Political Facts Of Life

In asking now for only part of the $16,500,000,000 in new taxes he wants, President Truman seems to be accepting the hard facts of life on Capitol Hill. Congressional tax leaders have made it clear that $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 is the most the President is likely to get in the months ahead.

To get the added $4,000,000,000 from personal incomes, Truman proposes upping rates about four percentage points in each bracket. But he would keep the present exemption of $600, rather than lower it to $500 as some have proposed.

Even though the exemption may remain unchanged, it's obvious that if the President's plan goes through, all of us will know we've been hit. There is no painless way to arm ourselves and help arm the free world and still maintain civilian life at a reasonably high level.

That point is unquestionably more persuasive with the lawmakers than the argument of a balanced budget. It is because Truman himself now is urging a balanced budget that he will be back later to seek another $6,500,000,000. When he presents that case, he'll find his audience much tougher.

Soviet Soft Spot

Informed London quarters say the United States is seeking permission from Britain to station warplanes for extended periods at 14 British airfields spotted throughout the Middle East. The plan is said to be part of a general program to establish a chain of bases around the borders of Russia.

Strictly From Hungary

The State Department has ordered all Hungarian diplomats in this country to restrict themselves to an area within 18 miles of the White House. This is in retaliation for a similar order against our diplomats in Budapest. The "18 miles" was not our idea but the Hungarians'.

When you think of yourself alone, it's your own fault when people leave you that way. The only good point about being a bore is that you don't talk about other people.

Politicians Always Ring At Least Once; Says Price Director DiSalle

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle has a story about political job-seekers which will illustrate some of the troubles he is now having, trying to assemble a staff of state and regional price control officials. In Toledo, Ohio, where DiSalle used to be mayor, there was a loyal political worker who came into the local party boss and said, "I want to be postmaster."

Representative Reports On Trip To Washington

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By OSWALD JACOBY

WASHINGTON—The bitter row over labor participation in the mobilization picture boils down partly to a clash with Gen. Lucius Clay, former military governor of Germany, now right-hand man to Defense Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson. There also is a lot of peevishness against Harry S. Truman personally.

Clay, a hard-hitting, hard-working Army officer, accustomed to giving and taking orders, continually was clashing with civilians when he served as right-hand man to War Mobilizer Jimmy Byrnes in World War II. Later, while in Germany, he established what is probably a record for any American official. He called his resignation to the State Department as military governor of Germany three times in one day.

Clay Stages A Vishinsky
On another occasion General Clay had called a closed-door conference attended by Secretary of Labor Robert C. Goheen, Selective Service Director Hershey and presidential aide Daniel H. Stowe, to discuss manpower problems.

Clay, at that time, was all set to announce his own man as manpower commissioner, but he scarcely had begun to talk when White House Assistant Stowe interrupted. He advised that he had instructions from the President that the manpower commissionership was not to be discussed.

Labor Survives Another Test—This Time On Peanuts

LONDON—(P)—Another Conservative attempt to unseat the British Labor government—the fifth this month—was defeated in the House of Commons Tuesday night by a vote of 302 to 295. The dispute was over the government's much ridiculed peanut-growing venture in Africa.

Conservative leader Winston Churchill asked the house to throw out a government bill writing off a loss of 36,500,000 pounds ($102,200,000) incurred by the government in trying to raise peanuts in Tanganyika to relieve Britain's shortage of fats.

The government is continuing experiments in Tanganyika in the growing of cotton and tobacco and the bill asked for an additional appropriation of 6,000,000 pounds ($16,800,000).

Conservative Capt. Harry Crookshank ridiculed the scheme. He said it was "appropriate" that the government had set April 1—April fool's day—as the date for putting its new arrangements in force.

Food Minister Maurice Webb said the government had to throw the original plan of growing peanuts in vast quantities had failed. But the scheme, he added, might pay its way in time and it would be poor business to drop it entirely with a resulting loss of many tangible assets.

The Atlee government already has turned back Conservative votes of censure this month on the issues of nationalization of steel, rearmament, the meat shortage and the coal crisis.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Arrow - Fishing

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was down by the Whispering River with a bow and arrow. "I am going to do some arrow-fishing, I am," the Huffen explained.

And so the Huffen told him. The Huffen said he had some string, he did, to tie on to the end of the arrow where the feathers were. Yes, and he was going to shoot his arrow, he was, but he would hold to the other end of the string, and then he could pull the arrow back to him.

