Spraberry Wildcat Staked in Midland

Two miles south of production in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County, El Capitán Oil Company of Midland has spotted location for an 8,000-foot Spraberry wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Mrs. W. A. Hutchison, 660 feet from north and 1,990 feet from west lines of section 36, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

That puts it 17 miles southeast of the city of Midland. Rotary operations are to start at once.

C-S Crane Opener Reports Completion

Humble Oil & Refining Company has completed its No. 1 Halle C. Day as a producer and new field opener in Central-East Crane County.

The discovery, which is located five miles southwest of the town of Crane, was completed from the lower Devonian through casing perforations at 8,606-18 and 8,636-46 feet.

The well made 110 barrels of 42-gravity oil per day flowing through a one-quarter-inch choke on the potential test.

Gas-oil ratio was 500-1.

Both sets of perforations were washed with acid.

The prospector also had good shows of commercial production from an upper section of the Devonian from 7,710 to 7,740 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block X, CCSD&RONG survey.

The same operator's No. 1-B Halle C. Day, a one-quarter mile south offset to the opener, is drilling below 1,900 feet.

Its location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 15, block X, CCSD&RONG survey.

NE Upton Wildcat Logs Shows Of Oil

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 A. P. Hill, Northeast Upton County wildcat, three and three-quarter miles west of the Pembroke-Spraberry field, has found some shows of possible production in the Spraberry section and is making more hole.

It took a 30-minute drillstem test at 7,097-7,103 feet. Recovery was 180 feet of oil and gas out drilling mud. There was no formation water.

Operator is now drilling deeper and reports from the project are that the samples from the section below 7,103 feet are showing some signs of oil.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block K, D&E survey. The wildcat was started under contract to dig to 12,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

It is 18 miles north and slightly east of Rankin and nine miles northwest of the nearest Ellenburger production in the Benedum multiphase field.

SW Offset Staked To Tex-Harvey Extender

Frank and George Frankel will drill their No. 4-A L. E. Floyd and others as a one location southwest offset to a recently completed north extension to the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

The drillsite is located 662.8 feet from north and 670.1 feet from east lines of section 2, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey, and 15 miles southeast of the City of Midland.

Contract destination is 8,000 feet to test the Spraberry.

Midland Tester Is To Resume Swabbing

James H. Snowden and others No. 1-58 C. A. McClintic, wildcat in Northeast-Central Midland County, failed to kick off and flow after being shut in overnight.

Operator swabbed the open hole section in the Spraberry from 7,215 to 7,249 feet for eight hours. Recovery was an average of five barrels of oil per hour.

After the last swabbing run, the prospector was shutting overnight and pressure built up in the tubing to 260 pounds.

The section which was swabbed had received a hydraulic treatment.

Operator was to go back in the hole and resume swabbing.

Drillsite is 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 36, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey and about 11 miles east and slightly south of the City of Midland.

That makes it about midway between the Tex-Harvey and the Germania field.

Sherman Asks For Draft Of 18-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON—(P)—Adm. Forrest P. Sherman Friday testified that "unless international conditions improve" it probably will be necessary to increase the nation's fighting forces above present goals of close to 3,500,000 persons.

Sherman, top ranking officer and a member of the joint chiefs of staff, gave this "personal opinion" to the Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

At the same time he gave full support to the Administration's new Universal Military Service and Training Bill (UMST). It would lower the draft age from 19 to 18 years and lengthen required service from 21 to 27 months.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) of the Senate group drew out Admiral Sherman's opinion about the possible need for more manpower.

He asked whether existing goals of 3,325,000 persons in the next six months and 3,462,000 before the war ends were "too high or too low?"

"That's a broad military question as to whether the Army, Navy and Air Force is large enough," Sherman said. "It's my personal opinion that unless international conditions improve, we may have to set a new target as we approach these targets."

He made it clear, in answer to other questions, that the Navy expects to depend chiefly upon voluntary enlistments for four and six years to build up its forces.

He said the Navy regards 27 months of service as too short a time to convert a civilian into a good sailor.

Even so, Sherman said the Navy expects to take a number of the 27-month draftees provided for in the UMST program.

New Cold Wave To Be Mild, Dry

By The Associated Press
Texas' Spring-in-January weather will hang on for another day at least.

A mild cold wave is scheduled to creep into the Panhandle Friday night and edge southward over the rest of the state Saturday. However, the U. S. Weather Bureau said there were no indications of unduly cold temperatures or of much-needed rainfall.

West Texas points were the only ones reporting freezing temperatures Friday morning. Ozone was low with a minimum of 22 degrees. Lubbock had 25, Junction 24, Presidio 28 and Marfa 30. Elsewhere the lows ranged mostly in the middle 40's and 50's.

Bad Weather Slows B-36's Flight Home

LONDON—(P)—Six giant U. S. Air Force B-36 bombers, poised at the RAF Lakenheath Base for a hop back to America, were held up Friday by unfavorable weather reports.

"There seems to be a slight chance that conditions will improve, but it's more likely the takeoff will be delayed until Saturday," an Air Force spokesman said.

JayCees To Reveal 'Outstanding Young Men' Saturday Night

PLAINVIEW—(P)—Identity of the five outstanding young men of Texas in 1950 will be disclosed at a statewide Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet here Saturday night.

The selections are made annually by a panel of leading Texans. The banquet climaxes Texas' observance of National JayCee Week.

Speakers at the banquet will include James P. Hart, chancellor of the University of Texas, and John Ben Shepperd, secretary of state.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

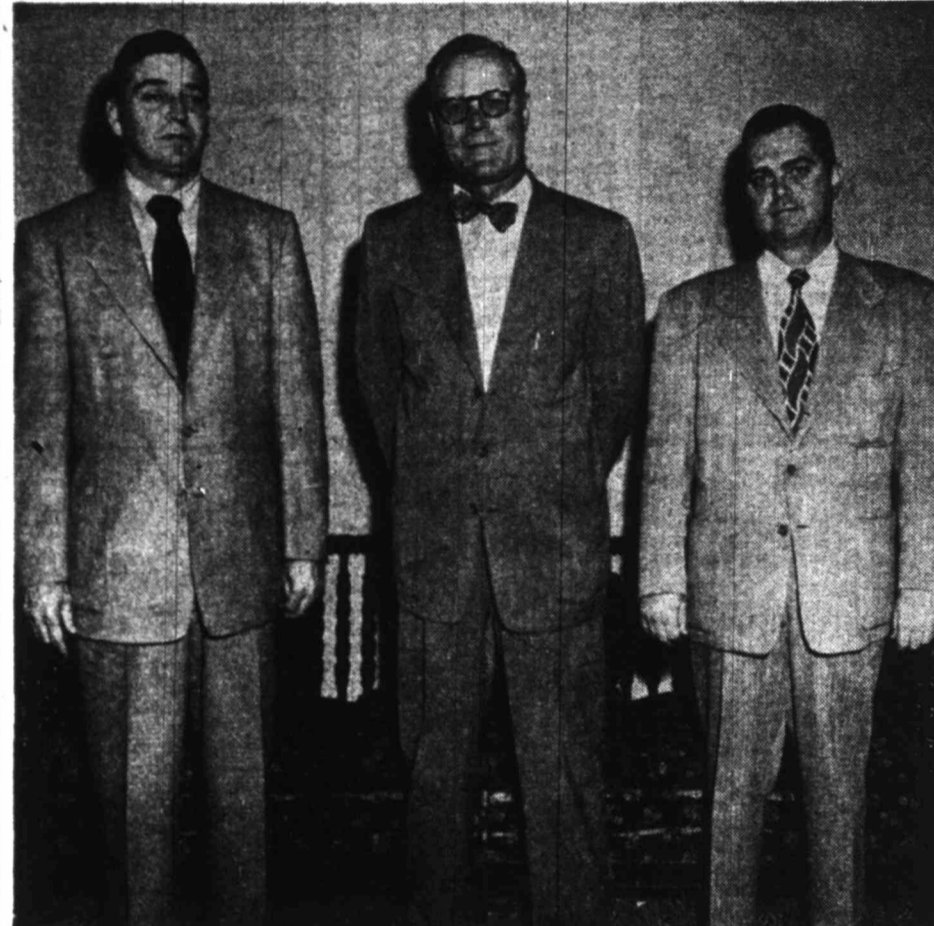

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Economic Stabilization Administrator Alan Valentine has resigned and will be succeeded by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, the White House announced Friday.

HOUSTON—(AP)—Continental Oil Company Friday announced finding helium gas in the Table Mesa oil field on the Navajo Indian Reservation in the northwest corner of New Mexico.

EAST CENTRAL FRONT, KOREA—(AP)—Bodies of 10 American soldiers—nine of them apparently murdered by their North Korean captors—were found Friday by a United Nations patrol. One of the soldiers apparently had died of battle wounds.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A resolution calling on the United Nations to brand Communist China an aggressor in Korea was blocked temporarily in the House Friday after a Republican member attacked it as equivalent to a declaration of war.

DADE CITY, FLA.—(AP)—More than 100 persons were overcome Friday when fumes from a disinfectant fanned over one section of a big citrus canning plant here. Most of them recovered quickly.

MIDLAND C. OF C. EXECUTIVES FOR 1951—Stanley M. Erskine, center, is the new president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. He and Vice Presidents Jack Wilkinson, left, and Jack Wicker were elected by C. of C. directors at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Robert L. Wood, retiring president who becomes first vice president, is not pictured.

Erskine Elected New President Of Midland C. Of C.

Stanley M. Erskine, automobile dealer, was elected president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce for 1951 at the meeting of its directors Thursday afternoon in Hotel Scharbauer. A veteran director and former vice president, Erskine succeeds Robert L. Wood. The new president also is a former member of the City Council.

Wood was named first vice president and Jack Wilkinson and Jack Wicker were reelected second and third vice presidents, respectively. Bill Collyns was reelected treasurer.

Draft Board 137 Sends 19 Selectees For Army Induction

Draft Board 137 sent 19 men to Abilene Friday for induction into the Army. The group left by bus at 6 a. m.

Friday's group of draftees was the largest to be sent from the Midland board since the end of World War II.

Midland, Sterling and Glasscock County men who left probably will receive their basic training at Fort Sill, Okla., a draft board official said.

Of the 19 men, two were transfers from other boards.

The group included: James R. Currie, Claudell Jerry Reese, Bill V. Carlisle, Albert N. Provence, E. Leroy Collyer, Neil Hal Pratt, John Emmett Robinson, Clarence Dean Wallis, Melvin G. Meissner, Billy Joe Thompson.

Curtis Wayne Clark, Jerry E. Olliff, Carl Eugene Crawford, Frank Wallace Merritt, Marion Donald Buzell, J. D. Fowler, Melvin Joe Winkler, Charles H. Moore, Jr., and Amos Edward Lucas.

