Mass Slaying Suspect Seen In California

BLYTHE, CALIF. — (AP) — A Blythe sheriff's deputy, Homer Waldrip, reported Saturday he had been kidnaped, trussed and left on a highway by W. E. Cook, Missouri ex-convict suspected of murdering an Illinois family of five persons.

Not long after Waldrip's kidnaping, Robert H. Dewey, 32, Seattle, Wash., was stopped on the highway near Ogilby, 18 miles west of Yuma, Ariz. He was shot and killed and his body placed in the Blythe sheriff's car which Cook had commandeered after forcing Waldrip to accompany him on the trip from Blythe to a point 40 miles south of the Imperial Desert.

Waldrip, 27, said he had gone to the Woods Motel near here to question a man and when he got there Cook stepped from a room, stuck a gun in his ribs, took Waldrip's automatic and forced him to drive south. Cook worked in Blythe several months as a restaurant dishwasher and Waldrip, who frequently ate at the restaurant, said he recognized him at once.

Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas police bore down harder in their hunt for Cook, 22, five feet, four and one-half inches tall, of Joplin, Mo. The missing family is Carl Mosser, 33; his wife, Thelma, 29; and their three children, Donald Dean, seven; Gary Carl, five, and Pamela Sue, three.

Officers from the three states converged on Wichita Falls Saturday after Cook was charged with robbing a Texas man, Lee Burd Archer, who had given him a ride. Definitely With Family

The Mosser's car, blood-spattered and bullet-pierced, was found last Wednesday near Tulsa, Okla. The missing family last seen alive at Horatio, Ark., where they stopped for pop and cigarettes last Monday night.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol reported late Saturday that Cook definitely was with the family in Winthrop, Ark., on Monday.

Mrs. Rufus Smith, who operates a Winthrop cafe, and Mrs. Sherman Tuttle, also of Winthrop, identified Cook through a photograph shown them Saturday, the patrol said.

Mrs. Smith told Sid Wilson of the (Continued On Page 12)

Legislature Must Raise 110 Millions

AUSTIN — (AP) — The 52nd Legislature must raise 110 million dollars in new money to pay for state services at the present rate of spending.

That was the paramount point in Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's estimate of income and spending, laid on Gov. Allan Shivers' desk Saturday.

Two days in advance of the session, the comptroller's fiscal estimates reflected some brightness. Calvert figured there will be a general revenue fund balance of six million dollars at the end of this fiscal year September 1. That was based on the assumption spending would not be increased.

Shivers' Non-Committal It also contrasted sharply with the 25 million-dollar deficit that previously had been forecast. Higher oil production was the answer.

Shivers, commenting on the comptroller's estimate, was non-committal when asked specifically whether or not new taxes would be needed to furnish the 110 million of new money.

The governor said he was "hopeful" spending in total could be kept at the present level, but on where the money was coming from, all he would say was:

"I'll have some recommendations on the subject of taxation for the Legislature."

Shivers said he expected to deliver his message on the condition of the state, along with his recommendations to the Legislature on Thursday.

The message will include the governor's budget recommendations. Shivers said he would also have some specific proposals on civil defense legislation, but he would not expand on that statement.

High Winds Lash Alexandria, La. ALEXANDRIA, LA. — (AP) — Winds of tornadic proportions struck downtown Alexandria about 8:15 p.m. Saturday, damaging one building seriously and breaking numerous windows throughout the city.

Eight persons were injured. Civil Aeronautics officials said the wind reached a velocity of 60 miles per hour. It was accompanied by lightning rains.

Electricity was out in some parts of the city. Mayor Carl E. Close estimated the total damage would run between $150,000 and $200,000. He said he ordered the Paramount Theater closed after it was found the rear wall was leaning badly after the winds subsided.

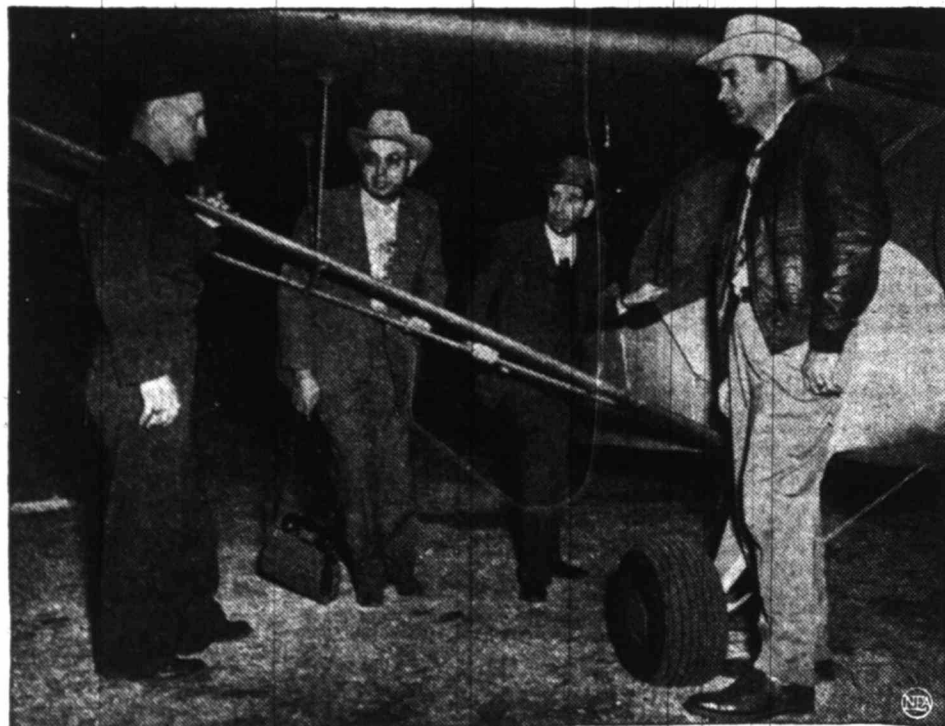

LATE NEWS FLASHES

PHOENIX, ARIZ. — (AP) — The Arizona Highway Patrol Saturday night reported a late model Buick automobile, matching the description of one driven by W. E. Cook, sought in the suspected murder of an Illinois family of five, passed through Yuma late Saturday, heading east.

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA — (AP) — Yugoslavia Saturday night signed a formal agreement with the United States pledging, among other things, a fair and equitable distribution of $70,000,000 worth of food which America is sending as drought relief.

LONDON — (AP) — In a return to wartime restrictions, Britain Saturday night banned all advertisement and display lighting in a move to preserve its dwindling supply of coal.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate crime investigators Saturday night announced they will ask the Senate to cite nine witnesses for contempt of Congress because of their refusal to answer questions.

GOP Leader Backs Proposal To Draft 18-Year-Old Youths

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Basic military training for all 18-year-old youths and combat duty for many of them were advocated Saturday by Senator Martin (R-Pa.), only retired major general in Congress.

"The 18-year-old makes a grand combat soldier," Martin said, adding:

"There is no question that Congress must completely overhaul the present Selective Service Act quickly."

Leaders in both the Senate and House announced that public hearings would begin shortly on Administration proposals for controls over manpower.

These include revisions of the draft act that would lower the induction age from 19 to 18, extend required services from 21 months to 27 or possibly 30 months, and cut down on deferments and exemptions.

After a talk Saturday with President Truman at the White House along with other congressional leaders, Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) said the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee would begin manpower hearings on Wednesday.

"Secretary of Defense Marshall will present the Administration's recommendations," Johnson, chairman of the Senate group, said. He quoted President Truman as saying Marshall will speak for all agencies of the government involved in the manpower question.

The draft act expires July 9 and under it the Defense Department already has called for induction of (Continued On Page 12)

Police Spread Net For Robber-Rapist HOUSTON — (AP) — Police in neighboring cities were alerted Saturday in the search for a man who raped, beat and robbed a 19-year-old Houston housewife.

The attack occurred in MacGregor Palms, on the southeast outskirts of Houston early Saturday. Police believe the attacker was a transient who originally entered the house only to get money.

The housewife was beaten almost unconscious. The left side of her face was swollen badly, a bone in her skull was fractured and she had cuts and bruises on her arms and legs.

The housewife said she heard a noise in the kitchen, went to investigate and bumped into the intruder. After attacking her, the man fled, taking $15 from her purse.

'Ike' Off For Task In Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman sent Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to Europe Saturday with assurances he had "the whole-hearted backing" of the American people in his job of building defenses against communism.

But at the Capitol there was discussion over American cooperation in creating an international European Army, which is Eisenhower's main task as supreme commander for the North Atlantic Treaty powers. Administration officials fear this debate, set off by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) Friday, might weaken Eisenhower's position with the Western Europeans at the outset by raising doubts as to how far the United States is prepared to support them.

The five-star general took off from Washington in an Air Force Constellation for Paris. His departure, attended by Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Marshall and diplomatic and military representatives of Allied countries, was a full dress military ceremony of unusual splendor.

It began with an honor guard inspection by Eisenhower and the President and ended with a 17-gun salute as Eisenhower stood at attention in the door of his plane immediately before the takeoff.

Allies Driven Back On All Korea Fronts

TOKYO — (AP) — The Allies fell back all along the Korean front Saturday before a relentless Red offensive that reached 60 miles south of the 38th parallel in one sector and was at the outskirts of doomed Wonju.

In the west, the Chinese and North Korean Communist drive forced abandonment of the big Allied Air Base at Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul, although action on that front was more desultory.

The Communist force of 210,000 smashing at Wonju on the east-central front was trying desperately to flank the U. S. Eighth Army retreating from Seoul and roll it up against the Korean west coast.

Red and Allied artillery duelled over Wonju, a key road and rail point. Its entire civilian population had fled.

A Red probing unit of about 4,000 men was reported by the U. S. Eighth Army to be 15 miles southeast of Wonju, heading for Chechon. Chechon is another key point on the main rail line from Seoul to Taegu.

Three hundred to 400 advance men of this unit last were reported about five miles from Chechon and about 60 miles south of the 38th parallel boundary of South Korea. From Three Directions

In the Red drive directly against Wonju, AP Correspondent William C. Barnard reported from Wonju at nightfall Saturday that enemy forces were east and west of the city and making a frontal attack from the north.

AP Correspondent Don Huth reported from Eighth Army Headquarters that the Reds overran a command post and mortar positions north of the town. Allied artillery dispersed Reds attempting to remove their dead from the field after that battle, he said.

General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters confirmed that United Nations forces in that general area were forced to withdraw to better defense positions under extreme Communist pressure.

MacArthur's summary said Red troops were massing in the Hongchon-Kaypyong area northwest of Wonju. These forces were elements of Chinese and North Korean units that battled American and South Korean divisions on the Hungnam beachhead two weeks ago.

Also re-elected were Thomas B. Rampey of Tyler, vice chairman, and Paul Bolton of Austin, secretary.

While the President said previously he did not need such approval, Connally said that as a practical matter he expects the European military aid program to be detailed to Congress as soon as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower completes a forthcoming survey.

30-Day Price Freeze No Good, Says Solon WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) Saturday declared the 30-day price freeze the Administration is considering would do no good and only "add confusion to confusion."

But a couple of smart film writers turned producers, Jack Pollexfen and Aubrey Wisberg, are beating 'em to the boxoffice punch with "The Man From Planet X," starring Robert Clarke. The film just wound up after six shooting days and a $50,000 budget.

"It's a nervous A," say Pollexfen, "with a million exploitation angles."

The film carefully avoids any mention of the distance traveled by the strange visitor from Planet X.

"We did it on purpose," Pollexfen grinned. "If we had mentioned the distance some 12-year-old with a slide rule would prove we were bums."

Stewart Weighs 'Harvey' Stage Role With Movie
Making the movie version of "Harvey" in front of a camera, a director, a script clerk and a sympathetic crew of 25 or 30 assorted technical workers proved a much easier job for Jimmy Stewart than his stint with the six-foot-tall invisible rabbit on the stage of a Broadway theater a couple of seasons ago.

The Universal-International film version of "Harvey" the Pulitzer prize-winning comedy hit, opens Sunday and continues through Tuesday at the Yucca Theater here, with Josephine Hull, from the original Broadway production, also in the lead cast.

Stewart, who filled in for Frank Fay in the Elwood P. Dowd role for brief periods in 1947 and 1948, reports that he got along just fine on his Hollywood home base without the help of New York laugh jumpers, quiet approval noddors, first row sleepers, orchestra pit kickers, matinee snufflers and hot-day head fanners.

"Harvey" was produced for the screen by John Beck and was directed by Henry Koster. The comedy's strong supporting cast includes Charles Drake, Cecil Kellaway, Jesse White, Wallace Ford and Peggy Dow.

"We are Americans," he added, "and obstacles to us are things to be feared."

"We have come to the precipice; there is no turning back. We are not to linger long in thought—we must beware lest instead of pushing we be dragged into the future."

Other officers announced at the meeting by Houston Crump, secretary-manager, are J. L. Phoades, first vice president; Charles Perry, second vice president, and A. R. Dyer, treasurer.

Members attending the banquet in the high school cafeteria, were told that the new eight-story Hotel Lincoln, now under construction, will be opened May 1.

C. Of C. Election Results Will Be Posted This Week
The approximately 300 marked ballots returned to the Chamber of Commerce in the organization's first election of directors by mail ballot will be tabulated early this week and the results announced on or before Friday, officials said Saturday. The deadline for voting was last Friday.

The names of 26 candidates for the 13 director vacancies were listed on ballots sent to all C. of C. members. The 13 nominees receiving the most votes will be declared elected for three-year terms.

Harlan Howell, Gerome Grayum and R. D. Scruggs are members of the elections committee.

New Procedure
This is the first year directors have been elected by mail ballot. The procedure is in line with a by-laws amendment approved by members of the organization whereby one-third of the directorate will be elected each year for a three-year term. The Chamber's 40 directors formerly were elected for one-year terms by voice vote of members attending the annual membership meetings in January of each year.

Officers for 1951 will be elected by the new directorate prior to the annual banquet scheduled January 23.

Social Security Field Office Is Opened At Odessa

Increased population and industrial activities in West Texas has required the establishment of a full-time field office of the Social Security Administration in Odessa, according to James H. Bond, regional director of the Federal Security Agency. The office will be opened Monday at 113 West Ninth Street, Odessa. The manager of the new office is Jack B. Calvert.

Calvert is a native Texan and has been employed by the Social Security Administration more than 13 years. He has been employed in the field offices located at San Angelo, Abilene, Dallas and Houston before moving to Odessa, Jan. 1, 1948.

Midland and the surrounding area previously have been served by the agency's field office in San Angelo. The Odessa Field Office will continue to make regularly scheduled visits to Midland. A representative will visit the Midland Texas Employment Commission Office each Thursday at 9 a.m. Any inquiries regarding social security numbers or claims should be sent to the Social Security Administration Field Office, Odessa.

The Odessa office will serve employers and wage earners in 18 West Texas counties.

Q. I am a school teacher. If I should become a conscientious objector, would I be retained in my present position?
A. The way Selective Service looks at it there isn't such a thing as becoming a conscientious objector overnight. When you filled out your questionnaire the first time you should have set forth the religious background which qualifies you to the rights extended conscientious objectors at that time. It's highly doubtful whether a draft board could be convinced of a sudden change in this basic attitude. However, if you are successful in getting the draft status of a conscientious objector there is no reason why you couldn't hang on to your present job.

Q. Next October when I will be 19 I plan to enter a vocational school for radio announcers and broadcast engineers. I am a member of the naval reserve. What will be my draft status then? Will I be able to get a deferment?
A. It's possible that you could get a deferment from the draft as a naval reservist. It would be up to your draft board to decide whether or not the vocational school you enter meets the definition of educational institution for a deferment.

Q. Does the Army take a person who walks in his sleep?
A. It works this way. The Army takes sleep walkers if they meet all the other requirements. Then if they continue to walk in their sleep after induction the Army tries to correct it. There is no record of a man being discharged just for sleep walking.

Q. My son got married after Korea started. Does that keep him out of the service?
A. This is strictly up to the local board. Some boards take post-Korea husbands. Some don't.

Q. My boy friend has one leg shorter than the other. Will they take him on limited duty?
A. Except in extremely rare cases they aren't taking men for limited duty.

Q. My husband is a veteran, and was recently called back to active duty. I am pregnant. Will the Army pay for my hospital and doctor bills?
A. No. But if you are near an Army hospital and its facilities are available you can get the care you need free.

Q. If a person has a dishonorable discharge can he get it changed in any way? Will they draft him in spite of this?
A. If you have found some new evidence which was not available to the service when you were given your dishonorable discharge which might change the ruling you can get a new hearing. But unless it is changed you can't be drafted.

Q. Within two weeks I will be inducted into the Army. I am the only male left in my family. Will this keep me out of combat?
A. Only if you had brothers who were killed in action during World War II.

Q. Our son works on the farm. We need him. But the draft board has notified him that he will be called soon. Is there any chance of getting him out of the Army once he is inducted?
A. Not just to help on the farm. The whole idea of screening men by draft boards is to find the men who are eligible for service. There would be no point to take men in the draft and then release them right away.

Q. Suppose a man in the National Guard and about to be called to active duty should marry a widow with three children. He would then have four dependents. Would that get him out?
A. It might. The case would have to be handled on its own merits, however. There is no pat ruling on this point.

Q. Does the fact that I have had a physical mean that I will be called to active duty from my reserve status?
A. Not necessarily. It does mean that the service is interested in you, however.

DREAM COME TRUE— Diagnostic Clinic For Children Founded Here

A dream of more than two years for the establishment of a diagnostic clinic for the children of indigent Midland families is about to come true.

An organization to direct its operation has been set up, an application for a charter has been filed and by the end of the month it will begin functioning at the Midland Memorial Hospital.

It will be known as the Midland Children's Clinic and has the backing of the city's medical profession, members of which will contribute their services.

But the story began two years ago when the Children's Service League, an organization dedicated to the welfare of the city's children, began making plans for such a clinic.

But the clinic would require money and such funds as the league had were used in meeting the immediate needs, such as food and clothing, for needy children.

Efforts Combined
Then, a year ago, the Children's Service League took its problem to the Midland Service League and the Midland Children's Clinic is the result.

Its operational cost of $2,500 annually will be financed through activities of the Midland Service League and there will be no public subscription of funds.

"There is a definite need for such a clinic," said a spokesman for the group Saturday.

"And it will cost money. But we have $2,500 to see it through its first year of operation. Through benefit balls and other such activities, we hope to maintain the clinic."

Schedule Planned
At its beginning, the clinic, with a paid registered nurse and volunteers assisting the doctors, will be held once a week. Its activities will be broadened as the need arises.

No director yet has been named and no officers elected by the newly-founded sponsoring organization.

But its board of trustees includes Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, Mrs. John Hills, Mrs. John Starr, Mrs. F. B. Cochran and Mrs. C. H. Atchison.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED
Marriage licenses were issued Friday by County Clerk Lucille Johnson to Bobby Jim Tidmore and Myra McReynolds, Otis Adkisson and Edna Lee Stoner, and to Kelly Joe Proctor and Juanita Damron.

Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.—Ecclesiastes 8:15.

