N-C Midland Gets 13,500-Foot Wildcat

G. H. Vaughn Production Company of Dallas is to start drilling immediately at its No. 1 W. C. Campbell, which is scheduled as a 13,500-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger in North-Central Midland County, three miles southwest of the city of Midland.

The prospector is the second deep wildcat to be reported for that region during the current week. It will be at the center of the southeast quarter of section 16, block 39, T&P survey, T-2-S.

To Start Soon
Derrick is being built and rotary rig is being moved in. Actual drilling is due to start by the end of the week.

The project is being drilled on acreage secured by the Vaughn concern in a farmout deal with American Republics Corporation.

It will be dug by Big West Drilling Company, an affiliated concern of G. H. Vaughn Production Company. This venture is one and three-quarter miles northeast of Jay Simmons and William R. Whittaker, Ltd., No. 1 J. W. Countiss, reported Tuesday and which is to be located 2,600 feet from west and 600 feet from south lines of section 20, block 39, T&P survey, T-2-S, and which is also slated to drill to about 13,500 feet as an Ellenburger wildcat.

Pennsylvanian Flow Reported In Midland

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 H. S. Collins, Central-West Midland County exploration is assured of commercial production in the Pennsylvanian lime.

It flowed 200 barrels of clean pipe line oil in six hours, naturally, through a 40/64th-inch tubing choke. There was no water. The project was put on a 28/64th-inch choke at 5:30 a. m. Wednesday to start a full 24-hour potential test.

When that gauge is taken operator plans to put the well on regular production.

The Pennsylvanian oil is coming from perforated section at 10,375-395 feet and at 10,400-442 feet.

After those intervals had been perforated the section would be kept off and flow. Operator swabbed six hours, recovering mud and some oil.

Then kicked off and flowed drilling mud for several hours. After most of the mud had been flowed out the hole was loaded with 181 barrels of oil.

That fluid was flowed out in 11 1/2 hours, through a three-quarter-inch choke. The load oil had some slugs of mud.

New Oil Flows
After the load and mud had been recovered the well was put on the 40/64th-inch choke and it then made the 200 barrels of new oil in six hours.

Estimated gas-oil ratio was 1,800-1. Gravity of the oil was 44.5 degrees. Flowing tubing pressure was 100 pounds. Shut-in casing pressure was 300 pounds.

Location is 660 feet from south and 898.8 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 7, Matt Daugherty survey, SP 4, 109 feet.

It is one location north of the discovery well of the Parks-Ellenburger field. That project, Magnolia No. 2 Parks, also showed flowing oil in the Pennsylvanian. However, it drilled on down and completed from the Ellenburger.

In recent months the No. 2 Parks has made considerable water with its Ellenburger oil.

Magnolia No. 1 Collings also drilled to the Ellenburger. It flowed oil and water from the top of the Ellenburger and operator did not attempt to produce that formation but elected to plug back and try to make an oil well in the Pennsylvanian.

It appears that such an objective has been well accomplished.

The new producer is 11 miles southwest of the City of Midland.

Deep Exploration Slated For Foard

The British-American Oil Producing Company and The Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 B. A. Johnson is to be a 6,500-foot wildcat in Business Foard County.

Drillite for the prospector is 1,650 feet from south and west lines of section 5, block 0, H&GN survey. That puts it about 20 miles southeast of the town of Crowell.

The projected depth will probably take the prospector into the Ellenburger. Drilling is to start at once.

Kelley-Snyder Oiler Is To Be Deepened
Fentrex Oil Corporation of Midland has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to deepen to the Ellenburger at its No. 1 Kribbs. (Continued On Page 14)

Communists Swarm Toward Seoul

Hopes For Truce Are Abandoned

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The UN Cease-Fire Committee announced Wednesday it had abandoned hope of getting a truce in Korea.

The report of the three-member body was laid before the General Assembly's political committee by India's Sir Benegal N. Rau. After reviewing the cease fire efforts during the past two weeks, the report said:

"The group regrets it has been unable to pursue discussion of a satisfactory cease-fire arrangement. It therefore feels that no recommendation in regard to a cease-fire can usefully be made by it at this time."

The report was signed by Rau and the other two members, Lester B. Pearson of Canada and Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam of Iran.

After reading the report, Rau said the Political Committee must continue its peace effort.

"Most of my listeners," he said, "will probably feel that the report is nothing more than a record of failure. But we must go on exploring every means to maintain peace even if the final attempt fails."

Almost all the 12-page report was devoted to summaries of the messages exchanged between the truce committee and the Chinese Communist government. These communications, published previously, were presented in chronological order.

The report disclosed for the first time the cease-fire terms laid down by General MacArthur's UN command.

The terms included the following provisions:

1. All governments, including Red China, should cease hostilities at once.
2. A demilitarized zone 20 miles wide should be established just north of the 38th parallel.
3. Supervision of the cease-fire should be carried out by a UN commission.
4. Prisoners of war should be exchanged on a one-for-one basis, pending final settlement of the Korean question.
5. The General Assembly should be asked to confirm the cease fire arrangements.

Excess Profits Tax Measure Gets President's Signature

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Wednesday signed the new $3,300,000,000 tax bill, slapping a 77 per cent super-levy on corporation "excess profits."

It lifts the nation's tax collections to the highest dollar figure in history, but Truman said "the task ahead of us will require more and much heavier taxes."

He added in a statement: "I shall, in due course, submit to the Congress recommendations for substantial tax increases."

Even before Congress completed action on this bill, Truman had made known he would ask still further revenue-raising measures from the new Congress.

Possibilities Studied
Treasury experts are studying various possibilities. They have given out no details, but individuals whose income taxes were raised last October 1, may be called on to pay still larger levies.

The Administration's aim is to put America's resistance to Communist aggression as near as possible on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The bill signed Wednesday raises tax collections to $45,000,000,000 or more a year—well above the record $43,900,000,000 set in 1945 during World War II.

Truman, who had asked that this bill hike taxes by $4,000,000,000 was critical of some of its provisions.

Undue Advantage
He said some features of the new measure probably will give an undue advantage to some corporations "especially in relation to the tax burdens necessarily borne by others."

For this reason, he continued, he is requesting Secretary of the Treasury Snyder to keep excess profits taxes under continuous review so that if some provisions need revision the facts can be placed before Congress without delay.

But Truman also had praise for (Continued on Page 12)

New DPA Is Set Up By Truman

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Wednesday set up a new "Defense Production Administration" tying together the government's scattered emergency production agencies.

The powerful new DPA is to be headed by William H. Harrison, now chief of the National Production Authority.

Under Truman's executive order, Harrison will have authority over industrial output, transportation, fuel, minerals and power.

Some of these powers are now scattered through various government departments.

Suggested By Wilson
Harrison will report to—and be subject to the direction and control of—Charles E. Wilson, director of Defense Mobilization, who recommended the new agency and suggested Harrison as its chief.

Wilson is known to favor faster defense contracting, and has consulted with the new munitions board chairman, John D. Small, on the possibility of bringing executives from private industry into the board.

The agencies to be brought under Harrison's jurisdiction by the White House plan are said to include the NPA in commerce, the various agencies controlling minerals, power and fuel in the Interior Department, and the Defense Transport Administration in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

These would be answerable to Harrison, whose rank in the government would be parallel to that of Alan Valentine, head of the Economic Stabilization Agency. Both would be accountable to Truman through Wilson.

Leading Red Units Surge To Outskirts

TOKYO—(AP)—Leading elements of seven Chinese Communist Armies early Thursday reportedly surged to the outskirts of Seoul and began reforming for the assault on the ancient capital. Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported from an Eighth Army Post the dying city's fall depended upon how soon the fast-moving Chinese units could reassemble.

TOKYO—(AP)—Tank-supported Chinese Reds smashed through Allied lines Wednesday and swarmed toward Seoul. But the virtually deserted South Korean capital still was in United Nations hands Wednesday night.

Eighth Army field commanders expected a full-scale assault on the ancient city at any hour.

President Syngman Rhee and his cabinet fled only a few hours before the Reds crashed through a second line of defenses seven to 10 miles to the north and northeast. This was during the morning and about noon.

Communications with Seoul went dead at 2:35 p. m. (11:35 p. m. CST, Tuesday).

But a dispatch by AP Correspondent Stan Swinton, filed via Eighth Army headquarters at 6:40 p. m., quoted frontline intelligence officers as saying the earlier attacks, although in force, "were only a preliminary to a final all-out assault on Seoul's defenses."

"They predict the assault will come tonight," Swinton added.

His dispatch was cut up badly by censors.

AP Photographer Jim Pringle reported from an air base in northern Japan air traffic going to Seoul's Kimpo Airfield, 10 miles northwest of the capital, was suspended "temporarily" at 9:25 p. m. (6:25 a. m. CST).

Fat East Air Forces headquarters in Tokyo said it did not have this report. It was not clear when flights to Kimpo would be resumed.

AP Correspondent William J. Waugh made the last commercial telephone call from Seoul. He reported the latest military developments and the pitiful exodus of the remaining civilians.

He could hear the muffled boom of big guns in the distance.

Overstreet's Boy Named '51 Winner

Johnnie Fain Overstreet is Midland County's "Little Mister 1951."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Overstreet, 706 South Colorado Street, Johnnie Fain was born at 2:30 a. m. Monday, New Year's Day, in the Midland Memorial Hospital. He weighed five pounds, eight ounces at birth. Dr. John M. Leigh was the attending physician.

