Ellenburger Wildcat Set For N-C Midland

Four miles southwest of the City of Midland in North-Central Midland County, Jay Simmons and William R. Whittaker, Ltd. of Dallas will drill their No. 1 J. W. Counties as a wildcat to explore the Ellenburger.

The prospector will be drilled 2,900 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 20, block 30, T-28, R-2P survey. That puts it approximately 4,800 feet northeast of Ralph Love No. 1 Hill, Ellenburger wildcat which has proven for a discovery from two sections of the Permian.

The No. 1 Hill is now drilling below 12,500 feet in line of the Devonian.

Producer Added To Upton Pembroke Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company has added the fourth producer to the Pembroke field of East-Central Upton County.

The concern's No. 2 Ryburn was completed on the pump for a 24-hour potential of 84.61 barrels of 28-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio on the test was 831-1, but the well would not flow steadily.

Production is coming from open hole at 6,970-7,081 feet in the Spraberry. That section had been shot with nitro glycerin.

The new producer is one location east of Magnolia's No. 1 Ryburn, which was completed as the second producer in the Pembroke field. Location of the No. 2 Ryburn is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 1, block O, ELARR survey.

Devonian Oil Flows In C-E Crane Test

Flowing oil production has been developed in the Devonian at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Halle C. Day, Central-East Crane County wildcat, five miles southwest of the town of Crane.

The latest flow has come from the section at 8,606-16 feet. After that interval had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid it kicked off 20 barrels of nine and one-half hour through a one-quarter inch tubing choke and made 46 barrels of fluid.

There was a shakeout of from three to five per cent acid sludge. The remainder of the recovery was 44-gravity new oil. There were no signs of formation water.

Operator is continuing to test. Gas-oil ratio during the nine and one half hours of flowing was 866-1.

After drilling to a total depth of 8,774 feet in the top of the Silurian, following a drillstem test at 8,300-8,856 feet, where some shows of oil and gas and some water were developed, the project cemented casing on bottom.

The cement was drilled out to approximately 8,650 feet and the pipe was perforated at 8,636 feet. The section was swabbed naturally for six hours and the recovery was 20 barrels of 42-gravity new oil.

That same was then treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. After that injection the prospect kicked off and started flowing through a one-half inch choke.

In the first hour of flowing the project made 10 barrels of oil with a shakeout of three per cent water. The flowing during the second hour was seven barrels of oil with a shakeout of two per cent water.

During the next 18 hours the wildcat flowed an average of five and one-half barrels of oil per hour with a shakeout of eight per cent basic sediment and two per cent water.

Chloride content of the water was more than 100,000 parts per million.

Operator then set a bridging plug at about 8,820 feet, and perforated the zone at 8,606-16 feet, which resulted in the flow of 46 barrels of oil in nine and one half hours.

This exploration, located 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block X, CCSDBRONG survey, encountered its first shows of oil in the Devonian in a drill-stem test at 7,850-80 feet.

It is presumed that operator will test all zones between 7,850 feet and 8,800 feet, which showed any indications of oil and gas, when the section was drilled through.

It is expected that the project will shortly be completed as a flowing producer and the operator of a new field for Devonian petroleum.

Ellenburger Plugged Off In Midland Test

Magnolia Petroleum Company has given up efforts to try to develop production from the Ellenburger at its No. 1 H. S. Collins, Central-West Midland County exploration, and is now attempting to complete a commercial oil well from the Pennsylvania section.

Civilian Defense Bill Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $20,000,000 defense spending bill was passed by Congress Tuesday and sent to President Truman.

The bill is to be passed by the House on Wednesday. It raised to $20,000,000 the total cash Congress has provided in this fiscal year for the quickened buildup of armed strength.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The expiring 81st Congress Tuesday sent to the White House a civilian defense bill giving the government great "home front" powers in event of enemy attack on the United States.

Senate approval by voice vote completed action on the measure and cleared it to President Truman.

It was one of "must" bills the legislators tabbed for action on the final day of this Congress' two-year life span.

The new 82nd Congress, convening at noon Wednesday, comes into being amid an acrid controversy over the nation's foreign policy—a controversy already resounding with charges and counter-charges of "isolationist" and "internationalist."

The dispute is expected to become intensified in both new Houses. Republican gains in the November elections drew political lines more closely than in the 81st Congress.

Sharp cleavage is growing between those who want home front defenses bolstered first, and those who insist the nation must continue to aid its foreign allies.

An unusual New Year's Day meeting of the House cleared the way for President Truman to get most of his major emergency legislation from the dying Congress.

The House completed action Monday on the $2,000,000,000 excess profits bill and sent it to the White House for Truman's signature.

The bill will boost the government's tax revenues to the highest dollar amount in history—a little more than $45,000,000,000. It falls short of the $50,000,000,000 a year additional revenue Truman asked for, however.

Also approved by the House, 292 to 52, was a bill paving the way for a union shop and union dues check-off in the railroad industry. It, too, went to the White House.

Johnnie Overstreet Holds No. 1 Spot In 1951 Baby Derby

Johanne Fane Overstreet, who was born at 2:50 a.m. Monday in the Midland Memorial Hospital, Tuesday still held the No. 1 spot in the 1951 Baby Derby. Johnnie Fane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Overstreet, 706 South Colorado Street, Dr. John M. Leigh was the attending physician.

The official winner of the many First Baby gifts offered by Midland merchants will be declared Wednesday.

55 Texans Killed In Weekend Mishaps

By The Associated Press
Fatal crashes on Texas highways and streets killed at least 35 persons during the New Year's weekend—the highest toll of any state.

At least 20 other persons died violently from other causes, including nine deaths from shootings and four who burned to death.

The total of 55 violent deaths since 6 p.m. Friday still was lower than the toll during the Christmas weekend. More than 100 persons were killed during the three-day Christmas period.

Late Monday the Department of Public Safety in Austin reported a total of 184 persons died violently in Texas since the beginning of the Christmas holidays. Traffic deaths accounted for 97 fatalities. There were 49 other accident deaths and 38 homicides and suicides.

C. of C. Members Return Ballots In Director Election

More than 200 marked ballots have been returned to the Chamber of Commerce by members voting in the 1951 director election. Manager Delbert Downing said Tuesday. The total represents almost one-third of the organization's membership.

The deadline for voting is 8 a.m. Friday, Downing said.

Ballots listing the names of 26 nominees for the 13 director vacancies were mailed by the Chamber late last week.

It is the first year directors have been elected by ballot. They formerly were elected by voice vote of members attending the annual membership meeting the last Tuesday in January of each year.

U. S. Pushes Plans For UN Action Against Reds

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Spurred by new Chinese Communist attacks in Korea, the United States Tuesday pushed plans for United Nations action against the Red regime.

American diplomats conferred with their British and French allies, seeking to establish a joint policy. The U. S. was expected to make a minimum demand that the UN formally brand the Chinese Reds aggressors, thus opening the door for more stringent action.

U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross also consulted with India's Sir Benegal N. Rau and Egypt's Mahmoud Fawzi Bay over the weekend to inform them of the new U. S. view.

Rau and Fawzi Bay have been leading the Asia-Arab efforts to arrange a cease-fire either on a military basis or by tempting the Peiping Red Regime with the offer of a political conference on Far Eastern problems.

Family Bound And Robbed By Bandits Who Get Several Thousand Dollars Loot

MARLIN (AP)—A well-to-do Marlin family was bound and robbed in its home Monday night by firm but polite bandits who took cash but didn't take wedding rings and other things with sentimental value.

Mr. and Mrs. George Langford were bound face down to their bed with adhesive tape soon after arriving home from the Cotton Bowl football game. Their son, John, 12, also was bound with tape.

Their daughter, George Ann, 20, arrived home meanwhile with her date, Jeff Geeslin, 21, Brady. The bandits, apologizing for having run out of adhesive tape, bound them with neckties and left them on the floor of her parents' room.

Armed with pistols and wearing handkerchief masks, the men appeared suddenly. They had a hard time convincing the Langfords it was not a joke perpetrated by family friends.

The Langfords were convinced when the bandits bound their hands tightly behind their backs and also bound their feet. They were not gagged.

Dean Says Reds Have Atom Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Commission Chairman Gordon Dean Tuesday said flatly "Russia does have" the atomic bomb.