Every Free Man's War

In the councils of the United Nations, in the newspapers and over the radio stations of free peoples in many Asiatic and European lands, on the streets and in the shops and factories of their cities, you hear the refrain:

"If the United States and Russia want war, let them fight. But let us stay out of it. Let us be neutral."

No one can attempt to say accurately how widespread these sentiments are. Happily they are not general. But they must be viewed with sadness by all who appreciate how vital it is that free men everywhere stand together to resist the evil course of totalitarian communism.

We know these attitudes spring more from emotion than from reason. The emotion is fear, buttressed by a sense of frustration and defeat.

But in all attitudes rooted in emotion, men seek to find reasons to justify themselves. If these peoples are ever to muster fresh courage to see the reality of their present peril, they must be deprived of the comfort they are gaining from false reasoning about Soviet-American relations.

They profess to see this as a straight-out U. S.-Russian struggle. Actually it involves every corner of the globe. No patch of earth is likely to be unaffected by the final outcome.

The one great reason why the focus is on Russia and this country is that they represent the two poles of supreme strength in the world. We may thank Hitler for that. He so devastated Europe that the balancing power of once-great France and Britain was taken out of the world scales.

When the last battle was fought, only we and the Russians walked away from the field strong. What if the fates of war had decreed it should be Britain and Russia? Can we doubt that all of Russia's venom and energy would today be pouring into a contest with the British?

The vacuum created by Hitler's destruction gave Russia its golden opportunity. It saw easy conquests looming up on every hand. Prostrate nations were ready to topple toward communism. Some did. Others, shored up by the Marshall Plan, narrowly missed.

From the moment Allied victory in World War II was assured, Russia knew this country would be the one real obstacle to its global ambitions. Russia—not the United States—made it a two-nation struggle.

The United States did not seek this fight. It did not seek leadership as a world power. Both these things were thrust upon us by the harsh realities of Europe's post-war ruin.

The Soviet Union directs its fire upon us because we are the only nation that needs to be defeated. How long would any other hold out against the Red tide if we were wiped from the scene?

Far from this being "our" war with Russia, it is every free man's war. If we should go down, they would all go down. The notion that free people somehow may remain neutral and free in a world swept by an all-devouring communism is a feverish fancy, a wild illusion born of night-mare fear.

If troubled peoples in many places do not soon awake from this dream, they will be shaken out of it rudely by the pounding tread of the totalitarian's boot.

Russian Stockpile Is Tip-Off

A dispatch from Central Europe deserves thoughtful attention. It declares that Russia is building a sizable stockpile of war material in Bulgaria.

Rumors along this line have been common for a long time, but this appears to be an authentic account.

No one knows the real purpose of the stockpiling except the Russians themselves. It could be added material for Bulgarian forces poised on Tito's Yugoslav borders, though Bulgaria already has received considerable aid from Moscow.

Arguing against this explanation is the fact that no Bulgarians are allowed anywhere in the stockpiling zones.

The general conviction is Russia wants the material for her own forces, should the day come when she might either contribute to an assault on Tito, or push against Greece and Turkey.

Reports like these—if substantiated—are the best gauge of Russian intentions.

Another argument for slow eating is that what you can afford to chew these days certainly is worth chewing well.

Some folks don't have to have their faces lifted—it grows right up through the hair.

After all is said and done, the successful man does a lot more!

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Pentagon politics behind General Ridgway's appointment to 8th Army command; Chennault urges gold instead of bullets for Communist leaders; Speaker Rayburn pleads for cooperation.

WASHINGTON—Pentagon politics partly were behind the appointment of Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway to replace the late Lt. Gen. Walton Walker as commander of the retreating Eighth Army.

Inside story is that Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, has been looking for someone to displace Gen. Mark Clark, Army Ground Forces commander. It is no secret around the Pentagon that Collins and Clark, both A-1 men, are fusing and feuding.

Clark, who had years of tough combat experience in Italy, now rahks under Collins, who is his junior, but is doing a good job training the Ground Forces.

As a result of this feud, Collins would not be adverse to getting rid of Clark, and has had his eye on Ridgway as a successor in command of Ground Forces. Not only is Ridgway a brilliant general, but he has dash, verve and popular appeal.

He is probably the only general who can out-MacArthur MacArthur in dramatic communications and showmanship.

First step in this proposed shift is to groom Ridgway for promotion to a four-star general. In fact, Collins had been trying to get Ridgway to Korea for some time, both to utilize his dynamic leadership and to push him into the public spotlight.

With Walker's death, therefore, General Collins promptly named Ridgway to the vacancy. General MacArthur didn't even get a chance to state his preference.

Silver Bullets—Squint-eyed, square-jawed Claire Chennault, the veteran China warrior, told the Senate Armed Services Committee behind closed doors that all but one of the Chinese Communist generals can be bribed.

The exception is General Lin Piao, whose troops now are sweeping across Korea. Not only is he 100 per cent loyal to the Russians, but he actually is serving as a deputy to Soviet Marshal Grigori Zhukov, the conqueror of Berlin, who secretly is directing the Korean offensive.

Except for Lin Piao, Chennault urged that the United States use gold instead of bullets to win the Chinese Communist generals over to the American side.

Drunk On Senate Floor—During the confusion of a roll call, a drunk nonchalantly wandered onto the Senate floor, spied Vice President Barkley presiding, walked up and amiably shook hands.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE A minister making his first voyage thought that a storm which was really terrible had developed.

He asked the captain, "Is there any danger?" The captain took him by the arm and led him to the deck where the sailors were at work, then said: "Do you hear those sailors swearing? If the ship was really in danger they would not be cursing; they might even be on their knees praying."

Next day, a more severe storm arose. The preacher hurried to the deck, listened a moment and then said, "Thank goodness, the sailors are still swearing."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

A really bad misfit is fortunately pretty rare. Usually, you have a couple of small cards for your partner's suit, or perhaps he has a couple of small cards for your suit.

Somehow or other you usually manage to scramble into some sort of acceptable contract. But not always. Once in a blue moon, you really get caught. You have no support at all for your partner, and he has none for you.

The disaster shown in today's hand would have been averted if North had passed in good time.

South managed to win five tricks, although an absolutely perfect defense might have held him to four.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and tricks.

tricks. The veterans didn't complain, however. They were perfectly willing to collect 700 points on a hand in which they had never entered the bidding!

The first two bids made by North and the first two bids made by South were quite reasonable. Right there is where the bidding should have ended.

When South began with clubs and then bid and rebid his spades, he showed a minimum of ten black cards. It was impossible for him to hold more than three red cards, and there was a fair chance that he held only two.

North should have known that South could not possibly support either hearts or diamonds. North should have known also that South did not have a very strong hand, since South had never made a jump bid despite his announced good distribution.

In short, North knew that the combined hands were not particularly strong in high cards and were a horrible misfit. He should have passed at once. Perhaps three diamonds, or three hearts or even three clubs would be a better contract but North should have passed at two spades. Any port is a storm!

If North had passed over two spades, East would have passed also. He had no way of knowing that two spades was a very sour contract. He knew that the red suits were stacked against North, but it was quite possible that the hands fitted moderately well at spades.

At two spades undoubted South would have gotten out for only 150 or 200 points. That sort of penalty is not serious, while the actual penalty of 700 points was not only far worse in points but also seriously damaged the partnership morale.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Korean Fighting Overshadows World War I In Many Respects

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—Six months of Korean fighting have given it some of the proportions of World War I. The Korean war is still lower in number of U. S. troops involved and casualty totals. But losses are far greater than in the first six months of our fighting in World War I. And the war in the air is on a far greater scale than was ever dreamed of in 1917.

Accurate figures on the Korean war are clouded by delays necessary to inform relatives of casualties and by military security which censors information of value to the enemy.

U. S. casualties in Korea, confirmed to December 22, included 6,432 dead, 27,012 wounded and 8,571 missing. Total casualties for almost six months were 36,015.

By comparison, total American casualties in World War I were 50,000 battle deaths, 205,000 wounded and 46 finally reported missing in action. There were 120,000 U. S. casualties in the Meuse-Argonne.

American troops that got to France in World War I numbered more than 2,000,000. There were 42 combat divisions of 28,000 men each. Twenty-nine divisions got to the front. The others were broken up for replacements. But there were 10 more divisions in training at home and plans to raise a total of 100.

By contrast, the U. S. division today numbers only 19,000 men, and the Department of Defense officially has announced a force of 19 divisions. There are seven in Korea, one in Japan, two in Germany, three in the U. S., four National Guard divisions called up and two more designated for active duty. This does not include regimental combat teams, anti-aircraft artillery and other specialized units of less than divisional strength.

The greatest number of American troops estimated as being on duty in Korea has been 200,000. To this has been added perhaps 200,000 South Korean troops and up to 100,000 troops from other United Nations. The total is not more than 600,000—less than half the Communist strength.

The United States was in World War I only 19 months—April, 1917, to November, 1919. In the first six months of that war only about 15,000 U. S. troops got to France. First U. S. troops went into the line only on Oct. 21, 1917—seven months after war was declared. So U. S. troops were at the front only a year and 22 days.

The U. S. First Division did not get into the line as a full combat division until April 25, 1918. This was a U. S. front for only the last 200 days—or less than seven months—of the war. This is where the Korean war begins to take on the proportions of World War I.

At the time of greatest American activity in France, October, 1918, the 29 U. S. divisions occupied 101 miles of battle line. This was about a fourth of the European front. United Nations forces in Korea now are holding a front of 150 miles.

It is the increased fire power of these modern U. S. divisions, and their air support, that belittles World War I.

Though the United States made 225,000 30-cal. machine guns in World War I, only 10,000 of them ever got to the front. Only 1,642 artillery units were manufactured in the U. S. and only 447 got to the front. They were mostly 75 mm. Only 8,400 rounds of U. S.-made artillery ammunition were fired at the front. The British and French supplied the deficiencies—the exact reverse of today.

In 1917 the United States had 88 serviceable airplanes and two airfields. By Armistice Day the U. S. had 11,000 pilots but only 4,000 were in France. Three thousand U. S. planes were made, but only 1,800 got overseas and only 740 planes—mostly DeHavilland 4's—were in service at the front the last three months of the war. In the great battle of the Meuse-Argonne, U. S. planes dropped all of 100 tons of bombs on enemy lines in six weeks. That would be only one fair raid today.

The U. S. has more than 740 planes in Korea today and they are far better, bigger and faster than the World War I "flaming coffins." Last June the Air Force admitted having nine groups in the Far East—two medium bombers, one light bomber, one troop-carrier, one all-weather fighter and five day-fighter groups. Since then at least two more medium, one light bomber and one troop-carrier group have been identified as being in Korea. Also, two "units" of jet planes. The Air Force has not further identified them as squadrons or groups.

Navy's Task Force 77 has in addition four big carriers in Korean waters—Princeton, Leyte, Valley Forge and Philippine Sea. Each carries 90 to 100 planes. Also, there are two baby flattops—Sicily and Bandoeng and the larger Bataan, with complements of 30 to 50 planes each. These are used principally by the Marines for ground support.

Against these forces the Chinese Reds and North Koreans now have an estimated 1,850,000 troops, or slightly more than the 1,200,000 men the U. S. had at the height of the Meuse-Argonne.

Questions and Answers Q—What is the origin of the word "jalopy"? A—Its origin is obscure. It may come from the Mexican town, Jalapa, known for its broken-down cars. It may be derived from the Spanish word "galapago" meaning a tortoise, hence a slow-moving vehicle.

This Last Night

By Ford Nashelms Copyright 1951, by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Paul Twing, a former Navy aviator, had been the child of his dead brother from her unworthy mother. Although a nationwide search for Paul followed, there is public sympathy for his wife, who is desperate to discover his identity to May Jenkins, a waitress in a coal mining town.

Irrepressible laughter and her unspoken affection. May had taken the car and parked it in a private garage. She worried about it. Paul's picture had been published in the newspapers and, of course, people in and near Louisville took particular interest in the case. The man who had sold him the car might have recognized the picture and reported the sale.

As such as May had disliked her job at the beer parlor, she had acquired a degree of fondness for Pete, the owner. He had always been very decent to her. There were no hard feelings about her throwing up the job. She went to him and told the story of caring for the son of her sick friend. She added that she wanted to borrow his car so that she could take the boy to his grandmother in Nevada.

He agreed without hesitation. He knew that May was honest and he rarely used the car. It was an older car than Paul's and May was glad of that. If she couldn't get it back to him, she could always mail him the key to the garage. He could have Paul's car.

MAY did most of the driving on the trip to New York. The benefits of protective coloring afforded by having a woman along were enhanced by her being in the dominant position. She and Judy rode up front while Paul made himself inconspicuous on the back seat.

It was nearly 400 miles. They started early in the morning. It was Paul's idea that they should make it in one day. He wanted to avoid tourist camps and small town hotels.

ing like the waitress he had found in a fourth cat burglar. She had bought some new clothes. Her hair had been waved and dressed professionally, but most of all the excitement of this adventure had given her a radiance.

At 7 o'clock that night they pulled into a roadside restaurant for supper. The Hudson River, with its several gateways to New York, was only 16 or 12 miles ahead. Paul bought a newspaper and while they ate he ran through it searching for news about the case.

A deluge of letters and editorials had followed the case and many echoed the protestation to which they had listened in the beer parlor. The letters, for the most part, were sympathetic and championed Paul's courage even though he was a technical outlaw.

A large proportion of the editorials, however, were cautious at the idea of making Paul Twing a hero, gravely pointing out that private citizens should not take the law into their own hands whenever they felt that they had been the victims of injustice.

THE news Paul found in the evening papers was confined to the report that the authorities were busy tracking down more than 100 leads that had been supplied by private citizens in almost every state in the nation. Keeping his voice down so that it would not carry to other tables, Paul read the columns to May.

"Listen to this, May." He had found a small box item next to the feature article. "More than 10 'Justice for Twing' clubs have been organized. The first one was started in Paul Twing's home town of Louisville, Ky., and others have sprung up in New York, Boston, Chicago and several other cities. These organizations are raising funds for the defense of Paul Twing. Byron Swane, Victor Mees and a number of other prominent lawyers have made it known that they will undertake Twing's defense without charge if he will give himself up, or if he is apprehended."

"Will you give yourself up, Paul?" May asked. (To Be Continued)

Irate Members Of Religious Cult Maul New Mexico Editors

SANTA FE, N. M. — (AP) — A few women members of the "I Am" religious cult Saturday attacked three members of the editorial staff of The Santa Fe New Mexican.

No serious injuries were inflicted. All were slapped.

In addition, husky Editor Will M. Harrison was shaken and Mrs. Calla Hay, society editor and novelist, was scratched and roughed up.

"How can a man defend himself against an angry woman," exclaimed Managing Editor John (Mickey) McGuire. He escaped with a slap.

The women were in a delegation of about 20 "I Am" members who called to protest a story Friday about a suit against Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, former Los Angeles woman who heads the movement.

A 75-year-old widow—Mrs. Hepzibah Powell—alleged she was defrauded by Mrs. Ballard of $9,000 and $3,000 jewels. She asked $50,000 punitive damages.

How Contented Cow Stepped Into Pages Of County's History

By COPE ROUTH
A kind-faced, contented-looking young cow stepped onto a railroad track on the night of July 22, 1915.

It's a unique kind of history, to be sure, and one that is little known even in this country where the cow and the horse and the sheep are so important.

But it's official history nonetheless and the two-year-old Hereford wrote the first paragraph as she met her fate in the path of an onrushing train near Germania.

For the next morning, R. D. Ennis, a section foreman for the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, walked into the office of County Clerk W. J. Sparks here and wrote a report into the pages of a bright new book.

The book is the little-known "Registry of Killed Animals," which was ordered kept by the State Legislature in 1915.

Ennis was meticulous in his report of the first such casualty to be entered in Midland County's record.

"This cow was of Hereford stock," he wrote, then added with the flourish of a man who knows his livestock, "A very good two-year-old, too."

Since that time and to this day, the official registry is kept, although no such incident has been reported to County Clerk Lucille Johnson since 1949.

More than 200 deaths along the railroad tracks have been reported in the 35 years since the registry was opened.

All were signed by the foremen of section gangs who stumbled on the dead animals during the day's work.

There was the old section foreman, for instance, who came into the county clerk's office in July of 1921 and dutifully, though laboriously, scrawled:

Animal Was "Dekaid"
"The animal was so dekad could not tel what brand it had."
And a couple of years later, he returned, this time to report:

"I found mawl dead . . . Mawl is not dead. Had broken leg."
So the record continued . . . horses badly cut up, bulls whose strength could not meet that of the iron horse and sheep whose fleece got in the way of iron and steam.

Most of the money in the emergency measure is for defense needs arising out of the invasion of Korea by Chinese Communists.

The emergency measure was the last money bill passed by the 81st Congress, which adjourned Tuesday.

Roads, Airports, Drainage Keep Winkler Engineer Busy

KERMIT — A busy program centering around roads, airports and drainage problems kept the office of Winkler County Engineer Alton M. East busy during 1950.

These activities were borne out last week in East's annual report to the Commissioner's Court.

The principal activities included: 1. Construction of a number of county highway projects, including the busy Dollarhide road.

2. Making surveys of the present county airport as well as two sites proposed by the CAA for improvement.

3. Study of drainage problems in Kermit.

East reported the Dollarhide road now shows a traffic count of 509 vehicles daily, many of them carrying heavy loads of oil field equipment.

Meets Specifications
This road, the report pointed out, meets current specifications of the Texas Highway Commission for Class A roads and after eight months of heavy traffic, has remained in first class condition.

The airport surveys were undertaken at the request of the CAA, from whom improvement funds are sought.

A topographical survey of the present airport was completed but the CAA asked for survey of two other proposed sites.

City Street Paving
As far as city street-paving is concerned, East reported 64 blocks in Kermit and 31 blocks in Wink have been approved for improvements during the year.

The drainage problem arose in Kermit when the State Highway Department agreed to pave Highway 82 from Campbell Street to Highway 302, provided the drainage problem be solved locally.

One drainage plan was submitted and then rejected by the department. An alternate now is under consideration.

East pointed out in his report that of the $500,000 road bonds voted in 1948 for new construction, there remains $125,000 in unissued bonds and $172,000 cash on hand, or a total of $297,000 still available.

Man Phones Ex-Wife, Then Commits Suicide
BEAUMONT — (AP) — Herbert Broussard, 30 telephoned his former wife, Mrs. Mildred Broussard, Saturday and told her, "I am going to kill myself."

Mrs. Broussard, who obtained a divorce from Broussard two days before Christmas, heard a loud report and then heard the telephone drop.

Broussard's body was found on the floor of his apartment. A .25 caliber automatic pistol lay nearby. Justice of Peace Horace Blades returned a verdict of suicide.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Apple-Fruit And Flour

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was there at home at the monkey house, up in the top of the very tall tree, right in the middle of the Great Forest. He was sitting on top of the stool in the kitchen. He was busy with watching Mother Ringtail while she worked and sang.

"Care if I taste?" asked Mugwump.

Mother Ringtail didn't care, and so she let him taste with a tasting spoon. Hurrah! The taste did not taste bad, but it didn't taste good, either, Mugwump decided.

