

GSA dragging feet on Webb lease

By JAMES WERRELL
Big Spring has hit a snag on the road to recovery, and that snag is the General Services Administration, according to Harry Nagel, city manager.

After all is said and done, it is the GSA which must give final permission to lease or transfer ownership of buildings on Webb AFB property. And Nagel says that for reasons unknown to him or others involved in Big Spring's industrial effort the GSA is dragging its feet.

"They have brought every technicality and every bit of red tape to bear that they could think of, and I can't understand why. We (the city) asked a long time ago for permission to lease 36 buildings, and we are still waiting," said the city manager.

According to Nagel, at least five businesses, including one which would hire 40 people, are prepared right now to move into base facilities. They wait only for permission from the GSA.

One of those waiting is A.W. Neighbors who was awarded the bid to operate the bowling alley at the base.

"We can't understand the hold up there. What else are you going to use a bowling alley for?" asked Nagel.

According to the city manager, GSA officials have asked whether allowing the city to immediately lease buildings would be of benefit to the city or just a convenience for the business prospect.

"That's a silly question. Obviously it would benefit both," said Nagel. "They (the GSA) also want to know who's going to lease the buildings, and we won't tell them that," he added.

He also explained that the leasing of buildings will benefit the federal government which will receive a portion of the lease money. This fact adds to the confusion as to why the red tape exists, said Nagel.

"We really can't come up with an explanation. But from what we can tell, the problem originates in the Washington (D.C.) GSA offices and not the regional Fort Worth office. Maybe we are a part of a power shift there," he said.

Nagel and Col. Harry Spannaus, manager of the Webb Industrial Park, have contacted the office of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., in hopes of setting up a meeting between the senator and GSA officials in Washington, D.C.

"We hope to meet with the Federal Director of the GSA and Joe Meise, the undersecretary of the Air Force. And we would really like to meet with anyone else who could help us over the stumbling blocks we have now," said Spannaus.

Meeting held in 'fear'

Abuse alleged in prisoner death

By BOB BURTON
CORPUS CHRISTI — Ruben Bonilla Jr., state director of the League of United Latin American Citizens, told the Herald today that Sunday's meeting of the family of Tiburcio Griego Santome with LULAC officials and other concerned Mexican-American citizens in Midland was held in an atmosphere of "fear."

Bonilla said that the Sunday meeting in Midland was a "fact-finding mission" suggested by the widow, Maria Santome. At the meeting, according to Bonilla, serious questions concerning the shooting death of Santome by ex-deputy G.B. Thurwanger 51, of Stanton were raised.

"SEVERAL OF THE persons at the meeting had been told they would lose their jobs if they attended," said Bonilla. "At one point I was told, in answer to a question, 'Even if we knew, we wouldn't tell you because we are afraid.'"

Bonilla said he had contacted two Texas representatives in Austin, Gonzalo Barrientos and Hugo Berlanga, as well as the Austin headquarters of the Texas Rangers and Attorney General John Hill's office in an effort to "clear the air and give the family the opportunity to hear all the facts in the case."

HE SAID that the purpose of the meeting was not to sensationalize the death. "The Texas Rangers do not have a favorable impression in the minds of the Mexican-American community. The pattern of discriminatory behavior in years past has led to the apprehension that there might not be an independent investigation into this incident."

"At no time during the meeting was any time said concerning Sheriff Royce Pruitt," the Corpus Christi attorney continued. "He is well respected. We do not question his motives. We do question the motives of Mr. Thurwanger. We question his past record."

ACCORDING to Bonilla, relatives of a Mexican-American who died in Stanton in 1967 made allegations at Sunday's meeting against the ex-deputy.

The two main points Bonilla said he was concerned about was the arrest procedure and that the widow was not notified of the death and was not allowed to view the body until after it was embalmed.

"I believe that the District Attorney Rick Hamby should examine the facts and then submit the case to a grand jury with a recommendation of murder," said Bonilla. "There can be no self-defense action here."

"ISN'T THAT sensationalization? You must understand my perspective. I am not looking at this as an isolated case, but as another hideous example of the treatment of Mexican-Americans in Texas."

"I am not willing to tell my conclusions now, but we are willing to allege misconduct in the arrest procedure and allege a pattern of abuse and mistreatment on the part of Thurwanger."

Mrs. Santome reportedly, with her 14-year-old son Martin Santome, told the meeting that no pat-down search occurred before Santome was placed in the Sheriff's car.

According to Bonilla, the family said that Santome was raped on the legs with a billy club as he was assisted into the car and that Thurwanger reached across the back seat to help pull Santome in.

BONILLA SAID he had not contacted either the Texas Rangers or the District Attorney's office in charge of the investigation. He said he had not read or asked for the statements taken from the widow and other witnesses at the scene. He said he did not know who had prevented Mrs. Santome from seeing the body of her husband other than that it happened at a Big Spring hospital.

He called the statements made about Thurwanger's past record "allegations by unnamed persons" but said he could substantiate them with witnesses.

Hamby said today he would not comment on the meeting, and that he did not feel obligated to respond to every public comment made on a case.

Santome, 37, died of gunshot wounds suffered in the back seat of Glasscock County Sheriff Royce Pruitt's car after his arrest in St. Lawrence Nov. 6, on drunk and disorderly charges. Reports after the shooting indicated that Santome had produced a knife while the car was in motion, and tried to cut Pruitt and Thurwanger, who was riding with Pruitt.

The report indicated that Thurwanger picked up a 9mm pistol from the console and shot the prisoner. Both Thurwanger and Pruitt suffered minor cuts.

Former school chief called for hearing

Mike McKinney, attorney for the Big Spring school district, has subpoenaed Emmett McKenzie, former Big Spring superintendent, to testify in the James Griffin hearing before the Texas Education Agency in Austin Thursday.

Griffin, former Big Spring High School basketball coach and a black, is maintaining that discrimination was the cause behind the Big Spring school board's decision not to retain him in the system.

The hearing was to have been conducted in Austin last month but was postponed until Dec. 8 because Griffin's attorney could not attend.

Among Big Spring residents who will attend the hearing are Superintendent of Schools Lynn Hise, High School Principal John Smith, Athletic Director Don Robbins, William Martin and Jim Bill Little, school board member in addition to McKinney.

Cheer fund tops $300

Donations to the Christmas Cheer Fund now total $300.

The fund is used by the Salvation Army to purchase food for needy families at Christmas time and underwrite the expense of toys for those families which otherwise could not afford the expense.

Last year, goods valued at about $8,000 were distributed by the Salvation Army here. Indications are at least 300 families in the Big Spring area are in need of such assistance.

Egypt breaks with five nations

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Anwar Sadat has defied Arab pressure to abandon his peace overtures to Israel and broken relations with the five nations that met in Tripoli to condemn him. Four of the five so-called hardliners — Syria, Libya, Algeria and South Yemen — agreed in Tripoli Monday to "freeze" relations with Egypt and form a "confrontation front" against Sadat. But the Egyptian president took a harder line than they did and broke relations.

The break also extended to Iraq, which attended the Tripoli summit but refused to sign the final declaration because it wanted tougher action against Egypt.

Asked about the Palestine Liberation Organization, which also signed the Tripoli Declaration, a spokesman for the Egyptian Foreign Ministry replied: "The PLO is not a country." But the Egyptian government expelled three top Palestinian officials in Cairo and closed the Voice of Palestine radio station after the Palestinians called for Sadat's overthrow because of his trip to Jerusalem.

Sadat's determination to pursue peace with Israel alone if the other Arab nations won't join him has resulted in the most serious split in the Arab world in years. But breaks in relations between Arab countries are nothing new and usually are healed eventually.

EGYPT BREAKS TIES WITH 'RESISTANCE STATES' — Egypt Monday broke diplomatic relations with Syria, Iraq, Libya, Algeria, and South Yemen. These were the states that met in Tripoli, Libya, to try and form a "resistance" front against Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's peace initiatives.