Banquet Tickets Are Available At C. Of C. Office

Chamber of Commerce officials Friday urged members and other interested persons to obtain tickets promptly for the organization's annual banquet and membership meeting slated Tuesday night in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Although attendance at the gathering will be limited to 250 persons, Manager Delbert Downing said tickets still are available. Reservations are being accepted on a first-come-first-served basis.

The banquet, Downing said, will be informal and both men and women are invited to attend.

Eugene McElvaney, vice president in charge of the oil loan division of the First National Bank of Dallas, will be the principal speaker.

Special entertainment numbers will be presented and membership awards made. Officers and directors for 1951 will be introduced.

Allies Smash Red Force In Fierce Clash

TOKYO—(P)—A United Nations prowl force re-occupied the ruined and abandoned road-rail hub of Wonju Friday without meeting any opposition.

Two air-supported Allied attack regiments on another sector of the snowclad East-Central Korean battlefield killed 1,000 Reds and routed the remainder of their strong force in a continuing fight.

A big Red offensive effort still was expected to break out all across the peninsula at any time.

Allied patrols have been entering and leaving Wonju, the key traffic junction in Central Korea, since the U. S. Second Division withdrew Tuesday from a looping line two miles south of the town.

Only civilians were on hand to watch the reinforced patrol re-enter Wonju Friday.

The two UN attack regiments—normally, 6,000 men—smashed a large enemy force seven miles southeast of Yongwol, on the eastern end of the war front.

"We put the enemy on the run," an officer said tersely.

The fight started Thursday and was still raging Friday. Yongwol is 33 miles northeast of Chungju, Allied-held highway center, and 13 miles east of Chechon.

Seven hundred of the enemy were killed by air strikes and the remainder by ground troops. Bodies were counted in the snow where they lay sprawled.

The battle near Yongwol came during sharp patrol actions, crackling all along the Korean war front, that looked like preliminaries of a third major drive by Chinese and North Korean Reds down the center of the peninsula. Communist forces continued to shift to central and eastern sectors in a way reminiscent of the Korean War.

Jack Holt, Veteran Range, Film Cowboy, Dies In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Death has claimed Jack Holt, 62, hard-riding cowboy of both the open and the cinema range.

He died Thursday night at the Veterans' Hospital in West Los Angeles of coronary thrombosis. He had suffered three severe heart attacks since shortly before Christmas.

His son, Tim, also an actor in westerns, was with him almost constantly during his last illness.

The elder Holt was a recognized star in Hollywood for 20 years in a row, a most enviable record in motion picture. And he successfully bridged the transition from silent to talking films. He played the lead roles in almost all the movie versions of Zane Grey's novels.

In "Holt, Tom Mix and Buck Jones made up the big triumvirate of western films in the movie industry's first quarter-century. And until age cut them out of rough riding scenes, they were the idols of millions. They gave way to the cowboys of the newer era—Gene Autry and Roy Rogers.

Starting his film career in 1913, Holt still was active in pictures up to his last illness. He recently finished playing the part of an Indian chief in the picture, "Across the Wide Missouri," starring Clark Gable. The film will be released soon.

Through his mother, Holt was a direct descendant of John Marshall, chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. He married Margaret Woods, St. Paul society woman, in 1916.

They had the son, Tim, and a daughter, Jennifer Marshall Holt, an actress. Mrs. Holt obtained a Mexican divorce decree in 1933. But in 1940, the California courts held it invalid on the ground it was a mail order divorce.

Although still legally married to the actor, Mrs. Holt has lived apart from him since the Mexican decree.

Eisenhower Moves On From Riot-Torn Italy

LUXEMBOURG—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived here by air Friday in his continuing tour of Atlantic Pact nations, leaving behind him in Rome the biggest Communist anti-Ike demonstration since he arrived in Europe 13 days ago.

Rome had been quiet as the general left. But in Italy and Sicily two persons were dead and almost 100 injured from Communist-inspired incidents protesting the Western armament plan.

Split Slows UN Censure Of Chinese

LAKE SUCCESS—(P)—A split among the non-Communist nations Friday raised the prospect that the United Nations will speak weakly, if at all, in answer to the United States demand for condemnation of Communist China as an aggressor in Korea.

Twelve Arab-Asian nations, contending Peiping's rejection of the UN's latest cease-fire bid did not say "positively," held an emergency session to consider still another appeal to the Chinese.

An Indonesian Foreign Office spokesman in Jakarta depicted the split clearly Friday. He told a news conference condemnation of Red China as an aggressor "would make the chances to keep world peace slimmer." He said Indonesia believes the Communist Regime in China should be given a UN seat to ease present international tension.

India's delegate to the United Nations is flying back to New York Friday night from London to oppose branding Red China an aggressor.

Sir Benegal Rau told a reporter in London India's firm stand against such an American-sponsored move is unchanged. Rau said Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru still held to the policy he laid down at a Paris news conference two days ago.

Nehru said then that "to brand China an aggressor in Korea would bolt and bar the door to peaceful settlement" in the Far East.

Defense Department Asks Increased Pay For Combat Troops

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Defense Department Friday asked Congress to grant combat bonus pay of $50 to $100 monthly to troops fighting in Korea.

Legislation submitted by the department provides the additional $50 monthly for enlisted men and the $100 extra for officers if they have fought the enemy at least six days in any month.

It would be retroactive to June 27, the date American forces started fighting in Korea, and would apply both to troops engaged in direct battle with the enemy and to other men who serve in immediate support of combat forces.

The plan to give officers a bigger bonus than enlisted men faces a fight even though the department said officers should receive more because they have greater responsibilities and suffer greater proportionate casualties.

"There's nothing else we can do now that will put the heat on them." In Washington, the White House and Gen. Hoyt B. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, made it plain "General O'Donnell is speaking for himself."

"And not the United States government," added Joseph Short, secretary to President Truman.

Anderson's Fate Recalled
"And not the Air Force," declared General Vandenberg.

O'Donnell's declarations immediately recalled that the last air general who ventured into the field of international politics now is retired. Maj. Gen. Orvil Anderson got involved last summer in the debate (Continued On Page Five)

Plane With Oil Men Aboard Is Reported Missing In Wyoming

DENVER—(P)—A private plane with five persons aboard was reported missing Friday in Wyoming, and land and air search parties went into action.

The plane left Denver at 2:30 p. m. Thursday and was due to reach Cody, Wyo., two hours later. It had enough gasoline for four hours' flying.

Nothing has been heard from the craft since it made a routine position report in the vicinity of Medicine Bow, in Southern Wyoming.

The plane is owned by Paul Stock of Cody, who was not aboard, and is piloted by Ralph Meyer, 32, of Cody. William Snowden, Denver investment broker and friend of Stock, said he understood Meyer picked up four passengers here for the flight.

Snowden identified them as Mrs. Mable Overly, Stock's secretary; Don K. Weaver, production manager of the Wilshire Oil Company, Los Angeles; Osman Brown, manager of Wilshire's recently-opened Denver branch, and Jim Hay, Beverly Hills, Calif., of the Beverly Oil Company.

Martin County Road Bond Vote Slated Saturday

STANTON—Martin County voters will ballot Saturday on a proposed $300,000 road construction program.

The proposal calls for the issuance of 30-year bonds at a rate not to exceed 3 1/2 per cent, and the authorization of a tax levy sufficient for interest and sinking fund purposes.

Proceeds from the sale of the bonds would be spent equally in each of the four commissioner precincts, according to terms of the election call. Approximately 10 miles of road in each precinct would be provided.

Voting will be accomplished at the county's 12 voting precincts.

Capital Eyebrows Flutter As 'Rosie' O'Donnell Sounds Off On Atom Bomb

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, CALIF.—(P)—Nothing less than the atom bomb "will put the hex" on the Chinese "Communists now," says Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, the man who directed the first six months of United Nations' bombing in Korea.

His fighting opinions, which raised a stir in Washington, were made clear Thursday as he told a news conference:

"We can't continue to fight under the Marquis of Queensbury rules when we are fighting thugs who are going to hit you on the back of the head with an axe. We should use the weapon most effective and not get mixed up further with a lot of knotheds. x x x

"I think we'd be very effective with the ultimate weapon against Red China."

"They'll Understand Laah" Asked by a reporter to define "ultimate weapon," the general replied: "The atomic bomb."

"They'll understand the lash when it's put to them," he added.

Asked if the United Nations should have used the A-bomb or should still use the A-bomb against Chinese Reds in Korea, O'Donnell replied:

"I believe we should have cracked the Chinese Communists hard and smacked the hell out of them as soon as we had them identified after they crossed the (Yalu) river.

Grazing Land Blaze Destroys Fire Truck

BLANKET, TEXAS.—(AP)—Two firemen were burned slightly and a fire truck destroyed as fire swept an estimated 2,500 to 4,000 acres of dry grazing land near here.

The blaze, broke out about four miles northeast of here Thursday. Oran-Locks and Virgil Hutton were burned slightly.

'Way Down East' Turns Out To Be Just Cereal Story

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—Movies without popcorn: Lillian Gish, D. W. Griffith and the cast of "Way Down East" would be right at home on the big sound stage where Bob Hope, Marilyn Maxwell and Jane Darwell are playing hearts-of-golders straight out of Damon Runyon in "The Lemon Drop Kid."

The unbleached corn flakes are falling for a snowstorm scene. Mammoth electric fans whoosh the handfuls of mock snow down upon the stars. Other fans eddy the stuff around their feet. It's a long sequence and by the time it's over the actors are gulping down the flakes.

Maybe the cereal he gets during scenes like this is what makes Hope Hollywood's most tireless jumping bean.

The mule who became a movie star, Francis, is the big attraction on the set of "Frances Goes to the Races."

giving the greatest movie director's performance since Orson Welles sat brooding behind a Hollywood camera.

Before every scene the Mick bounces into the set and proceeds to act all the roles of his stars—Helen Walker, Willard Parker and Elizabeth Rouse. "I just want to take the curse off this piece of business," he explains. Then he leaps to the camera and emits a loud burp.

"Excuse me, folks," he grins. "An electrician standing nearby chuckles and says: 'Haven't heard a good burp like that since John Barrymore was on the lot.'"

Rhonda Fleming, Nancy Guild, Mark Stevens and Charles Drake are speeking against the hubbub of an old Chicago railway station on U.I.'s colorful set for "Little Egypt."

Women in bustles and plumed hats brush by them and there is even steam—achieved by dry ice—spouting up from the coaches of a train painted bright red.

I ask costume designer Bill Thomas how closely Rhonda's clothes follow photographs of the wiggle who achieved fame at the 1893 World's Fair under the name of Little Egypt.