He still didn't know what it was that Mother Ringtail was trying to see. Yes, and now he saw Mother Ringtail pour the stuff out into a piecrust. She poured and smoothed it out, and there! There was a pie all made of apple-fruit and butter and sugar and some other things, Mugwump knew.

Oh, but tch! tch! Unhappy day, Mugwump decided. He was thinking that Mother Ringtail had forgotten the magic something that makes a pie taste like a pie instead of a taste like all the things that are in it.

Ah, me, that boy. He didn't know the magic taste of a wonderful pie is a magic something that happens at last when the oven door is closed and the pie is cooking in the magic way that makes it good. Oh, but Mother Ringtail knew, because she was the cook, and how she laughed, because when the pie was cooked Mugwump ate three whole pieces. Happy Day!

and sang and worked, all with her kitchen pans and spoons and cooking things.

"I betcha it's going to be something good to eat," said Mugwump, hoping indeed that Mother Ringtail was going to cook a something that was good to eat. When Mother Ringtail cooked a something to eat, it was always very good, Mugwump laughed. Said he: "I guess I really want to know what it is you're going to cook."

Mother Ringtail smiled a happy smile, but all she said was "wait and see." Yes, and so Mugwump did wait and see. He saw Mother Ringtail put the apple-fruit in a stirring bowl, and then he saw her

WASHINGTON OIL— Speedy 'Go Ahead' By Government To Proposed Big Inch Line Expected

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—The government is likely to give a speedy go ahead to a proposal for a Big Inch crude oil line from the Permian Basin fields of West Texas to Longview and on to certain Gulf refineries.

Oil industry and government leaders long have recognized the need for additional outlets for crude oil output of Scurry and other West Texas counties.

Five oil companies joining in proposing the line—a 36-inch, 440 miles long, with a capacity of 300,000 barrels daily—asked the government for a certificate of necessity. If granted, this would carry five year tax amortization privileges, and aid the sponsors in obtaining steel for the project.

Estimated cost of the project is $35 million.

Construction Schedule. According to the plans, the construction would start late this summer, and be completed early next year. If construction gets under way, it may prove a death blow to hopes of a crude oil line from West Texas to California. For, according to some, there's enough crude oil for but a single major, new pipe line project from West Texas.

A transportation committee of the national Petroleum Council said as much in a recent, "confidential" report distributed widely among industry, government and other interested persons.

That report endorsed the idea of a pipe line from West Texas, through Longview on to the Gulf, with a 22-inch extension running to the Beaumont-Sabine refining center. The new proposal, seems to fill the bill almost exactly.

But the transportation committee went further and, in the hottest part of the report, said such construction would prove adequate to move all West Texas production with the minimum expenditure of critical materials.

This was interpreted as an argument against the construction of a Texas-California pipe line, two applications for which now are before the government.

Agencies To Decide. With the new Permian Basin-Gulf proposal, there applications are to be decided upon by the Petroleum Administration for Defense and the new Defense Production Administration.

Companies associated in the new proposals are Gulf Oil Corporation, Cities Service, Pure Oil, Sun Oil and Standard of Ohio.

Since Gulf's present small-diameter line from West Texas eastward is to be taken up, the net additional crude output the line would furnish West Texas is not the full capacity of the line, but about 200,000 barrels

Peterson To Speak For PBGS Meeting In Midland Tuesday

Vernon S. Peterson, widely known speaker on industrial progress and chemical developments, will address the Tuesday meeting of the Permian Basin Geophysical Society in the Midland Junior High School Auditorium, 9 p.m.

He will talk on "Progress In Better Living," and tell how products of modern industrial chemistry were created and what made them possible, showing how they fit into the national economy.

Peterson is Mid-West manager of the DuPont Company's public relations department with offices in Ames, Iowa.

He is a native Kansan and an engineering graduate of Kansas State College. Before joining DuPont in 1942 he was associate, with Iowa State College and Pennsylvania State College.

Peterson will give the society and guests a preview of things to come in the chemical world, as well as the story of such well known items as nylon. He will display many DuPont products—some of them new there is no known commercial use for them yet.

This first meeting of the year for the PBGS will be "Ladies Night." Wives of members are invited to attend.

New officers of the organization will be inaugurated at the meeting. E. L. Mount of Continental Oil Company will be installed as president.

Other new officers, all from Midland, are W. A. McPadden of Standard Oil Company of Texas, first vice president; C. N. Page of Honolulu Oil Corporation, second vice president; L. G. Cornish, Seismograph Service Corporation, secretary, and G. A. Grimm, Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

The Permian Basin Society numbers 250 members and is one of the larger affiliated sections of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists.

Locations have been staked for Ellenburger wildcats in Southeast Ector County and in Northeast Winkler County.

Operations are to start at both projects at once.

The deeper of the two is to be Union Oil Company of California No. 3 H. S. Foster. It is projected to 12,500 feet.

It is to be 1,250 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 7, block 42, T&P survey, T-3-S.

It is inside the proven limits of the shallow South Cowden field which produces from the Grayburg line of the upper Permian above 4,100 feet.

The wildcat will be five and one-half miles southwest of Odessa. Nearest Ellenburger production to the new exploration is in the Sweetie Peck multiphase field in Southwest Midland County.

pool of Southwest Terry County, and is located 660 feet from west and 1,800 feet from north lines of section 12, block C-36, psi survey and 10 miles southwest of Brownfield.

Frank and George Frankel have completed their No. 2-A Floyd as a new producer on the north side of the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a three-quarter inch choke to make an initial production of 434.70 barrels of 36.2-gravity oil. Flowing tubing pressure was 100 pounds.

Gas-oil ratio was 620-1. Total fluid recovered was cut with five-tenths of one per cent water.

Top of pay is 7,082 feet and total depth is 7,143 feet. Five and one-half oil string is cemented at 6,980 feet. The pay section was hydraulically fractured.

The well is located 660 feet from south and 1,800 feet from west lines of southwest quarter of section 2, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Barnett & Rector staked location for an 8,000-foot project on the east side of the Tex-Harvey field.

It is No. 1-13 Floyd estate and is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey and 17 miles southwest of Midland.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to projected depth, beginning immediately.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 37, T&P survey.

Murchison and associates had staked locations for two offsets to their No. 1 Joe Canon, flowing producer from the Pennsylvanian and the Ellenburger in Southwest Midland County, which is now in process of completion as a dual producer and a one and three-quarter mile north extension to the Pegasus field.

Official sources reveal that only one offset to the No. 1 Canon has been staked. It is Murchison and associates No. 2 Canon, to be one quarter of a mile north of the extender, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 13, block 40, T&P survey, T-4-S.

This prospector is to start operations at once and will go to around 12,200 feet to explore both the Pennsylvanian and the Ellenburger.

Informal sources reveal that location which was reported for Murchison No. 3 Canon, to be at the center of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 13, block 40, T&P survey, T-4-S, has not been staked.

Unofficial and unverified reports have Ted Weiner et al No. 1-18 J. W. Driver, wildcat in Southeast Midland County, swabbing and flowing to test the Spraberry from open hole at 7,110-7,215.

A recovery after hydrofract treatment of an average of 10 barrels of fluid, 90 per cent oil and 10 per cent basic sediment and salt water, hourly on a six-hour swabbing and flowing test has been reported unofficially and has not been verified.

The prospect is six and one-half miles south of the Tex-Harvey field and at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 16, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Humble Will Drill Winkler Wildcat

Humble Oil & Refining Company is to start operations soon at its No. 1 Mary Kate Evans, which is to be a 12,500-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger in Northeast Winkler County.

The prospector will be 13 miles northeast of Kermit and 660 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 45, block 73, psi survey.

It is in a large undeveloped area in the northeast part of Winkler County between the Flying W field of that county and the Bedford field in Southwest Andrews County.

The drillsite is several miles west of the North Goldsmith field in Northwest Ector County.

Humble has a large spread of leases in the region around the location of No. 1 Mary Kate Evans.

The same company's No. 1 R. M. Evans, located 1,800 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block A-56, psi survey, had reached 10,800 feet in Woodford shale, and was making more hole.

It is projected to at least 12,000 feet and may go deeper, unless it develops production before penetrating that far. It logged slight shows of oil and gas in an unidentified lime at 8,992-9,075 feet.

No. 1 R. M. Evans is eight miles west and a little north of the location for Humble No. 1 Mary Kate Evans.

Outpost In Midland Finds Wolfcamp Oil

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 7-C June Sanders, one and one-half miles north and a little east of the Sweetie Peck field of Southwest Midland County, indicated possible commercial production from the Wolfcamp on a drillstem test from 9,808-9,827 feet.

The test was for four hours. A 2,200-foot water blanket was used. No fluid surfaced while the tool was open.

Recovery was the water blanket, 180 feet of gas-cut mud, and 540 feet of distillate, 55 gravity.

Flowing pressure ranged from 1,000 to 1,250 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 4,630 pounds.

The Wolfcamp was topped at 9,810 feet, elevation 2,882 feet. Sinclair's No. 3 June Sanders, a drilling project which has shown for production from the Wolfcamp, is the nearest producer. The No. 7-C Sanders is seven feet low on top of the Wolfcamp to the same marker in the No. 3 Sanders.

The prospector is now drilling below 10,969 feet in the Pennsylvanian, which was topped at 9,947 feet.

The No. 7-C June Sanders is being drilled 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 9, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Long Steput Is Slated In Upton

Hubbard S. Russell No. 1 Elser is to be drilled as a long steput to production in the Pembroke-Spraberry field of East-Central Upton County.

The prospector will be drilled one and one-half miles south and a little west of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Pembroke, the discovery well of the field.

It will also be drilled 3,220 feet west of Havenstrite Oil Company of California No. 1-B Pembroke-beal, a drilling project.

Drillsite will be in the west half of block X, C. C. Dewitt survey and 660 feet from north and east lines of the Elser lease.

Carlton Beal and Associates have the rotary contract.

Magnolia Completes Producer In Terry

Magnolia Petroleum Company has completed its No. 2 Seales for a 24-hour calculated potential of 1,896 barrels of 42.8-gravity oil, flowing natural through a 32/64th-inch choke.

C-S Martin Test Makes Salt Water

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1 Dickenson, Central-South Martin County wildcat, nine miles west of Stanton and 12 miles northeast of Midland, swabbed 30 barrels of load oil and 25 barrels of drilling water through perforations at 7,502-07 feet and at 7,519-25 feet in an unreported length of time and is still swabbing.

This wildcat had previously swabbed 17 barrels of new oil in three and one-half hours through perforations at 7,460-70 feet. That interval had been hydraulically fractured with 1,500 gallons.

Following this swabbing test, operator perforated at 7,502-07 feet and at 7,519-25 feet and hydraulically fractured those intervals.

The hole was then loaded with oil and the current swabbing was started. At last report there was still 53 barrels of load oil in the hole. A plug is set between 7,470 feet and 7,502 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 37, T&P survey.

Only One Offset Is Staked To 1 Canon

Through error it was reported Friday C. W. Informal sources reveal that location which was reported for Murchison No. 3 Canon, to be at the center of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 13, block 40, T&P survey, T-4-S, has not been staked.

Unofficial and unverified reports have Ted Weiner et al No. 1-18 J. W. Driver, wildcat in Southeast Midland County, swabbing and flowing to test the Spraberry from open hole at 7,110-7,215.

A recovery after hydrofract treatment of an average of 10 barrels of fluid, 90 per cent oil and 10 per cent basic sediment and salt water, hourly on a six-hour swabbing and flowing test has been reported unofficially and has not been verified.

Magnolia Is To Drill Deep Exploration In SE Roosevelt Area

HOBBS, N. M.—Magnolia Petroleum Company is preparing to start its No. 1 J. B. Brown, 10,000-foot Permian wildcat in extreme Southeast Roosevelt County.

Location was staked 600 feet from north and west lines of section 6-7-34e.

That put it about 18 miles northeast of production in the Bough-Pennsylvanian field of Northwest Lea County and about 20 miles northeast of the Crossroads field in the same area. The Crossroads field produces from the Devonian at 12,350 feet and from the Pennsylvanian above 9,500 feet. The Bough field gets its production above that depth.

New Location
The same operator has spotted location for a northeast one location offset to a recent discovery from a shallow sand section in North-Central Eddy County.

It will be drilled as Magnolia No. 1-A New Mexico, 330 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 23-19e-27e.

The discovery was Martin Yates No. 1 Featherston-State, which was completed from 249-261 feet for 50 barrels of oil per day flowing through two-inch tubing.

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 4-S State, a 3,800-foot wildcat offset to the No. 3-S State, which was recently completed as an Ellenburger discovery in Central-East Lea County, has indicated as a discovery from the McGee sand of the Simpson.

Oil Flows
Operator ran a drillstem test from 7,422-7,534 feet. Gas was to the surface in three minutes, mud in 11 and oil in 12. It was flowed to tanks for one hour at the rate of 50 barrels of oil per hour. Gravity of the petroleum was 53.5 degrees.

Flowing pressure ranged from 470 to 770 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,775 pounds.

The project is now being drilled below 7,580 feet in lime and sand.

The No. 4-S State is approximately one and one-quarter miles north of the nearest McKee sand production which is in the Brunson field.

Exact location of the No. 4-S State is 2,080 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 15-21s-37e.

It is located in the Drinkard field, which does not produce from the Simpson.

Denton Bottomed
The Ohio Oil Company No. 3 Denton, one-location north offset to the discovery of the Denton field of Central-West Lea County, is bottomed at 12,113 feet in Devonian dolomite.

Operator is taking electric surveys.

Operator cored to the present total depth from 12,104 feet to 12,113 feet. The last five feet recovered was dense, slightly fractured, barren dolomite. The rest was dolomite bleeding oil.

Since the first oil, on a drillstem test at 11,275-11,406 feet, the prospector has shown for possible production in 832 feet of Devonian.

Location of the No. 3 Denton is 1,800 feet from south and east lines of section 11-15e-37e.

Continental Oil Company No. 1 Thurman-Federal, wildcat to 10,000 feet in Central - North Eddy County, is drilling below 2,194 feet after testing the San Andres from 2,160-2,190 feet.

That formation was topped at 1,610 feet, elevation 2,806 feet. With tool open for one hour, recovery was 50 feet of mud with no shows. Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 11-16e-27e.

Ralph Lowe No. 3 Self, wildcat in extreme Southeast Lea County, has been plugged and abandoned as a failure on total depth of 3,700 feet in an unidentified formation.

The prospector showed no signs of commercial production in drilling to that depth.

Location of the failure is 1,800 feet from north and 600 feet from west lines of section 7-20e-38e.

Wildcat Plugged
Spartan Drilling Company No. 1-26, State, has been plugged and abandoned as a wildcat failure in Northeast Chavez County near the county line.

It was quit at 8,911 feet in granite. The Mississippian was topped at 8,096 feet, the Devonian at 8,486 feet and the Ellenburger at 8,696 feet. All formations were barren.

The granite was topped at 8,796 feet. Elevation at the dry hole is 4,330 feet.

Location is 600 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 25-5s-29e.

Permian Basin Rigs Show Slight Decrease

The Reed Roller Bit Company survey of active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin for the period ended January 1 listed Midland County with 88 operations.

Scurry County still led other West Texas areas in exploration with 88 rigs reported. Scurry dropped from 98 reported in operation on December 15.

The survey showed Midland and Terry Counties to be the only ones that did not show a decrease in drilling projects.

Borden dropped from 24 to 13. Kent dropped from 21 to 15 and the active rigs in Terry County increased from 26 to 29.

On January 1 there was 521 rigs in operation as compared to 538 on December 15 in the Permian Basin.

Newton Added To Midland Staff Of Beal, Associates

Two New WT Oil Fields Are Named

Two recently opened oil fields in the West Texas area of the Permian Basin have been given official names by the Railroad Commission of Texas.

The pool discovered by J. K. Dobbs No. 1 E. D. Freeman in Runnels County is the Hull-Dobbs field. It produces from the Gardner sand.

In Northeast Schleicher County the Tankersley-Clear Fork field was opened by Frank and George Frankel and Shell Oil Company No. 1 R. S. Williams.

It is understood that Vaughn bought the property as a location for some sort of a commercial structure. No official information was available Saturday regarding any definite plans the new owner might have for the lot.

It is understood that Vaughn paid approximately $65,000 for the property.

Vaughn owns the G. H. Vaughn Production Company, Spartan Drilling Company, Big West Drilling Company and several other oil industry development and service concerns.

Several of Vaughn's companies are active in the Permian Basin.

SUTTON IS COLONEL
Bob Sutton, landman for Cities Service Oil Company's Permian Basin district, was recently commissioned as an honorary colonel on the staff of Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma.

Sutton lives in Midland.

Tide Water Wildcat In C-E Lea Gets Free Oil In Deep Lime Zone

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1-P-D State, Wildcat-East Lea County, New Mexico well, approximately six miles southeast of the town of Lovington developed some free oil, considerable gas, and good pressure in a drillstem test in a lime at 10,896-725 feet.

The tool was open four hours. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. Gas surfaced in two hours and the gas blow continued in a good volume throughout the remainder of the period.

No fluid came to the top while the tester was open. Recovery was 540 feet of clean, 42-gravity oil and 270 feet of oil and gas cut drilling fluid. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,025 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,000 pounds.

May Be Pennsylvanian
The lime formation which had the oil and gas has not been officially identified. Some observers think it is probably in the Pennsylvanian.

The exploration is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32-16s-37e. It was started to drill to 12,600 feet to explore the Devonian.

The project is three-quarters of a mile east of production from above 4,500 feet in the Lovington field in the San Andres lime of the Permian. It is nine miles west of the Knowles-Devonian field.

This wildcat has already indicated a discovery from the Tubb sand of the Permian in the section between 7,852 feet and 7,938 feet.

Dr. Roy R. Morse, regional director of exploration for Shell Oil Company, Houston, has retired after 26 years of service with the company, E. D. Cumming, regional vice president, announced. The retirement was effective the first of the year.

Widely regarded as one of the leading geologists in the country, Dr. Morse has long been "Mr. Exploration" to Shell people in the Texas-Gulf and a Mid-Continent area. He joined Shell in California in January 1925 and was transferred to the company's Houston office in 1935 as exploration manager.

In 1944 he was named manager of the Texas-Gulf area, with responsibility for general planning and coordination of the exploration, production and land departments. In November 1946, he became director of exploration for the company's East-of-the-Rockies territory.

Born in Jennings, La., Dr. Morse received a B.S. degree from the College of Mines, University of California, in 1913, and a Ph.D. from the same university in 1923. While at school, he majored in geology.

Before joining Shell, he served as a sugar chemist in Hawaii, as a geologist for Standard Oil of New York making field surveys in China and the Philippines, and as a mining expert investigating manganese and chrome deposits for the U. S. "War Minerals Investigation" project.

With the retirement of Dr. Morse, Floyd A. Nelson, regional geologist, will supervise activities of the company's regional exploration staff.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, class of 1924, Mr. Nelson joined Shell in 1929 as an assistant geologist in the St. Louis office. He was transferred to Houston in 1940 as geologist for the company's former Texas-Gulf area, and when Shell organized a regional staff for the East-of-the-Rockies territory in 1945, he became regional geologist.