At least six other babies were born here on New Year's Day, but Johnnie Fain Overstreet was the first one reported, and Wednesday he was declared the official winner of the 1951 Baby Derby. As such, Johnnie Fain is the winner of the many valuable gifts offered by Midland merchants to the First Baby. The awards must be claimed by "Little Mister 1951's" parents within 30 days.

The proud father said Wednesday the "little king" and his mother are "doing fine." They are scheduled to be released from the hospital late Wednesday and will be removed to their home in style in a Newline W. Ellis Chapel ambulance.

"Thanks to Everyone"
"This is the nicest thing that ever happened to me," Overstreet said when handed a letter which certified his new son as the 1951 Baby Derby winner. "Mrs. Overstreet and (Continued On Page Five)

Possibility Of Big Four Talks Doesn't Alter Allied Course

BONN, GERMANY—(AP)—The possibility of Big Four East-West talks on Germany is not slowing down Allied efforts to incorporate German armed units in the Atlantic Pact, force to defend the West. A Russian note published Tuesday expressed willingness to prepare for such a conference but said demilitarization of Germany must be the "first and foremost" business at any such talks.

However, detailed negotiations are expected to begin here next week between the Western Allies and the West German government trying to decide how Germany shall contribute manpower to stand up to any Russian threat.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has said his representatives are ready to join the Allies in the committee. Three main groups will be at work.

To Handle Details
The first will handle the technical details of the formation of German units. It will thresh out what role German units will play, how they will be fitted in under Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's overall command, what size they will be and how they will be armed.

Committee No. 2 will study the military plan. This will work out what occupation controls can be lifted to give the Germans virtually full nationhood, while allowing the Allies ultimate power for emergency use and to justify the presence of Allied troops on German soil.

The third committee will study economic matters. The use of German raw materials and productive capacity in the common defense effort must be examined.

New Congress Goes To Work Wednesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 82nd Congress went to work Wednesday amid Democratic pleas for national unity and Republican demands President Truman clarify his international aims.

Reflecting grimly on American casualties in Korea, the Senate and House begin organizing their ranks for two years of grappling with vital problems which may lead the nation to devastating world war or peace.

Stronger in both Houses because of their victories in the November elections, Republicans gave clear signs they will move to force a re-assessment—and some possible changes—in American relations with other countries.

Demands that the Truman Administration sharply speed up home front mobilization came from Democrats and Republicans in the new Congress.

Support Maybank
The demands voiced in advance of the opening session were in general support of criticism by Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) that there has been "enough of pussyfooting and kowtowing" and of "juggling with butterfingers the future of our way of life."

Maybank, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, let fly with that blast at the Administration Tuesday as the 81st Congress closed up shop. He called for "malted-fat determination" to bring prices and wages under control and end what he termed a resurgence of black markets.

Record Number Of Documents Recorded

A record-breaking number of oil and gas leases and real estate transfers were recorded last year in Midland County.

County Clerk Lucille Johnson reported Wednesday that more than 12,000 such documents were filed in her office, an increase of more than 64 per cent over the preceding years.

These instruments filed in her office include not only oil and gas leases but real estate transfers, liens, assignments and other such documents.

During 1950, a total of 12,112 such documents were filed, compared to 7,622 in 1949, 5,898 in 1948 and 8,907 in 1947.

To meet the heavy demand for copies of documents and to speed up the process of recording them, a photographic recording process was installed in the county clerk's office during the latter part of the year.

March Of Dimes Drive Scheduled

Challenged by the most serious financial problem in 13 years of fighting polio, the annual March of Dimes this year will be conducted in Midland and throughout the nation during the two-week period from January 15 to 31. It was announced Wednesday by Ray Lynch, county campaign director.

"Last year was the third successive year of unusually high polio incidence," Lynch said, "with the result that our backlog of cases is steadily increasing. We must continue to help all those who need assistance and at the same time press forward our research program aimed at finding a means of preventing polio. It is a double-barreled job and we will need a lot of help—from everyone."

Lynch predicted this year's March of Dimes would be "the most successful of its kind in Midland history." He said March of Dimes committees now were being organized with the help of service clubs and that several substantial donations already have been received.

A Little Midland Girl Writes Letter To Thank Santa

For the first time in history: The Reporter-Telegram Wednesday got a "thank-you" letter to Santa Claus.

So, Lynn Ellen Price must have been a happy little girl over Santa's visit.

She wrote: "Thank you for all the nice toys. Thank you for the wonderful fountain pen, my favorite present."

And little Lynn Ellen used that pen to write the letter. (It was scrawled but we could read it, Lynn Ellen).

We thank you for the first thank-you letter to Santa.

Collections were taken nightly at four theaters by members of service clubs of the city, December 26 through December 30.

Returns by theaters were: Yuca 8974.88; Ritz 8594.23; Tower 8394.07; Chief Drive-in 8284.88.

Last year, Texas Theaters collected more than $170,000.

Russia Excludes Nothing In War Mobilization Blueprint

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Everything in Russia—down through farm horses and tractors and up through all the 212,000,000 people—is fitted into the war mobilization blueprint of the Soviet Union.

An official American military publication—the Army Information Digest—says Russia "has geared its entire military and civil structure for rapid mobilization, whether it be open or secret, general or partial mobilization."

At present, Russia is estimated to have an armed force strength of about 4,500,000. This compares with an estimated peak strength of about 12,500,000 during World War II. Of her present strength, more than 3,000,000 may be in the Army.

The Army Information Digest is published to familiarize American officers and enlisted men with plans, policies and happenings in the American Army—and in other nations, friendly and unfriendly.

In its current issue, the Digest discusses the military service and training program of the Soviet Union. Among other things, it says: "No other country has such an intensive, all-inclusive program for military training. The average Soviet citizen lives his entire life in an atmosphere of military semi-alert."

Small children in school learn early such phrases as "front," "offensive" and "objective." The Russian Pioneer, who in a peaceful land would be a Boy Scout, is taught rifle marksmanship and anti-tank tactics.

All males who reach their 19th birthday are subject to conscription. Only men past 50 or those physically unfit are exempt from military service. Even when over 50, a man may be recalled for emergency duty in home defense units. Periods of active duty range from two to five years, but men often are retained well beyond that time. When released from active duty, a Russian becomes a reservist with yearly refresher courses.

Russian law excludes nominally from military service persons in prison—but in World War II hundreds of thousands of combat and service troops were drawn from prison labor camps.

Russia drafts women in wartime. About 2,000,000, between the ages of 18 and 25, were in the Soviet Army during World War II, with many accepted on voluntary basis for combat service.

The Red Army "exploits the natural skills and background of certain ethnic or regional groups," the Digest continues. "Cossacks make excellent cavalrymen. Caucasians are usually assigned to mountain units. Siberians are likely to serve with ski troops."

Postal Receipts At All-Time High

Postal receipts reached an all-time high in the Midland Post Office during 1950. Postmaster N. G. Oates announced Wednesday.

The total receipts for the year were $310,896.02, compared to the previous high of $255,160.96 set in 1949, according to the postmaster. The increase of $55,735.06 was a jump of 21.8 per cent.

The increase for the year, however, was not quite as high as the increase for the final three months of 1950.

During the months of October, November and December of 1950 postal receipts totaled $93,978.84, compared to $75,684.08 during the final quarter of the previous year. This was a jump of 24 per cent.

Lower temperatures and no precipitation was the weather picture in Midland Wednesday.

The CAA Communications Station at Midland Air Terminal reported a low of 20 degrees at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday. The reading at 11 a. m. was 42 degrees.

The light, brief sprinkle of rain Tuesday morning that buoyed Midlanders' hopes for a relief from the long drought was all the moisture that came from the hovering clouds.

Clear and sunny skies Wednesday held no promise of precipitation.

Eight Midlanders To Take AF Exams

Eight Midlanders left Tuesday for Abilene, where they will take physical examinations for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force.

Following their physicals, the men will go through basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, according to Wheeler.

From Lackland they will be assigned to various schools and permanent Air Force installations.

Included in the group were Leonard P. Harris, Johnnie M. Harris, Leon Roberts, Arthur James Mayfield, Billy Joe Pyle, Norman Ray Rentrow, Bobby Joe Richters and Leland Braahars.

Children Wonder Why Granny Didn't Wake; Aunt Finds Her Dead

WICHITA FALLS —(P)— Two small children waited all day in a cold, locked house without food for their grandmother to wake up. They wondered why she sat so still and slept so long in her chair. "Grandma's still sleeping," Bertha Elaine, age four, and Billy Fred, seven, told an aunt when she got them to unlock a door late Tuesday.

The aunt found Grandma wasn't sleeping. Grandma was dead.

Justice of the Peace H. M. Newman said Mrs. W. A. Daugherty, 86, apparently died of a heart attack early Tuesday. Maybe she had collapsed in her chair while on her way to telephone for help. She was in her night clothes.

Mrs. Daugherty came to Wichita Falls Christmas Day from her home in Bowie to care for the children while her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Wall, were in Georgia on a business trip.

The aunt, Mrs. C. B. Johnson, got the children to open a door when she went to the house after work. She found that Billy Fred, a first grader in school, had dressed himself. Bertha Elaine still was in her pajamas.