He gave that answer to a news conference question based on recent public discussion of whether the Russians actually did explode an atomic bomb in the Summer of 1949.

President Truman announced in September, 1949, there had been an "atomic explosion" in Russia but he did not specifically say an atom bomb had been exploded.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the Senate-House Atomic Committee has since said, however, a board of experts who evaluated the report of the atomic blast had agreed unanimously it was a bomb.

The question was brought up again recently by Senator Brewster (R-Me) who said there were "grave doubts" Russia had the bomb.

Dean also was asked whether atomic bombs are being made elsewhere except in the United States. He said that question should be addressed "to the other countries." Declines To Answer.

Asked whether Truman has yet ordered the AEC to deliver bombs to the armed forces for possible use, Dean replied he didn't think he could answer the question.

One questioner asked if the cost of atomic bombs was now an impediment to their production.

He said that question should be addressed "to the other countries." Declines To Answer.

State Of Union Talk Set Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman will deliver his State of the Union message in person to a joint session of the new Congress at 12 noon (CST) next Monday.

The time and date were announced as definite Tuesday by the White House.

The message which customarily starts off a new session of the national Legislature still is unfinished. The President made considerable progress in its formulation during a four day cruise on the Potomac ending late Monday.

The White House also announced the annual budget message setting out in detail the huge expenditures planned for a stronger defense will be delivered to Congress on January 15, one week after the state of the union document.

In between the two, on a date yet to be selected, Truman will send up to the capitol his economic message.

On returning from the weekend cruise aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, Press Secretary Joseph Short said Truman is "busy" and he appears ready to take on the responsibilities that are bound to devolve upon him during this new year.

Light Rains, Drizzles Help Parched Areas; Coast Drought Ended

By The Associated Press
Heavy rains broke the drought in some coastal Texas cities Tuesday and Monday night, and light rains and drizzles were helping other parched sections of Texas. But so far no general break in the drought has occurred, the Weather Bureau reported.

Light rains and snow expected late Tuesday and Wednesday may be some help. Tuesday night, the Panhandle and South Plains may have additional light snow.

At 8:30 a.m. Maria reported snow, light rains, drizzle or fog occurred at Galveston, Lufkin, Childress, Midland, Big Spring and Lubbock.

Some of the rain was falling with temperatures near the freezing mark, but the highway patrol said no highways were closed because of ice coatings at mid-morning.

Colder weather was due in Northwest Texas. The northwest part of East Texas could expect 26-32 degrees Wednesday morning, the Panhandle 15-20, the South Plains and upper portion of the Pecos Valley 22-28 and elsewhere in West Texas 26-32.

Rainfall in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday included: Houston 1.99, which was in addition to good rains a few hours earlier; Beaumont 1.30, Lufkin 1.97, Victoria 2.30, Salt Flat 1.18, Dallas 1.11 and less than a tenth of an inch at San Antonio, Fort Worth, Palestine, Lubbock, Bryan, Maria and Texarkana.

Midland reported high winds, sand and dust Monday night, followed by a light rain Tuesday morning. It was cloudy and cold there Tuesday.

Sheriff Brady Pamplin and two deputies were working on the case.

U. S. Stockpile Of Aluminum Is Low, Says Company Head

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Richard S. Reynolds, Jr., president of Reynolds Metals Company, said Tuesday the United States has stockpiled only enough aluminum to last about two weeks.

Reynolds, who is a member of the Munitions Board's Advisory Committee, criticized the government's stockpiling of bauxite, aluminum ore.

He said in a copyrighted interview with the U. S. News and World Report, weekly news magazine published here, the government should build up a supply of fabricated products such as aluminum sheet and rod.

"At this late date, instead of stockpiling pig (aluminum ingot) since it may have to be used very shortly when this military program steps up, we recommend they partially stockpile fabricated products such as sheet and rod, that won't become obsolete and that can be used in aircraft and for other known military uses," he said.

Reynolds said the government argued several years ago against stockpiling bauxite instead of ingot, or pig aluminum, was "essentially the lack of funds."

"A ton of bauxite is cheaper than a ton of aluminum," he said: They stockpiled the bauxite even though x x x what you need is the aluminum, x x x and they're not using any of the stockpile bauxite (now) because we have enough bauxite moving in."

Maverick Republican Has Been Placing Bets Against Home Team

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Before the last election Republican Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon bet Republican Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine that the Democrats would increase their control in Congress. Morse based his bet on a belief that the Republicans had made so many mistakes that they couldn't win.

Senator Morse lost that bet, though in his own state he won more than 76 per cent of the vote by following his own independent line and championing progressive Republican causes. This was the second highest vote percentage scored by any Republican senatorial candidate—Senator George Aiken of Vermont being first. By comparison, Senator Robert A. Taft won only 57 per cent of the Ohio vote.

But the other day as the Senate Republicans were debating New York Senator Ives' resolution to demand the firing of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Senator Morse sat down near Senator Smith and offered her another bet. It was $25 that the Republican minority would make so many mistakes in the next two years that they would elect a Democratic President in 1952.

Morse says Senator Smith wouldn't take the bet.

When the crop of officials inspired rumors runs low around Washington, reporters kill time waiting for closed-door conferences to break up by making up rumors of their own—not to print, but just for the fun of it. Latest gag in this category was a faked rumor that ex-Senator Happy Chandler of Kentucky would be made secretary of State, succeeding Dean Acheson, who would then be made baseball commissioner. This pipe dream was offered by its inventor as not only a sure-fire way to wreck the State Department, but also as a sure-fire way to wreck professional baseball as well.

Traffic 'Pop' Takes Charge

Pop Stops 'Em—M. J. Vosse, Jr., founder of the Traffic Pops, sees a group of school-bound youngsters safely across a busy highway in Memphis, Tenn. He put other fathers to work, too.

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(NEA)—Did you ever hear of a Traffic Pop? Not pop, but Pop, as in father.

The world's founder of the Traffic Pops is M. J. Vosse, Jr., an advertising man, who operates with whistle and Safety Council STOP

Vosse is the father of two children—Jack, who will be 10 this month and is in the fifth grade, and Nadine, six, who is in the first grade. Sherwood is a new school, which opened for the first time this year, and to reach it the little Vosses must cross busy Park Avenue at an hour when traffic is heavy.

"I got pretty worried about it," Vosse said. "I'm a grown man and I don't like to cross Park. The new school has children through the sixth grade only and I didn't think any of them were old enough to be junior safety patrolmen on a street like that."

"I telephoned Capt. Robert Gillson, the school safety man, and told him that I was a worried father but that I had an idea and would like to talk to him about it."

"I told him that I, as one father, would volunteer to be a safety patrolman and that I thought that we could find some other fathers whose children go to the same school to do the same thing."

Captain Gillson, who had been just as worried as Vosse, was delighted with the prospects of help. He gave Vosse the whistle and flag and appointed him a safety patrolman. Vosse, who is handy with a slogan, thought up the Traffic Pop name.

Other fathers volunteered. They spread out the assignments so that no one father has to be on the job more than one day a week, and have an A.L. and PM shift of Traffic Pops.

The Traffic Pops like the work. They have found most motorists polite. And they like such remarks as that of the mother whose was taking a couple of youngsters to school opening morning and found Vosse on the corner.

"This is a load off my mind," she said. "I'm glad to see you here."

House Committee Places Guilt In Ammunition Blast

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A House committee has found almost everyone involved—including the Coast Guard—guilty of lax conduct in the May 19 ammunition explosion which killed 24 at South Amboy, N. J.

"It is apparent that virtually all who had any part in the handling of these explosives were guilty of a high degree of laxness," the House Merchant Marine Committee said in a report to the House.

The report was drafted by a subcommittee headed by Representative Hart (D-N.J.), who also heads the full committee. It approved the subcommittee's findings.

In addition to its conclusion the Coast Guard was guilty of negligence, the committee criticized manufacturers, shippers and others interested in handling the high explosives which blew up while being loaded for shipment to Pakistan. The blast injured several hundred persons and caused property damage of more than $10,000,000.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

Maverick Republican Has Been Placing Bets Against Home Team

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Before the last election Republican Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon bet Republican Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine that the Democrats would increase their control in Congress. Morse based his bet on a belief that the Republicans had made so many mistakes that they couldn't win.