An Important Message to the CITIZENS of MIDLAND

I wrote the story of the life of Pancho Villa, Mexico's famed bandit and have sold the story to an independent motion picture producer, Mr. Albert Jay Cohen, whose present offices are located at Universal-International Studios at Universal City, Calif., retaining for myself a percentage of net profits.

I did not care to sell this story outright, as I desire to participate in the net earnings, therefore it is up to me to secure the remaining cash that the Bank of America requires before putting up the 80% it will take to complete this Class 'A' film which will be made in Cine Color, three strip. Total cost of the picture, which will be made in Mexico, is $507,825, according to the budget prepared by the independent producer.

BUDGET

The Bank of America will put up 60% or the amount of $304,695
I am putting up the amount received for book and moving picture shooting script, which total $25,000
My producer is willing to defer his salary until after the picture is finished and released. This amounts to $7,000
Amount put up by Bank of America, my self and producer $299,695
Balance needed for 20% interest in entire picture is 108,130

Which totals $407,825

Your investment of $108,130 will be returned from the first money received from the picture, including the interest rate of 6% for the time the money was used.

Many prominent directors and their producers actually believe that this picture, which will be in color and which will be made entirely in Mexico where our dollar is now worth 8.65 pesos, will give us a million dollar production, and will be the authentic life of Mexico's Robinhood, which has never been filmed in the United States. The public is waiting for this picture and these same picture people are of the opinion that this picture will make more than "Viva Villa," made 20 years ago by MGM, which starred Wallace Berry. This picture grossed over $9,000,000, according to authentic figures on record, and at that time, admissions to theatres were around 50 cents per seat. Today a picture of this kind would get double this amount, as prices are different these days, especially for feature pictures. According to above figures, this picture should net between three and five million dollars the first year, and 20% of these amounts are very attractive earnings for anyone who can afford to put up the money needed to complete financing. If anyone in Midland has a son or daughter who wishes to break into pictures, here is their chance to get a good part in a Class 'A' feature film in color.

ALL MONEY WILL BE HANDLED BY THE BANK OF AMERICA AND THEY WILL PROTECT YOUR INTEREST, AS WELL AS MINE.

If you are interested and are in a position to help me, get in touch with me at 136 North 35th St., San Jose, 27, Calif., and I will get my producer to communicate with you direct. Be sure and give me all the details and you will save both of us much time, as we want to start shooting this picture right after the first of the year.

Mabey Drilling captured high team series and high team game honors for the night with 2695 and 943 points. Bob Brewer of the Mabey team won both high individual series and high individual game honors. Brewer rolled a sparkling 253 score for high individual laurels, and amassed a total of 661 pins in taking the high individual series title.

The leaders included:
Alice Bauer, Midland, Texas, 81-78-159.

Rotary, Western Plastic Dropped In Independent Meet

CRANE — Bill Hale Motors of Odessa knocked the Midland Rotary Engineers from the Crane Independent Basketball Tournament here Saturday by a 50-43 score.

Rotary had advanced to the second round in the tourney by slaughtering the Crane Sheriff's posse 82-27. Bill Hale Motors had ousted Holder Grocery of Odessa 61-31.

Leland Huffman and Bennie Rutherford led the Midland team in both its games. Huffman tallied 13 points against the Odessa team and poked in 14 points against the Crane quint. Rutherford scored 25 points against the Sheriff's posse and looped 10 points through the net against Hale Motors.

Western Plastic of Midland also was eliminated, falling to the Odessa All-Stars 44-37. The Plastic five had lost to the Crane Sheriff's posse 34-22 in first round play. J. White paced the Western Plastic cagers.

Babe Pulls Out Ahead Of Marlene

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, FLA. — (AP) — Babe Zaharias practically nailed down another top golf prize Saturday when she pulled away from the field in the second round of the $3,000 Ponte Vedra Club Open.

The Babe shot a steady 38-36-74 for a 36-hole total of 148.

Her one-over-par round put her four strokes ahead of 17-year-old Marlene Bauer. They tied with 75 in Friday's opening 18 holes but the younger of the two Bauer sisters from Midland, Texas, had putting trouble Saturday and used up 78 strokes over the par 37-36-73 Oceanside course.

Patty Berg of Minneapolis went around the 6,715-yard layout in 38-38-76 and moved within a stroke of Marlene at 154.

Young Marlene was right down the middle with her woods and irons but her putts were just coming close. She never made good on a long one.

Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., who has been hampered by blistered hands, said they were some better Saturday and her round of 77 indicated an improvement. She stood fourth at 156 and Betty Jameson of San Antonio was next with 157.

The leaders included:
Alice Bauer, Midland, Texas, 81-78-159.

South Stars Edge Favored North In Senior Bowl Game

MOBILE, ALA. — (AP) — Bucky Curtis, Vanderbilt's rangy end, staged a sensational pass receiving performance to lead Steve Owen's South forces to a 19-18 win over the favored North in the second annual Senior Bowl Football Game Saturday.

The six-foot, three-inch wingman nabbed two touchdowns tossed from Tulane's Joe Ernst and Alabama's Ed Salem, and set up the third score with another long pass.

The North staged an aerial exhibition of its own featuring Nebraska's Fran Nagle and UCLA's End Bob Wilkinson and wound up on the South's one-yard line as the game ended.

The North team blew a beautiful scoring opportunity in the third quarter that would have changed the result. SMU's Kyle Rote slipped and fell on fourth down after his team had driven 72 yards to the South one-yard line.

A disappointing crowd of 12,232 turned out for the contest, played in mild weather under cloudy skies. Players share in the gate receipts, but the amount of the distribution wasn't announced immediately.

The South piled all its scoring in a furious second quarter, when it came from behind, and surged in front to stay. Then the North, which had relied on a cruising ground game in the first half, took to the air in the final quarter in a desperate effort to win.

Curtis' first touchdown catch was a 10-yard flat pass from Ernst. His second touchdown came on a 16-yard toss from Salem, after a 54-yard heave from the Alabama All-America passing ace put the ball in position for the score.

Gets Valuable Assist
Curtis got a valuable assist from Missouri's Ed Stephens on the second touchdown catch. Stephens' arm deflected the ball to the Vanderbilt star, who was sitting on the turf when the ball landed in his lap.

Actually, a conversion by Kentucky's All-America Bob Gain provided the victory margin. It came after the South's third touchdown, and was the only extra point of the game.

Georgia's Billy Mixon scored the South's third touchdown at the start of the second quarter on a four-yard sweep around end.

Oklahoma's powerhouse, Leon Heath, and Kyle Rote of SMU counted two of the North's scores to wind up long ground drives. A 15-yard toss from Nagle to the rangy Wilkinson brought Bo Me-

By LARRY KING

Thanks, Midland sportsmen. Thanks for attending the Midland-Lamesa basketball game in large numbers Friday night.

The gym wasn't packed, but it was the best crowd of the year, by far, to attend a local cage game. And it was by far the most spirited and the most bouyant.

And the students of MHS forming a cheering section—with a portion of the MHS band—and made noise aplenty.

Midland lost. But with spirit like that, and the boys coming up, Midland will rise in the basketball field just as it has on the gridiron.

The future looks better for the future cage seasons. Coach Bernard Patterson's 'C' cagers are off and winning. The Bulldog 'B' team has won six of seven starts.

And in the varsity lineup, sophomores and juniors are seeing a lot of action. Robert Keisinger, Roy Kimsey and Winifred Brinson are sophomores. Ralph Brooks is a junior. All these boys are mainstays on the Midland cage team this season. And with time and experience they are bound to improve.

It's on the upswing, this Midland basketball.

To bowl or not to bowl?
That is the question. Yes, right now that's the big question in the Pacific Coast Conference. To continue the Rose Bowl, or to discontinue the Pasadena spectacle.

After losing five straight games to Big Nine teams in Rose Bowl competition, the Pacific loop daddies are thinking of writing finis to the traditional New Year's day battle.

The Pacific loop signed a five year contract that started January 1, 1947. On that day, UCLA took a 45-14 trouncing from Illinois. The following year, Michigan humiliated Southern California 49-0. And California, the monarch of far West football, started a three year losing effort in the Rose Bowl the next year by losing to Northwestern 20-14. Ohio State defeated the Bears 17-14 the following year. And, the first day of 1951, Michigan added insult to injury by dominating California 14-6.

Apparently, the Pacific Coast loop has had enough. It hardly can be blamed.

The only fault we can find is in the signing of the pact with the Big Nine in the first place. It took a lot of speculation away as teams anxiously awaited a bid to play in the Tournament of Roses.

And it all adds up to one of two things: Either Pacific Coast football is very shoddy, or Big Nine football is very, very good.

We think it is a combination of both.

And the results—for the Coast teams—have been nothing short of pitiful.

Still digging in old file of The Reporter-Telegram, we have uncovered some interesting facts concerning Midland football over the years.

And we seem to have stimulated some interest by announcing our research a few days back.

Ex-Bulldog Leland Foster tells us the 1938-39 Midland teams were the all-time best. Of course, they were "his teams"—he was a contributing factor to their success.

And we expect many Midlanders will stream that "their team" was the best of them all. And others will be dissatisfied with our "all-time" Midland team.

We don't expect to be entirely faultless and accurate in our tabulation. But from what we hear from old-time Midlanders, the games we can remember and the press clippings, it should be at least a fairly true picture of Midland's all-time football greats and fine football teams.

DOTS AND DASHES: Lamesa may be champion of 3-AA for the third consecutive year. The Tornados now have won 10 and lost five cage contests this year. Odessa and Lubbock are improving. And so is Midland. Big Spring is hot and cold. It still could be anyone's race. Odessa fighters are interested in having a fistfight tournament in Midland, between the Broncho City and Bulldog Town mitts. What a crowd it should draw! Sweetwater will open its 1951 football sked with Snyder. Lubbock and San Angelo are other non-district foes. The Mustangs will line up another. See you at the next Midland basketball game. End of the Row!

Tornadoes Tip Purple; 'B' Wins 40-28

The Lamesa High School Golden Tornadoes gave an exhibition in the art of sinking free shots at the Midland High School gym Friday night, to turn back the scrapping Midland Bulldogs by a 48-37 margin in the 3-AA conference basketball curtain-raiser for both teams.

With amazing accuracy, the Dawson County lads popped 20 of 26 gratis tosses through the net. The near-perfect display of cord meshing was more than enough to defeat a Midland quint that committed no less than 21 fouls.

Midland salvaged some consolation for the night by winning the 'B' game 40-28. Coach John Higdon's classy cagers came from behind to win their sixth game in seven starts. And again the charity tosses paid off in victory. The Bulldog 'B' boys were only slightly less efficient than the Lamesa varsity cagers, hitting 16 of 28 shots from the free toss line.

Midland scrapped all the way in the varsity go, but the two-time district title-holders combined a nice bit of floor play with the free shot accuracy to knock the props from the Bulldogs. Midland built up a 5-0 lead in the first stanza, as Lamesa failed to hit a shot until more than four minutes had been unreled. But after being held to a 7-7 tie in the first stanza, Lamesa clicked for enough points to rack up a 21-13 halftime lead. The Purple and Gold surged back to within five points of Lamesa—27-22—in the third quarter, but faded under an avalanche of Tornado the short end of an 18-18 score. But Bobby Cuipepper came back to score five quick points after the intermission to put Midland even before he went out of the game on fouls, and Johnson took it from there. With the aid of ball-stealing Jesse Hatfield, who scored 10 points, Johnson poured nine points through the hoop in the final quarter to give the 'B' team its sixth win.

The 'B' box score:
Midland 'B' (40):
Faden 2 1 1 5
Hatfield 3 4 2 10

Steers Upset Red Hoss Five 50-43

BIG SPRING—The Big Spring Steers turned the tables on the Odessa Bronchos here Friday night, ousting the Red Hosses 50-43 in the first Conference 3-AA basketball tilt of the season for both teams.

Odessa, a team that had beaten Big Spring 31-18 in a non-conference go a week previously, never was ahead after the opening 30 seconds of the tilt.

Bobby Malnes scored 16 points to lead the Steers to the win, while Charles Warren and Bobby Gross tallied 13 points each. Roy Morris led Odessa with 13 points. The Steers held a 20-12 halftime bulge.

The Big Spring 'B' five defeated the Broncho 'B' 35-27 in an opening game.

Midland Mittmen Train For Bouts

If condition means anything the Midland boxing team should make a strong showing in the Odessa regional Golden Gloves meet to be held January 17, 18 and 19.

Under the direction of Bill Glidewell, director of the Midland Youth Center, a squad of mittmen has been working out in extensive drills.

"Condition is the key to boxing success," Glidewell said, "and my boys are going to be in condition."

And they should be. The boys work out twice daily. Starting early in the morning, Glidewell takes the squad out to the country side and has them run two miles at a brisk clip. After the road work, calisthenics are next in order.

And then each boy takes his turn at three minutes of a heavy bag, three minutes shadow boxing and six minutes in the ring. A brief dose of calisthenics follows, and that ends the workout—until the road work begins early the next morning.

Glidewell, an ex-Texas Tech footballer and boxer, has been interested in boxing for some time. He boxed when in high school, four years while a member of the Merchant Marine and two years in college at SLI in Louisiana before going to Texas Tech.

Wason Joins Squad
Jimmy Watson, ex-Midland High School and University of Texas grid star, joined the squad Friday. The six-foot, two-inch fighter will enter the heavyweight open class. Watson weighs an even 200 pounds.

Also entering the heavyweight open division is Howard Bennett, ex-MHS and Baylor University student. Bennett carries 205 pounds on a five-foot, 11-inch frame. Joe Johnson, 185-pound, 18-year-

'C' Dogs Win, Lose

SAN ANGELO—Edison Junior High of San Angelo eliminated the Midland 'C' team in the second round of play in the San Angelo Junior High School Basketball Tournament here Friday night. The Edison team sacked Midland by a score of 42 to 27.

Midland had advanced with a 26-20 win over Coleman Junior High School in the opening round of play Friday morning.

But Edison had too much for Midland in height and manpower in second-round play. Larry Laasater looped in 13 points to lead the San Angelo juniors to the win. Bill Mims tallied nine points to lead Midland, and Rusty Rutledge scored six tallies. Milton Jones with five, Jimmy Masburn with four and J. Streun with three points rounded out the Midland scoring.

Easy Time
The 'B' Bulldogs had an easy time in their opening game with Coleman. They ran up an 18-4 margin in the first quarter and were in front at the half 26 to 8. Reeves finished the game for Midland. Bill Mims led the attack.

Leo Hatfield and Duane Bush hooked up in a donnybrooke that featured in-fighting and saw both boys land good punches. Terry Bradley and Jesse Hatfield missed it up in a wild-swinging affair that broke about even. Young Hatfield isn't on the squad, but looked good and showed plenty of promise, should he decide to compete later on.

Jerry Culp had the weight but Billy Medart had the speed in another three-round go. Culp floored Medart with a powerful right in the second round, but Medart's rapierlike left hand and nice footwork kept him very much in the battle. Leo Hatfield and Duane Bush hooked up in a donnybrooke that featured in-fighting and saw both boys land good punches. Terry Bradley and Jesse Hatfield missed it up in a wild-swinging affair that broke about even. Young Hatfield isn't on the squad, but looked good and showed plenty of promise, should he decide to compete later on.

Glidewell said he would like to have several more fighters—especially in the lighter weights—and urged Midland boys to try out for the team.

Ike Williams Pins Fast Kayo On Gatica

NEW YORK—(AP)—How much has the Williams slipped? How much fighter is Jose Gatica? The answer both times is "not much."

It took only 2:06 of the first round to solve both riddles Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Williams, sharp and trim, chopped down the swarming little Argentine with ease, knocking him to the canvas three times in a non-title bout.

Gatica's dreams of becoming the first South American to win a world title exploded before he ever got a shot at the crown. Four left hooks and a jarring right did the trick. Now he's ready to return to Argentina.

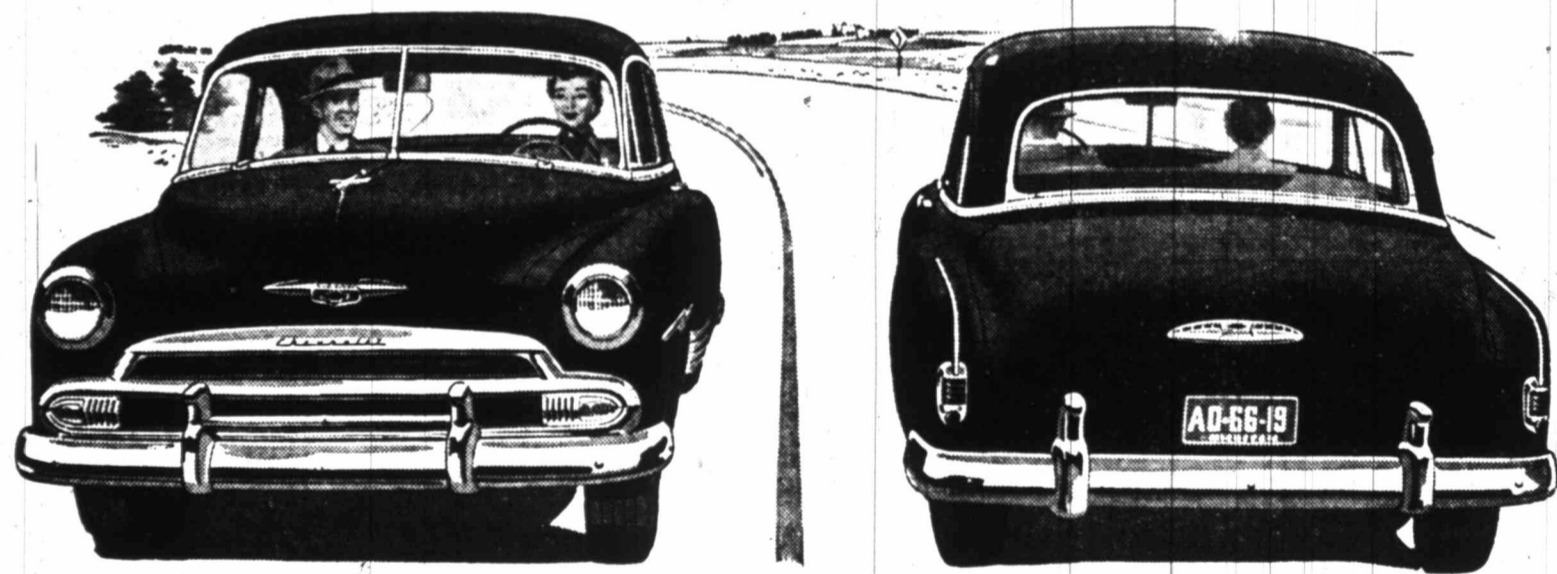

Jose, five-foot-four of swarming mauler, tried to rush the world lightweight champ off his feet. Angular Ike coolly picked his opening and pulled the trigger. Referee Ray Miller called a halt after the third knockdown.

Two Texans Among Last To Quit Airstrip

By BILL BARNARD
SOMEWHERE IN KOREA —(AP)—The airstrip at Wonju was besieged on three sides by Chinese and North Korean Communists. Mortar shells had been falling at the edge of the airstrip Saturday and the night before. Rifle fire cracked down sporadically from the big hill at the west of the field. But the 25 men on the airstrip calmly went ahead with the work they had to do. One job was the destruction of a C-47 transport plane, stripped of light but valuable equipment. Gasoline was thrown on it and poured in a pool underneath the doomed plane. "I want to throw the grenade," said Lt. Ralph Price of Monticello, Ind. He pulled the pin of a grenade, heaved it mightily and ducked behind a revetment. It exploded at one side of the transport and did slight damage.