"They don't," Thomas shrugs. "We have to show Rhonda's legs. The real Little Egypt wore long underwear."

Carroll L. Thomas Named President Of Midland K&F Club

Carroll L. Thomas is the new president of the Midland Knife and Fork Club for 1951.

Thomas is an attorney in the legal department of Shell Oil Company's Midland area headquarters.

Clarence E. Nelson was named first vice president to succeed W. Lionel Carver, and Mrs. Erma Mancill is the new second vice president.

Thomas will assume direction of the club Thursday night when Robert Kazmayer, world traveler, will speak at a dinner meeting of the organization.

Watson, the retiring president, said statements covering renewal of dues for 1951 have been mailed and that members are requested to send in the renewal payments, along with reservation requests for the Thursday night dinner.

Nelson, the chairman of the membership committee, revealed there are a few membership vacancies at this time.

Exhibit Of Maps, Prints Is Scheduled

The early maps and print collection of Dr. Felix Bents, geologist for the Atlantic Refining Company, will be on exhibit from 3 to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Palette Club Studio, 904 North Colorado Street.

Dr. Bents, a native of Switzerland, started the collection during his student days. He spent hours searching through old shops in his native land. One shop he visited removed original maps of Italy, England and Western Europe from an atlas made in Venice. The maps are on pigskin paper.

The Bents collection includes maps, hand-drawn and copper engraved with color added to some, geological maps of Basel in North-western Switzerland, city views and landscapes of England, France, Italy, Germany and Switzerland. The collection also includes six caricatures by Daumier dated 1850.

Revival Scheduled To Begin Sunday

Revival services of the Bellview Baptist Church will begin in the evening worship service Sunday. The Rev. J. H. Goins, pastor, will be the speaker in the first service. The evangelist will be the Rev. Paul Jones Miller, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in Odessa. Services are scheduled eight days. Morning services will be held at 10 o'clock and evening worship at 7:30.

Mrs. L. Tidwell Speaks To Club

Mrs. Luther Tidwell talked to members of the Midland Garden Club Thursday on "Growing Diansthus." The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R. T. German, 715 West Street.

Mrs. Tidwell told the group that Dianthus, better known as Sweet William, pinks or carnations, is well-suited for West Texas. "It is easily grown," she said, "is very colorful and many varieties are delightfully fragrant."

An arrangement, "Mood Moderne" was brought by Mrs. E. A. Culbertson.

HERE'S THE NEW '51 DODGE

New Inside...New Outside with a Completely New Kind of Ride

NEW in more ways than cars costing up to $1,000 more

AT A SECRET PREVIEW THESE FAMOUS AMERICANS SAID:

TED WILLIAMS—"When I first saw this new 1951 car, its smart look, its new engineering advances made me put it in the expensive car class," says Ted Williams, baseball's great left-handed slugger.

BETTY HUTTON—"It's so big, so roomy and with greater visibility for every passenger," says Betty Hutton, famous for her own exuberant way of putting over a song. "And so luxuriously appointed, inside and out!"

DALE CARNEGIE—"I think I know what influences people, and this new car will do it," says Dale Carnegie, famous author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People" and "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living."

Now YOU can see it! The new 1951 car that thrilled hundreds in secret previews coast-to-coast! Yes, famous Americans and people in all walks of life—engineers, stylists, architects, mechanics—were excited by its stunning new beauty and host of engineering improvements... were amazed that any car offering so much sells for so little!

New Riding Principle!
New Oriflow shock absorber system brings you a truly new kind of ride... lets you "float" down roads that stop other cars. Here's a new kind of smoothness—over the same roads that jarred and "hammered" you in the past! Whether it's city road or country road—cobblestones or corduroy—wheels stay on the ground. There's no wheel hop or bounce!

New Watchtower Visibility!
Here's visibility for all passengers through the new wider windshield and deeper, wider panoramic rear window—for greater safety, comfort. Here's new spaciousness inside to let you ride relaxed, uncrowded. Yet outside, its new beauty is sleek and trim for easier handling and parking.

Drive Without Shifting!
Dodge GYRO-MATIC brings you America's lowest-priced automatic transmission to free you from gear-shifting—with complete control of your car under all driving conditions.

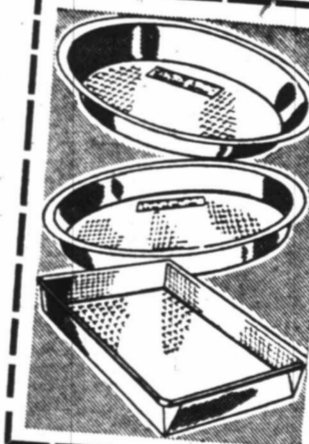

See the New 1951 Dodge January 20th!
You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the new beauty and famous dependability of this great new Dodge!

Calculated Risk

Everyone agrees the currently raging foreign policy debate is a healthful thing, since we can't have any real unity without full exploration of all the alternatives.

One of the hottest issues is whether to send additional American troops to Europe.

President Truman already has declared his intention to do this, to bolster Atlantic Pact defenses. He says he has the authority.

But a good many lawmakers in Washington, led by Senator Taft, doubt the wisdom of this plan. Taft declares it's illegal. Many are troubled by Western Europe's slowness in rearming itself. They fear we'd be carrying the bulk of the load, and that our troops might be trapped by a mighty Russian advance westward to the ocean.

Taft even suggests that sending more men might provoke rather than prevent war. He says that thus far he's not convinced the Soviet Union means to march on Western Europe.

He's in doubt on this score, he says, because none of our high government officials have been able to tell him what Russia intends to do in Europe.

Taft's earnest search for an answer to this puzzler is commendable. It's the question that bothers us all. But he may be expecting too much when he seeks an answer from our own officials.

Does Russia mean to make war on Europe? If so, why not now, while we and the West are relatively weak? Why should the Kremlin wait as we build a defense army that will only make its conquest more difficult?

The only accurate replies to these queries lie not in Washington but in Moscow. Perhaps, indeed, they are not even known there. For we tend to forget that the masters in the Kremlin, for all their cold, ruthless calculation, are human, too. They change their minds. They have doubts. They make mistakes. They have tough problems.

Certainly they do not operate according to a great master plan which has a rigid time-table. Like most politicians, they are opportunists. They try to play the main chance.

Possibly they would dearly love to attack Western Europe right now while it is weak. But all signs indicate they are deterred through fear of retaliatory A-bombing and the up-rising of anti-Communists both in the West and behind the Iron Curtain.

Admittedly, real moves to stiffen Europe's defenses might bring war, if the Kremlin were desperate enough and saw its prospects of long-range success dwindling. But it's also possible such a build-up would further deter the Russians.

The Soviet leaders have made clear over and over that they believe time and history are working for them. They believe the capitalist democracies are sure to crumble from their own inherent weaknesses. They are happy to aid this "disintegration" when the chance presents itself, but at other times they are content to sit back and wait. Rather than gamble on a war that might bring horrible retribution, the Kremlin might shift its pressure entirely to the political and diplomatic front.

The trouble is, no one can be sure from month to month what the Kremlin will do. Failure to build up Europe's defenses might convince them before the year is out that their best chance to strike has arrived.

It's a risk to send more troops abroad; everything related to Europe's defense involves a risk. But there's grave danger, too, in not sending those troops and not defending the Continent. There's no security in a world which houses Red Russia.

All we can do is calculate carefully which risks seem to be the best ones, and then take them. The big debate will pay off if it settles that point beyond reasonable doubt.

Proceed With Caution

For the first time in many weeks mildly encouraging reports have come out of Indo-China. French forces, fighting under their new commander, Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny, have retaken a number of forts previously lost to the rebel Viet Minh armies.

De Lattre has repeated his determination to yield no more ground to the Communists from here on. There was a tendency in many quarters to regard his original declaration as false bravado, but recent action has bolstered hope that Indo-China may yet be kept out of Red hands.

De Lattre claims his men disrupted a Viet Minh plan to close in on the big northern city of Hanoi the week after Christmas. He says the city now is out of any immediate danger.

It's too soon, however, for broad optimism. The Chinese Reds, who are helping the Viet Minh, presently are pre-occupied in Korea. The real crisis for Indo-China may come when and if they are no longer thus involved and can devote fuller attention to Ho Chi Minh's cause.

"What? Those Dirty Feet On Our Prize Possession?"

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Senator Capehart indulges in social lobbying; Tries to get AVCO contract for son's Packard Manufacturing Corporation; Most small businessmen have difficult time getting war contracts.

WASHINGTON — Not much gets into the newspapers about the social lobby these days, but an awful lot of business still is done over Washington dinner tables—even including war contracts.
The other day, Victor Emanuel, a power behind the far-flung AVCO Manufacturing Corporation, Standard Gas and Electric, Crosley Broadcasting and Republic Steel, gave a dinner in honor of Stuart Symington, sleek, efficient head of the National Security Resources Board. Symington got a lot of publicity once before from accepting the hospitality of Floyd Oidium of Consolidated Vultee, who manufactured B-36's at a time when Symington was buying B-36's for the Air Force. Emanuel now is making B-36 parts. Symington is out of the Air Force, though he packs a powerful wallop in a lot of other remobilization fields.

At any rate, Symington, an extremely busy man, went to the dinner, which was attended by various bigwigs, including homey Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana. Later it developed that Homer had quieted the dinner to do some quiet lobbying on war contracts.

