, one of them the prime minister's late father, Norman Manley.

The Labor party charged that the rally was not a national event but a political gathering for Manley's People's National party. It said public funds were being "misused" to pay for it.

The Labor party made Manley's close relations with Castro one of the chief issues in the national election last December, but the voters did not heed its charge that the prime minister was leading Jamaica along the road to communism. Manley's party got 57.3 per cent of the vote and won 48 of the 60 seats in the House of Representatives.

Hustle 3 Double-edged sword

By Bill Albright Executive Vice President, Big Spring Area Ch. of Commerce Industrial Growth and Development

The following message is in two parts: The first is this:

To shoppers and consumers. Folks, the 1977 Christmas season is just around the corner and you will soon be trying to satisfy your individual and family requirements.

It's a really good time to emphasize the benefit of "shopping at home." Big Spring's retail trade centers have grown and developed over the last few years and the selection is very, very good.

In addition, you should remember that it costs more than 25 cents per mile to drive a standard car. So if you decide to go elsewhere to shop — be sure to add $25 per 100 miles to the cost of your bargain hunting — you can buy at least $25 more worth of gifts by shopping in Big Spring.

Oh, one more thing that should mean something — your sales tax spent in Big Spring helps your community pay for all "pluses" we enjoy from our city government. Our community gains nothing from your dollars spent out of town.

Then there's one more little reason — it's called community loyalty! We help to "build a bigger, better... Big Spring area when we support one another."

Part two is this:

To retailers and sales people: You folks also have an obligation. It is most important to create a desire on the part of your customers to want to shop here in Big Spring. That consists essentially of three different elements. Number one is the requirement to provide goods and services in necessary quantities and at competitive prices.

Second, to meet your customers' needs in relation to shopping convenience; i.e. are you open when your customers want to shop? Cause if you're not and they're in the mood to buy — they're going to buy somewhere else rather than wait for you to open at your convenience. Finally, there is a requirement to present a cordial-courteous and efficient atmosphere for the shopper. This "good will" will provide a very high return on the investment and will retain the business of many Big Spring shoppers.

Working together, shoppers and retailers can really help to make our community a better place to live and earn a living.

Yes, it may be early, but planning ahead will make a Merrier Christmas and a truly merry Christmas is shopping Big Spring first — with plenty of Hustle! Hustle!

Fireplaces need Fall attention

By JANET ROGERS
County Extension Agent

Chimneys and fireplaces need early fall attention. Inspect now to help prevent winter problems.

If the chimney top is accessible, look down it with the aid of a flashlight from the fireplace, or from the clean-out at the chimney base.

CHIMNEY CLEANING — This is seldom necessary unless thick deposits of soot are present. The chimney can be vacuumed by a commercial firm or homeowners can do it themselves.

First, close fireplace damper and seal opening to keep soot out of the room. If there is not too great an offset in the chimney, dislodge soot with a weighted bag filled with straw, paper or cloth and tied with nylon rope. Lower the bag into the chimney and move it up and down until dirt and soot are forced down the flue.

CHECKING FOR DEFECTS — Inspect for cracks in flue lining and for leaks around other connections.

If fireplace and chimney show deterioration, try the smoke test to locate possible leaks. Build a fire in the fireplace. When it is burning well, put paper or damp straw into the fire to create profuse smoke.

Cover chimney with heavy cloth to force smoke out through any deteriorated mortar joints or other areas. Open windows and doors for smoke to escape.

Normally, the smoke would be drawn up past the joints in the flue lining, but this test will force it through these joints if there are leaks. Smoke will also leak through any cracks in chimney stack joints.

REPAIRING DEFECTS — If there are only a few small leaks, repair the brickwork joints.

Minor crumbling of the mortar should be repaired to prevent water penetration. Clean out at least one-half inch of the mortar and loose dust. Dampen joints and fill with new mortar.

Consult a chimney expert if there are many leaks in the stack, or if they are large. NEVER use a chimney until all defects are corrected.

INSPECTING FLASHING — Flashing joints — on the flashing around the chimney — are usually sealed with roofing cement, and after many years of weathering there may be small breaks in the cement. If so, repair with asphalt roof paint or roofing cement. Fill larger gaps with roof felt and cover with cement.