Second Effort Fails
"Let me show you how it's done," said Capt. Zaden Lee of Hondo, Texas, commander of the airstrip. He threw a grenade which popped the plane squarely on the left engine. But when it discharged, the gasoline did not catch fire. Finally gasoline was trailed from the pool underneath the plane to a safe distance. A match was applied to the trail and in a few moments the C-47 was blazing satisfactorily. Within three minutes the gas tank exploded. Wonju and the airstrip immediately south of the town are in a snowy valley cupped in the mountains of Central Korea.

The town was deserted. United Nations troops were immediately north of the town and in frequent contact with enemy forces. The Reds were on hills to the north of the town and to the west and east. South of the airstrip, UN artillery whumped shells over the airstrip into enemy positions in the north. Like West Texas Better

A Red mortar shell lobbed over the hill on the west and fell at the edge of the airstrip. Smoke and dust boiled up. "I wouldn't trade a foot of West Texas for all of Korea," said Lee. "I wouldn't either," said Price, "and I don't even live in Texas." Another Texan in the group was Sgt. Bill McKinney, Corpus Christi. "I'd like to be back on that pretty waterfront in Corpus Christi," said the sergeant. "Korea's a good place to be from."

Lee is a veteran of 100 supply missions in the Berlin airlift. He's been in Korea since July. His wife and three children live in Hondo. "None of us like this country," Lee said, "but it's better to fight here than at home." A plane piloted by Lt. Jack Loney, Long Beach, Calif., landed. Loney asked if he could offer any aid. The crew chief of the plane was M. Sgt. Harold L. McDonald, New Hyde Park, Long Island, N. Y. The radio operator was T. Sgt. Hal Hodge of Atlanta, Ga.

A rifle bullet from the hill on the west whined sharply as it hit something and bounced. Another did the same. "Everything is under control," Lee said.

'Ike' Leaves—

Eisenhower had gone off to Europe to build up and lead a great international force.

The big difference this time was that though the world was not at peace it was not really at war either—except in the remote and limited theater of Korea. And because there was neither peace nor war the councils of the Allies were in some degree divided and unsure. In the United States, for example, the debate which President Hoover began in the nation several weeks ago and which Senator Taft now has opened at the Capitol reflected differences of view over national policy such as did not exist after the United States was fully committed, by the Pearl Harbor attack, to its role in World War II.

Differences of opinion as between the Allied nations of today there clearly is a difference of opinion as to the urgency of the situation which they confront and the will to deal with it. Eisenhower himself said in the midst of his conferences with officials here that European sacrifices for the common effort must match American sacrifices. That is expected to be the theme of his talks with leaders in continental Europe. Administration officials, who feel that the European rearmament drive has been lagging in various countries are anxious to get it going at top speed. They believe that would be the best answer to Republican critics who say the European nations have not shown a sufficient will to defend themselves and who therefore question whether the present policy of North Atlantic security will work.

Eisenhower flew to Paris first but planned to visit capitals of each of the European members of the Atlantic Pact.

Barricade Erected At New Building Site

A frame barricade and walkway Saturday were erected around the site of the new Allen Building, at 310 West Texas Street here. A building permit for the $125,000 structure was issued December 29 to Charles R. Gaylor, trustee and contractor for the one-story office building, which will have 14,000 square feet of floor space.

Police Chief Meets Tough Opponent In Eight-Pound Pouch

Police Chief Jack Ellington, who unflinchingly admits to a mere 228 pounds, met his match Saturday night in a tiny eight-pound adversary. The test came as Capt. George Morahan of Pecos, district State Highway Patrol head, paid a routine visit to police headquarters. He was accompanied by Sergeant R. M. Hammett of Pecos and Patrolman John White of Odessa.

Trailing the trio was "Feller," a tiny Mexican Chihuahua belonging to Hammett. "Well, looks who's here," roared Ellington grabbing Hammett in a friendly bear hug and playfully tussling with him. Before anyone else could move, "Feller" sprang across the room, leaped onto the police chief and yelped at the top of his voice. Ellington jumped back across the room.

The conversation politely continued with the police chief and "Feller" eyeing each other suspiciously.

Suspect—

Oklahoma Crime Bureau Cook and Mosser entered her cafe while Mrs. Mosser and her three children remained in the car. That was between 4 and 5 p.m. Monday. After mapping their strategy, officers fanned out and moved from two directions—south from Tulsa and north from Horatio and Texas—kansas—to try to find the Mossers' bodies and catch Cook. They had to cover a strip of wild and rugged territory that stretches 155 air miles from Tulsa to Horatio. It includes the Ouachita Mountains and the Cookson Hills, hideouts for badmen in the past.

Brother With Officers
Mosser's twin brother, Chris Mosser of Albuquerque, N. M., accompanied the searching officers. The Mossers left their Alwood, Ill., home last December 29 with the intention of driving to Albuquerque to visit Chris. Cook entered the picture when Archer, a Tahoka, Texas, auto mechanic, identified the Missouri ex-convict as the man he picked up near Lubbock December 30—last Saturday. Archer said the man robbed him of $85 at gunpoint, forced him into the trunk of his car, and then drove into Oklahoma.

In Oklahoma, Archer pried open the trunk lid and jumped from the moving car. A few miles onward the robber burned out a road on the car and abandoned it near Luther, Okla. Charged in Hijacking Officers say the man who hijacked Archer has been described by a witness as similar to a man, apparently a hitchhiker, seen getting into a blue car with Illinois license plates at Tulsa later the same day. They theorized this may have been the Mossers' car. Cook is charged only in the Archer case. He is accused of robbery with firearms and flight to avoid prosecution.

G. W. Elbert, deputy sheriff from Tulsa County, headed the officers who flew from Wichita Falls to Horatio, Texas, to pick up Archer. He had to pick up Associated Press wirephoto pictures of Cook. The FBI describes Cook as having brown hair, blue eyes, light complexion and a medium build. His outer left forearm has a tattooed anchor with initials "RSS," "WEC," "Mary," and stars. On the outside of his left fingers the letters H-A-R-D are spelled out—one on each finger. On his left inner forearm is tattooed "Stevens" and flower petals.

Sift Other Clues
Meanwhile officers sifted other clues. Pete Easley, a Tulsa County rancher, identified as Cook a man he said got out of the ditched Mosser car and asked for a push. Easley said he offered to call a wrecker but the man asked that he not do so. Chris Mosser said a hat found in a Wichita Falls filling station was the same size as that worn by his brother, and was from the Decatur, Ill., store where his brother traded. E. O. Cornwell, 63, one-legged operator of the filling station, said he found the hat after a weird fight last Saturday night in the station between a man with dark hair and one with light hair. He said the light-haired man grabbed the dark-haired man from behind and yelled "Help me! Help me! He's going to kill me and take my wife." The dark-haired man drew a knife, the men ran from the filling station, jumped in a car, and drove away, Cornwell said.

Midland School Men Attend State Meet

Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools, and T. Whitehead, chief accountant, attended the Mid-Winter Conference on Education in Austin Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Certification of teachers and curriculum were the chief topics of discussion in the work groups attended by Monroe. He also attended a meeting of the Texas Education Agency Wednesday, when aid to music departments in Texas' schools was discussed. The work groups attended by Whitehead discussed transportation, records and auditing. Whitehead said a change in method of paying for transporting school children was agreed upon, whereby a flat fee for each bus would be paid by the state. Whitehead said a bill to that effect is scheduled to be presented in the Legislature.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. G. Foust, 2102 West Washington Street, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday as a medical patient.

GOP Leader—

240,000 young men in the 19-through-36 age bracket for the January-March quarter of this year. Such a rate, if continued, would draft 960,000 youths—or just short of 1,000,000—into the armed services this year.

Officials say more than 1,000,000 young men must enter the armed services each year to attain the minimum goal of 3,500,000 for the Army, Navy and Air Force set by President Truman.

Unless some of those in the 19-26 age bracket now deferred are made eligible it apparently will be necessary to take a large number of the 18-year-olds to increase the flow of inductees sufficiently. Senator Martin, now 71 and a veteran of all Army campaigns dating back to the Spanish-American, said it would be "a good thing to have every 18-year-old man take the basic training."

"When I was 18 I went to the Philippines and before I was 19 I was under heavy enemy fire," he said. "The 18-year-old makes a grand combat soldier. He is mentally and physically alert. When he becomes a little older he is set in his ways."

Martin, who rose from private to major general in his long Army career, said "History of our country proves that men 18 and even younger make fine soldiers."

Allies Driven—

town. (Location censored) was abandoned by the Allies.

Commander Barnard, who fled from Wonju to Chungju, 27 miles south, said there was no fighting in the Chungju area. Chungju is another key road and rail town on the Allied route of retreat. But Barnard said its airstrip was deserted except for two military policemen when he arrived.

Whether intentional or not, there was a striking similarity between the timetables of the first and second Communist invasions of the American-guided Republic of South Korea.

The North Korean Reds announced the first capture of Wonju on July 2—seven days after the start of their June 25 invasion. Sunday, seven days after the start of the second invasion by Chinese and North Korean Reds, the town seemed about to fall back into Communist hands.

In the first invasion, the South Koreans announced abandonment of Suwon Airfield and town to North Korean Reds July 3—eight days after the Communist strike across Parallel 38. The airfield is 17 miles south of Seoul; the town 20 miles.

Buildings Destroyed
This time the Allies gave up the airfield seven days after the start of the big Red drive, but they still held Suwon town at last reports. AP Correspondent Stan Swinton said the last pilot to take a plane off the Suwon Air Base told him troops "torched" the buildings and remaining supplies as he left.

The airman, Lt. Frederick E. Burke of Lowell, Mass., said the town of Suwon was in UN hands when he left at 3:15 p.m. Saturday but that a village six miles to the north was burning and gunfire was audible.

Refugees along the road south from Seoul paused to warm themselves at the fires of the burning airfield buildings. AP Correspondent John Randolph, jeeping down the road in the western sector, said tanks were beginning to appear at the head of Communist columns north of Suwon. He was unable to give specific locations.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert, also pulling back down "Heartbreak Highway" with retreating UN troops as he did six months ago, said only a small force of Chinese Red invaders entered Seoul after its capture Thursday.

Lambert said one column curled west from the city and drove toward the coast in the direction of Inchon, Seoul's port. Having now abandoned a total of ten Korean airstrips, the Allies still controlled six in South Korea, and heavy air operations continued.

The Korean airlift operations officer, Col. Robert D. Porman of Memphis, Tenn., and Bellevue, Iowa, said that with the six strips left, the Combat Cargo Command can continue its present rate of supply, and step it up sharply if necessary.

Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, U. S. Fifth Air Force commander, said in a weekly air summary that his pilots killed or wounded an estimated 7,500 Reds from December 30 through January 6. Still the Red hordes came on.

Crane News

CRANE—Annette Jean Holtman was the first baby of 1951 born in the Crane County Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Holtman and weighed eight pounds, 13 ounces at birth. The Holtmans have two other children. Annette Jean was born January 6.

Mrs. Ruth Shirley, kindergarten instructor, announced that enrollment is scheduled for January 11 and 12. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kendrick announce the birth of a daughter, Olea Rae, at Crane Memorial Hospital January 5. She weighed seven pounds, six ounces.

Mrs. Clinton Noble of Midland recently visited with Mrs. A. H. Reynolds here. Consist's "Daughter of the Regiment" will be presented by the Opera Workshop of the North Texas State College School of Music in the Crane High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. January 12. Dr. Walter H. Hodgson, dean of the NTSC School of Music, will direct the performance.

Move Gains To Brand Reds As Aggressors

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)—The United States Saturday stepped up pressure on its Allies to gain their support for a move to have the United Nations denounce the Chinese Communists as aggressors. With the Red Chinese pounding through Korea, an American spokesman said the U. S. feels such a move is the only way to preserve the authority and unity of the UN failure to do so, he said, would constitute a surrender to military force which could destroy the world organization.

The American attitude may doom efforts at the conference of British Commonwealth Prime Ministers, now meeting in London, to reach a compromise solution. Observers here felt that if the U. S. refuses to yield it is highly doubtful the British will exchange the proved friendship of Washington to buy the possible future amity of the Peiping Communist regime.

Hutchinson County Votes To Remain Wet

BORGER —(AP)—Hutchinson County voted Saturday to remain wet by a 585-vote margin in a local option election. The election had been called on the petition of the United Hutchinson County Drys. A total of 2,615 voted wet and 2,030 voted against the sale of alcoholic beverages. More than half of the county's registered voters went to the polls.

Roswell Crash Kills Air Force Sergeant

ROSWELL, N. M. —(AP)—A car crashed head-on into a gasoline truck near here Saturday and the driver of the auto was killed. The victim was S. Sgt. Lester L. Littlehale, Jr., 25, of Walker Air Force Base here. A woman passenger in the Littlehale car escaped serious injury, as did the driver of the truck.

Concho Hereford Association Sale Sets Three Records

SAN ANGELO —(AP)—The Concho Hereford Association set three records Saturday by selling 52 bulls for an average of $1,018 a head and seven females for an average of $865, with an average of $1,000 for all nine head.

The association's old records were $733 average on bulls, $502 on females and $866 on all animals last year. Top price at the sale was $2,275, paid by C. N. Deaton of Gordon for Star Domino 166, consigned by Libb Wallace and Son of Sonora.

Kenneth Smith of Marfa paid top heifer price of $1,650 for Miss Star, another Wallace consignment. The champion bull, consigned by C. T. McCatchy and Sons of Bangs, was sold to Deaton for $1,810. Laddies Lithium of Barnhart paid $1,750 for a bull consigned by Lealand Wallace of Big Spring. The Duwain E. Hughes Estate of San Angelo paid $1,725 for a Libb Wallace bull. R. L. Henderson of San Angelo paid $2,000 for a bull from Dr. H. A. Wimberly of San Angelo.

His final decision pending granting of a leave of absence from the University of Texas, where he is a professor of government and director of the Bureau of Municipal Research.

The commission was appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers last March to study state government costs and seek economy routes.

India's Role In Any Future Wars Vexes Defense Chieftains

LONDON —(AP)—India's quest for a neutral position in world affairs is causing deep-rooted fears among defense chiefs of the British Commonwealth.

The possible role of India's millions in any future war has become the main—though publicly unmentioned—concern of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference underway here, sources close to the conference said Saturday.

India wants to get along with both East and West. Yet many strategic planners in the free world think that, without India's manpower and supply facilities, Southeast Asia could not be held against the Communists.

And without India's backing, some feel, it would be difficult and perhaps impossible to hold the Middle East.

India thus is regarded as vital. Yet it has become known Prime Minister Nehru came to the London conference only on the understanding India would accept no role in commonwealth defense or sacrifice her neutrality.

The Indian position presumably was discussed Saturday at an informal conference of leaders of the non-Asian commonwealth nations. They met with British Defense Minister Emmanuel Shinwell, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Sir William Slim, chief of the imperial general staff, and Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser, Britain's first sea lord.

Prime ministers present were Clement Attlee of Britain, Louis St. Laurent of Canada, Robert G. Menzies of Australia, Sidney Holland of New Zealand and Sir Godfrey Huggins of Southern Rhodesia. Interior Minister T. E. Dones of South Africa sat in for the ailing Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan.

The conferees are trying to coordinate commonwealth defense plans with those of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Of Interest To Property Owners
The Law That Can't Be Repealed!

The law of supply and demand is a vital part of the American way of living. This ancient law determines or affects the price of every commodity and service we use.

At this time, the "supply" of homes and other real estate in the Midland area is less than the demand, resulting in all-time high prices. What even the near future may hold, of course we cannot know. But this we do know —manpower requirements of the armed forces could within a few months completely reverse the real estate situation, as could price control or other government "regulation."

We urge you, as a property-owner, to consider fully these future possibilities and weigh them against today's real estate market, which is heavily in the seller's favor.

We Invite Comparison

Should you decide to sell a home, income property or business property, we invite you to COMPARE the service available at Midland Realateria.

The listing of your property with us provides you with the unique advantages of Realateria shopping. Turn your selling problems over to an experienced, competent organization.

OUR SINCERE THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation to the public for the wonderful response to our new services. The "Cafeteria of Real Estate" has met with enthusiastic acceptance, justifying our belief that this easy, modern method of home-buying was to fill a distinct need in Midland. If you haven't had the opportunity to find out why Realateria shopping is so easy and so much fun, we invite you to visit us soon!

MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1951

SECTION TWO

FESTIVAL JUDGES—Judges of the Fall Adult Art Festival discuss the various paintings entered by Midland residents. The festival was held November 10. Abilene judges pictured left to right are Mrs. Thelma Graham Kendall, Juanita Tittle and Mrs. Maurice Martin. The entries were divided into three divisions: landscape, still life, and portrait. Frank Johnson won first place in the landscape division with his "Street Scene." First place in the still life division went to Mrs. Ralph Barron for her painting, "Still Life," and Mrs. Robert L. Clarke won first place in the portrait division with her "Mrs. Casebier."

WATERCOLOR CLASS—A watercolor class is in session and students Eleanor Conover and John Cathey are sketching in the composition for a watercolor painting. Classes are conducted in the Palette Club Studio, 604 North Colorado Street. Members visit the Palette Club studio regularly to paint with or without instruction.

Midland Art Center

The Midland Palette Club Art Center is the focal point for Midland amateur painters and others interested in any phase of painting.

The Art Center was organized as an art club in September of 1935, with 12 charter members. The first officers were Mrs. Ralph Barron, president, and Mrs. John Hix, secretary-treasurer. The name was changed to the Palette Club in 1938, and in 1948 the club was reorganized and incorporated with the name Midland Palette Club Art Center.

The Art Center now is sponsored by the Palette Club and the Midland branch of the American Association of University Women. The studio is located at 604 North Colorado Street.

The club program has three phases. The first is individual participation in actual painting with or without instruction, including ceramics and silk-screen reproduction.