Male Sex Hormones Aren't Key To Everlasting Youth

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The search for everlasting youth appeals to everyone. No one wants to grow older and some people therefore will grasp at straws with which they think they can postpone the progress of the years. For example, one of my readers recently asked whether there was any value in taking male sex hormones which were advertised for men over 35.

There isn't any good reason for taking these hormones in the hope they will delay signs of the passing of time. It is true that the male sex glands produce hormones which are absorbed into the system and probably have much, to do with vigor during the peak years of life.

However, the hormone production keeps up for many years and the source of lessened energy as early as 35 years of age should be sought elsewhere. Even at 45 or 50 years of age there is great doubt that injections or tablets of male sex hormone will have any real effect on the energy.

Actually scientific opinion is greatly divided on whether there is any period in the life of men in which the manufacture of hormone is decreased enough to lead to a change of life similar to that which occurs in women.

Mental Causes
Many men, for example, never do have any symptoms at all which can be considered as reflecting a lessened functioning of the sex glands. A few develop feelings of tension or other vague disturbances which are sometimes thought to be caused by decreased hormone production, but such signs can come from a lot of other things too. So far as sexual powers are concerned changes are more often due to mental causes than to any lessened hormone production.

No, the male hormone does not provide the key to everlasting youth. In later years some doctors advise testosterone, which is one of these hormones, but too much cannot be expected even then. There are many differences between youth and age, but the state of mind seems to be as important, if not more so, than the hormones.

Elkins Suggests Dam Be Named For Walker

TEMPLE —(P)— The head of the State American Legion suggests the Belton Dam being constructed on the Leon River be named after Gen. Walton H. Walker.

Walker, a native of Belton, was killed in a jeep accident in Korea. State Legion Commander Bill Elkins wired U. S. Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and Rep. W. R. Poage Tuesday suggesting the project be called Walker Dam. He said such action would be "a fitting tribute to his memory."

Jack Boyd Named Crane Chief Police

CRANE—Jack Boyd recently was appointed chief of police by the Crane City Council. The appointment became effective December 31.

Boyd succeeds Smoky Swift, who resigned.

The new police chief is well known here. He has lived in Crane since 1927. He was employed by the Gulf Oil Company for about 10 years before entering the armed forces during World War II.

After spending three years in the service, Boyd returned to Crane and took over the Gulf Service Station. He is now engaged in the gravel business.

Boyd served on the City Council until last April, when he resigned. At present he is finance chairman of the newly organized Crane County Board of Development.

Swift resigned as police chief to take over his new job as county commissioner of Precinct 3.

Of what good is a mustard plaster on an electric globe when the switch in the wall is shutting off the electric current so that it cannot get to the globe? NONE you will say.

Then, what is the use of a mustard plaster on the stomach; over the kidneys; over the heart, etc., when the vital energy which governs the human body is cut off by a misaligned bone of the spine? NONE you will say.

R. E. Cronyn Will Instruct Palette Club Art School

R. E. Cronyn will be the instructor for the Palette Club Art Center's Winter Art School. All persons interested in painting classes are asked to be present at the studio, 804 North Colorado, Thursday afternoon.

At the Thursday session the instructor will be introduced and classes will be arranged.

Cronyn's painting career began 25 years ago when he first attended the Art Students League and the Grand Central Art School in New York. He studied with sculptor Leo Lantilla and painting masters such as George Ennis, Edmund Greacen, John Sargent, Frederick Waugh, George Lusk, John Stone and others.

Cronyn is widely known for his many exhibits. For years this artist was associated with the Grand Central Art Galleries, known as the largest in its field of traveling exhibitions. At the same time he is represented in many private collections with portraits, marines and landscapes. He has taught art in schools over the nation.

A year ago Cronyn came to Texas seeking new subject matter for landscapes and became interested in the rugged beauty of the Big Bend area in and around Alpine, Marfa and Presidio.

He has decided to adopt the Lone Star State as his own because, "both the land and the people have a great heart."

Check On Defense Spending

It's being proposed that Congress create a committee paralleling the famed Truman Senate War Investigating Committee which saved American taxpayers many millions of dollars during and after World War II.

True enough, we are not now at war. But we are appropriating record peacetime sums for defense. Responsible leaders believe we must keep a close check on how that money is spent.

No standing committees and no existing special committees in Congress now perform that function. Nor do any have the time, the staff or the money to do the job.

In the special field, the nearest thing to that kind of group is the Senate Johnson Committee. Its task, however, is to keep a weather eye on the country's preparedness effort and speak out whenever it discerns a dangerous lag.

The regular House and Senate Appropriations Committees may manage some investigation into expenditures as part of their job of voting funds. But essentially they must concern themselves with plans for new outlays rather than with what has happened to older ones.

Because money wisely and honestly spent on defense contracts is translated into badly needed tanks and guns and planes, the careful policing of arms spending is plainly a matter calling for a statesmanlike, non-political approach.

As the plan now is being considered, that objective seems clearly in view. Senator Ferguson, Michigan Republican who played a key role in the old Truman Committee, is suggesting a 10-member group evenly divided between the major parties. Should the House set up its own group or take part in a joint committee, a similar division is a strong possibility.

When the average citizen recalls the scandals and often colossal waste uncovered by the Truman Committee, he must look forward impatiently to the creation of a new watchdog committee to safeguard his tax money today.

Once a defense program really gets rolling, its size and speed of operation inevitably bring waste in their train and provide powerful temptation to men seeking a big killing.

Just the mere fact that a special investigating committee exists would act as a deterrent to fraud and a spur to efficiency. For every man involved in a defense contract would know that any slip he might make could easily be front-page news in some future congressional hearing.

There seems good reason why the creation of such a committee is regarded by top Washington lawmakers as a basic part of our defense structure.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

To Quit Or Not To Quit—That's The Korean Question

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Militarily, the United States and its United Nations allies are walking on a narrow ridge trail in Korea.

They can fall off this trail in two ways. If they fall to one side, they get overinvolved in a general Asian war. The United States could get involved in such a war in five minutes if it chose.

For while the Russians may not be ready to start one of their own accord, events in Korea prove they are willing to risk such a war. They won't back down from it if it should come.

If the United Nations fall off their narrow military trail to the other side, it would mean evacuating Korea and trying to pretend that the Communist aggression there simply didn't exist.

One of these courses of action is probably as dangerous as the other. Allowing the Reds to take over in Korea means they will then take over in Indo-China, the rest of Southeast Asia, or wherever they will.

That is why it is maintained that General MacArthur's forces must hang on and keep fighting. What it involves is trying to keep the Korean war from spreading to bigger war, until the anti-Communists are better prepared for it, or are strong enough to prevent it.

The prospect for this kind of holding action is dark, but not as hopeless as some people would make it. There is considerable military opinion that a beachhead can be held in South Korea, even against superior Communist numbers.

It's Not An Easy Trail
It will take guts, but American military leaders and their forces have the determination to hang on, if the home front will stand for the casualty reports. Assuming Communist casualties of even 10 or more to every one UN casualty, it becomes a costly war of attrition.

Red Army tacticians have an utter disregard for the lives of their own troops, and the Russians seem willing to sacrifice their satellites to the last man. So Korea may not be such a bad spot in which to destroy Communist armies at a minimum cost.

What is needed more than anything else is a United Nations decision that the anti-Communist countries must send more troops and equipment to support the Korean defense.

There has been no indication that the British, Canadian, Turkish or other UN countries want to pull their troops out of Korea in the face of a worsening situation. The difficulty seems to be that the United States and all its allies do not have the reserves of trained and equipped troops ready for active duty as replacements for General MacArthur.

Demands for equipment have been so great that the U. S. does not have enough for its own new divisions being formed and for new divisions being called up in Europe, Australia and New Zealand demobilized so far that they have to begin rearming all over again.

Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa, about whom there has been so much controversy, are short of equipment in most units. The major consideration on use of these troops, however, is whether it would not lead to an all-out war against Red China. And again, the equipment does not exist to supply such a war.

One of the greatest sources of manpower for General MacArthur's replacements has been South Korea.

On the other side of the picture, it may be asked why the Russians didn't do this anyway, to win a quick victory. They may still do it. But when they do, it will mean a swift retaliatory bombing of Russian and Chinese cities. Both sides have been willing to fight on this stand-off strategy, as long as they could, to avoid an all-out world war.

Questions and Answers

Q—How large do sperm whales grow?
A—Sperm whales often grow to 80 feet in length and weigh up to 80 tons. In their huge heads is located a "case" which contains from 15 to 25 barrels of valuable sperm oil so highly productive in its light quality that today candle power is measured by the sperm candle.

Q—How many bridges link the Florida Keys?
A—There are 39 concrete bridges, from 20 yards to seven miles long, which connect the thousands of tiny keys between Miami and Key West.

Q—Is there a loss of vitamin C in frozen orange juice?
A—Not much. Reliable studies indicate that a good manufacturing process protects at least 90 per cent of the initial vitamin content.

Q—How does the Army acquire its dogs for the K-9 Corps?
A—The Army, as it needs dogs, buys them outright, in contrast to past policy when they were largely donated.

Q—How late may peonies be planted?
A—Peonies and peonies may be planted up until the ground freezes.

Some turtles often lay as many as 150 eggs at a time.

"Are you married, engaged—is there a boy friend?"
"Oh look, brother. I..."
He reached out and took her hand. "Wait a minute, May. You're wrong. This isn't what you think it is. I'm not on the make and I'm not just a nosy guy. Look, instead of my asking you a lot of questions, I'll tell you frankly how I size you up. Then, if you want, you can tell me if I'm right or wrong, or tell me where to get off."