Occasionally chimney flashing separates from the mortar it is imbedded in. Repair this immediately, since separated flashing acts as a scoop for any rainwater.

REPAIRING FLASHING — To repair separated flashing: remove old mortar along the break line, clean the channel, and reposition the flashing. Finally, attach the flashing with a fresh mix of patching mortar.

Talk presented on Mrs. Luther

A program on Katherine Von Bora Luther, the wife of Dr. Martin Luther, was presented by Mrs. Leroy Budke at a meeting of the St. Paul Lutheran Parish Workers Thursday evening.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hadley, 4212 E. 18th.

Mrs. Raymond Stukel gave the devotion. In her presentation, Mrs. Budke gave a brief history of the life of Martin Luther and then reviewed the fictional biography of Mrs. Luther, "Kitty My Rib," by E. J. Mail.

She pointed out that very little can be found in historical writings about Luther's wife, and Mrs. Mail had done much research to make the book as authentic as possible concerning her and her life as the wife of Martin Luther.

Final arrangements were made for the Pastor's Conference to be held Oct. 24-25.

A special remembrance will be made during the Christmas holiday season to the senior citizens of the congregation.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stukel. The next meeting will be Nov. 10 at the church.

Rose Bowl Game Never On Sunday

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for letting your readers know that next year the Rose Bowl game will be played on January 2. Since your column appeared, we've received countless calls asking for verification.

The "Never On Sunday" tradition in Pasadena dates back to 1883, when tournament officials were first faced with the problem of disrupting church services with a parade. Next year will mark the 13th time our festival has been held on January 2 instead of on New Year's Day.

Perhaps your readers would like to know that the Rose Bowl game will be played on January 2 again in 1984, 1989, and 1995.

FOREST W. FOSTER,
PASADENA DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS, TOURNAMENT OF ROSES ASSN.

DEAR FOREST: Thanks. The information will be helpful to those who wish to plan ahead.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box, No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

SACK TIME — Herald photographer Danny Valdes caught one of Harvey Martin's (79) fine defensive moments late in the game Sunday, as he sent unlucky Redskins back-up quarterback Joe Theismann to Palookaville. Martin was credited with 2½ sacks in the game, according to PR Director Doug Todd, and had two of them in the last defensive series. "There's nothing more dangerous than a Harvey Martin who is a six-pack down to 'Too Tall' Jones," said Poke observer Don Richard, in obvious reference to the standing bet Martin and Jones have on enemy quarterback sacks. Jones can be seen here (72) coming in to get his share of Theismann, as offensive tackle George Starke (74) tries in vain to stop him.

'This is the best' -- Kilmer

DALLAS (AP) — Billy Kilmer has been through enough National Football League hand-to-hand combat to accurately assess an opponent and the Washington quarterback says the current edition of the Dallas Cowboys is the finest he's played against.

Kilmer, who was sacked five times and battered about like a rag doll in Sunday's 34-16 Cowboy victory over the Redskins, said frankly "This is the best Dallas team I've ever seen...and they sure proved it...We just lost to a great team."

Washington, now 3-2, fell two games behind the unbeaten Cowboys (5-0) in the National Conference Eastern Division and suffered numerous injuries in the roughhouse battle, including a bruised left shoulder to Kilmer.

"It happened in the first half when I got kicked," said Kilmer matter-of-factly. "I got a shot at halftime and that kinda deadened it."

The Redskins lost running backs Bob Brunet and John Riggins to injuries in the first quarter. Brunet suffered a neck injury and Riggins was helped from the field with a bad knee.

Dallas cornerback Aaron Kyle (fractured wrist) and tight end Billy Joe DuPree (bruised ribs) also were knocked out of the game.

Washington Coach George Allen agreed with Kilmer that the Cowboys are "the class of the division." "I said this was one of the best Cowboy teams I've seen in the past four or five years and today's game does not change my opinion," said Allen.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said "I still don't know how good we are. We have an amazing team because we are so young yet we've come from behind to beat both St. Louis and Washington."

"Usually a young team doesn't do things like that. We do have the ability to keep our poise."