Senator Morse lost that bet, though in his own state he won more than 76 per cent of the vote by following his own independent line and championing progressive Republican causes. This was the second highest vote percentage scored by any Republican senatorial candidate—Senator George Aiken of Vermont being first. By comparison, Senator Robert A. Taft won only 57 per cent of the Ohio vote.

But the other day as the Senate Republicans were debating New York Senator Ives' resolution to demand the firing of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Senator Morse sat down near Senator Smith and offered her another bet. It was $25 that the Republican minority would make so many mistakes in the next two years that they would elect a Democratic President in 1952.

Morse says Senator Smith wouldn't take the bet.

When the crop of officials inspired rumors runs low around Washington, reporters kill time waiting for closed-door conferences to break up by making up rumors of their own—not to print, but just for the fun of it. Latest gag in this category was a faked rumor that ex-Senator Happy Chandler of Kentucky would be made secretary of State, succeeding Dean Acheson, who would then be made baseball commissioner. This pipe dream was offered by its inventor as not only a sure-fire way to wreck the State Department, but also as a sure-fire way to wreck professional baseball as well.

Washington Wit
Add Gags of the Week Department:

Things were so tough around Washington during the holidays that a new scrap drive was suggested—to salvage the tin foil off the champagne bottles...

After the President is dead and gone, says another wag, historical markers probably will be erected in Washington newspaper offices, reading: "Harry Truman Wrote Here."

Ski Wear Is Waterproof

Ski wear which is at once pretty and practical is the forte of designer Fred Picard. Reversible ski jacket (above) is pure silk print on one side, ice blue cotton poplin on the other. Water repellent knit sweater (right) prevents snow from sticking and forming icicles. It's red and gray argyle plaid with solid gray rib knit inset yoke.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — One of the outstanding ski wear designs for the 1950-51 season is a water-repellent knit sweater by Fred Picard. The specially treated knit fabric has a smooth surface that prevents snow from sticking and a stretch quality to allow freedom of action.

The texture of this new sweater, though water-repellent, is porous enough to allow ventilation. It's intended for fishing and camping as well as for skiing. It's shown most frequently in handsome argyle plaid trimmed with solid color knit, ribbing at the wrists, waistband and inset yokes. Two-faced ski jackets appear in the Picard collection this season. One of these has a Roman-stripped knitted wool jersey bodice and sleeve on one side and navy blue water-repellent cotton poplin on the other side. Another jacket has one side in ice blue water-repellent cotton poplin and the other in white silk with a colorful Sun Valley print.

Polka-dotted pure silk surrah and checked gingham are other new fabrics used by Picard for ski jackets. These fabrics are, of course, water repellent. Some nylon ski jackets in the Picard collection have capelet collars of wool gabardine that can be wrapped around the head hood-fashion.

Designers Predict Fashions Will Be 'Sleek And Slender'

Everyone is making predictions for 1951.

While armchair strategists glumly prophecy wars and sports writers stew over what the coming seasons will bring, fashion experts, too, are looking into the future.

And here's the forecast—it will be "sleek and slender" for 1951. The threat of war with the consequent possibility of fabric shortages and government restrictions has started a trend toward simple dress by day and more elaborate fashions for evening wear.

As always, the trim, tailored suit is a daytime must. Also designed for daytime wear is the short overcoat of colored fur, while pasted-together fox will be in the evening limelight. Then for the lucky few, the Saks and sables set, the fur outlook will include white mink.

In short, a 1951 fashion plate will look something like this. Skirts will be slimmer and not quite as long as last year's fashions dictated. Rounded hiplines and nipped waists are predicted. Shoulders will emphasize natural lines, while hats will have a jaunty, forward slant.

Half styles, too, are due for changes. The short, boyish look will vanish in favor of a longer, more feminine length.

There it is—the fashion designers' forecast. It's subject to change, of course, as what crystal ball gazing isn't, but the general trends are pretty certain.

Keeping these predictions in mind, the style-conscious woman should be able to start the New Year right.

Tryouts Begin For 'Harvey'

William H. Pomeroy, Jr., will be in charge of the casting committee. The play will be directed by Art Cole.

Exercise Can Aid Taut Lips

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

There are few things that detract more from a woman's appearance than thin, taut lips. This condition may, or may not, be a fault of nature.

Lip exercises will help correct this forbidding look, but first you must make up your mind that your lips are no longer going to give away your less pleasant thoughts.

Make a practice of remembering to check your expression several times a day. Every time you discover your lips clamped tight, uncurl them immediately. The straight and stern line of your mouth will be softened, and your entire face will appear more attractive.

Follow up this lip-consciousness with practice before your bedroom mirror. Gain control of your lip muscles.

Here's an exercise for improving flexibility. Holding your mouth slightly open, try to curl your lips, the bottom one downward toward your chin, the upper one upward toward your nose.

A slightly different variation which exercises the same muscles, is to pucker your lips—as if for an exaggerated kiss—and then roll them outward.

Sicilian-Born Impelitteri, Who Won Toughest Administrative Job In U. S., Has Mind Of His Own

NEW YORK (NEA)—If anyone had bothered to look, they could have discovered calm, cigar-smoking Vincent Impelitteri has a mind of his own.

They could have found that out long before the tall, dark-eyed native of Sicily defied Tammany Hall, challenged both Democrats and Republicans, and upset political precedent to win the second toughest administrative job in the nation.

A little probing would have unearthed several instances of Impelitteri's independence of mind. In 1948, when most of New York's top Democrats were giving Harry Truman large doses of silence, Impelitteri spoke up for the campaigning president. He was the only top-level political figure in New York to go up to Vito Marcantonio's Harlem stronghold and campaign against him that year.

And, wonder of wonders, he also publicly snubbed Frank Costello, the big-time gambler and shadowy figure behind New York Democratic politics. That happened at a party. Some friends of Impelitteri said they'd introduce him to Costello. But Impelitteri said no, thank you, he didn't care to meet the gentleman. Costello didn't like that at all.

It happened in August. So it was perfectly in character for the man New York headline writers are calling "Impy" to run anyway when Tammy Hall decided to run someone else. That happened in August, when William O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico.

Impy figured he was the man for the job. After all, as City Council president, his job was to fill in for the mayor when he was out of town. And O'Dwyer was the nation's undisputed long-distance vacation champion. So Impy had had lots of experience at giving out keys to the city and greeting visiting dignitaries and other mousing work. Tammany reasoned otherwise. The story is that a deal had been worked out before O'Dwyer resigned, whereby the Liberal Party—which commands a lot of votes in New York—would support the Democratic state ticket if Judge Ferdinand Pecora was put up for mayor.

"Impy And Wife—He figured he was the man for the job."

Whatever the reason, Tammany gave Impy the fishy stare and gave Pecora his blessing. Impy said they'd offered him a $28,000 judgeship if he'd quit the race. Pecora's backers said, on the contrary, that Impy had demanded three judgeships—one for himself and two for his friends.

Pecora got the Liberal Party support, all right, and a lot of other groups jumped on the bandwagon. But Impy kept on running. Three Tammany district leaders bolted to his support. A few labor groups did likewise. An Independent Citizens' Committee for the Election of Impelitteri was formed. He became the one candidate of the one-man experience Party.

And he had one big advantage.

STANTON—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Polson, who died Sunday morning of injuries received in an automobile accident late last Saturday, were scheduled at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church here.

Rites were scheduled at Lamesa for Erskine D. Mabry, who also died of injuries from the accident. He died Sunday afternoon. Two other persons were injured in the crash which occurred in the city limits here at an intersection. They are Robert Stanley and Dwayne Polson.

Mrs. Polson, the former Mary Burnam, was born March 28, 1927. Survivors include the husband, Dwayne Polson; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Burnam; a brother, H. C. Burnam, Jr.; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burnam and Mrs. Margaret Laws.

She was married to Dwayne Polson Aug. 20, 1949, and was a graduate of Stanton High School and Texas Tech. She had been employed by an oil company at Midland. Mabry's body was taken to Lamesa. He was born in August, 1910. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. B. Mitchell and a brother, R. E. Mabry, both of Lamesa.

