

Energy, taxes dominate congressional action

Fuel-saving grants voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate energy conferees agreed today to provide federal grants to help low-income families, schools and hospitals purchase insulation and other fuel-saving devices.

The conferees, meeting on the Veterans Day holiday to try to write a compromise national energy bill, agreed to make grants of up to $800 available to families earning up to one-fourth more than the national poverty level.

In approving the program, the conferees adopted a provision contained in the House-passed energy bill, which has the support of the Carter administration.

The Senate has rejected most of the President's energy proposals. The conference committee must reconcile the House and Senate differences and produce a final bill.

The conferees also approved a $965-million, three-year program of energy conservation grants to schools and hospitals.

The House-passed bill would give the federal government the power to decide where the money would go, while the Senate voted to distribute it based on state populations.

Senate conferees agreed, 6 to 5, to go along with the House proposals, but with a provision that no state could receive more than 10 per cent or less than one-half of one per cent of the money.

As the conferees began their fourth session of work on the energy legislation, their chairman, Rep. Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., said bickering among committee members could slow down the panel's work.

"We can disagree without being disagreeable," Staggers said. He threatened to have any conferees who engage in angry attacks on other members of the panel removed from the 43-member negotiating unit.

The panel made scant progress in three long sessions last week, agreeing only on a compromise requiring utilities to help consumers insulate their homes — one of the less controversial issues facing the 43-member committee.

This week it will look at President Carter's proposal to force most utilities and industries burning oil and natural gas to convert to coal. The House passed the President's program, but the Senate voted to allow all but the biggest plants to continue using oil.

The Carter administration can be expected to lobby hard for the House version and to try to persuade conferees to adopt a compromise bill resembling it. The Senate rejected most of the major proposals in the Carter energy plan.

The Senate on Tuesday takes up the final part of that energy legislation — its tax aspects.

Expensive murder trial

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The state ended two exhausting months of testimony Monday and rested its marathon murder case against Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis.

That milestone came after 47 days of testimony that included seven days of cross-examination of the state's final witness, a crime lab expert.

At precisely 11:55 a.m. CDT prosecutor Joe Shannon arose and told the court, "Your Honor, at this time the state rests."

It is perhaps the longest and most expensive murder trial in Texas' history and the defendant is reputedly the richest man ever to be prosecuted for murder in this country.

The defense was prepared to launch its case Tuesday in an attempt to show that Davis was not the "man in black" who killed two and wounded two in a 1976 shooting spree at his $6 million mansion.

He is on trial for his life in the slaying of his young stepdaughter.

The state alleges Davis killed Andrea Wilborn in a mansion basement and then lay in hiding for a midnight ambush of his estranged wife Priscilla and her live-in lover Stan Farr. The ice-blond Mrs. Davis, 36, survived a bullet through the chest but Ferr, 30, died of four gunshot wounds in the side, chest and back.

Hospital patient raped; 3 arrested

Three men are in custody in connection with the alleged Sunday night rape of a 31-year old woman. Dawson County deputies responded to an Ackerly call at 8 p.m. and heard a story of rape from a Big Spring State Hospital patient.

Carlos Munos, 20, has been charged in Justice of the Peace Richard Nelson's office with rape and is being held in Dawson County under $25,000 bond.

Two other men are in Howard County jail, also under $25,000 bond set by Nelson. Charges against the two are pending in Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena's office.

The woman had apparently been missing since Saturday when she left the hospital grounds.

Crowds big, sales good in first art festival

"The Big Spring Arts and Craft Festival was a success."

This statement was made by the co-chairmen, Mel Prather and Mike Paul, as well as many individuals who assisted with the effort.

Most of the artists from out of town sold enough merchandise to tell the chairmen that they would come back another year. One New Mexico artist, who failed to make a sale, was displeased with the show.

Local artists, who have had very little outlet for their talents were delighted. Martha Conway (Dalmar) said she did 24 live sketches, more than she had ever done in any two days in her life. She said, "This encouraged me enough that I plan to travel to some of the other area shows."

Many of the other local artists sold quite a few art works or prints. An artist from Austin, one from San Antonio and one from Wichita Falls expressed particular pleasure with the festival.

Big Spring citizens turned out for the event both Saturday and Sunday and there was a continuous crowd. Prather said Saturday, "I hope citizens now realize that we can have a good festival and that next year they will encourage out-of-town friends to come in for the event."

The festival is expected to expand next year to working at getting out of town people to attend as customers, and not just as artists.

The effort was the first of its type in Big Spring. One light shower Saturday afternoon failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd which attended.

An artist from Oklahoma selling glass windows said he made $400 here in two days, compared to $700 in Corpus Christi in a three-day festival. He was well pleased.

A San Antonio artist said he sold so many that he needed to go home and work on some more and cancel the next show he planned to attend. One group of artists asked to be moved inside when they arrived Saturday because of a rain threat. They were placed in the back halls and rooms by necessity. Some of these were unhappy with their sales, according to Paul. The ones who stayed outside and took a chance on the elements apparently did well as did all of those in the first two big rooms at the center. "Overall, I think it was a tremendous success," Paul stated.

Police are unable to question woman

Mrs. Laura A. Hawkins, the 68-year-old woman who was found at the base of a brush covered ravine late Saturday, is in satisfactory condition today at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

The circumstances surrounding the case of how Mrs. Hawkins came to be found in the ravine are strange, and at this point, are still unclear, since sheriff's deputies have not been able to interview Mrs. Hawkins.

Her son, Frank Timmons, and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Dickenson, reported to the sheriff's office that Mrs. Hawkins had been missing since Thursday.

At the time of her disappearance, Mrs. Hawkins had given consent to a Corsicana man and woman to stay with her in her home. They had been with her since Tuesday.

The man was a recently released mental patient and the woman was his 60-year-old mother.

While Timmons, Mrs. Hawkins son, had not seen his mother since Thursday, a neighbor claims to have seen Mrs. Hawkins sweeping her back porch at around 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Neighbors claimed they also heard arguments at the home of Mrs. Hawkins Thursday evening.

Timmons found his mother at the bottom of a ravine located at Lancaster and 16th at about 10:30 p.m. Saturday after which she was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Shortly after sheriff's deputies Frank Corey and Bill Shankles arrested the Corsicana man and woman on suspicion of assault.

In a statement made in the Sheriff's office, the man claims to have driven Mrs. Hawkins to the edge of the ravine at about 8 p.m. Friday.

What happened then is still unclear, and will remain so until sheriff's officers can interview Mrs. Hawkins. The Corsicana couple are in custody at this time and are charged with simple assault, a misdemeanor. Howard County District Attorney Rick Hamby is being consulted for possible felony charges.

No mail delivery; blame action taken 9 years ago

Persons who wondered why they couldn't get mail today have the three-day weekends set up in 1968 to blame.

The date was officially designated at that time by President Lyndon Johnson as Veterans Day. However, this will apparently be the last year it is observed. Next year all 50 states return to the traditional Nov. 11.

In Big Spring's Veterans Administration Hospital, staff members had a federal holiday, but there was no ritual even at that facility.

Their special observance will be Nov. 11 Armistice Day since 1919.

Veterans groups all over the United States have consistently leaned toward the old World War I holiday as Veterans Day.

The confusion began in 1968 when Congress approved the President's suggestion to move several holidays from their traditional dates to Mondays to create more three-day weekends. Armistice Day was switched to the fourth Monday in October and called Veterans Day.

Only Utah, Hawaii and Washington

D.C. are officially observing the holiday but federal employees are never the less off all over the United States.

Among the federal offices in Big Spring are the Veterans Administration Hospital, the First Federal Savings, Webb Credit Union, United States Department of Agriculture offices, the Social Security offices and a few others.

President Carter is leading the nation's Veterans Day observance by placing a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Max Cleland, the head of the Veterans Administration, was to accompany Carter to the ceremony. Cleland lost both legs and an arm in 1968 grenade explosion in Vietnam.

Most veterans organizations vigorously opposed the change from the start and have never quit holding their ceremonies on Nov. 11.

Two years ago, during the administration of President Nixon, Congress approved moving the holiday back to Nov. 11, but delayed the change until 1978 to accommodate calendar manufacturers.

CLAWSON, Mich. (AP) — Bernard McGartland was just trying to park his car, but when he opened the door and stepped out, he found himself in the middle of his neighbor's living room.

Police said McGartland was trying to park at his home in this Detroit suburb when his right foot jammed between the brake and accelerator pedals.

The car shot out of his driveway, veered across the street and smashed through the picture window of a house owned by Dr. and Mrs. Paul Irey.

The Ireys, who were just driving away from their home, saw it all in the rear view mirror of their car.

McGartland got back into his car, threw it into reverse and backed out of the house, leaving the living room in wreckage, police said.