Landry added "The second half of the season tells the story. We've been 7-1 before and lost three out of our last four. We have a strong stretch drive ahead with the Cards on a Monday night followed by Pittsburgh and Washington up there so it's not over yet."

Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach threw two touchdown passes, including a 59-yard bomb to Drew Pearson that iced the game in the fourth quarter.

"Roger gave me my favorite audible," said Pearson. "He just looked at me and pointed me to go deep."

Washington was threatening a maximum blitz on the play. Staubach said "It was an audible between us...I was in the middle of my count and I couldn't audible...we took a chance."

Pearson beat defensive back Gerard Williams as did Golden Richards on an earlier 50-yard scoring strike from Staubach. Williams was replacing the injured Pat Fischer.

"Fischer would have probably seen me signaling with my arm," said Staubach.

Washington trailed on 14-13 at halftime on field goals of 25 and 40 yards by Mark Moseley and a touchdown thanks to the special team.

Rookie Mark Murphy of Colgate blocked a Danny White punt out of bounds on the Dallas one and Washington's only other rookie, Clarence Harmon of Mississippi State, caught a touchdown pass on the next play.

Robert Newhouse ran seven and six yards for Dallas touchdowns as Washington zeroed in on Cowboy rookie sensation Tony Dorsett.

"We keyed on Dorsett on every down and did well," admitted Allen.

Dorsett gained only 51 yards on 19 carries but surprised the Redskins with a 34-yard halfback pass that setup a touchdown.

"He's not Roger but he's got potential," chirped Pearson who caught the pass.

Dallas sacked Kilmer and his backup, Joe Theismann, eight times with defensive end Harvey Martin leading the charge.

"We got back to the old Cowboy basics, drive them into the ground," said Martin.

Moseley kicked a career long 53 yard field goal to give Washington a brief 16-14 lead in the third period which Efen Herrera countered with field goals of 44 and 52 yards, the latter his longest.

"The home runs (two bombs) hurt you in any sport," said Allen. "This gives them a two game lead. They are in the driver's seat."

"I think we lost Riggins for the year. We've just got to cover the injuries and get it together."

Revived Dodgers blast their way back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An old fashioned revival meeting, called by their very own faith healer, Tom Lasorda, was credited with transforming the Dodger blues back into the Dodger Blue.

"This was the real 1977 Dodger team," said Steve Garvey after Lasorda preached fire and brimstone and the Dodger bats spoke firepower and base hits. The combination was pure salvation for the National League champions, who rapped out 13 hits, four for extra bases, to blast the New York Yankees 10-4 Sunday.

The World Series now hops back to the East Coast with the Yankees ahead 3 games to 2 and still lacking one victory before they can claim their 21st world title.

Yankees Manager Billy Martin originally named Ed Figueroa, troubled by a sore finger the past few weeks, to be his starting pitcher for Game 6 Tuesday night. But Figueroa, not as ready to pitch as Martin said he was, balked, forcing Martin to switch to Mike Torrez, the third-game winner.

Lasorda will be going with a proven winner of his own, Burt Hooton, who stifled the New York bats on five hits in the second game at Yankee Stadium last Wednesday night.

On the verge of extinction

Sunday, Lasorda turned preacher, telling his players in a pregame meeting that, win or lose, "I wouldn't trade this baseball team for any other team in the world."

Ron Cey, the Dodgers third baseman and the only regular without a hit or a run scored Sunday, was skeptical about the importance of the team meeting, but decided: "The results were there."

Those results included Steve Yeager's three-run homer in the fourth inning, Reggie Smith's two-run blast in the sixth and the sound, nine-hit pitching by Don Sutton.

"I normally don't believe in rah-rah pep meetings," said Yeager, who also contributed a fifth-inning sacrifice fly before leaving the game with strained ligaments in his knee. "But it evidently worked for some guys."

Yeager said he had two games left in his ailing knee. "I'll see you Wednesday night (after Game 7) in our clubhouse," Yeager told newsmen.

Garvey also expects to be in the winning clubhouse Wednesday night, but said it wouldn't be a bad idea to have another pregame revival meeting.

"At one point we were 7-0 after team meetings," said Garvey, who had a double and a single and scored a pair of runs. "I guess this make us 8-0."