She withdrew her hand from his. His questions and his manner confused her. He wasn't trying to be fresh. He was excited and nervous. She knew that she was reacting to his apparent tension. "It would be better if she walked away, but she can't. Go ahead. I'll see how I like it."

He smiled his gratitude. He studied her before speaking. She realized that she was blushing. She was conscious of her too thin figure, her rough hands. His voice was soothing.

"You're about twenty-two or three, May. My guess is that you were born nearby and have never been far away. Your father was probably a coal miner. You've had a pretty rough time of it. I don't think you're married or engaged and I don't think you have too serious a boy friend. I think you live alone, May, and I don't think you're happy."

She looked down at the table. It was as though he had torn the clothes from her. No, not torn, it was too gentle. She spoke huskily. "I'm twenty-four."
"And the rest is right?"
She met his eyes again. It required an effort. "Why don't you think it's married or engaged or have a boy friend?"

He pointed to her hand. "You're not wearing any rings and as far as the boy friend is concerned, I just feel that if I was your guy I'd raise particular Cain if you took a job in a dump like this." A touch of warmth mingled with her embarrassment. It was such a little thing, but this man had a way of saying things that made her want to believe him.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Senate investigators probe Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley's story; No basis yet found for claims he assumed father's debt; Senator McCarthy adds Statepost and Joe Alsop to 'Communist' list.

WASHINGTON—Senator Guy Gillette's election investigating committee has dug up sensational information regarding the Dewey-Hanley controversy which turned the GOP high command into a lather last October.

Most sensational development of the recent election campaign was a letter by New York's Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley, candidate for the Senate on the Republican ticket, revealing that he had received certain job promises from Governor Dewey if he would not run for governor.

Simultaneously, it was revealed that Hanley already had been loaned $30,000 by anti-Dewey forces including Congressman Kingsland Macy and Publisher Frank Gannett, in order to pay back debts and help him run for governor. But, despite this loan, Hanley bowed out of the gubernatorial race in favor of Dewey.

At that time Hanley explained he needed the money to pay off a debt of honor incurred by his father. However, Senate investigators, after considerable probing, have about come to the conclusion no such debt existed.

Two Senate investigators, Edward McDermott and Bruce Altman, went to see Hanley in a Hudson, N. Y., hospital during the election campaign and interviewed him in the presence of his doctor and his son.

Hanley told the probers he had inherited a $75,000 debt from his father in a Muscatine, Iowa, bank which had gone into receivership. Under a state law, Hanley explained, stockholders in a bank had to pay a double assessment. He said he had paid most of it, but had $31,000 left to pay.

Senate investigators asked for more details including the name of the bank, but Hanley's son cut them off.

"Your time is limited," he interrupted. "Let's not go into ancient history."

No Trace Of Loan
The Senate agents now have gone to Iowa and checked the six banks in Muscatine County that folded in the 1920's and 1930's. They are: The American Savings Bank of Muscatine, Atalissa Savings Bank of Atalissa, Nichols Savings Bank of Nichols, Citizens Savings Bank of Wilton Junction, Citizens Savings Bank of West Liberty, and the Pleasant Prairie Savings Bank of Pleasant Prairie.

However, they could find no record of any bank stock in the name of John R. Hanley, Joe's father.

The investigators also checked the comptroller of the currency in Washington and failed to find any bank in Muscatine County with a double-assessment liability which closed during this period.

They also checked the probate file of Hanley's father at Muscatine. The sworn statement of the probate officer showed the elder Hanley had left $100 in cash, $500 in personal effects, a building valued at $20,000, but no stocks, no bonds, and no debts.

In order to be absolutely fair to Hanley, the Senate subcommittee now is running down another lead. Congressman Macy, who loaned Hanley part of the $30,000, has told the investigators that Hanley mentioned a man in Iowa who kept pressing him for payment of a

By BOYCE HOUSE
A touring American go-getter noticed an Indian chief lolling in the doorway of his wigwam. "Chief," the tourist asked, "why don't you get a job?"

"Why?" granted the chief. "Well, you could make a lot of money, maybe $40 or $50 a week."

"If you worked hard and saved your money, you'd soon have a bank account; wouldn't you like that?"

"Why?"
By this time, the go-getter was exasperated. He yelled, "With a bank account, you could retire and then you wouldn't have to work anymore."

"Um—not working now," said the chief.

This Last Night

THE STORY: May, a waitress in Pete's tavern in a West Virginia coal mining town, is curious about a stranger, dressed like a miner, who occupies one of the booths. The man looks tired, and as if he were tired, or to great nervousness. When the radio starts an news broadcast, the stranger listens. A commentator tells the story of what he terms "a marriage of convenience." The father of a little girl, Judy Twing, returned from the war and found his wife had left him for another man. The father, committed suicide, and his brother, Paul Twing, had attempted to obtain legal custody of Judy, but had failed and the child had remained with her unworthy mother.

The stranger in the tavern, who had child after school one day and had taken her away. Now Paul Twing had returned from the war, a crime punishable by death. The stranger in the tavern, who had been a broadcast, tells May that a $2000 reward would result in Paul Twing's quick capture. But May asks: "Who would take such money?"

"I just thought he might," she shrugged. "It would be easier. They're looking for a man and a little girl. If he has a woman with him and maybe dressed Judy up as a boy they'd have a better chance."

"Plenty of people would grab $2000," he said. "You know, everyone isn't as ready as you to swallow the story as that commentator told it." He gestured with his thumb toward the radio. "Maybe they figure that Paul Twing must be wrong, or the courts wouldn't have let the mother keep the kid. How about that? How do you know he's got the facts straight?"

His cynicism infuriated her. The incessant toying with the beer glass tore at her nerves. She ripped the glass from his fingers and, leaning on the table, fired her words right at him.

"Then tell me why the father killed himself! Tell me why Judy told the stories she did about the way her mother treated her! Sure, those smart lawyers said she made it up and they brought in a bunch of her friends to tell about stories the little girl had told, but what normal kid doesn't make up stories when it's fun?"

"And tell me this: why, if it isn't true, did the uncle go to all that expense and trouble to fight it through the courts and then take the chance he's taking now to get her away from that woman? Why?" she demanded, breathing angrily, waiting for his reply.

He wrinkled his brow and pursed his lips as though weighing her words. "What chance has he got of getting away with it?" he asked quietly. His eyes met hers. She stood erect and stared out of the window into the barren street. She felt dejected and spent. "I don't know," she said, "but he must have some plan. He must have thought it out first. He probably has some woman with him, someone who loved him enough to share the chance."

Are you married, engaged—is there a boy friend?

"Oh look, brother. I..."
He reached out and took her hand. "Wait a minute, May. You're wrong. This isn't what you think it is. I'm not on the make and I'm not just a nosy guy. Look, instead of my asking you a lot of questions, I'll tell you frankly how I size you up. Then, if you want, you can tell me if I'm right or wrong, or tell me where to get off."

She withdrew her hand from his. His questions and his manner confused her. He wasn't trying to be fresh. He was excited and nervous. She knew that she was reacting to his apparent tension. "It would be better if she walked away, but she can't. Go ahead. I'll see how I like it."

He smiled his gratitude. He studied her before speaking. She realized that she was blushing. She was conscious of her too thin figure, her rough hands. His voice was soothing.

"You're about twenty-two or three, May. My guess is that you were born nearby and have never been far away. Your father was probably a coal miner. You've had a pretty rough time of it. I don't think you're married or engaged and I don't think you have too serious a boy friend. I think you live alone, May, and I don't think you're happy."

She looked down at the table. It was as though he had torn the clothes from her. No, not torn, it was too gentle. She spoke huskily. "I'm twenty-four."
"And the rest is right?"
She met his eyes again. It required an effort. "Why don't you think it's married or engaged or have a boy friend?"

He pointed to her hand. "You're not wearing any rings and as far as the boy friend is concerned, I just feel that if I was your guy I'd raise particular Cain if you took a job in a dump like this." A touch of warmth mingled with her embarrassment. It was such a little thing, but this man had a way of saying things that made her want to believe him.

First '51 Baby-

I are more than grateful and we want to thank every merchant and business firm for the wonderful gifts presented Johnnie Pain. Thanks to everyone.

The Overstreets have been residents of Midland the last three years, having moved here from Eastland County early in 1948. They have two other children, a boy, David Dewayne, age four, and a daughter, Vicky Gail, who was two years old last Sunday, December 31. Vicky Gail was a close contender for the Baby Derby awards two years ago.

"David and Vicky really are excited about their new brother and hardly can wait for him to get home," the beaming father stated.

Overstreet, an exceptionally busy man, holds down two jobs in earning a living for his family. He works for the Doran Produce Company during the day and drives a Checker Cab at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet were married in 1945 at Grandbury, Texas. Mrs. Overstreet formerly resided in Fort Worth, while her husband is a native of Eastland County.

Overstreet will be even busier the next several days claiming the first baby gifts offered by the following Midland merchants and professional men: Midland Floral Company, Newbie W. Ellis Chapel, Colbert's, Beauchamp's, The Bootery, City Drug, Kiddies Toggery, Simmons Paint & Paper Company, Vosatko's, The United, Williams' Studio, Hughes Jewelry, Dunlap's, Pelletier Shoes, Palace Drug.

