Chem in bacon faces ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government says it intends to ban the chemical used to cure bacon, ham and lunch meats unless manufacturers can prove the substance doesn't cause cancer.

The Agriculture Department is ordering manufacturers to test the preservative, sodium nitrite, to see whether it acts with other substances to form a cancer-causing agent, nitrosamine.

Animal tests have shown that some nitrosamines are among the most potent agents causing liver and other cancers, said Carol Tucker Foreman, assistant agriculture secretary.

"I don't think it is an imminent health hazard," Ms. Foreman said in a telephone interview. "If we did, we would act immediately. But there is cause for concern."

The department will initially concentrate on bacon manufacturers, who make the widest use of sodium nitrite, said Ms. Foreman, who prefers that designation.

A department notice in today's Federal Register gives the bacon industry until Jan. 18 to produce the test results. Some authorities say that frying bacon with high heat as well as the normal digestive process can cause nitrosamine formation.

If tests link sodium nitrite to cancer, the department would publish a proposed ban on the chemical, invite comments and then order a final prohibition on its use, Ms. Foreman said.

She said final regulations for sodium nitrite in bacon could be published by next summer.

Subsequent testing deadlines will be set for manufacturers of sausage, corned beef, salami, bologna and other products.

Sodium nitrite prevents growth of bacteria that can cause the deadly poisoning known as botulism. It also gives products a rosy color.

The food industry currently uses ascorbic acid, which is Vitamin C, to reduce the formation of nitrosamines.

Halloween safety tips

More and more children are hurt at Halloween time each year because they are not taught or fail to observe simple safety rules.

The people at Area One

Realty are concerned about the increasing number of Halloween accidents and have initiated their program in order to educate children against the possible dangers of trick or treating in Big Spring.

A giant pumpkin, called "Homer the Safety Pumpkin" will be on display at Area One Realty until October 27th when it will be given away.

Parents and children are invited to come by and see the pumpkin and pick-up their free Halloween Safety rules, and a "glow in the dark" safety patch to wear on their costumes, or trick or treat bags.

While in the office children can register their names for the drawing of Homer the Safety Pumpkin on October 27.

Children look forward to having a good time on Halloween, and with a little effort and help they can have a safe and fun-filled experience.

The people at Area One wish your child a safe and horribly good time on Halloween.

Second pistol intrigues defense

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Seemingly intrigued by a second mystery pistol, defense attorneys resumed cross examination today of perhaps the final state witness in the murder trial of millionaire Cullen Davis.

Frank Shiller, director of the Fort Worth crime lab, faced his fifth day on the stand and his third under questioning by defense lawyer Richard "Racehorse" Haynes.

after questioning of the witness was completed. It was Shiller who testified that the two slain victims of a 1976 shooting spree at Davis' Fort Worth mansion were killed with the same .38 caliber revolver.

And Haynes grilled him incessantly about the procedures and techniques used in reaching the opinions and conclusions derived from Shiller's lab tests.

Two died and two were wounded in the midnight carnage and Davis, 44, is on trial for his life in the slaying of Andrea Wilborn, 12.

Farr, 30, was living at the mansion at the time with Davis' estranged wife, Priscilla, 36, who was wounded in the gunfire along with mansion visitor Gus Gavrel Jr., 22.

With prosecutors accusing the defense of tossing a "red herring" into the fracas, Haynes questioned Shiller in detail Monday about a second gun to surface in the case.

Shiller said he examined the gun in question last month and that three test bullets fired from the weapon showed the same "class characteristics" as those found at the mansion.

Haynes asked Shiller if the gun he tested Sept. 15 was the same gun used in the mansion shootings. Shiller replied, "I can give no opinion on that."

Pork prices to soften

WASHINGTON (AP) — Huge supplies of relatively cheap corn and other feed are triggering a massive increase in hog production which government livestock economists say will lead to sharply lower prices for pork producers next year.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that if producers carry out their expressed intentions to increase hog output this fall and in the coming months, total 1978 hog slaughter may jump 12 to 14 per cent from this year's estimated 77.5 million head.