Senator Sparkman of Alabama has just written a penetrating report showing how small businessmen are not able to get war contracts. He should have included in his report the following letter of November 30 from Victor Emanuel to John Craig, general manager of the Crosley Division of the AVCO Manufacturing Company, in Cincinnati as an illustration of how little business can get war business—if you have a father in the Senate and if you attend the proper dinner parties. Emanuel's letter to Craig follows:

"Dear Johnny:
"I have never had a trip such as this and am writing this between appointments.
"At the dinner I gave for Stu Symington last night, Senator Homer Capehart was here and was very appreciative of all our kindness and, incidentally, he talked considerably about Richmond and Connersville. He has a son, Tom Capehart, who has the Packard Mfg. Corp. in Indianapolis. This is a rather small plant but did considerable war production in the last war. Capehart owns one other plant but this is leased for eight years to Cornell-Dublier Electric Corp. He would like us to work closely with his son, especially in the field of subcontracting.
"I explained to Homer that we, ourselves, outside of Lycoming-Spencer Division, did not have any great amount of war orders now but we were going to have to go after them and we would do everything possible to cooperate with his son.
"At your convenience, could you get in touch with Tom Capehart and ask him to come to see you and tell you about his facilities which, to repeat, are not large, and everything being equal, as and when we can utilize his facilities, we will certainly do all within our power to do so? I know you will agree that this is a good thing to do."
Assurances To Senator
Victor Emanuel wrote a similar letter to another of his company executives, Ray Donaldson, and so anxious was he to please Senator Capehart that the same day he also wrote Capehart the following letter:

"Dear Homer:
"I flew back to New York this afternoon and am trying to make start on my desk.
"I have just written Ray Donaldson per the enclosed copy and, before I left Washington, I wrote Mr. John W. Craig, vice president of our company and general manager of our Crosley Division, about your son and the Packard Manufacturing Company, asking him to get in touch with your son.
"It was awfully nice seeing you last night and having such a good visit, and I will look forward to seeing you on the occasion of my next trip to Washington.
"With every good wish to you, please believe me,
"Most sincerely,
"Victor Emanuel."
"Watch Out For Tom"

This was followed by several inter-office memos regarding the type of business which young Capehart's plant might be able to handle, plus a letter from Tom Capehart listing his plant equipment in great detail. Finally on December 12, F. W. Warner, of the Crosley Division of AVCO, Cincinnati, sent the following memo to "all buyers" alerting them to be on the lookout for ways of placing orders with the son of the senator from Indiana. Warner's memo reads:
"Subject: Packard Manufacturing Corporation.
"Copies to: All buyers.
"I am enclosing, herewith, copies of my file on the above subject company which is completely self-explanatory.
"The Honorable Homer Capehart is a very important senator in Washington, and a very close personal friend of Mr. Emanuel's. I definitely want every one of you to give every consideration to his son, Mr. Thomas C. Capehart, president of the Packard Manufacturing Corporation, on any item he may be in a position to furnish us, provided he can be competitive from every standpoint.
"I would appreciate your sending me copies of inquiries to the Packard Manufacturing Corporation for the next two or three months so that I may have an answer for Mr. Capehart to submit to Mr. Emanuel."

However, Bridges refused to block his old political enemy. Phil Murray of the CIO and Bill Green of the AFL soon will be appointed on a new and important labor committee to push war mobilization. The great Democratic statesman, William Jennings Bryan, said the attitude of different industries wanting a tariff on their own products but no tariff on the things they had to buy reminded him of a second-hand clothing dealer he once heard of:

"A man came in and asked to try on a suit of clothes. He put on the coat and vest and then darted out the door. Ikey ran out in pursuit, shouting 'Stop thief!' A policeman ran up and started drawing his pistol. Ikey yelled, 'Shoot him in the pants; he coat and vest is mine!'"

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the origin of the military term "brass"?
A—"The term 'brass hat' is an outgrowth of World War I. In the slang of the British soldier a 'brass hat' was a high-ranking general, so called from the gold braid worn on the cap. The term in American usage has been shortened to 'brass' which now means the high command in general.

Q—Is copper an important export of Chile?
A—Yes. About one-sixth of the world's copper comes from this South American country.

Q—Who was the first U. S. president to be born in the United States?
A—Martin Van Buren, the eighth President, who was born Dec. 5, '82. All preceding presidents were born during British colonial rule.

Q—How was soap discovered?
A—Soap was accidentally discovered by the ancients when the grease from the sacrifices of animals offered upon the altar dripped through and mixed with the wood ashes of the altar logs.

When today's hand was played in a recent game at the Covenish Club in New York, declarer went into a long huddle over his play to the ninth trick.

West led the deuce of spades, and East won with the king. East, secured the five of clubs, and West took the queen and ace of clubs. West then continued with a third club, and East discarded a heart.

South laid down the ace of diamonds and next ran the three hearts, ending in dummy. Then he led the jack of diamonds from dummy and paused when East played the low diamond.

The contract depended on South's next play. If he finessed, he would win nine tricks. If he put up the king of diamonds, he would be set. What follows is what South thought about during his long huddle.

West had started with exactly five clubs and three hearts. That left room in his hand for five cards in spades and diamonds combined.

Did the opening lead mean that West had four spades and hence only one diamond; or had West led low from three spades, headed by the ace?

If West had started with only three spades, East must have started with five. In that case, East might have been tempted to continue spades instead of shifting to clubs. Surely he would consider the matter, even if he decided eventually to lead clubs.

But East had shifted to clubs without hesitation. South decided that East was not the sort of person to settle a difficult problem so quickly; hence it was unlikely that he had been faced with the problem.

South also considered the opening lead. If West had started with three spades to the ace and three little hearts, would he have led a spade or a heart? Probably a heart, South decided. However, West would prefer to lead spades if he held four of them.

All the evidence pointed in the same direction, so South assumed that West had started with only one diamond. He therefore took the diamond finesse and made his contract.

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the player at your right deals and leads one spade. You hold Spade 10-3-2, Heart A-Q-7-5-4, Diamond A-9-3, Club 8-2. What do you do?
A—Pass. This hand would be worth an opening bid, but is not worth an overcall. A bid of two hearts would promise to take eight tricks, and this hand will probably win only three or four. It is unwise to step out and expose yourself to a possible disaster.

Reason for the increase is that especially since your bid can gain very little.

THE STORY: Paul Twigg, seeking to recover what he believed to be an antique, kidnaps his niece Judy from her unworthy mother and flees to New York with May Jenkins, who believes in him. May and Judy, who separate from Paul for security, are nearly caught by the police dragnet, but they escape. Paul, in trying to contact a new captain friend, Martin Jabob, who can take Paul, Judy and May out of the country, is tipped off that officers are waiting for him at the shipping agency and that he is to get in touch with a Captain Cross. Cross gives Paul instructions. Meanwhile, May has left Judy in a movie while she goes to meet Paul, then she discovers that a man is following her. The man catches up to her and blocks her path. May is forced to stop and face him.

THE man spoke. "What are we talking in circles for?" His voice had a sharp Latin accent. His eyes were shaded by his wide hat brim so that just two flecks of reflected light peered at her. May Jenkins was sure he was a policeman.

"What do you want?" she demanded. It had taken all of her courage to bring her voice out. She was shaking. Her hands were hot and wet.

He rubbed his mouth and his thin pointed chin. "I think you are playing games with me. We go round and round."
May started forward as though to pass him. He put his hand on her arm and held her.

"Wait!" He stepped in front of her again. "You tell me where you go. Maybe we go together, huh?" "Let me go," she cried, "I'm in a hurry."
"Big hurry to go in circles! Come, you go with me. Yes!" If he arrested her now, Paul

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Few Economies Are Visible In Truman Budget Message

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It's a darn sight easier to tell what isn't in the President's $71,000,000,000 budget message than what is in it. For pretty nigh everything the President ever asked for before is there, including a start on compulsory health insurance, the Brannan plan, aid to education, St. Lawrence seaway—and a few odd thousand kitchen stoves. No foolin'—they'll go into new defense housing.

In the President's State of the Union message he got cheers from Congress for saying that the government "must practice rigid economy in its non-defense expenditures. Many of the things we would normally do must be curtailed."

The President still insists this is a tight budget. He is asking for only $4,300,000,000 in 13 brand new legislative authorizations. Of this, $3,000,000,000 will be for foreign military and economic assistance, $700,000,000 to expand defense production, $300,000,000 for price and economic control machinery, $290,000,000 for an extended draft, $164,000,000 for dispersal of government buildings, $100,000,000 for defense housing, the rest in lesser items.

In preparing the budget, the claim is made that 130 items, or 40 per cent of the appropriation requests that will go to Congress, were cut back from last year. Cutbacks totaled $7,750,000,000. Of this $3,700,000,000 represents cutbacks for stockpiling, shipbuilding and atomic energy, due to heavy expenditures in these fields this year. The other $2,000,000,000 cutback is in new defense items.

The savings are, of course, a mere molehill when stacked beside the mountainous fact that military expenditures will be almost doubled from this year's $21,000,000,000 to next year's $41,000,000,000. This is no way to save money, if that's the objective.

Some Suggested Economies
In reviewing the budget, the President said that when people make wild statements about what could be cut out, he wished they'd first learn half as much about the budget as he knew.

Among the most recent suggestions on how the budget could be cut was a statement from $21,000,000,000 to $18,000,000,000. He said $6,000,000,000 could be cut from non-defense items of the federal budget.

Seyferth recommended cutting $2,000,000,000 from farm subsidies and $1,000,000,000 from each of the following: housing loans, public works, veterans' benefits, welfare and public assistance. This is how the new Truman budget conforms, or rather doesn't conform:

Expenditures for farm price supports in the present fiscal year is estimated at $18,000,000,000. This figure is low because the government made $296,000,000 on the sale of cotton and other surpluses. For next year, the 1952 budget estimates expenditures will be $504,000,000. This is an increase of $486,000,000—roughly half a billion instead of a cut of $2,000,000,000.

Reason for the increase is that especially since your bid can gain very little.

What's RIGHT?

You invite another couple over for the evening and when you suggest playing cards, their response doesn't sound too enthusiastic.

my place." Once more he took her arm.

"Leave me alone!" May screamed at him. She pulled to free herself from his grip. Paul was waiting. It was late. She had to get to Paul! Pedestrians slowed or stopped to watch them. A policeman broke through the crowd.

"What's going on here?" the policeman demanded. "What's this row doing? Is he bothering you, Miss?"

The man broke in hurriedly. "We just have little argument, officer. She's my girl."

The policeman looked to May for confirmation. She desperately wanted to turn him over to the law, to get rid of him, to get away, but her fear of the police was more desperate. Miserably she nodded in affirmation.

The officer snorted. "Well, don't be standing on my best friend's shoulders. Beat it. Get out of you, before I run you in, G'wan!"

THE man muttered quick assurances and bustled May through the curious crowd. He carried her along rapidly toward West End Avenue.

When they were free of the crowd, he said, "You are a good girl. You act so funny back there for a minute I think you don't like me." He laughed. "You see, I treat you real nice. We have big time."

May didn't answer. She went along at his side until they came to the next corner. She wanted to be certain that they were out of sight of the policeman and the others who had observed the scene on Broadway.

May looked back and was relieved to see an empty street behind them. Then she turned to him.

"Please," she said, "I didn't want to get you in trouble, but I don't want to go with you. Understand? Even if you don't believe me, I do have a date. It's important and I'm late. Now leave me alone. Let me go. Please! And goodbye."

Without waiting for a reply, May turned and scurried up West End Avenue. The man hesitated a moment, then he ran after her. (To Be Continued)

Thane Discusses U. S. Policies In Midland Address

The security of the United States definitely rests on the defense of Western Europe. Dr. Kenneth Walker, who lectures under the name of Thane, told a public gathering in the Cowden Junior High School Auditorium Thursday night.

The material for Thane's "off-the-record" Washington report was obtained in a recent briefing by State Department officials and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Thane's appearance here.

Elaborating on the importance of helping defend Western Europe, Thane said Russia could overrun Europe with ease if the U. S. does nothing to bolster its defenses.