Borden's, Browne's Magnolia Service, Houck's Jewelry, Furr Super Markets, Fashion Salon, Barnard's Flowers, Wilson's, Snowwhite Laundry, Pioneer Insurance & Finance, Quincy Belles-Flowers, Kruger Jewelry, Midland Hardware & Furniture Company.

Must Enlist Before Draft Board Notice For Physical Exams

Men who are classified 1-A by Selective Service who desire to enlist in either the Air Force or Army should contact the recruiting office before they receive notices for physicals.

Sgt. Shelby Wheelus, Air Force and Army recruiter here, made that statement Wednesday.

"Several men have sought to enlist after they received notice from the draft board for physicals," Wheelus said, "but after a person receives such a notice he is not eligible to enlist."

Due to the increased quotas of the Midland draft board, some men are receiving physical notices before they had anticipated them.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Village Of Marmosets

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, and Mugwump Monkey with him, was walking through a strange part of the Great Forest. Around and up in the trees was the Village of the Marmosets. The marmosets were small monkeys. Their little houses were in the tops of the trees here and there. The houses were not very close together, and only one marmoset lived in each house, because the marmosets were cross and cranky. They always found fault with anything anyone did. No one wanted to live with them, and no marmosets ever wanted to live with another. Too cross. Much too cross. Much too cranky, too. At least that was what everyone said. Daddy Ringtail was explaining in Mugwump's face and gave him a talking-to then and there. She said for him not to be blowing bugle music. "Yes ma'am," said Mugwump. "Yes'm. Yes indeed. Yes ma'am another again." The marmoset climbed again back up her tree. She slammed the door of her house behind her. "Phew!" said Mugwump about the talking-to she had just finished giving him. Daddy Ringtail said that maybe they should go, but Mugwump said he wanted to wait. Why, Daddy Ringtail once had told him there is something happy and good about everybody, if only you can wait to see what it is.

it all to Mugwump. Daddy Ringtail said: "Just to see how cross they are, blow your bugle for some bugle music to go up through the air to the house up there."

Mugwump did blow some bugle music. Quickly then, the door to the marmoset house came open. Down to the ground slid the marmoset. What a little old lady she was! Glasses on her nose. A little apron around her. Why, she was as old as Grandmother Ringtail, but not a bit friendly at all like Grandmother Ringtail was so very friendly. The marmoset shook her finger

American Sails Own Yacht 16,000 Miles

PENANG, MALAYA — (AP) — A 38-year-old American, after sailing 16,000 miles in his own yacht on a round-the-world tour, has found the people of Far East "very friendly."

Alfred Peterson, from Brooklyn, New York, reached this North Malayan port after visiting several islands in the Pacific, Sydney, Port Moresby, Ball, Sourabaya, Jakarta, Singapore and Port Swettenham, after piloting alone, his 33-foot, 12-ton "Stormway." He is a tool-maker by trade and a bachelor.

It is estimated that seven million men in the United States are duck hunters.

Williams Feed Store Has Proper Feed Requirements

Selected chicks and proper feeding are top requirements for good results in raising chickens and Williams Feed and Supply Company, 1403 East Highway 80 can take care of these.

Reactivation Of Bowie Protested By Land Owners

BROWNWOOD —(AP)—Thirty-five persons who own or lease land in the former 118,000-acre Camp Bowie maneuver area don't want the World War II training camp reactivated.

Among other things the Brown and Mills County residents say reopening the camp would invite atomic destruction of Brownwood.

The group organized here Tuesday and raised $900 to push a protest against the possible reactivation.

The petition sent to Texas senators and Congressman O. C. Fisher urged the government to use its future land in the Far West for military expansion.

"Why should the people of this area openly invite almost certain death and extinction in exchange for the doubtful and uncertain benefits that might accrue to a few grocery dealers and cafe men by locating the camp here?" the petition asked.

The petition informed the Texas lawmakers the former Camp Bowie land would cost the government six to eight million dollars. It said more than 50,000 cattle and sheep are now being pastured on the area.

Camp Bowie was declared surplus in 1946 and most of the acreage now is owned privately.

Orders now are being taken by Williams for baby chicks and you are requested to get yours in early for delivery on schedule.

Purina Chick Starter will give those chicks that healthy start which is so necessary at that stage.

Free delivery service is maintained by Williams. The telephone number is 2011.

The firm can take care of any needs in feed, hay and field and garden seeds.

Large Handler
Williams Feed and Supply Company is recognized as one of the largest handlers of bulk garden seed in this section of West Texas. Spray mixtures are stocked at reasonable prices, as well as livestock remedies, miscellaneous hardware, poultry supplies including brooders, and power sprayers for cattle.

Purina Layena, a complete ration, provides everything in one bag for laying hens. There is nothing else to feed and it is another Purina product which is recommended by Williams.

Williams can supply Milk Chow and Cow Chow for dairy cattle. For range feed the firm suggests Cattle Checkers, a Purina balanced ration.

There is a Purina feed for every requirement and you are invited to come in and talk over a feeding plan to fit your particular needs.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Among the quality appliances handled are Gibson refrigerators, RCA radios, Apex washers and sweepers and dozens of other items.

K&K Company Serves You In All Kinds Of Weather

Complete wash and lubrication service is offered by the K&K Tire Company, 619 West Wall Street, distributor of Goodyear tires and tubes and Shell petroleum products. The K&K has trained personnel in charge of all its operations. The firm has 12 employees to serve its ever-growing list of customers.

You need not hesitate to bring your auto in for a wash job in severe weather, since it doesn't work a hardship on the personnel at K&K. The wash rack is equipped with warm water. The water used in this operation also is softened.

A complete line of auto accessories and batteries is stocked by the firm and in addition there is a selection of hardware items.

Complete road service is offered, according to W. G. Keeler, owner. Autos will be picked up for washing and lubrication and then will be delivered, an added convenience to the customer.

S&H Stamps Given
The telephone number is 2700. S&H green stamps are given with purchases.

K&K claims the largest wheel-balancing service in Midland.

The concern does both retail and wholesale business. Items which may be purchased, wholesale include tires, tubes and batteries.

Truck washing and lubrication are other services offered by the K&K.

Keeler has resided in Midland since 1943. He has had sole ownership of the K&K Tire Company since last April.

Small appliances, including toasters, Motorola radios for automobiles and Arvin table models for the home, are stocked.

Texan Donates Skin To Save Girl's Life

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. —(AP)—A Texan has given part of his skin so a horribly burned eight-year-old girl might live.

William R. Thump, 21 of Fort Worth, was one of six volunteers who gave a total of 288 square inches of skin for Susan Latonick. Some 55 per cent of her body was covered with the new skin in a two-hour operation. Thump has been visiting here.

Hospital attendants said the child was in a critical condition.

RECEIVER NAMED

DALLAS —(AP)—Fred T. Alford, Dallas businessman and certified public accountant, has been named receiver of Texas Consolidated Oils, Inc. District Judge John A. Rawlins put the firm into receivership Tuesday.

Unless automobile tires are changed systematically, the right rear one is the first to show signs of wear.

Bulldogs Rap Cub Quints

The Midland Bulldog cagers copped a pair of games from the invading Brownfield Cubs in the MHS gym Tuesday night, displaying more hustle and all-around ability than at any time this season.

The varsity Bulldogs turned the tables on the Brownfield first liners, winning 38-34. It gave Midland revenge for an earlier 45-39 loss to the Cubs.

John Higdon's 'B' team racked up its fifth win in six starts, bowling the Cub reserves over to the tune of 42-31.

The nice eye of Dale Stice, the floor-work of Bob Burks and the hustle of Reed Gilmore combined to lead Midland past the Cub varsity. Midland never was behind. Brownfield tied the score on three different occasions. It was knotted at 3-3, 23-23 and 25-25, but the Purple cagers always pulled away.

Stice broke the ice for Midland early in the game with a set shot, and Midland was off to a 13-8 lead at the end of the first quarter. Five quick points by Gilmore in the second quarter increased the Midland lead to 20-12, but Brownfield started a fast break that chopped Midland's halftime lead to 20-18.

In the third frame, Stice flipped a one-hander in from near the free throw circle to break a 23-23 tie. With the count again tied, this time at 25-25, Stice repeated to send Midland in front 27-25.

Big Ralph Brooks took over then, scoring six points in the last three minutes as Midland sacked up its third win in eight starts.

Jesse Hatfield and Bobby Culpepper teamed again for scoring honors to lead the 'B' team to its 42-31 triumph. Hatfield, playing a beautiful floor game and hustling all over the court, scored 13 points. The amazing Culpepper tallied 23 points, and was sharp at faking and ball-handling. Johnny Kennedy played a heads-up ball game, feeding Culpepper and Hatfield with much success.

Sooners Fare Best As Bowl Sponsors Ladle Out 'Gravy'

NEW YORK—(AP)—The football bowl sponsors began lading out some $2,000,000 in gravy Wednesday, with seven colleges assured of sopping up $75,000 or more apiece.

They are Oklahoma, Kentucky, California, Tennessee, Texas, Clemson and Miami.

Because of the intricate conference commitments, it takes a battery of auditors to figure out the distribution. But when it's done, Oklahoma comes out best of all—even though it couldn't do it on the field against Kentucky.