If this occurs, the 1978 hog slaughter could range from about 86.8 million head to 88.3 million head, the most since farmers sent 94.4 million hogs to market in 1971, another period of declining hog prices and cheap feed.

The analysis was included in a new livestock report issued by the department's Economic Research Service.

With a record corn harvest this fall estimated at 6.3 billion bushels, grain prices have dropped enough to stimulate hog raisers and other livestock feeders. The U.S. average corn price at the farm, for example, was $1.59 a bushel in mid-September, the lowest since April 1973.

Department experts said that if farmers' plans for this fall and winter are carried out to boost farrowings, it could mean hog slaughter in the first half of next year will be up 10 to 12 per cent and that a further increase is likely in the second half of 1978.

Market prices of live slaughter hogs this year are expected to average near $40 per 100 pounds, the lowest since they were $34.31 in 1974. The 12-month average was $47.56 in 1975 and $42.95 in 1976 at major markets.

Thus, considering that in early October the seven-market average of slaughter hogs still was around $40 a hundredweight, most of the price impact from greater production is still to be felt. "Slaughter hog prices through the first half of 1978 may be off 15 per cent from a year earlier, with a middle-$30 average," the report said.

The analysts said that "production of competing meats" will be less next year, which will help soften the drop in hog prices. Broiler output is expected to gain 5 per cent "but this will be more than offset" by a 3 to 5 per cent reduction in total beef output next year.

Looking at the entire 1978 picture, officials said that for the 12 months, "slaughter hog prices may average in the low-to-middle-$30 range" against the 1977 average of close to $40 per 100 pounds.

But officials say they cannot accurately predict where hog prices may be a year from now, when still another corn harvest will be on its way to the elevators and farm bins.

Two ex-policemen request new trial

Braniff will appeal decision to Carter

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas-based Braniff Airways, stung by a Civil Aeronautics Board recommendation to award a nonstop Dallas-London route to Pan American World Airways, said Monday it will appeal the decision to President Carter.

Elizabeth Bailey cast the only CAB vote in favor of Braniff.

Ultimate ruling in the matter will be up to Carter, who has the final word in such international aviation matters.

CAB Chairman Alfred Kahn cited uncertainties in international aviation as one of the reasons for recommending Pan Am. Kahn, who had been leaning toward Braniff in the hotly contested issue, said he was unwilling to chance doing further damage to Pan Am, which is the nation's largest international carrier.

Braniff Chairman Harding Lawrence said the CAB recommendation offered a "double standard in carrier selection for different areas of the country."

"We agree with Dr. Bailey, the dissenting member of the board, that the recommendation as it affects Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas and the Southwest, is anti-consumer, anti-competitive and anti-low price," Lawrence said. "We believe the White House will be more responsive to the public interest and finally select Braniff." Lawrence also referred to other CAB decisions to back regional carriers for international routes in their areas.

Bailey argued that Braniff, which has no trans-Atlantic routes, would be more aggressive in developing the Texas-London market and would provide better service to consumers.

Kahn said the CAB recommendation could be reviewed at the end of five years.

Bailey said she would file a strong dissent to the majority opinion for consideration by Carter.

Pan Am has not committed itself to a fixed schedule from Dallas or to any fare structure. A spokesman said Monday that the airline would not comment until the board's decision is formally handed down.

Braniff had indicated it would provide daily service from Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

The same order that allows the nonstop Pan Am service would also allow Pan Am to begin one-stop flights to London from Houston, Dallas might be the intermediate stop.

In addition to the possible Pan Am service, Houston will get non-stop service to London from British Caledonia Airlines.

Says Men Do Not Understand Women

DEAR ABBY: You certainly opened a Pandora's box when you ran those letters from women who said sex was messy, sometimes painful, not worth the trouble, and that they could live without it.

I feel sure I have a better than average husband, but men are inept as lovers. (I am not a lesbian, and I do not have any such tendencies.)

Men do not begin to understand women, psychologically or sexually. Their attitudes about sex are selfish. (Me first and then you, if you can manage it.) Men make women feel as though there is something wrong with them if they're tired or have a headache, or just don't feel like it when the men do.