No one was hurt. A babysitter and the Ireys' 23-month-old son were sitting in the living room moments before the crash, but they left before McGartland dropped in.

Prison rodeo winners

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — San Antonio Rogelio Caldillo, a 10-year guest of the state, is $250 richer this morning and he earned the money honestly—a rare claim among the participants at this year's Texas Prison Rodeo.

Caldillo managed to pluck a tobacco sack from the horns of a bull, besting 39 fellow inmates at the Texas Department of Corrections. His prize money was to have been only $50, but entertainer Tom T. Hall kicked in a bonus $200.

Robert Nicholson, also from San Antonio and serving 15 years, was not so lucky in the same event earlier Sunday. His tobacco sack contained only $25.

Last year's top money winner, Willie Craig, was knocked off his pedestal by James Warfield, another 10-year inmate from Crockett.

Craig, a 30-year man from Greenville, has participated in the rodeo for 20 of the last 27 years he has spent behind bars. He is 57.

This year's rodeo will conclude next Sunday. Country and Western singer Tammy Wynette will be the featured entertainer.

Fair attendance record

DALLAS (AP) — Attendance at this year's Texas State Fair set a new record as 3,178,455 persons visited the 92nd edition of the fair.

The previous record, according to fair officials, was 3,176,028, set in 1975.

On Sunday, the last day of the fair, 248,197 visitors swarmed through the fairgrounds.

The record one-day attendance came in 1971 when 355,000 persons visited the fair.

Fair officials also reported $327,000 was spent on Fletcher's corny dogs while over 10,000,000 coupons were sold for midway rides. The coupon sales represented a one-third increase from last year.

It was a year for records as the grand champion steer sold this year for $20,000 easily topping the previous record of $9,100.

Quaker Oats Co. said it gave away 225,160 free cookies while Heinz Co. presented a million pickle pins.

TINY TROUBLES — The marriage of Tiny Tim, left, and Miss Vicki, which began before millions on a late night television show in 1969, may end in a courtroom. The couple, separated in 1973, are scheduled to appear at a divorce hearing in Camden, N.J. today.

Police beat Molestation charged

A resident of the Howard House Hotel was arrested late Saturday afternoon for indecency with a child of 14.

According to reports, the South side boy was selling poppies for the Disabled American Veterans—when approached by the man.

Apparently, the man assured the young poppy salesman of many flower lovers at his hotel, and persuaded the boy to follow him home.

Charges are pending against the molester who was arrested by Detective J.D. Carter, and Officer David Spilman.

According to reports, the theft occurred while the car was parked on the 600 block of East 13th. Value of the camera was estimated at $55.

Somebody ripped a CB from the dash board of a car belonging to Wanda Toland, 200 S. Main at about 2 p.m. Sunday.

According to reports, the CB was worth $100.

Somebody pumped 15 gallons of regular gas into their car at the Standard Station at 1110 Lamesa Highway, and took off without paying at about 11:55 p.m. Sunday.

According to reports, value of the gas was $14.95.

Esauquel Flores 304 NE 8th, was treated and released from Malone-Hogan Hospital following an automobile accident which occurred when cars driven by Flores, and William Woodville Holmes, Odessa, collided at NW 7th and Scurry at 12:07 p.m. Sunday.

Ron Nessen says: Broadcast journalism shallow, simplistic

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Ron Nessen, a former presidential press secretary and NBC television reporter, says broadcast journalism is "shallow and simplistic."

Nessen, former President Ford's press aide, told a conference this weekend at Whitman College: "Television cannot deal in a serious way with complex issues that we all face daily. It does not deal well with abstract ideas, long-term social trends or even the language."

However, he said television does well in portraying conflict, staged or dramatic events.

The power of newspapers, television and radio to ignore an issue or personality is greater than their focusing on persons or events, Nessen said.

"What we see on the tube is what we know of the world," he said. "If we don't see it on television, it doesn't exist."

County trapper to stay on for another year

Howard County Commissioner's Court, meeting today, accepted two bids from local auto dealers. Bob Brock Ford and Pollard Chevrolet were withing $5.51 of each other in their bids on a new pickup for the county Road & Bridge department.

Bob Brock bid $4,104 while Pollard Chevrolet bid $4,110. The bid was awarded to Pollard Chevrolet.

On bids for an automobile for the Sheriff's department, Pollard Chevrolet bid $5,865 and Bob Brock bid $5,774.24. The Bob Brock bid was accepted.

In other action, the court agreed to pay the Coahoma fire department $2,000 for their yearly work in answering fires across the county. Commissioner Ikie Rupard told the court that Coahoma's city council had expressed their wishes that the fire department not become a county unit, nor that it tell people who need it that it can't go to fires.

The court also agreed to pay the fire department $50 per call outside the Coahoma city limits on structural fires.

County trapper Earl Brownrigg appeared before the court to make a report on his trapping. Brownrigg asked the court if members had any objections to his retiring at the end of the year.

County Auditor Virginia Black pointed out that Brownrigg had not worked full time for the last five years, and under state statute would not be eligible to draw retirement until December, 1978. Brownrigg agreed to work the additional year. He has been employed by the county for 37 years.

His assistant, Larry Tubb, told the court he would continue to help Brownrigg out for the year at no cost to the county. Tubb told the court he was interested in the position after Brownrigg's retirement.

Since December of 1976 in the northeast portion of the county, Brownrigg reported he had trapped 105 coyotes, 15 bobcats, seven red foxes, and 10 coons.

In his report, County Engineer Neel Barnaby informed the court of progress made in the installation of cattle crossings throughout the county.

Grass fracas continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, which boasts of having the federal government's premier array of horticultural experts, now and then gets a little embarrassed at not being able to mow its own lawn.

Under federal rules, the department must rely on another agency — the General Services Administration — for planting and maintenance of lawns, shrubs, flowers and trees around its complex of buildings here.

This has irked many botanists and other green-thumb experts over the years who have seen many attempts by GSA to improve the shrubbery fail miserably.

But Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, who has waged intermittent war with GSA since he took office nine months ago over operation of the department's cafeteria, says he will not tangle with the housekeeping agency over lawns and shrubs. Some of his aides keep egging him on, in hopes Bergland will take on GSA over what one called "the sorriest grass in town."

Bergland, who smiled when asked in a recent interview if he would take on GSA over who gets to plant and mow the grass, said he "will not get involved in that" kind of fracas.

"For one thing, my son-in-law raises lawn seed and I did anything like that somebody might think it was a conflict of interest," Bergland said, smiling again.

When Bergland was named by Jimmy Carter as agriculture secretary, he placed his 600-acre farming operation — including wheat and lawn seed — into a blind trust, to be operated by his son-in-law, Steve Dahl.

The farm is located near Roseau, Minn., close to the Canadian border.

Although Bergland appeared to enjoy the brief talk about possibly challenging GSA for the right to plant grass, petunias and tulips, there is another irony involved.

Processors and distributors are allocating and rationing for the first time, to cope with record demands.

One of the chief reasons for the current over-selling and short-supply situation was several days of freezing weather last January.

A combination of factors triggered by the freeze — increased consumer demand, raised prices and turned what looked like a so-so year of overproduction into a generally good money-maker.

But the freeze also assured a "short-crop" year this coming season, and this has forced industry officials to do some careful planning to keep things on a steadier keel.

The supply on hand at mid-month was 45 million gallons, compared to almost 75 million at the same time last year.

Weekly sales — despite record prices — averaged around 3.5 million gallons for some time and now have reached 4 million gallons a week.

Number of cattle up in Texas feedlots

AUSTIN — Hamburger lovers of America will not have to worry about any shortages in 1977, says Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown reports that the state's cattle feeders have increased the number of cattle and calves in feedlots by eight per cent over 1976. He says that as of Oct. 1 there were 1,570,000 head in feedlots statewide. The majority of those, some 1,070,000 head, were located in the Northern High Plains, he added.

"Traditionally, Texas cattle raisers pride themselves on their choice, grain-fed cuts of beef," said Brown.

"But nationwide, consumer demand for hamburger is expected to reach 11 billion pounds this year."

It is evident Texas cat-

Florida citrus woes tackled

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Florida citrus growers and processors, known for their internal bickering, are working together to maintain reasonable prices for their chief product, frozen concentrated orange juice.

Growers and processors, along with top policy officials of the state's most important agricultural industry, are worried that they might run out of the concentrate before they can begin harvesting a new orange crop early next year.

At a time of record consumer demand, the year-end inventory of FCOJ (the industry term for concentrate) may wind up at one of its lowest points in history.

"We're trying to keep the retail price at a reasonable level," said one industry

Clouds heavy, but rain light

Big Springers woke up to an English-type fog Monday morning.

Cloud cover surrounded the entire area most of the weekend which kept temperatures down in the lower 80s as a high.

However, very little moisture fell with most Big Spring rain gauges showing around .1 of an inch in a Saturday shower.