The Sooners stand to pocket $113,300 in round figures from the $120,000 handed out to each of the combatants in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. The other $6,700 goes to the Big Seven conference, which takes 11 per cent of the first $55,000 and one per cent of each $5,000 over that.

Kentucky, 13-7 winner of the game, must fork over 25 per cent right away to the Southeastern Conference, leaving the Wildcats $90,000 to grovel at.

California also should net around $90,000 from its performance in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, which grossed around $335,000 after taxes.

The Rose Bowl turns over the money to the two conferences—the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast—and this year it amounts to about $165,000 for each.

The Golden Bears, beaten by Michigan 14-6, get 50 per cent of the overall conference take plus one-ninth of what's left. The other eight-ninths is distributed in equal portions to other members of the conference.

A unique "share the wealth" plan leaves Michigan, winner of the oldest and richest bowl of them all, holding a very short end of the stick.

The Big Ten carves its $165,000 into 11 little hunks, giving two to Michigan and one each of the other conference members. The Wolverines should wind up with around $30,000.

Get $120,000 Each

The Cotton Bowl, where some 75,000 fans watched Tennessee stun Texas 20-14, says the two teams will get around $120,000 each. The Southeastern and Southwest Conferences take one-fourth, leaving the contestants $90,000.

Clemson and Miami each received $75,000 flat for playing in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The Southern Conference can, by rule, take 10 per cent of Clemson's swag but probably won't. Miami, beaten 15-14, gets to keep it all.

Purses drop off sharply from that point. Wyoming was guaranteed $30,000 and Washington & Lee $25,000 by the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville. The Sun Bowl at El Paso, is forking over $15,000 to Cincinnati and $12,000 to West Texas State. The Salad Bowl is dishing out $12,500 to Miami of Ohio and $8,500 to Arizona State.

Scoring is evenly distributed among the Midland Bulldog varsity cagers, after eight games. High man Robert Keisling has tallied 51 points, just eight higher than runner-up Bob Burks—and Burks holds only a one-point edge over Dale Stice.

The 'B' situation is different. Bobby Culpepper, with 110 points in six games, is far and away the leader. Jesse Hatfield is second with 61 points. Far down the line in points scored in third place is Johnny Kennedy, with 11 points.

A complete scoring tabulation of both squads follows:

'Tugboat' Declines Amarillo Offer

By LARRY KING

Because a man's superiors worked hand in hand with him, because his fans were so considerate and because "his boys" were willing to do their best job for him, that coaching man is staying in Midland when he might better himself by leaving.

That man is Midland High School's Coach Thurman L. (Tugboat) Jones.

Coach Jones Among Nominees For Coach Of Year (50) Award

DALLAS—(AP)—Lamar Camp of John Reagan (Houston) was voted as Texas High School Coach of the Year Tuesday, by the Texas Sports Writers Association in Dallas.

Camp won out over a field that included Thurman L. (Tugboat) Jones, Midland, Byron Rhome, Sunset (Dallas), Tom Pruett, Grand Prairie, Ted Dawson, Temple, Johnny Kitchen, Austin, Joe Golding, Wichita Falls, C. R. Pattison, Lubbock, Murray Stephenson, Sinton, Dan Stallworth, Baytown, Neal Dillman, Kermit, and Tom Tipps, Pampa.

The Golden Bears, beaten by Michigan 14-6, get 50 per cent of the overall conference take plus one-ninth of what's left. The other eight-ninths is distributed in equal portions to other members of the conference.

Bradley Back On Top As Nation's No. 1 College Cage Squad

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bradley's unbeaten basketball team, winner of the final Associated Press poll in 1950, is back on top Wednesday as the No. 1 college five in the country.

The newly-crowned Sugar Bowl champions, who knocked off five opponents in the last seven days to extend their string to 13 straight victories, gained top honors in a land-slide vote by 215 sports writers and sportscasters.

Runnerup to Kentucky in the first two weeks of the poll, Bradley forced to the front by getting 152 first place votes and enough seconds and thirds to outscore Oklahoma A&M, 2,106 points to 1,515.

Kentucky, upset by St. Louis 43-42 in the first round of the Sugar Bowl tournament, dropped to third place. The Aggies (12-9) moved up a notch on the strength of triumphs over Baylor, Texas and Arkansas. They received 11 first place nominations to nine for Kentucky. The Wildcats earned 1,472.

Behind the big three come Long Island University (8-0), St. Louis (9-2), Indiana (7-1), North Carolina State (11-1), Villanova (8-0), Kansas State (9-2) and Wyoming (12-0).

Other teams receiving votes included Southern Methodist.

Four Top Circuits To Lead Fight On Televising Games

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four of the nation's biggest athletic conferences will lead a fight against "live" television of football games at the NCAA convention in Dallas next week.

They are the Big Ten, Eastern College Athletic Conference, Southwest and Southeastern.

The sprawling ECAC, numbering 91 institutions on the Atlantic coast, has decided to make no 1951 TV commitments until the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting January 11-13.

Ralph Furey of Columbia, chairman of a committee set up to study the effect of television on sports attendance, reported to the ECAC general meeting:

"Live telecasting of sports events presents a threat to the institution of intercollegiate athletics."

The Big Ten banned live telecasts on conference games last year. Some non-conference games were telecast and the committee blamed a three per cent drop in attendance on these and other televised games.

The Southeastern Conference voted unanimously at its annual meeting to bar direct telecasting of football games. The 12-college group is prepared to support a similar proposal at the national convention.

The Southwest Conference, which reported the highest crowd gain in the nation last fall, permits live television only on sellout games. It is reported ready to back a move against live telecasts, under any other circumstances.

An NCAA committee, headed by Athletic Director Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh, is making a nationwide survey of the problem and will report to the convention.

More Money Spent By 81st Than Any Peacetime Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 81st Congress which officially gave way Wednesday to its successor spent more money than any peacetime Congress—more than $110,000,000,000—and passed much other major legislation.

While it rejected key items in President Truman's "fair deal" program, under the impact of the crisis following the Korean war it voted virtually every penny Truman asked to rearm this country and its friends.

Then, too, it gave Truman sweeping powers over the nation's economy, including authority to invoke controls over wages and prices when he thinks they are necessary. With that went power to allocate scarce goods, to ration the necessities of life and to control credit.

To help pay for the increased financial load brought on by the critical world situation, the lawmakers twice voted to raise taxes. The aggregate increase amounted to some $8,000,000,000 a year on individuals and corporations.

During its two-year life, Congress extended the Selective Service law and approved legislation to permit the drafting of doctors and dentists. Continues Assistance.

It continued the stream of economic help to Western Europe and other areas and on top of that voted a vast program of foreign military aid. The Senate ratified the North Atlantic Treaty calling for mutual assistance against attack.

In the short session which started November 27 and ended Tuesday, Congress voted the second tax boost, authorized a huge civil defense program, voted some $30,000,000,000 in new defense funds and extended rent controls once again, this time until March 31.

Earlier it had given a go-ahead on the "point four" program of aid to backward areas and extended the reciprocal trade program.

Benefits Increased
It increased Social Security benefits and brought some 10,000,000 more persons under the system. It raised the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour. It passed a $1,500,000,000 slum clearance and low cost public housing program, and it removed federal taxes on oleomargarine.

It ignored or rejected such presidential requests as those for statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, compulsory health insurance, the Brannan Farm Price Support Plan, federal aid for local schools, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and the so-called civil rights measures.

Over Truman's veto the lawmakers approved the anti-subversives law which calls for registration of Communists and front groups and increases the penalties for spying and sabotage.

Two New Judges Sit First Time In State Courts

AUSTIN—(AP)—Two new judges sat Wednesday for the first time in the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The Court of Criminal Appeals had a new presiding judge. Will Wilson of Dallas was the new associate justice of the State Supreme Court, after his formal induction Tuesday by Chief Justice J. E. Hickman.

W. A. Morrison of Cameron was inducted to the Court of Criminal Appeals by F. L. Hawkins, presiding judge who retired as of January 1. Harry M. Graves became presiding judge.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also named Glenn Haynes of Wichita County as its new chief clerk. He will succeed the late Olin Flinger.

New six-year terms on the Supreme Court were started Wednesday, by Associate Justice Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro and Meade F. Griffin of Plainview. Both had been appointed to the court for unexpired terms and were elected in the general election.

Republicans Slated To Reelect Taft As Head Of Policy Group

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republican factions which differ on foreign policy played a game of hide and seek Wednesday with a coveted post on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the prize.

With leaders scheduled for reelection at a party caucus (4 p.m. EST), attention centered on the maneuvering of four veteran senators—Bridges and Tobey of New Hampshire, Brewster of Maine and Aiken of Vermont—all in line for the foreign relations post.

The party conference was slated to reelect Senator Taft of Ohio as chairman of the policy committee, Millikin of Colorado as conference chief, Wherry of Nebraska as floor leader, Saltonstall of Massachusetts as assistant leader and Young of North Dakota as conference secretary.

Senate Democrats organized Tuesday. They elected Senator McFarland of Arizona as their new leader and picked Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas as his assistant.

McFarland was elected by a 30 to 19 vote over Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who was the favorite of supporters of President Truman's civil rights program. McFarland had the backing of Southern opponents of that program.

To Ask Continuation
The Democratic caucus decided not to challenge Republican Senator-elect John Marshall Butler of Maryland at the door, but to ask a Senate elections subcommittee headed by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) to continue investigation of Butler's campaign.