"But Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail once more, "what is the business of arrow-fishing?" The Huffen chuckled. Said he: "I will walk along here by the river, I will, and when I see a fish of a kind that is good to eat, then I will

"I must have hit him. I think I did," said the Huffen. He got down on his hands and knees to look down through the water. He gave a little jerk on the string, but the string jerked back. "The fish has my arrow, he has," said the Huffen. The Huffen jerked twice on the string this time, and the string jerked back at him twice, three times. Oh, but the last jerk was a big, big jerk. It jerked the Huffen into the water head-first with a big "splash."

"Help! Help!" shouted the Huffen. "Save the Huffen!" "Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "save yourself. You can swim." And so the Huffen swam out of the water, because the arrow-fishing hadn't turned out at all the way he had planned for it to. Ah, me, but he didn't worry. A plan sometimes just won't work out, you know. Happy day!

shoot him with my arrow, and pull him out with my string." And just then, down there in the shadows of the water, the Huffen saw a something he thought was a fish to eat. Quickly the Huffen shot the arrow from the bow. "ker-splash!" The water splashed so much from the arrow-shooting that Daddy Ringtail couldn't see now where the arrow had gone, but the string didn't move any more.

Fire Chief Mike, Wolfhound Leader, Becomes General

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEAD QUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—"Fire Chief Mike" has moved up to a general's job.

"He'll either be a general or a dead colonel," admiring GI's once said of John (Mike) Michaelis, a famous fighting leader of the Korean war.

Wednesday it was announced that Colonel Michaelis, leader of the 27th (Wolfhound) Regiment, has been advanced to assistant commander of the 25th Division, succeeding Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bradley.

Michaelis has been nominated for brigadier general. General Bradley is taking over the 25th Division, replacing Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, who is to command the U. S. Third Corps at Camp Roberts, Calif.

The lean, blond, tough Michaelis and his 27th Regiment have been the fire brigade of the Korean war—rushed in where the fighting was fiercest to plug holes in sagging Allied lines.

Gained Fame At Taegu
Men of the 27th regiment fame in the early days of the Pusan perimeter fighting last Summer when they made a gallant stand in the "Bowling Alley" north of Taegu. Reds were slaughtered trying to bowl down the road.

The new leader of the Wolfhounds is another fighting man, Lt. Col. Gilbert Check of Williston, N. D.

Michaelis, 38, a native of San Francisco whose home is at Lancaster, Pa., moulded his men into the toughest regiment in the Korean war. He led them into the war's tightest spots, and he led them out again.

He was a lieutenant colonel when he came to Korea last July. He won battlefield promotion to colonel August 4. In September he received the Distinguished Service Cross for outstanding heroism in battle.

Michaelis, one-time aide to General Eisenhower, is proud of the Wolfhounds. He said of them: "They are professional killers—that's what they're supposed to be. They are as good as any regiment ever sent into battle."

When he left them February 15 he said: "I felt like howling for the first time in my life."

(Continued From Page One) feet. The packer failed and there was no recovery. Operator was slated to make another attempt to test the section.

This project is located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2, G.C. & S.P. survey.

It topped the Pennsylvanian lime at 3,800 feet. Elevation is 1,671 feet. There was a strong gas kick in the section of the lime so far penetrated. So far as had been reported the lime zone has not developed any shows of oil.

SW Martin Wildcat Going To Ellenburger

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 2-E-B George W. Glass, indicated Pennsylvanian discovery in Southwest Martin County, flowed into tanks for 13 1/2 hours and made 99 barrels of 48.2-gravity oil, plus two barrels of basic sediment.

The flow was gauged through a one-half-inch choke after plug had been drilled in seven and five-eighths-inch casing cemented at 10,400 feet.

Operator will kill the well and deepen to the Ellenburger which was the original destination.

The No. 2-E-B Glass previously had flowed 33.82 barrels of oil in seven and one-half hours on a drillstem test from 10,412 to 10,521 feet, after which hole was deepened to 10,832 feet and casing run.

The prospector is 662 feet from south and 670 feet from east lines of section 12, block 39, T&P survey, T-1-N.

Deep Exploration Is To Start In Lubbock

Thirteen miles north and slightly west of Lubbock and in Central-North Lubbock County, Standard Oil Company of Texas will drill a 10,000-foot wildcat as No. 1 G. G. Flynn, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block D, L&SV survey.