People who had worked hard on the art festival and the Coahoma Homecoming parade were delighted it remained dry.

Ranchers attending the Ranch Sale at the Wallace Ranch Friday looked toward the sky and said, "I hope it rains so hard that we all get wet and all get stuck trying to get out of here." It threatened but didn't rain.

The group included two teachers from Rannels Junior high and four women who work at Security State Bank. The rest of the group were students.

Security State Bank and First National Bank donated bicycles as prizes.

The group will collect its donations and turn in the money at Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room Nov. 5 between the hours of 9 and 11 a.m. Winners will be announced at that time, according to Mrs. Joe Clark.

Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Fran Borofski and Al Valdes headed the special event for the local unit of the American Cancer Society.

Clouds heavy, but rain light

Cloud cover surrounded the entire area most of the weekend which kept temperatures down in the lower 80s as a high.

However, very little moisture fell with most Big Spring rain gauges showing around .1 of an inch in a Saturday shower.

People who had worked hard on the art festival and the Coahoma Homecoming parade were delighted it remained dry.

Ranchers attending the Ranch Sale at the Wallace Ranch Friday looked toward the sky and said, "I hope it rains so hard that we all get wet and all get stuck trying to get out of here." It threatened but didn't rain.

Panamanians voting on treaty

Torrijos confident

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — A big turnout of Panamanian voters gave the new Panama Canal treaties overwhelming approval, unofficial returns from the nationwide referendum showed today.

The election tribunal reported 149,178 yes votes to 76,311 noes cast Sunday in 910 of the 3,038 voting districts. This was nearly 90 per cent of the estimated 800,000 eligible voters.

Torrijos voted in the morning and then toured the canal zone. The main treaty, one of two signed in Washington Sept. 7 by Torrijos and President Carter, provides for the United States to surrender the canal and the 500-square-mile canal zone to Panama by the year 2000.

Torrijos and his government waged a strong campaign in favor of the treaties, but opponents were encouraged to speak out. It was the first time since he took over the government in a 1968 coup that a political issue in which there was any opposition to the government was debated publicly.

ARMSTRONG, Tex. (AP) — Britain's Prince Charles played the part of a Texas cowboy, participated in a polo match Sunday and mingled with Texas politicians Sunday as the man destined to become the next King of England began a three-day tour of the Lone Star State.

and rode a Texas pony fitted with an English saddle. The prince also participated in a polo match Sunday, teaming with a trio of Armstrongs — Tobin, his brother John and John's son, Charles — against four veteran players headed by Bob Beverage of San Antonio, considered one of the better players in Texas.

The polo match, played on the Armstrong's private field, was viewed by a throng of more than 300 invited guests. Included were Texas' two U.S. Senators, Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower, plus U.S. Rep. Kika de la Garza, Texas Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and San Antonio Mayor Lila Cockrell.

Newsmen were not permitted to view the entire polo match. The prince visited the sprawling ranch during his 12-city tour of the United States.

"He worked on a ranch in Australia and had seen some Armstrong cattle there. Tobin has been so occupied preparing for the prince's visit that he hadn't had time to have the cattle sprayed and the prince noticed the flies on the cattle's shoulders."

The prince wore a pair of blood-red leather chaps during his dusty cattle tour.

"He really knows his cattle," said Mrs. Armstrong, the former U.S. Ambassador to England who invited the prince to visit the sprawling ranch during his 12-city tour of the United States.

Energy Oil imports estimate

DALLAS (AP) — Oil imports will account for 45.1 per cent of the nation's petroleum requirements this year, an industry study indicated today.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America study said, by comparison, that foreign oil in 1972, the last full year prior to the Arab oil embargo, accounted for only 29 per cent of domestic supply.

The report added, however, that 1978 imports should drop to 43.1 per cent of total supply.

"The nation's rising dependence on imported oil will be stemmed temporarily due to the combined efforts of increased domestic crude oil production, improved efficiency in energy use and greater utilization of domestic coal and nuclear power."

The supply and demand study was released at the annual meeting of the 5,000-member trade group that represents independent operators from more than 30 states.

"The report said the 1978 factors that should permit oil imports to drop a bit will not be sufficient, however, to meet the nation's future energy needs. "Finding and developing U.S. oil and gas resources are essential," the report said.

"Hopefully, deliberations in Congress will lead to adoption of policies which recognize the best interest of the nation will be served by encouraging activities to find and develop this country's potential oil and gas reserves."

The association's tax committee voted Sunday that there is an urgent need for President Carter's proposals to be revised to include specific incentives to enable domestic producers to maximize oil and gas explorations.

The tax committee is expected to recommend Tuesday that the trade group vigorously oppose a Conference Committee report on the energy package if it fails to include such incentives.

The supply and demand report estimated 1977 domestic petroleum demand at 18.5 million barrels a day, a 6.1 per cent increase above the 1976 level. Much of the increase was attributed to extremely cold weather last winter, increased air conditioning requirements this summer, and an extended drought that reduced available hydropower in western states.

"In 1978, domestic demand is forecast to rise to 19.2 million barrels daily, 3.5 per cent or 600,000 barrels per day above 1977," the report said.

"The projected moderation in the rate of increase in U.S. petroleum demand assumes normal weather in 1978, increased contributions by coal and nuclear power, and continued progress in using energy more efficiently."

Crime lab director last witness state will call?

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Prosecution attorneys were expected to resume questioning today of the Fort Worth crime lab director, who may be the last witness the state will call in the capital murder trial of millionaire Cullen Davis.

Shiller provided the single most important testimony in the case. He told the jury he positively identified four of nine bullets recovered after shootings at the Davis mansion in Fort Worth last summer that left two dead and two wounded.

Davis is charged with capital murder in the death of his 12-year-old stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn. The defendant's estranged wife, Priscilla, 36, was wounded and her lover, Stan Farr, 30, was slain in the shooting spree at the mansion.

Gus Gavril Jr., 22, was crippled by the gunfire. Three eyewitnesses identified Davis as the gunman and prosecutors sought to corroborate those accounts through mounds of physical evidence and testimony from police and others who came in contact that night with the survivors.

Shiller said the same .38 caliber pistol was used to kill both Farr and the young girl.

The show will be held in the Stephenville City Park Recreation Building. Sponsors are the Stephenville Zonta Club, Stephenville Chamber of Commerce and the Stephenville Parks and Recreation Department.

Weather Flash flooding potential lingers

Forecasters were calling for the wet weather that washed out many a weekend to move into East Texas today leaving the rest of the state with clear to partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures.

The showers and thunderstorms were still present over the southern half of the state late Sunday night and early this morning. However, rainfall was substantially less than for previous nights. Weather watchers, especially in South Texas, still monitored their gauges because of the potential for more flash flooding.

Overnight temperatures remained on the mild side statewide with pre-dawn readings in the upper 40s in the upper Panhandle and mountains and in the 50s in central sections. South Texas was a bit warmer with 60-degree temperatures along with a few 70-degree readings in the Rio Grande Valley.

WEST TEXAS — It should be fair through Tuesday. Temperatures will be warmer in most sections today with highs in the lower 70s in the north to the mid 80s in the south. Tonight's lows should dip into the mid 40s in the north and mountains and into the mid 50s in the south. Highs Tuesday are put at the upper 60s in the north to the mid 80s in the Big Bend valleys.

WEST TEXAS — Dry and warm. Lows should be in the 40s in the north and mountains and in the 50s in the south. Highs should reach the 70s in the north and mountains and the 80s in the south.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rains is forecast for most of the central portion of the nation today, ranging from Wisconsin south through the Great Plains and on down to Texas. Cold weather is expected to descend from Canada into the Great Plains while warm air is expected to moved inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

Stephenville show planned

The eleventh annual Stephenville Arts and Crafts Show will open its doors at 1:00 p.m. Friday, Nov. 4, for a two-day run. The show is annually one of the largest arts and crafts fairs in the state. Each year since its inception in 1966, the show has drawn larger crowds and more exhibitors. This year, show sponsors are expecting a record attendance in the thousands.

Items on display and for sale at the show will include exotic handcrafted and tooled Christmas decorations, china, wooden toys and plaques, needlepoint, paintings, musical instruments, and the list goes on and on.

The show will be held in the Stephenville City Park Recreation Building. Sponsors are the Stephenville Zonta Club, Stephenville Chamber of Commerce and the Stephenville Parks and Recreation Department.

Traffic deaths rise in Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Traffic deaths are running nine per cent greater in this state than they were a year ago, the Texas Department of Public Safety reports.

At the close of last week, 2,767 had lost their lives, compared with 2,545 by the same time last year.

The deaths occurred in 2,426 fatal accidents — an 11 per cent increase over the comparable total for 1976.

Col. Wilson Speir, DPS director, attributed much of the increase to speed in excess of the 55 mile per hour limit in a statement released last week. He cited a 50 per cent increase in deaths on interstate highways.