Retiring Senator Tydings (D-Md.) defeated by Butler, charged scurrilous literature was circulated against him.

If Millikin is reelected as GOP conference chairman he will appoint six senators who will serve with the five leaders on the policy committee. He also will name a committee on committees—which Senator Butler of Nebraska may head again—to assign Republicans to committees.

Aiken has made a formal application for the foreign relations post which Republicans are picking up the new Congress because they have added strength. They now will have six members on the committee, instead of the five held in the last two years. Democrats now will outnumber them by one vote instead of two.

Haven't Asked Formally
Although Bridges, Brewster and Tobey haven't applied formally for the vacancy, a behind-the-scenes battle for the seat is underway between Republicans of opposing foreign policy views.

The assignment finally will be made on the basis of length of Senate service and Tobey told a reporter he is willing to step out of Aiken's way if no senator higher up in the seniority ranks tries to claim it. Tobey outranks Brewster but not Bridges in length of service.

Aiken and Tobey represent the wing of the party which customarily supports major international moves by the Truman Administration.

Bridges and Brewster usually side with the Republican group which is far more critical of the Administration's handling of foreign problems, although they are not listed among what President Truman has chosen to call isolationists.

4,145 Texans Will Don Uniforms In March Draft Call

AUSTIN—(AP)—Another 4,145 Texas men will be ordered into military uniforms in March.

That induction quota for Texas was announced Tuesday by State Selective Service headquarters.

The call almost duplicates the January and February induction quotas for Texas which has been announced earlier as 4,142 and 4,137, respectively.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, State Selective Service director, said local board quotas for the March call will be made up late this month or early next month.

SLIM LEAD FOR DEMOCRATS IN 82ND CONGRESS
The newsmaps above show how Democrats and Republicans square off in the new Congress. In the Senate, Democrats enjoy a slim 49 to 47 majority, compared to 54-42 in the 81st Congress. The Democratic majority in the House was whittled from 262-172 to 236-198 for the 82nd Congress.

He Knows Where To Take The Injured

Administrator Richard Harrell of Midland Memorial Hospital was Johnny-on-the-spot Tuesday. Driving on U. S. Highway 90 east of Midland, he spotted a collision of two automobiles. He picked up an injured woman and brought her to the hospital he heads.

The woman, Mrs. William L. Gregg of Stanton, was given emergency treatment and discharged.

World Situation Is Lions Club Subject

Bob Bradberry, Lamesa radio station executive, spoke to members of the Midland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer.

He discussed "the world situation." Bradberry explained the wide scope of his subject would necessarily cause him to merely touch the issues.

He was introduced by Gerome Grayum, program chairman. Ed Frickard presided. Joe Barnett was recognized as Junior Lion of the Week.

"There is too much haggling and not enough pulling together," Bradberry said in his talk. "Our holding action can be both difficult and dangerous. We can expect some reverses and setbacks. But we always should pull together despite our differences of opinion. We should know how far is far enough," he said.

Cowden Junior High, 'C' Team To See Action Thursday

The John M. Cowden Junior High Grade cagers and the Midland 'C' squad will meet teams from Andrews in the Junior High gym at 5 p.m. Thursday.

It will be the first action of the year for both Midland teams. The Cowden cagers have been working out for some time under the direction of Coach Bob Cochran. Coach Bernard (Pat) Patterson's 'C' team has held lengthy workouts since football season ended.

Neither Patterson or Cochran have announced starting lineups for the tilt, but both indicated they would try to let their entire squads see action sometime during the game.

Profits Tax—

(Continued From Page One) Congress. He said it acted with commendable speed in completing what he described as a complex piece of legislation.

Here's What It Does: Here is what the bill signed Wednesday does:

1. Imposes a super-tax of 77 per cent of excess corporation profits, made known he would ask still further profits are defined as earnings that exceed 85 per cent of a corporation's average profits for the three best years from 1946 through 1949.

2. Increases the top "normal" tax on corporation profits from 45 per cent to 47. The rate was boosted in the "first installment" tax bill last September from 38 per cent to 45. Under the new bill, the normal rate will be 25 per cent on the first $25,000 of corporation net earnings; 47 per cent on all profits above $25,000, until earnings reach the area of excess profits, and 77 per cent on those earnings that meet the definition of excess profits.

3. However, the new law says a corporation's total tax—that is the combined normal and excess profits taxes—shall not take away more than 62 per cent of its total net earnings.

(Neither the increased normal rate nor the excess profits levy will apply to corporations netting $25,000 or less a year. These small corporations will continue to pay only 25 per cent of their earnings.)

4. An alternate plan is set up for computing excess profits, using a corporation's invested capital instead of its record of earnings as a means of determining what is "excess." This will help principally those corporations with low earnings.

5. The measure embodies numerous other provisions to protect the growth of small industries, regulated industries such as utilities, and depressed industries such as some aircraft, shipbuilding and machine tool corporations.

The law stipulates that the excess profits levy will expire July 1, 1953, unless congress renews it.

Congress—

(Continued From Page One) Maybank, often go to bat for the Administration on economic matters—said they agree with the South Carolina lawmaker the pace of home front mobilization has been far too slow.

No Excuse For It "There's absolutely no excuse for it," said Humphrey, who added that prices and wages should have been frozen as soon as Congress gave President Truman the authority last September.

On the Republican side, Senator Capehart of Indiana said Maybank "rang the bell" and could have gone even further.

"The blame for the delay is President Truman's and his alone," Capehart declared. "I think this new Congress had better take things in its own hands and make it mandatory that the President exercise these mobilization powers."

In another interview, Senator Flannery (R-Vt.) said Maybank had good grounds for his criticism of the Administration but should have laid part of the blame at the door of Congress.

Communists—

(Continued From Page One) layed the word there was little opposition to the Chinese advancing on the city from Abandoned Uijongbu, 12 miles north. The Reds swept through a gap in the defenses of the U. S. 24th Division.

The Eighth Army clamped a tight censorship on news about Seoul until "some sort of official announcement" is made.

Two other American divisions—the first Cavalry and the 25th—and a British brigade were committed to the battle for the battered old city.

Heavy casualties on both sides were reported. The Communists struck first before dawn in light strength. They punched an opening between British and American units and poured through the line 10 miles northeast of Seoul and two miles south of abandoned Uijongbu. More and more Reds swarmed through the gap. They stepped up the intensity of attack with fresh troops.

More Recklessly Shortly after the assault began, an American divisional officer told Stinson the Chinese "are moving recklessly through the hole in our line, risking air attack in a way I have rarely seen. The rigidly disciplined enemy moved down open roads against the blazing strafing runs of light-flying allied warplanes. Carrier planes of task force 77 joined Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers in supporting the withdrawing United Nations ground forces.

Pilots reported killing an estimated 1,200 Reds. This brought to almost 10,000 the Red casualties from air attack alone since the enemy offensive began New Year's eve—but hundreds of thousands of Communists were rolling southward.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported the entire UN line, stretching 150 miles across Korea, was pulling back an unspecified distance. In Eastern Korea, the Reds had pushed as far as 27 miles south of parallel 38, old boundary between north and South Korea.

Two major Red drives were in progress, the Eighth Army said. One led straight toward Seoul down the old invasion road through Uijongbu. The other swept along the Chunchon-Wonju highway toward Wonju, a Central Korea rail and road center. Chunchon, 50 air miles northeast of Seoul, may have fallen to the Reds.

Tense UN troops had waited long hours in the sharp cold for the assault. There had been a brief respite since the New Year's Eve attack. The new assault fell on them like a thunderclap.

(AP correspondent Jack MacBeth, under fire with the 24th Division, reported the Chinese struck before sunrise in company strength. By nine morning the Reds hit in battalion strength and then in regimental force.)

COMPLETE COMFORT AT THE RIGHT PRICE

A short bike ride to elementary if your child is in school, and you won't have to worry about busy street crossings. Should you have two children, perhaps you'd like to use the den for a third bedroom. Of course, you could extend the living room by removing part of a partition. Anyway, it is versatile property, with storage room galore. On Cuthbert Street. Full price, $14,100.

GOOD TASTE ELEGANT

Would you like to have servants quarters? Two spacious bedrooms, and a kitchen you'll love to work in—dish washer and disposal unit. Living room and dining room are carpeted. Twin coat closets on each side of entrance hall. Well located in West End addition. You should see the shrubbery, surrounding trees and beautiful fenced-in lawn. Price, $18,900.

Two bedrooms, two baths, separate dining room, wall-to-wall carpeting. Central heating plus wood-burning fire — place in the large living room. Beautiful room across the back features barbecue pit. Just completed by owner, who is being transferred. If you're interested in something for around $45,000, let's go take a look at this one.

Where Home-Shopping Is A Pleasure

Here's your chance to really enjoy living! A well-planned, comfortable, extra — large 2-bedroom home just out of town on the Andrews highway. Two acres of land, and facilities to care for a big flock of chickens. Plenty of room for an orchard, a big garden or a swimming pool — and still leave all the lawn you'll want to mow! Reasonably priced, too — let us show it to you!

If you need only two bedrooms, but want them large, and if you like a large living room and plenty of closet and storage space, then here's the home for you! Some very nice features, including venetian blinds, electric range, wiring and automatic washer plumbing. It's well located in the West part of town, and on a corner lot. Already financed — no closing costs.