RALPH CATON

Judge Caton won't seek fifth term

District Judge Ralph Caton, 52, announced today that he will not seek re-election to the position of 118th District Court Judge next year, planning to actively retire and serve as a judge on his own time.

The date of his actual retirement from the bench will be announced sometime next year. However, at this time, he already knows that he will not file for re-election.

Judge Caton was originally appointed by Gov. Price Daniel on Jan. 1, 1960. He ran in November of that year for the balance of the term and then had been successfully elected to four full terms in 1962, 1966, 1970 and 1974.

The announcement today confirmed rumors which have been afloat for six weeks concerning the fact that he probably would not seek re-election in 1978.

Several names of possible candidates for the post have also been rumored, but no candidate has been announced at this time.

Deadly storm easing

By the Associated Press

A severe storm that caused the deaths of at least 11 persons in three states appeared to be easing today. However, travel remained hazardous in many areas and the National Weather Service said up to an additional 5 inches of snow might fall.

The storm, swept out of the Midwest by high winds Monday, brought up to 15 inches of snow to some Northeast states. Six deaths were attributed to the storm in New York, two in Pennsylvania and three in Ohio. Most were heart attack victims shoveling snow or those caught in traffic accidents on slick roads.

Snow fell on a line extending from northern Michigan through northern Pennsylvania and into northwestern New York and New England. The storm did not hit the New York City area.

Six to 7 inches of snow were reported from St. Louis across Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire had up to 6 inches by early today. Western Massachusetts had up to 2 inches of snow and the Boston area received about 2 inches before the snow changed to rain.

In New York, snow apparently blinded the pilot in a twin-engine passenger plane Monday as he overshot the runway of the Columbia County Airport and crashed into a highway near Ghent, police said. The pilot, the only one on board, escaped injury but the plane was demolished.

The storm forced the closure of Buffalo International Airport on Monday, while numerous flights at Hancock International Airport in Syracuse and at Albany Airport were canceled. But air traffic at the airports was reported returning to normal today.

Labor suit filed against local airline

(Special to the Herald)
ABILENE — The United States Labor Department has initiated a civil suit here against Trans-Regional Airlines of Big Spring, El Paso Air Transport Co., and Louis Rosenbaum, owner of Trans-Regional and president of El Paso Air Transport, alleging unfair labor practices against employees.

The government has indicated it will seek back wages for any employee or former employee of the firms due such pay. The complainant accuses the defendants of working employees more than 40 hours weekly without paying time-and-a-half wages and not maintaining adequate wage-hour records.

Furthermore, the government is seeking an injunction which, in effect, would bar them from using such practices in the future.

No specific acts or employees were mentioned in the suit filed by the Labor Department. Acting for the solicitor's office of the U.S. Labor Department in the case was Robert E. Luxen, Dallas. The suit was filed Monday in U.S. Federal District Court here.

There is a possibility the case will be heard as early as January.

Action/reaction: Jobs for locals

Q: When and if Lockheed moves to Big Spring, will any jobs be available to those without skills in aircraft maintenance, or will most employees be hired from out of town? What kind of wages could any local employee expect?

A: According to Clyde McMahon, member of the Industrial Team, Lockheed will hire unskilled persons from Big Spring. When asked how many he replied, "I would think as many as possible. Of course, if they can't get the manpower here, they would hire out of town, and they will be bringing some skilled personnel with them." McMahon said he suspected the starting wage would be in the neighborhood of $5 per hour.

Offbeat: Aunt Cora is 104

"Aunt Cora" Shaffer is celebrating her birthday again today at Mountain View Lodge.

She is 104 today, having been born Dec. 6, 1873 in the years right after the Civil War. She originally moved to Big Spring to live near a niece and when the niece moved away, she stayed by choice.

"Aunt Cora" had a special birthday party today, but remembers best her birthday when she was ten and a friend brought her ten pennies. She grew up with six brothers and used to run off to go down the road and try to fine a little girl to play with. The first President that she recalls is Grover Cleveland. She'd rather read poetry than politics.

Her favorite time of life was when she was in her 50s, back "when I was almost middle aged."

BLINDED — Jose Osorio, 43, rests in a Chicago hospital Monday, the day he learned that injuries he suffered during a robbery left him blind. Police say Osorio was robbed, shot and left for dead by two youths a week ago in Chicago. Robbers forced him to lie in the snow, then shot him, according to police. A bullet severed his optic nerve, leaving him permanently blind, doctors say.

Dad robbed of sight

CHICAGO (AP) — He can't see the walls of his hospital room, but Jose Osorio sees clearly in his mind's eye the two youths who abducted him and robbed him of $90, his car — and his sight.

One week ago, Osorio was left for dead in a snowy North Side Chicago alley.

"I told them I had three babies and to let me go," Osorio, a 43-year-old welder, said Monday.

He said he begged the youths: "You've got my money. You've got my car. ... Why don't you let me go?"

Instead of freeing him, the two youths — one holding a gun — told him to lie face down in the snow.

"I heard a pop," Osorio said, and then he felt the bullet slam into his skull. The pair drove off in his car.

"I grabbed a fence and walked up to a house that I knew was nearby and asked for help," Osorio said. "Five minutes later, the police came."

At the hospital, doctors discovered that the bullet had sliced through the optic nerve in both eyes. He will never see again.

Police have arrested Hector Torres, 19, and a 15-year-old youth, both of Chicago, in connection with the shooting. They have been charged with armed robbery and attempted murder. Police believe that a .32-caliber pistol found in Torres' possession may be the one used in the shooting.

Osorio said two youths jumped him as he was getting into his car on the North Side after visiting his three daughters, who live with his ex-wife.

They pushed him into the auto, grabbed his keys and drove off, with one sitting in the back seat, holding a gun on him. After they took his money, he said, they headed into the alley.

Strike halts coal mining

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Half the nation's coal production ground to a halt today as the United Mine Workers union struck 1,800 mines to press demands for a wage increase, restored health and pension benefits and a right to strike over local grievances.

The last hope for averting the nationwide walkout died when contract talks between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association were recessed Monday night in Washington.

The contract which covers about 130,000 of the union's miners, expired at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday.

The miners, who average $60 a day in wages, have asked for a "substantial wage increase" and also want the coal companies to refinance union health and pensions funds which have become depleted.

The union wants the new contract to restore a limited right-to-strike over local issues, while the operators want it to specify penalties against miners who take part in unauthorized strikes.

Death funny to teen

NEW YORK (AP) — A teenager roared with laughter after jumping from a car he had just driven along a 42nd Street sidewalk near Times Square, killing one pedestrian and injuring 12 others, police said.

The careening auto, stolen Monday at gunpoint from a honeymooning Vermont couple, knocked victims into the air, the street and doorways before shearing off a fire hydrant outside a Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant and stopping just west of Seventh Avenue.

Witnesses said the driver, 19-year-old Harvey Collins of Manhattan, was set upon by an angry crowd before being rescued by police.

He was charged with vehicular homicide, leaving the scene of an accident, auto theft and armed robbery.

"I just lost control of the car," police quoted Collins as saying.

Cops grateful, libertarians angry

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court ruling that motorists stopped for routine traffic violations may be ordered by police to get out of their cars has left law enforcement officials grateful and civil libertarians angry. "We're unanimously pleased," a spokesman for the International Association of Chiefs of Police said after learning of the court's decision. "This is what we've been saying — that the police officer's safety is paramount." A spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union answered, "We're extremely upset. The decision continues this court's trend of judicial undermining of the Fourth Amendment's safeguards." Voting 6-3 Monday, the nation's highest court ruled that such police orders are justified by concerns for police safety.