YANKEE FAITHFUL REWARDED — New York Yankees coach Yogi Berra is surrounded by dogged autograph-seekers who proffer pieces of paper, pens and even a baseball. Berra and the rest of the Yankees arrived at Newark International Airport early Monday from Los Angeles and were greeted by about 100 shivering fans. The Yanks ment the Dodgers in game six of the World Series on Tuesday.

Dodgers'd rather be in Vietnam

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dusty Baker says he wouldn't care if he was in Vietnam if the World Series was there but some of his Dodgers teammates remain a little leery of the fans in New York.

Los Angeles goes back East for Tuesday's Game 6 trailing the Yankees 3 games to 2, having avoided elimination with a 10-4

Irwin wins Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Hale Irwin won $30,000, a golf tournament and a ton of respect from a fellow golfer Sunday following his closing round 3-under par 67 in the $150,000 Texas Open.

Irwin, battling Texan Miller Barber for the first place prize, paused on the 18th tee to offer encouragement to Carlton "Sluggo" White, a second-year pro fighting for his PGA players' card.

White entered the Texas Open with $924.50 in earnings this year and needed to bring his winnings up to $7,000 or forfeit his card. Fifth place in the tournament would breathe life into his golf career but a poorly hit wedge shot on the 17th hole resulted in a double bogey six that plummeted White from third place to a fourth place tie with George Archer.

"I can't describe how bad I felt after making that double bogey," said an emotional White. "But Hale came over and patted me on the back and told me to forget it, that I still had a chance."

victory Sunday behind right-hander Don Sutton.

"Actually, I've never been to Vietnam," admitted Baker, who had three hits and scored two runs Sunday. "It just doesn't matter to me where we play. It's better than going home for the winter."

Second baseman Davey Lopes, however, said: "I can't speak for the other guys, but speaking for myself, I'm going to wear a hard hat out there."

Reggie Smith, the Dodger who was hurt when hit on the head by a hard rubber ball thrown by a fan in the final inning of Game 2 which the Dodgers won, was reluctant to comment.

"I'm just going to play a game, that's all...that's my feeling," said the veteran who had muscle spasms in his back following the New York incident last week.

Shortstop Bill Russell said he believes the problem of controlling fans in Yankee Stadium is serious.

"They do not have enough security there to control it," Russell said. "Fans like that don't deserve a ball club."

Tom Lasorda, who has his club in the World Series in his first year of managing, tempered the feelings when he said, "I'm glad we're going back to New York. The Yankee fans are good fans. You can't judge all by a few kooks."

The happiest Dodgers were catcher Steve Yeager and pitcher Sutton.

Yeager's three-run homer in the fourth provided a 5-0 margin for Sutton.

Of the Don Gullet pitch he belted over the left field wall, Yeager said, "He was throwing off-speed stuff, fork-balls or palmballs or whatever. This time he got the ball up."

"We had our backs to the wall, do or die," Yeager said. "My home run took the pressure off the other guys. I think they might have said, 'Yeag's having fun. Why don't the rest of us?'"

Animal Crackers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — They don't call the New York Yankees the Bronx Zoo for nothing.

At 4 p.m. PDT Sunday, Manager Billy Martin was asked to name his starting pitcher for the sixth game of the World Series Tuesday night in New York.

"Ed Figueroa," he said. "Why not Mike Torrez?"

"Because I said Ed Figueroa."

But an hour later, just as the Yankees were about to head for Los Angeles International Airport following a 10-4, fifth-game trouncing at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Martin was singing a different tune.

"Torrez will pitch the sixth game," he said. "What happened?"

Figueroa has been troubled by a nerve in the index finger of his pitching hand since leaving the fourth game of the American League playoffs in the fourth inning, more than a week ago.

"Figueroa threw twice over the weekend and he feels good," was Martin's first report. "We're just going to go six games. We're saving Torrez for spring training."

But after talking to the team trainer, Martin changed his mind.

"Figueroa said he feels almost 100 per cent but not quite 100 per cent," the manager said, "and I don't want to pitch a pitcher who isn't 100 per cent."