G. I. loans are still available, as well as F. H. A. financing, on the homes now being built in Midland's most popular residential section. Solid construction, good materials and quality workmanship make these home outstanding values. Selections of sites and floor plans are still good — come out today and let us show them to you!

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

Canyon producer on the northwest edge of the Kelley-Snyder field in Scurry County.

This well was completed as a producer from the Canyon reef from pay at 6,780-6,850 feet in April of 1950. It is estimated for 888 barrels of oil per day flowing.

The reef was topped at 6,651 feet, which was minus 4,251 feet. Total depth of 6,850 feet is minus 4,450 feet which is near the top of the water table in the reef.

The pay had been treated with 8,500 gallons of acid before the Canyon completion.

Apparently the production has declined or the water has broken in and the project is to be drilled down to the Ellenburger to try to develop deeper production.

Location is 467 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 338, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it five miles northwest of Snyder.

Idle Spraberry Test In Midland Plugged

Lynn D. Durham of Midland No. 1 Mary E. Turner, project one mile northwest of production in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 7,470 feet in the Spraberry.

The failure was drilled to its present total depth in July of last year. Operator cemented five and one-half-inch casing at 7,248 feet and shot open hole with 600 quarts of nitro glycerin.

The project was swabbed for eight hours. Recovery was load oil and water with no oil reported. The No. 1 Turner has been idle since the above operation.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 44, W. T. Holcombe survey.

Two Failures Are Plugged In Kent

General American Oil Company and Bert Fields have each reported wildcat failures in Kent County.

The No. 1 Mary Chalk, which was drilled by General American in North-Central Kent was plugged and abandoned on total depth of 6,913 feet in lime and shale after developing sulphur water on a drillstem test from 6,720 to 6,838 feet in the top of the reef.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 1, H&GN survey.

Bert Fields ordered the No. 1 Girard Trust abandoned at total depth of 7,357 feet. It is not known whether the reef was found in drilling to that depth.

No shows of oil or gas were logged in any formation the prospector drilled through.

Location is in Central-North Kent County, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 44, block 1, H&GN survey and six and one-half miles northeast of the Salt Creek field which produces from the Canyon.

Extender In Midland Gets South Flanker

Union Oil Company of California has spotted location for its No. 1 R. V. Powell, which is to be drilled as a one-location south offset to Tedd Weiner et al No. 4 O'Daniel, recently completed north extension to the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

The new project will be dug 660 feet from north and west lines of section 1, block 73, T-3-S, T&P survey. That makes it 16 miles southeast of the City of Midland.

It projected to test the regular Spraberry pay of the Tex-Harvey field.

Producer Added To Midland Tex-Harvey

Phillips Petroleum Company has reported the completion of a field well at the extreme west edge of the Tex-Harvey pool of Central-East Midland County.

The new producer was finished for a daily pumping potential of 131.86 barrels of 36-gravity oil from open hole section at 7,113-8,080 feet in the Spraberry. The well made three per cent water on the completion test.

The open hole section had been shot with 1,888 quarts of nitro glycerin.

Gas-oil ratio was reported to be 470-1.

Location of the well is 664 feet from south and 670 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 9, block 37 T&P survey.

Ellenburger Wildcat Staked In Tom Green

L. E. Scherck and E. M. Wahlemaler, both of San Angelo, have set drillsite for their No. 1 Llano County School land, which is to be drilled as a 6,500-foot rotary wildcat in Northeast Tom Green County.

The contracted depth is calculated to take the prospector into the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 35, Llano County school land survey 964.

Scherck and Wahlemaler took scattered leases on 1,000 acres from Bridwell Oil Company, J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls, and Howard G. Green of San Angelo.

Penrod Drilling Company of Dallas has the rotary contract. Roads are now being built and pits dug.

Drillsite is about six miles southwest of Humble No. 1 E. H. Schuch, recent 6,685-foot Ellenburger failure in Coke County.

NW Coke Explorer To Test To Strawn

In Northwest Coke County 16 1/2 miles northwest of Robert Lee, Sun Oil Company has made location for the No. 2 H. L. Bloodworth.

The prospector will be drilled a 7,000-foot rotary wildcat.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 462, block 1A, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles due east of the south part of the Jameson-Strawn field.

Projected depth is slated to take the prospect into the Strawn. Location is just over one and one-half miles southeast of a dry hole from that formation.

Central Kimble Gets Producer, Location

Anzac Oil Corporation and others of Coleman are to drill the No. 1 W. E. Bolt as a 2,300-foot cable tool test three miles west of Junction in Central Kimble County.

It will be spudded 4,410 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of J. Daffner survey 59. The north line of the survey is formed by the Llano River. Operations are to start at the site immediately.

Completed as the second producer in the Ken-Pennsylvanian field of Kimble County, West Texas Oil & Royalty Corporation No. 1 Faulkner pumped 74.5 barrels of 29.7-gravity oil in 24 hours.

Production was through perforations from 2,912 to 2,940 feet, with total depth at 3,157 feet.

Rites Scheduled For John Winborne

Funeral services for John Winborne, Fort Sumner, N. M., rancher and former Midland resident, were to be held in Fort Sumner at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Brief services will be held in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel here at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and interment will be in Fairview Cemetery. The Rev. Vernon Yearby will officiate at the services.

Winborne and his wife were injured in an automobile accident. Winborne died in a Clovis, N. M., hospital Sunday. Mrs. Winborne is in critical condition in the Clovis hospital.

Pallbearers for the services here will be Glenn Brunson, Henry Butler, Leonard Proctor, Foy Proctor, Ed Darnell, J. P. Carson, Sr., Dunn Reiger and Aldridge Estes.

Honorary pallbearers will be Charles Allen, John Roberts, Sr., Lon Roberts, Hillary Bedford, Milard Edison, George Ratliff, B. F. Ward, M. W. Whitmire, Felix Stonehooker, Fisher Pollard, Raymond Lawrence and Frank Cowden.

Survivors include the widow, three daughters and four grandchildren.

Soldier Son Calls Mother In Midland

It is indeed a Happy New Year for Mrs. R. W. Cutbirth of Midland. Tuesday she talked by telephone to her soldier son in Salsburg, Austria.

The call came through at 12:10 p.m. here. At the other end, it was night. The son, Pvt. Harold Cutbirth already had eaten supper before his mother ate lunch over here.

Conversation was clear, although "he didn't sound just like himself," the mother said.

Mrs. Cutbirth had been notified of the call at 8:30 a.m. that morning.

Cutbirth is with a field artillery unit in Austria. He has been overseas since August 1950.

Snow was reported "neck deep" in Salsburg.

Food Price Index Registers Advance

NEW YORK —(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week advanced three cents from a week ago to $63.93—highest since Sept. 14, 1948.

The index, now 20.9 per cent above the year-ago week's $57.73, has not posted a decline since early October when it was $6.48. When the Korean war broke out, it was $5.96.

The index figure represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

and 540 feet from south lines of section 391, block 97, H&TC survey and seven and one-half miles north of Snyder.

Operations will begin immediately.

In the Diamond M-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County, four new tests have been staked for immediate drilling.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Hugh Bidwell is located 330 feet from north and west lines of section 177, block 97, H&TC survey and eight miles southwest of Snyder. Projected depth is 7,000 feet.

Lion Oil Company No. 1 Marr is another new location in the Diamond M-Canyon field. This 6,900-foot project is 660 feet from north and west lines of west half of southwest quarter of section 178, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drillsite for Sun Oil Company No. 8 H. Rosenberg is 660 feet from north and 2,012.9 feet from west lines of section 195, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,000 feet.

About eight miles west of Snyder and in the Diamond M-Canyon field, The Pure Oil Company is scheduled to drill No. 4 Nellie Williamson.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of lease in section 245, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,000 feet.

Sun Oil

In the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County, Sun has spotted No. 2 Elza C. Rollins, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 193, block 97, H&TC survey.

Projected depth is 8,100 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin immediately.

Drillsite is four and one-half miles southwest of Snyder.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 4 Donie is another new test in the Kelley-Snyder field.

Seven Reef Projects Slated For Scurry

Applications have been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas to drill seven new projects in Scurry County.

Standard Oil Company of Texas spotted its No. 12-2 A. C. Martin as a 7,500-foot exploration in the Kelley-Snyder-Strawn field.

Location is 1,861 feet from west

Amerada Abandons SE Scurry Wildcat

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Kubena as an Ellenburger failure in Southeast Scurry County.

The try was quit at 7,813 feet after a drillstem test was taken from 7,718 to 7,813 feet. Tool was open four hours. A light blow of air was to the surface for two hours and 50 minutes.

Recovery was 55 feet of drilling mud and 170 feet of salty sulphur water. Flowing pressure was 100 pounds and 15 minute shut-in pressure was 1,300 pounds.

Location of the dry hole is 809 feet from north and 856 feet from west lines of section 4, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Top of the Ellenburger has not been reported.

Rites Conducted For R. E. (Bob) Lee

Funeral services for R. E. (Bob) Lee were scheduled at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel. Interment was to be in Fairview Cemetery.

Lee, the son of Midland pioneers, died in an Abilene hospital Monday night. He was an active member of the First Baptist Church here. The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was to officiate at the services.

Ed Darnell, Edna Huddleston, O. W. Roberts, Brooks Roberts, Giles Lee and Roy Lee were named as pallbearers.

Survivors include six sisters and two brothers.