Location is two and one-half miles northwest of the Cross-Clear Fork field, seven miles southeast of the Anton-Irish area and three-quarters of a mile north of Standinold Oil & Gas Company's No. 1 Flynn, an 8,300-foot failure in the Wolfcamp.

J. S. Abercrombie of Houston has acquired leases on 800 acres in the vicinity of the new wildcat from J. C. Williamson and A. L. Altaway of Midland and Sisk-Moorman Oil Company of San Antonio. Consideration was $25 an acre.

No drilling obligation was involved in the deal. The block includes all of section 23, and the northwest quarter of section 22, both in block D, L&SV survey.

NW Nolan Sector Gets Deep Tester

Sun Oil Company has spotted a wildcat in Northwest Nolan County three and one-half miles southwest of the Roscoe-Ellenburger pool and on the northeast outskirts of Champion as No. 1 E. A. Costephens.

Location is 660 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 75, block 24, T&P survey. Operations will begin immediately.

Two Prospectors Are Staked In Schleicher

Two new wildcats have been staked for immediate drilling in Schleicher County.

Westexas Oil & Royalty Corporation of Fort Worth is scheduled to drill No. 1-A G. C. Crosby, as a 6,000-foot venture in Southeast Schleicher County.

Drillsite is 17 1/2 miles southeast of Eldorado and eight miles southeast of the Page-Strawn pool. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 16, block K, G.H. & S.A. survey. The project is on a 280-acre lease.

The other wildcat is C. L. Norworthy, Jr., of Dallas No. 1 T. K. Jones.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 37, block L.L. That puts it in Central-Schleicher County.

Project Slated For Drilling In Fisher

General Crude Oil Company No. 1 David A. Ulmer is a new prospector in Northeast Fisher County.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of west half of section 102, block 1, H&TC survey and six miles northwest of Hamlin which is in Jones County.

Projected depth is 6,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Drillsite is two and one-half miles north of the Round Top pool and one and one-half miles west of the Pardue multipay area.

Amerada Will Dig Howard Exploration

Amerada Petroleum Corporation is to be the operator on a previously reported 8,300-foot wildcat in North Howard County, two and three-quarters miles east of the East Vealmoor field.

The venture was reported as R.R. Herrell No. 1 T. L. Griffin. Location is in the center of the northeast quarter of section 35, block 25, H&TC survey.

Salt Water Is Found In SE Hockley Test

One location west of production in the west side of the Ropes-Pennsylvanian field of Southeast Hockley County, Honolulu Oil Corporation and Signal Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Monroe developed salt water on a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian.

That formation was geologically low to the same formation in the same operator's No. 2 Hopper, completed producer in the Ropes field.

At last report Honolulu & Signal were to drill the No. 1 Monroe a few feet deeper.

Ellenburger Offset In Kent Is Plugged

Star Oil Company of Dallas, and associates, No. 1-B Blanche Young, south offset to the same operators No. 1-A Blanche Young, discovery well of the North Polar-Ellenburger field, in Southwest Kent County, and almost on the east line of Garza County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 7,851 feet in barren Ellenburger dolomite.

Top of the Ellenburger in this project was at 7,800 feet. That is on a datum of minus 5,478 feet.

The Ellenburger section made a little oil and gas and also made salt water. The oil and gas shows were not of commercial quantities.

Location was 2,039 feet from south and 647 feet from west lines of section 54, block 5, H&GN survey. That made it five miles northwest of the town of Polar.

Teen-Agers Fined In Hub Caps Theft

Two Lamesa teen-agers were fined $25 each Wednesday when they pleaded guilty in City Corporation Court to charges of stealing hub caps from a Midland automobile Tuesday night.

Acting Judge Ed Stitt suspended the fines, pending the good behavior of the youths, one 17 years old and the other 18, when their fathers appeared in court with them.

Col. Milan N. Plavsic, director of the Department of Public Safety, pointed out the youths had two and one-half cases of beer in their automobile, but he recommended leniency since this was their first offense.

McCraw To Speak At Legion Smoker

High School Will Present Operetta At 8 P.M. Friday

"The Chimes of Normandy," Midland High School's first operetta production, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday in the high school auditorium.

Music for the romantic story will be provided by the 16-piece Silver Strings orchestra, composed of Midland women, who are cooperating for the production.