British Conference Delegates Worried By Pakistan Threat

LONDON (AP)—Delegates to Britain's Commonwealth Defense Conference openly worried Tuesday over Pakistan's threat to boycott the party unless her dispute with India over Kashmir is placed on the agenda.

Through there was an official word of Pakistan's intentions, press dispatches from Karachi said Liaquat Ali Khan had served notice he would shun the prime ministers' parley opening Thursday, unless the Kashmir issue is docketed.

Britain is reported reliably to oppose any discussion of the status of Kashmir, where forces of Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India have been facing each other since fighting broke out in 1948. A cease-fire has been in force while the United Nations sought agreement on a plebiscite.

Officials of the nine commonwealth nations invited to take part in the talks observed that if Pakistan does boycott the conference, it would be the first such rift on record in the British family of nations.

On the other hand, these officials feel acceptance of the Pakistani demand would create a dangerous precedent. India then could demand she be allowed to bring formal complaint against South Africa over its treatment of Indians there. South Africa, in turn, could call for a discussion of her claims to three British-ruled protectorates in Africa, which Britain does not want to lose.

Britain is expected, however, to try hard to effect an Indian-Pakistani reconciliation. She wants both countries to combine their strength to resist the spread of Chinese Communist influence throughout Asia.

Britain feels Asian nations should lead their own fight against communism in that part of the world, but she realizes if they get side-tracked by other squabbles, all Asia will be exposed dangerously to the Red menace.

The main aim of the conference will be to dovetail the individual and joint defense plans of the member nations with those of the Atlantic Pact allies.

High Authority Says Zhukov Commanding Chinese Red Armies

TOKYO (AP)—A high authority says Soviet Marshal Grigori K. Zhukov, World War II conqueror of Berlin, is directing Chinese armies in Korea from headquarters in Mukden, Manchuria.

The informant is considered officially as a reliable source. He said the existence of a joint Russian-Chinese military headquarters in Mukden, with Zhukov as supreme commander, was reported to American Intelligence on or before December 24.

Gen. Lin Piao, commander of the Red Chinese Fourth Field Army, was described as Zhukov's deputy. Zhukov, Russia's best field commander of World War II, was chief of staff in 1941 and directed the defense of Moscow against the Germans.

As vice commissar of defense he subsequently directed the offensives that broke the sieges of Stalingrad and Leningrad. Zhukov has been out of the news since 1947. The Russian Army newspaper Red Star reported Nov. 21, 1946, that Marshal Ivan S. Konev had been named head of the Soviet armed forces. Zhukov's name appeared the next year in a published testimonial for a deceased Russian marshal.

General MacArthur's headquarters has received reports, evidently also without confirmation, that Soviet Col. Gen. O. Ha Muk soon may be appointed supreme commander of the Korean Red Army.

O. Ha Muk is a Soviet citizen of Korean extraction. Large numbers of Koreans moved into Russian border areas soon after 1900.

Three Major Chores To Face Legislative Session Next Week

AUSTIN (AP)—Three major, must tasks and an overwhelming host of lesser problems face the 62nd Legislature when it meets a week from Tuesday.

Whether or not the threat of war will make it a serious-minded, businesslike session devoted to essentials and not inclined to bog down in fruitless controversy is the biggest "if" in the legislative future book.

The legislators must decide how much money they will spend on state services; they must raise the cash; and they are charged with redistributing. Those are the imperative assignments.

The state government can't operate if the first two jobs aren't done, and under the constitution, redistributing will be disposed of by a non-legislative board if the lawmakers fail to act.

Those are the musts. Each is packed with explosive potentials enough to keep the Legislature in session for the full 120 days suggested by the constitution. Add to them scores of additional touchy issues which have developed since the last regular session and the special session, and the outlook is for a long grind.

Threat of War

The threat of war, or grave difficulties growing out of complicated international problems as they affect Texans could change the whole picture overnight.

Gov. Allan Shivers may have pitched the tune when he called off the usual inaugural frills such as parades, balls and receptions for a strictly-business induction to his first full elective term.

The fiscal outlook for the Legislature was clear only in general terms seven days before the start of the session.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert still was working on estimates of income which will be submitted to the governor and the Legislature. The Board of Control and the Legislative Budget Board were not ready to announce their recommendations.

But no matter how much economy is exercised, it was certain new income would have to be raised. The fundamental reason for that is that priority drains from established sources were set up by the 51st Legislature. That necessity would indicate more taxes, and proposals for new taxes are sure to draw lightning.

To Produce Demands

Operating fund increases ranging as high as 418 per cent over current appropriations, and an average departmental request for a 20.7 per cent boost, are likewise bound to produce sharp demands for economy. It wasn't likely, however, there would be drastic cuts affecting education, highways and roads, and welfare—where about 90 per cent of the general revenue tax money goes now.

These are some of the dozens of other potentially-controversial topics: election law changes; revisions of the water laws, the criminal code, and the insurance laws; suggested coordination of higher education to eliminate duplicated or unnecessary services; revision of the Gilmer-Aikin School laws; bus and truck regulation; abolition of the 35-million-dollar ceiling on welfare spending; re-examination of the state hospital situation.

Average velocity of a baseball after it leaves a pitcher's hand is about 90 feet a second.

Aboard a battleship only one man is allowed to whistle. He is the boatswain, who signals the crew with his "pipe."

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. # U. S. Agencies Could Operate Better With Fewer Employees, House Committee Finds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional committee declared Tuesday that "in general, executive agencies of the government could do a better job with fewer employees."

That was one of the major findings of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee based on a study of federal agencies by a special subcommittee. It said also that many government officials have acknowledged that payrolls could easily be cut but that they are obliged to keep asking for large staffs.

There not only are too many federal employees, the committee said, but "the full capacity and myriad talents of the federal work force are not properly utilized." It also said "the cost consciousness which prevailed in the prewar period has not been restored."

The committee studies dealt with 238,280 federal workers. In many respects, the committee said, executive agencies have "not fully recovered from the ill effects of the World War II period," and "elaborate staffing requirements still exist," with work habits being relaxed.

Duties Not Changed

"Functional duties have not been altered in conformance with post-war conditions," the committee said.

Carefully compiled statistics seem to indicate that trend wear on automobile tires decreases with temperature.

"Improved methods and labor saving techniques have not been placed in general practice. Reorganization to eliminate duplicate and overlapping activities has not been completed. Overhead administrative costs have increased sharply."

Except in agencies whose activities are rapidly adapted to machine methods, the committee said, "no one knows how many people are required to carry on particular program responsibilities."

It added that speaking unofficially "some of the key budget officers confide that they would welcome the opportunity to reduce the budget requirements within their own agencies," but instead "they are required to bolster the justification for increased appropriation requests."

"Unfortunately," it said, "this kind of frustration was observed in all of the agencies surveyed." The committee found that with few exceptions the federal agencies are "overorganized," but noted that government officials "are becoming increasingly aware of the effects of obsolescent or faulty organization."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And What Is A Year

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was sitting with Mugwump there in the swing on the porch of the monkey house. Today is the second day of another year, you know, and so Daddy Ringtail was explaining what a year is.

"Yes," Daddy Ringtail said, "the year we finished last Sunday was used up. All of its 365 days were gone. Yesterday we began another year. Yesterday was the first day of the New Year, and the first day of the Month of January."

January, February, March. Those months would go and take Winter with them. April showers would bring the flowers of May, and then the mountains, others on the farm, still others at grandmother's house, wherever grandmother happens to live.

Scarf Should Enhance Coat

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Now that the wintry winds are sweeping down coat collars, scarves have become a practical necessity as well as a fashion accessory.

It's a good idea in choosing a scarf, however, to think not only of warmth, but also to consider how it will look with the rest of your attire his one small accessory can spoil the effect of an otherwise perfect costume.

Not only is color important, but pattern and fabric as well.

If your coat or suit is plaid or tweed, it's best to steer clear of conspicuously patterned scarves. Florals, stripes or checks contribute nothing to your appearance when worn in combination with garments of bold weaves. Your best bet is usually a solid color scarf.

If your coat or suit is plain in fabric, cut and color, then your choice may be wider. Often a scarf with bright designs can do much to enliven an ensemble which is made up of otherwise solid colors.

Match your scarf to the style of your clothes, too. If yours is a sporty, camel's hair topcoat, steer clear of sequin-studded satin scarves. Choose instead a woolen muffler.