Martin might have been thinking back to Saturday's game, when the Dodgers started Doug Rau at something less than 100 per cent only to see him kayoed in the second inning.

For one of the few times in his Yankees career, the easygoing Figueroa refused to talk.

"I have nothing to say, nothing to say," he repeated, walking away from newsmen.

Confusion — it's wonderful.

When the Yankees, who fully expected to wrap up the Series Sunday after winning three of the first four games, recovered from their disappointment, they decided that taking two out of three in Los Angeles wasn't too shabby.

Jim Turner has a higher than Denver, a mile high to begin. The 36-year-old player caught a touchdown pass from the Broncos' surprise quarterback, Steve Watson, in the Oakland Raiders' 17-14 victory over Denver on Sunday when he trotted on the field for a try. But it was a Holder Norris Wee reserve quarterback the snap and rolled pass.

"I looked first for Odoms (a tight end). Weese. "But you can't time on the play and Turner wide open — couldn't believe it."

Turner had drifted left and was standing in the end zone when he caught the 25-yard pass. The Broncos' halftime lead on the 30-7 victory. It was Denver to a 5-0 record one-game lead over the American Conference West.

"I ran into the end zone of fear," said Turner. "I was involved in Denver's touchdown in 14 National Football League season."

Surprises dot NFL pic

By the Associated Press
 Jim Turner has to be higher than Denver, which is a mile high to begin with. The 36-year-old placekicker caught a touchdown pass in the Bronco's surprise rout of the Oakland Raiders.

Denver was leading Oakland 14-7 in the second quarter Sunday when Turner trotted on for a field-goal attempt. But it was a fake. Holder Norris Weese, a reserve quarterback, took the snap and rolled right to pass.

"I looked first for Riley Odoms (a tight end)," said Weese. "But you can't waste time on the play and I saw Turner wide open ... and couldn't believe it."

Turner had drifted to his left and was standing alone in the end zone where he caught the 25-yard pass that gave the Broncos a 21-7 halftime lead en route to a 30-7 victory. It boosted Denver to a 5-0 record and a one-game lead over Oakland in the American Conference West.

"I ran into the end zone out of fear," said Turner. "Speed wasn't involved."

While Turner's first touchdown in 14 National Football League seasons was certainly a highlight, it was the Denver defense that did in Oakland, intercepting seven Ken Stabler passes, three by linebacker Joe Rizzo, and recovering a fumble.

"We stunk up the place," said Stabler, who gave Oakland a 7-0 lead with a nine-yard scoring pass to tight end Dave Casper in the first quarter. But Denver tied it before the period ended on Craig Morton's 10-yard touchdown toss to Odoms and went ahead in the second quarter on Lonnie Perrien's 16-yard touchdown run.

The loss stopped Oakland's winning streak at 17 regular season and playoff games, one short of the record held by the Chicago Bears of 1933-34 and 1941-42 and the Miami Dolphins of 1972-73.

A successful fake field goal at Bloomington, Minn., resulted in a 21-16 victory for the Minnesota Vikings over the Chicago Bears in overtime.

"It seemed like the thing to do," said Bud Grant, who ordered the fake attempt on first down on the Chicago 11-yard line 6:45 into overtime. It worked as holder Paul Krause, a defensive back who played quarterback at Iowa, passed to Stu Voight near the goal and Voight took it for the winner.

Chicago, which got 122 yards rushing from Walter Payton, had gone ahead 16-13 in the third quarter on Bob Avellini's two-yard pass to Greg Latta. Fred Cox then tied it at 16 with his third field goal, a 21-yarder, with 12:24 left in regulation time. Matt Blair, Minnesota's 6-foot-5 linebacker, played a key role by blocking a conversion attempt in the second quarter and a field-goal attempt with 1:41 left in regulation play.

Dallas and Baltimore remained the only other unbeaten NFL teams, each 5-0 — Dallas whipping Washington 34-16 and Baltimore downing Kansas City 17-6. Elsewhere, Cleveland edged Houston 24-23, Buffalo downed Atlanta 3-0, Miami stopped the New York Jets 21-17, New England nipped San Diego 24-20, Detroit edged Green Bay 10-6, Los Angeles beat New Orleans 14-7, St. Louis topped Philadelphia 21-17, the New York Giants handed San Francisco 20-17 and Seattle outlasted Tampa Bay 30-23.