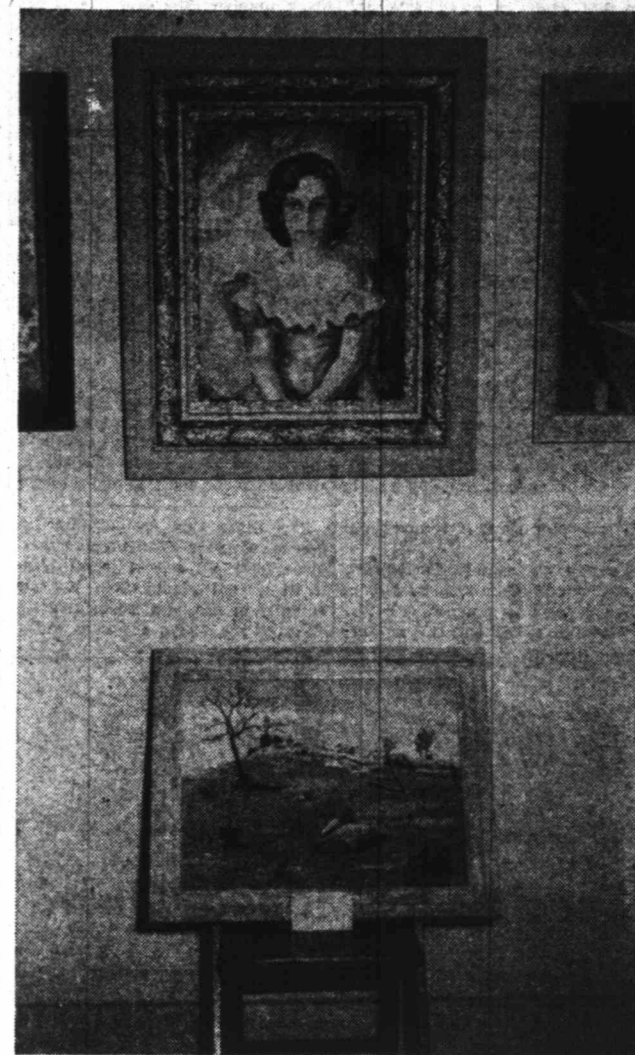

For the last two years competent artist instructors have been brought to Midland to give short courses in all phases of painting. The 1951 Winter School of Painting will open soon, with R. E. Cronyn as instructor.

The second phase is that of group participation in the two annual art exhibits; the Adult Festival held during National Art Week in November, and the Youth Festival in the Spring. Out-of-city judges are invited to these festivals. Inez Parker, art coordinator in the public schools, and Mrs. R. S. Bogardus help to stimulate interest among the children in the Youth Festival. Mrs. Bogardus holds junior art classes.

The third phase of the art program in Midland is that of making available to residents a variety of exhibitions—oil paintings, watercolors and pastel prints. Most of the exhibits come from the Pan American Galleries in San Antonio, the Texas Fine Arts Association in Austin, and the American Association of University Women in Washington, D. C. Sunday is the opening date for a Texas Fine Arts Show.

The organization offers student and active membership. The membership at present is 85 persons.

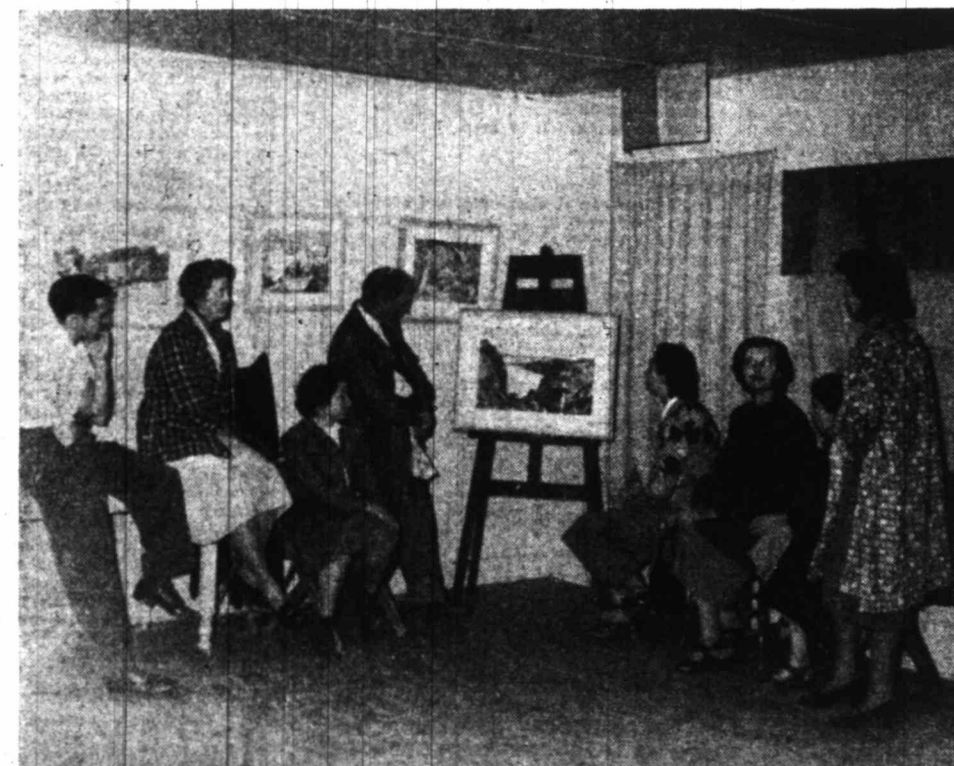

Mrs. G. H. Butler is president, and Mrs. Ralph Barron, secretary. Mrs. R. L. Clarke is in charge of the publicity for the Palette Club and for its Ceramic Arts Group, and serves as arrangements chairman for special artists and their exhibits.

FINISHED PRODUCT—A popularity contest was held at the Fall Adult Art Festival here. Persons visiting the exhibit voted for their favorite paintings. The two popularity contest winners are pictured above. They are "Suzanne Hall," by Bonny Bogardus, first place, and "Rocky Slope," by Addison Young, second place. This festival is held each year during National Art Week in November. A Youth Festival is held in the Spring. Besides these festivals the Palette Club frequently brings artist's exhibits to Midland. The Texas Fine Arts Exhibition will open at 8 p.m. Sunday in the studio. The exhibit will include paintings by 25 Texas artists, with nine oil paintings and eight watercolors. The Winter School of Painting will begin soon with R. E. Cronyn, artist and sculptor, as the instructor.

SILK SCREENING—Another class—another phase in painting and this time it is silk screening. Instructor Norma Hall, right, shows Mrs. Waldo Leggett how to prepare for the process of silk screening. Screen stencil printing is the modern form of what probably is the oldest of all printing processes. It is the logical development of the principle used by the Chinese and Japanese, who long ago learned to make very intricate stencils by gluing the cut design to a web of hair, thus making it possible to use isolated elements which could not otherwise be held in place. This process was used by some of the Palette Club members to make their Christmas cards.

List Of Famous 'Last Words' May Include Some Of Yours

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Many a woman has lived to regret having voiced these famous "last words" . . .

"I'll show him he can't treat me like that and get away with it." "I thought I ought to tell you for your own good."

"If a child of mine ever behaved like that, I know what I'd do."

"Don't go . . . it's early yet."

"Just drop in any time."

"After all, it's too good a bargain to pass up."

"I really shouldn't repeat this, but . . ."

"I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man on earth."

"I'm going to give her a piece of my mind."

"Stop worrying about Johnny. There's nothing in the house he can hurt."

"I'm going to put my foot down. There's no hurry about returning it. Keep it as long as you like. Don't Bet On This."

"I hope when I'm 80 I'll have sense enough not to try to act young."

"It's one thing I'd never put up with."

"Your work sounds fascinating. Do tell me more about it. No, of course I won't be bored."

"I wouldn't tell this to another living soul, but I know you'll understand."

"I hope I never see you again."

"I guess I'll wear last year's little black number. She said it was going to be just a small, informal party."

"All right, I'll head the committee if you're sure it isn't going to take up a lot of time."

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Rayburn Tenure As Speaker Soon To Be Longest In History

By TEX HASKLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Texas' veteran Congressman Sam Rayburn soon will have served as Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives longer than any other man.

Records show Henry Clay in broken periods of service in the House held the speakership for a total of eight years, four months and 11 days, according to research experts in the Congressional Library.

On January 27 Rayburn will have equaled that mark.

He first became Speaker on Sept. 16, 1940, succeeding the late William Bankhead of Alabama. He has been the presiding officer of the House ever since, except during the Republican controlled 80th Congress, Jan. 3, 1947 to Jan. 3, 1949.

While the Congressional Library research experts come up with the eight year, four month and 11 day record for Clay, a layman's check of the newly-published Congressional Biographical Directory covering the years 1774 to 1949 (including Continental Congress rosters) shows the Kentuckian served as speaker only eight years, two months and one week. By that count, Rayburn went ahead of the field last Thanksgiving Day.

Considerably Ahead
As for actual time spent in presiding over the House, there is no question but that Rayburn already is considerably ahead of all.

In the days of Clay Congress usually met and organized late in the year, and remained in session only a few months.

Coinciding almost with Rayburn's service as Speaker, the Congress has remained in almost continuous session throughout the year.

The periods Clay served as Speaker were: Nov. 4, 1811, to Jan. 19, 1814; Dec. 4, 1815, to Oct. 28, 1820, and Dec. 1, 1823, to March 3, 1825. He resigned in 1814 to serve as a commissioner in the negotiation of peace with England, and in 1825 to serve as Secretary of State.

During the last three months Rayburn also has exceeded the eight-year records of speaker chalked up by two other men. Joseph G. (Uncle Joe) Cannon of Illinois served as Speaker from 1903 to 1911, and Champ Clark of Missouri from 1911 to 1919.

Second Most Powerful
The Speakership of the House, sometimes hailed as the second most powerful position in the nation, now is the source of a successor to the presidency after the vice president.

In the brief period between the expiration of one Congress—at noon January 3, and the organization of the succeeding Congress and election of the speaker, the president

'Too Bounteous' Beauties Loose Protests At Critic

By RAUL PETT

NEW YORK —(AP)— They howled from coast to coast. They protested, they denied, they loosed invective, they slashed with the broadsword and parried with the rapier.

This was the collective of the ladies chosen "the ten most beautiful women in America if they would only lose ten pounds."

Their sole target was Al Roon, body conditioner and reducing expert, who took his life in his hands recently by selecting the "ten most beautiful if's."

And the girls came fighting back, led by Tallulah Bankhead, who, Roon said, has "too much around the rectus abdominis region (the waist)."

"I really haven't got a minute, dahling," Miss Bankhead said, taking ten. "But I never heard of this Roon person and furthermore he's the first man who ever said I should lose weight about my waist, and you can tell him for me, dahling, that unless he keeps his utterly absurd opinions to himself, he might find himself losing a little weight around the ears, and besides . . ."

Lana Turner, for whom a general reduction was suggested, replied with icy brevity: "Nothing is given so profusely as advice."

First Knewa Complaint
Roon claims Jane Russell is four inches too big across the bust, or, as he called it, the pectorals muscles, both major and minor.

To which Miss Russell replied: "I don't know what picture Mr. Roon was looking at but in my last four films I weighed 14 pounds less than I did in either 'The Outlaw' or 'Paleface.'"

To which her studio added: "Much has been said about her pectorals muscles, but this is the first time we received a complaint."

Denise Darcel disagreed with Roon's contention that she is "10 pounds too sexy."

"There is only one place I could lose 10 pounds and, if I did, I'd be flat and wouldn't be on Mr. Goon's list in the first place." (The incorrect pronunciation of Roon's name was Miss Darcel's.)

Too Much Bustle
Anne Jeffreys, star of "Kiss Me Kate," couldn't agree that her derriere needed reduction.

"Mr. Roon," she said, "is looking at my bustle, not me. I wear one in the show because in one scene I get a violent spanking. I am spanked eight times a week. It's well pounded."

beautiful women. But what is inter-coastal breathing? Or did he mean inter-coastal?"

In two cases where Roon had recommended a general trimming down, Frances Langford couldn't be reached for comment and Faye Emerson could but didn't. Miss Emerson suggested that other masculine opinions be sought.

Diced crisp apple help make a cabbage salad both delicious and different. If you use red apples leave unpeeled to add color to the salad. If you peel the apples add a dash of paprika when you moisten the salad with the dressing.

Carolyn Oates

Oates, Peterson To Marry Soon

To announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Carolyn, to Daniel Wilford Peterson, Jr., Mrs. Noel Oates entertained with a tea in her home, 610 North Main Street, from 3 until 5 p.m. Saturday. The couple will be married February 3 in the First Methodist Church.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Oates and her daughter. The bride-to-be wore a pink wool jersey dress with a full skirt and a shoulder trim of rhinestones and a gold quilted embroidery accented by a rhinestone bracelet and gold sandals. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Charles H. Standley, sister of the future bridegroom, and Trema Faye Standley registered guests in the bride's book. Mrs. Marion Culver of Lubbock and Mrs. Charles Reeder presided at the silver service assisted by Lily Gilbert.

Miss Oates' chosen colors of du-bonnet and pink were used in the dining room where the tea table was covered with pink net over du-bonnet satin. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement of pink carnations and candytuft centered with double pink satin hearts bearing the announcement. "Carolyn and Pete—February 3." Triple silver candelabra decorated with plumosa fern and pink carnations were used against a reflector on the buffet.

Members of the house party wore corsages of white carnations. Approximately 85 persons attended.

Mrs. Tom Watson of Ash Grove, Mo., will be matron of honor at the wedding. Bridesmaids will be Lily Gilbert and Trema Fae Standley. Lu'Ann Reeder will be the flower girl.

Charles H. Standley, brother-in-law of the prospective bridegroom, will be best man. Ushers will be Dr. Tom Watson of Ash Grove, Mo., Carl Nance, Jim Moore and W. E. Browne, Jr.

The informant scratched his head a moment. "I don't think so, ma'am," he finally answered.

"But if he does, he keeps it shaved off."

Wanda Mashburn, John Yancy Wed

In a single ring ceremony December 31 in the Asbury Methodist Church, Wanda Mashburn became the bride of John C. Yancy of Abilene. The Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Mashburn, 2811 West Elizabeth Street. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Yancy of Abilene.

Mrs. J. P. Carson, Jr., pianist, played "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The vows were read before an altar flanked with baskets of white lilies, stock and stephanotis. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of antique ivory satin with a train. A veil of French illusion was caught to a band of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white lilies topped with an orchid.

Attendees Listed
Joy Mashburn, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a turquoise satin dress with a bonnet and muff to match. Bobbie Ruth Willis, the bride's former roommate, was the bridesmaid. Her rose satin dress was fashioned like that of the maid of honor.

Morris Lindsey of Abilene was the best man. Ushers were Gordon Mashburn and Ray Koen, cousins of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of H. A. Mashburn, 507 North Garfield Street. The table was covered with an ivory lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Jeff Davis served the cake and Mrs. Ray Koen presided at the punch bowl.

Bride Chooses Turquoise

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a turquoise dress with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Yancy are graduates of Saint Joseph Academy of Abilene. Mrs. Yancy attended McMurray College for a year and now is attending Odessa Junior College. Yancy is a student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. Following the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Yancy returned to the colleges they were attending.

Out-of-city guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Yancy and Franklin Yancy of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Yancy of Colorado City; Mrs. T. E. Mashburn and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kaderli of Stanton.

Mrs. John C. Yancy

Labor Market In Midland Tightens; Vacancies Listed

The labor market is getting tight in Midland, as is evidenced by the number of job vacancies listed with the Texas Employment Commission. J. D. Bechtol, manager of the TEC office here, said he has more job listings now than any time in recent weeks and the number of available jobs grows daily.

"With the labor market tightening, people who have worked and wish to re-enter the labor field should file an application with us," Bechtol said Saturday. Bechtol said he expects the demand for workers to be supplied by women who quit working when there was a surplus of people in the labor field.

Numerous top-paying jobs are listed with the commission. Bechtol said, and work in almost any field can be obtained. Most of the jobs require experienced persons, although some jobs require no experience at all.

Unique Openings
Some unique openings are listed with the commission. One vacancy calls for a lady for general office work, but the hours—4 p.m. until 12 midnight—make it of the unusual variety. A male dispatcher-typist is needed for a 3 p.m.-11 p.m. shift.

Among the openings for females are: stenographers and secretaries, both legal and oil; bookkeeping-typists, bank teller (female) or male; cashiers and sales clerks; continuity writer; and accountants. Job vacancies for men include accountants, grocery checkers, trucking bookkeeper, automobile mechanics, soft drink routeman, draftsmen (oil), and top-flight comptometer operators.

An attractive opening is also available for an experienced female Burroughs bookkeeping machine operator to work in a bank. Female computers and seismograph machine operators also are wanted.

Music Club To Have Program

The Midland Music Club will have its annual family program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School Cafeteria.

Those participating are Mrs. Frank Miller and Martha, piano duet; Mrs. Edmund Hitchcock and Nancy, violin and piano duo; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gibson and Margaret, recorders and piano; Mrs. L. S. Melzer and Marianne, piano duet; Mrs. A. C. Smith and Joel, piano and violin duo; Mrs. J. B. Elder and Marilyn, piano duet; Mrs. Eder and Ann, piano and violin duo, and the Trinity Episcopal Choir, with choral arrangements under the direction of Phyllis Howell.

AAUW GROUP TO MEET

SEEK BETTER HEALTH THE VOLUNTARY AMERICAN WAY

WAGES	AUTOMOBILES	HEALTH
BEFORE... WORLD WAR II
Average American Wage DOUBLE the English.	Americans owned one car to each 4 1/2 people.	The United States level of HEALTH was highest...
Three times German wage.	England owned one car to each 20 people.	The United States death rate was lowest...
Five times Italian wage.	Russia owned one car to each 429 people.	OF ANY COUNTRY ON EARTH!
130 million Americans received more wages per year than the 520 million who lived in Europe.	Germany owned one car to every 49 people.

What's the SCORE?

1. Best Quality of Medical Service on Earth!
2. American People Make Highest Wages on Earth!
3. American Standard of Living Highest on Earth!

Add up the score! There is no doubt that we are VASTLY better off than citizens of governments that are wholly or partially "socialistic." American doctors, under our unhampered democratic system, have made more progress in raising the level of health and disease prevention, than in all the centuries before. There are vast fields of scientific and curative medicine yet to be conquered. Free men and women are working in laboratories, hospitals, medical schools and clinics all over America, on these problems. Prompt medical care and hospitalization are available now to 100,000,000 Americans, and being extended to more and more every day—the VOLUNTARY American way. Ask your doctor about it.

Community Chest Distributes Funds To Member Groups

The Midland Community Chest Saturday had distributed funds to all participating agencies, with the exception of the Salvation Army, in line with their 1951 budget askings, officials announced. The Salvation Army check will be delivered this week.

Other participating agencies include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Center, Latin American Youth Club and Goodfellows.

The Community Chest finance campaign exceeded its $45,000 quota last month. W. A. Hutchison, Chest treasurer, said the checks were in the full amounts requested by the agencies as their 1951 operating budgets.

Farmers Try To Halt Killing Of Their Pet Quail

DALHART—(AP)—Farmers around here are trying to prevent hunters from killing their pet quail.

Jake Kinard, president of the Rita Blanca Outdoor Sportsmen's Club of Dalhart, said several farms and ranches in Dallam County have been invaded while residents were away and the flocks of pet quails virtually wiped out.

The club has offered $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons killing the quail, killing pheasants or illegally hunting on posted land.

One rancher said he was feeding 67 quail which were staying in piles of wire, lumber and other shelter near his yard. He returned home one day to find them all gone except three. Two of these had broken legs. He found about 75 shotgun shells nearby.

Kinard said pet quail particularly are important because they always survive violent weather or food shortages which might wipe out the wild birds.

Midland VFW Post Gives Wounded Vet Lift Enroute Home

A veteran of the fighting in Korea was stranded in Midland.

He was enroute home. Home to him is Chattanooga, Tenn.

Staff Sergeant Tucker, who had been captured and tortured by the Communists in Korea, had received a medical furlough. But he lost his money in El Paso.