Or, if your coat is dressy in cut, trimmed with velvet and fancy buttons, avoid heavy scarves in plain plaids or other styles designed for casual wear.

THE CHURCH IS A SOCIETY WITHIN A SOCIETY

The Christian Church became a seed plot when the Roman Empire, founded on military might, went to pieces. The Epistle to Diognetus, written at this time of decay, says: "What the soul is to the body, so the Christians are to the world—they hold the world together." It was the Christians then who held the world together, and it is the Christians again who will now hold the world together. For we are in a similar period of decay. Sorokin, the Harvard sociologist, says that our present culture has exhausted itself and is dissolving, and the future must reform itself around other ideas and purposes.

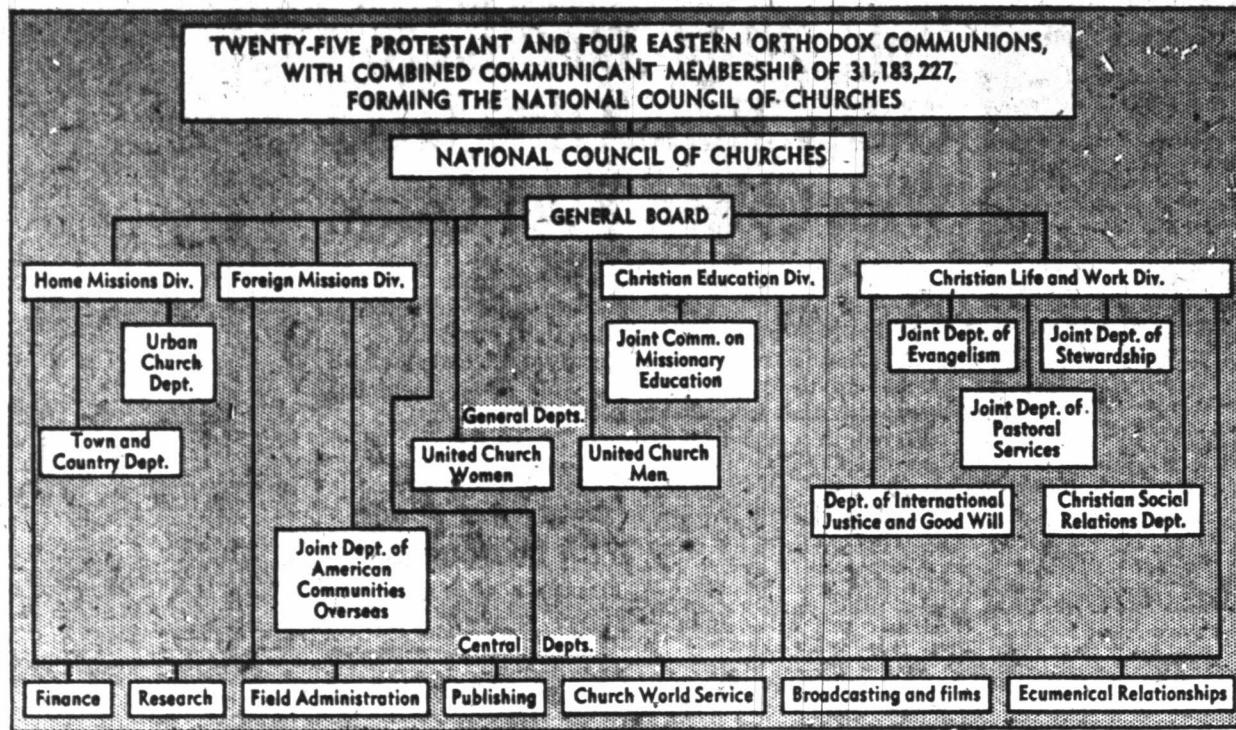

The future must form around the Kingdom of God, or, in its turn, perish. For the Kingdom is the final order, and what does not fit into it shall perish. The Church is the seed plot of that Kingdom. In a mass meeting it was announced that a Japanese girl would sing. I held my breath to see the reaction of that audience. We were at war with Japan. Would they hiss her? She sang simply and beautifully: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace." Although it was a religious service, the audience broke out into spontaneous applause. The Christian fellowship was unbroken. The Church was not at war. It was a supernatural fellowship that held together in spite of the snapping of national bonds. Only in a Christian Church could that have taken place in wartime—a national of a nation at war with us cheered in public! The Christian Church is different. It is a society within a society—a nation within a nation. When a nation decays, the Church need not decay—it is attached to undecaying purposes and ends. It is, or ought to be, an expression in society of that "Kingdom which cannot be shaken." To the degree that the Church is such an expression, it will stand unshaken amid a shaken world.

O God, I am so grateful that there is one island of sanity amid a raging sea of confusion and hate. Help me to be a worthy part of this glorious fellowship of those whose hearts have been touched and illuminated and changed, and who are the realized future. May I be the miniature of that future. In Jesus' name. Amen.

More Germans Leave For Helgoland In Defiance Of British

HAMBURG, GERMANY. —(AP)—Nine more Germans set out for Helgoland Tuesday in defiance of British orders forbidding entry to that bomb-riddled North Sea island. The new group will join at least a dozen other Germans who have been camping on the island for several days. They are demanding the British and American Air Forces quit using Helgoland as an aerial target and permits its ousted 1,400 German residents to return to their homes. The British, balked twice by boat breakdowns, were preparing to send out another armed expedition to remove the protest squatters from the forbidden island.

Ready To Depart
About 12 British Marines, 15 German policemen and several British public safety officers were assembled in Cuxhaven, ready to set out again for Helgoland. British officials refused to say whether the Marines will serve only as boat crews, or whether—as Germans speculated—they were to occupy the island to prevent further invasions after the demonstrators are cleared off. The British have issued a decree forbidding any one setting foot on Helgoland and providing punishment up to one year imprisonment and 5,000 marks ($1,190) fine for violators.

Bulldogs, Cubs To Clash Here Tuesday

The Midland Bulldogs, both varsity and 'B' cagers, tangle in a pair of games with the Brownfield Cub cagers in the MHS gym Tuesday night. The curtain-raiser 'B' game is at 6:30 p.m. The varsity clash follows immediately.

It will be the second meeting of the year between the teams. Brownfield, with a 4-4 record, bounced Midland 45-39 on the Cub home court two weeks ago. The Midland 'B' took a 32-22 win from the Brownfield 'B' on the same date.

Brooks Returns
Big Ralph Brooks, Midland center, has returned to action after being out with influenza. Brooks missed the Howard Payne College Invitational meet held in Brownwood last week. Midland lost both its games in the tournament, falling 45-39 to Pampa in the opening round, then losing to Olney 25-21 in consolation play.

After the Brownfield clash Tuesday, Midland will open conference play against the strong defending champion Lamesa Tornadoses. The Lamesa five will visit the Bulldogs Friday night, for both varsity and 'B' games. Games are the same as on Tuesday.

Kentucky Is 13-7 Victor In Bowl Tilt

NEW ORLEANS.—P—Walt Yowarsky is a football legend Tuesday—just hours after his Kentucky team upset Oklahoma 13-7 in a Sugar Bowl game that closed a fabulous chapter in modern football.

Big Walt was just another good tackle.

Now he's the man who beat Oklahoma—an Oklahoma that had trampled 31 straight opponents. His accomplishments tell the story of the game:

Yowarsky recovered an Oklahoma fumble on the Oklahoma 23. It set the stage for the first Kentucky touchdown, which came on a first period pass from Quarterback Vito (Babe) Parrilli to Halfback Wilbur Jamerson on the next play. All-America Tackle Bob Gain converted.

Yowarsky staved off an Oklahoma touchdown in the third period when Kentucky held a 13-0 lead. He threw Oklahoma Halfback Billy Vessels for a five-yard loss, after Oklahoma had pushed to the Kentucky three.

Receives Loose Ball
He recovered a loose ball after Oklahoma's Jack Lockett fumbled a punt on the Oklahoma 32. This put out the fire in the second half Oklahoma surge which had already brought one touchdown.

But he wasn't the only star. Teammate Parrilli, besides losing the game, admitted the rain might have helped the Vols more than Texas. And if the wet weather bothered Lauricella, Kozar and Bert Rochichar it was not noticeable as they powered an 82-yard touchdown drive early in the fourth period and then went those 43 savage yards just before the game ended.