While getting out of their cars may pose an intrusion on motorists' Fourth Amendment rights against illegal search and seizure, the intrusion is minimal, the court's majority said in an unsigned opinion. "What is at most a mere inconvenience cannot prevail when balanced against legitimate concerns for the officer's safety," the court said in reversing a ruling by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. The three dissenting justices were John Paul Stevens, Thurgood Marshall and William J. Brennan Jr. ACLU attorney Joel Gora said at the organization's New York headquarters that the court's decision "effectively eliminates the right of privacy" for any person sitting in his or her car.

Potton House to open Sunday

The open house for the Potton House will be held Sunday from 1-6 p. m. at 2nd and Gregg.

They settled in Marshall where he was employed by the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

Their children included Mary Potton born in 1884 in Marshall; Lillie Mae born in 1886 in Bonham and William Ball, born in 1888 in Bonham. They moved to Big Spring Potton had the home built with the architectural firm of S.B. Haggart of Fort Worth designing the house.

The Pottons went back to England and while they were away, their daughter, Lillie Mae died of typhoid leaving a three-month-old baby girl. Mrs. Potton's health failed

Aerial mapping approval likely

The Big Spring Independent School District Board of Trustees today will consider putting their seal of approval on the Tax Appraisal Board's proposal for aerial mapping of Howard County, 5:15 p. m.

The trustees will listen to a proposal from Don Green of the school's business office concerning the plans to fly the county this winter, providing Tax Appraiser Earl Dean with the photos he requires to begin renovation of the county appraisal system.

Other items on the agenda for consideration include discussion of the annual independent audit report for 76-77, employment of an auditor for next year, and discussion on unemployment compensation.

Also up for consideration is clarification of intent on the board policy dealing with personal leave for school employees. This piece of the board's policy has been subject to extensive discussion in an attempt to eliminate any gray areas or possible unfairness in the final document.

This exhibition dance is for the benefit of the Caprock Chapter of the National Foundation for Birth Defects (March of Dimes). James Moore of Big Spring will call the dances. There will be no charge for admission, said Barry Stephens, Chapter chairman. He added "The March of Dimes will accept any donations with grateful appreciation. Come out and enjoy the entertainment as well as help stamp out birth defects."

Gifts to Billy Graham unit exceed $26 million

EDITOR'S NOTE: Probably no evangelist is better known throughout the nation and throughout the world than the Rev. Billy Graham, friend of presidents and minister to millions. Here, in the second of a five-part series, is a look at the Graham organization.

BILLY GRAHAM

By JIM CARRIER
Associated Press Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It is 8:15 a.m., inside a two-block cluster of brick buildings on the edge of downtown. Fifteen women pray at their desks.

From a folder with a picture of praying hands on the cover, they are given letters — letters from a family whose mother is in surgery, from a couple having marital problems.

For the next quarter of an hour, the women pray: for the mother, for the couple and, perhaps, for their employer, Billy Graham.

Their devotions over, the women begin to open envelopes. Thousands of them arrive each day. Many addressed simply: Billy Graham, Minneapolis. A third of the letters ask for help or a prayer. Nearly all contain money.

A recent batch of 30 letters shown to a visitor contained $149 — about $5 apiece. The average donation is close to $10.

Broadcasting is a key element in the Graham ministry.

The BGEA spent $27.7 million in 1976. Of this, $8.8 million, or 32 percent, went for production and time on radio and TV. The "Hour of Decision" weekly 30-minute radio show is heard on 900 stations and three or four televised crusades are aired on 310 stations each year.

BGEA was set up because Graham decided to take his ministry on the air, a $25,000 venture for 13 weeks on the ABC radio network in November 1950.

"We didn't know what to expect," said George Wilson, BGEA executive vice president who has managed the non-profit corporation from the beginning.

Wilson drew up papers for a corporation: "To transmit the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ by radio and television... by tracts, books and other publications... by any and all other means." He hired a secretary, rented a small office and waited for the mailman.

More than 4,000 letters arrived that first month. The donations in the letters kept Graham on the air.

In the next 27 years the corporation expanded into television, books, magazines and films. It now employs 500 people around the world.

According to a balance sheet filed with the Minnesota Securities Division, BGEA last year spent $10.4 million, or 38 percent of its budget, on "evangelism ministries." Of that $5.6 million went for mail handling, literature and crusades by eight associate evangelists. (Graham's 11 crusades a year are self-supporting.)

Some $3.6 million of the "ministries" budget went to the World Evangelism and Christian Education Fund, basically a building fund established seven years ago.

With cash assets of $23 million, this fund has already transferred $7 million to Graham's alma mater, Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. for a Graham Center for Communications. Another $8 million is earmarked for the graduate school to teach evangelists how to use modern mass media. The fund also owns 1,000 acres of land near Asheville, N.C. which might be used for a laymen's retreat center.

Of the rest of the "ministries" budget, $942,000 went to Wheaton College, $209,000 to other religious organizations and almost $21,000 to other affiliates.

The BGEA balance sheet also shows: $2.5 million for foreign crusades and world emergencies, $2.8 million for Decision magazine, $1.4 million for administration and $1.5 million for postage.

The association mails 100 million to 125 million pieces of mail a year, including 25 million appeals for funds. Decision magazine is mailed to four million people each month.

Graham's salary of $39,500, is listed in a $248,000 item for officer and director salaries.

A board of 26 businessmen, financiers, clergymen and lawyers guides BGEA. An executive committee, which meets every six weeks, keeps tabs on the budget. It is chaired by Allan Emery Jr., a director of ServiceMaster Industries, Boston. Its treasurer is Robert Van Kampen who is a banking consultant in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Associates say Graham, who carries the title of president, keeps in touch with the operation in Minneapolis. But Graham himself said at a news conference that the board "handles the secular affairs and I give myself to preaching and writing. I don't come to Minneapolis often, it's so efficiently run."

Wilson, the man who runs the operation, is a 63-year-old former printer and Baptist preacher who also once owned a bookstore selling Christian works. As he guides a visitor through the BGEA headquarters, Wilson shows pride in his efficiencies, in patented mailroom machines that keep U.S. Postal Service semitrucks busy at loading docks, or in a computer that maintains a mailing list of seven million names and a record of their donations and purchases. A squad of housewives is kept busy typing 50,000 address changes a month. About 4,000 names must be deleted each month after donors die.

Four or five times each year, five million people on the "active" mailing list receive a plea for money, signed by Graham. "We're a spiritual organization trying to reach people with all the modern means of communication," said Wilson. "The fact that it takes money to do it is really a necessary item. The purpose is to reach as many people in as short of time as possible."

Some make contact with Graham in person. At a recent Cincinnati crusade, which drew 160,572 people over 10 days, 7,075 persons came forward when Graham invited them to accept Christ, to be born again.

Each of the 7,075 was met by a counselor, who gave the "inquirer" the Book of John and a bible quiz. The counselor contacted the inquirer in a day, again in three days, and referred him to a church near his home. The inquirer also got a year's subscription to Decision.

The completed Bible quiz, mailed to Minneapolis, went to the "spiritual counseling" department, which weekly handles 16,000 letters requiring answers to specific questions.

Large loose-leaf binders at 10 desks contain hundreds of prepared answers compatible with Graham's views. From these form paragraphs, a personal letter is dictated and typed.

"You read a thousand letters. They'll fall into 30 to 40 categories. So we look at them and we try to get replies that will take care of these 10 letters, or these 25 letters. And maybe the opening and closing paragraphs will be different.

But we will use similar paragraphs for the main thrust of the letter," said Wilson.

About 2,000 letters each week need special handling and are given to a staff of ministers who dictate personal replies.

Howard Hughes will trial begins

HOUSTON (AP)—A jury of three men and three women

Coach charged with rape

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Dow Hudson, a junior high school coach at nearby Kyle, has been charged with the rape of a 26-year-old Austin woman.

Hudson, 29, resigned for "personal reasons" after the charges were filed.

Police said they answered a "rape in progress" call about 3:30 a.m. Sunday at an apartment complex, and as two officers went in the front door, a man jumped out of the second-floor window and fled on foot.