If men knew as little about their jobs or their golf game, they wouldn't be able to earn a living or get off the first tee.

Worse, they won't listen, read or take suggestions. And if their sex life is a flop, they say that it's their woman's fault.

Sign me, Disappointed, Disgusted, Desperate and DEAD

DEAR D.D.D. AND DEAD: Your husband may be guilty as charged, but don't put ALL men in the same bag. My mail tells me that some men are wonderfully competent lovers. They're considerate, unselfish, tender and willing to read, listen and take criticism. All men are not alike any more than all women are. (Thank heavens.)

DEAR ABBY: The letters from wives who don't think sex is worth the trouble prompts this.

Can you imagine two people "in love," and expecting to marry, asking each other, "On a scale of zero to ten, how does your sex drive rate?" But such a determination, done preferably by outside counsel, would prevent many unhappy marriages.

Low (or no) sex drive does not apply only to women. Though folklore would have us believe that all men are highly sexed, it just isn't so.

For sexual compatibility, zeros should marry zeros, and tens should marry tens.

GEORGE

DEAR GEORGE: It wouldn't work. Some zeros when properly motivated and coached become tens. And some tens, due to some of the other aspects of marriage, become zeros.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know who started the "no-bra" fad, but there ought to be a law against it.

I'm sure women aren't aware of the irreversible damage they do themselves by going without brassieres.

The pictures in National Geographic magazine of African tribeswomen naked from the waist up should tell us something. Their breasts hang practically to their waists because they have never worn any kind of support.

Today we see bosomy young women on our streets with T-shirts and nothing on underneath. They're even seen on TV. (Now I know why it's called the "Boob tube.")

Abby, please rewrite this and tell the bra-less babes of today they will be the drooping dames of tomorrow.

GOOD SAMARITAN

DEAR SAM: No "rewriting" necessary. It's true. And the technical name for that condition is "Cooper's Droop Syndrome."

Yanks try to end season

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Torrez and the New York Yankees try to end the baseball season that began last February while the Los Angeles Dodgers rest their hopes on Burt Hooton's knuckle-curveball tonight in sixth game of the 1977 World Series.

The best-of-seven Series returns to Yankee Stadium with the New Yorkers needing one victory for their 21st world title. The Dodgers, trailing 3 games to 2, staved off elimination by winning Sunday and look tonight to Hooton, who beat the Yankees with a five-hitter in Game 2 Wednesday night.

The Hooton victory evened matters at 1-1 before Torrez sawed off the Los Angeles bats in the Series' pivotal game last Friday.

"I can't lay back and be fine," Torrez said Monday. "I have to go right at them — be aggressive on the mound. I know if I pitch a good game and we win, we're world champions."

"I want to win it in a bad way," he said, pointing to his ring finger. "I want the one (the ring) that says 'World Champions.'"

The Dodgers, who want to become the fourth team in history to come back from a 3-1 deficit, hope Hooton's baffling knuckle-curveball will be their savior.

"I'm going to try to keep Mickey Rivers and Willie Randolph (the Yankee's speedy leadoff batters) off the bases," said Hooton. "I think we'll be in good shape if I can do that."

Monday was a day off for travel in this cross-country matchup of traditional rivals. But it didn't stop the Yankees from adding another installment to their daily Soap Opera, which has been spiced with backstabbing, second-guessing, personality clashing and near-firings.

Ed Figueroa, at first designated as the Yankees' sixth-game pitcher, cleaned out his locker on Monday.

Figueroa has been ailing the past few weeks with a sore finger, but said he threw on Saturday and Sunday "and I felt 100 per cent."

Yankee Manager Billy Martin, however, got a different diagnosis after consulting the team doctor and two trainers.

"I know he wants to pitch but I'm not going to take a chance and put a man out there who is not 100 per cent in a big game," said the embattled manager.

Figueroa said Martin had given him permission to go home since he wasn't in the Yankees' pitching plans. So he cleaned out his locker.

"Then I came back to my hotel and I heard he was saying that I left the club," Figueroa said. "But he gave me permission. It is just a misunderstanding."