R. C. Michener, director of music in the Midland schools, is the director and producer of the musical play.

The story takes place in the garden outside the palace grounds of an ancient Norman castle where Gaspard, a miserly old man, lives in recluse.

A legend about the castle is that the heir to Gaspard's treasure is away, and when he returns the chimes in the chapel will ring to identify him as the heir.

Included in the cast for the operetta are Stan Coker, George James, John Petty, James Weathered, Isleta Terry and Peggy. Great-house.

The enormous castle and grounds scene was erected and decorated by members of the shop and art classes, under the supervision of Curtis Regan and Inez Parker.

William McCraw, who will speak at the smoker of Woods W. Lynch Post No. 18, American Legion Friday night in the Legion hall, is the top American Legion executive in Texas.

He is chairman of the national membership committee and is a member of the national commanders' advisory committee.

McCraw, whose office is in Dallas, also is a past commander of the Legion in Texas.

Friday night's smoker will highlight the current membership drive of the Legion Post. Members are permitted to bring two guests to the affair, which will begin at 8 p.m.

Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans members also are invited to the smoker, Commander T. E. (Red) Steele announced.

King's Row By LARRY KING

Summer baseball for boys will get underway here with the termination of the current school term.

And right here we are afforded a chance to discuss an interesting subject.

The kids just don't band together and play a game or two over the season, but they are organized and play under a set of rules that would tax a major leaguer.

The process isn't so simple as merely organizing a team and starting either—not at all. It's a big league setup from top to bottom. So right now we'll tell you in on a few of the details.

—KR—

In the Little League—played under national rules in 43 states—36,000 credits are given each team with which they may purchase players.

This isn't done in a haphazard manner. A call for candidates will be issued to every eligible boy residing within the league boundaries—Midland County—and a Spring training session will be held at Borden Park. During these sessions, each boy will be given an opportunity to try out for the position he wants to play, and each boy will be allowed to take batting turns.

Managers from all teams in the Little League will observe the try-outs. And at the end of tryouts, an impartial player agent will turn in a list to all managers with the names and ages of each boy and personal data about him.

Then comes the fun.

The managers will barter and trade in buying the players for their teams. If a manager thinks it wise, he may spend his entire amount of credits to get one boy desired and then take the remainder of the credits after others have picked their teams. But if he is wise, he'll try to strengthen his team at all positions and use his credit points sparingly.

Managers will submit their choices to the player agent and within two days the auction of players will start.

Each manager will draw a sealed numbered ticket from a hat and without observing the number will give it to the player agent. He will note the number and attach the ticket to the managers selection list.

Then the player agent will read from the managers selection list the name and league age of the player, and if he is not on the managers list drawing his name the bidding will begin. The highest bidder will get title to the player. Just to keep things clear, no player will be sold for less than 500 credits. The player will remain with the club "buying" him until he is sold or released.

—KR—

There's a stipulation to keep little brothers together. They will be sold under the family name to avoid separating them. A boy becoming a candidate while his brother is a member of the one team will have an option price set on him and the manager owning his brother will have the opportunity to take up the option.

After all the points have been used by all managers—then and only then—will "free" players be given out. This will be done by each manager drawing a number from a hat and selecting any player he wants, in order of the number drawn.

Games will be six innings in length, and umpires other than members of the Little League organization may be used only by agreement of the manager of both teams involved in a contest.

And if a protest is made, it shall be submitted in writing to the league president within 48 hours after the contest.

—KR—

The Little League will have six

Cage Tourney To Start Wednesday

Eight top-rated West Texas independent basketball teams start play Wednesday night in the John M. Cowden Junior High School gym, in a tournament sponsored by Rotary Engineering Company and Western Plastic Company of Midland, with the net gate receipts going to the Girl Scout Building Fund.

The four-night tournament will feature 10 games—two Wednesday, three Thursday, three Friday and two Saturday. Both championship and consolation finals will be unreeled Saturday night.

Holder Grocery of Odessa in the second contest. The first-night losers clash in the final Thursday night game to start play in the consolation bracket.

Rotary's Engineers are rated just behind Bill Hale Motors, having won two of five contests with Hale this season and boasting an overall won-lost mark of 18-3. But the dark horse of the tournament easily could be the McCamey Publishing quintet, which lost 61-52 to Rotary recently and defeated the famed House of David hoopers last week.