Officers said they found a car in the parking lot containing binoculars and papers identifying Hudson.

Hudson taught social studies and coached football, basketball and track for eighth graders. He is married and the father of three children.

He was released from jail on $15,000 bond.

will begin hearing testimony today in a trial to determine the legal residence of the late eccentric millionaire Howard Hughes and the validity of the so-called Mormon will.

The jury, with two alternates, was selected Monday after weeks of examination and numerous motions to delay the Texas trial until a similar trial in Nevada is completed.

Named as jurors were Marjoria A. Northbaker 56, an employee of the Houston School District.

Glenn Walter Hoffman, 48, a petroleum marketing expert for Exxon U.S.A., one of the nation's largest energy producers.

Thomas J. Vivjano, 56, a salesman for Gulf-Tex Equipment Co., a fabric equipment firm.

Frank Thomas Dallas, 56, a maintenance mechanic for the Texas Employment Commission.

Yvonne Rucker Crump, 45, an underwriter for an insurance company.

And, Betty C. Hughes, 53, a housewife and unemployed secretary.

Selected as alternates were Barbara J. Weil, 43, a realtor and Mrs. H.P. Woolverton, 44, a secretary.

Harris County Probate Judge Pat Gregory earlier in the day rejected a motion to delay the Houston trial, one of several such motions made during the early stages of the hearing.

A similar trial on the validity of the will and Hughes' legal residence is underway in Las Vegas, Nev.

The State of California, which also is seeking to establish Hughes' legal residence, has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to step into the case. No ruling from the high court is expected until Monday.

Should Texas prove that

Hughes was a legal resident of the state, it could collect more than $100 million in inheritance taxes.

Attorneys for William Lummis, a cousin of the late Hughes and now a co-administrator of the vast estate, is attempting to prove that Hughes' legal residence was in Nevada, where there is no inheritance tax.

Hughes died April 5, 1976, while on a flight from Acapulco, Mexico, to Houston, his birthplace.

The first stage of the Houston trial will be centered on his legal home, with the Mormon will to come up later in the hearing.

Judge Gregory has said the trial may last as long as three months.

Republican wins El Paso race

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A businessman-farmer is the first Republican ever elected to the Texas House of Representatives from this Far West Texas city.

Dr. S.L. "Shirley" Abbott, 53, who retired as a practicing optometrist five years ago to enter an optical laboratory business, won the seat in a weekend runoff election.

Abbott garnered about 60 percent of the vote to defeat Othon Medina Jr in a tight runoff.

The two men were vying for the seat once held by James Kaster, who resigned in September to become the El Paso County tax assessor-collector.

Abbott, who also operates a farm, said Monday that he felt his victory as a Republican was an indication that Texas voting patterns were changing.

outline their new responsibilities in Arizona in a Tuesday news conference.

They were loaned to the state for 90 days by Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe in the wake of recent violence at the Arizona State Prison.

Taylor, 34, is an administrative assistant to the Texas prison director and Kyle, 46, is an assistant director for business service.

They also are being considered to replace John Moran, who was fired by Bolin last week as state corrections director.

Since Sept. 1, five inmates have been slain and at least a dozen others wounded.

Wife driven mad by jealousy

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The shooting death of Topeka broadcast executive Thad Sandstrom was the tragic climax of a failed marriage in which his wife was driven mad by jealousy and rejection, according to a psychiatrist.

Emanuel Tanay, a Detroit psychiatrist hired by the defense in the Sandstrom murder trial, said Monday the thought of losing her husband was too much for her to bear.

When Milda Sandstrom fired two bullets into the head of her husband during the early morning hours of May 3, she was irrationally attempting to become reunited in death with "a love object" who had spurned her affection in life, Tanay testified.

"Here was a suicidal, dependent woman being sent away to a ranch," Tanay said of a visit by Mrs. Sandstrom to a friend's horse shooting incident. "And she was subjected to added stress of telephone calls transmitted to her in which she was ultimately told there was no hope, the divorce was final. This ultimately brought about the psychotic breakdown."

Tanay was the first witness called by the defense in the murder trial of Mrs. Sandstrom, who is charged with murder in the slaying of her husband.

Sandstrom was shot twice in the head as he lay sleeping in the estranged couple's Topeka home. She was found lying beside his body after taking an overdose of sleeping pills, but was revived at a Topeka hospital and charged with the crime.

Robert Hecht, her defense lawyer, has asked the jury to find Mrs. Sandstrom innocent by reason of insanity. He contends that on the evening of the murder, she was unable to tell the difference between right and wrong.

In his testimony Monday, Tanay recounted a strange ritual in which Mrs. Sandstrom killed her husband and dressed in a nightgown, kissed his "shattered skull" and pinned a button to his pajamas that said "I love you honey."

"This is not the behavior of someone who killed somebody," he said. "This is the behavior of one who wished to be reunited with a love object. Here was a woman — dressed as if for her wedding night and lying beside him — clearly an individual suffering from a psychotic function."

During the entire morning and much of the afternoon Monday, the jury heard a tape recording of Mrs. Sandstrom confessing to the killing. The tape was made by Tanay as part of his psychiatric examination and played over the objections of prosecutors Gene Olander and Mark Bennett Jr.

"I pulled the trigger," she said on the tape. "I just remember standing and pulling the trigger. I remember the reflex when the bullets hit."

As she listened to the tapes in the courtroom, Mrs. Sandstrom sobbed silently, staring constantly down at the floor.

Happy day

with Marj Carpenter

December 6 is a happy day in my life, because it just happens to be the day my son was born.

So on Dec. 6, this year, I thought I would mention some of the things that have pleased me recently, and possibly throw in a few that haven't been too swift.

It's great to note that we might get Lockheed and that such high type individuals, as came here for the civic luncheon, go with it. I would certainly commend everybody that's worked on that project.

It's fantastic to know that we are working toward something good for the former Webb hospital — possibly a Texas Tech regional medical school. Not yet mentioned are the fact that we have a couple of qualified instructors here in Dr. Jim Mathews and Dr. Carl Marcum — and there may be others. With guys like that backing the project 100 per cent, it looks pretty bright.

But the regional cancer institute would also be a great possibility and one which many people, spearheaded by Dr. P.W. Malone, are working toward.

We may not get everything we want out of any of the above, but the fact that Big Spring is working together toward progress is really encouraging.

Another thing that I would like to mention on the plus side is that fantastic volleyball team. They came within one game of winning the state championship, because if they had collected one more win off Beaumont Freney, they probably would have beaten San Antonio Edison as easily as Beaumont did.

Nothing to be ashamed of — being one of the top AAAA high school volleyball teams in Texas — one of the best four out of 221 — that's fantastic girls. Probably Rose Magers is the best volleyball player in the state this year.

Nobody said anything at Austin that made me feel any differently about it. I ran into three former Pecos volleyball girls who are now coaches — one at Estacada in Lubbock, one at Nederland and one at New Braunfels. They were overwhelmed at Roses' ability and I agreed with everything they said.

I was a little disappointed that they didn't name Becky Ragen to the all-state, but not as disappointed as I was when they didn't name her to all-region. That was gross injustice to name four Arlington girls to all-region when they didn't win a single game. Big Spring got two players on the team after winning the entire tourney.

But the biggest injustice around this year other than the attorney general coming out here and investigating out Sheriff Booger Fruit and Therwanger from apparently protecting themselves from a knife wielding drunk — was the all-district football selections out at Forsan.

I was thrilled for every Forsan youth named to the honor, but to give it to 12 players and leave out Gary Martin was so ridiculous, it would bring tears to your eyes.

Gary Martin is not just one of the finest football players in Big Spring, he is also one of the finest football players in West Texas. He is also a mainstay on the basketball team that is winning out there right now.