Until Kozar recovered Dawson's fumble, Texas tried to keep the ball and nurse its slender 14-13 advantage. But when Kozar came up with the ball the Vols were on their way.

Tennessee's terrific line stopped Texas cold the second half. Led by All-America Guard Ted Daffer it stacked up the line plunging of Townsend, Bubbe Shands and Dawson. And the secondary defense covered Texas pass receivers like the dew covers Tennessee.

Line Coach Ed Price, who succeeds Cherry as Texas mentor now that the latter has retired to enter the oil business, said Tennessee was a well coached, hard-tackling, good-blocking ball club.

Tennessee players said they felt they would win but they didn't expect to have to "fight for it" like they did.

The defeat was the second of the season for Texas, the nation's No. 3 football team.

Individually, Lauricella was the brightest star of the day. He gained 131 yards on 16 carries. Kozar had 92 yards on 20 carries.

Townsend was Texas' leading ground-gainer with 106 yards in 23 carries.

Tennessee and Texas each will receive $120,000 for playing in the Cotton Bowl. Each, however, must pay 25 per cent of its take to its conference.

Rams Triumphant In Oleander Bowl

GALVESTON.—P—San Angelo Junior College downed Wharton County Junior College 6-0 on a muddy field here Monday in the third annual Oleander Bowl football game.

San Angelo scored midway of the second period on a 43-yard drive set up by a pass interception. Quarterback Bobby Clatterback passed to Marvin Vincent on the Wharton 22 and then passed again to Bobby Frederick on the one. Billy McDonald plunged over for the score. The try for extra point was blocked.

Earlier in the second quarter San Angelo unsuccessfully tried a field goal from the Wharton 10.

Wharton threatened only once, late in the fourth, when they intercepted a pass on the San Angelo 28 and pushed on down to the two. A penalty set them back to the 17 and San Angelo intercepted a pass on the next play.

MORRIS HARVEY WINS
ORLANDO, FLA.—P—Four touchdowns passed tossed by Quarterback Pete Anania gave Morris Harvey a 35-14 victory over Emory and Henry in the Tangerine Bowl Monday night.

Vols' 20-14 Win Ruins Cherry Hope Of Retiring With Cotton Bowl Crown

DALLAS.—(P)—Tennessee smashed from behind to spoil Blair Cherry's hopes of retiring as University of Texas football coach with a Cotton Bowl champion. Playing the rock 'em, sock 'em type of football which has become their trademark, the Vols Monday whipped over two touchdowns to lick the Longhorns 20-14.

Played to a standstill in the first half and behind 14-7 at the half, Tennessee's bruising Andy Kozar smashed over for one touchdown shortly after the final period started and then climaxed a dramatic, desperate drive by the Vols that carried 43 yards, scoring the winning touchdown with three minutes to play from the one-yard line.

"We just got beat," Cherry said afterward in the dressing room. In the hot, steamy aftermath of the 15th annual Cotton Bowl he offered no excuses.

"The best team we ran up against all season," he said.

While Tennessee players whooped and celebrated, the Southwest Conference champions dressed dejectedly.

A packed house of a few more than 75,000 fans sat through mist and rain and watched Tennessee shoot ahead less than eight minutes after the first period began.

Run Sets Stage
A brilliant, twisting 75-yard run by Hank Lauricella set the stage for the Vols' score. Then, with the ball on the five-yard line, Hal Payne tried running three times. He netted only a yard. On fourth down, he pitched to John Orubie in the end zone and Pat Shires kicked the first of his two extra points.

But then Texas took over. The Steers picked up the first of two second-period touchdowns when Jim Lanford broke through to block Lauricella's punt and Don Cunningham recovered on the eight-yard-line. In four plays Byron Townsend scored—from the five-yard line and Ben Tompkins' first of two extra points tied the score.

Minutes late, Texas shot ahead, this time on Tompkins' 34-yard pass to Gib Dawson.

Statistics for the first half belonged to Texas, but when the final figuring was over the Vols had gained 295 yards rushing to 136 yards for Texas. In the air, Texas had the edge, 87 yards to 45.

Rain Hinders Passing
Cherry said the rain hurt Texas' passing game and that "it might have been different on a dry field."

Gen. Bob Neyland, Texas' coach, admitted the rain might have helped the Vols more than Texas. And if the wet weather bothered Lauricella, Kozar and Bert Rochichar it was not noticeable as they powered an 82-yard touchdown drive early in the fourth period and then went those 43 savage yards just before the game ended.

Until Kozar recovered Dawson's fumble, Texas tried to keep the ball and nurse its slender 14-13 advantage. But when Kozar came up with the ball the Vols were on their way.

Annual Tournament Of Roses Features 'Joyful Living' Theme

PASADENA, CALIF.—(P)—While newsboys hawked extras with headlines reading "Big Red Drive On," a jullion and a half people cheered the annual Tournament of Roses, whose theme was "joyful living."

The 62nd annual parade, a New Year's Day tradition, maintained its record for weather luck. Pasadena's say it never rains on New Year's Day, and it hasn't in 17 years.

But the wind was gusty, and a chill 46 early in the day, although it mounted under a warm sun. The princes of one float wore long white undies under her satin gown. And Gov. Earl Warren joked with photographers:

"Wait until I take this overcoat off. This is Southern California. We mustn't give Florida, a chance to kid us."

The crowd started lining Colorado Boulevard long before dawn. Many brought along kindling and built small fires in the gutters. Mrs. Fanny Steele of Los Angeles, who said she's only missed two parades since they started, won a place on the curb, bundled in a blanket. Mrs. Steele admitted she's 85.

Requires Refrigeration
Two ice skaters introduced a moving picture to the tournament, and even though the weather was nippy, it still required refrigerating machinery to keep the ice from melting.

Queen of the Tournament, traditionally a Pasadena College student, was Eleanor Payne, 17, who wore a wine-colored robe of chrysantheums, with a trimming of white mums which looked like ermine. The Grand Marshal, selected from the ranks when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was forced to withdraw, was Marine Corp. Robert S. Gray, 21, of nearby Temple City, who said:

"I hope that everybody remembers I'm just representing all the men and women in uniform."

Sweepstakes winner was the city of Monterey Park, with a multi-colored float representing a scene from the Arabian nights. Glendale's big sleigh drawn by floral swans won the theme award.

Army defensive back Hal Shultz says studying is his hobby, and he ranks third scholastically in his class.

Wolverines Trip California 14 To 6 In Rose Bowl Classic

PASADENA, CALIF.—(P)—The Big Ten's first five-year plan stands as a 100 per cent success.

Michigan's 14-6 victory over California in the Rose Bowl before 89,939 befuddled spectators Monday completed the coup d'etat which the diplomats of the Western Conference put over on the Pacific Coast Conference.

That made it five victories in five years for the Big Ten.

Tuesday, at nearby Riverside, the coast conference fathers will meet to determine whether they want another five-year plan.

Don Dufek tallied both touchdowns and amassed 113 yards running in 23 tjes, a neat 4.9 average. Chuck Ortmann completed 15 of 19 passes for 146 yards.

Dufek was the bludgeon and Ortmann the rapier as the Wolverines struck savagely for all 14 points in the fourth quarter.

California almost was complete master of the first half.

Passes To Cummings
In the first 30 minutes, the Bears gave every sign of becoming the prestige savior the coast had been looking for. Jim Marino looped a 39-yard touchdown pass to End Bob Cummings. All-America Les Richter failed to convert.

All during the third quarter Cal was backed into its own territory and escaped only through a fumble recovery and a pass interception. Ortmann, the Milwaukee senior, began hitting his receivers—most effectively screen passes to Dufek.

Cal faded finally midway in the fourth period. In an 80-yard drive, Ortmann pitched five passes for 65 yards and Dufek ran for the rest.

Harry Allis booted the conversion that put Michigan ahead 7-6.

The Wolverines got an extra New Year's present in the final three minutes when Marino failed on a fourth down pass gamble. Taking the ball on Cal's 13 yard line, Dufek went over three plays later from the seven. Allis' second conversion made it 14-6.