Other than Hale, Rotary and McCamey the other teams are thought to be along just for kicks as they aren't accorded a chance to conquer their powerful rivals.

Flying Sisters Take Red Chicks 28-18

Midland's Flying Sisters gained revenge over Blondy Cross' San Angelo Red Chicks basketball team here Tuesday night in the John M. Cowden gym, winning 28-18. San Angelo had defeated the Sisters earlier in the year 28-24.

Dotty (Dutch) Colbert tossed 14 points through the hoop to pace the victorious Midland girls. Edith Campbell accounted for eight points and Rosie Hart scored six.

Nina Ray Hobbs, Chick ace, was held to seven points—but that total topped the losing Red Chicks.

Guard Joyce Beasley turned in a fine game in her performance with the Midland maids. She has passed her examinations for the WAP and will report for active duty soon.

Tuesday night's win was the fourth for the Flying Sisters against one defeat. It was the second time in 12 outings the Chicks had suffered defeat.

Green Urges Cheesecake, Essay Contests To Build Up Baseball Attendance

ABILENE—(P)—Baseball players will compete with bathing beauties and essay writers for attention in two Texas baseball leagues this year.

More cash customers to fill empty ball park seats is the aim.

"The honeymoon is over," Howard L. Green of Abilene, president of both the Big State and Gulf Coast Leagues, wrote in a letter outlining plans for the coming season.

"The time is past when the slipshod operator could break even with a minor league club," Green said. "Rough days are ahead unless we go to work. Those who do not will falter. Those who do can help carry professional baseball to greater heights than ever before attained."

He scheduled a meeting February 24 at Corpus Christi for Gulf Coast League operators and March 3 at Tyler for the Big State League. The subject of discussion will be "a number of joint promotions which will add business at the box office and entertainment for the patrons."

Pick 'Golden Girl'
Green listed these as some of the things both leagues would be asked to do:

League-wide bathing beauty revues to select the golden girl of respective leagues in "this Golden Anniversary year." A league-wide essay contest sponsored in various high schools by baseball clubs. The title would be "The American Way—Baseball Today."
Also, a special effort to pack each park opening day; a Lou Gehrig night June 2, observing the tenth anniversary of Gehrig's death; community nights, sponsored by each club; "high school nights" when all members of high school teams are guests of the clubs; clinics for schoolboys in all parks; intensive pre-season ticket sales in cities where local conditions are favorable.

Penalized Pros To Pay Off, Play, Get Full Hearing Later

HOUSTON—(P)—All was serene Wednesday among the hitherto warring professional golfers, and the Houston Open will go on with Jimmie Demaret and other players penalized for a defamatory trip to Mexico swinging their clubs as usual.

An agreement was reached Tuesday night with Lawson Little, PGA Tournament Committee co-chairman. Under it nine linkmen, fined for participating in the Mexican National Open, will pay up and be eligible to play here. But they'll get a hearing before the full committee when all seven members can be gotten together.

Approximately 50 tournament players held a four-hour session from which the press was excluded. Afterward a statement was issued that the penalized players would pay under protest and be given a hearing at a future date.

Demaret was fined $500 as leader of the group, Vic Ghezzi drew $350 and Nick Lazor, Stan Dudas, Morris Williams, Jr., Al Besselink, Willie Palumbo, George Kinsman, Jr., and Ansel Snow were stuck $200 apiece. Kinsman, Lazor and Palumbo were due here Wednesday. Ghezzi and Besselink are not coming to Houston.

Demaret, Williams, Snow and Douglas arrived Monday, with Demaret threatening to sue the PGA. After Tuesday night's meeting, Demaret indicated he had dropped any idea of a suit.

In this shrine of American history, not far from the hallowed grounds where Washington and his soldiers spent the Winter of 1778, about 100 award winners assembled in a flag-draped hall for the special ceremonies.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, presented awards to first and second place winners in foundation headquarters, a converted barn built in colonial days.

It originates no material on freedom, merely rewards the work of others. Money for the prizes comes from some 2,000 different sources—educational and charitable foundations, business and industry and individuals.

Presented by The First awards, totaling $84,000, were presented at Valley Forge Nov. 22, 1949, by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Injunction Against Picketing Is Upheld By Supreme Court

AUSTIN—(AP)—The State Supreme Court ruled Wednesday labor unions violate the anti-trust laws when their picket lines show conspiracy to restrain trade.