Traffic deaths totaled 2,927 during the first 9 1/2 months of 1977, the last year of the 70 mph limit. They dropped to 2,341 in 1974 after the 55 mph limit went on and rose to 2,623 in 1975.

Texas is entering a new experiment on limiting the growth of government: The sunset law.

Passed by the Legislature this year, the new law schedules 177 state agencies to be automatically abolished — unless a positive act of the Legislature renews them.

These 177 agencies, large and small, will expire on various years between 1979 and 1989, if action to renew them does not pass.

The agencies also must complete a self-evaluation prior to their expiration date.

THE PURPOSE OF A sunset law is to make certain that a governmental agency, once created, does not live and grow forever, even after its usefulness has ended.

Along with Texas, four other states have recently adopted sunset legislation.

The first test of how well the law will work comes in 1979 when 26 mostly minor state agencies are due to be automatically abolished unless renewed by that session of the Legislature.

- These are:
- Board of Licensure, Nursing Home Administrators
  - Private Employment Agency, Regulatory Board
  - Board of Regulation, Public Surveyors
  - Good Neighbor Commission
  - Real Estate Commission
  - Motor Vehicle Commission
  - State Board of Morticians
  - Cosmetology Commission
  - Board of Barber Examiners
  - Board of Public Accountancy
  - Board of Law Examiners
  - State Bar
  - Structural Pest Control Board
  - Texas Turnpike Authority
  - Board of Architectural Examiners

- Board of Landscape Architects
- Burial Association Rate Board
- Battleship Texas Commission
- Pesticide Advisory Committee
- Stonewall Jackson Memorial Board

- Managers Texas State Railroad
- Pink Bollworm Commission
- Texas Navy Incorporated
- Board of County and District Road Indebtedness
- Vehicle Equipment Safety Compact Commissioner
- Board of Examiners, State Land Surveyors

WHAT A LIST of agencies. Some of them demonstrate, rather sadly, how specific occupational groups have sought to limit competition by creating their own licensing board. This is a use of state government which the people should not tolerate, or someday we might have a "State Board of Licensing, Pretzel Vendor regulators."

But the Texas Research League points out that sunset laws may not be as effective for a variety of reasons as they might seem to be. The first attempt in Alabama produced reviews on 207 state agencies, but only 19 were recommended for termination, and an attorney general's ruling on a technicality cut that down to one agency that was actually abolished, the "Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation."

It will be interesting to see how many of Texas' 26 which are up for review will be abolished or have their functions, if any, combined with other agencies.

The bottom line is this: It's too soon to tell if sunset laws will be effective in keeping state government at a manageable size, or if the law will prove as flimsy as a politician's spine on election eve.

Southwestern slump

Evans, Novak

AUSTIN, Tex. — When President Carter sent shockwaves through the Southwest's political establishment Oct. 13 by warning of an infamous oil industry "ripoff," it climaxed the disillusionment of one influential Texas Tory Democrat who last year greeted Jimmy Carter's candidacy with enthusiasm.

"I give up on him," this important figure told us. Prepared to sell his fellow Tories on the virtues of the Panama Canal treaty, he now opposes it himself. To this Texas politician, Mr. Carter has branded himself "just another ultra-liberal even if he is from the South."

WE FOUND that attitude prevalent among Democratic politicians we questioned in the oil-producing states of Texas and Oklahoma the week after the President's "ripoff" charge. Those presidential advisers who see anti-Carter resentment here limited to big oil do not appreciate the hostility among moderate-to-conservative Democrats who last year embraced the peanut farmer from Georgia as one of their own.

That the President's difficulties in this region stem from more than oil policies can be seen in the disaffection of three early Carter backers: Oklahoma Gov. David Boren and Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. William Hobby of Texas. Their stories possibly point to reasons for the President's national decline.

Hobby. An admirer of Mr. Carter since visiting him in 1971 to observe his reforms as governor of Georgia, the widely respected lieutenant governor has no channel to the administration. He has been unable, for example, to contact Secretary of Energy James Schlesinger. Hobby says he reacted with "sorrow" to Mr. Carter's blast at oil, but his private reactions are markedly stronger.

Briscoe. He was friendly from the start toward the Carter candidacy and risked his own prestige to carry the state for Mr. Carter last November. The phlegmatic governor is genuinely outraged by the President denouncing Texas politicians for supporting natural gas deregulation which had been promised by Candidate Carter.

BOREN: THE aggressive 36-year-old governor of Oklahoma represents a highly dramatic change of relationships with the President. The first governor west of the Mississippi to back Mr. Carter for President, Boren elicited the now repudiated pledge for gas deregulation.

Boren was completely cut off from the White House before the energy program was unveiled last April, his telephone calls unanswered. Since then, he has had only one personal contact with the President: an astonishing — and fruitless — appeal from Mr. Carter for Panama Canal treaty support. At no time has the President explained to the governor, much less apologized for, breaking his word on deregulation.

Thus, the President's Southwestern slump is caused not only by his stand on oil but how he has taken that stand. While not trying to soften the blow among his supporters, the President implied that anybody opposed to him is more interested in appeasing the greedy oil companies than in furthering the national interest.

NOB IS RESENTMENT limited to politicians allied with the giant oil corporations, as the White House supposes Govs. Briscoe and Boren to be. Texas state land commissioner Bob Landis Armstrong, a liberal and Mr. Carter's Texas campaign chairman, opposes both the substance and the rhetoric of the Carter energy program. Needless to say, his advice has not been asked.

Changing docs won't cure anything

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 70 years old. Most of my friends take long walks, jog, bicycle ride, etc. But my doctor won't let me do any of these things. He tells me a block or so of walking and moderate housework is enough for me. I have asked why, but he just says, "I want you to do only as I say." I am on daily heart medicine, and I feel fairly good.

My friends have advised me to change doctors. I have had mine for many years, and I do have faith in him. Are there different heart conditions that rule out exercise? You have said in your column that exercise is good for the heart. — Mrs. L.T.

Changing doctors is sometimes like changing messengers because you don't like the messages you're getting.

There are different types of heart disease and varying degrees of each. So no general rule about exercise can be made. Nor could I try to interpret the reason for your doctor's restrictions.

Exercise is good for all the muscles of the body, including those of the heart. But that doesn't mean one should go out and exercise a broken leg, for example — until the break has healed.

The point is that exercise has to be tailored to your tolerance level. You are 70 and apparently doing well with your heart medication. This is no time to start vigorous exercise. Walking is best. If you can walk more than a block without distress, fine.

Remember, though, wherever you are in your walk, you are only halfway. You have to return home.

Your friends are not doing you any favor. Changing doctors has never changed a heart condition, to my knowledge. Yes, there are different heart disorders that require limitations on activity. Your friends probably do not have any of them. You have a faith in your doctor, so stay with him, unpopular as his warnings are to you. He knows your condition and your limitations.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We hear a lot from the yoga people and health faddists about the advantages and benefits of standing on the head or shoulders upside down. It's said that it helps circulation, the heart itself, growth of hair, and many other goodies. Is there any basis to these claims? — H.E.

The human circulatory system has apparently adapted quite well to the upright stance. The heart pumps efficiently and valves in the veins aid circulation in the legs. The red-faced congestion caused by the upside-down maneuver doesn't help the brain, the hair, or anything else. Since right-side-up humans have as many feet problems as those of the head, you can't say the upside-down position would help either end.

Exercise in the horizontal or upright positions is sufficient. This doesn't mean I'm putting down yoga. It's just that such claims don't wash.

Welded effort

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — At the bottom of most Washington scandals, there invariably seems to be some lawyers in the woodpile.

The Watergate crimes were plotted initially at the Justice Department, with the attorney general presiding and the White House counsel advising. Lawyers participated in the bag-jobs, forgeries, "frame-ups," "break-ins, cover-ups and perjury that followed.

Now we've learned that the bastion of legal ethics, the American Bar Association, conspired with the FBI to discredit the left-wing National Lawyers Guild. The FBI secretly wiretapped and spied on the guild's national offices and then fed derogatory information to key officials of the bar association.

THE GUILD CAME under FBI surveillance not just because of its leftist leanings, but because of its opposition to racial discrimination, support of civil liberties and protests against congressional abuses. These stands offended the late FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover's standards for patriotism.

He grew up in Washington when it was still a small Southern town, where segregation was the law as well as the custom. To Hoover, the struggle for equal rights by blacks smacked of rebellion. He was an incurable curmudgeon, conservative in his ways and narrow in his outlook, who saw sedition in dissent.

The American Bar Association should have had a more enlightened view of the nation's founding principles. Yet it not only joined in the red-baiting of the 1950's but sought dirt about the lawyers guild from the FBI. The sordid story has been buried for two decades in FBI files, which have now been made available to us.