The two principal effects of Russian occupation of Western Europe, according to Thane's non-quotable material, would be the increased steel producing potential and addition of scientific minds to the Russian cause.

Dr. Walker began his lecture by listing the men who held the briefing in Washington, including Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Secretary of Defense George Marshall, Senator Paul Douglas, Senator Wayne Morse, and the British and French ambassador to the United States.

Thane added he could not quote directly from the sources, and said the lecture probably would serve only "to help you worry more intelligently."

Korean Situation

Touching on the Korean situation, Thane said Korea has proved two things. First, that Russia is ready to wage war through her satellites; second, that Russia now is ready to wage a full-time war. He said the use of Chinese Reds shows long-range Communist planning.

When asked if the UN forces should try to stay in Korea, Thane said, "Yes, for awhile at least, while we seek to expose the Red plot."

Regarding American foreign policy, Thane said the United Nations is the cornerstone of U. S. foreign policy, and it appears this nation will try to protect the entire world.

In a question-and-answer period following the lecture, Thane said the United States has a plant, already in operation, which produces petroleum from shale. He said the two and one-half billion dollar plant is beyond the experimental stage, that it now has a high productive capacity.

Thane also was asked about secret weapons. He said both Russia and the United States have developed a deadly nerve gas, which probably would be used before the atomic bomb.

about preventive war. He told reporters that if he was ordered to, "I can break up Russia's five A-bomb nests in a week." When Anderson said that, he was commander of the Air War College at Maxwell Base, Ala. Vandenberg immediately suspended him, then six weeks later announced Anderson was being transferred to command of a technical training wing in Texas. Anderson requested retirement. It was granted. There was no indication whether any action against O'Donnell is contemplated.

General O'Donnell told reporters "There are quite a few good targets for conventional bombing" in addition to possible A-bomb targets in China and Manchuria.

Other O'Donnell statements, made with apparent deliberation and careful choice of words:

"I never thought I'd see the day when we would have to sit back with our hands tied . . .

"We have been fighting distinctly under wraps since the Chinese Communists came into the war . . .

"I am in complete accord with the United Nations, but it makes a very poor substitute for military headquarters in a campaign . . .

"If we're going to fight, let's not hit 'em light, for heaven's sake. It's time people know that this is an all-out war. This is a global war. We won the first round but this is the second round and we are losing on points . . .

"Let's tighten our belts and become determined we're not going to take a shelling."

O'Donnell returned here to resume active command of the 15th Air Force under the 70-group expansion program (from a present 48). He left command of the bombing group to his deputy, Brig. Gen. James E. Briggs.

Annual Scout Banquet Slated Friday Night

Election of 1951 officers will highlight the business meeting and annual banquet of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, slated Friday night in Big Spring.

An address by Arno Nowotny, dean of student life at the University of Texas, will feature the banquet. A capacity crowd, including 30 Midlanders, is expected to be on hand.

Texas Freezes All Guard Enlistments

AUSTIN—(P)—Texas National Guardsmen found all outgoing doors but one bolted tight Friday.

Both Gov. Allan Shivers and State Adjutant General K. L. Berry Thursday ordered an end to releases and discharges from any ground or air unit of the guard except on special permission to go into the regular armed forces.

The governor's order specified an automatic one-year extension of all guard enlistments expiring between January 18 and July 9, 1951. The governor said the action was in line with "national policy" for the guard.

Berry, simultaneously, issued a directive to guard unit commanders which had the effect of freezing both enlisted and officer personnel.

It directed that officers and enlisted men would not be permitted to leave the guard for service with the regular armed forces unless investigation proved refusal would impose a hardship on the applicant.

Berry said the action was necessary to keep the National Guard units at required strength. He said 33 other states had taken similar action.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

Your first eye-smacking look at the line of lovelies pictured here tells you that they've got what it takes in visual charm.

But the fellow who said a picture speaks louder than a thousand words wasn't talking about these superbly able 1951 Buicks.

Sure, they're smart to look at—smart in style and smart in dress.

But they're also smartly powered—smartly engineered—smartly priced. And it would take a book to describe in full their deep-down goodness.

What's been done for '51 is to take the best automobiles that ever bore the Buick name—and top them.

Come, look them over, and you'll see what we mean.

There's the SPECIAL which can accurately be titled "the newest car in the world"—new in structure, new in power, new in dimensions, new in thrift—and potent in price appeal.

There's the SUPER—that looks and is a smart new edition of its "best seller" forebear.

Then there's the ROADMASTER—that coddles your anatomy on luxurious new fabrics and cloud-soft cushions—pampers your pride with its lordly bearing—shoots a delicious tingle right up your spine by the exuberance of its power and action.

We could go on and on. This is the car that "breathes through its nose." This is the car that sports a brand-new front-end styling. This is the car with new high-visibility instrument dials, more easily read at night. This is the car with glare-and-heat-reducing glass and a host of other news-making features you can't afford to miss.

So your No. 1 date this week end is with your Buick dealer. It won't take you long to conclude that he's offering the smartest buys of the year.

*Optional at extra cost—available on most models. (Not presently available in California or Massachusetts)

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Echo Valley

A driving wind and bitter cold had made the day so unhappy outside that hardly anyone was stirring about. All the animals of the Great Forest had huddled themselves into warm, soft balls all safe inside their hollow logs, or hollow trees, but the animal-people with real houses of course had fires burning bright in the fireplaces. Mugwump Monkey, there in Daddy Ringtail's house, stood watching the dancing flames. He saw how they curled around the logs and leaped on upward up the chimney, but now Daddy Ringtail was there on the porch with another armload of firewood in his arms. He stamped the snow off his feet, and came on in to put more wood on the fire. What a happy, cosy day it was, even with all the cold outside—or maybe because of the cold out there and because it made the monkey house seem so especially warm and friendly inside.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump

as they sat there in front of the fire, "could you tell me a story?" And so Daddy Ringtail began to tell about it. He told of the cold, cold day when he was driving a wagon home through Echo Valley. Why, there in Echo Valley, a person could about a word out very loud, and the word would travel through the air until it hit the side of the mountains all around the valley. Yes, and then the word would travel back with a bounce through the air to the person who had shouted it.

"It was great fun to hear the echo," Daddy Ringtail explained, "but then the two back wheels on my wagon broke kerplow. How oh how was I ever to drive on home? Well, I had to have some new wagon wheels, and I'll tell you how I got them. I shouted out loud the word YOO-HOO! and the word came echoing back with a bounce. Oh, but the day was so cold that the word froze in the air, and so to get my wagon wheels, all I had to do was reach up there in the air and get the frozen word and use the part that was round like the wagon wheels I wanted."

"Really?" asked Mugwump.

"No, play-like," Daddy Ringtail said, but the story of Echo Valley was great fun to tell and hear, and I hope that you enjoyed it too. Happy day!

Re-Enactment Of Expedition Slated

SYDNEY — A re-enactment of the expedition by Explorers Sturt and McLeay down the Murrumbidgee and Murray Rivers in 1830 is being planned as a feature of Australia's Jubilee celebration in 1951. The two explorers will be portrayed by actors and they will be rowed down the river by a crew of six Australian Army officers dressed to resemble the crew which rowed the original expedition. Civic welcomes and festivities will greet the actors at towns and centers on the expedition's route.

King's Conoco Service Station Opens Saturday

Midland's newest and most modern service station will open its doors for business Saturday morning.

It is the King's Conoco Service Station at 410 West Wall Street, offering complete one-stop, 24-hour service.

Long located at the familiar northeast corner of Wall and Marshall Streets, the station was taken over three years ago by its present operator, popular H. F. King.

For the last several weeks, a modernization project has been carried out.

Completely Modern
A new station building—sleek and modern with its enameled porcelain sides—has been constructed, the driveway space has been doubled, and all-weather parking areas have been provided.

Offering a complete line of Conoco products, the new station will begin operations at 8 a.m. Saturday, and thereafter its doors never will be closed.

There will be six gasoline pumps instead of four, for the convenience of the motorist, and an increased staff of trained attendants will assure prompt and courteous service.

The public is invited to attend the open house Saturday.

Long Staple Cotton Acreage Hike Seen

EL PASO—(AP)—The government's favorable price support program for American-Egyptian long staple cotton brought a prediction Friday that acreage here would be increased.

High ginning and picking costs of long staple cottons formerly have discouraged their growth here. The planting has been about 10,000 acres as compared to 44,000 short staple.

The Agriculture Department—seeking at least 75,000 bales of long staple for stockpiling—announced Thursday it would support the price at favorable levels. It wasn't supported last year.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off unsightly weight and helping to bring back slumping curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your drugist, four ounces of liquid Barocentra. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help retain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Highly Contagious Impetigo Is Troublesome Infection Of Skin

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

All of the questions published today deal with various kinds of skin troubles. I am sorry that space makes it impossible to answer all of the letters I have received on that subject.

Q—I have six small children and each year or oftener they break out with impetigo. They all get it in spite of precautions. What causes this?

A—Impetigo is a true infection of the skin. It is caused by a germ called a staphylococcus and the condition is highly contagious. Your children must catch it from someone else—try to find out where.

Q—Can the development of miniature-like moles be checked? They seem to spread rapidly. Could it be from a deficiency in the diet?

A—The moles can be destroyed by heat—the diathermy needle—but it is hard to suggest a method of checking their spread. Dietary deficiency almost certainly has nothing to do with them.

Q—Little veins are breaking in my legs and they look like a spider web. Can anything be done? They

A—This is probably a condition that is known technically as spider veins. It is possible that it can be treated by X-ray, but you will need expert advice on this.

Q—Is there anything to lighten the dark or purple color left on my legs by the healing of varicose ulcers? They are nasty looking through silk stockings.

A—There is at least one commercial preparation on the market which can be matched to the color of the skin, applied as a cream and covers an area such as that mentioned making it appear quite normal.

Q—Please give cause of conspicuous spots on arms and legs and what can be done for them?

A—Are the spots dark or light? If dark they are probably moles; if light they may be leukoderma. What can be done for them depends on what they are.

Q—I have an itch in the groin at night, especially if I perspire. I have tried various salves without help. What do you suggest?

A—There are several possible causes, with ringworm the most likely. It would be wise to have the skin examined and perhaps scrapings made so that the exact nature of the trouble can be identified.

Q—What do you recommend to use for a dry skin?

A—Assuming that the dry skin is not caused by too much soap, a low basal metabolism, or some other definite cause, about all that can be suggested is the use of a suitable cold cream or oil on the skin. Less frequent bathing, particularly in winter, may help. Also the use of a chemical detergent other than soap may prove helpful.