All star teams and all district teams and things of this nature have often given me the stomachache. And this year Forsan not only got a real poor break in the type of calls they got in the Jayton football game (which cost them the district championship), but Gary Martin got his own particular rinky-do in the all-district selections.

He scored every game, making a total of 14 touchdowns and a bunch of extra points and field goals. He also played defense.

Everybody who watched the Forsan football season knows this was an injustice, to leave Martin off the all-district selections.

I knew I'd get off on things I was hacked off about. It's not in my nature to sing praises for too many paragraphs.

As for my son, I was giving strong consideration to calling him at 2 a.m. and saying "Twenty two years ago, you woke me at this hour so I thought I'd return the favor. Happy birthday."

And hurrah for the good days — out where I ride fence.

Judge strikes down FDA bans on Laetrile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration says it almost certainly will appeal a judge's order striking down federal restrictions on Laetrile.

"The FDA contends that Laetrile should be illegal to interstate commerce (and) we would fully expect to prevail on appeal. Our case is sound," an FDA spokesman said Monday night.

Earlier Monday, a U.S. district judge in Oklahoma City issued a permanent injunction forbidding the agency from enforcing its ban on interstate movement of the controversial substance, used by cancer patients.

Judge Luther Bohanon said the ban was arbitrary and capricious and places a "needless hardship and expense" on cancer patients. FDA spokesman Jack Walden said the agency had not fully reviewed Bohanon's decision. "But if what we have heard is true, we almost assuredly will recommend an appeal."

"This would seem to be a ruling against the federal law which requires that a drug be safe and effective before it can be marketed in this country," Walden said.

But Dr. John A. Richardson, an author and lecturer in favor of Laetrile usage, hailed Bohanon's ruling as "a really great victory for the grassroots struggle, the integrity of the court system and our republic."

Bohanon said Laetrile has been in use in this country long enough to be exempt from the FDA's so-called "new drug" regulations.

But the FDA maintains that the substance is not exempt. "We contend that Laetrile was not introduced and used in its present form and for its present purpose prior to 1962, which would have exempted it under the law," he said.

Laetrile is a trademark for a substance derived from the chemical amygdalin, found naturally in the pits of apricots and peaches and in bitter almonds.

Advocates claim Laetrile is an effective cancer treatment. The FDA and most of the medical establishment in this country contend there is no such proof.

The FDA has been waging an extensive campaign against Laetrile, and only last week issued a bulletin to the nation's physicians urging further study to determine if cancer patients could die from cyanide poisoning caused by the substance.

Bohanon noted that there are many highly educated doctors and scientists among Laetrile's supporters.

"To deem such advocacy 'quackery' distorts the serious issues posed by Laetrile's prominence and requires disregarding considerable expertise mustered on the drug's behalf," his order said.

"Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill!"

"A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency. For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more.

Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill."

MRS. JASPER ATKINS
...artist of the month

Paintings on display at chamber office

December is a special month and the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce honors a special artist during the month with displays of her paintings.

Mrs. Jasper Atkins has been drawing a painting ever since she was a child in grade school.

She studied art under Jessica Scott at West Texas State University at Canyon. Recently, she has been taking oil and watercolor instruction under Mrs. Virginia Whitten.

She is a star pupil at Mrs. Whitten's classes. Mrs. Atkins paints because she really enjoys painting. She says, "I love to paint rustic scenes and also have really enjoyed painting portraits of my grandchildren, my grandfather and of my daughter."

Madeline, as she is known to her friends, is extremely modest about her work.

Drop by the chamber office this month and you will see some of the results of her artistic efforts.

Steel boosts impact studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential task force seeking to bolster the troubled steel industry is recommending ways to increase industry earnings by $900 million, measures which could raise import prices and, in turn, cost consumers more.

The impact would be on just about everything made of steel. But the task force says the increases would not be unduly large.

The task force, headed by Treasury Undersecretary Anthony Solomon, was formally presenting its recommendations to Carter today. A Carter aide said Monday night that Carter had not decided whether to follow them.

Included among the recommendations were a system of "reference prices" which would trigger defenses against dumping of cut-rate foreign steel on U.S. markets, loan guarantees for the domestic steel industry, quicker industry tax writeoffs and a review of environmental protection standards.

Carter formed the task force to deal with the industry's problems. Sagging profits have led the steel industry to close a number of plants. The closings have resulted in some 19,000 recent layoffs, 10,000 in Pennsylvania alone in the last three months.

This year's earnings for steel producers are likely to be among the worst since World War II.

Reaction to advance word on the substance of the task force report has been cautious.

"It is like taking an aspirin," said Gov. Milton Shapp of Pennsylvania. "Your head might feel better, but it wouldn't get to the cause of the problem."

The Solomon report says imports, which currently account for about 20 percent of the U.S. market, would be cut to about 14 percent under its recommendations. It forecast a six million ton increase in domestic output.

That could be done, the report said, without triggering unduly large price increases, although it is aimed in part at ending artificially low prices caused by cheap foreign steel.

"The increased volume should raise industry earnings by $900 million," the report said, "and result in the employment of 25,000 or more steelworkers than would be the case if current conditions continued."

The plan also contains $20 million in aid for steel communities where thousands of workers have been laid off.

Under the system of "reference prices," the administration would impose penalty tariffs on foreign producers who sell steel in the United States for less than an established minimum.

The minimum would be based on the production and transportation costs of Japanese steelmakers, the most efficient producers in the world.

The task force also recommended cutting the industry's depreciation allowance timetable from 18 years to 15 years. The report said that would add $200 million to steel earnings by 1982.

The task force said the money will be needed to modernize mills, a process estimated to cost producers $3.5 billion to $4 billion a year.

The annual Christmas dinner, including turkey and trimmings, will be served at noon. All members and prospective members may attend.

Prospectors open house

OUR FRIENDS & NEIGHBORS

SERVING YOU FOR A BETTER HOWARD COUNTY

Gary Porter has been a patrolman in the Big Spring Police Department for two years.

He is a native of Big Spring, born here Oct. 17, 1937 and graduated from Big Spring High. He also attended Pensacola Junior College in Florida and Howard College. He was in the U.S. Navy for 20 years, retiring in 1974.

He chose law enforcement as a career, "because I feel close to the people of Big Spring and working for their police department is the best and most rewarding way I can serve them."

He and Ruth, who is from Winters, married in 1976.

They are Baptist. Gary's parents were Ray and Sadie Porter, who settled here in 1928.

His hobbies include target shooting with a revolver, camping, fishing, treasure hunting, rock hunting and all outdoors sports.

Richard Johnson is another non-Texan who has made law enforcement his field and Big Spring his home. He has been a member of the Big Spring force for the past seven months, and has attended two years at Howard College.

Johnson is associated with the Sand Springs Baptist Church. His hobbies are watching football and fishing. His past experience includes ten years as a welder in Tulsa.

He says members of the family inspired him to take up law enforcement.

He has three years experience in the U.S. Army.

Court Clerk Christy Ferguson has been with the force only since April, but her family has been involved in law enforcement on several occasions.

"My aunt was a detective and my Dad was once a deputy years ago. And it sounded interesting from their stories," she said. "I was given an opportunity to work by the CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) Program; then the Police Department hired me on a regular basis."

Ms. Ferguson attended Coahoma High School, concentrating in business studies. She graduated in 1975, and was accepted on the early admissions program at Howard College in January of that year.

She is the mother of Dutch Ferguson, born Feb. 14, 1976, and attends the Midway Baptist Church. She lists her hobbies as sewing, reading and dancing. She also names playing with her child and teaching him new things as very rewarding to her.

Reverse sterilization may be new alternative

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Doctors at the University of Texas Health Science Center here say they frequently are able to reverse sterilization in women through an operation involving microsurgery. Microsurgery is a technique in which the surgeon uses a high-power microscope and delicate suturing materials fine enough to reconnect the oviduct tissues and re-establish a connection between the ovary and the uterus for normal tubal function," says Dr. Carlton Eddy, assistant professor of obstetrics-gynecology.