La Crosse Smashes Cigar Bowl Records

TAMPA, FLA.—(P)—Fullback Ace Loomis and his LaCrosse teammates smashed Cigar Bowl records all over the field Monday in winning the fifth annual charity game 47-14 from Valparaiso.

Loomis' five touchdowns and 30 points both are new records.

The Wisconsin Teachers College's 47 points also is a new high and so is the victory margin of 33 points.

Michigan appeared in both the 1902 and 1948 Rose Bowl and won both by the same score, 49-0.

Evans Named Head Of Sports Scribes

DALLAS.—(P)—Wilbur Evans, sports publicity director of the University of Texas, has succeeded Bill Scurlark of the Beaumont Journal as president of the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Evans was elected at the annual meeting of the association here Monday.

Coaches of the year, Southwest corner of the year and all-state football teams will be announced later this week.

Jim Dean of the Tyler Courier-Times was named to head a committee which will confer with the Texas Interscholastic League on the proposal to change the designations of its Class AAAA, AAA, AA, A and B Divisions to Class A, B, C, D and E.

Dean's committee also will ask the league to conduct bi-district, quarter-final, semi-final and final rounds in basketball and baseball instead of having them all in state tournaments in Austin.

Bishop College Ties Prairie View 6-6

HOUSTON.—(P)—About 2,300 New Year's Day fans watched favored Bishop College of Marshall come from behind in the final minutes of the 23rd annual Prairie View Bowl game to tie Prairie View 6-6.

Prairie View drove 70 yards to score in the second period Monday. Bishop moved 57 yards for its fourth period tally.

Texas Christian's basketball team will face 12 conference and 12 non-conference foes this season.

PALE DRY IS THE REASON WHY!

Some time ago we began producing a new kind of beer at the GRAND PRIZE brewery—different from any beer ever before available in Texas—a pale dry beer.

C. E. Lieberman
Master Brewer, Gulf Brewing Co.

What does 'Pale Dry' mean?

Pale Dry is the name we brewers call this new kind of beer because it is pale gold in color and sharply dry in flavor.

GRAND PRIZE BEER

How do we brew pale dry beer?

It takes unusually fine ingredients and careful control of the brewing process to brew a pale dry beer. We use the freshest hops obtainable. The malt is prepared according to a private formula. Pure, deep-rock artesian water and top-grade Texas rice are used exclusively in brewing Pale Dry Grand Prize Beer, and every barrel is given abundant time to age.

Hope Dim For Talks Between Western Powers And Russia

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Diplomatic officials held out little hope Tuesday for new top level talks between the Western powers and Russia. They said what appeared to be acceptance of the idea by Moscow was hedged with restrictions which this country, at least, could not accept.

Although the text of the Russian note was not made public, dispatches from London quoted diplomatic sources there as saying it included these "requests" generally deemed unacceptable to the West:
1. Acceptance of the Prague declaration, which served notice the Communist led nations would not tolerate rearmament of Western Germany.

On December 22 the three Western powers proposed in reply that the stage be set for big four talks on a variety of subjects, all aimed at eliminating friction between Moscow and the West.

Civil Rights Backers Oppose McFarland As Senate Leader

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Supporters of President Truman's civil rights program were reported determined Tuesday to record their opposition to Senator McFarland of Arizona as Senate Democratic leader.

McFarland's backers claimed pledges from 29 of the 49 Democratic votes in the new Senate toward his election at a party caucus Tuesday afternoon, preceding Wednesday's opening of the 82nd Congress.

Republicans are expected to re-elect Senator Frank La Follette of Ohio as chairman of their party policy committee, Millikin of Colorado as conference head and Wherry of Nebraska as floor leader.

In the House, both Democrats and Republicans called sessions Tuesday to react to their present leadership—Speaker Rayburn of Texas, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts and Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts.

Eight new senators will be sworn in Wednesday. Taft of Ohio as chairman of their party policy committee, Millikin of Colorado as conference head and Wherry of Nebraska as floor leader.

RHUBARB SEED—Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann and Fred Will hit the tape at the end of the Wanamaker Mile at Madison Square Garden in January in what appears to be a dead heat.

King's Row

Football is over, everywhere, until August. The Texas Coaching School will be capped off with an all-star clash in August, the college all-stars will try the professional champs, and the pro clubs will begin exhibition play in that Summer month.

Until then, that's all the football—except of course a Spring training game here and there. Midland, by the way, will have a special attraction when Spring training rolls around again. The 1950 "Bulldozer" graduates will play Tubgot Jones' 1951 team to end the Spring season and end all grid work here until September.

And the 1950 boys—Duane Bush, Bob Wood, Jack Burris and Company—will work long and hard to get in shape for the game. So it should be a real clash—and perhaps give a line on what Midland will have in '51. The 19 Bulldog seniors should be capable of putting up a good battle.

But to get back to the end of the season just past—namely, the Bowl games. We were a little surprised at the outcome of three of the "major" bowl games—which means we missed on three of five we selected. Oklahoma, Texas and Washington & Lee didn't figure to lose in our eyes—nor in the eyes of most of the "guessers."

Odessa expects the largest entry field ever in its Golden Gloves regional meet, January 17, 18 and 19. Midland will enter a team of 25 boys in the meet, and should make a fine showing.

Odessa is making a bid to challenge Lamessa and Lubbock for the district championship in basketball. It seems The Broncho City team won consolation honors in the Howard Payne College tournament last week, bouncing Big Spring in the finals 31-18.

Big Spring, a team with a record of 9-4 was almost helpless against the Broncho defense. The Steers could tally but five points the first half as Odessa moved to a 17-5 half-time lead.

Soap-And-Water Routine Is Still Tops With Many For Beauty Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Women who scorn soap-and-water cleanings for their complexion are all wet, according to advocates of the old-fashioned lathering method, who insist that cream is not enough to whisk away every trace of make-up and dirt.

If you blame your soap for the tight, taut feeling that sometimes follows washing, you're probably doing the soap dirt. More often, they say, the real fault lies in improper rinsing.

To prevent the drawn feeling that a residue of soap film can cause, remember to splash your face with five or six times with warm water and then rinse with cold. Pat your face to bring a healthy glow, and then dry thoroughly to prevent chapping.

By choosing soap as a first step in your clean-up routine, you don't rule out cleansing cream. Use this to melt out undersurface grime and to soften your complexion. Cream is of particular importance as a follow-up if you have dry skin.

Select your soap as carefully as you do your cream, preferably a super-rich one with a soothing, gentle lather. Pamper yourself by using a soap with a delicate scent, such as lavender, which leaves a fragrance upon your skin.

Once or twice a week, give your face an extra-special cleansing, massaging the lather into your skin for two or three minutes. Concentrate upon the oily areas on your nose, chin, forehead and around the hairline. Give particular attention to your rinsing.

Remember, the first step toward a lovely complexion is a clean skin.

A U. S. spokesman said this country has not yet decided on a form of punishment to demand for Red China. Washington is anxious to sound out its allies before introducing any specific proposals.

The U. S., however, considers the matter urgent, the spokesman said, and will bring it before the next meeting of the 60-nation Political Committee unless the Red Chinese drive is halted.

The committee is scheduled to meet Wednesday or Thursday. It must first hear the report of its cease-fire commission which was drafted by Rati, Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam of Iran and Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

Antics Of Ladislav Segy Are All Magic

NEW YORK (NEA)—Ladislav Segy doesn't have a farm, but if he did he wouldn't have to worry about bad crops. He has a bunch of little carved statuettes which are guaranteed to produce good crops. Guaranteed, that is, by some African medicine men who have long since died.

Segy just opened a gallery in New York to display his collection of antique African sculpture.

Half a soul went with this 'fetish-of-the-twin' figure. A weird assortment of wooden, ivory and bronze figures and plaques. Most of them were created in the belief they had same magical powers, like producing a bountiful harvest.

"These are white magic figures," says Segy, a Hungarian-born artist and critic who spent many years in Paris and now talks with a curious Franco-Hungarian accent. "Black magic brings bad things, but white magic is for benefit of somebody."

He pointed to a four-inch ivory figure, a roughly-hewn human being. That was a "fetish-of-the-twin," he explained. It seems the African natives believed twins were carried in a bag around his neck the rest of his life. It would be OK. He'd have a genuine full-size soul.