Legislative Scrap On State Spending May Start Tuesday

AUSTIN—(AP)—The legislative scrap on how to divvy up the state's meager money may start next Tuesday in a House Appropriations subcommittee. An East Texas representative will seek expanded market reporting service from the State Department of Agriculture.

Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola will ask allotment of $32,000 for opening of four farm market news service stations—one each for North, East, South and West Texas.

The amount he seeks is relatively small, but opposition is likely in view of Gov. Allan Shivers' advice to limit new state services to ones which aid the national mobilization effort. Hinson said the market reporting stations are needed to give adequate market news to producers, consumers and dealers.

Rep. Jack Cox of Breckenridge, chairman of the Subcommittee of Departmental Appropriations, said he believed public hearings on proposed budgets could begin Tuesday. He planned to call on John C. White, new commissioner of agriculture, to present his department's request first.

Budget Ready Monday
Cox said the Legislative Budget Board should be ready to submit recommendations on state spending by Monday. The Budget Board, created by the last Legislature, has been whipping its proposals into final form this week after months of study.

Before heading home, following weekend adjournment of the Legislature Thursday, Hinson described present market service offered by the State Department of Agriculture as "pitifully inadequate."

Legislators continued to file bills in the clerk's office after adjourning.

A proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting was submitted by Rep. Demo Tufares of Wichita Falls. He would substitute a law for general registration of voters.

Rayburn To Head Region 10 Office Of ESA In Dallas

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tom Rayburn, nephew of Speaker Sam Rayburn, is temporary head of the Region 10 office in Dallas for the Economic Stabilization Agency. The office will handle price and wage controls, which may come next week.

The office at 3306 Main Street is for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Rayburn will be on loan from the Dallas General Services Administration to set up the office. He is 38, a career government employee and director of the Dallas Regional GSA office.

Midland GI Wants Small Texas Flag

Cpl. Thomas R. Smith, USMC, who is serving with the First Division in Korea, wants a small Texas flag.

Corporal Smith wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Smith, 1707 South Big Spring Street, asking them to find a small flag about 10 by 16 inches. He would like to have it right away.

Mrs. Smith called The Reporter-Telegram.

"I can't find a small Texas flag anywhere in Midland," she said, "but someone probably has one they would let me have—if only they knew how badly my son wants it." Mrs. Smith said she could order a flag, but that would take weeks. If she can find a small flag, she plans to send it air mail to her son.

Attorney Indicted By U. S. Grand Jury

DALLAS—(AP)—William A. Culwell, an Amarillo lawyer, was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury on charges of causing two witnesses in a Mann Act trial in Dallas last Fall to make false statements in court.

Alfred Wayne Likes and Hanley R. Booth, the defendants, were re-indicted. Their case in Dallas Sept. 22, 1950, had been declared a mistrial.

The indictment against Likes and Booth charges them with procuring a car used by Ruby Booth and Mary Katherine Davis to go from Dallas to Clayton, N. M., last June 2, for immoral purposes.

In the first trial, Ruby Booth and Wallace Edgerton Britt testified contrary to written statements made by them before the trial opened. The indictment against Culwell alleged he was responsible for making them change their testimony.

Legion Officials Attend State Meet

T. E. (Red) Steele, commander of the Woods W. Lynch Post 19 of the American Legion, and Vice Commander Q. M. Shelton left Thursday for Austin, where they will attend the convention of the Texas Legion Post Officers.

Sessions will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Midland representatives will return Sunday night.

Before leaving, Steele announced the membership for the Midland post has increased to 958. Although the number of members has increased, Midland dropped from fourth to fifth among the state's Legion posts in 1951 membership.

"Through blizzard after blizzard my car performed better!"

"I was one of those selected to test new Conoco Super Motor Oil in my own car before it was put on the market. Through blizzard after blizzard, I travelled in Northern Colorado and Wyoming. "BUT THOSE WERE THE TWO BEST WINTERS I EVER HAD ON THE ROAD! New Conoco Super improved the operation of my car. And at the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was virtually as good as at the beginning."

says D.G. HUBBARD
1645 Jasmine St. Denver 7, Colorado

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Hubbard and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of crankcase drains showed that this great new oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to winter-grade Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Purchase Of Haircut Brings Free Shakeup
SINGAPORE — You get a good shaking-up when you buy a haircut in Singapore.
Many barbers, after finishing their clipping and shaving, give the customer a hard thump on the back of the neck with the side of their hand. This is followed by vigorous massaging of the neck, upper back, shoulders and arms.
The barbers seem to think this makes the customer feel good. Anyhow, it doesn't cost a penny extra.

Thailand Chinese Face Deportation

SINGAPORE — More than 100,000 Chinese in Thailand, taken there by the Japanese, are facing deportation. Aw Boon Haw, Singapore millionaire-philanthropist and owner of the Star chain of newspapers, said after returning from Bangkok. Aw met Chinese leaders and pleaded for extension of time so that ways and means could be found to make deportation unnecessary.

He persuaded the Thailand government that all the 100,000 Chinese were law-abiding and not interested in politics. In three or four years with proper supervision, they would regard Thailand as their homes.

Floating Fifth Avenue Slates First Voyage

NEW YORK — The S. S. Independence, the newest American trans-Atlantic liner, will be a floating Fifth Avenue when she sails from New York on her maiden voyage.

Chester H. Case, manager of services-operations for American Export Lines, says the new ship will be equipped with staffs and shops from Saks Fifth Avenue, Brentano's Book Shop, and Helena Rubinstein's Beauty Salon. The same services are to be furnished on the sister ship of the Independence, the Constitution, when she enters service in the Spring.

The only numismatic museum in the country is operated by the American Numismatic Society in New York City. The museum features coins, medals and decorations.

A new aluminum chimney, for use in dwellings, has a vitreous-enamel-coated steel flue in the center, enclosed by two concentric aluminum ducts. Outside air is drawn down the outer duct, to travel upward to the inner duct, cooling the steel flue.

A STITCH IN TIME

This little seamstress has already been taught how to save her dolly's clothing by mending them before they are worn out. Though she has not yet attained great skill, she is learning the value of industry and thrift.

It is wise to give children good use of their spare time. Not only does it develop their skill and talents, but it keeps them from idle mischief. Let us not forget the essentials of life, however, in training our children.

While little hands are learning useful tasks, little minds should be taught of the Heavenly Father and His loving care, and little hearts should be filled with kindness and consideration for others.

Early religious training is the greatest gift for any child. Take your little one to Church and Church school for the foundation of a fuller, richer life. Do not wait; it can make the difference between happiness and sorrow, between success and failure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

All-Americans Go Begging In Annual Pro Gridiron Draft

CHICAGO—(P)—All-America griders for the most part went a-begging for pro jobs Friday after National Football League moguls passed them up for men presumably safe from 1951 military call.

The war-scale twist to the annual draft of collegiate talent produced the fewest national name players in pro football's history as top choices.

Out of the first 48 selections Thursday by the 12 clubs, only six eligible offensive or defensive all-American specialists were picked.

In this half-draft, three were plucked in the first round of the draft, where a mad scramble usually develops to nail campus cuties. They were Notre Dame Quarterback Bob Williams, who went to the Chicago Bears; Tackle Bob Gain of Kentucky, to the Green Bay Packers, and Guard Bud McPadin of Texas, to the Los Angeles Rams.

After the New York Giants had won the league's "bonus" draw—a prelude to the college draft—and chose Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist's fine married halfback, the Bears took Williams as their No. 1 pick.

They got the first choice as a payoff of a former deal with the Baltimore Colts. The Colts, last-place club in the standings, had No. 1 selection.

Commissioner Bert Bell represented the money-losing Colts, who were dropped from the league, and Owner Abe Wartner paid $50,000 for his 65 players.

Ken Jackson, Texas tackle, was drafted by the New York Yankees. Other Texans drafted were:

Paul Grotzki, Rice tackle, Washington.

Bob Smith, Texas A&M back, drafted by Green Bay and traded to Cleveland.

Floyd Sampson, McMurry College back, Pittsburgh.

Brad Rowland, McMurry back and little All-American, Chicago Bears.

Herbert Falkenberg, Trinity back, Chicago Bears.

Frank Boydston, Baylor back, Philadelphia Eagles.

Jewel Williams, Texas end, New York Giants.

Fred Benners, SMU back, New York Giants.

Max Clark, Houston back, Cleveland Browns.

The Philadelphia Eagles selected End Jack Richards of Arkansas.

Charles Wright, Texas Western back, Chicago Bears.

Bailey Woods, Abilene Christian back, Chicago Bears.

Gene Tykula, Texas tackle, New York Giants.

Bob Bates, Texas A&M center, Washington.

Dick Rowan, Texas center, New York Giants.

Harold Riley, Baylor end, Los Angeles.

Detroit Tiger pitcher Art Houtman held the dubious distinction of giving up the most home runs in the American League during the 1950 season. He allowed 29 four base swats.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

Midland's Golden Gloves kids lads march on. The Midland kids have especially the City of Midland—and especially Odessa and some other towns.

Bill Gildewell has instilled a will to win into the Midland boys, and at last the Purple clad kids are beginning to realize Odessa boys are no tougher than the Midland-grown variety—in fact, they haven't shown to be as tough thus far.

Odessa has won but five of eleven bouts in outside competition. Midland has racked up nine of 12 starts. Midland fighters have bopped Odessa five times and have yet to lose to Odessa punchers.

Gildewell's punching boys have a fine chance to sack up the team trophy Friday night. Midland should support the boys as much as possible. Turn out for the bouts—you'll be glad you did.

The boys are bringing much credit to Midland by their fine fistclout efforts.

There was a bit of boozing at the fights both nights, at the referees. But it shouldn't have been that way. Of course, when a fan buys a ticket to the fights, he automatically has a right to express his opinion, in keeping with the American tradition.

But some of the fans fail to realize the rules in the amateur fights. E. L. Kenemer, Midlander who officiated some of the bouts, tells us that under AAU rules the ref is supposed to call "break" and the boys are supposed to step back one step without being touched by the official.

Many fans don't know that, and thought the officials were in error several times.

But the officials—despite what you may think—were entirely correct.

Seen at the fights Thursday night was Burt Stringer, former Midlander now living in Kermit. Stringer won the state bantamweight title in 1948, representing Sul Ross. He coached the Kermit boxing team last year and is giving some assistance there this year.

When not in the Kermit corner, Stringer helped his Sul Ross friends out by working in their corners.

Kilgore Junior College has announced that William Douglas (Bill) Little, ex-Bulldog, has earned a football letter at that school.

Bill was a standout football, track and baseball star at MHS. He graduated in 1948. The Kilgore school praised Little as "an invaluable performer for the Kilgore Rangers from his fullback position."

Little was in Midland during the Christmas holidays and reported he is heading for Army service.