Many women seek sterilization reversals either because they have remarried or feel their past action was a mistake, Eddy explained.

Dr. Jerome Hoffman, associate professor of obstetrics-gynecology, performs reversals in women.

"We had been using experimental animal microsurgery for almost two years before deciding to use it to reverse sterilization in humans," Hoffman said in a recent news statement.

Because women didn't know reverse sterilization was possible, "we really had to spread the word," he said.

"The number of eligible candidates was greater than we might have supposed," Hoffman said, adding that "it's still too early to publish a success rate."

He said some sterilization cases are impossible to reverse because of tubal destruction that is too extensive.

"Another aspect of the problem is devising a surgical method of sterilization that can be reversed when necessary. A survey in progress seems to indicate that if reversals can reach 95 per cent reliability, then approximately 30 per cent more women would seek sterilization as a method of birth control," Hoffman said.

"The IUD and the Pill are not as popular as before. Women want an alternative to extended birth control without the risks of harmful side effect," he said.

Hoffman also noted that reversals also are possible in men who have been sterilized, with a 60 to 70 per cent success rate in selected cases. Microsurgery has aided the trend. Like women, men who have remarried are usually the ones who seek the procedure, he said.

"Microsurgery can return fertility to a number of men and women," Hoffman said.

"It appears that sterilization as a form of birth control would increase in men and women if there was a reasonable prospect of reversibility."

Her Secret Romance Will Shock Others

DEAR ABBY: After 32 years of marriage, my husband and I separated. He was hard-working, non-drinking and faithful. I forced the separation because he was terribly hard on our three children (they're now all college graduates and married). Also, he refused to socialize with anyone. I felt trapped and stifled, and couldn't take his selfish, insulated way of life. He moved out of our lovely home and into a small apartment.

About a month ago I bumped into him at the shopping center. He invited me to see his apartment, so I went. Before I knew it I found myself in a very amorous situation and I stayed overnight. He served me breakfast in bed and confessed that the separation made him truly appreciate me. He said he could never love anyone the way he loved me and if I took him back he would try his best to be more sociable and make me happy. The next weekend we drove out of town secretly like two young lovers. I didn't want anyone (especially my family) to know. Since then, he's been wining and dining me, and I have been loving it. It's better than our courtship ever was!

People keep telling me how marvelous I look since I got rid of "that pill." They don't know I'm in love all over again. If I take him back, my friends and family will think I've lost my mind. I'm still ashamed to let them know I'm seeing him. What would you do?

WALKING ON AIR

DEAR WALKING: I'd take him back and give him a chance to prove his sincerity. And the last thing I'd worry about is what my friends and family think.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a confrontation with a woman in a laundromat over her smoking. I am asthmatic, and cigarette smoke not only offends me, it makes me sick.

When I asked her to please put her cigarette out, she told me—and everyone else in the place—in no uncertain terms that she will smoke wherever she wants to. Furthermore, she said there were no "No Smoking" signs in evidence, so I had better get used to it because everybody smokes.

Unfortunately I will now have to go into debt to buy a washer-dryer. I'm sick of bringing home a cough and clothes that stink of cigarette smoke from the laundromat. WINCHESTER, VA.

DEAR WIN: I am no defender of smokers, but it's a rare smoker who will not quickly douse his cigarette if someone complains. More and more public places post "No Smoking" signs, which I think is a step in the right direction.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 64-year-old woman and my problem is my husband. He is 68, and no matter where we go, he ogles the women, young or old. His head looks like it's on a swivel. He's been impotent for the last 15 years, so I can't understand why he's looking. He doesn't just look—he leers. One of these days somebody is going to take a poke at him.

When I tell him that his looking is obvious and ask him to please cut it out, he says I am jealous. I'm not really, because I know darned well that all he can do is look. What I want to know is this: Is he wrong for looking? Or am I wrong for complaining?

LOOKER'S FRAU

DEAR FRAU: Looking in the manner that you describe is rude, so I don't blame you for complaining. However, I seriously doubt that your complaining will put an end to his looking.

If you feel left out and lonely, or wish you knew how to get people to like you, my new booklet, "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old," is for you. Send $1 along with a long, self-addressed, stamped (24 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Cosden hosts party of 200

One of the first big parties of the holiday season was held Sunday night at the Big Spring Country Club, hosted by top officials at Cosden Refinery.

The holiday dance was a black-tie affair and festive with a colorful assortment of formal, as some 200 Big Springers welcomed in the holiday season.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, president of American Petrofina from Dallas and former president of Cosden. Bill Cahill from Fina was also a special guest.

A large towering arrangement of red carnations and Hawaiian flowers graced the foyer which is decorated in red and green for the holidays.

The Populares from West Virginia furnished music for the occasion, with dancing until 11 p.m.

A buffet was served during the party hours and visiting was enjoyed at informal seating groups in the main club room.

Hosts for the event included Mr. and Mrs. Ken Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Cheairs, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Medley and Mr. and Mrs. Bob West.

GIVE IT HERE! — As Howard College Hawk Russell Sublet (21) bounces high for the ball, teammate Joe Cooper (43) steals it from the grasp of two opponents in an earlier game this season in Hawk Gym. In a lidlifter at home Monday night, the Preybirds lost to New Mexico Military Institute 115-104.

Hawks lose whirlwind game, 115-104

By DANNY REAGAN

Mary Louise! Get out the cortisone! The "Heart-Attack Hawks" are back in town!

Some consider it a minor miracle that the shaky rafters of "Poverty Pavilion" didn't come tumblin' down Monday night during the Howard College Hawks and New Mexico Military Institute Lobo's reenactment of the Battle of Jericho.

The Preybirds may have been on the flip side of a 115-104 score when the final buzzer ended the mayhem, but their song of "Run-n-Gun Boogie" was the sweetest beat that has shaken the local hardwoods all season long.

The game began with a Lawrence Welk tune, however. The Hawks were as cold as the wintery wind whipping around outside, and if the visiting NMMIers had been any hotter, they could've been used for Taco sauce.

The Lobos sprinted out to a 30-16 lead by the end of the first quarter, shot an incredible 60 per cent from the floor during that stretch and by intermission, the rude guests had built up a 21-point lead, 56-35.

And before the popcorn had a chance to get cold, NMMI came back from the locker room to build their lead to 25, at 60-35. The sparse, but highly overzealous, crowd was just about ready to get up and catch the second half of "Monday Night Football" when super sophomore Russell Sublet tied an invisible string from his hand to the basket.

The former Houston Kashmere standout brought the partisan, screaming mob to its collective feet by hitting nine out of 10 from the floor in a span of just six minutes. The likeable dazzler brought the Preybirds back to within 10, 71-61, before his popular act was cut short by five fouls with 12:26 left in the contest.

Big Joe "El Jaws" Cooper and Eugene Williams picked up the option on the play, however, and began to sweep the boards clean. "Turnover Defense" by Allen Bonds and the 35-foot bombs from Tennessee freshman Robby Randolph pulled the Preybirds back to within five, 75-70, with 10:32 remaining.

The deadly free-throw game by the visitors (33 out of 44) and another Hawk "norther" put the game out of reach again just four minutes later — the locals down 15 points.

That's when Coach Harold Wilder called on his second platoon. "We found ourselves in another desperate situation," said Wilder. "The reserves were fresh and I knew they would be pretty active. At that point, I knew the only way we could come back was to force a lot of turnovers. I felt these guys

Irish will spend CD in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Notre Dame is going to spend Christmas in Texas.

The Fighting Irish have decided to arrive Dec. 23 to prepare for their Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl battle with unbeaten and No. 1 ranked Texas.

That's one of the earliest arrivals by a guest team in the history of the bowl and shows the fifth-ranked Fighting Irish mean business.