Colts 17, Chiefs 6

"It wasn't pretty, but it was successful," said Baltimore quarterback Bert Jones of the Colts' struggle against winless Kansas City.

Baltimore wrapped up the game in the first quarter on short touchdown runs by Ron Lee and Don McCauley.

Browns 24, Oilers 23
 Houston's Billy Johnson returned a punt 87 yards for a touchdown before Cleveland took a 21-20 halftime lead on the strength of Brian Sipe's short TD toss. Houston went head 23-21 on Tony Fritch's third field goal of the game in the fourth quarter, but Don Cockroft won it for the Browns on the final play of the game with a 36-yard three-pointer.

Bills 3, Falcons 0
 O.J. Simpson's seven-yard run on third down to the Atlanta 13-yard line set up Neil O'Donoghue's 30-yard field goal in the second quarter as the Bills snapped a 14-game losing streak before only 27,348 fans, the smallest crowd in the five-year history of Buffalo's Rich Stadium.

Simpson's 138 yards rushing also pushed him to 10,062, making him only the second man to break the 10,000-yard mark in NFL history. The other is Jim Brown, who retired with 12,312 yards.

Dolphins 21, Jets 17
 The Dolphins raced to a 21-3 halftime lead on two Bob Griese scoring passes and a five-yard touchdown run by Benny Malone, who had 105 yards in the game, then held off the Jets who got two scores on one-yard runs by Clark Gaines.

Patriots 24, Chargers 20
 Steve Grogan hit Don Hasselbeck with a one-yard pass for a 7-0 New England lead and then clinched the victory with a four-yard toss to Hasselbeck with 3:09 left in the game. Sam Cunningham rushed for 141 yards for the Patriots.

Lions 10, Packers 6
 "You silence the boos by winning," said Greg Landry after his nine-yard touchdown pass to Ray Jarvis with 3:01 remaining gave the Lions their victory.

UP AND OVER — Dallas golden boy Tony Dorsett (33) leaps high in the air during Sunday's 34-16 victory over Washington. Redskins Bill Brundige (77), Karl Lorch (71) and Jake Scott (13) were faked out by the play, as Dorsett didn't have the ball. Poke quarterback Roger Staubach was throwing a pass at the time.

SNYDER — The BSJS junior varsity volleyball squad took third place in the Snyder tournament over the weekend. Brenda Bell and Salina Harris were named to the all-tournament team.

The JV's beat Plains 15-7, 15-10; Permian 8-15, 15-8, 15-12; lost to Snyder 15-9, 15-9; and beat San Angelo 15-5, 15-8 on their way to the third place finish.

The varsity and junior varsity volleyballers resume district play Tuesday night in Abilene.

Fem runners take fourth

MIDLAND — The Big Spring High School girls' cross country team captured fourth place in the Midland Invitational Meet Saturday.

Competing with most of the District 5-4 A teams and meet winner Brownfield, the local girls gave a good effort in their first meet of the year, according to Coach Janie Alexander.

Linda Moss was the top BSJS individual finisher. She crossed the line 6th with a time of 14:21. The team will compete in the Lubbock McKenzie Park meet Oct. 22, with the JV's running at 10 a.m. and the varsity at 10:15.

Little Pack beats Eagles

The Packers of the Pee Wee League defeated the Eagles 22-12 Saturday.

The Packers scored on a 15-yd. pass from Shawn Stephens to Jay Pirkie; and a 41-yd. run by Billy Wagner. Chuck Stephens also converted a PAT.

Doug Walker, John Lindsey, Steve Sandridge, Dwain Fox, Darren Lamb, Steve Wilson and Paul Prudhorne were listed by coaches as having good efforts.

SWC race just keeps getting better

 Houston and Arkansas tangle in a Southwest Conference battle for survival Saturday while league co-leaders Texas A&M and Texas hit the road again after surviving games decided in the final minutes last week.

Second-ranked Texas knocked Arkansas' No. 8 ranked Razorbacks out of the unbeaten ranks 13-9 in a nationally televised shootout in the Ozarks.