The bar association's chief communist hunter, Austin Canfield Sr., telephoned the FBI in January 1952 to ask for information that could be used against the guild. A top FBI official, Louis B. Nichols, reported in a memo that Canfield "was in favor of taking... on" the guild.

Nichols then supplied Canfield with a report charging that the guild worked closely with communist factions. As one piece of evidence, the report declared that the guild had blasted the FBI's "Gestapo activities," and attacked the ABA. Any criticism of the FBI was considered akin to treason.

One month later, Canfield made another call to the FBI and Nichols again related the conversation in a confidential memo. "Canfield... stated... there will be... an attempt to move the American Bar Association into action against the National Lawyers Guild," reported Nichols. "He feels the... guild has now gone far enough and that now is the time to act."

The FBI, meanwhile, searched its "security index" for information about guild officers. Four memos were prepared, advised an FBI memo, which "may be of possible assistance to the American Bar Association."

As late as the 1960's, long after the red scare had abated, the president-elect of the American Bar Association, John C. Satterfield, met with Hoover to discuss "matters of mutual interest between the FBI and the ABA," according to a written account of the meeting.

Satterfield lavished praise upon the crusty FBI director and offered to do favors for him. Later, Satterfield asked another FBI official for "background information" on the guild. Apparently, he planned to use the information to discredit guild members. For an FBI memo states: "(Satterfield) would like to reinstitute this policy of not only barring members of the NLG from becoming members of the ABA but also expel from the ABA any attorney who continues to be associated with the NLG and fosters its aims."

FBI OFFICIALS, with Hoover's permission noted with a terse "OK H," sent Satterfield a 24-page report on the National Lawyers Guild. This compared the guild's positions with those of the Communist Party. The fact that both groups adopted the same line on the racial question and the protection they offer, I know what it is to have a lack of protection and, for the number of officers in our city, they do a terrific job.

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

This is a chain rim. It is different from a chain letter on two very important accounts. First, the chain rim must be delivered personally to 20 friends, and secondly, if money is even mentioned, a swine flu epidemic breaks out on your block.

Therefore, if you want to reap the benefits of this amazing piece of nickel parchment, buy 20 copies of the Herald, clip out this rim, and one by one, take it to 20 of your friends. If you don't have that many friends, in-laws can be used in an emergency.

This chain rim is being printed for you for good luck. The original copy is from the Island of Krakatoa, and it has been around the world nine times, once through Cleveland.

YOU ARE TO receive good luck within four days of reading this rim. This is no joke. Do not keep this rim. It must leave you within 96 hours after you read it. You will then experience the good luck. If you don't, then obviously you didn't follow the instructions correctly.

Let me share with you what happened to those unfortunate few who didn't heed the chain rim. There's the sad story of Notthess Reelmem (not his real name).

He received the rim, foolishly discarded it and watched helplessly the very next day as a 16-ounce package of marijuana (street value $2.5 million) fell from a small single engine plane, (flying overhead at 6,000 feet, illegally en route from Mexico, piloted by Amelia Earhart), narrowly missing his head, and lodging in the hollowed-out brick in his fireplace.

Two weeks later, Reelmem was arrested while driving a unicycle nude down the main drag of Detroit, a chicken head sticking out of his left ear, and singing "Daisy, Daisy." He escaped from prison on the day prior to his planned execution (in Michigan, state executions for drug offenders is meted out by the prisoner being forced to watch two solid minutes of Lawrence Welk's 1961 Thanksgiving Special.)

Despite Reelmem's apparent escape from justice, his life was still ruined by not circumstancing the rim. At last report, he was said to be somewhere in the Amazon Jungle, being forced to work as live bait for a leech smuggler. And then there was Jonathan Livingston Oceanslug (not his real name either). He received the rim, and indecisive, laid it down on his desk and went out drinking with a bunch of boys.

That very night, he lost his little toe in a freak accident involving a train, a crateload of ceramic "Old Rip" horned toad reproductions and an apparent UFO which allegedly resembled "a Jap sub."

AFTER BEING released from the hospital, Oceanslug immediately rushed home and made 20 copies of the rim and delivered them personally to his friends. Two weeks later, he found his little toe imbedded in a telephone pole, two miles from the scene of the accident.

And then there are the more extreme cases, both pleasant and unfortunate.

—Years ago in Africa, a woman received the rim and threw it away. Hours later, she gave birth to Idi Amin.

—While in the Philippines, General Shortedge received the rim and immediately inherited $32 million. Unfortunately, while making copies of it the next day for his friends, he inadvertently substituted a Walt Finley rim of '68, and lost everything but a buck, twenty-five the next Saturday night in a crap game to an ex-con dressed as granny on the "Beverly Hillbillies."

—Caveat Emptor, an office employee, received the rim and forgot it, and in a few days he lost his job. He found the rim and delivered it personally to 20 friends. Five days later he was killed by a runaway truck loaded with dynamite and radioactive waste. Lateness doesn't count.

This is serious business. You just can't go around tampering with scientific stuff like this. Read the instructions. Make sure you do everything right. Most importantly follow chapter five of my complete book "Delivering Chain Rims Personally For Fun and Profit," carried at any Chainco Inc. department store, ($1.95 paperback, $19.50 hardcover), personalized in genuine simulated gold ink, leatherette costing extra in Texas.)

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I heard that the Bible says Jesus was "a little lower than the angels." What does this mean? — D.M.

DEAR D.M.: You are thinking of the statement in Hebrews 2:9: "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, now crowned with glory and honor because he suffered death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone" (New International Version).

To get the full meaning of this passage we have to look at the first chapter of Hebrews. In it, the author outlines the superiority of Jesus to the angels, since He alone was God's Son, "by whom also he made the world... being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power" (Hebrews 1:2-3). A series of seven quotations from the Old Testament is included to testify to the superiority of the Messiah to the angels.

In the second chapter of Hebrews, however, the author tells us how the Son of God became man in order to die for our sins. The phrase, "made a little lower than the angels," tells us about the eternal Son of God who also became a man. The author goes on to say that Christ has now completed His work of redemption by dying on the cross and has again been restored to His place of glory.

What a wonderful thought! We could not save ourselves, no matter how much we tried. But God still loves us, and He sent His beloved Son to die for our sins. By faith in Him we can be saved. "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need" (Hebrews 4:16).

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

My family and I have just recently moved to Big Spring, one of our concerns upon moving here was the type of police protection Big Spring offered. We moved from a larger city in Texas, and the police protection was very poor.

In our brief stay thus far, I have had need for the police on three occasions; one of which was an emergency. I must say that in all instances I was very impressed with the prompt response. Officers arrived promptly on the scene and at no time were they discourteous or rude either to me or the other individuals involved.

I would like the citizens of Big Spring to stand up in support of and be proud of their police force and the protection they offer. I know what it is to have a lack of protection and, for the number of officers in our city, they do a terrific job.

Michael D. McCracken, Executive Director, Big Spring YMCA

Dear Editor:

Monday afternoon, the U.S. House of Representatives took under consideration a Bill, H.R. 9090, to exempt disaster payments made in connection with the 1977 crops of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton, and rice from the payment limitations contained in the Agricultural Act of 1970 and the Agricultural Act of 1949.

Fortunately for many Texans, the Bill passed by an easy margin of 265 to 127 under the able leadership of the Chairman of the Agriculture Committee, Rep. Tom Foley (D-Wash.).

As explained in the Committee Report, under the law effective for 1977 crops, there is a $20,000 limitation of payments which any person may receive from one or more programs for crops of wheat, feed grains or upland cotton. A $55,000 limitation affects rice crops.

The purpose of H.R. 9090 is to exempt from these limitations disaster payments, allowing a farmer to collect, or sell his crops to the federal programs and still be eligible for disaster payment should he need them. Evidently, the House, in its wisdom, finally came to terms with the immediate plight facing many U.S. farmers today.

Further relief is in sight when in 1978 a total federal program payment limitation will be $40,000, with disaster payments exempted.

But there is a story behind this story. The Committee Report states that unfortunately this disaster payment exemption was "inadvertently" left out of the Farm Bill which was signed into law recently.

The reality of this situation is the opposition's view that this exemption would only benefit the large Corporation farms. When the Farm Bill was under consideration on the floor of the House several weeks ago, Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) and several others were very vocal in their opposition. In his wisdom, Chairman Foley, on the advice from committee staff, decided to withhold the disaster payments section of the Bill until a later date. This added incentive in the Bill at that time could have seriously jeopardized the total Farm Bill, and in fact would have probably caused its failure. Chairman Foley has proven once again his adeptness at spinning his legislative web to the benefit of all Americans.

When I asked how the disaster payments bill would fly in the Senate, Chairman Foley replied, "It will pass by voice vote next week one day when there are no more than eight Members of the Senate on the floor."