Meanwhile, Texas says it won't saunter into town until Dec. 30 — just three days before the game.

Notre Dame Coach Dan Devine, who has never been to a Cotton Bowl, said "We'll have Christmas in Dallas and enjoy it much the way we did the Gator Bowl (in Florida) last year. We're planning a picture day on the morning of the 24th."

Devine said in a telephone call to local media from St. Louis, Mo., where he was recruiting that Notre Dame would consider itself a "contender" for the national title if it beats Texas.

"I don't want to get into a battle of words with other coaches," said the coach of the nation's fifth-ranked team which finished with just one loss. "There are a lot of good teams but the best team in the United States is Texas. And Texas beat Oklahoma and Arkansas."

"We're just happy to take a shot at the champ."

Devine said "Texas is No. 1 and our job is to do the best we can. Then we'll let the polls take care of themselves."

Devine praised Texas All-American running back Earl Campbell, saying "They tell me he is a fine young man as well as a great player. That puts him in the category of just under Sainthood."

"It should be a great game," said Devine. "The Texas people are just as dedicated as we are and we're just as dedicated as they are."

"It should be one of the all-time great bowl games."

Asked if he would key his defense on Campbell, Devine laughed and said "Are you trying to tell me to let (Olympic sprinter and wide receiver) Johnny Lam Jones go free? We know Campbell's number but we've got to try to defend everything."

could jump around and speed the game up."

Does a bear live in the woods? Elroy "Mr. Invisible" Green and Ralph "Torpedoe" Miranda blew into the Lobos like a very unwelcome fistful of sand. Green forced the badly-needed turnovers and Miranda prevented six sure enemy points on timely fouling plays.

Johnny James gave his best performance of the year, dropping in eight points, two on a stuff, in the span of a 90 seconds. Elmer Johnson also had key assists during that surge. The furious HC comeback had whittled the NMMI lead to only five, 107-102, with just 1:04 left on the clock.

The New Mexicans missed only one more free throw, while hitting eight, and the Preybirds saw their chances slip away. The fans, however, who were standing during the latter part of the contest, had been treated to an academy award-winning performance — one that took the bite out of losing.

The Hawks entertain Midland College in Hawk Gym Thursday in their next outing.

HOPE AN Hope, for American

Dolphins win Grit Bowl over Colts

MIAMI (AP) — "Great," said Don Shula. "Tough," said Ted Marchibroda. The coaches of the Miami Dolphins and Baltimore Colts, respectively, spoke as they surveyed a newly-jumbled Eastern Division of the National Football League's American Conference.

The Dolphins tied Baltimore for the division lead with a 17-6 victory over the Colts Monday night on national television. Gritty defense, a costly Baltimore fumble and an electrifying 77-yard touchdown run by rookie fullback Leroy Harris made the difference for Miami.

Harris, a fireplug back at 5-feet-10 and 220 pounds, turned a short-yardage center plunge into a score halfway through the fourth quarter as Miami fought to maintain a 10-6 lead. It was the longest run ever from scrimmage by a Dolphin. "I was looking for a filling station to gas up," said Harris, who gained 140 yards in the game. The Dolphins and Colts now have matching 9-3 records with two regular season games left. The New England Patriots are just a game back at 8-4 and still have a shot at the division title.

Should Miami and Baltimore both win their remaining two games and finish 11-3, the Dolphins would be Eastern Division champions on the basis of a better record within the division—7-1 to 6-2. The Patriots get a chance at both leaders in the next two weeks and could throw the race into a three-way tie at 10-4. In that case the Patriots would win the division because of a 3-1 record against the other two teams, with Miami 2-2 and Baltimore 1-3.

"One of our great wins," said Shula as he savored Monday's victory. "I hope what we've done tonight is knock Baltimore out of it." It was the first time in six games that Miami was able to stop the Colts. "We're in a good position now, even though it's a short week of preparation for New England," Shula said.

Baltimore's Marchibroda sighed, "We're not out of it yet. We still have a chance to win the division or to win the wild card. It's just tough."

The Colts mustered only field goals of 32 and 27 yards by Tom Linhart in the first quarter, then were shut out by the Miami defense. "Though Colts quarterback Bert Jones connected on 18 of 34 passes for 189 yards, Baltimore's potential go-ahead drive in the third quarter stalled on a fumble. After directing his squad to the Miami 4, Jones handed off to fullback Roosevelt Leaks, who hit and fumbled into the end zone. Miami cornerback Norris Thomas recovered.

Garo Yepremian punched a 27-yard field goal and Bob Griese passed 15 yards to Andre Tillman to give Miami a 10-6 halftime lead.

WHERE'S THE FLAG? — The Big Spring Steer basketball squad, and the quintet from Snyder are shown here mixing it up in Steer Gym earlier in the season. Monday night, in Snyder, the Bovines played one of their finest games of the season, but fell short, 50-49, to the tough hosting club.

Score or no Super, says Breunig

DALLAS (AP) — Candid Bob Breunig says the Dallas Cowboys can't make it to the Super Bowl the way they have been playing. The Cowboy middle linebacker said Monday that the Cowboy offense has been sputtering for a month.

"We've been moving the ball pretty well but we need to score when we get it down to the 20 yard line... we need to get it in there," said Breunig. "It's necessary for us to score more points."

Breunig said not all the blame can be put on the offense. "Defensively, we can't let the big play get away from us anymore," he said. "A good defense would have stopped Philadelphia cold. We should have been better prepared."

Dallas defeated Philadelphia 24-14 Sunday but quarterback Roger Staubach had an off-day throwing the ball that triggered some boos from the Texas Stadium fans.

Twice Eagle quarterback Ron Jaworski stung the Cowboys with touchdown passes to running back Mike Hogan and wide receiver Harold Carmichael.

Dallas is 10-2 and will host a first round National Conference playoff game Dec. 26 against a yet to be determined opponent.

"Right now, we're just not a team that can win three tough games in a row and that's what you have to do to win the Super Bowl," said the former Arizona State star. "But I think we're on the incline. All the teams are going to be good in the playoffs and we'd better get ready right now."

Dallas has games left against San Francisco next Monday night and high-flying Denver on Dec. 18.

"There would be a natural tendency to let down but I just don't believe a good team would do that," said Breunig. "I believe we'll play hard against San Francisco. And we'd have incentive going against Denver even if we were playing the game in August."

Breunig, playing his first full year in the middle for the Cowboys after the retirement of Lee Roy Jordan, was asked to assess his performance which has ranged from spectacular to fair.

"I was afraid you'd get around to that," Breunig laughed. "I'm pleased but I know I need a lot of improvement. I'll get better. I feel at home."

Erxleben still hurt

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The top-ranked Texas Longhorns have started conditioning drills for the Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl game with Notre Dame, but kicker Russell Erxleben still isn't ready to test his injured thigh.

Erxleben missed Texas' 57-28 victory over Texas A&M on Nov. 26, and limited himself to slow jogging Monday as his teammates did several laps around the field and 10 trips across the gridiron.

Erxleben is not expected to try to kick until after Christmas.

He led college punters in 1976 with an average of 46.6 yards. He had a 45.9-yard average this year, which would have tied for the lead, but he only had 32 punts, which was three short of the necessary qualifying number.

Nobody'll listen to Bowie

HONOLULU (AP) — The Montreal Expos listened to Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn bespoken the long-range affect of long-term, multi-million dollar contracts being bestowed on free agents, then went right out and handed pitcher Ross Grimsley a six-year, $1 million-plus deal.

The Expos, fifth in the six-team National League East Division last season, came to terms with Grimsley—a 14-10 performer for the American League Baltimore Orioles last season—shortly after midnight, EST, Tuesday.

The signing of Grimsley was the second major announcement at the major league winter meetings Monday. The first was a six-player deal between the California Angels and Chicago White Sox that sent slugging outfielder Bobby Bonds to the Sox.