Midland finally was mentioned in a California paper as the home of the Bauer sisters. A large California publication ran a full page spread a few weeks back about the charming golfing sisters, and said "They are from Texas." That's all.

But the Stockton (Calif.) paper had a picture of Marlene last week and actually said "Marlene Bauer is a 17-year-old from Midland, Texas."

Well, well. Do tell.

We were well "protected" at the fights Thursday night.

Flanking us on our left was Doyce Elliott, who was a better-than-average fighter in service competition. And on our right, Sam Irving, former world's wrestling champion, kept the "bad boys" away from us.

Tournament Director Bill Wooster reports that seats still are available for the fights Friday night. Midland can help hang up a "sold out" sign.

'C' Defeats Lamesa, Bullpups Lose 31-26

The Midland 'C' team defeated the Lamesa 'C' five 34-28 in a basketball encounter Thursday afternoon in the John M. Cowden Junior High School gym.

Tall Bill Mills paced the Midland attack with 13 points. Jim Hammett scored 12. Jim Mashburn tallied five. Rusty Rutledge three and Milton Jones one.

Coach Bob Cochran's eighth grade Cowden five lost to Lamesa 31-26. Tommy Johnson paced the Midland attack with six points. The Lamesa five had too much height for the Bullpups.

STRONG WIND—Taking advantage of spring-like weather, spectators in London watch the Royal Thames Yacht Club Challenge Trophy race on the Thames River. The event was staged in a strong wind by the Ranelagh Sailing Club.

Midland's Flying Sisters Defeated By Red Chicks 28-24

SAN ANGELO—The San Angelo Red Chick basketball team defeated the Midland Flying Sisters 28-24 in a girls basketball game played for the March of Dimes drive here Thursday night.

The tilt was close and exciting all the way. Edith Campbell, forward, paced Midland with 12 points. She scored all of the 12 tallies on field goals. Euloise Graham tabbed six markers for Midland. Rosie Hart three, Betty Erdman two and Joyce Beasley one.

The score was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter, with the Chicks going in front 13-13 at half-time and 24-18 after three quarters. The Chicks were in front by nine points at one stage in the fourth quarter, but Campbell and company cut down the lead.

It was the Flying Sister's first game of the season.

Police Grill Pair In Investigation Of Cage Bribe Attempt

NEW YORK—An investigator into the Manhattan College basketball bribe attempt said "I don't know where this thing might lead" after questioning two men until early Friday morning.

Edward F. Breslin, assistant district attorney, stayed in his Bronx office until after midnight questioning the two "in connection with the basketball investigation."

Breslin did not identify the men and, after six hours of questioning, released them.

Edward Byrnes, deputy detective inspector of the Bronx, said the men were questioned in connection with telephone calls to Henry E. Poppe, one of the five men arrested Wednesday on charges of bribery and conspiracy in offering a star Manhattan player, Junius Kellogg, $1,000 to throw the game against DePaul on Tuesday. Manhattan upset DePaul 62-59.

Poppe was arrested along with John A. Byrnes, Cornelius Kelleher and two brothers, Irving and Benjamin Schwartzberg, after Kellogg told his coach and police of the attempted bribe. Poppe and Byrnes were co-captains and stars on last year's Manhattan team.

Rotary Engineers Edge Cabbies 56-51

SAN ANGELO—Midland's Rotary Engineers came alive in the final five minutes Thursday night at the San Angelo College gym, to nip the Checker Cab five of San Angelo 56-51. It was the second meeting of the two teams. Midland has taken a 91-48 decision in Midland earlier.

With slightly less than five minutes to go, Midland came from behind to win. Leland Huffman paced the Engineers attack, pulling up 15 points. Paul Haskins scored 11 points for the Rotary five, and Frank Collins tallied 10. The services played without the Services of high-scoring Bennie Rutherford. Brandy Lyons led the San Angelo team with 14 points.

3,839 Medical Men Register For Draft

AUSTIN—(P)—Texas medical men answering the call to register at draft boards Monday totaled 3,839. Selective Service Headquarters announced Thursday.

They include 2,776 physicians, 858 dentists and 205 veterinarians. Approximately 750 Texans signed up for the first registration last October.

Roy Harris From Cut And Shool Re-Enters Gloves Meet-In Store-Boughten Clothes

HOUSTON—(P)—Roy Harris, the fellow from Cut and Shoot who created a sensation in the Texas Golden Gloves tournament at Fort Worth last year, is trying for a championship again.

Harris showed up in a coonskin cap and frontiersman garb.

But it's all changed this time. He sold some hogs and got himself some store-bought clothes. So he won't attract so much attention when he competes in the Regional Golden Gloves Tournament here January 30, 31 and February 1.

Nationwide Poll To Pick All-Time All-American Team

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(P)—The Associated Press and the National Football Hall of Fame said Friday a nationwide poll will be held to pick an all-time All-American college football team.

Men chosen for the first three all-time teams automatically will be nominated for consideration in the Hall of Fame to be built at Rutgers University here. The final selection lies in the hands of an "Honors Court." No Hall of Fame elections have been made as yet.

Announcement of the poll in which Associated Press member newspapers and radio stations will participate was made by Arthur Levans, executive secretary of the Hall of Fame, and Ted Smith, general sports editor of The Associated Press.

"As is customary in AP polls, each member newspaper and each radio station will be entitled to one vote," said Smith. This vote may be cast by the sports editor, or the paper or station may conduct its own poll and forward the consensus to the AP in New York for tabulation.

In order to give ample time for newspapers and radio stations to conduct their own polls, March 15 was set as the deadline for the ballots. It is planned to announce the final result by positions—ends, tackles, guards, centers, quarterbacks, halfbacks and fullbacks.

Votes also will be cast for the all-time football coach. Coaches as well as players will be honored in the Hall of Fame.

In voting for the all-time All-American college team, any player from 1889 through the 1950 season is eligible. No one can be elected to the Hall of Fame until 10 years after he has left college.

Lubbock Cancels Golden Gloves Event

LUBBOCK—(P)—Sponsors of the Lubbock District Golden Gloves Tournament have decided not to hold the amateur meet this year for lack of interest and shifting war conditions.

This will be the first time in 15 years a district tournament has not been held here.

San Angelo recently decided against holding a tournament.

Jury Refuses To Indict Grid Service

DALLAS—(P)—A federal grand jury Thursday refused to indict operators of the J. H. Hyke Football Service on charges of using the mails to run a lottery.

Ray Herman, Ollie Riley, Charley Gordon and Ralph Cowdrey, the operators, were arrested October 18. The jury indicated it thought the evidence was not enough.

AREA DEFENSE CONTRACT CLINIC SET AT ODESSA

ODESSA—A defense contract clinic to give Permian Basin businessmen practical information on how to deal with government procurement agencies in the preparedness program will be held in Odessa January 29 under the joint sponsorship of the Texas Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce.

The one-day clinic will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the Elliott Hotel here. Morning and afternoon sessions are scheduled. Admission is free and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Purples Invade Lubbock

The Midland Bulldog basketball team journeys to Lubbock Friday night to vie with the Lubbock Westerners, District 3-AA favorites. Lubbock has won two of two conference outings, beating both Odessa and Lamesa handsly. Midland has dropped to Lamesa 48-37, Odessa 40-37 and Big Spring 31-29.

Coach F. D. (Red) Rutledge announced he will stick with the lineup that has started most of the Midland games. Corkey Moon, center, Reid Gilmore and Bob Burka, guards, and Roy Kinsey and Robert Kealing, forwards, are expected to make up the starting five.

Lubbock has dropped but three contests in 12 starts this year. Midland has won but three of an even dozen. But Rutledge has high hopes of upsetting the Lubbock five. Midland has dropped most of its games by small margins, and Rutledge feels the Midland five is capable of winning some games it is doped to lose.

North Texans Win Boxing Meet Over Southern Idaho

KIMBERLY, IDAHO—(P)—North Texas State College's touring boxing team Thursday night pounded out a 5 1/2 to 3 1/2 victory over Southern Idaho College of Education.

Baxter Bagnsdale of North Texas scored a technical knockout over Jack Olson at 1:35 of the second round in the 130-pound class.

Other results included: 125 pounds—Pat Riley, North Texas, won by forfeit.

135—Dick Jole, North Texas, won by forfeit.

145—Cleve Morgan, SICE, drew with Jack Gunter, North Texas.

145—Wendell Anderson, SICE, drew with John O'Glee, North Texas.

155—Jack Woodruff, North Texas, defeated Al Starns.

165—Tom Davis, North Texas, drew with Dale Price, SICE.

175—Florin Hulise, SICE, won by forfeit.

Heavyweight—Clarence Hulise, SICE, won by forfeit.

Texas Tech To Have First Swimming Team

LUBBOCK—(P)—Texas Tech College is going to have its first swimming team, though unofficially.

The Athletic Department hasn't approved the team, and there are no funds for it in the budget. But the director of the Physical Education Department, Dr. Ray Kirellis, former University of Oregon swimming coach, is going to coach the team. And the swimmers say they're going to represent the college.

Lou Boudreau made only four errors while playing 61 games at shortstop for the Cleveland Indians last season.

cent of the two previous enemy offensives—the plunge across the Chunchong River and the drive into Seoul.

The Allied attack around Yongwol was not classed as an offensive but an officer said: "It must be quite a scrap. The area is full of those jokers."

Elsewhere along the front, Communist patrols tried to close gaps between Red and UN forces after two weeks of Red inaction. Particularly threatening was the shift of enemy forces toward the center and east, in the area of Yaju, Wonju and Yongwol.

These are towns along roads leading to Taegu, pivot point of the old Pusan defense line toward which Allied forces have been withdrawing slowly.

May Roll Again Soon
However, heaviest Red concentrations still were in the west, south of Seoul, where three Chinese armies totaling about 90,000 men were feeding some of their strength to the central and eastern sectors.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Huth reported from Eighth Army headquarters it appeared "possible that the long-awaited Red offensive to drive the UN troops from Korea may start rolling again soon."

Huth said elements of a Red Chinese division were seen moving 16 miles east of Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul. An air observer said the Chinese were digging in Thursday night along a river 14 miles northeast of Suwon.

An Eighth Army spokesman said South Korean civilian defense units had captured Ulliyul, 40 miles northwest of Haju and 35 miles north of the 38th parallel. Haju is near the northwestern coast. He said the action took place January 17.

Badman Bill Cook Slated For Return To Oklahoma City

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(AP)—William E. Cook, accused kidnaper-killer, was to make his first court appearance here Friday—and if plans of federal officials proceed as expected—he will be on his way to Oklahoma City by nightfall.

The removal hearing in federal court was expected to be a mere formality as Cook already has signed a form of waiver.