Texas stayed unbeaten under new Coach Fred Akers but it wasn't easy, and the Longhorns catch Southern Methodist in Dallas after the Mustangs shocked Houston 37-23 with a three-touchdown avalanche in the last four minutes.

The Texas Aggies, who survived a great Baylor rally to outlast the Bears 31-1, are at Houston to meet lowly Rice—a 42-7 loser to Texas Tech.

Texas and A&M are 2-0 while SMU and defending co-champion Texas Tech are 2-1.

Arkansas and Houston are 1-1 and another loss just about kills any title hopes. Houston, of course, can't go to the Cotton Bowl because it was put on probation.

Tech is idle with Coach Steve Sloan hoping injured quarterback Rodney Allison can return two weeks here for the Red Raiders' meeting with Texas.

Houston must play the emotionally drained Razorbacks in Little Rock Saturday night. The Cougars, defending SWC co-champs, suffered their only league loss to Arkansas last year.

Texas and A&M don't meet until Nov. 26 in College Station and the Aggies still have a game to play after that on national television Dec. 3 against Houston. But the meeting between the against outside foes except for the bowls.

"What a time for a victory for this team," said SMU Coach Ron Meyer as the Mustangs evened their record at 3-3.

Houston Coach Bill Yeoman was worried about the upcoming trip to Arkansas although he got Fayetteville in the Ozark mountains a little confused with Little Rock where the game will be played.

Ridin' fence

Hello old friend

with Marj Carpenter

It's always interesting to run across somebody you haven't seen in years.

But the other day in a hamburger cafe in Midland, I ran across a fellow I didn't recognize. But the last time I saw him was 15 years ago, from the rear.

"Hey, aren't you Marj Carpenter?" he said. "Oh yes, I admitted and asked,

"Your face looks familiar, but who are you?" "I'm Dave Lloyd and I knew you in Pecos." I still looked blank. "I fixed your television," he added and began to grin.

I could feel my face getting red. "Oh yes," I said. "Our dog chased you up the antenna." He laughed.

We visited a while and he said he'd been in Dallas, moving back to Midland recently and had seen in the paper that I was in Big Spring. I visited with his wife and met his children.

But I don't know how I forgot for a moment the time he went up the antenna.

We had a big bird dog named Waddles. That was the most inappropriate name a dog ever had.

When Carolyn brought Waddles home, he was a fat little puppy. And Waddles seemed like a good name.

But he grew into a long tall, thin bird dog with a great personality. And Waddles no longer fit. But Waddles he remained.

Waddles was rather a calm dog except for two things. He hated fire. When he was a pup, he had been in a garage fire.

If you would light a barbecue fire in the backyard or light up a sparkler on the Fourth of July, that dog would go crazy. He would bark and bark and run in circles. I always figured he would have been a good fire alarm if the house ever caught on fire.

He would play in the yard with kids all day long. And he'd allow any stranger in the yard — unless Carolyn or Jim Bob stepped out in the yard as well.

Then he became the great protector. That's what happened to the television repairman. That was in the days of the big tall antenna and no cable. He was outside adjusting the antenna and Waddles was watching him. Then Jim Bob stepped out the back door.

Suddenly Waddles became fierce and Dave went up the antennae. Jim Bob came back in the house and said calmly, "The TV man is up on the antennae."

I was busy sorting wash. "Oh, did he have to climb up to fix it?" I asked. "No," said Jim Bob. "He had to climb up because Waddles was going to bite him."

I ran out back, chained the dog and apologized to Dave. And that's the last time I saw him. If he hadn't moved, I doubt he'd have come back unless by prearrangement that Waddles was tied.

Waddles used to follow the kids up a ladder to the tree house. He liked it so well up there, that when the kids were gone, he'd climb up the ladder and sit in the treehouse by himself.

I remember one Halloween night that a group of trick or treaters came to the back door.

Waddles began to bark. One of the kids looked up and saw him in the tree. "Run, run, that dog is in the tree and he's going to jump on us." And the goblins all took off.

Waddles was really disappointed to see them go. He was all bluff, but he used to upset a lot of people, out by our old backyard fence.