He got as far as Midland and decided to try to obtain financial aid. So, he called the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4149.

Members of the post listened to Sergeant Tucker's story, examined his hands and feet, which had been mutilated by the Communists, then purchased him a bus ticket to Chattanooga and gave him money for meals.

The sergeant said he had been in the Air Force, stationed at a base near Tokyo, but was transferred to the 24th Infantry Division and sent to Korea. He told of being captured when the enemy overran his company's position. And his fingers and toes told the gruesome story of how his captors had run needles beneath the nails.

This was a veteran in need of help. The VFW, as one of its services, aids members of the armed forces who are in dire straits.

The Tennessee veteran carried a Chattanooga VFW card. He was confident the Midland veterans would see him on his way.

South Plains Has One Rat For Each Person, Wildlife Office Says

LUBBOCK—(AP)—There's one rat for every person in the South Plains, and that's 300,000 rats. Each rat eats about $2 worth of property a year.

The figures are from E. G. Pope of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife office here. His office concerns itself chiefly with rodent and predatory animal control.

Pope estimated rat damage in the South Plains during 1950 amounted to $500,000.

"Rats have been on the increase during the last year and our control measures fell behind the last couple of months," Pope said.

Large quantities of grain sorghum stored and stacked on farms will provide good diets for rats this winter, he added.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round
 By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1961, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: Another rail strike brews; Capitol elevators filibuster; Senator McMahon and U. S. Steel compete for war plant.

WASHINGTON — Inside reason why a new railroad strike is brewing despite the supposed "settlement" announced to the public last month is friction between the Railroad Brotherhood chiefs and likable, glad-handing White House Assistant John Steelman.

The problem of avoiding a strike in the long, drawn-out railroad dispute is one of the toughest in the nation. But things have become so tense between Steelman and the brotherhoods that they have sent word to Secretary of Defense Marshall recommending that Steelman be replaced with a topflight mediator such as Cyrus Ching or Anna Rosenberg.

What irked them was first of all a statement they discovered in a strike agreement memorandum which they negotiated after a grueling, all-night session at the White House last month. The line read: "If the parties cannot agree on details of agreement or rules, they shall be submitted to John R. Steelman for a final decision."

This, brotherhood chiefs interpreted, meant that Steelman would have a three-year job as a rail negotiator whether he remained on the White House staff or not. Another thing that irked them was Steelman's tactics in proposing that the two sides write down the points of near-agreement and take them home as a basis for final settlement. This so-called "memorandum of agreement" was typed by White House secretaries. Then, brotherhood chieftains said, they were flabbergasted to find that Steelman had called in the press, radio and newsreels. To them he announced: "I have reached a settlement. There will be no strike."

Gulps came from the labor side of the table, but no open protests. It was difficult to protest with the newsreels clicking.

However this rancor has continued to boil below the surface and it looks as if the whole rail strike will have to be negotiated over again.

Filibustering Elevators

Even the elevators are catching the "filibuster" fever on Capitol Hill. One of them stalled for 15 minutes between floors of the House Office Building the other day. Meantime, its congressional passengers had a scary interlude as the air grew stuffier and stuffier and the operator struggled to get the circulation fan functioning.

Senator-elect Mike Monroney of Oklahoma helped to ease the tension in the jam-packed lift by wisecracking: "Don't anybody get excited. I've never heard of a politician suffocating from hot air."

The perspiring operator finally was able to pry the elevator door open far enough for the 14 passengers, including Congresswoman Reva Bosome of Utah, to be raised to safety.

"The atmosphere in that elevator was the most nonpartisan I have witnessed since coming to Congress. I can assure you. We were all jammed so close together that any fainting would have been done standing up."

War Plant Debate

Sessions of the Truman Cabinet seldom feature explosions. But at last week's session, two members from New England, Attorney General McGrath of Rhode Island and Secretary of Labor Tobin of Massachusetts blew off some steam.

They were indignant because New England has been left out in the cold when it comes to the location of new war plants—especially steel and aluminum plants.

Behind the McGrath-Tobin gripe is one of the most important economic debates going on inside the administration—a debate between big business on the one hand and a group of New England businessmen on the other, regarding the location of a government-sponsored steel mill at New London, Conn.

Simultaneous with the inside blow-up, Senator Brian McMahon of Connecticut staged a showdown conference with Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. McMahon was arguing the cause of the New England Council, the business group which has organized the New England Steel Development Company.

Tax Concessions

Opposing this plant is most of "big steel," especially U. S. Steel, which proposes to build a new plant near Morrisville in Bucks County, Pa. If the government authorizes a plant at New London, U. S. Steel will not be certified to build its plant in Pennsylvania. Or if, on the other hand, U. S. Steel is certified to construct a plant in Pennsylvania, the New England Council of Businessmen is out of luck. The financial club which the U. S. government can hold over either outfit is the "certification of amortization," a document from the Treasury permitting war contractors to write off their plant's capital investment in five years.

Arguing with NSRB, Chairman Symington, Senator McMahon pointed out the need for diversifying the steel industry instead of concentrating it in the hands of a few big companies.

Cleaning Out Lake Or Reservoir Easy With Aid Of Nutria

ATHENS, TEXAS —(AP)—Cleaning out a lake or reservoir can be a tough job without a family of nutria.

With nutria, it's easy. You just sit back and let the nutria chew away at the moss, lily pads and other plant growths. Pretty soon, presto, a clean lake, or city reservoir.

Nutria are little animals. One authority says a nutria "has a head like a beaver, whiskers like a walrus, front feet like a monkey, body like a ground hog, hind feet like a duck, and a tail like a rat."

But the main thing is the nutria's appetite. It just keeps eating.

At least three East Texas cities have set up families of nutria in city reservoirs to keep them clean. Now Bill Richards of Athens has installed a family on his lake south of Athens.

He started out with three. One, a female, disappeared, leaving a pair which settled down quickly to a humdrum life of bearing young ones and eating. Now he has seven.

They built a modest little grass bungalow far enough out in the water to be protected from bank-walking varmints.

Experts say it will take 12 nutria to keep Richards' small lake clean. He's waiting.

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Harvey Conger of Midland has purchased eight head of young, pure bred Hereford bulls from E. B. Dickenson and J. C. Sale, Midland and Martin County ranchers. The bulls have been delivered to Conger's ranch near Goldsmith in Ector and Andrews Counties. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Leonard Proctor, Midland sheep rancher, has sold his 12-months clip of wool at $1 per pound net, one of the top prices reported in the Midland sector. The price is about two-bits higher than he received last year. Several other Midland sheepmen reportedly have sold their wool clips at a similar figure. Proctor said some 800 bags.

Proctor said his sheep are in good condition, but he expects to start feeding in the next week or two.

Prices continued upward on all classes of cattle Thursday at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale. The market was strong and active on 630 head consigned.

Stocker calves, both steers and heifers, were bid from $31 to $36 per hundred and several went to $36.75. Bulls were in demand at $28 to $28.50 and a few were higher. Stocker yearling steers auctioned for $29 to $31 and cows at $18 to $23. Fat calves and yearlings brought $27 to $32.50, mediums $24 to $27, commons $20 to $24. Fat cows for $21 to $23.50, medium cows $20 to $21, canners and cutters $16 to $20.

Bill Guest of Hardin-Simmons University has been elected president of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. Guest was chosen at a recent meeting in Albuquerque, N. M. He succeeds Harley May of Sul Ross, the '49 all-around champion cowboy.

Edson Dudley of Oklahoma A&M was named vice president. Guest is leading in the bulldogging and will become national champion in this event at the NIRA show in San Francisco in March. He has 417 points against 240 of the second place holder, Don Rieger, New Mexico A&M.

The NIRA sets up rules of intercollegiate competition. The regulations are patterned after the Rodeo Cowboy Association. Each school has a faculty sponsor.

Among the schools in the NIRA are Abilene Christian College, Ranger Junior College, Texas A&M, Texas A&I, Sul Ross, Texas Western, Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico A&M, New Mexico, Arizona, Flagstaff, Tempe, Colorado A&M, Wyoming, Oklahoma A&M, Kansas State, Washington State, California Poly, Cameron Junior College, Baylor, TCU, Texas, Arlington Junior College and John Tarleton.

The volume of cattle feeding during the winter and spring will be almost as high as last year, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicts. The movement of stocker and feeder cattle into the Corn Belt was accelerated during November to establish a new record for the month. However, the July-November instalments were below last year but still the second highest on record. Cattle feeding in almost all the Western States will be as high or higher than a year ago. California will feed a record high number, while feeding in Colorado will exceed slightly the number fed a year ago. Feed supplies generally are ample although in some areas of the Northern Corn Belt poor quality corn is reported to have less than the usual feeding value. The wheat pastures of the Great Plains have not developed as expected earlier, and some cattle are being shifted to more favorable feeding areas. Weather conditions have been generally favorable.

As the year ended farmers and ranchmen were watching the overcast sky hoping for rain to break the critical state-wide drought, the Extension Service Bulletin reported. There was little or no farm activity. Widely scattered light showers on

New Year's Day in west, northwestern and northern counties were welcome but more rain was needed. Heavy rains in scattered eastern and upper coastal counties temporarily relieved the critical drought in those favored areas. Dormant wheat in the northwest continued to lose vitality from the combined effects of drought and insects.

The keen and expert eyes of two men who have won rodeo championship honors will appraise the performance of the contestants in the world's greatest indoor rodeo at Fort Worth's Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, January 26-February 4.

The men whose decisions will determine the championships are the division of the many thousands of dollars in prize money are Shirley Hussey of Big Timber, Mont., and Carl Dossey of Chandler, Ariz. Hussey once rode the famous buckler, Five Minutes to Midnight, and was a champion bulldogger and rider. Dossey was a champion bareback rider. They were the judges of the Fort Worth rodeo a year ago.

Vic Schwars of Lawton, Okla., a former champion bronc rider here, again will be arena director, while Louis Kubits of Fort Worth again has been chosen as rodeo livestock superintendent.

The 1950 Texas pig crop totaled 2,457,000 or about four per cent more than the 2,362,000 pigs raised in 1949 but eight per cent below the 1939-48 average of 2,660,000 head. The fall crop totaled 1,203,000 head, which was eight per cent above the 1949 fall crop of 1,114,000 head, according to figures released by the USDA.

Number of sows farrowed during the fall season, estimated at 188,000 head, was sharply above intentions indicated last June and eight per cent above the number farrowed during the fall season a year earlier.

If 1951 spring breeding intentions are realized, 221,000 sows will farrow. This will be 11 per cent more than the number farrowed in the Spring of 1950.

Livestock experts of the nation have been selected to judge the San Antonio Livestock Exposition to be held February 16-25. Mark Browne, chairman of the livestock committee, announced the following specialists have agreed to judge the exposition: Frank Newsom county agent, Alpine, fat steers; John H. Jones, Texas A&M, fat lambs; Fred Hale, Texas A&M, fat swine.

In the breeding cattle classes, Herefords will be judged by Dr. A. D. Weber, Kansas State College; Polled Herefords, W. L. Stangel, Texas Tech; Aberdeen-Angus, Phil Ljungdahl, manager of Sunbeam Farms, Miami, Okla.; Shorthorns, Harold W. Thiemann, breeder, Concordia, Mo.

The PAZA division of Brahman cattle will be judged by Dr. J. Barlow Villars, professor of Zootechnology, University of Sao Paulo, Brazil, while livestock consultant, John C. Burns, Fort Worth, picks the best of the Brangus breeding cattle.

Louis Gilbreath, Norris Cattle Company, Ocala, Fla., will pick the best of the Brangus breeding cattle.

Milking Shorthorns, will be judged by W. L. Stangel, Texas Tech. A. L. Darnell, Texas A&M, will be responsible for the selection of premium winners in the Dairy Cattle division.

According to all indications, the exposition will have one of the largest sheep and goat shows of the nation. The Fine Wool sheep, consisting of Rambouillets and Delaine Merinos will be judged by Dr. Phil E. Neale, New Mexico A&M College.

Medium Wool breeding sheep, Corriedales, Shropshires, Southdowns, Suffolks, Hampshires and Columbias, will be selected by Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry, Texas A&M.

WTCC Will Expand Farm and Ranch Activities In Area

ABILENE—Agricultural and livestock activities of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be projected into every section of West Texas as a part of the organization's 1951 program of regional and community level services, Fred E. Husbands, executive vice president and general manager of the WTCC, announced Saturday.

George A. Logan, former manager of the agricultural department of the West Chamber of Commerce, assumed management of the WTCC's agriculture and livestock department on January 1. Logan will spend most of his time in the field on regional projects and activities, and cooperating with local chambers of commerce and farm and ranch groups in organizing and activating agricultural and livestock programs, Husbands said.

Development of more efficient marketing practices and procedures for agriculture and livestock, more and better farm roads, and water and soil conservation for improved and increased production will be important area-wide projects of the department, Logan said.

Other Services
Services of the WTCC also will be available to chambers of commerce and farm groups throughout the territory in helping to organize and expand local agricultural and livestock programs, and in county and area fair planning. These services will include advisory assistance in the selection of committees, planning sound programs of work, financing, and methods of successfully executing the program for maximum benefit to all concerned.

A graduate of Texas A&M College, Logan has spent several years in extension and soil conservation services and on the faculty at Texas A&M as graduate assistant in agricultural economics. He is 36 years old.

At Waco, he received wide recognition for outstanding work in developing the state's first Save-A-Farm Day with the complete rebuilding of a worn-out 185-acre farm, the state's first economy beef program for farm boys and girls, an extensive milk production program, an early cotton stalk destruction project, and the development of plans for a $1,250,000 agriculture and livestock exposition.

CZECHS PRODUCE OWN ELECTRONIC MICROSCOPE

PRAGUE—(AP)—Czechoslovakia, using her own raw materials, has produced her first electronic microscope.

The Prague newspaper "Svobodne Slovo" reporting this, said the magnification was such that the user could see two points only one ten-millionth of a millimeter apart.

A Brno factory of the government-owned electronic combine, Tesla, will begin making the microscopes for export in 1951, the paper said.

Mrs. Frank Thomas Brahaney, Jr.

Kitchen, Brahaney Ceremony Read

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kitchen of Tulsa, Okla., announce the marriage of their daughter, Mariou, to Frank Thomas Brahaney, Jr., son of Frank T. Brahaney and the late Mrs. Brahaney of Midland. Following their wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Midland.

The wedding took place recently in the Rose Chapel of the Boston Avenue Methodist Church in Tulsa. Dr. Edmund F. Miller read the marriage vows before an altar banked with palms and tropical ferns and lighted by tall cathedral candles in white candelabras. Floor baskets held white gladiolus and snapdragons. A white bridal carpet was used. Individual candies based with evergreens burned in the chapel windows.

Traditional wedding music played by the organist, Mrs. John S. Kolstad. Bob MacDowell sang "Pans Angelicus" and "Because." Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace with scalloped ruffles at the shoulders and the hem of the skirt. Her veil was of orange blossoms and bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and white lily of the valley with matching satin shower.

Georgia Ann Kitchen, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, while Carolyn Sue Kitchen was her sister's attendant. They wore matching ballerina length dresses of green satin and carried colonial bouquets centered with gardenias with a shower of white sweet peas. Their headresses were fashioned from ivy leaves.

Bridegroom's Brother Is Best Man
Edwin L. Brahaney was best man for his brother. Ushers were Frank Kitchen, brother of the bride, and Carl Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kitchen chose a dark blue lace dress with pink accessories and a pink camellia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kitchen were hosts at the reception in their home. The reception table was covered with a white lace cloth centered with a post wedding cake. The top of the cake held a miniature bridal bouquet.

Those assisting with the reception were Mrs. Robert Bayliss, Mrs. Chess Herndon, Pat Walsh, Jean Lowr and Constance Kitchen.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, Mexico, Mrs. Brahaney was wearing a beige wool bolero suit with brown accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Out-of-city guests included the bridegroom's father, Mrs. Vernon Pettis of Crane, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Wright and Maria Wright of Kansas City, Mo.

Kermit C. Of C. Banquet Slated Thursday Night

KERMIT—The annual meeting of the Kermit Chamber of Commerce, which again this year will be a banquet-dance, is set for Thursday night, and Kermit's Yellow Jackets, who went to Class A state finals, and the 100-piece, prize-winning High School "K" Band will be honor guests. Soon after the Yellow Jackets lost their bid at state finals to Wharton by three points, civic and patriotic organizations started plans for a celebration honoring the football team and coaches. The Chamber of Commerce, with the date already set for its annual meeting, asked it be allowed to entertain, not only the Yellow Jackets but also the high school band which has become widely known throughout the state. Members of the American Legion, 20-30 Club, Lions Club and VFW are handling other phases of the celebration. Chamber of Commerce committees are handling arrangements for the banquet-dance.

The banquet will be held in the high school gymnasium. A program saluting the two school groups is being arranged by G. E. Thompson, chairman of the program committee and superintendent of Kermit schools.

Wharton Rice
Featured on the menu will be "Wharton Rice." This rice, about 75 pounds (uncooked), was given to Kermit Chamber of Commerce Manager Charlie Green by Wharton fans after the game in Sweetwater, with the instructions, "Feed this to your Yellow Jackets and next year they'll win state championship. It helped us." Manager Green replied he didn't believe the Jackets would need rice next year, but it is being served, not only to the Yellow Jackets, but to the large group to attend the banquet. Several Yellow Jackets already have reported they're "saving up an appetite."

Immediately following the banquet, John Carrio and his Sul Ross Orchestra will play dance music in the Community Center.

Also on the Thursday night program will be the introduction of new officers of the Chamber of Commerce who were elected last week.

Bill Cameron of the English-Cameron Agency, succeeds Webb D. Jenkins as president. John Hobbs is vice-president. Three new board members will be installed. They are John Baldwin, Emory Spangler and Harold Diller, who were elected last month. Retiring board members are M. H. Alberta, Donald Tracy and Jenkins. Holdover members of the board are: Dr. John Graves, Hobbs, Cameron, Nev Williams, B. M. Stodghill and Ed Smead.

FOR WINTER MEALS
Cranberries are plentiful, so put some of them away to have conveniently on hand for winter meals. Cranberries freeze successfully, either dry-packed or syrup-packed.

This Bouncing Ball Game They Call Cage Till Or Basketball Is Interesting Sport

By SHIRLEY WENTER

"Well it's now or never." I told myself as I opened the heavy gym doors to attend the basketball game which I was supposed to cover for the paper.

Having had my mind set against enjoying the affair, I experienced a faint tinge of surprise at the warmth and gaiety which enveloped me at the doorway. Still skeptical as to the pleasure of the occasion, I took a seat among a group of high school friends. Upon soaking up a little of the environment, I was impressed by the constant hum of activity and by the variety of people who obviously were enjoying themselves.

Ah! Some more schoolmates—and, surprising as it may sound—teachers with dates and with families—Golly, what have I been missing? I decided that everyone must go to these games.

Jungle Of Boys
After settling down comfortably, my attention was centered on the 10 colorfully attired players on the court. At first, they resembled a jungle of boys without a purpose but to run around, then you catch the determination with which they play and are fascinated by the methods they take in getting the ball to, and through, the opponent's basket where they score two vital points.