Figueroa said he will be at the big ballpark in the Bronx tonight, as will be some 56,000 fans, a source of some concern to the Dodgers.

During Game 2, the Dodger bullpen was bombed by bottles and an enormous fruit salad — one piece at a time. As the game ended, right fielder Reggie Smith was beamed by a rubber ball hurled from the upper deck, causing neck and back spasms that continue to bother him.

"The fans? They're gonna be there. The less said about them the better," said Smith, who has contributed two of the Dodgers' eight Series homers, the most by any team since Baltimore had 10 in 1970.

"I'm happy to be going back to Yankee Stadium. It's a big ballpark with big gaps and we're a gap-hitting team."

The Yankees wanted to end the Series Sunday in sunny, southern California, but won't mind the inconvenience of another outside work day in temperatures forecast for the upper 40s — provided they win tonight.

"It's always nice to play in our home ballpark," said Martin. "We've played real well at home."

But they have lost two straight on their home field six times this season, which is what the Dodgers are counting on here.

"Our victory (Sunday) decreased the odds," said Dodger Manager Tom Lasorda.

Church-goers never hungry

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — They don't stop serving lunch in the Texas Longhorns' dining room on Sundays until Earl Campbell and his twin brothers return from church.

"Whenever Earl and the twins Tim and Steve get here. That's when we shut down the line," said a dining hall supervisor.

Sunday it was later than usual because Earl received congratulations after the service from many well wishers for his 188 yards on 34 carries in a come-from-behind, 13-9 victory over Arkansas.

The day before Campbell had praise for the Razorbacks.

"I've been playing football for a long time, and I hope to play it a lot longer, and I want to say I have really enjoyed these games against them."

Lee Rebels are 'awesome' foe

By DANNY REAGAN
Sports Editor

Big Spring Coach Don Robbin's description of the Midland Lee Rebels sounds more like a pack of starving werewolves than a football team.

"They are a physical bunch," Robbin said, "they lay back their ears and come at you like a runaway truck. They're awesome. They just stomp in there and try to run over you."

Doesn't sound like one of the top 10 favorite singing sister groups of all time, does it? Lee is a powerful and hitting ballclub, and their rep for raising the black and blues on opponents skin come from their offensive attack.

They are primarily a ground-oriented club. Big and strong, they don't employ the finesse of Abilene or Permian, but have superior talent to run the best Veer option in West Texas high school football.

Jeff McCowan, 212-pound junior fullback, is the mainstay for the highly-effective Lee ground-game. He started last year as a sophomore and won second place in the District 5-4A shot put last year. He also plays defense end, has ten-flat speed and is considered one of the best athletes in the league.

John Marks, 180-pound senior, and Marvin Inglehart, 180-pound senior, alternate at halfback. They both have the speed to go all the way at any time, and Inglehart is averaging six yards a carry in district.

Senior Quarterback Ted Clements has done a good job running the Veer since his first start for the Rebs. His execution of the counter option was practically flawless in the Cooper win last Friday. Big linemen also play role in the successes of the Lee offense.

John-Boy primarily throws up a 5-2 defensive alignment, but in the last few weeks, he has stymied the Bobcats and Cougars with a 6-2, or eight-man front wall that tends to squelch any running effort.

Two very touch, aggressive and impressive senior linebackers, Brent Bates and Lee Medley, are the cornerstones to the Lee offensive dance hall building. "They're like Kamikaze," said Robbin.

The Steers are down to 29 members on the varsity unit. Sammy Ortega (broken leg), Mark Young (operated on Monday for knee cartilage), Ricky Cluck (back injury) and Lance Perry (bruised leg put in cast today) are definitely lost for the season — all starters.

Back-up quarterback Billy Johnson is also out this week with a separated shoulder. Del Poss and Mike Black are seeing limited duty because of slight concussions, but should be back.

"We're patching up the wounded and shuffling the ranks to take up some slack, and I just hope we aren't too depleted to put up a good fight, because our people have really made progress," Robbin concluded.