Cook was arraigned in jail Thursday on a complaint issued at Oklahoma City, charging him with Lindbergh Law kidnaping of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill., and causing injury to them, "to-wit: murder."

'Righter' Says South Will Back Eisenhower

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A leader of the States' Rights Committee Friday said many states in the Democratic South would vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for President—even if he ran on a Republican ticket.

Leander Perez, national director of the committee, told a news conference: "If Eisenhower ran, he would carry many states in the South." A newsman asked: "What if he ran on the Republican ticket?" "Without regard to party label," Perez replied.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log

1-11 L. B. Floyd, new producer in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.
The new well was completed for a 24-hour natural flowing potential of 240.56 barrels of oil per day. The flow was gauged through a 7/16-inch choke.
Tubing pressure was 80 pounds. The oil made one per cent water on the final test.
Gas-oil ratio was 474-1. Gravity of the oil is 38.2.
Pay was topped at 7,075 feet. Total depth is 7,290 feet.
Location is 800 feet from south and east lines of section 11, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Two Producers Added To C-E Midland Field

The Tex-Harvey Oil Company and Phillips Petroleum Company have each filed potential report for a new producer in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.
Tex-Harvey completed its No. 2-15 Jay H. Floyd, 680 feet from east and 1,900 feet from north lines of section 15, block 37, T&P survey, T-3-S.
The oiler flowed for 24 hours on the completion test and made 241 barrels of 37.2-gravity oil and no water through a 24/64-inch choke.
Tubing pressure was 180 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 618-1.
Pay was topped in the No. 2-15 Floyd at 7,025 feet. Total depth is 7,264 feet.
Operator ran 9 5/8-inch casing to 3,821 feet and seven-inch from that point to the top of the pay.
Phillips Well
The new Phillips producer, No. 1-B Leta, is located 680 feet from west and south lines of section 9, block 37, T&P survey, T-3-S.
It was potentialized for 140 barrels of 37.4-gravity oil and 14 per cent water per day through a one-inch opening. Gas-oil ratio was 676-1. Tubing pressure was 100 pounds.
Pay was topped at 7,114 feet. Total depth is 7,480 feet, plugge- back.

Failure Reported In Tom Green Area

W. W. Meeker is to plug and abandon his No. 1 W. A. West, Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Tom Green County. Operator drilled the prospect to a total depth of 5,850 feet in the Ellenburger ordering it plugged.
The No. 1 West did not indicate that it would produce from any formation drilled.
Location is 680 feet from south and west lines of section 50, block 25, H&TCo survey and six and one-quarter miles south of the Susan Peak field.

SE Crane Project Plugged, Abandoned

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Jay Cowden, Southeast Crane County wildcat, 680 feet from north and west lines of section 61, block X, CCSD&RGNG survey has been plugged and abandoned at total depth of 9,184 feet in barren Ellenburger.
The project ran a one hour drill-stem test at 9,130-84 feet. Recovery was 490 feet of muddy salt water and 180 feet of salt water.
No shows of oil or gas were reported. Top of the Ellenburger has not been officially released.

Borden Von Roeder Gets East Stepout

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has made location for a one-location east stepout to production on the east side of the Von Roeder field of Southeast Borden County.
The prospect will be drilled as Amerada No. 1 Ben R. Weathers, 2,002 feet from north and 467.8 feet from west lines of section 95, block 25, H&TCo survey.
It is contracted to go to 7,500 feet to test the Canyon reef.

Ellenburger Wildcat Slated For Runnels

Dallas Consolidated Petroleum Corporation No. 1 W. H. Pape is to be a 4,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat in East-Central Runnels County.
Location will be 330 feet from north and east lines of section 11, block 74, San Miguel survey.
That makes it eight miles north-east of Ballinger.

Edge Well Staked In W-C Pecos Area

Thompson-Carr, Inc. has spotted location for an edge well in the Fort Stockton field of West-Central Pecos County.
It will be drilled as that concern's No. 1 Overton Black and others, 330 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block 114, GC&SF survey.
The prospect will be drilled with rotary to approximately 3,000 feet.
Drillsite is six miles northwest of the town of Fort Stockton.

Deep Prospector Is Staked In Lynn

Six miles northeast of Tahoka and in North-Central Lynn County, Continental Oil Company No. 1 W. F. Cook will be drilled as a 10,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat.
Operations will commence at once.
Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 517, block 1, GC&SF survey.

NE Outpost Set For Nolan Field

Rowan & Hope of San Antonio has staked a half-mile northeast outpost to the one-well Faver-Ellenburger field of Nolan County.
It is No. 2 Irl Faver and location is 660 feet from south and west lines of southeast quarter of section 47, block 21, T&P survey. That

GRANDMA MOSES JOINS THE "MARCH"—Grandma Moses, 90-year-old artist of Eagle Bridge, N.Y., has four generations of reasons for urging everyone to join the 1951 March of Dimes. About polio she says: "So much more is known about it now than when I was a little girl."

Woman's Dream Is To Form Society For Rehabilitation Of The Hard Of Hearing

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It was a little lame doctor in Chicago who convinced Marie Hays Heiner to face the facts.
"Look," he said, "I'm lame and you're hard of hearing. You can't kid yourself; you're not going to get any better and you may get worse. Nobody ever died of deafness. So you've got to learn to live with it."
That was seven years after she had waked up one morning, unable to hear. In those seven years, she'd tried to get by, consulted countless doctors, lied to herself and prayed for a cure. But it took that doctor's frank talk to make her buy a hearing aid and rejoin the world of sound.
And now she wants to help other deafened persons rehabilitate themselves through a dream of hers, Hearing Anonymous. She says there are millions of hard of hearing who, through vanity or pride or fear, refuse to admit their handicap. Like alcoholics, they need the help and counsel of people who have been through the same thing.
"You know," she says, "there is quite a bit of similarity between being deaf and being an alcoholic. Both handicaps make you shun society. Both make you withdraw into yourself. Incidentally, there are an awful lot of deafened people who become alcoholics."
You'd never know Mrs. Heiner was deaf. The Cleveland, Ohio, woman hears everything you say and speaks in a normal conversational tone. She's a vivacious, sparkling woman. She's a successful author, having written the book called "Hearing Is Believing."
Hundreds of people wrote to her after the book was published. They were mostly hard of hearing persons who sought advice.
"They wrote me personal things they would never tell an agency or a doctor," she says. "I believe it's because they knew I'd been through it all myself and could understand. You know, being deaf is a frightening thing—perhaps you don't die of it, but you die a little bit."
Because of those letters, she reasoned that she could help people get on the right track by talking to them. And there are many other hard of hearing persons who have conquered their handicap and could also counsel the less fortunate.
"There should be a group, patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous," she says, "that could talk to men and women who lose their hearing. They'd talk to them honestly and tell them, as that doctor told me, to learn to live with their handicap. I think a Hearing Anonymous could bring thousands of people back into the world of sound."
She visions it as a collection of sympathetic people who could explain the facts of deafness and what to do about it. They might have to give advice on love affairs, too, Mrs. Heiner says, because many young deafened are afraid to wear hearing aids for fear of what their boy friends or girl friends might say.
She, herself, was only 19 when she lost her hearing and thinks her youth and vanity may have had something to do with her reluctance to wear an aid. As she sees it, Hearing Anonymous would straighten the young deafened out with plain talk and the "ears of experience."
It's still just an idea, this Hearing Anonymous. But from the talks she's had with some other deafened people, she thinks it's an idea that would do a great deal of good.

Imprisoned Banker's Friends Are Indicted In Shortage Scandal

TULSA—(AP)—Several friends of a small town banker imprisoned for embezzlement Friday found themselves emmeshed in the tangled threads of his chicanery.
The 10 highly-regarded Pryor, Okla., householders trooped before U. S. Commissioner E. Lawton Bruff Thursday, indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with a $500,000 bank shortage scandal.
They are J. F. Polone, rancher; R. L. Stamper, a lay preacher, and his brothers, Ted and J. E. Stamper, farmers; Gilbert Bryant, co-owner of a livestock sales barn; Henry H. Williams, barber; electrician Vernie Willis, farmer J. B. King, accountant Fred Hatfield, and Carl R. Gaither, former bank cashier. All made bond.
Facing them are assorted charges of conspiring against the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation by issuing false deposit slips, making bogus claims against the shortage, overdraws their accounts, forging records and juggling bank balances. Serving Sentence
Former Pryor Banker W. H. (Bill) McCollough, 49, now serving a 10-year prison term for embezzlement, is named as co-conspirator in a number of indictments.
McCollough was sentenced two years ago after acknowledging his responsibility for a $40,222 deficit at the American National Bank of Pryor Creek. He was the bank's executive vice president.
A civic leader and church worker, he was described at his sentencing as a victim of gambling, drinking and "women other than his wife."
What authorities didn't know at the time, they say, is that McCollough, while "winding up his business" at home before going to prison, spent the interim making out fraudulent deposit slips for a few of those who involved.
Gaither, 37, cashier under McCollough and member of a prominent family, is charged with making false entries in bank records involving one discrepancy of $117,698.

11 Miners Killed In Gas Explosion

KERMIT, W. VA.—(AP)—A "gaseous condition" spotted by federal mine inspectors only a few days ago was blamed Friday for an explosion that killed 11 men and injured two more in the Burning Springs mine here.
State Mines Chief Arch Alexander, who attributed Thursday's blast deep in the 32-year-old pit to the "gaseous condition," said state mine inspectors had reported the mine in good condition earlier this month.
The explosion hit three families hard. Tom Moore and his son, Tom, Jr., were among the dead. Charley Sparks was gone, along with his son, Proctor. And the two Dalton brothers, Conrad and Delbert, were killed with their brother-in-law, Walter Johnson.
The others killed were Sherman Fields, Lashly Mounts, Charlie Porter and John Chaffin.

Dr. Walker Speaks To Midland JayCeers

Dr. Kenneth Walker, noted lecturer and writer known professionally as Thane, spoke to the Midland JayCeers at their weekly luncheon Friday in Hotel Scharbauer.
Dr. Walker reported on the condition of the United States as it was given to the country's foremost lecturers recently in an 18-hour briefing in Washington by the leading State Department executives. Dr. Walker was introduced by Dr. Henry Schlichting.
President Art Joseph presided at the meeting.

Foxhole Incident Noted By Marines

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—(AP)—Hard-pressed Marines in Korea can still take time out to note a coincidence.
Cpl. Malcolm R. Long, a Marine M.P. attached to the Seventh Marines, notes that he and a buddy, Arthur R. Long, were settling down for the night in a foxhole when a third Marine suddenly jumped into the hole.
"Who are you," the two Longs asked the newcomer.
"The name is Ernest Long," was the reply.