Texans, note: The Disaster Payments Bill is now, well...it's in the bag!

Wants Boss To Fire Her Errant Husband

DEAR ABBY: I am an executive in a company that has a large sales department. A few days ago, the wife of one of our top salesmen came and asked me to fire her husband! She said she had it on good authority that her husband is having an affair with a young secretary in the office.

The wife said if I thought her husband was too valuable to the company to let go, I should fire the girl. She said she was sure her husband could easily get another job if he were forced to, and the affair would probably cool off if they weren't working together.

Should I get involved in the domestic problems of one of my salesmen? Or do you think if a man does his job well, what he does on his own time is his own business?

NO IDENTITIES, PLEASE

DEAR NO: Call the salesman in, and tell him that word of his alleged hanky-panky with a secretary has reached the front office. And let him take it from there.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of 20 draftsmen working in a large engineering office with a lot of female secretaries. Abby, do you think a woman feels complimented when she enters a room and a man whistles at her?

One guy here insists that the girls love it. I say no woman wants to be treated as a sex object, and whistling at a woman is an insult.

I'd like a woman's point of view.

T.C. IN HOUSTON

DEAR T.C.: THIS woman's point of view is the same as yours. (P.S. Whistling at women also indicates a juvenile mentality.)

DEAR ABBY: My young grandson has a very peculiar way of eating—he will eat only one thing at a time. For example: if there is meat, potatoes, carrots and peas on his plate, he will finish eating all the meat before he even touches his carrots. Then, once he starts eating his carrots, he will taste nothing else until he's finished them. He positively refuses to mix his food. Now isn't that ridiculous?

When I try to tell him to eat a bit of one thing and then another, he says he doesn't want to. He refuses to even try.

I don't know whether this comes under the heading of etiquette, idiosyncrasies, health or habits, but it just looks peculiar to me, Abby.

Please classify this quirk and set me straight.

GRAMPS

DEAR GRAMPS: I would classify this as nitpicking. Children come in for enough criticism during their childhood without having something as inconsequential as this being called to their attention. Skip it. What's the difference? Be glad he's healthy and can eat everything.

The Four-County Young Homemakers conducted their October meeting Thursday at 8:00 p.m. at the Sands High School.

The meeting was brought to order by Janette Brown, president. Program was presented by Don Richard, Assistant District Attorney Howard Co.

The program content was directed on Consumer Tips on small claim court and other legal rights of the consumer. Richard then opened the floor to questions about any legal advice on problems that could arise such as on insurance policies, insufficient fund checks, and failure to deliver merchandise on prescribed date.

The Young Homemakers would like to thank Richard for his time and for sharing his enlightening knowledge.

The meeting was adjourned after a short business meeting.

'Texas Heritage' is theme

"Texas Heritage" was the theme for the Saturday luncheon which marked the end of the two-day board meeting of the Western District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Represented at the meetings which took place at the Big Spring Country Club and Holiday Inn were 20 clubs.

Mrs. Paul Kenworthy presided at the final meeting. Decorations for the tables, provided and made by Mrs. Granville D. Dawson, carried out the theme, consisting of cowboy figurines, windmills, cattle, cockleburrs, and other artwork relevant to Texas.

Grace was given by Mrs. Rogers Helley and entertainment, Texas songs "Don't Fence Me In" and "Yellow Rose of Texas", was provided by Mrs. Charles Parham, accompanied by her husband on the piano.

Apathy was tested by having the women vote on various aspects of the board meeting. "Texas Heritage" was voted the favorite program presentation and "That's Texas", a song written by Mrs. Paul Kenworthy of Odessa, a member of the Odessa Progressive Study Club, was voted the most popular song.

A panel game was played to test the knowledge of six club presidents in the area of education. The panel agreed that education is a lifelong experience. Learned through the game, was the fact that four-fifths of all libraries in America were begun by women's clubs.

Introduced by 1905 Hyperion Club president Mrs. Clement Jones, Chesley McDonald, recipient of the 1975 Outstanding Alumni of Abilene Christian University award, was the guest speaker for the luncheon.

A prominent rancher and oil man, Mr. McDonald entertained his audience with quips and anecdotes about Texas and various Texas cities and towns. He also gave a brief history of Texas, noting that "everything in Texas is big" including its capital building which is larger than any other in the United States, excluding

Washington D.C.'s. Regarding Texas forerunners, McDonald commented, "It's a shame that so much of our history was buried before it was ever put down on paper."

According to McDonald, the most interesting part of Texas history, excluding the settling and annexation of Texas was the way in which the counties were established. He explained that each county was arranged with its county seat as close to the middle as possible so that one could get to the county seat to vote and return home within a day's time.

He also noted that Texas is known here and abroad for its production of food and fiber in addition to its production of about 60 different minerals. Other attributes include its "fine education system, job opportunities, and friendly ways."

"It's great to be a Texan with the heritage that we have," Mr. McDonald declared. "What kind of Texas heritage shall we leave for the little Texans?"

The Modern Women's Forum of Odessa was recognized for having the most members present and the largest percentage of distance traveled.

An invitation was extended and accepted from the Culture Club of Sanderson for next year's board meeting to take place in their town.

Hosting this year's board meeting was the 1905 Hyperion Club, Modern Women's Forum, 1941 Study Club, Forsan Study Club and Stanton Study Club.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Sr., served as chairwoman for the Federation who's creed includes: "The Federation teaches me that I am a necessary part in a pattern devised and perpetuated by women of all classes and creeds who believe that all the best in America is a priceless heritage worth working for and worth defending."

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Moody, 1514 Tucson.

The fall theme was carried out in the table decorations and the refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee.

Mrs. Truett Thomas presided at the business meeting, at which time the charter was draped in memory of Dinah Medkiff, who died Sept. 25. Mrs. Medkiff was a Department of Texas Officer and a Past National Officer.

Mrs. Moody, chapter chaplain, was aided by Mrs. W.J. Barnes in draping the charter.

It was announced that the Gold Star Mothers are to be guests at the Veterans Day Program at the V.A. Hospital at 2 p.m. Nov. 11.

The Community Service report showed that 18 trays of food were given to the needy, 17 vases of flowers to the sick, and $67.50 to charity needs. The next meeting will be Nov. 17 in the home of Mrs. F.H. Talbot, 105 Canyon Road.

History

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although the Los Angeles Rams have been comparatively successful in the years, they haven't had much success against their opponent in the nationally televised game against the Minnesota Vikings. The meetings between these two hard-core National Football League foes have been characterized by high scores and Minnesota victories. In their 10 meetings since 1969, the Bud Carson-coached Vikings show a 1-0 record against the Rams, which has been coached by George Tomlin Prothro and Tom Knox during that span. And Minnesota, which has lost all three times during Grant's tenure, has won three times by defeating the Rams in the playoffs.

Both Grant and Rodgers, whose teams played 10 regular season games before the Rams bounced back with a triumph in the Championship game, another tight game. "We wound up overtime tie last year then beat the Rams in the game for the NFC Championship," said Grant. "The preseason game went down to the wire minutes before I decided on a blocked kick." "Our games against the Rams are ... very close."

"We'll have to play the best football of our lives to beat Minnesota," said Rodgers. "We have to put some pressure on the board and we have to put pressure on the quarterback. They've

Perry's

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Colorado linebacker Perry is expected to be on the critical list of a head injury he sustained in Saturday's game against Nebraska. A spokesman said Sunday that Perry collapsed in the locker room after the 33-15 loss to the Cornhuskers. He was given emergency treatment at a hospital, then transferred to Omaha for further surgery.

Dr. Bradley completed "four hours" of surgery on Perry early Sunday. He was in the hospital Sunday afternoon but suffered "a significant injury. There's not much we can say right now, but he appears to be getting fairly well. The next will tell the story."

Perry, 6-3 and 228 pounds, was helped from the field in the fourth quarter.

Colorado Coach Mallory, who accompanied Perry to Omaha in returning to Boulder, said the linebacker was "a little groggy" late in the fourth quarter but appeared to be right and returned to the game.

Perry, 22, a native of Germany, and a resident of Springs, is credited with eight sacks and three interceptions during the game.

The 1977 Colorado guide said pro scout Perry "one of the best linebackers in the league going into the season. He has a big year, he's a first rounder next

History likes Vikes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although the Los Angeles Rams have been a comparatively successful football team in recent years, they haven't had much success against their opponent in tonight's nationally televised game, the Minnesota Vikings.

The meetings between these two hard-hitting National Football Conference foes have been characterized by close scores and Minnesota victories. In their 10 contests since 1969, the Bud Grant-coached Vikings show an 8-1-1 record against Los Angeles, which has been coached by George Allen, Tommy Prothro and Chuck Knox during that span.

And Minnesota, which has played in four Super Bowls — losing all — during Grant's tenure, made it there three times by whipping the Rams in the playoffs.