If you're interested in acquiring half a soul, Segy is the man to see. He has some nifty half-figures from the Basonge and Wavaga tribes.

Since there are between 250 and 300 distinct tribes in Africa, and since each tribe had its own style of carving, it takes an expert to distinguish one from the other. Segy has spent many years studying African art, and can tell an Ibo ancestor cult mask from a Mushi ancestor cult mask quicker than you can say safari.

The Africans aren't producing these sculptures any more. When the missionary doctors supplanted medicine men, they caused the natives to doubt the healing values of a hunk of carved wood.

All Segy's items therefore are antiques—and consequently rather valuable. There's one 15th Century bronze plaque of a warrior, that once adorned a King's palace in the Benin Kingdom, now in British Nigeria, that is worth around $3000. But their age is only one rea-

Odessa Blaze Wipes Out Three Stores; $100,000 Damage

ODESSA—A roaring blaze raged through almost a half-block of downtown Odessa early Monday to destroy three stores and damage early.

Early damage estimates ranged as high as $100,000. Gouged by the fire were Kinsey Shoe Shop, Ideal Barber Shop and Eatwell cafe. The Fair store, located adjacent to the cafe, received heavy smoke damage but was not touched by the searing flames. Practically all contents in the three burned-out stores were ruined.

The fire was believed to have broken out in the back of the cafe, raced through the long frame building, jumped a partition and swept through the barber shop and the shoe shop. The wood and tin roof on the three buildings was completely eaten away.

Firemen carried out charred articles and mopped up water until noon Monday.

This Is It: Decline Of Culture Underway, Red Paper Declares

MOSCOW—Pravda declared Tuesday the year 1950 marked the further decline and fall of American culture.

The Communist Party organ, making a lengthy survey of developments in various fields of U. S. cultural endeavor, concluded there was visible throughout clear "signs of perversion."

The paper declared Hollywood films are devoted now to "the cult of rape and depravity" and described them as nothing but "a wild orgy of sadist bestialities and bloodletting."

Pravda claimed that throughout American cultural life was felt the "heavy hand of militarism."

Chapman Says U. S. Faces Supreme Test Of History

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said Tuesday America faces the supreme test of its history "in the form of a concerted effort by Communist forces to eradicate the fundamental belief in the dignity and freedom of the individual."

Expressing faith in the American people's "will to meet this grave test," he asserted "the unprecedented national emergency which confronts us is a call to greatness."

Chapman spoke at ceremonies marking formal transfer to the federal government of responsibility for management and upkeep of the historic Independence Hall buildings.

Freezing Weather Cripples Britain

LONDON (AP)—Freezing weather and widespread snow intensified a creeping fuel and power crisis in the British Isles Tuesday.

Prime Minister Attlee tipped off the government's alarm by summoning coal mine union leaders to a conference Wednesday. They will discuss means of stepping up output and recruiting new workers.

Meanwhile the state-owned electricity system broadcast a nationwide appeal for economy in the use of power. It coupled this with power cuts running up to 10 per cent in most parts of the country.

son for their popularity. They are called real works of art, and some of them are truly handsome. Much of the carving is dainty and precise, which is amazing when you learn that the native "carpenters," as they were called, used only a heavy, homemade adze.

Some of the sculptures reveal a pretty neat sense of humor, too. The sculptures turned out masks for women, who wore them at certain secret society ceremonies. One such in Segy's collection is equipped with an unmistakable triple chin.

Shaped Like Head Africa's woodpecker cups are often in the shape of a human head, Segy knows the gruesome history of that custom. Ancient warriors would decapitate their victims, dry the head and make a cup out of it in order to acquire the dead man's strength and spirit.

Segy's head-shaped cups are made out of wood, not head.

Segy, a small, eager man, believes that his sculptures are expert reflections of human emotions. He cites a story to back him up.

"A woman came in here a few days ago," he says. "She noticed that little statue"—he pointed to a crude replica of a woman—"and immediately got all upset. Nothing would do but I take that statue away. She said it reminded her of the pain she felt when she had her baby."

"She didn't know, of course that it was a maternity statue."

Koreans Abandon Young In Fleeing From Communists

By HAL BOYLE

YONGDONG, KOREA (AP)—An old woman leaned against a strand of wire across the open door of a boxcar in the railway yards here.

She was one of 15,000 to 20,000 refugees gathered in this suburban rail center southwest of Seoul, in flight southward from the South Korean capital.

The old lady was bareheaded and her eyes were red and rheumy from the freezing cold. She wore a soiled white cotton Summer dress and a pair of Korean rubber slippers. Behind her peered the sick eyes of a pregnant woman who appeared to be her daughter.

The younger woman was wrapped in a blanket, and she held at her side a boy barely old enough to toddle.

Suddenly the old lady began to cackle in a senile way. She halted a passing boy and handed down to him the infant—her grandson. Then she climbed down to the ground herself and started walking along the side of the freight train.

Runs After Her The young boy looked at her in surprise, then ran after her. He tried to hand her the younger child but she refused to accept him and started onward again.

The boy put the baby down beside the tracks and ran after the old lady. He caught her and dragged her back. Once more he tried to get her to take the baby, who by now was weeping in fear. But the old lady only screamed angrily. Breaking from the youth's grasp she stumbled on, calling to herself.

For a moment the boy stood there uncertainly. Then he turned and walked the other way. The baby, his red little face splattered with dirt and tears, sat alone on the damp black cinder path near the track.

He cried in loneliness. Grown refugees, their backs burdened with bundles, stepped out of the path to avoid crushing the baby. Other refugees, hauling their own small babies to the tops of boxcars by means of rag ropes tied around their chests, paused now and then to look at the abandoned child.

But none came over to pick him up. None tried to find a Korean policeman to report his plight. Each family felt too burdened with its own woes even to wipe the face of the frantically weeping baby. It remained for an American soldier to rescue the child.

The Koreans now just don't seem to have any sympathy for their own people," said Pvt. Otis Brooks of Patton, Mo.

Congratulations To French Government May Order Purge Of Reds On Commission

PARIS (AP)—The French government may order a purge of Communists still serving on the National Atomic Energy Commission.

Sources close to Premier Rene Pleven said the question will be aired in a cabinet meeting Wednesday.

"Madame Irene Joliot-Curie will be the object of disciplinary measures," one source said.

Frederic Joliot-Curie was fired April 28 as head of France's Atomic Energy Commission because of his outspoken pro-Communist stand. A number of his closest advisors resigned but his wife, Irene, remained on the commission.

The exact number of Communists and Communist sympathizers employed in France's $10,000,000 atomic research project is not known publicly. However, the Communist Party reportedly has issued a tract to its followers employed in atomic research work, urging them to redouble their efforts to achieve what it called the "Joliot plan."

According to the newspaper Le Figaro, Joliot-Curie's plan called for the construction of two new atomic piles.

A small atomic energy pile was put into operation on Dec. 15, 1948, at Port De Chatillon in the Paris suburbs under Joliot-Curie's direction. It is not powerful and no atomic bombs have been made.

Work on a second atomic pile of medium power was begun recently at Saclay, near Paris. At third "central type" pile of greater power was planned by Joliot-Curie, combining the results and experience obtained from the first two projects.

Walker Interred In Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army in which Walton Harrison Walker fought gallantly in three wars made ready a general's interment for him Tuesday afternoon.

As the gravestone in Arlington National Cemetery they chose for the late commander of the 8th Army in Korea a spot not far from that of Gen. John J. Pershing.

Decorated many times by his own and other governments for gallantry and leadership in two world wars and described by President Truman as a brilliant military commander of "indomitable courage" in the new war in Asia, Walker was killed in a motor mishap in Korea.

While going up to the lines to present decorations to two units of his 8th Army command—the U. S. 24th Infantry Division and a British Commonwealth brigade—Walker's jeep collided with a South Korean weapons carrier on December 23. He died within a few minutes.

Truman Friday sent letters to the House and Senate asking that he be promoted, posthumously, from the three-star rank of lieutenant general to the full rank of four-star general. The House passed the bill Monday.

STAMFORD SLATES ELECTIONS

STAMFORD (AP)—Two special elections will be held here early in 1961. A week from Tuesday there will be an election on a $100,000 school bond issue. Monday, February 5, voters will decide whether to amend the city charter to make the office of police chief appointive instead of elective.