Michigan buffers top ranking

By the Associated Press

Colorado's tie with Kansas, Nebraska's loss to Iowa State and Kentucky's victory over Louisiana State caused a major shakeup in the Top 20, but top-ranked Michigan and No. 2 Texas continue to dominate The Associated Press college football poll.

Michigan, 6-0, swamped previously-unbeaten and 14th-ranked Wisconsin 56-0 and received 47 first-place votes and 1,100 points to hold the top spot. Texas, 5-0, a 13-9 winner over Arkansas, got eight first-place ballots and 1,014 points from a nationwide panel of 56 sports writers and sportscasters.

Alabama, Ohio State, Southern Cal and Oklahoma all moved up one notch as a result of the 17-17 tie with Kansas by Colorado, which fell from third to seventh.

Alabama, 4-1, which beat Tennessee 24-10, was third with 811 points; Ohio State, 5-1, moved to fourth with 700 points after beating Iowa 27-6; Southern Cal, 5-1, got 638 points and advanced to fifth by beating Oregon 35-15, and Oklahoma, 5-1, jumped to sixth with 638 points after edging Missouri 21-17. Colorado, 5-0-1, had 431 points for seventh.

The new No. 8 was Kentucky, 5-1 and 369 points, which made a big jump from No. 12 after pounding LSU 33-13 at Baton Rouge. Arkansas, 4-1, was ninth, down one spot, with 340 points, and Penn State remained 10th, receiving 328 points, after holding off Syracuse 31-12.

The Second Ten were Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Pitt, California, Iowa State, Brigham Young, Nebraska, Florida and Clemson.

Nebraska had been ninth before losing to Iowa State 24-21, but the Cornhuskers dropped to 18th. Iowa State, cracking the Top 20 for the first time this year, was 16th.

Other teams joining this week's rankings were Brigham Young, which routed previously-unbeaten Colorado State 63-17 and Clemson, which upset Duke 17-11.

Wisconsin and LSU, which had been 16th, fell from the rankings after their losses. Houston, formerly No. 19, also dropped from the Top 20 after being victimized by three touchdowns in the final 39 seconds to lose to Southern Methodist, 37-23.

The Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college football poll, with first place votes in parentheses. Points records and total points. Season based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.

JUBILATION, COWBOY-STYLE—Cowboy wide receiver Drew Pearson (88) raises his arms in triumph as buddy and fellow-super catcher Golden Richards (83) congratulates his talented teammate on a nifty touchdown pass during Sunday's 34-16 win by the Cowboys over Washington.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Whether intentionally or not, most persons are apt to misrepresent the actual facts and figures or the relationship existing between two persons and it is advisable that you and others act with scrupulous conscientiousness.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Steer clear of an argument between an official and an associate or you could get into trouble. Conditions may be tense for a while but lessen later. Be happy with kin and friends.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do not get involved in an altercation between a co-worker and an outsider or you could get into serious trouble. Get busy at work you like to do and accomplish a great deal.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't overspend where pleasure is concerned. Evening is best for working on a special hobby. A loved one thinks your judgment is poor so study important matter more carefully.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Use reason at home instead of losing your temper and you make conditions more ideal. Use ingenuity. Do some entertaining.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A personal worry could cause you to lose out on benefits in the outside world, if you permit. Be more sure of yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to get out of debt during day and don't commit yourself to further expenditures that are unwise. Give more thought to repair to property before you get into them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Both business and home conditions are apt to be annoying, but improve them via right methods. A new plan you have needs further study before putting in operation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forget a personal worry and look at everything at the right perspective and you solve the problem wisely. Don't let a conniving person involve you in something you would regret later.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Occupy yourself with practical matters and don't permit an idle gossip to waste your valuable time. Once work is done, see friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Know what your partners expect of you and cooperate where feasible. Pay more attention to loved one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle personal problems early before you go out for entertainment. Clear up that matter with one you are fond of.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Have a talk with an old friend but do not stir up any situation that could cause trouble, arguments. Be cooperative instead and reach fine accord.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will want to have a secure footing but will be so emotional that it will be necessary to learn to control temper early in life. Slant education along practical lines since your child will do well in business, property matters. Give piano lessons that can discipline the mind.