Both Grant and Knox, whose teams played to a 10-10 regular season tie last year before the Vikings bounced back with a 24-13 triumph in the NFC Championship game, expect another tight game.

"We wound up in an overtime tie last year, and then beat the Rams in a close game for the NFC championship," said Grant. "And the preseason game this year went down to the final minutes before it was decided on a blocked punt.

"Our games against the Rams are ... very, very close."

"We'll have to play our best football of the year to beat Minnesota," said Knox. "We have to put some points on the board and we'll have to put pressure on the quarterback. They find a lot

N.Y. Marathon

NEW YORK — Bill Rodgers of Boston, Mass. outran a record field of more than 5,000 runners and won the grueling New York City Marathon for the second straight year.

The 29-year-old Rodgers covered the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 11 minutes, 28.2 seconds.

Rodgers finished nearly 2.5 minutes ahead of 1977 Boston Marathon champion Jerome Drayton of Toronto.

Perry's condition critical

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Colorado linebacker Tom Perry is expected to remain on the critical list until at least Monday night because of a head injury he suffered in Saturday's game against Nebraska, a hospital spokesman said Sunday.

Perry collapsed in the locker room after Colorado's 33-15 loss to the Cornhuskers. He was given emergency treatment at a Lincoln hospital, then transferred to Omaha for further surgery.

Dr. Bradley Berman completed "four to five hours" of surgery on Perry early Sunday. He said Sunday afternoon that Perry suffered "a significant injury. There's not much we can say right now, but he appears to be getting along fairly well. The next 24 hours will tell the story."

Perry, 6-3 and 228 pounds, was helped from the field in the fourth quarter.

Colorado Coach Bill Mallory, who accompanied Perry to Omaha instead of returning to Boulder with the team, said the senior linebacker was knocked groggy late in the third quarter or early in the fourth, but appeared to be all right and returned to the game.

Perry, 22, a native of Ulm, Germany, and a Colorado Springs resident, was credited with eight tackles, three of them unassisted, in the game.

The 1977 Colorado football guide said pro scouts called Perry "one of the two best linebackers in the nation going into the season and if he has a big year, he could be a first rounder next winter."

Runnels loses

Pecos Crockett inched past Runnels Red in a 16-14 duel Saturday.

Tom Olague scored first for Runnels on a run. Red then tried for two points and failed to make it into the endzone.

Crockett then stormed Runnels with two consecutive touchdowns and two successful extra point attempts.

Red fought back, and scored on a pass from Marcus Armendariz to Wayne Coffee. This time Olague went in for the two extra points.

Runnels amasses 184 yards rushing, and gained seven first downs. Pecos rushed for 147 yards, and managed five first downs.

of ways to beat you."

The contest, scheduled for a 6 p.m. PDT kickoff at Memorial Coliseum, marks the second start this season for Rams quarterback Pat Haden. The regular at the end of last season, Haden lost his job to Joe Namath at the beginning of the 1977 campaign.

But the 34-year-old Namath, his gimpy knees bothering him again, has been less than impressive and Knox moved Haden back to the No. 1 spot.

In his first 1977 start, a week ago against New Orleans, Haden steered the Rams to a 14-7 victory. Last year against the Vikings, the Rhodes Scholar and former University of Southern California star helped the Rams to the tie in his initial NFL start.

Saldi is hero of the day

Cowboys whip Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was a strange sight in the Dallas Cowboys' dressing room after their 16-10 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The host of reporters wasn't crowding around Roger Staubach, or Tony Dorsett or Harvey Martin, or other stars on the Dallas squad.

The mob scene was around Jay Saldi.

Jay who?

The 23-year-old Saldi, a reserve tight end and special team player, was busy explaining how he blocked a fourth quarter Eagles' punt that turned into the winning touchdown.

Strong safety Charley Waters picked up the loose ball and ran 17 yards for the score that sent Dallas ahead in the first time in the game, 13-7, with 14 minutes remaining.

Saldi, a former South Carolina player who is the only free agent to make the Cowboys' squad last year, claimed to be the most surprised guy on the field when Spike Jones' attempted punt struck him on the right arm.

"I'm supposed to open a hole through which Tom Henderson (linebacker) can STOPPED — Pittsburgh Steeler running back Rocky Bleir (20) is stopped by Houston Oilers defenders Sunday during their game at Three Rivers stadium in Pittsburgh. The Steelers won the contest, 27-10, which was highlighted by fumbles on both sides.

URNS GAME AROUND — Strong Safety Charley Waters made things look grim for Philadelphia Sunday when he scrambled 17 yards with a loose ball to score late in the fourth quarter. The ball had been loosened by Jay Saldi, reserve tight end, who blocked an Eagles' punt.

JV tops Lee

The Steer junior varsity evened their record at 3-3 Saturday when they topped the Midland Lee Rebels squad 40-36.

Lee was practically spotted 12 points as early errors gave the Rebs two scores before the game got properly heated up. The first came after a fumble recovery on the Steer 15 and the second on the following kickoff, with a Lee recovery on the Steer 20.

The Bovines got properly warmed up when quarterback Jim Brown passed to Joe Willie Jones for an 80-yard touchdown tally and Dennis Morrison rambled 70 yards to tie the game at 12 all.

Lee went ahead by the end of the quarter, but the Steers were indefatigable, with Jimmy Marquez pitching out to Morrison on a six-yard option play to tie the score again. Lee scored again on a quarterback keeper to end the half at 24-18.

In the second half, Brocky Jones intercepted a Reb aerial to tie up the game, and Ronnie Walker cakedwalked the extra point to put the Steers up by one.

Lee scored on a 35-yard pass play before Brown and Jones combined again to garner a 35-yard pass play TD followed by Marquez run for the point after to increase the margin to three.

In the fourth quarter, Dennis Morrison scored again on a seven-yard run and Lee scored after capitalizing on a Big Spring fumble. Both Morrison and Jones had a TD called back during the game.

Standouts for the Steers include Rusty Touchstone and Ricky McKee, Mike Domino and Mark Knight on defense, and Greg Henry, Steve Painter, and Jack Odum on offense.

get through to block the ball," Saldi said. I think they (the Eagles) busted an assignment."

Saldi explained that the Eagles' guard and a blocking back appeared to get mixed up on the play.

"The guard realized the mistake and came back to get me, but I was already through," Saldi said over and over again as wave after wave of questioners shouldered their way to his overrun locker space.

As for Waters, the defensive back just shrugged his shoulders and said, "I didn't do anything but pick up the ball and run. Anybody can do that. Jay should get all the credit."

The Eagles' punter, Jones, said he didn't know what happened.

"The snap was good. All I can say is that he (Saldi) got back there and got (blocked) it," Jones said.

The Eagles scored a touchdown in the second quarter on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Ron Jaworski to wide receiver Charley Smith. Horst Muhlmann converted and it was 7-0.

Dallas came back to score on a five-yard run by rookie Tony Dorsett, but Efen Herrera's extra point try was blocked by Art Thoms. It was Herrera's first miss since he joined the Cowboys in the middle of the 1974 season. He had 82 straight conversions.

The Eagles protected that 7-6 halftime edge until Saldi's breakthrough and Waters' run with 13:48 left in the game. Dallas added a fourth-period Herrera field goal for a 16-7 lead, but Muhlmann matched that for the Eagles.

"We're glad to be 6-0 after that one," said Dallas coach Tom Landry after the close call for his unbeaten team.

'Good, clean football'

Oilers lose bruiser

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers and Houston Oilers awoke today wearing the bruises of mutual respect.

"It's good, clean football, but we're kind of rough on each other," Terry Bradshaw said Sunday after he passed, blocked and tackled the Steelers to a 27-10 victory over the Oilers.

That's a full day's work for a healthy man. Bradshaw did it with a cast on the left forearm he cracked two weeks earlier against Houston, and he added late drama when he survived a painful scare that he had injured the arm again.

"There aren't fights or anything when we play Pittsburgh, but we still beat each other up," said Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini.

Pastorini played on a right ankle that was grotesquely twisted two weeks ago against Pittsburgh when Joe Greene fell on it. In Sunday's game, he aggravated the ankle sprain for the second week in a row.

Pastorini was also pained by five interceptions and five Steeler sacks.

"They had a very good rush, but I really couldn't move too well," said Pastorini who completed five of 15 passes for 32 yards. Subtract the sacks of 46 yards, and Houston had minus 14 yards passing.

"It was kind of discouraging," said Houston Coach "Bum" Phillips.

The loss dropped Houston from a first-place tie with Pittsburgh and Cleveland atop the American Conference Central Division. The leaders are each 4-2. Houston is 3-3 and Cincinnati is 2-4.

"It's a four-way race any way you look at it," said Bradshaw, who hit 16 of 24 passes for 227 yards.