Hey! The game got all tied up before I knew it. Not much time left, either. Oh my gosh! The opposition made another two points. What'll we do?—Ah! Another two points for us. But that only ties us again. Just a few seconds now until the end—the gymnasium is about to pop with the expectant hush—the vast room explodes—the roar from the Midland side tells us we made the precious two points. Sweet relief. Seconds later the blast buzzer puts a finish to the game.

Amid laughter, shouts and congratulations, I leave. Boy, am I stupid! Just think of all the times I sat at home when I probably could have been witnessing the most thrilling games yet! Oh, well, there's plenty more coming up in the near future.

'FAV'—Jackie Ewald, treasurer of the Junior Class, was elected "Favorite Girl" of her class.

Remember When?

About a year ago... Peggy Charlton and Reed Gilmore were elected most popular girl and boy for 1950.

Schedules for mid-term exams were set.

The vacationing exes were returning to their respective colleges and universities. The Student Council netted $200 on the soft drinks, candy, cake, and sandwiches sold at the basketball tournament.

Speech Students Present Assembly

Universal Military Service was discussed by a panel of students of the third-year speech class, during assembly, Wednesday, January 3. Jimmy O'Neal led the discussion. Others taking part were: Jean Ferguson, Clifford Wilcox, Ruth Bleyburg, Leon Cline, Flossie Shugart and Joe Barnett.

Universal Military Service was explained by Jimmy O'Neal as being a plan proposing two years training for boys. Jean Ferguson discussed what Universal Military Service is. It would take the place of the present Selective Service and draft. All boys, when they reach the age of 19 or graduate from high school, would be taken into the Army, Navy, Air Corps, or Marines. "More than 3,000,000 men are needed in the armed services," Quoting George Marshall, he said: "Universal Military Service would permit the Army in peace to prepare for what it may be called upon to do in time of war."

Except Insane, Bed-Ridden
Everyone except the insane and bed-ridden will have to go into some branch of service according to Ruth Bleyburg.

Joe Barnett explained that the physically fit would take a basic training course and probably spend some time overseas in that two-year period. After two years they will be in the reserves from three to five years. The disabled will be assigned some duty in which their handicap will not hinder their work.

Leon Cline and Flossie Shugart discussed the chances for the Universal Military Service plan becoming law.

Concluding the assembly, Thurman Jones presented individual awards to several football players. Awards were given to: Reed Gilmore for most passes intercepted; Jim O'Neal for most tackles from line of scrimmage and most tackles on punts; L. C. Thomas for most down field blocks for linemen; Jerry Culp for most rushing of passes; and Jimmy Lineberger for most tackles on kickoffs.

These awards were presented to the school by the boys receiving them, they will be placed in the trophy case.

Carolyn Sue Ramsey, returned to MHS after her withdrawal last year. She now is a sophomore; and is taking English, PE, algebra, drivers' education and clothing.

Another senior, Patricia Gaines, hails from Premont, Texas. She is a member of the Homemaking and Camera Clubs and her subjects include band, English, algebra, biology and foods.

June Baribault is a junior, having attended six schools this year of which Our Lady of Victory in Port Worth is the most recent. June only will be here a short while, then will return to Port Worth. Her schedule includes typing, PE, English, history and clothing.

Sandra Sue Keim, a senior, comes here from East Denver High in Denver, Colo. Sandra was married December 28 and she and her husband have come to Midland to live. Her subjects are bookkeeping, shorthand, English and clothing.

MHS extends a hearty welcome to all these newcomers.

Who's Who

If at three o'clock in the afternoon when most students are busy laboring through the last hour of the school day, you have noticed a youth of five feet nine inches with flashing blue eyes and a crew hair cut, teasing off the first tee at the Midland County Club golf course, it is Teddy Kerr.

Teddy, an industrious member of the MHS golf team, attended several golf tournaments last year, winning all matches in which he played. One of his happiest moments was when he shot a 73 for 18 holes—only one over par.

Besides taking an active interest in golfing, Teddy managed the "A" squad football team this year and states that he likes football "just almost as well as golf."

Born in Pecos on September 28, 1933, Teddy moved to Midland while in the fourth grade. At this time, Teddy's fourth grade room was placed in John M. Cowden Junior High School because of the shortage of space. In 1945, he officially entered Junior High and graduated in 1949, moving into the new high school for his freshman year. So Teddy has gone to school in the same building during all his years in Midland.

Teddy still blushes when he recalls how upon his graduation from kindergarten where he was the only boy in the class, he noticed all the girls curtsying on receiving their diplomas, and received a gale of laughter when he followed suit with a curtsy of his own.

As Premium Counsel (President) of the Junior Classical League and a Student Council representative, Teddy is very interested in school activities.

Teddy's main ambition while in high school is to place first on the golf team and upon graduation he plans to attend Washington and Lee College, then Texas University to study law.

Teddy enjoys pool and received a pool table of his own for Christmas. As favorites he lists the color blue, grilled cheese sandwiches for a favorite food, Mrs. Phillipus as his favorite teacher, funny books for a favorite reading material, Tennessee Waltz as his favorite tune, and Sue Johnson as his favorite girl in MHS. Teddy also has a fancy for loud shirts and socks.

Teddy's schedule includes algebra, English, biology, Latin and golf.

'BUB'—W. H. (Bub) Black was elected "Favorite Boy" of the Senior Class, the Class of '51.

THE BARKS

By CORKY MOSS
The hustling Bulldog A and B teams journey to Odessa on Tuesday, January 9, for their second conference clash.

The Bulldogs opened the title race Friday, January 5, against the Lamesa Tornados. Lamesa is the defending district champion.

On Friday, January 12, the A and B cagers are host to the visiting Big Spring Steers in another district engagement.

The Bulldog A and B teams hit the road again, traveling to San Angelo for a non-conference tilt with the San Angelo Bobcats on Saturday, January 13.

Last week the Bulldog varsity nipped Brownfield 38-34 to avenge an earlier loss to the Cubs.

The B team also came through with a win. The Bulldog Bees walloped the Cub B squad by a 42-31 count. The victory gave the B team 5 wins in 6 starts, which tops the varsity record of 3 wins, 5 losses.

After a long and hard football season, a coach deserves a little rest and entertainment before having to prepare for the next football season, so Coaches Jones and Gill took advantage of this occasion. The coaches had a fine time over the Christmas holidays going deer hunting. Both coaches bagged their quota.

AG NEWS

J. R. Cuffman, vocational agriculture teacher, returned to MHS Thursday, January 4, after recovering from a serious case of pneumonia. He entered a hospital on Christmas Eve and spent the remainder of his holidays there. We are all happy to see Mr. Cuffman up and around.

Many of the Ag boys have projects this year. Each year they raise livestock to enter in the Fat Stock Show. The boys who have projects are: Gray Throckmorton, two calves and two lambs; Al Cole, two lambs; Jimmy Coon, two calves and two lambs; Bob Harris, two lambs; Truman Copeland, two lambs; Bill Sommers, two lambs; Bud Booth, five pigs; Terry Fuglar, one pig.

Club News

After the chaos of Christmas parties the clubs of MHS have returned to their regular activities. Many clubs are making plans for the coming Spring.

The girls in the Future Homemakers Club are planning a box supper with a Canasta party following. It is scheduled for the first part of February. A prize will be given for the prettiest box.

Darlene Culp gave a short talk on "What Education Needs Today" during Future Teachers Club. Jo Dean Downing spoke on "What Should Be Taught in High School."

The Business Club is compiling a book on all phases of business. Glenda Hambleton, Mona Sue Biggs, Patty Hammond, and La Dean Johnson compose the committee for the project.

The book will include: "What is Offered in Business," "Deciding on a Vocation," "What Courses Should be Taken in High School," "Further Education Required," "Applying for the Job," "Keeping a Job," "The Possibilities of Advancement," and "Social Security."

Midland With Cancer Clinic Among Leaders In State In Fight Against Dread Disease

Midland, with its newly-organized cancer diagnostic clinic, is one of the leaders in a statewide program to control the dreaded disease.

That expression came from Miss Eleanor J. Macdonald of Houston, director of the department of information and statistics for the M.D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research.

"There's been so much enthusiasm here over the program," she said on a one-day visit to the clinic headquarters at Midland Memorial Hospital.

"Most of the groundwork has already been laid. It is a good thing when such a program is undertaken with local initiative without having someone outside suggesting it."

"It has been my experience that such locally initiated programs prove more successful."

Miss Macdonald was in Midland to assist in setting up the record system of the diagnostic clinic so it can be co-ordinated with the statewide registry program being carried on by the Texas Co-ordinating Cancer Council.

She serves as consultant to the council which she described as being "unique" in the United States.

"This council is composed of representatives of various organizations, such as medical schools, societies and hospitals interested in the cancer problem."

She conferred during the day with Mrs. W. S. Nelson, full-time secretary of the Midland Diagnostic Cancer Clinic.

While the clinic here has not yet begun regular operation, its organization has been set up and equipment is being purchased.

It will serve more than a score of counties in West Texas which have, hitherto, been without such a service.

Program Spreading
"This program is spreading throughout the state," said Miss Macdonald, who came to Texas

after assisting in setting up similar cancer-control organizations in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

"Seventeen of the larger hospitals in the state have already joined and there are requests from 110 others for assistance in setting up this program."

She explained that as cases are diagnosed in the Midland clinic, abstracts will be forwarded to the agency in Houston for study and co-ordination on a statewide basis.

"Twenty-five thousand cases were entered in our registry last year," she added, "and they are still coming in at the rate of 2,000 a month."

Miss Macdonald is a member, too, of the Yale University medical faculty and is a consultant to the Memorial Hospital in New York City.

While in Midland, she also conferred with Dr. Kurt Lekisch, director of the cancer clinic, and Dr. Richard Harrell, administrator of Midland Memorial Hospital.

Attractive, Durable Floors Deserve Careful Attention

By HENRY J. WINGATE
Nationally-known
Architectural Engineer

Attractive, durable floors which are easy to maintain are one of the most desirable features of a house.

Floors should contribute to structural soundness of the building, lessen housekeeping chores and add to the beauty of the interior. Wear and tear on floors are greater than on any other part of the house; therefore upkeep assumes a prominent place in the flooring picture.

Hardwood is one of the most widely-used of flooring materials in well-built homes, particularly oak, which is noted for its natural beauty of grain and coloring. It is unusually strong and durable and will last for years.

Regular Sweeping
To keep a hardwood floor looking its best, the only routine care

Foresight, Timing Required To Build Good House In 1951

The year 1951 will not be a normal one in the construction industry, experts say, but persons still will be able to build the homes they need, and at the same time cooperate fully with the government's defense effort.

Shortages and disruptions can be expected in every industry, but foresight in planning will minimize their effect on the construction of homes. Here are eight suggestions of the subject from the Title Council of America:

1. Make financing arrangements well in advance of building. Banks and building and loan associations can inform you on current credit restrictions.

2. Choose your lot, neighborhood and section of town as carefully as you would in normal times.

3. At the same time, build a home with its re-sale value in mind. Such quality features as a modern, well-arranged kitchen, clay tile baths and a good heating plant mean comfort and greater re-sale value.

4. Give the general contractor plenty of time for building the home. He undoubtedly will need a few weeks' more time than in normal years.

5. Ask the general contractor immediately for the names of subcontractors on such work as plumbing and clay tile for baths. Make color and style selections at once.

6. Be prepared to accept different models and colors in some equipment. Manufacturers may have to curtail some lines.

7. Don't be panicked into accepting shoddy substitutes. Barring an all-out war, producers of quality materials should be producing at present levels in 1951.

8. Don't buy materials in the black market.

needed is regular sweeping with an untreated dust mop, plus occasional cleaning, waxing and polishing.

Linoleum is popular in many homes. This resilient material is composed of oxidized linseed oil, wood flour, ground cork, kauri gum and pigment, calendered onto a burlap base. Maintenance consists of brushing with a soft floor brush, and occasional repolishing in lanes of heavy traffic. To preserve its appearance and make it last longer, frequent all-over re-waxing is recommended.

If the linoleum is kept well waxed, little wet mopping is needed. Any mopping should be done without flooding the floor. Lukewarm neutral soaps are recommended.

Asphalt Tile
Asphalt tile is made of thermoplastic resins, asbestos and coloring pigments. It is fire and moisture-resistant and has sound-deadening properties. For most home use it is laid down in tiles 9 inches by 9 inches in thickness of either 1/8-inch or 3/16-inch.

Keeping asphalt tile clean is a simple matter. All the attention required is an ordinary sweeping. If the floor becomes soiled enough to require a more thorough cleaning, it should be washed with lukewarm neutral soaps. An occasional waxing will maintain the luster of the material. After cleaning, one or two coats of a good water-emulsion wax should be applied. For a high gloss, the wax should be buffed after it dries.

Concrete Floors
Concrete floors are in wide use for basements and subfloors. Cost of installation and upkeep is low and they give years of service under heavy burdens. Their appearance is improved by coloring, adding pigments to the mix, by using colored aggregates or both in combination.

Good concrete requires little maintenance. Regular cleaning with soap and warm water will prevent dirt from grinding into the finish. Waxing is also advisable at frequent intervals.

Drinking Bouts And Symposiums

LOS ANGELES —(P)—A Greek symposium probably included a drinking bout says, Dr. Arthur P. McKinlay, The University of California professor spent a lot of time trying to find out.

"Today 'symposium' means a serious discussion of a weighty topic. But most ancient Greeks who attended one probably got drunk," McKinlay says. Confusion has developed, wrote Xenophon, a teetotaler, wrote about symposiums and said little about drinking, the professor thinks. Plato, he believes, gives a clearer picture of what happened.

The long hind legs of the kangaroo enable it to bound away from its enemies to safety.

Rich Beauty In Wood Veneer

Handsomely-figured hardwood veneer wall panels blend harmoniously with table and chairs, also of hardwood veneer. The rich natural pattern of the wood grain in this paneling adds a luxurious touch.

One of the simplest ways in which interior walls of a home can be modernized is to cover them with hardwood plywood paneling. The panels are easy to apply and the cost is moderate.

The homemaker who wants to give a "new look" to his living room or den can obtain appealing warmth and beauty by using durable hardwood plywood panels, faced with a veneer. If desired, the paneling can be applied to the ceiling as well.

A wide range of hardwood face veneers gives the home decorator unlimited rein in selecting the tone of the completed room. The paneling can be chosen to blend with the furnishings, either in matching or contrasting shades and patterns, depending upon the individual taste.

Quality Furniture
The manufacturers of high quality furniture and radio cabinets use many varieties of hardwood veneers, all of which fit in harmoniously with suitably selected wall panels.

The proper paneling is available regardless of whether your furniture is of walnut, oak, cherry, birch, mahogany or some other hardwood veneer.

Hardwood plywood possesses other properties which make it a desirable product for this purpose. Because of the nature of its construction—layers of veneer with the grain of the wood at right angles and joined together by a strong adhesive—it will neither expand nor contract. The approximate equalization of strength along both the length and width of the panel makes it resistant to splitting.

Advantage Cited
An advantage of using hardwood plywood panels is that frequently very little preparation of the wall is necessary. Once installed, the care and maintenance of paneled walls is negligible. This point is emphasized by the U. S. Department of Commerce in a report which says:

"Wherever hardwood plywood is installed, it introduces a new note

Resolutions For 'Kitcheneering' In 1951 Cited

Happy homemaking New Year! And here are some good resolutions for kitcheneering in 1951:

From the "Serious Homemakers' Institute" come several suggestions for planning a better management program which will save time, energy and budget during the coming year.

1. Make the most of equipment. Place it where it saves steps and time, and use it for all the many jobs it was designed to do. For example, make greater use of the refrigerator in meal preparation, utilizing its balanced coldness for storage of entire dinners and party spreads prepared in advance when time is less pressing.

2. Plan menus seven days in advance and shop no oftener than twice a week. Your modern refrigerator can hold a week's supply.

3. Order foods on a servings-per-person basis. This avoids excessively large quantities of leftovers.

4. Plan sound dietetics into your menus. Concentrate on the "basic seven" foods: meat, fish and poultry; eggs; leafy vegetables; fruits; dairy products, especially milk; and other vegetables, including potatoes.

5. Go to market with a well-thought-out grocery list, written after careful survey of foods already in the refrigerator and of those staples stored on shelves.

6. Estimate family food needs as accurately as possible.

7. If the family includes many children, or the housewife has a job outside the home, she should make greater use of "time-saving" mixes, frozen foods and canned specialties.

8. Resolve not to hoard or waste food. The nation wants high nutrition for all.

About 175,000 motor scooters are registered in the United States. There were fewer than 10,000 prior to World War II.

Can't Even Read Papers In Peace

VIENNA —(P)—In Communist Hungary, Red agitators won't let citizens just sit peacefully on a commuter train and read their newspapers. No matter how badly John Q. Hungarian feels, they pursue him with Communist propaganda and make him enter a political discussion of Marxism.

This was revealed recently in a Hungarian Communist newspaper which reached Vienna.

It gave instructions to the agitators for their work every morning and evening on the trains carrying thousands of workers to and from their homes, saying that non-Communists found the trains a wonderful opportunity for "subversive rumors based on the lying Voice of America."

'I Wish You Peace' In Two Languages

TEL AVIV —(P)—Jewish school children daily cross Israeli lines here on their way to school in the Arab, walled, Old City part of Jerusalem. They try hard not to mix their greetings to frontier guards and to say to the Israeli guard, "Salem aleikhum" and "Shalom" to the Arab guard.

Both greetings mean the same thing: "I wish you peace."

Metal Drip Edge, 'Flashing Strip' Bar Roof Damage

When applying asphalt shingles to a new deck or over an old roof, a metal drip edge and a "flashing strip" of mineral-surfaced roll roofing at least 36 inches wide should be applied along the eaves.

The purpose is to protect the roof deck and interior walls and ceilings from damage in the event the roof drainage system becomes clogged because of ice forming in eaves troughs. The flashing strip, extending 36 inches up the roof, prevents backed-up slush from penetrating the roof deck.

First Step
First to be applied is the metal drip edge, made of corrosion-resistant 26-gauge sheet metal. Galvanized steel, painted on both sides, generally is used. The drip edge, two to four inches wide, should be bent down over the eaves far enough to cover the edges of the roof deck sheathing.

Then the flashing strip of heavy asphalt roll roofing is placed along the eaves in such a manner that it will overhang the metal drip edge by one-fourth to three-eighths of an inch.

The trunk of the Australian bottle tree is shaped like a bottle. The wide bottom part of the tree stores as much as 80 gallons of water during the summer.

Concrete Repair Tips Are Listed

Cracks in a concrete floor may be caused by improper construction, undue strain, or settlement of the supporting structure. Best way to repair is to refinish the floor with a two-inch layer of new concrete.

Before new concrete is poured, the dry floor should be roughened, cleaned and wetted and cement-sand grout (one part cement to two parts sand by volume) scrubbed in to form a bond. In the event of seepage, either a bituminous coating or membrane waterproofing treatment should be applied to floor surface before new concrete is poured.

The new layer of concrete should be reinforced by lightweight steel-wire mesh, not lighter than No. 4 gauge, placed in the middle. Floor should be kept moist for at least three days to prevent cracking.