All it meant was that Bonds did a new command post. His 1978 plan of attack is the same: play out his option and get one of those rich multi-year deals that Kuhn thinks is driving baseball to the brink of economic disaster.

The 31-year-old Bonds, now with his fourth team in five years, figures to play in Chicago just one season, and then grab the kind of seven-figure contract that is making Kuhn nervous.

Bonds, who hit 264 but slammed 37 homers, drove in 115 runs and stole 41 bases for the Angels last season, went to the Sox with outfielder Thad Bosley and right-hand pitcher Dick Dotson.

"We lost 170 runs," explained White Sox Manager Bob Lemon, referring to the loss of Oscar Gamble and Richie Zisk through the free agent pool. "We were in first place (much of the season) on offense. We have to go the same way: score runs."

The Angels received catcher Brian Downing and right-handed pitchers Chris Knapp and Dave Frost.

Montreal General Manager Charley Fox announced the signing of Grimsley, and said he expected the left-hander to improve the Expos by at least 10 games. Fox predicted his team would challenge for second place in the NL East, and maybe even first if he could get another starter.

There were only two other trades on the first business day of the meeting on the sun-drenched shores of Oahu. One was an exchange of Houston outfielder Leon Roberts for Seattle infielder Jimmy Sexton.

The other sent infielder Dave Rosello from the Chicago Cubs to the Cleveland Indians for minor leaguers Bruce Compton, an outfielder, and pitcher Norm Churchler, and pitcher Norm Churchler.

In addition, eight players were snatched in the minor league draft for $25,000 each. The Toronto Blue Jays took outfielders Willie Upshaw from Syracuse and Andy Dyes from Denver.

Local CC fems finish 14th

LUBBOCK — Local women striders ended the season with a 14th place finish in the Regional Cross-Country tournament in Lubbock over the weekend. The Big Spring team amassed 387 points with a relatively inexperienced team of four freshmen, two juniors and only one senior. The meet was won by the defending state champs Amarillo High School with 51 points.

Steers nipped by one

SNYDER — "Your guys always seem to bring out the best in our guys," said the Snyder Coach to Steer mentor Tommy Collins, after the Tigers nudged the locals 50-49 in a barnburner. "We played very well," said Collins. "In fact, the best we've played all year. They zoned us and we handled it extremely well. Overall, I'm very pleased and can't say anything negative. We just have to eliminate some mental errors."

The Bovines blasted out to a 18-5 lead in the first period, hitting nine of 15 from the floor. Starter Ronnie Forman sprained his ankle in that initial frame, and sub mentor Tommy Collins, after the Tigers nudged the locals 50-49 in a barnburner. "We played very well," said Collins. "In fact, the best we've played all year. They zoned us and we handled it extremely well. Overall, I'm very pleased and can't say anything negative. We just have to eliminate some mental errors."

Gra-Y deadline set for Dec. 17

The Y.M.C.A. Gra-Y Coaches' Committee has set Saturday, December 17, at 10:00 a.m., as the deadline for registration for Gra-Y Basketball. Teams will be chosen beginning at that time.

Gra-Y involves youth in grade school in organized sports. The basketball program will get underway in December with practice games, and the regular season will begin on Saturday, January 7. Games will be played each Saturday morning through the season in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

All youngsters planning to participate in Gra-Y Basketball that are in third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grades should be present in the YMCA gymnasium for the division of teams.

The first and second graders need not be present, as their program will involve only fundamentals, and not be organized games. They will have their own program beginning Saturday, January 7, at 9:00 a.m.

As in the Gra-Y football program, register right away, as no one will be placed on a team who is not registered by the deadline.

Forsan Jr. split games

GREENWOOD — The Forsan Junior High girls beat the Greenwood quintet 28-23 Monday night, while the junior Buffs fell hard, 46-15.

In their biggest district win of the season, the fems throttled a previously undefeated team that had been averaging 60 points a game. Karla Cregar and Joannie Poyner led the girls with 16 and eight points, respectively. They now stand at 4-0.

The boys fell to 2-1, as Brad Robertson was top F.J.H. scorer with five. Next games for the teams will be Thursday at Sterling City and at the Stanton Tournament.

HOPE AND THE ALL-AMERICANS — Comedian Bob Hope, foreground, poses with the Associated Press All-American Football Team during taping Monday of the Bob Hope Christmas Show at NBC-TV's Burbank Studio. The show which will be aired Dec. 19 features 22 of the All-Americans.

There are three age brackets for the boys and girls, ages 8-9, 10-11, and 12-13. Boys compete against boys, girls only against girls. The top winner in each age group in the local contest will then compete with other winners in the District Contest, Saturday, Dec. 17, at El Paso T. W. C. College on Jan. 14, 1978 at 10 a.m.

Winners in the District competition then advance to the State Contest at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Feb. 11, 1978 at 2 p.m.

Winners in the State then go to the regional semifinals, this year at Arlington State University, Feb. 25th.

Regional winners will then compete for National Championship honors in Kansas City Missouri.

The Big Spring Lodge placed 7 District 1st Place winners in the 1975-76 State Contest. Seven boys went to the Regional Meet. They also had 4 Runners-up in the Regional Meet.

There were 2,831,947 boys and girls participating in the Elks' National Contest in 1976-77.

Texas alone had 29,046 participants in the 1976-77 "Hoop Shoot" Contest. W.D. Berry, Past Exalted Ruler of the Big Spring Lodge, is the Lodge "Hoop Shoot" Contest Chairman.

Coach Tommy Collins and Coach Don Robbins are conducting the contest within the Big Spring Independent School District. Lodges participating in the District this year are: Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, and El Paso.

Prisoner swap flights

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. magistrates have begun interviewing 235 American prisoners in Mexican jails to determine if they are eligible for return home under a new exchange program and want to go.

The first plane load leaves Mexico City Friday. Aboard will be 26 women prisoners, three babies and as many of the 100 eligible men in Mexico City jails as there is room for. A second plane on Saturday will take the rest of the eligible male prisoners in Mexico City.

Two more charter flights will transfer Americans from northern Mexico on Dec. 16 and Dec. 17, and 16 will travel by bus from Tijuana on Dec. 12. All of them will go to the San Diego, Calif., Metropolitan Correctional Institution. A second transfer is expected in February.

"I'm very, very pleased that it is going off as smoothly as it is," U.S. Consul-General Vernon McAninch said.

"Of course I'm disappointed that everyone who wanted to go isn't on the first transfer, but we've tried our best and will keep trying."

Most of the 572 Americans in Mexican jails were convicted of drug violations. Many were arrested as they were trying to smuggle drugs through Mexico to the United States.

The magistrates were sent to Mexico by U.S. federal district courts in accordance with the prisoner exchange treaty to verify that the prisoners are eligible and advise them of their rights. The magistrates will also tape and certify each prisoner's voluntary consent to be repatriated.

Four magistrates began interviewing the prisoners in Mexico City Monday. Others will visit prisoners in northern Mexican jails next week.

Farm 'Prime' land threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — More government leverage should be used to slow down the take over of valuable farm land by urban development, highways, recreational facilities and other non-agricultural projects, says Rural America.

The organization, which describes itself as a non-profit group "formed to promote the economic and social welfare" of people in small towns and rural areas, opened its annual meeting here Monday.

"The most formidable obstacle to the rational use of our land is that we have come to rely on what we call the 'market' to determine the uses and abuses of it," says one of its reports.

In other words, if the encroachment of a city or industry happens to trigger soaring land prices in a community, farmers will respond to this market — and often because they can't pay the higher taxes — by selling their land.

"The market is a miserable piece of machinery to use in protecting and determining the use of the resources basic to human existence," the report said.

Urban growth and other developments have caused the U.S. farm land inventory to shrink for many years. Agriculture Department experts say, however, that the biggest threat is to "prime" land — the most productive — and that it is primarily up to states and local governments to decide on which kind of policies they need to guard against the drain.