Two weeks before, Houston beat Pittsburgh 27-10 as Bradshaw sustained his hairline fracture.

Bradshaw, who never missed practice with the injury, watched Sunday as Steeler rookie Jim Smith fumbled a second-quarter punt to set up a 5 yard touchdown pass from Pastorini to tight end Mike Barber.

Then Bradshaw went to work, along with defensive end Dwight White, who had two of Pittsburgh's interceptions and celebrated each with a rubberlegged dance, a la Houston's Billy Johnson.

White grabbed a deflected pass in the second period and returned it 8 yards to the Houston 27 yard line, setting up a one-yard touchdown run by Franco Harris to tie the score at 7-7.

Early in the third quarter, Bradshaw tossed a screen pass to wide receiver John Stallworth on the Steeler left side.

"I was supposed to take it upfield, but I saw nothing but blue so I cut it back," said Stallworth.

Stallworth got a feeble, but effective, brush block from Bradshaw on linebacker Ted

Washington, and turned the corner on his way to a 49-yard touchdown that gave Pittsburgh a 13-7 lead after Roy Gerela's missed kick.

"I tried to block the easiest way I can without making anybody mad," said Bradshaw.

Later in the third quarter, White grabbed a short pass by Pastorini. Pittsburgh drove to the Houston one, but rookie Sid Thornton fumbled.

Houston safety Al Johnson grabbed the ball with a clean path in front of him, but Bradshaw pulled him down with a one-arm tackle.

"Could he really have scored?" Bradshaw asked reporters. "Hmmm," he grinned. "Put that in the paper."

Joe Louis ailing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Joe Louis, the former heavyweight boxing champ whose devastating punches earned him the nickname "The Brown Bomber," was to continue a series of tests today after being admitted to the hospital with chest pains.

A spokeswoman at Sunrise Hospital said the tests were being conducted to determine whether Louis, 63, had suffered a heart attack. He was admitted to the hospital late Saturday night, and doctors said the testing would take two or three days.

"He was alert and talking," said spokeswoman Rena Lees, "but he is a sick man." He was listed in guarded condition.

Louis, who set a boxing record with 25 successful defenses of his title, has lived in Las Vegas for several years and works as a greeter at Caesars Palace hotel on the Strip.

A native of Lexington, Ala., Louis won the world heavyweight title in 1937 by knocking out Jim Braddock in eight rounds in Chicago and lost only once before his first retirement in 1949. Max Schmeling stopped him in a nontitle bout, but Louis later knocked out Schmeling.

He made unsuccessful comebacks in 1950 and 1951, losing to Ezzard Charles and Rocky Marciano, respectively.

Louis was elected to the Boxing Hall of Fame in 1964. The former champ's adopted daughter is in the same hospital. She has been in intensive care for three weeks since falling into a swimming pool at Louis' home.

NTSU finds hero

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Until midway through the fourth quarter, freshman kicker Rusty Bennett was the game's hero as Memphis State appeared headed for a victory over North Texas State.

But then North Texas turned up a hero of its own and snatched the victory from the Tigers, 20-19, in a college football game Saturday night.

Bennett had kicked his fourth field goal of the game, a school record, with 12:44 remaining, giving the Tigers an apparently secure 19-7 lead.

Then North Texas State defensive end David Morris broke through to block a Hugh Owens punt and darted into the end zone. The point after touchdown closed the gap to 19-14 with 7:47 remaining.

Six plays later, on a desperation fourth-and-seven attempt from the MSU 3, Eagle quarterback Ken Washington zipped a pass to flanker Charlie Murray, who was wide open in the end zone, to win the game for the Texans.

Thinclad takes 12th

The Big Spring High School Girls Cross-Country Team finished ninth against tough competition in Saturday's meet in Lubbock.

"This was probably the toughest competition in the state," said Coach Jeanie Hester. "It was also some consolation that only one 5-4A school finished ahead of us," she added.

That school was Abilene Cooper, which finished eighth, only three points ahead of Big Spring.

The best performance by local thin-clads was turned in by Donna Diliberto who finished 12th to take a medal. Her time was 13 minutes, 33 seconds for the two-mile course.

The next meeting for Big Spring will be held Saturday in Brownfield.

Despite the frustrating outcome, Memphis State Coach Richard Williamson was proud of his team.

"We played well...we really did," he said. "There were just two or three things that happened to us that got our beat. I'd feel a lot differently if we'd gotten beat and had played poorly."

The Tigers, 4-3, have four games left, three on the road.

The final home game Saturday night is against surprisingly tough Southern Mississippi, 5-3, a team with three Southeastern Conference scalps on its victory belt.

DOLPHIN HUG — Seattle Seahawks running back Sherman Smith is brought down by Miami Dolphins' linebacker Kim Bokemper after receiving Seattle quarterback Steve Myer's pass in third quarter play Sunday in the Orange Bowl.

Dallas, Denver stand alone after weekend.

By the Associated Press

"I don't believe in let-downs." Denver Coach Coach Red Miller shrugged. Coach Tom Landry and his Dallas Cowboys might do well to listen to the man from the mile-high city.

Miller's Marvells, sky-high after their 30-7 romp over the Oakland Raiders a week ago, might have been forgiven if they'd turned in a lackluster performance in Cincinnati. But they were as tough as ever, with first and second-stringers kicking in to kick the Bengals 24-13.

That left them the only unbeaten team in the National Football League's American Conference. The Cowboys hold that distinction in the National Conference — but it wasn't easy staying that way. After he knew what he was talking about. Craig Morton, who had teamed with Jack Dolbin on an 81-yard go-ahead TD play late in the first half, collapsed — but second-year quarterback Craig Penrose kept them moving, directing a 63-yard touchdown drive in the fourth period to lock matters up.

Patriots 17, Colts 3

"It wasn't the whole season but it was darn close to it," quarterback Steve Grogan said after he completed 11 of 16 passes for 214 yards and a touchdown against the Colts. "I played a smarter game than I have in a long time."

While Grogan had plenty of time to pass, Bert Jones was kept busy by the Patriots' swarming offense and never got Baltimore moving.

Jim Plunkett, calling his own signals for the first time this season, connected with Gene Washington on first-half touchdown passes of 32 and 35-yards to beat the Lions for San Francisco's first victory of the season.

Lakers play best and worst

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers are going to have a difficult time playing better than they did in the first half of Sunday night's game against Phoenix. And it's doubtful they'll be ever be much worse than they were in the second half.

The Suns overcame a 62-38 deficit at halftime to score a 104-101 National Basketball Association victory in the Lakers' home opener before 10,481 at The Forum.

In the only other NBA game Sunday, the San Antonio Spurs crushed the Seattle SuperSonics 112-94.

Los Angeles raced to a 30-12 advantage after one quarter and led by 26 points late in the second period. But the second half was a different story.

"We put on a clinic in the first half and couldn't do anything right in the second half," said Los Angeles Coach Jerry West. "This pretty much indicates the way we have been playing this season — that is getting an early lead and not holding it."

"I told my team at halftime that we couldn't get it all back at once and to be patient," said Phoenix Coach John McLeod.

McLeod was right. The Suns needed 15:33 to deadlock the game, tying it at 81 on a jump shot by rookie Walter Davis with 8:27 remaining.

Paul Westphal sparked Phoenix' second-half surge, scoring 19 of his game-high 26 points. Alvan Adams, who made only 2-of-17 field goal attempts in the first half, was 4-for-8 after the intermission. He finished with 12 points and a team-leading 13 rebounds.

Earl Tatum led the Lakers with 20 points. Kermit Washington had 16 points and 21 rebounds, but scored 14 points and grabbed 14 rebounds in the first half.

With 15 seconds left in the game and the Lakers trailing 103-99, Washington missed three free throw attempts. Davis scored 17 points, 14 coming in the second half.

Spurs 112, SuperSonics 94

Larry Kenon scored 28 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to pace San Antonio's victory over Seattle.

George Gervin added 20 points for the Spurs, who evened their record at 2-2, while Billy Paulitz and Mark Olingard had 16 apiece. The Sonics were paced by Bruce Seals, who scored 19 points.

Packers lead

Pee-Wees

In PeeWee League football competition Saturday, the Dolphins handed the Cowboys their first loss, 12-6.

The Cowboys are now 4-1 while the Dolphins closed in with a 3-2 record.

Tommy Gartman scored both touchdowns for the Dolphins, one on a 12-yard run in the opening round and the other in the third on a sprint of eight yards.

The Cowboys were shut out until the fourth, when Mark Johnson raced 35 yards across the double stripes.

In other action, the Packers downed the Bulldogs, 14-12. Shawn Stephens and Chuck Stephens scored the two TDs. Extra points were good in both cases.

The win put the Packers in first place.

League standing are as follows: Packers 4-0-1; Cowboys 4-1; Vikings 3-1-1; And The Dolphins 3-2.