The decision was made in the case of Best Motor Lines, operating both in Texas and other states, against the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, Local 748, of Dallas.

The trial court granted the truck line a temporary injunction against the union picketing. The Civil Appeals Court at Amarillo dissolved that injunction, saying the picketing was peaceful and served a lawful purpose.

The Supreme Court upheld the trial court.

NPA Bans Aluminum Windows, Air Ducts

Speaker Describes Voters League

"The League of Women Voters is a national non-partisan organization. It works solely in the field of government. It is open to all," Mrs. Joe Beakey told members of the Midland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer.

Mrs. Beakey, who is president of the Midland Chapter of the league, described the functions of the organization.

Ed Prichard presided at the luncheon. Stan Coker was introduced as Junior Lion of the Week. Approximately $60 was raised for the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund through Tallwister contributions at the luncheon.

Harry Lawson, chairman of the recent Community Chest drive, was presented a statuette from the Boy Scouts. Roy Minear made the presentation. Participating in the presentation were J. M. McDonald, district Boy Scout leader, and P. V. Thorson, Scout executive.

It was announced Mrs. Ronald James will become Lions Club Sweetheart and will play the piano at future weekly meetings.

Emergency Powers For Government Of Canada Asked

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's Liberal government Tuesday night asked Parliament for sweeping powers to control prices, wages, rents and manpower—to be used if and when they are needed.

With the Liberal Party holding 190 of Commons' 262 seats, passage of the measure appeared certain.

The prime minister submitted a five-clause emergency powers bill saying the international situation threatens the dominion's security.

Introducing the measure, St. Laurent said his government did not plan comprehensive controls now in any field. The powers asked, he explained, would be on a "standby" basis, for use only should worsening conditions necessitate them.

Truman—
keep its agreements, which does not believe in the things for which this government stands and for which the free governments of the world do stand."

Truman said that for five years he had been endeavoring to mobilize the moral forces of the world. He described those as forces "which believe in the sermon on the mount, those forces which believe in a God, those forces which believe in the welfare of the individual, who believe that the government is formed for the welfare of the individual and not that the individual is formed to be a slave to the government."

With Truman at the breakfast were almost all his cabinet officers, justices of the Supreme Court and congressional leaders.

Probe—

three RPC directors and said of Young:

"The individual named most frequently in the reports of alleged influence which have reached the subcommittee is E. Merl Young."

Not Talking Though
In opening the hearing, Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) said the aim is to "show we were not talking through our hat" when the subcommittee made its charges of political influence and favoritism in RFC loan operations.

The subcommittee, in a recent report to the Senate, said "close personal relationships exist" between Young and Donald Dawson, a White House aide, in a group of those "who appear to have exercised influence over the RFC."

It accused RPC Directors Walter L. Dunham, William E. Willett and E. Edward Rowe of subversion to Young, Dawson and others, including William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national chairman. All denied it except Dawson, who has not commented.

Steel Cut—

high levels—"in most instances, at levels never attained before 1949 and 1950."

The cut will be slightly less than that which the NPA announced it was considering several weeks ago.

Fleischmann also announced that use of copper in non-defense production generally will be limited during the second quarter to 75 per cent of the average use during the first half of 1950. This will compare with an 80 per cent limitation during March.

Manufacturers assembling consumer durable goods will be limited not only as to the steel and copper they may use but also will be held to 65 per cent of the aluminum they used during an average quarter in the first half of 1950.

In Detroit, it was expected that the steel cuts would permit almost as many passenger cars to be built during the first half of this year as in the first half of 1950.

Retailers Committee Will Meet Thursday

Members of the Retailers Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will meet at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the organization's office, Chairman George Grayum announced Wednesday.

Other members of the committee are J. M. Cox, Henry Murphey, John E. Mills, H. S. Murray, Jr., Lester Short, C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Floyd Bell, Miles Hall, and Robert H. Pine.

Cloudy, Colder Is Thursday's Forecast

By The Associated Press
Texans relaxed Wednesday under mostly clear skies and moderate temperatures.

Heavy clouds hung over the Dallas-Fort Worth area and northward to the Red River. The rest of the state was clear.

The forecast called for increasing cloudiness in West Texas with warmer temperatures Wednesday night, Thursday, mostly cloudy and cooler in the Panhandle and South Plains.
